WINS $100 FIRST PRIZE

Mrs. Lois B. Breault, 104 Peach Street, is shown above with her entry in the "Let's Get Acquainted" contest, sponsored by the Daily News and 181 Snyder business firms. She won first place and $100 in the contest. Symbols of each of the business firms were drawn by Mrs. Breault with the identification of employes listed on the backs of the drawings. BOREN 2ND PLACE WINNER

Cecil J. Boren, above, 3775 Avondale Avenue, was the winner of the $50 second prize in the "Let's Get Acquainted" contest. His entry, which like most other entries, kept him up after midnight several nights. It was a key ring with paper keys for each of the 181 business firms in the contest with their employes listed on the keys. (Lee Watson photograph)

Originality And Hard Work Winning Factors In Contest

Mrs. Lois B. Breault, 104 Peach Street, an attractive housewife with a flair for symbolizing ideas in quickly recognizable art forms, won the first place and $100 cash in the "Let's Get Acquainted" contest sponsored by the Daily News and 181 Snyder business firms.

Mrs. Breault's entry in the contest was a wire stand with small drawings of symbols of each business firm represented in the contest with the names of the employes and owners of the firms listed on the back of each drawing.

Another original idea won second prize of $50 for Cecil J. Boren, 3775 Avondale Ave. Boren's prize winner was a key ring with paper keys cut-outs for each of the 181 business firms with the names of the employes listed on the keys. The idea that acquaintanceship is the key to friendship was effectively illustrated by Boren's entry.

Mrs. C. S. Cochran, 113 Thirtieth Street, won third prize of $30 in the contest with a scrap-book type entry on the cover of which was a map of Texas with a rifle trained on Snyder. The words "Make Snyder Your Shopping Target" was the idea illustrated by the composition which took about 100 hours of time to complete.

The fourth prize winner was Mrs. Jack R. Berry, 601 Twenty-ninth Street, whose entry won for her $20.

Of significance in the honorable mention category was the entry of Pfc. Billy M. Holman, who is now stationed in Cherry Point, N. C. the Snyderite's entry traveled more than 1,000 miles to get here before the deadline for the contest.

Others winning honorable mentions in the contest were: Mrs. G. L. Gibson, 401 Thirty-fourth Street; Mrs. Dick Morgan, 2804½ Avenue V; Mrs. Iris Lomax, 1816 Twenty-sixth Street; Mrs. I. N. Hataway, Arah Route; and Miss Barbara Neal, 701 Twenty-fourth Street.

Winners in the contest were picked on basis of identification of the cartoons in which appeared in the "Let's Get Acquainted" edition of the Daily News published two weeks ago, originality, individual ingenuity, and presentation of identifications of the cartoons.

Judges in the contest were Snyder business leaders.

Winning entries in the contest will be displayed in Dunlap's Department Store window on the south side of the square.

Wintry Snow Storm Covers Rocky Mounts

DENVER, April 11 (AP) — A snowstorm that snarled at spring battered the Rocky Mountain region today with a fury that at times reached the ferocity of a January blizzard.

The snowfall, beginning yesterday afternoon after nearly a week of lighter flurries and rain, was the heaviest to larrup the high country since the blizzard of mid-February.

With highways slippery and the wind stepping up ground blizzards that severely cut visibility, motorists were urged by the American Automobile Association branch here to keep their cars off country roads unless absolutely necessary. This applied to mountain passes and flat land travel alike.

Paul Swisher, state agriculture commissioner, said peach and apricot trees in blossom in Western Colorado were damaged badly by below-freezing temperatures.

So far only one death has been caused by the storm. Mrs. Harriet Wilson, 65, of Tribune, Kan., was injured fatally last night in a two-car collision on an icy stretch east of Denver.

The snow began tapering off in Denver this afternoon after reaching 7 inches. It spread into the dry land area of Eastern Colorado, leaving more than 9 inches at Kit Carson and 5 inches at Lamar in the southeast.

3 Migs Downed By Sabres; X Corps Bombed

SEOUL, Sunday, April 12 (AP) — Sabre jets shot three Red MIGs out of North Korean skies Saturday, the Air Force said, while an unidentified light plane, presumed Communist, dropped two small bombs on U. S. 10th Corps headquarters on the Eastern Front.

A spokesman said no damage or casualties resulted when two 100-pound bombs were dropped about 9:45 p.m. at the corps headquarters. The Eighth Army said there was an alert, but a Fifth Air Force spokesman said he knew nothing about the incident.

In addition to the three MIGs destroyed, the Air Force said pilots claimed three MIGs damaged.

Despite the signing of an agreement for the exchange of sick and wounded prisoners at Panmunjom both the air and ground war continued at a bitter pace.

South Korean soldiers of the 3rd Republic of Korea Division were shoved off Outpost Texas on the Central Front, east of the Pukhan River for the sixth time in five days. The bloody action with Chinese Communist troops has raged without stop into its fifth day.

Still Violence In Strike Town

ELIZABETH, La., April 11 (AP)— A paper mill employe's garage and automobile were blasted by dynamite today and a parish constable was fired upon as violence again rocked this tiny strike troubled community.

State police reported that no one was injured.

Explosions ripped a garage belonging to Aubrey McGee, a paper mill employe, and destroyed his automobile.

A car driven by Rapides Parish Constable Chester West, also employed by the strikebound Calcasieu Paper Company, was fired upon Friday night a few miles north of Elizabeth, state police reported.

One side of the McGee home was shattered by the explosions, which destroyed the garage only a few feet from the house. McGee, his wife and their daughter were asleep at the time, state police said. The heavy blast shook residences a quarter of a mile away.

Press Raises Howl At Editors On Moscow Sightseeing Trip

NEW YORK, April 11 (AP)—Seven newspaper and radio executives came back from a week's visit to Moscow today amid a flurry of gibes at accounts by some of them of a pleasant, friendly atmosphere in the Russian capital.

They said they still had more to tell.

"Our object now is to make a complete and honest report to the American people," said James L. Wick, of the Wick Newspapers in Ohio, North Carolina and Louisiana.

"So far we have told only part of the story. The rest remains for us to write."

Dispatches some sent back about visits to Moscow factories, subways and the university brought a comment today from the New York Daily News that Russia is trying "the same old Soviet sucker game on gullible Westerners."

The New York Post has been referring to the group as "the Rover Boys in Moscow," and Time magazine in its current issue said it appeared "from their fatuous findings, all of the traveling editors had fallen on their faces."

One of the group, John H. Bid of the Huntington, Pa., Daily News, said: "This again is the long, loose tongue of 'Time' running away."

He said the news magazines "caustic criticism" was unfair and without foundation, because the magazine had no way of knowing conditions in Moscow, or knowing what the touring editors saw there.

Also awaiting the group was a telegram from John Chapple, Ashland, Wis., editor, declaring the tourists will be "known as the editorial jackasses of the century for falling for this Soviet peace trickery."

He said they reported "mush" instead of "exposing why Stalin died and why Malenkov is slated for replacement by Beria and warning us of the coming intensified attack upon our civilization."

The group arrived from Frankfurt aboard a Trans-World airliner.

Most of them planned to spend the week end at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel here.

Bennet O. Knudson, owner of radio station KATE in Albert Lea, Minn., said he was surprised at the freedom of movement permitted in Moscow.

Mrs. Hobby Is Now Officially Holding Post

WASHINGTON, April 10 (AP) — With President Eisenhower looking on, Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby was sworn in today as the first secretary of health, education and welfare.

Her salary immediately went up $5,000, from $17,500 to $22,500 a year.

"Now your rank is no longer simulated," Eisenhower smiled as he handed his new Cabinet officer her commission. "Now you are a real secretary."

The 48-year-old Texas brunette had been attending Cabinet meetings as administrator of the Federal Security Agency. Under legislation effective today, the FSA disappeared and was replaced by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, which could become known in the headlines as HEW.

Mrs. Hobby, World War II commander of the Women's Army Corps, is the second woman ever to serve in the Cabinet. The first was Miss Frances Perkins, who was secretary of labor under the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

The new secretary received the oath in Eisenhower's office from Frank K. Sanderson, White House administrative officer. Attending the ceremony were her husband, former Gov. William P. Hobby of Texas, and a group of senators, representatives, associates and friends.

Jenner Says Reds Are In Our Schools

WASHINGTON, April 11 (AP) — Chairman Jenner (R-Ind) said today the Senate internal security subcommittee has "overwhelming evidence that there is a small but dangerous group of teachers" who are Communist agents.

Jenner gave no estimate of the number in a statement announcing the subcommittee is making available for public distribution a volume of testimony taken recently in its probe for Red influences in schools and colleges.

In a preliminary report last January, the subcommittee said there are "many hundreds of teachers who are Communists."

Jenner said he hoped educators would study the latest volume of evidence and would "keep the subcommittee's objectives in mind."

"The subcommittee is not concerned with telling the universities and colleges what to teach or how to teach," he said. "It is anxious that the principle of academic freedom be fully protected, both from without and from within."

Jenner said, however, that "official statements of leaders of the Communist conspiracy describe youth as a prime objective of their efforts at subversion and emphasize the high value placed on 'the professionals,' including educators, as party agents in this campaign."

"The subcommittee has overwhelming evidence," he said, "that there is a small but dangerous group of teachers in our schools and colleges who are thus serving as active agents of the Communist conspiracy.

"The subcommittee, as an agent of the federal government, has certain powers that are not available to school authorities or local bodies. Its purpose is to put these powers to use in aiding the schools and state authorities in meeting the threat of subversion, and we welcome their cooperation and support."

Truce Talks May Be Started Again

MUNSAN, Sunday, April 12 (AP)— Allied and Communist agreement on the exchange of sick and wounded during hostilities today appeared the first likely step toward resumption of full scale truce talks on an over-all exchange of war prisoners—last obstacle to a Korean armistice.

Liaison officers at noon Saturday signed the formal agreement on the trade of 600 Allied prisoners, including 120 Americans, for 5,800 sick and wounded Reds. The Communists immediately began pressing to get the top U. N. and Red negotiators back into session.

But the Reds still have not said when they would be ready to start the actual exchange of sick and wounded and the U. N. Command has not given the signal to resume full sessions, suspended since Oct. 8.

The Communists promised to give a report today on when they can start the trade. It will probably come at a staff officer's session to iron out details.

The Allies have announced they would be ready to start the transfer within 72 hours after the Reds acknowledge they are ready, indicating the trade could begin Wednesday at the earliest.

The Communist proposals for resumption of full-scale talks were under study in Tokyo by the U. N. Far East commander, Gen. Mark Clark, and Lt. Gen. William K. Harrison, senior armistice delegate.

Clark's public information officer in Tokyo said it was not known if the general would give his answer at the next meeting of high ranking liaison officers or hold it up several days. No liaison officer meeting was scheduled for today.

(The Communist Peiping radio, heard in Tokyo, said "the eyes of all peace-loving people in the world are on Panmunjom to see if the American government has good faith for an armistice in Korea." It added:

("The crucial test of this sincerity is the immediate resumption of the armistice negotiations to settle the entire POW question.")

The quick agreement on sick and wounded and a new Red proposal submitted Friday appeared to meet the Allied requirement for resuming the big talks.

There were hopes that the negotiations, now in their 22nd month, might finally bring some Korean settlement.

The momentous agreement on sick and wounded was reached after only six days of short, business-like meetings, devoid of personalities or invective. Once the exchange starts it will take the Reds six days to hand over the 120 Americans, 20 Britons, 15 Canadians, Turks, Greeks and Dutch and 445 South Koreans at the rate of 100 per day.

The U. N. Command will require 12 days to turn over 700 Chinese and 5,100 North Koreans at the rate of 500 per day.

Taft Issues Warning About False Security

WASHINGTON, April 11 (AP) — Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) said today the free world must not be lulled into lowering its military guard by possibly false Russian peace move or an unstable truce in Korea.

The Senate Republican leader said in an interview he does not believe a halt in hostilities in Korea will affect military spending substantially.

Without reference to what happens in Korea he said he thinks four billion dollars in "fat" can be trimmed off the 46 billion dollar armed services spending budget sent to Congress by former President Truman. This can be done, Taft conended, without reducing the nation's combat strength.

The senator said he is not disposed to accept at face value present Russian peace gestures and does not believe any truce in Korea would be other than "continuously unstable," with a resumption of fighting possible at any time.

Taft said he doesn't believe the North Koreans and the Chinese Communists will agree to any truce in Korea except at the present battle line.

Prisoners Riot In Minnesota

STILLWATER, Minn. April 11 (AP) —Small fires burned in cell blocks at Stillwater prison tonight as 1,000 rioting convicts smashed windows and shouted profanities at prison officials.

The prisoners had been locked in their cells before the rioting started at 9:15 a.m.

Edwin T. Swenson, Maryland State Penitentiary warden who accepted the job of Stillwater warden and took command of the riot-ridden prison at noon, told newsmen:

"We're not going to be driven into a corner."

Swenson said the rioting was apparently being kept alive "by a hard core of about 100 anti-social inmates, mostly psychopathic cases and sexual deviates."

Prison officials indicated they planned to move the riot ringleaders, one by one, to solitary confinement.

Rioting broke out when the prisoners were told there would be no further negotiations on a list of "grievances" such as requests for a prison commissary, smoking after breakfast and baths twice a week.

5th Atom Blast Less Powerful

LAS VEGAS, Nev., April 11 (AP)— The fifth atomic blast of 1953, apparently less powerful than some before, illuminated the predawn desert sky today as the U. S. government continued its dramatic experiments with nuclear explosive power.

To observers this atomic blast seemed smaller than some of the other shots this spring. Viewed from here the flash was not as bright as some of the earlier ones. The explosion produced a relatively small white cloud, not visible in Las Vegas.

A sound wave reached this gambling town seven minutes after the orange-colored explosion and was heard in two separate low rumbles. But the jarring shock wave which often rattles Las Vegas was not felt.

By comparison, last Monday a shock wave—heaviest of the current series—broke a plate glass window in a downtown store.

Economy Bloc Sees Passing Of Compromise Joint Funds Bill

AUSTIN, April 11 (AP)—Economy leaders were confident today their compromise general spending bill would overcome all opposition and win final approval in the Legislature next week.

The bulky $166,569,347 measure as rewritten by House-Senate conferees includes many innovations, including an unprecedented grant of power to the governor in directing the flow of state expenditures on a quarterly basis.

For the first time it wraps into one package a total statement of Texas spending from all sources, including federal money. For the next two years, it would be $1,194,266,221 including the $166 million plus specifically appropriated from the general state revenue fund.

There were some rumblings of discount from the liberal new-tax legislative faction, but it had not taken definite form. Many members said they needed more time to study the bulky bill before commenting.

Rep. Max Smith, San Marcos, chairman of the House appropriations committee, said he would press for House debate on it Monday.

"I don't see why they shouldn't accept it. It is bigger than either of the original bills," Smith said.

If the measure is disposed of next week, it will clear the road for debate on the teachers pay raise question and taxation—the session's other two major issues. The conference committee bill would require no new taxes.

Sen. Ottis Lock, Lufkin, chairman of the Senate finance committee, told reporters it was the first time in recent history that a general spending bill not requiring new taxes had emerged from a conference committe. He also said it was the earliest in recent years the joint committee on spending had reported.

The bill is $335,738 greater than the Senate's original version and almost 6 million dollars more than the House bill. It was in the House that principal demands for greater spending were voiced when the original measures were debated.

The measure includes various formulas for raising salaries of both state employes and college teachers. It grants numerous $600 a year raises for topflight state-employed technicians—such as engineers—and $180 a year across the board for all state employe salaries up to $10,000.

For college teachers, institutions may grant increases up to $300 a year on the basis of 18 students per teacher. It gives the colleges latitude in transferring certain other funds into teacher pay raise pools. State department heads are also given latitude to use savings for pay raises.

The bill also:

1. Permits the governor to use certain "unobligated balances" for capital outlay on civil defense in case of war.

2. Provides funds for the state hospital board reorganization plan.

More Time On Spraberry Test

AUSTIN, April 11 (AP)—A temporary restraining order to prevent enforcement of a Railroad Commission shut - down order in the 500,000-acre Spraberry oil production area in West Texas was extended today for 10 days.

The order originally issued by Judge Charles O. Betts in 98th District Court April 1 was effective only 10 days. When he issued it, Judge Betts announced he would extend it for an additional 10 days to give both sides time to prepare their cases.

No testimony was taken today when the order was extended. The order was issued to prevent enforcement of the shut-down only on wells from which casinghead gas—that produce along with oil—is not flared.

The commission shut down the field to halt what it called wasteful flaring of gas.

Hearing to determine whether the injunctive proceedings will be continued has been set for April 22. Judge Betts said it was possible a full hearing on the merits of the case would also be gone into at that time.

All 48 Governors Summoned To Ike Meet At White House

WASHINGTON, April 11 (AP) — President Eisenhower today summoned the 48 governors to an extraordinary briefing session at the White House, in a bid for national unity as the cold war enters a new phase.

He said the meeting, to be held May 4 and 5, will give the chief executives of the states a confidential, first-hand picture "of the present state of the world and the role of the United States in it."

Up for discussion will be "current developments in the field of international relations, the American defense effort, the problems of national security, and an analysis of our fiscal problems as related thereto."

The meeting, believed to be the first of its kind, comes at a moment in history when the new regime in Russia is embarked on a "peace offensive." It comes also at a time when the new U. S. administration is struggling with the task of resolving conflicting pressure generated by the free world's defense needs, and the attempts to balance the American budget.

While administration plans have not jelled with finality, there are indications that a limited slowdown in Western defense preparations may be in the making.

Indications are that high officials have decided the Western world should build its defenses for the long pull—say 20 or 30 years—instead of to meet a crisis in the next three or four years.

The governors' aid in explaining and supporting such alterations of policy could stand the administration in good stead.

For example there has been talk that, in recasting defense policies, military leaders might consider closing out some of the training divisions of the Army. Any move to close down, or curtail, military facilities always arouses some apprehension in the communities where they are located, because of the possible impact on local trade and business.

"I am firmly convinced that this conference will produce a better understanding of the need which I feel for the full co-operation of each of you in dealing with the variety of problems which confront the nation."

The governors have their own conference each year to discuss their own affairs and they have invited the President to address their annual meeting this year in June at Seattle. The President has the invitation under consideration.

While there have been numerous meetings of state officials called by the White House before on such matters as health and education, officials said today they could not recall one of the scope being arranged by Eisenhower.

Asked for background on the conference call, James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, said the meeting is simply "part of the President's philosophy of getting the governors to participate in their nation."

The President told the state heads that in these critical times the idea of national and state leaders working side by side to give the United States enlightened leadership warrants vigorous support.

Saying he was sure they would find the conference a "worthwhile occasion," the Chief Executive informed the governors he would greet them in open session, then turn them over to members of his Cabinet and other administration officials. They will brief the state leaders.

The meetings will be held in the same gold and marble room now used for presidential news conference. It is Room 474 in the Executive Office Building across the street from the executive mansion.

Iranians Happy About Arrival Of Jap Tanker

TEHRAN, April 11 (AP) —Iranian officials and the press jubilantly hailed today arrival of the tanker Nishomaru at Abadan, which is reportedly the first of a series of Japanese oil transports being sent to collect Iranian nationalized oil under agreement with a Japanese firm.

Foreign Minister Hossein Fatemi told a news conference "it is reported" four more tankers are arriving in Iranian waters soon from other foreign buyers.

McCarthy Jumps Stassen Over Greeks Trading With Chinese

WASHINGTON, April 11 (AP) — Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) called on Mutual Security Director Harold E. Stassen today to ask Greek shipowners in London to break off all trade with Red China and between other Communist ports.

In effect, McCarthy blamed statements by Stassen for the failure of the London group to make such an agreement and asked him to state that it would have this government's whole-hearted approval.

McCarthy's request, made in a letter to Stassen, was a pointed sequel to the controversy that swelled up in the wake of the senator's original announcement on March 28 that the investigations subcommittee he heads had "negotiated" an agreement with Greek owners in New York of 242 ships to refrain from all trade with Red China and North Korea.

The senator also said the shipowners had agreed to refuse to carry any cargoes from one Communist port to another in any part of the world, although the agreement would not prevent them from hauling goods from free world nations to the Soviet bloc, or vice versa.

Two days later Stassen went before the McCarthy committee at a public hearing and said the senator had undermined the efforts of the State Department and other executive agencies to curb trade between the West and Iron Curtain countries.

Subsequently, however, President Eisenhower said he did not believe McCarthy was undermining government policy by obtaining the shipping agreement, although he emphasized that the right to negotiate foreign agreements rested completely with him.

In his letter to Stassen today, McCarthy said that when he announced the Greek shipowners in New York had agreed to refrain from trade with Red China and other Communist areas, "all indications" were that Greek shipowners in London, operating 100 to 150 ships, would agree to do likewise.

"However," McCarthy added, "as a result of very conflicting news stories, some of which indicated that you were unhappy with the agreement made by the New York shipowners, the shipowners operating out of London have failed to follow the very patriotic example set by the New York shipowners.

"The result is that some of those ships are, as you know, presently engaged in trade with Red China."

Stassen, in a reply addressed to "Dear Joe," said he would be pleased to meet with McCarthy Monday "to see how we can best work together to accomplish the desired result-further stopping of strategic materials from reaching the Soviet bloc and Communist China."

Babe Hears News Of Cancer; Faces Operation In Five Days

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

BEAUMONT, April 11 (AP)—Babe Didrikson Zaharias, who never was stopped on the athletic field, met her match today when physicians found she had a malignant condition, obviously cancer, and must undergo a major operation.

It may mean the end of the greatest athletic career of any woman—a career that spanned two decades and took her from teen-age stardom in the Olympic Games to the pinnacle of golf and excellence in any sport she tried.

Mrs. Zaharias heard the fateful words at noon when the results of tests by five physicians were announced—that she has a malignancy of the lower rectum and must undergo surgery. The operation is to be performed in about five days and the physicians said they thought it would correct the condition "but whether it will return is something else again."

The operation probably will be in Hotel Dieu here where the Babe has been for three days undergoing X-rays and tests to determine the malady that knocked her from the woman's golf tour.

"HELLO EVERYBODY"

"Tell everybody hello," was all Mrs. Zaharias said from her flower-banked room when told of the diagnosis.

It was a mighty blow to one of the greatest competitors of all time. The Babe had reached such perfection in sports that if she didn't win her fans considered it a calamity.

The brief announcement, made by the physicians who had conducted the tests—one in Fort Worth and four in Beaumont—read: "The examining physicians and X-ray and laboratory technicians agree that her condition is a malignancy and that she will undergo major surgery after the proper preparation."

The operation will be here if the proper specialists are obtained, the statement said.

WON TOURNEY SUNDAY

Only Sunday, the Babe had won her second golf tournament of the year—the Babe Zaharias Open, named for her here. A native of Port Arthur, the Babe came to Beaumont when 2 and lived here 15 years, developing into such a great basketball player that an insurance company in Dallas brought her to that city to play with its team. She was All-America twice and sparked the Dallas sextet—the Golden Cyclones—to the National AAU championship.

Mrs. Zaharias stopped off in Fort Worth for a checkup, explaining that she had been feeling weak and tired, and what the Fort Worth physicians found sent her back to Beaumont to enter the hospital.

The Babe was cheerful all the way and predicted she would return to sports soon but there was worry in her face despite the thin-lipped smiles.

Ben Hogan Has Extended His Masters Lead

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 11 (AP)—Ben Hogan shot a six-under-par 66 today, matching the second best score ever recorded in the Masters Golf Tournament. He set a 54-hole record of 205 and streched his lead to where it will be almost impossible to catch him in tomorrow's final round.

And he proved that the greens on the Augusta National Course aren't the big, bad ogres they've been pictured.

The determined little man from Texas played a near-perfect round over the 6,900 yard course, but it was his putting that turned it into a masterpiece. Today Hogan had only two threeputt greens, despite difficult pin locations, and he took only 31 putts for the round. He was dropping them from 20 and 30 feet—and on the ninth green from 40 feet—for his birdies.

TWO OFF RECORD

Hogan's 3234—66 was only two strokes behind the record for the par 36-36—72 course. Lloyd Mangrum set the mark of 64 in the 1940 Masters, when he finished second. There have been several other 66's in the 16 previous tournaments but probably none more gratifying than the one Hogan shot today.

With a 205 total, two strokes under the previous 54 hole record made by Byron Nelson in 1942, Ben only has to stay close to par to morrow to set a new tournament record.

Browns Show Poorly In Old Home Town

BOSTON, April 11 (AP)—Milwaukee's transplanted Braves drew a cordial and prolonged reception from their abandoned Boston admirers today but, as is their wont at Fenway Park, dropped their third straight cross-country "city series" game to the Red Sox, 41.

From the sounds that reached the rooftop press box, the majority of the 9,090 crowd sympathized with the Braves but those diehard fans had few chances to become excited as righthander Hector (Skinny) Brown turned back the Wisconsin Tribesmen with a neat four-hit performance.

Brown held the Braves scoreless until Andy Pafko hit the first pitch into the left field screen for a homer in the seventh.

Snyder Takes 4th At District Meet

One first place, two seconds and a third were taken by Snyder cindermen in the District 7-A track meet at Abilene yesterday.

The Snyder squad, coached by Jack Dillon and Horace Bostick, took fourth place in the meet with 13 points, while Brownwood captured first with 60, Abilene second with 54, Sweetwater third with 20, and San Angelo fifth with seven.

The mile relay squad led the field in that event to win with a time of 3.33.0, followed by Abilene, Brownwood, and San Angelo. The team, made up of Deanie Floyd, Reagan White, Naxie Davis, and Tommy Ivison, took first in the West Texas Relays at Odessa.

Keith Pitner, half-miler, ran second in that event to Bobby Mosshart of Abilene, who came in with a time of 2.03.6. Pitner had taken second in the half-mile at the Fort Worth meet.

Reagan White, who had won Spring meets in the 440-yard dash, fourth in the Snyder and Big meets in the 440-yard dash, took a second this time, coming in behind Frank Glass of Sweetwater. Deanie Floyd finished third.

Abilene had won the meet for the past three years.

The Snyder tracksters still have several days before their season ends. Next week, they will go to the Abilene Relays, then begin preparations for the regional meet.

Members Of Highway Group Attend Meeting Here Friday

R. A. Whatley, Mineral Wells was elected president of the Highway 180 Association in an annual meeting of the organization here Friday at noon, Harry T. Holbrook, Snyder motel owner and outgoing vice president, said.

Whatley succeeds John Hicks of Hobbs, N.M., as head of the association.

Holbrook was succeeded by Tom Anderson, of Carlsbad, N.M.

Mrs. Louise McCall of Lamesa was re-elected secretary of the organization which includes members from all cities along the 600-mile route from Wetherford to El Paso

Holbrook said the next annual meeting of the group was set for Seminole in April.

The 60 members at the Friday luncheon and meeting of the organization voted to appropriate $600 for the purchase of 200 issues of Sun Trails, a magaine published by the state of New Mexico illustrating scenic points throughout the state, especially Carlsbad Caverns.

Marshall Formby, Hereford, member of the state highway commission, was guest speaker at the luncheon.

During his brief talk, Formby said, "although no roads in any section of the state can be favored by the highway department, we are trying to make them all better as a whole."

Holbrook said that members of the association agreed that traffic has been increased over U.S. 180 through the efforts of the organization.

Bill Davis, owner of the 180 Motel on Twenty-fifth Street, was nominated as a new member of the board of directors of the association. Each town along the route has one director.

Holbrook also said that the organization will begin its annual membership drive in about 30 days.

All towns along the route were represented at the meeting.

Cemetery Meet Set Tuesday

Members of the Fluvanna Cemetery Association and other interested persons will meet at the cemetery Tuesday to devote the day to cleaning the grounds, according to Mrs. Jessie Sims, secretary-treasurer.

Grass will be planted and this includes the acre and one-half just added to the cemetery, she said.

Tools will be available for those wishing to work, Mrs. Sims said.

Improvements recently added include a pressure pump with new pipe valued at $300, a new fence and shurbbery, she said. A caretaker will be employed by the association after the clean-up day, Mrs. Sims stated.

Since December funds taken in have amounted to over $2,000. "We especially want Snyder people to come since they have donated so much to our fund," she stated.

Tidelands Bill May Take Night Sessions

WASHINGTON, April 11 (AP)—Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) said today he will hold the Senate in night sessions next week in an effort to reach a vote on the tidelands bill.

Taft, the Republican leader, said Monday's session may be short but that senators can count on about eight hours of debate on Tuesday and Wednesday, with even more time devoted to the issue later in the week.

"I am hopeful we can get an agreement to limit the debate and to vote on the bill," Taft said. "I am going to do everything I can to bring it to a vote next week."

Giant tortoises can distinguish between shades of green and blue, says the National Geographic Society.

EAT PLENTY AND TAKE OFF UGLY FAT

If you have decided to reduce, here is a way to do it sensibly, easily, and safely. Just go to your druggist and get a four-ounce bottle of Barcentrate. Pour into a pint bottle or jar and fill bottle with grapefruit juice. Then take two tablespoonsful twice a day. The improved Barcentrate carton also contains appetite curb tablets which help to lessen the taste buds which lie on the surface of the tongue. Over four and a half million bottles of Barcentrate have been sold in Texas in nine years. There is no starvation diet or back breaking exercises with the Barcentrate plan.

If the very first bottle doesn't show you the sensible, easy way to take off ungainly weight and help you regain youthful slenderness, just return the empty bottle for your money back.

Lost 75 Pounds

"I have lost about 75 pounds and reduced my waist line eleven inches, taking Barcentrate," writes Mrs. A. R. Henderson, 1509 Tudor Street, Paris, Texas. "I feel much better since I got rid of the excess weight."

11 Pounds Lost

Mrs. W. T. Burns, 743, Jacksboro, Texas, writes as follows: "I think Barcentrate is a grand medicine. I have lost eleven pounds taking it."

THIRD PLACE WINNER

Mrs. C. S. Cochran, above, 113 Thirtieth Street, won third prize in the "Let's Get Acquainted" contest. Her entry was in the form of a scrap book with a map of Texas on its cover and a rifle pointed at Snyder. The title of the book was "Make Snyder Your Shopping Target." She and her daughter spent about 100 hours making the entry and identifying the cartoons of employes of firms in the get acquainted edition.

Mrs. Jack R. Berry, 601 Twenty-ninth Street, is shown above with her entry in the contest which won for her the $20 fourth prize in the "Let's Get Acquainted" contest. Each cartoon from the ads was pasted on colored drawing paper and identified. Mrs. Berry prepared her entry while she was confined to her bed during an illness last week.

Ballard At Convention In Dallas This Week

Bill Ballard, county juvenile probation officer, left Friday night for Dallas to attend the annual convention of the Southern States Probation & Parole Association.

The event begins Sunday and is to continue through Tuesday with Gov. Allan Shivers speaking Monday night. Dr. Harrison Dobbs, professor of social studies at Louisiana State University, will conduct a workshop on probation, related to juveniles.

The association is composed of probation officers working with both adults and juveniles. Last year, the convention was held in Florida, Ballard said.

The two Presidents Roosevelt of the United States were fifth cousins and Franklin D. Roosevelt's mother was third cousin of President Grant.

Drug Used On Black Cancer

CHICAGO (AP)—Discovery of the first drug stopping the speedy and almost-always fatal black cancer, melanoma, was announced today.

It works only for a time. But it has banished this dread cancer in one human for at least a year, and has helped a few others.

Until now there has not been any drug or treatment, except surgery at the very earliest signs, which has had the slightest effect upon melanoma. This dark cancerous growth always starts somewhere on the skin, then spreads with distressing rapidity inside the body.

This heartening step in chemical warfare upon cancer was reported to the American Association for Cancer Research by Doctors Farber, Virginia Downing, and Majib Abu-Hydar of the Children's Cancer Research Foundation and Department of Pathology, Harvard Medical School, Boston.

TEPA has been used so far upon 17 humans with melanomas, Dr. Farber said. It temporarily knocked out the cancers in five. The other 12 were persons in whom the cancers already had spread to internal organs.

Work on mice indicates that TEPA might entirely abolish human melanomas if they were caught very early, said Dr. Farber. Melanomas account for about three per cent of all cancer deaths.

No Directory Service Here, But 1st Class Gets Going Over

The number of letters without sufficient addresses is very small compared to boom days here, according to Dawson Moreland, postmaster, who said more letters went to the dead letter office during the boom, even when directory service was available, than are sent there now.

Directory service, which was stopped on all but the more valuable mail by the Post Office Department in 1950, was formerly used as a locator for maladdressed mail. If a letter was sent here with a bad address, a postal employe spent much time attempting to locate the correct address of the recipient.

Now, without the use of directory service, a letter that is improperly addressed usually ends up back in the hands of the sender or in the dead letter office, if the recipient is not easily located.

Moreland said that postal regulations provide that the wrongly addressed first class mail be passed around among experienced carriers, one of whom may know where to send the letter. If none of the carriers or handlers knows the recipient, the letter is sent to the dead letter office in Dallas, if there is no return address.

Directory service was cut out, Moreland said, because of its cost. It took many man hours to keep up with improperly addressed mail, especially so in Snyder during the boom, when many persons moved in and out and to various places in town.

Carelessness is a major reason for wrongly addressed mail, Moreland said, explaining that persons sending the mail will forget the recipient's address and just send it to the person at Snyder, without writing a street address.

Another reason for letters returned to senders is their own carelessness in addressing a letter to someone out of town at the correct street address but absentmindedly writing Snyder instead of the proper town.

Sometimes firms have old mailing lists and send letters to wrong addresses, Moreland said. If the mail is a circular, sent by third class mail, the post office is not required to spend much time with the piece of mail. Third class circulars do not guarantee payment, and if the recipient cannot be found the circular can be discarded.

Sometimes the Snyder office will get letters that have been forwarded all over the country and bear numerous postmarks, and those letters must sometimes be forwarded on to another city from here.

The Snyder office receives plenty of missent mail, Moreland said. Sometimes postal handlers who are sorting mail will mistake "Smyer" for "Snyder," or mistake another city of similar name for this one, and the mail will come here. "The postmaster at Smyer says we get first whack at all their mail," Moreland said.

The postmaster said firms in large Texas cities will address mail meant for Snyder, Okla., to Snyder, Tex. There are six states other than Texas which have towns by the name of Snyder.

Housewife Wanted No Part Of Blessing

NEW DELHI, India, April 10 (AP)—A puzzled wandering Indian holy man learned belatedly today why a village mob beat him after he gave the traditional blessing—"may you be the mother of seven sons"—to a housewife who fed him.

At the hospital where he was taken for treatment, the holy man was told the housewife—who led the attack—already had nine children.

Congressional Action Pressed For Import Controls On Oil

WASHINGTON, April 11 (AP)—Oil imports have spouted into top places among the domestic petroleum industry's worries.

This week brought these developments:

1. Sen. Carlson (R-Kan) said he would press for Senate passage of his bill to limit imports to 10 per cent of domestic demand.

2. A hearing on a similar bill by Rep. Simpson (R-Pa) was set for April 22.

Both bills would give the President authority to modify or suspend the import restrictions in event of a shortage.

BALANCE NEEDED

3. Ed Warren, deputy chief of the Petroleum Administration for Defense, said in Pittsburgh that the welfare of the industry and the nation alike is best served by a properly balanced relationship of imported supplies to domestic supplies.

Warren added:

"I hope for that reason to see early announcements by all importing companies that will make it clear that they appreciate the problem and that each is taking steps to contribute to its solution."

He said he felt the import problem could best be solved by industry itself, not by legislation.

TRADE ACT ASSAILED

4. Russell Brown, general counsel for the Independent Petroleum Association of America (IPAA), told his organization that while administration leaders have proposed a one-year extension of the reciprocal trade agreements act, "There are enough facts already known to establish the need for some improvement in the law now."

Brown added:

"It may be that the many in Congress, with full information on these facts, are already convinced of the necessity to modify any proposed extension of the trade agreements law to safeguard industry and security pending further study.

"They can do this, and, given the urgency of the situation as facts reveal, in my judgment, they will."

NATIONAL FUEL POLICY

5. A Senate interior subcommittee headed by Sen. Malone (R-Nev) was reported considering a study of the question of oil imports as well as a national fuels policy.

A member of the subcommittee's staff said he now is getting together information concerning critical and strategic minerals but that oil is "part of the program as soon as we can get to it." He added he did not know when that might be.

In its April "Facts and Forecasts," the IPAA says crude production in the United States has been reduced "substantially" in recent months.

"Further cuts in domestic production will be necessary during the coming months unless imports are "restricted," it declared. "This means less income to the domestic industry, less drilling, less reserves found, less productive capacity. In short, less security as to oil."

New Manager Takes Over At Schlumberger

George Horst, 27-year-old electrical engineer, succeeds Mike Davis as the local manager of the Schlumberger Well Surveying Corp. office here, effective April 15.

Horst has been with the company in its Kermit office as field engineer for the past four and one-half years.

He is an electrical engineering graduate of the University of Minnesota.

He has moved his family from Kermit to their new residence on Twentieth Street in Parkway. He is married and has two sons.

The Schlumberger office in Snyder handles the company's business in Scurry, Border, Howard, Mitchell Counties, and the south half of Kent County.

Davis has been in charge of its operations here for the past year. He came here from Wichita Falls and has been with the company for five years.

Davis said he has not made definite plans for the future, but plans to move from his family residence at 3818 Highland Drive in Highland Park to either Dallas or Fort Worth and establish an engineering firm.

Prepare Test Of Devonian

Phillips Petroleum Co. is preparing to test the Devonian through perforations at its No. 1-RR Texas University, wildcat in Northeast Andrews County.

The wildcat indicated production from the Devonian, topped at 12,450 feet, minus datum point of 9,399 feet, when a drillstem test at 12,460-12,600 feet recovered oil and gas cut water blanket and 41-gravity oil.

Drilled to 13,853 feet in the Ellenburger, the project flowed 174 barrels of oil in 16 hours through a one-half inch bottom and three-quarter inch top choke on a 20 hour and 15 minute drillstem test of the Ellenburger. The test was from 13,805 to 13,853 feet.

The Ellenburger was topped at 13,848 feet on a minus datum point of 10,797 feet. Casing has been set at 13,825 feet.

Location of No. 1-RR Texas University is 660 feet from south and 2,002 feet from east lines of the north half of section 42, block 5, University survey and 10 miles northeast of the town of Andrews.

Nearest Ellenburger production is two and one-quarter miles southeast in the Magutex field.

Increases In Activity By Oklahoma Drillers

TULSA (AP)—Oil operators in Oklahoma increased their activity slightly the past week, staking 15 locations for new wells.

The Tulsa World survey also showed 157 completions which included 97 oil wells, four gassers, 54 dry holes and two abandoned sites. The oilers produced an initial 14,280 barrels daily while the gas ventures flowed 16,320,000 cubic feet.

Slant Drilling Answer To Problem Of Property Damage

WHITTIER, Calif., April 11 (AP)—Ever think of growing lemons on top of an oil well? A lot of people do it in La Habra Heights.

The citrus groves and avocado orchards were there first. The oil wells are a recent addition. Most were developed since 1951 through a new application of an old process: Slant drilling.

Sixty-five wells have been drilled and all are invisible.

LANDSCAPE SAVED

Time was when wide open spaces were so plentiful that nobody cared if the landscape featured oil derricks. Not now. Heavily planted, if not heavily populated land is precious. Suburbanites with $30,000 ranch homes and productive orchards don't want oil wells in their back yards.

The beautiful rolling hills of La Habra Heights, next to Whittier and near Los Angeles, comprise just such an area. Acreage is far too valuable to permit unsightly rigs.

But the Union Oil Co. found a way to exercise the mineral rights it had held for 40 years, and at the same time preserve the beauty and the crops of a restricted rural area.

ISLANDS FOR DRILLING

The county decreed that the company could tap these reserves if it confined operations to islands—small areas here and there in the hills. Seven islands have been established, hidden in steep little canyons. As many as 25 wells have been drilled from one location in this field, known as the Sansienena.

These holes slant out and down in all directions, like an underground spiderweb. They are drilled by a whipstock, a tool which takes its name from the whip on the dashboard of an old-fashioned buggy. The whipstock is a wedge-shaped casing, about 12 feet long, which deflects the drilling bit from its vertical course.

WHIPSTOCKS SLANT

Whipstocks have been used for many years, with increasing skill. The hole for an oil well can be drilled straight down for 100 feet, then slated off in any desired direction for almost any desired distance, and at angles up to 75 degrees—pretty close to the horizontal.

One of the earliest applications of slant drilling took place at nearby Huntington Beach, where wells originating on the shoreline angle out under the sea. This keeps derricks off the beaches and taps vast submerged oil pools. In the Long Beach-San Pedro harbor area, too, slant drilling is widely employed because land is at a premium.

Flowing Well In Diamond M

Lone Star Producing Co. No. 2-B C. T. McLaughlin, project outside production on the southeast side of the Diamond M Canyon field of Southwest Scurry County, flowed oil at the rate of 50 barrels per hour natural in a drillstem test at 6,757-769 feet.

Tool was open one hour, and gas surfaced in four minutes, and flowed a top in 33 minutes, and oil came to the surface in 34 minutes. It then flowed at the rate of 50 barrels per hour for the remainder of the test.

The tool was closed at the end of the hour and oil continued to flow out of the drill pipe for 30 minutes after the tool was closed. No estimate was given on the rate of flow for that period. After it stopped flowing from the drill pipe, operator reversed out 4,000 feet of feet of oil below the circulating sub.

Flowing pressure during the test was 850 pounds, and 30-minute shut-in pressure was 2,125. Operator is preparing to set five and one-half inch casing on bottom and then complete through perforations.

It is nine miles southwest of Snyder, 1,342 feet from north and 330 feet from west lines of the southeast quarter of section 184-97-H&-TC.

Operations are to start at once.

Western Natural will drill a 14,000 - foot project four and one-half miles southeast of the Townsend (Wolfcamp) field and in the west-central portion of Lea County.

Drillsite has been staked 660 feet from north and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 35-16s-35e. It will be drilled as No. 1 Millard Edison.

E. J. Gray of Baytown has completed his No. 3-A Farrar as a new producer in the Sharon Ridge 1700 field of Scurry County.

It is 990 feet from south and 330 feet from west lines of the northeast quarter of section 193-3-H&GN.

On a 24-hour pumping potential test, it made 66.46 barrels of 28-gravity oil with no water. Top of pay was found at 1,710 feet, where four and one-half inch casing was cemented. The pay section was treated with 6,000 gallons of acid. Total depth was 1,740 feet.

Good Shows On Deep Well In Yoakum County

Amerada Petroleum Corp. was preparing to take potential test and complete No. 2 Weems, third producer for the Bronco (Devonian) field of Central - West Yoakum County.

Operator tested open hole from 11,769 to 11,912 feet for eight hours. During that time the well made 787.85 barrels of oil, 4.87 barrels of basic sediment and no water. The gauge was through a one-half-inch choke

The open hole section had been washed with 500 gallons of mud acid.

Tubing pressure was 500 pounds and gas - oil ratio 95-1. Gravity of the oil recovered is 43.5 degrees.

No. 2 Weems is 1,980 feet from north and west lines of section 403, block D, John Gibson survey and one location northeast of the discovery well of the field.

The Devonian was topped at 11,754 feet, elevation 3,804 feet.

Plug Back Wildcat In Northwest Howard

Delhi Oil Corp. has plugged back from 8,688 to 6,640 feet in the Spraberry at No. 1 Sarah M. Hamlin, wildcat in Northwest Howard County.

Operator has acidized the Spraberry in some section above plugged back total depth, and was preparing to shoot with nitro-glycerin at last report

Location is 1,650 feet from north and 2,310 feet from west lime of section 17, block 32, T-2-N, T&P survey.

Patent Granted On Snyderite's Drilling Aid

On March 17 the United States Patent Office granted patent No. 2,631,822 on a "Power Drill Pipe Guide" to Paul M. Ussery, 321 Thirty - fifth Street.

This invention pertains to improvements in well drilling rigs of the type wherein a drill pipe or tube extends downwardly into the well casing and is caused to rotate by means of a so-called "rotary table." As the hole progresses, additional lengths of pipe are added. It should be noted that provision is made for a guide member to maintain the drill pipe in the center of the casing. Included also in the apparatus are slips or griping collars which come into play and hold the drill pipe when it is not supported by the derrick.

According to Ussery, limitations have been encountered with conventional drill pipe guides due to the difficulty in setting the slips into their position of use. In other words, the jacknife derricks, which are raised and lowered, cause the drill pipe to bend toward one side or the other, with the result that it is not centered properly. As a consequence, it becomes substantially impossible to adequately set the slips for holding the drill pipe.

To cope with this situation and provide an improvement over the previous practice, Ussery has devised a novel guide arrangement which is actuated by pneumatic cylinders to which air is supplied when the drill pipe is pulled to one side by the derrick; and, because of this action, the pipe is forced back into the center of the well casing. It is claimed that the guide device of this invention is comparatively simple and economical in construction; is mounted in an out-of-the-way position below the rotary table so that it does not interfere with the drilling of the well; and is so designed and positioned that it may be operated continuously to achieve the desired end.

The application for this patent, which consists of seven claims of originality, was filed on August 13, 1951.

Reports From Area Drilling

Vickers No. 1 Orson, wildcat in Central - West Borden County, drillstem tested the Pennsylvanian lime at 8,115-585 feet with tool open 30 minutes.

Recovrey was 30 feet drilling mud with no shows of oil, gas, or water. It is now drilling below 8,590 feet in chert and lime in the Pennsylvanian.

Globe No. 1 Spires in Kent County is now taking a drill test in Pennsylvanian lime at 6,950-7,000 feet. Samples through that section had some slight shows of oil.

Sun No. 2 McCabe in Southeast Mitchell County fractured perforations at 5,900-910 feet in the Strawn sand with 2,000 gallons of acid. It is now flowing to clean out and test. It had recovered mostly load oil and is making some new oil.

Magnolia No. 1 Walker, Southeast Mitchell wildcat, is still at 6,100 feet in Pennsylvanian sand flowing out load oil.

Sun No. 1 Dean, Dawson wildcat, is taking a drillstem test at 10,149-173 feet in an unidentified lime.

In Scurry, Texco No. 3 Fuller in the Fullerville Strawn field has plugged back to 2,600 feet and is awaiting orders and Hall No. 1 Huff in the Buffalo Creek Ellenburger field is drilling at 4,495 feet in sand.

In Borden, Helmerich & Payne, Inc., No. 1 Dorward is at 3,048 feet in anhydrite and gyp.

In Fisher, R & R Drilling Co., No. 2 Martin is at 3,916 feet in lime and shale.

In Kent, Welch No. 1 Sorelle is digging at 4,680 feet in shale.

In Mitchell, Sun No. 1 Anderson is at 4,343 feet in shale and sand.

To Deepen Howard Well After Testing

Glenn H. McCarthy and S&W Co. of Houston No. 1 Doyle Vaughn-Magnolia wildcat in Central-West Howard County is rigging up cable tools to deepen after pumping tests of the Clear Fork at 3,196-3,231 feet recovered 12 barrels of oil per day.

The section had been acidized with 1,000 gallons prior to installing pump.

Location is 2,970 feet from south and 330 feet from east lines of section 12, block 34, T-1-N, T&P survey and seven miles west and slightly north of the town of Big Spring.

Kent County Project Finds Only Gas And Water In Pennsylvanian

Globe Oil & Refining Co. No. 1 Spires, Southwest Kent County wildcat which is projected to 7,500 feet or production in the Pennsylvanian found only a show of gas and water in the top of the Pennsylvanian lime formation.

That formation was topped at 6,850 feet on an elevation of 2,233 feet. It drilled to 6,860 feet and took a two-hour drillstem test at 6,850-60 feet.

Recovery was 300 feet of gas cut mud and 1,320 feet of salt water. There were no shows of oil. The prospector is now making hole below 6,900 feet in lime.

Location is 330 feet from north and 615 feet from west lines of section 35, block 4, H&GN survey. It is 10 miles southwest of Clairemont and two and one-half miles north of the Cogdell field which produces from the Pennsylvanian lime as well as from several higher pay sections.

It is estimated that 60,000 civilians in Britain were killed by Nazi bombs during World War II.

Mrs. Glendon Bynum is shown in her usual position for turning out song lyrics. She estimates she spends about three or four hours composing and revising verses for a song at night—"when it's quiet."

Mrs. Glendon Bynum Has Hopes Of Her Lyrics Being Published

A new song with lyrics written by Mrs. Glendon Bynum, 1909 Fifteenth Street, is gradually being introduced in this area and hopes are high for early publication.

Mrs. Bynum received a copyright last week on "What Street Do You Live on in Heaven?" a western type song. Recently two Brownwood hillbilly musicians, Jimmy and Eddye Farren, wrote music for the words and played it locally. After each public performance there were many requests for it, Mrs. Bynum said.

The Snyder woman also received numerous congratulatory telephone calls. Some local writers sent her lyrics to criticize. Mrs. Bynum said she tells the authors what she honestly thinks of their verses, "Even though some of them aren't very good."

The Bynums are taking steps at present to popularize her song as much as possible by sending the music to radio stations. Later they said some well - known artist may get it published for a small percentage in it. Mrs. Bynum believes the western market is the easiest to break into, probably because that type music is demanded most often.

The Farren singers also have two other lyrics of Mrs. Bynum's that are soon to be played locally. "Rancho in the Sky" is "a sort of religious number" and "Sold to the Highest Bidder" is a hillbilly song, she said.

Mrs. Bynum has no intentions of ever writing the music for her verses. "I think I was gifted for writing lyrics, but not music," she said. To the surprise of her friends she also refuses to sing her melodies, saying "I really can't carry a tune."

Slim Willet, western recording artist, and Ray Whitley, Hollywood star, both encouraged Mrs. Bynum to keep on with her hobby which recently she has taken more seriously. She said writers should get their work viewed by well - known musicians who would receive no money for the service and, thus, give their honest opinions. However, the artists almost have to be contacted personally, she said.

"You can't buy your way in," Mrs. Bynum emphasized, adding that the $4 for copyrighting should be the only expense. The person who sets the music to the words gets one-half of the rights, she said.

Mrs. Bynum warned against sending words to music companies to have tunes set to them. "The music never is good, and you can't get them published," she said, "You just have to make good contacts," she stated.

Writing isn't new to Mrs. Bynum who has composed poetry about eight years and had three contributions published in "Important American Poets and Songwriters" by Edith Warren. However, she said all her writing time now will be devoted to turning out lyrics even though their sentence structure is more exacting. "I think lyrics reach more people than poetry," she explained.

The Snyder woman also enjoys reading poetry and said she is partial to English poets such as Shakespeare, Keats, Longfellow and Tennyson. She believes a better quality of literature was written by the early poets than is by modern ones although she said better lyrics are produced now. A modern poet she admires is Edgar A. Guest.

A musical hobby the Bynums both enjoy is collecting records, and they have about 300. Most of the recordings are by Ernest Tubb and Fred Lowery, they said.

Lesser Known Artists Getting Break On Records Sold Here

New recordings by little - known artists are in Snyder this week, headed by Hazel Scott's piano renditions for a Capitol album, "Late Show."

Hazel turns out supper club music assisted by a drummer and bass player, but basically the music is piano. Included in the album are old favorites such as "That Old Black Magic" done in a light vein as well as lesser known melodies such as "Ill Be Around." Hazel's music borders on dignified jazz, but is always soft and danceable. The album is completely without vocal.

Originally from Trinidad, the pianist came to the United States when she was a small child. At present the young mother is married to Congressman Adam Calyton Powell from New York.

The Norman Paris Trio plays a unique type of music which is a mixture of Classical and popular. The Paris piano gives every indication of playing as if it were a concerto grandioso only to be contradicted by the modern beat of Ed Arndt's bass and Frank Cerchal's guitar. The music would be difficult to dance to and occasionally is distracting to hear, but nevertheless it's well out of the category usually reserved for music by trios.

Paris nearly always keeps the lead in the melodies although there are a few measures done alone by the other instruments. Included in the "Cocktail Hour" albim are the familiar "Falling in Love" and "Hello Young Lovers."

Although Jackie Gleason isn't high on the popularity poll here his earlier album, "Music for Lovers Only," put his name before potential fans. Recently Jackie cut another set of records along the same theme called "Lovers Rhapsody" in which Bobby Hackett and his trumpet provide the blue note for otherwise grave songs.

Well known tunes such as "When Your Lover Has Gone," "Tenderly," "I'm Through with Love" and "Dark is the Night" are included in the album. A 5 unfamiliar melodies by an equally unheard of composer, C. Dudley King, are in the collection. Dudley's songs, all about love, are called "Flirtation," "Desire," "Temptation" and "Enchantment." Their arrangements are equally as soothing and include mostly strings with some piano solos. On "Enchantment" Gleason drops any pretense at popular music and directs the orchestra to a completely classical interpretation.

The top ten melodies purchased this week by local record buyers are:

"Mexican Joe," Jim Reeves.
"Till I Waltz Again with You," Teresa Brewer.
"Doggie in the Window," Patti Page.
"Bumming Around," Jimmie Dean.
"Kaw-Liga," Hank Williams.
"Your Cheatin' Heart," Joni James.
"No Help Wanted," The Carlisles.
"Seven Lonely Days," Georgia Gibbs.
"Hot Toddy," Ralph Flannagan.
"Pretend," Nat King Cole.
"Down Hearted," Eddie Fisher.

Oddities Found In Literature Listed In Book

Literature oddities such as Cinderella's slipper actually being made of fur instead of glass are listed in a Hanover House publication this month, "Strange as it Seems."

Illustrated with drawings by George Jahns, the book is compiled by Elsie Hix who daily writes a syndicated column. Miss Hix said the similarities of the French word "vair" meaning fur, and "verre" meaning glass, caused an error in the translation into English of the famous fairy tale.

Also listed in the book is the fact that little Jack Horner was a real boy. He lived in England during the campaign against monasteries. The Abbot of Glastonbury, trying to save his monastery, put the title deed in a pie and sent it to the king by little Jack Horner. Jack appropriated the deed for himself—his "plum."

The poems of Dante Gabriel Rossetti are said by Miss Hix to actually have come from the grave. When Rossetti's wife died, he had all his unpublished manuscripts buried with her. Eight years later he consented to having them exhumed and published.

It is believed that the Greek alphabet from which most modern alphabets were derived, is a borrowing from a Semitic alphabet.

VOL 3, No. 297 — SNYDER, TEXAS, SUNDAY, APRIL 12, 1953 — SECTION TWO

Retirement Age Ingored By Many Here

Much of the history of early day Snyder and Scurry County can be learned first hand by talking to the persons pictured on this page. They are persons who have reached the age of retirement, but are still going strong in their professions and careers.

In fact, since reaching the age of retirement, life has become even more active for some of them than it was before because their challenge has increased.

R. W. (Dick) Webb, 66, pictured in the upper left corner of the page with one of his many collie dogs, says he has made more money in the last few years than he did all the earlier years of his life put together.

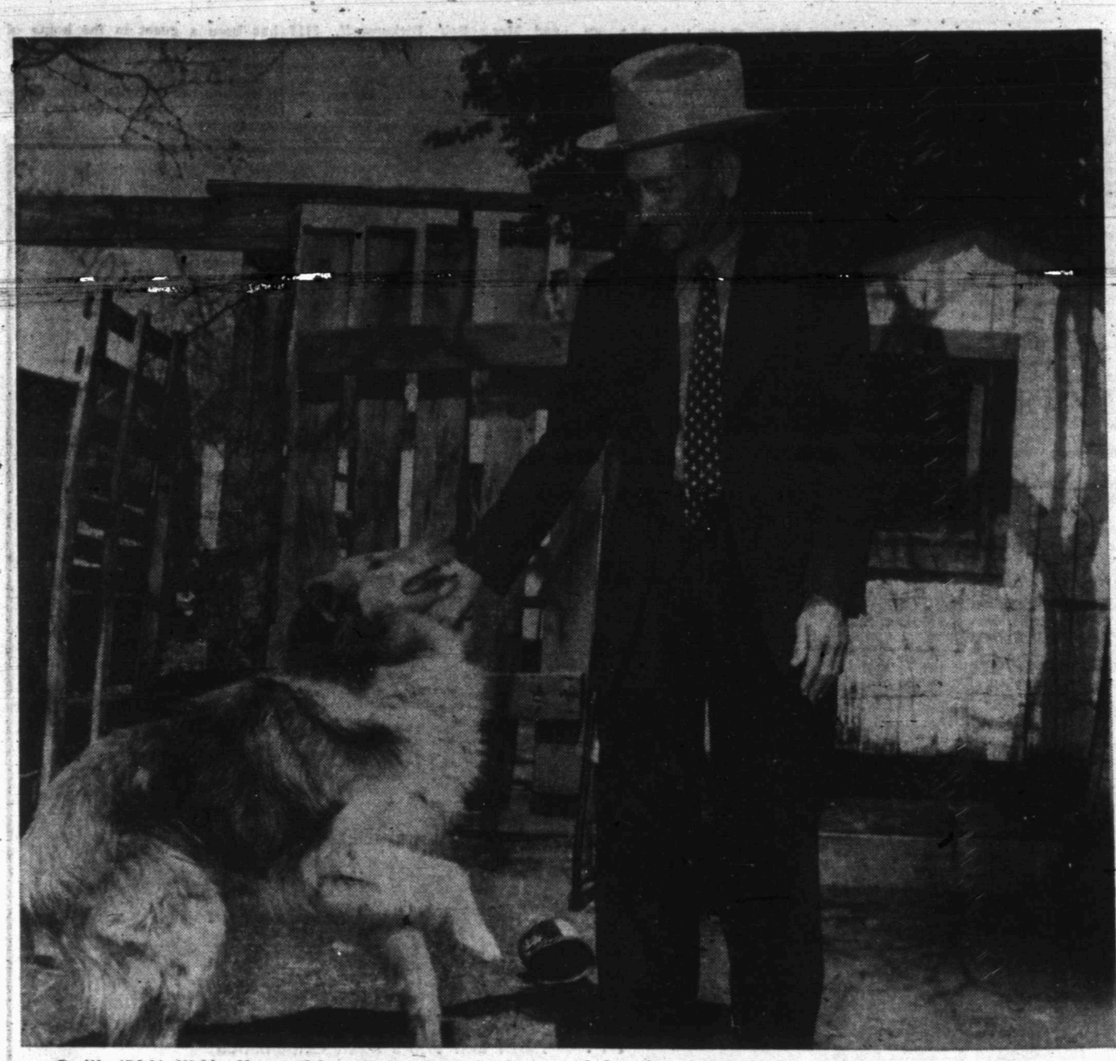

For the agile lawyer who still handles many divorce, compensation, and property title cases in the courts here, the last few years have opened up new professions for him.

In addition to his law practice, which his family wishes he would forget but his clients won't let him, he now has a thriving collie pup business and has sold up to $5,000 worth of pups in one year recently. He said that raising animals is an easy way to keep busy and make a profit at the same time, so he raises milk goats and sells the kids as well as raising cattle on his place north of town.

"My law practice was the best it ever was four years ago, though, when the boom first hit," he said. "I struck oil that year, and collected more than $25,000 in law fees, he added.

(See RETIRE Page Four)

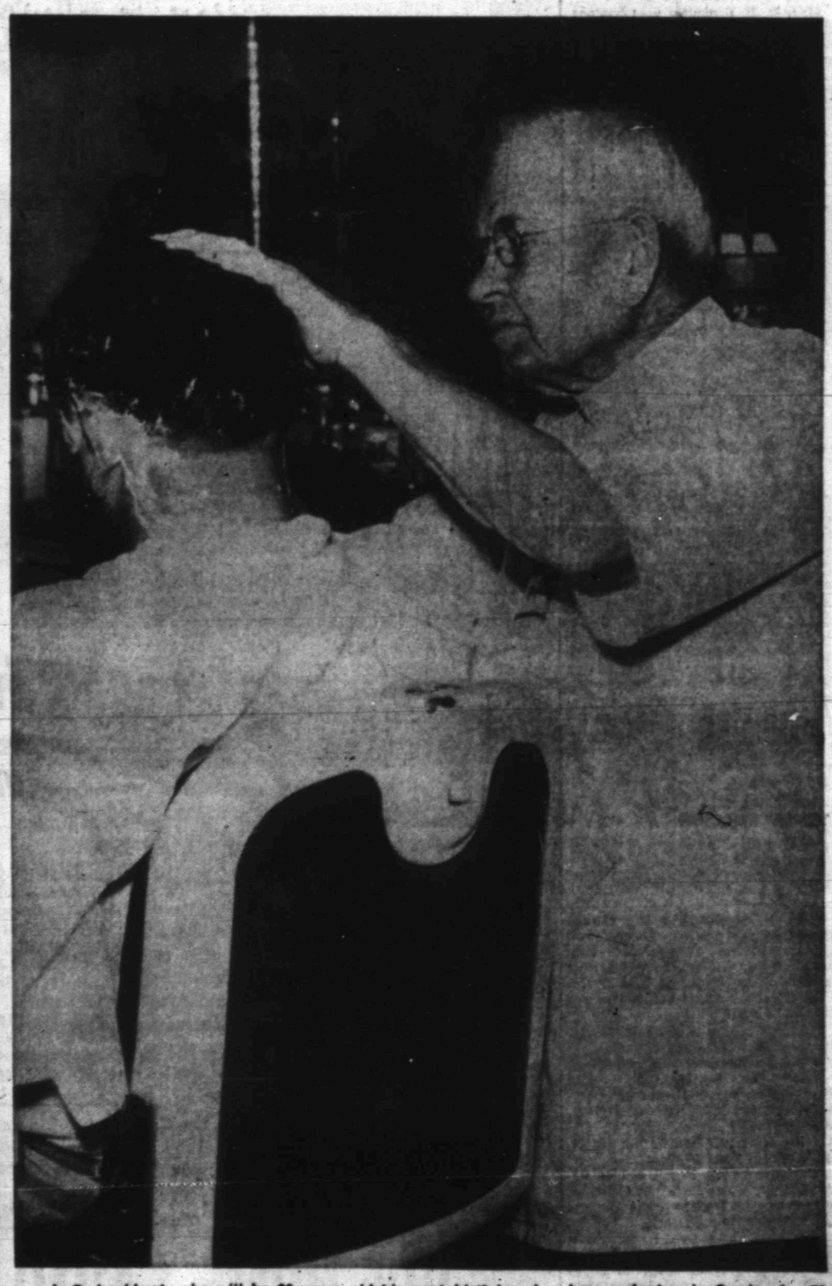

R. W. (Dick) Webb, 66, practicing attorney here, is shown above with a hobby that he has turned into a profitable profession. In addition to the many cases he handles as an attorney, he breeds Collie dogs. Born in Scurry County in 1887, he was admitted to the bar at the age of 25, receiving his license to practice law the day before the primary election in which he won the office of county attorney over formidable opposition. He held the office three terms. His uncle, Houston Patterson, was one of the organizers of Scurry County as the first county clerk here. (Lee Watson photographs)

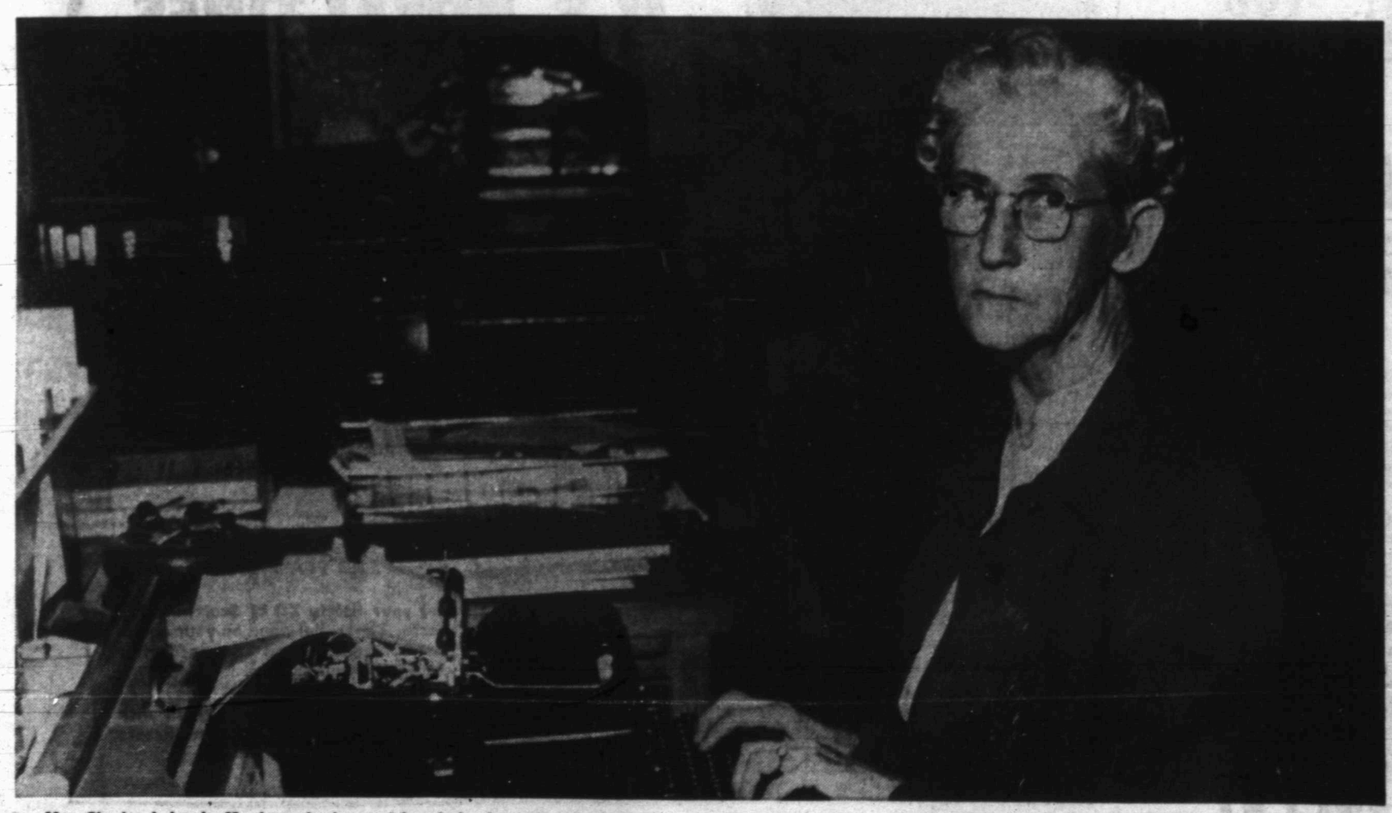

Robert Reeves Patterson, 69-year-old owner of Patternson's Smart Shop, 2605 Avenue S, decided to retire one time, but the inactivity soon grew tiresome to him and he opened up a dress shop here. He and his brother opened the first dry-goods store in Rotan in 1907, later he owned a dry good business in Ranger during the boom there, and finally in Grand Prairie where he decided to retire in April 1949. That summer he opened the business here and says he doesn't look forward to retirement any more.

A. M. McPherson, 77, above, is another of the persons in Snyder who have reached the age of retirement yet have not retired from active life in their business or profession. McPherson was a farmer in Scurry County 52 years before moving to town where he now is city recorder and judge of corporation court. "When I came to Scurry County, all the buildings on the south side of the square were built of adobe. There was only one small frame hotel, a few harness shops and livery stables here then," he said

J. G. Lockhart, who will be 80 years old his next birthday, has been a barber in Snyder for 56 years, and says he isn't thinking of retiring yet. He began his barbering career here in a building located on the west side of the square where the Texas Electric Co. building now stands—when hair cuts were 35 cents, and shaves were a dime. "Back then I would give a man all the barber work he wanted in a month for $1.25," Lockhart said.

Mrs. Charles J. Lewis, 69, above, is shown at her desk where she spends eight busy hours every day in the insurance business which she took over and has operated since the death of her husband 10 years ago. "I am exceedingly proud of the business I do, and I have become financially independent by my own efforts," she says. She admits to taking annual vacations, but says that is the only time she is away from the office.

WARY OF PLAYMATES— Little Keith Nelson, despite his mother's coaxing, appears to be hesitant about meeting a trio of lion cubs on lawn of Johannesburg, South Africa, zoo.

Louise Dresser, 74, Wants Husband Or Part In Movie

By BOB THOMAS

GLENDALE, Calif. (AP)—"I've either got to get married or get back in the picture business. I can't stand the loneliness."

This was the frank comment of Louise Dresser, one of the best-loved film stars of 20 years ago. She is most remembered for appearing opposite Will Rogers in "State Fair," "Lightnin'" and other films.

When I called at her Glendale home, she told me of the dramatic events in her life since she left the movies in 1937. Now 74 and still attractive, she spoke candidly of losing her career because producers thought she was deaf, and pouring her fortune into a racing stable that failed.

Back in the '30s, Miss Dresser was enjoying a successful film career. One day she picked up a local Sunday paper and read a story that changed her life.

A feature writer told how certain film figures had overcome handicaps. A comedian had lost most of the fingers of one hand; a director continued after losing an eye; a leading man got along with one leg. The story continued that Louise Dresser was a success although completely deaf.

"I couldn't believe it," said the actress. "I called the writer and asked how I could hear her on the phone if I were deaf. She shrugged it off. The damage was done. I knew I was through in pictures."

What about her hearing?

"My hearing hasn't changed since 1913. My ears were affected during a flu epidemic in New York. But I have always been able to hear anyone who talks distinctly.

"If I couldn't hear, how could I have done all those Broadway plays and made all those pictures, including seven with Will Rogers?"

Miss Dresser retired to her Glendale home with her husband, Jack Gardner, actor, agent and film executive. When Gardner was an official at Fox, studio head Winfield Sheehan gifted him with a thoroughbred horse. Gardner had once dabbled in racing and decided to try it again.

"We were out to give Calumet Farms competition," she recalled. "We failed miserably.

"We had a mare ready to go at Santa Anita, but the war broke out. Racing was over for the duration. Then we decided to get into the breeding business. When the war was over, we had a couple of 2-year-olds ready for racing. One of them started at Hollywood Park but made a poor showing. The disappointment was too much for my husband. He collapsed at the track.

"I know we have been criticized for losing our money on the stable, but I can't regret it. If it hadn't been horses, it might have been real estate or oil or something. Anyway, it's gone."

Two years ago, Gardner died. It was the end of 42 happy years of marriage. The shock was hard for the actress to take.

"I had never been alone before," she remarked. "All my life I had someone to live with. These two years have been as much as I could stand.

"My friends have offered amazing advice. Some say I should move into the motion picture country home, the place I helped establish.

"It's a funny thing when you get into your 70s. People try to push you into a wheelchair and shove crutches under your arms. I'm not ready for that."

Miss Dresser decided to try for another movie career. She went to her old friend, Hedda Hopper, whom she had known as Elda Furry. The columnist ran an item about her. It resulted in letters and telegrams and an interview at Paramount. But so far no job offers.

"I doubt my chances," Miss Dresser said. "I've got three strikes against my getting roles—my age, my lack of finances and the legend about my hearing.

"I guess I'd better concentrate of finding a husband."

Pattern by British Designer John Cavanagh

John Cavanagh, formerly with Pierre Balmain of Paris, created a sensation in the London fashion world with his first collection, which included this two-piece ensemble. Courturier detail and shelf-like pockets are indicative of 1953 fashions. The puffy cape is good for evening clothes, too. The designer showed it over black tulle. Size 12 will fit bust 34, waist 25 and hip 36; size 14, bust 35½, waist 26½, hip 37½; size 16, bust 37, waist 28 hip 39; size 18, bust 39, waist 30, hip 41; size 20, bust 41, waist 32, hip 43. Size 12 requires two and seven-eighths yards of 35-inch material and the cape requires two and one-half yards of the same width fabric. The dress may be made of linen, wool or silk crepe, cotton or any of the new miracle fabrics. The cape would make well in linen, pique, or chantung. To order pattern No. 1142 send $1 to Spadea Syndicate, Inc., P. O. Box 535, Dept. 163, G. P. O. New York 1, N. Y. For air mailing enclose 25 cents. Pamphlets No. 7 and 8 are available at 15 cents each.

A mystery as deep as one of Sherlock Holmes's best stories prevades the air with regard to "Where Has the New Snyder Creamery Gone?"

Tuesday the report came that Mr. Saveraeid was moving his creamery business to Fort Worth (which had never been started here) and the air was as thick as molasses.

The old-fashioned remark of "There's something rotten in Denmark" best explains the situation as it stands today. Some steam roller tactics have happened some place along the line.

The laying of gas mains and the coming of natural gas to Snyder brings to mind that the gas industry has made forward strides in the development of the product.

There Is A Way To Just Bathe Your Worries Away

Bath scents are the luxury every woman deserves in her bath. This bath oil is combined of oils, herbs, shrubs, bitter orange and evergreen in concentrated oils for exotic scent.

(By The Associated Press)

There is nothing like a bath. Nope, nothing.

After a day in a stuffy old office, busy factory or in the kitchen, a hot bath is the way to shake off those little mortgages everybody seems to have on your time.

You can find privacy in the bathtub, which is more than you can say for the rest of the house. It is the one spot where Mom can relax when it seems the children have conspired against her. It is the perfect relaxer for the business girl who is keyed up because of an unexpected date. It is the spot to soak and soak after a shopping spree. It has no equal as balm to the weary body.

Make your bath a scented session. Don't scrounge around for little tid-bits of soap. Assemble a few little luxuries anyone should be able to afford and you'll enjoy your bath all the more. A fragrant bath soap, wash cloth, bath brush and bath oil are essential to that wonderful feeling of relaxation. Dusting powder will give a satin-smooth finish to your warm clean skin.

A drop of bath oil goes a long way. Its delightful aroma can make you feel like Alice in Wonderland. It has the good deep penetrating fragrance that is needed at bath time to put you in that pleasant frame of mind. When you are depressed or irritable from a rigorous day, the scented bath is a joyful pick-me-up.

The perfumed bath is a luxury every woman deserves, whether she has mink in her wardrobe or not. A few drops of bath oil will soften the bath water, enveloping you in a frangrant haze. Relax for at least five, preferable ten minutes immersed in water up to your chin before you begin your scrubbing chores. Lie back with your head against the bathtub.

Use the wash cloth on easy-to-reach spots. The bath brush with a long handle is for back-washing, a smaller stiff-bristled brush is handy for rubbing soles of the feet, calluses, heels and toes.

Wash your face last, because the best method is to soap it well, rubbing the soap gently into a lather. Wash off the frothy suds with tepid water.

Pat yourself dry with a turkish towel, and dust bath powder or baby powder over your skin. In lieu of anything else, after-shave talc from your husband's shaving kit may be patted on the skin for the same purpose.

More relaxation mileage can come after the bath, if you have time. It is the perfect time to manicure finger and toenails, to tweeze the eyebrows, to set the hair and to smooth the hands with lotion or cream.

Pepper In Shoes Is New One On Law Enforcers In Snyder

Law enforcement officials and persons who have dealt with dogs have heard of many things in connection with tracking down a man with bloodhounds, but last week in the hill country of Texas something happened that was a new one on them.

Officials at Kerrville, who are now trying to track down "The See More Kid" have said they believe the fugitive is using pepper in his shoes to ward off bloodhounds.

Most persons here who have dealt with bloodhounds say they have never heard of any person using pepper before, but they offered opinions as to how it would keep them off the trail.

Dr. Robert J. Kidd, veterinarian, said he had never had any work with bloodhounds but opined that a person's putting pepper in his shoes might leave enough pepper on the trail to irritate the dogs' noses and keep them off the track.

Homer Whisnand, sheriff, said he had used bloodhounds before but had never heard of any person using pepper before. He said he had heard since the Kerrville incident occurred that pepper will either kill the scent of the fugitive or get in the dog's nose. Whisnand had used bloodhounds when he was constable at Electra but said he never had made any catches with them. "They may be alright to use in the hill country and woody areas but they are no good on hard-surface roads and in towns," he said.

F. M. Brownfield, sheriff here 25 years ago, said he had only played with bloodhounds, letting them track him down, but he had never used them. He said the pepper angle is a new one on him.

The "See More Kid," believed to be Charles Brogdon, 19-year-old former inmate of the Gatesville correctional farm for boys, is wanted in a series of about 40 burglaries at ranches near Kerrville.

The youth killed three trailing bloodhounds with pistol shots, and a fourth dog refused to follow the trail farther.

Some ranchers have moved their families to town rather than leave them in the ranch houses far out in the country. Persons have been warned to stay in their homes and lock their cars at night.

The "See More Kid" has left notes in many vacant summer homes, challenging officers to find him. One note, addressed to a Texas Ranger, said "The See More Kid sees more and does less. I hear the rangers coming and I'll have to go play hide and seek."

Volunteers from six counties in the area have aided in the search in Wallace Canyon. Automobiles, horses, and airplanes have been used in the search.

Lamesa Tot Drowns In Lake Brownwood

BROWNWOOD, April 11 (AP)—Jerry Smith, 19 months, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Smith of Lamesa, drowned in Lake Brownwood today.

The parents and friends had placed a motor on their boat and went into the cabin for equipment. They returned to find the boy had fallen in the water 10 to 15 minutes earlier.

New York's Aging Millionaires' Barber Won't Take Everyone

By SAUL PETT

NEW YORK, April 11 (AP) — In many ways it's easier to get into the Union League Club or the Social Register than it is to get into the chair of Robert Hefter, the "millionaires' barber."

It's not just a question of who you are or whom you know. It's also a matter of personality. Your personality. Hefter won't change his.

He won't cut your hair without an appointment one or two days in advance. And you won't get an appointment without references from two old customers.

You'll need references from men like Benjamin F. Fairless, board chairman of U. S. Steel; T. R. Vreeland, president of the International Bank; Elton Hoyt II, ore and transportation magnate from Cleveland, O.; Dan Arnstein, the taxicab tycoon; Albert Spalding, the violinist; Arthur Hays Sulzberger, president and publisher of the New York Times, or Gilbert Miller, the theatrical producer.

If you don't like conversation, don't come in. Hefter, at 74, is an aggressive talker. He permits you your opinions and even allows you to express them. But don't try to change the subject. He is determined that you hear him out—on politics, economics, philosophy, morality or sex.

"Also, my customers have to take some kidding," says this thin, erect, white-haired master barber. "Now and then, if a man forgets his wallet, I call him a cheapskate even if I know he has eight million dollars.

"Also, I tell them jokes and I tell them about my love life. Of course, I have to make most of it up, but they don't care."

Now, about shaves. Hefter won't. He'll turn you over to an assistant or tell you to shave yourself at home. This is one of the ground rules. Hefter regards shaving as a waste of his talents.

"The secret of my success," he explains, "is that I cut a man's hair with his wife's taste in mind. She knows more about it than he does. Women don't like to see their husbands looking like they just came out of a barber shop. I never, never use clippers."

Explosions In Boiler

JOPPA, Ill., April 11 (AP)—A boiler explosion rocked the Electric Energy, Inc., plant here early today and first estimates set damages at three million dollars. No injuries were reported.

Cause of the explosion was undetermined but plant workers said the blast shattered the atomic facility's "No. 1 boiler" installation.

Wreck Victims Said Improving

Both I. M. Rollins and A. C. Rollins, brothers and automobile accident victims April 3 south of Sonora, were reported improved yesterday by another brother, E. C. Rollins, who spent last week with them in Sonora.

Both are still hospitalized in Sonora. A. C. Rollins is still in a semi-conscious state. His brother said that on Friday the injured man was able to swallow water and say "yes" and "no." His injuries include a head laceration and a fractured right shoulder. His neck is not broken as was previously reported. Doctors there reported Friday that the two men had a touch of pneumonia in their right lungs and placed them under oxygen.

I. M. Rollins was discovered Thursday to have a broken hip in addition to his other injuries wich include two broken legs. E. C. Rollins said that I. M. Rollins would probably be moved to San Angelo for surgery to set the hip in the next two weeks. Pins have been put in the leg and tension is being appli d to relieve the pain, E. C. Rollins said.

Lester Moore, who lives on a farm on route No. 3, was brought home last week and is improving steadily. He was also in the wreck.

A. C. Rollins is owner of Rollins & Rollins Used Car lot.

I. M. Rollins is associated with Lee Motor Co.

Who got the most from our customer's dollar?

The employees?

NO! In wages, salaries and benefits, our employees received 14¾¢ out of every dollar paid in by Union Oil customers during 1952.

Our payroll, including benefits, totaled $50¾ million. Divided among our 8,756 employees, this amounted to an average of $5,810 per person.

The shareowners?

NO! Our profits in 1952 were $27½ million, or 8¼¢ of each customer's dollar. Of this amount, our preferred and common shareowners received 8¼¢ per customer dollar. Total dividends paid to our 40,302 owners of common shares averaged $261.34 per person.

The remaining profits of 4¾¢ per customer dollar had to be returned to the business to help pay for replacement of worn-out equipment and necessary expansion required by the West's greatly accelerated demand for petroleum products.

The tax collectors?

YES! The federal, state and local tax collectors got 18½¢ of every dollar paid in by Union Oil customers. In other words, they got more than five times as much as the owners of the business and one quarter more than Union Oil employees.

The remaining 58½¢ of the customer's dollar was divided among the many costs of doing business: raw materials, transportation; interest on borrowed money; and wear and tear of facilities and exhaustion of oil and gas reserves.

To sum it up—1952 was the best sales year in our 62-year history. Yet the 40,302 owners of our business received only a fraction over 3¢ from every customer's dollar. That's far less than many people in this country believe goes to the owners of a big business.

Young Doctor Practicing At Hospital Here

Dr. John Y. Battenfield, owner of the Battenfield Hospital and Clinic, recently announced the association of Dr. Philip Christiansen as a physician and surgeon.

Christiansen, 24, assumed his first practice at the hospital several days ago. He received his medical degree in January from the Southwestern School of Medicine of the University of Texas in Dallas.

The young physician said he will be in Snyder only a short time until he is replaced at the hospital. He will then go to St. Louis to do graduate work through the Washington University School of Medicine at the St. Louis City Hospital, he said.

Christiansen, a bachelor, resides at the clinic, he said.

A native of Dubuque, Ia., he is a veteran of two years' service in the Air Force. Before entering the service, he had graduated from Central High School in Oklahoma City in 1945.

After his discharge from the Air Force in 1946, Christiansen attended Baylor University, where he received his bachelor degree in 1950. He also attended Southern Methodist University one summer and studied in the graduate school at the University of Oklahoma.

Christiansen is a member of Theta Kappa Psi, professional medical fraternity, and Psi Chi, psychiatry group. He is also a member of the Baptist Church.

Lions Prepare For Bentsen's Talk Tuesday

Final arrangements were being made yesterday for the arrival Tuesday of Lloyd M. Bentsen, Jr., 32, of McAllen, representative to Congress from the 15th district.

Bentsen is scheduled to come here Tuesday to speak to a joint meeting of civic clubs in a luncheon at the Methodist Fellowship Hall. The Lions Club, which invited Bentsen here ,will host the other groups.

There were indications that other out-of-town persons would be here for the luncheon, but no definite arrangements have been made. Bentsen will be a guest of C. T. McLaughlin at his Diamond M Ranch while here.

Bentsen, who first entered Congress in 1948, was then the youngest member of the governmental body at 27. Two years earlier, he was the youngest judge in Texas as county judge of Hidalgo. At 22, he had been a squadron commander of B-24s in Europe with the rank of major.

He has served on the interior committee, studying the national water supply.

After his speech here he will go to Midland for a speech at the Lions Club there on the following day.

Ohio Girl Crowned By Mrs. Dwight Eisenhower

WASHINGTON, April 11 (AP) — Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower crowned Janet Kaye Bailey, an 18-year-old Ohio beauty, Queen of the 1953 Cherry Blossom Festival today.

It was the first time a President's wife had taken part in this traditional spring ceremony in the capital.

Mrs. Eisenhower and her mother, Mrs. John S. Doud, received an ovation from the spectators, who appeared unmindful that the famous Japanese cherry blossoms had already passed the peak of bloom.

Fifteen thousand people attended, in perfect spring weather.

James Westbrook, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. I. T. Westbrook, 3106 Avenue K, left Friday for Sweetwater to be inducted into the army. It was not yet known where he is to be stationed, nor what reception center he and others inducted with him were to be sent to from there.

The Westbrooks have another son, Thomas Ray Westbrook of Snyder, who served six and a half years with the army in Germany. His wife, a native of Germany, has returned there recently for a visit.

I. T. Westbrook is employed by the county as janitor and maintenance superintendent at the courthouse.

Stock Market Little Steadier

NEW YORK, April 11 (AP)—The sting was taken out of the headlong stock market fall this week.

The market dropped to a new low for the year, steadied itself, and then quietly subsided.

For two weeks the market has been under the influence of Communist peace gestures centered on Korea. The prevailing trend has been down, sharply so.

As a yardstick for this week's decline, The Associated Press average fell $1.70. Last week the fall was $3.50, heaviest since the Korean War started in 1950.

On Monday the market took its worst beating since June 29, 1950. In the next two days it regained 60 per cent of the Monday loss.

Thursday and Friday the market retreated, in a way which gave heart to the bulls. The fall was quite moderate and volume dried up. Additional selling thus wasn't encouraged.

Those who called the fall of the stock market this week and last a "technical adjustment" viewed it against the long-term picture. Using the AP average as a guide, it was noted that the fall from the peak of this year to the low was 6 per cent.
