State Witnesses Describe Electra Girl's Death Under Wheels Of Auto

CASE EXPECTED TO REACH JURY BY NOON TODAY

OFFICER ON STAND

Good Reputation of Accused Man Is Basis of Defense

Attorneys' arguments in the case of Ray H. Page of Electra, on trial before Judge Allan D. Montgomery in the 30th district court on a charge of murder, will begin at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning. The case probably will go to the jury about noon.

The indictment against Page was returned in connection with the death of Miss Evelyn Mae Patton of Electra on a paved highway about a mile south of that city on the night of Nov. 13, 1931. The state charges that the defendant was driving his car while intoxicated and that the fatal accident was a result of that fact.

Driver Intoxicated, State Claims

Evidence setting forth the death of the girl, the participation of Page's car in the crash, the alleged drunken condition of the defendant, and the circumstances surrounding the accident was introduced by the prosecution during the afternoon. Aside from intensive cross-examination of state witnesses, the defense consisted of testimony offered by about 10 character witnesses.

Eschol Holbrook, escort of the victim on the night of the accident, described the position of his car upon the highway when the crash occurred. The young couple had attended a wiener roast that night, he said, at the City Lake park, north of Electra. Thereafter they drove through Electra and to Newtown, five miles south, and return. About one mile south of Electra, Holbrook said, he parked his car so that only the two left wheels remained on the pavement, and prepared to repair a punctured tire.

"I had the tube fixed, and back in the casing, and was putting the rim back on the left rear wheel," he testified, "when I saw a car coming from the south, about 200 or 300 yards away. It was coming fast. Evelyn was standing just to my right and behind me as I put

Officers of Two Counties Join in Big Still Capture

Special to The Record News.

GRAHAM, Texas, Jan. 19.—Officers of two counties today participated in a raid on a still 25 miles southwest of here when the question of the still's location arose.

Confident that a whisky manufactury was in operation near the Young-Stephens boundary, but not positive whether the still was on the Young or Stephens side, officers of both counties participated and captured a 70-gallon plant in operation. Two operators of the still outdistanced the officers as they fled in the wooded grove that secreted the plant.

J. B. Foster, Young county sheriff, and Deputies Freeland and Ray Hickey of Stephens, raided the plant. They later satisfied themselves that the still was on the north side of the county line in Young county. When the officers suddenly came upon the still near the Huffstuttle community the still had just been fired, but had not started running fluid. Returning from the chase after the two operators, the officers found that the still was running a stream of corn whisky.

Materials were destroyed at the scene and the still was removed to Graham.

Unveiled

This impressive bronze statue of Gen. Robert E. Lee was unveiled by the Virginia General assembly Tuesday, the anniversary of the birth of the great Southern leader. The statue by Rudolph Evans, noted Virginia sculptor, stands on the spot where General Lee took command of the Confederate forces in the civil war.

STATUE OF LEE IS UNVEILED

Virginia Group Honors Southern Leader

RICHMOND, Va., Jan. 19. (AP)—Virginia today dedicated a statue of Gen. Robert E. Lee in enduring bronze while the entire southland joined in paying tribute to her illustrious son.

The heroic figure of the Confederate leader stood before the huge throng that packed the historic old hall of the Virginia house of delegates today just as Col. Robert E. Lee stood on April 23, 1861, to accept a command of the armed forces of Virginia.

Little Robert E. Lee, IV, great grandson of General Lee, pulled the silken cord that withdrew the Confederate and Virginia flags from the statue. The ceremony was in the presence of a joint session of the Virginia general assembly, nine direct descendants of General Lee, a number of Confederate veterans, three former governors of Virginia, members of the supreme court of the state and a long list of distinguished guests.

R. Gray Williams, Winchester, the orator of the day, said General Lee's military genius shone "like a sharp and shining sword." But that the Confederate leader reached his greatest heights of character in the defeat of his armies.

Gov. John Garland Pollard announced that through the generosity of an unnamed admirer of General Lee an advance without interest of $115,000 had been made to the Robert E. Lee Memorial Foundation to pay off the mortgage on Stratford, the Lee home in Westmoreland county.

As Virginia paid her tribute to General Lee in exercises in various cities, the 125th anniversary was observed throughout the territory where once fluttered the Stars and Bars.

Bolters Tie Up Affairs Of Wisconsin Senate

MADISON, Wis., Jan. 19. (AP)—Thirteen progressive members of the state senate bolted the sessions today and announced they would return "whenever the stalwart majority is ready to enact a relief bill for any reasonable amount of money provided it imposes the burden where it belongs."

The absence of the 13 senators and several others made it impossible to transact any business today.

CITY TO PAY GRANDMA KEMP FINAL HONORS

Noted Mother of Leaders Dies Early Tuesday At Home Here

RITES AT 3 O'CLOCK

Death Claims Pioneer Only Two Months Before 93rd Birthday

Mrs. Emma Frances Kemp, mother of one of the most distinguished families in the history of Wichita Falls, "Grandma Kemp" to hundreds here for many years, will be laid to rest in Riverside cemetery Wednesday afternoon.

The aged woman, approaching her 93rd birthday, died suddenly after a few hours illness at her home, 1911 Lucile, at 4:30 o'clock Tuesday morning. She died as she had wished, quitting the affairs of a remarkably long and active life abruptly, without a prolonged period of illness or invalidism.

The city to which she gave the leadership of her children will pay its last tribute in funeral services to be held from the First Baptist church at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. Rev. O. L. Powers, assisted by Rev. George P. Horst, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, will conduct the services.

Apparently in Good Health

Death came to "Grandma Kemp" a little more than a year after it took her son, J. A. Kemp, foremost among the builders and leaders of Wichita Falls. It came only a few months after Mrs. M. M. Addickes, her daughter and another of the first citizens here, succumbed to a prolonged illness. It leaves surviving three daughters, Mrs. Frank Kell, sharer of the family wealth and distinction; Mrs. Fanny Terry, Columbia, Texas; Mrs. Lottie Kemp Hill of Comanche, Texas; 31 grandchildren; 38 great-grandchildren and a number of great-great grandchildren. Three other sons, Thomas Kemp, Maples Kemp, and William Clinton Kemp, died many years ago.

Texan Presents Bill for Tariff On Foreign Oils

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19. (AP)—A bill to provide import duties on crude petroleum and all its products was introduced today by Representative Sanders, Democrat, Texas.

He asked $1 a barrel tariff on crude oil and 50 per cent ad valorem on refined products.

Delegates to Geneva Conference Sail Today

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19. (AP)—The delegation to the Geneva disarmament conference will leave American shores tomorrow to face one of history's most difficult tasks.

A group of 31 will board the S. S. President Harding in New York, including two of President Hoover's five appointees to the delegation proper. They are Senator Swanson of Virginia and Dr. Mary Emma Woolley, president of Mount Holyoke college.

Secretary Stimson, the new leader of the mission, will stay behind and join his colleagues later. A last minute change of personnel today assigned the cabinet officer to the delegation chairmanship, replacing Charles G. Dawes, who was named president of the reconstruction finance corporation.

William Wrigley Jr. Ordered to Take Rest

PHOENIX, Ariz., Jan. 19. (US)—William Wrigley Jr., chewing gum and baseball magnate, was ordered to take several weeks of complete rest today, following an attack of acute indigestion.

Huey Long's Candidate for Governor Takes Lead in Louisiana Election

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 19. (AP)—As additional returns came in, O. K. Allen, Huey Long's candidate for governor, spread his lead over the field in today's Democratic primary election.

Returns from 185 precincts out of a total of 1,441, including 236 precincts in the city of New Orleans and 49 scattered over the state, gave Allen 66,223, Dudley J. LeBlanc 16,640, George Seth Guion 12,299, William C. Boone 134, and William L. Clark 88.

In the contest for lieutenant-governor, John B. Fournet, running mate of Allen, was well ahead on returns from 46 precincts, including three in New Orleans, the count standing Fournet 1,879, Ruvian D. Hendrick 930, Earl Long 525, Lee Lanier 52, J. O. Stewart 24.

Outside of New Orleans on the scattered returns Fournet was running closely with Hendrick, but the three New Orleans precincts gave Fournet 963, Hendrick 46 and the others none.

On the meager returns from the country parishes LeBlanc was leading in the parishes of De Soto, Natchitoches, Sabine and Winn.

On box reporting in St. Bernard parish gave Allen 485, and the others none.

Spokesmen for the anti-Long factions claimed returns from the country parishes would cut the Allen lead and they still held hopes the election would be thrown into a second primary.

Returns from the parishes were being counted slowly, in many cases the parish vote being tabulated before that for the state offices.

Wichita Salesman And Wife Shot To Death In Wewoka, Okla., Hotel

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Day, who made their home at intervals at 2008 Eleventh street here, were shot to death in a leading hotel in Wewoka, Okla., Monday night, Associated Press dispatches to The Record News announced Tuesday night.

A coroner's jury returned a verdict of murder and suicide after the bodies were found, a pistol near the hand of Mr. Day. Notes saying "I have stood all I can of this" had been addressed to a daughter, Mrs. Eula Seyfourth, Oklahoma City; and a son, W. A. Day, Dallas.

Paper Salesman

Mr. and Mrs. Day had lived in the Eleventh street house here for about two years, making their home there when they were not traveling together. Mr. Day was in the employ of an Oklahoma City paper house as salesman, and friends here said he was also interested in the drug business. The two left here about one week ago. The son in Dallas was directed in the note from his father to get furniture from the home here.

Acquaintances here said the two had been married about one year.

His former wife, at Oklahoma City, said she and Day were divorced last August and that she did not know he had remarried.

Wewoka authorities said they believed Day's second wife formerly was Miss Alice Hoffman of Idabel, Okla., and that the two had been married at Idabel recently.

Owned Home Here

W. A. Day, the son at Dallas, told The Associated Press his father owned the Eleventh street house and that he had lived in Wichita Falls several years and lately had lived here with his second wife. He was never connected with any Wichita Falls firm.

The younger Day could advance no motive for the act. He said his father had lived in Dallas from 1909 to 1923.

Besides W. A. Day, one other son and a daughter reside in Dallas. They are Louis T. Day and Mrs. Sheuler Elkner. They planned to go tomorrow to Oklahoma City where they said the funeral would be conducted.

Other surviving children were James R. Day Jr., of Tulsa, Mrs. Jules Seyfourth of Oklahoma City, M. Day of Oklahoma City, R. L. Day of Birmingham and Mrs. C. R. Hallmark of San Angelo.

Earthquake Rocks Peru Metropolis

LIMA, Peru, Jan. 19. (AP)—A strong earthquake shook Lima tonight, terrorizing the inhabitants, cracking the walls of buildings and plunging the city into darkness.

It was not immediately ascertained whether there had been any casualties, but a number of ancient dwellings were feared to have tumbled down.

The quake rocked the earth in sea-like waves. Electric lights went out, adding to the terror of a screaming populace. The crash of breaking glass added to the tumult.

Balconies and cornices fell. The old Church of San Francisco, famed for its architecture, was damaged.

The shock sent the inhabitants, most of them at dinner or filling the seats in movie theaters, into the streets, plazas and other open places.

New Jersey Governor Proposes Tax Slash

TRENTON, N. J., Jan. 19. (AP)—A. Harry Moore, Democrat, stepped back into the governorship of New Jersey today with a tax slashing plan running into millions of dollars.

He asked the legislature to sweep out 94 agencies and 35 commissions and substitute a 12-man cabinet.

"I am in favor," he said, "of passing back to the taxpayer some of the money that may be saved by postponement of all non-essential state activities."

Then he proposed that $16,500,000 be turned back through municipalities, many of which have found it hard to meet state tax requirements. Of this amount $13,000,000 would come from the gasoline tax and $3,500,000 from the savings on a restricted highway program.

Motion to Dismiss Tax Law Suit Heard

HOUSTON, Jan. 19. (AP)—A defense motion to dismiss the suit seeking to strike down the state automobile license tax law was taken under advisement today by District Judge Charles Ashe.

Judge Ashe likewise directed counsel to prepare suggested charges to the jury and present them to the court tomorrow.

The suit, filed by the Harris county commissioners, seeks injunction to restrain Tax Collector J. W. Hall from remitting to the state highway department any license fees collected in this county, contending the law is discriminatory, and thus invalid, in that it permits small counties to retain larger percentages of fees collected than it allows larger counties to keep. The state highway department is a codefendant.

Painter Gets Bumps After Four-Story Fall

NEW YORK, Jan. 19. (US)—Julius Diamond, painter, fell four stories today and then went home, with just a few bumps, to celebrate his luck. He was painting shutters when he lost his balance. A skylight guard of wire stopped his fall and he landed on a pile of books without any serious injuries.

'Dry' Era Changes Taste and Tactics Of American Girls

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19. (UP)—The American girl who once would slap a man's face for offering her a drink of liquor, today "will kick you in the pants if you don't have one," Representative Samuel Dickstein, Democrat, New York, told the senate beer committee today.

He said prohibition could not be enforced even "by the whole army" and agreed with other witnesses who have testified that the dry law had forced college students to drink hard liquor.

"There is more liquor in the colleges than in the workshops," Dickstein asserted.

RUTH CALM AS TRIAL BEGINS

Crowds Clamor at Doors Of Packed Courtroom

PHOENIX, Ariz., Jan. 19. (AP)—Winnie Ruth Judd, unperturbed by a boisterous crowd which jammed against the courtroom doors and howled when they were closed, sat in glacial calm today during questioning of jurors who may try her for the slaying of Agnes Ann Leroi.

The only sign of nervousness displayed throughout the day by the woman who has confessed slaying Mrs. Leroi and Miss Hedvig Samuelson last Oct. 16 in Phoenix, was periodic flicking of a handkerchief across her lap. She will be tried first for the Leroi slaying.

29 Must Be Seated

At the end of the first trial session 14 tentative jurors had been accepted. Five had been rejected.

Under Arizona law, a panel of 29 must be seated before either prosecution or defense may exercise preemptory challenges. From the tentative panel of 29 the defense peremptorily may remove 10 and the prosecution seven.

Counsel estimated the jury would not be complete before Thursday.

Halloran Mentioned

Persistent rumors that other names in addition to that of Mrs. Judd would be brought into the case were borne out in part when Lenkowitz asked veniremen regarding acquaintance or business associations with J. J. Halloran, Phoenix lumberman.

During investigation of the slaying Halloran in a formal statement said his associations with Mrs. Judd and the two girls who later were

Bankers Loan New York Money to Pay Debts

NEW YORK, Jan. 19. (US)—New York was saved from defaulting on its obligations at the last minute today, when an unnamed group of bankers advanced $12,500,000 to Comptroller Berry.

The loan must be repaid in 11 days, or on Feb. 1. The city was forced to pay 6 per cent interest for the accommodation.

Berry, faced with short term notes amounting to $32,500,000 due tomorrow, sought to borrow the full amount from the banks. He came away with approximately a third of the amount.

Georgian Takes GOP to Task for Conditions

SAVANNAH BEACH, Ga., Jan. 19. (AP)—The only communism to fear in the United States is the communism to empty stomachs and naked backs, Gov. Richard B. Russell Jr. said here today at a highway celebration.

The youthful, Democratic chief executive took the Republican administration to task for present economic conditions and expressed the belief the national reconstruction program, sponsored by the administration, "can not help the poor," unless the "man at the top" is willing.

Aged Woman Burned To Death in Flames

LOVINGTON, N. M., Jan. 19. (AP)—Mrs. C. L. Epps, 70, an invalid for several years, burned to death in the home of her brother and sister near here late yesterday.

Burial will be at Plains, Texas. Survivors include two sons, Gorton and Alvin Epps of Lubbock.

Jury Gives Suspended Sentence in Murder

HOUSTON, Jan. 19. (AP)—Earl Notley, 28, tire vulcanizer, was found guilty of the murder of Jack "Happy" Kearns, 52, mesquito lotion pedler, by a jury in district court tonight. He was given a five-year suspended sentence.

'Alfalfa Bill' Will Make Declaration at State Convention

Oklahoman Talks Politics And Exhibits Himself To Washington

By CHARLES M. M'CANN

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19. (UP)—Gov. William H. (Alfalfa Bill) Murray plans to announce his presidential candidacy at the Oklahoma state convention Feb. 20, it was learned today.

If the Oklahoma governor's advisors think they see a popular demand for an earlier announcement, he may make one.

"Alfalfa Bill," wearing the frock coat that he usually saves for state occasions, spent most of today at the capitol letting Democratic senators and congressmen look him over—and congratulate him on the liquor control plan he had the temerity to suggest to the bone dry Anti-Saloon league Monday night.

Bill Basks in Light

First at the house end of the capitol, then at the senate end, Murray, his unruly gray hair contrasting with the funeral black of his statesman's ensemble, received nearly all Democrats in the cloakrooms.

There was not much time for talk. The idea was to let the politicians get a view of another presidential possibility, which "Alfalfa Bill" has decidedly become during his three-day visit.

His friends believe that with his speeches, notably the liquor speech before the dry convention, he is the strongest candidate in the field at the moment, with the Roosevelt star showing signs of waning.

Has Audiences

He has spoken here on all major political problems, and people who laughed at newspaper descriptions of his rumpled blue serge suit and homely talk have listened to him with respect. He has talked at length on banking and currency,

Rail Workers Want Reason for Wage Cut

CHICAGO, Jan. 19. (AP)—Railway workers asked the employers today to explain exactly why they thought a 10 per cent wage reduction necessary.

Labor, said its spokesman at the rail wage reduction conference, was unwilling to accept as arguments for wage reductions either the claim of "inadequate return" or comparisons of the cost of living.

Instead, the union delegation suggested detailed explanation of the needs of the railroads to meet their fixed charges and to maintain credit.

Doug Refunded Tidy Sum by Government

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19. (AP)—A refund of $61,416 to Douglas Fairbanks, movie actor, Hollywood, Calif., for over assessment of income tax in 1927, 1928 and 1929, was announced today by the international revenue bureau.

The over assessments of $53,231 in 1927; $7,507 in 1928 and $678 in 1929 resulted from recomputation of gain from disposition of certain assets and the allowance of additional deductions for expenses.

The bureau said this action followed an extensive investigation of the actor's records.

Death of Aviator Mystifies Officials

NEW YORK, Jan. 19. (AP)—Mystery today surrounded the death of William C. Smith Jr., prominent California aviator who died in a hospital yesterday. The medical examiner's office said he "fell or jumped" from a window at the Savoy-Plaza hotel, but the hotel and the hospital refused information.

School Board Resolution Thanks Newspapers and Lunch Fund Donors

A formal resolution, thanking all those who contributed to the P.-T. A. school lunch fund or who aided in raising the fund, was adopted at a meeting of the Wichita Falls board of education Tuesday afternoon.

Pointing out the need for such aid by scores of needy school children, the board's resolution specifically mentioned the gift of milk by the Lehrack-Ferguson Dairy Products company and the work of Dr. J. H. Massie as well as all other donors.

The Record News and Daily Times were thanked for opening their columns for a speedy collection of a fund ample to care for all children until the end of the school year. In addition to the milk, $1,380 cash was contributed by Wichita Falls residents during the eight days of the campaign.

Hold Tight, Sonny!

Here's little Ross Stafford, 3-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ross J. Stafford of Corpus Christi, Texas. Little Ross, at this tender age, has developed quite a grip, as evidenced by the feat he enacts above. Doctors claim such strength in a 3-month-old baby is unheard of.

DAWES DIRECTS CREDIT RELIEF

Retiring Ambassador Heads Huge Corporation

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19. (US)—Gen. Charles G. Dawes, retiring ambassador to Great Britain, was selected by President Hoover today to head the $2,000,000,000 reconstruction finance corporation instead of going to Geneva as chairman of the American delegations to the armaments parley. Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson will go in his place.

With characteristic energy General Dawes plunged into the gigantic task ahead of him within an hour after President Hoover made the announcement. He held a brief conference with Secretary Stimson to wind up the affairs of the arms parley and then went into conference with Eugene Meyer, governor of the federal reserve board, whose selection as chairman of the board of the new corporation also was announced.

When the bill is passed by congress and the other members appointed they will find the machinery set up and ready to get into motion at high speed, it was stated.

Puffing his underslung pipe and pounding the desk in the office of Secretary of State Stimson Dawes told correspondents:

"Now this is going to be brief. Get out your pencils.

"I do not consider this a talking job. When one is beginning important work, it is not the time to talk about it; and when we have

Defendant Dies While Testifying on Stand

LUBBOCK, Texas, Jan. 19. (AP)—C. R. Brownlee, 54, of Hurlwood, Lubbock county community, dropped dead shortly after noon today while he was testifying in a civil court suit in county courtroom.

Brownlee was on the witness stand when he slumped backward. He died in five minutes before a doctor arrived. He was the defendant in a suit brought by Mrs. S. M. Albrecht.

HOOVER "HARD UP"

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19. (US)—"My information is that President Hoover now is not worth more than $1,000,000." Representative William Wood, Republican, Indiana, so declared in the house today when he was asked the question point-blank by Representative Shannon, Democrat, Missouri.

Pilot Battles Weather To Save Miner's Life

BOISE, Idaho, Jan. 19. (US)—After a desperate battle with storm and fog, Pilot Bob King landed here today just in time to save the life of an injured miner whom he brought with him from a snowbound mining camp near Atlanta, Idaho, 100 miles away.

The miner, Roscoe R. Davis, 30, was injured Friday. King rushed there by plane but weather conditions made it virtually impossible to hop off again with the patient. Today, when Davis appeared endangered by blood poisoning, the pilot decided to take a chance. He took off and landed just in the nick of time doctors said—to check the blood infection.

OIL OPERATOR AND BROTHER FACE CHARGES

James E. Parker Unable to Explain Shooting of Young Wife

COUPLE ESTRANGED

Court Records Reveal Suit For Divorce and Plea For Injunction

The condition of Mrs. La Vina Parker, young Wichita Falls matron who was shot at her home early Tuesday, was reported "satisfactory" by attendants at the Clinic hospital at 1 a. m. Wednesday. Mrs. Parker still was dangerously ill, it was said.

While Mrs. La Vina Parker fought for life against two bullet wounds Tuesday night, her husband, James E. Parker, wealthy oil operator, and his brother, Roy Parker, were in the Wichita county jail under assault to murder charges filed by Assistant District Attorney Mike Anglin.

The young woman was shot as she stood, pajama clad, at the side of a car parked before her home, 1706 Elizabeth street, shortly after 1 o'clock Tuesday morning. Two of the three shots fired took effect, one in the lung, the other in the abdomen. Physicians said her condition is grave.

Witness "Kidnaped"

Officers are investigating a mysterious telephone call which sent Horace Cozart on his way to Mrs. Parker's home just in time to be pursued, forced into a car driven by James Parker, and later made to witness the shooting.

Cozart, summoned by a call whose source has not yet been traced, had observed the darkened house and was about to drive by without stopping, when the second machine pulled in behind him. As he drove away the young man was followed several blocks, stopped, and commanded at the point of a gun to accompany Parker.

Cozart said James Parker then got his brother Roy and drove with him to the home of his estranged wife.

He said he saw Roy Parker go to the door of the woman's home and call her out to the car.

"She told James Parker he had no business there and ordered him to go on and leave her alone," Cozart said.

"Parker didn't answer. He was under the wheel of the car. Roy was outside.

"Without speaking James Parker fired three times. The woman slumped, screaming for help.

"James told Roy to get back in the car. When Roy hesitated, James drove on and took me to the police station with him."

The husband surrendered to police a few minutes after the shooting. Roy Parker reported to Police Chief Dick Morris Tuesday afternoon.

Still under the influence of two hypodermic injections of narcotics, James Parker Tuesday afternoon cried aloud in his cell at the county jail. He wept violently at the mention of his two little children who were in the house at the time their mother was shot. He was unable to make a statement when interviewed by a Record News reporter.

Mr. Anglin said Dr. Charles W. Castner of the Wichita Falls State hospital would examine the prisoner as soon as the effects of the narcotics had worn off. The medicine was administered to quiet Parker after the shooting.

Divorce Asked

A divorce petition brought by Mrs. Parker last September, on file with the district clerk, alleges repeated cruelty and threats of death. Mrs. Parker was granted an injunction forbidding Parker to molest her or the two children on Sept. 9.

The wounded woman, who had crawled back into the house before ambulances arrived, told Mr. Anglin she knew nothing of the call to Cozart. She said she had spent Monday afternoon consulting with her attorney about the divorce suit and had returned, shaken and tired, in time to ask a woman friend to spend the evening with her.

With this friend, who had not undressed, Mrs. Parker said she was lying across the bed when Roy Parker rang the doorbell.

In explaining his part in the night's events, Cozart said he was nearing the Parker address and in doubt about the strange call, when the other car came up behind. At that time he did not know the occupant.

"I told Buford Rice, who was driving the taxi, to go on quickly," he explained.

"When we got to Monroe and Avenue D I figured we were about to be hijacked and hid my money under the seat of the car.

"We stopped and Parker, in the car alone, pulled a gun and ordered me to get in his car. When I tried to refuse he said he would blow my head off. I handed my gun to Rice for fear I would get in trouble.

"When I got in the car Parker demanded why I was in the neighborhood. I told him I was looking for a friend who lives on Harrison. We drove to this man's house, then to the home of Roy Parker of Avenue H.

Property Listed

Cozart said he was forced to go into Roy Parker's home while James told his brother to dress and "go for a ride." The taxi followed the Parker car until it made the first stop, Cozart said.

With Roy Parker in the car, Cozart was put in the back seat and the three went to the home on Elizabeth street.

In the divorce petition on file against Parker, the wife claims he owns property worth $500,000. A refinery here and in East Texas, pipe lines, producing wells, filling stations, oil and gas royalties and stocks and bonds are included in her list. She alleges his income to be $2,000 a month and asked $500 alimony for herself and children.

Judge P. A. Martin last Sept. 9 ordered Parker to pay her $225 monthly and gave custody of the children to the mother.

PARKER FAMILY OF IOWA PARK

Special to The Record News.

IOWA PARK, Texas, Jan. 19.—James E. and Roy Parker, held at Wichita Falls in connection with the shooting of the former's wife, Mrs. LaVina Parker, are members of a pioneer Iowa Park family.

Mrs. Mattie Parker, mother of the brothers, died at her ranch home, five miles northwest of here on the Electra highway, about a year ago. The Parker family had resided in this section for a number of years. Before Mrs. Parker's death, the family residence was at the ranch.

Some oil activity had centered on the ranch land in past years.

The original homestead of Mrs. Parker is now owned and occupied by Mrs. Albert May, James E. and Roy Parker's sister.

Untold Wealth Believed To Be in Mexican Tomb

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 19. (AP)—Treasures taken from the Mixtecan tomb at Monte Alban were described as of fabulous value today by Governor Francisco Lopez Cortes of Oaxaca on his arrival here for a governors meeting.

"Any first class museum in the United States would write a check for a million dollars without even closely examining the find," he said, adding he believed its worth would greatly exceed that sum.

The governor, who built a roadway up to Monte Alban which greatly simplified the task of excavation, expressed opinion that untold treasure still lies hidden in the state of Oaxaca and will be revealed as work proceeds.

Woman's Body Found In Fish Trap in Sea

MANILA, P. I., Jan. 19. (US)—Police tonight launched an investigation into the mysterious death of Mrs. Bale Sedgwick Tait, 34-year-old American woman whose body was found here today in a fish trap.

While the police admitted it was possible that she may have fallen over the wall in a dizzy spell, crushed her skull on the stones below and then drowned in the water covered fish trap, they said they would make a complete investigation before reaching any conclusion.

Fire From Gas Blast Seriously Burns Pair

WAXAHACHIE, Texas, Jan. 19. (AP)—Two men were burned, one probably fatally, today in an explosion of accumulated gas in a stove in a tourist cottage here.

Wayne Grafe, about 21, of Terre Haute, Ind., was not expected to live. His father, C. F. Grafe, about 45, also of Terre Haute, was severely burned.

The elder Grafe, representative of a pulayground equipment company, was here on business. The men were treated in a hospital here.

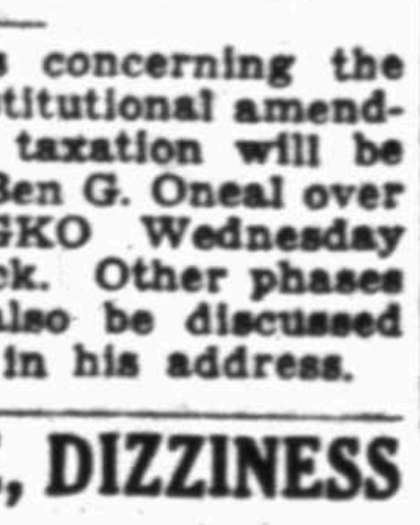
PAIN IN SIDE, DIZZINESS



Austin, Texas.—"I was never well after my baby's birth. I was troubled with dizziness and finally became so ill I had to go to bed. I had a pain in my side and had functional disturbances," said Mrs. S. B. McCall, 301 Colorado St. "The doctors advised an operation but my mother told me to take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, for the ills of women, and Golden Medical Discovery, a general tonic, and I took these two medicines in tablet form, along with Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets as a laxative and they helped me greatly."

Musicians Club Concert Maintains Eager Interest of Audience of 300

(By The Record News Critic)

Musicians club and Woman's Forum members and their friends comprised an audience of almost 300 persons who attended the January concert of the Musicians club given at the Forum Tuesday night under the direction of Mrs. J. W. Akin Jr.

Seven groups of numbers were presented in the musicale—a result of the growing list of active members in the club, which necessitates the assignment of many to each scheduled concert during the year. Yet the quality of musicianship and variety of theme provided Tuesday night were able to maintain the eager interest of those who heard it.

Piano, Violin and Voice

Piano, violin and vocal numbers comprised the musicale arranged by Mrs. Akin, with piano compositions representing the major portion of the program. Exhibiting again the understanding and technical brilliance invariably shown in his infrequent solo appearances, Ernest Katz provided a fitting climax to the evening with his "Rhapsodie" by Brahms, and Friedman's "Valse." Mr. Katz' playing suggests that enactment of the written score long since has become a perfected process, and that the performance is merely a surrender to the moods of the composition.

Refreshing command both of the piano and the spirit of her numbers featured the playing of Mrs. James Daugherty of Nocona. Marked punctuation of rhythm and melody and commendable dexterity in fingering were noticeable in the "Valcik" by Makrejs. Deeper feeling, with excellent use of retarded chords and prolonged pauses, enriched her production of "Ian Waltz," by Poldini.

Momentary confusion of difficult runs in the treble score on two occasions failed to dim materally the playing of the first movement of Schumann's "Concerto in A-Minor" by Mrs. A. H. Britain, with Charles Kiker playing orchestral parts at the second piano. The appealing melodies of the solo score were pleasantly delivered against a supporting movement which always wac in good time and spirit.

Miss Grace Williams, colorture soprano, afforded another treat for her hearers in "Charmante Oiseau" by David, and "Summer" by Chaminade. Her excellent use of a clear, flexible voice commanded applause which brought an air by Molly Carew as Miss Williams' encore.

Indian Songs

Two Indian songs were sung in costume by Mrs. Hermione S. Vaughn, with a group of Indian-costumed figures in the background. The fearful regard of the Indian for fate was well portrayed in "Her Blanket," by Lieurance, Mrs. Vaughn's first number. For the second, she sang "The Song of the Robin Woman," from Charles W. Cadman's opera "Shanewis."

The numbers sung by Willard L. Underwood, tenor, commanded interest because of their departure from usual concert themes. Ten short songs were sung, comprising the cycle "Eliland," written by Von-Fielitz. They depicted the story of a monk's love for a beautiful nun the which was quickly blighted by interference of the abbot. Clear enunciation and tone shading were factors in providing a dramatic recitation of the story.

Three violin numbers by Stanley M. Raub registered heavily with Tuesday night's audience. A well contrasted group climaxed in Mr. Raub's spirited presentation of Kreisler's "Tambourin Chinois." His second number "Minuet and Trio," by Mozart, was a delicately painted picture of grace and beauty.

Mrs. Akin, Mrs. A. H. Mahaffey and Mrs. F. R. Collard embellished the various solo numbers with sensitive and finished accompaniments. A pleasing feature of the concert also was the use of announcements made by Miss Marguerite Fisher, reader, in lieu of printed programs.

Witness Names Shilo In Murder Trial

HOUSTON, Jan. 19. (AP)—A state witness today singled out W. S. "Shilo" Scrivenor as one of the occupants of an apartment 500 feet from the rooms where Chester A. "Keggy" Jones, ex-convict, and his wife, Mrs. Jane Jones, were slain by pistol shots on Aug. 31.

The witness, James H. Edmonds, owner of an apartment building, was under direct examination when court was adjourned for the day in Scrivenor's trial for the murder of Mrs. Jones.

Witnesses who preceded Edmonds included two women occupants of the adjoining apartment to the Jones, a photographer, and an embalmer.

Former Klan Head Not To Get New Trial

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Jan. 19. (US)—D. C. Stephenson, former grand dragon of the Indiana Ku Klux Klan, was denied a new trial today by the state supreme court on his conviction in 1925 of the murder of Miss Madge Oberholtzer. He has been serving a life sentence since November of that year.

Three of the five judges voted to uphold the conviction and the other two dissented.

Mothers, Mix This At Home for a Bad Cough

You'll be pleasantly surprised when you make up this simple home mixture and try it for a distressing cough due to a cold. It takes but a moment to mix, costs little, and saves money, but it can be depended upon to give quick and lasting relief.

Get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist. Pour this into a pint bottle; then fill it with plain granulated sugar syrup or strained honey. The full pint thus made costs no more than a small bottle of ready-made medicine, yet it is much more effective. It is pure, keeps perfectly and children love its pleasant taste.

This simple remedy has a remarkable three-fold action. It goes right to the seat of trouble, loosens the germ-laden phlegm, and soothes away the inflammation. Part of the medicine is absorbed into the blood, where it acts directly upon the bronchial tubes and thus helps inwardly to throw off the whole trouble with surprising ease.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of Norway Pine, containing the active agent of creosote, in a refined, palatable form, and known as one of the greatest medicinal agents for severe coughs and bronchial irritations.

Do not accept a substitute for Pinex. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

SHRINE GROUPS NAME HEADS

Three Organizations Hold Elections

Three organizations within Maskat Shrine temple had selected leaders for 1932 Tuesday night when the last of the elections was conducted by the degree team. The Maskat Temple Service club named officers Tuesday noon and the Arabic control balloted on Monday night.

C. A. Rogers was made president of the degree team alias the Ruffnecks; P. B. Curd, vice president; W. H. Ruggles, secretary and treasurer. Director Kindel Paulk was named representative to the executive committee with O. N. Mann as alternate. W. R. Creamer is the new publicity director. Mr. Paulk appointed Claude Williams as first assistant director and O. N. Mann as second. W. T. Saddler is scenic artist and Ed Tschabold is technician.

Dr. Walter B. Adams was made president of the Maskat Shrine Service club at the noon luncheon Tuesday. The eight new directors are Woodard Bass, Albert Crenshaw, C. H. Fagadue, L. C. Holloway, Alfred Howard, J. E. H. Railey, and Dr. V. E. Wratten.

Approximately 100 nobles are members of the club, which meets at the Wichita club each Tuesday noon. An entertainment committee will be appointed by the president.

The Arabic patrol chose O. F. Marchman as its 1932 president in a meeting Monday night. Henry Ford is vice president; Ray Wilhite, captain; R. P. Brouthertin, first lieutenant; William Cook, second lieutenant; and Albert Ellis, secretary and treasurer.

to become her victims, were "perhaps indiscreet." He denied he had any connection with events surrounding the deaths.

"Are you acquainted with Jack Halloran?" Lenkowitz asked C. H. Dunning, a mining man who had expressed doubt he could serve as a fair minded juror.

"Yes," answered Dunning.

Dunning was excused when, on questioning by the court, he said there was "a reason" he could not serve fairly. He did not disclose the reason.

Previously Lenkowitz had asked Juror L. E. Cantrell, a carpenter if he did business with or was acquainted with Halloran. Cantrell answered "No." He was accepted.

Ruth May Not Testify

One other venireman was excused when he said he was opposed to capital punishment.

In examination of W. H. Knox, first juror tentatively accepted, the defense indicated its intention to keep Mrs. Judd off the witness stand.

"Should the defendant not take the witness stand, would you still have the same thoughts you have now in regard to this case?" Lenkowitz asked.

"It would make no difference in my mind whether or not the defendant testified." Knox said.

Mrs. Judd throughout the afternoon, scarcely stirred in her chair. She watched closely the faces of the talesmen as they were questioned, but made no sign, and did not confer with her attorneys.

Jesuits Prepare To Leave Spain

MADRID, Jan. 19. (AP)—It was learned today from a high government source that President Alcala Zamora had signed a decree dissolving the Jesuit order and confiscating its property in the name of the state.

The informant said the decree, probably to be published in tomorrow's official Gazette, also would prohibit the Jesuits from living together as chapters of their order.

The cabinet discussed the decree today, it was said, but made no announcement of its deliberations because of a wish to speak only through the official Gazette.

The Jesuits, who have been expecting such an order for some time, have made preparations in many cases to leave Spain with their personal effects as soon as the decree is published.

Young County Building Is Rapidly Taking Form

Special to The Record News.

GRAHAM, Texas, Jan. 19.—Young county's new $300,000 courthouse, now under construction here, is beginning to take shape as work goes rapidly forward.

Granite and brick work already has started. Reinforced concrete forms have been completed. Plumbing and heating systems have been installed and electric wiring for the structure is about finished. Floors for the basement have been poured, and boilers for this section of the building are on the site, ready for setting within the next few days.

Interior Work Nears

Outside walls are expected to be completed within a short period unless unfavorable weather should hinder this work materially, contractors said. With the completion of outside walls, finishing of the interior will be started.

Court is expected to be held in the new building some time during the summer if the present speed of construction is maintained.

Home Labor Used

A large crew of men now are a twork doing brick and granite work. About 50 citizens of Young county are employed on the project. James T. Taylor, general contractor, and J. W. Huffman, stone contractor, both are using the maximum in Young county labor. Only a few skilled workmen, unavailable here, are used on the job as foremen.

A second feature of the construction, which is considered favorable for this county, is that all materials that could be obtained were purchased in Young county.

Contractors on the job have been paying a reasonable wage scale to workmen. They have failed to lower wages of laborers.

When completed, the Young county courthouse will be one of the most modern and efficiently arranged buildings of its kind in the state.

World Applauds Hard Luck of U. S., Says Will

ROME, Jan. 19. (UP)—The depression in the United States is about the only thing the rest of the world has to applaud, Will Rogers said on his arrival here by air from Singapore.

"I found the world nothing but an experiment. Russia, India and China are all experiments. Besides, everybody is applauding the depression of Uncle Sam and if they didn't have this they would have nothing else." Rogers left for London to meet his wife.

Cleaning of Water Mains to Start Soon

Openings are now being made in many of the mains in the city water distribution system preparatory to the early use of "go-devils" for cleaning accumulated sediment from the lines, it was learned Monday from City Manager V. R. Smitham.

Work with the cleaning devices is expected to begin within 10 days, it was announced. Inserted at one end of a water line, the cleaning device will move forward by water pressure from behind, loosening and removing all accumulated solids now attached to inner walls of the pipe. Six-inch lines will be the first to be cleaned, it was said.

Attorney Will Plea For Life of Murderer

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 19. (US)—Accompanied by three alienists and psychiatrists, Attorney Francis L. Isgrigg will go to San Francisco tomorrow to argue before the state supreme court on Thursday for a commutation of the death sentence of William H. Burkhart to life imprisonment.

Burkhart was to have been executed at Folsom prison last week for the murder of his wife, Ann McKnight Burkhart, in Los Angeles on March 24, 1930, but Governor Rolph Jr. granted a last-minute reprieve to Jan. 28.

Seizure of Speakeasy Fixtures Authorized

NEW YORK, Jan. 19. (US)—Under a decision by Federal Judge Robert P. Patterson today, prohibition agents were authorized to seize and remove bars, fixtures, furniture and all other equipment in raided speakeasies. The decision was rendered in a test case between Prohibition Administrator McCampbell and the Stork club.

The decision will be used as a weapon chiefly against the luxuriously furnished restaurants, cafes and hotels where Volstead violations are revealed by raids.

STATE GIVEN LAND FOR PARK

Deal Closed for Tracts Of Land Adjoining Alamo

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 19. (AP)—A deal whereby the state of Texas becomes permanent owner of two pieces of property adjacent to the Alamo, the ground to become a part of a proposed state memorial park, was consummated formally here today.

Mrs. Clara Driscoll Seiver of Corpus Christi, whose donation of $65,000 toward the fund to purchase the desired property made completion of the deal possible, had just returned with her husband, Hal Sevier, from Washington, D. C., where she had attended a meeting of the Democratic national executive committee, of which she is a member.

Mrs. Seiver was met in the conference room by the principals in the deal and papers were exchanged.

Those at the meeting, in addition to Mr. and Mrs. Sevier, were J. A. Stanford of Austin, assistant state attorney general; Dr. John B. Herff, owner of one of the pieces of property; E. J. Steves, owner of the other parcel; Leroy B. Denman, William A. Wifler, W. F. Nowlin and A. J. Weyet.

A state warrant for $80,000 was delivered by Stanford to Dr. Herff. Mrs. Sevier gave Herff her check for $65,000. This total of $145,000 lacked $5,000 of paying the minimum price which Herff had set on his property. He made up the balance by adding his check for $5,000.

Stanford delivered to Steves a state warrant for $70,000, which is in full payment for his property acquired for the park. Both of the state checks were deficiency warrants, due to the fact that the state is operating on a deficiency basis temporarily.

Fake Prohis Shoot Man Returned From Prison

ROCKFORD, Ill., Jan. 19. (AP)—Jack De Marco, 38, was shot to death in his home tonight by three men who posed as prohibition agents a few hours after he had returned from serving a year's sentence in the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kan., for his part in a widespread liquor conspiracy.

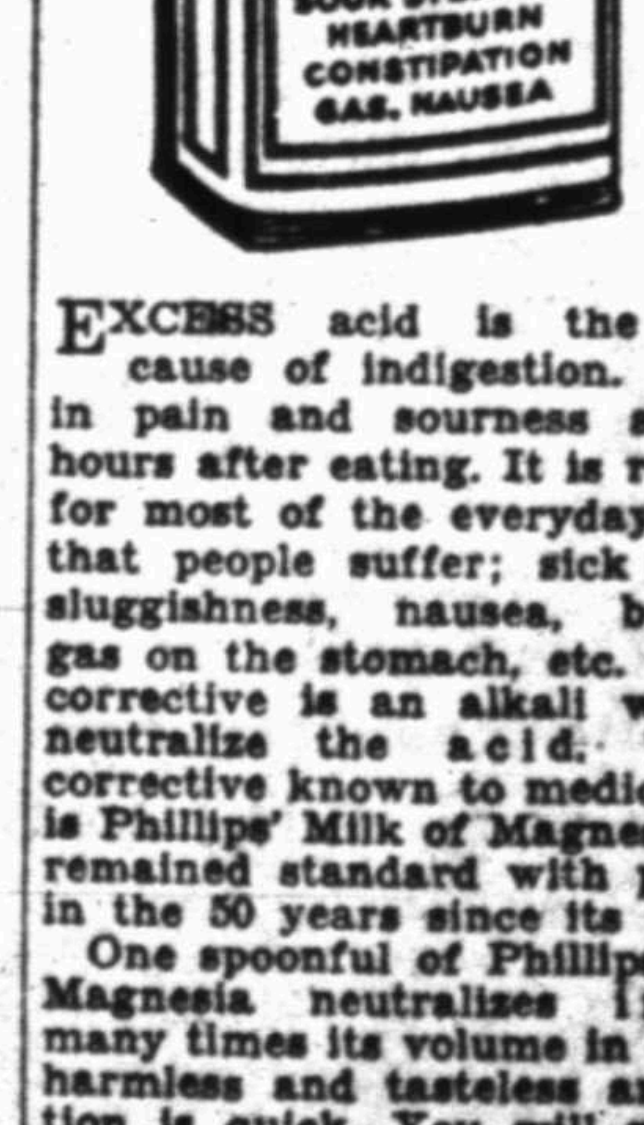
De Marco, who police said, was known as a bootlegger although he had no local police record, was chatting with his wife and two women friends when three swarthy complexioned men knocked at the front door of his home, displayed badges and walked into the house.

The trio muttered they were prohibition agents, police learned, and signaled for De Marco to follow them into another room. A minute later the three women heard several shots.

Gandhi's Son Goes to Jail for Activities

BOMBAY, Jan. 19. (AP)—Ramdas Gandhi, youngest son of the Mahatma Gandhi, was arrested today in the village of Maripyra for taking part in Nationalist activities against the British government.

This put three members of the Gandhi family in jail. The Mahatma was arrested Jan. 4 and placed in prison at Poona, and his 60-year-old wife, who pleaded with the police to take her with him, was taken into custody a week later.



ACID stomach

EXCESS acid is the common cause of indigestion. It results in pain and sourness about two hours after eating. It is responsible for most of the everyday ailments that people suffer; sick headache, sluggishness, nausea, billiousness, gas on the stomach, etc. The quick corrective is an alkali which will neutralize the acid. The best corrective known to medical science is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained standard with physicians in the 50 years since its invention.

One spoonful of Phillips' Milk of Magnesia neutralizes instantly many times its volume in acid. It is harmless and tasteless and its action is quick. You will never rely on crude methods, never continue to suffer when you learn how quickly, how pleasantly this premier method acts. Please let it show you—now.

Go to the drug store and get a bottle to try. Take it tonight, and follow the simple directions you find in the package. Learn what it means to have a well-alkalinized system. See how much better your general health will be. How seldom you will catch cold.

Be sure that you get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia that physicians prescribe. It is sold in 25c and 50c bottles at drug stores everywhere.

To keep the teeth white and guard against acid mouth, use Phillips' Dental Magnesia; it is a superior tooth paste.—Adv.

CONFEREES WORK LATE ON MEASURE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19. (US)—Senate and house conferees were in session until late tonight to speed the $2,000,000,000 reconstruction finance corporation bill toward final passage, expected before the end of the week.

There was universal approval of Charles G. Dawes as president and Eugene Meyer Jr., as chairman of the corporation.

Dawes and Meyer had luncheon at the capitol with Senator Walcott, Republican of Connecticut, and Senator Robinson of Arkansas, Democratic leader, and discussed members of the corporation. Bernard Baruch of New York and Ex-Governor Angus McLean of North Carolina are certain to be named.

One difference between senate and house was ironed out today. The house agreed to the senate proposal that $100,000,000 be the limit to be loaned any corporation.

There was a deluge of other legislative business today.

The house judiciary committee agreed to take up prohibition Feb. 16 as hearings on the Bingham beer bill continued before a senate committee.

The senate passed the first deficiency appropriation bill of $126,437,119.21.

3 things to stop a cold

"Pape's" does them all!

Now, just a pleasant tablet and relief for your cold begins, instantly. And Pape's Cold Compound relieves all symptoms of colds. It does the three things any doctor will tell you are necessary to check a cold. "Pape's" reduces irritation and swelling of the nasal lining. So breathing becomes easy; discharge stops; the head clears. "Pape's" encourages perspiration; banishes that achy, feverish, weak feeling which is due to inactivity of the pores. "Pape's" kills cold germs; opens the bowels; takes germs and the acid-wastes of colds right out of your system.

Next time a cold starts, try Pape's Cold Compound and learn the reason for its tremendous sales and popularity. Just remember the name "Pape's." All drug stores—35c.—Adv.

FATHER OF WICHITAN DIES

Joseph R. Gunn Succumbs At Dallas

Word was received here late Tuesday of the death in Dallas of Joseph R. Gunn, 56, father of Mrs. Henry C. Fulcher of Wichita Falls. Mr. Gunn had been in poor health for the last year and succumbed shortly after 10 o'clock Tuesday night. Mrs. Fulcher had been at his bedside for the last two weeks, and Mr. Fulcher left Tuesday night for Dallas.

Mr. Gunn was a veteran of the Spanish-American war, serving as captain of a company of volunteers. He was active in Masonic work in Dallas for years, and was known among Masons of this section through his work with the Masonic Service and Educational association. He was a 32nd degree Mason and a Shriner.

Funeral services probably will be held Wednesday afternoon, with Masonic rites at the grave.

LIONS FEAST FIRE COMPANY

Firefighters at Iowa Park Honored at Party

Special to The Record News

IOWA PARK, Texas, Jan. 19.—Iowa Park Lions were host to Iowa Park volunteer firemen at a banquet Monday evening at the First Methodist church. Civic organizations and citizens of the city have for several years in tribute to the fire boys entertained them with a banquet at the beginning of the new year.

In vocation was said by the Rev. E. S. Lowrance. There was group singing of "The More We Get Together" and "America" led by Miss Katherine Sue Ralston accompanied by Miss Mary Emma Boyd. C. C. Hudson, toastmaster, introduced out of town visitors among whom were J. J. Blackstone of the fire department of Burkburnett; J. C. Hines of Amarillo, former mayor of Iowa Park; Miss Willie Mae Watson, Valley View; and a delegation from Electra composed of the Rev. Clark H. Russell, former pastor of the First Methodist church of Iowa Park; Ben Tooney, O. D. Green, and F. E. (Red) Lewis. Short talks were made by the visitors.

Other features of the program were the annual report by Kelly Denny, ex-chief, who made an interesting comparison of the records of 1930 and 1931, showing much less loss in 1931. Short talks were made by the following: Anthony Scarbrough, who extended thanks to the Lions for the entertainment; Tom Hale, Miss Nellie Cowart, T. J. Pace, mayor, who thanked the department for the service rendered, after which the new officers for 1932 were presented. Others making talks were Alvin (Buddy) Tanner, new chief; Herman Mitchell, new president; Will Detlefs, city marshall; Arthur Fielder, Joe Taugman, V. R. Munden, B. L. Bradford, Curtis Sewell, R. A. Dahl, A. H. Smith, R. R. Brubaker, M. L. Smith, the Rev. Clarence B. Williams, the Rev. E. S. Lowrance, Jack Ralston, past president, who presented to the new president a hand carved gavel made from native Texas mesquite. James A. Griffin, president of the Lions club, Bert Smith, city employe, and L. E. Wilson, new fireman, made brief talks.

Those from Iowa Park registering were as follows: Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Tanner, Mr. and Mrs. Taylor George, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Scarbrough, Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Groves, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Goree and Munday Well Into Second Quarter Century Without Homicide

MUNDAY, Texas, Jan. 19.—While cities compute annually the numbers of those who have died by unlawful means, the adjoining towns of Munday and Goree with their combined populations of 2,000 each have proceeded well into the second quarter of a century of their existence with the record of never having had a homicide in which a white person has been the victim to occur withi nits bounds. The towns are less than five miles apart.

Authorities for the statement are W. S. Bailey, justice of the peace here, and E. L. Covey, for 15 years editor of the Goree Advocate. Judge Bailey farmed on land adjacent to the present site of Munday before the town was laid out.

Negroes Active

Despite the fact that the combined negro population of the two communities probably has never exceeded 100, there have been several homicides among members of that race. But no member of any other race has been the victim of a homicide which has, as its legal definition, the unlawful taking of human life, Judge Bailey asserted.

The record is even more remarkable than the census figures would indicate. Each town came into existence when this territory was in its transition between the old West and the new—when ranches were being cut into farms and farms into town lots. Each town is the trading center for a considerable and relatively well settled farm territory so that on periodical trade days the number of visitors will swell the temporary population to several times the figure credited in census reports. Munday is about three times as large as Goree.

In Midst of Prairie

Both Munday and Goree were founded in anticipation of the building of the Wichita Valley railroad which links Wichita Falls and Abilene. Prior to that, Judge Bailey related, Munday consisted of a general store and postoffice, housed under a common roof. Goree then, Mr. Covey said, was an open prairie. The first train to be operated into Munday pulled in over the newly completed Wichita Valley tracks on June 1, 1906, and into Goree not long after.

Only one "white homicide," both Judge Bailey and Mr. Covey declared, has occurred within a radius of several miles of either town since they were founded. That one, however, occurring on a farm about three miles from Munday, supplied one of the incidents likely to be related when attorneys of the old school begin swapping yarns, Judge Bailey related.

Tells Yarn

The attorney for the defense had questioned and was about to accept a venireman for jury service in the case. A friend, himself a former district attorney, quietly interrupted the defense lawyer.

"Better not let that fellow get on the jury," the friend warned.

"Why not? He is one of God's noblemen," the attorney replied.

"Maybe so, but if he gets on that jury he'll break your client's neck," was the retort.

The juror was accepted despite the warning. The story goes, Judge Bailey says, that the particular juror remained firm for the verdict finally returned of 50 years' imprisonment, although the balloting for hours stood 11 for the death penalty against his avowed declaration that "50 years is enough."

The defendant in the case, Judge Bailey said, died a few years later in the penitentiary.

Sore Throat Is Dangerous

A sore throat often leads to serious illness. Stop it at once. Take Thoxine, a prescription made exclusively for throat ailments; not a gargle. The first swallow relieves the soreness in a few minutes; and goes direct to the internal cause, preventing further trouble.

Most coughs are caused by an irritated throat. Thoxine stops these at once. Safe for the whole family—guaranteed no dope. Money back if not satisfied. 35c. At your druggist.—Adv.

Knox County Sheriff and Mule Engage in Brief Encounter

MUNDAY, Texas, Jan. 19.—Sheriff C. R. Elliott of Knox county stooped to examine a mule's south hoof several days ago. The doctor said it will be several weeks before the lacerations on the sheriff's head have entirely healed.

Farm Mortgages Decreased by Half, Alex Legge Says

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 19. (AP)—Although prices have "gone to smash," said Alexander Legge, former chairman of the federal farm board, here today, agriculture is in a "better and sounder position than any other comparable industry."

In support of his statement, Legge said only half of the farms of the United States have any mortgage debt. This strong capital position he attributed to the severest deflation.

Bankers "shied at farm loans," the speaker explained, after "the crash of 1920-21." He ventured the surmise that many of them have expressed bitter regret because instead of farm mortgages they "filled their portfolios with handsomely engraved bonds, both domestic and imported."

Legge, who has resumed his duties as president of the International Harvester company since resigning from the farm board, predicted sustained prosperity for the American farmer.

The economists who picture the future of the American farmer as the life of a serf "make me hot in the collar," declared the speaker. The address was before a meeting of the Southwest Hardware Dealers' association.

Harold Lloyd and Wife Hear Plagiarism Trial

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 19. (AP)—Harold Lloyd, film comedian, and his wife were in the United States district court of appeals here today to hear arguments on their appeal from a lower court's verdict in a plagiarism suit.

Lloyd was sued by the late H. C. Witwer, a writer, for all profits from the film, "The Freshman." Witwer charged it was taken bodily from a short story of his called "The Emancipation of Rodney." Witwer died and his widow, Mrs. Said S. Witwer, continued the case.

On Dec. 18, 1930, the United States district court in Los Angeles gave Mrs. Witwer a verdict, awarding her all profits from the film, ordering all negatives and positives destroyed and ordering a full accounting to determine the amount to be paid. An injunction restraining further showing of the film also was issued.

The Witwers asserted they were entitled to at least $2,300,000.

TURKEY CROP MAKE MONEY

Farmers of Nocona Section Market Many Birds

Special to The Record News.

NOCONA, Texas, Jan. 19.—Farmers of this section have learned that cotton is not the only product that brings revenue. According to local dealers $35,616 was received by turkey raisers in this vicinity during the past turkey season.

A total of 201,303 pounds were shipped from this market, being 14,542 turkeys.

Over $1,500 was paid for local labor by one local dealer alone for handling, picking and dressing the fowls.

Over six cars of dressed meat was shipped out, and according to dealers, this is the largest amount of turkeys ever handled here in one year. The price ranged from around 15 cents to 20 cents.

Comedy King to Study Humor in South America

SANTA MONICA, Calif., Jan. 19. (AP)—A pioneer producer of the famous American comedy film, Hal Roach, left by airplane today on a 20,000-mile trip to South America to learn whether the same scenes of hilarity that tickle the American public annually will click with the neighbors to the south.

Roach, who is an air enthusiast, will make the trip in his own plane. The plane was piloted by Capt. James B. Dickson.

The producer was to stop tonight in El Paso, Texas, where he will be joined by Arthur Loew, vice president of Loew's, Inc.

From El Paso the party will fly south to Mexico City and the itinerary from the Mexican capital includes Guatemala City; Managua, Nicaragua; San Jose, Costa Rica; Panama City and Colon, Panama; Guayaquil, Ecuador; Lima, Peru; Santiago, Chile; Buenos Aires, Argentina; Montevideo, Uruguay and Rio de Janeiro, Brazil. The flight is expected to take about four weeks.

Until about a year ago Roach produced a number of foreign versions of American comedy films, investing approximately $400,000 in this field. The object of the trip will be to determine whether there is sufficient demand for this type of film to warrant resumption of the foreign output.

Legion Auxiliary Holds Convention at Frederick

Special to The Record News.

FREDERICK, Okla., Jan. 19.—Approximately 60 out-of-town guests were entertained in Frederick Monday, at the American Legion auxiliary seventh district annual convention.

A luncheon was given in honor of the delegates at Hotel Frederick, before the opening of the business session at 2 p. m.

Mrs. George R. Smith, Duncan, state membership chairman, addressed the convention in the afternoon.

Business houses put out United States flags on the sidewalks, in greeting to the visitors.

Getting Up Nights

Feeling Run-Down, Backache, Nervousness, and Leg Pains Often Due to Kidney Acidity

After 40, many men and women begin to fell run-down, tired-out and unable to do their best, because of functional Kidney inactivity and excess acidity. Many other troublesome and worrying conditions, often due to the same cause, are Getting Up Nights, Backache, Nervousness, Sore Joints, Leg Pains, Lumbago, Neuralgia, Dark Circles Under Eyes, Muddy Complexion, Headaches, Burning, Smarting, and Bladder Weakness, which may make you look and feel many years older than you are.

To combat these conditions you really need two different kinds of medicine, because you need two results in fighting these troubles. First, you need a medicine to act as a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys, to help them in their function of filtering and purifying the blood, thus reducing acidity. Second, you need another medicine to soothe and heal irritation and give nature a chance.

These two special kinds of medicine, known as Cystex, now may be had from your druggist under a guarantee of satisfaction or money back. They are in tasteless tablet form, easy to take, and pleasant to young or old, yet work so fast they start circulating through the system in 11 minutes. Sufferers say they begin to feel marked improvement in 24 hours.

Your own druggist—the man you know is reliable—can tell you that these are established facts, and that Cystex (pronounced Siss-tex) is a splendid medicine, containing purest ingredients, which have proved a blessing to many of his customers.

This much is certain: if Cystex makes you feel years younger and stronger by combating these conditions, the small cost of 75c is a trifle, but if not completely satisfied, merely return the empty package and get your money back. Why suffer from delay and neglect? The Guarantee protects you. Get Cystex from your druggist today.—Adv.

PIMPLES?
LARGE PORES?
BLACKHEADS?

Beware of SEPTIC SKIN

Nurse tells how to get clearer, smoother skin almost OVERNIGHT

THE first sign of any of these disfiguring skin faults is a warning of infection—septic skin. End them quickly . . . But you can't do it with ordinary creams. They merely wipe away surface dirt. You need the correct medical treatment to effectively rout out all deep-lodged impurities that cause these unsightly blemishes.

That's the advice of hospital nurses who have treated thousands of serious skin conditions. In countless cases doctors prescribe Noxzema, the famous snow-white, greaseless, medicated cream that purges and heals.

Noxzema contains a remarkable blend of scientific antiseptics and healing medicines. First it penetrates the pores and cleanses away every particle of clogged, germ-breeding matter that erupts in ugly pimples blackheads, blemishes. The pores breathe freely—become scientifically pure and clean. Then Noxzema's mild astringents gently firm the enlarged, coarsened pores and leave the skin far finer and more even-textured—thrillingly smooth and velvety.

No wonder over 6,000,000 women depend on Noxzema for complexion health and loveliness! One woman tells another of this wonderful beauty find. Your very first application of Noxzema will tell you why. In 8 hours—overnight—it begins to work its beauty magic. The improvement is often astonishing. Soreness gone, coarse pores reduced, roughness smoothed away.

To gain and to keep a radiantly healthy, appealing young complexion—use Noxzema regularly.

WHEN BETTER AUTOMOBILES ARE BUILT, BUICK WILL BUILD THEM — PRODUCT OF GENERAL MOTORS

Almost $700 less for a Buick Four-Door Sedan in 1932 than in 1922! And quality, meanwhile, so vitally advanced that there is literally no comparison between the two models! For the new Buick Four-Door Sedan for 1932, listing at $995, is a Straight Eight with Wizard Control and scores of important advancements. Here is a record of value-giving that the motor industry, represented by Buick, actually achieved. And here is how the motoring public has rewarded Buick for the achievement: Today, as a result of Buick's policy of giving greater value year after year, America is awarding Buick more than three-to-one preference over all other eights in its price class. The reasons will be instantly apparent to you when you note the value-leadership of the new Buick Eight for 1932 with Wizard Control. Twenty-six models, priced from $935 to $2055, f. o. b. A Washington Bystander

By KIRKE SIMPSON

WASHINGTON.—"Of course I would like to be president; who would not?"

ALBERT C. RITCHIE

With those resounding words Gov. Albert C. Ritchie hurled his tile into the 1932 presidential ring and Maryland, My Maryland, had another up-to-the-minute political record to boast of.

She was mother not only of the first self-avowed candidacy for the Republican presidential nomination next June in the person of Dr. David I. France, but also of the first self-proclaimed Democratic drive for the White House.

Among distinguished guests at Baltimore dinner at which Governor Ritchie declared himself were Hemphill of Pennsylvania, come in as a neighbor to cheer for the Marylander, and Senator Dave Walsh of Massachusetts, an aforetime Roosevelt supporter, if news records have it right.

A Test Impending

Over here in Washington about the hour of the Ritchie announcement, another Pennsylvanian, Joe Guffey, former democratic national committeeman, was steaming about New York state headquarters for the Jackson day dinner.

He was declaring that Governor Roosevelt's name would be popped in for the primaries in every Pennsylvania county within a matter of days and perdicting that Roosevelt would get a minimum of 66 of Pennsylvania's 76 national convention delegates.

Quite obviously, if Guffey knows whereof he speaks, the visit to the Ritchie dinner of Hemphill, whose race as Democratic candidate against Governor Pinchot was quite an event in Pennsylvania, might not be as significant as a first glimpse of his name on the guest list suggests.

In any event, Roosevelt and Ritchie strength faces a Pennsylvania test that might have an important bearing on what is to happen when the party convention meets to pick a presidential nominee.

Just what Governor Roosevelt will do about the moves to get him into the primaries in either Pennsylvania or North Dakota, the early birds of the 1932 political season, is not clear. He has smilingly dodged all efforts to draw him into admission of his candidacy.

A Negative "Yes"

One impression is that the New Yorker probably will not go beyond granting negative assent to the use of his name in Dakota or Pennsylvania.

Senator Walsh is credited with having once indicated Roosevelt leanings. Since then Mayor Curley of Boston has blossomed out as a dyed-in-the-wool Roosevelt champion.

He has done some very surprising things to hold the center of the Roosevelt stage in his state—which may have nettled Senator Walsh.

Whom Walsh is supporting did not seem certain, despite the senator's presence at the Ritchie dinner.

Rocky Point P.-T. A. Will Have Fiddler Contest

Special to The Record News.

ELECTRA, Texas, Jan. 19.—The Rocky Point Parent-Teacher association is sponsoring a fiddlers' contest Friday night at the Rocky Point schoolhouse. No admission fee will be charged and there will be no charge to enter the contest, Mrs. Roy Ackerman, president of the P.-T. A., announces. A ring will be given to the girl who is voted the most popular; a cake to the prettiest girl, and a prize to the man who has the largest feet. Eats and drinks will be sold, and the proceeds will be used toward improving the school grounds.

Record News' Program for Wichita Falls

1. OIL—Place the Wichita Falls district on a parity with other centers in the marketing of both crude oil and refined products.
2. THE VALLEY—Systematic, vigorous development of the irrigated valley in keeping with its possibilities as Wichita Falls' greatest physical asset.
3. WATER—An ample, assured supply of soft water.
4. EDUCATION—Maintenance of a junior college in Wichita Falls to give opportunity for higher education to our youth—the highest standards in elementary schools.
5. THE LAKES—Full development of the recreational opportunties offered by the three lakes.
6. HIGHWAYS—Early consummation of a highway program covering all the main routes radiating from this city and all the local roads that serve its agricultural community.
7. DRAINAGE—Solution of the drainage problem in all three phases; first, in the irrigated valley; second, with regard to Holliday creek; third, in those portions of the city now inadequately drained.
8. GOVERNMENTAL ECONOMY—The adoption of such means as may be found most feasible to reduce the cost of local government by elimination of unnecessary offices and consolidation of others.

Mayor Moore of Philadelphia wants the people of his city to be happy, but will enforce the dry law. His predecessors have done quite a bit in this direction, but this certainly is Moore.

Small Town Distinction

THERE are a good many different ways of winning distinction in this world; and one way, which seems a little quaint, a little pathetic and more than a little admirable, is described in a laconic newspaper dispatch which appeared the other day telling how an 84-year-old woman in a little Michigan town has completed her 60th year of service as organist in the village church.

As distinctions go, that record is mild enough. It earned the lady a scant half dozen lines in the newspapers, and the most diligent local correspondent could hardly have devoted more than half a column to it.

Yet there is something about it that makes you stop and think.

It paints a picture, to begin with; a picture instantly recognizable by anyone who has lived in a small town.

Who hasn't seen these devoted, hard-working little old ladies of the village church—women whose entire orbit spans hardly more than a dozen miles of space, whose interests center about the home and the church? Their lives are busy but uneventful. They find their only freedom in service. What innumerable little village affairs, from church socials to school picnics, have they not, by devotion and hard work, made succeed?

Of course, it isn't often that we tip our hats to them. Through some illogical twist of values, we have discovered something inherently comic in the rural scene. Any glib vaudevillian or numb-brained movie director can always find a laugh in the fact that some people live in a farming community. The ladies of the rural church are presented as faintly outlandish and bizarre.

But we know better, if we have lived there; and this little lady who has played the organ (doubtless a somewhat wheezy one) for six decades will seem a rather impressive figure. To stick to one job, any job, for 60 years in a row is to do vastly better than most of us can ever do; and in the unwritten history of such a woman there is a profound and inspiring tale of fidelity and unselfishness that we could study with a great deal of profit.

Well Timed

LATEST developments in Germany are suggestive of the fabulous hare and tortoise, for slow and steady Chancellor Heinrich Bruening apparently is one good jump ahead of fiery Adolf Hitler, Fascist leader, at a critical point in Germany's current history.

Opposition which has been accumulating momentum under the lash of Hitler's oratory gave promise of influencing the next election. Bruening has kept a listening ear to the ground; has observed carefully the currents of feeling in the political atmosphere.

On the eve of a national election, and within a week of the Lausanne reparations conference, Chancellor Bruening suddenly came forth with a repudiation of his nation's war debt. The last payment on reparations has been made, he declared.

Passing by its international significance, the announcement was admirably designed to hobble Herr Hitler in his attack upon the government. The annual payment of enormous indemnities has become wearisome to every German citizen. The promise of relief—whether or not the promise eventually can be kept—was probably a master stroke in creating a wave of public approval.

Hitler opened the week Monday with an open attack seeking the removal of the Bruening government, and the retirement of President Von Hindenburg in favor of a Fascist. Had he launched his campaign before Chancellor Bruening's coup it would have had a far better chance of success. The old president remains an idol; and the chancellor's debt-repudiation is a gesture appealing strongly to a nationalistic pride which is far from dead in Germany.

Fast Freight Trains

ONE of the ways in which the railroads plan to hit back at the motor trucks which have taken so much business away from them was cited recently in Detroit by Julien L. Eysmans, traffic vice president of the Pennsylvania railroad, who declared that much speedier freight train schedules are now being worked out.

"Freight trains," remarked Mr. Eysmans, "can be made to run on just as fast schedules as passenger trains, if sufficiently attractive inducements to do so arise."

His implication is that the job is going to be done; and it sounds like an eminently sensible way of meeting the problem. Trucks have taken business from the railroads because, in many instances, they can move the freight from shipper to consignee more rapidly. By matching their speed the railroads would overcome the trucks' greatest advantage.

Advice

I may be wrong, but yet at times I feel
That we will patch this twisted quarrel of ours;
That some night I will have the heart to steal
To your gay lair with fresh and fragrant flowers.
If that night comes I only hope that you
Have lost the vision of a wayward lad—
That happiness and faith will spring anew
As you recall the golden days we had.

For, after all, what use is it for me
To stamp defiance at your certain charms?
When all the magic play of memory
Brings back your warmth within my eager arms;

Please, then, when you hear footsteps on your stair
Smile at the past and run to meet me there!

The Retort Lovely

The editorialists were twitting Mayor Walker again—because James was going places—to California, Europe or what have you? The pokes in the papers (as any one will tell you who knows Walker) merely go in one eye and out into the ether.

At the time, an anti-Walker reporter called at the Mayor's apartment. He brought along some of his newspaper's suggestions for alterations on the City Hall, which it argued needed fixing.

"This," said the reporter, "pointing to the blueprints, "is how City Hall will look when it is altered."

"Really?" really'd Jimmy as he lifted his right eyebrow, "how does it look now?"

Merciless Truth

A Form of Criticism

Among other tee-hees was the faux pas made by the announcer of a big meat packing firm on the air the night before the Army-Navy game.

He invited the public to visit the meat packing plant's shipping room in Chicago, and said: "It is a wonderful sight to see the long line of hams, untouched by human hands going along to be wrapped. Just like a dress parade at West Point, rows and rows of Hams?"

"Never mind," snapped the virtuous Miss Mefoofsky, "I came to be haxaminned—not hadmired!"

What! And Starve?

Squelch

After the elocuting, Mr. Morley was surrounded by the girls who waited in line for his autograph. One of the more anxious ones, Jane Franklin asked Morley how he intended choosing the most intelligent girl for the trophy.

"That will go," said Morley, "to the girl who didn't ask for my signature!"

What the Baby Said

When Tallulah Bankhead was making flickers at the local Paramount Studios,—Vina Delmar, the author, was there with her 7-year-old son. He was introduced to Miss Bankhead, and being a mannerly boy he asked: "What picture are you making?"

"Tarnished Lady," replied the talented Tallulah.

Then Vina and her son went ankling to the Park. He was silent all the way. Suddenly he chirped: "Mother, I know what 'tarnished' means, but what does 'Tarnished Lady' mean?"

Vina was stumped for a moment. She finally caught her breath, and replied: "It means, 'not bright,' darling."

THE MOST VALUABLE DETROIT PLAYER—Although Leo Rollins never played a minute from the opening of the season to its close and his name did not appear even in the summaries as a substitute, he was chosen the greatest inspiration to the team of the University of Detroit during the 1931 season.

Rollins, of Gaylord, Mich., was honored in this way as a tribute to his unflagging diligence on the practice field and his unfailing ability to keep the team in good humor—but he never enjoyed even a minute's play in any game.

CHAPTER LXIII

"Let me tell you this, and let us tell it to the whole world today. Sin and license always come first with honeyed promises of personal freedom. They sneak in masked as liberty, shaking their bells merrily since if we saw their faces we would bar our doors as we would against the four horsemen themselves. But every man who has ever believed those seductive promises knows they are false as any harlot's.

"I believed them. I was a fool, but I believed them. I began free, but how have I ended? Bound hand and foot, bound by chains that eat into my flesh and spirit, a damned, broken slave to the thing I was 'free to do.' How am I ended? I am utterly destroyed. I have learned too late that no man among us is ready to be a free soul.

"Once, I had great power. A splendid gift was given into my keeping. There can be no vanity in saying it now, since it is but one more shame among the many that keep me company. Within my hands was the power of influence other minds, to see and judge great issues, to help humanity. What am I now? God in Heaven, a drunken old wreck whose habit is his master and whose bread is shame and whose cup is agony. What shall I say when I am called to account for my talent at a higher bar of justice than this can ever be? I eat husks with the swine every day of my life and pray for death. Not every prodigal knows the way home."

His gaze scorched them. For all humiliation was no meek thing.

"Do you think it is easy for me to tell you this? I would rather be whipped to death in this courtroom. If that would right my wrong, I would choose it a thousand times over to what I am doing now. But it would not. And I must tell you these things because these are the sins of mine that have descended upon my child and the man she loves. You may go to the uttermost parts of the earth, you may cross oceans and put mountains as high as the stars between you, but you will never succeed in taking with you all the consequences of your own sins.

"My sins have nailed my best beloved to the cross!

"I know many things now. I have learned them in hell. There is only one freedom—knowing and obeying God, by whatever name you may call Him. There is no freedom but in knowing and living the truth. No soul is free until it has put under its feet the world and the things that are in the world. There has never been but one man big enough to be a free soul on this earth; and that man was a carpenter in Nazareth before He was tempted in all points like as we are and came forth free from sin because He had conquered sin. He is the only joy no man can take from you.

"We may make light of sin nowadays. The world is no longer in style. It is the fashion to accept sins of the flesh with a shrug. No penalties attach to this commandment and that commandment any more in the eyes of society. What is going to bring us back from all that? What is going to awaken us to the truth that is still true, that sin is the central problem of humanity? Not preaching. For who will listed to preaching? Not laws. No one will obey them, or enforce them, or punish those that scoff at them. But our own happiness, our own restlessness and dissatisfaction and turmoil will scourge us back. I am a man who tossed aside, in my arrogance and self-complaisance and pride, the peace and the beauty and the safety of right living and noble thinking and doing for others. I know what it is like out here in the wilderness. The mirages vanish in cruel torment. The flesh fails. The pains of sense replace the pleasures of sense. I would crawl back on my belly, but I can not.

Stephen had gone deathly white. This time he could not hide from any one the great effort it had cost him.

"It is too late for me. My master has grown too strong. He has bred himself a thousand little demons, bastards of sin, to blind me. There are plenty of prodigals who do not get home. It is too late for me.

"But is it too late for those two here? It can't be. I tell you it mustn't be."

One of the jurywomen sobbed aloud just there. The nerves of the courtroom screamed out. But Stephen Ashe swept on. He seemed upheld by a power not his own. Some fire burned in him that was not of this world. The judge's old face was a thousand wrinkles of pity. It seemed that no one in that courtroom could have moved without Stephen Ashe's permission. He enwrapped them with all his magnetism. Their hearts beat to the slow, violent beat of his. How slow it was! How he drained it to get the magic for this last great spell.

"I am not going to talk to you about Dwight Sutro and his killing. I knew that man better than any one has ever known him. There were three women in this court room, one of them his own sister, that I might have put on the witness stand to prove him as much to blame for his own death as any one else was to blame for it. But that I would not do."

The district attorney could stand it no longer.

"Mr. Ashe has no right to make a statement like that, and he knows it," he shouted.

The judge opened his eyes. He preceded his words with a great trumpeting.

"Objection overruled," he said. "Mr. Ashe never exceeds the bounds of propriety in his arguments. You will save time by allowing him to proceed."

But Stephen Ashe for a moment seemed hardly able to take advantage of the judge's kind permission. He had gone deathly white. This time he could not hide from any one the great effort it cost him.

"But these other two—these two left tangled and besmirched in this mess—I tell you that they have learned their lesson as I have. I have looked into their hearts. To whom would they show their hearts if not to me? And I have seen there repentence and shame and a great prayer for another chance. There only can man imitate God, in giving his brother another chance.

"Do you remember how Abraham Lincoln once pardoned a soldier during the civil war and told him to go back and prove his worthiness of that clemency by being a good soldier? That boy was killed in the last battle of the war, and behind him was a splendid record and upon his heart he carried those words of Lincoln's that had given him another chance.

"I am asking you to give Ace Wilfong another chance to be a good man, and to live right and serve right from this time forth even forever more."

There is no other agency in the world that can answer as many legitimate questions as our free information bureau in Washington, D. C. This highly organized institution has been built up and is under the personal direction of Frederick J. Haskin. By keeping in constant touch with federal bureaus and other educational enterprises it is in a position to pass on to you authoritative information of the highest order. Submit your queries to the staff of experts whose services are put at your free disposal. There is no charge except two cents in coin or stamps for return postage. Address The Record News Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, director, Washington, D. C.

Q.—Does the time spent as a passenger count in a pilot's flying hours?—M. G.

A.—It is not counted.

Q.—What school in the United States was the first to use class rings?—D. D.

A.—It is believed the United States Military academy at West Point was the first.

Q.—How wide was the Delaware river at the point where Washington crossed it in his surprise attack upon the enemy?—E. E. G.

A.—It was less than a half mile, this point being above the falls.

Q.—How does illiteracy in the United States now compare with what it was 50 years ago?—H. S.

A.—In 1880 there were about 17 per cent of illiteracy. At present it has fallen to about 6 per cent.

Q.—How large is the largest candle in the world?—R. T.

A.—What is believed to be the largest candle in the world is the Caruso memorial candle—16 feet high, 5 feet in circumference at the base, and weighing one ton.

Q.—Is Boris Karloff a Russian?—E. M.

A.—This actor, who takes the part of the monster in Frankenstein, was born in London, England, Nov. 23, 1887. He has dark brown hair, brown eyes, and his real name is Pratt.

Q.—Is the Kilauea volcano a menace to Hawaii?—W. B.

A.—It is considered harmlessly active. It affords a marvelous spectacle for tourists. In its present eruption, it is believed that every automobile on the island has made the trip to the volcano.

Q.—Does the portion of ocean the equator contain more salt than water farther north and south?—H. N. S.

A.—There are two zones of maximum salinity on the surface waters of the ocean, one north and one south of the tropical belts, separated by a zone of minimum salinity in the equatorial region.

Q.—Please give the army recipe for griddle cakes.—W. L.

A.—This recipe will serve 60 people: Eight pounds of flour, 2 pounds of sugar, 16 eggs, 8 ounces of baking powder, 1 3-5 ounces of salt. Make a batter of the flour, sugar, sal and eggs (if practicable about 10 hours before the cakes are to be cooked). Do not add the baking powder until just before cooking.

Q.—What towns are there in the District of Columbia besides the city of Washington?—H. F. G.

A.—The city of Washington covers the entire district area. Formerly Georgetown was a separate unit. There are outlying areas of the district, such as Takoma park, Chevy chase, Brookland, Anacostia, Congress Heights and Brightwood, but these are all included in the federal administration.

Q.—Did Dr. Mary Walker wear a special kind of clothes or were they the regulation male attire?—E. S. R.

A.—A picture taken of Dr. Walker shortly after the civil war shows her in garments that might be termed nondescript. While she was dressed in trousers, a garment rather feminine in cut came to her knees. In later years her clothes were cut on mannish lines; black trousers, Prince Albert coat, white shirt and collar, high silk hat, gave her the appearance of a dapper, smartly dressed man.

Q.—When did the traffic in slaves from Africa cease in the United States?—C. W.

A.—According to Elson's "History of the United States," "A part of one of the compromises of the constitution was that congress must not interfere with the slave trade before 1808. Long before this time, however, the southern states put an end to the traffic, each within its own bounds. But in 1804 South Carolina reopened it (after it had been closed in that state for 15 years), and in the remaining four years imported about 40,000 negroes. In 1807, congress passed a law to take effect Jan. 1, 1808, prohibiting the trade, under severe penalties. In 1820 an additional act made the traffic piracy punishable by death. But in spite of all vigilance of the government, aided by the British government, there continued a smuggling trade up to the civil war. In all this period there was but one execution for smuggling negroes, and that after the opening of the civil war."

Lewis Browne's Lecture At Forum Open To Public

Lewis Browne, whose lecture on a religious topic will be given at the Woman's Forum Thursday night beginning at 8 o'clock, gave two lectures last week-end in Dallas and a group of Wichitans who heard him, pay glowing tribute to his eloquence. When he spoke at the forum in that city in a building with a seating capacity of more than 2,000, there were 1,000 turned away, it was said. The lecture he is to deliver in Wichita Falls will be free to forum members on their forum cards and is the first forum attraction that has been open to the general public at the minimum charge of $1 usually made to forum members' husbands and out-of-town guests.

"Why We Are Religious," is the title Dr. Browne gives to his address. It is a subject he has discussed before audiences many times as well as in the books that have such a general appeal.

Dr. Browne points out that every age has its beliefs; that for the change of a word in a text men have given their blood and races have died; that every world in which we live is a product of faith. He tells what this vital and mysterious force is, and discusses what the things are that men of today truly believe. It is said that he touches on the present day tendencies of all current religions, including those of Russia and India.

Dr. Browne is an intense and enthusiastic speaker and it is said he crowds into a little more than an hour an amazing amount of information, history, and philosophy of life, and that through it all runs a rich, healthy sense of humor.

Highland Heights Bible Class Has Monthly Party

A covered dish luncheon opened the monthly party of the Loyal Workers class at Highland Heights Christian church Tuesday at noon and following the delightful menu, Mrs. P. B. Curd, president of the class, made an inspirational talk on its upbuilding. Mrs. Frank Creighton led the members and guests in a number of games during the social session.

Teachers and members of other classes who were guests of the class included Mrs. F. B. Mashburn, teacher of the Banner class and Mrs. Salina Hammond of that class; Rev. J. E. Montgomery, teacher of the Berean class; Mesdames J. E. Montgomery, J. P. Ground, Jack Frost, Grace Jones and Andrews.

Wilson Memorial W. M. S. Honors Valued Member

Mrs. W. N. Deaton, who is leaving with her family to make her home in Mississippi, was surprised Tuesday by members of the Wilson Memorial Methodist Woman's Missionary society with a handkerchief shower. She received many pretty gifts. Many expressed their regret at losing a faithful member.

Those present were Mesdames Ben Bell, A. M. Davenport, G. H. Axline, J. A. Lacey, J. L. Arnold, C. P. Perkins, B. C. Harrison, D. L. Holder, J. W. Thomas, Ernest Owens, J. R. Lee, R. E. George, C. P. Perkins, V. C. Hammersley, W. S. Martin, H. O. Denson, F. M. Holder and the honoree.

Police Changes Follow Santone Crime Wave

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 19. (AP)—An increase in crime since Jan. 1 has caused a shakeup in the police personnel here.

One of the most drastic moves ever made in the department was the abolition of the automobile theft bureau. The prohibition enforcement bureau, or vice squad, was readjusted but not eliminated.

District Plans Made at Forum Executive Meet

A note expressing sympathy to Mrs. W. Newton Maer for the death of her grandmother, and a telegram of condolence to the family of Mrs. M. W. Burch of Decatur, former president of the first district T. F. W. C., were sent when members of the executive board of the Woman's Forum met in the regular session at the club Tuesday morning, with Mrs. G. D. Anderson presiding in Mrs. Maer's absence.

Following the department and chairmen's reports, Miss Mary Virginia Barron made a glowing report of the work of the juniors and presented for that department a check for $100, a delayed Christmas present to the seniors. Announcement was made of the junior luncheon Saturday and of the pageant, "Texas Under Six Flags," which will follow.

Among the announcements, that of the first district meeting in Wichita Falls in April was again made. A valentine luncheon for Feb. 12 was announced to take the place of a postponed literature meeting. Mrs. Anna Witherspoon will feature the meeting with a book review. The Slipperland cooperative offer on hose was announced.

Mrs. G. L. Shapard reported for the affiliated clubs and took the chair in a business meeting when these clubs elected Mrs. Guy Rogers general chairman of entertainment at the district federation.

Milk Bottle Lunch Fund Reaches Total Of $366

Milk bottles which had been placed in shops and restaurants for the P.-T. A. lunch fund by a committee from the high school and junior college P.-T. A., were taken up Tuesday and the amount contained in them, $127, made a grand total in the six weeks of the drive of $366. A check from the Goodner Wholesale Grocery company for $30 was included in the Tuesday collection. Probably the record collection of small donations was $42 found in the Hamilton Barber shop bottle in one week.

Each member of the committee expressed appreciation of the cooperation of the merchants and citizens of the city. With the lunch fund "over the top," they felt that the milk bottles should be removed so that generous citizens would feel free to donate their gifts to other funds in the city more in need at this time. Should the occasion arise, they expressed their assurance of the same cooperation from merchants.

Mrs. R. A. King, general chairman of the milk bottle fund, entertained the committee at her home Tuesday afternoon with a hilarious party where prizes, in line with the careful expenditures of the committee, were all chosen from a "White Elephant" sale. The first prize, which went to Mrs. C. D. Whitley, was a pretty piece of lingerie quite popular in the mauve decade. Mrs. William Huff, winner of the statuary exhibit with her cow made from chewing gum, won another such prize and the consolation went to Mrs. J. G. Dixon.

Members present were Mesdames P. B. Cox, J. S. Hargett, J. G. Dixon, William Huff, Tom Wynn, S. A. Covington, W. C. Krauss, C. A. Morris, Harry ten Brink, R. B. Magee, C. D. Whitley, R. M. Tittle and the hostess, Mrs. R. A. King.

How to Reduce Colds and Their Costs This Winter

One of Family's Biggest Problems Met With Vick "Control-of-Colds" Plan

Actual Test of the Plan Is Offered By Wichita Falls Druggists on a Trial Guarantee.

To most families this winter, the high costs of colds are an extra burden. Loss of time, health and money are involved. To reduce the drain of this burdensome family "Colds-Tax" is the purpose of the Vick Plan for better "Control-of-Colds"—to lessen their number, severity and duration.

Plan Follows New Discovery

The Vick Plan is made possible with Vicks Nose & Throat Drops. Based on a new idea for "preventing" colds, this new Vick discovery is companion to Vicks VapoRub, the modern way of "treating" colds. Each aids and supplements the other for better "Control-of-Colds."

Here, briefly, is the Vick Plan:

1.—Before a Cold Starts

Watch yourself whenever you have been exposed to anything that you know is apt to give you a cold, such as—

Contact with others having fresh colds—crowds, stuffy ill-ventilated rooms, public places—a night on a Pullman or a dusty automobile ride—sudden changes in temperature—inhaling smoke, dust, gases—excesses in living, such as over-eating, smoking or drinking, which reduce body resistance—after a hard day when you are over tired.

Then—if you feel that stuffy, sneezy irritation of the nasal passages, Nature's usual signal that a cold is coming on—use Vicks Nose Drops at once—just a few drops up each nostril. Repeat every hour or so if needed. This will prevent many colds by stopping them before they get beyond the nose and throat—where most colds start.

2.—After a Cold Starts

At night, massage the throat and chest well with Vicks VapoRub (now available in white "stainless" form, if you prefer). Spread on thick and cover with warm flannel. Leave the bed-clothing loose around the neck so that the medicated vapors arising can be inhaled all night long.

If the air-passages are badly clogged with mucus, melt some VapoRub in a bowl of hot water and inhale the steaming vapors for several minutes. (If there is a cough, you will like the new Vick Cough Drop—actually medicated with ingredients of Vicks VapoRub.)

During the day—any time, any place—use Vicks Nose Drops every few hours as needed. This gives you full 24-hour treatment and without the risks of too much internal "dosing," which so often upsets digestion—especially of children.

Offer By Local Druggists

Your druggist is offering Vicks Nose Drops and Vicks VapoRub on the following trial guarantee: Use these preparations together as directed in the Vick Plan for better "Control-of-Colds." Unless you are delighted with results, your money will be refunded.—Adv.

STOCKING
comes when you cross knees, bend, stretch, even put on your shoes! If elasticity has been destroyed, silk threads break, starting ruinous runs.

STOP THOSE RUNS

Preserve the ELASTICITY* that makes stockings WEAR

DO YOU KNOW what causes those ruinous runs?

New stockings are elastic—they give under strain, stretch and then spring back again. When this precious elasticity is destroyed, the silk threads, instead of giving, break under strain. It is then that runs start!

That is why Lux is made especially to preserve the elasticity that makes even the sheerest stockings really wear.

The Lux Way to make stockings last twice as long*

Wash after EACH wearing. Perspiration left in the stocking will actually rot the silk.

Don't rub with cake soap. It destroys the elasticity of the silk, making it lifeless, apt to break into runs, and ill-fitting. With Lux there's no rubbing. Even stubborn spots come out perfectly if you gently press in a few dry Lux diamonds.

Don't use too-warm water—this fades color. With Lux you use lukewarm water. No hot water needed. The tiny Lux diamonds—so sheer you can actually read through them—dissolve twice as fast, even in water at wrist temperature. Anything safe in water is safe in Lux.

Wash this 2-minute way:

1. One teaspoon of Lux makes plenty of suds for each pair of stockings.
2. Add lukewarm water to Lux, squeeze gentle suds through stockings, rinse well.

MILLIONS of women find Lux in the dishpan the world's cheapest beauty care for the hands. Costs less than 1¢ a day.
LUX

LUX for stockings 2 minutes a day keeps them like new

Crackers and Biscuits

The two best methods of using white flour are first, in the form of thoroughly toasted or dextrinized bread, and the second is in the form of baking powder biscuits. The best method of making these baking powder biscuits is to combine the white flour with eggs and milk with the addition of baking powder. The biscuits should be made very thin so that they can be thoroughly cooked. They should not be used in addition to other starches at the meal, but should be considered the principal starchy food and be properly combined with the non-starchy and salad vegetables. Either white- or whole-wheat flour may be used in the preparation of these biscuits.

Properly prepared biscuits should be light, with a golden brown crust of a fluffy composition and never soggy. In making them one should be accurate with the measurements, have an oven of correct temperature, and avoid over-handling or kneading the biscuits. A good recipe is as follows:

Two egg whites, two level teaspoonfuls of baking powder or less, depending upon the type of baking powder used. (Follow the directions given on the can.) Beat the egg whites until stiff and fold in the flour with as little stirring as possible, adding to milk a little at a time along with the flour, which has been sifted with the baking powder and salt. The yolks should be beaten in the milk and not thrown away. Drop the batter in small spoonfuls on an ungreased aluminum sheet and bake in a hot oven until brown.

Most of the biscuits sold from the bread counters are made of yeast rather than baking powder, and resemble bread rather than baking powder biscuits.

Biscuits should never be used as strawberry shortcake or with any acid fruit. Crackers may occasionally be used as the starchy part of a meal instead of biscuits. They are better when toasted so that they are thoroughly dry and of a golden brown. Crackers may be taken on camping trips in place of bread.

There are also a variety of wholewheat crackers baked in a hard, flat form. Some have the addition of flaxseed, raisins, etc. One of the latest to be developed is the wholewheat cracker to which various vegetables have been added. This is a good type of cracker to feed children, as the vegetables are disguised and they can eat a large quantity.

There are a number of shredded wholewheat biscuit products which are quite wholesome when broken open and re-toasted under the broiler. Because of these products being so brittle, they may be softened by pouring hot water over them and then seasoning with butter. They can then be eaten with a spoon as a very tasty substitute for melba toast.

Cornmeal flour may be used to replace the wheat flours in preparing muffins, but the wheat flour and cornmeal should not be mixed together in the same recipe.

In preparing any of these biscuits or crackers, remember that they are starchy foods and should be used as such and not be combined with acid fruits.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Craving for Sweets

Question: Mr. U. writes—"I seem to be craving sweets all the time but seldom care for a good meal. If I don't have something sweet to chew on, I am thinking about it. It is almost like a drug habit. What could be the cause of this?"

Answer—Some people develop a habit craving for sweets just as others do for alcohol or drugs. Any one who eats an excess of sweets does not relish balanced meals. Force yourself to take a fruit fast for about a week, then eat plenty of proteins and non-starchy vegetables, and I am sure that your excessive craving for sweets will disappear and you will have a more normal appetite.

Swollen Ankles

Question: Mrs. George N. writes—"Both of my ankles are swollen, especially along toward evening. They are not sore but simply kind of puffy. I am using an electrical vibrator, but the swelling doesn't seem to go down."

Answer—Swollen ankles are often caused by heart trouble or inefficient functioning of the kidneys. You would need a careful examination to find out just what is causing the dropsical condition in your case. I would suggest that you have a good diagnosis made and write to me again, telling me the results.

Cannot Contract TB

Question: L. F. C. asks—"Please tell me if there is any danger in marrying a man who lost his wife of tuberculosis six months ago."

Answer—There is no need for you to worry about infection from tuberculosis if your prospective husband has not been in contact with tuberculosis for six months and does not have the disease at present.

Electra Seventh Grade Graduates

Special to The Record News.

ELECTRA, Texas, Jan. 19.—Thirty-five students, 19 girls and 16 boys were graduated from the high seventh grade and were presented diplomas Monday evening at exercises in the high school auditorium.

Rev. Clark H. Russell, pastor of the First Methodist church, made the principal address. One of the greatest problems confronting the youth of today, he asserted, was being able to find themselves and to understand themselves. Rev. J. O. Wilburn of the First Christian church, led the invocation. Miss Mary Sheridan gave the salutatory address, and it was announced that the valedictorian, Miss Truceal Davis, was unable to be present because of illness. Her average was given as 94 2-10 and Miss Sheridan's as 92 1-10.

The girls of the class played two numbers on harmonicas and sang two Italian folk songs. Miss Ruby K. Price, supervisor of music, directed the graduates, and Miss Ruth Smith played the accompaniment. The high school trio composed of Doris Owens, Mina Cobb and Barbara Hatfield sang a special selection.

The diplomas were presented by C. M. Harvey, principal of the Thompson ward school. E. E. Rogers, principal of the high school, served as chairman. Supt. B. M. Dinsmore made an earnest appeal to the school patrons to pay their school taxes and influence others to do the same thing.

OKLAHOMA GOP SETS MEETING

Central Committee to Convene Feb. 29

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 19. (UP)—The Republican state executive committee today set Feb. 29 for the state central committee to meet here and fix dates for precinct, county, congressional district and state conventions.

An expected fight over the right of the central committee to fix convention dates failed to develop when the executive committee yielded.

Fred C. Clarke, state chairman, will call the central committee to order at 10 a. m. Feb. 29.

The executive committee recommended that the central committee call precinct caucuses for late in March, and county, congressional district and state conventions for early in April.

The committee also asked Dave Bucher, Enid, president of the Young Republicans of Oklahoma, to call the annual meeting for Feb. 12 in Oklahoma City.

W. G. Skelly, national committeeman, urged harmony in Republican ranks as Democrats on the sidelines hoped for a party row that might end in the ouster of Skelly and Clarke.

"I believe we have an opportunity to carry the next legislature, or at least a good working part of it. We have more strength in Oklahoma than we ever had," Skelly said.

BASEBALL REMAINS FOREMOST IN SPORTS, VOTE REVEALS

DIAMOND GAME IS FAVORITE

Football Ranks Close to Top In Sports Census

By ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Jan. 19. (AP)—Baseball, in the opinion of the experts who feel and minister to the nation's sporting pulse, still ranks as the No. 1 American game, despite the obvious inroad on its popularity by the rapid development of football and golf.

In a country-wide poll by The Associated Press among sports writers and editors, to determine the most popular sport, baseball leads by a fair-sized margin. Football is a strong second, even with the seasonal factor admitted. Golf holds third place and boxing fourth.

Sports Ranked

Basket ball, horse racing, fishing and hunting, track and field, ice hockey and tennis are the only other sports mentioned in the voting by the experts as being entitled to rank among any "first three."

Here is the outcome of the balloting, counting three points for first choice, two points for second, one point for third.

Baseball—181, (38 first choices).
Football—163, (27 first choices).
Golf—114, (16 first choices).
Boxing—29, (2 first choices).
Basket Ball—9, (1 first choice).
Horse Racing—7, (1 first choice).
Fishing and Hunting—4, (1 first choice).
Track and Field—2.
Ice Hockey—1.
Tennis—1.

Football Gains

Although a somewhat sharp difference of opinion is manifest, as to how much baseball has declined in general interest, if any the poll convincingly discloses the remarkable gains of football and golf in national popularity. Equally clear is the big decline in boxing, which in Jack Dempsey's heyday probably would have 1-2 in any sector of the nation.

Although, as one observer notes, "many minor leagues have folded up and many colleges and schools have quit playing the game," another said: "Baseball is still our national game" and a third adds: "For all-around, month in and month out interest as well as from the standpoint of those who play it, baseball is far and away ahead."

Kids Play It

"The family at the cross-roads still takes its baseball seriously," writes an Iowa sports editor. "Try and leave out a box score if the edition is tight! the kids still play the game in meadow and corner lot. Baseball, in my judgment, is and will continue to be our national game."

Although admitting, as do most observers, that no sport can compare with baseball day-in-and-out, a voice from the Pacific Northwest asserts: "Football has forged ahead of baseball in popularity because of the ballyhoo and thunder accompanying the sport over a short period time and the interest Knute Rockne built up with his winning teams."

On the Sidelines

By BRIAN BELL

The New York Giants, Chicago Cubs, Pittsburgh Pirates and Detroit Tigers, major league baseball clubs doing their spring training in California, will make money as they condition themselves, says the experts.

Men wise in baseball declare that the big fellows will attract enough customers in their exhibition games to pay all expenses and have something left over.

If such proves to be the case there will be more than four clubs training on the Pacific coast in 1933.

The Giants are expected to profit most. John J. McGraw and his mighty men are making their first appearance in the far west. There are thousands of dyed in the wool fans in California who have never seen the great McGraw or Mel Ott, Bill Terry, Hughie Critz, Freddie Lindstrom, Travis Jackson, Bill Walker and the other National league stars.

A close observer suggests that the Giants may start home with a profit of about $75,000. The Cubs are like home folks to Los Angeles and Catalina Island, but they should clean up in the neighborhood of $60,000 with $50,000 each left for the Pirates and Tigers.

Warm-Up Schedule

On their way home the Giants will stop along the road for several series with Detroit. The Cubs and Pirates also will clash at intervals as they work their way east.

The Giants will play exhibition games with the other major league clubs in Los Angeles, and will take on Pacific Coast league clubs at Pasadena, San Diego, Oakland and San Francisco.

The Cubs will play the Giants, Pirates and Tigers in the South and move north for games with Pacific Coast league opponents, morning and afternoon games to be played with San Francisco, March 27.

The Tigers will start their spring playing at San Francisco and move as close to Mexico as San Diego, stopping for an extended stay at Los Angeles. The Pirates will play Los Angeles at Santa Barbara.

The Salary War

Bill Terry's prompt minority dissenting report on a motion by the New York Giants that his salary be reduced 40 per cent, and an announcement by Babe Herman that he too would vote "nay" on this important question, causes no surprise.

Few ball players will be found in a receptive mood when the matter of a pay check cut is brought up.

The cards, however, are all held by the club owners. Even in flush baseball times all the athletes who have made their holdouts stick can be counted on the fingers of one hand.

In the dim and distant past of the game, "Turkey Mike" Donlin, now a motion picture actor, remained away from the game and turned to the stage for a season when his salary demands were not met by the Giants.

A few others have let their spikes rust and gloves mildew for a time, but not many. Dave Fultz, now a well known New York lawyer, and Art Shafer, a golfer of parts in California, retired from the game when they were in their prime, but their voluntary departure was not caused by salary differences.

First Offers

Some of the players, perhaps, feel that the club owners do not expect them to sign at the first figures offered. A low initial figure will permit a series of negotiations on both sides, with an adjustment somewhere between the salary drawn last year and the one offered in 1932.

On the other hand, there are club presidents who make their only offer the first time. The players doubtless know in what division their bosses belong and will act accordingly.

The St. Louis Cardinals possibly did not expect Hack Wilson to sign a contract calling for $7,500. The rotund outfielder, whose 1931 contract called for $33,000 from the Chicago Cubs, is in the position of the man who expected a light touch of fever and was stricken with paralysis

PLAYERS TALK ABOUT SALARY

Opinions Expressed About Baseball Wage Cut

By FOSTER HAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—Out in the highways and byways, on fox and deer hunting fields, in fishing grounds and on golf links, The Associated Press went scouting today for New York baseball players to find out what they were doing about their 1932 contracts.

Eleven athletes of the three New York teams who had not previously expressed themselves publicly regarding their 1932 signatures were found pursuing various winter advocations. Five of them said they had signed, or would. Three were dissatisfied with the terms offered them, but not belligerently so. One would make no comment, and two said they had sent their contracts back unsigned.

"Holdouts" Interviewed

The latest "holdouts" are Charles (Red) Ruffing, burley right-handed pitcher and Bill Dickey, the no less hefty first string catcher of the Yankees. From his winter chateau at Nokomis, Ill., Ruffing sent word he fired the proferred contract back at the Yankees. The same word came from Dickey, off on a deer hunting trip near Little Rock, Ark. Neither divulged the terms offered them.

Four Yankees who gladdened the hearts of their employers by agreeing with their financial views were George Pipgras, right-handed pitcher; Ed Wells, left-hander; Frank Crosetti, recruit infielder, and Sam Byrd, fleet outfielder. The fifth player to fall in line is Del Bissonette, veteran Brooklyn first sacker.

Some Not Satisfied

Chick Fullis, reserve outfielder of the Giants, Joie Sewell, Yankee third baseman, and Tony Lazzeri, former king-pin second sacker of the Yankees but last year a reservist, expressed themselves as not fully satisfied with the contracts offered.

Wally Gilbert, regular Brooklyn third baseman, who already is getting in shape at Hot Springs, Ark., made no comment.

Two other old Yankee regulars, Squire Herbert Pennock, Kennett Square, Pa., and Col. Earl Combs, Richmond, Ky., could not be reached. Pennock was away with the hounds after a fox and the Kentucky colonel was out after whatever he could shoot, in season.

Several of the athletes still had not received their 1932 documents, among these being Lefty O'Doul and Johnny Frederick, Brooklyn outfielders.

The Giants meanwhile received two signed contracts in the mails, from Johnny Vergez, third baseman, and Roy Parmalee, recruit pitcher. Vergez is supposed to have received a substantial raise over the amount he was paid as a first year man in 1931.

By MACK TURNER

Keeping up their dizzy undefeated pace, First Christian and Highland Heights Christian continued to hold the top rung of the Sunday School league ladder Friday night on the Floral Heights Presbyterian court by defeating the Floral Heights Methodist and Temple Israel, respectively, while the scrappy little East Side Presbyterians continued to hold on to their slim chance for a first half tie by defeating the Floral Heights Presbyterian in the third game of the evening.

Highland Heights Christian was barely able to nose out the Temple Israel five by the close score of 18 to 15 in the first game. The First Christian again was led to victory by their wild scoring ace, Jim Janeway, and defeated Floral Heights Methodist by the score of 41 to 19 in the second game. East Side Presbyterians won the first half Presbyterian championship by downing the Floral Heights five, 39 to 28.

Temple Fights

The Temple Israel five threw a big scare into the Highland Heights Christians in the first game of the evening, and not until the last minute of play could they shake off the stubborn Temple five.

Again it was the inability to stop Jim Janeway which spelled defeat for the foes of the First Christians and the speedy little First Christian forward rang up a total of 20 points at the expense of the Floral Heights Methodist in accounting for 20 of his team's 41 points. The night's scoring gave Janeway an impressive scoring record of 69 points in three games.

Fighting for their slim chance to end in a tie for the first half, the scrapping midgets from the East Side Presbyterian rang up a well played 39 to 28 win over the Floral Heights Presbyterians in the final game. The East Siders were led by Earl Smith, flashy little forward who rang up seven field goals and one free pitch for a total of 15 points. The brilliant trio of Dorsey, Baumgardner and P. Allen finished in a dead heat for second place scoring honors with eight points each. Shirley Donnell and Otto Stehlik were high point men for the Floral Heights five with nine points.

Lions Take Ninth Win From Olney

Special to The Record News.

VERNON, Texas, Jan. 19.—The Vernon Lions tonight annexed its ninth consecutive win in a thus far perfect basket ball season by its 19 to 17 victory over the Olney Cubs.

The game was easily the fastest seen on the local court this season. Both teams were "hot" after the ball, and the contest was marked by brilliant play on the part of both fives. Vernon and Olney quintets will tangle again Thursday night with a return match at Olney.

"Too Tall" Jones, Lion center, was high point cager of the evening with a score of 11 points. The Lion captain, Lockard, drew second place with 10 points. Gilmore and Pratt, starting forwards, shared honors equally for the Cubs with eight points each.

One of the best crowds of the season witnessed the match.

Senate Adopts Bill For Utility Query

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19. (US)—Aiming to trace the ownership of public utilities, including the "power trust," the house today adopted the Rayburn resolution authorizing its interstate commerce committee to make an investigation.

Dr. Walter M. W. Splawn, former president of the University of Texas and ex-member of the Texas Railroad commission, will be employed by the committee to assist in the inquiry. He acted in a similar capacity for the committee last year in disclosing the stock ownership and control of all railroads.

Gasoline consumption in Palm Beach county, Florida, increased more than 90,000 gallons in October.

Bulldogs and Cats Tangle at Crowell

CROWELL, Texas, Jan. 19.—One of the basket ball classics of West Texas this season is expected here Thursday night when the strong and highly touted Plainview High school Bulldogs invade this city to tangle with the Crowell High Wildcats.

These two teams ruled the roost last year in districts 1, 2 and 3, including the Panhandle, South Plains and Lower Panhandle. Plainview won the bi-district championship of the Panhandle and South Plains region, while Crowell won the district championship of the Lower Panhandle section. Plainview has not suffered defeat this season and is rated strongly as a state championship prospect. Crowell has suffered but one defeat and that at the hands of Olney by the narrow margin of 21 to 18 at Olney recently.

The Wildcats have improved considerably since that time and local fans believe that the Plainview Bulldogs are in for the toughest competition they have met this season when they play here Thursday night. Coach Grady Graves states that his team will likely be in good condition for the Bulldog invasion.

Much interest is being shown in the contest and a record-breaking crowd is expected.

This marks the first time that an athletic team from the Panhandle has played in Crowell. Coach Froggie Lovvorn of the Bulldogs is bringing a squad of 10 men.

TIGERS MEET PACK TONIGHT

Wichita and Electra Fives Meet in First Game

Special to The Record News.

ELECTRA, Texas, Jan. 19.—The Tigers are prepared for their initial tangle with the Wichita Falls Coyotes Wednesday night at Wichita Falls. The Coyotes will play a return game here Jan. 30.

The county basket ball and volley ball tournament will be held here Feb. 5-6. The winners of the tournament will meet the round robin winners Feb. 12-13.

Mankins Owls Take 37-20 Win From Dundee

Special to The Record News.

MANKINS, Texas, Jan. 19.—The Mankins senior Owls defeated the Dundee Cowboys last night, on the Valley View court 37 to 20. Russell Parks was high point man with 16 points. This was the second victory during the round robin series.

The junior boys of Mankins are still 1,000 per cent. They beat Dundee with a victory of 11 to 3. Gorden McBride was high point man.

Friday night Mankins will meet Megargle on Megargle's court. This will be the third year for the girls and fourth game for the boys in the round robin.

Burk Quint Smears Fairview Dribblers

Special to The Record News.

BURKBURNETT, Texas, Jan. 19.—The Burk Independent basket ball team defeated the Holliday Baptists on the Fairview school court Monday night by the score of 41-23. Stringer, center for the Independents and coach at Fairview, was high point man for both teams, with Watkins for the Independents and Johnson and Butts for the Holliday Baptists also doing good work.

The lineups:

The Burkburnett Independent basketeers have a successful record so far this season, having won practically all of their games. The team is managed by Harry Black, and expect to annex another victory at Petrolia Wednesday night.

Campbell Urged to Try Daytona Beach Again

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., Jan. 19. (AP)—Mayor Edward H. Armstrong late today cabled Sir Malcolm Campbell, British racing driver, inviting him to come here in February to make an attempt to lower his own world's automobile speed record of 245 miles per hour.

CHAMP AGREES TO TITLE BOUT

Max Reinstated by Fight Board on Agreement

NEW YORK, Jan. 19. (AP)—Max Schmeling made his peace today with the New York State Athletic commission, and the price he paid was adherence to a promise made almost two years ago.

The young German, crowned heavyweight champion here after winning on a foul from Jack Sharkey in the Yankee stadium in June, 1930, formally promised to resume his feud with the Boston sailorman before July 1, a pledge he made after their first match but never kept.

Title Fight Nears

The commission, which took away his title recognition when he failed to keep his word a year ago, immediately lifted Schmeling's suspension to the extent of permitting him to negotiate a contract for the Sharkey match. This will be done by Friday, Max promised, and a $25,000 forfeit will be posted this time along with the legal papers.

While no promoter was mentioned at the commission, the fact is that Schmeling already has settled on terms with Madison Square garden for a 15-round engagement with Sharkey in one of the major league ball parks here in June.

Sharkey to Sign

The Boston warrior will arrive here Monday morning with his manager, Johnny Buckley, to sign their portion of the documents.

The peace conference brought to a close the feud that has raged between Schmeling and the commission ever since the night of the famous foul. Likewise it removed all prospect of a match between Schmeling and Mickey Walker.

Once the contracts are signed and delivered to the commission, Schmeling, and his manager, Joe Jacobs, will be reinstated here. They plan an extended exhibition tour and a moving picture project in California this winter before starting training in the spring.

Bill Sweeney, former Pacific Coast league baseball umpire, has made application for a job in the circuit in 1932.

"I've been CHASING YOU 12 miles....

to tell You . . . . . .
You've Lost Your Oil"

Two cars raced along the highway east of Abilene, Texas. The second driver finally overtook the leader and signaled to stop.

"I've been chasing you twelve miles to tell you you've lost your oil," he called to J. W. Bell. Mr. Bell found that a rock in the road had knocked a hole in the crankcase, allowing the Conoco Germ Processed Oil to drain out.

But examination of the motor showed no damage done. The "Hidden Quart" had protected the motor!

Only Conoco Germ Processed Oil offers the extra protection of the "Hidden Quart" that stays up in your motor and never drains away. Only Germ Processed Oil actually penetrates and combines with metal surfaces.

You need that extra protection during the starting period, when almost half your motor wear occurs. Oils not Germ Processed drain away, leaving parts unprotected. Germ Processed Oil stays on the job to cut down starting wear, giving your motor longer life. with fewer repair bills. It is the safest, surest lubrication you can buy.

Change to Germ Processed Oil now at the sign of the Conoco Red Triangle.

We neither encourage "dry crankcase" experiments nor guarantee success under all conditions. But unsolicited letters from motorists, now in our files, tell of this and hundreds of other runs with empty crankcases but without damage.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Jan. 19. (AP)—Cotton was less active today, but offerings were comparatively light and early declines were followed by steadiness in later trading.

March, after selling off from $6.00@6.71, closed at $6.74, with the general market steady at net declines of 4 to 6 points.

Trading buying was in evidence from time to time during the day, but it was smaller than recently, and buyers showed little disposition to follow up the bulges.

A private report estimated ginnings prior to Jan. 6 at 15,941,422 bales with an outturn of 583,017 for the last period. Liverpool cables reported continental buying and trade calling in that market. Exports today 27,478, making 4,520,135 so far this season. Port receipts 49,146. U. S. port stocks 4,878,246.

Futures closed steady, 4 to 6 points lower. Spot quiet; middling 6.80.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 19. (AP)—Cotton was only moderately active in today's session and prices, while fluctuating narrowly, showed a slight downward trend. Fluctuations in stocks appeared to influence the market, although there was some liquidation and hedge selling. After a comparatively steady opening, prices eased off 7@8 points, but later recovered 4@5 points of the loss. The close was steady, showing net declines for the day of 3@5 points.

March closed at 6.73 and May at 6.88 down 3 points net for the day and July closed at 7.05, down 4 points net.

Liverpool is due tomorrow 2 penny points up on New Orleans.

Port receipts 49,146; for week, 114,248; for season, 7,084,907; last season, 7,370,846; exports, 27,478; for week, 99,879. For season, 4,422,979; last season, 4,200,200. Port stock, 4,923,007; last year, 4,189,496; combined shipboard stock at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston 192,974; last year, 86,909. Spot sales at southern markets, 32,896; last year, 9,148.

Rail Stocks Gain Nominally on I.C.C. Recapture Clause Ruling

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, Jan. 19. (US)—Securities moved in listless fashion today, awaiting additional developments from the many conferences, meetings, and similar formal and informal gatherings here and abroad.

The railroad wage convention at Chicago reaching no conclusions, the inspiration for a modest rally in railroad stocks came from Washington. The Interstate Commerce commission recommendation for voiding the recapture power over excess railroad earnings was utilized as an excuse for the fractional improvement which occurred.

That this "recapture" authority affects few railroads and actually has been ineffective generally was disregarded in the anxiety to interpret current developments hopefully to the market.

On the average, the stock market barely moved for the day when measured by the previous close. Transactions were just above a million shares, and bonds sold off small fractions.

Wheat, which had made good the prediction of a five-cent recovery, lost a good part of the recent recovery, and its action was hardly stimulating to stocks. There is more than a coincidence in the shift of speculative activity into wheat just when the market was showing signs of ominous heaviness.

However, the wheat rise had too many earmarks of a speculatively-inspired action to win many friends. The inspiration for continued improvement in stocks apparently must come from other sources.

Laval's message to the French deputies was in keeping with forecast here of a "vigorous" talk on reparations and war debts, but his remarks contained nothing essentially new. The Europeans seemingly are intent upon further delaying a showdown on the vital questions which have been overhanging the entire economic world—at least they are anxious to hold back decisions until the American elections. The market has been anxious, on the other hand, for an early decision.

A great deal of attention is being directed currently toward those surface affairs such as the railway wage gathering, while little thought is being directed, except among patient circles, to the continued adjustments taking place without interruption. These adjustments eventually will dictate a change for the better regardless of surface appearances.

Of course the market in its impatience desires spectacular occurrences, but the cure for the extended depression can hardly come overnight.

Thus, some of the "reformed bears" who had been managing the constructive campaign in the market for a few weeks were again reported uneasy over the failure to attract a public following. It was disclosed here recently that these speculative interests were little satisfied with results of their campaign and that they are of a type which shifts its sentiments quickly.

There were some today who saw in the huge turnover in Alaska-Juneau, a gold mining stock, signs that one of the important former bear groups had again turned skeptical of the main list. Whenever their sentiment has been bearish, this group has "bulled" Juneau on the theory that gold shares must naturally be favored if deflation is to continue.

The main body of stocks showed only fractional net changes. General Electric was particularly heavy, its 1931 income being estimated well under the $1.60 dividend; for the first nine months net equalled $1.07 with this stock freely supplied it was difficult to stimulate bullishness in other industrials but as a group they were down but a fraction.

Rails enjoyed a fair rally, with New Haven a feature by advancing two points. This stock is said to be favored by recent switching from other rails.

Steel common closed unchanged although the premium for borrowing the issue, which had been quoted as high as one-half point, was brought down to a small fraction, more in keeping with the enormous floating supply.

Public Utilities failed to reflect Washington indications of a thorough-going investigation of the industry, especially pertaining to the holding companies.

The auto trade is reported somewhat upset by the delay in announcement of the Ford plans, and announcement of a price cut by one of the major producers was not at all conducive to generally optimistic feeling toward the motor shares.

However, the major interests in the trade have all along realized that the stiffest kind of competition was inevitable. The market obviously will be keenly interested, therefore, in the current capital accounts of the motor producers in gauging the stocks' profit possibilities.

Delivered group three points:

Oats—No. 2 red 24@25c.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Jan. 19. (AP)—Vanishing of speculative purchase orders for wheat tumbled prices downward in all grain pits today.

An increase of 2,694,000 bushels in the world's available stock of wheat gave emphasis to reports that southern hemisphere countries were shipping wheat out as fast as possible, and would continue to do so for weeks yet. It was also apparent that wheat at Kansas City was working toward a basis which would permit profitable shipments to Chicago.

Bottommost prices of the day in wheat were reached just at the close, which was unsteady, 1⅜@1⅞c under yesterday's finish, with corn ⅝@1¼c down, oats ¼@⅜c off, and provisions at 2@15 cents decline.

Special notice was taken of an estimate current that in addition to farm board holdings, the United States now had on hand 112,000,000 bushels available for six months' exports and carryover. In some quarters, significance was also attached to the fact that the open interest in wheat here showed but little change from last Friday despite the heavy buying Saturday and Monday. The inference was drawn that farm board connections had taken advantage of advances, and had filled up buyers with as much wheat as they would take.

Closing indemnities: Wheat, May 58¼@⅜c, 60⅜@½c; July 57⅝@⅛c, 59¼c; Sept. 61¼c, offers. Corn, March 38½c, bids; May 40⅜@⅞c, 41⅜@⅞c; July 42¼c, 43¼c.

PIT NOTES

CHICAGO, Jan. 19. (US)—Failure of the open interest in wheat to increase on the advance was puzzling to the trade today. Volume of pit transactions Saturday and Monday was 96,000,000 bushels, yet the open interest was only 29,000 bushels larger than on Friday.

Siebel C. Harris of Scott, Burrows & Christie, says: "It is a pathetic situation when a commission man has to admit that conditions are too mixed to permit of having any so-called intelligent opinion. Potential factors on the bull side seem to be embodied in the general idea of inflation which is attracting a good deal of attention. On the other side of the picture all of the routine commercial factors such as southern hemisphere pressure, lack of aggressive export demand, large supplies in commercial positions and innumerable others have a bearish tinge."

Broomhall says that the international wheat market is disposed to respond to any reliable firming influences, but until buying of actual wheat occurs throughout the continent and Central Europe supplies and exporters offers appear excessive and too heavy a weight on the market.

Livestock

MIDWESTERN LIVESTOCK REVIEW

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 19. (AP)—(U.S.D.A.)—The small proportion of steers and yearlings rating good or better sold at generally steady prices, but most markets continued to show too many medium short fed steers on sale, this feature bringing values considered steady to 25c lower.

Eastern dressed beef markets have not recovered from the oversupply of medium grade classes offered last week and live weight buyers are not willing to take on many of this quality.

The bulk of short fed steers brought $4.75@7.50 on today's trade with a few loads of good to choice kinds at $7.75@10.00. A consignment of strictly choice 1,023 pound steers in Omaha brought $10.75. Stockers and feeders were little changed with most of them at $4.00@5.25 and a few yearling stockers and fleshy feeders at $5.65@6.00.

Receipts at 11 markets were about equal with a week ago and a year ago, but accumulated arrivals for the week were around 22,000 less than last week and about 34,000 short of a year ago.

Hogs were weak to 15c lower with St. Louis scoring the day's top at $4.30.

A stronger tone was manifest in lambs with values quoted as steady to 25c higher.

Most better wooled lambs cleared at $5.50@6.25 with sorted natives in Chicago at $6.50@6.65. A few loads of shorn, fed Texas lambs made $4.90@5.25.

CHICAGO, Jan. 19. (INS)—Hogs—Receipts 40,000; 10@15c lower; top, $4.30; bulk, $3.70@4.20; heavy, $3.75@4.10; medium, $4@4.30; light, $4@4.30; light lights, $3.75@4.28; packing, sows, $3.16@3.70; pigs, $3.50@3.90; holdovers 4,000.

Cattle—Receipts 6,000; steady. Calves, 2,000; steady; beef steers, good and choice, $8@11; common and medium, $4.50@8; yearlings, $6@10.50. Butcher cattle, heifers, $3.50@6.50; cows, $3@5; bulls, $3.50@5.25; calves, $6@8.50; feeder steers, $4@5.50; stocker steers, $3.50@5.50; stocker cows and heifers, $3@4.

Sheep—Receipts 15,000, steady; medium and choice lambs, $3.50@6.50; culls and common, $4@5; yearlings, $4@4.75; common and choice ewes, $1@3; feeder lambs, $4.25@4.85.

FORT WORTH, Jan. 19. (AP)—(U.S.D.A.)—Hogs—Receipts 800; truck hogs, 10@15c lower; no rail hogs; truck top, $4.40; bulk better 180 to 260 pound truck hogs, $4.35@4.40; packing sows, $3.50@3.75, or steady.

Cattle—Receipts 3,200, calves 1,200; slaughter steers of value to sell around $3.75@5.25; slaughter yearlings weak; good grades, steady; good fat yearlings, $5.25@6.25; others, $5.00 down; other classes cattle about steady; fat cows $3.00@3.35; butcher grades, $2.75; bulls, scarce; stock calves fully steady; good stock steer calves, $5.35; good stock heifer calves, $5.00; slaughter calves steady to 25c lower; heavies, $5.00 down.

Sheep—Receipts, 2,400; fat lambs, strong to 25c higher; yearlings and wethers steady; good wooled fat lambs, $5.00; wooled fat truck lambs, $4.50@4.60; fresh shorn fat yearlings and 2-year-old wethers, $3.50; aged fat wethers, $3.00.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 19. (AP)—Cattle—Receipts 1,000, calves 100; steers and yearlings inactive; calves and stockers in good demand; bulk beef offerings, $4.25@5.50; best fat cows, $3.00@3.50; butcher heifers, $3.00@4.00; yearling heifers to $5.50; weighty beef bulls active at $3.00@3.25; light sausage bulls to $2.75; best heavy calves, $4.00@5.00; strictly fancy veals, $5.25@5.50.

Hogs—Receipts, 800; bulk sales at $4.00@4.20; outsider top, $4.30; sows and stags steady at $3.25.

Sheep—Receipts, 600; indications for another 25c decline on natives, which would mean top of $5.15 on load lots and $4.80 on truck-ins; throwouts to $3.25.

PANHANDLE OIL SUIT WATCHED

Dixon Company Idle Awaiting Decision

Special to The Record News.

PAMPA, Texas, Jan. 19.—The outstanding event in the Panhandle field the past week was the injunction suit the Texas Railroad commission filed against the Dixon Creek Oil and Refining company. The Dixon Creek company has been producing approximately 2,000 barrels a day from its wells in Gray county which have an allowable of 800 barrels a day under the present proration schedule. Under the injunction the company will not be allowed to violate proration until the injunction is dissolved by a court judgment. At present the Dixon Creek's properties are completely shut in as the result of the suit. Officers of the company say that they had to violate proration in order to secure enough crude to operate their refinery in the Pampa area and that with present gasoline prices low they were unable to purchase oil to run the refinery at a profit.

The oil prodcing area to the northwest of Pampa in Gray county is to receive considerable new drilling within the next few months. At present the Skelly Oil company is drilling two wells and the Operators Royalty and Producing company is moving in a rig and several locations are expected to be staked at once.

Daily production decreased 3,259 barrels daily, under the daily average for the preceding week. Bad weather made it impossible to reach various wells in the field and helped to reduce the output. The Sunday shutdown also contributed. Output by counties follow:

	Past Week Wells	Past Week Output	Prev. Week Wells	Prev. Week Output
Carson	239	4,984	239	5,219
Gray	771	30,425	771	32,488
Hutchinson	870	11,629	872	12,878
Moore	24	1,699	24	1,331
Wheeler	43	485	43	565
Totals	1,947	49,222	1,949	52,481

Two new locations in the proven areas were announced. They follow:

Carson County—Continental Oil company at 990 feet from the east and 330 feet from the north lines of the southeast of section 111, block 4, of I. & G. N. survey, in the Skellytown district of northeastern Carson, is a cellar being dug and material moved in. It will offset the recently completed Ryan Consolidated Oil corporation No. 7 block.

Gray County—Operators Royalty and Producing company No. 2 Arnold, in the southwest corner of the east half of the northeast of section 149, block 3, of I. & G. N. survey, in the dolomite area of northwest Gray is a rig moving in.

Tillman Demo Convention Scheduled for Saturday

Special to The Record News.

FREDERICK, Okla., Jan. 19.—The Tillman county Democratic convention will be held in the district court room Jan. 23, at 2 p. m., according to John B. Wilson, county Democratic chairman.

Officers will be elected first, then delegates to the state convention will be selected from the precinct delegations from over the county. The precinct representatives were elected in caucuses held Jan. 8.

GASOLINE CHANGE

A two-cent drop in the current price of its "blue" gasoline is announced by the Continental Oil company at all retail stations. Former price was 13 cents and it is now 11 cents per gallon. No changes in prices for the commercial white or red gas has been made.

SOUTHWEST OF KEMP CITY

After a six months shut down, Marshall & Lewis have abandoned as a dry hole at a depth of 1636 feet their No. 1 W. P. Ferguson deep test in north Archer county. The test was originally started to drill to the 3800-foot pay but after several failures in the vicinity it was decided to stack the tools.

YOUNG COUNTY COMPLETION

R. J. Watson and others No. 9 A. C. Watson located in section 249, T. E. & L. survey, in Young county shallow field, is completed and on the pump as a 25 barreler from the sand at 697-703 feet.

UNITED PRODUCERS COMPANY

The United Producers company No. 1 J. L. Logan, located in the southeast corner of J. M. Taylor survey, abstract 654, in north Archer county, has spudded in and drilling at 1,000 feet.

NORTHEAST OF CHALK HILL

Guy Brown and others No. 1 J. Coleman, located in lot 1, block 79, A. T. N. C. L. survey, four miles east and north of Deep Oil Development-Lindsay production at Chalk Hill in Archer county is drilling at 1300 feet.

HUMBLE PIPE LINE REMOVAL

The Humble Pipe Line company has vacated its former offices on the seventh floor of the Hamilton building where they had been ensconced for a number of years. The company is transferring its pipe line headquarters from this city to Cisco. "Skipper" Thomas, superintendent, and Harry Joiner, chief clerk, will leave for the wide open spaces within the next day or two.

NORTH OF JEAN

Wooten & Reed No. 2 Y. Swain, located 750 north, 150 feet east of southwest corner of east 140 acres of section 1465, T. E. & L. survey in Young county, has spudded in. The well is an offset to No. 1, completed 10 days ago in the 600-foot sand making 50 barrels.

SATURATED LIME AREA

The Continental Oil company No. D-2 Falls county school lands, an offset to the Perkins-Cullum production, and located in block 13, F. C. S. L., in Archer county, is spudded in and drilling at 400 feet.

SOUTH ARCHER COUNTY

The Petroleum Producers company has spudded in and drilling at 300 feet in its No. 1 J. T. Richardson test, located in the northwest corner of the south 80 acres out of block 11, B. B. B. & C. R. R. survey in Archer county.

Milk Cows Stolen When Thieves Make Wholesale Raids on Hollis

Special to The Record News.

HOLLIS, Okla., Jan. 19.—Authorities here today continued a search for thieves who Sunday night invaded Hollis in sweeping raids of vandalism, taking loot which ranged from small tools to milk cows.

Practically every section of the city was visited by the thieves. Five milk cows, quartered in the southeast section of the city at the M-K-T stock pens, apparently were loaded into trucks and hauled away. Early reports were that 21 auto wheels and tires had been taken by invaders who made a thorough sweep of streets, removing accessories from cars parked Sunday night in front of homes.

Tools of a number unestimated were stolen from parked automobiles. The tool wagon of the Southwestern Light & and Power company was subjected to ransacking, but apparently the thieves were seeking particular kinds of tools, as only lug wrenches and auto jacks were found to be missing.

Three men were seen working on one car Sunday night. They had disappeared, however, before police, who were notified, arrived. Despite efforts of authorities to trace the vandals, they made good the escape.

Rapid Progress Made On Vernon Free Bridge

Special to The Record News.

VERNON, Texas, Jan. 19.—Construction of the new free bridge across Red river on U. S. highway 283, 20 miles north of Vernon, is going ahead as rapidly as possible with two spans of concrete poured. Tents and oil stoves have been brought into use to counteract effects of recent freezing weather on the concrete. Two bents and one-third remain to be driven at the Oklahoma side of the structure due to delay from continued rises of the river.

The bridge is of treated piling, steel and concrete construction and is the second free span for Wilbarger county to connect with Oklahoma. A wood structure has been in use several years on highway 28, north of Oklaunion.

Electra Schools to Hold Debate Eliminations

Special to The Record News.

ELECTRA, Texas, Jan. 19.—Preliminary eliminations in the debate divisions will be held sometime this week, E. E. Rogers, principal of high school, announced. Approximately 30 students are candidates for places on the girls and boys team. The subject for discussion this year is, "Resolved, That lobbying as generally practiced in congress at present is detrimental to the best interests of the people." Miss Virginia Roop of the English department will serve as coach of the teams again this year. Electra girls won the district title last year but were defeated at Austin. Present plans call for the teams to enter into practice debates with other schools prior to the country tournament.

COURT HEARS ROBSION CASE

Jackson County Appeal Is Argued

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 19. (UP)—The appeal of George Robsion, convicted in Jackson county, Aug. 29, 1930, on a murder charge in the slaying of Deputy Sheriff Elmer Carter, was argued before the state criminal court of appeals today.

Carter was slain in a gun battle with Robsion and his companions. Officers attempted to arrest the men to investigate a report they were transporting a still in their truck. Robsion was wounded as was another officer.

Robsion is serving a life sentence at the state penitentiary.

China Considers Open Break With Japanese

NANKING, China, Jan. 19. (AP)—Severance of diplomatic relations with Japan is imminent as a result of the Japanese occupation of Manchuria, the official Chinese news agency, Kuomin, announced tonight.

Meanwhile, the government is hoping for further steps by the United States on the basis of the notes invoking the nine-power treaty and the Kellogg pact sent by Secretary of State Stimson to Japan and China.

Hall, Haskell Contracts Let

Commission Adds to Highway Projects

AUSTIN, Jan. 19. (AP)—Road building projects to cost $410,745 were contracted by the Texas highway commission today. Lettings for the current two-day session aggregated $970,541.

Eleven counties are concerned in the new contracts, which call for three bridge construction projects, the laying of about 32 miles of caliche base and the building of 35 miles of grading and drainage structures.

Awards included:

Hall, 14.6 miles caliche base courses from Turkey, northeast on highway 18, J. Lee and E. A. Vilbig, Dallas, $48,772.

Haskell, 9.9 miles grading and drainage structures from highway 18 to Rule on highway 51, G. F. Davis, Glazier, $21,864.

A tentative agreement, details of which will be worked out later, was entered with representatives of public utility companies whereby 90-day permits would be issued for transportation of oversize and overweight equipment. The companies complained the present method of requiring a permit for each movement was burdensome and seriously interfered with necessary transportation.

The commission requested that proposed orders be drafted by the utilities for submission to the commission and the attorney general for approval. The 90-day permits would be issued under bond to insure reparation for damage to the highways caused by transportation of equipment larger than that permitted by the new truck law.

Split-Week Series Talked on Coast

OAKLAND, Jan. 19. (AP)—Directors of the Pacific Coast league, in annual spring meeting here today, discussed the split-week series plan, and talked over formation of a state league to be used as a farm for Coast league rookies, but failed to take any action during the morning session.

Cleont Knapp, of Bisbee, representing the Arizona-Texas league, appeared before the directors and asked support from the Coast league in helping to maintain his circuit. No action was taken, and Knapp was informed any interested club would let him know soon.

Four Coast league teams helped Arizona-Texas league clubs last season. The San Francisco Seals used Globe as a farm, while the Missions helped out Tucson. Los Angeles sent players to Bisbee, and Oakland assisted Phoenix.

There were no player deals this morning.

Verdict on Mellon Case Delayed by Lawmakers

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19. (AP)—A congressional jury of 23 today held in abeyance its verdict on whether impeachment charges against Andrew W. Mellon warrant an investigation of the treasury secretary's official conduct.

Just after a cable from President Olaya of Colombia was read repeating Mellon's own denial of any conversations between the two on the Barco oil concession; the house judiciary committee concluded hearings on Representative Wright Patman's resolution seeking the secretary's removal on the allegation of illegal business connections.

Navy Officer May Get Paid for Graf Trip

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19. (US)—When Lieut. Jack C. Richardson circumnavigated the globe on the Graf Zeppelin in 1928 the trip cost him $143.50.

The navy department today asked congress to reimburse Richardson that amount because Comptroller General J. R. McCarl ruled the trip was not "travel status" under the law.

German Jackrabbits Loosed for Hunters

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Jan. 19. (US)—A large number of jackrabbits, imported from Germany, are to be turned loose in Dutchess county it was announced today, to stock the woods for hunters.

Testimony Completed in Auto Death Case

on the lugs. When I saw the car coming so fast, I told her we better get off the road. We both stepped behind my car, near the edge of the pavement. I thought the driver would go by us. It looked like he would until he was within about 10 or 15 feet, when his car suddenly swung straight toward us. I jumped toward the ditch. Evelyn was hit before she could jump."

Holbrook testified that he believed Page was making from 55 to 60 miles per hour as he approached the scene of the crash.

O. A. Decker, next witness for the state, told of coming upon the site apparently just after the collision had occurred. He was en route to his work as a pumper for an oil company. The witness said that as he stopped his car, Holbrook hobbled up to him, dragging a broken leg, and declared that the girl had been killed. Holbrook's car had been driven across the ditch, some 10 or 15 yards away, the witness said, while the defendant's car had been moved back to the other side of the highway. Lights of both cars were burning, he said, and he saw the girl lying at the edge of the pavement.

"While I stood watch by the body of the girl," Mr. Decker said, "a northbound car picked up Holbrook and started to Electra. Then the man in the other car (Page) got out and came toward me. He asked me what had happened there, and I told him there had been a wreck, and a girl had been killed. He said, 'No, I didn't hit anything. I was just driving down the road here, and somebody stopped me. That's my car, over there.' He talked with a very thick tongue, and staggered as he came across the road. I am sure he was intoxicated."

J. W. Stevens, youthful friend of Holbrook and the Patton family, told of arriving at the scene of the tragedy immediately after Mr. Decker had arrived. Passing the same location a few minutes earlier, he said, he had seen Holbrook repairing a tube under the headlights of his parked car. Stevens said he drove by without any trouble, and that the Holbrook car was parked mostly on the dirt shoulder of the highway. The witness told of taking Holbrook to Electra.

Mike Anglin, assistant district attorney and special investigator, took the stand to describe the highway upon which the accident occurred. He said the curve in the road just south of the place where the crash took place is several hundred yards long, and so gradual as to be hardly noticeable.

O. E. Whisenand, constable at Electra, told of driving to the scene of the accident shortly after Holbrook had been brought to the city. Arriving there, he said, he saw Page fumbling about in his car, apparently getting his switch keys.

"The ambulance was there, and two or three men were placing the body of the girl in the ambulance. I parked my car right next to that of the defendant. Seeing him fumbling about in his car, I asked him what he was doing. He said he 'was seeing what he could find in there.' I told him he was in no condition to find anything, and placed him in my car. He was drunk. His speech and walk showed it, and I smelled whisky plainly on his breath. I placed him in the jail, asked him if he was hurt, and he said no. Then I got Roy Hart, city police night chief, and Mayor E. E. Wheeler and went back out to the wreck.

"Behind the cushion of the seat of Page's car, I found a .45 automatic pistol in a leather holster, on which was a tag bearing the words 'Special Officer.' Just about five feet from the door of his car, on the ground, I found a half-gallon jar about half full of whisky." The whisky and gun were introduced in evidence by the state.

The defense attorney, in cross-examination, had persistently endeavored to obtain testimony to the effect that a sharp curve in the road prevented the defendant's seeing the parked car as he approached the scene of the crash. Cross questioning brought out the fact that a light rain had fallen sometime before the accident occurred.

'Flat' Curve, Says Engineer

J. M. Isbell, county highway engineer, took the stand to describe the highway at that point. He declared that the curve in the road is a "flat curve," 3,000 feet in radius. The curve is so slight, he said, that the lights of an approaching car are visible at a distance of at least 600 yards. The roadway is straight for about 200 yards south from the place where the Holbrook car was parked, he said.

J. G. D. Totten, funeral director at Electra, told of having brought the body of the Patton girl to the city. She breathed only once after his arrival at the scene with the ambulance, he said.

E. G. Arnold, Joe Majors, H. D. Smith, Luther Hatch, H. D. Seats, Frank Howard, E. L. Lyle, E. E. Wyatt and Hal Davis, all of Burkburnett and Electra, testified to the defendant's good reputation in those two communities.

R. H. Frizzell, P. H. Leath and R. J. Woofter were selected Tuesday morning as jurors. Those chosen Monday were R. W. Wallace, A. L. Fitts, A. L. Williams, H. C. McCloskey, H. C. Switzer, Jack Hamner, B. N. Cauthorne, Herman Lange, and C. A. Jones.

ROSE REVUE YEAR'S EVENT

'Crazy Quilt' Scored Hit on Broadway

Billy Rose's "Crazy Quilt" will make its debut at the Memorial auditorium for one night, Friday, Jan. 29.

Last season Rose, long famed as a song monger of popular ditties, presented "Sweet and Low" and "Crazy Quilt" on Broadway. They fooled Old Man Depression by staying 30 and 20 weeks respectively on the Main Stem.

Heartened by the solvency of his maiden efforts and the box-office potency of his star triumvirate, Fannie Brice, Phil Baker and Ted Healy, Rose sought new fields to conquer. He has plucked the choicest tit-bits from the two former revues and added a brand new third.

One of the newer ingredients is a sensational divertissement yclept "El Bolero," featuring the distinguished dancing pair, Gomez & Winona.

The company is a large one. A chorus of 60 personable demoiselles, not Scotch in the display of their manifold charms, are among the optical delights in store.

In his advance pronouncements, Mr. Rose makes much of the fact that his scheme for licking apathetic box-offices is to give "three stars for three dollars." He believes that a reasonable tariff, coupled with such a trio as Miss Brice and the Messrs. Healy and Baker, will draw the sheckles from the most fish-hook guarded purse.

Ticket reservations may be made by addressing H. C. Cheshire, care Renfro Drug store, or telephoning 9047.

Murray Sets Date For Announcement

and his liquor speech made him about what he calls himself, a practical dry.

Murray stuck today to the text of his liquor speech. The Anti-Saloon league dismissed it with the statement of F. Scott McBride, general superintendent, that it was an old wet argument.

"Some day they may find that there will be no appropriation for Volstead act enforcement," he explained. "What will they do if they aren't prepared? I am a temperance man; I'm against liquor. But I cannot ignore facts."

Submits Plan

The Murray plan is for a series of treaties among troupes of states for liquor control. States that might favor wines and beer would not be able to ship intoxicants to dry states.

Murray's battered brown fedora, with the wide brim, was taken from him this afternoon at the capitol. Representative Tom McKeown and Representative William W. Hastings, with a couple of other Oklahomans, decided "Alfalfa Bill" needed a black hat to go with his frock coat, and chipped in and bought him one. Mrs. Hastings selected it.

"I won't wear it," Murray said when they told him they were getting it. But he did. They hid the other hat.

Sits for Portrait

This afternoon Governor Murray was accorded the honor of a sitting for his portrait. Rodolphe Kiss, Hungarian painter of notables, dashed off a good likeness in the studio of his Mayflower hotel suite in 55 minutes.

Among the people the governor met at the capitol were Senators Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas, and J. Hamilton Lewis of Illinois, both Democratic presidential possibilities. He also shook hands with Charles G. Dawes, resigning ambassador to England and former vice president, who was sitting in the rear of the senate chamber, talking to Senator William E. Borah of Idaho, when "Alfalfa Bill" passed through.

Governor Murray discussed one of his many disagreements with the policies of the Hoover administration during the day.

Talks on Mellon

"It's Mellonism," he said. "A rich man, sitting up in an office, looking down at the crowds, gets a contempt for them. He is honest, but he has not their point of view. People who think that the way to make the crowd prosperous is to insure the prosperity of the rich believe that the prosperity will sprinkle down to the multitude. But it never does. It must go upward from the lowest man."

Murray's friends see a strong move in his favor. He has been asked to run in the Pennsylvania primaries; to speak in Pittsburgh, Mellon stronghold; to address the South Carolina legislature at Columbia Thursday on his way back to Oklahoma City from Charlotte, N. C., where he will speak tomorrow night on banking and currency. Arrangements for the Columbia speech—an unusual honor—taken to indicate that some South Carolinians want to see what sort of a candidate he would make—could not be made before Murray left Washington tonight. They may be made tomorrow at Charlotte.

Recovery of $9.70 Asked In Action Against Gas Company

Recovery of $9.70, alleged overcharge on consumption of gas in a residence here between Nov. 16 and Dec. 16, is sought by Mrs. A. F. Harnish and her husband in a suit against the Municipal Gas company filed before Judge O. L. Gibbs, justice of the peace Tuesday.

B. E. Derden is attorney for the plaintiffs in the action. Judge Harvey Harris brought a similar suit for $3 several weeks ago, and a jury awarded him $2.55, which has since been paid by the defendant.

Tittle Completes Tax Fee Testimony

Introduction of testimony by the plaintiff was completed Tuesday afternoon before Judge W. W. Cook in the 78th district court in the suit of M. L. Tittle vs. Wichita county for more than $13,400 as payment for alleged collection of delinquent taxes during the years 1919 to 1922 inclusive.

Immediately after the plaintiff had rested his case, Harvey Harris, of the defendant's counsel, began a lengthy argument before the court asking for an instructed verdict favoring the county. Improper filing of the suit was one of the allegations advanced by Judge Harris. The argument is to be resumed at 8 o'clock Wednesday morning, Judge Cook announced.

Mr. Tittle was county tax collector during the three-year period involved in the suit.

Seniors Give Program

Led by J. R. Holton, senior president, members of the high school mid-year graduating class gave their farewell program in assembly Tuesday morning.

Marion Reesby, well known "bird boy," gave several bird calls, after announcing that that high school assembly was his last high school audience and from "now on you'll have to listen to real birds."

The remainder of the program was as follows: Reading by Miss LaVonta Roblin; vocal solo, Miss Stella Evans, accompanied at the piano by Miss Helen Smith; toast to future Coyotes, Raymond Allen; a toast to the teachers, by Miss Ona Belle Britain; a tribute to the school by Miss Lavita Finley.

Hi-Y Meeting

Assurance that Wichita Falls go above its quota of attendance at the Older Boys' conference to be held here Jan. 29-31 was followed Monday night at the Hi-Y meeting by the declaration that out-of-town delegations will have to be limited unless local hospitality becomes sufficient.

Grover C. Good, state boys' work secretary, made the report that if Wichita Falls will furnish the hospitality and entertainment, for 800 boys, at least 800 boys will come to Wichita Falls to attend the session. But if Wichita Falls families cannot find enough room for that number, many of the out-of-town delegations will have to be limited, Mr. Good said.

T. J. Waggoner Jr., chairman of the local registration committee, made a report stating that he had the assurance that this city's boys will make a response surpassing the quota of attendance. He also said that over 45 boys have already paid in full their registration fees here.

An unusually large attendance at the meeting Monday night was reported by T. F. Richardson, sponsor of the local Hi-Y club. The members met as usual at the Highland Heights Christian church.

College Registration

All students intending to attend the Wichita Falls Junior college during the semester beginning Jan. 25 were urged to register at the college office Saturday, because Monday a full and regular schedule will be carried out in the school.

S. H. Rider, dean of the college, made this statement Tuesday afternoon, saying that junior college students must register Saturday and are not to register Monday.

He also announced that Thursday junior college students will go to classes on a schedule similar to that of Saturdays. The first period will start at 8 a. m. and classes will be uninterrupted by a 30-minute period.

Spanish Club to Meet

Whether or not the big Spanish club dance planned will be postponed will be decided at a meeting of members of the college club Wednesday.

The meeting will be brief, and all members are urged to attend.

Writers Cancel Meeting

The members of the college Writers' club will not have a meeting Wednesday afternoon.

HELP! MURDER!

JACKSONVILLE, Fla.—"Help! There's a murder being committed right outside my house," a woman's frantic voice came over the phone and into the ear of Lieut. Sylvester Parrish. Police were dispatched to the "crime." Arriving on the scene the only person they saw was a motorist in whose car a radio was going with volume turned on full force. The woman had heard part of an exciting radio program and thought murder was being committed.

RITES TODAY FOR PIONEER

City to Pay Last Tribute to 'Grandma' Kemp

health Tuesday morning, Grandma Kemp went about her household affairs through the day until 4 o'clock in the afternoon when she was stricken with a severe pain in the chest. Physicians were able to relieve her at once but the attack returned with greater severity and she died just before dawn. Acute indigestion was given as the cause of death.

In addition to her motherhood and the upbringing of seven children, her interest in grandchildren and their children, Grandma Kemp shared with her sons and daughters an acute interest in civic, state and national affairs. Her business sagacity rivaled that of the men folks of the family and through the years experience added to her wealth of wisdom in the affairs of life.

Notable Career

As a young wife, just after J. A. Kemp, her first son, was born, the young woman was left to handle business as well as household duties while her husband, the late William T. Kemp, fought for the Confederacy. She managed the Kemp store, first of its kind established in Clifton, Texas, and collected bills which piled up when the head of the business was called away.

Left a widow, she took the place of father and mother to her children, and even in her old age cared for the children of her son, Tom, after his death.

Death came just two months before her 93rd birthday. For years the date of the birthday has been the occasion of a dinner given by her children to which a group of pioneer Wichita Falls women were yearly invited.

The daughter of Joel and Fanny (Wells) Stinnett, Emma Frances Stinnett was born in Missouri, March 17, 1839. She was the tenth child in a family of 12, the daughter of a native Virginian who early took his family to Missouri.

The young girl left her Missouri family to visit a married sister in Clifton, Texas, in 1860. There she met William T. Kemp, a boarder in the family. Young Kemp was a native of Tennessee, but had come to Texas in 1856 to make his first home in McLennan county. He founded the community store, operated a grist mill, and became a leader in the county. He traded most of his other property for land at the time he entered the service of the Confederacy.

When Emma Frances Stinnett became Mrs. William T. Kemp, Oct. 17, 1860, her father presented her with a negro girl slave as a personal maid.

Grandma Kemp first came to Wichita Falls, where several of her children already lived, in 1904. She took her place at once in the life of the city and during the last 20 years had grown to be a part of the pioneer tradition of the city.

Banker Addresses Electra Rotary

Special to The Record News.

ELECTRA, Texas, Jan. 19.—J. A. Wise, banker of Henderson, and formerly connected with a local bank, was the principal speaker Monday at the luncheon of the Rotary club. Mr. Wise discussed business conditions in East Texas and other localities and stated that according to all indications, business was improving steadily.

C. P. Engelking, member of the club, made a talk for the benefit of H. E. Wilson, new member of the club, in which he outlined the Rotary ideals and what was expected of the membership. Ray B. Dickey, secretary of the club, read a communication from James Shaw, banking commissioner of Texas, who stated that 17½ per cent would be paid to depositors of the old state bank during this month.

Visitors introduced were J. A. Wise and N. M. Clifford, vice president and cashier of the new Electra State bank. George LeBus was in charge of the program, and J. G. B. Totten led a singsong. B. M. Dinsmore, president, presided and also made a talk in behalf of payment of school taxes.

Ad Club Resolutions Honor Mrs. Kemp

Members of the Wichita Falls Ad club Tuesday voted H. C. Johnson, advertising manager for the Star and Mick's Furniture stores, into membership during the bi-weekly meeting of the organization at the Holt hotel. Resolutions of respect to Mrs. Emma Frances Kemp, mother of the late J. A. Kemp, and of regret at her death early Tuesday morning were passed by the club.

W. S. Abbot was made program chairman for the next meeting, to be held on Feb. 2.

SCHEDULE OF CLASSES GIVEN

Officials Map Work for All City Students

The Wichita Falls public school schedule relating to the remainder of this semester, which closes Saturday, was announced Tuesday.

In the senior and junior high schools, students will not attend school Thursday or Friday. Friday, graduation exercises will be held at the three schools. Saturday registration of new students and reclassification will take place. All students will return to school Saturday for their report cards.

In the elementary schools of the city the children will attend school Thursday as usual. Friday will be a holiday for them, but Saturday, from 9 a. m. as usual until 12:30, all elementary students must come to school to get their report cards, make their changes in grades, get their new books, assignments for Monday, etc.

In the junior college, final examinations end Thursday. Friday only the teachers will come to school. Saturday college students will get their reports, and from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. they will register.

In all the schools new and irregular pupils will be classified Saturday and examined if necessary.

The teachers will proceed Saturday night with arrangements and plans for the work of the new semester.

RENT IN HUGS

EL PASO, Texas.—As a landlord, Earl R. Geschwnd is a good lover, Mrs. Amelia Santoscoy believes. In a suit brought against him by Jose Santascoy, Mrs. Santoscoy testified in court that Geschwind came to collect the rent. When she told him she could not pay at the time, he tried to collect the rent in hugs and kisses. The hugs he clasped around her daughter, she said, and the kisses were forced on Carmen Miranda, a hairdresser.

Imprisoned Child Burned Severely When Matches Start Blaze in Barn

Special to The Record News.

SAINT JO, Texas, Jan. 19.—A 5-year-old child was seriously burned here Monday when the barn in which she had been playing with matches caught fire.

The child, Mary Youngblood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Youngblood, was burned about the face, chest and arms before she was rescued from the spreading blaze by two women who chanced to be passing. Although her condition is deemed critical, Dr. A. T. Reed declared chances are good for recovery.

The child was playing in the barn, owned by L. J. Reynolds. She entered through a hole in the barn wall. As doors were locked, she was imprisoned when the fire started. Mrs. J. H. Phillips and Miss Jewell Kidd, who were arriving at the Reynolds home, heard the child's screams and saw smoke pouring from the small structure.

The two women hurriedly forced the door of the barn and pulled the child from the flames. The little girl had found a quantity of dry forage, to which matches had been set.

Knox County Treasurer Looks Into the Past

Special to The Record News.

MUNDAY, Texas, Jan. 19.—Knox county's finances are in much better shape than at the same time last year, according to "Uncle Trav" House, veteran county treasurer and resident of the county for 49 years. The policy of "cutting corners" in county operating expenses is credited by the official with having brought the improved condition.

Mr. House is one of those who disagree with any assertion that economic conditions of the present are the hardest ever.

"Folks today don't know what hard times are," he declared. "We would have thought we were living in paradise sure enough in some of the best times of the old days if we could have had the things about which folks complain now."

JURY ABSOLVES TEXAS SLAYER

Home Protector 'No-Billed' At Fort Worth

FORT WORTH, Jan. 19. (AP)—William Russell, who killed James Hill in the latter's quarters at a rooming house here on the afternoon of Dec. 31, was "no billed" by the grand jury this afternoon.

Mrs. Jack Russell, his wife, testified. She said before being called into the jury chamber that she "intended to tell the whole story."

She reiterated that "it was all my fault."

The jury held that Russell was justified under article 1220 of the Texas penal code which states that a husband is justified in killing in the protection of his home.

Hill was beaten to death with a lead pipe.

The federal bureau of home economics is making dietary surveys to build a "national picture of food demands."

$500 REWARD OFFERED FOR A NAME

The distributors of one of the fastest selling lines of cosmetics in Hollywood are going to introduce a new Bath Soap which they claim is unexcelled for its soothing and cleansing effects. Before spending thousands of dollars in advertising it, they want to be sure the new Bath Soap has the best possible name, and are therefore offering a five hundred dollars reward to the person who suggests the name they choose as most suitable. Readers of this announcement are urged to send in their suggestions for a name at once, because two hundred and fifty dollars extra will be given the winner if name is mailed and post-marked before January 24, 1932. Each contestant must send only one name; otherwise he will be disqualified, and the name must be mailed to Hollywood Marvel Products Co., Studio B-463, 1023 N. Sycamore Ave., Hollywood, California. Everyone is invited to submit a name and in case of ties duplicate prizes will be given. Officials of the firm say that any name may win the seven hundred and fifty dollars, even if submitted on a post-card or scrap of paper; so send your suggestion at once.—Adv.
