SANDERS' PLEA IN SUSPENSION DENIED TODAY

OTHER CONVICTION NOT AFFECTED BY PARDON, IS HELD

AUSTIN, Nov. 16.—A governor's pardon is not an absolute remission of guilt for an offense, the court of criminal appeals held today. The court denied plea of pardon for a five year suspended liquor sentence assessed him in which he was in an 18 months sentence.

Sanders was given a full pardon for the first offense and conceded that the pardon was tantamount to establishing his innocence for the first offense. District court's opinion that he must serve the second sentence because of the conviction was upheld by appeals court.

Rabbery Cases Dismissed. The cases of Canuto Silva, German and John Quintana, charged with robbery, were dismissed when the transcript was admitted in court.

The test ended abruptly when the thirtieth cigar made him ill. "I might have suffered serious ill effects had I continued," Maddi said today.

Feverish And Restless. For three hours he puffed steadily with no physiological reaction to support those who would deny that "a good cigar is a smoke." But at the end of the next three hours his pulse was 108 instead of 80 and his respiration 30 instead of 17 and he was feverish, irritable and restless.

The test ended abruptly when the thirtieth cigar made him ill. "I might have suffered serious ill effects had I continued," Maddi said today.

The well, situated in the northeast of southeast of 2-3-5, apparently was ignited by an electrical short circuit when Hudson turned one of four search lights by which the well crew had been working. Hudson immediately was surrounded by seething flames and was unable to escape. The rest of the crew fled to safety.

All Storage Filled. Brought in late last week the well had filled all available storage and an earthen reservoir and was running wild. The crew was preparing to connect air pressure after having exploded nitro-glycerin in its depths when the fire leaped up.

The crew was helpless except in its efforts to prevent the flames from spreading to surrounding property. They expressed hope, however, that they could extinguish the blazing well after oil surrounding it had burned away, making approach to the well possible. This they said, they could not do probably for 24 hours.

Long Standing Trouble. The trouble arose over a long standing family dispute over custody of the two children of the younger woman, members of the family said this afternoon, in explaining that when Mrs. Collins was granted a divorce from the son of Mrs. Stevens, the two children were left in custody of Mr. Collins, who took them to his mother's home.

Mrs. Collins members of the family said today, went to the farm home today in an effort to secure the children, which was refused by the older woman, and in the ensuing argument, Mrs. Collins was shot.

RESOLUTION ON CATTLE DIPPING FAILS AT MEET

(Special To The Avalanche) BROWNSVILLE, Nov. 16.—Efforts to have the federal government suspend for a time the regulations requiring dipping of all cattle shipped from the state failed to obtain voice in resolutions adopted at the close of the South Texas chamber of commerce convention here Tuesday. The chamber took the attitude that the question was one for the cattle raisers' organization to decide.

Adopted Resolutions. Resolutions adopted urged reduction of state taxes, unhindered immigration of Mexican agricultural workers, protection of the waters of the lower Rio Grande development of existing senior colleges, rather than creation of new ones, imposition of a high license tax on labor agencies exporting Mexican labor from Texas to congested centers and encouragement of the cooperative market service now maintained in Texas.

Corpus Christi had no difficulty in obtaining the permanent headquarters of the chamber nor Laredo in winning the 1928 convention.

Give Norma Movies And Cinema Salad

Consistency is the unusual feminine trait of Norma Shearer, popular on the screen with school kids and college president alike. "At work or play, she's impulsive herself. In the first place, she says her work and says so. "Making pictures is such fun it always seems delightfully surprising that there's a living in it," she states. Secondly, next to making movies, she enjoys seeing them. "I enjoy seeing how others act in a given situation." Still consistent, she not only enjoys being sociable but her Hollywood home is a social center. And she's a good example of the perfect hostess for she takes care of her guests herself. There is nothing she would rather do than prepare a Sunday night supper or an after-theater supper for a crowd. She has the hospitable idea that if you prepare some part of the feast yourself, it shows that you really appreciate your guests.

Cinema Salad The dish she most often serves is "Cinema Salad," a recipe concocted and named by her. Served with hot cheese toast it is compounded thus: 1-2 cup chopped cold boiled ham, 1-2 cup chopped cold boiled beef, 1 cup chopped celery, 1 cup chopped cold boiled potatoes. Tartar Sauce. Gelatin. Place all ingredients but the tartar sauce in gelatin mixture and let it congeal on ice. When it is cold remove from the mould and place it on crisp lettuce leaves. Pour thick tartar sauce over the top and sprinkle with chopped parsley and paprika.

Norma Shearer manifests appreciation of her guests... by preparing a repast herself.

Terrell, Texas commissioner of agriculture, who viewed it while here on a visit.

Look, Daddy! Just like our new house

TRUE to child instinct, he has caught their pride in the new home... caught the spirit of it all in that tiny house he has built so laboriously with his blocks. What joyous pride in providing for that little son a real home to grow up in!

A woman's ability to compare had helped in choosing a home for a lifetime. Comparison is helpful in every day purchases also. This is true in buying coffee. Taste-tempting... palate-pleasing, there's cheer in each steaming cupful of Folger's Coffee. It has this inimitable flavor because each grain of coffee in Folger's is the highest grade, highest type and highest priced coffee that the world produces in its respective countries of growth. Compare Folger's by making the famous Folger Coffee Test.

The Folger Coffee Test: Drink Folger's Coffee tomorrow morning; the next morning drink the coffee you have been using; the third morning drink Folger's again. You will decidedly favor one brand or the other. The Best Coffee Wins. That's fair, isn't it?

MATADORS PLAN HARD FIGHT IN BUFFALO TURKEY DAY CONTEST

BUFFS TO SEEK REVENGE FROM TWO BEATINGS

TECH'S BIG GUNS WILL BE TRAINED ON GAME AFTER GOOD REST

"Yo, Ho, Buffalo best team we know."

How that will ring out over the Texas Tech athletic field on Turkey day when the greater portion of the entire W. T. S. T. C. enrollment camps in the Matador's new stands to push their Buffs on through the annual battle of West Texas supremacy in gridiron circles. In the two previous seasons the Buffs have held the Matadors to their closest games, the first, was a 13 to 12 count; and the last season contest was won by a score of 7 to 2.

Both the Matador and Buffalo camps are getting primed for the holiday feature, the Buffs with their hopes set on defeat of the Freelandites, and the Matadors with ambitions to repeat with victory. In the two previous encounters Oscar Eckhardt's machine moved with great power and worked inspired games. The Matadors this year they are all the more inspired and with practically the same outfit together they had last Thanksgiving they will attempt to take the third annual classic.

Buffalo's Hopes High
The Buffs trampled the Wildcats, one of the leading clubs of the T. I. A. A. by a score of 13 to 6, while on the following week the Cats, on home coming took the Scarlet and Black warriors into camp, in very encouraging places. The Buffs hope to see the Canyon combination, Eckhardt is working hard with his men and on several occasions this year he has had scouts out looking over the Matadors—so there is no question about it, the Buffs are primed to beat Tech.

On the other hand the Matadors have their say in the game and are hard at it with Ewing J. Freeland directing the attack. Yesterday the Bufffighters donned their uniforms for the first time since their unexpected defeat in Dallas and were ready for more work—and plenty of it. Since this week leaves the Matadors with a game they will be considerably fresher and have more desire to battle a real game. This season has been a very hard one for the Bufffighters with games that have been no trifles—two southwestern conference games, Simmons and St. Edwards; two I. A. A. games, with Daniel Baker and A. C. C.; and one game at conference rulings, the Sul Jan Lobos.

Big Guns Trained
Freeland will have all of his big guns in action for the Buff game. Walker, Hamilton, Woodriddle, and Jennings will be back for the last contest of the Matador card. Walker has been out since the Aggie tilt; Hamilton, too, has done but little work since that date; while both Jennings and Woodriddle, Woodriddle, played part of two quarters. All of these men, will be in good condition for the game with the team from up the Palo Duro way.

Ex-students of W. T. S. T. C. will flock into Lubbock for the game and hundreds of them preferred to see this game instead of the home coming which they played with the A. C. C. Wildcat. The attendance for the Turkey Day classic will be the largest one of the season with the lone exception of the Texas Aggie contest.

CLEVELAND MEN BUY TEAM FROM CHICAGO WOMAN

CLEVELAND, Nov. 16.—Local baseball fans will be looking for better things next summer from the Cleveland baseball team which Cleveland passed yesterday from the control of Mrs. James Dunn of Chicago into the hands of a Cleveland syndicate of four men.

When Tris Speaker, the veteran manager left the team last season the Indians' winning power seemed to slump and the Tribe finished in sixth place. Some such change as that which took place yesterday in the general belief was what the team needed to put it back on its feet.

The men who have assumed control are: Alva and Charley L. Bradley, John Sherwin, Jr. and Percy Morgan.

Municipal Team Is Dream
Their membership is the first step in a civic program by which Cleveland hopes to see the ball club a sort of a municipal enterprise with the Red Skins housed in a big municipal stadium on the lake front.

By the beginning of the next season the Indians will represent an investment of considerably more than $1,000,000, it is expected.

The price received by Mrs. Dunn and minority but it was said to be higher than $500,000 and the new owners expressed their intention to invest several hundred thousand more.

Squash Champ

LES KLAWITER

Here's Les Klawiter of Los Angeles who in two straight games won the national junior squash singles championship at a recent tournament in Los Angeles.

Billy Evans

Says:

Ty Cobb has probably played his last game in the major leagues. I see that he has made an unofficial announcement to that effect. It is in keeping with what he said to me late in September.

Working back of the plate at Philadelphia, a recurrence of an old knee injury caused me to retire early from the game. I was taken to the quarters of the Philadelphia trainer in the clubhouse for treatment.

A few innings later Ty quit the game to catch an early train for the west in order to make connections at Chicago for a hunting trip he had planned in Wyoming.

Coming to the trainer's first aid station, he shook hands with me and remarked:

"I think today's game was the finish of my big league career. I have had a good season and, if I'm smart, now is the time for me to quit."

Both of us then enjoyed a laugh over a retort that I would always hand Ty when the two of us had some slight difference of opinion.

It's the same old chatter that umpires always spill to stars during the heat of a dispute.

Often when Ty would question my judgment or eyesight, I would laconically reply that possibly all he said was true but that I expected to be doing business at the same old stand when he was all washed up.

"Looks as if you would outlast me and make good on that sarcasm that you used to slip me as well as the other boys about being up in the big show after the rest of us had taken our final shower," said Ty.

That conversation strengthened my belief in Cobb's statement that he has played his last game as a big leaguer.

It is a rather interesting coincidence that Cobb and I broke into the American League at practically the same time. He played a few months in the fall of 1905; I made my debut in the spring of 1906.

It so happens that Ty Cobb, at the close of the 1927 season, was the only player still in the majors who was a member of the American League when I started.

Cobb has seen hundreds of players come and go in his 23 years. Yet his last season was one of his best. He finished in the first five batters.

It is to be hoped that Cobb is sincere in his decision to retire and I feel that he is. It would be a shame for him to keep on going when not physically fit to do his best, thereby dimming the many remarkable accomplishments credited to him.

Unquestionably Cobb is the greatest ball player I have seen in action covering my career of 25 years. It is reasonably safe to say, without fear of contradiction, that he is the greatest ball player of all time.

LUBBOCK HIGH MEETS QUANAH IN LAST GAME

FRIDAY'S CONTEST WILL CLOSE ENGAGEMENT ON LOCAL FIELD

As the Westerners of the Lubbock high school go into action here Friday afternoon on the Matador field they will be playing their last home game for the 1927 season.

Number and training of personnel in charge of physical education generally and competitive teams in particular.

Chiefs Seek Revenge
The Quanah Chiefs, tribe of the old warriors, have lost every conference game this season and in that Friday will place special effort to bring in at least one victory.

On the other hand the Westerners will unleash every formation and every play to reach the apex of their offense. Frnka and Moran are going to turn the boys wild loose and let them use everything they have in an offensive drive.

In teaching the hopes for a colorful offensive march for Friday afternoon the handlers of the local high school gridsters have been giving their all attention to the functions of the offensive plays. Passing and a running attack will carry the lads through school and get on the march over the Indians.

The game will be the only football feature for the week-end. The Texas Tech eleven has this week off. Classes of the high school are attempting to have a one hundred per cent attendance for the final Westerner game in Lubbock.

CROMWELL HAS BIG GROUP OF OLYMPIC LADS

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA WILL ENTER MANY OF ITS STARS

Dean B. Cromwell, Southern California track coach, has established as a goal in 1928 the breaking of his own record of placing the greatest number of college athletes on the United States Olympic team.

In 1924 when the United States squad entered competition against the world at Paris, five members of Cromwell's Trojan track squad were on the list. This was a greater personnel than any other institution in the nation could claim.

Three of these athletes scored points. No other college had that many scores at the Olympiad. This trio counted 23 tallies, more than any group of the undergraduates from a university or college in America.

Furthermore, Cromwell had more athletes, graduates and undergraduates making points in the Olympics than any other institution, four men placing. These men counted six places in five events, another record among college athletes.

The five Southern California athletes were: Clarence Houser, Morton Kaer, Norman Anderson, Earle Wilson and Otto Anderson. The graduate was Charles Paddock. In addition, Lee Barnes was on the team. Barnes had just been graduated from Hollywood high school and entered Southern California that fall.

Houser scored 20 points, winning the shot and discus. That was a greater total than any other undergraduate accounted for. It tied for high point honors the achievement of any member of the United States team. Harold Osborne, then an alumnus of Illinois, won the decathlon and the high jump.

To Houser's 20 digits were added two by Norman Anderson with a fifth in the shot and one by Morton Kaer, who took sixth in the pentathlon.

Southern California's four placers were Houser, Kaer and Anderson, undergraduates, and Paddock, an alumnus. Illinois and Princeton both had three placers, the Illini having Osborne, Kinsey, and Fitch and the Tigers Riek, Hills and Taylor.

In fairness to Illinois, it should be stated that Illini athletes led in total scores, having 35. However, 20 of this number were made by alumni, while only seven tallies out of Southern California's total of 30 were through efforts of those not in school.

Cromwell has plenty of prospects for the 1928 Olympics in Amsterdam. There are nine candidates from the varsity squad. Chief among these are Lee Barnes, Morton Kaer and Charles Borah. The first two were at the 1924 games and Borah seems a cinch for the trip.

Four Southern California alumni look like good bets for the games. Charles Paddock and Clarence (Bud) Houser are near the "cinch" class in the sprints and weights respectively. Kenneth Grumbles, na-

Equality Of Opportunity In Football By FIELDING H. YOST

(Director of Athletics, University of Michigan)

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Nov. 16.—Many factors enter into the question of the development of equality of opportunity for competitive athletic teams—such equality of opportunity being one of the necessities for a thorough going whole-hearted rivalry in the football relations between two schools. The same factors of course extend to other sports.

Listed categorically these factors include, among others: Size of school and number of students available for competitive athletic teams.

Amount of time the student body has available for athletic or recreational activities, especially those out for intercollegiate teams.

Requirement for scholastic eligibility of the ease of impossibility of removing class room deficiencies.

Number of games in which the player participates.

Time permitted away from class room on trips.

Size of the competing schools is not as pertinent as is the number of students available as candidates for competitive teams.

The amount of time the student has to devote to recreation is a part of the same question. Because of the required practice work in field and laboratories students have less and less time to devote to recreation.

At Michigan, medical and dental students are denied participation in football practice because of laboratory periods. The few students in the medical department who have been members of Michigan football teams completed this laboratory work during the preceding summer session.

With the exception of a very few schools, the day has passed when the coaches had candidates for teams all afternoon while at some schools the football practice must be concentrated in a few hours a week.

In the Western conference actual practice is confined to an hour and a half a day. It is safe to say that most of the middle western teams entered their initial game this year with less than 25 hours fall practice.

Equal scholastic eligibility rules are necessary for whole hearted rivalry. This point has been settled throughout the middle west by the formation of an all-covering series of conferences with almost uniform rules.

Some slight difference exists in national low hurdles champion in 1926, may earn a spot in the 440-yard sticks, and Leighton Dry, national high hurdles title holder of 1926, is a strong prospect.

PLAINVIEW TO MEET WICHITA THIS WEEK-END

DOPESTERS POINT TO EVEN BREAK AFTER WESTERNERS TIE

(Special To The Journal)

PLAINVIEW, Nov. 16.—After their 6 to 6 tie game with the Lubbock Westerners last Friday the Plainview Bulldogs began preparation Monday for their game with the Wichita Falls high, which will be played next Saturday, November 19, at Wichita Falls.

Deep down in the very heart of equal competition is this personal factor between the men of the opposing teams and the greatest rivalry and the most spirited competition develops when the competing individuals feel that none of the opposition has unfair advantage in training eligibility or preparation.

Another factor which must be considered in this case is efficient use of the great educational values of competitive athletics so that it fits into the whole plan of education—the mental, moral and physical development of youth for active, useful life service.

Buildups are in better condition at this time than they have been at any time this fall. He is looking forward to a hard fought game as the team is showing a better fighting spirit in the workouts than ever before this season.

The Bulldogs boast of one of the fastest backfields in the Panhandle this year having two ten second men namely, Magill and Schroeter, who have showed up exceptionally well this season.

According to Coach Guy Allen the

MANDELL BEATS IDAHO SLUGGER IN TEN ROUNDS

(By Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Nov. 16.—Sammy Mandell's rule over the lightweight division of fistiana was more secure than ever today.

Exhibiting an improved defense and a dazzling offense, Mandell easily outpointed Jimmy "Spug" Myers, the Peacetto, Idaho, slugger, in a ten round bout at the coliseum last night.

The champion's title was not at stake as he and Myers fought above the lightweight limit, but the victory improved Mandell's mental attitude toward his present challengers. It was his third major engagement since winning the title here 14 months ago.

So ingenious was Mandell's defense that Myers, always a sharp shooter, failed to land a solid blow on the champion's jaw until the fifth round. In the meantime, Mandell peppered Myers with lefts to the face and right crosses to the chin that knocked Myers spinning into the ropes. But Myers lived up to his reputation for aggressiveness always boring into the champion's sharp attack.

Judges gave Mandell all ten rounds.

"Harry Pollard says Luckies have a delicious flavor and I agree"

Said Lew Cody to Bert Roach while they were resting between the taking of scenes while "on location."

You, too, will find that LUCKY STRIKES give the greatest pleasure—Mild and Mellow, the finest cigarettes you ever smoked. Made of the choicest tobaccos, properly aged and blended with great skill, and there is an extra process—"IT'S TOASTED"—no harshness, not a bit of bite.

Harry Pollard, Director of Feature Photoplays, writes: "The completion of my latest feature 'Uncle Tom's Cabin' for Universal Pictures Corporation, has once more proven to me that Lucky Strikes are the ideal cigarettes for those of us whose voices are under continuous and intense strain. In making this picture, I was, for many hours at a time, shouting directions to a host of players. At the same time I smoked many Lucky Strikes. I never felt the slightest throat irritation, and the delicious flavor of these cigarettes was a welcome relaxation in my work."

JONES TRIAL

A peaceful law-abiding citizen and a truthful, honest man were good. As soon as the defense attorneys finished questioning Mr. Jones, State's Prosecutor Bradley announced to the court that the state admitted Mr. Jones' good reputation and would make no effort to refute statements which were to be introduced by a number of well known Lubbock men and citizens from Williamson county. Mr. Jones' home, Judge Mulligan announced a short recess, the defense agreed not to use any more character witnesses and upon resumption of the case fact witnesses were introduced.
Mrs. Ollie Zatloukal.
Mrs. Ollie Zatloukal, 61, mother of the defendant and widow of the slain man, was called to the stand. Mrs. Zatloukal was visibly shaken and her son's lawyers and Judge Mulligan all stopped to give comforting advice to her and stress the fact that her testimony must be given in a clear voice so the jurors might miss no word. Mrs. Zatloukal said it was her first experience in the courtroom but despite the harrowing and nerve-taxing situation for her she rallied and told

GRAIN WANTED BY GERMANS IN LIQUOR PLANTS

NEW MARKET IS FOUND BY FORT WORTH MEN FOR TEXAS PRODUCT
(By Associated Press)
FORT WORTH, Nov. 15 (AP)—Opening another big market for West Texas grain sorghum, 20,000,000 pounds of kaffir has been sold by Fort Worth grain exporters for immediate shipment to Germany. This grain is being sold to German brewers and distillers for use in making beer and distilled liquors, dealers here said.
Exporters are receiving around $1.38 per hundred pounds for kaffir delivered on board ships at Houston and Galveston which is about 35 cents per hundred pounds on delivery at shipping points.
A smaller amount of milo also has been taken for export to Germany and dealers here expect that grain to find an increasing demand for similar purposes as it can be bought for 5 cents per hundred pounds cheaper.

Crop Is Largest In Seven Years

COLLEGE STATION, Nov. 15 (AP)
Grain sorghum crop in West Texas this year is the largest for the last seven years, R. E. Karper, agronomist, and L. P. Gabbard, chief of the farm and ranch economic division, Texas agricultural station, returned from a trip to the Spur and Lubbock substations, reported today.
to the stand in his own defense. He testified that he had been in Lubbock about two years and three or four months. He came here after a seven or eight months stay in Waco, which, aside from his residence here, was the only time he had lived outside of his birthplace, Williamson county, Texas. He gave his age as 35 years.
Mr. Jones told of leaving school in the spring of 1913 and testified that he went from school to a farm near Georgetown. He said that when his mother told him of her marriage to Mr. Zatloukal he was not overjoyed but that he was satisfied if she was pleased with her choice. He told of being a city commissioner in Taylor, Texas. He said that he did not learn of his mother's difficulties with her husband until he was in Waco, just before she made her last attempt at reconciliation with her husband. She went to Stamford, spending one night with him there and testified that he told her that if she ever came back he would call officers and have her put in jail and that he did not want to live with her. He also said that that time, however, the testimony continued, that if she ever sought to divorce him that he would kill her and then himself. She went to Waco from Stamford, Mrs. Zatloukal said, returning shortly to Lubbock. A divorce petition was filed by her in the 99th district court, where the testimony said, and a hearing was set before Hon. Clark M. Mulligan, judge, for September 5.

Wife Powerful Man

The witness testified that Mr. Zatloukal was the most powerful man she had ever seen. She told of his feats of strength, chief among which were leading bales of cotton unassisted and carrying a large piece of ginning machinery from the gin to the blacksmith shop. She said this piece of machinery looked to her to weigh about half a ton but that she didn't suppose it was that heavy.
The witness said she had made an effort to bring about reconciliation between them but when she found it impossible she came to live with her son in December of 1925. Upon questions by Mr. Bradley Mrs. Zatloukal said that her husband sent her some money from time to time during their estrangement, the sum averaging $40 per month for some period of time. She also said that she had sent her some personal presents since her coming to Lubbock but said that she had only received $40 in money from him since coming here. She said that she financed him in various business deals.
Tried To Make Reconciliation.
Mrs. Zatloukal said in July of this year she made her last attempt at reconciliation with her husband. She went to Stamford, spending one night with him there and testified that he told her that if she ever came back he would call officers and have her put in jail and that he did not want to live with her. He also said that that time, however, the testimony continued, that if she ever sought to divorce him that he would kill her and then himself. She went to Waco from Stamford, Mrs. Zatloukal said, returning shortly to Lubbock. A divorce petition was filed by her in the 99th district court, where the testimony said, and a hearing was set before Hon. Clark M. Mulligan, judge, for September 5.

Takes No Events

Mr. Jones then took up the events leading up to the shooting. His testimony coincided with that of Mrs. Zatloukal until the place where he left the house in search of sandwiches. He left his mother in the back room of their home, he said, and upon passing through his room took his gun, purchased a number of years ago, and put it on Mr. Jones testified that he took the gun for his own protection and that he did not expect to see Mr. Zatloukal while driving to the Hotel Lubbock and parking his car. He entered the Hotel Drug, purchased a cold drink, entered the lobby of the hotel and chatted for a few minutes with a friend, the testimony said. Intending to purchase the sandwiches in the hotel coffee shop he found that place filled and decided to buy them at a nearby cafe. He passed through his office, on the ground floor of the hotel building and as he stepped from his office into the hallway he saw Mr. E. LaFon, manager of the hotel, a few feet up the sidewalk to the north. Mr. Jones said as he turned from Mr. LaFon he perceived Mr. Zatloukal coming toward him, probably 40 feet away. He said he called upon Mr. Zatloukal to stop and that he did not stop but first seemed to hesitate and then quicken his stride toward him. Mr. Zatloukal had his right hand up at his chin and made a motion toward his right hip pocket, Mr. Jones testified. Then Mr. Jones fired the first shot. He said he didn't know at the time whether it took effect or not. He said he was terribly excited and was trying to protect himself. He said he did not see Mr. Zatloukal slump toward the sidewalk or turn from him after the first shot but that as he recoiled the man was continuing to face him. Mr. Jones testified that he saw Mr. Zatloukal cock his pistol and fired again. Then he saw Mr. Zatloukal fall to the sidewalk. Mr. Jones testified that he turned into the hotel, saw Mr. LaFon and told him to ask Mrs. LaFon to go to his mother. Then he told a nearby policeman to call an ambulance, he testified. He then left the hotel, got in his car, went to the courthouse and surrendered his pistol to Deputy Crump. Mr. Jones testified that he would

STAMFORD MEN TESTIFY

Mr. Bradley then called the following Stamford citizens as character witnesses for the dead man. They were R. R. Cunyuan, railway shop workers who worked under Mr. Zatloukal; J. E. Duncan, merchant; J. D. Shackelford, banker; G. G. Lewis, lumberman; and F. R. Ramey, wholesale grocer. All testified that Mr. Zatloukal's general character and reputation were good in Stamford. Defense attorney's challenged the statements in cross examination with some success.
Senator Blodsoe, for the defense, and Mr. Bradley, for the state, both announced that they had closed their testimony and the session was recessed until 9 o'clock this morning.
Judge Mulligan will read his charge to the jury and the lawyers will make their jury speeches this morning. The case will go to the jury immediately after.

THIS HAS HAPPENED

Vance eliminates Miss Clair as a suspect and he intervenes with Markham against arresting Leacock, when some of Pffye's statements strengthen the case against the captain. It is brought out that Pffye had forged Alvin Benson's name to a check. Paula Banning admits to Vance that she had loaned her jewels to Pffye to put up with Benson as security.

NOW BEGIN THE STORY

CHAPTER XI

(Wednesday, June 19; 1 P. M.)

"When we were again outside Markham asked:

"How in heaven's name did you know she had put up her jewels to help Pffye?"

"My charming metaphysical deductions, don't you know," answered Vance. "As I told you, Benson was not the open-handed big money man you would have him to be. He was a miserly fellow, and certainly the impetuous Pffye had no collateral worth $10,000, or he wouldn't have forged the check. Ergo: someone loaned him the security.

"Now, who would be so trusting as to lend Pffye that amount of security except a sentimental woman who was willing to let her sentimentalities be used to help a man who was a criminal?"

"I know, I was just evil-minded enough to suspect there was a Calypso in the life of this Pffye when he told us of stopping over in New York to murder an aviator to someone.

"When a man like Pffye tells to specify the sex of a person, it is safe to assume the feminine gender. So I suggested that you send a Paul Pry to Port Washington to peep into his matrimonial activities. I felt certain a bonne amie would be found. Then, when the mysterious package, which obviously was the security, seemed to identify itself as the lady's jewels, I said to myself: 'Ah! Leander's misguided Dulcinea has lent him her gawgaws to save him from the yawning dungeon.'

"Nor did I overlook the fact that he had been shielding someone in his explanation about the check. Therefore, as soon as the lady's name and address were learned by Tracy, I made the appointment for you."

"We were passing the Gothic-Renaissance Schwab residence which extends from West End Avenue to Riverside Drive as Seventy-third Street and Vance stopped for a moment to contemplate it. At length Vance walked on.

"I know, the moment I saw Mrs. Banning I knew my conclusions were correct. She was a sentimental soul, and just the sort who would have handed over her jewels to her amorous."

"Also, she was bereft of gentry when we called—and a woman of her stamp always wears her jewels when she desires to make an impression on strangers. Moreover, she's the kind that would have jewelry even if the ladder was empty. It was therefore merely a question of getting her to talk."

"On the whole you did very well," observed Markham.

Vance gave him a condescending bow.

"Sir Hubert is too generous. But tell me, didn't my little chat with the lady cast a beam into your darkened mind?"

"Naturally," said Markham. "I'm utterly obtuse. She played up conspicuously into my hands. She believed Pffye did not arrive in New York until the morning after the murder, and therefore told us quite frankly that she had loaned him that Benson had the jewels at home."

"The situation now is: Pffye knew they were in Benson's house, and was there himself at about the time the shot was fired. Furthermore, the jewels are gone; and Pffye tried to cover up his tracks that night."

Vance sighed hopefully.

"Markham, there are altogether too many trees for you in this case. You simply can't see the forest, you know, because of 'em."

"There's the remote possibility that you are so busily engaged in looking at one particular tree that you are unaware of the others."

A shadow passed over Vance's face.

"I wish you were right," he said. "It was nearly half past one, and we dropped into the fountain room of the Ansonia hotel for lunch."

Markham was preoccupied throughout the meal, and when he entered the subway later, he looked uneasily at his watch.

"I think I'll go on down to Wall Street and call on the Major a moment before returning to the office. I can't understand his asking Miss Hoffman not to mention the package to me. It might not have contained the jewels, after all."

"Do you imagine for one moment," rejoined Vance, "that Alvin told the Major the truth about the package? It was not a very creditable transaction, you know; and the Major most likely would have given him what-for."

Major Benson's explanation here out Vance's surmise. Markham, in telling him of the interview with Miss Hoffman not to mention the package, emphasized the jewel episode in the hope that the Major would voluntarily mention the package; for his promise to Miss Hoffman prevented him from admitting that he was aware of the other's knowledge concerning it.

The Major listened with considerable astonishment, his eyes gradually growing angry.

"I'm afraid Alvin deceived me," he said. He looked straight ahead for a moment, his face softening. "And I don't like to think it now that he's gone. But the truth is, when Miss Hoffman told me this morning about the envelope, she also mentioned a small parcel that had been in Alvin's private safe drawer; and I asked her to omit any reference to it from her story to you."

"I knew the parcel contained Mrs. Banning's jewels, but I thought the fact would only confuse matters if brought to your attention. You see, Alvin told me that a judgment had been taken against Mrs. Banning, and that, just before the supplementary proceedings, Pffye had brought her jewels here and asked him to sequester them temporarily in his safe."

On our way back to the criminal courts building Markham took Vance's arm and smiled.

"Your guessing luck is holding out, I see."

"That's," agreed Vance. "It would appear that the late Alvin, like Warren Hastings, resolved to die in the last dyke of preparation."

"In any event," replied Markham, "the Major has unconsciously added another link in the chain against Pffye."

"You seem to be making a collection of chains," commented Vance drily. "What have you done with the ones you forged about Miss St. Clair and Leacock?"

"I haven't entirely discarded them—if that's what you think," asserted Markham gravely.

When we reached the office Sergeant Heath was awaiting us with a beatific grin.

"It's all over, Mr. Markham," he announced. "This noon, after you'd gone, Leacock came here looking for you. When he found you were out, he phoned headquarters and they connected him with me. He wanted to see me—very important, he said, so I hurried over."

"He was sitting in the waiting room when I came in and he called me over and said: 'I came to give myself up. I killed Benson. I got him to dictate a confession to Swacker, and then he signed it. Here it is.' He handed Markham a typewritten sheet of paper."

Markham sank wearily into a chair. The strain of the past few days had begun to tell on him. He sighed heavily.

"Thank God! Now our troubles are ended."

Vance looked at him lugubrously, and shook his head.

"I rather fancy, you know, that your troubles are only beginning," he drawled.

When Markham had glanced through the confession he handed it to Vance, who read it carefully with an expression of growing amusement.

"I know," he said, "this document isn't at all legal. Any judge worthy the name would throw it precipitately out of court. It's far too simple and precise. It doesn't begin with 'greetings'; it doesn't contain a single 'wherefore-be-it' or 'be-it-known' or 'do-herby'; it says nothing about 'free will' or 'sound mind' or 'dispositional memory'; and the Captain doesn't once refer to himself as the party of the first part." Utterly worthless, Sergeant. If I were you, I'd chuck it."

PLANNING FOR GROWTH Greenville is a prosperous and forward-looking city in the rich black-land belt of Texas. Whether the times be good or bad, the cut-continues to grow and it is bein their city and plan carefully for size, and begin at once a consideration of public improvements that are needed now and will be needed during the next few years, so that a comprehensive development plan adequately financed by bonds, bonds, may be prepared. If we build only in emergencies, and employ emergency methods of planning and financing, we will never get what we ought to have and will have to pay dearly for what we get. Why not prepare a modified city plan and put it into operation? Why not have our citizens come together for a calm discussion of Brownwood's needs and of methods for meeting them?—Brownwood

Old Towns And New
A GREAT change has come upon American towns in the last twenty years.

Slowly and steadily our towns are losing the peaceful, detached air that once was theirs. Not long ago, the casual traveler easily could find a small city that was many leagues removed from the stirring savors of modernity or up-to-date-ness. Dusty main streets, wooden sidewalks, quiet squares, a general atmosphere of peaceful solitude and unburied friendliness—these were the characteristics of the minor city until recently.

There are many people to whom all of this seems a shame. Doubtless it is true that there was something extremely attractive about the old type of town: the town where life flowed in a moderate unhurried manner, so that people could spare time from the rush of making money to enjoy the unique privileges of the small city—peace, rest and quiet. And indubitably, there is something repellent about many modern towns:
they are, some of them, so frankly and unashamedly sly.

Unknown Heroes
Gene Tunney, world's heavyweight champion, strolled about the Union Depot in Albany, N. Y., for half an hour the other day without being recognized. Not even newsboys knew him.

That Man on Avenue Q says this is the time of the year when "Chilly he the shanks which wear the gown"
He found an oyster in his soup.
At first he thought that well.
And then he found the blooming thing
Was still within the shell.
Secretary Wilbur, after reading the published criticism of the navy by Admiral Magruder, said he was greatly interested. Having relieved the admiral of his command at the Philadelphia navy yard, he may even send Magruder to Guam just to prove how really interested he was.

The Plainsman wants to tell you about an incident which happened in open court in Lubbock and he wants to ask what YOU, as a citizen, think of such a thing. He wants to ask you if you think it is a business like matter or if you temper your decisions with judgment. Here's the incident:

An important trial was under way. The entire machinery of the 95th district court was in action. Judge Mullican was on the bench. The jury box was full. The state's attorney, Mr.
Bradley told a deputy sheriff to call an important witness for the prosecution and that witness resided at Shallowater. The deputy went out to seek the witness and returned with the report that the witness had not yet arrived. Mr. Bradley addressed the judge, "Your honor," he said, "I called the witness over the telephone this morning, early, and told him to be here. It is essential to the state's case that he be the next witness. Will you please ask the sheriff to call Shallowater and see if he is on his way?"
Judge Mullican considered the case a moment and replied:
"No, Mr. Bradley, I cannot. The sheriff of Lubbock county is not permitted to use the long distance telephone to summon a witness unless he pays for the call. I cannot ask the sheriff to call across the county on state's business at his own expense. The machinery of the expensive court was at a standstill. Attorneys on both sides considered the situation; then luckily after a few minutes of inaction the witness appeared.

He found that Judge Mullican was absolutely right in his decision.
He discovered that through an order of the commissioners' court of Lubbock county, Texas, that the sheriff of Lubbock county, whoever he might be, is powerless to use the long distance telephone in the pursuit of his duty or the state's business unless he pays for the call out of his own pocket! The Plainsman found that the sheriff of Lubbock county, if he knew that a band of bank robbers were entering Lubbock county at Haku or Slaton
COULD NOT USE THE LONG DISTANCE TELEPHONE AT THE COUNTY'S EXPENSE TO WARN THE people and his deputies in those towns! The Plainsman found that there should be a band of bank robbers manage to pull off a holdup of one of the Lubbock banks then flee (as an instance) toward Plainview, the sheriff of Lubbock county, if he enlisted the aid of the officers of Hale county, he would not use the funds of the county to place a long distance telephone call!

These are merely instances of what might happen. They are the bright and shining examples of the present. Nowhere could such a condition prevail except in a democracy and from what the Plainsman has been able to discover there are even few sections of a democracy where such monkey business prevails.
What do you think of such sheriffdom? Do you think the country with common sense? Do you know of a board of directors of a business institution which would say to the employees of that institution "If you want to attend to important company business over long distance telephone it's all right—BUT—you'll have to pay for it out of your own pocket?"

SCENES OF WAR ARE RECALLED IN TANK BLAST

STILL MISSING AND OTHERS FOUND HURT BY RESCUE CREWS

(By Associated Press)
PITTSBURGH, Nov. 16.—A column of fire and steel shot high into the air. A terrific report carried message of death to an unknown number of persons and struck fear to the hearts of a million more. A tremendous concussion reduced scores of happy homes and busy factories to ruins. A pall of black smoke turned daylight into darkness.

Such was the explosion which today spread gloom throughout the Pittsburgh district when a 50,000 cubic foot gas storage tank of the Equitable Gas company at Leedside and Fontella streets, north side, let go and spread death and destruction throughout the neighborhood.

Fifty Still Missing
Twenty six known dead, 23 of them identified, had been located early today. Fifty more were missing. More than 500 injured had been treated in eight Pittsburgh hospitals.

While fresh rescue workers relieved the tired men who had labored throughout the night by aid of searchlights and flashlights, property owners sought to estimate the cost in dollars. No responsible official or business man, however, could make a more accurate guess than that the loss would run into millions of dollars. The damage to the gas tank, which exploded, and the two beside it, is in excess of $1,000,000. All about the tanks, factories and houses were a twisted mass of wreckage. Glass plates worth $50,000 was shattered some of it several miles from the scene of destruction.

Ruins Still Searched
Daylight today found firemen and police still hard at the task of searching the ruins for bodies of men believed to have been trapped in cellars and beneath the debris of fallen buildings. Dangerously swaying walls were pulled down and the Ohio river was dredged for possible victims.

Coroner W. J. McGregor and the state public service commission began investigations of the cause of the blast. The secret, however, may rest with the 13 men employees of the Ritter-Conley company, who were at work overhauling one of the three tanks when the explosion occurred. The entire repair crew was believed to have met death. This tank had been empty for months. The men were working with blow torches and it is thought that a residue of gas was ignited, resulting in a minor explosion which ignited great quantities of gas leaking from rents made by the first blast in the other tanks.

Resembles War Scenes
Witnesses said a great ball of fire soared hundreds of feet into the air. They heard the explosion and flames and dropped to earth. The whole sector was bombarded with pieces of steel, falling like shrapnel. Windows and walls cracked and tall buildings shook more than half mile from the scene. The report could be heard for miles. Nine hundred telephone lines were put out of commission. Water mains burst.

Almost before the real significance of the disaster had come home to the city, rescue work was being organized and relief was being rushed to the stricken district. Police and firemen proved themselves heroes by rushing into the heart of the trouble and while roofs were falling and walls collapsing carried women and children out of their wrecked homes. Fire apparatus, private automobiles and commercial vehicles were utilized to rush injured to the hospitals. Homes were searched for injured. Through streets flooded by water escaping from broken mains, the rescue workers plunged to aid people lying unconscious in their yards or screaming where they were hurt.

Wreckage Takes Fire
Fires started in some of the wrecked homes and in one case fire persons were carried to safety out of their burning house. Another woman who had been struck by the falling plaster and was lying beside a leaking gas main was saved. A pair of twins who had been blown from their home and deposited still in their crib, in a back yard were rescued.

Some of the most pathetic scenes of a day of tragedy were enacted at the entrances of the morgue and at various hospitals where relatives of victims congregated. Only those who might be able to identify victims were permitted to view the bodies or see the injured.

U. S. TO DEMAND BIG SUM FROM RAIL EARNINGS

$300,000,000 CLAIMED AS EXCESS PROFITS DUE GOVERNMENT

By CLINTON COFFIN
Associated Press Staff Writer
WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—Government claims against the most prosperous of American railroads for stupendous sums of money now are in course of preparation in the interstate commerce commission and will be presented for settlement during the coming year.

Law Passed in 1920
The commission proceedings constitute an endeavor to carry out the law of 1920, which provides for the recapture of excess earnings attained by common carriers. If the government contentions, now carefully being shaped out of the morass of litigation and accountancy covering the subject, are sustained federal revenues will be increased by $300,000,000.

While the law has been on the books seven years, the government claims under it are retroactive, the commission, the treasury and law officers have not been able until now to proceed in an effective way. Up to September 30 of this year, the government had collected $7,149,930 of the excess earnings claimed and not a dollar of the amount had come from the great railroads whose earnings are really involved. Litigation and the natural obstacles arising in the enterprise combined to prevent more substantial attainment of government revenues in the field.

Some Have Paid
As the court decisions have slowly marked out the boundaries within which the government claims are rightful, a series of comparatively small railroads have given up the struggle and have undertaken payment. Among those which have contributed are the Duluth, Missabe and Northern, a steel corporation line, which is credited with producing more than half the entire total, or $3,762,670. The Bessemer and Lake Erie, another steel company line, has paid in $425,990, while the Detroit, Toledo and Ironston, Henry Ford's railroad, has contributed $238,600. Also, one standard railroad, the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac has paid $195,000. A host of tiny lines has made up the balance.

Roughly the government's $7,000,000,000 of collections represents excess earnings from about 5,000 miles of railroad out of the country's total of 267,000 miles of class I railroads in operation. If the proportion of collection holds out for the entire railroad mileage of the country, the government will collect $350,000,000 for excess earnings between 1920 and 1926, and annually thereafter will proceed to take proportionate sums.

Collection Is Opposed
However, the collection will not be attained without further and stringent contest. In every case the commission must first determine the actual value of a given railroad and allow each road to keep annual earnings amounting to six per cent of this actual value. It is from earnings in excess of this six per cent limit that the commission claims a government share amounting to one-half of the total. Court decisions have sustained the government's power to collect and the controversy now hinges on the standards of valuation.

Some of the larger roads have been served with notice to show their position in the matter of claims. The hearing as to the Chesapeake and Ohio, one of the eastern lines most affected, has been set for March 19 and shortly thereafter the hearings will deal with the Norfolk and Western and the New York Central. The commission's valuation work is largely done; the application of its findings to the re-capture law is the next step.

Estimates Prepared
Estimates have already been confidentially prepared for the commission members as to the amounts claimed from some of the large and more prosperous railroads, and it is known that in the case of some of these the government will collect—if it succeeds in enforcing all of its principles—amounts that equal an entire year's net earnings from the corporations concerned. While many railroads will be entirely exempt from the proceeding, there is hardly one which has enjoyed record earnings during the last three years which does not face a re-capture claim.

PRODUCERS OF SUGAR TALK OF EXPORT PLANS

PARIS, Nov. 16.—An agreement among four of the important sugar producing countries of the world to apportion exportation in order to restore the balance between production and consumption was signed here today by representatives of the sugar interests of Cuba, Germany, Poland and Czechoslovakia.

The contract which was signed today is for one year, renewable for another year, and is looked upon by its signers as a means of avoiding a crisis in the sugar industry and enabling producers to hold on until consumption catches up with the capacity for production. It is estimated that this will happen in from three to five years.

The agreement provides for an international sugar committee composed of two members from each of the signatory countries to apportion exports. The agreement is open to any other sugar exporting country that wants to come in.

HOT BISCUITS in less time

2 new time-saving suggestions

Whenever I want to serve hot biscuits and haven't the time to roll and cut them, I make drop biscuits.

I use my master biscuit recipe—simply making the batter a little softer by adding extra milk and dropping this batter on baking pans with a spoon. No need to touch the dough with my hands—no table, rolling-pin or sticky hands to wash afterwards! A real saving of time and trouble!

On this page I am giving recipes for both rolled and drop biscuits—also for some fancy biscuits, all variations of the master recipe.

I make all these biscuits with Crisco— for Crisco gives me the lightest, flakiest biscuits I have ever had and in the years I have been cooking I have tried almost everything.

You can mix all the ingredients in the recipe except the milk, keep this mixture in the ice-box and have fresh hot biscuits without taking time to mix them just at meal time. As Crisco itself stays sweet and fresh so long, the mixture will keep a week or longer.

Really I do not know how I could keep house without all the good things to eat that Crisco gives me: Cakes that you cannot tell from butter cakes; tender, flaky pie crusts; light, feathery muffins; and all kinds of wonderful fried foods, without smoke, unpleasant odor or waste.

Master Recipe
for both "Drop" and "Rolled" Biscuits
2 cups bread flour ¼ cup milk or water 3 teaspoons baking powder (for "drop" biscuits) or ¼ cup milk or water (for "rolled" biscuits)
½ teaspoon salt 4 tablespoons Crisco

Sift dry ingredients together 3 times. Work Crisco in with fork. Add liquid gradually.

FOR "DROP" (Emergency) BISCUITS: drop by spoonfuls on Criscoed baking pan. Brush top of biscuits with melted Crisco or milk. Bake in hot oven (450° F.) 10 to 15 minutes.

FOR ROLLED BISCUITS: form dough into shape, roll ¼ inch thick, cut. For cone-shaped biscuits, cut squares, then diagonally in half. Brush top of biscuits with melted Crisco or milk. Bake in hot oven (450° F.) 15 to 20 minutes. Makes about 12 biscuits.

To use buttermilk or sour milk beat in ¼ teaspoon soda for each cup of milk. (If milk is very thick, use a little more milk.) Use same amount of baking powder and follow method for either "drop" or "rolled" biscuits.

Whole Wheat Biscuits (Rolled)
with or without raisins
Use one cup whole wheat flour in place of 1 cup bread flour. Add ½ cup Sultana Raisins before adding milk.

Lemon or Orange Tea Biscuits
(Dropped or Rolled)
Stir in 1 teaspoon grated rind before adding milk.

Maple Nut Biscuits
(Rolled)
Roll dough ¼ inch thick, spread with ¼ cup shaved maple sugar mixed with 1 tablespoon Crisco. Roll and cut as for cheese biscuits. Lay in pan, sprinkle maple sugar over each and bake with ½ walnut in center.

Peanut Biscuits
(Rolled)
Sift 1 tablespoon sugar with dry ingredients. Beat two eggs, add enough milk to make ¾ cup. Stir in ½ cup chopped peanuts before adding milk.

Cheese Rolls (Rolled)
Delicious for soups and salads
Roll dough ¼ inch thick. Sprinkle with about ¼ cup (grated) cheese. Roll as you would jelly roll. Cut slices ¼ inch thick, lay in Criscoed pan cut side down.

Delicious Raisin Biscuits
(Rolled)
Sift ½ cup sugar with dry ingredients. Beat one egg, add enough more milk to make ¾ cup. Stir in ½ cup chopped raisins before adding milk.

Date Biscuits
(Rolled)
Follow recipe for Peanut Biscuits omitting nuts. Roll thin, cut in rounds, put stoned date in center, wet edges, fold over, press together.

Cheese Biscuits
(Dropped or Rolled)
Stir in ½ cup grated cheese before adding milk.

An Astonishing Blindfold Test
SEE if this doesn't give you the greatest surprise of your whole cooking experience!
Put a little Crisco on the tip of one spoon. On the tip of another place a little of the fat you are now using; have someone blindfold you, and give you first one, then the other fat to taste.
Now, did you ever imagine there could be such a striking difference in the taste of raw cooking fats? Think what an improvement Crisco's sweetness and freshness will make in your own cakes, pies, biscuits and fried foods.

Flashes Of Life (By The Associated Press)

Refuses $100,000

NEW YORK - Apparently Ruth Elder declines the idea of being glorified by Mr. Ziegfeld. She has refused his offer of $100,000 for 22 weeks.

Agreed, Anyway

WASHINGTON - The tall handsome king and the pulchritudinous petite queen of aviation make a handsome picture together. When they posed Ruth was the envy of girls who gathered outside the White House and called in vain "Lindy, Lindy, we want to see you!" "You are very pulchric girl," said the king of the queen. "He's a peach," said the queen of the king.

Trade Progress

NEW YORK - Twice during its existence of 91 years the Union club has moved farther up town on Fifth avenue because of the progress of trade in the famous street. Now it is sold its home for $4,000,000 to Jeremiah Milbank, who owns about $25,000,000 worth of realty.

Lucky Fisherman

GALILEE, N. J. - Just consider the proper names involved in this item. Frederick A. Cook, a fisherman of Galilee, has a couple of ten pound cod that seem to have swum 3,000 miles from Norway. They were caught in his nets off Galilee and bear the stamp of the Norwegian fisheries department.

Lauder Returns

NEW YORK - Sir Harry Lauder, who has been in retirement in Scotland since the death of his wife last summer, will return to the stage in the winter. He has written William Morris: "Winter is here again, and I am alone. What a life! I must get back to the people."

Trite Warning

NEW YORK - Every time Constance Talmadge goes to luncheon or takes an automobile ride with a man now she finds amusement in warning him that they will be reported engaged. Nevertheless she is seeking the ideal man.

Too Realistic

RENO - In his wife's opinion as related by Thomas L. Jefferson, actor as his father and grandfather were, his love scenes on the stage were too ardent and emphatic. For that reason, he avers, she treated him cruelly. He has obtained a divorce after 48 years of married life.

Ain't It Too Bad

BLOOMSBURG, Pa. - Allen Deppe courted Mrs. Lou Murphy of Springfield, Ill., by mail. They were married last May. Now they have separated with prayer. After signing an agreement drawn up in court they knelt and asked divine blessing and pardon for their sins.

Longer Skirts

NEW YORK - Good taste, in the opinion of Lucien Lelong, Paris style authority, who is visiting us, decrees that a skirt shall always be below the knee and Amazons should not try to be ingenuos nor junos dresses.

These Minute Men

BALTIMORE - And now a cigarette-smoking marathons, Vincent Maddi of the medical school of the University of Maryland consumed 30 in 8 1/2 hours. He had planned to smoke 50 in 12 hours. It is not apparent whether he stopped because the 31st was too big or because of fear that the dean might do something or other about the stunt.

ROADS EXPERT TO SPEAK FOR HIGHWAY MEET

FIVE STATES TO SEND REPRESENTATIVES TO SESSION IN TEXAS

PORT WORTH, Nov. 16.—Col. A. D. Barber, of Washington, D. C., manager of the transportation and communication department of the United States Chamber of Commerce, will be the principal speaker at the Southwestern States Highway Conference to be held in Fort Worth November 28 and 29, it was announced here today by J. J. Foley of Dallas, chairman of the program committee.

The conference is being sponsored jointly by the Highway Club of Texas and the Oklahoma Good Road Association. Five states, Texas, Oklahoma, Louisiana, Arkansas and New Mexico, are to be represented, and the purpose of the conference is to discuss highway and traffic problems which are common to these commonwealths. Invitations Are Out. Roy M. Johnson of Ardmore, a former member of the Oklahoma Highway Commission and now president of the Oklahoma Good Roads Association, is chairman of the committee on invitations, has extended invitations to the conference to highway commissioners and other executives of the five states as well as hundreds of good roads enthusiasts and members of automobile associations and other organizations which have an interest in the problems to be considered. Preparations are being made to entertain at least 1000 visitors, according to W. T. Wheeler, general manager of the Highway Club.

traffic, but a source of delay and confusion for the interstate traveler. The Bureau of Public Roads has worked out a national system of numbering designated to rectify this condition, and adoption of this plan is to be urged at the conference.

Colonel Barber's address at the conference is to deal primarily with the Uniform Motor Code, and he probably is the best qualified man in the United States to discuss the topic. When the National Conference on Street and Highway Safety was organized, Colonel Barber was designated by Secretary Hoover as its director, and he was largely instrumental in bringing to a successful conclusion the task of drafting the code.

Colonel Barber's connection with the United States Chamber of Commerce has brought him in close contact with all phases of transportation—railway, highway and waterway—and he has had a wide engineering experience in the transportation field in this country and abroad.

West Point Graduate. He is a graduate of West Point and soon after the out-break of the war was sent to France with a railway commission to report on the needs of the French railways in supplying the allied forces. Later he was assigned to General Pershing's staff in connection with the organization of transportation and overseas shipping. After the armistice he supervised the transportation of supplies to various countries of Eastern Europe for the American Relief Administration and in 1919 was nominated by Secretary Hoover, upon request of the Polish government, to assist in the organization of the railways, coal industry and other technical services of the republic.

music for the opening of school this morning.

W. A. Green is shopping in Abernathy today.

H. Habbings and family were shoppers in Abernathy Saturday.

J. B. and Carl Higgins of Lubbock were in Abernathy on business today.

I. P. Shipman, A. Cope, R. Neice, W. I. Adkinson were also among the shoppers of Abernathy Saturday.

Abernathy now has almost all the conveniences of a city, since the entrance of gas, electric lights, daily delivery of the Journal and other conveniences. We expect to have a paved highway running north and south through our city within the near future and expect to see many additions to our town in the way of new residences and business houses.

Abernathy needs a few two and three story brick buildings. Quite a number of people have been in Abernathy lately looking for office room and being unable to find it they have gone on to some other place. We have the trade territory and location. What we need now is the place to do business. It would be safe to say that a good office building could be rented before its completion, if started now.

Wallace McGee is moving to Lubbock today. He has a position with the Maxfield Music Co.

Brother M. M. Young filled his appointment at the Church of Christ on Sunday and delivered a very appreciative sermon in two parts, his subject being "The Identity of the Church."

Sunday school at all churches was well attended Sunday. It was estimated that there were more people in church Sunday at 10 o'clock than were left out in Abernathy. A very fine record for Abernathy. We hope to see our churches grow and interest continue.

FEDERAL PLAN IN GRADING OF BEEF POPULAR

THIRD GRADE IS ASKED AFTER SIX MONTHS OF OPERATION

(By Associated Press) CHICAGO, Nov. 16.—Six months after experimental inauguration of its beef grading and stamping service, guaranteeing the consumer a definite degree of excellence, the government is besought by packers, retailers, and beef cattle associations to add a third grade, known as "good," to the now existing "prime" and "choice" grades. The federal stamp, says W. C. Davis, assistant chief marketing specialist in the bureau of agricultural economics, has tended to stabilize prices for better grade beef and has eliminated the violent fluctuations in the market. A consistent upward trend in price indicates restoration of public confidence in meats and a growing demand for certified quality. The same advantage is sought for beef that, neither prime nor choice, is of good character. Beef cattle prices are the highest in years, and producers are concentrating on better type cattle and more of them. Whether the additional grade will be authorized, Davis says, is at present uncertain. Until June 30, 1928, grading and stamping will continue as a research project with all expenses borne by the government.

ment. The work is done only on request and while a number of packers ask that all of their meat be subjected to grade, others seek only specific amounts.

A total of 26,257 carcasses, equivalent to 15,000,000 pounds of beef, have been graded and stamped. The figure represents about 5 per cent of all cattle slaughtered. Although much of the remainder might not have measured up to prime and choice standards, it is held that a fair percentage likely would have found a place in that category had it been offered for examination.

Grade supervisors are stationed at Chicago, Kansas City, Omaha, St. Joseph, Sioux City, Topeka, Boston, New York, Philadelphia and Washington, D. C. They have complete authority at the packing plants as to the selection of carcasses eligible for the stamp. Thus far one man in each place has been able to do the work alone, and in some cities it has been turned over to government men already employed in other channels. They use a stamp of roller design, which, drawn across the meat, inscribes a continuous ribbon mark the full length of the carcass. Even after the carcass is cut up the mark appears on most of the retail cuts and the consumer may select "U. S. Prime Steer," "U. S. Choice Steer," "U. S. Prime Heifer," or "U. S. Choice Heifer."

Bankers Join Move To Halt Robberies

PORT WORTH, Nov. 16.—Five hundred Texas bankers have contributed $5 each to the "bandit death fund," it was announced today by W. M. Massie, president of the Texas Bankers' association. It is expected that all of the 1,600 members of the organization will contribute to a fund which is sought to be used in paying the personal expenses of holding up a Texas bank. Each mail is accompanied by a check for $5 and to date not less than $100,000 has been received. Blair French, Illinois, has carried the list of names for the fund.
