ONE OF YEAR'S MAJOR CHANGES WAS PETERSON ROAD OVERPASS AT US 287

1990 REVIEWED

First year of the decade highlighted by changes

If the first year of the 1990s is any indication, very little about Iowa Park will be the same by 2000.

The first year of the 90s decade was definitely one of change, major change.

Most notable of the changes had to do with leaders in the community, such as Wayne House unseating incumbent mayor Tim Hunter in the city election; resignations of City Administrator James Barrington and Head Coach and Athletic Director Len Williams; Wayne Parsons replacing Alan Sheffield as Chief of Police, after the latter resigned; and the resignation of long-time junior high principal Jimmy Alsup.

Major change also took place at each of the school district's four campuses, where alterations and additions were financed through the previous year's $2.75-million bond election.

The following is a month-by-month review of 1990:

JANUARY

The new year was literally started off with a bang in Iowa Park, when a 14-year-old male broke into Wal-Mart on New Year's Eve, apparently intending to steal guns and ammunition. He and local police officers exchanged gunfire before he finally gave himself up. The youth suffered a minor injury to one hand, and none of the officers was injured. Fire destroyed one home and heavily damaged another in the city within 24 hours. Architect's plans for a new Recreational Activities Center building were approved by the city council. Senior Bruce Palmer was named second team All-State, defensive platoon, even though he was not named on the All-District defensive team. IPHS junior Paul Schlaud won first place in a VFW speech contest and was awarded a college scholarship. Police raided a home on East Pecan and, for the second time in a year, found drugs allegedly being sold from that location. Mrs. John Clapp was named president of the Iowa Park Garden Club. Corkey Nelson, head coach at the Univ. of North Texas, was guest speaker at the annual Hawk football banquet. Charles Wright was named Fireman of the Year and Kent Chapman received a Special Service Award at the annual banquet for the Iowa Park Volunteer Fire Dept. Iowa Park FFA Chapter was named a recipient of the National Safety Award. A young mother and two children died in a house fire in the 700 block of South Victoria. A woman living on East Cash became the first to be charged with "abuse of 9-1-1" after heckling police with four calls within one hour. Recipients of the Chamber of Commerce awards, presented at the organization's annual banquet, were: Tommie Smith, Outstanding Senior Citizen; Carole Venhaus, Outstanding Educator, and Bob Hamilton, Outstanding Citizen. Ruth Gard retired after 30 years service to the Wichita County Farm Bureau.

FEBRUARY

Work crews began preparations for the one-lane expansion of West Highway. A delayed Christmas dinner was served by Betty Quisenberry to her grandson, Army Pvt. Micheal Johnson, upon his return from the invasion of Panama. Iowa Park Garden Club presented Mr. and Mrs. Monty Britt the Yard of the Year award. Herman Smith, manager of Woodbriar Apartments, told police he was shot during a daylight robbery, but later admitted it was self-inflicted. The Lady Hawks ended their season with a pair of losses and finished 2-8 in district and 10-20 overall. UIL realignment made little change in Iowa Park's district, swapping Breckenridge for Decatur. School trustees were informed the state would short Iowa Park $25,922 due to a shortfall of revenue. The Hawks wound up their basketball season with a 13-15 record. Police Chief Alan Sheffield announced his resignation. The city accepted an unused radio tower from Wichita Falls. School trustees changed a long-standing policy and approved two-year contracts for administrators, when the Hawks placed second and the Lady Hawks placed third (by a scant one-third point) in the district track meet. Wayne Parsons was named the new chief of police, moving here from Temple. Almost four inches of rain caused a postponement of the annual Clean-Up Day. Those same rains were blamed for overloading the city's sewer system, causing backup in homes and Bradford Elementary. The city council approved bids to build a "plain vanilla" Recreational Activities Center building, costing $99,104.

Eventhough his scholarship was for academics, Bruce Palmer signed an agreement to play football at West Texas State Univ. Kerri Dornier and Melody Gray were named to the All-District basketball team.

MARCH

Youthful vandals were blamed for extensive damage caused at the Wichita County Precinct yard and Bradford Elementary, though no charges were ever filed. Candice McKee and Nancy Bauer were among 10 Region Nine teachers to receive $500 mini grants for model classroom development. Cryovac President Bill Sturgis visited the local plant to make the first President's Award for employee safety. A permit for construction of a new business building, the first in Iowa Park since 1988, was issued to C&L Service Center. Fifty teams competed in the annual Iowa Park Lions Club Hawk Relays. Wayne Chitwood and Jimmy Duggins were named to the All-District basketball team. Winners were selected in the annual Iowa Park 4-H and FFA Project Show. Spring rains raised the level of Lake Iowa Park six feet and began overflowing. The city took delivery of its new $137,000 pumper fire truck. The city requested a Corps of Engineers study of the floodway area. Iowa Park Athletic Booster Club donated $6,800 to the school to equip the expanded fieldhouse. A homemade gun exploded, seriously injuring the hand of Jeremy Sellers. The First Baptist Church observed its centennial. State school board member Bill Hudson spoke locally of his frustrations with legislators. Police filed charges against three Wichita Falls teenagers following a spree here of shooting out windows. Residents began receiving census forms in the mail.

APRIL

A tornado funnel was sighted in the Kamay and Valley View area the second week of the month, causing a warning for Iowa Park and area residents. Some structures were damaged in Holliday, but no injuries were reported. Yellow Mount, one of the best-known stallions of the paint horse breed, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Williamson, died. Dolores Hamilton, co-publisher of the Iowa Park Leader, was awarded the coveted Sam Holloway Award by the North and East Texas Press Association. The boys' tennis team captured the Dist. 5-AAA championship. A wind storm tore away a portion of the roof of Ken's Pizza, and the accompanying rain inflicted heavy damage to the interior, forcing the business to close for extensive repairs. Shea Slack and Christopher Blalack were recognized by the 23 Study Club as the year's outstanding senior girl and boy. Twelve athletes qualified for the regional track meet.

MAY

The city council rescinded its previous decision to construct a sewer line, costing $42,656, from the highway rest stop to Lake Iowa Park dam, which was primarily to serve the gun club. Wayne House was elected mayor and Johnny Crawford and Charlie Helms aldermen by a near-record turnout in the city election. In the first council meeting following the election, Mayor House attempted to appoint Crawford mayor pro tem, but could not get support from the council, and Alderman Johnny Coker, who had held that position several years, was re-appointed. In the school board election, Keith Fisher and Randy Catlin were elected. Four Iowa Park homes benefitted from volunteer workers participating in the "Christmas In Spring" program. School trustees were informed that, for the first time since the Texas Education Assessment of Minimum Skills (TEAMS) test has been administered, Iowa Park students set a local high record by averaging 91.09 percent mastery. Jennifer Welch was named valedictorian of the graduating class at IPHS, and Chris Blalack salutatorian. A record number of scholarships, 20, were awarded to 12 members of the senior class. Ribbon cutting ceremonies were held the same day for three businesses: C&L Service Center, Meredith's Boutique and Affordable Furniture. Grand Master of Masons in Texas, A.D. Hanna, presented Charlie Metz a 50-year award, and the Golden Trowel Award to Tom Barnett. The Hawk baseball team captured the district championship, and after losing 5-3 to Abilene Wylie in bi-district, finished the season with a 17-5 record. Freshman Erica Knight competed in the state track meet in Austin, and returned with third place medals in both the triple jump and 100-meter hurdles. A construction worker broke a natural gas line at the high school, forcing evacuation of everyone in the building; there was no fire nor any injuries. Wayne Chitwood signed an agreement to play basketball at Tarleton State Univ. Brande Overman and Holly Burroughs were named Eighth Grade valedictorian and salutatorian, respectively. Bill Chandler earned National Junior College Athletic Association All-American honors while playing tennis for Collin County Community College.

JUNE

As if the previous two months hadn't been wet enough, the city received an additional 4.01 inches of rainfall the first couple of days of June. A woman was arrested for aggravated assault on a police officer when she attempted to intervene, with a wrench, when officers responded to a domestic disturbance in the 300 block of West Bank. Janice Latimer was installed as Worthy Matron of the Iowa Park Chapter of Eastern Star. Fire destroyed 45 acres of unharvested wheat on the Linda Hicks farm. Mike Grubbs was installed as president of the Iowa Park Rotary Club. Construction workers attempting to drill peer holes for the addition to the junior high school building ran into all sorts of problems, including drilling into an old and forgotten septic tank.

JULY

Thieves apparently drove down Karen Street one evening, taking all outdoor furniture and decorative items that were not nailed down. Quick response by Iowa Park firemen contained a second story fire to one room of the Glenn Miller home near FM 369. The city council approved the "freeport" tax exemption. A group from the First Baptist Church, headed by Rev. Derrell Monday, returned from a missionary trip to Kenya. City workers began an aggressive program of resurfacing asphalt streets with a slurry mix, to seal cracks. Construction was begun on the RAC building. Head boys' track coach and assistant football coach Barry Lucy submitted his resignation after accepting similar positions at Ruidosa, N.M. A 17-year-old former resident who refused to stop when signaled by Iowa Park police was injured when his motorcycle collided with a patrol unit. Baseball fever ran high, as Little League teams fared well: Seniors advanced to the sectional tournament; Majors finalists in the district tourney; Iowa Park hosting two girls' district tournaments, and the Mickey Mantle team advancing to the state tournament.

AUGUST

The city council cut the tax rate from 88.5-cents to 80.0, and also reduced water rates by 15 percent. Graduates Bruce Palmer and Jimmy Duggins played for the Texas team, which was coached by Len Williams, in the 1990 Oil Bowl in Wichita Falls. School trustees voted to retain its policy of paying teachers $1,500 above state base, plus an additional $300 for living within the district. The board also approved a 15-cent tax rate increase, 11 of which was to retire the $2.75-million bond issue approved the previous year, with the new rate rising to 96-cents per $100 evaluation. The United Way fund-raising campaign was kicked off with a feed for volunteers. Classes got underway for 1,915 Iowa Park students, but construction was not completed at any of the four campuses. The city gave its displaced pumper fire truck to Cameron Garden Volunteer Fire Dept. Five arrests were made over a four-week period of young men accused of stealing vehicles from an East Highway sales lot.

SEPTEMBER

Fourth grader Troy Don Potter was credited with saving the life of his four-year-old brother who was choking by applying the Heimlich Maneuver. Police arrested a 22-year-old man for allegedly stealing money and property from an elderly man he was hired to care for. A rental truck stolen in Wichita Falls was found here, minus its cargo valued at $20,000. Bob Ritchie Chevrolet was sold to Herb Easley, Wichita Falls dealer, and Park Ford owner Leon Stevenson announced he was closing out here because he had purchased a dealership in East Texas. Former resident Monty Castro was injured, and his wife paralyzed, when the couple was driving to Iowa Park from Wichita Falls after hearing Castro's stepfather had suffered a heart attack. Rainfall for the month totaled 2.59 inches.

OCTOBER

Two of Iowa Park's oldest businesses changed names: Tanner, Aulds, Dutton Funeral Home is now Dutton Funeral Home, and Settle Drug was changed to Hughes Pharmacy. Burglars struck four businesses the same evening, including Catlin Oil, Spruiell Drilling, Sincerely Yours and Bob Ritchie Chevrolet. A couple of weeks later someone attempted to force open a door at Park Clinic, but did not gain entry. Junior High principal Jimmy Alsup resigned, effective Nov. 30, and Randy Loveloy, who had been assistant principal at the high school was named his replacement. Also,

Owens, Wenger vows exchanged Saturday

Miss Jamie Lanette Owens became the bride of Christopher Markus Wenger during a double-ring ceremony Saturday at First United Methodist Church. Rev. Karl Klaus, pastor, officiated the exchange of nuptials.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Owens of Iowa Park and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Elisabeth Wenger and the late Mark Wenger of Wichita Falls.

Presented in marriage by her father for both parents, the bride was radiant in a formal gown of white satin and Schiffler lace. The mermaid style gown featured a high neckline with tear drop pearls at the throat, and a key hole back.

The long fitted sleeves were enhanced with cut-outs of lace and seed pearls. The shirred side panels of the dress were defined with the lace and pearls as well. A circular flounce skirt was outlined with lace and swept to a semi-cathedral train.

A pearl headband accented with sprays of pearls and beads secured a short illusion veil with pencil edging.

She carried a cascade bouquet formed of all white satin roses, sweet-heart roses, gardenias, and stephanotis, accented with pearls and pearlized gypsophila with silver highlights throughout the design.

Attending the bride were Emilie Flick Gilstrap of Dallas, matron of honor; Lisa Grace of Wichita Falls, maid of honor; and Barbara Wenger of Fremont, Cal., sister of the groom, Diane Teeters and Denise Jackson, both of Wichita Falls, bridesmaids.

The bridal attendants were dressed identically, each in a tea-length drop waist dress featuring a bodice of white brocade paisley print with a black full taffeta skirt. A key hole back was accented with a black bow.

Each carried an arm bouquet of three red calla lilies with red tulle and black satin bows.

Megan Horton of Iowa Park lit candles for the ceremony. She wore a black velvet dress styled with a white lace collar and white lace trim on the hemline. She wore a corsage formed of red sweetheart roses with black and silver accents.

The groom was attired in a black tuxedo with a bowtie, accented with a boutonniere of white sweetheart roses and pearlized gypsophila.

The groom was attended by Todd Lundberg of Denton, as best man. Groomsmen were Billy Whitford of Fremont, Cal., Thomas Wenger, cousin of the groom, of Switzerland, Chuck Bolden of Wichita Falls, and Chris Schlabs of Dallas.

Tracy Fulton of Dallas and Larry Benton of Wichita Falls assumed ushering duties.

Each of the groomsmen and ushers wore a black tuxedo with a red bowtie and cummerbund. The father of the bride wore a black tuxedo and bowtie. Boutonnieres of red sweetheart roses and pearlized gypsophila were worn by each male member of the wedding party.

Mothers and grandmothers of the couple carried long stem red roses tied with red ribbon.

Two-nine branched candelabras decorated with red bows provided illumination at the altar, and a unity candle decorated with a red bow completed the altar setting.

White satin bows graced each of the pews, with family pews noted with pine greenery.

Lynette Meisel sang "Only God Could Love You More," during the family procession prior to the ceremony. She sang "The Lord's Prayer" during the ceremony, and she and Denise Jackson offered a duet, "Love Is the Reason."

Parents of the bride honored the couple with a post-nuptial reception at the University Club.

The bride's table was the focal point of the room, covered in white with black satin cord and black taffeta bows caught up in swags at intervals.

The table held an elegant five-tiered white cake accented with white pearls and beads. Two silver candelabras completed the table setting.

Mrs. Tracy Fulton and Mrs. Cattie Jackson presided at the bride's table.

The groom's table held a chocolate cake accented with a whirl of dark and light chocolate roses. Mrs. Lane Adams and Jill Robertson presided.

The buffet table was centered with a tall crystal vase with black marbles at the bottom, filled with white silk calla lilies. The table was covered similarly to the bride's table.

To complete decorations in the reception area, white trees with white lights were placed throughout the room.

Out-of-town guests to the wedding were Klara Born of Switzerland, grandmother of the groom, Thomas Wenger of Switzerland, Barbara Wenger of Fremont, Cal., sister of the groom, and Billy Whitford of Fremont, Cal.

The mother of the groom was hostess for a rehearsal dinner given Friday evening at the University Club.

When the couple left on a honeymoon cruise to the Bahamas, the new bride wore a candlelight crepe suit enhanced with pearl buttons.

The couple will make their home in Wichita Falls.

Miss Owens is a graduate of Iowa Park High School, and Wenger is a graduate of Rider High School. Both are seniors at Midwestern State Univ.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Disney of Dallas, and Mr. and Mrs. Bud Teel of Wichita Falls announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their children, Moneita Lynn Disney and John Hampton Teel.

Cook of the Week

Mrs. Paul Duffey

Jean (Mrs. Paul) Duffey's recipes are a blessing for those who like sweets and desserts, but must adhere to strict diets for medical reasons.

Jean's husband was diagnosed with Type II Diabetes, which can be controlled with a diet. She was already using low cholesterol recipes for herself, and found it easy to adapt them to fit his dietary needs.

She loves to bake, and can't resist making the "traditional" pies and cakes at Christmastime for the other members of the family. So this week, Jean is sharing several recipes to use when cooking for the diabetic, and also a few that will satisfy a "sweet tooth."

In addition to cooking, Jean enjoys sewing, ceramics, arts and crafts, and making items for her church bazaar. Paul retired in September after 40 years of federal service. They are active members of Christ the King Catholic Church, where she is a member of the Ladies Altar Society and he is past Grand Knight of the Knights of Columbus.

Their four children are Jerome of Hampton, Va.; Theresa of Ft. Walton Beach, Fla.; Paul Jr. who lives in Iowa Park and is a city carrier for the post office, and Maureen, also of Iowa Park, who has one semester left before receiving her degree in nursing from Midwestern State Univ.

COOKED CRANBERRY SAUCE (for the diabetic)

1 lb. fresh cranberries
2 1/2 cups cold water
1 tsp. grated orange rind
2 tsp. granulated gelatin
1/2 tsp pure orange extract
Sugar substitute to equal 3/4 cup of sugar

Pick out and wash cranberries. Place in deep pan with 2 cups water and orange rind. Bring to a boil and cook until all cranberries have "popped."

Meanwhile, soak gelatin in 1/2 cup cold water. Remove cranberries from the heat. Add gelatin, orange extract and sweetener.

Stir in gelatin and make sure it is all dissolved. Store in refrigerator. Yields: 8 - 1/2 cup servings.

FRENCH APPLE CLAFOUTE (for the diabetic)

4 cups Granny Smith or Rome apples, sliced and peeled (4 medium-large)
1 1/2 cup skim milk
4 eggs or 1 carton egg beaters
1/2 cup all purpose flour
1/4 cup sugar
1 1/2 tsp. vanilla
1/2 tsp. cinnamon
1/2 tsp. salt

Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Spray a 10-inch, non-stick pie pan with vegetable pan coating. Arrange apples evenly in pan.

In blender, combine milk and eggs. Add remaining ingredients and blend well. Spread batter over apples and bake one hour or until custard forms and the cake tests done by inserting a toothpick that comes out clean.

Note: I can use this also for low cholesterol diet if I use the skim milk and the egg beaters.

APPLE COBBLER (for the diabetic)

1 3/4 lb. apples (tart) - 4 cups
1 1/2 Tbsp. fresh lemon juice
1/2 tsp. grated lemon rind
1 Tbsp. corn starch
1 tsp. apple pie spice
1/4 tsp. salt (divided)
Sugar substitute to equal 4 table-spoons sugar
1/2 cup flour
3 Tbsp. margarine

Preheat oven to 425 degrees. Spray pan with vegetable spray. Pare apples and cut into wedges. Combine apples, lemon juice and rind. Combine corn-starch, spice, 1/8 of the salt and sweetener. Mix well. Add apples and stir lightly with a fork to coat all sides. Spread apples in prepared pan and set aside.

Mix flour and remaining 1/8 tsp. salt. Cut in margarine with a fork until crumbly. Scatter over top of apples. Bake 25 minutes or until top is golden brown. Makes 1 - 9-inch pie.

Note: Again, here the only thing I use for the cholesterol problem is a good grade of oil margarine.

LIBRARY NEWS

The library hosted a number of holiday activities, each with great success. Approximately 95 children were entertained by the Story Patch Players as they presented two shows of "When the North Wind Blows."

Some 70-75 children were treated to Christmas parties held for storytime classes. Those attending enjoyed Christmas movies, songs, and games, and were served Christmas refreshments. Each child also received a special treat to take home for the holidays.

The big event was a visit from Santa and Mrs. Clause at Santa's Castle. Approximately 225 children attended as the library was transformed into a Christmas haven complete with stories, songs and fun activities for young and old alike.

Kingcade, Levell wed here Tuesday

The Lakeview Church of God was the setting for double-ring ceremony uniting Miss Christy Lynn Kingcade and Randy Wayne Levell at 7 p.m. New Year's Day.

Rev. Ole Olds, pastor, officiated the ceremony for the daughter of Dale and Jackie Kingcade of Wichita Falls and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Levell of Wichita Falls.

The bride's chosen colors of teal and white governed decorations at the altar. The bride and groom exchanged vows before an altar centered with a brass archway accented with a spray of teal and white flowers. Heart-shaped candelabras flanked the archway. Satin teal bows decorated the candelabras and the pews in the church.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a formal white satin gown for her wedding day. The fitted bodice was embellished with lace and pearls and featured a V-neck. The long sleeves were made of sheer lace, puffed at the shoulders.

The waist of the gown was dropped in style and featured a straight floor-length skirt with a tapered overlay that swirled into a chapel-length train.

A wide-rimmed white satin hat trimmed with pearls and flowers secured a two-tiered fingertip illusion veil, accented with puffs of net at the back.

A large cascade bouquet formed of white and teal roses with pearls and lace added the finishing touch to her ensemble.

Honor attendants were Miss Becky Brumeloe of Kamay and Travis Hickey of Wichita Falls.

Miss Brumeloe wore a dress featuring a fitted black velvet bodice with long sleeves puffed at the shoulders. The dropped waist went to a teal taffeta skirt styled with a high-low hemline. She carried three teal roses encircled with greenery and baby's breath and tied with ribbon.

The groom was attired in a white tuxedo with a tailed coat and a teal bow tie and cummerbund. Hickey wore a black tuxedo with a teal bow tie and cummerbund.

Tia Fulfer of Iowa Park, cousin of the bride, and Tishda Stolper of Wichita Falls, niece of the groom, were flower girls. Each of the girls wore a dress styled the same as the maid of honor's, but with tea-length skirts, and carried a small basket filled with white silk flower petals, which they dropped on the path to the altar.

Jeremy Kingcade, brother of the bride, and Kelly Dickerson, cousin of the groom, both of Iowa Park, served as ushers. They were attired in black dress jeans and white dress shirts.

Mrs. Ole Olds provided prelude music, and offered "Honestly" as the wedding party entered the sanctuary, and the wedding march for the bride's entrance.

During the ceremony, taped versions of "Household of Faith" and "To Me" were played.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Fellowship Hall of the church.

Misty Luna, step-sister of the bride, registered guests at a table covered with teal satin, and holding the bride's book, a teal plume pen and a small candelabra.

The bride's table held a three-tiered heart shaped cake, iced in white with teal flowers enhancing each tier. The cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom standing in a circle of white flowers with a cascade of flowers going over their heads.

Special guests for the wedding were Lloyd and Billie Tepler of Iowa Park, grandparents of the bride, Maxine Grog of Kamay and Wilma Jean Gamble of Vernon, grandmothers of the groom, and Edna Lemond of Iowa Park, great-grandmother of the bride.

The bride was graduated from Iowa Park High School, and the groom graduated Holliday High School. The couple has made their home in Wichita Falls.

DURING HOLIDAYS

More broken water pipes than laws

It's a good thing criminal activity was extremely light during the holiday period, because the police dispatchers were kept busy answering calls from residents where water lines had burst.

Heaviest periods for the calls were in a 48-hour period of both Christmas and New Year's Day.

There were, however, four arrests listed on the police blotter from Dec. 25 through Dec. 31, with three of those arrests on the last date.

When officers stopped a vehicle just east of the city limits on a traffic check, they arrested Worth Culberson, 28, after it had been determined he was wanted by the sheriff's department on a warrant for theft by check. He was turned over to a deputy to be transported to the jail.

Two occupants in the same vehicle that was stopped at 2:42 a.m. Monday in the 1300 block of West Highway were taken into custody for public intoxication.

They were Ricky Allen and Edward Dwayne Crowle, ages 36 and 31, respectively. Both were released at 7:20 after signing personal recognizance bonds.

At 3:47 p.m. Monday, police arrested John Lawrence Hoelter, 30, after a complaint had been filed against him by another man for assault. After being taken before a justice of the peace, he was transported to county jail, according to the blotter.

An Iowa Park warrant was issued Dec. 22 to a man already in county jail.

Wichita Falls police had arrested David Brian Chizmadia, 25, on their own felony warrant for probation-theft, when Iowa Park police were notified. The local warrant was for defective tail lamp.

Discover The Joy

I recently read an article in the paper where three youths were rebaptized in order to become more serious about their religion.

I believe in only one baptism for the remission of sins. The bible says in Ephesians 4:3-6: (3) Do your best to keep the oneness of the spirit, using peace as your bond (4) There is one body and one spirit - even as you have been called to share one hope (5) One Lord, one faith, one baptism (6) One God and Father of all who is over all through all and in all.

God says in Rom 6:3 Or do you not know that all of us who were baptized into Christ Jesus were baptized into His death?

I suggest you read all of chapter 6. It tells us a lot about baptism.

In verse 23 it says: The wages paid by sin is death, but the gift given freely by God in Christ Jesus our Lord is everlasting life.

So you see it's the power of the word of God that makes the difference in our baptism - not what we do. If you chose to be baptized again it only shows a lack of faith in the words and promises of God.

If you are baptized once, twice or a hundred times your only hope is still in the one death and resurrection of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ.

Read Romans chapter 4 and you will see that we are justified by faith and not of our words. Again in Ephesians, 2:8-9; (8) Yes by His grace you are saved through faith. It is not your own doing; it is God's gift (9) It is not the result of anything you have done and so no one may boast.

Our boast is only in what Christ has done for us.

I thank God that I don't depend on anything that I have done for my salvation, but that God in His mercy sent His only begotten son to pay for my guilt. So I'll cling to that old rugged cross and exchange it someday for a crown.

I'll bet my life on it.

APPROACHING THE NEW YEAR

Psalms 118:24 gives the ideal way to approach this New Year and every day of it. "This is the day the Lord has made; I will rejoice and be glad in it." Let every day be a God-given day and it will be a God-governed day on the road to become a God-gladdened day.

See each day as a gift from God. You have a day that God has made. It is a gift from God. Every day God gives you enough time to work, laugh, learn, love, and for leisure. All of us have the same amount of time in each day - 24 hours, 1,440 minutes or 86,400 seconds.

Learn to live in the present tense. "This is the day..." There are two days all should refuse to live in. One is yesterday and the other is tomorrow. Paul said, "to forget the things that are behind..." Forget past guilt, past grief, past grudges, and past glories. Live in the now. Don't anticipate tomorrow. So many people endure today so they can enjoy tomorrow. Enjoy today! Don't worry about tomorrow. When you worry, you don't take the sorrow out of tomorrow but its strength. God gives us grace and strength each day.

Prioritize the day. "This is the day..." Redeem the time says Paul in Ephesians 5. To kill time is to commit suicide by degrees. To kill time is to really kill self because time and life are the same thing. To use your time wisely, get alone with God, make a priority list of things that must be done, do it daily, and begin the task.

See procrastination as a sin. The day is passing. Time can't be stopped. You can put money in the bank, but not time. Timeout can be called in a ballgame, but not in life. You must use time or lose it forever. Someone put this ad in a periodical: "Lost - a golden hour studded with 60 diamond minutes. No reward offered. For it is lost forever."

Choose to enjoy today. "...We will rejoice and be glad in it." You can choose to be happy or unhappy. One husband when asked what his wife did said she was in the manufacturing business. When the inquirer asked, "What does she manufacture?" The husband replied pointedly, "Her own unhappiness."

Approach the New Year by saying, "This is the day the Lord has made; I will rejoice and be glad in it."

Family gathers

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Benson Sr., of 702 S. Bond, almost has a five-generation gathering in their home this Christmas.

Only their mothers, Edna Benson, who lives in Aurora, Ore., and Lydia Wirth, of Portland, Ore., were unable to attend. They were unable to make the long trip, because of their ages, a family member said.

But four generations were here. They included Linda Caroy, their daughter, her son, James Caroy, and his daughter, Kayla Marie Caroy, all of Kenosha, Wis.

Girls 2nd, boys 3rd at A.C.

The Lady Hawks placed second and the Hawks third in last week's Archer City Holiday Basketball Tournament.

District play for the Lady Hawks will get underway Friday evening, when Brocktonids comes to town. That contest is to start at 8, following freshman and junior varsity play.

The girls will travel to Vernon Tuesday for their second conference contest.

The Hawks will not see district action for another week, on Friday, Jan. 11, when they travel to Bridgeport.

Prior to that, however, they have two tough games on their schedule. They were to travel to Wichita High last night, according to the schedule, and next Tuesday they take on the state's top-ranked AAA Bulldogs at Burk Burnett.

The Lady Hawks were edged by Burk Burnett 44-38 in Saturday's championship contest at Archer City.

To reach the final, Iowa Park had blown out Electra 68-21, and in the second round knocked off host Archer City by a 36-29 margin.

Melody Gray had a field day in the Electra game, racking up 22 points. She was trailed by Kerri Dornier's 14.

In Friday's game with Archer City, the score was tied at 16-16 when the two teams took their mid-game break, and the Lady Hawks led by only one point going into the final frame.

Dornier was the only Iowa Parkan in double digits, scoring 12.

Gray and Erica Knight each had 13 points in the title match Saturday.

In that game, Burk Burnett jumped out to a 23-20 halftime lead. That was cut to a 30-30 tie before the end of the third period, however.

To reach the final, Burk Burnett had blown out Crowell 75-30 in the first round, and advanced with a 55-32 win over Windhorst.

Led by Jeremy Carroll's 16 points, and 13 more from Brent Wineinger, the Hawks advanced into the second round with a 61-54 win over Electra.

But Iowa Park was sent into the third-place final by Archer City with a 61-54 loss.

Wineinger led the green and white scorers with 13 points. Todd Pulley and Bill Merrick each contributed 10.

Scott Skinner's 22 points made a major difference in the Hawks' overtime win over Midway in Saturday's final game.

A strong second half was needed to get into an overtime, however, as the Hawks had trailed 28-17 at the half. They narrowed that to only one point in the third quarter, outscoring Midway 15-5.

8 Hawks are All-District

Three Hawks were named to the first team All-District list, one second team and five were honorable mentions.

Selections were made after the regular season by Dist. 5-AAA coaches, but not released until the last team's competition was ended, which was Vernon's winning of the state title.

All three first-teamers were on the defensive team. They included Greg Steger, secondary; Gary Green, linebacker, and Robert Cargal, lineman.

Frank Banks was a second-team offensive lineman selection.

Receiving honorable mention were Brian Luney, linebacker; Todd Pulley, back; Charles Jolly, defensive lineman; Cory Bridwell, defensive lineman, and Lewis Skinner, offensive center.

Green, Cargal, Banks and Luney are seniors, but the other four will be back next year.

As I See It... By Bob Hamilton

'Twas the day before the day before Christmas,
When out in front of the house,
I heard a terrible noise.
I could tell immediately
It wasn't a mouse.
And then I heard my name called.
From that moment on
My day was flawed!

My wife, Dolores, had fallen on ice and broken her arm.
No, our Christmas wasn't ruined.
As usual, it was a wonderful time, with all our children and grandchildren visiting.

Despite having to keep her injured right arm elevated at all times, to hold down the swelling, Dolores made it through all the hugging and package opening just fine, thank you.

But, because it was her right arm, just above the wrist, that was injured, she's sidelined from working about six weeks.

Happy New Year, everyone!

1990 building permits triple '89

Building permits issued by city hall during 1990 were more than three times permits of 1989.

December permits amounted to only $9,210, but that raised the year's total to $3,037,518. Total permits in 1989 were $863,220.

The major portion of all permits last year, however, were those for school additions and remodeling.

Permits issued in December were:

Mark Hutchings, 615 W. Louisa, carport, $700;
Stan Horion, 716 W. Texas, shop, $3,600;
James Riddlehuber, 210 W. Alameda, alteration, $300;
Burnett Field, East Texas, repair, $1,010;
Swift, 134 James, alteration, $200;
Iowa Park Schools, 412 E. Cash, repair, $3,400.

DECEMBER

The city council accepted "with regret" the resignation of City Administrator James Barrington, who will take a similar position at Neptune Beach, Fla. in January. Iowa Park MuleSkinners held a stew and cornbread feed for all senior citizens residing in the school district. A $143,000 truck and trailer was stolen here, but found on US 287 west of the city soon after abandoned and partially stripped. School trustees rejected a request from a man wanting to apply for employment as a teacher, to change policy prohibiting the growing of beards. The Lady Hawks won first place in the Holliday basketball tournament. City aldermen heard the results of a several month study by engineers of the sewer system and recommendations for $1.45-million in improvements.
