Q. Who is the ex-city councilman who gave P. Barber the bunting? How did he have it?

A. The former city official will not cooperate with the publication of his name in connection with the bunting. He had it because he contributed to the High Plains Junior Rodeo last year.

Delayed projects draw ire

Colorado School Board members fine-tuned their new budget Monday night and heard reports on construction projects at Hutchinson Elementary School and the middle school that are running well past their scheduled completion dates.

Middle School Principal Mark Merrell said the shaft has been finished for the new elevator that is being installed in his three-story building at 312 E. 12th St.

Merrell said that project has been delayed because the contractor, Wardroup & Associates Construction Co. of Lubbock, has not been able to obtain an elevator from the manufacturer, the Dover Co.

Merrell said he did not know when the elevator will be delivered.

Wardroup also has the Hutchinson contract, and Principal Beau Rees said the Big Spring plumber who has sub-contracted the renovation of three sets of restrooms at the 440 Cedar St. school has given the job scant attention in recent weeks.

Supt. Russell Merket said the school district has been assessing a $400-a-day penalty against Wardroup and the plumber, Dyer Plumbing Co., since the Hutchinson contract expired on Aug. 7.

Supt. Merket said Hutchinson students "are really being inconvenienced" because only one of the three restrooms has been renovated.

Business Manager Geneva Findley then went over the proposed budget category by category, saying proposed expenditures must be approved in a 6:30 p.m. Thursday board meeting while revenues will not have to be certified until the budget and tax rate are adopted on Sept. 14.

Bids for an addition to the Wolf Stadium fieldhouse will also be opened Thursday night.

Ms. Findley said the new budget details $10,281,250 in expenditures during the 1998-99 fiscal year, a decrease of $296,319.

Plans are for the running track at the stadium to be removed and resurfaced at a cost of $45,000 and for $17,500 in new playground equipment to be purchased for Hutchinson Elementary, with half of the cost to be financed with a state Learn and Serve grant.

The board has also approved the $9,600 purchase of eight new computers and a $5,010 expenditure for band instruments at the middle school.

CHS Principal Buddy Compton was given authority to spend $12,000 for 40 CD-ROMS, $5,000 for TAAS Test-

Farm bill requires revisions

Area producers last Tuesday took full advantage of their chance to tell Agriculture Secretary Dan Glickman what was on their minds and now must take a bi-partisan approach to solving their problems, State Farm Service Agency Committee Chairman Woody Anderson said.

Anderson, who accompanied Secretary Glickman and Congressman Charles Stenholm on part of their area tour, said last Thursday that a contrast was drawn between the problems of this year and 1997.

"He heard that even in years like '97, when we made good production, we were still struggling because of the market price for our products," said Anderson, who farms east of Colorado City.

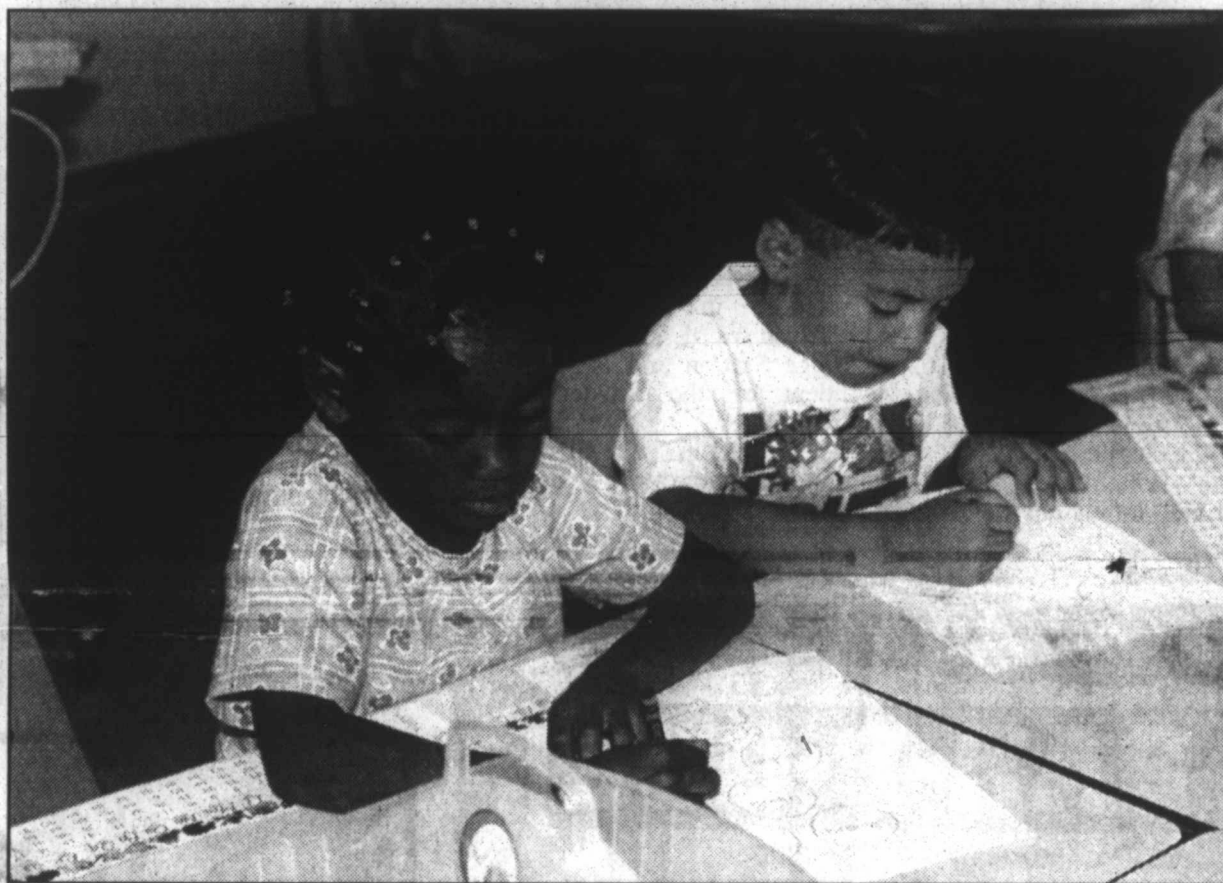

"We sold our cotton for about 60 cents a pound last year, and in many areas of the Cotton Belt the cost of production was 60 cents."

The 1996 "Freedom to Farm" Bill that was drafted under the leadership of Republican House Speaker Newt Gingrich of Georgia came in for a lot of criticism during Glickman's stops north of here in Mitchell County and in Snyder.

"Because of the drought and market pressures, Congress may take a look at it, even under the current makeup," Anderson said. "But there are those sitting out there who still think it's working."

"I don't think we can hinge all our hopes on Congress going back Democrat. You have to convince both sides of the

C-City schools gain, others hold their own

Total enrollment is up in Colorado City schools and about the same in Loraine and Westbrook as Mitchell County schools enter their first full week of classes.

Colorado Supt. Russell Merket reported that Monday enrollment in all four city schools totaled 1,160, an increase of 34 students over last year's 1,126.

Colorado High School had 363 students, the middle school 278, Hutchinson Elementary School 239 and Kelley Elementary 280.

Comparative figures from last year were 368 at the high school, 269 at the middle school, 229 at Hutchinson and 260 at Kelley.

"It's a lot of the younger kids," Supt. Merket said, noting that Hutchinson has 10 more students and Kelley 20.

"The first day went well. You look for traffic problems, kids on the wrong buses, air conditioners being out, things with the buildings because they haven't been used a lot lately."

"We didn't have many of those."

In Westbrook, Supt. Tommy Hancock said total enrollment stood at 157, down from about 170 early last year. Westbrook High School is up from 59 last year to 63 now, however.

"We've had a lot of people move out of the community that took kids with them," Supt. Hancock said.

"We're off to a good start and running. We may be few, but we're mighty."

Loraine High School is up from 44 students a year ago to 49, and enrollment in all grades was 185 on the first day of school last Wednesday, up slightly from 182 last year.

The main difference, a spokesman for Supt. Kenneth Kendall said, is that the graduating senior class last spring had only nine students and the new freshman class has 17.

Receipts credited to ALCO

Three new businesses have led Colorado City to one of the biggest percentage increases in West Texas in August city sales tax receipts.

A 28.4-percent hike from $38,662 for August 1997 to $49,637 for last month is mainly attributable to the opening of Alco, Bealls and Family Dollar stores here, said Chamber of Commerce Director Windi Fuller.

"I think Alco is probably one of the big reasons the sales tax is up," she said Monday.

"For the first time, we have a shopping center where you can buy virtually everything you need -- a one-stop place."

"I think it also encourages people to shop at home because if you know you can buy all your household supplies in a local store, you're less likely to go to other cities to buy clothing and food and everything," Ms. Fuller said.

"Since Bealls replaced Anthony's, they're carrying a better brand of clothing and you can get good quality clothing here in town."

"With Family Dollar, you can afford to shop here and get the necessities at a lower price."

Alco Discount Store is at 2000 Hickory St., Bealls Department Store at 203 E. Third St. and Family Dollar Store at 185 E. Second.

Colorado City is up by 11.2 percent for the year to date in city sales and use tax receipts over the same period last year, $291,736 to $262,434.

Westbrook and Loraine had been running slightly behind last year, but both marked increases for August -- $715 to $715.

"Ballad of Bunting" circulates here

The Ballad of the Rodeo Bunting leads from one side of Colorado City to the other, through an attorney's office, City Hall, an unnamed "former city official," a famous billboard west of town, the police station and back to the billboard.

It has generated regional television and newspaper coverage, a threatened lawsuit, a city council resolution and now a stand-off where each side, with guns figuratively drawn, awaits the first shot of a promised fusillade.

So far there has been no corrida, or song to use all the words.

It started innocently with the High Plains Junior Rodeo July 9-11, when red, white and blue banners, or bunting, were put up around town to celebrate the rodeo, as they were last year.

Banners were given last year to some businesses who donated $50 to the rodeo and merely loaned to others to be displayed during the event.

Of about 50 banners that had been stored at the Colorado City Area Chamber of Commerce, 13 were missing when the rodeo was over.

The rodeo is sponsored by the chamber and the Drug Awareness Resistance Education (DARE) program.

On July 4, the former city official had given three of his banners to local attorney Pat Barber and helped put them on his "Just Say No to Searches!" billboard west of town on the north side of Interstate 20.

Rodeo Chairman Charles Rice, a city police investigator and his department's DARE officer, was looking for the missing banners and saw the three on Barber's billboard.

The billboard encourages motorists who are stopped on I-20 to say "no" to state narcotics agents who ask to search their vehicles.

A city spokesman said the message of the billboard had nothing to do with Investigator Rice's actions, however.

In a July 28 letter to City Manager Steve Shutt, Barber said Rice stopped his wife Sharon on Thursday, July 23, "with the officer's emergency lights on" and told her he wanted to speak with the attorney.

"My wife replied, 'He's in his office,'" Barber wrote. "Why don't you give him a call?"

Barber said he did not hear from Investigator Rice that Thursday or Friday and called the Colorado City Police Station on Monday, July 27, to leave a message that he would be available at his office all day.

Barber says Rice called him at 10 a.m. Tuesday, July 28, and said he had gone onto the lawyer's property and removed the bunting.

After Barber explained that the bunting had been given to him, Rice conferred with Shutt and Chief of Police Pat

Taylor and put the banners back onto the billboard that afternoon.

Chief Taylor declined to comment on the matter Tuesday "because of pending litigation."

The city council met last Tuesday night and voted not to meet Barber's demand of a public apology to be published in local and area newspapers.

Barber then told the Record that he will file suit in 32nd District Court for a declaratory judgment and an injunction to bar the city from taking similar action in the future, but will not seek monetary damages.

"Nobody ever thought Pat Barber stole the banners," the city spokesman said last week.

He explained that Rice was simply trying to recover the missing banners and had been unsuccessful in his attempts to contact the attorney.

The spokesman said the officer did not need a search warrant because he acted under the "things in open view" statute of the Texas Criminal Code, which says an officer "may seize evidence that he sees in plain sight or open view if he has a right to be where he is when he sees it."

"Evidence lying in open view is not found as the result of a search and is not protected by the Fourth Amendment," the law says, referring to the constitutional law protecting citizens against unreasonable searches and seizures.

$534 for Westbrook, 34 percent; and $892 to $889 for Loraine, .3 of a percent.

County sales and use tax receipts showed a similar increase to Colorado City's, $18,099 this August to $13,946 for August 1997, a 29.8-percent climb.

For the year, Mitchell County is well ahead of last year's pace, $124,165 to $106,426, or 16.7 percent.

State Comptroller John Sharp said last Friday that he had just made $255.8 million in the monthly payments to 1,094 Texas cities and 118 counties for a 12.4-percent increase over last year.

"The Texas job market and new businesses are still growing steadily, and retail sales continue to soar as consumers show confidence in a rosy outlook for the Texas economy," Sharp said in Austin.

Other area cities showed August increases, but none as robust as Colorado City's:

-- Snyder, $138,566 to $131,937, five percent;
-- Sweetwater, $206,865 to $189,066, 9.4 percent;
-- Big Spring, $379,552 to $368,058, 3.1 percent;
-- Rotan, $16,657 to $13,816, 20.6 percent;
-- Sterling City, $11,162 to $11,524, minus-3.1 percent;
-- Bronte, $7,617 to $7,035, 8.3 percent;
-- Robert Lee, $5,130 to $5,179, minus-one percent.

aisle.

"He was told that the Farm Bill needs some tweaking to address some of these market issues."

The current farm bill is scheduled to be in effect through 2001.

Anderson said Glickman heard more about livestock issues and crop reduction payments (CRP) at mid-morning Tuesday at Lorber Industries east of Snyder, where an estimated crowd of more than 800 farmers and ranchers gathered.

He said Glickman made a 20-minute speech to open a 9:45 a.m. panel discussion that showed he had absorbed a lot of what Texas and Oklahoma producers had been telling him.

"He had some solutions that he feels might be helpful, in addition to those farm bill changes -- being able to sit down on fast-track negotiations, getting representatives to the table and negotiating a better deal for producers," Anderson said.

"In the old farm bill, the secretary had the flexibility to float loans on a five-year average, 85 percent of a five-year average formula. By doing so, he used government loans as a tool to manage when we had to sell, and we didn't have to sell in a down market."

"The agricultural community has got to do a better job of telling their story and how important they are to the overall economy."

Anderson said the only similar events in his recollection to Secretary Glickman's visit are some appearances by U. S. Sen. Phil Gramm and visits here to see banker-attorney Charles C. Thompson by Lyndon B. Johnson before Johnson became President.

"I think it was a good opportunity for us that we don't get very often," he said. "In the old days, Lyndon Johnson came here prior to his presidency."

"We had an under-secretary in the '80's, but it is the first time in my lifetime that we have had somebody that high up."

County girl ropes as well as brother

Roping runs in the family with Margaret Ann and Joe Ross Jameson, and they have taken it to a championship level.

Margaret Ann, a junior at Colorado High School, and Joe Ross, a sophomore at Western Texas College in Snyder, are well-known among rodeoing teenagers throughout the Southwest for their leadership in the American Junior Rodeo Association (AJRA).

Joe Ross just finished his year as AJRA president, and Margaret Ann was recently elected vice president during the AJRA National Finals in Sweetwater.

Joe Ross, a calf roper, team roper and steer wrestler, is a member of the WTC Rodeo Team.

Cowgirls are usually expected to be barrel racers -- a sport that Margaret Ann pursued for a few years after starting her rodeo career in the 9-12 age bracket.

But it's hard to find a good horse in that very competitive event and she has specialized in ribbon-roping, breakaway roping and goat-tying.

She won $3,100 at the International Youth Rodeo Finals July 11-18 in Shawnee, Okla., with a tie for first place in the first go-round of breakaway roping, fourth place in the second and third rounds of goat-tying and a tie for third in the short go-round of goat-tying.

She won the reserve, or second place, goat-tying championship at the AJRA National Finals July 26-Aug. 1.

Goat-tying is similar to calf roping, but instead of roping a running calf from horseback, the cowgirls race 100 yards, dismount and tie down a goat that is staked out on a 10-foot rope.

It is Margaret Ann's favorite event.

"You don't necessarily have to start young, but you do have to be real dedicated," she said.

"While other kids are going out, I'm at home practicing. It's pretty much just how dedicated you are."

It's a wild cavalry charge because you are not very good unless you can get the goat

MARGARET ANN JAMESON plays volleyball and basketball for the Colorado Wolves but also finds time to be a rodeo champion and American Junior Rodeo Association officer.

within eight or nine seconds.

Breakaway roping and ribbon-roping involve roping from horseback.

A Colorado High School volleyball and basketball player, Margaret Ann practices every day after school, roping a calf-shaped dummy for awhile and then practicing from her horse, Pancho.

She and her brother have always gotten along well, often roughhousing before he went to college but never becoming rivals.

They are the children of Tooter and Rosanne Jameson, taking after their father, a farmer-rancher who calf-roped and teamroped in rodeos as a young man, in their interest in rodeo.

Their mother, a member of the Colorado School Board, has developed a great interest in the sport, however, accompanying her daughter to the rodeo in Shawnee and traveling with both children for many years.

"As far as winning or doing bad, we don't discuss it," Margaret Ann said of her relationship with Joe Ross.

"We might encourage each other, but we don't make a big deal out of it."

Asked what is the most important aspect of roping, she said, "Your follow-through when you throw. You have to extend all the way down."

She wants to earn a college scholarship in rodeo but is not sure yet which college she will attend.

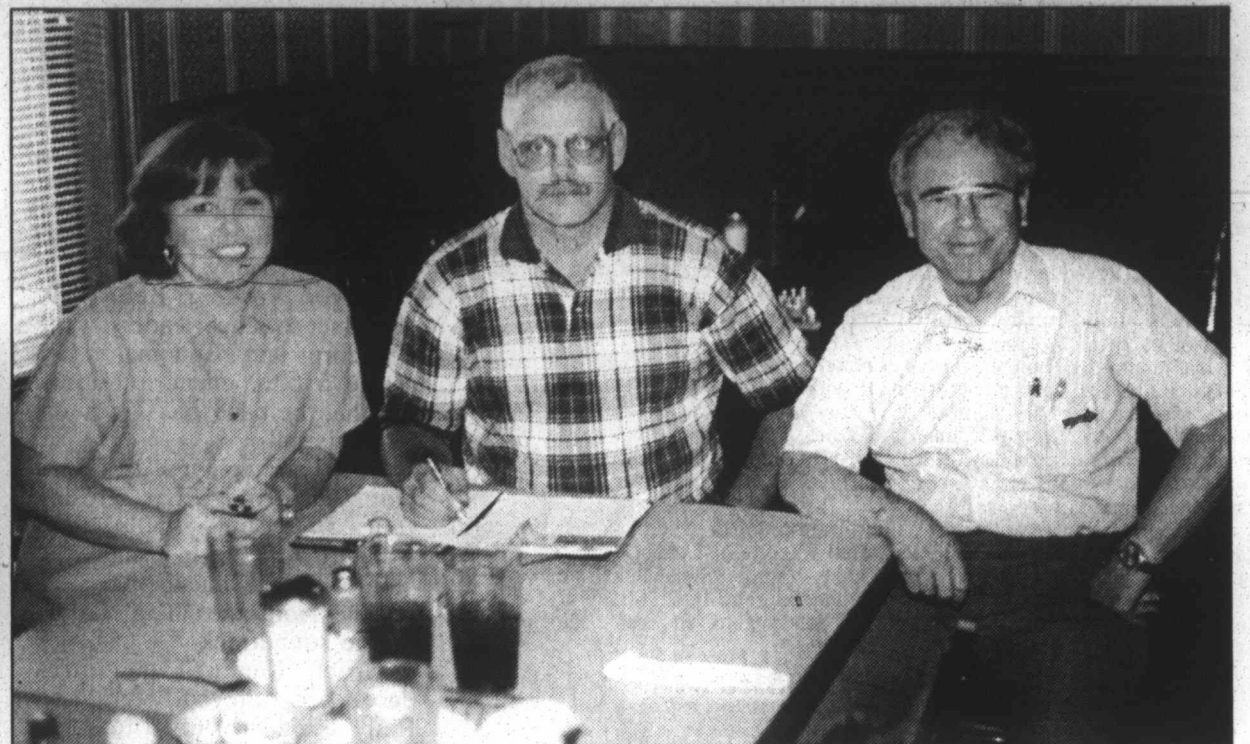

Barrel racing is still an interest, but only a somewhat vague one. She wishes the Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association would develop some events for women other than barrel racing.

"I'm not into barrels that much," she said. "If I had a horse I could win on, I would go right now. But I don't see it happening."

She said Mitchell County's strong western traditions keep its young cowboys and cowgirls from undergoing the harassment they might experience in more urban setting.

"I don't wear boots, a belt or hat," she said. "I don't wear Rockies. I wear Luckies and Tommies."

"I just wear what's comfortable to me. Lots of kids wear western clothes here, though."

Booster Club re-elects Mark Fambro president

Last Thursday's weekly meeting of the Wolves Sports Booster Club at Collum's had a large attendance as preparations were finalized for the annual Pigskin Preview.

Thirty members attended the meeting and re-elected officers for the 1998-99 sports season. Returning president Mark Fambro opened the meeting with the financial report by Joe Morren, club treasurer. Lulu Boyd also returns as club secretary.

The new t-shirts and caps were introduced and are available for sale. The red t-shirt featured the "Relentless Pursuit of Excellence" motto with Wolf head as seen on the Colorado travel buses.

The caps are embroidered with "Wolves" over

"Colorado High School" and are available in red, white, and black versions. These items were furnished by Texas Caps and T-shirts, a new business in Colorado City.

This year's ad sales are up and membership is expected to exceed last year's total of 140.

The meeting for Thursday, August 20, has been canceled. The weekly noon meeting will resume on Thursday, August 27, at Collum's Restaurant.

For information please call Lulu Boyd at 728-8393.

Hay Net connects producers

The Mitchell County FSA office is currently taking names of local livestock producers that are in need of hay.

These names will be entered into the Hay Net database, which has been established nationwide for producers with a shortage or surplus of hay.

Hay Net is a national clearing house that will list all producers that have requested a need for hay and producers that have extra hay. FSA will use this nationwide computer net work to share the information.

Producers in need of hay will be provided with lists of the closet producers with hay to spare and vice versa, allowing them to contact each other and make arrangements.

For further information please contact the Mitchell County FSA office.

Equine infection threatens herds

Texas is home to one million horses, but it has only taken one of those horses getting sick to shut down most of the interstate equine business.

A horse in Reeves County was diagnosed with vesicular stomatitis (VS) in mid-June, a viral disease that can wreak havoc on a herd but is not usually fatal.

Researchers do not know the source of the highly-contagious infection, but they do know that the disease tends to break out in high, dry and desert-like climates.

Infected animals develop painful blisters and lesions in their mouths, excessive salivation, on their tongues, around their hooves and on their teats.

Texas Agricultural Extension veterinarian Dr. Mike Martin said the problem starts when the lei prevent the animal from eating.

The incubation period is two to eight days and the disease usually runs its course in two to three weeks, but that's a long time for an animal not to eat, he said.

The animal loses too much weight and that's where the danger of the disease is.

It has been three years since the last case of VS in Texas and the outbreak took many owners by surprise. All livestock in Reeves County was restricted to the ranch for 30 days after all the lesions healed.

Many other states and countries do not allow any horse across their border if the horse is from a state with even one confirmed case of VS.

There is a tremendous amount of livestock movement in the summertime, as the horse industry especially, Dr. Martin said.

States like Kentucky are very concerned about the fact that it might become a problem in their state.

Vesicular stomatitis affects horses, goats, sheep and swine. Anyone planning to carry these animals across state lines should check with the state's veterinarian and animal health officials to learn of possible restrictions.

The infected horse in Texas has healed and the Texas Animal Health Commission lifted the quarantine on July 31.

Pigskin Preview - a big success

Colorado City's annual "Pigskin Preview" of the upcoming football season drew 1,500 enthusiastic fans to Wolf Stadium Monday night.

Mayor Pro-tem Bob Reily introduced cheerleaders, the flag corps and band majorettes at the 6 p.m. event, announcing that the band has 77 members this fall.

The band played "Hound Dog," the old Elvis Presley song from the 1950's, and Councilman Reily said the band's theme music this year will be from the "Top Gun" movie soundtrack.

Coach Karen Trent introduced her volleyball team, and Reily asked the crowd to stand for the CHS Fight Song.

Then coaches began their introductions of seventh grade, eighth grade, junior varsity and varsity football players.

To applause and cheers, players ran one at a time from the north end of the field, with the seventh graders, in black jerseys and white pants, facing the fans for the first time.

In the same uniforms, the eighth graders looked formidable for their age and eager to begin making a contribution to the high school teams next year.

The junior varsity also appeared ready for battle in their white jerseys and red pants, and then Head Coach Gerald

James began his introductions of the varsity Wolves in their all black uniforms with white lettering.

Senior quarterback Justin Hill came onto the field with his right foot and ankle in a walking cast, the result of a summertime basketball game injury that he says might be healed in time for the first game Sept. 4.

The pattern was different with only two players -- senior fullback Armando Rocha and senior linebacker Abel Bonilla.

Coach James introduced his fullback with a flourish as "Mando 'Rock' Rocha," and the beefy Bonilla, who missed last season with a broken arm, faced the crowd alongside his team with a big smile and his arms raised in a gesture of readiness for the season to begin.

The crowd responded with loud cheers for both players. There were about 120 players altogether, with the seventh graders, junior varsity, varsity and eighth graders arranged from north to south in front of the stands in team picture-style.

Free ice cream was then served on the north side of the fieldhouse.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Where's my peaches?

Dear Editor,

On the weekend of August 1, someone went on our place on the old airport road 1899 and picked all the peaches off our tree.

On Tuesday, July 30, my grandson and I picked some and made a peach cobbler. I told my 93-year-old mother the next time I came to see her I would bring her some peach jelly.

God had not seen fit to put water on that tree. So we watered it. That's why there was so many peaches on the tree.

We have no trespassing signs up. Guess you can't read.

I'm just thankful my husband didn't catch them picking peaches.

I'm back!

Letter to Editor,

Etta G Is Back

I'm back again for another year and I hope that this year will be better than the last one.

We have new Coach Miller and I'm looking forward to seeing some improvement in our team. Hopefully this coach will be more concerned about our boy's best interests and focus on ways to make the Loraine Bulldogs a winning team again.

We would like to see every parent attend as many games as possible to support our boys.

I would especially like to see all the men come out and be counted. In regard to the letter that was written about the men yelling at the children.

I would like to say those men were there to cheer these boys on. Young men need to have male role models who will be there for them to let them know they care.

So men, don't let one person's opinion stop you from supporting our boys. Be a man. Stand up and be counted! Thank you.

Rhubarb doesn't faze EMS head or staff

Mitchell County EMS has been the focal point lately of a somewhat heated dispute among the city, county and hospital district over its funding.

But EMS staff members are unperturbed as they go about preparing and opening a new headquarters in a former convenience store at 1068 West Point Ave., or East Hwy. 80.

"We're going to be here no matter what," said EMS head Mark Potter as he and paramedic Shane Terry were doing carpentry work in the 1,800-square-foot building.

"It just depends on who wants to support us."

The Mitchell County Commissioners Court withdrew its $28,000 annual support because of the hospital district's impending Jan. 4 windfall of $141,000 from the state's settlement with the tobacco industry.

Then hospital officials said they were willing to raise taxes and assume complete responsibility for the EMS and the city council said it wants to maintain its 21-percent support of the company.

A 1994 contract among the three governmental bodies will have to be rewritten before the altered arrangement becomes clear.

In the meantime, Potter said, the company and its 15 employees will continue their work on the new building and should move in around Sept. 1.

"Some people around town think it's because of differences between us and the nurses, that we couldn't get along," he said.

"It was that way to a certain extent. Nurses everywhere feel like they have their turf and the EMS has their turf."

But he said the main reason for the move is to give the EMS some much-needed additional space.

"We had our office in one little old patient room and you'd have to go outside to just to change your mind," Potter said.

He said the county hospital's cardiac rehabilitation department will move into the room after working in a corner of the hospital's physical therapy room.

"We will have enough room now to put on CPR classes, have staff meetings and have two sleeping rooms," he said. "There is not really any point of contention or anything."

PCT, 4 County Commissioner Bill Preston of Loraine visited the Record last week to dispute hospital board claims that the tobacco settlement money may only be used for indigent care.

He showed a Texas Association of Counties' newsletter that said although $300 million will be distributed to governmental entities based on which ones are responsible for indigent care, "the initial payments will be unrestricted in regard to the subdivisions' use of the funds."

Commissioner Preston said the county withdrew with the understanding that the hospital district would be able to use part of the January payment for EMS and put the rest in the bank to draw interest.

Israel needs more land

By Bob Campbell

They're still wrangling over land in Israel when the only long-term solution is to make Israel a bigger country.

You really have two countries in one. Israel is a relatively new nation that needed to exist to give Jews worldwide the chance to come home. But Palestine is one of the oldest nations in world history and could not be simply abolished.

How do you put two nations in a small space where one would barely have room?

It just won't work.

Israel has twice the population density of its three bordering nations -- Egypt, Jordan and Syria -- and the bitter negotiations over how much land the Palestinians get are evidence that there are too many people and not enough land.

I proposed recently that the three bordering countries donate 200 square miles each and the other Middle East nations contribute heavily to develop the new territory.

After all they have suffered, I would say make it a paradise for the Palestinians and give them everything they have missed since Palestine became Israel a half-century ago.

Proposing a common sense solution for the hot-headed Mid-East might be dim-witted, but I think it is a situation that calls for broad strokes, not small measures.

The bordering countries wouldn't necessarily have to give an equal amount so long as the space problem was dealt with decisively.

Egypt has been a regional leader for peace before. It has the most space and could give 600 or 1,000 square miles without missing it much, and Jordan could kick in some if Syria would not cooperate.

If these countries are as empathetic to the Palestinians as they have characterized themselves to be, they should be willing to make a real sacrifice to make the region less of a powder keg.

The Middle East is foreboding to the whole world -- a source of danger to everyone as political and religious conflicts are acted out over some of the richest oilfields in the world.

Nobody does anything in politics without real incentives, and Egypt and Jordan are probably not empathetic enough to the Palestinians to give land without enticements.

So the United States and its allies should go to the bordering states and ask, what do you want to do this? What will it take to get this done?

The price might be high, but it would be worth it to spread out the population and give the Israelis and Palestinians room to breathe.

Armageddon might be inevitable in world history, with Russia or China or both coming down to claim the oilfields, but we should try to forestall it as long as possible.

Going back 2,000 years to the crucifixion of Jesus Christ, the people of the Mid-East have always been kill-crazy. On all sides, they believe killing is an acceptable solution to their concerns.

That's how you know when politics has really gone wrong: people start dying.

The only good reason we have this thing called politics is to save or improve people's lives, and that is what it must be used for here.

Texas Prisons

By Tumbleweed Smith

Huntsville is the home of the Texas Department of Criminal Justice. The administrative offices and eight prisons are located in the Huntsville vicinity. More than eight thousand inmates are housed in Huntsville prisons and are included in the city's census.

TDCJ has over 5,000 employees in Waller County.

The Huntsville "Walls" Unit was established in 1849. It included the death house, hobby shop, prison store, potato warehouse, four buildings of cellblocks, a trustee dormitory, textile mill and director residence.

Soon after Texas became a state, the legislature chose Huntsville as the site for the first permanent Texas penitentiary. The original buildings were small log structures with heavy bars and were constructed (like all prison buildings) by inmate chain gang labor. The "Walls" unit houses 1,600 inmates.

The brick wall which surrounds the prison has given the unit its colorful nickname, "The Walls." The original wall, made of sandbrick, was much shorter and was completed in the late 1880's. The present red brick facade was completed in 1942 and made of bricks manufactured by prisoners. The wall ranges in thickness from two to three feet and soars to a height of thirty two feet. The majority of Texas prison units are surrounded by tall chain link fences with miles of barbed wire on top for security.

Approximately fifty inmates are released per day in Huntsville. Trailways bus line serves as the main carrier of released inmates from area prisons with fourteen buses leaving daily. Each released inmate receives $50 and a set of prison made clothes.

The Texas Prison Museum is in downtown Huntsville. It's the only one of its kind in Texas. The museum opened in 1989 and portrays the prison life and the culture within a culture that developed behind the bars.

On display are many exhibits including "Old Sparky," the Texas electric chair. Some inmates called it the Texas Thunderbolt. It was first used in 1924 and executed 361 men. It was retired in 1964. Before 1924, criminals were returned to the county of their sentencing and executed by hanging. The electric chair was built by an inmate who once faced the death penalty in 1914 for murder. His sentence was commuted to a prison term and he was eventually released.

Lethal injection is the current method of execution used in the death house. It was first administered in 1982.

The prison system is responsible for much of the building of Huntsville. Practically all carpentry and bricklaying were done by inmates. As early as the Civil War, inmates have manufactured the majority of their needs. The Huntsville unit turned out wagons, mattresses, clothing and shoes. The hides of cattle and cotton grown on state prison farms were often used for materials. In 1934, the automobile license plate plant began operations in Huntsville.

The Peckwood cemetery contains graves of 900 inmates.

ALEX ROCHA JR. shows the Colorado Wolf he has painted in his driveway to honor his son Armando's senior football season. Rocha played noseguard for the Wolves in the late 1960's.

Wolf alum paints sign of support

Like many West Texas men who played high school football, Alex Rocha Jr. enjoys seeing his old home team play.

The band, the crowd and especially the team colors flooding onto the field bring back memories and youthful enthusiasm, and when you have a son on the field, it is even more enjoyable.

Rocha, a 1970 Colorado High School graduate, wanted to do something in honor of his son Armando's senior year as a fullback with the Colorado Wolves.

"I just pictured a wolf with lettering and number 12," he said. So he painted the picture in his driveway at 981 E. 15th St.

Rocha is enthusiastic at the games but does not put any pressure on Armando to excel. That's the coaches' job, he said.

"It was great last year," he said, referring to the Wolves' district championship. "I missed the playoff game because I was on call, but I had my ear on that game the whole time."

"It was great for them, going that far. They're wonderful kids, not just mine, all of them. I hope they go that far again."

Rocha, a groundsman at the Lone Wolf Electric Division of Cap Rock Electric Co-Op, said he has been impressed so far during workouts with the team and coaches.

The Wolves lost to Perryton, in the upper Panhandle, in the bi-district round of the playoffs last year.

Rocha played noseguard and on special teams at CHS, and he has been pleased that Armando is "better than me" at the game.

"Coach Troy Nix and Coach Dell Riley always inspired me," he said. "I used to be a hoodlum back then, and they encouraged me to play. I said, 'I'll give it a shot.'"

"I have liked to go to the games ever since, before I had a family. Watching my boy grow up and being good, better than me, is a blessing from God."

"I told him, 'Son, enjoy it while you can. Time comes too quick, too fast.'"

"I always teach him the values of life, being respectful of other people. I always had a grudge at life, but I don't blame nothing. I blame myself."

"I tell him, 'Always go in a straight line and know that you're a clean, respectful kid.'"

Rocha and his wife Delma also have a daughter, Sonya, a fourth-grader.

In addition to football, he enjoys baseball and boxing.

Calvary Baptist to continue with two services

Calvary Baptist Church has just completed a three month trial program of utilizing two services on Sunday morning.

The 8:30 a.m. service was designed to use more of the praise and worship choruses while the 10:50 a.m. service still utilized the traditional hymns. Both services were designed to lead the church in worship. Calvary has decided to continue with the two service format.

Our intent in providing this other service is to reach and minister to the younger generation, but it is also our desire that each service would meet needs in our community.

Come join us for worship this Sunday as we implement the two services.

Stenholm advocates oil business help

WASHINGTON -- With the price of oil at an anemic $10.25 per barrel, U. S. Rep. Charles Stenholm of Stamford has joined two other congressmen and proposed legislation to help the industry.

"I just came from a meeting with the West Texas Oil and Gas Association," Rep. Stenholm said in a Monday telephone interview.

"There are no simple answers right now. We're threatened with the loss of a major domestic industry."

Rep. Stenholm is co-sponsoring a new bill with Republican Rep. Mac Thornberry of Amarillo, the Inactive Well Recovery Act, that would give tax-free income to producers who put wells back into production that had been out of production for at least two years.

He is also co-sponsoring a bill with Oklahoma Rep. Wes Watkins to give producers a tax credit for the first three barrels of oil a day in each well they operate.

Stenholm supports buying a large amount of today's cheap petroleum and storing it for future needs in the government's Strategic Petroleum Reserves in the Salt Domes of Louisiana.

The congressman said the United States was importing less than 50 percent of its oil when the Persian Gulf War took place seven years ago, but is importing 56 percent now and expects to be buying 68 to 75 percent from foreign countries in 2015.

"We're all enjoying cheap gasoline and cheap energy, but we know that, long term, if we allow a domestic industry to be eliminated, whether it be oil and gas or family farms, there will be a price to be paid," he said.

"It just seems to be prudent to look at what could alleviate this problem."

Stenholm said the crux of the problem is chronic overproduction in the Middle East, where greedy oil-producing nations disregard the laws of supply and demand, depleting their reserves for rock-bottom prices.

"The low prices mean we lose royalty and tax revenues that fund public education," he said.

"It just makes sense for us to buy this cheap oil for energy demands that will occur down the line. It's a good business decision, as far as I'm concerned."

Stenholm said he would like for the price of oil to rise to $20 to $24 per barrel, where the Texas property tax base would be preserved, oil exploration would be encouraged and alternative energy sources could be developed.

"It's below the cost of producing it right now," he said.

PAW PRINTS

Notes from the Colorado Independent School District

By Beau Rees, Principal, Hutchinson Elementary
 I would like to take this opportunity to invite all parents and community members to come by and take a look at the remodeling which has been done at Hutchinson Elementary School.

One of the first things you will notice as you drive up to the campus is the beautiful landscaping which was done this spring. The trees and shrubs were purchased and planted with a generous donation from the Hutchinson Parent/Teacher Organization as well as by labor provided by the local Boy Scout Troop with the help of Wes Smith.

Another project you will notice is the brightly painted doors, playground equipment, and poles. The doors were painted by Colorado City resident Moses Garcia, Jr., and the playground equipment and poles were painted with the help of labor provided by the Wallace Unit of TDCJ. Finally, as you walk in you will see the spectacular new sign used to inform parents and students of upcoming special days at Hutchinson as well as the new handicap accessible front entrance.

The changes on the outside are only part of the remodeling project at Hutchinson. The bathrooms at Hutchinson are still in the process of being completely revamped. When they are finished each bathroom will have automatic flush toilets and lavatories, new stalls, new tile, and will be completely handicap accessible. Also there will be a new teacher restroom in the third grade wing, and the bathroom in the teacher workroom will be handicap accessible. In addition to the bathrooms, the library has received a face lift complete with new paint and carpet, and the cafeteria floor has been retiled.

These renovations were desperately needed. In fact, part of the Hutchinson Elementary campus was actually constructed in 1931, and this is the first remodeling project on this facility in over 50 years. The school board and superintendent should be commended for their attention to the facility needs at Hutchinson Elementary School. Due to their hard work and commitment to the children of Colorado City, we are able to provide our students with an educational environment which is safe, clean and conducive to learn.

SECOND GRADE TEACHER Stephanie Spears got her class at Kelley Elementary School off to a good start with a story that students could relate to -- "Arthur Goes to School."

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING ON TAX INCREASE

The City of Colorado City will hold a public hearing on a proposal to increase total tax revenues from properties on the tax roll by 10.7 percent. Your individual taxes may increase or decrease, depending on the change in the taxable value of your property in relation to the change in taxable value of all other property and the tax rate that is adopted.

The public hearing will be held on Monday, August 31, 1998, 5:30 p.m. at City Hall, 180 W. 3rd Street, Colorado City, Texas.

FOR the proposal:	Jim Baum, Bob Reily, Walt Staats, Faye Ross, Gary Redwine, Sammy Contreras, A.W. Rowe
AGAINST the proposal:	None
PRESENT and not voting:	None
ABSENT:	None

The following table compares taxes on an average home in this taxing unit last year to taxes proposed on the average home this year. Again, your individual taxes may be higher or lower, depending on the taxable value of your property.

	Last Year	This Year
Average residence homestead value	$21,270	$22,390
General exemptions available (amount available on the average homestead, not including senior citizen's or disabled person's exemptions)	-0-	-0-
Average taxable value	$21,270	$22,390
Tax rate	.684724/$100	.764647/$100
Tax	$145.64	$171.20

Under this proposal, taxes on the average homestead would increase by $25.56 or 17.5 percent compared with last year's taxes. Comparing tax rates without adjusting for changes in property value, the tax rate would increase by $.079923 per $100 of taxable value or 11.6 percent compared to last year's tax rate. These tax rate figures are not adjusted for changes in the taxable value of property.

Controlling high blood pressure

By Mary McMullen-CEA-FCS
Part 3 of 4 Part Series
Controllable Your Blood Pressure

There isn't any cure for high blood pressure, not yet, but the important thing to realize is that high blood pressure is controllable!

High blood pressure usually has no symptoms, so the only way to find out what your blood pressure is to have it checked. If your blood pressure is high talk with your doctor about--

A. How often to check your blood pressure?

B. How to lower your blood pressure by reducing the sodium intake in your diet, losing weight if you need to, limiting the alcohol you drink and increasing your physical activity?

C. Taking medication if they are other risk factors you have or if the non-drug treatment listed in B above does not work.

To control your blood pressure you have to participate as part of a healthcare team. Your doctor or nurse can't do it alone and neither can you! You must all work together. You may have to take medication every day, perhaps for the rest of your life.

But think what could happen with untreated high blood pressure? Don't take life or death chances with a disease you can control and remember continued treatment can prevent premature strokes and heart attacks.

I have four excellent publications I would be happy to share with you they are: What Every Woman Should Know About High Blood Pressure; The Silent Epidemic: The Truth About Women, Heart Disease, and Stroke; Take Charge! A Woman's Guide to Fighting Heart Disease and Take Charge! A Woman's Guide to Fighting Stroke.

I also have some interesting statistics on black and hispanic women and these diseases. If you would like any of these publications please give me a call at 728-3111 and I would be glad to send you any of these you would like to have.

COOK'S CORNER

By SHEILA PLAGENS

Thanks to Ray Anne Carlock for the recipes that are included in this week's recipe exchange. These are some old time favorites of hers, and she thought you might enjoy them also.

HOT WATER CHOCOLATE PIE

1 cup sugar
1/4 cup flour
1/4 cup cocoa
1/4 tsp. salt
1 cup hot water
3 egg yolks
1 tsp. butter
1 tsp. vanilla
Combine sugar, flour, cocoa and salt. Add hot water. Beat well. Cook until mixture thickens. Beat egg yolks well, add a little of the hot mixture, beat and add all to hot mixture gradually, beating well. Return to heat until thickened. Add vanilla and butter. Pour into baked pie shell and add meringue and brown in oven.

Hot, strong coffee may be used instead of hot water to make a mocha flavor.

This is a very old recipe that Ray Anne says she has used since the 1950's.

WHITE BROWNIES

Combine:
4 beaten eggs
1 box brown sugar
1 cup salad oil
2 cups flour
1 tsp. lemon extract
1 tsp. vanilla extract.
Blend well. Add:
1 cup coconut or chopped nuts or dates

Bake at 350° in greased and floured 11" x 16" pan.

REALLY GOOD SPINACH DIP

1 8 oz. ctn. sour cream
1 cup mayonnaise
1/2 tsp. celery salt
1/2 tsp. dill weed
1/4 tsp. onion salt
1/4 cup chopped green onions
10 oz. pkg. thawed spinach (squeeze to remove excess water)
1 can water chestnuts, chopped
Mix and chill overnight.

Now don't forget, if you are looking for a particular recipe, let us know and we'll pass the word along - surely someone out there has it! Also, if you have some recipes you think are worth sharing, submit them to us at 257 E. 2nd Street. Our mailing address is P.O. Box 92, Colorado City, TX 79512.

Air show Saturday

ABILENE -- American, Japanese and Russian aircraft from World War II and the Korean Conflict will be featured in Dyess Air Force Base's annual Big Country Appreciation Day Air Show Saturday.

A B-25 Mitchell Bomber like those used in the famous early World War II raid on Tokyo, Japan, and an A-26 Invader that was used from the 1940's to the 70's will be displayed.

Two Japanese replicas that were made for the movie "Tora, Tora, Tora," a Zero fighter and Kate bomber, will be shown, along with a Russian MIG-15 fighter and the first American jet trainer, a TF-80 Shooting Star.

An Air Force spokesman said last Friday that Mitchell Countyans are especially invited to attend the show, with a group having recently toured the base as guests of Capt. Chris Wrenn.

Capt. Wrenn was the featured speaker in Memorial Day ceremonies at Mitchell County Courthouse.

Admission and parking are free for the exhibition, which will begin at 9 a.m. Food, beverages and souvenirs will be on sale at three dozen booths.

A base spokesman said flying will start at 10 a.m. and aerobatics at 11:30 with an appearance by the Air Combat Command's F-15 Eagle fighter planes and a Navy FA-18 Hornet fighter.

Runway displays will include two F-16 Fighting Falcons and a C-5 Galaxy, the nation's biggest cargo plane.

"Appearing for the first time will be the C-130J, the newest member of the Hercules family, featuring hundreds of improvements from previous models," the spokesman said.

"Also on display will be the Air Force's newest airlifter, the C-17 Globemaster III, the C-141 Starlifter cargo jet, an eight-engine B-52 Stratofortress bomber and a KC-135 Tanker.

"Visitors are encouraged to talk with air crew members at static display aircraft to get firsthand information about U. S. airpower and Dyess' role in the Air Force Global Power Mission."

Daredevils Dave Dacy and Tony Kazian will give a wing-walking demonstration on their Super Stearman, and there will be an aerobatics show by a Fina Pitts plane pilot.

Capt. Gary Howe is taking calls from civilian pilots at 915-696-5597 to schedule landing clearances and a 9 a.m. aviation seminar.

SCHOOL'S BACK...

Pay Attention to Safety!

SAFETY TIPS FOR KIDS:

1. Look both ways before crossing the street.
2. Never go anywhere with a stranger, even if the person says he or she knows your parents.
3. Remain in your seat while the school bus is in motion.
4. Don't pet or approach unfamiliar animals - they may carry disease.
5. Always wear your helmet when biking or skating.
6. Never chase a ball into the street.
7. Let your parents know if you're going somewhere after school.
8. Stick to a familiar route when walking home from school or play.
9. Run and tell your parents or teacher if someone is bothering you.

Do not pass a school bus loading or unloading students.

SAFETY DRIVING TIPS:

1. Slow down as you enter a school zone.
2. Look in all directions as you approach an intersection.
3. Heed the directions of school officials.
4. Make sure that your brakes are in good working order.
5. Never attempt to pass a school bus.
6. Always make sure your child is buckled up in the back seat.
7. Be ready to stop when near a playground or park.
8. Watch out for children on bicycles or skates.
9. Be cautious of children being dropped off by bus or car.
10. Take extra care to watch out for children when backing up.

Hill rebuilding Wildcats after losing 7 lettermen

By Carl Graham

After several years of successful football programs at Westbrook, Coach Jim Hill is hoping the Wildcats can again be competitive in the newly realigned District 6.

"Anytime you lose the talent we lost off last year's team, it causes you some concern," the veteran coach stated. "We do however believe we can compete if we put our hearts into it," he added.

Westbrook is coming off an 8-4 season advancing to the Area Championship before losing to now district foe Sands Mustangs by a touchdown.

"You take away a couple of dropped passes and I feel like we would have beaten Sands," Hill said. "Our kids goal was to get another shot at Borden County because we felt like we could stop them," stated the coach.

Coach Hill now tackles the job of replacing the departed seven lettermen lost to graduation including all-state end Davy Daniel and all-district deep back Vincent Soliz.

Westbrook does return all-district senior defensive end Thadd Rich, senior defensive back Chris Chambers, and junior running back Roland Matos from last year's squad and hopes to build around them.

One promising newcomer is senior Sam Harless who Coach Hill hopes will develop into his starting deep back. Harless, though a senior, has no experience at the high school level.

"We may be forced to run out of the tight formation more than we have in the past," Coach Hill stated. "It just depends on how well we adapt," he added.

Senior Chris Chambers is set to run the team out of the tight formation. Junior running backs James and Roland Matos will probably make up the rest of the starting backfield with James opening the holds for his brother Roland.

Coach Hill lists his strengths as having a winning tradition and being a very physical team. He lists lack of speed as his main weakness.

On defense the Wildcats will employ a 2-3-2 primarily although they will go to a 3-3 on a predominately running team.

Defending State Champion Borden County has been picked to repeat as not only the district champion but Texas Football magazine also picks them to repeat as State Champs.

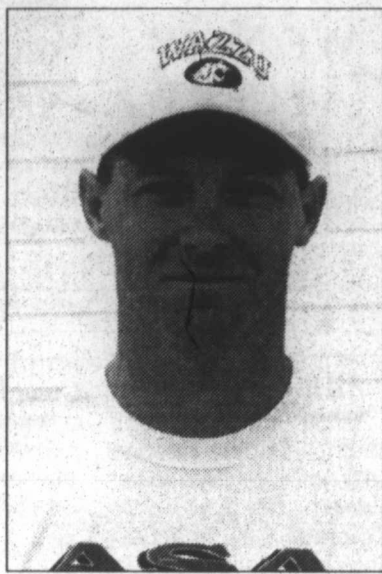

Westbrook, Sands, and Grady are expected to battle for the second play-off spot. Heremleigh and Ira are improved and could play the spoiler role.

Westbrook will host cross-county rival Loraine in a scrimmage game this Friday, August 21, at 6 p.m.

"Our kids are always anxious to play Loraine and hopefully we can get everybody some playing time and get a few questions answered on who wants to play," Coach Hill said.

Assistant Coach Heath Dickson returns for his fifth year at Westbrook and will also assist Coach Hill with the boy's basketball team. The well liked coach hails from Roby.

New Assistant Coach Mark Chaveaux will take over high school and junior high girls basketball program as well as help with the football program. Coach Chaveaux comes to Westbrook from Adrian, Texas where he coached girls basketball.

Bulldogs working hard

By Carl Graham

Six-man football's District 10 has a brand new look this year with the only holdovers from last year being Highland and Loraine.

The Bulldogs from Loraine will meet cross-county rival Westbrook in a "friendly" scrimmage at 6 p.m. Friday, Aug. 21, in Westbrook.

The Bulldogs also have a new look and attitude under new Head Coach and Athletic Director Jerry Miller, who comes to Loraine after a year's stay at Dell City.

The highly respected Miller welcomed 17 ballplayers at the start of two-a-days and has added a couple of new players since school began.

Miller has hopes of restoring "Bulldog Pride" to a program that was 1-9 last year and 3-7 the year before after several years of playoff appearances.

"The kids' attitude so far has been just great and they put out 100 percent in every practice," said Coach Miller. "You can't ask anymore than that."

Four offensive and five defensive starters return from last year's squad.

Among those are Honorable Mention All-District selections Josh Wooddell, a senior center, Leonard "Bubba" Williams, a 145 pound senior running back, and junior wide receiver Rene Garcia.

Two time all-district line-backer Marcus Garcia was lost to graduation.

Among the strengths listed by Coach Miller is the "outstanding work ethics". The main weakness is a lack of experience.

Coach Miller expects to balance his offense, running out of the tight formation and the spread at about a 50-50 split.

"We'll adapt according to the defense thrown at us," stated Coach Miller. "On defense we will primarily show a 2-3-1 look."

Coach Miller has been highly impressed so far with the play of junior fullback Mike Rico and his brother, sophomore quarterback Luis Rico.

"These guys have really been the leaders early on," he stated.

Among newcomers mentioned as promising are senior running back/linebacker Chris Morris, who has not played since his freshman season, and junior defensive end Jesse McDaniel.

Freshmen getting high praise are transfer running back Justin Breseño from Colorado City, quarterback C.J. Madrid and center Nick Ruiz. Joining Loraine and Highland in the newly aligned district will be the Blackwell Hornets, who were 7-2 last year and missed the play-offs.

Their loss of six seniors could hurt, however.

Picked second behind Blackwell are the Highland Hornets.

Coach Karry Owens only lost one starter on both sides of the ball from a 6-4 team that also just missed the play-offs last year.

Although Novice finished 3-6 last year, they are getting the nod to finish third in the conference.

Former Loraine Assistant Coach Travis Walker enters his second year at the helm there and returns three starters on both side of the ball.

Loraine has been picked to finish fourth despite a 1-9 finish last year.

Veribest returns all six starters from a team that played a JV schedule last season, and they gained enough respect to be picked fifth.

Coach Phil Boone's Trent Gorillas return six lettermen from a 2-7 record and got the nod to finish sixth.

Tabbed to bring up the cellar are the Paint Rock Indians, who finished 2-8 last year and return six lettermen from that squad.

PeeWee football registration continues

Registration for the 1998 Optimist Pee Wee Football program will continue through Thursday, August 20 from 7 to 8pm at the C.C. Thompson Room.

The cost for the season is $30 for one child $15 for an additional child, and the program is open to all Mitchell County fifth and sixth graders.

All children who wish to register must be accompanied by a parent or guardian.

Tryouts will be held Saturday morning, August 22 at 9am on the practice field behind Colorado Middle School.

The Pee Wee Football draft will be held Monday, August 24 at 7pm in the C.C. Thompson Room.

All coaches and managers need to attend.

Assistant coaches return at Loraine

By Carl Graham

Both Loraine assistant coaches return this year to help new Head Coach Jerry Miller. Coach Victor Garcia is beginning his third year as an assistant for the Bulldogs while Coach Jay Smith enters his second year.

Coach Garcia hails from Anson, Texas and will be the head junior high football coach, girls junior high basketball, and the head high school baseball coach as well as assist in high school football.

Coach Garcia stated he enjoys working with young adults and that being around them helps to keep himself young. He was most influenced into getting into coaching by his junior high coach Gene Soesby of Anson.

Coach Jay Smith hails from Hawley, Texas. Coach Smith will also assist Coach Garcia with the Junior High football team as well as the junior high basketball team. He also adds the high school girls softball team head coach to his resume.

Like Coach Garcia, Coach Smith also likes working with kids and trying to be a positive influence on them. He was most influenced into getting into coaching by Ed Womack, his high school coach.

Both coaches stated they have utmost respect for new Head Coach Jerry Miller and are looking forward to working with him this year and absorbing all they can learn from him.

loraine news

By Bessie Ann Vaughn

Greetings! The most pleasant news coming from Loraine this past week had to be the rain showers.

Most Lorainians reported getting around an inch of rain. Some more, some less, as usual.

The cool weather was a good respite from the horrible heat, and the rain, an added blessing.

I sure wanted to act like a kid again and play in all the mud puddles, but the resident swallows gave me a stern look that said, not with our mud you don't."

I can't even mess with Texas mud!!

Edgar and Oma Herm were in Loraine last Friday to get sister Nola Taylor. They were going to another sister's funeral (Marie). I will write more about it next week.

Jack Compton was in town last Friday. He had lunch at the center while here.

Having lunch last Sunday with Julia Green were Danny and Loretta Magee from Louisiana, Gwen Yates and Billie Ruth Abernathy, also from La. and Donnie and Judy Brown from Snyder.

Loraine United Methodist members enjoyed a pot luck luncheon following the regular morning worship service with Rev. Glenda Johnson.

Bea Lee and her daughter Jean Johnson from Lubbock left for Quannah, Tex. to visit Bea's sister, Elleda Young. While there, Bea and Jean helped Elleda celebrate her 80th birthday. Mother and daughter returned to Loraine last Saturday.

Our friend and neighbor, Annie Belle Jones, fell while watering shrubs and broke her right wrist.

She has had a lot of pain and being right-handed, a lot of aggravation.

Sue Hobbs came to help and stayed several days. Annie Belle's address is Box 87, Loraine, Tex. 79532.

We also have a concern for Janie Wright, who is in Mitchell County Hospital as of Monday. For those who aren't familiar with the name, Janie is wife to Tommy and mom to Rosie at Rosie's. A speedy recovery to you!

Nola Taylor spent last week in Ackerly with Edgar and Oma Herm.

Kay Harris, owner of New Image Beauty Salon in Loraine has been closed recently due to an accident her husband sustained while working.

Eldon Harris works for Dowell Schlumberger Co. - an offshore drilling operation in Louisiana.

While working, he hit his head on a heavy pipe, which caused extensive damage to his shoulder disks. A bone was taken from his hip to repair the damaged disks during surgery.

We all wish Eldon a speedy recovery. Our best to Eldon, Kay and Brodie.

The New Image Beauty Salon reopened Tuesday, Aug. 18 for business as usual.

LORAIN MANOR NEWS

Minnie reports that Aug. 17 started off with exercise and later several residents enjoyed miniature golf.

One the 18th, the council met. Bible study was held on the 19th. Residents are looking forward to bowling in Snyder on Thursday and Friday is movie day with popcorn.

At 3:30 p.m. on Friday, snow cones will be for sale at 25¢ each. This is a fund raising activity.

Birthdays in August include Effie Stevens, Jewell Boatler and Top Lucas.

We are happy to report that both Raymond Hackfield and Estella Tillison have been dismissed from the hospital and are back at the Manor.

There is one new admission this month, and she is Faye Woods.

Please come see us!

SENIOR CENTER NEWS

Glenda Johnson, along with her sister, Carroll Hickey and husband came to the center to socialize and have lunch with us.

After having special eye surgery on one eye, Glenda can now see very well.

Last Friday, Mark Setser spoke on living trusts—what all they entail and why many people need one. The program was well received.

Monday, Aug. 17, was joke telling day. One tale went like this...

A woman answered the phone and a nice sounding male voice asked, "Lady, would you marry me? I'm good looking, rich and lots of fun."

"Of course," the woman said. "Who is this?"

Virgil Parnell celebrated his 87th birthday last week. He's going strong yet and full of mischief.

ADVERTISEMENT BOO BOOS AND OTHER ODDS & ENDS
Large wicked davenport, was $24.50, now $19.50.

"The area is which Miss Garsen was injured is spectacularly scenic."

Speeches are like steer horns - a point here, a point there and a lot of bull in between.

Watch out for the box supper next Sunday, sponsored by Ladies Aide.

Sermon next Sunday --- change your wife through prayer.

Take good care and see you about town.

1998 PROPERTY TAX RATES IN LORAIN ISD

THIS NOTICE CONCERNS 1998 PROPERTY TAX RATES FOR LORAIN ISD. It presents information about three tax rates. Last year's tax rate is the actual rate the school district used to determine property taxes last year. This year's EFFECTIVE tax rate would impose the same total taxes as last year if you compare properties taxed in both years. This year's ROLLBACK tax rate is the highest tax rate the school district can set before it must hold a rollback election. In each case, these rates are found by dividing the total amount of taxes by the tax base (the total value of taxable property) with adjustments as required by state law. The rates are given per $100 of property value.

Last year's tax rate:
Last year's operating taxes	$364,273
Last year's debt taxes	$0
Last year's total taxes	$364,273
Last year's tax base	$24,284,908
Last year's total tax rate	$1.50/$100
This year's effective tax rate:
Last year's adjusted taxes	$341,764
(after subtracting taxes on lost property)
+ This year's adjusted tax base	$21,975,261
(after subtracting value of new property)
+ This year's effective tax rate	$1.555/$100

This year's rollback tax rate:
Amount of local taxes needed based on state funding formulas and 1998-99 student enrollment	$204,939
+ This year's adjusted tax base	$22,189,301
= This year's local maintenance and operation rate	$0.92359/$100
or adopted 1996 maintenance and operation rate	$1.50/$100
= This year's maintenance and operation rate (use greater of 2 rates above)	$1.50/$100
+ $0.08	$1.58/$100
+ Rate increase adopted by 1997-98 school year	$1.50/$100
+ This year's debt rate	0.000000/$100
+ Rate to recoup loss certified by commissioner of education	$0/$100
= This year's rollback rate	$1.58/$100

SCHEDULE A: UNENCUMBERED FUND BALANCES

The following estimated balances will probably be left in the unit's property tax accounts at the end of the fiscal year. These balances are not encumbered by a corresponding debt obligation.

Type of Property Tax Fund	Balance
M & O	$159,205
