

Employees at Postex set Chest campaign pattern

Mill employees, especially workers in the carding department of the Postex Mills, have set a tremendous example for other employees in the main contribution drive of the 1955 Garza County Chest next week.

Mill employees in the Community Chest drive already coming to the big plant have given to the Community Chest a huge jump from their contribution in 1954.

With a $600 contribution management this brings the Community Chest giving of the employees to $2,275 or 25 per cent of the entire chest budget.

Carding and spinning department of Rostex drew warmer praise from Chest campaign officials for its all-out Chest contribution effort.

Jim Cornish, drive chairman, said today that of the 108 mill employees in this department headed by Jack Ballentine, 102 of them contributed a total of $709 to the chest with 85 per cent of them giving a full day's pay as their share.

"A day's pay" is often used, the nation over, as a good measurement for chest contributions by employed persons.

"If employees in the school, oil, and commercial divisions and the rural division folks give as generously as the Postex department the Chest goal of $12,500 is within reach," Cornish emphasized.

He reported that the advance gifts division, headed by Ira Lee Duckworth already has $7,800 in either cash or pledges from firms and individuals whose contributions range from $25 to $600.

A number of cards remain to be worked in the advanced gifts division so a larger final total for the division is anticipated, Duckworth said after a second reporting session of his division workers at the First National Bank Tuesday afternoon.

The main Chest effort kicks off Monday for a five-day run. During these five days, school, commercial and oil employees will be canvassed by Chest workers and the large rural division of the drive will be completed.

Supt. R. T. Smith is to head the school division, Claud Collier the commercial employees division, and Edsel Cross the oil employees division.

Workers in the oil employees' division met early today for distribution of cards for each of the many oil and oil service firms with permanent employees here.

Mrs. C. H. Hartel, who heads the rural division, reports the drive well under way this week in all the rural divisions of the county.

In the only turn-in report to date, the Close City community reports $285.44 in contributions already received with one worker team still to report. This compares with $209 from Close City in total Chest contributions.

THEIR EFFORTS PAID OFF!

Departmental Head Jack Ballentine and three of his departmental supervisors spearheaded a Community Chest drive among the 108 employees of the carding and spinning department at Postex Mills, Inc., which resulted in 102 making contributions totaling $709 toward the Chest budget. Eighty-five per cent of the employees contributed a full day's pay. Ballentine today expressed his appreciation to every member of his department for their generous contributions. Special meeting set for Monday night

Trustees near decision on expansion of school plant

Post Independent School District trustees will decide Monday night which school expansion route they believe most feasible and will confer with representatives of a Lubbock architectural firm on a contract for preliminary building plans.

It will be the third special meeting on school expansion needs in the last four weeks and the fourth time expansion needs have been discussed by the trustees in as many weeks.

THE BOARD decided at its regular November meeting Monday night to reach a decision Monday night on the best school expansion route after Supt. R. T. Smith secured student enrollments in the local schools over the last 15 years and projects such a "natural growth" over the coming ten years to determine the probable classroom needs.

Trustees agreed to ask representatives of the architectural firm of Atcheson and Atkinson from Lubbock to meet with the board to discuss preliminary building plans.

THE ATCHESON and Atkinson firm drew preliminary plans in June, 1957, for both a new high school and for a remodeling and expansion of the present 30-year-old high school building. No further action was taken last year on these plans and new plans may be in order with new enrollment estimates projected.

After considerable discussion Monday night, trustees agreed they probably wouldn't be "too far wrong" if they projected Post's growth over the last 15 years, 10 years farther into the future to determine the probable school enrollment by 1968. Oil became a growth factor here 13 years ago.

The board in its expansion plan wants to adequately prepare (TRUSTEES — See Page 8)

Council plans passage city traffic ordinance

The city council Monday night indicated its approval of a proposed city traffic ordinance, but postponed passage of the measure until a few minor revisions are made by City Attorney Carleton P. Webb.

After hearing the proposed ordinance read by the city attorney, Mayor James L. Minor and the five councilmen agreed that the measure is "just what is needed" to make it possible for city law enforcement officers to enforce traffic regulations here.

The city attorney said he would start to work immediately on revision of the proposed ordinance, and the city council is expected to act on it at a special meeting before their next regular meeting the first Monday in December.

Mayor Minor pointed out that the city marshal at this time has "nothing to work with" in the form of a city traffic ordinance except one passed a few years ago setting up speed zones in certain areas of the city.

The proposed ordinance covers practically all traffic violations, (COUNCIL — See Page 8)

Four youths face felony charges

Four Post youths, Ronnie Lee Polk, Paul D. Wheatley, Ted Michael Ray and Sammy Gene Martin, have been charged in district court with destruction of property in the high school library on or about Oct. 17.

A bookcase just inside the main door of the library was turned over following a break-in through a rear door of the high school building. Some of the trophies on top of the bookcase were broken when it was toppled over.

Sheriff Carl Rains, who had been working on the case since it was reported by Supt. R. T. Smith on Oct. 20, said one of the boys admitted his part in the incident shortly after it occurred, but that the other three did not admit their part until Friday just before they were to voluntarily undergo lie detector tests at Lubbock.

The same complaints were filed against all four youths, although only two of them actually entered the building, the sheriff said. The complaints charge the boys with "unlawfully, wilfully and mischievously injuring and damaging bookcases and trophies." The complaints state that the damage amounted to $250.

Up to 3 p. m. Wednesday, none of the four had appeared for setting of bonds. They will be bound over to the district grand jury, the sheriff said.

The four boys were members of the 1958 graduating class at the high school.

Post cadet is on honor drill team

The 40 cadets comprising the honor drill team were chosen from among 750.

The military school is planning a Thanksgiving dinner for all the cadets and their parents.

Cadet Simpson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Simpson, is a 1958 graduate of Post High School.

Garza cotton harvest hits high gear; predictions range up to 25,000 bales

Garza County's cotton harvest, rolling in high gear this week until clouds closed in yesterday, brought a prediction from Cotton Buyer Jack Henderson today that the Garza crop would total between 24,000 to 25,000 bales.

Henderson is enthusiastic. He predicts a bigger crop than anytime in the last eight to ten years for the county.

"Garza hasn't had this large a crop on the same amount of acreage since I started buying cotton here in Post back in 1945," Henderson declared.

COUNTY AGENT Lewis Herron is more conservative. He doesn't see a total crop of more than 19,000 bales on the 37,000 acres planted to cotton.

Grades on Garza cotton are good, Henderson says. The yields are 5 to 10 per cent better than expected.

Henderson says the quality is good. Cotton stripping will start on a volume basis in about a week to 15 days, he predicts. Speaking of the county as a whole, the area hasn't had enough frost yet to kill all the cotton leaves.

GRAZA'S SIX cotton gins reported a total of 7,453 bales ginned up to noon Wednesday. This is a gain of 2,026 bales over the 5,427 bales of last week.

County Agent Herron says the labor shortage is still serious, but in some cotton areas of the county the hand shortage has eased considerably.

The weather is the big factor now. A month of fall sunshine will see most of the big crop out of the fields, but if rains set in grades will be slashed as they were last year.

Graham Gin, which now has ginned 1,344 bales, reports its yard is beginning to fill up and that a hand shortage still exists in its area.

PLANTER'S GIN put on a night crew last week and up to yesterday had a 1,718 bale total for its 1958 operations.

Close City Gin reports 1,020 bales ginned with the cotton in that area — but hard in the spring by hail—running two weeks behind other county cotton areas.

But the hailed cotton has made an excellent recovery. The replanted cotton because of the hail also is making good yields. Close City Gin now predicts no big cut in yield overall due to the hail storm.

The Storie Gin, which has 531 bales ginned to date, says hauls are plentiful but pretty weather is needed.

AT SOUTHLAND, the Basinger Gin has a total of 1,720 bales ginned with grades pretty good. The gin has about half a night crew working. Yesterday's weather hadn't stopped the pulling.

Poasant Valley Gin has 920 bales tagged out with grades running fair and several continuing to pull Wednesday.

County Agent Herron says many farmers are machine harvesting mostly defoliated cotton, although a few are using machines in fields where recent frost got most of the leaves.

Herron also reports that the milo harvest, one of the best in the county's history is about completed from an acreage of 63,000. Pastures generally are in good condition, according to Herron, but stock water is getting low.

Crop quality said best since 1956

South Plains cotton is better this year than at any time except for the 1956 crop, W. E. (Bill) Franklin, chief of the USDA cotton department at Lubbock, told Rotarians here Tuesday.

"With proper harvesting methods and ginning methods the farmers stand to make more profit on this year's crop than ever before," Franklin declared.

He emphasized that the 1958 cotton crop should be harvested as soon as possible and not left in the fields any longer than necessary.

"THE TIME is coming," Franklin declared, "when the South Plains will attract more cotton interest than any other section of the nation."

He pointed out that the staples of South Plains cotton have been getting longer on the average in recent years.

Franklin explained the functions of the cotton grading office in Lubbock. He described cotton classification "at best as an art and not an exact science."

HE SAID tests show that federal workers who classify the cotton would grade the same cotton the same way 80 per cent of the time when it is rechecked but only hit (ROTARY — See Page 8)

C. of C. plans for Yule go forward

Directors of the Post Chamber of Commerce, at their regular November meeting, made plans for Christmas decorations and also discussed a speaker for the annual membership banquet to be held early in February.

A 25-foot Christmas tree and other Yuletide decorations will be delivered here Nov. 29 or 30. The directors decided to erect the huge tree in the middle of Main Street, directly in front of the Chamber office.

The directors authorized Chamber manager John N. Hopkins to make all necessary arrangements for erecting and decorating the tree. It was also decided to decorate the Chamber office for the Christmas season.

The directors also authorized Hopkins to begin making contacts now toward securing a Chamber banquet speaker so that a date can be set for the annual affair.

Present at the meeting were Chant D. Lee, president of the organization; directors Paul Jones, Harold Lucas, Jess Michael and Wallace Simpson; Hopkins and Mrs. Dixie Billings, secretary.

Let's 'give until it feels good'

Give until it feels good. That's the slogan of the 1959 Garza County Community Chest campaign which officially kicks off Monday for a quick five-day push toward a $12,500 goal.

Actually the drive has been making steady progress here for the last two weeks. The results have been good. The goal is within reach if everyone will do his or her part.

The advance gifts committee under Chairman Ira Lee Duckworth has practically completed its big task of contacting all the firms and individuals whose contributions range from $25 to $600 apiece.

The rural divisions under Mrs. C. H. Hartel is well into its drive of contacting all the folks in the rural areas for contributions. These workers have a lot of ground to cover so start a week ahead of the main drive.

An excellent example of employe cooperation in the Chest drive comes from the Postex Mills where R. J. Jennings, chairman of the Postex employes division, kicked off that industry's campaign last Thursday.

It is virtually complete today with something like $1,600 or more contributed by the nearly 500 mill employes.

Jack Ballentine's carding and spinning department has 108 employes. A total of 102 of them made Chest contributions and more than 85 per cent contributed a full day's pay as their share. This one department at Postex raised $709 for the Garza Community Chest.

If employes in the oil division, the school division, and the downtown or commercial division will come through with like cooperation next week the Chest goal will be within reach by the day the drive closes a week from tomorrow.

There are a few essential facts to keep in mind about the Community Chest.

First, this is just one drive. It is 11 financial campaigns for 11 different worthy organizations all rolled into one. The combined, or community effort, saves a lot of time and money in fund raising. If you give a dollar for example, it means you are contributing a little over nine cents to each participating organization. If you give $5 you are giving but 55 1/2 cents per participating organi-

Second, chest drives must succeed or they disintegrate. If a Chest campaign fails to reach its goal that means that the participating organizations can be given only a prorated share of their desired budgets. That means they must curtail their year's work. It also means their inclination is to withdraw from the community chest and stage their own drive for funds, seeking their full budget. Thus, the Chest campaign must reach its goal or a number of individual drives—possibly 11 of them—would replace it in Garza County.

Third, through a Community Chest campaign plan the budgets of all participating agencies are screened to be sure the community is not giving over its share and that the need of the organization warrants the amount of money asked. This is a real protection to the entire community. It's a sound approach to fund raising.

Fourth, the question is often raised, how much shall I give? What is my share? Chest organizations the country over generally consider one day's pay for the individual as a full share in his Community Chest. The choice of course is with the individual, but using the yardstick of a day's pay means that some individuals do not have to give more than their share so that the budget may be raised.

Fifth, Chest workers, except in the rural division, will contact the folks on the job. The Chest effort is concentrated upon reaching people where they work. No house-to-house canvass is planned, so some will be missed. If you are not contacted on the job, or if you are not working at a job where Chest workers would reach you, take it upon yourself to step forward with your own contributions.

Such unsolicited contributions to the Chest will be warmly received. They should be left either at the First National Bank or The Dispatch office, or mailed to either place.

Sizable contributions do not necessarily have to be made in cash or check. The full amount can be pledged and that contribution paid by quarters, if desired, to spread the Chest contribution more evenly over an individual's income year.

Give until it feels good—not until it hurts.—JC

Results sometimes hard to find

Since such important things as the final outcome of constitutional amendments sometimes are "lost in the shuffle" after the election is over, particularly those on which the vote was close, we're publishing the changes here, just in case some of our readers were not as patient in tracking down the results. We scanned four different newspapers on one day before finally finding the unofficial outcome. The amendment vote resulted in these changes:

1. Appointees to vacated county judge and justice of the peace posts may serve only until the next general election—not for the remainder of a four-year term.
2. Precinct, county and district office holders may not announce for another office without resigning the office they hold.
3. Cities may elect their officials for four-year, instead of two-year terms.
4. Former Texas Rangers or their widows may receive pensions up to $90 a month.

5. State funds may be spent to advertise Texas outside the state.
6. Legislators may pass a law providing medical care assistance for people receiving old age pensions, aid to the blind, disabled or dependent children.
7. Legislature may authorize the creation of new hospital districts in Potter, Wichita and Jefferson counties.

On the other hand, when Texans put their foot on the proposal for annual sessions and $7,500 annual salaries for legislators, it meant lawmakers would face next year's tough taxing session with only 120 "pay" days. Lawmakers will have to get along on $25 a day for the first 120 days and then their pay stops except when special sessions are called by the governor.

Also turned down was a proposal to set up pension plans for elective officials of counties and precincts.—CD

Not much new for Homecoming

While the schools are the official welcoming group for a homecoming, we always like to join in with a welcome of our own to ex-students and teachers here for the annual event.

You'll find things much the same as they were at the 1957 homecoming, except for the fact that there are more students this year and a new temporary classroom structure just southwest of the high school.

If you go to the Post-Sixton football game, you'll find the same old worn-out stadium and its press box with the south door missing this year. The seating facilities are no better and one-year older.

It's the same old gymnasium with the same old worn-out scoreboard. There's a move on foot to repair the scoreboard, but that is yet to come.

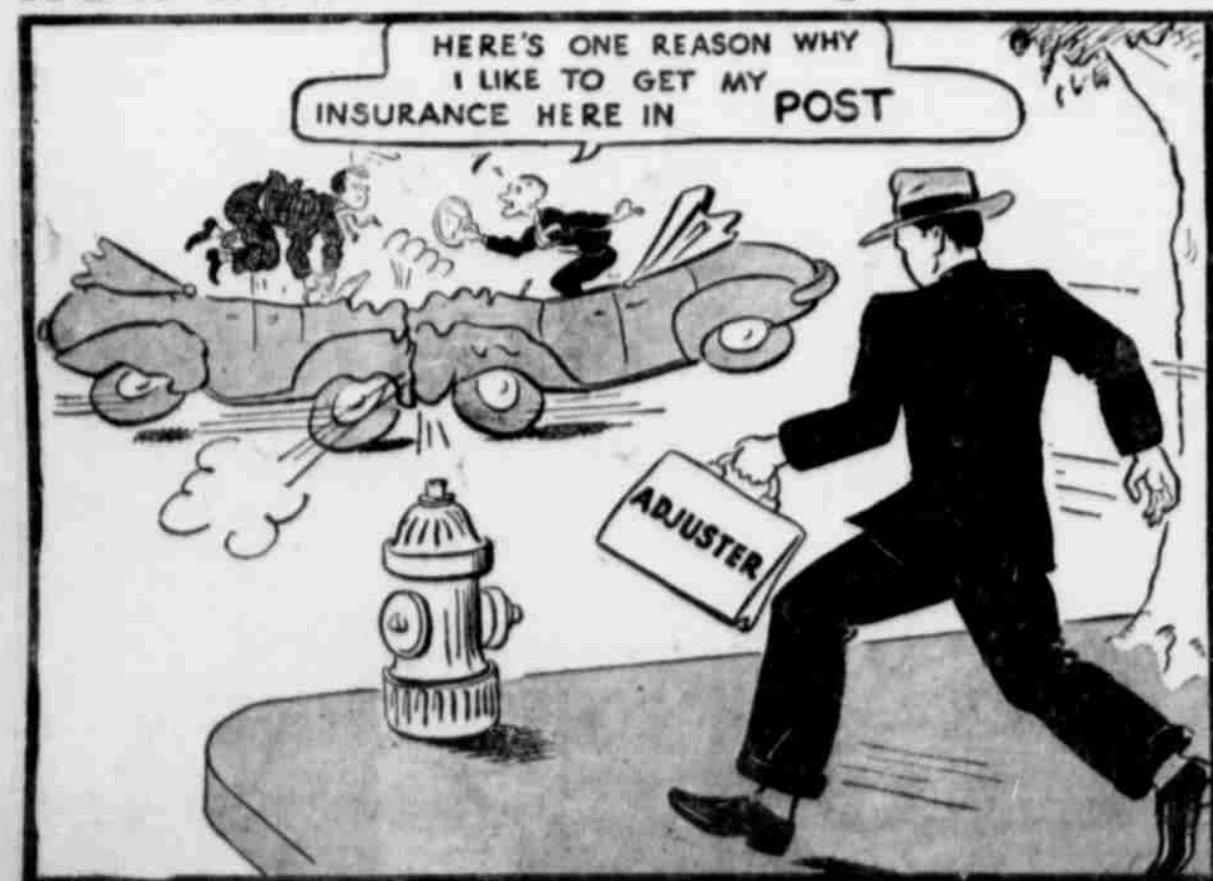

You won't find much new at the school plant, but welcome, anyway!—CD

What our contemporaries are saying

Annually at this joyous Halloween season the four-letter obscenities show up in soap and white paint all over town. These little bastards may not know how to count to two in school, but they've gotten themselves a $1500 sex education somewhere. We've often wondered why it is that the word is seldom employed by anyone except those under 18 and those over 80. Well, the kids certainly didn't learn the word in school, or at church, and that leaves the home. Nice going, parents!—The Rails Banner.

ONLY 34 MORE shopping days until Christmas!

Linda Pennell, Post Junior High student, has submitted to The Dispatch some interesting facts on the social studies classes of the junior high school. The students are wondering how many other students and adults know that—

Post, once manufactured Coca-Cola in a bottling plant located here;

Cotton for the manufacture of sheets and pillow cases (at Postex Mills, Inc.) is now shipped from California;

Population of Post was 4,800 in 1935, according to the Chamber of Commerce;

The home of C. W. Post (the town's founder) is now the Hudson Funeral Home;

What is now the Colonial Apartments used to be the Post Hospital;

Postal receipts are approximately 20 per cent above those of any previous year at the local post office;

Levelland, which was first known as Hockley City, was also founded by C. W. Post;

Post was once located on the cap rock;

Post was considered as the site for location of Texas Technological College;

C. W. Post bought the land hereabouts for $1.35 an acre, later selling it for a much higher price;

A brick yard, operated by V. A. Robinson, was established in Post in the early 1920's.

LATER THINGS listed by the junior high students include a Boy Scout camp "which brings people from surrounding counties"; a new granary, a new policeman, a new grain dryer at another granary, and a new radio station.

When a lad starts the study of Latin and algebra he says goodbye to his boyhood, and also, to any help on his homework from dear old dad.

IT'S BEEN interesting to check some of the exchange newspapers on the amendment vote in the General Election. In Crosby County, for example, the voters turned down every one of the nine proposed amendments. Garza County, on the other hand, approved four of them—the four best ones, we think, including No. 7, repealing the ban on state advertising.

Final tabulations by the Texas Election Bureau show all the amendments approved except the one which would have provided for annual sessions of the Legislature and the one which would have permitted county officers to participate in a retirement plan.

COMING ON TUESDAY, the election was a little late in the week for us to run a tabulation in Thursday's Dispatch on how the voting went in each county voting box. In fact, up to now, we hadn't even had time to take a look at anything except the totals from each box—totals furnished The Dispatch by Garza County's capable and cooperative county and district clerk, Carl Cederholm.

Amendment No. 1, which would have permitted annual sessions of the Legislature, was decisively beaten in every Garza County voting box. No. 7, the one on state advertising, won in the North Post, South Post, Two Draw, Justinburg, and Close City boxes, but was voted down in the absentee box and at Verbena, Southland

BY PRESIDENT OF TEXAS TB ASSOCIATION

Over-optimism warning sounded in fight against tuberculosis

GALVESTON — A warning that over-optimism could lead to loss of ground in control of tuberculosis was voiced today by Dr. John W. Middleton in announcing the quarterly meeting of the Texas Tuberculosis Association directors in Austin.

Dr. Middleton, president of the association and associate professor of medicine at the University of Texas Medical Branch at Galveston, commented on findings in a survey of the prevalence of tuberculosis made this fall in 48 Texas counties.

"These counties," he said, "reported 14,841 tuberculosis patients known to health authorities. Of this number, 10,367 are in hospitals or under other medical care. That leaves more than 4,000 patients in these 48 counties alone who presumably are under no medical care. It is these unhospitalized cases which produce the new cases. In the U. S. in 1957, 69,000 Americans developed tuberculosis. Each of those 'caught' TB from someone who had the disease. "The 48 counties," he continued, "are scattered throughout the state. They are not confined to what we call 'high incidence' areas—areas near the Mexican border and in cities with concentrated population. This survey shows we are not dealing properly with that most dangerous of tuberculosis health hazards—the unhospitalized contagious patient.

"During the last decade," the doctor added, "we have watched the death rate from tuberculosis drop sharply. Unfortunately, the number of new cases found each year doesn't drop in proportion."

In another survey, just concluded and reported in the November issue of the American Review of Tuberculosis and Pulmonary Diseases, it was found that the percentage of children infected with the tuberculosis germ was the same in 1947 as in 1957 among kindergarten children in Kansas City, Mo. In that city, 35,995 kindergarten children were tuberculin tested during those years. The death rate per 100,000 people fell from 31.3 in 1947 to 11.7 in 1957, yet the percentage of children infected with the germ remained the same.

"The Texas Tuberculosis Association, working with other health agencies, is determined that this rate of 'catching tuberculosis' will be made to drop, even as the death rate is being made to drop," Dr. Middleton concluded.

About Your HEALTH

A weekly public service feature from the Texas State Department of Health. HENRY A. HOLLE, M.D., Commissioner of Health.

Air is the most important one commodity for the existence of man. He can go for weeks without food, a very few days without water, hours without protection from the elements, but only a few minutes without his most precious commodity—air.

The importance of clean air is indicated by the fact that Governor Daniel has set aside this week, Oct. 19-25, as "Cleaner Air Week."

This is an excellent period for all of us to evaluate the air cleanliness of our communities and if it is not all that it should be to in turn evaluate the efforts the community is making to control the air cleanliness for us.

Are you as an individual citizen satisfied with your community's air standard?

A number of communities throughout Texas are happily enjoying the benefits of good clean air without effort to control it. Unfortunately, many other communities are not so blessed and are therefore concerned with the cleanliness of the air over their communities.

It isn't only the big industrial cities that have difficulties. Any Texas town that has any kind of industry, including cotton gins, may have a problem without realizing it. Should there be such a problem, it certainly would be well to take inventory of the efforts your community is making in your behalf regarding cleaner air.

Already there is much study and effort being done in Texas to evaluate and remedy some of the air pollution problems.

The State Department of Health has completed its part in a national air pollution appraisal. The report of the complete findings is being readied.

Cooperating in the national air sampling network are eight stations in Texas at Dallas, Houston, Port Lavaca, Austin, Waco, San Antonio, Fort Worth and El Paso.

Dallas and Houston operate on a permanent basis while the rest serve only one year in three, however, some operate every other year.

These air samples are analyzed for dust and other solid materials, and beta ray radiation activity. In addition the State and local departments of health cooperate with the Atomic Energy Commission in sampling atom bomb fallout, with the aid of the U. S. Public Health Service.

Some cities have their own separate programs for studying air pollution and several additional cities and counties have active air pollution committees trying to conduct their own separate surveys.

Every cleaner air program needs the individual support of all its citizens.

Livestock survey to start Dec. 1

Postmaster Harold Voss announced today that rural mail carriers will begin distributing Livestock Survey Cards to patrons on their routes about Nov. 20. The cards are to be used for the livestock survey, which begins on Dec. 1. This annual livestock survey, which the post office and agriculture departments have made cooperatively since 1924, provides basic information to the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service in Austin for estimating number of cattle, hogs, sheep and chickens on Texas farms and ranches. In order that the Post area be well represented in the survey, Postmaster Voss requests that each patron receiving a card fill it out and return it to his mail box for prompt pick up.

Quail hunters to be plentiful in '58 season

AUSTIN — Early reports have indicated there'll be a big crop of quail for the opening of the season Dec. 1. Now indications also point to a good crop of quail hunters, according to the assistant director of wildlife restoration of the Game and Fish Commission.

"We've had a lot of good food and cover this year, and a wonderful hatch of birds," he said. "Our men from every part of Texas tell us that conditions are excellent and birds are plentiful."

The quail season begins Dec. 1, and ends Jan. 16. The limit is 12 birds per day, or 36 in possession.

Applications are still coming in for the public hunts to be held on the Gene Howe Wildlife Management area in the Panhandle. These hunts are scheduled for Dec. 6; Dec. 20, Jan. 3, and Jan. 15. All applications must be in the Game Commission office in Austin by 8 a. m. Nov. 14. A drawing then will be held.

The hunters will be paired, with 10 pairs of hunters each day, for a total of 80 hunters. Only persons over 17 will be given permits. The bag limit on this area is 10 birds per person.

Shooters are urged to bring their own dogs. There is a heavy growth of flowering weeds and dogs are needed to prevent loss of birds.

To the extent of $538 Texas United Fund Chest beneficiary

One of the 11 participating agencies of Garza County's 1959 Community Chest is the Texas United Fund.

The Texas United Fund will receive $538 from the Garza Community Chest with the county's fair-share quota being computed on the basis of five important and widely used economic factors—per cent of population, per cent of buying power, per cent of retail sales, per cent of bank deposits, and per cent of bond sales.

The Texas United Fund goal for next year totals $744,664, of which the major share will go to the United Service Organizations, Inc.

OTHER AGENCIES included in the state-wide budget are the American Social Hygiene Association $35,314, Texas Social Welfare Association $28,934, United Seaman's Service $11,227, National Recreation Association $13,298, American Hearing Society $13,322, Council of Social Work Education $8,307; National Probation and Parole Association $18,038, and the Texas United Fund $55,450.

The budget committee of the Texas United Fund carefully evaluated the budgets of these agencies and determined that agencies are providing well as state-wide service. The USO, which receives money in Texas in its work with service men, is contributed by Texas to the state of the 48 states which report the USO.

THE TEXAS United Fund established by the citizens local community chests and funds in Texas to help campaigns cut down on the lines of waste involved in the work with service men. Further, seldom does a community have a way of the worthwhileness of the fairness of the amount agencies ask the community.

The Texas United Fund task of reviewing and of these state and national those approved, and see that fair and equitable set for each county.

Ethridge and Dodson marry

Almon Martin performed the ceremony Monday at the home of Miss Fatsy Ethridge and V. A. Dodson. Vows were repeated in the parsonage of Christian Church.

Miss Alma Jean Winn of Slaton, bride-elect of Ronnie Kennedy, was complimented at a miscellaneous shower Tuesday evening in the Slaton home of Mrs. Harold Wilson, South 21st Street.

Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Woodrow Hollingsworth greeted guests and presented them to the honoree, her mother, Mrs. Dan Winn; the bridegroom-elect's mother, Mrs. Pete Kennedy of Post; his grandmother, Mrs. Helen Richards, and Miss Charlotte Muse.

Approximately 45 guests were registered during the calling hours of 7:30 to 9:30 o'clock by Miss Carolyn Etter of Slaton.

The entertaining rooms were decorated with arrangements of fall flowers, featuring bouquets of bronze chrysanthemums.

Miss Winn wore a green taffeta dress and a corsage of bronze chrysanthemums.

The serving table was laid in an ecru lace cloth and featured a centerpiece of a miniature bride and bridegroom atop a styrafoam base sprinkled in gold sparkle. Brown napkins with the honoree and her fiance's names in gold lettering completed the table decorations.

Mrs. Leonard Foster and Mrs. Mark Etter served spiced tea, cookies and nuts from a crystal service.

Hostesses for the occasion included: Mmes. Mark Etter, Frankie Perdue, Nolan Bough, Ed Caldwell, Fred Wiley, Woodrow Hollingsworth, Leonard Foster, Frank Chappie, and Mrs. Wilson.

Calvary Baptist Church scene Monday for Tanner-Odom rites

Standing before an archway of pink gladioli and candelabra, flanked by baskets of pink gladioli and palm trees, Miss Barbara Joann Odom and Herman Edward Tanner were united in marriage Monday evening at the Calvary Baptist Church. A white carpet aisle and ribbon streamers marking the pews completed the church decor.

The Rev. Graydon Howell, pastor, performed the double ring ceremony at 7 o'clock.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Lyda Odom and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Tanner.

Escorted in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a floor-length gown of Alencon lace over satin, designed with a deep V-neckline scalloped in lace, long petal-point sleeves, and a full skirt. The fitted bodice terminated into a V in the front. Her veil of silk illusion was tiered and held in place with a tiara of seed pearls and sequins. She carried a bouquet of white orchids on a white pearl Bible.

The bride also carried out the tradition of something old, her grandmother's handkerchief; something new, her Bible; something borrowed, a pearl necklace, and something blue, a garter.

Mrs. Ralph Dean, sister of the bride, was matron of honor, and Mrs. Bill Holly and Mrs. C. T. Holbert of Montana, sisters of the bride, were bridesmaids. They wore identical sheath dresses of aqua velveteen and carried pink gladioli on white lace fans.

Delores Odom, niece of the bride, was flower girl. She wore an aqua velveteen dress, styled on princess lines with a full skirt.

Candelighters were Misses Alice Fay Kiker and Kathleen Baker. Their dresses were pink velveteen sheaths.

Norman Tanner, brother of the bridegroom, was ring bearer.

Attending his brother as best man, was Richard Lee Tanner, Albert Odom, the bride's brother, and Fred Ray were ushers.

Pre-nuptial selections were by a quartet composed of Jimmy Short, Clarky Cowdrey, Jerry Hitt, and Don Clary, who sang "Walk Hand in Hand", and a solo by Jerry Hitt, "The Lord's Prayer". Georgie Willson accompanied them at the organ.

The bride's parents were hosts for a reception in the small auditorium of the church following the ceremony. The bride's attendants served punch and wedding cake from a table laid in white lace over pink and the quartet sang "Wedding Bells".

For a wedding trip to points of interest in New Mexico, Mrs. Tanner chose a royal blue suit with black accessories, and a corsage of white orchids.

They will be at home in Lake Charles, La., where he is stationed with the U. S. Air Force, as a radar operator. Mrs. Tanner attended Post schools and before her marriage was employed at Postex Cotton Mills, Inc. Her husband is a 1957 graduate of Post High School.

'Drama' is program topic for Woman's Culture Club meeting

Continuing with their study course for the 1958-59 club year, "Texas, Yesterday and Today", the Woman's Culture Club enjoyed a program on "Drama" when they met last Wednesday afternoon at the annex of the First Christian Church.

The program was under the leadership of Mrs. Dove H. Mayfield Jr., who talked on "Theatre Movement in Texas". Other interesting parts of the program were Mrs. Lee Davis' discussion on "Texas Llaywrights", "Texas Actors and Actresses" by Maxine Durrett and "Toscanini" by Mrs. Douglas Buchanan. Adding local color to the afternoon, it was brought out that Mrs. Marshall Mason, Postite, is related to Kim Stanley, who at present is rehearsing a play with Helen Hayes.

Roll call was answered with "A Figure From Texas Art or Literature". During a business session, Mrs. J. R. Durrett reported on the sewing and style contest for Federated Clubs, with classes to May 1, 1959, to be further discussed at a later club date.

Attending were: Mmes. Walter Boren, Buchanan, Connie Caylor, Lee Davis, W. L. Davis, Durrett, W. B. Dyer, J. H. Haire, Tillman Jones, M. J. Malouf, Almon Martin, Mayfield, Jr., Dove H. Mayfield Sr., R. T. Smith, E. S. Stewart, K. Stoker, Bess Thompson, Ralph Welch, and Maxine Durrett. Mrs. Haire and Mrs. Durrett were co-hostesses for the afternoon.

The club's Thanksgiving program will be Nov. 15 in the home of Mrs. Jones, with Mrs. Dove H. Mayfield Jr. as co-hostesses.

'Three Elves Bazaar' to be Saturday, 9 to 5, at church

This reporter got a "sneak preview" Monday afternoon of what's to come when the "Three Elves Bazaar" opens Saturday. "Elves" in this instance are women of the First Methodist Church, who have been working since July 2, each Wednesday of the week, on a wide and varied selection of items for a gift bazaar.

Time for the occasion has been set for 9 until 5 o'clock, giving working women an opportunity to drop in that morning or afternoon for pie and coffee and browse around during their coffee break.

While looking at the items Monday, one of the cutest and handiest items, we think, was the sets of plastic bags for hosiery, sweaters, house slippers and other items, all decorated in little designs to tell what item goes in which bag.

With all the new brides Post has acquired during the past few weeks—and with the weddings scheduled—one of the most popular items at the bazaar should be the Methodist cookbook, which will feature 400 pages of tested recipes, donated by women of the West Texas area. Helping to assure Garza County men of being well-fed will be recipes ranging from old-fashioned biscuits to the finest of pastries. Incidentally, included in the cookbook will be a recipe for "salt maps." (Remember when you made them in geography classes?) Orders can be placed for the books Saturday at the bazaar, and the price has been set at $3.50.

Another popular item will probably be the beautiful centerpieces for the coming holiday season, both Thanksgiving and Christmas. And reminding us that Christmas isn't far off, there will be a booth of wrapped gift boxes for Christmas gifts.

Other items for the affair will range from fancy and practical aprons to costume jewelry. These will include toaster covers—in the shape of "Aunt Jemima"—quilts, scarfs and tea towels. And for the homemaker who likes home-canned goods and jellies, there's a wide selection of canned goods, fruits, and jellies—even chow-chow.

For those with a "sweet-tooth", there'll be a cake and candy booth. Also orders may be placed for Christmas fruit cakes.

Then to complete something for every shopper, there'll be an "Attic Treasure"—or white elephant booth,—and a place to put your order in for Christmas cards.

So we'll see you for pie and coffee at the "Three Elves Bazaar"—love, service, and cooperation—Saturday, at Fellowship Hall of the First Methodist Church.

Water preferred to oil by most farmers of area

LUBBOCK — South Plains farmers still prefer water to oil—if they have to make a choice—according to a survey by Dr. A. W. Young, agronomy department head at Texas Tech.

Recent restrictions on oil production have reduced oil well income to an average of $40 per acre monthly in some instances as compared to $125 monthly prior to restrictions.

"If a farmer had one well per 40 acres, this would provide an annual income of $480 per 40 acres of land based on the $40 per month income," Young said.

He points out that the farmer with an irrigation well to supply an average amount of water can reasonably expect to increase his cotton yield by at least 330 pounds of lint or 3,000 pounds of sorghum grain per acre each year.

"The value of this increase in lint cotton would be $80 or more per acre or $3,200 for a 40-acre block. The increase in irrigated sorghum grain due to the water would have a value of $50 or more per acre or $2,000 or more from a 40-acre block," Young said. He noted, however, that additional production costs must be subtracted from the gross income.

"If the value of the income from the oil well is compared with the income from the irrigation well, one can see why the farmer with good soil and a good irrigation well would be wise to choose water over oil," Young said.

Vet's Forum

Q. Can a veteran receiving compensation for a 10-per cent service-connected disability get extra money from the VA because of dependents?

A. No. The law does not authorize payments for dependents of veterans whose service-connected disabilities are found to be less than 50 per cent in degree.

Q. I let my World War II GI term insurance lapse right after the close of the war. A friend now tells me he thinks some law was passed last summer which would entitle me to get back my lost insurance. Is this a fact?

A. No. Your friend is doubtless thinking of an amendment in a bill which would have provided for a general re-opening of World War II GI insurance. The bill carrying this amendment, however, was changed to eliminate the re-opening provision. There is no law permitting re-opening of expired GI insurance.

Q. What is this new boost in the total disability income provision on GI insurance I've been hearing about? I already have this disability coverage, under the old ceiling that allowed me up to $50 a month, if totally disabled. Has it been raised?

A. Yes. A new law increased the total disability payments to up to $100 a month. If you wish, you may obtain the added coverage for a small additional premium.

Q. I am in training under the Korean GI Bill, but I want to change my course. Would I be eligible for VA vocational counseling to help me choose a new course suited to my aptitudes? I have never changed courses.

A. Yes. In filling out your application for a change of course, indicate you want vocational counseling. VA will schedule an appointment for you.

The Everlasting Arms

This tiny child looking with trust into his mother's loving face and cradled in the safety of her arms feels that her care will be eternal and everlasting. When one matures, one very quickly finds that the securities provided by the transient helps of this world do not offer everlasting security. No matter how much of this world's goods we accumulate, they cannot make life secure against the hazards of it. There is only one place where eternal security is available, and that is within the bounds of a trusting relationship with God who extends to man in love the everlasting arms. Go seek Word of His love in the Church.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Postings—

Speaking of the Postex mill, Post's big cotton industry not only has a big expansion under way for its sewing room and finishing plant, but the firm is just completing a front office expansion too which will add a lot to "first impressions" by mill visitors. The old front gate is gone and the office extended south to and including the former gate watchman's house. The project, being done by Higginbotham - Bartlett and George (Scotty) Samson, should be all finished in three weeks. Lee Ward's office will be moved up from a mid-plant position to the expanded office space. A big and comfortable waiting room, a meeting room, and Ward's office are included in the new office space. A fulltime receptionist is being put on and a push-button telephone system installed. Out front, R. J. Jennings is getting a wall plaque with the mill's name and has flower boxes in which the mill folks hope to keep flowers blooming about the year around. One impression one gets from visits to the Postex mill, such as we made Saturday morning to arrange for today's front page Chest drive picture, is that Postex is always on the move to become bigger and better. Football teams rate "desire" as an important factor to their success. Well, the occasional visitor can almost feel the "desire" in the air down at the mill to keep growing bigger and to keep doing better.

It's beginning to look as if Clint Herring now owes "three of the best steak dinners in town" to three other members of the Post school district trustees. It all came about Monday night when the school board was discussing the future of the football stadium and Clint remarked that the present playing field "isn't big enough." Who says so, J. E. Birdwell, Bobby Pierce, and Russell Wilks wanted to know. The steak dinners were set and then Clint explained that the board was told only a couple of years ago that the football playing field was too narrow according to regulations. Grid Coach Frank Krhut was quickly called on the phone by Pierce for an explanation. Frank told Pierce that when he came to Post the field which should be 160 feet wide was about nine feet too narrow to meet requirements but that he went ahead and got the field widened to the standard 160 feet. It looks like Clint was right originally, but that unless new evidence to the contrary crops up he has lost three steak dinners anyway.

From everything we hear, readers shouldn't miss the Bazaar of the Three Elves being sponsored by Methodist women in the Methodist church basement all day Saturday, Ruby Montgomery, who wrote The Dispatch's story on the bazaar after viewing the results of months of effort reports the many gift items are really something.

Ralph Kirkpatrick is observing his tenth business birthday in Post Saturday in fitting style by giving away three mighty valuable prizes to his many friends and customers. Ralph worked hard to build the Kirkpatrick Auto Electric into the shop it is today and although his heart attack prevents him from rolling up his sleeves and going at it today, we know Ralph's many friends wish him well and many more business birthdays such as he will celebrate Saturday. See what Ralph has to say himself over on page 3.

Youngster is improved after attack of polio

Jimmy Herbert Deavenport, nine-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Deavenport of Denver City, and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Opp of Post, was dismissed from a Lubbock hospital Monday. Jimmy had been a patient in the hospital for two weeks, after being stricken with polio. His right arm and side was paralyzed, but he is reported to be improving.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Deavenport of Midland are the paternal grandparents.

U. S. orders cancel

Trip plans

Travel cancellation orders have been received by two Post women who were making plans to leave soon to join their husbands who are serving with the armed forces in the Far East.

Travel cancellation orders were received Tuesday morning by Mrs. Onella Snow, and similar orders were received three weeks ago by Mrs. Nita Ray Almo.

Mrs. Snow and her two children, Leann, 2, and David, 9 months, were to have left Dec. 1 to join their husband and father, A-1c Bill Snow at Itazuka Air Base, Japan, where he has been for about two months. Mrs. Snow is making her home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Shedd.

Mrs. Almo and her two children, Joseph Ray, 16 months, and Britt Elizabeth, 2 months, were making plans to join their husband and father, 1st Lt. Joseph Almo, on Okinawa, where he serves with the Air Force. Lt. Almo left San Francisco Wednesday for Okinawa.

Mrs. Almo and her children are staying with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray McClellan of the Graham community, for the present.

IN OTHER action at Monday night's meeting, the city council:

- 1. Heard a report on city tax collections.
- 2. Voted to accept the bid of Simms Fire Equipment Co. of San Antonio on a new fire engine.
- 3. Heard City Supt. R. H. Tate tell of the need for water and sewer extensions to the newly-annexed Sunset Drive Addition.
- 4. Received bids on the purchase of a new pickup truck for the city water department.
- 5. Voted to install four street lights behind the school buildings.
- 6. Heard a report from the city superintendent on what appears to be a major leak in the city reservoir.

MAYOR MINOR, with figures furnished by City Secretary Gertrude Hopkins, reported that a little over $33,000 of the total city tax charge of $48,900 has been collected.

The council voted to accept the San Antonio firm's bid on purchase of a new fire truck after conferring with Fire Chief Robert Gato.

Gato said that of 10 bids received, only three met specifications for the new equipment.

The 750-gallon pumper truck is to be purchased from Simms at a cost of $19,863.75, subject to issuance of city warrants. The truck will be of GMC make, with delivery expected about mid-summer of 1959.

TATE TOLD the council that about three blocks of water and sewer extensions will be needed for the new Sunset Addition, where Bryan Williams & Son plans to build five new homes. The city superintendent estimated the extensions would cost about $6,000.

The council voted to install the lights at the rear of the school after Mayor Minor told them School Supt. R. T. Smith had made a request for them. The mayor pointed out that although there is no street immediately back of the schools, where the lights are wanted, that he thought it would be to the community's benefit for the city to go ahead and install them.

The four new lights will be added to the 28 to be installed by Southwestern Public Service Co. in a new city lighting project.

The city superintendent told the council that he is more than a little concerned over the leak at the reservoir.

"WE MAY BE running into something big," Tate said. He explained that the leak is at the west end of the reservoir and that to repair it, it will be necessary to drain all the water in the west compartment into the middle and east compartments.

"If it's as big a job as I think it is going to be, we will have to go in there with an air compressor and a back-hoe to repair it," the city superintendent told the council. He said about 30 gallons a minute are being lost through the leak.

Three bids received on purchase of the new truck for the water department were not opened at the meeting, since at least two more bids are expected.

Before leaving, the mayor and councilmen signed a resolution making final the appointment of Willard Opp as assistant city marshal, and also affixed their signatures to the ordinance annexing the Sunset Addition.

The resolution covering Opp's appointment was drawn up last month following a special meeting at which the appointment was approved.

A great many men shiver in the cold just because they imagined they had the fire of genius.

Book markers to call attention to daily Bible reading program

Book markers calling attention to the 15th Anniversary Worldwide Bible Reading, Thanksgiving to Christmas, will be distributed here by the Post Ministerial Alliance.

The book markers will be available at the First National Bank and other business places and in the churches of the city. In addition, school principals will make them available to students just prior to the beginning of the daily Bible reading period.

Each year, explains a member of the ministerial alliance, a special committee with the President of the United States as honorary chairman selects a group of favorite scriptures—one to be read each day from Thanksgiving to the last

Trustees—

(Continued From Front Page) for a decade of growth ahead—or for construction of school buildings so that classroom additions may be made as enrollments require.

SUPT. SMITH presented the board with four tentative plans for expansion which would have to be accepted in pairs. One would call for the addition of a major classroom extension to the present grade school building and a major remodeling and expansion of the present high school for future high school use.

The second would call for a new high school building with the present high school remodeled and expanded for junior high use. The present junior high then would be converted into a second grade school.

Smith said there are 32 classrooms in the present grade school and junior high building for future grade school use if the second plan were adopted.

HIS REMODELING suggestions to turn the present high school into a junior high building would call for conversion of high school auditorium into classroom space with six classrooms built at the start on the lower of two floors with six to be completed later when needed on a floor above when the floor above left open for use as an assembly room until needed for classrooms.

Construction of a new gym with conversion of the present gym into an ag shop was proposed. Supt. Smith emphasized that expansion plans should include an addition to the lunchroom so its feeding capacity could be increased from a 600 maximum to 1,000 students. This was estimated at 1,000 students.

TRUSTEES DISCUSSED location for a new high school if built, and Supt. Smith stressed the many advantages to be gained by keeping all the schools on a single campus. The use of the lunchroom by all students, availability for school bus pickup and discharge, and employment of some faculty members among the different school units were pointed out by Smith along with several others.

In other actions Monday night, the board:

Established a policy that married students could participate in high school sports here on condition that all went and returned as students on the bus and that girl basketball players obtain a health check-up each month from their physician and turn it in to the coach. No definite policy had been established in the past, board members said.

DECIDED TO SELL to the highest bidder a 1951 International pickup truck half ton capacity, which is in good condition with good tires. Bids will be received by Bobby Pierce, board secretary, up to Dec. 1 on the truck.

Decided to take out comprehensive insurance to cover the school district's fleet of 11 buses at a cost of $219.70 a year. This will cover glass breakage, of which Smith said there has been considerable in the past, and thus should virtually pay for itself.

Burglars—

The sheriff said today that he is still working on three break-ins at Southland, and that three Mexican youths have been questioned in connection with a break-in at the post office there. The officer said the intruders apparently made no effort to get any further than the lobby of the post office.

The other Southland break-ins were at Dunn's Food Store, where about 45 cartons of cigarettes were stolen, and at Pennell's Garage, where a cash register containing a small amount of money was taken.

Franklin says the office tries to be neither "hard" nor "easy" in grading. Sixty-five per cent of the cost of operation of classification office is paid for through the sale of cotton samples and seed.

Franklin predicted the grading of cotton may be "drastically changed" in the near future by mechanical measuring devices and by grades designed to measure cotton more accurately as to its spinning strength.

HE EXPLAINED that some mechanical samplers now are in operation in gins over the South Plains and one Lubbock firm has over 100 back orders from gins for this new mechanical device which takes a little cotton from all parts of the bale as it is ginned.

He agreed with R. J. (Rube) Jennings, president of Postex Mills, that too much lint cleaning in the gins damages the cotton for mill use. He said some gins have three or four lint cleaners to help boost the grade of the cotton ginned.

Four small building permits for construction costing an estimated $1,910 total have been filed in the city hall during the last week here to $425,747.

John Huffman was issued a permit for aluminum siding on residence, with the cost at $1,310.

Antelopes meet Slaton Tigers here Friday night in homecoming game

SECTION TWO The Post Dispatch SPORTS

Thursday, November 13, 1958

Post's second half comeback falls short; 'Dogs win, 18-9

The Tahoka Bulldogs scored three touchdowns in the first half, yielded a field goal, then held off a desperate second half passing attack Friday night to defeat the Post Antelopes, 18 to 9, at Tahoka.

It was homecoming for the Bulldogs and they proved themselves equal to the occasion. The victory was their second in nine games and their first in District 3-AA play. The loss left Coach Frank Krhut's Antelopes with a 3-5-1 record and still without a conference win.

In the final analysis, it was a fired-up Tahoka passing attack, netting 128 yards, that beat the Post team. Long passes from the arm of quarterback George Adams set up all three touchdowns.

AFTER THE Bulldogs scored their first touchdown with one minute to go in the initial quarter, Post came back in the second to score three points on a field goal off the toe of halfback Charlie Morris, with the point of scrimmage the Tahoka 15. Halfback Sidney Hart held the ball for Morris' successful place kick.

Tahoka came roaring back with two second quarter touchdowns, but were held scoreless the rest of the way, with the Antelopes adding a six-pointer with 8:07 to go in the final quarter.

After a clipping penalty halted the Antelopes on their first drive, Tahoka drove from their 33 to the Post 12, but lost the ball there on a fumble. Three tries gained only six yards for the Antelopes and quarterback Curtis Didway's punt was returned by Kenneth Stice from the Post 45 to the 35.

ADAMS PASSED 23 yards to halfback Robert Cloe on the Antelope 12, from where Billy Cain, a converted end, raced over for the touchdown. Ronnie Walters failed in a running try for the extra point.

On the final play of the first quarter, halfback Forrest Claborn took Didway's short pass on the Post 45 and dashed to the Tahoka 33. The Bulldogs drew a five-yard penalty and Didway rounded right end for 14 yards and a first down on the 14. Another running play lost a yard, and after two passes failed, Morris and Hart came in to form the combination for Post's first three points.

The Bulldogs lost little time in increasing their slim margin after receiving the kickoff. A 47-yard pass from George Adams to his brother, Jerry, deposited the ball on the 21, and another Adams-to-Adams pass took the ball to the 7. Two plays later, Walters plowed over from the 3 with 6:17 to go.

AFTER RECEIVING the kickoff, Post started moving on nice runs by halfback Jerry Windham and fullback Derwood Mayberry, but another 15-yard penalty halted the drive, and Post was forced to punt.

A 37-yard pass from Adams to Cain took the ball to the 11, and Cain went over from the 5 after two line plays had advanced the line of scrimmage to that point. Two minutes and 32 seconds were left in the first half.

From the point of the kickoff return — the Post 38 — Windham advanced the ball to the Tahoka 43 as the half ended.

TAHOKA RECEIVED to open the third quarter and drove to the Post 7 before guard Jimmy Minor recovered a fumble to halt the threat.

Now operating from a spread, the Antelopes passed their way to the Tahoka 28 and 19 on two separate surges during the quarter, but each time found their offense stymied with pay dirt just ahead.

Early in the final period, Windham intercepted one of Adams' tosses on the Post 45 and got back to the Tahoka 39. A fourth down pass from Didway to Morris click-

By CHARLES DIDWAY

We don't believe we've ever been as glad to see a high school football team's season approach the end of the trail as we are this year. In 12 months time, perhaps, some of those fans who have been doing the most bellyaching will have a change of heart, and we can get a fresh start on another season.

We've heard the wolves howl before where a high school football team's fortunes were concerned, but never before have we heard the boys catch the brunt of it, as they have here. Any coach in the country ought to be glad to have a coaching job in Post, because most of the fans here give the boys Hall Columbia before they ever start on the coaches.

During the last four or five weeks, we've heard from a dozen sources what the Antelope team needs. Boiled down, it amounts to this: The team needs a quarterback, it needs some halfbacks, it needs a fullback, ends who can catch passes, tackles, guards and centers who can hold the line on defense and play equally well on offense, etc., etc.

In addition, the team as a whole needs more weight, more speed and more depth. Strangely, these needs are not mentioned by the critics as often as the need for an ace quarterback, for a pile-driving fullback, for glue-fingered ends, etc. Any high school football team has to go with the best it has, and if that isn't good enough, let's not blame it on the boys—not as long as they are out there trying. There've been times when they haven't been, but most of the time they have.

Win or lose Friday night, let's cease the bellyaching if for nothing more than to show the boys we can. Who knows? If they don't hear from their home stands some of the things they HAVE been hearing of the last few games, they might just get out there and surprise somebody.

Anyway, we're going out to see!

Red Raiders play Tulsa Saturday

LUBBOCK — Texas Tech's Red Raiders, their best season since 1955 already assured, engage University of Tulsa there Saturday afternoon.

Tech beat Arizona 33-6 Saturday to bring its record to 3-4, but Coach DeWitt Weaver is wary of the Golden Hurricane. Tulsa defeated Houston, then last week dropped a 15-6 decision to Cincinnati in the rain. Tulsa will be awfully tough on the rebound, Weaver feels.

Tulsa has won from Tech the past two years by the margin of a field goal.

Tech's next—and final—home appearance will be against University of Arkansas at homecoming Nov. 22. Tickets are still available for the clash with the Razorbacks, the first such grid meeting in Lubbock, but a capacity crowd may attend.

Men who are industrious, sincere, and honest will have easy sledding on their way to success.

The SMU-Arkansas game will be broadcast from Fayetteville by Bob Walker and Jim Wiggins. Broadcast of the Texas A&M-

The Texas-TCU game will be broadcast from Fort Worth by Dave Russell and Eddie Hill.

The broadcast of the Texas Tech-Tulsa game will emanate from Tulsa with Eddie Barker handling the play-by-play and Jack Dale the color.

Wellman defeats Eagles, 44 to 16

The Southland Eagles close out their 1958 football season at home Friday night against Smyer in an eight-man conference football game.

The Eagles lost to the Wellman Wildcats, 44 to 16, last Friday night in a game which saw the Wildcats clinch a tie for the District 2-B Eight-Man championship.

Wellman needs to beat Union Saturday for the championship.

The game was much closer than the final score indicated. Southland held a 16-15 halftime lead, but couldn't get its offense in gear in the second half. Wellman, on the other hand, came to life with 29 points in the final two quarters.

Although Ronnie Dunn scored both Southland touchdowns, teammate Darrel Jones also stood out on offense.

Daring Story Of Creation
The world's most popular book, the Holy Bible, serves as the source and inspiration for "Adam and Eve". The story centers on Adam (Carlos Baena) and Eve (Christiane Martel) as they face the wondrous experience of life on earth.
It follows their harrowing trek across the bleak deserts, their exhaustion and thirst, the blessed rainfall that revives them, the terror of an earthquake, and their futile attempt to re-enter the Garden of Eden.
With tenderness and simplicity, it follows their experiences and adventures, their first awareness of their mutual need for each other, their first taste of the delightful fruits in the Garden of Eden, their ultimate tasting of the forbidden fruit of the Tree of Knowledge, and the tragedy that engulfs them thereafter.

Post invited to have special day at show

Post has been invited to have a "day" at the 1958 Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show, which will be held Jan. 30 through Feb. 8 in Fort Worth.

In a letter, W. R. Watt, president-manager of the show, suggested that Post select a cowgirl sweetheart who can be introduced at the Stock Show rodeo. Watt also invited the city to send its high school band so that the students may give a concert on the exposition grounds. Band members will be guests of the Stock Show at the rodeo performance.

Watt expressed the hope that a delegation of citizens, wearing hat bands or badges proclaiming their hometown, would attend the exposition. A special section of seats at the rodeo also will be set aside if Post residents would like to sit together.

Dale Robertson, star of the TV Western series, "Tales of Wells Fargo", will be featured in all rodeo performances. He will star in a musical act designed especially for the Fort Worth show.

"The days" when various towns are honored add color and contribute much to the success of the Stock Show", Watt said in his letter.

He asked that the Chamber of Commerce or any interested group work with the Stock Show officials to plan the special "day."

"The Stock Show is looking forward to your acceptance and will give your plans as widespread publicity as possible", Watt said in his letter. "All of us will do everything in our power to make your visit enjoyable."

engineering developments result in cutting almost in half the vol-transmission tunnel hump down the center of the car.

The instrument panel is mov-more inches more knee-room and ten inches more distance from the seat back.

Vision is improved both by low-

the huge, compound windshield larger than previous models.

Rear seat entrance and passeng-

More interior foot room is obtain-

Mercury is introducing wind-roof for hardtop models has a

Sedan models have a distinctive,

Mercury's high compression, over-

Salvation Army is to receive $1,250 if Chest budget raised

The Salvation Army will receive
$1,250 from the Garza Community Chest for 1959 if the full chest budget is raised next week.

County Judge Pat N. Walker, service unit chairman for the county, reports that of the $1,250 total $833.34 will be paid to the national organization of the Salvation Army for its national efforts and $416.66 will be retained here to be used for local service.

The money retained locally, according to Judge Walker, will be used for local charity matters, primarily to assist indigent people in traveling to and from state hospitals and clinics, where they receive free care for chronic diseases.

Assistance to itinerants is being held to a minimum, Judge Walker says, and the largest part of local funds are being spent to alleviate physical suffering and to rehabilitate where possible.

The Antelopes took a pretty bad fall last Friday night, but they have picked themselves up and are ready for Slaton tomorrow night.

Tomorrow night will be a big night here in Post. It is "Homecoming". We hope that it will be the biggest and best ever. Highlighting the game will be the crowning of the Homecoming Queen and then the Football Queen. The candidates for Football Queen are Barbara Shytlers, Kay Martin, and Anne Harmon.

The basketball girls opened the season in a big way. Both the "A" and "B" teams won their first game. This coming Tuesday night they will play New Deal here and then Friday night, Wilson, also here. Everyone be sure and come—we do not think that you will be disappointed at all!

Mrs. Scott will be taking some P. H. S. students to the Speech Contest at Lubbock Saturday morning. Hope everyone does real well.

Everyone was real happy to see the time clock in the gym fixed. It is not new, but it looks so much better. All credit goes to our Student Council.

The seniors are taking orders for Homecoming corsages, so be sure and order from them!

Here are a few of the couples see together over the weekend: Pat Wheatley and Forrest Claborn, Melanie Thompson and Scottie Pierce, Barbara Shytlers and Jimmy Redman, Kathy Stone and Gary Howell, Kay Jones and Jackie Payne, Ruth Long and Tommy Young. Next week I will try to have a list of all the steady couples and engaged couples in P.H.S.

I still need some news. I'm desperate!

See you all at the big game Friday night.

Early Christmas mail campaign is started

Postmaster Harold Voss said to Christmas may seem quite off, but nevertheless, we're starting our annual 'Mail Early Christmas' Campaign immediately because there's every reason to say that the 1958 Christmas mail will set an all time mailing record.

The postmaster says it's especially important to include your return address on every Christmas card envelope. Besides being socially correct, this is a big help to both you and your friends in keeping your mailing lists up-to-date.

Through the fine cooperation of the public during recent years, Postmaster Voss reports that great progress has been made in getting the Christmas mails through on time. He is making many advance preparations to handle the 1958 Christmas mail rush, with extra mail clerks, carriers, and expanded facilities all around.

Speaking further about his plans, the postmaster said, "With over 170,000,000 people in the U.S.A. today, that means more Christmas mail than ever before, and that's why the Post Office needs your help in planning your Christmas mailings well in advance."

Christmas cards and gifts for distant points should be mailed first preferably well before Dec. 10, and those for nearby points should be mailed by Dec. 15, or at least a week before Christmas.

Golden Age Club is participant in Community Chest

The Golden Age Club, organized several months ago by the Lions Club, is one of the two new participating agencies in the 1959 Community Chest.

The Golden Age Club, which provides weekly recreation and enjoyment for all the community's oldest who are interested, will receive a $593.80 budget from the chest if next week's drive goes over the top.

Part of this money will go for equipment for Antelope Alley or the youth center and will be retained there for general community use.

This includes the purchase of 24 metal folding chairs at $4.95 each at a total cost of $118.80, $40 for a used range, and $35 for a used refrigerator.

$300 is set up in the budget for expenses of club operation under direction of Mrs. Mary Ellis, the club's president. The remaining $104 is to provide janitor service to clean up the youth center each week after the Thursday luncheon session of the club.

The Golden Age Club meets each Thursday noon for a covered dish luncheon and then visit and play a variety of games during the afternoon. Transportation is arranged for those who do not have any means of getting to the youth center for the luncheons.

How to make a teen-ager believe in Santa:

Give her a color telephone of her very own and you'll make her the happiest young lady in town this Christmas!

What's more, a phone of her own leaves mother's and dad's line free for their exclusive use.

There's a choice of ten attractive colors to blend or contrast with the décor of her room (or his). And the cost of an additional telephone, in color, is only pennies per day!

It's the easiest Christmas shopping you can do—and a gift that's appreciated all year. Just call our Business Office, and we'll do our best to arrange the installation at your convenience.

9,000 boys, adults served by Scouting in SP Council

The Boy Scouts America program is sharing the 1959 Community Chest to the extent of $2,500 as the County's share of the expenses of the program here and throughout the South Plains Council, which comprises a 20-county area. The following article was written by a prominent adult Scout leader and officer in the Council.

Whether there is war or peace, prosperity or depression, the Boy Scout movement is for all boys, regardless of race, creed, color or economic level. Catholic, Jew and Protestant find tolerance, reverence, patriotism and self-respect as a part of the fundamental lessons of Scouting. Scouting appeals to rural boys as well as to urban boys. It is a program for all boys: Cub Scouts, 8 to 10 years of age; Scouts, 11 to 13 years of age, and Explorers, 15 to 17 years of age.

The purpose of Scouting is character training for citizenship, which is carried out through the Scouting program and the oath and law which the boys must voluntarily accept and carry out in their daily lives. This applies through Cubbing, Scouting, and Exploring.

The South Plains Council covers a 20-county area of the South Plains and is made up of a group of youth-minded men who have secured a charter from the National Council to see that boys in the area have an equal opportunity to participate in the program. Various communities are organized into districts, with Post as a member of the Comanche Trail District.

The South Plains Council at the present time is serving 9,000 boys and adults. In Post, it is serving a Cub Pack sponsored by the Parent-Teacher Association; a Scout Troop, sponsored by the Rotary Club, and an Explorer Post, sponsored by the Lions Club. These units belong to their respective sponsors and the programs carried out within the units are the unit's own programs, carried out with assistance from District and Council.

The Council offers training for volunteer leaders, camping on a District and Council basis, a Scout office to which Scouts and leaders go for supplies and information. Assistance is given in health and safety, organization and extension, and in advancement on both Council and District levels.

Nationally and on a Council basis, approximately one-third of the boys of eligible age are participating in a program dedicated to the development of good character and citizenship. Facts on the South Plains Council:

Composed of 20 counties, presently serving 7,300 boys. Camp Post is the main Council camp and serves boys in a 20-county area.

Camp operating budget is approximately $12,000, the major portion of which is spent in Post. Post is in the Comanche Trail District, which also serves Ralls, Crosbyton, Spur and Jayton.

Community Center for Colored new Chest participant

One of the two new participating agencies in Garza County's 1959 Community Chest is the Colored Community Center. The Community Center has requested a budget of $394.98, practically all of which will be used to purchase equipment and make repairs for the center. The center is operated under the supervision of Dennis Guichard. The budget request by the Community Center to the Chest includes the following items: $42.11 to cover two chairs and couch; $23.35 for stools for center's service bar; $45 for electric fans; $15 to drain cesspool; $40 to repair and tune piano; $40 for a 20 by 20 foot kitchen floor covering; $19.52 to insure center's contents for $1,000; $10 for pipe and fixture to put running water in center's kitchen; $10 for two gallons of paint to paint exterior of building; $24 for six chairs; $80 to trade in gas refrigerator for used electric refrigerator; $10 for basketball; $26 for ping pong set and table top; $5 for horseshoe set; and $5 for dart game. The Colored Community Center is the former Colored school building and is operated several nights each week by Guichard.

Tower schedules double feature

The color, the beauty, the terror, the grandeur of the mightiest force that men grapple with in the grim business of living—the billowing sea underneath whose surface the savagely relentless battle for survival never has a moment of truce—all these elements live brilliantly, vividly, tragically in RKO's new Pathecolor feature, "Naked Sea." "Naked Sea" will show at the Tower Theatre tomorrow and Saturday as one-half of a double feature, the other attraction being "Badman's Country," starring George Montgomery and co-starring Neville Brand, Buster Crabbe and Karin Booth.

No man is fully educated until he learns to read himself.

Chest's budget for Youth Center $615

One of the many local organizations benefitting from the 1959 Garza County Community Chest drive, next week, will be the Garza County Youth Center.

The youth center will receive $615 for next year, if the full chest budget is subscribed.

This money is used to pay the expenses of operating Antelope Alley for the young people of the community.

The $615 youth center budget is broken down with $60 for rent, $200 for utilities, $30 for concession expense, $75 for records and entertainment, $50 for repairs, and $200 for janitor service and supplies.
