

Hired Hand Some Of Us Are Inferior

With due respect to Dr. Norman Vincent Peale and his cult of confidence, I would like to suggest that positive thinking is fine for some people, but that positive thinking, like some advertised deodorants, just doesn't work for everybody.

That may be what's wrong with the modern American. We all think we have inferiority complexes, and whether we have or not we spend all our energies trying to promote our own aggressiveness.

It might be that we need reality is to be content with our lot, and not hiring super-salesmen to make us want more. It just doesn't make sense that we would want to be confident in areas beyond our powers.

This doesn't mean we should all become pessimists and defeatists. Only that we should become realists. We should see ourselves for what we are, and appreciate the virtues we have.

President Tells Editors Of Aims

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson told the nation's editors Friday that he wants his administration to "ignite a fire in the breast of this land" and improve the lot of all humanity.

Addressing delegates to the convention of the American Society of Newspaper Editors, who went to the White House for a reception, the President said he wants to kindle "a flaming spirit of adventure."

The result, he said, could be "greatness and achievement." The President spoke to the group from the steps outside his office. The editors, many accompanied by their wives, stood before him in the flower garden.

Johnson plugged hard for his priority legislative goals—civil rights, the antipoverty program, health care for the elderly, a federal pay raise bill and immigration legislation.

And he said that in foreign fields, "We intend to pursue peace relentlessly because that is what the world demands."

The chief executive said the world lives "in the shadows of atomic power, and it is not rhetoric but it is true to say that we must love each other or we must die."

After his serious talk, the President shifted swiftly to a socializing role and led some marathon dancing in the crowded East Ballroom of the White House.

The President started off the dancing and stayed on the floor for an hour and 20 minutes. He even started up the orchestra again, when one editor's wife, Mrs. Martin Ochs of the Chattanooga Times, said she hadn't danced with the President yet.

About 1,000 editors and wives were invited to the reception that became a swinging dance party with refreshments served from five bars and two buffet tables in the formal rooms of the executive mansion.

Doctors' Strike Ends In Belgium

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — Belgium's doctors' strike ended early Saturday after 18 days of wrangling by the government and the strikers over provisions of a controversial socialized medical law.

Justice Minister Pierre Vermeulen read newsmen a communique saying the embattled doctors had agreed to call off the strike.

He added that no understanding was reached, however, on

Negotiators Said Making Some Progress

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson said Friday night a nationwide railroad strike "would almost paralyze our whole system."

Johnson said a strike would cause the loss of 7 million jobs in a very short time and would cause a downturn in the nation's total production of 10 to 15 per cent.

Speaking to a group of newspaper editors in the White House rose garden, Johnson also said a national train tieup would create "great dangers in health" to the nation's people. Johnson spoke as negotiators for five unions and nearly 200 railroads continued day and night sessions in emergency bargaining talks set up by Johnson.

Church Report Pages 6-7

Johnson's remarks to the visiting editors were part of an extemporaneous talk about "the job which fate has thrust upon me."

He gestured in the direction of the Executive Office Building next door to the White House and told the editors that negotiators and federal mediators were "engaged in intensive collective bargaining" there.

He said he set up the talks "to help railroad labor and railroad management solve their problems."

A cautious note of hope filtered out of the tightly guarded negotiations.

"I think we're getting somewhere," said a source close to the White House negotiations between five unions and nearly 200 railroads.

The White House, controlling all official information on the talks, still refrained from describing the outlook as either optimistic or pessimistic, although President Johnson said Thursday he hopes for a voluntary settlement by the end of this week.

Johnson said he should know by Monday whether the talks can succeed.

A 12:01 a.m. April 25 strike deadline hangs over the negotiations.

Woman Ends Solo Flight Around World

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Jerri Mock set her single-engine plane down at Port Columbus at 9:36 p.m. Friday night and became the first woman to fly solo around the world.

"Jerri, we've got a cold one on the rocks waiting for you," a message went out from the airport's control tower.

The 38-year-old housewife descended the red and white "Spirit of Columbus" to hugs and kisses from her three children and husband, Russell, and two cheers from thousands of spectators.

The warm spring evening and the historic landing attracted Columbus residents to the airport observation deck. Waving and smiling, Mrs. Mock responded to state and city officials and a score of newsmen and photographers on the windy field.

The aviatrix began her long flight home Friday morning from Tucson, Ariz. She flew first to El Paso, Tex. to pick up extra mileage required for the record books in establishing round-the-world flight. She logged about 200 flight hours and also set a record as the first woman to fly solo across the Pacific Ocean.

Blast Injures 6 Near Shamrock

SHAMROCK (AP)—Six persons were injured, four critically, when an explosion rocked a Consolidated gas plant at Pagan, Tex., Friday night. The plant, which had been closed, was being reactivated at the time of the blast, believed caused by a cutting torch.

H. H. Neuhaus, a truck driver whose son was among the critically injured, told of the 8:15 p.m. explosion. "Everything happened so fast, I hardly knew what was going on, but I saw five men running, all with their clothes on fire," he said.

The four critically injured were Herman Watkins, 34, Shamrock; Glenn Neuhaus, 21, Shamrock; Kenneth Satterfield, 35, Lafors; and L. B. McNeil, 52, McLean.

McNeil's son, Kenneth, 19, was believed less seriously injured. Blood plasma, running short at Shamrock, was being flown from Amarillo for the injured men.

IN SCHOOL BOARD ELECTION

Opinion On Vote Recount Sought

By JACK COATS A quorum of trustees of the Wichita Falls Independent School District, in a called meeting at 5:15 p.m. Friday, voted to seek an official opinion from Attorney General Waggoner Carr on three questions in connection with the controversial request for a recount of ballots in the April 4 school board election.

The questions which would be asked Carr, as interpreted by Marvin Pierce, attorney for the school district, are:

1. Did the school board have the authority to reopen ballot boxes at the time of formal canvassing of the votes at the last board meeting Monday?

2. Can a district court order a recount in the absence of a showing of misconduct or other irregularities which would have changed the result of the election?

3. If a district judge does have authority to order a recount, can a member of the board of trustees who was not a candidate become a proper party to bring the case to a district court by virtue of "public criticism?"

The three questions which Pierce said will be asked of Carr were paraphrased by the attorney, who was reading from a copy of the formal request from the board of trustees which will be mailed to the attorney general.

Release Indicated Newsmen were not shown copies of the letter.

It was explained, however, by Floyd Randel, president of the board, that the copies would be released to newsmen early next week after Carr had sufficient time to receive the request.

"We're not withholding anything. We just don't believe it would be ethical to give the press copies of a letter sent to Mr. Carr before he has an opportunity to receive and read the request," Randel said.

"We certainly don't have any objection to releasing copies of the letter next week, however."

Trustee Dick Harris made the motion to make the formal request, and the motion was seconded by Warren Silver, newly-elected to the board.

Attending the meeting besides Randel, Harris and Silver were Ikar Smith, vice president of the board; J. Phillip Cunningham; Joe B. McNeil, superin-

Defense Spending Request Approved

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee showed firm approval for Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara's military policies Friday by recommending $46.8 billion in new defense funds for the next fiscal year.

The committee, by describing the U.S. missile force as one that "can be depended upon," placed itself squarely in opposition to statements by a Republican presidential aspirant, Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., that the missiles are undependable.

The committee showed its support for McNamara as it cut the Johnson administration's budget request for the Defense Department by $712 million—a comparatively small amount in the dizzying world of defense spending.

More important, the committee did not—as Congress has done five times in the past 10 years—increase the size of the defense budget. A boost in the budget would have been a sure sign that the committee did not agree with McNamara's policies and believed he should start some new projects that he had rejected.

The committee, for example, refused to overrule McNamara and heed the request of Vice Adm. Hyman G. Rickover for extra money so a new aircraft carrier could be powered by nuclear energy instead of conventional fuel. McNamara rejected plans for a nuclear carrier.

As the committee noted in its report, which was written by Rep. George Mahon, D-Tex., "This year, more so than in many previous years, the committee has adopted, to a large degree, the program presented in the budget."

A medical bulletin said: "The operation took place normally. The condition of Gen. de Gaulle is very satisfactory." It was signed by Drs. Pierre Aboulker, Roger Parlier and Jean Lassner.

Ruby Eager To Testify

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Convicted killer Jack Ruby is eager to appear before the Warren commission investigating the assassination of President John F. Kennedy, attorney Joe Tonahill said Friday.

Tonahill is one of three lawyers working on appeal motions for Ruby, who was sentenced to the electric chair for slaying accused assassin Lee Harvey Oswald.

After visiting Ruby on Friday in his jail cell, Tonahill told a newsman: "Jack is eager to appear before the commission, either in Dallas or Washington. He wants to cooperate in every way, and answer any questions they might have. He is willing to submit to a polygraph-like detector—test also."

Tonahill said he, along with fellow defense attorneys Phil Burleson and Dr. Hubert Winston Smith, will be at Ruby's side if he does testify.

Asked how Ruby was faring in jail, Tonahill replied: "Yesterday he was in good spirits, today he was just the opposite. His moods swing back and forth. But he still retains his dignity."

Ruby, a former physical fitness devotee, does exercises to keep in shape, Tonahill said.

isable in counting this many ballots. It is my understanding that at Reagan Junior High School voting box, that the ballots were recounted only for Mrs. Doing and myself."

Members of the board Monday declined to recount the ballots on the advice of their attorney, who said trustees did not have such authority.

Following advice from their attorney, the board then completed the formal canvassing of the election, and declared these results:

Silver, 3,402 votes; Mrs. Doing, 1,701; Mrs. Thacker, 1,688; Frank Gibson, 1,478 and R. W. Harless, 1,423.

Based on that canvass, Silver and Mrs. Doing were sworn in for six-year terms.

Commenting on Friday's action by the board, Mrs. Thacker issued this statement:

"I have not been advised by the school board concerning the request to the attorney general, nor was I advised of the special meeting. I would have appreciated an opportunity for my husband, who is an attorney, and myself, to have been consulted in regard to the request."

Body Of Man Unidentified

VERNON, Tex. (Special) — The body of an unidentified man found Friday morning one-half mile north of the Tolbert community lying near the railroad tracks remained anonymous late Friday night.

Authorities estimated the man had been dead for about 36 hours before his body was discovered and reported by the engineer of a passing Fort Worth and Denver train. Fingerprint and dental identification checks were being made to establish the dead man's identity.

Wilbarger County Sheriff Loran (Fuzzy) Smith said the man, between 40 and 50 years of age, had apparently fallen from something since the body bore lacerations and bruises from the cinder ballast of the railroad bed.

Three Policemen Handcuffed, Shot

LAWRENCEVILLE, Ga. (AP) — Three policemen were handcuffed together and shot to death in a remote wooded area early Friday after the three apparently surprised a gang of car thieves.

Ironically, the Gwinnett County officers were on a mercy mission at the time. One of them was ill and the other two were taking him home. All three were married. Two of them had children.

The bodies of Jerry R. Everett, 28; Ralph K. Davis, 49; and J. N. Gravitt, 52, were found in a pile in an area about 15 miles northeast of Atlanta.

Investigators said indications were the men died from bullets fired from their own pistols. There were bullet wounds in their heads and stomachs.

The officers' pistols were missing.

FBI agents were assisting with technical aspects but police, sheriff's officers and Georgia Bureau of Investigation agents were handling the inquiry.

"I figure there were at least five or six in the gang of car thieves," said J. O. Bell, county police chief.

The chief said Gravitt, the father of one son, was ill, and the other night watch officers were taking him home when they received a radio call to investigate suspicious activity near the Northeast Expressway.

Tim Pruitt, dispatcher at the county jail, said he made the call to the officers after A. C. Mills telephoned him about 1:30 a.m. and reported two cars were running back and forth on a dirt road in front of his house.

County Commissioner Ullan Freeman said Mills saw some of the developments from his home.

One of the cars roared off but the officers overtook it and returned to where the other car was parked. Soon afterward the dome light in the police car went out.

"We assume that they gained control of the officers at that point," Freeman said.

"They handcuffed the three officers together, put them in one of their cars and proceeded down a dirt road about half a mile to an old house.

"There they took the officers out, walked them through the pines about 30 yards off the road, lined them up and shot them."

One of the automobiles was set afire but Freeman said enough identification was left to determine that it had been stolen Thursday night in Atlanta.

The tragedy was discovered after a motorist saw the abandoned police car.

"The thieves had backed the police car off the road and stripped it of radio, siren and blinker lights," he said.

Can You Give A Fun Party On Short Notice?

By JOHN ROBERT POWERS

Could you give a party tonight? An impromptu party that would be lively and as much fun for you as for the guests? Could you call six or eight friends right now and find them on your doorstep by eight, with you ready for them?

No one could be critical if your answer is no, not tonight, because the responsibilities of a busy life might reasonably well make such a thing impossible. But if there are days when yes would be the answer, when the spirit moves you to assemble gay company on the spur of the moment and you could put a party together in a hurry, I'm sure that I know something about you. You're a charmer, a wonderful hostess and girl who knows well how to order her days.

Think of the bright personalities of those you know who seem always to have people about them, to whose homes the crowd gravitates. There's something special about their friendliness and attentiveness to others. They enjoy life unmistakably, have enthusiasm that's catching. Their homes aren't always the handsomest and entertaining there may not be elaborate, but everyone loves being there and does his utmost to make every gathering a success without being conscious of making any effort.

Anyone who entertains often and joyfully has more than her share of the outgoingness that's so great a part of charm. There's much to be learned from her of warmth, of reaching more than halfway toward anyone new, and of keeping friends as well as making them. And also of light-heartedness and the wisdom of putting certain first things first — enjoyment of friends before stress and strain about the house and what and how to serve. Beneath it all, too, is steady day-by-day keeping up of high personal and home-keeping standards, which, more than anything else means good management of effort and time.

Women Drivers Given Pointers On Car Safety

By DELL MARTIN
Women who didn't know the transmission from the differential when it comes to cars were considerably enlightened at the Powder Puff Mechanics Course offered Thursday morning at the YWCA as a bonus for members.

For instance, headlights of a car should be on when a person is driving a half hour before sunset and a half hour before sunrise, and the driver of a car is guilty of infraction of the law if headlights are more than one per cent out of line.

These facts were given by Ralph Watkins of the Texas Drivers School for the YWCA. The two-hour session was held in the interest of helping women drivers learn how to detect some of the major troubles when their cars cease to function properly. Watkins suggested to the women drivers that they have the car equipped with a flashlight or portable stop light at all times. "Jump cable" for re-charging batteries, pliers and snap-on mud chains. He also said it is an excellent idea to carry a small fire extinguisher.

A driver should keep the car in good repair by regular check on tires, brakes, including hand emergency brake or steering, oil, transmission fluid, the differential gearing and the universal joints to mention only a few of the many points in operating a car, the safety expert said. The best tires should be kept on the front wheels for safety and regular checking of alignment of wheels and the steering gear is very important. It is comparatively safe to drive a car with the oil one quart low, but beyond that one should have oil added or have the crankcase drained and refilled, Watkins said. Ordinarily the oil filter should be changed about every other time one has the car washed and lubricated. Washing and lubricating should usually be done every 1,000 or 1,500 miles under ordinary driving conditions, he advised.

HD Clubs Hear Political Talk

W. R. Pastuszek, a representative of Texas Electric Service Company, spoke to members of the Merry Makers and the Homemakers Home Demonstration clubs at a joint meeting Thursday morning. "Politics" were discussed by the speaker. Pastuszek told the group the correct procedure to follow in organizing a meeting from the county precinct level up to the National Convention. He stressed the importance of organization and one must have his mind made up and act if he intends to run over his issue or candidate. The speaker brought out the fact that from 40 to 60 per cent of the nation's population never vote. He stressed the importance of voting and said that the people of America should count their blessings and be thankful for a country where the people choose their leaders.

Hostesses for the meeting held in the Sunnyside Methodist Church were Mmes. Jim Roberts and Elbert Seal. They served refreshments following the program. The next meeting will be May 7.

vised. Staying with one brand of oil is best for the car.

In case of fire and in the absence of a fire extinguisher, pouring sand on the flame often will extinguish it the speaker said. In this category he pointed out that an engine should never be primed with gasoline while the motor is running.

Watkins placed great emphasis on the good condition of the hand emergency brake of a car and on the driver's keeping in the practice of using it so that in an emergency she will almost automatically use it.

He said that lightly pumping brakes before fully applying them is good — among other things it lets the driver know whether or not the brakes are working properly. And he warned that brakes can go out suddenly and in very precarious circumstances.

One should see that the battery water is checked every two weeks under ordinary driving conditions and should be sure that nothing except distilled water is used in the battery. The battery should be kept free of corrosion. And the "jump cable" comes in handy when a car is away from a service center because the battery can be recharged from another car.

Watkins advised that the radiator of a car should be completely flushed twice a year and that water in the radiator should be kept at a level just below the neck of the pipe opening.

A question and answer period was followed by a demonstration on the speaker's own car.

Ann Landers Says Professional Help Urgent For Alcoholic Husband

Dear Ann Landers: I'm 25 and my husband is 27. We've been married four years. Don is a good person but when he drinks too much he is impossible.

About eight times a year he goes on a tool. The first clue is when he doesn't come home for dinner. As the night wears on I go crazy. When he shows up the next afternoon all he says is, "Don't ask me any questions."

Last week Don got drunk in a restaurant and picked an argument with a college kid. They ended up in a catfight, squirting each other from the plastic bottles. We were ordered to leave.

I've tried talking myself dry but Don insists he has no problem. I even left him twice but he begged me to come back—and promised to do better. Please tell me what to do.—DUMB DODO

Dear Dodo: Your husband is an alcoholic. He needs help more than your threats.

The city health department can lead you to groups which offer help to alcoholics. Of course you can't drag the guy. Conquering alcoholism is the daddy of all do-it-yourself projects.

For you I suggest Al-Anon Family, a branch of A.A. which helps the families of alcoholics understand the nature of the illness. Some Al-Anons eventually get the problem drinker to choose the road to sobriety. Good luck to you.

Dear Ann Landers: Please tell me what to do about ME. Yes, Ann, you are reading right. I am the problem.

My parents are the greatest. I can't say the same for myself. I will be 16 next week and I am the rottenest daughter in 30 states.

Deep down inside I feel like a real beast because everyone thinks I'm an angel. That's because I'm so sweet to outsiders. If they could get a load of me at home they'd be shocked.

Please don't tell me I am going through a stage because it is lasting too long for that. How can I get over being such a lemon — puss at home? Thank you.—MISS WITCH

Dear Miss: The fact that you accept responsibility for the trouble is encouraging. Most teenagers who have problems — with their parents blame the parents. Resolve to control your temper. Count to 20 if 10 isn't enough. Pitch in at home and offer to do things. Everyone has grouchy spells. When you feel one coming on go off by yourself so you don't make life unpleasant for your family. You can do better because you want to.

Dear Ann Landers: I am a respectable girl who works in a bank. The woman in the next apartment is an attractive beauty.

'Scent Of Roses' Is Reviewed For 1930 Study Club

Mrs. Oscar Hudson reviewed "The Scent of Roses" by Aleen Leslie for members of the 1930 Study Club meeting in the home of Mrs. Harold Ford Wednesday afternoon.

The book reviewed is the humorous story of the Weber family recalling to memory the days of the year 1908 when there were trolley cars, hansom cabs and pianos; when motor cars and electric lights were novelties.

Mrs. Hudson said the book was written on inspiration from a quotation from Thomas Moore: "You may break, you may shatter the vase if you will, but the scent of the roses will hang round it still."

Following the review, a refreshment plate was served to 16 members.

The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. G. T. Kimbell, 4211 Lake Park Drive, April 29.

Second Mistrial For Beckwith

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—The second murder trial of Byron De La Beckwith, a dedicated segregationist accused of killing "the general" of the Mississippi integration movement, ended Friday with a hung jury.

Circuit Judge Leon Hendrick ordered a mistrial and set Beckwith's bond at $10,000.

Beckwith, a Greenwood, Miss. fertilizer salesman, is accused of being the sniper who shot Negro integration leader Medger Evers in the back last June 12.

The crime inflamed racial tensions in this Southern state and shocked the nation. The all-white jury reported itself hopelessly deadlocked after 18 hours of deliberation and many ballots. The vote was eight to four for acquittal. The first trial ended Feb. 7 with the jury divided six to six.

It was not certain whether there would be a third trial. Dist. Atty. William Waller said it was not definite the state would prosecute the case further. "I don't see any way we could ever put on a better case than we did at this time," he said.

Hardy Lott, Beckwith's chief attorney, said the defense would

Dr. Travis White Discusses Future Of Christian Churches

HOUSTON, Tex. — The future for the Christian Churches (Disciples of Christ) depends upon their positive answer to the question: "Is there anything about the Christian Churches and their message that is really valid for the world we confront?" Dr. Travis A. White of Wichita Falls told some 3,200 delegates and church leaders at the opening session of their 77th assembly in Music Hall here Thursday evening.

"Both the portrayal of the rightness which is ours and the wrongness born of our weakness is relevant to the life of every Christian here and every church in the Association," Dr. White said.

The speaker is concluding a second term as president of the Texas Association of Christian Churches, assembly sponsor. His theme was "What's Right With the Christian Church Today."

Dr. White said the Christian Church "is right in its allegiance to the quest of our fathers for the unity of God's people... for only as the Christian front in a pagan world is closed in united effort can we hope to fulfill our Master's dream of a Kingdom of Righteousness."

"In all humility but with genuine conviction," he said, "there is a rightness in us as a people."

Dr. White cited the Disciples as a "movement confronting a work where godless materialism baits the church."

"No longer can we, or any of the various 'brands' or the Christian faith, go it alone," he said. Unity, according to the Disciple tradition, the speaker said, will be achieved through a "scholarly, rational approach to the Scriptures, seeking the spirit as well as the letter of the law," through an acceptance of Christ's "will and purpose for us all," and through committing ourselves to the "true basis of Christian fellowship, which is love not theological exactitude."

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Every gardener knows human ingenuity cannot be substituted for the miracle of growth. God's secret is God's!

But he knows, too, that wild growth means wilderness. Only cultivation makes a garden.

So he works with God. And the result is beauty, fruitfulness, abundance.

What the man with the green thumb practices in his back yard, the Church inspires across the whole expanse of human effort... the cultivation of souls... the realization of our spiritual potential, Working with God!

What do YOU think life is meant to be?

Wilderness? Or the Garden of God?

Join us at Church next Sunday!

A-Bomb Supply Was Small During 1950

By JACK ANDERSON
EDITOR'S NOTE: The Drew Pearson column today is written by Jack Anderson while Pearson is in the Middle West.

WASHINGTON — One of the most important points raised by Gen. Douglas MacArthur in his posthumous criticism of President Truman and Great Britain regarding the Korean War was their ban against use of the atomic bomb. According to Mac-

Arthur, dropping thirty to fifty A-bombs would have brought victory for the United States in Korea:

The hitherto confidential files of the Defense Department, however, show that there were two very important factors wrong with MacArthur's strategy:

1. The United States at that time had only twenty atomic bombs, and MacArthur wanted to use more than we actually had. This left nothing in reserve in case the communists retaliated against Berlin or other parts of Europe, as we feared.

2. It was impossible to locate sufficient concentrations of Chinese troops in North Korea to justify dropping atomic bombs. It is true that when the Chiese burst into Korea, the retreating Eighth Army pleaded for nuclear support. At that time, the Fifth Air Force drew up a list of targets for an atomic strike, but not one was considered to be worth such massive destruction. It would have been the old story of using an elephant gun to kill a mouse.

Gen. George Stratemeyer, then Air Force commander in the Far East, ordered a thoroughgoing air search of North Korea for troop concentration, supply centers, and other atomic-size targets. He sent the following secret instructions, message No. AX-4773-B, Dated Dec. 20, 1950, to Gen. Earle Partridge, the Fifteenth Air Force commander:

"It is directed that you by every reconnaissance means possible and by photography, both day and night, by daylight strip photography, carry on working 24 hours a day if need be to find out where the communists are."

Reconnaissance planes swept up and down Korea, taking detailed photographs of every inch of communist territory. But they were unable to locate the Chinese troop concentrations, except for disclosing some probable billeting areas. The mountains and forests simply offered too much natural camouflage for the cameras to penetrate.

Not One Wheel Track
Gen. Hoyt Vandenberg, the Air Force Chief, a Republican, even made a personal search during a battlefield inspection trip through North Korea. He reported back to the Pentagon:

"General Partridge and I got in a C-47, and we flew 5,000 feet high on a 20-mile strip back and forth up to MIG alley. A light snow was falling that evening. I didn't see one wheel track, and we covered four or five of the main roads. I didn't see one column of smoke. I didn't see one individual."

"Now where are you going to drop an A-bomb?" I went out to find some people; I thought maybe I could shoot two or three with a pistol from that C-47. Well I couldn't see one.

"Now, that doesn't mean the Air Force at times doesn't get long lines of trucks, but, my God, you're not going to drop an A-bomb on a four-mile column, are you? You're not going to drop an A-bomb on a platoon that's advancing a skirmish, are you?"

"The talk about getting them in a concentration area back of the battlefield. To my knowledge in the Korean War—and there've been 600,000 soldiers there, more or less—there have been very few division attacks. They come by a platoon; then a regiment, then another regiment."

"Even in the regiments, you only see very few people. Where are you going to drop the A-bomb? Now there are choke points, sure there are choke points. Along the railroad lines where the broad gauge and the narrow gauge come together. A B-29 can drop a couple of hundred tons of TNT on that thing, and you can knock it out just as well ..."

"Now, the popular concept of retardation is where you've got a mass of people coming up against a mass of people, and you're going to drop an A-bomb in front of them, and they're going to disappear, and you win the war. Now, that isn't so."

No Simple Solutions
That was the personal report of the Air Force Chief of Staff. Meanwhile the Army made a report of its own, dated Feb. 1, 1951. It found that earlier in the war, in November and December, when the Chinese were advancing against MacArthur, there were heavy concentrations of troops in North Korea.

However, they disappeared almost as rapidly as they gathered. They could have been knocked out just about as effectively by conventional bombs as atomic bombs, but in each case the Chinese troops vanished into the mountains and forests before they could be sighted and any kind of attack carried out.

In other words, the simple solutions suggested for ending the Korean War weren't always as simple as they sounded. Gen. Vandenberg put it this way during his secret report to the Pentagon:

"If any group has ever had the advice of more people who are incapable of giving military advice than has the Joint Chiefs of Staff, I don't know who they are. We have had it from everybody. We've had it from the newspapers; we've had it from the scientists; we've had it from the Congress. And any civilian that will get you off in a corner after about three drinks will tell you how you ought to win the war in Korea."

Our Great Moments

In rare moments in human history men have the intellectual or aspirational capacity to catch a glimpse of eternal verities.

It was at such peaks of achievement that Moses received the famed decalogue, the basis of our moral codes and foundation of the religions of most of the Western World. Or in such an hour of inspiration Michaelangelo caught the magnificent beauty which has intrigued the whole world. Or in more modern times and selfless German physicist Einstein captured the magic of greater dimensions than the physical world about him and moved us into the nuclear age.

What genius it is that gives such individuals the ability to "leap forward" ahead of the rest of us is difficult to define. However, the achievements of such great souls are a challenge to the rest of us.

We can not know what beauty or what progress we each could create if we pay the price in spiritual or intellectual dedication.

We are bothered by too many trivial or unimportant matters. Emotions such as prejudice and hatred blind us to the infinite capacities of our own heart and minds.

Such great hearts have pulled us upward—at times almost as if by the hair of our heads to the current peak of civilization. We follow them reluctantly. Or even worse we have burned them at the stake or hanged them on a cross.

The strange part is that we are not basically mean or narrow individuals. Recently Wichitans poured out their heart, time and means to help those who suffered in a disaster. Now will we return to of thoughtless ways and forget the everyday needs of so many suffering around the world about whom we should be concerned?

This is a time in history when we all should find some quiet corner to think about trying to catch that moment which made our great souls so great. And in that moment pledge ourselves to a dedication of doing our best to bring to all the world the liberties and privileges we enjoy.

Newsmen Fear Wiretapping

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Wiretapping and phone monitoring have become so prevalent in the national capital that many officials, members of Congress and newsmen are sedulously avoiding discussing confidential matters over the phone.

Instead, they are taking the time and trouble to resort to private conferences.

Graphic instances of the reason for this spreading distrust of telephones in Washington, about which little is being said publicly but which is a common subject of conversation, are the following:

A prominent Southern congressman has personally complained to President Johnson about a suspected tap of his home phone. The indignant legislator related that on one occasion his wife picked up the phone and actually heard a discussion of the tap by two apparent wiremen.

News Call

A well-known woman correspondent phoned her newspaper with an exclusive tip on an impending judicial appointment. A half hour later she was called by the White House and sharply informed her information was inaccurate—a claim that was false as the appointment was made several days later. When the newswoman irately phoned her paper about this extraordinary White House kickback, she was emphatically assured her scoop had not been conveyed to anyone.

The press gallery phone booth used by the woman reporter has become highly suspect to other correspondents as a result of this and a series of similar incidents. Pressmen are now referring to this booth as the "tap line."

Staff directors of two Senate committees have installed private phone lines that do not go through the Capitol switchboard. These lines are checked frequently to ensure they are not tapped.

A top Democratic congressional leader privately is making no bones that he no longer discusses security matters over the phone because of several experiences that convinced him his phone was tapped.

Who is Doing It
This shocking backstage situation has become so serious that it is under investigation by three congressional committees.

They are the Senate Internal Security Committee, headed by Senator James Eastland, D-Miss., the Senate Commerce Committee, headed by Senator Warren Magnuson, D-Wash., and the Government Operation Subcommittee, headed by Representative John Moss, D-Calif.

Moss, limiting his probe to phone monitoring, already has established the startling fact that some 40 government agencies are secretly resorting to this practice by using conversation-recording devices.

Senator Howard Cannon, D-Nev., member of the Commerce Committee, has first-hand knowledge of wiretapping as a result of a flood of complaints from Las Vegas hotels. They charge numerous instances of Justice Department tapping of their phones, in one case "bugging" the entire switchboard of a hotel by agents operating from a nearby building.

Explanation

Cannon has a considerable file of correspondence with the Justice Department on these charges and his demand for a full explanation.

Senator Eastland's Internal Security Committee is probing the wiretapping activities of a private detective agency which reportedly is doing this kind of work for the State Department, Justice Department and Central Intelligence Agency.

Launched six years ago by a former Intelligence officer who served in the OSS during World War II, the agency has a number of branches in the U.S. and abroad. One of its officials sold out his interest after becoming involved in a sensational proxy fight.

During that covert operation, evidence was uncovered about the then-clandestine business activities of "Bobby" Baker, former secretary of the Senate Democrats. This significant information was quietly channeled to the Justice Department and another government agency several years before Baker's affairs became the target of a headline Senate investigation—that is still smoldering.

The Senate probes have been told that this detective agency was employed to tap the home phone of Otto Otepka, State Department security official suspended last year for furnishing information to the Internal Security Committee "without authorization."

Otepka, still on the State Department's payroll, but kept from doing any work, is awaiting formal proceedings on the charges against him. The Department has repeatedly shied away from pressing its complaint.

From a high telephone company official, the Senate investigators have received a lengthy memorandum that sheds detailed light on wiretapping by government agencies including one with the Department of Justice.

Washington
GOP Governors Restless

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

WASHINGTON —(NEA)— The band of Republican governors may be small — just 16 in number — but they are showing a lively interest in expansion.

They have just met in Washington in an aggressive mood. Led by the able Gov. Robert Smylie of Idaho, they are eager to carry the fight to their Democratic adversaries, to enlarge GOP statehouse control, to add luster to themselves and their party generally.

Organized for the first time in formal caucus last July at the Governors' Conference in Miami Beach, the Republican governors met in Denver in September. In the Washington session, their third, they plunged into substantive matters.

First off, the governors inspected a chunky memorandum which lays out in hard terms the prospects for adding new governors to their slim roster. Most optimistic forecast suggested in this document is a pickup of six or seven new Democratic statehouses. But it is indicated the gain could be as slender as one.

On the block are 18 Democratic statehouses, 7 Republican. The memorandum conveys the notion that Vermont, now under Democratic Gov. Phillip Hoff, is the best GOP bet for November. Other states rated promising battlegrounds: West Virginia, Washington, Wisconsin, Delaware, Massachusetts and perhaps Illinois.

If Republicans add all these to their present base, they would hold 23 of the 50 governorships — their highest proportion since the mid-1950s.

But they might suffer some slippage in areas now controlled. Utah Republicans are in confusion since Gov. George Clyde announced he would not seek re-election. The party grip on the state is imperiled by a five-way fight for the nomination. Among the contenders is J. Bracken Lee, former governor and controversial right-wing figure.

Arizona is rated safe so long as Gov. Paul Fannin goes again. But if Sen. Barry Goldwater should be nominated for president, Fannin might seek Goldwater's Senate seat and toss the governorship into doubt.

The GOP governors' caucus also reviewed congressional reapportionment with this overriding idea: to urge speedy redistricting in those areas where Republicans in statehouse control can influence the outcome favorably for their party. That means action soon.

Another significant caucus memorandum focused on civil rights. Details have not been released. The document acquainted the governors with what their colleagues have done and said on this bristling issue in GOP-controlled states.

This information may serve the party in its fall warfare on the statehouse front.

Since the report — seen by this correspondent — touches Republican performance respecting Negro and other minorities in employment, housing and public accommodations, some of its data may turn up in GOP senators' arguments on the pending civil rights bill.

Other research papers delve into broad economic and social comparisons among the 50 states. Naturally they stress the most favorable conditions and developments to be found in presently Republican states. Here again, these materials may help fuel up 1964 GOP governorship nominees.

The Republicans seem bent on taking ground some of them feel has too often gone to the Democrats by default in earlier years. But they know they are going uphill.

Prayer
For Today

O God, in the springtime of the year we come to Thee, asking that, as Thou dost make all things new in the world of nature, so Thou wilt also make our lives new creations. Fill us with Thy power giving, life giving Spirit, so that we may attempt what seems to us impossible and make it real, so that we may find those whom we have considered unattractive and unlovable people becoming useful members of society in response to our love. So inspire us with that self-same Spirit that we may do our part in the remaking of the world and the redemption of mankind; for Jesus' sake. Amen.

Whirligig
Good Citizens

By ANDREW TULLY

WASHINGTON — It is nice to know that the President of the United States himself has come out squarely in favor of the nation's kids. They can use a Lyndon Johnson saying out loud that they're pretty good citizens and maybe even more moral than their parents were.

This is an opinion I have held for some years, as a result of close contact with a gaggle of assorted tads of both sexes. These young folks may be kind of nutty about objects like guitars and the Beatles, but they are also interested in issues such as civil rights, the Bomb and Charles de Gaulle. At their age, my participation in world affairs was largely confined to wisecracks about Herbie Hoover's collars and expert commentary on a pug named Gene Tunney.

The Skeptic Generation
Moreover, I do not believe today's kids fall for the kind of phony jazz in which I was always getting personally involved. This was brought home to me recently by an encounter with a young male who was chuckling over an advertisement in a sports magazine. "How do you like that?" he asked. "Here's some phony professor who says he can train me to be a hypnotist. He must think kids are a bunch of idiots."

Frankly, I crept away abashed. Not for all Bobby Baker's money would I have confessed to that intellectual sprout that in a far-off day his sire had enrolled in a mail-order hypnotism course guaranteed to transform him into a mental giant possessed of courage, poise, polish, self-confidence and self-control.

Inept Svengali
It was bad enough when I bought the Charles Atlas muscle-building set and went about exhibiting my biceps and chest expansion. But when I became a Svengali in search of a Trilby my activities were a menace to the community. Things got to a point where the family was trying to decide whether to ship me off to reform school or trade me for a Laplander.

I didn't want to heal anybody. I just wanted to work my will on people. These included my parents, my three sisters, a pretty girl in the sixth grade at St. Mary's School, a patient but muscular nun, and assorted neighbors.

It Didn't Work

Summoned to Pa's presence for not getting home from school on time, I fixed that parent with what I fondly believed to be a penetrating gaze and mumbled self-consciously, "You will do what I say. You will do what I say." Pa merely smiled me to my bedroom, then strode into the kitchen to report to the mother of the house that "I think that boy needs a good physic."

The pretty girl reacted only by complaining to the nun that "Andy Tully keeps staring at me." The nun approached me, brandishing a ruler, whereupon I hurriedly intoned the hypnotic command, "You will not chastise Andrew." That drew 10 whacks on each hand from Sister Gregory, and the sentence of a week after school.

Happily for both my family and me, I snapped out of the hypnotism craze one day when I saw a picture of Katherine Cornell in a magazine, fell in love with her and decided to be an actor.

Joiner Seeks State Post

Harry Joiner, well-known worker in Democratic Party activities and Precinct Chairman of Precinct 45, has announced his candidacy for the State Legislature from Wichita County, Place 2. He seeks the nomination subject to the Democratic Primary May 2.

Joiner moved to Wichita Falls in 1938 as assistant manager and treasurer of the State Theatre. He has remained here since, with the exception of a period during World War II when he was engaged in defense work, predominantly as an explosives operator at the Longhorn Ordnance Works at Karnack, Texas. He returned to Wichita Falls in 1945.

He worked five years with American National Insurance Company in its industrial department before he changed employment to work for Panhandle Oil Co., predecessor to American Petrofina Company. He is currently employed as an operator of the catalytic polymerization unit at the Fina refinery. As an employee there he joined the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers Union Local 4-489, which represents the hourly employees at the refinery. Joiner has held many offices in the union and other labor groups with which the local is affiliated. He is a past president of the Wichita Falls Trades and Labor Council and is currently a member of its executive board.

Family

In 1939 Joiner married Billie Alexander of Burkburnett. They have three sons; Frank, now 21 and married, is an honor student and senior at TCU; David, 19, is a freshman music student at Midwestern University; Pat, 11, is a fifth grader at Crockett and a tenderfoot Scout in Troop 15 (where his brother Frank had attained the rank of Eagle). Joiner is a member of the troop committee.

The Joiners, believing that "busy boys are better boys," have built their own home at 2121 Garfield as a family project. There is still enough room to add on and keep the youngest busy and occupied.

In announcing his candidacy Harry Joiner made the following statement: "I feel that the State Legislature should be made up of mature, conscientious and dedicated public servants. I am 49 years old, married, and have been active in many phases of community life including civic matters such as a member of the Citizens Water Study Committee with Dr. R. L. Daily as chairman, and the City Charter Study Committee with Statton Bonner as chairman. I have participated in charitable matters as Troop Committeeman of Boy Scout Troop 15, and executive board member of Wichita County Legal Aid Society.

Points Favor

"We are members of the Highland Heights Christian Church. I have already expressed myself as being strongly in favor of (1) Upgrading the public schools and state institutions of higher learning; (2) A rigid code of ethics for public office holders, including a disclosure of sources of income for members of the legislature; (3) A fair and impartial election code; (4) Equal rights for women and (5) More industry for Wichita County.

"I further promise to be available and anxious to discuss the citizens' problems with the legislature. I further assure the voters of this county that I will, when elected, bring to the job the dedication it deserves and that I have the courage to take a stand on those issues which, after due and careful study, require that a stand be taken.

"I am familiar with the legislative processes and many of the personalities of the state government, all of which will be of invaluable assistance in properly handling matters in the public interest.

"I have been running a hand shaking campaign and plan to continue to do so. Any groups or persons desiring to talk to me or to have me present my views is requested to call 322-9021 and leave word with my wife, who is trying to keep my appointments. "It is upon this basis that I sincerely and humbly ask your support and influence."

J. M. Shea Jr. Quits As Petrofina Official

DALLAS (AP)—J. M. Shea Jr. has resigned as senior vice president of the American Petrofina Co. of Texas. Shea wrote an article in Look Magazine March 24 entitled "Memo From a Dallas Citizen." The oil executive, a Dallas resident since 1967, was critical in the article of the city's political attitude before and since the assassination of President Kennedy last November. Contacted in New York City Thursday, Shea said it would be "premature" to comment on his resignation.

and treasurer for American Petrofina here, said Shea submitted his resignation Wednesday. The tall, tanned Shea said recently he had received more than 800 letters since he wrote the magazine article, nearly 60 per cent of them from Dallas citizens. He said about 85 per cent of the writers supported him and congratulated him for speaking out. Shea originated Petrofina's "pink air" advertising, with the slogan of putting "pink air in your tires." This spring, Petrofina brought out a room air freshener called "pink air" which is distributed by Dallas specialty store Neiman-Marcus. Shea was in charge of marketing, refining, transportation and crude oil purchasing for the Dallas-based firm and was also a vice president of the parent firm, American Petrofina, Inc., of New York. Local sources said they understood Shea's resignation was accepted by Petrofina's board of directors at a New York meeting Thursday. Soon after Shea located in Dallas, Shea arrived from California to become general marketing manager. He became marketing vice president a year later, in 1968, and assumed his latest post in July of 1962.

Rookies' Day Helps Boston Whip Chisox

BOSTON (AP) — Tony Conigliaro hit a tremendous home run, Dalton Jones contributed a misplayed triple and Boston defeated Chicago 4-1 Friday in a rookie-dominated game dedicated to the late, sports-minded President Kennedy.

Conigliaro, 19-year-old center fielder from suburban Swampscott, sent loser Joel Horlen's first pitch over the left field wall screen and adjoining street his first time up at Fenway Park.

The rookie's local debut and first major league homer highlighted the Red Sox home opener, proceeds from which go to the John F. Kennedy Memorial Library Fund.

Jack Lamabe, who scattered five hits, was the winner in only his third start and first complete game in the majors.

CHICAGO (AP) — Pinner hitter Russ Snyder's bases-loaded single in the 11th inning gave the Orioles a 4-3 victory over the New York Yankees Friday in Baltimore's home opener.

With one out and the bases loaded the Yankee infield was drawn in for a possible play at the plate when Snyder was sent in to bat for relief pitcher Stu Miller. Snyder hit a ground single to right scoring Willie Kirkland.

The Orioles loaded the bases off New York starter Jim Bouton on John Orsino's single, a two-base error by shortstop Phil Linz and an intentional walk to Brooks Robinson.

Rookie Pete Mikkelsen then relieved Bouton and induced Jerry Adair to hit into a force play at the plate.

Miller has appeared in all of Baltimore's games, being credited with two victories and one save in relief.

New York tied the score off reliever Harvey Haddix in the eighth on a single by Mickey Mantle, a throwing error by Robinson and a single by Tom Tresh.

The Orioles jumped in front, 3-0, with single runs in the third, fourth and fifth innings.

Mahaffey Raps Cubs With One Of Eight HRs

CHICAGO (AP) — Pitcher Art Mahaffey's three-run clout was the home run that counted as the Philadelphia Phillies outlasted the Chicago Cubs 10-8 in a Cub home opener spiced with eight wind-borne homers.

Mahaffey's big blow and back-to-back homers by Richie Allen and Roy Sievers came in six-run Phil fifth. In the Cub fifth, Lou Brock and Billy Williams hit successive homers which matched the major league two-team record of five for one inning.

The National League two-team record for homers in a single game is 10.

Mazeroski's Hit Spoils Mets Bow In New Stadium

NEW YORK (AP)—A single by Bill Mazeroski in the ninth inning, scoring Willie Stargell, broke a tie and gave the Pittsburgh Pirates a 4-3 victory that spoiled the New York Mets' home opener in the new $26 million Shea Stadium.

A screaming, banner-waving crowd of 50,312 saw pitcher Bob Friend maintain his two-year mastery over the National League tailenders with the main help of Stargell, who smashed out a home run, double and two singles in five plate appearances.

HOUSTON CLASSIC

Sota Surges As Four Tie

HOUSTON (AP)—Ramon Sota of Spain made a beautiful recovery on the final green Friday to pull into a four-way tie at 139 with Don January, Billy Maxwell and Buster Cupit for the 36-hole lead in the $50,000 Houston Golf Classic. They were three under par.

Big Mike Souchak, four under-par through 16 holes, missed a chance to tie or grab the lead by taking bogies on the two final holes.

January had started the traffic jam at 139 by adding a five-under-par 66 to a first round 73 for the 7,233-yard, par 35-36 —71 Sharpstown Country Club course.

Minutes later Maxwell sank an eight-foot birdie putt on the final green for his 68-71-139. This was quickly matched by a 71-68 by Cupit.

Sota, a 25-year-old pro from Santander, Spain, was five under par through 14 holes but shot into a sand trap and a ditch lost strokes on the 15th and 17th holes. He approached the final tee needing a par to tie.

Sota's second shot was unplayable, landing in a one-foot strip of grass between a television tower leg and a fence. He was permitted to drop the ball about 20 feet to the left and a chip shot set up a five-foot putt that allowed him to end with a par 71 to go with his first round 68.

Souchak still had a chance for the lead but he missed the green for a bogie on the 19-5 yard 17th and then three putted the final hole for another one-over that gave him a 69-71-140 tie with Bob Rosburg, the first round leader, and Butch Baird of Galveston, Tex.

Lionel Hebert, the 1957 PGA champion, had a 69-72-141 but Jack Nicklaus, the pre-tournament favorite, matched January's 66 to join defending champion Bob Charles of New Zealand in another traffic jam at par 142.

Nicklaus played the first 18 holes without benefit of a practice round and had to settle for a five-over-par 76.

That 10-stroke difference in the two rounds shows I learned something the first round," Nicklaus said. "I used the wrong clubs only twice today compared to at least a dozen times the first 18. I'm familiar with the course's distances now."

CBS Gets Title Rights

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Football League sold the television and radio rights to its 1964 and 1965 championships games to CBS Friday for $1.8 million a game. It is the highest price ever paid for the rights to a one-day sports event.

This is the first time that CBS ever has shown the championship game. Originally, the Dumont chain carried it. The National Broadcasting Co. took over in 1955 and has had it since that time. Dumont paid $75,000 for the 1951 rights, the first year the game was televised.

Earlier this year CBS purchased the regular season rights paying a total of $28,200,000 for the games of 1964 and 1965.

The payment for the regular season games goes to the 14 clubs but 70 per cent of the championship game's receipts go into a player pool to be divided by the participants and to pay some of the costs of the player pension.

Bolling Homers Trample Colts

HOUSTON (AP) — Frank Bolling hit homers his first two times at bat and singled home another run, pacing the Milwaukee Braves to their second straight victory over the Houston Colts 5-2 Friday night.

Zimmer's Hit Helps Senators Stop Minnesota

WASHINGTON (AP) — Don Zimmer's pinch-hit double with two out in the ninth and an error by Minnesota catcher Earl Battey on the play gave the Washington Senators a 4-3 victory over the Twins Friday night.

The Twins, using home runs by Bob Allison and Bernie Allen, led 3-2 going into the ninth. With one out, Don Locke singled to center and Fred Valentine followed with a pinch-hit single that sent Locke to second.

One out later, Zimmer smacked a double to left, Lock and Phillips racing toward the plate. Zoilo Versalles' relay throw reached home at about the same time as Phillips, but Battey dropped the ball as the winning run crossed the plate.

W. SHINGTON (AP) — Don Zimmer's pinch-hit double with two out in the ninth and an error by Minnesota catcher Earl Battey on the play gave the Washington Senators a 4-3 victory over the Twins Friday night.

Passing Looks Good In Rider's First Practice

Rider football coach Joe Bob Tyler wasn't too pleased with the opening session of spring football practice Friday, although he managed to find some bright spots during the "typical first day drills."

"Naturally our kids aren't used to the pads and the conditions and they didn't look very good," he said.

It was the first spring training session for the Raiders, who are moving into District 4-AAAA next season to play with the big boys in the state's highest classification. Previously the Raiders had been in class AAA where they shared a title last season, with powerful Graham at the district level.

Rider is concerned, at the moment, with replacing three starters that will be lost by graduation by next fall. Perhaps an even bigger problem is shoring the second unit with top notch hands; Depth was a weakness last season and there's no better outlook at the present.

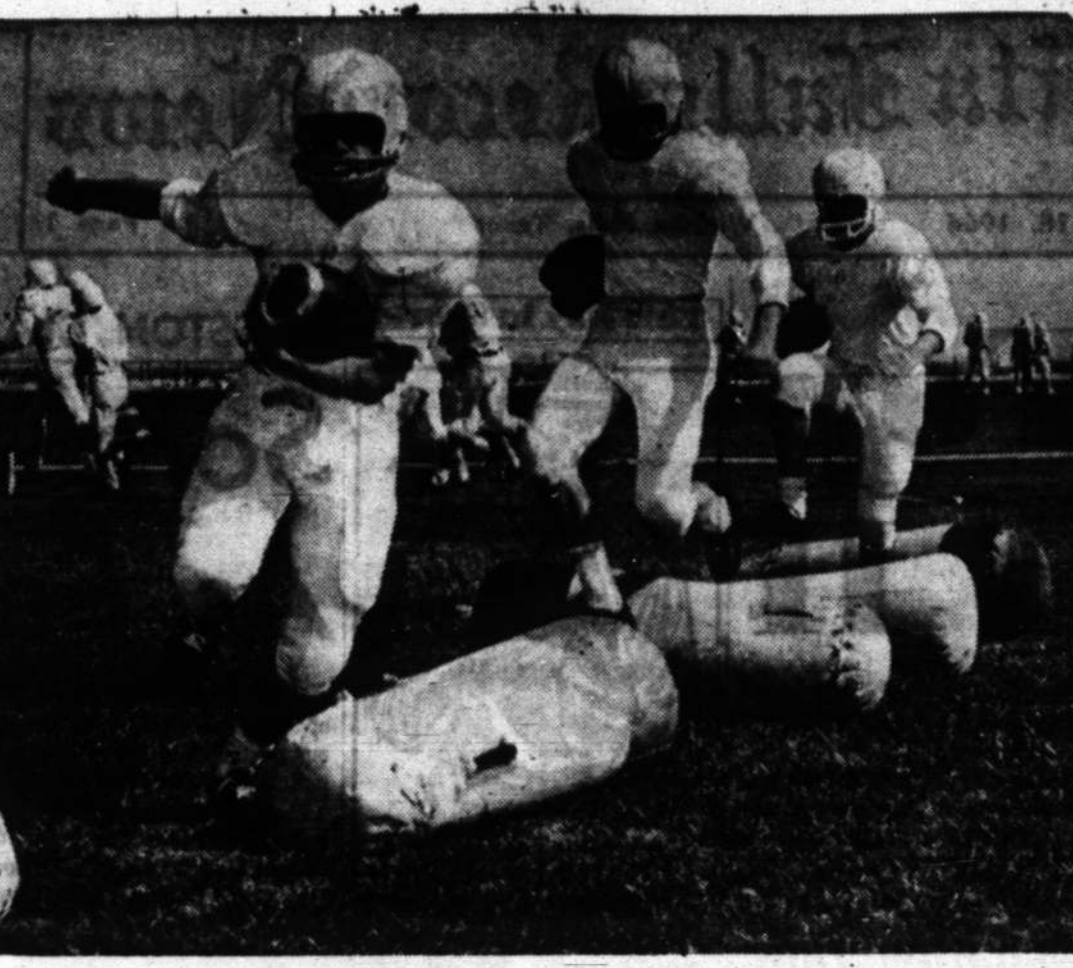

"We are a good club through 15 players," Tyler said prior to spring training. "And our objective in spring practice is to build depth with our younger boys."

He was busy working with the younger players in Friday's session and admits that this might be one reason for his feeling that the drills were a little less than he expected.

Passing, not one-of-the-better phases to Rider's game last season, was also to draw plenty of attention. Reports on drills run Friday indicated that the Raiders would be a little tougher in the air lanes this fall. At least Tyler was happy with the way things went on opening day.

"Roger Wallace and Bub Deer-inwater looked good growing," he said. "Of course, we have a little better receivers this season and that makes a big difference."

Robert Pond, the left end, looked good to the Raider coaches. There was also a bit of surprise in the way Danny Turner performed.

A LITTLE FOOTWORK—Conditioning was the order of the day in the Rider High School spring training camp, and conditioning to a back means footwork. Coach Joe Bob Tyler sent his charges through a few drills, and then it was time for some hard knocking that produced what the mentor termed "a not so good workout." (Staff Photo)

Coyote Netters Grab Early Lead In Rider Invitational

Wichita Falls grabbed a commanding six-point lead in Friday's action of the Rider Invitational Tennis Tournament and with four players in Saturday's finals seems a sure bet to capture the title.

Rider is close to the Coyotes heels, but with just three in the finals, isn't expected to close the gap.

Coyotes Upset Richland Hills In 4-4A Opener

RICHLAND HILLS — Rated a solid choice to finish dead last in the District 4-AAAA high school baseball race, Wichita Falls upset the odds-makers in its opener here Friday, beating fifth ranked Richland Hills, 4-1.

Louis McKown, ace of the Coyote pitching staff, set the Rebels down on three hits and his mates supported him with a four-run outburst in the third to account for the victory.

Wichita Falls broke the scoring deadlock on a walk, a single by Jimmy Boyd, two stolen bases and a two-run single by Mickey Pemberton. The latter scored on a base blow by Trent Capps and the Pack produced its final tally on a sacrifice fly by Mike McBride later in the stanza.

Richland Hills worked McKown for six walks and the Coyotes committed four errors in the field, but left a total of 11 stranded on the base paths. McKown was tough in the clutches, allowing just the one run in the fifth stanza when pitcher James Williams collected a single that drove Warren Latschaw home to spoil a shutout bid.

The Coyotes are 2-6 for the season, having won their last non-conference contest before entering district to break a six-game drouth. They meet No. 2 rated Arlington at Wichita Falls Tuesday in their next outing.

Betsy Rawls Golf In Three-Way Tie

SPARTANBURG, S.C. (AP)—Ruth Jessen, playing her best round since an operation a year and a half ago, shot a two-under-par 70 Friday to share the first-round lead with Shirley Englehorn and Marlene Hagge in the $7,500 Betsy Rawls-Peach Blossom Women's Open Golf Tournament.

Each of the co-leaders had nines of 36-34 on the 6,435-yard Spartanburg Country Club course that played long because of recent rains.

Miss Jessen, from Bonsall, Calif., who won the tournament in 1961, sank a 20-foot putt on the fifth hole and a 15-foot putt on the 16th for two of her four birdies. She had two bogeys.

Mary Mills and Gloria Armstrong were next at 71.

Romano's Bat Sparks Tribe

CLEVELAND (AP) — John Romano hit a home run and knocked in three runs Friday night as the Cleveland Indians defeated the Kansas City Athletics 6-4.

Romano's first homer of the season came in the fifth inning with one man aboard. He singled across another run in the seventh.

Midwestern captured its seventh golf match of the season here Friday, beating McMurry, 6-1.

The victory gives the Indians a 7-4-2 record. They have won or tied nine of their last ten matches.

The best the Abilene team could do was gain splits in two matches, picking up half a point at a time for its final total.

The results: John Barnett (MU) def. Gary Cook, 6-3; Ted Norwood (MU) def. Jerry Nealey, 6-3; Larry Haney (MU) and Dusty Rhodes split; Jim Castleden (MU) def. Tim Marcum, 6-3; Haney-Castleden def. Rhodes-Marcum, 5-2; Tommy Beck (MU) and John Cobey split.

Throckmorton Sweeps 29-B

Throckmorton, with depth in track and field, ran away with the District 29-B meet here Friday, almost doubling the other entries with 222 points.

The Greyhounds got 166 of those points with first and second places, thus qualifying both relay teams and 14 individuals for the region meet to be held at Denton next weekend. They won both relays and seven other events to blitz every team in the field.

Newcastle was far behind in second place with 118 points. Woodson had 66, Windthorst 35 1/2 and Bryson 21 1/2. Antelope failed to scratch.

Connis Daws and Larry Lilly led the Greyhound attack in one of the biggest trophy gathering ceremonies ever conducted in this conference. Daws got the outstanding performer award with 37 points, one more than Lilly. The team also collected the relay trophies and the big team championship award. There wasn't anything left for anyone else.

The contestants were hampered by a stiff wind, but four records were still wiped out. Lilly threw the discus 122-10 1/2 to eclipse the old mark by an inch. Leslie Conrady of Windthorst posted a new standard of 4:57.1 in the mile run. Sports Briefs

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Fired - up and stone-cold, the irritable Boston Celtics finally get a crack at San Francisco and a possible sixth straight National Basketball Association playoff title starting in Boston Saturday night.

This latest - and biggest - battle of make-or-break giants, Wilt Chamberlain and Bill Russell, was set up when the Warriors beat St. Louis 105-95 in the seventh game of the Western Division playoffs Thursday.

"I sure hope we're ready," said Celtics Coach Red Auerbach, whose club has only played five games in the last 32 days in disposing of Cincinnati in the Eastern Division playoffs.

A dozen three-year-olds, each hoping to show enough to warrant a trip to Churchill Downs for the Kentucky Derby May 2, move into horse racing's spotlight Saturday in the day's two richest events.

Eight of the Derby eligibles, plus one other horse, go in the $75,000-added Wood Memorial at Aqueduct. Mr. Brick, either second or third in the last four starts, is the 3-1 choice. Nearco is the probable choice of the four May 2 eligibles in the $50,000-added California Derby.

This year's Stanley Cup hockey playoff, which resumes Saturday night, could well be nicknamed the "last-minute" series. The winning goal in two of the last three games, with Detroit leading 2-1, has come in the last minute.

Robin Lingle ran a blazing 4:01 anchor mile, edging Texas sophomore Dick Romo as Missouri set a meet record of 16:41.6 in the four-mile relay of the 39th Kansas Relays. It compares with the world record of 16:09 set in 1962 by Oregon... Jerry Dyes of Abilene Christian jumped to a surprising 206-point lead over six-time champion Phil Mulky after the first five events of the decathlon at the Kansas Relays.

Pete Reiser, veteran coach of the Los Angeles Dodgers, was reported resting comfortably Friday following a mild heart attack Thursday night at Dodger Stadium. He's expected to be confined to the hospital for two weeks.

Richie Ginther of Santa Monica, Calif., No. 1 driver for the British BRM auto racing team, crashed at 110 miles per hour in a practice run Friday and was taken to a hospital with face and chest injuries. His condition is not considered serious.

Graham Home Runs Slam Bowie, 15-4
GRAHAM — Jody Baggett clobbered a grand slam home run in a 10-run second inning here Friday afternoon as Graham raced to a 15-4 baseball victory over Bowie, giving the Steers their second straight win of the infant season.

Johnny Mills also contributed a round-tripper for the Steers, belting one with two on in the third to project Tom Davis to the decision. Davis fanned 11 and gave up five walks. Losing pitcher Jim Proctor also homered for Bowie.

Wright, Peters Are Regional Tuneup Stars

Elliott Wright of Booker T. Washington and Leonard Peters of Seymour were easily the outstanding performers in an impromptu track meet held here Friday afternoon.

The affair was limited, in most cases, to district champions who will appear in regional carnivals next weekend around the state.

Wright appeared to have posted the greatest 220-yard dash in the history of Texas schoolboy track when he was caught in 20.8 around a full curve. It took about 10 seconds for officials to realize that nobody runs that fast and an error - 10 yards long - was quickly discovered. Instead of starting the race on a half stagger, a full stagger was used, making the run only 210 yards long.

Still the Booker T. flash ran a tremendous race. He was the 100-yard dash winner and ran a leg on the Leopard's sprint relay team, first to hit the tape.

Peters, as usual, won the hurdle events with a 20.1 in the lows and a 14.8 in the highs. He also anchored the winning mile relay squad and ran fourth in the 100-yard dash.

There was no team champion declared in the affair by mutual agreement of the coaches.

Steal, Balk Help Huskies In 12th

SEYMOUR — David Brasier stole home and Fred Berry scooped on a balk in the 12th inning as Hirsch downed Seymour 5-3 in a 9-AA district opener for both teams.

Seymour, tying the score 3-3 in the bottom of the seventh, used three pitchers and Hirsch took in the five extra innings.

Hirsch travels to Bowie Saturday to engage the defending district champs at 1 p.m.

Hirsch opened the scoring in the first inning and added two insurance runs in the top of the sixth. Seymour tied the score 1-1 in the fourth and then took advantage of Hirsch's miscues to pass across two runs in the seventh to send the game into the marathon.

Seymour threatened to end the game in the ninth, but a double play by David Wagner to Fred Berry ended the inning.

Brasier opened the 12th with a liner to center for a double. He stole third and then, taking advantage of a windup by pitcher
