Boyle Linked To Yablonski Case

WASHINGTON, Pa. (AP) — Annette Gilly, confessed participant in the 1969 murders of United Mine Workers insurgent Joseph A. "Jock" Yablonski and his wife and daughter, said today she was told "the union" was behind the killings.

"My father told me that the Yablonski murders had the approval of the 'big man'," Mrs. Gilly said in a lengthy statement detailing her knowledge of the killings that was read in Washington County Court.

"To me that meant Tony Boyle, president, United Mine Workers," the blonde, 31-year-old Cleveland housewife said.

Boyle has repeatedly denied any connection with the killings.

Mrs. Gilly, who pleaded guilty to state murder and conspiracy charges here Tuesday and agreed to turn state's evidence, did not say why she interpreted the term "big man" to mean Boyle.

That was her only reference to him in the statement.

The statement, a rambling document that also contained the names of two men, "Titler" and "Owens," was read into the court record by an FBI agent at a pretrial hearing for Mrs. Gilly's father, Silous Huddleston, a 63-year-old retired coal miner from LaFollette, Tenn. Mrs. Gilly was not present for the proceeding.

Titler and Owens were not further identified.

She said Yablonski's killers planned at one time to murder him by putting arsenic in his ever-present, pencil-thin cigars, or by dynamiting the family home in nearby Clarksville, and of how the payoff money—$10,000 in two installments—was wiped clean of fingerprints to keep it from being traced.

In the end, however, Yablonski, a 59-year-old bushy-browed, barrel-chested man, and his wife and daughter were shot to death as they slept in their home. They were slain Dec. 31, 1969, just three weeks after the UMW rebel lost a hard-fought campaign to unseat Boyle as president of the union.

The government later disclosed that Yablonski was on the verge of testifying before a federal grand jury in Washington, D.C., that was probing UMW activities.

In subsequent indictments in the case, the government claimed that one reason for Yablonski's death was to keep him from appearing before the grand jury.

Boyle was not immediately available for comment on today's developments.

But a UMW spokesman said Wednesday after the FBI arrested a sixth suspect in the case in Tennessee that on the advice of counsel, no comment would be forthcoming on that development.

The sixth suspect in the case was William Jackson Prater.

Education is a topic of general interest throughout the country and its pursuit represents the livelihood of many citizens. Although public schools as they are known today did not exist, formal education had a rather high priority among pioneer settlers of this area. This is emphasized in some historical material on the Fairview School in Borden County, which was located a dozen or so miles southeast of Gail.

The latest issue of the Borden Citizen, the regular publication of the Borden County Historical Survey Committee, has some recollections of three persons who attended that school, which was established in 1892.

Mrs. Josie Glasscock Dillahunty recalls that her father, W. T. Glasscock, contributed land for the school site.

The method of financing was public subscription, and a list of pledges of financial support for the new school is reproduced from the original copy. The pledges generally ranged from $1 to $5 each.

Leta Gray Lloyd recalls that parents of pupils took turns hauling water for the children to drink. The drinking water was stored in a barrel and there was a single tin cup for all to use in drinking.

"They did not have germs in those days!" Mrs. Lloyd suggested.

It was noted that, although the Fairview School District long since consolidated with others to form what is now the Borden County School District, the building has been kept up and is now used as a polling place for one of the county's voting precincts.

Irving Clayton recalls that his family's home was about 3½ miles from the school building and there were four gates to go through en route to school each day. He also remembers that a red wagon was needed as a prop for a school play, and since he had one, he pulled it the 3½ miles to school and back again.

Jimmy Dyess, the Scurry County Park Superintendent, says some would-be golfers have been getting in some practice swings in Towle Memorial Park which is against the rules.

The county can't allow golfing in the park for several reasons, including the fact that flying golf balls are hazardous to the youngsters who flock there during the warm months.

So, he is asking the public to cooperate and refrain from hitting golf balls in the park.

Like the athletic teams of Snyder High, the drama students are winding up their competition in Class AAA with high honors. As for District 3-3A, it has become something of a "ho-hum" event for the Snyder High one-act play to win the district title. Next year, SHS will advance into Class 4A, but the transition should not be exactly awesome.—WACIL McNAIR.

Heavy Fighting Rages In An Loc

SAIGON (AP) — Thousands of North Vietnamese troops stormed An Loc with tanks at dawn today and by late afternoon had taken half of the provincial capital 60 miles north of Saigon, field reports said.

Heavy fighting raged in the streets at dusk, according to the reports.

Official reports reaching Saigon late today said the northern half of the town was in North Vietnamese hands and tanks had taken over the airfield.

Some reports said the 12,000 South Vietnamese troops in the town were rallying under the cover of hundreds of American air strikes. Field reports said the North Vietnamese had lost 34 armored vehicles.

It was the first time in the 15-day-old Communist offensive that the enemy had been able to drive into a provincial capital. President Nguyen Van Thieu ordered the defenders to hold at all cost.

Field reports said an armored column sliced into An Loc from the northeast and infantrymen from the north in a two-prong drive. The town is divided by Highway 13, with the newer portion and airfield on the north and the old section and provincial headquarters on the south.

The biggest gunship the U.S. Air Force has, the four-engine AC130, attacked the advancing troops. American jet fighter-bombers pounded the armored column. The American planes braved heavy antiaircraft fire, but none was reported shot down.

Field reports said the seven of the armored vehicles destroyed were Soviet T54 tanks, the most powerful the North Vietnamese have.

Several of the armored vehicles blasted their way into the city before they were knocked out.

South Vietnamese officers claimed 200 North Vietnamese had been killed.

Incomplete reports said 15 to 20 South Vietnamese soldiers were killed and about 30 were wounded.

South Vietnamese rangers were reported in heavy, close combat with enemy forces a mile east of An Loc.

Senate Limits War Powers

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate passed a bill today to limit the power of the president to commit U.S. armed forces to hostilities without the approval of Congress.

The vote was 68 to 16, sending the bill to an uncertain fate in the House.

Before the final vote, the Senate turned down 55 to 27 an amendment by Sen. James L. Buckley, R-Con-N.Y., to require similar approval by Congress for assignment of U.S. troops to "peacekeeping forces" under control of the United Nations Security Council.

Secret 'Talks' Proposal Told

PARIS (AP) — The chief of the U.S. delegation to the Vietnam peace talks revealed today that President Nixon made a secret proposal to the Vietnamese Communists to resume the talks today.

"The only response came in the form of a mushrooming invasion of the Republic of South Vietnam by North Vietnamese troops,"

Ambassador William J. Porter told an airport news conference as he returned from consultations in the United States.

Nixon made his secret proposal "through a private channel" on April 1, Porter said, and the Communist side received it the next day. The proposal thus was made two days after the first effect of the big North Vietnamese offensive below the demilitarized zone was felt. The South Vietnamese on March 30 were driven from the first of the string of border bases they lost.

Porter gave no clue to the identity of the private channel and did not explain why Nixon made his proposal in that fashion and secretly.

The ambassador said he thought it "useful" to make a statement "to clear away the rubbish which has accumulated around the Paris peace talks." It seemed likely that his statement was in reply to a French government statement Wednesday urging that the peace talks be resumed promptly, a statement that the State Department said was "one-sided ... because it picks up demands of the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong delegations."

Porter said the North Vietnamese and the Viet Cong "raised the cry that we were sabotaging the negotiations."

"How you can sabotage anything which they never permitted to exist is quite a question," he commented.

"I can reveal to you for the first time," Porter went on, "that after a thorough review of the situation, President Nixon personally directed that a message be sent through a private channel to the other side stating our willingness to resume the Paris talks on April 13. The only response to this overture came in the form of a mushrooming invasion of the Republic of South Vietnam by North Vietnamese troops and the classic example of prevarication in the Viet Cong statement that no North Vietnamese troops were involved in that military operation."

Nixon Off To Canada Tonight

THURMONT, Md. (AP) — President Nixon, who embarks on a 40-hour visit to Canada tonight, was cloistered at nearby Camp David today to put the finishing touches on a speech that could mean the success or failure of the journey.

Few officials expect anything approaching meaningful negotiations during the three-day visit, which comes at a time when economic disagreements beset the two countries.

Barely two hours of private discussions between Nixon and Canadian Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau are scheduled, and they are expected to touch on differences only in broad terms.

Nixon faces a re-election test in November and Trudeau almost certainly will face an election by October, making meaningful negotiations even more difficult.

For Trudeau, more than Nixon, across-the-border relations are a major political issue, making major concessions before the elections virtually impossible.

In addition, Canadian officials have taken precautions designed to isolate Nixon from the crowds that normally would make for good election-year publicity back in the United States.

They are still wary following an assault on visiting Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin last October and expect anti-Nixon, antiwar and anti-American demonstrators to make their presence felt during Nixon's visit.

All of these factors mean that the success or failure of Nixon's visit may well hinge on what he says when he addresses Canada's Parliament Friday.

Plane Is Skyjacked

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — The Federal Bureau of Investigation reported a Frontier Airlines 737 jet was skyjacked over New Mexico today by two men who said they wanted to go to Los Angeles.

The FBI and Phoenix police said two men were involved, and that the pilot had been ordered to land at Phoenix.

Neither agency knew how many passengers were aboard the twin-jet plane.

Frontier said the flight originated in Denver, with stops scheduled at Albuquerque, Tucson and Phoenix.

Crew Brushes Up On Geology

By HOWARD BENEDICT
AP Aerospace Writer

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The Apollo 16 astronauts received a refresher course in lunar geology today as the National Weather Service forecast satisfactory conditions for Sunday's launching to the moon.

John W. Young, Charles M. Duke Jr. and Thomas K. Mattingly II have had extensive geology training but scheduled the session with Dr. Farouk el-Baz to brush up on some aspects, mainly on surface landmarks they'll track from lunar orbit. El-Baz is a space agency geologist.

The weather forecast for the planned 12:54 p.m. launch time Sunday calls for partly cloudy skies, winds from the southwest about 15 miles an hour and a temperature of 80 degrees.

The Weather Service said that if the liftoff is delayed until later in the afternoon it might have to be scheduled around scattered thundershowers. The Saturn 5 rocket can be launched as late as 4:52 p.m.

Sunday is the only day in April in which the moon is in favorable position for a launching. So if the rocket is not launched Sunday, the shot would be delayed until May 14.

At the launch pad, the countdown continued on schedule.

All three astronauts consider themselves pretty good amateur geologists and one of the main things Young and Duke are to look for as they explore the moon's mountainous, highlands is evidence of ancient volcanoes.

Will they be able to recognize the evidence if they see it?

"We certainly think so," Duke said in a recent interview. "Between 35 and 40 per cent of our training has been devoted to geology, and about 95 per cent of that time was spent in various types of volcanic terrain on earth."

Dr. William C. Phinney, chief of the geology branch at the Manned Spacecraft Center in Houston, reported Young and Duke spent 36 days in field training.

"They've had about 28 hours of study of rocks, including about 20 hours in lunar rocks," he noted. "They spent a fair amount of time after the Apollo 15 mission looking at the various rocks as they were unpacked."

Phinney also said that Mattingly, who will orbit the moon alone for three days, has had 18 days of extensive landmark tracking training in a jet plane.

"He has flown over meteorite impact structures, over volcanic fields and over areas where there is a lot of structural disturbance," he explained.

Mattingly is to operate a $10-million array of moon-mapping cameras and scientific instruments.

Moon Soil Is Exchanged

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet and American space scientists today exchanged lunar soil samples gathered on their countries' latest moon missions.

The vice president of the Soviet Academy of Sciences, Alexander P. Vinogradov, turned over 2.05 grams of moon soil to two officials of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

The soil was scooped up in lunar mountains on Feb. 23 by the unmanned Luna 20 craft.

The NASA scientists, Drs. Paul Gast and Michael Duke, gave to Vinogradov three core samples taken by the Apollo 15 astronauts on a mission last August.

A U.S. Embassy spokesman said the exchange took place "in a very amiable atmosphere" in a brief ceremony at the headquarters of the Academy of Sciences. Exchange of moon soil samples is part of an agreement between NASA and the Soviet academy.

Nixon Receives Relaxant Treatment

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's personal physician says the chief executive receives a muscle relaxant treatment from an osteopath about twice a month.

Dr. Walter R. Tkach emphasized Tuesday that the treatment was merely for muscle relaxation, that the President has no backache or other skeletal trouble.

Who should take care of mom?

By Abigail Van Buren

(c 1972 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: I would like to know who is responsible for the care and entertainment of an elderly mother who lives alone and has no hobbies or interests.

There are five of us children, all married and living in the area. I feel that the responsibility should be shared equally among the two sons and three daughters. My brothers feel that a mother is the responsibility of her daughters. What would you suggest I do about this situation?

TROUBLED DAUGHTER

DEAR TROUBLED: Who is "responsible?" You all are. What should you do about the situation? Exactly what I presume you have been doing. Giving your mother all the time and attention you can, and reminding your brothers that she is also their mother, and they ought to be ashamed of themselves for neglecting her.

DEAR ABBY: This concerns saying grace at the table. My husband and I never had said grace, however we do thank the Lord for our food, along with all our other blessings in our prayers at night.

When we invite a certain couple over for supper, they always say grace out loud at our table. Correct me if I am wrong, but I think this is very impolite. If they feel like saying grace, they should say it to themselves because by this time they know we don't say it.

If you agree with me, Abby, what would you suggest I say to these people?

QUIET AT MEALTIME

DEAR QUIET: It would be impolite of you to discourage your guests from saying grace aloud at your table if that is their custom. If you wish to remain silent, that's your privilege.

DEAR ABBY: My boss [a woman] invited me to a bridal shower for a coworker. I brought a shower gift to the party, which was a small buffet supper. My boss gave the bride a very nice clock radio.

The next morning at work I found a note on my desk from my boss. It said I owed her $1.50 for my share of the clock radio and $1.75 for the food at the shower.

When I was invited, nothing was said about chipping in for the food or the clock radio. And since I brought my own shower gift I didn't see why I should be expected to chip in for another one.

Never in my life have I gone to a party where I was later asked to chip in for the refreshments. I am only 17, and this is a lot of money for a working girl. If you were me, would you pay it and keep your mouth shut, or refuse to pay it and risk getting on the bad side of the boss?

HAD IN HARTFORD

DEAR HAD: [And you were.] If you're telling it like it is, and I believe you are, refuse to pay it.

DEAR ABBY: In response to the waitress who wonders why people will sit at a table with dirty dishes when there are clean tables:

I am one of the offenders. Often a particular table is better lighted, roomier or has a better view than the others. Also it can be out of the traffic, or quieter. [Why did the previous diners sit there?]

If a person is just grabbing a quick bite, he can sit anywhere, but if one intends to enjoy a lingering meal, he should have his choice of tables. Dirty dishes or not.

Record Highs Set In Texas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

More warm weather was forecast for Texas today despite a weak cold front that drifted near Childress and Lubbock earlier this morning.

Weather forecasters said the front would become stationary and dissipate during the day.

Skies were cloudy to partly cloudy over Southeast Texas and South Central portions of the state this morning and generally clear elsewhere.

Temperatures in the Northern Panhandle were in the upper 40s while ranging in the upper 60s and low 70s in the remainder of the state.

Temperatures climbed past the 100 mark in several sections of the state Wednesday, while Wichita Falls and Childress had the hottest temperatures recorded—a sultry 102 degrees.

The 102 degrees at Wichita Falls was the highest temperature ever recorded there so early in the year.

Early morning temperatures and weather conditions in Texas included Brownsville 74 and partly cloudy, Texarkana 69 and clear, El Paso 58 and clear, Midland 63 and clear and Houston 73 and cloudy.

Davis Resigns Demo Post

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Bexar County Democratic Chairman Leonard Davis has unexpectedly resigned from the post he has held since 1969.

Davis, whose resignation comes three weeks before the party primary election, said he had hoped to complete his term but that his law practice needs "proper care and attention."

Davis came under criticism last fall from the Democratic Women of Bexar County, which voted last November to write Gov. Preston Smith, urging him to remove Davis because of what they called a lack of cooperation.

Immunizations Are Mandatory

Parents of public school pupils are being reminded that before a student will be permitted to enroll in school for the 1972-73 school year, all immunizations must be up-to-date and available for school records.

Also, it is important that information on immunizations be sent to the school office before the end of this school year. The Texas State Law requires DPT, polio, measles and rubella immunizations for children up to the age of 12. Beyond that age, diptheria and tetanus are required with a booster dose every 10 years. After June this year, all immunications and dates must be validated by a physician or the county health department.

Screwworms Revive During Mild Winter

Livestock and household pet owners are reminded that screwworms have returned to Texas with a vengeance. They should take all precautions to reduce case numbers, says County Agricultural Agent Billy Roach.

An unusually mild winter in many portions of Mexico and in overwintering areas of South Texas has resulted in large fertile fly populations that are now triggering case outbreaks in many areas of Texas. Although all known cases are receiving hot-spotting treatments of sterile flies produced at the Mission Screwworm Eradication Center, nevertheless the cooperation of all producers is needed now, explains Roach. A screwworm epidemic is in prospect.

Screwworm cases in Mexico have mushroomed during the winter and early spring, and Texas cases have spread from the Rio Grande Valley and South Texas through the Hill Country and into the Big Bend area. Hamilton County, in Central Texas, recorded its first case of the year this week, and 28 different counties have reported cases since the first of April.

Before the screwworm eradication program began in 1962, southwestern livestock owners suffered hundreds of millions of dollars in livestock losses annually. Since the program has been underway, losses have been kept to a minimum and ranch workers have concentrated on other activities besides checking for screwworm cases.

"The time has come, however, when cooperation is again needed from all livestock owners and household pet enthusiasts. Ideal weather conditions and migrating fertile flies are posing a threat to all counties of the state," says Roach.

Thus far in 1972, 188 cases have been confirmed in a wide area of Texas. Through the end of April last year, only 21 cases were diagnosed as positive. No screwworm cases were confirmed through the end of March in 1970.

Livestock and pet owners are urged to check their animals regularly, and to treat all wounds found with a product recommended for that purpose. If worms are found in wounds, producers should collect 10 or more of the larvae from deep within the center of the wound and place them in a collection kit. Vials for mailing the samples may be obtained from County Agricultural Agents. The samples should be sent to the Screwworm Eradication Laboratory, Box 969, Mission, Texas, for identification.

Fish Project Is Discussed

John Tildon, a biologist for Texas Electric Service Company, told of the company's fish-growing project at its Morgan Creek plant at Colorado City as a highlight of the weekly luncheon meeting of the Snyder Kiwanis Club, held yesterday at the Steak House.

He said the company experimented growing channel catfish in the warm channel adjacent to Lake Colorado City. They obtained fingerling fish from the hatchery in Fort Worth and were able to get them to double their weight every 30 days.

He said the heat from the plant was largely responsible for the phenomenal growth. The fish were grown in wire baskets and fed through a tube in the center of the basket. Because of the heat, the fish at the Morgan Creek channel are able to grow 12 months out of the year. Normally, there is only a six to seven month growing season for catfish.

The average catfish "farmer" produces 1,000 pounds of fish per acre, he said, adding that it is possible to produce 5,000,000 pounds of fish in a 5-acre pond using the warm-water system.

Tildon was a guest of Garth Austin, who brought the program.

The meeting was presided over by Jack Riley, president of the club.

The University of Northern Colorado gained university status May 1, 1970.

JUNE WEDDING PLANNED—Mr. and Mrs. C.R. Frederick of 2310 Forty-first St., announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Avis, to Bobby Dale Watson, son of Mr. and Mrs. E.L. ACS Urges Women To Have Pap Test

"We're going all out to ask women to 'Take Time Out for Life,'—it's the greatest message of our 1972 educational and fund-raising Crusade, Mrs. Bently Baize, Service Chairman of the Scurry County Cancer Society Unit.

She brought a copy of the Society's life-saving leaflet to the Snyder Daily News office and explained that it will be taken to home and offices throughout Scurry County this April. The leaflet asks every woman to have a simple, painless Pap test which is a safeguard against cancer of the uterus or womb.

"Over two million volunteers will distribute some 45 million of these leaflets during Crusade and the message is a vital one. Death from uterine cancer practically could be eliminated if all women had a Pap test on a regular basis," she said.

The leaflet has a little form for a woman to fill out as a reminder of the date of her Pap test. At the bottom is an important P.S. which reads:

"To the man of the family: Make certain the woman in your life takes time out for life. Nag a little."

The leaflet stresses the importance of an annual health checkup for all adults. The checkup should include cancer detection tests such as the Pap test which can reveal the presence of cancer before its symptoms appear. Other tests include the procto and breast examination.

"We are now saving the life of one out of every three cancer patients," Mrs. Baize said. "But we could save one-in-two WITHOUT DISCOVERING ANYTHING NEW IN THE LABORATORY if people took advantage of present knowledge. Just to take one form of the disease thousands of women are dying needlessly of uterine cancer and that is the motion of our campaign this year. It fits in with out theme—We Want To Wipe Out Cancer in Your Lifetime."

The crusade funds will be used to support the Society's programs of research, education and service to and rehabilitation of the cancer patient.

Market Report

COLLEGE STATION—Fresh asparagus is a sign of spring and this vegetable is now more plentiful, according to Houston consumer marketing specialist Mrs. Gwendolyne Clyatt.

"Look for moderate price tags on cabbage, carrots, celery, dry yellow onions and 'cooking greens,'" Mrs. Clyatt, who works for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, said.

Strawberries add choice and color to fruit baskets. Grapefruit and oranges hold good choices of citrus items. Apples, bananas, tangerines, lemons and pineapples are other fruit choices.

Mrs. Clyatt said that eggs, fryers and turkeys are available at prices that should satisfy the budget-conscious food shopper. These products will remain food bargains. The egg supply continues to be large and prices will stay low.

"There will most likely be some retail specials on eggs during the coming week to provide some good bargains in this popular protein food," Mrs. Clyatt said.

Milk and cheese continue to be popular stand-bys.

"Quality and food values remain so consistently high that sometimes we don't realize what a bargain we do get when we put milk and cheese in our market basket," she said.

Beef prices are about the same as last week. There are fewer beef cuts in the ads, but features will be found on whole briskets, chuck steaks, Boston roll roasts, standing rib roasts, ground beef and beef liver.

Several pork cuts are featured this week, but these are scattered. They include loins cut into chops and boneless Boston butt roasts. Smoked hams of all kinds, bacon, frankfurters and sausage are also being featured.

"Remember," Mrs. Clyatt said; "a curing solution—salt and water—is injected into hams to produce their familiar color and flavor. Most or all of this added moisture is subsequently lost during the curing and smoking process."

Federal regulations require that "smoked hams" weigh no more than their original weight or "green weight". Those with one to 10 per cent added water must be labeled "smoked ham with water added."

The term "imitation ham" is generally used to describe hams containing more than 10 per cent added moisture.

Cherries Star In A Streusel Torte

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Even novices at cooking can make this Sweet Cherry Streusel Torte. That's because there is no dough to be rolled out.

The streusel crust is a mixture of flour, sugar, baking powder, butter and egg yolk with grated lemon rind to accent flavor, and it is pressed over the bottom and sides of a springform pan. Some of the streusel crumbs are sprinkled over the cherry filling.

When we served this delicious company dessert at our house, we offered it unadorned. But if you like, you may top servings with whipped cream.

SWEET CHERRY STREUSEL TORTE

1 2-3rds cups unsifted flour
1 cup sugar
½ teaspoon baking powder
½ teaspoon grated lemon rind
½ cup butter
1 egg yolk
Cherry Filling, see below

In a large mixing bowl stir together the flour, sugar, baking powder and lemon rind; add butter. Rub between fingers until thoroughly blended. Set aside 1½ cups of mixture for topping. Stir egg yolk into remaining mixture and again blend thoroughly with fingers until evenly distributed.

Press over bottom and 2 inches up side of ungreased 9 inch springform pan. Chill while preparing Cherry Filling.

Pour cooled Cherry Filling into chilled base and spread evenly.

Squeeze together small handfulls of the reserved 1½ cups butter-flour mixture and crumble over cherry mixture.

Bake in a preheated 350-degree oven until top is golden-brown—50 to 60 minutes. Let stand on wire rack until cold. With a small spatula loosen side of torte, remove side of springform pan. If desired, torte may be served with whipped cream.

Makes 8 servings.

SWEET CHERRY STREUSEL TORTE—It may be served plain or adorned with whipped cream.

CHERRY FILLING

2 cans or jars (each about 16 ounces) unpitted light or dark sweet cherries
1 tablespoon cornstarch
2 tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon cloves
1 tablespoon lemon juice

Drain and pit cherries, reserving syrup from one can. (Use syrup from other can some other way.)

In a 1½-quart saucepan stir together the cornstarch, sugar, cinnamon and cloves; gradually stir in reserved cherry syrup, then lemon juice, keeping smooth.

Stirring constantly, cook over moderate heat until thickened, clear and boiling. Remove from heat. Stir in cherries. Cool. Use as directed in Sweet Cherry Torte recipe.

Note: If canned light sweet cherries are used, a few drops of red food coloring may be added.

Nurses Meet Needs Of Scattered Population

By R. J. ANDERSON

TORONTO (AP) — "When someone comes in bleeding, you can't send him 275 miles to a hospital. We suture him, set a leg, generally look after him. We want to learn how to do more."

Kathleen Dycher told in an interview how nurses in the Canadian North meet the day-to-day medical needs of a scattered population, Indian and white, in areas remote from big city civilization with few doctors. The setting and conditions bear little resemblance to her native Isle of Man.

She is in the first group here from northwestern Ontario taking enriched training in diagnosis, physical assessment of patients and treatment procedures under a $314,000 Federal program for northern nurses in four provinces.

Medical men term the program a major step towards the training of physicians' assistants at a time when the supply of doctors cannot keep up with demand. It is expected the specially trained northern nurses in time will return south to apply their skills in the cities.

The immediate aim is to enable nurses in the North to handle patients in situations where consultation with a doctor is possible only by radio or sometimes not at all.

Fifty-six nurses with northern experience will be given the advanced training this year. The program is expected to be continued in 1973. Dr. Maurice Leclair, deputy minister of health in Ottawa, has termed it a "historical step."

The project, financed by the department of health, is operated through an agreement with six universities. Participating in Ontario are the University of Toronto and the University of Western Ontario, London; the universities of Sherbrooke and McGill in Quebec and the universities of Manitoba and Alberta.

FOR DEBATE AMONG CANDIDATES

NTSU Students Offer Auditorium

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Students at North Texas State University have told Democratic gubernatorial nomination candidates that if they are really serious about a public debate they (the students) will be happy to provide the forum—the University's main auditorium.

A group of student journalists announced Wednesday night that NTSU officials have approved the use of the audito rium for a public debate among candidates.

Steve Monk, a junior from Gail, explained that telegrams have been sent to Gov. Preston Smith, Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes, Rep. Frances Farenthold and Uvalde rancher Dolph Briscoe.

Monk said that "the candidates have been saying as long as we can remember that they want to debate ... so we thought we would take the initiative and offer them a platform from which to speak."

He stressed that Barnes once told him in an interview that he would "cancel any plans in order to debate the other candidates, and that Mrs. Farenthold also noted her willingness to participate in a debate.

In Amarillo Mrs. Farenthold reiterated she is ready to take on her opponents, but added she is not sure the debate will ever take place.

"After all," she said, "it was the lieutenant governor who offered to debate in the first place. Now Barnes is hiding behind Briscoe and Briscoe is hiding behind the governor, and I agree with the governor that he never was a part of this thing in the first place.

In other developments in the political campaign:

—Barnes told a caller Wednesday night during a question and answer program over KTBC in Austin that he is not really a rich man and that most of his net worth consists of the value of a farm he and his father bought in 1963.

He told a caller who asked him how he had managed to amass a fortune while earning only $4,800 a year as Speaker of the House and Lieutenant Governor that his net worth was around $75,000.

"If you took away the farm," he added, "my net worth would be only about $15,000."

—In Austin a candidate for the Democratic nomination for lieutenant governor, Bill Jones, said that his opponents lack original ideas and are copying his own.

"They may not admit it," Jones stated, "but they have adopted large section of my platform such as integrity in government, annual legislative sessions, career education, welfare reform and a host of others."

—Another candidate, Wayne Connally, told Navasota voters he was not asking them to vote for him personally but to vote for "a return to honesty and integrity in state government."

Meanwhile another of Connally's and Jones' opponents, Joe Christie, was telling a crowd in Tyler that he will support legislative measures to streamline Texas courts, and called the current system "expensive and cumbersome."

—In Texarkana Gov. Smith reminded a local civic club of what he has done for Northeast Texas, and in Abilene Briscoe charged that Barnes used state employes and equipment to send out campaign material.

—Republican politicians were active also. In Houston Dave Reagan reiterated he is the front runner for the nomination for governor and stated he is "the right type" of Republican who can defeat the Democrats in November.

He dismissed one of his opponents, Sen. Henry Grover, saying he has "ingrained negativism and favors only surface, cosmetic changes instead of reform."

The junior division matches begin at 8:30 a.m. Saturday and will be played straight through to the conclusion. ABA Owner Sounds Off

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — The owner of the Virginia Squires of the American Basketball Association says there is "a concerted plan on the part of the National Basketball Association to destroy the ABA."

An angry Earl Foreman made the statement Wednesday as he confirmed reports that his star rookie Julius Erving had signed with the NBA Atlanta Hawks.

Baseball Strike Nearing End

NEW YORK (AP) — The continuing melodrama of baseball's stalled season shifted scenes to Chicago today where the 24 major league owners were to consider another proposal designed to end the player strike as it moved into its 13th day.

"We have worked out a new offer and we are closer to a settlement," reported Marvin Miller, executive director of the striking Players' Association, following two separate meetings Wednesday with John Gaherin, negotiator for the owners.

Miller scotched early reports that the strike had been settled but indicated the two sides were edging closer toward an agreement.

Gaherin, on his way to Chicago for the meeting of owners, said the only matter still in contention was the question of paying the players for any games postponed by the strike but made up later in the season. "Everything else is in place," Gaherin said.

The players reportedly have softened their rigid stand that they be paid their full salaries if they play a full 162-game schedule.

Tigers Test Lobos Here Tomorrow

The Snyder Tigers will host Levelland's Lobos at 4 p.m. Friday on the Towle Park diamond in the last non-district baseball clash of the season.

The Tigers, sporting a 15-2 record, previously beat Levelland there 15-5 and again will be favored tomorrow.

Saturday, the Tigers begin district action at Brownfield with a 1 p.m. clash on the Cub diamond.

Coach Speedy Moffett listed probable starters for tomorrow's game, according to batting order, as follows: Charles Anderson lf, James Hood 2b, Tommy Washington ss, David Thompson cf, Butch Buchanan 1b, Albert Hernandez rf, Marvin McClanahan 3b, Louis Loyd c, and Jackie Murray p. Murray, a lefty, has a 5-0 record.

Brownfield has an 8-5 record and is loaded with returning lettermen. They didn't lose a single pitcher off last year's team. Included among the returners are Nall, a right-hander, and Blakenship, a lefty, who made All-District.

Top Athletes In 3-3A Track Meet

The District 3-AAA track meet to be held here Saturday could produce several new records in both the senior and junior divisions.

Prelims begin at 9:45 a.m. in the running events. Prelims and finals in the field events begin at 10 a.m. and running event finals are slated to begin at 3 p.m.

Host Coach Bill Hartsfield feels that Lubbock Estacado should be favored to win the senior division crown, but they will get plenty of competition from Lubbock Dunbar, Brownfield, Snyder and Lake View.

Travis and Brownfield will fight it out for the junior division crown.

"We've got more first place potential," admitted Coach Jake Harrell, "but Brownfield has great depth."

At any rate, Harrell believes several new records will be set in the junior division.

Several great races are shaping up. Snyder's Gary Patterson and Estacado's Hill will be shooting at new standards in the intermediate hurdles. Hill has a 38.6 clocking to his credit this year and Patterson's best time is 38.8. The record is 39.5 set by Rockie Woods of Lake View in 1967.

Patterson also will be gunning for a new record in the high hurdles. He has the best time in the district with a 14 flat clocking, but could get plenty of competition from T. Howard of Dunbar and Nathanial Hines of Estacado who have been timed in 14.1 and 14.4 respectively. Woods holds the record at 13.9.

Close races are expected between Dunbar and Estacado in the sprint and mile relays. Estacado's best time of 41.8 in the sprints is only one-tenth of a second off the standard set by the same school two years ago, and they will be pushed by Dunbar with a best effort of 42.3. In the mile relay, Estacado has a 3:22.2 clocking and Dunbar has been timed in 3:22.4. However, the record of 3:21.1 set by Snyder's Charlie Park, Leon Smith, Leslie Anderson and Paul Tidwell in 1965 will be hard to beat.

Two of the outstanding athletes in the meet will be Olda Lewis of Estacado and Van Garner of Brownfield. Lewis has been taped at 23-11½ in the long jump and Garner has cleared 6-7 in the high jump. Both are better than the existing records.

The 880, mile run and pole vault records also could fall by the wayside. Freddy Murphy of Snyder has been timed at 1:58.4 in the 880, which duplicates the record set by Gene Westmoreland of Lamesa (and a former Snyder coach) in 1962. He will get plenty of competition from Brownfield's Lepard, whose best effort this season is 1:59 flat.

Freddie Benitez of Snyder has the record of 4:40.8 in the mile run, but Sweetwater's Foreman has topped that this year with a 4:31.6.

The pole vault record of 13-2⅜ set by Snyder's Mark Gilstrap a couple of years ago has been bettered by two lads — Tracy Hall of Snyder and Smith of Brownfield. Both have cleared 13-3.

Best times or distances in other events recorded by district athletes this year are: 100 yard dash, 9.6, Yates, Estacado; 220 yard dash, 22.3, Blakemore, Estacado; 440 yard dash, 49.6, Smith, Dunbar; shot put, 53-7¾, White, Estacado; and, discus, 164-2, Avants, Lake View.

CAN HARDLY GET HIS DAY'S WORK DONE!

Crackdown Ordered On NY Gangland Warfare

By ARTHUR EVERETT
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — As the deadliest gangland warfare in a decade swept across New York City these past two weeks, Police Commissioner Patrick V. Murphy observed of the combatants:

"They play for high stakes. They live dangerously. They sometimes die by the gun they live by."

During the two weeks, seven have died in underworld-style, slain by the gun. Murphy today had hundreds of police engaged in an effort to end the shooting. From the commissioner, his men had this mandate:

"We cannot permit the streets of this city to become a battleground for gang warfare."

Three of the biggest names in organized crime figured in the current underworld drama.

There was Joseph Colombo, 48, youngest of all the Cosa Nostra chieftains, now comatose with brain damage from a bullet in the head last June.

There was Joey "Crazy Joe" Gallo, 43, a flashy mobster assassinated last Friday, a decade after he had lost a war for control of the crime family later taken over by Colombo.

And there was Carlo "Don Carlo" Gambino, whom authorities call the underworld's boss of bosses—a courtly figure who resembles the "Godfather" of the novel and movie. Police questioned him when the rumblings of war began in his empire.

A suave, gray-haired 69, Gambino came here from his native Palermo, Sicily, in 1921, a stowaway who made it ashore at Norfolk, Va., He is currently under deportation order.

His 1,000-member Cosa Nostra family is said by federal authorities to be deeply involved in loan sharking, waterfront crime, gambling and construction and labor rackets.

A Senate committee in 1963 heard testimony that Gambino and the late Vito Genovese teamed to bring about the 1957 rubout of Mafia chieftain Albert Anastasia, shot to death in a barber's chair in a midtown hotel.

The late Joe Valachi, the mobster-turned-informant claimed that the contract to kill Anastasia was let by Gambino to the Gallo brothers—Joey, Albert and Larry.

Anastasia's crime family was taken over by Gambino. And when Genovese died in prison in 1969, authorities said Gambino succeeded him as high commissioner of organized crime.

Colombo directed a gang of about 200, described as active in construction, linen supply and liquor rakcets, bookmaking and shylocking. The Justice Department listed him with Gambino as one of the Cosa Nostra's eight national commissioners.

Colombo was shot June 28, 1971, while leading an Italian-American rally in Columbus Circle. His assailant, a black posing as a professional photographer, was gunned down on the spot, presumably by Colombo henchmen.

Colombo's family attributed his shooting to the act of a psychopath, unrelated to underworld animosities. But rumors persisted that the assault had been arranged, and often speculation centered upon Crazy Joe Gallo.

Colombo was believed to have incurred the displeasure of Gambino and other gangland leaders by a flamboyant life style, which included the picketing of FBI headquarters in behalf of his Italian-American Civil Rights League.

If Gambino was the stereotype of the Godfather, Crazy Joe Gallo was straight out of an old Jimmy Cagney gangster movie.

Always on stage, Joey, a wiry 5-foot-6, was summoned to Washington in 1958 by a Senate committee investigating jukebox racketeering. Legend has it he paid a visit to the office of the late Robert F. Kennedy, then the committee's chief counsel, and observed out of the side of his mouth:

"Nice carpet ya got here, kid. Be good for a crap game."

Joey and his two brothers gained reputations as buttonmen, or hired guns, with the old Joseph Profaci family. But they grew dissatisfied over their role in the gang's operations—some said they felt they had received insufficient recognition for their barber shop call on Anastasia.

At any rate, the Gallos gathered supporters about them and launched a war for control of the Profaci mob. Before it ran its course, it claimed 12 lives. Profaci died of cancer in 1962. Colombo took over and patched together a truce with the Gallos.

Joey went to prison in 1963 for extortion. Cancer claimed Larry. Little was heard in the intervening years from the youngest brother, Albert "Kid Blast" Gallo, now the last of the three.

Joey Gallo got out of prison three months before Colombo was shot. Detectives said he had been under partial surveillance since the gunplay and word got around that Crazy Joe was a marked man.

At 5:30 a.m. last Friday, Gallo; his bride of three weeks, Sina; her 10-year-old daughter, Lisa, and relatives and friends were celebrating the mobster's 43rd birthday at Umberto's Clam House in Manhattan's Little Italy, a block from the city's main police headquarters.

A middle-aged gunman walked in and pumped three shots into Crazy Joe.

Tornado Alley Idea Challenged

KANSAS CITY (AP) — "Tornado Alley," once popularly thought to be a narrow strip confined to the heart of the Midwest, is actually more of a wide boulevard that sweeps northward to Minnesota and as far south as the Gulf of Mexico, weather records show.

Since 1963, when the National Severe Storms Forecast Center in Kansas City established the present tornado warning system, forecasters have produced figures that challenge Kansas' reputation as the "Cyclone State."

"The more we learn about tornadoes, the more we tend to move away from the 'Tornado Alley' concept," says Allen Pearson, director of the storms center. "There are all kinds of tornadoes and no real limit on where or when they might occur."

Both Texas and Oklahoma average more tornadoes per year than Kansas, the records show, and the most severe ones occur in four other areas—northern Mississippi, southern Illinois, eastern Arkansas and eastern Missouri.

Records for the 18 years through 1971 show that there were a total of 2,068 tornadoes in Texas, 1,131 in Oklahoma, 944 in Kansas, 637 in Nebraska, 561 in Missouri and 537 in Florida.

There were 292 tornado deaths in Mississippi during the period, 286 in Texas, 218 in Michigan, 147 in Indiana, 131 in Kansas and 127 in Oklahoma.

Forecasters say the real heart of tornado activity stretches from Oklahoma City, across southeast Kansas to Kansas City, Mo.; into western Arkansas and across Missouri to St. Louis.

A broader definition of the high-frequency area starts at San Antonio, Tex., goes as high as Fargo, N.D., and Minneapolis-St. Paul, then pushes through Michigan to the south and west of Chicago, including almost all of Indiana and Illinois. The wider area also includes east central Alabama and much of southwest Georgia, then doubles back along the Gulf Coast to Houston.

Jaycees To Get Treat

BIG SPRING, Tex. (AP) — Jaycees attending the national convention at Atlanta, Ga., in June will get a special treat on Texas Day—Fried rattlesnake with red beans.

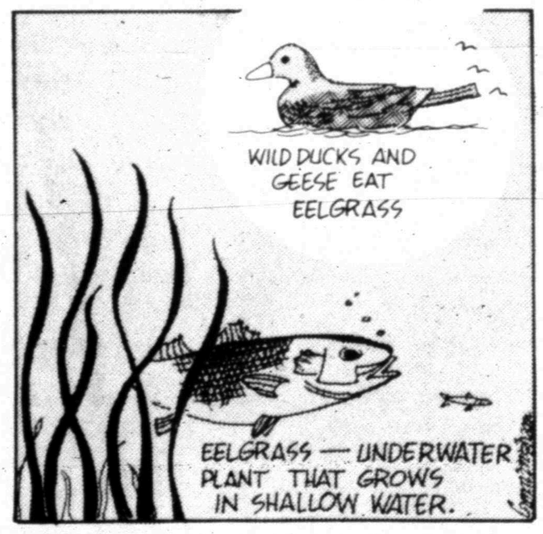

Don Worthan, chairman of the three-day annual snake hunt held here, said the snakes were not eaten after this year's event. Instead they were first taken to El Paso to be put on display, then skinned, filleted and frozen for their trip to the convention.

Big Spring Jaycees grossed $4,100 and collected almost 2,000 pounds of rattlesnake meat at this year's roundup, their tenth. Four hundred dollars were awarded in prize money and the venom milked from the netted snakes was sent to Colorado State University Hospital at Fort Collins, Colo., for cancer research.

Ira Harden of Colorado City, Tex., caught the longest rattlesnake, 64¾ inches and received $26.97 for his effort. He also got a further $16 plus a trophy for bagging the snake with the most rattles, 16.

Delbert Hutchings of Big Spring had the melancholy distinction of being the only casualty. He was bitten while trying to grab a snake which didn't want its venom milked, but he returned to the job after treatment at a local hospital.

Junior Editors Quiz on EELGRASS

QUESTION: What is eelgrass and where is it found?

* * *

ANSWER: There is considerable vegetation growing at the bottom of the oceans; for instance, the many varieties of seaweed. The plant life in the sea serves as food for fish and other marine life. Some types of seaweed are harvested by man for food and for medicinal purposes.

Eelgrass is an underwater plant which grows in fresh and salt water. The marine eelgrass grows in tidal bays on both coasts of the United States. It belongs to the Pondweed family. It roots on the ocean bottom and has slender floating stems with long tape-like leaves. The west coast eelgrass has broader leaves. It is a valuable food for wild ducks and geese. About 1930, the eelgrass along the Atlantic coast started to decline. The plants have resumed growth again in some areas.

The fresh water eelgrass is known as tape grass and wild celery. It belongs to the Frogbit family of plants and grows in the mud of shallow ponds or inland waterways. It sends up ribbon-like leaves from the roots and is often a nuisance to bathers since they frequently become entangled in it.

Taxpayers Ask IRS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q — I damaged my car in an auto accident. Can I deduct this loss as a casualty loss?

A — Yes. The loss from uninsured damage incurred in an auto accident to the taxpayer's own automobile, if it was not caused by the willful act or willful negligence of the taxpayer, may be deductible as a casualty loss to the extent that each loss exceeds $100. The limitation does not apply if your car is used in your trade or business. For details on how to compute a casualty loss deduction, write your IRS district office for a copy of IRS Publication 47, Tax Information on Disaster, Casualty losses, and thefts. It's available free.

Q — Can you recommend a good tax preparer for me to see about my complicated tax situation?

A — Call your local accounting, legal or tax practitioner association. They will be able to supply you with the names of qualified people.

Avoid any person who "guarantees" you a refund or who suggests that the refund be sent to his address. Also, you should not sign a blank return or one that has been prepared in pencil. Remember, you are legally responsible for every item on your return even though someone else helped you prepare it.

Q — How long should I keep the records that support my income tax deductions?

A — Records that support an item of income or a deduction must be kept as long as they are material in administering any Federal tax statute. Usually, this is three years from the date the return was due or filed, or two years from the date the tax was paid, whichever occurs later. Some records, such as those dealing with stock and property transactions should be retained even longer.

Q — I had a part-time job between school semesters last year and earned nearly $1,500. Do I still have to file a return?

A — If you are single and your adjusted gross income is under $1,700 or you are married with combined adjusted gross income of less than $2,300, generally you do not have to file a return. But if you had income tax withheld from your pay, you must file a return in order to get your refund.

Q — Are gambling losses deductible?

A — If you itemize, you may deduct your gambling losses incurred during the year, but only to the extent of your winnings. Gambling winnings must be reported as income.

Q — I heard that there are five tests that must be met for a taxpayer to claim a person as a dependent. What are they?

A — For a person to qualify as your dependent for 1971 the following tests must be met:

1) You must furnish over half of the dependent's total support during the calendar year;

2) Unless the person is less than 19 years of age at the end of the year or a fulltime student during five months of the year, you may not claim him as a dependent if his gross income is $675 or more;

3) The person must be a member of your household and live with you for the entire year or be closely related to you;

4) He must be a U.S. citizen or resident, or a resident of Canada, Mexico, Panama Canal zone or the Republic of Panama for some part of the year.

5) The person must not file a joint return unless one is not due but was filed merely to obtain a refund.

Q — Do I have to report interest from U.S. Savings Bonds on my federal income tax return?

A) Yes. Interest earned on your Savings Bonds is taxable and must be reported. However, if you are a cash basis taxpayer, you have the option of reporting the interest on Series "E" bonds each year as the redemption value increases or all at once when the bonds are redeemed, or mature, whichever is earlier. If you elect the yearly method of reporting, you must continue it for all future bond purchases.

Warren Returns To University

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — Earl Warren, retired U.S. chief justice and former California governor, has returned to the University of California's Berkeley campus as regents' lecturer in the department of rhetoric.

Warren, a 1912 graduate, is conducting six informal discussion sessions with groups of about 20 graduate and undergraduate students planning careers in law. The first of the hour-long sessions was held Wednesday and the last is scheduled for next Thursday.

While on campus, the 81-year-old Warren is to receive the Clark Kerr Award for contributions to higher education and membership in Phi Beta Kappa, national fraternity for scholastic achievement.

Nova Scotia was first colonized by the French, who called it Acadie.

DPS Is Seeking New Applicants

The Texas Department of Public Safety is seeking applicants to fill the ranks of its uniform services. A training school for cadet patrolmen will begin June 27. This announcement was made by Major E.K. Browning, Jr., Regional Commander of the Texas Department of Public Safety for this area.

Applicants must be males between the ages of 20 and 35; a height of not less than 68 inches nor more than 76 inches; a weight of not less than two pounds nor more than three and one-half pounds per inch of height; visual acuity no less than 20-40 correctable to 20-20; have at least fifteen college hours; in excellent physical condition; good moral character; and a citizen of the United States.

The Texas Department of Public Safety is an Equal Opportunity Employer. Interested young men are urged to contact any Texas Department of Public Safety office or patrolman for an application. After completing the application take it to the nearest regional, district, or sub-district Texas Department of Public Safety office for verification and certification. If all is in order then the written test will be administered which will qualify or disqualify the applicant for further consideration. Successful applicants will be given an agility test, a character investigation and a physical examination. Those accepted for employment will be notified prior to the beginning date of the next training school.

Cadets patrolmen will be assigned to the Texas Department of Public Safety Law Enforcement Academy in Austin for a 17-week training period. The cadet will receive some 800 hours of intensive classroom work and supervised study. The training is designed to equip the cadet to handle any of the various situations he may encounter as a patrolman. The training of a patrolman is a test of an individual's intellectual, emotional and physical stamina. It is also an educational process which prepares him for a rewarding career in law enforcement.

In addition to classroom work the cadet is taught self-protection by means of judo, boxing, wrestling, and other police-protection methods.

The salary during training is $560 per month. Room and board while at the academy will cost the cadet approximately $55 per month.

Upon being commissioned a patrolman, the salary is automatically raised to $696 per month. Patrolmen receive additional longevity pay for each five years of service to a maximum of 25 years. Uniforms, vehicles, weapons, ammunition and necessary equipment are furnished. They are also granted a monthly uniform cleaning allowance, and receive travel expenses when away from their assigned station. Group life and hospitalization insurance is provided for the employee. The patrolmen become members of the Texas Employees Retirement System and the Social Security System. Vacation, holidays, and sick leave are also provided for the patrolmen.

Assignments will be made to one of the four uniform services—Texas Highway Patrol, License and Weight Service, Motor Vehicle Inspection Service, or the Driver License Service. These assignments are made according to the individual's preference, his aptitude, available vacancies, and the Department's needs. Requests for a specific home station will be given every consideration.

After two years of experience each patrolman is eligible for promotion to Sergeant in the uniform services and also eligible for transfer into the Narcotic and Intelligence Sections.

All interested young men who feel they meet these requirements are urged to contact the nearest Texas Department of Public Safety office or patrolman for an application and details.

Johnson's Doctors Optimistic

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Although former President Lyndon B. Johnson apparently has suffered permanent damage to his heart, it doesn't necessarily mean severe consequences, one of his doctors says.

"My best judgment at this time is that there will be some permanent damage," Dr. J. Willis Hurst of Atlanta, Johnson's personal heart specialist, said here Wednesday.

He said the front part of Johnson's heart was affected by the heart attack he suffered.

The damaged area heals with scar tissue, Hurst added. "So when you say permanent damage, it doesn't perhaps carry with it quite the same connotation that it does to use as physicians."

For example, he said, "if you had a scar on your arm, it doesn't necessarily mean your arm won't function well."

"So the mere fact that there may be scar (damage) does not in itself dictate the degree of function."

Hurst said this will be assessed "as he begins to do more."

Johnson was admitted to Brooke Army General Hospital here Wednesday after treatment at the University of Virginia Hospital following a major heart attack Friday.

Hurst praised the Charlottesville, Va., hospital and told newsmen that Johnson "would want me to tell you how appreciative he is of all the wonderful Virginia hospitality there, and the great care that the nurses and physicians gave him."

He said the hospital has a "magnificent coronary care unit."

But Johnson wanted to be close to home, Hurst said, and thus was transferred here.

Mrs. Johnson also praised the hospital.

Cargile, treasurer; Mel Gilbert, Mrs. Glenn Barron and Wacil McNair, publicity co-chairman; Mrs. Virgil Mott, prospect chairman; Dr. and Mrs. Robert Clinton and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Feather, hospitality chairmen.

New board members are Anniece Johnson, Mary Lou Scott, Monette O'Day, Maribeth Vetal, Bill Lyon, Charles Shaw, Joe Jones, Linda Miller, Sue Griffin, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Taylor and Lynn Bethel.

Following the final performance of the season by Yarbrough and Cowan, a reception was held for the artists, officers and board members of the past season and for the 1972-73 year at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Clinton. Special guests were parents of the artists, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Yarbrough of Oklahoma City and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cowan of Santa Fe, N.M. Both couples met here to attend the performance, the first time in three years they had been provided such an opportunity.

The membership drive for 1972-73 ended at the concert. However, because of the Easter holidays, those who were not contacted or did not have an opportunity to join the association may mail checks to Mrs. J.O. Morrison, 2302 Sunset, or contact any of the officers. The season tickets are priced at $9 each for adults, 15 for students, and $23 for an entire family, regardless of the number.

At present, three musical programs have been booked for next season. They include the New York Camerat (classics to contemporary), Hal Shane (classics to modern and folk songs), and the Ronnie Kole Trio (Broadway Show tunes, folk songs and Jazz).

Milk-Feed Price Ratio Drops

WASHINGTON (AP) — The national milk-feed price ratio, a measure of how well dairy producers are doing financially, dropped again last month to 1.84 pounds, says the Agriculture Department.

That is the amount of feed equal in value to one pound of milk sold by producers to plants. The March ratio was down three points from 1.84 in February and 12 points lower than the record high of 1.96 last October, according to USDA records.

Two factors have been at work to cause the gradual downtrend. Average prices of all milk sold by producers were down in March to an average of $6.02 per hundredweight, and the cost of feed was up two cents to an average of $3.33 per hundredweight.

After February, milk averaged $6.10 and feed was $3.31, the report said.

Nitrate Found In Area Water

ABILENE, Tex. (AP) — Well waters in the Merkel, Trent and Noodle areas west of Abilene have been found to contain high concentrations of a chemical that can cause fatal blood disorders in infants and young livestock.

Public Health officers said that 90 samples taken by chemists indicate that nitrate concentrations in water in wells in the area ranged from slightly over the maximum recommended for human consumption to up to nine times that amount.

Officers said they have no clues to the cause of the problem. They recommended that persons living in the area have their wells tested for nitrate.

Tom Rogers, public health engineer with the Abilene-Taylor County health unit, said the blood problem traced to nitrate is known medically as methemoglobinemia.

"It is basically confined to infants less than three months of age and results from a chemical conversion of the nitrate in the blood which alters the pigment so that it can no longer carry oxygen, and suffocation may result," Rogers said.

He added that the nitrate was not necessarily dangerous for adults, except in very high concentrations, but it was dangerous to young livestock.

Color Vision Deficiency Found In Children

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Perhaps 11 per cent of school children aged 3 to 10 may have a certain mild color vision deficiency, researchers reported today.

Because of the unrecognized vision problem, the researchers said, the child might be classed as a poor performer, a slow learner or as having a reading problem. This could produce emotional disturbances, they added.

As a result of a study of school children in Houston, Texas an evaluation is under way at Bethesda, Md., to see if a link can be established between this vision difficulty and learning problems.

The study was reported to the Federation of American Societies for Experimental Biology by Dr. Humphrey F. Sassoon and Marg, older of the Texas Research Institute of Mental Sciences, Houston.

Sassoon is now at the Federation's Life Sciences Research Office in Bethesda.

The researchers said the deficiency concerns "blue vision," one of three wave bands of light that people see, along with green and red.

Commonly used tests to determine color blindness usually detect a condition severe enough to keep an adult from certain jobs, but are not very good for detecting blue vision defects, the researchers said.

The tests, therefore, are used almost entirely to detect severe color blindness and are seldom given to children.

"A child who has even a mild deficiency of blue vision may have difficulty in seeing the faint blue lines ruled as guides on his writing paper," the report said. "He may be slow at recognizing 'sight saving' yellow chalk marks on a blue-green board."

"When given a school test that has been duplicated in the usual faint violet color, he may still be struggling to read it when classmates, whom he knows to be his equals or inferiors, have finished and time is up," the report said.

"Eventually, however high his intelligence, he may be categorized as a poor performer, a slow learner, perhaps with 'dyslexia (a reading difficulty).' Such a child whose vision problem is not understood, could easily become emotionally disturbed."

All this emerged by chance when Sassoon and colleagues screened a Houston school for another purpose. More than half of the 3-year-olds made errors typical of mild blue-vision deficiency. Eleven per cent of the 10-year-olds made similar errors.

The deficiency may be permanent since a study of adults, made as a check, found that 11 per cent had a mild blue-vision deficiency.

Doris Day's Son In Intensive Care

HEMET, Calif. (AP) — Terry Melcher, the film producer son of actress Doris Day, is in guarded condition in the intensive care unit of a local hospital after suffering injuries in a weekend motorcycle accident.

A hospital spokesman said Tuesday Melcher suffered two broken legs and extensive bruises when he crashed head-on into a car on the curve of a windy, uphill mountain road Saturday.

Melcher, 30, owns a ranch in the vicinity of the accident 60 miles southeast of Los Angeles.

Youth Charged In 2 Murders

By GARY GARRISON
Associated Press Writer

SAN BENITO, Tex. (AP) — A handsome Mexican-American youth who appears to be younger than his years was charged with murder Wednesday in the strangulation slaying of two San Benito high school girls.

Antonio Rios Zepeda Jr., 19, a San Benito youth who has recently been working in Ohio as a migrant laborer, was arraigned on two charges of murder by Justice of the Peace Romeo Garza. The arraignment took place in the San Benito police station as a crowd of relatives and friends of the victims, many of them visibly upset and filled with emotion, gathered outside.

Zepeda is accused of killing by strangulation Patricia Segura and Maria Norma Delgado, both 15-year-old freshmen at San Benito High School. The girls, who were last seen alive when they left the high school at noon Tuesday, were found floating in irrigation canals.

Garza ordered Zepeda held in the Cameron County jail at Brownsville without bond. Apparently mindful of the growing, angry crowd outside, Garza told the youth as he denied bond "there are several reasons for doing this and I think you know what they are."

Zepeda, dressed in a white T-shirt and blue checkered trousers, kept his head down and spoke in an almost whisper during the arraignment.

Saying he understood what Garza had read in explaining his constitutional rights, Zepeda quietly asked Garza to appoint a lawyer for him. "I can't afford one," he whispered.

The youth's father, dressed in a straw hat, white shirt and brown trousers, stood beside his son during the arraignment. He discussed the court-appointed lawyer with Garza in Spanish.

The elder Zepeda told newsmen he and his son were working in Ohio and returned to the Lower Rio Grande Valley only last weekend when someone burglarized their permanent home here. They had planned to return to Ohio late Wednesday or early Thursday.

San Benito Police Sgt. Edelmiro Lucio said the younger Zepeda is married, but said he does not know where his wife lives.

Texas Ranger Jack Dean of McAllen, who headed most of the investigation, agreed to allow Zepeda a chance to talk with his father before he was taken to the county jail.
