PAYNE'S FOOD STORE HELD UP BY TWO MEN IN BOLD FORAY IN SOUTH LUBBOCK

Bandits Get $900 From Lubbock Grocery

By TOM DAVIS
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

TWO armed bandits held up the Payne's Food store at 4118 Ave. H about 9:45 p. m. Saturday, scooping more than $900 in cash and checks from the cash register after taking the billfold of J. C. Payne, 38, the store owner.

The two fast-working men shoved their way into the store as Payne, on crutches, was closing for the night and announced: "This is a holdup."

Less than five minutes later, the pair sped away south in a 1942 Oldsmobile or Buick sedan with California license plates. Lubbock police, informed of the robbery at 9:50 p. m., launched an area-wide search that was still continuing early this morning.

In the store with Payne when the bandits walked in was his wife and their son Jerold Payne, 14. All customers and a store employe had left the store minutes before the holdup.

Police said E. R. McNealy and his wife, parked in their car in front of the store, saw that a robbery was in progress and took the license number of the car. McNealy then went to a residence north of the store and asked that police be called. Police said McNealy lived on Ave. H south of the Payne Food store.

Mrs. Payne, who succeeded in attracting McNealy's attention by going all out in following the gunman's command to raise her arms over her head, said "I was really scared."

She said most of the store lights had been turned out when the gunmen appeared at the door and shoved their way in. She said her husband, whose hip was broken three years ago in an automobile accident, was "almost pushed down," falling against the counter around the cash register.

Both men went through Payne's pockets, she said, and then one walked into the cashier's counter where she stood and began scooping money out of the register and putting it into his overcoat pockets.

She said the day's receipts, more than $900 and most of it in cash, were taken.

Payne, who left with officers immediately after the robbery in an attempt to catch the bandits, was still aiding in the search early this morning. Neither police nor members of the sheriff's department knew how much money they got from Payne's billfold. Payne, driving his own car in the search

U.S. Warns Shipping Of China Peril

By GEORGE DURNO
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—The United States flashed a warning to all American vessels today to keep free of the danger-infested waters around Communist-held Shanghai, which is blockaded by Chinese Nationalist naval units.

A State department message relayed to all shipping lines asserted that the huge Red-held port and its approaches, currently in the Nationalist blockade, "constitute a zone of danger and the conditions in it are such as to render this area extremely hazardous to shipping."

The hydrographic office and the maritime commission transmitted the State department's warning to all shipping companies, ship operators and ship masters.

Specific Incident Cited

Specifically cited in the warning was the firing upon the American flagship Sir John Franklin, of the Isbrandtsen line on Nov. 28. The incident resulted in damage to the vessel and seriously endangered life aboard it. The warning said: "Although the vessel was permitted to leave Shanghai unmolested (after being fired upon), the Chinese government stated the fact the vessel was so permitted to leave should not be regarded as a precedent."

This was the first direct warning issued by the government to stay out of Shanghai.

Although the U. S. does not recognize the Nationalist blockade as legal, it is concerned over the possibility of recurring incidents which might have more serious consequences than those to date.

Meanwhile, in turbulent Chinese affairs, State department officials noted with more than passing interest the Moscow visit of Chinese Communist leader Mao Tze-Tung, ostensibly for celebration of Premier Stalin's 70th birthday next Wednesday. One official commented:

"It looks like the usual thing to call in a satellite to pay homage to the emperor—and it would appear there has been some closer cooperation between Russia and Communist China than has been admitted in the past."

Another declared that Mao Tze-

R.S. Spence, 24, Is Victim; Suspect Held

John Dayton Ritter, 43, Of Lubbock, Charged With Murder; Bond Is Denied

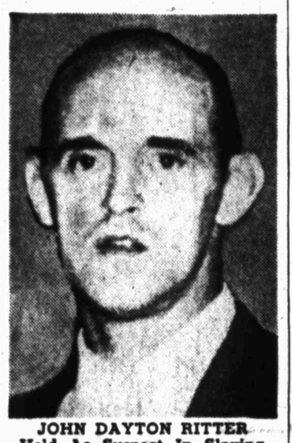

By HANK McKEE
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

ROBERT Stotts Spence, 24-year-old Morton gasoline dealer, was shot to death in a patio leading to a south Lubbock apartment at 9:30 p.m., Saturday as he allegedly attempted to hold up a gambling game he had left a short time earlier.

Shortly before midnight, John Dayton Ritter, 43, of 2818 Twenty-seventh, was charged with Spence's slaying in the justice court of C. E. Lynn. He was ordered held in denial of bond. The shooting occurred at the apartment near an alley at the rear of 1905 Avenue R.

Spence, the father of three children, died instantly from two bullets which entered his lower back and ranged upward, leaving the body through the upper left chest.

JOHN DAYTON RITTER
Held As Suspect In Slaying

Statements Given Officers

Both Ritter and S. E. (Slick) Melton of 1908 Avenue Q, only other witness to the shooting, said in a signed statement to District Attorney Lloyd Croslin that Spence had left the apartment about ten minutes before the shooting "to get more money."

They told officers, in the signed statement, that Spence had attempted to hold up the game on his return.

Ritter, in his signed statement to the district attorney's office said he answered a knock at the door about 10 minutes later and found Spence in the patio at the outer entrance, a gun in his hand.

Claims Money Demanded

"He told me to 'stick them up,'" Ritter said, and demanded "the money."

"I told him it was in the other room and I'd have to get it."

Ritter then said he went through a hallway to another room where the game had been in progress, ostensibly to bet the money, but took a gun from his coat pocket instead.

When he returned to the door, he said in his statement, Spence fired at him once.

"I fired several times," Ritter told officials. "Three, I think."

Used Shells Found

Three used shells believed to be from Ritters' gun, a .38 caliber automatic, were found near the inner door of the hallway. One slug, which shattered the glass in the outer door, smashed through the wall of the Larrymore Dance studio on the opposite side of the patio and fell to the floor.

Spence's body was found by officers lying outside the outer door. A .32 caliber revolver lay nearby.

Ritter was taken into custody by Deputy Sheriffs B. F. Forrester and John Barnett at the apartment a few minutes after the shooting. Officers found the gun near Spence's body. One shell in the gun was empty.

Account Is Given

Melton told officers he had come to the apartment, occupied by his daughter, earlier in the evening. Ritter, he said, had joined him there and the two were playing pitch when Spence entered the room about 8 p.m. and suggested they shoot dice.

Spence lost "some money," Melton related in his statement, and "Said he would get more and be back."

Ritter had $2,107 in cash on his person when he was booked at the sheriff's office late last night. He told officers he had "won some" in the game.

Melton said he remained in the larger room when Spence returned and could hear Spence and Ritter arguing.

"I heard Ritter say 'you don't want to do that'" Melton said. "Then Ritter came back into the room and reached in his coat."

Then, according to Ritter's statement to the district attorney's office, he walked back into the

Reds Building East Germany

By RICHARD S. WEIL
INS Staff Correspondent

BERLIN, Dec. 17 — The Soviets are building up East Germany today as their fortress gateway to the West in any future war.

They are losing no time in preparing the vast, strategic area from the Elbe to the Polish border and from Czechoslovakia to the Baltic sea as their western bulwark.

In Soviet eyes, East Germany stands as the key to their plan to seize the whole of Western Europe in a blitz stroke permitting no effective counter-action.

Agreements Ignored

Completely disregarding international agreements on German disarmament and demilitarization, the Russians are speeding reconstruction and expansion of the remants of Hitler's once-mighty war machine.

Munition factories are working at full speed. A new German army is being rapidly mobilized.

Logical Starting Point

Geographically, Eastern Germany provides the logical launching point for Red army forces to speed across Poland from western areas of the Soviet Union.

East German factories will supply that army, repair its weapons, and keep it mobile for its lightning forward march.

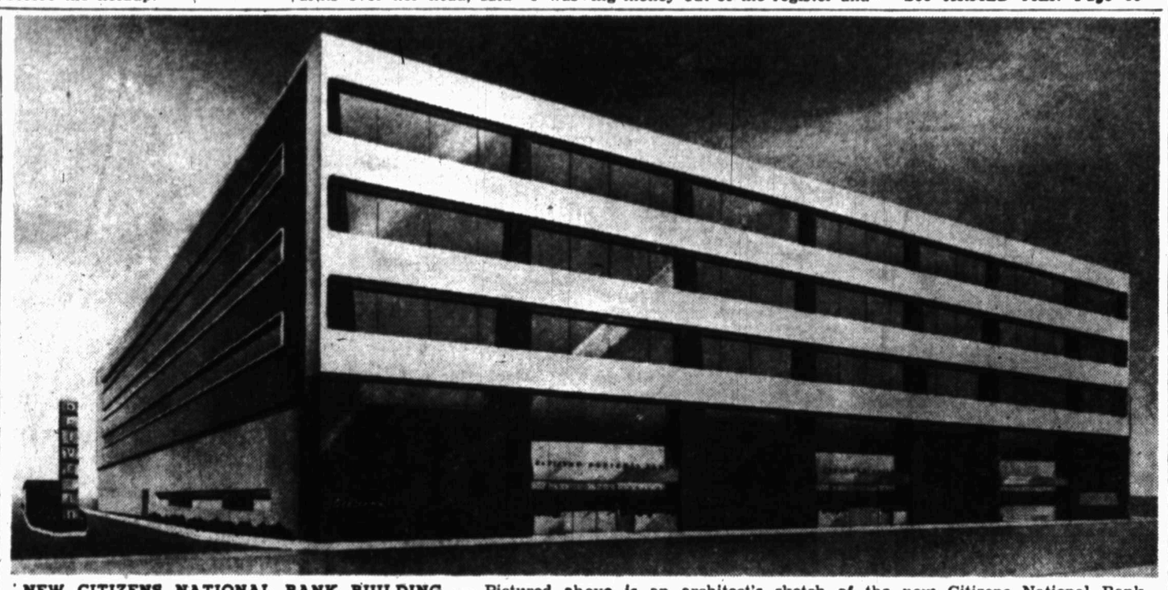

Recent United States Army maneuvers in Germany have provided a foretaste of what the Soviets can do in a westward surge.

A German military expert, analyzing the results of the U.S. fall maneuvers, declared bluntly: "Any hope of holding back a Russian invasion is at best an illusion.

"No one should imagine the Russian advance can be halted before it sweeps to the English channel and the bay of Biscay."

Captured Nazis Aid Reds

The Soviets have been gaining valuable instruction on blitz warfare from captured Nazi generals who helped carry it out for Hitler. A number of them are on the staffs of Russian military acade-

Bank To Build New Building

ANNOUNCEMENT of preliminary plans for a five-story addition to Lubbock's skyline—the new Citizens National Bank building—was made Saturday by Geo. E. Benson, president.

The new building, to cost approximately $1,000,000, will be located on the present site of the Hemphill-Wells Company store at Thirteenth and Ave. K. Most of the exterior of the present building will be torn down in constructing the new three-story addition and remodeling of the interior for bank purposes.

The building, designed by the Bank Building & Equipment Corp., of Ameirca, St. Louis, will have a simple, or "tailored" modern design and will involve the addition of three floors to the present structure.

Building Fad Avoided

Stylized effects and "modernistic" decorations that would soon be out of date were avoided in planning the new structure, Benson said.

The simple lines of the new building stem from proportions of large "block" or area of brick, limestone and bonded granite, and interest will be gained in one material intersecting another.

The upper floors or office floors are to be faced with limestone. Extensive use of glass will provide a great supply of natural light. Glass divisions are planned on a six-foot "module" to make future office partitioning convenient.

The largest part of the first floor and mezzanine levels will be occupied by the bank. A section of the building on the Thirteenth

FBI Agent Reveals Plans For Sabotage

U.S. Is Warned Of Red 'Fifth Column'

By GLENN M. GREEN
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17. — A G-man who served as undercover agent in the Communist party for eight years has warned Congress there are Red fifth columnists in the armed forces and key industries who would "become active agents to sabotage America in case of war with Russia."

The warning was revealed tonight in a sworn statement from John J. Huber, of New York, who told his daring story of the inner workings of the Communist party and the Reds "sabotage" plan to a Senate subcommittee investigating aliens.

Huber declared that "Communist believers" in the U. S. number "up past the million mark" and comprise "the most dangerous, vicious organization that has ever existed within the boundaries of this country."

Red Sabotage Planned

The witness said that the Communists plan to wreck America's defenses in case of war with Russia through strikes and every other means of sabotage.

Huber told the subcommittee headed by Sen. McCarran (D-Nev.), that he joined the Communist party at the request of the Federal Bureau of Investigation in 1937 and remained as a member for eight years, until mid-1947. He declared:

"There is no doubt in my mind that, in a war involving the United States and any foreign communistically-controlled country, the Communist members in the armed forces in this country would act-

U. S. SUB BASE, KEY WEST, Fla., Dec. 17.—President Truman has completed all the work that can be done at the vacation White House on the three important messages he will send to Congress next month.

Apparently all major policy decisions have been made. Finishing touches will be put on the speeches in Washington.

The state of the union message is the first of the "big three" annual messages in which the President summarizes the state of the nation's affairs, both domestic and international, and makes his recommendations for legislation.

Press Secretary Charles G. Ross indicated today that the President will deliver his state of the union message in person to a joint session of the Senate and House.

By ROSE McKEE
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—Defense Secretary Johnson has submitted to President Truman a sweeping program calling for a three-year extension of the draft, authority to oust "talkative" as well as disloyal workers and to send military missions anywhere in the world.

Johnson's proposals have been sent to the President at Key West, Fla., for inclusion in Mr. Truman's legislative program which will be submitted to Congress when it reconvenes in January.

This was disclosed today when a copy of Johnson's letter recommending draft extension was made available to International News Service along with an accompanying document asking White House clearance for other defense legislation.

Draft Extension Urged

Extension of the draft law which expires June 24 is No. 1 on Johnson's program. The secretary told Mr. Truman:

6 SHOPPING DAYS TILL CHRISTMAS

STORE TRAFFIC HEAVIEST OF YEAR

Christmas Business Booms As Thousands Jam City Streets

IT WAS mainly people in Lubbock Saturday as shoppers elbowed their way through other shoppers to set a new record for foot and car traffic in the downtown area.

Lubbock police, all but covered up by the swarm of Christmas shoppers that jammed every square foot of the downtown area from early to late, estimated that 100,000 persons were in town during the day.

The estimate was readily supported by managers of Lubbock stores, most of those contacted reporting that Saturday was the best business day of the year.

A few store officials, while admitting that store traffic was the heaviest of the year, reported that buying was not matching the crowds.

But the majority of the store managers looked for the biggest one-day dollar volume of the year when the day's receipts were fallied up.

The estimate of 100,000 persons in town during the day was made by Police Sergeant J. T. Alley, who agreed that it was probably the biggest crowd of the year.

The day-long traffic jam proved particularly disturbing for an Amarillo woman who came here Saturday to look at a lot she owns

MONDAY IS CONTEST DEADLINE

13 New Entries Are Received For Christmas Lighting Event

THIRTEEN new entries joined Saturday in the competition for the $100 in prizes offered in the third annual Home Decorations Lighting contest sponsored by The Avalanche-Journal.

But there still is plenty of time for many more Lubbock people to join in this holiday fun and, at the same time, make a personal contribution to the Christmas beauty of Lubbock.

Entries will be accepted until 5 p. m. Monday if telephoned to Mrs. Naomi Caddel in The Avalanche-Journal editorial department, No. 4343. Please do not call them in today.

There's lots of time between now and the deadline to decorate a home, yard, doorway, window or outdoor tree, with a good chance of cashing in on one of the prizes.

The decorations need not be expensive. Originality will count most. Several of the prize winners of the past have spent less than 50 cents for their ornaments. One first prize winner in the beautiful window contest spent only 15 cents.

The sponsors and judges appreciate that most of those who file entries aren't particularly interested in the money.

TRACTOR USED FOR POWER

Tech Students Build Mechanical Cotton Loader To Speed Harvest

BY KENNETH MAY
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

A mechanical cotton loader mounted on its own frame and capable of doing the work of eight men has been built and put into operation by five advanced students of farm shop at Texa Technological college.

More than 30 bales of cotton were loaded from piles on the ground during the first two days the loader was in operation this week, according to A. W. Sullivan, assistant professor of plant industry. A bale can be loaded off the ground within 15 minutes by the machine, he said.

Built at a total cost of approximately $450, the loader is mounted on two wheels with an 18-foot A-frame supporting the telescope suction pipe. Cotton can also be taken off a trailor and piled onto the ground by the machine.

Fan Provides Suction

A 30-inch fan, protected by a metal screen, provides the suction for the loader. The fan is a reworked gin blower with straight blades which sucks the cotton toward it from the ground, then diverts it in a 90-degree turn so that it falls into the trailor.

The loader operates off the power take-off of a tractor and is superior to the type which fits onto the tractor in that it can be easily unhooked, releasing the tractor for other work.

Sullivan believes loaders of this type would be of great use to area farmers in havesting their annual cotton crops. Costs could be trimmed, he says, so that the entire machine would not cost over $300. If a single farmer thinks it impractical to spend that much, he adds, two or three could band together to construct the machine.

Students Build Machine

The Tech loader was constructed during three four-hour laboratory periods by the five advanced students working on it. The five included J. B. Cooper, Roscoe; W. J. Felts, Lubbock; Jimmy Green, Enochs; Kenneth Probasco, Floydada; and Roland Westerman, Lorenzo. Except for technical advice from Sullivan, the five built the machine from their own ideas.

Making 2,000 revolutions per minute, the blower of the machine operates with the same efficiency as those at gins, Sullivan asserted. A screen at the final turn of the pipe allows much of the dirt and trash picked up with the cotton to escape without falling with the cotton into the trailor, he said.

Additional work is to be done on the Tech machine which will allow the 18-foot A-frame to drop enough to get under telephone and high line wires, the farm shop instructor added. This will be accomplished by fitting the present frame inside a larger pipe so that the entire frame may be telescoped higher or lower.

The suction pipe of the loader will pick up cotton within an eight-foot circle without moving, according to Sullivan. The tractor can then be moved up without stopping the loading operation.

COTTON LOADER — This home-made mechanical cotton loader constructed at Texas Tech does the work of eight men and makes the task of picking cotton off the ground a much easier one. Piles of cotton are sucked through the long pipe on the right and forced out the other end into a trailor or truck. The short pipe on the ground fits into the longer pipe and can be telescoped for higher or lower piles of cotton. The loader was constructed by five Texas Tech students during 12 hours of laboratory work in the college farm shop. (Staff Photo.)

Church Of Christ Ministers Are Seeking Italian Permission To Re-Open Orphanage

Efforts are being made to obtain permission of the Italian government to re-open a Church of Christ-sponsored mission school and orphanage, it was announced Saturday by Dr. M. Norvel Young, minister of Broadway Church of Christ, Jimmy Woods, minister of Brownwood's Crescent Hill Church of Christ, and C. R. Paden, elder of the Brownfield church.

The mission school and orphanage at Frascati, Italy, 12 miles from Rome, is sponsored by the Brownfield church and aided by the Lubbock church as well as numerous others.

The orphanage was closed and its 22 boys were turned out into the streets within the past week, according to a cablegram received from Cline Paden, former minister of Crescent Hill Church of Christ who is now supervisor of the institution.

Other workers there are Harold O. Paden, from the [illegible] Church of Christ here; K. D. Pittman, from North Christ, Corpus Christi; Gordon R. Linscott, Sears and Summitt Church of Christ, Dallas; William C. Hatcher, Mayes Avenue Church of Christ, Detroit, Mich.; Jack P. McPherson, Nocona Church of Christ; and Wyndal H. Hudson, Seagraves Church of Christ.

Their visas in Italy will expire Jan. 13, and unless they can be renewed the workers will be forced to leave Italy the next day.

The church has spent approximately $200,000 on its mission and orphanage work. Numerous packages of food and clothing have been sent to Italy by church members here, but recently the packages have been held up in Italian customs and missionaries have advised the groups in this country to stop sending them.

The aid of the U. S. Embassy in Rome has been solicited, as well as that of Congressmen and Senators in this country. Thursday Mr. Woods sent a telegram to President Truman soliciting his aid in maintaining the missionary work.

Disabled Veterans Warned About NSLI

Disabled veterans of World war II, who may be disqualified for life insurance because of those disabilities, have but two weeks left in which to take advantage of a special provision of the National service life insurance laws enacted for their benefit, Robert W. Sisson, manager of the Lubbock regional office of the Veterans administration, warned Saturday.

Affected are veterans with disabilities incurred in service between Oct. 8, 1940, and Sept. 2, 1945, who have less than $10,000 maximum of national service life insurance, and whose disabilities are less than total in degree.

Such disabilities are disregarded in determining eligibility under the health requirements for NSLI if application is made before Jan. 1, 1950.

Until that date, these disabled veterans may apply for new or additional insurance, or reinstate lapsed policies up to $10,000 worth of total coverage, and receive the benefit of this special provision, Sisson said. After that date, all impairments to health, including those which may be due to service, must be considered in determining insurability.

Sisson added that application may be made at any VA office and that a physical examination, which will be made by the VA without cost to the veteran, is required.

TWO COLORADO MEN KILLED

FALFURRIAS, Dec. 17 (AP) — Two Colorado men were killed today when two trucks collided on a rain-wet pavement. A third big transport truck, apparently unable to stop, plowed into the wreckage. The victims were Louis Powell Smith, about 34, of Pueblo, and George Gerlock, about 40, of Rocky Ford.

Driver Pays Speed Bet With His Life

PALMYRA, Mich., Dec. 17 (AP)—Travis E. Ballard, 27, paid a bet with his life today.

Ballard, a mechanic from nearby Adrian, bet several persons that he could take a highway curve here at 100-miles-an-hour in his Buick.

Albert E. Wallace, 28, went along to vouch for him. Ballard lost. He and Wallace were killed instantly when their car smashed into a tree.

College Youth Drives Home For Christmas; Auto Injures Father

MOUNTAIN IRON, Minn., Dec. 17 (AP)—Gerald C. Hoye, 24, University of Minnesota student, drove into Mountain Iron last night, happy to be home for Christmas.

A man stepped into the street. Hoye slammed on the brakes. But it was too late. The pedestrian was hurled to the pavement.

Hoye leaped out of his car. He looked at the victim.

It was his father, Clifford Hoye, 50. The elder Hoye was in critical condition today with multiple head injuries and fractured legs.

BUILDING GOES ON BLOCK

DALLAS, Dec. 17. (AP)—A two-story brick downtown building went on the auction block today and was sold for $167,500. The late Samuel L. Cooper, who owned the property, had stipulated in his will that it be sold at public auction. A Pollard Simons of Dallas was top bidder after about 35 minutes of bidding. Some 100 persons attended the auction on the second floor of the building.

The first European to cross Africa from ocean to ocean was David Livingstone, who completed the journey in 1856.

Hungary Arrests Relief Official

VIENNA, Dec. 17 (INS) — The U.S. minister announced in Budapest tonight that Israel Jacobson of Chicago, American joint distribution committee director in Hungary, has been arrested by Hungarian state defense police on undisclosed charges.

Reliable informants in Vienna, said that one aim of the arrest may be to end the flight from the country of Jews emigrating to Israel. An estimated 500 Jews have been fleeing illegally every month from Hungary.

Tries To See Official

The minister, Nathaniel Davis, told correspondents in both Budapest and Vienna that he had tried vainly to see Jacobson, and to find out why the Jewish relief official was arrested.

Fears were expressed in Vienna also about the status of Arnold Berkowitz of New York, an assistant to Jacobson.

The Hungarian foreign office acknowledged the arrest of the 37-year-old Jacobson, formerly of Rochester, N. Y. when an inquiry was made by U. S. legation officials in Budapest. But the Communist officials refused to discuss the charges against him.

Wife Weeps

(Jacobson's wife, Florence, wept in Chicago when she heard of the arrest. She said the Hungarian government is "very suspicious" of Americans or anyone who has recently visited the United States, as her husband had done.)

Another American, Robert A. Vogeler of New York, an assistant vice president of the International Telephone and Telegraph company, has been held incommunicado for a month by the Budapest government on charges of espionage.

Informed circles in Vienna regarded Vogeler's arrest as one based on false charges and perhaps an attempt to gain control of IT&T properties in Hungary through pressure.

Thus these informants regarded the seizure of Jacobson, who once received a minor Hungarian decoration for his relief work, as further evidence that Hungary and other Soviet satellite nations aim to eliminate western representatives by "trumped-up charges."

Apparently it was a hasty decision to arrest Jacobson, because the Hungarians had permitted him to leave Hungary, then quickly issued him a visa enabling him to return.

Harold Trobe, chief of the AJDC in Vienna, announced Jacobson's arrest after querying the U.S. legation. He said he could not imagine the reason for it. He also said he did not believe Jacobson had more than a slight acquaintance with Vogeler, hence there could be no connection with that arrest.

Jacobson told friends in Vienna before leaving for Hungary that he knew "Communist spies" were planted in his office, and he also knew that several Hungarian Jews who occasionally aided him in his relief work had been arrested recently.

Three Lubbock Youths Are Hurt When Auto Overturns

Three Lubbock youths were treated at Lubbock Memorial hospital early Saturday for minor injuries suffered when the car in which they were riding overturned a short distance west of Carlisle, about 10 miles west of here.

They were William Maurice Averitt, 16-year-old Lubbock High school student and driver of the car, of 2104 Twenty-Ninth, Bill Sawyer, 17, of Lubbock route 7, and Mickey McCollum, 19, of 2221 Thirteenth.

Highway patrolmen said investigation indicated that Averitt had fallen asleep at the wheel. The car, which overturned at least twice, was demolished. The accident occurred about 1:30 a. m.

The injured youths, who were returning to Lubbock from Levelland, were carried to the hospital by soldiers from RAFB.

Chest Leaders Urge More Contributions To Reach Drive Goal

Leaders in Lubbock's 1950 Community Chest campaign took stock Saturday and came up with a plea for more contributions to achieve the drive goal of $83,850.

Only $9,554.81 was needed to reach the goal, J. Ray Dickey, co-chairman with Roy Riddel in the campaign, announced. Dickey said collections so far had totaled $89,305.19.

Chest Needs Support

"The Community Chest needs your support and if you have not been approached for a contribution, won't you mail it direct to the Community Chest, 1006½ Fourteenth," Dickey said in making his appeal to the citizens of Lubbock.

"We feel that there are enough people who haven't been asked to give to the Chest to put the goal over the top if they'll only do this between now and the first of the year," Dickey said.

"Since this is the Christmas season and giving is almost universal, we hope those who have charity contributions to make won't forget the Chest if they haven't given anything toward its support," Dickey added.

8,674 Persons Donate

A total of 8,674 persons have donated to the Ches' drive thus far in the campaign, Dickey revealed.

"Only a few hundred persons more giving what they really believe is needed by each of the eight affiliated agencies supported by the Chest would make the goal easily," he said.

The eight agencies supported by Chest funds include the Salvation Army, Milam Home, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Lubbock Boy's Club, Junior Optimist Club, Carver Heights Nursery and Lubbock Service Organization.

Old Brownfield Bank And Trust Firm Completing New Building

BROWNFIELD, Dec. 17 — A giant aluminum sign, "Brownfield State Bank & Trust Co." has been been erected over the front entrance of the new $200,000 Brownfield State Bank & Trust Co. building at South Fourth street and Broadway.

Meanwhile, reparations are being made by the bank and trust company, which is Brownfield's oldest business institution, to move to the new building from their present location, 101 South Sixth street, shortly after Jan. 1.

Practically all the work is completed on the exterior of the new building, and workmen are busy completing plumbing and lighting installations on the interior.

Recorded Choir Music To Be Presented At Meeting Here

Recorded Christmas music by the King's Unitarian choir of Boston will highlight a meeting of the Unitarian fellowship at 4:30 p.m. today in the south annex of St. John's Methodist church.

Miss Lou Bryant will read the Christmas story from the New Testament.

14 Felony Cases Scheduled Here

Fourteen felony cases, including three charging Latin-Americans with rape Aug. 28 of a Lubbock woman, are on the calendar of court for this week.

A petit jury panel will report to the court at 10 a.m. Monday. Witnesses in a variety of cases, however, will appear at 1:30 p. m., because a civil action, Sam Hallmark against R. E. Graves and Helen A. Graves, for recovery of approximately $11,000 in connection with a mechanic's lien, was not finished Saturday.

Guilty Pleas Expected

Several of 11 run-of-the-mill cases are expected to produce pleas of guilty Monday, E. G. Pharr, assistant district attorney, said.

The three charged with rape are Luciano Gonzales and Fred Navarette, each 20, and Nasario Flores, 24, all of Lubbock.

A motion of the defendants' counsel, Roy Carpenter and Byron Chappell, for consolidation of the three cases has been filed with Judge Pardue. No special venire was asked in the case. That indicated the death penalty will not be asked.

County Offices To Close For Holidays

Most offices in the county courthouse will close Friday noon until the following Tuesday morning, in observance of Christmas holidays, it was announced Saturday.

They include the offices of County Judge Walter Davies, County Tax Assessor-Collector H. B. Bryan, County Auditor Joe Boyd, County School Superintendent Roy Boyd.

Whether the district clerk's office will close depends on court business, deputies of Clerk Royal Furgeson said. A civil case, Sam Hallmark against R. E. Graves and wife Helen A. Graves, for foreclosure of a mechanic's lien, will continue over to Monday, court officials said. In addition, a criminal jury panel will report at 10 a.m. Monday to 99th District Judge G. V. Pardue.

There are 14 cases, including three capital felonies, on the court calendar for the week, but several are expected to go off Monday on pleas of guilty.

A MEMORY BOOK OF PROGRESS OF LUBBOCK AND THE SOUTH PLAINS
1873 — 1949

Although in the heart of a once-great "cattle country," meat packing on a substantial scale is of comparatively recent date from Lubbock and the South Plains.

Expansions, however, have been rapid during recent years, with every indication seemingly favorable to its increasing importance as an asset and industry of the entire region. Numerous packing plants now serve the area. Practically all the nationally known packers have substantial investments on the South Plains.

The Keeton Packing company is a striking example of the growth of the industry in this city. Established in 1937, with an initial personnel of about 10 employes, the plant now carries more than 100 persons on the payroll. At the start, it processed a total of about 100 head of cattle and hogs per week. It now averages more than 300 cattle and more than 500 hogs weekly in its new and modern plant.

The business was incorporated last year with Claud Keeton as president; his sons, Ralph and Sidney, as vice presidents, and Rogstad Zachray as secretary.

But the Messrs Keeton say they have to buy a large proportion of their livestock on markets away from Lubbock and the South Plains. They suggest that these needs offer a profitable opportunity for more livestock production in this area.

"I DARE YOU to Come Out to See Me!"

At the age of four Billy was severely burned. He has been in hospital one year and has had five operations. Smiling and confident, he says he will be all right. Will your gifts be among those that fulfill his hopes?

"Know how kids dare each other to do things, like climbing a tree or swimming the creek?" Billy asked with a shy smile.

Then looking at his braced legs he said: "Can't do that, but I dare people to come out and see me and the other kids in here. Betcha they'd see things that would make them think.

"See all these kids?" he asked with a sweep of his hand. "Most of them been here lot a times.

"I was brought here when I was four. Now I'm 12. Had five operations. But I'll be all right some day. Some kids here worse than I am. See in that bed over there? That's John. His legs been in them things four years. How'd you like to be him? Nurse says he'll be all right, though."

Patient and courageous, John has been in the hospital three of his six years. His legs and feet have been in casts for four years. He has a long way to go yet. But he says he will be all right because the people of Texas will see to that.

Yes, Billy is Right

Why not accept Billy's challenge? Come out and see just how the money you donate is translated into human happiness beyond the expression of mere words.

See how little arms, legs, hands, feet are made straight, strong and useful. Best of all see the happy, smiling, confident children. See the look of hope, courage, gratefulness in every face.

Without the gifts of money the Hospital asks for each Christmas, many of these children would go through life hopelessly crippled, their chances for success and usefulness almost nothing. For, remember these children come from homes financially unable to send them to pay institutions.

Your dollars give them a chance to grow into self-supporting men and women . . . some of them to become public leaders, teachers, merchants, industrialists.

26 Years Service to Texas Crippled Children

Since the Hospital was founded 26 years ago, 16,110 children have been given surgery treatment. During the same time, 68,670 clinic treatments have been given. In not a single case has a penny ever been collected from child or parent for treatment or examination. These children have come from every county in Texas. Fewer than one per cent of them have come from the homes of Masons.

This fellow swings along with the indomitable hope of youth. Your gifts will help him throw away those crutches.

This is Jimmie Poole, 20 months old. He has had club feet from birth and has been in the hospital since August this year. He has a good chance for normal use of his feet. Will your gift come along to help him do it?

Each Year the Number Grows

Every 12 months more than 3,000 Texas children are born with congenital deformities, or are crippled by polio. A large part of these is added to the waiting list of children seeking admission to the Hospital.

So Your Gifts are Urgently Needed

Each year the Hospital must have more money, if it is to carry on the great work it began 26 years ago. For each year more children are admitted for treatment, and the cost of administering to them increases. The commercial cost of corrective surgery on one polio victim alone may run as high as ten thousand dollars.

The Hospital, as it has from the beginning, looks to Texans . . . men and women, institutions and associations . . . for gifts of money to carry on the "round-the-clock" service that goes forward every day in the week, every week in the year.

So won't you help with a gift at this time? Be as generous as your means permit. But send it now! Today! Won't you?

GIVING KEEPS YOU LIVING!

Types of Gifts

Gifts to the hospital may be made under any one or more of the following plans:

Living Trusts: You can, while you live, set up a living trust for the benefit of the Hospital, by conveying to the Hospital board, or to your bank or trust company, as trustee, such properties, monies, notes, stocks, bonds and other assets as you may wish to set aside for that purpose. The trustee will administer the fund in strict compliance with the conditions set forth in your trust agreement.

Bequests: You may set aside in your last will and testament any monies, properties, stocks, bonds, or other assets as a bequest to the Texas Scottish Rite Hospital for Crippled Children.

Life Insurance: You may make your gift in the form of a life insurance policy, naming the Hospital as beneficiary. You may take out a new policy for this purpose, or you may transfer an old policy to the Hospital as the new beneficiary.

Memorials: You may wish to memorialize some loved one by a gift to the Hospital. The occasion for such gifts is usually a death, a birthday, an anniversary. Both the name of the donor and that of the memorialized one are entered upon the Hospital records.

Cash: You may, at any time, and in any amount, make a gift in cash to the Hospital for its day to day financial needs. This is the type of gift that the Hospital needs many of and all through the year.

Marry Alice Collins has also had club feet from birth. She has been in the hospital since August. A long road lies ahead of her before she is able to walk normally. But with the help of your gift, Marry will make it.

Miracle House: Outside, it is a brick and stone building, set amid beautiful trees, lawns and shrubbery on a quiet street. Inside, well, miracles do happen. Little limbs are made strong and useful, hearts gladdened, minds given new impetus, the future new hope.

Visit the Hospital and you will understand why each year you are asked to give money for this work . . . why the work cannot go on without your gifts.

GOP Leaders Face Problem In Gaining Votes Among Workers

By GEORGE GALLUP, Director
American Institute Of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., Dec. 17.—Republican strategy committees now working on campaign plans for 1950 could very well focus attention on one problem.

That is the need for the Republican party to "sell" a larger bloc of voters on the idea that their own interests are best represented by the Republicans.

This job has already been done successfully in the group comprising business and professional people, and there is evidence that the Republicans have also made substantial progress among white-collar or office workers. This latter group, by a small margin, today says that the Republican party represents its interests best.

But in the case of skilled and unskilled workers and farmers, the Democratic party holds a very substantial advantage at present.

The American Institute of Public opinion selected an accurate cross-section for the country, and had interviewers ask the following question of voters:

"As you feel today, which political party, the Republican or Democratic, do you think serves the interests of the following groups best?

The groups listed were: farmers; business owners and professional workers, such as carpenters, plumbers, electricians; unskilled workers, such as manual laborers; and white-collar workers or office workers.

After voting on the above question, each person was asked:

"In which of these occupational groups would you place yourself?"

The following tables show the vote for each group of persons who place themselves into that particular occupational group:

PARTY BEST FOR WHITE-COLLAR WORKERS?
VOTE OF WHITE-COLLAR WORKERS

Republican	37%
Democratic	33
No difference	19
No opinion	11

PARTY BEST FOR BUSINESSMEN?
VOTE OF BUSINESS & PROFESSIONAL PERSONS

Republican	59%
Democratic	24
No difference	9
No opinion	8

PARTY BEST FOR FARMERS?
VOTE OF FARMERS

Republican	16%
Democratic	65
No difference	10
No opinion	9

The vote of farmers outside the South is almost identical with the figures shown in the preceding table.

Democratic Labor Advantage

The Democratic advantage is particularly marked among persons who classify themselves as unskilled workers or skilled workers.

PARTY BEST FOR UNSKILLED WORKERS?
VOTE OF UNSKILLED WORKERS

Republican	10%
Democratic	64
No difference	10
No opinion	16

PARTY BEST FOR SKILLED WORKERS?

Brownfield Health Unit Site Protested

BROWNFIELD, Dec. 17—Resolutions protesting location of the new $84,000 South Plains Health Unit center here on a North Fifth street site agreed on by Terry county commissioners and the city council have been passed by the Brownfield Lions and Rotary clubs and board of directors of the Brownfield Chamber of Commerce.

The county and city governments, which will share half the center, agreed on the proposed site at a recent joint meeting. Dr. Frank P. Miller, director of the South Plains Health unit, said advertisements have already been made for construction bids.

The resolutions passed by the Lions, Rotarians and chamber of commerce protest the proposed site because of its proximity to a cotton gin and its distance from the downtown business district.

The resolutions have already been presented to the county and city, but no action has been taken by these groups on the protests. Their answers have been that the location agreed upon seemed the only logical one considering the amount of funds available for a site purchase, and that the civic groups' resolutions offer no concrete suggestions for obtaining a new site.

Of the $84,000 construction cost, one-half will be provided by the federal government. The present location of the health unit, which serves Terry, Dawson, Gaines, Yoakum and Hockley counties, is one room on the ground floor of the Terry county courthouse.

Mrs. Welch asked judgment for total and permanent injuries allegedly suffered Nov. 12, 1948, when in course of employment by West Texas Warehouse and Compress company.

She was represented by Allred and Boedeker.

Daughter Of Duke And A Bullfighter Fail In Elopement

MADRID, Dec. 17 (U.P.) — Police broke up the elopement of a duke's daughter and a bullfighter today.

Angelina, pretty daughter of the Duke of Pino Hermoso, slid down a rope of knotted bedsheets from her balcony into the arms of Luis Miquel Dominguin, one of Spain's leading bullfighters, last night.

They ran to a waiting automobile and sped away. But they were spotted by a watchman on the estate and the duke asked police to intercept them.

Girl Taken Home

Police found the missing lovers early this morning, Angelina at the home of socially-prominent friends and Dominguin at the home of bullfighter friends.

The duke took Angelina home and told Dominguin to keep away from his door. Police released Dominguin, and he vowed he would win Angelina yet.

He has been trying for two years. The duke has forbidden the marriage on grounds Dominguin is a commoner.

THE MESSIAH' SLATED TODAY

School Christmas Programs To Boost Yule Spirit For Students

Beginning with the third annual presentation of The Messiah this afternoon at Lubbock Senior High school, the calendar of all Lubbock schools will be jammed with Christmas programs, decorating, and parties during the final three days of school for 1949.

Official Christmas holidays will begin on Wednesday afternoon at the conclusion of the regular school da, and will last until the opening of the school day on Jan. 3, 1950, Supt. R. W. Matthews said.

Sixty-three members of the Senior High school A Capella choir, directed by J. H. Penn, will present Handel's Messiah at 3 o'clock this afternoon in the Senior High auditorium.

Four Soloists Scheduled

The program, scheduled for one hour, will feature four soloists: Mrs. Paul Glasgow, Mrs. Carl W. Shafer, Wilson Ward, and Bob Leonard. The public is invited to this annual presentation, Penn said. James Metts will play organ accompaniments and Gerre Hancock piano accompaniments.

Also scheduled at 3 o'clock this afternoon is a Christmas open house at M. O. Overton elementary school. Children of the school have invited their parents to visit between 3 and 4:30 p. m. to view the special Christmas decorations, see work on display in each room, and hear intermediate students sing carols around the large lighted tree in the school's entrance hall, Lennon Hill, school principal said.

School Cafeteria Decorated

All school cafeterias have been decorated by special art committees, and menus to be featured during the three days will carry the Christmas theme, Mrs. Dora Nell Carroll, cafeteria director said. At the various schools of the city elaborate decorations including Bibli al scenes, lighted trees, Santa and his reindeer, Christmas motifs in cut-outs, and special center pieces on cafeteria tables are on display and parents are invited to have lunch with their children an enjoy the holiday atmosphere, Mrs. Carroll said.

Menus this week in all cafeterias will be as follows: Monday: tamale pie, buttered peas, glazed carrots, fig muffins, cherry short cake with green whipped cream, butter, and milk; Tuesday, when the special Christmas dinner is planned, creamed turkey in tart shells, candied yams, buttered green beans, parsley carrots, biscuits, mincemeat pie, and cocoanut snowballs, butter, and milk; Wednesday, baked ham, parsley buttered potatoes, baked apples with marshmallows, hot rolls, red and white cake with green frosting.

Specials Planned For Week

Specials planned for the cafeterias during the week include: Whipped lime and cherry jello, Santa Claus apples, Christmas bell jello, colored fruit juices, and jello made in shapes of Christmas trees, Santa Claus, stars and star and crescent.

Room Christmas parties will be featured in all schools on Wednesday. Students at Senior High will have their guidance group parties from 8:45 until 9:20 a. m., with their special Christmas assemblies featuring the music and dramatic departments scheduled from 3:15 to 3:45 Wednesday afternoon, Floyd Honey, principal said.

In most of the other schools of the city the Christmas parties are scheduled during the last two hours of school on Wednesday afternoon. All school rooms of the city have Christmas trees and special decorations made by the students, and parties will feature a exchange of gifts and refreshment. Santa Claus, courtesy of City Recreation department, is scheduled for visits to George M. Hunt and Special school Wednesday afternoon.

Thursday students at Dupre school were entertained by choral groups from Senior High school. Members of the Senior Girl's chorus gave the Christmas story in pantomime with a series of Christmas carols at a morning assembly. Julia Hallmark was the reader and Rosemary Sprague lead group singing. During the afternoon the sophomore chorus presented "Why the Chimes Rang," with Betty Doris Hamilton as reader nd Sue Pucket directing group singing.

Retired Methodist District Head To Preach At Abernathy

Dr. L. N. Lipscomb, retired Methodist district superintendent, will preach today at the 11 a. m. worship service of the First Methodist church of Abernathy.

Pastor of the church, Rev. George Turrentine, currently is on a trip to Georgia and Alabama.

At the 7:30 p. m. worship service the pulpit will be filled by Rev. Charles Lutrick, associate pastor of St. John's Methodist church of Lubbock.

Rev. Lutrick's parents reside at Abernathy, and he formerly lived there.

Students To Help In School Program To Aid Needy Families

Doing for others will be a real part of the Christmas plans of a large group of school children in Lubbock this week as schools plan special gifts of non-perishable foods, clean clothing, and toys for less fortunate families of the community. In all cases students and teachers are cooperating with community welfare groups in placing the gifts, Miss Dorothy Lomax, director of secondary education, and Ishmael Hill, assistant superintendent in charge of elementary education, said.

At K. Carter school students began several weeks ago bringing good, clean clothing, in Christmas wrappings, to be placed around the large tree in the hall of the school. Each package of clothing is labeled with the type of garments and the size so that they may be distributed easily, R. D. Ford, school principal said. Clothing, and some food, will be used first for needy families within the community, and what is left will be turned over to welfare organizations for placement.

Students Sing Carols

Clothing brought by students to George M. Hunt school will be turned over to the Salvation Army for placement, Preston E. Davis, principal, said. As Hunt students come to school each day this week they will stop in the hall around their lighted tree to sing carols before going to their classes. Students in the first grade room of Mrs. Jane Smith have been contributing for several weeks to a fund to be given to Goodfellow this week.

At P. F. Brown school students are preparing a box of clothing for two needy families in Germany: The gift of clothing was an outgrowth of a talk by Mrs. David R. Burford, a school patron, who has spent three years in Germany and who provided sixth grade students with names and necessary information about the families. In addition, Brown children are contributing fruit to be given to welfare organization for distribution.

Sixth graders at Cottage school were contacting welfare groups Friday to determine the greatest need before deciding what gifts they would bring for the less fortunate schildren of the city, Mrs. Iris Bergholm, principal, said.

At Roscoe Wilson school it is a tradition that each child bring non-perishable food and good clothing as a part of the school's gift to the needy, Mrs. Ivy Savage, principal said. On Tuesday morning the school students will observe a simple White Gift service, and will stack their gifts in the hall of the school as they all join in singing Christmas carols.

Secondary schools of the city will see that the Christmas trees which decorate their rooms are given to families who might not have trees, Miss Lomax said. At J. T. Hutchinson Junior High boxes will be placed in each home room Monday morning and students will bring toys, food, and clothing to fill them during the week. These, along with Christmas trees, will be given to the Salvation Army for distribution.

Rummage Sale Held

At Carroll Thompson Junior High the Future Homemakers organization held two rummage sales this fall to obtain funds for their Christmas social service work. They have adopted two families and will use their funds to buy food for Christmas dinners for these families. Other rooms of the school are joining in the project and will provide toys and some food to complete the Christmas of the families.

Food for two needy families is also being provided by two home room groups at O. L. Slaton Junior High school, while another room is collecting funds for Goodfellow.

Toys received by students at Christmas parties at Senior High school will be presented to welfare groups, as well as canned food and room Christmas trees, Floyd Honey, principal said.

"BOSS" GETS CHRISTMAS "SURPRISE"—Employes of the Bowman Lumber Company in West Texas and New Mexico staged a real surprise for their "boss" Saturday when they presented him with a shiny new Fleetwood Cadillac automobile as a Christmas present. Garrett, who is also mayor of Carlsbad, said the employes had been planning the presentation for two years. The lumber company is the oldest operating in Lubbock, having been established here in 1909 as the W. C. Bowman Lumber Company. In 1936, the name was changed to the Bowman Lumber Company. Cub Scouts To Aid Needy Family Here

In keeping with their December theme, "The Other Fellow," members of Pack 28 of the Lubbock South Plains Cub Scouts have taken a needy family of Lubbock "under their wings" for Christmas.

The name of the local family was obtained through the Lubbock post of Veterans of Foreign Wars. The father is ill and unable to work. There are five children in the family ranging from seven years down to three months of age.

The Cub Scouts purchased a Christmas tree and decorated it with ornaments which they themselves made. Each of the approximately 70 members of the Cub pack brought a can of food to place under the tree.

The tree and packages of food were delivered to the family Saturday afternoon by representatives of the various Cub dens in the pack and Cub Master R. E. Williams.

On Christmas Eve they will present the same family with a turkey and cash donated by parents and den mothers of the pack. Toys are to be given the children in the family by the Cub Scouts and are also to be delivered on Christmas Eve.

Leaders of Pack 28 are: R. E. Williams, cub master; Harold Yelverton, assistant cub master; and Mrs. J. H. Shirley, Mrs. R. E. Williams, Mrs. Neil B. Essary, Mrs. J. C. Hilton, Mrs. J. P. Davis, Mrs. J. W. Spears, Mrs. J. C. Stansell, and Mrs. A. W. Jackson, den mothers.

Nearly $6,000 Still Needed For TB Fund

With one week left before Christmas, the Lubbock County Tuberculosis association announced Saturday that it lacks a little over one-third reaching its 1949 goal of $15,000 from the sale of Christmas seals.

"We have collected $9,192.53 to date," Miss Virginia Greenwaldt, executive secretary for the association announced. She said "first reminders" had been sent to thousands of persons in the county and that "response has been very satisfactory."

Money collected from the sale of seals will be used in 1950 to find the unknown cases of tuberculosis throughout the country, Miss Greenwaldt said. The association sponsors the annual free chest X-ray unit and circulates information concerning the dread disease.

"The Lubbock county association is so confident of the success of the seals campaign that it is going ahead with plans of making the next year a banner one in the fight against TB here," the secretary declared.

It is hoped that every resident of the county will be reached during 1950 with information and facts about tuberculosis that will help them protect themselves against the disease, she continued.

Complimenting volunteer workers, the secretary declared that the association "is grateful to everyone for their contributions" and is sure "that the $15,000 goal will be reached."

APPROPRIATIONS SLASH URGED

New Or Increased State Taxes Opposed By Three Texas Solons

By BO BYERS
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, Dec. 17.—No new taxes or increase in present taxes should be voted at the upcoming special legislative session, three state representatives said today.

The trio — Reps. Sam Hanna of Dallas, Louis Ivey of El Paso, and James B. Pattison of Pattison — tried unsuccessfully yesterday to put the state legislative council on record as recommending that the 51st Legislature pass no new taxes. They are members of the council.

Appropriations Cut Urged

Failing to gain recognition of their resolution, the representatives issued a statement recommending that the legislature cut appropriations previously made for the second year of the biennium.

They suggested a 15 per cent cut and figured that would give the state $15,000,000 additional revenue.

No appropriation was made by the legislature at its regular session for operation of state hospitals and special schools in the fiscal year beginning next Sept. 1.

To meet this need and to provide funds for construction of essential eleemosynary institutions, Gov. Allan Shivers has said he will call a special session in late January or February.

Shivers also has said that new taxes must be levied to pay for state services "we must have."

Bitter Fight Seen

Hanna, Ivey and Pattison are not the first legislators to oppose Shivers' view. Few have publicly agreed that new taxes are needed. A bitter fight over the issue is bound to come.

Estimates as to how much additional revenue may be needed range from zero to more than $50 million a year.

Eleemosynary operational needs alone are estimated at $17,000,000 for the fiscal year 1950-51. Cost of a minimum building program for hospitals and special schools was fixed at some $20,000,000 during the past session.

Increasing costs in the fields of public welfare, highway building and maintenance, and operation of the schools, and other state services also point to a probable need for additional revenue each succeeding year.

Declining oil production, major source of state revenue, makes the picture still darker.

Hanna, Ivey and Pattison expressed the following attitude:

"In view of the financial situation facing the state as the special session approaches, which situation has become more acute by the cut in oil allowables, thereby reducing revenue:

"Further, in view of the alarming tendency in our national government to plunge farther into deficit spending, a situation which we in Texas must guard against, in order that the state may continue to enjoy its position of leadership, we recommend that the matter of the current biennium be seriously considered.

15 Percent Cut Urged

"By making a blanket 15 per cent cut in major second year appropriations this will be an increase in the anticipated revenue of around $15,000,000 which can be used for the operation and improvement of our eleemosynary program."

Hanna also suggested that certain special funds be diverted to the general fund. He said that would add $2,500,000 for general spending purposes and would amount to more in the future.

The group conceded their plan would not take care of building needs.

But, said Hanna, "in view of the opposition to a tax bill on the part of a great majority of the people, I believe we might defer the building program until the regular session in 1951, when we could submit it to a vote of the people on a constitutional amendment to authorize a bond issue."

"I think that would be the better way to finance the buildings," he continued. "If the people want it, then it is up to them."

Shivers Hands Out Presents At Waco Children's Party

WACO, Dec. 17 (AP) — Don't blame 900 children at the Waco Methodist home if they get Santa Claus mixed up with the governor of Texas.

Gov. Allan Shivers helped hand out gifts at the annual Christmas party last night, giving each child a Christmas sack full of candy, apples, tangerines, four shiny half dollars and a one-dollar bill.

J. S. Bridwell of Wichita Falls gave the half dollars and Mrs. W. W. Fondren of Houston the bills.

Traveled In Seven Foreign Countries During Brief Life

17-Month-Old Baby Of Lubbock Parents Already An Accomplished Globe-Toddler

By BILL CLARK
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

At the ripe old age of 17 months Samuel Ransom Shoup has already made his mark in the world as a well-traveled cosmopolite.

The toddling son of Lieut. and Mrs. Samuel E. Shoup of 2621 Forty-second has already visited seven foreign countries, 15 of these United States and the District of Columbia.

The youngster, furthermore, has a number of other impressive distinctions. For one thing, his grandfather and his uncle invented the voting machine so commonly used in elections these days. For another, he has both a German and a United States birth certificate.

Married In London

Lt. and Mrs. Shoup are comparatively new arrivals at Reese Air Force base. When they moved to Lubbock, they brought with them a variety of china, furniture, art work and other knick-knacks which they purchased or were given in Germany.

The Shoups met at Wiesbaden, Germany and were married in London. Mrs. Shoup, a native of London, was secretary to a director of the American Red Cross. They were married May 17, 1947.

When little Samuel was nine weeks old his journeys began. The Shoups went to London, by way of Luxembourg, Belgium and Holland, to visit Mrs. Shoup's parents. They returned to Germany by way of France.

Missed Five Countries

If the baby had been a few months older, he could have added Czechoslovakia, Italy, Monaco, Switzerland and Austria to his list, for the Shoups visited those countries before his arrival.

The family arrived in the United States—at New York— Nov. 13, 1948. They visited the lieutenant's native state, New Jersey, as well as Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, the District of Columbia, Tennessee, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana before arriving at Barksdale Air Force base, whence they came to Lubbock.

Their trip to the United States was by ship, a nine-day sea voyage.

U. S. Looks Temporary

Mrs. Shoup's first impressions of this country were interesting.

"New York was just as I had imagined," she said, "but not the rest of the United States. New York is like London in that it's a cosmopolitan city.

"We don't have the frame buildings you find in other parts of the United States. It looks temporary, somehow, but I'm getting used to it.

"I like this country very much, and don't miss my folks as much as I had expected."

Shoup is a director of the company which controls the Shoup voting machine, invented by his father and brother, and now in widespread use in many states.

Young Samuel currently shows none of the boredom one might expect from a seasoned traveler. He actually explores every nook and cranny, and he is particularly taken by fountain pens and pencils at this stage. A cuckoo clock brought from Germany by his parents is an object of interest, but like others his age, everything is new and different.

His parents are a little sorry he won't be able to remember his early travels.

Morton Man Is Shot To Death

hallway and started shooting after Spence allegedly fired at him.

Ritter said he then called an ambulance and waited for officers to arrive. Lewis L. Walker, proprietor of the nearby dance studio ran to the patio when he heard the shooting, saw Spence's body and notified officers. Melton said he called the sheriff's office. Walker said there was no connection between the studio and apartment where the shooting happened.

Cards Stacked On Table

A deck of cards was stacked on a table covered with a gray cloth at one side of the room when officers arrived.

Dr. Fred Kallina, city health officer, told officers later at McDonald's Funeral home, where the body was taken, that two bullets had entered the dead man's back and emerged from the body through the chest. Officials had not located the two bullets late early this morning.

Officers said no money was found on the dead man's body. A pickup truck, which reportedly belonged to Spence was found parked in the alley behind the apartment, its motor still running.

District Attorney Lloyd Croslin and Sheriff Grady Harrist, who returned to the apartment later to search for the bullets, said they had found evidence of another shot where a bullet apparently fired from the outer door had entered the ceiling, glanced from a piece of metal and ripped through a curtain and window on the opposite side of the room.

A search for that bullet also had proved fruitless at an early hour today.

The complaint against Ritter charged murder with malice.

Information supplied McDonald's Funeral home by relatives of the dead man indicated that Spence had a gasoline dealership in Morton. It was not learned when Spence had arrived in Lubbock.

Funeral arrangements had not been completed early today, the funeral home announced.

Spence is survived by his wife, two sons, a daughter, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. Spence of Levelland.

Jury Deadlocks In Civil Rights Trial

ROME, Ga., Dec. 17. (AP)— The mass civil rights trial of ten men with its tales of seven flogged negroes and night riding Ku Klux Klansmen ended in a mistrial today.

The decision was made by U. S. District Judge Frank A. Hooper after Jury Foreman Herman D. Casey, jr., Rome auto salesman, announced a hopeless deadlock.

Casey said that since the first ballot the jury had been divided seven for conviction, five for acquittal.

The jury returned to the courtroom precisely 48 hours after the case was received at 1:45 p. m. (CST) Thursday.

Defense Attorney Frank M. Gleason of Rossville, Ga., said, "I think it is a signal victory for the defense."

As for the defendants, they received the decision with little expression, fully aware they still are subject to further prosecution.

U. S. District Attorney J. Ellis Mundy could not be reached for comment.

Each of the ten defendants was accused in a two court indictment of plotting to deprive seven negroes of their constitutional rights by arresting them "without cause" April 2 and then surrendering them to a Ku Klux Klan mob for whipping.

By so doing, the government charged in the U. S. District court, the negroes were deprived of their rights to be immune from illegal punishment and to receive equal protection under the law.

Since Nov. 21 the jurors have been bombarded with nearly 900,000 words of testimony from 113 witnesses, 67 of them for the government.

Throughout 18 days of testimony and legal wrangling the government tried to show that there had been a conspiracy by the defendants and the Ku Klux Klan to seize and beat the negroes.

GOP Names New Jersey State Official To Seek Thomas Post

HACKENSACK, N. J., Dec. 17. (AP)—New Jersey Labor Commissioner Harry C. Harper today was unanimously selected by Republican leaders of the Seventh Congressional district as organization candidate to succeed J. Parnell Thomas.

Thomas, jailed and fined for payroll padding, has submitted his resignation as congressman effective Jan. 2.

Gov. Allred E. Driscoll said he will call a special election in the district after the resignation becomes effective.

Aggies Will Tangle With North Texas Five Tuesday

COLLEGE STATION, Dec. 17 (Special)—Last sports event of 1949 to be held at Texas A&M will come Tuesday night when the Aggie basketball team plays hosts to North Texas State college.

The game, which winds up A&M's pre-Christmas warmup slate, also will serve to give SWC cage fans a line of comparison on the Aggies, Baylor, TCU and Texas. The Eagles have faced Baylor and Texas and will meet TCU later this month.

MARKET DESTROYED

CLEVELAND, Dec. 17 (AP) — A disastrous central market fire was brought under control tonight after causing damage which a battalion chief estimated at about $250,000. First of five alarms came at 9:02 p.m. In the hour and three-quarters that followed before the flames were checked, three firemen were slightly burned and a bumper was destroyed.

Barkley Raps HST Program Opposition

MIAMI, Dec. 17. (INS)— Vice-President Alben Barkley assailed critics of the Truman administration tonight and challenged them to prove their charges that the federal government is leading the nation "down the road to the so-called 'welfare state.'"

Barkley did not refer directly to the Republicans but he left no doubt in the minds of some 3,500 persons attending the Democratic fund-raising dinner in Miami that the target of his remarks was the GOP.

The vice-president told the hundreds who paid $10 a plate for their meal in Miami's Dinner Key auditorium that without the work of the Democrats "the great program which has made this nation strong would never have been accomplished."

He referred to administration critics as "tree-sitters and hitchingpost devotees" and called on them to "give us a bill of particulars as to the program."

Lie Detector Test

rope tied around her waist.

Crowder said the test was given, with Trulock's co-operation, because "fingers of suspicion had been pointed at him."

Truelock, last known person to see his wife alive, was in Lubbock when notified of the bizarre death of his wife. Her body was found by her son by a previous marriage, Calvin Grantham, 13, who came home from school to get a pair of tennis shoes at 1:25 p. m. on Nov. 16.

Sheriff E. M. Bass of Post, in charge of the investigation into the Garza county death, brought Truelock to Lubbock last night.

Sheriff Convinced of Innocence

Bass said that the results of the lie detector test "removes any suspicion toward Truelock and I am convinced of his innocence."

The sheriff said he still was considering the possibility of murder in the case, "which is my duty in view of the open verdict by the justice of the peace."

Justice of the Peace J. D. King of Post had ruled in a non-committal verdict that Mrs. Truelock died "of suffocation from the gag in her mouth." His verdict came after two Post physicians had conducted a post-mortem.

Bass said last night that King had not been informed of the lie detector results in Lubbock, and did not know whether King would change the verdict on the strength of the test.

Truelock Anxious For Test

"In all fairness to Truelock, we thought we should let him take the test," Crowder said. Bass said Truelock "was anxious to submit to the test."

The lie detector machine was brought to Lubbock from Austin. Technician in charge of the test was D. E. Wheeler of Austin.

Crowder said Wheeler reported that the test showed Truelock's chart ran smooth and "his reactions indicated innocence."

"This does not mean that the case is dead," Crowder said. "Ranger Razz Renfrow has been assigned to the case and he has worked diligently. He has run down many leads and will continue to run down any leads that might lead to a solution of the case."

Three notes, one in the form of poetry, were found in the Truelock apartment after her death. These, coupled with the fact that Mrs. Truelock suffered from diabetes, have added to the theory of possible suicide.

Title Game Set For Fort Worth Stadium

WICHITA FALLS, Dec. 17. (AP) —The state Class AA schoolboy championship football game will be played at Fort Worth next Friday afternoon between Wichita Falls and Austin.

The decision to play the game on a neutral field was made here tonight at a meeting of Austin and Wichita Falls school officials.

It was decided to play on a neutral field by the flip of a coin, since each school wanted the game on its home field. Thus the coin was flipped to determine whether the game would be played on a neutral field or on the home field of one of the teams.

Dallas and Fort Worth each made bids for the game. Fort Worth was picked as the best site.

The game will start at 2:30 p.m. in the Texas Christian university stadium.

Ex-Lubbock Woman Jockey To Race Against Johnny Longden

AGUA CALIENTE, Lower California, Dec. 17. (INS) — Mrs. Wantha Davis, girl jockey champion, drew the post position today for her match race tomorrow with Johnny Longden, three times America's leading turf pilot.

Mrs. Davis, who is 30 years old and the mother of an 8-year-old boy, will be aboard Northeast while Longden will ride Grey Spook.

The horses were chosen for the race because they are regarded as perfectly matched.

Besides the post position, the girl jockey will have another slight advantage over Longden. She rates as an apprentice and will have a five-pond weight allowance—118 against 123.

(Editor's note: Mrs. Davis, nee Wantha Bangs, was a jockey at races staged as a feature of the 1938 Panhandle-South Plains fair in Lubbock.)

Permanent Injunctions Ordered Against Commercial Fisherman

AUSTIN, Dec. 17. (AP)—Issuance of a permanent injunction against 46 commercial fishermen to prevent their fishing in Texas waters without Texas licenses has been ordered by District Judge J. Harris Gardner.

The 53rd district court judge in effect sustained the state's new license law, passed by the 51st Legislature this year, but he indicated he would like to see the higher courts rule on the matter.

Johnson Asks

a period of three years is considered to be of the highest priority."

Other legislation on which Johnson asked White House approval was:

1. Authority for the ousting of "talkative" as well as of disloyal employes of the Defense and State departments, the Atomic Energy commission, the National Security Resources board and the National Advisory Committee on Aeronautics.

"Indiscreet" Workers Scored

Johnson said there now is no authority for removal of an employe who while loyal "is dangerously indiscreet." He added:

"The indiscretions of a loyal employe can result in just as complete and damaging a compromise to national security as the actions of a disloyal employe."

2. Permission for the Navy to junk vessels. Johnson said boats may be in excess because they do not fit into "basic war plans, the relative foreign naval strength, or the ability of the Navy to maintain them with budget limitations."

3. Lifting of the restriction which requires 10 per cent of government aircraft to be produced in government plants.

4. Blanket authority for the President to send military missions to any country upon request of the foreign government. Mr. Truman may dispatch missions now only in time of war or "declared national emergency."

5. Permission to extend the military-amateur radio system to any qualified civilian amateur. Johnson said this would make available a "pool of competent trained communications personnel for immediate use in event of emergency."

Under the present draft law, men 19 through 25 are liable to induction for a 21-month period. Congress revived selective service for two years in June, 1948, but only after a battle which flamed for months.

No inductions have been made since last February and members of Congress said it would be even more difficult to get an extension approved now. Johnson made no suggestions for any change in the present law.

In recommending the extension, he told Mr. Truman:

"The necessity for this legislation is supported by unanimous recommendations of the joint chiefs of staff as well as the military departments and the Department of State and the National Security Resources board have advised me that they concur in this proposal."

Two Monahans Residents Are Killed In Car-Train Collision

ODESSA, Dec. 17. (AP) —Two Monahans residents were killed instantly late today when the car in which they were riding collided with a Texas and Pacific diesel-powered freight train.

Dead were James Emory Alexander, 26, and Mrs. Gene Robinson, 52.

The accident occured one mile west of Monahans on Highway 80.

J. H. Johnson was engineer of the train and W. O. Wasson was conductor. Both are from Big Spring.

The two victims were the only occupants of the automobile.

HST'S BID ACCEPTED

KARACHI, Pakistan, Dec. 17 (AP. — Premier Liaquat Ali Khan informed newspapermen tonight he is accepting President Truman's invitation to visit the United States next May. He declined to say whether his U.S. visit would precede or follow a state visit to Moscow.

NEWS BRIEFS

James Lee Jones, commissaryman, first class, USN, of Lamesa, is serving as a crew member serving with Composite Squadron 21 aboard the escort carrier USS Badoeng Strait, which was one of the units of Vice Admiral Gerald F. Bogan's Western Task Force, which engaged in the joint Army-Navy Exercise "Miki."

Mrs. E. L. Avery, formerly of Llano and Austin, is now co-owner and manager of Lubbock Beauty College. Mrs. Avery has just completed serving a six year appointment as a member of the State Board of Cosmetology. For four years she held the post of president of the board.

Rev. H. A. Zimmerman of Wala Wala, Washington, will be guest minister at the Calvary Baptist church at 11 a.m. Sunday.

The Lubbock County Tuberculosis Association Saturday announced that $9,192 has been received of its goal of $15,000 for the 1949 Christmas Seal program.

A Mexican farm laborer, Juan Moreno, 34, of San Diego, Mexico, state of Jalisco, was admitted to Lubbock Memorial hospital with lacerations and several broken ribs after he had walked into a car in the 800-block Fifteenth about 7:15 p. m. Saturday, police said. Investigating officers said Moreno was crossing the street in the middle of the block when he was struck by a car driven by Jackie Cook, 18, of 1907 Ave. O. He was taken to the hospital by Rix ambulance.

City firemen answered an alarm at 1:45 p.m. Saturday from girls dormitory 4, Texas Tech, when clothing and bedspreads in a gas-heated drier in the laundry, third floor of the north wing, became overheated and caught fire. Loss was termed light. At 11:55 a.m., firemen went to Canyon gin, north of Acuff community, but found only a pile of burrs burning.

Optimist Club Holds Charter Night Meet

About 125 members of the Lubbock Optimist club, their wives and guests attended the 11th annual charter night banquet of the organization Saturday night at Hotel Lubbock.

Burritt S. Miles, retired industrial and sales engineer of Lubbock, was the principal speaker. His topic, "The Advantages of Being Friendly," stressed the necessity of a congenial approach in business and private life. He illustrated his point by relating personal experiences.

The master of ceremonies was Rev. Cecil A. Ray, pastor of the Arnett-Benson Baptist church and chaplain of the group.

The banquet was started with group singing. H. P. Watkins then gave the invocation.

G. C. Stewart, president, introduced the guests.

Mrs. Carl Scoggin, soprano, sang several musical selections, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. R. V. Law.

Earl Lewis, president of the Plainview Optimist club, was present and various Lubbock civic groups were represented.

New Bank Building

street side and extending one section on Ave. K, will be reserved for some sort of exclusive retail shop.

Unusual Treatment Planned

Unusual treatment of the facade is to be accomplished with massive "blocks" of bonded granite spaced alternately with wide expanses of glass at the bank entrances on the Avenue K side of the building. The sides of the granite blocks will continue up and intersect other limestone bands at the office levels above.

A four-window auto-teller unit will be located on the south adjoining lot for convenience of "drive-in" customers.

A large safe deposit department is planned for the lower level of the building, now the basement of the department store.

An extremely interesting but simple interior is planned for the bank.

The entire building will be air-conditioned and centrally-heated.

Construction is to start as soon as the department store moves to its new building at the corner of Thirteenth and Ave. J, probably in April, and work on the new bank building is expected to be completed late in 1950.

The Capitol Building in Washington, D. C., is 751 feet long and 350 feet wide, including the approaches.

Negro Charged Here In Assault On Woman

Harman Baxter Robinson, 47, a negro of 2502 East Ave. C was charged with assault with intent to murder Rubie Mae Cooper, a negro woman of 2623 East Ave. G. Arresting police said the man beat and dragged the woman. He had not been released to county officials by arresting police, who held him on a drunkenness complaint.

J. B. Sherrod of Idalou said a wheel and tire had been stolen from his pickup automobile parked in 900-block Thirteenth.

J. L. Vaughn said three trees, a seven foot blue spruce valued at $30 and two four-foot spruces valued at $8.50 each, had been stolen from his Winter [illegible] nursery on the Levelland highway.

In county court, these judgments had been returned:

Alex Leon Hill, 36, a negro, $150 and costs, illegal possession of a pistol; Jack Mitchell, 29, $350 and costs, liquor law violation, based on a plea Tuesday; Louis Wiggins, 47, a negro, $5 and costs, check law violation.

Bond of $750 was set by C. E. Lynn, justice of peace, for Vernon Lara, 26, charged with child desertion.

Sabotage Warning

ively become foreign agents, utilizing every unprincipled and unscrupulous means available to sabotage the defense of the United States . . ."

Party Members Named

Huber named literally hundreds of persons who, he said, either were Communist party members or participated in Communist front activities, and asserted:

"The Communist fronts are increasing in number today, and can boast of such well-known figures as Dashiell Hammett, Lillian Hellman, Dorothy Parker, Herman Shumlin, Norman Corwin, Harlow Shapley, Ella Logan, Charlie Chaplin, Edward G. Robinson and John Garfield as just a few of the drawing cards which attract the general public."

Huber accused William S. Gailmor, a Progressive party official during the 1948 presidential campaign, of membership in the Communist party.

Basic Industry Undermined

The witness said that "late in 1944 and early in 1945" Communist recruiting came "almost to a standstill" in other fields in order to set up party units and fronts within basic and heavy industry "in the industrial sections of the country." He added:

"The purpose was, of course, to have a powerful party hold where they could do the most damage to the United States. In industrial areas they could organize and lead very damaging strikes, strikes that could ruin us.

"Then, in case of war with Russia, they could break down our war production, our ability to make armaments, both by strikes or slow-downs and by sabotage."

Huber said he kept a "continuous diary" during the eight-year period which totals "nearly 1,000 typewritten pages" in addition to filing regular reports with the FBI.

'Ike' Again Denies Possible Entry In Presidential Race

CHICAGO, Dec. 17. (U.P.)—Gen. Dwight Eisenhower denied with a "no, no. no," that he was a presidential aspirant, but he was guarded as closely as a candidate when he passed through here en route from Texas to New York.

Newsmen had to push through a line of determined, shoving railroad guards and military police to question "Ike" as he arrived at Dearborn station last night aboard a special Santa Fe train from Kansas City, Mo.

When they questioned Eisenhower, over the protests of Major Robert Schulz, his personal aide, the general said:

Mangled Bodies Of Students Found In Wreckage Of Plane

REDDING, Calif., Dec. 17. (AP) —The mangled bodies of two Washington State college students were found today amid the scattered wreckage of their plane.

The demolished converted BT-13 trainer smashed to bits in the lava rocks north of Glenburn yesterday as the pair flew home for the holidays.

They were identified as:

Tommy Dye, 24, Clearwater, Calif., owner of the plane.

Robert W. Finch, 22, Phoenix, Ariz.

Identification was made through papers found on the bodies. Sheriff John Balma said the wrecked plane's number, 568-65, was that of the ship in which the students left Fullman, Wash.

Armed Men Rob Grocery Store

could not be located early today.

Mrs. Payne said the man who took the money from the register was "tough-looking and needed a shave." She said he had been in the store about 30 minutes earlier asking for shoe polish.

"I got suspicious at the time, and when he left, I told my husband that I didn't think he was interested in shoe polish. When he left that time, my husband asked him to come back and he said he would."

Bandit Wore Gloves

She said he wore gloves and had a long-barreled gun, dark in color. She estimated his age at 27 or 28 years.

The other man, described as slightly younger, was dressed in light-colored clothing and was taller than the other man. Mrs. Payne said he was "neat-appearing, while the other man was really rough." He did not display a gun, she said.

Her son, Jerold, said his father told him to go get the keys out of the Payne car parked outside the store, "and I nearly made it."

Jerold said the men had left the front door slightly ajar, and he started to slip out.

Feared Men Would Take Car

Jerold said he believed his father asked him to get the car keys because he thought the men might take the Payne car to make their getaway.

Mrs. Payne reported that when the men first walked in, the man with the gun told them "not to make any moves or I'll kill you."

"When they told me to get my hands up, I really put them up," Mrs. Payne said. "I saw the car parked in front of the store and I hoped that they might see my arms in the air. I just kept pushing my arms up higher, and sure enough they did see me through the store window."

Scooped Money From Register

Mrs. Payne, in the cashier's enclosure when the men came in, said she stood there next to the bandit while he scooped the money from the register. She said he wore gloves, which he did not remove.

"He kept taking the money from the register and he told the other man to go get the car warmed up. The tall one ran to the car and I heard him honking the horn to hurry up the one still in the store."

The car in which the men fled was described as being "dirty."

Mrs. Payne said her husband had been to their other store in the 3100 block of Ave. A and had come back to the Ave. H store "to help us close."

"I had noticed this car parked out in front and wondered why they didn't come in," Mrs. Payne said. "Then they came in just after part of the store lights had been turned out and my husband was fixing to lock the door."

The Payne family lives in an apartment behind the store. Mrs. Payne said they had been in the Ave. H location for four years. She said Payne's left hip was broken in the car wreck three years ago and that he had recently undergone surgery.

Although Lubbock police played a major role in the search for the bandits and in the initial investigation, the case was turned over to the sheriff's department since the Payne store is located outside the city limits.

"Amarillo, doesn't have traffic like this," she reported after trying to reach the lot by going south on Texas avenue to Nineteenth street, and then trying to go out Broadway to College avenue.

Other persons reported up to 30 minutes spent in driving through town during the heaviest part of the traffic pileup. Parking spots in the downtown area were hard to find—and when one car pulled out, there were always two or more cars ready to move in.

(By International News Service)

T'was the week before Christmas and all through the land plenty was stirring—in the department and specialty stores.

Reports from most areas of the country described Christmas shopping as "terrific," "fantastic," "stupendous," but some sections said there was a big drop in jewelry and fur gift purchases.

Generally, department store executives reported volume of sales is "slightly ahead" of last week and last year.

Store spokesmen said unanimously that toys and practical gifts such as wearing apparel, men's furnishings, and small household appliances are selling like hotcakes.

Congratulations to:

After returning to Washington, the President will consult congressional leaders as to their convenience for delivery of the message, either on January 4 or January 5. The President has indicated a preference for Thursday, the fifth.

Others To Be Read

His budget message and economic message will go to the Congress within a week after the first message. These two documents will be sent the Congress for reading, rather than being delivered in person.

Mr. Truman went to the beach at 10 a. m. today after presiding earlier at exercises on the base marking the graduation of a class in the sonar school, one of the technical phases of undersea warfare. The President handed out the diplomas, and spoke a few words of encouragement to the students.

His vacation will end next Tuesday morning when he takes off in the Presidential plane, Independence, for the return flight to Washington.

Tung "undoubtedly will discuss a number of questions" with the Russian leader and "undoubtedly it will be an important meeting." This official said:

"It is a usual method of operation to call in a satellite leader after he has been lined up."

The Shanghai shipping warning declared "it is obvious that American lives and property should not be exposed to such risks and all masters of American flagships are warned accordingly."

The U. S. protested in a formal note on Nov. 30 to the Nationalist government over the endangering of American lives in connection with the Sir John Franklin incident.

mies in the Soviet Union.

Experienced military observers expect that in the event of war the Russians will advance from Eastern Germany with at least 50 mechanized and infantry divisions in a three pronged attack, penetrating into Denmark, the Netherlands, Belgium and France, and sealing off Allied forces in sourthern Germany and Austria.

The East German Coastal area today is feverishly active. Former German naval bases are being reconditioned and extended for Soviet warships. Harbors are being enlarged to accommodate vast tonnages.

Set Up Rocket Stations

At the same time the Soviets are setting up a chain of rocket stations, the future targets of which are clearly set as England, Western Europe and, if possible, North America.

German and Soviet experts are conducting constant experiments to perfect captured German rockets.

Numbers of these have been reported illuminating the Aretic nights over the northern reaches of Scandinavian countries.

This goal, however, is apparently still far from achievement. German rocket experts who have escaped from the Soviets say they are handicapped by many technical difficulties, including the inability to find the proper fuel for long-distance rocket flights.

Soviets Move In

About a year ago Soviet officers and engineers moved into all port areas along the East German coast.

Whole villages were evacuated and the population of the larger cities was carefully screened.

Into these areas came hordes of forced laborers, ship builders, technicians, and dockworkers, their task was to re-create and enlarge the former marine strength of the Nazis.

Amid the highest secrecy, the Soviets have been steadily progressing toward this objective.

Rostock, for example, has been made into the biggest shipyard in Eastern Germany, with one 15,000 ton dry-dock and two others nearing completion.

Sub Building Reported

At nearby Warnemuende, the Soviets are reported to have begun construction of Schnorkel-type submarines.

The Russians have consolidated their hold on the Baltic simply by claiming absolute territorial rights 12 miles out from the German, Polish, and Russian coasts.

This was done in violation of all international law. The Western Allies have protested sharply, but the Soviets have given them no satisfaction.

Stretching from the Baltic to the Czech border, two lines of air bases are being built for Soviet attack and defense.

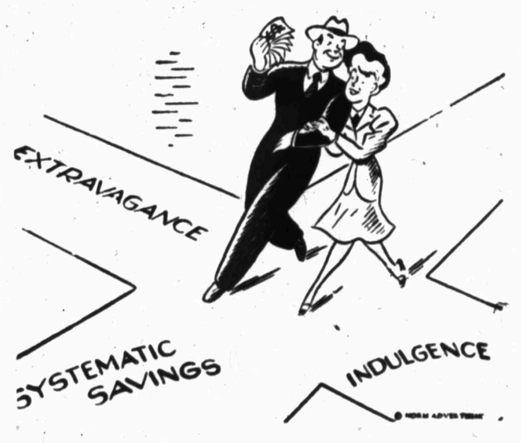

With extra-long runways to accommodate the largest planes, these bases will afford Soviet bombers a huge advantage in range on their way to targets in Western Europe or the western hemisphere.

Creation of this East German areial network has reportedly been placed under the direction of Stalin's son, Red air force general Vassily Stalin.

Robbery Suspect Posts Bond Here

Bonds totaling $45,000 have been posted by Talmadge Monroe Bonham, 17, of Bonham, in connection with robbery with firearms charges here, Crosbyton and Dickens, it was announced Saturday.

Young Bonham— one of four Bonham defendants charged with armed robbery in several sections of the state—had not been released from Lubbock county jail, however, officials saying they had been advised to hold him until relatives arrive today.

Yule Holidays Planned

He will return with them and spend Christmas holidays in Bonham, it was understood.

At the same time, it was announced that Walter T. Rogers, 65, charged Dec. 10 with murder with malice on his wife Margaret, 56, in a shotgun slaying in the kitchen of his rooming house at 2105 Main, had been admitted to bail.

At first held in denial of bail, Rogers was informed in a hearing before D. W. Robertson, justice of peace, that he would be released to await action of a Jan. 2 grand jury in 99th district court upon posting $15,000 bond.

The bond, however, had not been given late Saturday.

It was understood that a brother would take Rogers to an Arkansas farm until his presence is required by the grand jury.

The defendant is represented by Homer L. Pharr, Lubbock attorney.

Lubbock Police Find No Trace Of Missing Santa Claus Display

"Santa Claus" remained among the missing last night.

Police called in to locate a 20-foot replica of Santa, his sleigh and four reindeer which were stolen from the yard of the George P. Livermore residence at 1713 Thirty-first late Friday, said they had found no trace of the display.

The colorful set of figures, set up on the Livermore lawn Tuesday, was valued at $35. Whoever "kidnapped" Santa did not disturb lights used to illuminate the display.

Grain

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Dec. 17. (AP)—While grains showed little price change on the board of trade today, lard spurted under aggressive buying for a Saturday session. May and July contracts, the ones in which dealings most recently started, scored new seasonal peaks. But the best gain was made by December.

Old crop wheat deliveries showed some strength at the start, but backed down later. A little more activity on domestic flour circles brought about the early gains.

Wheat closed unchanged to 1⅛ lower. December $2.31⅛, corn was unchanged to ⅛ lower. December $1.29½-⅝, oats were ⅛ lower to ⅛ higher. December 77⅛-½, rye was ¼-½ higher. December $1.42, soybeans were ¼-1¼ lower. December $2.33½ and lard was 7 to 87 cents a hundred pounds higher. December $11.42.

Cotton

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Dec. 17. (AP)—Cotton price movements were confined to narrow ranges in slow dealings today. A favorable farmer vote on the 1950 cotton crop restrictions stimulated scattered buying in new crop months.

Futures closed 30 to 35 cents a bale higher than the previous close.

Lubbock Edges Hollis, 30-28, In Wayland Finals

Last-Minute Free Throws By Ince, Sexton Bring Victory

(Special To The Avalanche)

PLAINVIEW, Dec. 17.—Free throws in the last minute of play by Carl Ince and Jimmy Sexton gave the Lubbock Westerners a 30-28 victory over Hollis, Okla., here tonight, and the championship of the Wayland college basketball tournament before 500 persons at Pioneer gym.

The Westerners staved off a determined last-minute bid by Hollis, and the charity tosses broke a 28-28 tie.

The championship battle came at the end of two days of evenly matched basketball which saw Gruver defeat Sudan, 39-36, for third place honors and Samnorwood defeat Shallowater, 36-27, for the consolation trophy in the eight-team tourney.

Semi-Final Winners

In semi-final games, Lubbock overcame a fighting Sudan five, 40-39, to advance to the finals, while Hollis was taking that step by defeating Gruver, 32-30.

In consolation games Childress mauled Plainview, 49-19, and Samnorwood beat Shallowater.

After racing to a 19-10 halftime lead, Lubbock was able to score but two points in the third quarter, and Hollis came from behind to deadlock the score at 25-25. With three minutes to go Lubbock was ahead 28-26, but Wendell Whitman sank a field goal to tie it up, 28-28.

Lubbock went ahead in the last minute and successfully protected the margin.

Hollis Passes Well

Hollis put on the best demonstration of ball handling and passing seen in the tourney in losing to Lubbock, and the Sooners broke loose for crip shots to keep the game in doubt the last quarter although many shots went astray.

During the first half the Westerners were forced to shoot from far out, and Sexton and Wilson had the range of the basket, as did substitute Morris Turner, who sank three long set shots, two in the first half.

Hollis had trouble hitting the first half, as the score at the rest period indicated, but the second half was a different matter and the Westerners were pushed the last quarter.

Wilson Leads Lubbock

Jim Wilson, big Lubbock center led the Westerners with nine points, and Forward Jimmy Sexton had eight.

Scoring honors for Hollis went to Whitman with 13 points, and Darril Christian and Sonny Murray were tied with seven points each.

Gruver led nearly all the way in defeating Sudan for third place, assuming a 23-17 halftime lead which was cut to one point near the end of the game. Then a Gruver cager sank a crip shot for the final three-point margin.

Leading scorer in the contest was Lynn Hart of Gruver with 13 points, and Lesley Cator had 12. For Sudan Tommy Sherrill poured in 12 markers, and Harland Pickett meshed the net for 10.

Samnorwood handed Shallowater its second defeat of the year—and the tourney—in the consolation finals, and the Coleman twins, Douglas and Dudley, scored 13 points to pave the way for victory. For Shallowater Walter Hutton netted 12.

Christian Leads Hollis

In one semi-final battle Christian led Hollis to a 32-30 victory over Gruver but Hart for Gruver was high scorer with 18 points. Gruver led at halftime, 16-15.

Wilson again paced Lubbock in defeating Sudan, 40-39. Wilson hit for 11 points and Sexton had 10. Donald Lance was high for Sudan with 16, and Harland Pickett had 13.

Sudan trailed with 15 seconds left to play by six points but a basket and three free throws brought the game to the one-point margin of victory.

In the other game of the day, a consolation third place tilt, Childress walloped Plainview, with Joe Powell scoring 13 points. Tom Caskey had eight for Plainview.

All tournament first team included: Lynn Hart, Gruver; Jim Wilson, Lubbock; Donald Lance, Sudan; Joe Dale Hollis, Hollis; and Douglas Coleman, Samnorwood.

On the second team were: Jimmy Sexton, Lubbock; Walter Hutton, Shallowater; Harland Pickett, Sudan; Dudley Coleman, Samnorwood; and Leslie Cator, Gruver.

Most valuable player was Hart of Gruver.

Players on the first team received miniature gold basketballs, and the second team was awarded silver miniatures.

The first three teams in the winners' bracket and the consolation bracket were awarded trophies, the first place being a gold basketball, regular size.

The Letterman club of Wayland college sponsored the tournament, a first annual affair, with Harley Redin as tournament director.

University Of Illinois Drops Oklahoma Sooner Five, 57 To 47

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Dec. 17. (INS)—The University of Illinois basketball team tonight avenged a defeat by Oklahoma with a 57 to 47 victory over the Sooners at Champaign. Half-time score was 28 to 18, the Illini's advantage.

Oklahoma had handed the Illinois quintet its lone defeat of the season last Saturday by a score of 55 to 47.

Rice, Oklahoma And California Bowl Favorites

NEW YORK, Dec. 17. (AP) — Coach Jess Neely's Rice Institute Owls, hustling champions of the Southwest Conference, have been chosen by James J. Carroll, St. Louis betting commissioner, as the football team most likely to succeed in the cream of the bowl games on Jan. 2.

That is, the man from Missouri, whose odds on sporting events generally are accepted as a national criterion, has decided that the Texas eleven should subdue North Carolina in the Cotton Bowl by the day's widest margin.

He makes Neely's "T" operatives eight-point favorites over the single-wing Tarheels, whereas he adjudges the undefeated Oklahoma Sooners only seven and one-half points better than Louisiana State in their Sugar Bowl tussle.

Possibly the most significant of Carroll's quotations, however, is the six-point bulge he gives the California Bears over Ohio State in the Rose Bowl.

Evidently, word has reached St. Louis that the Coast Conference finally has 'caught up" with the Big Ten after having taken it on the chin for three straight years at Pasadena—two years ago by 49-0.

Kentucky is quoted at three points over Santa Clara in the Orange Bowl at Miami, while Missouri and Maryland are listed all-even in the Gator Bowl at Jacksonville.

It is somewhat difficult, on the record, to account for Rice's better-than-a-touchdown favoritism over a North Carolina team which boasts two such stars as Charlie Justice and Art Weiner and which battled Notre Dame 6-6 for a half.

The Cotton Bowl rivals played only one mutual opponent, Louisiana State, and both lost to the Bayou Tigers — Rice by 14-7 and North Carolina by 13-7. Nothing in that to make a bettor go overboard on the Owls.

It might be that Rice's reputation has benefitted by that terrefic showing Southern Methodist made against Notre Dame in the same Cotton Bowl two weeks ago. Rice trounced the Methodists 41-27 earlier in the season. Also, the Institute eleven boasts a ball carrier of its own named Rote—Tobin, cousin of SMU's Kyle.

Holy Cross Runs Wild To Drop New York University, 49 To 34

NEW YORK, Dec. 17. (INS) — Holy Cross ran wild in the last 13 minutes tonight to defeat New York University, 49 to 34, in a fastly-paced basketball game played before a standing room crowd of more than 18,000 at Madison Square Garden.

The unbeaten Crusaders of Holy Cross trailed by 11 points seven minutes after the second half began. But the lead soon melted as the Crusaders outscored NYU, 31 to 5, the rest of the game. NYU didn't count at all in the last eight minutes.

Holy Cross' sensational Bob Cousy led the Crusaders with 13 points, one less than Joel Kaufmann netted to lead the Violets.

Westerner Football Schedule Announced

There isn't a soft touch on the 1950 Lubbock Westerner football schedule, and the 10-game season promises rough sledding for Coach C. R. (Pat) Pattison's eleven.

During 1949 the Westerners experienced little trouble in overpowering their 10 regular opponents, with the exception of a stubborn Odessa team, before bowing in the bi-district game in the biggest upset of the schoolboy year.

Added to the schedule in district play next year is Big Spring, in place of Brownfield which has dropped to Class A. Replacing Childress and Vernon on the slate are two always-potent elevens in the form of San Angelo and Sweetwater.

Other non-district opponents are Amarillo, North Side of Fort Worth, Plainview and Pampa. Lamesa, Midland and Odessa finish the district circle.

Included on the schedule are five home games and five on the road.

The two big games of any Lubbock football year—Amarillo and Odessa — will be played at Jones stadium, with Amarillo scheduled on Oct. 20 and Odessa drawing the big Thanksgiving day position, Nov. 23. Opening the schedule is Plainview here, and San Angelo and Midland round-out competition before local fans.

Odessa has already been conceded the district championship, with experienced players returning to fill nearly every position on the team.

Lubbock, winner of the crown this year in its first appearance in 3-AA, is scheduled to finish second, with an improved Midland squad running close behind.

The Westerners will have 17 lettermen returning, but this fact should not bring any degree of optimism from Lubbock fans since the lettermen are the entire remains of the 1949 squad.

The complete schedule:

Sept. 15—Plainview at Lubbock.
Sept. 22—North Side at Fort Worth.
Sept. 29—Sweetwater at Sweetwater.
Oct. 6—San Angelo at Lubbock.
Oct. 13—Pampa at Pampa.
Oct. 20—Amarillo at Lubbock.
*Oct. 27—Big Spring at Big Spring.
*Nov. 3—Lamesa at Lamesa.
Nov. 10—Open date.
*Nov. 17—Midland at Lubbock.
*Nov. 23—Odessa at Lubbock.
*Denotes district game.

'No Solicitation' Rule Endorsed By Border Officials

EL PASO, Dec. 17. (Special)—Athletic council representatives of the Border Conference today endorsed a proposal which would prohibit coaches and members of their staffs to "solicit prospective athletes."

The proposal, however, does not preclude coaches from giving prospective athletes information about the college.

Dr. E. L. Larson, conference commissioner, was instructed to vote for the proposal when it comes up for consideration at the annual meeting of the National Collegiate Athletic association in New York next month.

Border loop officials also endorsed a proposal prohibiting payment of travel expenses to prospective athletes visiting the campus, but opposed a suggestion that no college be permitted to try out athletes in spring practice before offering them scholarships or other promises of financial assistance.

Proposal Endorsed

Also endorsed was another proposal which would require athletes to be assisted financially only to the extent as they actually work except during the season of sport in which they participate. Commissioner Larson was instructed to vote as he wishes on penalties assessed against violators of the so-called NCAA "sanity codes."

Students transferring from one college to another to follow a coach who has changed jobs will be penalized two years of eligibility, conference representatives decided.

Officials also voted to continue the policy of applying scholastic hours of credit earned while in the nation's armed service on the record of an athlete. The move reaffirmed a previous ruling which made J. C. (Slats) Stagner, Hardin-Simmons basketball star, ineligible for further competition. H-SU attempted to re-open the Stagner case, but gained no support in an 8-1 vote.

Track Meet Transferred

Stagner was given 24 hours of college credit for scholastic work done while in the Navy. He later played two years of basketball at Tyler Junior college and one year at H-SU. His school had sought to have the 24 hours set aside so as to move his participation back a year and give Stagner senior status this season.

Conference officials transferred the May 12-13 track meet to Arizona State at Tempe and recorded a letter from the Sun Bowl which stated the Bowl no longer is bound to invite the Border loop winner to its annual grid contest.

Arizona sought a ruling on participation of negro athletes in conference sports, a matter which led to lengthy discussion. After the meeting, Conference Secretary C. L. Lesher announced that "the committee had received the colored question in informal discussion and finds that progress is being made toward solution of the problem."

Lesher declined to discuss the

Coyotes Gain State Finals Behind Heavy Ground Attack

Scot Aerial Game Backfires; Victors To Meet Austin In Fort Worth Friday

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

WICHITA FALLS, Dec. 17.—Wichita Falls thundered over Highland Park of Dallas, 21-0, today with a tremendous ground attack that swept up 222 yards and shot the Coyotes into the Class AA schoolboy football finals against Austin.

Highland Park passing that backfired and the great running of Tommy Fields and Bill Waggoner put Wichita Falls into the Championship game for the third time in a dozen years.

Title Meet Next Friday

As a result of this afternoon's victory and a meeting tonight the Coyotes will meet Austin High's Maroons in Fort Worth next Friday afternoon at 2:30 for the State schoolboy championship. Austin entered the finals by upsetting Port Arthur yesterday 20 to 14.

Highland Park came here with an aerial game host highly respected by the Coyotes, but the latter took care of it in a hurry this cold but sunny afternoon. The Coyotes gobbled up five Scot throws with Bill Bookout intercepting three of them and helping on another. Two of the catches of enemy pitches set up Wichita Falls touchdowns.

A crowd of 12,500 more than 3,000 below expectations—watched the battle.

Self Races For Score

Little Jim Self provided the game's biggest thrill with a 54-yard touchdown dash in the last period. He whipped around left end then cut back across the field, dodging a half-dozen would-be tacklers in his unhindered race to the goal.

Malcolm Bowers, the Highland Park passing ace, connected on 10 throws for 125 yards. But on the ground the Scots were very impotent, gaining only 21 yards.

Wichita Falls got a touchdown the second time it gained possession of the ball. It came after Bookout had intercepted his first pass—on the Highland Park 49-yard line. Waggoner, Fields and Bookout whammed the Scot line like triple-steam-rollers and from the Highland 17 Waggoner broke over left tackle and cut outside to score. Jerry Fouts converted—the first of three for this youngster today. He now has kicked 10 in a row.

Wichita Intercepts

The second Wichita Falls score came in the second period. Again a pass interception set it up and again it was Bookout who gathered in a Bowers' throw, this time on the Scot 47 with Fields, Bookout and Waggoner alternating the Coyotes swept to the eight. Bookout then carried the ball twice, making the touchdown with a six-yard burst on the second try.

Just before the half ended, Highland Park made the first of two dangerous bids. The Scots took the kickoff on their 40 and with Bowers passing rushed to the Wichita Falls 11-yard line. As time ran out Buddy Baird tried for a Bowers pass at the coffin corner that was just out of his reach.

In the third period Bowers' throwing sent the Scots down to the Wichita Falls 21 but an offside penalty and a pass interception by Fouts ended this threat. Bookout batted the ball into Fout's arms.

The third Wichita Falls touchdown was on a 71-yard drive. From the Wichita Falls 46, where Waggoner and Fields had carried the ball, Self, the 136-pound speedster made his touchdown dash.

Wichita Falls enters the finals with one championship behind it. The Coyotes were in the finals in 1937 but lost to Longview 19-12. The next time, however, they licked Temple 13-0 for the crown. This was in 1941.

Austin is a former state champion, too. The Maroons won the title in 1942, beating Sunset of Dallas 20-7.

Arizona Five Drops Texas Aggies, 56-50

SAN ANTONIO, Dec. 17. (AP)—Arizona turned back a scrapping Texas A&M rally here tonight for a 56-50 victory over the Aggies in the first game of a doubleheader. Trinity met the University of Texas in the second game.

The Aggies were out in front in only the opening seconds of play as they put the whammy on their own chances with a sloppy passing exhibition. The Cadets outplayed Arizona in the second half, but the 29-20 lead the Wildcats picked up in the first 20 minutes of action was too much for the Aggies to overcome.

With less than two minutes to go the Aggies pulled up to within two points 52-50 when Jewell McDowell and Mike Garcia, the San Antonio slim-jim connected for quick double deckers. But the Wildcats went back into their stalling tactics and held on to the end, adding to their margin on a pair of fouls by Roger Johnson and a field goal by George Greene.

Official Tennis Rankings Released

Gonzales Top Netter

NEW YORK, Dec. 17. (INS)—The United States Lawn Tennis Association acknowledged today that Richard (Pancho) Gonzales of Los Angeles was the best male amateur of 1949, although he turned pro before the year was over.

The USLTA ranking committee placed Gonzales' name atop its list, subject to a special dispensation by the organization's annual meeting in January. Gonzales turned pro before Oct. 15, the date set by the regulations for rating players.

Ted Schroeder, jr., of La Crescenta, Cal., runner-up to Gonzales in the National Singles tournament, was ranked second. Third place went to veteran Billy Talbert of New York, fourth to Frank Parker of Los Angeles, also now a pro, and fifth to Gardner Mulloy of Miami, Fla.

Mulloy and Talbert, the National Doubles champions, were ranked first in that classification. Second ranking went to Gonzales and Parker and third to Schroeder and Bob Falkenburg of Los Angeles.

Gonzales crashed the list again in eighth place with Hugh Stewart of San Marino, Cal., as his partner.

National Pro Loop Title On Line

Rams To Meet Eagles

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 17. (INS)—The Los Angeles Rams and the Philadelphia Eagles tonight faced the prospect of gloomy weather if not rain for their battle for the National League football championship tomorrow.

The two are to clash in Memorial Coliseum before an expected crowd of 60,000.

It began raining tonight and the storm appeared to be so general that it might not dissipate itself by tomorrow afternoon.

The Eagles, winners of their third eastern division title, are rated 9 1/2 point favorites. They nave a record of 11 victories and one defeat.

The Rams won nine, lost one and tied two during their regular season. They hope that Bob Waterfield's stout passing arm can turn them from underdogs into champions.

matter further, but it was indicated in halls near today's conference that the American Association for the Advancement of Colored People next fall will pay all expenses of several top negro athletes who will enroll in Arizona and New Mexico schools. These athletes, it was said, will be youths of high scholastic standing.

Much informal discussion centered around the University of New Mexico coaching situation, in which Berl Huffman recently left his job as head coach to become athletic director Huffman said no selection of his successor would be made for several weeks—possibly not until almost time for spring training. He said many applicants have appeared, and it is hoped an outstanding coach may be obtained. In Las Cruces, it has been rumored that Vaughan Corley, former Texas Tech tackle who is now coach at New Mexico A & M., will take over as head coach at NMU.

Between the Lines by Joe Kelly

Border conference athletic representatives in their current meeting at El Paso have brought up a number of sports matters, one of which is baseball.

In Saturday's session the diamond sport came in for lots of discussion, and six schools promised to field teams for the 1950 season.

One of the abstainers was Texas Tech, which takes a dim view of the bat and ball game, probably as the result of losing teams and a loss of money. Weather is another reason heard mentioned when the subject of baseball at Tech is brought up.

Schools indicating more than a passing interest in the sport are West Texas State, Hardin-Simmons, New Mexico university, New Mexico A&M, Arizona State at Tempe and Arizona university.

It seems that Tech, drawing nearer and nearer to admittance to the Southwest conference, is hurting itself by not attempting to make baseball a paying proposition. Or even if money is lost for awhile, it appears that the advantages of a full sports program would make up for the deficit and give the Raiders more prestige with Southwest schools.

Football is the leader in nearly all schools, and the gridiron sport has proved to be a little too tough for Tech in games with Southwest conference schools. Basketball, too, is considered stronger in the Southwest.

But a baseball team is another matter. Hundreds of athletes on the South Plains participate in that sport every year in high school and some enter college many miles distant because the other schools offer baseball scholarships, or at least field teams. Lots of baseball talent is lost at Tech.

If an accurate count could be made, what would be the number of athletes leaving the Plains who play baseball and some other sport?

Perhaps, then, baseball could be the means of attracting students to Texas Tech who also are capable of playing some other sport. If not football, then basketball.

Another item discussed at El Paso was the participation of negroes in athletics, but the discussion led to no definite measures although it was reported "progress" was being made toward a solution of the problem.

The "problem" of negro participation in sports in the Southwestern area of the country has been brought up time and time again, but action has always been negative.

There is talk now that several top negro athletes will enroll in New Mexico and Arizona schools in an effort to test the sentiments of Border schools. The outcome of such a move is years away, but the results will be interesting.

Coach C. R. (Pat) Pattison of the Lubbock Westerners is looking for competition next year in non-district football games, and he has come up with two games that would do justice to anyone's schedule.

Appearing on the 10-game slate are San Angelo and Sweetwater, with Amarillo, Pampa and North Side of Fort Worth as carryovers from this year. Two will get you one that next season's team will taste defeat — and benefit by it — before the district schedule begins.

Being overlooked in the schoolboy football playoffs is the negro bracket of the race. Blackshear of San Angelo, Orange, Hearne and Bay City have reached the semi-finals. Blackshear represents this district, the one in which Dunbar High is entered. . . Basketball on the South Plains will reach a lull the latter part of the week as schools are dismissed for the Christmas holidays, but tournaments the week after Christmas will keep the gyms full of players and spectators. . . Shallowater's team lost two games in the Wayland college tournament at Plainview after posting 19 straight victories. Hollis, Okla., and Samnorwood turned the trick, but Shallowater dumped Plainview in a third tilt, leaving the record at 20 wins and 2 defeats. Is there another area school with such a good record? If so, this writer has not heard of it.

Odds Favor Bill Henderson

Lightweight Title At Stake Monday

The stage is set for Monday night's Bill Henderson-Eddie Bertolino Texas lightweight championship bout at Chapman fieldhouse.

Both contenders for the now-vacant crown breezed through snappy shadow-boxing drills Saturday, and gave assurances that they are ready for action.

After watching the satin-smooth Bertolino and the rugged Henderson in their Saturday workouts in the fieldhouse ring, observers agreed that Monday night's tussle looks like a tossup.

Odds Favor Henderson

On paper, Bertolino would appear to rate the edge. He has more professional experience, a slight edge in weight, reach, and speed to spare. But Henderson also has some points in his favor — chiefly the fact that he apparently possesses a stiffer punch, and that he will be fighting before "home folks." Latest betting odds favored Henderson by 6-5.

The official weigh-in ceremony will be held at 1 p.m. Monday in Chapman fieldhouse. Bertolino, who hails from Galveston, said he expects to scale 134 pounds. Henderson probably will come in at 132 or 133.

Bertolino Has Reach

Bertolino, at five feet five inches, will be about one-half inch taller than his Levelland opponent, and will enjoy an overall reach advantage of two inches.

The bout, first championship setto in Lubbock in more than ten years, is slated for 15 rounds. It will be preceded by a six-round semifinal and two four-rounders, with the card due to begin at 8:30 o'clock.

Duncan, Ramirez Meet

The semifinal sends Leonard Duncan, Hale Center middleweight who has won eight of his nine pro starts, against Gil Ramirez of El Paso. In the four-round preliminaries, it wil be Juan Hererra, El Paso, vs. Enrique Morales, San Antonio, in a featherweight go, and Joe Chaplin, Shreveport, vs. Jimmy Moreland, Lubbock, in a welterweight scrap.

Promoter Edd Sides said late Saturday that approximately 500 tickets to the 29-round program have been sold. Ducats, priced at $4 ringside, $3 reserved and $2 general admission, will be available all day Monday at the Hilton hotel, Tech drug, Hub Clothiers and City Club gym, and at the Chapman fieldhouse box office immediately before the fights.

BY CHOC HUTCHESON

Lubbock's first title fight in more than a decade comes off Monday night at Chapman fieldhouse, and it promises to be a corker.

When Galveston's Eddie Bertolino and Levelland's Bill Henderson square off in their 15-round state lightweight championship cloutfest, local fans may be treated to some fine fisticuffing.

Henderson has proved his merit. He is tough, game and a hard hitter, whose chief shortcoming to date has been a tendency to "tighten up" at times. In all his appearances on the South Plains, he has never failed to provide his share of the scrap. His overall pro record shows 29 victories against two defeats, both by Frenchman Jean Mougin.

Bertolino has never appeared here, but gives every indication of being a top-notch ringman by Southwest standards. He has lost only five of 55 fights against the best competition to be had in the Gulf coast region. At 21, he is a couple of years younger than Henderson, and appears to be well conditioned. In workouts here, he has convinced this writer that he knows his way around in the ring. Just how well he can take punishment remains to be seen, of course, but off his record, he must be fairly durable. Speed seems to be his chief asset, and he has displayed some of the best footwork I've seen outside New York rings.

Everything considered, it should be a lively go, with plenty of action. I don't know enough about Bertolino's ability to venture a prediction as to the winner, but I will venture the guess that the fight doesn't go the full 15 rounds.

After deep and serious thought on the matter, I've decided that it just doesn't pay to assume the favorite's mantle in the Texas Class AA football race. Just look what happened to Odessa in 1947, Port Arthur in 1948 and both Port Arthur and Lubbock this year!

Bud Wilkinson, who won "Coach of the Year" honors with his great work at Oklahoma this season, will be here Feb. 13 as feature speaker at the South Plains Officials and Coaches association. SPOCA officials have not yet announced the site of the affair, which is open to the public. Chances are that Wilkinson will bring along a film of the New Year's Oklahoma-LSU Sugar Bowl game ...Wichita Falls has made two trips to the state grid finals, losing to Longview (19-12) in 1937 and downing Temple (13-0) in 1941. Austin beat Sunset of Dallas (20-7) in its only previous finals appearance...McMurry's Indians outgained every opponent on their 1949 schedule, although losing to Tulsa and Mississippi Southern... Littlefield's Wildcats, who run plays faster than any club I've ever seen, reeled off 73 running plays, one pass and two punts against Garland. While well below the Cat's peak total of 107 scrimmage plays against Ballinger, the 76 against Garland is well above the average high school figure of 50 plays per team... Tom Bailes, Littlefield's rugged fullback, is maintaining his remarkable ground gaining pace in the playoffs. Bailes has picked up 682 yards net in four games, averaging 7.6 yards per carry and gaining at least 100 yards in each tilt...Lee Clay, now playing his third year of varsity basketball at Amherst, had the first foul of his high school career called in last week's Amherst-Three Way game.

A few folks have inquired as to what regular-season game was lost by Lubbock's great 1938 grid squad. The loss was to Capitol Hill, of Oklahoma City, by 14-13... Bill (Bojangles) Robinson, the negro tap dancer who passed on recently was an inveterate New York Yankee baseball rooter. Bojangles had a season box for six persons right behind the Yankee dugout, and usually cast a spell on the opposition by sprinkling salt atop the visitor's dugout immediately before each game at Yankee stadium...Five members of the Brooklyn Dodger diamond squad have formed a basketball quint which plays "exhibition games" every Monday night at Brooklyn's Paramount theater. It's reported that they really pack in the crowds...Ralph Branca, the Dodger pitcher, has given up his off-season (and some observers claim, off-tune) crooning career. Said the late hours weren't suitable for an athlete...Red Grange, the old Galloping Ghost, rates this year's Notre Dame eleven as the best collegiate unit he's ever seen, adding that Bob Williams is the most polished T-formation quarterback to be found today outside the pro ranks...Walter Norton, lanky forward for Lubbock's cage Westerners, has an older brother, Sherman, on the University of Oklahoma basketball squad. The Sooners, incidentally, are now on a tour of the Midwest and East.

Only 12 All-America Conference players have participated in every game played by their clubs since the league was formed in 1946.

HOUSTON GOLF TOURNEY SET

HOUSTON, Dec. 17. (AP)— The thirty-second annual Houston Country Club Invitational golf tournament will be held here February 13-19. Tournament officials said Doug Ford, Larchmont, N. Y., will be here as defending champion.

Snead Is Top Pro Golfer

NEW YORK, Dec. 17. (INS)—Professional golf's "Man Of The Year" is—coincidentally, of course— its leading money winner as well.

Figures released today by the PGA tournament bureau show that Samuel Jackson Snead, already recognized as the top pro of 1949, won a total of $31,593.83 in competitive play.

Snead, who won the PGA championship and the Masters' as well as four other tournaments, also copped the Vardon Trophy with an average of 69.37 strokes for 72 rounds of golf.

It was Snead's second time as winner of the Vardon Award.

Runner-up honors in the money race went to Dr. Cary Middlecoff, the Memphis dentist who now is playing out of Ormond Beach, Fla. The National Open champion picked up $24,604.

Johnny Palmer of Badin, N. C., was third with $24,512. Palmer placed second in the Vardon trophy competition, averaging 69.72 for 80 rounds. Middlecoff, who was ineligible for Vardon consideration, had the third best stroke average, 69.93.

Other top pros and their winnings were: Lloyd Mangrum. $22,248; Jimmy DeMaret, $17,367; Dutch Harrison. $11,725; Jim Ferrier, $11,650; Bob Hamilton, $9,819; Fred Haas, jr., $9,817; Jim Turnesa $8,181.

Oddly enough, Sammy Snead and Byron Nelson were the defeated golfers in the two PGA championships which produced the largest winning margin, 8 and 7.

Preacher Roe Best In Games Won

Koslo Is National Loop's Top Hurler

NEW YORK, Dec. 17. (INS)— Lefty Dave Koslo of the New York Giants was the most effective pitcher in the National League in 1949.

The stocky southpaw hurler of the fifth place New Yorkers led the league's earned run average of 2.50. Koslo is the first Giant pitcher to lead in this department since Carl Hubbell accomplished the feat in 1936 with a mark of 2.31.

Dave appeared in 38 games, 23 in starting roles. He faced 856 batters and allowed 193 hits, walked 43 and struck out 64. He yielded 72 runs, 59 of which were earned. His record was 11 wins against 14 losses for a percentage of .440.

Roe Tops In Games Won

Elwin (Preacher) Roe of the champion Brooklyn Dodgers had the best games won percentage in the league. He won 15 and lost 6 for a .714 average. The lefthander had an earned run mark of 2.79.

St. Louis' Howie Pollet was second in effectiveness and percentage. He had 20 wins and 9 losses losses for a .690 average. Howie's E. R. percentage was 2.77.

Don Newcombe of the Brooks and Russ Meyer of the Phils were third in percentage with 17 wins and 8 losses each and an average of .680.

Ted Wilks, the Cardinals' fireman, appeared in the most games, 59, and won 10 games while losing three.

Warren Spahn of Boston was the winningest pitcher in the league. He had 21 triumphs and 14 losses. The southpaw also completed the most games, 25, pitched the most innings, 302, faced the most batsmen, 1,258 and was the leader in strikeouts with 151.

In addition, Spahn tied Cincinnati's Ken Raffensberger for starting the most games, 38. Raffensberger allowed the most hits, 289.

Four pitchers hurled five shutouts each. They were Newcombe, Raffensberger, Pollet and Philadelphia's Ken Heintzelman.

Fox Loses Most

Cincinnati's Herman Wehmeier issued the most bases on balls, and tied Dutch Leonard of the Cubs for the most wild pitches with 7.

Boston's Johnny Sain allowed the most runs, 150, and the most earned runs, 130.

Heintzelman had the longest winning streak, 9 straight, and Bob Chesnes of Pittsburgh had the longest losing streak, 9 straight.

Howard Fox of the Reds compiled the most losses, 19.

St. Louis was tops in team pitching with an E. R. A. of 3.44. Brooklyn was second with 3.80 and New York was third with 3.82.

WALKER TO PUBLISH STORY

DALLAS, Dec. 17. (AP).— The Dallas Times Herald announced today that Doak Walker had signed a contract to write his life story. Between seven and ten daily installments will be published. The consideration involved was not announced.

Tech Cagers Hold Drills

The Texas Tech basketball squad went through fast offensive and defensive sessions Saturday at Tech gym in a warm-up session for Monday's 8 p. m. encounter with the Checker Cab team of San Angelo.

Coach Polk Pobison is not taking the practice game lightly and is expecting a hard battle from the Cabbers, whose ranks are filled with former college players. This year the team won the TAAF basketball championship.

Freshmen furnished the opposition Friday night in a scrimmage and also came in for the same kind of test Saturday in the Raider drill.

Working well in the pivot post is Gene Gibson, and Jiggs Jackson and Charlie Pinnell are beginning to show vast improvement. For the sophomores Verdell Turner is taking advantage of his height in picking off rebounds, and Jack Alderson's hustling and Jim Eddins consistency are noteworthy.

At 6:30 p. m. Monday the Tech Freshmen will play Thomas Tinkers, an independent cage team in Lubbock. The game originally was scheduled with Wayland college freshmen.

BYRD LOUISIANA CHAMPION

SHREVEPORT, La., Dec. 17. (AP)—Byrd High of Shreveport is the 1949 Louisiana Double-A football champion. The Yellow Jackets won the title last night by beating Holy Cross of New Orleans 34-13 here in the finals of the state playoff.

All-Star Pros Rack Up 12-7 Win Over Browns In Shamrock Bowl

10,000 See Albert, Young Pace Stars

HOUSTON, Dec. 17. (AP).—Frankie Albert and Buddy Young passed and ran the All-America Conference All-Stars to a muddy 12 to 7 victory over the champion Cleveland Browns today in the Shamrock Charity Bowl.

A crowd of 10,000 — most of them paying $15 a seat — sat through a driving rain to see the AAC All-Stars slap the second defeat of the season against the Browns, only champions the Conference has ever known.

Albert quarterbacked the All-Stars to first and second period scores, aided primarily by the flashy running of Young. Cleveland's lone score came in the second on a 40-yard pass, Otto Graham to Dub Jones. When Lou Groza kicked the extra point, the Browns were ahead, 7-6, but it was the only time they were out in front.

Two Buffalo Bill players did all the scoring for the All-Stars. Halfback Chet Mutryn plunged over from the 2-yard line in the first, and End Alton Baldwin took a 15-toss from Albert for the second.

Albert missed both his extra point tries.

The All-Stars threatened only once in the second half and they had to stop the Browns three times in dangerous territory in the final quarter.

The winning touchdown came on a 91-yard march that saw Albert connect twice with Baldwin for 15 yards each and saw Young scamper three times for a total of 35. Young's third run, good for 23, carried to the 13. Mutryn lost 2 before Albert hit Baldwin for the winning tally.

DeWitt Halts Basketball Career Of Outfielder Roy Sievers

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 17. (INS)—Baseball player Roy Sievers' basketball career came to an end today.

The St. Louis Browns' outfielder, who was voted the American League's "Rookie Of The Year," had been playing in the "Bel Nor" basketball league in St. Louis.

It seems that President Bill DeWitt of the Browns learned that it wasn't Sievers' brother Bill who was making all the baskets for the Wellston Legion team. DeWitt then pointed out to his prize rookie that major league baseball contracts state a player cannot participate in another sport without the club owners consent.

JOCKEYS THREATEN STRIKE

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 17. (AP)—A threatened strike by jockeys protesting suspension of one of their number delayed opening of pari-mutuel windows at the New Orleans fair grounds race track until shortly before post time today.

Wrestling Bear Faces Overhull

An almost new wrestling card will be seen at Sled Allen's arena this Wednesday, with Pierre LaBell, Rod Fenton, Bob Cummings, Billy Fox and Gorgeous Gus (a bear) making appearances. An old standby, George Overhull, will get the call for the sixth wrestler on the program.

Overhull, who took Alex Kasaboski to the cleaners last week, will be matched against a larger, tougher opponent this week in the form of Gorgeous Gus.

Bear Weighs 350

The bear tips the scales at 350 and is one of the best trained of all the wrestling animals and has been in the game long enough to know his way around.

But Overhull has appeared with a bear before and says that he knows the strategy necessary to take care of one. George will get his chance to demonstrate his knowledge.

The main event brings LaBell, the handsome Frenchman from Portland, Ore., back to the area against the always tough, Rod Fenton. Both men have recently returned to the territory after several months absence and will be hustling for a win in order to keep top billing.

From Edmonton, Canada, Fenton is no stranger to the wrestling fans here and will be out to show how rough he is when he climbs into the ring with LaBell, a grappler noted for his ability and aggressiveness.

Cummings and Fox fall into roles opposite each other in the 45-minute limit first event. Cummings has been on the West Coast for several months and is all set to show the fans he is the Cummings of old.

Fox is an oldtimer with worlds of experience, wise to all the tricks of the trade and how to use them. Fox is also the owner and trainer of the bear and handles him in the ring.

The main event has an hour time limit on it, and the special attraction has no limit.

Tickets may be bought at the arena from 9 to 5 Wednesday. Matches start at 8 p.m.

Gulf Coast Baseball League To Elect Officers, Organize

JACKSONVILLE, Dec. 17. (AP)—Directors of the six clubs in the Class C Gulf Coast baseball league will elect officers and complete organization at a meeting tomorrow in Crowley, La.

Cities planning to be members are Galveston, Port Arthur, Lufkin and Jacksonville in Texas and Lake Charles and Crowley in Louisiana.

Sugar Bowl Track Meet Scheduled

COLLEGE STATION, Dec. 17 (Special)—Texas A&M college, king bee in Southwest Conference track and cross country circles for the past tw years, will send five athletes to the Sugar Bowl track meet at New Orleans later this month.

Ray Holbrook, present holder of the SWC 440-yard dash record and a member of the Aggies' crack mile relay team last spring, will enter the half-mile event. The sturdy-legged Baytown product will be wearing the Aggie spangles for the last time since he will not be eligible for varsity competition next spring.

Although Holbrook is best known as a quarter-miler, he once competed as a half-miler and placed in that event at the Sugar Bowl soon after being discharged from the service three years ago. He has been impressive in recent time trials.

Coaches Frank Anderson and Ray Punman also will take the new version of the Aggie mile relay team. The Cadets won this event last Sugar Bowl meet, but only Donald Mitchell is back from last season's fast foursome. The fiery little competitor from Deer Park will run the anchor lap. Bernard Place, Benton Terry, James McCarty and Robert Atkins are waging a hot battle for the three other berths on the relay team. The outcome won't be known until next week.

The Aggies will go to New Orleans in time for a workout on Dec. 31. Races are slated for Jan. 1. All members of the party will stay over for the LSU-Oklahoma Sugar Bowl football game Jan. 2.

Intercollegiate ice hockey is making its bow in Michigan State's new indoor arena, seating 4,000. A dozen games will be played this winter.

Tigers Give Up On Bonus Player

Wakefield Traded To Yanks For Kryhoski

NEW YORK, Dec. 17. (AP)—The Detroit Tigers finally gave up on Dick Wakefield, their high priced problem child, and shipped him to the New York Yankees for rookie first baseman Dick Kryhoski in a trade today.

The bonus beauty started off brilliantly but following his return from military service in 1946, Wakefield has been a sharp disappointment.

Did Good First Year

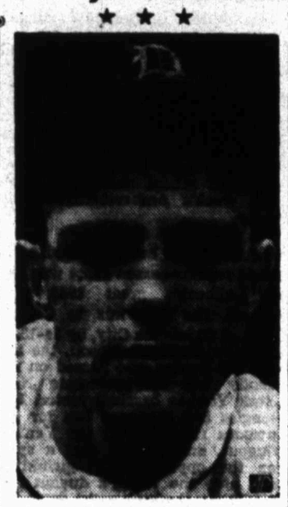

Wakefield smacked an even .300 for Winston-Salem in his first season in organized ball in 1941. He batted .345 for Beaumont in 1942 while a member of one of the finest outfields in Texas League history. The other two members were Hoot Evers, current Tiger outfielder and Anse Moore, now with Baltimore.

The Tigers brought Wakefield up for the 1943 season and the recruit hit .316 and drove home 79 runs. Wakefield was leading the Tigers to the pennant in 1944 when Uncle Sam drafted him. He was moving at a .355 gait and had driven in 53 runs when summoned to the colors. The St. Louis Browns went on to win the pennant on the last day of the season.

Slipped After 1946

Wakefield returned in 1946 but never again reached the .300 mark in 59 games.

In Kryhoski the Tigers obtained a fine fielding 24-year-old six footer. Kryhoski, a left-handed batter, hit .294 in Manager Casey Stengel's two platoon system before he was optioned to Oakland in the deal that brought relief pitcher Ralph Buxton to the Yanks. Kryhoski socked .324 for the Oaks.

Andy Uram's 97-yard run from scrimmage against the Chicago Cardinals for Green Bay in 1939 is the National Football League record.

McMurry Meets Vikings In Bowl

GALVESTON, Dec. 18. (Spl.).—Two of the winningest coaches in small college football will be meeting for the third time when McMurry's Indians and Missouri Valley's Vikings square off in Galveston's second annual Oleander Bowl game January 2nd.

Wilford Moore, mentor of the Indians, and Volney Ashford, who heads the Vikings, have both guided their teams to three consecutive conference championships.

Ashford's teams went from 1942 to 1949 without dropping a decision in a regularly scheduled game. During that time, they ran up an amazing string of 45 consecutive wins.

Moore has been in college football only three years, and his Indians have been at the top of the tough Texas Conference since the day Moore took over.

The Indians and Vikings met in the Boys' Ranch Bowl at Abilene in 1947 and in regular season's play in 1948. In both encounters, the Vikings stopped McMurry's vaunted Brad Rowland and came out on the big end of 20-13 scores.

For 1949, the Indians have slight edge on offensive statistics, scoring 33.7 points per game to 31.2 for the Vikings. But the boys from the "Show-Me State" get a definite nod on the defensive, having allowed only 5.5 points per game while the Indians gave up an average of 18.0 in each of ten encounters.

Improvements Made On Cubs' Stadium

BROWNFIELD, Dec. 17. (Special)—In keeping with an agreement made several months ago, members of the Brownfield Rotary club have voted to make a club loan of $2,500 to the Brownfield Athletic Council to help pay for improvements at Cub Stadium.

Shortly after the first of the year, the Rotary club made a loan of $2,500 to the athletic council for stadium improvements, and promised to lend $2,500 more following the 1949 Harvest Festival, which is sponsored by the club.

The recent loan makes a total of $5,000 from the Rotary club for stadium improvements, including new steel bleachers on the south side, which were erected just before the 1949 football season began.

ELECTIONS WILL AFFECT PLANS

Congress To Probe Lobbying; Renewed Inquiries Threatened

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—Congress will start the year with a brand new investigation—into lobbying—while the threat of renewed inquiries hangs over a whole range of familiar subjects.

A special committee was formed to look into operations of lobbyists who hang around Capitol Hill and try to get this bill passed or that one knocked in the head. It will try to start on Jan. 15.

Inquiries into items like alleged atomic "leaks," defense policy, monopoly, five percenters and the price of coffee have been marked "unfinished business." Lawmakers talk of churning them over again in the next session.

Some of them might not start again. Somehow a lot of investigations that spring up and blaze brightly never revive after an interruption.

Election Not Overlooked

Furthermore, the congresional election is on the way next year. And House and Senate leaders may not be over-anxious to push many probes.

Even so, the lobby investigation may not be the only one that will take some new twists next year.

For instance:

The House commerce committee is planning a quick look at the large number of plane accidents in recent months. It might approve a bill to re-establish an air safety board in the government.

The House small busines committee already is checking on the Federal Trade commission, to see if there is anything to complaints it has received that the FTC isn't doing as good a job as it should. Hearings are in Prospect.

The Senate-House atomic ene. gy committee expects to find out what kind of civilian defense system against atom bombs is in prospect.

Steel Price Hiked Pursued

The House un-American activities committee may get into Communist activity in Hawaii and it may pick up some old trails of suspected Soviet espionage agents.

And in the hold-over class for that committee is its inquiry into wartime atomic shipments to the Russians.

Two committees took in after the steel price increase announced Thursday by U. S. Steel. Chairman O'Mahoney (D-Wyo) of the Senate-House economic committee said he expects an inquiry to start shortly and hopes it will discourage other steel firms following U. S. Steel. Then Chairman Cellar (D-NY) of the House judiciary committee said he would call hearings early next month and summon U. S. Steel officials for "an accounting to the American people" for the increase.

Whether the House armed services committee will renew its study of defense policies and a row between the Navy and its sister services over combat assignment, is uncertain at this point. But in any event, it is going to hand in a report on what it has found out so far.

There's a chance that the feud may be stirred up once more in the Senate armed services committee when it considers next year the nomination of Admiral Forrest Sherman to be chief of naval operations. Sherman moved in when Admiral Louis E. Denfeld was booted out as the top officer in the Navy. Denfeld summed up the case for discontented admirals when he protested the Navy wasn't allowed a full partnership in working out plans in event of war.

In the foreign aid field, there have been hints that a Senate expenditures subcommittee may try to learn whether any representatives of foreign aid missions here have profited from deals for Economic Cooperation administration assistance. Senator Hoey (D-NC) has said he is checking to find out whether there have been any "kickbacks."

Hoey's inquiry into five percenters—agents who get a commission on government contracts obtained by their clients—also may reopen for business at the same old stand.

A monopoly investigation, dealing with industrial operations, is being run off by the House judiciary committee. It held lengthy hearings but didn't get through its program.

Reports are expected next session on three more inquiries by members of the Senate-House economic committee.

These investigations have dealt with the government's entire financial policy, the question of investments, and problems of low income families.

And then there is that critical look a Senate agriculture subcommittee has been taking at the price of coffee. Senator Gillette (D-Iowa) says hearings may be reopened if coffee prices don't drop.

Brownfield Jaycees Drop Plans For Treasure Hunt

BROWNFIELD, Dec. 17.—The Brownfield Junior Chamber of Commerce has announced cancellation of its plans for the Christmas treasure hunt, which had been scheduled for Dec. 20. Overlaping of the busy fall and Christmas seasons and a number of conflicting events were given as reasons for cancellation.

The Jaycees' Christmas home decoration contest, however, will be held as planned, with judging of the homes to be made not later than Dec. 24.

A large number of Brownfield residents are competing in the contest for cash prizes of $25, $15, and $10.

Lewis Simmonds is chairman of the organization's Christmas activities committee. Members are Conrad Vernon, Bob Tobey, Crawford Taylor, Frank Szydloski, David Nicholson and Dr. W. A. Roberson.

Judge W. D. Howe, Longtime El Paso Resident, Claimed

EL PASO, Dec. 17 (AP) — Judge W. D. Howe, 79, who came to El Paso in 1893 and served on the bench of the 34th District court here 33 years, died today.

He had been in ill health for two years, but had returned to court duties after an operation.

He was born in Bloomington, Ind., and was graduated from Indiana university and Boston law school. He practiced in Knoxville, Tenn., before coming here.

Survivors include the widow, a son and two daughters in El Paso and another son, Richard E. Howe, of Westbury, Long Island, N. Y.

Britain reached a new high in nudists this year, because of a record hot summer.

ATTORNEY HONORED — Tom Duggan, jr., right, past president of the Lubbock County Bar Association, is shown receiving a pen and pencil set from his law partner, Bob Bean, at a meeting of the association Saturday. $5,000 Bond Set For Accused Gem Thief

PERRYTON, Dec. 17 (AP) — Bond of $5,000 was set today for Lloyd Edwin Roberts, 24, charged with stealing $150,000 in jewelry from a Perryton drug store Dec. 7.

Roberts, a handsome 24-year-old young man, was unable to make bond immediately.

He was charged yesterday in Justice of the Peace Dewey Allen's court after he was brought here from Dallas.

Roberts Thursday led officers to $50,000 in jewels buried in a suitcase near Dallas. He told officers about another cache seven miles south of Perryton. They found $100,000 under a culvert near a hog pen. The jewels, mostly mounted diamonds, were still in the sample cases. They had been left in the drug store overnight by two jewelry salesmen.

Johnson To Be Guest At Midland Dinner

MIDLAND, Dec. 17—J. Ed Warren, new national president of the Independent Petroleum Association of America, U. S. Senator Lyndon B. Johnson and West Texas congressmen will be honored in a dinner at the Midland Country Club Tuesday night by the Permian Basin chapter of the IPAA.

The affair will open with cocktails from 5:30 until 6:30 p. m., with the dinner starting at 6:30 o'clock.

Approximately 200 persons are expected to attend the affair, Alden S. Donnelly, vice president of the Honolulu Oil Corp., who is chairman of the arrangements committee, said today. Leading independent oil producers and officers of the independent oil companies are to attend from a wide area.

Watchman Captures One Of Two Men Burglarizing Post Office

KEMP, Dec. 17 (AP) — A night watchman caught two men burglarizing the post office here early today and captured one at gunpoint.

Night watchman Ballard Goines said he looked in from an alley window and saw the two men, yelled at them to come out with their hands up, and then exchanged gunfire with the bandits.

They came out with their hands up. But one escaped on foot while Goines was handcuffing the other.

At Kaufman, Sheriff Fred Guthrie declined to identify the captured man except to say he was a Dallas ex-convict. He said burglary tools were found inside the postoffice but that the safe had not been touched.

Santa Completes Plans For Visiting Children In Lubbock

Final plans for Santa's stay in Lubbock this week have been completed by the Lubbock Junior Chamber of commerce and the City Recreation department.

St. Nick was to spend today visiting private homes where there are sick children. Monday, the jovial gent from the North Pole will talk to children on the streets of downtown Lubbock from 1 to 5 p. m.

He and his helper will be at two different places Tuesday. His helper will be on the streets at the usual afternoon time while Santa visits at the Party House with children of the Cerebral Palsy clinic.

Santa To Visit Schools

The same time schedule will hold true for Wednesday with Santa visiting the school for exceptional children at Dupree school from 10:30 to 11 a. m., and all the children at the Hunt school from 1:30 to 3 p. m. His helper will be on the streets.

Santa will be at the American Legion hall from 3 to 5 p. m. Thursday.

Three community Christmas trees will be visited by Santa and his helper Friday. From 2 to 5 p. m. he will be at Westminster Presbyterian church, 3321 Thirty-third, where a tree will be held for all children of Southwest and Southeast Lubbock.

Earlier in the day, he will be present at a tree for all Latin-American children at the Llanos theater, 1419 Ave. G. Time for this stop is 10 a. m. to noon. A free movie will be shown.

The Carver Heights Community center for negroes will be visited from 6 to 8 p. m. Thursday. On the same day from 2 to 5 p. m., he will be at the Community center, 6th and Ave. B.

Jaycees and members of the recreation department staff, A. C. Hamilton, superintendent; Mrs. Paul Turpen and Curtis Barrett, have packed more than 5,000 boxes containing gum, candy, balloons, fruit and nuts to be distributed at the community programs.

New Furr Market To Open In Snyder

Announcement of the opening of a Furr's Super Market in Snyder Monday was made here Saturday by the management of Furr's, Inc.

The opening of the Snyder store follows closely the opening of a new Furr's Super Market in El Paso this past week. The new El Paso makes the eighth Furr store in that city.

Several thousand persons are expected to attend the Snyder opening Monday night.

Opening night features include the personal appearance of "Miss Texas of 1949," and distribution of some 1,000 baby orchids flown from Hawaii to women guests.

In addition, 20 baskets of groceries are to be given away, and a floor show will be presented. C. A. Rodgers' orchestra of Lubbock will furnish music for the occasion.

Refreshments and souvenirs are to be distributed.

Miss Texas, who is Ysleta Leissner, will fly in Monday evening from the University of Texas, where she is a studnt.

The new Snyder store, located at Twenty-sixth and Ave. Q in that city, comprises more than 28,400 square feet, including parking lot for customers. It is completely air conditioned and will be operated as self-service throughout, including the meat department.

Vernon Gosdin will be store manager and Bill Ford will serve as market manager. Gosdin comes from the Lamesa Furr's, and Ford formerly was associated with the Brownfield store.

New Construction Contracts In State Hold Steady Pace

AUSTIN, Dec. 17. (AP)—Award of Texas construction contracts held a steady pace this week, totaling $13,964,059.

Non-residential and residential lettings were almost equal at $5,603,574 and $5,598,450, respectively. Engineering contracts added $2,762,035, The Texas Contractor, building trade journal, reported.

In the low-cost housing field, 553 homes were authorized at a total of $3,510,800, an average of $6,348. Contracts for 135 costlier homes contributed $1,571,050, an average of $11,637.

Lettings for hospitals and hotels accounted for the bulk of non-residential awards, $2,318,282. Business buildings were next at $1,807,352; schools, $1,103,314; churches and theaters, $195,000; and public buildings, $179,626.

With two weeks remaining in 1949, the year's accumulative total was $901,714,340.

Resignation Of Head Nationalist Reported

TAIPEH, Formosa, Dec. 17 (AP)—Resignation of Yen Hsi-Shan as premier of Nationalist China was reported tonight by a reliable source.

If accepted, his retirement is expected to mark a sweeping change in government personnel with the aim of wooing new American support against the rampant Communists.

(Resignation of Yen also would weaken the connections of acting President Li Tsung-Jen, now in New York for treatment of an ulcer.

(Li appointed Yen premier last June, and upon leaving China a fortnight ago he designated Yen to handle the presidential duties. Thus if Yen is out, it means that Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek is back in the saddle more firmly than at any time since he "retired" as president last January.

(Yen and Chiang always have been on seemingly friendly terms, however, and Yen has been pictured in the past as trying to heal the split between Chiang and Li.

Discussed as possible successors to the premiership were Gen. Pai Chung-Hsi, one of the Nationalists' best military commanders, now on Hainan island; Wang Shieh-Chieh, former foreign minister and now a close adviser to Chiang Kai-Shek; and former Premier Chang Chun, another strong supporter of Chiang.

(Hong Kong newspaper reports said a two-man delegation already had gone to Hainan to offer Pai the job but that he was reluctant to take it.)

Fort Worth Publisher Awarded Silver Plaque For Hospitality

FORT WORTH, Dec. 17. (AP)—Amon G. Carter, Fort Worth publisher, has received a silver plaque from the Associated Press Managing Editors association for his "boundless hospitality."

The association held its annual national meeting at Fort Worth last month. During the meeting, hundreds of managing editors from over the nation were guests at a variety of entertainments given by the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, Carter, its publisher, and other executives of the newspaper.

Officers and directors of the association voted to send the plaque to Carter. It is sliver, mounted on white wood and it reads:

"Commemorating the boundless hospitality of Amon G. Carter to the 1949 meeting of the Associated Press Managing Editors association, Inc., at Fort Worth, Texas, November 2-5.

LUBBOCK AVALANCHE-JOURNAL

Lubbock, Texas, Sunday, December 18, 1949

1. Looking at twin dolls are, left to right, Jean and Jane Kerr, seven year old twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Kerr of 2117 Twenty-seventh. The girls are identical twins, and the only way their parents are able to distinguish them is that Jane has a small freckle on her face which Jean does not have. The pert little girls want to find the twin dolls in their twin stockings Christmas morning.

2. George (Buddy) Pattison, three and one-half year old son of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. (Pat) Pattison of 3407 Thirty-third, was trying to decide whether the toy airplane he wants for Christmas would fit in his stocking as he hangs the traditional holiday decoration on the mantel in the Pattison home.

3 One-year-old Jim Allen Furgeson learns about Santa Claus from his brother and sister. Royal Furgeson, jr., 8, holds a miniature Santa Claus ornament he has taken from the tree while he explains that St. Nick will soon be here. Peggy Furgeson, 2, looks on with wide-eyed wonderment. They are children of Mr.and Mrs. Royal Furgeson of 2119 Thirty-first.

5. Lynette Gaylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Gaylor of 3116 Twenty-ninth, is pictured with four-weeks-old "Suzie," who will be presented to one of Lynette's little friends for Christmas. The blue-eyed Lynette will be two years old on Christmas Eve. Lynette wants a baby doll to take the place of "Baby Suzie" for Christmas.

6. Adding the final touch to the Christmas tree are Carl Clark, 6, and Kent Clark, 8, sons of Dr. and Mrs. Doyce Clark of 3210 Twenty-seventh. The boys carefully place icicles on the beautifully decorated tree in the Clark's new home. (Staff Photos.)

College Students Are Arriving To Spend Holidays In Lubbock

As the Christmas holidays approach, college students return to their homes and friends in Lubbock for celebration of the festive and fun-filled days.

Jeanetta Lewis arrived at 7 o'clock Friday night via plane to visit her parents, Dr. and Mrs. A. J. Lewis, 2008 Ave. V. She is a junior student at UCLA in Los Angeles, Calif. The former Texas Techsan will remain in Lubbock until Jan. 2.

Shelley Furr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Furr, 3130 Twentieth, sophomore students at Randolph Macon in Lynchburg, Va., arrived Saturday morning for a two-weeks' holiday visit.

Callie Martin, also a student at Randolph Macon, came Saturday morning to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Retha Martin of 2701 Nineteenth. Miss Martin and Miss Furr, who are college roommates, came via plane. They will return to college about Jan. 2.

Bill Power, son of Mrs. O. B. Power, 2317 Fourteenth, who is a student at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Cambridge, Mass., will not return to Lubbock, but will spend the holidays in Ridgewood, N. J., and New York City as guest of his sister, Mrs Denzil Probasco, and family.

To Arrive Wednesday

Pat Hogan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Hogan of 3009 Twenty-first, will arrive Wednesday for a holiday visit until Jan. 3. She is a student at the University of Texas.

Bruce Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Brown, 2802 Thirtieth, mid-shipman third class at the US Naval academy in Annapolis, will be guest of his parents from next Thursday until Jan. 1.

Ed Wilson, also attending the Naval academy, will accompany Bruce on a chartered plane to Dallas, where they will come to Lubbock. Ed is the son of Vaughn E. Wilson, 1920 Seventeenth.

Seven Couples Hosts For Carousel Dance

Carousel entertained with an annual Christmas dinner-dance Friday night from 8 until 1 o'clock at the Hilton hotel. Connally Colburn's orchestra provided music for the semi-formal affair.

Festive decorations featured a Christmas tree with brightly-colored ornaments. Adorning each side of the mirrors in the ballroom were large papiermache candles covered with red foil paper. A Christmas greeting was written across the mirror.

Table decorations were in various designs. Some of the tables were centered by arrangements of red candles and pine greenery; others were decorated by a miniature Santa Claus in his sleigh pulled by eight reindeer; small silver trees with colored ornaments were used on four tables; and modernistic Christmas trees, designed with ornaments amidst irregular branches covered with glistening snow flakes completed the arrangements.

Hosts for the dance were Messrs. and Mesdames Ed Watson, chairmen, Ralph Keeton, George Wilson, Charles Brodie, Bill Potts, Louis Murfee, jr., and Dr. and Mrs. J. D. Donaldson.

Guests were Messrs. and Mesdames Neil Wright, jr., George Walton, Henry Holmes, Eugene Alderson, Darwin Bigness, Preston Cochran, Randall Jones, Homer Hensley, Stanley Huckabay, Bill Brookover, Joe Morgan, Jack Williams, Watson Carlock, Bob Morgan, Horace Humphries, Atmar Atkinson, Rogstad Zachary, Travis Shelton, John O'Neal, Robert Mason and Capt. and Mrs. J. E. Trojan.

The 140 guests were greeted at the door by "Santa Claus."

Wednesday Club Will Call Off Program

The Wednesday meeting of Book-of-the-Month club has been postponed because of its proximity to Christmas. Programs for December and January will be combined at the next meeting to be held Jan. 18.

Through The Coral Doors

Howdy folks,

I feel, like I've just returned from gay, artistic Paree, after nosing through the first wooden crates to arrive from Europe at Decorators Studio this week. Of course, Anne and James were excitedly unpacking each piece amid "oh's" of approval from the audience. They didn't ship a quantity, but they certainly select quality, for each item is a room-making accessory. Just in time for the holiday entertaining is a fabulous ceramic bowl. It's a conversational topic by itself or the perfect answer for Tom and Jerrys.

For those who want the finest of modern sculpture, "Le Zepher," by Parisan Atelier de Sauzea is the final answer. Of cast antiqued bronze, this is truly a piece of art which will become a family heirloom.

There are several porcelain boxes in the always charming French manner, interesting plates, figures, and vases . . . guess I shouldn't tell you all, for you will want to see them.

The lilac tree has caused quite a stir . . . and under it are many, many interesting gifts. In fact, it's getting a bit crowded and the girls ask me to remind you that you'll want to call for your packages during the next few days.

There's a smart pottery service for four on the ½ price table this week. The high-style black and blue design is a handmade pattern by Glidden. Its a real buy for the modernist.

Must hustle to meet the dead line. See you on Christmas Day.

Bye,

Grandpa Nosey. adv.

MODERN PAINTING

John McKaughan, senior commercial art student at Texas Tech, is convinced that modern painting suits the trend of the times and believes in it to the extent that he said, "I think modern painting will become the only painting after a while."

Commercial use of the modern in newspapers, magazines, on posters and billboards and in pamphlets increase interest in the modern, he thinks. "Some of the Old Masters cannot be reproduced with the simplified printing methods we have nowadays," he said. "Modern is simplifications and simplification is what we need from a commercial standpoint."

McKaughan is primarily a watercolorist, but also does oil paintings. He spends most of his free time painting pictures. He plans to study for a master's degree at the Chicago Art institute after graduation in January from Tech.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. McKaughan of Tahoka.

TOWN AND 'ROUND

Janie Wilson, former Techsan and Ko Shari, arrived in Lubbock Saturday from her home in Eastland for a weekend visit. She and her fiance, John Jackson, senior engineering student from Dallas, attended the Kemas Christmas party last night. The couple is planning an August wedding. . . Calvin Carpenter, who graduated from Tech last January, was a campus visitor Thursday. He is a teacher at the Vocational Agricultyre school in Lamesa.

HERE AND THERE

Ludonna Berry and Charlie Campbell were Thursday night daters to a basketball game. . . Margie Wilson and Dub Parks attended the Rodeo dance Friday night. . .Also at the dance were Betty Hudson and Jack Buchanan. . . .Seen at the Silver Key Christmas party Friday night were Norma Everett and Royce Brookmole, and Jackie Martyn and Willouise Huckabay. . . Jim Bob Bryan and Elizabeth Stanley also attended the party.

When you are making a standard cake with butter or margarine have the fat at room temperature before you cream it.

Give Windows Magic!

Make your windows an important part of your holiday decorating scheme, says General Electric lighting specialists.

An unusual window treatment is often the key to creating holiday decorating magic that will set your home aside as the showplace of the neighborhood.

You don't have to have any special artistic talent to duplicate the three attractive windows illustrated above. Several strings of outdoor bulbs, shiny foil, evergreen festooning and lace paper doilies, together with a full measure of holiday enthusiasm are all that's required for any one of these distinctive window treatments.

The snowflake window at the top was achieved by outlining three sides of a rectangular-shaped window with colored outdoor Christmas lights covered with crinkled metal foil. Lacy white snowflakes cut from paper doilies were fastened to the inside of the window to make an enchanting frame for the indoor tree with its twinkling lights.

If you have an unusually attractive window as shown at the lower left, you'll merely need to outline it with strings of gaily colored lights to form a perfect frame for the family Christmas tree. Balance the setting with lighted shrubbery.

Newer homes without benefit of shrubbery often present a problem when it comes to holiday decorating.

Framing a window with the outline of a large Christmas tree as shown in the illustration at the lower right, is one ingenius way of making up for lack of shrubbery.

Although it looks professional, the decoration is really very simple. All you need to do is to twine colored outdoor strings of lights and evergreen festooning and fasten it to the house in the shape of a giant tree. To complete the tree within a tree design feature your indoor tree in the same window.

Before frying eggplant slices in deep fat, dip them in beaten egg and then in well-seasoned fine dry bread crumbs. Serve the slices with tomato sauce and a green salad for luncheon.

Election Is Held By Nomads After Yuletide Party

Christmas music including piano, violin, clarinet and accordion solos by Ned and Larry Hardin and a trombone solo by Charles Wilson was presented for Nomads of Avrudaka Friday night at K-P hall. Hosts were Messrs. and Mesdames C. H. Tisdel, Victor Lindsey, Jake Abbott and Bob Sampson.

Gwendolyn Wiley gave a musical skit, "A Country Girl."

Mrs. Hub Lee presided for the election of the following officers: rani, Mrs. Guy Barclay; rajah, S. C. Myers; princess, Mrs. Fay Varner; pundita, Mrs. Tony Gibson; purohita, Mrs. S. C. Myers; rishi, Mrs. V. C. Bessent; second warder, Mrs. C. H. Tisdel; first warder, Mrs. Jake Abbott, treasurer; Mrs. T. E. May; scribe, Mrs. Wade Gilliam; saman, Mrs. John Willbanks; patrol captain, Jake Abbott; co-captain, Mrs. Acle Cope; director of works, Bob Sampson; press correspondent, Tony Gilson; imperial deputy, Mrs. John C. Crawford; imperial representative, Mrs. Russell Hardin.

Toys were brought by the group to be sent to the Pythian home at Weatherford.

Birthday Party Given For Gene Quest, 1

A party celebrating the first birthday of Jean Ann Quest was given Saturday afternoon by her mother, Mrs. Gene Quest, 2822 Thirty-third, assisted Mrs. A. E. Quest.

The Christmas motif was used in decorations, and Christmas refreshments were served to Jerome O'Rear, Patty Tennison, Linda Gail Gober, Ronnie Quest, Ralph Quest and Dannie Bavousett.

Casual Look From Paris Is Throwback To The 1920's

By ROSETTE HARGROVE
NEA Staff Correspondent

PARIS (NEA) — Trial balloons let off in mid-season collections by Paris designers usually point to the trends coming up for spring.

These point to what will probably be known as the "Casual Look" expressed by easy-fitting, full, blousy tops to dresses and jackets, unorthodox collars and necklines, skirts creeping up closer to the knees. Such trends are reminiscent of the 1920's.

Jacques Fath's collection of 75 models, produced 10 days after his return from the U. S., will probably earn him the title of "father of the 1950 casual look." (Incidentally, this Casual Look is not going to be any easier to wear).

Bunchy coats and sporty-looking jackets—these are called "Canadienne" over here—are made of every type of fabric, including velvet, lace and satin. One Faith model of palest mauve satin shows a coat cut on unfitted sports lines. This is posed above a slender skirt—shortened to 15 inches above the floor—and tops a strapless, fitted top of mauve satin trimmed with spangles.

This designer's cardigan dresses of shimmering pastel satins, which are two-pieced—underneath the jacket there is a boned strapless bodice of a contrasting color or fabric—also interpret the sporty or casual look.

Schiaparelli calls her new line "House of Cards." Coats and jacket jut out back and front in stark points, wired for effect. And skirts follow suit.

One "House of Cards" jacket of "red, red" wool has forth closings which are triangular in shape and wired to jut out ahead of the wearer a good 12 inches. This spectacular jacket is worn over a simple sheath dress of black crepe with double collar in self material.

In Schiap's collection skirts are reduced to their simplest and narrowest expression. Hats, when trimmed, are worn flat on the head, and Mercury hats of patent leather, "lettuce leaf" berets and 'cookie cutter" cups of velvet, silver and gold kid prove that Schiaparelli has allowed her imagination to run riot again as in the prewar days.

Jean Desses concentrates on sleeves: modernized leg o' mutton, Chinese lantern-inspired and sleeves that jut out below the elbow. This designer also has a soft spot for the Watteau off-shoulder line, and shows this for both daytime and evening wear.

There are still a lot of strapless boned bodices around, but they are higher than they were and are vaguely reminiscent of the old corset-cover.

The Woman's Angle

By Margaret Turner

WE have been about as busy as Santa finding things to fill your editorial Christmas stocking on this, the week before Christmas.

The pine cone has a place in holiday decorations for a reason not well known. Pine cones, cut lengthwise, show the form of a hand. A legend is that Mary, the mother of Jesus, sought concealment under a pine tree while fleeing from King Herod's soldiers. The tree lowered its branches and the soldiers passed by without spying the mother and Baby. Thereupon the Christ child raised a hand to bless the tree and in this manner marked the cones.

AT Christmas one is always interested in the neighbors. Concerning our good neighbors to the South, to those in Argentina, Peru, Cuba and Mexico, Christmas is purely a religious day. There is no festivity nor gifts until January 6, the day of the Three Wise Men who started the giving of gifts.

In Brazil the children put out shoes for "Papa Noel" on Christmas Eve, the custom borrowed from the French. In Chili the children have their "viejito"—Little Father Christmas.

In Columbia, Venezuela and Ecuador gifts are given children in the name of the Christ child.

IT would be almost impossible to think of Christmas without thinking of Charles Dickens. How many times has "A Christmas Carol" been read! Much of Dickens's London still exists. A beautiful house where Scrooge reputedly resided is gone, but the "neighboring clock" which struck the dread hour as he lay on his bed in a violent fit of trembling, waiting for Marley's ghost to appear, was that of St. Andrews church nearby. Christmas bells will ring out from it this year.

The hardest working saint of all, says Earl W. Count, who wrote a book called "Four Thousands Years of Christmas," is Saint Nicholas. The sailors of England, Greece and Orthodox Russia take him as their patron. The Venetian seaman stop at an island to thank him. There are more English churches named for Him than there are for St. George.

SAGE has a rightful place in the Christmas turkey dressing, for the seasoning has a tradition fully as ancient as that of the holiday itself. It has been the most esteemed of all through the ages. Its very name reveals our mediaeval ancestors' belief that eating it would make men wise.

It is family tradition in Mexico to fix a Pinata for the children. The Pinata is an earthenware jar that is decorated with tissue or tinsel and make to look like a fantastic mask or form. It is then filled with little goodies for the children and hung up. The children are blindfolded, given a long stick, and each had three chances to try to break the brittle Pinata.

When the jar is broken, a shower of treats come raining and the children scramble for them.

SANTA CLAUS should never promise anything to a child. So says Prof. William J. Josko of Simmons college, Boston.

The good professor should know, because for more than a decade through the Christmas season he has been mistaken for Santa Claus at stores and churches, hospitals and private parties. When a child asks him for a great array of gifts he reminds the youngster of the many children Santa Claus has to take care of, and simply promises to do his best.

At this point the professor asks "I didn't forget you last year, did I?" whereupon the child beams, knowing full well that the old gentleman is not going to forget him.

IT L a very old custom in Greece to bake special loaves of bread for Christmas. Each of the loaves is marked with a cross on top. Inside the loaf a coin is hidden. The one who finds the coin in the loaf of bread is the one who is going to be prosperous and lucky during the next year.

The custom of hiding a small object in a cake, cookie or bread is quite common in European countries, with the finder expecting good fortune, marriage, or some other happy result from his discovery.

A Story with Whiskers

'Twas the night before Christmas, and out at the Lacey's
The folks were agog over carpet from Casey's!
Ma Lacey kept running from bedroom to den,
Through parlor and hall to the bedroom again.
"I'd never have thought," she exclaimed o'er and o'er,
We'd ever possess such a beautiful floor!"

Now Grandpa was built on the practical side,
He stretched out his arms, his mouth opened wide.
Eyes twinkling, he said, "I'll find it a joy
To putter about, bare-foot as a boy!"
Aunt Minnie just smiled at the thought of relaxing,
For with carpet like that, no floor would need waxing.

And even sophisticated, big sister Sadie,
Let out with a whoop not at all like a lady!
Her reason for exalting (and one rightly so),
Was that now she could land her Sunday-best beau . . .
For with carpet where once was the cold bare floor,
He could kneel when he asked her, as men did of yore!

Then teen-age Bill, who lived mainly to eat,
Came out of the kitchen saying, "That is all 'reet!"
His admiration was for the new carpet that night,
'Cause Granny had the vittles locked up real tight.
All the younger kids hollered, "Hot dog! What's winter!
We can play 'Cowboy' without getting a splinter!"

And where was the man who had dickered with Casey!
Why, off in a corner beamed dear Mr. Lacey.
The sight of his family's joy and their pride
Gave Papa a wonderful feeling inside.
And he said to himself, with his eyes shining bright,
"Thank goodness for Casey, and carpets . . . priced right!"

Ralls Baptist Church Scene Of Norris-Smith Wedding

RALLS, Dec. 17 (Special)—Of interest to a wide circle of friends on the South Plains was the marriage of Miss Betty Jane Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Smith of Ralls, formerly of Lubbock, to Dayne Norris, of Ralls, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Norris of Post, which was solemnized at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening at the Ralls First Baptist church by the pastor, Rev. James S. Abernethy, who read a double ring service.

Baskets of yellow and white carnations were arranged before an altar background of palms and gleaming tapers centered with an arch laced with greenery and topped with a large yellow satin bow. The aisle was marked with tapers and bouquets of carnations tied with yellow ribbons.

Mrs. James S. Abernethy, pianist, played a prelude of soft music. Miss Ruth Willis, of Lubbock, sang "O Promise Me" and "Because." Mrs. Abernethy played the traditional wedding marches.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a wedding gown of lustrous white slipper satin, designed with shirred bodice, sweetheart neckline and modified leg-o-mutton sleeves. Her tierra was decorated with seed pearls and held her fingertip illusion veil which was edged with wide white silk lace. The ensemble was worn by her sister, Mrs. W. O. Fortenberry, jr., at her wedding. The bride carried a white Bible topped with gardenias caught with white satin ribbons and lace. She wore a double strand of pearls and carrying out tradition wore rhinestone earscrews for something borrowed, blue garters for something blue and wore a penny in her shoe for luck.

Frances Ann McCauley and Mrs. Ruth Hogan of Lubbock, lighted candles.

Attendants To Bride

Sandra Fortenberry, niece of the bride, was flower girl. She was dressed in a wine taffeta floor-length dress which was fashioned with scalloped yoke, full skirt scalloped on the bottom and adorned with five tiers of narrow ruffles and decorated with tiny rosebuds. She wore matching mitts, pink carnations in her hair and carried a silver basket filled with rose petals. The ringbearer, Jack Thornton, was dressed in dark trousers and white satin shirt and carried a white satin pillow.

Mrs. W. O. Fortenberry, jr., of New Deal, sister of the bride, attended as matron of honor. She wore wine taffeta fashioned with sweetheart neckline, shirred cap sleeves, long scalloped waistline and full skirt. She wore matching mitts, carried a bouquet of rose colored carnations and wore a headdress of the same flowers.

Frances Corcorran, of Lubbock, and Mrs. Berta Fay Chron were bridesmaids. They were dressed in dusty rose frocks fashioned after Mrs. Fortenberry's. They carried nosegays of pink carnations and wore the same flowers in their hair, and wore mitts that matched their dresses.

La Gene Norris served his brother as best man. Clayton Phillips, Donald Rowell, Joe Chron and Carlos Norris, brother of the groom, all of Ralls, ushered.

Reception Honors Couple

The home of the bride's parents, where a reception honoring the couple was held following the ceremony, was decorated with arrangements of carnations and Talisman roses. The bride's table, laid with a white cutwork cloth, was centered with yellow and white carnations, white tapers and was graced with a single ring wedding cake which was adorned with confection ribbon bows, yellow mallow roses and lilies of the valley. Punch was served from a crystal punch bowl.

Assisting in the hospitalities were members of the bridal party.

The couple left for a wedding trip to Houston and Galveston. The bride, a graduate of Ralls High school, has been employed as bookkeeper for Smith Implement company. Mr. Norris, also a graduate of Ralls High school, is employed by the Security State bank of Ralls. The couple will make their home in Ralls.

For travel the bride chose a dark green gabardine suit, beige nylon blouse and dark brown accessories. Her corsage was of gardenias.

Guests from San Angelo, Hamlin, Lubbock, New Deal, Plainview, Gorman, Post and Ralls were present for the occasion.

Youngsters like crushed peanut brittle sprinkled over custard or vanilla pudding.

Miss Olive Pearle Matthews and her fiance, Lloyd B. Bolander of Taos, N. M., who will arrive here tonight, are to be guests of honor at a party to be given by Mrs. Raymond Burford and Mrs. Leonard Cole in the Burford home Tuesday night.

A Saturday morning coffee honoring the bride-to-be was given by Mrs. Ruth Carter in her home at 2009 Seventeenth. On the list were Miss Matthews, her mother, Mrs. R. W. Matthews, and Mesdames G. E. Dawson, Floyd Honey, Reuby S. Rhodes, Ivy Savage, Guy Trow and H. J. McCabe.

Mrs. Carter presented the honoree a gift of china.

In the Chimayo room of Hilton hotel Saturday, a luncheon for Miss Matthews was given by Mrs. Ross Ayers and Mrs. E. J. Lowrey. The table was centered with a snow scene, highlighted by a miniature church with a bride and bridegroom standing at the door. White tapers, banked with holly, were at either end.

Silver and gold angel place cards marked places for the honoree, the hostesses, Mrs. R. W. Matthews, and Misses Imogene Fortenberry, Helen Bishop, Polly Cook, Anna Bailey, Alice Barron, George Ann McFarland, Frances Dodge and Frances Davee.

The hostess gift was of crystal.

Guests were Mrs. J. W. Dennison, mother of the bride-elect, Mrs. Voris Myatt, mother of the bridegroom-elect, and 12 friends of the honoree. Mrs. Cooper assisted with hospitalities.

A gift of silver for Miss Dennison was taken from a lighted Christmas tree.

Other holiday decorations were in rose and green. Tall green tapers lighted the mantel where rose and silver balls dotted a background of greenery. At the bride's book, there were a bride and bridegroom standing on a rose satin base before a large heart of rose satin, adorned with tiny silver wedding bells.

Mr. and Mrs. Voris Myatt are to be hosts at the Myatt-Dennison rehearsal dinner Thursday night at 8 o'clock at Hotel Lubbock. The couple will be married Friday at First Christian church.

A bridal arrangement on the buffet was highlighted with a miniature bride and bridegroom descending a stairway through a "cloud" of white angel's hair. The bride was wearing an ice blue satin gown, a replica of the one to be worn by Miss Trenfield at her wedding Monday, December 26.

The decorative motif in the living room was in the Christmas theme. Gifts were shown by Mrs. Adamson and Mrs. Draper.

PRESIDENT TO SPEAK TO NATION

Radio, Television Scheduling Variety Of Yuletide Programs

NEW YORK, Dec. 17 (AP)—The ever new, ever absorbing story of Christmas will pour forth from 85,000,000 radios and 3,500,000 television sets next week-end.

The remainder of the year, networks and stations differ widely on the type programs they offer and the themes they emphasize. But on Christmas eve and Christmas day, the variety will be in the telling of the same story.

Radio, with its greatest audience and its ability to circle the globe with transmission and pickups, will have the more ambitious presentations. Television, with sight as well as sound, will have perhaps the more colorful offerings.

Pope Pius To Speak

A highlight of both radio and television will be the lighting of the Christmas tree on the White House lawn Christmas eve, and President Truman's annual yule message to the nation. The cememony is scheduled for 5 to 5:30 p. m., eastern standard time.

The NBC and CBS television pickups will show the actual lighting of the tree in Washington. However, since the President will deliver his Christsmas message from his home at Independence, Mo., beyond reach of the video network, they will be unable to show him as he speaks.

A radio highlight on Christmas eve will be an NBC program from 1:30 to 2 p. m., that will include greetings from the Archbishop of Canterbury and Pope Pius XII.

Other Christmas eve radio features will include these:

New Cantata Slated

"Story of the nativity" presentation by Fred Waring on NBC, 10 a. m.; Edmund Gwenn as Scrooge in Ralph Rose's adaptation of Dickens' Christmas Carol on CBS at 1 p. m.; first radio performance of "The Christmas Story," a new cantata by Peter Mennin, on ABC at 9 p. m. As midnight approaches, Metropolitan opera star Lauritz Melchoir will be heard singing "Silent Night" on an NBC program that starts at 11:30 p. m.

On Christmas day, NBC will present a recording, from 2 to 3 p. m., of Pope Pius XII's proclamation of the start of the holy year, and a description of the colorful Vatican ceremonies.

From 3 to 3:30 p. m., Mutual will present Lionel Barrymore in his sixteenth portrayal of Scrooge in Dickens' Christmas Carol.

Besides the Christmas eve tree lighting, NBC television will have nearly three hours of special yule telecasts starting at 10:30 p. m. with "According To Joseph," a story of the nativity. From 11 to 11:45 cameras will pick up Christmas observances in homes and churches at Bethlehem, Pa. And from 11:45 to 1:20 a. m., NBC will televise the colorful midnight mass from St. Patrick's cathedral in New York City, with Francis Cardinal Spellman as the celebrant.

Various Christmas day features will be televised by other networks and stations. ABC's key New York station, WJZ-TV for instance, will have showings Saturday evening and again Sunday afternoon of a special television film of Dickens' Christmas Carol.

Pre-Christmas programs with a yule theme will include Margaret Truman's second radio appearance Tuesday night at 8 on ABC's "Carnegie Hall," with "Silent Night" as one of her numbers.

Mothers' Club To Be Hostess To Pupils

St. Elizabeth's Mother's club is to meet at Blakeslee hall Tuesday morning at 9:30 o'clock. Children of St. Elizabeth's school will present a program and later will receive gifts from their mothers.

PARTY FOR FAMILIES

Carpenters union and auxiliary will have a Christmas party Thursday night at 7 o'clock at the union hall, 2002 Ave. J. Families are invited, and 500 children are expected to attend.

Santa Claus will present candy, nuts and a gift to each child.

TRADITIONAL BOWL—The old-fashioned holiday party brings cheery egg-nog, fruit cake and sandwiches.

Eggnog Is Traditional

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

There must be a Christmas tree and at least one eggnog party in every traditional Yuletide season. The tree is a feast for the eyes. The eggnog is a combination of eggs and dairy foods spiced with friendship.

You need a great-hearted punch bowl of silver, china or glass, a large ladle and small punch cups in profusion. Arrange all these symbols of holiday welcome on a conveniently placed table. As each guest arrives, he is greeted with a cup of eggnog.

Remember that eggnog, with its base of milk and cream, is a real food even though served in party spirit. Because of this, only light side refreshments need to be served with it, such as highly flavored butter sandwiches and fruit cake.

Traditional Eggnog
(Makes about 25 punch cups)

Six eggs, 2/3 cup sugar, 1½ quarts milk, ½ teaspoon salt, 1½ quarts light cream, 2 tablespoons vanilla, 1 cup heavy cream, grated nutmeg.

Beat eggs and sugar together until all grains of sugar have dissolved. Add milk and salt and chill in refrigerator overnight or for at least four or more hours. When ready to serve, add light cream which has been thoroughly chilled and vanilla. Pour into punch bowl. Beat cold heavy cream until frothy and pour over eggnog; sprinkle with grated nutmeg.

Ice Cream Nog
(Makes about 25 punch cups)

One quart vanilla or eggnog ice cream (bulk), 6 eggs, ¼ teaspoon salt, 2½ quarts milk, 2 to 3 tablespons vanilla, grated nutmeg.

If ice cream is purchased far in advance, place in freezing compartment of refrigerator. Remove about 15 minutes before ready to use. To prepare ice cream nog: Add salt to eggs in mixing bowl; beat until light and frothy. Stir in milk and vanilla. Chill. When ready to serve, pour milk-egg mixture into punch bowl. Add ice cream in large spoonfuls and sprinkle grated nutmeg over top.

Christmas Is The Time For Cookie Parade; Store Them Right And They'll Keep Fresh

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

All of these cookies will keep fresh for days if stored properly—and that means in a tightly closed tin box. Be sure to store soft cookies in one tightly closed container, crisp cookies separately in another. And are they ever delicious! Each variety has its unique flavor.

COCONUT SQUARES

Ingredients: For Crust: 1½ cups sifted all-purpose flour, ½ cup sugar, 1-3 cup butter or margarine, 3 tablespoons old-fashioned dark molasses. For Topping: 2 eggs (beaten), ¾ cup sugar, 3 tablespoons sifted all-purpose flour, ¼ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon baking powder, 1-3 cup old-fashioned molasses, 1 cup chopped nut meats, 1 cup shredded coconut.

Method: For Crust—Sift flour and sugar together. Cut butter or margarine to make crumb consistency. Add molasses; mix well, and pat into an ungreased 8 x 12-inch pan. Bake 10 to 15 minutes in a moderate (350 degrees F.) oven. The top of the crust will be slightly soft, but do not increase baking time. For Topping — Mix the eggs, sugar, flour, salt, baking powder, molasses, nut meats, and coconut. Bake in a moderate (350 degrees F.) oven for 25 minuaes. The top will be slightly soft, but do not increase baking time. Leave in pan to cool. Cut into 36 squares.

MOLASSES CRISPS

Ingredients: 3 cups sifted all-purpose flour, ¼ cup sugar, 1 teaspoon baking soda, 1 teaspoon salt, 2 teaspoons ginger, 2 teaspoons cinnamon, ¾ cup shortening, 1½ cups old-fashioned molasses (heated).

Method: Sift together the flour, sugar, baking soda, salt, ginger, and cinnamon. Cut shortening into mixture to resemble crumbs. Stir in warm molasses. For drop cookies drop ½ teaspoon batter at a time onto greased cookie sheets flatten tops to 1-8-inch thickness with a glass covered with a damp cloth. Bake in a moderately hot (400 degrees F) oven for 7 to 8 minutes. For rolled cookies chill dough until stiff enough to roll (about 4 hours or overnight). Roll on lightly floured board and shape with cooky cutters. Decorate as desired with colored sugar, nuts, or dried or candied fruit. Bake as for drop cookies above. Makes 7 dozen cookies.

CHRISTMAS COOKIE CANES

Ingredients: ¾ cup softened butter or margarine, ½ teaspoon salt, 2 teaspoons almond flavoring, ½ cup sifted confectioners' sugar, ¼ cup finely chopped nut meats, 2½ cups sifted all-purpose flour.

Method: Cream together butter or margarine, salt, almond flavoring, and sugar. Add the molasses and nut meats. Stir flour into mixture, about 3 tablespoons at a time. Chill dough until it is stiff enough to handle. Shape small pieces of dough to resemble candy canes, keeping hands and board dusted with confectioners' sugar instead of flour. Bake on lightly greased cookie sheets in a slow (325 degrees F.) oven for 15 to 20 minutes or until lightly browned. Cool on pan 1 minute before removing to wire cake cooler. When cold, decorate as follows: Sift confectioners' sugar and measure 1 cup for use: stir in 5 teaspoons water. Spread over cookies with a paring knife place on wire cake cooler for icing to harden. Then stripe with red and green icing made as follows: For each color stripe desired, stir 2 teaspoons water and 1 drop vegetable coloring into ½ cup sifted confectioners' sugar. Drip icing across cookie canes from end of teaspoon or paring knife to form stripes. If desired, use pastry tube for striping canes.

Candy For Overseas Packed By Y-Teens

NEW YORK, Dec. 17 (AP) — Y-Teens have been busy packing "Chocolate for Christmas" to be sent to the children in the most deprived areas overseas as a token of friendship from the teenage groups of the Young Women's Christian Association of the United States.

Packages of chocolate bars from Y-Teens all over America have been arriving for weeks at the YWCA World Emergency Fund at national headquarters, 600 Lexington Ave., New York. Several thousand bars have been sent from the 350,000 teen-agers who are YWCA members. They are being distributed by American YW representatives among undernourished children in France, Holland, Belgium, Germany, Greece, Italy, Korea, Japan, India and many others of the 65 countries where there are YWCA's.

If you use moderate temperatures for roasting duck and want a crisper, browner skin than results, place the duck under the broiler before serving. Or one hour before roasting brush the duck with a few tablespoons of honey mixed with a teaspoon of soy sauce.

The right way to slice the turkey drumstick meat is to hold the drumstick at an angle, or upright and cut down—parallel with the bone—turning to get uniform slices.

CHRISTMAS PLUM PUDDING

1½ cups currants	1½ cups sugar
1 cup raisins	4 eggs, beaten
1½ cups chopped citron	2 tablespoon vanilla

Oil Fever Hits Grayson County

SHERMAN, Dec. 17 .—Sporadic searches of Grayson county for oil for the past 20 years failed to uncover sands worth the bother—until 28 months ago.

Now the county has 47 producing oil wells in two fields—and the fever blows hot as leaseshounds vie for landholders' favors.

Both fields are right at Sherman's doorstep, one on the north immediately adjacent to the city limits, while the second, and newest, crowds the city limits on the east.

The north Sherman field, with 37 producing wells, has produced around $3,000,000 worth of oil in a little over two years. Production today is at the pace of approximately 80,000 barrels a month.

Borders Not Defined

In the fledgling east Sherman field, pumps labor to bring forth about 10,000 barrels a month. The production borders of this field have not been defined since first production there was attained only in late summer.

On top of income from oil actually produced, the moderate oil strike has been a bananza for this county seat city. Millions of dollars have been spent for leases, and the spending of hundreds of drillers and lease men here to exploit the field dumps new revenue into the local economy.

There have been no millionaires made overnight, but some families of moderate circumstance have suddenly found themselves recipients of monthly checks ranging upward from around $600 for each well which comes in a producer.

Their Ships Come In

Scores of Sherman people have seen their ships come in overnight.

Practically every city lot in the eastern half of Sherman is under lease. The going price for leases has been upward of $150 for an average size city lot. Bonuses have ranged as high as $1,000 on acre plots.

Discovery of oil posed new problems for the Sherman city fathers.

Almost at once, an oil ordinance was passed, controlling drilling in the city limits. Operators so far have called this ordinance too rigid, and to date no tests have been made inside city lines.

Regulations Passed

The ordinance requires that no more than one well be drilled per city block and that no surface tanks be erected. Other regulations designed to protect life and property are included.

These regulations have brought signs of revolt among much of the citizenry. A move has been afoot, not yet in the open, to amend the ordinance.

In addition ,the city passed, and has enforced, an ordinance requiring that all wells be cased to a depth of 2,600 feet, a level well below the sands from which the city gets its water supply. Enforcement hasn't always been easy. At least three fights have been made by the city before the state railroad commission, which in each case has stood with the city and required the casing.

In the past, Sherman's economy has been built around small industry, agriculture, and recreation. Now oil has appeared in sufficient quantity to be a new factor.

Bare-Topped Evening Dresses Favored

By EPSIE KINARD
NEA Fashion Editor

NEW YORK, Dec. 16 (NEA) — Ready to float out on the dance floor at first blast from the orchestra is fashion's newest pet: the bare-topped evening dress:

Making an equal show of snowy shoulders and shapely ankles are romantic bouffant dresses of taffeta, satin brocade, tulle, and net.

Layer-on-layer of rhinestone-studded white net makes one gown with which a girl needs only a twinkling wand to look the part of a wish-granting fairy. The snug bodice of this Dache-designed gown is extravagantly sashed with black velvet ribbons which stream to the hemline of the ankle-length skirt.

The skirt of another tulle-layered gown plays a strip-tease act. Over a camisole top sheath of navy blue taffeta, designer Toni Owens piles three removable net skirts of three different colors—madonna blue, dusty pink and fuchsia — which can be peeled off, thinned out or piled up for effects.

The season's shortest evening dress—made mid-calf length by Adele Simpson—yields its claim to soup-and-fish formality on no other count. Red silk satin brocade fashions the full skirt and halter-strapped bodice which is softened by folds of fabric draped provocatively over the bosom.

XYL And Radio Clubs Have Yuletide Party

The families of members of XYL and Lubbock Radio clubs were guests at a Christmas party given in the lounge of Tech Naval Reserve armory Friday night.

Attending were Messrs. and Mesdames U. V. Blake and family, E. C. Pool, W. T. Ward, Jack Blackwell and family, Richard C. Burgess, John Estes and daughter, Bruce Craig and family and Mr. Tommy Sowell.

Games were played and gifts taken from a Christmas tree were exchanged. Mrs. Blake and Mrs. Craig served coffee and fruit cake.

Paralized Vet Given "Gift" By Comrades

PORTLAND, Ore., Dec. 17 (INS) —A double portion of Christmas cheer was dished out ahead of time today to Jack Grunden, Army veteran who was crippled by Russian soldiers last year, and his ex-wife, Joan.

Grunden has been paralyzed from his waist down since he was shot trying to prevent the kidnaping of a German civilian in Berlin where he was on duty with the United States Army.

His fellow paralyzed veterans chose him as the one patient to have his wife with him for Christmas. The gift came in the form of a trip on Western airlines from Portland to Los Angeles and back.

Mrs. Grunden said she will leave Portland Dec. 23 and discuss reconciliation with her former husband. They were divorced last June.

There was one sad note. Mrs. Grunden says she expects to return Dec. 26 because she has too little money to stay longer. She has been unemployed since April .

Locusts Have Own Directional Flying Aid, Scientist Reports

LONDON, Dec. 17 (AP)—Locusts have queer short hairs on their heads which give them directions when flying. This discovery is reported in "Nature," the official British science journal, by T. Weis-Fogh, of Gentofte, Denmark.

The hairs are queer because they do not vibrate in the wind as do other hairs on a locust. These merely bend. Something in their structure prevents fast waving motions.

By the angle at which these hairs bend a locust knows how much he is turning away from a straight line. When he is flying straight the wind bends the hair straight back.

House-painting in the hot rays of the sun should be avoided. If a house faces East, the painter would be wise to start early on the West side, doing the East at a later hour.

Russian Ships Moved Through Polar Seas

MOSCOW, Dec. 17 (AP)—A mass transfer of river vessels from the western areas of the Soviet Union to the eastern areas has been achieved through the Polar seas.

An announcement said this was the first time in the history of Russian navigation that such a feat had been recorded. The news came out when the Ministry of the River Fleet presented orders and medals to those who particularly distinguished themselves in the Arctic expedition.

The ships were transferred from Archangel through the northern waters to the Ob-Irtysh and Enisei basin.

QUAKE IS REPORTED

BUENOS AIRES, Dec. 17 (AP)—A sharp earthquake in the vicinity of Tierra Del Fuego, at the southern tip of South America, was reported today by the air ministry's observatory. The region is sparsely populated.

School Barring Negroes, Jews Being Set Up With $3,000,000

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Dec. 17 (U.P.)—Three faculty members are working to get a "dream" school ready to open next year for non-Jewish, non-Negro students, as ordered in a will left by a wealthy, eccentiric real estate dealer in 1930.

The $3,000,000 estate of the late Harvey G. Woodward was tied up in court until recently, when a board of seven governors was ordered to establish the school "as expeditiously as possible."

(The idea of the school is somewhat similar to that provided for in an endowment by George Armstrong, wealthy Mississippi planter and oil man, disclosed recently in Natchez. Mr. Armstrong gave a grant worth $50,000,000 fo ra school open only to white Christians which will teach white supremacy and state's rights. The grant was accepted by Jefferson Military College near Natchez.)

Woodard specified that no Negroes and no Jews, "by race and not by religion," would be admitted to the school.

"The money came from the soil of Alabama and I wish to return it to the white people of Alabama," he said in his will.

Northerners To Teach

All teachers, for the first 25 years of the school's existence, would come from the north so that southern boys might learn by contact. The teachers "shall studiously avoid drudgery to pupils or to themselves and no formal examinations will be held."

The first three faculty members selected are N. H. Batchelder, Jr., formerly of Missouri Military Academy of Mexico, Mo.; Dr. Richard C. Crosby of Miami University, Oxford, O., and Ian Stuart of Mercersburg Academmy, Mercersburg, Pa.

All three have established residence here and rented downtown offices. They are negotiating for a school site and plan to let a construction contract soon to build the school.

Under the unusual will, the school would use "no religious emblems or furniture." To avoid religious excitement or controversy, the will said no religious ceremonies would be held unless the boys themselves conducted them.

Negroes As Laborers

Negroes would be employed on the school grounds only as common laborers because of "the probability of pupils unconsciously acquiring the Negro's type of actions, language, lack of real observation and way of thinking."

Woodward reportedly worked on this "dream school" for years before his death. He said that "esthetic things will be favored such as bands, glee clubs and photography."

"I wish that much effort be made to inculcate love for truth and work," he wrote in his will.

Woodward's wife was left one-half of the income from the estate but when she dies the entire income will go to the school. The board of governors is a self-perpetuating group.

Donors Sought For County Blood Bank

Donors of blood are needed in order to build up the blood supply of Lubbock county blood bank to prepare for transfusions expected to be needed because of holiday accidents, blood bank officials announced.

Increased accident rates during holiday periods call for a corresponding increase in blood supplies needed for mergencies, said Dr. Clarence S. Mast, chairman of the medical advisory committee of the Red Cross blood program.

"No one knows who will need a blood transfusion to save his or her life," he said.

Statistics of the National Safety council show the greatest number of deaths from motor vehicle accidents and burns occur during November, December and January. Home accidents, which caused more deaths than any other classification of accidents in 1947, also rise sharply during the winter, he said.

He urged Lubbock county residents to telephone 8534, Red Cross headquarters, and make an appointment to give a pint of blood. The blood bank is located at Red Cross headquarters at 1513 Ave. K and will be opened at 4:30 p. m. Monday and Thursday.

Blood collection is conducted under supervision of a physician and registered nurses. Dr. Mast emphasized that the Red Cross pays no one for blood and does not accept payment for any handled in its blood program.

New Guinea Living Costs High As Price For Bride Increases

PORT MORESBY, New Guinea, Dec. 17 (U.P.)—Even natives of certain parts of New Guinea are beginning to feel the pinch of increased living costs.

"Bride-price," that age-old source of headache to native, authority and missionary alike is on the up trend in the central highlands.

22 gold lip (mother of pearl) shells.

Four pigs.

Three steel tomahawks.

10 bird-of paradise plumes.

He also handed over a large quantity of trade beads and 35 shillings ($3.90) in cash. There were other incidentals to round off the marriage contract and the young man's family had to contribute green snail shell, native salt, and no less than 51 stone axes.

This is a sort of bride-on-time-payment. The bridegroom has to "back" these goods and will be in debt to his elders for a long time.

BLUEBIRDS FOR HAPPINESS

BALDWIN, Ga. (U.P.) — Connie Watts, organizer of the Bluebird-Martin club here, says his proposal to turn U. S. route 23 into "the bluebird trail" is gaining support rapidly. Martin wants authorities to help him put 30,000 bird boxes on the route from Canada to Florida.

Owner Of Factory Learns To Quit Drinking Excessively

Grateful A. A. Member Turns New Home Into Rehabilitation Center For Others

By KEN DAVIS
Associated Press Staff Writer

NORWALK, Ohio, Dec. 17.—Dillon Nash, his wife and his teen-age daughter, Mary Jane, are giving up their brand new home tomorrow because the father once was a drunkard.

The 41-year-old mattress factory owner doesn't drink anymore. The family loves the low white ranch-type house into which they moved this year.

But Dillon Nash—after a great deal of soul-searching—has decided to turn the house into a rehabilitation center for drunkards of the area.

Promised Daughter Car

What Alcoholics Anonymous can do for him, Nash argues, it can do for others, if it gets a chance.

Mrs. Nash puts it this way:

"If the A.A. movement can help my husband, this might help the husband and father of many other families, and eventually give them a new start in life.

"Both Mary Jane and myself are convinced that the sacrifice is worth the try."

Mary Jane, a freshman at Norwalk high school, took a bit of convincing. But she accepted the idea gradually and to take out the sting, Nash promised her a new automobile on her 16th birthday.

Originally the Nashes came from Oklahoma. But Nash was drinking heavily in those years and they moved around a lot. Before the war, they lived in Sandusky, where Nash learned the mattress business.

Business Prospered

It never prospered, however, until four years ago. Nash joined Alcoholics Anonymous. The family was living at Milan, Ohio, then. About two years ago, the Nashes moved to Norwalk. The mattress business continued to prosper and Nash continued to abide by the code of Alcoholics Anonymous.

The family built the new home last spring. But even in enjoying his new home, Nash continued to worry about other men who hadn't been able yet to defeat drink.

Mrs. Nash said her husband was a confirmed drunkard for 17 years before he straightened up. Nash figured others could stop drinking to excess, too.

The new rehabilitation home for alcoholics will have registered nurses, a local doctor on constant call, a combination cook-housekeeper and a male attendant.

To Continue Factory

Nash will continue to operate his mattress service and direct the new home from his new quarters in the factory.

Only alcoholics from the Norwalk area will be admitted. That includes unfortunates from Bellevue, Sandusky, Clyde, Fremont, Elyria, Milan and New London.

"Such a rehabilitation center in our area is badly needed," said Nash. 'Hospitals in the area have no facilities for them and to take these sick people to out-of-the-way places like Akron, Cleveland or Toledo is too expensive and takes too much time of A. A. members.'

A. A. members traditionally help new members with counsel and comfort at their own expense.

The house that held three Nashes so comfortably can house 10 persons afflicted with a weakness for drink.

LONELIEST STATION

The world's loneliest radio station is said to be that on Willis Island, 400 miles east of Australia, where two operators keep and 'rainsmit weather records.

Iran's silk-cocoon output nas zoomed to an estimated 2,500 tons for 1949-50.

BUSINESSMEN FAVOR DROPPING WARTIME LEVIES

Considerable Pressure To Abolish Excise Taxes Indicated After Sawyer Makes Tour Over Nation

By SARAH McCLENDON
Avalanche-Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17—Considerable impetus is expected to be given the fight to do away with excise taxes in the next session of Congress, now that Secretary of Commerce Sawyer has said that his recent survey throughout the country shows that business men want excise taxes to go.

Rep. Ken Regan, 16th district, Midland, following wishes expressed by a number of his constituents, has been actively advocating abolition of these excise taxes for some time.

Rep. J. M. Combs, Beaumont, is a member of the House Ways and Means committee before which the question will come. A check at the committee this week shows that there are now 174 bills calling for abolition of excise taxes. Shortly before close of the last session, a check showed 140, neatly bottled up there because of administration opposition. Committee action was not taken on the bills, thus causing Minority Leader Joe Martin, R., Mass., to attempt to discharge the committee from consideration of the question by petition. The 174 total shows that Joe Martin may come closer to getting his 218 names required for discharging purposes.

Survey Taken On Trip

Secretary Sawyer after a trip to the Southwest, Detroit, San Francisco, Oklahoma, the old South and New England came back saying that business men were insistent that these taxes should go. Sawyer did not say how he personally felt about it, thus saving himself from running into any controversy with President Truman who has come out for increased taxes and not less taxes. Sawyer in his report filed with John R. Steelman, assistant to the President, did say that business men felt the taxes could be taken off to the advantage of every one as they would encourage more business and give more people gainful employment. These results came after a survey conducted, mind you, at the request of President Truman, so the chances are that he will give close attention to the report.

The excise taxes were put on temporarily during war time to help Uncle Sam get some more revenue and include taxes on jewelry, furs, cosmetics, telephone calls and telegrams. Southwest leather goods merchants and New England watchmakers have particularly denounced them.

Secretary of Agriculture Charlie Brannan is hitting back at critics of his plan to give farmers a subsidy tied to the cost of living. He is bearding the lions in their own dens and suggesting to them that they permit farmers to discuss openly and freely his plan and all others before shutting the door on them. At one point, Brannan, criticized by the Grange, told members that he was trying to take the advice of their national grange master in 1895, who said: "What sort of man should the Secretary of Agriculture be? He most emphatically should not be a man who would remain silent or acquiesce in any proposed legislation that would be unjust to agriculture . . . nor a man who will hesitate to demand rights, privileges and advantages for farmers equal to those enjoyed by other classes."

Farm Legislation Hit

Brannan says that the agriculture act as passed by the last Congress is all wrong. For one thing of special interest to folks in the Southwest, he says the Act does not provide mandatory minimum levels of support for important livestock and poultry products, products which bring in a much larger proportion of total farm income than a number of the crops which are given preferential treatment.

Here are some further Brannan quotes which have direct bearing on Texas:

"It would be neither wise nor fair to the nation to hide the distressing truth that net income of farm operators is already down about 20 percent from 1947 and that it may decline another 15 per cent next year . . . If the farmer is not to lead the way to a lower scale of purchasing power and a lower scale of living for all the economics groups in the nation—this toboggan slide of farm income must end." And about his own plan, he said: "I consider it essential, if we expect consumers to continue to approve price supports, that the American people be permitted to receive the benefits of this nation's great capacity to produce food and fiber in abundance, both in lower prices and better diets."

Simple Language Needed

Here's what President Roosevelt meant, when he said there ought to be more simple language used in government . . . and doubtless what Maury Maverick of San Antonio meant when he coined the word "gobbledygook."

Rep. Lindley Beckworth, Gladewater, has been writing furiously to commanding officers of Army, Navy and Marine Corps trying to get them to "accept" blackeyed peas for mess halls so that poor farmers of East Texas could make more money selling the staple product which kept so many people in the South from starving to death after the Civil War.

Here's one for the classics, which Congressman Beckworth received from Col. J. N. Gage, Quartermaster Corps, commanding Chicago Quartermaster Depot.

"Acceptability,' writes the Colonel, 'cannot be determined in one stated operation or completely described by a single figure. It is a generalized, derived concept which depends upon a large number of variables."

The lowly black-eyed pea has achieved four-syllable prestige, thanks to Mr. Beckworth, who incidentally sans verbiage in other quartermaster offices, is getting somewhere with his campaign, as indicated by other letters received from posts throughout the nation.

Arrangements are going forward for the Texas State Society's dinner honoring Associate Justice Tom Clark on Jan. 20. At a recent meeting of the board it was voted not to let the Dallas Chamber of Commerce's representative in Washington, Dale Miller, give a cocktail party beforehand for head table guests. The Texas Society board will have the informal gathering instead.

One of the most enthusiastic Texans I ever talked to is the mother of the wife of the Secretary of Agriculture, Charles Brannan. She is Mrs. Sue Seltzer, who with her daughter, Miss Marjorie Seltzer, employe of the Veterans Administration, makes her home here now and is often seen at public gatherings with Mrs. Brannan.

Mrs. Seltzer has but to hear that any one is from Texas and right away they are friends. When she met Associate Justice Tom Clark for the first time, she told him she was from Texas, and he replied instantly with a warm handclasp, and a "God bless your heart."

Mrs. Seltzer was formerly Sue Bishop of around Sugarland, and her family before that were Staffords who came to Texas with the earliest pioneers from the U. S. She is indeed proud to be descended from Texas pioneers.

A Texan now living in Washington for his own good will remain unidentified tells this story on himself. Years ago in Beaumont he was an active member of the Ku Klux Klan. Years later, he was in New York City, walking along 44th street and ran into Monsignor Kelly of Beaumont—of all people. Without hesitation the Texan fell into step with the Monsignor and shouted, "Well, how does it feel to run into an old Ku Kluxer right here in New York?"

The tall, white-haired monsignor, without missing a beat, looked him straight in the eye, as the two walked down the sidewalk, shot back, "So you admit it at last!"

Largest Single Item In States' Spending Goes For Education

CHAPEL HILL, N. C., Dec. 17 (U.P.)—More than two-thirds of the money spent by states in the nation goes for education, roads, public welfare and relief, and hospitals for the handicapped, says Dr. Edgar W. Knight of the University of North Carolina.

During the last fiscal year, spending for schools totaled more than $2,312,000,000, with road building coming second at almost $2,000,000,000, he said.

But the professor of education added that tere was a wide variation between expenditures in the various states.

The average salaries of teachers last year ranged from more than $3,400 down to less than $1,300, he said, and half the teachers, principals, and superintendents in two states had salaries of less than $1,500.

Britain is buying large quantities of softwoods from Russia's German Zone.

"MADEMOISELLE" PRESENTS AWARD

Woman County Attorney Whips Dad In Two Cases This Year

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE
INS Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Dec. 17 — Louise Replogle, believed to be the only woman county attorney in America, is 26 and pretty—but she beats her father.

As prosecuting attorney in Lewistown, Montana, she's thoroughly whipped her lawyer dad in two cases in the past year.

"It's unforgivable," she said today. "Dad paid for my law education, helps me electioneer for my post, inspires my work—and then I do these things. It's all in the line of duty, of course . . .

"But we don't discuss it at home."

The tall, brunette came to New York this week to accept Mademoiselle magaine's award as one of 1949's "Young Women of the Year."

Lost First Case

'What can I tell you about myself?" she asked, her brown eyes as round and soft as her voice. "I'm just an ordinary lawyer who maybe talks more qiuetly than the male species do."

That, undoubtedly, is a clue to her success over other Lewistown lawyers. She admits it.

"I blew up,' she says, "in my first case against my father when, as the defense lawyer, he wouldn't let me put the defendant on the stand. I lost the case.

"Since then, I've kept my voice as calm as possible and let father do the bellowing and shouting. And I've won."

Her father is "pretty tough" on her in the courtroom, Louise says, "because he thinks women should stay out of law. He thought that ever since I told him I was going to follow in his footsteps."

Broke News To Father

That was when she was a serious, tyke of eight, and Mr. Replogle used to take her to sessions of the county legislature, where she listened to much sober talk and then played her violin during intermissions.

At home in the evening, Louise would sneak from her bedroom to the stairs and listen in on his conversations with visiting lawyers in the parlor.

She waited till she was 10 to pop the news that she was going to be a lawyer. Mr. Replogle grinned and told his friends, who grinned and said "cute."

"But I showed them," says Louise. "I went through law school, graduated, and wasted no time getting a job."

Even before she had her University of Montana LL. B. degree in hand, she filed to run for county attorney in Lewistown and, using "Montana born, Montana raised and Montana educated" as her mark of distinction—along with her beauty—she won the election.

Today she believes, "a lot of people voted for me because of the novelty of a woman prosecutor. Many of them thought I wouldn't be elected, and wanted me to have a decent showing. But whatever it was, the vote split in my favor."

She's just been elected to a second term, which proves the "novelty" was a successful one.

Besides her work as prosecutor and adviser to all county offices, she's a private lawyer—her private cases bring her more than the $2,436 a year she gets from the state of Montana.

Louise is also national co-chairman of the Young Republicans, an active member of the Montana Bar association, an excellent swimmer, and a member of the Montana Muzzle-Loading club, which means she handles her rifles with reverence.

Legion Will Hold Party For Children

Santa Claus will be present at the Christmas party to be conducted for all children in Lubbock under age of 8 years from 3 to 5 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the hall of Allen Bros. post of the American Legion, officials of the Legion announced.

Packages of candy and fruit given by Furr Food stores will be given to all children present. More than 1,000 packages are to be available.

The party will not be limited to needy children, but will be given for all children under 8, it was emphasized.

Several stars from "The Stars of Showtime" to be sponsored by the Legion Wednesday and Thursday, will present a program.

Dr. H. H. Bidwell, past commander of Allen Bros. post, is directing plans for the party.

Chicago Mother Facing Grand Jury Probe In 33-Months-Old Son's Starvation Death

CHICAGO, Dec. 17. (INS)—A 27-year-old Chicago woman screamed and collapsed today when a coroner's jury recommended that she be held for the grand jury in connection with the starvation death of her small son.

Mrs. Florence Ramsey testified she did not feed her blind, 33-months-old son, Thomas, for 15 hours before he was found dead in his crib early yesterday.

The tot weighed 13 pounds at death.

Mrs. Ramsey testified that Thomas, a son by a previous marriage, was born three months prematurely and "was never quite, always got on my nerves and was a constant care."

Ervin Nykaza, the baby's father, aroused his former wife to near hysteria when he accused her from the stand of being a neglectful mother.

Mrs. Ramsey leaped from her chair and shouted:

"You dirty liar! You lie!"

She said the baby had been unable to retain his food properly since birth.

Coroner A. L. Brodie conducted a preliminary investigation last night and said there was no doubt that the child had died of starvation.

Mrs. Ramsey and her husband, Edward, told Brodie they went to a movie Wednesday night, leaving their four children in care of a neighbor. Mrs. Ramsey said her daughter, Dorothy, 7, told her yesterday Thomas "looked funny." She said she called a doctor who pronounced the child dead.

Butter and cheese are mentioned in the earliest records of human food products, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Greek Ships Sailing Under Foreign Flags

ATHENS, Dec. 17 (AP) — More than half of the Greek-owned merchant fleet, built up from virtually nothing since 1945 with American aid, today is sailing under foreign flags.

According to ECA figures, of a total of 765 ships, only 317 are sailing under Greek registry, as compared with 338 Greek-registered ships out of 427 in 1939. At the same time, present tonnage has more than doubled over the prewar total of 1,865,146 tons. Deep-sea shipping today stands at 3,878,787 tons.

An agreement with the United States, prior to Marshall Plan aid, provided 100 wartime Liberty ships to the Greek government, which in turn sold them to private interests for $560,000 each. Most of the ships were registered in Central American countries.

PARIS BOWS TO PROVINCES

PARIS (AP) — French provincial newspapers are stealing away the circulation of the big Paris dailies, according to figures compiled by the French Press federation. Latest estimates show the provincial press has about 7,000,000 readers, while the Paris press has only 3,800,000 readers. Before the war Paris newspapers sold about the same number of copies as those of the provinces combined.

SALVAGING WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Officials estimate about 500,000 old bricks will be removed in rebuilding the White House, but many of them will be put back. The bricks are slightly larger than today's standard size.

SHIVERS AND ADVISERS NOT COUNTING ON CINCH

Rough Campaign For Governor Of Texas Is Indicated In 1950

By DAVE CHEAVENS
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, Dec. 17. — All signs point to 1950 as another year of political explosions in Texas.

While Democrats and Republicans over the nation will be fighting in out for congressional control, the Texas tumult will be more on the state level. You can count on a real campaign for governor.

Unusual off-year activity in 1949 has been the most certain sign of it. Gov. Allan Shivers, generally conceded to be in a most favorable position for re-election, has nevertheless demonstrated that he and his advisors are not counting on a cinch.

Legislators Jittery

Legislators, slapped down at the polls on their proposals for annual sessions and a pay boost to $3,600 a year, are jittery. All the members of the house and half of the senate face re-election.

The political year 1950 will actually start the day in January or February the legislature begins its special session.

You can look for many a campaign speech from the floor of the house and the senate. The members will not only be seeking re-election, but many will talk and act in the light of their ambitions for political promotions. Some are wondering if the negative vote on their pay raise was a sign of non-confidence.

This factor is bound to complicate consideration of the vital finance issues that the special session faces. It must make immediate provision for support of the state hospitals and special schools and it will be under terrific pressure to work out a long-range plan for meeting the needs of the eleemosynary institutions.

Shivers On Spot

Many political pros are saying that Shivers' future in public life depends in a large measure on what the special session does whether or not he may be responsible for it. They believe the lieutenant governor's race and many another political contest will actually be decided in the legislative halls.

Shivers has been travelling to all parts of the state on a speech-making schedule that has all the earmarks of a campaign itinerary. The same can be said of Railroad Commissioner Olin Culberson, a rough-and-ready campaigner regarded as a certain entry in the gubernatorial race. Caso March, as usual, has been beating the bushes apparently undiscouraged by previous failures to shell out many votes.

Attorney General Price Daniel's position is not quite as clear. He has been active on the speaking circuit and has kept his name before the public in connection with the fight to retain Texas' title to its tidelands. He has repeatedly said the tidelands should not become a political issue, but he has not said it would not be.

Others May Run

Daniel was regarded as a certain candidate for governor before Jester's death elevated Shivers to the top state executive job. That circumstance was an undisputed political break for the lieutenant governor, but it also automatically dropped the eleemosynary finance-special session issue on Shivers' shoulders.

There is a long list of potential candidates for governor. Recurring reports say that W. Lee O'Daniel may make another run for it, but some of his close friends discount it. Others mentioned include State Senator Carlos Ashley of Llano, Land Commissioner Bascom Giles, and school man L. A. Woods.

All the candidates and possible candidates can be counted on to watch for any break that would give them real ammunition for pot-shooting at Shivers. A session of the legislature could be just the spot for such a break to develop.

Session Problem Cited

The same holds true for those who would like to be lieutenant governor. That's also a long list: State Senators Grover C. Morris of Greenville and Fred Red Harris of Dallas; Secretary of State Ben Ramsey of San Augustine; former House Speaker W. O. Reed of Dallas; Speaker Durwood Manford of Smiley; Rep. C. S. McLellan of Eagle Lake.

The legislature's problem in brief will be this:

It must curtail state services, raise more money or restore deficit financing. Members facing re-election are not likely to be in a mood for economizing. At the same time, who are they going to put new taxes on? It's dynamite to the right of them, dynamite to the left of them, dynamite straight ahead of them.

All this has been about Democrats.

That's usually all there is to talk about in usually one-party Texas, but 1949 saw extra ordinary stirring by the Republicans. Jack Porter is often mentioned as a serious candidate for governor after the showing he made in the 1948 Senate race against Lyndon B. Johnson.

In that race, the Republicans capitalized on the bitter after-effects of the Johnson-Coke Stevenson row, but they could make the same hay over any other Democratic fracas. The Republicans have been talking up their morale with big-time speakers from the east, and it's entirely possible they could elect a House member or two from their hill country strongholds. It's happened in the past and it could happen again.

Red-Faced Traffic Officer Is Learning Nursery Rhyme

HUNTSVILLE, Dec. 17. (INS)—One traffic officer in Huntsville is spending a lot of time these days memorizing an old nursery rhyme.

That policeman issued several traffic tickets recently summoning the offenders to appear in court on Nov. 31.

Since there is no such date, the traffic violators could not legally be ordered to court.

The erring officer is now refreshing his memory with the jingle, "Thirty days hath September, April, June and November . . ."

Treasury Assayers Not Excited By Reported Yukon Gold Strike

BY GLENN MARTZ
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17 (U.P.) — U. S. Treasury officials who assay, buy, and store gold in government coffers are never excited over reports of gold strikes in the Yukon.

As prospectors hurried to stake claims in the ice-locked sands and frozen gulches of Fish-wheel, Alaska, government officials charged with handling gold bullion viewed it in impersonal terms of national wealth and a possible source of tax revenue.

When word came later that the supposed strike was suspected of being a hoax, officials merely shrugged. Even if the Fishwheel boom fizzles, there may be others later, and perhaps rich ones. In any event, it simply will mean more work for employees at the U. S. assay office in Seattle, Wash., where most of Alaska's "yellow wealth" is funnelled into the United States.

There Alaska's sourdough prospectors and great mining companies sell gold dust and nuggets over the counter to Uncle Sam much the same as a vegetable gardener sells beans to his local merchant. Only in this instance the commodity bartered is worth $35 an ounce.

Rush Nothing New

A gold rush is nothing new to the Treasury Department's assay office in Seattle. A federal gold purchasing station was established there July 16, 1898. It opened in time to receive the first shipment of gold from the great Klondike strike of that year.

During the next 18 months more than $5,000,000 worth of gold passed over its counters.

In rapid succession came strikes at Chandalar, Pedro, Firth River, and Fairbanks, pouring a steady stream of gold into U. S. mints.

During that period employes at the assay office heard tales of romance and high adventure as prospectors told of experiences along the hazardous trail from the Yukon to Seattle. One peril was hijackers who lay in wait for outgoing dog sleds laden with gold.

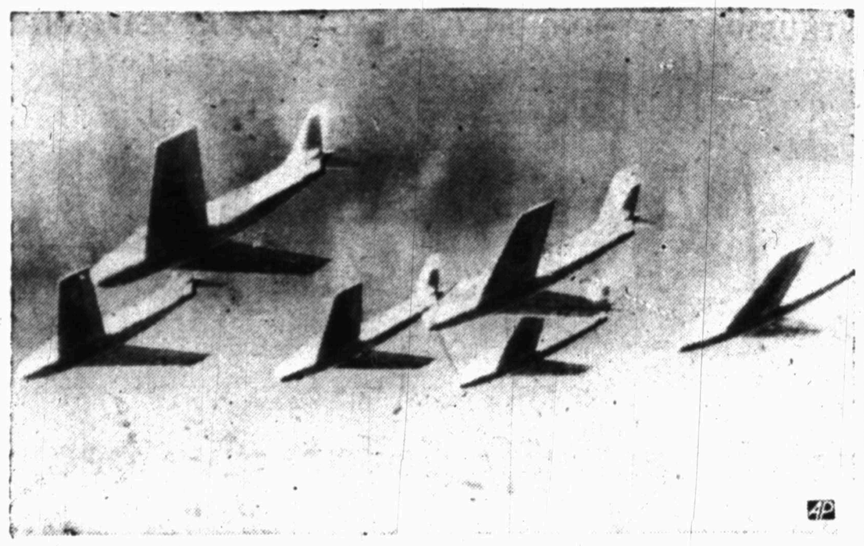

Transportation Safe

But today, department officials say, the job of transporting gold from field to market is relatively drab routine. Hazards have been all but eliminated by modern air transport.

The Fishwheel strike hardly had been heralded to the world when crews began clearing an air strip. Reports from that Arctic outpost say it was clogged with planes used to bring in gold seekers and supplies and standing ready to carry cargoes of gold in event the strike pans out.

Meanwhile, in Seattle, the government's gold buyers just waited.

If the gold comes through, they'll merely step up the tempo of relaying it to U. S. mints, where it will be molded into bars for burial in federal vaults at Fort Knox.

People Of Small Township Melt Ice To Brush Their Teeth

Residents Of Waterless Town Just Sneer At "Bathless Fridays" In New York City

By BARBARA BUNDSCHU
United Press Staff Writer

SOMERS, N. Y., Dec. 17—Residents of this tiny waterless town sneered today at New York's bathless-shaveless Friday.

'I haven't had a bath since August," said Mrs. Anna Fuchs, Somers township tax receiver.

Many of her neighbors haven't either. They look just as clean as anybody. But they aren't happy about it.

The township, 30 miles north of New York City, is composed of small farms, small villages and more summer than year-round residents. The long drought which imperils New York City's water system has dried up most of their shallow wells and many of their springs.

Skipping Afternoon Coffee

An estimated 10 to 25 per cent of the town's 3,500 persons are hauling water from ponds, carting it from luckier neighbors with deep, artesion wells putting out every vessel they own to catch the rain, and melting it down from ice every morning to brush their teeth.

Housewives have stopped all the water cleaning they can. They're still scrubbing kitchen floors, but with a basin of water first used for a sponge bath. They're skipping their afternoon cups of coffee or tea. They're flushing the toilets as infrequently as possible with water that 's already done duty on dirty children, dirty clothes and dirty dishes. When they wash their hair, they leave the soap in it.

Soups Have Vanished

They're planning their menus for dishes that don't need water. Soups have vanished from the table. So have stews. Most housewives have resorted entirely to froen vegetables — these don't need to be washed before cooking. The extra time it takes from their days is almost incalculable.

Mr. and Mrs. Shirley Taylor, with five little girls under 10, haul water for five cows and 300 chickens as well as themselves and cart the family 20 miles in their "old jalopy" every weekend for baths at her family's home in Ossining. Taylor, a highway maintenance man, has to bring the water from a neighbor's pond after work each evening. Sometimes it takes three trips.

The Taylor's and their neighbors, the Webster W. Keefes, rent their homes, otherwise they'd be joining the neighbors who are drilling artesian wells.

Water A Nice Present

Mrs. Keefe, whose husband is principal of the town school, said her family was out of water most of the fall. With an off-again-on-again well she spent half her day running up and down to the pump in the basement to make sure it wasn't burning itself out pumping air. Once it did.

Mrs. Fuchs, a widow who lives alone, said she didn't feel too sorry for herself, however, when she looked at the mothers with children.

When she has friends to dinner and they reply with a neighborly, "what can I bring?" she tells them "water." She carts some home each night from the town house and hauls more from neighbors a half mile away.

"They've just been spoiled in New York," said Mrs. Fuchs. 'They should come up here and take a look. They just don't know. "What I would like for Christmas is a bath tub full of water."

When washing chamois gloves, add a teaspoonful of olive oil to the water. This keeps the gloves soft and pliable.

SHE KISSED HIS SLEEVE AND PRAYED FOR LIFE

Woman Is Shot Through The Head At Midnight After Refusing To Pledge Love For Admirer

NEW YORK, Dec. 17 (AP)—At midnight, a bullet struck down 26-year-old Carmen Seda, because she refused to pledge her love to the man who police say killed her.

The man, handsome, 21-year-old Israel Justiniano, was quoted by detectives last night as saying he had given the pretty Carmen 20 minutes to make up her mind, while he sat beside her with a gun in his hand.

It was either promise herself to him, or die, according to police. They said Justiniano gave this account:

As the minutes ticked away, Carmen knelt before him in his furnished room Monday night in the Bronx, and begged:

"Please let me go."

The clock said 20 minutes until 12.

"You have until midnight to come to a decision as to whether you're going to stay with me or not," Justiniano told her. "If not, I'm going to kill you."

Carmen shook her head. She kissed his sleeve, and began to cry. Then she prayed. At midnight, he shot her through the head.

Police said the girl, who worked with Justiniano at a downtown warehouse, had told her mother months ago that the handsome Puerto Rican had been annoying her. She had agreed to see him to "talk things over."

When police arrested Justiniano last night after seeking him since Tuesday they asked him about a lipstick smear on his shirt sleeve.

"That?" he said. "That was Carmen's kiss."

False "Prince" Banned In U. S.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17 (U.P.)—The Justice department announced officially today that it will not try to extradite from Mexico Rico David Tancous who poses as the youngest son of the late Kaiser.

It said that it decided instead to bar Tancous, an alien, from ever returning to the United States.

Authoritative sources indicated earlier this week that the department had reached such a decision.

Married Socialite

Tancous, 26, is under indictment here on charges that he stole $4,500 worth of paintings last summer from the home of former Undersecretary of State Sumner Welles. The paintings were recovered later.

Posing as Prince Otto Wilhelm Hohenzollern, Tancous married New Orleans socialite Virginia Kirk, last Hallowe'en. He later fled to Mexico City.

A Justice department spokesman said that the decision not to seek his extradition was prompted by the FBI's discovery that he is not a citizen.

Extradition Right Refused

Although the government has the right to extradite aliens from Mexico, he said, officials here decided it would be better simply to keep him out of this country forever.

"If he were brought back and convicted," this spokesman said, "we would then have difficulty in deporting him. He would then be a convicted felon and no country would take him."

The indictment will not be dismissed, it was said, and Tancous would be subject to arrest if he got back into the United States, despite the ban on the immigration service.

French West Africa will have a palm-oil plant, near water and rail transport, at Auramkow, in a large palm tree area.

Winner Of Friendly Poker Game Keeps Losing After Impromptu Session Ends

SAN PEDRO, Calif., Dec. 17 (AP)—You never know what a friendly little poker game may lead to

George Waters told police yesterday that:

He won $1,600 from one Frank Billings in an impromptu poker session. Billings paid him with a $2,400 check, for which Waters forked over $400 in cash and a $400 check. But Billings' check bounced.

Waters went looking for Billings, found him on a street and asked what he was going to do about the check. Said Billings:

"Why, there's nothing wrong with that check. Lemme borrow your car and I'll go to the bank right now and get your money."

Reported Waters to police: He'd now like to find his $400, the $400 check, his new automobile—and Billings.

Diplomat's Widow Teaches Women How To Make Friends For U. S. In Foreign Lands

By MARTHA KEARNEY
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—The girl behind the girl behind the teacups in American diplomacy is a very gracious and charming widow named Romaine Alling.

Mrs. Alling is responsible for teaching women how best to make friends and influence people on behalf of the United States while they are stationed in faraway foreign posts.

As advisor to the State Department Foreign Service institute she gives invaluable tips to such feminine diplomats as Mrs. Eugenie Anderson, the new American ambassador to Denmark.

Advises On Clothes

She is also the beloved instructor of the young wives of State department officials going abroad on their first foreign assignments.

Mrs. Alling, a tall and willowy brunette with gray flecks in her dark hair, gives advice on a wide variety of subjects including how to travel abroad with a baby and how to keep servants.

She also tells young wives of foreign service officers what clothes they should pack for their new posts and how to entertain the people they will meet there.

While she is advising them on these practical matters, she also impresses on them deeply that they are representatives of the United States abroad and that their every act as such will be weighed in the balance.

Mrs. Alling's husband, the late Paul Alling, was a veteran diplomat. He joined the State department foreign service after his discharge from the armed forces as a lieutenant after the first world war.

Later he became an expert on Far Eastern affairs and was recalled to the United States in 1947 to serve at the United Nations general assembly which was then debating the fate of Palestine.

He was appointed the first United States ambassador to the newly-created nation of Pakistan after that but barely got to Pakistan when he was taken ill.

He died shortly after returning to America for treatment.

Mrs. Alling is the mother of two daughters—Constance and Anne. Constance is now serving in the State department's division of southeast affairs where her father achieved such notable distinction.

Anne Alling, the younger daughter, is recovering in Washington from an attack of polio.

Mrs. Alling gives many teas in her home to demonstrate to young wives how such entertaining can be accomplished simply yet correctly.

Her most recent "pupils" are wives of a large group of young men who will soon go to Germany as government officials pending appointment in the foreign service of the United States.

Mrs. Alling's principal job is to train these young women to counteract the unfavorable effect some American wives have had in occupied Germany.

With many years of experience behind her, Romaine Alling views her job quite tranquilly.

She feels that the young women she is advising are the best possible ambassadors of democracy abroad—whether they hold diplomatic rank themselves or not.

In fact, she feels that the ambassador's wife may often be a more important influence in world affairs than the ambassador himself.

Light gases, which are building blocks for such products as antifreeze, fertilizers and margarine, may become cheaper and more plentiful as a result of a new method of petroleum gas separation, known as hypersorption.

Don't Be Beastly To Germans, Occupation Forces Instructed

By J. J. MEEHAN
United Press Staff Writer

FRANKFURT, Germany, Dec. 17 — Anglo-American officials in Germany are humming snatches of a Noel Coward melody today, but to a tune the composer never wrote and in a mood he never intended.

"Let us not be beastly to the Hun!"

In the sarcastic war-time tune the British composer lashed his fellow countrymen for policies that permitted Germany to re-arm during the two great wars.

Coward's song, published when Nazi U-boats were trying to destroy Britain's lifeline across the Atlantic, was dotted with sarcastic phrases.

"Let us not be beastly to the Hun," the song went. "Let's build his bloody fleet for him."

But a countryman of Coward's was the most recent top Western official to repeat the Coward lyrics, without the Coward sarcasm.

Warning Issued

Britain's high commissioner, Sir Brian Robertson, reversing the propaganda that as a war-time general he helped pass on to British troops, said the British were too "arrogant" to Germans.

He warned the civil servants who work for him to stop being beastly to Germans.

"From now on we must get closer to the Germans," the commissioner asserted in a 45-minute lecture at Hamburg. "It means that we have to treat them with respect."

Robertson was repeating what has become official Western policy here, accentuated by the change-over from military government to high commission rule and the arrival of U. S. High Commissioner John J. McCloy.

McCloy himself sounded the keynote for Americans when, in unconscious imitation of the first public utterance of Coward's words, he mounted a stage where a dance band usually plays and told Americans to fraternize with the nation they were forbidden to talk to four years ago.

Policy Takes Hold

"I think it may, with great force and truth be said," McCloy asserted, "that rather early in her history Germany simply took the wrong turn.

"I cannot believe the Germans as a whole will ever again be so unutterably stupid as to combine complacency and romantic pride in such a measure as again to tolerate Nazism."

The policy set at the top is already filtering down through "channels."

A woman who still remembers the days when combat GIs posted the famous "we come as conquerors" victory proclamation signed by Gen. Eisenhower on practically every wall still standing in Germany, said some American housewives recently were handed an official note suggesting they learn to speak German—"to earn German respect."

Britain's 5,000,000th telephone was installed on a 16th-century Kent farm.

Surprise Testimony May End Couple's Seven-Year Silence And Divorce Suit

ST. PAUL, Dec. 17. (INS)—Surprise testimony by a character witness today brought the possibility of an end to a married couple's seven-year silence and a halt to their divorce proceedings.

Mrs. Marie Fastner, 57, testified that she received an anonymous letter in 1941 charging that her husband Fred, 53, was "stepping out."

The couple argued hotly over the accusation and then began the long silence. The Fastner's five grown children acted as intermediaries when conversation was necessary.

Similar Writings Noted

The trial brought no evidence of infidelity—only two accusing letters. The Fasteners glowered sullenly and silently at each other.

Then Judge Robert F. Rensch noted a similarity in the writing of Mrs. Irene Boesel, a character witness for the husband, and that in the "poison pen" letters.

Under questioning, Mrs. Boesel admitted authorship of the letters, but said she could give no reason. She declared there had been no foundation for her charges.

Judge Rensch halted the trial and urged the couple to effect a reconciliation.

Canada's Mackenzie King Will Spend 75th Birthday At Home

OTTAWA, Dec. 17. (AP)—Former Prime Minister Mackenzie King celebrates his 75th birthday today and plans to spend the day quietly at his city residence, Laurier house.

King told reporters his memoirs are not progressing very rapidly because he is easily fatigued.

"I have been arranging and classifying," he said, "and I believe I know what the public would like me to refer to and what might be helpful to others."

Gas Wipes Out Five In Family

SCRANTON, Pa., Dec. 17 (AP)—Deadly coal gas seeped through a small home undetected yesterday killing a 29-year-old mother and her four children, aged five months to six years.

Police described it as the worst single family tragedy in Scranton history.

Dead were Mrs. John Simon, a French war bride, and her children; Michael, 6; Francis Louis, 3; Jacqueline, 1, and Teddy, five months.

Jacqueline was to have celebrated her second birthday Monday.

Found By Father

The bodies were found by the husband and father when he returned from work.

Dr. Paul E. Kubasko, Lackawanna county coroner, said coal gas escaped from a defective choker in the basement of the home. The victims were asphyxiated.

The mother was found in bed with her two daughters. Michael was in another room and the infant in a third room.

Dallas Hotels Invite Soldiers For Christmas Eve Celebration

DALLAS, Dec. 17 (AP)—Any enlisted man in the armed forces stationed in the Dallas area has an invitation to spend Christmas eve in a Dallas hotel—for free.

The invitation was issued yesterday by the Dallas Hotel association. H. H. Anderson, association president, said his group did not want any soldier to be lonely on the night before Christmas.

RED LIGHTS FOR CATHEDRAL

SALISBURY, England (AP)—This city's 13th century cathedral is going to be lit up like a Christmas tree. Eight red lights will be placed on the cathedral's 404-foot spire, the tallest in England, to warn airplanes to keep their distance.

Northwest Dawson Prospector Appears Headed For Plugging

Reagon J. Carraway No. 1 Loe, northwest Dawson county prospector, seven miles northwest of Lamesa, and in the northwest corner of lot 12, league 3, Taylor County School Land survey, and in the Mungerville area, was shut down for orders at the time this report was prepared.

After drilling to 10,005 feet in lime and shale, the project has tested all the way back up the hole to 9,100 feet, and has shown only salt water with slight shows of oil and gas extremely light signs of oil.

Operator is now considering making one more test at about 7,400-7,500 feet in the Spraberry sandy lime of the middle Permian.

That interval logged some small shows of oil and gas in the drilling samples, but no free oil was developed when the zone was drillstem tested.

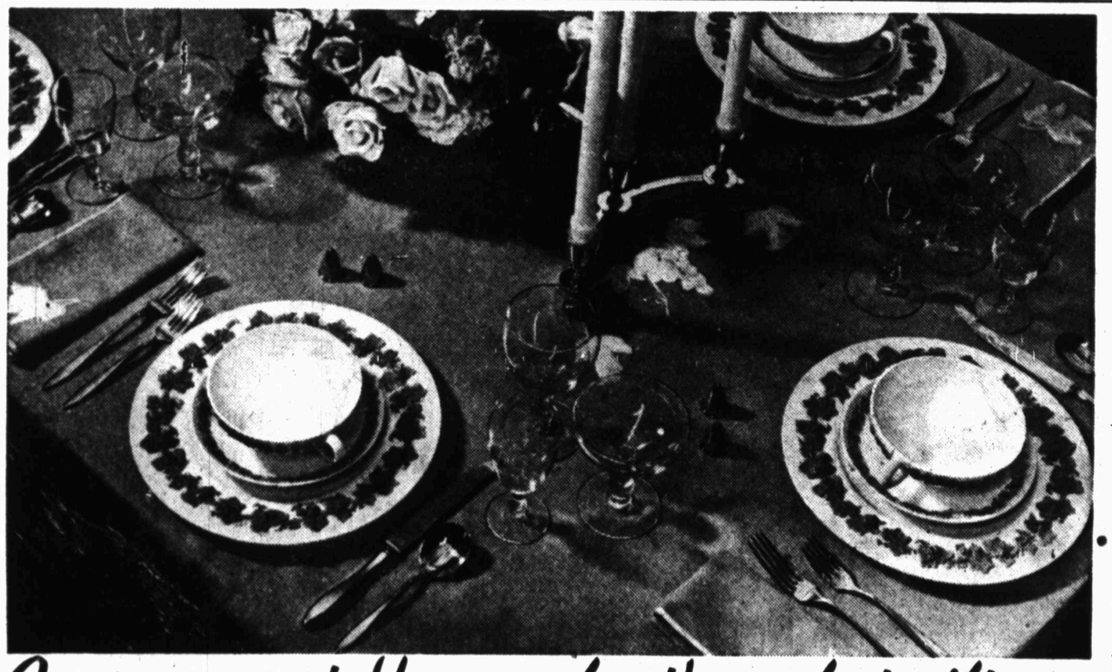

It appeared at the time this report was prepared that the venture would likely be listed as a plugged and abandoned failure before the end of another week.

ACTIONS AND EVENTS PUT MANY IN HEADLINES

People Of Texas Experienced Sorrow, Happiness In 1940's

By WILBUR MARTIN
Associated Press Staff Writer

The people of Texas paired ingenuity and ambition with disappointment and confusion in the fantastic Forties.

They worked hard and fought hard during the war years; they gambled on new ideas and a new way of life in the years after.

Three-quarters of a million men and women served in the armed forces. Most came home.

They came home to find the big pay check of war industries a thing of the past and to find, once again, that the individual guided his own destiny.

Some individuals made bold headlines. Some by their actions, others by events.

Texas City Disaster

One event was the Texas City disaster of April 16-17, 1947. Here more than 500 persons were killed or unaccounted for in the series of blasts and fires that ripped the little industrial city's waterfront. More than 3,000 were injured.

A French freighter, the SS Grandcamp, carrying as part of its cargo ammonium nitrate, caught fire. On the morning of April 16, it blew up. From this stemmed other fires and blasts and another ship explosion, that of the SS High Flyer. It, too, carried ammonium nitrate.

Texas City's disaster was part of the fantastic forties. And the people were there because of them. Industry, much of it born of war, stayed in peace.

Texarkana In Fear

There were other events that carried violent death. Traffic accidents killed 1,757 persons in 1940; 1,979 in 1941; 1,316 in 1942; 1,179 in 1943; 1,373 in 1944; 1,517 in 1945; 1,959 in 1946; 1,947 in 1947; 2,059 in 1948.

The Texarkana Phantom made headlines by his action. A sex fiend who struck in the dark, he killed five persons.

Texarkana lived in fear for weeks. Polly Ann Moore, 17, and Richard Griffin, 29, were parked on a lonely road near Texarkana on March 29, 1946. They were shot to death.

The Phantom struck again three weeks later. Betty Joe Booker, 15, and Paul Martin, 17, were killed under similar circumstances.

On May 3, a bullet fired from outside the home of Virgil Sparks killed him. His wife was shot trying to telephone police. But she escaped as the Phantom ripped open a screen door to get into the house.

Phantom Still Unknown

Who was the Texarkana phantom? No one knows. H. B. Tennison, 17, of Texarkana, Ark., left a suicide note in his room at the University of Arkansas on Nov. 5, 1948. He claimed he was the phantom. But there was no proof.

The explosive personality that was W. Lee O'Daniel stumped the state to win a special election to the U. S. Senate to succeed Morris Sheppard who died in 1941. O'Daniel defeated Lyndon B. Johnson by a narrow margin. Later, he defeated James V. Allred for a full term.

Johnson won the Senate post held by O'Daniel when the one-time flour salesman did not choose to run a second time. In 1948 Johnson defeated Coke R. Stevenson by 87 votes in the second democratic primary. It was the bitterest election in Texas history and from it stemmed charges of fraud and a series of court battles. The U. S. Senate seated Johnson. He is now serving.

Jester Defeated Rainey

Another election brought Beauford Jester the governorship. He defeated Homer Price Rainey, ousted University of Texas president. Earlier this year, shortly after starting his second term of office, Jester died in a pullman berth on a train en route to Houston.

Another man died in Texas this year. He was Walter C. Short, Major General, U. S. Army (retired). He was the commander of Army Forces at Pearl Harbor on Dec. 7, 1941.

Short retired and was later charged with "dereliction of duty."

After the war, for the first time, he told his story. He told it to a Congressional committee that found his actions before the surprise bombing "errors of judgment and not derelictions of duty."

Short, who came to Dallas to end his years, claimed the War Department singled him out as the "scrapegoat of the disaster."

"My conscience is clear," he said after the hearing. He said he believed history would absolve him from any blame.

Thornton Killers Sought

History touched many Texans because of Pearl Harbor. More than 30 received the medal of honor, the nation's highest award for valor. And a Farmersville boy, Audie Murphy, became the most decorated soldier of World War II.

But 15,764 Texans died while serving in the army, and 3,023 while serving in other services.

Violence projected many people into prominance. Tribute and honor did the same for many others.

Oil well fire fighter W. A. (Tex) Thornton was found dead in an Amarillo tourist cabin this year. A mysterious couple is still sought.

Arthur Clayton Hester was sentenced to a long prison term for the bludgeon slaying of his guardian, Dr. John Lord, Texas Christian University dean. Testimony at the trial was the most sordid of 1949.

Buster Northern was electrocuted. He was the central figure in a celebrated court ruling that a first charge of murder did not say a woman was stomped to death by his "feet."

Rayburn Honored

Keith Peterson, 21, son of well-to-do parents, shot and killed in Dallas the girl who spurned his love.

"I'm not sorry I killed her," he said. "I'd do it again."

He was adjudged insane.

Honors went to Sam Rayburn of Bonham, elected speaker in Congress during the forties; to Roy Baker of Sherman, named president of the Young Democratic Clubs of America; John Ben Sheppard, Gladewater, president of the National Junior Chamber of Commerce; Burris C. Jackson, Hillsboro, president of the National Postmasters Association; Perry Brown, Beaumont, American Legion National Commander; Will Clayton, Houston under secretary of state; Jesse Jones, Houston, secretary of commerce, head of the Reconstruction Finance corporation; Tom Clark, U. S. attorney general and Supreme Court justice; Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby, Houston, first commander of the Women's Army Corps.

There were others, many others.

There were some you remember for their deeds. Like Mrs. Amelia Anthony, who in 1949 founded in West Texas a "Girlstown."

There were some you remember by circumstances. Like Frank Grandstaff, life term prisoner in Tennessee. He composed a cantata about "Big Spring" in solitary and in 1949 was given a six-day furlough to hear it played during that West Texas' town's centennial.

The people found the Forties fantastic because of prices, weather, shortages, and a thousand and one other events that followed day by day, month by month, year by year.

And now they face the Fifties.

University Of Houston Student Indicted For Murder Of Grocer

GALVESTON, Dec. 17 (AP) — James Madison Turner 3rd, 26, University of Houston student, was indicted yesterday in the April 4 shooting of Marvin L. Clark, a local grocery store owner.

Clark was shot to death in front of his home in what police said was a holdup.

Turner was arrested at the home of his parents in Texas City Nov. 25.

B-29 Bomber Parts Found Useful For Peace Purposes

SEATTLE, Wash., Dec. 17 (U.P.)— At least one surplus item from World War II has adapted itself to all kinds of civilian uses.

Take the post-war life of a B-29 bomb blister, for instance.

Last winter, dozens of children used the big half-bowls to coast down the snow-covered first too at the Broadmoor Golf course here.

Then some enterprising adults appropriated it for use as a punch bowl at various house parties.

In the fall, the Epiphany [illegible] ladies took it over to serve as a "grab-bowl" for the children [illegible] church bazaar.

Hoover Stand Is Criticized

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17 (AP)—Signs of dissension appeared today in the citizens committee organized to plug for the Hoover commission's government reorganization plans.

Dewey Anderson, head of the Public Affairs institute, a privately financed research group, announced yesterday that he has quit the citizens committee for the Hoover report because former President Hoover's thinking is 'out of date."

"No American liberal worth his salt has a place on this committee," Anderson said.

He said that the former president "tried to commit us to a set of principles that is anathema to every new dealer and fair dealer."

He based his criticism on a speech Hoover made Monday night before the committee.

Taxation Level Cited

In his speech, Hoover said rising federal costs may loose "two Frankensteins on the land—higher taxes and inflation." He added that economists report taxation beyond 25 per cent of national income brings disaster, yet federal and state taxation now exceeds 30 per cent.

Anderson interpreted this as advocating "a limited government, a ceiling on public expenditures." If this line were followed, he said, we couldn't have a decent road system or social security.

The citizens committee for the Hoover report was organized to support the recommendations submitted to Congress by a bipartisan commission headed by Hoover.

Anderson, a former member of the California state legislature, was a California budge director in 1938 and state administrator of unemployment relief in 1939. He came here in 1940 as executive secretary of the Temporary National Economic committee, and has written books on taxes and government.

Loss Of Deer And Antelope Herds Is Worrying Wyoming

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Dec. 17 (AP)—Stricter hunting regulations next year appear likely as surveys show that Wyoming's deer and antelope suffered far greater losses in last winter's blizzards than was believed earlier. The great antelope herds of the Red Desert were almost eliminated.

Lester Bagley, state game and fish commissioner, said the deer loss was "excessive" and that the antelope loss was 28 per cent, or 16,000 head—60 per cent more than early estimates.

Had the true story been known last May when the hunting seasons were set, Bagley said, the commission probably would have maintained a stricter control over hunting in the upper Platte area.

Liquor Ads Set As Target Again

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17. (AP)—A new drive against liquor advertising will open up soon after Congress convenes next month.

The Senate commerce committee has set hearings for January 12 and 13 on a bill to bar interstate transportation and radio broadcast of liquor advertising.

The measure, by Senator Langer (R-ND) would make unlawful the transportation between states of newspapers, periodicals, news reels, photographic film or records advertising liquor, beer or wine.

Also banned would be radio broadcasts and interstate mailing of letters, postal cards and pamphlets dealing with liquor ads.

Violators of the proposed law could be fined from $100 to $1,000, and jailed for between six months and a year.

Second Attack On Industry

Edward Jarrett, committee clerk who made public the dates of the hearings, said temperance groups probably will be the first witnesses. Representatives of the liquor, wine and brewing industries, publishers, and the union of international brewery workers also are expected to appear, he told a reporter.

Jarrett said a list of individual witnesses has not yet been compiled.

Hearings on a similar measure—by former Senator Capper (R-Kans)—were held by the Senate commerce committee of the 80th Congress in 1947 and 1948.

The Capper bill was tabled with a recommendation that Senator Johnson (D-Colo), now committee chairman, and the late Senator Reed (R-Kans) draft alternative proposals.

Johnson and Reed prepared substitutes bills which dropped the ban against interstate circulation of liquor advertising, but which would have restricted its form.

The substitute bills were defeated in committee by a vote of eight to six.

PROGRAM AT 8:15 IS FREE

Christmas Concert Set Monday Night

Four of the most outstanding musical groups on the South Plains will be heard in the seventh annual Christmas Concert presented by the Texas Technological college department of music at 8:15 p. m. Monday in the Lubbock High school auditorium. Admission is free.

The Tech concert band and Men's Glee club, two groups with already well-established names throughout the Southwest, will be joined in the concert by the Campusaires and the Tech choir, both directed by Dr. Gene Hemmle, new head of the department, making his Lubbock debut.

Highlight Of Program

Highlight of the night's program will be a rendition by the Concert band, directed by Prof. D. O. Wiley, of an original arrangement by Pete Wiley, entitled "Christmas Fantasy." The arranger is the son of Prof. Wiley and a former student of Tech, now studying music at the University of Texas, Dr. Hemmle said.

First curtain Monday night will go up on the Men's Glee club under direction of Richard Richards, singing "Lo, How a Rose E'er Blooming," "In Dulci Jubilo" and "Angels O'er the Fields Were Flying." It will be followed by the Tech choir rendering three well-known negro spirituals, including "Dry Bones," "Soonah Will Be Done" and "Set Down, Servant."

Folk Songs, Spirituals

The Campusaires, an all-girl chorus, will bring to the audience the folk song and spiritual portion of the concert, singing, "Jesus, Jesus, Rest Your Head," "Waken, Little Shepherd" and "Rise Up, Shepherd, and Foller."

They will be followed by the Tech choir singing once again, giving their version of famous and contemporary Christmas carols. Included will be "O Come, All Ye Faithful," "Carol of the Bells," "Christmas Hymn," "Silent Night," and "Hallelujah Chorus" (from the Messiah).

Band To Take Stage

Wiley's 140-member Concert band will take the stage following intermission to play such selections as "Emblem of Unity March," "Oberon, or Elf King's Oath" by C. M. von Weber, "Symphony No. 6 in B Minor" by Peter I. Tchaikovsky, Short Classics for Band, with arrangements by James R. Gillette, and the Christmas Fantasy by Pete Wiley. Joe L. Haddon is assistant director of the Concert band.

In all, there will be nearly 250 musicians included on the hour and a half program. The concert will be one of the largest ever staged by the Tech music department and marks the beginning of a new program to bring recognition to all the musical organizations and directors on the campus, rather than to each group separately.

Cash Register Drops Gunman

CHICAGO, Dec. 17. (U.P.) — A gunman who attempted to hold up a saloon was killed early today, apparently by a cash register that dropped on his head as he fell with a detective's bullet in his shoulder.

The gunman, identified as Frank Kamick, 28, entered the tavern with an unidentified accomplice.

The proprietor, Margaret Aird, was lined up against the bar with about 12 customers, including off-duty detective Martin J. Conroy, 26.

As Kamick opened the cash register to take the receipts, Conroy leaped behind him, drew his service pistol and yelled "duck" to the customers.

Fired Two Shots

Conroy fired two shots as Kamick began whirling to face him. One shot struck Kamick in the shoulder. As he fell with his hand still on the cash drawer, the entire register tumbled off the backbar directly onto his head.

The other bandit fled.

Kamick was dead when police surgeons examined him. They said it appeared that he was killed by the falling cash register since Conroy's bullet struck him in the right shoulder and apparently did not pierce any vital organs.

Sir Stafford Cripps Thanks Ballet Troupe For Dollar-Earning Tour Of U. S., Canada

LONDON, Dec. 17 (AP)—Britain's austere chancellor of the exchequer, Sir Stafford Cripps, welcomed home the triumphant Sadler's Wells ballet beauties last night and thanked them for all the pretty pirouettes they had turned into good U. S. dollars.

Cripps spoke at a party held for them at the Covent Garden Opera house, after their return from a successful tour in The United States and Canada.

"Some people might imagine our American cousins are only interested in the almighty dollar," he remarked. "I know they can be most discriminating and enthusiastic about other matters, too."

But Sir Stafford was not bashful about the estimated $75,000 the troupe earned in the U. S.

Good Dollar Earner

"What has also pleased me as a ballet lover is that the ballet should have turned out to have, amongst all its other excellent qualities, that of a first-class dollar earner," he said.

"You have no idea what pride it has aroused in the fastnesses of the treasury chambers. They are much more civilized than you would ever guess."

David Webster, general administrator of the Covent Garden trust which runs the ballet, said the company might make another tour to America next year.

"Requests to go back have been received," Webster declared, "and maybe we shall be doing this next year."

New Oyster Breeding Ground Discovered

BOUZIGUES, France, Dec. 17 (AP) — The discovery that oysters grow four times faster in a saltlake off the Mediterranean than they do on Atlantic ocean breeding grounds has led to a thriving new industry here.

Four hundred fishermen, linked in a cooperative, have started harvesting the 1949 oyster crop and by April they hope to exceed their 1948 total of 100,000 tons.

The salty basin of Thau, a deep but mud-shored inlet of the Mediterranean, seems to be particularly rich in the tiny animacule organisms on which the oyster lives. Each year thousands of marenne oysters are shipped from the Atlantic breeding grounds of Arcachon to this village for the vital stages of their growth. They achieve in less than one year a growth their less lucky fellows take four years to achieve at Arcachon. Then they are shipped back to Arcachon, where they are again submerged in the Atlantic to get the green color which French gourmets require of their marennes.

Mechanic's Mistake Gives Free Repair Job On Motorist's Auto

MUSCATINE, Ia., Dec. 17 (U.P.)—Motorist Henry Blohm got a surprise Christmas gift from an automobile mechanic who really had no intention of giving it to him.

Blohm called police yesterday and told them his car had been stolen from an alley. Police found it in a garage. A mechanic was working on it.

The mechanic told officers that a man had left his keys at the garage with instructions for the mechanic to pick it up and repair it.

Police, who informed him that he had just performed a free repair job on the wrong car, said they "thought it best" to withhold the mechanic's name.

THE QUESTION

In what ways have the people of Lubbock made you feel a part of the community? (All answering this question are stationed at Reese Air Force base).

THE ANSWERS

S/SGT. GUY McDANIEL, 2311 Fourteenth, administrative specialist public information office: "All of the people that we have come in contact with since we have been here have been unusually friendly. They have offered help to my wife in sopping like telling her where she can get the best buys and the best bargains."

FIRST LT. RAYMOND L. CHELSEA, 2817 N. First, assistant statistical service officer: "They have made us feel a part of the community first of all by being so friendly; from our landlord on down to our grocer. For example, we would make friends at a football game and two weeks later the people would remember us. In the stores and banks, the people have extended their service to us just as if we had lived here for a long time."

S/SGT. LOUIS H. GEWIN, 2106 Ninth, chief clerk, officers classification: "I've got about as nice a landlord as anybody in the city of Lubbock. He is always doing something to help me. I've been treated mighty nice in the stores, too. I think that people have gone out of their way to be nice to me here."

DRUGGIST IS KILLED

LLANO, Dec. 17 (AP)—Funeral services are scheduled here today for Orville Buttery, sr., 52, prominent local druggist, killed in an automobile accident near Austin Thursday night.

M/SGT. JOHN H. COBB, 1923 Sixth, chief clerk, military personnel: "The business people especially have been awfully nice. They have tried to help us in any way that they can. The people of Lubbock have continually invited us to their social activities, too. They have also been very sincere in helping us to obtain housing which is an important factor."

S/SGT. RUSSELL WENZLICK Carlisle, clerk, post fund department: "People have made me feel a part of the community by being friendly and courteous. An organization that I belonged to asked me to affiliate locally here. The stores are all willing to extend credit if necessary."

T/SGT. IRA A. THORLE, Route 5, assistant to Sgt. Major: "I've found that the people here are just about the nicest bunch of people I've ever met. As individuals they are all very nice, too. The only thing I don't like about them is the way they drive."

WILDCAT COMPLETED AS PRODUCER

Gaines County Is Most Active Area For New Oil Exploration

Gaines county continues to be the most active area on the South Plains on important new oil industry developments.

A wildcat to drill 5,100 feet to explore into the San Andres-Permian lime is to start drilling in the central-east sector of the county at once.

A new discovery for commercial production from both the Devonian and from the Ellenburger, in central-south Gaines county has been officially completed from the upper of the two producing zones and will take the official potential test from the lower horizon early in the week.

East Of Seminole

The new wildcat in Gaines county is to be Edward C. Lawson of Tulsa, Okla., and H. E. Chiles, jr., of Midland, No. 1 Woolsey and Davies. It will be located about 25 miles east of Seminole, and approximately five miles southeast of the Cedar Lake field, which produces from the San Andres-Permian, the formation to which the Lawson and Chiles prospector is contracted.

The drillsite is 440 feet from south and east lines of labor 16, league 283, Schleicher County School Land survey.

Drilling with rotary tools is to begin immediately.

Wildcat Brought In

Samedan Oil corporation and Anderson Brothers No. 1-E-A Andrews, wildcat discovery from the Devonian and from the Ellenburger in central-south Gaines county, about 12 miles south and a little west of Seminole, made 253 barrels of pipe line oil in 24 hours, flowing through a 14/64th choke, from the Devonian through perforations in the casing at 10,056-070 feet, on the official Railroad Commission potential test. Flowing tubing pressure was 530 pounds. That interval had been treated with acid. The Devonian section had previously flowed an average of 60 barrels of clean oil per hour, through open two-inch tubing.

Deep Well Pushed

The operators completed it through the small choke in order to conserve the gas and the flowing pressures.

The bridging plug which had been set in the casing between the Devonian and the Ellenburger has been drilled out, and operator was to run tubing to the bottom and test the Ellenburger through perforations in the casing at 10,900-960 feet.

That horizon had flowed an average of seven barrels of clean oil per hour, for an extended period on preliminary tests.

The well will be finally finished to produce from the zone by the end of the next week and it will then be put on regular production.

It is located on the northwest side of the Robertson field, which produces from the middle and lower Permian lime above 8,000 feet. The drillsite is 660 feet from north and west lines of section 19, block A-24, psl survey.

Forest Oil corporation and Anderson-Pritchard Oil corporation No. 1-A Parmer County School Land fee, deep wildcat in southeast Gaines county, about 25 miles southeast of Seminole, and 860 feet from west and 660 feet from south lines of labor 12, league 317, Parmer County School Land survey, had reached 12,539 feet in lower Mississippian lime, and was drilling deeper.

15,000 Foot Set

This exploration is contracted to dig to at least 15,000 feet—if it is necessary to go that deep, to find and test the Ellenburger.

It has already shown for a discovery of oil and gas from the Mississippian section between 12,045 feet and 12,350 feet.

Considerable amount of free oil, and good shows of gas were developed in that horizon. The section carrying the petroleum is extra soft. The zone was drillstem tested, but up to now no production tests have been undertaken on the stratum.

The full producing ability of the 12,045-350 foot section will be thoroughly tested after the prospector has completed its contract of exploring to the Ellenburger.

Mid-Continent Petroleum corporation No. 1 Nichols, small discovery from the Clear Fork of the Permian in central-west Gaines county, about 25 miles west of Seminole, installing a pump, to use in testing, and producing the development.

It has shown for some sort of production from the section at 6,390-6,446 feet. That interval has been treated with acid.

Some water has been produced along with the oil which has been swabbed out of No. 1 Nichols. It will be finished as a small pumping producer, and field opener.

It is located 660 feet from north and west lines of section 7, block A-10, psl survey.

Amerada Petroleum corporation No. 1 Breckon, central-west Gaines wildcat to 6,500 feet, located one and one-quarter miles northwest of the Mid-Continent No. 1 Nichols, and 467 feet from south and 1,113 feet from east lines of section 25, block A-9, psl survey, had reached 5,595 feet, and was drilling ahead in lime.

Drilling Continues On Cochran Well; Dickens Wildcat Plugged

In central-south Cochran county, Texas Pacific Coal & Oil company No. 5-D Edwards, possible discovery from the Mississipion lime, on the outskirts of the Landon multi-pay field, had reached 10,992 feet in lime, and was drilling deeper to try to find and test the Devonian.

This project is 1,650 feet from north and 1,579 feet from west lines of section 12, block L, psl survey.

Union Oil Company of California No. 1 Elliott, deep wildcat in southwest Dickens county, five and one-half miles southwest of Spur, and 1,990 feet from north and 2,052 feet from east lines of section 177, block 1, H&GN survey, had been plugged and abandoned on a total depth of 8,117 feet in solid granite. It found no possibilities of commercial oil or gas production.

The exploration topped the Ellenburger at 8,054 feet and went out of that formation into granite wash at 8,106 feet. The solid granite was found at 8,115 feet. The Ellenburger did not show any signs of oil, gas or water.

Test Scheduled On Kent County Well

Ryan, Hays and Burke, No. 1 Kenny, northwest Kent county wildcat, 10 miles southwest of Spur, and 660 feet from south and west lines of the southeast quarter of section 47, block 2, H&GN survey, had progressed below 4,755 feet in lime and shale, and was continuing to drill deeper.

It is contracted to dig to 7,500 feet to test into the Canyon reef lime of the Pennsylvanian.

Drilling and Exploration Company, Inc., No. 1 Connell, southwest Kent county wildcat, two miles southeast of Polar, and 660 feet from north and east lines of section 19, block 5, H&GN survey, had reached 6,775 feet in lime and shale, and was making more hole. It is contracted to go to 7,200 feet—if necessary—to test into the Canyon reef lime of the Pennsylvanian.

Chapman & McFarland No. 1 Cogdell, slated 8,000-foot exploration in central-south Kent county, 16 miles north of Snyder, and nine miles north and a little east of the closest completed producers from the Canyon reef on the north side of the North Snyder field, had drilled below 6,634 feet in lime and was due to run a drillstem test to check slight shows of oil and gas which had been shown in the drilling samples.

Oldest Printed Page On Record Exhibited In Gutenberg Museum

Johann Gutenberg, inventor of the printing press, printed two postcard size pages of the "Last Judgment" in 1445. Prof. Dr. Ruppel, director of the museum, estimated their value at 24,000 D-marks (about $6,000).

The museum also contains the famous Gutenberg Bible, hand printed by Gutenberg from 1452 to 1455, which is the highest valued book in the world. It is valued at 1,000,000 D-marks (about $240,000) and was exhibited in the Congressional Library in Washington, D. C.

Other famous books in the museum include the handwritten Bible of Charlemagne, the Psalterium" which was finished by Gutenberg in 1459, and the illustrated history Bible of Dibold Lauber, dating back to 1420.

Terry Wildcat Makes Showing

Stanolind Oil & Gas Company No. 1 Sawyer, five miles south of Brownfield, and 1,980 feet from west and 660 feet from south lines of section 123, block T, D&-WRR survey, had reached 6,967 feet in middle Permian lime, and was continuing to drill deeper.

Contract on this development calls for it to go to at least 9,900 feet to investigate into the Pennsylvania lime.

Tide Water Associated Oil company, and associates No. 1 Nystel, indicated discovery for commercial production from the Fusselman section of the Silurian in southeast Terry county had reached 11,899 feet in an unidentified dolomite, which is probably the Ellenburger, and was drilling deeper.

Free Oil Shown

Operator likely will stop and run a drillstem test on the current formation early in the week.

This wildcat showed free oil on drillstem tests in the Fusselman zone of the Silurian from 11,469 feet to 11,595 feet.

The oil did not flow from that horizon during the test—but interested operators think that an acid wash job would clean the pay horizon up to when it likely will flow oil and commercial amounts.

This exploration is said to be at least 3,100 feet high, on the top of the Montoya, the upper member of the Ordovician, to the same marker in Stanolind Oil & Gas company No. 15 American Warehouse, a deep dry hole, about 10 miles to the south in the Cedar Lake region of northeast Gaines county

This prospective new field opener is 14 miles south and east of Brownfield, four miles east of the shallow Adair-San Andres field, 660 feet from north and west lines of section 9, block C-38, psl survey.

COVERED MORE GROUND

The great ice-sheets of the glacial periods reached lower latitudes in North America than anywhere else on earth, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Commercial Output Indicated In Yoakum

Honolulu Oil Corporation No. 1 Paul Cobb, central-east Yoakum county wildcat has indicated the discovery of commercial oil and gas production from the Glorieta zone of the middle Permian between 6,031 feet and 6,144 feet, when it had an oil fill up of approximately eight barrels per hour, natural, with no water, had drilled below 8,380 feet in lime and shale, and is drilling deep.

This exploration is scheduled to drill through the entire Permian section, and it may be carried below that formation.

Operator has recently applied to the Railroad Commission of Texas for a supplemental permit to drill to at least 12,000 feet—if it should decide to carry the venture that far. However, it is not considered likely that it will be necessary to go that deep to test through the Permian.

During the past week the prospector logged some slight shows of oil and gas in the Permian sections between 7,696 feet and 8,070 feet.

None of those shows developed any free oil. However, some observers think that they might make oil and gas in commercial amounts if the formations were treated with acid.

Eire's leather industry is threatened with a serious shortage of hides.

Prospector In Borden Sought

In northwest Borden county, 12 miles northwest of Gail, and 660 feet from north and west lines of the east half of the northeast quarter of section 22, block 32, EL&RR survey, T-6-N, Thomas W. Doswell and associates No. 1 Cantrill, had reached 9,852 feet in the Ellenburger lime and was making more hole.

This venture has just entered the Ellenburger. The producing ability of that horizon should be determined during the next week.

Robert S. Brennand, jr., of Midland, No. 1 Everetts, central Borden county wildcat to 9,500 feet, to explore into the Ellenburger, had reached 8,190 feet in lime and shale, in the Pennsylvanian reef and was making more hole.

Test Planned In Garza

It is 660 feet from north and west lines of section 7, block 31, TP survey, T-4-N. The project developed salt water, with no show of oil or gas in the Pennsylvanian reef at 8,128-88 feet. None of the formations which have been penetrated up to now have shown any possibilities of oil or gas production.

Kenneth A. Meredith is to drill a 2,600 foot prospector to test the San Andres lime in the Justiceburg area of southeast Garza county, and adjacent to the old, shallow depleted Justiceburg field.

It will be Meredith's No. 1 J. S. Reed, and is located 330 feet from north and west lines of section 117, block 5, H&GN survey.

Iceland is expected to report for this year the fifth successive failure of summer herring fishing.

LIGHT BULB EXPENSIVE DISH

DECATUR, Ind. (U.P.) — Adams county authorities said they hoped no one would emulate Lawrence Sanders, who ate a 10-cent light bulb. Sanders escapade in glass eating cost the county $628. It cost $452 to keep him in a hospital for 26 days and doctors charged $176 for his treatment.

LAST MINUTE SHOPPERS' GUIDE

Six-Hour Japanese Plays Bring Food Cooking Ban In Theaters

By EARNEST HOBERECHT
United Press Staff Writer

TOKYO, Dec. 17 (U.P.)—Japanese audiences don't throw vegetables at the actors. They mix them with rice and eat them during the six-hour performance.

The practice started 75 years ago when plays were somewhat longer. Theatergoers entered at 8 a. m. and stayed until 6 p.m., a 10-hour period which made it necessary to do something about lunch.

Eating and drinking while the play went on was essential. If anyone dashed out to a restaurant he was likely to miss the part where the hero beheads 16 dragons with one swing of his trusty sword.

"The plays in those days," explained an usher at the present-day Imperial Theater, "were too long. Now it is better. Only six hours.

He said the old theaters had the floors divided into four foot squares, surrounded by a low railing. Four people could sit comfortably on a straw mat within the enclosure and still have room for their hibachi.

A hibachi is a Japanese charcoal brazier. Japanese theaters in this post-war period have no heat and theatergoers think with longing of the good old days.

"The hibachi was started when the play started," the usher said. "As players moved about on the stage, the people in the audience warmed up a little sake to drink and cook a bite to eat."

Cooking Forbidden

When the Imperial Theater was opened in 1911, the idea of dozens of people sitting around cooking lunch, and the attendant possibility of carbon monoxide poisoning, was frowned upon and special stalls for lunch time meals were opened.

But today staple food is rationed and theaters cannot meet the demand for food. The people are still not allowed to cook, but they bring hot lunches and the steady click of chop sticks and the clatter of tin lunch boxes fills the air.

Maybe, theatergoers say hopefully, the day will come when they once again can cook as they watch.

American Women Protest Against Shifting Waistlines In Extreme Parisian Fashions

By WILLIAM R. SEARS
United Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 17 (U.P.)—Stylists in Paris have received by now an advisory that American women have drawn the line on fashion extremes, and drawn it at the waistline.

Christian Dior and his colleagues who started the rumpus, have been told in effect:

"You can raise or lower our skirts—you can swell or deflate our hips—you can push our bosoms up, down, right or left—but our waistlines remain around the waist."

The reaction came from American belt manufacturers who are second only to husbands and boy friends in their concern over women's waist lines.

They anticipated a dangerous trend. On the one hand, they feared a return to flapper-style fashions where when you hug a girl around the waist, you are somewhere between the knees and the ankle.

On the other hand, there was a possible trend upward to what they call the Empire belt-line. That serves principally to prevent breathing. And when you're tenderly about to slip a necklace around the lady's neck, you find the belt-line got there first.

It all meant one thing—no belt sales.

Listeners Consulted

A public relations counsel was hired. Over $5,000 in prizes were stuffed into her arms and she hustled over to Nancy Craig, who has a radio network woman's show.

Listeners were exhorted to apply for entries to a new contest. Contestants had to pick which of three styles — low, natural and high — they preferred, and why.

More than 9,000 requests came in. Nearly 2,500 entries were returned.

The score: 11 preferred low, 32 preferred high and the others preferred the "natural." And the industry infers from these results that American women want their belts at the natural belt line just as they want their shoes on their feet.

DOUBLE-CROSSERS TRIP UP

SMITHFIELD, N. C. (U.P.)—A pair of bootleggers double-crossed themselves into jail here. Pretending to be revenue agents, they frightened their partners away from a still. They were making off with the illegal liquor when real officers closed in.

Zoo's Chimp Remains Spinster Unto Death

CHICAGO, Dec. 17 (U.P.)—Maggie, the 18-year-old chimpanzee at Chicago's Lincoln Park Zoo, who preferred to remain a spinster despite her keepers' efforts at playing Cupid, is dead.

She came to the zoo when she was four. As soon as she was old enough to have boy friends, zoo officials fixed up some dates for her with Heinie, a strapping male chimpanzee.

But Maggie somehow never found Heinie romantic.

They there was Freddie. But like Heinie, Maggie just couldn't see that Freddie measured up to her ideas of a husband.

Despite her inability to find happiness with creatures of her own kind, Maggie numbered thousands of humans among her admirers.

LARGE CAR DEMAND STILL SEEN

Auto Makers Expecting Output Of 1950 To Equal This Year's

DETROIT, Dec. 17. (U.P.)—The nation's automobile makers, with business never better, look for 1950 to bring production almost equal to the all-time record year just ending.

With an amazing 6,000,000-vehicle output in 1949 behind them, automotive men believe the demand for new cars is far from satisfied and sales will be about as good as 1949.

Schedules of General Motors, colossus of the industry, call for "as many or perhaps" more cars and trucks in 1950. Other companies are expected to follow suit.

Although government leaders and automotive executives are guardedly cautious about predicting the future, they certainly have no complaints about 1949 business.

Ward's automotive reports, statistical bible of the industry, estimates that 1949 total production will total "well over 6,000,000" vehicles in humming U. S. plants.

October Sales Highest

Despite gloomy forecasts of "market saturation," business increased during the later months. R. L. Polk & Co., automotive statisticians, fixed October as the "almost certain" all-time monthly leader in new car sales. The previous high came in August.

Total output this year was not limited in most cases by what dealers could sell, but what could be turned out. The steel and coal strikes nipped into production during the last quarter, lopping 475,000 vehicles by Ward's estimates.

The industry, fortunate from a labor standpoint this year, faces two 1950 crises when Chrysler and GM contracts expire in May. The million-member CIO United Auto Workers will drive in mid-spring for the unprecedented company-financed pensions it won from Ford in September.

Oddly, the only major walkout of 1949 was caused not by the successful demand on Ford for $100 retirement benefits and a health plan, but by a minor issue—speed of Ford assembly lines in two plants.

Some Wildcat Strikes

The UAW shut down Ford's lifeline, the sprawling River Rouge plant, for 25 days in May over the production standards issue.

Although Ford had the only major strike, a sunburst of brief "wildcat" walkouts harried producers, mainly Chrysler and the Briggs Manufacturing Co., major auto body firm which was shut down on 55 occasions.

GM and Chrysler probably will grant UAW President Walter P. Reuther's pension and welfare demands.

Neither Chrysler nor the union seem particularly worried that their mid-contract negotiations, begun last July, are lagging. GM already has begun talks on "technical phases" of the pension issue. UAW demands are to be "finalized" early in 1950, several months before the General Motors contract expires May 31.

The year saw almost every major auto manufacturer slashing prices and GM twice, timed to coincide with dips in the government cost-of-living index which determines wages of GM workers under the present contract.

Cuts Generally Small

The cuts, however, were relatively small, except in the case of sales-plagued Kaiser-Frazer Corporation, which hopes to stimulate business by bringing out a new model in the Chevrolet-Ford-Plymouth price class.

Kaiser, only firm closed down by lagging sales, borrowed $45,000,000 from the government, partly to finance the new "lighter, cheaper" car.

In view of current labor demands and lack of price changes in new models already brought out, a major unexpected business recession seems to be the only basis for more price-tag reductions in 1950.

C. E. Wilson, president of General Motors, who masterminds production of 50 per cent of American automobiles, probably echoed the feelings of other automotive men when he said:

"The automobile business will still be very good in 1950. The demand created by the lack of production during the war has not been satisfied. The basic market is importantly greater than it was before the war, perhaps as much as 25 per cent. There are millions of worn out cars still on the road today because new ones are not available."

NO MORE HOT SEAT

PRICHARD, Ala. (U.P.)—Prichard firemen no longer get the hot seat. Fire Chief W. E. Dixon has invented a light asbestos screen which the fire fighters use to protect themselves when they have to turn their backs towards the fire.

NLRB WILL CONSIDER EVIDENCE

Battle Underway To Organize Big Du Pont Plant At Orange

By J. CULLEN BROWNING
(Written For The Associated Press)

ORANGE, Dec. 18.—Three giants of labor and industry are dug in here today for a battle over who, if anybody, will become the bargaining agent for employes of one of the nation's few big unorganized industrial plants.

A side issue in the struggle is the question of whether the CIO can gain a foothold in the only major industrial center in Texas where the AFL still reigns completely supreme.

The shooting starts Monday morning at a National Labor Relations board hearing in the county courthouse at Orange.

The NLRB hearing was called for the purpose of taking testimony on the question of whether another bargaining election will be called at the E. I. Du Pont de Nemours company's Sabine river works here.

Unions Voted Down

Evidence will be presented by Du Pont, by four AFL organizations and by one CIO affiliate. All of the testimony will be bundled up and sent to Washington where the NLRB national headquarters will decide what to do about the matter.

Twice previously Du Pont employes at the big Orange plant have voted on the same question and each time they balloted in favor of "no union." The last election was in May of 1947. On that occasion 89 of the workers favored one of three labor unions then seeking recognition and 345 voted to remain unorganized.

But Du Pont's payroll here has grown considerably since the spring of 1947. There are now about 1,800 employes at the plant. Of these, 600 are in the maintenance department, 700 are engaged in production and 500 are listed as holding clerical and supervisory positions.

Nobody is trying to organize the clerical and supervisory employes. But the 1,300 workers holding maintenance and production jobs are the targets of an intensive campaign in which five labor unions are taking part.

Petition For Election

The Orange Metal Trades council, which is made up of 3,000 members in 15 AF of L unions in Orange county, has petitioned NLRB for an election on the question of whether it shall become the bargaining agent for the maintenance employes of Du Pont here.

The CIO Oil Workers International union has petitioned for an election on the question of whether it shall become the bargaining agent for the production workers. And OWIU may amend its petition during the hearing Monday and ask that its issue be broadened to cover the maintenance workers as well.

Since these two petitions were filed with NLRB, three other unions have stepped into the picture. They are the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers and the International Chemical workers, both AFL, and the International Association of Machinists (Ind.).

All three of the latter want to be included on the ballot as prospective bargaining agents for segments of the Du Pont employes in the event an election is held.

Pay Hike Given

The company hasn't stated its position publicly. While the petitions asking for a hearing on the election were being prepared it announced a substantial pay increase for all employes at the plant. The announcement carried the information that the wage hike was "routine and had nothing to do with current efforts to organize the workmen."

Many Du Pont maintenance and production workmen are dues-paying members of labor unions, mostly affiliates of the Orange Metal Trades council. Some few are known to belong to the OWIU. Nearly all of them have at one time been in organized labor.

Reporters, questioning Du Pont workmen here as to why they have remained unorganized, get this answer from most: "We are now receiving vacation time, sick leave and other benefits which we don't believe could ever be written into a union contract and we aren't bothered by work stoppages dug to labor disputes."

But H. B. Clem, business manager for the Orange Metal Trades council, claims that a "substantial majority" of the maintenance workers of Du Pont have appeared voluntarily at his office in recent weeks and signed a petition asking for an election on the question of whether the organization shall become their bargaining agent.

AF Of L In Strong Spot

And an identical claim regarding production employes is made by Harry F. Cochran, CIO organizer who has been maintaining an office here for several months, and by Dan Blanton, field representative for the OWIU.

Clem told reporters last week that the Orange Metal Trades council "did not solicit the position as bargaining agent for any of the Du Pont workers but now that so many of them have asked us to do so, we are going to do our best to carry out their wishes."

Blanton claimed that 1,200 of the Du Pont employes had signed petitions asking for a new bargaining election but didn't say how many of these had signed with the AF of L and how many with the CIO.

Cochran has labored diligently trying to crack the solid AF of L front in Orange county but so far has had a tough time of it.

Every sizable industry in the county already is signed up with the AF of L which has been on the scene during the entire wartime and postwar industrial booms. Only one non-AF of L union operates in the county at present. That is the independent International Association of Machinists.

In adjoining Jefferson county, Tex., and Calacasieu Parish, La., the situation is different. The CIO has an excellent foothold in both and this fact undoubtedly is a consideration in the organization's efforts to move into Orange county.

Ancient Alpine Game Revived In America

VALDESE, N. C., Dec. 17 (AP)—Every Sunday afternoon the sports-minded men of this little village, transplanted from the Alps, gather to play the little known game of boccie.

Boccie is the "national pastime" of these folks who came to the North Carolina mountains from the Alps of France and Italy to escape religious persecution. Nothing is more important than the Sunday games.

The game is played on a hard dirt runway some 80 feet long.

First, the small boccia, a little bigger than a golf ball, is rolled part way down the court. Then the various pairs of contestants try to roll their larger boccie balls close to the boccia. Contestants may knock an opponent's ball away from the boccia, thus gaining a closer lie and a point.

Unlike most American sports, the boccie games are never marred by arguments or disputes. Part of the game is remaining dignified.

"Boccie means to us what baseball, football, horse racing and boxing—all rolled into one—mean to you native Americans," one old Waldensian said. "Our forefathers played boccie in the valleys of Southern France and Northern Italy."

A HOLLYWOOD Column

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 17—Ingrid Bergman's "retirement" must be over already. Her Hollywood agents quietly are offering her services for $150,000 a picture on the theory that she'll be hot box-office again after "Stromboli" is released. There's a story cooking on a hot typewriter at M-G-M to co-star Lana Turner, Ava Gardner and Elizabeth Taylor. Wow! Steve Cochran, who just signed a term contract at Warner Brothers, is slated for a big star buildup. He's playing love scenes now with Joan Crawford in "The Victim" and dating her after dark. Next he goes into "Storm Center" with Ginger Rogers and Doris Day.

HIS OWN WORK

LANCASTER'S stunts in "The Hawk and the Arrow"—reminiscent of Doug Fairbanks, Sr.'s pictures—are confusing. They're so tricky and spectacular that visitors to the set, and even extras, can't believe Lancaster is actually doing them.

Other day Burt was perched precariously at the top of a 25-foot pole, balanced on the chest of his old circus partner, Nick Cravat. One tourist turned to another and said:

"Who's that up on the pole?"

"Burt Lancaster," was the reply.

The tourist snorted and said:

"You can't kid me—that's a stunt man!"

Burt says Cravat is turning in a terrific performance as his mute buddy in the film. It's Cravat's first movie role. Says Burt: "He's great because he's playing it so artlessly and with such intensity."

Now Page rings the chimes for Jane and thumps the garbage can cover for Gertie.

London Power Station Workers Return To Jobs After Walkout

LONDON, Dec. 17 (AP)—Workers at London's Littlebrook power station marched to their posts this morning, ending an unofficial strike that had threatened London's power supplies for five days.

In two other plants workers went back last night and generators were normal by dawn. At a fourth station, where the men walked out Tuesday because the government moved troops into the struck plants, the men had resumed work on Thursday.

The men had left work first over a pay dispute, then refused to return after a settlement when signs were posted calling their return to work "unconditional."

John Agar Has Christmas Presents Ready

Shirley Temple's Ex-Mate In Hollywood To See Baby

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 17 (AP) — Shirley Temple's ex-husband John Agar is back in town, and Shirley's got him—for the holidays anyway. But there could be more than mistletoe in the air.

"I'll be at home with Susan all Christmas Day," said the 21-year-old divorcee. "John is welcome to come over."

"We haven't discussed the time as yet, but I certainly will see the baby on Christmas," Agar said as he stepped from a plane here yesterday, clutching two imported French dolls.

Lacks Main Present

"I've bought the baby (full name: Linda Susan, 22 months) a number of little things, but I still have to pick out her main present," said the 28-year-old actor whom Shirley divorced Dec. 6, while he was on a personal appearance tour.

Reconciliation?

"Maybe if all this furore dies down, it isn't impossible. I sure hope we can get back together again," said Agar before he left Chicago. But when he arrived here he declared:

"I haven't called Shirley since the divorce, nor have I tried to contact her any other way. I won't either, except to make arrangements to see our daughter.

Making Up Soft-Pedaled

"Of course nobody can say what the future brings—so you can't tell what will eventually develop from this."

Shirley also soft-pedaled the idea of kiss-and-make up.

"I don't want to comment on this," she said. "I don't think I should."

Under California law, the couple must wait a year after last Dec. 6—when their interlocutory degree was granted—to receive their final divorce papers.

Agar disclosed he already had sent a number of presents to Susan and Shirley.

He indicated that his headquarters here will be his parents' home in Beverly Hills. But, as his attorney put it, Agar "could go over to Shirley's home every day to see the baby—and probably will as soon as he gets shaved and cleaned up."

What will happen when he sees the baby's mother? That's a question for Santa Claus.

Publicizing Of Worst In Human Nature Is Protested By Briton

LONDON, Dec. 17 (AP) — Dr. Edith Summerskill, a government official, is against freedom to "publicize what is worst in human nature" in movies, plays and novels.

The parliamentary secretary to the ministry of food told a "Mothercraft" exhibit:

"We have, on all sides, people who are prepared to glamorize violence and degeneracy through the cinema, the theater and the novel at the expense of the proper mental development of the children. This is a world problem."

The work was published in 1949, and is being presented for the first time today in Lubbock.

Yant, Bob Schmidt, George Young, Tom Cleveland, David Morton, Tom Ireland, and Tubal Cain.

Mrs. R. C. Douglas, jr., will be organist.

Following the presentation of "The Christmas Story," a fellowship hour will be held in the church fellowship hall. A play, "Christmas Sets the World Singing," will be presented by a group of Texas Tech students under direction of Rev. Wm. F. Rogan.

At 7:30 o'clock tonight, the College Avenue Baptist church will present pageant, "His Star Still Shines," in song and drama.

The drama is under direction of Mrs. Loyd Rickets and music for the presentation will be furnished by the church choir under direction of Robert S. Ramsey.

BIBLE STORY FROM "IN OUR IMAGE"

Jephthah

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the eleventh of a series from the Old Testament. The text is condensed from selections by Houston Harte for the new book, "In Our Image." Illustration by Guy Rowe also from the book.

THE CHILDREN of Ammon passed over Jordan to fight against Judah, and Israel was sore distressed. And the children of Israel cried unto the Lord. And the Lord said, ye have forsaken me, and served other gods: I will deliver you no more. Go and cry unto the gods ye have chosen: let them deliver you in the time of your tribulation.

And the children of Israel said unto the Lord, We have sinned: do unto us whatsoever seemeth good unto thee; deliver us only this day. And they put away the strange gods and served the Lord; and his soul was grieved for the misery of Israel. Then the children of Ammon were gathered together, and encamped in Gilead. And the children of Israel assembled themselves, and encamped in Mispeh.

Now Jephthah was a might man of valor. And the elders of Gilead said unto Jephthah, Come, and be our captain, that we may fight with the children of Ammon. Jephthah went, and the people made him head and captain over them.

AND JEPHTHAH sent messengers to the king of Ammon, saying, What has thou to do with me, that thou art come against me to fight in my land? And the king of Ammon answered, Because Israel took away my land, when they came up out of Egypt: now therefore restore these lands again peaceably. And Jephthah sent messengers again to the king, and said, Israel took not away the land of Ammon, but the Lord God of Israel dispossessed the Amorites from before his people Israel. Wherefore I have not sinned against thee, but thou doest me wrong to war against me: the Lord the Judge be judge this day between the children of Israel and the children of Ammon. Howbeit the king of Ammon hearkened not to the words of Jephthah.

Then the Spirit of the Lord came upon Jephthah, and he vowed unto the Lord, if thou deliver the children of Ammon into mine hands, whatsoever cometh forth of my house to meet me, when I return in peace, I will offer up for a burnt offering.

SO JEPHTHAH passed over unto the children of Ammon to fight them; and the Lord delivered them into his hands.

And Jephthah came to Mizpeh unto his house, and his daughter came out to meet him with timbrels and with dances: and she was his only child. And he rent his clothes, and said, Alas, my daughter! thou art one of them that trouble me: for I have opened my mouth unto the Lord, and I cannot go back. And she said, My father, if thou hast opened thy mouth unto the Lord, do to me according to that which hath proceeded out of thy mouth. And she said, Let this be done for me: let me alone two months, that I may go up and down upon the mountains, and bewail my virginity. And he sent her away.

And at the end of two months, she returned unto her father, who did with her according to his vow: and she knew no man. And it was a custom in Israel, that the daughters of Israel went yearly to lament the daughter of Jephthah the Gileadite four days in a year.

Church To Observe Completion Of Work

A program of remodeling and expansion has been completed at Trinity Baptist church, Thirty-fourth and Adams Ave., according to announcement by Rev. John P. Baker, pastor.

Sunday school departments of the church have been enlarged to take care of increased Sunday school enrollment. Rev. Baker said. A large new nursery also has been constructed.

New plants and shrubs have been set out around the church.

MIXUP EASILY SOLVED

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—Mrs. J. W. McBryde, sr., had a hunch when she saw two women with dress boxes waiting for a local department store to open. Learning that both had their feelings ruffled by receiving the wrong dresses, Mrs. McBryde suggested that perhaps each had the other's dress. A quick look proved her right.

The Art Of Living

HOW TO FIND JOY IN LIVING

A civic club in a Pennsylvania city recently performed a unique experiment. One thousand dollars in silver was divided among the club's members and each member was instructed to go into the streets of the city and give one of these dollars to every person who seemed happy. No one was told in advance of what the members planned to do.

When the members met again to discuss their experiences, they were amazed to find that, in their large and crowded city, they had only been able to give away seven hundred and sixty dollars. On those thronged streets, these men had been able to find only seven hundred and sixty persons whose faces gave visible evidence of happiness within.

Find Few Smiling Faces

Try this yourself, today, tomorrow or the next day. The streets are unusually crowded. Christmas is coming and all of us are shopping for gifts, planning and preparing for the holiday. It should be a happy time and every face should be wreathed in smiles. Yet, you will find few smiling faces, few people who, even at this happiest time of all the year, seem happy.

There is a reason for this and it is a simple one. Happy looks are absent because too many people fill their minds with apprehensive thoughts rather than thoughts of anticipation. Many of us habitually regard the future, the unknown days to come, with fear and trembling. We are haunted by the sinister shadows of vague and terrible things which may happen to us. Even if these things never happen, even if we find rare good fortune, we cannot be happy because ahead of us lurk all the dark unrealized fears which the frightened mind can conjure up.

WHY should any of us live so miserably, so weighted down with terror of things which may never come to pass? It is very easy to get the mental attitude of expecting great things and good things to happen. And out of this happy anticipation great and good things do happen.

The Bible tells us just what we ought to do. "Whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are lovely, think on these things."

Inner Peace Reflected In Faces

Following this advice and cultivating the habit of optimistic thinking, we can rid ourselves of the terrors of the unknown and guide ourselves to a future which can give us the happy and pleasant things we want. The inner peace obtained by this happy thinking is always reflected in our faces, in our eyes and in our smiles.

One of my readers recently wrote me, "the application of your techniques has revolutionized my life. It has given me a new and happy outlook on life to the extent that each day is begun with great expectancy and joy."

"I have made it a habit,' she continued, "to expect a pleasant surprise each day and it has never failed to come to pass. The degree of the surprise depends upon the degree of faith I put into my expectancy."

WHAT a wise technique, what a wise and wonderful way to live, expecting a pleasant surprise each day! You can follow it easily. Get up each morning saying, "What great thing is in store for me today?" You'll get surprises, lots of them. And, equally certain, if you get up looking for trouble, you won't have much difficulty finding it.

Practice anticipation—and you'll get rid of apprehension. It may not be easy at first to change your bad thought habits but keep at it. Anticipate the good you'll find in each day instead of fearing the evil which may come to you and you'll have the time of your life every day of your life.

I have noticed that people who really practice their religion live with anticipation and without fear. Their secret is faith. They believe that if they trust God and do their best that things will happen for the best—and so they will.

Shivers Should Speak Out On Taxes; German Banker Seeks U.S. Loan

WHAT IS HE FOR?

He Hasn't Said Yet

TEXAS now holds at least two important advantages over most states in the competition for industries and investments. It is one of seven states which levies neither a sales nor an income tax. Others are Florida, Maine, Nebraska, Nevada, New Jersey and Pennsylvania.

Gov. Allan Shivers put himself on record the other day as being opposed to a sales tax. His attitude toward a state income tax is less clear.

But the governor has advocated an "omnibus" tax with a "broad base" when the Legislature is convened in the expected special session early next year. The term, "omnibus," is totally meaningless unless and until he explains specifically what he has in mind.

The tax with the broadest base would be a sales levy. The governor says he doesn't want to that. The levy with the next broadest base probably would be an income tax which, to be productive of enough revenue to be worthwhile, would have to include low income, as well as higher income, groups.

The time seems long past due for Governor Shivers to clarify his position as to the state income tax possibility. If he contemplates such a proposal, the people of Texas should be informed of it without delay, so that they will have ample time to express their attitude—whether of support or opposition—in the most effective manner possible.

Disappointing

FEDERAL JUDGE HAROLD MEDINA aroused the respect and admiration of fellow Americans everywhere in his handling of the Communist conspiracy trials in New York. Thus, it is not surprising to read that citizens of the largest city in the land have been calling upon him to run for office. Judge Medina has proven himself the sort of man who accepts responsibility, who acts within its demands and whose understanding of public trust is as complete as it is commendable.

It is disappointing, therefore, that the judge has answered his political well-wishers with one terse statement, Said he:

"I am not running for anything, and I never shall."

We say Judge Medina's attitude is disappointing because he is the sort of man needed in high public office in this nation, whether the job happens to be in New York, in Washington, or in Lubbock. We say his attitude is especially disappointing when we note, in New York and elsewhere, that men not so worthy of election and public trust are aspiring to both and—in many instances—are attaining their aspirations.

Politics is a hard game and the public is known for its fickleness. It is understandable that men choose to shun the political arena.

Yet, withal, it is regrettable when able, honest, responsible citizens do shun elective public service and, in cases like that of the able New York jurist, it is especially regrettable.

Stitch In Time

AMERICANS doubtless were few who cheered the estimate of the Committee of Economic Development that national security needs will cost the U. S. about 20 billion dollars a year for a good many years to come.

But most Americans unquestionably will concur with certain other observations and recommendations of the CED. These, in gist, were that any precautions necessary should be taken to secure the dominant position of the civilian in the government of this nation.

It was a timely warning. Whether by coincidence, or not, it followed by a few days the dispatches from Washington which said that the military has set up plans for a dictatorship in case of serious emergency. An unidentified spokesman was quoted as acknowledging that the military might be reluctant to surrender dictatorial powers if ever it obtains them.

Few probably actually know whether the military does have any such plans. But, as the CED suggested, it can do no harm to take precautions against such a possibility.

New State Dept. Policy?

SIMPLE, INTERESTING AND THRILLING

'The Sheltering Sky' Is Whodunit On Cosmic Plane

"THE SWELTERING SKY," by Paul Bowles; (New Directions).

THREE Americans, a man called Port, his wife Kit and their friend Tunner, travel to Africa in this novel. Port is instigator of the trip, and Kit goes automatically where he goes. Tunner, a companion but not an intimate, never breaks the ties binding him to the familiar world of cause and effect, of reason and motive, of mechanical and material values. He does not follow Port and Kit Moresby, or Paul Bowles, either, into the strange half- world, or world-and-a half, created so curiously in this story.

The facts are simple and interesting, sometimes thrilling. Port and Kit penetrate deeper and deeper into Africa, now running into and now escaping an English mother and son; and finally escaping Tunner, too, they in their different ways are absorbed into the life of the natives, or at least into a sort of primitive fatalism.

Purpose Is Surrealism

Despite vivid and brilliant glimpses of hot and filthy villages, inscrutable Arabs, and endless sandy wastes, Bowles' purpose is not realism but surrealism. He pictures not a submerged continent but a submerged consciencness, a state of mind . . . and he makes it up out of the mind and not the heart. He guides us with uncanny assurance beyond familiar bourns, somewhere the other side of the inexplicable but this side of the dream, and he leaves us there.

As in Hemingway's "The Sun Also Rises," there is a symbolic impotence here. As in Camus' "The Stranger," the characters do not behave, they have behavior thrust on them. They are shoved around, and they do not shove back.

For some pages, this leaves you indifferent. But as you read further, you fall under the peculiar spell of this no man's land where the dazzling light of the sun served not to enlighten but to obscure. It's a whodunit on a cosmic plane. And neither you nor perhaps Bowles can tell whodunit.

Political Study

"THE VITAL CENTER: THE POLITICS OF FREEDOM," by Auth Arthur M. Schlesinger, jr., (Houghton Miffin).

AGREEING with other observers that, in the midst of plenty, we should be happy, and, victors in war, we should be contented, but that in fact we are worried and anxious, this astute and persuasive author, like a doctor, auscultates our body politic and comes up with a diagnosis and a prescription.

Whether or not you accept all of it, the diagnosis makes exciting reading; Schlesinger proposes and defends his ideas warmly. Our main problem is not, but our immediate problem is, he says, Russia; while he would avoid an anti-Soviet crusade, nevertheless he would reconstruct Europe (the Marshall Plan) and keep the Reds off our greener grass (the Truman Doctrine).

Put Our House In Order

But in the meantime, he exhorts us to put our own house in order. He doesn't find much good in any of us, Communists or non-Commie, Fascists or their opposites, businessmen, Republicans, even or perhaps especially the Progressives, who are well meaning but misguided, poor thinkers and bad actors, in his opinion. For the Conservatives he saves his most vitriolic accusaions, perhaps because he knows them best. The Progressive is to the Communist what the Conservatiove is to the Fascist, he charges.

He pleads in conclusion for a fighting faith in our kind of freedom, for a variety of liberalism which lies slightly left of center, a liberalism conscious of its strength and prepared to use it. He wants us to avoid depression, to trade more with the rest of the world, to end racial discrimination. Neither diagnosis nor prescription is particularly new: Schlesinger's success in this book is due to his vivid language, his fervor, his condemnations that are now witty now biting. This is an eloquent call to action.

It would have seemed a little clearer if his enthusiasms had not once in a while colored his judgment. "Ballad for Americans" is a lot better than he, hunting for a handy example, is willing to admit; and to define Howard Fast as "a party line G. A. Henty" is also, unfortunately, to define Schlesinger. In condemning the Reds for a political slant on literature, he slants noticeably himself.

Looking At Life - - - - - By Erich Brandeis

IN today's mail there was another of those "the-world-owes-me-a-living" letters that I get every once in a while when I write something about hard work, industry, saving and the other old-fashioned American virtues being among the essentials of success.

This one came from a college student who apparently shares the belief of so many other modern college students that when daddy is through supporting them, it's up to the world to continue the job for the rest of their lives.

I wouldn't be a bit surprised if one of these days somebody came along and proposed that not only the old folks should get a $100 a month pension, but that pensions should begin with youngsters, as soon as Fathers think it's time for them to do a little of their own providing.

This fellow I started to tell you about thinks it's up to the world (whatever that word means) to see to it that he gets an education.

"As long as I was put into this world," he writes, "it's up to the world to look after me."

I took a postcard and wrote him a one-word reply:

"Why?"

But just in case he doesn't know what I mean, I'll make myself a little clearer, particularly because so many others seem to share my correspondent's "the-world-owes-me-a-living" philosophy.

In one of this week's national magazines there is a cartoon by Sydney Hoff.

A very haughty-looking butler is stopping a rather shabby looking couple at the door of a sumptuous mansion in which a very formal party is in progress.

Apparently he has just asked them whether they have been invited. The caption is:

"We had a sort of implied invitation—nobody asked us to come, but nobody asked us to stay away, either!"

* * *

THE "world" certainly did not ask my friend, the college student to come, nor to stay away.

Probably his parents wanted him and probably did all they could for him as long as they considered it their duty.

If the hosts in that sumptuous mansion of the cartoon had invited the couple, they would owe them hospitality.

But "implied invitations"—such as the world gives to all of us—place no obligation on the host.

The world is our landlord. Landlords don't owe us. We owe them.

And the accommodations we get are according to the rent we pay—in money or in service or both.

POLICY IS CHANGED

History Is Repeated

By DREW PEARSON
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON.—Almost no one noticed it, but there slipped quietly into New York last month one of the German bankers who helped Hitler build up Nazi armament and financed the Nazis rabid garb for power.

PEARSON

Herman J. Abs, the industrial warlord who walked down the gangplank of the Ile De France, November 16, has been branded by U. S. officials as one of the worst economic influences under Hitler. But despite this fact, he registered at the Plaza hotel in New York, and has quietly gone about the business of raising money for the German steel industry.

Abs' visit to the U. S. A. indicates how drastically American policy toward Germany has changed. Only a little over a year ago the State department under General Marshall was flatly opposed to Abs, and U. S. Ambassador Robert Murphy sent a secret telegram in the spring of 1948 advising that Abs be barred from the new trizonal bank of the German states.

"Although Abs apparently never was an NSDAP (Nazi) member," warned Ambassador Murphy in his secret cable, "he cooperated hand in glove during the third reich . . . and took an important role in imperialistic expansion of deutsche bank following Nazi political and military absorption."

General Clay's finance division also branded Abs' deutsche bank with "excessive concentration of economic power and the participation in the execution of the criminal policies of the Nazi regime."

Another War department report in March, 1945, branded Abs as among the German financiers who "in an outstanding way thrived under national socialism, welcomed it in the beginning, aided the Nazis to obtain power, supported them in office, shared the spoils of expropriation and conquest or otherwise markedly benefited in their careers or fortunes under the Nazis."

In May, 1948, when Abs was nominated for the presidency of the new trizonal bank, State department opposition was so strong that he was forced to retire.

Now American policy has gone into reverse.

REBUILDING GERMAN STEEL

Most significant thing about Abs' arrival in New York is in connection with rebuilding the German steel industry. After World War I, Dillon, Read & Co., which did so much to finance German rearmament and some of whose officials later dictated U. S. foreign policy, loaned $125,000,000 to Germany's Vereinigte Stahlwerke (United Steel workers).

Not one penny of this was ever paid back. American investors, many of them widows and small beneficiaries of trusts, were left holding the bag. Furthermore, it was U. S.-financed expansion of German steel that put Hitler in a position to start World War II. Without steel, Germany is powerless.

Now history appears to be repeating all over again.

Last month—November 14—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of the new west German state sent a secret memo to the Allied high commissioners asking for 300,000,000 marks to rebuild this same Vereinigte Stahlwerke which has never repaid the $125,000,000 to Dillon, Read. Most of the 300,000,000 marks Adenauer wants is to come from the United States.

And it's to explore the raising of this money that Dr. Abs quietly arrived in the U.S.A. on November 16, two days after the Adenauer memo.

AIR MERCHANT MARINE

It looks as if the lesson of the Berlin airlift, namely to have plenty of cargo planes on hand, hasn't sunk in yet at the Pentagon building.

Instead of favoring a merchant marine of the air, the brass hats are listening to the Air Transport association which speaks for the big airlines and which doesn't want a lot of independent air freight carriers which, of course, would mean more competition.

Nevertheless, legislation to build an air merchant marine has already been introduced by Sen. Ed Johnson of Colorado and Congressman Joe Kennedy of Massachusetts, both Democrats. Their idea is to do the same in the air as is already being done at sea. In other words, the government would help finance the purchase of cargo planes for air operators just as it now helps build cargo ships for the shipping companies.

A substitute bill has been offered in behalf of the big airlines, however, by Sen. Owen Brewster of Maine and Congressman Carl Hinshaw of California, both Republicans. This would call for the development of prototype, or model, cargo planes by the government. Then, in case of war, the government could build a cargo fleet from this model. This would take time, however, and no cargo fleet would be ready to fly.

The Brewster-Hinshaw plan, however, would save the big, established airlines from increased competition.

So far the brass hats in the Pentagon building have quietly sided with the big airlines—though the decision is still left up to a civilian, fair-minded Undersecretary of Defense Steve Early.

The Colorado man who remarried 24 hours after his wife died is probably the first person to merge a mourning period with a honeymoon.

The Clever Step-Father

Dear Friends
and Gentle Hearts:

THE OTHER DAY a business man resigned from a famous Virginia club after twenty years on its roster.

"During my entire membership," he told me bitterly, "I felt unwanted. The only real friend I had in the whole place was the bartender, and he was hired to be nice to everybody. If I happened to join a group in the grill room, it soon broke up. The only way I could be sure of someone to talk to was to bring a guest. Even then, it was embarrassing because so few members greeted me; no one called me by my first name. For a fifth of a century I paid dues to that club—but I never really belonged."

OURSLER

What went wrong? This man, of course, blamed the other club members, and not himself. Perhaps the exile was self-conscious and scared people off. But that is not a good excuse; according to a friend of mine, a retired psycho-neurologist, shyness is a paralysis that comes from an exaggerated sense of our own importance.

"Why are you shy?" he would ask. "Because of your egotism, you are afraid you will not be welcomed; you will be snubbed; you will not be able to hold your own in conversation; you will not make the right appearance or impression. Who cares about all that, except you? Nobody else is thinking about you. Shyness is an obnoxious form of vanity."

MY FRIEND the psychologist also declared that any person can gain friends if he is willing to pay the price, which is high at the beginning, but yields dividends for the rest of life. It means learning to take a real—and not a hypocritical—interest in others.

Like a dentist I knew who married a widow with a beautiful daughter. The young woman—already a mild success in a Broadway play—took an instant dislike to her mother's new husband. At mealtime she would look only at Mamma; talking theater, she froze out the poor step-father completely. Unless the dentist could win over this arrogant girl, his marriage might smash up.

"I had to do something specific and immediate," he told me.

First, he called on an old theatrical acquaintance, the late Sam H. Harris, and asked for help. Following suggestions of that famous show producer, he went back to school, registering in Columbia university for night courses in the drama. Next he subscribed to the theatrical weekly Variety, having it delivered to his office along with the daily Hollywood Reporter. This earnest fellow was not merely "boning" up; he was getting a thorough understanding of the drama, the history of the theater, the personalities of the current stage, the news and gossip of the Rialto, even its trivia and wise-cracks. With that knowledge, he was determined to make himself helpful to his young enemy.

FINALLY, ONE evening at dinner, the girl, in her shoptalk showed him that she was misinformed.

"I am afraid, dear," the step-father interposed, "that Kit Cornell is going to do that show, not Katie Hepburn. At least, Variety reports that Kit has already taken an option on the script."

What did he think he knew about show business? Why, he told her, he had many patients in "the profession;" he was just as familiar with Cornell's canines as with Hepburn's bicuspids! (which was true; he was not familiar with either.)

What really mattered to the girl was that this despised, earth-bound step-father was revealing an intelligent and excited interest in her work; that he was full of sympathy, encouragement and genuine knowledge.

The dentist told me the outcome, holding his wife's hand, as we sailed together one night on a steamer to Hollywood where daughter had reached stardom. She had sent for her folks simply because she couldn't feel comfortable without step-father's expert counsel.

Protestants To Hear More And More About Unity Of Churches

GREENWICH, Conn., Dec. 17 (AP) — From today on, American Protestants are going to hear more and more about a thing called church unity.

For the first time in the history of the country, a day-to-day campaign will be underway to create a single Protestant church in the United States in some fashion yet to be decided.

That was the result of the conference on church union which ended here yesterday after months of preparation and three days of actual sessions.

The conference didn't rush things — it didn't come up with an actual "plan for union," but rather a "plan for a plan."

It wants to make haste slowly, and remembered 1920 when a completed plan was wrecked by the first veto from a single denomination.

Bishop Heads Group

So instead of a hard-and-fast plan for a Protestant merger, the conference gave its name to a parmanent, official organization that will try to find the royal road to unification during the next year and present it at a new conference early in 1951.

Seven churches with more than 14,000,000 (members) sponsored the conference, and seven other churches and the four great interchurch councils lent them moral support by sending observers. American Protestantism as a whole has nearly 45,000,000 members.

Methodist Bishop Ivan Lee Holt of St. Louis, a veteran of the long Methodist struggle for unification, was named to lead the conference as chairman of the continuing executive committee.

"This is one of the most important Protestant meetings ever held in the United States," he said.

Plan Explained

Here is how the new machinery will work in pushing the merger idea on a national scale.

The Permanent Conference on Union will enlist seven representatives from each denomination. The inter-church councils will have two consulatants each.

This will be the general executive body.

Under it will be another committee with two members from each of the sponsoring churches. Other churches interested in merger may also join it.

This is the group that will draw up the plan for union.

But before any final action is taken, the conference will send representatives to the many Protestant denominations.

These representatives will listen to what the individual churches have to say and carry their words back to the conference on union.

Mergers Recently

All these reports — and the tentative plan itself — will be thrashed out at the next big conference meeting, to be held "in the early months" of 1951.

The conference also hopes to stimulate any smaller unification plans already in progress.

Examples of these are the recent merger of the Evangelical and Reformed churches. This new combined group is now thinking of merging again—this time with the Congregational Christian churches.

Also, there have been efforts for years to merge Episcopalians and Presbyterians.

But the path toward unity is not necessarily smooth. The "plan for a plan" was only a few hours old when one big church group—the American Council of Christian churches with 1,500,000 members—called it "totalitarianism in the raw."

"Genuine Protestants must be warned to avoid this union movement as they would a plague," it said.

"A brand of socialism more enslaving than that cursing England today is advocated by the Protestant leaders afflicted with the current disease of unio-mania," they added.

Bishop Holt himself looked for no easy progress.

"Those of us who have participated in the conference are under no illusions," he said. "It may take a good many years before we realize the dream of creating a larger Protestant church in this country . . . but we are being led in that direction."

And to Horace, I dare to add one comment more:

If the three words: "I! Me! Myself!" are often in my mouth, they will soon get in other people's hair. But if I can eject those villains, and substitute: "You! YOKOSUKA, Japan, Dec. 17 (AP) —Sailors and Marines at this U. S. naval base chipped in for novel Christmas presents for several score Japanese children.

The youngsters will attend a local Christian school with one year scholarships financed by American servicemen. Each scholarship is worth about $30.

Mrs. Ann Johnson of Washington, D. C., wife of a Navy dentist, and Navy Capt. R. O. Burzynski of Milwaukee, Wis., headed the drive.

Boy, 9, Accused Of Vandalizing Church

DERBY, Colo., Dec. 17 (INS) — An Adams county deputy sheriff said today that a nine-year-old boy has admitted participation in an act of vandalism against the Rose Hill Baptist church in Derby, Colo., on Dec. 7.

Deputy Sheriff George L. Rebholtz said the boy named four teen-age girls as accomplices. Two of the girls are 12 years old, the other two are 14.

Rebholtz said the boy gave no reason for the desecration, and added that the boy appeared only "mildly repentant."

The deputy said two of the girls have admitted being at the church, but added that they have denied participation in the desecration. Rebholtz said he had not yet questioned the other two girls.

The interior of the church building was wrecked and church literature was torn and strewn throughout the building.

Rebholtz said he has not arrested any of the children, but has ordered them to appear in juvenile court on Monday. The parents of the children have not been questioned.

He added that he is convinced that the children were not responsible for the desecration of two other Denver area churches in recent weeks.

Belgian Health Chief Takes Time Off To Aid Sick Child

ANTWERP, Dec. 17 (AP) — Belgium's minister of health, concerned with 9,000,000 Belgians, took time off recently to give special attention to one little boy.

Joseph Van Horen was pretty far gone with a fever which only one medicine, chloromyceline, could cure. There was none in Belgium — the nearest supply was London.

A special envoy, sent to London, telephoned he needed authorization from the minister of health to bring it over. The permisison was given and two hours later, a health ministry attache was at the boy's bedside with the life-saving drug. Little Joseph seems now out of danger.

PHONES BEAT FIRE BOXES

CHICAGO (AP)—The International City Managers association passes along this report from Pontiac, Mich. Only 12 per cent of the fire alarms there in the past five years were turned in on fire alarm boxes. The others were received by telephone. Fifty-six per cent of the alarms received through the boxes were false. Only one per cent of those that came in by phone were phony.

Business Probably Was Dead, Anyway

HULL, England, Dec. 17 (AP) —Something peculiar was going on at Thomas Taylor's grocery. Fire trucks, five taxicabs and a hearse bearing a coffin all pulled up outside. Somebody had called them by telephone.

Chief Constable Sydney Lawrence was called in to find out just what was going on. He decided it was "a despicable hoax."

ROUND ROBIN GETTING FAT

CHICAGO (AP)—Joseph Klimas received a ponderous piece of mail. It was a round robin letter that was started in January, 1948, by Paul Hamilton of Silvis, Ill. It has circulated since then among men who served in 829th Signal Corps during World War II. Each wrote news of himself, attached it to the growing letter and passed the dossier along. At latest report it was 30 feet long.

Department Of State Adviser Given Leave

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17. (AP)—Director George Kennan of the State department's policy planning staff, who starts an extended leave Jan. 1, will be succeeded by his deputy, Paul Nitze.

The department announced yesterday that the 45-year-old Kennan is taking a leave from his job as top policy adviser to Secretary of State Acheson "in order to carry out a number of important studies in the field of foreign affairs."

Keenan, considered one of the government's chief experts on Russian affairs, is credited with authorship of the western "policy of containment" against Communism.. The department did not say specifically what his plans are, but he is due to return to the foreign service later.

Nitze, 42, has been in the State department since 1946. Since last August he has been Kennan's deputy. A native of Amherst, Mass., he once was a vice president of the New York investment firm of Dillon, Read and Co. He held various wartime government jobs dealing with foreign affairs.

DEVIL OR CLOWN?
