

Gas explosions cause Boston fires

BOSTON (AP) — Gas lines ruptured, causing up to 20 fires and at least one explosion which threatened homes in East Boston today, sending police, firefighters and utility workers rushing from location to location answering emergency calls, officials said.

No injuries were reported, and the situation was under control by 6 a.m., Deputy Fire Chief Joe Houghton said.

Houghton said the explosion and fires were apparently sparked when a water main broke and hit a gas regulator, sending a surge of gas through lines and causing pilot lights on stoves to surge.

"Pilots literally jumped off the stove," he said.

"I've never seen this happen before," said Fire Chief George Gravelese.

The first blast was reported around 4 a.m. when an explosion gutted a restaurant and numerous small fires were reported.

"It's very serious because there were 15 or 20 different small fires and large fires and they can occur anywhere in East Boston," Gravelese said.

One dispatcher said at about 4:30 a.m. that fire crews were trying to respond to at least 60 calls for help from residents who smelled gas or saw small fires on their stoves where the gas was coming into contact with pilot lights.

Police isolated the area, closing tunnels, bridges and roads connecting it with Boston and surrounding communities. East Boston, site of Logan International Airport, is separated from Boston by the harbor. Airport operations, which are at a minimum in the early-morning hours, were not hampered.

Police cruised the streets, broadcasting warnings over loudspeakers and urging residents to call fire or utility officials if they smelled gas or had problems and then to "get out of the building and call the fire department," department spokesman Ken Brunell said.

Fire and Boston Edison crews scrambled to turn off gas lines in houses and under streets.

Q. — How is Snyder's low level nuclear waste being disposed of at this time?

A. — There are currently only two such dump sites operating in the U.S. For the country, 50 percent of such wastes go to a site in Hanford, Wash. and the other 50 percent goes to Barnwell, S.C. Approximately 99 percent of the waste from Texas goes to Hanford, a distance of about 2,200 miles.

In Brief

Consumer prices increase

WASHINGTON (AP) — Higher prices for gasoline and fresh vegetables pushed consumer prices up a moderate 0.4 percent in August, matching the gain of the previous month, the government said today.

So far this year, prices have risen at an annual rate of just 3.4 percent. Over the last 12 months, the gain was 2.6 percent.

As for last month, the Labor Department said, gasoline prices rose a sharp 1.1 percent after a more modest 0.4 percent increase in July.

Local

Lake fire, hay barn burns

Two major grass fires in rural Scurry County Wednesday morning resulted in major property damage, one involving a considerable amount of property at Lake J.B. Thomas.

The fire at the lake was reported in a heavily developed area just east of the Bull Creek Channel. The cause was listed as a runaway brush fire which started around 10:45 a.m.

According to Fire Chief Terry Don McDowell, property destroyed included four cabins, one small trailer house, seven boat ramps, three well houses and two other storage buildings.

Local firemen battled a stiff wind and a lack of water at the remote location for three hours before finally extinguishing the fire. Approximately 50 acres of grass and mesquite brush were reported burned also.

None of the cabins destroyed in the blaze were inhabited at the time. Firemen were able to contain the fire before the one inhabited residence in the area was damaged.

While four trucks and around 20 local firemen were busy with the fire near the lake, another grass fire was doing major damage to a hay barn about 12 miles north of Snyder.

Local firemen were dispatched to the blaze on the H.B. Walker Sr. place just east of the Chevron gas plant on the Clairemont Highway at 11:45 p.m.

According to reports, a barn containing some 1,500 bales of hay was destroyed before Snyder and Fluvanna firemen along with Scurry County maintainer crews could extinguish the blaze.

Struck child said stable

A 22-month-old San Angelo girl was listed in stable condition in the intensive care unit of Shannon Memorial Hospital in San Angelo this morning after being struck by a truck near her grandparents' home in Snyder Wednesday afternoon.

Stephanie M. Hall, daughter of Rebecca Sue Hall of San Angelo and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. H.L. Loper of 3101 Ave. U, suffered two broken legs and a broken arm.

She was taken from the scene to Cogdell Memorial Hospital by private vehicle and then transferred to San Angelo by units of Aid Ambulance-Snyder.

Police accident reports indicate the girl was in the roadway in the 3100 Block of Ave. U when she was struck at approximately 5:19 p.m. The vehicle, a 1981 International truck, was driven by Billy Charles Priester of Snyder.

'Buffalo' hats on sale

The Scurry County Historical Commission and Historic Scurry County Inc. have a new supply of White Buffalo caps for sale and these will be offered both during and after the Scurry County Fair.

Fair competition continues locally

The third annual Scurry County Mule Show in the ag annex will be the highlight attraction Friday as the Scurry County Fair moves into its second day.

The Scurry County Coliseum and adjacent annex are to be open from 8 a.m. until 10 p.m. both Friday and Saturday as the 19th annual event continues here.

The day's activities will include a 5 p.m. fashion show of fair entries at the coliseum stage area plus the beginning of the baked goods competition. These will be accepted from 5-9 p.m. Friday.

Saturday will be another full fair day to include the annual Youth Horse Show to begin at 1 p.m. and a special fair trades day to allow locals to sell flea market type items. There is no charge and all items except clothing may be sold.

Other special fair events due both Friday and Saturday include stage entertainment beginning at 8 p.m. nightly; the Kiddie Barnyard featuring an assortment of pets and farm animals; carnival attractions on the coliseum grounds; cow milking and horse shoeing demonstrations; children's treasure hunts in the ag barn; and periodic visits from clowns.

Friday's featured mule show will include such events as youth halter, mare and nursing colt, junior and senior halter, youth western pleasure, western pleasure, and jennets (for breeding stock).

A mule pull is planned as well with classes to include team or single hitch pulls.

It will consist of teams and single animals pulling sleds with 300 pounds added in successive pulls. An entry fee of $3 is asked in all events except the pull competition, with a $5 entry fee required.

Superintendent for the mule pull is Tommy Marricle assisted by Kent Mills and Tommy Pate.

Saturday's Scurry County Fair Youth Horse Show will get underway at 1 p.m. The fair Saturday opens at 8 a.m.

Age youths who will be entering the horse show include pee wee, age 8 and younger; junior, ages 9-14; and senior, ages 15-19.

Competitions will be divided into halter and performance classes and 4-H rules will in general apply. An entry fee of $3 is asked.

Child's mind is seminar topic

A workshop related to the mind of a child and how to deal with stress when working with children will be offered here Saturday.

Ruth Dickey, a child development training consultant with the University of Houston, will lead the discussion.

The event is to count toward required training classes for Snyder school instructors and a large group of local teachers are expected to attend. Local parents are invited as well.

The workshop is scheduled Saturday morning and afternoon in the junior high school auditorium. Lecture and discussion times will be from 9 a.m. until noon and from 1:30-4 p.m.

The event itself is sponsored by the Oil Patch Foster Parents Association, a group organized to both help children in need of a temporary home and to find persons willing to serve as foster parents here.

Dickey will discuss "How a Child Thinks," a topic designed to offer to adults a view of the world through a child's eye. Her discussion will focus on infants through age 7 and how their thought processes develop.

In addition, she will discuss how adults can deal with stress while working with children.

The workshop speaker received her undergraduate training at Texas Tech, then her graduate experience at Ohio State University.

She is an adoptive mother of two and her experience includes serving both as a foster parent and a classroom teacher. Currently she is a pre-school teacher for the Human Development Laboratory of the University of Houston.

Keeping tabs on our neighbors:

District 2-AAAA grid foe Andrews recently had to forfeit its opening game against Seminole which the Mustangs won 44-0.

Andrews unknowingly played an ineligible transfer student. When it was discovered, school officials notified the district committee and the UIL and the game was forfeited.

James Roberts, in the Andrews County News, summed it up as a "unusual set of circumstances that wouldn't occur again in a hundred years."

The ingredients included a Odessa rock concert, a new coach intent on establishing team discipline, two promising junior varsity players, a Labor Day weekend that delayed the mail service, a principal that didn't open his mail promptly and a 92-cent library fine.

The rock concert, discipline and two JV players who were moved up were related. The mail service delay and the book fine were also closely related.

The transfer student was from Hereford and school officials there advised that his student records could not be released until the library fine was cleared. A dollar was sent, but delays resulted in the information reaching before the opening game.

As they say in football, that's the way the ball bounces.

O. G. Nieman, in the Hereford Brand, says "People too busy to take a vacation are in for a great surprise. When they die, the world will hardly miss them."

SATURDAY SHOOT — The local chapter of the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation will sponsor its third annual Turkey Shoot fund raiser here Saturday from 10 a.m. until dark at the Canyon Gun Club range ¼ of a mile north of the Northeast Community Center. Black powder shooters like Brad Gambrell (shown here) will compete in addition to both shotgun and rifle target competitors. Entry fee will be $3 per round. (SDN Staff Photo)

Ira officials ponder school board replacement

Ira school officials and school board members say they have hit a snag regarding choosing a replacement for Trustee Larry Denson who resigned last month.

Due to conflicting opinions from the Texas Education Agency and the Texas Association of School Boards regarding current state law and its implementation, board members are not sure if they should appoint a replacement or call a special election, Jay Martin, superintendent said.

At this point, trustees have adopted a "wait and see" attitude while they are awaiting further clarification of the law from the U.S. Attorney General's Office.

He said the confusion stems from laws passed by the past two Texas Legislatures. Following legislation passed in 1981 by the 67th Legislature, school boards were empowered to appoint a replacement to serve out the remainder of an unexpired term; but if nine months or more remained then a special election had to be called to fill the post. Since Denson was re-elected in April, more than two years remain on his term. Under this law, the school board would seem to be required to call such an election.

But the latest law—Senate Bill 1207—passed this year by the 68th Texas Legislature says school boards may appoint someone to fill an unexpired term until the regular April trustee election.

Following this, an appointment could fill the vacated seat through next spring and a special election would not be required.

Martin said that apparently the confusion regarding Senate Bill 1207 stems from the fact that pre-clearance was not sought from the U.S. Attorney General's Office, Voting Rights Division, before it went into effect Aug. 29.

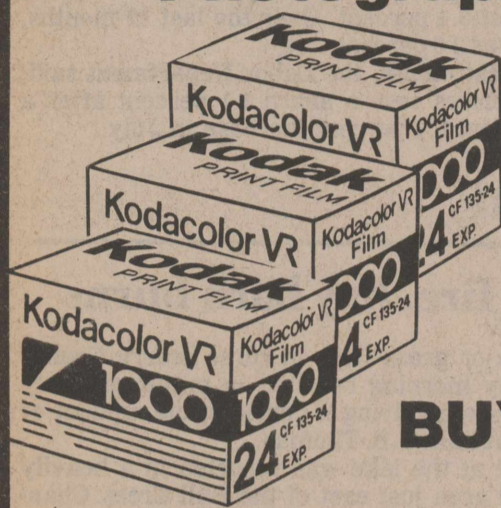

Martin said they are waiting to hear from the U.S. Attorney General's Office and that usually takes about two months.

However, in hopes of an earlier resolution, trustees will include the matter of choosing a replacement in next month's agenda.

Ashley returns home

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) — A 1-year-old girl whose battle for life led President Reagan to make a nationwide appeal on her behalf is back in Texas to continue her wait for a new liver.

Ashley Bailey, who returned to Fort Worth Thursday, was flown to the University of Minnesota Hospital May 1 where she underwent evaluations to see if her body could accept a new liver and eventually gained five pounds.

Ashley suffers from biliary artesia, a normally fatal, congenital condition in which the ducts in the liver, necessary to drain bile, are missing or too small to function properly.

President Reagan used his weekly radio broadcast to plea July 23 for a donor on Ashley's behalf.

Western ready to host conference tournament

Western Texas College hopes tradition will continue here tomorrow as the Westerners play host to the second Western Junior College Athletic Conference golf tournament. Western, which goes into Saturday's meet in second place, has won the past two conference tournaments here, and three of the last four. Players from six schools are to begin at 8:30 Saturday in the 18-hole, single day tournament. Golfers were taking practice rounds today. Western goes into the tournament with five conference points as a result of their second place finish last week in Levelland. New Mexico Junior College, the defending WJCAC champion, is in first place with six points. "If we play well here we can pull back up into the lead," said Coach Dave Foster. "But this conference is so balanced this year that it's feasible that a lot of teams will go up and down."

Atkins gets a chance; Wacker looks for win

by The Associated Press
Call it Jeff Atkins' coming out party.

The schoolboy bluechip running back from Fort Worth Eastern Hills who triggered a fierce recruiting war between Texas Christian and Southern Methodist is expected to get a heavy load for the Mustangs Saturday night in the annual Southwest Conference showdown with the longstanding Horned Frogs.

early," says offensive coordinator Whitey Jordan.

Atkins has carried only two times for eight yards but a bruised shoulder suffered by Reggie Dupard has forced the speeded up development of the freshman.

"Atkins had a good week of practice and has earned some playing time," said SMU Coach Bobby Collins. "We need for our offense to get in gear and maybe Jeff can help us in that department."

Gary Hashaway will start at tailback and Byron Collins also was expected to see duty.

No. 18 ranked SMU owns the nation's longest unbeaten string at 18. The Mustangs have not lost an SWC opener since 1964 when they lost to Rice 7-6. The defending SWC champion Mustangs rated a 12-point favorite over the Horned Frogs.

In other SWC action, No. 2 ranked Texas was a 24-point pick over North Texas State; Baylor was a seven-point choice over Texas Tech in an 11:35 a.m. (ABC-TV) regionally televised match in Waco; Arkansas was a 10-point favorite over Mississippi in Jackson, Miss; Houston was a 12-point pick over Oregon on the road; Texas A&M was a field goal selection over Oklahoma State in a 2:50 p.m. (CBS) regionally televised game from Kyle Field, and Southwestern Louisiana was a field goal pick over Rice.

A crowd of some 27,000 was expected to be on hand to see if Jim Wacker can get his first TCU victory.

The Horned Frogs haven't beaten the Mustangs since 1971.

SMU is 2-0 with victories over Louisville and Grambling while TCU tied Kansas and lost to Kansas State.

Westerners open '83 rodeo season

PORTALES, N.M. -- Western Texas College rodeo teams open fall competition this weekend at the Eastern New Mexico State University NIRA Rodeo.

New members to the men's team are Kinney Riley, Snyder; Jeff Reynolds and Donald York, Hudson Falls, N.Y.; Glen Jordan, Clint, North Carolina; Jason Phillips, McKinney; and Davey Jones and Tommy Poyner, Odessa.

Returning to the WTC men's team will be C.J. Urbaneck, Travis Rinehart, Gary Rowe, Randy McPhail, Shane Smith, Todd Whatley, Randy Bomar, Rowdy Rasberry, Greg Rhodes, Roy Sutherland, Craig Murdoch, Mark Mauldin, Van Hale, John Foster, John Bill Hedrick, Mike Valentine and Dale Gideon. WTC men were second in the Southwest Region last year.

Returning for the women are Shelia Fifer and Jana Terry.

According to Coach Bob Doty, it has been a blue-chip recruiting year for the girl's team. Newcomers include Nixie Brewster, Snyder; Judy Cox, Comanche, Okla.; Cinita Cass, Clint; Regina Begay, Navajo, N.M.; Kellie Kyle, Quannah and Tina Morris of Haskell.

UIL plan would strengthen football grade requirements

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) - The University Interscholastic League may come up with ways to beef up academic standards for high school football players even more stringent than one already proposed, UIL director Bailey Marshall says.

had on it," Marshall told the San Antonio Express-News. "The legislative council may even decide to put in something even more stringent."

The UIL sets the rules governing the eligibility of students to play football or compete in other UIL-sanctioned events. If the proposal passes, it will be submitted to all UIL-member schools for their approval.

He noted that the proposal comes at a time when there has been highly publicized criticism of both national and state public education.

H. Ross Perot, chairman of the state's Select Committee on Public Education, has criticized community emphasis on extracurricular activities such as football.

Joe Kelly Butler, chairman of the state Board of Education, said earlier this week that the board is considering a proposal that would place all extracurricular activities after the regular school day.

He said this would allow the state board to raise the number of credits needed for high school graduation from 18 to 24, meaning that all extracurricular activities would have to take place after school hours.

In San Antonio, the Edgewood School District already has adopted eligibility standards for participation in extracurricular activities that are far more stringent than either the current or proposed UIL rule.

Dunbar cracks Cat JV

LUBBOCK -- Snyder junior varsity gave up too much, too early here Thursday and fell to Lubbock Dunbar, 35-8.

The loss gives the Cat JV a 2-2 look, while Dunbar goes to 2-1. Snyder plays at Sweetwater next Thursday in the fourth of four straight road games.

Dunbar led 20-0 at halftime and increased the margin to 35-0 in the third quarter before Snyder retaliated here.

Running back Clyde Davis keyed the Panther attack, running for touchdowns of 58, 6, 65 and 21 yards. Dunbar also scored on a pass from quarterback Carl Zamora to end Michael Johnson. Davis and Jimmy Narvaz each ran one two-point conversion and Michael Walker kicked another.

Snyder got its TD with 2:19 left in the third quarter when quarterback Mike McWilliams hit Steve Parker on an 18 yard pass play over the middle. Tim Kershaw ran the conversion.

The touchdown had been set up when Terry McClain recovered a bobbled punt on the Dunbar 18.

Later, Mark Daniel recovered a fumble on the Panther 18. McWilliams found Parker on a pass to the 2-yard line, but Dunbar's defense held.

Rusty Radican and Ricky Hunter also had interceptions for Snyder during the game.

"We didn't tackle very well. Our technique was okay, but our tackling was not good," said Coach Robert Crawford. "I think we were a little intimidated early and we didn't block or run the ball very aggressively," he added.

Ira hosts Eagles in 2-1A matchup

Four teams survived the first week of District 2-1A six-man ball but it's a cinch at least one of those squads will falter this time around.

The elimination process, though in its early stages, continues tonight in Highland as the defending 2-1A champs entertain Borden County. Both teams are 1-0 in district play, though Highland is 3-0 for the season and Borden is 1-2.

Other teams fighting to stay 1-0 in loop competition - and 3-0 for the season - are Ira and Trent. Ira entertains McCaulley while Trent hosts Grady. Both visiting teams support records of 1-2 and 0-1.

Paint Creek, 0-2 for the season but idle a week ago when district was begun, will be at Leuders-Avoca. Leuders, trying to bounce back from a 32-14 loss to Borden County, is also looking for its first district win.

In other outcomes last week, Ira defeated Grady 24-14, Highland ripped McCaulley 66-20 and Trent bagged Hermleigh 64-14. Hermleigh is open tonight.

Tigers win over Pecos

PECOS -- Snyder varsity grabbed a key District 2-4A volleyball win here Thursday in a roller coaster match with the Pecos Eagles.

True to recent tradition, the Tigers won the first game, faltered in the second and eked out the third to win the match 15-10, 3-15 and 15-12.

"Well, we got down in the second game when they started hitting on us," said team captain Tricia Gregory. "We get behind and stay behind and can't get back up. We lose our momentum. The third game we got our heads back into it and fought it out," she added.

The win was a key one for the Tigers, who are now 5-0 in district play and apparently headed for a showdown with also-undefeated Monahans. Snyder plays the Loboettes next Thursday. First, however, the girls challenge Sweetwater on Tuesday.

"We were so excited. It was real joyous. We had tears in our eyes after the match. It was just great. We're going all the way to the top," said Gregory.

Serving for points for Snyder were Mona Green with 8, Gregory with 7, Sabrina Sullivan and Susan Brim with 6, Karlene Thompson with 5 and Cari Walker with 1.

Snyder freshman lost, 1-15, 15-12 and 15-11. Serving for points were Tammy Williamson 8, Rebecca Powell 7, Carrie Fortune 6, Julie Williams 5, Cindy Martinez 4, Tracy Warton 4, Christy Valadez 1 and Stephanie McKnight 3.

Snyder junior varsity also lost, 15-5, 12-15 and 15-4. Serving for points were Pam Casias 10, Sharnette Thompson 5, Stacey Dunk 3, Leslie Ward 2, Cintia Gonzales 2, Allison Adams 5, Brenda Zajicek 2, Kima McLarty 1 and Hope Hernandez 1.

The 'Cat junior varsity was to play today in the Seminole Tournament. Snyder varsity, JV and freshmen will play in Sweetwater at 7:30, 6:30 and 5 p.m. respectively, on Tuesday.

...people do.

United Way Agencies

Boys Club — Offering "somewhere to go" for Snyder youth ages 8 to 18 since 1956. More than 500 youngsters are served during the year with supervised athletic and game activities available.

Buffalo Trail Council of Boy Scouts — This past year, 537 youth have been involved with the Boy Scouts here, aided by 175 volunteer leaders. Levels served include Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts and Explorers.

Snyder Child Day Care Center — More than 2,000 youngsters and their families have taken advantage of this service since 1971. Some 45 children are now served on a daily basis.

West Texas Girl Scout Council — 17 troops are active in Scurry County to include Brownies, Junior, Cadet and Senior Girl Scouts. In all, 278 girls ages 6-18 are under the supervision of 80 registered adult leaders.

The West Texas Rehabilitation Center — Despite the closing of the Snyder Unit, the Abilene-based organization continues to provide a bus service twice weekly for any locals requiring physical therapy treatment. The bus leaves each Tuesday and Thursday.

Oil Patch Foster Parents Association — A new organization to the United Way. It comes to the aid of children — the abused and the neglected — who need a temporary home. From 15 to 20 are aided each month alone.

Salvation Army — Through August of this year, 58 persons have turned to the Salvation Army in their time of need. In addition, two local youth are served each summer by sending them to Camp Hoblitzelle near Midlothian, Tx.

Red Cross — A local and national organization providing disaster relief when it's needed. In addition, CPR first aid courses are offered and have been used by local businesses and law enforcement personnel.

Dear Abby

Clinging Parents May Choke Son's Marriage

By Abigail Van Buren
© 1983 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: I am engaged to a man I'll call "George." The problem is his parents. They moved into his house two years ago when they ran into financial trouble, so their bighearted son invited them to live with him temporarily. Both parents are able-bodied and have good jobs, but they live beyond their means and always have. They don't save a dime and owe their creditors thousands of dollars. Both drive expensive new cars and they practically live at the track every weekend. (They are horse crazy.) They owe George $15,000 that I know of, and I'm sure he will never see a dime of it.

George and I were supposed to get married last summer and live in his house, but I refused to move into his house while his parents were there, so there was no wedding. George says he can't kick his parents out. I say they will stay until he does. This is putting a terrible strain on our relationship. How can I cope with the problem of George's parents?

AT ROPE'S END

DEAR END: Your problem isn't George's parents — it's George. He's suffering from role-reversal: He's the "parent" who can't say no to his spoiled "children." He may be a wonderful son, but unless he is able to (as the Good Book says) "leave his father and his mother and cleave unto his wife," he's a poor candidate for marriage.

Tell him to call you when his parents are out of his house, and if you're still around, you would love to see him.

DEAR ABBY: My boyfriend (I'll call him "Lou") has an 18th birthday coming up, which is why I'm writing. Lou's brother told me that their father is giving Lou a trip to Reno with a "call girl" thrown in as a birthday gift.

Lou doesn't know I am aware of this, and so far he hasn't mentioned anything to me about it.

Well, Lou and I share a sexual relationship, and I feel that if he accepts this "gift" (the call girl, I mean), he would be betraying me. Abby, please tell me what you think of a father who would give his son such a gift, and what do you think I should do about it, if anything.

MIXED UP IN CALIFORNIA

DEAR MIXED UP: Years ago some fathers gave their sons such gifts (the call girl, I mean) to introduce them to the ways of the world. Since it's not necessary in your case, tell Lou that you are aware of the "gift" offer, then leave the talking to him.

DEAR ABBY: I am 24, divorced (I was married quite young for nine months), and I consider myself outgoing, friendly and attractive. I am a nurse and am well-liked by my patients and co-workers. Here's the problem: I've been fixed up with a few friends of friends of mine, but they are all after one thing — sex. I am just not into that with someone I hardly know.

When they discover I won't "put out," I never hear from them again. I'm so discouraged I'm beginning to think there are no decent guys out there. I am not against sex, but certainly not on the first date. I mean, really! I want to meet a man, fall in love and then make love. But all the guys I've met want to go to bed the first night, then they tell you they don't want any serious relationships.

I don't want to get married right now. I just want a nice guy I can go out with for dinner, dancing or a movie.

I don't want to go to bars. Where are the nice men? Church is out because that's where I met my ex-husband, and he was no better than the rest. Please help me.

SICK OF WEEKENDS

DEAR SICK: I know I sound like a broken record, but I assure you there are some decent men out there. Keep saying no to guys who try to rush you into bed. Be fussy and stay clean. You'll be glad you did... for the "right man" somewhere out there.

LEMON SHERBET
It has tangy flavor.
1/2 cup sugar
1 cup light corn syrup
3 cups milk
Grated rind of 2 lemons

3/4 cup lemon juice
Stir together the sugar, corn syrup, milk, lemon rind and lemon juice until sugar dissolves — it will look slightly curdled. In a 2-quart electric freezer, freeze according to manufacturer's directions. Makes about 1 1/2 quarts. Serve scoops of the sherbet with scoops of vanilla ice cream.

Omar Sharif looked at the jack of clubs lead. The game was match point duplicate and his first thought was to play dummy's queen of clubs. Maybe West, who didn't look like much of a player, had made a surprise lead from K-J-x and there was a chance to collect a lot of tricks and a top score.

Then he wondered why a heart had not been opened. No one had bid hearts and North's three-club call had indicated a probable five-card suit.

Omar went a step further and saw that with East holding the club king, there was a good chance that three no-trump would go down at other tables. There were only eight tricks unless the clubs could be tamed.

Now Omar made sure of nine. He rose with dummy's ace of clubs and led a club toward his 10. He still had the king of hearts as an entry to dummy to cash the club queen.

Note that if Omar had finessed the club queen, East would have taken his king and might have led back a heart. In that case Omar would only have been able to score one club, four diamonds, two hearts, a spade and minus 100 for down one.

Uplifting idea

Here's a good tip for adding height to short-to-medium length hair: roll hair at the sides around a circular brush. Holding the brush in place, spray both the brush and your roots with hair-spray; let hair dry, then unwind. Comb or brush through gently to style. Add a light spritz of spray for hold.

The Maximiliano Hernandez Martinez Anti-Communist Brigade, one of several Salvadoran death squads, claimed responsibility Thursday for kidnapping Amilcar Martinez Arguera, 59, the ministry's director of economic affairs.

Martinez Arguera was abducted Tuesday outside his home in the capital. His wife Gilda and a daughter also were captured, but were released a few hours later.

The official once belonged to a leftist organization but resigned some time ago, said one relative, who asked not to be identified for fear of reprisals.

Relatives said Martinez Arguera was seriously ill, recovering from a brain tumor operation he underwent several weeks ago in the United States.

The anti-communist brigade first appeared a few months after civil war broke out in 1979 between the leftists and the U.S.-backed rightist government. In November 1980, it killed six of the nine leaders of the Democratic Revolutionary Front, a coalition of 18 leftist political parties.

Meantime, in Mexico City, Salvadoran leftist leader Hector Oqueli said four rebel representatives will meet with members of the government peace commission Sept. 29 in Bogota, Colombia. A planned third meeting may be the first on Salvadoran soil, he said. The two sides first met in Bogota on Aug. 28.

Cotton

NEW YORK (AP) — Cotton futures No. 2 were higher at midday dealings today. The average prices for strict low middling 1 & 1/16 inch spot cotton declined 167 points to 70.15 cents a pound Thursday for the eight markets, according to the New York Cotton Exchange. Midday prices were unchanged to $1.75 a bale higher than the previous close. Oct 75.50, Dec 77.00, Mar 78.50, May 79.50, Jul 79.80, Oct 76.15, Dec 75.00, and Mar 67.55.

Jazz trumpeter Louis Armstrong died in 1971.

The astrologer Nostradamus was born in 1566.

President James Garfield was mortally wounded July 2, 1881, by Charles J. Guiteau in Washington and died 80 days later.

LAKE FIRE — A runaway brush fire at Lake J.B. Thomas was reported in a heavily developed area just east of the Bull Creek Channel around 10:45 a.m. Thursday. Fire Chief Terry Don McDowell (shown here) said property destroyed included four cabins, one small trailer house, seven boat ramps, three well houses and two other storage buildings. Police find abducted baby

GRAND PRAIRIE, Texas (AP) — A 3-month-old girl abducted from a day care center was found wrapped in a sheet and crying in an Irving apartment laundry room today, police say.

"We found her this morning at 6:20 a.m. and it is a positive ID and the baby is well," said Grand Prairie police spokesman Gaylord Hayes.

Jessica Davis was kidnapped from the Learning Center and Child Care facility in Grand Prairie Monday by a woman posing as the baby's aunt.

Hayes said a couple on their way to work "heard the baby crying and went over there and found her ... She was just in there crying and didn't have any clothes on." He said the baby may have been in the laundry room as long as eight hours.

Police detectives accompanied the girl's parents, Charles and Kathryn Davis, to Irving, where they positively identified Jessica, Hayes said. Irving and Grand Prairie are suburbs west of Dallas.

At a news conference late this morning, Mrs. Davis said officers came by her house about 6:45 a.m. to take her and her husband to look at the baby.

On the way to Irving, "I think I prayed like I've never prayed before in my life. I didn't know whether to laugh, or cry, or what. I just didn't know how to feel," she said.

A cameraman met her at the door to the laundry room and said, "It's her. I know it's her." I saw her through the glass on the door and I started crying and told my husband, 'It's Jessie.' And she smiled," Mrs. Davis said.

She said her daughter seemed to be clean and "real happy."

"She's been well taken care of," she said, but added she "had to uncover her and look at her from head to toe to make sure she was all there." Mrs. Davis said she would take Jessica to a doctor for a checkup. The mother said she hoped the child's abductor would seek professional help.

"I have felt cheated all along because I had lost my child. If it's the case that she wants a child and can't have one, I understand. But she needs to come in and get help," Mrs. Davis said. "I can't hate her. If she had kept my child, I would have been very bitter. But now I pray that she will get herself in to the police and get help for herself."

She said she believed the abductor abandoned the child because of "her conscience and her realizing that she could not have this baby."

Mrs. Davis said she felt that the woman probably felt authorities were close to finding her.

"She couldn't go anywhere or be seen without being noticed," she said. Authorities on Thursday showed photographs of five suspects to employees of the day care center and to nearby residents.

Three of the photographs were of a woman from Garland, another Dallas suburb, and two Grand Prairie women who resemble an FBI sketch of the person who kidnapped Jessica from the day care center operated by Jack and Dee Doshier.

The other photographs were of a 55-year-old woman who is a possible suspect in the unsolved May 10 kidnapping of 7-week-old Cherie Ann Kennedy from a Fort Worth hospital, and the woman's daughter, believed to be in her 20s, police said.

The mother and daughter suspects are from Illinois but frequently stay in Oklahoma and were in the Dallas-Fort Worth area during the abductions, police said.

Penny Kennedy of Fort Worth, mother of Cherie Ann, also was shown the photographs, but she said she was unable to identify the 55-year-old woman as the person who took her daughter from her arms.

"She had a kind face, but a kind face can fool you," Mrs. Kennedy said. "I never thought this woman could do this, she was so friendly and nice."

The Garland woman has been a suspect in previous kidnappings and fits the description of Jessica's abductor, said Grand Prairie police Sgt. D.H. Pfeifer.

Police said there was nothing to link the Grand Prairie women to the kidnapping except for their physical resemblance to the abductor.

Staff members of the Department of Human Resources, which regulates day care centers, were preparing a recommendation Thursday on whether to revoke the child-care license of the Grand Prairie facility.

DHR inspectors visited the facility Tuesday to determine if it had violated any state standards.

Snyder police were called to investigate two misdemeanor thefts Thursday and arrested two subjects following the complaints.

Employees of the Shoe Mart reported a shoplifting incident at their store at 1:07 p.m. Officers later arrested a 17-year-old woman and a female juvenile in connection with the incident.

McLain Henden Wilson of 1409 24th St. called city police at 5:43 a.m. Friday and reported the theft of his wallet from a room at Cogdell Memorial Hospital.

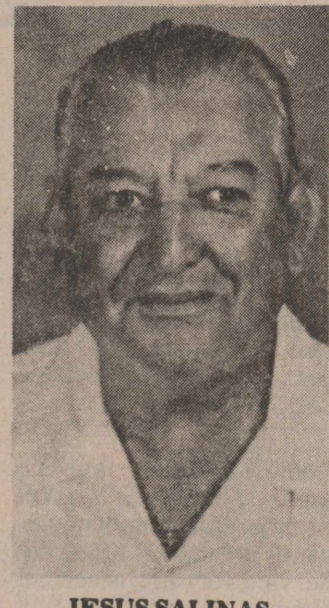

The billfold, containing an undetermined amount of cash and personal papers, disappeared from the room sometime between 2 p.m. Tuesday and 11:30 p.m. Thursday.

City police also jailed three suspects for DWI and three others for public intoxication Thursday evening.

Impotence and anxiety

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I'm 61 years old and have almost complete impotence. I had sleep tests and all the other tests they run in the hospital for this type of ailment. My urologist put me on a drug called Centrax. I am supposed to use it for nine or 12 months.

I understand this drug is for schizophrenia. Is this true? If so, why would I have to stay on it so long?

I have heard they have cylinders and flexible rods that can be implanted. Wouldn't it be simpler to use one of these than to take Centrax for such a long time?

Should I see another urologist for a second opinion or wait it out? Give me your honest opinion whether it hurts or not.

DEAR READER — Centrax is used to treat anxiety and you may think of it as a tranquilizer. Your urologist must think you are overly anxious and may think treating your anxiety may help you to perform better. One cause of impotence is fear of failure, and anxiety is related to that.

He may also know from your sleep tests that you have a normal erection mechanism during sleep, which would indicate that you have normal functions without medical problems. However, you can have some response and still have medical problems that cause the impotence.

The thinking about impotence has changed drastically in the past few years. In experienced men, impotence is usually caused by a medical problem, not fear of failure or anxiety. Anyone seeing a physician for impotence should have a minimum of a blood glucose test for diabetes, prolactin level and testosterone level. If your physician cannot provide these tests you are probably seeing the wrong physician to evaluate impotence. He may not be up to date and my advice to you is to see another physician who provides these tests.

Meanwhile I am sending you The Health Letter 18-6, Help For Impotence. Others who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

Yes, implants exist and are very helpful. But they are used in those who cannot be treated otherwise.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I would like some information on the symptoms of Behcet's syndrome.

DEAR READER — It is one of those rare diseases of unknown cause. It is more common in the Middle East and Japan where one in 10,000 persons may have it.

It causes ulcers in the mouth much like canker sores. In addition, it may cause ulcers on the genitalia and inflammation of the eyes. Arthritis may occur in half of the victims. Other forms of skin lesions may occur as well as many other symptoms, including colitis. There may be intervals entirely free of symptoms or manifestations of the disease.

Since the cause is not known it is not surprising that a satisfactory treatment to cure the disorder is also unknown. Treatment is usually symptomatic, which may include using prednisone or corticosteroids.

(NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.)
The number of primary school-aged children — 5 to 13 years old — was 30.7 million in 1981. The number is expected to decrease to 29.6 million in 1985. But by 1995, the number is likely to increase to 34.4 million.

Paul Harvey

Part of our problem with our problems is that we don't call things by their right names anymore.

We don't call a bum a bum anymore.

In the days when we did, the designation set apart from mainstream society a subculture which was willing to take responsibility for its own irresponsibility.

If a Bowery bum chose to drink himself to death he blamed no one but himself.

If a bum caught pneumonia in a dark boxcar buddies would bury him at the trackside with their hats off. He was a valiant "bum."

Itinerant those days might seek a backdoor handout — even offer to work for it.

Today the guy who comes to the front door demanding a share of what you have is something else.

Instead of foraging, he expects you to forage for him.

And if you don't he has government on his side to require that you do.

Our nation has a percentage of halt, lame and ineducable genuinely deserving of our help.

Our cities are presently part populated by a mostly young, mostly poor, mostly uneducated, often drug-guzzled bunch of trash.

They comprise what my mother used to call "alley rats;" what former Labor Secretary Wirtz called "the human scrapheap."

They frighten us when we're stopped at a stoplight in those neighborhoods.

Or when they intrude on our neighborhoods.

We think shame on them for dropping out, goofing off, shooting up and for looking so menacing.

And for daring to reproduce themselves.

While this scrapheap is growing toward overwhelming.

We have been letting them get away with labeling themselves "deprived," "disadvantaged," "discriminated against."

Camouflaged by those politician words they have moved in on the genuinely "deprived," "disadvantaged" and "discriminated against."

They are parasites attached to the bent backs of the deserving poor. Extortionists holding hostage the truly needy.

In the years-ago days of the bundle-on-a-stick-over-the-shoulder bums both they and we knew the difference between them and thieves.

Today we need an updated designation, a new identification to distinguish the helpless who need us from the leeches who feed on them and us.

Then surely from even the lowest rung on the social ladder the ghetto child could see that he or she "does not want to be one of those."

Thousands needed for Mattox defense

AUSTIN (AP) — Attorney General Jim Mattox will have to come up with "several hundred thousand dollars" to defend himself against commercial bribery charges, his attorney says.

"I'm not just talking about my attorneys' fees. We are going to have a lot of investigation. We are going to have all kinds of research by the best that there is — and it's going to have to be paid for," defense lawyer Roy Minton said Thursday.

His comment came after he and Mattox made a brief appearance before

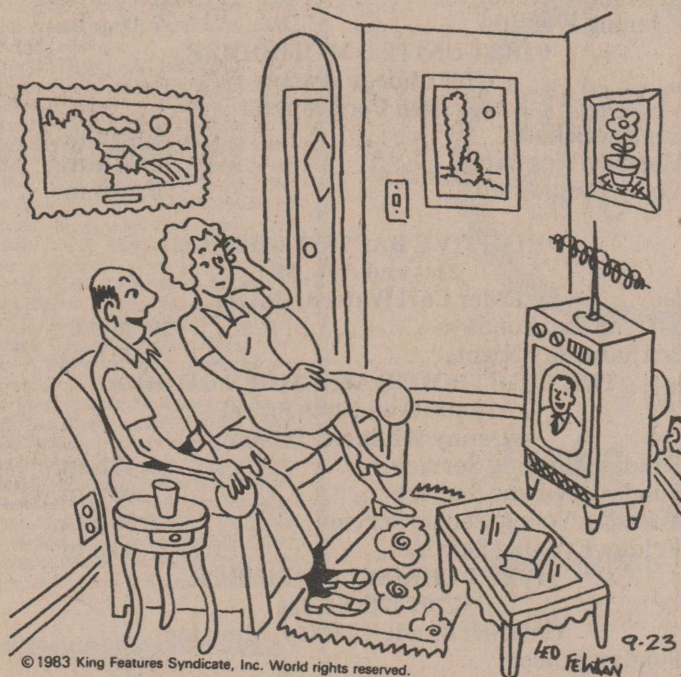

District Judge Mace B. Thurman Jr. to formally tell the judge who was representing the indicted attorney general.

Thurman set a Nov. 14 pre-trial hearing in the case.

Afterward, outside the Travis County courthouse, Minton said he does not believe Mattox will have to stand trial because the indictment is "ridiculous."

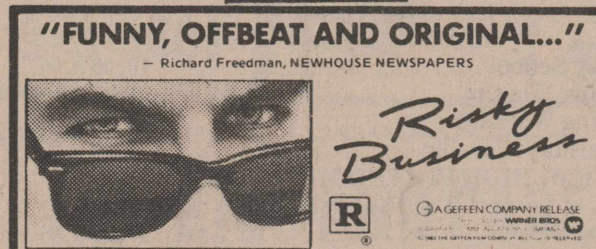

"Naturally, I'm thinking the judge is going to quash the indictment," Minton said. He said if the case does go to trial, it will be after Jan. 1.

Between 400,000 and 500,000 cases of pneumococcal pneumonia occur in the United States annually. And despite available antibiotics, as many as 5 percent of these cases result in fatalities, according to Merck Sharp & Dohme Research Laboratories, which has developed a new vaccine that says protects against at least 90 percent of all types of pneumococcal bacteria.

INDIANS keep tradition of the saguaro harvest
SAGUARO NATIONAL MONUMENT, ARIZ. (AP) — In her desert camp, Juanita Ahill rises at 4:30 when the sun is still just a glow. She gets a fire going and sets a pot of cholla stew over the flame to simmer. By the time the light is full, she is ready to begin her trek into the desert for the day's saguaro harvest. The stands of saguaro rise majestically against the unbroken sky. She walks the desert, head raised to spot the green pods with reddish tips, the telltale sign that the fruit has barely opened and is ripe. Tumbling the pod to the ground, she splits it open and with her thumbs scoops the brilliant red pulp into her bucket. It's all done with care. The saguaros command a great amount of respect in the Papago culture; to harm them would be a crime. "You don't use a knife," she says. "The saguaros are Indians. And you don't throw rocks at them. It kills them."

In the old days, everyone joined in a wine ceremony at the end of the harvest, to bring rain. That tradition has died out. And fewer participate in the harvest each year. Too, the harvest doesn't yield much, at least not by mechanized standards. Her brother, Louis Francisco, who also maintains a cactus camp in the area, says he expects to end the harvest with several gallons of saguaro syrup and eight or nine bottles of jam. "We always come every year," he says. "I'll be coming here as long as I live."

CARD OF THANKS 060

TO ALL OF Roy Rogers friends who knew and loved him. You can never know how much your love and friendship has meant to the children and I, in this darkest hour that we have ever faced. The food, flowers and cards were an overwhelming show of friendship to us. We each thank you from the bottom of our hearts. I want to thank Dr. Brice, Dr. Bursleson, the nurses in the hospital fourth floor - emergency room and especially in ICU: they did all they could and were so nice to us. When you face a dark hour like this may the Lord Bless and strengthen you as he has us.

Mrs. Roy C. Rogers
