Committee For Better School Challenges School Board

By Becky Werhan

A group of 29 concerned parents — the Committee For Better Schools — appeared before the Aransas County School Board of Trustees Monday night, April 13, and, as group spokesman Nelda Lee put it, "rattled some cages" in regard to the quality of education received by county school children.

The Board, meeting for the first time with newly elected member Jerry Brundrett, heard complaints ranging from the punishing of Rockport Elementary students for talking in the cafeteria to reports of children complaining that "all they do in school is color."

The main thrust of the group's concern, however, was presented to the board in the form of a written proposal, "Individualized Grouping of Students", a copy of which had been given to each board member by the parent's group during the week and was read to the board by its author Nelda Lee.

The proposal (printed in the April 12 Pilot Weekender) calls for the immediate implementation of "a program in which children are grouped according to their academic skill levels and/or interest levels in reading, mathematics, social studies and science. The proposal also requests that "supplementary instruction will be provided for children in all classes who have consistently completed assigned tasks early or who seem to be underchallenged by the material being taught in the classroom."

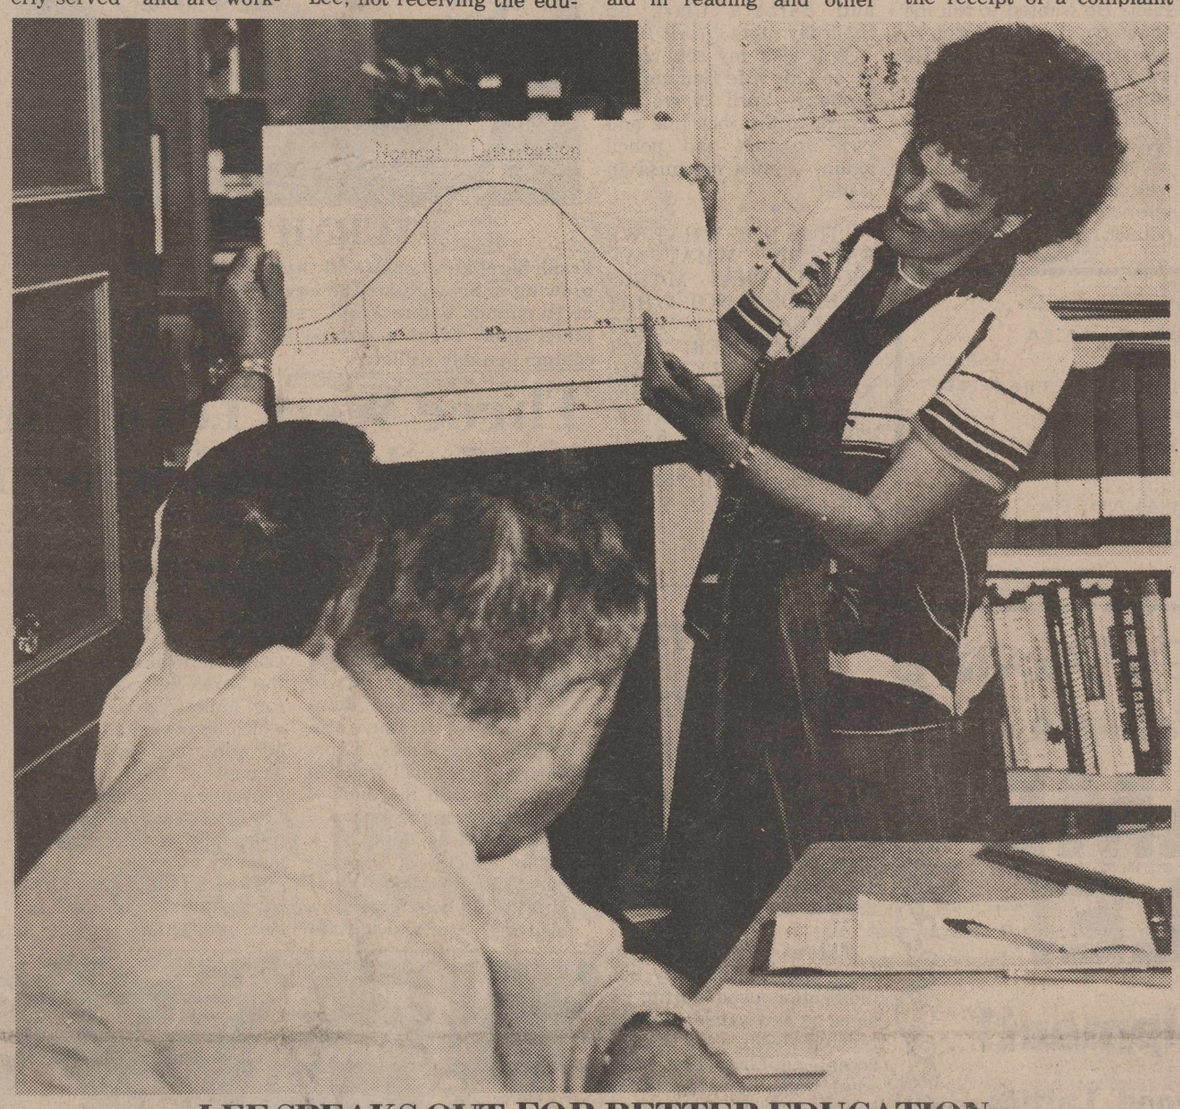

Using charts and graphs, Mrs. Lee explained to the board that in a program such as the one presently serving the county in which all children are randomly and haphazardly grouped with no regard to skill levels, 25 to 30 percent of the students are "not properly served" and are working above their grade level. These underchallenged children are, according to Lee, not receiving the education they need, whereas the 25-30 percent of the children needing remedial aid in reading and other subjects are provided with a program.

Mrs. Lee acknowledged the receipt of a complaint made by HEW to the board some four years ago in regard to some grouping that had been done at that time which had violated the ethnic grouping codes of HEW.

She presented the board with a grouping plan that schools who had received a complaint, and were thus "watched like a hawk" by HEW , could implement and still keep within the ethnic grouping bounds provided them. The plan, said Mrs. Lee, had been suggested by Dr. John Bell, the Assistant Administrator for the Office of Civil Rights in Dallas.

As for the implementation of the plan, Mrs. Lee proposed the grouping be done, as the Texas Educational Association suggests, by reviewing the standardized test scores achieved by the students

LEE SPEAKS OUT FOR BETTER EDUCATION

Nelda Lee, spokesman for the Committee for Better Schools, explains the normal distribution of students' IQs during her presentation to the School Board Of Trustees Monday night, April 13. Mrs. Lee presented the board with a proposal calling for individualized grouping of students according to their skill levels. She was backed up by a group of 29 parents who questioned the boad for over two hours about the quality of education in county schools.

Protests Will Not Affect Decision On Refinery

By Pat Blair

The objections of surrounding property owners will not affect the decision on whether a crude oil refinery will be constructed in the south part of Aransas County.

That was what some 40 to 50 area property owners were told in essence Friday night, April 10, during an information public meeting on a proposal to construct a 1,500 barrel per day crude oil refinery in the county between Rockport and Aransas Pass.

The proposed Rocking R. Refinery would be located on Aransas Warehouse property — which would be leased to the refinery.

The property owners, primarily from Palm Harbor and City-By-The-Sea, attended the hearing in the District Courtroom of the County Courthouse, to protest the proposed construction.

The meeting was called by the Texas Air Control Board which is the agency responsible for granting the permit to the refining company.

In addition to four TACB members, also present in the meeting were Richard McClendon, president of the refinery company, and Ken Wade, president of Wade and Associates, who provided many of the technical details about the proposed facility.

Among property owners at the meeting was William H. Mullins who, speaking on behalf of the City-By-The-Sea Property Owners Association, asked the TACB to deny the refinery's request for a permit.

If the TACB granted the permit, Mullins continued, he asked that, prior to that action, the TACB have an "environmental assessment" prepared.

Mullins also called for an environmental impact statement and another hearing prior to the granting of any permit that would allow the refinery to operate in Aransas County.

Jim Braddock, an attorney for the TACB, told those at the meeting that "legally," the granting of the permit "is a technical decision under the law, the decision on whether the

Life Sentence Recommended For Drinkard

After finding Drinkard guilty, the jury recommended that he be given life imprisonment. Formal sentencing has been scheduled for Tuesday, April 21, in the Live Oak County Court.

Drinkard was taken to Live Oak County for trial on a change of venue from Aransas County.

He was charged with threatening his mother, Belva Drinkard, with a gun in an incident that occurred October 28, 1980.

TAX-ING SITUATION

Deposits Total $26 Million-Plus At Live Oak Bank

Deposits at Live Oak State Bank totalled $26,425,189.64 as of March 31 — a growth of nearly $4 million just since the end of 1980, according to Bank President Larry Boone.

Boone reported that the bank's assets amounted to $29,258,432.02, a growth of more than $4 million during the first quarter of 1981.

"This area is booming," Boone said by way of explanation for the growth in deposits and assets at his bank.

Live Oak State Bank closed out fiscal 1980 with deposits amounting to $22,604,000 and assets of $25,454,049.39.

Commissioners' Court Opposes Planned Expansion

The Aransas County Commissioners' Court, meeting April 13, lent their support to a Fulton citizens group opposing the planned expansion of Fulton Harbor by the Navigation District and the destruction of the harbor park and beach.

A group headed by Toni LaMonte, Harold Shirey and Doug Ward came before the court and asked for a show of support in light of "the best interest of the community." After hearing the issue debated by the Fulton group and Fulton mayor L.E. Casterline who had appeared in support of the Navigation District expansion, the motion was passed "opposing any expansion of Fulton Harbor to the North and through the park area." The motion was made and seconded by Commissioners Spriegle and Sanders who voted Commissioner John Lee down 2-1 to pass it. Commissioner Ray Longino was absent due to grand jury proceedings and did not vote.

County Judge John Wendell spoke in support of the Court's action saying that a "better plan, perhaps expansion to the south should be considered."

Mayor Casterline said of the courts action, "I don't know why they just didn't table it instead of going along with a group of just those few people. That group said they were a Fulton community group but I guess they just appointed themselves. I sent a petition to the Corps of Engineers with 700 signatures on it for the expansion."

Harold Shirey claims that the citizens group has collected a petition of nearly 500 signatures against the expansion. Said Shirey after the meeting, "We're pleased that the Commissioners Court took their

Area Residents Asked To Watch For Missing Woman

PORT LAVACA — Area residents are asked to be on the alert for Kathie Collins, a woman who has been missing since around April 1.

Kathie is 23 years old, five feet six inches in height and weighs 115 pounds. She has brown hair and eyes.

She was last seen when her car, a 1974 medium brown Capri, developed a flat tire at the end of the Port Lavaca Causeway in front of the Shellfish Motel between 10 a.m. and noon April 1.

Police said she was wearing a yellow T-shirt and blue bib overalls when last seen.

They emphasize that Kathie is not a runaway and that "foul play" is suspected in her disappearance.

Anyone who knows anything that might lead to locating the woman is asked to contact the Port Lavaca police department at 552-3788.

In A Different Vein

Ringing Phones And Turnips

The Heading for my weekly column in The Pilot gives me the privilege of jumping from one item of interest to some words of wisdom or to just another vein I happen to stick the needle into.

Now whose telephone in Rockport rings more often than ours — asking for Uncle John on varied subjects? Many thanking me for my efforts to clean up the County — or maybe it's on Little League (this I will cover next week) to where do I find a person to pick up my trash, or complaining as to why the City does not clean up vacant lots in the south end, or why do people drop a mattress at the entrance to Peninsula Oaks (one that has been there two weeks). No one has volunteered to move it. We live in the county — but the County has no pick up trash trucks.

TURNIPS

Enough of that rambling.

Today my phone rang and my good friend, and neighbor, Frank Skrobarcek called asking for the "Senior Editor" of the Pilot. He wanted to tell me of his trip to his garden to get some vegetables. He was hungry for turnips so he pulled one.

Well to his surprise he had to get a digger tool to get it out of the ground. It was 22 inches in circumference and weighed 10 pounds. It was a whopper! Enough to feed the neighborhood. See its picture in this paper.

They say the mustard seed (in the Bible) was the smallest of seeds. Look what it produced. Wonderful! I believe a turnip seed is smaller and I know no other seed to grow bigger than Frank's turnip seed.

TRAVELOG

While you may be reading this, I and my wife, Dorothy, will be airborne for Washington, D.C. to attend the wedding of my grandson, Douglass Leslie and Barbara Clark on Saturday night, April 19.

Will visit my son, John D. and his wife Gail and on Monday, April 20 we will return to the rock pile and pick up pen and pencil again — must not miss an issue!

Eyes And Answers

Dear Dr. Pettey: My vision seems to blur since my abdominal surgery three weeks ago. Should I wait awhile before having my eyes examined again? I am a private secretary and need to see clearly.

There's probably no proof that the surgery nor medication used during or since is the cause of your blurred vision, even though some patients do have some blur after surgery for a short time. If I were you, I would wait another two or three weeks before having the eye examination; you don't want new lenses prescribed for a temporary condition.

The effect of surgery and/or the use of medications can and do, in my opinion, affect the delicate and accurate focusing muscles — sometimes to the point that a blur is experienced, sometimes not.

Three West Texas Men Arrested In Mail Fraud Scheme

Three West Texas men were arrested April 6, 1981, as a result of a five-count mail fraud indictment returned by a Federal Grand Jury at Midland.

The indictment charges Kerry Bob Coleman, 31, of Crane, Howard Leon Ramsey, 45, of Iraan, and William David Fikes, 47, of Imperial, with mail fraud in connection with the theft of crude oil from a Sohio Oil lease in Pecos County.

The indictment charges Fikes with obtaining crude oil from the Sohio lease and falsifying reports to indicate that the oil was obtained from oil leases operated by Coleman, doing business as Namelok Energy, Ltd.

The indictment further charges that Defendant Coleman mailed reports to the Texas Railroad Commission indicating the oil leases which he owned and operated were producing the full amount of their crude oil allowable each month, when, in fact, each lease was producing a much lesser quantity of crude oil.

The Grand Jury also charged that Ramsey falsified production reports to conceal the theft of crude oil from the Sohio lease.

Postal Inspector in Charge W.R. Newsome said bond on the defendants had been set at $25,000 each, and that the indictment capped an eight-month investigation by U.S. Postal Inspectors from the Austin and San Antonio Offices.

Also participating in the investigation were Texas Ranger Charlie M. Hodges, Texas Railroad Commission Geologist Edward L. Hall and private investigators with A.P.I. Service Company and The Branding Association.

Treatment, Surveillance Underway On Texas' Second Screwworm Case

MISSION — Treatment and surveillance work are underway on Texas' second known screwworm case of 1981, says a U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) official.

A sample with four screwworms and 10 Phormia (black blow fly) larvae arrived at the Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service (APHIS) Screwworm Laboratory April 3.

Entomologist Dr. Lloyd Wendel, Acting Lab Director, says the sample was collected by Benito Magana R. at the Texas A&M Experiment Station 25 miles south of Sonora in Sutton County.

Magana found the larvae in docking wounds in lambs. Screwworms feed in live flesh in open wounds of warm blooded animals. First positive screwworm sample of the year was collected from a dog in El Paso on February 27.

Dr. Hugh Graham of USDA's Science and Education Administration (SEA) immediately left Mission enroute to Sonora in search of more samples. The next day an aircraft from Tampico, Mexico, released sterile screwworm flies in a 20 by 20 mile area centered on the collection site.

Screwworm Adult Suppression System (SWASS) pellets were distributed in the same area on Sunday, April 5. Wendel says the pellets were produced at Mission, trucked to Del Rio, and distributed from an airplane owned by Del Rio Flying Service.

On Monday, April 6, APHIS fly trappers, a door to door surveillance team, and veterinary epidemiologist Dr. Steve Smith were working on the case, reports Wendel.

In addition a Texas Animal Health Commission (TAHC) team of inspectors headed by Dr. A. Belcher of Brackettville and supervisory inspector Jack Schwarz of Leakey, were doing surveillance work.

Wendel has noted a dramatic increase in the number of larvae samples arriving at the Screwworm Lab during the past three weeks. He credits this to mild spring weather following a mild winter.

"We ask everyone involved with animals to watch closely for signs of infested wounds," says Wendel. When worms are found in wounds he asks that a sample be collected and sent to the Lab for identification, and the wound be treated.

"Free, postage paid, sample submission kits are available at veterinary clinics, feed stores, county agents' offices, and from all animal health officials," he said.

Taxpayers Can Extend Filing Deadline

AUSTIN — Taxpayers who need extra time to file their federal tax return may receive an automatic two-month extension, Internal Revenue Service officials say.

Tha application for an extension beyond the April 15, 1981 deadline is filed on Form 4868, "Application for Automatic Extension of Time to File U.S. Individual Income Tax Return."

IRS officials stress that this is an extension of time to file, not an extension of time for payment of taxes due.

The taxpayer must compute the tax expected to be owed for 1980 and send that amount with the Form 4868 to avoid interest and late payment penalties.

Only those taxpayers planning to use the 1040 long form are eligible for the automatic extension, the IRS says.

U.S. citizens outside the U.S. or Puerto Rico on the date of their tax deadlines can receive an automatic two-month extension of the filing deadline without filing Form 4868.

Taxpayers who qualify for this type of extension must attach a statement to their tax return when they file, explaining that they were outside the U.S. or Puerto Rico on the filing deadline.

Interest will be charged on any unpaid tax from the due date to the date the tax is paid.

Taxpayers who expect to file Form 2555, "Deduction from, or Exclusion of, Income Earned Abroad," can obtain an extension of time until 30 days after the end of their qualifying period. Form 2350, "Application for Extension of Time to File U.S. Income Tax Return," should be used.

If moving expenses are involved, extra time can be obtained by following the special instructions on Form 2350.

Additional extensions are granted only under unusual circumstances, according to the IRS.

Redfish Showing Decline In Bays

AUSTIN — Samples taken by Texas Parks and Wildlife Department biologists in Texas' coastal bays have revealed a 50 percent decline in juvenile red drum (redfish) from a year ago.

More than 350 seine samples were taken during October 1980 through February 1981, and the catches were compared to the same period in 1979-80.

The catch rate for 1980-81 produced an average of seven redfish fingerlings per acre, compared to 14.3 in 1979-80 and 8.6 in 1978-79.

Biologists said the downward trend is related to low numbers of redfish fry entering the bays.

Bay conditions during the September-October spawning period of 1980 were better than average, so biologists believe environmental factors were not to blame for the decline.

This year's crop of juvenile redfish is the smallest observed since 1977-78, and the low numbers of juvenile fish will be reflected in a reduction of harvest-sized reds in 1982, biologists said.

July 4-5 Set For Annual Art Festival

Rockport's annual Art Festival will get underway during the weekend of July 4-5, according to Festival Chairman Estelle Stair.

Mrs. Stair announced the dates at Tuesday night's, April 7, meeting of the Rockport Art Association, sponsor of the annual event.

Seventy of the 100 tent spaces at the Festival have already been paid for, Mrs. Stair added.

Game Wardens Collect Illegal Fish Nets

AUSTIN — Texas Parks and Wildlife Department game wardens seized 18,300 feet of illegal gill nets from the waters of the Lower Laguna Madre last week — the largest single one-night haul of illegal netting ever made on the Texas Coast.

Bob Miles, law enforcement district supervisor in Brownsville, said six game wardens coordinated their efforts on the all-night operation March 25 in Willacy County waters.

Miles said three arrests were made during the operation.

Game Warden Roy Gonzales said one of the net sets he picked up was 6,000 feet long.

How To Have A Healthy Dog

Dr. Lutz is a graduate of Baltimore City College and Texas A&M University. He specializes in small and exotic animal practice. He was an instructor of small animal diseases and surgery in the Veterinary School at Texas A&M and was in private practice in Waco for 25 years.

It is always less expensive to prevent a disease than it is to treat one. This information is to help you to have a healthy dog.

Just as it is necessary to have your pediatrician immunize your child against various diseases, so it is necessary to have your dog immunized against Rabies, Distemper, Hepatitis, Leptospirosis and Parvovirus infections.

A microscopic examination for intestinal parasites and heartworms is necessary, also.

Rabies — Dogs can be vaccinated as young as three months of age. An annual innoculation should be given thereafter.

Distemper — Young puppies at three weeks of age can receive a temporary vaccine using a distemper-measles vaccine. This is repeated at six weeks of age. Once a puppy is three months of age, give a Triple Vaccine injection.

Triple Vaccine (D-H&L) — The Triple Vaccine will protect a dog against Distemper, Hepatitis and Leptospirosis. Dogs three months of age or older should be given two vaccinations - four weeks apart. Annual revaccination, with a single dose, is recommended.

Parvovirus — Vaccination can be given as young as three weeks of age, and the second innoculation two weeks later, Bi-annual Booster thereafter.

Intestinal Parasites (Hookworms, Ascrids, Whipworms, Tapeworms, etc.) — There has always been considerable confusion in the minds of dog owners concerning the problem of worms in puppies and grown dogs.

Dogs should not be wormed on the possibility that they have them. Not all dogs have worms. Giving medicine to a dog that does not have worms may cause serious results, and can kill it.

The proper procedure is to have a veterinarian run a laboratory examination of a small amount of bowel action from your dog.

If your dog has worms, your veterinarian will point them out to you under the microscope. Each type of parasite will look different. This laboratory test enables the doctor to identify the type of worm the dog has.

The advisable medication would be given according to the dog's weight. This medicine should be repeated in two weeks.

Heartworms — Heartworms are caused by a mosquito bite. The best way to detect heartworms is a microscopic blood examination. Your veterinarian will draw just one c.c. of blood from your dog, and can demonstrate the results to you under the microscope.

If the test is negative, he will give you medication to give your dog daily. It is in tablet form. This medication must be given according to the dog's weight.

If heartworms are found, the dog must be treated or it will die. Treatment consists of an injection in the dog's vein twice a day for two to three days. Once a dog is free of heartworms, then the heartworm preventive tablet can be given. In this way, the dog does not become infested again.

Veterinarians advise that all dogs have a yearly physical examination. This examination will include lungs, eyes, ears, throat, skin, microscopic exam of bowel action for worms, and microscopic examination of the blood for heartworms.

Dogs should also have a yearly booster of Rabies, Triple Vaccine, and Parvovirus. I hope this information will be helpful for you and your dog.

Cancer Society Annual Crusade To Begin In April

The Aransas County unit of the American Cancer Society is tentatively planning to start its annual Crusade on April 22..

That was the word at the Thursday, April 9, meeting of Aransas County unit members at Corky's Restaurant.

Fundraising among area businesses will definitely get underway on the April 22 date, and the unit hopes to start the residential Crusade at that time too.

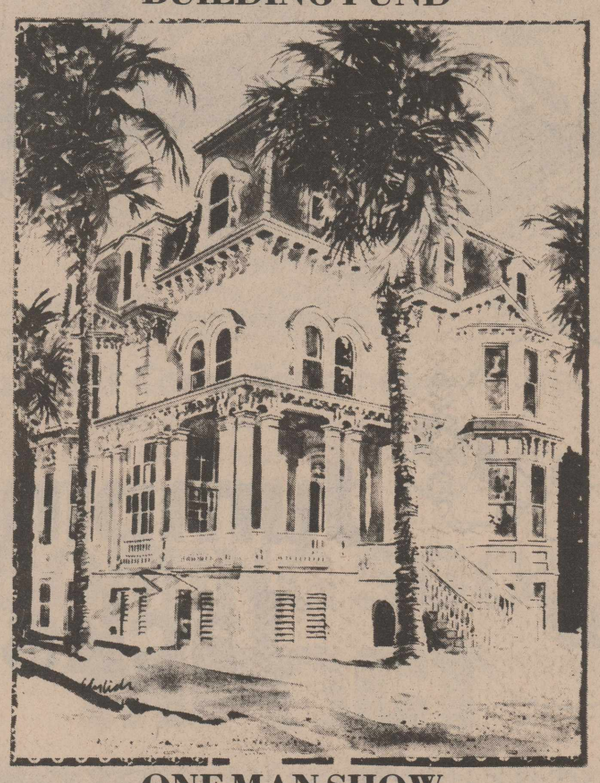

In other business during the luncheon, Patty McArdle reported that March memorial donations amounted to $1,086.

Joel Mixon reported on the cancer education program in the local schoools, saying the "big push" currently is an "anti-smoking, anti-chewing" campaign being conducted in the junior high school. "By high school," Mixon said, "it's a bit late (for this campaign)."

Unit members voted to change the times of the unit's monthly meeting from the second Thursday to the third Wednesday of each month.

The next meeting of the unit will be Wednesday, May 20.

AIM Home Health Services Explained To Committee

In-home health care, including such services as nursing and physical therapy, is available to Aransas County residents, members of the Women's Committee, Aransas County Medical Services, Inc. learned Friday, April 10.

The information came from Frances Iles, guest speaker at the Women's Committee's monthly luncheon at the Sandollar Restaurant, who told the organization about Aransas County's AIM Home Health Agency Inc.

Approved in May, 1980, the non-profit health care agency serves Aransas and San Patricio counties, including Rockport, Fulton, Lamar community, Aransas Pass, Portland, Gregory, Ingleside, Taft, Sinton, Odom, Bayside, Copano and Austwell.

The agency's purpose is to provide professional health care to persons who are home-bound, either permanently or temporarily, under the care of a physician and who needs the kind of services AIM can provide.

The agency includes a staff of nurses, a physical therapist, speech pathologist, medical social service worker and home health aide, said Mrs. Iles who added she is the agency's business manager.

Nursing services are provided by Kathleen Aiken, an R.N. and the administrator of the agency, and two other professional nurses.

The agency provides, in addition to nursing and physical therapy, respiratory rehabilitation, medication teaching, Foley installation and irrigation, wound care and dressing changes, comprehensive diabetic teaching, cardiac rehabilitation and teaching, bowel and bladder training, venipuncture and post-cardiac surgery care.

Staff members also teach and administer care of patients with nasogastric gastrostomy tube or trach, care for the terminally ill or bedridden patient — and teach the family how to provide needed care — provide nutritional teaching and speech pathology in addition to such support services as bathing, personal hygiene, light housekeeping and meal preparation.

The agency also serves as the coordinator and resource agent for obtaining home medical supplies.

All of this, Mrs. Iles said, is provided in the home and on a one-to-one basis with the patient and the patient's family.

She added patients are taken only if referred by a physician and that fees are charged only to pay for the actual costs.

AIM accepts payment through Medicare and Medicaid and a sliding fee schedule can be worked out for persons who need financial assistance.

Some 69 members of the ACMSI Women's Committee attended Friday's luncheon which was held a week early to avoid a conflict on Good Friday.

Imogene Sloan reported that the total projects of the committee, July, 1980, through March, 1981, amounted to $23,544.70. In March, sales of items made in the Women's Committee workshop totalled $624.07 and the organization received another $968 through memorials and donations.

Profit from the committee's fund-raising activities are used to maintain the county's Emergency Medical Service.

BEAUTIFYING THE WOMAN'S CLUB

Three of the officers of the Aransas County Woman's Club get into the work of beautifying the Woman's Club Building and surrounding grounds recently. At left, Elizabeth Jones, president of the club, and Ina Bennett, first vice president, plant flowers while Geneva Taylor — the fourth vice president and "yard lady" — wields the hoe. The Woman's Club started beautification work last spring [1980] with a new ceiling for the club building and that was followed by an inside paint job last summer. In December, the outside of the building was painted and that's been followed recently by a new sign for the buiding and landscaping. The members still aren't finished, according to Mrs. Jones. The next project is to plant some oleanders.

Healthful Hints

By Jean Glowka

[Most Often-Asked Questions On Nutrition]

Q. Isn't there a way to make a sort of "home-made" liquid vitamin C from vitamin C tablets and water? How is it done?

A. Liquefy in a blender 100 tablets of 500 mg. of vitamin C with one cup of water. The resulting solution will supply 500 milligrams of C per half teaspoon.

If you don't have a blender, you may wrap the tablets in paper, crush them with a hammer and dissolve them in boiling water (same measurements). This solution will lose little or none of it's potency if kept refrigerated.

Q. I get a backache pretty often. I've checked with my doctor, and I don't really have anything seriously wrong. Anyway, I want to know what the usual nutritional therapy is for backache?

A. The nutritional approach varies depending on the specific cause of the backache, but there are certain nutrients that are essential for maintaining a healthy back.

Protein is essential for firm supporting tissue. The B-complex vitamins are needed for strength and health of nerve tissues.

Backache prevention should include good posture, exercise, proper lifting, (bending at knees instead of the waist), and avoiding unnecessary emotional or physical stress or strain.

Vitamins C, D and calcium are important in the maintenance and development of bones and nerve function.

Live Oak Bank Features Showing By Jack Ehrlich

Live Oak State Bank will feature artist Jack Ehrlich in a one-man show benefiting the Rockport Art Association Inc. Building Fund.

The show will open with an informal reception Sunday afternoon, April 26, from 2 to 5 p.m. at the bank. The public is invited to meet the artist, enjoy refreshments and listen to the piano music of Patti Blodgett.

The show will continue during regular banking hours — 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Monday through Thursday and 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Fridays — through May 8.

A 25 percent gallery commission from all sales made during the show have been designated by Ehrlich to benefit the Rockport Art Association Inc. Building Fund.

Ehrlich began his art studies at the age of 12 under the tutelage of Fort Worth artist Pat Richey. He has studied also under Edgar Whitney and Marie Cooper and locally under Simon Michael and Al Barnes.

Equally at home in the medium of oils, pastels and water colors, the artist will display approximately 30 original recent works — primarily watercolors in this, his second, one-man show.

An exciting feature of the show will be the introduction of a new signed and numbered special edition print of the Fulton Mansion. Ehrlich completed the original watercolor from which these prints are being made in March of this year.

This original will be among the paintings offered in the show.

Little League Season Begins On April 18

The 1981 Aransas County Little League Association will officially "throw out the first ball" to start their baseball and softball season this Saturday, April 18.

The festivities will begin at 5:15 p.m. with a parade of all participating teams and will also include several local dignitaries. Local law enforcement personnel and fire department volunteers will act as escorts.

The parade route begins on Market Street (Business 35), one block east of the Post Office and will go through downtown Rockport and continue past the ski basin on Highway 35. The parade, which features all 26 teams of the 1981 ACLLA will then turn left at the Dairy Queen, continue past Rockport-Fulton High School on Enterprise Street and finish in Memorial Park.

Once in the Little League Complex in Memorial Park, an Olympic style team march will enter the Little League field where the opening ceremonies will be held.

The ceremony will include several dignitaries, special awards, opening festivities and a special patriotic salute. The ceremony will begin at 6:30 p.m. and conclude at 7:30.

At that point, even more festivities will begin. The concession stand will open and an evening barbecue meal will be served. Plate donations of $2.50 will be asked for.

Special games will be held on both playing fields. On the Little League Field, Little League age boys (ages 10-12) will compete with their mothers. On the big field, Big League girls (ages 16-18) will face off with the 1981 ACLLA Volunteers.

The public is invited by the ACLLA to attend the opening ceremonies and participate in the fun of Little League.

Veterans Administration News

Editor's Note: Following are representative questions answered daily by VA counselors. Full information is available at any VA office.

Q — I am a 55-year-old Korean War veteran. Two years ago I had both legs amputated as a result of an automobile accident. Can I receive a waiver of premium of my National Service Life Insurance even though I am gainfully employed?

A — Yes. An insured who has suffered the permanent loss of both legs is considered totally disabled without regard to employment.

Q — I am receiving compensation for a 30 percent service connected disability, and I also receive an annual clothing allowance. I now find I could receive more money by electing to receive non-service connected pension benefits in lieu of compensation because I am eligible for both. If I elect to receive pension benefits in lieu of compensation, will I still get priority treatment at the Veterans Administration hospital and continue to get my clothing allowance?

A — Yes. The election to receive greater monetary benefits does not affect any other benefits you are entitled to because of service connected disabilities.

Q — If a veteran has an undesirable discharge upgraded, what effect does this have on his 10-year delimiting date for Veterans Administration education benefits?

A — The 10-year delimiting period begins the date the veteran's discharge is upgraded by the appropriate service department.

Q — I am a veteran of the Korean Conflict. Am I eligible for dental treatment from the Veterans Administration?

A — You are eligible only if you have been rated 100 percent disabled for service connected disabilities, are an ex-prisoner of war, or the condition for which you need treatment has been determined to the service connected by VA.

Q — How much can the surviving spouse of a veteran receive from the Veterans Administration as reimbursement for burial expenses?

A — VA provides $300 toward a veteran's burial expenses. A plot or interment allowance, not to exceed $150, is also available if the veteran was not buried in a national

Q — If an eligible veteran gets the $3,800 Veterans Administration automobile grant, will he have to pay for adaptive equipment necessary to enable him to dirve the vehicle?

A — No. In addition to the $3,800 grant, VA pays for adaptive equipment, its repair and replacement, or re-installation in another vehicle purchased later.

Aransas County Neighborhood Crime Watch

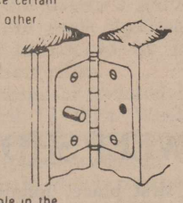

Together, The Citizens Can Stop Burglaries

KNOW WHO'S CALLING before opening your door. A wide-angle door viewer enables you to identify the visitor. You can see him. He can't see you.

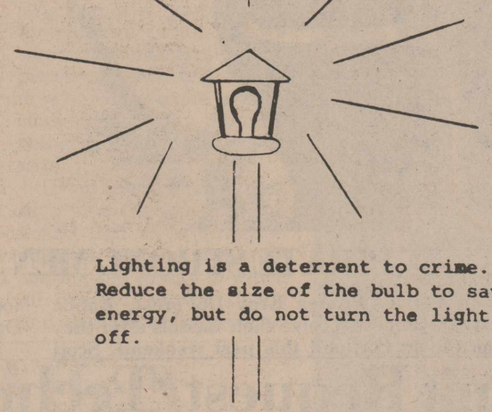

OUTSIDE HINGE PINS can make a good lock useless. An intruder could enter by removing these pins. To prevent this, follow these simple steps.

1. Each hinge has two sides or "leaves." One leaf is screwed to the door and the other to the door frame. Remove one screw from the door leaf and the opposing screw from the door frame leaf. Make certain they are directly opposite each other.
2. Insert a solid metal pin, screw, or concrete nail into the hole formerly occupied by the screw on the door frame leaf. After installation, the pin, screw or concrete nail should protrude from the hinge about ½ inch.
3. Drill out the opposing screw hole in the door to fit the pin, screw or concrete nail. Do this to each hinge on your door. When the door is closed and locked, the hinge pins still remain removable but the door itself cannot be lifted out.

SECURITY INSIDE YOUR HOME
Set aside a small closet with a solid core door and non-removable hinge pins, and install a deadbolt lock for high security. Use it for storing your most valuable possessions, such as furs and firearms.

Lighting is a deterrent to crime. Reduce the size of the bulb to save energy, but do not turn the light off.

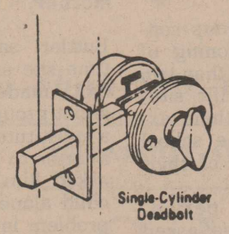

Report all suspicious persons to the police at once. Call 911.

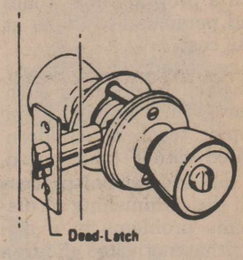

CRIME PREVENTION is: Practicing security.

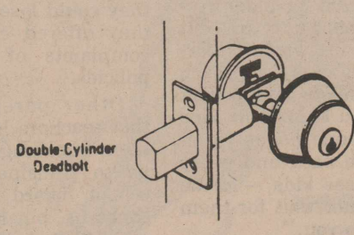

CRIME PREVENTION is: People helping people.

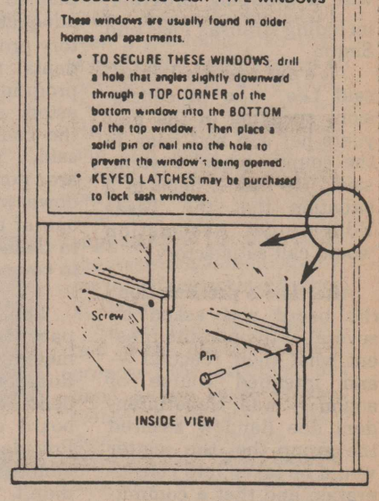

A one-inch deadbolt that requires a key to operate from either side. Ideal security for doors with glass panels.

Common household lock with dead-latch. Although this is not a security lock, it offers minimum protection.

A one-inch deadbolt with a thumb-turn on the inside. Good security for solid doors.

FRONT ENTRANCE

Door should be metal clad or solid core wood construction. A deadlock, in addition to the key-in-the-knob lock is essential. Use a wide-angle viewer rather than a door chain to observe callers. A screen door or storm door offers additional protection if kept locked.

GROUND FLOOR WINDOWS

All ground floor windows should have key-operated sash locks or other locks as described in this booklet. Keep your windows closed and locked when you are away. Screens and storm windows should be securely fastened to the structure.

UPPER FLOOR WINDOWS

Keep your second floor secure by trimming tree branches away from the house to prevent climbing, and do not store ladders where a burglar can use them. Lock all windows while you are away. Take the same precautions as with ground floor windows.

BASEMENT WINDOWS

Close and lock your basement windows. If they are not required for ventilation, they should be permanently secured by using screws through the window frame into the structure. Treat the door from your basement into the main part of the house as an exterior door.

GARAGE DOOR

The garage door should always be closed and locked. Make sure that you treat the entrance door from the garage to your house the same as any other door. A burglar in your garage can work on your house door undetected.

PORCH AND PATIO DOORS

Treat all exterior doors on the rear and sides of your home as probable targets for entry. Since they may be less observable from the street and by neighbors than your front entrance, you may need to take extra precautions.

YARD LIGHTS

Each exterior entrance—including the garage door should be well lighted. Post lights in your yard or floodlights mounted under the eaves to prevent blind spots where burglars can hide. Low cost controls for exterior lights will turn them on and off at specified times, or light sensors will illuminate them from dusk to dawn.

INTERIOR LIGHTS

When you are away from home—whether on vacation or just for the evening—keep some interior lights burning. To create the appearance that someone is at home, use a timer to turn lights on and off at normal times. A radio playing adds to the illusion that the house is occupied.

LANDSCAPING

When placing trees, bushes and flowers remember to keep doorways, windows and porches clear. Remember that the bushes that provide you with privacy also give a burglar a place to hide. Plan your landscaping with both privacy and security in mind.

BE NEIGHBORLY

Talk with your neighbors about your concern about burglary. Tell them what you are doing to protect your home. Ask them to report any suspicious persons or activities around your home to your law enforcement agency. Good neighbors make safe neighborhoods.

BURGLARY PREVENTION CHECKLIST FOR HOMES

This checklist was designed to help you make a security survey of your own home.

The first purpose of a home security inspection is to identify features in your home or daily routines of your family which might make your home an easy target for a burglar.

The security inspection should begin at your front door, include an inspection of all your doors and windows, locks, lights and landscaping. Each question on the checklist which you answer with an "x" or "✔" in the second column indicates a security weakness or hazard which requires your attention.

If you would like professional advice and assistance in a thorough home security inspection, call your local law enforcement agency.

Lee Says "We Rattled Some Cages"

each year. This implementation process "is built right in" said Lee and would thus cost the district nothing.

Mrs. Lee also noted that the Region 2 Educational Service Center in Corpus Christi had the means to aid a district in setting up such a program and would send personnel to do so at state cost.

Lee cited the "many bonuses" involved in such a program, among them happier teachers, children excited rather than bored by the educational process and the diminishing of discipline problems in a district that motivates children instead of underchallenging them.

Lee said to the board, "All you have to do to group is to want to do it. It would cost nothing. TEA wants you to do it." She presented the board with a list of other district schools with a grouping program, including Aransas Pass and Sinton.

"It's our responsibility," said Lee, who in conclusion, speaking of the four years her son had been in the county school system, said "He hasn't been in a situation that the Texas Educational Association would call satisfactory."

After Lee's presentation, the board was asked by several of the parents present what their reaction — and intended course of action — was. Superintendent Joe Randow assured the group that the matter would be taken into consideration and that a committee of teachers were, at the present time, preparing a report for the board regarding the grouping plan. Randow said that there would be some changes made by September but would not cite any specific plans. He told the group "We will provide whatever is needed...we're working with our teachers now and should have a report for you by the next meeting."

Answering a question by a parent who asked how might the parents be involved in this process, school board president Ottie Mundine said, "Right now we're trying to get our teachers oriented on this committee. We'd like to work with our teachers first."

The parent's group continued the questioning of the board for more than two hours, citing specific situations involving their experiences with the school system and those of their children.

During this period, Attorney Allen Lee asked Randow, "Are we going to get a gifted program this year? I've asked you the same question for three years and every year you tell me that next year we'll have one. Well, are we going to have one next year?"

Other parents complained of the lack of an adequate college preparatory program for older students. Citing the present program in which interested students approach the counselor, one parent said, "You know how kids are. Someone needs to sit down with each and every one of these kids — come to them, not wait for them to come to you."

The majority of the parents attending the meeting were parents of Rockport Elementary students and presented the board with situations that President Ottie Mundine admitted were "things we didn't know were going on."

Several parents had children who had been punished for speaking in the overcrowded Rockport Elementary cafeteria. These students were "sent to the wall" at the end of the room and not allowed to finish their lunch, said mothers.

Others complained of whole classes being punished for the rulebreaking of one or several members and one mother told the board that she had not been notified of a spanking administered to her child by the school until several weeks after the incident.

Several parents felt that children took the brunt when a parent complained to school personnel and one mother, Mrs. Randell Buttler, said that at one time she and her husband had made a complaint about group punishment to a substitute teacher, and in a letter to Principal Ratliff asked him to punish their child alone if he caused a problem instead of making the whole class write sentences — the usual group punishment.

Mrs. Buttler was later told by the teacher that Principal Ratliff instructed her never to punish the child again.

Mrs. Buttler could not identify the teacher who she said was like many other teachers who felt that they could lose their job if they offered criticisms or complaints of the school policies.

Other parents agreed that teachers had come to them encouraging them to go to principals and the school board with their concerns, but had requested, "Please don't use my name; I don't want to lose my job."

In reaction to this, the board agreed to act on the proposal made by the group that elected representatives from all the county teachers attend school board meetings and present grievances, complaints and information.

At the end of the exchange, answering Attorney Lee's challenge of "We will not be sidetracked on this thing," Superintendent Randow said, "Yes, but you will not intimidate us. We will do what we have to do."

After the parent's group was heard from and other business taken care of, the Board adjourned for an executive session after which it was announced that Rockport Elementary principal William Ratliff had resigned his post in order to take an early retirement. Randow stressed the fact that Ratliff had tendered his resignation "sometime in March" and that it was not a result of pressure from the parent's group or the school board.

Asked for comment on Tuesday morning after the meeting, Ratliff said, "I've had that resignation in for a long time. I've had no pressure group, parents or the board after me." I've achieved the goals in education that I wanted to achieve. Now it's time to set more goals."

Ratliff will be replaced by Norman Spears.

After the meeting, Nelda Lee said of the response from the board, "We felt that the board was informed. They indicated that we were telling them things they hadn't heard before. They asked us why we hadn't been there before and we told them that we had been told to go through the channels to the superintendent and we went through all the processes, but Randow had not communicated this to them. I believe that the group is prepared to make some changes now that we've communicated our ideas to them. We rattled some cages and got a chance to air some grievances. We felt good."

Of Ratliff's resignation, Lee said, "None of us were putting any pressure on him. I found him to be very workable. I really felt like he tried to do a good job with the restrictions he was working in."

Randow said, after the meeting, "We've been working on a program to improve the instructional level in all our schools. We've already been working and will continue to do so. As far as what the parent's group presented to us, we're going to look at the idea very closely."

Permit Request 'Technical Decision' facility can be built is on the technical merits of the facility."

Another TACB representative, Regional TACB Superintendent Tom Palmer, later pointed out that the TACB "does not have any authority to evaluate the permit on the basis of land use."

Members of the audience were told that the TACB bases its decisions on the effect the proposed facility will have on air quality, and the Rocking R. Refinery is well within acceptable emission standards.

"A gas station filling cars has got one heck of a bunch more total emissions (than the proposed refinery)," Palmer said.

Wade told property owners, "This is a very safe unit."

Prior to the meeting, McClendon said the refinery proposed is what is known as a "topping unit" and will do only the first steps in crude oil processing.

He said the refinery will produce naphtha, No. 6 fuel oil and diesel fuel and added, "The main reason for this (refinery) is the need in this area for diesel fuel (also known as tool oil)."

During the public meeting, Wade said the refinery will make use of a "very small gas-fired boiler" in what is essentially "one of the first steps in the refining operation." He emphasized that the proposed refinery would not go beyond this "first step."

"We're talking about fairly small numbers," Wade said.

McClendon prior to the meeting said the refinery will cover an area approximately 110 feet by 200 feet total.

Asked about possible plans for expansion, McClendon said he has no expansion plans "at the present time" and Wade added that, if the plant were to expand in future, it would have to apply for another permit from the TACB.

Property owners expressed concern over possible future expansion as well as present problems with emissions from the proposed refinery.

Property owners became impatient with a unit-by-unit analysis of each component of the plant and the emissions it would produce and at one point, one of those present, Tony Thorne, told TACB members, "To h--- with each unit. Can you guarantee us no smog, no fallout or what will you do? Put it all together for us."

Another property owner demanded, "Is there any way you can guarantee no odor, no fallout, no problem?"

Property owners also expressed concern over the possibility impact of a refinery on the ecology of the area and one told TACB members, "This facility is right next to one of the best estuaries in the state."

Another property owner declared to Wade and McClendon, "You have no friends in this audience. We don't like refineries in any shape, form or fashion coming into this area."

Another member of the audience Friday night asked Braddock, "Does our input have any effect?" Braddock replied, "We're taking it down."

Later, however, asked what would happen to the permit "if everyone here doesn't like it (the proposed refinery)," Braddock said, "As a legal matter, that's not a basis for turning it down."

In addition to Braddock and Palmer, other members of the TACB at the meeting were Stewart Kiel, an engineer, and Warren Rogers, an investigator with the Corpus Christi TACB regional office.

Property owners were told Friday's meeting was not in the place of a public hearing and they can still request a public hearing on the permit application.

Our Readers Write

April 14, 1981

Dear Editor,

As a parent who at times has been very frustrated trying to deal with and get solutions to many of the problems our schools have, I was most encouraged by the large number of parents at Monday's (April 13) school board meeting. It was reiterated several times that we as parents had attempted to work through channels of authority, beginning with individual teachers (who have none), then principals (who often claim they have none or who talk in circles), and finally the superintendent, to solve our many problems. Unfortunately we have often encountered either indifference or inauthority in those channels.

I was greatly heartened that most board members were extremely interested in our plight, as well as that of our children. I feel the lines of communication that were opened at this meeting will remain open, to the benefit of our students, who have been bored and haphazardly disciplined; our parents, who have often felt a frustration and distinct cold chill when they attempted to deal with the administration; and our teachers, who may have had their own frustrations with the administration's lack of support, or fear of its reprisals if they made waves.

Several good proposals were made at the meeting to deal with the communication problem. It was recommended to the board that teachers elect representatives to attend each board meeting, a system which seems to work well in Aransas Pass. The parents also offered to keep the board informed on problems that have remained unsolved, and we offered to serve at the board's convenience as advisory committees on such issues as revising the conduct and discipline code and regrouping the students.

We intend to submit periodically to the board a list of those problems we have encountered. To help us do do that, I invite any parent to contact me with those specifics.

I also urge parents to get involved with your childrens' schools. Join PTA or PTO and attend meetings. Get to know the teachers and administrators in a positive manner, rather than to just complain when things go wrong. I urge those area residents who have a talent to share with our children, whether it be art or how to make arrowheads, to contact the schools and offer to broaden our childrens' horizons.

Join us in our attempt to see these exciting things happen in our schools.

Sincerely,
Gayle C. Atchley

position which we believe to be in the best interest of the county."

"That's the only free beach space on Fulton Beach Road now and it would be a shame to see the community grow and grow and end up with no park space."

"I would recommend that if any Aransas County resident wants to protest the expansion, they can write the Corps of Engineers."

Early Childhood Screening Scheduled

The Early Childhood Program for students with special learning needs will be screening for students at Rockport Elementary School Tuesday, April 21 through Friday, May 1.

This program is designed for three-, four- and five-year-olds needing special attention in regards to their educational needs.

The school district has prepared a list of questions pertaining to possible applicants for the Early Childhood Program. Parents answering "yes" to one or more of the following questions may have a child that would benefit from the program.

Do you have a three-, four- or five-year-old who:

1. Has been diagnosed by a doctor as deaf, blind, mentally retarded, physically handicapped, emotionally disturbed, or learning disabled?
2. Does not talk very much or points and makes noises to get what he/she wants?
3. Has a speech problem. Can you and others understand him/her when he/she talks?
4. Has trouble learning songs, nursery rhymes, prayers, or what you ask him/her to do?
5. Cannot see well? Does he/she hold books extremely close or sit close to set when watching television?
6. Seems to have a hearing loss? Can child hear when you talk to him/her?
7. Seems to be clumsy with his/her hands or tends to fall or stumble a great deal?

Parents interested in having their children considered for acceptance in the program should call Rockport Elementary at 729-6344 and set up a screening appointment.

Chances Look Dim For County Sewer

By Pat Blair

Although a public hearing remains to be called, water board officials "aren't optimistic" that Aransas County will get a sanitary sewer system — at least not in the near future.

That was the word from Jack McDavid, chairman of the Aransas County Conservation and Reclamation District (ACCRD) board of directors following a meeting of the board Monday afternoon, April 6.

Board members met to "make decisions" required to finish a study, funded in part by federal grant money, on the feasibility of a sanitary sewer system to serve Aransas County residents.

The study began about a year ago and has included public meetings and meetings of an appointed Citizens Advisory Committee to get public input on the matter, as well as studies of what type of sewer facilities would best serve county needs and where they would be located.

To complete the study, the board was required Monday to make tentative decisions on how much of the county would be served by a proposed sanitary sewer system, how such a system would be funded and how the board would provide the funds.

The decisions the board made — to convert to a Municipal Utility District (MUD) with the power to assess a benefit tax that will provide service to four areas of the county — will be presented to Aransas County residents in a public hearing.

At Monday's meeting, Mick Ladner, the public participation coordinator for the project, presented the ACCRD directors with three alternatives for providing sanitary sewer service in the county, along with costs.

The most expensive proposal was Alternative 1, providing sewer service to most of the county, excluding those areas north of the Causeway. The cost of this project to the county would be around $7.5 million.

The second proposal, Alternative 2, would provide service to a smaller area of the county at a local cost of almost $5.4 million.

Under the third alternative, a still smaller portion of the county — including only Fulton, West Terrace, Oak Terrace and Peninsula Oaks — would be served by the sanitary sewer system. Cost of this alternative locally would be $3,020,000.

The ACCRD board selected Alternative 3 as the most economically feasible plan with local funding to be repaid through a benefit tax collected from all owners of sewered lots. Conversion to a MUD would be necessary to give the water board taxing authority it does not now have.

Board members emphasized that they were adopting the proposal Monday primarily to satisfy requirements under the Environmental Protection Agency grant they received to fund the Step 1 feasibility study.

Under terms of the federal grant agreement, these tentative decisions must be included in the engineers' report of the study to the EPA.

One reason for the high local costs on the project is the fact that federal grant funds won't cover as much of the project as originally anticipated.

Board members were originally told — back when this project first got underway — that, under the EPA grant program, the county would be eligible to apply for additional federal grants that would pay for 75 percent of the costs of designing and constructing sanitary sewer facilities.

However, Ladner said Monday, the laws governing the grant funds contain a "quirk"; a subdivision had to be two-thirds completed in 1972 in order to qualify for the 75 percent federal funding.

As a result of this "quirk," under Alternatives 1 and 2, federal funding would pay for less than half the total cost of the sanitary sewer project. Under Alternative 3, federal funding would amount to $3.5 million — just a little over half the total project cost.

In addition, Laddie Janecek, the ACCRD's financial advisor, pointed out another problem: the uncertainty of whether any federal grant funds will be available in the near future.

Despite the lack of optimism among board members, McDavid said, the board "achieved what we wanted. We got a study."

It's just that what the study seems to show, at this time, is that "the numbers don't justify the expense" of a county sewer project.

Lady Pirates Take 3rd Place In District Track Meet

By Bob Crawford

Using the strength of fine performances by the relay teams, Terri Moore, Darlene Dilworth and Belinda Cross, the Lady Pirates picked up third place in the district meet last week in Flour Bluff. Coach Karen Richter will be taking a good group to the Regional Meet, which will be at Cabiness Field in Corpus on April 24 and 25 on the new track.

Terri Moore cut loose with winning tosses in the shot put and the discus, with the discus throw setting a new school and district record.

Belinda Cross spread her talents around and will go to the regional competition in three events and will be an alternate in another. Cross set a new school and district record on her way to a win in the 800 meters. She also ran legs on the two relay teams (800 and 1600 meter) which qualified for regional with second place finishes. On top of that, Cross was third in the triple jump and sixth in the long jump.

Darlene Dilworth placed second in the triple jump and was on both qualifying relay teams. She also took fifth in the long jump.

Alma Dickerson will go to regional as a member of the 800 meter relay team, and she will be the alternate in the 200 meters. Julie Huff, who will advance as a member of both relays, also had the fifth best throw in the shot put. Tammy Walker will go as a member of the 1600 meter relay team.

Lory Broadhurst made a fine run in the 3200 meters to take third, making her the alternate to the region. Broadhurst added a sixth place finish in the mile.

There were other Lady Pirates who performed well enought to get team points for the Pirates: Danielle Adams was fifth in the hurdles, and Walker was sixth in the 800 meters.

In the JV division, the Lady Pirates showed indication of things to come as the team took fifth overall.

Jana Brown ran her way to first in the 3200 meters and second in the 1600 meters. Lee Anna Cassel took second in the 800 meters. Carla Perkins took second in the 100 and third in the 200. Mona Cowen took fifth in the hurdles. Amy Barlass placed fifth in the 1600 meter run. Kelly Mack was sixth in the 100, and Missy Krogsgaard got sixth in the shot.

The 400 and 1600 relay teams were sixth. Cowen, Elsa Ramirez, Cassel and Brown ran the 1600. Mack, Ramirez, Cassel and Perkins ran the 400.

12 Boats Participate In Bay Race

The Rockport Sailing Club met Saturday following bay races in which 12 boats participated.

Tony Thorne, commodore, asked for prompt payment of dues in order that the 1981 membership roster may be completed.

He also noted that the search for a clubhouse continues.

Currently meetings are being held at Allegro House.

Lloyd Umfleet, cruise chairman, said at least 10 sailboats will depart the Lydia Ann Lighthouse on Thursday for an Easter weekend cruise to Port Isabel where the fleet will be guests of the Laguna Madre Yacht Club.

The event will be a combination race-cruise for the vessels sailing offshore.

Winners of the March 28 and April 11 bay races were announced by John Bunton, race chairman. Winners March 28 were John and Kelly Bunton, first in Chiriga; second, Gar Lonburger in April; and third, Jerry Shaw and Gordon Dancer in Alibi.

April 11 winners were Shaw and Dancer, first in Alibi; Bunton, second in Chiriga; and Pat Brown third in Misprint.

Evelyn Gerdine, speaking for the board boat committee, urged participation in races which will be held every Wednesday, beginning the first week in June.

Pirates Have Win Streak Stopped, Sinton Wins 4-3

By Bob Crawford

Rockport-Fulton ran into a little trouble on their win streak as the Sinton team handed them a 4-3 defeat last week in Sinton.

The Pirates drew first blood as they got leadoff man Rudy Zavala on base and scored him on a single by Bill Jennings. Sinton knotted the score in the bottom half of the inning.

The Sinton team ran ahead of the Pirates in the third inning with two runs to put them ahead 3-1.

Rockport narrowed the gap with a single run in the fourth inning with Pee Wee Solis getting a hit and then scoring on a hit by Tim Redden.

Sinton picked up an insurance run in the bottom of the fourth.

The Pirates staged a rally in the seventh, but fell shy of tying by a run.

While the Varsity was losing, the JV was recording a win over Sinton.

Outdoors

By Mrs. Richard Alden Knight

COSTA RICA — When Joy and I were here last year we made a collection of as much Costa Rican travel material as we could lay our hands on. We planned, this year, to spend another week in the country and see more of it.

One of the highly recommended side trips for the visitor to Costa Rica is the narrow-gauge Atlantic Railway between the capital of San Jose and the Caribbean port of Limon, the site of Columbus' landing on his fourth voyage.

This train, a daily commercial affair, drops from the high, temperate bowl of San Jose through the high mountains through the varied ecosystems to tropical sea level. During its six-hour trip it crosses many deep river chasms, one of the major reasons we did NOT make the trip.

Bill Barnes, the Casa Mar resident manager, warned us that with the extreme rains that had continued virtually unceasingly since the last summer "official" rainy season, washouts were far from unexpected.

In this case, our method of arrival would be by car...but unfortunately there was a break in comunications along the way so that we never did manage to connect with the man who suggested it to us.

While we did not manage to connect on a trout trip, we did, however, have the chance to spend time in the rest of the country and to follow recommendations of others at Casa Mar who had spent time "touristing" before fishing. They had lots of them and we had the time.

Sylvia Vanderpool

Vanderpool Is Live Club Champion

Sylvia Vanderpool of Fulton took the ladies' championship at the recent tournament at Live Oak Country Club.

Judy Rittman if Ingleside won the consolation.

Mrs. Vanderpool defeated Vivian Welch in the final rounds to capture her title. Preceding the final rounds, Mrs. Vanderpool defeated Helen Dupre and Mrs. Welch defeated Peggy Lawrence.

The first flight was taken by Fran Robbins of Rockport who emerged victor in matches against Judy Phelps of Rockport, Aileen Rahn of Ingleside and Ollie Rogero of Rockport.

Mrs. Rahn defeated Ester Kirkham of Aransas Pass to advance to the finals.

Marion Voss of City-by-the-Sea took the first flight consolation. Mrs. Voss won her final round over Gretel Bedre of Aransas Pass.

A silver tray was presented to winners at the monthly luncheon April 1.

On April 1 some 25 ladies played. In honor of "April Fool's Day," the match went to the highest scoring golfer instead of the low scorer.

On May 13, the Live Oak ladies will play host to the big Inter City Tournament, with some 100 entries coming from throughout the area including country clubs in Corpus Christi, Beeville, Alice and Refugio.

Pirates Win Wildcat Relays

By Bob Crawford

Leaving a lot of folks in Portland scratching their heads, Rockport-Fulton raced their way to the top spot in the Wildcat Relays, picking up a little help from the Refugio Bobcats along the way. The Pirates will run in the district meet in Sinton on April 24.

Looking down the road to the district showdown with the Wildcats, the Pirates were making ready by turning in some great performances, both by individuals and team-wise. Refugio's part in the meet was that they picked up most of the points in events when the Pirates needed help, especially in the hurdles, and then picked up the third, fourth and fifth spots where the Wildcats always win meets because of their depth.

Rockport's sprint relay pulled to a victory with Zak Green, Dwayne Walls, Micheal Simmons and David Williams running away from the field. Simmons came back to win the 100, and Walls won the 220 and had second in the 100.

Raul Castro was the class of the meet by winning both the mile and the two mile events, and ran a leg on the winning Distance Medley Relay.

Bubba Scott cut loose with discus toss of 174 feet, and then took the shot put as well. Kroy DeForest, improving with each meet, gave Scott a run for the medal as he took second in the shot, and Marty Davenport was third. Davenport was also third in the discus.

Two relay events were put together for this meet, but will not be district events. The Distance Medley Relay team of Castro, Lupe Contreras, Peter Booth and David Ramirez took a first. The two-mile relay team of Mike Zlock, Clyde Barre, Joe Lara and Damaso Galvan was a second place finisher.

Peter Booth ran to a third place finish in the two-mile run, and David Ramirez took fourth. Zak Green also was clocked in fourth place in the 100. Booth also recorded a sixth place finish in the mile run.

Clyde Barre ran the tough 400 meter run and finished fifth, and Ramirez was fifth in the mile run.

In the JV Division, Rockport-Fulton placed fifth overall. Charles Ochoa was a first-place winner in the discus and second in the shot put.

The two-mile relay team of Eddie Naro, Joe Cantu, Richard Nava and Robert Garcia were third. The 440 relay made up of Paul Beck, Kenneth Smith, Scott McMillan and Aaron Chambers placed fourth.

Naro took a fourth in the 330 hurdles, and McMillan was fifth.

Also taking fifth place overall were the Freshmen.

James Blair picked up a second in the 880 and Steve Arkell was second in the 100. Blair and Arkell both ran legs on relay teams which placed. The 1600 relay team of Arkell, Blair, Ramon Romero and Tom Weaver took a third, and Blair, Weaver, Arkell and Doyle Parr were sixth in the sprint relay.

Darren Gurley picked up a third in the discus, and Tommy Barnard was third in the shot put.

Thorne Urges Legislature Not To Redistrict Aransas County

Speaking on behalf of the county's Republican party and "conservative leadership in the county," Tony Thorne has urged the Texas Senate redistricting committee to leave Aransas County in the 17th Senatorial District.

Thorne made his appeal during redistricting hearings Thursday, April 9, in Corpus Christi, prompted by fears of Aransas County conservative leaders that Aransas County might be taken out of James E. "Buster" Brown's 17th Senatorial District and placed in the District now represented by Senator Carlos Truan.

The reason for these fears, Thorne explained, lies in the population requirements for a senatorial district. "Ideally," Thorne said, "the senator should represent approximately 500,000 people."

He added Truan's present district is "just slightly" under this ideal representation figure, while Brown's district, which presently includes Aransas County, is "slightly over" the ideal.

"The easy thing to do," Thorne continued, "would be to take Aransas County out of Brown's district and include it in Truan's."

Senator Truan's district includes Nueces County. Thorne emphasized that Aransas County's interests are not the same as those of other counties in Truan's district.

"Our interests lie with the northern coastal counties," he said. These are the counties that presently comprise District 17.

Thorne told Truan during Thursday's redistricting hearings that Aransas is "a conservative community and our major economic base is geared to fishing, offshore oil and tourism — the same interests as the other counties in District 17.

"Our problems are common with those of the northern district," Thorne added. "Our future is tied with the other coastal counties."

Thorne said Monday that "Truan doesn't want us in his district. The Mexican-American leadership in Nueces County made an appeal for him to go south and west (to enlarge his district — which he will be required to do)."

However, Thorne added, if the redistricting isn't resolved by the Texas legislature, the problem will go into State court, "and you never know what the courts will do."

Martha Christian Takes Rotarians Undersea

Although she did not go to the extremes of Jules Verne's "Twenty Thousand Leagues Under the Sea," Martha Christian — local expert underwater photographer — did take her Rotary Club audience to depths of 80 to 100 feet in the Caribbean Sea at a luncheon meeting of Rotary Club Wednesday, April 8, at Sandollar Restaurant.

Her color slidefilm presentation was the product of the past four or five years of underwater exploration and photography with her husband, Bill, largely in the Caribbean at such locations as Cozumel, Beleze, Cayman Island, Banair Island and Roatan.

Featured in the films were scores of exotic tropical fish and other equally strange animals that looked like plants as well as underwater plants that seemed only vaguely related to dry land plants.

Asked how she managed to sneak up on the fish and get them to pose for her camera, she replied, "Well, it wasn't easy — but we kept trying."

Martha's Rotary Club program coincided with her birthday, and husband Bill provided a large birthday cake which the club members shared.

EER and SEER:
your guide to more efficient air conditioning

If you're shopping for air conditioning, your best buy is a high-efficiency unit that can help you save on electricity.

How can you determine which unit will run most economically?

Just look for the model with an EER (Energy Efficiency Ratio) or SEER (Seasonal Energy Efficiency Ratio) of 8 or more. EER and SEER are simply efficiency ratings that tell you how much cooling an air conditioner will provide in relation to the amount of electricity it uses. The higher the EER/SEER number, the more efficiently the system operates—and the more you can save on electricity bills.

Here's an example from Consumer Reports: running a machine with an EER of 8.8 would cost about one-third less than running one with an EER of 6, even though their cooling capacities are the same.

It's true that you may have to pay more for a high-efficiency unit than for a standard model. The long-range cost is less, however, because you'll be able to operate it with less electricity—an important consideration here in South Texas where air conditioning is in use so many months of the year.

Be sure to compare EER/SEER numbers before you buy air conditioning. A model that rates 8 or above will give you better value through lower operating costs.
