County Oil and Gas Production In 1971 Totals $14,051,366

Sale of Aransas County oil and gas production accounted for $14,051,366 of the county's economic output for 1971, according to a study by Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Assn.

In producing 1,798,044 barrels of crude oil and 50.8 billion cu. ft. of natural gas, the county ranked 89th in Texas. Value of its crude oil was $6,329,115; natural gas value was $7,722,251.

The county is among 190 Texas counties with oil and gas production value topping $100,000, although 211 counties produce oil and gas.

"Aransas County oil and gas wells made a significant contribution to Texas' share of the nation's energy needs last year, but growing demand is sapping reserves in Texas faster than they can be replaced," Robert A. Buschman, Association president, said. "As fewer new fields are discovered, due to less drilling, the continuing strong economy and tax base of many Texas counties may now depend on updating Texas oil conservation laws to encourage wider use of new recovery technology," he said.

Research Uncovers Untold Stories

When Dr. A. Ray Stephens of North Texas State University was doing research work here for a "History of Aransas County--1871-1971," he came across enough fascinating happenings to fill a dozen volumes.

One such story, which may or may not appear in the official history, concerns Emory M. Spencer, owner of Modern Abstract & Title Company, and his role in curing title for the benefit of the community.

About 1938, Steve Paul purchased under foreclosure of a deed of trust numerous parcels of land in Fulton and Fulton Outlots from Fulton heirs.

During the 1940s, much of this property was sold, especially to Aransas County residents. Whenever property becomes sufficiently valuable, as in the case of the discovery of oil, the titles become more closely scrutinized.

Phillips Petroleum Company took an oil and gas lease from Steve Paul. The Fulton heirs employed attorneys who examined the title and decided they had a lawsuit, and filed it under the name of Holden vs. Dahlberg.

There were good attorneys on both sides, Steve Paul had one of the best land attorneys in Houston, Phillips Petroleum Company had one of the best land attorneys in Corpus Christi.

In the District or trial court the case was tried before Judge Gayle who ruled in favor of Steve Paul. The Court of Civil Appeals reversed his decision and ruled against Steve Paul. The Supreme Court of Texas eventually held that Steve Paul had no title to the property. This meant that those who had purchased from him had no title.

On the surface of things, it appeared that many local residents stood to lose appreciable sums of money. But at this time it was revealed for the first

State Highway Break Up Area 'Pot' Party

State Highway Patrolmen Rick Brush and Bill Hill, who are stationed at Rockport, recently broke up a daytime "pot" party at the county park at Ingleside and arrested 10 youths on charges of possession of marijuana.

"It was really weird," Brush said afterwards, "to find this gang sitting around in daylight in this park and passing around a long pipe for each to smoke from."

The youths ranged in age from 16 to 23 and were reported to be residents of Ingleside. Eight are still in the San Patricio County jail while two were released on bond.

The State Highway patrolmen were assisted in making the arrests by San Patricio county officers.

Navigation District Holds Meeting

The Board of Navigation and Canal Commissioners met June 6 with Chairman Richard J. Fox presiding. Present were Commissioner David Maguflin, R. W. Landrum, Wm. M. Brown, Jr., and F.M. Rouquette; and Attorney Ellis L. Clark. Visitors were Vernon Kleypas and John Jacobs of Aransas Natural Gas Company.

Minutes of the May 2 regular meeting were read and approved. Treasurer's report was reviewed and placed on file. Monthly bills were approved and checks signed.

Since no other bids were received in response to advertising, the Board accepted Henry H. Wagner's bid of $85.00 for five-year paid-up non-drilling gas and mineral lease. Lease covers approximately one acre of land belonging to District, located at east end of Market Street. Lease provides the usual 1/8 royalty oil pooling of 40 acres and gas pooling of 320 acres.

Kleypas and Jacobs appeared before the Board to discuss Aransas Natural Gas Company's proposed 2 inch gas line down Rockport Beach, crossing Key Allegro channel. The Board expressed approval, provided Corps of Engineers permit is obtained by gas company and approval is given by Texas Water Quality Control Board.

The Board went on record as endorsing the Choke Canyon dam site.

Police Sgt. Vargas Resigns from City

At the City Council meeting Monday night, it was announced that Sgt. Daniel Vargas had resigned from the Rockport City Police Department.

Vargas has accepted a position as deputy sheriff in the Aransas County Sheriff's Department, working under Sheriff Bob Hewes.

Dance June 17th

The Rockport Volunteer Fireman's Auxiliary is having its annual dance Saturday, June 17th at Lillian's Danceland. Adolph Hohner will be playing from 9:00 p.m. to 1:00 a.m. Donations are $3.00 a person and may be purchased from any Auxiliary member or at the door. The public is invited.

Zambrano-Lister Election Case In Dist. Court

District Judge Joe Wade has requested briefs be submitted in the election contest filed by Joe Lister involving the race for city alderman from Ward 1 on April 1.

Lister was defeated by two votes in the election by incumbent Joe "Pepe" Zambrano. A third candidate received 44 votes.

Miss Lola L. Bonner, attorney representing Lister, is to submit a brief on the pleadings by June 17. William H. Bloch, attorney representing Zambrano, is to submit the contraverting brief by June 25.

Official canvass of votes in the April election showed Zambrano with 78 votes to 77 for Lister. The city council conducted a recount that resulted in Zambrano credited with 79 votes to 77 for Lister.

At last Friday's hearing, Miss Bonner told the court two of the voters in Ward 1 had registration certificates that showed them ineligible to vote until April 2, that one person voted on the aldermanic race who lived outside the city limits and that four residents of Ward 1 were denied the right to vote in their ward.

She said the boundaries of the county voting precincts and those of the city wards do not coincide. The voter registration certificates of the four persons involved showed them residents of County Voting Precinct 2 and they were required to vote in the Ward 2 race, Miss Bonner said.

Bloch contended it is not known who any of these people voted for, that the court has no authority to change votes from Ward 2 to Ward 1 and has no authority to go into the stub boxes unless fraud and who committed the fraud is alleged. Bloch said the votes questioned by the petition could well have been cast for the third candidate.

Letter Complains Of Fuel Oil Slicks

The Rockport Conservation Association recently received the following letter from Sam C. Muir, assistant vice president of Mortgage Investment Corporation of San Antonio:

"Recently some friends of ours were buying live shrimp from a bait stand in the municipal harbor. At the time, a large diesel fuel oil slick was noticeable around the seawall at the bait stand. The attendant at the bait stand indicated that the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department had been notified, but advised that nothing could be done about it unless the offenders could be caught. These slicks are caused by shrimp boats pumping their bilges or changing oil and dumping it overboard.

"The shrimp which were bought died within five minutes. This has to have an adverse effect on the game and fish which inhabit and frequent this area.

"There must be some way that this type of pollution can be controlled. It certainly must have an influence on the tourist who comes to view the harbor. This can in no way benefit anyone concerned with earning a livelihood in that particular harbor.

"It is such a shame that this once quaint and beautiful harbor has succumbed to noxious odors and oil spills."

City Favors Choke Canyon

The City Council Monday night passed a resolution favoring the Choke Canyon dam site over the R and M location. Aldermen Murray McMillan, Joe Zambrano and Charlie Garrett voted in favor of the resolution. Alderman N. F. Jackson voted against considering the matter.

Notice

The First United Methodist Church and First Presbyterian Church will hold a joint vacation church school at the First Presbyterian Church July 10 through the 14th, ages nursery through 6th grade. The theme this year is "Live In Harmony with one Another."

B&PW SCHOLARSHIP — Miss Linda Agnes Brock, who just graduated from Rockport-Fulton High School, was the winner of the $500 scholarship offered by the Business and Professional Women's Club of Rockport. She will use it to help pay her expenses at the college or university of her choice. She is shown with Mrs. Penny Baldwin, president of B&PW.

Methodist Church Centennial July 16

The First Methodist Church of Rockport will celebrate its Centennial July 16. Theme of the celebration will be "Our First Hundred Years".

The celebration will begin at 5:00 p.m. Members will congregate at the fellowship hall of the church wearing costumes fashionable in 1872. A church supper along with an old time ice cream social will be held. Entertainment will include a skit featuring highlights of the history of the church, a barbershop quartet, banjo playing and singing, with special songs by the youth of the church.

Special guests will be Bishop Eugene Slater and Mrs. Slater and Dist. Supt. Jack Heacock and Mrs. Heacock. All past ministers and their wives will also be honor guests; Bishop Slater will be the speaker at a 7:00 p.m. service.

A fishing trip the following day will honor Bishop Slater and a luncheon will be held for his wife with committee chairmen as hostesses.

General chairman of the Centennial is Mrs. E.N. Adams with Danny Adams as master of ceremonies. Other chairmen and the committee they head are: Mr. and Mrs. Danny Adams, entertainment; Mrs. Roy Burke, hospitality; Mrs. D. T. Adams, social; Mrs. Lee Roy Young, Mrs. Curtis Harrist and Mrs. E.N. A final report on the 1972 Crusade, $5,274 was donated, 45 per cent over the goal of $4,300, thanks to our many contributors of Aransas County.

ANNUAL YOUTH RODEO RESULTS

The Aransas County Riding Association held its Annual Youth Rodeo, June 10 and 11th. Saturday evening, the arena was boggy from the Friday rain, and the Sunday afternoon finals were held in a sea of mud. However, nothing appeared to dampen the spirits or affect the sportsmanship of the contestants. They are all to be congratulated on "that twinkle in their eye," and their determination to "see it through till the end." Rockport is proud of our youth of today and watching them perform last weekend makes the Annual Youth Rodeo an event the A.C.R.A. is proud to sponsor.

First place winners of the events were Showmanship--Shelly Rldens; Figure 8 barrels, Shelly Rldens, Jr.; Pole Bending--Benton Zwerschke, Sr. Pole Bending, Gayln Zwerschke; Boys Breakaway, Oylan Brown, Sr. Cloverleaf Barrels, Cathy Ramirez; Jr. Cloverleaf Barrels, Benton Zwerschke; Sr. Ribbon Roping, Chip Dickson and Audre Ankele; and the Bronc and Bull Riding First place went to Dennis Polk.

High Point Jr. Girl was Shelly Rldens; High Point Jr. Boy was Benton Zwerschke, High Point Senior Girl Bonnie Meador, and High Point Senior Boy Mike Jackson.

Tranquilizer Gun For Dog Catcher

The City Council has approved the purchase of a $165 tranquilizer gun to assist the dog catcher in picking up stray dogs running loose in the city without license tags.

In other actions, the Council: --Voted to condemn three dilapidated houses for removal or repair and to notify the owners of this action.

--Approved a request of property owners for a street light at Ann and Hackberry Streets.

City Faces Major Problem With Disposal of Wastes

The Texas Air Control Board has notified the City of Rockport that, on Dec. 31, 1973, a new state regulation will go into effect prohibiting outdoor burning of municipal waste from cities with populations over 3,000.

After this was announced at the City Council meeting this week, Mayor Walter S. Falk, Jr., Alderman Charlie Garrett, N. F. Jackson, Joe "Pepe" Zambrano and Murray McMillan discussed various possible solutions.

In the first place, it was pointed out that the city's present sanitary land fill, west of Rockport, will be abandoned when the relocation of Highway 35 takes place.

Next, the aldermen stated that an attempt should be made to enlist the cooperation of Aransas County officials to seek a solution on the basis of the county and the city working together.

Two possible solutions were discussed. One involved the purchase of a large gas-fired incinerator to burn up garbage and trash. The other possibility was the purchase of land west of the city for the location of a new sanitary land fill.

In another matter, Mayor Falk read a letter received from Sam E. Wilcox, attorney for Aransas County Conservation and Reclamation District. The letter stated:

"As requested in your letter of May 17th, the Aransas County Conservation and Reclamation District will waive the monthly administrative charge of $833 until further notice from the District. The District reserves the right to reinstate the charge at any time it deems it expedient to do so.

"Since the water sales are exceeding the amounts projected by the pro forma statements, it is difficult to understand your shortage of funds.

"The District requests that you permit Mr. R.D. Mosler, Jr., to audit your records pertaining to the operation of the Water System so that he can report to the Board of Directors. The Board would then have a better understanding of your problems."

The City Council voted to permit Mosler to audit the city records pertaining to the operation of the water system.

Next, Mayor Falk announced the appointment of Herman Johnson, city secretary and zoning administrative officer, and Gerald J. Ladner, city inspector, as the city officials to implement the provisions of the National Flood Insurance Program.

In another action, the City Council turned down a request of Sheriff Bob Hewes to increase from $2,070 to $6,768 the city's annual payment to Aransas County for joint police radio dispatchers' salaries.

School Dress Code To Be Revised

The Board of Trustees of the Aransas County Independent School District is presently in the process of revising the student dress code for the Aransas County Independent School District.

The Board of Trustees would welcome any suggestions from various organizations in the community in order to receive a community consensus.

Groups, individuals and students are invited to mail suggestions to the school. These suggestions should be mailed to the Aransas County Independent School District, Box 907, Rockport, Texas, 78382.

Aransas County Grand Jury Called Back By Judge Miller

Judge John H. Miller recalled the Aransas County grand jury to meet at 9 a.m. Wednesday.

Twenty-two felony complaints involving 33 persons are on the docket for investigation by the grand jury. Included in the charges are one each for murder with malice and rape; two for assault with intent to commit murder, four for burglary, two for possession of marijuana, two for possession of marijuana and heroin, one for possession and sale of marijuana and one for pandering.

Members of the grand jury are foreman H.T. Bailey, Jr., James H. Reynolds, Valentin Flores, Emilio J. Rinche, Jesse Bryant, Vernon Kleypas, J.B. Greeson, Felipe Salazar, Ross Demory, James Cruser, L. J. Simmons and A. B. Silchenstedt.

Nuckles Addresses Rotary Club

Inevitability of the fate of the American bison or buffalo was described by L.D. Nuckles of the Texas Parks and Wildlife department at a luncheon meeting of the Rotary Club June 6 at Corky's Restaurant.

He pointed out that advance of agriculture across the vast prairies of mid-America made it impossible for buffalo to survive as a wilderness animal. He added that virtual extermination of buffalo also pretty well eliminated the western plains Indians because they depended on the buffalo for food, clothing and fuel.

Nuckles recounted that the 1875 Texas legislature was considering a buffalo protection law when Gen. Phil Sheridan, Civil war hero, appeared before it and turned the tide of popular support with the argument that commercial buffalo hunters had done a lot to solve the Indian problem by depriving them of their source of vital supplies. History records that virtual elimination of buffalo resulted in the end of the Indian Wars, according to Nuckles.

Without endorsing the philosophy which supported elimination of the buffalo, Nuckles pointed out that the end result was inevitable in view of the growth of the longhorn cattle culture with its accompanying barb wire fences.

Softball and Fish Fry

The Rockport Defenders softball team will have their first game at home Saturday, June 17 at the old Little League Field against Refugio at 3:30 p.m. After the game a fish fry will be held at 307 Nopal St. Fish plates will be $1.00.

Youth Baseball

The weatherman played a big role in last week's baseball action as rain washed out four games on Thursday and Friday. But it cleared up in time for Joe Brooks to sock his second homerun in as many games as the Cubs beat the Cards 6 to 4 Monday night.

Other scores were: Pirates 6, Colts 0; Angels 7, Orioles 1; Giants 7, Cards 2; Braves 5, Cougars 4; Dodgers 5, Braves 4.

NEW CPL SERVICE BUCKET TRUCK — Central Power and Light Company now has a new service bucket truck for the Rockport area. Shown here are Coy Kirkpatrick (in the bucket) and Emilio Rinche, who will operate this important new piece of equipment.

Commonly called a "cherry picker," the bucket can raise one serviceman to a height of 26 feet to facilitate fast emergency work, particularly during bad weather when it is virtually impossible for a man to climb a pole to make electrical repairs.

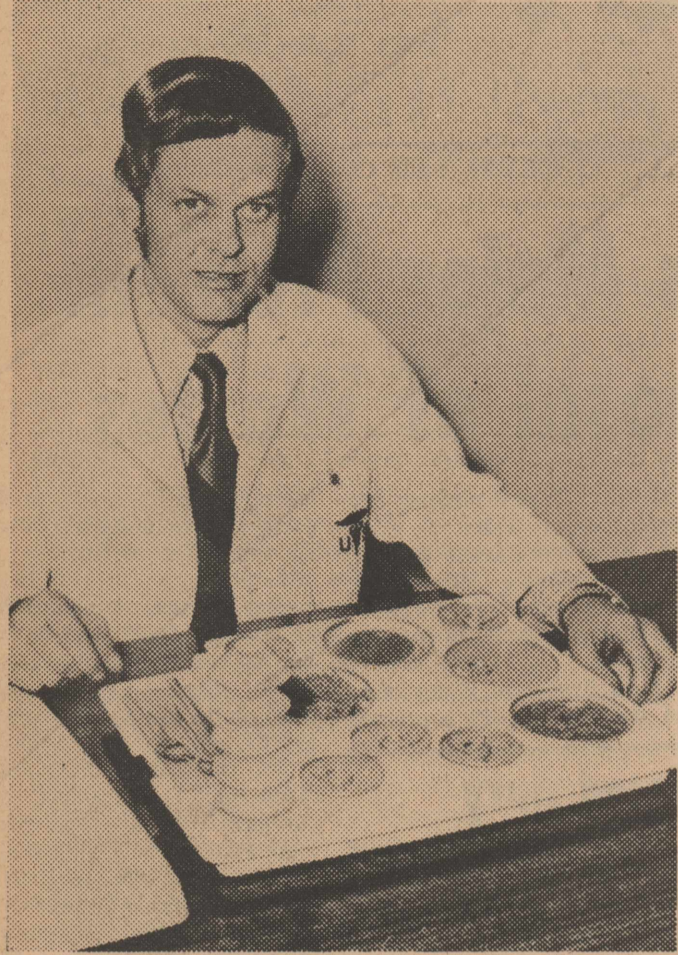

WHAT'S YOUR ANSWER?

The winner of last week's problem was Joe Earl Hunt with 21 correct answers. Daniel Montgomery was second. Mr. Hunt may pick up his prize at The Pilot office.

The problem this week is: A certain family party consisted of 1 grandfather, 1 grandmother, 2 fathers, 2 mothers, 4 children, 3 grandchildren, 1 brother, 2 sisters, 2 sons, 2 daughters, 1 father-in-law, 1 mother-in-law, 1 daughter-in-law.

There were only 7 persons present. Can you show how this might be?

The first person with the correct answer by noon Saturday will receive a gift from the Pilot.

SPACE SNACK anyone? Dr. Malcolm C. Smith, chief of NASA's food and nutrition staff at the Houston Manned Spacecraft Center, checks out a mockup of the food tray developed for astronauts aboard the Space Shuttle, major project to follow the Apollo moon landings. LANGHAM WINS TENNIS TITLE

Jim Langham, professional at the Key Allegro Tennis Club, won the title in the men's singles over 60 class in the 58th annual Texas Sectional tennis tournament in Corpus Christi last Sunday.

Langham defeated Scotty Sawyer of Dallas, 6-2, 6-4 in the finals. In the semi-finals Langham won from Brown of Abilene, 6-0, 6-2. Langham was winner in two previous matches to reach the semi-finals.

Other Rockport area tennis players who participated in the tournament were Mrs. Langham, Mr. and Mrs. L.D. Crumley, L.D. Crumley, Jr., Ricky Crumley, Cathy Langham and Buster Becker.

Langham was awarded an engraved silver tray for his victory in the 60 and over men's singles. The tournament, with 2,100 entries, was called the world's largest tennis tournament.

time that Emory M. Spencer had made arrangements with the attorneys for the Fulton heirs, who were the victors, that in case they won that they would ratify the interests conveyed to them by Steve Paul, for LOCAL PEOPLE ONLY.

Whereupon, at his own expense, Emory M. Spencer prepared the ratification deeds, had them executed by those who the Supreme Court ruled had good title, and offered to deliver them to the purchasers under Steve Paul at no cost, this offer being confined to local people.

As Spencer now says, "When you offer to do something free for the people, they become suspicious, and in this instance some of the people did not even come in for their ratification deed."

"So this matter of title curing was done without compensation, without appreciable thanks, and in most instances without the recipient even understanding what was going on."

THE WORLD OF ENTERTAINMENT TOMORROW

Based on a short story by William Faulkner, "Tomorrow" is a story of love, of truth, of compassion and love of land. It concerns Jackson Fentry, a young Mississippi cotton farmer who works from sunup to sundown on a farm owned and run by his family for generations.

Each day was a repeat of the day before until Sarah Edwards, abandoned by her husband, pregnant and sick, wanders by his farm with no destination in sight. Moved by compassion, Fentry takes her in, cares for her and marries her on her deathbed.

Words are lacking when it comes to describe the tenderness and capacity of love that this crude farmer lavishes on Sarah's son as he raises this child.

Robert Duvall's portrayal of Jackson Fentry and Olga Bellin's portrayal of Sarah Edwards bring to the screen something viewers rarely see today. The language and accent are a bit crude and overdone in some places but clever in others.

ABOUT YOUR HOME

Fences are a good defense against winds and prying eyes. For the most efficient cooling, keep louvers vertical and not more than eight inches wide. Slant them with your prevailing winds.

To act as a wind break, the fence must be solid and tall enough to offer protection. Decorative holes in the fence do not let in as much air as louvers but they actually boost its force. This may be important if your summer breeze is sluggish.

Horizontal louvers aren't recommended. They either shoot the wind up and over your garden or they force it against the ground and cause a pile-up of air that whips around and does very little cooling.

Use an attractive fence to hide the sights and sounds of your service area. The design of any fence must blend with the house architecturally.

Often a fence can be constructed to give much needed shade to yard or terrace area. Build your fence so that both sides are attractive looking.

You can buy many well-designed ready-made fences. The fences come in sections and are attached to your posts. This type of fence is made of wood which reflects less heat than masonry.

Walls and fences make a perfect background for planting. Choose shrubs that are evergreen or have an interesting pattern when bare.

HEALTH AND BEAUTY

Most of us know from personal experience that the tiniest speck caught in the eye can cause a world of discomfort. Nature does a good job of taking care of bits of foreign matter that fly into the eye. Tears come to the rescue and wash out the offensive substance.

But when the irritant doesn't wash out by itself we must do something about it. Home remedies will often work.

Everyone knows the trick of taking hold of the eyelashes, pulling the lid away from the eye and downward. This position gives the tears a better chance to wash out the speck.

If this doesn't work, try an eye cup. Make sure the eye cup is perfectly clean before you use it. If you have nothing on hand in the way of an eye wash--you can simply boil and cool plain clear water.

If the eye still hurts after ample washing, it's time to go to a doctor. Don't delay for a day or so, waiting for the trouble to go away. A lot of damage has been done by trying to use home remedies on a painful eye over a period of time.

Father's Day

American fathers make more money than those of most nations and give their families a higher living standard. But in spite of such plenty, American families are not much of an example to the world as to permanence, child behavior, juvenile behavior.

On the contrary, American children are pushing the juvenile crime rate to record highs, the nation's divorce rate is constantly increasing and the breakdown in the rate of stability and endurance of the American family seems to parallel the breakdown of paternal authority in the home.

One of the major reasons for this turn of events is the "dunce" role so often played by the American father these days. Whether the average American father is brainwashed by television programs constantly stressing female dominance (selling women the products being advertised) or whether he has simply abdicated his role as the rock of stability, security and authority in the home, is a question.

Psychiatrists tell us wives want a husband they can respect, look to for guidance and the maintaining of discipline in the home. Too many of them aren't getting much of it from American fathers and husbands.

As wives and children remember them on Father's Day, this is something they should be thinking about.

SOCIAL SECURITY, FAMILY STYLE—Mrs. Winifred Cherbak of Crown Point, Indiana, and her 10 children, ages 2 through 17, all get monthly cash survivors payments from social security. Mr. Cherbak died last year. The family's social security payments could total over $90,000 if all the children go to school until they're 22 and remain unmarried. The children are (left to right, front row) Andrea (5), Jean (2) on her mother's lap, Winifred (7), John (9), Edward (4), and (standing) Michael (17), William (15), Ernest (14), Louis (12), and Derrick (10).

SGT. DAY HONORED

ABILENE—U.S. Air Force Sergeant James L. Day, son of Mrs. Marilyn B. Day, 1007 E. Short 21st, Texarkana, Ark., has been named Outstanding Airman of the Quarter in his unit at Dyess AFB, Tex.

Sergeant Day, a radar repairman, was selected for his exemplary conduct and duty performance. He serves with a unit of the Air Force Communications Service which provides global communications and air traffic control for the USAF.

The sergeant, a 1968 graduate of Arkansas Senior High School, attended Texas A & M University.

His wife, Ruth, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. McClary of Rockport, Tex.

New father (looking at triplets the nurse has just brought out). "Hmmm! We'll take the one in the middle."

"NOW, PODNER, IF YOU'LL MOZEY DOWN OFFA THAT THERE ORNERY CRITTER, I'D LIKE TO TAKE A LOOK IN THEM THERE SADDLE BAGS!"

Is the old saying—the higher the clouds the finer the weather—based upon any scientific knowledge or is it purely folklore and superstition?

This old belief actually has a scientific foundation, since clouds form when air is cooled and moisture particles become visible in rising, cooling air, with constantly lessening moisture capacity. Therefore, high clouds are a good sign.

This is mainly true in the summer... when cumulus clouds usually form every day. If there is a great amount of moisture in the air, the rising air forms clouds quickly. If you see low white cumulus puffs quite early on a summer morning, look for rain during the day.

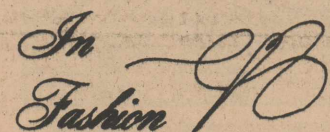

If the clouds form high, or late, or both, that is an indication that the atmosphere contains relatively little moisture, and rain will probably not occur during the day.

On Dying

In 1971 more than half the deaths in the nation were attributed to cardiovascular problems. More important, ninety per cent of those who died from this ailment were overweight.

Every reader should face the sober fact that being overweight is a serious health risk. Family breadwinners especially have an obligation to keep their weight in order; yet far more men than women die of cardiovascular disease year after year.

Proper diet, reasonable exercise and moderation in other ways are the keys to weight control and longer life, practically all the experts agree. Use them.

With the tan skin tones for summer, new lipsticks come in deeper colors. Lips should be red rather than light pink.

Checks in pastel colors are popular for play clothes as well as for other day time garments. Touches of white or combinations of checks and white are favorites with many style conscious wearers. A white jacket with checked pants or with a checked dress is a good choice.

Flounder's Color

Willie

Those Major League players who complain about management and playing conditions might ponder the case of Willie Mays. The superstar, always popular because he gave his best and loved the game, is 41.

At this age he is close to retirement and plays only on certain days. But he is still a great draw. Because he began his career in New York and is highly popular there the New York Mets have long wanted him back and recently completed a deal with the San Francisco Giants to bring Willie back—as a Met.

The Giants were paying Willie something like $150,000! Of course, he can't play like he once did but that didn't make any difference to Horace Storeham, the Giant owner. He has said he would see to it Willie has a good job with his club or another after his playing days are over.

Mays was brought into the recent trade negotiations and was satisfied to return to New York. There he is being paid his hefty salary and also has job security in New York when he retires. (Both clubs have said Willie will never lack a good-paying job in baseball as long as he wants one.) For Willie Mays, with a fine pension already certain, baseball has thus been the good life, as it is for most Major League ball players.

Saved the Ship

Oliver Wendell Holmes wrote the stirring poem, "Old Ironsides," after he heard that the famous ship Constitution was to be destroyed by the U.S. government. The poem caused so many protests against destroying the ship that it was saved.

Woods Used in Cross
 According to legend, the upright arm of the Cross of Christ was made of cedar, the crossarm of cypress and the title above was olive.

The summer guest of Miss Katie Carlock of Copano Village is her niece, Miss Kathy Doyle of Rock Spring, Georgia. Capt. James Cook discovered Hawaii nearly 200 years ago.

TV Commercials

A Senate subcommittee recently reopened hearings into the effects of television commercials on children. Though little is likely to be done, for similar hearings have been held over the years and big corporations manage to have their way regardless of these congressional shows for concerned constituents, the hearings have again produced convincing evidence that a federal authority is needed to supervise television advertising—to see it's truthful and not offensive to the public interest.

Of course, this won't soon be done and few on the Senate subcommittee would even propose such a remedy. To begin with, tremendous influence and sums of money are behind control of television content, while the public is largely unorganized and unfinanced. In addition, many members of key congressional committees supervising the Federal Communications Commission have financial interests in television stations. It is also easy and convenient to hide behind the free enterprise banner and allow commercial interests to use the nation's television airwaves primarily to sell products and make profits.

But the recent hearings have nevertheless demonstrated again that television is used by many big companies to teach children bad eating habits and to mislead them on nutrition, diet and health, so that they will want their particular products. Profit is the God, the children's interests and the national interest still come a distant second.

Plunging Birth Rate

The national birth rate plunged to its lowest level in the history of the nation in the first quarter of this year. Should the rate remain at this level, or move lower, the country's traditional population's growth rate would be reduced almost to zero.

The National Center for Health Statistics reports a 1972 rate of 15.8 births per 1,000 population, which compares with a 1971 rate of 17.3 per thousand. It reports the estimated average number of children of women of childbearing age has dropped to about 2.14 as a result of the decline. An average of 2.11 per woman would produce zero population growth, the Center estimates.

The oversight in these figures and estimates is that they do not take into account immigration; since immigration, much of it illegal, continues to pour Spanish-Americans into the nation, especially into Florida, Texas, New Mexico, Arizona and California, the nation's population is certain to continue to grow.

One result of a lower national birth rate then is likely to be an increase in the percentage of people of Latin American extraction. The vast majority of these immigrants have been taught it's sinful to use the birth control pill and therefore have larger than average families, even with lower than average means.

Combined with the fact that the nation's basic immigration law was changed in the middle sixties to allow immigrants to enter the nation more or less on a first-come, first-serve basis, rather than on a quota system giving each ethnic segment of the population its fair share of immigration by quota, what low American birth rates combined with predominately Latin-American immigration likely means is a slow but steady altering of the basic ethnic makeup of the country.

Pam Hutchins Wins Twirling Honors

Pam Hutchins, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J.D. Hutchins, continues to win honors in baton twirling competition. Pam will be a junior at Rockport-Fulton High School this fall.

In only one year, the attractive young lady has won 15 medals and seven trophies in twirling competition against some of the best baton twirlers in South Texas.

Her latest achievements occurred recently in the second annual summer "Pre-State" Twirling Festival at Robstown. Here she won three trophies and two medals.

Her awards were for the following: First place in beginners strut and also the championship strut trophy in the beginners class.

First place in beginners solo. Second place in intermediate strut. Third place in two-baton competition.

will be held each Friday from 10:30 until 11:00 a.m.

Those attending the Board meeting were Mrs. Alice Moore, Tom Moore, Mrs. H.T. Bailey, Blas Ramirez, Mrs. Joe Slocum, Colonel Tom Morgan, John Kinsey, Mrs. Corinne Harrison, Librarian, and Mrs. A.C. Hamon, Assistant Librarian.

There are dry cells at both ends of the circuit when people walk around with portable radios plugged into their heads.

Connie Hagar 86 Years Old

Mrs. Connie Hagar, one of Rockport's best known and most beloved ladies, observed her 86th birthday Wednesday.

For several months Connie has been in poor health and has had to spend most of her time in bed. However, she was cheered by the numerous birthday cards, telephone calls and congratulatory messages she received from her many friends.

Mrs. Hagar for years has been regarded as one of the nation's outstanding ornithologists and her knowledge of birds has brought hundreds of bird-watchers, authors and others to this area. Many of the experts have come here to confer with her on the migratory habits of birds seen in this area and to check on identification established by Connie. She is credited with having been the first person to identify many species of birds seen in this area.

When Connie was stronger and in better health, she spent many hours every week escorting visitors on tours to see various species of birds that only Mrs. Hagar seemed to know were here.

She formerly wrote a column, called Nature Trails, for the Rockport Pilot that was one of the most popular features of this newspaper.

During the past three decades, Connie has been the recipient of many honors, some of which are listed here:

--National Council of State Garden Clubs, met in Kentucky in 1947, white ribbon for outstanding contributions as an ornithologist.

--Texas State Parent-Teacher Association certificate, March 21, 1960 for help to children.

--National Audubon Society citation awarded 1962 in Corpus Christi, Texas. Citation reads in part: "You stood so straight among the wind-bent trees of your coast".

--Official memorandum from State Sen. William N. (Bill) Patman, Governor of Texas for day, March 28, 1967, naming Rockport Wildlife Sanctuary "with deep appreciation from all Texans".

--Recognition of her contributions to conservation and ornithology in 1960 at District Ornithology Meet. Gift of a silver bowl presented by Corpus Christi Outdoor Club, Corpus Christi Caller-Times, Corpus Christi Junior Museum and Del Mar College.

--Named 1966 "Outstanding Citizen of the Year" by Rockport Chamber of Commerce and awarded plaque.

--Author, with Fred M. Packard, of "Checklist of the Birds of the Central Coast of Texas". Mrs. Hagar's contributions to the field of ornithology also has been acknowledged by the authors of numerous books on birds.

Medicare Premium is Increased

The premium rate for the medical insurance part of Medicare will go up from $5.60 to $5.80 a month beginning July 1, according to H. M. Cleveland, social security district manager in Corpus Christi.

"The 20-cent increase in the monthly premium in July is paid by Medicare beneficiaries over age 65. The government pays an equal amount. The fund which is built from these premiums is used to help pay doctor bills and other medical expenses.

"The low increase this year reflects savings in the administrative cost of Medicare as well as lower anticipated medical costs because of the Price Commission's guidelines limiting physicians' fee increases to an average of 2-1/2 percent a year," Cleveland said.

"The cost of the program was $35 million under estimates last year. Without the Price Commission limit on physicians' fees, it would have been necessary to increase the premium to at least $6 a month."

The medical insurance part of Medicare paid $2 billion in benefits for 9-1/2 million people in fiscal 1971. Almost everyone 65 and over is enrolled--about 20 million people, according to Cleveland.

TV COMMENTARY

By John Smiley

WHAT IS TRUTH? Greek philosophers asked the question. A fragment of American TV writers say they have the answer.

SOME TV WRITERS stated recently that a vast majority of Americans think of life (truth) as they see it reflected on TV. These particular writers say life in America as shown on TV is a lie. They say television distorts the image of this country by censoring controversial and provocative themes and replacing them with myths, clichés and stereotypes.

PERHAPS this is accurate and perhaps not. One wonders if these writers are seeking license to sow more of the seedy side of life on the viewing public in the name of truth. There is no doubt that controversial and provocative happenings are occurring. Wholesome, low-key, cliché-ish events of life are happening, too.

Both, one suspects, are rooted in truth.

ONE WOULD regret seeing non-provocative themes further sacrificed on an alter of melodramatic crusading to satisfy some writer's particular concept of truth. Surely truth can be found in a still, small voice as well as in provocative controversy. There is room for both on TV, and both are at present handled to some degree. Efforts to weight the scales in favor of controversy should be discouraged.

APPOINTMENT WITH DESTINY offers the discriminating viewer excellent entertainment. Recently the story of the surrender at Appomattox was shown. Narrated by Hal Holbrook, this recreation of a painful part of our nation's adolescence was quite good.

ABC WILL HAVE Richard Burton and his bird, Elizabeth Taylor, on a pair of TV-movies next season.

Sports

FOOTBALL * * *

BY PETE FRITCHIE

Washington, D. C.—Tom Siler, in the Sporting News reports that coaches and responsible school officials who allow their football players to wear the conventional seven-crest football shoe are causing unnecessary injuries among players. Siler cites a three-year Temple University study by two experts which led Dr. Joseph Torg, an orthopedic surgeon (one of them), to warn that the seven-crest shoe caused unnecessary knee injuries.

The acceptable shoe is one much like a soccer shoe, with more but smaller cleats. The longer metal cleats of the conventional football shoe often anchor the foot too rigidly and thereby causes the twisting and injury of knees—according to Torg and trainer Ted Quedenfeld of Temple.

If this is true—and tests over the three year investigation period revealed that far more boys suffered knee injuries using the seven-crest shoes—every coach and school official should employ the new, safer shoe this fall.

While other reform is also needed to make football a sport rather than a brutality and violence exhibition, this is one that can be easily effected immediately and there is not much justification for delay.

Local Couple Collect Arrowheads for Hobby

About nine years ago Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Lassiter became interested in Indian artifacts and began collecting arrowheads.

Today they have a collection of approximately 600 choice specimens, many of which are exhibited in a glass-covered display case.

Numerous people have asked if they would consider selling their collection, and the Lassiters' answer is always the same, "We are not interested in selling but please spend all the time you want examining them."

Maxine and Lloyd Lassiter have found most of their arrowheads in Webb, Zapata and Duval counties. They say the best place to find these Indian artifacts is in creek beds and on the slopes of rock hills.

Often, they will get together with one or two couples for an arrowhead expedition and the ladies will search for artifacts while the men are deer hunting.

In their collection can be found a wide variety of sizes of arrowheads ranging from some that are smaller than a postage stamp to large ones approximately eight inches long.

The tiny arrowheads presumably were used when the Indians were shooting birds. Other arrowheads were used as fish hooks, for scrapers to scrape skins, as knives and also for necklaces to wear in ceremonies. The latter can be identified by the presence of holes bored through the arrowheads.

In color the arrowheads range from white to black with various shades in between. Also, some are pink while others are flecked with soft shades of blue and even purple.

Flint rock, ordinary rock and petrified wood seem to be the most predominate materials, according to Lassiter. He and his wife wash the arrowheads and some of them are sprayed with clear plastic for display purposes.

As for the age of the arrowheads, Lassiter says he has read books on the subject which indicate that some of the artifacts may be 4,000 years old.

Happy Homemaking

By BARBARA BAKER

When hand-washing girdles, hose and other drip-dry items, place them in a colander while changing the water. The water that always accumulates under the drains away, carrying with it some of the suds. This can even cut down on the number of rinsings needed. If you leave them in the colander to drain a bit before hanging, drying time is shorter. They need not be squeezed or twisted, which might possibly damage the fabric.

Cover the inside backs of lowered closet doors with clear plastic (the kind used on storm sash) to keep the dust out, let light in and keep pesky moths away.

Your tape measure thumb-tacked to a broom handle makes a good makeshift yardstick.

LOUISA'S LETTER

Dear Louisa,
I started going with this boy when we were freshmen in high school and now he is going off to college. What do you do when you have been going steady with someone for four years and now you are beginning to get tired of the situation and would like a change. There are so many things to consider. One is that I might be sorry and miss him so much and couldn't get him back. Another is he might be so hurt or mad with me that he would say he had got tired of me and say ugly things about me. But on the other hand he may be feeling the same way that I do but feels that he is bound just as I do. What would you do in a situation such as this?

Dorothy--Wis.

Answer:
The bloom seems to fade on long engagements when they begin with teenagers and many people make the mistake of marrying someone they have outgrown or someone they have really ceased to love as a mate should be loved.
If I were in your place I would have a heart to heart talk with the young man and suggest that both of you take a "leave of absence" from each other for a few months and, if at the end of that period, you feel that you wish to resume going steady you can do so. It is better to hurt a little bit before the knot is tied than a lot later on.

Louisa.

Dear Louisa,
I am an old woman and have a husband who is an invalid now. But when he was younger he was wild and unfaithful to me. Many of my friends urged me to leave him and make a better life for myself but I felt that I had married for better or for worse and I would take what came.
Well several years ago he got very sick and I have been taking care of him. It has been a hard job but I have never regretted my decision. He has changed and I believe he is honestly sorry for the life he has lived and appreciated what I have done for him. He said to me a few days ago, that I had always been so good to him. I suppose one reason I stayed was that I loved him and

SANDRA TENISON WINS BEAUTY CONTEST

Sandra Tenison, 18, of Port Lavaca was crowned Miss Sea-O-Rama when winners of the Mermaid beauty contest were announced.

Second place went to Lora Slovak, 17, of Corpus Christi. Third place went to Joyce Findley, 19, of Corpus Christi. Suzanne Keith, 15, of Rockport won the junior contest for girls between the ages of 13 and 15. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J.P. Keith and was sponsored by the Rockport Fire Department.

Second place went to Fay Snyder, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C.D. Snyder of Fulton.

Third place was awarded to Phyllis Johnson, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Perry S. Johnson, Jr. of Port Lavaca.

KEY ALLEGRO DREDGING STARTS

The Garrett Construction Company moved in to dredge fill from Little Bay to raise Frandolig Island as part of the Key Allegro development planned by Carl C. Krueger, Jr., and a group of San Antonio financiers.

The Vermillion Construction Company bulldozers and draglines completed construction of dikes to contain fill.

COACHING STAFF RE-ORGANIZED

The coaching staff of Aransas County High School has been re-organized, according to Athletic Director Dave Segler, to strengthen the overall athletic program and to be better able to compete in the school's new AA classification.

In addition, the coaching staff has been completed with the employment of John Outlaw Barker III, who will take the place of Marvin W. Rice, last year's assistant junior high coach, who is giving up his coaching job although remaining with the school system as a teacher.

If you're old enough to want your own telephone, you're old enough to want your own typewriter.

There comes a time in your life when all of a sudden privacy really counts.

You need to be alone. In your own place.

With your own things. You want your conversations with your friends to be just that—not a family gathering.

We understand. Which brings us to your own typewriter.

Your own typewriter says you're getting serious (and better be left alone).

After all, when people hear the tappy-tap of a typewriter they figure you're into something important and automatically steer away from you.

Besides, when your own typewriter is sitting there, it has a way (a neater way than anyone else) of reminding you of the work you have to do. And somehow you'll find yourself doing it.

And doing it faster—because with say, an electric portable, even a beginner can get to type twice as fast as writing by hand.

Other things can happen too. Like spelling can improve. Because a typed word that's misspelled looks misspelled, and just asks to be corrected.

You'll find your creative thoughts won't slip away from you, because a typewriter really listens to you—actually accepts every idea as fast as it comes up.

And then a little miracle called Organization can occur.

When that happens, you can get a feeling of confidence you won't believe.

So drop a hint or two about wanting your own typewriter. The mere act of asking says something about where your head's at.

Which could even go a long way toward getting you that telephone.

At the very least, your own extension.

Just remember when you're asking, who reminded you to ask.

Nixon's Success

President Nixon has undoubtedly scored a major foreign policy success in Moscow, the full extent of which cannot be appreciated for some months, or even, perhaps, years.

Merely in arranging the Moscow meeting and in concluding the several Russo-American agreements, Mr. Nixon has pioneered historically as a U.S. chief executive. He has, in addition, lessened the state of tension in the world and between the major communist powers and the United States concerning Vietnam.

By an agreement between the super powers on limiting nuclear arms, the President has brought some measure of mental relief to all the people of the world. Such cooperation between the United States and Russia is, moreover, a good omen for the future.

In having the full text of his opening speech printed in Pravda, Mr. Nixon succeeded in an effort in which he was not successful in 1959. (An editorial representative of this newspaper accompanied Mr. Nixon on his 1959 trip to Moscow and recalls the sense of betrayal then felt by Americans when the Russians refused to print the full text of his primary speech.)

Though the domestic political consequences of the Moscow trip are not rightly the primary consideration concerning the summit meeting, Mr. Nixon's accomplishment is certain to be a political asset in November.

Visiting in the W.B. Friend home are his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. T.J. LeBlanc of Mobile, Ala.

Historical News

Following are copies of minutes of the Civic Improvement League, an organization founded by a group of local ladies in 1909:

The Civic Improvement League met at the home of the secretary August 4th 1910.

The minutes were read and approved.

A letter from Mr. Henton was read in which he requested some advance on rent. After ascertaining the wishes of the League members the president had answered this letter previous to the meeting, and respectfully called Mr. Henton's attention to the fact that his own act of oiling the pavilion floor had destroyed the only source of revenue. Also that the League declined to pay for what it did not get.

Mr. Clevenger reported that the pagoda was completed as far as was possible at the present time, with the exception of a coat of paint. The coat up to date had been in the neighborhood of $27.00. Mr. Johnson's carpenter service was $7.50, and J.T. Walling $3.75. Mr. Clevenger contributed 3 1/2 days work.

A unanimous vote of thanks was tendered for his generous aid.

The All Star Vaudeville Co. of San Antonio had given two entertainments in the pavilion--the League receiving 20% of the receipts. The first night netted us $4.33, the second night $1.45. The company bore all expenses. Light had been obtained through the courtesy of Misses Stevenson and Westmoreland. As the wiring is still attached, the president had requested that they remain until after the 14th when Mr. Hemenway would give his illustrated lecture. Mr. Stevenson consented to attend to same for $8.00.

Mrs. Hoopes reported that in order to accommodate visitors, arrangements had been made with Mr. McCown to look after the bathing privileges for half the proceeds, 85cts. had been received thus far.

A final settlement was made on the Light tower tickets--Mrs. A.L. Bracht turned in 25cts. and Mrs. Grewe 40cts.

Miss Dorothea Taylor paid 30cts. dues.

A letter was read from Otto Kraus --the manager of the Wood Sisters--in which it was requested that the League sign enclosed contracts with the privilege of cancelling same in case it was so desired.

The gist of the report made by the committee on the stunt party was that the idea had been received thus far, and that they were now waiting for the lighting plant to be installed. A motion was made by Mrs.

A.L. Bracht that a lawn social be held at the Beach Park Friday night. This was favorably received and carried. The president appointed as committee Mrs. A.L. Bracht, Miss Dorothea Taylor, Mrs. Gean Perring, Miss Hoopes, Misses Clevenger, Hoopes, Bailey and Arthur Bracht. It was decided to serve ice cream and cake.

All agreed that Mr. Hemenway must be shown some courtesy on arriving in town, and a suggestion was made to request the use of the Gulf Coast Immigration Co's automobile and meet him at the train.

The meeting closed with an inspiring talk by Mrs. R.L. Seaves of Little Rock, Ark. in which she told of the fine work done by the Civic Improvement League at the place. Mrs. Seaves as a former resident of Rockport is naturally still interested in us--growth and progress.

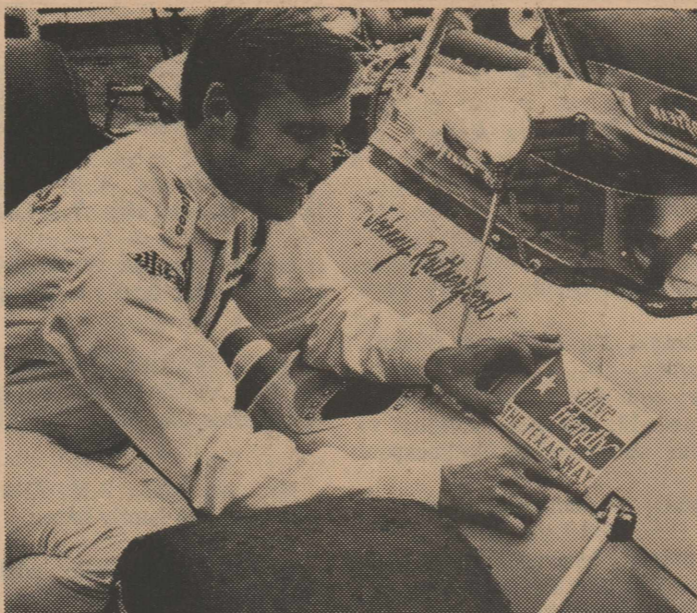

Gertrude B. Grewe

The Civic Improvement League held its weekly conference at Beachhaven Aug. 15th 1910.

The minutes were read and approved.

The sum of 5cts. was paid to the treasurer by Mrs. A.L. Bracht--the last collection on the Lighthouse tickets.

Mr. Clevenger reported that he and Arthur Bracht had made another improvement on the Beach pagoda by putting in more lattice work--a labor of love for humanity--which we all appreciate.

VETERAN DRIVER ADOPTS "DRIVE FRIENDLY"

United States Auto Club driver Johnny Rutherford affixes a "Drive Friendly" sticker to the Offenhauser powered Formula I car he will drive in this year's Memorial Day Indy 500. The Fort Worth resident says he is displaying the theme of the Texas Governor's Committee on Traffic Safety because "just hearing 'drive friendly' automatically makes people watch their driving habits".

Mrs. Hoopes reported that Mr. Hemenway had delivered his lecture on schedule time to an interested audience. It remains to be seen whether the seeds of education thus scattered in our midst will have fallen on stony ground. The gentleman had been met at the depot with due courtesy and attention by Mr. and Mrs. Hoopes, Dr. Carver and C.H. Hooval. Chas. Cleveland's auto had been hired for the occasion and Mrs. Hemenway taken about the city. He expressed much pleasure in what he had seen and was sure our city was destined to have a brilliant future.

Mr. Clevenger generously defrayed the expense of lighting the pavilion--$3.00.

The minutes were read and approved. The pavilion floor again came under discussion--what to be done or what not to be done--To do, or be did! The situation was reminiscent of the devil and the deep sea. With a determined, the flowery voiced landlord, on one side; and a useless, Beaumont oil, scented pavilion on the other, the League's revenue was not only depleted, but the likelihood of complete failure stared the members in the face. The subject was examined from all points of the compass -- was there no loophole for escape--no opportunity for a dignified retreat? If there was, it did not show up, and the fertile mind of the president suggested that the young people of the town be offered the free use of the pavilion for one evening for a dance, and in that way ascertain if the floor was saturated beyond hope of redemption.

This brilliant idea was hailed with satisfaction and a motion to that effect was carried unanimously.

Mrs. A.L. Bracht, the chairman of the Beach Park social reported a gratifying success. The beautiful moonlight night brought out a large number of citizens and visitors, who admired the little park and enjoyed the entertainment of the evening. Music was furnished by the Mexican band.

Receipts: For serving of ice cream and cake--$28.30; Donations--$6.00; Seven cakes were donated; Total receipts--$34.30.

Disbursements: Music--$2.00; Cream from Sam Prophet - $5.15; Salt, ice, spoons- $.65; Extra spoons -- $.25; Cream from Mr. Douglas--$4.00; Total--$12.05. Total profit $22.00.

Cash turned over to treasurer--$21.50; 50 cts. still due from Mrs. Bailey.

The League had the pleasure of welcoming two new members--Mrs. J.R. Williams and her mother, Mrs. E.V. Scheneman.

Each paid $1.00 initiation fee and Mrs. Williams paid 10cts. on the 1st months dues.

Entire receipts of the evening $23.60. There being but one man present, he deserves special mention--Mr. A.L. Bracht.

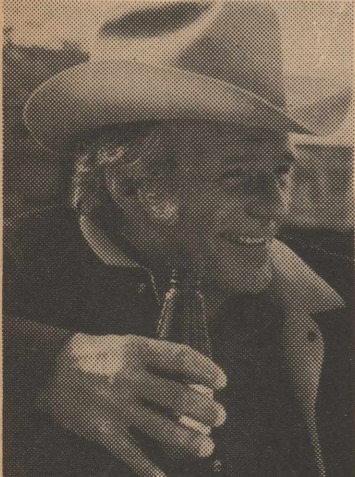

The meeting closed at the usual hour.

Manned Aircraft Still Needed; How Pilots Avoid Sam Missiles

(Editor's Note: This is the last in a series of exclusive articles based on the newly-published book, "Fighter Tactics and Strategy, 1914-18" (Harper and Row) by Edward H. Sims.)

Conclusion

After each war Air Force modernists lose faith in manned aircraft and set their sights and goals on missiles and exotic weapons. It was argued in the fifties that missiles had already made manned aircraft with pilots obsolete--that in any new war missiles would do the job pilots and aircraft had done in World War II, faster and more effectively.

That space-age dream overlooked the fact that our big missiles carry nuclear warheads, and there is a very good chance, thankfully, that nuclear war will be avoided for a long time to come. Smaller, non-nuclear missiles, such as those carried by fighters to shoot down enemy aircraft, proved their worth in the Korean War but they were fired by pilots, who brought their aircraft into a superior firing position with flying skill.

After the Korean War, the advocates of more exotic and sophisticated weapons again discounted conventional methods; emphasis in the field of manned flight was again placed on super-sophisticated aircraft and on missiles. Some of the super-sophisticated aircraft cost enormous sums of money and some of them were scandalous flops.

The Vietnam war showed once again that manned aircraft were the key to military success. The nation was lucky that the Navy had developed the F-4; the Air Force, which had failed to develop anything comparable, utilized it and its F-105's to carry out their fighter and fighter-bomber missions, while using SAC for both strategic and close-support bombing.

The Air Force also didn't have the close support, tactical air weapon needed and thus depended on the old A-1 and then, more recently, on the A-37. It therefore committed all its sophisticated types and even SAC into its close support, tactical effort in the recent North Vietnamese offensive.

And airpower, again, was probably the only decisively superior advantage the South Viets enjoyed.

U. S. pilots, by the way, have learned to evade the many SAM missiles the enemy fires at them by out-thinking the missiles. They allow the missiles to home in on them and even turn in behind them. Then they dive. The missile does all its pursuit. The pilot pulls up suddenly, just as the missile is getting close, and it can't climb that sharply and swishes on past, beneath.

It's a tricky business, which requires nerves and clear weather, but it can be done and is being done. And it demonstrates again that there's no substitute for the human mind in air fighting. The automatic homing missile, fired by pilots who get their target in range and aim the missile properly, is the best weapon in the air today--but it takes someone to fire it, and often to guide it after its fired, either by a laser beam or a wire, both aiming systems now being employed by our forces in Vietnam.

Mr. D.P. (Doggy) McClure of Corpus Christi will report on the National Public Education Meeting he attended June 2 in Houston, and three District Directors to the Texas Division Board will be elected. Awards for outstanding programs of public education and the most successful fund-raising Crusades will be presented also at this Luncheon Session.

Those attending from the Aransas County unit will be the following delegates: Jim Fowler, Mary Lou McClathery, Patti McArdle, Maurice Davis, and Rev. Charles Fake.

All reservations should be made by Monday June 19.

Questions and Answers

Q. My father and mother were collecting monthly social security retirement benefits in a single check when my father died last month. We reported his death to social security, but when the check came yesterday, it still had both my mother's and father's name on it. What should we do?

A. You or some member of your family should bring the check to the social security office. We will stamp it so that it can be cashed with just your mother's endorsement on it. Any adjustments necessary will be made in your mother's next check.

Q. I will be 65 in a few months and ready to retire. I am also going to move out of the State shortly after I retire. Should I wait until after I move to apply for social security retirement benefits?

A. No. You should apply 3 months before you are 65 for your social security retirement benefits and your Medicare coverage. Then, as soon as you know your new address notify any social security office.

Q. I recently moved just across the street from my old address. Since the mailman knows where I live, is it really necessary to change my address?

A. Yes. Your present mailman may know where you live, but a new one may look for you at the address shown on the check. If he doesn't find you there, he may send the check back to the U.S. Treasury Department, and delivery of your check will be delayed.

Q. When I first applied for my social security card, I used my nickname. Now that I've started working full time, I use my proper name. Does it make any difference that my nickname is on my card?

A. Yes. To ensure that your earnings record is accurate and up to date, you should call or visit any social security office and have your name corrected.

Have a question about social security and its retirement, survivors, disability or Medicare benefits? See your telephone directory for the phone number and address of the nearest social security office.

"What Playwright Schisgal has done is to turn the theatre of the absurd upside down... He refuses to keep a straight face before some of the pious obsessions of the contemporary world and stage--alienation, loss of identity, inability to communicate, homosexuality, existentialism, Freudianism, self-expression and the meaninglessness of it all. In LUV, he devastates these themes in a holocaust of laughter."

—TIME

"LUV is probably the answer to existentialism, bad dreams, Sigmund Freud, fear and trembling, Dear Abby, Oswald Spengler and the ever-present problem of underwear unpleasantness. It certainly is the answer to a theatregoer's prayer... Amen, amen, and the Order of Merit for all... Investigate at once."

—Walter Kerr, NEW YORK HERALD TRIBUNE

"For the precious boon of fresh laughter, much thanks... Murray Schisgal throws a personal, distorting and cheerfully revealing light on such matters as love, marriage, divorce and a host of other familiar subjects. As he makes us laugh, he also reminds us of our airs and self-deceptions."

—Howard Taubman, NEW YORK TIMES

"A brilliant comedy... Under its steady flow of wild, hilarious levity, it manages to slip in many wise and brilliantly perceptive observations on the lunatic course of modern sexual relationship without changing pace. I would call it a triumph... Mr. Schisgal emphatically comes into his heritage with LUV."

—Richard Watts, Jr., NEW YORK POST

"This is a playwright's triumph, most of all... LUV is a jubilantly ringing hit... a perfect comedy."

—Norman Nadel,
 NEW YORK WORLD-TELEGRAM & SUN

"A million-megaton hit... The funniest comedy I can recall."

Record Flounder Caught In Galveston Bay

GALVESTON--Texas has a new State Fish Record for flounder.

Jefferson D. Huddleston of Galveston caught an 11-pound, 2-ounce flatfish in the Galveston West Bay on May 9.

Huddleston's fish usurps the old record of 10 pounds, 5 ounces set in January of this year.

The record flounder was caught at night on a rod and reel with live shrimp as bait.

CARD OF THANKS

Our recent sad loss leaves us with grateful hearts toward neighbors and friends. Their comforting expressions of sympathy and thoughtfulness will always be remembered.

In a survey of fatal accidents in California, 65% of the drivers who were killed had been drinking. In another survey of fatal accidents in New York, 38% of the drivers who had been killed had been drinking. Not necessarily drunk. mind you, but not sober either.

You don't have to feel drunk to be too drunk to drive. Some people can't take even a single drink without it dimming their vision, slowing their reflexes, and warping their judgment.

Contrary to popular belief, God doesn't necessarily protect fools and drunkards. And you're a fool if you think you sober up when you get behind the wheel of your car.

Also, contrary to some persons belief, owning a water refiner "doesn't cost, but saves". You use less detergents, bleaches, blueing, scouring powder and shampoos. Water bearing appliances, such as water heaters, washing machines and coffeemakers will last longer and require fewer service calls because lime scale will not accumulate. Texas Alligators Making Comeback

AUSTIN-- The alligator in Texas is making a comeback. Thanks to a combination of state and federal laws which make the interstate transport and the possession of alligator hides illegal, more and more Southeast Texans are reporting the big reptiles in their ponds and lakes.

This resurgence of alligator populations is not confined to Texas. Other southern states are reporting population increases for the alligator, and one state, Louisiana, has even proposed removing some of the restrictions on killing 'gators.

If the population continues to increase and expand its range, a limited harvest might become feasible.

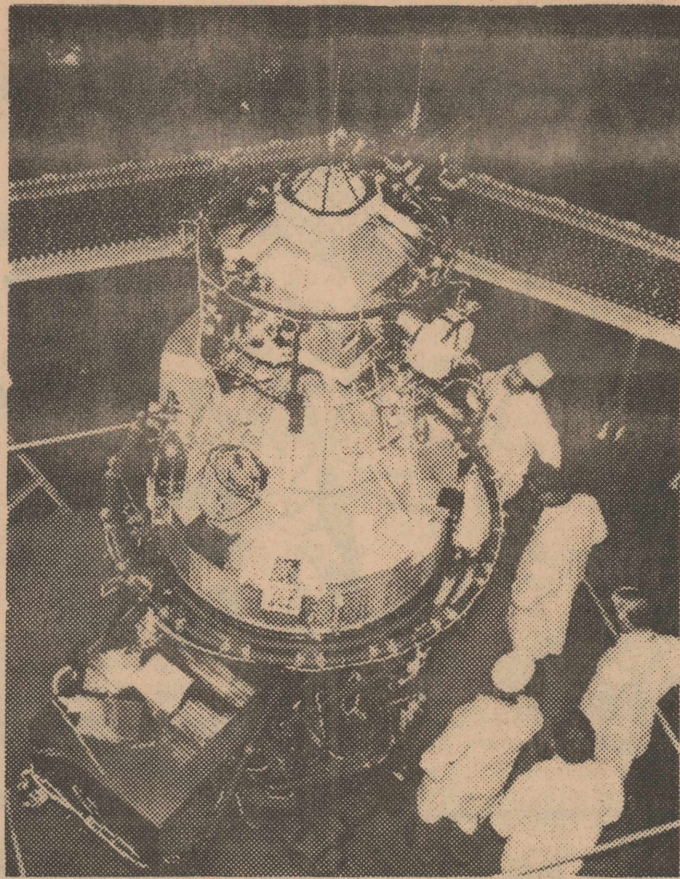

At the present, however, past losses still need to be recovered.

The alligator comeback is heartening news to conservationists who, just a few years ago, feared that the great beasts were being driven to extinction by poachers and disappearing habitat.

The habitat is still disappearing, and biologists say alligators as well as other species of wildlife will suffer as a result. However, poaching activity was effectively stymied by the new laws governing the possession of alligators and their skins. It is a criminal offense to keep a live alligator without a permit and to possess a hide except as a finished product.

The Texas Parks and Wildlife Department estimated that there were approximately 10,000 alligators in Texas in 1966, with a slow decrease in the numbers. At one time in Texas alligators probably numbered in millions.

No one knows how many 'gators there are in Texas now, but a survey taken last fall in several southeastern counties indicates that more than 90 percent of Texas' alligators are less than six feet long. Since six feet is the criterion biologists use to separate mature and immature alligators, this preponderance of juvenile alligators indicates a veritable alligator population explosion.

Last weekend guests of Misses Katie Carlock and Sue Stinson at their Copano Village home were Mr. and Mrs. McDonald Applewhite, Richardson, Texas, Mrs. Louise Van Order, Mrs. Frances Sanford, and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Gilmore, all of Dallas.

The danger in ignorance is that so many have it without suspecting it.

Parks and Wildlife biologists say the alligator in Texas still has some way to go before it is solidly established again, and too much pressure could still threaten the alligator. Also, it takes a long time before six-foot alligators become 13-foot alligators.

But the biologists are optimistic now about the 'gator's chances, if the reptiles are allowed to continue at their present rate of growth.

The Kinsey Report

Most of us who live in the Rockport area are proud of our community and enjoy the life we live here.

However, as we all know, it's easy to take things for granted and to forget about the many attractions which draw vacationers here, which in turn often leads to people moving to this vicinity for year-round living.

I was reminded of this on Tuesday when I got a call from Bill Dozier, owner of the Kerrville Times. Bill and his lovely wife had come to Rockport to spend a couple of days to "just relax and take it easy."

My wife and I had lunch with the Doziers and it was a pleasure to hear them praise our area. They spoke about the interesting drives along the bays, the live oak trees, the fine art galleries, the excellent eating places, the nice motels, the friendly people.

Although Bill is president of the Kerrville Chamber of Commerce, you would think he is working for the Rockport Chamber of Commerce.

VIRUSES FOR M.R. Cure?
Using bacterial viruses, a new research technique has been developed which has potential application in the treatment of a number of genetic or hereditary-origin diseases.

This means that it may become possible, for example, to cure some forms of M. R. --mental retardation--by infecting patients with a virus.

Dr. Carl R. Merrill of the National Institute of Mental Health, Health Services and Mental Health Administration of the U. S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, made the discovery as head of a research team. They reported in the British scientific journal, Nature, that the discovery suggests that viruses may play an important natural role in the exchange of genetic information among different species.

The British journal, in an editorial, called their report "little short of revolutionary" and said that the work would have "far-reaching implications."

Dr. Merrill said that the development suggests that it might be possible to introduce selected bacterial genes into living human beings and significantly change faulty metabolic processes.

Answers to questions concerning the exact degree of improvement, its permanence in the human system, and possible side effects from the transporting virus are among those which must now be determined in additional studies before the technique is ready for use.

The scientific team in its reported work has shown that, under laboratory conditions, bacterial viruses are able to infect human cells grown in tissue culture. The cells used were derived from a patient with galactosemia, a genetic disease in which there is a lack of activity of a specific enzyme required to metabolize the sugar, galactose.

Galactosemia, caused by a missing gene, can lead to men-

Parents Dead, 400,000 Students Get Help from Social Security Checks

Some 400,000 young people whose mother or father has died get monthly social security checks that help them attend colleges, high schools, or trade schools, according to social security officials here.

The students, 18 through 21, are eligible for benefits as survivors of workers who were insured under social security.

About 100,000 other students get monthly checks because one of their parents has retired and is collecting monthly retirement benefits. And, over 50,000 young people are getting student benefits because they are children of severely disabled workers who are getting disability insurance payments, a social security spokesman said.

Altogether, there are over half a million "social security student beneficiaries," he said.

A recent study of student beneficiaries made by the Social Security Administration showed 66 percent of the students were enrolled in college, 26 percent were attending high school, and 8 percent were in technical or vocational schools.

Full-time students continue to receive monthly cash payments after reaching age 18 when a parent is receiving retirement or disability benefits from social security or after a parent who was insured under social security has died.

Students can get benefits until 22 as long as they are attending accredited schools full time and remain unmarried, the spokesman said.

Tommy's 8 and he's still collecting Social Security

... and he has been ever since his father died. If something should happen to you, your family is protected, too, under social security's survivors program. It provides regular monthly checks until children reach the age of 18. Or 22 if they stay in school.

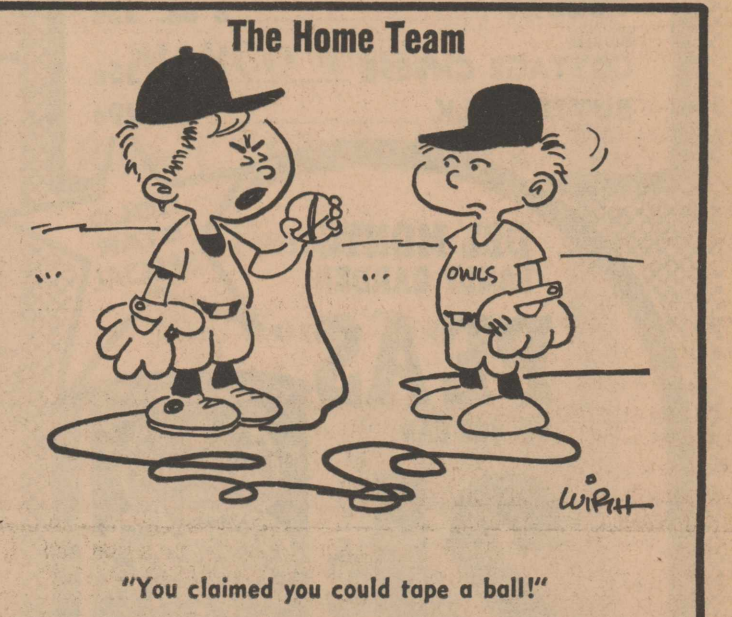

If you think social security helps when you retire, you're right. But it's also something you can depend on now.

For more information, contact any social security office.

Social security pays four benefits: survivors, disability, retirement and Medicare.
