Rights Slaying Case Jury Acquits Deputy

India, Pakistanis Gird For Bloodshed

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — India and Pakistan dug in today for what promised to be more bloody skirmishing along the ineffective U.N. cease-fire line between their armies.

Spokesmen for both nations continued to adopt uncompromising stands that appeared to leave no prospect of a significant troop withdrawal or long-range peace settlement.

ARMIES GIRD

Both armies nervously fenced with each other, sending out patrols, consolidating their positions in several sectors and continued the shootings.

The United Nations, which arranged the cease-fire on Sept. 28, still did not have enough observers to patrol the front. The chief U.N. officer, Maj. Gen. Bruce McDonald of Canada, reportedly crossed no-man's land in the Lahore sector in an effort to quiet the skirmishing.

McDonald was reported proposing that both armies initially withdraw 500 yards along the Lahore front, where their forward units now faced each other across the 100-foot-wide Ichhogil Canal.

U.N. FORCE

A U.N. spokesman in New York said Secretary-General U Thant had asked several Communist East European governments to contribute to the U.N. observer force. Yugoslavia is the only Communist nation which has received such a request in the past.

Both sides were charging cease-fire violations along the front stretching from Himalayan Kashmir southwest almost to the Arabian Sea Coast.

Some of the heaviest fighting was reported in the great Indian desert covering much of India's Rajasthan State and the adjoining Hyderabad area of southern West Pakistan.

CAPTURE OFFICERS

The Pakistani defenders said they inflicted heavy casualties and captured five Indian officers, including a battalion commander.

India claimed it was winning the desert fighting, causing the Pakistanis "grievous losses in men and equipment." A defense ministry spokesman said 27 Pakistanis were killed and 26 captured when their units tried to infiltrate the West Indian state.

Triple-Death Suspect Flees Kendall Jail

BOERNE, Tex. (AP)—A soldier charged with killing his mother and two other relatives broke out of the Kendall County jail Wednesday night.

Sheriff Doug Kuebel said the prisoner, Gary Wilkinson, 22, escaped about 10 p.m. while there were only trusties in the jail office.

He said Wilkinson, who was held on the second floor of the old three-story rock building, found a stepladder, pried loose part of a tin ceiling and climbed into the third floor attic.

DARTS AWAY

From there the prisoner crawled through a narrow passage to a stairway leading down, found a cell block door unlocked and darted out the back door of the building.

Wilkinson was returned only a short time earlier after undergoing tests and examination at the state mental hospital in San Antonio.

Sheriff's deputies recalled hearing Wilkinson say "he doesn't care how many more people he takes with him because he has nothing to lose." His trial was set for later this month.

BIG MANHUNT

More than 50 men hunted through the night without finding any trace of the fugitive.

Officers did not know whether Wilkinson had obtained a gun or a car. State police warned that he was extremely dangerous.

Boerne's volunteer firemen helped search vacant houses and joined in manning roadblocks set up in this Central Texas area.

Rusk, Russian To Talk Again

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko talked about disarmament and the India-Pakistan conflict Wednesday night without producing any noticeable thaw in U.S.-Soviet relations.

The two did agree to meet again Friday night, at the headquarters of the Soviet U.N. Mission.

This was in line with advance predictions. In their initial meeting, a three-hour dinner at Rusk's hotel suite, the two engaged in what U.S. sources described as a general "feeling out" of their diplomatic positions.

"RELAXED, FRIENDLY"

"Relaxed," "friendly" and "businesslike" were terms applied to the first such U.S.-Soviet discussions since Rusk and Gromyko attended the last U.N. General Assembly session in December 1964.

A chilling note arrived from Moscow just as the talks began. Communist party chief Leonid I. Brezhnev declared that "the armed aggression of American imperialism" in Viet Nam imposed "a clearly evident tendency toward freezing" of Soviet-American relations.

U.S. officials downgraded this as Kremlin propaganda for Communist consumption. But it fit a pattern of Soviet gruffness on a number of fronts ranging from anti-American propaganda invective to harassment of U.S.-Soviet cultural exchanges.

RED RIVALRY

The current interpretation by U.S. officials is that Moscow, caught up in its rivalry with Peking for leadership of the Communist camp, is being pressed into tougher-sounding positions than it would prefer. The Red Chinese are accusing the Kremlin of collaborating with Washington.

Gromyko declined to comment to newsmen Wednesday night about Brezhnev's speech. Nor would he say there had been "progress" in U.S.-Soviet relations from his talk with Rusk.

"I would prefer not to answer such questions," he said.

U.S. officials and Gromyko agreed that most of the discussion had dealt with disarmament and with the India-Pakistan dispute as it stands before the U.N. Security Council. Both nations have supported the Security Council demands for a cease-fire on the subcontinent.

In the disarmament field both sides have put forward a variety of proposals, including rival plans to halt the spread of nuclear weapons.

Foreign Aid Compromise

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate and House conferees agreed today on a compromise foreign aid appropriations bill.

Sen. John O. Pastore, D-R.I., said the figure was fixed at $3,218,000,000.

A total of $142 million had separated the two chambers, and Pastore said the compromise was $75 million above what the Senate had recommended and $67 million below the House figure.

The conferees upheld Senate amendments that would ban aid to Indonesia and the United Arab Republic unless the President deems it in the national interest.

Hard Freeze Warnings Up In Parts Of Nation

By The Associated Press

Hard-freeze warnings were up in northern New Mexico today as blustery weather plaguing the high Plains and central Rockies spread southward.

The Weather Bureau also warned of a hard freeze in the northeastern plateau and northern mountains of Arizona as Denver — where an earthquake shook up residents Wednesday —shivered under a 2-inch blanket of snow.

SNOW EXPECTED

Snowfalls of 2 to 4 inches were in store for western South Dakota and Nebraska, the bureau said. Stockmen took measures to safeguard their animals as a driving rain, mixed with snow and whipped along by 35-mile-an-hour winds, soaked those states Wednesday night.

Rain drenched the Atlantic and Gulf coasts. Occasional rain also washed down an area from the upper Mississippi Valley to the Dakotas and Kansas.

Tropical storm Debbie broke up south of the Mississippi coast Wednesday without causing expected damage, but the storm spawned heavy rains which caused flooding in parts of coastal Georgia. More than 5 inches of rain was reported at Glynco Naval Air Station, Ga., where all but essential operations were halted.

CONTINUES TO FALL

Wet snow continued to fall during the early morning in southeastern Wyoming, northeastern Colorado and the Nebraska Panhandle. Rain, with gusty winds, splashed across the northern and central Plains.

Temperatures dropped to the 30s in the Rockies and from the Dakotas to northeastern New Mexico. Early morning readings ranged from 27 at Butte, Mont., to 83 at Key West, Fla.

Eleven Complaints Filed For Truancy

Dee Jon Davis, county attorney, said he had filed 11 complaints against as many families alleging violation of the state truancy law, and that there were 21 children involved in the cases.

The complaints were filed in the county clerk's office at 11:30 a.m. today. Originally, Davis said, he had 14 complaints readied, but three of the families enrolled their children Thursday morning.

Warrants will be served on the 11 parents today. The penalty for conviction is $5 for the first day's absence after official notice, $10 for the second day, and so on, increasing $5 each day.

Each child kept illegally out of school comprises a separate offense on the list.

The warning notices were sent several days ago.

At least three families with eight children, who were among the group holding out in a protest against the closing of Kate Morrison School, capitulated Wednesday and sent their children to be enrolled at Lakeview or to other schools.

Davis said the cases could be filed in either the county court or justices of the peace courts. He filed the cases he has on hand in the county court.

Originally about 75 or more children had been kept out of school in protest to the closing of the Kate Morrison school by a group of Northside residents. A steady decrease in the original number has been noted since school opened. The eight who fell out of the protest ranks Wednesday are typical, Truancy officer Tom Henry said.

Twelve more school children from the former Kate Morrison attendance area were enrolled at Lakeview Elementary this morning according to a report from Principal Ernest Morgan to Supt. Sam Anderson.

Two more, who have moved into the Boydstun school area, enrolled there today.

"There are two families, with about four children, listed on our cards whom we have been unable to locate," Anderson sai "This leaves about 22 children who have either not entered school or who have moved."

Around 120 children were formerly listed in the Kate Morrison attendance area.

Final Action Due On Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional action may be completed today on a bill which would wipe out the national origins quota system of immigration while, for the first time, limiting immigration from Western Hemisphere nations.

Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., chairman of a Senate-House Conference Committee that whipped the legislation into final form, said it would be called up for a House vote during the day.

Senate action to send the measure to President Johnson may follow quickly, although this would require laying aside other legislation temporarily.

CEILING ISSUE

The chief difference between the immigration bills previously passed by each branch was that the Senate voted to put a ceiling of 120,000 a year on immigrants from Canada, Mexico and other Western Hemisphere nations beginning July 1, 1968.

The House under strong pressure from the administration, had narrowly rejected a similar proposal.

However, the administration later abandoned the fight and the House conferees yielded to the Senate.

For nations outside the hemisphere, the bill provides for the admission of up to 170,000 immigrants annually with preference given to those with close family ties to U.S. citizens or with skills needed in this country. Emphasis is on the reunion of families.

CURRENT LAW

Under present law, nations outside this hemisphere have an annual quota of 158,561 allotted on the basis of national origins of the U.S. population in 1920.

Johnson, in urging abolition of the quota system last January, said it is incompatible with the basic American tradition of asking "not where a person comes from but what are his personal qualities."

The bill sets no country-by-country quotas. However no more than 20,000 immigrants may be admitted annually from any single nation outside the Western Hemisphere.

Not subject to the numerical limitations in the bill are the husbands and wives, minor children and parents of U.S. citizens.

The present quota system is to be eliminated over three years. During this transition, unused quotas of countries with large quotas would be made available to nations like Italy and Greece that have oversubscribed quotas.

Emergency Training Set

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The Army announced plans today for stepped up training for 150,000 selected Army National Guard and Army Reserve members to ready them for any Viet Nam emergencies.

Lt. Gen. W.H.S. Wright, chief of Army Reserve components, told the National Guard Association convention that three division forces and six brigade forces had been earmarked for the training.

LISTING WAITED

Identity of the units was expected to be announced later in the day.

Wright said the force would consist of Guard and Reserve units from every state except Alaska.

"Every attempt has been made to insure an equitable distribution between the states in numbers of individuals and units," Wright said.

Aides said Alaska had but a single brigade which already was committed to defense purposes.

AUGMENT ARMY

"We plan to augment the active Army by activating one division force, three brigade forces, additional helicopter companies and combat and service support units," Wright added.

"This will require a doubling of draft calls and heavy increases in the Army's training load," Wright said.

Soviet Says N. Viet Aid Will Continue

MOSCOW (AP) — The war in Viet Nam is freezing Soviet-American relations and the Soviet Union will continue to supply military aid to North Viet Nam, Soviet Communist party chief Leonid I. Brezhnev says.

Reviewing Soviet foreign policy before the party central committee Wednesday, the bushy-browed first secretary also held out an olive branch to Red China.

Brezhnev said the war in Viet Nam "greatly complicated" Soviet relations with the United States and those relations "show a clearly evident tendency toward freezing."

"U.S. AGGRESSION"

"Normalization of our relations is incompatible with the armed aggression of American imperialism against a fraternal Socialist country — Viet Nam," he said.

"The nature of the further development of our relations with the United States will depend on whether or not the leaders of this country will show enough common sense to abandon the policy of aggressive attacks."

U.S. officials in Washington found nothing surprising in Brezhnev's speech. For months, U.S. leaders have recognized that there is no prospect for substantial improvement in U.S.-Soviet relations while the two governments are so sharply divided over the war in Viet Nam.

HEAVY AID

Brezhnev said that the Soviet Union, as "the strongest and best developed Socialist power," had already given Communist North Viet Nam considerable military aid.

"This aid will be continued," he said.

Brezhnev said that British support of American policy in Viet Nam also "substantially hampered" Moscow's relations with London.

He again attacked West German "militarism" and warned that the Warsaw Pact nations of Communist Eastern Europe would take steps to strengthen their defense. He said there are "no possibilities for fruitful development of relations with West Germany" even though trade continues.

Brezhnev again insisted that since last October, when Nikita Khrushchev was deposed, Moscow had attempted to restore unity with Red China but "unfortunately we were not supported by the leaders of the Communist party of China."

Nevertheless, he said, "We must consistently continue to search for the ways of settling the disagreement and consolidating friendship and cooperation between the Soviet and Chinese peoples, between our parties and countries."

The central committee, ending a three-day meeting, gave approval to the sweeping economic reforms Brezhnev and Premier Alexei N. Kosygin have charted since they toppled Khrushchev. The two men appeared to have strengthened their holds on the top of the Kremlin command.

Final Word

Pope Urged To Have Final Say

VATICAN CITY (AP)—The Vatican Ecumenical Council was asked today to scrap its entire text on birth control and let Pope Paul VI make a final pronouncement on the subject.

The request came from John Cardinal Heenan of Britain, who also asked that the Roman Catholic Church urge childless couples to adopt orphans and illegitimate children.

Cardinal Heenan was among 14 prelates who spoke in the council on the marriage and birth control section of the assembly's schema on modern world problems.

The document speaks of couples having the right to determine the number of children they should have. But there is no mention of contraception.

Another speaker, Angelo Cardinal Rossi of Sao Paulo, Brazil, said the final word on birth control properly belongs to the Pope, but that the bishops at the council "must have some word before we leave and go back to our people."

Texas Hunter Recuperating

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP)—"Warm for the first time in two weeks," a Texas businessman was recovering today from the effects of a "two-minute goat" hunt that turned into two weeks of battling Alaska weather.

"My blood just turned to ice," Thomas Brawner, 62, president of the Brawner Paper Co. in Houston, said Wednesday from a hospital bed where he was treated for exhaustion.

TRIO VANISHED

Brawner, Ralph Marshall, a guide and pilot, and Mrs. Helen Burnett, 47, Anchorage sportswoman, disappeared Sept. 14 on a bear hunting trip.

"We thought we'd stop and get a two-minute goat," Marshall explained.

He landed on a small lake in the rugged Bering Glacier area near Cordova. A strut broke when Marshall tried to land again later after an unsuccessful takeoff.

Goats are plentiful in the area and provided virtually the only course at every meal. The three spent most of their time on a rocky island in the glacial lake where the brush was too green to make a good fire.

FINE MEAT

The goat meat, Brawner said, was served "very, very rare."

"I didn't know a goat could taste so good with nothing but salt washed down with glacial water," Marshall said.

All three admitted the diet was pretty tiresome.

The Texas hunter, who was wearing only light clothing, said his companions "did everything possible to make me comfortable."

"It was cold and rainy," said Marshall, "and always a wind— didn't think it would ever stop blowing."

"I've never been so wet and so miserable for so long in my life," echoed Mrs. Burnett.

Rescue came early Wednesday. A helicopter picked up the hunters and took them to Cordova.

Self-Defense Plea Pressed By Accused

HAYNEVILLE, Ala. (AP) — A jury of 12 white men acquitted special Deputy Sheriff Thomas L. Coleman today of a manslaughter charge in the killing of a white civil rights worker, Jonathan M. Daniels.

The verdict came after the jury had deliberated one hour Wednesday night and one hour this morning. In the intervening time, the jurors had spent the night locked up in Montgomery.

READS VERDICT

Foreman C. E. Gates Jr. handed the written verdict to the circuit clerk, Mrs. Kelly Coleman. She read it aloud in the courtroom.

Several of the jurors shook hands with the defendant after Circuit Judge T. Werth Thagard discharged them.

The spectators who occupied most of the seats in the courtroom took the verdict without any display of feeling.

Manslaughter, which under Alabama law is defined as a deliberate, unlawful taking of human life without malice, is punishable by one to 10 years in prison.

Defense attorneys, in closing arguments, readily conceded that Coleman, 55, a highway engineer, killed Daniels, an Episcopal seminary student from Keene, N.M., and critically wounded the Rev. Richard Morrisroe of Chicago.

LAST AUGUST

The shooting occurred on the afternoon of Aug. 20 in front of a country grocery store at Hayneville.

Defense attorneys contended that the churchmen were armed with a knife and pistol and that Coleman, a prominent Hayneville resident, fired two shots from a 12-gauge automatic shotgun in self defense.

While the jury was out, the judge conferred with state and defense attorneys in still another civil rights slaying, and postponed that trial until Oct. 18. It had been expected to start today.

KLANSMAN'S CASE

Thagard said he did not believe it would be possible to finish the trial of Ku Klux Klansman Collie LeRoy Wilkins Jr., 21, by the end of this week.

And, because of a weighted docket in another county of his circuit, the judge said he could not let the Wilkins case run past the weekend.

Consequently, he reset the klansman's trial for a special term of court next month. The Fairfield, Ala., mechanic is charged with murder in the killing of a Detroit housewife, Viola Liuzzo.

Coleman's attorneys, to support their plea of self-defense in the slaying of Daniels, 27, reminded the jury of the testimony of two witnesses who said they saw — or thought they saw — a knife in Daniel's hand and a gun in the hand of the Catholic priest, Father Morrisroe.

Officers found no weapon on Daniels or Morrisroe after the shooting.

Plant Capacity Will Double

BEAUMONT (AP) — The Mobil Oil Co. refinery here will more than double the capacity of a new power plant under construction.

General Manager L. E. Cranston said a second steam generator and another turbine generator with an output of 30,000 kilowatts are being added.

First phase of construction is expected to be completed this year with the startup of the first 500,000-pound steam generator and 20,000 kilowatt turbine generator.

Editor Fears News Clamp

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Sharp restrictions are going to be imposed on the amount of information given to the press before criminal trials, a prominent lawyer told the Associated Press Managing Editors annual meeting today.

Thomas F. Lambert Jr. of Boston, editor-in-chief of the American Trial Lawyer's Association, said bar associations were moving "in the direction of an absolute prohibition on pre-trial publicity," despite newspaper protests.

He predicted that laws would be enacted and court rulings would be issued so that law-enforcement officials also would be held in contempt of court if they gave out information that might impair a criminal defendant's chances of a fair trial.

"I do not expect the judicial contempt power to be applied to the press," Lambert said. "But do not take that as a license to get away with practices that are not in the interests of justice."

Lambert addressed the convention as a member of a panel discussing the continuing controversy that arose from the Warren Commission's report criticizing the activities of newspapers in covering the assassination of President John F. Kennedy and the arrest of Lee Harvey Oswald

The panel discussion highlighted the second day of business sessions during the convention of AP member newspaper editors.

OIL REPORT

Fourteen Sites In Proven Areas

Fourteen field locations have been staked this week in Glasscock, Howard and Garza counties. Twelve of these are in Howard County, in the same field in the same block, and by the same operator.

David Fasken has staked the No. 1 Gladys Clark et al in the Garden City (Fusselman) area, eight miles east of Garden City to go to 10,000 feet. Location is 467 feet from the north and east lines of section 6-32-4s, T&P survey.

Consolidated Oil & Gas Co. has staked No. 1-WS-B Connell Estate in the Post (Glorieta) field of Garza County, seven miles northeast of Justiceburg to go to a contract depth of 1,600 feet. The site is spotted 1,400 feet from the north and 1,900 feet from the east lines of section 1-1, F.M.&A.J. Long survey.

Colorado Oil Co. has spotted 12 wells in the Howard-Glasscock field. All are in section block 29, W&NW survey, six miles north and east of Forsan.

The No. 5 Cooper, an old well being drilled deeper, is 1,644 feet from the south and 309 feet from the east lines of section 94, to go to 3,100 feet; No. 6 Cooper, 333 feet from the north and 319 feet from the east lines of section 94, to 3,100 feet; No. 5-A L. R. and W. N. Reed, 1,676 feet from the south and 348 feet from the west lines of section 141, to 3,100 feet; No. 6-A Reed, 1,695 feet from the south and 2,215 feet from the west lines of section 141, to 3,175 feet; No. 7-A Reed, 1,027 feet from the south and 968 feet from the west lines of section 141, to 3,175 feet; No. 1-B Reed, 1,929 feet from the south and 335 feet from the west lines of section 141, to 3,175 feet; No. 7-B Reed, 1,020 feet from the north and 282 feet from the east lines of section 141, to 3,175 feet; No. 2-C Reed, 312 feet from the north and 1,000 feet from the west lines of the southwest quarter of section 142, to 3,175 feet; No. 3-C Reed, 990 feet from the north and 328 feet from the west lines of the southwest quarter of section 142, to 3,175 feet; No. 5-C Reed, 910 feet from the north and 1,000 feet from the west lines of the southwest quarter of section 142, to 3,175 feet; No. 5 Scott, 325 feet from the south and 1,020 feet from the west lines of section 87, to 3,175 feet; No. 7 Scott, 2,223 feet from the west and 990 feet from the south lines of section 87, to 3,175 feet.

Woman Injured By Grease Burns

Two grease fires in kitchens Wednesday and this morning caused slight burn injuries to one local woman, according to A. D. Meador, fire marshal.

A pan of grease in the Harold Coleman residence, 3217 Drexel, caught fire at about 10 a.m. today, burning the kitchen cabinets and causing heavy smoke damage. Mrs. Carl Browning, mother of Mrs. Coleman burned her hands slightly attempting to put out the fire before firemen arrived, according to Mrs. Coleman. Meador medicated Mrs. Browning's light burns, her daughter said.

Wednesday, grease caught fire in the Settles Hotel kitchen, sending two fire trucks to the scene, but the fire was confined to the grease, and there was no damage to the building or employes, firemen said.

Tuckers Post $1,500 Bonds

E. T. Tucker Jr. and James Tucker, connected with the Big Spring Grain and Commission Co., have posted $1,500 bonds with the sheriff's office here and been released. They were named in a complaint filed last week in San Angelo for alleged mishandling of grain on storage in the company's plant here. They were permitted to set bail here rather than have to go to San Angelo.

On Wednesday, a suit was filed against the company asking that a receiver be appointed to handle its operations and assets. This was a separate proceeding from that filed in San Angelo.

Training Class For Den Mothers

A Den Mother's Training Course will be held Oct. 11-13, in Withycombe Hall at Webb AFB, according to Bill McRee, area Boy Scout executive.

The course will be under the direction of Mrs. Patricia Roberts and Mrs. Ronald L. Kellar, both experienced Cub Scout Den Mothers, and all interested women, including parents, prospective den mothers, and present den mothers are invited, McRee said.

The course will be from 9:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. each of the three days, he indicated, and the course will be complete.

City Employes Go For Truck

Ernest Lillard, director of public works, drove a city employe to San Angelo late Wednesday to pick up the city's new garbage truck, which was in San Angelo to have a body placed on it by Pak-Mor Co. The body was installed Wednesday, Lillard said, and the truck will be driven back to Big Spring by the city worker today.

The truck will be serviced by Shroyer's Friday and be ready for city work by Monday. Shroyer's is the local firm from which the city bought the truck several months ago.

Dogs Reported Chasing Beeves

Eight dogs were picked up and placed in the city dog pound early this morning, according to police. Evidently strays, they are suspected of being part of a pack of 15 which for three nights has been chasing calves belonging to Ed Wise, causing injury to some beeves when they run into fences.

The cattle are kept near Northeast Second, near the sale barns, according to Wise. Police have issued a warning to residents in the area to keep their dogs near home at night, for any caught running cattle will be destroyed.

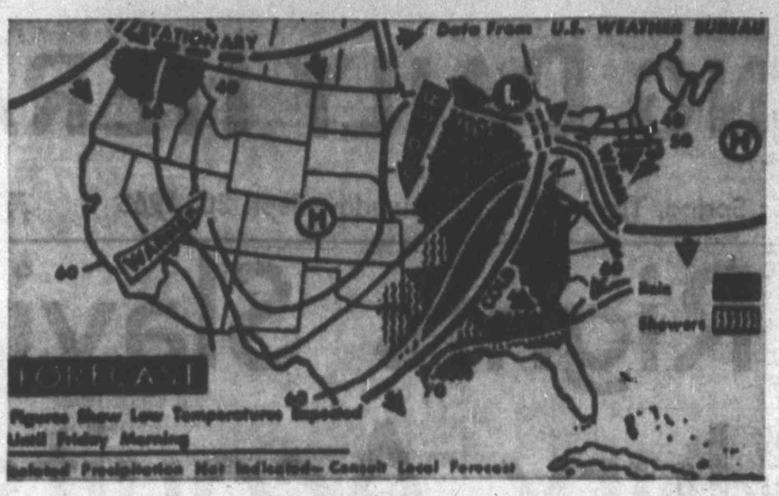

Mrs. Murphey Rites To Be Held Saturday

Minnie Elizabeth Murphey, 83, died in a local hospital Wednesday at 11:10 a.m. after an illness of two weeks.

A resident of Big Spring for 28 years, she moved here from Dunn in 1939. Born in Adamsville, Tenn., Feb. 26, 1882, Mrs. Murphey was married to E. R. Murphey, who died in 1944. She had been a member of the Church of Christ since she was 16 years old, and was a member of the local Rebecca Lodge, No. 284.

Services will be at 2 p.m. Saturday at the River-Welch chapel. Burial will be in City Cemetery.

Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. Earl Shanks and Mrs. A. H. Honey, both of Big Spring; a step-son, Roy Murphey, Coleman; a brother, Leroy Unger, Big Spring; a sister, Mrs. Jack Shelton, Teague; 21 grandchildren and a number of great-grandchildren.

Weather Forecast

Rain and showers are expected from the Upper Mississippi Valley and Lakes area to the Gulf Coast tonight and in the Pacific Northwest. It will be warmer from the Southern Pacific Coast to the Northern Rockies and cooler from the Upper Lakes to the Southern Plains. (AP Wirephoto Map)

Federal-Aid-For-Arts Bill Signed In LBJ Ceremony

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, with a distinguished group of actors, writers, scholars and educators looking on, signed Wednesday legislation providing federal aid for the arts.

He announced at the ceremony that the federal government, working with state and local governments as well as private organizations will:

Create a national repertory theater to bring ancient and modern classics to audiences all over America.

NATIONAL OPERA

Support a national opera company and a national ballet company.

Create an American film institute, bringing together leading artists of the film industry, outstanding educators and young men and women who wish to pursue art as their life's work.

"PRECIOUS HERITAGE"

In a speech before signing the legislation, Johnson described art as the nation's most precious heritage.

The legislation creates the National Foundation for the Arts and the Humanities to make grants and otherwise stimulate interest in the arts.

The new law makes about $20 million of federal money available for the program in each of the next three years.

Sheriff Checks Reported Rape

Sheriff's officers are checking out a reported rape attack on a 22-year-old woman, admittedly a mental patient. The woman claimed a strange man forced his way into her trailer house, ripped off her clothing and assaulted her.

Sheriff's deputies were inclined to think that the complaint was a hallucination on the part of the complainant since it was shown by examination that no evidence of assault existed. They are continuing their check into the case, however.

The woman has been under treatment for mental disturbance. Her husband, who was not at the trailer house where the couple lives, said his wife had been attacked as a young girl and that it had left her disturbed. She was being studied by a psychologist today.

Lawyer Elected Head Of Board

AUSTIN (AP)—Preston Shirley, Galveston lawyer, was elected chairman of the University of Texas development board Wednesday. He succeeds Tom Sealy of Midland.

The board handles private donations for the university and has received almost $9 million the past fiscal year.

Joe Hayden Is About The Same

Hospital attendants said that Joe Hayden, Howard County Commissioner from Precinct No. 3, is "about the same." Hayden has been in the Howard County Foundation Hospital since the night of Sept. 20.

He suffered a severe stroke on that date and was found unconscious in the home of his mother, where he had been visiting.

It was reported on Wednesday that he had shown improvement. However, attendants and friends who were at his bedside today said they saw little evidence of any important changes in his condition.

Four Minor Wrecks Checked

Four local traffic mishaps Wednesday and early today injured no one, officers said.

The cars of G. W. Peck, 602 E. 16th, and Anita Pingree Ball, Route 1, were in collision at East Third west of Runnels; the car of William Douglass Graham, 1603 Vine Avenue, struck the parked car of Edwin Melton Davis at Fourth and Lancaster; at Fifteenth and Scurry, the cars of Lynda Darlene Peirce, 1107 Stanford, and Lanna Marie Money, 1104 Pennsylvania, were in collision; and at 12:15 a.m. today, there was a collision between the cars of Beverly Coy Ford, 1002 Lancaster, and Billy B. Nichols, Tarzan, at 602 W. 2nd, officers said.

John Smith Hurt In Tractor Mishap

A local man drove himself home, after a tractor he evidently was operating near Vealmoor ran over him Wednesday, according to ambulance attendants, who were later called to his residence to take the injured man to Howard County Hospital Foundation.

Identified as John Calvin Smith, 1704 Johnson, he is in serious condition at the hospital with several broken ribs, a collapsed lung and head injuries, according to attendants.

Evidently Smith was alone at the time of the accident, and neither police, the ambulance service or hospital attendants know exactly what happened in the mishap.

Transfers Okayed

Seventeen special applications for transfer, filed by parents of children who had not made such applications at the usual season, were considered and approved by the Howard County School Board at its regular September meeting Wednesday night. Walker Bailey, county school superintendent and secretary to the board, said that no other business was considered by the board at its session.

Smith To Speak

Lt. Gov. Preston Smith will be the speaker for the Oct. 22 meeting of the Associated General Contractors in Lubbock at the Holiday Inn Parkway. He will speak on impacts of recent legislation on Texas business. Other speakers will be David Yarbrough, Dallas, president of the Texas AGC building division, and Carl Wallace, president of the Dallas AGC chapter.

County Tax Bills Are Almost Ready

You can start paying your county tax bill tomorrow.

You can also pay your poll tax and get a receipt.

Mrs. Zirah LeFevre, county tax assessor, and her deputies were working like proverbial beavers today, finishing up the preparing and mailing of 20,000 tax payment notices to property owners of the county.

The bills this year are a little different from those of other years. They have been prepared on the county's new computer tax machine and are considerably more legible than in the past. An added feature is the inclusion on the statement of the amount to be paid in October, November or December, if the taxpayer takes advantage of the discounts allowed.

Mrs. LeFevre said that the last of the tax bills will be in the mail today "even if we have to work until midnight."

Effective Friday, the county taxpayer can settle his tax bill and take a three per cent discount as a reward for promptness. The three per cent discount holds in effect through Nov. 2. During November and until Dec. 1, the tax bills paid are subject to a two per cent discount. One per cent discount is allowed from Dec. 1 through Jan. 1. After Jan. 1, the full face of the bill becomes due.

Mrs. LeFevre said that anyone who wants a poll tax receipt and who is qualified, can get one effective Friday. The fee is $1.75, as usual. Exemption certificates for older citizens will also be issued.

It was pointed out that a law suit is pending in the courts which could hold the poll tax plan in Texas unconstitutional. If this is the development, the citizen who has paid in his $1.75 will just be out his money, it now appears. No refund provisions are contemplated.

Mrs. LeFevre said she had received no instructions on the equally confused status of military personnel who want to qualify as electors and who may want to get poll tax receipts.

E. V. Boynton Dies At 82

E. V. Boynton, 82, died at 6:45 p.m. Wednesday in a local hospital.

Born in Mobeetie, July 14, 1883, he attended the University of Texas from 1905 to 1908. While at the university, he was offered a fellowship in chemistry to Yale University. He taught for a number of years in East Texas schools.

Mr. Boynton owned a general mercantile business in Scurry County for a number of years, and during World War II was head construction engineer for many U.S. Army and Air Corps camps. He was in the wholesale lumber business at the time of his death. His wife died in 1956. Mr. Boynton was a member of the Baptist church.

Services will be at 4 p.m. Friday in the First Baptist Church of Garden City. Burial will be in the Garden City Cemetery, under direction of River-Welch Funeral Home.

Survivors include a son, E. V. Boynton Jr., Midland; two daughters, Mrs. Alton Cook, Garden City, and Mrs. Raymond Hinds, Portland, Ore.; six grandchildren; and a brother, R. G. Boynton, Big Spring.

Oil, Gas Producing Properties Bought

CROWLEY, La. (AP)—Twenty-six oil and gas producing properties owned by J. P. Owens Jr. were sold for $10 million Wednesday to General American Oil Co. of Dallas. The wells are at 19 sites in Louisiana, three in Oklahoma and four in Texas.

Attends Parley On New Code

Dist. Judge Ralph Caton is in Odessa attending a conference on the new Texas criminal code. The code which became effective Sept. 1 poses many problems for the district court, and a series of conferences are being held at which the judges review the laws and decide on the course to be followed.

Heifer Found

A black heifer with gray and white markings, estimated about a year old, has been picked up by the sheriff's department and is being held for the owner. The owner is asked to claim his animal as quickly as possible. A. N. Standard, sheriff, said there were certain markings on the heifer which will make it readily identifiable for the owner. All he has to do is to describe them.

A Devotional For The Day

O earth, earth, earth, hear the word of the Lord. (Jeremiah 22:29)

PRAYER: Dear Lord, we thank Thee for the opportunities to hear Thy voice through Thy Word. Help us to be witnesses of Thy Word to all nations. For His sake we pray. Amen.

(From the 'Upper Room')

Why Not Protection?

When a policeman was killed in his efforts to apprehend a man later listed as the probable assassin of the late President Kennedy, the public rallied to the support of his wife and fortunately left her a rich widow.

A week ago, a deputy sheriff from Snyder, seeking to apprehend a suspected slayer, was cut down with a bullet in his throat. Friends in Colorado City and Snyder started a benefit fund, but at the most not over a few thousand dollars likely will be raised.

The point is that law enforcement officers lead a potentially risky life in the pursuit of duty. Perhaps the odds are several million to one against it, but everytime they accost a suspect or make what might seem a routine inquiry, they run the risk of being done in. By reason of a generally low pay scale, most of these who do get killed are poorly protected by insurance if at all. Their dependents are left to the mercies of friends for help.

One of our readers, taking note of this, raises a pertinent question: Why can't there be a state or national pool to underwrite the lives of officers who die in the performance of duty?

Indeed, why cannot this be done? The number who are called upon to give their lives is so small that cost to support a program of liberal underwrite would be inconsequential on a state basis and infinitesimal on a national basis. To supply this protection would seem to be the least that any community or state could do to assure security to men who offer their lives.

Cost Of Living

The cost of living eased off in August, in case you didn't notice. The Labor Department reported that the index was down two-tenths of one per cent for the month, thanks to a reduction in food prices.

Cucumbers and maybe truffles, observed one individual wryly, must have come down. Those who have reeled from dollar-a-pound bacon may be pardoned for a bit of skepticism toward a report of lower food costs.

Housing and transportation costs also showed modest declines for the month, but medical expense and clothing went up.

A lot of factors are wrapped up in the report, including seasonal abundance of some items of produce, refunds on telephone bills in some states, etc. About the most that could be said is that the August report is encouraging if it can be sustained. It will require several months to establish a trend, and unfortunately on that basis the current trend is slowly but almost inexorably up.

'I SURE UNDERSTAND COMMUNISM BETTER NOW'

Around The Rim

Three Lonely Little Girls

The little room in the police station was dark. Three tiny girls were dwarfed by the chairs in which they sat. One of them, the youngest, cried softly. The oldest could not have been more than six years old; the youngest probably four.

It was a pathetic sight.

BIG SPRING police had found the girls sitting under one of the viaducts, sniffing glue. Two plastic bags, each with several tubes of glue, were returned to the police station with these children as evidence.

All three were obviously scared, as only three tiny girls can be, as they sat in the strange surroundings of a police station, and answered the questions for an officers' report. They looked dreadfully alone.

WHAT WERE youngsters that age doing away from home? Where did they learn, at that age, the technique of sniffing glue? What took them to the oft-used hangout where derelicts sleep off the effects of cheap booze? Where did they get the glue in the first place?

Police investigation revealed the youngsters got the glue by shoplifting —accomplished thieves not even old enough to be in school. As it turned out, this was not the first time these three girls had been apprehended with stolen goods.

OLDER CHILDREN, police surmise, teach the younger ones about this ghastly glue habit. By older children, they refer to those about 10 or 12. There are far more of them than you would expect in a town the size of ours.

Obviously, they were away from home and in a questionable place, for the simple reason that no one cares.

Police point out the tots are far too young to be prosecuted—even under the juvenile law—if there were any desire to bring charges in the first place. It is possible to bring neglect charges against the parents, of course.

IF THE CHILDREN were taken from the parents, what then would become of them? Their chances for adoption to a better environment would be very slim, police say. In short, it is almost a hopeless situation. But the problem is here, and very little is being done to solve it.

The three little girls were returned to their parents, but there is no reason to believe that is the end of their brush with the law. Police expect to see them again and again.

The oldest one was six, the youngest about four. —V. GLENN COOTES

The Fulbright Doctrine

WASHINGTON — Senator Bill Fulbright (D., Ark.), who goes in for "unthinkable thoughts," has gotten the administration worrying about the most unthinkable of all — what if, next spring, the Dominican Republic elects a Communist as head of its government?

Fulbright, chairman of Foreign Relations and a world-heeded spokesman on all international subjects, tells me that the U.S.A. should, in that case, accept the fact and try to live with it.

SUCH A FACT, if it came to pass, might not be clear and indisputable. The Communists would not have a ticket in the field, but would back one or more candidates who could be counted upon to follow the Red line. It is readily conceivable such a man could win a fully legitimate election in the Dominican Republic. Fulbright, taking the strictly legalistic line, would treat the election of a Communist in the Western Hemisphere as one of those facts which we have shunned to contemplate — and yet, at least, must receive as inevitable.

THE ADMINISTRATION, quite likely, and the administration senators, beyond any doubt, would reject the Fulbright proposition out of hand. President Johnson has said, without qualifications thus far, that we would not tolerate "another Castro" in this hemisphere. He has not, and almost assuredly would not, modify his statement to say that an elected Castro is more tolerable than another sort.

SENATOR DODD of Connecticut, whose speeches against the Fulbright position are highly regarded at the White House, makes no bones about the hard-line attitude in Free World defense. The sheep's clothing of legitimacy, in which a Communist or near-Communist might seize control in Latin America, would not disguise the wolfish nature of the beast.

FULBRIGHT'S BELIEF is that the President was moved by "panic" — by an "over-reaction" to the Communist threat — when he sent U. S. troops to Santo Domingo this summer. There was communism in the Dominican revolt, Fulbright admits, but not enough to worry about. In order to foster legitimate social revolution in Latin America, goes the Fulbright Doctinre, we must do the "unthinkable" by accepting a pinch or two of the Red poison.

IT WAS THIS train of thought in the Fulbright speech which brought Dodd to the floor the next day with charges that Fulbright and like-minded Liberals harbored a "tolerance of communism" which is beyond the pale of this time of history. Fulbright's speech was anti-LJB and he now stands accused in administration circles of playing straight into the hands of those who most desire to see a Communist chosen by democratic election.

Fairly or not, Fulbright will get the credit in Washington if the Dominicans turn Red at the polls.

Sweeping Powers Over Business

WASHINGTON — Theoretically, the Department of Labor was established to give voice in the cabinet to the viewpoint of labor, while the Department of Commerce was created to safeguard the interests of business management.

THE LATEST executive order of President Johnson, however, makes the Secretary of Labor virtually a dictator, with discretionary power over conditions of employment in America. Although the secretary now is being authorized to administer severe punishment to companies, such as the cancellation of government contracts, no comparable penalties are mentioned with respect to labor unions which refuse to accept the dictation of the government.

THE NEW POWERS entrusted to the Secretary of Labor are spelled out in the executive order, which gives him the right to adopt such rules and regulations "as he deems necessary and appropriate" to make sure that in all government contracts — involving perhaps as much as $75 billion a year — he alone is to decide whether the practices in employment are satisfactory. .

The executive order says that the contractor must agree to "take affirmative action to insure that applicants are employed, and that employes are treated during employment, without regard to their race, creed, color, or national origin," and that such action shall include "employment, upgrading, demotion, transfer; recruitment; layoff or termination; rates of pay or other forms of compensation; and selection for training, including apprenticeships."

THE SECRETARY of Labor is further authorized to advise the contractor that he cannot obtain government orders or contracts unless her permits "access to his books, records, and accounts" to determine whether he is complying with the rules and regulations.

In dealing with labor unions, it is the contractor or subcontractor upon whom the primary responsibility is placed. He must find some way to compel the union to do his bidding, which is, of course, wholly impractical, in view of the power of labor unions to strike. There is no mention made as to how the labor unions are to be disciplined if they fail to cooperate in making the desired agreement.

THE SECRETARY of Labor is merely directed to "use his best efforts" to cause any labor union engaged in work under government contracts "to cooperate." But if any employer is unable to get the union to cooperate, he may lose the contract just the same. If, of course, an agreement is signed and the labor union violates it, the Department of Justice can bring action.

THE FAR-REACHING nature of the new executive order is illustrated by the language of one section which states that each executive department of the government can require as a condition for approval of "any grant, contract, loan, insurance, or guarantee thereunder, which may involve a construction contract," that the applicant for federal assistance shall agree to assume the obligation to obtain the compliance of contractors and subcontractors and "to carry out sanctions and penalties" for violation of obligations imposed on contractors and subcontractors.

THIS MEANS THAT all state, city and county agencies, as well as private businesses, must conform to what the Secretary of Labor sets forth to be their obligations in the field of nondiscrimination.

It is doubtful whether any cabinet officer has ever been granted any such sweeping powers of administration over the business affairs of the country.

High Court's Opinions Still Rambling

WASHINGTON (AP) — The present Supreme Court, thoroughly sensitive and responsive to the times and perhaps the most courageous court in American history, is in one way as old fashioned as its ancestors.

That's in the way it writes its opinions. Too often they sound like a private dialogue with the legal profession. And too many are tough going even for lawyers.

The reason: Ramblings, obscurities, poor organization, lack of literary discipline, and the failure to keep the reader always in mind, whether he's a lawyer or not.

There might have been some excuse for this in the 19th century when the court dealt with problems which did not affect the general public as quickly or directly as today. But today there is no excuse.

THE COURT, like any agency of the government, has an obligation to reach the people as clearly as possible. For its own sake, the court should try, since it has long been under angry and often distorted criticism.

In this problem of letting the people understand its actions, the court could be doing for itself what it is now depending on others to do for it. Newsmen are the first ones who have to undertake this job.

For some of them, especially those regularly covering the court for the news services, speed is essential. They must get their stories on the wires as soon as possible.

Except on opinion day, these news service reporters spend the week preparing themselves by digesting the briefs which the opposing lawyers file with the court to explain their positions.

Even so, on opinion day these reporters in telephone booths on a lower floor, waiting for the opinions which come down to them through pneumatic tubes when the court releases them, must begin a search for the decision.

IT MAY be near the top, in the middle, at the end. If it's unusually obscure, there may be mistakes. There have been in the past and will be again, no matter how informed or intelligent the reporter is.

Meanwhile, other reporters, less pressed for time, flock to the Supreme Court's press office on opinion day to pick up copies of the opinions. They, too, have to search for the decision and in addition may have to search for background.

And in many cases if a newspaper, in addition to its news story, wants to publish the full text of an opinion the reader is left dangling unless he has read the story or the paper prefaces the text with an explanation of the case.

Like many others, the justices have an affection for old procedures and cling to them. They used to hand down opinions on one day only, Monday. On some Mondays, particularly the last court day of the year, they dished out a whole batch of opinions. There was no excuse for this, either.

Many newspapers which could treat one or two big decisions fully couldn't, for lack of space, do this with a batch of them. The public was always the loser. After years of prodding, the court changed and this year began handing down decisions on other days besides Monday.

A professor of law at Catholic University here, Arthur John Keefe, writing last May in the American Bar Journal, said: "If the Vatican can reform its church procedures, the Supreme Court ought to be able to come into the 20th century."

The People Who Are 'With It'

WASHINGTON—There have been so many lists of people who are chic and with it, chic and without it, in people, jet people, camp people, and pop people that I am forced to make my own list of those whom I believe are the most in, camp, chic, and meaningful of our time.

This year's most camp person is Edie Camp, who has been the rage of the New York social season. Edie first came to the attention of photographers when she walked into a formal dinner party in an evening dress. Everyone at the party was shocked and wanted to know who she was. They discovered she was the protege of Sandy Warknoll, the most "in" painter in New York. Warknoll paints portraits of children for money. He doesn't care what the children look like as long as there is enough dough in it.

EDIE GOES everywhere with Warknoll and no party in New York is complete without the two of them, she in an evening dress and he in a tuxedo. They look very out of place in New York, but nobody seems to mind.

The most chic person is Mrs. Amanda Chic of Palm Beach and Key Largo. Mrs. Chic makes all her own clothes including her fur coats. She not only selects the pelts, but traps the animals herself. Although the mother of three, she is constantly on the go and has never missed an "April in Paris" ball or a Paris ballgame in April.

MRS. CHIC likes to be where the action is, but she says her life still revolves around her children, Samantha who is 36, Gregory who is 39, and Rickey who is going on 40.

It isn't who you are but what you do that makes you "with it" these days. No list would be complete without Stormy Sailor, the pugnacious writer whose lifetime work, "A Guide to Better Cookbooks," rocked the literary world a few years ago. Sailor's description of how to make fried cantaloupe with Bearnaise sauce has made him the most controversial author on the American scene, and whether you like or hate fried cantaloupe, you can't ignore him.

THE MOST "in" singer on our list is Walter In, whose recent record, "The Best Loved Songs of Stephen Foster," is the biggest thing to hit the discotheques in years. Mr. In is a tenor and wears his hair short. His critics say the hair is just a pose, but even they agree that nobody can sing "Old Black Joe" the way he does.

When it comes to pop culutre, the first name that comes to mind is George Pop who makes Campbell's soup cans. Pop averages 650 cans a day, mostly chicken soup, though during the summer vacation he's doubled in cream of celery and mushroom soups.

HE HAS BEEN invited to come to New York with his cans, but by the time he finishes in the factory, he's always too tired, and prefers to go home and watch television.

Last but not least on our list is the leader of the jet set, Eddie Boeing.

Eddie, who works for Pan-American, has never flown anything but jets. He thinks it's the only way to travel and it's obvious the jet set thinks so too. "The old piston cafe society is dead," says Eddie, "and with the family plan it's much cheaper to go my way."

MY LIST is probably incomplete, but it covers just about everybody who is doing anything these days.

No matter what you think of them personally, they do make the world go around for the rest of us.

Billy Graham

I am 68 years old and do not have much money. Is it right for me to give to the church when my daughter needs help? I.L.

The Bible teaches that Christian giving is not just a little tip to help a benevolent God. Truthfully, God could get along quite well without any donations from us. But the Bible teaches that Christian sharing is not duty, but privilege. "It is more blessed to give than to receive." The prophets also taught that tithing was not only a debt that believers in God owe, but it is an act which brings great blessing to those who tithe. "Bring ye all the tithes into the storehouse . . . and prove me now herewith, said the Lord of hosts, if I will not open you the windows of heaven, and pour you out a blessing that there shall not be room enough to receive it."

Although we do not pay our "tithe" to the Lord with thought of gain, I have never met a person who tithed who said he was poorer because of it. On the other hand, I have heard many say, and indeed I have said it myself, that nine-tenths of the income goes farther with God's blessing upon it, than all of it without His blessings.

Since this is all true, it seems to me, with your limited resources that you cannot afford not to give God His share of your income. I am sure that neither He nor the church would miss it, but you would miss the accompanying blessing.

Ordeal Of Buying A Suit

NEW YORK (AP)—"Why don't you break down and buy yourself a new suit, Rover?" said the gal who burns my breakfast toast.

"What's wrong with the one I've got on?"

"Well, it looks like you wore it through a heavy downpour to vote for William McKinley. Except I don't believe lapels that wide have been in style since Grover Cleveland's first administration."

"WHEN YOU married me, you knew I didn't look like Cary Grant," I replied.

"Yes," said my wife sweetly, "but I didn't realize the difference would increase so much—year after year."

That day I walked by a men's store several times but didn't have the courage to go in. I have a born fear of clothing salesmen. With me buying a new suit is a committee job. So I asked a couple of office pals to go with me.

The salesman took one look at the three of us and promptly went to work on my two friends. Left alone, I walked down a rack of suits gingerly feeling the fabrics.

I OVERHEARD two other salesmen discussing me:

"Think the fat guy is a customer?"

"Naw, he's just another sleeve milker. He's already got half the sleeves on the rack out of line."

I went over to a three-way mirror. Who was that seedy-looking character staring back? Could it be me?

Where do clothing stores find such cruel mirrors anyway? It takes all of a middle-aged man's self-flattery to get used to looking at himself in the single-imaged bathroom mirror.

BUT TO SEE one's self from three angles is unnerving to any unprepared fellow. I bent down and saw the gray on back of my head as well as on the sides, the spreading baldness on top. The wrinkles in my suit seemed to match those under my eyes.

A few moments before that mirror had aged me 20 years. Why, I look better in those comic mirrors at Coney Island.

Eczema Can Mean Many Different Things

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: My 3-year-old daughter has had eczema since she was 7 months old. Doctors prescribed a lotion to use several times a day, but she still has the disease. It is on her arms and neck, and sometimes on her ears.

Should I have her take tests to see whether there's a food allergy? Could her being fat have anything to do with the problem? She weighs 37 pounds. My husband is in the army, so the family doesn't always have the same doctor.—MRS. R. P.

Eczema, like some other ailments, is a general term that can mean different things. It is a skin disorder—but the problem is to pinpoint the cause.

Except for transient skin irritations, a lotion isn't the answer, although it naturally helps to relieve itching while a diagnosis is being sought.

Frequently a food allergy is the cause of eczema in children, so your suggestion of tests is quite intelligent.

However, a contact allergy may be involved—a reaction to something she touches. The fact that the trouble is confined mostly to her arms and neck could be a clue in this direction.

Wool, silk, or other fabrics are known to trigger such a skin sensitivity, as can something in the fabrics, such as dye or sizing or whatever.

Skin tests may give a definite clue as to either type of allergy—food or contact. Consult an allergist.

* * *

Dear Dr. Molner: You said that drinking copious liquids helps prevent kidney stones. What liquids?—MRS. L. M.

Water! Water in any form. Plain water, the water in soup, or in tea, or coffee, or pop. For practical purposes, the only liquid I DON'T mean is alcohol.

* * *

Dear Dr. Molner: Can a chain smoker develop chronic bronchitis? I have been treated four times in two months for the disease. Is there such a thing as bronchitis other than from chain smoking or asthma? — MRS. D. G.

So you're a chain smoker? Certainly you can develop bronchitis, because the smoke keeps irritating the bronchial tubes. However, a non-smoker can develop bronchitis from other causes—plus some inherent sensitivity or weakness.

If you have bronchitis and the doctor tells you to stop smoking, don't be silly. Follow his advice.

"Tips on How to Stop Smoking," by Dr. Molner, will help you give up the habit. To receive a copy of the booklet, write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald, enclosing with your request 10 cents in coin and a long, self - addressed, stamped envelope.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Fish Story

ROBINSON, Ill. (AP)—Herb Knotts' big fish, caught at the Shriners annual outing, got away, but he has the pictures to prove that it really was a big one. It got away after it was hooked, landed, photographed and weighed.

Knotts caught his big catfish from a boat, on spinning equipment, using a silver spoon. At first he thought his hook was fastened on a log in Chester McCord's lake.

But the fish towed the boat around for 15 minutes and then, with help from men on the bank, it was pulled in and weighed—17 pounds. Several Shriners took pictures.

Then the fish was put on a chain-type stringer with metal snaps and was tied to the pier. Apparently Mr. Cat wasn't too tired by his 15-minute struggle to pull open a snap and swim away.

Trade Increase

LUANDA, Angola (AP) — Angola's trade showed a balance of $17.3 million for the first five months of this year. This was over nearly $2 million more than the previous year.

Coffee counted for the largest contribution among exporters with 12,844 tons valued at $6.3 million.

New Styling For 1966 Fairlane

Entirely new styling is dramatically displayed in the photo of the Fairlane 500/XL 2-door hardtop. Indicative of the broadened family and sports appeal of the 1966 Fairlane is the new model selection—four series instead of two and 13 models instead of eight. The Fairlanes, along with all others of the Ford line, are being presented to the public Friday at Shasta Ford, 500 W. 4th.

SHOWING AT SHASTA FRIDAY

Extensive 1966 Ford Line Offers Many Improvements

Fords, Fords, Fords — from Thunderbird to Falcon, and including the popular Mustang—are to be seen in extensive array at Shasta Ford, 500 W. 4th Friday, as all the 1966 offerings go on display.

From the various lines there are, including station wagon and bus types, no less than 49 models.

Thunderbird increases its models from three to four, with convertible and hardtop, and a new Town Landau and Town Hardtop.

New features for 1966 include an overhead safety-convenience console in "Town" roof models, a new stereosonic tape player built into the radio, and a new fingertip automatic highway pilot speed control integrated into the steering wheel.

The performance look of Thunderbird for 1966 is matched with a new performance engine option. The new engine is a 428-cubic-inch V8. It permits the availability of automatic transmission, power steering, power brakes, air conditioning, and limited-slip differential.

MUSTANG

After its record success as a 1965 model, the Mustang adds many luxury appeal festures. New styling touches, a five-dial instrument cluster and new safety features are standard on all Mustangs. Options include a tape player and a high-performance - automatic transmission combination.

The Mustang continues for 1966 with the hardtop, convertible and the Mustang 2-plus-2 fastback. Standard are front and rear seat belts, padded instrument panel, padded visors, outside rear view mirror, back-up lights, windshield washer, and four-way emergency flashers.

FAIRLANE

An exciting new "his and hers" Sportshift automatic transmission, two new model series, three big new engines, new convertibles and completely new styling highlight the Fairlane for 1966.

The new model selection—four series instead of two and 13 models instead of eight—is indicative of the broadened family and sports appeal of the 1966 Fairlane.

The new series—Fairlane 500-XL and Fairlane GT—are available in convertible and 2-door hardtop models and are designed for sports—and luxury-oriented customers.

The standard Fairlane GT transmission is the all-synchro-mesh three-speed manual. A four - speed, all - synchromesh transmission and the new manually controlled Cruise-O-Matic "Sportshift" are options. All Fairlane GT and GT-A transmission controls are floor-mounted.

The new "Sportshift" automatic transmission control offers complete manual selection of the three forward Cruise-O-Matic speeds by the driver. Yet, the same transmission can be driven without moving the control lever from the fully-automatic "drive" position, if preferred.

HIS AND HERS"

"We think of it as a 'his and hers' transmission," a spokesman said, "because it can be driven just like a conventional Cruise-O-Matic. But the driver who demands still more precise control can downshift and upshift at will—and more quickly than in a comparable car with a manual transmission."

The Fairlane series retains 2 and 4-door sedans and a 4-door station wagon, while the Fairlane 500 series is broadened to include five models — 2- and 4-door sedans, a 2-door hardtop, a convertible and a 4-door station wagon.

Dramatic fresh styling — including a new 2-door hardtop roof line—a new "7 Litre" series with 428-cubic-inch V8 engine and front-wheel power disc brakes, and even higher standards of quietness, luxury and performance stand out among 1966 Ford features.

FORD

Important revisions have been made in the revolutionary Ford suspension design introduced in 1965 and to provide an even quieter ride and better handling in 1966. Front spring and shock absorber rates have been modified, and the rear suspension track bar has been lowered to achieve a better "balanced" ride. This fine tuning of the 1966 Ford suspension provides a better handling feel with reduced pitch and improved straight-line stability.

The number of engines available to Ford buyers has been increased to nine in 1966 from six in 1965.

FALCON

Trend-setting features of both the Mustang and the earlier Falcon have been combined in the Falcon for 1966.

New roominess, outstanding economy and technical innovations are to be noted in the newest model.

Curved side glass makes its appearance in the Falcon line for the first time in 1966, and this adds to roominess in the new Falcon. The wheelbase for sedan models has been increased 1.5 inches to 110.9 inches for 1966, and over-all sedan length has been increased 2.7 inches to 184.3 inches.

The tread of the 1966 Falcon also has been extended to 58.2 inches front and rear — up as much as three inches over comparable 1965 Falcon dimensions. The wider tread and longer wheelbase contribute to improved ride and handling.

The 1966 Falcon retains unitized construction, but the structure has been revised to provide greater strength and rigidity. Like the Mustang, the Falcon body has a rigid "backbone" tunnel that extends from the toeboard to the rear axle kick-up. Sturdy, integral side rails and galvanized, corrosion-resistant cross-members lend additional support to the passenger compartment.

The Falcon lineup for 1966 consists of 10 models in three series. Included are 2- and 4-door sedans and 4-door station wagons in Falcon and Futura series, and a new Falcon Futura Sports Coupe.

Puzzle of Wednesday, September 29, Solved

District Begins Surveys For Lake

Surveying for the dam site and lake basin of a proposed lake above Robert Lee has been started, O. H. Ivie, general manager for the Colorado River Municipal Water District, said Thursday.

The work is being done by Ken Esmond and Associates of Odessa and will require 60 to 90 days. First lines were run Wednesday morning.

When this work is well advanced, the district will employ land appraisers to begin their analyses of the land required.

Meanwhile, the district has executed a contract with Colorado State University to construct and conduct tests of a scale model of the spillway designed for the projected dam. This will take three months or more.

"We have personally contacted 70 per cent of the landowners seeking to get permission to run the surveys," said Ivie, "and without exception we have received splendid cooperation. Within another week we hope to have completed the personal contact with the remaining owners. People have gone out of their way to be helpful."

Although a suit has been filed in district court in Austin by Colorado City and Mitchell County interests contesting the permit for the lake near Robert Lee, the phases of preparation so far started will be pushed, said Ivie. The district is hopeful that the matter can be settled or a decision reached by the time financing and construction plans must be formulated.

Old Cuspidors Are Being Sold

OLYMPIA, Wash. (AP)—There will be only a few cuspidors for the desks of members of the State Legislature when the 1967 session rolls around.

The state has been selling the spittoons for as much as $17 each. A group with a passion for things of the past snapped up 150. Sales have brought in almost $2,000.

Only a handful will be kept for legislators who demand them.

New Coliseum Plans Ordered

SNYDER — New specifications have been authorized after bids on a Scurry County Coliseum over-ran available money by $300,000 Monday.

The low general bid was by H. A. Padgett, Lubbock, for $974,435, the low electrical bid by Watco Electric, Lubbock, for $104,882; and the low air conditioning and plumbing bid by O. W. Cisum for $198,000 and $45,800. This made an aggregate of $1,285,093 under lowest possible alternates.

Voters in March of 1964 had approved $1,250,000 in bonds for the project, but some of the money was spent on planning and acquiring land. The commissioners court said that available funds were $300,000 short of the lowest combination of bids.

Home-Made Fire Bombs Prohibited

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Possession of a Molotov cocktail in Cincinnati is now an offense carrying a maximum penalty of six months in jail, or a $500 fine, or both.

Yacht Club Plans Regatta

The Lake J. B. Thomas Yacht Club has scheduled its first Sandlubber Regatta for Oct. 9-10 off its clubhouse on White Island at Lake Thomas.

Racing will be in three basic classes with keeper trophies for first and second places.

Primary object of the regatta, said Dillard Anderson, Midland, commodore, is to assemble the greatest number possible of sailors from West Texas. Entrants are expected all the way from San Angelo to Lubbock, and from Odessa to Fort Worth.

The first race will begin at 12:30 p.m. Oct. 9, and an hour and a half after a skippers' meeting, and will be followed by a second race. A barbecue will top the afternoon's activities. A skippers' meeting is set for noon Oct. 10, followed by start of the final race at 1 p.m.

Persons interested are asked to contact the race committee of the Lake Thomas Yacht Club, Box 1136, Midland, Texas, 79701.

Work On US 87 Stretch Begins

The Texas Highway Department has announced beginning of a new construction project in Sterling and Glasscock counties on US 87 from 7.0 miles northwest of Sterling City to .4 miles northwest of the Sterling-Glasscock county line.

The proposed work consists of grading, drainage structures, base, and re-surfacing. The highway department and the contractor, W. J. Seldon, San Antonio, announced that construction actually began Sept. 23, 1965 and will be completed in May, 1966.

H. L. Bailey, resident engineer in charge of construction on this project, stated that traffic will be routed through the construction on caliche detours treated with emulsion. Although adequate barricades and warning signs will be prominently displayed and the project has been zoned for 45 m.p.h. speed limit, motorists should use extreme caution while passing through the area as it will be heavily traveled by large construction equipment.

Changed, But Keeps Same Style

The 1966 Lincoln Continental is a totally different car from five prior models yet retains its traditional lines. A two-door hardtop (above) is added to the line and a new, larger body and a 462 cubic inch engine are featured. Truman Jones Motor Co., 511 Gregg, puts the car on display Friday.

ON DISPLAY FRIDAY

Lincoln Alters Lines, Adds 2-Door Hardtop This Year

The 1966 Lincoln Continental is a totally new car from the first time since 1961, yet retains its traditional classic flavor in line and tone. The new model goes on display Friday at Truman Jones Motor Co., 511 Gregg.

In addition to a new, larger body with crisp styling in the mode of elegance, Continental this year adds a two-door hardtop coupe' to bring its model offerings to three. There is also a new more powerful engine and transmission combination.

The styling of the 1966 Continental features a long, powerful hood tapering to the front in the fashion of the original Lincoln Continental of 1939. The silhouette is retained, though its lines become sleeker and more tailored in detail. Side panels are less curved and taillights are framed in the bumper panels.

5 INCHES LONGER

The new Continental has an over-all length of 221 inches, up nearly five inches from 1965 with an additional 2.5 cubic feet of usable luggage capacity, although wheelbase is unchanged at 126 inches. Curved side glass is employed and the passenger compartment offers increased spaciousness.

Models offered are the roomy new two-door coupe' — the first such body style to be offered by Lincoln since 1960 — the four-door sedan, and the world's only four-door convertible.

Interiors are completely restyled with a swept away panel on the passenger side and a new type of instrument cluster featuring a fingertip positioned "control console" sloping toward the driver.

MORE POWER

For 1966, engine displacement is increased from 430 to 462 cubic inches, the industry's largest production passenger car engine. The 340-horsepower power plant is coupled to a new three-speed torque converter automatic transmission, a new drive-shaft with double - cardan universal joints at each end and a new rear axle, all of which combine to provide smoother, quieter and more durable performance.

New features of the 1966 Lincoln Continental include glass rear window for the convertible, reversible keys, keyless door locking, gas tank capacity increased to 25.5 gallons from 24, and double-thickness vinyl laminated windshield, a safety improvement. Front wheel disc brakes are continued from 1965 as standard equipment.

Safety features made standard for the first time in Lincoln Continental are rear seat belts and emergency flasher. Back-up lights, windshield washers, outside rear view mirror, two-position non-glare inside rear-view mirror, front seat belts, and padded instrument panel and visors continue as standard.

U.S. Author Dead At 68

MOSCOW (AP) — American author Philip Stevenson died Wednesday at a hospital in Alma Ata, in Soviet southeast Asia.

Stevenson, 68, lived at Venice, Calif. He wrote under the name of Lauris Lawrence.

The author was taken ill while on a tour of the Soviet Union. The First City Hospital at Alma Ata, where he was treated, said death followed intestinal bleeding but the exact cause remains to be determined by an autopsy.

The U.S. Embassy in Moscow sent its doctor, Capt. James W. Bizzell, to see Stevenson after his illness was reported. An embassy spokesman said the Alma Ata hospital appeared to have provided the best possible treatment.

Arm Sewed Back On Boy

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP) — A 5-year-old boy's severed right arm was sewed back on Tuesday in a difficult 4½ hour operation involving 10 surgeons and orthopedists.

Sherman Ray Johnson's arm was severed just below the elbow when an auto in which he was riding overturned. He was reported in critical condition today, with head injuries complicating the case.

A medical bulletin on the Negro child's condition said blood was circulating in the arm but the outlook was "guarded."

The operation, which started about three hours after the accident, took place at the Confederate Memorial Medical Center.

Fake Calls Prompt Hunt

NEDERLAND, Tex. (AP) — Ambulance companies and police in three Southeast Texas cities are seeking a woman who makes fake emergency calls for ambulances.

Four false alarms were received Tuesday within 15 minutes by Nederland, Port Arthur and Port Neches ambulance firms, all for a residential Port Neches address.

Four other fake calls this week summoned aid for three burned children.

High Court Asked To Accept Suit Attacking Law

WASHINGTON (AP) —South Carolina asked the Supreme Court today to accept an original suit by the state attacking constitutionality of the voting rights bill signed by President Johnson on Aug. 6.

Atty. Gen. Daniel R. McLeod of South Carolina, in a motion urging a final ruling by the highest tribunal, contended the new law "arbitrarily, unconstitutionally and unlawfully" attempts to restrict and prohibit the state's right "to exercise her sovereign power to prescribe fair and reasonable qualifications for registration of her electorate and the conduct of her elections."

The motion named U.S. Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach as defendant. The federal government, under court rules, has 60 days in which to file an answer.

There is a question whether a state may sue the federal government before the Supreme court in an original case. By original is meant that the first action in the case is before the Supreme Court.

Polish Boy Choir Will Tour U.S.

WARSAW, Poland (AP) —The "Poznan Nightingales", a 65-member boys choir, plans to sail from Poland Oct. 5 for the United States, the Polish press agency reports.

The planned 25-concert tour takes the choir through Pittsburgh, Buffalo, Cleveland, Detroit, Chicago, Washington, New York and Milwaukee.

Pack Awards Made Tuesday

Cub Scout Pack 100 held its monthly meeting at St. Paul Presbyterian Church Tuesday, with Cub Master Joe Horton in charge. The Rev. E. A. J. Seddon, pastor of the sponsoring church, gave the invocation. Den 3 won the attendance pennant.

The new Den Mother for Den 2, Mrs. Douglas Aston, and her assistant, Mrs. Elbert Long, were introduced to the 75 persons present. Ray Thomas was also introduced as the new assistant Cub Master, replacing Wayne Graham who is moving to Houston. Frosty Robison was introduced as Pack committeeman, and showed a film titled "Breath of Life," showing how mouth - to - mouth resuscitation is applied in saving lives.

Den 4, with Mrs. Clyde Thomas Jr. as Den Mother, displayed a barnyard scene with animals, all made from cardboard. Den 3 served refreshments after the meeting.

Awards presented were: Bobcat pin—Casey Hickman, Clint Shouse, Doug Aston, Mike Sheedy and Cliff Long; denner's badge—Doug Robison; assistant denner's badge—Jim Purcell; gold arrow point—Gregg Horton; 2-year service pin — Joel Dyer; 1-year pin—David Long.

The next pack meeting will be held Oct. 26.

Cancer Handbook Out In Schools

An approach to teaching biology has been developed by the American Cancer Society in its new handbook "Biology Experiments for High School Students." The book consists of 29 experiments designed and explained by researchers involved in laboratory work.

Learning by doing is the key to the new book. Experiments are suggested for both independent and supervised class work as well as several to be demonstrated by the teacher.

These have been given to every school superintendent in Texas, including the Big Spring schools, and to supervisors of all parochial schools. More than 6,000 copies will be distributed to biology teachers throughout the state from the Texas Division of the American Cancer Society.

COVETED DEMOLAY REGALIA BROUGHT HERE
Local chapter has possession of roving robe and gavel

DeMolay Chapter Brings In Regalia

It took the members of the Leon F. Moffett Chapter, Order of DeMolay, a lot of travelling and a lot of effort to win the right to have in their chapter the West Texas Area Roving Robe and the Texas Galloping Gavel, shown above.

The chapter had to travel 200 miles to get these pieces of regalia. The items will remain in possession of the local chapter until as many as 10 boys and one advisor travel from another chapter to visit here. When this occurs, the robe and gavel will be relinquished to the visiting chapter.

The gavel travels over the entire state. It can change chapters when a visitation of five boys and an advisor is made to the chapter currently having it in possession.

Big Spring Shrine Association sponsors the Leon F. Moffett Chapter of the DeMolay. Advisory council members are Curtis L. Beaird Sr., chairman; E. O. Wortham, chapter advisor; Jay Banks, Bobby Norris, H. C. McElyea, W. H. Smith. E. A. Fiveash is district governor for this local district.

Youths taking part in the efforts to obtain possession of the robe and gavel included Joe Ferrell, Gary Lagerstrom, Burt Nix, Scott Porter, John H. Smith, Jess Phares, Charles Hamlin, Alan Doelp, Curtis Beaird Jr., James Wortham, Richard True, Gordon Marchant, Kenny Hoover, Doyle Permenter, Bill Barnett and Gerald Smith.

Soviet Expels Correspondent

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet government today ordered the expulsion of Sam Jaffe, Moscow correspondent for the American Broadcasting Company.

The chief of the Soviet press department, Leonid Zamyatin, told Jaffe he had seven days to leave. Zamyatin said the ABC bureau was not being closed but the government had canceled a visa for George Watson, who was to replace Jaffe later this year.

Zamyatin said Jaffe's expulsion was ordered because of recent ABC reports. He indicated the Soviet leadership had been angered by a report from the United States by ABC correspondent John Scali that a Kremlin shakeup was likely.

Princess Will Fly To London

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Oriental belly dancer Princess Amina is planning to fly to London to hear her husband make his maiden speech in the House of Lords.

Princess Amina, who is Lady Moynihan offstage, is appearing in a nightclub in Tripoli. Her husband inherited the title of Lord Moynihan from his father.

The newspaper Ghibli of Tripoli said Lord Moynihan, who plays the bongo drums in his wife's oriental band, was considering renouncing his title and running for a seat in the House of Commons.

Cubs To Meet

Cub Scout Pack No. 46, of Webb Air Force Base, will hold its first meeting of the year at 7:30 p.m. today in Withycombe Hall. New applications for membership, regular membership applications, and new registration will be taken at the meeting and all interested parents are urged to attend with their boys.

Vets Get Longer Time For Benefits

Veterans with severe, service-connected disabilities will have an additional 10 years to complete needed training as a result of a new law enacted by the 89th Congress and approved by the president.

Jack Coker, manager of the Veterans Administration regional office in Waco, said the new law is of particular importance to seriously disabled veterans of World War II who have had long periods of hospitalization and have only recently reached the point where the program of training is possible.

Other veterans who were not considered seriously disabled, and originally did not feel in need of rehabilitation, have now become unemployable because their service - connected disabilities have worsened, will have an opportunity under the new law to enter planned vocational rehabilitation.

Rainfall And Cool Front Mild In State

By The Associated Press

A comparatively mild cool front marched across Texas today.

Light showers dotted a sector extending 100 miles east from its forward edge and temperatures sagged in its wake.

There was no severe chilling, however, and the moisture generally was skimpy.

Advancing from the Pacific Northwest, the cooler air pushed into western areas of the state late Wednesday.

By dawn today the forward edge stretched from near Ardmore, Okla., toward the southwest through Dallas to a point east of Del Rio on the Mexican border.

The mercury dipped in the Panhandle to 40 degrees at Dalhart and Amarillo 43.

Clouds and the belt of scattered showers preceded the front. Skies cleared to the west and the southern third of the state saw only a few clouds.

Homosexual Activity Cited

AUSTIN (AP) — The Travis County grand jury has appealed for parents to be alert for homosexual activity, which the jury said exists on a widespread scale here.

Its report was released Wednesday.

James O. Radford, 46, formerly of Abilene, was indicted Monday on two felony morals counts and 10 counts of contributing to the delinquency of minors. He was released under $30,000 bond.

The grand jury report termed the homosexual activity it investigated "the most critical matter" to come before the panel. It urged parents of teenagers to "investigate their own children's activities during free hours."

The report also recommended "a parental sponsored curfew, particularly for those under the age of 16."

"There have been no proper prosecutions of this horrible crime," the report said.

The jurors said they had evidence of more than 100 juveniles involved in homosexual activity.

Charges against Radford cite a series of parties at his home during the last year.

The grand jury questioned more than 25 young men and several girls during the past 12 days.

Elks Postpone Western Show

Sudden illness of the star of BPO Elks Lodge western show Tuesday night caused postponement and rescheduling of the show for a later date.

Rose Maddox became ill Tuesday and was unable to accompany the rest of the performers to Big Spring. Although, all but Miss Maddox were on stage, the local organization thought it best to postpone the show in order to assure the patrons of a complete show as had been advertised.

Persons holding tickets for the Sept. 29th show will use the same tickets late in October. The tentative date for the rescheduled performance has been set for either Oct. 27 or Oct. 28 with exact date to be announced.

Lengthy Criminal Docket To Be Sounded Next Week

Aggravated assault complaint and driving a motor vehicle while under influence of intoxicating liquor charges dominate the lengthy Howard County Criminal Court docket, which is to be sounded at 1:30 p.m. Oct. 6 before Judge Lee Porter. There are 70 cases in all.

Dee Jon Davis, county attorney, has set down 23 DWI cases and 24 aggravated assault cases on the docket.

He said that when the docket is called, the cases which are announced ready for trial will be set for disposition at a series of criminal jury dockets Judge Porter is planning for the fall.

Included in the more unusual complaints on the docket are one in which a defendant is accused of violating the state hair dressers law; another alleging slander; and three complaints where defendants are accused of "seriously threatening a human life."

DWI cases to be called list the following defendants: E. T. Coates, Pauline Hendricks, Milford N. Nunn, George L. Rice, Deci Garcia Hernandez, Roy Lee O'Brien, Arthur M. Gruber, Earl Frank Brown, Reginald F. Hyer, Hubert Lee May, Curtis Allen Stevenson, Ernest G. Kinserlow, Leo Eugene Nix, Leon Orvil Long, Clyde Lonzo Edmonson, Reyes Roldon Navarette, William Coy Ford, Charles Coleman Briggs, George Solomon Ingram, Canuto Ramirez, Charles Edwin Buckner, Robert Clayborn Watson and Loyd Rush.

Defendants named in aggravated assault cases are: Ronny Moser, Tommy Dunham, Clyde Franklin, R. E. Martin, Thomas Buster Mundell, James Sim, M. R. Viera, Ralph Trevino, Weldon A. Lindsey, Gaylon Dabbs, Ferman Gutierrez, Albert Rodriquez, J. O. Nixon, Jesse Gilbert, James Saylon, Tommy Rupard, Billy Ray Carter, Charles Rhodes, Eddie Everett, Jerry Kilgore, Tom Samuel, R. E. Martin Jr., R. E. Martin, Victor Lee Allen and Buddy Sheppard.

Liquor law violations name the following defendants: Jesse Banks, Arthur Lockhart, Charles Bradley and Katherine James.

Seriously threatening a human life charges are against Santos Martinez and Thelma Hamil.

Contributing to the delinquency of a minor are charges filed against Albino Renterio, Delmar Lee Partlow and Robert Villareal.

Carrying arms charges are against Willie James Ross and Louise Ross.

Gladys Williams is charged with slander. Jesse Aleman is accused of violating the hairdressers and cosmetologists law. Ferrell Lewis Dodd, James Goodman, and Jerry Hinson are accused of non-support. Theft charges are on the docket against Gary Tim Crawford; Thomas Carreno, Harry Lee and Robert Orosco. Driving with suspended driver license charges pend against James Earl Johnson, Ramon Albardo Gomez, Edward P. Smith and John William Henkel. Malicious destruction of property is alleged of Al Morgenson.

De Murville In Peace Plea

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—French Minister Maurice Couve de Murville today called on the United Nations to avoid resort to force maintaining world peace.

In a policy declaration before the 117-nation General Assembly, Courve de Murville asserted that the world organization not only lacks the material means for military action, but that such action could result in disuniting U.N. members.

He said he did not object to the use of U.N. military observers, such as those now supervising the India-Pakistan cease-fire, but that he was firmly opposed to resort to force by the United Nations.

Martin Grand Jury To Meet

STANTON — Grand jury for the October term of the 118th District Court will be convened in Martin County Monday. Judge Ralph Caton and Dist. Atty. Wayne Burns will be on hand for the occasion. Burns said that he has five felony matters to be laid before the grand jury.

How To Keep Warm—Italian Style

These creations, viewed in Rome shows of autumn and winter fashions, are two entrants in how Italian designers think mllady would keep warm. At left is an overcoat of red wool with black buttons, worn with a hat of leopard fur and designed by the Venneziana fashion house of Milan. At right is a cape of gray and black with a big hood.

AVERAGE WOMAN NEEDS HELP

Thoughts On Matter Of Taste

Miss Kraft is Director of the Decorating Studio & Building Forum of "Good Housekeeping" Magazine. The following text was presented at the A.I.D. Decorating Clinic at the Southeastern Flower and Garden Show in Charlotte, North Carolina, and has been released for publication through "Furniture Fashion News."

By MARY KRAFT

We at "Good Housekeeping" are intimately concerned with the home and everything in it. Creating a cheerful, serene, comfortable, and beautiful atmosphere for her family is the most intensely creative and rewarding job a wife has to do.

The average young woman comes to this career of marriage with a pretty good working knowledge of how to dress effectively, makeup becomingly, maybe even how to cook and sew. However . . . it has been our observation that she is utterly unprepared to make decisions, often involving expensive purchases, where it is necessary to exercise taste and judgment about quality and design in furniture, fabrics, and many related items, as well as in a house itself. Of course, her husband expects her to be capable in this respect. After all, he considers it a woman's business to know about these things. A wife is apt to develop a real sense of inadequacy unless she can repair this omission in her education and arrive at the sense of fulfillment which comes with cultural growth and self-expression.

We are concerned in helping our reader to develop her taste, to make her a more knowledgeable and discriminating shopper, to build confidence in her own judgment, and to release her imagination so that she may best express her personality and the composite personality of her family in her surroundings, whether she does it herself or works with a professional interior designer.

In any typical American city, you can find furniture designs inspired by or copied from French Provincial, English Rural, Georgian, Pennsylvania Dutch, Italian Provincial, Victorian, and Early American — as well as Japanese, Chinese and Siamese — even Queen Anne is coming back. In addition, you have Contemporary, which is a sort of umbrella word, covering all the clean-lined, functional furniture without a traditional tag.

Now, in addition to all this Made-In-America abundance, we have antiques of all descriptions and an ever-increasing flow of import merchandise from all over the world . . . mostly in the category of accessories.

It takes a great deal of skill and experience to pick, choose, and combine these furnishings appropriately.

To me, the word "appropriate" is all - important. A hair-do designed by Mr. Kenneth to be worn to a ball should not be found on the girl behind the typewriter in an office. Stretch pants, which started out on the ski slopes, are not intended to be worn everywhere.

A New York interior decorator — who shall be nameless — was retained by a new client. The decorator, who as all good decorators are, is 50 per cent psychologist, asked: "What do you like, Madam? Regency? Biedermeier? French Provincial? English Manor House? Or . . . ?"

And she said: "What is this Regency? Biedermeier? French Provincial? — All I want is that when my friends walk in, they should drop dead!"

I make this point for a reason. Every designer loves a knowing client, the one who speaks the language. The knowledgeable type — a woman with strong personal preferences and a well-developed taste!

I think the "Keeping-Up-With-The-Joneses" Period is definitely on the wane. There is every evidence of a return to individuality. More people want their homes to contribute to their comfort, to soothe and solace them from the abrasions of their business and public life — to provide a really comfortable private life.

Everywhere around us is the increasing evidence that Americans are becoming interested in taste — taste as it is applied to the esthetic level of our homes . . . (The technological side is one in which we have held leadership for a long while) — and of our immediate community and our environment as it stretches out and joins other communities. Our roads, our gardens, our public buildings—are all under scrutiny. Are they as beautiful as they could be?

And what can we do about it?

We all attended the Southeastern Flower & Garden Show because we have a common interest in beauty — the beauty of the interior of our homes as evidenced by the lovely rooms here presented by the A.I.D., and the beauty of our gardens, where we can scarcely go astray with the wonderful material God and Nature has provided.

But without the element of design by professionals applied to the planning of our homes—of our towns and cities — these factors cannot be brought into harmony with each other.

Some of us are better informed or have had the benefit of a specialized education in the arts and other esthetic subjects, but I submit to you today the idea that there is a need — a necessity — for all of us to concern ourselves about the problems of the appearance of our homes — our land — our cities — our towns — and the need for us to become more knowledgeable and discerning about the esthetic problems of our community.

New Slate Announced

The Golden Age Sunday School Class of Berea Baptist Church named officers for the associational year when it met Monday evening in the home of Mrs. O. C. Mason.

Mrs. Mason was elected president; Mrs. V. U. Murray vice president; Mrs. H. L. Eason, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Clyde Howell, reporter; Mrs. E. M. Mahoney and Mrs. John Waddell, group leaders and Mrs. J. T. Gross, teacher.

Mrs. H. T. Wood gave the devotion, and Mrs. Howell the closing prayer. Time of the monthly meeting was set for the third Friday evening, and Mrs. Rufus Tuckness will be the next hostess. After the business session Monday, refreshments were served.

Bridal Shower Honors Mrs. Fred McDowell

Mrs. Fred McDowell, the former Miss Janis Plowman, was honored with a miscellaneous bridal shower Wednesday in the Flame Room of Pioneer Natural Gas Company.

Hostesses for the affair were Mrs. Jimmy Sherrod, Miss Nancy Hardesty, Miss Nancy Easley, Miss Ann Garrett, Miss Sue Hammond and Mrs. Jerry Arrick.

The honoree, attired in an avocado sheath, was presented a corsage of white carnations tied with pink ribbon. Her mother, Mrs. R. B. Plowman, was given a similar corsage.

A lace cloth over pink linen covered the refreshment table where a decorated cake was used as the centerpiece along with the blue garter, lucky penny and bridal figurines used at the honoree's wedding.

Mrs. McDowell's chosen colors of pink and white were used in other decorations. Thirty-five guests called between the hours of 7 and 9 p.m.

Skin Freshner Witch Hazel Good

Ever wonder why cosmeticians and beauty consultants place so much stress on skin fresheners?

It is because this is the best way to encourage tone to tissue and muscle that gets very little exercise and is covered by makeup most of the time. Before applying makeup and before retiring, make it a habit to invigorate the face with freshener.

One of the simplest and most effective methods is to spank the face lightly with the fingers, using good quality witch hazel, a pure herbal extract having no foreign ingredients.

WMU Units Hear Book Review

The Rev. Robert F. Polk reviewed the book, "My Money and God," at the Tuesday morning meeting of the Woman's Missionary Union at the First Baptist Church. Mrs. J. C. Pickle presided, and coffee was served to the 35 attending.

Insurance Women Leave For Dallas State Convention

The largest number of delegates from the Insurance Women of Big Spring to attend a state meeting left today for Dallas. The Federal Insurance Women of Texas will meet at the Baker Hotel where registration was to begin at 4 p.m. The convention will conclude with a breakfast Sunday morning.

Attending from here will be Mrs. C. C. Choate, Mrs. Henry Bell, Mrs. Tommy Harvell, Mrs. Ed Settles, Mrs. Gloria Toomb, Mrs. Frank Morphus, Mrs. Robin Howell and Miss Melita Singletary.

Westbrook Club Hears Patrolman

WESTBROOK (SC) — Members of Westbrook Home Demonstration Club met at the home of Mrs. Hoyt Roberts Tuesday at 1 p.m. for a business meeting. Mrs. Emory Sweatt was re-elected president of the club. Mrs. Sam Scroggins is secretary-treasurer, Mrs. C. E. Rich is vice president, and Mrs. Jack Dorn is council delegate.

After the business meeting the group attended the Driving Safety program at the Medallion Room in the Lone Wolf Electric Building in Colorado City.

State Highway Patrolman Buddy Hertenberger of Colorado City was speaker.

LGA LUNCHEON IS FRIDAY

The Ladies Golf Association of Big Spring Country Club will meet at the club Friday at 12:30 p.m. for the regular monthly luncheon. Plans will be discussed for the October fashion show, and all members are urged to attend. Reservations should be made by calling AM 4-7701.

Guild Hears Of African Customs

Mrs. Lennart Blomquist was guest speaker at the Tuesday evening meeting of the Wesleyan Service Guild of the Wesley Methodist Church. The members met at the home of Mrs. Robert Lee, 1604 E. 6th.

Mrs. Blomquist, who has been a missionary in Africa for 18 years, told the group of the native customs of that country.

Mrs. Bill Estes gave the opening prayer, and Mrs. Bob Severin presented the devotion.

Mrs. Mattie Browder conducted the program, "Call to Worship," and refreshments were served to 11 members.

Shower Honors Mrs. Billy Hand

Mrs. Billy Hand, who recently became the mother of twins, was honored with a Wednesday afternoon baby shower during the meeting of the Ladies Home League of the Salvation Army.

Mrs. William Thomas presided, and 19 members attended. The refreshment table was decorated with a figurine of a stork, and the individual favors were miniature cradles.

It was announced that the Home League rally would be held Nov. 2 in Lubbock, and plans were made for an Oct. 14 small item sale at the Citadel.

Methodist Circle Meets Tuesday

Mrs. Charles Condray, 1517 Tucson, was hostess for the Tuesday morning meeting of the Martha Foster Circle of the Wesley Methodist Church. Mrs. E. A. Guinn presided, and Mrs. Jarrel Sharp gave the opening prayer.

Assisting on the program were Mrs. Alta King, Mrs. Jerry Allen, Mrs. George Sutton and Mrs. J. C. Ray.

Mrs. Drucie Cawthron gave the devotion and closing prayer.

Birth Announced

WESTBROOK (SC) — Mr. and Mrs. Reeves Plummer of Brownfield are announcing the birth of a daughter, Joyce Wynette, born Sept. 17. The maternal grandmother is Mrs. Gordon Coe of Sweetwater, formerly of Westbrook, and the paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. John Plummer of Westbrook.

Ed Fisher Talks On Area History

The Earl of Aylford was the historical character discussed at the Tuesday evening meeting of the Preceptor Delta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi. The members met at the home of Mrs. James Cape, 2518 E. 24th, and Mrs. Clayton Bettle presided.

Ed Fisher, member of the Howard County Historical Survey committee, was guest speaker. His talk concerned the importance and interest surrounding local folk history. He stressed obtaining a collection of historical items to include a museum, if one can be provided.

Area Residents Take Trips, Visit Relatives

KNOTT (SC)—Mr. and Mrs. Mike Davidson visited Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Hazelwood Jr. in Stanton Monday.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Sutphen are their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Sutphen, who are en route to their new home in Louisiana.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Clay have returned to Seminole after spending a few days at their farm home.

Mr. and Mrs. Dalton Wright and Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Davis visited Davis' brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Davis, in Lamesa recently.

Mrs. J. E. Peugh and members of the Girls' Auxiliary from the First Baptist Church visited Mrs. Jewell Smith Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Foster and Marty have returned from Kermit where they visited their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Foster.

Miss Robbie Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brown, is a student in Texas Tech College, Lubbock.

Miss Darlene Wright, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dalton Wright, and Mrs. Don Flemings and her daughter, Glenda, are students at Howard County Junior College this semester.

Carolyn Wieburn, a senior, has recently transferred from Sands High School to Stanton High School.

Does Make Gift To Elks Lodge

Bridge Play Winners Told

Seven table scrambled Mitchell movement was employed at the Tuesday afternoon duplicate bridge games played at the Big Spring Country Club.

Master points were awarded to Mrs. A. Swartz and Mrs. J. Gordon Bristow, first; Mrs. J. D. Robertson and George D. Pike, second; Mrs. Hudson Landers and Mrs. Malcolm Patterson, third; Mrs. Hollis Webb and Mrs. E. O. Ellington, fourth; and Mrs. J. J. Havens and Mrs. Ward Hall, fifth.

At the Wednesday morning Variety Luncheon games the winners were Mrs. Ray McMahen and Mrs. Havens, first; Mrs. B. B. Badger and Mrs. D. A. Brazel, second; Mrs. C. A. Nelson and Mrs. E. M. Bune, third ;and Mrs. Elvis McCrary and Mrs. J. H. Fish, fourth.

Players were reminded of the Thursday 7:30 p.m. Charity Games to be played at Webb AFB Officers Open Mess, and that 1:30 p.m. is the time for the Friday game at the Big Spring Country Club. It was also announced that the Team-of-Four games will be played Wednesday at 1 p.m. at Big Spring Country Club.

Organists Fill Post

Mrs. Gail Bonner was named to fill the vacancy when Mrs. I. G. Hudson resigned as president of the Big Spring Organ Society Tuesday evening. Mrs. Bonner will preside until January when new officers will be elected.

Teaching tips were given by George Laubmeier who also showed and demonstrated new organs. Several selections were presented by Laubmeier and Miss Beth Graumann.

The next meeting was announced for Oct. 26 and refreshments were served to 28.

Flame Room Party Held Tuesday

Mrs. C. R. Crabtree was honored with a Tuesday evening baby shower in the Flame Room of Pioneer Natural Gas Company.

Cohostesses were Mrs. H. J. Holland, Mrs. Jack Hopper, Mrs. L. C. Waits, Mrs. Paul Garrett, Mrs. A. R. McBride, Miss Olene McShan, Mrs. Morris Slavens, Mrs. Mary Ruth Thornton and Mrs. Ruth Hampton.

The refreshment table was highlighted with a centerpiece made from an old shoe designed with windows and doors and surrounded by children figurines.

The gifts were displayed on a table covered with a white lace cloth over a blue underlay, and the hostesses' gift was an electric bottle sterlizer.

Thirty guests attended, and the white cake was frosted with blue icing and decorated with a blanket-wrapped baby figurine.

Tall Talkers Stress Being Well-Dressed

"The Importance of Being Well-dressed" was the central topic discussed at the Tuesday evening meeting of the Tall Talkers Toastmistress Club. The members met at the Webb AFB Officers Open Mess, and Mrs. Larson Lloyd was toastmistress for the evening.

Mrs. Eugene Sieja conducted the table topics, and Mrs. M. A. Porter was in charge of the lexicology drill.

The evening's speakers were Lt. Judith Ohr and Mrs. R. C. Shaver.

Mrs. James Brooks was the evaluator. She was assisted by Mrs. D. M. Costlow and Mrs. Lee Rogers, president. Mrs. Miriam Russell gave the closing thought.

The next meeting will be a voice workshop on Oct. 12 conducted by Mrs. Harold Davis.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Use Towel Packing For Plastic Purses

Dear Heloise:

Patent and synthetic plastic, patent-type purses are something which must be cared for before packing away.

Here's how I keep mine in perfect condition from year to year.

I rub the outside of the bag thoroughly with a soft cloth (I use a terry cloth wash rag) which has been dipped in petroleum jelly.

Then, if you wrap the purse in an old bath towel, it will be ready to pack away for the season. The reason for the towel is that it will keep indentations from marring the purse. Doris Lindsley

• • •

Absolutely true!
Even when I put my black or white patent purse on a shelf, during the season, I always wrap it in an old bath towel. Saves those horrid marks . . . Heloise

• • •

Dear Heloise:

This is for the ladies who give home permanents:

I buy a package of sponge rubber pads that are made to go under brush hair rollers. They are ideal for applying waving lotion, since they can be wrung out easily.

They're so much better than cotton. . . Dawn Mortenson

• • •

Dear Heloise:

Whenever I have to make a large batch of sandwiches (for a party, picnic, etc.), I use my ice cream scoop to dish out the filling for each sandwich.

The scoop holds just the right amount of filling, and the sandwiches are all the same thickness. . . Cora Williams

• • •

And, did you know that the average ice cream scoop holds exactly one-fourth cup? . . . Heloise

• • •

Dear Heloise:

Try cleaning a bathtub with your floor sponge mop.

Sprinkle cleanser on bottom of tub, and proceed from there. No more strain on the back, from bending over, and no more stretching to reach the back of the tub.

It is easy, and it does a good job! . . . Mrs. Helen Lutz

• • •

Dear Heloise:

I have followed the advice of a recognized plumber, and because of its effect, I am passing it on to anyone who is interested.

Keep a large jug of white vinegar handy. Pour one cup of it down each of your drains (kitchen sink, all bathroom drains, as well as laundry tubs) from time to time before retiring at night.

In the morning, pour hot water down the drains freely. That's all.

We have not had a plumbing bill since . . . Edith Brentz

• • •

Ladies, this hint is pouring in, even from plumbers themselves.

It doesn't make any difference whether the vinegar is white or not—pure vinegar is acetic acid.

And, remember, when buying vinegar, look on the bottle to see if it is four per cent or five per cent. Five per cent, at 50 cents a bottle is cheaper than the four per cent at 47 cents a bottle!

Watch your pennies, gals. Pennies make dollars, and dollars seem to be what it takes to walk into any store now! . . . Heloise

• • •

Dear Heloise:

In the Army, we always used saddle soap to remove grease from shoes . . . An American Vet

Tonics Aid New Plants

Most "tonics" call for plenty of greens and a refresher course for the home is no exception.

Living plants are an important part of today's interiors, claypotted in decorative plant stands, in large tubs or in indoor "garden" areas.

Pretty plants in clay pots at the window can be complemented by "frames" of panels covered with prepasted wallpaper in a flowery design.

Save Iron Level Of Rose Plants

Roses will develop chlorosis if the iron level of the soil drops below minimum requirements. Symptoms are yellowing of leaves, poor growth and improper flowering. To prevent chlorosis, apply from 2 to 4 tablespoons of micronized iron and work it lightly into the soil. Then water.

To correct chlorosis, double the amount of iron. In highly alkaline soil, repeat the application in 7 to 10 days.

Baby Powder

Corn starch has been recommended by doctors for years for powdering baby. It's inexpensive, handy and a safe way to guard baby's skin from irritation since it is a pure vegetable powder. It is smooth and pleasant to the skin and has the advantage of being colorless.

Care Told For Potted Plants

Flowering plants for churches will provide longer - lasting beauty if they are double-potted, in large clay pots, or placed on waterproof clay saucers on top of a one-inch layer of pebbles or vermiculite.

Wet peat moss or sphagnum should be placed between the inside and outside clay pots to help retain uniform moisture. Plants set in clay saucers should be watered to the top of the pebble layer, so capillary action of the clay pot can provide constant moisture from below. Watering twice a week should be sufficient using either of these methods.

Starching Cottons Requires Care

Dark cottons will retain a crisp, smart look and dark, clear colors if you follow three simple rules.

Separate them from linty articles before laundering. Dip and squeeze garment in starch solution several times, then wring firmly.

Iron dark fabrics on wrong side to avoid a shine on the right side.

Remove Deposits

To remove lime deposits from the bottom of water bottles or pitchers, put tea leaves in the bottom and fill with a vinegar and water solution. Let set awhile, wash in warm sudsy water and rinse.

Altar Society Begins Bible Service Study

A new study program was begun at the Tuesday evening meeting of the Immaculate Heart of Mary Altar Society when the women gathered in the parish hall with Mrs. Y. C. Gray presiding.

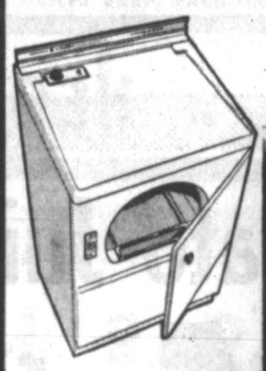

The invocation was by the Rev. Francis Beazley who directed the program on "Bible Services and the Laity." The women read from the Bible and heard songs and Psalms. The subject was "Christ in the World."

Named on the committee to care for the altar in October were Mrs. Jim Reidy, Mrs. D. W. Roberson and Mrs. L. D. Gilbert. Two new altar linens have been purchased by the society for the new altar.

Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the meeting.

Children Of FDR Still Make News

WASHINGTON (AP) — James Roosevelt, who resigns from Congress today to take a new job at the United Nations, is a rarity, a president's son who still makes news 20 years after his family left the White House.

In fact, this is true of most of the five children of the late Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Jimmy — as everybody calls him — has been a California congressman for more than a decade.

Elliott Roosevelt, who won an upset victory last June to become mayor of Miami Beach, Fla., after only two years as a resident, is rumored a possible candidate for governor or senator.

HEADS COMMISSION

Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., who looks and sounds a good bit like the late president, resigned last May as undersecretary of commerce to become chairman of the new Equal Employment Opportunity Commission.

In July, Frank, as he likes to be called, ended speculation he might run for mayor of New York, but left the door open for a bid next year for the governor's mansion.

The other two Roosevelts, John, the youngest, and Anna, the only daughter, have been out of the public spotlight in recent years.

When Franklin D. Roosevelt was nominated for the first of his four terms as President in July 1932, Anna was 26, James 24, Elliott 21, Franklin Jr. 17 and John 16.

MAJOR ROLES

Anna, James and Elliott all played major roles in the campaign. The energetic Roosevelt family drew nearly as much attention as the candidate.

In the 33 years since, there have been few months when one or more of the Roosevelts hasn't been in the news for one reason or another.

Even their matrimonial activity has been of headline caliber. The five children have married a total of 14 times. Elliott tops the list with five marriages.

John, 49, is an investment banker on Wall Street. In 1953, he switched his registration from Democratic to Republican, explaining that he believed the Democrats had been in power too long and he favored Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Anna and her husband, Dr. James A. Halsted of the Veterans Administration, live quietly in Washington.

Murphy Raps 'Big Spending'

HOUSTON (AP)—Sen. George Murphy, R-Calif., said Wednesday "the great society is spending large sums of money we can't afford."

Murphy, a former movie actor who was elected a senator last year, hammered away at programs of the present administration before 500 persons at a $100-a-plate dinner for Sen. John Tower, R-Tex.

Also on hand to pay tribute to Tower, who celebrated his 40th birthday, were Republican Sens. Roman Hruska of Nebraska, Paul Fanning of Arizona, Len Jordan of Idaho and Bourke Hickenlooper of Iowa.

ANOTHER SPEAKER

Mrs. Claire Chennault, widow of the wartime chief of the Flying Tigers, spoke briefly.

"The government should be put back into the hands of elected representatives and taken away from the people who experiment with your welfare and mine," Murphy said.

"The Constitution is just as good today as when it was written."

"NEAR DICTATORSHIP"

Murphy said this country is drifting "dangerously close to a presidential dictatorship, closer than he (President Johnson) realizes."

He called the war on poverty "the biggest political boondoggle ever foisted off on a free people."

He said Sen. Everett Dirksen's proposed reapportionment amendment is "the most important bill to come before the Congress in the last 50 years—it will decide whether control will be by elected representatives of this government or by appointed bureaucrats."

Storm Debbie Loses Punch

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Tropical storm Debbie gave the Gulf Coast from Florida to Louisiana a scare and whipped a few gales ashore before she broke up about 30 miles south of Biloxi, Miss.

Debbie, which formed last Friday off the Mexican coast, got within 100 miles of Pensacola before she stalled and lost her strength to a cold front on the mainland Wednesday.

Flooding, which the Weather Bureau feared might be Debbie's worst threat, did not develop. However, a narrow strip of the Georgia coast near Brunswick got more than nine inches of rain, flooding airfields and drainage canals.

Carol, the last tropical storm which grew into a hurricane, was expected to brush the Azores with winds that could reach 60 miles an hour.

Beatles Due British Honor

LONDON (AP)—Buckingham Palace has announced officially that the Beatles will receive membership in the Most Excellent Order of the British Empire, one of the most staid of British institutions.

Queen Elizabeth II will confer the honor Oct. 26. A palace spokesman said Wednesday it will be the queen's first meeting with the long-haired singers from Liverpool.

The Beatles' inclusion in the queen's birthday honors list last June 11 brought a flood of protests. A dozen British war heros returned their decorations. The government stood firm.

Miss Malone Makes Gains

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Actress Dorothy Malone was speaking easily and making excellent progress toward recovery—but remained on the critical list — Cedars of Lebanon Hospital spokesmen said today.

A medical bulletin Wednesday said the Academy Award-winning actress was starting to eat solid food and that her temperature was back to normal after massive doses of antibiotics were administered.

The 40-year-old actress underwent surgery last Thursday for removal of blood clots from her lungs.

Rutgers Receives Gifts And Grants

NEW BRUNSWICK, NJ. (AP) —Rutgers University received gifts, grants and scholarship fund totaling more than $1.7 million during July and August. Dr. Mason W. Gross, president of the university, said all but $31,431 of the funds represented grants and contracts awarded by government and private agencies.

U.S. Accuses Viet Reds Of Smokescreen Tactic

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States accused Communist North Viet Nam today of threatening war crimes trials of U.S. pilots as "smokescreen" for possible reprisals against execution of Red terrorists in the south.

"Any effort to brand American pilots as war criminals and try them in kangaroo fashion," a spokesman said, "would be a smokescreen for reprisals."

Press officer Robert J. McCloskey told a news conference that recent executions of Americans by Communists had been in reprisal for sentences carried out by South Vietnamese authorities against Red terrorists.

The North Vietnamese made their threat of war crimes trials against American pilots on the ground that American planes were bombing civilian targets in North Viet Nam. This was the substance of a response North Viet Nam made to the International Red Cross committee in response to U.S. supported efforts by the committee to agree on standards of prisoner treatment in the Vietnamese war.

Railroad Men Can Get Health Plan

The Railroad Retirement Board has announced how railroad employes and persons on the board's rolls who are aged 65 and over can participate in the new health insurance programs.

Ben H. Fleet Jr. manager of the board's Fort Worth district office, stated that early in October the board will mail literature about the new programs and an enrollment card to eligible persons on its rolls who are not receiving benefits from the Social Security Administration. These persons will automatically participate in the hospital insurance plan, but they must individually decide whether they wish to have the voluntary medical insurance coverage. They should indicate their decision about the medical insurance plan on the enrollment card and return it to the board.

Eligible persons who are receiving benefits from the Social Security Administration, including railroad employes and their wives and persons on the board's rolls, will also automatically participate in the hospital insurance program. The Social Security Administration will mail these individuals literature about the programs and an enrollment card before the close of 1965.

Beginning Sept. 1, 1965, eligible railroad employes and their wives who have not yet applied for railroad retirement or social security benefits can join the health insurance programs at any Railroad Retirement Board field office. These individuals must file an application and establish proof of their age if they wish the hospital insurance coverage or if they wish to enroll in the medical insurance plan.

The law limits the periods during which persons can enroll in the medical insurance plan. Persons who will reach age 65 before Jan. 1, 1966, will be protected under the medical insurance plan when it begins on July 1, 1966, only if they enroll by March 31, 1966. Persons who will reach age 65 after December 1965 will have protection as soon as they reach 65 only if they enroll during the 3-month period just before they reach that age. In no case, however, will the medical insurance take effect before July 1, 1966.

Few Changes Reported In RR Retirement Act

A few changes have been made by amendments to the Railroad Retirement Act, signed into law by President Johnson Wednesday.

One change is increasing the maximum earnings which are taxable towards benefits to a new top of $550 per month effective Jan. 1, 1966. Those earning more than $450 per month will pay somewhat higher retirement taxes, but benefits will be increased.

The tax rate on railroad employers and employes alike has been cut by one per cent for the remainder of 1965 and by smaller amounts for 1966 through 1968. The rate will drop from 8⅛ per cent to 7⅛ per cent for the remainder of this year and will rise in stages to 9.35 per cent with the beginning of 1973. These rates are exclusive of the hospital insurance rates established by the recently enacted Medicare bill.

Reductions no longer will be made in the monthly benefits payable to wives of retired railroad employes because of current entitlement to Social Security of railroad retirement benefits. This change will benefit about 40,000 women whose husbands are receiving annuities from the railroad retirement board.

The other change is to include income from cash tips as taxable and creditable as compensation when they are reported by employes to their employers.

Viets Due To Execute Six

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The South Vietnamese government is reported planning six more executions Friday despite Viet Cong threats of reprisals against American prisoners.

Informants said no Communist reaction was expected because those to be executed were convicted of criminal activities in no way related to the Viet Cong.

Embezzlement Charged Banker

DALLAS (AP)— Ray Carroll Jr., 44, senior vice president of the Fair Park National Bank, posted $10,000 bond on an embezzlement charge Wednesday.

The complaint charges misapplication of $2,850.

At a hearing before U.S. Commissioner W. M. Hill, however, Asst. U.S. Atty. Tim Timmins said: "Indications are that the amount will be substantial, over a considerable period of time."

Refinery Fire, Blast Hurt 2

MOUNT PLEASANT, Tex. (AP)—Two persons were hospitalized Wednesday after an explosion and fire in the loading dock area and an asphalt plant at the American Petrofina refinery here.

Horace Smith, 51, of Marietta, Tex., suffered burns and leg injuries. Herschel Black of Mount Pleasant was overcome by exhaustion while fighting the fire.

Numerous railroad tank cars at the loading dock were damaged and for a time the main refinery was threatened.

Flames licked at several small petroleum product tanks, but the fire was kept away from the main tank farm.

Smith was operating a welding torch as the first explosion took place at the loading dock. Several other explosions followed.

Texas Given Book Grants

WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal Office of Education has awarded Texas two grants totaling more than $9 million under the Elementary and Secondary Education Act.

Texas will receive $4,345,745 for library books, text books and other instructional materials to be used by pupils and teachers. A total of $100 million was allotted nationwide.

Of a national total of $75 million, Texas will get $3,720,782 for supplemental educational centers and services.

The Name's Not Casey

Willie McCovey's feeling was evident in this sequence. The San Francisco Giants had rallied for six runs in the ninth. There were two men on and two out. The count on McCovey was 3-2. Came the pitch. This is Willie's reaction. The St. Louis Cardinals won, 8-6, not brightening the San Francisco pennant hopes with only four games to go. Today the Giants start a four-game series against Cincinnati, trailing the Los Angeles Dodgers by two full games. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Dodgers Lead By Two In Pennant Scramble

By The Associated Press

Sandy Koufax has found something for the pitcher who has everything.

Koufax, whose dazzling curve ball and fast ball have brought him just about everything a pitcher could want, now has presented himself with a forkball.

He displayed it more than ever Wednesday night, pitching a two-hitter and gaining his 25th triumph as the Los Angeles Dodgers defeated Cincinnati 5-0 for their 12th straight victory and increased their National League lead to two games over the staggering San Francisco Giants.

FACE REDS

The Giants lost to St. Louis 8-6 Wednesday and now face a four-game, season-ending series with Cincinnati. The Dodgers play their last four games with Milwaukee, and if they win only two of them, the Giants would have to sweep all four of theirs to gain a tie.

"It's hard to tell one game of Sandy's from another, he's so consistent," Dodger Manager Walter Alston said after the game.

But there was one difference — the forkball. And Koufax was appropriately proud of it.

"I had a good curve, and my control was as good as it's been all year," the 29-year-old lefthander said. "Then I threw five or six forkballs — got 'em over, too."

Koufax has been experimenting with the pitch this season but had thrown it only once or twice in any game before Wednesday night.

It only foreshadowed worse things to come for Dodger opponents, who have stood by almost helplessly while Koufax has compiled a major league record of 369 strikeouts, eight shutouts and 26 complete games in 40 starts this season.

EQUALS RECORD

Koufax' 25 victories also equal his personal high achieved in 1963 when he won the Cy Young Award. He lost five that year compared with eight this season. He also reduced his earned run average to 2.06 as the Dodgers eliminated the third-place Reds from contention.

In other NL games, Pittsburgh trimmed New York 4-2, Milwaukee beat Houston 5-1 and Philadelphia edged Chicago 7-6.

Koufax, who struck out 13, allowed only singles by Vada Pinson in the fourth and Deron Johnson in the seventh. The Dodgers' big blow, meanwhile, was Maury Wills' three-run triple in the seventh off Jim Maloney, now 20-8. Wills then scored as Jim Gilliam singled.

The Giants went down to their sixth defeat in the last eight games despite a six-run rally in the ninth. Bob Gibson, 19-12, held the Giants to two hits until that inning, but Curt Simmons and Hal Woodeshick had to come on before the Cardinals got out of it.

McDowell Also In Top Class

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Quickie Quiz: What pitcher is striking out batters at a faster clip than Sandy Koufax?

Stumped?

None other than Cleveland's Sam McDowell, whose individual performances have been overshadowed in recent weeks by the developments of the American League pennant race and without fanfare has joined Koufax as a member of the exclusive 300-strikeout club.

McDowell, a 23-year-old lefthander in only his second full major league season, raised his strikeout total to 318 Wednesday night by fanning 12 in a five-hit, 5-3 victory over the New York Yankees.

McDowell, who has a 17-10 record with a best-in-the-league 2.17 earned-run average, has struck out 10 or more batters in 17 games this season, while becoming only the fifth pitcher in major league history to hit the 300-strikeout plateau.

Only Koufax in the NL and Rube Waddell, Walter Johnson and Bob Feller in the AL have reached that level.

In addition McDowell is fanning batters faster than Koufax despite the fact that the 29-year-old Dodger left-hander has struck out a major league record 369. Koufax, who has worked 826 2-3 innings, has a 1.1 strikeout-per-inning rate to 1.2 for McDowell, who has pitched only 265 innings.

While McDowell was adding to his laurels, the champion Minnesota Twins ended Baltimore's nine-game winning streak by edging the Orioles 3-2, Washington's Jim Hannan five-hit Kansas City 9-0 and Boston edged California 2-1. Chicago and Detroit were idle.

Fred Whitfield and Max Alvis supplied the only support McDowell needed. Whitfield hit a three-run homer in a four-run third inning while Alvis, who went 4-for-4, singled home the other run in the uprising and then hit a homer in the eighth inning. Clete Boyer and Elston Howard homered for the Yankees.

Jim Grant, the lone 20-game winner in the AL, gained his 21st victory against six losses when Bob Allison won it for the Twins with a two-run homer in the eighth inning off Steve Barber. Allison connected with Cesar Tovar on base with a double. Allison also tripled and scored the first run on Andy Kosco's fourth-inning single.

Franks Says Giants Need Some Help

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Herman Franks finally faced reality today.

The frustrated San Francisco manager, unable to check his team's shocking collapse that threatens to slide it right out of the National League pennant race, summed up the Giants' plight in three plaintive words: "We need help."

Never have the beleagured Giants needed help more. Never this year have they helped themselves less.

SIX OF EIGHT

They've lost six of their last eight to drop six games to the furious-finishing Los Angeles Dodgers whom they led by four games just nine days ago.

This afternoon, as Juan Marichal attempts to plug the dike, the Giants find themselves two games in back of the front-running Dodgers with just four left to play—all at home with the third-place Cincinnati Reds.

The Dodgers, who have won their last 12 games, also have four to play against the Milwaukee Braves at Dodger Stadium.

It was the Reds who started the Giants on the downhill road, a skid that continued unabated Wednesday when the St. Louis Cardinals staved off a last-inning uprising to hand them an 8-6 defeat.

Held to two hits by right-hander Bob Gibson and trailing 8-0, the Giants suddenly came to life and almost pulled off a miracle.

Unable to advance a runner past second base through eight innings against the hard-throwing Gibson, the Giants bombed the right-hander off the mound in the ninth and continued their assault against southpaw Curt Simmons.

RELIEF CALLED

There were six runs in, Jesus Alou on first base and Willie Mays, representing the tying run with two outs, at bat when St. Louis manager Red Schoendienst summoned Harold Woodeshick, a left-hander, from the bullpen.

Woodeshick, with orders not to give Mays anything good to hit, fed Willie nothing but fast balls close in on the fists. Mays managed to hit one off third baseman Ken Boyer's glove for a single.

Now Willie McCovey, the Giant left-handed slugging first baseman with 39 home runs to his credit, came to the plate representing the ninth and winning run. McCovey, after slashing a long foul, worked the count to 3-2, then brought a groan to the 10,345 Candlestick Park patrons by fanning on a curve that swept a foot outside the plate.

The miracle didn't quite come off and there are those who think it will take a miracle for the Giants to overhaul the Dodgers.

NOT DEAD YET

The Giants aren't dead yet. But the end seems near. They managed only nine hits, marking the 11th time in the last 13 games that they failed to crack double figures.

Franks was forced to use three pitchers, making it a total of 30 in the last eight games. No starting pitcher has gone the route since Bob Bolin beat Houston Sept. 16.

Bob Shaw, a 16-game winner, started for the Giants and was blasted out in the eighth when the Cards scored five times to boost their margin to 8-0.

"I'm not going to find fault with my pitchers at this late stage," said Franks. "Maybe they haven't been going so well lately, but they've been good all year. I've got no complaints.

"We're not through yet. Not by a long shot. This rally today might have given us the shot in the arm we have been looking for. It wouldn't surprise me if we came on like gangbusters now."

Twins' Pilot Eyed Career In Basketball

MINNEAPOLIS—ST. PAUL (AP) — Basketball was Sam Mele's first love. Had World War II not interfered, he might have become a professional cager.

"I don't know if you could compare me with Bob Cousy," the manager of the American League pennant-winning Minnesota Twins said, "But I think I was pretty good."

Born Jan. 21, 1922, in the Astoria section of New York City, Mele excelled at both baseball and basketball as a youngster. But basketball was his No. 1 sport at New York University, which he attended for three years in the early 1940s.

The Boston Celtics drafted Mele No. 1 in 1943. Mele, however, joined the Marines.

He got out of the service in 1946, found his basketball play was rusty and signed a baseball contract with the Boston Red Sox.

"When I was young," Mele said, "I always wanted to be a basketball player. I went to NYU on a basketball scholarship.

"I tried it again after I got out of the service, but I was 24 then and I hadn't played much for a long time.

"I had agreed to go to spring training with the Red Sox in 1946, so that kind of knocked out the basketball."

Boston sent Mele to Louisville and Scranton in 1946, the last year the Red Sox won a pennant. He had trouble handling the pitching at Louisville, but hit .342 for Scranton in 119 games.

That earned him a shot with the Red Sox in 1947 in an outfield which included Ted Williams and Dom DiMaggio. Sam broke in with a bang, hitting .302 in 123 games and winning AL Rookie-of-the-Year honors.

He played 10 years in the major leagues as an outfielder with Boston, Washington, Chicago, Baltimore, Cincinnati and Cleveland, compiling a lifetime average of .267.

Mele finished his playing career at Buffalo in 1958 when he hit .216 in 58 games.

His playing days over, Mele became a scout for the old Washington Senators in 1959 and became a coach for the Senators the following year.

In 1961, he came to Minnesota with the Griffith organization as a coach under Manager Cookie Lavagetto.

Pan-Am Ex Goes Home

EDINBURG, Tex. (AP)—Big Lucious Jackson was the star. Mayor Al Ramirez made him a city marshal and read a proclamation telling how well he plays basketball while 2,000 fans clapped until their hands hurt. But Jackson just couldn't win the basketball game.

Even Wilt Chamberlain, who stuffs balls into baskets with a proficiency that earns him $100,000 a year, couldn't hit the hoop.

The St. Louis Hawks beat the Philadelphia 76ers 108-91 in a National Basketball Association exhibition game.

The crowd applauded politely as the Hawks and the other 76ers were introduced. When Jackson came out, you knew why every seat was sold.

The 6-foot-9 forward from San Marcos, Tex., scuffed the toes of his tennis shoes as cheering fans rose.

Then the game started and the 76ers managed three foul shots before the Hawks scored.

Philadelphia teammates fed the ball to Chamberlain and Jackson frequently.

Chamberlain, who has pumped 18,837 points through the hoop for money, tried hard. Finally he drooped his shoulders and shook his head resignedly. He shot 14 times and made four points.

None Of Top 11's Due To Get Beat

By The Associated Press

None of the top-rated teams are due to fall but plenty of the unbeaten and untied outfits are in danger as the Texas schoolboy football race hits its first crucial weekend of conference play.

Almost a third of the 96 districts of the four-pronged campaign will have games counting in the standings and in several instances these battles match undefeated, untied teams.

Neither is a conference game but they are most interesting as they send teams with perfect records into combat in Class AAAA—Dallas Woodrow Wilson at Longview and Austin McCallum at San Antonio MacArthur.

Those are the only games in the division in which the unbeaten and untied swipe at each other.

The No. 1 team, Texarkana, appears in no grave danger. The Tigers play Fort Worth Carter-Riverside.

Baytown, climbing back in the rankings after an opening day loss to Spring Branch, launches title play against unbeaten, untied Pasadena Rayburn.

San Marcos, runnerup in Class AAA last year, meets its sternest test in starting championship action in District 14. San Marcos meets another undefeated, untied team when it battles Lockhart.

Dumas, the top-rated team, takes on Lawton, Okla., in an intersectional clash, which the Demons should win and remain among the undefeated.

Class AA has more feature games than any other division with four games sending undefeated, untied teams against each other. Dalhart and Stinnett tangle in District one and Hillsboro meets West in District 12 while the other games matching unbeaten, untied outfits—Seymour vs. Jacksonville and Gladewater vs. Crockett—are interdistrict scraps.

Three Rivers, No. 1 team of Class A, faces Jourdanton without much worry, and the only game in this division in which unbeaten, untied teams will clash is Roscoe vs. Abilene Wylie in District 6.

There are 119 undefeated, untied teams in the four divisions with Palestine, the biggest winner—holding a 15-game winning skein—due to make it 16 straight in a joust with Ennis.

Palestine is the defending Class AAA champion but is being watched with some skepticism. The Wildcats are ranked only eighth in the state poll.

Carson Wins Links Match

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Three former champions remained in second round of the Texas State Senior Golf Tournament at Oak Hills Country Club.

Defending champion Bud McKinney of Dallas downed John Townsend of Houston 3 and 2. Former titlists Hezzie Carson of San Angelo and John Bohlender of San Antonio also won but another former champ, Raymond Marshall of Lubbock, lost.

Wednesday's results:

Bud McKinney, Dallas, def. John Townsend, Houston, 3 and 2.

Jack Vaughan, Fort Worth, def. Don Stone, Houston, 2 and 1.

Frank Sparks, Pasadena, def. B. C. Nelson, San Antonio, 1 up.

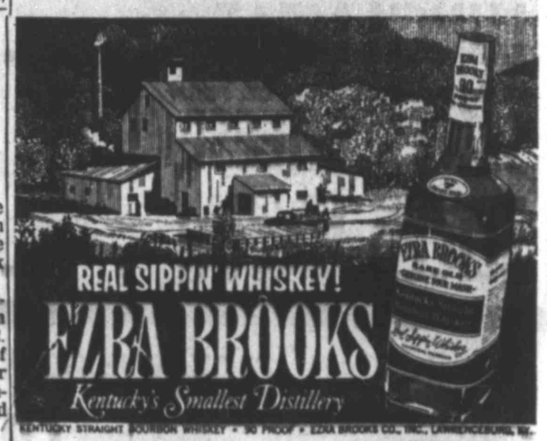

Mel Arnett, San Antonio, def. Raymond Marshall, Lubbock, 1 up in 19.

Hezzie Carson, San Angelo, def. Leroy Brannen, San Antonio, 1 up.

C. E. Covington, San Antonio, def. Clyde Wakins, Fort Worth, 1 up.

James Weaver, Dallas, def. Ross McDade, Beaumont, 4 and 3.

Frogs, Porkers Work On Defense For Bout

By The Associated Press

Southwest Conference teams ended heavy contact workouts Wednesday and began concentrating on polish in preparation for the season's third weekend of football.

Defense was the topic of the day Wednesday for Texas Christian coach Abe Martin and Arkansas mentor Frank Broyles, whose teams meet Saturday.

TCU offensive units worked against a simulated Arkansas defense and Martin indicated he was pleased.

Broyles was not. Speaking of the Razorback defense, he said: "They are just doing too much thinking and not reacting. There's too much hesitation."

Top ranked Texas, which spent Wednesday polishing its plays, reported two regulars will return to action in the Longhorns' game against Indiana. End Ed Small and halfback Linus Baer, both injured two weeks ago, were pronounced fit. Safety man Garry Moore, however, is still out with bruises.

Bruises are still a problem at Rice, which plays Duke Saturday. Starting defensive tackle Virgil Phelps is lamed with an ankle injury and may miss action. Sophomore Mike Proctor is his replacement.

Southern Methodist coach Hayden Fry, bracing for a collision with No. 2 ranked Purdue, moved George Wilmot and David Shuford to starting line positions. Injured tackle Ronnie Merritt and tailback Jim Hagle were replaced by Norman Medlen and Larry Jernigan.

At Texas Tech Mickey Merritt took over the defensive guard spot vacated by standout Doug Young, who suffered a tendon injury last week. Tech meets Texas A&M Saturday.

The Aggies may be planning some surprises, Coach James Stallings held another secret workout for the Cadets Wednesday. He said all his players would be in good condition.

At Baylor, some new numbers went into the starting offensive backfield. Halfback Richard Defee and fullback Mike Wayne Marshall were promoted to the top unit on the basis of their play last week against Washington. The Bears tackle Florida State Saturday in Tallahassee.

Two Runnels Clubs Play Here Tonight

Runnels Junior High ninth graders play their third straight football game at home in the old stadium at 7:30 o'clock this evening, at which time they oppose Sweetwater.

Eighth graders of the two schools tangle at 6:30 o'clock. The ninth graders have won one of three starts. The eighth graders are 2-0.

Dan Lewis' ninth graders are still operating without the services of quarterback John Patton, who is favoring a dislocated elbow suffered in the Yearlings' first game. Second string quarterback Lee Harris is also out.

Luven Flores was moved in from an end position to handle the quarterbacking chores and has done a creditable job.

The ninth graders have beaten Snyder Lamar, 30-6; and lost to Sweetwater, 8-6, and San Angelo Lee, 32-8.

After tonight's game, the ninth graders won't play at home again until Nov. 6.

The Runnels eighth graders have flogged Sweetwater, 14-6, and edged Snyder Lamar, 8-6. They were idle last week.

The ninth graders outgained the Sweetwater team in the previous game but played in tough luck most of the way. Jesse Brown scored the lone TD for Big Spring in the contest.

Probable offensive starters for the Runnels eighth graders are George Pardo 171, center; Johnny Hilario 160 and Robert Daniels 180, guards; Randy Morgan 130 and Roy Thomas 145, tackles; Fernando Mendoza 130 and Charles Rodriquez 116, ends; Johnny Rutherford 110, quarterback; Lewis Switzer 130 and Kyle Rogers 120, halfbacks; and Joe Zupiate 180, fullback.

On defense, Jackie Cranfill 103 plays at halfback and Gary Hines 115 at rover for the eighth graders.

Probable starters on offense for the Runnels ninth graders include Larry Newton 145 and Johnny Hedges 152, at ends; Don McEvers 167 and Mike Bridges 140, tackles; Billy Bob Spier 140 and Billy Morton 140 or George Ries 130, guards; Emmett Miller 168, center; Luven Flores 150, quarterback; Roy Lee Warren 138, Mike Nibbie 165, Claude Tucker 148 or Tony Perez 130, halfbacks; and Rocky Wooley 165, fullback.

On defense, such boys as Tommy Jones, halfback; Jesse Brown, tackle; and Robert Domino, safety, take over for the Yearlings.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Within a radius of 30 miles of Big Spring, there are four high school football teams which still have unsullied records.

The group consists of Big Spring and Coahoma, who play 11-man ball; and two eight-man clubs, Sands and Garden City.

Big Spring is sure to remain that way this week, since the Steers are not booked to see action. Coahoma is about as certain as death and taxes, since the Bulldogs will be hosting fangless Roby.

Sands will have no easy task, since it has to go to Gail, but should win. Garden City catches Whitharrel in its home opener and likely will finish in front.

* * * *

Quite probably for the first time in history, Howard County has two teams rated in the statewide polls—Big Spring in Class AAAA and Coahoma in A.

Big Spring finished with a fine record last year but wasn't regarded too loftily until after it beat San Angelo in its final game.

* * * *

Jack Woodley, the Garden City mentor, credits his club's success with the splendid mental attitude his boys have.

The Bearkats were hit hard by graduation and the outlook was rather bleak for them when the season began but Woodley's club has ripped off three victories in a row—all on the road.

* * * *

The good burghers at Lamesa who follow football must feel they've been this route before.

They've failed to score in their first three games this season, while losing to Big Spring, Andrews and Seminole. Observers said they deserved to beat Andrews but that is another story.

Last year, the Golden Tornadoes failed to score in their first five games and wound up with a 3-5-2 record. Those two ties were scoreless deadlocks with Monahans and Levelland.

In the last half of the season, the Tornadoes were as tough as any body in District 3-AAA.

* * * *

Buck Sitton, who writes sports for the Snyder paper, had the unique experience of seeing a foe score on Big Spring for the first time last week.

He was at Lamesa last year, when the Steers beat the Tornadoes, 20-0.

* * * *

A New York writer (Max Kase) says Jack Dempsey accepted an out-of-court payment in six figures to settle his suit with Sports Illustrated Magazine. That means it was in excess of $100,000.

Dempsey had alleged that the periodical had libeled him for printing the late Jack Kearns' story that Dempsey wore loaded gloves into the ring in his knockout victory over Jess Willard eons ago.

Kearns, of course, is known to have had an enormous dislike for Dempsey.

* * * *

Abilene High still looks like the team to beat in District 2-AAAA to me, even though San Angelo is rated much higher in the state polls.

The Eagles, from all indications, have thunderous running power and a passer that will keep the defense honest and, sometimes, dizzy—no doubt.

Texas A&M will travel twice to Louisiana in 1966, once to meet Tulane and again to face LSU.

DeFee Rough On Defenses

WACO, Tex. (AP)—A little fellow who doesn't look much like a policeman is keeping Baylor's football opponents honest for a change.

There was a time when a Bears opponent just protected on the pass, leaving a man or two on the line to stop any fancy stuff like running. And running was fancy for Baylor and its professional-style, aerial-minded attack.

Richard Defee has stopped all that. Any team which ignores Baylor's threat by land is liable to have a football rammed down its goal.

Defee is a junior, not very towering at 5 feet 9½, and not very threatening looking at 170 pounds, But he can bruise.

In fall practice, for instance, he shattered one player's nose in six places, caused a separated shoulder and sent another off the field for 10 days with a shoulder bruise.

The longest run Defee has made this season in two games is 12 yards, but his average is almost six yards each carry.

He gained 108 yards against Washington as Baylor beat the Huskies 17-14 Saturday. He didn't score, but he made four first downs.

Coach John Bridgers used Defee sparingly when Baylor upset Auburn 14-6 the previous week.

Defee was credited with carrying the ball four times. Here is how three consecutive carries went:

Defee over tackle for 6, Defee swinging wide for 11, then Defee sprinting to his right for 12 and Baylor's first touchdown of the season.

The Livingston, Tex., product is generally considered a spot player. It was his running last year against powerhouse Texas that helped shake up the Longhorns and create a near-upset by the Bruins.

Because of his relatively moderate size, it is a surprise to find him able to break tackles and continue downfield.

One reason is his 9.7 speed and his compactness.

In the Washington game, carrying an unusual 17 times, he lost only once—two yards—and was held for no gain only once.

The more aggressive ground game is not entirely Defee. Mike Wayne Marshall was good for more than 7 yards average on four carries, Billy Hayes better than 3 yards and Charles Wilson more than 4.

If opponents believe they can ignore Terry Southall's brilliant passing whenever Defee is inserted into the game—on the assumption a Defee run is coming—they had better watch out.

Junior High 11's Play In Coahoma

COAHOMA—Two junior high school games are scheduled here this evening.

Coahoma's seventh grade unit plays Colorado City at 5 p.m. while the eighth graders play host to Forsan Junior High in a 6:30 o'clock bout.

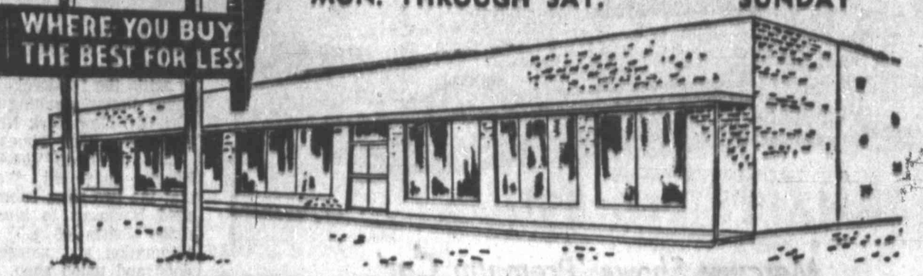

In games last week, Coahoma's eighth graders played a 6-6 tie with Stanton in Stanton. Dean Richters ran a kickoff back for Coahoma's touchdown.

Ted Fowler, Raymond Gonzales and Michael Herron were among standouts for Coahoma in that contest.

Coahoma's ninth graders won a 20-14 decision in Stanton while the seventh graders lost to Stanton, 14-0.

Mercury Shows 'Premium Car'

Mercury for 1966 again presents itself as a premium car in the medium-price field with new styling features, new engines and important additions to the option list, including disc brakes. The Park Lane model is shown above, and this car has a standard 330-hp engine. The Mercurys, along with new Comets, go on display here Friday, at Truman Jones Motor Co., 511 Gregg.

SEEN AT TRUMAN JONES'

Important Styling Changes In 1966 Mercury, Comet

The 1966 Mercury is offered again as a premium car in the medium-price field with notable styling changes, a new two-door hardtop roofline, new engines and a sporty S-55 series.

Its smaller companion, the Comet for 1966, is the most completely changed car since its introduction six years ago.

The new cars will be unveiled Friday at Truman Jones Motor Co., 511 Gregg.

The new Mercury features a completely fresh front end appearance, with new hood, fenders, bumper, grille and lights. Rear appearance is changed with new taillamp assemblies and rear bumper arms which increase the over-all length by two inches to 220 inches. Two-door hardtops have a new roofline with a concave fastback blending smoothly into the rear deck.

Other new styling features are revised side ornamentation, new instrument cluster facing and trim styles.

NEW ENGINE

Mercury's big change for 1966 under the hood includes an exclusive new 410-cubic-inch engine, a new optional 428-cubic-inch engine, and two improved and more powerful 390-cubic-inch engines.

Mercury also has a new product offering in the S-55 two-door hardtop or convertible, sporty performance models with bucket seats and console, special S-55 ornamentation, and the new 428-cubic-inch engine with dual exhausts.

Mercury's stature as a car offering extra values is enhanced for 1966 with new optional disc brakes, cornering lights, and a stereo-sonic tape entertainment system. In addition, Mercury station wagons have as standard equipment a new dual-action tailgate which opens either from top to bottom or from the side to provide improved third seat access or greater flexibility for loading requirements.

330 HORSEPOWER

Mercury's 1966 engine program provides improvements. The unique new 410-cubic-inch 330 - horsepower V-8 becomes standard equipment on Park Lane models and is optional at extra cost for other Mercurys. It utilizes a new heavy-duty dual - range automatic transmission for extra smoothness, and a new low-ratio heavy-duty rear axle for improved economy.

The 1966 Comet features a new, larger body with an entirely different sleek appearance inside and out. The wheelbase is lengthened for the first time and a wide selection of new big car options are introduced, including two 390-cubic-inch Mercury V-8 engines.

A new Capri series and a Voyager station wagon joins the Comet line, while the sporty Cyclone series adds a convertible model and a special high performance "GT" option.

TWO LENGTHS

The 1966 Comet offers customers a choice of two lengths, 196 inches for the "202" series and 203 inches—an increase of almost eight inches over 1965—for the upper series Capri, Caliente and Cyclone. Wheelbase is 116 inches, up two inches.

The new Comets are more spacious, with curved side glass and three-inch wider bodies significantly increasing roominess. Shoulder room is increased up to three inches and hip room more than 2½ inches. Front and rear head room and leg room are greater, also. Front and rear tread are 58 inches, an increase of three inches in the front and two inches in the rear. Over-all width of the car, including bumpers, is increased less than one inch, to 74 inches.

Comet luggage capacity is increased in all models. Upper series sedans gain one-fourth more room at 17 cubic feet while the shorter "202" sedans offer 15 cubic feet of space. Station wagon cargo volume is raised to 85 cubic feet.

Comet's fresh new styling theme is complemented by even livelier performance from a new optional regular fuel 390-cubic-inch V-8 engine rated at 265 horsepower with the manual transmissions or 275 horsepower with the new dual range automatic transmission. Also offered as an option is the regular fuel 289-cubic-inch 200-horsepower V-8, the same basic engine which powered Comets on the 100,000-mile Daytona Durability Run and the Cape Horn to Alaska Run.

Former Chief In Hospital Here

C. L. Rogers, former police chief here, entered Malone and Hogan Hospital last week for surgery. Attendants report his condition as good. He will be recuperating for several days in Room 233.

Mrs. Rogers is here with him. Rogers is now chief of the police department at Lordsburg, N. M. He served about 10 years in the department here, moving up through the ranks from patrolman.

Car Stolen On Young Street

A car belonging to B. J. Kilpatrick, 1414 Robin, was stolen Wednesday, he told police. Kilpatrick said he parked the car at 104 Young, left the keys in the car, and went to work. When he returned, the 1960 car was gone.

Mrs. Earl Sloane, Kentwood Apartments 105, said she lost her billfold Wednesday at the post office. The billfold contained $140 in bills, some credit cards and her drivers' license, she told officers.

Family To Stay Here While Maj. Penn Is In Viet Nam

By ROY WILLIAMS

"I wear the suit, I'll go where they send me," was the reaction of an Air Force officer to a Viet Nam assignment teletyped into Webb Air Force Base Tuesday.

The message from Headquarters, Air Training Command, reads:

"An urgent requirement exists for highly qualified civil engineering officer to work as resident engineer with Navy (at Da Nang)... empowered to act as deputy commander in charge of construction at Viet Nam bases . . . Maj. Charles H. Penn (base civil engineer, Webb Air Force Base), is most eligible and meets the requirements."

MAJ. C. H. PENN

MANY POSTS

In his 18½ years of service, Maj. Penn has met the requirements of many posts. A B-17 pilot during World War II, he was shot down over Germany and spent 21 months as a prisoner of war. Returning to civilian status following that war, he had his family life and career in order, when he was recalled to serve in Korea. His service took him through the Korean war.

To date, his decorations include: Air Force Commendation Medal, World War II Victory Medal, Europe, Africa, Middle-East Campaign Medal, Korean Service Medal, National Defense Service Medal, United Nations Service Medal, Air Force Reserve Medal with hourglass, Air Force Longevity Medal with three bronze clusters, and the Good Conduct Medal.

The major considers it a consolation that the order to Viet Nam comes at a time when his family is "so interested, and actively and happily involved in the community. I am moving them off the base to make a home in Big Spring. That is where every single one of them voted to stay, while I am away."

ACTIVE

Mrs. Penn is the owner-director of a dancing studio in Big Spring. Chuck Jr., 15, is a junior in high school, on the Y swim team, active in youth activities, and has a paper route. Dick, 13, goes to Goliad Junior High and plays in the band. He is on a swim team and delivers papers, also. Debbie, 10, and Jimbo, 7, both go to Marcy Elementary. They voted for Big Spring, too.

"Add this to the fact that we have a lot of friends here," the major says, "and you'll see that I leave my family here with a minimum of regret."

* * *

Maj. Penn is a graduate of the University of Maryland and of the Air Force School of Advanced Engineering at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, Ohio. He has been in the civil engineering military career field since 1951. Since taking over Webb's Civil Engineering Division in early 1963, the operation has tripled in cost and accomplishment.

In the 10 years prior to his assignment here, the division averaged 47 projects a year. In the fiscal years 1964 and 1965, of Maj. Penn's tenure, the average was 75 projects per year. A recent estimate shows that currently the civil engineering division at Webb has a $3.2 million impact on the economy of Big Spring.

GOAL

The goal for the division the past two years has been "the best and most in flying safety, morale and welfare, that each and every budgeted dollar can possibly buy."

In 1964, approximately $1.1 million was spent for real estate improvements, $1.6 million went for civilian and military labor, and about $500,000 for supplies and utilities.

To Maj. Penn, flying safety means runways, long enough and smooth enough and free from foreign object damage. Morale means dormitories, officer quarters, family housing, curbs, walks and base appearance. Welfare means warmth in winter, coolness in summer, renovations and fixtures, latrines and showers, that work.

Col. Joseph H. Sherwood Jr., base commander, said, "Maj. Penn has done an excellent job for us at Webb."

A replacement for Maj. Penn has not been named. His assistant, Capt. James M. Brown, will serve as acting base civil engineer, in charge of the 300-employe division.

Paper, Guild Might Try New Approach

NEW YORK (AP) — A new bargaining approach may be considered today in an effort to settle the two-week-old newspaper dimout resulting from the AFL-CIO New York Newspaper Guild-New York Times strike.

City mediator Theodore W. Kheel suggested Wednesday that the two sides submit packaged proposals to him on the strike issues of job security, automation and mergers, pensions and union shop.

Both sides reacted favorably to the proposal and it was expected to come up at today's session.

The 2,200 guildsmen at the Times struck the newspaper Sept. 16. The city's other major daily newspapers — except the New York Post, which withdrew from the Publishers Association of New York after a prolonged strike two years ago—suspended publication in support of the Times.

The New York Herald Tribune resigned from the association last weekend and resumed publication Monday.

Negotiations resumed today between the Publishers Association and the AFL-CIO Mailers Union. They are bargaining over automation and job security.

Stock Market Mixed, Active

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market opened mixed in active trading today.

Fractional changes were the rule.

LEGAL NOTICE

THE STATE OF TEXAS
To: WILLARD DOSHIER, Defendant(s), Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to appear by filing a written answer to the Plaintiff (s) Petition at or before ten o'clock a.m. of the first Monday after the expiration of forty-two days from the date of the issuance of this citation, same being Monday the 1st day of November, 1965, at or before ten o'clock a.m. before the Honorable District Court of Howard County, Texas, at the Courthouse of said County in Big Spring, Texas.

Said Plaintiff(s) Amended Petition was filed in said court, on the 14th day of September A.D. 1965, in this cause numbered 15,829 on the docket of said court, and styled, FIRST NATIONAL BANK IN BIG SPRING, Plaintiff(s), vs. WILLARD DOSHIER, Defendant(s).

A brief statement of the nature of this suit is as follows, to-wit: On or about the 12th day of April, 1965, Defendant executed and delivered to Plaintiff a promissory note in the original amount of $2,704.68 payable in monthly installment of $75.13 each and on or about the 1st day of June, 1965, Defendant became default in the payment of said note. After making demand as required by law, Plaintiff declared its unpaid balance to be due and payable as is provided in said note and there is presently due and payable to Plaintiff the sum of $2,633.30. Plaintiff is secured by a lien on certain property belonging to the Defendant, to wit: a 1965 Chevrolet One Half Ton Pickup, Motor No. C1545S172106. Plaintiff does not seek personal judgment against the Defendant Willard Doshier but merely seeks foreclosure of its lien on the above described property, as is more fully shown by Plaintiff(s) Petition on file in this suit.

If this citation is not served within ninety days after the date of its issuance, it shall be returned unserved.

The officer executing this process shall promptly execute the same according to law, and make due return as the law directs.

Issued and given under my hand and the Seal of said Court, at office in Big Spring, Texas, this the 14th day of September A. D. 1965.

Attest:
M. FERN COX, Clerk,
District Court, Howard County, Texas.
By Joan Daniel, Deputy.

1966 Plymouth Fury..

FREE COFFEE and DONUTS

a great big beauty in a great big hurry

EVERYONE IS INVITED

The beauty of Fury! Means owning a big, bold, low-price car with torsion-bar suspension, single-unit construction, durable buffable acrylic enamel body paint and an alternator electrical system as standard equipment. It means V-8 power options all the way to the 440-cubic-inch Commando engine. It means a host of comfort and convenience features ... and a wide choice of interiors. It means ... well, it means you should come see the 1966 Fury now. It's a beautiful sight.

Commission Turns Down Hardin Lake

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Water Rights Commission turned down Wednesday an application for a $4.75 million reservoir on Village Creek in Hardin County.

Opponents of the project told the commission the reservoir would add a heavy tax burden on property owners in the area and would provide far more water than will be needed even 30 years from now.

Spokesmen for Atlantic Refining Co. and Sinclair Oil and Gas Co. said the proposed lake would add $308,992 a year to property taxes.

MINIMUM SUPPLY

They estimated it would provide a minimum of 50,000 acre-feet of water a year by 1995, or 114 times the estimated actual demand of the communities it would serve — Kountze and Village Mills. An acre-foot is 325,851 gallons.

Glenn Kirby of Jasper, an employe of Eastex, Inc., which also opposes the project, said the reservoir would add $11,000 a year to that lumber company's tax bill.

The commission also rejected an application to create Hardin County Water Control and Improvement Dist. No. 2, which would build the reservoir.

Others opposing the project were Champion Papers, Inc., Kirby Lumber Co., Humble Oil Co., Layne Texas Co. and General Crude Oil, all of whom own property or have leased mineral lands in the area, and 200 owners of private property downstream.

3,900 ACRES

The lake would have been formed by an earthen dam on Village Creak, near Kountze in Southeast Texas. It would have inundated 3,900 acres of land and impounded 33,000 acre-feet of water.

Advocates of the reservoir, who testified Tuesday, said the project would supply water for an expected population increase and would help industrialization.

"Taxes must go down before industry will come in," said O. R. Crawford of Jasper, general manager of Eastex.

Old Friend Turns Up In Show Lineup

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV - Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Network television has been a topsy-turvy place for the past few weeks with so many new shows and old shows with cast changes. Thus it was comforting Wednesday night to find an old friend in a familiar context — Bob Hope in his first NBC comedy special of the year. Nothing has changed, and nobody wanted it to.

Hope in his opening monologue — often the brightest spot in the program — fired off his usual sharp remarks at his favorite targets — Los Angeles traffic conditions, smog, the Beatles, the Mets, LBJ, plus some new ones like the New York water shortage and even the impending visit of the Pope.

Hope is now in his 16th television season and as a sentimental gesture had three guest stars who were with him on his first television show — Douglas Fairbanks Jr., Beatrice Lillie and Dinah Shore.

House Kills LBJ's 'Home Rule' Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Home rule for the District of Columbia, in the form President Johnson pushed with all the powers of his office, is dead for this year.

A rebellious House, after passing all the major bills the President asked for this year, gave his home-rule plan the ax Wednesday.

Instead, it approved a substitute plan calling for a referendum by District residents and the setting up of a charter commission to study the type of self-government the city should have.

The capital now is governed by Congress and a three-man commission appointed by the president.

Home-rule supporters, faced with the choice of the substitute plan or nothing, backed the substitute offered by Rep. B. F. Sisk, D-Calif. The final vote was 283 to 117.

The Senate already has passed the administration home-rule bill calling for direct election of a mayor and City Council next year.

Said Sen. Alan Bible, D-Nev., chairman of the Senate District Committee: "The Sisk bill and the Senate bill seem so far apart I don't see how they can be reconciled."

Bible said, however, that if the White House indicates it wants the Sisk bill "the Senate might take another look at it."

House Democratic Leader Carl Albert of Oklahoma was pessimistic.

"We won't get a bill this year, and we will be lucky to get one next year," he told reporters after the House vote. "It's a dead duck for this session."

Rep. Charles M. Mathias, R-Md., one of the shapers of the bipartisan compromise bill the House rejected, called for a Senate-House conference.

He added: "At any rate, this is the first time in 70 years there has been an affirmative vote on the principle of home rule. This is the only positive thing that has come out of this week."

Britain Reports Hike In Tourism

LONDON (AP) — The British Travel Association says a record 436,000 foreign tourists flocked to Britain in July. This is 60,000 more than the July 1964 record.

Local Appeals Cases May Be Heard By High Court

Now that the summer vacation is over for the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals, several criminal cases out of 118th District Court may soon be nearer to final settlement, Wayne Burns, district attorney, said today.

He said he has been advised that Bobby W. Beardsley's appeal will be heard by the court Oct. 13. Beardsley is under four year conviction for car theft.

He also understood, he said, that appeal of Odell McDonald, under 99 year sentence for murder of his grandmother in Martin County, will also be heard about the same date as the Beardsley case. McDonald has been held in the Martin County jail since his arrest the morning after his 83-year-old grandmother was found suffocated to death in June, 1964.

Another case on appeal which is being watched closely by the district attorney's office is that of Higinio Soto. Soto is under 25 year sentence for robbry by assault. He was convicted of an abortive holdup attempt to rob the Security State Bank. He took several hundred dollars after threatening a teller, but was apprehended a few minutes later. He is in the county jail here. Hearing on his appeal has been docketed by the appeals court for Nov. 10.

A fourth appeal now before the court is that brought by Daniel Rios, under conviction for murder with an automobile. He drew a five year sentence—maximum possible under the law. Transcript in this case has only recently been submitted to the court. Burns estimates this case will probably be set down for hearing in December.

MRS. GARRY W. GREEN

Beginning Cook Tells Trial, Error Process

By JO ANN PHINIZY

To be a tactician of foods takes a little doing, and Mrs. Gerry W. Green, 59-B Chanute, will be the first to say that the path to success is through trial and error.

Mrs. Green candidly admits that, until her marriage, cooking was not among her major concentrations. In fact, she said, until recently, her husband was "the best cook around and he still makes the best pizza pies in the block."

Now that she has begun a recipe collection, Mrs. Green considers it a very definite intrigue. She advises that the first requirement for a beginning cook is to have a congenial family that doesn't mind dining out on occasion.

In Mrs. Green's case the description includes her husband, Lt. Gerry Green, and seven-and-a-half-month-old Steven, who has just graduated into solid foods.

Mrs. Green also says that neocooks should expect a few slips and slides on the road to perfection. For instance, she notes that no one mentioned that glass casserole dishes really shouldn't be placed directly over the stove fire. The results of that disaster is a lesson that Mrs. Green believes she will always remember.

Then there was the time that Mrs. Green carefully selected five different meat loaf recipes for her week's evening menus. As things turned out, each meat loaf tasted, and looked, exactly the same. It was a while before Mrs. Green ventured into another ground meat recipe.

In experimenting with foreign dishes, Mrs. Green believes that Scandinavian meals take "every bit of all day." Hungarian foods were overruled as just not having the kind of flavor the Greens prefer.

However, there is an Italian soup that Mrs. Green says meets the approval of her family. It is made with browned meat balls, spinach, Parmesan cheese, beef stock and bread crumbs. Cook it all until tender, and it makes an ideal quick supper.

For shopping habits, Mrs. Green suggests following prearranged menus. "Unless," she said, "you are a better cook than you think you are."

When the evening calls for entertaining, the Greens advocate formal meals for small groups; for larger than six couples, buffet serving.

Mrs. Green, a native of Los Angeles, Calif., is a graduate nurse. As often as possible she does volunteer work at the Veterans Administration Hospital. She has also found time to be a Brownie Girl Scout leader in the Webb neighborhood.

As hobbies, the Greens are taking square dance lessons and plan to undertake the entanglements of bridge.

In selecting her recipes, Mrs. Green says they are ones she has found to be easy and quick to prepare. She says the Swedish Pancakes are "cotton candy" fluffy and make an ideal breakfast.

1½ tsps. sugar
¼ tsp. salt

Beat eggs lightly, add cream, and sift in flour, sugar, and salt. Beat smooth with rotary beater. Let stand at least two hours, or until batter thickens. Heat electric skillet to 375 degrees. Butter lightly.

Beat batter again. Use two tablespoons batter for each cake. Brown on both sides. Makes one dozen five inch pancakes.

SOUTHERN BURGERS

1 lb. ground beef
2 small onions, diced
3 tbsps. catsup
3 tbsps. prepared mustard
10½ oz. can chicken gumbo soup

Brown beef and onion in a little hot fat in skillet. Stir in catsup, mustard and soup. Simmer until mixture has thickened a little. Spoon over toasted split buns. Serves six.

PORK CHOP SPANISH RICE

5 pork chops, ½ inch thick
1½ tsps. salt
1 tsp. chili powder
1 tsp. monosodium glutamate
Dash pepper
¾ cup long-grain rice
½ cup chopped onion
¼ cup chopped green pepper
1 No. 2½ can whole tomatoes
Shredded sharp cheese

Trim excess fat from chops; heat two tablespoons salad oil in heavy skillet. Slowly brown chops in hot fat; drain off excess.

Combine seasonings; sprinkle over meat. Add rice, onion, and green pepper. Pour tomatoes over mixture. Cover and cook over low heat 35 to 40 minutes, stirring occasionally.

Sprinkle with cheese. Makes 5 servings.

POLKA-DOT MUFFINS

1 cup canned whole cranberries, chopped
¾ cup sugar
1 tsp. grated orange peel
1 beaten egg
½ cup orange juice
2 tbsps. salad oil
2 cups pkg. biscuit mix

Mix cranberries, ½ cup sugar, orange peel; set aside. Combine egg, ¼ cup sugar, orange juice, and salad oil. Add to biscuit mix, and stir just until moistened.

Fold in cranberries. Fill greased muffin pans 2-3 full. Bake in hot oven (400 degrees) 25 minutes or until done. Makes one dozen.

Ham Bone Hints

Leave a little meat on that ham bone when you are using it for lentil or split pea soup; after the soup is cooked, remove the meat from the bone, dice it and return the soup.

Expert Urges Proper Care In Food Handling

COLLEGE STATION — The quality of food homemakers serve can be no better than the quality of food they buy — but it can be a lot worse.

Proper handling and storage of foods is important, says Mrs. Gwen Clyatt, Texas A&M University Extension specialist in consumer marketing.

Potatoes need careful storage, and they keep best in a cool, dry, dark, well-ventilated place. If put in a warm place, potatoes shrivel and sprout. In a cold place, the starch in potatoes changes to sugar.

Citrus fruits, melons and pineapples actually have better keeping quality when kept out of the refrigerator, at a room temperature of 60 to 70 degrees Fahrenheit.

It's advisable to refrigerate eggs in the original container or some other covered container because uncovered eggs lose moisture through their porous shells.

Shalad dressings should be kept in the refrigerator unless they're used within a few days.

Even jellies, jams and peanut butter — once opened — keep best in the refrigerator.

There's little or no danger of food becoming unsafe to eat when it is kept in a refrigerator with a temperature of 42 degrees Fahrenheit or below, because food-poisoning bacteria can't grow at these temperatures.

September Is Month Of Oysters

It's the month of September — one of the months with an "R."

This means, according to legend, that it's one of the months for oyster eating. Of course these days, we have excellent oysters every month of the year.

You'll find an abundance of oysters and other seafood this September. Whether you prefer your oysters raw on the half shell or cooked in one of the many interesting ways oysters can be prepared, you're sure to enjoy their fine flavor.

No one knows for sure just how long oysters have been eaten. In Europe this delicacy has been a luxury since ancient times. The Greeks and Romans often served oysters at their banquets.

The first settlers in America were especially impressed by the great quantities, large size and excellence of the oysters they found along the coastline and in the bays.

Even before the white man arrived, the Indians consumed large quantities of this delicious shellfish. Oysters are still a favorite dish in the United States. They grow naturally or are cultivated in the waters of every seaboard state except Maine and New Hampshire.

Oysters can be used to make a delicious stuffing for turkey, one of the foods designated especially plentiful this month by the Consumer and Marketing Service.

Oysters are included in meals because of their nutritive value as well as for their flavor. An average serving of 6 oysters will supply more than the daily allowance of iron and copper, about one-half the iodine and about one-tenth of the needed protein, calcium, magnesium, phosphorus, vitamin A, thiamine, riboflavin and niacin.

Fish Turnovers

Small-size pastry turnovers made with cheese or fish make an excellent hors d'oeuvre. They may be prepared ahead, wrapped appropriately and stored in refrigerator or freezer. When you take the turnovers out of their storage place, put them on foil and heat in a moderate oven.

Morning Coffee Becomes Special

Surprise your friends who drop in for morning coffee with this treat.

CASHEW NUT TARTS

2 cups homemade pastry mix
2 to 4 tbsps. cold water
2 eggs, slightly beaten
1 cup salted cashew nuts
2-3 cup sugar
½ cup flaked coconut
½ cup light corn syrup
3 tbsps. butter or margarine, melted
½ tsp. vanilla

Measure homemade pastry mix into bowl. Sprinkle with water, mixing lightly until dough begins to stick together. Turn out on lightly floured board or pastry cloth and press dough together. Divide dough in half. Roll each half to ⅛-inch thickness.

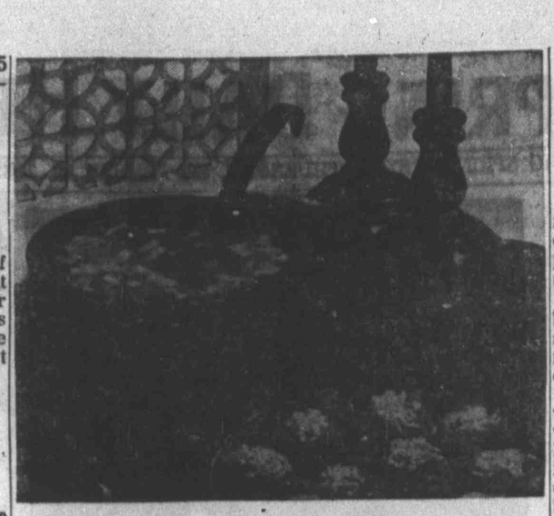

Cut into circles, place in tart pans and press to sides of pan. Trim off excess dough. Mix together the remaining ingredients.

Fill tart shells ¾ full. Place on baking sheet. Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven 45 to 50 minutes or until browned. Makes eight 3½-inch tarts.

NOTE: If you do not have homemade pastry on hand, use enough regular rich pie dough for a 9-inch pie and follow directions above for rolling, cutting, filling and baking.

Small Cream Puffs

If you want a savory filling for miniature cream puffs to be served as an appetizer, you can use blue cheese mixed with cream cheese and a little sherry.

SUNDAY EVENING
For guests who stay late

Tureen Of Hot Soup Aids Weather Chills

Have you ever thought of welcoming friends who have dropped in on a Sunday evening to a surprise late supper of soup? A tureen of hot soup is one of the most gracious ways to end an evening warm with friendship.

Besides being chill - chasing and company - complimenting, soup is the easiest thing in the world to prepare. Canned condensed soups do all the work. All that's required of you is an imaginative extra touch to make the dish your "own." Just take your choice of expertly seasoned and extra flavorful soups for the base. With a pinch of herb, a bit of celery for crunch, any number of interesting variations can be made in a minute.

Served in a handsome tureen, the only accompaniment need be crackers . . . but, here again, make the crackers something special, too. Next time, guests stay late and the thoughts of food come to mind, plan to serve this Herbed Chicken Vegetable Soup with a platter of Deviled Ham and Nut Rounds.

HERBED CHICKEN VEGETABLE SOUP

¼ cup chopped onion
Generous dash crushed thyme
1 tbsp. butter or margarine
1 can (10¾ ozs.) condensed chicken vegetable soup
1 soup can water

In saucepan, cook celery, onion, and thyme in butter until celery is tender. Add soup and water. Heat. Makes 2 to 3 servings.

DEVILED HAM AND NUT ROUNDS

1 can (2¼ ozs.) deviled ham
1 tbsp. finely chopped walnuts
9 round crackers
Sieved egg yolk

Blend deviled ham and walnuts. Spread on crackers; garnish with egg yolk.

Plump Pork Links Best In Water

Pork sausage links are tastiest when cooked so they're plump and juicy. That's why you add 2 to 3 tablespoons of cold water to the frying-pan with the links, cover tightly and simmer for about 10 minutes. Remove the cover and brown the sausage slowly.

This not only cooks the meat thoroughly but gives it a plump appearance.

Dry Milk Has Uses

If you're an average homemaker, you probably find evaporated milk takes an important position on your pantry shelf.

Its many uses are enhanced by the fact that it has been sealed in cans, sterilized and needs no refrigeration until after the can is opened.

Evaporated milk is actually whole milk with over half the water removed, says the U.S. Department of Agriculture. It's ideal for camping and other outdoor trips, as well as for home use.

All the many dairy products are especially plentiful this month, reports USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service, so it's an ideal time to stock up on evaporated milk.

Quick saucery is easy with evaporated milk. As it pours from the can, add cheese and heat for a cheese sauce for casseroles, vegetables and dips. Add chocolate and heat for a smooth dessert sauce. Blend with fruit juice such as orange or lemon for a creamy sauce and salad dressing.

Binding ingredients is easy with evaporated milk. It keeps meat loaves, fish patties and the like moist and light during baking, yet firm enough for perfect slicing.

SKILLET MEAL
It's really very simple

Frying Pan Is Ideal For Delicious Steaks

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Kitchenette cooks can provide the best steaks ever. No broiler needed. All that's necessary by way of equipment is a heavy skillet.

This way of cooking steak in a frying pan was popular among old-fashioned cooks. Then the method fell into disrepute because the steak was usually done to death and tough. Now knowing cooks are frying steak so it is both crisply brown and tender. Want to try a good modern method?

Provide yourself with a couple of club steaks cut ½ to ¾ inch thick. Peel and slice thin a medium-sized onion; separate into rings. Drain a 3-ounce can of sliced broiled mushrooms. Just before you are ready to serve, heat a tablespoon or so of butter in a medium-sized heavy skillet. Add the onions and drained mushrooms; cook gently, stirring occasionally, until the onions are a mouth-watering golden color and their flavor has combined with that of the mushrooms. Add salt and freshly ground pepper to taste. Remove the onions and mushrooms from the skillet and keep in a warm place.

Wipe out the skillet with a paper towel and reheat—the pan must be burning hot to keep the meat from sticking. Now add the steaks. Brown rapidly on one side; turn and brown on the other. The meat should be pink in the center—if it is not done enough to suit your taste, reduce the heat and continue cooking.

Sprinkle the steaks with salt and freshly ground pepper, add the onions and mushrooms and serve at once to two lucky eaters.

Thrifty Tips For Meat Purchases

Here's a thrifty way to buy beef, suggested by the meat specialists of the Consumer and Marketing Service — the USDA agency handling both meat inspection and grading.

Check the prices of the beef-arm. This is a thick, round-bone pot roast, which is part of the chuck or shoulder. It is usually a very economical cut of beef.

Buy a 4 or 5 pound arm roast. With a little bit of kitchen surgery, you can cut portions for three meals. Cut the roast in thirds. Slices from one portion make good Swiss steak. The center portion with bone in is the pot roast. The remaining portion can be cut into cubes for stew.

Long, slow cooking is necessary for a beautifully browned, juicy pot roast. Coat the meat with flour to brown. Cook slowly; pour off drippings, then season. Add a small amount of liquid and simmer. Do not boil. Cook for 3 to 4 hours.

For variety, give your pot roast some glamour treatment. Try this next recipe with the center-of-arm cut of any beef pot roast.

Calypso Pot Roast calls for 3 to 4 pounds of beef-arm or blade pot roast, 3 tablespoons flour, 3 teaspoons salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, 3 tablespoons drippings or lard, 1 can or 1 pound of tomatoes, 1 medium onion sliced, ½ teaspoon ginger, 1 clove garlic, minced.

Dredge meat in flour, brown in drippings or lard. Pour off drippings. Season meat with salt and pepper. Add tomatoes, onions, ginger and garlic. Cover tightly and simmer 3½ to 4 hours or until tender. Thicken liquid for gravy if desired. Serves 6 to 8.

Okra Wins First Place For Meals

Fresh, tender okra — fried, boiled, or cooked in a gumbo — is one of the joys of living, in many households of the Southland.

"Gumbo," as okra often is fondly called, is the kind of food you have to learn to enjoy. But once you acquire a taste for it, no spring season is complete without having it often, okra enthusiasts say.

And the number of Okra enthusiasts is increasing, not only in the South but throughout the nation. That trend has stimulated demand for frozen okra and, also, a request from commercial producers that the Department of Agriculture's Consumer and Marketing Service establish grade standards for okra that will be processed. The proposed standards would encourage growers to deliver high-quality okra to processing plants.

Total amount of okra produced each year is difficult to determine because so much of it comes from local gardens. But USDA estimates production for processing at 20,000 tons, in the commercial fields of Arkansas, Texas, Louisiana, Tennessee, Georgia and Florida, the leading okra states.

Right now, though, it's time to enjoy fresh okra. C&MS says okra is one of the many fresh vegetables on the list of plentiful foods.

Fried Okra is a choice way to introduce this vegetable to menus. You'll need 2 quarts of young okra, 4 tablespoons fat, and salt to taste. Wash the okra, dry thoroughly and cut crosswise in pieces about ½-inch thick. Heat the frying pan, add the okra, cover, and cook 10 minutes. Stir frequently to prevent scorching. Remove the cover, continue to cook until okra is tender, and brown lightly. Serve and enjoy at once.

Quick Pie Shell

Quick pie: make up a pastry shell from a packaged mix and bake. Fill with packaged vanilla pudding and chill. Just before serving, garnish with sliced fluted bananas and grated semi-sweet chocolate.

PANTRY PICK-UPS

Use raisin bread for making cinnamon toast when your youngsters want a special after-school treat.

* * *

Poaching eggs? Drop them into simmering rather than boiling water and cover the pan for the brief period it takes the eggs to set.

* * *

When you are trimming the fat from ham that is to be baked, leave on enough fat to have a layer about one-quarter inch thick. This way you can score the fat without cutting into the meat.

* * *

Boneless smoked shoulder butt looks very festive indeed if it is sliced in the kitchen, arranged on a platter and surrounded with spiced crabapples nestling in sprigs of parsley.

* * *

Whip cream cheese and spread it over the bottom of a baked graham cracker crust. Stud the cheese with strawberries and glaze with melted currant jelly.

* * *

Like garlic flavor? Add a clove of peeled garlic, cut in half, to a jar of not-too-sweet pickles; cover tightly and allow to stand overnight.

Briton Asks Peace Talks

BLACKPOOL, England (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson said today he is ready to fly anywhere — to Moscow, Peking or any other place — for talks with Soviet and Red Chinese leaders to end the Viet Nam war.

In a defense of his pro-American stand over Niet Nam, Wilson told the annual convention of his Labor party that his government remains ready to do anything required of it in the quest for peace.

MEET KOSYGIN

Specifically, he said he was prepared to meet with Premier Alexei N. Kosygin of Russia or Premier Chou En-lai of China if they were willing to talk peace with him.

Foreign Secretary Michael Stewart told the convention that he wants Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko to join him in calling the Gena conference on Viet Nam back into session.

RAPS LEFTISTS

Wilson assailed some British leftwingers campaigning for a Viet Nam settlement who placed all their emphasis on demands for the Americans alone to stop military operations.

"Peace in Viet Nam is what we want," Wilson said "but what they (Communists) want is victory in Viet Nam."

The prime minister said there will be a victory for no one in Viet Nam. He advised those campaigners who criticize British peace efforts to "take their banners to the Chinese embassy."

DEAR ABBY

Guilty Conscience

DEAR ABBY: I'm a sailor aboard the USS MIDWAY. I left my fiancee back in the states and we plan to get married as soon as I hit home port in San Francisco. Since our ship left the states I did my best to be true to my girl. However, after 40 days at sea we got liberty in Japan. I went on the town, had a couple of beers and "sinned" a little. (A whole lot, I think, would be more truthful).

I didn't think much of it until the guys I work with told me that I talk in my sleep, and very plainly! (Like I just come right out in plain language and tell everything.) Now I didn't intend telling my fiancee, either before or after we marry, about this little episode in Japan, but what do I do if I admit something in my sleep and my wife hears me? CVA 41

DEAR CVA.: Don't build a snow fence until the snow hits. And if it does, don't give out with a snow job.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have been married for two years. This is his first marriage and my second. I have a 12-year-old son who lives with his father out of the state. My present husband knew I had been married before, and he even met my son before we were engaged. He seemed to like the boy very much in the beginning, but now I can't even keep his picture in the house. I am expecting a baby next month and my husband keeps telling me that all my interests should revolve around OUR baby, and no other children. (Meaning my son.) Naturally, I'll love our new baby but, Abby, do you think it's fair to be expected to forget a child you have had and loved for a dozen years? My husband acts embarrassed if I even mention my son to anyone. He doesn't even want people to know I have been married before. Please answer soon. I need your support.

CAN'T FORGET MY SON

DEAR CAN'T: No normal mother could be expected to "forget" her child. You are married to an immature and insecure man. He needs to be straightened out, or your children will grow up before he does.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: A few nights ago I had dinner at a restaurant adjacent to a bowling alley. It was close to midnight. At the first table I noticed a young couple with a little boy who couldn't have been more than three years old. The child was wandering around aimlessly in a sleepy stupor. I remarked to one of the employes about this child being up so late and, to my horror, he told me that this couple bring the child in several nights a week and they stay until all hours.

What selfish, unfit parents are! To whom can I report such parents? I hope you will print this because the woman is obviously pregnant and pretty soon there are likely to be two little ones growing up in a bowling alley. SAN MATEO

DEAR SAN MATEO: You can report this couple to the San Mateo Family Service Association. This is right up their alley.

Nixon Has Plan 'To Help LBJ'

LAKE PLACID, N.Y. (AP)—Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon suggests that the way to help President Johnson carry out his Viet Nam policies is to elect more Republicans to Congress.

The bidding:

East	South	West	North
Pass	1 NT	Pass	3 NT
Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead: Jack of ♠

An unusual ducking play by a defender led to the upset of South's three no trump contract.

West decided that, with a virtually worthless holding, there was little future in attempting to establish one of his suits and, in an effort to make a play for his partner, he opened the jack of spades. Declarer ducked the trick in both hands and West continued with the ten. North was in with the king of spades.

South had seven top tricks—two spades, three diamonds, and two clubs. The best hope for developing additional tricks appeared to rest with the heart suit. Declarer therefore crossed over to his hand with the ace of diamonds and led a small heart. West followed with the nine and the queen was played from dummy.

East had been doing some thinking by this time, and he realized that, if his ace of hearts was dislodged too soon, he would be unable to regain the lead when his spade suit became established. It was essential to get his partner in first to drive out declarer's remaining spade stopper.

When the queen of hearts was played, East followed suit smoothly with the deuce. A heart was returned and, when East played low once more, declarer put in the eight—hoping to dislodge the ace. West won the trick with the jack and returned the nine of spades to clear that suit.

South was unable to develop a ninth trick without driving out the ace of hearts, and East proceeded to cash the setting tricks with his established spades as soon as he got in.

While declarer could have made the contract by going up with the king of hearts when that suit was led from dummy—a peek would have been necessary to alert him to the actual distribution—and he can hardly be criticized for his choice.

If East covers North's queen of hearts with the ace, declarer can develop two heart tricks with impunity even if he misguesses the location of the jack of hearts for, by the time West gets in, he has no more spades and is unable to reach his partner.

Dahomey Economy Due New Blow

COTONOU, Dahomey (AP) — Dahomey's soldiers and civil servants take a 25 per cent pay cut this month.

That is expected to depress this country's already threadbare economy. It may not be enough to avoid payless paydays before year's end. Two-thirds of the national budget was needed last year to meet the civil service payroll.

Dahomey is a sweltering West African nation about the size of Pennsylvania. Its two million people occupy a slim sliver of land — 415 miles long and about 75 miles wide — between Nigeria and Togo.

FRENCH HANDOUTS

The French granted Dahomey sovereignty in 1960. Only continued handouts from Paris keep the country financially alive. It is the only ex-French colony in Africa which still gets direct budget support.

Dahomey has all the financial woes of other undeveloped states and lacks the resources which some possess.

Union Oil Co. of California searched for offshore petroleum here earlier this year but has not reported on its findings. Dahomey officials talk wistfully of what a major oil strike would mean.

INADEQUATE EXPORTS

If there is no oil, the country will continue to depend on inadequate exports of palm oil, coffee and peanuts. Half a dozen other West African countries produce the same things. Dahomey has never had a favorable trade balance.

Brains were once the nation's best export.

Portuguese and French missionaries penetrated Dahomey before most other African lands to set up schools. Dahomey provided thousands of civil servants for France's other African territories.

As these nations became independent, they ousted Dahomeyans to give the jobs to their own citizens. About 11,000 were sent home from the Ivory Coast alone.

GROW BITTER

Expelled civil servants bitterly refer to themselves as "the Jews of Africa."

Vice President Justin Ahomadegbye, who under the constitution actually heads the government, touched on this in a recent speech. He urged his countrymen "to tackle our present dramatic financial situation with the energy of despair — with that same energy that the Jews used to make out of a desert and a Dead Sea a country which today excites the imagination of the whole world."

Ahomadegbye and President Sourou Migan Apithy came to power after a revolt which overthrew President Hubert Maga in 1963.

FRENCH DOMINATE

Banking and commerce in Dahomney are dominated by 2,000 French residents. No native entrepreneurs have risen as they have in former British colonies.

French and European Economic Community experts are working up a five-year plan to try to make Dahomney self-sufficient. Their task does not appear promising.

U.S. economic aid is about $1 million annually. It is mostly agricultural assistance including advice on growing cashew nuts.

New Airport Plan Stirs Texas Town

GRAPEVINE, Tex. (AP) — Citizens of Grapevine look with mixed emotions upon the announcement that the Dallas-Fort Worth regional airport is to border this North Texas town of 5,000 population.

There is excitement over the boost the new airport will give business and land values. There is cautious concern over the many new problems it will create for government, schools and some residents.

LAND SALES

The announcement last weekend already has brought a real estate boom.

Bill Reed, the third generation of his family in the real estate business, said he has sold a quarter million dollars worth of real estate since Sunday—more than a month's normal sales—"and we're still negotiating on eight times that much."

The initial interest, he said, has been in potential industrial property. "We've had a lot of investment buying, a lot of speculation."

ATOM SMASHER?

Mayor Ira Woods believes the regional airport will enhance the area's chances of obtaining the new super atom smasher the federal government plans to build.

He says there is an ideal site for the proposed laboratory between Grapevine and Lewisville lakes with ready access to water and close to major universities in Denton, Dallas and Fort Worth.

Mayor Woods also fears that the airport plan doesn't leave Grapevine enough room to grow.

"If they'll pull back about a mile and give us room for planning, we think we could use this area to greater advantage than they can for the airport," Woods said.

Grapevine has doubled its population since 1960 and its leaders have been making plans to handle another boom expected by 1970.

Mrs. Kuehler Dies Of Leukemia

Funeral rites were to be held at 1:30 p.m. today for Mrs. Rudolph E. Kuehler, 20, of 205 Kindle Road, who died Monday in a Houston hospital from leukemia.

Mrs. Kuehler, who was the former Linda Mylenki, had been under treatment for several months at M. D. Anderson Hospital.

She is the wife of 2nd Lt. Keuhler, a member of class 66-D at Webb AFB and a former resident of Prospect Park, N.J.

Services were to be conducted at the Wyckoff Baptist Church in Patterson, N. J., and burial was to be in the Laurel Grove Memorial Park. Arrangements were directed by Vermeulen Memorial Funeral Home, 530 High Mountain Road, Franklin Lakes, N. J.

Abilene Gets Zoo Elephant

DALLAS (AP) — Two baby elephants bound for Texas zoos neared the end of a long journey from Africa today.

They arrived in Dallas at 6 a.m. aboard an airliner from New York.

Handlers loaded one aboard a city truck from Abilene, where it will be the first elephant in that city's zoo. The other headed for the Fort Worth zoo.

The animals sailed Sept. 6 aboard the Dutch freighter Merwe Lloyd from Kenya. They were among a $500,000 consignment of African wild life captured by Don Hunt, a Kenya trapper, and shipped to various zoos in this country.

HAVE "ESCORT"

Hunt accompanied the animals, including giraffes and rhinoceroses, as far as New York.

Abilene zookeeper Walter Kuenzli was here to receive the elephant along with Raymond Marsh, who will become its permanent handler.

Although somebody started calling the creature Gertrude, Kuenzli said it actually won't be named until a contest is completed in Abilene.

4 FEET TALL

Slightly less than three years old, the elephant is 4½ feet tall and weighs about 1,000 pounds. At the mature age of 20 it is expected to be 10 feet high and weigh two to three tons.

The Abilene Republican Women's Club raised $4,750 to buy the elephant.

Farm Roadside Markets Urged

WASHINGTON (AP) — America on wheels offers the resourceful farmer big opportunities to become the retailer of many of his products — especially if he has an imaginative wife.

So says the government in suggesting that producers look into the opportunity of supplementing incomes by farm roadside markets.

"Never before in history has the opportunity been so great for roadside markets to sell to the mobile American shopper," says a manual prepared by the University of Delaware's Food Business Institute in cooperation with the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Extension Service.

"For the resourceful farmers who adopt business-like management techniques and merchandise their products skillfully, the profitmaking potential of roadside marketing has never been more promising," it adds.

The manual is based in part on surveys of farmers in 45 states, Canada and Puerto Rico who have been engaging in such enterprises. In addition, it supplies many valuable pointers on how to establish, operate and manage such a sideline business.

It seems that most of those who have succeeded agree that they owe much to their wives.

The manual puts it this way: "Successful operators attribute much of their success to the ingenuity and ability of their wives. The wife is the backbone of the business. Frequently she is the bookkeeper, advertiser, public relations agent and sales clerk all in one."

The stimulus for the preparation of the manual — with its 118 pages of do's and don'ts for those giving thought to roadside stands — came from hundreds of requests for guidance from farmers from all parts of the country.

Previously, there has been no other comprehensive reference book of national scope to which roadside marketers could turn for assistance as operating problems arise.

The manual supplies helpful information regarding the selection of sites for such markets. Such factors as rate of traffic, highway speed, hills and curves, distance from the road, parking space, density of area population, laws, regulations and ordinances and licensing are outlined.

It relates how many market operators employ honor systems under which the buyer waits on himself and leaves his money for the food bought. Many are resorting to vending machines.

The manual says a roadside market is easy to start, requires a small capital outlay and limited risk, provides self-proprietorship and family employment, supplies additional income from farm operations, offers an outlet for surplus production, provides an opportunity to live on the farm and gives time off during the winter season.

Attendance Rules Reported Eased

CARLISLE, Pa. (AP) — Dickinson College, a Methodist affiliated school, says attendance at chapel and assembly is no longer compulsory.

Officials at the school said that Tuesday chapel and Thursday assembly were replaced with a Sunday worship service and evening lecture series integrated with the academic program. Attendance at the Sunday service and lectures is voluntary.

Autumn Here: Heating Oil Price Raised

NEW YORK (AP) — The signs of fall are coming thick and fast this year. Even if you didn't set foot out of doors you couldn't miss them.

An oil company has raised the price of heating oil in the Northeast. That makes autumn almost as official as did the equinox.

The stock market, having achieved its traditional summer rally, is now turning its eyes toward the other dear legend — the yearend rally. And chartists of stock price trends can even show you the historical ups and downs of autumn.

But as usual this time of year, even the stock market has to set almost hourly records if it wants to compete for the attention with the race for the baseball pennant. And the biggest folk rite of all, the World Series, is just ahead. There's plenty of business involved — especially for the merchants and hotel keepers in the lucky host cities.

NEW CARS

New car models are popping up all over. And so is the annual debate as to how the new prices actually compare with those on last year's models. As ever, there's the factor of changes — or improvements, to use the company jargon — and how much these affect cost.

And this fall there's additional confusion from making standard some safety features which last year's buyer had the choice of ignoring or ordering at an extra charge. This year the cost of the devices is imbedded in the official price lists on the new models. Also there's a cut in excise taxes to reckon with — last year Uncle Sam was in the list price for a 10 per cent tax; this year for 7 per cent.

WEATHER WATCHED

The weather is particularly in the business and consumer news at this turn of the seasons. It's the time for hurricanes. The first snows tie up traffic in ever widening parts of the land. Farmers and supermarket patrons compute the size of the harvest — and the trend of food prices.

Affluent Americans switch attention from summer resorts to winter resorts. Whole communities and transportation systems feel the change in the season — a nip in the northern air, a zip in the southern.

This is the time of year when Congress talks more and more about adjourning — and about which bills to rush through first, which to shelve for another session. Business and taxpayer hopes are tied to some of the decisions.

And each year at this time the money masters gather for their annual look-see at how the international monetary system is working — and how more funds can be channeled to lands hungry for investment dollars without upsetting the financial stability or growth of the luckier ones. This fall the money managers have decided to turn the question of reform over to a group of 10 leading financial nations for debate and a report next spring.

Fun-O-Rama Crowds Gain

Reports from the Fun-O-Rama were heard Wednesday at the Downtown Lions Club, sponsor of the carnival - type show which continues through Saturday night.

The opening show Monday evening was somewhat slower than normal due to the competition from the Shrine Circus on that evening, but since then traffic has steadily increased at the College Park Shopping Center grounds, said Frosty Robison, president.

Twenty organizations are operating a variety of booths and concessions in addition to the assortment of rides in which the Lions share.

George Archer announced his schedule of ticket sellers for the remainder of the week, and Rex Hopkins urged all other members to report at the grounds at 1:30 p.m. Monday to dismantle and store the equipment.

Cuban Refugees Get College Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Office of Education says about 3,000 Cuban refugees will attend 282 U.S. colleges and universities during the fall semester with the aid of federal loans.

Easy-Dial Phone System Planned

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — Thailand will have an easy-dial nationwide telephone system within two years because of a $6-million loan from West Germany, a Thai official says.

Viet Nam: Old Tiger Paw Land

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—What's it like, this land where nearly 13,000 American military men now find themselves?

Some of it is unbelievably lovely.

The mountains in the west, sweeping toward the border of Laos, rise to 7,000 feet and are as dark green and deeply forested as the Canadian Rockies in summer.

The coastal plains on the east, all the way from the 17th Parallel at the border of North Viet Nam, south almost to Saigon, run down to jewel-like bays as beautiful as any in the Caribbean. These abound in broad, empty beaches that would tempt the imagination of a master builder.

WILD ANIMALS

In between, almost at the dead center of Viet Nam, lies elephant country, wide expanses of flat plains tufted with tall grass. Just to the north of that is tiger country, deep jungles where in the days before there was a war hunters used to come to hang on their belts the most prized of all trophies: a tiger paw.

South is the Mekong River delta. Broad muddy rivers running down to the South China Sea in countless rivulets and irrigating a land lush enough in peacetime to feed much of Southeast Asia. The delta occupies one fourth of Viet Nam's land area and is home to two-thirds of its population.

INSCRUTABLE EAST

Here indeed is the inscrutable East of the tourist posters. Flooded rice paddies mirror the merciless noonday sun. Teeming grass-hut villages sit on the banks of swift-running estuaries. Thunderheads pile up the afternoon monsoon in a vast brooding sky. Water buffaloes pull ancient plows. Sampans and junks in an endless proliferation swim the muddy canals. Dense mangrove swamps swarm with lizards and snakes. Women in coolie hats carry enormous loads at each end of a shoulder pole.

Road Beauty Bill Faces New Snag

WASHINGTON (AP) — The administration's highway beauty bill, which has taken some ugly knocks in its travels through the House, faces new trouble today.

The bill, in which Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson has shown great interest, is caught in as pretty a fight as the Rules Committee has seen all year.

Even the staunchest administration supporters on the committee found little good in the bill Wednesday and if they vote the way they talk, it will never be cleared for floor action. A vote could come today but no action has been definitely set.

SENATE PASSED

The bill already has been passed by the Senate. Outside of commercial areas, it would require the removal of all billboards within 660 feet of the major highways of the nation. Junkyards within 1,000 feet of main roads would also have to be moved unless they can be screened from the motorists' view.

Complaints against the measure at Wednesday's session covered both its content and the manner in which it was moved through the Public Works Committee. Republicans charged the White House used force to get it through a reluctant committee.

"FOR LADY BIRD"

Rep. H. Allen Smith, R-Calif., who said he had read reports that the President "wanted the bill for Lady Bird," asked Rep. Ed Edmondson, D-Okla., what was the big hurry to get the bill through this late in the session.

"There is a feeling we have delayed too long," said Edmondson.

Reps. Ray J. Madden, D-Ind., James J. Delaney, D-N.Y., and Thomas P. O'Neill Jr., D-Mass., all of whose votes will be needed to clear the bill for floor action in the closely divided Rules Committee, showed no sympathy for it.

Search Fails To Find Boat Pair

PORT ISABEL (AP) — The Coast Guard said today a search has failed to locate two shrimp boat crewmen missing since their boat went aground Sunday night. They are Capt. Baldomero Esqueda and Jose Ramirez.

They were aboard the St. Joseph, one of three boats driven ashore in a storm Sunday night. Crewmen of the trawlers Capt. Cricket and Capt. Royal were rescued safely.

Cycle, Taxi Crash Fatal

PARIS (AP) — William Dan Latimer II, 25, of Mount Pleasant, Tex., was killed Wednesday when his motorcycle and a taxi collided near the southern edge of Paris.

The taxi driver and a passenger were hurt. Latimer died of head and chest injuries.

Latimer was a medical student.

Revenues Running Ahead But Deliveries Are Down

Revenues for the Colorado River Municipal Water District continue to run slightly ahead of last year although water deliveries are down.

This is due principally to the addition last year of the Perkins-Prothro unit to the Sun Oil repressuring contract.

The August revenue fund statement of the district shows $255,650 received making $1,818,858 for the year. The first eight months of 1964 yielded $1,786,942. The $154,095 for water to member cities was down by $4,400 from August of 1964, and the revenue from this source for eight months is $69,000 under a year ago. On the other hand, sales to oil companies are up by $95,000. Recreation revenues of $38,268 for the eight months are nearly $8,000 under last year, reflecting the lower level of Lake J. B. Thomas.

Operating expenses for August stood at $78,650, making $537,806 through August. This is $33,000 less than a year ago. The $1,281,052 excess of revenues over operating expenses goes to the debt retirement fund.

During August the member cities paid for 1,190,797,000 gallons (water actually delivered in July), and the total output was 1,510,204,000 gallons for all sources. The total for the year is 7,443,553,000 gallons, or 404,000,000 under the same period for 1964.

The August statement showed that 1,195,312,000 gallons was produced from Lake J. B. Thomas, 156,388,000 from city wells and 158,504,000 from the Martin County well field.

Co-Op Mailing Out Refunds

STANTON—Cap Rock Electric Cooperative is mailing out checks totalling $207,390 in capital credit refunds to 3,850 of its patrons today. The persons to whom the checks go received electric service from the cooperative in 1958.

This is the ninth year that payments of this nature have been made by the cooperative. Jim Eiland, spokesman for the company, said the grand total in refunds thus made is $1,044,000. The refunds are money paid in for service which, after all expenses and other allowances are considered for the year in question, is refundable to the patrons.

Eiland explained that the regulations under which the Co-Op operates makes it essential that such refunds be several years behind at all times.

Colorado Quakes Jar Denver Area

DENVER, Colo. (AP)—Three earthquakes in less than a month have jolted the Denver area.

The latest Wednesday brought scattered reports of cracked plaster, broken dishes and broken windows. It was felt in Boulder 30 miles to the northwest.
