Law Rounding Up Hoodlums After Home Of Judge Pitts Is Bombed

By R. C. HANKINS
Journal Staff Writer

Quick grand jury action may be the law's answer to hoodlums who early this morning heavily bombed the residence of Judge E. L. Pitts at 2911 Twentieth street.

The blast was the second in recent weeks to affect law enforcement officials of Lubbock.

None Is Injured

The shattering explosion did not injure anyone, but it was heard from one end of the city to another. Officers—police, sheriff, rangers, district attorney, county attorney, Daniel A. Blair, 72nd district judge, and other departments—arrived at the Pitts residence almost on the echo of Judge Pitts' 1:15 telephone call to police and the sheriff.

Every pane in the two porch windows and in the front door was blown out.

Venetian blinds were splintered.

Concrete Porch Cracked

The concrete porch was cracked in several places.

Bricks of the wall were loosened and in several places could be pried out with a pencil.

The wall was cratered in a yawning section directly proximate to where the bomb went off.

Judge Blair, conferring with officials who began shaking down residences of known beer traffickers immediately after viewing damage of the explosion, said his grand jury had been recessed subject to call anytime before June 22, when court will be adjourned.

Would Call Jury Back

"If evidence can be gathered of a nature sufficient to be presented before a grand jury I will call the 72nd district jury back to consider it," he said.

"It is high time, in view of this morning's incident, that action be taken. When a district judge is attacked in his sleep and in his own home, it appears that the limits of coercion have been practiced. Such Hitleristic tactics are deplorable, to use the most conservative language, and should meet with immediate action of the law."

Officers recalled that at 10 o'clock the night of May 8 the residence of Robert J. Allen, the county attorney who lives at 2408 Thirteenth street was bombed. Lesser damage was reported at the Allen residence.

Bootleggers Rounded Up

Early this afternoon officials of law enforcement agencies, openly blaming the bootlegging bloc for the bombing, said they had responded immediately to the alarm by going out and arresting several persons known to have engaged in beer traffic.

"They are being questioned as they are brought in," said one official. "We are not satisfied we have our finger on the right person yet—but the line of clues has not played out."

At the same time it was disclosed that officials had traced down a sale of dynamite in Lubbock.

Purchase Is Revealed

"We found that one stick of dynamite, four percussion caps and three feet of powder fuse had been purchased at a Lubbock store Tuesday," said the succinct announcement.

That angle was dovetailing late this morning into the investigation, officials said.

Judge Pitts, presiding over the 99th judicial district, only Monday had assessed 48 days in county jail against seven persons charged with contempt of a May 3 court order enjoining them against sale of beer in wayside taverns and popular drivein spots. He also fined them in the aggregate of $1,020. He had granted a temporary injunction to the Texas Liquor Control board so enjoining those defendants. Hearing on merits of the case had been slated for the September term of his court.

Others Were Sentenced

Judge Pitts, virtually shaken out of bed by the blast, had given fines and jail terms to three other persons similarly charged, only a few days ago.

He calmly related to hundreds of persons who gathered at his residence what had happened.

To the Evening Journal, Judge Pitts said:

"Miss Dorothy Alley, Mountain Home, Ark., woman student of Draughon's Business college, was in bed downstairs, only a few feet from where the blast went off. She

By DOROTHY ALLEY
Written For The Evening Journal

Up to this morning I had the idea Lubbock was a quiet town and that the only things that bothered it were growing pains and a civic duty of keeping up its record for cleanliness.

But— as I say—that was up to this morning.

At 1:15 o'clock this morning I was almost knocked out of bed by the concussion of a bomb.

It went off about 12 feet from my bed. It scared me.

I jumped out of bed (I hadn't been asleep because I had studied until after midnight) and ran toward the stairs that lead to the apartment of Judge Pitts and Mrs. Pitts and met Judge Pitts in his robe and slippers coming down.

"What was that terrible noise?" I asked him.

"Someone trying to get me," he said.

He asked me not to be alarmed. That sounded easy but how could you keep from it—with dynamite going off just outside on

Coke Stevenson Will Be Here Late Today

Coke Stevenson, lieutenant governor of Texas, is to come to Lubbock late this afternoon after speaking at the dedication of the new courthouse at Andrews this afternoon.

He will come here with J. Doyle Settle of Lubbock, former representative and now field representative of West Texas museum at Texas Technological college. Settle went to Andrews at 12:30 p. m.

The lieutenant governor, candidate for re-election, will be honored by a few friends at a barbecue tonight.

He will go to Spur Thursday to lead the first grand entry of the Spur rodeo and roundup into the Charles A. Jones Memorial stadium.

CALCUTTA, India, June 12 (AP)—The government of India today seized the Italian steamer Calabria, 9,515 tons.

Army Tank Company To Arrive In City

Camping space was prepared in the fairgrounds this morning for the 73 men of light tank company D, 68th infantry of the regular army, who are due to arrive in Lubbock this afternoon for an over-night stay, according to information given at the chamber of commerce.

No word had been received as to the probable time of arrival. Capt. G. B. Peploe advised, however, that a small advance detail will be here about an hour in advance of the main body of troops.

The full detail, consisting of 70 enlisted men and three officers, is enroute from Fort Sam Houston near San Antonio to Fort Lewis, Wash. Perishables such as meat and ice will be bought in Lubbock and supper and breakfast will be prepared in the traveling kitchens. Chamber of commerce officials were not advised as to whether tanks are being carried.

French Claim Defense Line Holding Out

Tremendous Losses Are Inflicted On Invading Armies

As The Allies Tell It

(By The Associated Press)

TOURS, France, June 12.—The elements of more than 100 German divisions, attacking on a broad front from the lower Seine to the Argonne forest, carried the battle of France tonight to the region only 20 miles from Paris, which the Von Kluck and Von Bulow armies reached in September of 1914.

The Germans engulfed Senlis, historic World war town 26 miles north of Paris.

Appears Unlikely Now

In the first battle of the Marne the French made a successful flank attack to save their city. Such a move appeared unlikely now.

In the Vic-Sur-Aisne region where the Germans crossed to the south bank of the river and occupied a huge plateau, another offensive was unleashed to push the fighting nearer the city.

The French command ordered a withdrawal south of the Marne along the line between Meaux and Chateau-Thierry. Meaux is about 26 miles east of Paris.

Withdrawals Counter-Balanced

The withdrawals were counterbalanced, the war ministry indicated, in the west where the defenses were holding near Vernon, on the Seine.

With Reims holding, the war ministry said the German advance between the besieged cathedral city and Compiegne had failed to pierce the general defense system.

The General Maxime Weygand defense apparently is inflicting tremendous losses on the Germans.

Italians Blow Up Bridge

As the battle in the north continued, Italian troops blew up a bridge at Vinti Mille on the French border in the Alps after mobilizing between 60 and 70 divisions.

(On the basis of an estimated strength of 15,000 men to a division, this would indicate the Italians had massed between 900,000 and 1,050,000 troops along France's southern frontier).

Take Determined Stand

News of the Italian military activity on France's new front came as the French defenders of Paris took a determined stand along the Marne at Chateau-Thierry and at Meaux. Meaux is only 27 miles east of the heart of the capital and but

Italian Liner Fired By Crew In Pacific

SYDNEY, Australia, June 12 (AP)—Archie Cameron, minister of the navy, announced today the Italian liner Romolo, carrying passengers and a valuable cargo, had been set on fire by its crew in mid-Pacific when it was intercepted by a warship.

The Romolo left Brisbane, Australia, on June 5. It carried 5,000 bales of wool.

The navy minister's announcement said the crew took to boats after setting the ship ablaze. No further details were known.

Expansion For Navy Started

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 12—The navy announced today that work was ordered started on two new 45,000-ton battleships, and 20 other warships and auxiliaries last night, within an hour after President Roosevelt signed the navy's $1,400,000,000 appropriation act.

The two battleships were assigned to the New York and Philadelphia navy yards, respectively, and other vessels were divided between government and commercial yards.

Acts With Swiftness

Officials said the navy acted with swiftness unmatched even in the World war. The contracts for 9 warships assigned to commercial shipbuilding plants had been negotiated while final action on the appropriation was awaited.

The 22 ships will cost more than $327,000,000 to complete, it was estimated.

The speed with which the navy acted found its army counterpart in measures which were said to be designed both to strengthen defenses and furnish substantial assistance to the British and French Allies.

A group of 93 airplanes and millions of dollars worth of munitions were being made available to the Independent Order of Odd Fellows No. 609 elected officers in a meeting Tuesday night at the hall. New officials are M. E. Stone, noble grand; C. E. Woods, vice noble grand; A. L. Bettes, team captain.

Initiatory degrees were conferred on John Caraway, J. J. Modrall, Ralph Burdette and R. B. Walbrem. If permission can be received from the deputy grand of the district, J. D. Evans, a joint installation will be held with Brownfield, Abernathy and Lubbock participating.

Generals Are Seized; Paris 12 Miles Away

Reims And Rouen In Nazi Hands; City Is Said Doomed

As The Germans Tell It

(By The Associated Press)

BERLIN, June 12. — The German high command announced tonight that French troops surrounded at St. Valery, on the English channel, had capitulated and that more than 20,000 prisoners had been taken.

The captives claimed included one French corps general, one British corps general, and four French divisional generals. Material taken thus far was described as "incalculable."

Battleship Is Hit

Military sources said, meanwhile, that in the air attack yesterday on Le Havre, the great French port, a battleship or heavy cruiser was hit by a heavy bomb and damaged.

Meanwhile, an Italian army communique was read over German radios for the first time since Italy's entrance into the war—and with the same ceremony given to German communiques.

At the end of the reading, an Italian war song was played.

Dr. Robert Ley, German labor corps leader, announced in the newspaper Angriff: "Germany and Italy will fight to the final victory, standing together throughout the victory to build a new Europe and accomplish it with a better philosophy, with the philosophy of the fascist-national socialist revolution."

Towns Are Captured

Reims and Rouen have been captured, the rivers Seine and Marne have been crossed on the two flanks of Paris and German divisions stand on the Oise twelve and one-half miles northwest of the French capital, Germany declared today.

All these triumphs were claimed by the German high command, save the crossing of the Marne.

The declaration to that effect came from authoritative quarters expanding on the high command's announcement that the Marne had been reached "on the broadest front

Huge Tax Bill Given Senate

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 12 — The unusual spectacle of quick and almost unanimous House passage of an election-year tax bill apparently will be duplicated in the Senate, which received today the billion-dollar measure designed to pay emergency defense costs.

Only six votes were cast against the legislation in the House last evening after a single day's debate. Republicans centered their criticism unsuccessfully on the provision boosting the federal debt limit $4,000,000,000 to $49,000,000,000.

Morgenthau Is Called

The Senate finance committee kept to the House pace by calling Secretary Morgenthau immediately to explain the measure. It is expected to reach the floor next Monday.

Two new proposals appeared likely to arise in the Senate, however. Senator Byrd (D-Va) said administration forces had accepted his amendment to reduce most federal expenditures by 10 per cent. Senator La Follette (Prog-Wis) said he would

Texas Tech Budget Is Studied Today

Members of the local affairs committee of the board of directors of Texas Technological college are meeting in the office of President Clifford B. Jones this afternoon to make final approval of the 1941-43 budget for the college which will be submitted soon to the state board of control.

The budget covers expenditures of the college for the next biennium and after approval by the local affairs committee it goes to the board of control where it will face close study before being submitted to the next session of the legislature.

Members of the local affairs committee here for today's session are: Board Chairman Joe T. Sneed, jr., of Amarillo, Charles C. Thompson of Colorado City and Spencer A. Wells of Lubbock, chairman of the committee. Board Secretary W. T. Gaston, who is also business manager of the college, is meeting with President Jones and the committee on budget matters.

"It Couldn't Happen Here"—But It Did!

Now It's Time For Action!

So it can't happen here, eh?

Bombings are things that happen only in New York, St. Louis, Chicago, Detroit and the other great metropoli where thugs run rampant, are they?

Well, read the headlines again. Such things can happen here—and have happened!

Despite the fact that crimes such as the bombing of the home of District Judge E. L. Pitts early today are crimes which are hard to solve because little or no evidence is left, law enforcement officers of the city, county and state are "on the spot." They've got to solve the Pitts bombing, or let the lawless element know it can safely "get by" with such atrocities.

And if they can "get by" with bombing the home of a district judge—the highest ranking official in any judicial district—there's no telling what they'll try, and "get away with," next.

If the constituted state, city and county officers can't solve the Pitts bombing in a reasonable length of time, city and county officials better get someone in here who can solve it. And they'd better not take too much time getting around to bringing that someone in.

"It couldn't happen here"—but it did! And there mustn't be any fumbling of the ball on the part of officialdom!

Four Persons Killed As Swiss Cities Are Bombed

18 Others Are In Hospitals

GENEVA, June 12 (AP)—The Swiss counted four dead, including two women, and many injured today in bombings of cities and villages by foreign planes. The identity of the bombers was not known.

At least 18 persons were hospitalized with serious wounds in Geneva, where five bombs were dropped in a residential suburban district, killing two persons.

Five bombs were dropped on a railroad station and a nearby hotel in Renens, north of Lausanne. A woman in a wheel chair was killed, her husband's foot was torn off, and a man, asleep in bed in the hotel, was fatally injured.

Believed To Be Italian

Swiss expressed an unofficial belief the plane that raided the Geneva suburb was Italian, but a communique later did not state its nationality.

The plane, roaring over the towering Saleve cliff just across the border in France early today, moved over Swiss territory as it dropped its cargo in the Champel-Carouge district.

Medical Plan Is Predicted

NEW YORK, June 12 (AP)—Officials of the American Medical association today predicted a new move toward socialized medicine in the United States.

The house of delegates, ruling body of the organization, adopted a resolution declaring that bills now under consideration by Congress and the expansion of the veteran's administration hospital program might be opening wedges on establishing a government controlled program of medical care.

To Appropriate Funds

At present, the resolution stated, the veteran's administration has 54,779 beds in its various hospitals, and other government services provide 16,345 other beds with facilities for 10,000 more now under construction.

Legislation now pending would appropriate $10,000,000 to build 50 small hospitals throughout the country and additional ones as the need is shown.

The A.M.A. legislative committee declared "that since we have not definitely destroyed the propaganda nor the sentiment held in some quarters in favor of state medicine, these numerous hospitals may later offer an opportunity for exploitation in this field."

South Africa hitherto had not joined in the empire air-training plan for sent troops to Europe.

"They certainly wouldn't tease you to take a thing that strictly counts up the mileage from their own gasoline, unless they're awfully sure of themselves. So I steered to the first Conoco station and in half a second the Mile-Dial was on the dash. Looks smart. Free, too.

"Let's look. I'm at 53 gallons. And... wait a second... it's 928 miles since starting this test of Conoco Bronz-z-z. Now watch this flip of the Mile-Dial. There! —it says better than 17½ miles from a gallon of Bronz-z-z, with a car this big. And do I hear any pooh-pooh?

"Even Henry won't say it's just luck any more, after all the different driving tests he's kept doing with this Mile-Dial... Luck?... It's just bad luck using mixed breeds of gasoline when Conoco Bronz-z-z is game to let you dial its true mileage. A smaller car like yours might even beat 17½.

Russia Holds Key To Move

(By The Associated Press)

BUDAPEST, June 12—Turkey's call of 200,000 additional reserves to the colors was interpreted in Balkan capitals today as indicating she is preparing to fulfill her pledges to the Allies and enter the European war—provided Soviet Russia stays out.

Informed sources estimated that Turkey now has approximately 600,000 men under arms, and the small nations of southeastern Europe looked to their owr defenses.

Hope For Neutrality

Hungary, Rumania and Yugoslavia hope to maintain their neutrality even if Ankara votes for war, but the fate of Greece is closely linked with that of Turkey.

Intense diplomatic activity was in progress in Ankara and Athens, where the government yesterday stepped up its military preparations by ordering the class of 1934 to report for "periodical training."

Depends On Russia

All quarters seemed agreed that if Josef Stalin indicated to Turkey that her entry into the war would be the signal for Russian intervention in behalf of the Rome-Berlin axis, Turkey would have no course but to keep out.

There have been some indications that Russia was steering away from the axis, but recent resumption of normal diplomatic relations between Rome and Moscow cast fresh doubt here on Stalin's intentions.

Final Public Hearing Held

The zone classification for one side of one block on Nineteenth street occupied most of the attention of the final public hearing on a proposed zoning ordinance for Lubbock before the city commission in the American Legion auditorium Tuesday afternoon. Only 19 persons attended.

Although the hearing was the last of the kind to be held, Mayor Slaton and members of the commission made clear that abundant opportunity still remains for the filing of protests against all or any part of the ordinance. Commissioners are W. B. Price, W. G. McMillan, Hub Jones and Garland Newsom.

To Study Protests

The mayor told the gathering that the commission probably will devote several weeks to studying various of the protests on file. The probable procedure then will be to act upon the ordinance. If it is passed, two readings will be required to put it into operation, with a lapse of two weeks between the meetings. Until that time, Mayor Slaton explained, protests may be filed. Likewise, those wishing to protest will be heard in person at any commission meeting until then.

The discussion at the hearing, which was without controversy, related chiefly to the south side of the 2400 block on Nineteenth which lies between Avenue X and College avenue. That block, it was explained, is under deed restrictions which continue in effect until 1950 and which limit construction to better-type dwellings.

There seems to have been a misunderstanding, the mayor was informed, that a large number of property owners and tenants along the thoroughfare who have been urging that Nineteenth be designated as a business street from Texas avenue to College avenue have been including the 2400 block in their demand. Under the ordinance as now proposed, all except about two blocks on Nineteenth would be designated as an apartment house-residence zone.

Jno. L. Ratliff, local attorney residing at 2413 Nineteenth, appeared before the commission to urge that present deed restrictions on the property in the block where he resides be retained. He made clear that he was not attempting to dictate how the remainder of the street be zoned.

Stymied For Present

W. W. Campbell, attorney, and Earl Allen, spokesmen for Nineteenth street delegation of business men, said they are not asking that the 2400 block be placed in a business zone. Their interests, they added, concern the remainder of the street which already is built up largely with business property.

Ratliff made the further assertion that he would like to see wider pavement on Nineteenth and that, "I am prepared to give as much property as anyone else to bring it about."

He had reference to the offer the city has made to replace present 36-foot pavement with 50-foot pavement between Texas and College avenues without cost to property owners if they will supply the right-of-way. Property owners who have been working for the improvement are "stymied" in their efforts, Allen said, until it is known definitely that Nineteenth will be designated for business purposes.

Oil Companies Are Served Citations

AUSTIN, June 12 (AP)—Twelve defendant oil companies and individuals were being served citations today in the state's suit for recovery of $156,200 in bonuses on University of Texas lands in Crane, Upton and Pecos counties.

The suits, in seven petitions, were filed by Attorney General Gerald C. Mann in a Travis county district court and contended the defendants had failed to pay $2 per year per acre on leased lands as specified in contracts.

Ruling On Communists On Ticket Is Asked

AUSTIN, June 12. (AP)—The attorney general's department was asked today by Secretary of State M. O. Flowers for a ruling on whether Communist party candidates were entitled to listing on the state's general election ballot.

A move to bar the party, listed with Democratic, Republican, Prohibitionist and other parties in past years, was launched by the Travis post No. 76 of the American Legion in Austin last week.

Water Moccasins Like To Be Left In Peace

TYLER, June 12 (U.P.) — Water moccasins, Norman Wood has learned, don't like to be bothered.

Wood tried to catch a bullfrog on the bank of a pool. But he slipped. He fell in the water. The commotion aroused the moccasin. The moccasin bit Wood.

Hospital attendants said Wood would recover.

The frog got away.

Get in . . . and wait for the world to catch up!

. . . you drive it, it's impossible to know how far apart Lincoln-Zephyr is among cars . . . how completely it has the way to a new and far more satisfying motoring world. It was from the mind and still is an altogether new kind of car. Its engine is a mighty "12" . . . yet its price is moderate . . . and its owners get operating economy that would be amazing even with fewer cylinders! Its body construction is unique, with body and frame a single truss-built unit. Its floating ride and almost effortless handling ease never fail to surprise those who experience them for the first time. Its advanced style has changed a nation's tastes in car design. We invite you to try Lincoln-Zephyr yourself. You'll find it still bigger, more powerful, more beautiful this year . . . and you'll know before you've gone a mile that you're well out ahead of the pack!

Comfortable Individuality Is Trend In Modern Homes

Present Trend Is Hominess

By MARGARET KERNODLE
Associated Press Feature Writer

Comfortable individuality makes a house a home these days. That seems to have been the decorator's theme as they designed 16 rooms in the America at Home exhibit of the New York World's Fair. They are regional rooms—materials are local to the sections for which the rooms were planned—but they do show a national trend to hominess.

Occasionally you run across some screwy ideas, but there's not much that's sensational.

Among the interesting new ideas you'll find a television set that slides down into a cabinet to make a table top when not in use. The same idea is applied to a dressing table mirror for milady. There's a room with no corners—all the walls are curved. It's so livable and good looking, too, that you wonder why somebody hasn't put the idea into general use long ago.

There's an old-time kitchen you could live in.

In the whole exhibition there's a strong trend of functional furniture, lights, walls and windows. It's as if the rest of the house at last were meeting the challenge of the little gadgets that so long have been helping housewives.

Crafts get good play throughout but they take over the whole show in the Pennsylvania hill house, planned by George Howe for a comfortable camp. Everything's hand-done, including carved wood lighting fixtures, a bed mounted on a chest of drawers, a curved staircase of sculptured oak, hand-woven textiles and a wall paneled with natural cherry in circular pattern.

Another popular room is Virginia Conner's "Seven Days" designed as a one-room apartment for a bachelor. The low coffee table gets the limelight here. It's four-feet square but it can be raised to dining-table height by means of brass rods inserted in the legs. The grass covered walls are the same grape-gray as the rug. Lime-green and persimmon-red are good contrast in the upholstery. This room is typical, too, because of its space savers, built-in chests of drawers, book cases and a lighted niche over the sofa-bed. It has a huge mirror on one wall—makes the room seem twice as big.

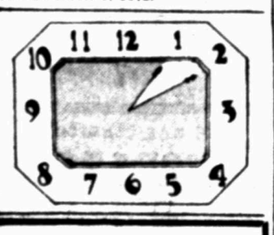

Ideas for making Junior and mother happy are plentiful in a nursery on exhibition. Theodor Muller, of Boston, Mass., gave the compressed cork tile floor a geometric pattern to indicate rivers, fields and roads for a child's play. Bold primary colors are emphasized with browns for the background. A rail runs around the walls, two feet above the floor, to help a young toddler. Fabrics in the furnishings are water-resistant, sunfast and washable.

Perhaps the most appealing room is the "Parents Retreat"—a new idea in an upstairs sitting room. It's got one eye on the family budget, the other on pure modern comfort. A desk and a dressing table are combined in one unit beneath a large window. The window blind disappears into a pocket above the pane when not in use. A flourescent lighting trough lines the entire window.

This commodious coffee table can be elevated on brushed brass legs for use as a dining table. Walls are finished in grass cloth, painted grape-gray to match the rug.

Yellowstone National Park was created March 1, 1872.

County Agent Will Leave

Miss Elizabeth Brooks will accept a position as home demonstration agent in Dickens county June 26. She has been here for two and a half years as assistant demonstration agent and girls' 4-H club leader.

She succeeds Miss Jean Day, who has been agent for three years. Miss Day is leaving the service and plans to live in College Station with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cliff H. Day, formerly of Plainview. Her father is connected with the Agricultural Adjustment administration.

A graduate of Texas State College for Women at Denton, Miss Brooks taught home economics in Cook and Denton counties before coming to Lubbock in November of 1937. Her home is in Gainesville.

During her work here Miss Brooks has been in charge of club work and has built up the work, both in number of clubs and membership to a commendable record. Miss Clara Pratt, home demonstration agent, formerly was agent at Spur and later at Dickens before coming to Lubbock three years ago. Miss Brooks' headquarters will be in the court house at Dickens.

Consular Agent Quits Post With Fascists

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., June 12.—For ten years, Ettiore Franchini, has been consular agent for Italy in New Mexico.

He wrote out his resignation today. "I have been an American citizen for 37 years," he said, "and Italy's entrance into the war obviously calls for my resignation."

Past OES Matrons Meet In Mark Halsey Home

Past O. E. S. Matrons club met with Mrs. Mark Halsey, 2308 Seventeenth street, Tuesday night. The club will meet July 9 at 8 p. m. with Mrs. A. D. Montgomery, 1918 Twenty-third street.

Those present were Mesdames Rafe Nabors, R. T. Bertram, Gussie Gammill, Paul Hardwick, T. H. Barnard, Montgomery, Annie Potts and Willie Brown.

Shower Is Courtesy For Mrs. Posey Tuesday

Honoring Mrs. J. P. Posey, 2605 Twenty-first street, who recently moved to a new home, members of the Pioneer Needle club brought her a gift shower when they met with her Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. L. A. Posey was assistant hostess.

Guests were Mesdames Eleanor Gay, R. D. McKinney, J. P. Robertson of Plains and C. E. Williams of Rising Star.

Members attending were Mesdames Willie Brown, J. K. Miller, R. A. Barclay, G. C. Wolffarth, Ed Vaughn, E. B. Wheelock, J. D. Lindsey, L. C. Doyle, F. B. Barclay, George Boles, E. Y. Lee, Pebble Talley, L. W. Bullock, P. B. Penney, H. O. Waters, Anna F. Parks, George R. Bean, L. D. Rankin and Mary F. Hinton.

Club Alumnae Plan Reunion

Alumnae of Ko-Shari social club at Texas Technological college planned an annual summer reunion July 5-7 at a supper meeting with Mrs. J. B. Pruitt, 1906 Fourteenth street, Tuesday night.

The reunion will be held in Lubbock.

Those present were Mesdames Raymond Ralls and Al Ray Cooper of Crosbyton, Edwin Niell, Shelby Read, Lewis Kerr, E. B. Kerr, Ralph Cantrell, Mary Elizabeth Sanford, Misses Dorothy Walker, Murvel Rankin, Dorothy Rylander, Virginia Norman and Lois Marie Daniel.

Christian Circle Meets For Breakfast Tuesday

Meeting for the last time during the fiscal year, Circle 2 of the First Christian church attended a breakfast at the church annex Tuesday morning.

Guests were Mesdames H. G. Gantz, Myrtle Bisbee of Benjamin, Hubert Hawkins of San Angelo and a Mrs. Huckabee; Misses Helen Bisbee of Wink and Lucille Stephens of Dallas.

Mrs. Fred H. Childress, Bible leader, was presented with a gift.

ENGAGEMENT TOLD

Word has been received of the engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Juanita Stone, daughter of Mrs. J. O. Shipley of Borger, to H. A. Leslie of Borger, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Leslie of Avery. The bridegroom-elect is a graduate of electrical engineering from Texas Technological college.

Services Are Of Interest

Three weddings which took place early this week are of interest in Lubbock.

The marriage of Miss Mace Vaughter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Vaughter of Amherst, and Eldon Smith, son of W. E. Smith of Amherst, took place at noon Tuesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bennett, 1321 Arnett street. Rev. Jeff Welch of the Central Baptist church officiated with a single ring ceremony.

The house was decorated with bouquets of spring flowers.

The bride wore a beige suit with white accessories and a corsage of red rosebuds. For "something old" she wore a bracelet that the bridegroom's mother wore in her wedding.

Guests were Mrs. Paul D. Bennett, sister of the bridegroom, Mr. Bennett, Miss Virginia Norman and Buddy Humphries.

Mrs. Smith is a graduate of Amherst High school and a former student of Texas Technological college. She has been employed at Penrod's. While living in Lubbock she made her home with Mr. and Mrs. Bennett.

Mr. Smith is a graduate of Amherst High school. The couple will be at home in Carlsbad, N. M., where Mr. Smith is associated with the Union Potash and Chemical company.

Are Wed Monday

Miss Monette Truly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Truly, 1810 Ninth street, and C. H. Tubbs, jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Tubbs, 802 Avenue N, were married Monday morning in Clovis, N. M., with the Methodist minister officiating with a double ring ceremony.

The bride wore a navy skirt and white blouse of sheer crepe with black accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

Those attending were Mrs. Rob Hillin, of Clovis, sister of the bride, Miss Oma Merrell, the bride's aunt of Lubbock; Messrs. Ralph Truly, the bride's brother, Mack Mitchell and Jay Young, all of Lubbock.

Following the service the couple returned to Lubbock and left Tuesday for a trip to San Antonio, Corpus Christi and Mexico. After June 17 they will be at home here. Mr. Tubbs is associated with a Mark Halsey Drug store.

Mrs. Tubbs is a graduate of Hubbard High school. Mr. Tubbs received his education at Lubbock High school.

Is Tech Graduate

Announcement has been received from Brady of the marriage of Miss Mary Beth Whiteman, daughter of Mrs. J. B. Whiteman, to Ray Allen Walker of Dublin, which took place Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the Brady First Christian church. Rev. Hugh B. Warner, pastor, officiated.

The bride wore a tailored navy sheer crepe dress with white bolero and accessories. She wore a corsage of white garenias.

Miss Juana Lee Whiteman, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a dusty blue frock with white accessories.

Sam Sloan of Breckenridge was best man.

Following the ceremony a reception was held with the bride cutting the cake. Approximately 100 guests attended the wedding and reception.

Mrs. Walker is a 1939 graduate of Texas Technological college. She was vice president of Las Chaparritas social club, vice president of Forum, a member of Sock and Buskin and Alpha Psi Omega, honorary dramatic fraternity. She also served on the A. W. S. council. For the past year she has been teaching in the Dublin schools.

The couple will be at home in Dublin following a trip. Mr. Walker is vocational agriculture teacher at Dublin.

Auxiliary Delegates To Leave For Encampment

Ten members of the VFW auxiliary attended a business session at the Hilton hotel Tuesday night at which Mrs. W. G. Love presided. Four delegates are to attend the state encampment at Galveston which opens next Sunday and continues through Wednesday.

These women are Mesdames Love, W. H. McDonald, Ira Womack and Ralph Lowe.

Others present Tuesday night were Mesdames W. R. Wilhite, J. H. Hackfield, Louis Huneke, D. H. Poston, Cal Robbins and Cornelia Moore.

A carpenter bee, when boring through wood, detours around nails before it actually reaches them.

Club "Come As You Are" Breakfast Held Today

Members of the Timely Ten club attended a "come as you are" breakfast at 8 o'clock this morning in the home of Mrs. Lester Cooper, 2612 Twenty-first street.

Guests were Mesdames C. R. McLaurin, Glen Hammonds, Charles Duncan, Helen Camp, Robert Huser, Lloyd Ricketts, Paul Warren, C. D. Lively and H. H. Peninger.

Cattle Thefts Show Decrease

DICKENS, June 12. (Special)—Cattle thefts have decreased 75 per cent since organization of the West Texas Peace Officers association, members of the organization were told at their bi-monthly meeting here Tuesday by Sheriff B. L. Parker.

The association deferred election of officers until next meeting Aug. 13, which was awarded to Clairemont. The fact that primary elections will be conducted this summer led to a general contention that a later date should be set for naming officers for the coming year.

Cultists Are Discussed

Sheriff Parker is president and District Attorney Truett Smith, also of Tahoka, is secretary.

Approximately 150 persons, including 59 members of the organization, were served barbecue at the city park in Spur at noon. The session here was conducted in Dickens county courthouse, with Johnnie Koonsman, Dickens county sheriff, as host.

Discussion of recent uprisings due to public feeling against "Jehovah's Witnesses" brought agreement that tolerance should be used against members of the religious cult. No law gives officers the right of arrest of the cultists.

Members of the group said recent campaigning of the Witnesses was nothing aside from the ordinary meetings conducted by the religious group during peacetime.

First report of cattle thefts, Sheriff Parker said, was compiled by the association 11 months ago and the number was 73. It dropped to slightly more than 50 the ensuing month and finally to 18.

Attending Tuesday from Lubbock were Tom Abel, Police Chief Don Reeder and Highway Patrol Capt. W. W. Legge.

At the barbecue at Spur several persons made brief welcome addresses. T. E. Milam, O. L. Kelley, O. B. Ratliff, O. C. Arthur and Mayor F. W. Jennings welcomed the group to Spur. Representative C. L. Harris praised work of the peace officer.

A welcome to the county was extended by County Judge Marshall Formby who pointed to the work done by the peace officers in enforcing law during modern times and in reduction of cattle and sheep theft in West Texas.

Thompson Desires Oil Defense Map

AUSTIN, June 12. (AP)—Asserting oil was a basic wartime essential and Texas soil contained half the crude in America, Ernest A. Thompson, member of the railroad commission, today called for an accurate map of wells for national defense purposes.

Thompson asked Chief Administrative Officer John E. Taylor of the commission to furnish a detiled statewide map of wells, pipelines, refineries, types of oil produced and other information.

The emperor Maximin (235 A.D.) was said to have been 8 feet, six inches tall.

with strong forces."

Germans declared that such a Marne counter-offensive as saved Paris in 1914 could not be repeated. In 1914 Germans were not on the Seine, nor were they ever so close to Paris.

Crime To Defend Paris

Authorized German sources declared it would be a "crime" for the French to defend Paris as the Poles fought for Warsaw. The Polish capital was devastated before the Poles surrendered.

Rouen, on the meandering course of the Seine between Le Havre and Paris, was said to have been in German hands for several days.

"The Seine beyond Paris already is crossed by our troops at several points," said the daily communique of the high command.

"One enemy group is cut off near St. Valery and encricled on the coast.

"Northwest of Paris divisions standing on the Oise are 20 kilometers outside Paris and the outer defense positions running along both sides of Senlis.

"Compiegne, scene of the disgraceful armistice dictate of 1918, and Villers-Cotterets are in our hands," said the high command.

Allies Suffer Losses

Allied forces on the lower Seine were said to have been pushed across the river with "heaviest" losses.

The German claim to hold Rouen and Reims—cities of more than 100,000 peacetime populations—would represent two grea footholds northwest and northeast of Paris, respectively, with which to reinforce the projected engulfment of Paris.

Rouen lies about 70 miles northwest of Paris and Reims about 80 miles to the northeast.

The Nazi air force smashed at shipping in the English channel besides operating as "aerial artillery" for the German advance.

Seven transports, one of 500 tons, were said to have been sunk and 10 others, three of which were between 10,000 and 15,000 tons, damaged by bomb hits.

Fifty-nine Allied planes and three barrage balloons were reported destroyed in the past 24 hours as against three missing for the Germans.

Le Havre, one of the principal French harbors remaining in French hands, was bombed anew.

The high command acknowledged Allied air raids in western Germany last night and British attempts yesterday to attack Trondheim and Bergen, Norway. Twelve of the attacking planes were said to have been destroyed.

As for the raids on Germany proper:

"Enemy planes dropped bombs at random in western Germany on the night of June 11-12," the communique said, "incendiary bombs falling into the heart of one city."

The high command and other authorized sources disclosed that German troops were forcing their way toward Paris up the Seine from the northwest while other forces in the Seine valley were smashing at Le Havre.

Force Cut Off

An Allied force cut off at St. Valery, in the vicinity of Dieppe, a port north of Rouen, was said to be facing the same fate as the Allied armies did recently in the Flanders trap.

In six days the Germans were said to have advanced from 50 to 70 miles toward Paris on many fronts. The Weygand line seemed to delay the drive only slightly, the Germans claim.

Attempts by French mechanized forces to oppose the Germans' own mechanized sweep were said to have been frustrated. Fast-firing anti-aircraft guns which have an effective horizontal range of about eight miles were said to have destroyed 200 Allied tanks already.

The Germans today were nearer Paris than ever during the World war, closest to the St. Germain section of the capital from their positions along the Oise to the northwest.

Tax Remission

far short of meeting the requirements of the constitutional provision."

"No attempt is made to define the kind or character of public calamity," it said. "In fact, it is expressly stated that such calamities are 'of one kind or another.'

"Such a finding is so general, vague and indefinite as to amount to nothing. To give effect to such a finding would be to make a travesty of that part of Sec. 51 of Article III of our constitution which allows the legislature to grant aid 'in cases of public calamity'."

Passed After Bitter Fight

The remission law was passed at the 1939 general session of the legislature amid a bitter fight. The comptroller's office estimated that had it become operative the state's ad valorem tax revenue for general purpose would drop $5,000,000 a year.

The bill would have permitted counties to apply tax donations to a wide variety of purposes including flood control, irrigation, reforestation, road building, sponsorship of WPA projects, general relief and charity, paying interest and sinking fund on outstanding bonded indebtedness and assisting in navigation.

Stock Market

STOCKS STAGE CLIMB

NEW YORK, June 12 (AP)—Stocks climbed as much as four to nine points today as Wall Street saw hope for the defense of Paris and prospects of long-range improvement in American industry.

A buying wave, sparked by the entrance of ready cash into the market, shoved transactions across the floor of the exchange faster than the tickers could record them during the morning. The impetus gave the session a total of about 1,500,000 shares exchanged.

At noon, trading slowed to a mere amble. Some of the best prices slipped fractionally but no general sell-off developed.

Such war stocks as steels, aircrafts, chemicals and motors remained in the vanguard throughout the session. Brokers said they believed the rearmament program of the United States was resulting in a speedup of industry.

Among the best of the leaders were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Inland, Douglas, Wright Aeronautical, Glenn Martin, Westinghouse, Dupont, Johns-Manville, American Smelting, Phelps Dodge, American Telephone, Pressed Steel Car, Norfolk & Western, Santa Fe, New York Central, American Woolen and Phillips Petroleum. Bonds and commodities shared in the upswing, with cotton rising 60 cents to 1.19 a bale higher.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, June 12 (AP) — Cotton futures continued their advance today moving up close to $2.00 a bale. The best advance was pared somewhat by profit taking and southern selling encouraged by a favorable weekly weather report and a low May consumption estimate.

Stories Of Horror In Fighting Bared

By RICHARD D. McMILLAN
United Press Correspondent

SOMEWHERE IN FRANCE, June 12.—Huge fires ringed Paris today as German armies battered at the defenses of the French capital and German airplanes bombed areas through which probably 2,000,000 refugees streamed southwestward.

The raiding German airplanes dropped bombs on areas far behind Paris throughout the night and this morning. In the darkness, the flash and explosion of bombs added to the terror of the refugees, although the bombers were striking chiefly at military objectives.

Watches Fiery Path

Earlier in the morning, I could plainly see from a tall building in Paris the fiery path made by the German bombers around the capital. Later, as the great march of refugees moved southwestward away from the "battle of Paris" the dark shadows of German planes still raced through the sky.

There were many expectant mothers in the throngs evacuating the capital and French authorities provided mobile maternity hospitals, doctors and nurses to care for them. A number of babies were born during the flight from the city.

It was believed that about 40 British women ambulance drivers remained with the French during the retreat into Paris. French officials paid tribute to their "noble heroism and splendid efficiency" under terrible bomb attacks.

As German armies hammered ever more fiercely at the gates of Paris, the "city of light" was shrouded in a great pall of smoke.

The greyish black mass drifted in from a battlefield moving ever nearer, and from the ashes and smoke of towns and forests fired by German bombs and shells. Thousands of dead German and French soldiers were cremated as fires swept the countryside for miles.

The battle of Paris was described to me by Miss Lorna Maitland, a British painter serving in a British ambulance corps.

"The fighting is beyond description," she said. "Apart from the smoke and fire men are dying by the thousands. In unbearable heat the wounded lie crying out in agony for water and medicine as the overworked French Red Cross strives to cope with the superhuman task."

Miss Maitland said she had been under fire while helping to unload a train carrying wounded French soldiers. German airplanes machine-gunned her ambulance as she drove away.

"They are firing towns and murdering civilians," she said. "In one town we went through lanes of flaming houses and under the fire of bursting bombs to pick up men, women and children who had been mowed down mercilessly."

Nazis Say Americans Should Keep Noses Out Of Europe

(By The United Press)

BERLIN, June 12—Authorized German quarters commenting on United States press criticism of Italy's entry into the war said today that it was time for Americans to get "used to the idea of America for Americans and Europe for Europeans."

The authorized Nazi spokesman complained against "rumors and agitation for which the United States press has become a battlefield."

"This unpleasant development is being intentionally withheld from the German public," it was stated, "because America should be left to decide its own internal affairs and solve its own problems.

"It should be left alone to decide the question of in what form it wants to hold its presidential elections.

"It is high time that it should get used to the idea of America for Americans and Europe for Europeans. We here must constantly protect ourselves energetically against being dragooned from over there."

It was stated also, in connection with the action of an unidentified submarine in halting the American refugee ship Washington, that the United States communication to belligerents giving the Washington's route was delivered to Berlin only today — one day after the incident. Nothing, however, is known in Berlin as to the identity of the submarine that halted the Washington, it was added.

Airlines Flagship Damaged In Landing

CHICAGO, June 12 (U.P.)—The American Airlines flagship Oklahoma en route from Fort Worth and St. Louis was damaged slightly today in landing at the municipal airport. None of 20 passengers or three crew members was injured.

Flight Superintendent Trevor Williams said the plane skidded on the center runway which was wet from a light rain. The craft smashed through a fence and struck three automobiles in a parking area. The left under carriage was damaged.

U. S. Liner Stopped By German U-Boat

BERLIN, June 12 (AP)—It was a German submarine which stopped the United States liner Washington at dawn yesterday on its refugee-carrying European voyage, authorized German sources disclosed today.

These informants said the submarine learned that the liner was on a northern course, headed for Ireland.

The German government was said to have been advised that the ship was going to Bordeaux, France, and other ports and that Germany had not been told until later in the day that she would call at Ireland.

TO FEED ANGUS CATTLE

Federal Court Term Ends This Morning

Unexpected illness of Judge T. Whitfield Davidson of Dallas, caused a closing of the May term of United State district court this morning and the declaration of a mistrial in the case of T. O. Murphey against Sinclair Refining Co.

Judge Davidson became ill at his room in Hilton hotel during the night. It was announced the jury was dismissed for the term. All other cases on the docket also were continued.

Illness was an attack of intestinal flu, it was learned. Judge Davidson plans to return home tonight. He will be accompanied by Ralph Martin, deputy U. S. marshal and court bailiff, it was said.

Home Of Judge Pitts Bombed

had just gone to bed but was not asleep, having been studying.

"I was jarred awake in my upstairs back bedroom. I turned on the light and looked at a clock on the night table near the bed. It was 1:15 o'clock.

"I started down stairs and Miss Alley came running out of her room, crying 'What was that terrible explosion?'

Called The Police

"I felt glass and rubble on the floor and turned on the front room lights. Glass was scattered on the floor.

"I called the police and the sheriff's office and it seemed they, reinforced by the rangers, the district attorney and others were there before I had time to turn around. They were on the spot before my neighbors had time to dress and begin arriving in numbers, to give some idea of the speed with which they answered my call."

Judge Pitts said he did not have any definite idea as to who could have bombed him.

"If I have a single enemy I don't know him," he said.

Other officials were pronouncedly outspoken in placing the blame on the doorstep of bootleggers.

"Judge Pitts only two days earlier had held some of them in contempt and had ordered them to jail," said Burton S. Burks, district attorney.

Something Should Be Done

"There seems to be an acceptable theory that the bootleggers were responsible, and the man-on-the-street expression seems to be that something should be done—any methods should be taken to rid the town of the honkey-tonks."

Some officials went so far as to quote representative persons as saying the bootleggers should be "run out of town, shot or otherwise disposed of."

Officials so reporting said, "those methods, of course, reflect a maddened public in its first reaction to the news of the bombing."

Cooperation Is Pledged

The district attorney, one of those quick to reach the scene of the bombing, pledged "immediate cooperation in every method consistent with the law to run down those responsible and fix their punishment."

"The public—and I am one of its number—is not sympathetic to Chicago's pineapple-tossing methods in Lubbock," he said. "Such a case should crystallize opinion against the honkey-tonks. The newest case is the worst expression of ruthlessness among the hoodlum element to be reported here."

The district attorney had quizzed several suspects during the day and still had a "preferred list" to call in.

Will Present Evidence

He said any evidence that might be collected would be presented before the grand jury when and if it was called, as evidenced in the announcement of Judge Blair.

Officials and insurance men who gathered at the Pitts residence found that the porch roof had jagged splinters in spots, that the roof had been slightly unseated on its supports by the force of the blast, that venetian blinds were damaged by splintering and breaking and that, even in the front room, bric-a-brac had been jarred and turned over on tables.

A picture was shaken off a wall and crashed to the floor in a litter of glass.

Made Of Dynamite

Officials said the bomb must have been made of dynamite.

"Looks like three or four sticks, possibly five, were fashioned into the bomb and set off by a percussion cap," said Sheriff Tom Abel.

The bomb, it was theorized, was heavier in charge than that which was tossed against the brick wall of the Allen residence.

Allen's youngest son was sleeping six feet from where the earlier blast was set off.

Allen explained at the time he believed that a hot water heater had exploded. Mrs. Allen said her first impression was that a shotgun had been fired.

Damage at the Allen residence was negligible, a flower bed getting the brunt of the concussion.

The only other recent investigation tracing to the beer traffic happened a few nights ago when complaints were filed charging defendants with armed assault of a man who claimed he was hijacked of a load of beer.

Rayford Tanner informed officials of the sale of dynamite.

Description Is Given

"A man who looked about 5 feet 9 inches tall and weighing something like 180 pounds came into the place where I work about 3 or 3:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon and asked if we had any dynamite," Tanner said.

"He had on ragged duckin's, a greasy hat that once probably was white, had a two or three-day growth of sandy beard, a red complexion and, I think, a khaki shirt.

"'Gimme about a stick,' he asked, 'and two or three caps. It won't make much difference. And a little fuse.'

"I had a scrap of fuse in the store, of about three feet. I asked him if that would be all right and he said, 'that'll be fine.'

"I asked if three feet of fuse would do.

"'Yeah, that'll be all right,' he said.

"He gave me a dollar and I handed him a dime change and that's about all I know about it."

Others May Assist

Immediate steps were taken to determine whether other agencies could be of assistance in tracing down identity of those who figured in the bombing.

Mayor Carl E. Slaton said he would talk with city commissioners and learn whether they would want a special session of that group.

"At any rate, we will go into it at our semi-monthly session Thursday," he said.

County Judge J. J. Dillard said "none of the county commissioners have talked with me, so I haven't thought anything about a special session of the county commissioners court." He said he inferred that the machinery of the 99th district court would deal with such a case—"since it is a felony violation."

It was learned this afternoon that Judge Pitts' loss was covered by insurance.

DIPLOMAT — Ramon Beteta (above), under secretary of foreign relations in government of Mexico and visiting United States on special mission, assured reporters in New York that Mexico does not harbor Nazi "fifth column" elements.

Hardberger Funeral Set For Thursday

Funeral services will be read at 10 o'clock Thursday morning at the First Baptist church by Rev. C. J. McCarty and Rev. E. B. Wages, of Morton, for Rufus E. Hardberger, 61, of 1921 Nineteenth street.

Burial will be in Lubbock cemetery.

He died Tuesday afternoon of injuries suffered in an automobile mishap four miles west of Baird Monday afternoon.

Sanders Funeral home is in charge.

Survivors are the widow; four sons, L. E. of Silverton, Homer of O'Donnell, George of Brownfield and Billy, a student of Texas Technological college; three sisters, Mrs. R. E. Speck of Lamesa, Mrs. C. B. Neal of Fort Worth and Mrs. Ben Davenport of Decatur; two daughters, Mrs. Pleas Childress and Mrs. J. L. Littleton, both of Ozona, and two brothers, George of Knox City and J. H. of Lubbock.

Bearers will be J. T. Trigg, Sam Henry, sr., B. M. Henderson, Ed D. Allen, John Denman, John Dalrymple, all of Lubbock, and Roy Hill of Morton and Winfield Watkins of Littlefield.

Mr. Hardberger, a resident of Lubbock 15 years, died in a Cisco hospital. A brother, John H. Hardberger, 51, also of Lubbock, was injured slightly.

The accident happened when the car in which the two Lubbock men were riding plunged into a ditch as the driver tried to dodge another vehicle, the Associated Press reported.

Mr. Hardberger had operated gins 25 years. He had been actively engaged in operation of a gin at Morton during recent years and previously operated others at Knox City and O'Donnell.

Midland Population Revealed As 9,367

MIDLAND, June 12 (U.P.)—Census figures released today show Midland's population at 9,367, an increase of 70 per cent in the past 10 years.

The population of Midland county is 11,719, a 46 per cent increase since 1930.

Expansion For Navy Started

Allies by the army under the government's "trade-in" plan of aid.

The 93 war planes, Northrop attack ships, were being concentrated at Houlton, Me., on the Canadian border. The Douglas Aireraft corporation of Burbank, Calif., successor to the Northrop company, was reported to have agreed to accept them in payment on new planes to be delivered later to the army.

The concentration at Houlton was said to have been decided upon as the most direct way to getting the ships, which are 6 or 7 years old, to the Allies.

Munitions Traded In

The White House reported the army was turning its reserve production of equipment over to private industry for the "immediate production" of sizable quantities of smokeless powder, ammonia and small arms ammunition.

Previously it had been disclosed that $37,600,000 worth of surplus munitions had been tentatively traded in to the U. S. Steel Export company, by which it would be resold.

The army's reserve manufacturing equipment was described as having cost between $5,000,000 and $10,000,000. It was acquired as part of the war department's industrial mobilization plans and it will be used by firms having Allied munitions orders.

Speed Up Deliveries

Their employment of this machinery, it was estimated, will speed up deliveries on the Allied orders by two or three months while expanding the nation's capacity to produce munitions.

Stephen Early, presidential secretary, reported the war department had informed President Roosevelt today that it was making "excellent progress" in surveys of materials and supplies that may be advantageously declared surplus. These will be turned over to a subsidiary sales company, set up by the United States Steel company, for release to the Allies.

"Aid for the Allies" passed from the slogan stage to a program of action today, as Congress tackled the job of implementing President Roosevelt's pledge with munitions for the men on the firing lines and money for hapless refugees.

Leaders on Capitol Hill resorted to legislative short cuts, working the provisions for assistance into the $5,021,619,622 sheaf of national preparedness bills now in the final clearance stages.

Combat Zones Extended

Extension of the European combat zone to blanket the entire Mediterranean was ordered by the president, ending American-borne maritime commerce with Italy. Mr. Roosevelt gave fresh emphasis to his views by endorsing a "stop Hitler now" movement.

Both Senate and House responded yesterday to the call the chief executive sounded Monday at Charlottesville, Va., for material aid to the Allies and an accelerated preparedness tempo.

The Senate voted 67 to 18 to empower him to "trade in" World war weapons—from rifles to field artillery—to manufacturers, who then would be free to resell them to the Allies.

Expand Air Corps

The authoriz; was incorporated in a defense bill providing for unlimited expansion of the army air corps, government construction or leasing of munitions plants, a presidential curb on the export of essential war materials, and voting $182,000,000 for preparednes. expenditures at the chief executive's discretion.

The omnibus bill was returned to the House for concurrence in the arms "trade in" and some other amendments.

Confidence this would be forthcoming was evidenced by the fact the army already has tentatively turned over $37,600,000 worth of "surplus" munitions to the U. S. Steel Export company.

Equal celerity of Senate action was expected on the request Mr. Roosevelt made yesterday for a $50,000,000 fund to succor the civilian populations in the war zone. He said he felt the government should add to the money being raised by the Red Cross.

Nation Being Prepared

In the House, the appropriations committee recommended passage of a $1,706,053,908 supplementary appropriation bill for the army, embodying emergency defense requests from the president the measure, according to the army high command, would enable the nation to prepare "for all manner of possibilities in the western hemisphere."

Hubbers Stage Uprising In Eighth To Wallop Amarillo's Gold Sox, 4 T

Drake Homers With One On To Tie Score

It happens every time.

Take the happy-go, happy-come Hubbers for a good razzing—and they win; shove them off on a "now watch their smoke" ride—and they lose.

The only thing one can be sure of when considering Manager Charlie Engle's lads for a ball game is that they will play it. How good or how badly is a question answered differently practically every night. Not once this season have the cellar dwellers won more than three games in a row.

Hyma Vs. Dorman

Tonight, they trot onto the grass at the local orchard to attempt to equal that "record." Amarillo's league leading Gold Sox will furnish the opposition—expected to be doubly stiff in an effort to gain revenge for Tuesday night's interesting 4 to 3 setback at the hands of the White Sox farm hands.

It will be John Jacob Hyma against Bus Dorman at the "Home of the Hubbers" tonight. Dorman, a lefthander, is expected to be a particularly painful thorn for Lubbock hitters as far as southpaws go against the Hubbers—and they have been going all the way thus far this season.

The umpire shouts "play ball" at 8:30 o'clock.

Kramer In Form

Over the rest of the circuit, finale of two-night stands will be in the process of being reeled off. Only one other tussle, Big Spring's convincing 7 to 2 decision over the Borger Gassers, was played last night, rain causing postponement of the Clovis-Lamesa tilt in the Dawson county metropolis and the Pampa-Midland feature in the Cowboy corral.

Mel Kramer, returning to the familiar mound of the Hubber field after a short stint in the Class B Three-I league with the Waterloo club earlier this season, proved to be half the spark which dumped Manager Claud Jonnard's socking Sox last night. Giving up only four hits for the duration of the game, Kramer bested young Russell Crider, 17-year-old star of the Amarillo club, in as neat a game as has been played before a typical small turnout all year.

Drake's Homer Does It

The helium city hurler, who has won seven, lost four for his mates, gave up only five bingles himself. It just so happened, if such things are "just" accidents, that the day was saved for the locals by Ben Drake's booming home run with Steven Niedziela aboard in the eighth. The classy third baseman had walked.

That timely piece of stick work knotted the count at 3-all, Lubbock having scored in the fifth on two hits and a walk.

Plus Watkins' Double

But the Hubs weren't through with their little uprising. Ed Schweda, one of the league's top hitters—Niedziela being the other one—furnished the winning tally, coming in from first when Boyd Watkins bounced a long double off the fence. Schweda was on when Bones Sanders failed to handle his screaming liner down first base way.

A total of 13 batters was whiffed by Crider. But Kramer, slightly on the erratic side at times yet cool in the clutches, came through with a driving finish that for all practical purposes retired the final 24 men to face him. Heads up fielding cut down Amarillo batters who reached base.

Barons Show Power

At Big Spring, the Barons, under impetus of Bill Garbe's three-run homer in the initial inning, rolled

HELPS SACK SOX—Ben Drake, hard-hitting Hubber first baseman, came through with an eighth inning homer that shoved in the tying run last night in the Lubbocks' impressive 4 to 3 decision over Amarillo in the series opener. Drake is now clouting a neat .311 for the season.

Swim Tourney Planned Here

Possibility that Lubbock and the South Plains will dive literally into a minor sport on a major scale was seen today as officials felt out interest for a sectional A. A. U. swimming and diving meet here.

Ralph Stamps, swimming commissioner for the Southwestern Amateur Athletic union, has asked Avalanche-Journal publications to sponsor and supervise such a meet or tournament. If decision is made to conduct the event, the time will be set during the first week of July.

Winners To Qualify

All first, second and third place winners in each event would be eligible to participate in the Southwestern championships the following week in Dallas.

Providing there is enough interest manifested and the meet is scheduled definitely, Charles Friley, former University of Iowa swimming star, now connected with the State game department with offices in Lubbock, will serve as director.

Events to be contested in the senior and junior men's divisions in the district tournament would be: 50-yard free style; 100-yard free style; 200-yard free style; 400-yard free style; 100-yard back stroke; 100-yard breast stroke; 100-yard medley relay; 400-yard free style relay, and diving from the 3-meter board with five required and five optional dives. The 400-yard free style race is omitted from the junior men's division, otherwise the contests are the same.

There would also be a "novice" division for swimmers who have not competed in junior or senior events, in which the following would be contested: 800-foot free style relay; 50-yard breast stroke; 50-yard free style; 50-yard back stroke; 100-yard free style; 600-foot medley relay, and diving, 4 required, 4 optional.

Each contestant would be required to pay the regular A.A.U. entry fee of 25 cents for each event he entered, and each man could enter as many contests as he wished.

Entries Are Urged

The meet, if staged here, would probably be conducted at Buffalo Lakes, scene of several highly entertaining aquatic meets last summer. The swimming portion of the lower lake would be "roped off" and otherwise arranged for the meet.

All persons interested in competing in the district meet here should submit their names, addresses, list of events they plan to enter, and entry fees as quickly as possible so that the sponsors may get an early and definite indication of the number of entries.

Entries may be mailed to the Sports Department, Avalanche-Journal, or to Charles Friley, City Hall, Lubbock, Texas.

Detroit Tigers In Flag Race For Finish Fight

American Loop Struggle Now 4-Way Affair

BY JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Detroit Tigers are in the American league's fierce flag fight up to their necks and show every sign of staying there.

So it's time for everybody to admit that the struggle in the junior circuit is a four-way affair just as the equally bitter battle in the National league is at least a three-way race.

Squeeze Into Second

The Tigers squeezed into second place yesterday by defeating the New York Yankees, 6-1 while the Boston Red Sox disposed of the threatening Cleveland Indians 9-2.

The Tigers have not been worse than third since the first week of the season. Yet they never have won more than four games in a row or been regarded as serious pennant contenders by other than their followers.

Tommy Bridges never had his curve breaking any better than yesterday when he held the Yanks to five hits.

Feller Is Defeated

The Red Sox defeated the Indians handsomely. They made seven hits off Bob Feller in five innings and gave him his fourth defeat of the season.

Feller's wasn't the only wonder pitcher to fall into a pit yesterday. Bucky Walters was pounced upon by the Phillies 4-1 for his second straight setback. The defeat widened the distance between Cincinnati and the pace-making Brooklyn Dodgers, who were rained out.

One of the day's happiest occurrences was a four-hit pitching performance by Paul Dean in accounting for one half of the New York Giants' double triumph over the Chicago Cubs. The scores were 3-2 and 4-0.

The St. Louis Browns whipped the Washington Senators 5-2.

The Chicago White Sox kept Washington from dropping to the cellar by edging out the Philadelphia Athletics 5-4 in a night game.

Makeup Contests On Docket For Today

Business-Professional twilight play today will continue with makeup contests on the docket instead of the usual Wednesday rest.

Games are to be reeled off in both divisions.

Tuesday afternoon's competition saw the Federals take out the Christians with an easy 11 to 3 conquest and the Lions edge out the Union Carpenters, 8 to 5.

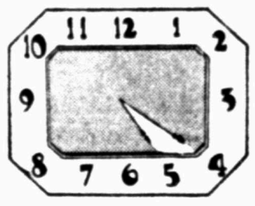

Seven runs in a wild sixth inning gave the Federals their decision. Harold Matejowsky and Glen Ridge sharing winning mound duties, while Walter Johnson caught. Grady West was the losing hurler.

Homer Turns Trick

In the National division tilt, the Lions came through in the latter part of the sixth when Hop Toles, their pitcher, pounded out a four-bagger with the bases loaded to snap a 5-all deadlock and win the ball game. Clark Wood was his catcher. Harold Biffle and Dusty Rhodes pitched and caught, respectively for the loses.

Other hitting highlights were turned in by Biffle, two homers for four runs, Rhodes, homer, and J. B. Beauchamp's three for four.

The first medical school in America was established in Philadelphia in 1751.

Baseball, Boxing Tonight

By Collier Parris

THAT WAS A NICE JOB turned by Mr. Mel Kramer last night, the pitching hero of a pitchers battle. Any pitcher who can hold the Amarillo Gold Sox to four hits deserves a niche in the 1940 West Texas-New Mexico hall of fame.

It was also a nice job turned in by youthful Russell Crider, who looks to be one of the best pitching prospects in the league to date. He had the Hubbers on his hip until the final inning, and he deserves a large hand of applause.

The Hubbers and the Gold Sockers meet again tonight, same place, same time. Lefty Bus Dorman is scheduled to heave 'em up for the Hubbers to try at, while the Lubbocks will de- pend upon the offerings, probably, of John Hyma. It's his turn to pitch, although the Hub management would have liked to start Roy Finocchiaro. Can't ever tell about Hyma, though; sometimes he's hot as a torch, and when he is, the opposition might as well give up.

Last night's game, incidentally, while draggy and slow in spots, because the pitchers worked slowly, was a humdinger. Even if Amarillo had won, without that eighth inning uprising by the Hubbers, it would still have been a good game. This boy Russell Crider of Amarillo is a pitcher to be reckoned with. He is due to get along if he improves with age. He's only 17 now, you know.

RIVALING THE BALL GAME for popularity tonight will be the boxing show, a block farther north on College Avenue.

L. D. "Pup" Thomas brings professional boxing back to Lubbock tonight, and he has arranged a card that ought to be plenty interesting.

The main event will bring together Babe Hunt, formerly of Oklahoma City, now of Lubbock, in the scheduled 10-round main go. Hunt is the favorite, from this angle, because he knows the boxing ropes. Mickey Balaban is a nice sort of person, blond and large, with no less than 250 professional fights behind him.

Balaban, who comes from Detroit, fought Babe Ritchie early last week in El Paso. Ritchie, the Texas heavyweight champion, slapped an iron-like right to the Balaban left eyebrow in the second round, and the fight was all over. But Mickey says he's made of sterner stuff than the El Paso fight with Ritchie would indicate. And he learned a lesson. So he'll give Hunt plenty of trouble tonight—he says.

The Hunt-Balaban fight had better be good, or the show will be stolen by the eight-round semi-final between Son Smyers of Lorenzo and Kid Leva of Dallas.

They're the same who tangled in a bloody go last autumn at the ball park, just preceding the Buddy Baer-Sandy McDonald fracas, and the blond Sonny won the nod. Leva didn't think so, and he's been gunning for a return match ever since. He gets his chance tonight, and the result should be interesting.

Boxing Makes Comeback Try Here Tonight

Men of maul take over a portion of the city's sports spotlight tonight as professional boxing dons the leather for a "comeback" card of a 10-round main attraction, 8-round semi-final and three preliminary bouts.

Tangling in the main battle—to be staged at the new Sportarena on North College avenue—will be two heavyweights who never say quit, the rock-ribbed, veteran Babe Hunt, formerly of Oklahoma City, and Mickey Balaban of Detroit, challenger of Texas titlist Babe Ritchie last week.

The bell on the initial bout will ring at 8:30 o'clock.

Thomas Not Quitting, Either

Promoter L. D. "Pup" Thomas, who made his bow into the promoting end of the ring last summer while staging the Baers, Max and Buddy, in a pair of widely publicized attractions, is arranging the semi-monthly cards which will be alternated with Sled Allen's wrestling shows.

Tonight's main go finds Hunt making another determined step toward what he says is a serious effort at a "comeback." The Babe, now a resident of Lubbock, gained a draw with Babe Ritchie, and on the supporting card of the Max Baer-Ritchie fight was victim of an unexplained kayo.

Lost To Babe

His opponent has been touring the western circuit, last week dropping before Ritchie's reportedly revitalized attack in El Paso in a championship clash.

The semi-final tonight brings a couple of junior welterweights together for the second time here. Sonny Smyer of Lorenzo and Kid Leva of Dallas gave the fans here one of the best scraps ever seen, a bloody affair that f... Smyer's favor, alt... thought the Dalla... done the best job.

Lot Can Happen In Six Years If You're In Baseball; Trio Of Stars Seek Comeback Path

BY TOM SILER
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO, June 12—A lot can happen in six years, and usually does if you're a baseball player.

Just six years ago a 22-year-old fireballer, Schoolboy Rowe, was pitching the Detroit Tigers to their first American league pennant in 25 years. That was 1934—also the year a pair of Arkansas farm boys, 23-year-old Diz Dean and his brother, Paul, were putting the St. Louis Cards in the World series.

This spectacular trio won a total of 73 games and lost only 26 that year. Three years later, blighted by sore arms and worried over their diamond future, this same three-some could show only 14 victories as against 10 losses.

On Comeback Trail

Now all three are on the long, hard road known as the comeback trail—always a rough road.

But Rowe and Paul Dean have shown signs of making the grade. What's in store for Diz, no one knows, especially since he dropped into the minors last week to give his arm a thorough test as a side-arm pitcher.

Paul Dean, now 27, gave the first hopeful sign he isn't through yesterday when he pitched a 3 to 1 victory, allowing the Chicago Cubs only foupr hits in his first start of the season with the New York Giants. Manager Bill Terry picked him up for the draft price last fall from Columbus of the American association. It was Paul's first big league victory in two years. He had only a fraction of his old speed, but possessed control and a fine change of pace.

After failing to win a game in 1937 for the Cards, Dean spent part of 1938 in the Texas league and a part of the 1939 season in Columbus, but in neither league did he even remotely approach the form he showed as a Cardinal star.

Rowe, also the victim of a mysterious ailment won 19 games in 1936 for Detroit, but could win only one in 1937. After a bad start in 1938 he went to Beaumont of the Texas league where he won 16 games and lost nine. Returning last season, he won 10 for the Tigers and dropped 12. Now he looks something like his old self, having four victories and no losses so far this season.

TO EXTEND HIGH LINE

WHITEFACE. — Arrangements have been made with the Texas-New Mexico Utilities Co. to extend its high line from the Motor Fuels Corporation refinery just west of Levelland, to Whiteface. A survey for a high line has been finished according to Ned Maddox, manager of the local plant. Pole setting is under way and power will be turned on within 30 days.

Oklahoma City Finds A Spark

(By The Associated Press)

If Rogers Hornsby continues his present pace as manager of the Oklahoma City Redskins he not only will bring the Indians into a major share of the Texas league glory but will become a miracle man of baseball.

Hornsby, the game's nomad, has been with Oklahoma City since Sunday. Thus far nothing but victories have been on the Rajah's record.

Three In A Row

Last night Oklahoma City made it three in a row by turning back Fort Worth 4-2. While the Redskins still are to be found in seventh place they are comfortably ahead of Fort Worth and only three percentage points behind sixth-place Dallas.

Meanwhile the Shreveport Sports continue their amazing winning streak. Now they've taken 16 out of 22 games since they started their spurt from the bottom to third place, just a game and a half out of second.

The Sports beat San Antonio 4-3 while top place Houston was losing to Beaumont 5-2. The Buffs still have a ten game lead over San Antonio.

Paul Easterling's two-run homer sparked the Dallas Rebels to a 7-3 victory over Tulsa.

Polish Submarine Reported Missing

LONDON, June 12 (U.P.) — The Polish naval staff announced today that the 1,110-ton Polish submarine Orzel and its crew of 56 were missing and presumed lost.

The Orzel escaped from the Germans at the outbreak of the war in Poland and after a series of narrow escapes in the Baltic and North seas, arrived in Britain. It joined the Allied navy and claimed to have sunk several German transports during the Norwegian campaign.

The Orzel was the tenth Allied submarine admittedly sunk since the start of the war.

The Polish destroyer Grom was sunk in fighting around Narvik, Norway.

Outstanding bills and obligations are paid twice each year in China. Settlement days fall on the lunar New Year, in January or February, and again six months later.

Our statistical department isn't quite up to date, due to censorship, etc., but it sure looks like Umpires Hitler and Mussolini are a couple of "homers," the way they're kicking the opposition out of the game.

Or, to look at it another way, the teams of Managers Hitler and Muscle are too tough for the rest of the league. We would suggest a split season, and let 'em all start over again.

NOTE TO ALL SWIMMERS and divers: Maybe you noticed the story in the Morning Avalanche, or maybe you'll catch it in the Journal this evening, but the point is, if you're interested in competing in the South Plains District A. A. U. swimming meet, please let your intentions be known at once.

Personally, we hadn't intended burdening the already-heavy Lubbock summer sports program with an official swimming meet, one reason being that interest in aquatic sports hereabouts was not bursting the sports thermometer, and another reason being that facilities for swimming and diving meets in Lubbock were limited.

We were about to pass over the request by Southwestern A. A. U. officials that Lubbock consider itself a district headquarters and that it promote a swimming meet.

But the word got out, and for a spell lately we have been besieged with queries, requests and demands. Seems there is more interest in swimming than we imagined, or had taken the trouble to investigate about.

Then we began to think it over, and talk it over with Mr. Charles Friley, who is an employe of the State Game & Fish commission with a desk at the Lubbock City Hall. Mr. Friley, a few seasons ago, was a star swimmer on the University of Iowa team. He was one of the inquirers regarding the proposed district meet here, stating that he wished to compete.

Friley finally consented to act as director of the South Plains A. A. U. swimming meet, if and when such could be arranged, and to take the responsibility of conducting the meet, determining winners who would be eligible for the Southwestern A. A. U. meet in Dallas in mid-July, from which winners would go to the National A. A. U. meet.

Briefly, the proposition is this: To promote and produce a district swimming meet here, the cost would be somewhere in the neighborhood of $200. The funds to defray this expense would come from two sources: (1) the regular A. A. U. fee of 25 cents for each event any swimmer would care to enter, and (2) a nominal admission charge for spectators.

Expenses connected with the event consist of trophies and prizes, stipulated by A. A. U. rules, and standardized, and of the cost in promoting the event, arranging the place, the building of starting and stopping places, etc.

The site of the meet would, of necessity, be the swimming end of Buffalo Lakes near here.

From this point, it is squarely up to the swimmers of the section. If enough of them will file their entries immediately, thus guaranteeing at least part of the expenses involved, the swimming meet will be held. These entries should be mailed at once to Charles Friley, City Hall, Lubbock, or to the sports department of the Avalanche-Journal.

The date for the swimming meet would be either July 4 or 7, according to present calculations, although this date is subject to change, with notice.

Runaway Scoring A Thing Of Past

With offensives nightly being geared nearer perfection and defenses tightening, play in the city's softball campaign now is stepped up to a point where runaway scoring sprees are a thing of the past, apparently.

A three-hitter, four-hitter and seven-hitter Tuesday night brought triumphs to Lubbock Poultry and Egg, Robinson Grocery and Sherrod's tens.

Corcorran's Play Lumbermen

Another triple header, third of the week, is scheduled for tonight. In the initial fray, Sears will tee off against Lubbock Sash and Door, to be followed by the Corcorran's-Home Lumber tussle. Finale on the night's program will send Good Eats against Borden's in a promising battle.

Last night's three-hit hurling job was turned in by Burrus, twirling for the Eggers. Rice was the power at the plate for the winners.

The second game saw Robinson's ten score seven runs off ten hits while the Laborites could manage only four runs off as many hits. Thompson led the grocermen with two triples and a single.

Sherrod's took an easy 12-5 win from Citizens in the final encounter. Walthall collected a triple and single for the hardware men and Ford was the hitting star for Citizens' with two singles.

BUYS A. L. PROPERTY

BROWNFIELD. — The city of Brownfield and Terry county have purchased the American Legion building and lot on South Fifth street for a reported consideration of $2,000. The city had been renting the building, using a part for a WPA program. The new home demonstration agent will be located in the building.

Federal tables show that a white baby at birth can expect to live 59 years. If he gets through the first year he can look forward to 62 years. For girls it's longer; 63 years at birth and 65 after the first year.

That Girl on Broadway says when contemplating telling a secret to a friend, remember he has a friend who is your enemy.

About the best piece of philosophy we've heard recently was that attributed to an old negro who, when asked the secret of his happiness, replied:

"Ah nevah attempts the impossible and ah always co-operates with the inevitable."

Following such a rule would surely decrease the wear and tear on the nerves!

IF YOU read or heard President Roosevelt's speech on Monday, delivered a few hours after Mussolini "plunged the dagger into the back of a neighbor," there can be no doubt in your mind regarding the state of the nation. The President said, in so many words, that we are in the European war up to the hilt; that we will not turn back.

In other words, while we haven't declared war on any nation, we are to all practical intents and purposes, at war with Nazi Germany and with Fascist Italy.

We might just as well recognize the fact now, as later.

Whether we needed to get into the war — either to protect our own interests or the interests of mankind — makes no difference now.

We're in it, and there's no denying that to date the majority of Americans approve the administration's moves in this regard.

Judging from what has occurred in the past three or four weeks, public opinion will continue to be marshalled on the side of war and if the time ever comes when it looks like it will be practical for us to enter as an active combatant, public opinion will approve that, too.

In their thinking, Americans have done a complete "about face" during the period of the last six months.

AS The Plainsman sees it, the only thing that can keep the United States out of the war as an eventual active combatant is an early end to the conflict now raging in Europe.

Even an early cessation to present hostilities might not keep us out for long. It may only give us a "breathing spell" — which we badly need and during which we can put our "defense house" in order — and then lead up to war with a different lineup of nations.

This is the picture, whether we like it or not.

Every day there comes to The Plainsman's desk special reports from correspondents in New York and Washington.

These reports, furnished by experienced newspaper reporters, give background information and chart, as much as possible, future trends and events. The writer has found information thus obtained to be generally helpful and very interesting. He has been receiving them regularly now for about five years.

Because of national and world conditions, The Plainsman will, from time to time, print in this column excerpts from these background reports from Washington and New York, especially information not carried in the regular news reports of Associated Press and United Press. In reproducing this material, we will point out the source.

For instance, here follows some information received from a Washington correspondent:

"ARMY brass hats, talking off the record, evince small enthusiasm for the President's idea of calling out the National Guard. They'd much rather have the regular army expanded and keep the militia on tap as a last resort.

"The generals have a lively fear that there may be some grim work for the soldiery in the near future. They don't believe that it should be foisted, at the outset, anyway, on guardsmen, many of whom have wives and children at home. More important, a goodly number of National Guard officers hold key posts in industry. The general staff men reckon they can be of greater use behind the lines keeping the wheels of production well oiled. Mobilization of these men might provoke serious industrial dislocations.

"Nevertheless, they favor the President's request for authority to send the National Guard, if necessary, beyond the U. S. borders. The idea is to use it, in an emergency, to replace troops sent to a troubled area from the Canal Zone or Puerto Rico."

"Some of the top ranking members of the General Staff believe firmly that a selective draft ought to be instituted immediately. Their thought is to build up the regular army to half a million men by this process, then throw it open to voluntary short-term enlistments.

"The present requirement that enlistments be for a three-year period discourages men who don't want to make the army a career. The brass hats haven't any doubt that if the President were to declare an emergency and call for enrollments "for the duration," they'd have more applicants than they could handle. They're equally certain that the institution of a six-month registration and training term would bring them a large body of recruits.

"But training raw men in six-month shifts would heavily tax the available officer reserves. Moreover, existing units into which the rookies ought to be incorporated aren't numerous enough. That's why the generals want to enlarge the permanent army first by a small-scale conscription."

"EXPERTS who are entrusted with formulating the defense plans of the U. S. aren't worrying now about any invasion of the U. S. Their thoughts are centered on the several strategic points from which, in the future, an attack on America might be conceivable.

"At the moment they are sufficiently jittery about Curacao, Uruguay, Mexico and other points in the Western Hemisphere to want troops on hand for quick preventive thrusts should the pot show signs of boiling over. Theirs is the age-old military theory that a watched pot — if the watchers have plenty of striking power — never boils.

"The military minds aren't primarily concerned with the niceties of the Good Neighbor policy. They want no repetition of Spain south of our border and they don't think of the Nazis as good neighbors. If they're allowed to run the show, U. S. Marines will turn up promptly wherever the existing state of affairs is threatened with violent overthrow."

IS there a store in Lubbock which has on hand a supply of Red, White and Blue bunting—you know, the kind they used to trim the stores and the speakers stands with on the Fourth of July in the old days?

E. McElroy reports to The Plainsman that he went all round town the other day trying to find some patriotic bunting and was unable to do so, even with the Fourth of July "just around the corner."

"Further than that," says Mr. McElroy, who says he hoisted the first big silk flag in Lubbock's history on July Fourth, 1912, "several of the clerks I approached didn't know what I was talking about!"

Mr. McElroy thinks that with conditions like they are, the coming Fourth of July should see Lubbock decorated as never before.

We agree with him—and we wonder if the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars posts here will get behind a plan to see that residences and stores are appropriately decorated this year.

It certainly would be mighty fine if Lubbock, come July 4, were a profusion of United States Flags and Red, White and Blue and Star-Spangled bunting.

THERE'S a hard-running current of patriotism here now, beyond a shadow of a doubt.

At a local picture show the other night, the news reel showed graduation exercises at the United States Naval academy and when the colors came by a spontaneous burst of applause was heard.

That is as it should be—not only in parlous times, but always.

Americans should ever cheer and respect their flag as a symbol of the protection receive from a government by, of and for all the people.

YESTERDAY: Quiet, mousy Norma is in love with Lance Merriner, and he falls in love with glamorous Rose Cornwall. Jan is distressed.

CHAPTER 15
"Crude And Rude"

Up on the rooftop with Neptune Jan leaned against the parapet and gazed out over the enormous expanse of blue waters, sparkling under the sun as if diamond-faceted. She felt a little dizzy; more than a little shocked. How blind she had been to the obvious; how ignorant of the quirks and dark vortexes of the familiar.

Rose had lived here three weeks now; Derek four. She thought, "How little I really know of either of them. I've scarcely skimmed their surfaces. What will she do to Lance? What will Derek do to me?"

Back of her, in a somewhat sheltered corner, stood the small brown tent Derek occupied, its flap pinned up to let in the fresh air and sun. He was working today. He worked nearly every day now on the fishing barge. This week he'd bought himself a pair of white flannel trousers, a pair of white shoes, a blue flannel jacket and a white shirt. He paid her, with much ceremony, five dollars a week for his food. He treated her as a comrade casually, friendly. That kiss on this roof might never have been. Perhaps it had been only imagination. She wished it were!

Lance was in love with Rose, her brain worried. Would it harm him? She hoped not. Lance would expect nothing to come of it, surely, knowing his limitations. She was being rather foolish, worrying about him. It might do him good, make him less introspective.

"Jan," she said aloud, "you are worse than the old woman who lived in the shoe."

She gazed upon the locker nearby which had not been opened for weeks. Unhappy weeks. "I'm miserable when I paint and I'm miserable when I don't," she thought. "I wonder if he feels that way about the piano, his music. He must. All eaten up and gnawing and resentful . . ."

Lance appeared abstracted, monosyllabic, at dinner. He seemed to be listening for the light click of high heels on the stairway and when he finally heard them he brightened a moment only to plunge into deeper abstraction as they went on outside.

"Would you care to go to a movie, Lance," Norma asked, a look of strain about the corners of her small unpainted mouth.

"No." He did not look at her. He had not for a long time. "Say, Jan, could we afford to fix my room up a bit? I get so damnably tired of looking at the same drapes and cushions day in and day out. I thought—maybe something bright?"

"Of course, I'll go over to the salvage store first thing in the morning and see what they have. I can buy yardage and make the drapes and pillow covers myself."

"Is there anything you can't do?" Derek asked. "Jan, you are much too competent! I can picture you scolding, managing and mothering a brood of tow-headed children."

She flushed, but said nothing. So, she thought, he considers me the maternal type. I wonder if I am? I'd like a chance to find out by having a fling at something else!

"Sweet Girl Graduate"

Johnny swung into the kitchen, his light eyes peering around the table, settling on Jan. "I've got a night off," he said. "Come on in town with me, Jan, and we'll take in a show and a couple of night spots. It'll do you good."

She might have refused if she hadn't seen the frown of disapproval on Derek's face. "Thanks, Johnny, I'd love to go." Turning to Derek, she said sweetly, "You won't mind helping Norma with the dishes just once, will you? After all, the maid should have a night out occasionally, should she not?"

Without waiting for assent or dissent she left the table and ran up to her room. Searching hastily through her closet she located an ancient evening gown in a sealed paper sack. A freshman prom had seen it last, ages ago; still, it wasn't much out of date. In a bureau drawer were gold kid evening sandals. She almost wept when she pulled off the tissue paper and saw the tarnish on them. Well, they wouldn't show much under the long skirt of her dress and anyhow she had to wear them because they were all she possessed.

Really, she thought, pirouetting before the mirror, the dress did look grand! It was of white tulle, long and floaty, puffed of sleeve, with a blue silk sash at teh waist. She looked about sixteen in it. Norma had a short fur jacket she could borrow. Oh, it would be fun to get out of Sea Tide for a night, to get away from turbulent surf and turbulent humans.

Holding up the skirt with one hand she hurried downstairs to the group in the living room, stopping on the bottom step for proper effect.

Johnny, faultless in Tuxedo, stared at her, then scowled. "You look like a sweet girl graduate!" he declared. "It just won't do, Jan. Not for the sort of places I go. Can't you borrow one of Mrs. Cornwall's evening gowns? She wouldn't care." He paused at the stricken look on her face.

"I—I thought I looked rather spiffy," she stammered.

Derek reached her in three long strides and slipped on arm about her waist. "You look beautiful," he asserted. "Prettier than any picture!"

"You look lovely," Lance chimed in, regarding Johnny angrily.

"No, I don't," she contradicted, her voice wavering on tears. "I look like he said." She buried her face in Derek's nice, big shoulder.

Johnny shifted position, a little ashamed yet stubborn and determined to justify his statement. "I've told you and told you," he began.

CURBS ON PROFITS NEEDED

For sake of an America genuinely united and to avoid scandalous repercussions later, some such measures as those now proposed in Washington will be needed to place sharp curbs on profits for materials essential to preparation for and use in the nation's defense.

However, it will be equally important that those restrictions be operated with a minimum of interference by the government in private industry. American industry privately operated is the most efficient in the world, as attested by the quality and the quantity of its mass production achievements. That efficiency will be impaired in direct proportion to the government red tape with which it has to contend—and as surely as the government intervenes in industry, there will be red tape.

Happily, there is no reason to doubt the patriotism of the great majority of those who direct the operations of our industries. Most of them will respond to any emergency unselfishly and without expectation of reward. A few won't. They will attempt to squeeze every last penny they can out of the nation's peril. They are the ones who make necessary the kind of legislation proposed in Washington.

They are people who are enemies of the public welfare. It is proper that we be prepared to treat them as such.

Sentiment In Washington Favors Independent Air Corps Uni...

But Military Men Shy Away From The Ide...

BY BRUCE CATTON
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 12—Under the surface of the drive for a stronger air force, there is developing new sentiment for getting the service flyers out from under the direction of non-flying generals and admirals.

Catton

So far there is not much talk about setting up the air force as a completely seperate arm on the British style, with its own department headed by its own cabinet member. But the possibility of giving both the army and navy flying corps virtual independence within the existing departments is being explored.

Two congressmen who are starting to work in that direction are Vincent Harrington of Iowa and Melvin Maas of Minnesota. Harrington is interested in the army, Maas in the navy; general idea is to make the air arm of each service an independent corps, like the marine corps under the orders of the head of the department but carrying its own general staff and top command.

Away From Separate Force

Men close to the military picture here are still inclined to shy away from the idea of a wholly separate air force. This includes some of the most out-spoken critics of the inability of present army and navy high commands to realize the full value of the airplane as a military weapon.

Chief reason for this is a feeling that flying a fighting plane for the army is an entirely different thing than flying one for the navy, and that each branch of the service should have an air corps whose personnel is especially trained for its own problems. The alleged recent experience of the British in Norway is cited as a case in point.

According to a story which is accepted as true by men qualified to judge, there was lamentable lack of co-ordination between Britain's seafleet and her air arm in the Norwegian fighting. Flyers are said to have gone to the Norwegian coast to drive off German surface ships without adequate information about the numbers or types of British vessels operating in the same waters. Being landsmen, they could not readily distinguish British vessels from German. Result, it is said, is that British flyers bombed British warships, with disastrous consequences.

Hence the Maas-Harrington approach.

Action May Be Near

If the President should decide hemisphere defense made it necessary to speed construction of the proposed highway to Alaska, the way is just about open for immediate action.

Congress recently passed a law extending the life of the International Highway Commission for four years. This group, headed by energetic Congressman Warren Magnuson of Washington, has almost finished the preliminary work. By July, all of the surveys will have been completed and the U. S. and Canadian governments can talk turkey if they wish.

Crop Damage Seen In Hail

Heavy damage to growing crops in central and northern Lamb county, north and west of Littlefield and Amherst, by hail, was reported over a territory seven miles wide by 12 miles long.

Damage to cotton was estimated as high as 90 per cent. Some wheat north of the sandhills in the county, in the Earth area, was damaged. Rains fell northwest, north and west of town, according to reports.

Trace of Rain Here

State experiment sub-station reported .09 of an inch of rain Tuesday afternoon, with a trace at night. Temperature Tuesday was 82 degrees, with a minimum of 50 that morning and 54 Wednesday morning.

Santa Fe dispatchers gave the following information on the rain and hail: Muleshoe, two-thirds of an inch, with hail; Amherst, no rain but a territory 7 miles wide and 12 miles long, hailed out; Anton, half inch, with some hail; Shallowater, light rain; Hale Center, Whiteface, Seagraves and Lamesa, quarter inch each; Abernathy, Bledsoe, Meadow and Brownfield, showers; Lehman and Wilson, half inch.

Fort Worth and Denver City reported showers at Petersburg and Sterley. E. C. Kuykendall, general agent at Dimmitt and Olton Tuesday afternoon said showers fell at both towns. Rain also reached southern Bailey county, it was reported.

Automobiles Damaged

Approximately 60 square miles, from two and a half miles northwest of Littlefield to a few miles past Earth, were covered. The path was estimated at four miles wide and 15 miles long.

The hailstorm struck quickly about 3 o'clock and continued 30 minutes with a brief interruption of rain. Stones were no more than three-quarers inch in diameter.

Automobile windshields were broken and tops were damaged. There was no report of damage to buildings.

The temperature dropped noticeably throughout the surrounding territory.

Tuesday Party Honors Guest

Honoring her sister, Mrs. P. M. Barton of Memphis, Tenn., Mrs. W. H. Freeman entertained with an attractive bridge party at Hotel Lubbock Tuesday afternoon. Five tables were in play.

Refreshments were served in the junior dining room where the table was decorated with colorful summer flowers and candlelight.

High score was made by Mrs. Barton who also was presented with a guest prize; second high went to Mrs. Carl Gilliam; Mrs. Ray Johnson received a traveling prize and Mrs. J. D. Sanders received consolation.

Other guests were Mesdames Robert and W. K. Cooper, G. C. Porter, T. H. Anderson, Fenner Tubbs, A. Lee, Jerry Brooks, Vance Swaim, Lee Hubby, Ed M. Allen, E. P. McWhirter, Sam Lemons, Fred Youree, Earl Hunter and E. A. Patterson.

State Auxiliary Head Is At Home From Journey

Mrs. George Berry, state president of the American Legion auxiliary, has returned from a trip to Houston, Dallas, Greenville, Kilgore and New London, where she visited auxiliaries in company with Mrs. C. W. Harris of Bishopville, S. C., national vice-president. She also attended a state Legion and auxiliary convention in Shreveport, La.

Annual Inspection Being Made Here

A. B. Conner of College Station, director of the Texas State Experiment service, is here on his annual summer inspection of the Lubbock sub-station, said Don L. Jones, superintendent.

Conner arrived late Tuesday. He visited with R. E. Karper, vice director, who is in charge of an intensive study of grain sorghum work at the station here and also at Spur and Chillicothe.

The director plans to leave for headquarters late today. He checked the office and the work at the station.

Green Funeral Will Be Held Here Today

Last rites for Mrs. John B. Green, 85, Lubbock pioneer who died Tuesday morning, will be conducted at 4 o'clock this afternoon at the Broadway Church of Christ, with Elder Liff Sanders officiating.

Sanders Funeral home will direct burial in Lubbock cemetery.

Pallbearers will be six of the grandsons, Earl Hunt, Glenn Hunt, Carl Hunt, Lawrence Green and E. B. Green, jr., of Lubbock and Kendrick Green of Dallas. Hollis Green of Fort Worth and Orvie Green, other grandsons, are to serve as pallbearers if here.

Mrs. Green moved here in 1890, before Lubbock was established. She died at the home of a daughter, Mrs. I. L. Hunt, of 1420 Avenue K.

the porch!

After the officers had come and talked with me I finally got to sleep at 4 o'clock.

I remember something that at the time did not cause me to think much of it.

I heard someone walking out front. It seems like that person paused.

Then I heard a car started and thought nothing of it.

Then the blast.

I thought something of that!

I can even see some humor in the thing this morning—a little. Mrs. Pitts and I met on a bus. I told her I was thinking of changing rooming places. She told me she would be glad to have me occupy her front downstairs bedroom.

"It is very quiet there," she said.

Will I remain at the Pitts home? I think so—unless the dynamite tossers decide to get playful again.

It'd look like I was a quitter if I left now—don't you think so?

Spur Roundup Set Thursday

(Special To The Journal)

SPUR, June 12 — Preparations were pronounced complete today for the start Thursday of the second annual Spur roundup which will continue through Saturday.

Located among three of the largest ranches in the southwest and with many other cow outfits near by, the people of the town have drawn heavily on the remudas of the territory, with the result that no household is complete without one to four or five cow ponies on the premises.

Numerous contestants from widely scattered points have already arrived, attracted by the $2,500 which will be distributed in prizes. These early arrivals found the town completely decorated for the celebration, and everything in readiness at the $30,000 arena where the contests will be held.

Twenty-five out-of-town sponsors have arranged to strive for the hand-carved saddle, the shop-made boots and the silver-mounted spurs which will be awarded winners in the sponsor contest.

Dancing Scheduled

Miss Sydna Yokley of Canadian, winner of last year's sponsor award, will be on hand to compete with other experienced rodeo queens in a special calf roping contest in which $100 prize money is offered.

Dancing will be in order after each night performance, and a floor large enough to accommodate 600 couples without crowding has been made ready. Friday night a special sponsors dance will be held at Spur inn, widely known West Texas hotel. Within the rodeo grounds a floor has been built whereon those who classify themselves as oldtimers and prefer their dancing 100 per cent western will find a cowboy string band playing for the squares, reels, and schottisches.

Rodeo stock was unloaded Monday by Ollie Cox, who has brought for the occasion a particularly wild looking bunch of brahma cattle and outlaw horses, including some wild mares to be used in the special cow boy race event.

All preparations are complete, says George Sloan, president of the Spur roundup association, which includes in its membership practically every business man in the community, and which is guided by an executive committee made up of Sloan, Olen Arthur, Bill Putman, B. C. Langley, A. C. Hull and Charlie Powell.

Ty Allen is again in charge of the sponsor contest, and towns which have not made arrangements for their sponsors should get in touch with him.

Price Limits To Be Lifted

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, June 12—The floor placed under prices on grain futures to check drastic declines caused by the German offensive in May will be removed at the opening of trading Friday.

The Chicago board of trade directors decided yesterday to abolish minimum prices and like action was taken by directors of the Minneapolis and Kansas City markets.

Prices were pegged on May 9 after wild selling drove wheat down 34 cents a bushel.

In removing the price restriction, directors stated that "public confidence in the soundness of our national marketing system has again been demonstrated."

"It is now apparent that there is need for freedom in the markets in order that the new crops the farmers are about to harvest may be marketed to their best interests."

Market observers who believed price limits had acted as a drag on potential buying figured that removal of the restriction would restore demand to a normal basis.

Tax Bill

force full discussion of an excess profits tax on munitions and war materials.

The higher debt limit fixed in the bill is to provide $4,000,000,000 for expanding the army and navy. The taxes would retire this debt in five years.

To Increase Payments

All present income taxpayers would have their payments increased, and 2,000,000 more persons would have to pay income taxes because personal income tax exemptions of married persons would be lowered from $2,500 to $2,000 and of single persons from $1,000 to $800.

"Surtaxes," which are added to the normal 4 per cent tax as earnings grow larger, would be increased one to 13 per cent on net incomes ranging from $6,000 to $100,000. Corporation incomes would be subjected to an additional one per cent levy.

French Defense Positions Before Paris Strong

Gallant Stand Being Staged

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press Staff Writer

When you see the epic stand the French poilus are making before Paris in the face of terrific odds, you understand how it is that men can cheer while comrades are dying.

This devotion and sacrifice make it possible still to record that the Allied position is no more serious than it has been for days.

Indeed, the French high command having decided to withdraw to positions south of the historic Marne river, which flanks the capital to the east, the defense should be considerably easier.

First Solid Front

Generalissimo Weygand's strategy apparently contemplates also utilizing the Seine, which forms a flank for Paris to the west, as a complementary defensive line, although his present front bulges out to the north of the capital.

This Marne-Seine combination would give him the first "solid" front the French have had since the Germans crashed the Allied line up on the Somme and Aisne river early in the offensive. Strategically it is stronger, for the terrain makes it easier of defense.

Whether the Germans will be able to force their way into the beleaguered city depends on how much their stamina has been sapped by the fury of their protracted offensive.

They have the men and materials to turn the trick — but have they the reserve strength necessary? We shall have to wait and see.

May Be Turning Point

If Weygand can hold not only Paris but his lines along the Marne and Seine rivers it may be the turning point of the war.

If the Germans exhaust themselves in this assault, their position will become decidedly uncomfortable, since Hitler is believed to have thrown into this drive virtually every ounce of strength he possesses.

Even the capture of Paris wouldn't mean success for the German fuehrer, unless in the process he crushed the French armies. Berlin seems to recognize this from a statement this morning by an authorized source who declared that the capture of Paris isn't the primary object but that "the real purpose is to crush our foes' armies completely."

Could Retire Further

Obviously if Weygand had to give up Paris he could retire further south to new positions and continue the fight — provided he maintained his army intact.

The generalissimo has on his hands a far different strategical problem than had the Allies in 1914 when they performed their "miracle" by throwing back the kaiser's forces on the Marne. This time the Germans have a powerful right wing which is smashing at the Allied forces from the coast along the Seine river.

Not only is Weygand in danger of having this left flank turned, but he must at all costs maintain the solidity of his right wing which is anchored to the Maginot line. Destruction of this anchor would threaten envelopment of the entire French army.

Five Men Assigned To Army Positions

After being sworn into the U. S. army, five men were sent Tuesday to Fort D. A. Russell, Marfa, and to Camp Ord, Calif., said Lieut. George T. Coleman, recruiting officer.

Billie W. Wood and Fred J. Peek of route 2 Celeste, were assigned to the field artillery at Fort Russell; Robert D. Elkins, Jayton; Hudson Thomas, Childress, and Floyd L. Terry, jr., Dickens, to the 39th engineers at Camp Ord.

July Fourth Trip Is Being Planned

Students in the first summer term at Texas Technological college may make reservations for a tentatively planned Fourth of July trip to the Grand Canyon, according to announcement Tuesday by Dean James G. Allen, college recreation chairman.

According to present plans, they will leave at 1 p. m. July 3 in an air-conditioned, 30-passenger bus and will spend that night in Gallup, N. M. After a short stay there the morning of July 4 they will continue to the Grand canyon by way of the Painted desert and Petrified forest, arriving at the canyon in time to see the sunset. They will leave on the return trip at sunset July 5 and will spend that night in Gallup. On July 6 they will go to Santa Fe, N. M., remaining there over night. The party will arrive home July 7.

Roundtrip bus fare will be $12.50. Estimated cost for the entire trip is $21.50. On a previous college-sponsored trip to the canyon the group did not visit Santa Fe.

A student must pay his bus fare to reserve a place, it was announced.

Lindsey And McKee Honored At Dinner

A dinner honoring Victor H. Lindsey and A. W. McKee was held Tuesday night in Knights of Pythias hall and Frank E. Smith of Abilene was principal speaker.

Approximately 75 members attended. Several out of town guests were present.

Smith is immediate past grand chancellor of Texas.

Lindsey was honored as retiring chancellor commander of the Lubbock lodge. He will be succeeded July 1 by Estel Hendricks after serving in the post two successive terms.

The 25-year veterans jewel was awarded to McKee. H. E. Singley, sr., was out of town and was not present to receive the same honor.
