Water District Directors to Be Elected Tuesday

Well...
I Dunno,
But...

We find it very fascinating to watch Walter Smith creating his rodeo pictures all over downtown Ranger. For free hand drawing and painting he's the best we've ever seen. Assisting him with his work is his daughter, Jeannie Scott.

Rodeo time is here again and we've suddenly discovered that we have been looking forward to this very occasion for some time. Like we've said before, we had to be educated like rodeos but the Jaycees have done a good job of educating us.

We like the hustle and bustle that comes with the rodeo and while we couldn't stand the pace too long, it's a lot of fun for a while.

Don't forget that you've been asked to wear some kind of western regalia all of this week.

The announcement Sunday that a school tax election has been called stirred up much talk over the week-end.

But talk or no talk, this is just a plain case of "have to" if Ranger schools continue to operate. The schools are largely dependent on state aid for operation and unless Ranger can pay into the $45,000,000 foundation set up by the Gilmer-Aikin act the $25,000 required, we will not be eligible for participation in the foundation. Members of the school board and officials of the schools have stated that the tax MUST be voted in the election on the 26th or another election will have to be called immediately. They have no choice in the matter of calling the election. It is mandatory under the new educational setup in Texas.

There is no alternative. When a thing has to be done, it just has to be done, even though we sometimes think that we can't. Ranger would be in a sad plight if the public schools had to be closed this fall because of lack of funds and that is exactly what will happen if the tax is not voted.

This is a matter for future welfare of Ranger and a responsibility that citizens will have to assume.

As was pointed out in the article appearing in the Sunday edition of this paper, 50 cents of the $150 tax sought will go toward retirement of bonds and $1.00 will be for the maintenance for the schools.

In a similar election at Breckenridge the election carried by six to one.

Motorcade Hailed As Big Success

Saturday's motorcade to advertise the Jaycees' Rodeo was hailed by those making the trip as one of the very best motorcades ever staged for the rodeo.

Officials of the Junior Chamber of Commerce today give credit to Weaver Aishman and Bud Fuller for the fine manner in which the motorcade was carried out.

The trippers got back into Ranger at 6:15 and staged a short show by the Calumet Indians in front of the Gholson Hotel.

Some of those who made the trip stated that the motorcade drew more attention and met with better response than any previous trip.

Cat Problem Solved

NEWPORT, N. H. (UP) — There's more than one way to skin a cat or to get one out of a tree. The perennial problem of firemen has been solved by the local department. When a cat gets high in a tree and refuses to come down Newport firemen pump a soft spray of water just above the cat, which quickly descends.

Parking Meters Go Into Effect Tuesday

Use of parking meters in Ranger becomes effective Tuesday morning at 8 o'clock, according to an announcement made this morning by Mayor Pro Tem O. G. Lanier.

Installation of the meters was being completed today and all will be ready for use Tuesday morning. The meters are in effect from 8 o'clock in the morning until 6 o'clock in the afternoon and only those spaces that have been given permits will be exempt from the parking meter-use.

Loading zones for various businesses have been granted with those requiring the zones paying $15 a year for each space requested. Businesses that require delivery service will be given permits allowing them to park anywhere for as long as 30 minutes while making deliveries. These permits for deliveries cost $12 annually and some of these have been granted by the city.

Mayor Lanier stated today that any person wishing loading zone permits or delivery permits should call at the city hall to secure them. A number have already been approved at the regular city commission meeting Tuesday night.

Mayor Lanier also stated that loading zones, where they have been permitted, have been marked off with red paint and no parking at all will be allowed in these zones except by the person owning the permit. Red zones are forbidden property for 24 hours in the day and persons violating them will be subject to fine the same as for violation of use of the parking meters.

Enforcement of the ordinance relative to the meters will begin immediately Tuesday morning and tickets will be given drivers who in any way violate the provisions of the ordinance.

The meters provide for 12 minute parking for one penny or an hour parking for five cents. No parking over two hours will be permitted.

Following is the list of those who have been given permits for loading zones.

Charles Bobo, Dr. A. K. Wier, Southern Ice Company, Ranger Furniture Exc., Betty's Flower Shop, Paramount Hotel, Ranger Jewelry Co., 500 Cleaners, Jacoby Maytag Service.

Taxi Tavern, West Texas Hospital, Homer Robinson, G. O. Strong, Fred Bonner, Clark Motor Co., Craver Electric Co., Anderson Chevrolet Co., Ranger Dry Cleaners.

Need Home And Job

Robert Briggs, 35, unemployed machinist, with his wife and four of his seven children, sits on the running board of their "home" in Cleveland, O.—a borrowed 1935-model car in which they have been sleeping for six weeks. It is the second borrowed out in which they have lived after being evicted because their children were not wanted. Briggs drives his family around with him in his daily search for work. JEHOVAH WITNESS MEET BREAKS UP IN FIGHT

DUNCAN, Okla., July 18. (UP)—A fight with Jehovah witnesses was blamed today on "hecklers" in the audience at a meeting of the cult.

The fight was broken up by Fire Chief Ernest Ray and another fireman who sprayed cold water from a 300-gallon tank on the fist-wringing battlers.

The fracas started during a talk by M. M. Downie of Brooklyn N. Y., sent by the watch tower society to address the three-day meeting.

Witnesses said that hecklers in the audience had harassed Downie during the hot afternoon in the packed auditorium.

Suddenly two groups of men marched down an auditorium aisle each waving an American flag. Several were identified as members of the local American Legion.

They mounted onto the stage and apparently tried to take over the rostrum.

Someone turned in a fire alarm during the squabble. Two trucks sped to the auditorium.

Ray said that when he reached the hall, about two-dozen men were milling around on the stage, trading punches. Four or five had bloody faces.

"Buck Lawson and I took the small hose and pushed our way inside when we saw fighting," Ray said. "I turned the hose on them and in less than two minutes it was all over."

The Local American Legion

Post denied any knowledge of the brawl.

One man, carrying a driver's license issued to W. A. Clark of Choctaw, Oklahoma was put under protective custody. He said his present address was Oklahoma City.

City Manager John Bender ordered police to file charges against all persons involved.

Resentment against the religious cult, which refuses to salute the flags of any nation on grounds they are "graven images," flared up Saturday night.

Road Letting Due Tomorrow

AUSTIN, Tex., July 18. (UP)—The Texas Highway Department will open a three-day road letting tomorrow, on projects including a two and a half mile-long highway tunnel.

The tunnel, the largest single contract in the letting, was set for bids Thursday morning. It will cost an estimated $5,100,000.

Some 50 projects totaling $13,203,300 for 442.2 miles of road construction were scheduled for letting, the department said.

The cost of manufacturing Nebraska motor vehicle license plates has jumped from 6 1/2 cents of prewar years to about 16 1/2 cents a set.

Brother Of Eastland Men Killed; Father Injured In Car Accident

F. Lee Haymes, Sr., Munday postmaster, was seriously injured and his son, F. Lee, Jr., 30, was killed as the result of a two-car collision near Fort Worth Friday night.

Mr. Haymes, Sr., is the father of Mac and Bob Haymes of Eastland. He is in St. Joseph's hospital in Fort Worth and is reported to be "holding his own." A back injury and a severely cut ear was sustained.

Funeral services for the younger Haymes, which will be held in Munday, are pending. He died about 9 P. M. in Harris Hospital in Fort Worth of injuries sustained in the accident which happened on Northwest Highway, three miles southeast of Springtown during the afternoon.

Louise Spiegelmire, 31, third occupant of the Haymes automobile, was not seriously injured and was released from the hospital Sunday. She is a Munday music teacher and a foster daughter of the postmaster.

Mrs. Haymes, Sr., died recently of leukemia.

Injured in the other car involved were: J. J. Mancini, 56, Wichita Falls, broken left leg, several broken ribs and shock; and his wife, whose back was injured.

GIRL SCOUT WORK TO BE LAUNCHED

Under the direction of Mobbie Wash, area director of the Heart of Texas Area of Girl Scout work in Texas, the Girl Scout movement was launched at a meeting held this morning at the Chamber of Commerce.

A Girl Scout Board was formed with Mrs. J. A. Bates as president; Mrs. P. M. Kuykendall, vice-president; Mrs. Earl Pittman, secretary and registrar and Dr. Carl Straley, treasurer and chairman of finance.

Mrs. Arthur Deffebach is chairman of the organization committee; Mrs. C. B. Pruet, chairman of training; G. B. Rush, Mrs. S. M. Kirkpatrick and H. C. Henderson, chairman of membership; Mrs. Morris Newnam, chairman of programs; Mrs. J. J. Kelly, chairman of public relations and Mrs. Jasper C. Masseege and Mrs. Cecil Ellis, chairmen of Girl Scout camp.

The above board compose the administrative board for the work and it is the duty of the board to carry out the policies and developments of Girl Scouts work in Ranger.

Mrs. Bates stated this morning that by the time school opens in fall that there will be a Brownie Troop and Intermediate troop for each of the elementary schools and a senior troop for high school girls. Leaders and assistant leaders for the troops are being sought and each troop will also have to have three member troop committee.

Headquarters for this area are at Brownwood.

Shivers Evades Politics In First Address

PORT ARTHUR, July 18 (UP)—Politics had only a small part in Gov. Allan Shivers' maiden speech as Chief Executive.

The new Governor addressed more than 1200 members of the Baptist Zone Training Union from the pulpit of the First Baptist Church yesterday.

Shivers formerly attended Sunday School here and was baptized at the First Baptist Church.

He spoke on "This Faithful Nation."

Though he sidestepped politics Shivers warned his listeners that "apathy on the part of citizens and failure to understand the basic aspects of freedom for which our forefathers fought" created the greatest barriers to good government.

"As free men we must make government our servant," he said. "In troubled times like this, Christian Religion, if honestly followed, is a bulwark against prejudices and against Fascist and Communist techniques of divide and conquer."

"This America of ours is based on the foundation of belief in the Almighty. Our Government, and our civilization and our people have roots deep in Christianity. We are a Christian nation, and our government of people, by the people is a Christian ideal. The freedom of man is a Christian concept."

More than 5,000,000 acres of arid and semi-arid lands in western states are under irrigation.

Webbs Still Behind Bars

Arthur C. Webb, concert violinist of Abilene, known professionally as Tobey Webb and his wife, are being retained in the Baylor County Jail at Seymour with bonds set at $1,500 and $1,000 respectively, according to Sheriff Lott Keefer.

Both are being held by Sheriff Keefer on charges of felony forgery, and they will face similar charges in at least 10 other Texas cities. They were charged in justice court at Seymour Wednesday on two counts of forgery and passing. Four charges were filed against them in Eastland Friday.

Sheriff Keefer has received copies of warrants issued against the Webbs in Nacogdoches, Lufkin, Rusk, Borger, Plainview, Coleman, Brownwood and Big Spring.

Keefer said he had been notified by authorities in Corpus Christi and San Antonio that forgery charges would be filed against the couple in those cities.

Sheriff J. B. Williams of Eastland County and deputies made the arrests Thursday night in a hotel at Cisco, after having been notified by Sheriff Keefer they were believed to be in that vicinity.

The arrests followed months of detective work by Texas Sheriff's and the State Department of Public Safety, who had been hunting a couple wanted on a total of 30 felony charges, with most of the worthless checks involved in amounts of $30 and $40.

Tax Increase Due For Texans

AUSTIN, Tex., July 18 (UP)—An increase in taxes was in the offing today for Texans, with the official word to be handed down tomorrow by the State Automatic Tax Board.

At its annual meeting tomorrow, the board, under legislation enacted by the 51st Legislature, will impose the 30-cent ad valorem tax on property for general revenue purposes.

The 30-cent tax was not set last year. Re-levying the tax this year will mean that the tax rate for 1950 will be higher than at present.

In all, the tax rate will amount to 72 cents per $100 valuation. Thirty cents goes to the general revenue fund, 35 cents to the state's school fund, five cents for the college building fund, and two cents for the Confederate Pension Fund.

State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert and State Treasurer Jesse James will attend the meeting tomorrow in the Governor's office.

However, Gov. Allan Shivers will not be present, arriving tomorrow night from his family home near Woodville.

Because the tax rate is already set by law, under an act of the 51st Legislature, the meeting will be "perfunctory," the Governor's office said.

However, on Jan. 1, 1951, the 30-cent ad valorem tax for general revenue purpose will be abolished, and given to the counties, under a constitutional amendment adopted last year by the people.

Band Rehearsal

Members of the Ranger School Band are requested to be at the band hall tonight promptly at 7 o'clock for the last rehearsal before the band's appearance Wednesday in the rodeo parade.

Arthur Shelton will direct the band in the absence of W. R. Faifer, band director.

CITY TAKING ON FESTIVE AIR TODAY

Ranger was beginning to take on a festive air today with flags and windows every where decorated with rodeo pictures.

Out at the arena the rodeo stock was being brought in under the supervision of Brown Todd, brother of Homer Todd, of Fort Smith, Arkansas, who is furnishing the stock for the show, Homer Todd arrived in Ranger Sunday night.

Fifty broncs, 25 Brahmas bulls, 25 steers for bulldozing and 35 calves for calf roping have already arrived at the arena.

Last minute plans were being made for the rodeo and Dr. Carl Straley again appealed to the merchants to enter floats in the big kick off parade Wednesday afternoon. The parade will form at the intersection of Marston and Walnut Streets at 3 o'clock and from there take off for the colorful trek up Main street before the thousands of people who are expected to witness the parade.

Headed by the Hardin-Simmons Cowboy Band the parade will include five other bands from Ranger, Breckenridge, Eastland, Comanche and Stephenville. Other out-of-town entries include the Sheriff's Poses from Palo Pinto and Parker Counties, Shetland ponies from the Thomas Federal Home in Cisco and Mayor Edgar Deen of Fort Worth as one of the horse back riders.

New Election Law Explained

The election of seven directors for the Eastland County Water Supply District will be the first election held in Ranger under the new Texas election laws.

Known as the secret ballot law, the law requires that a stub of each ballot be kept in a separate box which is never opened except in case of a contested election. The stub carries all identification of the voter and ballot itself has no identification on it except a number. The stub boxes are in the care of the district clerk.

Each voter deposits his own stub and ballot into the proper boxes after the stub has been removed from the ballot and the voters name written across the back of the stub. No name is placed on the ballot. Voters must not expose their vote to any of the election judges or clerks. The stub must be deposited in the stub box before the ballot is placed in the ballot box.

After the stub is deposited, the voter shall fold his ballot with the signature of the election judge's signature exposed. Unless the ballot and stub are deposited by the voter according to instructions, the ballot will be thrown out of the election.

Camps Still Popular

LOCONIA, N. H. (UP) — New Hampshire, where the nation's first summer camp was established in 1888, attracted 16,000 youngsters to its various summer camps this season according to the New Hampshire Health News. The publication said Camp Chochoqua on Squam Lake was the first summer camp in America.

FACT FINDING BOARD TO OPEN INQUIRY JULY 28

WASHINGTON, July 18 (UP)—President Truman's steel fact-finding board said today it will open its inquiry into the contract dispute in New York July 28.

The three-man board will study the dispute which almost touched off a nation-wide steel strike last week. The board will make recommendations for settlement of the wage and pension issues between the industry and the CIO Steelworkers Union. The recommendations are not binding on either the union or industry.

But the board's recommendations could determine whether millions of workers in basic industries are to get a fourth-round pay increase.

Carlton Daugherty, Board Chairman, said the board would hold a preliminary meeting with industry and union officials July 26 and that hearings would begin two days later.

HERE FOR RODEO

Homer Todd of Fort Smith, Arkansas, who is furnishing the stock for the Jaycees Fourth Annual Rodeo arrived in Ranger Sunday night to take charge of the rodeo stock that has already been shipped into Ranger. Todd furnished the stock for last year's rodeo.

Original Oil Production Level Draws Interest

History, they say, has a way of repeating itself—and ground for this belief is provided by the fact that the Strawn sand, the found in this region, is again the first producing level which was center of interest.

Beginning about three miles north of Ranger, oil men say that the land has been rather solidly leased for the next five to seven miles, much of it with a drilling contract.

The late W. K. Gordon discovered the shallow field at Strawn a good while before he uncovered the Ranger field with a gusher at 3,300 feet. Since the Strawn did not yield the spectacular flow of the deeper Ranger pay, operators in general—during the great oil rush here, 30 years ago—went on down in quest of the gusher sand.

But the Strawn sand is a series, therefore offers several chances for oil, and it is noted for long-lived production and, in these days of pro ration, a well can produce only a modest amount per day, any how, it costs much less, of course, to drill 1,500 feet than to go to 3,300. So the circle has been completed, or, to vary the figure of speech, the pendulum, having swung so far, has swung back again and once more the Strawn sand is the center of interest in this area.

With the extensive leasing which has been in progress for some time, Ranger is looking forward to a considerable number of tests, especially since two Strawn sand producers recently were completed to the north and two others to the northwest.

Says Advertising Doubled Since '39

NEW YORK, July 18. (UP)—The Bureau of Advertising of the American Newspaper Publishers Association reported today that newspaper advertising has more than doubled since 1939.

The increase was in dollar volume of advertising. The Bureau said National Advertisers spent $404,000,000 on newspaper ads in 1948 — almost as much as the combined total for newspapers, magazines, and radio networks in 1939.

SEVEN MEN ENDORSED FOR PLACES

An election will be held in Ranger Tuesday to name seven directors for the Eastland County Water Supply District.

Seven men who are eligible to hold the offices have been endorsed by civic organizations, and the city commission and are Dr. P. M. Kuykendall, C. B. Pruet, E. H. Mills, J. J. Kelly, F. P. Brasher Sr., Edwin George and Dr. Bob Hodges.

Those eligible to vote in the election Tuesday are those property owners who have properly rendered their property for taxation and have paid their tax or otherwise qualified voters. The same qualification held for the directors. Voters must also reside within the city limits of Ranger as that is the boundary for the district.

No names will appear on the ballots but will have to be written in. In view of the fact that not all citizens are eligible to serve as directors, those voting are urged to heed the endorsement of the above seven men, all of whom are fully qualified to serve the water district as directors. The seven men receiving the largest number of votes will be declared directors of the district.

Election of the directors is the first step necessary for pushing ahead plans to create an ample water supply for the city of Ranger.

Qualified voters are urged to cast their votes in the election Tuesday. The Eastland County Water Supply District was created this spring by an act of the Legislature and became a law when signed by the late Gov. Beauford Jester. Creation of the district was requested by representatives of the city of Ranger and the Chamber of Commerce and others interested in the development of a greater water supply for Ranger.

Wallace To Be Labor Candidate

NEW YORK, July 18. (UP)—Henry Wallace will be named the American Labor Party's candidate for U. S. Senator next fall on a ticket which will include Rep. Vito Marcantonio as candidate for Mayor, it was disclosed today.

Political sources said the ALP ticket lineup will be announced tonight by the party's designating committee. Wallace, a resident of South Salem, N. Y., will seek the Senate seat made vacant by the resignation of Democratic Sen. Robert F. Wagner, Sr.

Marcantonio, leftist ALP Chief-tain who represents the Spanish Harlem area in Congress, recently said he would oppose O'Dwyer if the Mayor ever ran for reelection. O'Dwyer announced his candidacy last week.

The ALP aligned itself with the Democratic Party in the 1945 election, rolling up 257,000 votes for O'Dwyer. Newbold Morris, who was the no-deal candidate in that election, is the Republican-Liberal-Fusion candidate this year.

Property Owner Defies Bridge Builder

When El Verano, Calif., county officials began construction of a highway bridge, they ran into a little trouble. Mrs. Ruth Denney, whose property is near the bridge, stopped the work by standing in front of the construction equipment, claiming the bridge would ruin a nearby picnic ground. A few days later the construction men returned to find the area where the bridge was to be under water. Mrs. Denney had built a dam across the Sonoma River backing the water into the construction area. Standing guard are Mrs. Denney and "Tex" B. Johnson, a veteran of the White Fleet of Teddy Roosevelt and former Texas Ranger. Officials are waiting for legal action before attempting to continue work. (NEA Telephoto.)

POPE WARNS OF DOWNFALL OF GODLESS STATES

ROME, July 18. (UP)—Pope Pius XII, now waging a bitter fight against Communism in Southern Europe, warned yesterday that states which are not founded on a belief in God are "doomed to downfall."

The pontiff spoke in German over the Vatican radio to a congress of Catholics in Berlin celebrating the 50th Anniversary of the Pope's ordination to the priesthood.

He made no reference to the global excommunication issued Wednesday by the Vatican, whereby all Catholics who are members of the Communist party were deprived of the sacraments and those who actively supported the party were excommunicated.

But he praised the people of Berlin for their resistance to the "times of dissolution of the order and the apparent revolution of all moral values."

"If you let your gaze wander over Berlin's limitless fields of ruins," he said, "your eyes no longer will find the Metropolitan City which once stormed the heavens."

"Is it not a warning against pursuing worldly values in this life and seeking the ultimate only in them?" he added. "There is only one ultimate thing: 'God and the restless devotion to God.'"

The Pope said "the community and the state may appear firmly anchored in the foundations of the universe" and then added:

"But if they are not erected on the belief in God and when they are not borne by men with deep love of God, they are through inner necessity doomed to downfall."

Meantime, Italian Communist Boss Palmiro Togliatti spoke against the Vatican decree excommunicating Communists.

Addressing 2,500 persons at Rome's Adriano theater, Togliatti did not specifically mention the decree but his implication was unmistakable when he said:

"Today, the reactionary forces, with their Anti-Communist violence, are trying to use a new weapon. But this weapon will not prevail, will not succeed."

The Communist Boss permitted a lesser Communist to present the party's official attitude towards the excommunication decree.

Aldo Natoli, 35, leader of the Rome Communist section, said: "It is all ridiculous. All this system of intimidation never frightened us and will not frighten us today."

In Vienna, Austria, the Roman Catholic Church appealed to voters to "bear in mind" the Vatican's decree when they cast ballots in the October National Elections.

The Church News Bulletin said "Austria's Catholics are aware of the lessons history has taught in neighboring peoples' democracies."

Carpenter Held In Houston Churchyard Death

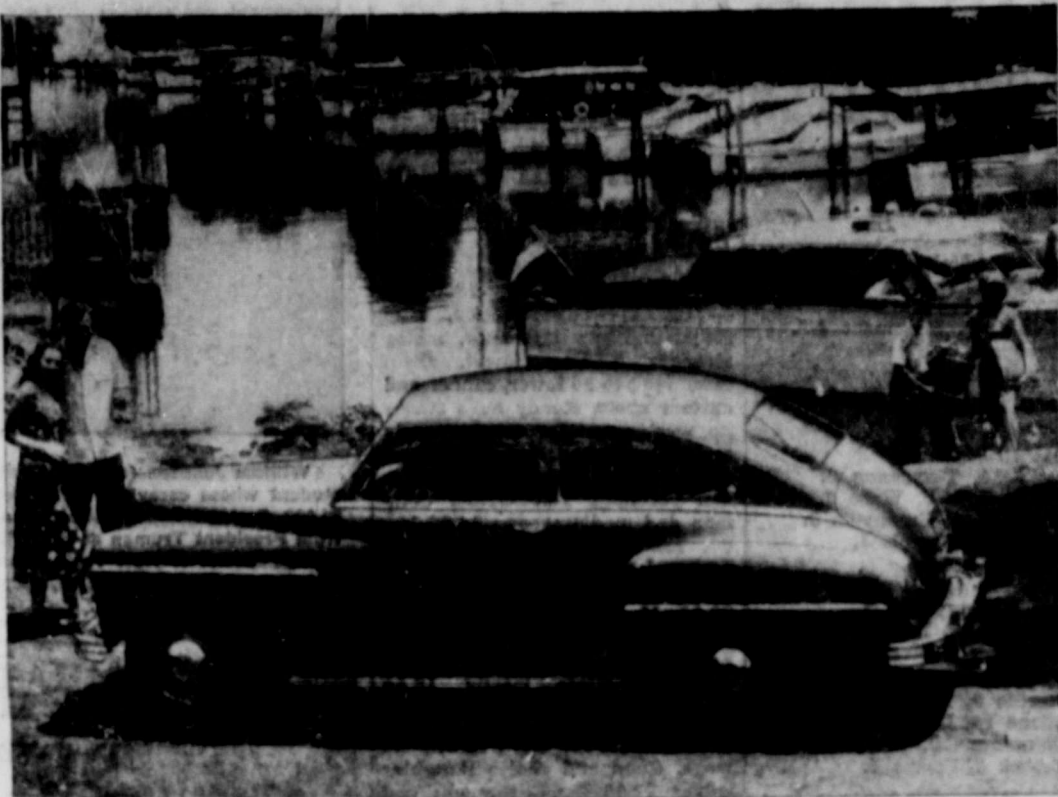

HOUSTON, Tex. (UP)—A soft-spoken, balding carpenter was held on a charge of murder and robbery today in the mysterious churchyard slaying last week of 27-year-old Horace J. Webb. Police jailed Mr. and Mrs. Henry H. Revier Friday night, and the 50-year-old man confessed late Saturday that he had argued with Webb and then slugged him with a chipping hammer.

Mrs. Revier has refused to make a statement and was still held in jail. Police Lt. W. P. Brown said she may appear before a Grand Jury to tell what she knows of the bludgeoning slaying.

Webb's badly decomposed body was found Wednesday only 15 feet from a driveway leading to the Riverside Memorial Methodist Church. A church porter had been asked to investigate a bad odor that had permeated the neighborhood for several days.

Revier insisted his wife had no

PRODUCTION has started on the beautiful new Plymouth DeLuxe Two-door Sedan, which adds a new low priced five passenger sedan to the other eight models announced in the new Plymouth line. R. C. Somerville, general sales manager of Plymouth Motor Corporation, said first shipments of the cars to dealers are scheduled for this month. The Two-door Sedan has the same 97 horsepower engine with a 7 to 1 compression ratio as all other Plymouth models. Somerville described the vehicle as a "smart, dependable family car designed for general all-around use." Factory retail price at factory, Detroit, Michigan, is $1,410.00.

part in Webb's death.

"Mama had nothing to do with it. Let her go," he pleaded, with police.

Revier and Webb met, total strangers, in a tavern the Sunday before Webb's body was found, the carpenter told police.

Later, after visiting several other places, they argued. Revier confessed that he hit the younger man "several times" with a chipping hammer he found in his truck.

Then, according to his version of the crime, Revier took Webb's money and other belongings and dumped his body in the weeds near the church. Revier said he took $34 in cash, and buried a gold watch, cigarette lighter and billfold in Memorial Park.

His wife became suspicious, Revier said, when she found him spraying the car, a 1929 model pick-up truck.

"We weren't mad," the carpenter claimed. "We had both just had a little too much to drink."

BUG SCARES SONG OUT OF STARLIGHT OPERA SINGER

DALLAS, Tex. July 18 (UP)—A terrifying childhood memory of being attacked by locusts caused Broadway musical star Nanette Fabray to become hysterical during an open air show when a bug struck her in the face, friends said today.

Miss Fabray was singing a solo in the starlight aperette production of "Bloomer Girl," last night when a huge insect struck her in the face and dropped into her brassiere.

She screamed, turned her back to the Casino audience on the state fair grounds and yelled: "I can't go on! I can't go on!"

Another member of the cast helped her into the wings.

But she went on screaming for about three minutes as the audience sat in silent wonderment.

The show was called off and rain checks issued.

A friend of Miss Fabray said the stage star had been attacked by locusts in her childhood. The attack caused her to develop a morbid fear of insects.

Members of the cast were aware of her fear and marveled at her coolness during the six previous open air productions here.

The performance last night was the final production of "Bloomer Girl."

Bugs had flitted in and out of the spotlights playing on Miss Fabray and during the first act she craned her neck to comb a beetle out of her hair with her fingers.

The audience snickered at her gesture. Later, when Miss Fabray broke down, many believed the piercing screams were part of the show.

"I don't suppose any of us knew what was going on up there," said Betty Clark, a spectator. "We thought it was part of the play. Then the orchestra started playing louder and louder and we knew something was wrong." The Casino had taken every precaution to ease Miss Fabray's fears. Her costumes often were sprayed with DDT.

Charles R. Meeker, Jr., managing director of the Casino, praised her courage for attempting to perform against the handicap.

David Tebet, her husband, said early today she was resting comfortably.

They leave today for Los Angeles for a visit with relatives. Tebet said Miss Fabray would return to New York in the fall for rehearsals of the theater guild's new musical "The Pursuit of Happiness."

A 20-pound electric ray stores enough voltage to knock a man flat on his face. The electric ray, one of the few salt water fish capable of discharging electrical energy, stores 250 volts in its wing tips, which are used for stunning its opponents and prey.

WORK AT WARM SPRINGS REVIEWED BY WRITER

Editor's Note: United Press Science Writer Paul F. Ellis, who has been writing of the San Angelo polio epidemic, here discusses the work of the Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation Hospital, where convalescent Polio victims get not only physical but mental therapy.

By Paul F. Ellis
UNITED PRESS
(UP) Polio victims of San Angelo (UP) Jolio victims of San Angelo have at least one consolation.

There is in their state a modern hospital that specializes in the treatment of crippling effects that many times result from infatigable paralysis.

The hospital is the Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation for Crippled Children, Inc., located near Gonzales, some 260 miles from here. It is operated by a non-profit, non-sectarian charitable organization and is for Texas children with physical handicaps—whether or not they are polio victims.

Right now, the hospital is a haven for San Angelo children—youthsters who came down with polio in the current outbreak. But with treatment at Gonzales, many of the children will return home to walk or use their arms again.

The hospital already has received about 30 patients from San Angelo, and children from other cities are being taken there, too.
A recent statement by Dr. Peter M. Keating, Medical Director at Gonzales, typifies the spirit of the staff at his hospital. He said:
"What is a crippled child? Is it a child with a paralyzed arm or amputated leg, or a person that has to go around with braces, or crutches or in a wheelchair? No. Was Franklin D. Roosevelt a cripple? Definitely, no! Is the San Antonio man who, when he was about 18, had one leg amputated and then on an artificial leg went over to Austin, went through law school and graduated, got married, had infantile paralysis which badly involved his one good leg? He has two children, a splendid job and is living normally. Is he a cripple? Of course not.

"Then what is a cripple? Someone who has a physical handicap, yes, but someone who also has a wrong mental slant, someone who is defeated. Someone who has never learned that he doesn't have to be an acrobat or an ranger to be normal and to live a happy, contented, useful life.

"A cripple is something more than somebody who has to wear a brace."

Dr. Keating said that children who go to his hospital are not defeated and it is part of the treatment to make them realize that "it is within themselves to become normal, happy, useful citizens."

The Gonzales Hospital, with beds for 110 patients, is approved by the American Medical Association and by the American College of Surgeons. Its staff includes 15 to 20 registered nurses and from six to ten physical therapists, and more than 20 physicians.

The hospital comprises six modern, well-equipped buildings, erected on a 40-acre tract of land adjoining Palmetto State Park. The plant surrounds an artesian spring that flows more than 200,000 gallons of warm water daily to pools both indoors and outdoors.

The warm water pools are used by physical therapists in giving underwater exercises and treatments. The hospital buildings proper with the rooms for patients, are air-conditioned—summer and winter.

So, parents of San Angelo children now in Gonzales are bringing back words of praise for the hospital. They feel that their children are in good hands.

Defends Jester's Board Choices

EDINBURG, July 18 (UP) — "Utterly ridiculous!"

So said State Sen. Rogers Kelley of Edinburg of criticism made against the late Gov. Beauford Jester's appointments to the Texas Citrus Commission.

Kelley's remark was phrased in a letter to President Joe Daniels of the United Citrus Growers, who offered the criticism.

Kelley said the letter "not only was full of mis-statements, but was obviously prepared as a means of seeking publicity."

Daniels, in a letter to Kelley last week, protested that his organization was not represented on the Citrus Commission and that there were no small growers on the group. He charged that Kelley had recommended memberships on the commission to Jester.

Kelley replied that "I think your letter is an unwarranted attack upon the action of the late and distinguished Governor. I believe every Texan resents the obvious fact that although you had ample time to object to Governor Jester's appointments, you made no objection until death had removed the Governor from office."

Kelley said Daniels had written earlier, recommending certain growers for appointments.

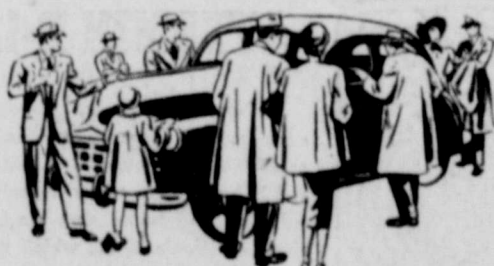

Daniels, said Kelley, had been in the Rio Grande Valley "A relatively short time."

4-H Members To Enter Contest

Twelve 4-H Club Girls and boys of Eastland County plan to enter the "1949 Texas 4-H Boys and Girls Electric Contest". The purpose of the contest is that each boy and girl find a better way of doing things on the farm and in the farm home through the use of electricity. They will go about doing this by selecting a job that is taking a lot of time and using up a lot of human energy which can be done quicker and easier the electrical way. After choosing this job they will make a study of it then plan a way to improve it.

Girls entering the contest are: Jane and Dorothy Wooten of Gorman, Una Beth Grace, Vida Beth Kehey, and Ila Jane Bailey of Seranton, Janet Rodgers of Desdemona, and Jo Veda Fleming of Pioneer.

Boys entering the contest are: Don Webb of Eastland, James Ed Buckley of Desdemona, Billie Wayne Grisham of Gorman, and Glenn Fleming of Pioneer.

The contest is sponsored by the electric service companies of Texas and conducted by the Extension Service.

Infant Killed, 7 Hurt In Wreck

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, Ohio, July 18 (UP) — A Texas infant was killed in an automobile accident near here yesterday and her father was in serious condition today.

The child, Caroline Sowers, three months old, was killed when a car driven by her father, Lawrence M. Sowers, 51, Fort Worth, skidded out of control on a wet road and crashed head-on with a car driven by Mary Jozwiak, 49, Lafayette, Ohio.

Seven adults were injured in the mishap. Sower's wife, Marie, 19, received a fractured nose. The ancient Inca empire at the height of its power comprised 10,000,000 people living almost exclusively in mountain ranges whose equipment length would stretch from Alaska to Mexico in a belt as wide as the state of California.

New York State leads the United States in printing, with approximately 26 per cent of the national printing volume.

Interested may still enter by getting in contact with Rosie McCoy, Home Demonstration Agent, or W. E. Steele Jr., ass't County Agent.

New Esso Extra Motor Oil has been road tested in cars like yours for over a million miles of driving. In every test, whether the car was driven slow in city traffic or pushed on the highway, new Esso Extra Motor Oil proved to the engineers who made the tests that it gives extra motor oil performance.

In cold weather, you want a motor oil thin enough to flow instantly to moving engine parts. In hot weather, you want an oil that stays full bodied and tough. Scientists rate the ability of an oil to stay the same, hot or cold, by its viscosity index, and, generally, the higher the viscosity index, the better the oil. New Esso Extra Motor Oil has the highest viscosity index of any motor oil in Texas—or airt!

READ THIS ABOUT THE GREAT GULF TIRE

This Gulf Tire can stand up to rough roads and take real punishment. Here's why:

The Gulf Tire has a considerably stronger carcass. It's built with a new-type cord and has more cord per inch in every ply.

Then vulcanizing welds all plies together. They work as a unit to resist bruises. And they're interlocked around high-tensile steel wire beads.

LOOKS LIKE A MILLION

Stop In—See It for Yourself!

LOW PRICED

- Less chance of blowouts and carcass failures with this tire because a double breaker strip cushions shocks.
- The tire lasts longer—wears more evenly, edge to edge, for its flatter tread design spreads the wear over a wider contact area.
- The 7 zigzag ribs of the Gulf Tire fight skids. Their flex-wiping action breaks up water film on wet roads.
- The 7 ribs mean there's a "riding bar" down the center of the tire. Right at the point of greatest pressure, the load rides on rubber, not on a groove!
- At high speeds, the tire runs cooler (and safer) because of a special ingredient in the rubber.
- Sidewall shields protect tire against curbstone bruises.
- Warranty accompanies every Gulf Tire—is honored by Gulf Dealers everywhere!

Guard Restores Order In Aroused Florida Town

GROVELAND, Fla., July 18. (UP)—National Guardsmen patrolled the streets here for nearly four hours early today after a weekend in which a shouting, gun-shooting mob and parading Ku Klux Klansmen spread panic through the negro district.

Gov. Fuller Warren ordered 50 armed guardsmen in last night at 10 P. M. on request of Sheriff W. V. McCall.

At 1:30 A. M. McCall dismissed them, along with ten state patrolmen and 12 county officers assigned to guard against violence in the negro section.

McCall said that "everything is orderly in the town and the Guardsmen are no longer needed." Arrival of the troops to maintain order climaxed a weekend of terror which began when a young Groveland white woman reported Saturday that four negroes had kidnaped and raped her at gun point.

McCall and his deputies immediately arrested two negro suspects and jailed them at nearby Tavares, the seat of Lake County. An angry mob formed here and drove to Tavares, 20 miles away, to storm the jail in search of the suspects.

McCall had already sensed the danger and transferred the prisoners to a secret jail before the mob, "armed to the teeth," arrived and demanded the negroes.

After an hour of "fast talking," the Sheriff convinced the aroused Groveland men that the suspects were not in the Tavares jail.

The armed posse came back here but not disperse until it had driven through the negro section, firing guns and shouting threats. Several shotgun blasts were fired into a negro restaurant.

There was no bloodshed, however, since most of the 400 negro residents of this town of about 1,000 had been "evacuated" in trucks by a group described by McCall as "responsible white citizens."

Mystery Shrouds Disappearance Of Atomic Director

LOS ALAMOS, N. M., July 18 (UP)—H. Tracy Snelling, 37, Public Relations Director at the Los Alamos Atomic Institution, was missing today under mysterious circumstances.

Police at Los Alamos said that Snelling, who would have access to a limited amount of information about Atomic Energy, had been missing since Wednesday.

A statewide alert was sounded for him with search concentrated at Santa Fe and Albuquerque.

Carroll Tyler, Atomic Energy Commission Chief at Los Alamos, said in a statement that the "AEC Administration would like very much to know where Snelling is."

Snelling's wife, Sally, told investigators that she received a letter from him, postmarked in Albuquerque at noon, Tuesday. The contents of the letter were not divulged.

"This has happened before," Mrs. Snelling said. "But never for an extended period."

Tyler said that on Wednesday, Snelling asked for his annual leave. He apparently intended to take a vacation trip with his wife. However, she reported on Friday that she had not seen him for two days.

He also failed to appear to conduct newsmen on a trip to the site of the first Atomic Bomb explosion near Alamogordo on Saturday, the Fourth Anniversary of the bomb blast.

Ranger Is Center of Large Ranching Area

TO RIDE IN RODEO

Betty Melton, daughter of Mrs. Morris Underwood of the Lazy K ranch, will ride Pirate Gold Marie, a thoroughbred Palomino in the rodeo parade and grand entry. The horse is one of the herd owned by Dr. P. M. Kuykendall who owns the Lazy K.

Mrs. Don Bradford, also of the Lazy K ranch, is mounted on the Palomino Jimmie, another of the Kuykendall Palominos. Helen, as she is known to her friends, is an enthusiastic horse lover and rider.

Nelda Fern Melton, also a daughter of Mrs. Underwood, is riding Peanut, her favorite horse at the Lazy K ranch. Nelda Fern will also ride in the rodeo parade and grand entry each night at the rodeo.

REGISTERED HERDS OF CATTLE, FINE HORSES DOT RANCH LANDS

The last 25 years have seen a tremendous spurt in ranching interest in the Ranger area and in every direction from the town there are fine ranches that are constantly expanding and increasing registered stocks.

One of the most active ranchers in this area is Dr. P. M. Kuykendall whose Lazy K Ranch and its interests fill spare moments for Dr. Kuykendall who owns and operates the West Texas Hospital in Ranger and carries on a very busy practice in medicine and surgery.

The Lazy K is located about six miles north of Ranger on the Caddo road and embraces nearly 2,000 acres of fine range land and cultivated fields.

Breeders of Hereford cattle and registered Palomino quarter horses, the ranch owns one of the finest strings of Palomino horses in Texas. At the present time there are 23 registered Palominos on the ranch which has as its overseer, Morris Underwood who is assisted by Don Bradford, both of whom will ride in the rodeo parade and in the grand entry each night at the rodeo. Don is a rodeo entrant and recently tied his calf at the Breckenridge Rodeo in 18 seconds flat.

But Herefords and Palominos are not the only interests on the Lazy K. There are 500 hens on the ranch which according to Underwood, lay an average of 12 dozen eggs a day and have laid as high as 15 dozen a day. There are milk cows on the ranch as well as pigs. Eggs, butter, milk and meats for the West Texas Hospital are provided by the ranch and are kept in a number of lockers at the Frozen Foods Locker Plant.

Recently the wheat harvest on the ranch yielded 12 bushels to the acre and 30 bushels of barley to the acre was harvested. Very little of the grain is sold, most of it being kept for feeding on the ranch.

Adjacent to the huge red barn on the ranch is what the owner and overseer call the saddle shed. The ranch is known for its fine saddles, one being highly decorated in silver and another of the English variety.

There are 15 tanks on the ranch and one of them is spring fed, providing fine swimming for the families on the ranch.

Dr. Kuykendall's ranching interests naturally lead to an enthusiastic interest in the Jaycees annual Rodeo and the doctor is one of the rodeo's most ardent backers. He is one of the dozen or so men that launched the first calf scramble at last year's rodeo and will again participate in financing the scramble this year.

Another fine ranch north of Ranger is the 5,000 acre ranch of Robert Jackson and Son, both of whom admit that they are bound completely by the will of six-months old Shirley Ann Jackson, the daughter of the son, Joe L. Jackson.

Ranching at the Jackson's place is no new thing. The family has owned the ranch for 59 years room of the home. The home at the present time is being tied into an REA electric line and telephone service will be added soon.

Three creeks wind through the ranch to join in the southeast corner of the ranch and create some of the most beautiful scenery to be found anywhere. The creeks are Bear Creek and the Middle and South Forks of the Palo Pinto creek.

Walker says that his land is 93 per cent tillable and at the present time about 500 acres are in cultivation. The land which had been owned by the T. P. for 50 years provides a wonderful haven for bird life, as well as providing some of the finest grass lands in this area. Wild deer also roam the and Joe and family now reside in the house where his father was born. The Robert Jackson home which now stands on the ranch road is a beautiful ranch home. The Jacksons have about 400 head of horses and cattle, including 100 registered Hereford cows which they have raised. About 600 acres of the ranch are in cultivation and the rest is in range.

The ranch last year furnished the calves for the first annual calf scramble at the Jaycees Rodeo and the Jackson family will be much in evidence at the rodeo this year.

Aside from his ranching activities, Jackson and his son, take an interest in watching the oil wells that have been and are being drilled on their ranch. Recently three shallow producers have been brought in on the ranch.

One of the most extensive ranching areas in this section was created several years ago when Frank Walker purchased 32,000 acres from the Texas Pacific Coal and Oil Company in the north-east edge of Eastland County and in Palo Pinto County.

Out of the 32,000 acres have been carved a number of ranches including those owned by Walker, Shalor Copeland, Perry Horton, Hall Walker, M. H. Offield, John Barefield, and Raymond Walker.

Extensive improvements have been made on all of the ranches and fine herds of cattle roam the ranges.

Walker's own ranch embraces 3500 acres and is one of the finest ranches in this area. Cinder roads that have been built from the materials taken from old coal mines on the ranch, have been built in a well planned pattern over the ranch and Walker says he has sold enough cinders from the mines to pay for his improvements on the ranch.

An attractive ranch style house on the ranch will be rocked with native stone to make one of the most attractive ranch houses in this area. Knotty pine walls and heavy rafters feature the living

Pastry Shop Has Tempting Items

People with a sweet tooth find the items that they are looking for at the Gilbert Pastry Shop, owned and operated by Mr. and Mrs. John Gilbert.

The shop turns out most of the pies, cakes and other pastries consumed in Ranger to the delight of all that sample them.

A welcome awaits all visitors to Ranger's rodeo and homecoming.

There are between 15 and 20 tanks on the ranch and some water wells. Fine cattle, chickens and pigs are raised on the place. He has one herd of Brahma cattle.

Dozens of other ranches, equally as interesting and active, surround Ranger which is gradually becoming one of the biggest ranch centers in this country.

Paramount Coffee Shop Hang-Out For Visitors

One of the main "hang-outs" for visitors to Ranger's annual rodeo and homecoming is the Paramount Coffee Shop, where crowds gather not only for fine foods served but to meet friends and pass the time of day.

During the rodeo and homecoming, J. L. Latimer, owner and operator is offering a special rodeo menu which includes, chuck wagon steak, doggies on bale of hay, and in vegetables, Judge Roy (Beans), boot hill (potatoes) and for dessert, bar none custard.

A welcome awaits all visitors at the Paramount Coffee Shop.

Peanut Company Extends Welcome

T. C. Wylie, manager of the Ranger Peanut Company, took time off from a busy routine to extend a welcome to all rodeo and homecoming visitors and to extend them an invitation to visit the plant while in Ranger.

At the present time the plant is working on a 24 hour schedule turning a government order for 1,000 tons of shelled peanuts for overseas shipments to Germany.

The plant turns out 125 tons of shelled peanuts every 24 hours and at the same time maintains an open market for buying and selling peanuts.

Jim Hogan is plant superintendent.

Globe Included Among Pioneers

The Globe, a shop for men and boys, owned and operated by Saul Perlestein is among those businesses in Ranger which are numbered among the pioneers.

Fine lines of merchandise plus courteous service, spiced with a personal interest in those making purchases at The Globe a real treat. The best in everything for men and boys is carried by the store.

Perlestein has an able assistant in Earl Pittman who is an active member of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

JUDGE OF FAMOUS TRAIL DUE AT HOMECOMING

Among the hundreds of former citizens expected to attend Ranger's annual homecoming and the Junior Chamber of Commerce rodeo, July 20-23, is Judge L. H. Flewellen of Austin, who presided over city court here 30 years ago when the great oil boom was in progress.

According to traditions, Judge Flewellen fined a man $75 for murder — and thereby set a precedent because, though 30 men had been killed, not a single slayer had been punished. The circumstances were:

One Saturday night at a dance hall, a man stuck a knife in another man and walked slowly around him. They buried the victim and put the killer in the city jail. Eastland, the county seat, was only 10 miles away but the road was muddy and choked with slow-moving wagons loaded with pipe and boilers — so nobody went over to the courthouse and filed a charge.

After three days, the prisoner's lawyer went to Flewellen and said that his client was being held without any accusation against him but he was willing to pay a fine to the city if the judge would turn him loose. Flewellen investigated and found that the deceased had started the row and that, if the prisoner was ever tried in district court for murder, he would doubtless come free.

But, after all, the man had been wearing out the city's jail for three days, so Ranger had some claim against him.

Flewellen had the prisoner brought in and then, in solemn tone, declared:

"You can't come into our peaceful little city" — Ranger had 30,000 people and had had six killings in one week — "and strike down one of our leading citizens" — (the slain man had been a professional gambler) — "and not expected to feel the weighty hand of the law!"

"I fine you $75 for murder. And I want this to be a lesson to you. I advise you to catch the next train out of town and let your first stop be Shanghai, China. If you ever kill another one of our citizens, I will give you the full limit of the law — $200 and costs."

"Mr. Clark, call the next case."

L. E. Gray Barber Shop A Pioneer

The L. E. Gray Barber Shop is among those institutions that can be numbered among the pioneers of Ranger.

The shop, owned and operated by L. E. Gray, was for many years located in the Gholson Hotel building, the hub of activities during the boom, and has numbered among its customers some of the most prominent oil men of the sater-ofutings on of the state of Texas and other states. Now this shop is boosting the rodeo and serving rodeo performers and visitors, and those here for the homecoming.

Besides Gary, barbers in the shop are W. A. (Tony) Lewis and D. C. Singleton.

Brashiers Have Pioneer Business

Among the pre-boom business in Ranger is the Ranger Furniture Exchange, owned and operated by the Brashier family, head of which is Colonel Brisher, a true pioneer of this area.

The business located on North Rusk Street, carries a complete line of household lines of furnishing including the famous Youngston kitchen all metal equipment.

Number among the items at the furniture store are many nationally known brands of household furnishing and equipment.

F. P. Brashier Sr., one of Ranger's outstanding civil leaders and his son, F. P. Brashier Jr., Pete to most people, and an active member of the Junior Chamber of Commerce which sponsors the annual rodeo, are actively engaged in operating the business since the retirement of their father and grandfather who established the business.

Crawfords In Business In Ranger 30 Years

Thirty years in Ranger is the record of the Carford Rexall Store originally established by E. E. Carford as the Oil City Pharmacy.

The business still owned and operated by Carford and his son, Nichol Carford, was established in 1919 and has been in business here continuously since that time.

Both of the Carfords are registered pharmacists and besides their services Sam Zuccaro, also a licensed pharmacist is employed at the store.

Aside from drugs and prescriptions, the store offers the usual line of items, plus one of the most complete and efficient fountain services in Ranger.

Others employed at the store and all of whom extend a welcome to rodeo and homecoming visitors are Wayne Boen, Jack Waddington, Delores Sar-

Houghton's Shop A Ranger Pioneer

Houghton's Repair Shop is among the businesses in Ranger that can be counted as pioneers.

The shop established in Ranger in 1924 by J. B. Houghton Sr. who came to Ranger in April 1919, and a few months ago the business was moved into a fine new building located on South Commerce Street.

Complete repair service for automobiles and other vehicles is offered by the shop and assisting Houghton-in operation of the shop are his two sons, Bill and J. B. Houghton Jr.

But the one who was to have occupied the historic car as the guest of honor will not be there.

Gov. Beauford Jester, who died suddenly last week, had promised to take part in the parade and, in anticipation of the occasion, the car's owner had had the machine put in tip-top shape. The automobile is one of the first 2,200 of a make which has sold millions of cars and belongs to L. R. Pearson, attorney, oil man and former legislator.

In practice spines, the venerable car has been attracting attention, with its right-hand drive, brakes on the outside and the thrashing-machine roar of its motor as it attains a speed of 10 miles an hour.

Judge Pearson will drive the car in the parade—but the seat beside the driver will be empty, in tribute to the guest of honor who can not be here.

Mayor Invites Princess
CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (UP)—Mayor Hugh Wasson has written to Princess Margaret Rose of Great Britain invited her to visit here during her rumored American tour next fall. Chattanooga recently captured national attention when it played host to President Eurico Gaspar Dutra of Brazil.

Interest Centers On Tiger Wells

Two wells to the north of Ranger are being watched with interest.

Both are owned by Tiger Minerals of San Antonio, which delivers its name from the fact that the men who organized the company were members of Chenault's famous "Flying Tigers."

The No. 1 Gilman will be acidized and the No. 1 Hill is drilling. The latter is 6 1-2 miles north of Ranger and the Gilman test is about half a mile beyond the other well.

T. P. Coal and Oil A Factor In Ranger History

Linked inseparably with the history of Ranger is the Texas Pacific Coal and Oil Company which drilled the famous McCleskey discovery well in Ranger in 1917.

The T. P. is still active in the Ranger area and maintains a large force of employees at the Butler Camp office west of Ranger. One of the largest lease holders in this area, the company still holds vast areas under lease and much in fee and still is active in the production field.

Some of the most spectacular gushers of the oil boom days of the early twenties were drilled by the company and much production is still realized by the company in this field.

C. H. (Coke) Martin, who takes an active interest in civic affairs in Ranger and is now president of the school board, is superintendent for the company here. F. P. Kribbs is superintendent of production and F. S. Pearsall is head of materials.

"but I don't want to move!"

Too bad...but you're going to...whether you want to or not!

Ever stop to think what could happen to your right of free choice if the Government owned... and ran America? You can bet you wouldn't decide where you would live... the Government would!

Haven't you, lately, heard your husband... or your employer... or your neighbor... talking about some restriction the Government has placed on his business?
That he can't do this... can't do that? Probably you've given it a passing thought and shrugged it off as something that didn't concern you.

BUT IT DOES CONCERN YOU... VITALLY! Government control of private business is, and should be, the greatest concern of every American today... because it is the symptom of a hidden disease that is spreading throughout America. It is a disease that is eating at the very foundation of our American system of free enterprise—free choice. It is a disease that, if not cured, will destroy the individual rights and liberty that we now enjoy.

Government ownership of private business leads directly to Government ownership of America... Government ownership of you. It means, in its fullest sense, that you will do what the Government tells you to—not what you want to do. Where you live, where you work, the food you buy, the car you drive—all will be decided by the Government—not by you.

Every American who believes that the right of free choice is one of his most priceless possessions should think, talk and act now to stem the trend toward Government ownership of private business. FREEDOM

Ranger Plays Big Role In Lone Star Development

Tour Called Off
WEYMOUTH, Mass. (UP)—A few hours after Col. Earl Richard of the U. S. Army bought a 1949 automobile for a tour of the nation, his parked car slipped its brakes, rolled down a hill, plunged over a 25-foot embankment and was wrecked.

IN TURN, MILLIONS SPENT BY COMPANY AID RANGER PROGRESS

History of the Lone Star Gas System—represented by Lone Star Gas Company and the Lone Star Producing Company—shows the Ranger area has played an important part in the growth and development of Lone Star which recently began its forty-first year as a public service organization.

During the time Lone Star has served natural gas to its vast territory in Texas and Oklahoma it has, in turn, contributed to the growing economy of the Ranger area by spending millions of dollars for gas, wages and salaries, drilling contracts, materials and supplies, and ad valorem taxes to city, county and state.

The following figures reflect Lone Star's operations for the benefit of Ranger and its immediate territory.

Purchased 375 billion cubic feet of natural gas in the Ranger area; manufactured in its Ranger plants more than 675 million gallons of gasoline, and produced over 2,150,000 barrels of crude oil from wells in the vicinity of Ranger.

Lone Star maintains area headquarters in Ranger for gasoline, compressor, engineering and pipe line operations. These departments require the services of more than 250 employees, all residing in and around Ranger.

Sam Gamble is superintendent of Lone Star compressor district; J. A. Bates is district superintendent for the gasoline department; H. H. Oliver is party chief for the engineering department, and Herman B. Dempsey is foreman of the Ranger pipe line district. In the Ranger area Lone Star maintains hundreds of miles of transmission and gathering lines that tie into a network exceeding 5,300 miles of pipe that transports natural gas for city and town distribution plants.

To the Ranger area goes much credit for Lone Star's success that followed a long period of reverses. On three separate occasions from 1915 to 1924 the company faced serious difficulties because of its inability to furnish an adequate supply of gas to its customers. It was not until 1924, when Lone Star engineers solved the problem of making available the casinghead gas being blown into the air from gasoline absorption plants in Eastland and Stephens Counties, that the company got on a sound foundation. From that time on dates the company's success.

In fact, the first casinghead gas utilized for public consumption was purchased from the Ranger area by Lone Star Gas Company. This was the beginning of the conservation program adopted by Lone Star to protect the gas supply and make it go as far as possible for useful purposes.

Since 1928 Lone Star has saved almost one-half trillion cubic ft of gas by purchasing casinghead gas which otherwise might have been blown into the air and wasted. Much of this production has come from the Ranger area. Casinghead gas amounts to more than 40 per cent of all gas distributed by Lone Star. This conservation measure has put millions of dollars into the hands of gas producers, land owners and gas royalty owners in Ranger and elsewhere.

Lone Star has practiced proration for many years before the present laws were enacted; it is Lone Star's policy to buy gas on an equitable basis among producers in any given field.

The general resources of Ranger have contributed substantially to the growth and expansion of Lone Star in furnishing a complete gas service to more than 450,000 customers in the 337 cities and towns served by the company in Texas and Oklahoma.

"The Lone Star System has faith in the future of Ranger and the surrounding territory," said D. A. Hulsey, Lone Star president. "This great area is well into a new era in the fields of business, industrial, agricultural and oil and gas expansion. As a partner in the days ahead, Lone Star is deeply conscious of its economic and welfare obligations to Ranger and its citizens. Our fixed purpose is to be a good partner in the growth of your community. Our entire organization and all its operations are pledged to this aim."

The present Lone Star system is a result of a reorganization effected in 1943 after approval by the Securities and Exchange Commission. The reorganization set up two companies: The Lone Star Gas Company, which transmits natural gas from the field and also renders natural gas service as a local distributing company, and the Lone Star Producing Company, which produces and develops gas in the field and delivers it to the pipe line company. Both are Texas concerns with headquarters in Dallas.

Texas Drug Makes Special Offers

The Texas Drug Store believes in making a welcome genuine and so for the benefit of rodeo visitors and regular customers the store is making some special offers in merchandise during the days of the rodeo.

The specials are by way of saying welcome to visitors and in celebration of the one of the most gala occasions in Ranger.

The Texas Store carries at all times a complete line of drugs, cosmetics and specialty items usually carried by such stores. A licensed pharmacist is at hand at all hours of the day to render efficient prescription service.

The store is owned and operated by George D. Nicholson, a real rodeo booster.

New York State leads the United States in printing, with approximately 26 per cent of the national printing volume.

Weems Electric Greets Visitors

Weems Refrigerator Service, owned and operated by D. A. Weems, is one of the rodeo's staunchest boosters.

The shop which handles General Electric Products also does all types of electrical repairs and carries electrical fixtures.

The owner of the shop has extended a welcome to rodeo visitors and will be glad to be of service to visitors while here for the rodeo.

Foster Filling Station Handy to Rodeo Grounds

Another filling station that is handy to the rodeo arena is H. O. Foster's Service Station at the intersection of Highway 80 and Blackwell Road.

The station offers a complete line of Texaco products and the usual services for cars.

In addition to inviting rodeo visitors to visit the station, Foster has extended a sincere welcome to the fans.

Station, Trading Post Offering Wide Service

One of the most complete one-stop services offered in Ranger is Ben E. Patterson Jr.'s Service Station and Trading Post located just east of the Main Street Crossing on Highway 80. At the service station a complete line of Texaco products is carried and washing and greasing, polishing and tire repair service are offered.

Adjacent to the station is the Trading Post which carries a complete line of staple and fancy groceries and lunch meats. Patterson says that he'll leave the bucking broncs to the experienced cowboys but he sure extends a welcome to the rodeo visitors.

Gholson To Be Headquarters For Rodeo Fans

Official headquarters for the Jaycees Rodeo this year is the Gholson Hotel, Ranger's only fire proof hotel, which is owned and operated by Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Wieser.

The Gholson one of Ranger's most famous oil boom landmarks is still one of the most widely known hotels in this part of the country. It accommodates both resident and transient guests.

Since the new owners took over the hotel about one year ago extensive improvements have been made to transient rooms, and halls. The main lobby on the ground floor has been completely redecorated with new leather upholstered furniture in brown and off white and new rugs and tables. Cooling units have been added to the lobby.

In connection with the hotel is a coffee shop which is air conditioned and attractively decorated and equipped.

The hotel maintains a staff of courteous employees who spread an air of hospitality with their service. Ralph Wagner, son-in-law of the Wiesers, is assistant manager of the hotel, as well as an active Jaycee, being secretary of that organization.

Broadway Motel Ready For Rodeo Visitors Stay

Visitors will find the Broadway Motel one of the most desirable places to stay while in Ranger for the Jaycees Rodeo.

The Hotel is located on Highway 80 east and is one of Ranger's newest places to stay. The cabins are comfortably and attractively furnished and are air conditioned. The Hotel is owned and operated by Roscoe Hopper who has sent out a welcome to rodeo visitors and an invitation to visit the courts while in Ranger.

Bonner's Lends Floral Beauty To Occasions

Contributing floral beauty to most occasions in Ranger is the Bonner flower shop known as Bonner's Flower's.

The shop owned and operated by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bonner, is located at the corner of Main Street and South Marston and housed in an attractively decorated shop.

The shop does all types of floral arrangements and handles weddings, funeral flowers and specializes in corsages.

Mr. and Mrs. Bonner have extended an invitation to rodeo visitors to visit the shop while here for the rodeo.

Regal Restaurant Proves Popular

One of the most delightful new places in Ranger to eat is the Regal restaurant on Highway 80 just west of the Main Street Crossing and which is owned and operated by Mrs. Edwin George, assisted by her son, Morris George.

Education Aids Produced Here

Aid to education in schools all over the United States emanates from Ranger through the facilities of Social Science Laboratories, Inc.

Originator and producer of the aids which are maps and charts to assist students in mastering the social science is A. W. Ward, former school official and now a member of the School Board of the Ranger Public Schools.

Ward started the maps and charts as an aid in teaching history while a member of the Ranger High School and later applied their use in other schools where he taught.

He later copyrighted the idea and formed the organization which is now producing the maps and charts at the prompt printing company in Ranger.

Practically every school in Texas use the material which is furnished through big scale advertising.

The building was completely remodeled and redecorated recently before the new restaurant was opened and is one of the favorite places with people who like good food in pleasant and cool surroundings.

The cafe has been catering to luncheons and special parties aside from serving a la carte and plate lunches. It is open 24 hours a day.

The location is convenient for rodeo visitors and those here for the homecoming and the operators have extended a welcome to all visitors.

Fine Printing Done By D. B. Holmes Shop

Fine printing is the business of D. B. Holmes who owns and operates the L. B. Holmes Printing Company located on South Rusk Street.

Holmes moved to Ranger several years ago from Missouri and has established a printing shop that is enjoying a fine business.

He and Mrs. Holmes have fitted themselves into the activities of Ranger and both are boosters for the annual rodeo and welcome visitors to the rodeo and homecoming.

Jewelry Shop Rodeo Booster

Jewelry and repairing jewelry is the business of D. E. Pulley who maintains his shop at 203 Main Street, but Pulley like other Ranger citizens takes time to host the Jaycees' rodeo.

Fine diamonds is the specialty offered its customers but other items such as sterling silver and novelty jewelry are also carried by the business.

Pulley has extended an invitation to rodeo and homecoming visitors to visit the shop while in Ranger this week.

Martin Antique Shop Popular

One of the most sought out antique shops in this part of the country is the shop operated by Mrs. Coke Martin in Ranger.

Mrs. Martin who for years has been an authority on antiques in silver, china, glassware and furniture, opened her shop in Ranger several years ago and since that time has built up a trade that covers most of the surrounding towns as well as Ranger.

She began her career as an antique shop operator through her interest in her own inherited antique furniture and other items.

Mrs. Martin will welcome to her shop rodeo and homecoming visitors.

Melon Stand Has Out Welcome

One spot that is sure to be popular with rodeo visitors and those here for the homecoming, is Blackie's Watermelon Stand at the intersection of Main Street and Highway 80.

Owned and operated by Albert "Blackie" Huffman, the stand advertises ice cold watermelons to be eaten at booths at the stand or to be taken home with you. Cantelopes are also sold at the stand.

A welcome has been hung out for all of those here for the rodeo and homecoming.

WELL, THAT'S WHAT IT SAID—The sign in front of this Los Angeles laundry is unmistakably clear. It says "Drive in Office." That's exactly what fireman Charles Lechler did when his truck missed a sharp turn. After climbing from the wreckage unharmed, Lechler surveys the damage—and the sign.

C.E. Maddocks Co. Observing 30th Anniversary

The C. E. Maddocks Insurance and Real Estate Company, along with the city of Ranger, this year is celebrating the 30th anniversary of its establishment.

The business was established in Ranger by the late C. E. Maddocks in 1919 and has served Ranger and this area with all types of insurance continuously every since.

The business, located on Main Street, is now operated by Marjorie Maddocks, daughter of the late founder and still enjoys a fine patronage from this area. Along with Miss Maddock the business is handled by Mrs. Hattie Bragg and Mrs. James Higdon, the latter in charge of the real estate division of the company.

Adams Grocery, Market Welcomes Rodeo Visitors

The H. G. Adams Grocery & Market, owned and operated by H. G. Adams, welcomes rodeo visitors to Ranger's fourth annual Jaycee rodeo and extends an invitation to the visitors to visit the store.

Aside from carrying a complete line of quality meats and groceries the store buys all kinds of country produce and chickens and eggs.

The store is located on North Austin Street, a convenient location for those with a long grocery list to fill.

Adams is assisted in the operation of the store by Mrs. Adams and their son, H. G. Adams Jr.

It's Spelled With an "S" — ST. LOUIS (UP) — Chairman J. Harry Pohlman of the board of education's finance committee was a little hazy about the "three R's" of education at a committee meeting. "Every child in our school system," he said, "should have a thorough grounding in the three R's — reading, writing and spelling."

Galileo constructed his first telescope at Padua, Italy, in 1609, or 340 years ago.

Art's Tool And Supply Extends Welcome To Fans

Art's Tool and Supply Company, one of the most active oil field shops in this section of the country, is backing the rodeo 100 per cent and welcomes rodeo visitors to Ranger.

Owned and operated by E. F. Arterburn the shop drew trade from a very wide area and is known for the thorough work that it does on oil field equipment.

The owner of the shop is not only a staunch backer of the rodeo but is president of the Quarterback Club in Ranger which backs sports to the fullest extent.

Associated with their father in the business are two of his five sons, Walter Arterburn and Leonard Arterburn.

Bruce Maddox Operating Super Market In Ranger

One of Ranger's newest business men is Bruce Maddox, who recently purchased the H & C Super Market from Arlie Carver, and is now operating the grocery store and market under the name of Bruce's Super Market.

The store has been completely restocked and carries all types of fancy, staple groceries, fresh vegetables and fruits and meats. The market is operated by Tim Stewart, one of Ranger's veteran butchers.

A welcome hangs out for all visitors to the rodeo and homecoming.

Dignity Marks Services By Funeral Home

Dignified and impressive service is rendered by the Morris Funeral Home, one of Ranger's two mortuaries.

Owned and operated by Mrs. James P. Morris, the funeral home offers burial insurance as well as the usual service of bereaved families.

The home is equipped with the most complete and modern equipment and has available an attractive chapel for use when required. Aside from Mrs. Morris, Toofs Bott and James T. McCleskey assist with duties at the home.

Washington has more electric lights per capita than any other state.

Lloyd Clem, Inc. Has All-Round Merchandise

One of the most all-round stores in Ranger is Lloyd Clem, Inc. located at 219 Main Street.

Owned and operated by Lloyd Clem, the store carries a complete line of dry goods and shoes, work clothes, sporting goods, Army surplus, Westinghouse appliances and other household appliances.

While the store has been in business in Ranger two years this month, the owner is no stranger to Ranger. He is a native and says that he was "jerking soda" for C. E. May at his drugstore when the oil boom struck, October 30, 1917. He recalls that when the word got to town that oil had been struck in the McCleskey, a veritable pilgrimage of Ranger citizens struck out a foot for the well. He was left behind "jerking soda", he says.

Clem is ably assisted in the operation of the store by Mrs. Ada Gordon, another native of Ranger and member of a pioneer family and by Charlie Sullivan.

Crawley Motor Rodeo Booster

The Crawley Motor Company, owned and operated by Mayor Price Crawley is one of the rodeo's greatest boosters aside from offering a complete automobile service and Pontiac automobiles to the public.

Repair, washing, greasing, polishing, battery and tire service and all of the other service features for automobiles are offered by the motor company.

The sprawling building which occupies one half block on Pine Street includes besides the service departments, an attractive show room where Pontiac automobiles

Honest, Courteous Service Motto Of Aishman Grocery

Weaver Aishman who had charge of the Jaycees Motorcade to advertise the rodeo, is owner and operator of the Aishman Grocery and Market whose motto is "Honest and Courteous Service."

Located at the corner of Walnut Street and North Rusk, the store features delivery service for the fine line of fancy and staple groceries that it carries and for the "fed out beef" which fur furnishes the best of meats of the business. Fresh vegetables at the store are under refrigeration constantly and guaranteed to be fresh.

Besides the Aishman others at are displayed.

The owner of the business who was one of the main powers back of the organization of the Junior Chamber of Commerce and creation of the annual extends a welcome to rodeo and homecoming visitors.

the store to give quick and efficient service are R. V. Robinson who handles the meats, and R. J. Matthews, Henry Walton and Virge McCollum.

Ratliff's Oldest Feed Store Here

The oldest feed and seed business in Ranger is the A. J. Ratliff Feed and Seed Store.

The business was established by the late A. J. Ratliff and at present it is being operated by the son of the founder, James Ratliff.

Ratliff's has a wide trade territory and many friends among the ranchers and farmers of this area. The company's trucks cover an area estimated to be within a 20 mile radius of Ranger and includes Strawn, Mingus and Gordon and other towns and communities.

Swift and Company products and Purina feeds are carried by the store and aside from Ratliff, others at the store to assist the public in securing their needs are Mrs. Ruth Franklin, R. V. Matthews, Bob Boyd, R. R. Reeves, and E. E. Hill.

Tip-Top Serves Area Three Years

For the past years the Tip-Top Feed and Hatchery has been serving Ranger people and the people of this area. Owned and operated by J. W. Elder Jr., the business carries Red Chain feeds of all kinds and operates the only chick hatchery in Ranger that is a member of the International and Texas Baby Chick Association.

Aside from Elder, employees are J. D. Harrison, Floyd Smith and Sammie Lee Elder. A welcome to Ranger and the Tip-Top has been extended to rodeo visitors and those here for the homecoming.

Southern Ice Co. Has Demand Item

One of the most sought after items during the rodeo will be found at the Southern Ice Company, a commercial distributor of ice as well as distributor for home consumption. The Ranger branch of the company is operated by Roy Dawn who has been with the company here for many years. Besides being distributors of ice the local company carries a full line of modern ice refrigerators.

As always a welcome awaits rodeo homecoming visitors to the business.

Ranger Hill Cafe On Scenic Spot

Ranger people as well as travelers find the Ranger Hill Cafe a delightful place to eat, not only because of the good food but because of the scenic panorama which can be viewed from the place.

The business is located on one of the highest points on Highway 80 east and commands a view of many miles. In addition to this the cafe specializes in delicious fried chicken, steaks, homemade pies and all kinds of short orders. Mrs. G. A. Stallings operates the cafe and has extended an invitation to rodeo and homecoming visitors to visit the cafe.

FEAT TO BEAT THE HEAT—Don't let the heat get you down. Take a tip from Susie in Sacramento, Calif. Give her a tub full of water and she does the rest with her own portable shower. Susie's one of the elephants that ran short of feed aboard a ship on the way to the U. S. and was saved by the Navy in a mercy "haylift" flight.

Swaney's An Old Timer In Ranger

But a few years younger than Ranger itself is Swaney's Pharmacy in business in Ranger in the Gholson Hotel building since 1925.

The business is owned and operated by Willard Swaney and has always been on the popular spots of Ranger. The pharmacy carries a full line of drugs with pharmacist service and a full line of all items generally found in such stores.

Aside from Swaney, others who offer an efficient courteous service at the pharmacy are Roney Jones, Mrs. Nora Young, Tommie Browning, Ralph Gay, Winifred Hatton and R. E. Stelle. Rodeo visitors will find a ready welcome at Swaney's.

The storage for canned foods should be cool, dark, dry, well-ventilated, clean and free from odors. Even good quality canned foods will develop a flat, sour taste and will lose food value when stored at warm temperatures.

"The reason for my writing this letter is to tell you about our electric refrigerator which we bought in 1931. We have never had anything repaired on it in the 17 years that we have had it. The General Electric Company really must take great care and use good materials in their products." Mrs. Zink is just one of two million people who have been using their G-E Refrigerators ten years or longer!

to rodeo visitors in Ranger a hearty welcome and an invitation to them to visit his place of business while in Ranger.

The station is conveniently located for motorists going in all directions and the service is guaranteed to be courteous and efficient. It is one of the few 24 hour stations in Ranger, serving the public at all hours. Aside from the sale of Sinclair products, the station does washing and greasing and tire repairing.

Assisting Stiles in the operation of the station are Gerald Lee and Carl Bankston.

THANKS, AMERICA, FOR the biggest half year in Studebaker history!

You get more for your money in a Studebaker

Studebaker is the style star of all today's cars

Studebaker stands out in thrift and solid value

Stop in now and see the many fine features of the '49 Studebakers

White sidewall tires and wheel trim rings or discs optional at extra cost on all models.

THE Studebaker buying wave that's sweeping the country grew to huge proportions the past few weeks.

By the end of June, so many people had bought new Studebakers that the biggest half year in all Studebaker history was recorded.

What's more to the point, America's preference for Studebaker styling, performance, operating economy and value keeps on increasing steadily, week by week.

A new vision of loveliness inside and outside, the 1949 Studebaker brings thrift that counts, new handling ease and riding comfort into motoring.

If you drive on Rough Roads-

READ THIS ABOUT THE GREAT GULF TIRE

This Gulf Tire can stand up to rough roads and take real punishment. Here's why:

The Gulf Tire has a considerably stronger carcass. It's built with a new-type cord and has more cord per inch in every ply.

Then vulcanizing welds all plies together. They work as a unit to resist bruises. And they're interlocked around high-tensile steel wire beads.

LOW
PRICED

- Less chance of blowouts and carcass failures with this tire because a double breaker strip cushions shocks.
- The tire lasts longer—wears more evenly, edge to edge, for its flatter tread design spreads the wear over a wider contact area.
- The 7 zigzag ribs of the Gulf Tire fight skids. Their flex-wiping action breaks up water film on wet roads.
- The 7 ribs mean there's a "riding bar" down the center of the tire. Right at the point of greatest pressure, the load rides on rubber, not on a groove!
- At high speeds, the tire runs cooler (and safer) because of a special ingredient in the rubber.
- Sidewall shields protect tire against curbside bruises.
- Warranty accompanies every Gulf Tire—is honored by Gulf Dealers everywhere!

C. E. MAY INSURANCE ALSO CELEBRATING 30TH YEAR

Another business in Ranger that is celebrating its 30th anniversary along with the city of Ranger is the C. E. May Insurance Agency.

The business was established by C. E. May Sr. who has been a resident of Ranger for 50 years. Prior to entering the insurance field, May was a druggist and still keeps up to date his pharmacist's license and was a former cashier of the People's States Bank, one of several banks that served Ranger during oil boom days. His business today is selling all types of life and property insurance.

May has been closely associated with the development of Ranger first starting his civic interests when he played in the town band before the incorporation of the city of Ranger. When the oil boom came and it became necessary to establish some authority in Ranger, he was one of 15 appointed by Acting Mayor M. H. Hagaman to draw up the first charter. The charter, along with Ranger's first city officers, was approved in an election held April 3, 1919.

He has been active in the Rotary Club, being a charter member of that organization, is past Worshipful Master of the Masonic Lodge and has held office in the Chamber of Commerce and the Retail Merchants Association.

Since the close of World War II his son, C. E. May Jr., has been associated with him in the insurance business. Young May is a past president of the Ranger Junior Chamber of Commerce, past regional vice-president of Texas Jaycees and at present is vice-president of the organization.

Girls Win Hands Down HINTON, W. Va., (UP) — Petticoat rule will hold sway in the Hinton high school year. On election resulted in a landslide for the girls. They took 15 of the 17 major offices in the two top classes.

Matthews Supply Ranger's Oldest Oil Supply House

From an oil boom boom the Matthews Supply Company has grown into one of the most active oil field supply houses in West Texas and in the oldest and largest oil field supply house now in Ranger.

The company was established by J. E. Matthews in 1923 and prior to that Matthews who had come to Ranger in 1919 after being discharged from the Army, had worked for Republic Supply Company and the Standard Tank and Steel Company.

Matthews Supply Company observed its 25th anniversary in 1948 and at the same location where it was first established, 201 Hunt Street. Aside from serving the Ranger oilfield area and Texas as Matthews has delivered casing and other oil field equipment by rail or by his own trucks to Old Mexico, Canada, Florida, California, Montana, Colorado, Illinois and South Dakota.

Matthews is the sole owner of and the house carries a complete line of casing, line pipe, wirelines and fittings as well as boats and outboard motors.

A average force of four persons is employed including Bruce Harris, manager, who has been with the firm for 16 years.

Lumber Company Extends Welcome

The Roy D. Martin Lumber Company joins with the remainder of Ranger in extending a welcome to rodeo visitors to Ranger.

The company's Ranger house is located at the corner of Oak and Houston streets and is managed by E. T. Eubank, a long time resident of Ranger.

The Ranger branch carries a complete line of building and decorating materials and has a planning service for building which the manager will be glad to discuss with prospective builders.
