Nutrition Class Needs Students; Begins on June 2

Miss Myrtle Lois Pearson, Home Making instructor in the Perryton schools, will conduct a Nutrition Class for adults in the Home Making department at the school during June. The first class will be held Tuesday evening, June 2, 8 p. m. Definite schedule of classes will be worked out at this session.

The course will cover 20-hours of class work and will afford housewives a splendid opportunity to receive new discoveries about food needs and food values. The Red Cross textbook "Food and Nutrition," which costs 35 cents, will be the basis of instruction.

There is still room for more women to enter this class. Mrs. Jack Allen, chairman, will be glad to give any information on the work. Many women want to know just how they can best serve their country now. It is generally agreed that most of us can do the most for our country through our homes by saving the supplies necessary to the war effort, by using less of the foods that are scarce, by keeping up the morale of our family and by giving them the right kind of diet with the foods which are plentiful.

A large portion of our youth rejected for military service is because of malnutrition. This does not necessarily mean that they did not have enough food but that it was not of the right kind to build strong and healthful bodies.

Food is the substance of all life; good nutrition is the main-spring of an abundant life. The homemaker who wants the greatest values for her food dollars must be alert to the nutritive value of the food which she buys. Even with unlimited funds, a woman does not provide adequately for the health of her family unless their diet contains in proper proportions, the basic food essentials to the energy needs, the tissue building needs and the regulatory needs of the body.

Wartime Transportation

Cattle on the hoof, grain on the farm, minerals at the mine, oil at the well, goods at the factory—these cannot help our soldiers or our people until delivered where they are needed.

Our job is to "Keep 'Em Rolling"

Santa Fe is eager to do its full share of this huge wartime transportation job, military and civilian, throughout our territory. Years of careful operation, maintenance and expansion conditioned Santa Fe facilities for just such an emergency. But to meet every demand, existing equipment must be used to the limit!

You Can Help, Too

Last year you shippers did a lot to increase efficient use of existing freight equipment. Now we ask your continued cooperation to that end by doing these things:
● Make every car you use carry a maximum load ● Save every hour you can in loading and unloading cars ● Order cars only for your actual current needs.
Your help will help us do a better job for you, as well as for Uncle Sam, whose needs must come first in war.

At Your Command

Besides all-out war service, Santa Fe is maintaining regular and efficient freight and passenger transportation vital to your community. Talk over your travel and traffic problems with your Santa Fe agent.

Feminine Competition

Women can satisfactorily fill all or most jobs performed by men, subject only to the limitations of strength and physical requirements, and they should be paid equally for equal work. That's the opinion of William P. Witherow, President of the National Association of Manufacturers, who says that as many as four million women may be employed by the end of 1943.

Manufacturers and industrial relations experts have been conducting a series of clinics throughout the country in order that they can adopt a "sound approach" to the employment of women in war jobs.

Describing the survey, Mr. Witherow reported, "These unique, on-the-spot 'women clinics' were held in key war producing centers, stretching from New York as far west as Oklahoma City, for the purpose of exploring personnel and employment relations problems involved in the employment of a million and more women in war industries within the near future."

The survey yielded some interesting facts on the feminine invasion of a heretofore largely masculine field. For one thing, their presence in factories is stepping up the war efforts of the men. At first the men resented the invasion of what was formerly strictly a male domain, but soon they began to look down their hair, wear ties and even coats occasionally. In many factories the women began by doing more work than the men. The men couldn't stand that, and they stepped up their own efforts.

If the fair sex does have the effect of accelerating war production, women should be a welcome addition to our industrial battlefront. And certainly they should be paid the same wages for the same work.

Longer Car Life To Be Obtained By Conoco Plan

PONCA CITY, Okla., May 24--A new service to motorists, designed to prolong the life of motor cars and make tires last longer, is being introduced by Continental Oil Company through its local dealers. It was announced here today by Will A. Morgan, company advertising manager.

"The new service," Mr. Morgan stated, "will be announced to the public in a series of advertisements to start this week in the Ochiltree County Herald."

"Knowing that regular inspection and proper lubrication are absolutely vital to the long-life of cars now operating, dealers in Conoco products throughout the country are organizing Once-A-Week clubs among motorists, with the idea of making thorough checks of each car on regularly specified days every week. Conoco dealers will keep careful records of tire serial numbers, grease and oil change periods, and all information necessary to the proper servicing of the car. They will remind motorists when lubrication and other services are needed, and will do everything possible to help the motorists get the maximum life from their cars at the least possible cost and trouble," Morgan said.

All Conoco dealers in this territory are cooperating in the plan, it was announced.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Bryan and Joan were in Amarillo Sunday to a meeting of merchants from over the Panhandle in regard to present day prices and restrictions.

Care For Your Car... For Your Country

The turkey is pictured here in advance of the season to dramatize the performance-facts about a great gasoline which is never in advance of the season!

Of course, as always, Phillips 66 Poly Gas is high test without higher price. But more than that, it is the right high test (volatility) for the month in which you buy and use it. Definitely changed every thirty days to match the monthly changes in temperature in your locality.

In December, Phillips 66 Poly Gas is a fast starting motor fuel. In August, it is a cooler summer gas. In May, it's right for between-season weather... always custom-tailored to deliver high mileage and performance.

Scientific laboratory and field surveys prove that no other gasoline--not a single one--is so completely and accurately matched, all year 'round, to the monthly variations in your weather.

If you wonder what this means in pep and power... in zip and pick-up... find out the facts in your own motor. Try just one tankful and judge for yourself.

Remember, the Orange and Black 66 Shield is High Test Headquarters for car owners... because Phillips is WORLD'S LARGEST PRODUCER of Natural high test gasoline.

"Ancient and Modern Necrom-ancy, Alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism, Denounced" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, May 31.
The Golden Text is: "The idols
have spoken vanity, and the diviners have seen a lie, and have told false dreams; they comfort in vain" (Zechariah 10:2).
Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Submit yourselves therefore to God. Resist

the devil, and he will flee from you."
Humble yourselves in the sight of the Lord, and he shall lift you up" (James 4:7, 10).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy:
"Christians must take up arms
against error at home and abroad.
They must grapple with sin in themselves and in others, and continue this warfare until they have finished their course. If they keep the faith, they will have the crown of rejoicing" (page 29).

Excess Sugar Must Be Used
At Rate of One-half Pound Weekly

Households which had excess amounts of sugar and were not issued War Ration Books in the sugar rationing registration were advised today by the Office of Price Administration to police their own use of sugar in accordance with the designated consumer sugar allotments.

At the present time, the OPA said, no family or individual should consume sugar at a greater rate than a pound a person each two weeks, which is the current consumer allotment.

This rule applies to those who did not receive War Ration Books
because they possessed sugar in excess of six pounds each, as well as to those who were issued War Ration Books.

No War Ration Books will be issued to persons who registered excess amounts of sugar until a sufficient number of ration periods have expired during which the consumer
—if he had ration stamps—might have purchased an amount of sugar
equal to his excess.

The OPA has received reports that some people who registered excess amounts of sugar think they can obtain War Ration Books as soon as the excess is gone, regardless of the length of time in which it was consumed.

Families who do not restrict their use of sugar to the prescribed allotments will only be penalizing themselves since a time may come when they have to sugar and will not be permitted to purchase any.

The OPA also issued a warning
concerning lost War Ration Books.
In the event a book is lost, a person may make application to his local rationing board for a new one but it cannot be issued to him until two months after the date of his application.

Consumers are asked to exercise
the utmost care of their War Ration Books inasmuch as no exceptions will be made to the lost book rule. Persons claiming special hardship because of illness or other conditions beyond their control may take their cases up with their local rationing boards.

While the boards cannot issue
new books until the two month period has elapsed, they may in a deserving case permit a person to file a Special Purpose Application for a Sugar Purchase Certificate.

Rationing stamps have a weight value of one pound for purchasing sugar. The No. 2 stamp will be good until May 30; No. 3, May 31 to June 13; No. 4, June 14 to June 27.

New Buildings
Are Permissible
For Farm Usage

Construction work on a farm must be essential to the meeting of agricultural production goals on the farm if it is to be approved by USDA war boards.

Also the intended construction
must be consistent with sound agricultural practices. County boards have been instructed to take into consideration past farm records and the competency of the producer.

Buildings which will use a minimum of scarce materials will be more likely to get approval than buildings using large amounts of such materials, since the principal purpose of the War Production Board limitation of non-essential construction was to conserve critical materials and equipment.

Another factor which will be taken into consideration is the extent to which the construction work will require labor which might otherwise be engaged in war work. In considering applications for construction permits, county boards were told to determine whether present buildings were adequate and whether the same production could be attained through the adaptation of existing buildings.

Although county USDA war
boards will accept or reject applications for construction permits, final approval or disapproval is up to the War Production Board.

Rent Portable Typewriters

Any person or business needing a typewriter is entitled to rent a used office machine or new portable directly from any dealer, the Office of Price Administration announced today in a clarification of typewriter rationing regulations.

Under the rationing order, new and used typewriters cannot be purchased outright except through rationing certificates. It was pointed out, however, that a supply of machines is available for unrestricted rental, subject only to the right of OPA to recapture rented machines should defense needs later require such a move.

The announcement was made to clear up misunderstandings which have developed since general typewriter rationing went into effect on April 20.

From where I sit ...

by Joe Marsh

Every Friday night a bunch of us
fellows get together over at Bill Webster's place. We wouldn't miss those weekly get-togethers for anything.

There are seven in the group—
Bill Webster, Judge Cunningham,
Pete Swanson, Old Doc McGinnis
the dentist, and young Doc Mitchell the M.D., the government man
Bob Newcomb, and myself.

We don't play cards. We don't sing or carry on.

We just sit quietly and talk—
and drink a glass or two of beer.

I guess we discuss just about everything under the sun—politics,
business, family affairs, music,
farming, hunting, fishing, and what not.

But mostly we like to chew the fat about life's experience and a man's philosophy in these times.

To sort of help out the conversation, we've found mellow beer particularly relaxing. Every one of us likes the tangy taste of beer...
and now and then Judge Cunningham insists on ale for everybody.

You mightn't think that just settin' and talkin' would be so much fun. But it is. Particularly when a man begins to get around to the age of reason. Like us.

And it's wonderful how a few glasses of good beer help bring out good talk and good sense when men get together. There's something peaceful and friendly and human about beer that brings out
the best in a man.

They call beer the "beverage of moderation." That "moderation" idea is good philosophy... maybe that's why good beer and good fellowship go together so well.

Seems to me there ought to be more of this quiet talk over a glass of beer. It sure straightens out a man in his thinking.

Anyhow, men ought to get together and be friends. That's the way we were made. Why not try it more often—all of you?

Texas Aid for Destitute Children

AUSTIN, Feb. 26.—Since Texas, in cooperation with the federal government, initiated a program last September for aid to destitute children, approximately 10,000 needy children have been placed on the rolls and 17,772 children in 7,540 families have applications pending. Applicants and recipients of aid reside predominantly in the larger cities.

When the death, continued illness, or absence of one or both parents leaves the family without any means of support or parental care, the Aid to Dependent Children program provides monthly cash payments to the mother or other close relative with whom the children may live for the maintenance of the home. The 47th Legislature appropriated money to finance the program, with the federal government matching funds dollar for dollar.

The law sets certain requirements for the receipt of assistance by dependent children. First, it must be proved that need exists. A family is considered to be in need if it lacks sufficient resources to maintain itself. A child must have lived in the state for at least a year beforehand, or, if it is an infant less than a year old, the mother must have lived in the state a year before it was born. Although the federal social security act provides for matching funds in giving aid to children up to 16 years of age, or 18 if the child is still attending school, the Texas constitution excludes benefits to children who have already attained the age of 14 or over.

Applications for aid to dependent children may be made at the local office of the State Department of Public Welfare. The same workers who administer Aid to the Needy Blind and Old Age Assistance also administer the children's program. Applicants must supply certain information about the family and its circumstances so that the welfare office can determine whether the children may receive aid. The local office has available a Question and Answer pamphlet which gives full information concerning eligibility requirements and how to get through an application.

When an investigation shows that the family is in need, and how much assistance will be required, a monthly allowance is granted. The amount varies, depending on the need in each case. If the decision of the welfare office, either in fixing the amount or in refusing aid, seems unfair, the applicant may request a hearing before a representative of the State Office and evidence given at this hearing will be passed on by the Appeal Board of the State Welfare Department.

"This program aims to give every dependent child in Texas the privilege of growing up in his own home," J. S. Murchison, Executive Director of the department said. "Home life is the highest and finest product of civilization. It is the great molding force of mind and character. Children should not be deprived of it because of poverty. Cash assistance, and other services of this kind, enables young boys and girls to develop into useful and reliable citizens by making possible the maintenance of normal family life. Because of this program, children who are dependent and in need, like their more fortunate playmates, may now receive care until they are old enough to contribute to their own support."

Allred Launches Action Program For War, Peace

James V. Allred, who resigned a lifetime appointment as United States district judge to re-enter active political life as a candidate for United States junior senator, has based his campaign on vigorous support of President Roosevelt's war and peace program.

For winning the war, the former governor has sounded the demand "There must be no strikes, no slow downs, no violations on the part of either capital or labor to interrupt war production." He challenged unscrupulous war profits, and denounced "cartel agreements and trading with the enemy."

In calling for "uninterrupted production," Allred reminded the people of his own spirited fight as Texas governor against sit-down strikes.

"I mean these commitments now, just as I meant what I said in 1937 when sit-down strikes were sweeping the nation," he declared. "I was the only governor in 48 states to speak out on this subject then, before it was popular. I said there would be no sit-down strikes in Texas and there were none."

The candidate affirmed all-out support of President Roosevelt's war program and "the Atlantic Charter for winning the peace," and stated, "I will undertake to frustrate the designs of those who will attempt to sabotage President Roosevelt's peace plans, just as they crucified Woodrow Wilson."

Allred, who at the age of 19 left a draft-exempt job to join the United States Navy in the first World War, blasted as "false propaganda" reports that President Roosevelt would hold open for him the federal judgeship which he resigned to enter the senatorial race, or appoint him as judge in some other district, declaring such reports "a reflection upon the President and myself."

Hitting the campaign trail with the vigor that characterized his successful bids as two-term Attorney General and Governor of Texas, the black-haired, 43-year-old candidate said he would take his program to the people "just as I always have, looking them in the eye, speaking from the record."

Allred said he had pitched his battle "upon the highest plane I know, a record of experience against inexperience, of accomplishment against failure, of respect for Texas."

He said that he would not employ personal abuse but would deal with the written record.

Occupational Questionnaires To Registrants

Occupational Questionnaires to list the civilian occupations and skills of registrants in the First and Second Selective Service Registrations (October 1940 and July 1941) who have not been inducted into the armed forces will be mailed to them by the end of May, it was announced today by General J. Watt Page, State Selective Service Director. The questionnaire must be filled out by the registrant and mailed to his local board within ten days after he receives it, the Director said.

Pointing out the vital importance to the Nation's war effort of the most efficient use of its manpower for war production, General Page urged all registrants receiving this questionnaire to give careful thought to their skills, experience and aptitudes when filling it out. He said:

"The Government wants to know not only what you are doing now, but also what you can or might be able to do to assist in the war effort. It is not merely a question of training and experience, for you might have some aptitude that could be developed for important use in war production."

The handling of the occupational questionnaires for men of the First and Second Registrations will be entirely separate from that of the registrants of the Third (February 16, 1942) Registration, most of whom already have received their questionnaires, General Page said.

Many of the registrants of the First and Second Registration already are in the armed forces, he pointed out, and, therefore, the

Honey Takes Place of Sugar In Recipes

A cup of honey gives the same sweetness as one cup of sugar, so the same amount can be used to get the desired sweetness in baking.

However, the substitution of honey for sugar demands other adjustments in cooking, according to Rose Erisman, specialist in food preparation. Each cup of honey contains about one-fourth cup of liquid, so the homemaker should reduce one-fourth cup of the liquid required in the recipe for every cup of honey she substitutes for sugar.

"In baked products such as cakes egg with 1/4 c. honey and 2 tablespoons of milk. To 2 cups sifted flour, 2 teaspoons of baking powder, and 1/2 t. salt, add 1 c. chopped nuts, fruit, and 1/2 c. chopped candied citron or pineapple. Then add the nuts and dry ingredients alternately with the liquid mixture to the batter. Drop by small spoonfuls on a greased baking sheet and bake in a moderately hot oven 350 to 375 degrees F. for about 10 minutes.

Honey Cake
1/2 c. each of shortening, honey, sugar
1/2 c. milk
1/2 t. salt
1 c. flour
2 t. cream
2 eggs
3 t. baking powder
Cream shortening, honey and sugar, add beaten eggs, beat well. Add milk and sifted dry ingredients alternately. Do not beat after last flour is added, but just 2 or 3 strokes to have well blended. Add the 2 t. cream, stir, pour into greased layer cake pans, bake in moderate oven 350 degrees F. For cup cakes, bake in greased muffin tins.

Honey Cream Pie
1 1/4 c. milk
1/4 c. honey
1/4 c. flour
2 egg yolks, beaten
1/2 t. salt
2 T. butter
Add milk slowly to flour, beating until smooth. Add rest of milk, salt and honey. Cook in double boiler, stirring frequently until thick. Cool slightly and beat in egg yolks thoroughly. Order No. 6 - Office of Defense Transportation

Effective June 1, 1942, we are not permitted to make any special deliveries except to the armed forces of the United States. This means that if a customer calls, asking for delivery of merchandise we cannot make a special trip but can make the delivery on the next scheduled delivery. In addition to this a further regulation is imposed. Effective June 1, 1942, we can make but one delivery a day to any one person except in a case where the order given is more than one load. Example: The terms of the order prohibit our delivering a customer a part of a truck load of gasoline and returning later with two barrels of oil.

Also effective June 1, 1942, and by order of the Office of Defense Transportation, we are prohibited from making any "call backs" with automotive equipment for any purpose in connection with the delivery of merchandise. That is to say that we cannot in any case call back for such purposes as collecting, picking up drums, or for any other reason.

The foregoing regulations form just a part of the order officially known as "General Order Number 6, Office of Defense Transportation, Part 501, Conservation of Motor Equipment." The balance of the order defines our own responsibility to its prosecution. It is summed up in these few words under the heading of "Reduction of Mileage" . . . Effective June 1, we must effect a reduction in mileage of 25% over and above the saving resulting from eliminating "Special Deliveries," "Call Backs," and "More than one Delivery a Day," therefore, it is obvious that we must have your closest cooperation for this means in many instances that we must reduce our truck travel by 50% or more.

May We Have Your Cooperation?

We ask that you cooperate with us to the extent, to place your orders with us several days in advance. When ordering supplies, if at all possible, order a full load so we can give immediate service.

Since the manufacture of gasoline barrels and bungs have been discontinued for civilian use, we ask that care be taken of this equipment and that bungs be placed back in barrels. Also have all barrels emptied up so they can be brought in at the same time deliveries are made.

THANKS,
The Wholesale Petroleum
Dealers of Perryton

Ideal Food Store

On the Home Front of World War II

(A weekly summary of developments in the Victory Program, prepared by the Regional Information Office, OEM)

Now that Southwestern retailers are operating under the OPA Maximum Price Regulation and are beginning to put their fingers on the things they are doing wrong in trying to comply, the public also is getting a clearer understanding of price control.

From the point of view of the customer as well as the business man, consumers have been assured by Max L. McCullough, region OPA administrator, that the control of living costs is here for the duration.

From now until the war is over, the cost of all but a comparatively few articles cannot rise higher than the highest price at which they were sold in March, although it can sink lower.

Effective 10 days ago, price control was ordered to make certain that the war does not bring tragic cost increases. In addition to controlling prices that may be charged by the wholesaler, manufacturer, the corner grocer, the butcher, the druggist, and the nearby drygoods store, the "price max" also controls the cost of the things they buy. So, it benefits all alike.

Saying that everyone now knows everything about the regulations would be wrong. There isn't any such person. Price control is a brand new baby, and it may be some time before everybody feels at home with the infant. As a tip to the consumer, if he is confused about how it works, he should remember that his grocer and his druggist have their problems with it also. As a tip to the grocer, druggist and other retailers they should get copies of the regulation for constant study until they attain flawless compliance. They also should write to the OPA at Dallas for a copy of the new retailer guide to help them solve individual price control problems.

Although OPA is determined to prevent puncturing of price ceilings, the present regulations are not final by any means. There will be changes to meet changing conditions, and there will be separate price schedules as needs arise. In fact the last week has seen several additional specific schedules, including those covering pork at the wholesale level, Appalachian hardwood lumber, milled rice, nuts, bolts and screws, and agricultural insecticides and fungicides.

Especially important are the pork and rice schedules. The pork regulation is a permanent one, replacing the temporary schedule. Applicable at the wholesale level, it fixes prices of dressed hogs and wholesale pork cuts at levels no higher than those actually prevailing for each individual packer-seller during the March 3-7, 1942, period. Retail sales of pork cuts and pork products are covered by the over-all regulation, with prices set at the highest level charged by the individual stores in March.

Although major attention of the Home Front was held by price control, there were other important war developments at home—in the field of priorities, rubber conservation, and mobilization of manpower.

Squeezing off of iron and steel from non-essential uses began taking hold under the recent WPB order that outlaws use of the metal in more than 400 familiar civilian products after August 3. Another order on sale and delivery of steel and iron products now is in effect. This one, restricting sales and requiring ratings of A-10 or higher, except where the steel and iron products are to be used for repair and maintenance, applies to such things as all carbon and steel alloy castings, steel forgings, semi-finished and finished rolled or drawn carbon and alloy steels, iron castings, wrought iron products, cast iron pipe, structural shapes and pilings, wire and wire products, etc.

On rubber conservation, it's pretty well understood now that because our supply sources have been cut off and our stock piles must be saved for military use, we've got to stretch our rubber as far as it will go. And that means tires, too. Forced rubber conservation in the form of nation-wide gasoline rationing is one of the plans now under serious study.

Restricting of charter bus and sightseeing bus services to save rubber already has been ordered. Other orders include those to pool bus lines service in certain areas, encouraging other pooling, and restricting deliveries and hauling.

Further study of intercity bus and railroad passenger travel is being made. Ending at midnight Thursday of this week is an exhaustive survey of travel originating in 100 cities. What the Office of Defense Transportation wanted to know included why people are traveling, what the employment of the travelers is, mileage and destination, and frequency of travel. The 100 cities included Amarillo, Dallas, El Paso, Fort Worth, Houston, San Antonio, Texas, and Alexandria, Shreveport and New Orleans, La.

On manpower—the people are asked to cooperate fully with their government. An 8-point program of immediate steps to promote the fullest utilization of manpower was announced by War Manpower Chairman McNutt. The program includes listing of essential skills, classification of war plants and war work, preferential employment in war work, analyzing of occupational questionnaires and referring needed men to war work, cooperation of draft boards and U. S. employment offices, increased effort to provide agricultural workers, increasing of mobile labor camps for agriculture, and insuring of transportation for migrant farm workers.

Scrap Dealers to Register: Registration forms for all dealers selling scrap, waste and salvage material to consumers will be available at all OPA offices within a few days. Such dealers must submit completed registration forms to the Bureau of Census by June 20.

Leather Stabilized: Relief to tanners of sheepskin leather is afforded by the recent OPA "roll back" of pickled sheepskin prices to levels prevailing last October. The effect of the order will be to remove any reason for price advances in consumer materials made from leather, such as shoes, clothing, gloves, belts and handbags.

Sugar Sufficient: Wholesale prices of sugar are down 30 to 35 cents per cwt. below the OPA base price in the Southwestern region, with rationing reducing consumption and increasing competition for business, OPA region administrator Max L. McCullough declared. "The sugar supply in the Southwest is sufficient to meet rationing needs, and there have been no reports of bootlegging or any other evasions of the law," Mr. McCullough said.

Bike Rationing Nearer: With the recent issuance of Ration Order No. 7, manufacturers of bicycles are permitted to ship adult bicycles to distributors for the first time since April 2, when sales and transfers were "frozen" by WPB Rationing of adult bicycles by the OPA is expected to begin in about three weeks. Except for machines made before April and not yet sold, the only machine available for rationing will be the "War Model" bicycle, made with a minimum of critical materials.

Scrap Warning Issued: A warning to auto graveyard owners in the Southwest that amounts equal to present inventories of scrap metals must be moved out of their yards by June 1 has been issued by Thomas L. Mulligan, region executive for the WPB automobile graveyard section. The penalty for rejection of fair offers from scrap buyers will be government requisitioning of the entire contents of the yards, including loose saleable parts, he said.

New Price Service: Technical advice on price problems will be supplied to the Office of Price Administration by a recently opened division of the U. S. Department of Labor in Dallas, with Dr. Arthur A. Smith, of Dallas, as regional price economist. Dr. Smith has been granted leave of absence from his duties as professor of economics at Southern Methodist University.

Venetian Blinds Exempted: Venetian blinds containing less than 15 ounces of metal per blind have been excluded from the provisions of the WPB order halting manufacture of metal household furniture, under a recent amendment. Manufacturers also are permitted to use up inventories of parts already processed so that they are worthless for any purpose other than production of metal household furniture.

New Air Conditioning Banned: New installations of air conditioning equipment and commercial refrigeration units except to serve war needs or meet essential civilian requirements have been banned by the War Production Board. Installation of new air conditioning for personal comfort, in theaters, restaurants, hotels, etc., is halted for the duration.

Filing Time Extended: To ease the burden of work on retailers in

Herald Adman in Medical Corps

From Perryton to Hawaii. From advertising manager to United States Army Medical Corps. That's the change in locale and work that Morris M. Payne, better known as "Bat," has made since he resigned as advertising manager of the Herald last summer. After being rejected for the Air Corps and several other branches of service, recruiting officers at Pampa, Amarillo and Lubbock finally got tired of "Bat" pestering them so when they told him there was an opening in the Medical Corps, "Bat" snapped it up with the understanding that it was for foreign service.

And foreign service it was, for in about two weeks after enlisting on August 22, 1941, "Bat" was in Hawaii. To Hawaii he went with dreams of the romanticism of the Pacific Isles, dusky, sultry native cuties strolling the beaches of Waikiki, strumming ukuleles, humming love melodies, but he found necklaces of barbed wire from the entanglements erected on Hawaiian beaches are now the order of the day instead of the expected garlands of flowers.

Morris has made a steady advancement in the service. He is now a Sergeant in the Medical Corps. When last heard from he was stationed at Schofield Barracks, Honolulu. He was at this post when the Japs made their unexpected attack on Dec. 7. His mail address is Sgt. Morris M. Payne, 18036966, North Sector General Hospital, APO No. 957, care Postmaster, San Francisco, Calif.

complying with the General Maximum Price Regulation, OPA Administrator Leon Henderson has announced a 31-day extension in the time allowed storekeepers to file price lists on their cost-of-living items with their local OPA boards (formerly ration boards). The price list filing date originally was set as June 1. The price regulation became effective May 18. Retailers now are required to have posted visibly in their stores the ceiling prices or all cost-of-living items.

Non-Metal Toys in Order—Saving of 100,000 tons of iron and steel, 2,000 tons of copper, 3,000 tons of zinc, and huge quantities of other vital materials for war production will result from the recent WPB order banning use of prohibited materials in toys. Toy manufacturers are substituting wood, paper, ceramics, and noncritical plastics for the prohibited metals.

Water Tank Sizes Curtailed—Only three sizes of storage tanks for hot water heaters may be manufactured after May 15, as the result of a WPB simplification order. This regulation will not affect the efficiency of the heaters, but will free 2,000 tons of brass and 1,000 tons of steel for war production.

Shoe Leather Conserved—The War Production Board has ordered the entire stock and production of heavy weight sole leather set aside for military and Lend-Lease requirements. A previous order had required setting aside 80 per cent of such leather, but this was found insufficient. Civilian demand for shoes is expected to decline this year, since thousands of former civilians are now in the armed services. Potential leather supplies are at an all-time high, with the number of cattle on the nation's farms approaching a record total.

Sewing Machine Ban Issued—Production of sewing machines, limited between now and June 15, must cease on that date, the WPB has ordered. Conversion to war work of part of the industry's facilities is expected to result. Estimates place the number of sewing machines now in the hands of users at 20,000,000, and these, with machines in dealers' stocks and still to be manufactured, will supply the nation's home sewing needs for some time.

Battery Swaps Ordered—Auto storage batteries have joined tin tubes in the wartime "shop and swap" list. Under WPB orders, no purchaser may receive a new battery unless he turns in a used battery at the time of the transaction.

Coffee Deliveries Cut—To conserve coffee supplies now on hand for the Army, Navy and civilian population and to make future supplies go as far as possible, the WPB has issued a conservation order limiting monthly deliveries of coffee to wholesale receivers to 75 per cent of the amounts accepted during the corresponding period last year. Practically all coffee received in the United States comes from Latin America.

On Other Sectors—On other sectors of the Home Front, the battle took different turns in the Southwest. Last Friday, the Army and the War Production Board seized an automobile graveyard at Paris, Texas, where the owner had turned down three ceiling-price offers for about 200 tons of vitally needed scrap iron, steel and other metals. Such scrap must be moved to the furnaces, regardless of personal hopes and beliefs that perhaps higher prices will come later, the War Production Board has said. The furnaces must be kept going so the bullets and war machines can keep coming off the lines and going to the far-flung fighting fronts. Other "we-mean-business" seizures in the Southwest occurred during the last week at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston. Those were seizures of 2,700,000 burlap and jute sugar bags held by the French government in U. S. warehouses. The bags will be used to import sugar for rationing.

Typewriters Available—The fact that typewriter rationing is not being conducted on a quota basis has been emphasized recently by OPA officials. Purchase certificates for typewriters are being made available immediately by local ration boards where eligibles can establish their need for the machines.

Tire Recaps Restricted—Where use of a recapped tire is practical, List A passenger cars will not be eligible for new tires, under an amendment to tire rationing regulations which became effective May 1. Another amendment provides that after June 1, applicants for tires will be denied purchase certificates unless they can prove to satisfaction of ration boards that their tires did not become unusable through abuse or neglect. This provision is designed to prevent the practice of driving past the point where a tire is recappable, as well as prevent overloading and improper use of tires. Total quotas of new and recapped tires for May exceed the combined quotas for April.

The 90th of World War II is made up of Texas and Oklahoma men just as the famous 90th of '17 and '18. Harry entered service last December and completed his basic training at Camp Roberts, Calif. What You Buy With WAR BONDS

The power of the greatest Navy in the world, our own two-ocean fleet, rests in large measure on its backbone—the Battleships of the Line. They displace approximately 35,000 tons and cost up to $70,000,000. We have something like a score of these huge ships in the Atlantic and Pacific.

Eight huge battleships are under construction and more are contemplated. To finance these modern giants of the sea it is necessary for every American everywhere to buy more and more War Bonds. We can do it if everybody does his share. Invest at least ten percent of your income every pay day to help your country go over its Bond Quota.

Poppy Sale Largest In Twelve Years

The Pierce Johnson Unit, The American Legion Auxiliary, received $193.98 from the sale of 1,500 poppies on National Poppy Day, Saturday, May 23. This is the largest sum received since 1930, when the same number of poppies brought $242.50. After deducting the cost of the poppies, the Unit will have approximately $150 for use in its child welfare and rehabilitation programs.

This year is the fourth year, since the organization of the local Unit in 1938, that the Unit ordered 1,500 poppies to sell. Only 1,000 poppies were purchased the other years. The first sale was in 1938, when $156.96 was received for 1,000 poppies.

Of the $193.98, contributed this year for poppies, Unit members at Phillips, headed by Mrs. Jack Shultz, sold 70 poppies for $14.60. The total Perryton contributions were $178.48.

The Unit President, Mrs. E. B. Geyer, and the members of the Poppy committee, Mrs. J. W. Herrell, chairman, Mrs. Sibbie Jines, Mrs. Mark Boehning and Mrs. A. R. Hogland, and the workers, express their appreciation and thanks to every person who bought a poppy.

Navy School at G.E.

Just one evidence of the cooperation between the armed services and our vast industrial army—a school for submarine electricians conducted at one General Electric factory.

1. Electricity is vital to the running of every submarine. It does an amazing variety of important jobs, from turning the propeller to cooking the coffee.

2. For that reason, there must be well-trained electricians on every underwater craft. At this school, Navy electricians attend classes taught by G-E engineers.

3. and go out into the shops where they watch workmen construct the same kind of electric equipment that will some day be put in their charge.

4. This is but one proof of the thorough training which the U.S. Navy gives its men, so that the vital equipment of war will always be ready for action.

General Electric believes that its first duty as a good citizen is to be a good soldier.

Get Together To Beat Hitler

DETROIT—When Ford bombers leave the assembly lines of the Willow Run plant, they are powered by Buick-built aircraft engines.

This instance of collaboration in the mass production of war material by two of the greatest producers in the automobile industry, was disclosed today by sources close to both companies.

The information was approved for publication by the War Department as an example of the extent to which the car manufacturers have gotten together in the mighty industrial program to beat Hitler.

No indication of output has been made by either organization.

Buick recently announced it is a year ahead of production schedules and shipping engines in trainload lots to several plane manufacturers, including Ford.

One of these, a leading West Coast aircraft manufacturer, lately reported exceptional performance tests on the Buick engines which exceeded the standards set and elated the test pilots.

The engines are a high powered Pratt & Whitney type built under license by Buick in Flint and other plants developed for the same purpose.

plementary allotment of 15 passenger tires recaps, 12 passenger tubes and 13 new truck, tractor and farm implement tires. This is in addition to the regular May quota as announced May 1.

At the close of business Tuesday, the local board had the following unfilled and eligible tire applications on file: 119 new truck, tractor and farm implement tires and 34 new tubes; 3 new passenger tires and 2 tubes; 19 passenger tire recaps.

Remaining in the quota to fill the above applications were: 6 new truck, tractor and farm implement tires and 40 tubes; one new passenger tire and 2 tubes; 3 passenger tire recaps; 35 truck tire recaps. The supplementary allotment will be added to the above for issuance of certificates at Saturday's meeting of the board.

The board wishes to call attention of everybody to the new regulations which prohibit the issuance of a certificate for a new tire for any purpose where the use of a recapped tire is practical. After June 1, the board has been ordered to issue no certificates to anyone who abuses tires now in use.

Rationing board members are forced to request a better cooperation from consumers. They ask that interviews and requests for information be made to the rationing office in the courthouse which is open every day in the week.

Members of the rationing board serve without compensation as a contribution to the war effort. Every member of the board has his own business to look after and every minute that he devotes to the business of rationing is at a sacrifice of time from his own interests, so they are asking for more consideration and cooperation from consumers.

Dealers are prohibited from making call backs for the purpose of collecting, picking up drums, or for any other reason.

Dealers are ordered to reduce truck mileage by 25 per cent over and above the saving resulting from eliminating special deliveries, call backs, etc. This means that most dealers will be compelled to reduce mileage at least 30 per cent or more.

The above are war orders to the dealers. Customers can cooperate by ordering in advance and not asking their dealer to do that which he has specifically been ordered not to do.
