Dedication of Marker, Reunion Set for Loco

Former residents of Loco and those who still live in the community will gather Sunday morning, Aug. 9, for the dedication of an official Texas historical marker.

Afterwards, they will come into Wellington to join friends from Arlie for the annual Loco-Arlie reunion.

The dedication ceremony will take place at 9:30 a..m at the marker site, in a grove of trees just south of the Loco FM Road, on Highway 83. This is approximately nine miles south of Wellington.

Deskins Wells, editor and publisher of The Wellington Leader, will give the dedicatory address.

Judge Glen Thompson of Morton, who grew up at Loco, will then unveil the marker and read its inscription paying tribute to the pioneers who settled there.

Greetings from the Texas Historical Society will be brought by Charles Woodburn of Amarillo or Mrs. Ralph Randall of Panhandle.

Cliff Campbell, commissioner of Precinct 4, Childress County, will be the master of ceremonies and welcome the visitors.

W. F. Harbin of Wellington will give the invocation and W. M. Durfey, who still lives in the community, will pronounce the benediction.

The public is invited to attend these ceremonies, said Mrs. Robert Mabery and Mrs. John Wolf, who are in charge of plans.

There will be no program at this years Loco-Arlie reunion. Rather it will be given over to visiting and renewing friendships, said Mrs. Pat Bouchelle, secretary.

Those attending are reminded that this year it will be held in the hospitality room of the Farm Bureau building.

The room will be open at 9:00 a.m. and a basket dinner will be served at noon.

Those wishing to bring paintings, pictures, or mementos of an earlier Loco-Arlie era are invited to do this.

The reunion will continue as long as those attending wish to stay.

Loco's Texas Historical Marker was made possible through donations by residents and former residents of the community and others interested in marking the site. Made of cast aluminum with Swedish steel effect, it measures 18 inches by 28 inches.

The marking of local historical sites and landmarks is part of the Texas State Historical Survey Committee's program of preservation activities. So far, the Survey Committee has erected more than 5,000 official markers.

The name and location of this marker will appear in the next edition of the Guide to Official Texas Historical Markers.

Families who contributed to the marker fund include those of:

John Brim, Mrs. S. W. Elbert Bounds, Cecil Lockhart, Mrs. Edna Downing, Tiffin Young, Mrs. Joe Terry for the King family, Bob Copeland,

Vacation Bible School Set at 1st Christian

County Will Replace Bridge on Buck Creek

A wooden bridge across Buck Creek nine miles west and a half south of Wellington, was condemned by the Commissioners' Court in an emergency session Tuesday night, July 28. Roads leading to it from the Buck Creek and Rolla communities were temporarily closed.

The bridge will be replaced by some other type of structure as early as possible and the roads reopened, County Judge Zook Thomas said.

Timbers in the 42-year-old bridge have rotted, making it unsafe for crossing, he explained.

The structure is now about 350 feet in length. Originally it was longer, long-time residents of the community recall, but many years ago, when repairs were needed, timbers were removed at one end and a dirt fill extended to the present bridge end. The lumber taken out was used in work on the remainder of the structure.

The commissioners have not decided the exact type of crossing replacement, but they are looking into the feasibility of a low-water structure, which would cost only a fraction as much as a new bridge, and which would be passable in all except the heaviest rainfalls that would cause flooding on Buck Creek.

P. O. Windows Will Be Closed Every Saturday

L. B. Bratten announced this week that post office windows will remain closed on Saturdays. Mail will be put in the boxes and delivered to the streets and on the rural routes as usual. Packages will also be delivered to business houses on Saturday.

The only first class mail that will be affected will be mail addressed to general delivery.

"We have plenty of boxes that are available for rent," Mr. Bratten said.

Earl Shamblee Cafe Entered

Earl Shamblee's Cafe on North Dallas Street was broken into Tuesday night, July 28 and an estimated $50 to $55 in cash and cigarettes were taken, Deputy Sheriff Alvin Minatrea reported.

Entry was gained by prying a lock off the south door, after the burglars failed to open a window on the west side of the building, Deputy Minatrea said.

A juke box was broken into and Shamblee estimates $25 to $30 in cash was taken. The remainder of the loss was in cartons of cigarettes.

The Sid Bells Did!

Not Every Vacation Has Bandits-Shootout

Mr. and Mrs. Sid Bell began their vacation quietly enough, visiting relatives in a number of Texas towns. But it ended with something akin to an old-time shoot-out—in the city that prides itself as "Where the West Begins".

In Fort Worth, they accompanied her son, Delmer Duckworth, 26, a city patrolman, who was off-duty, and his wife, to the grocery store.

The drama began about 7:15 p.m. when two gunmen, both clad in cowboy clothing and wearing large western hats, walked into the grocery. In the office, one stuck a long-barrel pistol into the face of Bill W. Newman, assistant manager. They forced him to put an undetermined amount of cash into a brown paper bag and ordered him to leave the store with them.

"My wife and I had just come from the store when the men came out with the manager," said Duckworth, who was not in uniform.

"They saw me and pushed the manager back and fired, presumably to scare me, and then ran for their car." This occurred on the store's parking lot, crowded, Mrs. Bell estimated, with 200 to 300 people.

The two men scrambled into a black late-model car, with a third at the wheel. The policeman said the gunman with the long-barrel pistol, which appeared to be a .45-calibre, was "leaning out the window and firing" when Duckworth shot back.

One bullet struck the bandit in the upper part of his right arm and the other ripped a hole in the front door of the car on the passenger side.

Duckworth was not hit. One bullet, however, was directed toward Bell, who was outside the car when the incident occurred. It missed, too.

The two women crouched as low as they could on the back seat of the car.

"I'll hear that gun for a long time," said Mrs. Bell.

Before going to Fort Worth, the couple visited Mr. and Mrs. Billy Seale and family in Vega, Mrs. Gib Bell in Brownfield, Patrolman and Mrs. Don Gosnell in Ballinger and Mrs. Virgie Gosnell in Cisco. All formerly lived here.

Kin of Mrs. G. C. Graham Unhurt

Mrs. C. G. Graham has received word from her son and daughter who live in Corpus Christi saying that they and their families came through Hurricane Celia unscathed.

Some damage to the roofs of their homes was their only loss.

Wendell Graham is the head agent for the Greyhound Lines in Corpus Christi and her son-in-law, Roy Welch, is a salesman for the S&Q Men's Store.

They reported the overall damage to downtown Corpus Christi as devastation.

Solar Grooves New in Siding

COLLEGE STATION.—A new type of wood siding for homes is being studied by the Forest Products Laboratory of the United States Department of Agriculture. The siding, called "solar-groove", consists of a series of V-shaped grooves machined so that in summer the bottom surface faces the sun and in winter the top surface faces the sun.

The bottom of the groove is painted with a reflective coating. The top is painted with an absorbing coating.

In the summer the reflecting surfaces face the sun to reflect the sun and heat, thus cooling the house. In the winter absorbing surfaces facing the sun cause the sun's heat to be absorbed and warm the house, reducing the need for internal heating.

Plan Now, Says Chairman

Women's Divison a Lively Part of Fair

Exhibits in some divisions of the Collingsworth County Fair must be completed well ahead of time. This is especially true of the Women's Open Division.

Mrs. Bill Hill, general chairman, has reminded that every woman in the county over 18 years of age is eligible to participate in this show, and she will have her choice of divisions—baked products or food preservation, clothing or textile furnishings.

The Women's Division will be in Bura Handley Community Center, through both Fair days, Friday and Saturday, Sept. 18 and 19.

Because canned foods must be prepared ahead of time, Mrs. Hill announced the various classes and requested that those interested in competing keep the list. There have been a number of changes from last year.

The deadline for having entries in place is 9:00 a.m. Friday and items must remain through Saturday evening.

Mrs. Hill urges, however, that the canned food entries be brought and placed Thursday if possible.

First, second and third place ribbons will be awarded in each division.

Baked Products

Although baked products will be prepared in the last hours before the Fair begins, many exhibitors will want to plan their entries well ahead of time.

Mrs. Joe Terry is chairman of this division, with Mrs. J. W. Tatum and Mrs. Bill Langford her assistants.

The classes include:

Bread: yeast loaf, rolls (6), fancy rolls (6), quick loaf (banana nut, etc.), biscuits (6), cornbread (6), and any other bread.

Uniced cakes: angel, pound, fruit, white loaf and any other.

Iced cakes: white layer, cocoanut layer, chocolate layer, German chocolate, spice, any other.

Cookies: drop (6), rolled (6), bar (6), pressed (6), refrigerator (6), and any other.

Pies: one crust, two crust, and fried.

Candies: (6 pieces of each) fudge, divinity, date loaf, peanut or any other.

Food Preservation

Mrs. Cecil Masten is chairman of the food preservation division, with Mrs. Edna Bradley of Samnorwood and Mrs. R. T. Savage as assistants.

The chairmen remind that all jars must be clean when exhibited, and fruits and vegetables must be in standard pint or quart jars. Standard pints must be used for jellies and no paraffine seals will be allowed.

Foods entered must have been canned since the 1969 Fair.

Classes are:

Canned fruits: peaches, cherries, plums, pears, berries and others.

Canned vegetables: peas, tomatoes, corn, potatoes, green beans, soup mixtures, juices, and other.

Jellies: grape, plum, apple and others.

Preserves: pear, peach, apricot, cherry, apple and others.

Notes from Your County Home Demonstration Agent

By Mrs. Leta Hill

Pickle Pointers

Peter Piper and all the other pickle pickers and packers are always looking for ways to improve their pickle products. Since the pickle is an international favorite in almost every country and you could say every homemaker has her own recipe. I ran across some do's and don't's on making pickles from the University of Idaho. I thought that these pickle pointers would make valuable reading for you who pack pickles.

1. Do use a modern day pickle recipe. Grandmother's recipe may call for too much vinegar because the vinegar of 25 years ago had less acetic acid than today's. In those days variations in the strength of vinegars was the biggest problem in pickling. Today we do not have to be uncertain. Buy a standard 40-60 grain strength. This means that the vinegar contains 4-6 percent acetic acid.

2. Distilled white vinegar should be your first choice for pickling. It safeguards the original color of the foods.

3. Do use pure granulated salt. Table salt has added lump preventing materials that may be undesirable.

4. Do use soft water if possible. Some minerals in "hard" waters may interfere with the pickling process.

5. Do use whole spices to give a clear, undarkened product. White sugar gives a clearer color than brown.

6. Don't use coloring agents. Olive green is the correct color for pickles, not bright green or blue green.

7. Don't use zinc lids. The vinegar may unite with the zinc to form a poisonous compound.

Cucumbers suitable for pickling are firm and crisp with an even green color throughout. Gather and brine them within 24 hours. Letting them stand too long between gathering and brining may cause hollow pickles.

Maybe these pointers will help you improve your pickles.

New Porta-Pair

The Porta-Pair appeals to all who have wanted a washer and dryer, but lack space. Ideal for use in apartments, mobile homes, retirement centers, or vacation cottages, the washer with highspeed extractor needs just 24" x 30⅛" x 15" of space.. Store it in a closet, under a counter or in a corner. Smooth rolling casters wheel the machine to the water supply at kitchen or bathroom sink. It's companion piece, the Porta-Dryer, matches in size and capacity. The dryer does not require venting and operates on a 115-volt outlet.

If two feet of floor-to-ceiling space is available, a laundry nook can be created with the dryer wall-mounted; or use the chrome stand, available as an accessory, that permits a piggy back arrangement. Look for these soon in local stores.

Electronic Tongue

Taste is one of the most elusive of all human senses. There may be a solution to flavor problems for food processors: scientists at Cornell University have developed an electronic tongue. Once the tongue operator sets limits, the device would telegraph it's rating much like an electrocardiogram. Commercially, this electronic taster would have many advantages in standardizing tastes, make precise judgments about flavors in foods and in studying tastes objectively.

GOSPEL MEETING!
BY GAYLORD COOK

You may well have seen advertisements of Gospel Meetings through the years and wondered just what takes place at a Gospel Meeting. The 13th & Bowie Church of Christ will be having a Gospel Meeting the week of August 10-16. We would invite you to come and see for yourself what a Gospel Meeting is. So that you might know what to expect I might point out that the services each evening at 8:00 p. m. will consist of congregational singing, prayers of thanksgiving and supplication to God and a study of the Bible. In next week's effort, Mr. Joe Laird of Duncan, Oklahoma will be leading us in the study of the Bible. You are promised that if you will come and be with us next week you will be neither embarassed, insulted nor solicited for money. Our only concern will be the saving of souls, and we believe this will be the result of carefully studying and following God's Word. Come be with us!

The family of P. M. Simpson met Sunday, July 26, to honor him on his 94th birthday. The event was held in the home of a daughter, Mrs. Mattie Garner of Samnorwood.

The group had lunch at Community Park at Samnorwood and visited with friends who called to visit and congratulate the guest of honor.

Charlie Hyman, who had his 93rd birthday only recently,, was one of those who called, and the two spent considerable time reminiscing.

Sunday night, part of the family met at the John Simpson home for visiting and singing.

Mr. Simpson lived at Samnorwood many years before going to Aztec, New Mexico, 15 years ago to make his home with a daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Crouch. He returns here regularly, however, to observe his birthdays.

Mr. Simpson has eight children, 13 grandchildren, and 13 great-grandchildren.

Family and Hundred Friends Honor Mrs. W. S. White on Her Birthday

Mrs. Winfield S. White was honored on her 80th birthday Sunday, August 2, at her home in the Kelley community.

Her children were hosts: Mrs. Olaf W. (Beulah Mae) Harkleroad of Cotton Center; Mrs. Robert S. (Helen) Foote of Frisco, Colorado; Mrs. Morris J. (Peggy) Holland of Wellington; Mrs. Robert I. (Joanna) Bush of East Peoria, Illinois; Mrs. Joe W. Tarver (Virginia Nell) of Wellington; Austin T. White of Amarillo; John W. White of Wellington and Kelly White of Frisco, Colorado. The latter was the only one unable to attend.

Seated with Mrs. White to receive the guests were her two sisters, Mrs. J. W. Chapman of Wellington and Mrs. Arthur Ford of Hale Center.

The one hundred friends who called included many who see each other but rarely, and visiting, reminiscing and renewing friendships made this a festive occasion.

The refreshment table was laid with a cutwork cloth and appointed in silver. Three granddaughters, Sallie Tarver, Shannon Holland and Cynthia Foote of Frisco, Colorado, served.

A Virginian, Mrs. White was born at Historic Roanoke. She was the former Ethel Mae Kesler, daughter of John and Fannie Kesler. She was only nine when the family moved to Texas and settled at Paris. In 1906 they moved to Collingsworth County and settled in the Kelley community and Mrs. White has lived nowhere else. She attended school near Cooper and at Kelley.

The community spirit that was strong in the Kesler family led her father to help in the organization of a school—the one she attended—and the Kelley Methodist Church which she attended until it was disbanded only a few years ago.

She was married to Winfield S. White on April 2, 1911. He, too, was a member of a family that was instrumental in the community's development..

Mrs. White is still active in church work, attending regularly the services of First United Methodist Church in Wellington, and she is a life member of the Woman's Society of Christian Service.

Growing flowers and working in her yard are Mrs. White's hobbies, and one of the marvels of the birthday party was that she has so many blooming in a summer that is so hot.

Those coming from out of town to her party were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Burcham of Lone Wolf, Oklahoma; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cox of Mangum, Oklahoma; Miss Grace Burcham and Miss Pearl Burcham of Weatherford, Oklahoma; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Swanger of Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. Homer Rosenbaum and children of Abilene;

Mr. and Mrs. Austin White of Amarillo; Mrs. Arthur Ford and Charles Ford of Hale Center; Mr. and Mrs. Bill McAlister and children of Lubbock;

Dorothy Dosher of Hobbs, N. M., Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Wulfman of Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Duncan of Richardson; Mr. and Mrs. Dick Rapp of Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. Orville Ford and children of Lubbock; Norman Dysart and Mrs. LaVerne McPherson of Amarillo; Mrs. Minnie Dysart of Mobeetie; Mrs. Gladys Hodges of Lubbock;

Mrs. Edith Quitt of Frederick, Oklahoma; E. W. Harkleroad and children of Sweetwater, Oklahoma; Mrs. Neil Masters and children of Frisco, Colorado; and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kincaid and son of Pekin, Illinois.

Wellington visitors last week were Mr. and Mrs. John Priest and children, Amy, 6, and Andy, 4, of San Antonio, and Mr. and Mrs. Billy Leach and daughter, Lori, 3, of Houston.

They are the children of the late Mr. and Mrs. Bill Leach and were here looking after property. They were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jake Leach.

Mr. Priest is dean of students of San Antonio Academy, a private military school for boys through the eighth grade. Mrs. Priest, the former Andrea Leach, teaches third grade in San Antonio Public School.

Mr. Leach is with the casualty division of Texas Employers Insurance Co., and only a few weeks ago was promoted to an executive position.

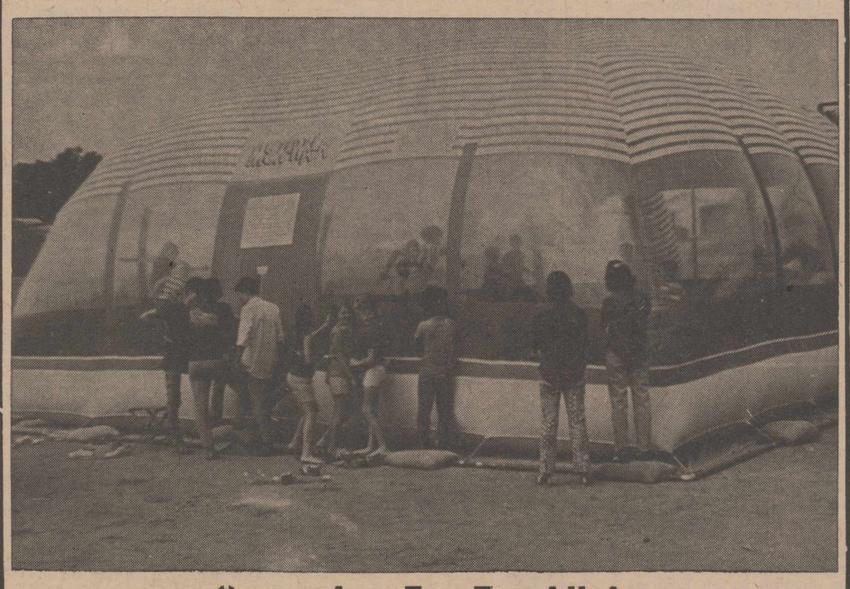

Mr. and Mrs. Gaylord Cook, Gaylynn and Kim have been vacationing recently up in Colorado. They went to Wagon Wheel Gap. Mr. and Mrs. Dwane Scott and Gary were there also. They fished and picnicked for a week. While there they saw Mr. and Mrs. Pat McAlister, Mr. and Mrs. Les White and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Nelson.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Elliott during the week end were their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Don Crawford, Belinda, Deborah, Don D and Beverly of Austin, and Mr. Elliott's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Billie Cornett of Groom.

The Important Vote

Will you be a political drop-out?

Throughout the nation men and women within the parties are laying the groundwork for November's election. Many candidates face primary opposition. This provides an opportunity to select those candidates representing your points-of-view to be the party nominees in November.

There is a lot of homework to be done. Local, state and national issues should be analyzed, discussed and decisions made.

There is more to politics than just "talk."Each one of us should back up our "talk" with a vote.

If you have any idea that you might be out-of-town on voting day—either the primary or the general election, then by all means take the time and made the effort to secure an absentee ballot. Then use it.

We could go back in history to many elections decided by one vote. We don't think it necessary. The only way you can prevent becoming a political drop-out is to make sure that you cast your vote.

Who Subsidizes Who?

Generally speaking, agriculture has been considered a subsidized industry. Government has poured billions of tax dollars into ill-advised farm programs —programs that millions of farmers would like to see scrapped in favor of more reliance on a free market in place of the restrictions that inevitably accompany government subsidies.

Farmers simply do not like the idea of being looked upon as beneficiaries of taxpayer houndouts. In fact, a farm industry representative has rejected the notion that taxpayers are subsidizing farmers. He says, ". . . One of the biggest subsidies taking place in the country today is the subsidy by agriculture of the consumer." He argues that farmers subsidize the cities of America with brainpower. "Rural youth finish high school and college at great expense then go to the cities to make their contributions," he commented. A second subsidy, the farm spokesman declared, is the tremendous amount of food and fiber farmers provide to the consumer at less cost in proportion to wages than any other area in the world. The points made by this farm leader throw a new light on a little understood industry.

STATE Capital NEWS By VERN SANFORD

AUSTIN. — Campaigns are shaping up on some of the seven proposed constitutional amendments to be voted on by Texans at the General Election on Nov. 3.

While public interest centers on the liquor-by-the drink amendment, there are other major alterations in the state's laws to be considered by the voters.

In their order on the ballot these are:

1. Enlarge the powers of the Judicial Qualifications Commission to censure or remove lower court judges and justices of the peace as well as district and appellate judges.

2. Authorize the legislature to enact a law on the sale of mixed drinks.

3. Provide for legislative establishment of a uniform method of tax assessment on ranch, farm and forest lands based on the capability of the lands to support the raising of livestock or production of farm and forest crops.

4. Make the State Building Commission a three-member appointive agency.

5. Permit counties to issue road bonds up to one-fourth of their assessed real property valuation on a majority vote.

6. Make town or city homesteads of $10,000 and less exempt from forced sales (presently set at $5,000).

7. Allow the legislature to provide for consolidating offices and functions of government and for performance of governmental functions by contract between the political subdivisions in any county.

Texas voters have adopted 195 amendments to the 1876 constitution, over the years, and rejected 125.

Desegregation Suits

Federal negotiators report that only a few of the 38 Texas school districts, called on the carpet concerning segregation, had satisfactory plans for complying with U.S. guidelines. They conducted a two-day conference with school officials here and gave most of them another week to try and work out something or face a lawsuit by the U.S. Justice Department.

Negotiators suggested "pairing" of adjoining neighborhood schools to get better racial balance.

Lufkin, Marshall, Midland and Katy found no ground for agreement with the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare and Justice Department negotiators. Some Complained that federal officials raised a new issue . . . that of integrating Mexican-Americans, as well as blacks. Most wanted to continue their efforts to find a way to comply with suggested plans.

Palestine reached a tentative agreement on pairing plans involving two grades in each school and requiring limited busing.

Courts Speak

Alcoholic Beverage Commission's rules governing private clubs are headed for a U.S. Supreme Court test after the highest state court finally upheld the agency's regulation. Club operators claim "king's-x" against the rules while the appeal is "diligently pursued".

Texas will be among the first states to challenge constitutionality of the new federal act extending voting rights to 18-year-olds.

State Supreme Court, splitting 5-4, held that a businessman could not collect a $10,000 libel judgment against a Denton newspaper for a story, based on an accurate account of a statement made at a city council meeting where it was erroneously reported that the man had declared bankruptcy.

La Raza Unida Party brought a mandamus suit in the Supreme Court to require its candidates' names to be placed on the general election ballots in three South Texas counties (Dimmitt, LaSalle and Zavala.)

Supreme Court agreed with an intermediate court decision that judges cannot grant occupational drivers' licenses just so those whose licenses have been suspended can get to work.

Loophole Costs

State has lost millions in land revenue due to an old loophole in the law, which was temporarily closed last vear.

State Land Office has been forced to sell submerged land for $1 an acre to any navigation district that wanted it. Another law permitted district to declare land so acquired surplus to their needs—and sell it to the highest bidder.

So, Aransas County Navigation District, for example, acquired 604 acres near Rockport (in Little Bay) for $1 an acre, then resold to a corporation. Some 165 acres of property now is selling for $33,098 an acre.

Now, no more state-owned beaches, islands or submerged land may be sold or leased until the Interagency Natural Resources Council makes it final report to the legislature—or until May 31, 1973 — whichever date is first. Unless the legislature takes a permanent step, the Land Commissioner once more could be forced to sell land requested by navigation districts for $1 an acre.

Gas Price Rise Urged

Federal Power Commission at hearings on natural gas prices in the Permian Basin was urged to end pricing controls or raise rates fast and substantially.

Commission examiner reopened the Permian Basin rate case that resulted in the establishment of 1965 ceiling rates at well-head.

Witnesses, including producers and political officeholders, called on the commission also to halt "two-price" system for wells drilled before 1961 and new wells.

Some called the 1965 regulation a dismal failure that led to the current shortage in gas reserves.

Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin pledged full resources of his office against any effort at federal regulation of Texas intrastate gas market. FPC now regulating gas moving interstate.

Air Pollution End Seen

An end to "visible" air pollution in Texas in less than a decade has been predicted by the director of the State Air Control Board.

ACB Chief Charles Barden so forecast at a budget hearing for his agency.

Board, revealed Barden, now is working on a state regulation to control pollution from vehicles. Regulation will be in effect before the year is out.

Federal Grants

Recent federal grants include $200,541 to Southwestern Educational Development Laboratory for continuation of Head Start Pilot Program in McAllen; $240,000 for alcoholic counseling and recovery program in San Antonio; and $21,340 for planning assistance to Lower Rio Grande Valley Development Council.

Short Snorts

- District Judge Herman Jones of Austin was named by Gov. Preston Smith as presiding judge of the Third Administrative Judicial District, succeeding D. B. Wood of Georgetown.
- New York World's Fair dinosaurs have been donated by Sinclair (Atlantic Richfield) to Dinosaur Valley State Scenic Park at Glen Rose.
- Half of the nation's potential oil and gas reserves remain to be discovered, say geologists.
- Twenty-seven applications for permits to sell $31.9 million worth of securities in Texas were filed with the State Securities Board last week.
- Joe H. Jones, special research associate with the UT Bureau of Business Research, reports that a recession in Texas economy was clearly evident through the first half of 1970, with prospects for a significant economic recoverywithin the next six months appearing unlikely.

CROSSROADS REPORT

Some congressmen are highly in favor of putting a $20,000-a-year limit on the subsidy which a farmer can draw for running his business like the government says.

But the tight-waddish lawmakers are not expected to get economical enough to cut down the $40,000-a-year-plus personal subsidy they voted for themselves last year in one of their numerous loose-waddish moments.

Which $20,000/$40,000 ratio would seem to show solonic judgment that a food-producing farmer is worth only half as much to the country as a deficit - producing congressman.

News is that the Internal Revenue Service has moved into the integrating business, with orders to cancel the tax exempt status of all-white private schools.

Which is a very shrewd move because it aims to accomplish, with the same tactic, two noble governmental objectives: (1) people-mixing and (2) more tax loot.

Next logical step, of course, is to revoke the $600 tax exemption on a family's children, except where the parents are of contrasting color so that all of their kids are pre-integrated.

Swine Production on Plains Analyzed

PR-2756, a Texas Agricultural Experiment Station publication summarizes 1969 studies in the Plains area of Texas dealing with the economics of swine production.

Advances in production technology and favorable hog prices have caused many farm operators to consider swine as a possible supplemental enterprise in their farming operations. The progress report gives detailed budgets on investment costs and returns under different conditions, emphasizing the importance of good management.

Copies are available from area Extension farm management specialists or the Department of Agricultural Information, Texas A&M University, College Station 77843.

"(7) The Commission shall keep itself informed as fully as may be of circumstances relating to the misconduct or disability of particular persons holding an office named in Paragraph A of Subsection (6) of this Section, receive complaints or reports, formal or informal, from any source in this behalf and make such preliminary investigations as it may determine. Its orders for the attendance or testimony of witnesses or for the production of documents at any hearing or investigation shall be enforceable by contempt proceedings in the District Court.

"(8) After such investigation as it deems necessary, the Commission may in its discretion issue a private reprimand, or if the Commission determines that the situation merits such action, it may order a hearing to be held before it concerning the removal, or retirement of a person holding an office named in Paragraph A of Subsection (6) of this Section, or it may in its discretion request the Supreme Court to appoint an active or retired District Judge or Justice of a Court of Civil Appeals as a Master to hear and take evidence in any such matter, and to report thereon to the Commission. If, after hearing, or after considering the record and report of a Master, the Commission finds good cause therefor, it shall issue an order of public censure or it shall recommend to the Supreme Court the removal, or retirement, as the case may be, of the person in question holding an office named in Paragraph A of Subsection (6) of this Section and shall thereupon file with the Clerk of the Supreme Court the entire record before the Commission.

"(9) The Supreme Court shall review the record of the proceedings on the law and facts and in its discretion may, for good cause shown, permit the introduction of additional evidence and shall order public censure, retirement or removal, as it finds just and proper, or wholly reject the recommendation. Upon an order for involuntary retirement for disability or an order for removal, the office in question shall become vacant. The rights of an incumbent so retired to retirement benefits shall be the same as if his retirement had been voluntary."

"(11) The Supreme Court shall by rule provide for the procedure before the Commission, Masters and the Supreme Court. Such rule shall afford to any person holding an office named in Paragraph A of Subsection (6) of this Section, against whom a proceeding is instituted to cause his retirement or removal, due process of law for the procedure before the Commission, Masters and the Supreme Court in the same manner that any person whose property rights are in jeopardy in an adjudicatory proceeding is entitled to due process of law, regardless of whether or not the interest of the person holding an office named in Paragraph A of Subsection (6) of this Section in remaining in active status is considered to be a right or a privilege. Due process shall include the right to notice, counsel, hearing, confrontation of his accusers, and all such other incidents of due process as are ordinarily available in proceedings whether or not misfeasance is charged, upon proof of which a penalty may be imposed.

"(12) No person holding an office named in Paragraph A of Subsection (6) of this Section shall sit as a member of the Commission or Supreme Court in any proceeding involving his own retirement or removal.

"(13) This Section 1-a is alternative to and cumulative of, the methods of removal of persons holding an office named in Paragraph A of Subsection (6) of this Section provided elsewhere in this Constitution.

Sec. 2. The foregoing constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this state at an election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1970, at which election the ballots shall be printed to provide for voting for or against the proposition: "The constitutional amendment relating to the removal, retirement, or censure of Justices, Judges, and Justices of Peace under prescribed circumstances."

Officers Named

Men, Youths Advance in Order of Arrow

Two hundred Scouts and adult Scouters attended the annual fall conference of the Chief Lone Wolf Lodge, Order of the Arrow, of the Adobe Walls Council Friday and Saturday, July 31 and Aug. 1 at Camp M. K. Brown, 8.5 miles northwest of Wheeler.

The Order of the Arrow is the national camping society of the Boy Scouts of America.

The Comanche District, comprised of Wheeler, Collingsworth, Hall, Donley and Southeast Gray counties, was awarded the Buckskin Award with the best attendance of its members.

Robert Dwight of Samnorwood, recently elected Comanche District Chairman, was one of three who received the Vigil, or National Honor. This is the highest honor of the order.

Glenn McLain, Scoutmaster of Troop 32, Wellington, Barry Long and Jim Bob Nall of Wellington, completed the Brotherhood, or second honor.

Richard and Randall Sims, Donnie Settle and Steve Hartman completed their Ordeal Honor and became full members.

Altogether, 102 boys were initiated into the order while 30 completed the Brotherhood.

Considerable work was accomplished at the camp, most of which centered around the Council Ring where ceremonies, camp fires and large events are staged. The work included installation of an electrical system for lights and a public address system, as well as enlargement and development of staging facilities.

The Chief Lone Wolf Lodge will host the 7A Conclave in April 1970, in which approximately 400 Scouts and Scouters from eight other councils in the Panhandle and Western Texas will attend.

The Comanche chapter elected officers for the coming year with Phillip Range of Shamrock as Chapter Chief, Ted McLain of Wellington, vice-chief, and Barry Long of Wellington as secretary-treasurer. Glenn McLain of Wellington was unanimously elected chapter advsir.

During the fall and winter months, the Comanche Chapter will work on several projects, such as tree planting and road building at the Council Circle, said Dave Agnew, Comanche District Scout executive.

Mrs. Hill, Reeves Attend Extension Agents Meeting

COLLEGE STATION—"Shaping Our Environment in the 1970's" is the theme for the Aug. 10-14 biennial conference of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Mrs. Leta Hill, Collingsworth County home demonstration agent, and Don Reeves, county agricultural agent, will attend the conference, to be held on the campus of Texas A&M University. Their offices in the courthouse will be closed, and Mrs. Billy Colson, secretary, will be on vacation.

Extension Director John E. Hutchison said the conference program has been developed around three phases of environment: physical, economic and social. Outstanding authorities in their fields will be featured speakers at the morning general sessions, and during the afternoons, conferences will dig deeper into the different aspects of the environmental problem by participating in one of five special sessions.

The five sessions on Tuesday afternoon have to do with physical environment and carry such titles as "Natural Resources — Who Needs Them?"; "Move Over! I Need Elbow Room"; "Who's Calling Your Plays"; "Mind Over Matter" and "Environmental Pollution—A Reasonable View". Each special group will feature a program dealing with the problem or problems relating to their assigned segment of physical environment.

Wednesday's special sessions will delve into such problems as "Cost of Living Higher"; "Render Unto Caesar"; "Loving Care for Legal Tender"; "Fate of the Famliy Farm" and "Ill Winds", all important aspects of economic environment.

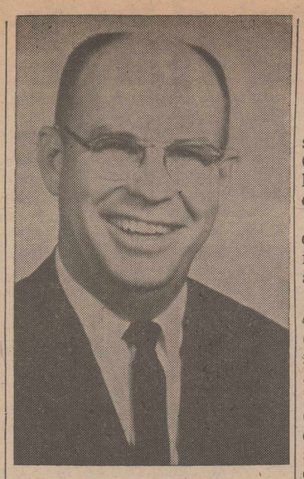

Thursday's group sessions will take a look at social environment under such titles as "Do Your Own Think"; "Just Between Us"; "Cop Out or Commitment"; " . . . And Baby Makes Three"; and "What Leisure Time?"

Farm Bureau Sends Fireman to A&M School

COLLEGE STATION.—J. D. Baker, volunteer fireman on the Wellington Volunteer Fire Department is attending the 41st Annual Texas Firemen's Training School. The school, attended by more than 1,800 men representing some 425 cities from approximately 25 states, is being held on the Texas A&M University campus this week.

Fireman Baker is being sponsored by the Collingsworth County Farm Bureau and Texas Farm Bureau Insurance Companies by contributing toward his cost of the school. Since volunteer firemen are interested in attending this school to help do a better job of fire fighting and fire prevention, the County Farm Bureaus and the Texas Farm Bureau Insurance Companies in the statewide program have sponsored 100 firemen to the school.

The Insurance Company believes volunteer fire departments have been very effective in reducing the amount of loss involved by fire in rural areas. It is their hope in sponsoring this program that the firemen will help the Wellington Volunteer Fire Department to better serve the residents of Collingsworth County.

Dwight Succeeds to Top District Scout Office

In a called meeting of the Comanche District Executive Committee, Boy Scouts of America, James Colvin of Shamrock submitted his resignation as chairman, effective immediately.

Mr. Colvin explained that he is moving to another part of the state and could no longer carry out the duties of the office.

Robert Dwight, superintendent of the Samnorwood Schools was unanimously chosen district chairman to fill out Mr. Colvin's unexpired term.

"This is the highest administrative office of the district and it is a tribute to this dedicated Scouter to succeed to this place," said Dave Agnew, district Scout executive.

Mr. Dwight was in his second term as district commissioner, and a replacement for that place will be named within the next few weeks, Mr. Agnew said.

Mr. Dwight announced that on Aug. 20 the district will hold its annual Roundup Kickoff, tentatively planned to be held at Shamrock.

The camping and activities committees are presently planning the annual fall camp-out of all units of the Comanche District.

Men In Service

FORT BENNING, Ga.— 2nd Lt. Robert Stanley Gosnell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lee Gosnell of Wellington, has successfully completed the 58-day Ranger training course at Fort Benning.

The Ranger course is designed to develop leadership qualities of selected male officers and enlisted men of the U.S. Army by refining their knowledge of small unit tactics and techniques, and enhancing leadership traits, such as prompt obedience, self-discipline, self-confidence, resourcefulness and determination.

The training is exacting and demanding, both physically and mentally, and only highly motivated, determined soldiers complete it successfully.

Lt. Gosnell is an ROTC graduate of Texas Tech University at Lubbock.

Frank Phillips College Has New Night School

Important changes have been scheduled for the Evening Classes at Frank Phillips College, effective at the beginning of the fall term, Aug. 31.

Evening Classes are scheduled for four evenings weekly, instead of two class nights and a lab night as in the past.

Students enrolling in lecture classes will meet each class only one night weekly. This arrangement will save both time and travel. It will also provide the opportunity for a person to enroll in four 3-hour lecture classes each semester, or ten semester hours if a science course is included.

Students commuting from outlying towns in this area, who are planning to take only one subject, will welcome this significant change in the Evening Class schedules. They will save half of their mileage and half of their travel time.

A by-product of the entirely new and modern Evening Class schedule is the lowering of the dismissal time each evening from 10:35 p.m. to 9:45 p.m., enabling students to leave the campus almost an hour earlier.

The tentative schedule, which lists many new courses being offered this fall, a number of which have been requested by interested students in the area, can be obtained by calling the Director of The Evening Division, Frank Phillips College, Borger, Texas, 274-5311.

THAT BROWN STUFF

Did you know that American currency has been printed in a variety of colors?

Today we're used to only one type of color combination in our paper money. The predominant colors are black and green, with the portrait on the obverse in black and white. The bills are also considerably enlivened by the various colors of seals, serial numbers, and other embellishments.

In the past, however, our currency was printed in other color combinations. Some interesting examples are these:

The Refunding Certificates of 1879 were printed in black and white. They were somewhat dull but still served their purpose.

Brownish black was the color used for the Silver Certificates of 1878 and 1880 and the first issues of the National Bank Notes of 1882 were printed in brown.

Frank Phillips College Praised for Sound Educational Program

Frank Phillips College stands today, a two-year college, recognized in the field of higher education as a superior junior college. Recently it was lauded by an evaluation committee of educators who were making a ten-year check for the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools. In their final report the following statement is taken from the introduction: "The entire college reflected a freshness and cleanliness that made members of the visiting committee quite envious. In addition to this, there was evidence of a sound collegiate educational program in operation."

In a community and area where a population decline has been experienced, and located in a city which had a drop in population, Frank Phillips College can show a very evident and healthy 10-year increase in students.

Over the years, as the junior college movement has grown and expanded, Frank Phillips College in Borger, has grown and changed.

Frank Phillips College provides terminal technical, vocational, and semi-professional education, of two years' duration or less adapted to the needs of the students and those of the community and region.

Frank Phillips College provides education in the arts and sciences at the level of the first two years of college, but designed specifically for a two-year as opposed to a four-year schedule.

Frank Phillips College provides art and sciences and pre-professional education equivalent to the first two years of a four-year college and preparatory to advanced undergraduate education in such a college, thereby eliminating much of the enrollment pressures on the four-year institutions.

Frank Phillips College offers a wide choice of general education and special courses for adults to help them train and retrain to meet present and future employment requirements, to keep active, and to make wise use of their leisure time.

Frank Phillips College opened for the reception of students Sept. 6, 1948. During the opening months, the Texas State Department of Education recognized Frank Phillips College as a standard two-year institution of higher learning. In April of 1949, the Association of Texas Colleges accredited Frank Phillips College with full membership in the Association. After changing to a new campus, Frank Phillips College applied and was fully accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools in 1958.

In 1968 the regular ten-year study was made of Frank Phillips College, and it was again approved as a first class institution of higher education.

Many senior colleges and universities visit the Frank Phillips College campus to get the graduates. The old cry of transfer of credits from a junior college to a senior college is usually made by those who failed to pass their courses in the junior college, or want an excuse to go elsewhere.

Frank Phillips offers the first two years of standard college instruction. Frank Phillips is neither a glorified high school nor a decapitated college, but rather a unique American institution. Frank Phillips College today stands ready to provide post high school education for all the children of all the people, and for all the people, too.

In the Frank Phillips student body you will find:

—Young high school graduates who want two rather than four years of higher education, in the arts and sciences or for technical, vocational, or semi-professional training.

—Students bound for a four-year college who want to spend their freshman and sophomore years in their own community, living at home.

—Housewives interested in child care, general education, or preparation for employment or re-employment.

—Workers who want to improve their present skills, prepare for advancement, or for change of employment, gain a vocational experience, or expand their general education.

—Young adults who have not graduated from high school, or who through part-time study, hope eventually to earn a college diploma.

—Senior citizens seeking through education to develop new interests and new companions for their less active years.

Frank Phillips college is unique in these days—it is not impersonal, the students are counseled personally by counselors and college instructors, they are not computerized. Frank Phillips stresses the pursuit of sound values, as well as the pursuit of knowledge. Frank Phillips expects responsibility from every student.

Frank Phillips College opposes those who want neutrality on values and morals, and who want a student life in which responsibility is not asked.

An atmosphere of responsibility can be sensed on the Frank Phillips College campus. It is the kind of atmosphere that encourages balance and order in the lives of students.

Frank Phillips College is truly an institution worthy of respect, support and confidence of the Texas Panhandle.

Wheat Vote Is Postponed, Weatherly Says

Secretary of Agriculture Clifford M. Hardin has announced postponement of the national wheat referendum previously scheduled for July 27-31, according to Bob Weatherly, County Executive Director of the Collingsworth County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service. The action was authorized by Congress.

The postponement permits the USDA to delay holding the referendum not later than Oct. 15, 1970, or 30 days after Congress adjourns, whichever date is earlier.

Accordingly, the U.S. Department of Agriculture's ASCS which administers the wheat, feed grain and similar programs, has instructed its state and county offices across the nation to withhold ballots and other referendum materials, Mr. Weatherly said.

The county executive director explained that basic farm legislation requires a referendum for wheat marketing quotas. However, the Agricultural Act of 1965 suspended this referendum requirement from 1965 through the 1970 crop year. Unless new farm legislation, now pending, is enacted by the Congress, basic legislation will again go into effect, and a referendum will then be required in 1970 for the 1971 crop year.

BIGGEST REPTILE

The largest flesh-eating marine reptile known once lived in the sea that covered Australia more than 100 million years ago. The body of this monster measured 42 feet long, with a 9-foot head. It was known as the Kronosaurus and its fossils have been found only in Australia.

More often than not this column starts with all the celerity of a Model T Ford on a frosty morning. That is the case this morning for I am not thinking of writing a column. My mind is preoccupied with thought of making a speech at the dedication ceremony and the unveiling of a marker on Highway 83 commemorating the community and the people of Loco, which will be held next Sunday.

Judge Charles Reynolds was scheduled to make the dedicatory address; but he felt he needed to take his family on a long overdue vacation. So Louise Mabery selected me as a substitute. I am somewhat out of practice in making speeches due to an impaired throat and I still do not enunciate too well; but I accepted for I felt honored to be asked. The friendship between Wellington and such communities as Loco and many others in the area is traditional.

You have been reading about the trouble various hospitals in our immediate area have been having in qualifying for Medicare standards due to the strict requirements of HEW. Towns such as Matador with a new hospital recently completed found themselves in deep trouble because of the HEW requirements for registered nurses which they could not obtain in sufficient numbers. Now the old Olney hospital is operating on a provisional basis and it will be months before the expensive new hospital building can be completed, if they are able to figure out a way to build it. Fortunately St. Joseph's has enough Registered Nurses to qualify and that is all the more reason for helping them with their other problems when they arise.

I passed a dead badger on the side of the road near Atteberry Lake which makes three dead animals seen there in recent weeks. The others were a coon and a possum. The intense heat and dry weather seems to have caused a congestion of wildlife, both animals and birds which were attracted by the water. The doves are assembling in numbers and you can often see them in groups of ten and even fifty, something you do not see ordinarily until fall.

Here is an article that says the veteran Lindy McDaniel, now 34, is having his finest year with the New York Yankees. The relief pitcher, who was named fireman of the year in 1960 with St. Louis and again in 1963 with Chicago, has an earned run average of 1.93 with New York. He had trouble last year with the lower pitcher's mound, but he has adjusted to that problem and is doing some of the most effective pitching of his career.

Baseball

Three Teams Compete in Tourney Saturday

Wellington will host a baseball tournament Saturday, Aug. 8 with teams from Wellington, Childress and Paducah participating.

These are teams made up of older boys and young men, 14 through 24 years of age, according to Harold Dean Cooper, manager-coach and player.

The first games will start at 10:00 a.m.; at Marian Airpark Diamond. There will be an afternoon session starting at 4:00 p.m. and the finals will begin at 8:00.

The concession stand will be open and there will be a small admission charge. The public is urged to support the tournament, according to Cooper.

Trophies will be awarded.

The Wellington team has a 3-2 record so far, and plays altogether out of town teams, since there is no other here in the same age bracket.

Both the Paducah Tigers and Childress Bobcats—not sponsored by the schools—have strong teams, Cooper said, and some good action can be expected.

Elmer Shrubbs will start on the mound for Wellington, and Robert Ford will catch.

Other players will be Ray Shrubbs, left field; Lois Johnson, center field; Joe Coffee, right field; Melvin Ingram first base; David Moore, shortstop; James Culpepper, second base; Harold Cooper, third base.

There are approximately six other players to round out the roster.

Ag Information Scores High in National Contest

COLLEGE STATION—Results of the 1970 Communications Awards Program have been announced and Texas A&M's Department of Agricultural Information received eight awards . . . three blue, four red and a single white ribbons.

Acting Editor Herbert Brevard said the blue ribbons denote excellence of the entry; the red very good and the white good. The award winners were announced during the 54th annual meeting of the American Association of Agricultural College Editors held at Cornell University, Ithaca, N.Y.

The news section scored well taking blues on the Weekly Press Packet and radio script service; a red on the press service for magazines and a white on a radio feature.

Red ribbons went to "Texas Agricultural Progess," a quarterly publication of the Department; to Bulletin 1081, "An Analysis Outdoor Recreation on Government Lands in Texas," a joint publication of the Experiment Station and Eetension Service and to MP-914, "Shade Tree Diseases," an Extension publication.

A. B. Kennerly, an assistant editor in the Department at the time of his retirement in 1967, was awarded a lifetime membership in the national association.
