Chiang Takes Command Of 400,000 Men

Nipponese Attacks Threaten Vital Communications

SHANGHAI, Feb. 8. (AP)—Japanese columns thrust into new battle areas today in apparently coordinated drives to render futile the desperate resistance of China's main armies along the vital Lunghai railway.

The new attacks threatened main communications between some 400,000 Chinese troops fighting savagely to hold the Japanese back from Suchow and their bases in the heart of China.

They were aimed from southeast and northwest toward Kweichow, 90 miles west of Suchow, and, according to Japanese dispatches, threatened to compel a general Chinese retreat westward through the 180-mile-wide corridor still held by the Chinese along the Lunghai.

Suchow is the junction point of the Lunghai and the north-south Nientsin-Pukow railway, nerve center of Eastern Central China. Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek, according to Chinese reports, was in personal command of the Chinese armies holding long prepared defense lines protecting Suchow from the north and south.

Main Japanese forces apparently were held stubbornly along the Hwai river, which they reached last week with the capture of Pengpu, 90 miles south of Suchow. Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek was said to have taken personal command of 400,000 Chinese troops attempting to stem Japanese hammering at both sides of the vital Lunghai corridor.

Chiang was said to have arrived at the front north of Nanking to direct the army holding back the invaders south of Suchow and the troops facing Japanese in Southern Shantung province.

Govt. Armies Said To Be In Retreat

HENDAYE, France, Feb. 8 (AP)—Spanish insurgent officers sent word today that the fourth day of the insurgent mass offensive in the rugged district north of Teruel had put government armies in headlong retreat.

Official insurgent dispatches described the fighting as "veritable butchery" of government troops. Government advisors said there was "great calm" in military circles and added that government troops were "resisting desperately."

Yesterday's advances by insurgent Generalissimo Francisco Franco's warriors won them 68 new positions and 25 villages, and relieved partially a threat against the insurgent eastern communications.

Sheriff Loses Prisoners

Disarmed By Youth Who Frees Two Women

MARSHALL, Feb. 8 (AP)—A pilot-waving, unmarked youth today abducted two convicted women burglars from the automobile of Sheriff G. H. Barrett of Pittsburg, disarmed the officer and fled.

The bold abduction occurred a mile west of Linden, in Cass county, as the officer traveled along the highway towards Rodessa for further investigation into a big burglary ring centered in East Texas and Louisiana.

Sheriff Q. T. Hardgrave of Linden, said Barrett told him the man, about 25, driving a 1937 Ford sedan without license plates, forced his machine to the side of the road, jumped out and jammed a pistol in his face.

The man directed one of the women to take the officer's gun. The women got into the youth's machine while he emptied Barrett's gun of its shells and then tossed it back to the officer.

The women, Mickey Turner and Eileen Reynolds, were recently sentenced in Harrison county to two years imprisonment on burglary counts.

Longview police advanced the theory the women may have been abducted by a member of the burglary ring for possible retaliation of information officers said the women had given in clearing up the theft ring.

PART OF STOLEN MONEY RECOVERED

DALLAS, Feb. 8 (AP)—Clyde Eastus, United States district attorney, said today about half the $28,500 stolen from a mail car last fall while en route from the Dallas federal reserve bank to O'Donnell, Texas, had been recovered.

Eastus said portions of the money recovered included $4,300 on the person of Sidney A. Miller when he and his wife were arrested in Atlanta, Ga., recently as they started to board a plane for Dallas; $6,000 dug from a hiding place near O'Donnell; $5,500 impounded in a Fort Worth bank; and $1,300 found around Brownwood.

Protests Are Made Against 'Gag Rule'

Final Action Sought After Five Hours' Discussion

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8. (AP)—Administration leaders, bent on jamming the revised farm bill through the House, encountered delaying tactics today.

Other Roll Calls

Leaders anticipated other roll calls would be demanded as those increased at a proposed five-hour limitation on farm bill debate, Bankhead and Majority Leader Rayburn asserted, despite the warning—chiefly from Republicans—that a "gag" was being applied.

In the senate, Guffey (D-Pa) urged opponents of the anti-lynching bill to permit it to come to a vote so the Supreme Court might pass on its constitutionality.

He said the opponents "should not, as members of this body, usurp the functions of the judiciary."

The Pennsylvania contending Southern Senators "daily refused to allow the American people, even though they be in the majority, to express their will on this absorbing subject of lynching."

Guffey's address was a temporary breathing spell to the Southerners, aided by Westerners, in their prolonged filibuster against the measure.

Proceeding debate on the farm bill itself, the rules committee asked house members to agree to vote on the bill after five hours' discussion, without amending it or objecting to individual provisions.

Complicated Measures

Rep. Martin (R-Mass), assistant minority leader, said, "If that isn't a gag rule there never was one."

Rep. Short (R-Mo) charged that the administration was attempting to "gram down our throats a 121-page bill which members had not had time to examine."

Rep. Pass (D-Ga) said that he could not figure out parts of the complicated measure after 60 hours of study.

Some Democrats joined Republicans and Progressives in declaring that the measure differed materially from either the senate or house bills passed in December. A joint committee was appointed before Christmas to draw up a compromise, which it completed Friday.

Chairman Jones (D-Tex) said yesterday that the revised measure conformed generally to the original house bill, but many members disagreed. Jones said immediate enactment was necessary if crop control provisions were to become effective before the planting season begins.

Hutch Returns From Meeting

Jack Hutchinson, returning from Fort Worth and the Texas league baseball meeting held there Saturday and Sunday, paused in Big Spring Monday afternoon en route to his home in Monahans and announced that Big Spring was "about ready to greet minor league baseball again."

Hutchinson is due to become very familiar with Big Spring baseball fans soon. He said he would return here around February 15 to supervise construction of a baseball park, site yet unselected, and to line up plans for spring training.

Hutchinson operated the Monahans franchise in the West Texas-New Mexico circuit last season and asked the league to allow him the transfer of the club to Big Spring at the Lubbock confab two weeks ago.

He was accompanied to Dallas by Taylor Anderson. Hutchinson is seriously considering him to lead the club next season.

Fuglar has always been tops with this department and we don't believe that any squawks would be heard from any Big Spring quarters.

Fuglar used to have some terrific arguments with local teams but it usually ended up that he was in the right.

There's nothing any worse than to see a manager ride his own pitchers when they fail to produce. We can cite an example in the West Texas-New Mexico league where a team almost disbanded due to bad cooperation with the leaders.

All players who will be playing in the circuit this season will be young and must be taught most of the fundamentals of baseball. That kind of teaching is certainly no way to start them on the road to success.

Hutch hasn't closed the deal for the park site yet but he may make an announcement within a few days.

Billies Favored If Foran Remains Eligible

No definite decision was reached on the eligibility of Willis Dee Forman, Garner guard, in the called meeting of the Howard county athletic council Monday night in the county school superintendent's offices but the committee was to meet again this afternoon in time to decide as to whether the ace catcher will be able to play in the championship game against Foran in Buff gym tonight.

Foran had lodged a formal protest on the boy's scholastic status Monday, asking the committee to investigate his age and the number of semesters he had attended school.

Spark Plug Garner's chances for victory hinge largely around the athlete. He has been the spark plug of the Billies attack this season.

Should the committee declare him eligible, the Garner quintet will take the courts the decided favorites in their tussle to decide the county finalists. Coach Floyd Burnett has perfected an offense around Forman that has shown brilliantly in every game. He led his mates to a 10-point victory over the Buffaloes and has aided in scoring over most of the other teams of this sector.

Coach Nix of the Forsanites indicated that he would start the battle with the same lineup that opened against Crews in the Big Lake tournament last week, using Whetzel and McDonald at forwards, Parker at center and LaBelf and Creelman at guards.

The game is scheduled to begin at 8 p. m. The Foran junior team is scheduled to oppose Midway's junior in a game preceding the featured battle in the Buff gym. The two teams will play for the right to meet Garner's junior team in the Garner gym next Friday.

District G. Glove Champions Work For Finals

Team Delays Trip To San Angelo

Simmons Says Does Not Want To Risk Injury To Members

Six champions of The Herald-Cosden Golden Gloves boxing tournament, crowned after the finals last week, are working diligently for their initial bouts in the state finals in Fort Worth, which begin next Tuesday at the Panther City arena of that city.

Original plans were to send the team to San Angelo for a series of exhibitions but possibility of injury to members of the team led Promoter Ray Simmons to delay that trip. The Angelinos may be met following the Fort Worth trip.

The eight-man squad, boasting champions of all weights, will leave here Wednesday, February 16, by car, arriving in the fight capital in time for a night's rest before their first matches Thursday.

All contestants will weigh in the morning of February 17. Flyweights, bantams, feathers and lights will battle the first night with welters, middles, lightheavies and heavies scheduled to occupy the floor Friday.

State finals will take place a week later. Simmons placed an order for eight white robes and, as a result, the entire team of this district will take the ring as one of the flashiest dressed teams in the entire meeting.

Medals for the winners will also arrive within a few days, Simmons announced, and would be presented before they leave for the tournament.

Don Beck, Monahans, and E. P. Lawson, Midland, welter and light-heavy champions, respectively, are carrying on their training in their home towns and will not join the six local boys until time to leave.

S'PORT TO JOIN LOOP

SHREVEPORT, La., Feb. 8 (AP)—Announcement was made today that Shreveport had exercised its option to purchase the Galveston baseball franchise of the Texas league.

Henry O'Neal, president of the chamber of commerce which sponsored the undertaking, said that J. Walter Morris, representing Shreveport interests, will leave here tonight for Galveston with a certified check for $25,000, the amount of the purchase price.

Galveston interests were advised this forenoon that Shreveport would take up the option. "We're in," Mr. O'Neal said after a check-up this morning showed that the necessary finances had been subscribed or had been arranged for. The local interests raised $40,000 and the league will grant a loan of $20,000 to help finance the project. It has also agreed to sell to Shreveport for $15,000 the ball park site which the league owns.

The drive here has been under way for a month and options on the purchase were extended three times. It is planned to organize a corporation, build a concrete and steel grandstand seating 4,000 and install lights for night baseball.

Marion Miley of Fort Pierce, with a qualifying 76, was matched with Audrey Phipps of Westbury, N. J., who carded 81.

Wrestle Royal To Be Attraction At BSAC

Andy Tremaine Returns; Higami And Cummings Billed Again

The one ring circus, boasting everything a menagerie should have save Dick Sampson, will entertain the wrestling patrons at the Big Spring Athletic club this eve with the ace lion tamer of them all, young Andrew Tremaine, due to return to the thick of battle.

Old Sleeping Sickness himself, Higami Tetsuri, known to Texans as Tetsuri Higami, the humble patriot of Bhudda, will operate. Add to that, the faces of Bob Cummings, Tex Hager and Jack Mandell and you have the five star special that the promotion has planned.

It's a "raase royal" with all five slated to take the ring at the same time for a series of elimination bouts. The first one who yells "call rope" and retires from the ring has the privilege of watching the others have the fun from the bleachers or going home and go to bed.

He gets neither a chance to redeem himself or compensation for his misfortune. The five trek ringward at around 8 p. m.

Gehrig And Ruppert In Pay Discussion

Yankees Anxious To Get Lou In Fold Since DiMaggio Rebelled

BY GAYLE TALBOT NEW YORK, Feb. 8 (AP)—"Larrupin Lou" Gehrig, ironman first baseman of the New York Yankees, joined the world champions' fast growing holdout list today, rejecting Owner Jake Ruppert's offer of $50,000 again this year and demanding an increase of 15 percent, or roughly $65,000.

NEW YORK, Feb. 8 (AP)—The Yankees' contract problems were scheduled to reach a crisis today in the star-chamber session between their high-salaried first baseman, Colonel Jacob Ruppert, and Lou Gehrig.

The Colonel and Lou were meeting in the former's ornate brewery office, the same room in which the Colonel and Joe DiMaggio had their $15,000 difference of opinion some weeks ago. Gehrig, baseball's highest-salaried player, was demanding an increase over his $50,000 wage of last season.

Chances were that the veteran first-sacker would be able to talk Colonel Ruppert out of a quick raise, because the Yankees are exceedingly anxious to get him signed. They want to discourage DiMaggio in his wild-eyed request for a $40,000 contract.

Gehrig would be the first of the club's big money boys to sign and his surrender would do a lot to alleviate the holdout headaches. Lefty Gomez, Bill Dickey and Red Ruffing are on the verge of coming to terms, the Associated Press learned, and Gehrig is depended upon to lead them into the fold.

If, on the other hand, Columbia Lou should get stubborn today and stick with it, the champions might wind up with a real spring problem. There seems no doubt now that DiMaggio intends to hold out right into the opening of camp at St. Petersburg on March 7.

Gehrig, just returned from Hollywood, where he played the part of a roofer, tootin' cowpuncher in his first movie, hadn't discussed contract with his bosses prior to today's meeting. He called Colonel Ruppert upon his arrival yesterday and said he wanted to talk it over.

The Yankees aren't at all pleased with DiMaggio. They feel that his salary demand is out of reason, and also that he has been talking too much. Ruppert feels that his offer of $20,000 to "that young man" was more than sufficient. He's feeling very stubborn about it.

Pros And Amateurs In Practice Rounds

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 8 (AP)—Professional and amateur golfers shot practice rounds today in preparation for the national match play open championship starting with an 18-hole qualifying test here tomorrow.

Tournament officials said more than 175 had entered and they expected at least 200 shotmakers would start. Practically all the pros came here from Sacramento where they competed in the $3,000 Sacramento open on the annual winter swing through California.

Calves And Fish Lose First Games, West Side Falls

MOORE, Feb. 6—All three Big Spring teams lost out in Community league games here Monday evening, both league leaders dropping their initial games of the season.

The Big Spring Calves lost out, 11-10, to Garner, new entry of the loop, when a man missed a crisp shot, while O. C. Gray's West Siders were on the short end of an 18-17 score in their game with Moore.

Brown, playing an extra period to accomplish the trick, outscored the Big Spring Fish, 16-17, to hand that team its first defeat of the season.

Joe Allen sank two free throws in that extra five minute playing period to account for the winning tosses.

AL TODD COMES TO TERMS WITH PITTSBURGH

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 8 (AP)—Big Al Todd, sturdy catcher and a key man of the Pittsburgh Pirates, was signed into the 1934 fold today with considerable glee on the part of the management.

Todd last year hit .307 and batted in 86 runs, ranking sixth in the national league despite a bad mid-season slump.

Answering an advertisement to donate blood at a hospital he earned $15. Then he went for a sandwich. The last he remembers he left with two new-found 'friends'.

A day later he awoke in a hospital. Attendants told him he had been slugged and robbed.

Police Magistrate Henry Sandusky that he was a professional swindler.

He swayed the words to show Curley told the court.

Reimuth, out of ammunition, failed in an attempt to club the animal to death.

He grabbed it by the tail, but a bullet had hit it and the end piece came off in his hand.

By Preston Grover

WASHINGTON—Students of foreign affairs whose memories go back to pre-war days find similarity in conditions then and conditions now with regard to naval and armament building.

Germany then was making the most aggressive gestures of any European nation.

Now an aggressive disposition is found in at least three nations—Germany, Italy and Japan.

In the three or four years before the World War in 1914, there was the same uncertainty and suspicion as to who was building, and what, as now.

England would hear that Germany was building something new and fancy in battleships.

Instantly there would be a public demand that England build bigger and faster ships to preserve her policy of maintaining a navy equal to the combined powers of any two nations except the United States.

Then the war broke out, and ultimately it was discovered that much of the big talk of what was going to be built was simply talk and nothing else.

Again Big Talk By 1917 the United States had become convinced that a German victory might mean, among other things, military invasion of South America.

Now Italy comes along to take a bite out of Africa and threaten to break the British life-line of empire through the Mediterranean.

There is big talk of the secret armament of Germany and of the strength of Soviet Russia.

At this point the United States again comes in. So policy has been the American entry into the rearmament picture that some foreign nations might have been justified in suspecting the country was leading the naval race instead of merely following it.

And again the same reason develops for building up our defenses.

Admiral Leahy, chief of naval operations, testifies before the house naval affairs committee: "At our doors nothing stands in the way of the possible exploitation or seizure of the republics of Central and South America except the Monroe Doctrine, backed by such naval forces as the United States may have and the use of that force if the necessity should arise."

Uncle Sam's Rich But instead of facing merely the menace of a victorious Germany, the country now, says Leahy, should consider the possibility of a disturbance not only on the Atlantic side but on the Pacific. So, in his calculations before the committee, he jumps Japan, Italy and Germany together for comparison with the American navy.

The whole world knows that the United States is rich enough to build a navy with less economic pain than any other country.

With that as a premise, some followers of the naval race suspect that the noisy entrance of the United States was intended to compel the more belligerent nations to recognize that, even if they build until they collapse economically, they can't keep up and had better call a halt.

FLASHES OF LIFE By the Associated Press College Capers ROCKHILL, S. C.—Firemen answered an alarm from a dormitory at Winthrop college but found no fire.

A blushing and much-abashed young lady finally told them: "I pressed a little button on the wall because someone told me that was the way to get maid service."

Frozen Assets NEW ROCHELLE, N. Y.—When the coupons on $300,000 worth of New Rochelle bonds failed to clear through the banks in 1934, City Director of Finance Walter J. Brennan thought nothing of it.

But when they still had not been presented for payment after the January 15 interest date this year, he became curious.

Through the original purchasers, he learned that the bonds were sold to a woman who "won't be inconvenienced" by going to her safe deposit box to clip coupons more than once every five years.

Set-Back KANSAS CITY—Ernest Barr lost his job in Canton, Ohio, in December.

He sent his wife and son to relatives in California. Last week he started west on a bus but ran out of money here.

Answering an advertisement to donate blood at a hospital he earned $15. Then he went for a sandwich. The last he remembers he left with two new-found 'friends'.

A day later he awoke in a hospital. Attendants told him he had been slugged and robbed.

Man About Manhattan

by GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—Twelve or 15 years ago Thornton Wilder wrote a novel called "The Bridge of San Luis Rey." It was a weirdly beautiful story of a group of characters wholly unrelated to one another...

The bridge itself was an ancient vine-twisted ladder-like affair which stretched across a bottomless cavern...

New York witnessed a San Luis Rey of its own the other day but nobody was hurt...

Mr. Brand was one... Max in the ex-pulp fictionist who writes a million words a year...

Then there was Thornton Wilder himself, who has written many books since you first read "The Bridge"...

One night, Mr. Brand, feeling lonely, or maybe he was just a little thirsty, put on his hat, strolled up Broadway, and sat down at the counter of a drug store...

Sights And Sounds by ROBBIN COONS

Chapter 13 Christmas's Answer "Then," I told Christine, "there's no hope for Clyde."

"We must make hope. You must go to Mantusen, and find some way to persuade him to accept my terms. It's the only chance there is."

"There's one other," I said. I told her now what I thought the other chance was...

"I explained to her at long length just how I could kedge the Avon up the Siderong perhaps to that second turn which commanded the stockades."

"Give me my chance," I begged her. "I know the Dyak tribes could take me if they thought they could, but there's a possibility that they'll run from the sound of the heavy guns. There are still enough Malays left to carry the stockades, once I smash down some of the walls."

"I went on with a lot more, talking hard, talking for my life. I fell silent at last because the girl said nothing, so that in the end I simply ran down."

The mass of orchids behind Christine was swaying a little, making plain how utterly motionless she sat. I noticed now the strange, unsettling quality of her stillness.

There was a long silence, and eventually it became unendurable. "In the name of heaven, say something!"

She stood up then, and moved slowly to the rail, her rope-soled shoes perfectly silent on the deck. She stood looking across at the moon-silvered loom of Sumatanga; and her profile was as quiet as if she had been looking at some sleeping flower garden in the English shires.

"The ginger crop is heavy this year," her voice was remote, as if she had been able to move herself miles away. "Whenever there's an off-shore wind you can smell those blossoms."

Part of me was deeply moved by that frail, valiant defiance of all the unknown fates hovering over Sumatanga. But she had given me my answer, too.

"You mean, then, you'll do nothing at all to help Clyde?" Her words were very quiet. "My father lifted these people into this revolt. He trained them, and encouraged them, and—loved them. Yet you want me to betray them, as completely and as treacherously as any people were ever betrayed."

"The Linkang has a cargo," I said. "We don't have any of the usual trade goods; but we have guns—any number of guns. Suppose we offer the Linkang's cargo of arms in place of the Mantusen loot. You seem to know the Dyaks better than I do; but it looks to me as if we might be able to buy them off yet, with all those guns."

Her voice still had that toneless effect of great distance. "We have the guns," she said. "We have all the guns we need."

I stared at her for a long time. "You speak a civilized language," I said at last. "And you look—well, it can't matter to you how you look to me, and yet you can speak of a mass of vermin-crawling head-hunters—and say 'we.'"

What stopped me then must have been the sight of her hands clenched upon the rail. There wasn't anything else in her posture to suggest tenseness. But even in that indirect light her knuckles shone very white. I could see the veins along the backs of her hands.

"There isn't any way we can talk to each other," I finished lamely. "No," she said. "It's final that you aren't going to do anything to help us."

"It's final that you aren't going to do anything to help us," she said. "It's final that you aren't going to do anything to help us," she said.

ORDER RELEASE OF WINFIELD SCOTT AUSTIN, Feb. 8 (AP)—The supreme court today ordered release of Winfield Scott, Fort Worth man jailed in contempt of a Dallas district court for failure to pay alimony on application of writ of habeas corpus returnable March 1. The court directed that Scott be released on "good and sufficient bond" of $5,000 to be approved by the sheriff of Dallas county pending a hearing on his application or until otherwise ordered by the court. Yesterday it dismissed a similar application without determining whether Scott was illegally restrained. Instead, the highest civil court said his appeal should have been to the Dallas civil appeals court.

Relief (Continued from Page 1) the Federal Farm Security administration "take care of their own." Other Counties Counties carrying the largest loads were: Bexar, which had cut a total of 4,092 to 2,516, due in part, Johnson said, to a great increase at the start of last year by a temporary halt in WPA work due to bad weather and other causes when "these people had nothing to eat." Dallas, a drop from 5,980 to 3,366, explained in the same manner as Bexar. El Paso, an increase from 1,022 to 1,160. Harris, an increase from 3,678 to 4,304, for which Johnson had no explanation. Hunt, a decrease from 1,072 to 870, which Johnson said was due to good crops and the same conditions which occurred in Bexar. Jefferson, a drop from 1,243 to 726, occurring in a similar manner. Lamar, a reduction from 1,812 to 620, to which the same explanation applied. McLennan, a decrease from 1,499 to 932. Nueces, an increase from 342 to 542. Potter, from 525 to 605. Tarrant, 3,231 to 3,247. Wichita, 1,037 to 1,045. Travis, 572 to 646.

Farm Loans To Be Available Growers May Receive Funds For Planting, Feeding WASHINGTON, Feb. 8 (AP)—The Farm Credit Administration announced today emergency loans will be available within ten days to financially distressed farmers for planting spring crops and for feeding their livestock through the growing season. The loans, authorized by congress from a $34,000,000 balance of a similar loan appropriation last year, will be limited as in the past to farmers unable to obtain credit elsewhere. The maximum loan per farmer will be $400. Interest rate will be 4 per cent a year. Officials said demands for loans were expected to be heaviest in the Western plains region, where drought conditions kept many farmers from producing sufficient crops last year to finance operations this year. Farm credit loans will supplement financial assistance to be granted many distressed farmers by the Farm Security Administration, which indicated last week it may appeal to congress for an emergency appropriation of $25,000,000 to help growers in the midwest. Dry weather which has done much damage to the winter wheat crop in Kansas, Nebraska, Oklahoma, Colorado and the Texas panhandle has increased the number of growers needing aid, officials said. The loans will be made, as in former years, under supervision of regional emergency crop loan offices. Cities where the offices are located include Dallas.

New Flood Threats In Michigan DETROIT, Feb. 8 (AP)—Rivers swollen by persistent thaws overflowed their banks in many Michigan communities today reviving a flood menace that seemed to have abated yesterday. The same condition prevailed in Western Ontario where the Thames river resumed a rise that had halted yesterday. The flood danger there was most pressing at Thamesville, near Chatham, Ont. Dammed by a 12-mile ice jam extending from Chatham to Prairie Siding, the Thames overflowed its banks in the Thamesville area, backing up in sewers at Thamesville to flood basements and a highway. The river rose two feet overnight. At Sterling, Ill., the industrial district still was under water but the ice-dotted river was falling gradually between Sterling and Rock Island. The Peconic river rose three inches overnight at Freeport, Ill.

IN THE warehouses Mr. Pinnix has managed in Georgia, North Carolina, and South Carolina, 46,000,000 pounds of tobacco have been sold. Farmers travel many miles to bring their crops to Mr. Pinnix's warehouse for sale. Reason is that they respect his tobacco experience and business integrity. So surely Mr. Pinnix's views are worth your respect, too. "At every market I've ever attended," says Mr. Pinnix, "Lucky Strike has bought the ripest, mellowest tobacco offered. That's why I've smoked Luckies ever since I first became a warehouseman 20 years ago." Mr. Pinnix's statement is borne out by sworn records which show that, among independent tobacco experts—auctioneers, buyers, and warehousemen—Luckies have over twice as many exclusive smokers as have all the other cigarettes combined.

NEW GRAZING RULES TO BE SET UP WASHINGTON, Feb. 8 (AP)—Grazing officials said today new rules for the administration of the 142,000,000 acres of public lands would be submitted to Secretary Ickes within a few days. The new rules, if approved, would supplant temporary regulations in force since passage of the Taylor Grazing Act. Officials said the new regulations, drawn from recommendations of livestock men, are intended to further the government's program of protecting the range from overgrazing.

Common Sense About Constipation If you know that your constipation is caused by something that you eat, wouldn't it be just common sense to put that something back? Your trouble may be caused by nothing more than this. For the most common kind of constipation is due to lack of "bulk" in the bowels—you need some food that passes on through the bowels without being digested. Nature's all-Bran supplies this. It gives the bowels the bulky mass they need to work properly. All-Bran also gives them the essential-laxative, vitamin B, which helps restore their tone. Buy All-Bran as a cereal or bran in small amounts. But however you use it, be sure you get some every day. And drink plenty of water. All-Bran is made by Post in Seattle, Wash. Sold by every grocer.
