French Land On Elba And Drive Inland

Fifth And Eighth Armies Lunge On

By LYNN HEINZERLING
Associated Press Staff Writer

ROME, June 17.—French troops landed today on Elba, five miles west of the Italian mainland, and by nightfall had won control of one-fifth of that Napoleonic exile island against German resistance which Allied headquarters described as strong at some places.

Nearby Pianosa was secured quickly without opposition, but the German garrison and coastal artillery were making a scrap for Elba's 85 square miles.

Conquest of Elba would keep the Allied sea flank abreast of the advance on the mainland, where Allied troops today rolled steadily forward toward the Germans' Pisa-Florence-Rimini line.

Sea And Air Support

Known as "Detachment B," the French attacking Elba were commanded by Gen. Jean de Lattre de Tassigny and transported and supported by American, British and French naval units. Allied air forces that included French squadrons, bombed the island.

(The Berlin radio said the landings were made both at the south and north ends of the island, one of them just west of its major city of Porto Ferraio. A German communique told of heavy fighting "still going on" against a "weak German garrison" defending the island.

A dispatch from Associated Press correspondent Joseph Dynan with the French forces in Golfo Di Campo said that "powerful French assault units battered a toehold" on the island "despite determined German resistance in their first taste of amphibious operations." Dynan's dispatch was filed at 6 a. m. in the first hours of the operation.)

Softening Up Raids

Fighter-bombers aided yesterday in preparations for the landings, destroying a fuel dump, scoring six hits on island's radio station, and striking at boats and dock installations at Porto Ferraio, Marino Di Campo and Porto Longone.

The island, about seven miles from the nearest mainland point is roughly opposite Grosseto, near the west Italian coast, which fell

Viipuri Reported Being Evacuated

LONDON, June 17 (AP)— The Russians smashed within 25 miles of Viipuri from two directions today, capturing Perkjarvi on the main railway of the Karelian isthmus and Kuolemajarvi on the coastal rail line, Moscow announced tonight, and the port of Viipuri itself was understood to be in the process of evacuation.

These two important railway towns on the most direct routes to Finland's second largest city were enveloped as Gen. Leonid A. Govorov's troops occupied more than 120 populated places in another day of fierce fighting, Moscow's broadcast communique disclosed.

Civilians Ordered Out

Both Perkjarvi and Kuolemajarvi are just under 25 miles from Viipuri, which Finnish dispatches reaching Stockholm said had been ordered emptied of civilians.

Another wave of the Red Army, sweeping up the eastern side of the isthmus despite the natural obstacles of lakes and marshes, captured Raasuli on still another railroad, Moscow said, indicating that the width of the Finninsh front had been widened to more than 65 miles.

While the center of the Russian drive up the isthmus reached within 25 miles of Viipuri, advance patrols and reconnaissance units probed even closer. The thunder of Soviet big guns could be plainly heard in the Finnish port.

Govorov's infantry forces, said to total at least six divisions, were being supported by planes and tanks and for the first time were reported using rocket-firing cannon.

Bill Is Approved To Unite Farm Agencies

WASHINGTON, June 17. (AP)— The House agriculture committee approved today legislation consolidating in a single agency the functions of the Farm Security administration, the regional Agricultural Credit corporations and the emergency crop and feed loan program.

The agency that would handle present functions of the others is the Farmers Tome corporation, created by the Bankhead-Jones farm tenant act.

Trap Closing On Cherbourg Nazis

Yank Break-Through Drives Almost To Coast, Virtually Severing Peninsula

By JAMES M. LONG
Associated Press Staff Writer

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, Allied Expeditionary Force, Sunday, June 18.—The U. S. Ninth division, which shattered the Germans at Bizerte in Tunisia, teamed up yesterday with the 82nd Airborne division in a powerful break-through of German lines which put the Americans on high ground only four miles from the west coast and virtually cut in two the Cherbourg peninsula.

Thousands of German troops were on the verge of being trapped inside Cherbourg port, 18 miles north of the corridor driven west of captured St. Sauveur, said a front dispatch from Don Whitehead, Associated Press correspondent. The west coast road was under American artillery bombardment.

Directed By Bradley

Lt. Gen. Omar N. Bradley, ground commander who led the Americans to their triumph of Bizerte in May, 1943, was directing the swift break-through which had rolled to within a mile of St. Lo-D'Ourville on the west coast road—last possible German escape route out of Cherbourg.

Some front dispatches said the Germans were fleeing southward to escape the American trap, but General Bradley earlier had predicted a last-ditch German stand in Cherbourg, whose harbor is vital to the Allies in order to hasten supplies and reinforcements. German broadcasts last night, however, began minimizing Cherbourg's importance, which could mean Nazi resignation to its eventual isolation and capture. Civilian refugees said the Germans already were forcing civilians to evacuate the city.

Fierce Montebourg Scrap

American troops were fighting fierce hand-to-hand battle in the streets of Montebourg, 14 miles southeast of Cherbourg.

Whitehead's dispatch disclosed the presence of the Ninth division in action for the first time in Normandy. The Ninth was the division which took Port Lyautey in the French Morocco landing in November, 1942, fought at El Guettar in southern Tunisia, and participated in the final encirclement of scores of thousands of Germans and Italians on Cap Bon.

North of St. Sauveur, Whitehead said, the Yank infantrymen broke across the Douve river. They rode on tanks and fired machine-guns as the armored units plunged thorugh shallow waters in the historic drive to seal off Cherbourg.

American airmen were strafing the German lines of retreat out of the area.

Calais Area Of Robots Pounded

Powerful Blows Rain On Normandy

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, Allied Expeditionary Force, June 17. (AP)—Powerful formations of Allied bombers lashed at the Pas-de Calais area tonight presumably in a relentless follow-up of daylight blows at the French bases from which the Germans are launching their new robot planes.

The pilotless planes have been striking England for the last 48 hours and the air ministry announced tonight that enemy activity over southern England this afternoon caused damage and casualties in number of places.

Others Lash Normandy

While selected squadrons of U. S. Flying Fortresses and Liberators and RAF Spitfires hit the Pas De Calais region, one thousand other American heavy bombers and fighters ranged over the length and breadth of the Normandy fighting front in direct support of the invasion troops. The tempo of the aerial assaults increased during the afternoon and evening as the weather cleared. Seven of the Germans' rapidly dwindling air fields in France were blasted.

The Paris radio reported the town of Lisieux in flames after a furious 10-minute raid. Lisieux, 40 miles east of Caen, is an important junction for roads running to Caen and north to Trouville on the coast.

Eight U. S. Planes Lost

The daylight operations against the robot plane targets cost the Americans two heavy bombers and one fighter. In addition five other fighters and nine fighter-bombers were missing from the various aerial activity of the U. S. forces. At least ten enemy planes were destroyed, including three on the ground.

The U. S. Ninth Air force announced that 540 sorties had been made over the Normandy battlefield by its fighters up to 6 p. m. and disclosed that some of its bombers were carrying explosives loaded at airstrips on the beachhead.

RAF rocket-firing fighters joined in the tactical support of the ground forces.

Rail Facilities Battered

The Ninth Air force later announced also that its Marauders and Havocs, medium and light bombers, ranged into France at dusk and attacked rail facilities.

One target was called "an important rail line over which German reinforcements and supplies must move to the battle line." A series of strikes were made against another line about 50 miles west of Paris.

Slaton Negro Held In Fatal Shooting

Robert White, 38-year-old negro operator of a cafe at Slaton, Saturday was charged with murder in connection with death early yesterday of another Slaton black, Johnny "Frenchie" McBride, who died of a shotgun wound in his leg.

White told District Attorney Burton S. Burks and Charles Yates, Slaton chief of police, that he shot the negro after McBride forced his way into his cafe. White said he had closed his place. He stated that McBride carried "his hand under his shirt."

A blast from a 12-guage shotgun ripped open an artery on the negro's leg, and he bled to death before medical aid could be obtained.

Authorities said there may have been previous trouble between the men. The sheriff's department last night said White had been released upon posting $500 bail.

Strike Is Ended In Superfortress Plant

CHICAGO, June 17 (AP)—A strike of all 117 grinders in the tool grinding plant of a huge B-29 Super Fortress engine works ended today less than 24 hours after the walkout started.

Officials of the Dodge Chicago plant of the Chrysler corporation announced the men had returned to work but declinel to state what sort of settlement had been reached.

The sprawling plant, one unit alone covering 83 acres, is the world's largest and produces about 90 per cent of the engines for planes like those that raided Japan Thursday.

Nazi Robots Continue To Hit England

Germans Tell Of Growing Disorder

By WES GALLAGHER
Associated Press Staff Writer

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, Allied Expeditionary Force, Sunday, June 18—More of the Germans' winged bombs, the so-called robot planes, came hurtling across the channel into southern England during the night as the Nazis' "counter-invasion attack" moved into its fourth consecutive day.

The pilotless, jet-propelled planes were disclosed yesterday to be an astoundingly simple weapon—a death-dealing overgrown rocket equipped with wings and loaded with a ton of explosives.

NOT GREATLY DISTURBED

LONDON, June 17. (AP)—One of the German rocket plane-bombs rumbled over a cricket field in southern England today, trailing a 30-foot tail of flame, and exploded in a nearby field with a great blast.

The game went right on.

In the newest attacks they came over the coast low and singly every few minutes. Several of them flew through some of the heaviest anti-aircroft fire of the war as Britain shifted its ack-ack defenses to counter the devilish plane-bombs.

Number Killed Or Hurt

Damage was caused in various localities and a number of persons were killed or injured. One of the flying bombs was reported to have wiped out four houses.

(German radio commentators let their imagination run free in describing reports of the consternation caused in England by the robots.

(One Berlin broadcast credited a Stockholm dispatch as saying the British government had ordered the evacuation of London because air raid shelters failed to offer adequate protection. Another said "England is trembling and London is ablaze" and still another reported that on Friday afternoon tremendous fires along the southern British coast had been observed from Rouen, France. Rouen is approximately 100 miles from the English coast.)

No Unusual Movement

There was no indication from any point in southern England of unusual movements of the population. In fact, reports from localities struck by the weird projectiles said normal life was being conducted. Reports from the damaged places said persons who went to shelters generally had escaped unhurt.

These robot projectiles, fired off tracks in the Pas-de-Calais area 20 miles across the channel from England, are not radio-controlled and have not had the slightest effect on the flow of supplies to the Allied front in Normandy.

A compass in the nose keeps the weapon in a rough course but it may fall miles from where it is aimed.

Stripping the "secrets" from this highly inaccurate weapon, Allied technicians have discovered that it operates under definite limitations. Although it has tremendous potentialities these are unlikely to be developed in this war.

Not Practical In Normandy

The Germans themselves say it cannot be used on the Normandy front for fear of hitting German troops.

Intermittent explosions from these rocket plane-bombs occurred during the night and throughout the day. Several persons were killed and a number injured when one of the fire-spitting flying bombs hit a nurses home at a hospital. Rescuers were digging for those possibly buried in the wreckage. Another trapped four people for six hours in a cellar

French Patriots In Open Revolt

By RICHARD KASISCHKE
Associated Press Staff Writer

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, Allied Expeditionary Force, June 17. — The Allied supreme command hailed a successful front-behind-the-front in France today with a special communique proclaiming that the French underground Army had executed a master plan of sabotage and open resistance to the Nazis since the invasion began June 6.

The communique said French guerrilla operations were "in full swing," despite the fact that neither the supreme commander, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, nor the Fighting French leader, Gen. Charles de Gaulle, had yet issued any general "call to arms" to the French people.

Daily Instructions

The French have been receiving from the Allied command daily broadcasts of instructions, news and warnings, however.

"Multiple and simultaneous cases of sabotage coordinated with the Allied effort," were credited by the communique with considerably delaying the movement of German reserves to the Normandy battlefronts.

It said sabotage of German traffic had completely stopped road and rail movements in the Rhone valley and that the French "men of the maquis" had "gained full control" of some interior areas in street-by-street fights for villages and towns.

The shaky Vichy regime continued to oppose the rising resistance, but several reports said it was doing so without avail. The French radio at Algiers said part of the First Regiment of the

Six Army Fliers Die In Crash Of Bomber

LINCOLN, Neb., June 17 (AP) — Maj. Charles W. Delaney and Warrant Officer Lawrence E. Jenkins, both of Second Air force headquarters at Colorado Springs, Colo., were among the six men killed yesterday when a B-26 bomber crashed in a Missouri river slough near Council Bluffs, Ia., the Lincoln Air field announced today.

Other victims included Capt. Alfred L. Mobley, co-pilot, Graham, Texas.

NAZIS LEAVING ITALY

NEW YORK, June 17. (AP)—All German civilians in German-occupied Italy have been ordered to return to the Reich, the British radio said today. Thursday morning was set as a deadline for the civilians to report to their consulates, the broadcast said.

WPB Relaxes On Some Materials

WASHINGTON, June 17. (AP) — Chairman Donald M. Nelson tonight relaxed war production board controls on aluminum in a move toward the orderly reconversion of industry, and made it possible for war plants to order—even while the war continues—the machines and tools which will be needed for peacetime production.

Nelson also gave industry a go-ahead on the building of one model of any planned postwar product, whether an automobile, a refrigerator, or a railway pullman car.

Little For Civilians

The WPB chief said that "precious little" in the way of increased civilian output could result in the immediate future, but described his action as the first in a series of moves to protect the whole economy by lifting certain controls "no longer essential to protect war production."

"We all know that when military operations are far enough advanced, big reductions will be made in the over-all war production program," Nelson's statement said.

Move To Slash OPA Funds Is Rejected

WASHINGTON, June 17. (AP) — Rejecting a move to slash $8,250,000 from the funds for the Office of Price administration, the House passed and sent to the Senate today a $2,595,165,535 deficiency appropriation bill.

An amendment to cut OPA's funds for the next fiscal year from $177,750,000 to $169,500,000 was defeated 75 to 51.

One Dead, One Hurt In Crash Of Glider

Cpl. Ralph E. McEwen of Oklahoma City, trainee, was killed and Lt. Nation's GOP Voters Give Suggestions On Platform

By GEORGE GALLUP, Director,
American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., June 17.—When the Republican National convention meets in Chicago on June 26, one of its important tasks — aside from the all-important job of nominating candidates — will be to adopt a party platform.

GALLUP

Just what divergent interests must be welded by the platform and how strongly they should receive voice have always been matters of heated conjecture among party leaders charged with nailing down the platform planks.

The resolutions committee of the Republican convention slated to convene Wednesday to begin hearings on the platform to be recommended to the convention, may thus be interested in a Gallup survey conducted throughout the nation during recent days.

The results of this survey provide in effect a "people's platform" for the Republican party. It will be interesting to compare the platform finally adopted by the convention with the platform which emerged when Republican voters in all parts of the country were asked:

"Is there any particular idea or plank which you

Military Parade Is Saturday Feature Of Bond Campaign

The measured tread of marching columns, the stirring cadence of military bands and the whirr and roar of ground vehicles and propellers aloft marked a military parade on Lubbock's streets Saturday afternoon—a feature of the Fifth War Loan campaign.

Apparent to crowds blocking sidewalks and street intersections, there was a grimness in the perfection approached by the line of march. Shoulders were back where military shoulders belong, and there was an elasticity of step that pointed to hours of working and sweating on parade grounds.

Ordnance was just as compelling, and was exhibited by wheeling columns of men and machines. It required 23 minutes for the line of march to pass.

Climaxes First Week

The parade was staged as the climaxing event of the first week of the Fifth War Loan drive. Drive officials sought thus to needle patriotic responsibility, so as to enable the county to subscribe its quota of $4,685,000—including $1,110,000 in Series E bonds.

The parade's even beat as usual was not matched by a flat-footed public's response. Failure of men to remove hats when the Flag went by made the person who showed respect by baring his head stand out from the unconformist hundreds like a patriotic freak.

Maj. George Shackelford, provost marshal at Lubbock Army Air field, was parade marshal. Following were: The South Plains Army Air field band and marching units, including WACs; headquarters, medical and service detachments and Company A of Texas State guard; 3086th College

Stable Hand, 32 Race Horses Burn To Death

DETROIT, June 17 (AP)—A 56-year-old stable hand was burned to death early today in a three-alarm fire that destroyed 32 valuable race horses in two barns at the Michigan State fair grounds.

The stable hand, David Scott, lived at the track. A groom said Scott apparently was asleep in his quarters when the blaze began.

Equine victims of the blaze included Bell Buzzer, which ran seventh in the Kentucky Derby this year, and Diamond Dick.

STOCKHOLM, June 17 (AP) — The free Norwegian legation reported today that from 6,000 to 8,000 German troops were withdrawn from Norway three days after the Allied invasion of France apparently to bolster forces in Denmark.

Fanatical Japs Resist Fiercely

Guam Bombarded By U. S. Warships

By LEIF ERICKSON

U. S. PACIFIC FLEET HEADQUARTERS, Pearl Harbor, June 17. — Battling determined Japanese resistance, United States Marines and Army troops have expanded the beachhead on southern Saipan to a maximum depth of two miles along a five and one half mile front, Adm. Chester W. Nimitz announced tonight in a communique.

In frenzied fighting through Thursday night and Friday, assault forces made gains averaging 1,500 yards and captured the village of Himashisu, more than halfway across the island from the beachhead.

Guam Bombarded

These developments were reported shortly after it was disclosed that American warships had bombarded Guam for the first time since that former U. S. outpost in the Marianas was captured by the Japanese in December, 1941.

Before dawn Friday, Jap defenders of Saipan, numbering an estimated two divisions (30,000 men), launched a determined counterattack.

The enemy thrust, supported by tanks, was hurled back.

Twenty-five Jap tanks were destroyed and the enemy cost in lives was heavy.

The communique said the area now controlled by the American forces on the southwest side of Saipan extends from a point outside the key town of Garapan five and one half miles southward to Agigan.

Nearly Halfway Across

Agigan is a village nearly halfway across Saipan's blunt southern end.

Before launching their counter-attack, the Japs maintained many steady mortar and artillery fires on American positions throughout the night.

American warships countered with shellings of enemy strongpoints.

After repelling the Jap counterthrusts, American assault troops launched the offensive which pushed forward for general advances of 1,500 yards.

Child Abducted; Woman Charged

ABILENE, June 17 (AP)— Mrs. Elizabeth Ann Hinajosas, charged with the abduction of 3-year-old Janet Bies, today waived examining trial before Justice of the Peace W. J. Cunningham, who set her bond at $5,000.

The 18-year-old defendant, wife of a soldier, was arrested after the Bies child was recovered today after a night-long search.

The charge was filed in 104th district court and District Attorney Esco Walter said the case would come before the grand jury Monday.

Chief of Police Virgil Waldrip said the child was the daughter of Mrs. Audra Bies of St. Paul, Minn., sister of Mrs. William Gutzkow to whom Janet was returned unharmed.

Went With Stranger

Police quoted Mrs. Gutzkow as saying she allowed the child to go shopping with a woman she met in an Abilene restaurant. When the little girl had not been returned in two hours, Mrs. Gutzkow went to the police, officers stated.

Clark Schooley, reporter for the Abilene Reporter-News and journalism instructor at Hardin-Simmons university, discovered Janet at one of the college's dormitories for families of service men. Schooley said that after he found the girl he refused to let a woman with her leave the dormitory and that police took the woman into custody.

Rationing Is Lifted From Most Cheese

WASHINGTON, June 17. (AP)— The Office of Price administration today announced that all rationed cheese except American cheddar cheese, cheddar products and other cheese in group one on the ration chart will be point-free for the two weeks beginning 12:01 a. m. Sunday, June 18.

OPA explained the temeporary action, taken with War Food administration approval, because in the coming fortnight soft cheese stocks will be at the highest level of the year.

Cheddar and cheddar products and other group 1 cheese continue at ten red points per pound on the ration chart values, OPA said.

POLICE CHIEF DIES

PORT ARTHUR, June 17 (AP)— H. F. Baker, 52, Port Arthur chief of police, died at his home today after a lingering illness. Formerly police chief of Orlando, Fla., Baker was widely known in the nation's law enforcement circles for a quarter century. He was appointed chief of the Port Arthur force in 1932.

Yank Raid At Sorong Costs Japs Heavily

By ROBERT EUNSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

ADVANCED ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, New Guinea, Sunday, June 18—More than 50 Mitchell bombers, escorted by a large force of Lightnings, smacked Sorong, on the northwestern tip of Dutch New Guinea, and destroyed more than 50 planes on the ground and in the air, headquarters announced today.

Sorong—which Gen. Douglas MacArthur termed "the enemy's last effective base in New Guinea—was hit Friday in a raid by which headquarters said "complete tactical surprise was obtained."

Mostly On Ground

Most of the Nipponese planes were destroyed on the ground. The Lightnings struck down several craft which were coming into the air.

A headquarters spokesman said several enemy warships were in the harbor during the attack. Fires and explosions from burning planes and dumps covered both the Samate and Jefman airdromes.

Sorong is about 660 miles from Hollandia, recently-captured airdrome on Dutch New Guinea, and about 700 miles from Davao on Mindanao island in the southern Philippines.

From Lou To Louella

DEAR LOUELLA: The long romance of Charles Cathey and Bettye Jo Cardwell will lead to marriage sometime in August. Both are Tech students. . . . Richard Dickey will leave for the Navy this week. . . . To go into Navy V-5 training at U. of Texas June 29 will be Hubert Bechtol, Westerner and Red Raider football star. . . . Elsie Burrus recently received a picture of Ray Cox taken immediately following a haircut that an "invasion excited" barber had given him. He has a New York APO number. . . . Bobby Carr is expected to visit at home in a couple of weeks. He is stationed at SMU, training to be a flight surgeon. . . . Kenneth Goebel, V-12 trainee at University of New Mexico, will continue in school there until March. . . . Wendell Morrisset plans to spend a few days at home before he reports to Central college in Fayette, Mo., July 1 from the University of New Mexico for further training in the Naval Air corps. . . . Lt. James N. Cathey has gone back to England after spending a 30-day leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Cathey.

Sue Moreland and Opal Hall will go to Mountainaire, N. M., Saturday for a vacation on the ranch of Sue's sister. Opal will return in a week but Sue will spend the summer there. . . . Callie Frances Hicks and Joe Wagley were married Sunday in Portales, N. M. Sue Sheffy, who was maid of honor, attended Tech last summer and went to Christian college in Missouri for the long term. . . . Billie Bob Cannady, last semester Tech student, visited friends here last week. . . . Lt. and Mrs. Billy Johnson, she, the former Theola Bertram, are parents of a son born Wednesday. They live in Richmond, Va. . . . Grace Marian Griffith remained at Amarillo Junior college for the summer. . . . Lts. Lowrey Wallace and Joe Keith Williams are in Lubbock. They recently got their Army Air corps wings. Lt Wallace will be stationed at Hobbs Army Air field and Lt. Williams will go to Williams field, Ariz.

HERE AND THERE

Jimmy Witt has gone to Galveston to work. While here he took Margueritte Nobles around. . . . Margaret Hiatt will go to Phoenix, Ariz., in July to see her cadet boy friend. She is Tech summer school student. . . . Mrs. Eliel Archilla, the former Foy Jackson is living in Punta Gorda, Fla., where her husband is stationed. She will probably visit at home soon. . . . Ann and Charlotte McKinley are attractive sisters and a lota fun, too. . . . Hubert Burgess is spending three weeks at a camp near Red River, N. M. Bob Booker has spent some time there this summer but at present he is at Camp Davis near Las Vegas, N. M. . . . Jane Murphy is a guest of Lt. Clayton Lyon this week-end in Liberal, Kan. He was sent to Liberal after graduating from LAAF in May.

Miss Annah Joe Pendleton, head of the speech department at Tech, will attend Southwestern the second six weeks of summer school. . . . Cpl. Joe Nelson, stationed at LAAF, and Reuby Tom Rhodes are seeing a great deal of each other these days. . . . D'Lyle Brooke is wearing an engagement ring put on her finger by a soldier. . . . Bill Austin who has several more semesters training in Navy V-12 at a California university and who planned to come home soon has found that he won't have a sufficient length of time to get here. . . . A/C Bob Newell was back on familiar ground recently when he visited Lorene Silman. He is stationed in Amarillo. Polly Silman expects Bill Conley now stationed at Ft. Jackson, S. C., to visit here the last of this month.

A. L. HAWKINS, stationed on Treasure Island, and Lyonal Lindsey, stationed in Alaska, both sailors, are expected to spend 30-day leaves here in two weeks. They will be together with Bill Kennedy for the first time since May 1942. The three of them joined the Navy in 1941. . . . "Chick" Trout has been home. . . . Some of the newest and best looking instructors at LAAF are Lts. Joe Burton, Lyle Gildermaster and Jess Eubanks. They came here from Brooks field. . . . Tech exes attending a Wrangler get-together here this week-end are Dub Boswell, Clay Woods, Johnny Waddell, Jackie Jernigan, Bob Dennis, Charles Fugitt, Owen Gilbreath and Lehmer Graham, Don Hockaday, Jerry Goff and "Toppy" Lee. . . . "Pokey" Maedgen will come home Wednesday from Texas university. Boy friend, Gene Rome, who lives in Missouri will meet her here.

This week's wedding congrats go to Mr. and Mrs. John J. Chauncey, Mr. and Mrs. Don Hatchett, jr., Mr. and Mrs. John M. Denman and Mr. and Mrs. William C. Dane.

So long.

Lou.

U. S. Loses 3,283 Dead And 12,600 Wounded In France

BY DON WHITEHEAD
Associated Press Staff Writer

WITH AMERICAN FORCES In France, June 17 — The American Army had 3,283 killed and 12,600 wounded in opening the western front in Normandy, Lt. Gen. Omar N. Bradley said today.

The total of 15,883 casualties was for the first 11 days of the campaign, and included reports up to midnight last night, Gen. Bradley said.

He paid high tribute to the courage of doughboys in establishing the beachhead on the European continent. The Missourian appeared before beachhead correspondents in a group for the first time to discuss the campaign.

Bradley said casualties on the central beachhead, where the American First division and elements of the 29th division landed, had run higher than anticipated, but that casualties in the peninsula area to the west had been lower than anticipated.

Report Confirms Confidence

This casualty report confirmed Bradley's confidence before the invasion when he predicted that the continent could be invaded without creating the bloodbath which the enemy insisted would result and which many persons expected.

Bradley's first words to the correspondents who gathered in the tent under the shade of a huge beech tree were in praise of his doughboys and parachute troops and their leaders.

"Only by guts, valor and extreme bravery on the part of the men and their leaders involved were we able to make the landing a success," he said, "and I cannot say too much for the parachute troops who dropped in the rear and made the job easier for the beach troops. They did a marvelous job."

Two Critical Periods

The general disclosed that since D-day there had been two critical periods when the Germans might have created a serious situation by an attack in force.

The first period, he said, was when the doughboys fighting their way ashore in the central beachhead were encountering a reinforced Nazi division. This was where the First division and supporting elements of the 29th fought their historic beach battle.

The second critical time was when American forces were trying to make their junction of beachheads secure north of Carentan. This was a soft spot at the time because it was a junction point between the American Seventh corps on the Cherbourg peninsula and the Fifth corps on the central beachhead.

The general declared emphatically that he thought the enemy now had lost his chance to drive the Allies back into the sea and that the beachhead now was absolutely secure.

8,500 Nazis Captured

Since their landings, American troops have captured and evacuated 8,500 prisoners, Bradley said.

Bradley estimated the number of German divisions in France to be in the middle 60's, with 16 divisions or elements fighting against the entire Normandy bridgehead.

The general declared the enemy would be unable to move all his divisions in France into the Normandy front because defenses must be manned in other parts of the country, and garrisons have to maintain control of the civilian population.

Bradley also gave high praise to the Navy's support of the assault troops, recalling that some warships ran to within 500 yards of the beaches pouring shellfire into enemy strongpoints. He also lauded the air forces which kept the enemy's reserves from forming in front of the assault waves.

News Briefs

Alumni and Ex-Students association of Texas Technological college at 8:15 o'clock Wednesday night will discuss "vital matters pertaining to the continued operation of the association." The association's board of directors has called the meeting in the engineering auditorium of the college, and has urged that "all alumni and former students in Lubbock and vicinity attend." The association has been inactive the last year because there was no administrative secretary, and because some officers had been called into the armed services. It is hoped at the meeting to elect some temporary officers and plan reviving publication of the association's magazine, as well as to make post-war plans, said L. M. Hargrave, first vice president, a teacher in the Wolfforth schools.

Lieut.-Col. Frederick W. Franke of Chevy Chase, Md., quartermaster office at South Plains Army Air field for the past two years, will go in active reserve status July 29, Col. Jame A. DeMarco, commanding officer at SPAAF, announced Saturday afternoon. Lt.-Col. Franke, 56, will resume his civilian duties with the Veterans administration. He is subject to call to active duty when and if it should become necessary in the country's interest. He has already returned to his home in Chevy Chase for a terminal leave of 45 days before going on inactive reserve status.

Funeral services for Arthur F. Busch, 32, who was drowned in the bay near San Pedro, Calif., Wednesday, will be held in the chapel of the Plains Funeral home at 7:30 p. m. today. Father William Blakeslee of the St. Elizabeth church is to officiate. Busch, a former Lubbock resident, is the son of Mrs. Catherine Busch, 1302 Twenty-eighth street.

Capt. E. A. Hazelwood, a former mathematics instructor of Texas Technological college, is a guest of Dr. and Mrs. J. William Davis, 2830 Twenty-third street. Capt. Hazelwood is stationed at West Point, N. Y.

ONE WAY TO KILL IT—N. R. King, Lubbock county farmer who lives four miles south and one mile west of Lubbock is shown in the picture above spraying ordinary kerosene on Johnson grass in an effort to cooperate in the county-wide drive to kill out the menace to farm land. King is using a tree spray outfit in the work and says it will take approximately 100 gallons per application an all of the Johnson grass on his farm. The grass is growing mostly on the roadside adjacent to his 320-acre farm. He expects to spray two or three times this year. Photo by Marion F. Peters.

Bill Kennedy Gets Citation Facsimile

Bill Kennedy of Lubbock received a facsimile Saturday of a citation from the Navy department which was presented in the name of the President to the First Marine division, reinforced, for its outstanding gallantry in the South Pacific. Kennedy, who was a gunner's mate, third class, in the Navy before receiving a medical discharge in November of 1943, was assigned to an amphibious force of the Marine division and took part in the battles mentioned in the citation.

Kennedy, now the life insurance business here, and also is a summer student at Texas Tech, entered the Navy in December of 1941. He received injuries at a naval operating base in October of 1942 when shells hit the foxhole in which he was crouched. As a result of the injury he was given a medical discharge. He was in the Guadalcanal area for six months.

He is the son of Mrs. Laura Kennedy who is now in Washington working for the Navy department.

Gliders, Glider Pilots Are Taking Big Role In Invasion

Swapping punches with desperately fighting Nazis on the fiery battlefront in Normandy has been a number of men who trained on Lubbock's very doorsteps. They are the glider pilots who trained at South Plains Army Air field.

They are the men of whom Maj. Gen. Gerald C. Brant, commanding general of the AAF Central Flying Training Command at the time, was speaking when he said that the military glider is "a weapon of opportunity."

At least seven men who received their wings at SPAAF the past year have been mentioned in news stories as having participated in the great airborne blows which spearheaded the invasion.

Saw Considerable Action

All of them have been reported as having seen considerable action and having to fight their way back to Allied frontlines. The second they set their gliders down in Normandy they became fighting infantrymen along with the load of commandos they brought in with them.

Among the group was one South Plains man, Flight Officer A. T. Rawlins of Levelland, who graduated at Dalhart before SPAAF took over the task as the nation's largest and only advanced glider pilot training center.

Others who graduated at SPAAF and who have been mentioned in news stories are Lt. G. S. Van London of Houston and Flight Officer Eugene Ragsdale of Dallas who received their wings at the big school for invasion in Class 43-4 in February, 1943; Flight Officer Roy C. Kenney of San Benito in Class 43-6 and Flight Officer John I. Zunwalt of Richmond in Class 43-5 both of which finished training and graduated at SPAAF in March, 1943.

Received Publicity Early

Two men who received their wings at SPAAF and who took part in the invasion and received publicity almost as soon as the invasion started in Normandy were Flight Officer Leon V. Rounds of Lawton, Okla., who graduated in February, 1943, and Flight Officer Eugene A. Hensley of Memphis, Tenn., who graduated at the field on Dec. 15, 1943.

Another Texas man mentioned is Flight Officer Alton Colston of Tyler Route 4, who was in Class 43-13 and received his wings at SPAAF in July, 1943.

Several men who graduated at Dalhart also have been mentioned, among them Flight Officer William D. Meadows of Tyler. Flight Officer Wendell Hewett of Plainview, also was in on the big show in his glider.

A few excerpts from the news dispatches tell the story of the work these men have been doing.

Gliders Launched Invasion

A United Press dispatch from London the day after the invasion got underway said "A glider group commanded by Lt. Col. John Donaldson of Birmingham, Ala., actually launched the invasion of western Europe.

"The first glider to land on enemy held territory was the "Fighting Falcon," piloted by Lt. Col. Mike Murphy, a veteran stunt flier from Lafayette, Ind.

"The group was the leader of more than 900 troop transports and gliders which took off shortly before midnight from bases in England. All planes in the group returned safely.

"Many of the pilots and crew members had dropped troops as many as five times previously in the North African and Italian campaigns. They said the Normandy landings were fairly easy."

First Invasion Stowaway

The glider proved to be one method of getting in on the big show for one glider mechanic. Pvt. Charles Schmelz of Pittsburgh, hid in the tail of a glider and became the first invasion stowaway. He has returned to England after three days of hard fighting on the Cherbourg peninsula.

Another story told of a glider cutting loose from its towplane and landing on top of a building during a blackout by clouds hiding the moon just as the ghost ship came in for a landing. The nose of the glider was flipped up and the troops poured out expecting to run for shelter of trees and farm buildings. To their amazement they were on the roof of the large building. Later the group discovered that the building was German headquarters for the area. The surprised Nazis tumbled out of their cots and surrendered.

Other news dispatches tell of how the men flew in infantrymen, medical men, and vast amounts of equipment and supplies. One glider train was reported to be at least 50 miles long as it headed for the Normandy beachhead.

Officials at SPAAF are elated over the part the glider has played in the invasion and recall numerous occasions in the past when high officials at the field and in the AAF have praised the military glider as an important weapon of war.

Wheat Crop Due To Break All Records

KANSAS CITY, Kan., June 17 (U.P.)—An all-time record wheat crop exceeding a billion bushels today was predicted by Lee Marshall, director of distribution, War Food administration, Washington.

Speaking before a field meeting of the Kansas wheat improvement association, Marshall referred to the June 1 national crop report as estimating that 1,034,785,000 bushels of wheat would be produced in the United States this year. Only once before, in 1915, he said, did wheat production exceed the billion mark—in that year about 1,009,000,000 bushels were produced.

"During the year ahead," Marshall said, "our nation's wheat will help feed Americans here and around the world, our Allies and liberated peoples. It will take its place with the ships, the planes and guns in freeing the world."

In emphasizing the need for meeting the suggested wheat goal for harvest in 1945 of between 67 and 70 million acres, Marshall said the U. S. already has sent under lend-lease roughly 225,000,000 pounds of wheat to Russia, a billion pounds of flour to Russia and another billion pounds of flour to Russia and Great Britain combined.

Lt. B. D. Randolph Missing In Action

SAN ANTONIO, June 17 (AP)—Second Lt. Benjamin D. Randolph, 22, pilot of a light bomber, has been missing in action over France since June 3, his mother, Mrs. William M. Randolph of San Antonio has been informed.

The missing airman is a son of the late Capt. William M. Randolph, for whom Randolph field here was named. Capt. Randolph was killed in an air crash in 1928.

SPAAF's Bond Sales Mounting

The Fifth War Loan campaign continued to hold the spotlight during the past week at South Plains Army Air field with cash sales and pay allotments helping push the field's total nearer the goal of $100,000.

An award was presented to civilian workers at SPAAF by Maj. Gen. Richard Donovan, commanding general of the Eighth Service Command. At least 97.5 per cent of all civilian workers at the field are investing at least 12 per cent of their monthly pay checks in War Bonds. Civilians at SPAAF previously had won the Minute Man flag for War Bond participation.

Graduates Invest $2,500

The record-size group of Winged Commandos which received wings as glider pilots at SPAAF Thursday bought more than $2,500 in War Bonds as a farewell token to the city of Lubbock.

Another fine contribution was made by the SPAAF Woman's club, made up of the wives of officers at the field, which invested several hundred dollars in bonds, Mrs. James A. DeMarco, wife of the commanding officer, announced.

War Bond officials at the field Saturday announced that only five persons among the civilian workers were not buying bonds through the pay reservation plan. One or more bonds a month are bought by 99.8 per cent of SPAAF officers.

Dances, Rallies Planned

Plans are still being made for War Bond dances and rallies for both officers and enlisted men.

A big War Bond thermometer near the main gate at SPAAF will be completed this week and will show the temperature of War Bond purchases at the field as the Fifth War Loan campaign progresses.

The use of veneers dates back to the earliest days of civilization.

GEO. B. JONES

Announcement For Constable Made By Geo. B. Jones

Geo. B. Jones announced Saturday that he was a candidate for constable of precinct No. 1, Lubbock county, subject to action of the voters in the Democratic primaries.

"I filed several months ago as a candidate with Mr. Ellis, and am taking this means of telling the public of my candidacy," Jones' statement said.

"I lived in Navarro county 30 years before moving to Lubbock county two years ago. I had been a frequent visitor here since 1936. For the past 18 months I have been working at South Plains Army Air field, buying bonds regularly and trying in every way to shorten the time when the boys will come back home.

"I have been encouraged by friends of from 20 to 40 years standing in Lubbock and vicinity asking me to make the race for constable. I served as a peace officer in Navarro county approximately 20 years, 10 years straight as constable. I made the race there twice with opposition and three times without opposition.

"Due to gasoline and tire rationing, it will be impossible for me to see all the voters but I will make an honest effort to see as many of them as possible. If I don't get to see a voter, all he has to do is ask someone who knows about my record."

Jones is married and resides at Eighth street and Avenue Q.

Jim D. Reed Of Shallowater Announces His Candidacy For Commissioner, Precinct 4

Jim D. Reed of Shallowater Saturday announced his candidacy for commissioner of precinct No. 4 (Shallowater precinct) subject to the action of the Democratic primaries.

Mr. Reed's statement follows:

"I was born and raised in Hill county, Texas, where I lived until I moved to Shallowater in Lubbock county in 1923. I served one year in the United States Army in 1918-19. I have had about seven years experience in road construction in precinct No. 4 being employed by the county commissioner of precinct No. 4.

"If the citizens see fit to elect me to the important office of county commissioner of precinct No. 4 I will to the very best of my ability render the best service possible to Lubbock county as a member of the commissioner's court and to commissioner's precinct No. 4.

"The voters of commissioner's precinct No. 4 are invited to investigate my record as a citizen of Lubbock county at Shallowater, where I have lived for more than twenty years. I refer you to my friends and neighbors both in Shallowater and in Lubbock

"I solicit your vote and influence in the Democratic primaries of 1944."

Suit Seeks To Close Taxicab Company

BEAUMONT, June 17 (U.P.) — The state attorney general and County Attorney Shelby K. Long today brought suit in district court to padlock the H. and H. Taxicab company, alleging that personnel of the concern had been involved in 14 violations of the Texas liquor law since 1942.

The suit asks that the company be restrained from operating for 12 months. A hearing before District Judge Tom Kenna has been set for July 6.

Recently, some of the company's drivers were fined for selling whisky to fares without a permit. Drivers struck Thursday night in a dispute over preferential routing, but returned to work after several hours.

Vassar College was originally incorporated as Vassar Female College.

"You and Your Daddy Will Have So Much to do Together

WHEN HE COMES MARCHING HOME"

So much lost time together to make up for! Those fathers who've never seen their babies may not even come home in time to wheel their carriages. For the months of war pass swiftly for well cared for childhood and little boys and girls now in arms may be walking and running long before their daddies come home! In each young mother's heart is the prayer that her husband may be spared for home-coming. For her the months are long: and the casualty lists are longer! She is dedicated to do everything in her power to speed Victory. There is none among us who can do less! Whatever war job YOU can do best—do it now! Keep buying Bonds and HOLD ON TO THEM! You'll be helping bring every American father home to the child from whom he's been torn — to fight for his child's and your child's future!

Allies Taking Giant Strides Ahead On All War Fronts

BY J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
(Substituting for DeWitt Mackenzie)

The last 48 hours have brought a staggering amount of news about the way the world is going. The word "significant" has been written in the sky, on the land and sea and on the diplomatic front.

The Germans have launched the secret aerial weapons which Allied airmen tried for months to knock out. Even President Roosevelt's post-war plans were overshadowed by the wings of the B-29s and developments in France. Sensational reports about Gen. De Gaulle, revealing much of the temper of that man and why we have been reluctant to go too far with him, received only passing attention. (And now, in passing, there is only room to say that, if De Gaulle continues to swing his military strength as a political club, promising and withdrawing according to the tides of negotiation, he will create one of the most critical military crises the Allies have had to face.)

All of these, and Russia's resumed military activity, carry weights which almost founder attempts at correlation.

Big Events In Pacific

But off in the far Pacific and down in New Guinea the prologue has been spoken to a two-act play which, in less crowded days, would have the country by its ears. Its full significance is not yet clear, but there is no mistaking that it is big.

The widespread attacks by sea and air from New Guinea to the Kuriles certainly seem to mean that MacArthur is preparing to keep his promise "I will return," and that Nimitz is clearing the flanks of the route back to the Philippines.

And, judging by our progress since Tarawa, that return will be this year. No longer are our Pacific forces riding the locals from island to island. The Marianas offensive is an express stop from the Marshalls—1,000 miles—past Truk, once called Japan's "Pearl Harbor." After the Marianas comes Palau, reputed bastion on the right flank of MacArthur's route which also may prove to be no fortress, or a possibly a direct move by the Navy to meet MacArthur in the Philippines.

Jap Supply Routes Cut

The new moves are rapidly cutting off Japan's Pacific supply routes, forcing her into the narrow passes north of the Philippines, which are duck soup for submarines, and into the South China sea

The Japanese war may see its climax in China and the home islands, but, just as we believe the European invasion brought the war there into its final phase, so we may be watching now the beginning of the end of the Pacific war proper.

Not often now do you hear the echoes of those once widely accepted predictions of a five-year war with Japan. We should know more about it by autumn.

Vinegar brewing was known in the seventeenth century in France.

News Briefs

The War slogan seals offered for sale by Allen Bros. post of the American legion last week met with a good response, A. C. Lamp, post adjutant, said Saturday. Proceeds of the sale of the seals, replicas of government posters, will be used in the post's vital welfare and rehabilitation work. Stimulated interest in all phases of the war effort is made possible through use of the seals on mail and packages, Lamp pointed out. Anyone wishing the seals may phone 2-3675 and they will be delivered. The sales campaign will continue through May 21.

Capt. Vernon Turner of Lubbock, pilot of a P-47 fighter plane and with a fighter bombing squadron operating out of England, has been awarded the Silver star for gallantry in action. This is the third highest award bestowed. Turner was in the news last week in a story from somewhere in England telling of an accident when the first fighter pilots landed on a strip in France. Swerving to avoid a Thunderbolt obscured by dust, he turned his plane on its back. Unharmed, he was extricated by handsaws and doubled up with a pilot to return to his base.

Word has been received of the recent death of Dr. J. E. Crawford of Bartlesville, Okla., after an illness of three weeks. Dr. Crawford formerly was associated with the Lubbock clinic and Ellwood hospital as ear, eye, nose and throat doctor. Survivors include the widow, four daughters and two brothers, also doctors. One daughter, Mrs. Russell Denison of McLean, is a former Lubbock resident and with her family is moving back here early in July.

A petit jury panel will report at 1:30 o'clock Monday afternoon to Judge Dan Blair of 72nd district court to hear evidence in the try title action of Jessie Mae Robison and others against Annie Mae Murrell and others. The 99th district court, presided over by Judge J. E. Vickers, Saturday will close minutes on the 12-weeks April term of court.

S/Sgt. Oliver Thomas, who recently completed an Army Air forces training course as a flight engineer on a B-29 Superfortress, is visiting friends in Lubbock. Sgt. Thomas, a former Lubbock resident, is to go from here to Austin to visit his father before reporting to Lincoln, Neb., for transitional training. He has been in the service approximately two years.

Fine of $100 and court costs were adjudged Saturday in county court against Theodore Lockhart, charged with liquor law violation, court officials said.

Dr. Marshall Harvey, 1109 Avenue K, is attending a meeting of the Texas State Board of Chiropodist examiners in Austin this week-end.

Federal Control Of Benefits Hit

WASHINGTON, June 17 (AP) — The Senate postwar planning committee went on record today against establishing nationwide unemployment compensation standards by federal law.

The conclusion, one of the most important recommendations in a forthcoming report on the human problems of postwar reconversion, had been a closely guarded committee secret, but it was disclased to the Senate military affairs committee yesterday by Sen. Austin (R-Vt) and became a part of the public record today.

Instead of writing uniform schedules of payments to the jobless into pending reconversion bills as had been suggested by War Mobilization Director Byrnes, the postwar planning group favored letting the states continue handling the payments in their own way.

Significant Recommendations

However, the committee made a number of significant recommendations. These included:

That the unemployment tax act should be amended to cover employers of less than eight persons, and maritime workers employed by private shipping companies.

That federal loan funds be established from which loans could be made to any state where the solvency of the state unemployment compensation fund was threatened.

That the states survey their situations with a view toward increasing maximum benefit payments and extending the duration of the payments.

That government workers, including employes of the War Shipping administration, be covered under the laws of the states where their wage credits would have accumulated had they previously been under the law. The federal government would reimburse the states for any such payments.

Furloughs For Work In Harvest Unlikely

WASHINGTON, June 17 (AP) — Rep. Worley (D-Tex) said today it is unlikely that the War department will furlough large groups of men this year to work in wheat fields at harvest.

A stepped up training program was given as the reason, said Worley, noting that last year before so many troops had gone overseas they were released in labor units to lend a hand to farmers in the vicinity of posts.

Individuals still may obtain short furloughs, however, said Worley.

NAZIS CLAIM SINKINGS

LONDON, June 17. (AP) — The Berlin radio asserted today that German submarines sank one destroyer and two transport vessels totalling 11,000 tons in the Atlantic.

MASSEY-HARRIS

SELF-PROPELLED HARVEST BRIGADE TO INVADE THE '44 CROP

America's 1944 grain harvest is a battle for bread . . . a fight for extra food needed by our armies and allies. To help harvest this grain in the face of a serious shortage of men and machines, a great Massey-Harris Self-Propelled Harvest Brigade has been formed.

Just as our soldiers and their Massey-Harris-built M-5 tanks are fighting on the battlefronts of the world, the Harvest Brigade operators and their Self-Propelled Combines will fight the battle of food production on the home front. Hundreds of Massey-Harris Self-Propelled Combines, manned by competent operators are pledged to custom-cut at least a million acres this year. The combines will operate in localities where they are most needed throughout America's great grain belt and will be on the job as the grain ripens.

Farmers in this locality who need harvesting help should get in touch with us at once. If it can be shown that a harvesting emergency exists here, we will request help from the Self-Propelled Harvest Brigade.

AN AMAZING IMPROVEMENT IN HARVESTING METHODS

Even before the war, the Massey-Harris Self-Propelled Combine proved its ability to HARVEST MORE GRAIN IN A GIVEN TIME, WITH FEWER MEN AND AT LESS COST than ever before in history. One man operates this marvelous harvester . . . one engine propels the combine and drives the mechanism. No tractor or tractor crew needed. Saves the grain normally tramped down on the opening cut—saves manpower and fuel.

The Harvest Brigade is working hand in hand with Uncle Sam through the county AAA Boards and in co-operation with Massey-Harris dealers and custom operators.

See us or phone at once if you need harvesting help to the Special Investigating Committee of the HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

MONTGOMERY WARD'S STATEMENT

THE FACTS WARDS HAS RECITED SHOW:

1. The Post Office aided the union during the strike at Wards and sought to excuse its actions to this Committee by misrepresenting the facts.

2. The National Labor Relations Board gerrymandered the bargaining units at Chicago to insure a union victory, and to force union representation upon the retail store employees who by remaining at work during the strike had clearly shown their rejection of the union.

3. The National Labor Relations Board has given a wholly false excuse for its action.

4. The War Labor Board, and the Attorney General, to distract attention from their own illegal acts, have untruthfully attacked Ward's labor policies.

5. The War Labor Board violated the law by granting a contract to the union when the union had refused to prove that it had any legal right to represent Ward's employees.

6. The War Labor Board, by ordering the retroactive reinstatement of maintenance of membership, would have made impossible the holding of a fair election among Ward's employees. Obedience to that order would have forced Wards, before the election was held, to discharge the many employees who had exercised their right to resign from the union.

7. The National Labor Relations Board and the War Labor Board conspired together to bring about the seizure of Ward's properties to enforce an order which they knew to be illegal and unfair.

8. The War Labor Board and the Attorney General have sought to prevent Wards from obtaining a hearing in the courts on the illegality of the Board's orders, while seeking to impose those orders upon Wards by force.

These facts show that the Post Office, the Department of Justice, the National Labor Relations Board, and the War Labor Board, with the approval of the President, have acted together to give illegal and unfair assistance to the CIO union at Chicago.

Ward's experience ever since the passage of the Wagner Act has shown that the unfairness and prejudice illustrated by these actions is the common method by which these agencies are using the prestige of the government to force the surrender of the liberties of employers and employees everywhere.

By their policies of giving unfair and illegal assistance to labor unions, these bureaus have destroyed the established procedure of collective bargaining and have encouraged labor strife. Mr. William M. Leiserson, Chairman of the National Mediation Board pointed this out in a recent address, saying:

> "The unions . . . have come to depend on the Government to give them what they could not gain by collective bargaining with employers. And now, when the giving must stop because of the burdens of war and the necessity to control inflation, they turn in resentment against the Government like children against over-indulgent parents . . .
> "Government agencies are perhaps more responsible for the present labor situation than the unions and their leaders. The dependence of workers organizations on the Government is as much the result of their policies as of union policies."

By seeking to force Wards to obey an illegal order while depriving Wards of a hearing in the courts, these agencies have shown their lack of respect for our Constitution and the fundamental rights which the Constitution guarantees. The Constitution is no longer the supreme law of the land if those whose rights are threatened are deprived of an opportunity to obtain the protection of the courts.

From its experiences, Wards draws the conclusion that these many bureaus have formed a machine for purchasing political support from labor organizations.

Wards has long believed that, when the public awakens to the degree of coercion used by the administrative agencies of the government to force employers and employees to accept union restrictions in which they do not believe and which without such coercion they would avoid, it will rise in indignation. The public will demand that those appointed to office in these agencies act with simple fairness and obey the law or be removed from power.

The facts Wards has recited show, finally, that the President, to force Wards to obey an order known to his advisers to be unfair and illegal, ordered Ward's property seized by force.

The President's action in ordering the plant seized was the usurpation of a power not granted him by Congress and denied him by the Constitution he was sworn to uphold and defend.

The seizure of Ward's plant developed a spontaneous and continuing public indignation which resulted in this investigation. This indignation is easily interpreted. A free American people will not accept dictatorship."

MONTGOMERY WARD & CO.
SEWELL AVERY
Chairman

This is the concluding summary of the statement made by Wards on June 8, 1944 to the Special Committee of the House of Representatives investigating the seizure of Ward's properties. The full statement will be gladly forwarded to any reader upon request.

Junior Leaders To Clash This Week

The SPORTS EYE

By Mack Turner

WE FOUND some interesting mail on the mail hook Saturday, and will pass along the points of interest to local sportsmen for whatever they may be worth.

One of the letters was from the Sporting News, the official baseball publication which tells us that the junior baseball in Lubbock will get mention in this week's issue that will reach the news-stands late in the week. The information reached their office too late for last week's paper.

THE OTHER letter was from our old friend Putt Powell, the sports editor up Amarillo way. Putt seems to be developing into either a great golfer, or the Dizzy Dean of the fairways. At least Putt tosses challenges around rather freely. We wonder if his shots are aimed at J. Mule Davis and myself, or at Jewell Wallace and Blondy Cross.

At least, Putt tells us that he will take his vacation during the coaching school at Wichita Falls, and along with Howard "Bull" Lynch, he challenges any other sports writer and coach from the same town to play a golf match.

After Bull Lynch's famed hole in one it may be hard to get a match.

Putt wants to know if there will be any big time golf meets in Lubbock that he, and other Amarillo golfers, might enter. We haven't heard of one to date, but stick around, Putt, we might brew one up just to get the chance to see what kind of golfers you and Bull Lynch really are.

AFTER all the trouble we have had keeping cool during these hot days, we took a solemn pledge not to mention football again until the weather got cooler, but this is too good to keep. Cold weather might spoil it.

Putt Powell has thawed out at last, and openly picks the Amarillo Sandies to win District 1-AA this fall and the Plainview Bulldogs in 1945. To be sure that we saw this "confession" in his column, Putt clipped and mailed it to our desk.

Take it away, Putt, it's all Amarillo now:

This isn't the football season but everywhere we go, sooner or later, the subject comes up.

District 1-AA looks like it will be pretty wide open next season. But we will go out on a limb and pick the Plainview Bulldogs to win the banner in 1945.

Coach Finis Vaughn's gridders wil lbe double tough this coming season. But will be rougher the following year. Many of last season's stars were sophomores and they will be great for the next two seasons.

Amarillo, Lubbock, Pampa and Plainview should fight it out for 1944 honors. Brownfield may jump into the same class. Borger is still a big question since the Bulldogs had no football in 1943.

But frankly, we think Coach Howard Lynch's Sandies will come back strong and win the district. We figure the Lubbock Westerners will be the hardest hurdle. In the first place, the Westerners feel the same way about the Sandies as the Amarillo boys do about Pampa. Remember, Amarillo walloped Lubbock 47 to 0 last year on Butler field. Lubbock defeated Pampa 12 to 0. Then the Harvesters beat Amarillo 7 to 0 at Pampa.

The Westerners will be laying for the Sandies just like the Sandies will be set for Pampa. Lubbock will have the big advantage of meeting Amarillo in Lubbock. Amarillo holds the same edge on Pampa. The Sandies also meet Brownfield and Plainfiew on Butler Field, where local schoolboy elevens are practically unbeatable.

We may be wrong again but we favor the Sandies to win District 1-AA; Lubbock will be the hardest game and there will be a tie for second place.

Remember, 1945 will be Plainview's year.

Jack Williams, their passing ace, looks like a cinch for all-district and all-state honors.

But back to the Sandies.

The team will be built around Tailback Richard Mixon, Center John Bob Watts, Blocking Back Dale Collins, Tackle Marshall Gettys, Guard Joe Frank Robberson and End Rudy Bauman. They were regulars last year. Mixon is the captain. Watts and Collins are co-captains. Mixon, Collins and Bauman were all-district in 1943.

The starting backs will be Mixon, tailback; Collins, blocking back; Paul Miller, fullback and Maurice Essary, wingback. Miller is a squadman and looks great to us. His passing is excellent and he may share some of the duties with Mixon. Miller is double-tough and may develop into an outstanding player. Howard Kenyon, another squadman, will be out against him. Essary may be another Dwight Hoskins. He lettered at tackle last year. Ed Gill should show up well as Essary's understudy.

Two more backs to keep your eye on are Tailback Harland Collins and Blocking Back Bill Attebury. Both are just up from junior high but have already shown that certain something that makes a star. They will see plenty of service next year but will be standouts the following two seasons.

Bauman will hold down one wing post. Lettermen Beauford Hill and Charley Houston will battle it out for the other post. Look out for Eugene Polk. He has been subbing for Bauman but may be moved to the other end and beat his two heavier rivals out.

Gettys will be one regular tackle. With added weight, he will better than ever. Billy Joe Russell can fill a big gap by coming through at the other slot.

Robberson will fill one guard position with no worries. Bill Juett and James Tomberlin will battle for the other post. Tomberlin's speed may gain the starting nod.

Watts will be one of the best in the state at center.

Yes, sir, the Santa Fe Victory Bell will return to Amarillo next November.

Leaders in the Junior baseball races clash this week, with the spotlight of the week centered on games of Thursday and Friday afternoon at Chapman field where both top games will be played.

Thursday afternoon the high stepping Hemphill-Wells Cats tangle with the up and coming charges of Phil Ragland's who this week will start playing under the banner of a new sponsor, Bill Dean's Service.

Kiwanis-Rotary Clash

Friday afternoon, the American leaguers will move over on the Chapman field diamond to furnish the entertainment in a game between Kiwanis and Rotary nines, two clubs that took three out of four games in the opening rounds.

The sensation of the past week was furnished by the kid pitching find of the Optimist club, and Denny Davidson pitched the Optimists within a half game of the league leaders and this week will face the fifth and sixth place ball clubs.

Davidson last week nipped the American Business club for a 4 to 1 win, and blanked the hard hitting Rotary for six innings before tacking up his second win, a 19 to 4 victory.

National Schedule

In the week's schedule, Sears scrappy, but unvictorious team, will attempt to mar the start of Phil Ragland's boys under Bill Dean's banner and break into the win column for the first time when the two teams open the National league play Monday at Chapman field.

The Hemphill-Wells Cats will get the first of two serious tests Tuesday when they clash with the Montgomery Wards team, a club that has been plugging along at .500 ball through the first two weeks.

Montgomery Wards bounds back the next day, and Wednesday play the Sears and Roebuck nine. The battle Thursday between the top flight Cats and Bill Dean's Service will complete the week's schedule in the older loop.

American Schedule

Denny Davidson is scheduled to make his appearance of the week Monday afternoon at Tech field in a battle with the Jaycees, a team that is still seeking a victory after four times out.

The American Business club, a team that has split even both weeks of play, will open their week's schedule Tuesday in a clash with the Kiwanis. The Rotary club, other top ranking team, will come back Wednesday to play the Lions club, loser of two games last week. The Jaycees and ABC nines will clash on Thursday.

Friday's schedule will find the Lions sampling Davidson's chunking at Tech field, while the league leading Rotary and Kiwanis clubs tangle at Chapman field.

Women's Softball To Open Season Monday

Softball in all it's color will be offered Lubbock fans this week with the opening of play in the women's softball league race Monday evening at the 22nd and Avenue Q diamond.

The opening game of the schedule will be a "family affair" with the civilian girls from South Plains Army Air field tangling with the WAC team from the same field.

West Texas Hospital and the Lubbock Army Air field civilians clash in the second game on the schedule Tuesday evening at the same field.

For the remainder of the week, the schedule will find the SPAAF civilians meeting the nurses Wednesday while SPAAF WACs and LAAF civilians battle in the week's finale Thursday evening.

The league will play under the supervision of the City Recreation Department.

A. C. "Stumpy" Hamilton said Saturday night that he was hoping for some good turnouts for the junior girls softball school scheduled to open at 4 o'clock Monday at the 22nd and Avenue Q field. The school will run four days with classes starting at 4 o'clock and finishing at 6 o'clock in time for league games to follow.

ENGLISH DERBY WINNER

NEWMARKET, England, June 17. (AP)—Ocean Swell, a lowly regarded outsider owned by Lord Rosebery, won England's famed Derby today at odds of 28 to 1 in an exciting finish with Tehran and Happy Landing who finished second and third.

Jakucki Blanks Detroit Tigers

DETROIT, June 17. (AP) — The league-leading St. Louis Browns continued their mastery over the Detroit Tigers today with Sigmund Jakucki hurling a seven-hit shutout as the Browns won 5 to 0 for their seventh victory in eight games against Detroit this season.

Johnny Gorsica, Detroit's starting pitcher, only allowed the Browns six hits but in the sixth inning after hitting Al Zarilla with a pitched ball and walking George McQuinn, he tossed a homerun ball to Mark Christman who blasted it into the left field stands.

St. Louis opened the scoring in the third inning when Myron Hayworth singled and was forced at second by Jakucki who went to third on Don Gutteridge's double and crossed the plate after Zarilla's long fly.

The Tigers never threatened, and the Browns added their last run in the ninth on a walk, a sacrifice and Hayworth's single.

Sports Greats Will Be On Dallas Show

DALLAS, June 17. (AP) — Top sports personalities, now in uniform, will gather around Lt. Comdr. Jack Dempsey, former heavyweight boxing champion of the world, as guests at the war bond sports and wrestling show here Tuesday night, the Dallas War Finance Committee said today.

In addition to Commander Dempsey, of the U. S. Coast Guard, others will include:

Lt. (jg) Dick Todd of the U. S. Naval Base, Grand Prairie, one of the all-time greats of pro football and former Texas A & M college Aggie; Lt. (jg) Freddie Wolcott of the Naval Base, Great Rice Institute track star who still holds the world 220-yard low hurdle record and shares the 120-yard high hurdle mark; Lt. Ben Hogan of Fort Worth Army Air Field, professional golfer; Lt. Bill Dudley of Randolph Field's central instructor's school, an All-American halfback from the University of Virginia; Lt. (jg) Bob Foxx of the Naval base, University of Tennessee All-American halfback; Lt. Birdie Tebbetts, Waco AAF, former Detroit Tiger catcher; Lt. Duane Purvis, San Marcos AAF, former All-American fullback of Purdue university; Lt. Buster Mills, Waco AAF, former Cleveland Indian outfielder; and Lt. Martin Ruby, Randolph Field, All-American tackle from Texas A&M.

Slingin' Sam Baugh of Sweetwater, has been invited to participate in the auction, which will include Lou Gehrig's most valuable player award, which will go to the highest bidder in war bonds.

On the wrestling card, Wild Bill Longson, one of the roughest men ever to hold the world's heavyweight title, will meet Jack Kennedy of Dallas.

During World War 1, one British soldier was affected by disturbed action of the heart for every four actually wounded.

Men's Softball Swings Into Second Week Of Schedule

The men's softball league moves into the second week of its schedule Monday evening at the 23 street and Avenue W basin. At six-thirty, two undefeated teams, the South Plains Army Air field Varieties, winner over the Keith ten by a 10-2 count, and the Hurlwood All-Stars, victor of a contest with the Federal Employees to the tune of 8-2, will tangle.

Another important battle will take place next Friday, June 23, when the South Plains Army Air field Medics tie in with the Lubbock Army Air field Civilians. Both teams are undefeated—the Medics edging out the Tech Faculty with a 5-4 tally, and the Civilians winning over the Scarborough Grocermen by 7-6.

Keith's Face Inductioners

Tuesday evening Keith's Wizzers tackle the undefeated Armed Forces Induction Center. The Wizzers were beaten last week 10-2 by the SPAAF Varieties, while the Induction Center boys won a close pitchers duel with the Jaycees by a 1-0 score.

A contest between the Junior Chamber of Commerce ten and the Scarborough Grocermen, both defeated teams, will be decided on Wednesday. During last weeks games, the Jaycees were beaten by the Induction Center ten in a close battle, 1-0, while the Grocermen were defeated by the Civilians from LAAF.

Faculty Plays Federals

The Texas Tech Faculty and the Federal Employees will play Thursday. Neither of the teams were victorious last week, as the Facuty was nosed out by the SPAAF Medics by a 5-4 count, while the Employes bowed to the All-Stars 8-2.

A. C. "Stumpy" Hamilton said Saturday that a number of teams had come to him with a request to get into the mens softball league, but that he had been forced to turn them down. The league now has ten teams which will afford each team one game a week on the schedule.

Hamilton said, however, that if enough of the teams desired to enter the play this summer that another league would be formed. Hamilton said he wanted at least six teams to form a league.

The addition of a new team to the men's league called for a reshuffle of the schedule. The new schedule is as follows:

Byron Nelson Far In Front Of Golf Meet

NEW ROCHELLE, N. Y., June 17. (AP)—Bronzed Byron Nelson, the tall Texan transplanted to Toledo, Ohio, turned the $13,333 New York Red Cross Open golf tourney at Wykagyle into a one man show today.

The former P.G.A. and National Open king ripped the rugged layout apart with a six-under-par 66, the best round of the tournament, to reach the three quarter mark of the 72-hole medal play test a dozen under even figures with 204. That gave him a five stroke lead over his nearest foe, and a strangle-hold on the $2,666 first prize.

Others Trail Behind

Five strokes back, after a par-busting 69 today, was Sergeant Vic Ghezzi of Atlantic City, while Mike Turnesa of White Plains, N. Y. who started the third round tied with Nelson, was third with 212 after a 74 today which threw him eight strokes off the pace.

Harold (Jug) McSpaden of Philadelphia skidded to 75 for a 214 total, where the winter tour champion was knotted with Herman Barron of White Plains, who came up with a par-shattering 68 today.

Hard Luck Sarazen

The hard luck guy of the day was Gene Sarazen, the squire of Darien, Conn., who came up to the last hole three under par, with a chance to go high among the leaders. However, his third shot, a short chip, hit the flag as the caddy of one of Sarazen's playing patrners held it, and skipped across the green. There was a two-stroke penalty for hitting the flag, and Gene needed five strokes to get into the hole, the big "7" on the par four hole boosting him to even par for the round and giving him a total of 217 strokes. That put Sarazen in a five way tie for ninth place, instead of in a three way tie for fourth.

Sam Byrd, Detroit star who won last week's $17,500 Philadelphia Open, added a par 72 to his previous 74 and 73 for a 219 total, two back of Craig Wood of Mamaroneck, N. Y., the duration National Open champion, who had a sub-par 71 today.

The field, with about 85 still playing, winds up the tourney with tomorrow's 18-hole round.

Six Lubbock Horses Enter Annual Show

Six Lubbock horses will be shown today in the annual horse show at the O. B. Jackson stables at Plainview.

Woods McDonald and Star Melody will be entered by Luther Godwin in the fine harness class; Gold Bond, a three-year-old Tennessee walking horse, will be shown by Dr. Howard C. Robertson and John Stinson will enter his fine sorse, Black Angel, in the same event. Others in the show will be: Hour of Charm, owned by Dr. V. V. Clark and Penney, owned by Miss Patricia Lindsey.

The show is scheduled to start at 4 o'clock at the Jackson stables in Plainview and several score horses from West Texas will compete for prizes in the afternoon's program.

Sooner PGA Names Tourney Favorites

MIAMI, Okla., June 17. (AP) — George Whitehead, Tulsa Indian Hills pro, and Dick Grout, Oklahoma City Twin Hills links instructor, were established as co-favorites today to win the 36-hole State PGA golf championship over Miami's nine-hole course Tuesday.

Grout, who succeeded Henry Picard at the Oklahoma City club, is regarded as a consistent shotmaker, formerly of Texas, Grout never before has competed in the Oklahoma event.

Cubs Nose Out Reds In Tenth

CHICAGO, June 17. (AP) — The Chicago Cubs, who had been waiting since opening day to repeat their inaugural victory over Cincinnati, concentrated their waiting in the batter's box today and capitalized on Lefty Arnold Carter's wildness for a 2 to 1 decision in a ten-inning hurlers' duel.

Claude Passeau, who held the Reds' offensive to a seventh inning homer by shortstop Eddie Miller, walked and scored the winning run from third as Billy Nicholson drilled a single down the third base line with two out in the extra inning.

Carter walked home the Cubs' other run in the fourth with two successive passes after Roy Hughes smashed a single off the rookie pitchers' glove and Phil Cavarretta singled to left.

The bases were still filled with none out in this frame when Andy Pafko, the Cubs' freshman center fielder, lifted an infield fly to Miller, who lost it and Cavarretta was trapped between third and home for a double play. Carter then got Don Johnson on a grounder. Johnson also assisted him from another jam in the sixth after Gee Walker's fumble of Hughes' single and two more passes filled the bases, Johnson hitting into an inning-ending force-out.

Carter allowed only six hits all singles, in suffering his second defeat against two victories. Passeau hung up his second win and ended a three-game losing streak for his club, who also had lost four straight to the Reds since beating them, 3 to 0, in the season's opening game.

Dorothy Bundy Cops Clay Court Victory

DETROIT, June 17 (AP)—Smooth stroking Dorothy May Bundy of Santa Monica, Calif., whose mother and dad both were National champions, captured an American title of her own today by defeating Mary Arnold of Los Angeles, 7-5, 6-4 in the women's finals of the National Clay Court tournament.

Meanwhile, top seeded Francisco (Pancho) Segura of Coral Gables, Fla., and second ranking Billy Talbert of Indianapolis advanced into tomorrow's men's finals by winning in straight sets. Segura eliminated Pfc. Rex Norris of Lansing, Mich., and Buckley Field, Colo., 6-1, 6-1, 6-1, and Talbert downed Petty Officer Ralph Dilley of Cleveland, 6-0, 6-0, 6-2.

Miss Bundy, third seeded in the tournament and No. 5 nationally, succeeded as champion Pauline Betz, whom she upset Thursday in the semifinals. Tomorrow's winner in the men's division will succeed Seymour Greenberg of Chicago, two-time winner who now is in the armed forces.

Miss Bundy, daughter of May Sutton and Tom Bundy, continued to play with a borrowed racket as she attained the top rung in National competition for the first time. Generally her game was too forcing for Miss Arnold, former public parks champion who was runnerup to Miss Betz for the clay title in 1941.

In her march to the title, Miss Bundy won ten straight sets with the loss of 25 games. Her triumph over Miss Betz was by almost identical score, 7-5, 6-3. Miss Bundy is a student at Rollins College, Fla.

Hulse, Parker Are Tops In AAU Meet

Ott Says He's Just As Tough As Needed For Running Giants

NEW YORK, June 17. (UP) — Mild Mel Ott won't play Jekyll-Hyde to spur his New York Giants to greater heights, he said today in response to suggestions that he "get tough" with his hired help.

"I am tough," he insisted. "I can be as tough as I have to be. Just ask my ball players. But I'm not going to put on a show. I'm not the fiery type, maybe, but neither is Joe McCarthy and I understood he's a pretty good manager."

Ott Well Liked

Everybody has always liked the chunky little fellow who came to John McGraw as a catcher, 16 years old, in 1925, and became one of the best outfielders and power hitters in baseball.

As manager of the last year's cellar inhabitants, Ott lost weight, fell off in his batting, was confined to bed with stomach disturbances.

"Nerves," he explained. "The doctor told me I'd just have to stop worrying so much, that's all. Do I worry? Sure, how can a man help it?"

Acquired New Philosophy

Somewhere in the off-season, Ott acquired new philosophy, although he can't put his finger on it.

"I decided that a manager could be either an asset or a liability to his club," he explained. "If you strain nervously so much that you lose baseball values—jerk a pitcher too soon, or hold off too long; or hesitate to shove the infield back for a double play, or to try a 'squeeze' yourself—then the team senses it instinctively, and you're done for the day."

A manager's toughest job, marvelous Mel said, is to take ball games "As they come, and dismiss them when the last putout is registered. Frankly, I can't do it, yet. I wish I could. But no manager ever thinks that the other team won; he conjures up scenes where his team lost."

The payoff in baseball is in common sense, plus a hunch, plus the nerve to carry through, Ott said, "and the rest is up to the boys."

Baylor Bears Plan To Return In 1945

WACO, June 17. (AP) — Baylor university will return to Southwest conference football in 1945. President Pat. Neff announced today.

The school did not participate in 1943 but at a meeting of the athletic committee, it was decided to place the rest of the conference on notice that the Golden Bears would be in the grid grind next year.

Manpower and transportation problems were given as the reasons for being out of the conference race the past season and Baylor will be unable to boast a team this fall but when Athletic Director Ralph Wolf returns to his desk in September, one of his first jobs will be to draw up a schedule for 1945.

The announcement of football resumption next year is being made now so that other conference members can be governed accordingly in making their 1945 schedules. The other six members of the conference have carried on without a break despite strained manpower situations.

Baylor was one of the three members of the conference that did not have a Navy unit from which to obtain football players. Arkansas and Texas A&M were the others but they found sufficient men in the student bodies to field teams.

Wolf has been on leave of absence working in a defense plant at McGregor, Texas, but will return to his duties with Baylor Sept. 1.

Baylor continued to have basketball teams in 1943 and 1944 but dropped other sports. No plans have as yet been made for resumption of competition in baseball and track.

Texas Junior Golf Dates Set Aug. 28

SAN ANTONIO, June 17. (AP) — The 18th annual Texas Junior Golf tournament will be held over Brackenridge Park course Aug. 28-Sept. 1.

Entries must be filed by Aug. 26 and any youngster who had not attained the age of 21 on Jan. 1, 1944, is eligible to compete. However, no caddy entries will be accepted.

There will be the usual prizes for medalist and runner-up, champion and runner-up in each flight and consolations and driving contests. There is no entry fee.

Defending champion is L. M. Crannell, jr., of Dallas.

Glen Garden Tourney Starts Play Sunday

FORT WORTH, June 17. (AP)—Qualifying rounds in the annual Glen Garden Invitation tournament will get under way Sunday with officials predicting that 150 will be signed to participate by Sunday night.

Qualifying rounds will continue through Tuesday. The first rounds of match play will start Wednesday and continue at the rate of 18 holes per day until next Sunday when the 36 holes finals are scheduled. War bonds and stamps will be awarded the winners in each of the four of five flights.

Entered in the tournament again this year is Charles Tims, last year's medalist. Golfers from San Angelo, Abilene, Dallas, Amarillo and Arlington will play in the tournament.

"Buy A War Bond TODAY"

NEW YORK, June 17. (AP)—Bill Hulse, America's fastest miler, and two school boys new to National competition high spotted the opening of the National A.A.U. championships on the sun-baked cinder parth and field of Randall's Island today.

Hulse, who stepped off a 4:06 mile in finishing second to Sweden's Gunder Haegg last summer, left four rivals far behind as he won the 1500-meter senior title—one of the three senior events on a program otherwise devoted to junior championships. The remainder of the senior crowns will be decided tomorrow with Hulse defending the 800-meter title.

Hulse Took Lead

The lanky New York A. C. runner took the lead soon after the start and set all the pace to finish a good 40 yards in front of James Rafferty, a teammate. He was clocked in 59.5 seconds for the quarter, reached the half-way post in 2:02.4 and then started pulling away. Rafferty had no trouble beating 17-year old Bob Umstattd, Southwest Conference champion from Dallas, for runner-up honors.

TEXANS IN AAU

NEW YORK, June 17. (AP)—Flyin' Charlie Parker, San Antonio speed Demon, led Texans at the National AAU track and field meet here today with an amazing 11.1 second first place mark in the 100-meter dash.

Records of other Texans in the meet:

Joe Owens of Gladewater, took third place in the 110-meter hurdles.

Burl Gene Moore, Lubbock High school star, won sixth place in the 400-meter run.

In the 200-meter hurdles, August Erfurth of San Antonio, was fifth.

Bob Umstated of Dallas, took third place in the 1500-meter (senior championship), which was won by Bill Hulse, New York A. C.

Charley Parker, sensational San Antonio dash man and Don Campbell, 18-year old schoolboy, from Sterling, Colo., divided honors in the two sprint races. Parker, who'll be 18 in July, chalked up his 50th successive victory in taking the 100 meters in 11.1 after he and Campbell had won their semi-final dashes in 10.9.

Parker Races Young

Campbell, left at the post in the century, struck from behind in the 200 meters, winning in 22.3 as Parker remained on the side lines in preparation for tomorrow's tussle with Claude Young, flashy Illinois sprinter. The fastest in the 200, 22 seconds flat was turned in by Washington's Bill Mathis, in winning his heat. He wound up third in the finals.

The other two senior titles went to Norman Bright, veteran West Coast performer representing the U. S. Army at Presque Isle, Me., and Red Sharaga of New York City. Bright won the 10,000-meter run in 33:53 and Sharaga captured the 3,000-meter walk.

Hulse Took Tip For Training Off Haegg

NEW YORK, June 17. (AP)—Bill Hulse, young research chemist, saw enough of Gunder Haegg's back in various races last summer to get the impression that there was something to the Swede's method of training and today the Navy-bound scientist put on display the results of his year-long experiment.

Hulse won the 1,500 meter, or metric mile, event of the fifty-sixth annual AAU track and field championships. The meet is a two-day affair with Hulse competing in the 800 meters Sunday.

All spring Hulse has been training over a cross-country course to build up stamina for the mile. During the past three weeks, in a vacation prelude to his entrance in the Navy, Hulse has scampered over the hills in the morning and worked for speed on the cinders in the late afternoon — the same formula Haegg used during his U. S. tour last summer.

Nova-Scott Postpone Scrap At Galveston

GALVESTON, June 17. (UP) — The Lou Nova-Buddy Scott boxing match, originally scheduled for June 20, has been postponed, Galveston Boxing Club officials announced today.

The postponement, tentatively to June 27, was agreed on in deference to Houston's $20,000,000 war bond boxing festival scheduled for June 21.

Scott has been at Galveston for nearly a week preparing for the match with Nova. The two fought to a draw at Oklahoma City two weeks ago, and Scott expressed confidence that he will knock Nova off the comeback trail in their Galveston encounter. Nova has applied to the New York Boxing Commission for recognition as duration heavyweight champion of the world.

In the Houston mitt festival, Corp. Glenn Lee of Camp Claiborne, La., and Corp. Al Hostak, of Camp Bowie, Tex., have been matched for the 10-round main attraction with the Texas light-heavyweight championship at stake.

Sponsored by the Elks Club and the Houston War Sports Committee, admission to the boxing festival will be by bond only.

Plyler Cops State Golf Title At Last

JACKSON, Miss., June 17. (AP)—Eddie Plyler, Ocean Springs golf stylist, realized a long ambition here today as he copped the 1944 Mississippi Amateur golf title, dropping Carl Lipe, Clarksdale, with unexpected ease, 9 up.

Plyler, thwarted in several attempts at the title, had quit the game, following his defeat by Curtis Persons, state 1940 titleholder in the semi-finals, that year in Biloxi.

PYOTE SWEEPS SERIES

EL PASO, June 17. (AP) — The Pyote Air base defeated Biggs Field, 6 to 3, here today to sweep a two-game series. The teams are members of the Second Air Force league. Pyote won Friday night's game by a 10 to 2 score.

South Plains Oil Development Activities . . . .

Extensions Of Russell Field In Gaines And Smyer Field In Hockley Definitely Assured

DEFINITE assurance of a three-quarter of a mile southwest extension of the Russell Clear Fork lime field in northwest Gaines county was given by Shell Oil company, Inc., No. 1 Jones; and Phillips Petroleum company No. 1 Ellwood, west outpost to the one-well Smyer field, in east-central Hockley county, was drilling below 5,852 feet in lime, with over 3,000 feet of free oil in the hole, to indicate completion of that project as an oil well, and prove that area is not a "fluke" district.

Other Highlights Of Week

Location for a 6,500-foot wildcat in east Cochran county, and preparations for tests on two possible new discoveries in that area were other interesting developments of the week.

Shell No. 1 Jones, in section 490, block G, CCSD&RGNG survey, three-quarters of a mile southwest of the two wells in the Russell producing district, in northwest Gaines, flowed and swabbed 336 barrels of oil in 26 hours, after treating pay section bottomed at 7,780 feet, with 1,500 gallons of acid, in several small stages.

During last 60 minutes of the 26 hours of testing, the well flowed 19 barrels of pipe line oil, with a cut of only four-tenths of one per cent basic sediment. That action indicated that the well likely will be completed from around 500 barrels per day flowing.

Pay section is from the casing seat at 7,400 feet, the bottom, in streaks.

Due To Make Producer

Phillips No. 1 Ellwood, in the northeast corner of section 20, Jack A, R. M. Thompson survey, one location west of the Woodley Petroleum company No. 1 Harless, which late in 1943 discovered Clear Fork lime production, in east-central Hockley, to open the Smyer field, is due to make a better producer than the Woodley well, if present indications are borne out by future developments.

The Phillips development can expect to drill to at least 5,950 feet before encountering water, and the showings from above 5,852 feet, were considerable better than those found down to that point in the No. 1 Harless.

To Start Drilling

Seitz-Comegys & Seitz, Wichita Falls operator, will start drilling soon on No. 1 Cameron Lumber company fee, three miles east of Morton, in Cochran county.

The location is 660 feet from the south and east lines of labor 3, league 86, Greer county school land. It is on a block of approximately 6,000 acres, recently assembled by Homer L. Cain and associates of Lubbock, and turned to the Wichita Falls producers, for the test.

Helmerich & Payne, Inc., No. 1 Wright, labor 19, league 97, Brewster county school land survey, nine miles south of Morton, and three miles northwest of the nearest production in the northwest extension to the Slaughter field, is due to start testing in a few days of the formations both above and below the present bottom at 4,921 feet.

Last Core Promising

After coring practically all the distance from 4,829 feet, to the total depth, and having some porosity, and oil staining, the operators cemented 7-inch casing at 4,900 feet.

The last core, at 4,901-21 feet, was the most promising. The 20-foot section recovered was fractured dolomite, with fair to good porosity and oil staining.

When cement in the pipe is drilled through, the operator will drill ahead to test the thickness and quality of the section. It is possible that before completion the pipe will be perforated and tested.

Commercial Well Seen

Informed quarters reveal that available information indicates the project has at least a 50-50 chance of becoming a commercial oil well.

Falcon Company No. 1 Dean, in the southeast corner of league 84, Mills county school land survey, and about five miles south of the Helmerich & Payne prospector, and two miles from the nearest oil wells, on the west side of the Slaughter, was making new hole past 5,025 feet in lime, after puncturing the plus on 5½-inch casing which had been set at 5,012 feet, when the bottom was at 5,016 feet.

Should the zone now being drilled fail to show oil carrying formation, the operator thinks that the section at 4,925-62 feet has enough saturation to make a well. That horizon will be checked later, through gun-perforations.

To Move In Spudder

Honolulu Oil corporation and Devonian Oil company No. 1 Payton, northwest Garza county, possible new discovery for Permian production is due to move in a spudder to use in further testing of the section now bottomed at 3,592 feet, in lime.

This exploration drilled to 3,768 feet, and developed sulphur water in the lower zones, after drilling through considerable oil bearing zone.

A string of 5½-inch casing has been cemented at 3,544 feet, and at the close of the week the operators had swabbed out about all of the sludge and muck of drilling fluid, and were expecting to begin swabbing for oil shortly.

Swabs 56 Barrels

During cleaning out, no water had developed. Before the back-up to 3,592 feet, the well swabbed 56 barrels of oil and 114 barrels of water in 12 hours.

Some quarters expect that it will yield up to 100 barrels of oil daily, when the water is finally shut off, and only further swabbing at the present level will determine if that has been accomplished.

Gulf Oil corporation No. 1 Buck, north-central Gaines county wildcat, in section 104, block G, WT survey, had taken a drill-stem test to a bottom of 5,350-5,418 feet, in lime section, after coring from 5,382-5,400 feet, and 5,400-18 feet.

Test To Go Deeper

Both specimen were reported to have shown scattered porosity and some bleeding oil and bubbling gas, in streaks. No information had been released on results of the drillstemmer, but irregardless of the outcome of that effort, it is assured that the exploration will be drilled deeper, and given further investigation.

Several tests in the surrounding regions have shown some oil and considerable gas, and it may be that the Gulf wildcat has found the spot where oil and not gas will predominate.

Stanolind Oil & Gas company No. 1 Riley, section 79, block H, D&W survey, in northeast Gaines, was making new hole under 5,090 feet in hard lime. It is due to find soft section shortly.

Union Extension Assured

Shell No. 1 Sparks, section 3, block A-13, psl survey, in southwest Gaines, and about nine miles north of the Union lower Permian pool, in northwest Andrews, has progressed below 5,930 feet and was drilling ahead in dolomite.

A one-mile south extension to the Union area was practically assured when Union Oil company of California, No. 1 Scarborough, in section 20, block A-31, psl survey, had a good recovery of oil and gas cut drilling mud in a drillstem test at 6,235-7,468 feet.

A string of casing was cemented at 6,840 feet, and the operators were due to start tests at the end of the week. This well shortens the gap between the Union pool, and the Fullerton field, south of it to two and one-half miles. When the discovery well in the Union was finished about nine months ago, it was four miles northwest of the closest Fullerton producer.

Progress In Other Tests

Lion Oil Refining company No. 1 Turner, in section 17, block C-38, psl survey, in northwest Dawson county, was drilling ahead under 4,870 feet in the San Andres dolomite. It is expecting to encounter the pay zone around 5,000 feet—possibly a little deeper.

Neville G. Penrose, Inc., No. 1 Moore, section 82, block T, D&W survey, in northeast Terry county, had reached 5,150 feet and was continuing in hard lime.

Woodley Petroleum company No. 1 Forkell, section 378, block D. John H. Gibson survey, in northeast Yoakum county, was drilling 3,627 feet, in anhydrite, topped at 2,450 feet, with an elevation of 3,613 feet.

Drilling Out Plug

Schermerhorn Oil corporation No. 1 Moss, section 606, block D, Gibson survey, an outpost to the line producer in the West pool in central Yoakum, was drilling out the cement on the casing which had been set at 5,000 feet.

Stanolind No. 1 DeLoache, labor 19, league 80, Reeves county school land survey, in west-central Hockley county, had reached 5,487 feet in anhydrite and lime and was going ahead towards its objective of pay in the lower Permian, around 6,000 feet.

Blackwell Oil & Gas company No. 1 House, section 8, block B, psl survey, in northwest Kent county, was reaming to hole to total depth at 5,390 feet, in lime, where it had developed a hole full of water.

Gaines Test Abandoned

When the pipe is run down and set, likely the operators will drill ahead, as the contract depth is reported to be between 7,500 feet and 8,000 feet.

Case, Pomeroy & company, Inc., No. 1 Kuehn, section 11, block C-44, psl survey, in southeast Gaines county, has been plugged and abandoned at total depth of 5,489 feet, in the San Andres lime.

This test had a case of sulphur water on the bottom, and that ruined possibilities of production, which had been partially indicated by several soft streaks between 5,395 feet, and the bottom, where considerable oil was indicated in cores and drilling samples.

Plan Another Wildcat

The same operators are reported to be planning another wildcat in the southeast Gaines district, about six miles east of the dry hole on the Kuehn fee.

They have acquired lease on about 3,000 acres, which centers around league 298, Reagan county school land survey, from Hogan and Sloan, Midland operators, who blocked about 6,000 acres in that area about 12 months ago.

The Case, Pomeroy & company leases are in about the center of the Hogan and Sloan spread. While it is understood that the deal did not involve a drilling obligation, informed quarters indicate that likely a development will be started somewhere on the tract soon.

Humble Oil & Refining company No. 1 Doss, section 9, block A-24, psl survey, slated 8,000-foot prospector in south Gaines, was shut down at 5,605 feet in lime, making repairs to the drilling equipment.

The League of Nations was formed by representatives of 13 nations meeting in Geneva on Jan. 10, 1920.

Aerial Service Will Resume Commercial Flying Exclusively

The Breedlove Aerial service will return to 100 per cent commercial flying on July 1, according to Herbert L. Haas, manager of the service here since May of this year.

Haas pointed out that although the aerial service had been tied up on government contracts for the last four years it has continued to function to a lesser extent.

The service, which is owned and operated by Clent Breedlove, veteran flier and instructor, has been in operation here for a number of years and is now located at the commercial airport on the Slaton highway.

Charter Service Planned

Charter service to the people will be started after July 1, Haas said, adding that a plane can be chartered to go "anywhere at any time." Reservations can be made through the Lubbock hotel or at the office at the field. The service now has one charter plane and three trainers. More will be added as soon as they can be obtained, he said. Breedlove is also the distributor for Taylorcraft airplanes.

The service intends also to have ground school instructions with classes in the afternoon and evening.

Both Haas and Breedlove have had many years experience in aviation, possessing all types of pilot and mechanic ratings as well as instructor's ratings.

Before coming here last month Haas was director of the Army liaison school at Lamesa. He began his flying career in 1919.

Breedlove has been active in aviation in Lubbock since 1930 and at one time was manager of the municipal airport here. Before the war he was connected with the Civil Aeronautics administration war training service.

Big Developments Point Up Week On Allied War Fronts

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Press War Analyst

The German high command was waging a seemingly losing battle against widening of the Anglo-American beachhead in France as the second invasion week-end pointed up striking events elsewhere on the global war front.

SIMPSON

The appearance in Japanese home skies of the B-29 super bombers had a definite grand strategy bearing on Allied hopes of cutting the struggle short against Japan as well as Germany.

Flying from bases in China the 29's broke all bomber records for distance and speed as well as striking power. Just how far they flew to accomplish their first major war mission is undisclosed. But the attack left Tokyo in no doubt that the Japanese home front is now vulnerable to repeated and devastating assaults from the air.

Infantry Still Is Queen

It is now being proved again in France, as it was in Russia and on every great battlefield in history, that the infantry still is the queen of battles. All the rest of the vast equipment of modern armies is designed to help the infantry do its decisive job.

There was something else under proof in Normandy at the week end. That was Nazi ability to contain the Allied bridgehead in France without resort to strategic reserves in men and planes.

Once the Normandy beach fronts are punctured in sufficient width and depth to set ashore powerful Allied armies and equipment it seems clear that the foe must either join battle with all he has soon or relinquish a huge segment of France.

While informal estimates from the front say up to a third of all German troops available in the west have been brought into action in Normandy, that probably means only tactical reserves.

It remains to be seen whether they will risk an ultimate stand or fall back sweepingly to interior and shortened and better articulated fronts.

Compromise Reached On Subsidy Payments

WASHINGTON, June 17 (AP) — Congress and the administration reached a compromise today in their long feud over the payment of subsidies to control retail food prices.

Senate and House conferees on the price control extension bill agreed upon provisions "freezing" the present $1,500,000,000 a year subsidy program until June 30, 1945, after which no subsidies could be paid except through direct appropriations by Congress.

Patriotism To Be Juneteenth Theme At Carver Heights

Patriotism will be the theme of local "Juneteenth" celebrators when they spend the entire day Monday making a house to house canvas for the sale of war stamps and bonds.

Observing their 81st year of freedom, after the emancipation proclamation issued by President Abraham Lincoln on Jan. 1, 1863, Texas negroes were not officially freed until June 19, 1863, by a special order issued by Gen. Gordon Granger who arrived in Texas on that date.

So in keeping with their freedom and war time America, no big time celebrations are planned and work will continue as usual.

As Perry Jackson, undertaker, expressed the mass opinion, "We're kinda letting it go by this year, so far as local celebrations are concerned. We wanta see everybody freed like we were, so our time will be spent in trying to raise money to get this thing over with."

Dr. J. A. Chatman, chairman of the bond committee, said that both Boy Scout troops will aid in the stamp and bond sale. At the opening rally at Booker T. Washington park Wednesday, $3,375 worth of bonds were sold, and in the past four days, $1,800 has been added to this amount. On this special "Juneteenth" day they hope to help Lubbock county go over the top in the Fifth War Loan drive.

German Robots

which had flooded up to their necks before they were rescued.

One missile exploded in a street, causing serious casualties. Anti-aircraft gunners had their first all-day workout since the battle of Britain.

Soon To Be Mastered

Capt. Harold H. Balfour, undersecretary of state for air, predicted in a speech that the Nazi weapon soon would be mastered.

Already a considerable proportion of the pilotless planes have been destroyed in the air by anti-aircraft fire, an authoritative British source said. The German high command said the British were putting up the greatest anti-aircraft barrage since the beginning of the war and the entire southeastern coast is like a "wall of fire."

Intensive counter-measures being used by Britain against the new weapon also may have prompted Hans Fritsche, a German radio commentator to observe "if anyone in Germany believes England can be blasted to pieces by the new weapon he is a fool."

RAF planes during the night pounded the Pas-de-Calais area after yesterday's assault by American heavy bombers in an effort to destroy the launching grounds of these robot planes. But perhaps the only effective remedy would be an Allied ground drive to clear the Germans off that coast.

But It's All "Assumed"

Even the German high command in announcing that London and southern England has been under fire from the weapon almost continuously since 11:40 p. m. Thursday night could only say that heavy damage "is assumed."

It is strictly a Nazi "revenge" weapon for use against the British civilian population, and is aimed at morale rather than military targets, despite broadcasts German claims of having done heavy damage to an Allied channel convoy.

Civilians have taken to wearing tin hats again, are grimly digging in the wreckage of homes for survivors and are swearing at Adolf Hitler. The comet-like bombs already are becoming commonplace, however, and in some cases when they are flying overhead the civilians have not bothered to take shelter.

Normandy Front

said an American column rolled through St. Jacques-de Nehou, four miles northwest of St. Sauveur and seven miles from the west coast, in a swift exploitation of German disorganization.

The two American divisions had heavy support from artillerymen. Whitehead said their fire already had effectively cut the west coast road.

Headquarters communique No. 24 issued just before midnight merely announced that "Allied forces have pushed deeper into Normandy" in gains which swept through St. Sauveur and reached the Vire-et-Vaute canal south of Isigny. Villages east and west of Tilly-Sur-Seulles on the British end of the front also were captured, it said.

Candidate Slate Is Completed

Saturday's deadline for filing requests for places on the official primary ballot was featured by the appearance of Eugene F. Mathis, Lubbock attorney, as candidate against hitherto-unopposed Syrian Marbut for the office of county attorney.

At the close at midnight of the filing period for county and precinct offices, L. C. Ellis, Lubbock county Democratic chairman, announced that only two candidacies were filed the final day—that of Mathis and Noble James for county surveyor.

Commissioner's Post

James D. Reed of Shallowater Friday filed for the office of commissioner, precinct 4, bringing the number of candidates for that post to five, according to Ellis.

The office of precinct 1 constable drew its first candidates in the past 10 days. They are George Jones, who has been a guard at one of the Army air fields here, and B. L. Wall.

Ellis said three candidates have filed for the job of public weigher at Slaton, and one candidate for the office of justice of peace, Slaton, precinct 2.

Marbut is present county attorney. County Surveyor A. L. Harris is not seeking re-election.

Slate For County

The present line-up of candidates for county and precinct offices, as given by Ellis, is as follows: (Names of candidates for Slaton precinct offices were not available).

State Representative (119th district)—Jack Douglas, George W. Neill, Preston E. Smith.

District Judge (99th judicial district)—G. V. Pardue, Homer L. Pharr.

District Courts Clerk — Mrs. Royal Furgeson.

Sheriff—Grady Harrist, J. Floyd Richardson, Charles D. Yates, Cap Moore, J. Woodson Boyd.

County Attorney — Syrian E. Marbut, Eugene F. Mathis.

County Judge—Walter Davies, George S. Bond, Briggs Robertson.

County Clerk—Ed D. Allen, re-election, Charles M. Gaddy.

County Treasurer — Winnie Coleman, re-election.

County Commissioner:

Precinct 1—Barrett Penney, re-election, Tom French.

Precinct 2—Ben Mansker, re-election.

Precinct 3—T. L. Holt, re-election.

Precinct 4—V. J. Farris, P. O. Brock, E. E. (Beefy) Ireland, Walter Walkup, Jim D. Reed.

Justice of Peace precinct 1, place 1—D. W. Robertson, C. E. Love, J. B. Walker.

Justice of Peace precinct 1, place 2—C. E. Lynn, W. H. Foster.

County Surveyor—Noble James.

Constable precinct 1—George Jones, B. L. Wall.

Connell Leases His Ranch To Stanolind

MIDLAND, June 17—Stanolind Oil & Gas company has acquired oil and gas rights on a 17,000-acre block in east Garza county, from G. W. Connell, Post. The property is the Connell ranch and is all in block 5, H&GN survey.

A bonus of $3 per acre was paid, and the deal is a 10-year commercial lease, with 50 cents per year rental. No test for oil is called for in the transaction, according to available information.

Union Oil Company of California has paid E. E. Wallace, Lubbock and Clairemont, bonus of $2 per acre for lease on 21,000 acres of ranch in west Kent county.

This is also a 10-year commercial lease, with 50 cents per annual rental. The Wallace property is partly in block 5, H&GN survey, and partly in block G, W&NW survey.

Recreation Set For Fathers And Sons

A recreation period for fathers and sons of the city will be held from 4 to 6 p. m. today in the Mackenzie State park, according to plans announced Saturday by the City Recreation department.

Ping-pong, checkers, horseshoe pitching, top spinning, dominoes, rope twirling, croquet and many other games have been planned in honor of the fathers and sons. Polk Robinson of Texas Technological college athletic department will be the master of ceremonies and announce the various events.

Fathers and sons are especially invited, but if your father or son is not here, you are asked to come enjoy the games, the recreation department announced.

104TH COMMENCEMENT

GEORGETOWN, Tex., June 18. (AP)—Bishop H. A. Boaz of Dallas, will be the baccalaureate speaker tomorrow and Bishop A. Frank Smith, Houston, will deliver the commencement address Monday at the 104th commencement exercises of Southwestern university. Both bishops are Southwestern alumni.

Advance On Saipan

tion are two miles inland from Saipan's western shore and the fighting line now skirts the western edge of Aslito airdrome which has a 3,600 foot fighter strip.

Drome Taken, But Lost

In the Friday push, forward American echelons drove into the naval air base at Aslito airdrome but later had to be withdrawn under severe enemy fire.

This is the second officially announced withdrawal under enemy pressure and highlights the ferocity of the struggle with the strong defending Jap force.

Carrier bombers and fighters supported the Friday offensive with bombing and strafing attacks on Jap positions.

In a dramatic single ship exploit, a World war 1 destroyer, converted into an attack troop transport, caught five Jap coastal cargo ships Thursday and sank all of them.

Ships of this destroyer transport type carry light guns and automatic anti-aircraft weapons.

29 Survivors Taken

Twenty-nine survivors of the enemy ships were picked up and made prisoners. This makes the total of 201 survivors from Jap ships made prisoners since the battle of Saipan started a week ago in softening up carrier attacks.

A total of 21 Nipponese ships of all types have been sunk.

Capture of the village of Himashisu north of Aslito airdrome put American forces nearest the east shore in their drive to sweep the Japs from Saipan's southern half which is rolling canefield country.

Himashisu is about in the center of the island's narrowest area and lies about two miles west of the steep shore of Magicienne bay.

Held Town and Airstrip

Before Friday's forward push, American forces already had captured the sugar mill town of Charan-Kanoa airstrip along the western beach.

Admiral Nimitz in an earlier communique which dealt with the Guam bombardment also reported a series of air strikes against the Kuriles during which the enemy sent up fighter interceptors.

Wednesday night, Japanese torpedo planes attempted to attack an aircraft carrier force supporting the invasion but were driven off without damage to any American ships.

The heavy bombardment of Guam, former American naval base 116 miles south of Saipan, was carried out Thursday.

The Japanese on Saipan were facing a determined invasion Army of U. S. Marines supported by elements of an Army division. The Yanks were driving toward Aslito airdrome after partly overcoming murderous Japanese mortar fire.

Mortars Hard Hit

The mortars, favorite Japanese weapons, appeared to have been hard hit by naval and artillery shells.

Forced to withdraw in some sectors in the initial phases of the fierce fighting near their beachheads, the hard-hitting Yanks finally consolidated their positions and, aided by naval and air bombardments, advanced northward. They took the sugar-mill town of Charan-Kanoa and its airstrip after street battling and brought Garapan, chief town on Saipan, under American artillery fire.

Aero Service Buys Bi-Motored Plane

Purchase of a Johnson "Rocket" bi-motor low-wing six-passenger monoplane by the Lubbock Aero Service was announced Saturday by Bob Walker, manager.

The new plane will be powered by two 220-horsepower Lycoming engines and have a cruising speed of 210 miles an hour. Its gasoline cruising range will be 1,000 miles. The ship is designed to operate with a single engine permitting continued flight in the event of engine failure.

Fully equipped with all modern flying instruments, a two-way radio with loop and especially designed for night flying, the plane will carry a payload of 2,000 pounds of express, mail passengers and baggage.

The plane has a retractable tricycle landing gear.

It is to be delivered within 90 days and will be used in charter flights featured by the service, Walker said.

Texas Bond Sales Total 55 Million

DALLAS, June 17. (AP)—Fifth War Loan war bond sales in Texas reached a total of $55,088,424.50 as of yesterday, State Chairman Nathan Adams of the War Finance committee of Texas, announced today. This is 11.9 per cent of Texas' over-all quota.

Individual purchases totaled $35,466,829.50, or 15 per cent of the quota for individulas. Series E sales were $22,164,106.25, or 17.7 per cent of the series E quota.

BRITISH REJECTED PLANE

LONDON, June 17 (U.P.)—British Aircraft Designer F. G. Miles revealed today the British government in 1942 rejected a design for a pilotless plane on the grounds that it was an "indiscriminate" weapon and could be used to wage warfare upon civilians.

Negroes Outline Juneteenth Fete

Lubbock and Slaton negroes Saturday announced plans for "Juneteenth" celebrations Monday.

Booker T. Washington park will be the scene of activities of local negroes as they observe the anniversary of their emancipation. Peanut relay races, volleyball, tennis, horseshoe pitching and other sports will be played from 3:30 o'clock, according to plans announced by Dr. J. A. Chatman, celebration chairman.

Every negro family who plans to attend is requested to bring a box of food for the supper "spread."

Association Drive

At 8:30 o'clock there will be drive to obtain additional local membership for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. Following will be a program of music and speeches. Speakers were announced as E. W. Criglar, pastor of New Hope Baptist church, Dr. C. H. Lyons, dentist, and Charles Sedberry, president of the Carver Heights Chamber of Commerce.

At Slaton, a program will be started at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon in the auditorium of the Slaton colored school. The school principal will talk on, "From Slavery to American Citizenship." Barbecue and soft drinks will be on sale, and at 4 o'clock a round of softball games will get under way.

Landing On Elba

to swiftly advancing Fifth Army troops yesterday. The city, nearly 100 airline miles from Rome, is a road junction and site of German air fields.

British Eighth Army troops drove 12 miles north of Orvieto and occupied Monteleone, about 45 miles east of Grosseto. A bit farther east, armored elements pushing north from Todi reached a point 13 miles south of Perugia, reported held by the Germans in some strength.

Other Units Surge On

About 35 miles to the east of the Orvieto sector, other Eighth Army troops surged through Spoleto, Trevi and Foligno on highway three. Montefalco was also reported to have fallen in this drive.

In the Adriatic sector, the British made contact with partisan forces already in possession of Teramo, 15 miles from the coast and 30 miles northwest of Jescara.

These advances placed the Allied line about 70 miles from Pisa and Florence in the west and central sectors and roughly 100 miles from the eastern anchor of the German defense line at Rimini. The Nazis may attempt a stand along this line. There still was no indication of any determined Nazi stand before they reach the prepared position, for which they appeared to be salvaging all possible strength.

Rail and road bridges in the Florence-Pisa-Bologna area were attacked by medium bombers, and fighters ripped roads, rail lines, bridges, motor transport and rolling stock there, the Allied communique said.

70 Planes Destroyed

The Mediterranean air force took a heavy toll of enemy craft in widespread attacks, destroying 70 at a cost of 12 heavy bombers and nine other planes. In addition, fighters attacked enemy concentrations in Yugoslavia, destroying a large number of motor vehicles.

The Fifth Army was expected to take quick advantage of its capture of Grosseto by using the air facilities there for attacks on Nazi-prepared positions in the northern Apennines, whose foothills touch Florence, Pisa and Livorno. The latter, just below Pisa on the coast, is an important naval base.

The Fifth Army alone thus far was credited with capture of 21,000 prisoners.

Elba, which has a population of 33,700, according to the 1930 census, is the site of extensive iron ore deposits. It is about 18 miles long, and lies about five miles southwest of Piombino on the Italian mainland.

French Sabotage

Much Rail Damage

The Allied communique said the guerrillas had destroyed bridges and trains and derailed at least 70 locomotives in 12 days.

Telephone and telegraph communications have been severely hampered and many acts of sabotage have been carried out against electric transformer stations, it said, adding that it was neither possible nor desirable to enumerate all the many effective acts of destruction.

The communique concluded that "the Army of the French forces of the interior" was "playing its assigned role in the battle of liberation."

Gallup Poll

would like your party to include in its party platform for the coming presidential election?"

Tabulation of the replies given to field reporters in this survey emphasizes one fact of particular interest: Republican voters give far more attention to domestic problems than to international problems. Three out of every four suggestions made deal with home front problems.

Suggestions Listed

Here are the suggestions—in addition to the obvious pledge of support for the war—given by Republican voters to field reporters for the Gallup Poll in all parts of the U. S.:

1. Republican voters would have one plank of the Republican party platform include a pledge to eliminate wasteful, non-war spending, and to pare down the total tax bill. In line with this, they feel the Republican party should pledge the elimination of numerous non-war bureaus now functioning in Washington. This emphasis upon curtailed spending is consistent with other poll findings showing government extravagance and increased taxes to be high on the list of public worries.

2. Also in line with earlier polls is the suggestion that a plank of the Republican platform urge stricter control of labor unions. The public has expressed concern time and again in surveys over what it terms "coddling of labor." If the Republican voters had their way, the GOP would pledge putting a stop to wartime strikes, urging more responsible labor union leadership and incorporating unions.

3. Voters would also have the platform stress that steps be taken to avoid post-war depression and unemployment, that jobs be provided for all after the war, especially returning soldiers, and that bonuses for soldiers and aid for disabled veterans be provided for. This suggestion also reflects earlier opinion studies. Aside from purely military concerns, post-war employment has been found to be one of the chief worries of the public.

Oppose Federal Control

4. Republican voters would furthermore have their party come out against any extension of federal control, and pledge to a cutting down on federal control whenever possible.

5. In line with the thinking of the vast majority of U. S. citizens, Republican voters favor cooperation with other nations in enforcing peace through some sort of world union after this war. They would include this in the Republican party platform.

6. A majority of Republican voters have shown themselves in earlier Gallup surveys to favor a two-term presidential limitation by constitutional amendment. This finds reflection in the suggestion that the Republican party adopt a plank limiting all presidents to two terms in the future.

Halsey Designated As Chief Of Third Fleet

WASHINGTON, June 17. (AP) — Adm. William Halsey, jr., today was given the job he wants—a fighting command in the war against the Japanese.

The 61-year-old battler who drove the Japanese from the South Pacific and thereby worked himself out of an assignment as commander of the South Pacific forces, was designated officially as "commander of the Third Fleet."

That designation sounds like an administrative job, but isn't. Actually it means that "Bull" Halsey will have a fleet of his own to lambast the Japanese whom he hates violently.

Halsey commanded naval forces throughout the long months of fighting that ended with elimnation of the Japanese in the Solomon islands and complete naval control of the South Pacific area.

The first step in any great amphibious invasion operation is the marshalling of ships of every tonnage and description.

Congratulations To:

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Hargrove of McAdoo on birth of a son weighing 9 pounds 6 ounces at 11:20 o'clock Saturday night in St. Mary's hospital. Hargrove is a farmer.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Crenshaw, jr., 3320 Twenty-first street, on birth of a son, Charles C. Crenshaw, III, at 9:30 a. m. Saturday at the Lubbock General hospital. The father is at Sheppard field.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Thurman, 414 Hub Homes, on birth of a daughter weighing 8 pounds 12 ounces, at 1:25 p .m. Saturday in the home, Porter-Sistrand clinic reported. The father is a civilian employe of Lubbock Army Air field.

Training units and band from Texas Technological college; ROTC and ASTRP units, also from Tech; wearers of the Order of the Purple Heart, in cars; and West Texas Recruiting and Induction station personnel and equipment, including representatives of the Army, Navy and Marine recruiting officers.

Gold Star Mothers

Over the reviewing stand in front of Lubbock hotel were Gold Star Mothers, honor guests of the occasion. Present were Mmes. Guy Gilson, O. W. Coats, Dora Breedlove, C. R. Hensley, L. S. Mast, Owen Berry, H. S. Denton, J. O. Stone, all of Lubbock; Mrs. P. J. Sneed of Petersburg, and Mrs. A. F. Reese of Shallowater. Mrs. Henry N. Lawson and Mrs. Robert Coble, both of Lubbock, wives of men killed in action, also were in the balcony stand.

Lubbock's three national banks, First, Lubbock and Citizens, and the First Federal Savings and Loan association opened at 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon for business exclusively devoted to sale of war bonds.

Sharp acceleration of buying was reported by some of the institutions, and drive officials said their appreciation. Reports of bond buying totals will be released this week.

NO SHIPBUILDING CUTBACK

WASHINGTON, June 17. (U.P.)—War Shipping Administrator Emory S. Land promised today there would be not cutback in the Maritime commission's ship building program and said rumors to this effect now being circulated were aimed at "sabotaging the ship-building program at the most crucial point in the war."

M. H. Cummins Dies In Hospital Here

M. H. Cummins, 63, of Hale Center, died yesterday afternoon at the Lubbock General hospital where he had been brought earlier in the day.

Mr. Cummins had been living in the vicinity of Muleshoe and Hale Center for about 14 years. He is survived by a brother, Lige Cummins of Gainesville; three sisters, Mrs. Fannie Pitcock of Denton, Mrs. Leona Pitcock and Mrs. Alice Brown, both of Gainesville; four sons, R. L. Cummins of Lubbock, J. C. Cummins of Bailey county, N. R. Cummins of Hale county and C. W. Cummins of Camp Barkeley, Abilene; one daughter, Mrs. Roy Jones of Muleshoe; nine grand children and one greatgrand child.

Rix Funeral home announced that definite funeral arrangements have not been made.

News Briefs

Lt. Hugh L. Huff, who is stationed in Massachusetts, and Miss Dona Huff, of Amarillo, arrived in Lubbock Saturday to visit their parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Huff, Avenue T and Thirty-ninth street. Lt. Huff is an instructor of pilots for Superfortresses.

S/Sgt. Oliver Thomas, of Lowry field, Denver, former Lubbock resident, visited Saturday with E. I. Shelton and J. N. Fleming, who are associated with a local typewriter repair service. The trio formerly worked together. Sgt. Thomas, who is training to be a flight engineer, was en route to Austin to visit relatives.

Three Attacks Repulsed

The Americans began this enveloping movement toward their second objective, Borokoe airdrome, after repulsing three tank-supported counter attacks Thursday.

In aerial forays Thursday, 68 tons of bombs were dropped on Truk, naval base in the Caroline islands, and 100 tons blasted airdromes at Rabaul, New Britain. The Truk raid, at midday, stirred aloft 15 interceptors. One was shot down. American planes also attacked Palau and Yap islands, key Nipponese bases southwest of the invaded Marianas.

CANDIDATE FOR COUNTY JUDGE OF LUBBOCK COUNTY

Formerly for two terms County Judge of Crosby County. Since 1937 in active practice of law in Lubbock.

Pd. Pol. Adv.

ELECT

G. V. PARDUE

Judge Of The 99th District Court

HE IS THOROUGHLY QUALIFIED IN EVERY RESPECT

G. V. Pardue was admitted to the Bar in June 1913, and has since that time been actively engaged in the practice of law. Having acted as an attorney in cases in which almost every proposition of law has been involved. His trial record speaks of his ability as an attorney.

HIS RECORD AS COUNTY JUDGE

During the three and one half years he has been County Judge he has disposed of approximately three thousand cases, which means almost three for each working day. He has registered over two thousand birth certificates. And under his supervision there has been handled more than three thousand cases of Juvenile delinquency. It has been his ambition to build character, he has ever been painstaking and careful with the child.

COURT RECORD

There have been very few cases appealed from his court, which testifies of his fairness.

WAR EFFORTS

He has been active in the support of the general war effort, ever giving of his already crowded time, and striving to see that the general public was kindly and courteously treated by those agencies that they might come in contact with.

ELECTION PROMISE

He has only one promise to make, and that is that he will be on the job at all times as a servant of the people.

A vote for G. V. Pardue for Judge of the 99th District Court is a vote for efficiency, economy and fair dealing.

SOLD ---But Not Sold
Last week we thought we had this 4 rooms and bath FHA cottage sold, but the party buying it was transferred. We asked $4,850.00 but cut the price some due to the house needing paint and paper. The master bedroom is 13x15 and there is an attached garage that could be converted into another room. The way other properties are selling, we believe this to be a good value. Located in 2400 block 24th street and now vacant. We have the key. Oh yes, the house is insulated too.

Truck Drivers In 8 States To Strike

CHICAGO, June 17 (U.P.)—More than 20,000 over-the-road truck drivers in eight midwestern states will strike July 1, the central state drivers council of the AFL Teamsters union announced today.

Dexter Lewis, director of the council, said the strike would tie up inter-city truck shipments in the area immediately after it began and would indirectly affect 250,000 truckers within a few days. It probably will extend to states outside of the region, he said.

The strike was a result of the failure of 112 major trucking operators in the 12 states to comply with a War Labor board directive of last Feb. 7, which granted the drivers a 12 per cent wage increase, Lewis said, and will be called off if the Midwest Operators association, which represents the operators, agrees to comply with the order. The operators had announced their intention to defy the order, which gave the drivers a seven-cent-hourly increase.

The strike will begin in Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, Missouri, the Dakotas, Nebraska and Kansas, Lewis said, and another 20,000 drivers in Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and Michigan will be affected within a week. If the strike should last, he said, trans-shipments passing through these states will be rerouted or halted.

The average price of wine in England in the twelfth century was a penny a gallon.

Post-Invasion Boom On

NEW YORK, June 17. (AP)—The stock market's post-invasion boom continued at full speed yesterday under a new wave of buying that sent the Associated Press 60-stock composite to the highest figure recorded since late 1937.

With volume at 1,064,480 shares, first million-share Saturday since December, 1941, many leading industrials and rails extended the week's advances by fractions to around 2 points.

The carrier stocks were uniformly strong. Steels, farm equipments, copper and specialties were nearly as good. Chrysler showed another gain and Douglas, up 2¾ points, was the strongest of the aircrafts.

At its closing level of 55.2 the 60-stock average was up .3 of a point on the day and up 2.2 points on the week for the widest six-day rise since early January, 1943.

Bonds had some strong points, particularly among rails. Chicago wheat closed ½ cent lower to ¾ cent a bushel higher. Cotton futures advanced 10 to 40 cents a bale.

The broad character of demand reflected confidence of an early victory over Germany, a confidence which was later bulwarked by the bombing of Yawata and other heavy attacks on Japanese positions.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, June 17 (AP) — Cotton futures advanced here today on trade buying and short covering. Closing prices were steady, 15 to 35 cents a bale higher.

Nude, Stabbed Body Of Woman Is Found

MONTGOMERY, Ala., June 17 (AP)—The nude body of the 19-year-old bride of an Army Air force cadet, stabbed more than 20 times, was found in a drainage ditch near her residence last night.

Coroner M. B. Kirkpatrick said the woman, Mrs. Ester Drew, had been stabbed with a long knife, probably 24 hours before discovery of her body, but whether she had been assaulted had not been determined.

Kirkpatrick quoted Air Cadet Lynn Drew, her husband, of Maxwell field, as saying he last saw his bride at Maxwell Thursday afternoon. Discovery of the body climaxed a search of several hours started when the cadet reported he was alarmed over his wife's failure to show up at their rooms.

Near the home, a bloody handkerchief was found, and other traces led to the nearby drainage ditch, partially filled with water.

An investigation disclosed, Dr. Kirkpatrick said, that a purse containing $50—which her husband had given her late Thursday after cashing his monthly check—was missing, along with other valuables. Her clothing was found scattered about in the vicinity of the ditch bank.

City's Girls Enlist As Boys Killed, Wounded

DOBBS FERRY, N. Y., June 17. (AP)—There's no gap left in the ranks of the Army when a Dobbs Ferry boy is killed or wounded. His place is taken by a home town girl joining the WACS.

"About six months ago," Vicky Armacida, who enlisted in the WACS yesterday, said, "some of us girls got together and decided that every time one of our boys was wounded or killed, one of us would join up."

She said she was taking the place of Pvt. Sam Flippo, killed in April.

Brief Filed By Fourth Termers

AUSTIN, June 17. (AP) — Pro-Roosevelt Democrats contended in a brief filed in the supreme court today that the regular convention's action in only conditionally binding its presidential electors to vote for the national party nominees, morally and legally released the Roosevelt group from being bound by the convention's action.

The brief was filed in a suit by which the pro-Roosevelt forces seek to force the state Democratic executive committee to print the names of electors chosen by the rump convention on the primary ballot. It was filed by Alvin J. Writz, James V. Allred, Herman Jones and nine other attorneys.

It contended, among other things, that the suit seeks the enforcement of legal rights, that the office of presidential elector is a state office and candidates of the Democratic party for it must be chosen in a primary election.

Oral arguments will be heard by the state supreme court Monday.

The pro-Roosevelt faction is asking the court to issue a writ of mandamus compelling the state Democratic executive committee to list the names of the electors named at their rump convention June 23. These electors were pledged to vote for the party's nominees, but those named by the regularly-constituted convention were only conditionally pledged.

The supreme court agreed to accept jurisdiction with the stipulation that the 23 electors named by the regular convention also be made parties to the suit.

House Refuses Veto Power For Warren

WASHINGTON, June 17. (AP)—The House overwhelmingly defeated on a voice vote today a proposal to give Comptroller General Lindsay Warren veto power over settlements of terminated war contracts.

The action was on a bill offered by Chairman May (D-Ky) of the military committee as a substitute for a judiciary committee bill blueprinting the method of settling contracts. May's proposal would have given the comptroller general, Congress' auditor, pre-auditing powers.

Defeat of the May plan paved the way for passage later today of the judiciary measure, which sets up a contract settlement director and an advisory board to work out settlement and gives Warren authority to audit payments only to determine whether there has been fraud or whether the terms of the settlement have been adhered to.

The judiciary bill is similar in most respects to legislation already passed by the Senate along lines recommended last February by Bernard M. Baruch and John M. Hancock.

Bond Auction Is Set This Week

Lubbock county's Fifth War Loan drive moves into its second week Monday with rallies scheduled in two rural communities and a bond auction slated for next Saturday night on the courthouse square.

The community rallies will be conducted at Becton Wednesday night and Roosevelt school Friday night.

The bond auction, at which scarce and rationed articles will be auctioned off, is being sponsored by the Lubbock Junior Chamber of Commerce and will be conducted at 8 o'clock next Saturday night on the courthouse square.

Rare Items Offered

Such items as an automobile tire and tube, kodak films, alarm clocks, cigars, silk hosiery, luggage, wrist watches and other merchandise will be auctioned off to the highest bidder in bonds for each item. Kenneth Bozeman, popular autcioneer, will have charge of the auction and music will be furnished by bands from Lubbock Army Air field and South Plains Army Air field.

All of the items to be auctioned have been donated by Lubbock merchants. The Jaycee committee is anxious to secure other articles for the auction and donations may be made by calling Frank Bando at 2-3631. Additions to the list of merchandise will be announced as they are received.

Roy Boyd, rural area chairman for the drive, announced Saturday that Randal T. Miller, chaplain at LAAF, and Durwood H. Bradley would make the principle talks at the rural rallies.

Speak At Rural Schools

They will speak Wednesday night at Becton and Friday night at Roosevelt. Frank Bledsoe is chairman at Becton, Douglas Pounds at Roosevelt. Boyd said co-chairmen at Roosevelt were: J. F. Proctor, J. W. Alspaugh, and C. C. Sherrod, and that the following program features had been added for the Roosevelt rally: "Battle of Tarawa," motion picture to be shown by Marine corps recruiters of Lubbock; and Joyce Halsey and her Drugstore Cowboys, musicians.

Naming of a Fifth War Loan drive committee at Texas Technological college—reputedly the first time the campus has employed its own committee on such a drive—was reported Saturday afternoon by Ray C. Mowery, chairman.

It consists of Jack Powers, Dr. E. L. Reed, Dr. S. S. McKay, Dr. J. T. Shaver, Miss Vivian Johnson, Dr. W. B. Gates, Morley Jennings, Maj. Frank Hangs, and Dr. J. William Davis.

Yank, Nazi Fight To Death In War-Ruined Beauty Spot

By KENNETH L. DIXON
Associated Press Staff Writer

WITH THE AEF IN ITALY, June 4 (Delayed)—There is a little glade in the Alban hills that must have been a pleasant place to know before the war rolled over it. An old style Connecticut stone fence runs along its left bank and there is deep shade for a hundred yards from the short-leafed vine that comes down from the slope and holds the scene together.

DIXON

You have to climb the fence before you see the stream, a deep cleft in a rocky crevice. At best it is three feet wide and not more than 18 inches in depth, but the water runs very fast and very cool and it is certain that for generations people have come to this spot to relax and get away from the heat of the long Italian afternoons.

Beauty Sapped By War

It is not so lovely now. The stone fence has been mutilated by mortar fire and the shade trees have been half shot down by the inexorable crush of artillery and the earth is torn and wounded so that it can never be quite the same again.

It was here that one of the most melancholy and futile and yet perhaps valorous single actions of the entire Italian campaign was fought.

It was fought by just two men and when I walked into the glade the men were still there — both dead. One was an American and the other German and the evidence pointed surely to a mortal duel which destroyed both, yet exemplified the high type of devotion to duty that is something quite aside from the suicidal fanaticism practiced by the Japanese.

Clutches Machine Pistol

The German was lying with his feet to the little stream and with his head toward the center of the clearing. He lay on his left side with a machine pistol caught loosely in his arms and his right hand had relaxed only a little from the trigger guard so that you knew he died trying.

Head on toward him and less than 10 feet away lay the American. The German machine pistol had killed him as surely as a grenade from the dying American's hand had torn the life out of the German.

When they fell, and it must have been simultaneously, they didn't let it go at that. They still tried to get at each other. You could tell this by the signs on the earth, by the trails their bodies had left in the pine needles as they dragged themselves forward in their last efforts to get at each other and finish the business with their knives, or even with their hands if necessary.

I don't know why this scene affected me so strongly. Maybe it's because my heart is with the infantry. They go in day after day against the bitter hurdles that shape up one after another in a long campaign and in their hearts they know the dice are against them.

I was there when the aide men came and took the American and German away. I saw the American's dogtag and some of the things he carried in his pockets. I made a note of them. Someday when the war is over I want to write a letter to a young man who is now only three years old. I sort of think he'd like to know how his old man died.

Busiest Women Are Ones Who Find Time To Fold Bandages

Usually the busiest women in Lubbock — those who do their own housework and care for their own children — are the ones who find time to go to the Red Cross production rooms for folding bandages.

And it is not always women with sons, husbands, brothers and sweethearts fighting on the beaches of France, in the skies all over the world and in the jungles of Pacific islands who give the most time to this all-important job.

A trip to the production rooms at 1605 Avenue J Friday revealed these unusual facts about Red Cross workers.

Mrs. R. L. Stephenson, who was in charge of the room for the day, said she could not explain why some women with men in service did not answer the call for volunteer workers, but she said she had heard several of them say that they felt they had already done their part. They had given their husbands, or sons or brothers.

Called Poor Logic

The supervisor thinks this is poor logic because in most cases the decision of giving up their men was not in their hands. Uncle Sam took them.

But there are hundreds of Lubbock women who realize the need for Red Cross workers and they have given their time freely. In fact, so many have responded to the call that the June and July quota, the largest ever received by the chapter, is expected to be reached by the end of this week if the workers continue to come.

Upon completion of the quota the rooms will be closed for repairs and the installation of an air conditioner. Two of the rooms already have cooling facilities and it is hoped that the other rooms can be made equally as comfortable.

One busy housewife must have voiced the opinion of many volunteer workers these days when she said, "What I do at home is usually important for the welfare of my family, but this is even more important now."

Sunday Concert To Be Given At USO By Sinfonietta

First of a series of musical programs by the Lubbock Army Air field Sinfonietta will be presented at the Lubbock USO this afternoon at 5:30 o'clock.

T/Sgt. Attilio Poto is conductor of the Sinfonietta and Lt. Richard H. Chamberlain, assistant personnel officer and assistant adjutant, will be guest soloist, singing two groups of favorite songs.

All men in uniform and guests are invited to attend the musical session.

The program follows:

10. Blue Danube ..... Strauss

Sgt. Poto was formerly with the Metropolitan orchestra and was conductor of the Massachusetts State Orchestra in Boston.

Charm School To Continue

Second and final week of the Charm school being conducted for wives of officer candidates will get underway Monday at 11 a. m. when Capt. James A. Eldridge talks on "Whys and Wherefores of Military Customs." His talk will be followed by a coffee with Mrs. A. B. Davis, Mrs. J. E. Vickers and Mrs. Chas. A. Guy, hostesses. Girls from the Junior High and Senior High school homemaking classes will assist with refreshments and table decorations.

Highlight of the school, which is sponsored by the Tech Council of Women Graduates and the USO, was a style show presented Friday morning at the USO. Mrs. James A. DeMarco gave an informative talk on the correct dress for all occasions and illustrated her style notes by presenting a group of models. The appropriate dress for morning coffees, luncheons, afternoon teas, informal and formal receptions, dinner engagements and dancing were modeled by wives of officers of South Plains Army Air field.

Mrs. DeMarco was assisted in presenting the revue by her mother, Mrs. Victoria Zoble of New York, who owns a fashion shop. Models were Mrs. J. N. Huttig, Mrs. Martin Mayer, Mrs. R. P. Stewart, Mrs. George L. Richards, Mrs. D. L. Hopkins, Mrs. E. F. O'Conner, Mrs. R. J. Gamalski and Mrs. Chester Williams.

Wednesday's class will feature Miss Frances Urban, who is to speak on "Being a Financial Success," and Capt. Thomas J. Sabetta, who is to stress the importance of being well informed about necessary papers and allotments.

To Conclude Friday

Final class will be Friday when Mrs. Ralph E. Holmes speaks on military receptions. A reception will be held with Mrs. J. H. Stiles, Mrs. Thomas J. Sabetta and Mrs. Thomas Potter, hostesses.

Members of the Junior High school homemaking class who have been in charge of the charm school nursery are Alpha Merrell, Marilyn Wilgus, Fern Duncan, Patricia Rankin and Norma Sue Burkhalter.

Saturday night USO frolic will be a formal dance with the SPAAF Swing band providing the music. The 5 o'clock party and buffet supper will be sponsored by the Lubbock County Home Demonstration club.

All service men who are interested in a camera club are asked to meet with Cpl. Wright at the USO Tuesday at 8:30 p. m.

Activities Scheduled At Community Center

In addition to the regular program held at the Community center each week, a picnic will be given Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock at Mackenzie State park. The Art and Needle club and the Bible study group will be in charge. Next Sunday at 3 p. m. an old time singing for children and adults will be held at the center.

Other activities scheduled are as follows: Monday, 4 p. m., Girl Scouts, Mrs. John Powers, leader; Tuesday, 3:30 p. m., Good News club, Mrs. W. M. Gaston, supervisor, for children 7 to 13 years of age; Wednesday, 2 p. m., Art and Needle club, Mrs. D. M. Davis, chairman, Mrs. L. T. Kelso, co-chairman; Wednesday 3:30 p. m., Bible study, Mrs. L. H. Collins, chairman, Mrs. Cleo Keith, teacher, nursery open from 2 to 5 p. m. for children from a few months to 5 years of age, Mrs. C. C. Longabaugh, chairman; Friday, 8 p. m., open house for junior and senior high school ages, Mrs. Charles Ross, chairman.

Bill To Commission Women Pilots Set

WASHINGTON, June 17. (U.P.)—Speaker Sam Rayburn said today that legislation to commission women airforce pilots will be taken up by the House some time next week.

It was originally scheduled to come to the floor yesterday, but was postponed because of other legislation.

The WASP bill, requested by Gen. H. H. Arnold, chief of the Army Air forces, would give women pilots the same benefits and privileges of male Army flight officers, and also provides for expansion of the WASP program.

CONTRACT APPROVED

WASHINGTON, June 17. (U.P.)—A contract for the sale of power from the Denison dam project to the Texas Power and Light Co. has been approved by the federal power commission, it was learned today. The $50,000,000 dam, located on the Red river at the Texas-Oklahoma border, was completed early this year, and its generating equipment is now undergoing tests preparatory to actual power production.

ABOUT FATHERS

ONE father is more than a hundred schoolmasters — Herbert, 1640.

Like father, like son. — Latin proverb.

Honor thy father and thy mother; that thy days may be long upon the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee.—Exodus.

Nothing is dearer to an old father than a daughter. Sons have spirits of higher pitch, but they are not given to fondness. — Euripides.

Lucile Read Is Ensign's Bride

The marriage of Miss Lucile Read, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Read, 2619 Twenty-first street, to Ensign Hardy Dean Redus, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Redus of Hamlin, was solemnized Saturday, June 3, at 12 o'clock noon at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Henry W. Austin in Saunderstown, Rhode Island. Rev. Ralph J. Seguine, jr., pastor of First Baptist church in Wickford, R. I., officiated with a double ring ceremony before a bridal arrangement of laurel.

Mrs. L. Gardiner, organist, played the traditional wedding marches, and Mrs. A. J. Thompson, sister of the bride, sang "O Promise Me." During the ceremony the organist offered "Indian Love Call," a tradition at weddings of members of Tech Ko Shari social club.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white duchess satin gown designed with sweetheart neckline and long fitted sleeves. The full skirt merged into a sweeping train. A Juliet cap of satin cording held in place her veil of illusion. Her only ornament was a slender chain from which hung a sunburst of seed pearls, an heirloom. She carried a white prayer book topped with a gardenia and showered with bouvardia.

Lt. (j.g.) Henry W. Austin served as best man.

Jane Hill, Dr. A. Thaggard Marry In Dallas Saturday

THE marriage of Miss Jane Hill, daughter of Lt. Col. and Mrs. Joe M. Hill of Dallas, and Dr. Alvin Thaggard, jr., of Dallas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Thaggard of Nacogdoches, was solemnized at 8:30 o'clock Saturday night at East Dallas Christian church.

Dr. L. N. D. Wells and Rev. Patrick Henry, jr., officiated at the ceremony before a background of huckleberry, white gladioli and magnolia softly illumined by white cathedral tapers in floor standards. T. E. Shepherd sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly," accompanied by Mrs. E. R. Brooke, organist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a traditional gown of ivory slipper satin, designed with high round neckline and long fitted sleeves. The deep sheer yoke was outlined with tiny seed pearls and the full skirt swept into a graceful trajn. Her fingertip veil of imported bridal illusion fell from a calot of lace. She carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid and cascade of stephanotis.

In Bridal Party

Mrs. Coleman McMahan of Newburgh, N. Y., sister of the bride, was matron of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Edyth Thaggard, Nacogdoches, sister of the bridegroom, and Misses Nance McFarland, Mary Jo Anderson and Betty Mae Wyatt, Dallas. They wore identical bouffant gowns fashioned with sweetheart necklines and self bands accenting the fitted midriffs. They wore garden flowers in their hair and carried bouquets of flame gladioli.

Dr. Capres Hatchett was best man and groomsmen were Lt. Joe M. Hill, jr., and Drs. Robert Whitson, S. W. Lehmburg and D. W. Ferguson.

A reception followed at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Gordon M. McFarland. The four-tiered cake was decorated with lilies of the valley, white orchids and roses and topped with a miniature bridal couple. An old-fashioned bouquet of gardenias was placed at one end of the table. Gardenias and daisies were throughout the house.

Mrs. S. J. McFarland presided at the bride's book. Assisting in the dining room were Mesdames Patrick Henry, jr., C. W. Gwinn, K. W. Hopkins, J. R. McFarland, John A. McFarland. In the house party were Mesdames R. M. and R. L. Hazlewood of Fort Worth and Mesdames James Jernigan, Merideth Hopkins and J. L. Copeland.

To Live In Dallas

After a short wedding trip, the couple will be at home in Dallas. The bride traveled in a True Blue suit of Bermuda doeskin with handpainted white blouse and a small brown hat. Her accessories were brown and she wore a white orchid corsage.

The bride, niece of Mrs. Walter P. Jennings of Lubbock, is a former student at Southern Methodist university where she was a member of Kappa Gamma sorority and is a graduate of Texas Technological college where she was a member of Las Chaparritas and Las Leales clubs and of the Forum.

Dr. Thaggard is a graduate of Stephen F. Austin Teachers college, Nacogdoches, and Southwestern Medical college, Dallas, where he was a member of Theta Kappa Psi and Theta Nu Epsilon fraternities. He is a reserve officer in the Army Medical corps.

Out-of-town guests included the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Thaggard, Mrs. A. W. Sharpe, Mrs. W. R. Hill and Miss Frances Gary, Fort Worth; Mrs. Durwood Mahon, Lubbock; Mrs. Holt Waldrep, Floydada and Mrs. Grady Shytles, Munday.

Pilgrimage Is Held By Club

Forty members of Lubbock Garden club went on the pilgrimage conducted by the club Friday morning. Gardens visited were those of Mesdames Dixie Lowe, 2802 Twenty-first street; Mrs. Walter Clark, 2711 Twenty-first street; Mrs. H. S. Weiss, 3412 Twenty-first street; Barney Cockburn, Levelland road; and W. L. Baugh, 1811 Thirteenth street, where the pilgrimage began.

Particular attention was paid to unusual varieties of plants in each of the gardens.

The homes of Mesdames Lowe and Clark were also open to the visitors. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Cockburn.

In charge were Mesdames W. B. Sides, Florence Hvass and Julius Johnson.

Woodward Book To Be Reviewed For Council

Mrs. L. O. Armstrong will review "The Way Our People Lived" (W. E. Woodward) for First Christian Woman's council at a meeting Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the church. Mrs. Elois Elliott will furnish music appropriate to the theme of the afternoon program. A tea will follow.

NEARS FINISH

Women who want to be in on the finish of the present quota of Red Cross surgical dressings are urged to come to the production rooms 1607 Avenue J, early this week. Approximately 4,000 dressings remain to be folded.

The rooms are open from 9:30 until 4:30 o'clock daily and from 7 until 10 o'clock Monday night.

Mesdames Rodgers, Tubbs Will Review

Mrs. E. L. Mader will be hostess to Tuesday Night Readers group at her home, 2218 Thirteenth street, at 8 o'clock for reviews to be given by Mesdames R. I. Tubbs and R. S. Rodgers. Mrs. C. C. Schmidt will be co-hostess.

Wedding At Church On Saturday

MISS May Vaughan Caswell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben V. Caswell, 2101 Thirty-first street, and A/C Andrew Everett Darling, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Darling of Kansas City, Mo., exchanged marriage vows at a service read Saturday at 7:15 o'clock in the evening at St. Paul's Episcopal church. Rev. John A. Winslow, rector, officiated with a single ring ceremony.

Baskets of white gladioli against a background of palms were illumined by tapers in candelabra. The altar vases contained white gladioli.

Cpl. Lawrence K. Hayford was organist and Lt. Richard H. Chamberlan sang "Because" and "I Love Thee." They are stationed at Lubbock Army Air field.

The bride wore a three-piece aqua gabardine suit with white accessories and a white orchid. She was given in marriage by her father.

Miss Mary Ann Caswell served as her sister's maid of honor. She wore a violet linen suit with white accessories. Miss Sue Murphy of Amarillo was bridesmaid. She wore a white suit. Both carried hand bouquets of gardenias and feverfew.

Edward Crane of Los Angeles was best man and Marvin Jackson of San Diego was groomsman. Ushers were George Jackson and Richard Bryant of Los Angeles.

The bride's and bridegroom's mothers wore black dresses with white accessories and corsages of gardenias.

Wedding guests were from Lubbock, Amarillo and Kansas City.

After a trip to New Mexico, the couple will be at home in California. Cadet Darling, a graduate of Tech aircrew detachment, is to begin his cadet training at Santa Ana. He attended the University of Kansas for four years, where he was a member of Delta Upsilon fraternity.

Mrs. Darling was a senior student at Texas State College for Women, Denton, this year. She holds memberships in M. E. B. club and National Collegiate players.

Shreveport Girl Weds Lt. J. C. Allensworth

Miss Elizabeth Lee Matthews, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Bruce Matthews, jr., of Shreveport, La., and Lt. John Catlett Allensworth, IV, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Allensworth, 1906 Sixteenth street, were married in Shreveport at the Noel Memorial Methodist church Saturday night at 8 o'clock. Rev. F. M. Freeman officiated.

Lt. Billy Allensworth, brother of the bridegroom, stationed in Columbus, Miss., and Mrs. Allensworth, the bridegroom's mother, attended the wedding.

The bride graduated from Byrd High school in Shreveport and attended Centenary college. She is now medical secretary in the Charity hospital in Shreveport. The bridegroom graduated from Lubbock High school and Texas Technological college. He received his doctor's degree at the University of Texas medical school in Galveston and took his internship at the Charity hospital in Shreveport. He will be stationed in Alabama.

Crawley-Eiland Service Is Read In Lamesa Methodist Church

LAMESA, June 17 — The marriage of Miss Peggy Eiland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Eiland, and Ensign William Robert Crawley, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Crawley, took place in the First Methodist church Monday night at 9 o'clock with Rev. David J. Murray of the First Presbyterian church officiating for the single ring ceremony.

The church was decorated with smilax and marconi daisies and white candles. Mrs. Matt McCall played traditional wedding marches and Schumann's "Traumerei" during the ceremony. She accompanied Miss Ernestine Gambill who sang "O Promise Me" and "Because."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a lovely gown of ivory slipper satin, designed with high round neckline and long fitted sleeves. The deep sheer yoke was delicately embroidered in silk braid and beads. Small satin buttons extended down the back of the elongated bodice and the very full skirt swept into a graceful train. Her veil was of illusion attached to a white satin calot. She carried a white prayer book topped with a white orchid and three smaller orchids on white satin streamers. For something old, the bride wore a gold brooch of diamonds and pearls belonging to her mother. She wore a six pence in her shoe for luck and carried a white hand embroidered sheer linen handkerchief which had been sent to her from Sicily by the bridegroom's brother.

Miss Eiland Is Attendant

Miss Sarah Eiland attended her sister as maid of honor and Mrs. John W. Palmore, jr., Bonham, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Misses Elwanda Gilbert, Lois McBride, Helen Cope and Marilyn Howsley, Albany. The attendants wore identical bouffant gowns of aqua marquisette, designed with high round necklines and bracelet sleeves. Pleated ruffles of the marquisette extended over the shoulder and panel front of the skirt and again around the hemline. They carried colonial bouquets of mixed flowers.

Helen Palmore, Bonham, and Sarah Simmons, Dallas, nieces of the bride, were flower girls.

W. K. Crawley served his son

Hello Everybody:

Being in a great big hurry last week, I rushed into the Studio and meant to rush right on back and find out in the shortest time possible just what the news was for the week, but no sooner had I got in the door than an "eye-catcher-o f-a-t a b l e" stopped me right off the bat. It's all set with scrumptious crystal—crystal service plates with turquoise laurel wreath, and fluted, crystal berry dishes. The salad plates are crystal, too, with simple little hand-p a i n t e d f l o wers in turquoise, mauve, and pale coral, and glasses and cocktales are plain except for decorated stem and laurel wreath around the top. For centerpiece, multi-colored flowers are floating in a transparent mauve-colered bowl with fluted edges. All of these lovely things are displayed on a pale pink cloth.

After waking from this dream, I rushed on back, but I hit something of an entirely different nature this time—it was huge stacks of dishes just scattered every where. Yup, those gals up there are still trying to move. Practically everything in the shop is being moved to a new spot and they're spreading out, too. Making room for all the new merchandise that's supposed to come in from California and New York in the very near future. In fact, Alma's already in the midst of that West Coast marketing (Just between you and me and the gate post, though, we're wondering if it could be that she's marketing for something more like Lt. Commander or dressy white uniforms) Anyway, we know she's getting just oodles of things for you to feast your eyes upon.

Hope all of you folks are having a pleasant day with your fathers on this, their day.

Until next week, so long, and don't forget those bonds.

Yours,
Grandpa Nosey.

We Owe More Than A Vote Of Thanks . . .

. . . to our Dads who are so earnestly fighting for freedom, be it at the front in khaki or navy blue or behind the lines in civies.

This Father's Day, June 18, is the time to buy him that extra war bond to help speed the day of VICTORY, to give him that present that will speak silent words of thanks, to show him by every action that his sacrifices have been appreciated. If Dad is not at home, cannot be reached, buy his bond, put it away to draw interest, and give it to him when he returns so that day will be a true Father's Day.

Social Security Benefit Payments In This Area Total More Than $6,000 Each Month

More than $6,000 is paid out monthly to retired workers over 65 years old in this area and their beneficiaries by the Social Security program, according to Erton F. Tate, manager of the Lubbock office of the Social Security board.

From this specific sum of $6,593.83, monthly benefits totaling 513 are distributed among 154 retired workers and 49 wives who are over 65 years old; 225 children of retired and deceased workers; 74 widows who have children in their care; nine aged widows, and two dependent parents over 65 years old. The maximum paid to any one family is $85 a month and minimum payments are $10, the amount payable depending upon the recipients wage earnings up to the time he is eligible. The poor generally will get much more than they and their employers have put in, and the man who makes $3,000 or more a year is likely to get less. A tax, levied on wages up to $3,000 a year, is paid by workers and employers to provide a fund from which benefits are paid.

The person in this area receiving the greatest benefits, said Mr. Tate, is a man who collects $42.80 monthly and his wife is eligible for $21.40, making a total of $64.20 for one family. This worker who paid $30 annually for seven years, $210 in social security taxes, was repaid his total investment in a few months.

Widow, Four Children

Another case concerned a widow and four children who were left with no visible means of support since her husband was unable to obtain insurance because of his health. Application for benefits from her husband's social security insurance, which she thought nonexistent, was made for the four children and the amount now received is $72. When the oldest child reaches the age of 18, the widow can file her claim and still receive the full payment.

Lump-sum payments are illustrated by the local case of a widow, not yet 65, who aplied for benefits and received a cash payment due her as beneficiary on her late husband's social security insurance. The next month she reached the age of 65, and became eligible for the old age insurance monthly benefits, administered by the federal government and payable from her husband's social security.

Dependent parent claims have increased since the war and will continue to do so, Tate said. The soldiers allotment is considered by the Social Security board as his personal contribution to his aged parents' support. If this soldier should die or be killed, his parents, if 65, would be eligible for monthly benefits, based on the wages their son was making in civilian life.

Social Security does not cover several large groups which include farmers, domestic servants, school teachers, ministers, the self employed, and workers in government service and religious and charitable organizations. When the time comes for you to collect old age insurance benefits, you must have worked in "covered" employment half the time since January 1, 1937, when Social Security started, or since your 21st birthday if that came on a later date. You will collect nothing at 65 unless you stop working then.

There is a balance of 4,837,140,000 in Social Security fund now, but no one seems to be sure how much money it will take to pay benefits as the pool of old persons entitled to them increases. Payments will increase tremendously when the war ends and it is estimated that 625,000 persons now entitled to benefits aren't claiming them. However, there is enough in the Social Security fund at the present time to pay out all requirements for the next five years, if nothing were added to this reserve.

Hollywood On The Loose...

Spittin' Image Of Ernie Pyle Sought For "G. I. Joe"

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, June 17. — Behind the screen: Every nook, corner and cranny of these United States seems to have a resident who is the spittin' image of Ernie Pyle. All are write-in candidates to play Pyle in "G. I. Joe," based on the columnist's book "Here Is Your War." The mailman dumps a sack of letters, snapshots and photos on Producer Lester Cowan's desk twice a day. One gentleman wrote that he is "45, weighs 112 pounds and is just as hungry-loking as Pyle."

ERNIE PYLE

An auto painter in Ohio wrote: "What interested me most was that you are looking for a guy that looks hungry and has a bald head. I'm 100 per cent qualified."

From another enterprising party came the inside information that three waitresses and an elevator starter told him he looked like Pyle.

Not since the days when every female between 6 and 60 yearned to play Scarlett O'Hara has a film producer been so beset with applications. Ernie will probably shudder when he hears about it.

Ten years ago Shirley Temple and Jane Withers were rivals for the juvenile crown at 20th Century-Fox. Other day between scenes of "Double Furlough" Shirley telephoned an old friend at Fox. The gentleman was out and the secretary asked, "Who should I tell him called?" Said Shirley: "Tell him it was Jane Withers' stand-in."

JAPS SAFER THAN GODDARD

WILLIAM GARGAN, just back from a 40,000-mile entertainment tour around the world, says he'd rather fly over Jap territory than ride in a jeep with Paulette Goddard as a fellow passenger. He did both in India. With Paulette sitting next to him, the driver of the jeep, Gargan said, just couldn't keep his eyes on the road.

Several peek-a-boo costumes Carmen Miranda wears in "Something for the Boys" are undergoing minor alterations at the suggestion of the censors. Some of the cutouts, the censors said, were a bit too large.

Hollywood's younger set may be called upon by the government to headline a coast-to-coast radio show to help combat the juvenile delinquency problem. Government officials and network executives are working on the idea, featuring all of the screen's younger players. Bonita Granville would be starred.

What with the war and the servant problem, some of Hollywood's better known bachelors have gone domestic. Guinn "Big Boy" Williams, for instance. "I give that vacuum cleaner a regular workout and scrub the kitchen floor," he says, "and so help me, I'm getting housemaid's knee."

TO ALTERNATE ROLES

INTERESTING new spotlight on Johnny Mack Brown's career: Monogram will alternate his roles between western heroes and romantics. First non sagebrush story is "They Shall Have Faith." Johnny will play a Texas doctor. He started out on the screen as Mae West's "tall, dark and handsome."

Sound stage ribbers had a field day at Sonny Tufts' expense. When he arrived for work in "Here Come the Waves" he found that his set chair had been wired so he could be shocked. When he asked for a glass of water, it came in a breakaway affair that drenched him. Another ribber gave him a cigaret that exploded. Whenever Sonny did a scene, the entire cast and crew yelled "Ham!"

Eddie Cantor is having censorship trouble with the lyrics of his song, "We're Having a Baby, My Baby and Me." They cut him off the air when he warbled the tune on a television broadcast.

New switch for writers: M-G-M has hired Booth Tarkington and Carl Sandburg to write two novels. After publication, they'll be produced as motion pictures.

"BECKY THATCHER" AGAIN

ANN GILLIS, former juvenile star who played Becky Thatcher in "Tom Sawyer," debuts as a glamor girl in "A Wave, a Wac and a Marine." She'll be 18 next month.

It's usually the ladies who refuse to remove their wedding rings for film scenes and, instead, cover them with flesh-colored tape. Ditto Alan Ladd. He covers his with an oversized signet ring.

When David O. Selznick completed "Since You Went Away," he gifted each of seven stars and the featured players with handsome leather holders for the script. All have been hesitant about telling D.O.S. that the script, which he wrote in record length of more than 300 pages, will not fit the holders.

Traveling Fair Is Mills' Idea

HOLLYWOOD, June 17 (U.P.) — Felix Mills, the conductor, composer and arranger, would like to organize a traveling international fair after the war.

"Every country in the world would be visited by the show," Mills said. All phases of American life would be demonstrated — music, literature, education, food, housing, living and working habits."

Would Aid Goodwill

Mills believes that the world of art can contribute much to the goodwill and understanding between nations in the postwar era.

"To know your neighbor's mode of living, his love of beauty and the type of culture he pursues," he explained, "is to learn to understand him. And it gives him the opportunity to know more about you, too."

Mills, who wrote "Concerto for Index Finger" for Gracie Allen's recent picture and has been identified with several movie musicals, has given much thought to problems of international relations.

Not from the diplomatic or political standpoints, he admitted, but rather from the point of view of the artist. He believes the artist is destined to play a large part in world affairs.

"An international fair would be a kind of world-wide mission of goodwill and understanding," he continued. "But it need not be a one-way affair. Other countries would reciprocate by sending similar shows to the United States to acquaint us with their mode of living.

Would Aid Peace

"In my own orchestra are 25 of Hollywood's finest musicians, all masters of their instruments.

"I know that every one of them would be eager to join the music section of such a traveling fair, and not for profit, either, unless you figure the profit in promoting international understanding and trust — the only guarantee of enduring world peace."

WASHINGTON, June 17 (AP)— American forces storming Saipan island in the Marianas are only about 1,400 miles from the Japanese mainland.

The closest Japanese troops ever got to the United States proper was Kiska Island in the Aleutians, more than 2,000 miles from this country's nearest coast.

News From The Boys Serving In The Armed Forces Of Uncle Sam

Billy R. Yandell, 20, shipfitter, third class, is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Yandell, 1523 Arnett street, on a 20-day leave from his duties with the U. S. Navy. Young Yandell enlisted in the Navy, Dec. 17, 1941, and after boot camp training at San Diego was sent to Pearl Harbor where he remained until July 4, 1942. He then went to the Southwest Pacific and among the major engagements he participated in was the landing at Bougainville. He has four battle stars on his service ribbons Yandell attended the Lubbock schools and was a member of the Cowhands football team in the 1939 season.

YANDELL

HEADQUARTERS, Europen Theater of Operations — Cpl. Hoyce B. Blair, 1625 Sixth street, street, is a member of the Quartermaster Corps unit which now supplies all Army personnel in Ulster with food, clothing, medical supplies and petroleum products for vehicles. When the first group of United States soldiers landed in Northern Ireland more than two years ago, five men formed the nucleus of this unit. Today the five members have increased to 75, and a number of civilian workers also have been added, who are housed in Nissen huts formerly occupied by British soldiers.

Joseph W. Turner, jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Turner, sr., of Meadow, was recently promoted from captain to major in the U. S. Army Air Forces in the European Theater of Operations, somewhere in England his parents have been informed. Major Turner is a squadron commander of heavy bomber group of the Eighth Air Force which is dealing the Nazis much misery these days. Major Turner has been overseas since April, 1943. His wife and 15-months-old son are residing in Chicago while Major Turner is overseas.

TURNER

Aviation Cadets John R. Hasson, jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Hasson, 3215 Twenty-third street; and Marvin G. Walker, 204 Avenue P, have reported to the pre-flight school at Maxwell field, Ala., in installation of the AAF Training command, to begin another phase of their training in the United States Army Air forces. The two cadets will receive nine weeks of intensive physical, military and academic instruction.

Francis A. Speake, jr., 19, seaman, first class has returned to a West coast Naval station after spending an eleven-day leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Speake, sr., 502 Avenue B. Seaman Speake has been in the Navy since Dec. 29, 1941. He enlisted as soon as he became 17 years of age. He received his boot camp training at San Diego and within several months was on sea duty. He has made two extensive sea trips which carried him into numerous undisclosed foreign ports. Seaman Speake is a former carrier boy for the Avalanche-Journal and was an employe of Furr Food stores and Behrens Drug company here prior to going into the Navy.

SPEAKE

Aviation Cadet Harvey Olen Gilmore, 23, son of Mrs. Sarah Elizabeth Gilmore, Post, is scheduled to receive his silver pilot's wings and officer's bars soon at the Pampa Army Air field twin-engine advanced flying school. At the completion of his rigid training there, he will be assigned to duty as an instructor or a combat pilot.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cook of 1504 Avenue E have received official information that their son, Cpl. Calvin M. T. Cook, 23, died somewhere in the European area May 3, of a brain tumor. Cpl. Cook trained at Lubbock Army Air field, at Waco and Bryan, Texas, and in Alabama and Louisiana. He went overseas in early September. Other survivors are three sisters, Mrs. Melvin Benson and Mrs. A. J. Adams, both of Lubbock, and Mrs. A. E. Wier of Gadsden, Ala.; and two brothers, J. D. and F. E. Cook, both of Lubbock.

M. T. COOK

Lt. Thomas J. Stilbert, jr., 25-year-old B-24 Liberator pilot who had been reported missing since May 8 over Germany, is a prisoner of the German government, a telegram from the adjutant general in Washington has disclosed. Lt. Stilbert's wife, formerly Earlaine Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Moore of 2221 Sixteenth street, an employe of Lubbock Army Air field, received the telegram. Her husband trained at LAAF. His home in civil life was Syracuse, N. Y. Mrs. Stilbert said she had been informed indirectly that some other members of Lt. Stilbert's crew also were safe.

N. G. HAROLD

Sgt. N. G. Hamblin, who is stationed at Lake Charles (La) Army Air base, and Harold Hamblin, motor machinist's mate 2/c of the U. S. Navy, are visiting their mother, Mrs. Nora Hamblin, and grandmother, Mrs. Mary McDaniel, 1907 Twenty-eighth street. Harold has just returned from combat duty in the Mediterranean, where he has been since last September. He has made three trips overseas. A third son, Grover Hamblin, machinist's mate 1/c, has been missing in action since last Dec., 26. He was serving on the destroyer Brownson which was sunk off Cape Gloucester, New Britain. Sgt. Hamblin, who is an airplane mechanic, is a graduate of Lubbock Senior High school, while Harold graduated from Lorenzo High school.

Darwin C. Prince, petty officer, first class in the U. S. Navy, has been promoted to chief petty officer, according to an announcement from the Southwest Pacific where Chief Petty Officer Prince is serving. Prince has been in active service with the SeaBees about 16 months. He has been overseas at an advanced base in the Southwest Pacific about eight months. The former Lubbock man is a son of Mrs. John S. Prince of Athens. He was formerly employed by the Texas Compress and Warehouse company and prior to going into Naval service was on defense work.

PRINCE

Second Lieutenant Clifford Barney Hunter, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. William M. Hunter, Spur, will receive his pilot's wings upon the completion of his advanced-flight training at Pampa Army Air Field in the immediate future. Lt. Hunter began his flight training in November of 1943, and at the completion of his rigid training at Pampa, will be assigned to duty as an instructor or combat pilot.

1st. Lt. Robert Melcher, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Melcher of Slaton, was among the combat crew members of the paratroop-hauling, glider-towing of a C-47 sky-train of the Ninth Air Force troop carrier squadron in England which participated in the invasion of France. Lt. Melcher's squadron is a part of the IX troop carrier command of the Ninth Army Air Force, a U. S. component of the Allied Expeditionary Air force. He graduated from Slaton High school and attended Texas Technological college prior to going into the Air Corps. He is a pilot.

MELCHER

Sergeant Billie T. Templeton, son of H. S. Templeton, 2405 Avenue T, Lubbock, has been awarded posthumously the Distinguished Flying Cross. The medal was awarded to Sgt. Templeton by Lt. Gen. George C. Kenney, Commander of the Allied Air Forces in the Southwest Pacific, for "extraordinary achievement while participating in an aerial flight at Halong, Amboina on January 19 1944."

Cpl. Mason A. Kester, 22, of Laughlin Army Air field, Del Rio, is spending a 15-day furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Kester, 515 Fourth street. His wife accompanied him home. Kester enlisted here Sept. 15, 1942, and was stationed at Lubbock Army Air field for four months. He later was transferred to Sheppard field, Wichita Falls, where he studied aircraft mechanics.

KESTER

The United States Navy Pre-Flight school at Athens, Ga., has announced that four naval aviation cadets from Lubbock and this vicinity have completed three months of physical conditioning and ground school work at that school. They are John R. Moxley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Moxley, 1805 Fourteenth street; Owen Caskey, 2316 Twenty-eighth street; Hansel D. Hallman, jr., storekeeper, second class, USNR, Post; and Marion H. Mayes, 2414 Twenty-fifth street.

TED BILLY JOE

Pfc. Billy Joe Luck, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Luck of 2109 Ninth street, is visiting in Lubbock while on furlough. He will go to Tonapah, Nev., to be stationed with a reserve training unit in the Air corps, relatives said. He has been in service since January. A brother, Oral W. (Ted) Luck, 30, a seaman 2nd class, is stationed at Norfolk, Va., where he will finish radar training. His wife and two children, a girl 9 and a boy 7, live at 2215 Eighteenth street. He has been in service since March.

Pvt. Alton Leon Abbott, son of Mr. Ed C. Abbott, 1110 Avenue K, has begun airplane mechanical training at Keesler field's B-24 Liberator bomber school, after completing basic training. Pvt. Abbott was selected for the course on the basis of his excellent marks received on the Army aptitude tests. His wife and son are residing here, while Pvt. Abbott is in service.

Sec. Lt. Beachy A. Barton, 27, son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Barton, 2626 Twenty-first street, who is now stationed at Camp Polk, La., in the Army finance department, has been promoted to first lieutenant, has parents have been informed. Lt. Barton, who attended Lubbock schools and Texas Tech and was an auditor in civilian life, went into the service May 6, 1942. He received his Army basic training at Sheppard field and from there was transferred to Peterson field near Colorado Springs where he was stationed 11 months. He was then sent to the finance school at Duke university, Durham, N. C., and from there to the war bond section at Chicago. Later he was transferred to Camp Polk.

BARTON

Ensign Walter Eugene Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Anderson, 2222 Seventeenth street, Lubbock, has been commissioned in the United States Naval Reserve, and will report for active duty at Tucson, Ariz., in July. Ensign Anderson has resided in Plainview as territorial manager for Purina Mills since September.

Vaughn A. Campbell, torpedoman, third class, in the U. S. Navy, has returned to his San Diego, Calif., station after spending a nine-day leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Campbell, route 1, Slaton. Campbell has been in service for more than a year. He attended a torpedo school four months after completing his boot camp training at San Diego.

CAMPBELL

LEE DON JAMES W.

Naval Aviation Cadets James W. Anderson, 23, and Lee Don Anderson, 20, are visiting their mother, Mrs. E. P. Anderson, 2410 Main street, after completing their pre-flight training at the Iowa Pre-flight school. They are to go from here to Olathe, Kas., Naval Air Training station for primary training. The brothers entered Naval aviation training last September 1 and have been stationed together in the Midwest in their ten months of training. They were first stationed at Lawrence, Kas., and later at Liberty, Mo., before going to the Iowa school. Both are graduates of Lamesa High school and attended West Texas State Teachers college at Canyon, James W., graduating and Lee Don, being a sophomore when he enlisted.

LEON WILBURN

Sgt. Wilburn Bell, 26, Mrs. Bell and their daughter Carolyn June, all of Pampa, recently spent three days in the route 1 residence of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Bell, and in the Shallowater residence of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Randolph. The soldier is an Air corps mechanic who farmed in Lubbock county prior to his induction. Leon Bell, 20, another son of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Bell, and a former telegraph operator of Plainview, was inducted into the armed forces Monday. His wife, formerly Eunice Faye Johnson of Denison, will live in Denison until victory. She was accompanied there last week by Mrs. Oma Coats of Denison, a relative. Mrs. Bell's parents are Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Johnson of Denison. Bell will train at Fort Sill, Okla.

S/Sgt. John E. Turner, a former resident of Lubbock and son of Mrs. J. H. Izard of Clovis, N. M., has received a medical discharge from the Army after having been released from the hospital at Camp Beale, Calif., where he was held in confinement for several weeks for treatment of ulcerated stomach. Sgt. Turner has been a member of the armed forces since Dec. 18, 1942, and received his basic training at Camp Butner, N. C. He was then transferred to Camp San Luis Obispo, Calif., and then was stationed at Camp Beale until recently.

TURNER

Mrs. Lynn Rowan of 2117 Fifteenth street has returned from an eastern port embarkation center and a visit with her husband Pfc. Lynn B. Rowan of the Air Transport command. He was stationed 18 months at Lubbock Army Air field, and left two months ago. He is the son of Mrs. C. P. Muckelroy of 2122 Thirty-second street, who has two other sons in the service: Pvt. Jack, in the Southwest Pacific, and Sgt. Charles, who is in the States after 17 months in North Africa.

The promotion of James N. Eichleberger, husband of Mrs. James Eichelberger, 1310 Arnett street, from the grade of technical fifth grade corporal to technical fourth grade sergeant was announced recently "somewhere in England" by Maj. Gen. Hugh J. Knerr, commanding general of the Air Service command, United States Strategic Air forces in Europe. Sgt. Eichelberger was graduated from Waco High school, and at the time of his enlistment was employed as warehouseman for the Texas Highway department, Lubbock and Bryan.

AN EIGHTH AAF LIBERATOR STATION, England—1st Lt. Dore D. Stephenson, Rt. 1, Anton, Texas, was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross as a result of the May 8th mission on the Brunswick Aircraft factory. Acting as pilot of the Liberator "Jerilyne Sue" Lt. Stephenson landed his plane safely at his home base despite 20mm holes from the nose to the tail of the ship. Before reaching the target, 6 ME109s attacked Stephenson's Lib, riddling it with direct hits. The tail turret was completely smashed, the hydraulic system knocked out, the number 2 engine gone, the instrument panel working improperly and a leak in the oil tank. Lt. Stephenson dropped his plane 3,000 feet below the rest of the formation in order to toggle out his bombs. With his fighter escort gone, this was accomplished successfully by the bombardier, 2nd Lt. Pete Zanoni of Trinidad, Colorado. Lt. Stephenson regained his position with the rest of his formation and barely made it back to the field. The skill in which he piloted the plane saved the lives of nine others—besides himself. Stephenson, who will be 26 in September is married to Jerry Ann Stephenson, Albuquerque, N. M. He entered the army six days before Pearl Harbor, enlisted into Aviation Cadets and was commissioned July 29, 1943. Lt. Stephenson is a graduate of Anton High school and later attended Eastern New Mexico college at Portales, N. M. Before entering the army he was employed as a locomotive fireman by the Santa Fe railroad. He was promoted to the rank of first lieutenant May 6, 1944—just two days before Brunswick.

STEPHENSON

AN EIGHTH AAF FIGHTER STATION, England—1st. Lt. Hershel L. (Rocky) Hill, who is a P-51 Mustang fighter pilot at this base, has been awarded the Air Medal and first Oak Leaf Cluster for "meritorious service in aerial flight over enemy-occupied continental Europe." Lt Hill is a member of the group which destroyed 73 German aircraft in 22 days and knocked 20 German planes out of the sky over Berlin in one day without a loss. Fighter Pilot Hill has named his Mustang "Texas Breeze" due to the fact that he attended Lubbock (Tex) high school and worked for the P. O. Mercer company in Seagraves, Tex., as an engineer. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Emery J. Hill of Long Beach, Calif.

Flight Officer James W. Cook, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Cook, Post, has graduated from Deming Army Air field, the AAF's Border Bombardier School, and has been awarded silver bombardier's wings. His course at Deming consisted of 18 weeks of high-altitude precision bombing as well as important phases of navigation. F. O. Cook attended Post High school prior to enlisting in the Air Corps.

COOK

A NINTH AIR FORCE BOMBER BASE, England — F/O Thomas Forbis, navigator-bombardier, of Spur, Tex., after completion of his 25th mission in the European Theater of Operations, receiving the Distinguished Flying Cross from Col. Richard T. Coiner, jr., of San Anttonio, Tex., commander of a Marauder group in England.

Aviation Student Loyd J. McNeil, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. McNeil, and husband of Mrs. Joyce Ann McNeil, all residing at 1710 Avenue R, Lubbock, has reported to the Courtland, Alabama Army Air Forces Basic Pilot School for the second stage of his flight training, after graduating from his primary flight course at Lodwick School of Aeronautics, Lakeland, Fla. His varied course of training includes instrument flying, night soloing, and a thorough study and application of aerial navigation.

McNEIL

Aviation Cadet Clyde Allen Bray, jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Bray, Muleshoe, has reported for duty at Frederick Army Air Field, Okla. Upon completion of the ten-week course at this advanced twin-engine school for bomber pilots, Cadet Bray will be awarded his wings and commission, and assigned to one of the nation's big bomber transition schools for combat training.

Ensign Robert Allan Hill, jr., USNR, whose parents live at 1903 Sixteenth street, received his Master of Science degree in aerology engineering June 3 from California Institute of Technology at Pasadena. He has been assigned for active duty to the naval air base at Livermore, Calif., in the San Francisco bay area, as weather forecaster for naval planes operating in and out of that base. Mrs. Hill and their daughters, Sylvia Kay and Carolyn Sue, will remain in Pasadena. Ensign Hill was graduated from Texas Technological college in 1939, majoring in mathematics.

HILL

A NINTH AIR FORCE TROOP CARRIER BASE, England — A ninth air force troop carrier pilot who flies what is rated as one of the best American airplanes, the Douglas C-47 airplane, is still longing for an acient 1920 Italian airplane he left behind in Sicily. The pilot is 1st Lt. Thomas E. Yarbrough of 2428 Twenty-fourth street, Lubbock, Tex., a veteran of the North African, Italian and Sicilian campaigns who is now serving with a IX troop carrier command unit in England. Yarbrough found the old aircraft—or rather parts of it in his flights to U. S. airbases in Sicily. A constructor of model airplanes in his youth, the pilot decided to try his hand in putting together the parts of the plane and the result was a 1920 Fiat Parasol monoplane. "The plane frightened pursuit and bomber pilots when they saw it in the air," Yarbrough said, "but it flew — sometimes." Yarbrough, who flew cargoes ranging from jeeps to turkeys in North Africa, also discovered a new flying hazard — rock-throwing Arabs. The Texan said that troop carrier planes which flew at hedge-hopping levels for protection against enemy aircraft had to avoid flying over Arabs because the Bedouins threw rocks at the low-flying aircraft. Holder of the Air Medal and Oak Leaf Cluster for air action in Sicily, Yarbrough is a graduate of the Lubbock High school.

YARBROUGH

AN EIGHTH AAF BOMBER STATION, England — S/Sgt. Robert T. Pirtle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bryan B. Pirtle, 2506 Twenty-sixth street, Lubbock, Texas, has been awarded the Third Oak Leaf Cluster to the Air Medal for exceptionally meritorious achievement, while participating in five separate bomber combat missions over enemy occupied Continental Europe. Sgt. Pirtle is the waist gunner on the Flying Fortress, "Throbbin' Dobbin." Prior to entering the AAF in May, 1942, Sergeant Pirtle was a student at Texas Technological college. He received his gunner's wings in April, 1943.

PIRTLE

Two Lubbock men, Earle Regan Howell, 26, husband of Mrs. Ruth Margaret Howell, 2510 Twenty-first street, and son of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Howell; and Benjamin Franklin Slaughter, 27, husband of Mrs. Ruth Wilson Slaughter, 2309 Sixth street, and a former employe of Santa Fe here, are receiving initial indoctrination at the U. S. Naval Training center, Great Lakes, Ill. Their "boot" training consists of instruction in seamanship, military drill, and general naval procedure.

AN EIGHTH AAF BOMBER BASE, England — Major Leonard Bauman Roper, of Bullard, pilot and commanding officer of a B-17 Flying Fortress squadron, has been decorated with the Distinguished Flying Cross, for "extraordinary achievement" on April 11, when he led a heavy bombardment combat wing to attack enemy installations at Arnimswalde, Germany. This aerial attack, termed an outstanding success was made in the face of intense anti-aircraft fire. The citation accompanying the award read, in part: "Major Roper led the wing to Arnimswalde where, in spite of very heavy flak, he made his bombing run at a low altitude. The target was hit with such excellent results that his formation received credit for inflicting more damage to the enemy on this occasion than all other units of the Bombardment Division combined. Upon completion of the bombing run, Major Roper, demonstrating outstanding leadership and coolness of judgment, then led his wing safely back to base despite a very heavy flak barrage encountered over the Danish Peninsula." Major Roper, 27 years old, has led formations to attack enemy Europe 18 times. Besides the DFC he wears the Air Medal with two Oak Leaf Clusters. A well-known athlete at Texas Tech, he was athletic coach at Friendship High school, Wolforth, before entering the service. He is the son of F. C. Roper, of Bullard.

ROPER

Jimmie L. Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Wilson, 611 Avenue N, was recently appointed flight officer in the United States Army Air forces, when he completed the Officers Candidate Unit course of the 20th Ferrying Group, Ferrying Division, Air Transport Command, Nashville, Tenn. As a ferry pilot, F/O Wilson will help maintain a steady flow of combat aircraft from American factories to fighting fronts.

Pvt. Garrett L. McClellan, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. McClellan, 2412 avenue T, is now stationed at the AAF Overseas Replacement Depot No. 2, Kearns, Utah, having been transferred from Yuma, Ariz. Pvt. McClellan has been in the Army Air Forces since Oct. 29, 1943, and his wife, Dorothy Fay McClellan, is living here with his parents.

Pvt. James C. Cotton, Lubbock, wounded veteran of Anzio, is now convalescing at Ashburn General Hospital.

Japs Pay First Installment Of Blood Debt; Democratic Old Guard In Revolt

Raid Cracks Enemy Armor

Road To Victory Still Is Rough

IT is doubtful whether the announcement of the European invasion was more electrifying to most Americans than the flash which reported that our super-bombers struck Japan Thursday.

Americans understand, of course, that the raid did not compare in importance as a military operation with the invasion. The invasion is intended to be a knockout blow. The raid sparred for an opening. One, it is hoped, will be a finisher. The other is, in many respects, a starter.

But Americans have waited more than two years with a burning intensity for news that the Japanese mainland had been hit from the air. When the news finally came, it was most satisfying, for reasons that need no recounting.

However, Thursday's raid did not mean, necessarily, that others might follow quickly and frequently. These might happen, but not likely. It seems more logical that a lapse of time must occur—perhaps a considerable lapse—before a full scale aerial offensive against the Japs can be launched and sustained.

Raids certainly will be studied with microscopic thoroughness as they occur for any lessons they may teach. Such studies take time. They also may save lives. No one should grow impatient because of delays.

Meanwhile, the value of such raids can't be measured in terms of material damage to the enemy, because that may not be too great. Their real value lies in the demonstration given that Uncle Sam has bombers capable of spanning great distances, of penetrating defenses which the Japs have tried, with all their ingenuity, to make impregnable and of returning. Those first few planes cracked the armor of Japan.

But the armor still is strong. The job still ahead cannot be minimized. Even so the fact speaks for itself that Uncle Sam has collected the first tiny installment on the debt Japan owes for Pearl Harbor, for Bataan, Corregidor and the "marches of death," for the murder of the Doolittle raiders and for countless other crimes which have horrified mankind.

Dad's Big Day Of 1944

FOR 365 days during this Leap Year of 1944 in most families, Dad has been and will continue to be the guy who pays the bills.

The statement above doesn't intend to suggest that there is anything wrong about that. Paying the bills for most Dads is much more than merely his job. It is his privilege. It is his just share of the family responsibility. As a general proposition, he is fully compensated with happiness and satisfaction for anything he might do.

But, even though he might do no more than duty, it seems peculiarly appropriate that one day of the year should be set aside as an occasion for honoring Dad. Therefore, if he should choose on this Father's Day of 1944 to make the most of his opportunities on his day, make allowances. Do more than that. Help him to make the most of it. See to it that he gets the most—and we do not refer to material things—that is possible out of this particular day and occasion.

As we see it, Father's Day is less an opportunity for Father himself than for the others of the family who think so much of him. If he is a typical father, it sometimes is a little difficult to do things for him. Sometimes it is hard to find the excuse to "make over him"—and you can be sure that the glories in being "made over"—without mutual feeling of embarrassment.

But, on Father's Day, the usual rules applying to the relationship of Dad to the rest of the family go into temporary discard. If you choose to get a little soft and sentimental, well, it's Father's Day. What better excuse could be needed? One red face per year won't hurt him.

Among other things, this is peculiarly a day offering the opportunity to store away precious memories—memories for Dad himself; memories for those who may contribute something special to Dad's happiness on this occasion. No one can appreciate just how precious those memories become until, for him or her, the white carnation becomes the personal symbol of the day.

So, let's make it a big day. Let's get the very last ounce of happiness from it while it is here. Let's observe it with the realization that no son or daughter possibly can put as much into Father's Day as he or she, immediately and eventually, will obtain from it.

A Montreal scientist says the Einstein theory is the bunk. We couldn't understand it either.

The One Minute Sermon

Big Business Preparing Grab For Billions In War Surpluses

Baruch Group Has "Skids All Greased"

By DREW PEARSON
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 17—While American doughboys are fighting the toughest battle in history, another decisive battle is going on in Washington without benefit of headlines. It is the battle for control of the tremendous surplus war property owned by the government.

One group, headed by the Bernie Baruch-Lehman Brothers-General Electric faction, has the skids all greased to pass, as quickly as possible, legislation putting surplus property mainly in the hands of the big firms which have profited most from the war.

The other group, headed by a coalition of Democratic and Republican congressmen, is determined that the disposal of war goods shall not head the country into another economic tailspin.

At the end of World War I, the U. S. government sold about seven billion dollars worth of surplus goods with no orderly plan. Some of the goods were dumped on the market, with speculators making fortunes overnight. Some were sold in France without any stipulation that the French people were to benefit, so that French speculators bought them up and reaped juicy profits by shipping them back to the U.S.A.

Part of the blame went to Bernard M. Baruch, criticized for turning the key on his War Industries Board immediately after the war, and going home.

Now, instead of seven billions there are about 75 billion dollars worth of surplus war goods—including 1,500 new war plants built with 25 billions of government funds. Months ago, Republican Rep. Charles Halleck of Indiana and Democrat Wright Patman of Texas started work on a bill to provide the equitable sale of post-war Government property. Hearings began in March.

Authority To One Man

Then, suddenly, John Hancock of Lehman Brothers, whom Bernie Baruch brought down from Wall street to write his post-war reconversion report, swung into action. With him swung Will Clayton, largest cotton broker in the world, whom Baruch has already placed in the key job of disposing of U. S. war property. They asked Comg. Patman and Halleck to hold up their bill. The latter two obliged.

Meanwhile, the Baruch-Hancock group prepared a new bill, called "the Clayton bill," which has the effect of giving one man—in this case, cotton broker Clayton—blanket authority to dispose of war property in any way he sees fit.

Members of the House Small Business committee are up in arms. So is the Senate Post-War Mobilization committee. They claim that the Clayton bill is tailor-made for big business and speculators, and that, if it passes, the country can expect a new heyday of monopoly and another chaotic economic tailspin.

Meanwhile, greased-lightning hearings on the Clayton bill are being held before Sen. George's Post-War committee, with his friend Scott Russell, head of Bibb Manufacturing co. of Macon, Ga., one of the biggest textile operators in the South, serving gratis as committee adviser.

Here is how war goods are now being sold. The Army dumped five tons of screws on the market at Memphis, Tenn. No firm in that area was equipped to buy so many screws at once. . . . 25,000 small portable phonographs, originally purchased to trade to African natives, were offered for sale to a big New York department store. Phonographs are extremely hard to buy today, but one store was offered the whole lot. . . . Seven million pairs of jute socks, brand new, have been declared surplus by the Army. . . . A Washington department store recently advertised all-wool tropical worsted suits for men, price $24.50. They had been bought from the Government for $17. Standard wholesale price is $27, the retail price about $35. Cheap sales of this kind naturally hurt other merchants.

PERSONAL PLANES

THE Douglas Aircraft company has just finished a luxurious new plane for President Roosevelt. Maj. Henry T. Myers, who flew the five Senators around the world, has been out in California tuning up the plane, while the President's Filipino cook has been tuning up its kitchen.

The plane is the most elaborate thing ever to fly, has an elevator, an apartment and bath for the President's own use. Cost, approximately $750,000.

Some Administration critics are now turning an inquisitive eye on the number of government planes kept in idleness by high government officials. While high government officials need planes to get places in a hurry, it is considered doubtful that they need their own personal planes, built at government expense and kept idle most of the time.

For instance, Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau has his own Coast Guard plane, which he retained for his own use when he turned the Coast Guard over to the Navy. While Morgenthau unquestionably needs the plane for bond-selling trips, there has been some criticism inside the government of the fact that he uses it for week-end trips to his home near Hyde Park, N. Y.

On one occasion, also, his plane flew all the way to the new airport at Messina, N. Y., merely to see whether the airport was safe for Morgenthau to land. He was not in the plane at the time, the pilot going alone, at considerable cost in gasoline, to test the airport.

Secretary of War Stimson has an Army plane which is kept for his own personal use—chiefly week-end trips to his home at Locust Valley, Long Island. When the week-end is over, the Secretary of War usually boards his plane carrying a little paper bag of eggs given him by Mrs. Stimson so he will have fresh eggs for breakfast during the week.

Admiral Emory Land, chairman of the Maritime Commission, also has had his own plane, for a time used exclusively by him, though later made available to other Maritime executives.

While Cabinet members need airplanes for travel, no one quite undestands why they need to keep so many personal planes idle for weeks at a time. Each plane has a crew of four men, who frequently have nothing to do except cool their heels while waiting for the week-end when they will fly to Long Island or up the Hudson.

Looking At Life - - - - - By Erich Brandeis

By ERICH BRANDEIS

"WHAT do people want more than anything else?"

We discussed that question at luncheon a few days ago, and every one of the five men present had a different answer.

Then I asked a number of my acquaintances the same question, and apparently no two people have the same idea of what they really want.

Women have entirely different ideas on the subject than men.

And yet, in the end, there is one universal answer: HAPPINESS.

It is the conception of what constitutes happiness that causes the variety.

Happiness is the place to which everyone seems to want to travel, but each has his or her own method of traveling in mind.

Most of the men to whom I talked want power.

To some power comes through fame, to others through money.

A few women also want power, but of a different kind.

They are much more interested in power that comes through social prominence, through fine clothes, through beauty.

But there, again, money is the principal means by which to achieve the end.

In all my queries I found that VANITY is one of the most potent factors.

"Why do you want power?" I asked a successful business man.

"Well, my parents were very poor," he answered. "We lived on the wrong side of the track. We never had the things that others had. We were kicked around and humiliated.

"Don't you think it gives me satisfaction to know that now the shoe is on the other foot?"

The women I asked had different ideas of happiness, much simpler ideas, most of them.

They want a nice home, a good husband, security, leisure, friends, children of whom they can be proud (maybe that's vanity, too), the affection and respect of those they know.

I ASKED a youngster who works in my office what she wanted most of all.

She's only 18, and without a moment's hesitation she answered: "A good time."

And I wonder whether there, in those three words, isn't what we all want most in life.

A good time—each of us in his own way. But happiness means a good time; whether it's in night-clubs or at home.

What do you want most?

Prefer Defeat To FDR

(The National Whirligig)

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

OLD-fashioned Democrats of the Garner-Farley-Bailey type have reached such a state of exasperation over the administration's present trends and fourth-term ambitions that they prefer a Democratic defeat for the national ticket next November to a Roosevelt victory.

To paraphrase a Biblical text, they believe that they can save their party only by losing an election that would further aggrandize the New Deal wing.

They cannot afford to make such a bold statement openly, but in their private conferences they frankly subscribe to this theory. Without an understanding of their basic purpose, it is impossible to realize the meaning of the growing Southern revolt and the Farley resignation, and to measure the threat which these movements hold to FDR's return to the White House.

These partisan elders contend that Mr. Roosevelt no longer heads the Democratic party that descended from Jefferson, Cleveland and Woodrow Wilson. They maintain that he has turned it over to certain factions which support him only because of the special favors he has granted them—radical laborites, Communistic groups, the colored people, racial elements.

The personalities who symbolize in their minds this transformation are Vice President Henry A. Wallace, Supreme Court Justice Felix Frankfurter, Interior Secretary Harold L. Ickes and Sidney Hillman, head of the CIO Political Action committee.

QUIT: The insurrectionists advance bread-and-butter facts and figures in support of their argument that FDR has been the destroyer rather than the savior of their party. He has made good, in their opinion, his promise that he would smash partisan lines in the United States.

Their survey reveals that his three successive triumphs were personal rather than partisan. In the national field the Democrats are weaker and more disorganized than they have been in years. The Republicans control more governorships, more legislatures, more city halls and more courthouses. The GOP will probably capture the House next fall, and they may lose the Senate by only a few seats.

Once Roosevelt has disappeared from public life, it is the belief of his critics that his personal army of voters will disintegrate like the "wonderful one-hoss shay." Then, because of the policies he has advocated in an attempt to gain popular friendship, they think that their historic organization will be swept out of power for generations. They intend to stave off such a fate even if they are forced to quit, temporarily and technically, the household into which they were born.

REBELS: The conspirators have two grand strategies for accomplishing their ends. They do not guarantee that they will succeed, but they are the best that have been devised to this moment.

The first is to make a shambles of the Chicago convention by raising the Communistic and colored issues. They also plan to block renomination of the President by acclamation, thus forcing him to assume sole responsibility for the fourth-term try. They will depict the present management as dictatorial, illiberal and utterly urban.

If Southern demands for a plank favoring segregation are rejected, the Texas-Mississippi-South Carolina electoral college technique may rob Mr. Roosevelt of the fruits of victory. It may throw the contest into the House and insure a Republican triumph. Other states, incidentally, may also join in a revolutionary breakaway.

But if the Democrats declare for separation of the races, it may alienate enough northern Negroes to defeat the ticket. The Rooseveltians are scratching their scalps in an effort to figure a way out of this dilemma.

Either outcome will satisfy the rebels. Their complacency toward such devastating results reflects their seriousness.

FIGURES: Senator Robert F. Wagner led the Administration's battle against the Bankhead cotton parity amendment in the Senate. As a city boy who rarely saw a southern plantation or the inside of a textile mill, "Bob" had to rely on OPA lawyers and experts for his information and day-to-day arguments during the debate.

At a critical stage he found himself unable to meet the contentions pourred out from memory and experience by the Senator from Alabama. Disappearing from the floor, he buttonholed his advisers and said, "You fellows have got to get me some more and better facts and figures on this subject. Bankhead is flooring me. Hurry up and dig 'em up!"

Then, as the New Yorker headed for the entrance to the chamber, he swung on his heel and added, "And, by the way, I ordered 12 broadcloth shirts a year ago and haven't got 'em yet. While you're at it, see what you can do about them, too!"

WINNING THE WAR
By Albert Leman

IN our excitement about Normandy we should not forget that one of the most brilliant feats of Anglo-American arms and generalship—in this or the last war—is being achieved in Italy.

Rommel and Von Arnim in the desert defeat and in Tunisia had the logical excuse that they were cut off by sea. Kesselring has no such alibi. The 14th German Army is linked by land communications with the Reich itself, yet Alexander has driven it pell-mell in a catastrophic rout—it is not a mere strategic withdrawal.

PERIL: We have looked on the Alps as a barrier that would block or delay an invasion of Germany from the peninsula. But the high peaks can serve also as a trap for the Nazis. Unless the Germans check their flight on the River Arno, Generals Clark and Leese may pen them between the walls in what amounts to a dead-end canyon.

The United States Fifth Army is chasing the enemy up the western coast and will come later to steep hills along the sea—but crags have not stopped it in the past. The British Eighth Army is smashing through difficult mountainous terrain, but once it reaches Bologna it enters the wide Lombardy Plain where its superior mechanized outfits can function with maximum efficiency.

This area, containing Milan, Verona, Turin and other industrial cities, is the hotbed of the Italian partisan movement, whose sabotage will greatly benefit the Allies.

In France and Russia the Reichswehr is supported by a broad network of highways and railroads. But in northern Italy there are only six lines—the Swiss tunnels are barred by neutrality laws—by which Kesselring can be supplied or through which his battered fragments can escape. Already our flyers are bombing the passageways.

These facts, his lack of reserves and the collapse of his army are the reasons for his mortal peril.

"Tears are highly antiseptic," declares a physician. Then, doc, tell us why they don't kill the hay fever germ?

"A botanist describes a plant that pushes its way upward through solid ice." It's enough to make any social climber turn green with envy.

It is usually the case that a cloak of dignity is used, albeit instinctively and unconsciously, to conceal dumbness.

"The Cabin" Tells Mysteries Of Childhood

Marquis W. Childs Writes Differently In New Book

IT IS often very hard for grown-ups to understand what goes on in the minds of children — our memories are short perhaps. One man who has not forgotten is Marquis W. Childs, whose new novel, "The Cabin," shows unusual insight into the mysteries of childhood.

CHILDS

Mr. Childs hitherto has been best known as a newspaperman and a political writer, author of "Sweden, the Middle Way," "This Is Your War," and "I Write from Washington."

"The Cabin," his second novel, definitely establishes him as an important fiction writer.

This is the story of three weeks in the life of thirteen-year-old Rob Dennett, three weeks which he spent on his grandfather's farm. His grandmother is a tyrannical, hypochondriac woman, cloaking her shrewishness when necessary beneath a saccharine sweetness. His grandfather, a pathetic creature, is still fighting, vainly, after a lifetime of failure, against his wife's domination.

The heroine of this story, a very real heroine even though she wears faded patched petticoats and has the face of an old witch, is Rob's spinster Aunt Stella, whose own life has been wrecked by her mother, but who is fanatically resolved that the same thing won't happen to the boys. By the end of the story, when she dies as inarticulately as she lived, you are made aware that it is she who has steered Rob from danger and that it is she who has opened for him the door leading to normal and vital manhood.

FAIRFAX EXPERIENCES

MARIA MANNING, who for over fifty years has conducted an advice to the lovelorn column under the name of Beatrice Fairfax, tells in her autobiography "Ladies Now and Then," of one of the first letters she ever received. It was from a young man with a fearful problem. His landlady was holding the fact that he had not paid his rent as a threat over his head to get him to marry her. The trouble was, the young man said, that the landlady was an old hag and he was really in love with her daughter. What should he do? Beatrice Fairfax advised him to get a job and pay his rent.

WELLES' BOOK IS CHOICE

SUMNER WELLES' long awaited book — "The Time for Decision" — will be the Book-of-the-Month club selection for August. The club also announces that the next book dividend to its members will be a special edition of "Tales of Edgar Allan Poe," with an introduction by Hervey Allen and 39 wood engravings by Fritz Eichenberg.

ANOTHER PERRY MASON

"THE CASE OF THE CROOKED CANDLE" (Morrow), by Erle Stanley Gardner.—It started out as a simple law suit for damages in a motor-car accident, but Perry Mason, of course, saw something more important than sheep in the case which involved the karakul fur company's truck.

And he was right, for in the background was swindling, double-dealing, a blonde who was dynamite, and murder aboard a yacht. There were such other things, too, as the candle that didn't stand up-right, the body that wouldn't stay put, and the bloody shoes. Della Street got into another of her famous jams also before Perry Mason did his customarily thorough job of untangling the skein of mystery.

MORE BELLS

ROBERT CARR, an American engineer, had built a bridge in Russia before the war. Now en route to Sweden for the Red Cross, he decided to go by way of Russia, to take a look at his bridge and to bring some American canned food to his friend, Father Gregory of St. Ivan's.

"The Bells of Saint Ivan's" (Appleton-Century) is an account of his trip through a corner of wartime Russia. He has an adventurous time of it, getting in the way of a battle between Romanian tanks and a regiment of Cossacks. He also learns why the bells of St. Ivan's have stopped ringing and that the Moslem girl Halima really loves him.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

What news will Gen. Eisenhower get from us?

You know now what we've heard from him.

We've heard that Eisenhower and his Americans have hurled themselves like a thunderbolt against the bristling defenses of Hitler's Wehrmacht!

We've heard that they are smashing at our foe—sparing neither steel nor sweat nor blood in one final, furious assault that marks the supreme military effort of this War!

And what news do Eisenhower and his men expect from us?

Men and women of America—what the Invasion is to our fighting men, the 5th War Loan is to us at home!

For us, as well as for them, this is the crisis—the time for tremendous, overwhelming effort! Make no mistake! The 5th War Loan will undoubtedly be the biggest, most vitally important financial effort of this whole War!

If the 5th War Loan is to succeed, each one of us must do more than ever before—must buy double... yes, triple ... the Bonds we bought last time.

Our men expect to hear that we are buying double—that we are matching their sacrifice as best we can—that the American nation, soldiers and civilians together, is making one gigantic effort to win this War!

That's the news our men expect to hear from us.

Will you personally see that they get it?

And here are 5 more reasons for buying Extra Bonds in the 5th!

1. War Bonds are the best, the safest investment in the world!
2. War Bonds return you $4 for every $3 in 10 years.
3. War Bonds help keep prices down.
4. War Bonds will help win the Peace by increasing purchasing power after the War.
5. War Bonds mean education for your children, security for you, funds for retirement.

Post-War Surplus Of Fliers Is Foreseen

DALLAS, June 17 (AP)—Only a fraction of the war-trained fliers in this country and Britain will be absorbed by civilian aviation after the war in the opinion of British Air Vice Marshal R. P. Willock.

Willock, deputy head of the Royal Air force delegation in Washington, presented wings to cadets at the Terrell RAF Flying Training school today.

In 1944, the tonnage of planes produced will be 60 per cent above that of 1943.

B-29 Seen As Power Needed In Maintaining World Peace

WASHINGTON, June 17. (AP)—The Army's disclosure that the great new B-29 bombers form an independent super-air force which will be able to strike out anywhere on earth has caused a considerable stir in diplomatic quarters here. It offers the best idea yet of the kind of power to be used in keeping the peace in tomorrow's high speed world.

In this respect discussion of the new 20th Air force is being linked with President Roosevelt's announcement of American plans for postwar organization. The President declared there would be no international "coercive power," but said each peace-loving nation would maintain whatever strength it could afford "for joint action when necessary."

And just as Mr. Rosevelt's statement set the basis for discussion at the forthcoming meeting with China, Russia, and Britain here this summer, so the revelation of the destructive power of the B-29 may prove to be one of the greatest hidden influences at the conference.

Effective Organization Needed

For highly placed officials here, both diplomatic and military, are coming to feel that unless the world can be properly organized for peace, each nation must bear an increasing burden of defense and armament from now on because of the mounting striking power of the airplane. But with an effective organization, it is expected that this power may be used to permit a progressive decrease in national armaments since a small but potent air force would be one of the cheapest kinds of forces to maintain.

The big question has been, what kind of action would be taken if the United Nations were functioning properly and Germany tried to rearm in another century?

The 20th Air force's B-29 is regarded as furnishing the best answer to date. With this weapon it would be possible for the United States to make a demonstration of force over threatening territory in a matter of hours—something never possible before in world history.

Woman Pedals Bike On 2,670-Mile Trip

DALLAS, June 17 (AP) — Marguerite Stovall, 24, who said she was refused service in the Women's Army corps because of a knee injury, arrived in Dallas today after pedalling a bicycle 2,670 miles from Portland, Ore.

Red-haired Miss Stovall said she began her trip 51 days ago as an adventure. She stated that she sleeps out of doors and estimated her traveling expenses at $115.

She plans to pedal to Maine via Pensacola, Fla.

Committee Accused Of Holding Up Contracts

WASHINGTON, June 17. (AP) — President Roosevelt's fair employment practices committee was accused in the Senate today of attempting to impose "government by blackjack" by withholding war contracts from employers who do not comply with its anti-racial discrimination orders.

Senator Russell (D-Ga), leading a fight to cut off the FEPC's $500,000 appropriation, made a bid for Republican support by referring to the agency as "a clear-cut example of government by executive decree."

He contended President Roosevelt had no right to set up the agency without congressional approval.

Before it took up Russell's amendment to slash the FEPC out of the War Agencies Appropriation bill, the senate voted to cut the salary of Malcolm Ross, committee chairman, from $10,000 to $8,000 a year.

Ross told the house labor committee today that his agency is not advocating social equality but is concerned only with obtaining maximum efficiency in the war effort by eliminating racial discrimination in employment practices.

MARSHALL MAN DIES

NEURITIS

CASE HISTORY No. 1446. Lady, age 48, who had neuritis for several years. She had tried everything she knew of to get relief. She came to my office in January of 1943. I examined her and found the cause of her trouble which was severe nerve pressure. After I adjusted her and removed the pressure from the nerves and the nerves were given time to rebuild, she got well. This lady states that she wouldn't take anything for what adjustments have done for her.

his trouble and found that severe nerve pressure was his trouble. I adjusted him, removing the nerve pressure and the man is completely well of asthma.

For every effect there must be a cause. If no one has located the cause of the effect and corrected the cause you cannot get well. The first thing I do when you come to my office is locate the cause of your trouble. If I can correct the cause you will get well, if I cannot correct the cause I will not take you as a patient. Nerve pressure can cause anything and you cannot expect to get well or stay well as long as you have nerve pressure. Nerve pressure is caused by a vertebral subluxation. When the correct adjustment is made, replacing the mis-placed vertebra to its normal position, nerve pressure is released, and good health is the result.

ASTHMA

CASE HISTORY NO. 1654. Man age 30, who had had asthma for ten years. He was in such a rundown condition that he was unable to work. I examined him for the cause of
