Local car theft leads to death in Nolan County

A Kent Kwik Chevron employee found out the hard way that leaving keys in a vehicle can definitely lead to that vehicle being stolen, even in quiet, little Colorado City.

The Department of Public Safety and the Sweetwater Police Department are investigating a car chase that resulted in the death of a 32-year-old man Monday afternoon, and it all started with auto theft in Colorado City.

The car theft is thought to have occurred around 2 a.m. Monday morning, as a silver 2000 Chevrolet Camaro was stolen from the Chevron station where the owner, Trey Leach, works.

Later Monday afternoon, Merced Flores was spotted in the stolen vehicle by a deputy with the Nolan County Sheriff's Office. The deputy confronted the driver which resulted in a high-speed chase before Flores crashed into a tree on County Road 282, less than half a mile east of Sweetwater.

The deputy reported that Flores sped away and was chased through Sweetwater city streets before running off the road and crashing into a tree. He died at the scene.

More sentencing comes down in meth case

Thirteen of the 16 people arrested and charged with conspiracy to distribute over 500 grams of methamphetamine have pleaded guilty and have appeared before a federal magistrate for sentencing. On Wednesday, September 3rd, the large group came before Judge Sam Cummings in Lubbock to hear their fate.

Charles Frank Slovak, age 54 at the time of his arrest in December, was sentenced to serve 10 years and one month in federal prison for his part in the crime. Eric Grimes, 29 when arrested, will serve 10 years.

Eric Soto, age 29 in December, was sentenced to 57 months, or four years and nine months, while Jamie Dotson, received a 14 1/2 year sentence.

Judge Cummings sentenced Joshua Whiteley to 262 months, or 21 years and nine months, and Joshua Wilkins will serve seven years and two months.

Julian Lane, from the Dallas area, was sentenced to 10 years in a federal prison, while his brother, Marshall Lane received 27 years. Kevin Ruth will serve 12 years and seven months, while Lacy Jo Luttrull, one-time girlfriend of Joshua Whiteley, received nine years for her part.

Judge Cummings levied the heaviest sentence on Michael Roberson, as he will face 24 years and five months in federal prison.

Kimberly Newton, who was sentenced earlier this summer, has been sent to prison for 17 1/2 years.

After completing their respective sentences, each person will also serve five years of supervised release.

Three defendants, Ben Turnbow, Randy Cooper and Ivan Ruiz, are scheduled to appear for sentencing on September 26th.

Chamber revamped Ritchey no longer C-City employee

Amanda Jo Ritchey has worked in the position of Chamber of Commerce Manager for several years, employed partially by the chamber and partially by the City of Colorado City. That time has come to an end, as Ritchey will no longer be working in dual roles, according to Chamber Board President Ty Wood.

Up until 2009, the Colorado City Area Chamber of Commerce employed a manager and a secretary that worked only for the chamber and took care of all the chamber's business. At that time, then-City Manager Pete Kampfer revamped the system, making Ritchey an employee of the city as well as the chamber.

Ritchey and Amie Wood shared the duties of the Chamber of Commerce, Main Street and managing the Civic Center. The arrangement has been working, but new city attorney Lois Rockefeller recently pointed out the illegalities of the city paying the salary of an employee of a private organization, which in this case is the chamber.

As soon as City Manager David Hoover was notified of the city's liability in the situation, he began working with the chamber board to come to a mutually agreeable solution to the problem. Since the chamber board has not had to pay Ritchey's salary for the last five years, the chamber's funds had been directed toward repairs on the Railhead Building.

"We had to figure out a solution without killing the chamber," Hoover said Monday.

Back in the spring, officials from the city met with the chamber board to try to come to a solution. The city has given the chamber board $50,000 in hotel/motel funds to be spent on re-roofing the Railhead Building. The city council has also pledged to give 40% of next year's hotel/motel funds to the chamber to help with more Railhead renovations.

The extra funding should help ease the load of the chamber board resuming responsibility for

CCVFD busy Firefighters work several recent fires

Several structure fires in the last few days have kept Colorado City firefighters busy. There was a fire in a home on Marshall Street on Friday, crews fought a house fire on S. Houston on Saturday, a storage shed behind a house on 17th Street burned Sunday and Monday brought about an RV fire that occurred behind Gas 'n' Grub.

A fire in the 700 block of Marshall Street occurred Friday afternoon just before 4 p.m. CCVFD Chief Rick Goodney said that the fire was confined to a utility room just off the garage of the home. The fire involved a washer and was caused by an extension cord.

The cord, which was attached to the washing machine, was a lightweight green cord manufactured for use with Christmas lights. Goodney said it was just not heavy-duty enough to run the washer and eventually caused the fire.

Luckily, minimal smoke damage occurred in the home and firefighters were able to extinguish flames quickly.

Saturday night, firemen fought a house fire in a home on South Houston Street. Goodney said the home sustained major damage resulting from the fire.

Firefighters were on the scene for five hours trying to extinguish the blaze which involved most of the house and roof. The State Fire Marshal came to investigate and ruled that the fire was electrical in nature.

Though the house is an occupied dwelling, the residents were in Lubbock at the time the fire started.

Sunday, a few firemen were dispatched to a home on 17th Street, as a shed behind the home was on fire. The cause of the fire is under investigation, but flames were extinguished quickly and there was no damage to the house.

An RV fire behind Gas 'n' Grub Monday caused the death of a pet. An RV belonging to Daniel Hernandez caught fire while parked in a

CCPD warns citizens of rattlesnakes

According to Animal Control Officer Maeghan Mauzey, Colorado City Police Department has been receiving numerous calls about rattlesnakes. Callers have reported finding them in their homes, businesses and even on the streets in broad daylight.

This is not really something new. The snakes are moving a lot right now, trying to find a den or hole suitable for hibernation for the winter.

Western Diamondback Rattlesnakes are the most common type of rattlesnake found in this area. It is a venomous pit viper that commonly grows to about four feet in length. However, these snakes can reach lengths of up to seven feet, making it the largest of the southwestern desert rattlesnakes.

They have triangular-shaped heads with two dark diagonal lines on each side of their face, running from their eyes to their jaws. Their name is derived from the dark diamond-shaped patterns along their back. Their tail has black and white bands just above the rattle. The colorations are more easily visible on young snakes, as it seems faded on older snakes.

Safety tips for dealing with Western Diamondback Rattlesnakes follow.

-Know how to identify different types of snakes. The features of a rattlesnake are very distinguishable.

-Try to avoid entering the habitat of a rattlesnake.

-Rattlesnakes are most active on warm days.

-The like to hide in rocks and shrubs. Rarely, unless they are moving, will you see them in open areas. They like to avoid contact with predators as much as possible.

-If hiking in rattlesnake country, dress properly. Bites are common on the ankles and feet. For that reason, wear thick boots.

-Always carry a phone with you in rattlesnake country. Hike with a friend and never go alone.

-Keep a sharp eye out for rattlesnakes and watch every step. If you spot a rattlesnake, back away quietly and leave the snake alone.

-Rattlesnakes do not always rattle before they attack. They may have their head raised or in a coiled position.

If you get bitten by a rattlesnake, follow these steps: 1. Remain calm. This will decrease the spread of venom. 2. Call 911 or get to the hospital as soon as possible. 3. Do not elevate the spot that was bitten. 4. Clean the wound with soap and water and wrap it with a bandage.

The toxic venom of the Western Diamondback can quickly destroy tissues of the body's blood vessels, blood cells, and heart, as well as many other tissues. Bites should be treated immediately.

Mauzey said that rattlesnakes hatch up to 14 live baby snakes in one clutch. She urges residents to contact CCPD at 325-728-5294 if they see a rattlesnake and try to keep the snake in sight until officials are on scene.

Keep animals away from the rattlesnake if possible, and any animal bitten should be taken to the vet immediately.

"Do not approach the snake," Mauzey said. "That's how you get bit."

RV FIRE - An RV belonging to Daniel Hernandez caught fire while parked in the RV park behind Gas 'n' Grub Monday afternoon. Hernandez was at work when the fire started, but his dog was a casualty of the fire.

Mud will fly on Sept. 27th at Westbrook VFD mud bog

Sponsors are being sought for the annual Westbrook Volunteer Fire Department Mud Bog, as organizers finalize plans for the event scheduled for later this month.

Organizer Mindy Hale said that there are still spots available for reserved parking around the fence of the arena. Spots are reserved on a first come, first served basis, meaning that whoever pays first gets the spots.

Available parking spaces are limited and can be reserved by contacting Stacie Goswick at Stacie's Creations by calling 325-728-2100.

Mud will be flying Saturday, September 27th, at the Mitchell County Rodeo Arena, and this year's event will kick off a little early than in year's past. Registration begins at 10 a.m., and the action starts at 2 p.m.

Hale said that t-shirts and koozies have been ordered for this year's mud bog, and the Westbrook PTA will be serving up fine concession stand fare as in year's past.

Hopefully, the earlier starting time will allow more spectators a chance to see the all the mud-flinging glory, as entrants take their turn at the pit. Adults will get in the gates for $5 per ticket, and kids 12 and under can enter for $2.

Entry fee to compete in the mud bog is $30 for anyone wanting to fly through the mud pit, and there will be a 100% payout.

'All Around the Campfire' to feature night creatures

Park Superintendent Kyle O'Haver and park employees are proud to bring the newest program to the citizens of the area, as they present "All Around the Campfire" at Lake Colorado City State Park. The program was created specifically for the local park, and participation is what it will take to make the event a success.

The first All Around the Campfire is planned for Saturday, September 13th and will be held from 7 to 9 p.m. at the state park. There will be more installments, as weather permits.

Each gathering will have a theme, such as creatures of the night, cowboy poetry, campfire songs and even ghost stories.

O'Haver will present the first program, which will focus on creatures of the night. The shining eyes of a raccoon, the chirp of a cricket and the "who" of a Great Horned Owl will all be discussed. If participants are interested, there may be a short walk to discover some of the creatures.

Everyone attending is welcome to bring their own s'mores and hotdogs to cook on the fire during the program to make the evening even more enjoyable. O'Haver reminds those planning to attend to bring a chair and join the circle All Around the Campfire.

For more information about this program, call the state park office at 325-728-3931.

Colorado Floral earns Texas Treasure honor

Business began in 1912 with Claire Smith selling flowers out of her yard to feed her family

Colorado Floral & Gifts was recently honored as a Texas Treasure Business by the Texas Historical Commission. The following story was taken from information submitted to the commission for consideration for the award.

Owned and operated by Marsha Jordan, Colorado Floral & Gifts has been located at 341 E. 3rd Street in Colorado City since the 1960s. The business has seen several owners since its inception in 1912, when Claire Rogers Smith started selling flowers from her yard at 336 Locust.

Claire was the daughter of Rev. O.F. and Theresa Rogers, who came to Colorado in a covered wagon. Rev. Rogers is said to have preached the first sermon in the town.

A historical account of the business, written by Elsie Smith Ramsdell Scaife, says that Claire began selling flowers to help feed her nine children. Claire's husband died in 1917, and she continued to grow and sell seasonal flowers. As the business began to grow, Claire had a small greenhouse built so that she could expand to grow off-season flowers such as snapdragons, pansies and other flowers she would grow from seeds.

The floral business took off and Claire rented half of a building on Walnut Street, sharing the structure with Dozier's Barber Shop. She purchased a refrigerator with glass doors and put up a sign that read, Colorado Floral Company.

After the death of Claire's son-in-law, her daughter, Hattie Smith Ramsdell, and granddaughter, Elsie, moved to Colorado and helped her with the floral business. In 1934, a funeral spray cost $1.50 and corsages cost $3. Orchids could be purchased for the high price of $10, and gardenias ran about $5.

Hattie grew a large bougainvillea that covered one end of the greenhouse. The large plant became a tourist attraction in Colorado City.

World War II brought an increase of business to Colorado Floral Company. Incentives to buy war bonds were everywhere. Colorado Floral Company had an advertisement in the Colorado Record that read, "Orchids to bond buyers from Colorado Floral Co." The following week, the Record printed a note of thanks to the Ramsdells for their participation in the bond drive.

In July of 1945, Colorado Floral was sold to Mr. and Mrs. E.B. Willbanks after 30 years of ownership in Colorado City by the same family. Colorado City natives, Rush and Puddy Neff bought the flower shop in the 1960s and owned it until they sold it to Hortense and Doug Neff in the late 70s.

Becky Harkins owned Colorado Floral for a few years in the 80s, as did Sis and Donna Star. Current owner, Marsha Burrus Jordan, has been the owner/operator of the shop since 1988.

The historical account of the business says, "Over the years, Colorado Floral has provided flowers to comfort grieving people in the loss of a loved one, to cheer and encourage sick people, to surprise and delight many on holidays, for celebrations and gifts or just to say, 'Hello, I'm thinking of you!'"

Colorado Floral & Gifts began in a backyard and is still serving the community. The 102-year-old business now has the distinction of being a Texas Treasure Business to add to its historical past.

MCHD board approves budget; includes health clinic and lodge

A quorum of the Mitchell County Hospital District Board of Directors met last Thursday to approve the budget for the upcoming fiscal year and adopt the tax rate that will fund the budget.

Hospital Administrator Robbie Dewberry said that the budget is based on net patient revenue of $15 million. Officials expect to pay about $17.9 million in expenses during the new fiscal year that begins October 1st. The deficit is made up with taxes collected to balance the budget.

Dewberry said that approximately half of the cost to construct the new rural health clinic has been budgeted, amounting to a little over $800,000. The other half of the cost will be included in next year's budget.

Another expense that has been included in this year's budget is $85,000 for architects to begin looking at plans for the construction of a new nursing home and an assisted-living facility.

Ambulances are needed continually, so $125,000 has also been budgeted for that this year.

Dewberry said that he budgeted about $46,000 for furniture for the new clinic. Expected costs are running close to $96,000, but the hospital has received notice from the Texas Department of Agriculture that the facility is the recipient of a $50,000 grant to help furnish the clinic.

Hospital officials are working on two grants which may help fund a fiber optics upgrade for the medical facility. NTS Communications is expanding fiber optics in Colorado City; good news for hospital personnel.

Currently, the 10MB fiber optics in use by MCHD is quite sluggish, according to Dewberry. He said that when large ultrasound files are being sent out via the internet, the entire system slows to a crawl. NTS has said it can furnish 100MB of broadband for the facility.

The budget for Valley Fair Lodge was also touched on during the meeting. The long-term nursing facility is estimated to see a net gain of approximately $316,000, based on net patient revenue estimates of a little over $2 million.

After approving the budget, board members adopted the proposed tax rate of $0.232161 per $100 which will bring in approximately $3 million in revenue for the hospital district.

The rate is a combination of .187000 for maintenance and operations and .045161 for bond payments. The hospital makes payments on the bonds of $588,251.02 annually.

During the administrator's report, Dewberry said that the district has hired outside auditors who have been visiting Kristi Lee Manor to look into the details of operations of the nursing home. The hospital board is considering the purchase of the privately-owned nursing home.

Auditors will be presenting their findings to the board sometime later in September.

OPINION & COMMENTARY

TUMBLEWEED SMITH 50 Years of romance and radio

When Jerry Snyder of Weatherford was a young nighttime DJ working at the station by himself, he put a record on the turntable and left the station to get a donut. Somehow the door locked when he left and when he returned he couldn't open it. He looked through the window and saw the record was about to end. He didn't know what to do, so he just sat down on the curb in front of the station and listened on his car radio. He heard the record end followed by the repeated scraping sound as the turntable arm's needle hit the dead spot on the record. Jerry ate his donut while pondering his fate.

It wasn't long before the manager of the station drove up and asked Jerry how he was doing. Jerry, the newest employee at the station, said, "Not very good. Am I fired?" The manager said, "No, let's go inside and get the thing back on the air." They did just that and the incident was never brought up again. Jerry kept his job at the station.

Jerry became a successful radio personality and did what he calls theater of the mind. He created different characters and gave each of them a special voice. Very few people have enjoyed radio as much as Jerry. He was the number one DJ in Austin when he noticed a salesman's check stub in the break room. Being a curious guy, he looked at it and quickly learned that the real money in radio was in sales. So he switched from announcing to sales. He was very good at it and when he acquired enough money he started buying radio stations. He bought six of them and each one was highly profitable. He sold his last one a couple of years ago but kept the building and turned it into a palatial home, complete with a radio studio where he produces a weekly hour-long program and sends it out on CD to about 30 subscribers. He plays music, has short features and uses the voices of all the characters he created.

At one of his stations a 16-year-old DJ got locked out of the station during his shift and there was nothing on the air. Jerry, recalling his early days in radio when he had a similar experience, went to the station and found the teenager sitting on the steps of the station. Jerry sat down beside him and asked, "How're you doing?" The teen replied, "Not very good. Am I fired?" Jerry said no. They went inside, got the station back on the air and all was forgiven and forgotten.

Jerry and his wife Glynda just celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary. They met when Jerry walked into the office where Glynda worked. He was immediately smitten. Glynda was engaged to a guy named John at the time but apparently it wasn't very serious because she accepted an invitation from Jerry to go on a date.

Jerry asked her if she took dictation. She said she did and Jerry dictated a letter to her: Dear John: I've met a really nice guy in the radio business and we're going to get married. Enclosed is your photograph and ring. That was his proposal and they were married three months later. Family members and friends they met during their radio years attended their anniversary celebration.

Five golden hemorrhoids Defamation of the Sacred

By Monte Wilke

The Israelites and Philistines were locked in one of their continuous battles and Israel was losing. The soldiers demanded that the sacred Ark of the Covenant be brought to the battlefield as a talisman of good luck. There were very rigid rules as to who could move the ark or handle it. Anyone touching it would die. They violated these rules.

The ark was brought, the battle lost, and suddenly the Philistines found themselves in possession of this sacred relic. They quickly found out that God did not tolerate its misuse and He began to inflict terrible plagues on the unfortunate dukedoms that held and then moved the ark. They decided it must be returned. But what kind of offering would they make as an atonement?

The plague had been of horrible rat infestation, whose bites or fleas brought on hemorrhoids on all area residents. So each of the dukedoms made a golden statue of a mouse or rat and a pile of gold representing their tortured backsides.

They hitched two cows to the cart carrying the Ark, took away their calves and turned them loose. They left their bawling calves and headed straight for Israeli territory. There it landed at the farm of Joshua and he knew to call the Levites to take care of it. Thousands of men died who looked into it or touched it. It was finally properly returned to Jerusalem by the priests who would carry it by long staves on their shoulders, never on a cart. (Read the whole story in First Samuel five and six.)

Defamation of the sacred is still in our world today. Ideals on which our nation was built and became strong have been dragged into the mud. The sacredness and authority of the Bible have been denied or weakened on every hand. The names of God and Jesus have become the most common curse words. The church has little power, Sunday is no longer set aside as a day of worship. Marriage is an antique idea for many, babies aborted, families disregarded or sacrificed, authority and honor and unity gone. The church has surrendered its charge to feed the hungry and tend the sick over to gigantic governmental programs of welfare and health care.

Truth and trust are lacking from governments, courts, and information sources. Moral concepts and teachings, every Commandment, every Bible doctrine, has been so broken, denied, watered down, explained away, and disregarded, There is little, if anything, remaining of the sacred. We face the next-to-impossible task of restoring the sacred to its place of respect, and certainly the probability of extreme punishment from the Almighty.

Since we have so abused the holy things of God is it any wonder that our country is plagued with rampant sin? The only proper way to get things back in order is to put God back in His rightful place, as Divine leader, and man in his rightful place as obedient follower.

Can we do it?

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Letter to the Editor,

Reverend Dr. Martin Luther King dreamed that Americans would be judged by their character- not by the color of their skin.

The "rev" Al Sharpton, the "rev" Jesse Jackson, the "rev" Jeremiah Wright and the "president" have no character and act as though the color of your skin is all that matters. These men are colossal failures in character and are an insult to black persons of character and intelligence.

Reverend King was an activist who preached love and peace in quest of welfare of black Americans. He would be hugely disappointed in Jesse Jackson.

My dream is the constitution. That "men" have the rights thereunder regardless of race and religious persuasion. That race would not be significant enough to mention except in medicine. That the validity of a citizen would reside in his character (integrity).

Tea anyone?

Museum to hold open house for "The Way Things Were"

Thanks to a grant by Humanities Texas, the Heart of West Texas Museum is hosting another traveling exhibit and this one features photographs from right here in Colorado City. Curator Patty Pharis has planned to hold an open house featuring the exhibit on Monday, September 15th from 7 to 9 p.m.

Pharis said she plans to hold another open house on Saturday, September 27th from 2 to 5 p.m. to give those coming in for the Mitchell County Reunion a chance to view the impressive exhibit called The Way Things Were.

This particular exhibit features settlers and their buildings with photographs of life from the 1860s to the 1930s. It is described as a pictorial essay on family and community life of Texas settlers reflected in old buildings.

Pharis said that 12 of the photos displayed are of buildings in Colorado City. She plans to invite historical building owners to participate in the open house by speaking to those attending about their building, its history and the plan for its future.

Humanities Texas is a state affiliate of the National Endowment of Humanities and the grant makes it possible for rural museums to host traveling exhibits like the one currently on display.

The Heart of West Texas Museum is open Tuesday through Saturday from noon to 5 p.m. each day. For more information, contact Pharis by calling 325-728-8285.

Others indicted and arrested in the second group are Felipe Ramirez of Roscoe, Lou Michael Royal of Sweetwater, Savanna Havner of Sweetwater, Reniesha Williams of Brownfield and Amy Brazier of Andrews.

Those arrested were transported to the Taylor County Jail in Abilene and await hearings before a federal magistrate.

Ritchey's salary.

Though it may seem like a big change, Wood said that very little has changed for Ritchey, especially in the day-to-day operations of the chamber. The only difference is that she will no longer be in charge of the Civic Center. Those responsibilities will be taken up by the new Main Street Director Carla Kern.

"Everybody's happy and nothing really changes for Amanda Jo," Wood said. "Now her check comes from the chamber instead of the city."

Ritchey is still in charge of chamber events, like the upcoming Frontier Days and Hunters' Appreciation Dinner.

According to Hoover, the salary of the chamber director had always been paid by the chamber board until changes were made in 2009. He said that the city had operated in good faith and officials weren't aware of the illegalities until recently. As soon as the liability was found, the city took the appropriate steps to fixing the problem.

City National Bank will, again, provide a hospitality booth, and local EMS and the hospital's emergency department will host a basic first aid care clinic at no charge.

The first aid care clinic will include information for children and adults, and the Rescue Me program will also be presented at no charge to those attending.

Casino Night "roars" with fun and excitement

Over $3000 raised to help fund hospital's charitable foundation

Roaring 20s Casino Night was a roaring success, as the event was well attended and raised over $3,000 for the Mitchell County Hospital District Charitable Foundation. Flapper girls and elegant gentlemen came out dressed for the event.

Those attending enjoyed Blackjack, Texas Hold 'Em, Craps and more at professional gaming tables with dealers provided by a Lubbock-based company.

Tasty goodies, as well as beer, wine and soft drinks, were served. And after a few hours of playing, gamblers were able to turn in their chips for tickets and enter several drawings for prizes donated by event sponsors.

Prize winners were: Stephanie Perez, $25 gift certificate and cup from The Dragonfly; Rhonda Roark, $25 gift certificate from The Anchored Soul; Robbie Dewberry, Shrade pocket knife from What's in Store; Audra Hoback, wine set from Alco; Medo Perez, decorative kitchen set from Perkin's Apothecary; Liz Cavitt, 24" Vizio Smart TV donated by Robbie Dewberry; Murray Hall, pie serving set donated by the Mitchell County Healthcare Volunteers; Karen Dennis, jewelry from Wood's Boots; Medo Perez, Infinity hair products from Lenore's Beauty Salon; Todd Randall, pocket knife from Cooper's Saddlery; Misty Lendermon, DeWalt tool set from Higginbotham-Bartlett; and Ty Wood, food processor donated by Shirley Delaney.

An impromptu auction was held by Brodie Harris for bottles of wine and 12-packs of beer, adding more funds to the charitable foundation.

Before the crowd dispersed, winners of the silent auction items were also announced. Champion Creek Farms was the winner of the two tickets for a free spa day in Abilene, as the bid of $300 bought the package. Maria Rubio's bid of $170 got her two tickets to see the Moscow Ballet perform The Nutcracker Suite in Dallas.

A bid of $210 by Liz Cavitt bought a beautiful handmade quilt on display at the event.

And the most coveted silent auction item went to Robbie Dewberry. His winning bid of $425 garnered him two tickets to the Texas Tech vs. University of Texas football game to be played in Lubbock this fall.

YOU GOTTA' KNOW WHEN TO HOLD 'EM - Hospital employees (l-r) Nevada Wagner, Misty Lendermon and Audra Hoback got into the swing of things and enjoyed a night out Saturday evening. The 1st annual Casino Night was held with proceeds going to the hospital's charitable foundation.

LUCK BE A LADY - The blackjack tables stayed busy during the Roaring 20s Casino Night benefiting the Mitchell County Hospital Charitable Foundation. Amanda Ranley, Jim White, Jill White, Janna Ratliff and Chanda Holsey tried to beat the dealer Saturday night.

CISD board meets; hears construction update

Construction of the new Colorado ISD campus is progressing, as steel beams are going up and board members approved bids to install an appropriate gas line to the campus site. The CISD Board of Trustees met Monday night and approved a bid by a San Angelo company to put in the new line.

Charlie Price of Compass Builders told board members that bids were sought and opened on August 19th. Three companies submitted bids to install the 4" gas line, which has been deemed necessary by Atmos Energy to provide natural gas to the campus once construction is complete.

The winning bid was submitted by Dickson Underground Utility Construction for $129,063. The bid does not include a payment and performance bond, but Price said that Compass will oversee the payment side of the P&P bond and Atmos will make sure the line is installed properly to cover the performance side of the bond.

Price said he was pleased to get a bid approved so that work could start in October, typically before winter weather can become an obstacle.

Once the gas line is installed, CISD will be eligible for rebates from the gas distribution company. By looking at past usage and estimating future usage, Atmos will rebate a large portion of the cost of the new gas line, according to Price.

The cost of the line is coming out of the general fund, as school officials were notified of the requirement after construction costs were planned into the bond money.

Price said he is pleased with the way things are going at the construction site. Though concrete delays were an obstacle a few weeks ago, he said that Ingram Concrete has been able to stay ahead of crews with the foundation pouring.

"I'm happy with progress being made," he said. "I've been pleased with what's going on at the site right now."

Credit by exam dates were approved by the board. The tests, commonly referred to as clep tests, are only used in unusual circumstances at CISD, according to Superintendent Reggy Spencer.

Region 14 Service Center provides the testing dates that were approved by the board.

The board approved the tax collections report submitted by Mitchell County Tax Assessor-Collector Sylvia Clanton. Of the $6,578,130.48 due, $6,484,483.62 had been collected as of August 31, 2014.

A $250 tax sale bid by Spencer Cannon for several lots located on Cypress between 2nd and 3rd streets was approved by the board. Once the property is cleared for purchase by Cannon, it will be put back on the tax roles.

During the Investment Report, financial officer Shelia Redwine told board members that a Certificate of Deposit will be maturing at the end of September. The board will be discussing options for the CD during next month's meeting. Spencer said that he is open to renegotiating the details of the CD to see if the school can get a better interest rate.

The construction fund is decreasing as expected as work progresses at the new campus site. Funds set aside for construction are earning interest at City National Bank.

There's still no word on pending visas for prospective math and science teachers from the Philippines. Spencer said that CHS Principal Mark Merrell has contacted Congressman Mike Conaway to see if headway could be made on the red tape. So far, there's been no word back from the congressman.

According to Conaway, the federal government is reluctant to expedite visas at the moment. He said that about 2,000 people have received visas and then disappeared over time after entering the U.S. legally.

The Philippine educational professionals are more than qualified for the job, according to Spencer. Both have master's degrees and are certified to teach the dual-credit classes. He said he hopes to hear something on the visas by the end of the month.

In the meantime, two highly qualified retired teachers, Anita Graham and Karen Riley, have taken over the classes.

Enrollment is within one student of being the same as last year, and Kelley Principal Melinda Alexander expected to enroll a new student Tuesday.

Alexander has applied for Early HeadStart eligibility at Kelley. The Region 14 Service Center evaluates the community and makes the eligibility decisions.

"Officials look at several aspects, including the need for child care assistance and income levels of HeadStart families with younger children."

If eligibility is granted for CISD, the school district could take on as many as 16 children under three for the program. HeadStart is much more than a prekindergarten program, as it helps families with dental appointments, doctor visits while conducting parent-teacher meetings and home visits.

Alexander said that over half of current HeadStart students have siblings that could benefit from the program.

2015 Relay for Life to be held at Sports Complex

Cliff Shiller, Relay for Life organizer, came before the Mitchell County Commissioners' Court Monday morning to ask for permission to use the Sports Complex for next year's event. Court members granted permission and voted to waive the fees to use the complex.

Shiller said that the fundraiser, benefitting the American Cancer Society, has outgrown the hospital's campus and needs the extra room at the complex to host the next relay.

Sue Young came to court and presented an update on progress of ongoing projects within the county.

Young said the first power plant construction crew will be arriving this week. The team will make some preliminary preparations in advance of a groundbreaking of the FGE Power, LLC plant. More crews will be coming to the area next week also.

As of yet, there has been no date set for an official groundbreaking ceremony.

A developer, who is buying the old Just Stop building west of Colorado City and putting in housing units near Westbrook, has been in contact with Young. He's hoping to provide housing to crews during the construction phases of the power plant, she said.

Young said that some of the first work undertaken will be preparation for water lines from the City of Colorado City's wastewater treatment plant to the site of the power plant near Westbrook.

Progress is being made in preparation for the desalination plant. Young said that the first test well has been drilled and treatable water was found at a deeper level than before.

Lone Wolf Groundwater Conservation District has hired a hydrologist from Stephenville. He will be performing tests on the well, including putting a camera down the hole.

Young said that the official paperwork has been received from the Texas Department of Agriculture granting the county an extension to complete construction on the desalination plant. Burrows speaks at Lions Club; appointed to Republican ballot REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE FOR HD 83 – Dustin Burrows of Lubbock has been appointed to take Charles Perry's place on the ballot. He is running to represent House District 83 which includes Mitchell County.

Dustin Burrows, Republican appointee to the ballot for Texas House District 83, joined local Lions Friday to introduce himself and let potential voters know how he stands on the issues. Burrows will face Democrat Max Tarbox in the election in November.

Burrows said that he's "humbled and honored to be chosen" to run for the seat vacated by Charles Perry, who is running for senator. Burrows was born and grew up in Lubbock, where he graduated from Monterrey High School. He attended Rhodes College in Tennessee but returned to Lubbock to attend Texas Tech University to finish his degree.

After graduating from law school at TTU, he joined his father at the law firm of McCleskey Harriger Brazill & Graff, LLP. The firm specializes in defending farmers against big corporations, unfair tax burdens and governmental regulations.

"I love my area, and I believe in conservative policies," Burrows told Lions.

Condensing his beliefs on hot-button issues, he said he's pro-life, pro-gun and pro-private property rights. He went on to say that he thinks Texas should secure the border and send the bill to Washington D.C.

Burrows said he wants to see the governor take control of water issues. He said that farmers are the best stewards of natural resources, and he thinks it's important to protect the Dockum Aquifer from overuse by the oil and gas industry.

He also stands against Proposition 6 that will be on the ballot in November. According to Burrows, the proposition gives voters the opportunity to approve the use of some of Texas' Rainy Day Funds for transportation costs.

"Roads have to be fixed," he said, "and that's why we have the gasoline tax."

Texas currently uses only about 20% of revenues brought in by the tax to fix roads. Burrows would like to see 100% of the revenue used for transportation needs in the state. "We need to start using those funds as they were intended," he said.

Burrows said he has heard of an idea coming out of Austin to issue identification cards to illegal aliens so they can begin to get governmental benefits. "That's the wrong policy," he said. He supports Charles Perry's idea of building a wall or fence along the southern border.

And finally, Burrows said he thinks less testing and more local control can improve the education of Texas' students. He would like to see local school districts have more control of policies.

According to Burrows, Texas ranks near the bottom in education because some of the bigger inner-city schools drag down the average, and much of the smaller, rural school districts provide good educations to students.

Burrows encouraged citizens to visit his website burrows4tx.com and weigh in on the issues facing Texas.

Producers could be eligible for benefits through FSA

Deadline to secure assistance is September 30th

The U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) is encouraging producers who have suffered eligible disaster-related losses to act to secure assistance by Sept. 30, 2014, as congressionally mandated payment reductions will take place for producers who have not acted before that date. Livestock producers that have experienced grazing losses since October 2011 and may be eligible for benefits but have not yet contacted their local Farm Service Agency (FSA) office should do so as soon as possible.

The Budget Control Act passed by Congress in 2011 requires USDA to implement reductions of 7.3 percent to the Livestock Forage Disaster Program (LFP) in the new fiscal year, which begins Oct. 1, 2014. However, producers seeking LFP support who have scheduled appointments with their local FSA office before Oct. 1, even if the appointment occurs after Oct. 1, will not see reductions in the amount of disaster relief they receive.

USDA is encouraging producers to register, request an appointment or begin a Livestock Forage Disaster Program application with their county FSA office before Oct. 1, 2014, to lock in the current zero percent sequestration rate. As an additional aid to qualified producers applying for LFP, the Farm Service Agency has developed an online registration that enables farmers and ranchers to put their names on an electronic list before the deadline to avoid reductions in their disaster assistance. This is an alternative to visiting or contacting the county office. To place a name on the Livestock Forage Disaster Program list online, visit <http://www.fsa.usda.gov/disaster-register>.

Producers who already contacted the county office and have an appointment scheduled need do nothing more.

"In just four months since disaster assistance enrollments began, we've processed 240,000 applications to help farmers and ranchers who suffered losses," said Agriculture Secretary Tom Vilsack. "Eligible producers who have not yet contacted their local FSA office should stop by or call their local FSA office, or sign up online before Oct. 1 when congressionally mandated payment reductions take effect. This will ensure they receive as much financial assistance as possible."

The Livestock Indemnity Program, the Tree Assistance Program and the Noninsured Disaster Assistance Program Frost Freeze payments will also be cut by 7.3 percent on Oct. 1, 2014. Unlike the Livestock Forage Disaster Program, applications for these programs must be fully completed by Sept. 30. FSA offices will prioritize these applications, but as the full application process can take several days or more to complete, producers are encouraged to begin the application process as soon as possible.

The Livestock Forage Disaster

Program compensates eligible livestock producers who suffered grazing losses due to drought or fire between Oct. 1, 2011 and Dec. 31, 2014. Eligible livestock includes alpacas, beef cattle, buffalo, beefalo, dairy cattle, deer, elk, emus, equine, goats, llamas, poultry, reindeer, sheep or swine that have been or would have been grazing the eligible grazing land or pastureland. Producers forced to liquidate their livestock may also be eligible for program benefits.

Additionally, the 2014 Farm Bill eliminated the risk management purchase requirement. Livestock producers are no longer required to purchase coverage under the federal crop insurance program or Noninsured Crop Disaster Assistance Program to be eligible for Livestock Forage Disaster Program assistance.

To learn more about USDA disaster relief program, producers can review the 2014 Farm Bill fact sheet at www.fsa.usda.gov/farmbill, the LFP program fact sheet, <http://go.usa.gov/5JTk>, or contact their local FSA office.

The Livestock Forage Disaster Program was made possible through the 2014 Farm Bill, which builds on historic economic gains in rural America over the past five years, while achieving meaningful reform and billions of dollars in savings for the taxpayer. Since enactment, USDA has made significant progress to implement each provision of this critical legislation, including providing disaster relief to farmers and ranchers; strengthening risk management tools; expanding access to rural credit; funding critical research; establishing innovative public-private conservation partnerships; developing new markets for rural-made products; and investing in infrastructure, housing and community facilities to help improve quality of life in rural America. CRP deadline is Sept. 11

Mitchell County USDA Farm Service Agency (FSA) Executive Director Keith Hiser, reminds livestock producers that the 2014 Conservation Reserve Program (CRP) emergency grazing deadline is September 11, 2014.

"Producers who took advantage of the emergency grazing provisions must remove all livestock from CRP acres by the September 11th deadline," said Hiser. "Producers must report the actual acreage grazed to the Mitchell County FSA office as soon as possible," he said.

The 25 percent CRP payment reduction for CRP acres used for grazing under these emergency provisions was waived under The Agricultural Act of 2014.

For more information about

CRP emergency grazing, please contact the Mitchell County FSA office at 325-728-2651 or visit the web at: www.fsa.usda.gov/tx.

Kiwanis Club is planning annual homecoming dinner

The tradition of the Kiwanis Club Homecoming Pre-Game Dinner continues with a few minor changes in the works for this year.

As usual, the dinner is set to be held before the Wolves' homecoming football game on Friday, September 19th. It will be held in Kiwanis Park in downtown Colorado City from 5 to 7:30 p.m. that evening.

This year, the menu will be a little different. Kiwanis Club members are planning to serve chicken fajitas with all the fixings to those attending. Dessert and a drink will also be served with every plate.

Adults eat for $9 per person and children under 12 years old eat for $7 each.

So, let the Kiwanis do the cooking for you Friday, September 19th, and make plans to attend the Kiwanis Pre-game Dinner.

Socks and water drive ongoing at Colorado High

Mike Smith, founder and executive director of a non-profit organization called The Bay, is coming to Colorado City to inspire local students and citizens and tell about the good work he does to help those in need every day.

CHS teacher Ann Bazany is beginning a socks and water drive in preparation of Smith's arrival. Smith will speak at the Colorado High School Auditorium on November 4th at 9:30 a.m., and everyone is welcome to attend.

Smith saw a need in his own community and began helping the homeless by giving socks and water, two basic needs of individuals living on the streets. Bazany said she would like to have the stage of the auditorium stacked with packages of socks and water to be donated to Smith's charities.

A native of Imperial, Nebraska, Smith has been speaking professionally for the last five years and has been a youth worker for over 10 years. He runs The Bay, an indoor skate park and youth center, and its offshoot, Skate for Change.

The non-profit agencies have begun to receive national acclaim and support from the likes of Red Bull and State Farm.

Smith has been described as an expert at communicating with kids and encouraging them to make good decisions that lead them to follow their dreams.

Anyone wishing to donate can do so by calling Bazany at the high school at 325-728-3424.

Wolves showing improvement

Big win over Crane, 35-14 Friday night

STELLAR OFFENSE - David Sanchez (20) scampers into the end zone Friday night, scoring one of his three touchdowns. Sanchez was nominated for Big Country Player of the Week honors for his outstanding effort against Crane. The Wolves beat Crane 35-14.

TOUCHDOWN! Junior Trinnon Jackson (5) hands the ball to the official after scoring his first touchdown against Crane Friday night. Jackson had 108 rushing and passing yards during the game.

It wasn't fancy, maybe even a little ugly, but Colorado City's 35-14 romp over Crane last Friday night proved the Wolves are a much improved team.

Senior runningback, David Sanchez rushed for a season high 181-yards on 17 carries and three touchdowns, leading the Wolves offensive attack.

Defensively, junior linebacker Andrew Burrola had possibly his best outing this year making several big plays, along with Mark Munoz. Defensively, several Wolves stepped up and played solid, sound defense including Munoz, Alex Trujillo, Oliver Sosa and Burrola.

The ugly comes from four turnovers, all interceptions by the Wolves. However, the Cranes had five turnovers, three interceptions and two fumbles giving the Wolves an edge in turnover comparisons.

The Golden Cranes jumped off to a quick start scoring on their first possession, a 79-yard pass and run by their talented senior receiver Oscar Nuno with 9:46 left in the first quarter, crane was up 7-0.

Midway through the first quarter, Alex Trujillo made the first of three interceptions by the Wolves.

Early in the second quarter, the Wolves' Trinnon Jackson scampers in from the nine yard line. A successful PAT tied the game at 7-7.

The Wolves' Shadda Cansler would recover a fumble on the ensuing kick-off, but an interception would end the scoring drive at the 19 yard line.

Sanchez would score his first of three touchdowns with 6:30 to go in the second quarter. Sanchez scored from 33 yards out and with a successful PAT, the Wolves lead 14-7.

Mark Munoz picked off a

Crane pass deep in Crane's territory setting the Wolves up in good field position with 1:45 left in the second quarter. A short pass from quarterback Dillion Gainey to Sanchez with 10 seconds left in the second quarter put the Wolves up 21-7.

Munoz picked-off another errant Crane pass with 6:24 remaining in the third quarter. Quarterback Gainey hit Trinnon Jackson deep in the end zone with 6:13 in the third quarter. After a successful PAT Colorado City was up 28-7. Crane scored late in the third quarter, but a 59-yard touchdown run by Sanchez put the Wolves up by 35-14 at the end of the third quarter.

"Overall the victory was a good team effort. Getting the win was important. Our kids have been working hard and we needed this," coach Dan Gainey said.

Another bright spot for the Wolves was the kicking game. Alan DeSantiago was perfect on all extra point attempts, where as in week one he missed on three attempts. Also punter Gainey continues to average over 40 yards per punt. The Wolves are punting out of their regular offensive formation which has eliminated almost all runbacks.

Gainey had seven punts last week and averaged 43.1 yards per punt.

JV Wolves win over Crane, 24-8

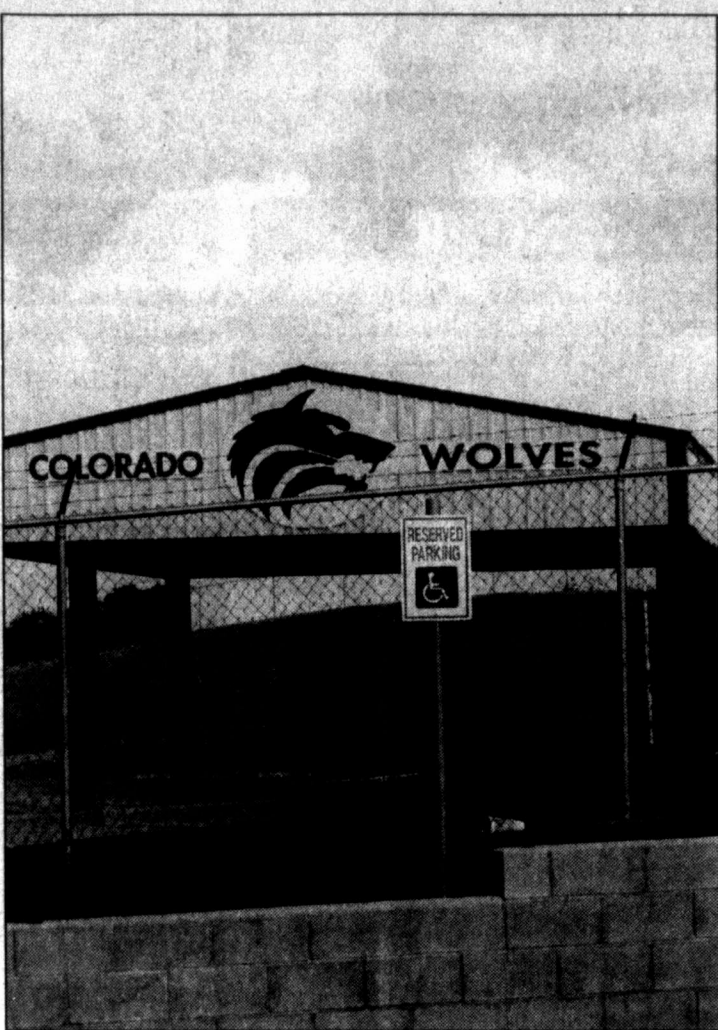

The JV Wolves beat Crane last week 24-8 showing a lot of improvement from a loss to Albany a week earlier.

"Our kids were really fired up about the win," coach B.J. Graham said. "It was a completely different football team from the Albany game."

The Wolves scoring came from a 12-yard run by Tommy James and a James to Zack Potter PAT pass was successful.

Another touchdown came on a 5-yard run by Zach Casares. The Wolves third touchdown came on a quarterback sneak from the one yard line by James. The field position was set up on a fumble recovery by Josh Salazar on the one yard line. Jaqualine Spraglin ran in the 2 point conversion. The JV Wolves added a safety when Crane kicked the ball out of the end zone.

The JV Wolves travel to Brownfield Thursday for a 6 p.m. contest. The JV team is made up of six sophomores, and the remainder are freshman. The JV Wolves were successful on two fourth down plays during their first drive early in the game.

LOOKING GOOD - Red Rock Plaza was a big hit at last Friday's football game against Crane. The plaza was donated to Wolf Stadium by Red Rock Oilfield Services. Owners Blaine Lemons and Cory Beavers are both CISD graduates.

Wolves face Brownfield Friday at Wolf Stadium

The Brownfield Cubs invade Wolf Stadium Friday night for 7:30 p.m. non-district clash.

Brownfield is 1-1 this season, beating Greenwood last week 21-6 and losing to Fort Stockton in the season opener.

The Cubs are in district 2-3A DI with Shallowater, Denver City, Slaton, Kermit and Tornillo.

The player to watch is quarterback Sha'Colby Hill, a 6'1 185lb speedster that was elected the district's pre-season offensive MVP. He is the districts leading rusher and passer returning from last season.

"They're a big school with a lot of kids playing football, they're certainly capable of running or passing the football. We've got to keep the ball away from Hill," head coach Dan Gainey said Monday. "We've got to find a way to contain him."

The Wolves are also 1-1 off a convincing 35-14 victory over Crane last week.

The Wolves will be without Nick Palacios who suffered a concussion in the Crane game. He left the game and was taken to Mitchell County Hospital at halftime for observations. Saturday morning he was back at the field house but according to UIL protocol, he will miss this Friday's game.

Kick-off is set for 7:30 p.m.

Bulldogs lose to Buena Vista Longhorns, 52-6

The Loraine Bulldogs were outscored 52-6 last Friday night in Loraine by the Buena Vista Longhorns.

The 36-6 halftime lead by the Longhorns was hard to overcome.

Offensively the Bulldogs were unable to get anything going. Loraine's only score came when J.T. Cooper returned a kick 57 yards with 3:29 remaining in the second quarter.

The Bulldogs were held to only 86 yards of total offense. Patrick Tillis rushed 14 times for the 86 yards.

This week the Bulldogs have an open date and hope to regroup as they prepare to play the Westbrook JV team on Thursday, Sept. 18th, at Johnson Field in Loraine. The schedule had originally had a Sept. 12th game with Highland. On Sept. 25th a Thursday game with Ira JV has been set up instead of the scheduled game with Hermleigh. The schedule changes were made due to player suspensions.

The Bulldogs will forfeit their next two games.

Wildcats cruise over Wilson, 54-0

Westbrook cruised to an easy 54-0 victory over Wilson last week.

It was their second win of the season against no losses.

Winless Blackwell comes to town Friday night for a 7:30 p.m. contest.

Blackwell lost to Jayton last week 54-8. The Hornets are in DII school in District 7 with Loraine, Moran and Trent.
