It will be started on the cattle sheds on Monday, September 24. W. D. Tenney, manager of the Panhandle Lumber Co., will have the construction of these and he can use a number of so if you can spare the time to help him. Every little helps, even if you can only spare a few hours at a time.

COUNTY COURT

County Court has been in session part of this week and a number of cases were disposed of, but for lack of evidence. Most of the cases were the gambling cases which were on the docket for about a week. It appears to us that money has been saved the tax payers of the county if the state would be a little lenient in their evidence before conviction in such cases. If there is sufficient evidence to at least a probability of conviction, it seems to take up time and money in such indictments. Out of a few indictments, only a few have resulted. Such action as this to enforce the gaming laws only serve to make a farce of the law.

WOMAN'S TRUST IN THE TOILER

The prudent penniless beginner in the world labors for wages, and saves a surplus with which to buy a house or land for himself, then he goes on his own account another way to help him. This is the way of the toiler. He is the one who opens the way to all, and consequently progress and improvement of condition to all. No men are more worthy to be trusted than those who toil up from poverty. They are less inclined to take or borrow which they have not earned.

The United States offers the opportunity for the humblest man or woman to go from the bottom to the top of the ladder unhampered by distinction or official dictation. We always keep this basic principle of our government intact.

Lola and Mr. Marion Keilam left Friday for Iowa City, State where they will attend the Iowa State fair this winter. They have been there for the past few weeks visiting the home of their brother, Keilam, proprietor of the City Market.

YOUNG MAN KILLED BY LIGHTNING STROKE

John Calvin Wallace, a young man employed at pulling broom corn on the Mrs. R. L. Jones farm near Dicksonville, was killed while at work, by a stroke of lightning on Wednesday morning of last week. The young man who was 16 years, 6 months and 4 days of age was born in Beckham County, Oklahoma, on March 8, 1907. His father and mother were Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Wallace of Erick, Oklahoma, who were working here in this county at the time of the fatal accident. He was the youngest of a large family and was a member of the Christian Church. This was a very sad accident and the sympathy of the entire community goes out to the parents and the brothers and sisters who are left behind. The body was laid to rest at the Ochiltree Cemetery on last Friday afternoon, Rev. W. A. Hitchcock, officiating at the services.

CONSIDER OUR ADVANTAGES

Practically every home in this nation has advantage of modern conveniences resulting from development of electricity, telephone, radio, gas and quick transportation.

If service rendered by these utilities had not been made nation wide and their output figured on a quantity basis, not even kings could afford to pay for a fraction of the conveniences which the American home has today for a few dollars a month. Electricity, gas and telephone are the greatest servants of American housewives.

In France, the American Commercial Attache at Paris says poor telephone and telegraph service are causing proposal to take operation out of the hands of the government and turn it over to private companies.

In Austria, telephone operators are reported to deliberately slow up calls when refused passes on the government railroads.

In London the telephone is a luxury only for the rich, while in Czechoslovakia it is a case of buy government telephone bonds or lose your phone.

And so it goes, while here in the U. S. there is a telephone in almost every home and it is connected with every other phone in the United States.

What we call household necessities in the U. S. are considered luxuries in Europe. What a monument to American initiative and enterprise.

Is it any wonder American women are noted for their intelligence and beauty, when they have such servants to do their bidding instantly and without complaint.

Messrs. David and Sam Barringer of the Gray neighborhood left the latter part of last week for Fayetteville, Arkansas, where they were called on account of the serious illness of their father.

Mrs. F. R. Wier left Wednesday for her home at Berkeley, California, after an extended visit in the home of her father, H. C. Coffee.

WHAT WILL YOUR BOYS AND GIRLS MAKE OF THEMSELVES

Are you going to college?

This question was recently asked a young man who had just completed his high school course with a good record and who is prepared to enter either his state university or his state college of agriculture with full credits for the freshman class. Without a moment's hesitation he replied: "No, sir! I'm going to work. It takes a lot of money for a fellow to get on these days. I can't afford to spend four years in college."

"What work will you do?" he was asked.

"I don't know. You see, I'm looking for a job now."

"What kind of job are you looking for?" was the next question.

He had become more serious but was not prepared for the next question.

"Why, anything I can get, if it pays enough."

"What can you do? What experience, what training, have you had?"

Further questions brought out the fact that this boy's parents had not asked or encouraged him to prepare for any definite lifework, and that only in the most vague way did he himself have any predilection or leaning toward any specific occupation, vocation, business, or profession. His one ambition is to "get a job." Without an engine, sail, rudder, or compass, he is chafing to embark upon the sea of life with no chart and no chosen port.

And so it is with thousands of young men and women from one to the other end of our Southland. Their greatest life problem, if they but knew it, is to find themselves, to have a definite purpose in life, and to prepare for its attainment. When boys or girls can be brought to the point of seriously considering their future and decide upon some definite lifework, they are preparing to solve their greatest problem, that of deciding what they will make of themselves.

A WONDERFUL OBJECT LESSON

The law of supply and demand works slowly but with irresistible force.

A few months ago we were told by political prophets that gasoline would be a dollar a gallon unless the oil industry was placed under political control. But high prices resulted in undreamed of crude oil output and stored supplies of petroleum products.

Old man Supply and Demand must sit back and laugh. He knows that present low prices will discourage output of crude oil and when our reserve supply is low the price will begin to climb in order to encourage production.

The politicians will cry out that the oil combine is robbing the consumer and that government control is necessary to stop the outrage. And then Old Man Supply and Demand will laugh.

It's a great life for those who have sense enough to learn the lessons that nature teaches but its easy to fool those who pass the lesson by.

J. L. Tuttle of Wellington, Kansas, came in Tuesday for a few days' visit at the home of his niece, Mrs. A. C. Welter.

BIGGEST RAINS FOR OVER A YEAR

During the past few days this section has been blessed by the biggest rains that have fallen for over a year. During the last week over four inches of water has fallen and as a result our roads are almost impassable. But the downpours have created a spirit of optimism that can't help but make business better for it is almost an assured fact that this territory will now raise a bumper wheat crop next year. Some fall wheat has already been planted and the majority of our farmers have their wheat fields ready for the drill. We have talked to a number of farmers who have farmed here for years and they say that this country never falls on a wheat crop when we have as much moisture as we have had this year. They are of the opinion that we now have sufficient moisture in the ground to carry wheat over until the spring rains commence. Another thing that these rains insure is fall wheat pasture. Here of recent years the farmers has had little, if any, winter pasture on his wheat field. Now for a few days of good sunshine so that the farmer can get the wheat seed in the ground.

A NEW ANGLE

During the recent campaign and election of Magnus Johnson of U. S. Senator in Minnesota, the public gained the impression that he is a radical. But Magnus Johnson is undoubtedly a different type of man than the professional politician of the accepted radical type.

He is a hard worker, has raised a large family and his wife and his children are his assistants in running the farm. A man who owns land, farms it himself, earns his money from the soil and wears real working clothes covered with dirt and grease accumulated during many toils, must have good stuff in him. Whether Johnson is a "destructive radical" remains to be seen. A "constructive" radical can exercise a far wider influence than a "hard boiled conservative."

A New York paper recently contained the following article. If quotation is correct, Johnson has sounded a wise keynote and shown himself a student above the average:

Albert Lea, Minn., Aug. 4.—More charity between man and man and teaching of more consideration in schools, coupled with a "greater love" in churches, is the means which will equip the United States to withstand the onslaughts of radicalism. Senator-elect Magnus Johnson so told celebrants at Freeborn County Community picnic here today.

Mr. Johnson paid a tribute to the dead President before discussing economic problems. Good-fellowship and service among business and professional men and the farmer was the keynote of his talk.

"The press of the country has wronged me," said Mr. Johnson. "The papers say I am profane—I am rough and care naught for books. This is untrue. I have access to a wonderful library. I love books. I have read until my eyes are greatly impaired."

"I am sorry that the papers of the country, by their untruthful propaganda, are causing the people to lose confidence in what they have to say. The press should be truthful. The people are entitled to know the truth."

"If this country is to prosper and to withstand the onslaughts of radicalism we must show more love in the churches, teach more consideration in our schools and show more charity between man and man."

OHIO LITTER EXCEEDS WORLD'S TON LITTER MARK

A litter of ten pigs broke the world's record for ton litters by making an average weight of 297 pounds when officially weighed at the G. L. Evans farm, Mt. Oreb, Ohio, August 29, the 180th day. The record was held by a 1922 Indiana Poland China litter of eleven pigs, which averaged 276 pounds on the 180th day. The Ohio litter exceeded the former champions by 21 pounds per head, though not in total weight of litter.

The sire of the litter was sired by Cioette, the world's champion Poland China boar of 1921, and the dam of the litter's sire was the Rainbow, grand champion boar of the 1922 Iowa State Fair. This is a complete demonstration to the farmer that the show ring type of hog is the hog of highest farm utility type.

The litter was the seventh farrowed by the dam. She raised 66 of 71 pigs farrowed in the seven litters, and farrowed a litter of nine eight days before this ton litter was officially weighed.

This unprecedented growth was made largely on a wheat ration. During the period from weaning to four months the ration was two parts ground wheat, two parts ground oats, one part ground corn. During the last two months the ration was two parts ground wheat and one part ground corn, fed as slop mixed one feed ahead.

The litter was farrowed March 2, 1923, and were officially weighed August 29, being three days less than six calendar months of age, but rules call for weighing on the 180th day. The weights and gains were as follows:

Age	Weight	Gain per head
days		per day to date
92	910	0.99
120	1,430	1.19
150	2,165	1.44
180	2,970	1.65

During the period from 92 to 120 days they gained 1.86 pounds per head per day, from 120 to 150 days 2.45 pounds and during the last thirty days they gained 2.68 pounds per head daily.

J. S. Talley was on the Wichita market last Monday with five cars of cattle, four of which were shipped from here and the other car from Wawaka, last Saturday. Talley & Donley also shipped two cars of hogs to Los Angeles last Saturday.

Attorney Jack Allen was in Beaver, Oklahoma, last Monday and Tuesday looking after some cases in the Beaver County District Court.

W. W. McLarty made a business trip to Amarillo, the fore part of this week.

AGED PIONEER PASSES TO THE GREAT BEYOND

Died at his home northwest of Perryton, Z. H. Cook, aged 77 years, 1 month and 11 days. Not to him our tears. Rather let us crown his grave with garlands; few of us will live as long or as well, and fewer yet will the Angel of Death greet with such a loving touch.

Zora Hayden Cook was born in St. Clair County, Illinois, on July 22, 1846, to Mr. and Mrs. John Cook. At the age of three years he moved with his parents to Collins County, Texas, settling near old Frankford. At the age of eighteen years he enlisted and served for two years during the Civil War. There is no language at our command by which we can fittingly portray the sincerity of this man's Christian character. He had been a church member for sixty years, joining the Missionary Baptist Church at Old Rowlett Creek in 1863.

In December, 1865, he was united in marriage to Miss Mary E. Leach, five children being born to this union. The children, Mrs. E. C. Cudd, Mrs. A. R. Cook and J. W. Cook of this county, Mrs. Jennie Crider of Hebron, Texas, and Mrs. Pearl Abernathy of Artesia, New Mexico, survive him, the wife having preceded him in death about ten years ago. The deceased also leaves twenty-one grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren to mourn his departure.

In 1907 Mr. Cook moved to this county where he met with much success in his business of farming and stock raising. He was a man that was loved by all his neighbors and respected by all the community. For the past few years he had made his home with his grand-daughter, Mrs. W. G. Yearly. A short memorial service was conducted by Rev. W. A. Hitchcock at the Wilson Undertaking Parlor on last Friday afternoon, the body being shipped to Plano, Texas for burial. The Herald extends their sincere sympathy to the sorrowing relatives and friends in this, their sad hour.

LIGHTNING RODS ARE O. K.

The Underwriters' Laboratories, an organization established and maintained by the National Board of Fire Underwriters, is anxious that all farmers of the country thoroughly understand the lightning rod situation as it exists today. These laboratories have gone into the subject of lightning protection very thoroughly, and conclusively demonstrated that properly installed and grounded conductors of proper weight and material will serve as a harmless path to the ground for a flash of lightning.

In order that the farmer may know when he is getting standard material installed in a standard manner, Underwriters' Laboratories has arranged to issue an etched aluminum label for attachment to each building equipped with Standard material installed under their supervision. This is the final stamp of approval for the job, and will be issued to the farmer immediately after the installation report has been received and approved by the laboratories.

Under this plan it is a comparatively simple matter for the farm owner to specify that installation be a master label installation, and that he be guaranteed to receive a master label as evidence of compliance with standard practice by the manufacturer.

Since the Underwriters' Laboratories is organized purely for service and not for profit, the new arrangement will simply be additional lightning insurance for the farmer. It gives him a practical guarantee that he is getting his money's worth when he buys lightning rod equipment. The main purpose of the Underwriters' Laboratories is to accomplish a reduction of the great annual fire losses in the country.

A British physician says that woman causes half of the world's war. If so, she is merely exercising her policy of equal rights.

A California woman is suing for divorce because her husband is neglecting her for his bee hives; and of, course, she felt that she was the one who had been stung.

It is never correct to say of a statesman, 'He is a dirt farmer.' Always use the past tense.

In view of the speed at which Mary Miles Minter sometimes steps along her middle name seems peculiarly appropriate.

THE AMERICAN LEGION

(Copy for This Department Supplied by the American Legion News Service.)

TO STAMP OUT ILLITERACY

State-Wide Effort in Progress in Oklahoma Under Direction of the American Legion.

A state-wide effort for the stamping out of illiteracy in Oklahoma is now in progress under direction of the American Legion. Dr. Frank H. MacGregor, chairman of the department of Americanism of the state Legion organization, is in charge of the work and has developed a novel plan to educate those unable to read or write in that state.

According to recent surveys, there are 56,864 illiterates in the state, of whom 5,498 are foreign born. It is hoped that it will be possible to include all persons coming under this classification in the Legion's plan for education. To this end the aid of educators, school organizations and of local officials has been enlisted through Doctor MacGregor's office.

The method to be used is known as the "Jones plan," so called from its introduction to the Greer county schools by Will C. Jones, superintendent and a Legionnaire. The first step is the organization of "principals' clubs," whose members are the heads of all schools in the district. The work of Americanization is thoroughly outlined to these men, and they pay personal visits to every illiterate in their district, offering assistance through the Legion plan, tabulating notes and making suggestions that may be of use to volunteer workers. The volunteer workers are to come from the teachers and students in higher classes. One person is "adopted" by each of these workers. A course of reading, English, simple arithmetic, and as the illiterate progresses, civil government and American history is given. The plan is in operation in several schools of the state, but it will not be put into complete use until the terms open next fall. Doctor MacGregor declares that if the work is undertaken in every school within the next two years he will be satisfied.

Doctor MacGregor, who resides in Mangum, Okla., served for 22 months overseas, a portion of which was spent in England. He was regimental surgeon of the famous Scottish Highland division—the "Laddies from Hell"—for several months. He was decorated by King George for "gallantry in action" during the second Marne campaign, and later became chief surgeon of the British base hospital at Oulais.

DISABLED MAN AIDS BUDDIES

Hans Hunsdorf, St. Paul, Victim of Tuberculosis, Still Working for Fellow-Sufferers.

Disabled himself, perhaps no man in the Mid-West is doing more active work among disabled veterans of the World war than Hans Hunsdorf, now in the Aberdeen hospital at St. Paul, Minn. Hunsdorf has personally interested himself in the cases of his "buddies" who are suffering from the effects of their service in the World war and is endeavoring himself to these men by his splendid efforts in their behalf.

Hunsdorf was born in Eldsawold, Norway, in 1878. At thirty-nine he enlisted in the army at Fort McDowell, Cal., and went to France as a mechanic with the One Hundred and Eighty-sixth Aero squadron, where he made a splendid record. He received a certificate of disability in line of duty and is now totally and permanently disabled from the ravages of tuberculosis. This gave rise to a long period of hospitalization, during which time Hunsdorf has been in seven government institutions, beginning in France and ending at St. Paul, where he is now a patient. Spurred on by conditions he saw in these hospitals among his companions, Hunsdorf set out by personal work to relieve the troubles of those about him. He has assisted hundreds in their claims for compensation and similar lines. He has attended every military funeral which has occurred in his locality, and has placed "the poppy of remembrance" on every coffin.

Recognizing the American Legion as one of the agencies for affording relief to World war veterans, Hunsdorf has put much effort into securing members for the organization. Since the opening of the 1923 campaign he has personally written the applications of 101, though this is probably the least of his service to the Legion. Without thought of the personal sacrifice involved, this man, of foreign birth, has given unstintingly for the country of his adoption, and now facing defeat because of the physical conditions brought on by his sacrifices, still devotes himself to the alleviation of suffering and anxiety among his former comrades-at-arms.

Willie. The bargaining for the cow had been going on leisurely for an hour. Finally the prospective purchaser came flatly to the point. "How much milk does she give?" he asked. "I don't know rightly," answered the farmer who owned her. "But she's a durned good-natured critter, an' she'll give all she can."—American Legion Weekly.

IN MEMORY OF TOLEDO DEAD

Buckeye City and County to Erect Magnificent Monument to Memory of War Heroes.

A monument of "living flame," to memorialize the heroic dead of Toledo, O., and of Lucas county, is to be erected on the most prominent spot in Memorial park, a new project, which, according to founders, will soon become a reality.

Sweeping through the park is a roadway, already known to Toledo citizens as "Memorial Way." Sides of this roadway are flanked by trees, each of which is named for some man from Toledo or Lucas county who made the supreme sacrifice in the World war, bearing his name in everlasting bronze and keeping forever fresh his memory. Other roadways of the park will be named after cities, towns and particular engagements in which these men fought. The whole centers around the great monument, where a tower of unusual proportions is surmounted by a light which may be seen for miles.

The site of the park covers 215 acres, much of which is forested and naturally adapts itself to landscaping. While a portion of the park is to be used as a general cemetery, a section near the monument, which will permit the interment of 2,000 bodies, has been set aside for the use of the American Legion, where the bodies of soldier and sailor dead may be interred and perpetual care assured. The administration of this section is directly under the Lucas county Legion council, who will have a seat on the board of trustees.

Dedication of the memorial trees is planned for Decoration day, at which time the Legion will have charge of the services. The ceremony of the laying of the corner stone will occur later in the summer.

The "Memorial Lantern," as the monument is tentatively known, will be maintained by the park officials without cost to soldiers' organizations, and arrangements are being perfected by them to make the burning of the great light perpetual.

KNOW THE NATIONAL ANTHEM

Minneapolis Aliens, Members of Americanizing Graduating Class, Sing "The Star-Spangled Banner."

At least one group of Minneapolis aliens have proved that they know the words of the national anthem, "The Star-Spangled Banner," better than do many native Americans, according to a report received by the Americanism commission of the American Legion.

These aliens, all members of Americanization classes conducted throughout the city by school and naturalization officials, have completed their night school work and made up a class of 63 graduates at a commencement day program recently held.

Greeks and Italians mingled with the blond sons of Norway and Sweden, lads not out of their teens sat on the platform with a number of middle-aged women and older men, all with a mutual desire—to become American citizens.

As the closing feature of the commencement day program both the class and the audience, numbering nearly 1,000, stood and sang the national anthem. Those of the class knew the song, every word of it. The learning of it had been one of the most interesting achievements of the whole course of training for citizenry they had undertaken. Many members of the audience, singing away, stumbled over words of the verses, forgetting them, while those who were aspiring to become American citizens sang every word.

Diplomas were presented to all graduates of the class by Minnesota school and naturalization authorities, under whose auspices the classes are held. The classes are well attended and are decreasing difficulties which naturalization presents to the foreigner, making Americanization problems much easier for both the authorities and the aspirants for citizenship.

ALL URGED TO WEAR A POPPY

Chamber of Commerce of United States Requests Reverence of Men Who Fell in France.

All Americans are urged to wear the French poppy on Memorial day "in honor of the men who fell in France," by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, in a recent bulletin to member bodies in all parts of the country.

Replying to a request for assistance from the American Legion, Elliot H. Goodwin, resident vice president of the chamber, said:

"With this request we very gladly and sympathetically comply. It is our hope that organizations of business men will promote the wearing of poppies on May 30."

Poppies will be sold by American Legion posts and units of the Legion Auxiliary for the benefit of its graves endowment fund, for service and relief work and for war memorials.

GRADING OF CREAM IS URGED

Surest Means of Producing Good Butter, Says Dairy Specialist at University Farm.

Pointing out that cream grading is the surest means of producing good butter, A. J. McGuire, dairy specialist with the university agricultural extension service, adds that Eastern markets are scoring butter closer than ever before. "There is real competition," he says, "for the best markets, and if co-operative creameries are to hold such markets they must make good butter and see that it is sold as such. A cream-cooling tank on every farm makes cream grading easier, both for creamery men and for patrons. Are you urging cream cooling and cleanliness of cream separators? This should precede cream grading."

METHOD FOR FEEDING COWS

Dusty Hays or Feeds That Are Liable to Taint Milk Should Be Given After Milking.

Hays that are dusty or feeds that are liable to taint milk should be fed after the cow is milked. A fine method for feeding is to feed hay three times a day and silage and grain twice. If grain is fed only once the cow is liable to have digestive troubles and this will affect the milk flow.

Only Safe Bull.

The safe bull is the one that is never given an opportunity to be otherwise, and that is not permitted to run at large in the pasture with the cows.

Feed and Care of Cows.

Regularity in feeding and caring for dairy cows and keeping them comfortable are quite as important as good feeding.

Expensive Substitutes.

Stock tonics are expensive substitutes for good feeding and care.

NOT TOO LOW, NOT TOO HIGH

Suit has been started by the U. S. government against the International Harvester Co., to dissolve the company into at least three parts. Grounds for suit are apparently not, as one might think, too high prices on the part of the Harvester Company for farm implements, but too low prices—"unduly depressed prices," and presumably, likely to likely to hurt business of other manufacturers of farm implements. The Harvester Company's statement, however, says that their prices are low—too low—because of the hard situation of the farmer who is not able to buy normal and needed machinery.

Recently the Interstate Commerce Commission refused the program of western railroads to reduce rates in order to encourage shipments of certain products.

The Departments of Justice and Interstate Commerce Commission are carrying out intentions of our numerous laws and attempting to reconcile and enforce their mandates.

Every new law adds a little more to our tax burdens of living expense and increases the opportunity to pass another new law. The people must be "protected" however, even if the cost of protection is greater than the benefit derived.

Electricity will be the main fuel and power of the future. We have barely entered the Electrical Age. Chained lightning is growing up into your best slave. The establishment of a telephone circuit of over 5,500 miles between Havana, Cuba and Santa Catalina Island, off the coast of California, is a recent achievement of the Bell Telephone System. This is the longest circuit in the world and in constant use. The voice travels under sea, over mountains and by radio in reaching its destination—all in one operation.

In exercising regulatory powers over public utilities and common carriers, the people should strive not only for good service at reasonable cost but for such equation of rates as to provide revenue for additional facilities proportional to the increasing public needs, realizing that quality and quantity of service constitute the sustaining arch to industrial prosperity and progress.

French tax on amusements in 1922 totaled 226,000,000 francs, applied to support hospitals and charitable institutions.

TEXAS SOME STATE

(An old story, but a good one.) Texas occupies all the continent of North America, except the small part set aside for the United States, Mexico and Canada. Texas owns all the north of the Rio Grande, the only dusty river in the world; also the only one, with the possible exception of the Trinity, which is navigable for mudcats and pedestrians.

Texas is bounded on the north by twenty-five or thirty states, on the east by all the oceans in the world except the Pacific, and on the south by the Gulf of South America, and on the west by the Pacific Ocean, the Milky Way and by the sidereal universe.

If Texas were chopped off loose from the rest of the United States and the Panhandle, it would float out into the ocean, as it rests upon a vast subterranean sea of fresh water.

Texas is so big that the people of Brownsville call the Dallas people
"Yankees," and the citizens of El Paso sneers at the citizens of Tex-arkana, Texas, as being snobs from the effete east.

It is one hundred and fifty miles farther from El Paso, Texas, to Tex-arkana, Texas, than it is from Chicago to New York; Fort Worth is nearer St. Paul, Minn., than it is to Brownsville, Texas.

The chief occupation of the people of Texas is trying to keep from making all the money in the world. The chief pursuit of the people of Texas was formerly Mexicans, but now it is land buyers, steers and Texas crop records.

SOME GOOD PUDDINGS

An inexpensive pudding to make when there is a good fire in the range is the following:

Graham Pudding.—Take one-quarter of a cupful of butter, one-half cupful of molasses, one-half teaspoonful of soda, one egg, one-half cupful of sour milk, one and one-half cupfuls of graham flour,
one cupful of raisins and spices to taste.
Mix well and steam four hours. Serve with:

Egg Sauce.—Beat the white of an egg until stiff; add one cupful of sugar and the yolk, a pinch of salt, one-half teaspoonful of vanilla and one-half cupful of boiling milk just as it goes to the table.

Orange Pudding.—Peel and slice four large oranges, removing all of the white skin. Arrange the sliced fruit in a glass baking dish; sprinkle with a cupful of sugar. Beat three egg yolks; add one-half cupful of sugar, two tablespoonfuls of cornstarch and one quart of milk. Cook this until smooth and thick and the starchy flavor is removed; cool and pour over the oranges. Beat the whites to a froth with a little sugar, cover the pudding and set in the oven to brown quickly. Too intense heat applied to fresh oranges will cause them to become bitter.

Baked Indian Pudding.—Stir into one quart of boiling milk five tablespoonfuls of corn meal and two-thirds of a cupful of molasses; cook for five minutes, then add one-half cupful of finely-chopped suet, ginger, cinnamon, nutmeg and salt to taste. Add a few raisins and sprinkle lightly with flour.
Bake two to three hours.

Carrot Pudding.—Take one cupful each of grated carrot and potato, one egg, one-half cupful of sugar, one-half cupful of shortening, one-half cupful of raisins, one teaspoonful of soda, one full cup of flour. Mix well; steam one hour. Serve with any desired sauce.

Syllabubs.—Beat a pint of heavy cream until stiff; add one cupful of sugar; flavor half of the cream with lemon and the remainder with strawberry, and color pink. Fill sherbet glasses with alternate layers.

ton terrier.

Texans are so proud of Texas that they cannot sleep at night. If a Tex-an's head should be opened the map of Texas would be found photographed on his brain. This is also true of his heart. Unless your front gate is eighteen miles from the front door,
you do not belong to society as constituted in Texas. One Texan's gate is one hundred and fifty miles from his front door, and he is thinking of moving his house back so that he will not be annoyed by passing automobiles and peddlers.

Other Texas landlords have whole mountain ranges and rivers on their ranches. One Texan has forty miles of navigable rivers on his farm. If the proportion of cultivated land in Texas were the same as Illinois, the value of Texas' crops would equal that of forty-seven other states.

Texas has enough land to supply every man, woman and child in the world with a tract of five feet by twenty, and have enough left over for the armies of the world to march around the border five abreast.

If the alfalfa grown in Texas were baled and built into a stairway, it would reach to the "pearly gates."

If all the hogs in Texas were one big hog, he would be able to dig up the Panama Canal in three roots.

If all the Texas steers were one big steer, he would stand with his front feet in the Gulf of Mexico, one hind foot in Hudson Bay and other in the Arctic Ocean, and with his tail brush
the mist from the Aurora Borealis.

THE SEED OF SUCCESS

Recently in little town in the Lower Central South, surrounded by excellent farm lands, only about half of which were being farmed, and these only half-farmed, I asked a local business man why they were not to a greater extent realizing on their agricultural possibilities.

"I believe the trouble is with our young white men," he said. "They seem to have lost the sense of thrift and the ability to save money. They nearly all seem to prefer a job of some sort about town, and whatever they make, nine out of ten spend as they go. Instead of saving and buying land and helping to make our idle acres productive, their thoughts run mainly to flivvers, bad whiskey, and what they think is a big time. In consequence, our farming is left mainly to negro tenants, without competent direction with the results showing in an extremely unattractive countryside."

I believe this man laid his finger upon one of our most serious economic sins,—lack of thrift. When old James J. Hill said, in effect, that the index to material success is the ability to save money, he spoke a great truth.
There is, as a rule, simply no material success without the ability to work and save. Instead, however, too many who can afford only to walk instead on flivvers, and those who can afford only flivvers, ride in six-cylinder cars. We need more six-cylinder farming and saving capacities, rather than our present predominance of flivver incomes and multi-cylinder appetites.—B. L. Moss, in the Progressive Farmer.

SAD WELCOME AWAITS THEM

Mother, Brother, Sweetheart, En Route From Europe Will Find Young Soldier Dead.

Louis Kosmen is dead in a St. Paul, Minn., hospital.

From somewhere in Central Europe an aged widowed mother, a dark-haired lass of nineteen and a lad of fourteen recently started on a long awaited journey to far-off America to rejoin the son, sweetheart and big brother, believed to be ready to greet them after years of separation.

For eighteen long years Louis Kosmen had pursued the blue bird of happiness. Through prosperity and poverty, on battlefields and in hospitals he had followed; always with the dream that some day he would be able to send for the loved ones to come to him in the promised land of America.

At last Kosmen believed he could see the fulfillment of his dreams. Through the aid of his American Legion pals with whom he had served in the World war, the red tape of government immigration regulations had been cut and he had cabled word to the waiting loved ones that they should come to him in his American home. The lines of fatigue faded from his toll-worn face and the discouraged droop disappeared from his shoulders as he thought of seeing once more his mother and little brother and his promised bride.

Then came illness. The doctor told him that disease contracted while serving in the American army during the war would necessitate an operation. Recently he went onto the operating table. The next day he was dead.

When but a lad of fifteen, Kosmen, heir of a once wealthy and influential Albanian family, had been sent to Greece to escape the Turks. His father was killed by them. Before he left he was betrothed, according to the custom of his country, to baby Aspasia Gerdan. In following years he fought the Turks, served in their prisons, was wounded, escaped and finally came to the United States where he set to work to build up a comfortable home for his remaining loved ones. Ill fortune pursued him. After accumulating considerable money he lost it in a business venture. Then America, the land of his adoption, entered the war and he followed the flag to the front.

In spite of broken health from the military service he had set at work once more to build up a fortune for his family and believed his ambition was attained when death claimed him.

TO CO-OPERATE WITH BUREAU

Legion Will Assist Veterans' Branch in Aiding Former Warriors Serving Time in Institutions.

The American Legion will co-operate with the United States veterans' bureau in the extension of vocational training and medical rehabilitation to the 18,000 veterans of the World war serving sentences in federal and state penal institutions, Joe Sparks, chairman of the Legion's national rehabilitation committee, has announced.

Veterans' bureau officials believe that there are many men now serving sentences who may be unaware that the bureau is interested in their well-being, and possibly others whose imprisonment may be due to conditions resulting from war service. Of the 18,000 imprisoned, only about 2,000 are receiving benefits from the bureau.

Legion officials may be named by courts as guardians for mentally disabled veterans under the proposed plan. Many mentally incompetent ex-service men are said to be suffering from lack of proper guardianship, and their condition renders them incapable of instituting court action in their favor.

It is probable that the new plan will first be tried out in the federal prisons at Atlanta, Leavenworth and McNeil Island, Seattle. Veterans' bureau physicians, mental specialists and vocational educators would be permitted to survey the institutions to determine the nature of rehabilitation measures to be taken. The plan may later include parole of prisoners under care of the American Legion or welfare organizations, while they could be sent to vocational schools elsewhere if facilities for such education were not available at the penal institutions.

"The Canada of Vimy Ridge"

"The Canada of Vimy Ridge," as it is described, is soon to become a reality on that historical spot where the Canadians stemmed the tide of German invaders of France. Where now is but the barren, war-torn field, is soon to blossom with the trees and flowers of Canada, transplanted with loving care from their native land to France. The project is in the hands of a commission named from Canada. France has granted 250 acres of land for memorial purposes. Walter Allward, Toronto sculptor, now in France, was deputed to design the monuments which mark the spot. He was able to place the principal memorial at a point from which may be seen the desolated lands, trampled over by Canadian soldiers, many to die there. The land will be created into a park.

FISH MEAL FOR LAYING HENS

About Twenty Per Cent of Mash Will Give Good Results—Protein Is Big Need.

Fish meal is being fed to some laying hens with good results. About 20 per cent of the mash is the usual recommendation. The commercial dried buttermilk is another source of protein that is meeting with favor among poultrymen. A good grade of beef scrap is still the reliable standby of many breeders. But whatever you feed, do not neglect the protein if you need winter egg money.

CHARCOAL GOOD PREVENTIVE

Value Can Hardly Be Over-Emphasized and Should Be Fed to Fowls of All Ages.

The value of charcoal can scarcely be over-emphasized and it should be fed to fowls of all ages as a preventive of bowel disorders and disease. It is best to keep it before the fowls at all times, as there is no danger of them eating too much. Charcoal has a great purifying effect in absorbing noxious gases and will correct many digestive disorders.

BEST PLAN TO AVOID FILTH

Clean Poultry Houses and Premises Will Prevent Various Ailments Among Poultry.

If farmers and ordinary poultry raisers would give half the time and attention to cleaning their poultry houses and premises that they do to doctoring the sick chickens with quack nostrums, the chances are ten to one that they would have very few sick ones to doctor.

If you happen to forget to signal the fact that you intend turning, and if you are suddenly aware that another car follows, the sensible thing to do is to go straight ahead again.

Tests in Europe of various gases as automobile tire fillers have shown that nitrogen will keep a tire hard for thousands of miles of use, while oxygen causes the rubber to deteriorate rapidly.

HELP PERRYTON

Building a city is the work of every business man and citizen in that city.

If new capital comes here or if industries now here expand and grow this company and every other business in the city will benefit.

To keep up with and ahead of the business growth of Perryton this industry must grow. As this industry grows bigger every citizen will benefit through our increased expenditures for supplies, labor and taxes.

No town can make progress without efficient public utilities. It cannot attract outside capital or new people. Such a town is not a good place to live in. It is not a good place to do business in.

So the interests of this company and the interests of Perryton are just the same. Whatever helps one helps the other.

HEREFORD WILL CONCENTRATE ON AMARILLO FAIR

Hereford and Deaf Smith County have decided to concentrate work for an exhibit of outstanding importance at the Amarillo Tri-State Exposition to be held September 25 to 29. The Deaf Smith Fair will not be held on account of financial condition, but a large agricultural exhibit will be taken to Amarillo. The exhibit later may be taken to the South Plains Fair at Lubbock, which follows the Amarillo Exposition.

J. E. Hill is chairman of the exhibit committee, which is hard at work already. J. E. Bray is another Hereford man who is working on the exhibit, which is being backed by the Hereford Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Hill has appealed to the people of Deaf Smith County to cooperate with the exhibit committee. Exhibits may be left at the Jones-Barnett agency and should be delivered there by Saturday, September 22. For those that cannot bring exhibits to the agency office, the committee will call or them.

A genuine agricultural exhibit is the goal of Mr. Hill and his committee. Kaffir corn, maize, corn, cotton and garden truck will be featured. Fruit and canned goods will be featured at the exhibit, which it is hoped will cop first honors at Amarillo.

The Hereford Chamber of Commerce has already asked the exhibit committee to reserve a booth at the Amarillo Tri-State Exposition.

R. F. Wells and Pete Sanders of Beaver, Oklahoma were visitors here Thursday. These gentlemen are Poland China breeders and are both going to bring an exhibit of hogs for the Perryton Free Fair. They are also figuring on a pure bred sale here immediately after the Fair.

EFFICIENT SOWS REDUCE PORK COSTS

The sow which produced the highest ton litter of 1923 up to September 1st, farrowed eighty pigs in eight litters. She raised 66 of the 71 farrowed in the first seven litters. The eighth litter is not yet weaned. It costs no more to keep that kind of a sow than one which farrows half as many. See story in this issue.

Word has been received by Perryton friends of Miss Flora E. Cox who has been visiting relatives at Little Rock, Arkansas, for the past few months, that she has accepted a position as Superintendent of the Training School for Nurses at the County Hospital in the latter city. Miss Cox is extremely proficient in her profession, as her many friends and patients here all know, and they will be pleased to learn of her advancement.

The American Telephone System is the envy of all other countries and several nations of Europe are considering doing away with government ownership of their systems in the hope that a change to private ownership will soon take it out of the slough of inefficiency into which it has fallen.

If some people had more sand inside of them they would need less to polish off their consciences.

Well, if you want to retaliate on the lady who started a lot of wrong numbers, etc., the first telephone girl is still living. Her address is Boston.

SHOW AND UTILITY TYPE SAME

The boar which sired the Ohio litter which has topped all ton litter records to date was sired by the world's champion boar of his breed in 1921 and his dam was sired by the grand champion boar of the same breed at the Iowa State Fair in 1922. The hog show at Iowa Fair is the premier hog show of state fairs. A "pure bred" hog is one which has been selected for ability to grow rapidly and economically. Farmers must apply methods of business men and reduce costs of production by using more efficient media of production if he will make money at present selling prices of farm products.

The 3 per cent quota law doesn't seem to be working as well as it might. Statistics show that there are 25,000,000 fewer people in Europe than there were ten years ago.

FEED WHEAT SURPLUS

Everybody is lamenting about a 200,000,000 bushel wheat surplus. A litter of pigs in Ohio recently broke the world's record for weight per head in six months on a wheat ration, which proves it is "good hog feed." Why not feed the surplus to hogs and keep the surplus off of the market permanently, and market it for cash at a better price through pork. See story in this issue.

LEGION MAN IS AN AUTHOR

"Rainbow Bright" is From the Pen of Lawrence Stewart of Des Moines;
Also an Artist.

A "buck private" during the World war, Lawrence O. Stewart, American Legion member of Des Moines, is now obtaining recognition as a writer, painter and sculptor.

Stewart is the author of "Rainbow Bright," an informal history of the Forty-second division, with which he served in France as a private in the sanitary detachment of the One Hundred and Sixty-eighth Infantry. Illustrations for the book are leaves torn from the sketch book which Stewart carried in his gas mask. They were prepared oftentimes under fire. A preface for the book has been written by Col. E. R. Bennett, who commanded the One Hundred and Sixty-eighth Infantry in action.

Stewart is a graduate of the Chicago
Art Institute in painting and sculpture.

Lawrence O. Stewart.

and also studied at the Beaux Arts in New York. He was an instructor in painting and modeling at Drake university for a year and a half prior to the war and now has a studio in Des Moines.

His work includes a bronze bust of the late Henry Wallace, father of the present secretary of agriculture. He is now making a bust of Lincoln for the new Abraham Lincoln high school building in Des Moines.

FOR THEIR BUDDIES' GRAVES

Disabled Men in Oteen (N. C.) Hospital Contribute in Remembrance of Fallen Comrades.

Disabled veterans, who have spent long years in an effort to regain their health shattered by World war service, remember their fallen comrades who lie in "Flanders Fields."

Accompanying a tin box containing money for the American Legion's endowment fund to provide for the decoration of the graves of overseas dead, came a note from ex-service men in ward 1-3 of United States hospital at Oteen, N. C., as follows:

"National Treasurer, American Legion:
"Enclosed you will find the mite contributed by the boys of ward 1-3 of this hospital. Each coin dropped into this little box was dropped with the remembrance of the boys who fell, our buddies, and the least we feel we can do is to wish for their graves to be kept green.

And the thought we send across the wave
As we lie upon our cot,
Is to plant upon each far-off grave
One sweet forget-me-not.

Proceeds of the Legion's endowment fund will insure that the graves of 32,000 veterans in Europe will be decorated each Memorial day.

The majority of the people think that they are paying high enough taxes now.

or a burned city.

COURTESY RULES TO PREVENT ACCIDENTS

Series of Suggestions Issued to Assist Motorists.

When Man Behind Sounds Horn to Indicate That He Wishes to Pass, Draw Over to Right and Let Him Have Clear Road.

- Courtesy on the road among motorists is akin to safety, and a new courtesy series of suggestions is now being issued.
- Lack of courtesy, it is pointed out, often leads to recklessness, which in turn leads to accidents. Therefore, motorists are asked to read the following courtesy rules:
1. When a man approaching you from behind sounds his horn as a signal that he wishes to pass, don't "step on it."
Draw over to the right and let him go by.
 2. Do not use more than your half of the road, thus crowding others into the ditch.
 3. It is not courteous to "steal" a parking space from a man who is just getting ready to back in.
 4. Do not imagine that every motorist on the road who tries to pass you is starting a race. He may be on important business.
 5. When you pass a man from behind going in the same direction, do not cut in directly in front of him. This is discourteous.
 6. Do not shove another man's car along the curb to make room for yours, thus jamming his car against a fire-
plug or the car ahead.
 7. It is discourteous to halt behind a traffic jam and honk your horn.
 8. The correct giving of hand signals is courteous as well as safe.

New Automatic Stop.

When the oiling system fails, the engine is stopped automatically by this protective device. It is attached between the carburetor and the oil pressure line. A diaphragm in the device controls a valve in the gasoline line to the carburetor. The oil presses against the diaphragm, keeping the valve open.
But when oil fails this pressure is released and the gasoline valve closes.

RIDGE LAWN ADDITION

Ridge Lawn Addition is situated in the southwest part of the city of Perryton, beginning just one block south of the big new high school building; has advantage of city water, lights and telephone service.

Ridge Lawn lots are regulation size, 50x140 feet, with nice, wide streets and alleys, and with young growing shade trees along some of the lots.

This addition is situated on the high ground just south and west of the high school, affords a nice view of the surrounding country, it has a natural drainage and also freer from dirt and dust than other portions of the city.

The trend of the resident building is toward the south and west; in fact the southwest resident section is built practically solid along the high land
up to Ridge Lawn, which leaves Ridge Lawn the distinction of being the most attractive available resident property to be secured in the city.

Considering the location of Ridge Lawn, with the great future possibilities of the town of Perryton, with the excellent school advantages, and with the present prospects of securing another railroad, in my opinion lots in Ridge Lawn, are a very attractive investment.

If you are not ready to move to Perryton, or if you are not ready to build now, you may be next year, and I would suggest that you secure your lots now, while you can get a choice selection, and while the price is low, so that when you are ready to build
you will have a location situated.

In the event you do not contemplate building, but have some money to invest, Ridge Lawn lots should be a safe investment, as it stands to reason that lots in a choice location will advance in value, as the city continues to develop and grow.

Come in and let me quote you price and terms, and take you out and show you this attractive addition.

DISHES, ORDINARY AND EXTRAORDINARY

For a roast of veal or chicken, cover with milk and place in a covered baking pan to bake in a slow oven.

The chicken is cut as for fricassee, and seasoned when half cooked.

Salt Rising Bread.—Into a two-quart dish or double boiler put one and one-half cupsful of boiling water, cooled to lukewarm; add one and one-half cupsful of fresh milk, also lukewarm; one teaspoonful each of salt and sugar, two tablespoonfuls of corn meal and enough flour to make a thin batter.

Stir the entire mixture well and set into a pan of hot water the temperature of 110; keep the water at that temperature. When the first bubble appears, stir down, repeating this several times. Leave the dish uncovered and, when double its bulk, mix to knead with flour that has been warmed. Make into small loaves; let rise again and bake in a moderate oven until well-browned.

This is bread which is very popular with those who are accustomed to it.

Fruit Pork Cake.—Chop fine one pound of fat salt pork; cover with one and three-quarter cupsful of boiling water; let stand until cold. Measure two cupsful of sugar, one-half cupful of molasses, five cupsful of flour, one tablespoonful of cinnamon, one teaspoonful of cloves, one-half tablespoonful of nutmeg, one teaspoonful of soda, one pound of raisins, finely minced. Mix the spices with the flour; add the raisins, dusted with some of the flour; add soda to the molasses and mix all the ingredients together. Bake in breadpans in a moderate oven. Test with a toothpick before removing from the oven. Ice, and the cake will keep several months, improving with age.

For those who have home-dried apple, that may be substituted for the raisins, or half raisins and half stewed apple may be used. For the boiling liquid use the water that the dried apple has been soaked and stewed in.

FARMERS MUST REDUCE COSTS

Since the market price of farm products is too low to afford the farmer a profit, and as there is no indication of an advance it appears that it is up to the farmer to reduce his cost of production if he is to make a profit. He can do this by more efficient media. If a scrub litter of pigs go to market at six months weighing 1,500 pounds while a pure bred litter goes to market at the same age weighing twice that amount it is quite evident that he has produced the latter with less labor, investment and feed per cwt. than the former. An Ohio farmer marketed a litter of ten pigs September 1st which weighed 2,970 pounds. See the story in this issue.

WHY HOME INDUSTRIES SHOULD BE PATRONIZED

The following editorial was awarded first prize by the Colorado Editorial Association. The prize was offered by the Dry Climate Ink and Roller Co. Do manufacturers generally really appreciate what the local newspaper do for the community in their efforts to encourage industrial development and make a better market for the factory output? Read what editor Byrnes says in the Pueblo Colorado Indicator:

"When a resident of any city, town or community makes the casual remark that he cannot see why he should buy of home merchants or show preference for home manufactured goods he sets the more thoughtful individual to thinking, and he is apt to think along straight lines. He has heard a strange sentiment expressed that wakes him up, and he is apt to reflect somewhat after this fashion.

"Now, if all the citizens in this town talked and felt as this man does we couldn't and wouldn't have much of a town, and neither community nor state would be getting just returns for the expense and trouble it has gone to in building up the community, and for the civil government it has established for safeguarding the lives and property and other interests of its citizens. It would not be receiving just compensation for providing schools, and parks and jobs for the wage earners and business for the merchants to enable them to make a good living. Such a man is not giving value received for what he gets out of the community of common interests."

"On the other hand the home patronage and home-industry proposition works something like this: If the local merchant neglects or refuses to reciprocate in patronizing those who patronize him he is not doing his fair share, either. If he does not buy his boxes, brooms and mattresses, for instance, of the home manufacturer or the state manufacturer, and sends his orders away for such goods, he gets the goods, to be sure, but the out-of-state firm gets the money, and thus it is taken out of the home circulation market and it lessens the wealth of the community by just that much."

"And, moreover, the box and broom makers, the mattress makers, and the proverbial butcher, the baker and the candle stick maker is deprived of so much needed employment, and it hurts for the local laborer and salaried person in town has less money to spend with the grocer, the clothier, the dry goods man and everyone else in business; and so because a link in the chain of natural trade has been broken the entire chain of economics is made weaker and less efficient."

"It works the same way when a family sends its orders off to Squeers, Sawbuck & Co., or other big mail catalogue house in Chiyork for household supplies, the struggling home merchant or jobber and the state manufacturer or jobber is deprived of his legitimate trade, but he is called upon just the same to contribute to a multitude of small benevolences and enterprises, and he must submit without protest to being plucked about every so often and occasionally in between times."

"So let it be understood that the business man is a very useful and necessary adjunct to any community, for he not only affords employment to others but he is among the heaviest taxpayers of the home government for offensive and defensive purposes, so that he is entitled to consideration and support. It is thus seen that home patronage has its selfish side and its loyal side that appeal to us both going and coming."

"Reciprocity is grand and noble institution when made to work both ways. It then falls upon the community like manna from heaven. It radiates a sustaining and soothing influence upon all persons and interests alike. It is human sort of sentiment that needs to be more generally as well as more generously practiced. It is the Golden Rule applied to home building and business affairs. It relates to everybody and everything."

"If the rule were more universally observed there would be bigger and better home and state, mercantile, manufacturing and jobbing concerns, more employment and lower taxes, and there would be fewer voluminous dog-eared catalogues of the big out-of-state mail order houses in use."
