

Legionnaires To Meet Tuesday

New Building Plans Are Progressing

A regular meeting of Lowry Post No. 44 of American Legion will be held next Tuesday evening, Kirby Fitzgerald, post commander, announced Wednesday.

Regular meetings for the post have been set for the first and third Tuesday nights of each month. An enjoyable feed will be served at the meeting next Tuesday night.

Building Plans Made

Ground was broken several days ago for the new American Legion hall which is to be constructed in Munday, and the foundation is expected to be laid within the next few days.

The local post plans to erect a building 50x100 feet, one that will be roomy enough to accommodate Legionnaires and their needs for many years. Work is being started on the building with the hope that it can be completed as soon as needed materials become available.

All ex-service men are urged to attend the meetings and help the post in carrying on its worth-while activities.

Teachers Name Officers Monday At Benjamin

A number of schools of Knox county had 100 per cent attendance at the Knox County Teachers Association meeting which was held in Benjamin last Monday. Officers for the new year were elected, among whom were the following:

Mrs. E. S. Branton, Knox City, president; Mrs. James H. Bardwell, Munday, first vice president; Mrs. Clarence Williams, Benjamin, second vice president.

The teachers went on record as favoring the $2,000 salaries for teachers and for an amendment for teachers retirement after 25 years. The group also voted favoring the teacher retirement law.

The next meeting will be held at Knox City on Friday, November 15, at 8 p. m.

County Receives About 2,000 Pounds Of Vetch Seed

Reports reaching the County Agent's office this week indicate that 2000 pounds of vetch seed have been received in this county. This along with 70,000 pounds of Austrian winter peas already distributed as well as several pounds of alfalfa and black-eye peas will help improve many acres of Knox County soil. These Legumes enrich the soil by taking nitrogen from the air and depositing it in nodules on the roots. The legume seeds must first be inoculated to receive the effect desired.

Increased yield of nitrogen is not the only result of inoculation, however. Inoculation usually results in an increased yield of hay from legumes up to 300 percent. All legumes including alfalfa, Austrian winter peas, hubam clover, vetch, black-eyed peas and garden beans respond to inoculants which are available at local feed and drug stores.

FRIENDSHIP CHURCH TO CLEAN CEMETERY ON WEDNESDAY, NOV. 6TH

An invitation is extended to everyone having loved ones buried at the community cemetery, located at the Friendship Baptist church near Heffner, to join people of the community in a cemetery cleaning on Wednesday, November 6.

Cemetery work will begin at 10 a. m., and those interested are invited to bring rakes, hoes, shovels, etc., and put in their time in cleaning and improving the cemetery.

It is hoped that many will join in this work and make this fall cleaning one of the best ever done at the cemetery.

ENTERS HOSPITAL

R. T. (Red) Morrow was admitted to the Wichita Falls clinic hospital last Tuesday night for treatment for a rheumatic condition from which he has suffered for several years. An ambulance from the Mahan Funeral Home took him to Wichita Falls. He has shown some improvement, according to reports coming from his bedside.

FFA Members Attend Meeting At Chillicothe

Four officers of the local F. F. A. club and their sponsor, Mr. Martin, attended a district Future Farmers of America meeting in Chillicothe recently.

Members who attended are: Ronald Foshee, district president; and local officers, Gene Brown, vice president; James Smith, secretary and Troy Lee Lowrance, reporter.

The district meeting was opened at 3 p. m. with the opening ceremony. The group sang several songs, and State Senator George Moffett gave a short talk emphasizing the value received from agricultural training.

The meeting was then turned into separate meetings of officers, and an officer training school was held. Each district officer led the discussion in his group.

After the boys reassembled, highlights of the national FFA convention were given by boys who attended.

O. T. Ryan, area supervisor, gave a brief talk, and a business meeting was held. The next district meeting will be at Seymour, at which time a basketball tournament will be held. After the closing ceremony, lunch was served in the school cafeteria.

Sunset School To Resume Work Next Monday

R. I. McLeary, superintendent of the Sunset Rural Consolidated School, announced Wednesday that the regular work in the school will be resumed next Monday.

The school lunch room will be opened next Tuesday, he said. "It will take the full cooperation of every patron for the lunch room to be a success," McLeary said, "and we believe we will receive that type of cooperation. Meals will be served at 20 cents."

Sunset school was closed two weeks ago for cotton harvest. Work is being resumed earlier because of the fact that it is believed there are plenty of hands in the county to gather the cotton crop without the necessity of using school students.

Carson will portray a musician who tries to poison his estranged wife, but who is unwittingly betrayed by a parrot, in the serial story, "Easy Money."

Terracing Saves Soil Moisture

Cropland terracing, as shown above, is advocated in this area as a means of saving needed moisture in the soil, and is being practiced by many farmers of Knox county. Farmers cooperating with the Agricultural Conservation Program can receive assistance in terracing their farms. A story explaining this program appears on page three of this issue.

Goree Legion Post Plans For New Building

Ben B. Hunt Post of American Legion held a very successful meeting on Thursday evening, October 24, at 7:30 p. m. in the high school at Goree. The meeting was attended by approximately 25 members.

Business concerning the memorial building which is being erected in the city park at Goree was discussed in detail. The discussion brought out details such as the cost, size and floor plans of the building.

Also present at the meeting were a number of members of the Goree Chamber of Commerce, who originated the idea and started the "ball to rolling" on building this memorial to veterans of World War I and World War II.

Rev. S. E. Stevenson stated: "The building that is being built is being made possible by contributions from the people of the Goree community. They appreciate the service rendered by boys of the community, especially those who made the supreme sacrifice of giving their lives for this country, and to show their appreciation they want to erect something that will be of value to the community. The memorial building will also benefit the veterans greatly by providing a meeting place and a place for entertainments such as every American Legion post fosters."

Forrest Daniel gave the estimated cost of the building at $10,000, of which approximately $7,000 has been raised and gone into the building.

A normal voting procedure was used to determine whether the Legion members approved the building. It was found that the post was 100 per cent behind the move, and Legionnaires pledged themselves to support the building committee in every way possible.

An all-star basketball team will be sponsored by Hunt Post this season. Cotton Fitzgerald was named as temporary manager.

Future meetings will be held at 7:30 p. m. each first and third Wednesday, at the Goree high school until the memorial building is completed.

Mogul-Piper Game Friday Is 'Tops' For District 11-A

Rotary Clubs Dist. Governor To Visit Here

The Rotary Club of Munday will welcome W. Aubrey Stephenson, governor of the 127th District of Rotary International, at their regular meeting on Monday, November 4, at one o'clock. Mr. Stephenson is professor of government and assistant dean at Hardin-Simmons University, Abilene, and a member of the Abilene Rotary Club.

Stephenson will also meet with President Winston Blacklock, Secretary Jim Reeves, and other officers of the club to advise them on matters pertaining to club administration and Rotary service activities. He is one of the 157 district governors of Rotary International who are supervising the activities of some 5,800 Rotary Clubs with more than a quarter million members in 73 countries and geographical regions throughout the world.

Wherever Rotary Clubs are located, their activities are similar to those of the Munday club, because they are based on the same general objectives—the promotion of better understanding and fellowship among business and professional men, community betterment undertakings, raising the standards of businesses and professions, and fostering the advancement of good will, understanding and peace among all the peoples of the world.

Club Boys Report Presence Of Grubbs In Knox Cattle

4-H Club boys over the county are now finding that cattle grubbs commonly called "wolves" are beginning to show up in knots on many of their feeder calves. Checks on commercial herds as they come from dipping vats also disclose many knotty backs.

These grubbs are the result of heel flies, which lay their eggs on the animal. The eggs hatch into tiny worms known as larvae and bore their way around in the body of the animal for about nine months and then emerge on the back. Because of the irritation caused by this boring, it requires from 10 to 15 percent more feed to fatten a grubby animal than a healthy animal. Grubbs also damage the hides of the animals, resulting in a loss of valuable leather.

Most farmers and ranchmen produce their own heel flies, according to entomologists who tell us that the flies do not fly over one-half mile each year. Therefore, thorough treatment of an area almost completely rids it of heel flies bringing them back.

Now is the time to fight heel flies in Knox county. This can be done by placing a 5 percent rotenone powder on the backs of grubby animals and rubbing it in with the hands or a stiff brush. On large herds, a powder spray is usually used containing a mixture of seven and one half pounds of five percent rotenone to 100 gallons of water. The cattle are placed in a crowding pen or chute, and a strong spray applied to their backs.

Sugar Stamps Good 30 Days

Housewives will have another 30 days to use their canning sugar stamps, if they're not already gone, the Office of Price Administration announced last Saturday.

Instead of expiring at the end of October, spare stamps No. 9 and 10 will continue valid through November 30. Each is good for five pounds of sugar.

The action completes a series of moves designed to offset local and regional sugar shortages resulting from the maritime strike, it was stated. Arrangements were made last week to ship western beet sugar into eastern deficit areas in order to permit housewives to receive their fair share of sugar.

The regular table sugar stamp, No. 51, in ration books remains good for five points until the end of this year, it was stated.

The Times To Increase Rates On Subscriptions

Despite an earnest desire to keep subscription rates on The Munday Times at pre-war levels, J. W. Roberts, publisher, announced this week that increases in materials, paper and labor makes it imperative to make an increase on subscription rates.

"On January 1, 1947," Roberts said, "The subscription rates on the Munday Times will be increased, as follows: The rate for Knox and adjoining counties (within 50 miles of Munday), $2.00; elsewhere, outside 50-mile radius, $2.50.

"We have absorbed all price increases this far," Mr. Roberts continued, "in order to give you the Munday Times at the old price. Such increases have come so fast that we find it impossible to continue to absorb them and keep 'out of the red'."

Everything bought by the printer has continued to go up at various intervals; wages have increased along with these; rent has gone up, and every other thing the consumer, whether in the printing business or not, buys has far surpassed pre-war levels. Therefore, it is believed The Times is justified in increasing the subscription rates.

"This announcement is being made early," Mr. Roberts said, "in order to give our subscribers an opportunity to renew their subscriptions at the old rate. You have two months in which to take advantage of the pre-war rate, so get your renewal in to us before the new rate takes effect, if you want this saving. Remember, our rate of $2.00 and $2.50 takes effect on January 1, 1947."

LOCAL PIONEER WOMAN OBSERVES BIRTHDAY

Mrs. I. P. Rosser, well known pioneer mother of Munday, celebrated her 96th birthday over the week end. She received many pretty flowers and gifts and enjoyed visits from her children.

Other than Munday relatives, a daughter, Mrs. A. F. Cypert of Wichita Falls, was here to celebrate the occasion with her mother.

Moguls Hosts To Pied Pipers; Game Called At 7:30 O'clock

A game that takes "top billing" for District 11-A will be played on the local field next Friday night when the Munday Moguls will be hosts to the Pied Pipers of Hamlin. The game is called at 7:30 o'clock.

This game will likely determine the championship of District 11-A and is expected to draw one of the largest crowds of football fans ever to assemble in Munday.

Principal reason for the large attendance expected is that all other teams in the district, except Haskell and Albany, are idle this week, and all eyes will be turned on the Mogul-Piper game.

Sports writers give Hamlin a slight edge over Munday. Hamlin has a perfect conference record thus far, winning three games, while Munday's record is marred only by a tie with Throckmorton early in the season. The Moguls have won three and tied one. Hamlin also ran up a higher score than did Munday against teams which both have played.

Coach Clyde Latham, somewhat reticent about making any predictions, theorizes the situation as follows:

"Well, I'll tell you. If Hamlin gets the breaks they're liable to beat us; if we get the breaks, we're liable to come out ahead!"

Some of the fans say the Moguls have felt "pretty cocky" about all games thus far. They're not that way about Hamlin, and they're going to put up a fight that's second to none in high school football.

Considering all facts, this is expected to be one of the outstanding football games of the season, and those who plank down 74 cents for admission will well receive their money's worth!

It's a settled fact that the Moguls will have to play their best game of the year to win, but they're prepared to do just that!

Here's how the teams of the district stack up after last Friday night's games:

Results Last Week
Munday 12, Stamford 6.
Anson 53, Albany 0.
Rochester 13, Haskell 6.

THE FUTURE OF AMERICAN FREEDOM

The rising tide of inflation is sending ominous chills tingling along the spines of the American people. It is not pleasant to see the value of savings and pay checks dwindle as the price indexes climb. Two thousand dollar autos and fifteen thousand dollar homes were not included in the postwar plans of most people. They indicate hardship, not prosperity, in the future, and not so far in the future at that. In fact hardship, real hardship, is already here for the great number of "unorganized" workers and those who live on fixed incomes.

The feeling is inescapable that only now is the homefront beginning to come face to face with the consequences of the "total" war. With inflation developing, the question arises of how strong are our ideals of free enterprise and free government. Repeatedly, supposed realists express fear that should depression sweep the country, it would inevitably shake the foundations of basic American institutions. They point to other lands where desperate, hungry people turned to despotic government for direction.

The people at home, for the first time in over a century, have chance to demonstrate their faith in the general idea of individual initiative and opportunity. If the realists are right in the theory that economic trouble will lead to the kicking out of private industry and destruction of principles of government that have lifted and individual in this country to an eminence never before known, America and all her people will get just what they deserve—serfdom.

It is difficult to believe that the future of American freedom will turn on material considerations. More than that, it is fantastic. It is, in effect, believing that the soul of the greatest nation on earth will perish if he people cannot have all the refrigerators and automobiles and gadgets they want.

PROBLEMS OF THE MERCHANT

It's a very human failing to take it out on the merchant when you can't find what you want in a store. But the country's retailers deserve a large share of consumer compassion.

The typical store today finds itself besieged by eager buyers at a time when it has little to sell, because strikes and shortages are holding up production of all those marvelous postwar gadgets we were supposed to have coming. Experienced, courteous employees are with his head throbbing from the complex and endless reports he must make to the income tax officials and other agencies of government. He doesn't know from one day to the next what OPA policy will be. And he's faced with a price problem over which he has no control.

Despite all this, American retailing has performed supremely well. It has stretched supplies so that as many people as possible get a share. It has managed to keep good standards of service going, and is gradually bettering them. It has done everything in its power to limit price increases. It is providing you with what you want as fast as it can get the goods.

All the way from the little corner store, retailing has performed a service it can be proud of. The consumer can be certain that no country on earth has a retail industry as efficient as ours.

THAT PRICE OF PAPER

The cause of economy and retrenchment in government—about which much has been heard lately—seems to be in a bad way. It is true that, at the instigation of the President, the budget bureau has done some minor paring in expenditures. It is also true that no really important cut has been made anywhere.

It isn't enough to shave pennies off the Federal budget. We've got to shave dollars—and billions of them. The very magnitude of Federal spending is in itself one of the strongest influences. And it is the influence which can be most quickly curbed by decisive action.

Congress, working on the cynical doctrine that is an election year and spending gets votes, did practically nothing in the interest of government economy. And it is evident to anyone that little will be done until public pressure forces it. So long as the "free spenders" continue to be elected to high office waste will be the watchword.

The interest in this to you, as worker and taxpayer, is obvious. Take a look at one of these green pieces of paper called a dollar. The future value of that piece of paper, in terms of commodities and labor is the issue at stake. Other pieces of paper, called francs and marks and kroner and yen, have become worthless because of government excesses. Will it happen here?

ROADS BUILD TEXAS—LET'S BUILD ROADS

The purpose of the Good Roads Constitutional Amendment, which comes to a vote November 5, is to make sure that we get what we pay for in gasoline taxes and motor vehicle registration fees. Those revenues are paid in by road users under the 14th principle that they are to be used for road purposes. As matters now stand, however, the possibility of road revenue diversion brings about no end of uncertainty. When State road builders make plans for a long-range program of road building and maintenance, they do not know whether, or when, the whole thing will have to be called off because of diversion.

The Good Roads Amendment removes the uncertainty by requiring that road revenues shall be used for road purposes under policies prescribed by the Legislature, with the exception that one-fourth of the gasoline tax must continue to be allocated to the Available Free School Fund. In other words, the Amendment simply locks the barn door before the horse is lost. It removes the danger that road money might be spent for something else.

Just now Texas is embarking upon a long-range program to build the roads that the State needs. This program must go through. Our roads have been worn out by heavy wartime traffic. Neither the labor nor the materials have been available to keep up with maintenance, let alone attempt to build new routes as the need for them developed.

The program calls for the construction of thousands of miles of new, surfaced, farm-to-market and ranch-to-market roads. We in Munday have a particular interest in these roads. The progress and development of our farms and ranches absolutely depends upon a good road system. Most products of farm and ranch move over roads to market, to processing plants, or to transportation centers. If the roads are lacking, the farms and ranches cannot operate economically, efficiently, and profitably.

The way to guarantee that we will get the roads we need and are paying for is to vote "Yes" on the Good Roads Amendment. It is Number Three on the ballot.

SIMPLE PRECAUTIONS

Simple precautions against the possibility of fire saves lives and property from destruction—precautions which are so simple they may seem actually unnecessary. But The National Board of Fire Underwriters emphasizes the importance of such measures in its untiring effort to cut down fire loss. It recognizes that the most effective force in fighting fire is a sincere desire on the part of the public to cooperate in eliminating every possible fire hazard.

Some of the simple precautions that depend on each individual are: Proper insulation around stoves; the use of fuses instead of pennies in the fuse box; closing of doors and windows to shut off possible drafts when leaving a dwelling; safeguarding fires left in houses against spreading to curtains, furniture and inflammable fixtures; destroying refuse which is a potential producer of instantaneous combustion; placing electric irons on something metallic instead of on the cloth ironing board. These and countless other safety measures depend upon individual action.

Such safeguards are indispensable if we are to reduce the tremendous annual fire loss suffered by this country. The great proportion of fires results from failure to adhere to the simplest precautions. Thousands of lives are lost and millions of dollars worth of property destroyed every year because of individual negligence or laziness in cooperating to prevent fire. Simple precautions may save any one of us from being the victim of fire. Why shirk a duty that takes so little time and may prevent untold loss and suffering?

The having of too much money not only goes to a woman's head, but finds its way to her back.

People, Spots In The News

SHE OUTRANKS THE PREXY! . . . William L. Batt, president of SKF Industries, Inc., and wartime vice chairman of War Production Board, thought his 39 years service with the ball and roller bearing firm made him the oldest employe in point of service—until Anna Fitzgerald, supervisor of the firm's stationery stores, double-checked and found she had a week more.

BOYCE HOUSE "Gives You Texas" What this country needs is not a good 5-cent cigar; it's the return of good, old 5-cent hamburgers. Can you remember when you got a hamburger, slice of pickle, slice of onion, mustard and a bun—all for a nickel? Now you get a slice of wilted lettuce, a silver of apogetic tomato, a smear of mayonnaise, a dab of meat, two parched pieces of bread and three soggy potato chips—and pay 30 cents!

Senator Taft of Ohio declares the trials of the German war criminals are a disgrace. He says they were tried under an ex-post facto law—that we declared the law after the act and not before. Murder has always been against the law. That law does not need to be passed by legislatures nor engrossed on parchment; and Almighty has written it in the conscience of man. No one had told Cain he should not kill his brother but Cain knew it was wrong and his Maker branded him and sent him forth to wander, accursed, through the world. Nobody has ever objected to that as a wrongful punishment—that is, nobody until Senator Taft came along.

Shall we hang a man for the murder of one—and not hang those who were responsible, through concentration camps, slave labor and executions, for the murder of millions?

FARM NEWS

(This is the nineteenth of twenty-two articles that will appear in this newspaper on the need for soil conservation, the amount of soil conservation being carried out, crop insurance, commodity loans, marketing quotas, and other programs of interest to farmers.)

Farmers Set-Up
AAA Committees.—As provided by law, farmers themselves, through elected farmer committees, administer AAA programs.

In 1944-45 over 4 million agricultural producers participated in the AAA Conservation program, automatically becoming members of the county agricultural conservation associations. From their own number, these farmers elected 34,801 community committees of 3 members each.

At these elections, delegates to county conventions were also elected, who in turn elected 3,030 county committees of 3 members each.

Conducted according to the democratic process, with the will of the majority ruling, annual elections show average turn-overs of 20 percent for county and 28 percent for community committees.

State Committees, of from three to five farmers who are residents of the State, are appointed by the Secretary of Agriculture. The State agricultural extension director is an ex-officio member. Farmer fieldmen, appointed by the State committees act as liaison representatives between State and county committees.

Washington Offices.—The 48 states are grouped into 5 regional divisions, administered by regional directors, who are under the supervision of the Director of the Field Service Branch (formerly the Agricultural Adjustment Agency.) He, in turn, is responsible for the Administration of AAA programs.

States comprising each region, and regional directors, are:

East Central Division.—Charles D. Lewis, Director. States: Tennessee, Kentucky, North Carolina, Virginia, West Virginia, Maryland, and Delaware.

Northeast Division.—A. W. Manchester, Director. States: New Jersey, Pennsylvania, New York, Connecticut, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Vermont, Maine, and Rhode Island.

North Central Division.—Leroy K. Smith, Director. States: Ohio, Michigan, Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, Missouri, Nebraska, South Dakota, Minnesota, and Wisconsin.

Southern Division.—C. D. Walker, Director. States: South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Arkansas, Texas, and Oklahoma.

Western Division.—G. F. Geissler, Director. States: North Dakota, Kansas, Colorado, Wyoming, Montana, New Mexico, Arizona, Utah, California, Nevada, Idaho, Oregon, and Washington.

Insular Division.—Roy J. Jordre, Director. Puerto Rico, Alaska, and Hawaii.

Other administrative divisions of the Field Service Branch are: Budget, D. J. Scruggs; Personnel Management, John T. Whalen; Fiscal Management, J. H. Walsh; Service Operations, Paul R. Preston.

Administrative cost.—Farmer committees are paid on the basis of the time actually spent on duty, within the congressional limitation on funds.

In the 1944-45 fiscal year, community committees worked an average of 5.4 man-days a year, for which they were paid an average of $5.50 a day. County committees worked an average of 85 days a year, at an average daily rate of $5.75.

It is significant that, although the duties and responsibilities of AAA farmer committees have grown with the years, county association expense funds have decreased.

For instance, in the fiscal years 1939-40, county committees and offices administered 10 separate parts of AAA and related programs, at a cost of 45.5 million dollars. During the 1944-45 year, however, county committees administered 21 separate parts of the farm program, at a cost estimated at 27.8 million dollars.

Reorganization.—Under the Department reorganization of August 20, 1945, the Field Service Branch (including the Agricultural Adjustment Agency) was placed under direct authority of the Administrator, Production and Marketing Administration, who in turn reports to the Secretary of Agriculture.

Tarleton Bill Is Advocated

COLLEGE STATION.—Attention of the people of Texas was directed Saturday to an obligation involving payment for a $75,000 building at the John Tarleton Agricultural College at Stephenville by President Gibb Gilchrist of the A. & M. College of Texas, who is also president of John Tarleton.

Gilchrist urged careful study of the provision of the Constitutional amendment No. 5, which will be submitted Nov. 5.

"In 1937 the Legislature in the John Tarleton appropriation bill authorized $75,000 for a science building," Gilchrist said. "An error was made in copying the instrument and this particular item was inadvertently left out of the final bill which the Governor approved. When apprised of the error, the Governor, under his constitutional authority, authorized a deficiency appropriation."

"The building was constructed and put in use. The contractor was paid with state warrants under the deficiency appropriation. After two years the Attorney General ruled that the deficiency warrants were issued without proper legal authority. Many lawyers regard the legal question as a close one."

"The John Tarleton Agricultural College has had use of the building for nine years. It is a splendid structure, now the most used building of the campus. It houses the library of 26,000 volumes and the department of chemistry, physics, engineering, architecture and biology."

"This is one of those things that just sometimes happens and likely will never happen again. What it takes to correct it is the passage of S. J. R. No. 5, which simply authorizes the Legislature to appropriate money to pay the contractor who constructed the building. This is an honest obligation of the State of Texas which should be paid."

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Johnson of Wichita, Kans., visited relatives and friends here over the week end.

Terracing Saves Soil Moisture And Improves Farms

Cropland terraces save water and conserve soil, Chairman Emmett Partridge of the Knox County Agricultural Conservation Association committee says. In the end this means more and better food and improved health for all he added.

Farmers cooperating with the Agricultural Conservation Program can receive assistance in terracing their farms, he continued. Experiments prove that terraces slow water runoff and hold it on the land where it can be used by growing crops during the dry period of the year.

Recognizing the extensive need for terraces and the expense of their construction, the Federal Agricultural Conservation Program helps farmers to pay part of the costs. The Government's share of the cost is $79.20 per mile. To make terraced fields completely successful, the USDA also cooperates with farmers in establishing and maintaining their good conservation measures. These include sound crop rotations, strip-cropping, cover crops, and contour tillage.

Southern States have led the use of this practice and in 1944 over 1,500,000 acres of the 1,719,000 acres terraced under the program were in the South.

The committee recommends this practice as a means to prevent soil washing. Farmers may still terrace under the 1946 program and if they wish to do so, should contact the county office at Benjamin immediately.

Friendship—Three Thousand Miles Apart

Ever play chess? It's a great game! One of the strongest friendships I know of started with a game of chess—between Dad Hoskins, in our town, and a man named Dalton Barnes, in England.

They've never seen each other, never met. But for the past eight years they've been playing chess by mail together—Dad puzzling over Dalton's latest letter, while he sends a chart of his next move to England.

Dad always thinks best with a mellow glass of beer beside his chessboard. And the Englishman writes him that he does the same. "You know, it's almost as if we shared a glass of beer together, too!" says Dad contentedly.

From where I sit, you can talk about diplomacy and foreign policy, but it's often those little things—like a game of chess or a glass of beer—that can make for tolerance and understanding... between people of all nations... between neighbors here at home!

Betty Golden Is Pledge In College Literary Clubs

DENTON.—As pledges to the 11 literary and social clubs on the Texas State College for Women campus, 269 students have ended the informal initiation period and are now considered active members. Miss Betty Jean Golden of Munday is included in the group.

Purpose of these clubs is to stimulate interest in literature, or music, promote social activities for members, and encourage the achievement of high scholastic standing.

Miss Golden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oates Golden, is a member of the Adelpian Club.

Bands have been invited to attend a clinic Saturday afternoon at the college, and all will join in a downtown parade that afternoon about 4 o'clock. The bands will play a massed concert that evening at the game.

Pointing out that "this is the first time we have had in our new peace-time program to bring the bands together for short discussion of 'shop'," Bynum added that he hoped the event would grow in importance and value to all in future years.

Your Vote Tuesday Will Help To Build Roads For Knox County

AUSTIN.—"Roads build Texas—Let's build Roads."

This phrase became the slogan for the campaign in behalf of the Good Roads Constitutional Amendment this week as three former presidents of the Texas Com. Judges and Commissioners Association joined other road leaders in urging Texas voters to support the amendment at the general election November 5.

Judge A. S. Ware of Bryan called for an end to the "biennial confusion and controversy" raging over the distribution of road user tax moneys. The 1944 president, Judge D. Y. McDaniel of Waco, urged that the efforts of "all agencies charged with road construction be placed in position to give their full time to their job with assurance the present funds for road building will continue in the future."

Judge Merritt H. Gibson of Longview, 1941 president of the Association stressed the importance of guaranteeing a permanent policy of road financing for both state and county road administrators.

He pointed out the Good Roads Amendment will afford this guarantee.

Miriam A. "Ma" Ferguson, twice governor of Texas, joined the growing list of prominent leaders to urge adoption of the Good Roads Amendment. "It is not right that many of our farms are isolated a great portion of the time when our farmers cannot get their produce to market," she declared. "The adoption of the Good Roads Amendment will guarantee funds for the construction of an outstanding road program for Texas, she added. Advocates of the measure reiterated it proposes no change in the existing provisions for legal refunds of taxes paid on gasoline used in farm tractors and for other non-road purposes.

Pat Fullock, chairman of the Senate Education Committee, added his endorsement of the Good Roads Amendment, pointing out that the courts have held the gasoline tax is not an occupation tax, therefore the schools receive their part of this revenue by statutory enactment only. "The adoption of the amendment will give the

A former chairman of the highway and motor traffic committee in both the Texas House of Representatives and Senate, W. A. "Cap" Williamson, declared, "It will be a great day for the Texas people when they join the other 18 progressive states which have already adopted such an amendment."

"A guarantee of road funds, such as provided by the Good Roads Amendment, would result in planning a long-range program to bring rural Texas out of the mud and provide a safer and more adequate highway system," said Rep. Durwood Manford, present chairman of the House Committee on Highways and Roads.

R. W. Calvert, chairman of the State Democratic Executive Committee, who was speaker of the House in the 45th Legislature added his personal endorsement, stating that "better roads mean better prices, cheaper hauling, development of our rural schools, and assurance of better medical facilities."

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox
M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

AUSTIN.—Inasmuch as the incidence of whooping cough in Texas is expected to show an increase during the coming months, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, released a statement today urging that strenuous efforts be made to control the spread of this debilitating childhood disease.

"Whooping cough can only be contracted by direct exposure to the disease, and isolation of cases must be universally practiced if the incidence is to be controlled," Dr. Cox stated.

"The infectious agent of germ of whooping cough is transmitted by droplets expelled in coughing, sneezing, or speaking," Dr. Cox said. "The discharges from the nose and throat are dangerous to susceptible persons; the need for early recognition and careful isolation of whooping cough is obvious." The first sign of this disease is usually a dry cough, which persists day and night and tends to become increasingly severe. The disease is fully developed when vomiting of food and whooping accompany the paroxysm of cough. Dr. Cox stressed the fact that children who have whooping cough should not attend school or come in contact with other children until three weeks after the appearance of typical signs of the disease.

"Prevention and control of whooping cough, especially among infants and small children, may be accomplished through use of approved vaccine and convalescent serum," Dr. Cox asserted, and it is important that such measures be taken to protect them. Neglecting to do so, and allowing the young child to suffer an attack of this disease, may seriously impair his future health."

Mrs. James Dyke of Abilene visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Tiner, the first of this week while her husband was attending an annual meeting of the Southwestern Library Association in Phoenix, Ariz.

Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Kemletz of Stamford spent the week end with Mrs. Kemletz's mother, Mrs. Louise B. Ingram, and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Martin and family of Dallas visited relatives and friends here over the week end.

Mrs. G. R. Eiland left last week for Fort Worth for several weeks' visit with her son-in-law and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. James N. Walker and family.

FIXING UP the HOME By Diane Greiter

LP-GAS HOUSEHEATING

HAVE you ever wished for some method of taking the chill off the house or, perhaps, only a single room, in the morning or evening? Too often you find that ordinary sources of heat are so slow that the need has passed before warmth is obtained.

Gas, the fast, clean modern fuel, can solve this problem for you at comparatively small expense. A space heater or floor furnace fueled with gas reaches peak heat-giving efficiency a few seconds after it is ignited. Temperatures can be regulated to suit needs and individual preferences.

Residents of the more temperate climates have found the space heater operated with liquefied petroleum gas—"tank" or "bottled" gas—ideal for home heating the year round. In other sections of the country the convenience and controllability of the space heater have made it popular for "between-season" heating.

If you're planning to build a new home or remodel your present home, you can enjoy the kind of heat you want at whatever time you want it whether you live in the city, in the suburbs, in the country or on a farm. Liquefied petroleum gas—"bottled" or "tank" gas—delivered by a local dealer to operate your range, refrigerator, and automatic hot water heater, can give you modern comfortable space heating suited to the seasons and to your individual needs.

Veterans' News

The Veterans Administration this week urged veterans who have National Service Life Insurance to designate beneficiaries for their insurance if they have not already done so.

Don Pray, VA's director of insurance in Texas, Louisiana and Mississippi, explained that the Insurance Act of 1946 completely changed the situation with respect to beneficiaries. The old provision for an automatic order of succession, in the event no beneficiary was named, is no longer in effect for insurance maturing after July 31, 1946.

Under the new law, Pray said, if the insured is not survived by a designated beneficiary, the insurance proceeds will be paid in a single sum to his estate at his death.

A veteran who does not designate beneficiaries exposes his dependents to the risk of unnecessary expense and delay, Pray pointed out.

A 200-bed general medical and surgical hospital at Marlin, Texas, was among 13 new Veterans Administration hospitals approved last week by President Truman.

This brings the total of new VA hospitals planned for the Texas, Louisiana and Mississippi area to ten. Additions to existing installations also are planned.

New hospitals previously announced will be erected at New Orleans and Shreveport, Louisiana; Big Spring, Bonham, Dallas, El Paso and Houston, Texas; and Tupelo, Mississippi. Another hospital will be built in Mississippi at a site to be selected later.

Fewer veterans were paid readjustment allowance for unemployment during the week ending October 12 than in any week since last January, Ray R. Adams, Readjustment Allowance Director of VA, reported. During that week about 1,122,000 veterans claimed unemployment allowances, a na-

Looking Ahead

PHRASE-MAKERS who refer to Dixie as the Bible Belt have missed an important point. Without ignoring anything, I should like to appraise the whole of America as a Bible Land. This is done humbly, for Americans have sometimes failed to follow the light of truth when that light burned brightly before them.

Despite efforts of some modern historians to interpret the facts differently, our forebears developed this nation with religious principles in mind. They read their Bibles. Regardless of how many Americans have forsaken these fundamentals, it remains a nation that has been blessed bountifully by God. In 1939 our national income was not merely the highest in the world; it equaled the total incomes of the next six highest nations on earth. Let it be remembered that America's best-seller is still the Bible, a phenomenon which is cause and not effect.

Practical NATIONAL Bible Application Week is celebrated this year from October 21 to 27. Where else among the nations can you find a land so dedicating itself? In calling America a land of Bibles, I affirm that the religious people of this nation constitute its greatest asset. There now would be no hope for world peace, there would be no prospect of good citizenship at home, were this not so.

For example, the Bible offers us the perfect formula to put an end to industrial strife. In fact, I could never expect fair play in industrial relations to come about in a land where the Golden Rule is unknown. We must not forget it, here in America. Shall labor forget this rule of action and become a pressure group so determined to apply pressure upon industry that investment capital will be driven out and become unavailable to buy and replace tools? That is exactly the way to cut production and achieve lower and lower wages.

Return to INDUSTRY aims at profit: it wants dividends for stockholders and capital for expansion. Should industry withhold fair wages and seek specialized legislation? No, that is the road to bankruptcy. Industry's first objective should not be its own welfare, but the welfare of labor and of agriculture.

Agriculture wants high prices for all it can produce. How shall it obtain these high prices? Through selfish class legislation? No, that's the road to failure. Agriculture wants a prosperous market, with many people eating and living well. This it cannot attain by selfishly looking to itself. It must be more interested in the welfare of other groups.

Wherever we have strayed from God, and from His laws and His formulas, that is exactly the point where we must return. Harmony, prosperity, and peace will surely follow. If we loved one another as we love ourselves, we should have no fear about what use might be made of atomic bombs. Neither science, nor so-called "civilization," nor any of the human "isms," offers a sure cure for the world's ills. A return to God and the principles found in the Bible is our only hope that we shall not literally destroy ourselves.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q. Does the amount of money I make on the job affect the amount of subsistence I receive while attending school under Public Law 346?

A. Yes. While taking a full time course in school, you are entitled to subsistence of $65 per month if without a dependent or dependents and $90 per month if you have a dependent or dependents, but if you also are employed, the rate of such allowance plus compensation received, shall not exceed $175 per month if you are without a dependent or dependents or $200 per month if with dependent or dependents.

Q. I sold my home on which I had a G. I. loan with a VA guarantee of $1500. Can I get another guaranteed loan to purchase a larger home for myself?

A. Yes, but since you've used up $1500 of your $4000 guarantee entitlement, your entitlement on any future real estate loan cannot exceed $2500.

Q. Does a discharge "under conditions other than dishonorable" mean any kind of discharge except a dishonorable discharge?

A. Yes. An honorable discharge or discharge under honorable conditions qualifies a veteran for benefits under the Servicemen's Readjustment Act (G. I. Bill); a dishonorable discharge disqualifies him, but a discharge that is neither honorable or dishonorable may qualify or disqualify him, depending upon the determination of the "conditions" under which he receives it. Veterans Administration determines all such cases.

Q. What is the National Service Life Insurance Fund?

A. National Service Life Insurance is mutual insurance. All premiums paid on this insurance and all interest earned thereon are deposited and covered into a separate trust fund in the United States Treasury designated as the NSLI fund. The Government derives no profit from its administration and acts in the capacity of trustee of the fund for the sole benefit of the policyholders and their beneficiaries.

"Forms of City Government," a bulletin prepared by the Bureau of Municipal Research at the University of Texas, has been revised and reprinted since its first publication in 1945. Dr. Wilfred D. Webb, research assistant, made the revisions. The bulletin describes three forms of city government in Texas: mayor-council, commission, and council-manager.

Miss Janie Spann, who is attending T. S. C. W. in Denton, spent the week end here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Spann, and other relatives.

Mrs. J. W. Roberts visited with relatives in Haskell several days last week.

Scrap Metal Needed For U. S. Steel Furnaces

Steel furnaces in the United States are in bad need of scrap metal. If there is any scrap iron or steel on your farm, the United States Department of Agriculture urges you to take it immediately to a local scrap buyer or farm machinery dealer.

Recent reports from leading steel centers show less than a two-week supply of scrap metal on hand, and production may drop as much as 30 per cent unless more scrap becomes available. A lot of steel is required to make tractors, combines, cultivators and plows. Any scrap from farm machinery.

The type metal that the steel industry wants is heavy melting scrap, such as castings and other heavy pieces that are often found on farms.

Since there is no organized plan for collecting scrap on farms, it must be taken to local dealers. The Civilian Production Administration has requested farm machinery dealers to accept the scrap and route it properly.

Before making a regular trip to town, look over the farm and see if you have any scrap that is no longer useful. If so, throw it in the car or on the back of the truck and take it to town. Metal collected in this way will keep the steel industry turning out material needed for manufacture of farm machinery.

Last week, my son and I were pleasantly surprised to find our favorite brand of gum once more on the druggists' shelves. The druggist—knowing our tastes—pointed the gum out to us and remarked that at last it was back from the wars! Then he went on to explain that gum was packed in every field ration for our service men to give them a necessary lift when the going was tough—it does provide relaxation and energy, you know.

Did you know that when chewing gum was first introduced it was almost a failure? The gum became so stale and brittle that no one would buy it! This fact certainly surprised me, for nowadays just about everyone enjoys gum. But as the druggist and I talked my son unwrapped a stick—and I knew the answer right then! The gum we buy today is wrapped in waxed paper—and, of course, the waxed paper keeps it fresh, sanitary and moist almost indefinitely. . . . and it can be shipped to people around the world.

Our handy work and money saver—waxed paper—certainly has a lot of uses, doesn't it? When gum manufacturers began wrapping sticks in waxed paper, it stayed fresh and moist, and rapidly became our most popular confectionery. And so the success of chewing gum industry can be traced to waxed paper—an every day item that keeps so many of our foods fresh and sanitary!

OUTWEARS PREWAR TIRES

Even despite the outstanding production in B. F. Goodrich's 75-year history, so many new customers have heard about the amazing performance of the new B. F. Goodrich Silvertown we've had to ask our customer friends to wait at times. And they've been grand.

The new B. F. Goodrich Silvertown is selling like hot cakes—is worth waiting for

If you're looking for a passenger car tire that will OUTWEAR PREWAR TIRES, pick the new postwar Silvertown which has been tested on taxi fleets, police cars, special test cars, and by hundreds of thousands of car owners. Tests showed the wider, flatter tread put more rubber on the road, provided longer mileage, better protection against skidding.

To match the performance of this heavier tread, a new 35 per cent stronger cord body was developed with sturdier cords and more of them to give the tire better resistance to bruises and road shock. All this means more safety—more value—more economy—more reason for waiting a little longer for the tire that OUTWEARS PREWAR TIRES.

Mrs. J. H. Bardwell Adopts Czech Girl Under Foster Parents' War Plan

Mrs. James H. Bardwell of Munday has "adopted" Jarmila Vasikova, 11 1/2 year old Czech girl in Czechoslovakia, through the Foster Parents' Plan for War Children, was announced recently by Mrs. Edna Blue, plan executive chairman headquarters of the plan are at 55 West 42nd Street, New York City.

At the present time, the plan is operating fifty-six children's projects in Holland, France, Belgium, Italy, Malta, England and Czechoslovakia and is caring for children of fourteen different nationalities. The child is in one of the projects that the organization operates. The case history of the child who has been "adopted" follows:

Jarmila's development has been stunted by the ordeal of the German occupation. Since the age of four, her life has been surrounded by extreme hardship.

The girl's father was an active member of the Czech Resistance Movement. The mother, as well, fought the Nazis, hiding Allied parachutists in their house. Both were apprehended by the Gestapo and sent to a concentration camp, leaving Jarmila alone. A neighbor befriended the child and cared for her as best she could with the given means afforded by the occupation.

The mother was finally released, but the father remained until finally executed. Mother and daughter were left to themselves, grief-stricken and helpless.

Today, "Plan" attempts to help Jarmila reclaim her lost childhood. With new clothes on the way and a monthly allotment forthcoming, the girl will be assured of a minimum security for the immediate future.

The projects which the plan operates in France, England, Italy, Malta, Holland and Belgium include the following: The Grange, England; The Malta Colony, Selima, Malta; the French Colonies, France; The Rome, Naples and Catania Colonies in Italy; the Brussels Colony in Belgium and The Amsterdam Colony in Holland.

On the receipt of an application by the Foster Parents' Plan, the foster parents receives, as soon as possible, a photograph and a brief history of the child and pays $15 per month for the support of the child.

An international committee composed of the Earl of Listowel, the Viscount Cecil of Chelwood, Mrs. Harry S. Truman, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, Representative Clare Boothe Luce, Helen Hayes and Mrs. Stephens S. Wise are sponsoring the work of the Foster Parents' Plan for War Children.

More than 44,000 children of all nationalities have been helped by the Foster Parents' Plan since its

4-H Clubs Plan Achievement Week November 2-10

Plans are now being completed in counties over Texas to observe National 4-H Achievement Week, Nov. 2-10. Over 100,000 4-H Club boys and girls will be recognized for the work they have done during the past year in 4-H clubs.

At the beginning of 1946, 4-H Club enrollment in Texas included 101,396 members. A glance at some of the figures showing how much these boys and girls accomplished gives an idea of what 4-H Club work means in Texas.

Club girls canned over a million and a half quarts of food, served 1,152,000 meals, made more than 150,000 garments and redecorated 7440 bed rooms—and these are just a few of their accomplishments. Club boys raised over 40,000 acres of field crops, 750,000 chickens, 50,000 head of livestock, sold 5,260,000 pounds of beef and pork, and collected a million and a half pounds of scrap metal.

Rural youth who are not club members are being urged during the national recognition week to look at the opportunities offered them in 4-H Club work and give consideration to becoming an active 4-H Club member.

Bulldogs Bow To Moguls 12-6 Friday Night

Many local fans who started the trip to Stamford last Friday night in a "doubtful mood" as to chances of winning received a high seasonal thrill, as Munday's gallant Moguls came out on the high end of a 12-6 score over the Stamford Bulldogs.

The game was a "thriller-diller" from start to finish. Fumbles were rather frequent on both sides, but Munday was able to break even on the recovery angle, and the fumbles furnished additional thrills.

The Moguls started goalward in the first quarter. After a march down field, Johnny Spann went through the line for Munday's first counter. The kick for extra point was wide.

The Bulldogs then started out to even the score, and were headed in that direction when the quarter ended. From the locals' 35-yard line, Samuels tossed a pass to Cobb to set up Stamford's score on the second play of the second quarter. The Bulldogs' attempt at extra point also failed.

The third quarter was scoreless, with both teams making determined stands under the shadow of their own goal posts.

Early in the fourth period, Munday again jabbed at the scoring line, but were held for downs. Stamford kicked out of danger, but later Bouldin attempted a fourth-down pass to Spann, which was intercepted by a Stamford player, who took a few steps and fumbled with Munday recovering on the five-yard line. Three plays later, Bouldin plunged through right tackle for the touchdown.

Johnny Spann's toe sent a high kick between the uprights for the extra point, but Stamford was offside and the play was called back. The second kick was low. In the hustle and bustle of the last few minutes, Stamford was unable to make a dangerous threat and was forced to kick twice on fourth downs. The game ended with Munday in possession of the ball on their own 40-yard line, but making steady gains toward another counter. Local fans were well satisfied to hear the signal that ended the game, however.
