County Tax Rate Cut To 72 Cents By Commission

THREE-CENT CUT GIVEN RATE; CONDITION OF FUNDS EXCELLENT

Heralding a saving to taxpayers of approximately $7,546.80 for the present year, the Lubbock county commissioners' court, in meeting this morning, reduced the tax rate of the county from 75 to 72 cents on the $100 valuation, effective immediately.

This action was allowed, according to the commissioners, due to the fact that outstanding indebtedness of the county has been materially reduced, valuations of the county have increased and economical administration of the county's funds has been practiced by the court. Present valuation of the county is $25,150,000.

No New Debts Made
It was revealed that the county has contracted no new debts in the past three years while many old ones have been reduced or wholly obliterated. All county road machinery, valued at about $70,000, has been paid for. Included in this machinery are new elevating graders for each precinct. There are 11 tractors and 15 graders in the equipment.

Tax rate of Lubbock county for the past ten years is listed as follows: 1920, 65 cents; 1921, 65; 1922, 65; 1923, 65; 1924, 65; 1925, 65; 1926, 65; 1927, 65; 1928, 65; 1929, 75; and 1930, 72. The average valuation of the county is only 62 cents but another ten cents is added for bond rate.

A statement made this morning at the meeting by J. Y. Boyd, county auditor, showed funds in the county treasury amounting to a total of $474,611.38. These funds are divided as follows:

General, $12,913.03; July, $23,214.87; C. & J., $36,914.65; R. & B. proper, $23,555.94; R. & B. No. 1, $21,986.71; R. & B. No. 2, $18,320.50; R. & B. No. 3, $12,746.84; R. & B. No. 4, $15,871.64; R. & B. DEFENDS PLAN

Ross Sterling, below, of Houston, today defended his state-wide highway bond issue plan in a political address in the interest of his candidacy for the governorship of Texas in the district court room here. Mr. Sterling is chairman of the state highway commission.

STERLING IS SILENT ABOUT ROAD MATTERS

HIGHWAY CHAIRMAN IS HERE ON POLITICAL WORK ENTIRELY

Arriving in Lubbock this morning shortly after 7 o'clock, Ross Sterling, candidate for governor, received newspapermen in his suite at Hotel Lubbock but was reluctant to talk when questioned regarding subjects other than issues of the present campaign. Mr. Sterling spoke at the county court house at 11 o'clock in the interest of his candidacy.

Mr. Sterling emphatically refused to discuss the question of a state designated road from Lubbock to Ector county, via Brownfield, Seminole and Seagraves. "I must refuse to talk of anything of local interest while engaged in the present campaign for governor," he stated.

"The road question would come under the head of official business of the highway department and I am not engaged in that capacity just at this time. I will not make any statements which might be regarded as promises or half-promises."

Local leaders have been engaged in efforts to obtain a state designation for the proposed route for the past two or three years but have been unable to get action on the proposal. It is understood that the State Highway commission has discontinued making new designations for the reason that funds are not sufficient to care for all that have already been made.

Arguments as presented by this area, however, indicate that while the more thickly populated counties of the State in many instances have several designations through their territory, the proposed route would be the only State highway in the mentioned counties.

When questioned this morning the candidate would give little in the way of encouragement for the route, preferring to discuss the issues of the campaign in which he is engaged.

Mother Of Elsie Janies Dies Sunday

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., July 14.—Mrs. Janis E. Bierbower, 50, mother of Elsie Janis, the actress, died yesterday. Throughout her daughter's stage career, which began with child stardom in her home town of Columbus, O., Mrs. Bierbower was her constant companion.

Messages from other persons long dead and gone. The medium claimed that each of these five stood behind her chair and pushed her. She said one was a woman suffragist who several years ago threw herself under one of King George's horses. Persons in the audience claimed to recognize and identify each message.

The medium walked across the platform to Lady Doyle and said: "I have a message from Sir Arthur. Sir Arthur told me that one of you went into the hut (a building on the Doyle estate at Windlesham, Sussex, where he was buried Friday) this morning. Is that correct?" "Why yes," Lady Doyle answered, "I did."

"The message," continued the medium, "is this: 'Tell Mary—' At this point the pealing of a pipe organ drowned out her

Sterling Defends Bond Plan Here Today

HOUSTONIAN SAYS TEXAS NEEDS CHANGE

BUSINESS REIGN GIVEN AS ONLY SOLUTION TO PROBLEM

"A business administration of Texas government to meet the demands of a growing state, by a successful business man," was offered by Ross Sterling of Houston, chairman of the state highway commission, in an address here this morning in behalf of his candidacy for governor.

The candidate spoke before an assembly of between 200 and 350 men and women in the district court room on the third floor of the court house.

Made His Plan Issue
Declaring that his opponents had made the so-called Sterling plan of state road financing the issue of the campaign by their massed assaults upon it before he entered the race, Mr. Sterling devoted much of his speech to a vigorous presentation of this matter. He said the program would relieve the counties of further necessity of contributing toward the cost of state highways, and the state would build them in future by means of a state bond issue, to be paid off by the gasoline tax.

He emphasized the program's provision for reimbursement of counties for the $75,000,000 to $100,000,000 they have spent on state highway construction in federal aid. With this refund money, he explained, the counties could reduce their road taxes considerably by retiring outstanding bonds or, else, improve their lateral roads.

Commission At Work
"Finding the highway department in the worst mess imaginable after the Ferguson administration," he went on, "the present commission during the past three and a half years has completely rehabilitated the organization, and has built more highways probably than all previous administrations combined. This has been the hardest job of my life, but it is a labor of love, and I am proud of its accomplishments for the people of Texas."

He gave the major credit for these achievements to the two other commissioners, Judge W. R. Eby of Abilene and Cene Johnson of Tyler, and went on to say that he was proud of their lateral roads.

FORMER BANK MEN CHARGED

INDICTMENTS RETURNED TODAY IN FAILURE OF INSTITUTION

(By Associated Press)
PORT WORTH, July 14.—Three former Port Worth bankers were indicted today by the Federal grand jury.

B. B. Samuels, president, and A. L. (Lon) Baker, vice president, of the defunct Texas National Bank, were named in one joint indictment. Clyde Belew, former cashier of the Stockyards National bank, was named in another. All charged violations of the national banking laws.

The joint indictment against Samuels and Baker contains 62 counts, 38 of which charge making false entries and 24 with misappropriation of funds of the bank.

The indictment against Belew charges that on June 8, 1929, while employed as cashier of the Stockyards National bank, he embezzled from the bank's funds $28,402.34.

The indictment against Samuels and Baker lists the counts of false entries and misappropriation of funds over a period from January, 1928 to April, 1929, then skips a period in the bank's history until January 31, 1930, when a false entry was charged on the day the bank closed.

The latter was the largest false entry charged against the men and was for $1,745,933.98, the indictment states, the smallest, says the indictment, was for $1,416.18 on March 14, 1928.

Funeral services were held at Bynum Brothers chapel Sunday evening at 8 o'clock. Rev. H. L. Munger, pastor of the First Methodist church, officiating. The body was shipped last night to Alexandria, Louisiana, for burial.

He is survived by his widow and two children, G. A. Hines, of Lubbock, and Mrs. W. H. Franks, of Shreveport, La.

SEARCHING PARTIES OUT AFTER SECOND MAN OF PLANE

(By Associated Press)
RANGOON, Burma, July 14.—Searching parties penetrated the southern Burmese jungle today hoped to find Erik Hook, British airman, left dying last week by a buddy, Jimmie Matthews, who stumbled on, he said, to find help for both of them.

Little hope was held for success of the quest. Matthews himself, bruised and worn from the crash of his England to Australia airplane ten days ago and the subsequent march to civilization, discouraged hope. The jungle where he left Hook is known for its predatory wild beasts and hyenas.

Matthews reached Proma Saturday, 160 miles north of Rangoon, on the left bank of the Irrawaddy river, with the story that he and Hook cracked up their plane on a mountain side July 5 while flying between Akyab, Burma, and Rangoon. In an attempt to beat the fifteen day flight record from England to Australia.

Both were injured in the crash, but Hook more severely. Matthews said that in the few days as they tried to reach civilization he was forced often to carry the more badly hurt man on his back. Finally beset by hunger, thirst, and the damp diurnal malarial country through which they passed they decided it would be best for him to go alone and seek help, even though Hook were left to die.

James M. Mitchell was arrested yesterday a few hours after the charged body of Miss Lillian I. MacDonald was found in a furnace in the basement of a stationery store, where both were employed.

The young woman was last seen alive Saturday morning when she went to the basement to distribute pay envelopes.

Took Only His Pay
She had approximately $800 and Mitchell, according to County Attorney Ralph M. Ingalls, said he took only his own pay and burned the remainder with the body.

Mitchell, officers said, made advances to the young woman and when she slapped his face, picked up the shaker of the furnace, struck her over the head and then delivered another blow as she fell to the floor. He then pushed her body into the furnace and burned it along with rubbish and waste paper.

HALE PAVING TO BE GIVEN DELAY

PLAINVIEW, July 14.—(Special)—Hale county probably will not pave its west road from Plainview to the county line known as highway 2A until early next year. Judge Ely, county judge, said here after returning from a conference with Judge W. R. Ely, Abilene, member of the state highway commission.

Judge Ely told the Hale county delegation, which included Commissioners J. A. Finney, Carroll Bird and George W. Whitfield, and Judge L. S. Kinder and R. G. B. Paine, that the commission proposed to let the contract of the county would put up its share of the money. The letting would be done at the next meeting.

The proposals of the Hale county to pave as far as its money will permit, the state to advance the rest of the fund for the entire job, the county to refund to the state, the county to put up its highway bonds in escrow for the contract to be let at once.

Otherwise, the contract will be at the regular letting some time late in the winter.

Mrs. Womble Is Thankful Beyond Words

"My husband suffered with nervous indigestion and serious stomach trouble for twelve years," said Mrs. A. O. Womble of 205 East 11th San Angelo, wife of a well known employee of the Henderson-Eds Co. "Everything he would eat," continued Mrs. Womble, "no matter how little or how much, would ferment and fill his stomach with gas and he suffered misery. He was continually belching up sour, undigested food, had severe pains in his back and sides and suffered terribly from intense sick headaches. He was so nervous he could only sleep a few hours at a time, what sleep he did get was from exhaustion and he got no rest from it."

At times he would blurt up until it was hard for him to breathe and we thought he might have heart trouble at times. He was just in a general rundown condition and never had the strength or energy to go about his work as he should have. He had spells of heartburn, a bad case of constipation, and in fact, needed something to build him up.

"Argotane was recommended as highly and so many local people had been praising it so he bought a bottle and has improved ever since. He isn't bothered in the least with indigestion and not a sign of gas or those bloating spells. His breathing is back to normal, his bowels are regulated and he has no more stomach trouble in the least. Argotane has helped my husband so I just can't tell you how thankful I am, it sure is a good medicine."

Genuine Argotane may be purchased in Lubbock at the Bowen's Drug Store. Adv.

RANDLE GETS WALLER'S DRIVE AND MAKES DOUBLE PLAY

The Lubbock Hubbers, local South Plains League, saw a sensational victory turned into a heartbreaking defeat yesterday at Merrill Park when "Dirty" Waller's beautiful line drive to center field was picked off the toe by J. Randle, Lamesa's center fielder, who turned it into a double play at the plate and won the game 8 to 6 in the latter half of the ninth for the Lamesa nine. A couple of runs in the tenth broke the tie that was knotted in the sixth inning while the Hubbers were held scoreless.

It was Lamesa's game nearly all the way, with the Lubbock entry creeping up in the sixth to push over a single run and tie the count 6-6. For three innings the teams were played evenly, but in the latter half of the ninth it appeared that an extra frame would not be necessary. Lefty Davis, pitching the route, and a right fair one, for the visitors at the local park, hit Devers, and while rattled by Randle, Hubber twice got to first on his error. Waller was up and slammed out a long low one to Randle in center, whose shoestring catch saved the game.

Hoyle Goes Route Hoyle went all the way with his mates, at times erratic, but doing heads up pitching most of the way. Each hurler allowed thirteen bingles, while numerous errors on both sides spoiled an otherwise good game.

Lamesa led off the scoring with four tallies in the third, a result of Spike's walk and the failure of Green, Lubbock shortstop, to tag him as Davis went also on his short rap. Banta and Vaughn singled, scoring their mates, and G. White doubled, himself scoring on Hatch's sacrifice to center. The Hubbers counted once in this frame when Waller walked and scored on Green's single. The invaders scored two more in the fifth and a rally brought the locals four scores, following a series of hits, an error, and a hit. Hoyle held the visitors in the sixth and his mates tied the count in their half when Dirty Waller, a star all the way, singled and scored when two of his cronies singled.

The party continued through the tenth, but two Lamesa runs early in that frame decided the count. Hatch put over the winning run when he singled, advanced on a sacrifice and a hit, and scored on Lefty Davis' single. Spikes, Lamesa keystone, was left on third by Davis blow, and scored on the next, a hit by L. White. The Hubbers lost their chances to score in that stanza when Green and Hambrick failed to deliver in the pinch, with two mates aboard by a double and an error.

TAROKA HANGS 9 TO 7 DEFEAT ON LEVELLAND

LEVELLAND, July 14. (Special.) An undefeated Taroka baseball club returned home last night after proving too much for the Levelland leaguers with the heavy odds of 9 to 7 score. It was the sixth straight victory for the Taroka nine, leaders in the South Plains League. Lefty Squires, star wrong hander of the league, pitched a bang-up game and proved the hitting sensation of the day with a brace of home runs. Four-bag blows also rattled off the bats of Bridges, Taroka left fielder, and Edwards, visiting center fielder.

Although favorites all the way, the Taroka club found plenty of opposition in the Levelland sluggers, who found Squire's offerings for enough hits to make the game interesting. Hoyle went all the way for the Levelland entry.

JONES MAY RETIRE AFTER AMATEUR TOURNEY

ATLANTAN IS NOT SPEAKING OF HIS PLANS

WIN OR LOSE, CHAMP'S PRESENT RECORD IS ACHIEVEMENT

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, July 14.—The 38-year-old monarch of the links, Bobby Jones, already thrice-crowned in his all-conquering campaign of 1930, may retire from active competition if he completes his record-shattering march by regaining the American amateur championship at the Merion Cricket club, Philadelphia, in September.

The emperor himself, back home today in Atlanta after his third

ATLANTA CELEBRATES

Atlanta declared a holiday today to give Bobby Jones, a "pretty happy" golfer, a day of rest, a welcome fit for an emperor.

Bobby said he was "pretty happy" to capture the National open title, but that modest phrase was much too mild to express the pent up enthusiasm his Atlanta admirers, most of whom had not seen him since he departed in the spring to win the British Amateur and Open crowns.

He probably was more interested in a reunion with his enterprising son, aged three, who added whistling to his accomplishments in the absence of his father. But friends of the lawyer-golfer insisted upon a formal reception, a parade, bands, an official luncheon and all the other trappings of public functions. Many said they were determined to surpass, in noise at least, the welcome tendered Bobby in New York.

straight victory of the year and his twelfth in eight years, has not definitely committed himself to any plans beyond competing in the last big event of the current season. But if he wins, there will be no more records to break except his own and his friends believe he will bid at least a temporary farewell to the swirling fields of championship action.

Has Set Mark Anyway

Win or lose at Merion this year, Jones has set up a mark that generations of succeeding golfers probably will shoot at in vain—when he went abroad this spring with the Walker cup team the odds were 50 to 1 against Bobby's winning all four of the major British and American championships. He has hurdled three of the four obstacles by winning the British Amateur, British Open and American Open within a period of seven weeks. He has sustained the confidence of his hometown friends who backed him at the quoted figure, and he now will go into the final fixture, the American Amateur, at least an even-money favorite against the field, in spite of the pitfalls that lurk in match play.

Has Had Hardest Fight For years there has not been any question of Jones' supremacy at medal play, the art of baffling old man par. Yet it has taken the super-performance of the superman of the links to go out this year, in the face of the strongest challenge he ever had, to beat back the best of British and American professionals in the two greatest scoring tests the game can show.

At Interlachen, barely a week off the boat from Europe, the experts figured Jones would show the effects of the terrific strain he underwent abroad, especially in a succession of nerve-racking matches in the British Amateur tournament. It was thought the human machine might slow down.

Bowls Over Dope

Jones bowled over the dope, the opposition and the records at Interlachen. He shattered the course record on his third round with a 68, the best he has ever scored in the event, and a performance that put all of his rivals except MacDonal Smith to rout. He finished with a 72-hole figure of 287, his own lowest in American competition and within a stroke of tying Chick Evans' all-time mark. He sank a 40-foot putt on the home green to finish two strokes ahead of his nearest rival, Mar Smith, who ended a vain but gallant chase in 239. He was five strokes in front of Horton Smith, the young professional who led at the halfway mark.

ATHLETICS CONTINUE IN LEAD; SENATORS DROP ONE

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR., Associated Press Sports Writer

The Cincinnati Reds have developed quite a punch at home, but it is strangely lacking when they take the road. Last week they looked like a team of world beaters at Redland Field, taking four straight games from Chicago. They still looked good as they picked on the humble Phillies for three more victories, but yesterday when they moved to New York, they lost 9 to 5. They drove out a few runs to lead for a while then subsided when faced by Joe Eving while the Giants started there and scored most of their runs in the last half of the game. This result left the Reds with ten victories on the road and 24 at home.

Loss At Boston

The Cubs moved to Boston yesterday and lost two games to the Braves, 2 to 1 and 3 to 0. The first Boston victory was due to Harry Seibold's pitching, the second to the Massachusetts law which makes it necessary to stop Sunday games promptly at six o'clock. That hour came after the Cubs had scored four runs in the ninth but before that inning ended and the score reverted to the eighth.

Bears, Pelicans, Crackers Take Wins

ATLANTA, Ga., July 14. (AP.) By making five runs in both the first and final frame of the game in Memphis, the Mobile Bears took the Sunday contest from the leading Chicago of the Southern Association 13 to 6. Creson and Leonard limited Chicago to five safe blows while the Bears scored four runs in the fifth inning gave the Pelicans the winning margin. Sal Glatto, who was on the mound for the first time for New Orleans, hurled a good game to break the losing streak of the Pelicans.

Homers and Crackers

Two home runs aided the Atlanta Crackers as they downed Chattanooga 11 to 2. Langford got a homer in the sixth with two on base and Sheehan poked out one in the final session with the bases loaded. This win gave the Crackers undisturbed possession of a first division berth and put back Little Rock.

Sal Glatto, who was on the mound for the first time for New Orleans, hurled a good game to break the losing streak of the Pelicans.

Homers and Crackers

Two home runs aided the Atlanta Crackers as they downed Chattanooga 11 to 2. Langford got a homer in the sixth with two on base and Sheehan poked out one in the final session with the bases loaded. This win gave the Crackers undisturbed possession of a first division berth and put back Little Rock.

Nashville and Little Rock divided a double bill, the Vols taking the first game, 12 to 1, and dropping the latter 5 to 2. "Sunny Jim" Poole knocked two four baggers in the first game which brought his season record up to 28.

Thirty-six preliminary matches, made necessary to reduce the field to 64 were to be completed before midnight and possibly several of the first round matches decided. Doubles pairings were to be made today and play begun in that division tomorrow.

Cubs Become Quite Noticeable In Texas League Competition

PRATTMEN NOW IN 3RD PLACE AFTER RUN OF VICTORIES

BY GAYLE TALBOT, JR., Associated Press Sports Writer

The distinction of furnishing most of the paprika for the second half of the Texas league marathon so far has gone to the Waco Cubs. Well down the line throughout the first half, the Prattmen have taken on new life since the schedule was divided, largely through the sterling play of a pair of rookie infielders, Molesworth and Piet, and the steady clouting of Gene Rye.

The dawn of the current week found the Cubs in third place, only three games behind the speeding Spudders. For the next three nights they encounter the Shreveport Sports in the newly lighted Biedenharn Park, and chances are they will strengthen their position. Not that the Cubs are up as a stronger outfit than the Louisiana entry, but the fact that they have won eleven out of twelve nocturnal starts is no to be overlooked.

Old Paul Returns

Old Paul Wachtel made one of his periodical returns from the baseball boneyard to give the Prattmen a 6 to 0 victory over Fort Worth in yesterday's final. Always a hot weather hurler, Paul found the sizzling day much to his liking and held the Panthers to six scattered blows. Further, he led the Cubs' attack on four Cat chummers with three singles.

Ray Caldwell bested Jimmy Walk-up in a hurling duel at Wichita Falls as the Spuds took their final from Beaumont, 1 to 0. The leaders put across the only run of the game in the ninth on a double steal and Crouck's single. Caldwell gave up only five hits, of which four were divided between Easterling and

San Antonio To Start Night Play

SAN ANTONIO, July 14. (AP.) Work on installation of a lighting plant in League park for night baseball games to be played here by the San Antonio Indians will begin today. Homer H. Hammond, president of the San Antonio club, announced to the Express over long distance telephone from Fort Worth Saturday night.

"I closed the contract with the lighting company today," said Hammond, "and we expect to play the first night game on July 24 when the Indians will be at home with the Shreveport Sports as the visiting team."

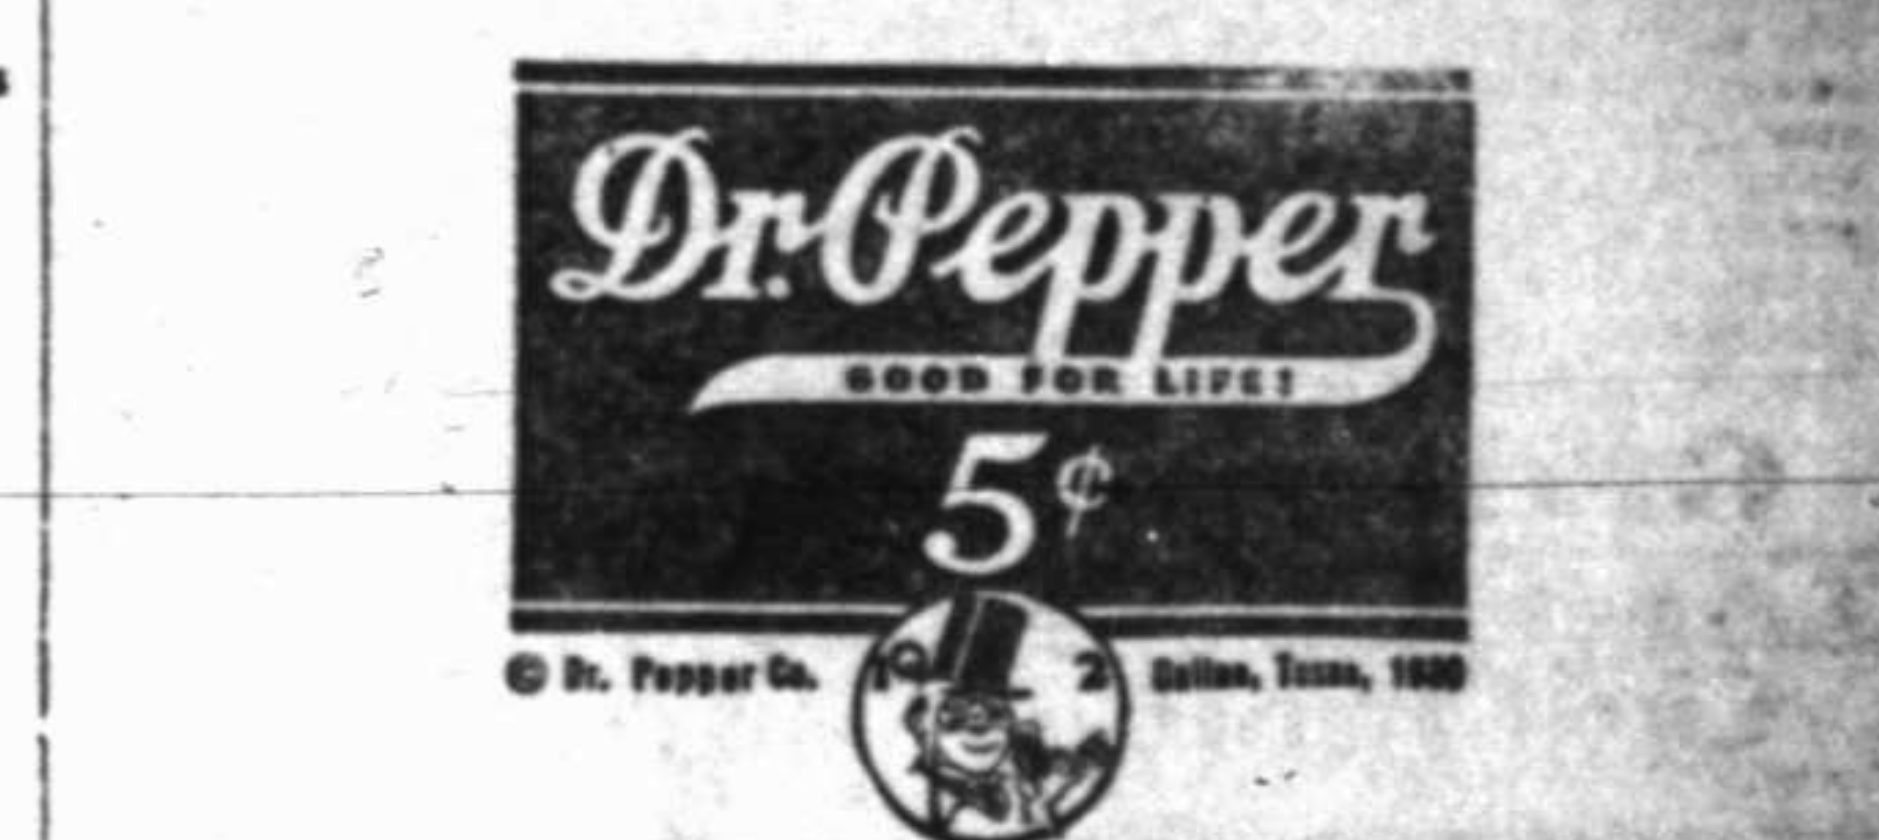

GOOD WHEAT HARVEST

Mr. House said he had gone to California with the expectation of locating there but decided Levelland afforded the best opportunities after all.

Thought For Today

Whatever thy hand findeth to do, do it with thy might.—Ecclesiastes 9:10.

Take time to deliberate; but when the time for action arrives, stop thinking and go in.—Andrew Jackson.

Temper

One of the ugliest things about this modern world is that while it is constantly devising new ways to make a man lose his temper, it is also putting him under an ever-increasing compulsion of keeping control of himself.

Dr. W. J. Mayo of Rochester, Minn., in a recent speech before the American Medical Association at Detroit, suggests that one reason for the prevalence of heart disease today may be the stern control over the emotions made necessary by conditions of modern life.

As a case in point, Dr. Mayo remarks that many surgeons die of heart disease. The surgeon, he points out, practices a profession in which ironclad control of the emotions is absolutely necessary. This, in turn, puts an extra strain on the heart—and the strain finally exacts its toll.

The surgeon, however, isn't the only unlucky one. Probably every one of us has to exercise more self-restraint, in the ordinary round of daily living, than our grandfathers had to exercise. There are more reasons to bother us and we have more reasons for repression.

Consider the things that can arise in the course of a day to jar a man's temper—the little things only, not counting major catastrophes.

A man gets out of bed and steps into the shower. Just as a nicely-modulated spray is coursing down his back someone dares to turn on the cold water, and the bather gets half-scalded, without warning.

He quits his shower and goes to shave. There discovers that his razor blade is dull and that he has no other, so he must painfully turn on his face with a dull blade. This job finished, he goes to dress. A shoestring breaks, a collar-button rolls under the dresser or he discovers too late that a button is missing from the sleeve of his shirt.

Then, after breakfast, he starts out for work. He has to run to catch his street car when he gets to his corner, after a tough sprint, the motorman fails to see him and the car doesn't stop. Finally he gets to his office. It is too hot, he turns on an electric fan and the fan sweeps all the papers on his desk off to the floor. He goes out for lunch at noon, finds a hot crowd for ten minutes before he can get a seat, and then gets a plate of liver and onions, which he abhors. Instead of the egg salad which he ordered. He goes back to work, and—But why carry his misadventures any farther? It is obvious, surely, that life can be full of a million petty annoyances, and it is a rare day that doesn't bring at least three or four of them in a bunch.

Now all of this wouldn't be so bad if we could get some outlet for our irritation. But we can't. Swearing is considered bad form, and there are usually women around anyhow. One can't stamp one's foot in wrath, as a child does, nor can one throw things or paw the air with energetic anger. There is nothing to do but grin and bear it—and some days that is pretty hard to do.

Dr. Mayo must be right. Keeping our tempers in bad for us. But we have to do it.

The Penalty

No one can burn the candle at both ends for very long without suffering for it. The business man ought to conserve his own energy as carefully as he conserves mechanical energy in his factory.

A tragic and instructive case in point is the recent suicide of Leroy A. Manchester, chief counsel for the Youngstown Sheet & Tube company, who killed himself while the lawsuit over the company's merger with Bethlehem Steel was being tried in court. Newton D. Baker, who presided in the case, remarked upon the heart of it:

"It was a pure case of overwork. Manchester was working to a fra-

THE PLAINSMAN

That Girl on Broadway says middle-age is the period of life when one begins to think a shiny nose of little importance.

ROSS S. Sterling, Houston candidate for governor, was here today but he wasn't driving on his four. That's a shame. The Plainman hoped he would come by Tishoka, over Highway No. 9, and see first hand why he won't get many votes in this neck of the woods.

The Plainman hoped while Mr. Sterling was in this locality—he doesn't get out here very often, you know—that some enterprising citizens would take him for a short ride toward Idalou and toward Shallowater, so he could inspect more of our highway outlets. Then he'd see even more why the people of Lubbock and the South Plains have thus far failed to do any wild cheering over the Houstonian's race for the governor's chair.

This column knows this much. Mr. Sterling won't get our highways mixed up with those in the vicinity of Heavenly Houston, his home town, which has been so admirably taken care of since Mr. Sterling has been head of the Highway commission. The only thing our roads have in common with Houston's is that both are marked with signs and have a fence on each side of them.

There's no doubt but that Mr. Sterling is a capable business man, has made a wonderful success in many lines and is of broad calibre. But we're here to tell you that if he is elected governor of Texas and doesn't show any more interest in our locality than he has as chairman of the State Highway commission, we'll be in one terrible fix—and that's that.

Of course we can get roads like Houston's if we spend the money or if Mr. Sterling's pet highway department plan goes into effect. But we are poor folks out this way and it so happens that we can't pave all our roads and alleys and have to do some of our traveling over dirt highways. Even though we are geographically a part of Texas, we don't get much in the way of highway maintenance, which is what we're interested in despite Mr. Sterling's personal ideas on the matter.

Our West Texas money goes to build roads in other parts of the state simply because we can't bond ourselves all at once to pave every highway and byway in all this wide open country. What The Plainman would like to see is more work on our dirt highways and less talk about a 300 million dollar state-wide bond issue.

The Plainman is here to tell the world that the condition of Highway 9, which is also carrying Highway 74 to detour between Woodrow and Woodrow, is in a disgraceful condition and that the same can be said of the Lubbock-Idalou route. Full of holes, ruts and inches deep in sand, they are in as bad condition as one could imagine. Maybe Mr. Sterling can't help it and we don't expect him to get out with a shovel and fix em up. But he is in charge of the highway commission and as far as the Plainman is concerned the highway situation here is unsatisfactory. Because of these highways of ours—and we have to ride over them—we can't see why anybody in these parts would want to vote for Mr. Sterling for governor.

That Man on Avenue Q says that this is the time when Mr. Hoover must be looking back with longing on the quiet, peaceful days of the world war.

TOM White, Sheriff Sheffield, Garret Reeves and The Plainman went down to Abilene to boost Lubbock for the 1931 West Texas Press association contest and the newspaper boys selected Lubbock for that honor by a large majority of vote. But The Plainman is here to tell you confidentially that the credit doesn't go to the Lubbock delegation for this city's successful campaign. No sir! It was our old friends in this part of the country—big bugs in the organization—that swung the deal.

To Eddie Warren, editor of the Post Dispatch, and Jimmy Smith, editor of the Scurry County Times-Signal at Snyder, Lubbock owes a big debt of gratitude. Then T. E. Roderick, of the Slaton Stateside, and Elbert Smith of the Lamesa Reporter, also helped a lot and as a result Lubbock got the convention.

Tom White is due the big share of the congratulations to the Lubbock delegation because he's the only one of the four who have been attending the organization's meetings for a considerable time. But generally speaking, Eddie Warren, retiring president, and Jimmy Smith, secretary-dynamo of the organization, turned the trick for Lubbock and they ought to get credit for it. The Plainman believes Lubbock owes these boys a big debt of gratitude.

The Baltimore girl reporter recently engaged to marry John Nicholas Brown, millionaire, certainly can credit herself with the year's biggest scoop.

The Price Of Food Is Going Down But The Housewife Has Failed To Realize Any Benefits From Decrease

By RODNEY DUTCHER

NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, July 14.—Retail prices of food have been coming down, but by no means as rapidly as wholesale prices. They never do.

When the farmer gets low prices for his products, the consumer eventually gets a little of the benefit, but not until the middle man and the retailer get theirs, if then.

C. B. Denman of the Federal Farm Board recently pointed to sharp declines in the prices of beef, dressed beef in Chicago, he says, has been selling for from 20 to 35 per cent less than a year ago, the greatest reductions being in the cheaper cuts. Retail prices of beef, he assured all housewives, ought to reflect the full reduction possible under present prices.

Doesn't Help the Housewife

But none of the government's figures available here indicate that the housewife has been getting much of a break on sirloin or round steaks, or rib roasts or chuck roasts.

On a rough estimate, however, it is said that wholesale prices of food are about 10 per cent lower than the high mark last year and retail prices about 5 per cent. The monthly survey of retail food prices made by the Bureau of Labor Statistics covers 22 of the most commonly used articles of food and its wholesale survey 721 items, so no exact comparison is possible. The bureau depends upon about 1800 retailers for the information for its survey, so it never compares wholesale and retail prices, which would make the retailers sore.

Retailers are reluctant to change their prices, either upwards or downwards. It is explained. Sometimes they fear that slight increases would be justified and yet fear to offend the consumer by making them. On the other hand, it is naturally much easier to refrain from cutting prices when wholesale prices drop. The retailers never notice lower wholesale prices as quickly as they observe increased wholesale prices.

Usually there are two steps between the producer and the consumer—the jobber, or middle man, and the retailer. The wholesale price, as commonly understood, is the price paid by the middle man during the invariable lag between declining wholesale prices and declining retail prices, but experts on these facts believe the retailer usually gets the larger slice. The wide-awake retailer knows his price trends and he can make the middle man observe them easier than the ultimate customer can persuade the retailer to follow them.

Some blame is placed on the consumer, however, for increasing retail costs. It costs more to retail food now than it did. Time was when people bought potatoes by the bushels, flour by the barrel, apples by the peck, meat in huge shunks and eggs at least by the dozen. In these days of kitchenettes the retailer finds himself doing out two or three eggs or a single lamb chop at a time and flour, potatoes, apples and such food are bought often in one-pound lots.

Middle Man Is Vanishing

The middle man's margin of profit is usually more or less fixed. He used to get a lot of blame for the high cost of living, but lately the tendency has been to squeeze him out. Mass buying by chain stores

NEUTRALIZE INFECTIONS OF THE NOSE AND THROAT WITH SOLUTION OF SALT

"In going to and from my office daily I find it necessary to use the subway and I need not tell you how much crowding, sneezing and coughing I encounter. I resolve on an antiseptic tablet and use a nasal douche, in my office and when I arrive at home. Do you think the continuous use of this harmful?"

MR. G.

The normal secretions of the nose and throat have considerable power to neutralize infections that might be contracted, and, according to Amos, of Johns Hopkins animal experiment has shown that the continuous use of antiseptic washes apparently destroys some of their neutralizing power.

Dr. Peters' solution, however, is not a neutralizing solution, but a solution for the use of a normal salt solution, for it not only helps wash away stray germs, but it also promotes the neutralizing power of the secretions. (Best follow that with an oily application.)

This normal salt solution is made by pouring a pint and an ounce of boiling water over a level teaspoon of salt and boiling for two or three minutes. This will sterilize the extra ounce of water will allow for evaporation, so the solution is finally one pint.

"DEAR DOCTOR: My mother-in-law, who has a cancer of the liver, is planning to come and live with us. As I am in poor health and have four young children at home, I should like to know what precautions I should take, as I don't want run any unnecessary risks? Is it necessary to sterilize dishes, clothes, etc., as in tuberculosis?"

MRS. B.

Only the usual precautions of cleanliness are necessary in cancer, for the disease is not infectious, so do not worry about you or your children's contracting it, Mrs. B.

If you wish any literature on cancer, communicate with the American Cancer Society, 54 East 74th street, New York City.

"DEAR DOCTOR: Are there many, few or no acidophilus bacilli in ordinary buttermilk?"

A.

The acidophilus bacillus is a lactic acid bacillus, and it is present only in the milk that has been cultured with it. The other buttermilks have lactic acid bacilli but not of this strain. It has been found that the acidophilus strain is the most active in generating lactic acid, which kills off the putrefactive bacteria, and that it most easily grows in the intestinal tract because, apparently it is the normal bacteria of the tract. It is present in babies' intestines while nursing, but they have any artificial food. But buttermilk of any and grocery leagues, establishment of chains by producers and farmer co-operatives are among the factors threatening to eliminate the jobber.

Latest complete Bureau of Labor Statistics figures on wholesale and retail food prices are for May. Figuring on an annual family budget, the bureau finds that food costings $1.58 in May, 1929, cost $1.601 in May, 1930. Food sold at wholesale for $20.977 in May, 1929, cost only 92 cents in May, 1930. The wholesale and retail prices given are not reliable, however, and should not be compared with each other except as to the comparative ratio of decline.

NEW YORK, July 14.—At various intervals Broadway reveals the adventures of its "fair-weather-Charles," profligate young men, who have a trail of hundred-dollar bills across the tables of the gay white way, spring upon the headlines of the tabloid dailies and then disappear into space.

The names are usually new to the newspaper reading public, though well advertised along the lanes in which they tossed their fortunes.

In those spots where the prettiest maids are on display, the fluctuating parade of "show-offs" soon are known by their first names and the word passes along that a "new heavy spender" has hit the high-way.

At the moment a young broker, who had chinned himself to a partnership in a Wall Street brokerage house, faces investigation in connection with the failure of his firm and his own lavish expenditures; a second, who also made big money when the market was going strong, will have to explain why recent checks have come bouncing back; a third, connected with a bond concern, has been around asking his girl friends to return extravagant presents he lavished on them in his "chump" days.

Each of these briefly stated cases is more or less typical of the fast chapter which the world reads in the brief career of a Broadway spender.

There are, of course, spenders and spenders. There are certain playboys, actions of extremely rich families, who dodge in and out of the bright lights, accompanied by the most beautiful actresses of stage and screen, and who fairly glow in the spotlight of attention they attract by this association.

In fact, there is a great deal of the "small-boat-showing-off" in some of the gestures of quite reputable and successful men. The tossing of a thousand-dollar tip always gets a few gasps from nearby tables, and when it happens several times, a night the "stepper" finds himself a center of attention with all the eyes in the cabaret fastened upon him. In a moment he becomes—at least to himself—quite a personality. And a certain career trails along behind.

The whippersnappers start around the room "What that?" "Oh, yes—"

"Made a million on the street—"

"Teach—has out for some heavy spending."

Some very beautiful and very bewitched young women make a mental note of him. The word travels like chain lightning through certain circles. The young man begins to appear in spots where spending is appreciated if not generally participated in. Even actresses with national reputations begin to accept his invitations.

And does he fairly glow when he appears with them at such a party?

And does he flash out for some hundred dollar bills to the entertainers for some song favor?—Don't ask!

The playboy doesn't have to do this. His spending is quiet. He has been around before. His name, no doubt, is in the Social Register and he's known long by actresses and lovely debutantes for years. They're tickled to be out with him. His money is good, but it isn't loud.

It's the newcomer—the skyrocket who flashes quickly over the street, makes a large noise, bursts with a thousand sparks and then goes out.

And generally with a fairly flat tire and plenty of gossip for the "tabbies" to get excited about.

CONTRACT SIGNED FOR LINE SERVICE

HOBBES, N. M., July 14.—(Special)—The Amerada Oil company is reported here to have signed a contract with the Atlantic Pipe Line company for handling 3,000,000 barrels of oil; from the Hobbs field.

Unavoidable delay in delivery of pipe to the Atlantic delayed the company in completing its pipe line from Midland to Hobbs by July 1.

It will be finished in a short time, however.

The Amerada has two offsets to Shell wells that will probably enable it to fill its contract easily. One is an offset to the Shell No. 1 state which is producing 15,000 barrels daily and the other to the McKinley No. 1 of the Shell, producing 12,000 barrels.

Plainview Man Is Hurt By Hijackers

PLAINVIEW, July 14.—(Special)—C. L. McGowan, Plainview salesman, is in the Plainview hospital here suffering from a self-inflicted wound received during an attempted holdup near Sterley.

Two youths attempted to hijack the salesman, jumping on the running board of his car near Sterley. He reached for a shotgun he had in the car and in his haste the gun was discharged, the shot entering his left forearm.

Besides breaking the bone, the bullet tore the tissues. It may be necessary to operate, it was indicated.

Southland Girl In State Dress Contest

SOUTHLAND, July 14.—(Special)—Miss Mary Lee Harrison, of the Pleasant Valley community near here, is entered in the state dress contest to be held for 4-H girls at college station during the annual A. and M. short course.

Miss Harrison won the Garza county dress contest. She will leave with the Garza county delegation of club women the night of July 24.

Thieves Get $14.50

SLATON, July 14.—(Special)—Sneak thieves entered the White Brothers garage and made away with $14.50 in cash during the noon hour. They also secured $2.50 at the Pete Gartright service station. Some $70 in checks at the White garage was passed up.

Weyman Purchases Plainview Building

PLAINVIEW, July 14.—(Special)—J. P. Weyman has become owner of the Harder and Dysart building here. There is no exchange as payment his home in Hillcrest. The building is occupied by the Baird-Buick company.

Consideration of the deal was announced as $25,000. Herbert Dysart expects to move into the Weyman home within 60 days. Mr. Dysart owner of an automobile loan company, does not plan to leave town.

Floydada Man Buys Company In Amherst

AMHERST, July 14.—(Special)—Fred Bell of Floydada has purchased the Amherst Elevator company here and is now in charge.

Mr. Bell has moved to Amherst for Chevrolet motor cars and later connected with the Floydada bottling works. During the census he was a federal enumerator for the city of Floydada.

Amount of the deal was not made known here.

Said Clowny, "Gee, I'll bet that could spin that yarn. I'll gladly try, if I'm allowed to do it." Then he spun the woman smiled and answered, "You would have much fun, but likely you'd spoil all I've done. I hate to disappoint you, but I have no job for a child."

"She's right," the Travel Man broke in. "You wouldn't know where to begin. The best to stand and watch her. She's been trained to do it right." So about an hour they made their stay and then they went upon their way. The Tinies waved good-bye just as they traveled off of sight.

The Travel Man then said, "Right now I think I'll get some rest somewhere. I see a place where we can sit out in the cooling breeze." Then Scouty answered, "I'm tired, too. I'll gladly do the same as you. I know that I'll appreciate just loafing around at ease."

Not very far away they found a big flat stone upon the ground. They all sat down to watch the Persian people walking by. The men's gowns were a sight to see, all loose and flowing as could be said. "What queer clothes they wear," I've often wondered why. The Travel Man explained that they were living in their own sweet way. "Their clothes seem queer to us," said he. "But they are the Persian style. Now, when some Persian looks at you, no doubt your clothes look funny too. In fact when we have passed some folks, I

CHICAGO GRAIN REPORT
CHICAGO, July 14. (P)—Owing largely to advances of irreparable damage to crops in parts of Alberta and Saskatchewan provinces, Canada, wheat prices showed an early trend upward today. Reports from much domestic spring wheat territory were also indicative of likelihood of impaired yields.
Opening 3-3 1/2 to 11-4 higher, wheat afterward held near the initial range. Values of corn and oats had also an upward slant, with corn starting 5-8 to 1-1 1/8 higher, but subsequently easing back somewhat.
Provisions kept steady.

DAILY MARKETS

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, July 14. (P)—The stock market was enlivened by a fairly broad resumption of speculation for the rise in the early trading today, and gains of 1 to 4 points were numerous. Trading was active in comparison to recent dull sessions.

The better tone of the market last week, led to the conclusion in bullish quarters that reactionary tendencies had been thrown off at last.
The market encountered a little settling during the middle of the morning, but the advance was soon resumed.

Radio Keith was an active factor, rising more than 2 points.
Shares rising 2 to 3 points included
Aitchison, Chesapeake and Ohio, Worthington Pump, Norfolk and Western and John Manville. American Tobacco sold up 4. U. S. Steel and Standard of New Jersey gained more than a point. Call money renewed at 2 1/2 per cent.

Cotton Market

NEW ORLEANS, July 14. (P)—
The cotton market had an easier opening because of favorable Liverpool cables and rains reported in various parts of the belt.

First trades showed losses of 13 points. The easing continued after the start largely on rain reports. October trading down to 12.65 and December to 12.81, or 16 points on both months below Saturday's close.

Toward the end of the first hour the market rallied four points on map indications that the rains in land were not as extensive as at first supposed.

The market ruled very quiet all morning. Prices rallied 5 points from the loss owing to the high temperatures which caused some covering by shorts. October traded up to 12.73 and December to 12.90, eight points above the loss.

Later the market eased off again on a little selling by rival traders, declining 3 to 4 points from the highs, the selling being based on the theory that the rains show on the weather map in the eastern belt would prove beneficial.
At mid-session the market was quiet and about steady.

NEW YORK REPORT
NEW YORK, July 14. (P)—Cotton opened barely steady at a decline of 12 to 17 points on reports of showers and lower temperatures in the south and relatively easy Liverpool cables.

July sold off to 12.90 making a new low for the movement while the new October contract declined to 12.
60 or within 4 points of the low price touched last Tuesday. Offerings were absorbed by covering and trade buying at the decline, however, and the market was quiet and fairly steady at the end of the first half hour with the active months showing rallies of 3 or 4 points from the lowest.

The market was quiet later in the morning with the tone steady owing to failure of weather reports to indicate more general rains in the south. Buying, however, was checked by the forecast for lower temperatures and showers, and the market recovered only a part of its early losses. At midday, July was selling around 12.90 or 10 points net lower while the new December contract was selling at 12.94 or 11 points net under Saturday's closing quotation.

President Hoover's refusal to submit to the senate the secret documents exchanged prior to negotiation of the London naval treaty prompted Senator Norris, republican, Nebraska, to offer the first reservation to the post today and led to a vigorous attack upon the executive message by Senator Johnson, republican, California.

BENEFIT DANCE
Several occasions civic clubs of the city have made various donations to the fund but these have been insufficient to meet the demands which have been made. Many families have been out from the list in an effort to economize and supply only those with sickness but even this saving of recipients has failed to keep the treasury in funds. At this time the situation is drastic according to Mrs. Milam, and if Lubbock is to maintain its unfortunate patronage at tonight's benefit must be large.

In memory of Hallam, Lord Tennyson, the first Governor-General of the Australian Commonwealth, an alabaster tablet was recently unveiled in the Church of St. Salva-tore, Freshwater, Isle of Wight.

tion of our nation's prosperity and particularly of the prosperity of this section.

"I believe that our assistance in the government's plan to organize the cotton factors of this section will do more to draw town and country closer together and develop and promote the business of our individual communities than anything else we could undertake.

Should Be Aided
The prominent Texas Cotton Cooperative association in this section should be a highly cooperative undertaking between the town and country and if the chambers of commerce of this section will loan their secretaries to this campaign, that will be the best possible evidence of the spirit which the government is endeavoring to promulgate and cement between the town and country."

There are approximately 30,000 cotton farmers in the 38 cotton counties of this district, the past season's production being almost 600,000 bales. Although the task of securing members is a monstrous one, plans being laid are elaborate and the aim is to secure as great a percentage of farmers as possible.

MOSER TO SPEAK IN
LEVELLAND JULY 16
C. O. Moser, secretary and vice-president of the American Cotton Cooperative association, will be the principal speaker at the meeting to be held in Levelland Wednesday in interest of organization of a branch chapter of the association. The Texas Cotton Cooperative association, according to information received in Lubbock this morning, Lubbock is headquarters for the district, which composes 48 counties of northwest Texas.

Moser will speak first at a meeting of business men and farm leaders Wednesday morning while a mass meeting for citizens of Wickey county will be held in the afternoon.

Continuance of Series
These meetings are a continuance of a series which were started in that county two weeks ago. Every effort is being made by leaders in Hockley county to obtain designation as a branch office and indications are that the office will be established.

Three community meetings are scheduled in the county tonight and plans are to cover every community in the area within the next few days.

Several Lubbock leaders have been counseled speakers at assemblies in the county during the past week. N.
H. Payne, field representative of the Texas Cotton Cooperative association; R. J. Murray, president of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce; F.
R. Friend, local banker, and Al Hill, editor of the South Plains Farmer, have appeared at community meetings and each report that enthusiasm in Hockley county is such as is needed for success of the association's organization program.

to the working organization.
Present Plan Wrong
—After traveling over the entire 20,000-mile highway system, most of it two or more times; after meeting the county judges and commissioners of the 382 counties, and hearing the pleas of county delegations for aid, I became convinced that the present system of requiring county aid is absolutely wrong.

"It is not right to make the counties put their money on the barrel-head in order to get their parts of the 20,000-mile highway system paved, when they have over 200,000 miles of county roads to improve.
They should be allowed to conserve their credit for their own urgent local uses."

After Head Buck
He viewed facetiously the concentration of opposition fire upon him, saying: "You know, when I go deer hunting, I always try to get the big buck at the head of the herd. That's the way these other fellows are doing in this campaign —trying to bag the head buck. But they haven't touched me, because they're shooting popguns, loaded with china-berries."

Some of the other candidates, he asserted, have tried to get on the bandwagon, since finding out how popular the Sterling road plan is by advocating county refunds. But they don't show how they would raise the money to make the refunds.

He said the West Texas candidate was one of these, and recalled that Sam voted for submission of the bond issue at the last legislature.
Asking the West Texas plan for "adjourning politics," he pointed out that the latter supported the Wirtz "anti-bolter" bill to bar a great number of democrats from the democratic primary because of their position on politics two years ago.

Replies To Charge
In reply to the charge that the bond plan would saddle a mortgage of taxes upon the people of Texas and their unborn children, "Sterling declared.

"They know that isn't true. It would do just the opposite. The people and their unborn children already have the mortgage, in the form of over $200,000,000 of county debt bonds. It has driven many of the counties to the point of bankruptcy."

He said the refunds would be used for building local roads, or else for retiring the outstanding road bonds and thus reducing their taxes materially.

SUDAN SCHOOL IS REPLACED

WORK NEARS FINISH ON NEW STRUCTURE; TO BE LARGER

SUDAN, July 14. (Special).—The new Sudan high school, which is replacing a structure burned several months ago, is rapidly nearing completion, the Sampson Construction company of Lubbock, contractors, announce.

The new building has 3,066 square feet more of floor space for classrooms, or three more rooms than the old building. Changes in the size of the rooms, reducing them to care for but 30 pupils each, adds three more rooms, a total of six new classrooms.

More Rooms Added
In addition there will be two shower and locker rooms for athletic work, two study halls and the usual offices.

The old auditorium has been converted into a combination auditorium-gymnasium, with a playing court 81 by 41 feet and a seating capacity of 400 for games. The entire auditorium used as an assembly room will seat more than a thousand.

Special equipment has been ordered for the home economics rooms.

Enrollment the past year passed the 1,000 mark. A fleet of ten buses was used to transport pupils from over the district. An average of over 400 pupils were carried daily, the peak number being 530.

CASTRO'S WHEAT CROP TOTALS HIGH

DIMMITT, July 14. (Special).—Castro county's wheat crop for 1930 is estimated at more than a million and a third bushels, following reports of the only two wheat shipping centers in the county.

At Dimmitt the elevators shipped a total of 449 cars of wheat, or 307,435 bushels, with approximately 125,000 bushels held in storage.

Hart Has 100,000 Stored
Hart, the only other shipping point, reports 177 cars or 353,000 bushels and storage of 100,000 bushels in the elevators.

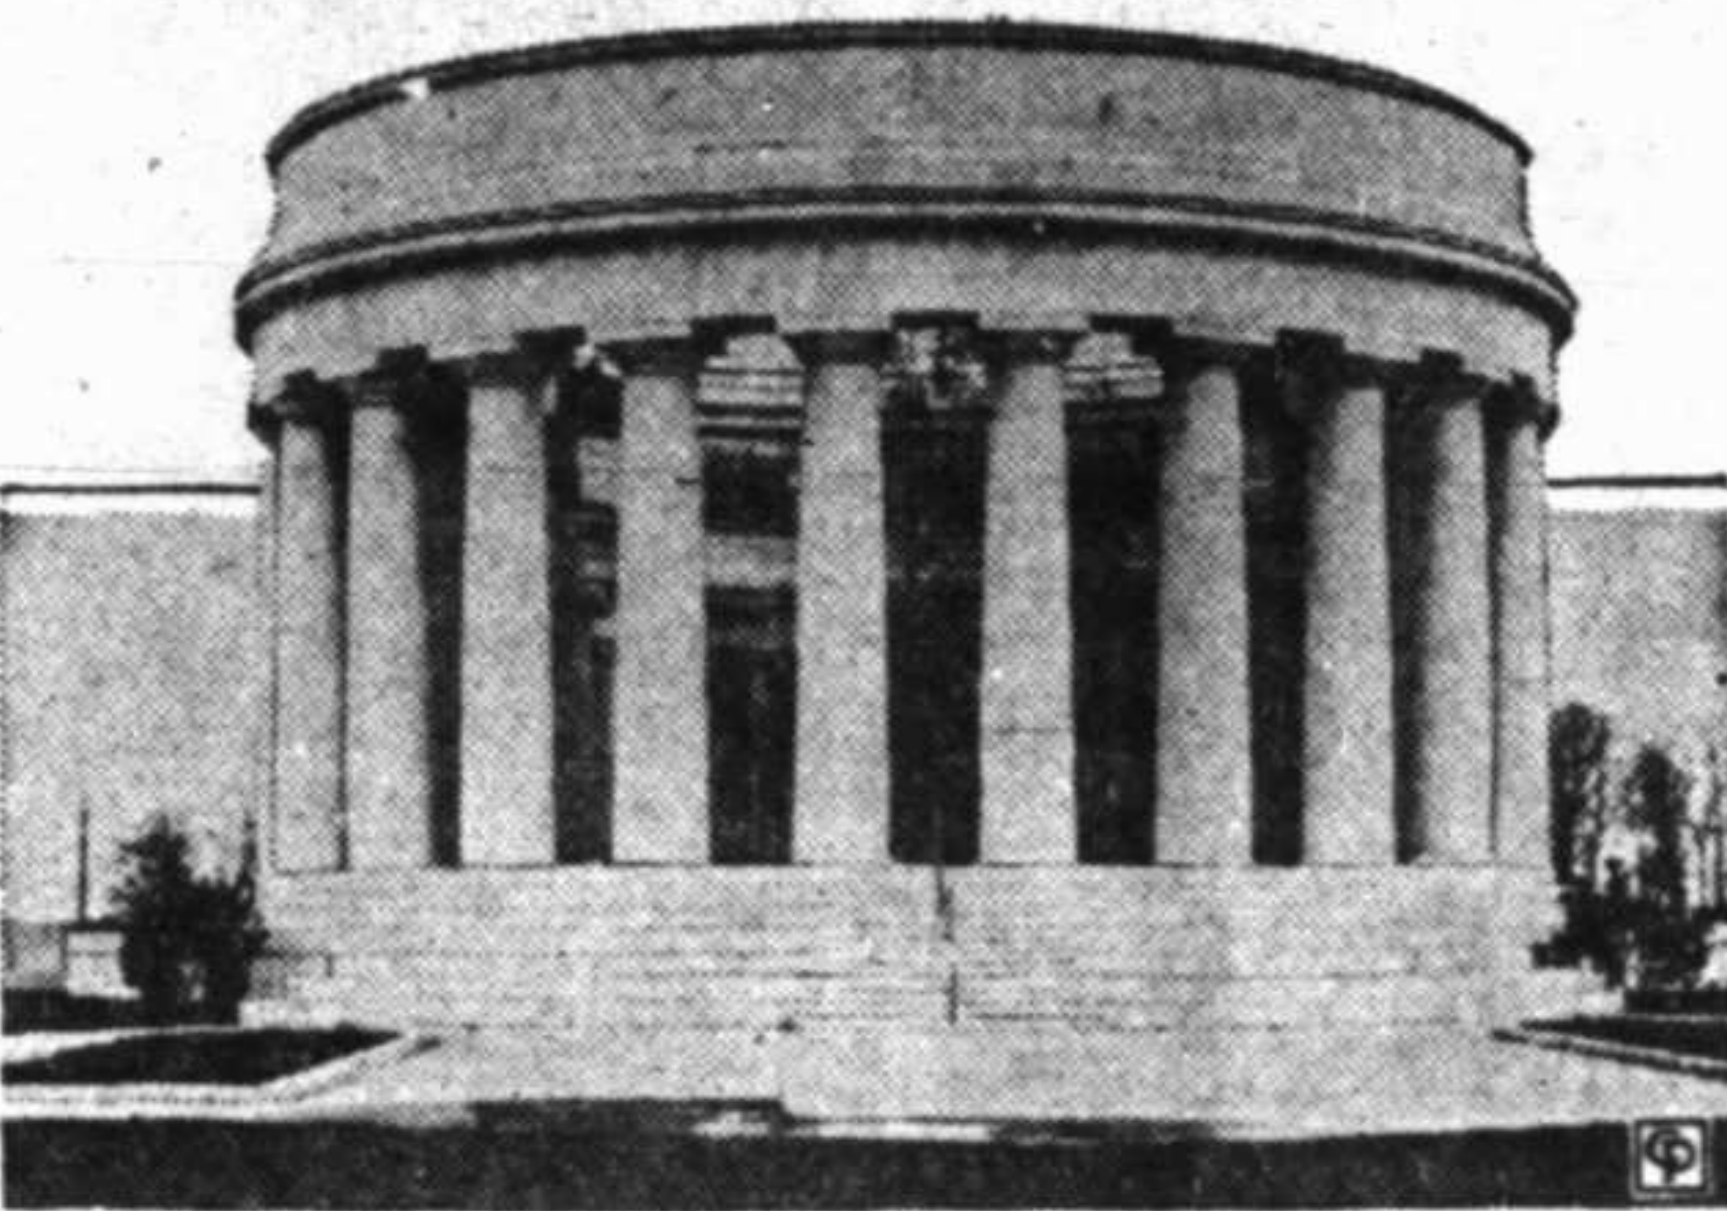

Farmers are holding an additional 100,000 bushels. Total storage is given as 325,000 bushels or approximately one-third of the crop.

Average price was from 62 to 68 cents per bushel.

WILL ATTEND CONVENTION

DIMMITT, July 14. (Special).—Ernest Medtke, member of the Dimmitt Lions club, will attend the annual International Convention of Lions clubs in Denver. He will attend with a friend from Pampa and after the meeting the pair will go to Salt Lake City where they will recover a car stolen some weeks ago in Pampa.

As soon as the milk testing equipment recently ordered by the city arrives, the health department will begin enforcement of the standard milk ordinance, passed by the council, Dr. S. C. Ross, sanitary officer, announces.

Under the ordinance the officer will take a test of four days milking of each dairy furnishing milk to Plainview.

Dairymen, the inspector added, have complied with other provisions of the ordinance in regard to sanitation.

Mayor J. B. Cardwell says the equipment will be obtained soon.

AMOS H. HOWARD,

Candidate For County Clerk

Lubbock County, Texas

In making the race for re-election to the office of County Clerk of Lubbock County, I do so upon my record. This office is a very important one for the reason that the records to every piece of property in Lubbock County, all mortgages of every description, probate proceedings, Commissioner's Court proceedings, suits of the County Court, and numerous other proceedings are kept in the County Clerk's office. It takes one from two to three years to familiarize himself with this office so that he may give to the people the kind of service that I think they deserve. One can never become too well qualified for this position. Every mistake that is made in this office, whether it be just a letter or figure costs some property owner to clear same up. Some may be corrected by correction instruments and some cause lawsuits. For that reason too much care cannot be exercised in keeping the records straight. I have never been ONE DAY BEHIND since I have been your County Clerk. I believe that when an officer is elected he should give to the people the best and the most courteous service possible at all times, and if you will check my record from the day I took office I believe you will bear me out in this statement. I had about eight years experience in this kind of work before I was elected as your County Clerk.

During the year 1929 I installed in the County Clerk's office a complete Index System. Said Index System is a complete index of every instrument affecting title to real estate since this County was organized in 1881 up to the present time such as deeds, deeds of trust, releases, transfers, etc., except Mechanic Liens records, giving the grantors and grantees names, and the description of property. With the new and complete index system now in operation any person holding title to real estate in Lubbock County, can in ONE MINUTE'S TIME determine the condition of their property. I invite the citizenship of Lubbock County to call at the office and make a personal inspection of the Index System now in daily use.

I solicit your vote and influence on the 26th of July, upon the basis of QUALIFICATION.

Respectfully,

Amos H. Howard,

AMHERST, July 14. (Special).—While saving ice with an electric saw at Littlefield, Casper Wilson of Amherst got his foot tangled up in the blade and suffered severe cuts. He will recover without the foot being amputated.

PLAN AUDITORIUM

Crosbyton, the county seat of Crosby county, is proud of its city park, located in the center of the town, where the weary ones may sit down and rest on a hot afternoon in Sunny Texas. The park has plenty of shade trees, walks and areas and is a favorite place for old timers to sit in the summer time and recall early days. Some of these days, when we get money enough here," says Walter Currie, editor of the Crosbyton Review, "we hope to be able to build a city auditorium or official building of some kind. What we want is a building that can be used as a community center and one that will be a credit to any town two or three times the size of Crosbyton."

THERE'S ALWAYS A WAY

Miss Myrtle Murray, district home demonstration agent leader, tells a good story of one place she visited during her travels as a county home demonstration agent. She was in the home of a farm woman, she said, and noticed that at each plate on the table was a napkin. Closer investigation revealed the napkins were made of flour sacks, carefully hemmed and ironed. "We want our children to grow up with proper table manners," the woman of the house told her. "So, we decided to use napkins. We did not have the money to buy fancy ones, but I made these out of flour sacks." The children, Miss Murray explained, "had as nice table manners as any I have ever seen. They use the napkin with grace and are as well bred as many whose homes afford more social advantages."

An air service from France and Belgium to the Belgian Congo will be inaugurated this year.
