Building Permits Keep On Climbing

Total Exceeds Million Dollars This Morning

Figure More Than Doubles Total For First 5 Months Of 1937; New Marks Set

City building permit totals for 1938 climbed above the million - dollar mark this morning—and then kept on climbing. The exact official total of new construction authorized since the beginning of the year until noon today was $1,020,937.82, according to records in the office of City Building Inspector Jim Reid.

The figure more than doubles that for the first five months of last year, when the total for the same period was $507,807.

$60,427 In 24 Hours

New construction authorized during the 24-hour period until noon today was $60,427, a new record for a 24-hour period in 1938.

Among the new permits was one to Paul L. Sherrod, owner, and J. C. Mytinger and company, contractor, for a two-story brick veneer residence to be built at 3009 Nineteenth street at an estimated cost of $20,225. That is the largest amount for any residence permit here in more than a year.

Permit For Bathhouse

Another of the new permits was for the bathhouse being completed in Mackenzie park at an estimated cost of $27,100. It was issued this morning, and was the permit which hoisted the year's permit beyond the million-dollar figure.

Almost immediately afterward, a permit for $3,000 was issued to Jack Nelson, owner, and Robinson and Nelson, contractor, for a residence at 2101 Thirty-first street. Other permits issued during the 24-hour period were for smaller sums.

Week's Total $64,607

Permit total for the week this far was boosted to $64,607, indicating the strong probability that a new record

Ruling On Fees To Be Sought

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 1—Secretary Wallace, claiming a government "victory" in the litigation, prepared today to ask the courts to allow him to determine what should be done with approximately $700,000 in commission fees impounded in the Kansas City Stockyards case.

The court refused yesterday to reopen the case, but Wallace found cause for encouragement in its announcement that further proceedings must decide how the money should be distributed.

Court Acted Wrongly

He had contended the court acted wrongly in invalidating his schedule of reduced commission fees, insisting the sum of money under dispute "rightfully belongs" to farmers and shippers.

Continuing his efforts to prevent distribution of the $700,000 to stockyards commission men, Wallace said he would ask the federal district court in Missouri to authorize an agriculture department hearing to determine who is to get the money.

Assertions "Unwarranted"

The district court, he suggested, then could pass on findings developed in the hearing.

The Supreme court, in refusing to

Elastic Wage-Hour Standards Will Be Sought, 'Little Business' Is Assured

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 1—"Little business" won assurances from senate conferees today that they would fight for elastic wage-hour standards in order to protect its interests.

Senators Thomas (D-Utah), Walsh (D-Mass), and Pepper (D-Fla) said many small merchants and manufacturers had declared they could not continue to operate if they had to provide the same minimum wages and maximum hours as larger firms.

To Start Draft Thursday

The three senators are among members of a joint committee which will begin tomorrow to draft compromise wage-hour legislation.

The major issue is whether nationally uniform standards shall be ordered.

Walsh, pointing out that 68 per cent of the nation's business firms employ less than 20 persons, said any compromise bill should consider the ability of an employer to adjust himself to its provisions over a period of months or years.

Urges Creation Of Board

Thomas, chairman of the senate labor committee, urged that a board be created to make exceptions where rigid standards would bring unem-

Nazis Renew Press Attacks On Czechs

'Intolerable Situation' Is Cited In Berlin Papers; Versions Conflicting

(By The Associated Press)

BERLIN, June 1 — The German press renewed its angry outbursts against Czechoslovakia today as a result of a shooting affray last night at Eger in which a Czechoslovak army sergeant clashed with Sudeten Germans, two of whom were wounded.

The Praha version of the affair was that the sergeant, Wenzel Toman, became involved in a row in a cafe with about 35 followers of Konrad Henlein, Nazi leader of Czechoslovakia's Germanic minority. In self-defense Toman fired two pistol shots at the floor and two persons near him were wounded in the legs. Toman was arrested.

The affair brought Berlin newspaper references to an "intolerable situation" and accusations that the Czechs were systematically baiting the Nazified Sudeten Germans.

The German version of the clash at Eger, just across the German-Czech border in Czechoslovakia, is that when the cafe band struck up a local favorite, the Egerlander march, Toman struck the instrument from the violinist's hands.

Czech Troops Are Withdrawn From German Border Area

PRAHA, June 1. (AP)—Authoritative sources said today Czechoslovak troops were being withdrawn gradually from the German border region.

An undisclosed number of technical specialists, mobilized along with other troops when nazi-Czechoslovak troubles flared May 21, already have been recalled. The thinning out process is to continue gradually in hope that border tension will relax.

Flood Waters Are Reported In Kansas

ELLSWORTH, Kas., June 1. (AP)—Flood waters from the rain-swollen Smoky Hill river covered 40 houses in the low-lying south section of Ellsworth today. One 3-room house was carried away.

The river stood at 28.5 feet, by three feet the highest gauge on record. Lowland residents evacuated their homes and were housed in cabin camps and with friends.

The swift current held up attempts to rescue the family of Frank Spousta, marooned in their attic. Spousta chopped a hole in his roof and shouted for help.

Amendments To New Crop Law Are Signed By FDR Today

WASHINGTON, June 1 (AP) — President Roosevelt signed amendments to the new crop control law today, increasing this year's national tobacco marketing quotas 2 per cent and providing for redistribution of unused cotton acreage allotments.

Officials said the cotton amendment would permit transfer by cotton growers to other growers of unused portions of their acreage allotments. They explained that in Oklahoma and Texas many farmers had overplanted wheat acreage allotments and consequently could not take full advantage of cotton allotments and still remain eligible for benefit payments.

Fred B. Snite, Jr., To Leave For Chicago; Still In 'Lung'

MIAMI, Fla., June 1 (AP)—Fred B. Snite, jr., will leave tonight for Chicago encased in the respirator which has kept him alive since he was stricken with infantile paralysis in China 26 months ago.

The 27-year-old Notre Dame graduate now can breathe for 23 minutes without the help of the "iron lung." When he came to Miami beach seven months ago he could stay out of the respirator only four minutes.

Reorganization Is Possible Vote Issue

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 1.—Government reorganization became an issue today for the next congress—and possibly for the November elections.

Congressional leaders, with the approval of President Roosevelt, formally abandoned for this session the legislation which had aroused nationwide controversy and resulted in a major defeat for the administration.

A statement issued by Senator Byrnes (D-SC) and Representative Warren (D-NC), chairmen of the senate and house reorganization committees, said some form of a reorganization bill would be placed before the new 1939 congress.

"It is our opinion that the American people overwhelmingly desire some kind of effective reorganization of our government in the interest of greater efficiency and practical economy," their statement added.

Some legislators declared, however, that the people clearly did not want reorganization legislation in the form recently considered by congress and that the voters might show their opposition at the polls.

Summer Parks Recreation To Be Operated In City Again; Success Of Last Year Is Cited

A summer parks recreation program will be in operation probably within the next 10 days, for the second consecutive year.

This announcement followed a conference of representatives of the Works Progress administration, the city parks board and other city officials in district WPA headquarters this morning.

Supervisor Recommended

J. W. Wilson, physical training teacher at Senior High school, was recommended by the parks board, of which K. N. Clapp is chairman, for the appointment as supervisor of the project.

The conference resulted in the preparation of a formal application for approval of the project, with the virtual certainty of its being granted, according to those at the meeting.

Spent $500 Last Year

Operation of the project according to plans will be along the same lines as last year when the city appropriated $500 for the purchase of equipment and the WPA paid the salaries of various of the playground activities directors.

Of the equipment bought, about $200 remains available for use this year, with expectation the city will be asked to provide an additional $500.

In direct supervision will be the recreations council of the parks board. Members of the council are W. H. Evans, chairman, and W. O. Daniels, Mrs. W. A. Jackson, H. C. Pender and L. H. Liston.

Playground activities last year attracted an estimated total attendance in excess of 70,000 persons, including those who attended night programs presented at weekly intervals in various of the parks.

Additional to the night programs, the project included story hours, supervised play, games, a playground baseball league, instructions in arts of various kinds and numerous other activities.

Oklahoman Out For Fame And Fortune In Hollywood; Pine Coffin His Traveling 'Home'

(By The Associated Press)

HUGO, Okla., June 1 — Grizzled Ches Hunter shoved his own hand-whittled pine coffin down the road toward Hollywood, and—he hopes—fame and fortune.

When night overtakes him, he will crawl under the ornate lid of his casket and go to sleep.

The 55-year-old former farmer and deputy sheriff said today he had a dream and a "warning of death came to me.

"I don't think I'll die soon, but I got up before daybreak next morning, had the lumber cut and in three months and three days the coffin was finished. And now, I'm on my way to Hollywood to have moving pictures made."

Hunter pushed the cart bearing the coffin here from his home at Idabel, Okla., 56 miles away, in three days. His feet, he said, are sore—"there's a bunion coming."

Hunter frankly said he is out to make money. He carves out canes, snakes and wooden figurines to pay expenses. He left his wife and five children at Idabel.

B. B. Walker Victim Of Pneumonia Today

B. B. Walker, 64, owner of Farmers' refinery of Lubbock, died of pneumonia and a heart ailment at 9:10 o'clock this morning in a sanitarium here. He entered the sanitarium Sunday.

The body will be sent to Fort Worth tonight and funeral services will be conducted at 9:30 o'clock Thursday morning at Gause-Ware Funeral chapel. Burial will be in West Oak Woods cemetery. Rix Funeral home announced arrangements.

Walker, who lived at 2215 Main street, came to Lubbock from Fort Worth three years ago and built the refinery. He is survived by his wife; three daughters, Mrs. Della Brazile of Lubbock, Mrs. J. F. White of Brady and Mrs. M. D. Fanning of Fort Worth; one brother, J. Lea Walker of Ranger; and five grandchildren.

Britain Transports Troops By Plane In First Experiment

LONDON, June 1. (AP) — Looking ahead to what it may have to do in the next war, Britain's army today made its first experiment in large-scale aerial transport of fighting men.

Thirty royal air force planes, each carrying 20 to 24 men, took the 1st battalion of the Coldstream guards the 233 miles from Odiham near Basingstoke to Catterick camp, Yorkshire.

MORE FUNDS ASKED

WASHINGTON, June 1. (AP)—President Roosevelt asked congress today to give the army a $6,000,000 supplemental appropriation for "critical items of anti-aircraft equipment."

'June And December' Romance In McCormick's Third Wedding

PASADENA, Calif., June 1 (AP)—Harold Fowler McCormick, 66-year-old convalescent millionaire, and his 34-year-old nurse, the former Adah Wilson, began a stay-at-home honeymoon today in the guarded estate of his sister.

Sixty watchmen patroled the grounds last night to enforce the strictest privacy for McCormick's third wedding — the culmination of a "June and December" romance.

Once wed to the late Edith Rockefeller, by whom he had four children, and to Madame Ganna Walska, Polish singer, McCormick met Miss Wilson at a Pasadena musical when she was nurse to the late Jean Harlow.

She attended him during an illness in 1930 and again this year, when his arthritic condition was complicated by a heart attack. Still too weak to appear in person, McCormick applied for a marriage license last week through his attorney.

This was Miss Wilson's first marriage.

In Case You're Interested, No Danger Of Red Glass Shortage

Terry Man Is Still In Jail

(Special To The Journal)

BROWNFIELD, June 1.—Nickson Haley, 27, still was held in the Terry county jail here this morning in default of $10,000 bond set by Justice of the Peace F. M. Burnett, before whom a complaint charging murder was filed Tuesday afternoon.

The charge grew out of the fatal shooting of Earnest L. (Cowboy) Word, 37, on courthouse square about 7 o'clock Tuesday morning. Word was a salesman for Continental Oil company, by which Haley had been employed in a similar capacity until about 15 days ago.

Statement Is Refused

Haley continued to refuse any statement in connection with the statement while waiting for his attorney, Bill Griffis of Seagraves, to file habeas corpus proceedings seeking a reduction of the bond.

Griffis, who was a visitor in Lubbock on legal business this morning, was quoted as saying that application for the habeas corpus writ probably would be filed this

Tax Commission For U. S. Proposed

SALT LAKE CITY, June 1 (AP)—Caustically criticising the administration's tax policies, a spokesman of the American Institute of Accountants proposed today a permanent, impartial tax commission, "responsible to congress alone."

Discussing the administration's revenue acts before the Mountain States Accounting conference, Norman L. McLaren, San Francisco member of the council of the American Institute of Accountants, declared in a speech:

"The legislative history of the revenue act of 1938, replete with overnight changes of a drastic nature and tinged with a most distasteful political flavor, should give impetus to a growing movement for the creation of a permanent commission composed of a carefully selected group of impartial experts, including certified public accountants, responsible to congress alone.

"To such a commission should be assigned the task of revising completely the crazy-quilt of tax laws under which the business of this country is being smothered."

McLaren typified the revenue act of 1934 as "a brain trust fantasy," and commented that "our tax laws have been reshuffled in every year of the misdeal."

Sweet Adeline's Co-Father Is Still Going Like Sixty At 60

Harry Armstrong and two fair members of his traveling troupe are pictured above as they demonstrated how "Sweet Adeline," for which he wrote the music, should be sung.

By NEA Service

CLEVELAND, O., June 1.—Though the harmony of "Sweet Adeline" is still flooding theaters, bars, and ordinary living rooms after years of popularity, the dream girl of male quartets is no more robust than her co-father, Harry Armstrong, 60-year-old composer and showman, who dropped in here the other day to stage an entertainment for a national convention.

"Song writing is a game for a young man with dreams and imagination," says Harry. And it was as a youngster of 17 that Armstrong wrote the music for the "Sweet Adeline" chorus under the title "My Old New England Home."

Was Star Tune

The boys up in Medford, Mass., had organized an amateur quartet and the piece served as the star tune of their gaslight repertoire. In intervals between singing engagements, Harry pitched leather in the boxing ring until a broken nose convinced him that composing might be a better profession to follow.

In the New York offices of M. Whitmark, music publisher, Harry got an $18-a-week job. There he met many song writers including a college kid named Jimmy Walker who was paying his way through school by writing vaudeville parodies and later became mayor of New York.

Though he'd always had faith in his prize melody, Harry hadn't been able to peddle it until he met Richard H. Gerard who worked in the city postoffice. After hearing the chorus, Gerard returned two weeks later with new words and a new title, "Sweet Rosalie." But still re-

Mother Of Lubbock Engineer Is Hurt

When en route home after a visit with a son and daughter in Lubbock, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Ingram, sr., of Terrell were injured when their car overturned about 25 miles east of Dickens at 7:30 o'clock this morning and were brought to West Texas hospital for treatment.

A Sanders ambulance and nurse rushed toward Dickens after a telephone call from Ingram notified of the accident. An automobile brought Mrs. Ingram, about 55, from Dickens to meet the ambulance. It was thought she might be in serious condition but examination revealed only a shoulder injury, minor lacerations, and forehead contusion.

Ingram suffered only minor lacerations and did not come in the ambulance. He did not remain in the hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Ingram are parents of Lon C. Ingram, jr., Texas highway department engineer, and Miss Mary Ellen Ingram, assistant in a physician's office at Lubbock clinic.

The accident happened when the car ran onto the shoulder of the road. Texas Highway patrolmen were investigating.

Mr. and Mrs. Ingram left Lubbock this morning.

Hope For Safe Return Of Boy Is Abandoned

Carpenter Is Taken From Among Crowd Assembled To Form Posses In Hunt

(By The Associated Press)

PRINCETON, Fla., June 1—Abandoning hope for the safe return of kidnaped Jimmy Cash, hundreds of men undertook a hunt in posses of 15 today while federal agents dramatically seized one of their number.

Emerging from a conference with the father, James Bailey Cash, sr., in his home, the G-men seized M. F. Braxton, a bald, portly carpenter about 55 years old, who was in the throng being formed into posses in a school yard 100 yards away.

To Secret Destination

Shielding him with their bodies, they hustled him to an automobile and sped off northward to a secret destination. They did not take him to the Miami F. B. I. office immediately and spokesmen there refused to discuss the development.

A general call was sent out for volunteers to start a thorough search of the farms and groves in this community for some trace of the five-year-old youngster, stolen Saturday for $10,000 ransom which was paid early yesterday. The highway through the center of Princeton soon was lined with automobiles for a mile in each direction as the aroused farmers responded.

Inspector Directs Search

E. I. Connolly, FBI inspector in charge of the case, personally directed search of the area around the spot where Cash tossed the $10,000 in small bills from his car in accordance with a ransom note. Sheriff D. C. Coleman and deputies joined him.

"I talked with the family and nothing whatever happened last night," said W. P. Cash, the boy's uncle. "The case is exactly where it was yesterday only it is one day worse.

Given Up All Hope

"I've given up all hope the boy will be found alive. I didn't have much hope from the start but I feel that last night was the last chance for him to return alive."

McCraw Strikes At 'Fiction' Candidates

AUSTIN, June 1 (AP) — Attorney General William McCraw, a candidate for governor, today hit at what he termed "efforts to confuse the electorate by the deceptive and spurious practice of attempting to place on the Democratic ballot names similar to those of bona fide candidates."

In a statement he said:

"The attempt to place on the official ballot names calculated to confuse the voters by either the vicious or the thoughtless ought not to be countenanced.

"The Democratic executive committee will be warranted in striking from the ticket such candidate of trickery and deception. The tax collector of Dallas county informs me that the latest candidate of fiction has no poll tax receipt. Records show that he has never used the christian name he now files under. I denounce such spurious practice whether it arises from a perverted sense of humor or is grounded in personal bitterness."

Railroad Commissioner Ernest O. Thompson has filed for governor. Vernest O. Thompson, Dallas garage man, also seeks the nomination.

Few Protests On Wheat Control Plan Seen By AAA Director

WASHINGTON, June 1 (AP) — George E. Farrell, director of the western division of the Agricultural Adjustment administration, said today he was confident the nation's wheat growers would raise few protests against the 1939 wheat control program being drafted by his office.

If present prospects of a bumper 1938 wheat crop are borne out, wheat growers who seeded approximately 80,000,000 acres for this year's crop will be asked to plant 50,000,000 acres or less for next year's crop. The wheat program will be announced in July.

Farrell, who just returned from the wheat belt, said farmers realized they faced a serious surplus problem and were willing to "go along with a program" to remove it.

Appeal Will Be Made In Case

As a result of Judge E. L. Pitts' decision Tuesday that the city parking meter ordinance was constitutional, Homer Harrison of Tahoka was ordered remanded to Chief of Police Don Reeder for satisfaction of a $15 fine assessed recently for failure to pay a nickel when parking his car in a metered space.

Harrison had sought relief of the 99th court jurist through habeas corpus writ. Evidence had been presented last week; attorneys had filed briefs, and arguments were heard by Judge Pitts Tuesday afternoon.

W. H. Evans, attorney for Harrison, gave notice of appeal to the state court of criminal appeals in Austin and filed bond of $100. Harrison was not held.

Arguments Are Held

Decision of Judge Pitts came at the end of two hours of argument by five attorneys, in which decisions in similar cases were cited. Durwood H. Bradley, city attorney and W. D. Wilson, his partner, represented the city.

Following decision of Judge Pitts, W. D. Girand, jr., attorney for Jim Johnson, filed in county court a motion to dismiss a contempt proceeding brought against Bradley as city attorney. Miss June Wheelock Becomes Bride Of Sterling B. Jones Of Pasadena, Calif.

Sisters Of Bride Are Attendants

The marriage of Miss June Wheelock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Wheelock, to Sterling B. Jones of Pasadena, Calif., son of Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Jones of Los Angeles, was solemnized this morning at the country home of the bride's parents with S. W. Busbee of Abilene, maternal great-grandfather of the bride, officiating with a ring ceremony.

The couple exchanged vows before an arrangement of greenery and summer flowers.

Mrs. Lottie Boles Hilton, accompanied by Mrs. John Jarrott who also gave the traditional wedding marches, sang the bridal solo "Because."

Gowned In Ivory

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a handsome gown of ivory bridal mist over taffeta with tailored collar and short sleeves. The full skirt, shirred at the waist, was floor-length and she wore a short veil. She carried a bouquet of Joanna Hill roses and lilies of the valley.

For "something old" she carried a handkerchief made many years ago by an elderly woman, friend of the family who lives in Pasadena.

Miss Joyce Wheelock, maid of honor, and Misses Sylva Wheelock and Gloria Conley of Big Spring, bridesmaids, were gowned alike in dotted swiss floor-length frocks. Miss Joyce Wheelock, elder sister of the bride, wore blue and carried an arm bouquet of rosebuds and delphinium. Miss Sylva Wheelock, younger sister, wore yellow and carried yellow roses and lavender spring blossoms and Miss Conley, cousin of the bride, wore orchid and carried lavender and white blossoms. They wore matching blossoms in their hair.

A. B. Hunt was best man.

Reception Is Given

Following the ceremony an informal reception was held and the wedding cake, encircled with flowers, was cut and served with coffee. Members of the bridal party assisted in serving. Miss Louise Jarrott registered the guests in a bride's book.

During the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Jones plan to leave for a wedding trip to points in New Mexico and later will be at home in Pasadena. The bride is wearing for travel a dark blue tailleur. The bride is a member of a pioneer South Plains family. Her paternal grandmother, Mrs. Sylva Wheelock, was the first bride after Lubbock county was organized. After graduating from Lubbock High school Mrs. Jones went to Pasadena where she lived with her maternal grandmother, Mrs. Mattie Montgomery, and attended junior college. Later she enrolled in the Pasadena Opera Guild.

Mr. Jones has studied at the Opera Guild for the last four years.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. Montgomery and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Conley and family of Big Spring.

Slaton Bride-Elect Is Honored Here

Misses Josephine Powell and Linda Treadwell were at home to members and alumnae of D. F. D., social club at Texas Technological college, Tuesday night between 6 and 8 o'clock in the home of the former, 2306 Sixteenth street, as a compliment to Miss Geraldine Wicker of Slaton.

The engagement of Miss Wicker, D. F. D. club alumna, to Jack Nowlin of Cleburne, former Tech student, was made last Saturday at a reception given in Slaton. The marriage will take place, June 15.

Guests were received by the hostesses, the honoree and Miss Powell's mother, Mrs. C. B. Powell. They registered in a bride's book decorated with a cutout design in blue and gold, club colors.

Mrs. Lonnie Langston and Miss Annah Jo Pendleton presided at the punch bowl and Mrs. Schacht McCollum and Miss Eloise Smith assisted in serving.

Crystal service was used and blue candles burned in crystal holders on the refreshment table. A bowl of coreopsis and blue larkspur formed a centerpiece. Summer blossoms were arranged about the house.

The honoree was presented with a surprise basket of gifts from the guests and a grass linen table cloth was the gift from the hostesses.

Other parties are being planned here for Miss Wicker, popular student and college beauty at Tech two years ago.

Frenship Class Is Honored With Party By Teacher

Mrs. Holt Holloway, 2019 Thirty-fourth street, entertained at her home Monday night for the seventh grade graduating class of Frenship rural high school. Mrs. M. T. Daniell, "classroom mother," was assistant hostess.

During the evening, games were played and Mrs. Daniell played several accordion selections.

Those present were Dorothy Dell Bush, Martha Sue Price, Allie Marie Daniell, Johnny Nell Durham, Helen Keese, Mary Strawn, Betty Jane Roberts, Wand and Mardelle Richardson, Merle Wingfield, Vona Mae Wheeler, Pauline Daggett, Ben McWhorter, jr., Clifford Brandon, Golden Furgeson, Hugh Tapp Earhart, Morris McClendon, Vester Dickinson, Jimmy Bryant, Wilford Bufe, Raymond Self, Glenn Newton and Dwain Hinson.

Mary Ellis Maedgen Will Be Presented In Home Recital

Mary Ellis Maedgen, assisted by Christia Cowan, soprano, will be presented in senior high school piano recital Thursday morning at 10 o'clock at 1611 Broadway by her teacher, Miss Mary Dunn.

Included on the program will be Etude No. 1 op. 299 (Czerny); Gavotte and Musette (Bach); Scherzo (Bach); Brahma (Herman Bemberg); Morning (Oley Speaks); Allegro (Kuhlan) Sonatina op. 36 No. 6 (Clementi); A Memory (Blair Fairchild); Come to the Fair (Easthope Martin); Birds of Passage (Poldini); Les Bohemnians (Burgmiller); and Juba Dance (Dett.)

Six Special Guests Attend Club Party

Several guests attended a party Mrs. J. D. Leftwich, 1004 Avenue O, gave Tuesday afternoon for the Contract Bridge club. They were Misses Annie Marie Collins, Erroll Oliver and Fern Leftwich of Bradley, Ark., Miss Annie Laurie Gaylor of El Dorado, Ark., Mrs. Lonnie Langston and Miss Mildred Leftwich.

Miss Collins scored high in the games, Mrs. W. H. Newton made low and Miss Oliver received galloping prize.

Other members attending were Mesdames A. B. Davis, jr., Achilles Corcanges, Dave Dodge and Tex Edens.

The club will meet June 14 with Mrs. Edens, 1906 Twenty-seventh street.

Home Economics Seniors Will Be Honored At Sunday Tea

Tech senior home economics students, their parents, home economics faculty members and a few others will be guests when Miss Margaret W. Weeks, dean of the home economics division, entertains with a tea Sunday at the F. R. Friend home, 2005 Broadway. Receiving hour is to be between 4 and 5 o'clock.

June Bride-Elect Is Tea Honoree

A series of parties honoring Miss Charlotte Ratliff was continued Tuesday afternoon when Miss Jonnie McCrery entertained with a seated tea at her home, 1908 Broadway. Receiving hours were between 5 and 7 o'clock.

Twenty-five guests were received by the hostess, the honoree and the latter's mother, Mrs. John L. Ratliff.

The tea table was set in crystal and pink with pink tapers and a lovely centerpiece of roses in various shades of pink. Mesdames P. R. Friend and Mary W. Doak presided at the table.

Miss Ratliff will be married June 7 to Russell P. Redding of LaGrange, Ga., at the First Baptist church.

SCHEDULE PICNIC

Needle club Bee members will give a family picnic Friday night at 6:30 o'clock at Mackenzie State park.

Mother, be very careful when baby is running off his bowels. Watch baby's feeding and be particular with your own diet too, because improper feeding is the most frequent cause of diarrhea, or loose bowels. TEETHINA has been successfully used for many years to relieve diarrhea caused by wrong diet. It gently moves waste from the little bowels without irritation. TEETHINA is also recommended for temporary constipation and colic due to gas or sour stomach. It is sold by druggists, contains no opiates, and costs but 30 cents for 12 pleasant-tasting powders. Arizona Leads Farm Income

By WALTER WARREN
Associated Press Staff Writer

SAN FRANCISCO, June 1.—Arizona led all states in the union with its increase in farmer incomes during 1937, new figures computed by the federal department of agriculture showed today.

Arizona's gain in total farm income was 29 per cent. Idaho, another Pacific slope state, made the second best gain, 25 per cent. Third place also went to the west, Texas making a gain of 23 per cent.

California First In Value

California held first place in value of farm products sold.

Texas led the list in total farm income, which included returns from sales plus value of products used on farms added to government payments.

In Texas, both government payments and value of products retained for farm use were greater than in California.

Income Is $10,003,000,000

The department's expanded list of products, now totaling 90, raised the figures over previous reports, and put the nation's farm income into 11 figures. The total was $10,003,000,000.

Texas accounted for $682,776,000, California $654,170,000 and Iowa $563,021,000.

California had $638,240,000 income, excluding the value of products retained for home use on the farms. Texas had $585,467,000 and Iowa $512,963,000.

Gets More Benefits

Lopping off government payments of $36,010,000 to Texas and $5,966,000 to California left cash income from marketings of $632,274,000 for California and $549,457,000 for Texas. The latter state was No. 1 in pulling down federal money, Iowa being second with $24,630,000 and North Dakota third with $21,209,000.

Aggregate government payments for the nation increased to $366,899,000 from $287,252,000 in 1936. That year Kansas was first with $34,718,000, Texas second with $27,204,000 and Iowa third with $25,426,000. North Dakota was well down the 1936 list with $12,379,000 and California lost with $3,476,000.

Improvements Are Made On Dawson County Courier Plant

(By Staff Correspondent)

LAMESA, June 1.—A new front and other improvements are being added by Joe Alexander, owner of the Dawson County Courier to his building a half block from the new postoffice here.

The front will be modernistic in type. A room, 18x70 feet has been cut off the main room and will be used by Carnett Electric Co., owned by W. D. Carnett of Big Spring formerly of Lubbock.

Alexander has recently installed a rebuilt Babcock press capable of printing eight columns instead of the former six columns. Alexander said he would increase the size of his paper as soon as the present supply of smaller paper has been used up.

Beet Field Vigilantes Organize

With right arms held high, vigilantes of the Michigan beet fields are pictured above as they took a secret oath to serve in the "regiment of rough riders" who will drive "radical labor agitators" out of Lenawee county. Made up of 16 motorized companies of at least 25 men each, the regiment was formed in answer to threats of the Agriculture Workers' Union, an A. F. of L. affiliate, to call a strike in the beet fields. The sugar beet industry is the most important in the southern Michigan county.

Congressman Sam Rayburn Is Awarded Degree By ETSTC

COMMERCE, June 1. (AP)—Congressman Sam Rayburn was awarded a degree by the East Texas State Teachers' college at commencement exercises Monday.

Rayburn was one of eighty-six graduates from the old Mayo school in Commerce who received confirmation degrees along with regular degrees given 191 members of the college graduating class. Rayburn's degree was given in his absence to W. A. Thomas of Dallas, another Mayo school graduate.

Negro Tenant Awarded Judgment For Usurious Interest On Loan

JACKSON, Miss., June 1.(AP)—The state supreme court awarded a negro tenant farmer a judgment of $2,279.91 against his white landlord on the ground the latter charged usurious interest on a cotton crop loan.

The court ruled Landlord J. W. Copeland had forfeited both interest and principal to Less Taylor because "he charged and collected more than 20 per cent per annum" on a note for supplies for the negro to make his crop.

About 300 villages in India are to be provided by the government with radio receiving sets as a part of a rural uplift program.

ROCK VENEER HOME

TAHOKA — Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Smith, who live on North Main street, have finished the rock veneer work on their home. Most of the rock came from Hood county but some is from Lynn, other from Nolan and in other parts of the state. Some petrified tree sections were used and the chimney and mantle aside from the capstone or shelf, is of that material. The shelf is of conorete.

DON'T SCRATCH, SOOTHE THE IRRITATION

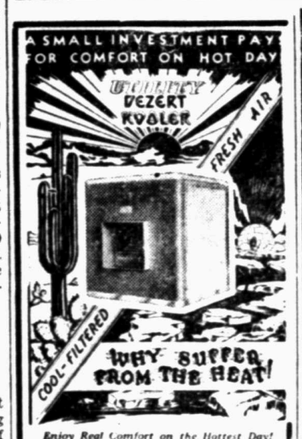

Quick relief from the maddening itch of eczema, psoriasis, poison ivy, and irritation about the rectum or personal parts is obtained by applying an ointment called Resinol. Leave it on over night. It lessens the desire to scratch, and eases the irritation.

The soothing effect of Resinol takes the sting out of the irritated parts and makes you comfortable. The skin heals sooner, too, with the help of Resinol.

The oily base of Resinol Ointment is ideal for penetrating the outer layers of the skin and securing deeper action. Bathing the affected parts first with Resinol Soap hastens the effectiveness of Resinol Ointment. Try this treatment today.

U. S. Offers Canada Treaty On Planned St. Lawrence-Lakes Basin

Huge Project Is Proposed

WASHINGTON, June 1 — The United States has offered Canada a comprehensive treaty for the planned development and use of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence basin.

The treaty contemplates a 27-foot channel through which ocean-going vessels may reach the heart of both countries and also a huge hydro-electric power project.

This government, the state department announced, "is prepared to finance the works necessary to carry sea-borne commerce past the international rapids and to make possible power development from these rapids whenever desired by either country."

Total Cost $543,429,000

Previous estimates place the total cost at $543,429,000, of which the American share would be $272,453,000 (about $225,000,000 of new money) and the Canadian $270,976,000.

The treaty obliges the United States to proceed with the work at once but lets Canada postpone her work until December 31, 1949, when her power needs are keener.

Would Build Dam

In effect, the United States agreed to build and pay for a hydroelectric dam in the international rapids section of the St. Lawrence.

Canada builds a deep waterway canal around the rapids, but the United States finances it.

Officials added that the question of distribution of hydroelectric power was not yet decided but that it was not the intention to set up another TVA.

Four Years Afterward

The draft treaty comes four years after the failure, March 14, 1934, of a similar treaty between the United States and Canada to receive the approval of the United States.

The present treaty differs from its unsuccessful predecessor in that the United States assumes to carry out or finance the important works, leaving it up to Canada to do her part at a later date when she feels she needs the power.

H. B. Bryan Makes Candidacy Statement

Statement relative to his candidacy to his first elective term as county tax assessor-collector, to which he was appointed a few months ago, was issued Tuesday by H. B. Bryan

It follows:

"Remembering at all times that the tax assessor-collector's office belongs to you, the people of Lubbock county, and knowing that you are entitled to the very best of service, my creed has always been 'A Friendly Service to All.'

Had Actual Experience

"Firmly believing that real economic and efficient service in public office can best be rendered by one who has had actual experience, and having faithfully served the citizenship of Lubbock county the past several years as a deputy, and having been appointed to serve as your tax assessor-collector nine months ago on Sept. 1, 1937, together with meeting other requirements, I feel that I am justified in asking for a continuation of this promotion.

"I am deeply appreciative of your kindness in the past and grateful that I have been entrusted with the responsibility of this important branch of your county government. Being conscientiously interested in and greatly enthusiastic about the work of this important office, I have made a thorough study of the many duties of the office and the laws under which they operate, and have employed deputies that are capable, willing and courteous and whom, I believe, have at all times efficiently met the demands made upon them.

"With malice toward none but good will toward all and sincerely pledging a continuation of the above policies, I am asking the opportunity and privilege of serving you as your tax assessor-collector, and respectfully ask for a continuation of the promotion I received by being appointed to the office. Thanks."

Story Of Cotton Research Plan Is Told At Houston Luncheon

HOUSTON, June 1, (AP) — The story of the cotton Research foundation was told to businessmen Tuesday by two of its vice presidents, Oscar Johnston of Scott, Miss., and W. H. Jasspon of Memphis, Tenn.

W. L. Clayton and Joseph W. Evans of Houston gave a luncheon in honor of four visiting members of the foundation — Johnston, Jasspon, E. R. Cook of Memphis, president of the foundation, and Vance Alexander of Memphis, a vice president.

Mayor R. H. Fonville and 30 businessmen of Houston and Galveston also were guests.

McCraw's Nomination In First Primary Predicted At Abilene

ABILENE, June 1 (AP) — James P. Stinson, attorney, who presided at a rally for William McCraw here Tuesday, prophesied that McCraw would be nominated for governor in the first primary July 23.

Mayor Will Hair introduced McCraw, who flew here for the address, then made speeches at Tuscola, Ovallo, Bradshaw, Winters, Ballinger and Rowena.

Statement Issued By W. E. Lavender

In connection with his candidacy for the office of county clerk, W. E. Lavender, Lubbock automobile salesman, Tuesday issued the following formal announcement:

"I am a native of Texas, having resided in Lubbock for the past 15 years, and I feel that I am qualified to fill the office of county clerk as it should be filled. My experience in bookkeeping, banking, and business management, I think, will assist me in the duties of the office.

Would Serve People Well

"I feel that any office belongs to the people and the man who fills it is only the servant of the people; and, I shall keep in mind 'to serve the people and to serve them well' shall be my motto if elected.

"I shall have no favors to bestow on special friends but will treat them all alike and stay within the law at all times.

"I made the race two years ago for this office and I now want to express my sincere appreciation to everyone who saw fit to support me in that race and ask your support and help at this time. To those who did not support me then, I have nothing but the kindest feeling, knowing you had a right to vote as you saw fit, but I ask you to give my candidacy consideration in this race. If you will elect me your county clerk, I promise that I will render courteous, efficient and personal service at all times."

Dairy Graduates At Tech Get Positions

The dairy manufacturing department of Texas Technological college will graduate six students in June, and all have been offered positions.

Many other students have received summer employment, said K. M. Renner, head of the department.

Jack Jacobs of Lubbock will serve as manager of the Quemado creamery being constructed at Quemado. He will supervise purchase of equipment.

Is Assistant Manager

Lawrence Sides of Lubbock has been chosen assistant manager of the new cheese department of Swisher County creamery at Tulia.

John P. Kilgore from Brownwood has accepted a position with the Colbert dairy at Ardmore, Okla. He will do general plant and field work.

Jack Huber of Lubbock will be associated with an uncle in a cotton brokerage in Harlingen.

Bill Tinney of Bowie will do graduate work at Texas A. & M. college.

Had Several Offers

Morris Hill from Waco has not yet taken a position, but has had several offers.

To be employed for the summer are R. K. Rogers, jr., of Lubbock, in Borden's plant at San Antonio; Walter Thompson of Farwell, in Swisher County creamery; Van Scheid of Whitesboro, in Metzger plant at Dallas; Ed Williams of Dallas, in a Dallas plant; and others who will be employed in Lubbock creameries.

Lubbock Man Buys Monahans Theater; Bryant Goes There

Joe H. Bryant, manager of the new Cactus theater since it was opened, assumed charge of the Tower theater at Monahans today, according to M. A. (Tate) Sanders who announced its purchase Tuesday.

Sanders, one of the owners of the Cactus, became active manager of that theater.

The Tower was described as a first-run house with a seating capacity of approximately 450.

Bryant formerly was connected with radio station KFYO here and last fall was publicity manager for the Panhandle-South Plains Fair association. Mrs. Bryant and their son, Joe Sam, 2, will continue to make their home at 2708 Twenty-third street until their removal to Monahans within the next few weeks.

SHERMAN MEN DIE

SHERMAN, June 1 (AP) — Sam McAfee, 78, retired police officer and pioneer poultry breeder, died here Tuesday.

He was among three old-time residents here who died early this week. D. R. Lockett, 93, Confederate veteran, died yesterday. The Rev. Gaston M. Gray, 79, Baptist minister for 54 years, died Monday.

ENGINES WILL BE WORN LESS THIS SUMMER

But you want to know exactly why. You're leery of general statements that won't save you one piston ring or one quart of oil. So you want what the doctors call a specific. And that's what you get—a definite, substantial, physical protector that actually exists right in your engine as soon as you get it OIL-PLATED. Only patented Conoco Germ Processed oil from Your Mileage Merchant's station can give your engine OIL-PLATING. Other oils can't. No matter how much refining is claimed for them, they cannot surpass the correct refining of Conoco Germ Processed oil, but refining only takes things out. Going much farther, Germ Processing adds in the patented man-made substance that gives your engine OIL-PLATING. Only this addition by the Germ Process makes oil "join up" with the working parts, to keep them OIL-PLATED. All the while Germ Processed oil is used, OIL-PLATING is permanent. Like other plating, OIL-PLATING keeps wear from getting through. And like other plating, OIL-PLATING can't drain down at any time. Actually united to each surface, OIL-PLATING gives your engine lubrication that needn't wait for the oil pump . . . Before other oils could even begin to circulate, OIL-PLATING is ready to lubricate! Thus you know why the much-advertised harm of "dry starting" doesn't mean a thing with your engine OIL-PLATED. And you wouldn't expect any good plating to go flying off at Summer speeds, or to frizzle away in the Summer heat. Then expect the heat indicator to stay on the safe side, while the gauge-stick keeps saying, "Still full of Conoco Germ Processed oil!" That's why it's smart and thrifty today to have Your Mileage Merchant OIL-PLATE YOUR ENGINE. Continental Oil Co.

Midland Cardinals Open Series With Hubbers Today

Sportometer
Short, Short Stories
By Collier Parris

IT'LL BE MIDLAND and Lubbock out at the ball park this and tomorrow afternoon—and didja notice what Midland did to Hobbs last night? ? ? and what Clovis did to Wink? ? ? And Big Spring, also of the second division, came near pouring it on Lubbock. . . .

But Lubbock is ahead, before game time today, by two full games. . . . the longest lead the Hubbers have exercised all season. . . Inspired by two wins over Clovis, Midland may be hard to touch. . . . It's the Cardinals' second visit to the Hub City park this season. . . and look out! . . . Italo "Anagram" Angaran, on the ineligible list for a couple of weeks, what with the influx of pitching talent, returns to the wars today, in the absence of Marvin Gramly who is with sick relatives in Dallas, and is due to pitch either today or tomorrow. . . He's the nervous righthander from Iowa for whom we predicted a big season, after watching him in pre-season warm-up games. . .

Understand there's another catcher in the Hubber ranks. . . name of Bridwell, a brother of Clovis Bridwell, the pitcher. . . With Hack Miller nursing a very sore throwing hand, Catcher Bridwell may get his chance in the Midland series. . . . Miller really got hurt Sunday, a foul tip ripping a finger nail off his throwing finger. . . And if the fans had known about it yesterday they would not have razzed him so much about letting nine Big Spring baserunners steal second. . . . Anyway, let's look over this brother battery on the Hubber club. . . .

And here's a big bouquet for the Hubbers. . . . they seemed to look better, be in better spirits, and hustling better yesterday than they have all season. . . . The boys can do just about what they want to do, if you should dismount from a Persian elephant and ask us. . . . and if they keep up the good spirit they had yesterday, they'll go to town with local fandom. . . .

THEY'RE GIVING Samuel D. Riddle the razz for withdrawing War Admiral from Saturday's Suburban Handicap. . . . Lots of folks had paid their way in to see the Admiral run. . . And has anybody figured out the Seabiscuit-War Admiral fiasco yet? ? ? If you read Sportometer of May 27, you already knew how the Armstrong-Ross fight would come out. . . . They say a number of the West Texas-New Mexico league ball players got pretty worried over the sandstorm Monday. . . A certain Georgia family was about ready to pack up and go home. . . . especially the missus. . . . but she'll get used to little dusters like that. . .

What'll become of the Cardinal vs. Landis baseball war? ? ? The Rickeys and the Breadons have, for years, been in favor of deposing the czar, but said czar has had the support of about 15 other major league clubs, and it's doubtful that he'll be relieved of his responsibilities anytime soon. . . . We hope the White Sox don't get into any argument with the benign Judge. . . .

CARL VON BROMBERG and Soldier Thomas meet in the main event of tonight's grappling show at the Auditorium. . . . But you won't have to stay for it unless you want to. . . . Big wrestling news is the return of Panther Joe Kopecky, the South Texas cotton picker, who meets up with Andy Tremaine in the semi-final tonight. . . . and before that, Blacksmith Pedigo of Louisville takes on Dizzy Dilly Davis, the rope-climbing Houstonian who is nearly as mean as Sailor Watkins, but not half as cunning. . . . The supporting card should steal the works tonight. . . .

And this is about the last appeal we'll be able to get in for local golfers to climb in and help put over the West Texas championship tournament starting tomorrow. . . . It's the duty of every Country club member, and of every Meadowbrook player, too, to see that local registration sets a record, . . . and your presence at the Calcutta tomorrow night is expected. . . . Let's make it the biggest tournament yet. . . . and the biggest golf show in West Texas. . . .

Marshall Holds Shaky Lead In East Texas; Liners Are Near

(By The Associated Press)

Marshall held a shaky lead in the East Texas league today after losing to Longview 5-3 last night, and second place Texarkana moved to within 14 points of the top with a 13-9 victory over Tyler.

Young Orval Grove held Marshall to three hits despite wildness.

Texarkana swept a two-game series with Tyler in a slug-fest in which four homers were hit, three of them by the losers.

The Henderson Oilers clouted the ball to all corners of the lot to blast Palestine 12-5. The winners rung up 17 blows among which were homers by Curtwright, E. Hall and Abbott.

Hits were scarce as Jacksonville beat Kilgore 4-3. Truman Mayes allowing Jacksonville but four hits and Bob Crow giving Kilgore five.

Lubbock Now Two Games In The Lead

The Midland Cardinals, fresh from a victorious series with Manager Neal Rabe's crippled Hobbs outfit, come to Parris field today to engage the league-leading Hubbers in a two-game series.

Both contests start at 3:30 p. m. Hobbs visits with the just-turned-ferocious musket packing Pioneers at Clovis and Big Spring goes to Wink.

Lubbock Increases Lead

Lubbock's righthand hitters took a liking to Frank Jacot's southpaw slants before a Ladies day crowd at the local orchard Tuesday, and proceeded to increase their first-place margin over Wink to two games. Two big innings gave the Hubbers a 15-to-9 triumph.

Manager Hack Miller came to the fore with his hitting. He collected a brace of two-baggers and as many singles in five jaunts to the pan. He punched in three runs.

Bryan Has Hands Full

Every Hubber except Charley Bryan, who had his hands full sacking his fifth straight victory on the mound, got at least one hit. Johnny Taylor, Watty Watkins, and Al Carr each had two. Joe Gedzius batted two runs across with his one safety.

While the Hubbers were slapping out 14 hits, the Barons were taking advantage of Miller's sore digit to pilfer nine bases. Bobby Decker swiped four and Jo-Jo Saporito three. Lubbock baserunners were on their toes, too, stealing home twice.

Clovis Sets Stretch

The longest winning streak of the season has been rung up by the basement-dwelling Clovis crew. The Pioneers beat Lubbock twice, Big Spring twice, and made it two-straight over Wink Tuesday, 5 to 4.

The Spudders were unable to make their 14 hits count at the right moments, but Clovis used a pair of Wink miscues and five hits to full advantage.

Jake Suytar took the home run hitting lead away from Carr Tuesday night, and picked the most advantageous time of the night to do it. Midland was down to the Boosters 4-1, when the big first baseman plodded to the plate with the hassocks crammed in the seventh inning. He batted one of Beecher Twitchell's pitches out of the park.

The Cards went on to win 8 to 4.

Tarpon Turns Tables On Gulf Fisherman; Gives Him Ducking

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., June 1. (AP)—A 90-pound tarpon with a nasty disposition turned the tables on Fisherman S. L. Walker of Pass-A-Grille.

Hooked in the Gulf south of here, fishermen said the big "silver-king" flung itself aboard Walker's boat and smacked him into the water with its tail.

While Walker floundered in the gulf Keith Neville, former governor of Nebraska, subdued the sharp-toothed, thrashing tarpon on the boat deck with a hammer. Walker got a bruised side from the fish.

Number Of Fish Taken From Daingerfield Lake Counted

AUSTIN, June 1 (AP)—The number of fish taken from most Texas lakes probably is an unknown quantity but not so with Daingerfield lake in Daingerfield State park.

The lake, an artificial one thrown open to anglers for the first time this season, has been liberally stocked and each angler's catch is tabulated by park attendants.

The idea is to determine just what conservation measures will be necessary to insure an adequate supply in future years and it might be applied to other lakes in state parks.

The catch for the first two weeks in May was more than 600 bass, crappie, bream, catfish and other species.

New Picture Of Major League Situation On Display Today; Tribe, Giants Not So Secure

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

A new picture of the major league situation is on display today as the leaders of the two circuits start into foreign territory and old Lou Gehrig starts another thousand or so consecutive games.

"Iron Hoss" Lou, playing his 2,000th game without a miss, and those big Memorial day crowds pushed a few other important items into the background during the past two days. Now it's coming to light that the Cleveland Indians and New York Giants aren't out there all alone as they were a short time ago.

Coming Right Along

The Yankees, as attested by their doings of the last two days, are coming right along in old-time form and Chicago's Cubs are doing just as well. The Indians and Giants haven't shown many signs of slipping, but they don't have far to fall.

The Yankees really began to show their mettle in the just-concluded series with the Boston Red Sox. On Monday 83,529 fans came out to see the Yanks move into second place with a double victory over the Sox. Yesterday they consolidated their position by whipping Boston again, 12 to 5, in the only game on the big league program. Lou hit a homer Monday, but only a single yesterday.

Foxx Hits His 11th

Homers by Tommy Henrich and Bill Dickey started the Yankees off to a 3-0 lead yesterday, but Jimmie Foxx wiped that out in the fifth by belting his eleventh homer of the season with the bases full. Then, while Johnny Murphy gave Boston only one hit in the last 4 2-3 innings they proceeded to blast Footsie Marcum and Fritz Ostermueller right out of the park. Marcum departed after giving three runs, including a Red Rolfe homer, in the sixth, and Ostermueller and Emerson Dickman yielded the last four in the eighth.

That's a sample of the kind of thing the Indians, minus the valuable services of Catcher Rollie Hemsley, will have to face in the East. The Tribe opens at Philadelphia today against the Athletics, who are up in sixth place after winning four of their last five games. Then comes Boston; Washington, where the Senators have been beaten only five times in 21 games; and finally the Yanks.

Giants Go West

In the National league the Giants go west with the memory of a double shut-out administered by the Boston Bees Monday and the knowledge that the Cubs have racked up 10 victories in their last 13 games. Before tackling the Cubs, however, the Giants meet the uncertain Pittsburgh Pirates and the fourth-place Cincinnati Reds.

The Cubs begin their home stand today against Boston. Cincinnati tackles Brooklyn and the St. Louis Cardinals entertain the Phillies. Washington, up in third place a game ahead of the Red Sox, faces the Chicago White Sox; the Yanks take on Detroit's Tigers and Boston plays the St. Louis Browns.

Rain Aids Tulsa To Retain Loop Lead

(By The Associated Press)

Rain helped Tulsa retain first place in the Texas league race last night. While the Tulsa-Dallas encounter was being postponed the San Antonio Missions edged to within eight points of the Oilers with a 5-0 victory over Beaumont, dropping the Exporters a game and a half behind San Antonio.

Chili Wagener limited Beaumont to six scattered singles while the Missions clouted Quinn Lee for a dozen safeties. Ed Silber clouted a homer with one on in the sixth.

Shreveport ended an eight-game losing streak with a 10-7 win over Houston, overcoming a four-run deficit in the opening inning to drive John Grodzicki to the showers, and clouting Ira Smith in the clinches the rest of the way.

Frank Lamanske pitched Oklahoma City to a 5-4 win over the Fort Worth Cats. He figured in the hitting with three of the thirteen blows amassed by the Indians. Las Monaco, who batted in three runs, drove home the winning tally in the ninth.

Rufus King And Jack Mann To Head Texas Golfers To Open

DALLAS, June 1 (AP)—Rufus King, Dallas amateur, and Jack Mann, Fort Worth professional, will head Texas qualifiers to the National Open Golf tournament at Denver next week.

King, champion of the Southwest conference, and Mann, professional at Oakhurst Country club, yesterday topped a field of 41 golfers competing for places in sectional qualifying rounds. Each shot 146 for the 36 holes.

Jack Munger and Harry Todd, Dallas amateurs, and Levi Lynch, Dallas pro, were others qualifying. Lynch beat out Henry Ransom of Bryan, a professional, in a play-off after they had tied with 149 for 36 holes.

King, SMU student, and Mann shot six-over-par golf.

Munger and Todd each had 147 and Lynch 149.

Paul Dean Through With Baseball At Least With Buffs

HOUSTON, June 1 (AP)—Paul Dean, who helped write big league baseball history with his brother Diz, has reached the end of the professional baseball trail as far as Houston of the Texas league was concerned.

Houston yesterday turned Dean back to the St. Louis Cardinals where several years ago he was a great World series star with his brother Jerome (Dizzy) Dean. The big righthander left the Buffs at Shreveport for St. Louis where he will confer with Branch Rickey, Cardinal official, regarding his future.

The Cardinals optioned him to Houston this season with the hope that he would regain winning form while an ailing arm mended under curative rays of the Texas sun, but Dean had won but one game and lost four, and the Buff officials did not consider him of potential value to them in the pennant drive.

CONCRETE ROAD TO FLOAT

LAWRENCE, Kas. (AP)—A concrete highway underpass, five feet thick, will "float" on waters of the Kaw river. The thick roadbed is necessary because the nearby river has saturated the soil upon which the foundation will be built.

Teuton Faces Soldier Here On Mat Card

Carl von Bromberg and Soldier Thomas are the main eventers on tonight's wrestling card at the Auditorium. The preliminaries start promptly at 8:30 o'clock.

The Teuton won his only start in the main event here last week pinning Dick Sampson in a fast scrap. The ex-militarist probably is capable of making things quite interesting for Bromberg.

Tonight's show should be interesting from start to finish, what with a promising preliminary and a hopeful semi-final coming up. The boys on the supporting card are more popular, and probably better wrestlers, than the main event lads.

For instance, old Panther Joe Kopecky, he of the old school of grappling who added enough of the modern trend to make him exceedingly difficult to handle, is coming back after a long absence. He's a main eventer in anybody's league, and probably will take the top spot next week, provided he looks good tonight. But he'll have plenty of trouble with young Andrew Tremaine, the Tucson Thunderbolt who is becoming one of the most willing and dangerous of the semi-veterans.

Blacksmith Pedigo, another old head who learned his wrestling from wrestling masters and who possesses unusual strength in his arms, tangles with villainous Dizzy Dilly Davis of Houston in the curtain raiser, and it ought to be a dilly of a show. Davis is one of the roughest since Sailor Moran left town.

FRIERSON TO RETURN

TEXARKANA, Ark., June 1 (AP)—R. W. Burnett, owner of the Texarkana baseball club of the East Texas league, said Buck Frierson, who jumped his Texarkana contract several days ago, had asked to be permitted to rejoin the club.

Burnett said Frierson would be in the Texarkana line-up tonight.

The number of unemployed people between the ages of 16 and 24 is approximately five million.

Lou Ambers Probably On Big Run Today After Ross Beaten By Negro; Meets Him In July

BY GAYLE TALBOT
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, June 1 — If you see a little blond man running today like his coat-tails were on fire and glancing back fearfully over his left shoulder every now and then, the odds are you are looking at Lou Ambers, the lightweight boxing champion, who agreed in a moment of avarice to fight Henry Armstrong this coming July.

Lou no doubt has heard how Armstrong beat Barney Ross into a bleeding, stricken pulp in 15 rounds last night at Madison Square garden bowl to add Barney's welterweight championship to the featherweight crown he already held.

Similar Fate In Store

The consensus of those who sat through the slow, agonizing destruction of Ross, one of the truly great little fighters of the decade, was that Ambers had a similar fate in store as soon as he faced the relentless Los Angeles negro.

Armstrong gave Ross such a terrible beating that Barney, the right side of his face swollen like a half-moon and his eye tightly clenched, muttered in his dressing room that he would never fight again.

Was A Left Hook

It wasn't Ross' 28 years or failing legs that cost him the title. It was a left hook that for 15 rounds almost ripped his head from his shoulders. For the last half of the fight he was intent only on lasting the distance.

He tried to fight back in flurries, but his blows after the fifth round had nothing behind them. Armstrong, amazingly strong, merely bore in the harder. At the finish he accepted his new championship completely unmarked and as fresh as paint. It was the first time he had fought more than ten rounds.

Will Have Three Titles

If he whips Ambers, Armstrong will have captured championships in three different weight divisions in less than a year.

Last night the human pinwheel weighed 133 1-2 to Ross' 142. Even so, Armstrong was the stronger man every second of the way. He bulled Ross about in the clinches and never allowed Barney to take the play except for brief flurries. The only thing he lacked was a stiffening punch.

The Associated Press score sheet credited Armstrong with 11 rounds, Ross with four, and one of those went to the Jewish lad because Referee Arthur Donovan thought he had been struck low. After the eighth round it was all Armstrong. Several times Barney's managers, Art Winch and Sam Pian, begged him to quit, and at the start of the 12th round the referee added his plea, but Barney shook his head and went out to take his medicine.

Couldn't Escape Them

The most surprising thing about the fight was Ross' inability to escape Armstrong's left hooks to the head. Those who had established Ross a 7 to 5 favorite in the betting had banked on his defensive skill to thwart Henry's attack. But gradually these lefts wrenched Ross' face out of shape and left him all but helpless.

For the first half, Armstrong mostly pumped his right into Barney's ribs. Slowly Barney's guard came down to protect his side, and then the dark destroyer blazed away at Barney's left jaw.

Wasn't Going Out Down

"I wasn't going to go out lying down," Ross said later. "Armstrong is a hell of a fighter, but I would have got up if he had knocked me down a dozen times."

Far from finding Ross tough, Armstrong told newsmen it was one of his easiest fights. He said Barney's blows never bothered him, even in the opening rounds when the heavier man was landing with everything he had.

There was considerable talk immediately after the scrap that Ross had been handicapped by injured hands, but Barney denied it.

Air Line For Area Asked

C. E. Maedgen, chairman of the aviation committee of Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, plans to return Friday or Saturday from Washington, D. C., where he joined with a West Texas group in urging postoffice department approval of an airmail line from Amarillo to San Antonio, serving Lubbock and other intermediate points.

No indication was given as to when action may be taken on the application.

Between San Angelo and Lubbock, the proposed route might follow alternate courses, one by Sweetwater and the other by Big Spring, or it might include both points. Representatives of Sweetwater and Big Spring civic bodies separately discussed the proposed service with Harllee Branch, assistant postmaster general, but said they were not opposing each other.

A Sweetwater delegation, accompained by Representative Garrett of Eastland conferred first with Branch, and asked that their city be included on the new route should it be established. They said Sweetwater was an important railroad center and mail concentration point.

Later, Representatives South of Coleman and Mahon of Colorado, Tex., accompanied a group from San Antonio, San Angelo, Lubbock, Big Spring and Amarillo to see Branch. Big Spring delegates told Branch their city was on an important trans-continental east and west air mail route.

Both groups declared a large area of West Texas now had no north and south airmail service, and that the volume of business to be expected over such a route would more than justify its establishment.

Sweetwater citizens accompanying Garrett were George Barber, J. H. Beall, jr., Mrs. Thelma Bowen, and her husband, Joe Bowen.

Wage-Hour Bill

ployment.

Noting that the senate-house committee has wide powers to rewrite the legislation, Senator Pepper said he thought it should be broadened "to provide some stimulation for small businesses in remote sections of the country."

Although some committeemen forecast a long struggle over the measure, administration leaders said that yesterday's decision to abandon the government reorganization bill until next year virtually assured adjournment by June 10.

Senate chieftains hope to pass by tomorrow night the $3,247,000,000 relief and Public Works bill — the only major legislation besides the wage-hour bill still on the calendar. The senate was called into session at 11 a. m. (Eastern standard time), an hour earlier than usual, to hasten a vote.

Would Allow Doles

The senate voted yesterday to make $50,000,000 of WPA funds available for doles should an emergency arise. It turned down a suggestion by Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) that $150,000,000 be set aside from work-relief funds for direct relief payments.

One of the biggest fights remaining centered on a committee amendment to restrict use of PWA funds for constructing utility systems which would compete with privately-owned plants. Senator Norris (Ind-Neb), so-called "father" of the TVA, was leading an attempt to eliminate the restriction.

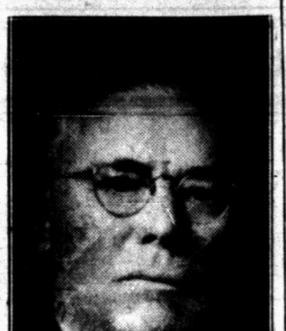

St. Louis' Man's 'Borrowed Time' Runs Out On Tuesday

ST. LOUIS, June 1. (AP)—James Hedley's "borrowed time" ran out Tuesday.

The 25-year-old victim of the rare disease of aplastic anemia had lived the last four years on blood furnished by others through 111 transfusions—including one a day for the last 13 days.

Until Hedley's death, physicians worked desperately but to no avail to find a cure for the disease, which renders the bone marrow incapable of performing its normal function of producing the life-giving red blood cells.

Sheriff Tom Abel's Statement Is Issued

TOM ABEL

Formal statement relative to his candidacy for reelection as Lubbock county sheriff was issued here Tuesday by Tom Abel.

It follows:

"It has been my pleasure and privilege to serve you in the past as your sheriff and during that time I have endeavored to the very best of my ability to give you the kind of service that you as citizens are entitled to.

Economy Is Promised

"At no time have I spared money or efforts where efficiency demanded that they be spent and, if reelected as sheriff, it shall continue to be my policy to enforce the law as economically as efficiency will permit.

"I have at all times done my duty as I saw it, and have given all whom it was my duty to handle fair and impartial treatment.

"In my personnel, I have men whom I believe to be honest, capable and sincere and who execute the duties assigned them with fairness and impartiality, always bearing in mind that they have a duty to perform.

"The continued growth and increase in population of Lubbock and Lubbock county have greatly increased the duties and responsibilities of the sheriff's office and as the city and county continue to grow these responsibilities will continue to increase.

"Believing that there is no substitute for experience, I feel that I can render you a greater service in the future than I have in the past, due to the fact that I am better acquainted with the people, their problems, and due, too, to my acquaintanceship with and close cooperation with local police, constabulary, Texas Highway Patrol, federal authorities and with officers of the surrounding counties.

"Realizing that after all it's your office and assuring you of my deep appreciation of your favors in the past and sincere gratitude for any consideration given me in the coming elections, I shall devote as much time as necessary to official duties in the remaining time before the primaries and may, for that reason, not be able to see all the voters.

"In case I do not find time, as much as I would like to do so, to see you I will, nevertheless, greatly appreciate your vote and influence."

Gas Allowables For Two Fields Set By Railroad Commission

AUSTIN, June 1 (AP)—Natural gas production allowances to the Rodessa and sections of the Panhandle field during June were announced by the Railroad commission.

The sweet gas allowable of the east Panhandle field was set at 133,111,000 cubic feet daily, the sour gas allowable of the west Panhandle field at 678,572,000 cubic feet daily and the sweet gas allowable of the Rodessa field at 49,417,000 cubic feet daily.

The commission authorized a third experiment in re-injecting salt water into the oil producing sand in the East Texas field. The Stanolind Oil and Gas company will conduct the experiment in its R. A. Moorea No. 3 well in Rusk county.

afternoon in 106th district court at Brownfield. Griffis said also he will ask Judge Louis B. Reed of Lamesa to hold the hearing tonight.

Judge Reed and Truett Smith of Tahoka, district attorney for the 106th judicial district, were at Seminole today where a regular term of the court is in session.

Sheriff Ches Gore quoted witnesses as saying that Haley and Word met on a corner of the square early Tuesday and that Word started running after a brief exchange of words. One of two shots which followed quickly struck him in the back and he died within a few minutes, the report continued.

Funeral services for Word are to be held at 2:30 p. m. Thursday at the First Baptist church here with Rev. Ed A. Thorpe, Methodist pastor at Abernathy and former pastor in Brownfield, officiating. Burial will be in Brownfield cemetery, directed by Brownfield Funeral home.

Surviving Word are his widow and a son 17 years of age.

Preston Weaks Isn't Out For Office; Error Is Corrected

Preston Weaks was rooted out of bed long before the dawn this morning, to be congratulated on an announcement he would run for the office of county clerk.

It sounded like jokesters, so Weaks told them to go to bed.

But a Morning Avalanche was sent to his residence at 1401 Thirty-third street.

The announcement was there! Unauthorized.

Another candidate, without signing his name, had submitted a formal statement of his own on a letterhead of Weaks' Service station at Fifteenth street and Avenue K—and a reporter, grabbing up the sheet, wrote the stock lead on it and, presto! Weaks was on his way.

Weaks laughed over the incident this morning, despite the ribbing of his friends.

"One of them told me I'd have to get up a lot earlier in the morning to run for office than to operate a service station," he said.

"I'm satisfied, though, with my present business—don't think I'd like the political swim."

Clashes Mark Rail Hearing

Marked by clashes between counsel and the making of many objections, a hearing by the Railroad Commission of Texas was begun this morning in the Lubbock hotel. Jess C. Levens, chief examiner, presided.

First case called, after the docket was called, was on the application of Mrs. Bessie Ida Bridgeman, owner of the Snyder Transfer & Storage Co., to operate a common carrier line from Lamesa via Loop to Brownfield, Seagraves, Seminole and back to Lamesa. Durwood H. Bradley and W. D. Wilson represent the applicant.

Clark M. Mullican and Chas. D. Matthews represent the Lubbock-El Paso Freight, Inc.; W. D. Benson jr., the Tankersley Truck line, the Seagraves Truck line and Cecil White Truck line, all opposing. Herbert L. Smith, Austin, of the Texas General Managers association, represents the railroads. B. A. Carter, San Angelo, later filed opposition by the Sunset Truck lines.

Ten-Day Notice Granted

Smith, for his clients, demanded a 10-day notice for an amended petition filed in the case Wednesday morning. Levens overruled the demand, but granted exceptions to his rulings.

Testimony was then begun. The applicant had ten witnesses here for the hearing.

Mark Marshall, director of the motor transport division of the commission, was here. He stated he thought perhaps Levens might not be here owing to the condition of his mother, ill in Fisher county. H. D. Allen is the reporter.

Application for dismissal of A. R. Dalby and W. C. Garrison for common carrier service from Friona to Seagraves was presented by Mullican, attorney for Dalby. It was granted.

Two other common carrier motor dockets were scheduled for today and two for Thursday, with two motor bus applications.

Tech Seniors Finish Work

Seniors at Texas Technological college today are completing examinations and anticipating annual Senior day Thursday and other students are busy with the first day of examinations.

Tickets for an outing at Buffalo Springs are being sold to seniors today. The group is to leave at 8 o'clock Thursday morning from the administration building and will spend the day in swimming, boating, hiking, and other sports and in picnicking.

Tickets Being Sold

There was almost no doubt that the class will go on the outing, but it will be known definitely when number of tickets sold is determined after 5 o'clock this afternoon, Paul White, class president, said this morning.

The Senior day celebration will be the first of a series of events for graduating students that will end with commencement service at 10 o'clock Monday morning.

Calendar Is Given

Events in which graduating students will participate include:

Friday—8 p. m., annual reception to the graduating class, their parents, and the faculty, by President and Mrs. Bradford Knapp, president's home.

Saturday—4-6 p. m., tea for agricultural graduating students and agricultural faculty, Dean and Mrs. A. H. Leidigh, 2101 Seventeenth street; 7 p. m., annual Alumni and Ex-Students association banquet, women's dormitory.

Tea On Sunday

Sunday—4-5 p. m., tea for home economics graduating students, their parents, home economics faculty and a few others, Dean Margaret W. Weeks, at F. R. Friend residence, 2005 Broadway; 4-5:30 p. m., Council of Graduate Women tea for senior women, Hilton hotel; 8 p. m., baccalaureate sermon by Rev. Frank C. Brown, First Presbyterian church of Dallas, at gymnasium; 10 p. m., presentation of the Double-T neon sign that is the parting gift of this year's class, between chemistry and library buildings.

Monday—10 a. m., graduation exercises, address by Dr. Alfred E. Atkinson, president of the University of Arizona at Tucson, in gymnasium.

The time of the annual breakfast for graduating students in the engineering division probably will be set this afternoon, said Dean O. V. Adams. A picture of the graduating students will be taken the morning of the breakfast and will be hung in the engineering library.

Students other than those graduating today began taking examinations which will end Tuesday.

"Sweet Adeline"

buffs continued. Too old fashioned, publishers said.

The young men changed the heroine's name to "Adeline" and tried it again. And M. Whitmark, who had turned the identical song down under the "Rosalie" name, bought it!

Even so, "Adeline" almost became "Adelene." The publishers claimed that they had never heard of a name like "Adeline" and only yielded when Harry slipped in a correction on the proof sheet after they had actually changed it.

For a year "Sweet Adeline" lay on the publisher's shelf collecting dust until one day when the Quaker City Four, in the market for a new song to present at Hammerstein's Music Hall, having rejected every other sheet in the place, asked Harry to present it to them.

"I must have crooned my head off," Harry said, "for they bought it, and I almost fainted."

mated that over 300 Americans have been waiting in Shanghai for many months to get permission to return to their properties in the Yangtze valley, including Nanking.

Note Is Quoted

The note said that "the problem of enabling American citizens in China to reenter and repossess their properties from which they have been excluded by the Japanese military and of which the Japanese military have been and in some cases still are in occupation is giving the government of the United States increasing concern."

"It is difficult," Japan was told, "to perceive any warrant for the continued placing by the Japanese authorities of obstacles in the way of return by Americans who have legitimate reason for proceeding to the areas in question."

The United States specifically demanded the return of the University of Shanghai to the Northern and Southern Baptist Missionary societies. The university has been occupied by Japanese military and naval units, the note said, since shortly after the outbreak of hostilities at Shanghai, August, 1937.

We've had some pretty bad depressions in this country but we've never had one tough enough to deprive men of their vices.

THE State Observer, a weekly published in Austin and dealing largely with statehouse news and politics, came out last week with a modern fable that makes pretty good reading.

We quote the Observer:

"From a contributor quite high in educational circles we have an item which, he suggests, 'sheds definite light on the consequences of our planned economy in some industries, based upon the theory of scarcity.'

"The fable:

"Once upon a time, there was a farmer who sold two chickens. With the proceeds he bought two shirts. So the farmer had two shirts and the city man had two chickens.

"Then along came the New Deal, and told the farmer he could get more money for his chickens by making them scarcer. He must not raise so many, and then he would get more income.

"The New Deal also told the working man in the city that he must work fewer hours and get more money for making fewer shirts. That, of course, caused shirts to cost more.

"Then the farmer brought one chicken to market. He got as much money for it as he had previously gotten for two chickens. He felt fine. He wanted to buy some shirts, but he found that shirts had also doubled in price. So he got one shirt.

"Now the farmer had one shirt, and the city man had one chicken, whereas without the new theory, the farmer could have had two shirts and the city man could have had two chickens.

"This, boys and girls, is called 'The More Abundant Life!'"

Heh heh.

NEVER, never, never admit you're superstitious. That, say our more erudite friends, is a mark of ignorance. So, instead of admitting being superstitious just do like The Plainsman. Explain you're merely careful!

Your humble servant is not superstitious about many things.

He doesn't mind walking under ladders, shaking hands across the handshake of two other persons, or breaking mirrors.

But he doesn't like black cats crossing his path and, above all things, will never lay a hat on a bed, or permit someone else to do it if he can keep them from it!

What are your pet superstitions?

Don't say you have none—because down deep in your heart you know you have.

Even the scoffers, if they're honest with themselves, will admit that certain happenstances worry them a little if not a jot.

Civilization's varnish is not yet thick enough to separate man from a lot of old beliefs and customs.

A WASHINGTON correspondent sends this story along. It is said to be entirely factual.

A member of Congress recently returned from a motor trip through the Northwest part of the United States and reported at the capital that hitchhikers in that part of the country have quit trying to wangle rides by wiggling their thumbs.

"As a car approaches," he says, "they unfurl a banner, reading:

"'If you don't give me a ride I'll vote for HIM again!'"

He didn't say whether the "economic royalists" were or were not falling for the ruse!

IT is entirely possible—in fact it frequently so happens—for a person to be so homely, or unlovely that he can capitalize on his ugliness, draw attention to himself and then convert what otherwise would be a handicap into an asset.

Jimmy Durante did that with his nose; Martha Raye and Joe E. Brown with their over-size mouths; Eddie Cantor with his banjo eyes.

Airedale dogs, homeliest of the canine breed, became a rage a few years ago principally because "they are so ugly that they're handsome."

Latest proof of this phenomenon is "Dopey", the littlest of the seven dwarfs in Walt Disney's "Snow White" cinema success. "Dopey" has become a national craze rivaling Charlie McCarthy.

Ask ten peraons who saw the "Snow White" picture at the Broadway or Lyric here during the past several days which of the characters most impressed them. Seven out of the ten will promptly say "Dopey." And that in spite of the fact that "Dopey" didn't have a word to say during the show (he didn't know whether he could talk or not because he had never tried) and was drawn to present the most grotesque appearance of all the characters in the picture.

Walt Disney knows "Dopey" emerged from the picture as its No. 1 star.

In the wake of "Snow White's" remarkable success came the inevitable gadgets which always follow great successes. These gadgets represent "Snow White," the prince, the bad, old queen and each of the dwarfs. Proof positive of "Dopey's" outstanding popularity is the fact that the gadgets depicting him have outsold all of the others and even in the places where the picture is being forgotten there still is a demand for miniature "Dopeys."

SO if you have an outstanding characteristic which you fear is a liability, study that characteristic and figure out some way to convert it into an asset.

It has been done many times before.

It can be done again.

Attractive young Miss Elizabeth Trice, of 1601 Avenue D, is somewhat puzzled over the antics of "Whitey."

"Whitey" is a bantam hen, laying for the first time this summer, and not doing such a swell job of it.

Miss Trice brought to The Plainsman an egg recently laid by "Whitey." Unlike the usual bantam egg, this particular piece of hen fruit has a curled tail on one end which makes the egg look something like a swan. Miss Trice says she wouldn't have thought much about it, but after "Whitey" started laying normal bantam eggs, all of a sudden she switched to freaks.

Another egg laid by the hen was about a size smaller than the ordinary hen egg, but was as round as a marble.

It begins to look like "Whitey" has got her wires crossed somewhere!

Octagon House

BY PHOEBE A. TAYLOR
Copyright, 1938, Associated Press

THE STORY SO FAR: Unscrupulous Marina Lorne, whose husband Quanomet, is murdered by a left hand's postoffice mural has aroused handed blow from her sitser's knife. Suspected Pam Frye disappears because an unknown person who smokes Turkish tobacco is trailing her to discover the whereabouts of $50,000 worth of ambergris she found the day of the murder. Agreeable Tim Car, a boarder at the Frye's Octagon House, is left handed, smokes Turkish tobacco, and hated Marina. Asey Mayo, Cape Cod detective, eavesdrops outside the Woman's Exchange on gabby Nettie Hobbs who swears Pam is the murderer. Peggy Boone, an artist, tells Nettie she is a liar. Then Roddy Strutt, whose plane smashed in the square, the night before, pays Nettie to keep his name out of her story.

Chapter 16
Roddy's Check

Asey was brought to earth by Nettie's voice at his elbow.

"What do you think you're doing?"

"What's that?" Asey hastily put on the gold rimmed glasses before turning around. "What's that?"

"What do you think you're doing?" Nettie raised her voice, and Asey promptly took his cue.

"What say?"

"What are you doing?" Nettie bellowed.

"Paintin'," Asey said, gently.

"Who told you to paint here? What do you mean, trespassing and defacing my property—get away, before I call the constable!"

"What say?" Asey asked. "What's that? I'm a mite hard of hearin', marm."

He made her repeat it five times, and then he assumed an injured expression.

"You mean, this ain't the Red Men's hall?"

"It's the Woman's Exchange!" Nettie yelled. "The Woman's Exchange! Woman's Exchange!"

"They do?" Asey said. "I want to know, now!"

"You deaf old fool, this isn't the Red Men's hall, this is—"

"Then if it ain't the Red Men's hall," Asey peered down at her, "then you owe me 50 cents for time, an' a quarter for paint. I'll make it 60 cents cash money."

Finally, from sheer exhaustion, she gave him the 60 cents. Asey pocketed it gravely, and removed himself and his cans.

It was no task to mingle with the crowd until Nettie emerged from the alley, and he could hardly have helped joining in with the young mob that followed her up the street to the bank.

Parking his paint cans on the back doorstep, Asey strolled in the bank's rear door and knocked on the glass of the president's little cubby hole. He had always wondered why he had allowed himself to be made an honorary director of the bank's main branch and now, he thought as he waited, he knew.

Seriously Involved

The amount of Roddy Strutt's check, which he had in his hands almost as soon as Nettie deposited it, startled him.

Five thousand dollars, he thought as he picked up his paint cans outside, meant that Roddy wasn't just trying to keep his name out of this affair. It meant that Roddy was seriously involved. Roddy had no reputation for openhandedness. It had taken a court battle to make him pay for smashing up Bill Porter's car in that accident the year before. And yet he'd given Nettie a check for $5,000, just like that!

But, he remembered suddenly, how could Roddy Strutt possibly be involved in this mess? Presumably he was flying around in his new airplane and wrecking it.

Pam knew nothing about the crash, and she would have been told by Nettie if it had occurred before Nettie left Octagon House at ten-thirty. Jennie Mayo said that Roddy had wrecked the plane on his way home from tagging his friend's plane. Marina Lorne had dashed away from the garage, leaving the ambergris, in order to see some artist, some friend of Roddy's who was shortly leaving for New York in a plane, presumably via Providence.

Sorted out, that meant that the artist friend had left between six and seven. Roddy's plane had crashed after ten-thirty. It would not have taken all the intervening time for Roddy to trail the other plane to the airport, and to return to Quanomet. Roddy might, of course, have stopped over en route, but if he had crashed on his return late at night, why on earth was he presenting Nettie with checks, and lavishly promising her more to keep him out of her murder story?

Asey strolled back to the square and to his remote cousin Jerry.

'The Pilot Feller'

"I've given up," he said. "I've given up. You might as well try to stop Niag'ra, as these tourists. They don't give a damn how many cars they jam into this place, or how many they bump. They've busted down the ropes, and they're carting off that plane in handfuls. You'd think they never seen a plane before. Well, I don't care. I tried to do my duty, but now I've given up. Asey, what in the name of God makes people act this way? What's that plane mean to 'em anyhow? It ain't got a thing to do with the murder or the mural."

"Well," Asey sat down beside him, "what's pickle limes got to do with things? Or flower holders made out of old coffee tins? But people are buyin' pickle limes an' cut-up coffee cans over at the Exchange, like this was the last chance they had to buy 'em in this world. Jerry, what time last night did this plane crash?"

"Between one and two," Jerry said. "It busted up a couple of cars, and bruised up Earl Jennings and some others. It was Roddy that did it, but the pilot feller got hurt the worst."

"Where is he, in the hospital?"

Jerry nodded. "Someone got an ambulance and took him over to Pochet. I just heard someone say that Roddy wouldn't even pay the ambulance bill. Said he hadn't ordered it. You know, Asey, I keep hopin' there's a special little corner of hell all set apart for people like Roddy. Sometimes he's so dumb, you wouldn't believe it. Sometimes he just scatters money. Then again he's so tight with five cents, you'd like to sock him. And aly—say, he's so—oh, damn those tourists! Look, they're pullin' that other wing apart!"

Asey suggested that Jerry might be able to stop them, if he really tried.

"I s'pose so," Jerry said. "I s'pose I could, if I put my mind to it. I would, if it was anyone else's plane. Somehow I don't care about Roddy's. I can't see how the town's liable for any damage people do.

Hold Everything!

"Hey, what's wrong here? No cherries, no plums—nothin' but jackpots!"

Today's Journal Editorial . . .

THEIR VIEWS ARE ENTIRELY COMMENDABLE

Lubbock is fortunate in possessing citizens of the type of those who have announced plans for the new "Broadway building" which should solve, for some time at least, acute need for offices in our city. Sam C. Arnett, Drs. J. T. Krueger and J. T. Hutchinson and George E. Benson, partners in the building, are looking at their project sanely and with commendable vision.

Particularly have they shown foresight in their determination that the size of the structure shall fit existing needs over and above office facilities already available. As announced, plans call tentatively for an eight-story structure. But if careful surveys tend to indicate the need to be for six, 10 or even 12 floors, it is their expressed intent to provide that building.

Regardless of the size of the building—within reasonable limits, of course—it is probable it could be filled if the management should resort to high pressure methods. Any number of individuals and establishments probably could be induced to leave quarters they now have for the sake of being able to say they are quartered in the newest and largest building. Many such likely will seek offices in the new structure without any urging.

However, that is not to be encouraged by owners of the Broadway. On the contrary, it will be discouraged. The partners realize, as does anyone who gives thought to the matter, Lubbock would benefit not at all if other structures should be drained of tenants so that the new building might be filled.

Therefore the sensible policy has been adopted of trying to meet needs as they are needed. Let us hope that same policy continues to guide all building in Lubbock. If so, our city will never be haunted, as so many cities are, by immense office structures, homes and other buildings which are empty monuments to over-enthusiastic and ill-advised judgment.

Hollywood Chit-Chat

BY PAUL HARRISON
Journal Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, June 1—Sonja Henie said, "Ah-ha—so you've been reading my mail!"

"Well, somebody ought to," I suggested. "I don't suppose you have time to keep up with it, and—"

"Oh, but I do. At least, with a lot of it; that's part of our business."

Anyway, there I was, reading Sonja Henie's mail. Just a representative stack of it, with all the simple picture-requests sorted out and attended to by the studio's fanmail department. Maybe you'd like to know what sort of letters a movie star receives from her constituents.

Raves Offered, Favors Asked

Topping the stack is one of the most frequent requests that screen players receive—a brisk little note asking for an interview for a high school paper. These are all declined, because actors have to have time for acting.

Here's a baby named after Miss Henie. A letter from the parents, in Great Falls, Mont., and some pictures of the youngster—Sonja Regis Muri. More children are named for Miss Henie than for any other Hollywood star.

A Canton, O., high school pupil pens a long letter telling about a Latin magazine, "Auxilium Latinum," in every issue of which are written the biographies of two movie stars. An English translation of the piece about Miss Henie is included.

Next is an ecstatic note sprinkled with exclamation points and the adjective, "wonderful." It seems that this Pasadena fan has collected 640 pictures of the skater.

A doctor in a small Kansas town wants an autographed picture for his office. And next to this letter is one containing advice from a woman in Denver. She has read somewhere that Miss Henie suffers from a chronic case of cold feet. She knows, and tells, exactly what to do for them. The cure consists of hiring, as her personal physician, a certain Denver doctor.

The M. Munsons of Chicago have named their baby girl Sonja. So has a couple on a farm near Duluth. A man in Scottsboro, Ala., sends several pictures of a local girl who bears a striking resemblance to Miss Henie. It won't do her a bit of good, though. Nobody who looks like an established star can get a job in Hollywood, except possibly as a stand-in.

Sonja, I Love You!

Here's the romance department: Neil Turner writes from Leeds, England, in scrawling print: "Dear Sonja. I am only .6But. I. think. you are. lovely. when. I.am big. will. you.marry. me."

Another juvenile infatuation is reported in a particularly well-phrased letter from the mother of a boy, who's 5. It seems that whenever he sees Miss Henie on the screen he becomes extremely excited and talks about marrying her.

A man writes a glowing commendation to the skater because she doesn't smoke. A boy in a military school in Canada asks her to drop up and go with him to the junior-senior ball.

Eccentric Addresses

The next envelope bears a tinted picture of Mickey Mouse and Pluto. "Searching for Miss Sonja Henie in Hollywood." And after that is another arty address—a well-executed tinted drawing of Miss Henie tracing the word "Hollywood" in the ice.

The law plainly states that all such mail with trick addresses is fodder for the dead-letter office, the idea being that postal workers have plenty to do without sitting around figuring out puzzles.

Only rebus Miss Henie happened to receive this day was a sequence of pictures showing a rising sun, a pipe-smoking man (evidently a German) say "Ja," a hen and a knee.

Final Settlement In Toronto's Stork Derby Made; Two Losers Are Paid $12,500 By Winners

TORONTO, June 1.—(Canadian Press)—The four winning Toronto mothers in the fantastic Millar "stork derby" have been paid off today at the rate of $11,111.11 per child.

The four women, adjudged by the court as tieing first place winners, had fortunes of $100,000 apiece deposited to their accounts, their grand first prizes for producing nine children each in the ten-year period ending Oct. 31, 1936.

Two other contestants who had failed to establish their claims in court received $12,500 each on condition they drop pending appeals, and the four big winners agreed to let this $25,000 go.

Lavoisier, regarded as the chief founder of modern chemistry, died on the guillotine in the French revolution.

We never asked him to land his plane here. We—say, I wonder if we could sue him for obstructin' town highways?"

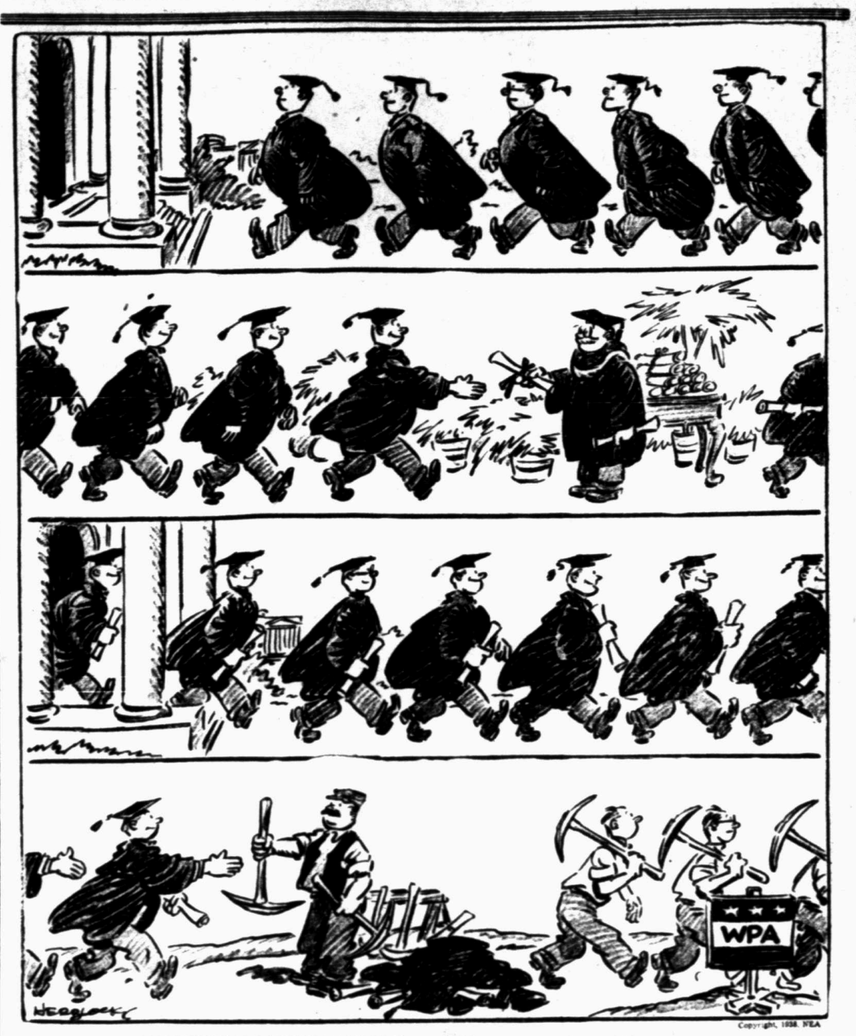

"You could always try," Asey said. "While you're at it, collect parkin' fees from him, too. You got signs up sayin' that more'n one hour parkin' is illegal, an' that plane's been there for hours. Nick him. So the pilot's in Pochet?"

"Yes, poor feller," Jerry said. "He'll prob'ly rot there before Roddy takes any notice. He—are you goin'?"

"Yup." Asey picked up his paint cans. "You ain't any idea, Jerry, how many spots there is in this town that needs a little slappin' up with paint."

More questions arise, tomorrow.

Possible Inclusion Of Insurance Companies In Monopoly Probe Causes Fight At Capital

By RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 1. — One of the most important undercover fights in Washington is on the question whether the forthcoming investigation of monopoly will delve into the affairs of the insurance companies.

Rodney Dutcher

President Roosevelt in his monopoly message urged that these companies be looked into, pointing to their huge investment funds as possible instruments of economic power. But Congress hasn't seemed anxious to start such an inquiry. Senator Joseph C. O'Mahoney of Wyoming, who has been framing what appears to be a more or less official monopoly investigation bill, thus far is keeping the insurance companies outside the bill's scope.

New Dealers, however, are hoping. They want to find out whether insurance funds are being invested on the basis of independent judgment or are controlled by big New York banking houses. They want to know who elects the trustees, why insurance companies charge 6 per cent interest on policy loans and other things. There has never been any real investigation of insurance companies, they say, and the vast power possessed by those who control billions of funds for investment is such as to require public scrutiny.

Insurance company executives are busy trying to keep the investigation away from their door. They have been hopping mad ever since the President sent his monopoly message.

Heaven's Blessing?

Senator Theodore Bilbo of Mississippi, who is promoting a bill to move American negroes back to Africa, is still known in his home as "Pastemaster General Bilbo" or "The Mississippi Clipper." That's because early in the New Deal Bilbo had an AAA job, wangled for him by Senator Pat Harrison, which paid him $6000 a year for clipping newspapers.

"God moves in a mysterious way His wonders to perform," Bilbo told Senator Borah anent his negro bill. "That may be the reason why the senator and I are here to do this job."

No Peace In Sight

Ernest John Hanes, new assistant Treasury secretary and former SEC commissioner, has not conceded defeat in his campaign to conciliate business and the Roosevelt administration. But most of his friends are willing to concede it for him.

Very little progress has been made by Mr. Hanes since he persuaded 16 big business men to sign a qualified promise of cooperation with the government's business recovery program. The effect of that manifesto was soured almost immediately when "Winnie" Aldrich of Chase National bank, one of the signers, demanded a "breathing spell" for the rest of Roosevelt's term and urged revision of New Deal reforms.

There were four presidents of mutual life insurance companies among the signers. Roosevelt's suggestion of an insurance company investigation made them furious. And lately the administration, after previous indications that it would forego loan-grants to municipal power plants in its new PWA program, decided against accepting an amendment which would forbid such loan-grants.

The Hanes task was a herculean one in the first place. Neither side was willing to co-operate except on its own terms. Then came Senator Pepper's victory in the Florida primary. Roosevelt has been feeling more confident, less conciliatory, ever since.

No Big Spending Expected

One of the things tending to stiffen Roosevelt's attitude toward public utilities has been a report—made by Federal Reserve, SEC and other experts—indicating that new money which could possibly be spent by public utilities for plant expansion in the coming year wouldn't exceed $500,000,000 and might not be more than a top limit of $200,000,000. Power plant capacity exceeds the demand.

Either sum isn't to be sneezed at. But Roosevelt recalled that power company magnates had been promising to spend up to two billion dollars if they could get a free capital market.

Land Owners Notice

Why have a loan that will cause you to make from two to four interest payments per year, with heavy reductions on your principal note.

We will make you a loan at 5 per cent ANNUAL interest, payable on January 1st each year, and will give you one of the very best options written into the face of your note that you will ever need in a loan. You POSITIVELY do not have to reduce your loan unless it is your desire to do so.

It will pay you to see us, as we believe in our 20 years of loan experience in Lubbock that we have the very best loan for the land owner that has ever been written in this country.

19—Livestock For Sale

We sold about 1500 head of cattle at our auction sales this week.
All classes of cattle were substantially higher than a week ago, and it is reasonable to anticipate that the market will remain firm.
Demand for good butcher cattle is materially larger than our available supply. You need not be afraid of bringing too many cattle, and we can assure you of top prices at all times. We want you to remember that no shipment is too large, neither is one too small.
Good grass and excellent crop prospects in this area, due to recent rains, have materially enlarged the demand for stockers and feeders. If you have stockers and feeders that you want to sell, at the very best market price, it will pay you to get in touch with us at once.
Get your cattle in early. Remember the sale starts promptly at 10:00 o'clock every Tuesday and Friday.
If you need trucks to get your cattle in to the sale, phone or wire us. We will send you trucks, at a reasonable price.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, June 1 (AP)—Cotton futures opened 2 lower to 2 higher. Lower Liverpool cables were partly offset by an advance at Bombay and trade and foreign buying. July 7.69; Oct. 7.76; Dec. 7.81; Jan. 7.79; March 7.83; May 7.87.

The resistance to easiness at Liverpool brought in more commission house buying following the call. July was in demand from shorts and the trade and Oct. rallied from 7.76 to 7.89 or to net advances of 13 to 14 points shortly after the first half hour.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, June 1 (AP)—Cotton futures opened steady today, unchanged to one point net higher on generally favorable foreign markets and a bullish private acreage estimate.

In addition a private authority placed cotton acreage at 26,104,000 acres, which was approximately 2,000,000 acres below the official allotment.

July contracts opened at 7.86, Oct. at 7.89, Dec. at 7.91, Jan. at 7.90, March at 7.97 and May at 8.01.

A closing rally in Liverpool and advancing securities attracted active trade and commission house buying which absorbed light profit taking by longs and some hedge selling.

Towards mid-session July advanced to 7.97, Oct. to 8.02, Dec. to 8.03, Jan. to 8.03, March to 8.07 and May to 8.08, or eight to fourteen points above the previous close.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, June 1 (AP) — Wheat prices here averaged a little lower early today, responsive to overnight setbacks of Liverpool quotations. Northward progress of the domestic winter crop harvest was also a factor.

Opening ½ cent off to ¼ cent up, July 68¾-⅞, September 70⅛-¼. Chicago wheat futures then sagged. Corn started unchanged to ¼ cent lower, July 54⅜, September 55⅜-½.

At the close, Chicago wheat futures were unchanged to ⅜ lower compared with yesterday's finish, July 68⅝-¾, Sept. 69⅞-70, corn ¾ to 1 cent up, July 55⅜-½, Sept. 56⅜ and oats unchanged to ⅛ up.

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, June 1 (AP) — Demand for grain was steady here today. Estimated receipts were: Wheat 5 cars, corn 1, oats 2. Cars manifested Tuesday were: wheat 23, Oats 5.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, June 1 (AP) — The stock market greeted June in a hopeful mood today, reversing its recent stride for a leisurely rally.

Buying converged mainly on leading industrials and lifted many of them fractions to around 3 points, restoring some of the ground lost on the dragging decline in the last two weeks of many.

Transactions, while a little more active on the rally, totaled only about 550,000 shares.

Rails and utilities, at a slower gait, joined industrials on the recovery.

Heading the upturn were such issues as Dupont, General Electric, Westinghouse Electric, Union Carbide, Eastman Kodak, U. S. Steel, Bethlehem and Texas Corp.

Markets At A Glance:

NEW YORK:

STOCKS—Higher; industrials lead rally.

BONDS—Steady; rail issues reverse downtrend.

CURB—Improved; utilities and metals favored.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE—Quiet; sterling in supply.

COTTON—Strong; Wall Street & trade buying.

SUGAR—Easier; hedge selling.

COFFEE—Narrow; European support.

CHICAGO:

WHEAT—Easy; Argentina underselling abroad.

CORN—Higher; unfavorable weather conditions.

CATTLE—Steady.

HOGS—10-20 lower.

Ruling On Fees

reconsider its previous decision, declared in an opinion written by Chief Justice Hughes, that the secretary was "unwarranted" in assertions that the tribunal had reversed itself from a previous position.

In reply Wallace said the court used "involved reasoning, which both the farmers and the livestock commission men will find difficult to follow."

PATROLMAN IS INJURED

MARSHALL, June 1. (AP) City Patrolman E. H. Whitehurst received a painful head injury Tuesday when a prisoner struck him with the butt of the officer's service revolver.

Whitehurst said the prisoner, Maurice McClelland, 20, of Gilmer, left a chain gang three miles east of here and that a struggle ensued when an attempt was made to bring McClelland back.

Building Climbing

may be set for any calendar week of this year. Present record was set three weeks ago at $81,816.

Another of the records which toppled by the wayside in comparison with busy activities of 1937 was the new construction authorized in May.

May Total $232,582.10

Revised figures for the month, as completed by Miss Maurine Hughes, office assistant to the building inspector, showed the total to be $232,582.10, comparing with $159,988 for May, 1937.

Total of every month this year thus far has been far in excess of the corresponding month last year. The $30,350 issued the first one-half day of the new month of June indicates the probability that the record will be continued, since the total for the whole of June, 1937, was only $144,143.

Comparison of permit totals this year and last by months thus far are:

	1937	1938
January	$ 73,412.50	$118,041.35
February	60,710.00	182,070.40
March	91,602.00	242,464.47
April	122,094.50	215,429.50
May	159,988.00	232,582.10
Totals	$507,807.00	$990,587.82

Plans On Highway Projects In Five Counties Being Rushed

Plans on highway projects in five counties of Lubbock division are being rushed to completion so that bids may be submitted on them June 21 to the state highway department, according to information given Tuesday.

They are:

Crosby county — six miles flexible base and asphalt base preservative on highway 207.

Hockley county — 14 miles of asphalt seal coat on highway 24.

Terry county — 12 miles of asphalt seal coat on highways 62 and 280.

Swisher county — 12.6 miles of asphalt seal coat on highway 86.

Hale county — 12.5 miles of asphalt seal coat on highway 194.

INJURIES ARE SUFFERED

MATADOR, June 1—A fractured leg and severe bruises were suffered by A. B. Groves, an employe of the Texas Highway department, when he was struck by an automobile about 7:30 o'clock Tuesday night.

The accident happened at the intersection of highway 28 and Main street when Groves was crossing the street.

It was reported the machine which struck Groves was driven by Herman Ellithorpe, farmer of near here. His vision was obstructed, it was authoritatively said, by lights of an approaching truck.

Admitted to Traweek hospital here, Groves' condition was described as "serious but not critical."

Parking Meter Case

the court held void and unconstitutional, Judge J. J. Dillard ordered the dismissal, saying there "was no direct contempt."

"Let The Records Speak"

Girand was asked later in the afternoon if the contempt of court action had been dismissed in county court. "Let the records speak for themselves," he said.

More than 100 persons were in the district court room for the trial, including eighteen attorneys.

W. D. Benson, jr., and Girand, attorneys for litigants in parking meter violations, appeared in the case after filing briefs as amicus curiae, or friends of the court. Both made statements and Judge Pitts heard them but they took no further part in the case. L. D. Thomas, a litigant in parking meter cases and L. H. Holt, also a litigant, were in the court room.

Evans States Case

Evans stated the case, saying he was attacking the "constitutionality of the parking meter ordinance," and was "presenting it squarely to the court for adjudication." Wilson followed, objecting to briefs by Benson and Girand, stating that they "undertake to inject additional matter not in this suit."

Benson said he was "not trying to criticize" but merely came in as a friend of the court. Girand pointed out "we have a right to file such a brief where a fraud is being practiced on the court or where the court is being led into error by the filing of briefs." He argued that the complainant, Harrison had not brought his habeas corpus action in the proper court, that it should have been filed in the county court, where there was a "remedy at law," to be had. He claimed the district court did not have jurisdiction in the suit, in that "the only thing wanted is a judgment."

Dismissal Is Asked

Benson asked that the action be dismissed.

Evans, replying, claimed it was within the province of his client to file his action where he pleased and that he was not bound to file in the county court. "We can go anywhere we please," Evans declared.

Bradley, for the city, made a lengthy and exhaustive statement of the city's position, citing the city charter under which the city government was founded, the home rule sections of state laws.

On the arguments on the constitutionality of the ordinance he pointed out the people gave the city commission the power to "regulate the use and occupancy of the streets." This right has been passed upon by the higher courts.

Four Decisions Cited

Bradley cited four decisions of higher courts on the constitutionality of the question, a decision by the supreme court of Florida on a similar action by habeas corpus; a decision by the Oklahoma supreme court on a like case from Oklahoma City involving the same matter and the Wichita Falls case which was decided by the state court of civil appeals involving the same questions.

In the closing argument Evans cited the dedication of city streets in the old town of Lubbock by the founders, in which restrictions were made that streets were for the "use of the public." Wilson in reply pointed out court decisions held control of the streets was the function of the city.

Judge Pitts said he had closely studied the decisions cited in the briefs filed with him last week.

The controversy arose some weeks ago when Thomas and others staged a "sit-down" strike, refusing to place a nickel in the meters when parking a car. Arrested when they failed to answer tickets put on their cars, Thomas was the first to be brought into corporation court.

A jury in the city court found Thomas guilty and he was fined. He appealed to county court where Judge Dillard ruled the meters unconstitutional. City announced it would continue to enforce the ordinance. Other cases followed in corporation court.

Evans indicated he would carry the case to the higher court. He asked a record of the case.

Florida Kidnaping

James Cash, sr., indicated his brother now was willing for the posses to take to the fields since 24 hours had elapsed after he paid the $10,000 ransom with no word from the abductors.

The temper of the crowd, however, was to start searching regardless of whether the family and authorities were willing. Grizzled, sun-browned citrus growers and truck farmers with pistols on their hips and shotguns in their cars voiced grim threats against the men who snatched little "Skeegie" last Saturday night.

National guardsmen, war veterans and 1,600 Boy Scouts were ready to join the farmers in the search. They were pessimistic about catching the kidnapers now but sought to find the youngster dead or alive.

School Board Studies Plans

Further discussion of proposal that a Public Works administration grant be sought to assist in expansion of Lubbock city school system to meet needs created by rapid increase in enrollment is scheduled at a recessed meeting of the board of trustees in the office of Dr. J. T. Hutchinson, president, in Lubbock sanitarium at 7:30 o'clock tonight.

Authorization of a formal application was approved at the monthly meeting of the board Tuesday night.

"Inasmuch as the PWA is accepting applications and making grants, we want to get our applications filed at once," said a school official. It was pointed out voting of bonds would not be necessary unless the grant is approved and even if it is approved the board will not have to accept the grants unless it deemed the construction advisable.

Attending the Tuesday night meeting, other than Dr. Hutchinson, were R. F. Bayless, W. B. Atkins, and Dr. Allen T. Stewart.

"Our buildings already are taxed to capacity and if enrollments continue as they have recently, we don't know how we will take care of the children," a school official said. The scholastic census taken in March of this year showed 6,339 in the district, an increase of 628 over the 5,711 of 1937.

"Not one of the elementa.. school buildings can take care of that increase alone," it was explained.

New Zoning Planned

New zoning for next year was planned so as to put into effect a recent order by which all elementary schools will teach the first five grades.

The zoning boundaries:

Senior High school, grades nine, ten and eleven for the entire district.

Junior High school, grades six, seven, and eight for the entire district.

Dupre school, south of Fifteenth street and west of Avenue Q.

George M. Hunt school, south of Fifteenth street from Avenue Q east to the Santa Fe railroad.

K. Carter school, north of Broadway and west of Avenue Q and north of Tenth street and east of Avenue Q to the Santa Fe railroad.

Central Ward school, south of Broadway to Fifteenth street and from College avenue east to Avenue Q, south of Tenth street to Fifteenth street east of Avenue Q to the Santa Fe railroad. All children will ride school buses — those in first five grades—except those stopping at Sanders school.

Sanders school, grades one to high five inclusive east of the Amarillo branch of the Santa Fe railroad.

Guadalupe school, grades one through high five inclusive for Mexican children.

Ward school, ward schools operated will offer grades one to high five inclusive for their particular areas.

Dunbar school, all colored children in grades one to four inclusive will attend the new school building, colored pupils in grades five to eleven inclusive will attend the new school building.

September 12 was set as opening date for the 1938-39 long term.

The board approved the addition of a co-ordinator of distributive occupations in cooperation with the state and federal government and selected Sam Leifeste for the place.

New teachers selected were Jean Delaney, Margaret Pruitt, and Margaret Henderson.

Dallas Division Crop Loan Men Are To Confer Here On Friday

Dallas division officials are to confer at Lubbock hotel here Friday with emergency crop loan supervisors in West Texas, according to announcement Tuesday.

J. Edwin Brown, Amarillo, chief supervisor for the area, will be here, among others. Fred N. Warren, Lubbock and L. B. Wright, Lubbock and Morton, are supervisors in this section.

Leads ITU Race

CLAUDE M. BAKER

INDIANAPOLIS, June 1 (AP) — Woodruff Randolph of Chicago, secretary-treasurer of the International Typographical union, said today unofficial returns from 682 of the 850 locals in the May 25 election showed for president: Claude M. Baker of San Francisco, 35,154, and Charles P. Howard of Chicago, 21,946.

He added there probably would be no more unofficial tabulations. The international canvassing board will open sealed returns June 6.

Two Made Pages In Ceremony Of Knights Of Pythias Tuesday

Lestern Jones and J. Rollin McCord Tuesday night were made pages in a ceremony conducted by the Knights of Pythias lodge. Approximately 100 persons attended.

The program ended an attendance contest. The Pythian Sisters temple were surprise guests of the lodge at the banquet.

The Lubbock organization is one of the 10 largest in the state.

Plans are under way for construction of a new Pythian Temple which will house the Knights of Pythias lodge, Pythian Sisters, and Dokeys. Plans are being drawn.

The organization here recently was honored by the Supreme lodge for excellent work in the last year, it was explained.

Marshall Rhoades Makes Formal Statement On His Candidacy

The following statement was issued Tuesday by Marshall Rhoades, candidate for county commissioner of precinct 1:

"I am in the race for county commissioner of precinct 1. I have never held public office. With my experience and residence in this county I think I know what the people are entitled to and, if elected, will serve you faithfully and impartially and economically, keeping down public expense which will at least keep our tax rate down at a reasonable rate.

"I was born in Jack county, Texas, and have lived in Lubbock county 37 years. I live on my stock farm four and one-half miles south on the Tahoka highway.

"I will try to see you personally, but if I fail to do so I will appreciate your vote and influence. Thank you."

Wheat Shipments In Area Will Be Lower, Rail Agent Says

Wheat shipments over Fort Worth and Denver City railroad South Plains lines will be not more than 50 to 55 per cent of last year's shipments, E. C. Kuykendall, general agent, estimated.

"Our best territory is around Dimmitt," Kuykendall said. "They got a half inch rain after that sand storm. If the right moisture comes before harvest, we will ship a great many cars."

Other sections of the territory will not do so well, he said. Greenbugs have greatly reduced earlier prospects at Hart, Edmondon, Sterley, Lockney and other points. Crop will not exceed 50 per cent of the 1937 crop, he added.

Harvest will not start for ten days to two weeks or more. The company is prepared for prompt movement of the crop to market.

A. G. Hunt Issues Formal Statement

A. G. HUNT

The following statement was made Tuesday by A. G. Hunt, candidate for county tax assessor-collector:

"Two years ago, after making my first political race for tax assessor-collector, I announced my intentions of running again in 1938. I deeply appreciate the many votes I received two years ago and especially the encouragement and frequent unsolicited endorsements the past few weeks.

Investigation Invited

"I earnestly invite your investigation of my business training and experience, also of my public and private life here in Lubbock county the past 47 years. After doing so, if you believe that I would conduct an impartial business-like administration and not a partial political administration, then, if it be consistent with your views to support me in this my second race, I will surely appreciate it.

"If elected, I promise that it will be my purpose to see that the people from all parts of Lubbock county receive the honest, efficient and courteous service to which you are entitled."
