Kennedy Tax Plan Is Sent To Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy today sent Congress a tax plan which he said would help modernize American business and create 500,000 jobs. He said a possible general tax cut should wait until next year.

The President said his proposals would attack "expense account living," discourage tax evasion and reduce the worrisome flow of U.S. dollars abroad without cutting into federal revenues.

In a 6,300-word special message, Kennedy described his program as "a first though urgent step" toward broad tax reform in 1962 — reform which he said could combine elimination of loopholes and discriminatory provisions with a lowering of basic tax rates.

These were among the most notable items in the first-step package:

A special tax incentive for business to modernize and expand, withholding of taxes on dividends and interest, repeal of the special tax treatment given dividends, and discouragement of corporate investment in competing industrial countries.

Kennedy also proposed stricter curbs on tax-deductible expense accounts, the elimination of foreign "tax havens" and the collection of taxes from high-income Americans—notably movie stars—who move abroad in the hope of escaping the U.S. income tax.

He said the business investment incentive would cut revenues by $1.7 billion a year. However, he said the other items would offset this and leave at least $50 million in spare.

Many of the specifics were sure to stir controversy. However, there could be little argument over Kennedy's main objective: to stimulate the economy, make U.S. business more competitive with fast-stepping foreign competition, and reduce the nation's balance of payments deficit.

The key item, and perhaps the most controversial, was the proposed tax incentive for business expansion and modernization. In essence, Kennedy would permit companies to subtract from their tax bills an amount equal to part of their annual investment in new or improved facilities.

Many businessmen already have indicated opposition to this "tax credit" idea. Some have said they would rather be allowed to increase their depreciation allowances; that is, the amount they can set aside free from tax. To offset the inevitable aging of new or improved facilities which must eventually be replaced.

Anticipating a fight on this, Kennedy said: "It is clear that the tax credit would be more effective than larger allowances in inducing new investment for the same revenue loss."

Sweetwater PCA Session Held Today

SWEETWATER — Two directors were elected and financial reports were heard by 1,000 members and guests of the Sweetwater Production Credit Association here this morning.

Stockholders of the PCA assembly at the Nolan County Coliseum for their annual meeting.

E. W. Wiman of Roscoe was re-elected to the board, and Audrey Leigh of Snyder was elected to succeed H. M. Murphy of Hermleigh on the board. Board directors are Walter L. Boothe of Sweetwater, Frank Jones of La Mesa and T. L. Finley of Laramie.

Guest speaker was Ellis Lanier, assistant vice president of the Federal Intermediate Bank of Houston. He explained the structure of the bank and how it provides loan-funds for PCA groups in Texas.

H. G. Pitts, general manager of the Sweetwater PCA, presented the financial report showing that the association has assets of $2,264,000 and a total loan volume of $6,490,000 during 1960.

A nominating committee for 1961-62 was elected. On the committee are Ira Jeter of Dawson County, Charley Ray of Scurry County, C. M. Stubbfield of Mitchell County, Joe Williamson of Nolan County and C. L. Smith of Fisher County.

A barbecue lunch was served during the noon hour.

HIGHSPOTS ON TROUBLED ISLAND—The Cuban capital, Havana (1), was the target of rebel planes and there were conflicting reports on results: A Yugoslav correspondent in Havana said rebels had been unable to broaden the bridgehead in a province of Las Villas on the southern coast (2). In Oriente province, rebels claimed to have isolated the town Bayamo, with the town of Mayari (3) reportedly recaptured by the Cuban army, indicating it had been in rebel hands. Cuban radio said an attack against the Isle of Pines (4) had failed. (AP Wirephoto Map)

House Works On Two Big Sales Tax Bills

By LEE JONES

AUSTIN (AP)—The House began work today on two big sales tax bills designed to finance state spending for 1962-1963.

Debate on the first bill, a 2 percent tax at the wholesale level, was laid out at 9:44 a. m. after two pending Senate bills, which had first priority, were postponed.

An effort to delay action on the measure by Rep. W. H. Miller, Houston, was defeated 97-39. After Miller's bill is considered, the second bill, a 2 percent levy at the retail sales level by Rep. Charles Wilson, Trinity, will be laid out.

"The chair takes note that the majority of the House wants to get down to work on the state's most important business," Speaker James Tamm remarked after the vote.

Both bills were approved for floor debate Tuesday by the House Revenue and Taxation Committee.

The Miller bill (H.R. 9399) is an "occupation tax" based on a merchant's purchases of items for resale to consumers. Miller estimates it would raise as much as $100 million a year.

Wilson's bill (H.R. 7727) which exempts food, medicine, fertilizer, feed and ice should raise $130,140 million a year, he estimates. The bill would also exempt certain other goods from the tax.

One of the session's most bitterly contested pieces of legislation, the so-called Carling-Brewster bill (H.R. 9383), headed for its final debate in the Senate, where most of the debate on the measure has raged.

This bill won tentative approval Wednesday, but senators refused to give the necessary two-thirds majority to suspend the rules and take up the bill immediately on third and final reading.

The bill, by Fort Worth Rep. Don Kenfard, would allow a brewery to continue making ale and beer in an area if the area votes dry. It also would permit a brewery to manufacture ale and beer in alcoholic content higher than 24 percent.

than could be legally sold in Texas as provided the products are shipped out of state.

The Carling-Brewster Co. proposes to build a $20 million plant in Fort Worth if the bill is passed.

The measure's strongest opponent is Fort Worth Sen. Doyle Willis. With a Senate bill to take the University of Houston into the state system of colleges and universities probably due for continued debate Friday or Monday, the House advanced its version, H.R. 9434, Wednesday.

Rep. Criss Cole of Houston University bill (H.B. 11) came out of the House State Affairs committee last week with a stipulation that it not take effect until 1963.

and increased by President Kennedy.

Passman said his group's action was taken "reluctantly" because it had been no adequate explanation how some of the money would be spent.

The committee said it understood $34 million would be allocated to the Inter-American Development Bank for housing in the fields of rural living and land use, housing and water supply and sanitation facilities.

Another $6 million would go to the Economic and Social Council of the Organization of American States to promote economic and social progress through field studies.

A total of $10 million was earmarked for the International Cooperation Administration for joint or grants—primarily grants—in the fields of public health and education.

Eichmann Is Reported Cool, With One Major Exception

By BELMAN MORIN

JERUSALEM (AP) — Adolf Eichmann was cool and matter of fact—with one notable exception—during the long sessions when he told his story to his Israeli captors and a tape recorder, an informed source said today.

"He showed a little feeling when he said he expects to get the maximum sentence," the source reported.

"I know I may face a sentence of death," said Eichmann in a recorded statement that was played back Wednesday for the three-judge court trying him on charges of mass murder of Europe's Jews.

"I cannot claim mercy because I am not worthy of it," Eichmann continued. "I should have hanged myself in public so that all the anti-Semites in the world would have had these terrible events emphasized for them."

mann's capture in Argentina last year. The prosecution Wednesday began playing back excerpts at the trial, bringing into the record the former SS officer's own version of the Nazis' "final solution of the Jewish Problem"—meaning total annihilation of Europe's Jews—and the part he played in it.

The trial is in recess today while Israel celebrates its Independence Day.

When the hearing resumes Friday, Atty. Gen. Gideon Hausner is expected to play tape recordings of Eichmann's account of events in Hungary in 1944. Hausner told the court earlier Eichmann was a key figure in the killing of 437,402 of the 800,000 Jews living in Hungary at the time.

There are special reasons for focusing on the anti-Jewish action in Hungary.

1. Hausner said many Nazis were convinced by 1944 that defeat was inevitable, and that Eichmann was particularly speed to deport the Jews to death camps instead of abandoning the extermination program.

2. Hausner said Adm. Nicholas Horthy, head of the Hungarian government, opposed the deportations and tried to frustrate Eichmann. But Eichmann, the prosecutor said, "broke through all obstacles."

3. Most important, he said Heinrich Himmler, top man in the Gestapo, ordered the deportations and killings to stop but that Eichmann flouted the order and went ahead. Eichmann pictured himself in recordings played Wednesday as a subordinate who recoiled from his work but had to obey commands from his superiors.

In another development, the assistant defense counsel, Dieter Wechtenbruch, said he is flying to West Germany Friday in an effort to turn up witnesses to testify for Eichmann.

"There are some witnesses," he said. "Some are free. Others are in jail, either awaiting trial or serving sentences."

It was not known whether Israel would grant immunity to any such witnesses. Wechtenbruch indicated he hopes that safe-conduct will be guaranteed.

Cuban Airliner Lands At Base In Bermuda

HAMILTON, Bermuda (AP) — A Cuban airliner en route from Madrid to Havana made an unauthorized landing at a U.S. Air Force base here today and was detained by military authorities.

A shipment issued by Air Force Base, said the plane lacked insurance coverage required for landing at a United States military field.

The base reported that 13 crewmen and 8 passengers were aboard and that accommodations had been provided for them at the base.

GRAND OPENING—This is the Batchelor Nursery, located at 1306 Twenty-fifth Street, where a grand opening event is scheduled this weekend. The firm will display all types of nursery items and gardening aids, and prizes will be given away during the event on Saturday and Sunday.

Kennedy To Discuss Explosive Cuban Situation For Editors

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy plans to discuss the explosive Cuban situation in an address today to the American Society of Newspaper Editors, the group which ten years ago heard Fidel Castro insist: "We are not Communists."

At first, the White House said Wednesday that Kennedy would not discuss specifically the invasion of Cuba by anti-Castro forces. It called his luncheon speech "a review of the entire world situation."

Then, after midnight, Pierre Salinger, White House news secretary, called the press association to say Kennedy "will discuss the Cuban problem" before the society. Salinger gave no further details.

The address was to be broadcast live by network radio and television.

Kennedy was expected to reaffirm his warning to Soviet Premier Khrushchev that any outside military interference in Cuba would bring immediate U.S. counteraction.

The United States would not intervene militarily in Cuba, Kennedy said in his Tuesday message to Khrushchev, but does give moral support to the "Cuban patriots" in their fight for freedom.

The nearly 600 editors at ASNE's annual meeting were eager to hear if Kennedy would tell them how his administration proposed to deal with the indicated possibility that Khrushchev would refuse to negotiate a cease-fire in Laos until the United States dropped its support of the anti-Castro force.

Kennedy has sought to forestall such a move by declaring Laos wholly unrelated to Cuba. Some editors said privately, however, that Kennedy apparently faces an unhappy problem—the prospect that U.S. Soviet relations will worsen whether the Castro dictatorship survives or not.

Some "Soviet" propaganda will blame U.S. policy in Cuba for so heightening world tensions that a Laotian settlement is impossible. Ironically, it was at the ASNE meeting here in April 1960 that the editor-in-chief of the Soviet newspaper, Pravda, said that the United States had "deposed" dictator Fulbright.

Gen. Boyle Says Advisers Are Ready

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—Brig. Gen. Jackson Boyle, commander of the new U. S. Military Assistance and Advisory Group here, said today his men will go wherever necessary—including to the Laotian border—to advise the Laotian army in its critical fight with pro-Communist rebels.

The changeover from the previously civilian-run programs: evaluation office to a full-fledged military advisory group came today with little more fanfare than Boyle appearing in a crisp khaki uniform instead of his usual sport shirt.

Only a few of the 500-man group turned up wearing uniforms, which were air-dried in the rear had their uniforms at tailors for alterations.

"I forgot how to salute," one private said.

Gen. Boyle, a youthful-looking 49-year-old West Point graduate from Culpeper, Va., says he hopes the impact of the changeover will be more than uniform deep, and that sight of Americans in uniform will reassure uneasy frontier troops of the Laos army.

Honey The Year Round

"There is honey in the spring time; there is honey in the fall. There is honey any time of year, yes, any time at all."

Honey is available the whole year-round and what a luxury it is. There is no substitute for honey, as it is composed of two sugars, levulose and dextrose. Its sweetness comes from both, for levulose is almost twice as sweet as cane sugar. Dextrose is about half as sweet. Honey requires little digestion, as absorption takes place quickly. Both minerals and vitamins are contained within this sweet, and while it cannot be regarded as an appreciable source neither is it devoid of these essentials.

Honey comes in many forms. It may be obtained as comb honey, cut comb, liquid, chunk or granulated. Dried honey for commercial bakers and candy makers is a new product.

With such convenience at hand, why not use it to advantage? Now that the season has ushered in spring bonnets, baseballs, marbles, jumping ropes and puddles, and the weather beckons us outside, take the short-cut way to good eating. Instead of standing over the fire to make a frosting for your cake, try this Fluffy Honey Frosting that requires no cooking. It's rich and satisfying.

FLUFFY HONEY FROSTING
1 egg white
Dash of salt
Best egg white with salt until stiff enough to hold up in peaks, but not dry. Pour honey in fine stream over egg white, beating constantly until frosting holds its shape. Beat about 2½ minutes with electric mixer, or about 4 minutes by hand. Makes about 2¼ cups frosting. Note: This is a delicate frosting and should be eaten the day it is made.

Earning Reports Show A Decrease

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—For stockholders of more than half the companies reporting earnings, first-quarter results are disappointing. Earnings are averaging 16 per cent below the first three months of 1960. And the decline may be more than that when all the tallies are in.

There are many brilliant exceptions—companies reporting record sales and profits. And the guessing is that the April-June quarter will see earnings making a much happier showing, whether on a basis of actual returns or of comparison with year-ago figures.

Of the first 175 companies to report, 95 show declines from their net income in January-March 1960. This year's report is not less, against 10 a year ago.

The combined earnings come to $796,620,000 off 6.3 per cent from the $851,060,000 the same firms made in the 1960 first quarter.

But there's a joker in those figures. That is American Telephone & Telegraph, whose record 1961 first quarter profit of $394 million is 7.2 per cent better than a year ago. Deregard giant A&T and the remaining 174 have earnings of $492,602,000 or down 13.2 per cent from the previous year.

Rarely have the variations in the returns been so wide. International Business Machines reports a gain of 38.7 per cent. General Electric is up 20 per cent. Du Pont down 11.7 per cent.

Compact Car Bill Shelved

AUSTIN (AP)—Rep. Paul C. Cunningham of Corsicana says his so-called "compact car bill" has been shelved in a House subcommittee. He said the bill was shelved in an effort to kill it.

Cunningham's bill, H.R. 11150, would require state agencies wherever possible, to use American-built compact cars. He said the bill would save the state $100,000 a year.

In a personal privilege speech before the House, he said Rep. Charles Rodman of Berger, the subcommittee chairman, is trying to kill the bill. Cunningham added:

"Any tax measure adopted by this Legislature without our first having winnowed out every useless and needless governmental expense, and without our first having found and provided for every economy that conceivably can be ferreted out in the operation of this governmental spider that spins its web into virtually every book and cranny of every home, business or activity in this state, then such tax measure would be at its very best a slap-dash affair, arrived at without our first considering economy measures."

Young Stowaway Will Be Sent Back

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—A 15-year-old Cuban stowaway was slated to sail back to Colombia today without setting foot on the soil he strived so hard to reach.

The unidentified teen-ager stowed away aboard the British banana boat Anzule when it left Colombia several days ago. Officials said he had apparently escaped from Cuba to Santa Marta and then hidden in a life boat of the Anzule.

U.S. Immigration and Border Patrol officers questioned the youth for more than four hours Wednesday then ordered him returned to Colombia.

Cries Of Triumph Likely Premature

EDITORS NOTE — News analyst William L. Ryan, widely traveled specialist in Communist affairs, was in Cuba during Fidel Castro's rise to power, and a number of times thereafter.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press Staff Writer

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—What the Havana radio proclaimed today as a triumph for the Castro regime over its enemies may yet turn out to be the beginning of its downfall.

There were some things wrong with the Havana proclamation. First, the voice of the "maximum leader" still was curiously missing.

Second, it conceded that anti-Castro guerrillas had dispersed into hiding. The anti-Castro revolutionary council claims they have joined up with hitherto rebels in the Escambray Mountains, and if so, they are beginning a resistance oddly similar to the one which brought the 26th of July Movement to power after a long hit-and-run struggle.

Since the victory of Fidel Castro's 26th of July Movement on New Year's Day, 1959, there has been no pronouncement as important to the regime as the one this morning.

In the past, the regime never missed an opportunity to make an announcement of its triumph. It has been taken to radio and television and spoken for four or five hours at a stretch on matters far less critical than the business before the regime today.

What has happened to him? Is he just playing it safe, cagily staying in the background until the smoke clears? That would be unlike him. Castro has had a penchant for lumbering loudly into any and all situations and dominating the show.

Has he been shoved aside by the Communists, who may feel he committed blunders which interfered with Soviet bloc efforts to organize the country and its economy in the image of a "people's democracy"? It is possible. There have been signs of Soviet annoyance with him.

Is Castro still among the living? He was reported to have been fishing in the Bay of Cochinos area when the first anti-Castro guerrillas hit the beach over the weekend, and may have been in the area of fragmentation bombing.

Castro's name was signed to the proclamation of victory over the rebels. The army command Wednesday, a departure from a custom in which Castro announced everything.

Whatever the answer to the questions, it seems likely that something has happened to change the status of Castro. And something has happened, too, to the status of the regime because of the strike against it by people on the outside who want passionately to return in peace to their homeland.

The regime has no guarantee that there will not be new and greater infiltrations, swelling the small guerrilla resistance now in Cuba to a force which really can threaten to topple the Communist-dominated government in Havana.

Testimony In Beating Case Varies

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Robert J. Meisenbach, 23, accused of beating a policeman in last May's City Hall rioting, was painted Wednesday both as an innocent bystander and a club-swinging zealot.

The descriptions emerged in the first day of questioning in Meisenbach's assault trial before Superior Court Judge Harry J. Newman. The incident occurred at the height of student demonstrations against a House Committee on Un-American Activities hearing at the City Hall.

Defense attorney Jack Berman declared photographs he introduced as evidence proved that Meisenbach stood idly smoking a pipe some 40 feet away from the spot where police officer Ralph P. Schaumliefel, 33, said he was slugged with his own billy club.

Schaumliefel, under questioning by Walter P. Giubini, assistant district attorney, declared, however, that Meisenbach clubbed him as he, the patrolman, fell under the onslaught of charging students and adults.

Meisenbach, a University of California senior, is charged with assault with a deadly weapon. Berman further said Meisenbach was rendered almost blind when he removed his glasses after water from fire hoses turned on the demonstrators caused them to fog.

One photograph shows Meisenbach on the floor, glasses in his hand.

Welch Issues Charge Again

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP)—The founder of the John Birch Society has again charged that Communists have infiltrated the Protestant clergy in the United States.

Robert Welch, retired Massachusetts candy maker who organized the ultra-conservative group, charged in a copyrighted speech here Wednesday night that "the largest single body of Communists in America is in our Protestant clergy."

Welch made a one night stop in Shreveport on his speaking tour of the Southwest. He spoke one hour and 45 minutes to a crowd estimated at 2,000.

The speech dealt with what Welch called the "principle of reversal" being used by the Communists. He said the principle is at work among Protestant clergymen "because that is almost the last place the ordinary American would expect to find them."

Welch has made similar charges in previous speeches.

Israel Celebrates 13th Anniversary

JERUSALEM (AP)—Israel celebrated its 13th anniversary as a nation today with a parade of military might in Jerusalem, including tanks and heavy arms brought into the city in defiance of the U.N. Security Council.

An estimated 350,000 people applauded and cheered as column after column of tanks, heavy artillery, antiaircraft missiles and other weapons rolled past.

Jordan had charged that bringing heavy arms into Jerusalem violated the Palestine armistice agreement since Jerusalem is in the demilitarized zone.

Supply Of Vegetables Increasing

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Increased supplies of vegetables, many from South Texas, are being reflected in lower wholesale prices on several items in the Texas markets this week, the Agriculture Department says.

Sharing in the lower price trends are snapbeans, cabbage, cucumbers, eggplant, new-crop onions, yellow squash and tomatoes.

Old-crop potatoes, apples and avocados are higher. Prices on grapefruit and oranges firmed.

Cabbage, onions, potatoes, lettuce and grapefruit led the list of best-buy items in Texas stores this week. Also available at attractive prices are carrots, celery, eggplant, greens and green onions, spinach, radishes, yellow squash, tomatoes and turnips.

In the fruits, watch for good buys on bananas, Texas oranges, lemons and strawberries. California strawberries arrived in volume this week. Cantaloupes from Mexico are lower priced. Canned freestone peaches and ripe olives are plentiful.

Production of eggs and milk is reaching springtime peak. Egg prices are far below last winter's high. Marketings of spring lambs provide an abundance of tender lamb cuts. Other red meats remain in excellent supply. Broiler-fryers and turkeys continued to sell at low levels. Peanuts and dry beans, both meat alternates, are plentiful.

One of the most famous of the old silver coins was the Roman denarius, which was worth about 17 cents in modern money.

Telles Suits Both Sides Of Border

By JOSEPH DEMIC
El Paso Times Staff Writer
Written for The Associated Press
EL PASO (AP)—Appointment as ambassador to Costa Rica of Raymond Telles Jr. brought a bright hope in this border city for better Latin American relations.

Telles, 45, a Texan of Mexican ancestry, has become something of a Horatio Alger to Anglos and Latinos alike.

He is the son of a taxi and transfer operator and a child of the crowded adobe quarter of this city's teeming South Side.

Brown-eyed, soft-spoken Telles known to thousands on both sides of the border, goes to Costa Rica at a time pivotal for American relations, a time when President Kennedy has said that the region is entering its most critical era with the United States.

This challenge lights Telles' eye, and the problems he knows he will face cause him no dismay.

Telles ended two terms last week as mayor of this city. He was the first of Mexican descent ever to win that office.

One of his first acts as mayor was to begin building playgrounds, a series of structures, pools, basketball, table tennis and baseball was begun, and swimming pool construction was greatly stepped up.

By the end of his four years as mayor, five times as many youngsters had recreation facilities as had been available before.

The dusty, unpaved streets which Telles remembered were next, more streets were improved in his term of office than in any two or three comparable previous periods put together.

There were complaints about taxes, but they died down when people no longer had to memorize the names of streets which were apt to be passable.

In the decade from 1950 to 1960, the population almost doubled, and is now pushing hard at 300,000 people.

Hardly had the ballots been counted in 1957, and El Paso had a mayor of Mexican ancestry for the first time, when he proclaimed his intention of being an ambassadorship.

Telles was reluctant when he was first officially notified that he was a top candidate for an ambassadorship. Telles said he had not finished his job as mayor.

"There was still some hatred and distrust around," he commented once. "I think if you hate a man, or vote against him, simply because his parentage is Latin, or simply because his ancestry is Anglo, you are not serving the cause of democracy. People have got to learn to get along living next to each other, not simply across borders from each other. Unless we can get over that, we are lost, completely lost."

The capital of the republic of Upper Volta in West Africa is Ouagadougou.

It is anticipated that this division will wind up its solicitation sometime during the last week of April. The entire Crusade will last throughout the month of April, and Cecil Boren is general crusade chairman.

New Push-Button Gas System Is Dedicated In New Mexico

ROSWELL, N.M. (AP)—A new $188 million, 34,200-mile gas transmission system which one man controls by pushing a button was dedicated here Wednesday.

Roswell is the nerve-center of operations for Transwestern Pipeline Co. operations.

The gas originates in Southwest Texas and the Texas Panhandle. Twin pipelines converge at Roswell. A 30-inch line goes from here to California.

Speakers included Transwestern president, Mills Cox and board chairman W. K. Warren. Both urged that government agencies work more closely with the industries they regulate, particularly in the power business.

"Already other companies have been jealously eyeing this California market and proposals have been made for other projects," Warren said.

"Of course we are in the midst of plans for expansion. We intend to completely fit our line and expand it and do our utmost to supply as much of the California market as is economically feasible," Cox said.

"The initial volumes of gas from our pipeline system are now being delivered and used in California."

"Nevertheless, it is our desire to be of service to the states of Arizona and New Mexico, and we are available to furnish our form of energy for any industrial expansion and growth in these states."

Cox said he regretted that representatives of the Federal Power Commission and other important agencies were unable to be here because of hearings or other reasons.

"First, it is our desire to have our guests—representatives of those agencies—be here to see at first hand the results of this decision that enabled us to be in operation," he said.

"And second, and more important, is that I personally feel that commission members and staff members of the regulatory agencies should be given more latitude."

Research Rocket Is Fired In Italy

The rocket, an American Nike-Apex, was launched from the island of Sardinia. It gave off a sodium cloud in the upper atmosphere to aid scientists in observations of wind velocities and atmospheric density.

Republicans Due To Pump Nixon

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republicans get a chance today to try to pump Richard M. Nixon about his political plans.

But some of them said they don't expect to learn whether he will run for governor of California next year. Nixon, the Republican's 1960 presidential candidate, meets GOP congressional leaders today.

In his first public appearance in Washington since President Kennedy took office, Nixon announced he would hold a news conference after the meeting but would not answer any questions on "pending issues."

He said he wants to save such answers for a speaking tour beginning next month.

Many Items Amaze Navajo Youngsters

GRANTS, N.M. (AP)—It was a new experience for 25 Navajo third and fourth graders as they watched a baker decorating a cake.

In fact the students from Borego Pass, on their first trip away from the isolated settlement on the Navajo Reservation northwest of here, were even amazed at such items as fire trucks, movies, television and two-way radio.

The youngsters were guests of the Grants Chamber of Commerce Wednesday.

Even in the jungle, chimpanzees show traces of the behavior that delights circus audiences. They perform stamping dances, pound rhythmically on hollow trees and sometimes adorn themselves with leafy branches and flowers.

Between You And Me

By Jerry Jackson

A pleasant but totally unexpected surprise awaited the Snyder boys when the Tigers took the track over there to touch off the district baseball fireworks. Said surprise centered around the playing field and overall facilities which were in evidence.

The field has been turned inside out, and sports a completely new face, thanks to a volunteer effort of work and furnishing of needed supplies by a segment of the town-people. The playing area naturally has its rough spots, but toward the paradise lost compared to the situation as existed there last year. Tufts of grass sprinkle the area, reaching for each other in green procession, and the abode there is grassing.

Was twister on the edge of a chair up in the press box (also new) when a C-Citizen accosted me with "You from Snyder?"

Travis Gains Split Against Roscoe Girls

Both the Travis "A" and "B" girls volleyball teams capped off their respective seasons here Tuesday evening against Roscoe, splitting two contests down the middle.

The Travis varsity girls edged out the visitors by 31-29 in the year to bring their record for the season to a final 6-4, as Lois Cunningham showed the way with 11 points.

Travis "B" dropped its ninth game without a win in falling by a score of 36-25. Brenda Dyea paced the losers with 6 points in 14 minutes.

The Travis 7th grade girls have one game remaining with Lamar 7th, the date of which has not as yet been set.

Over the season Miss Cunningham was the top variety point producer for her team with a total of 88 in 11 outings. Sherry Keen, who was top team spiker, was just two points behind her with her 86, however. Leading the way in the area of setting up was Dianne Seifer.

Leading the "B" scorers was Mary Waters with 44 in 8 contests, while Miss Dyea is currently the 7th grade leader with her 46 in 8 games.

light games all over the Coliseum's 48-foot-high left field screen, only 25 feet from home plate. The Dodger outfielder, an honor student at Texas A&M some years ago, claims a newly perfected "reverse english" swing has been largely responsible for his sudden rash of homers.

In any event, Wally struck two of those "moon-shots" Wednesday night to lead the Dodgers to a 7-2 triumph over the St. Louis Cardinals. The first homer came in the first inning, the second was a solo flight in the fourth. He walked in the sixth and slugged a run-scoring single to center in the seventh to account for five runs batted in with a perfect evening at the plate. Clumpus made it two straight over San Francisco with a 4-2 triumph and retained first place in the National League. Pittsburgh climbed into second place with a 4-1 victory over Chicago. Rain stopped Milwaukee and Philadelphia for the second straight day.

Rain also curtailed American League activity, washing out scheduled games between Los Angeles and the Yankees in New York, Minnesota and the Red Sox in Boston, and Kansas City and the Orioles in Baltimore. Detroit moved into second place with a 5-1 victory over Cleveland and Washington spotted Chicago's home opener with a 7-3 victory over the White Sox.

Don Drysdale, although tagged for nine hits, went all the way for the Dodgers to record his second victory against one defeat. Ernie Broglio was the loser. Bob Friend pitched a three-hitter and Dick Groat, Bob Skinner and Roberto Clemente each had two hits in the Pirates victory over the Cubs. Ernie Banks' home run in the seventh spoiled a shutout bid by Friend who registered his second triumph. The Pirates put the game on ice in the sixth, knocking right-hander Bob Anderson for three runs.

Eddie Kasko's scoring single sparked a two-run ninth that ended the Reds to snap a 2-2 tie with the Giants. Rookie right-hander Ken Hunt worked eight innings and won his first major league start. Jack Sanford was the loser.

Tigers Brace For Regional

Feverish might, very well be the term applicable to the Snyder Tigers, track team, as they prepare for Saturday's regional meet, which is to be held in Odessa.

Coach Dutch Stanley's charges will be going into the meet in hopes of repeating last year's record of repeating regional meet, in the program are requested to present their signed contracts—complete with parents' signatures and a copy of their birth certificate—to the officials at the meet, from 7 to 9 p.m. in the high school gymnasium.

Registration for baseball is tonight. The team has been set aside for the second straight day. In the recent district meet at Odessa, the Tigers were victorious in the 100-yard dash and won hurdles and as anchor man on the winning sprint relay foursome.

That boost, along with stellar showings on the part of the remainder of the crack Tiger squad team, served to obliterate the rest of the district meet as Snyder carried home a trophy, championship trophy with its 300 points to runnerup Colorado City's 40's.

Running on the first place finishing 440-yard relay team in addition to Crawford were Ray Callaway, Mike Morris and John Weaver. Weaver also thundered home in the 200-yard dash and anchored the victorious Tiger mile relay team composed of Stephen Bailey, Ronnie Maroney and Malcolm Bolger.

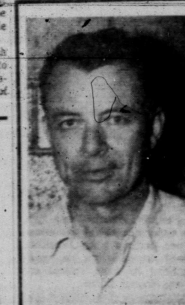

The other "firsts" as garnered by the Tiger clan went to Bobby Brown in the pole vault and Louis Herndon in the mile run. Brown was also second in the low hurdles and broad jump.

3 Texans Are Panel Studies Crash Victims San Angelo College Bill

HOUSTON (AP)—Three Houston men were among five persons killed when their plane crashed into a mountain in Iran in a heavy storm.

The Houston men were Frank B. Markle, 54, senior vice president of Union Texas Natural Gas Co., James V. Kelly, 38, a geologist with Union Texas, and Glen R. Neighbors, 40, vice president of Taylor & Associates, a geological firm.

The pilot and an Israeli passenger had not been identified. The plane crashed Monday. The wreckage and bodies were found 150 miles south of Tehran.

The plane crashed while on a 600-mile flight from Marvdasht to Tehran.

The Houston men left here a week ago on a business trip. Markle is survived by his widow and two daughters. Neighbors is survived by the widow and three sons. Kelly is survived by the widow and four children.

Panel Studies San Angelo College Bill

AUSTIN (AP)—A House subcommittee is studying a proposal to make San Angelo Junior College a four-year state-supported school.

The House State Affairs Committee Wednesday night heard testimony on Rep. Forrest Harding's bill which would add the college to the state system of colleges and universities.

"We do not come to you as one in distress. We are an up and coming, fully respected two-year college. But we do not find adequate four-year college facilities in that area," said Dr. R. M. Cavness, the college's president.

Rep. David Read of Big Spring said many persons in other West Texas cities, including Midland, Lubbock and Big Spring, are in favor of the state taking over the institution.

Nancy Kay Horton, a student at the college, said "had it not been for San Angelo College, I would not have received a higher education."

20 Americans Are Arrested

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Swiss government has reported that about 20 Americans have been arrested in Havana, State Department officials said today.

Three of the 20 were newsmen, the report said, but it did not give their names.

Earlier reports from other quarters had said that Robert Berrill of The Associated Press and Henry Raymond of United Press International had been placed under arrest.

The Swiss Embassy in Havana said it was not confirmed that the rumor—that the couple will reside here.

Miss Barton is 30, Shaw 40.

Blind Solon Blocks Bill

AUSTIN (AP)—A protest by a blind legislator delayed committee action Wednesday night on a bill that would fine persons who take part in sit-in demonstrations.

The measure was sent back to a subcommittee of the House State Affairs Committee when Rep. Criss Cole of Houston said "it might also bar him and his seeing-eye dog."

A subcommittee had approved for committee consideration and floor debate the bill by Lloyd Martin of Xeromangee when Cole protested. Further consideration of the bill was postponed until Monday.

"You are getting ready to pass a bill through the House of Representatives that would prevent a blind person from going into a place of business for a meal. I don't agree with these sit-ins, but I do believe I have a right to be fed by a place that has its doors open for business with my seeing-eye dog," Cole, a blind World War II veteran, said.

The Martin bill provides fines for persons who remain in a place of business after being told to leave or it is apparent the manager does not desire their presence. The original bill imposed a fine of $100-$500, but committee members Wednesday night cut it down to $50-$200.

Wool Price Prop Extension Okayed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congressmen, ranchers and Agriculture Department spokesmen joined Wednesday in unanimous approval of extending a price support program for domestic wool.

A House Agriculture Subcommittee opened a two-day hearing on 16 bills which would extend temporarily or make permanent the incentive payment program, under which domestic wool producers are paid 42 cents a pound out of import revenue.

Unless extended, the wool law will die in March of 1962.

Witnesses called the wool program a good example of a workable agricultural plan.

James Ralph, assistant secretary of agriculture, recommended a three-year extension.

The National Wool Act is an example of an industry approach which the administration is emphasizing.

Ralph said the difference between the wool law and other legislation is that it provides price assistance to growers without adversely affecting the competitive position of domestic wool with imported wool and other fibers and without having the government in the wool merchandising business.

Charles Schreiner of Kerrville, Tex., president of the Texas Sheep & Goat Raisers Association, said the protection of the Wool Act will be needed for an indefinite period.

Ranchman Pernice Metcalfe of San Angelo, Tex., testified that the law has been the salvation of the wool industry in this country.

"Had it not been for its operation," he said, "our industry would have been in a most serious plight—possibly even nonexistent. The incentive payments just about mean the difference between breaking even and making a profit."

Polaris Is Unleashed From Sub

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The successful firing of a Polaris missile from the nuclear submarine Robert E. Lee indicates the Navy has solved problems which plagued some earlier underwater launches of the rocket.

The Navy launched the Polaris over a 200-mile range, which was the first time the Defense Department, sticking to a long policy, declined to announce test results, but informed sources reported all flight objectives were achieved.

This was the second straight successful submarine launching of the Polaris, since the Navy announced it had made a relatively minor change designed to eliminate difficulties which affected the missile when it was launched from undersea.

Before the change was made, four submarines launched a total of 18 missiles, 16 of them successful.

At this point in the program, the Defense Department, without explanation, said it would not announce test results of any missile launches conducted "away from public view."

The missile Wednesday was fired 30 miles offshore and was clearly visible to shore observers. But defense officials said the new policy applied.

Rusk Doubts Invasion Is Major Effort

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk today described this week's action by anti-Castro Cubans as not a major invasion but a type of resistance, likely to go on.

Rusk made the comment on the apparently ill-fated Cuban invasion as he boarded a plane on a speaking trip to Atlanta, Ga. He said both President Kennedy and he would have more to say about the matter later.

Kennedy is addressing the American Society of Newspaper Editors.

Rusk recalled that at his Monday news conference, he had just said the Cuban fighting reached the United States, he had said the affair did not appear to be a large-scale invasion.

Reaffirming this today, Rusk said it was an operation undertaken by "a group of courageous men who returned to Cuba determined to do what they could to assist the people in establishing freedom in that island."

Asked whether this marked an end to the attempt to overthrow the pro-Communist Fidel Castro regime, Rusk replied in the negative by declaring the action was a type of resistance being shown by the Cuban people over many months and likely to go on.

Agency Cautions With Information

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. A. S. Mike Monroney, D-Okla., related Wednesday that a member of his staff recently called the Government Printing Office asking for material on African violets which had been requested by a constituent.

"You'll have to call the State Department," was the reply.

"They would have any material on African violets,"

Exact Role Of America In Cuba Invasion Big Mystery

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—Still the biggest mystery in the four-day-old invasion of Cuba is this: Just what role, if any, did the United States play in the invasion?

President Kennedy has said this country would not intervene militarily in Cuba. But exactly six months ago today he promised help, if elected president, to Cubans who gave hope of overthrowing Fidel Castro.

And today, exactly three months after he became President, the invasion is under way.

Cuban Foreign Minister Dr. Raúl Roa said Monday in the United Nations the invaders were a "force of mercenaries organized, financed and armed by the government of the United States."

On Tuesday, Premier Khrushchev in a message to Kennedy said, "It is no secret to anyone that the armed hands which invaded that country (Cuba) had been trained, equipped and armed in the United States."

At his news conference a week ago, before the invasion, Kennedy was asked how far this country would be willing to go in helping an anti-Castro uprising or invasion of Cuba.

He never directly answered the question. Instead, he said "there will not be under any conditions an intervention in Cuba by the United States armed forces."

The question asked was how far this country would go in helping an anti-Castro uprising or invasion of Cuba.

In answering Khrushchev, Kennedy again did not say this country had not helped the invaders. What he did say was this: "I have previously stated and I repeat now that the United States intends no military intervention in Cuba."

During the presidential campaign last fall Kennedy made a number of talks on dealings with Latin America.

On Oct. 29 he issued a statement—not a speech—on how he'd deal with Castro if he won the presidency. In part he blamed the Eisenhower administration for not doing far more to curb Castro.

"He said Eisenhower had 'done almost nothing to keep Castro from consolidating his regime and beginning subversive activities throughout Latin America.'"

Then he spoke of what he'd do if he became president.

He said this country would have to work with both its European allies and the Latin-American countries linked with the United States in a mutual defense treaty "to promote collective action against communism in the Caribbean."

(No European ally, so far as is publicly known, has had a hand in this invasion. And no Latin-American country has been definitely identified as the shoving-off point for the invasion.)

Then Kennedy, with the election still more than half a month away, promised this: "We must consider stringent economic sanctions—such as the seizing of all Cuban assets in this country to be used to pay off some of the vast sums which Cuba still owes us."

"We must attempt to strengthen the non-Batista democratic anti-Castro forces in exile and in Cuba itself who offer eventual hope of overthrowing Castro."

"Thus far these fighters for freedom have had virtually no support from our government."

MARKHAM, III (AP)—The presence of mechanical egg timers in voting booths had the political pot boiling in this Chicago suburb today.

Charges of harassment were being hurled by the United party, whose candidates Wednesday were all write-ins.

Virginia Carter, United candidate for village clerk, said the egg timers were "an attempt to harass voters and to keep them from completing a good write-in ticket."

The village clerk, Charlotte Center of the Independent party, said the timers were used to prevent United party voters from monopolizing the voting booths.

Russell J. Gardner of the United party was elected village president by write-ins. Mrs. Center was re-elected clerk.

Minneapolis Firm Acquires Operations

DALLAS (AP)—United Petroleum Gas Co. of Minneapolis said Wednesday it has acquired for cash the liquefied petroleum gas operations of three Texas firms.

They are Browning Gas Co. of Plainview, Farmers LP-Gas Co. of Hillboro and Busbee Gas Co. of Spur.

The firm also has installed, new LP gas bulk plants at Hickory Ridge and Mountain View, Ark. Operations of Busbee and Browning will be incorporated into United's Flare-o-gas Division in West Texas and those of Farmers LP-Gas will be assigned to the company's Liquegas Division in North Central Texas.

Gary Cooper Is Reported Gravely Ill With Cancer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Sources close to Gary Cooper say the veteran film star is gravely ill with cancer—and knows it.

The word followed an announcement by a family spokesman Wednesday that the lanky, laconic actor is critically ill.

Cooper, who will be 60 on May 7, is confined to his Bel-Air home. The onetime Montana cowboy has starred in 70 pictures, winning Oscars as the World War I hero in 1941's "Sergeant York" and as the duty-bound sheriff in 1952's "High Noon."

Speculation about his physical condition had heightened since the annual academy awards ceremony Monday night. Fellow star James Stewart accepted a special honorary award for Cooper, and, addressing him directly into the television camera, nearly broke into tears as he spoke words of tribute.

So emotional was Stewart's praise that a recent explanation of Cooper's confinement—that he suffered a punched nerve in a movie fight scene—was questioned.

Publicist Warren Cowan announced Wednesday: "Because the Cooper family has been inundated by inquiries about his health since the James Stewart presentation, I am asked by the family to say that he is gravely ill."

Cowan did not disclose the nature of the ailment. This word came afterward, privately, from several sources.

Another source said: "Jimmy didn't mean to spread alarm but he just got carried away by emotion for a very dear friend who is gravely ill."

This source said Stewart knew in making the award acceptance speech that Cooper was aware of the nature of his illness.

Cowan said there are no plans to hospitalize the actor and that no further word on his condition will be forthcoming for a week or 10 days.

Within the past year Cooper has had two operations, first for a prostate condition and later for removal of a section of his colon. In London last December he finished his most recent picture, "The Naked Edge."

Cooper appeared Jan. 8 at a testimonial dinner for the Fjars, a show business group. After speeches recounting his 35 years of stardom—a record unmatched by any other performer—he wept openly.

In a speech of characteristic brevity he said: "Am I the luckiest guy alive tonight? Yep."

15 Killed In Plane Crash

HONG KONG (AP)—A U.S. serviceman, survivor of an Air Force plane crash that killed 15 others, was in critical condition today.

The U.S. command on Formosa identified him as Airman Richard W. Ferron, 24, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Ferron of Westbrook, Maine.

The plane, a twin-engine C-47, was returning service personnel and dependents to Formosa from a vacation in Hong Kong when it struck a fog-shrouded mountain Wednesday in this British crown colony. Passengers included three women and a child.

Hospital here gave the airman only a 50-50 chance to pull through. They said he was suffering from skull fractures, a broken arm, shock and exposure.

British mountaineers, who scaled the slippery 1,400-foot slope to reach the wreckage, brought the bodies down today.

The plane was smashed to bits on the mountainside minutes after takeoff from the Hong Kong airport.

Eleven bodies were identified but four others were charred and will have to be flown home for identification.

When he had the prostate surgery last year Cooper said there was no malignancy.

Five weeks after that operation, part of his colon was removed. Cooper said at the time: "I had an obstruction that was about to strangle my intestines. It's a good thing that I had it taken care of."

Schooled in England and at Grinnell College in Iowa, Cooper came to Los Angeles in 1924 to seek a career as a commercial artist.

"Pickings were slim in that business," he recalled in later years. "Then I ran into a couple of cowboy friends from Montana who told me I could earn $10 a day by just falling off a horse. I used to do that and more for $10 a week in Montana."

He dropped his aspirations as a commercial artist after working in a Tom Mix movie and discovering that the silent star was paid $17,500 a week.

Pan American College Asks State Support Two Texans Among 68 Award Winners

AUSTIN (AP)—A state representative proposed Wednesday night that Pan American College in Edinburg be made a four-year state-supported institution of higher learning.

Rep. Eligio de la Garza of Mission presented his proposal to the House State Affairs Committee. The bill was sent to a subcommittee.

"Tuition and local taxes simply are not adequate to provide education for the people of the Rio Grande Valley. We feel it is in the best interests of the state to assume control of this four-year institution," said John Sawyer, the school's treasurer.

Sawyer said the school now has 2,006 students, with 2,800 expected by 1968. He said students now pay $25 a semester hour tuition.

Rep. Charles Sandahl, of Austin said "if you take the University of Texas fees into consideration as well as tuition, you are probably charging less than they do."

All state-supported colleges and universities charge $100 a year tuition.

Rep. Bill Holwell of Grand Salinas, chairman of the committee, said he was not certain whether the Texas Commission on Higher Education should approve a school's admittance to full state-supported status before the legislature takes it into the state system.

De la Garza replied the commission knew of his bill.

BIRTHS

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Fulford, Fluvanna are parents of an 8 lb. 15 oz. son born at 2:26 a. m. today at Cogdell Memorial Hospital.

At the last telegraphy competition, words a minute.

By TEX EASLEY
Associated Press Special Service
WASHINGTON (AP)—Two Texans were among the 68 employees of the Health, Education and Welfare Department who won awards for outstanding service at recent ceremonies.

"Superior Service Awards" were presented to Norman Galloway, industrial superintendent at the U. S. Public Health Service Hospital in Fort Worth, and Walter K. Setzer, of the Social Security Administration regional office of hearings and appeals, Dallas.

One of the top honors—the "O. Seta Culp Hobby Award"—went to Walter "Pat" Look Chun for his work in maintaining the Honolulu quarantine station.

Mrs. Hobby, the Houston newspaper executive and wife of a former governor of Texas, served as HEW's first secretary, early in the Eisenhower administration.

AROUND THE CAPITAL:
The tall Texas attorney who is chairman of the Interstate Commerce Commission, 46-year-old Everett "Hutch" Hutchinson, has a picture in his office that's a real eye catcher.

Amidst autographed pictures of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, and Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson and Texas Gov. Price Daniel is one in color done by Hutchinson's daughter. It shows a Texas pack horse, heavily laden. Beneath is the caption: "We don't regulate these."

Before coming to Washington in 1955 to serve on the ICC, Hutchinson practiced law in Austin. From 1949 to 1953 he was an assistant attorney general of Texas. He practiced law in his native Hempstead before joining the navy in World War II.

A one time resident of Waco, now a flautist with the Marine Corps Band, will see his first assignment for Austin ends April 24-28. He is Sgt. William L. Montgomery. Montgomery whose tour is being sponsored by the U. S. Information Agency, attended public schools in Waco and then studied flute at Baylor before joining the Marine Corps band seven years ago. He is 27.

The fourth graders at Morton, out in West Texas, now have pictures of President Kennedy and Vice President Johnson to hang on their classroom wall.

Their teacher, Miss Josephine London, sent a request to the House Press Gallery asking for one of Kennedy for her class. The request was forwarded to George Mahon of the Lubbock district. He sent along the one of Johnson for good measure.

Women Are Running Illinois Village

ELLISVILLE, Ill. (AP)—This farming town of 150 souls woke up today to find itself run by women.

As a result of a surprise, write-in effort Wednesday, the ladies except into all six offices before the voters—village president, village clerk and four trustees. Asked what happened, the new village president, Matilda Fortis, said: "We just got tired of hearing the men complain they didn't want the job, so we decided to do something."

Temple Paper To Support Blakley

TEMPLE (AP)—The Temple Daily Telegram Wednesday endorsed Sen. William Blakley over Republican John Tower in the May 27 runoff for U.S. senator.

The newspaper said it favors Blakley's election not because he is a Democrat but because we are convinced he is the best of the two men to carry on in the manner which won Lyndon Johnson the highest respect of his colleagues while at the same time serving the best interests of the state as a whole.

Building In Dallas Is Called 'Fountain Of Gospel Songs'

By G. M. BRAU
DALLAS (AP) — A two-story red brick building in the Oak Cliff section of Dallas may well be called the fountain of gospel songs in this country.

From it flows thousands of religious compositions each year for churches, singing conventions, radio-television programs and recordings.

It shelters the Stamps-Baxter Music and Printing Co., organized by two of the nation's top quartet organizers and singers — V. O. Stamps and J. R. Baxter Jr.

Both are now dead, but their names and memory are about as well known as the singers and composers were in their days of personal popularity.

Now shepherding the firm is Baxter's widow, petite and charming Clarice Baxter, a former Alabama school marm. Mrs. Baxter took over after her husband's death in 1960.

Baxter and Stamps organized the company in 1926. It rode along to success as the popularity of the Stamps and Baxter singing groups became widespread.

The close partnership grew out of a casual meeting of Stamps and Baxter at a singing convention. Both men were music teachers, quartet organizers and gospel song writers.

Baxter, a native of Alabama, agreed to handle company affairs east of the Mississippi from headquarters at Chattanooga, Tenn., while Texas-born Stamps, warbled his praise in the western half of the country from Dallas.

Various organizations over the nation soon sought their services. Orders for their songs, skyrocketed.

Today more than half a million song books are turned out at the Dallas plant yearly.

One of the most popular products is what the publishers call "convention books." On the average, one of these is turned out semi-annually. Each contains 138 songs suitable for singing meets.

The firm says these books are comprised of new type songs, and adds this explanation:

"These are usually a faster tempo, and in some cases not as smooth flowing rhythm as the church type song, though many of these songs are quite suitable for church services."

Approximately 125,000 of these convention books are published semi-annually.

The firm also keeps it pressing running by turning out 400,000 church and revival song books yearly.

Thousands of songs are submitted yearly to the publishing firm. The company itself has 80 to 100 writers. Some writers take their "pay" in song books, to be sold by the composers.

Many songs enjoy popularity through the years.

One of the all-time favorites, "I'd Rather Have Jesus," it was submitted in 1935 by Luther G. Presley.

Presley is now manager of the company's office and distribution center in Pangburn, Ark.

Scientists who discover a new element traditionally have the honor of naming it. In recent years Dr. Glenn T. Seaborg and his associates at the University of California, Berkeley, have detected and named americium, californium and berkelium.

Another favorite, "Talk It Over With Jesus," was by Stamps himself.

One of Baxter's most popular songs was "Try Jesus."

Another favorite, "Cross The Border Line," is by V. O. Fossett, music editor of the firm.

Baxter, a native of Lebanon, Ala., started out in his father's mercantile store, but his love for music caused him to change his course.

"He attended every music school he could," his wife recalled.

The Baxters were married in June, 1918. Mrs. Baxter also is a native of Alabama. She gave up a literary teaching job to join her husband in the music field.

Known affectionately as Pap and Ma Baxter, they became the guiding half of a number of quartets dating back to the 1930's.

During this time they also managed their company's Chattanooga office. After Stamps' death in 1940, the Baxters moved to Dallas to take complete charge of the business.

At the close of World War II, Baxter headed the Stamps-Baxter G. I. School of Music, the only one of its kind in the country.

A limited quarter service is still maintained by the publishing firm.

These song groups are made up of employees and their services are available for singing meets and other occasions. One well known quartet in Dallas is made up of Clyde and Welford Roach and Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie B. Combs.

Mrs. Baxter says singing meets are still popular over the country, but admits their popularity may have been dimmed somewhat by radio and television.

Harpo Lists Simple Cure For Tension

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Harpo Marx has a simple cure for tension.

"If the world is pressing in on you, and everyone seems against you, go into a corner and stand on your head," he said.

"This will bring everyone around to his senses and give you a better view of things, too."

Harpo said he wasn't joking about this. It had worked for him for years.

The music member of the mad-cap Marx brothers, famous for his harp, frizzled red wig, and honking cane, has broken a long public silence to write his autobiography.

It is "Harpo Speaks," abridged in McCall's magazine.

A recent visit here stirred Harpo to recollections of his poverty-stricken childhood in the Yorkville section of Manhattan. He was the smallest kid in the second grade, and whenever the teacher left the room, he recalled, the other boys in the class fell into the cheerful habit of picking him up and tossing him out the window.

"One day they threw me out, and I decided not to go back," he said. "That was the end of my formal education."

But it led to a 56-year show world career and stardom on both stage and screen. It also led to wealth and personal happiness with his wife, Susan Fleming, a former actress, and their four adopted children.

The many character he portrays in pantomime bears little resemblance to the real-life Harpo. In person he is a gnomish little man, sensitive, kindly, quiet-mannered, and so soft-voiced you have to strain your ears to hear him.

"I'd rather listen than be on," he remarked. "It's a strange thing about most actors—they like to be on. But if you just listen, soon you find they all are trying to talk to you."

It was this quality that led Harpo to a generation ago to become a favorite member of the group of writers who gathered nightly at the Algonquin Hotel's celebrated Round Table. He let Alexander Woollcott, Heywood Brown and Robert Benchley do the talking. He did the listening.

Harpo said the harp, which he plays by ear, had taught him the value of avoiding needless worry.

"When you have to handle 50 strings and seven pedals," he said, "you have more than enough on your mind. You don't have time to worry."

Cuban Revolution Delays Honeymoon

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — One man who isn't happy with the attempt by rebels to overthrow the Castro government in Cuba is Yestel Tatum, chief engineer of the ship Privateer.

It's delaying his honeymoon.

Tatum was aboard the Privateer when it reached a point just 24 miles off Havana Harbor several days ago before being ordered back by its owners because of the rebel invasion.

He was married to a Cuban girl two weeks ago in Havana and was slated to go on his honeymoon when the vessel returned to pick up a load of tobacco for the Tampa cigar industry.

Among men, firearms is the commonest method of suicide. Poisoning outranks other methods with women.

Space Collision Evidence Found

By FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Science Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—Evidence of a terrific collision of several objects in outer space was reported by a team of Atomic Energy Commission scientists.

The picture of the celestial crash comes from new studies of several well-known iron meteorites that fell on the United States and the Soviet Union in the past 43 years.

Researchers D. Heymann and O. A. Schaeffer of the AEC's Brookhaven National Laboratory, Upton, N. Y., reported Wednesday they had used atomic era sleuthing methods to pin down the "exposure ages" of these burned-out fireballs. This refers to the time between the meteorite's first break-off from some other object in space and their arrival on the earth.

The researchers told the annual meeting of the American Geophysical Union they obtained the "exposure ages" by measuring the present strength of certain radioactive elements that occur in the meteorites.

Two Qualify For Seats

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The U.N. General Assembly has declared Mauritania and Communist Outer Mongolia qualified for U.N. membership but neither is likely to be admitted soon.

Roadblocks remain in the Security Council despite the assembly's approval 48-13 of a resolution saying both countries should be admitted. The council must approve all members before they can be admitted.

The Soviet Union last Dec. 4 vetoed Mauritania's application for a seat in the assembly after the council refused to consider at the same time Outer Mongolia's application, which was vetoed in 1955 by Nationalist China.

Eleven African countries — all former French colonies like Mauritania — introduced the new resolution in the General Assembly to endorse Mauritania alone. The Soviet Union lacked on an amendment endorsing Outer Mongolia.

Dunlap Speaker For Kiwanis Meeting

Ref. Dunlap was the principal speaker at Wednesday's luncheon meeting of the Snyder Kiwanis Club.

His address was titled "Public Relations — Individual and Business." The program was introduced by Calvin Lange, the day's chairman.

Plans were completed for the Kiwanis Club's Pancake Supper to be held Saturday at the West Elementary School cafeteria.

Frank Stephenson, president of the club, presided at the luncheon meeting.

Samples were studied from the following:

1. The "Aros" meteorite which fell in the Soviet Union only a half million years ago. Its exposure age was computed at 260 million years.

2. The "Grant" meteorite, a 1,000-pounder that was found in Grant, N. M., in 1925. Exposure age: 260 million years.

3. The "Norfolk" meteorite, a two-pounder seen to fall in Norfolk, Ark., in 1918. Exposure age: 560 million years.

4. The "Sikhote Alin" meteorite—a 500,000-pounder that was found in eastern Siberia in 1947. Exposure age: 260 million years. The Brookhaven scientist said: "One interpretation of the result that the meteorites Grant, Aros and Norfolk all have about the same exposure age is that 560 million years ago two or more large objects collided in space. 'Sikhote Alin, on the other hand, must have been in an object which suffered a collision 260 million years ago."

While the researchers made no mention of it because it's well-known to scientists—American studies of Soviet meteorites are made possible by the fact that the Soviets freely distribute samples around the world for further study. American scientists do likewise with the stuff that sometimes falls out of the skies onto the United States.

Editors Call For Action On Freedom Of Information

By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON (AP)—It's taking about 400 men and $1.6 million to handle the Pentagon's public relations this year.

A lot of money in everyday life, although the outlay has been diminishing slowly for several years.

Whether the flow of information from the Pentagon has also diminished is a matter that is being debated.

The Freedom of Information Committee of the American Society of Newspaper Editors (ASNE) has submitted a critical report and aimed mostly at the State and Defense departments.

Involved in the Kennedy administration's freedom of information policies. Newsweek also had complained of restrictive policies under the administration of Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The newspapers editors' committee contended Tuesday that Kennedy was on record "as believing in freedom of information and in his duty to see that the people are informed."

But, the report said, "neither he nor the administration has lived up to his promises."

The White House, in a letter from news secretary Pierre Salinger, said the committee's statement was inaccurate.

The President, he said, expects

Sleeping Pills Put Actress In Hospital

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Police say that an overdose of sleeping pills sent actress Rita Moreno to a hospital and that she refused to give any explanation.

She is expected to recover, officers reported.

Miss Moreno, onetime companion of Marlon Brando, was found at his home Wednesday, authorities said. Brando was not there.

only information bearing on national security to be withheld and would welcome reports of any violations of that policy."

Much of the information bearing on national security, of course, is classified.

The Pentagon public relations budget has been diminishing slowly for several years—chiefly as the result of ceilings put on expenditures by Congress. The pending budget for next fiscal year will trim the figure a little more.

The $1.6 million being spent during the fiscal year ending next June 30, isn't all the military spends for public relations. It covers the operations at headquarters
