Lubbock Gives Rousing Welcome To Governor Shivers And DeMolays

FINAL EDITION

TEXAS' GOVERNOR PARTICIPATES IN DEMOLAY CONCLAVE — His first visit to Lubbock since he became governor found Allan Shivers receiving a warm welcome today. Pictured at left as he disembarked from a DC-3 airplane at Municipal airport at 9:30 o'clock this morning, the governor received a heavy round of applause from DeMolays and the general public gathered at the airport to greet him. In the second picture, Gov. Shivers holds aloft a pair of specially made cowboy boots made by Jack Davis and presented to the governor by the Lubbock County Sheriff's posse. The presentation was made by B. R. Brady, at left, who holds a box containing a hat which was also presented to the governor just before a parade started. In the third picture, Gov. Shivers waves his new hat as he rounds the corner at Broadway and Texas in the parade. He was accompanied on horseback by Dorrance Guy, area master councilor of DeMolay, who rode at his left. By BILL CLARK
Journal Staff Writer

The Order of DeMolay shared the keys to the city with Gov. Allan Shivers today when young men gathered for a West Texas area conclave that includes a full day of activities to be highlighted by an address by the governor tonight.

DeMolays 250 strong had arrived for the impressive program, registration figures indicated early this afternoon. Members from Fort Worth, Odessa, Plainview, Amarillo, Hereford, Wichita Falls, Brownfield, El Paso and Pasadena joined those of the E. Y. Lee chapter here in welcoming the governor to Lubbock.

PUBLIC IS INVITED

The public is invited to hear Gov. Allan Shivers in his speech here tonight at O. L. Slaton Junior High school, Thirty-second street and Avenue Q.

Governor Shivers is making his first formal appearance in West Texas at the state's chief executive at Slaton Junior High, addressing the West Texas conclave of the Order of DeMolay. This occasion will mark the governor's only public appearance in Lubbock during his current visit.

Time of the address, as nearly as could be set today, will be 8 o'clock.

Arrives By Plane

Gov. Shivers, accompanied by a group of Lubbock civic leaders and DeMolays, arrived by DC-3 airplane at Municipal airport promptly at 9:30 o'clock this morning.

The genial, amiable chief executive was greeted with applause by the crowd which had gathered to see him arrive at the airport.

He was whisked to Fourth street and College avenue behind a police escort, leading a procession of convertible cars containing representatives of the DeMolay conclave. He was accompanied in the lead automobile by Sen. Kilmer B. Corbin of Lamesa and Malvern Marks of Fort Worth, active member of the Grand Council for Texas.

Near Texas Tech stadium he was welcomed by members of the Lub-

"I THINK I'D MOVE TO LUBBOCK"

Shivers Says He Wants To Be Governor Of West Texas, Too!

BY C. W. RATLIFF
Journal Staff Writer

Handsome, personable and affable Allan Shivers, governor of Texas, landed at Municipal airport this morning for a day's visit in Lubbock, the first since he became chief executive less than two months ago and he hadn't more than hit the ground before he started shaking hands.

Gov. Shivers is here especially to make the principal address at a West Texas area conclave of DeMolays at O. L. Slaton Junior High school tonight.

"If you'd give me half an opportunity, I think I'd move to Lubbock," the governor said in a brief speech following presentation to him of a fine hat and shop-made boots by B. R. Brady, president of the Lubbock County Sheriff's Posse, at Fourth and College where the governor joined the Posse in a parade down College and Broadway to Texas and the Hilton hotel.

Appearance Belies Age

"I want you people in West Texas to know that I want to be governor of West Texas as well as every section of Texas," the governor added. He thanked his hosts for the gifts, put on the hat, tied a red handkerchiefs around his neck and slipped his feet into the boots with a little difficulty, (he wears a size 13) mounted a horse, and rode in a parade to his hotel.

Politically-wise after 15 years in Austin as a state senator, lieutenant-governor and now governor, Shivers' appearance belies his age and experience. Elected state senator at the age of 26, Shivers was one of the youngest ever to serve in the upper house at Austin.

Silent On Candidacy

"I'll admit it now that I didn't have sense enough to serve in the Senate," he laughed on the plane coming from Austin this morning. Despite his 41 years, he looks less than 30 today and his tenure

Czech Revolt Said Crushed

Leaders To Face Death Or Prison

(By The Associated Press)

PRAGUE, Aug. 30—The Czechoslovak government announced today it had crushed an anti-Communist underground movement just as the group was preparing to begin an armed revolution.

The official press bureau linked the underground members with "a certain western imperialistic power" but did not identify the western power.

Condemned To Die

Details of the purported plot were announced after a secret trial at which six persons were condemned to death, 10 given life imprisonment and an unspecified number lesser prison terms. Ten of those tried were acquitted.

The announcement termed members of the group spies and terrorists and said they were tried on charges of high treason and spying on behalf of the western power "with which they had been in contact."

The government claimed its police had played a cat-and-mouse game with the alleged conspirators and waited until they were all set to begin the revolution before moving in to nab them.

One of those sentenced to death was Josef Charvat, identified by friends as chief of security police here during the first republic.

The government said the political leader of the planned putsch was Dr. Jaroslav Borkovec, identified as the brother of a former chief of the Prague police's criminal investigation section. His brother was ousted when the Communists took over the government in February, 1948.

Informed sources said those

TRUMAN SIGNS NEW MEASURE

Cotton Production Slash Is Planned

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30—President Truman has signed a bill providing the machinery for southern and western farmers to trim their cotton acreage. The program is intended to prevent sharp breaks in cotton prices in the years ahead.

The new law authorizes the secretary of agriculture to limit 1950 cotton plantings to 21,000,000 acres. This compares with an estimated 26,380,000 acres planted this year and 22,768,000 acres harvested in 1948.

Moreover, the legislation takes special steps — in preparing for wheat production controls—to protect growers in areas where there have been rapid expansions of wheat acreage in recent years. It also provides protection for new peanut growers.

Law Is Amended

In seeking to maintain the government price support program, by balancing cotton production with demand, the new law amendments present law under which the secretary of agriculture cannot allot less than 27,500,000 acres.

For the years beyond 1950, the legislation provides that the secretary can allot acreage to hold cotton production down to 10,000,000 bales a year or at 1,000,000 bales under the total of the preceding year's combined domestic consumption and exports of cotton.

Cotton production in 1948 was 14,626,000 bales, the highest in 10 years. The Agriculture department estimates this year's crop will hit 14,800,000 bales.

Referendums Are Provided

The new law provides that the secretary can call for a farmer referendum on cotton quotas when the total supply is above normal. If two-thirds of those voting in the referendum approve such quotas, then the controlled acreage is broken down among the states and to the counties and ultimately to the individual farmers.

If they reject the acreage quotas the farmers will get no government price supports. Cotton farmers are expected to vote this fall on whether they want to come back under production controls, suspended during war and post-war years.

A complicated formula is provided for acreage assignments. State and county allotments would be based in 1950 and 1951 on a specialized formula, and thereafter on average acreage planted during the five preceding years. The individual producers then would get their allotments on the basis of a percentage of their cotton growing history and on their total land under cultivation.

New Law Discussed

Special provision is made for trends in cotton production, giving special weight to increased planting in the west during the last three years.

The new law says the acreage allotment of wheat for the 1950 crop for any farm shall not be less than the larger of—

1. 50 percent of (a) the acreage of the farm seeded for the production of wheat in 1949, and (b) any other acreage seeded for the production of wheat in 1948 which was fallowed and from which no crop was harvested in the calen-

First Crosby Bale Of Cotton Ginned

RALLS, Aug. 30. (Special)—Crosby county's first bale of cotton was ginned here at 6 p. m. Monday.

C. W. Mann, manager of the Ralls Chamber of Commerce, said the cotton was taken from a 15-acre patch on the farm of F. L. Houser about four miles south of Ralls.

It was ginned by the Bill Smith Gin company of Ralls. The 1,720 pounds of seed cotton pulled resulted in the 470-pound bale and 600 pounds of cotton seed.

The first bale came one day earlier than last year, according to Mann. Members of the Chamber of Commerce are collecting prizes to be presented to Houser, Mann said.

Lubbock Flier Dies In Crash

F. J. Rassiga, 30, Victim At Dallas

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, Aug. 30.—A flier who begged to try out a souped up P-63 Fighter plane died when it crashed into Mountain Creek lake.

Divers recovered te body of Francis J. (Hank) Rassiga, 30, of Lubbock an hour after the plane plunged into nine feet of water late yesterday.

Rassiga had borrowed the plane, tuned up for the Thompson trophy race, from Jimmy De Santo, 23, who saw the crash.

"I didn't know this boy very well," De Santo said. "He helped me work with the plane all afternoon. He was an Air Force reserve officer . . . he begged me to let him try it out and I did."

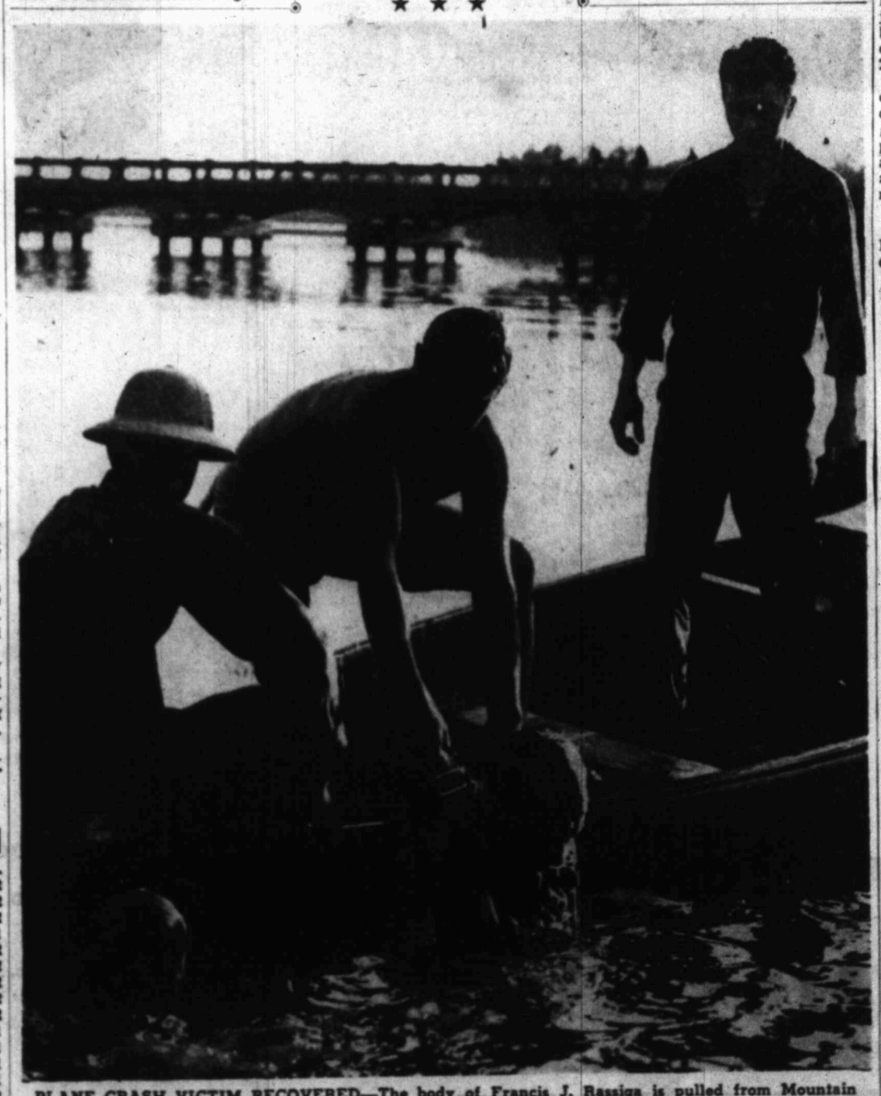

Takeoff Perfect

De Santo said he had planned to fly the plane to Cleveland today for qualifying flights in the National Air Races. He said he had entered the Cleveland races three times and each time he was forced out because of trouble with his planes.

Rassiga was a senior architecture student at Texas Tech college and a flight instructor at the Lubbock municipal airport and also with the 707th Bomb squadron reserve. He had lived in Lub-

Vaughan Says Nothing Wrong In His Record

General Says Gifts Did Not Influence Him In Decisions

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30—Maj. Gen. Harry H. Vaughan acknowledged today that he collected campaign money in 1946 from some of the business men he helped in dealings with the government.

He said he got $2,000 or $3,000 from race track owner William Helis, who sought Vaughan's aid in 1948 in getting a permit for scarce building materials for the Tanforan (Calif) race track.

And, Vaughan said, he "probably" got $2,000 from John Maragon, Washington man-about-town and one time employe of a Chicago perfume company.

Improper Conduct Denied

Vaughan, the President's military aide, was in the witness chair of the Senate investigations subcommittee.

Flatly and repeatedly, he denied that there was anything improper in anything he did for any business man—or that he ever received any fee, gift or favor in return for his aid.

Senator McCarthy (R-Wis) said at one point he felt that "Vaughan did not personally profit financially" from his assistance to persons who have figured in the inquiry.

But he demanded that Vaughan produce for the committee the names of all persons from whom he received money for campaign purposes, the exact amounts and the disposition of the money.

Recess Ordered

Vaughan had testified that he thought the Maragon and Helis contributions had gone to the Court Suit Set To Nip Annual Session Move

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Aug. 30—Application for a restraining order to keep off Nov. 8 ballot a proposed constitutional amendment to provide annual legislative sessions and fixed annual salaries for legislators was filed in 126th district court here today.

Hearing was set down for 2 p. m. today.

The court fight was brought by George McBlair, Laverne Goodwin and G. B. Chambers, all residents of Dallas county, represented by Dallas Attorneys G. Ray Lee and Dick Connally.

The petition asked the court to restrain Secretary of State Ben Ramsey from certifying the proposed amendment to county judges for inclusion on the ballot on grounds that it "in reality submits four separate and distinct propositions, is illegal and unconstitutional in that it deprives the citizen of his right to vote separately upon each of the subjects at issue."

Assistant Secretary of State Louis S. Wilkerson said that the Nov. 8 election and the order in which the ten proposed amendments are to appear on the ballot have already been certified to county judges and county clerks.

Determined By Lot

The order was determined by lot in the secretary of state's office Aug. 23 and certifications mailed out on that date, Wilykerson said.

Raysey was not immediately available for comment.

McBlair is chairman of a "statewide committee on constitutional amendments," with headquarters in Dallas, which has been formed, he said, to fight both phases of the double-barreled amendment.

"The amendment," McBlair said, "if permitted to appear on the ballot, makes it impossible for a citizen to vote at all if he is for the salary raise, and opposed to annual sessions or vice versa."

Is Declared Vague

He said the contestants' interest in the matter is "to see that the people of Texas have the opportunity to vote intelligently, and with understanding, on each of the different issues involved, and not be denied this privilege because of the vagueness of the amendment as it is proposed to ap-

Courts Assess Liquor Fines

Charlie James Biggs, 41, who gave the address of 2600-block Ave. K, was assessed 60 days in county jail and court costs in each of eight liquor law violation charges filed May 6, it was announced by the county attorney's department this morning.

Judge Walter Davies allowed the penalties to run concurrently, officials said.

Lubbock Man Fined

Fred Prestage, commanding officer of the Lubbock district of the Liquor Control board, said Clarence Ellison, 48, of Lubbock had been fined $250 and Hockley county court costs Monday in Levelland, as well as 30 days in jail, for possession of 21 cans of beer for purpose of sale. Date of offense was alleged to be April 26.

Ellison was convicted here recently of a liquor law violation charge filed April 6. He pleaded guity, and Judge Davies assessed punishment $1,000 fine, court costs and six months in county jail. An appeal was taken from the judgment.

Has Entered No Plea

He has entered no plea in a liquor charge filed April 1, the county attorney's department said.

Burglary of the Boy Scout clubhouse at 2209 Ave. X—for the second time in recent days—was reported to the police this morning.

Four Army surplus bedrolls valued at $47 were missing, officials told investigators.

LOSS ESTIMATED AT $200,000

Entire Business Block Swept By Fire Today At Winnsboro

(By The Associated Press)

WINNSBORO, Aug. 30—An early morning fire destroyed an entire business block in this East Texas town today.

Alf Morris, president of the First National bank, estimated the loss would run around $200,000.

The first alarm was turned in about 4:30 a. m., and the charred ruins were still smouldering at 7:30 a. m. Cause of the blaze hadn't been determined.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Old owned the main building. Other property was owned by the McBride estate.

Five Automobiles Are Destroyed

Housed in the business block were the White House restaurant, Bevis and McLarty grocery, Winnsboro recreation hall, the Masonic lodge headquarters, Dr. Ralph Kull's office and the Miller and Miller service station. At least five automobiles were said to have been destroyed at the service station.

W. Hardy Bullock, fire marshal, said a main telephone cable was burned, causing a large number of telephones here to go out of commission. A telephone repair crew from Kilgore was on its way here. Electric service in part of the town also was disrupted by the fire.

SEVEN DAMS WILL BE SOUGHT

Program To Give West Texas 50-Year Water Supply Urged

ABILENE, Aug. 30 (AP)—A plan to give West-Central Texas a 50-year water supply was discussed here yesterday by officials of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and the U. S. Bureau of Reclamation.

They discussed a proposal to obtain at least seven dams on the Colorado river and tributaries of the Red and Brazos.

They said if this came about, a 50-year water supply would be assured.

Harry P. Burleight, state planning engineer for the reclamation bureau, met with John D. Mitchell, president of the WTCC, and D. A. Bandeen, its manager.

Group Sponsors Plan

These men said the plan was made possible by reclamation bureau Commissioner Michael W. Strauss' announcement last week of a multiple- dam program for West Texas towns.

The officials said the program would be sponsored by an organization known as the West Texas Domestic Water association. This is to be formed by the chamber of commerce and will work through the reclamation bureau.

Burleigh said he hoped to have preliminary surveys completed before March 1.

He said this is in line with the bureau's announcement that surveys would be finished in time to ask Congress next year to set aside money for projects.

Burleigh said the Washington announcement, made in a letter to West Texas congressmen, included only the red bed area of west Central Texas. However, Burleigh said his preliminary surveys would include sites on the Colorado and tributaries of the Red river, as well as the Brazos.

Mitchell pointed out a study of great scope will be needed to plan a 50-year water supply for West Texas.

Bandeen said the planning would include a study of the characteristics and economy of the territory, stressing "the life and production of the area as related to the welfare and economy of the United States."

The men said the study will outline the inadequacy of the present water supply and cite damage due to lack of water, to stress the need for domestic, industrial and irrigation water.

Terrain Study Needed

Another important study, they said, will be of the drinking quality of water. In many cases, West Texas water is either too salty or too hard.

Since tremendous watersheds must be available to provide enough runoff in the 20-30 inch rain belt, the terrain will have to be studied. This will be one of the principal projects sponsored by the group.

At the same time, a study will be made of work that has been done and will be done by the present river authorities, the Army engineers and the reclamation bureau.

Mitchell and Bandeen said all these facts will be wrapped up and presented to Congress. They said Congress will be asked to recognize water's domestic qualities, as well as flood control, as a measuring stick for dam building.

It's up to Congress to set the policy and shell out the money, they said.

Channel Swim Attempt Fails

FOLKESTONE, Eng., Aug. 30. (AP)—Swimmer Marie Hassan Hamad, a 30-year-old Egyptian Army warrant officer, surrendered to the English channel yesterday less than four miles from his goal.

The channel swimmer was pulled from the squally waves, wind and tides after being in the water 14 hours out of Cap Gris Nez, France. The accompanying boat Britannia brought Hamad to Folkestone.

Suffered From Stings

The weary Egyptian, whose physician had ordered him to give up the effort, stepped ashore visibly depressed and too tired to talk. He only shook his head when he was asked if he would try the channel again.

Hamad suffered from jelly fish stings. While he was swimming he was given oil to ease the irritation in his eyes. He took fruit juices and other nourishment and was going in great style, observers said, until the tide turned against him.

"It was too much for a man, even such a strong one," said his physician. "He was making no forward progress and it was useless to remain longer in the darkening night."

High School Athlete Shot After Quarrel With Teen-Age Girl

CHICAGO, Aug. 30. (INS)—A heartbroken high school track and swim star was found shot to death today in the garage of his suburban Calumet City home.

A picture of his teen-aged girl friend, Joan Pietrzak, and a farewell love poem were clutched in the hands of the youth, James Mayer, 17.

The 16-year-old girl said she and Mayer had a bitter quarrel during a date which ended after midnight and that they had returned gifts exchanged during the past year. She sobbed:

"We agreed it was best for us to part because we couldn't get along, but I never dreamed he would do anything like this."

A .22 caliber hunting rifle was propped against Mayer's chest and a bullet had pierced his heart.

Police quoted the youth's father as saying his son and Joan had a "lover's quarrel" last week and that the younger Mayer had been "moody" since the spat.

Europe Plans Fund Division

PARIS, Aug. 30 (AP)—Top officials of the Organization for European Economic cooperation (OEEC) have worked out a new plan for division of Marshall plan funds which would give Britain $960,000,000 in 1949-50.

This figure is $118,000,000 more than the British were allotted under the last OEEC proposal but is $558,000,000 less than the British asked for when estimates of required aid were submitted.

Although the U. S. Congress has not yet decided on the exact amount of Marshall plan aid for the coming year, the experts are figuring on a total appropriation of about $3,670,000,000.

The new plan was worked out after all the 19 member areas except Trieste let it be known they were not satisfied with the last proposed division.

The council of the OEEC will meet tomorrow to discuss the new proposals. There was no official comment on the new plan. The British, however, were reported pleased with the increase.

Woman Polio Victim Taken To Plainview

LAMESA, Aug. 30 (Special)—Mrs. Sheldon R. Hawkins, 28, of Odessa, was taken from the Price hospital here about 9:30 p. m. Monday to the polio center at Plainview. Her illness was diagnosed as bulbar type polio by Dr. N. H. Price of Lamesa.

She came here to visit relatives Saturday but headaches and a stiffness of the neck caused her to seek medical attention this afternoon.

She left here by ambulance for the polio center accompanied by her husband, a diesel concern worker; a nurse and relatives.

She was given oxygen during the journey but her sister, Mrs. Mary Schmidt, of 604 N. 6th, telephoned Plainview doctors and learned that she had arrived there safely although her condition was termed by them as "serious."

Mrs. Hawkins, the former Ruth Tinkler, is a graduate of Lamesa high school and of Texas Tech. She is a second grade teacher in Odessa and formerly taught here.

She is the mother of a two-year-old child and has been a resident of Odessa for the last two and one-half years.

Woman Claims She Was Forced Aboard Plane That Crashed

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 30. (AP)—A New York woman has filed suit for $1,500,000 damages from a pilot she claims "physically forced" her to board his plane shortly before it crashed at Dracut, Mass., July 11, 1948.

The suit, filed by Gloria Gerstman in U. S. district court yesterday, named Samuel E. Poole, jr., as defendant. He was described as a resident of Pennsylvania and holder of a commercial pilot's license.

The suit contends the plaintiff's former husband, William Markowitz of New York, Poole and several others, decided at a "drinking party" to fly to New York for some Chinese food.

Plane Claimed Buried

The New York woman charges her former husband and Poole "compelled, coerced and physically forced" her to board the plane. A few minutes after taking off, the plane crashed into some trees.

The plaintiff contends that Poole tried to take off without warming up the motors and without giving her time to fasten her safety belt. The plane, she said, was overloaded and in disrepair.

The woman, who sustained a cerebral concusssion, fractured pelvis and other injuries, charges she was taken to a hospital under an assumed name and that Poole and her ex-husband buried parts of the wrecked plane, later making a "false" report to authorities.

POISON DISCOVERED IN BODIES

Housewife Accused Of Murder After Mother And Father Die

EVANSVILLE, Ind., Aug. 30. (AP)—A toxilcologist testified yesterday "an enormous dose" of poison was found in the body of the father of an attractive Evansville housewife accused of the arsenic death of her mother.

The poison expert, Dr. Robert E. Farney of Indiana university, made the statement in a preliminary hearing in Vanderburgh circuit court, where Mrs. Clarice Spurlock is fighting for freedom from an affidavit charging murder.

Protests Overruled

The 28-year-old brunette is accused of the death of her mother, Mrs. Eunice Irene Dearing, 56, of Huntingburg, Ind., who died last Nov. 16 after a visit with the Spurlocks. Her husband, 60-year-old Winter Dearing, died April 5 after visiting the Spurlock home.

Dr. Farney testified Dearing "could not possibly have lived" after the poison entered his body. Toxicologists previously had reported that five grains of arsenic were found in Mrs. Dearing's body.

The hearing was conducted over the protest of defense attorneys, who contended the court lacked jurisdiction on Mrs. Spurlock's bid to win bond on a habeas corpus petition. Attorney Theodore Lockyear protested that no action could originate in the court that eventually would be the scene of trial and that the constitution guarantees that no person can be tried for first degree murder except by indictment.

Mother Did Cooking

Mrs. Spurlock has been held without bond on an affidavit signed by Vanderburgh county authorities. The county grand jury has not yet been given the case.

Judge Ollie C. Reeves overruled Lockyear's objections.

Defense attorneys introduced witnesses intended to show Mrs. Spurlock did not object to moving her mother to a hospital and that Mrs. Dearing apparently did most of the cooking in the Spurlock's fashionable suburban home.

A neighbor, Mrs. George Eykamp, said the mother seemed to prepare most of the meals when she came to help during an illness of Mrs. Spurlock's husband, Arleigh.

Authorities said Spurlock, a teacher in an Evansville business college, had been ailing before their investigation began several months ago. He has declined to undergo medical examination and told officers earlier he was suffering from arthritis.

By 1902, Canadian production of nickel was more than 5,000 tons.

Fanatics Claimed Threat To America

Quiet Catholic Priest Backs New Group To Change World

By ED GREAGH
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Aug. 30. — When James Keller says he's out to change the world, a lot of people listen.

For one thing, he's a big quietly persuasive Catholic priest with a no-nonsense air about him. He resembles his friend Spencer Tracy.

For another thing, he's a best-selling author who has banded more than 100,000 Catholics, protestants and Jews into a movement called the Christophers.

Seek World Change

Their aim, in their own words: To change the world.

"The U. S." Father Keller says, "is being undermined by a fanatical group of men and women who hate God and sneer at the declaration of independence, with its stress on our God-given rights.

"We want to stop this.

"And we hope to do it by putting men and women of good will into jobs where they can be a force for good and order.

"There has been too much shouting against 'subversives.'

"The time is here for action—for offering something better than the subversives can offer."

Novel Is Published

The Christophers are in the news on several fronts:

A novel which won the $15,000 first prize in their literary contest has just been published. Its title is "Call It Treason." The author, George Howe, is a Protestant.

The Christophers are trying to establish training schools in all part of the country, to guide "men and women of good will" into key jobs where they can make their influence felt.

And Father Keller himself is reading final proofs on a new book, "Three Minutes A Day," to be published by Doubleday in October. His last book, "You Can Change The World," sold 200,000 copies.

I went to see Father Keller because I had been hearing a good deal about misunderstanding and bad feeling among religious groups, and I wanted to know if there was another side to the story.

Concentrate On Fields

The man in the Roman collar is sure that there is.

"The Christoprers," he said, are people of all faiths. Some have no particular faith.

"We're all sorts of peoples—housewives, actors, employers, union officials. . .

"We concentrate on a few fields—teachings, government work, labor-management, and the spreading of ideas by radio, movies, publishing and so on.

"Why? Because that's where subversives are most active.

"Father," I asked, "are you going to get a million Christophers? are they really going to change the world?"

"With God's help," said Father Keller promptly, "yes."

An average mile of natural gas pipeline costs about $100,000.

Revenue Agent Is Threatened

ATLANTA, Aug. 30 (AP)—The U. S. collector of internal revenue for Georgia has received numerous threats, all by telephone, since he filed suit last week for alleged unpaid income taxes of the Association of Georgia klans.

Collector Marion H. Allen, who slapped a $9,332 tax lien on the robed order last week, said one caller identified herself as a klansman's wife. He said she reported she had heard "plans to take me for a ride."

Not Afraid

"I may be dumb, but I'm not afraid of them," Allen asserted yesterday.

"I have no way of knowing who the callers are," he continued. "Sometimes my telephone rings and when I answer the caller hangs up in my face."

Allen told newsmen he has not reported the threats to any law enforcement agencies.

Allen declared the investigation into klan finances is continuing and that he will make every effort to collect taxes the government claims for 1946, 1947 and 1948.

Church Federation Lecture Is On Welfare Of Child

Church Women's Federation of Lubbock met Monday at 3 p. m. in the First Methodist church with Mrs. C. A. Gammill leading the group in singing hymns. Following the Lord's Prayer, Mrs. Ivy Savage gave a devotional on "Our Responsibility to the Child," based on Psalm 127:3.

Mrs. Robert Allen gave a summary of the work done by the social welfare committee since its organization in 1939. Some of its activities have been the procuring of a social directory, a confidential exchange of the names of needy persons, a community chest, and a child welfare unit.

Miss Mary Lou Hawkins, a state child welfare worker, was introduced by Mrs. Allen. Miss Hawkins stressed that her office, which is located in the basement of the County Court house offers services to all children, not just to the under-privileged. Her office has a licensed adoptive service and is better qualiified to find homes for children because of an affiliation with other social workers over the state. Another service offered by the local office is boarding children in temporary homes while finding permanent homes for them.

Mrs. T. J. Lovett sang "When With Doubting and Praying," accompanied by Mrs. Carl Casey, and Mrs. J. H. Goodman closed the meeting with a prayer.

FIRE UNDER CONTROL

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 30. (AP) —A spectacular fire which virtually destroyed the block square warehouse of the Safeway Stores, Inc., was under control early today.

Estimates of damage were about $1,500,000.

Vows Read In Home

Miss Zula Virginia Crume, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyde E. Crume, 706 Ave. R, and Kenneth Wayne Davidson, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Davidson of Abernathy, were married Monday at 10 a. m. in the home of the bride's parents with Carl Spain, minister of the Church of Christ and Tech Bible chair instructor, performing a double ring service.

The couple stood beneath an archway of dahlias and greenery, and baskets of roses were arranged in the living room.

The bride wore a street length dress of gray pebble crepe designed with a fitted shirred bodice fastened in front with tiny covered buttons. In her hair the bride wore a halo crown of stepanotis, and she carried a white Bible and a hand-made lace handkerchief. The lavalliere which she wore was a wedding gift to her from her great-great-grandmother.

Mrs. E. E. Crume, jr., sister-in-law of the bride and matron of honor, wore a dress of navy blue crepe and a corsage of pink gladioli. Joe Cope of Graham served as best man.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the home of the bride's parents for members of the immediate families and close friends of the couple. Centering the bride's table, which was laid with a linen lace cloth, was an arrangement of pink roses in a crystal basket. White tapers lighted the table, which also held a two tiered wedding cake. Coffee was served from an antique silver coffee service which was the bridegroom's gift to the bride.

After a wedding trip to Lake Ozarks and St. Louis, Mo., Washing, D. C., and New York City, the couple will be at home on Sept. 15, in Bangor, Maine, where Mr. Davidson will be an instructor in Physics in the University of Maine. For traveling the bride chose a navy blue suit of gabardine with navy and ecru accessories and a corsage of gardenias.

The bride is a graduate of Lubbock High school and has attended Abilene Christian college as well as Texas Tech. The bridegroom is a graduate of Tech and taught physics in the University of Maine last year. He served two years in the U. S. Navy doing communication work during World War II. Both Mr. and Mrs. Davidson were members of the Inter-Religious council at Tech, and he was also president of the Physics club.

Young Wife Aids Mother-In-Law In Keeping Daughter In College; Girl Is Parasite

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: My husband and I are doing well financially, but since his father's death six months ago, his mother and sister are less fortunate. The mother, previously sheltered, promptly took a job to keep 19-year-old Sharon in college, and Dolph and I cordially arranged to share the costs of tuition.

In addition, as we can afford, I add to Sharon's wardrobe—little niceties in blouses, sweaters, lingerie, costume jewelry, etc.—which I've usually explained as "buys" I couldn't resist when shopping for myself. And as Mrs. B is pretty tired by night, and finds it difficult to entertain Sharon's friends as often as she'd like, Dolph and I made her welcome to bring her friends here, provided she gave us a couple of hours' advance notice, to prevent confusion.

Things seemed to be working well—for a while. Sharon seemed appreciative of our interest (although we weren't bidding for "thanks"); and would call before bringing her friends here. But lately I noticed a gross change in her; and two weeks ago I came in from shopping and found Sharon and one of her friends playing records, drinking soda, thumbing through our picture album and making themselves quite at home.

They'd let themselves in with a key we've given Mrs. B; and Sharon's first words were, "Well, what did you buy for me today?" I let is pass, undecided whether she was being smart to impress the friend or taking that moment to signify resentment of my gift-giving. The two stayed to dinner without bothering to notify Mrs. B.

GIRL IS LECTURED BY ANGRY BROTHER

A FEW nights later Sharon and a group of friends trooped in, unannounced, at 8:30, and although Dolph and I had dinner guests, Sharons crowd hogged the occasion with great gust, to our acute embarrassment; and when our guests left early, Dolph could no longer contain his wrath. He took Sharon to task, then and there, for her rude presumption and their juvenile show-off behavior. She was indignant, of course; and one of the boys got pretty nasty with Dolph, who ended the session by asking them all to leave.

Later, when we explained to Mrs. B, she understood perfectly, and it came out that Sharon has been treating her badly for months, saying she is ashamed of the mother's housekeeping, the old fashioned furniture ,etc., and also throwing up to the mother what Dolph and I had done for her, that the mother isn't able to do.

Since the scene, Sharon hasn't been near us, and when we visit Mrs. B. Sharon flings herself out dramatically and doesn't return until we've left; and also whines and berates the mother when Dolph tries to talk sense to her, —so what now? How can we help Mrs. B, a gentle soul who is getting a dirty deal, we feel; but who is too floored by sorrow and unaccustomed burdens to do anything but cater to Sharon's selfishness, it seems. Your comment on this display of "modern youth" will be appreciated. Signed—V.R.

BETTER BE JUST THAN GENEROUS

DEAR V. R.: This preposterous situation brings to mind a comment made by one of Ghandi's disciples, who said, "He taught us to be just, when it is so much easier to be generous." It is recorded in Vincent Sheean's "Lead Kindly Light" (Random House publishers), a peerless study of Ghandi's life, religion and work.

That comment serves to illuminate the family's mistake with Sharon of recent months; and the adults who have been coddling her, instead of schooling her in constructive adjustment to lean circumstances, are more concerned with maintaining family "face," per snob values, than in bringing her character to maturity. And as Ghandi, great saint of our age, confidently stated near the end of his days, the fruits of wrong action (though innocently pursued) are inevitably calamitous. One may suppose this truth applies to individual experience as well as "world history."

Far less levotion is required to deal either leniently or with repressive severity, than in justly governing the growth of a child; and doubtless Sharon's mother is wanly taking the path of least resistance in catering slavishly to Sharon's latterday arrant selfishness. In that she is wrong; thus the basic corrective is (1) to concede her mistake, instead of making sentimental excuse and accepting sentimental condolence for it; and (2) then firmly refuse to be an "accessory" to Sharon's disposition to evade duties she should perform in the circumstances.

Incidentally, Sharon is on the defensive with everyone, including her own conscience, about her parasitism and sham affluence in college society; and this is making her defiantly unstable. In all probability she would be much happier and better behaved, once she had made the adjustment, if she were taken out of college and put to work, to earn her salt and develop valid social competence. That's the "specific" I recommend to bring her out of her current tailspin.

Rain Reported In Panhandle

(By The United Press)

A cool front, accompanied by cloudy skies and a spreading general rain condition, moved into the northern portion of Texas today and rainfall may become fairly general in the upper half of the state by tonight.

The U. S. Weather bureau reported at mid-morning that the top tier of counties in the Panhandle from Amarillo northward was receiving good showers after light showers during the night.

The forecaster said that chances were good that the rain, which also was covering most of Oklahoma this morning, would move southward during the day and tonight.

Rainfall Listed

Partly cloudy skies were reported elsewhere in North Texas, while extreme South Texas was clear. Local showers were reported from the Guadalupe mountains in far West Texas.

Rainfall reports covering the 24 hours ending at 6:30 a. m. included .03 inches at Dumas, .45 at Follet, .31 at Spearman, .58 at Stratford, .01 at Vega and Dalhart and .28 at Amarillo.

Temperatures generally were a few degrees cooler in the Panhandle this morning with Dalhart recording a low of 62 degrees, Amarillo 64, Lubbock 65 and Clarendon 66. Low readings also were prevalent in the higher elevations of West Texas with Marfa recording 62, Guadalupe Pass 63 and Junction 64. Elsewhere readings ranged in the 70's with Galveston's 78 degrees the highest.

Yesterday, the mercury was up slightly from previous days with Laredo reporting the top of 101, and Austin, Presidio and Wink 100.

Corruption In Office, Immorality Charged

Hobbs Mayor Suspended For Second Time Despite Order

HOBBS, N. M., Aug. 30 (AP) — State Comptroller J. D. Hannah was acting mayor of Hobbs today after he suspended Mayor J. Paul Heard for the second time.

Hannah took the action in spite of a court order directing him not to suspend Heard and not to call a proposed special meeting of the city council.

A hearing on the court order is set for Sept. 8.

Hannah said he acted on authority of the recommendation by the Lea county grand jury that Heard be removed on grounds of irregularities in his administration and charges of gross incompetence, gross negligence, gross immorality and corruption in office.

Audit Revealed

The state comptroller took the action after an audit of the city books. He said the audit showed:

1—Unauthorized expenditures by the city on 195 items for the year ending June 30, 1949.

2—Unauthorized employment of 75 city workers.

3—Heard's personal sewer account is $156 or 39 months delinquent.

4—On June 30, the city carried as cash items two checks on Heard for a total of $36.50; they had been returned from a Hobbs bank May 20 marked "insufficient funds." The checks were carried by the city until July 22 when they were returned to the bank and cashed.

The court order was obtained at the motion of H. A. Kiker, Santa Fe attorney representing Heard. Hannah said he had suspended Heard before he was served with the order.

QUESTION SEEMS TO BE '50 ISSUE

Senate Economy Drive Licked As Bill Sent Back To House

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—A Senate economy drive which had built up steam for months appeared bogged down at last today following final Senate action—long overdue—on billions of dollars in appropriations.

In the final voting yesterday on a $14,800,000,000 defense money bill, economy advocates actually showed a good-sized majority. Pushing an amendment which would have required President Truman to cut government expenses five to 10 per cent, they summoned a total of 49 votes against only 28 for the opposition.

Two-Thirds Required

But that was not enough. It fell three votes short of the two-thirds margin which Vice President Barkley, the Senate's presiding officer, had ruled necessary.

That appeared to put the whole economy question over until the 1950 congressional campaigns, in which it is expected to be a major issue.

The proposed rider would have required Mr. Truman to chop from two to four and a half billion dollars from the estimated $45,000,000,000 he asked Congress to authorize for government spending this fiscal year, which started July 1.

It was a major setback for two southern Democrats, Senators McClellan of Arkansas and Byrd of Virginia, and two top Republican leaders, Senators Wherry of Nebraska and Taft of Ohio.

Sent Back To House

With the economy movement out of the way the Senate quickly defeated an anti-oleomargarine rider sponsored by Senator Wiley (R-Wis) and a last minute send-it-back-to-committee economy move by Senator Douglas (D-Ill).

Then it sent the huge defense appropriation bill back to the House for action on Senate changes slashing nearly $1,400,000,000 from the House-approved total.

House leaders have served notice they will resist most of the Senate reductions, although the House is now on vacation and won't be able to consider the bill until Sept. 21.

The biggest Senate cut was an $800,000,000 slice in Air Force funds. The House allowed enough cash to expand the air arm to 58 combat groups but the Senate whittled this back to 48 groups as recommended by the President.

Gambling Granny Going Back On Diet Of Glutamic Acid

LONG BEACH, Calif., Aug. 30 (AP)—The gambling grandmother of Gardena's poker parlors is taking glutamic acid again, and this time authorities will see that she keeps it up for at least six months.

She'll be in jail that long, under the care of Dr. Marcus Crahan, jail physician, who thinks the drug might cure her craving for gambling.

Mrs. Sula Bell Stimson, 49, told Superior Judge Fred Miller yesterday she didn't have the desire to gamble as long as she took glutamic acid treatments, but that she had quit taking the medicine after her release from jail in June.

Checks Passed

Poker is legal in nearby Gardena. Mrs. Stimson, however, has been passing checks, say police, to cover her gambling losses. Her passion for poker came upon Mrs. Stimson in middle age. Dr. Crahan hopes glutamic acid will restore her original personality—that of a normal housewife.

Glutamic acid—a protein brain food—has been used with some success in similar cases. It tends to replace deficiencies in the cranial system.

Offices Of Rangers, Patrol Being Moved

The Texas Highway patrol and state ranger offices are being moved this week from 1909 Broadway to a new building that will house agencies of the Department of Public Safety.

The drivers license bureau will be closed Wednesday and Thursday, as a result, officials said.

The public was advised that hereafter it could transact business with the rangers, the highway patrol and the drivers license bureau at the new building located just north of the intersection of North Ave. H and Ave. A.

Harris Is Candidate For High Texas Post

DALLAS, Aug. 30 (AP) — State Senator Fred Harris says he will be a candidate for lieutenant governor next year.

The one-time Dallas county commissioner will be a candidate to succeed Alan Shivers. Shivers became Texas' governor when Gov. Beauford Jester died.

"Regardless of any turn in the Texas political picture, that is the office I will seek in next year's primaries," Harris said yesterday.

He is the first to announce for lieutenant governor.

The Dallas News said other likely candidates are Rep. W. O. Reed of Dallas, former House speaker, Sen. G. C. Morris of Greenville, now acting lieutenant governor, Secretary of State Ben Ramsey, House Speaker Durwood Manford, Smiley; Rep. C. C. McLellan, Eagle Lake, and Sen. Kyle Vick of Waco.

Daring Gunmen Smash Vault In Chicago City Hall Office

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Aug. 30.—Two gunmen invaded the eighth floor city hall office of the municipal court clerk last night, tied and taped two watchmen and smashed into a vault.

The gunmen spent more than three hours in the office, three floors above the police commissioner's office where a policeman was on duty. Several employes were in the block-square city-county building in the loop during the time they broke into the vault. Police said there was less than $300 in cash in the vault, as well as court records. Police had not determined what had been stolen.

The safecrackers did not attempt to break into four other safes in the cashier's cage where, police said, there normally is between $10,000 and $20,000.

The gunmen gained entrance to the office under the pretext of telephoning a judge to set bail, Watchman James J. White, 50, told police. They tied up White and taped his mouth. Later, as they tried to drill through the vault door, Watchman William Kane, 66, appeared and he also was tied and taped.

The safecrackers gave up on the steel door when it did not open after the combination had been removed. They used sledgehammers to open a 36 by 24 inch hole in the construction tile side of the vault.

The robbery was reported to police by White and Kane after they succeeded in untying themselves, shortly after the gunmen fled. Police said a chisel and a sledge were left in the safe and a broken sledge and five chisels were found in front of the steel door.

BEAUMONT, Aug. 30. (AP)—An explosion and fire at the McCarthy chemical plant at nearby Winnie today caused much excitement but no injuries and little damage.

The flames burned for just a short time and damaged some equipment, McCarthy said.

Chinese Reds Launch Drive

CANTON, Aug. 30 (AP) — The Communist threat to Canton mounted today.

Jucheng, 170 miles north of Canton, was lost to a Red force, news dispatches said. The victorious Communists struck westward in an apparent attempt to cut the Canton-Hankow railroad and Nationalist supply lines.

The ministry of national defense reported a new Communist drive from Kiangsi province aimed at Lungchuan, a city well inside Kwangtung province. The ministry did not say whether the Reds had crossed the border.

Advance Is Reported

Lungchuan is 145 miles east northeast of Canton and 115 miles northeast of the British crown colony of Hong Kong.

The ministry of national defense said a column of Communist irregulars, strengthened by regulars, was advancing toward Lungchuan from Hsunwu, 65 miles northward in Kiangsi province.

The loss of Jucheng, in southeastern Hunan province, caused more immediate concern here in the Nationalist provisional capital. The Nationalists immediately reinforced their positions on the Kwangtung-Hunan border to try to hold Kukong, the northern gateway to Canton.

Civilians Flee City

Large numbers of civilians were fleeing southward from Kukong, which is 125 miles north of Canton.

There were reports here that reinforcements from Hainan island were being rushed to Canton for dispatch northward to meet the new threat.

Top Nationalist leaders conferred here on plans to defend Kwangtung. Chiang Kai-Shek, however, remained in Chungking, where he is trying to reconcile differences between Szechwan warlords and the commander of the southwest, Gen. Chang Chung, former premier.

Meanwhile in the air northwest, Sining, capital of Tsinghai province, appeared in grave danger. A commercial airline pilot said he was forced to turn back from the airfield there yesterday by Nationist defenders who said the Dield was not safe.

Uncle Weds Niece Because She Had No Other Support

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Aug. 30 (AP) —Rhode Island law made it possible for an uncle and a niece from Brooklyn, N. Y., to wed here last night.

Mendel Rosenbloom, 55, a salesman, and his sister's daughter, Mrs. Regina Pofstrong, 36, were married by Rabbi Morris G. Silk at Ahavath Sholom synagogue.

They chose Rhode Island because, they said, it is the only state in the union which sanctions a marriage approved by levioical law.

Both had spouses who died in German concentration camps during World War II.

After the death of Rosenbloom's first wife in this country years ago, he returned to Poland, married again and had two children.

Jewish Law Cited

His second wife and children were killed in a Nazi pogrom. He fled to this country in 1942.

His bride's first husband was slain by the Nazis and she and her daughter were sent to concentration camps. She never saw her daughter again. She came to this country 10 weeks ago as a displaced person.

Mrs. Pofstrong was penniless. Rosenbloom had insufficient means to support her separately. The marriage was the only alternative.

While jewish law says that a nephew may not marry his aunt, it holds not only that an uncle may marry his niece but that, if the niece is in need, such a marriage is a good and worthy deed.

MORTALITY STATISTICS

In 1942, more than 79,000 stillbirths were reported in the United States, a ratio of 28 out of every 1,000 babies born. About 35,000 of more than 2,800,000 babies born alive died on the first day of life, and 72,000 died before they were a month old.

SCIENTISTS TO DISCUSS GROWTH

Flower Plants Provide New Tools In Problem Of Cancer

BY FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW LONDON, Conn., Aug. 30 —Beautiful ferns and flowering plants are providing science with new tools in studies aimed at helping unravel the mystery of human cancer, a Harvard botanist said today.

Dr. Ralph H. Wetmore said recently-developed techniques employing such plants opened up the possibility of studying certain aspects of growth and development in a manner now impossible or difficult.

Plants provide a better means than animals for studying certain subtle changes in tissue development that may occur as a result of various influences that can be brought to bear by researchers, he said.

Cancer Factors Sought

"And it is the hope of various investigators carrying on such studies," he added, "that they will lead to new insight into the particular factors involved in producing the wild growth of cells known as cancer."

Dr. Wetmore made the statements in an interview on the eve of a symposium to be held at Connecticut college here by the Society of Study of Development and Growth.

The Harvard scientist is president of the society—the only scientific organization in the world specifically dedicated to the study of growth, both normal and abnormal.

Hormones Problem

More than 100 American and European scientists are here for four day discussion which Wetmore said would embrace, among others, such subjects as:

1. The role, in growth, of body chemicals known as "nucleoproteins":

These are complex substances that occur in the "nuclei" or cores of all body cells. It is believed they are a main constituent of "genes"—the tiny carrier of hereditary traits in the body. It is believed, too, that nucleoproteins are close to being the very "keystone" of life—that is, substances that are right at the barrier between matter that is living and that which is not.

2. The challenging problem of human, animal and plant "hormones.": These are chemical "messengers" which are associated with many important processes in living systems, but their true nature and mode of action constitute one of the big question marks of science.

Plants Good Specimen

Growth hormones and chemicals have made possible the new cancer studies employing ferns and flowering plants, Wetmore said.

At Harvard and other research institutions, he said, researchers have taken minute pieces of certain plants—pieces a fraction of an inch in length—and then caused them to grow into whole plants with nothing but chemical aid.

He said that plants which can be made to grow that way are preferable to experimental animals for many studies on growth and development.

He gave this explanation:

There are sharp differences between the various tissues of an animal's body.

Unusual Growth Produced

In contrast, there are less definite differences between the various tissues of a given plant. Furthermore, it's possible to bring about a new change—and then reverse it.

Thus, said Wetmore, it is conceivable that such plants will throw new light on certain processes of growth and development—possibly applicable to the cancer problem.

He said Dr. George Morel of the University of Paris, now doing research at Harvard, had been able to produce a "cancer-like" growth in a grape plant by employing a large dose of a hormone that normally occurs in grape and other plants.

But he added that the production of such effects in the laboratory does not necessarily mean that the same agents produce them when they occur naturally in a living system.

Mine Operator Accused Of Hamstringing Operation Of Workers' Welfare Fund

CONCORD, N. H., Aug. 30. (AP) Ezra Van Horn, operators' trustee of the United Mine Workers welfare fund, was accused of "obstructionism" last night by U. S. Sen. Bridges (R-NH).

Bridges, neutral trustee, charged that Van Horn tried to "hamstring" the fund.

He made the accusations in reply to Van Horn's charge that the New Hampshire senator and UMW President John L. Lewis had set up an "unsound" fund. Lewis is the union trustee.

Fund Fills Need

Bridges said he was "proud" that he voted with Lewis to make the fund effective.

"When Van Horn blocked every move to allow the fund to function," Bridges said, "I voted with Lewis to break the tie so the fund could do its job."

He said the fund is "an entirely non-political and humanitarian organization filling a dreadful need in the hazardous and dangerous coal industry."

"I certainly have not agreed with everything John L. Lewis has done in running the United Mine workers," he added. "That is none of my business."

He said that court action Van Horn brought on three occasions to suspend the fund was "the type of obstructionism" he and Lewis had to contend with.

"Van Horn's do-nothing attitude forced me to vote with Lewis," he added, "otherwise no welfare work could have taken place."

Bridges expressed confidence in pension plans such as the UMW welfare fund, and added he would take "any amount of personal and political abuse to help it function."

"There is no use running a debating society in Washington while miners die at the bottom of pits in Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Illinois and other states," he said.

"The blocking of pension funds is the best way to bring communism and socialism . . . that I know of."

Jerry Airhart Hurt When Hit By Auto

Jerry Airhart, 7, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Airhart, 3318 Twenty-eighth street, received minor injuries shortly before noon Monday when struck by a car in the 3300 block on Twenty-ninth street.

Attendants at West Texas hospital said he received multiple lacerations and abrasions on the head, back and right elbow. He was held overnight for observation.

Police investigating the accident said young Airhart dashed into the street from behind a parked car, into the path of a car driven by T. J. Reynolds, 30, of 3218 N. Third street. No charges were filed against Reynolds.

The first U. S. ice making machines were invented in 1850.

Amarillo Shuts Out Lubbock

Faust Twirls Three-Hitter

(By The Associated Press)

D. C. Miller of Lamesa's Lobos pounded four terrific home runs in successive times at bat last night to set a new West Texas-New Mexico League record for successive circuit clouts.

Miller became one of three men to hit four home runs in one ball game. The feat was first achieved in the league last year by Len Attyd of Albuquerque at Lamesa. It was tied later by Joe Fortin, formerly of Pampa.

Lamesa Drubs Borger

Lamesa went on to defeat Borger 15-6. Abilene edged Clovis 3-2, and Amarillo blanked Lubbock 10-0. Pampa knocked off Albuquerque 4-3.

Miller ran his league-leading home run total to 48. He accounted for seven runs.

Abilene scored in the 11th inning to defeat Clovis on two hits, an intentional walk and a squeeze play. The Sox had rallied twice to tie it up.

Amarillo Blanks Lubbock

Ray Faust's three-hit pitching gave Amarillo its whitewash of Lubbock. The Sox backed Faust with a 13-hit attack, including a five-run spurt in the fourth.

Lefthander Roy Parker took his 21st win for Pampa, giving up 12 hits, fanning 11 and walking two. Virgil Butler, the loser, gave up seven hits. The Oilers scored the winning run on an error, single and high fly in the fifth.

Tonight Borger plays at Albuquerque, Amarillo at Clovis, Lamesa at Pampa and Abilene at Lubbock.

WESTERNERS BACK IN LUBBOCK

Defense Stressed In Grid Workouts

A fast workout, with stress on defense, was held by the Lubbock High school grid team Monday, and more of the same is expected today and following days.

Passing and ground defense received little attention durmg the first two weeks of the drills, in favor of offensive movements, play patterns and passing from the T-formation being employed this year by Coach C. R. (Pat) Pattison.

Improvement in the fundamentals of the game and assignments from the new formation have been very satisfactory.

Light equipment was worn Monday, and it was intended to give the squad a breather after a week of hard work in full uniform on the campus of Schreiner institute.

Backs Open Holes

The dummy scrimmage held late in the practice was highlighted by fast breaks through the defensive setup thrown up against the team with the ball, and large holes continually opened up for the charging backs. The defensive weaknesses are expected to be cleared up shortly, however, and by the time of the first game on September 16 with Childress a well-versed team is expected to take to the field.

Defensive strategy will come in for a large share of attention from this point on, and Coach Pattison described pass defense in Saturday's scrimmage with Kerrville High school as "spotty" and "ragged."

Enthusiasm and morale among the members of the squad while at camp and before leaving on the week's jaunt was very good, according to Coach Pattison, and he said that the weather was perfect last week to get the most out of his charges, with warm days and cool nights.

Injuries Slight

Injuries among the squadmen have not been serious, but Douglas Wienke is still favoring a sprained ankle which has kept him out of action in the heavy sessions. Wayne Noland's nose is taped to prevent further injury, and Bob Newell and Deverlee Henslee are expected to round into shape rapidly.

In the Cowhand camp, a scrimmage with Morton was held, and the team showed great improvement over last week's sessions with the same squad. Great strides have been made in tackling and passing. James Sides at fullback and Don Jones at end showed up very well. Guards Bruce Willis and Breedlove were tops in that position.

The Cowhands open their schedule of play on September 8 at Plainview, and games follow with Lamesa, Brownfield, Odessa and Midland. Another round of play against the same teams will follow the first.

Joe Dobson has won 47 games for the Boston Red Sox the last three seasons. He has lost 25 during the same span.

Twins Bid For Playoff Spot

(By The Associated Press)

Can the defending champion Sherman-Denison Twins—now in fifth place—win a place in the Big State baseball league playoffs?

That's the $64 question these days in North Texas.

The Twins kept their play-off dreams alive last night by sweeping a double-header from the Gainesville Owls 3-1 and 5-3. They gained to within a game and a half of fourth-place Waco.

Waco Trims Austin

Waco trimmed the second-place Austin Pioneers 8-6.

Third-place Texarkana defeated first-place Wichita Falls 9-0. And Temple edged Greenville 4-3.

Pete Appleton hurled a five-hitter in the first game for Sherman-Denison.

John Whitehead tossed nine-hit ball to take the nightcap.

Waco scored five runs on six hits in the fifth inning to defeat Austin.

Tince Leonard hurled a six-hitter in whitewashing Wichita Falls.

Milt Schroeppel singled in Jim Basson in the ninth inning to give Temple the win over Greenville.

Longview Clinches League Second Spot

(By The Associated Press)

The Longview Texans are cinches for at least second place in the East Texas baseball league race.

Longview downed Bryan last night, 11-5. The Texans have a two and a half game lead over second-place Gladewater. Gladewater swept a twin bill from Henderson 14-5 and 6-4.

Kilgore whitewashed Paris 6-0. And Tyler edged Marshall 5-4.

Longview's win over Bryan was its tenth straight. It was Bryan's eleventh defeat in a row. Al Kubski set a new league record by running his string of successive hits to eight. He hit four safeties in a row before grounding out on his fifth trip. Jack Jones homered for the Texans in the first frame.

Bob Cullins homered as Gladewater banged out 15 hits in the opener against Henderson. In the nightcap, doubles by Vernon Washington and Fred Parnell and a single by Ken Smith tallied two runs for the Bears in the ninth to win.

Behind the seven-hit pitching of Frank Martin, Tyler scored four runs in the second and one in the seventh to squeeze by Marshall.

Red Fahr fanned ten Paris batters and walked only one in pitching four-hit ball for Kilgore.

Lobo Team To Boast Texans

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Aug. 30 (AP)—Don't say it out loud, but a bunch of Texans coached by Texans will carry the grid load for the University of New Mexico against five Texas teams this fall.

The roster is liberally sprinkled with men from the Lone Star state.

The schedule calls for games against Rice at Houston, Hardin-Simmons at Odessa, Texas Western at El Paso and Texas Tech and West Texas State, both at Albuquerque. Five other games are on tap.

Coach Berl Huffman commented recently on the prospects:

No Comment Given

"We play a 10-game schedule. We will field 11 men for each game."

He declined any further speculation.

Huffman came to New Mexico in 1947 from Texas Tech. He's a native of Grapevine and went to Trinity university at Waxahachie. He coached high school teams at White Deer and Lubbock before going to Texas Tech.

He's assisted by Walker Nichols, one-time Texas high school star from San Angelo, who later captained the 1935 Texas Tech grid team as a guard. He also coached at Lubbock High school and Texas Tech.

Bill Speer of Pampa and Gene Polk of Amarillo, both returning lettermen, are expected to pull down first string assignments as ends. Bill Gentry of Tahoka and Kenny Pharr of Lubbock, also returning lettermen, will be in the running for guard positions. Veteran tackles are Fred Reynolds and John Lookingbill, Amarillo.

Price On Squad

Among sophomores competing for places on the Lobo squad are: Milton Price, Borger, considered likely to be the starting quarterback, a transfer from Texas last year; Denny Willis of Amarillo and Bob Bogle of Plainview, also battling for the quarterback spot; Jack Weldon, Plainview and Manuel Morales, El Paso, halfbacks;

Don Mulkey and Jack Glasgow, both of Amarillo, contenders for center;

L. B. Petty, Hamlin, a 195-pound tackle prospect; Carlos Thornton and Ray Hayes, both Amarillo, guards.

Also on the 1949 roster are J. W. (Red) Neal of Carlsbad, N. M., a letterman from Texas eligible for the first time with New Mexico, and Chet Armbuster of Buda, 180-pound quarterback, another transfer from Texas.

DUTRA GETS POST

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 30. (AP)—Olin Dutra, former National Open and PGA champion, shortly will become co-ordinator of golf for Mexico. Dutra announced tody he is giving up his job at the Hillcrest Country club, with his brother, Mortie, taking over as pro.

Bob Lemon got an early start in hoping to match his 10 shutouts of 1948. In his second start he blanked the Browns on five hits.

Dallas Edges Indians, 6-5

(By The Associated Press)

The Texas baseball league's top home run hitter, Jerry Witte of the Dallas Eagles, is within 12 homers of the all-time loop record of 55.

Witte hit two home runs last night, driving in four runs to lead fourth-place Dallas to a 6-5, ten-frame decision over third-place Oklahoma City.

Oilers Beat Cats

The league-leading Fort Worth Cats' win streak was halted at 12 when the second-place Tulsa Oilers won 6-1.

Shreveport whitewashed Beaumont 3-0.

And San Antonio downed the Houston Buffs 9-4.

Witte's second home run—his 43rd of the year—gave Dallas the edge over Oklahoma City. Ransom Jackson and Grant Dunlap smashed circuit clouts for the Indians. Witte must hit 12 round-trip wallops to tie and 13 to break the league home run record. He has 14 games to go.

Hurls Seven-Hitter

Dave Jolly hurled seven-hit ball for Tulsa to lick Fort Worth. The win shoved Tulsa up to within five games of the Cats.

Andy Bush pitched a three-hitter in defeating Beaumont. All the Beaumont hits were singles.

Jack Jones, Don Lenhardt and Bob Riga homered for San Antonio in beating Houston.

Toledo Nine Chalks Up Tourney Victory

AUSTIN, Aug. 30. (AP)—Toledo, O., got off to a perfect start in defense of its national Veterans of Foreign Wars softball title.

Frank Sosko pitched a no-hit, no-run game as the Ohio team blanked Kearny, Neb., 11-0, in the first round of play last night. Not a Nebraska player reached first base.

Toledo used four hits, nine walks and four errors to build its big margin.

Lefty Krief held Geneseo, Ill., to one hit as Austin won, 5-0.

First round play really gets underway today in the double-elimination tournament. Abilene, Tex., meets Fort Madison, Ia.; Fargo, N. D., plays Sioux Falls, S. D.; Princeton, Ind., meets Sabina, O., and Spokane, Wash., plays Pueblo, Colo.

Indians Drop Bosox

Boston Loses Pair To Tribe

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

Bob Feller's "comeback" and Cleveland's extra-inning magic are keeping the Indians in the American league race.

Just when New York and Boston seemed set for a private stretch drive, the Indians elbowed in by snatching three straight from the Red Sox.

The Tribe's success in thumping Boston in 13 of 19 starts could be the making of a second straight pennant. However, it also could pave the way to the flag for the Yankees.

Casey Stengel's men, shaken by the loss of Tommy Henrich, took new heart in the double Boston loss yesterday. The idle Yanks, in Kansas City for an exhibition, saw their lead mount to four full games. Cleveland is five and a half back.

Feller Gets Victory

Feller, now winner of 13, engineered the first Cleveland victory, 5-2. After the Indians tagged Earl Johnson for two runs in the first inning, Feller drove home a third in the second frame. It was his fourth victory over the Sox who have beaten him only once.

The Tribe's amazing extra-inning skill enables them to pull the second out of the loss column, 5-4, in 10 innings. Ted Williams 35th homer with one on broke a 2-2 tie in the seventh but Cleveland tied the score in the ninth and nudged Joe Dobson for the decisive run in the tenth. It was the Indians' 16th overtime win in 17 games, four over Boston

Mike Tresh, reserve catcher who had not batted in a run all season, drove home the big score with a left field single. The Indians had men on second and third with two out when Manager Joe McCarthy ordered Dobson to pitch to Tresh. The next scheduled batter was Al Benton.

After Tresh singled home the winning run, the Sox didn't have much to say.

It was Benton's win on relief, the second important victory for the Detroit discard in three days. He stopped the Yankees Friday night and helped himself to his sixth triumph on one scoreless inning.

Detroit, trying desperately to make it a four-team battle, won its eighth straight by defeating Philadelphia, 4-3, in 10 innings. Pat Mullin's single broke up the ball game, giving reliefer Hal White his first decision. The fourth-place Tigers now are only eight games off the pace.

Dick Kokos singled with the bases loaded in the ninth for the St. Louis Browns' 2-1 edge over Washington in their battle to stay out of the cellar. Cliff Fannin was the winner over Mickey Harris.

Those St. Louis Cardinals came up with a big seven-run seventh inning at Boston, trouncing the Braves, 8-2, to protect their two and a half game lead over Brooklyn in the national. The Birds have whipped the Braves 15 out of 19 games this year.

Ron Northey clubbed a grand slam homer off Bill Voiselle in the big inning as Al Brazle posted his 14th victory, equalling his best previous big league season.

Brooklyn's Jack Banta matched Brazle's six-hitter as he went the route for the first time in his brief major league career, downing Pittsburgh, 3-1.

The lanky righthander held a 2-1 edge on Duke Snider's tie-breaking single in the seventh.

Pee Wee Reese and Jackie Robinson homered off reliefer Harry Gumbert in the eighth.

Larry Jansen earned win No. 15 for New York as the Giants climbed back even with the .500 mark by shading Cincinnati's Ken Raffensberger, 3-2. Hank Thompson's seventh inning homer was the margin of victory in a game witnessed by only 7,804 fans, smallest night crowd of the Polo Grounds season.

Homers by Stan Lopata and Andy Seminick in the eighth inning enabled the Phillies to top Chicago, 6-5, in a night game that drew only 2,802 to Shibe Park. Reliefer Blix Donnelly was the winner over Mob Muncrief.

Between the Lines by Joe Kelly

It's all over but the shouting in the West Texas-New Mexico League for the Hubbers of 1949, barring a major miracle. We've been hoping and keeping our fingers crossed that something fantastic would happen, something like Abilene and Amarillo and Pampa suddenly going into tailspins while the Hubbers got hot. Such hasn't been the case. Technically—and mathematically—the Hubbers still have a chance. They're four and a half games out of fourth with eight to go. They could still slip in, but it's not likely. If they had won last night, they would have been very much in the fight for a first division berth.

But here's what would have to happen to let the Hubbers get into fourth place: If Lubbock should win all eight remaining games, Pampa would have to win six and lose two to finish behind Lubbock, Amarillo would have to win four and lose seven, and Abilene would have to win only two and lose seven to finish behind the Hubbers. If Lubbock wins all eight games, Lamesa and Abilene would have to win only three games to gain no worse than a tie and Amarillo would have to win only five of its 11 for a tie. If Lubbock wins seven and loses one, Lamesa and Abilene need only win two more to tie, Amarillo only four to tie. It's still a possibility, but not likely, that the Hubbers will make it.

Along baseball lines, we still like the Yankees in the American League, despite loss of Tommy Henrich. Loss of the Old Pro will be felt, no question of that, but they have three pretty fair outfielders on hand in Mapes, Bauer and Woodling to go along with Joe DiMaggio and Johnny Lindell. Even Charley Keller might slip into the lineup occasionally. Don't go moping over the Yanks. Every time misfortune strikes them, they seem to get tougher. Two days ago with Henrich in the lineup they were only a game and a half ahead. Today, with him out, they enjoy a four game margin. Dame Fortune and Lady Luck, apparently jealous of each other, have given the Yanks the old eye and put the jinx on the Red Sox and Indians.

Tomorrow Texas Tech opens its grid season with a big squad reported ready to answer the first summons of Coach Dell Morgan. It's a good squad, too, with heft and depth, both in the line and in the backfield. It's a team that should win seven of its games without extending itself too much and might trip one or two of the Southwest Conference powers. Success of the season depends a great deal on the play of the ends, weakest apparent spot in pre-season appraisals. Luke Thompson is back and there are few finer ends in the nation. Elbert Johnson is back and he could prove to be a top notch end. But beyond that there are a lot of question marks, although Tech followers are looking to Hugh and Dick Jackson, Jack Davis, Lewis Crossley and Dick Pirtle to develop rapidly.

When you come right down to it, the Tech schedule isn't one that is imposing. Tulsa still is trying to climb back out of a rut and the Border Conference teams shouldn't present too much of a problem. But right there is the catch. Hardin-Simmons always plays over its head against Tech, as does New Mexico and West Texas State college. Arizona never plays inspired ball against the Red Raiders, and Texas Western didn't last year. But this year the Miners are pointing toward Tech with vengeance. They've made the Raider game homecoming and they didn't like that 46-6 licking given them here last season. And never forget that all the Border loop schools are out to beat Tech more than any other member. As for the SWC teams, it doesn't have to be said that they're still out of Tech's speed.

Getting back to baseball, did you know more fans saw Lubbock play Amarillo last night than watched the St. Louis Browns beat Washington 2-1, also played last night? Yep, 1,994 fans turned out to Rosenthal Field for the Sox-Hubber game, while only 1,435 fans watched the Browns play. It's a pretty good indication of how low Brownie support has dropped in St. Louis. Of course that crowd of over 4,000 last night at Abilene far surpassed the Brownies best efforts of late. You don't expect such fine crowds every night of the year in the Westex-Newmex circuit, but it's gratifying to know that at least they can outdraw the majors occasionally.

Hiring of Jackie Sullivan for 1950 comes as no great surprise to the majority of baseball fans. A lot of persons expected it and would have been disappointed if the peppery second baseman hadn't been given a chance to show what he could do with adequate material. We're pleased that M. L. Wilkison has decided to stay with Jackie. As we've said before, the Hubbers have not been supplied with the players necessary to win the pennant —or even finish in the first division. Jackie's done a good job under trying conditions. That he didn't get the club into the first division is not his fault. Sure, we've all been peeved at some of the things he's done. We've disagreed with his strategy and with his handling of pitchers at times. But the over all picture shows that he's done the best he could with the material at hand. Glad to have you back, Jackie.

Moylan Beats Herbie Flam

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Aug. 30 (AP)—If Eddie Moylan keeps pulling off shots that amaze even him, he's going to make things tough for several of the top-ranking stars in the national tennis championships.

With the big tournament only 24 hours old, Moylan already had stamped himself as a leading candidate for the role of giant-killer today as the men's singles field moved into the second round. The Trenton, N. J., player surprised everybody, including himself, by knocking out Herbie Flam of Beverly Hills, Calif., eighth-seeded domestic star, 6-4, 6-4, 6-3, in yesterday's opening round.

Two Upsets Recorded

Flam, former national junior champion and a collegiate hot shot at the University of California at Los Angeles, was the surprise of last year's tournament when he bounced such seeded players as Gardnar Mulloy and Harry Likas before bowing in the semifinals to Eric Sturges.

The unranked Moylan's triumph was one of two upsets in the opening round which provided early breaks in the seeded ranks. The other was turned in by Jim Brink, Seattle southpaw, who outlasted Vic Seixas of Philadelphia, seeded ninth among the Americans, 3-6, 0-6, 6-3, 7-5, 6-4.

All the other seeded stars advanced, with the exception of defending champion Richard (Pancho) Gonzales of Los Angeles, who didn't play. His match with Jack Geller, former Yale star, was put off until today after a 30-minute rain cut into the program.

Schroeder Wins Match

Wimbledon champion Ted Schroeder, making his first appearance in the nationals since he won the title in 1942, breezed into the second round with a 6-3, 6-4, 6-2, victory over Lieut. Charles Oliver of Perth Amboy, N. J., eastern intercollegiate champ while he was at West Point. Schroeder, Davis Cup veteran and a favorite in the tournament, is seeded first, although Gonzales is defending champion.

Bill Talbert of New York, seeded third, advanced by ousting Fred Kovaleski of Detroit, 7-9, 6-4, 6-3, 6-2, and Mulloy, fourth-seeded Davis Cupper from Coral Gables, Fla., downed Jack Tuero of New Orleans, 8-6, 6-3, 6-0.

Frank Parker of Los Angeles, two-time former champion and seeded fifth, moved up by crushing Pierre Canepelo of Italy, 6-2, 6-1, 6-1.

Baylor Coach Is Skeptical

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, Aug. 30—Bob Woodruff, coach of Baylor's Bears, certainly has changed since coming into the Southwest conference three years ago.

Then, Bob was a very serious young man. He did little joking although quite friendly and genial. Today Woodruff is the Will Rogers of the league.

That $12,500 a year and five-year contract may have had something to do with it. But anyway, some of the best wisecracks of any football season are emanating from Waco way these days.

Coach Is Suspicious

Bob apparently eyes the pronouncements of one Madison Bell with suspicion. Mr. Bell is coach of Southern Methodist university where the conference championship and Cotton Bowl money have come to rest the past two years.

But it hasn't made Matty one iota of an optimist it seems. He is on record as predicting his team will lose four games this year. He said three last year and missed it by two.

Says the skeptical Woodruff from his Brazos bailiwick:

"I can only add, after reading your article with reference to Matty Bell, if Matty can definitely see four losses this year, I don't know who the Bears (Baylor) will be able to lick. I also note you would like to see some scrimmage (that's what I said in writing the coaches I would visit their camps). Since Harold Riley (Baylor star wingman) broke his leg playing touch football out in West Texas, I doubt if we will be able to scrimmage before the first game this year, because, if we lose one or two more boys of his caliber, it will be impossible for us to scrimmage and play also. In the event we don't hold practice on Sept. 5 (the day we are to visit Baylor's football camp), we will serve lemonade at some shady spot somewhere south of the campus."

Grider "Best Man"

Oh, come now, Mr. Woodruff. Mr. Bell will think you don't put any stock in what he has to say.

Speaking of Baylor, one of the better Bear halfbacks, Lyle Blackwood, is going to become known as the "best best man in the Southwest conference."

Blackwood recently was best man at the wedding of Lyle Moeckel, jr., former Baylor publicity man. That makes Blackwood's string four.

He was best man last December for Jerry Mangum, a Baylor footballer, and this summer did the same honors for Dudley Parker and C. M. Nevill, two more Baylor gridders.

Raiders Will Open Workouts Thursday

Football drills will open at Texas Tech Thursday morning and a big squad of 80 or more candidates, including 25 lettermen and 20 promising sophomores, are expected to answer the first call to arms.

Players already are streaming into Lubbock, and have been for two or three days. They are being issued equipment as they report and will be ready to open the first of an intensive period of drills Thursday.

There is little time in which to get ready for the first game. Abilene Christian college comes here Sept. 10 and Tech will hold double drills for only a week before they play the first game. The Wildcats are expected to extend the Red Raiders in the first of an 11-game schedule, but the visitors won't be able to open drills before Thursday either.

Coach Dell Morgan, along with Assistant Coaches G. B. Morris, Polk Robison, Tipp Mooney and Allie White, look forward to one of the stiffest schedules in years. They are counting on a great many of the sophomores to make possible Tech's defense of the Border loop title they have held the past two years.

Counted on most heavily are Jerrell Price, Brownfield tackle, and Aubrey 'Red' Phillips, Paschal High school, Fort Worth, center. Price was three times all-state tackle in high school. Phillips is a converted fullback, a 6 foot, 4 inch, 225 pound lad. Both like the going extremely rough.

A couple of guards, Jimmy Martin, Wichita Falls, and Don Anthony, Amarillo, are expected to get into many games. At ends, three lads have been looking good and with experience may develop into fine men. They are Jack Davis, Littlefield; Lewis Crossley, Eastland; and Dick Pirtle, Lubbock.

In the backfield John Moughon, Weatherford, has been looking well at quarterback, particularly as a passer. Bobby Close, Shamrock, and Harold Haynes, Roscoe, also have exhibited speed and power at halfbacks, while Ralph May, Sudan, has been living up to advance notices at a fullback.

Other freshmen who may come along to aid late in the season include: Rex Pinson, Falfurrias, and Jackie Cockburn, Denison, tackles; Charles Allen, Jourdanton, and Bill Sharpley, Corsicana, ends; and backs Eural Ramsey, Shamrock; Judson Brawner, Atmore, Ala.; Jack Young, Andrews; Jack Brown, Lamesa; and J. O. McClellan, Phillips.

Bill Henderson On Lamesa Fight Card

LAMESA, Aug. 30. (Special)—Trinidad Perez, fiery little lightweight from Mexico City, has signed to meet Bill Henderson of Levelland in a return 10-round feature bout on the 30-round boxing card to be presented by the Lamesa Junior Chamber of Commerce here Labor Day night at the Lamesa Rodeo grounds.

Gene James, Leonard Duncan, Billy Brackeen, E. E. Sparks, Charley Neff and Don Livingston, all South Plains fighters, also are on the card, along with a pair of fighters from Dallas. Tickets already have gone on sale.

Al Sullivan of Dallas, one of the more promising young heavyweights in the Southwest, has been paired with James and the bout is a natural. Both have punching ability, can take it and also can dish it out. Sullivan is in top condition and probably will extend James more than any other man he has faced.

In a special six-round bout, Duncan of Hale Center will take on Kid Wail of Dallas, another fine young middleweight.

Neff and Sparks are meeting in what has been termed a grudge match. The bout is scheduled for four rounds, but both boys say that it won't go the distance.

The opener pairs Brackeen of Slaton and Livingston of Borger in a four rounder.

Tickets are on sale at local drug stores here and can be obtained in Lubbock at Texas Drug, Toby's Drive In, McGuire's Drive In and Kirby Vacuum cleaner service. In Lubbock, for free delivery of tickets persons can call 2-1821.

General admission tickets are selling for $1.50, reserved seats are going at $2.40 each and ringside ducats cost $3.60.

Henderson and Perez have met before, the Tech student pounding out a 10-round unanimous decision. After the fight, Perez asked his manager to get another fight with Henderson, saying that he could knock him out easily.

Henderson also was dissatisfied with the result of the first meeting. He is convinced that he could have scored a knockout and the indications are that he will go after it early. It should be a great fight.

Warning Is Issued By Wildlife Group

SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 30. (AP)—Don't shoot single mourning doves, Texas sportsmen were asked by the Texas Wildlife federation.

Dr. Frederick H. Weston, federation president, said the Sept. 1 opening of the mourning dove season in the north zone will find doves still nesting.

He asked in the interest of bird conservation that hunters shoot only at a flight of birds in the early days of the season. He said a single bird will no doubt be a nesting bird.

"We do not feel the mourning dove is on the way to extinction," Weston said, "but we can not be unmindful of what man did to the carrier pigeon and the white-winged dove by interfering with their nesting activities. Certainly, the present system of early seasons is interfering with the nesting activity of the mourning dove."

Fort Wayne exploded a six-hit attack in the opening inning of the first game to score four runs and give negro righthander Bill Ricks a lead that he guarded cautiously through the rest of the contest.

Ricks allowed only seven hits for the winners. The Texans scored their two runs in the third and eighth frames.

Today's schedule:

Golden, Colo. Coors Brewers vs. Swannanoa, N. C. Beacon Mills.

Batty pitched the Floydada team to victory over the Plainview club, with Tom Reicheirt taking the loss.

The double elimination tournament will continue the remainder of the week.

FIRE-FILE SAVES VALUABLE RECORDS IN GIN FIRE—Pictured at left are Mr. A. J. Cowley, manager of Owens Co-op Gin, and Mr. W. T. Martin, of the Shaw-Walker Company, Muskegon, Michigan, proudly inspecting the Shaw-Walker Fire-File which preserved the gin's records and warehouse on hundreds of bales of cotton, when the gin and office buildings were destroyed by fire late in 1948. Above is picture of the smouldering remains of the gin 40 hours after the fire began. Hester"s Office Supply Company, Shaw-Walker dealer in Lubbock for the past 20 years, has equipped many of the gins on the South Plains, with these Fire-Files. DeMolays Gather At Conclave Here; Gov. Shivers To Speak bock County Sheriff's Posse, who stood by astride their horses.

B. R. Brady of the Sheriff's Posse presented the governor with a pair of custom-made cowboy boots, the gift of Jack Davis, Lubbock bootmaker, and a cowboy hat. He made a brief, gracious acceptance speech.

The governor then headed, astride a horse, a parade which proceeded down College avenue to Broadway, down Broadway to Texas and then to the Hilton hotel.

He was followed by the Posse and by DeMolays who rode in a procession of convertible cars.

Meanwhile, at 10 o'clock this morning, the DeMolay advisors, some 30 Masons, held a conference in the Masonic temple at Main and Ave. K.

Advisors At Session

Presiding at the conference was Mr. Marks.

Advisors present for the conference were H. J. Stoner, Amarillo; Jim Jaquet, Amarillo; Earl J. Brewer, Fort Worth; C. O. Simmons, Wichita Falls; Robert E. Wagoner, Hereford; Thomas Joseph Carroll, El Paso; Thad H. Harden, El Paso; A. B. Wright, L. L. Thompson, J. Westerfield, A. J. Berggrem, all of Odessa; and Paul J. Yancy, Ely Fonville, C. B. Boydston, Howard E. Hunt and John L. Ross, jr., all of Lubbock.

The DeMolays had lunch, without a program, at Luby's cafeteria at noon, following which an invitation ceremony at the Masonic Temple began at 1 p. m. and was expected to conclude at 4:30 p. m.

Lubbock boys who were to be initiated at this afternoon's ceremony were A. C. Pennington, Carl Brown, George Guy, Harry Fry, Ralph Hodges, George Berry, Earl Dietering, jr., Lowell East, Buddy Hackfield, Gordon Steele, James Grace, John Garner and Wayne Holder.

The initiation was conducted by an All-West Texas degree team, with the DeMolays degrees being presented by the Amarillo chapter.

Barbecue Supper Set

Gov. Shivers was to be guest of honor at a DeMolay barbecue supper beginning at 5 p. m. at the Hilton. No program was planned for the supper.

At 7:30 p. m. in O. L. Slaton Junior High school auditorium, Thirty-first and Ave. Q, the governor will be principal speaker at a program open to the public.

Dorrance Guy, area master councilor, will begin the evening program with an introduction. James Kennedy, state DeMolay chapter 3rd preceptor, will deliver a flower sermon.

H. B. Bryan, Captain-General, Grand Commandery of Texas and member of the Demolay advisory council for Lubbock, will extend a welcome.

The address by Gov. Shivers will follow Mr. Marks' speech.

Dorrance Guy will lead the Interpolation, DeMolay ritual, at 9 p. m.

The governor faced a heavy schedule. He addressed members of American Business club at a luncheon meeting at noon, and following the DeMolay barbecue at the Hilton, was to be guest of honor at a traditional Lions club barbecue at the Raymond Burford home, 3020 Twenty-second.

At the conclusion of the DeMolay night program at O. L. Slaton school, he is scheduled to proceed to a meeting of Veterans of Foreign Wars post members and their guests, at the post home at Thirty-fourth and Ave. N.

Aboard the plane were Dr. D. M. Wiggins, president of Texas Technological college; Mayor W. H. Rodgers, A. B. Davis, manager of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, former Lt. Gov. John Lee Smith, L. R. Rampy, Allen Benton, H. O. Starks of Amarillo, district manager of Phillips; C. W. pear on the ballot."

The amendment calls for $3,600 annual salaries for all members of both houses of the legislature and for a regular session of the legislature annually instead of once every two years. The regular session in odd-numbered years would be limited to financial matters and to such other matters approved by a four-fifths vote of each house.

Each session would begin on the second Tuesday in January, with no time limit.

Spending Too Much

McBlair, before filing the petition, said the committee's view is that the legislature has been appropriating too much money. Sessions twice as often, he said, would make possible increasing the total.

"The present tendency of every unit of government is to legislate too much, tax too much and spend too much," he said. "Unless this practice is checked, bankruptcy seems inevitable."

He predicted erection of a legislative office building with legislative members spending much of their time in Austin if the amendment is adopted.

as governor adds another youthful period this year to the governor's chair. He became governor July 16 after Gov. Beauford Jester's death, July 10.

Will he be a candidate for a full term next year?

Gov. Shivers merely smiled and said he had a long time in which to make an announcement.

Providing adequate facilities for the eleemosynary institutions of Texas is the state's No. 1 problem and must be disposed of before politics of next year, the governor said.

"Of course, the money must be provided to pay for these facilities and for that reason I have called a special session next January," the governor said.

Program Cost Estimated

"We must do something to improve the over-crowded conditions and eliminate non-fireproof and dilapidated buildings in these various institutions," he continued. He said a board was busy gathering statistics on present needs and those projected into the future for submission to the legislature. Between $15,000,000 and $20,000,000 will be needed in the program, he estimated.

Chatting with various people on the plane on a variety of subjects ranging from redistricting, to water regulation and soil conservation the governor appears well-versed on problems confronting his constituents.

"I've always felt that I was just as good a friend of West Texas as I was to my own district, for I always had to be voting for some project for this great agricultural empire which has been expanding and growing so rapidly," Shivers said.

Water Regulation Seen

Speaking of the water problem, the governor declared: "Water and its regulation will become just as important as regulation of oil and gas and other natural resources. I believe we'll live to see the day when great water pipelines will be criss-crossing our state like the oil and gas pipelines of today."

At that moment, sprawling Lake Buchanan appeared just off to the plane's left and the governor remarked: "Think how West Texas could use the water from a lake like that, and they don't especially need it down here. Why they're building two more large dams on the same river in the near future."

Gov. Shivers believes the Legislature will tackle the problem of redistricting during its next regular session rather than leave the problem to the redistricting board set up by a constitutional amendment voted last year.

Has Busy Schedule

"This will give the people who have moved to centers of tremendous growth the proper representation at Austin they are entitled to, he added.

The subject of soil conservation came up as patchwork farmland with contour and strip farming made a colorful pattern 9,000 feet below us.

The governor demonstrated he knows about the problems of the farmer as he discussed his own operations in the Rio Grande valley near Mission. There he has just finished harvesting of a 1,900-acre cotton crop and operates a cattle-feeding program, fattening the animals on vegetable waste and dehydrated citrus. He rotates alfalfa, sweet sudan, barley and oats on the land.

A busy schedule faced the youthful chief executive in his visit here today and tonight.

Wednesday morning he will depart for Estes Park, Colo., to attend a meeting of the Interstate Oil Compact Commission of which he is a member.

sentenced included army and police personnel, as well as civilians.

Lasted Several Weeks

The trial of the group was reported to have lasted several weeks in the Prague state court. The government said many of the accused pleaded guilty.

A "large group" of conspirators was said to have been involved in the abortive putsch.

Date of the attempted coup was not disclosed, but it was reported the group chose a bank holiday "when the working people were at home and unable to mount counter-action."

A spokesman at the American embassy said "we don't know anything about this. It is just as much news to us as to everybody else."

The government's account of the plan for revolution said the conspirators had been assigned definite tasks, had armed themselves and were ready to act.

They were then to begin a series of attacks against key points in the city, seize public offices and "wipe out certain persons," the account said.

"Then the attacks were to be deployed into the country. There the population was to be confused with faked proclamations which would attempt to give the impression of legality to this revolt and intimidate the people with bloodshed or threats of bloodshed."

Detectives Spoil Fun Of Two Youthful Texans In New York For A Good Time

NEW YORK, Aug. 30. (UP)—James Lee, 20, was such a poor dancer at a Broadway ballroom that two detectives became suspicious early today.

They learned why Lee limped when they followed him and Cecil Jacobs, 24, both of Houston, Tex., to a washroom. A fully loaded pistol was shoved into the shoe on his right foot.

The detectives also caught Jacobs trying to hide another pistol in the washroom watertank.

A search of the young Texans' hotel room revealed three more guns, 150 additional bullets, $250 in cash, and several thousand dollars worth of allegedly stolen jewelry, police said.

The youths told police they found the money, jewels, and weapons in a car at a Chicago parking lot.

"We took $100 and bought plane tickets to New York," police quoted Jacobs.

"We came for a good time, but the fellows spoiled it," he complained. "Why did you guys have to butt in?"

back about four years. His home previously was Canaan, Conn. Relatives there were notified of his death Monday night.

"Everything I had was tied up in that plane," De Santo said as he told how Rassiga made a perfect take off from the Hensley field runway and then heard the plane's motor quit.

He said Rassiga banked, trying to get back to the runway. The plane slipped from the bank, turned on its back and hit the water. It sank immediately.

Swam To Plane

Johnny McBride of Arlington said he saw the plane go down.

"It was about 70 yards out in the lake," McBride said. "I made a swim for it."

He said when he got within ten yards of the spot, a fisherman picked him up in a boat and took him to where the plane sank. McBride dived into the water.

"I went down and tugged, but he was strapped into the cockpit and I couldn't get him out," he said.

Army and Navy rescuers came in crash boats and took turns diving to work the safety belt loose.

"He was dead and there was no chance," one of the men said. Rassiga had a head injury.

Resident Several Years

In Lubbock, it was learned Rassiga was a member of the 707th Bomb reserve group and had flown to Hensley field near Dallas Sunday in a 707th Bomb squadron plane from Lubbock Air Force base, where the squadron is based. He also was a check pilot, with the bomb squadron, squadron officers said at LAFB.

Rassiga had lived in Lubbock the last three or four years at his own residence at 312 Ave. V, friends in Lubbock said. He moved to Lubbock shortly after end of the war.

Crash Witnessed

Rassiga had flown to Hensley field with First Lieut. Francis Baleskie, a regular Air Force officer stationed with the 707th. Rassiga was a first lieutenant in the reserve. The two men were on an administrative flight, officials said. First Lieut. Baleskie returned to LAFB Monday night. He left Hensley field about 7 p. m., he said.

Baleskie said he witnessed the crash. He said the plane appeared suddenly to drop into the lake.

Officials said Rassiga was a Ninth Air Force pilot during the World war II and was shot down while on a mission over Germany. He made his way from behind enemy lines into Allied territory. Rassiga was widely known in Air Force circles in Lubbock.

Alfredo Albidrez, 29, of 121 North Ave. K, under charge of murder several months ago of Adolfo Trujillo, his foreman on a construction project, has been jailed again, it was announced. Marvin Jeffcoat, 36, of 2314 Fourth street, was robbed of $8, shortly before midnight Monday by a man who aroused him from a deep sleep and asked, "Where do you keep your money?"

Jeffcoat, who lives at the rear of the address, said the man came into his bedroom, shook him awake and took his money.

He told police that the robber carried a flashlight and kept his hand in his pocket as if he had a gun there. Police investigating said a kitchen screen door at the rear of the house had been broken open to gain entrance.

Jeffcoat told police that his visitor fled on foot on Fourth street, headed west. He said the man was white, about 35 years of age, six feet tall and weighed about 165 pounds. He further described him as wearing a dark dress suit, with a gray or khaki shirt.

When asked for his money, Jeffcoat said he told the man it was in his billfold, in the pocket of his trousers hanging over the chair. He said the money taken was one $5 bill and three $1 bills.

Gen. Vaughan

Missouri Democratic campaign.

He was still being questioned about this when Chairman Hoey (D-NC) ordered a recess until Wednesday. Vaughan will return to the witness chair then.

The White House Army aide told Senate investigators that the things he did were done without the knowledge of President Truman.

He did not mention them to the President, he said, because "I didn't think it was necessary."

Vaughan came in for rugged questioning from members of the Senate subcommittee looking into the question of whether there has been improper influence in letting of government contracts.

Maragon Dealings Target

Much of it revolved about his relations with John Maragon, the mysterious man-about-Washington who refused to tell the committee last week about his financial affairs. An accountant had testified that Maragon banked $119,000 during a five-year period in which he had said his income was about $30,000.

Vaughan acknowledged he had been to Maragon from time to time, but he swore he had never authorized Maragon to "represent, or speak, for me or the White House."

Under a fire of questions from Senator McCarthy (R-Wis), Vaughan denied specifically that he ever told the State department that President Truman was "personally interested" in a trip Maragon proposed to make to Europe in 1945 for a perfume company—the same company which gave Vaughan seven home freezers for himself and friends that year.

Records Available

Vaughan took responsibility for a letter dated Aug. 3, 1945, addressed to Mrs. Ruth Shipley of the State department passport division, and seeking permission for Maragon to make the trip.

But he said President Truman "never heard of this."

And he said the impression that he (Vaughan) had told the State department that the President was interested was the result of second or third hand conversations.

Asked by Senator O'Conor (D-Md), whether his financial records were available to the committee, Vaughan replied:

"Certainly."

Makes Blanket Denial

Vaughan had a 1,000-word prepared statement in which he made a blanket denial of any wrongdoing.

He said the seven home freezers which officials of the Albert J. Verley Perfume Co., Chicago, gave to him for himself and his friends were simply gifts from old friends.

One of the freezers went to Mrs. Truman for the little White House at Independence, Mo.

Vaughan declared:

"There is absolutely no connection between this gift and any assistance I have given these friends.

"At no time have I taken action as a member of the White House staff in exchange for a gift or other favor."

As for Mr. Truman's knowledge of what he has done, Vaughan said:

Truman Is Absolved

"In so far as I have given assistance to any business concerns or their representatives, it has been without any participation by the President in any way, either through approval or any knowledge on his part of the names of specific companies or individuals whose requests for assistance came to me and were given my attention."

When Vaughan had read his statement, Chairman Hoey (D-NC) bluntly asked him if, in connection with aiding businessmen, he had "ever received any fee or commission or shared with anyone else in receiving a fee or commission."

Vaughan: "No sir, I have not at any time."

Senator O'Conor (D-Md), broke in to ask "if you ever sought any fee or remuneration."

Vaughan: "No sir, it never occurred to me."

Nothing To Conceal

Vaughan read in earnest tones: "There is nothing to conceal in my record as a public servant. I have discharged my duties honestly and to the best of my ability."

When he got down to specific denials, he declared that at no time had he authorized John Maragon to "represent or speak for me, or the White House."

"Upon his request," the general said of Maragon, "I have given him assistance in matters when it appeared to be entirely proper to do so."

Russians Are Claimed Shifting German Police To Harass Tito

BERLIN, Aug. 30. (AP)—A Berlin newspaper said today east German police are being sent to the Balkans by Russia to seal off Yugoslavia.

The British-licensed Social Democrat said 3,500, heavily armed members of the Volks-Polizei (people's police) left the Russian zone of Germany for "anti-Tito action" in the Balkans Saturday. It said 12,000 more will be sent.

British and American intelligence officers said they could not confirm the reports.

Social Democrats said the troops, wearing uniforms similar to those of the Red army, are commanded by Russian General Smirnov.

MOST LARGE CITIES OCCUPIED

Reserves Called Up In Bolivia Revolt

(By The Associated Press)

LA PAZ, Bolivia, Aug. 30 — Fighting for survival against a spreading rightist revolution, the government today began a draft of all citizens.

Reservists, 20 to 24, were called to the colors in La Paz and orders for mobilization have been issued to all men 19 to 50.

They will be called upon to fight the revolt against the middle-of-the-road government which broke out in scattered sections Saturday and now controls all Bolivia's large cities except La Paz.

Town Is Bombed

Greatest government efforts so far have been directed against Cochabamba, a city of 90,000 southeast of La Paz, where the rebels are strongly entrenched.

Air force planes bombed the town yesterday for the third time, but reports said they did little damage. The raids terrorized the inhabitants, however, and indignation against the act seems to have added new recruits to the rebellion.

The planes, after dropping their bombs on Cochabamba, flew on to the garrison town of Camiri to pick up troops for an attack on Sucre.

Planes Are Seized

In a lightning reverse play, the planes themselves were seized at Camiri by the insurgents; the government troops they were sent to pick up had deserted to the rebels.

Reports at La Paz said loyal ground forces were in the act of occupying the airport at Cochabamba.

The revolutionists, members of the National Revolutionary Party (MNR), are apparently still in control of Santa Cruz, Potosi and Sucre, all southeast of La Paz. Reports yesterday said the garrisons in the extreme north had also gone over to the rebels, which, if true, spread the revolt countrywide.

Labor unions, which normally figure prominently in unrest here, have declared a policy of strict neutrality in what they call a "purely political" fight.

Support Is Pledged

All political parties except the revolutionary left PIR have pledged support to President Mamerto Urriolagoitia. The PIR is a Marxist group which denies any connection with world Communism.

La Paz, except for a false air-raid scare yesterday, is calm. The government has taken no restrictive measures and has not instituted censorship.

The present government was elected following a violent uprising against the MNR, then in control, in 1945. It governs 4,000,000 persons living in this landlocked country high in the Andes mountains.

Victor Paz Estenssoro, exiled leader of the MNR, was interned by Uruguay yesterday on suspicion of having engineered the revolt.

Clyde Tatum, Jr., Is Hurt In Blast

Condition of Clyde Tatum, jr., who received second degree burns of the face and hands in a small gunpowder explosion about 10:30 o'clock this morning at his residence at 2711 Twenty-fourth, was reported as "good" early this afternoon by attendants at West Texas hospital.

Young Tatum escaped serious injury in the blast, although the burns are painful, and physicians reported that his eyes had not been injured.

Tatum, 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde G. Tatum, is a student at J. T. Hutchinson Junior High school.

The accident occurred this morning when young Tatum, who had finished construction of a muzzle-loading type gun, decided to test the gunpowder to be used, his father reported. The boy placed some of the powder in the street near his home, then "put a match to it." The resulting blast burned young Tatum's face and hands, but glasses he was wearing at the time saved his vision.

The youth will probably remain in the hospital for two or three days.

Shivers Talks At ABC Meet

By LONNIE HUDKINS
Journal Staff Writer

Gov. Allan Shivers is a West Texan at heart, a regular fellow by nature and a good statesman in action and word.

He left that impression today when he spoke to members of the American Business club, their wives and guests at a luncheon meeting in the Hilton hotel.

Introduced by Dr. D. M. Wiggins, president of Texas Technological college, Governor Shivers expressed his gratitude for being invited to Lubbock.

"Didn't Just Happen"

"This is a great section of Texas," he said, "and as I witnessed its great growth from the air, I realized it didn't just happen.

"The great growth and prosperity of this section came about by the hard work of a great people who fought every inch of the way," he said.

"People here are more loyal and patriotic to their city and have more belief in their city, community and neighbors, than in any other part of the state," he stated.

Can Create Interest

Governor Shivers said he enjoyed traveling about the state "getting to know the people and their problems." He said he believed a traveling governor can create more interest in good government. "After all," he said, "the state belongs to all of us."

He also complimented the club for its boys' club program. "Child by child we build the nation," he reminded, "and if the club just saves one boy during its entire existence, it will have saved more in dollar value and moral value than the total cost of the program."

Standing in a pair of brand new boots bearing his name and the name of "Lubbock," the immaculately-dressed governor expressed his appreciation of the fine spirit and hospitality shown him here.

Invitation Extended

"I also want to invite any of you to come see me or write me at any time," he said. "We may not agree," he mused, "but I will at least try to send you back thinking you were wrong and not me."

He predicted that Tech, under the direction of Dr. Wiggins, will someday be among the top schools of the nation. He said he planned to see the Red Raiders play the University of Texas, his alma mater, at Austin Sept. 17. "I hope you won't be too rough on us," he quipped.

Entertainment was furnished by Odis Echols and his Melody Boys composed of Echols, his son, Odis, jr.; Bob Elmore, Virgil Cobia and Jack Burgess.

Bob Rose led fellow members in singing "The Eyes of Texas," an old favorite, "Smile Awhile," and "America."

O. B. Ratliff introduced Dr. Wiggins and George Dale presided. Guests included Former Lt. Gov. John Lee Smith, Marshall Formby of Hereford and C. L. Harris, all of whom served in the legislature with the 41-year-old governor.

Yugoslavian Dictator Appears To Be A Cinch For U. S. Loan

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30 (AP)—Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia is considered virtually a cinch to get an American government loan—provided he stays alive and independent from Moscow.

Top government officials said Secretary of State Acheson's strong support for Yugoslavia's application clearly foreshadows a favorable verdict.

Acheson and Ambassador Cavendish Cannon in Belgrade are reported vigorously urging the Export-Import bank not only to approve Tito's bid but to do it quickly.

Economic Blockade On

The Yugoslav dictator is said to be in need of quick economic help from the United States and other western countries to help him weather the economic blockade now threatening to strangle his country.

The Yugoslav government was disclosed last night to have applied formally to the bank for a credit of around $25,000,000 needed to buy American machinery for its copper, lead and zinc mines.

Tito is reported to have turned to the bank, an American government agency, because he feels he cannot wait possibly six months for a credit from the international bank.

This is the first time the Yugoslav government has turned to the United States government for a direct loan since Tito defied Moscow's orders some 15 months ago and split from the Russian bloc in Western Europe.

Johnson Approves Plan

Government officials familiar with the Yugoslav application said that thus far there has been no sign of opposition from Secretary of Defense Johnson.

Johnson first opposed and then finally approved the first big step by the United States to bolster Yugoslavia several weeks ago—a decision to permit the Yugoslavs to buy a steel mill from an American company.

Export-Import bank officials declined to predict how they will treat the Yugoslav loan request. They said they are giving the matter "serious consideration" and that a decision should be forthcoming shortly.

But government officials connected with the National Advisory council, which guides the bank's activities, said a loan to Yugoslavia would represent a "sound business proposition," besides fitting neatly into current American foreign policy.

Stockpiling Considered

Yugoslavia would be able to pay for the credit, they said, by increasing shipments of strategic copper, lead, zinc and chrome ore to the United States.

This would have a double advantage for this country:

It would give Tito the dollars necessary to repay the loan on installments, plus additional money to spend in western markets for essential food stuffs and consumer goods for his people.

And it would increase the stockpile in the United States of these strategic minerals — something that is bound to appeal to the secretary of defense.

Officials emphasized that Acheson is under no illusions about Tito or his Communist dictatorship in Yugoslavia.

But both Acheson and President Truman are reported to believe that it is vital to keep Tito alive and his country in fairly good economic shape. In this way Tito can serve as a symbol and reminder to other eastern European governments that it is possible to break with Moscow and still exist as an independent nation.

Western diplomats acknowledge that this policy involves risks but they say such risks are necessary if the United States and the western powers are to win the cold war.

At present they are not worried about reports of Russian troop maneuvers in the Balkans or the recent Cominform meeting in Sofia, the capital of Bulgaria.

They dismiss them as part of Russia's war of nerves against Tito, pointing out that both events, lacking the usual secrecy, apparently were staged just to worry Tito.

Energetic Cochran Housewife Is Sponsor Of Top 4-H Club

WINTERS, Aug. 30 (AP)—The Cochran, Tex., 4-H club is sponsored by a housewife—and it's a winner.

Mrs. O. D. Bradford of Cochran, near Winters, organized the club four years ago when boys interested couldn't find a man in the community to act as sponsor.

"We had to scrape for six members needed to start," Mrs. Bradford, a jolly, dark-haired woman said.

Agent Not Enthusiastic

"Even the county agent wasn't too enthusiastic over the idea. He had seen others start in and clubs die, so he was afraid ours might do the same. I finally persuaded him to let us try. The more others lost interest, the harder I worked."

She did her work well. The West Texas club, in four years, has grown from six to 29 active members. Ages of the boys range from 7 to 18 years.

"Mrs. Brad's boys" better than hold their own in competition with other clubs.

Although the Cochran club is the youngest group in Runnels county, it has won the county award for the outstanding club the past two years.

Compete In Shows

Last year they competed in shows at Dallas, Fort Worth, Abilene, San Angelo, Ballinger and Winters, winning 24 first places, 10 seconds, nine thirds, four fourths and four fifths. They showed two grand champions and two reserve champions.

Sales and prizes brought the boys an income of $5,762 for the year.

"Mrs. Brad" as she is affectionately called by her friends says she isn't the type to "just sit and twiddle her thumbs." Between serving as sponsor and helping her husband in the store and filling station which they own, she finds time to be president of a sewing club, to belong to the Parent Teacher Association and the Band Mother's Club, and to serve as Red Cross chairman in her community. She cans a large supply of fruits and vegetables each year. She is in her thirties.

Son Raises Turkeys

She is the former Lydia Wright of Weatherford. She attended high school there and worked for her father, who owned a grocery and cafe business. In the early 30's she came to Winters to visit a sister and in 1934 she was married to O. D. Bradford here.

"My ambition has always been eventually to live on a farm and ranch, but now Obie Dee, Brad, and I put into practice on our three acres what we learned in club meetings."

Obie Dee, the Bradford's 13-year-old son, made an enviable record last year with his turkeys, winning a first place at the state fair. Capons, hogs, and calves winning places in various shows swelled the list of his ribbons and proved a son could put forth his best effort working under his own mother's direction.

NEW WEAPON IN THE WAR ON BUGS—The big machine moving down the cotton rows on the Earl Harris farm near Navasota, Tex., is a mechanical bug catcher. Use of the new bug catcher in the Brazos river bottoms of Texas has increased cotton yield from as low as one-tenth of a bale per acre to as high as two bales per acre.

Queen For Lamesa Rodeo Is Selected

LAMESA, Aug. 30 (Special) — Sue Wasson, Big Spring, Monday was named the queen of the first professional rodeo staged in Lamesa Sept. 1, 2 and 3. Miss Wasson was chosen from 44 entries from West Texas and New Mexico in a contest staged by the Lamesa radio station, KPET. The judges were all from out-of-town.

The runner-up was Marie Petty, Big Spring. She and entrants Mrs. Fannie Lee Perryman, Biddy White, Mrs. Lyndell Sharp and Snook Creighton, all of Lamesa, will participate in parade and rodeo activities along with the newly chosen queen.

Rodeo headquarters have been set up in the Dal Paso hotel. The parade will include mounted horsewomen and horsemen, a high school band a national guard unit.

This will be the first rodeo here since 1941 when the last of several amateur shows was staged. It has been sponsored by the Lamesa Rodeo association which has built a new stand and arena at the cost of $13,000 near the ball park in south Lamesa.

Legionnaires Strutting Their Stuff In 12-Hour Parade; 30,000 Taking Part

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 30. (AP)—American Legionnaires took time off from business at their 31st national convention today to strut their stuff in a parade expected to last 12 hours.

The anticipated crowd of 1,000,000 persons will have to bring both lunch and dinner for the parade—scheduled to start at 10 a. m., Eastern Standard time—is set to run at least to 10 p. m. and may be still going at midnight.

Thousands In March

All told, more than 30,000 persons will be in the line of march keeping step to the military tunes of some 160 drum and bugle corps.

On hand, too, are crack units from the U. S. Army, Navy, Marines and Air Force.

The parade is the sole official Legion activity on this second day of the convention.

President Truman, the nation's No. 1 Legionnaire and a delegate-at-large from Missouri, came from the White House yesterday to keynote the opening sessions. He described his address as one that will affect the future of the United States.

The smiling chief executive was cheered wildly by his Legion comrades and nearly 100,000 Philadelphians who showered him with confetti and ticker tape as he motored through downtown city streets.

Will Help Britain

Mr. Truman told Legion delegates the U. S. will help Great Britain solve her present financial crisis.

The President said flatly that "a sound and expanding economy is essential to world peace." He insisted the U. S. will examine Britain's currency dilemma in a "spirit of friendliness and helpfulness."

"The Democratic nations are not proposing to interfere with one another's internal politics," Mr. Truman said.

Then he called attention to the "terrible after-affects of war" and the economic crisis that has embraced the world. His answer: A four-point, long-range program:

1. "Encouraging American business to make productive investments aboard in increasing volume."

2. "Planning to help the people in under-developed areas learn modern industrial and agricultural methods."

3. "Continue our well-established policy of negotiating reciprocal trade agreements in order to reduce barriers to international trade."

4. "Encouraging closer regional ties among nations in order to lower trade barriers and increase production."

Need Sound Economy

Mr. Trumn said the world's free nations "have not yet achieved the sound and expanding world economy that is necessary for lasting prosperity and peace."

The speaker's platform was packed with the nation's top brass on defense matters.

They included Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson, Army Chief of Staff Omar Bradley; Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, head of selective service.

Retired Gen. Lucius D. Clay, former commander of U. S. military forces in Germany, spoke last night. He urged the U. S. to lead the fight against the "aggressor," which he never named.

Clay addressed 700 persons at a banquet honoring Perry Brown, Beaumont, Tex., national commander of the Legion. He said the "aggressors will ever be a threat until it is evident that it is dangerous for the aggressor to move from his own territory."

Outside the huge, sweltering convention hall thousands of Legionnaires had a good time.

Traffic Is Blocked

A pushing, scrambling mass of humanity swarmed Philadelphia's streets. In front of the Bellevue Stratford, headquarters hotel, traffic was blocked.

It was like New Year's on Times Square last night.

Men and women by the thousands watched the traditional Legion funmaking. And they saw plenty of it.

Electric canes, water pistols, phony lobsters and lizards were shoved into the faces of passers-by who braved the hordes of grinning, shouting, jostling Legionnaires.

Even movie star Kathryn Grayson got a taste of the shennanigans. The pretty singer, in town for a premiere of her latest picture, was seated in a parked car when a Legionnaire dangled a lobster in front of her face.

The musical sound that emanated from Miss Grayson's throat was perhaps the highest "C" she ever hit. (P. S. The lobster wasn't alive).

Electioneering is increasing. The smoke-filled hotel room is in use 24 hours a day. Delegates are wined and dined in the drive for votes. The political plum is the national commander's post—and at least four men are candidates. Backers of each predict positive victory for their man.

Women Are Active

The Legion's auxiliary got its four-day conclave under way yesterday. Mrs. Hubert A. Goode, Portland, Ore., the auviliary commander, told the women delegates they should do "something" about the future of the nation.

"Too long have we exposed our children to the pox of Communism without immunizing them with effective Americanism," she said.

The 40 and 8—Legion fun and honor group—continued its convention begun Sunday.

The Raymond A. Garbarina memorial post No. 1523, New York City, won the Legion's national drum and sugle corps championship. It outmaneuvered nine other contest finalists last night. Last year's winner—Riverside, N. J., post 146—plced second with Hamilton post 20 of Baltimore, Md., third.

The Holy Name cadet drum and bugle corps, Garfield, N. J., captured the junior title. St. Vincent's cadets of Albert L. Quinn post No. 52, Jersey City, N. J., placed second.

Suburban Residents Back Annexation Plan

DON'T BE SCARED—This looks like a prehistoric monster crawling over the top of Boulder Dam. Actually it's a docile, six-inch-long mud puppy, peering out of a glass-walled fish bowl. This pet, Dinny, was shown by Mickey Rathbone of San Angelo, who said a Plainview angler caught it on a worm.

Opposition Is Also Reported

At least four people out of five residing in suburban Lubbock are signing petitions requesting annexation to the city when given the opportunity.

But varying degrees of opposition have been encountered in several areas proposed for inclusion in the city limits.

These reports were made at a meeting late Monday of the city limits extensions committee of the chamber of commerce, held in the chamber directors' room. J. Ray Dickey is chairman of the group.

Opposition Encountered

The meeting was for the purpose of obtaining progress reports on petitions which are being circulated in the suburban areas in all directions surrounding the present city limits. The petitions are obtainable through Jim Crook, assistant manager of the chamber and ex-officio secretary of the committee.

The most vigorous opposition encountered by any group was reported by Jim M. Davis in the area including Suburban Homes and Stratton additions between Avenues A and H south of Thirty-fourth street. At least two petitions opposing annexation are being circulated there, he said he was informed.

He added that residents of the area are being told that, if they are annexed, houses will have to be re-wired for electricity, houses on cedar blocks will have to be put on concrete, they will be required to provide 55-foot rights-of-way for streets and 30 feet for alleys and will be forbidden to use water from their own wells.

Statements Rejected

City Manager Steve Matthews told the chamber committee all these statements are incorrect. He and R. L. Oldham, city director of public works, were present at the meeting as observers.

The city could not compel residents of newly annexed areas to change the wiring, foundations or anything else about their property from the condition existing at the time of annexation, he said. It could not stop them from using their own water. There are no requirements as to widths or street and alley rights-of-way, but 50 feet for streets and 20 feet for alleys are desirable, Matthews added.

C. I. (Stony) Wall, vice president in charge of operations of West Texas Gas company and a member of the committee, said the opposition of some of the residents of this area may block their prospects of getting gas soon.

New Line Planned

The gas company, he said, is planning to extend a high pressure line along East Avenue C and then

HOW JOHN BULL CAMPAIGNS:

Labor Versus Tory Is Britain's Fight

(EDITOR'S NOTE: L. R. Blanchard is general executive editor of the 21 metropolitan papers—mostly in the East—in the Gannett chain. As one of the nation's most widely known and respected editors, Mr. Blanchard has often traveled the world for his papers, informing himself, first-hand, on what is going on. Recently he went to England to look at Socialism and the series of articles he wrote while on the trip are highly revealing. Because some politicians urge that the U. S. follow England in experimenting with Socialism, The Journal asked—and received—permission of the Gannett papers and Mr. Blanchard to present the series in Texas. We consider Mr. Blanchard's articles to be most significant, especially since Britain, largely supported by American tax dollars will seek from us next month more aid to be used in carrying on socialistic aims.)

By L. R. BLANCHARD
Executive Editor, Gannett Newspapers

LONDON—Herbert Morrison was at his polite best. He was speaking to a friendly crowd and had no reason to draw on his reserves excoriation.

One of the Labor government's most powerful figures, he had been persuaded to make a speech to aid candidates for the London County Council. That's the big "board of supervisors" that runs metropolitan London.

He spoke in the Tooting Co-Op Hall. It is in one of these medium-to-lower-grade residential areas south of the Thames River. The 250 who attended were the sort Morrison knows well.

The fire-eating leader of Commons has devoted his life to serving just that sort of citizen. He knew exactly where to appeal to reason, where to wax sarcastic and where to admit a possible virtue among the Tories.

Arguments Are Summarized

While it was an informal speech, not a major effort, what he said seemed to summarize the arguments of Laborites. He went over the issues which surely will be heard when national elections are held some time before May, 1950. It was worth a long trip through narrow, winding and rainy streets to hear him.

"It's not a matter of the Labor Party's triumph," Morrison began. "It's a matter of London. It's a matter of making London a city we are proud to show the people of other countries.

"When we get through, there won't be a slum left in London. But to make sure of that, Labor must be returned to office. Slums are bad not only to the people who live in them. The disgrace of the obligation is on those of us who are able to live under decent conditions."

From there he veered into more of a campaign speech.

"If you have a conscience," he declared solemnly, "you can't vote Tory. Because then you will put the value of a few shillings ahead of people."

For that he got a round of approval "Hear! Hears!" He went on:

Wilson Lions Club Formed

By EDWARD WELSH
Journal Staff Writer

WILSON, Aug. 30. — Another Lions Club came into being here Monday night when District Governor Curtis A. Cryer, Borger, presented the official charter to President Howard G. Cook. Cook, a banker, accepted the scroll on behalf of the 47 charter members.

The new club was praised for obtaining so many charter members from this little Lynn county community of only 350 population.

The ceremonies took place in the new cafeteria building at the Wilson High school. The new club was sponsored by the Tahoka chapter who had a delegation present to see the Wilson group come into being. Delegations from Lubbock, O'Donnell, New Home, Slaton, Borger and Plainview were also present.

Barbecue Tops Program

The evening's program began with a cafeteria style barbecue at 7:30 p.m. About 200 Lions, their wives and visitors were present. Musical selections were presented by Barbara and Eileen Maeker and Mary Francis Campbell.

Mayor and Postmaster Pat Campbell introduced the guests and visitors. President Cook introduced Gov. Cryer.

"A town is as big as you make it," Cryer said in his induction speech. "Lions can, and do, play leading parts in their community. If you accept the challenge you can make your town a better place in which to live."

Other Officers are Named

In addition to Cook, the officers are: A. H. Smith, first vice-pres.; Ralph Kahlich, second vice-pres.; Leon Tamplin, third vice-pres.; A. J. Sales, secretary; Clyde Boyd, treasurer; J. L. Hyde, Lion tamer; Rev. Howard Marcum, tail twister; directors are: Clarence Church, J. B. Smith, E. A. Hargraves and J. P. Hewlett.

The Lubbock delegation included: Lion President Groves Denman, Dallas Whaley, Cotton Thompson, and Weston Pettey. Those from Tahoka were Bill Strange, jr., president, Jack Robinson, Bill Griffin, Roland Clem, Dr. Skiles Thomas and Bertram Hatchell. The Tahoka men were all accompanied by their wives.

From O'Donnell came J. C. Harris, first vice-pres.; Harvey Gardenhire, Harley Jolley and Hollis

Grand Army Of Republic Vets Gather At Last Encampment

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 30. (AP)—The last encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic got the best of one Civil war veteran last night, but not for long.

Charles L. Chappel, 102-year-old senior vice commander from Long Beach, Calif., passed out on the way to a reception in the office of Gov. Henry F. Schricker.

He was revived shortly after he was taken to a hospital room in the convention hotel. But he was taken to the Veterans administration hospital here.

Dr. J. W. Thom, VA physician at the hotel, blamed his collapse on "exhaustion." At the hospital, heart checkups were made on the veteran while he clamored to go back to his hotel room. When doctors reported his heart all right, he was returned to the hotel an hour later.

Chappel collapsed in a Red Cross station wagon as he was leaving the hotel for the statehouse reception, said Elmer Wohlgemuth, Ios Angeles, his companion.

James A. Hard, 108, Rochester, N. Y., also was too tired to attend the reception after a banquet given by the Women's Relief corps.

But not Commander Theodore A. Penland, 100-year-old commander-in-chief from Vancouver, Wash.

"I belong to 36 different orders', he told the auxiliary women, "and all of them are good to me."

As an afterthought, he added, "I compose songs and sing them—yes, I really do."

Joseph Clovese, 105-year-old negro veteran from Pontiac, Mich., took a wheelchair ride up and down the sidewalk outside the hotel. Then he went to a dinner given by an all-negro post of the American Legion last night.

Today's program for the veterans is a comparatively light session of receiving greetings, followed by an "unofficial meeting" tonight.

As GAR activity slowed down, proceedings developed faster in the five allied organizations.

The WRC was scheduled to elect officers this afternoon, and the other groups had elections slated later.

Garbo Goes Before Cameras Next Month

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 30. (AP)—Greta Garbo will go before the cameras again next month.

Producer Walter Wanger yesterday said the Swedish actress now is in Rome, where the movie, "The Duchess of Langeais," will go into production Sept. 15. She made her last Hollywood film eight years ago.

Allen Brothers Post Holds Joint Meeting

About 60 people attended the joint meeting of the Allen Brothers Post No. 148 of the American Legion and the ladies auxiliary of the post at 7:30 p. m. Monday. Mrs. O. G. Drake, newly elected president of the auxiliary, was in charge of the evening's program.

A covered dish supper was served to the members and guests before the meeting.

Sid Lowery, state legion service officer at the Veterans Administration, gave a report on the national veterans hospital situation. Waggoner Carr, county attorney, delivered a talk on the laws of the land.

O. G. Drake, first vice commander, spoke to the members on the low membership of the post. He revealed that out of a potential membership of 15,000 in Lubbock county alone, the post has a membership of only 170 so far for 1950. The members were urged by Drake to push the membership of the post higher.

The program was concluded with several piano selections by Mrs. F. G. Hefner, auxiliary member.

More than 33 million short tons of cane and beet sugar were produced by the world in 1947.

Lubbock Boy Has Operation In Bid For Normal Life

Prospects for a longer life were in store for a 12-year-old Lubbock youth Monday as he was wheeled from a Dallas operating room after undergoing operation for a severe heart condition.

Until the first of this summer, Robert Key, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Key, 2119 Twentieth, had lived an ordinary life. The only thing out of the ordinary was some fatigue in his legs.

But as he took a physical examination prior to attending Boy Scout camp this summer, Robert was discovered to have coarctation of the aorta — a condition which claims the life of the victim before he is 30 years old.

Conditon Reported "Good"

That discovery led to the operation in Baylor hospital Monday and the prospects for living out an ordinary life. For, in a telegram to Lubbock, the boy's parents reported Robert's condition as "good."

Coarctation of the aorta was described by Dr. O. W. English, who first suspected the youth's condition, as a hardening of the largest artery in the body. It causes the artery to contract and cut off blood to the lower extremities of the body, which gives lower blood pressure in the legs than in the upper parts of the body.

Operation for the condition is a very delicate one, because all blood must be cut off while it is performed. A portion of the artery must be taken out and the ends sewed back together. Mortality rate during the operation is about 10 per cent, according to Dr. English.

Baylor hospital attendants today said Robert's condition was "satisfactory."

Disease Not Apparent

It was decided that Robert should take his chances on the operating table rather than face the prospect of dying in his late 'teens or early twenties, however. Few people suffering from the disease have ever reached the age of thirty, according to the records.

Coarctation of the aorta is common enough to make it recognizable to most doctors, Dr. English said, and yet is so rare that few doctors can perform it. There are few, if any, symptoms of the disease which are apparent. Chances for a successful operation for the condition diminish as the victim grows older, the Lubbock physician asserted.

As for Robert, if he continues to get well he will have an excellent chance of living an ordinary life. His hospital address is: Room 468, Baylor hospital, Dallas.

Robert's father is a woodworking instructor at Lubbock senior high school. He has taught here for approximately 20 years.

Six Japanese Given Prison Sentences

TOKYO, Aug. 30. (AP)—Six Japanese today were sentenced to five years at hard labor for spreading rumors derogatory to occupation forces.

The sentences were handed down at Osaka by the U. S. 25th division's provost marshal's court.

The case was the outgrowth of a poster campaign Japanese authorities said was conducted by Comunistms. American soldiers were accused of raping Japanese women.

YOUNG EGG

Cases of housebreaking in Plymouth, England, were traced to a gang of children. None of the children was more than 13 years of age, and the leader was a boy of 6.

Actress Is Hurt In Highway Accident

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 30. (INS)—Actress Ruth Roman, who plays opposite comedian Milton Berle in "Always Leave Them Laughing," was anything but smiles today following an auto accident which sent her home with a wrenched back and bruised forehead.

She said she was parked on Pacific coast highway when her car was rammed from the rear by a taxicab. Writer Bill Walsh, with her at the time of the accident, was uninjured.

She will stay away from work for three or four days, her studio said.

There are nearly 7,000 ice making plants in the United States.

BLUNT TALK IS HEARD IN UN

Backward Areas Warned U. S. Not Giving Handouts For Fun

LAKE SUCCESS, Aug. 30 (AP)—A sharp warning to underdeveloped countries that Uncle Sam is not giving handouts just for fun startled a United Nations conference yesterday. It was the bluntest talk on President Truman's program for aiding undeveloped areas yet heard at the U. N.

John Abbink, a consultant on the foreign technical assistance program with the United States mission to the U. N., called for sensible planning. He said one foreign businessman, not named, was "stupid" for expecting the United States to buy any products left over from a proposed American-built industrialization scheme.

Theories Exploded

Abbink spoke at a general meeting of the U. N. scientific conference on the conservation and utilization of resources. This conference has heard many speakers talk about the underdeveloped countries and there has been considerable talk in the U. N. corridors about what these areas can expect from Uncle Sam in the way of cash.

Abbink said he was startled at a Havana trade conference to hear one delegate assert the U. S. might assist the rest of the world to attain economic equality before planning to further its own material progress.

He said this doctrine of economic development has been exploded many times in many countries "and is even now being bitterly disproven in unhappy Britain."

Few Nations Ready

"The most difficult single problem which faces leaders in underdeveloped countries is that of convincing their peoples that economic progress comes from within: that it cannot be imposed from without, or even greatly advanced unless there exists a widespread desire for national improvement so strong that the necessary temporary sacrifices will seem worth while to all who will be affected," Abbink said.

But, he said, few of the countries are ready for the degree of industrialization to which they seem to aspire.

He said President Truman's program, in which the President called for help for the underdeveloped areas, was widely hailed because it contained a reference to financing.

"Actually it stressed much more emphatically the need for planning such as I have suggested here," he said.

"The people of the United States have proven that they are willing to help to the limit of their abilities, but they will be little inclined to provide funds merely because some country wants them. There is too great need at home for capital."

The conference continues today with section meetings on minerals, fuels and energy, water, and land and a general meeting on education for conservation.

Man Ordered To Pay Wife $1 Per Month

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 30 (AP)—Feodor Chaliapin jr. must pay $1 a month to his estranged bride of 18 days, Vanya Dimitrova, 26, pending trial of their divorce actions.

Superior Judge Joseph M. Maltby so ruled after the 43-year-old son of the late Russian basso testified he averaged $350 a month income, including $25 a week state unemployment compensation.

Miss Dimitrova is seeking a divorce and $500 monthly alimony. Chaliapin, in a cross complaint, accuses her of an illicit love affair with Count Jose Dorelis. They married last Nov. 26 and separated 18 days later.

Steel Industry Studies Offer

NEW YORK, Aug. 30 (AP)—Representatives of labor and management weighed today a presidential fact-finding board's offer to mediate a wage dispute which threatens the steel industry with a strike on Sept. 14.

Both the CIO steelworkers and some of the big steel companies indicated they might give an answer during the day. The board hopes to have replies from the union and all 63 companies by tomorrow.

The surprise offer was revealed last night to newsmen by the three board members just before they concluded their formal hearing of the evidence in the case. The mediation suggestion was made at a private session last Friday.

Mediation Difficult

Both sides said they were giving it careful consideration. Neither would comment about the position they expect to take, but John A. Stephens, U. S. Steel, vice-president, and an industry leader in the hearings, observed:

"The problem of conducting mediation would be difficult with 63 companies and one union."

The prospect of acceptance of the offer by some of the larger companies was not believed bright in view of statements of their spokesmen in testifying before the board.

Some of these executives asserted flatly they would resist any recommendation by the panel in favor of even a part of the steelworkers' demands.

At stake in mediation sessions would be the union's request for a 30 cents an hour package increase for the nation's million steelworkers.

Settlement of the dispute might well have an effect on deadlocks in other mass production industries. Spokesmen for the steel companies told the fact-finders the board would set a pattern for a fourth round of wage increases in the nation if it met the package demand in whole or in part.

The three panel members, headed by Prof. Carroll R. Daugherty of Northwestern university, plan to go ahead with the writing of their report if mediation is rejected.

The new deadline for submission of this report to the White House, is Sept. 10.

Even if it is made public at once, any three days will remain for bargaining before the Sept. 14 strike deadline unless the President secures an extension of the truce.

Tech Registration To Begin Sept. 15

Registration for the fall term will begin at Texas Technological college Sept. 15 and will extend through Sept. 19, the registrar's office has announced.

Dormitories will open Sunday, Sept. 11 and all entering freshmen and transfers with less than 15 semester hours will report to the gymnasium the following day for a program of orientation and counseling.

Each student will be assigned to a faculty member in his specific field of interest to aid him in preparing a trial schedule, the registrar said. Any student who fails to participate in the entire program will be delayed in registration, he warned.

Classes for the fall term will begin at 8 a. m. Saturday, Sept. 17. Late registrants may enroll through Sept. 22 with payment of a fee.

Chance Awakening Prevents Tragedy

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 30. (AP)—The chance awakening of a 14-year-old boy saved his parents and eight sisters and brothers from death in a flame filled house here last night.

Ronald Giovengo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Giovengo, awakened at 10:30 p. m. to find the home filled with smoke.

"The kitchen was full of fire and the house so full of smoke I couldn't get my breath," he said.

The lad called his sleeping parents who carried or helped the other seven children from the house. The children ranged in age from five months to 17 years.

Giovengo said he believed defective wiring caused the fire.

WE SAW a little note in the paper the other day about two Lubbock school teachers going down to Alpine to attend a meeting of the Texas Association for the Improvement of Reading and we found ourself wishing that 200 teachers had gone, instead of just two.

We also found ourself wishing that another 200 had been going to a meeting to promote better spelling, because if there's anything our schools need to do it is a better job of teaching kids to read and to spell during the years they should be taught to do both: namely, in the first six or seven years of schooling.

Under present-day methods of teaching, it's a miracle if a kid learns to read and to spell equal to the old sixth-grade level by the time he reaches high school.

If you don't believe this, ask any seventh or eighth grader you know to read a few paragraphs out of a newspaper, or magazine, and then test him on 10 ordinary words for spelling.

We've had two kids go all the way through Lubbock public schools, and now have one a year removed from Senior High. None of them has shown proper proficiency in reading and spelling.

Even though these kids have always made average, or slightly better, grades, we'd be inclined to blame it on their personal ineptness if we hadn't heard many other parents sound off on the subject of how far off base their kids are on reading and spelling.

But having heard numerous parents yowl in the same key, we are dead sure that so-called "modern methods" of teaching reading and spelling fall far short of the old methods of a couple of decades ago —at least until the kids reach college level.

THE THEORY behind the "modern methods" is that all of a sudden, at some wonderful time, kids that haven't been proficient in reading and spelling, get that way. The ability to read and to spell properly kind of "dawns on 'em," or something, when they wake up some fine day.

Maybe so, maybe so. But it's got to be proved to us.

We are, of course, no authority on teaching, or on teaching methods, modern or otherwise.

We've never been closer to Columbia university's Teachers college than the nearby route of a Harlem bus and we were 30 years old before we knew what the letter "Ph.D. in Ed." meant.

But we know when a 14 year-old kid can't read as well as his counterpart of 30 years ago could and when a 17 year-old who has always made a solid B in English has difficulty spelling most words of more than two syllables.

Of course, the Lubbock schools are not alone in embracing the new methods of teaching spelling and reading. As we understand it, the "pea-doggies," as the Columbia teachers brigade is called by the saner academicians, have sold it to a great many —if not nearly all—school systems in the country.

But even though the modern methods are the brain-children of a whole regiment of Phi Beta Kappas, it seems to us that the time has come to take stock of the situation and see what has happened to the school kids during the years these methods have been in vogue.

We'll gamble the results of such a survey would be enlightening to school executives and boards all over the land.

SOME PEOPLE in Lubbock openly wonder from time to time why the school boards here over the years have sat by and let the new teaching methods go on.

That's easy to answer, especially by one who had six years on the local board during the period in which the new methods have been in vogue.

School trustees aren't elected to monkey with the technicalities of teaching, only to oversee the operations — academic and business—of a school system. Except in rare instances (and we've never had one in Lubbock) school trustees are not personally experienced in classroom teaching and, commendably, realize their inexperience. They don't go poking into such matters because they know they aren't capable of saying what methods of teaching are good and which are bad.

Instead, they leave these matters up to the proper authorities who, like people in all lines of business, are subject to making occasional mistakes.

But it seems to us, as to many another parent, that the time has come to do some grassroots looking into teaching methods of the basic courses—especially those covering spelling and reading—and into the curricula, as well.

Maybe it's oldfashioned to teach a kid to spell "arithmetic," for instance, by syllables, as his parents learned. Maybe it's highly pleasing to the Ph.Ds. in Ed. to cut off such subjects as reading, spelling and geography years earlier than used to be the case. But our schools are missing the boat and they shouldn't be.

After all, it's nice to have folk dancing, band, orchestra, football, cheer leading, "guidance," knitting, tatting and bookbinding in our schools and all are good for the kids.

But the first duty of any school system is to beat the Three R's into the noggins of the youngsters and if they don't do that as well as they should they aren't fulfilling their responsibility.

IF WE are wrong in our honest belief that newfangled methods of teaching spelling and reading are falling far short of the desirable goal, we invite refutation by local school authorities.

On the other hand, if there are parents who believe as we do—and they are around in considerable numbers—we'd like to hear from them, too.

We aren't attempting to pose as an authority on educational matters, but we do argue that kids aren't learning to read and to spell as well as they should in the grades.

Why not find out the cause, and correct it—even if to do so is to run head-on into the beautiful theories of the Ph.Ds. in Ed.?

BY ROBERT S. ALLEN: CONGRESSIONAL RENOVATION WILL MEET ITS DEADLINE

Marine General Causes A Big Fuss In California

(ED. NOTE: While Drew Pearson is on vacation, the Washington Merry-Go-Round is being written by his old partner, Robert S. Allen).

WASHINGTON—Now the marines seem to have caught the public-furor fever.

The famed fighting corps has been serenely out of the limelight while Army, Navy and Air Force brasshats have starred nervously before sensational congressional probes. But Marine Maj. Gen. Graves B. Erskine has changed all that down in San Diego.

He has succeeded in stirring up a furious tumult in the area.

The scrappy San Diego Journal is gnashing its teeth at Erskine in boxcar headlines, county and state officials are blasting him as a highhanded martinet, and Congressman Clinton D. McKinnon is demanding a public investigation. Alarmed Defense Secretary Louis Johnson has rushed an assistant to the city to check on the matter.

Cause of the uproar was Erskine's order to use navy funds to set up a private grade school in Camp Pendleton, which he commands. Local and state educational authorities hotly contend this is contrary to California law. They also charge Erskine with being rude and autocratic.

He argues he has acted within his rights.

To this, Dr. John S. Carroll, county superintendent of schools, retorted, "General Erskine is nicking the public purse to set up an independent school system in a state whose constitution already provides a public school system. His action is basically un-American. The general apparently carries too much brass to waste his time on mere civilians."

Adding fuel to the noisy clash is the fact that this is not the first time Erskine has rowed with local authorities.

They crossed swords last year over a bus franchise. Oceanside, which adjoins Camp Pendleton, established a bus line to serve families of the post living in the town. Under arrangements imposed by Erskine, the bus line operated in the red for months. Then, abruptly, he barred the municipal busses entirely and granted an exclusive franchise to an outside private company.

Erskine's legal officer at the time was Marine Capt. William H. Daubney. Two weeks later, Daubney appeared before the Oceanside city council as the civilian attorney of the private company.

In this capacity, he offered to buy out the municipal system on conditions his concern got a 10-year exclusive franchise.

Renovated Capitol

Despite a protracted local building workers' strike, renovation of the Senate and House chambers will be completed by December 15, the deadline date. Under spurring of capitol architects, the lost time has already been made up.

Also, Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge, R., Mass., who was critical of proposed changes in the Senate chamber, has become convinced everything will be all right. Capitol architects explained the chamber has been remodeled four times since it was completed in 1859, and each time there were far-reaching changes. Lodge visits the chamber frequently to check on the progress of the work.

ROBERT R. YOUNG, perennial gadfly of his fellow railroad moguls, has undergone a change of attitude. He is on friendly terms again with his onetime rivals, the Association of American Railroads.

Young, who controls Chesapeake & Ohio and the Federation for Railway Progress, has had a number of cordial talks with heads of the Pennsylvania and New York Central railroads. Peacemaking bond between them is their common opposition to the increasingly competing trucking systems.

Significant indication of the new harmony was the appointment of two of Young's top lieutenants to key jobs in the eastern railroads presidents conference. They are C. & O. President Walter Touhy and Federation President Thomas J. Deegan.

Despite the current good will, however, insiders still expect Young to make another try to gain control of New York Central. He is the largest single stockholder, but was barred from taking over by the Interstate Commerce Commission last year.

Power Fight

There was some dizzy voting when the Senate restored the President's public power program that the appropriations committee ripped out of the Interior department's budget bill.

One instance was Sen. Harry Cain, R., Wash., who went firmly down the line against the projects. He is the first senator from his state in 21 years to oppose public power developments. The last was Sen. Miles Poindexter, defeated in 1928.

Another instance was the dizzy votes of Sens. Zales Ecton, R., Mont., and Richard Russell, D., Ga. Their balloting cleared up a long-standing mystery.

Last winter, during the civil-rights fight, Ecton bolted his fellow Republicans and sided with the Dixiecrats. His action caused a lot of eyebrow-raising. Russell's vote against the Hungry Horse power project in Montana revealed it was in payment for Ecton's earlier support.

A strong private utility adherent, Ecton opposed the Hungry Horse public power program. Russell voted for all the other disputed projects. But on Hungry Horse, he lined up with the Montana Power & Light company as his part of the deal with Ecton.

NOTE—Chief credit for the administration's smashing victory on the power issue belongs to Sen. Lister Hill, D., Ala., who masterminded the smart parliamentary strategy, and Sens. Robert Kerr, D., Okla., and Lyndon Johnson, D., Tex., who led the floor battle.

AMONG My Souvenirs—Variety reports that "The Howey Story" has been registered with the Motion Picture Association, evidently with the intent to screen the biography of Walter Howey, the most spectacular newspaperman of our day. That's one I could write. For I am an authority on Howey. We started working together in Chicago, in our late teens, and our courses have run largely parallel ever since—as allies or opponents, but always as friends. I phoned Walter and asked him about the picture idea. He answered, "Not while I'm alive, but I may agree to it as a legacy for my wife and son." I asked him if he'd mind my writing a paragraph or so on the subject. He said, "All right—but tell about the $17 vest, you so-and-so." So here goes:

I was the kid dogwatch (after the last edition and before the first, next day) assistant city editor of the Chicago American. I had been in the business about a year. I had two reporters—young Howey and mature, Arthur Pegler, father of Westbrook. They did pre-dawn assignments on the afternoon daily. And a hotter pair of diggers, a faster couple of picture-grabbers and news-hawks no one ever knew. They had the mean shift because they were the latest to join the staff—Howey from Des Moines and Pegler from Minneapolis.

WALTER'S experience had been gleaned in Ft. Dodge, his birthplace, and the Iowa capital. But he was destined to make newspaper history in Chicago, New York, Boston and the whole nation. He was the first editor of the New York Mirror, 25 years ago, at the desk I now use on that job—and this one. He made the fastest dailies in the biggest cities revolutionize their methods and pant and gasp trying to keep up with the pace he set. Meanwhile, he invented devices for photograph transmission and photo-electric engraving processes in his spare time. He is now editor of the mighty American Weekly and supervisory editor of numerous metropolitan papers.

But, when he first blew into Chicago, he was a kid just out of Iowa. He had prepared for the big city with some two years' seasoning there—and a gorgeous fancy vest—the sort for which my impoverished heart yearned but didn't dare to hope. It was the last whisper in swank then to wear out-colored waist-coats, double-breasted, with lapels, cut low, adorned usually with buttons of pearl. And the new reporter came for his maiden assignment, his coat open, revealing a polychrome creation in tan with threads of gold and overtones of brilliant brown.

I looked up from the assignment sheet. I blinked. "I've read of Joseph's coat," I growled, "but I never dreamed I'd see Joseph's vest. Where did you get that fugitive from a horse-blanket?" He answered respectfully that he'd selected it in the most stylish store in Des Moines, and that it had cost him $17. I turned on him. "You're going out on a strike story," I snarled. "How do you expect union men to talk to you with that thing on? Take it off!" Two-piece suits weren't in vogue then. But Walter obediently shed the Neapolitan sunrise effect, put his coat on over his shirt, and went forth to do a job. By the time he returned, I had left for the day. But next morning, when he came for his assignment, there I sat—and I was wearing the vest. He gazed at me and started to ask me something. I beat him to it. "I am doing inside work," I said. "It doesn't matter how I look. But you have to go out and meet people. I will continue to wear the vest so I'll be sure you don't."

I not only wore it, I wore it out. I still have it, somewhere in an old trunk, a treasured souvenir. And if the movies do the "Walter Howey Story," around the life of the reporter-editor who was paraphrased in "The Front Page," I'll lend thme the original, the genuine $17 vest. But, if the picture isn't to be done during Walter's time on earth, I hope it won't be started for 50 years.

LEON HENDERSON, whose dancing is about as graceful as his economics, eye-witnessed all evening, cutting in on Zasu Pitts and Sport Ward, at El Morocco . . . The rich Jelke brothers, Johnny and Mickey, are doing their courting pair-wise—Johnny with Peggy Rabe, the financier's daughter, and Mickey, just out of the Army, with Robin Mortimer . . . Social Brad Dresser is buzzing around Ruth Woods, comely cover cutie . . . Pat Dane, the one-time Mrs. Tommy Dorsey, is a pretty package with David May, the department store heir, ex-husband of Ann Rutherford . . . But Doris Day, the screen singer, prefers her agent, Marty Melchior.

Extra! City Unfair To Meter Peddlers!

(Drawn expressly for The Journal by Forest Patterson)

BY RUTH MILLETT: TO THE LADIES

The Feminine Viewpoint

By Bennett Cerf

A MASSACHUSETTS minister has offered to substitute the vow "So long as ye both shall love" for "So long as ye both shall live" if the couples he marries agree to it. He considers the less exacting vow more compatible with the times, considering that about one in four U. S. marriages ends in divorce.

MILLETT

Any bride who agrees to the "so long as ye both shall love" clause in her marriage contract is just plain dumb.

For a woman's only real security is marrying for life. Only when she feels confident that her marriage is going to last through good times and bad, through temporary disillusionment and maybe even temporary boredom can she have any peace of mind.

How can she responsibly bring children into the world if her marriage is based on the proposition that they will have a father only so long as the mother and father are romantically in love?

How can she have enough peace of mind to settle down to the duties of married life if she is constantly nagged by the thought that as she loses her youth and beauty she may also lose her husband?

MARRIAGE ENDANGERED

HOW CAN she feel that there is dignity in her position as wife without that old and honored promise "So long as ye both shall live' 'to give her status?

The marriage contract as it stands is a wife's greatest protection. Many wives have fallen down on the contract, it's true. And many will continue to do so.

But just because some couples hold their marriage vows lightly is no reason to change the vows. The majority of married couples still believe in and live by the promise "so long as ye both shall live."

The fact that some don't, does not mean the vows are too exacting, but that some young people haven't the character to live for anything but their own pleasure.

The couple who wants a marriage based on the idea that it is to last only so long as they both shall love shouldn't be married at all. They aren't responsible enough for marriage.

'Try And Stop Me"

EDITOR Harold (Sunshine) Ross admits that life at the New Yorker is not the same since the redoubtable Alexander Woollcott vanished from the scene. Ross used to goad Woollcott deliberately into writing him insulting letters. Woollcott mailed them in a fine white heat of anger, exulting, "When Ross reads what I called him, he won't dare show his face in public for a week." Ross, however, happily had the letters mimeographed and dispatched copies to all their mutual friends.

Woollcott once completed some intricate transaction whereby he came into possession of two hundred brand-new Sulka neckties, and, in a moment of unaccountable graciousness, told Ross, "Pick one out for yourself." Ross not only picked one for himself, but pilfered forty extra in the process. The next time Mr. W. paid a scheduled visit to the New Yorker offices, everybody in the place, including the elevator man and the young lady at the switchboard, was draped in a Sulka cravat. "Ross," snarled Woollsott, "you are kind of poltroon I find it hard to deal with," and flounced off to air his grievance to Lynn Fontanne and Alfred Lunt. He even persuaded them to cancel their subscription to the New Yorker. The following summer, they discovered the latest issue on Woollcott's own table at Beomoseen. "I've forgiven Ross," he explained airily. "I'm writing a piece for him now."

Laff-A-Day

"Are there any navigation laws we should know about?"

BY ROBERT C. RUARK

Victim Of Summer Heat, Bugs Eagerly Awaits Fall Weather

RUARK

NEW YORK, Aug. 30 — They hand you all this guff about good old summertime and what is so rare as a day in June and all the rest but I claim it's a miserable season at best and the one we could lose easiest. I have come to where I look forward to Labor day like a convict facing parole.

What is so great about this summer season, anyhow, except for the kids who get pardoned out of school for three months? Mosquitos. Poison ivy. Polluted waters. Polio epidemics. Sunstroke. Fishhooks in the fingers. Foey.

What do you get good out of it? So you get a vacation. And what, pray, is a vacation? Two weeks at some resort with sand in the bed and murderous prices for a bad table d'hote and the golf courses overrun and people capering on the beaches as if they were temporarily nuts burning themselves to a crackling and kicking the sand into other people's eyes.

Bad Manners Cited

Did you ever notice all the bad manners you can see on a beach? Big guys with crew haircuts throwing the little dolls back and forth and the dolls' squaling and giggling and people splashing water on other people and kids squalling and the old lady quarreling out loud about the pass he made at the bleach-blonde or how many martinis he had last night and he quarreling right back that if this is a vacation by dam he might as well of stayed at the bank.

You crawl back from one of these safaris on a road crammed with other suckers in cars and when you get home there is nothing but the stacks of newspapers and the piled up milk that you forgot to cancel out and all the mail is nothing but bills, bills, bills and then you check the bank and the balance is $4.83 with three checks still out and so wham, there goes another war bond and what have you got? Poison ivy. Sunburn and no inclination to work.

GOOD OLD summer time, hey? You take one like this last one with temperature nailed in the 90's for solid weeks and your brains if any melted into a soggy mess and you try to think and earn the daily bread and you can't think and all you do is fight.

You fight with the boss and you fight with the customers and then you go home and fight some with the old lady and your food tastes lousy and when you go to bed you sweat up the pillows and itch all night. Prickly heat and jagged nerves and hydrophobia. Summertime.

I suppose it's all right if you are a savage wearing a G-string and living by the water but mankind in his civilized magnificence has never devised a garb that made any sense whatsoever. He sweats up his suits until they are just a gluey bunch of rags and his tie fades and dyes his melted collar purple and the sweat runs down his legs in rivulets and all he can think of to say is "is it hot enough for you?" Thereby earning a clout on the snout.

Man Prefers Blizzards

Summertime is when all the snakes come out of their holes and the stinging nettles swim in the sea and all the bugs known to man free-load off the happy slummers to the country. Summertime it when the mamas who can afford it take the kids and go off to the mountains, leaving the wage-slave on his own to insult his innards with the wrong kind of restaurant food and get into trouble with odd red heads he picks up in air-conditioned bars and lose too much money shooting dice with other summer widowers and before you know it everybody's in Reno and fighting over the custody of the dog.

I say summertime is a vastly overrated season in all respects and might be abolished for the betterment of mankind. It offers nothing to beat a roaring fire and the prickle of frost in the air and for my dough I buy blizzards every time over sunstroke. Summertime, and the livin' is easy—yah!

Australians Learn How To Cook Squid

SYDNEY, Australia, Aug. 30 (U.P.)—Workers out of jobs because of the coal strike have been making tidy sums catching squid for the Italian colony. Sudden popularity of squid brought to light this epicurean recipe:

Crumb half a loaf of bread. Grate one-quarter cup of cheese. Add one egg, salt, pepper, chopped parsley, and milk to moisten. After cleaning squid (that's the trick!) fill with mixture and sew up with white cotton. Stew slowly in tomato soup for half an hour.

Michigan Woman Has Driven Cab 30 Years

PETOSKEY, Mich., Aug. 30 (U.P.)—Those so-called modern women taxicab drivers are just "freshmen" as far as Mrs. Grant Withey is concerned.

Mrs. Withey has been operating a taxi service in Bay View for 30 years and for the last eight years has been running the Bay View bus line. At the time she was 10 years old, she got her "basic training" by driving a horse and buggy for her father.

Solution of Yesterday's Puzzle

Today's Journal Editorial

SELFISHNESS CAN BE EXPENSIVE

A recent federal tax report indicates an increase of more than 50 per cent in margarine consumption within the last year—from about $10,000,000 the previous year to more than $17,500,000.

Unquestionably contributing in large degree to the increase has been the attention focused upon margarine by the attempts of the butter interests to maintain unfairly discriminatory taxes on a competing product. No one has done as much as the butter interests to inform consumers generally that margarines are a high quality, nutritious and tasty commodity available at a lower price than butter.

The results have added up to a large part of the increased demands for oleos.

The expectation is that the increase will continue unless the margarine interests price themselves out of their favorable position—and the recent increases in the prices of that product arouse uneasiness that some might be so short-sighted that they would kill the goose which is laying them golden eggs.

Labor Versus Tory In British Fight

"The Tory wants to keep the rich rich—and the poor poorer.

"We don't want to make anyone suffer. We just want to raise the standards of everyone. As to the rich, if they have big incomes without working, we just want to make them—respectable.

"We want to improve the looks of London. Our dreary, miserable streets are the results of Tory policy. The Tories had 27 years in the London County Council to take care of all this and they didn't do it. It will take time, but we have the determination to do it."

* * *

MORRISON mentioned some of the objectives of the Labor Party—insurance, health service and housing. He mentioned those rather casually as though no one could find fault with them, and with a casual sort of good humor. His audience liked the asides, as when he told of a visit to America when his lecture manager billed him as Herbert L. Morrison.

"There's no 'L' in my name," he protested. "I'm too well behaved for that."

Advising everyone to do some election work, he said the beginners probably would be put to canvassing.

"Don't worry," he said. "It's easy. Just find out who is for Labor and who isn't. Then on election day go around and tap the Labor voter and get him out. Leave the Tory voters in their natural state—half-asleep."

Finds Literature "Sticky"

"I've been reading some election literature," he remarked. "Personally I find that word 'literature' in such cases just a bit sticky."

"He is charming," said one listener after Morrison had plumped for all the local candidates and bowed to the applause.

"Yes," answered another, "but when he wants to be he can be very uncharming."

That is perfectly true, not only of Morrison but some of his associates who came up by fighting, and they haven't forgotten the tricks.

(Laborites took a severe beating in the county council elections. London unseated 25 of them. The council now is evenly divided with 64 Laborites and 64 Conservatives. By giving the presiding officer a regular vote, Labor will endeavor to control county affairs and enforce its own policies.)

(Tomorrow: "Free Enterprise Is Gone Forever.")

Annexation

west along Forty-second street to the vicinity of Adams avenue in Southwest Lubbock.

"But we can't build lateral lines branching north and south from Forty-second between Avenues C and H unless those areas are in the city and have dedicated rights-of-way for streets and alleys," Wall added.

Reports for other areas now being considered for annexation were more favorable.

Here, in brief summary, were teh reports of progress in various areas:

Clayton Carter and Carter-Coffey additions, North Lubbock—Only three signers reported obtained to annexation petition. The committee decided to place petitions in other hands for circulation in those areas.

South Lubbock Approves

Country Club addition—Most residents there have signed petitions, but signatures are needed in the area west of them, lying roughly between Avenue Q and College avenue and north of North Second street.

East Lubbock, north of East Broadway—About 40 persons have signed petitions; only five or six have refused signatures.

South Lubbock, between Avenue H and Avenue Q, extending southward beyond the Traffic Circle to about Sixtieth street—Nearly all residents have signed and their petition is ready for presentation to the city commission.

Southeast Lubbock, east of Avenue A and south of Thirty fourth—Few refusals to sign petitions.

East Lubbock, including Sieber and adjacent additions—Nearly all desire annexation.

East Area "Difficult"

East Lubbock, between Broadway and Nineteenth—Dificulty reported in obtaining signatures; new petitions to be put in other hands.

West Lubbock, bounded by Forty-second street, including Five Points, and east of the Brownfield Highway—Progress "satisfactory."

West Lubbock, the "Westchester" area, along the Levelland highway and west of the Brownfield highway—Petitions just getting into circulation.

Dickey set another meeting of the committee for Sept. 6 and expressed the hope that all petitions can be referred to the city commission at the regular meeting of that body on Sept. 14.

Members of the committee present at Monday's meeting were O. L. Byrd, Art Griffith, Garland Newsom, Ben E. Noell, Robert W. Sisson, Paul R. Ward, James H. Whiteside, John G. Wilkerson, Wall, Davis, Crook and Dickey.

Liz Taylor Has No Wedding Date, Yet

New Man Bob Walker Eager For Chance To Direct Films

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 30.—Robert Walker, a new man since his recent mental treatment, is eager for a shot at directing movies.

"I feel that I'm marking time now," he said on the "please Believe Me" set. "Acting is fine; it's good training. But you get tired of other people telling you what to do.

"Directing is the creative end of this business. I probably won't get a chance to do it until my contract is up in three years, but I aim to get into it as soon as I can."

Walker says he won't give up acting altogether. He offered this observation on his profession: "An actor isn't just born, or just made; he's both. An actor has to be a bit neurotic. A neurosis gives him the sensitivity to people and events that is necessary to imitate them."

Rumors Scotched

Elizabeth Taylor reports her fiance, William Pauley, jr., will be here in a couple of weeks, and that should quell the separation rumors. The Florida lad expects to be here a month.

"I haven't planned any parties for him," Liz said on "The Big Hangover" set. "We have so little time together, we want to spend it alone, getting to know each other. You don't really act like yourself at parties."

The young beauty still has no marriage date. She plans to continue her career after marriage—and have two or three kids, too.

"Blondie" For TV

Edgar Bergan is having the head of his new dummy made in New York, the body in California. She'll be a five-footer . . . Vaudeville returns to the local Orpheum tomorrow — hooray! . . . Frankie Laine's "Lucky Old Sun" disc is skyrocketing.

Art Linkletter says he'll wait for television. He agrees with Rudy Vallee: why play to an audience when only the first two rows are filled. . . Arthur Lake says a TV deal is cooking for "Blondie." He's back to one blondie (Penny Singleton in films) now that his air show with Ann Rutherford has been dropped.

Rosalind Russell figures mourning doesn't become her these days. She tells me she won't even consider dramas . . . Ray Milland off to fish at Sun Valley after "Woman of Distinction." Paramount has promised him a crack at directing, which he admits is insurance against old age.

Malaya Police Force Is At Full Strength

KUALA LUMPUR, Aug. 30 (AP)—The Federation of Malaya's police force is now at full strength—14,522 men—for the first time since the liberation in August, 1945.

At the time of the liberation the police force strength was 7,663 which was considered 289 below the approved pre-war establishment. With the declaration of an emergency in Malaya as a result of the outbreak of a Communist campaign last year it was decided to bring the total to its present peak.
