SUPREME COURT RULES ON GOLD

Posse Combs Oklahoma Hills for 18 Escaped Prisoners

ESCAPED SUNDAY IN A BREAK FROM GRANITE PRISON

Find Trace of Three As Home Robbed At Elk City

GRANITE, Okla., Feb. 18. (AP).—Several hundred possmen deployed over the rugged hills of Southwestern Oklahoma today in search of 18 fugitives from the state reformatory here who escaped Sunday.

Trace of three of the fleeing convicts was found at Elk City where the home of Mrs. Inez Tisdal was ransacked, robbed of clothing and a small amount of money.

DARING ESCAPE MADE SUNDAY AFTERNOON

GRANITE, Okla., Feb. 18. (AP).—Led by a desperate long-term prisoner, over 30 convicts broke from the state reformatory here Sunday afternoon, shot and killed Peter Jones, a lower guard, with smuggled pistols, and swarmed into two automobiles for a dash to freedom.

Five were shot in a cross-fire from guards on other towers, said Mrs. C. A. Waters, woman warden of the institution. Their wounds, she said, were not serious.

About 10, she said, were overpowered by guards and a deputy warden and herded back into their cell blocks, while the remainder swarmed into two parked automobiles and careened away.

Acting on a report that one of the escaping groups had been surrounded in a mountain ravine, Mrs. Waters dispatched 10 heavily-armed guards in an attempt to apprehend them.

Rolls Being Checked
A hurried check of the remaining inmates against the rolls was under way to determine what prisoners escaped.

"The break," said Mrs. Waters, "was led by two or three hard-boiled prisoners. One of them was Malloy Kuykendall, serving 75 years from Pottawatomie County."

"Another was Henry Stewart, from McIntosh County, serving five years for armed robbery."

"Somebody smuggled those two pistols they had from the outside. They suddenly appeared in the big front doorway, drew their guns on the doorman, and took his gun and keys."

"Then they ran outside and shot down Peter Jones in his guard tower. I'm sure he didn't have a chance to defend himself."

"They got outside the gate and piled into the two cars which were parked there—one belonging to a prison official, the other to a visitor."

"Guards in the other towers shot at them as they ran toward the gates. Five of the boys (inmates) were shot, but I don't think any of them are hurt very badly."

Some Forced Back in Cells
"The deputy warden and some of the guards forced about 10 of them back inside the gates. The others drove away fast in the cars."

Other fugitives still at large were listed in part by Mrs. Waters as: Buster Nichols, 20, Oklahoma County, five years for assault with a deadly weapon.

Jim Hasley, 40, Pottawatomie County, 15 years for robbery with firearms.

D. T. Jones, 20, Stephens County, five years for burglary.

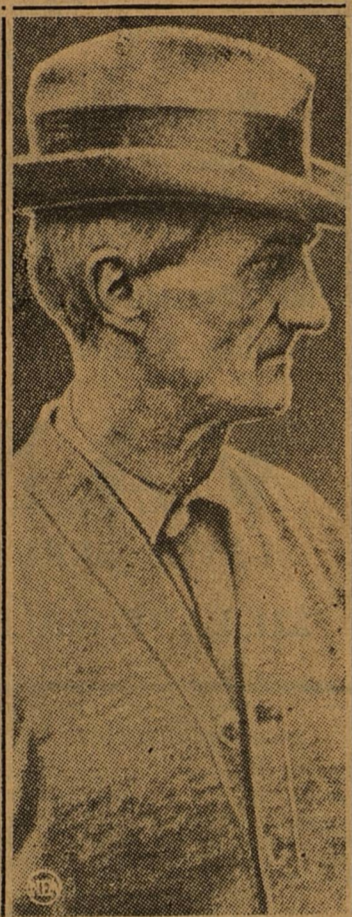

Bennett Casey, about 20 years old, Oklahoma County, two years for burglary.

Dale Stanfield, Custer County, 20 years for burglary.

Robert Purdie, Oklahoma County, three years for burglary.

Anticipating a possible call for troops, Adjutant General Charles F. Barrett of the Oklahoma National Guard, said that if requested he would call out the militia men despite the absence from the State of Governor E. W. Marland, en route home from Dallas where he had attended an oil conference.

Envoy of Death

CLEBURNE GIRL IS NOT CHARGED MOTHER'S DEATH

CLEBURNE, Texas, Feb. 18. (AP).—Nehly Jordan, 13, pretty schoolgirl, was free Sunday with no prospect of legal action against her for the fatal shooting of her mother with a bullet she said was intended for her father, who was seriously wounded by a second shot.

She told officers she answered a call for aid from her mother and found the woman struggling with her husband, who was choking her. The girl said she fired two shots after her mother called to her.

"Please do something about this," she said, as she stood outside her mother's death room.

She broke down when her mother died, but had regained her composure Sunday as she waited for the funeral service Monday morning.

The mother, Mrs. Mattie Jordan, 33, will be buried at Fair, Hamilton County.

Physicians said the father a fitting station employe, has a good chance to recover.

District Attorney Perm J. Jackson indicated no charges will be filed. The girl was allowed to spend the night with relatives and remained with them Sunday.

Bull Wrecks Train; Two Men Are Killed

CECIL, Ala., Feb. 18. (AP).—Two men were killed and five injured Sunday when a giant bull stepped in front of a Seaboard Air Line freight train causing derailment of the engine and nine box cars.

Engineer T. H. Cox of Montgomery and Fireman R. C. Vorus of Americus, Ga., were killed as the engine plunged from the tracks into a muddy ditch after striking the bull.

Two transients received fractured legs and other injuries. Their condition was regarded as critical.

Dave Dixon, negro brakeman of Americus, suffered a scalped face. The conductor, L. P. Griffith of Americus, and the flagman, J. C. Doran of Richland, Ga., received minor cuts and bruises.

2 WOMEN BEHEADED AS SPIES IN GERMANY

BERLIN, Feb. 18. (AP).—Baroness Renate Von Natzmer and Frau Benita Von Falkenhayn were beheaded today as spies.

An official announcement said Reichsfuehrer Hitler declined to exercise his prerogative of mercy.

The women were beheaded in the courtyard of the prison where they were held.

Judicial experts met with Dr. Hans Frank, commissioner of justice, to consider disposition of the cases of three other prisoners held with the women.

One, Baron George Sosnowski, former Polish army colonel, was sentenced to life imprisonment. The same sentence was imposed on Frau Ina Von Jena, daughter of a former army general.

MONUMENT WELL FLOWS BY HEAD; SHOW FAVORABLE

By PAUL OSBORNE
More indications of a producing well came in morning reports from the Amerada No. 1-D State, wildcat drilled on a seismograph high southwest of Monument, New Mexico.

With three inch tubing run yesterday morning to within 28 feet of bottom hole depth, which is 3,965 feet, swab was run three times before the well started heading, the first head lasting for eight minutes.

The operation then apparently bridged, but after the obstruction was removed again headed for 30 minutes, showing about 90 per cent oil.

Repeated 30 minute heads, after each of which the hole bridged, continued throughout yesterday, and the well was shut in last night.

Opened again about three o'clock this morning, heading again started. As yet there is no gas lift pressure for the fluid, but it is planned to attempt an upper gas down to the oil pay zones today. After this, the well will probably be acidized, and possibly deepened, according to present plans.

The Amerada test, farthest outlying wildcat to be drilled in Lea county for sometime, has been the cause of extensive lease and royalty play, the prices mounting when said markers and top of Yates sand ran considerably higher than those of either Hobbs or Eunice.

FRENCH FLIERS FAIL TO BETTER PREVIOUS RECORD

PORTO PRAIA, Cape Verde Islands, Feb. 18. (AP).—Threatened with disaster in bad weather, Paul Gouin and Maurice Rossi turned their four-year-old plane back early Sunday, half way to a new world's distance record, and landed safely at Porto Praia after a thrilling flight against time.

They escaped a forced landing at sea and its consequent dangers after they had sent out an S. O. S. at 8 a. m. C. M. T. (3 a. m. E. S. T.) which started a seaplane and ships to their assistance.

Fauly oil pressure in the engine caused them to turn back. The "Joseph Lebrun" veteran of a thousand hours of flight, landed safely at the airfield here at 1:32 p. m. after the fliers had dumped out their still dangerously heavy load of gasoline.

The two fliers, exhausted by their efforts to keep a diminishing oil trickle feeding into their overheated engine and hold the plane in the air, were a scant lunch and were immediately to bed. The flame-blackened fuselage of their plane bore witness to the mechanical difficulties they encountered.

ANNIVERSARY OF ALBERT'S DEATH OBSERVED SUNDAY

BRUSSELS, Feb. 18. (AP).—Deeply veiled and veiled, and then, however, Queen Mother Elizabeth of Belgium accompanied King Leopold, Queen Astrid and Princess Maria Jose Sunday to an early morning mass at Laeken crypt on the first anniversary of King Albert's tragic death.

The little Princess, daughter of Leopold and Astrid, was made to restrain her tears. The whole Nation paid tribute to the beloved monarch who slipped and fell in his death, Feb. 17, 1934, on the rocks at March Les Dames.

During the afternoon the Laeken crypt was open to the public. A vast cortege of former soldiers marched to the beat of muffled drums through the city during the evening, reaching the crypt at 9 o'clock, where they laid a wreath on the grave.

A squadron of French military planes dropped wreaths on March Les Dames. Thousands of pilgrims arrived on special trains from all parts of Belgium, France and Holland, Belgian war veterans concluded their sale of commemorative medals, the proceeds of which will be used to erect a memorial bridge on the Yser River at Dixmude where Albert commanded Belgian troops during the war.

The picturesque site of the tragedy, known a year ago only to a limited number of local tourists, has since become a revered national shrine.

COUNTY ACTS TO GET T-B TESTING OF LOCAL CATTLE

The Commissioners court this morning voted to ask for tuberculosis cattle testing in Midland county and appropriated money to finance the county's part of the expenses, County Agent S. A. Debnan reported.

The action followed expressions of many gentlemen in favor of the project, during the past few days, after Debnan had held a meeting with the ranchers last Friday to consider the testing.

The funds are secured through the terms of the Jones-Connelly act, federally appropriated, and the work is handled under direction of the department of animal husbandry.

Midland county cannot be tested before April. It was stated by a representative of the husbandry department here last week, and ranchmen expressed the belief that working the herds at that time would not be hard on the cattle.

All dairy cattle, all available herd bulls and at least ten per cent of the range cattle must be tested before Midland county can be placed on the accredited list, free to ship stocker cattle to all states without necessity of testing the individual shipments. Many states require such testing at present and the free project is expected to save money for cattlemen contemplating such shipments.

They especially urge visiting Masons to attend, with wives or sweethearts.

Business Advances University of Texas Research Ass't. Says

AUSTIN.—Business continues to move forward at a satisfactory rate despite the uncertainties created by the possibility that the Supreme Court may declare the abrogation of the gold clause and kindred legislation unconstitutional, according to Dr. A. F. Buechel, assistant director of the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

"Prevailing opinion appears to be that in the event an adverse decision is to be forthcoming, the administration will be given prior notice in order that Congress may enact such necessary countervailing legislation as to forestall any serious shock to business morale," Dr. Buechel said.

"The current business situation is further bolstered by the combined forces of seasonal influences, well maintained agricultural purchasing power, government relief both actual and potential, and a sharp rise in the index of industrial activity."

"From the longer-time point of view developments appear to be ripening which could readily forecast a period of sustained business and social improvement. For example, the new cooperative attitude displayed by government officials and business spokesmen during recent months has developed into a more intimate contact between business leaders and government officials is to be continuous and no longer haphazard as in the past. The agency to be used in the new liaison is the Business and Advisory Planning Council of the Department of Commerce. This council is made up of 52 of the Nation's leading industrialists, bankers, and business men. It meets regularly and has a permanent office in Washington. Under new plan, any business man or organization desiring to be heard on any piece of pending legislation may get a hearing through the council. Information and suggestions communicated to the council will be passed along to different members of the Cabinet. President Roosevelt has approved the plan which was worked out in a conference between the President, Secretary Roper and H. P. Kendall of Boston, chairman of the business council."

"The council may be expected to use its influence in discovering and fostering the normal forces which are making for business recovery. Among the most powerful of these forces is the very duration and severity of the depression and the shortages of goods which have developed as a result of it. Production per capita in industry after having risen with only brief interruptions for more than thirty years is now down to where it was in 1904 even after allowing for the improvement which has taken place in the last twenty months. The upward course of industrial production per capita (See BUSINESS ADVANCES, p. 4)

GOVERNMENT WINS BIG SUIT BASED ON CERTIFICATES

Validates Congress Act Regarding Gold Clauses

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18. (AP).—President Roosevelt and his immediate aides decided today after study of the Supreme Court's gold decision that no legislative or administrative action is required.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18. (AP).—The supreme court of the United States today upheld the government's right to require gold clauses in private bonds but ruled that the government gold obligations cannot be paid off on a "dollar for dollar" basis.

Chief Justice Hughes, in a summarization of the decisions, disclosed the court's ruling that the government "gold clause" bonds must be paid in gold or the equivalent of that amount of devalued currency.

SECURITIES JUMP AS RESULT DECISION
NEW YORK, Feb. 18. (AP).—Securities markets surged upward today upon news of the supreme court's ruling. Many railroad bonds jumped 20 points and stocks were up $2 to $9 a share.

The Chicago Board of Trade suspended trading. At New Orleans, cotton rose 25 to 28 points above Saturday's levels.

This, in effect, means that for every thousand dollar gold bond, the government must pay $1,000.

The government won the solitary case involving gold certificates. The decision was that the court of claims did not have jurisdiction to entertain suits against the federal government because of its gold bonds and gold certificates.

This was interpreted to mean that the government must pay $1,000 of federal bonds to collect on their old gold bonds.

The effect of the decision was to validate the act of congress suspending gold payments of private obligations containing gold clauses. The court of claims is the only tribunal before which suits against the government may be taken.

Declaring that congress could not abrogate the gold clause in its own bonds, the court added that those who had brought the suit had shown no right of action.

"I'm satisfied," said Senator Robinson of Arkansas, senate leader. Attorney General Cummings expressed pleasure.

Ernest Nertz of New York, owner of $108,300 in gold certificates, had sued to recover $64,334.

Nertz said this was the difference between what he received and the value of the gold to which he contended he was entitled.

Justice Hughes said private parties could not sue for the return of gold bonds because they have no power to enter into gold clause contracts provided they interfere with the power of congress to regulate currency and the congressional policy.

The court was divided five to four.

Every man's money had been gripped in a supreme court decision, reaching to the very heart of the new deal monetary program.

The fundamental changes worked in the currency system by President Roosevelt were to stand, or whether new, fairly stirring series of monetary developments would begin. Every pocket book in the nation was affected.

The capital and a nervous business world awaited the verdict eagerly for weeks. Several times, they had worked themselves into a high pitch of suspense and tension on the expectation that it would be announced on a particular date. Each time, however, the court, outwardly oblivious of the surrounding excitement, placidly and indistinctly attended to other business.

OUR TASK IS TO AVOID NECESSITY OF RELIEF

One of the dangers we face in considering any unemployment relief bill is the chance that we may forget that unemployed relief, no matter how it is set up or what benefits it may provide, is in the end only a substitute for something better.

Recent argument over different relief measures seems to have taken it for granted that there is, somewhere, a magic formula which if we only could find it, would solve this vexing question forever.

It is most important for us not to forget that even the wisest relief bill is only a poultice. Even if every idle worker in the land were drawing ample relief allowances under a scheme which magically prevented the financial load from burdening the taxpayer, the real problem would remain. We would still face the task of getting these idle men back to work.

There is going on in Washington now a lengthy argument between proponents of different kinds of relief. One kind is typified by the administration's relief measure, which would operate through state systems and would give jobless men an allowance ranging somewhere around $50 a month.

The other, infinitely broader, is represented by the Lundeen bill, now being discussed before a House subcommittee.

This bill would boldly pay all persons past 18, who are jobless through no fault of their own, a weekly sum equal to the prevailing wage rates in their locality. Those on part-time work would draw from the government the difference between their part-time wage and the prevailing wage.

Now this bill, naturally enough, is drawing superlatives from each camp. People whose viewpoint is that of the political left are hailing it as a measure which will at last do justice to the unemployed; conservatives, on the other hand, see in it a piece of extravagance which would commit the government to unbearably heavy expenditures and would promote idleness.

What both sides are apt to miss is the fact that our real problem is to arrange things so that no unemployment relief bill will be needed.

The immediate need may be to take care of the jobless, but the long-range need is to get the jobless back to work.

Any relief bill, strictly speaking, is a piece of extravagance—a sign that our economic machine is out of gear somewhere.

No matter how wisely we plan for a relief bill, the problem won't be solved until we have fixed things so that the jobless man can get a job and not a handout.

STARVING TO AVOID HUNGER

It is a pleasant little picture which Admiral Mineo Osami, minister of the Japanese navy, held out to his people in a recent speech in the Japanese parliament. The admiral asserted bluntly that Japan must be prepared to go through with any naval race that may develop, "even if we are reduced to eating rice gruel."

Now a statement of this kind indicates the confusion into which military men are all too apt to fall. For if a nation maintains a navy for any sensible purpose at all, it is for the purpose of warding off enemies that the nation will not be reduced to poverty and hardship which the eating of rice gruel is supposed to signify.

To accept such hardship and poverty voluntarily to support a navy is to get the cart a couple of nautical miles ahead of the horse.

GARDEN GATE GOSSIP

Getting the most produce from a small plot of ground is a problem for most urban backyard farmers. Where unlimited space is available for a garden, every vegetable may be grown in its own particular section, but with limited space, early and late crops must be doubled up.

Succession planting is the answer, and with a little investigation and planning on paper almost the entire gamut of garden edibles may be grown on a 20-foot square in one season.

In general, do not follow root crops with root crops or plants of one family with members of the same family; for example, radishes and turnips. Here are a few combinations that work out excellently.

Late peas followed by celery; early peas followed by late cabbage; early lettuce by summer squash; spinach, lettuce, and radishes by bush lima beans; early beans by string beans; early string beans by fall beans; early carrots by endive or winter radishes; early onions from sets by kale; peas by turnips, or carrots.

Tomatoes may be set between the rows of peas to get started while the peas are reaching maturity, and then the vines are removed, leaving the entire space to the tomatoes. Cucumbers may be planted for pickles after the early lettuce, radishes, spinach and onions from sets are out of the way.

Peppers and eggplants may go in after the earliest spinach and radishes.

These dual arrangements are the most important factors in drawing the plan for the vegetable garden. The small garden plan should be worked out carefully before the seed order is sent in. Now is the time to get it into shape, drawing it to scale and marking carefully the vegetables that are to follow the earliest crops to keep the ground working until frost.

FIND COUNTERFEIT COINS

BRADY. (AP)—McCulloch county officers are looking for the owner of a small cache of counterfeit coins found hidden under a Brady residence.

Daughters Former Midland Woman Are Champion Swimmers

Oldtimers of Midland will remember Mrs. S. L. Dillard, mother of the three normals in the following story, as the former Miss Beulah Johnston, daughter of C. C. Johnston, and member of one of Midland's old ranch families.

The clipping is from the Fort Worth Star Telegram:

Three mermaid sisters to swim along with Johnny Weismuller and vex the fiery Luce Velez were enrolled Saturday for the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer screen and voice tests, sponsored by The Star-Telegram and the Worth Theatre.

The trio are the Dillard sisters—Maribel, Nancy and "Babe", the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Dillard, 1401 Pruitt Street. Maribel is 21, "Babe" is 19 and Nancy is 18. All three are champion swimmers.

Maribel is a former Southern A. A. U. and state back-stroke champion, and one of the first women life guards of the city. However, she explains, she prefers dancing to swimming.

"Babe" at the age of 12 was S. A. U. diving champion and at that age won a two-mile swim contest at Lake Quana. For the last six years she has been Texas' free style swimming champion and is the holder of several S. A. U. records. In 1932 she took part in the Olympic tryouts in New York City.

Nancy captured the state breast stroke title in 1933 and last summer broke her own record in the same event. She plans to try out for the 1936 Olympics in Berlin.

The three girls have over 150 medals, Johns cups and ribbons they have won aquatic events.

RURAL SCHOOLS

The Pleasant Valley 4-H girls' club met Feb. 12 at the school house with Miss Myrtle Miller calling the meeting to order. Lottie Sanders was elected president to take the place of Opal Whatley who is now attending school in Odessa.

After the election of these officers, Miss Miller directed the girls in making flat felled seams, button boxes, and aprons.

Bessie Cogburn and Benita Villa were new club members. Pupils of the school had a Valentine box and Miss Tommie Smith gave the school a treat of candy and fruit.

Work is going forward in preparation for the Interscholastic League contests. Pleasant Valley will enter story-telling, spelling, declamations, and picture memory contests.

About 20 new pupils have been enrolled. Pleasant Valley now is almost a full school, there being 20 girls enrolled as compared to 6 boys.

PRESIDENT ON TOUR

EAGLE PASS. (AP)—Sr. Luis I. Rodriguez, private secretary to President Lazaro Cardenas of Mexico, has issued a statement to federal state authorities that the president will tour the northern states of the Republic, including Coahuila, the latter part of February. The president has asked that no public reception or other manifestations be tendered as he wants only to make a personal inspection of the government public works projects under way.

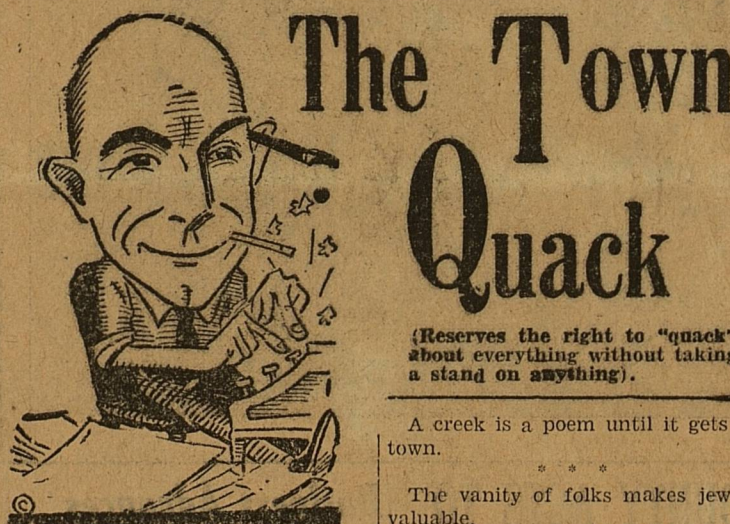

Four members of the committee of Coahuila towns are considering inviting the president and his party to come to the border.

Tomás Garrido Canabal, secretary of agriculture; Francisco J. Mueca, secretary of economy; Lic. Ignacio Garcia Uteley, secretary of education; and Rodolfo Elias Calles, secretary of communications and public works, will accompany the president. Governors of several states as well as high military officials also will be members of the presidential party.

NEW PLANTS HONORED

MALLEN. (AP)—New industries locating at MalLEN within the past year, including two large canneries, a handcraft weaving plant, a citrus peel plant and smaller institutions were honored recently at a banquet by the MalLEN chamber of commerce. New payrolls in MalLEN total about $2,500 weekly.

Old grease in the steering gear housing should be flushed out thoroughly at regular intervals.

FEMININE FANCIES

BY KATHLEEN EILAND

It's curious how few earthly possessions we seem to have until we start to move. And then what a prodigious amount of odds and ends valuable or worthless (mostly the latter) there seems to be which must be packed.

Just so the sun shines, we can always be more or less happy.

With Valentine parties things of the past, the February hostess has another lucky break in Washington's birthday. Red-and-white, cherries, hatched, and a few flats mixed up with bridge or other games, surely will produce a good party, particularly when the hostess is happy in giving it.

What with all these fogs we're having this spring, we're inclined to believe the weather man got his signals mixed and is giving West Texas the weather that is supposed to belong 'down East.'

One of the penalties of being a working girl is having to do sewing at the wrong time, for instance late at night, when one had much rather be in bed.

Hamilton Is Not Found at Center

CENTER, Feb. 18. (AP)—A party of officers returned here Sunday after a fruitless search south of Center for Raymond Hamilton, Texas' No. 1 hoodlum.

Sheriff J. B. Sample of Shelby county said the suspected hideout of the bank robber and gunman, a farmhouse, was found deserted.

Officers in the posse said a farmhouse living near the place had sold an automobile to a stranger and believed the purchaser might have been Hamilton, obtaining the car for a getaway before the raid.

Officers who returned here declined to discuss reports that a number of federal agents participated in the raid. No federal agents were known to have returned here with them.

Search for the elusive Hamilton, fugitive from a death sentence imposed for slaying a guard in a prison break, was centered in this section by discovery near here of a truck believed to have been used in the National Guard armory robbery at Beaumont. Officers reported that they found a number of empty rifle cartridge shells near the truck, indicating the persons who stole a supply of automatic rifles and ammunition from the armory had been trying out the weapons.

A man suspected of having been Hamilton's companion in a bank robbery at Carthage, Texas, was arrested in Tyler last week after being traced from this section.

Big Spring Seeks Loan for a Pool

BIG SPRING, Feb. 18.—If Big Spring taxpayers ballot favorably today to lump revenues from the municipal golf course with those of a proposed swimming pool to make the latter self-supporting, the PWA will make a $32,000 loan and grant to the city for construction of the pool.

A requisition for the money already is in Washington. The loan is to be repaid solely by revenues from the pool and golf course and can not be repaid by tax money.

The pool will be 60 feet wide and 150 feet long, will have a minimum depth of 3 1/2 feet and maximum depth of 10 1/2 feet. The water will be continually circulated through sand filters and chlorinating equipment to keep it pure. Most of the time it will be flowing through the pool, the waste water being used to

Business Advances

from an over-expansion of output, peculiar to the 1920's, as some have stated in attempting to explain the cause of the depression. Even if production per capita were not to resume its upward trend but were to rise merely to the level of that in the 1920's, a vast increase in industrial activity would result.

Illustrative of the huge potential demand for durable goods which now exists are some estimates which appear in the Annalist of January 11. The figures classified into five groups are as follows: Consumer's residential construction, including repairs and new homes, $14,000,000,000; producer's construction, including repairs other than residential, $12,000,000,000; consumer's durable goods, $5,000,000,000; producer's durable goods, $7,000,000,000; consumer's semi-durable goods, $8,000,000,000; total, $46,000,000,000.

The author of the foregoing data points out significantly that the greatest immediate potential demand for goods lies with the individual as against the corporation, and that revival of the durable goods industry will come about when those now employed feel sufficiently sure about their present employment to assume their own commitments for the purchase of new homes, new cars, new furniture, and the like, and when they are able to make their first down payments on such purchases.

"Coexisting with this great backlog of demand for durable consumer's goods is the basis for potential credit expansion which is without precedent in the history of the country. This situation is the result of natural causes combined with the momentary and emergency reirrigate the park.

In connection with the natatorium there will be a 70 by 32 foot brick bathhouse which will accommodate women's and men's quarters, a concession space and an upstairs apartment for the caretaker and family.

Location of the pool will be just south of the park, opposite the rustic bridge donated to the park by the Kiwanis club. There will be a road around the place with ample parking space. The municipal golf course will have to lay out arranged to permit teeing off and ending of the round near the pool.

Oil Pact Ready For Ratification

DALLAS, Feb. 18. (AP)—An interstate compact for the conservation of petroleum resources, framed by delegates, a majority of whom frankly admitted one of its major purposes was to head off federal control of production, was on its way to the oil producing States Sunday for ratification.

The governors of Texas and Oklahoma, the two biggest producing states, agreed when the pact was completed to recommend its speedy approval to their legislatures. New Mexico and California delegates, clothed with legislative authority to represent their states, signed the agreement as a pact and agreed to urge it on their legislatures.

The pact would become effective, with the consent of congress, upon ratification by any three of those four states, or by any two of them and Kansas.

Delegates from Kansas, Illinois, Michigan, Arkansas and Colorado, sent to the conference with more restricted powers, merely approved
