TAFT BECOMES CHIEF JUSTICE LATE THURSDAY

Nomination Is Confirmed Immediately by Senate, But Not Without Drawing Opposition

Borah, Johnson, LaFollette and Tom Watson are Four Who Vote Against His Appointment

WASHINGTON, June 30.—Former President William Howard Taft was nominated late today by President Harding to be chief justice of the United States and his nomination was confirmed by the senate in executive session.

TAFT 1909-1913

The nomination was not confirmed without opposition, however, and a roll call was demanded. The opposition was understood to have been voiced by Senators Borah, Idaho; Johnson, California; LaFollette, Wisconsin, all republicans who were said to have criticised Mr. Taft's record and his nomination.

On the roll call, however, only four votes were cast against confirmation. These were by Senators Borah, Johnson and LaFollette, and Senator Watson, democrat, Georgia.

The final vote was 60 to 4. An agreement was reached not to make public the roll.

The senate's doors were closed for discussion of the nomination after suggestions that Mr. Taft be confirmed in "open executive session, because he is a former president, had been rejected by his opponents.

Senators Borah and Johnson led the fight on the floor in opposition to Mr. Taft, while he was defeated by about a dozen senators, including Knox of Pennsylvania, Kellog of Minnesota and Willis of Ohio, Republicans, and Underwood of Alabama, minority leader; Smith of South Carolina; Overman, of North Carolina, and Broussard of Louisiana, Democrats.

Senators Borah and Johnson were understood to have centered their fight on Mr. Taft's legal training, experience and qualifications. According to reports filtering from the senat chamber, Senator Johnson was said to have declared that Mr. Taft's appointment was "purely political."

Senator Johnson, it was said, asserted that Mr. Taft had not regarded himself as a lawyer but as politician and had "abandoned" his profession after leaving th e White House.

The California senator, it was reported, said that he tried to disregard personal objections to the nominee and was voicing opposition solely because Mr. Taft had lacked, for nearly a generation or more, any legal experience which would fit him for the highest judicial post of the nation.

Reference was made, it was said, by Senator Borah, to the "drafting" from the supreme bench by the Republican party, of Secretary Hughes to become the presidential candidate of the Republican party. In "having taken an able lawyer from the supreme bench four years ago, and made a politician of him, it was now proposed to take a politician—a man who has devoted practically his nature life to politics and put him on the supreme bench in the interest of party politics."

The defense of Mr. Taft, it was said, was led by the Democrats. Senator Underwood said that Mr. Taft

EFFORT MADE TO BREAK UP CEMENT TRUST

Cement Associations Declared To Be Engaged In Conspiracy In Restraint of Trade

Price Fixing Among Members Portland Cement Industry One of Charges of Government

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, June 30.—The government today sought to dissolve the Cement Manufacturers Protective association, by bringing civil suit in Federal court against nineteen corporations and four individuals. Violation of the anti-trust laws was charged and the government asked that these corporations and individuals be perpetually enjoined from maintaining a combination and conspiracy to restrain trade.

The suit resulted from revelations of price fixing combinations by the Lockwood state legislative committee investigating housing conditions.

The defendant officers of the association were named as follows:

President E. P. Walker; vice president, C. Raymond Hulsart; secretary, Miss M. B. Phalen; treasurer, Marion S. Ackerman.

Between 1908 and 1911, the complaint alleged, certain of the defendant corporations were organized together as members of the association of Licensed Cement Manufacturers, and as such were required to sell cement at scheduled delivered prices which were uniform to any given point of delivery. The association was dissolved and abandoned by unanimous vote of the members about January 6, 1911, the complaint said.

From 1902 to 1915, it was alleged, there existed one large outstanding association known as the Association of Licensed Cement Manufacturers to which all manufacturers of cement in the United States belonged.

The Portland cement industry, by 1915, it was said, became one of such magnitude, that it was determined that certain of its duties could more saisfactorily and expeditiously be performed by local sectional organizations. These were known as the Cement Manufacturers Protective association, with headquarters in New York City, the Midwest Cement Credit and Statistical Bureau, with Chicago headquarters; the Southern Audit and Statistical Bureau, headquarters, Dallas; Norcross Audit and Statistical Bureau, headquarters, Kansas City, Mo., and the Southern Statistical Bureau, headquarters at Atlanta, Ga.

The Cement Manufacturers Protective association, also known as the Eastern association, the complaint alleged, was organized on January 6, 1916, in New York, with offices in Philadelphia until April 1, 1918, when they were removed to New York.

The defendant corporations since their affiliation with the National association in 1902, the Eastern association in 1916, the complaint alleged, had been engaged in a conspiracy and unlawful combination in restraint in interstate trade and commerce of Portland cement in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law.

JUNE BUSINESS 'INCONCLUSIVE,' REPORT STATES

By Associated Press.

WASHINTON, June 30.—June business activities in the United States, altbough showing an acceleration in price declines, were classed as "inconclusive" with respect to probable future developments by the monthly review of the Federal Reserve Board issued today.

Theories that prices had reached a stable basis, founded on a slowing up of the price fall in May, the board found, were set aside by later records, and the board concluded that "it is even more evident that the close of readjustment period has not yet been reached" in some lines of business, notably iron and steel.

In several branches of domestic trade the board said good conditions have continued and such recession as has occurred is evidently only seasonal."

HISTORY AND ROMANCE BEHIND MEXICAN ORCHESTRA THAT WILL PLAY HERE NEXT TUESDAY

Famous as a musical organization unsurpassed in Mexico, the Presidential Orchestra of the Republic of Mexico is equally a well known from a historic standpoint. The orchestra, to play in this city was but recently formed by President Obregon of Mexico for the purpose of an extensive tour through this country. Although a new organization the orchestra is composed of players from the oldest musical organizations in Mexico. Their players were recruited from the most famous bands and orchestras in the republic with the result that it now has the stellar players of the nation south of the international boundary.

Professor Torreblanco, director of the orchestra, is himself an artist, known throughout Europe as well as Mexico. The 45 musicians under his leadership have been carefully trained for years, all of them having served in various Mexican military bands before. Seven of the players in 1904 were with the Banda de Policia, that famous Mexican band that won the grand prize at the world's fair in St. Louis. Others who are with the orchestra that plays here were connected with the well known Banda del 29 Batallon. From the Banda de Artilleria other musicians were taken to strengthen the ranks of the Presidential Orchestra.

Several musicians who won fame with the Carranza regime as members of the Banda de Policia are now with President Obregon's orchestra. Two of the musicians entertained in the presidential mansion during the Victoriano Huerta regime.

Two special attractions come with the orchestra directly from Mexco City, a corps of classic dancers and Mexican operatic singers. The latter will render Spanish vocal selections never before heard in this country.

NEW MEXICO CLIFF DWELLERS FORMER BUFFALO HUNTERS

By Associated Press.

CANYON, Texas, June 30.—That the Pueblo Cliff Dwellers of New Mexico were originally buffalo hunting and nomadic Indians of Western Oklahoma and Northwestern Texas and that they gradually developed their architecture and their arts as they moved westward, finally settling down to permanent habilitations in New Mexico, has been definitely established by archaelogical investigations made in Texas Panhandle and Eastern New Mexico by Warren K. Moorehead, geologist of Andover, Mass., and J. B. Thorburn, representing the Oklahoma Historical society.

This is an announcement important to science, as formerly it was generally supposed that the Cliff Dwellers came northward from Mexico.

The explorations of Mr. Moore head and Mr. Thorburn carried them along the courses of the Canadian and Cimarron Rivers in the Panhandle of Texas and thence eastward into New Mexico as far as the Mora Valley. In Mora Valley eight or ten typical Pueblo ruins were found in a fairly good state of preservation. From the Mora Valley eastward to the Oklahoma line the stone buildings of the Indians become smaller, more primitive and less important until they finally disappear.

Upon completion of the work done preparatory to this announcement, Messrs. Moorehead and Thorburn delivered addresses on the subject before the West Texas Normal School at Canyon. It was here that the first definite announcement of this important discovery was made.

This was the second archaelogical exploration trip Mr. Moorehead has made to this part of the country in connection with the tracing of the origin of the Cliff Dweller culture.

WESTERN UNION IS FAVORED IN JURY'S VERDICT

A verdict for the defendant was rendered Thursday by a jury in the county court at law in the case of Lula Lawrence of Burkburnett against the Western Union company in which she asked for $900 damages for failure to deliver a telegram.

According to the plaintiff petition the defendant company failed to deliver a telegram to her received at Burkburnett in June.

The message told of the death of her father in Hull, Texas. She alleged that she never received the telegram until she called at the office for it following a receipt of a letter from her brother asking why she did not attend the funeral of their father.

The damages asked were based on the grief and mental anguish of the plaintiff in not being notified in time so that she could attend the funeral. The defense introduced evidence tending to show that they used every effort to deliver the telegram but were unable to locate the plaintiff.

CHAMPION SUGAR EATERS.

Figures compiled before the war showed the American to be second among the peoples of the world in the consumption of sugar. He used 81.6 pounds a year then. The jam-eating Englishman was first, with an annual consumption of 86.3 pounds. The Frenchman, German and Hollander ate about 40 pounds each, while the Greek, Italian and Serbian consumed only seven pounds each. While comporative figures showing present consumption of the sweet material are not available, it is safe to assume that the American has displaced the Englishman and is now the world's champion sugar eater. The opinion is strengthened by statistics just published which show that between 1914 and 1919 the amount of candy and ice cream consumed in the United States per annum nearly quadrupled in value.

Sugar, used in moderation, is a valuable food; it produces energy for muscular work and, as a necessary accompaniment, body heat. But it is a highly cular work and, as a necessary accomconcentrated food and can be used to excess. Persons engaged in hard work out of doors can consume more sugar, to advantage, than those following sedentary occupations. There is some question of the desirability of a consumption by the average person of more than four or five ounces a day.

If we continue to increase our use of sweets the effect is not likely to be good. Because of its agreeable flavor, candy offers a temptation to make more carbohydrate food than the system needs. It is to be feared that we use sugar largely as an accessory to an already abundant diet. Carried beyond certain limits, this may make us a race of fat people; for sugar is fattening, and physicians advise that it be used sparingly by the corpulent.

There is reason to believe that candy and ice cream are being used by some persons as a substitute for strong drink. The harm that excessive consumption of sugar is likely to do is, of course, not to be compared with that done by over-indulgence in alcohol. But the need of moderation should also be held in mind in gratifying the appetite for sweets.

THE RED CROSS ON THE JOB.

True to form, the American Red Cross rose to the emergency at flood-swept Pueblo. Even before the extent of the disaster was fully realized, agents of the organization were on their way to the scene to reinforce the resident representatives in their work of practical, relief. An initial appropriation of $50,000 by national headquarters was quickly followed by a second of the same amount, and it was announced that more money could be had if needed. Red Cross nurses were quickly mobilized, supplies of tents and bedding and hospital equipment were quickly shipped.

Thus we have a striking illustration of the perfect system which characterizes the American Red Cross. Wherever there is need of helping hands it is on the job without delay. It is said that half an hour after the Wall Street explosion in New York, a year ago, the Red Cross was on the spot. Whatever the nature or extent of the disaster, it finds the Red Cross ready to render every service in its power.

Every new instance of its prompt efficiency provides an additional reason why it should receive the fullest measure of popular support.

CAULIFLOWER EARS.

The men with the cauliflower ears are classed with the rank profiteers; they box for a while and rake in a pile a bard couldn't gather in years. They spar for a few measly rounds, these brawny publicity hounds, and then they take in all manner of tin, including the shillings and pounds. And what does it matter, my friends, what pug to the limelight ascends? What boots it who'll rise to a champion's size, or who to the dumping place wends The fighters get rich in a year, when once in the front they appear; and peans of praise from a myriad jays are sung in each cauliflower ear. The scientist, scholar and sage, work on for a pitiful wage; they lack the doubloons for a package of prunes, their raiment is moldly with age. The pastors who bring the good news are needing new trousers and shoes; the stipends they draw barely pay for the slaw and the rent and the coal dealer's dues. The teachers instricting the young all feel in their hearts they are stung; they bitterly think their job's on the blink, as they labor the gossoons among. But the men of the cauliflower domes, who cannot write essays or pones, they brandish the paws the riches of several Nomes. But, gee, at the end of their years they often are busted, my dears; they blow in the cush that comes with a rush, the men with the cauliflower ears.

Editorial Digest

LEAKS IN THE "THREE PER CENT" ALIEN LAW.

The "three per cent" immigration law, never enthusiastically approved by the newspapers, is subjected to a new storm of criticism based on the report that more than eght thousand immigrants in excess of the quota were brought in during the first month in which the measure has been functioning. It is pretty generally agreed that the present machinery is insufficient to provide a "control" upon the foreigners leaving for America. Some writers suggest that solution may be found in placing immigration officials in the foreign ports and regulating the supply there.

As a temporary measure the excess number will probably be checked against the quota for the fiscal year, if the resolution now pending in Congress it put into effect. Meanwhile, says the Washington Post (Ind.) "it is impractical to keep the ineligible immigrants on board the ships and repugnant to humane instincts to send them back home." This complication "is not surprising" to the Post, "since it was predicted from the first that enforcement would prove difficult." The ship owners, it seems, claim that "the quota for June was announced late and excess figures could not be prevented this month." While this excuse appears legitimate it is easy to see, as the Chicago Journal (Ind.) points out, how other "grotesque" conditions may and can arise under the present scheme. A possible example is cited:

"The shiploads of immigrants sail from the same port for America. One boat breaks a propeller and is delayed. Her passengers are denied admittance; while those on the other vessel come in without let or hindrance. To offer American citizenship as the prize in a steamship race is rather a curious proposition * * * Those who are admitted should be selected on the other side, not put to the loss of coming here and being sent back."

The fault in cases like this, says the Newark News (Ind.) is not that "of the immigrants and only in a minor degree of the steamship companies," the trouble lies in "the lack of efficient machinery." There should have been enough "foresight in Congress" the News feels, "to guard against the present condition which has already brought forth a protest from the Italian government" but "the present confusion may be forgiven if action is taken immediately to handle the situation from the European end." The incident of the Italian protest, the Philadelphia Bulletin (Ind. Rep.) remarks, brings the question of immigration in to the diplomatic field, for:

"The general right of the United States government to regulate immigration is not abrogated by any treaty. But the Dillingham law involves contradiction of the particularly explicit language of the Italian treaty of 1871, exceptonal in this regard among the many treaties negotiated, which may disturb the general comity between the two nations and make trouble."

The "funmadental error" in the plan, according to the Boston Herald (Ind. Rep.) "is in trying to apply the quota limitation on this side of the Atlantic. The proper place to do it s in the sailing port in Europe. If American immigration officials were stationed there with authority to grant immigration permits up to the prescribed number the provisions of our present law would work smoothly enough." This method "seems preferable" to the Chattanooga News (Dem.) to "putting the whole responsibility on the shipping operators." Other tests "beside the number allotted to each country" such as are made at Ellis Island now, are required and it would be "more logical" to apply them on the other side, the News thinks, thus removing congestion in our immigrant stations here. Other complications here in regard to distribution must be faced the Philadelphia Public Ledger (Ind.) points out. The question arises:

"On what basis and by whom is the apportionment of the number of immigrants to each of the principle Atlantic ports of entry? Only fifty Italians are admitted here, for instance; by what rule was that limit fixed? At a time when industrial and other conditions at New York are requiring a diversion of shipping from that Port to Philadelphia, how can it be expected that such a quota can have any equity or any permanent value? It does begin to look as though the whole matter had been bungled, and it is not at all unlikely that Congress will have to come to the relief with some modification of the law."

The New York World (Dem.) feels that in the light of what has happened the law "is shown to be impracticable, for there is no way of counting" these future citizens "and loading them one by one on boats at European ports according to nationalities so that never a one over the monthly quota of Italians, Poles, Greeks, Spaniards, French, English, Irish and so on shall arrive." This division according to countries is further complicated by unstable boundary lines, as the Foreign Language press has pointed out with such emphasis. The Salt Lake City Desert News (Ind.) looks at the question from this angle. "There are countries," it says, "whose boundaries Europe itself has not yet defined. Shall America undertake to draw these boundary lines in order to determine the nationality of her incoming aliens? If not, who is to do it and when will it be done and in the meantime what is to become of the immigrants whose nationality is unfixed?"

Representing those who believe that the law has not, as yet, had a fair trial as the Providence Journal (Ind) and the Duluth Herald (Ind.) Says the former:

"Complete respect for the provisions of the act is imperative if a fair test of its worth is to be had in accord with the intent of Congress and the national demand for drastic restrictions upon immigration until the country can adjust itself to meet current conditions."

The Herald believes that "the three per cent law is right" at least "as a temporary arrangement" though it will "do injustice in many individual cases" and "shut out many desirable immigrants."

HERE AND THERE

HOW PAT GOT "IN BAD."

Jovial Celt "Pulled a Bull" a Second at Dinner.

Thomas O'Brien had fallen heir to a great fortune. He purchased a mansion and furnished it with the best money could buy. He added an art gallery, in which were placed many of the world's masterpieces. He gave a reception, to which he invited, among others, his old friends, the Dunnavents. The day after the party Mrs. Dunnavent said to her husband:

"Pat, you'll never get into society. You made mistakes every way you turned last night."

"Why, what's the matter? What did I do that was wrong?" said Pat.

"Well," said Mrs. Dunnavent, "when Mrs. Kavanaugh asked whether you had heard her daughter sing, you said, 'Of course we have; we couldn't get our windows down.' When we were in the art gallery and were looking at the statue of Venus de Milo, you said, 'Don't get so close to that mummy; they'll have you arrested for knocking its arm off.' Mr. O'Brien was calling the company's attention to the beautiful dimple in the cheek of Mona Lisa, when you suggested that it was caused by a missing tooth.

"Then the way you acted at the dinner table! You sat right down at the table and when it was announced that all would remain standing until Mrs. O'Brien said the blessing, you said she couldn't spoil your dinner. You complained about the toughness of the steak, and asked the butler how it was cooked. When he told you it was cooked by electricity, you told him to take it back and give it another shock. One of the women guests asked you to pass the nut cracker and you handed her an empty catsup bottle. Mrs. O'Riley asked her neighbor how she liked her Irish stew, and you piped up, 'She don't know yet; she's just married him'."—St. Louis Star.

FORTUNE FROM WEDDING FEE

A minister in the little town of Niles, Mich., was once given a fee to which he attached no value, but later proved to be worth more than 20 million dollars.

The fee was in the nature of a deed to forty acres of land, and was in payment for officiating at a wedding ceremony at the home of the Chapin family. The churchman paid no attention to the deed—he did not even record it. A few years later the big Chapin mine on the Menominee range was discovered. This forty acres was right in the heart of it. Twenty million dollars' worth of copper ore has been taken out, and it still has rich reserves.

A young lawyer heard about the wedding fee, searched the country for the minister, and found him on the Pacific coast. Suit was brought against the Chapins, and after a considerable wait, settle was made out of court for $200,000. The lawyer and the minister split even.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

FEWER IDLE FILM FOLK.

LOS ANGELES.—Estimates vary between eight and fifteen thousand as to the players of various degree and other studio workers who have been sufferers from the slump in movie production.

Except for the stars and near stars few of these people are employed continuously and are ill-prepared to meet long periods of idleness, and many of them are known to have been in need of help.

Theatergoers, who have formed an attachment for these people, will rejoice with them in the brighter conditions that have come to filmland. At Universal City thirteen companies are at work. Famous Players-Lasky are keeping six companies busy and preparing to remove their New York units to the West. William Fox has, counting his comedy units, twelve companies at work. At Brunton there are eight, at Metro, six; at Selig's, six.

Salaries Have Been Slaughtered.

Only at Goldwyn's and Robertson-Cole's, of the large plants, is there now an atmosphere of dejection. Reports to the studios say that theaters in all parts of the country have suffered an almost unprecedented slump. This and the foreign film invasion are believed to be the main causes of the blow which fell so heavily on the actors. Salaries have been slaughtered in the last year.

The salary of one widely known start is said to have been cut recently from $5,000 to $1,000 a week. Many of the new contracts are said to call for only a half or a third of the former salaries.

Illness Prompted Her Suicide?

Although all the printed accounts of the tragic end of Jack Mulhall's beautiful young wife have assigned the cause of her suicide to the realm of mystery, the cause is not known to the close friends of the couple. Mrs. Mulhall learned a month ago that she had incipient tuberculosis.

She left no note. The married life of the Mulhalls is known to have been happy, and on the morning of the day she used the fatal chloroform she held up their 3-year-old child for him to kiss as he left for the Mabel Normand studio, where he is acting in "Molly O" as leading man. Mrs. Mulhall who was 28, was known on the screen as Laura Bunton. Since marriage she had given all her devotion to her home.

Foolish and Costly Wives.

Manifestly neither side will admit it, but filmland gossip says not all is cordial in the relations of Universal officials and their ace director and star, Erich von Stroheim; that it is putting things mildly to intimate mere friction. The officials are said to have run out of patience with Van Stroheim and put on the brakes with a clang.

For nearly a year, at an expense aproximating an actual million dollars, the director has been making his production, "Foolish Wives." No other pictsre ever consumed so much time or money. Few have grossed a million in receipts, and it would be only natural if Universal officials should begin to wonder about the outcome of their record-breaking enterprise.

Once a director gets well into a production it is next to impossible to take the bit out of his teeth. To swap horses in crossing a stream is perilous. So movie production costs are at the mercy of a director.—Kansas City Times.

STAMFORD, Texas, June 29.—The Stamford Rotary club had for its guest of honor las tnight, Freeman Tilden, the well known contributor to the Curtis publications as well as other great periodicals.

The occasion was the dedication of the new Rotary room at the Stamford Inn. In addition to Mr. Tilden, other guests were the boys and girls who have been away attending college. The program was an elaborate one, there being some sixty-odd members and guests.

Mr. Tilden confined his remarks largely to tributes to the pioneer women of the West and his address was given a most cordial reception. Mr. Tilden has been in the Stamford country for the past week gathering data for future stories and has been the guest of the S. M. S. ranches. He returns to his Vermont home tomorrow and contemplates an early trip abroad to study conditions in the old world.

REPORT EXCELLENT WORK OF PIG CLUBS

Special to The Record News.

WASHINGTON, June 30—County agents in the Southern states report excellent work with pig club boys. A Texas boy sold 6 of a litter of 8 for $25 each, and another boy has 8 out of a litter of 9 spoken for at the same price. Another Texas boy sold his pigs for $425. The sow cost $150 a year ago. A county agent in Alfalfa county, Oklahoma, found considerable difference in the weight of the boys' pigs due to the manner in which the pigs were fed and the kind of shelter they had. The ones which made the greatest gains had clean pens and warm beds at night. From 200 pounds to 362 pounds was the range in weight. A WIFE IN THE MAKING

BY PHYLLIS PHILLIPS

CHERRY ANNOUNCES HER DECISION.

The Ladies' Literary Circle called upon Cherry that same morning, so she was unable to go down to the Hamlen dry goods store to apply in person for the position of designer, as she had intended doing. Far from swerving her from her purpose, her husband's words had but fired her anew to have some interest of her own in life. Something to keep her thoughts happy and healthy, above all else. She felt that she was becoming rusty as well as introspective here in her new surroundings. With some regular work that she loved to take up some of her day, she would feel like the sprightly, enthusiastic Cherry of old. This, alone, was an incentive.

Thwarted in her intention by the bustling arrival of the Ladies' Literary Circle, she dispatched a note to Arthur Hamlen, Jr., offering her services in his father's millinery department, and stating that she would call in person early the next day to apply in person for the position.

She also told of her experience in Chicago and referred them to her old employer. This done, she turned a smiling face to the enthusiastic literary lights who had descended upon her so unexpectedly.

The entire force, both old and young, were present, and after the greetings had been exchanged the ladies drew up chairs and stools on the large veranda and announced the object of their visit to Cherry.

"We want you, dear Mrs. Randall, as a new member, to be the first to discuss 'Main Street' as a novel, and a psychological study. And our idea is for you to write paper, criticising and sort of explaining the book to us, as you see it. Coming from a city, as you do, your fresh point of view will doubly delight and interest us. See?"

The Ladies' Literary stopped here, breathless from its own enthusiasm!

Cherry, overcome at the suggestion, could only sit smiling and hoping for inspiration from some source with which to meet this proposal.

"I want to thank you all for the very flattering suggestion," she commenced, nervously. "And I hardly know what to say. I have read 'Main Street,' of course, and I enjoyed it in parts thoroughly. But my own ideas coincide so thoroughly with Carol's that maybe my point of view would not be nearly as new as you think it will be!"

"Yes, indeed, it will," they insisted in chorus. "You see we all feel so Gopher Prairie, in our hearts, that we just don't think much 'bout Carol Kennicott, and as you say you do, your thoughts will be most valuable to our circle."

"Trapped!" thought Cherry to herself.

"But be gracefully so," was her second inspiration.

"I shall be delighted to read a paper of mine on the subject next Tuesday at your meeting," she said, after a short silence. "I shall do my best to have it ready. But if it shouldn't be, maybe you ladies will bear with me a little, as I am planning to go into business again, myself, shortly, and my time will naturally be a bit limited."

Here there was a suppressed excitement from the circle, and one and all leaned a little nearer to Cherry as she continued:

"I find that I have so much idle time on my hands here that it is absolutely necessary for me to take up some work to interest me. I have thoroughly enjoyed playing about for three months, but now I find that I am dissatisfied and must have something to occupy my time as well as my thoughts. You all have homes and most of you children to take up yours, but I am in a different position. Hence my decision."

One or two of the members nodded sympathetically at Cherry's words. The rest fanned themselves vigorously.

"I do admire your courage, Mrs. youngest members, enthusiastically. Randall," burst from one of the "I've always wished I had the courage to come out and do something worth while myself. But I just never did."

"I simply have to," answered Cherry quietly.

BANKERS CITED ON CONTEMPT OF COURT MOTION

A suit asking that P. P. Langford of this city and C. W. Coffey of Iowa Park be held for contempt of court for alleged misappropriation of funds belonging to the estate of Lucy O'Neil Saunders, deceased, was filed Thursday in probate court by W. C. Witcher, administrator of the estate.

The suit follows the hearing Wednesday of the motion of John O'Neil et al against W. C. Witcher, in which a strict accounting of the Saunders estate was asked, with an increase in the amount of bond of the administrator. At the conclusion of the hearing Judge J. P. Jones dismissed the motion.

Following the filing of the contempt proceedings Thursday Judge Jones issued an order citing the defendants to appear in Probate court and show cause as to why they should not be held for contempt.

According to Witcher's petition he deposited $15,000 for the Saunders estate in a bank at Iowa Park in the name of the defendants as an accommodation. The deposit was made the first of the year.

It is alleged that on June 22 that the defendants without authority applied this deposit to the payment of a note that the bank held against E. M. Foster, former partner of Mrs. Saunders in the oil business.

According to the petition the deposit in the bank was made purely for the accommodation of the defendants with written definite understandings to that effect among all parties concerned.

LET'S BARBECUE ANOTHER BUFFALO TODAY!

SPRINTING SPUDDERS, LED BY DARROUGH, WIN OPENER FROM GEORGE WHITEMAN'S BUFFS, 5-3

By C. F. CARTER.

Buffs? Buffs? Houston Buffs? What league is that team in, anyway? Can't seem to place 'em. Why, sure, sure; we remember now—that's the ball club that was indicted by the grand jury several weeks ago for obtaining the Texas league leadership under false pretenses! Slipped into first place when Jake Atz had his back turned and Walter Salm was absent-mindedly figuring out how many players he'd take to Memphis this fall!

The Buffs beat the Spudders? Man, that's rich; why the Spudders only yesterday cleaned that Houston crew 5 to 3, with Salm in St. Louis and Buddy Tanner somewhere out on the streets of Houston crying aloud for Paul Sentell to come out of the ball park and finish the fight.

Yeah, Buddy and Paul mixed it up again; when the scrappy little Spudder couldn't see one of Sentell's decisions at first base in the fifth inning. The operator didn't say who won the newspaper decision—he merely reported:

"Several players are now holding Sentell, and Tanner has been taken from the park."

And immediately a wild-eyed fan in the Airdome roared:

"Holding him!! Turn him loose and bring Buddy back!"

Rabbit Darrough turned the trick against Whiteman's Buffs yesterday, the little fellow hurling one of his best games. He held Houston to eight scattered hits, and appeared to be working smoothly at every stage of the contest—not straining himself as he has so often in previous games. Blades was the only Buff player who was consistently fortunate in solving Darrough's slants, the speedy second sacker hitting two home runs and a double.

Spuds Get to Potts.

Some day George Whiteman is going to free himself of that idea that Southpaw Potts can beat the Spudders. The gang collected nine bingles off Potts, and they were careful in almost every instance to plant said bingles at the proper times. As, for instance, in the third inning, when the Spudders scored first.

Darrough drew a pass, and promptly scored when Bob Bescher (back in the line up and going strong!) smashed the first ball pitched for a triple to right. Gros, McElwee and Clark died in order.

Blades evened the count in the same frame with his first homer, a mighty wallop to deep center. Eiffert singled to right, and Potts was safe at first when Grigg's dropped Darrough's peg. Baggan fanned, and Eiffert stole third. Potts tried to steal second, but Kitchens nipped him with a lightning peg to Clark—and Eiffert was held at third. Darringer walked. The clouded atmosphere cleared considerable, however, when, on an attempted double steal, Eiffert was nailed at the plate, Kitchens to Clark to Kitchens.

In the fourth the Spuds got to Potts for three hits and two runs. McDonald opened by flying out to left. Jake Miller singled to right, and went to second when Griggs beat out a slow roller down the third base line. On a passed ball both runners advanced—Kitchens struck out and Rabbit Darrough put his own little ball game on ice with a rip-snorting double to left that scored Jake and Cecil. Bescher flied out to Johnny Baggan.

An error by Danny Clark paved the way for another Buffalo tally in this frame. Bailey and Whiteman both died, but Bottomly reached first on Clark's boot, went to second on Doyle's right field single and scored when Bladess smashed a double to center. With Doyle on third, Darrough passed Eiffert intentionally and forced Potts to hit weakly to Clark for the third out.

Paul and Buddy Tangle.

The Sentell-Tanner mix-up occurred in the fifth. Baggan beat out an infield hit to third, and was forced at second by Darringer. Bailey hit to Gros, and the peg pulled Griggs off the bag. Sentell calling the runner safe. Buddy couldn't see it that way, and the fight started. The operator gave few details, except that it was a lulu while it lasted, that a large section of the crowd swarmed on the field, and that play was finally resumed after Buddy had been given the gate. George Whiteman then went out, Clark to Griggs, and Bottomley fanned.

The Spudders copped another in the sixth, and made their fifth marker in the seventh frame. In the sixth Griggs struck out, Kitchens walked and Darrough fanned. Kitch went to second on a passed ball, and Bob Bescher brought him home with a red hot double to center. Gross died, short to first.

McElwee singled to right to start the seventh, and went to second on another passed ball. Clark struck out, and McDonald popped to Blades. Jake Miller skied one to short, and he and Baggan collided, McElee racing safely home with the final score. Griggs popped to Blades also.

The Buffs made one last try in the eighth, and succeeded in pushing their third counter over. It was Bladess again, a circuit wallope over the left field fence this time.

Ladies' day today at the Airdome. Let's all, (all of us ladies) turn out and do some more tall yelling. Them Buffs is soft pickin's. Game called at 4 o'clock sharp.

PIRATES BUY BROTTEM, WASHINGTON CATCHER

By Associated Press.

PITTSBURGH, June 30.—The Pittsburgh National League baseball club has signed Tony Brottem, a catcher now with the Washington Americans, officials of the team announced here today.

Brottem, formerly of Little Rock, was claimed by Pittsburgh and Washington prior to the opening of the season. Judge Landis awarded him to the Senators. A cash consideration entered into the deal which brought the catcher to Pittsburgh. Brottem was ordered to report here today.

CRUISE TAKING BATTING LEAD FROM HORNSBY

By Associated Press.

BOSTON, June 30.—Two hits off the delivery of Fred Toney in the game with the Giants yesterday put Walton Cruise, hard hitting Brave outfielder, at the top of the National League unofficial batting averages. His percentage is .403. He leads Roger Hornsby of St. Louis, according to these figures, by two points.

PIRATES TAKE DOUBLE BILL FROM REDMEN

PITTSBURGH, June 30.—Pittsburgh won both games from Cincinnati by scores of 4 to 3 and 5 to 3 today. The first contest was a 11-2 inning play off of a protested game, the major portion of which was played May 28 and was won in the ninth inning, with two out, when Grim hit into the right field bleachers for a home run.

Luque was the pitcher and he also started the second game, but was driven from the box in the seventh when Pittsburgh broke a 2 to 2 tie and scored 3 runs on five hits.

Yellowhorse was unsteady, but fast fielding helped him materially.

GERSCH AND SOLDIER JACK READY FOR BATTLE TOMORROW

With the completion of the ring yesterday, the plans of the local American Legion post for tomorrow's big boxing exhibition at Athletic Park are in "apple pie order."

Martin Gersch and Soldier Jack are in the well known "pink of condition" for their 10-round bout, and even the five colored battle royalists are reported eager to mix it. Gersch and Jack will take light workouts today, but each boxer is in good shape and a worth-while exhibition should be the result.

All the plans are completed for giving the details of the Dempsey-Carpentier battle round by round (if it goes that many rounds!) and a big crowd of local fans is expected at the park tomorrow.

Martin Gersch, it might be added, reached the semi-finals at Pershing stadium as an A. E. F. contestant; he received the approval of Georges Carpentier, who refereed the light heavyweight boxing contests. The local post of the American Legion stated yesterday that following tomorrow's exhibition, it will challenge any post in Texas with Gersch as the Pat Carrigan Post representative at 170 pounds.

"She can wear an innocent look with few clothes."

BOTH SMILE TODAY. TOMORROW NIGHT ONE SMILE WILL BE MISSING

JACK DEMPSEY

GEORGES CARPENTIER

By Associated Press.

ATLANTIC CITY, June 30.—Jack Dempsey wants his contest with Georges Carpentier to end decisively with either himself or Carpentier stretched on the floor of the ring, if possible, before the 12 rounds have been fought out Saturday afternoon.

The world's heavyweight champion so declared himself today when he said he did not want a towel thrown in as an acknowledgment of defeat. A championship contest, he said, should be allowed to go to a knock-out without regard to the battered or helpless condition of either contestant. Dempsey also is opposed to having a contest stopped by the referee.

"The best way to stop a fight to suit everybody is to knock the other man stiff," Dempsey said. "Then there is no chance for argument. I don't want Carpentier's men to throw in a towel. I know when it comes my turn to 'take it' they are not going to throw in any towel for me. I will keep on fighting until I am counted out.

"Nobody is licked until he is counted out. If a fighter gets chicken hearted and doesn't put over the winning punch when his opponent is dazed and wobbling, he might get knocked himself by a wild, desperate swing. Such things have happened."

With ten long weeks of training behind him, Dempsey today is through with hard work until he defends his championship Saturday afternoon.

MANHASSET, L. I., June 30.—All members of Georges Carpentier's camp are confident that the blond Frenchman would be victorious in his battle with Dempsey next Saturday afternoon. Their various opinions follow:

Manager Descamps:

"Ah, my Georges never fooled me. Saturday I will be manager of the world's heavyweight champion."

Trainer Gus Wilson:

"Georges as a light-heavyweight came into contact with some of the world's cleverest and hardest hitting ringmen. He knows too much for Dempsey."

Captain J. H. Mallet, the challenger's friend and adviser:

"Georges has always risen to the occasion. He has never yet failed to carry out his intentions and he intends to beat Dempsey. I believe in him."

Lieutenant Pierre Mallet, the challenger's war comrade:

"We believe Carpentier's experience and ring generalship will carry him through to victory."

Joe Jeannette:

"Carpentier is too smart a fighter to lose this bout. He will be away when Dempsey hits and the champion will not be able to see his right hand, it will be that fast."

Charles Ledoux, French bantamweight champion:

"I think Georges will win because he has plenty of sense and knows how to take care of himself."

"Georges will win with a one-two punch and I do not think that Dempsey will be able to hit him one telling blow."

Italian Joe Gans, who sparred with the challenger, during three weeks of the training period:

"I believe Carpentier will knock out Dempsey in the fourth or fifth round with a right to the jaw. Carpentier is the fastest man for his weight that I have ever seen.

Chris Arnold:

"Carpentier has a right hand that never misses and it paralyzes when it strikes."

NEW YORK, June 30.—Eight-ounce gloves will be the weapons used by Dempsey and Carpentier in their match for the championship Saturday. This was announced today by Tex Rickard, promoter, who said the eight-ounce mitts were more favorable to the New Jersey boxing commission than those of the six-ounce variety. Managers of both fighters inspected the gloves and pronounced them satisfactory.

NEW YORK, June 30.—Jack Dempsey ruled the favorite among 165 sportsmen out of 225 interviewed as to the probable outcome of his match with Carpentier Saturday. Fifty-eight predicted the French challenger would don the world heavyweight championship belt, while a scattering few, including a college track trainer of considerable note, said they expected the bout to be about even.

NEW YORK, June 30.—When Jack Dempsey and Georges Carpentier face each other Saturday there will be present a greater assembly of national and international dignitaries than ever before attended a pugilistic contest in the history of the sport. France, England, Canada, Australia, Africa and even China and Japan have contributed their quotas in the crowds of fight fans already here. Many women are among the early arrivals and the official list of reservations indicated that not less than five thousand representatives of the fair sex, many of them socially prominent in New York and other sections of the country, will view the encounter.

At least one member of President Harding's cabinet, Attorney General Daugherty, will be at the ringside.

This was announced today by Tex Rickard, promoter, who said the eight-ounce mitts were more favorable to the New Jersey boxing commission than those of the six-ounce variety. Managers of both fighters inspected the gloves and pronounced them satisfactory.

Innumerable diplomates and political leaders whose names command respect throughout the United States and foreign countries have made their reservations.

Among the well known business men and financiers who will attend are J. P. Morgan, Henry Ford, Harry Payne Whitney, S. W. Baruch, Herry F. Guggenheim, Percy Rockefelier, Vincent Astor, Russell G. Colt, and others of equal prominence.

Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., assistant secretary of the navy, and Mrs. Roosevelt, Mr. and Mrs. Kermit Roosevelt, Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, Governor Edward I. Edwards of New Jersey and Miss Anne Morgan will be in boxes.

Hundreds of celebrities in the musical, theatrical and moving picture world already have engaged their seats. Among them are David Belasco, John McCormick, Morris Guest, William Farnum and Eddie Leonard. Douglas Fairbanks accompanied by a party of one hundred notables from the California moving picture studios, will arrive tomorrow, and a special train bringing one thousand enthusiasts from the ranks of Chicago business men will reach here Friday morning.

NEW YORK, June 30.—The gates of the arena in Jersey City, wherein Dempsey and Carpentier will box for the world's heavyweight championship on Saturday, will be opened to the public at 8 a. m., Promoter Tex Rickard announced tonight. The first preliminary bout will start at one p. m., sharp, and the principals in the championship bout have been instructed to enter the ring at 3 p. m., eastern daylight savings time (two p. m., eastern standard time, and one p. m., central standard time) he stated.

KIWANIS KONKRETES ACCUSE TOP FLOOR FLOUNDERS OF TRICKY TREACHERY AND CONTAMINATIVE CONNIVANCE AD LIB

By A KIWANIS KONKRETE

(Non-official editorial comment: Konkrete has nothing to do with head-ontents; it refers to something hard, such as ice; the meaning being interpreted from ancient Sanskrit refers to having the game laid up on ice. From the same ancient source we learn that Flounders are those who think they have the game laid on ice, but slide off and, boy, how they flounder!)

Incline a sympathetic ear, reader, while a few startling disclosures escape through this medium. The Wichita Top Floor Flounders and the Kiwanis Konkretes meet in a grudge fight this afternoon at 4:00 o'clock at Athletic Park. Nor can any man successfully deny the statement that no more worthy purpose can be found than the one which will benefit from this stellar struggle. Your attendance will mean that 75 cents has been added to the sum which will be used to care for the unfortunate children in Wichita County.

We are no sport writer as Nick is, but as ye know us all, plain, blunt men, that love fair play; and that they knew full well that gave us public leave to speak of it. And, Brethren, we rear up right now to protest against the calumny and false testimony that has appeared in this publication recently.

This contest was originally meant to be a friendly game played for charitable purposes. But certain literary extremities indulged in by the official pen of the opposition caused some of us to question the wherefore of such hullabaloo. It is with sadness tinctured with reluctance that we admit our fears were well founded. The Flounders thought that the murmurings against themselves would not be heard above the din they were manufacturing with no other fuel than hot air!

Truth crushed to earth shall arise again. Fair-minded reader, consider the true facts in the case, which follows:

1st indictment: The initial practice by the Konkretes was held on Tuesday. Through Lloyd Weaver's instruction the playing field at Athletic Park was drenched with water from Lake Wichita. Mischief, thou art afoot! And believe you me, the only reason the grounds weren't soaked yesterday afternoon was because of the fact that an armed guard prevented such underhand machination. The daylight battle between the guard and the bunch of mutinious Flounders makes material for another story.

2nd Ind.: It has been definitely proven that a couple of bootleggers, formerly of the Chicago White Sox, now known as the Chicago Balck Sox, are now in Wichita with Flounder money in their pockets. But some of these ice-skating Konkretes ran the foul plot to earth. They will not play in this game.

3rd Ind.: At all of our practices the Flounders had one or more representatives peeping through the cracks and the round corners, trying to learn our signals. Yesterday afternoon, Paul Von Allmen barely escaped being mobbed when he was found hiding in the press box watching our secret practice. I leave it to you, Mr. Reader and Family, did you ever hear of more blackguardly practices?

The Flounders made other efforts too wicked for the innocent public to read. We shall not therefore recount them. But it becomes our patriotic duty to say a few words in defense of the hirsute appendage. When were mustaches most generally worn? What does the wearing of one in the year of our Lord, nineteen and twenty one signify? It means, if you pleasure, that a man so adorned offered military aid to his country. Who then would be so bold as to suggest that these reminders of patriotic duty performed should be erased? And who so base as to call them Charlie Chaplins? Shame on Lloyd; Shame on Nick!

When the conflict shall have ended, the fans will perceive two different tunes floating over the beat waves. One will be a merry whistling tune, sounding forth from the hirsuted lips of the humble writer of these few words. The air will be one of glad victory. The other tune will be in the nature of a duet, sadly unharmonious, issuing from the unwhiskered lips of Nick and Lloyd. It will be a low threnody of defeat. Sad 'tis, 'tis, true!

JERSEY COMMISH GIVES PERMIT FOR BIG MIX TOMORROW

JERSEY CITY, N. J., June 30.—Chairman Robert L. Doherty of the New Jersey boxing commission tonight issued the permit for the Carpentier-Dempsey contest to the New Jersey Athletic club and George L. (Tex) Rickard.

The issuance of the permit and the statement of Prosecutor Garven, that he will not present the complaint of the International Reform bureau to the grand jury unless further evidence of a conspiracy is presented, virtually disposes of all legal difficulties in the way of the contest.

Doctors Wallace Pyle, J. R. Comoran and L. Heilstern were appointed as physicians to examine the boxers before they enter the ring.

Dr. Wilbur F. Crafts of the International Reform bureau in a long letter to Governor Edwards, made public today, demanded that he prevent the bout. Governor Edwards before receiving the letter stated:

"You may say that the fight will go on and will be conducted absolutely within the law."

Dr Crafts also wrote Governor Sproul of Pennsylvania who has been invited to the fight as the guest of Governor Edwards, asking him to stay away.

DEMPSEY LOAFS; SHOWS NO SIGNS OF EXCITEMENT

By Associated Press.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 30.—Jack Dempsey after a day of loafing and frolicking around the house went to bed at 9:30 tonight with his mind as peaceful as a five-year-old boy.

Tomorrow the champion and his party will leave for Jersey City to rest until called to defend the highest honors of the prize ring against Georges Carpentier, champion of Europe. The hour of the champion's departure tomorrow was a guarded secret. Not even his immediate handlers had been informed.

The location of the private residence in Jersey City where Dempsey will spend the night before the battle has not even been revealed to the champion.

While many persons have worked themselves into excitement over the contest, Dempsey, whose championship is at stake, apparently was the least concerned. Outwardly he was as happy and frisky as a youngster as he sat on the broad front porch this afternoon, cuffing Joe Benjamin, one of the sparring partners, around and joking with close friends.

The only time any mention of the fight was made when a rain soaked messenger came up on a wheel and yelled this at the champion:

"How long are you going to let Carpentier last, Jack?"

"Wait for 48 hours more and I'll tell you," the champion replied with a grin.

"I'll be an expert on the fight then myself."

Around 3 o'clock Dempsey's front porch looked like a political campaign headquarters. A crowd of 100 or more admirers from Chicago, who arrived this morning on a special train en route to Jersey City, came out despite the heavy rain for a round of hand shaking. He warmly greeted them with a friendly hand clasp.

WISDOM AND WORSE

BY C. F. C.

Going stronger with every passing day—and climbing steadily. It's your turn today, Abe. Pour it on 'em—that's the officially adopted slogan for the balance of the season; POUR IT ON 'EM!

At the eleventh hour last night we received a little dot and dash account of Buddy's run in with Sentell. When the dispute over the umpire's decision on Bailey at first base in the fifth inning began, Buddy rushed from the players' bench, and joined in. Hot words passed between him and Sentell, and "finally Tanner struck Sentell and Sentell retaliated," according to the story received.

"The men mixed it for fully thirty seconds before players interfered. When the game was resumed, Sentell went to the bench and ordered Tanner from the park. Tanner rushed him again and once more a fight ensued. Special officers rushed to the field, and Tanner was escorted from the ball park and thence to the police station. After the game Sentell also was taken to the station."

"Well, Buddy was fighting for the Spudders, and our heart's with him. We don't believe in fist fights on the ball field—but sometimes the provocation is great; and none of us here know what Sentell may have said to Buddy to provoke him.

That homer Blades lifted over the fence happens to be the first one parked at that particular point in two long years.

Right-o' Pop, old timer. The opposition will be furnished in large quantities. From Walter Salm on down to the bat boy every individual connected with the Wichita Falls club is possessed of that "never quit trying" spirit—and if the Cats take the big end of that series, Pop, you can lay a little bet they'll have to earn it.

One day the telegraph sport news is filled with dope about the "livelier ball"—and the next day three Texas League games go into extra innings, and two are called off on account of darkness with the scores tied; while the pitchers are smoking 'em over, and the "livelier ball" is mostly a foul to the catcher or a pop-up to the third baseman.

Jim Corbett has broken his long silence, and declares, apropos of the Dempsey-Carpentier tangle, "You can figure this fight more ways than one, and I'm not betting on it."

If Gentleman Jim says there is more than one way to figure the result, it's a cinch you can't lose if you bet there is only one way.

The difficulty is to select that one way.

Sam Hildreth wants the Quincy stables to pay him back the $115,000 he forked over for Playfellow a brother of the famous Man o' War, Hildreth contending that it has since developed that the horse is a "wind sucker" and in no condition to win a race.

Sam Hildreth, not Playfellow, it appears, is the sucker.

A big block of tickets sent here by Paul La Grave for grandstand seats for that July 4th doubleheader between the Spudders and the Cats is almost gone, Carl Stoecker reports. It is expected more than 100 local fans will get together in the Fort Worth stands and roar encouragement at the Sprinting Spudders. That's the spirit, gang!

Carl also repeats his invitation to the feminine fans of the city to come to the Airdome this afternoon, walk in without paying a nickel and see the Spudder-Houston battle play by play. It's "ladies' day," and they are all right welcome.

"Since I'm no language sharp,
Remarked Trebonius Platt,
"I simply call him 'Carp,'
And let it go at that."
—Anonymous.

"I can't pronounce in French,"
Remarked young Cicero Wray;
"I call him 'Carp' because His name's 'Kar-pon-tee-ay."

Those indicted ball players certainly have hired some slick lawyers. One Attorney Henry Berger, it appears, advances the contention among others, that "the players would have had to contemplate exposing the alleged conspiracy in order to have conspired to injure the American League, for there would have been no injury if the affair remained secret."

The argument being, we take it, that the only heinous offense committed by the Black Sox lay in being found out. Rats! Let's try 'em for that, then.

PHILLIES AND GIANTS FIGURE ON TRADE.

By Associated Press.

PHILADELPHIA, June 30.—William H. Baker, president of the Philadelphia National League baseball club, announced tonight he has traded John Rawlings and Charles Stengel to the New York Nationals for Goldie Rapp, Lee King and Lance Richbourg.

EVANGELIST PREACHES TO WOMEN ONLY

Another very large audience gave Evangelist Burke Culpepper thoughtful and prayerful attention last night at the open air tabernacle.

This morning at ten o'clock Mr. Culpepper will preach to women only at the first Methodist church, corner Tenth and Lamar. Tonight at 8 o'clock at the tabernacle the evangelist will preach to men only. At the same hour Mrs. E. C. Huckabee will address women only at the First Methodist church.

The large choir was right on the job last night, and the beautiful songs wafted out on the summer air and could be heard for blocks away. Mrs. Huckabee sang very sweetly "There Are Glories Untold."

Mr. Culpepper preached from the text, "How shall we escape if we neglect so great salvation." He said he had used part of the text before, but would only use the first of the text, "How shall we escape if we neglect."

Mr. Culpepper said he had asked Dr. Knickerbocker what in his judgment was the greatest sin, and the answer was "unbelief." He said he believed if next to the meanest man in Wichita Falls should be dying and should ask the meanest man in town how to find God he could tell him. He said that men do not forget to get deeds to oil leases, see that the title is clear on the house they buy, but they neglect to take a spiritual invoice of themselves.

Three great days were mentioned by the speaker—the day of creation, the day of calvary and the day of judgment. He said he had often wondered how it looked from the throne—the broken vows, wrecked homes, blasted and doomed lives—all through neglect, to omit by carelessness.

The evangelist said that men did not have to get drunk, beat their wives, murder, ruin some girl, as bad as all that is, to go to hell, but simply neglect God—sit still and leave him out of their plans.

Mr. Culpepper said if the mother neglects the child, or the doctor should neglect the patient, or the nurse would neglect her duty, or the teacher neglect to train the child properly the town would rise up and would have a right to protest, yet the people of Wichita Falls are neglecting God every day. Family prayer and grace at the table was being neglected in many homes, and instead of putting God first He is being put last.

Mr. Culpepper said he always hated to close a meeting, for there were those who would be left out—who would stay out because of neglect. He said that this great meeting had been sandwiched in between some men and death; that he never saw better weather; that he had never been treated fairer by the newspapers, they had been most generous with their space; the people have been cordial and kind in many ways, yet a great many were leaving God out of their plans. He said when people here were making money by the millions they spit in God's face, and now that adversity has come to them they are turning their backs on God. He begged his great audience not to put death and sorrow in the budget, but God was ever making divine gestures, calling to Wichita Falls to put Him first.

Quite a number gave their names for church membership, which has run the total up to more than four hundred since the meeting began.

COLLEGIANS PLAN SUMMER WORK AS PART OF COURSE

By Associated Press.

PRINCETON, June 30.—Twenty undergraduates of Princeton University will spend their summer vacations or part of them in attending the great university of American industry—that is they are going to work wherever they can get a job in order to study the conditions of wage earners and their relations with their employers.

They intend to live, eat and sleep as other laborers and wage earners. Every week they will meet in groups to discuss things they have learned and prepare a report to be given to other college men and future employers. One of the purposes is to see if they can discover means of improving the conditions of the wage earners.

Fir six weeks before the university closed, 66 Princeton men voluntarily attended a course of lectures in which they listened to speakers alternately representing the standpoint of labor and capital. They studied books on industrial conditions to equip them for their effort to deal with what they regard as perhaps the greatest problem facing America and Europe today.

They say they do not hope to revolutionize the conditions of the wage earners but they do hope to be able to make to employers and capitalists a few suggestions gained from first-hand knowledge of conditions in American industries.

The plan was suggested by Sherwood Eddy, a Young Men's Christian Association secretary who lectured here on social problems.

Some of the Princeton men already are at work in New York, Philadelphia, Denver, Minneapolis and other cities. They agreed that none of them should accept a job if by so doing he threw out of employment another man. The committee in charge secured positions for more than one-half of the applicants and these were given to men who were working their way through college. The rest are seeking their own places.

Princeton is not the only college to adopt the plan but is taking one of the most active parts in carrying it out. Last summer a group of California students worked in Denver, following a plan something like that which the Princeton men will attempt.

KINDNESS WINS FORTUNE.

ROME, Ga., June 30.—Kindness to a blind man has led Allison Gravely, ten-year-old youth, to a fortune. Ed Cousins, the blind man, cut off dozens of relatives in his will and when he died the boy inherited $10,000. The boy was adopted by Cousins, but a contest over the will probably will be made. The youth led Cousins about Rome for several years.

ZITA HAS NOT GIVEN UP HOPE FOR HER THRONE

PARIS, June 30.—"Cherchez la femme"—that old French proverb was never so true as during the recent attempt of Charles of Hungary to regain his throne in Budapest. It was stated that only one person knew of his coup d'etat and that only one person prepared the plot. That person was Empress Zita of Bourbon Parme, Charle's wife. Even in her childhood, acording to Monsieur de Bonnefon, a well-known French writer, Empress Zita was known for her domineering ways, as well as for her lovable and winsome manners. By her love she won over to her the people of Hungary, although she was a foreigner to them, for she comes of the French branch of the Bourbon Parme family. In Switzerland Charles and his wife became known as the young lovers. Zita is considered one of the prettiest monarchs of Europe. Unfortunately she has high ambitions and thirsts for luxury and an easy life, which she has not had in Switzerland since her exile. Thus she was goaded to persuade Charles to make his bold bid for his crown. She is considered the best of mothers and takes the utmost interest in her five children. Today she has not given up hope of returning to Hungary.

'CARP' FINISHES TRAINING; SAID TO BE ON EDGE

By Associated Press

MANHASET, N. Y., June 30.—Georges Carpentier finished his long training stunt this afternoon, breathed a sigh of relief and said he was glad it was over. He added that he felt better than he ever had before a fight.

Despite a heavy rain that fell throughout the day, Georges worked hard and when he finished, Trainer Gus Wilson announced that the challenger was on edge.

Early this morning, Carpentier accompanied by Charles LeDoux, Paul Journee and Pierre Mallet, hurried off to the woods. They jogged for a while and when caught in a heavy shower found shelter in an old barn. Here Georges shadow boxed for half an hour and performed acrobatic stunts, utilizing a rafter for his horizontal bar. Trainer Wilson then arrived with rain coats and the party ran back to camp.

After lunch, Georges went to the gymnasium and worked for half an hour. When he finished he jumped on the scales and tipped the beam at 172 pounds. He appeared delighted and remarked that this was the heaviest that he had ever been before a fight.

Tomorrow Carpentier will exercise lightly for about half an hour. No visitors will be permitted to enter the camp and Georges will retire early tomorrow night. It is likely, Trainer Wilson said today, that he would go through a light exercise Saturday morning, lunch about 10 o'clock, then go by motor to New York, thence to Jersey City to the home of a friend where he will remain until about two o'clock.

Then he will hurry to the arena in order to be in the ring when the preliminary instruction and picture taking begins.

A Man Who Refused to Be "As Good As Dead"

The Story of Roger W. Babson.
By Mary B. Mullett

One day, back in 1902, a young man was sitting in the bedroom of a little house in Wellesley Hills, a suburb of Boston. Although it was February, the windows were wide open and the young man and his wife were bundled in blankets and wraps to protect them from the cold.

For weeks he had lived in that room, most of the time in bed fighting a desperate illness. Over and over he had asked his wife and the physician what was really the matter with him; and always they had put him off with the statement that a cold, which he had contracted the previous autumn had, "settled on his lungs." But both of them had realized that the time would come when the sick man would insist on knowing the truth. It came that day in February.

"What is the matter with me" he demanded for the hundredth time; and added, "I'm not going to be kept in ignorance any longer."

That time he got the truth. As gently as possible he was told that he had tuberculosis; not incipient, not a mere threat of the disease, but a fully developed case, which already had destroyed one lung and attacked the other.

To most men it would have seemed like a sentence of death, or, at least, the giving up of any hope of an active, useful, and successful career. But to this young man it means only one thing—a recognized enemy to be fought and overcome, instead of being stunned by the blow, his eyes lighted up with something almost like relief, and his emaciated face took on lines of grim purpose.

"All right!" he said. "Now, that I know what's the matter with me, I can go to work to cure it!"

That young man was Roger W. Babson, known throughout the country today as a business statistician, the head of a large and unique organization, a virile and striking personality.

The story of his progress from that sick bed in a little rented house, to health, position, and prosperity, is a truly remarkable one.

Having found out what was the matter with him, he went to work to cure it, just as he had said he would. The doctor's orders were followed to the letter: Open air, complete rest, plenty of nourishment—he made it his sole business, for the time being, to get those essentials.

A little later, on the advice of his physician, he and his wife went West. And because he was determined to live, and backed up his determination with a scientific methodical, confident pursuit of health, he did live.

Merely to continue to live, however, was not enough for him. Although he was shy a lung, there was nothing the matter with his brain. An idle body did not mean an idle mind. To Roger Babson anything except an active and useful career was unthinkable. With him, living meant working.

He had been born in Gloucester, Massachusetts, the son of a merchant in that town; and from his earliest boyhood he had worked, because he liked it.

"I don't think I ever played a game of ball in my life," he told me one evening as we sat in the study of the house he has built overlooking the beautiful country around Wellesley. "Even as a youngster, I liked work. It interested me. In summer, when the other boys were playing, I used to take a horse and wagon and sell vegetables from house to house.

"Work is exactly what we make it by the way we think about it. Any boy, for example, likes to drive around with a horse and wagon. But the pleasure I got out of it was doubled because I did it with a purpose. I was accomplishing something. And when all is said and done, that is the one great satisfaction in life—to accomplish things.

"Thanks to my father, I early learned to enjoy business. Even when I was only a boy, he used to talk to me about his store. It is a great pity that more fathers do not interest their boys in business by discussing it with them. A boy's mind is intensely active, and a father can exert a wonderful influence for good by giving that eager, alert intelligence something real to busy itself with. Many of the things which I now recognize as fundamental business principles I can go back and find expressed by my father in those early talks."

Roger W. Babson in Winter Working Costume

As the boy grew older he studied civil engineering at the Massachusetts School of Technology. He never made use of that training by doing actual construction work. Nevertheless it secured for him his first position, for because of it he was employed by a Boston bank to examine the properties of traction companies whose securities the bank handled.

It was while he was engaged in one of these investigations that he contracted the cold which developed into tuberculosis and apparently put him out of the business running.

At twenty-five, invalided out West, he faced two necessities, the necessity of supporting himself and his wife—and also the necessity of finding some new way of doing it.

He was told that, if he was to live at all, he must live absolutely in the open air. This meant that he could not go back to his old position in the bank. He was told that for a long time he must not do anything requiring physical exertion. Yet "work in the open air" almost inevitably meant physical exertion. He was also told that he never again could live in the East. Yet the East was where he wanted to live; not only because his friends and family were there, but also because the work which interested him and in which he had experience was at that time largely confined to the East.

It looked as if the problem could not be solved. But you cannot stop Babson from doing anything by telling him that it can't be done. You can neither scare him out of it, nor laugh him out of it. People have tried both, and he has gone right straight ahead, doing what he set out to do.

For example, when the doctors told him that he must live in the fresh air, and that the West was the only place that this could be done, he thought the matter over, and decided hat there was just as much fresh air on the Atlantic coast as on the Pacific, and that the reason people went to a mild climate to get rid of tuberculosis was because they were not willing to endure the discomfort of living out of doors in a cold climate.

But cold did not frighten him. And the East was wher he wanted to live. So he determined to get his fresh air where he wanted to get it.

Having come to that decision, he and his wife went back to the little house in Wellesley Hills. But on arriving there they were surprised and somewhat incensed to find that, although their lease had two years to run, their goods had been stored in one or two rooms and new tenants were about to move in. Naturally they demanded an explanation from the landlord. And they got it. But it was not exactly an enlivening one.

"Why, you see * * *" stammered the gentleman in question, "they told me you were as good as dead! Anyway, you never could come back here. So I thought I might as well get a new tenant."

Well, the new tenants did not move in! And the Babsons did. They put their little twenty-two-dollars-a-month house in order, and the man who was "as good as dead" went on with his fight to live. He still had to spend most of his time in bed, but the windows were always wide open, no matter how cold it was. And sometimes the mercury went down in the sub-basement of the thermometer, around fifteen degrees below zero.

Slowly the invalid gained strength. But it was a long and tedious process. And meanwhile the work problem seemed as difficult of solution as ever. Lying there practically helpless, fed with milk and eggs every few hours, read aloud to by his wife—to whom he gives the credit for his recovery—Babson had plenty of time to think. And finally his thinking bore fruit in a definite plan.

Just because his body was incapacitated, Babson did not see any reason for letting his brain be idle, so he used to look over the monthly reports of railways and other companies. He knew that if he were a well man, back at his job in the bank, he would be analyzing and tabulating those reports in detail. In fact, he knew that other bank clerks were even then doing that very thing, each for his own particular institution. And it occurred to him that here was a duplication of effort which was very expensive.

Why not have that analysis made by one man, instead of by many? Why couldn't he be the one man to do it? He could receive reports, analyze them, tabulate them, and send them to several banks, thus dividing the expense among them. And he could do it in his open-air bedroom just as satisfactory as at a desk in a bank.

With this vision of a service which he could perform, he immediately sent out letters explaining his scheme, and the result was that eight banks agreed to pay him $12.50 a month each to do the work for them. On this income of $100 a month he could realize his determination to be self-supporting; and he would have the satisfaction of being once more an active and useful member of society instead of a helpless parasite.

He engaged a girl stenographer at four dollars a week; and in that sick-room, the man who was "as good as dead" started what has become one of the famous business services of the country. Incidentally it may be mentioned that the four-dollars-a-week stenographer is still with the Babson organization, but at an annual salary that runs into five figures.

Gradually, from that small beginning, the business grew. First, a high-school boy was hired a few afternoons a week. By the time he graduated, a full-time position was ready for him. Soon the house next door was rented and used for offices. Then they were moved to a business block in Wellesley.

For the cision of the man behind the work broadened as the business and his strength increased. At first, as he puts it, he merely "collected and sold" business statistics. Then his original service to the eight banks grew into a "Composite Circular of Bond Offerings." He found that there were thousands of unlisted bond issues not quoted in financial reports. One seller, or one buyer, had no way of knowing what the other sellers were asking, or what other buyers were paying. The result was that some buyers paid as much as ten points more than others were paying in the same city for the same bonds.

When Babson announced that he was going to list these thousands of bonds, with the names of the owners who wanted to sell, and of persons wishing to buy, together with the prices at which sales were made, people laughed at him, and said it couldn't be done.

But that didn't bother him. He just went ahead and did it! And he did not stop with doing that; he next developed the "Babson Stock and Bond Descriptions," a service which revolutionized the old system for supplying information relative to corporations.

Later he sold both these services, which are still carried on by their present owners, and devoted his time and energy to the "Babson Reports." He bought control of the Moody Manual Company and established the Babson Statistical Organization, which is today the largest statistical organization of its kind in the world.

You would not dream, if you saw him, that he had been forced to fight his way to health. He is clear-skinned, clear-eyed, strong-voiced; the very embodiment of energy, physical and mental.

His own office has windows on three sides, and they are open the year round. When his secretary must work there in winter, she wears a huge cloak with a hood. And as she is obliged to encase her hands in mittens, she does her typewriting by striking the keys with rubber hammers. Babson himself wears a specially designed coat, with an electrically heated pad in the back.

The man who has was good as dead seventeen years ago is alive, energetic, prosperous, and happy today. During the war he worked for the Government in connection with the Department of Labor at Washington. When his duties there were over, he went back to Wellesley Hills; and with that same broadening of vision which has marked every step of his progress, immediately planned and started a new phase of his work; this time the Babson Institute, for the training of business executives.

The thing he said that dad in February, 1902, is the key to the whole matter:

"All right! Now that I know what is the matter with me, I can go to work to cure it!"—Reproduced with the permission of Mr. John M. Siddall, Editor, The American Magazine.

HARDING TO BE AT MISSOURI CENTENNIAL

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 30.—Missouri will celebrate her 100th birthday as a state on August 10. Proud of her record, her growth and her progress, she is making plans to commemorate the event by a monster centennial celebration to be held in connection with the state fair at Sedalia from August 8 to August 20.

It was on August 10, 1821, that Missouri was admitted to the Union as a state. And assurances have been received that on August 10 this year President Warren G. Harding will be the guest of honor of the Missouri Centennial Exposition and deliver an address in the amphitheater in Sedalia. It is expected that General John J. Pershing, Rear-Admiral Robert E. Coontz, General E. H. Crowder and other prominent Missourians will also attend on that day.

Two hundred and thirty-nine years ago, on April 9, 1682, the French government voyager and explorer La Salle, having slowly made his way up the mighty Mississippi, "Father of Waters," and crossed westward through the Ozark country, claimed what is now Missouri in the name of the King of France. The territory was part of "Louisiana" and it was sold to the United States on December 20, 1803. In 1804 congress divided the territory into upper and lower Louisiana, and in 1812 Missouri was organized as a territory with an assembly and governor.

In 1818 Missouri applied for admission as a state, but two years of bitter controversy followed during which were evolved the "Dred Scott decision" and the famous "Missouri Compromise." Finally after three years of ceaseless effort, Missouri won her statehood.

The centennial exposition commemorating that event will be featured by "The Pageant of Missouri," which represents in fifteen episodes the growth of Missouri from a frontier community to a great sovereign state.

To Strike Centennial Coin.

The pageant will depict all the important episodes in Missouri history with great scenic settings, wonderful lighting effects, and with more than 5,000 characters taking part, attired in the costumes representative of the various periods of Missouri history. Rehearsals of the pageant have already begun, while a corps of thirty scenic artists are at word on the pageant settings.

Invitations have been extended to all native Missourians and former residents to return to Missouri for the exposition. Special trains are coming from all directions—one from as far away as Los Angeles, to bring Missourians "back home."

There have been fifty-two governors of Missouri. They have approximately 1,000 living descendants. All have been asked to be special guests of the exposition on "Descendant's Day," August 9.

Two hundred and fifty thousand centennial half dollars will be struck off by the United States mint at Washington. These coins, of the regular size and value, will be cut from a special die. On one side will be the state seal of Missouri while on the other side appears a pioneer's head, with the inscription: "Missouri Centennial—1821-1921." The coin was designed by Robert Aitken, of New York city, and the pieces will be issued as change at the ticket windows at the exposition.

In addition to the historical features and exhibits there will be many other attractions, including horse races, an aerial circus, auto races and special exhibitions of fireworks.

Sedalia is busily preparing for the entertainment of visitors. "Every home in Sedalia, from the most humble to the most palatial, will be thrown wide open for the entertainment of visitors," says Mayor F. F. Hatton, of Sedalia. More than a million are expected to attend the event.

SAY COMMUNISTS PLAN COLONY IN SOUTH AMERICA

By Associated Press.

REVAL, Esthonia, June 30.—According to recently intercepted correspondence from Communist officials in Moscow to Communist agents abroad, advising them of the "inside situation" in Russia, South America is looked upon as a final haven of refuge by many of the less hopeful Bolshevik leaders in event Russia becomes too hot for them.

One of these letters, recently published in a Reval newspaper, the Poslednie Novosti, advises one of the official's friends, who now is apparently in Germany, to "convert your valuables into dollars as frequently as you can, or, better still, into South American currency."

"The Octobrists," the letter adds, meaning by them those Communists who participated in the October, 1917, revolution, "are frequently sending their families abroad. Soon, it may be, I shall send my wife across to you, in which case try to put her up as best you can."

Referring to the political situation, this Communist wrote: "Illitch (meaning Lenine, that being, his middle name by which he is popularly known in Russia) is weakening. Zinovieff has grown too fat. Trotzky alone remains as of old the unrecognized Napoleon, but he is 'evolutionizing' also."

In connection with the sending abroad of the families of the "Octobrists," this letter goes on: "Will you kindly keep a detailed account of their arrivals and of their means? Further, by a decision of the military department of the party, I want you to withdraw from the banks all the deposits at your disposal and put them in safe hands. Bring to Switzerland one-third of the iron fund and hand it to B——. The rest can be left in Germany for any eventualities."

The writer constantly refers to the ruling councils of the Bolsheviki as "the Olympians," and remarks that "our Olympus is going the pace too fast."

"From January," he says, "the situation in the council of the party and in the Centrral Committee has come to a point to the last degree. The result of these conflicts was the expulsion of Comrades Krylenko, Bontch-Bouruvietch, Dubov, Blumenthal and many others. This was the last gesture of the gay party gods. For a word said against Illitch, Krestinsky or Zinovieff, even not in public, ostracism is imminent."

HILLS OF ITALY TO BE INVADED BY MODERN DEVICES

By Associated Press.

ROME, June 30.—Hill towns of Italy which dot the landscape from north to south and have been the subject of writers and painters for centuries are threatened with an invasion of modern mechanical contrivances which will rob them of their aged romance and unspoiled picturesqueness.

The hill towns are relics of the old feudal system. The lord of the manor built his castle upon a hill and the whole of his vassals clustered their inhabitations about him. The position on almost inaccessible heights was sought for safety from invading neighbors. These towns dotting the hills today almost untouched by the centuries. The walls of the house are thick and strong. Food has been hauled up to the hills by hand labor and horses since they were built. Women carried on their heads the water and other household necessities.

The plan now is to build Alpine railways from the plains to the hills as labor saving devices. The perfect Alpine cable lines which the Italian army built over the Alps during the war are being sought for the work. Already a number of the towns have applied to the ministry for the discarded Alpine cables so that they can be erected for the towns.

JAPAN AND CHINA TO DISCUSS LINES FOR BOUNDARIES

By Associated Press.

TOKIO, June 30.—The Japanese government is about to enter upon negotiations with the Chinese government, says the Hochi, to conclude an agreement for the maintenance of order in the boundary districts of Korea and Manchuria. The drift of the agreement has already been handed to the Peking government and negotiations will be opened.

The principal points of the new agreement will be as follows: (1) Chinese authorities will be responsible for controlling malcontent Koreans in Chinese territory; (2) Japanese authorities are responsible for guarding against any disorder of Chinese bandits in Korea; (3) prohibition of smuggling arms and war supplies.

JAP AND CHINESE OPPOSE SETTING GOLD STANDARD

By Associated Press.

TOKIO, June 30—Opposition both by Japanese and Chinese merchants at Dairen to Japan's attempt to set up the gold standard in the Kwantung leased territory as a substitute for the Chinese silver standard is a leading subject of discussion in Japan.

The conservative Jiji Shimpo thinks that if the adoption of a gold standard can facilitate and increase transactions, it should be carried out, however strong the opposition to it may be. But if, on the other hand, the proposal is calculated to depress and interfere with transactions, it should be opposed. From this point of view, that newspaper thinks, it seems that there is reason for the present opposition. It is Chinese who buy in the interior districts the staple products of Manchuria and bring Monoglia and bring them to the Dairen marked.

They buy on the silver basis and when Dairen transactions are based on a silver basis, as at present, they are free from the danger of charges in the parity of gold and silver. If a gold standard is adopted they may desert the Dairen market in favor of Vladivostock or Harbin. Moreover, changes in the parity of gold and silver may make it impossible for some Chinese to execute contracts. Under the existing system the risk of a change in the parity of gold and silver is borne chiefly by Japanese exporters who are not only capable of bearing it, but can shift the burden to others with the result that there is no serious obstable to transactions.

The Jiji urges the government to make clear to the public its reasons for wishing to impose the gold standard.

LONDON, June 30.—All London is interested in a kitten that has just been born. It is generally tabby, but on its white stomach is "1921" distinctly marked in gray fur.

The theory is that before the kitten's birth the mother's favorite resting place was a spot where a sack marked "1921" was continually before her eyes. The kitten's owner refuses to sell it.

"How fortunate it is," remarked a morning paper, "that women are not born with the date of in them."

OPPOSITION NAMED FOR LILY WHITES

Announcing their candidates and platform for the scheduled election of officers of the University club to be held next Tuesday the following statement was issued Thursday by Dr. T. J. Strong and W. J. Townsend, committee choosing a ticket opposed to the "Lily Whites:"

"The committee appointed by President Guy Rogers of the University club to nominate the new officers for election at next Tuesday's luncheon, has spent a considerable amount of time and deliberation on this matter and the following named below are the candidates:"

President—Richard (Dick) Bailey.
First vice president—Norris Ewing.
Second vice president—W. S. Curlee.
Secretary—Edgar P. Haney.
Treasurer—L. R. Buchanan.

"These gentlemen are all well and favorably known to the citizens of Wichita Falls and especially to the members of this club. They are men of sterling worth and integrity, hustlers and boosters for the city and the club, and more will be said about them at Tuesday's luncheon."

"This committee is for everything the other committee is for, absolutely—that was not much—and for everything else, that is for the benefit of this city, county and state, but we are principally for what the club stands for, and that is "physical, intellectual, and cultural development and support of community interests."

"We are neither "Lily White" nor "Lamn Black," but are for "The City that Faith Built," first, last and all the time" for her progress and development, and we are behind the Chamber of Commerce and every other club in this city in their every undertaking if we can help, at any time."

"That's our platform, and the above gentlemen are the ones that can be depended on to carry out these views and the club's policies, and we respectfully request that every member of the University club will kindy give this list their careful consideration before next Tuesday at noon."

Respectfully submitted,
DR. THOMAS J. STRONG,
Chairman.
W. J. TOWNSEND,
Committee.

MORE MONEY ASKED FOR JAIL BOARD

Wichita county will be asked to allow a greater rate for the feeding of the prisoners at the county jail.

Announcement to that effect was made Thursday by H. C. Dakan, chief deputy sheriff, following a check on the amount allowed for the feeding of the prisoners during the month of June and the board bill incurred for the month by the sheriff's department.

Based on the present rule of allowing the sheriff's department 50 cents per day for the feeding of a prisoner the county paid a prisoner's board bill of $666.50 during the month of June.

Although a complete check on the expenditures of the sheriff's department for the feeding of prisoners during the month had not been completed Thursday night it was apparent according to Mr. Dakan that the actual grocery and meat bills of the month would hardly be covered by the amount allowed by the county under the 50 cent rate.

An increase, the exact amount of which has not as yet been decided upon will be asked of the county commissioners' court by the sheriff's department at its next meeting. According to a law passed at the last session of the legislature the commissioner's court can allow up to a $1 per day for the feeding of prisoners. The previous maximum has been 50 cents a day.

The action of the sheriff's department in asking for the increase is in line with that to be taken by sheriffs' offices in other counties since the new law became effectice last month.

The county commissioner's court in Young county, since the law became effective has increased the rate to a $1 per day as the maximum allowed. So far as known it is the only county in this section that has yet asked for the increase.

HUBBY FORGIVES WIFE WHO FLED WITH CHAUFFEUR

Mrs. Bessie Gilbert.

MILWAUKEE, June 30—A home of luxury and a forgiving husband or jail is the choice given Mrs. Bessie Gilbert, Allentown, Pa., wife of E. W. Gilbert, wealthy president of the Ryan Paper Box company.

Mrs. Gilbert is in jail here following her automobile elopement with her chauffeur, William Fogel.

"I am willing to forgive and forget," Gilbest told police on arriving here.

"I want Mrs. Gilbert to return home with her husband," said the chauffeur, as he paced his cell.

Mrs. Gilbert has issued no statement. Her attorney, Oscar Nebell, said she would return to Allentown with her husband.

Gilbert also brought a message of forgiveness to Fogel from his wife. She will forget, Gilbert said, providing Fogel will return home and support his family.

The couple is being held on a statutory charge. Gilbert will urge the district attorney's office to dismiss the charges that the two families may become reconciled.

Mrs. Gilbert, daughter of a wealthy manufacturer and graduate of a fashionable eastern school, was arrested with the chauffeur when found to be living in a downtown hotel under the name of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Foster.

BIG DEMAND FOR EXPORT BULLS WHEAT

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, June 30.—Signs of liberal export business had a bullish effect on the wheat market near the end of the session today despite strike talk and notwithstanding better weather prospects northwest. The close was firm, ¼ to 1⅛c higher with July 1.24¼ to 1.24¾ and September 1.23¼ to 1.23¾. Corn lost ½c to 1⅛c. And oats, half cent to 1⅛c. In provisions the outcome varied from 2½c decline to 10c advance.

Weakness in the wheat market until the final hour was based partly on action of grain elevator employes here in refusing to arbitrate wage troubles and partly on chances of cooler weather and rain northwest, where blight had been feared on account of continued heat.

The fact that country offerings were rather scarce tended to strengthen values in the late dealings.

Prospective heavy deliveries tomorrow on July contracts was a depressing factor in the corn market. Oats declined in sympathy.

Provisions averaged higher with hogs and as a result of buying supposed to be for European account.

WHEAT CAR SHORTAGE IS NOT FEARED

No shortage of freight cars to move the wheat crop is anticipated by the local railroads although there may be a scarcity, they report, within a month.

Local railroad officials believe the situation will not cause any trouble on account of the relatively large surplus of grain cars at the start of the season, the Denver having 800 cars to start on and the Katy 700 in reserve, and other roads in proportion.

Movement of wheat is brisk for this time of the year, an average of about 65 cars a day being handled on the Northwestern alone. The Denver, Wichita Valley and the Southern report a very active movement.

Although the price is considered somewhat low for wheat local grain men predict that there will be little holding and that the growers will sell at the present prices. This prediction is taken as ground for anticipating as scarcity of wheat car tonnage.

The delay in returning wheat cars from the terminal and export points such as New Orleans and Galveston is also assigned by local railroad men for the danger in a scarcity in tonnage.

TARIFF BILL UNSETTLES STOCK MART

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, June 30.—Today's stock market was unsettled by publication of the tariff revision bill now before the house. Many standard shares reacted two to five points and speculative issues fell five to four.

Oils, particularly were adversely affected, the proposed import duty of 35c a barrel on crude products causing acute weakness in all shares of foreign origin.

Mexican petroleum fell to 98¼ from yesterday's final quotation of 1.12¼, closing at a net loss of 11¼ points. Pan-American petroleums suffered net declines of 4⅛ to 5⅛. General asphalt, Atlantic Gulf and affiliated shares closed at losses of 2 to 4 points.

Steels, equipments and motors were comparatively steady.

Money was firm on call at 6 per cent. All international remittances were lower, sterling reacting about 1 3-4 cents from yesterday's best quotation. Exchange on Holland, Spain and Scandinavian centers was especially heavy.

Dealings in bonds again were featured by the underlying strength on convertible rails. Liberty issues closed with a majority of declines, the 3 1-2s and first 4's showing especial heaviness. Total sales, par value $9,875,000.

COTTON RULES EASIER WITH SLIGHT DROP

NEW YORK, June 30.—The easier ruling of today's cotton market was atributed largely to liquidation in advance of tomorrow's government report and the approaching three day adjournment.

Offerings were not heavy, however, and after selling off from 12.26 to 12.07 for October, prices steadied on covering. October closed at 12.17 compared with 12.32 at the close of the previous day, with the general market closing steady at a net decline of 12 to 22 points.

The market opened barely steady at a decline of 8 to 11 points in response to easier Liverpool cables. There was some covering on bullish condition figures right after the call but bulges of two or three points met increased offerings and the market soon weakened. July was relatively easy, selling off to 11.26 or 30 points net lower, while December declined to 12.54 or 26 points below last night's close.

About sixteen July notices were reported in the street but July was relatively steady in late trading and there was only a very small volume of business in that position. At the low point October showed a reaction of 48 points from the high price of last Tuesday and the late trading was quiet enough to suggest that smaller accounts had been pretty well evened up. The average of private crop reports recently published indicate a condition of 69.1 with a decrease of 29.5 percent in acreage.

CITY WATER SHOULD BE BOILED, SAYS

Advising citizens to boil all city water before using it, Dr. A. H. Douglass Thursday declared that the present chlorinator being used by the city is incapable of properly caring for the large volume of water used by the city during the hot months.

A new plant capable of properly filtering and purifying the water is expected to be installed as soon as possible, according to the announcement. F. N. Lawton, manager of the water department, it was announced, is in Dallas for the purpose of purchasing new equipment.

Daily tests of the water will be made by the sanitary department and the public notified as soon as it returns to normal purity, Dr. Douglass said.

TEACHING NOW MORE POPULAR AS PROFESSION

The popularity of teaching as a profession is coming back into its own if the number of applications being received daily by county and city school officials is any guage.

One, two, and three years ago superintendents of schools, trustees, and members of school boards spent considerable time and worry making applications cover the number of vacancies in the county and city schools. And so few were the applications that in some cases it was impossible to provide teachers whenever and wherever needed.

The situation as to applications has decidedly changed. Acting county superintendent of schools Presson says that his office is receiving between two and four applications daily through the mail with often that number making personal application at the office. City school officials also report an uuusually large number.

"The wonders of Wichita county," said Mr. Presson Thursday, "are apparently becoming known in the teaching fraternity."

"They say that they have heard of Wichita Falls and Wichita county and feel that it would be a fine place to teach."

According to Mr. Presson there are only four or five vacancies in the county teaching force and the trustees of the districts concerned have several applications for each position.

According to school officials the drop of wages and salaries in practically all lines of business due to the financial depression is to a large extent responsible for the many applications being received.

Many who left the profession in the last three years for more lucrative employment are now seeking to return to the profession whose salaries did not increase as much as those in many other lines but which on the other hand are not experiencing the drops apparent in many businesses and other professions.

"The old saying that he who laughs last laughs best," expresses the condition, according to one county official. "The teaching profession looked bad during the boom days of high wages but while everything else is losing fast it is at least holding its own and will continue to do so."

CRIMINAL CASES WILL BE TRIED LATE IN JULY

SOUTH BEND EXCURSION TO LEAVE TODAY

Representatives from every line of business in Wichita Falls and especially those who are interested in the future of the South Bend district, are expected to leave on the excursion to South Bend which departs from the Union Station here at 8 o'clock this morning. The train will return here by 11 p. m., according to plans.

The celebration which has been carefully and elaborately planned by the South Bend Chamber of Commerce, to observe the linking of that oil town with Wichita Falls by the entry of the Wichita Falls and Southern railroad, will consist of a barbecue, speechmaking, ball game and a general good time.

The growing town of South Bend, which is claimed to have future possibilities as the center of a rich oil country, makes an acquisition to Wichita Falls which both the local Cahmber of Commerce and the body at that city think will prove of mutual importance, Chamber of Commerce officials point out.

With the entrance into South Bend of the Wichita Falls and Southern railroad Friday the regular train services will be inaugurated.

Tickets will be on sale at the Union Station to within leaving time. Over a car load of Wichitans are expected to make the trip.

OIL DISPLACES GOLD FEVER IN MANITOBA FIELDS

By Associated Press.

THE PAS, Man., June 30.—Gold fever has temporarily displaced excitement here incident to the rush to the oil fields, and prospectors are leaving daily for the scene of the reported rich mineral strike.

Reports of ore bodies rich in gold content having been uncovered come from several sections, but the richest is reported at Elbow Lake in the Athapapuskow Lake mineral area and east of the famous Gordon Dyke, discovered last summer. Elbow Lake is about 200 miles northeast of The Pas.

Mining men who have visited the spot have returned here with an account of a vein sixty feet wide wherein free gold is freely seen. Until it is stripped, they declare, however, it is possible only to approximate the value and tonnage.

Other prospectors who visited the region following the report of the strike declare that a mineral body forty feet wide and traced for 300 feet in length has been uncovered, throughout which free gold is heavily deposited. One prospector had two pounds of ore, of which the gold content was estimated at not less than 2 per cent. These samples are considered the richest ever brought here.

Another strike, the exact location of which is vague, also has thrown Pence River into the throes of gold fever. The cause of the excitement was the recent arrival of a party who investigated a claim which furnished an old Indian trapper, about 70 miles northeast of here, with a number of small nuggets.

The Whole Town Is Hot Up.

Notice—To the people of Kewanee who have been telling of parties running off with other men's wives will have to be stopped or the same will have to be proved, as this is a false, false report. Raymond McBride.

DODSON SOUNDS CALOMEL'S DOOM

The "Liver Tone" Man Warns Folks Against the Sickening, Salivating Drug.

Ugh! Calomel makes you sick. It's horrible! Take a dose of the dangerous drug tonight and tomorrow you lose a day.

Calomel is mercury! When it comes into contact with sour bile, it crashes into it, breaking it up. Then is when you feel that awful nausea and cramping. If you are sluggish, if liver is torpid and bowels constipated or you have headache, dizziness, coated tongue, if breath is bad or stomach is sour, just try a spoonful of harmless Dodsons Liver Tone tonight.

Here's my guarantee—Go to any drug store and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone for a few cents. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't straighten you right up and make you feel fine and vigorous, go back to the store and get your money. Dodson's Liver Tone is destroying the sale of calomel because it can not salivate or make you sick.—(Adv.)

'LILY WHITES' LOOKING FOR CLEAR FIELD

"There is no clause in the University club constitution which prevents two nominating tickets from naming the same ticket," declared Paul Von Altmen, chairman of the 'Lily White' faction, in regard to the continued silence of "Doc" Strong, chairman of the other committee.

"A walkover for C. W. Reid and the others on the ticket," is the way Van Altmen predicts the election for next Tuesday noon, when members of the club will select those who are to control the destinies for the coming term.

The possibility of the other faction springing a "dark horse" at the last minute was scouted by the "Lily White" chairman.

"No chance" he avers, "they cannot put any ticket in the race which will defeat our line-up."

The ticket which will be placed before the members next Tuesday is the same as first announced in Thursday's Record News with the exception of the withdrawal of Richard Bailey from the ticket, as first vice president. The "Lily White" ticket follows: C. W. Reid, for president; C. M. Mann, first vice-president; Herbert Voelcker, second vice-president; J. T. Harrell, treasurer, and J. P. Marrs, secretary.

IODINE AND HONEY CALLED INFLUENZA CURE

LONDON, June 30.—A new prevention for influenza has been discovered by Dr. J. A. Taylor, a prominent English medico.

Describing the results of his experiments in the British Medical Journal, Dr. Taylor says ordinary tincture of iodine is mixed with honey and placed on the tongue every two or three hours or oftener.

When the recent influenza epidemic broke out Dr. Taylor was in Uganda, and he says that while Europeans and natives who were treated in this way escaped the epidemic, in other settlements and camps around him, the mortality was very high.

DONK FAILS TO SET OUT DANGER SIGN

Serenely following its mother as Pound Officer Colvin was leading her down Bridge street and to the city pound, a five months old burro was run down Wednesday morning by a seven-passenger automobile.

The autoists stopped and with profuse apologies began to explain to Officer Colvin that the colt stopped suddenly and turned in his way.

"That's alright," said Officer Colvin, "go on the donkey failed to give the proper signal and no suit could be instigated because it violated traffic regulations."

The burro was reported none the worse for its accident Thursday when the owner came to bail it out.

Democrats in the senate spent a whole day in criticizing the administration, but then there isn't much else for them to do.

BURNING REFUSE IN NEW INCINERATOR

All garbage from the city is now being burned in the new incinerator it was announced Thursday by Dr. A. E. Douglass, city sanitary officer.

Although some difficulty is reported to have been met in some of the early tests of the new plant because of the large amount of water contained, Dr. Douglass said that the plant is at present consuming the entire city output.

Discussion of the acceptance of the plant by the city is expected to be brought before the city council next Tuesday night, when the open hearing on the street car franchises are scheduled. Dr. Douglass said that by that time he will be able to make his official recommendation on the efficiency of the plant.

This Has a Familiar Sound.

It appears that the Russians are sore because Lenine hasn't fulfilled his campaign promises. It's the same everywhere.

ONE WAY TO TAKE LIFE EASY

The man who can take life easy in the season when everyone wants to is the man who saw to it, during his earlier days, that a part of every dollar he earned was put aside to draw its mite of interest when his working days were over.
