BIGGEST SNOW OF YEARS FALLS OVER SPUR COUNTRY

The Country Was Never in Better Shape, Nor Were Crop Prospects Ever More Promising Than Today

The Texas Spur has been here fifteen years, and never before in our time has the great Spur country been in better shape with respect to ideal seasons, crop prospects and conditions in general—and the real "old timers" who have been here thirty or forty years, tell us that the conditions prevailing today are as good as at any time in the history of the country.

Tuesday night and Wednesday morning snow fell continuously covering the ground to a depth of eight inches on an average over this entire territory. Considering that we already had a good season in the ground, and the fact that all of this eight inches of snow will soak into the ground, the entire country will be in ideal condition for crop planting, which will begin immediately.

The farmers of this territory have learned by experience the value of diversifying, and are this year planting feed and other crops, making cotton a surplus crop, and with the season now in the ground are assured of bumper production. Wheat, oats, and rye are now up and coming fine, and with later crops of sudan, there will be few if any farmers of the entire country who will have to sacrifice his money crop to buy feed and other necessities.

Taking everything into consideration, the Spur country now has a better outlook, more promising prospects and more evident promise of general prosperity than ever before since the beginning of agricultural developments.

BRYANT-LINK COMPANY

Dear folks:-

We sure hope you read what we have to say from week to week. Yes, we would write lots more than we do, but for the fact that Mack wants us to pay for what we say, so really talk is not cheap always. Business has been good so far this year. We thank you all for what you have done for us. We know our biggest asset is our customers and we want to please you; if anything comes up wrong that you buy from us, we want to know it; if any of our clerks fail to give you service we want to know it. They are all instructed to be courteous and give the best service possible, to give full weights and measure, and to sell goods only by true representation. We have always taken the position that a business to stand, must be built on a foundation of square dealing, and our business has grown from year to year.

Our business was started Forty years ago in Anson, Texas, by Mr. J. C. Bryant, and from that time to the present, has made progress upward. There have been good years and bad. Sometimes the drouth, sometimes the storms, sometimes low prices for cotton and cattle, financial panics and wars, all have come and gone and our business has stood. It has not always been easy. It has taken the help of friends and sometimes we could not see how we could reach the end of the financial road, but behind our honest efforts there was a Hand unseen but powerful in guiding the destiny of men and Nations over the places where human skill seems to have reached the distance beyond which it cannot go.

We want your friendship. We want to help you and want you to help us. Our aim in business is not alone to make money, but make friends, help to build up the town and country and make the world a little better place in which to live because we came this way. It seems that some men in places of trust in our Government have betrayed that trust. They may have gained money, but of what profit it is to them now when the searchlight of public sentiment is turned upon them. We do not believe, however, that all of those in authority are corrupt because of the mis-doings of a few, and we believe out of this investigation will come men of real worth who have stood and will stand for the thing that is right at any cost. We believe the world is growing better, that there is more sympathy in the hearts of men for each other; the hungry are being fed, the eyes of the blind and the limbs of the lame are being healed in the Christian institutions of our country. The naked are being clothed and the orphan's cry is being heard and the widow's sorrow and want is being cared for by various individuals and institutions. It's a "Good old World" if we look for the good.

Yes, we must sell merchandise. Come on with the crowds of satisfied customers. A new hat awaits you all covered with flowers.

And a dress to match. You must see to appreciate. Every day new things arrive in ladies' wear.

Trade in Spur—It's your town. Has it ever occurred to you, Mrs. Housekeeper of Spur and Spur Country, that the money spent in Spur is your money; that when it goes to your neighbor it comes back to you. Do you ever think when you send money away to the city that you are robbing yourself? That you patronize your own pocket book when you trade at home?. You have a chance to get the Spur dollar and its little cousins, the nickles and dimes. Money sent away from Spur stays away. Most every article of commerce can be bought in Spur. Buy at home—keep your money at home and build a city of your own. Toss the catalogues of mail order houses into the waste basket and tell your home merchant what you want. He is your neighbor. He pays taxes here. He is your friend. If you could save a few dimes by sending your money away to institutions that do not care whether you die or live, what have you gained?

Why buy in Spur?—Because my interests are here. Because the community that is good enough for me to live in is good enough for me to buy in. Because I believe in transacting business with friends. Because I want to see the goods I buy. Because I want to get what I pay for. Because part of every dollar I spend at home stays at home and helps work for the welfare of the town and country. Because the man I buy from stands back of the goods. Because I sell what I produce at home. Because the man I buy from pays his part of the state, county and city taxes. Because the man I buy from helps support my school, my church, my lodge and my home.

Come on with the crowds—spend your money with us—we are here helping in every interest of town and country.

W. E. LESSING ANNOUNCES FOR COUNTY ATTORNEY

The Texas Spur has been authorized to announce the candidacy of W. E. Lessing for the office of County Attorney. This is not alltogether a surprise, as it is known that Mr. Lessing's name has been often mentioned in this connection and that he only hesitated to make the announcement because of his short residence in Dickens County.

Mr. Lessing has now been a resident of Dickens County for the past fifteen months and by the time of the coming election, will be an old timer as judged by the chronicles of the rapidly growing West, where men of character and ability are accorded recognition for that reason rather than for length of residence.

Mr. Lessing was reared in Waco, moved after having served as District Attorney in the San Angelo country when that was the frontier and San Angelo an Army Post. In Waco, Mr. Lessing served his apprenticeship in the legal profession having been engaged there in the active practice of law for some eight years and where he gained a wide and varied experience and a thorough knowledge of the law, which he now offers to Dickens County.

Mr. Lessing was drawn to the West and especially to Dickens County by that same influence which is making this the greatest section of the greatest state; unexcelled climate conditions and virgin opportunities, only awaiting development. Feeling this call, Mr. Lessing moved to Dickens County with his family to cast his lot with its future and lend his aid to its development.

To those to whom he has become acquainted and who have had the opportunity to observe his actions in court, nothing further need be said as to his ability as a lawyer or his qualifications for the office of county attorney, but Mr. Lessing brings with him from his old home very flattering recommendations from such men at Governor Neff, J. N. Gallagher, formerly of the Commission of Appeals at Austin, Allen D. Sanford, head of the law department of Baylor University, at Waco, as well as other prominent business men and members of McLellan County Bar. All of whom unqualifiedly vouch for his ability as a lawyer and his honor and integrity as a man.

We quote here from the letter of Governor Neff: "I have known W. E. Lessing, formerly of Waco, now of Spur, for a number of years. He comes from one of the old substantial families of Waco, and was while in Waco, held in the highest esteem by all who knew him, both as a man and as an Attorney. He is worthy of the confidence and comradship of the best people wherever he may go." Mr. Lessing is proving that such recommendations are well deserved and it is with pleasure that we make this announcement.

CARAWAY LETS CONTRACT FOR BRICK ADDITION

E. L. Caraway this week let the contract to M. B. Oats for the construction of a brick addition to his drive-in filling station, and work of construction will begin immediately.

This brick addition will be 50 x 80 feet, and when completed will be used for car storage and garage purposes in connection with his Buick salesroom and accessory department already in operation.

Never before in the history of Spur has there been a greater and more substantial building progress than is now under way and contemplated bp varied business interests of Spur.

The crop conditions and general prospects warrant and encourage the building and improvement progress in evidence and contemplated. Watch Spur grow!

SPUR INN TO REBUILD SAYS TELEGRAM FROM SWENSON

The Announcement is Received With Real Appreciation on the Part of Every Individual of the Town and Country

C. B. Jones, manager for S. M. Swenson & Sons, received a telegram Wednesday from the firm headquarters in New York, stating that the Spur Inn, which was destroyed last week by fire, would be rebuilt immediately.

In conversation with Mr. Jones, he stated that should the walls and foundation now standing prove to have escaped serious injury, the Inn would be replaced upon the same plans and lines as before the fire, but until the extent of the damage is determined, it could not be stated definitely as to the plans of rebuilding.

The destruction of the Spur Inn was the hardest blow that could have come to Spur in this manner, and the announcement that it would be rebuilt was received in Spur with real, heart-felt appreciation.

The destruction of the Spur Inn was not only a loss to Spur but to the entire country. We have received a number of letters from a distance, expressing sorrow for the loss.

In rebuilding it is very probable that, if possible, the furnishings and equipments will be more modern, convenient and comfortable for guests. At least we know that in its replacement Spur will lose none of its former prestige in possessing one of the finest, most modern and most appreciated hotels in the state of Texas.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE PASSES RESOLUTION

WHEREAS, the destruction of the SPUR INN by fire on the 10th day of March, 1924, is a loss keenly felt by each and all of the citizens of Spur and the community, and

WHEREAS, the citizens of this community have expressed their hope and desire that the Spur Inn will be rebuilt; now therefore,

BE IT RESOLVED, that the Spur Chamber of Commerce does deplore the loss of the Spur Inn, and does recognize its value to the community as having offered accommodations to the traveling public seldom found in a city of the size of Spur, as well as being a monument to the faith held by the owners in the future of this country, and an attraction which filled the heart of each citizen with pride.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that as an evidence of appreciation by this organization of the benefits to be derived from the rebuilding of the SPUR INN, the Spur Chamber of Commerce does pledge itself to do every thing within its power and use its influence to induce and aid the rebuilding of the SPUR INN, and, as in the past, to use its every influence to encourage its maintenance and successful operation in the future.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of this organization and that a copy be forwarded to S. M. Swenson & Sons, at New York.

We will come again after several weeks absence. School is still progressing nicely and everybody is working real hard.

Mr. Bert McAteer was seeing the sights last week in Fort Worth, at the Fat Stock Show.

The Junior Track boys and their teacher, Mr. Fred Arrington went on a picnic over at the Springs last Monday evening.

Misses Marguerite and Helen Meadors spent the week end in Haskell visiting friends and relatives.

Tennis was played last Friday at Dickens, by the different schools of the County, however, there were only two represented, Croton and Dickens. Miss Zada Gunn played singles while Misses Lynnie Harkey and Marguerite Meadors played doubles. Mr. Willow Street and D. R. Harkey played doubles for the boys. They every one won first place which we are proud to report.

Raleigh and Charlie Middleton were absent from school last Monday.

News is scarce this week, but we'll come back again with more news next week.

J. M. Thomason, who is this year farming to the north of Spur, on the Star route, was on the streets Saturday meeting his friends with a most optimistic air. Everything now indicates that the biggest crops will be produced this year ever before known in the history of West Texas. The seasons are coming just right, and the only thing now to fear is an over-production—and to avoid this disaster farmers throughout this territory are planting feed, raising hogs, poultry and good milk cows, and adopting diversified farming methods all along the line. LIVESTOCK OUTLOOK FOR COMING SEASON BRIGHTENS

Feeders of livestock have not prospered during the past two years. High prices for feed and low prices for livestock brought many to the brink of bankruptcy and some went over. However, those who got out from under by disposing of their surplus animals, keeping a foundation stock, will probably live to see the day when they will congratulate themselves on their forethought. Already there is a scarcity of good breeding animals in some sections while the market has gradually improved. Those who keep in touch with the market do not hesitate to predict that the demand for all classes of livesock, and more particularly the well conditioned animals, will continue to improve, and that there is danger of a shortage.

Even in times when supply seemed to be greater than the demand, well conditioned hogs, beef animals and sheep of the better types found ready sale at a premium over the regular market price. This leads one to the conclusion that fewer and better animals properly fed and cared for will bring to the producer a greater net profit at all times than will a large number of scrubs.

Breeders report that there is an improvement in the demand from producers for better stock. This being true, those who contemplate improving their herds, or who have decided to lay a foundation for profitable herds and flocks, will find delay in making their purchases rather expensive.

Breeders in the Southwest have laid the foundation for a good business. Trading with each other did not prove profitable. "You scratch my back and I'll scratch yours," is no longer their slogan. Producing foundation stock for the farmer who raises hogs for the market is now the rule, and there never was a more opportune time for farmers to secure well bred animals with which to improve their herd, or to make a start in the production of quickly maturing animals of the type which brings top prices in the market. No better way of spending their 1923 cotton money could be devised. Getting in on the ground floor with some good animals and plenty of feedstuffs liiks like a more inviting business proposition than an increase in cotton, acreage. If a normal crop is produced from the area which will probably be planted to cotton, there is reason to believe that it will take several acres of it to buy a good hog next fall.—Farm and Ranch.

We 23,000 Men

Present you the utmost in fine cars

THERE are 23,000 of us building Studebaker cars. Most of us are partners in the business. Thousands of us are stockholders. All of us, after a certain time, get dividends on wages.

All of us, after two years, get vacations with pay. All of us, after one year, get dividends on wages. After five years, that annual dividend adds 10% to our earnings.

The company spends vast sums on co-operative work with us. When we retire, we get pensions.

So Studebaker cars represent the best that we, in combination, know how to offer you.

* * *

Some of us belong to management. If we do better than expected, we get 10% of the excess.

So every man among us does his best to make Studebaker cars supreme.

Our fine backing

Behind us is an honored name. For 72 years Studebaker has been the leader in quality and class.

We have $90,000,000 of assets. We have $50,000,000 in model plants. We have 12,500 up-to-date machines. So Studebaker cars are built by modern and efficient methods.

We have an engineering department which costs $500,000 yearly. That to maintain and develop Studebaker standards.

We subject Studebaker cars to 30,000 inspections. That requires 1,200 men. All told over 70,000 machine and hand operations are performed in manufacture of a Studebaker car. In so many operations, though each one is small, there is a great opportunity for economies and savings.

We have a $10,000,000 body plant, to maintain the Studebaker standard of coach work. There sons, fathers and grandfathers are working together, to build such bodies as Studebaker always built.

Those bodies are finished by many operations, including 15 coats of paint and varnish.

The open bodies are upholstered in real leather. The closed bodies in Chase Mohair. That is made from the silky fleece of Angora goats.

We pay for those extras — and others—out of savings. Building our own bodies saves you on some types up to $300 per car.

We never stint

The rule here is to give the utmost in every part and detail.

We have 35 formulas for steel. Each has been demonstrated best for its purpose. On some of these steels we pay 15% premium to get the formulas exact.

All Studebaker models are equipped with Timken bearings. There are few cars in America, regardless of price, which equal ours on this point. In our Light-Six, for instance, we put more Timken bearings than are used in any competitive car, within $1,500 of its price.

We give unusual equipment. On some Big-Six models, for instance, we include two nickel-plated bumpers, one or two extra disc wheels with cord tires, a courtesy light, a motometer, steel trunk, etc.

How we do this

We give you these extra values through quantity production. We build 150,000 cars per year — more than any other fine-car builder. Our large expenses are divided by that enormous output.

We do it by building our own bodies, our own parts. Thus we save outside profits.

We do it because we have up-to-date plants, with all forms of modern equipment.

* * *

The results are these: Beauty, quality and luxury such as no maker can surpass.

Prices far below the usual. Our Light-Six, built by ordinary methods, would sell for from $200 to $400 more. Our Big-Six can be compared only with the highest-priced cars in the world.

Here are 13 models, from $1,025 to $2,685. Each of them offers scores of advantages over any comparable car. They offer such values that the trend toward Studebakers has become overwhelming.

Go analyze the reasons before you buy a quality car.

See how Studebaker gained top place

145,167 people last year paid $201,000,000 for Studebaker cars.

The sales have almost trebled in the past three years. Studebaker growth in fine cars is the marvel of this industry.

Go see the reasons. See the scores of extra values Studebaker offers.

There are 13 models. Prices start at $1025. They go to the highest price a fine car needs to cost.

Don't buy a car for years to come without knowing how Studebaker gained its amazing popularity.

COTTLE HAS CANDIDATE FOR DISTRICT ATTORNEY

Will Combest of this city has announced for District Attorney of the 50th. Judicial District.

We are frank to say that we are for Bill for this office. He is a young man of quite a bit of law experience, seemingly having pulled himself up by the boot straps until his work is being recognized by all leading attorneys. He is a good boy who does not "know it all," and the beauty of this is that Will recognizes the fact and always has an open mind. But he has gone much further in his profession during the time he has been in it than does the average boy. His law schooling was secured from the State University of Texas. He was a graduate of the High School of Paducah and Clarendon College before entering the law school at Austin. His work as a student showed up well as his work in the law profession since he has entered it.

Will is a young man who is true to his convictions. Heis a tireless worker and we feel confident that he will make the district one of the best attorneys we have ever had. He is worthy of the place in every respect, and we feel sure he will not betray the confidence of the people in any way.

Another thing—we have no doubt in the least but what he is perfectly capable of filling the office to the minutest details. We are going to predict that if he is elected he will make a district attotrney whom the people will be proud of.

Mr. Combest wishes to solicit the support of the voters of this district, assuring them that he will do his very best if elected to this responsible position.—Paducah Post.

TO THE VOTERS OF DICKENS COUNTY

In making this my announcement for Tax Assessor, I do so realizing fully the importance of filling a public office. I realize too, that the giving of a public office is in the hands of the Voters and that only one man can be elected to fill this office, and that he must secure a majority of the votes polled in the county.

I am asking for the office for the next term, because I need the money that it will pay, and in return for this money I promise to give my very best service. I will ask you for the office as I would ask any man or company of men for a position. I will make the race on my past and present record as a citizen of our county, and my qualifications as a man capable of attending to the duties of the office, or I would not ask for it. And should you select me for your next Assessor, I will endeavor to discharge my duty in justice to all and special privilege to none. Owing to several successive misfortunes which have fallen to my lot in the past two years, it is very necessary that I make and save every dollar possible in order to meet my obligations and support my family. This fact will necessitate my working and may keep me from making a close canvass of the county. I feel like I am well enough known by those of you who have been in the county very long for you to pass judgment on my qualifications and worthiness, and to the new comers, I will refer you to your friends and neighbors who have been here long enough to know me.

If you find upon inquiry that I am the kind of man that you would like to work for you, I will appreciate your vote and influence.—J. V. McCormick.

Herbert McCarty, who is attending a business college and also employed with one of the large oil concerns of Dallas, returned home Friday on account of the serious illness of his father, W. F. McCarty at his home in Spur. Mr. McCarty's condition is now improving so rapidly that Herbert thinks he will be able to return to Dallas the latter part of this week. This is Herbert's first visit home in the past twelve months, and he told us that the changes made here in building and improvement progress had been so great during his absence that it was almost unbelieveable. We are glad to see Herbert doing well and preparing himself for business success sure to come to him in the future.

THE "MICROBE OF LOVE" THOROUGHLY ENJOYED

The play, "The Microbe of Love," presented at the new high school auditorium both Monday and Tuesday nights, was attended by a crowded house each night, and was enjoyed and appreciated by all.

The characters, made up of "spinsters," "left over club" and "bachelors," were represented by Floye Richbourg, Anna Mae Lassiter, Lola Stamey, Bessie Wayne Jackson, Bonnie Gilbert, Audie Markham, Illa Lassiter, Viola Morgan and Wrenn Hopkins as Spinsters; Elizabeth Dye, Opal McAdams and Louise Edmonds as members of the Left Over Club; and James McCormick, Barron Chapman, Cecil Burnam, Hubert Karr, Clarence Billberry, Ben Marshall and Roy Edmonds, as Bachelors. Specials were represented by Dorothy Love and Dick Stafford as Old Fashioned Girls, Willie Richbourg and Alf Glasgow as Mr. and Mrs. Henpeck. The chorus girls were Dorothy Love, Dick Stafford, Thelma Caraway, Lucille Lucas, Ermal Lisenby, Dera Belle Smith, Jettie Windham, Neitha Snider, Beth Harkey and Annis Albin. The cupids were Peggy Cameron, Hazel Ann Wilson, Francis Morris and Nedra Hogan.

The costumes were appropriate and attractive, and the presentation throughout was well rendered, most entertaining and laughable to all.

We understand that approximately three hundred fifty dollars was obtained from the play. One half, or approximately $175 will be used in meeting the expenses of the graduating class at the close of the term of Spur High School, while the other half of the receipts will go to the Sewell Lyceum and Producing Company of Atlanta, Georgia.

BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION

On Thursday, March 6th, Uncle Tom Cochran and H. T. Garner, whose birthday anniversaries come on the same date, celebrated the event at Dickens with a big dinner given them by Mr. and Mrs. Luther Jones, only a few outside the family circle being present to enjoy the occasion with them.

We remember in the early history of Spur, we were called in to partake of the festive board on a similar occasion and celebration of these two old Soldiers, and this being before Volstead came into prominence, there was more than one "dead soldier" laid away during the progress of the festivities—and the memory of this occasion still lingers with us.

On this date Uncle Tom Cochran became eighty years of age, while Mr. Garner past the seventy fourth milestone in his life. They are both old Confederate Soldiers, experiencing and enjoying their evening of life, and there is not one who regards them higher, loves more the cause for which they fought in earlier manhood, and wishes them greater happiness and contentment as the shadows of life close around them than does this writer. At the sunset of life we know these old Soldiers will pass on to a reward for a well spent life and a real service rendered mankind.

DIED

Grandma Cartwright died Tuesday March 11th, of pneumonia, her remains being interred Wednesday in the Spur cemetery. Grandma Cartwright had reached the ripe old age of seventy four years. During the past twenty years her son, W. C. Cartwright, had cared for his mother and father and two sisters, his father having died two years ago at the age of seventy odd years.

The passing of Grandma Cartwright leaves a vacancy in the home which cannot be filled, and an ache in the hearts of the son and daughters which time alone can relieve. We extend to them our sincerest sympathy in their bereavement. Grandma lived a useful, worthy life, and has merely paid the last debt of life, passing on to her reward which without doubt is a crown of glory in the Great Beyond.

SOME THOUGHTS ON CHURCH SERVICE

Recently, a friend visiting me, was telling me the fault she had to find with the new Pastor of the home church. Because the congregation did not come at the appointed hour. the Pastor actually would not wait, he had already warned them he would not, too, but he departed before the people who did finally come arrived, and did not stay and preach to them, and she seemed to feel abused, really defrauded of her rights.

I said, "Well, my sympathies are with the preacher, strictly. I think he did exactly right. I have wondered heretofore when I have attended religious services in this community why the minister did not do just that."

I do not see any other way he could do to induce people to be there on time.

I know asking them to come early has no effect on the drones, because I have seen it tried often.

People in towns know the appointed hours and they do not expect the service to be delayed for them.

Why should country people expect any thing so unreasonable?

As this good lady said, "Oh, but it's Sunday, a day of rest, I like to lie in bed a little later and take my ease." But why should you? Can't you rest Saturday night in the same number of hours for the Lord's Day service that you can week nights for your daily labors? for your own service?

It looks to me you want to cheat the Lord of part of His day and then criticize the preacher who refuses to abet you in wrongdoing.

The way I see it, it is quite as much your duty to get up at the usual hour on His day, and give Him the full day's service cheerfully and conscienciously, as you put in a full day of labor for your own profit.

If you love the Lord and His service you surely would not mind going a little earlier and show your zeal to give Him all the time you pretend to feel belongs to Him.

Let's serve the Lord in spirit, not with tongue, grudgingly, but with the whole heart.

I have lived in towns about the same number of years that I have lived in the country, and it has always been a mystery to me why country people expect this indulgence, and a greater mystery why ministers have practiced encouraging them in the bad habit by delaying the service.

I know it is bound to be very trying to the preacher who is conscienciously working for the Lord and to serve the people, to try to keep himself keyed up to do his best, when people show so little interest.

And it rests entirely with the ministry to stop the annoying practice.

If all do as this criticised preacher did, and keep it up, we will be there on time or not at all.

When I have a duty to perform, I can do it much easier and more to my satisfaction at the right time, and I judge the preacher, being human is like minded. It is easier to proceed with the right spirit if your listeners are interested and encouraging.

If the people are so indifferent as to come stragling along an hour later than they should, it is their fault, not the preachers, if the spirit has departed from his talk, if the service seems dead and unattractive.

Try my recipe a while, and see if your preacher does not improve surprisingly, if your own religion does not revive, and your interest in the Lord's work increase amazingly.

Give the Lord the whole day of service, and I am sure you will grow in grace.—Mrs. J. H. Reed.

Tol Merriman, of south of Spur, was transacting business and greeting his friends in Spur Saturday afternoon. Tol Merriman was one among the first settlers of the country, having acquired a section or two of land here at a time when it was a wide-open range unhampered by barbed wire fences—and the branding of maverics was a common occurrence.

Ex-Sheriff Bob Goodall, and candidate for the same office in the present campaign of Kent county, was meeting and mixing with his friends and the people of Spur Saturday afternoon. While Bob may not have made his formal announcement for the office at this time, yet it is pretty generally understood that he is in the race. Bob was born for the sheriff's office. He knows how to handle the office and meets every situation as a peace officer in the very best possible manner. While serving in the office, his reputation extended far beyond the county limits and he was recognized among the best officers of the state.

FEED CONTEST MEETINGS CALLED OFF NEXT WEEK

The meetings scheduled to be held in the various communities over the country next week in the feed campaign and contest have been canceled and will not be held, County Agent Johnston stating that in view of the fact that practically all farmers of the country had already been seen, together with the uninviting weather and road conditions now prevailing, the meetings would not be had and were not necessary.

We understand that very nearly every farmer in the whole country has been listed to enter the contest, and those few who have not been seen will be given the opportunity to enter the contest at any time it may be convenient.

IT PAYS IN THE LONG-RUN TO TRADE AT HOME

We want to call the attention of Texas Spur readers to the advertisements appearing each week, and especially we want you to read the Bryant-Link Company ad on the front page this week. In this ad Mr. Link not only makes attractive merchandise offerings, but states some facts and truths with reference to "trading at home" that if considered, heeded and practiced will be of real worth and value to the town, the country and the home people in general. We have always been a stickler for home living, home trading and home preference in every instance. It means a saving in dollars and cents and the assurance of substantial growth and prosperity to town, country and people. It may be possible to lose a few cents on occasions in a single transaction, but in the long-run those few cents will return in many fold by trading at home and standing-by home institutions.

WOMAN NEAR GIRARD IS ATTACKED AND ROBBED

Mrs. Ike Tyler, of near Girard, was attacked and robbed of thirty dollars in money Tuesday morning at her home, by an unidentified man. The lady was out about the lots feeding her chickens when the man approached and asked for something to eat, immediately throwing something in her face, or striking her, causing her to become unconscious. Upon regaining consciousness it was found that a pocket book containing thirty dollars, and which was carried in her stocking, had been cut out with a pocket knife. That morning the husband had gone to Girard to work, leaving the pocket book with his wife for safekeeping. Later, the man supposed to have committed the robbery was seen walking along the highway toward Spur, but up to this time has not been apprehended.

24 RANCH SOLD TO WILL BARRON OF FISHER COUNTY

The 24-Ranch property and cattle interests were this week sold to Will Barron of Rotan, Fisher County, the consideration being private.

The 24-Ranch consists of about twenty-thousand acres of land and one thousand head of cattle. This ranch was was established in the early days by Boley Brown and Pete Scogin, and is one of the finest ranch properties in West Texas. At the dissolution of the partnership of Scogin & Brown, Boley Brown took over the 24-Ranch which he owned and operated until his death in 1910, the management then falling into the hands of his sons, Bert and Chalk Brown, who successfully managed and conducted the business until a year or two ago, when the bottom dropped out of the cattle business and all cattle interests without exception met reverses and sustained losses of thousands of dollars.

The 24-Ranch will probably continue to maintain cattle interests for several years to come, but since a big per centage of the property is tillable, it, too, will eventually be cut up and given to agricultural pursuits.

MOTLEY HAS A CANDIDATE FOR DISTRICT ATTORNEY

Judge C. B. Whitten, of this city, announces this week, that he is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for the office of District Attorney of this, the 50th. Judicial District, composed of Baylor, Knox, Cottle, King, Motley and Dickens counties.

Judge Whitten was for two terms county judge of Motley county, and served the municipality for a number of years longer as county attorney. He is an able lawyer and conceded to be one of the most alert and vigorous prosecutors that has ever appeared in behalf of the commonwealth in this part of the state. He is a fair square man, one who will not make the office of public prosecutor that of public persecutor, but when convinced of guilt of the accused his efforts will be both unrelenting and effective.

Motley county has never furnished either of the official positions of this judicial district and it is only right and fitting that one of her qualified citizens be given the consideration that Judge Whitten is asking.—Motley County News.
