Steel Wages Hiked As Nation's Labor Troubles Spread

Increases Are Announced By Major Firms

Four Companies Raise Pay In Face Of CIO's "Big Push"; Carnegie-Illinois Steel Opens Wage Conference

More Join Strikes

New England Hosiery Workers, Messenger Boys, Moving Van Workers, Nurses And Others Stage Strikes

(By The Associated Press)

WAGE increases for thousands of steel workers shared attention along the nation's shifting labor front yesterday with the Committee for Industrial Organization's new activity in the industry.

Four steel companies, the Republic Steel corporation, the Youngstown Sheet and Tube co., the Inland Steel co. and the Bethlehem Steel co., announced a hike of ten cents an hour in the pay common labor and the equitable adjustment of all other rates. Another, the National Steel corp., granted many of its employes a $5 daily minimum wage and termed it a substantial increase.

In Effect March 16

All five decided to put the new scale into effect March 16 together with time and a half remuneration for all time over 40 hours a week.

At the same time, President B. F. Fairless of the Carnegie-Illinois Steel corp. opened wage and hour conferences at Pittsburgh with Philip Murray, chairman of the steel workers organizing committee and lieutenant of John L. Lewis, director-in-chief to the current drive to bring steel's 550,000 workers under the C.I.O. banner.

Posted After Announcement

The new pay schedules for steel mill hands scattered over the eastern half of the nation were posted several days after Lewis had disclosed he was girding for "a big push" in the industry.

Simultaneously, hundreds of hosiery workers joined the strike ranks.

Messenger boys, nurses, moving van drivers—even a group of blind handiworkers—quit their duties, too, as labor disputes kept approximately 30,000 idle in shops, stores, factories and foundries, forming a broad cross-section of American industry.

The American Federation of Hosiery Workers claimed it had pulled more than 2,000 persons off their jobs and closed six mills in Berks county, Pennsylvania, in a move for union recognition.

Unionists estimated more than 1,700 went on strike at six A. F. Walton shoe factories in Chelsea

FDR Signs Bill To Extend Trade Act

WASHINGTON, March 1. (AP) — President Roosevelt signed today legislation extending for three years from next June 12 his authority to negotiate reciprocal trade agreements with foreign nations.

Under the new law, such agreements do not require senate ratification.

The original act, which expires on June 12, was put forward by the administration in 1934 "as a means of assisting in restoring the American standard of living" through increased foreign trade.

It, like the new law, empowers the president to raise or lower tariffs a maximum of 50 per cent.

Pacts with 16 nations already have been signed.

Four-Year Term Bill Is Favored

Constitutional Amendment Would Be Voted On; More Efficient Government Seen

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, March 1.—A house committee favorably reported tonight, 13 to 4 a constitutional amendment providing four-year terms for precinct, county and district officials.

The amendment, by Rep. H. L. McKee of Port Arthur, would be submitted next August. If adopted, one half of the present legislature, choesn by lot, would run in 1938 and the other half in 1940.

Critics said the plan would perpetuate present office holders in their positions and, moreover, if good for precinct, county and district officials, also should apply to state offices.

Proponents argued the amendment would make government more efficient, doing away with political upheavals every two years.

Finis Written In Argentine Murder

EUGENIO PEREYRA IRAOLO

Hobo Is Tripped Into Confession In Baby Iraolo's Slaying

(By The Associated Press)

MAR DEL PLATA, March 1.—Argentina's "Lindbergh case" was solved tonight, police said, when a dull-eyed hobo confessed kidnaping and killing Baby Eugenio Pereyra Iraolo.

Police announced Jose Gancedo had admitted the crime after five days of questioning.

A detective, garbed as a fellow hobo, or "linyero," posed as a prisoner. He obtained the confession, writing an end to one of the greatest manhunts in the history of this country.

No Former "Record"

The two-year-old child, son of a wealthy Argentine family, disappeared from the garden of the family's vast estancia Wednesday night. His body, unclothed and with arms crossed on the breast, was found in a pig pen on the estate, a mile and a half from the garden, Saturday. There was evidence he had been strangled.

Police said that the prisoner was a Spanish immigrant who had been in Argentina many years. They said his only previous police record was suspicion of theft.

If found mentally deficient, he is likely to go to the asylum. Otherwise he would be liable to life imprisonment since Argentina has no death penalty.

Gancedo was arrested in the corn field where Eugenio's clothing was found.

Gancedo, in a formal confession made in jail before Judge Horacio Areco and Police Inspector Manuel Salomone, was asserted by police to have stated he killed the child Eugenio unwittingly.

Police said they believed this was done when the prisoner apparently gagged the child with the latter's own clothing to prevent him from crying out.

The prisoner, they said, declared "an unexplainable impulse" caused him to pick up the boy as he was playing with his brothers and carry him to a cornfield a mile and one half distant.

"Excellent" Rating Is Given Unit At College Monday By Inspecting Officer After First Review Of Corps

Rating of "excellent" has been won by the Reserve Officers Training corps unit of Texas Technological college during its first year of operation, Col. E. A. Speeches were given at the luncheon by Capt. Frank Pettit, commander of the unit; Dr. Bradford Knapp, Tech president; Chaplain Harry M. Kellum of the CCC; and Chas. A. Guy, editor of Avalanche-Journal publications, in addition to Colonel Keyes.

Lubbock Divinity Student At Los Angeles Monday Victim

Unexpected death early Monday claimed Kenneth Yaggy, 24, of Lubbock, a student in the Bible school of Angeles Temple at Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Yaggy, the parents of 2305 Ninth street, were informed their son was not ill a few minutes prior to his death, at 8 o'clock, of a heart attack.

Rev. Floyd Dawson, pastor of Four-Square Gospel church here, said young Yaggy had been at Los Angeles since September and that he was a former student of Kansas university. The minister and Yaggy, who was studying for a ministerial career, had roomed together at Los Angeles in January, when Mr. Dawson attended a national church convention there.

The minister said funeral probably would be read at his church Sunday. The body is expected to be brought here Saturday afternoon.

Other survivors are a brother, Kenneth Yaggy, a high school student at Lubbock.

Allred Backed Up By House; Oil Tax Hiked

Surprise Message On Monday Prevents Consideration Of Pension Liberalization Until Tax Measures Pass

Engross Oil Bill

Oil Production Tax Would Be Raised To Six Cents Or Six Per Cent Of Value Under Bill Engrossed, 80-50

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, March 1. — The state house of representatives in quick time today backed up an appeal of Governor James V. Allred to begin consideration of revenue raising measures and not to plac. liberalization of the old age assistance law ahead of everything else.

Immediately after the governor's surprise message personally delivered, the house killed a resolution 90 to 33, which would have stopped enactment of any tax measure other than for old age pensions until a liberalization bill had been passed and signed by the governor.

Engrosses Oil Tax Bill

The house of representatives later engrossed a bill to raise the oil production tax to six cents a barrel or six per cent of value, whichever was greater. The present levy is 2 3-4 cents or 2 3-4 per cent.

The vote was 80 to 50 with two pairs. Advocates were unable to muster the four-fifths majority necessary to place the bill on final passage immediately but hoped to send it to the senate before the end the week.

The house almost voted to raise the levy to 10 cents or 10 per cent. The 10-cent proposal failed of engrossment on a 66-66 tie vote. Representatives then reconsidered so

Oil Proration Law Extended

Governor Signs Bill Making Terms Live Two Years From September; Other Measures Officially Become Law

By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, March 1.—A bill extending Texas' oil proration law two years beyond next September received the approval today of Governor James V. Allred.

The measure recently passed both houses of the legislature with small opposition although efforts at amendment, aimed at certain features of the oil confiscation law, were made in the senate.

It authorizes the state railroad commission to restrict production of oil to market demand and prohibits waste.

The governor also signed a bill declaring fraternal benefit societies charitable institutions and exempting them from taxes except on real estate and office equipment when it is used for other than lodge purposes.

Other bills signed included:

Appropriating $38,333 to defray costs assessed Texas in interstate litigation over distribution of Rio Grande waters.

Appropriating $125,000 for a power plant at the Huntsville state penitentiary.

Prohibiting taking fish for sale from waters of Lake Corpus Christi within certain boundaries.

Senate Committee Puts O. K. On Proposed Tax Amendment

AUSTIN, March 1. (AP)—A proposed constitutional amendment exempting textile mills, canning plants and wool-scouring plants from state ad valorem taxes seven years today received approval of a senate committee.

Senator Houghton Brownlee of Austin, the author, said exemption from taxes would attract industries to state.

"Texas" produced wool has to be shipped all the way to Boston for scouring," he said. "With scouring plants in the state, tremendous shipping costs would be eliminated."

The proposal set Aug. 23 for an election.

Christian Sentiment Factor To Be Considered In Court Plan, Evangelist Declares

(By The Associated Press)

BROWNSVILLE, March 1—Gerald B. Winrod, editor of an interdenominational publication known as the "Defender," published in Wichita, Kan., said here tonight in comment on remarks made by Senator Robinson in a Supreme court debate today that copies of the letter mentioned by the senator were mailed to only a select group of friends.

"It is not strange that 500,000 Christians should exercise their constitutional right of sending petitions to their representatives in a historical crisis of this kind," Mr. Winrod, an evangelist, said.

"I do not know what the senator (Robinson) means by his reference to the Ku Klux Klan," he said. "As for me I have never been associated with them or any other secret organization.

"Washington officials are simply witnessing the spontaneous expression of the few hundred thousand Christian Americans who are patriotic lovers of democratic government."

Mr. Winrod added further:

"The Christians of the United States are stirred. I can easily increase the number of petitions to a few million if necessary. Every one of the few hundred thousand petitions delivered to members of the congress during the last ten days came from a sincere heart.

"Mr. Robinson, a man for whom I have utmost respect, must realize the Christian sentiment is a factor to be seriously considered in this country. Christians are stirred because they know that under any form of dictatorship, either Fascist or Communist, the religious liberties of the people are sooner or later invaded.

"They know also that the United States Supreme court stands between them and dictatorship."

Mr. Winrod brought his wife to Brownsville several weeks ago for her health.

Roosevelt To Give Report On Old NRA

Good And Bad Points Of Old Act To Be Pointed Out In Message To Congress; 'Tried To Do Too Much' Criticism

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 1.—President Roosevelt has decided to send to congress tomorrow a report declaring that the old NRA had good and bad points.

The report was prepared by a committee appointed by Mr. Roosevelt since the industrial recovery act was invalidated by the Supreme court.

Contents Not Disclosed

The president did not disclose its contents. Other sources indicated the document would approve the general objective of NRA, would describe its price-fixing as a failure, and would agree with the president that the difficulties of the experiment were caused by the fact that one agency "tried to do too much."

The White House has ordered another study, dealing with wages and hours, with a view to proposing new legislation to preserve NRA principles.

Recommends Standards

Meantime the president recommended to congress in a special message today that minimum wage and anti-child labor standards be made conditions for receiving benefit payments under a new sugar quota law.

Whether the chief executive will touch upon these matters in his Democratic "victory" dinner speech Thursday night or his "fireside" talk on the state of the union March 9 remains to be seen.

Prison Official Is Seriously Wounded

HUNTSVILLE, March 1. (AP) — Theodore Arnold, 40, in charge of the upper yard buildings at the state prison here, was seriously slashed today by Gerald Johnson, under sentences totaling 396 years.

The convict attacked Arnold with a dirk made from a file as Arnold attempted to put Johnson in a cell along death row. Warden W. W. Waid said Johnson, who has a death sentence from Waco pending in the court of criminal appeals, was ordered back to death row after he attempted to assault a medical supervisor who sought to examine him when he complained of illness earlier in the day.

Arnold was slashed on the arm and hip several times. He was rescued by two convict row tenders who succeeded in throwing Johnson to the floor and disarming him.

Boll Worm Eradication Fund Okayed By Senate Committee

AUSTIN, March 1. (AP)—The senate finance committee today approved an emergency appropriation of $11,000 for pink boll worm eradication by the department of agriculture.

Senator Jim Neal of Mirando City told committee members untold harm would occur to cotton production in Texas if the federal government should quarantine the product and federal authorities had warned him the work must continue.

The committee failed to act on an appropriation for citrus fruit fly eradication work until Rep. Homer Leonard of McAllen, author of the bill, could appear to explain its necessity.

Another Ship Strikes Mine

Third Ship In 5 Days Menaced By Mines In Shipping Lanes Off Spanish Coast; Parley To Halt War Continues

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, March 1. — Floating mines crippled another foreign ship off Spain today while official British pronouncements hinted at certain renewal of attempts to bring Spanish peace.

The stricken ship—third to be menaced by mines in the shiplanes off Spain's east coast within five days—was the French freighter Marie Therese le Borgne.

She made port at Palamos, Spain, but shipping circles showed alarm. The place where she hit the mine was near the spot where the British merchantman Llandovery Castle was damaged similarly last week.

New Mediation Expected

Foreign Minister Anthony Eden declared to commons today that the government had proposals for halting the war "constantly in mind."

Authoritative sources said they believed Eden was considering new mediation attempts if and when the European neutrality committee's arms-and-men embargo shuts off foreign interference in Spain.

International diplomats acknowledged that the control plan, by which the neutrality committee hopes to localize the Spanish struggle, could not be fully operative by next Saturday midnight, the date originally set.

Uncle Sam's Mails Play Cupid In Uniting Texas Farmer And Oklahoma Widow In Marriage

HUGO, Okla., March 1. (AP)—J. R. Stidham, 56-year-old Hall county, Texas, farmer, and Mrs. N. O. Glover, 52, a widow, were married here today after a mail courtship.

It started last Dec. 1, when Stidham wrote a letter to a semi-weekly farm newspaper asking correspondence. The letter was published.

Mrs. Glover, who operates a 260-acre farm, six miles northwest of Boswell, Okla., read it and they exchanged letters.

They saw each other for the first time Friady when Stidham arrived here from Texas. They were married by Justice of the Peace L. W. Oakes.

Supreme Court Issue In Race

Plan Suggested So Candidates To Succeed James Buchanan And Questions On Roosevelt Plan Would Be On Ballot

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, March 1. — Effort to make a sharp issue of President Roosevelt's plan to reorganize the Supreme court in the race to choose a successor to Congressman James P. Buchanan appeared today in a telegram by Everett Looney, state Democratic executive committeeman, to Myron G. Blalock of Marshall, chairman.

Looney urged Blalock to call a meeting of the committee to work out a method whereby voters of the 10th congressional district which includes Austin, could vote directly on the presidential proposal. He suggested the question appear on the ballot with names of candidates.

Feminine Persuasiveness Successful And Sit Down Tactics Of Lion Ended

(By The Associated Press)

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., March 1.—Peaches, the five-foot lion whose sit-down tactics under a house in the heart of Albuquerque had Glenn A. Valentine bafled for two weeks, succumbed to the strategy of a pretty housewife today.

When Valentine, a machinist, returned home to luncheon today he found the yearling cougar snarling but safe in a wooden crate. Mrs. Valentine turned the trick with a slab of liver and an ironing board.

"I'm ruined," said Valentine, "my hunting career has been blighted—look."

He displayed a large salt shaker.

"The boys at the shop presented it to me. Told me to put salt on Peaches' tail.

"And here I come home and find the wife's caught him."

Valentine brought Peaches back from a hunting trip in southern New Mexico. Two weeks ago the surly cub broke

Imposing Feminine Figures Singled Out For Satire Of Newspaper Girls

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 1.—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt's many activities bore the brunt of satire tonight at the annual stunt party of capital newswomen.

She laughed with the rest at a scene depicting her on a "sit-down" strike, with disappointed cause-leaders banging in vain on the White House door.

One door-pounder shouted:

"I represent the Amalgamated Society of Organizations accustomed to Being Sponsored by First Ladies.

"Charities, battleships, peace movements, balls and thrift shops; hospital benefits, horse shows and amateur dramatics; baby contests, cat and dog fights—why she even models dresses for fashion shows for farmers' wives."

Robinson And Burke Tangle Over Proposal

Unfair Propaganda Is Charged By Both Sides In Controversy Over President's Plan To Reorganize Tribunal

Signs Sumners Act

President Puts His Signature To Measure Allowing Judges To Retire Voluntarily At Age Of 70 Years

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 1.—Charges of unfair propaganda about the Roosevelt court reorganization legislation burst from both sides of the great controversy today.

His face reddening and his voice rising to a roar, Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the Democratic floor leader, declared in the senate chamber that there is an organized effort to defeat the president's proposal through charges that Mr. Roosevelt is seeking to become a dictator. He called this "untruthful and unfair."

Proposed Address Cited

Senator Burke (D.-Neb.), an opponent of the White House proposals, responded with a question whether the practice to which Robinson referred was "any more dangerous" than a radio address by Relief Administrator Harry Hopkins, "appealing," the Nebraskan said, "to thousands upon thousands of WPA workers over the country."

Late in the day President Roosevelt signed the Sumners act, to permit the refirement of supreme court justices at full pay for life upon reaching the age of 70. Congressional leaders on both sides of the controversy were hopeful it might operate to lessen the tension of dispute.

The supreme court, to which the president hopes to appoint six new justices, convened today after a two week's recess, but it did not hand down any decisions related to the present fight. Observers generally

RADIO DEBATE CONTINUES

WASHINGTON, March 1. (AP)—Harry L. Hopkins, WPA administrator and a close advisor of President Roosevelt, defended the chief executive's court reorganization plan tonight with an assertion that "unless the complexion of the Supreme court can be changed" social legislation will be blocked by "two or three elderly judges."

Hardly had he concluded a radio speech, carrying on the unremitting debate over the president's proposals, than Senator Clark (D-Mo.) a leading opponent, went to the microphones with a speech denying the contention that the people had given a mandate for the president's program. He denounced the program as an effort to "stack" the Supreme court.

Mothers-In-Law Will Be Honored

AUSTIN, March 1. (AP)—Governor James V. Allred today proclaimed March 5 as Mother-in-law day in Texas and called upon all citizens to pay tribute to "these unselfish, kindly and patriotic women of Texas."

The proclamation was inconnection with plans of the Amarillo Mother-in-law club to conduct its annual ceremony.

"The true role of the mother-in-law in American family life has been interpreted by the Amarillo Mother-In-Law club in a manner that has set a new appreciation upon her for the sympathy, long-suffering and expensive help that she has given to the newly wed of every generation," the proclamation said.

TRAVEL TO MEXICO

SUBSTANTIATION of the recent statement of tourists that Americans are surging into Mexico over the new Pan-American highway was offered lately by T. H. Lockett, American commercial attache at Mexico City.

During 1936, according to his report, a total of more than 99,000 tourists from the United States visited Mexico, compared to 73,000 in 1935. During the first seven months of 1936 prior to completion of the highway) the average monthly number of tourists entering the country was 6,952, after the highway was opened the number jumped to 10,100 a month.

Some 50,000 of the 1936 visitors stayed in Mexico an average of ten days, spending approximately $200 per capita, Mr. Lockett reported. In 1935 only 30,000 Americans visited Mexico City.

Aggregate expenditures of the tourists while they were in Mexico during 1936 totaled $14,838,142.

HERE'S BETTER CONTROL of COLDS

Just follow this practical home-guide

To help PREVENT many colds. At the first sneeze or sniffle or irritation in the nose—quick!—put a few drops of Vicks Va-tro-nol up each nostril. This specialized medication is expressly designed for the nose and upper throat, where most colds start. Used in time, Va-tro-nol helps to prevent many colds—and to throw off head colds in their early stages.

To RELIEVE a cold sooner. Massage Vicks VapoRub briskly on the back (between and below the shoulder-blades) as well as on the throat and chest, for 3 full minutes. Then spread a thick layer on the chest. VapoRub's famous poultice-vapor action continues hour after hour—loosening phlegm, easing coughing, relieving irritation, and helping to break up local congestion.

Sickness from Colds Cut in Half!

The two simple steps outlined above, together with a few sensible health rules to build up and maintain resistance, are the basis of Vicks Plan for Better Control of Colds. In the biggest colds-clinic ever held—with 17,353 people as subjects—Vicks Plan cut sickness from colds more than half!

You'll find full directions for following Vicks Plan in your packages of Vicks Va-tro-nol and Vicks VapoRub

RECIPES TO END CONSTIPATION

Every woman can protect her family from common constipation by careful menu planning. Often the cause of illness from constipation is lack of "bulk" in the diet.

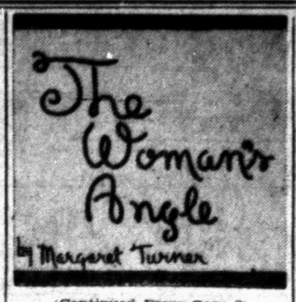

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN supplies this "bulk" in generous quantity.

You can use ALL-BRAN in so many delightful ways. As a ready-to-eat cereal with milk or cream, fruits or honey added. Or make delicious bran muffins and breads—put it into griddle cakes, salads or soups, or over other cereals.

Just be sure each member of your family gets two tablespoonfuls every day—and forget the illness caused by constipation. Serve three times daily, in severe cases.

You can also forget pills and drugs that nobody likes to take—and that so often fail unless the dose is constantly increased.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN also supplies vitamin B to help tone the intestines, and iron for the blood. Sold by all grocers. Made and guaranteed by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

AN executive who is a great believer in efficiency hung up a sign in his office one day last week. It said, "Do It Now." Within 24 hours the cashier had bolted with the contents of the safe, his stenographer had eloped with his eldest son, the office boy threw the ink bottle into the electric fan, and the whole office force struck for a six-hour day.

DESIRE TO BELONG

THE strongest and most compelling of social instincts is the desire to belong to something. It expresses itself in a multitude of luncheon clubs, lodges, and college fraternities, and in the competition to wear clothes like other people and to drive the latest model of automobile.

It is probably stronger in this country than in any other place in the world, because class lines have never been drawn here closely. The daughter of a laborer sees no reason why she should not wear a dress like the other girls at school, and she will break her own and her mother's heart until she gets one.

The standards to which we seek to model our appearance and behavior have been set by various institutions, but the most powerful influences, whether you care to believe it or not, are Hollywood and the national advertisers.

U. S. Senator Reynolds says: "Luckies are considerate of my throat"

"Two Southern traditions are oratory—and good tobacco. Lucky Strike shows me how to indulge in both. For this light smoke not only pleases my taste but leaves my throat in condition. Last fall in North Carolina—when I made over 100 speeches—I visited the Lucky Strike factory. I believe I discovered, in the Lucky Strike 'Toasting' process, the secret of what makes this cigarette so considerate of my throat. I have been more than ever an advocate of a light smoke since seeing the extra care and expense devoted to making Luckies easy on the throat."

Robt. R. Reynolds

HON. ROB'T R. REYNOLDS
U. S. SENATOR FROM NORTH CAROLINA

In a recent independent survey, an overwhelming majority of lawyers, doctors, lecturers, scientists, etc., who said they smoked cigarettes, expressed their personal preference for a light smoke.

Senator Reynolds' statement verifies the wisdom of this preference and so do leading artists of radio, stage, screen and opera, whose voices are their fortunes, and who choose Luckies, a light smoke. You, too, can have the throat protection of Luckies—a light smoke, free of certain harsh irritants removed by the exclusive process "It's Toasted". Luckies are gentle on your throat.

Southern Methodist Cagers Defeat Aggies, 28-22; Rice Owls Subdue Frogs

Ponies Regain Early Lead To Win 10th Tilt

Battling Aggies Manage To Tie Count At 12-All But Norton Works Under Basket, Parts Mesh For Crip Shots

(By The Associated Press)

COLLEGE STATION, March 1—The Southern Methodist Mustangs, conference champions, ran their victory total to 10 in 11 games here tonight in defeating the Texas Aggies, 28 to 22.

The Mustangs scored in the opening two minutes and held the lead by a close margin throughout the first half leading 11 to 8 at half.

The Aggies drew into 12-12 tie early in the second period, but J. D. Norton made two quick crips and the Ponies began drawing away and had 27-18 lead with one minute to go.

Billy Dewell, who made five of his seven shots, led the scoring with 12 points.

Virgil Harris, sub forward, placed the Aggie scoring with nine points and Dowling led the cadet floor play.

Luckless Christians Unable To Cope With Kitts' Flashes

HOUSTON, March 1. (AP) — The Rice Owls defeated Texas Christian university 43 to 34 here tonight and returned to the 500 per cent class in the Southwestern conference basketball race.

Rice will entertain Southern Methodist university conference champions Tuesday night.

With Ike Klindworth hitting the meshes for three fast baskets, the Owls worked out an early 8-point lead, but the game tightened and the Frogs pulled up to within three points of the Kittsmen. Shortly before the opening half closed a couple of Owl baskets sent the teams away for the rest period with Rice holding a 22 to 17 lead.

Game Gets Exciting

The Owls clung to a lead of five points until the final five minutes, when Frog flippers hit from all distances to pull down the Owl lead to three points.

With two minutes to go Seale broke loose for a crip shot and Orr followed with a side-court one-hander. Stanford looped a third basket and that iced the game.

Willis Orr, the loop's best center, topped scorers with 15 markers and was trailed by Klindworth with 14. Mabry and Baugh divided honors for the Frogs with 10 points each.

Caddo Lake Is Closed For Two Months; Allred Signs

AUSTIN, March 1. (AP)—Governor James V. Allred today signed a bill closing Caddo Lake to game fishing during the months of March and April.

The governor said Governor Richard Leche of Louisiana had advised him that state would immediately effect a similar law for the body of water which lies between the states and which until today had been a mecca for fishermen when all other bodies were closed during spawning season.

Max Baer Plans To Sail Despite Garden's Threat

Ted Tipps Runs Down First Ace Of Golfing Year

The first 1937 hole-in-one reported for a Lubbock golfer came to Ted Tipps, popular petroleum agent and Country club golfer.

It was Tipp's first ace, although as a veteran top-flight linksman he has tried for many of 'em.

The hole-in-one, coming at No. 9 Sunday afternoon at the Country club course, gave Tips a subpar 34 for the front nine. Playing with Jack Parsons, W. D. Girand, Sr., and Dr. J. T. Krueger, Tipps laid a six-iron shot across the creek and on the green, 145 yards away, saw it roll out of sight.

Tips thereby qualified for the local and national Hole-In-One clubs, and is entitled to all prizes and benefits to be derived therefrom.

New York Body May Sue If Pastor Fight Fails

NEW YORK, March 1. (AP)—Max Baer probably will answer Madison Square Garden's threat to legal action if he doesn't fight Bob Pastor March 19 by walking up the gang plank Wednesday and sailing to London for two fights and around $50,000.

That's the way the Baer-Garden dispute shaped up today, using however, only outward signs as a gauge on what's going on inside.

John Reed Kilpatrick, president of Madison Square Garden corporation, stated emphatically the Garden intends to "go the limit" to force Baer and his manager, Ancil Hoffman, to live up to their part of the contract to fight the man who stayed 10 rounds with Joe Louis.

May Be "Test" Suit

It may be the Garden is glad for the opportunity to test the validity of its contract, using the outcome perhaps as a barometer of what to expect when the Eighth Ave. corporation goes to the courts to halt Jim Braddock from meeting Louis in Chicago.

For virtually the same reason Bear's manager contends he and his heavyweight aren't under contract to the Garden. Kilpatrick claims they are. Chronologically speaking, here's the way it goes:

Some weeks ago Hoffman signed a contract for Baer to fight Pastor March 19 in the Garden, but specified the bout must have the N. Y. State athletic commission's official approval by Feb. 10. The commission, on that date, refused to okay the fight. Hoffman claims that lets him out.

Now Who's Haywire?

Today, However, Kilpatrick charged the Feb. 10 incident was a boomerang. On the contract form signed by Hoffman and Baer appear the words: "It is understood and agreed all parties to this contract hold licenses," said Kilpatrick.

"By signing it they represented themselves as being licensed and because they weren't we could not get the commission's approval on Feb. 10," said Kilpatrick. "But you see how quickly the bout was approved after the commission granted Baer and Hoffman licenses last Friday.

"I guess Ancil overlooked that angle."

Yale-Princeton Grid Movie To Be Shown At Levelland

Bill Stevens, head coach at Levelland High school, announced last night that the picture version of the 1936 Princeton-Yale football game, showed here before a large crowd of "Touchdown club" members last night, would be shown at the Levelland High school Wednesday night.

Coach Stevens made arrangements for showing the picture last night. County Superintendent of School Joseph Griggs will supervise the showing of the picture at Levelland, bringing his projecting machine.

Women's West Texas Tourney To Be Conducted June 9-14

The Women's West Texas Golf association is to conduct its annual championship tournament at San Angelo Country club June 9-14, Mrs. Guy L. McAfee, past president and present member of the board of directors, said last night.

Mrs. McAfee, who attended a meeting of the association Saturday in San Angelo at which time dates for the tournament were set, pointed out that the Associated Press report regarding the dates was in error. The San Angelo A.P. report indicated the dates as June 7-11. Mrs. McAfee said the tournament would begin on Wednesday, June 9, and that the finals would be played the following Sunday.

Several local women plan to attend the tournament, held here last year.

Tremaine And Fenton Battle

Canadian Roughster Tangles With Arizona Athlete For Semi-Final Honors; Ivan Rasputin To Make Debut

Handy Andy Tremaine, who finally got frisky and stayed that way to win a major wrestling victory last Wednesday night from Dale Haddock in the main event, will meet another tough cookie this week on Promoter Sled Allen's card. Rod Fenton is the name. He hails from Canada, and he is well known in the country's leading middleweight circles as a gent to be feared.

Tremaine and Fenton clash in the semi-final, a billing that is due to steal the show if Tremaine keeps going from where he left off last week. Fenton turned up last Wednesday night, fighting Sailor Watkins in the preliminary, in better physical condition than he has been in years, by his own admission. He has lost much of the paunch that made him seem heavy and awkward, but he has lost none of his treachery or his ungentlemanly tricks. He fought Watkins to a fast draw.

Sailor Meets Indian

A newcomer makes his debut this week on the supporting card. Ivan Rasputin, from all descriptions a be-whiskered Russian from Moscow, tackles Joe Bauer, the veteran trial horse, in the preliminary. They say Rasputin is a fairly tough hombre.

Sailor Watkins, having served his time in the supporting card, bobs up on the main event this week. His opponent is Yaqui "Legs" Joe, the popular Indian who subdued the wild Brooklyn boy, Jerry Markus, in last week's semi.

Harry Cooper Is St. Pete Winner

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 1. (AP)—"Lighthorse" Harry Cooper, veteran Chicago professional and leading money winner of the winter campaign, today won the St. Petersburg open golf tournament in a three-man playoff.

Cooper defeated Horton Smith and Ralph Guldahl, two other Chicago pros, in an 18-hole playoff at the Pasadena golf club after the three had tied at the end of the 72-hole tournament last Friday with cards of 284, four under par.

Cooper's 72, even par, bested Smith by two strokes and Guldahl by four in the playoff.

Cooper won the $700 first money, Smith taking $450 for second place and Guldahl $350 for third place.

Mr. Cochrane To Use Mickey Back Of Tiger Platter

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., March 1. (AP)—Mr. Gordon (Mickey) Cochrane, vice president and manager of the Detroit baseball club, said today a guy named Mickey Cochrane will be the regular catcher for the Tigers this year.

"There are some young fellows coming up but I think Mike's still got the stuff," said Mr. Cochrane as he reviewed the prospective lineup.

"But I've got Ray Hayworth and George Tebbetts backing him up. You remember Hayworth caught most of the season after Mickey went out after playing only 45 games. Tebbetts came up from Beaumont last fall. So between these three, I guess we're all set behind the plate.

Infield Set

"Hank Greenberg's wrist is okay now and he'll start at first base. Charley Gehringer will be back at second, Bill Rogell at short and Marvin Owen at third. If there's a better fielding combination in the league, I'd like to see it."

For the outfield there are Al Simmons, Goose Goslin, Joe Walker, Jo Jo White, Pete Fox, and a newcomer from Milwaukee, Chet Laabs. There are five holdover pitchers—Schoolboy Rowe, Elden Auker, Rosy Lawson, Joe Sullivan and Vic Sorrell—and seven new men among whom is George Coffman from Beaumont.

It's Thousand To One You Won't Score Ace, At Least In Paul Berlenback's Book

MIAMI, Fla., March 1. (AP) — That old blood and thunder scrapper, Paul Berlenbach, still woos lady luck but now with a golf ball rather than his pounding fists.

Through as a fighter, now operating a golf driving range, the "Astoria Assassin" of the early 20's who won the light heavyweight championship of the world, lays you $1.000 to $1 that you can't make a hole-in-one.

He "sells" the ball for whatever the golfer wants to pay. A hole-in-one with a ten cent ball pays $100—A $1 ball pays $1,000.

Only once has he had to pay since he took over the range last January, he said, that was $100 to a Miami man.

There are three holes for which the offer stands, with distance ranging from 60 to 70 yards.

Monday First Day For 1937 Car Licenses; Payments Slow

Two hundred passenger cars and 17 commercial vehicles were registered in Lubbock county in February, the first of the two-month automobile registration period, according to figures given by the county tax assessor-collector.

Today is the first day on which 1937 license plates may appear on vehicles, said Deputy Assessor-collector H. B. Bryan. All license plates must be on automobiles not later than midnight, April 1.

Total registration of passenger cars in 1936 amounted to 10,705. Two thousand 256 commercial vehicles were registered last year.

Officials of the offices expressed the belief that this year's registrations probably would exceed last year's figures. Registration is expected to begin showing rapid increases, they said.

Two-Year Suspended Term Is Given In Auto Theft Case

When the complaining witness agreed, a two-year sentence assessed Boyd Jennings for theft over $50, Monday afternoon was suspended by Judge Daniel A. Blair of 72nd district court.

Jennings, 32, took an automobile belonging to Albert D. Hanley of near Hodges School community and abandoned it when a tire blew out between Canyon and Amarillo in late December. Jennings was arrested at Panhandle.

In testimony, Jennings said he was a cousin of the complaining witness and that he had driven the automobile after Elmer Hanley, brother of the complainant, had assured him it would be all right. He had said in a signed statement to the district attorney's office he understood Elmer Hanley was part owner of the vehicle. Elmer Hanley was reported ill and could not be called by the state as a witness.

Jack Fisher, indicated for burglary of a railroad car, is to be tried this morning, said Victor H. Lindsey, assistant district attorney, and Joe Ortes, indicted for theft, will be tried subject to the Fisher case, said Burton S. Burks, district attorney.

Milk Plant Employe, Robbed Of $1,200 In Dallas Aids In Capture Of Man After Chase

DALLAS, March 1. (AP)—A milk plant employe who was held up and robbed of $1,200 today succeeded in bringing about the capture of the robber after an exciting automobile chase through the downtown area.

Max L. Houston, 24, the plant employe, drove into an alley beside the Republic National bank and parked his car, intending to deposit the money.

As he stepped from the machine the robber produced a pistol and forced Houston to get back into the car and drive some distance away.

The robber then took the car and sped away. Houston enlisted the aid of a negro man and during the chase saw the bandit leave Houston's car and get into a taxicab. Heavy traffic hampered the flight and J. R. Smith, a policeman Houston and his aide picked up, arrested the robber.

Police said the man was a former employe of the company.

Owner Of 3 Cows Not Established

City police and the sheriff's department Monday established ownership of a trailer found hitched to an automobile stolen Sunday from J. P. Kilgore of Lubbock, but held no leads indicating to whom three cows belong.

The automobile developed clutch trouble and the owner found it. Bruce Gentry of 1918 Fifteenth street said the trailer was his. But Grady Harrist and Bill Mabray, respectively deputy sheriff and police patrolman, had to turn over to the city pound man three tb-tested milk cows they found four miles west of Lubbock on the Levelland road. The authorities believed the cows had been hauled in the trailer, they said.

Don Reeder, identifications officer of the police, said George Collins of Southland reported theft of $55. None had been arrested in connection.

Location for E. L. Wilson et al No. 1 Yellowhouse Land Co., a Bailey county wildcat oil test, has been announced by Dallas operators. It will be 660 feet from the north and east lines of labor 4, league 700 Capitol syndicate, in the southeast corner of Bailey county. Contract calls for 5,500 feet unless oil, gas or water is found before that depth. Maracaibo Oil Exploration Co., H. J. Porter, W. L. Pickens and Thornton Lomax are said to be among those interested in the location.

Rumors are current that Amerada is planning an oil test in Gaines county, to be located possibly in the northwest corner of section 160, block G. W. T. Ry survey. Date of expiration of the lease on this section is said to be May 26.

Machinery is to be moved into the recently announced wildcat test of Harrison & Bond, Dallas, on the Cameron lands, six miles south and east of Morton and some 10 or 12 miles north of the Duggan No. 1 of Cascade - Honolulu - Devonion in southeastern Cochran. Cellar and pits are to be dug soon.

Garza county's only active test, the S. Blackie Caprito No. 1 Post estate, section 12-30 K. Aycock survey, was carrying the 10-inch string of pipe to 850 feet in order to eradicate water trouble.

With a car load of pipe being received, Grisham-Hunter are expected to resume activity in their Garza county test on the Post estate.

The "Forgotten Platform"

BECAUSE the present Supreme court has chucked several of Mr. Roosevelt's pet New Deal measures out of the window, the President wants what he calls "new blood" on the high tribunal. In other words, he wants men on the court who will declare his laws constitutional, regardless of the constitution, itself.

If he is successful in his plan to pack the court, and the men he packs the court with do his bidding as he hopes, their rulings on such measures as the AAA and the NRA—which the President hopes to duplicate under a new court—will, to all intents and purposes change the constitution.

What did the 1936 Democratic National platform, written by Mr. Roosevelt's own convention and upon his personal direction, say about changes, if any, in the constitution?

Here's what it said—and here's the plank upon which the President asked re-election last year:

"THE CONSTITUTION: A promise of 'both state and federal treatment' within the constitution for problems that cannot be handled solely by the states, such as drouths, dust storms, floods, minimum wages, maximum hours, child labor, working conditions in industry, monopolistic and unfair business practices.

"If these problems cannot be effectively solved by legislation within the constitution, we shall seek such clarifying amendment to the constitution as will provide states and the federal government adequate authority."

In other words, when President Roosevelt asked the voters to give him a second term, he agreed to seek any changes in the constitution by the regular, set routine of constitutional amendment which, according to the law of the land, must be ratified by two-thirds of the states.

At the time he was preparing his 1936 campaign, Mr. Roosevelt was already looking ahead. He knew then that he planned to seek changes in the constitution. And knowing he planned to seek constitutional changes he agreed, by the platform which he dominated, to seek those changes via the orderly method of constitutional amendment.

But as soon as he started on his second term he repudiated that plank in his platform.

In seeking to change the constitution, he decides to go the Congressional route because he considers it easier and more certain. His patronage axe, which he is already dangling over the heads of recalcitrant representatives and senators, won't work so well in forcing the various states to ratify a constitutional amendment but it will force many a Congressman to do his bidding. Hence, the President blandly overlooks the 1936 platform plank, despite the fact that the whole platform was his platform, erected by his supporters and embraced by him as a candidate.

During the 1936 presidential campaign, opponents of Mr. Roosevelt—both Democrats and Republicans—pitched a portion of their opposition on the fact that the President had failed to in any way live up to the platform upon which he made his first national race in 1932.

The President's opponents reproduced the 1932 platform, Mr. Roosevelt's praises of it and his 1932 speeches upholding it, and then showed where, upon election, he had tossed the whole thing into the waste-basket, promises and all.

Most of us didn't pay any attention to the opposition cries of broken promises and forgotten platform. We excused the President on the ground that by the time he had reached the White House conditions had changed to such an extent that to keep the platform and his promises was, if not impossible, at least inexpedient. In other words, the voters gave the President the benefit of the doubt.

But as Mr. Roosevelt sidesteps his 1936 platform today, there are no grounds for excuse.

Conditions haven't changed and a few months ago, when he was running on his second platform, he already knew he would seek constitutional changes. Knowing his own mind, he ran on a platform which plainly calls for changing the constitution by amendment, not by Congressional law. That's the sum and substance of the entire matter.

Either Mr. Roosevelt permitted the 1936 constitution plank to go into the platform as another "catch all" for votes, or he meant to stay with it when he said he would.

If he has changed his mind, the country has a right to know why.

We await with interest Mr. Roosevelt's explanation of this curious situation, but, frankly, we doubt that he will mention it. To do so mightn't be good politics and whatever else he may or may not be, the President is a master politician, planks and platforms notwithstanding.

A scarcity of maple syrup is making itself felt. Science someday will learn how to extract this from the crooner's voice.

DOLLAR RETURNS AFTER 34 YEARS

One of the first dollars L. L. Rockwell, proprietor of the Auto Inn in Fort Recovery, Ohio ever earned, was a silver dollar which he received for services in Portland in 1896. Rockwell treasured and saved the dollar for a long time and when he finally spent it, he scratched his initials plainly on the face of the coin. Recently a stranger handed him a silver dollar in payment for goods, and much to Rockwell's surprise, he found it was the same dollar he had owned and marked 34 years before.

HER NAME IN LIGHTS

BEGIN HERE TODAY

DAPHNE BRETT, good-looking, successful young New York advertising executive, decides to rent a beautiful Connecticut estate her father left her when he was killed in a hunting accident. She needs the money after five years of providing for the education of her younger sister, JENNIFER, who has just finished college.

Daphne, showing the estate to some unwelcome prospective tenants, is surprised when an attractive young fellow she has never seen before steps into the picture and offers $150 a month rental. Glad to head off her first bidders, she accepts and finds her new tenant to be LARRY SMITH, prominent architect. And at once she finds herself somewhat disturbed by his coming into her life. When he leaves she pictures herself in the same house as "Mrs. Smith."

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER IV

The girl at the corner table glanced anxiously at her watch and studied the menu. Then she spied the slim figure in brown tweeds she had been waiting for.

"Daphne Brett," she said severely, "you're half an hour late."

"I know, Anne, but I've been over to the bank to deposit my tenant's check. He's staying on another two months until the end of November. Also, I've a very good reason for being late. Wait until you hear why!"

"Unless it's bad news, let's order before you tell me. I've got to get some layouts to Murray before two." Anne Cockerell was a successful young commercial artist and her friendship with Daphne had begun in the Johnstone Advertising Agency when Daphne was a lesser member of the copy staff.

"You order and I'll talk, Anne."

Anne ordered their usual lunch. "Now talk!"

"I've been promoted! I'm a full-fledged copy writer now with two accounts of my own to handle exclusively, an office of my own with my name on the door and fifty more a month. Not bad?"

"Bad? It's colossal! From rags to riches, or, from stenographer to career woman in five short years. Tell me, did you always dream that some day you'd be a successful advertising writer?"

"On the contrary," Daphne denied. "Do you know, Anne, I once wanted to be an actress? People are always surprised when I tell them that. I used to be fair at dramatics when I was in college and I meant to go into theater when I finished but"—she sighed almost imperceptibly—"you know Jennifer had to be taken care of and Dad—"

Anne knew all about that; knew that at 19 Daphne had left college to come to New York to support herself. She had done it so that the small sum Tom Brett had left to his motherless daughters might be used to send the then 13-year-old Jennifer to a good school.

It had been five years since Tom Brett, hunting on his grounds in Connecticut, tripped over his gun and, dying, charged Daphne with the care of flaxen-haired Jennifer. Daphne had done it well. Now Jennifer was finished at Miss Maidstone's.

From stenographer to career women, Anne had said. Daphne thought of those first few months in the general office at Johnstone, then the transfer to a secretarial job where she had learned to write copy.

"Anne," she said, "if I can do this in five years, I've a wonderful future. I'm going to work hard and some day . . ."

"Some day you'll have a fat bank account and wake up being an old maid," Anne finished tartly. "I wouldn't let this career angle creep into conversations when you're talking to an attractive man. By the way, did you tell the mysterious Smith you were a business gal?"

Mr. Smith? I told him I had a job that was all. Why?"

"Oh, I just thought since you two had a cozy tea you might have gone just a little way into the histories of your lives. Particularly since you seem to have found him interesting."

"Nonsense, Anne." Swift color flooded Daphne's smooth cheeks. "He's married and you know how I feel about married men."

"What's his wife like?" Anne asked casually.

"I don't know. I've never seen her. I haven't seen him either since the day he engaged the place. He sends his check the first of every month. Anne, at first he used to write little amusing notes about the place, but I didn't answer them because of his wife. Now he doesn't."

"Maybe he's got a twin." Anne proferred genially.

"If he hasn't, it will be all the same to me. Why are you always trying to find a romance for me? Don't you know that I can't afford any such luxury while I have to see Jennifer through? This year, I want her to specialize in some course to prepare her for work. Did I tell you she's coming to me Saturday?"

"Now isn't that nice?" Anne didn't sound very enthusiastic. "What's the matter with helping her to get a job and helping yourself?"

"Oh, she's only 18 and I want her to have a chance for something worth while. I have grand plans, I thought, when we decide what she's going to do, we could sublease my apartment and move back to the hall. We could commute and it would save money. I wouldn't mind and I know Jennifer will prefer the country. She's so unsophisticated."

Anne toyed with her fork for a moment and said, "Daph, if I were you I'd drop the mother complex and consider myself for a while."

Daphne pushed back her chair and rose. "I'm late, darling. I've got a lot of work to do because tomorrow I'm taking the day off to rearrange the apartment. Come by late in the afternoon and I'll give you tea."

When the doorbell buzzed at three the next afternoon, Daphne and, from her perilous perch on a table top, called over her shoulder, "No matter who it is, Maggie I'm not at home to anybody."

She gave a last inexpert blow at the defenseless tack, bent it, and hung her print with complete disregard for its safety.

"Pardon me lady. Would you be interested in some homemade fudge or old spare tires? I'm selling these and also . . ."

". . . also charm," she finished for him as she descended gingerly to the floor. "How'd you get past my faithful jewel Tuck? I told her I wasn't home to anyone."

"I'm not anyone. Beautiful. The name is Ainsley, don't you remember?"

"How could I forget when you've been under my feet for the past three years?"

"At your feet," he corrected.

She looked at him speculatively, noticing his usual impeccable turnout. Then she slid forward comfortably in the chair that outlined her lissome figure and a pretty smile dawned at the corners of her mouth. It was a sweet mouth.

Tuck liked it. He liked everything about Daphne. The dark gray eyes, the dark wing-like brows accenting the white transparency of her forehead, and the blue-black softness of her wavy hair.

He studied her smile doubtfully and said he suspected it would be a grim if another girl did it.

"It is," she said gleefully, "because you're going to work for a change. You're going to help us move furniture. Jennifer arrives tomorrow and there's work to be done."

"Ah, Jennifer, the baby!" Tuck's eyes found the photograph on Daphne's desk, the photograph of a young girl with the face of an angel framed by blond hair ending in a pigtail swung over her shoulder.

"Does she still look like that?" he asked.

"I guess she does." Daphne answered and appealed to him. "But Tuck, you know she's only 18 and she's not your type. Remember that, please. Your crowd—my crowd—is pretty sophisticated and I don't want Jennifer running around with them."

"What brought this on?" he inquired lazily. "You're the girl I'm interested in. I don't want any girl but you."

"Daphne and two complete Ziegfeld Follies choruses," she replied and added, when the buzzer sounded again, "That will be Anne."

It wasn't; it was Jennifer.

Not the Jennifer of the pigtail! This was a young sophisticate with golden hair. Jennifer four inches taller than her sister, in spike heels and a smart wool frock and a chic hat. Jennifer with every point of her beauty heightened by skillful makeup. Jennifer who cried, "Dearest! I had to come a day early because I'm going to a party tonight and I had to get in in time to dig up a man. Also, I forgot to pay the taximan."

"I'll do it," said Daphne to Tuck after she had introduced them, and

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

IN PRIVATE conferences with Congressmen over the Supreme court issue President Roosevelt argues that the threat of a fascist or communist dictator in the United States comes from the judicial rather than the executive arm of the government. He turns against the "nine old men" the self-same charges directed at himself.

Mr. Roosevelt warns the legislators that economic unrest will promote an explosion unless satisfied with liberal measures so far blocked by the court. He cites conditions abroad as proof of his contention. He insists that proposed amendments require too much delay, and contends that they would not be ratified by enough legislatures. "Skillful lawyers will block them," he adds. "I know a thing or two about practical politics around state capitals."

So far F.D.R. has not appeared to exert pressure on the conferees. He is simply canvassing sentiment on Capitol Hill; his poise amazes those who are summoned to his desk. But one remark he lets drop convinces them he has set his heart on victory. "I hope to leave office," he says, "with this reform an accomplished fact."

UNMOVED: Several Senators expressed grave concern lest packing the court set a handy precedent for the kind of dictator Mr. Roosevelt envisages. They voiced their confidence in the President's sincere and democratic spirit, but they noted that he would not "remain in office forever."

F.D.R. replied spiritedly. Mentioning by name several recent Chief Executives, he declared that they would never have resorted to enlargement of the court under any sort of pressure. His inference was that they were not sufficiently liberal or aggressive to sponsor such a move to meet modern needs. The predecessors he named, incidentally, were arch-conservatives—and Republicans. His listeners agreed that he was probably right.

"But," they retorted, "there are other men who might. How about a Huey Long, a John L. Lewis, or a Father Coughlin!" These particular legislators left the White House in the same state of mind which they entered it—against the Roosevelt program.

SHIFTS: Had a certain American Ambassador in Europe listened in on a recent exchange between President Roosevelt and the press, he might suspect that his resignation would not be unwelcome.

Mr. Roosevelt was asked the inside reason for Ambassador Bullitt's return to Washington at this time. F.D.R. parried a moment, but then admitted that he had arranged for regular reports "in person" from the Ambassador to Paris. Then he was asked why Ambassador—was coming home, too. The President, who had been sitting back in his chair, leaned forward and countered in an eager tone: "Is he?" When the reporter admitted that his query was simply a blind stab, Mr. Roosevelt sat back again as if disappointed.

A major diplomatic shift impends if and when Mr. Roosevelt can bring himself to hurt old friends by delicate hints that they ought to give somebody else a show. It's whispered that Mr. Bullitt may move to Berlin or London, and that Ambassador Davies may shift from grim, icy Moscow to gay Paree—with what's left of 2,000 pints of cream.

SECTIONAL: The death of James P. Buchanan suggests that the Texas dynasty on Capitol Hill may be short-lived. Several Texas committee chairmen are no longer young, and newcomers from the North and West are pressing them hard in the seniority race.

It's a natural Democratic cycle. The southwesterns were catapulted into key places with Roosevelt's advent because a good Texas Democrat is rarely defeated—he dies or retires. Their topnotchers began to come to the capital in the days of Taft. The westerns bloomed Democratically, with the Taft-Roosevelt split in 1912, and they stand next in line. Mr. Buchanan's appropriations chairmanship falls to Rep. Taylor of Colorado, Majority Leader Rayburn's dropped into the lap of Mr. Lea of California. Senate President pro tem is Pittman of Nevada.

It will be the North's turn next as a result of recent sweeps in New England, New York, Pennsylvania, etc.—provided the G.O.P. doesn't stage a comeback within the next few years. It amounts to desectionalization of the Democratic party.

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

A FEW weeks ago it looked as if a monster steel strike was in the making and would almost inevitably come to a head this spring. Now the situation is fundamentally changed. The odds are against any strike at all.

Two recent developments have altered the picture. One is the General Motors settlement. Before that was arranged many steel leaders privately thought it would be wise to make common cause against John Lewis with their automobile brethren—even to the point of provoking a large-scale strike in their own industry. They knew that such a strike would mean a serious and costly interruption in their current prosperity, but figured that from a long-term angle the cost would be worth while if it would enable them to smash Lewis before he grows too strong.

But the General Motors outcome, which—no matter how many people tell you differently—was a thoroughly satisfactory triumph for the corporation, deflated the Lewis menace to such an extent that drastic and expensive measures to suppress him no longer appear necessary to the steel chiefs.

CHEAPER: The second new factor in favor of industrial peace is the huge British armament plan recently announced. Expansion of our own naval and military expenditures is almost sure to follow. But even apart from that, the British program alone is such as virtually to guarantee continuance of peak prosperity for the American steel industry for at least two years to come.

This is a strong incentive to keep the wheels turning at capacity, even at the price of certain concessions to labor. The more business—and profits—in sight, the more expensive a luxury a strike would be.

For instance, it would certainly be cheaper to reduce the 44 hour work week now current in the industry to 40 hours—and pay time and a half for overtime—than to risk a tie-up that would jeopardize the orders now in sight. Enlightened self-interest dictates generous treatment of labor at this juncture. Watch for key steel concerns to take the 40 hour plunge in the near future.

POSTPONED: What about recognition of the C.I.O. union as a collective bargaining agency in the steel industry? Many observers have rated stubbornness on this point the most probable cause of a steel walkout.

Exceptionally informed New Yorkers prophesy that leading steel companies will recognize the union as bargaining representative for its own members only—precisely as in the General Motors agreement—without a struggle.

PREFER: Behind the furore of Supreme court argument, a number of business leaders—especially those connected with Secretary Roper's Business Planning and Advisory council—are working quietly with government officials on a new formula for industrial regulation.

In essence, this plan calls for the setting up of new hour, wage and labor condition standards for individual industries, as well as more specific definitions of fair competition. Violation of labor provisions in the new "codes" would make the violator subject to prosecution for "unfair trade practice" by the Federal Trade commission. In general, the Trade commission's powers of enforcement would be materially expanded.

Many industrial conservatives, while deploring "regimentation" as such, will nevertheless support this program. They are convinced that regimentation in some form is inevitable and would much prefer it along these semi-voluntary lines than, say, via the O'Mahoney federal licensing bill or the Black-Connery 30 hour week bill—either of which is a possible alternative.

A PENSION SUGGESTION

Editor, The Avalanche: It has been a question among the legislators of Texas how to keep those who are eligible to receive old age assistance within certain limits to make it possible for the state and national governments to render this aid.

The first pensioners were paid under certain property classifications. An applicant might have a certain amount of property estimated up to $3,500 and still be eligible to receive assistance. This was soon found to overmatch the state's ability to render aid, for it was found that one having this amount of property could, judiciously conducted, have a compensation for life.

A bill was introduced to eliminate this property exemption and give aid only to those who were in needy circumstances, without any visible means of subsistence. This was enacted into law, but, it seems, did not lessen the number of applicants. The law referred to above was thought to bring the state's pensioners to around 100,000, but the records show that there are at this time 115,000 eligible for assistance and more coming in daily.

An idea of my own is that some means of retirement be put into operation of a certain number on the pension rolls with death intervening that would bring number of pensioners within the above limit.

My idea is to set aside a certain per cent of each pensioner's monthly payment creating a sum which would give a competence of an expectant life after retirement, say to 100 pensioners would be taken off the list. This sum of money to be divided equally between the 100 taken from the list. This money would be created by the pensioners themselves to be kept at Austin and there set aside to those elected from the pension rolls. This number should be indiscriminately selected. One hundred thousand dollars set aside by 100,000 pensioners would only be one dollar apiece, this divided among 100 would be a fair compensation for an expected life.

If discriminately selected by the proper authority, it would stand to reason that those who have least expectancy of life would be chosen. Of course the sum before stated could be augmented by the pensioners to a sum that would give a larger competence to the donors or more pensioners are taken off the list. This will curb and restrict the number of pensioners to the 100,000 which has been a white elephant with the law making body.

AGAINST COURT CHANGE

Editor, The Avalanche: We are a constant reader of your good paper and appreciate your position concerning the Supreme court issue very greatly and think it is the greatest of issues at present and is very fitting to discuss same.

No issue of such importance has confronted this greatest of nations since its history began.

In our estimation this issue is more than just a court issue. It is a Christian as well as a Constitutional issue. To, as the President suggests, make the Constitution flexible by "packing" the court would sooner or later bring about imposition on somebody or would at least allow such to become a practice.

The very foundation of our great country's success is the fact that the Constitution is non-flexible, that it can not warp to the right nor to the left. Since the U. S. Supreme court is and has been the bodyguard or the umpire of the game, so to speak, we certainly see no reasoning in the proposition of "packing" as they methinks, would only put the umpire in the game of politics and think of the umpire playing ball!

Well, the spectators would just demand their money back and then the sports page of our newspapers would not be so interesting.

This issue is unlike most political issues since there is so much at stake there can be no compromise.

As we have above stated it is a Christian issue as well as otherwise. We are not an alarmist, but just allowing ourselves to face cold facts. As some of us know and none can deny, the fact is that certain foreign elements are at work which are strictly opposed to any and all forms of Christianity and worship. And of course, the first thing to do in destroying the right of free speech, free press, and the right of worship is to, by mean, fair or foul, destroy the moral of our constitution, that noble instrument of the U. S. Supreme court whose only duty is to interpret legislation in the light of said constitution.

In this hour of readjustments and somewhat unrest we deem it a dangerous proposition to tamper with the highest tribunal of our land, therefore we can but speak out in no uncertain sound that we should "Hands off the Supreme court."

Yours very truly,
L. W. Reed,
Crosbyton.

FOR FDR'S PLAN

Editor, The Avalanche: Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of their party. I am a Democrat. There's a reason. "By their fruits, ye shall know them." During the four long years of the lean, panicky and chaotic administration of Herbert Hoover and the Republican party, I reached an all time low of 120 pounds. Under the beneficient rule of Franklin D. Roosevelt and the Democratic party, I now register at 170 pounds, a net gain of 50 pounds in favor of the Roosevelt regime.

After having had such a diverse experience under the two administrations, it would be absurd for me to stultify myself by actively supporting and sponsoring the political fallicies and heresies of the Republican party, and in being swayed from my political moorings by listening over the radio to the terminological inexactitudes of carping critics in their partisan and abortive attempts to embarrass and hamstring the hereulean efforts of President Roosevelt to redeem this country from the financial slough of despond inherited from the misgovernment of Herbert Hoover and the Republican party. Were I guilty of such base ingratitude and so lost to all sense of shame and honor, I should be classed with Benedict Arnold and be relegated to the limbo of an ignominous political oblivion unwept, unhonored and unsung.

Rustic.

(Dear 'Rustic': You say you're a Democrat. If you think the present administration is a Democratic administration as we Texas Democrats have been taught, you don't know anything about the party you say you belong to. The court issue is not partisan in any way, shape or form. By the way, I'll set 'em up to you if you can find in any written form where, since his re-election, Mr. Roosevelt has referred to himself as a Democrat or his administration as Democratic. Let me see you find him on record there. The Editor.)

NERVES ON EDGE?

IF your day begins with backache, headache or periodic pains, with nervousness, irritability and discomforts associated with functional disturbances, you need a tonic like Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It stimulates the appetite and thereby increases the intake of food. Read what Mrs. Mae Pettit of 705 Recter Ave., Hot Springs, Ark., said: "I never miss an opportunity to recommend Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription as a tonic for it has done me a world of good. To benefit those who have 'nerves,' associated with minor functional disturbances, also to give a person more strength and improve the appetite, I don't believe Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription can be beat." TARZAN AND THE MAYAN GODDESS, No. 38

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

Hardly had Nkima's terrified shrieks reached his ears than the ape-man sprang treeward and swung away into the forest. The Indian porters blinked in awe, for never had they seen the most agile jungle monkey sourry so swiftly along the swaying path of boughs.

Tarzan swung straight toward the awful howls which mingled with Nkima's cries. Then from the foliage burst Nkima himself, and behind him scuttled a band of strange monkeys—monkeys with a sort of grotesque beard covering an enormous enlargement of the throat.

Nkima flew to the refuge of Tarzan's arms and nestled against his breast, trembling with fright. The ape-man laughed, for he saw that the awful howls came from the monkeys, whose enlarged throats served as sounding boxes to produce those mighty, frightful noises.

"Does brave Nkima fear little manus like himself?" he chided. At first Nkima's reply was chopped into meaningless, gibberish by the chattering of his tiny teeth, then he managed to stammer: "Nkima does not fear big-noise manus. Nkima fears beast-thing there!".

Vidal Resigns Bureau Office

Chief Of Air Commerce Work To Reenter Aviation Industry After Leaving Government; Successor Mentioned

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 1.—Eugene Vidal stepped out today as chief of the air commerce bureau, center of controversy for months in congress and in aviation circles.

More than a year ago a senate investigating committee, headed by Senator Copeland (D-NY), recommended reorganization of the bureau. In recent months the bureau and the air transport industry have differed over the causes for a series of major air crashes.

The bureau said "pilot failures" were the primary cause; Edgar S. Gorrell, head of the Air Transport association, blamed several crashes on "inadequate safety facilities" of the bureau.

Vidal Not Responsible

Although Copeland's committee recommended reorganization of the bureau, the New Yorker said Vidal was not responsible for "the mess" there.

Vidal's resignation, rumored for months, was announced last night, effective at once. He said he would reenter the aviation industry.

Mentioned as his possible successor were J. Carroll Cone, assistant air commerce director, and Fred Fagg, an investigator for Copeland's air safety committee.

Charge Of Negligent Homicide Is Filed After Mishap Death

WACO, Mar. 1. (AP)—A charge of negligent homicide was filed in county court today against Ross Jaye of Gatesville in connection with the death of Marvin Lee Harris, 24-year-old Levita man, in a traffic accident yesterday.

Harris' automobile was in collision with Jaye's truck, parked on a roadside near McGregor.

Assistant District Attorney Fred Hartley said Jaye failed to put flares beside the truck as required by law.

Monroe Herring, Levita, who was riding with Harris, was injured seriously but was resting well today.

DEATH IS ANNOUNCED

NEW YORK, March 1. (AP)—Death of Ben Leider, New York "flying reporter," while fighting with the loyalist forces in Spain February 19 was announced in Brooklyn today by Dr. Morrs Leider, his brother.

Leider sailed for Spain in September, giving up his position on the New York Evening Journal.

Stocks

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, March 1. (AP)—A late rally in U. S. Steel today turned the stock market tide slightly in favor of buying forces.

Buoyed by the estimate of the American Iron and Steel institute placing this week's mill operations at a new peak since 1929, "big steel" bounded across 115 for the first time in about 6 years. It finished at 114⅞, up 3⅜ points net.

Recovery forces, however, did not have everything their own way. Of 891 issues traded 370 advanced, 333 declined and 188 were unchanged.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks held a gain of .1 of a point at 72.3. Dealings were slow throughout, transfers totaling 1,661,700 shares, the smallest volume for a full day since Jan. 4. The aggregate compared with 1,775,-790 last Friday.

Cotton

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, March 1. (AP)—Cotton staged a vigorous and sustained advance today that carried all months to new high levels for the season and pushed the March option across the 13-cent a pound level.

It was the most active session in many weeks with orders from the interior, sharing with the ring demand for cotton, from aboard and from public operators.

March closed at 13.10, May at 12.85, July at 12.63, Oct. at 12.09 and Dec. at 12.10. The spot market followed the upturn in futures and the average price at 10 centers was 13.24 cents a pound, far above the government's minimum asking price for loan cotton of 12.75.

AVERAGE PRICE

NEW ORLEANS, March 1. (AP)—The average price of middling cotton at ten southern spot markets today was 13.24 cents a pound; for the past thirty days 13.04 cents a pound.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, March 1. (AP)—On the most active demand in the current upward movement, cotton rallied to further new highs today.

The belief gained ground that cotton was undervalued and large half-year consumption figures made a favorable impression. May sold up from 12.79 to 12.90 and closed at the high with final prices 10 to 21 points net higher.

The market opened 3 to 6 points higher in response to steadier Liverpool cables and on active trade, foreign and outside buying.

his bonds and started the popular sit-down tactics under the Valentine house, much to the consternation of the family and the neighbors.

All efforts at eviction failed, until Mrs. Valentine, who accompanies her husband on his hunting excursions took a hand in the affair.

She walked out in the yard after her husband had gone to work this morning. There was peaches, defiantly squinting at the bright sun from the opening under the house.

The comely wife grabbed the crate and put it over the opening and placed the liver inside.

Hunger gave way to stubborness. Peaches leaped inside.

Mrs. Valentine jammed the ironing board across the opening.

and the Phyllis Shoe Co. in Lowell, Mass. Five plants remained closed at Salem. Labor chieftains, demanding a 15 per cent pay hike, said about 30 New England manufacturers had agreed to the boost.

Later, the Walton management said its 1,400 striking hands had agreed to return today after accepting a ten per cent raise.

Sixty-five Toledo, O., messenger boys, organized at the headquarters of the United Automobile Workers union, a Committee for Industrial Organization affiliate, sought wage and hour adjustments.

Moving vans and storage warehouses in Cleveland were idle after contractural negotiations between the drivers union and some 150 firms collapsed.

Nurses, Sightless On Strike

Seven Norwalk, O., nurses left their posts, protesting the dismissal of a superintendent.

Approximately 100 sightless employes of the Pennsylvania Association for the Blind's factory at Pittsburgh sat down in an effort to gain higher wages.

Sit down strikers—predominantly feminine—barred the management from a Detroit five and ten cent store. A number of others started a second sitting demonstration in another F. W. Woolworth store.

Picketing Ordered Restricted

Circuit Judge Ralph Dady restricted picketing at the North Chicago, Ill., factories of the Fansteel Metallurgical corporation—scarred by two fights between strikers and officers in eight days. His injunction against a mass patrol provided no more than two pickets could be assigned to the gate while other pairs should be stationed 200 feet apart. Company counsel estimated this order would cut the picket force from 35 or 40 to 10.

Meyer Adelman, leader of the C.I.O. who directed the strike for union recognition, was arranged on a fugitive from justice warrant at Kenosha, Wis., and freed on $1,000 bond. He had been hunted in Illinois for conspiracy to interfere with Judge Dady's writ directing evacuation of the plant during the recent sit-down siege.

Douglas-Northrop Strike Ends

Some 500 singing pickets paraded around the Douglas Aircraft Corp. at Santa Monica, Calif., but the world's largest plane factory resumed operations after a six-day strike lull. The subsidiary Northrop Corp. plant also reopened. Together they employ more than 6,600.

About 100 pickets gathered at the Electric Boat Co., at Groton, Conn., but officials reported more than 1,400 men were at work. The 458 "sit down" demonstrators at the Ferro Stamping and Timken-Detroit Axle companies in Detroit were directed to show cause why they should not be enjoined by the courts from occupying those properties.

Grains

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, March 1. (AP)—Stimulated by notable curtailment of Argentina's exportable surplus and by uncertainty attending the Kansas crop outlook, wheat prices rose 1⅝ cents a bushel maximum today.

With the United States winter wheat crop now entering a critical stage, the condition of the crop in Kansas, the banner producing area, attracted particular attention. This was largely because an authoritative unofficial Chicago survey emphasized that there has been no restoration of subsoil moisture supply in the greater part of the state.

At the close, Chicago wheat futures were ⅝@1¼ cents above Saturday's finish, May 1.32⅝@1.32⅞, July 1.14⅝@1.14⅞, Sept. @1.08, July 1.02½, 1.11⅞@1.12, corn ⅛@1¼ up, May 1.07⅞ @1.08, July 1.02½, Sept. 95½, oats ⅛@½ advanced, May 46⅞@47, and rye showing 1¼@1⅝ bulge, May $1.06⅝. Provisions closed varying from 5 cents decline to an equal gain.

they might change the figure to six cents.

Governor Allred said adoption of the resolution on pension liberalization by Rep. Ross Hardin of Prairie Hill would be playing into hands of lobbyists and placing interests of certain old folks over those of everything else in the state.

"I am sure the authors have no such intention, but the third house will indeed be well pleased if this resolution passes," the governor said. "They know that a sizable bloc, at least in the lower house, is in favor of a very liberal old age assistance law.

Other Unfortunates Cited

"They know that the governor has said that at the present time he will veto such a bill. They know that if they can get you into the sit-down strike frame of mind called for in the resolution, even though it should fail of passage, their troubles are over."

Asserting the old folks over 65 years of age were not the only people in need in Texas, he pointed to several thousand blind "without a means of livelihood," between 30,000 and 50,000 dependent children in unemployable homes, suffering from malnutrition, 8,900 widows without employment but with children to support and "thousands of other citizens who are unemployables and suffering from hunger."

Advertising Bill Killed

"The number of those unfortunates altogether doesn't equal the number of people over 65," he said, "and, of course, they can't make as much noise and they can't vote because they haven't got the money to pay a poll tax while the old folks vote free."

Hardin argued the legislature should raise additional money for old age assistance and "practice a little economy" to take care of the general fund deficit.

The house also killed, 78 to 52, a bill to prohibit the advertising of hard liquors.

While the lower chamber wrestled with pensions, the oil tax and liquor advertising, the senate worked calmly on local bills, passing several, including one authorizing unincorporated towns to regulate traffic on state highways by signal lights.

Court Plan In Bitter Debate

Sen. Robinson And Sen. Burke Of Nebraska Tangle Over President's Proposal To Put In New Justices

had expected them to include two cases of interest in connection with the court controversy.

Comment, Speculation Heard

These were a ruling on the constitutionality of the Washington state minimum wage law which the court has had under advisement since December 17, and a ruling on a petition for reconsideration of the four-to-four decision which had the effect of upholding the New York unemployment insurance law.

The petition was filed December 14. Court orders issued today swept the docket clean of all such motions except the one in question. The delay in deciding this question caused much comment and speculation.

The court also has under advisement a decision on the constitutionality of the Wagner labor relations act. However, most observers had not expected a ruling on this subject today.

Senator Robinson began the senate debate by reading a letter dated from Wichita, Kas., but mailed from Alma, Neb., signed with the name Gerald B. Winrod, and enclosing vari-colored slips with the inscription "Hands off the supreme court." The letter urged the recipient to sign the slips and send them to his senators and house members. The letter said that the president's proposal "means one thing; Franklin D. Roosevelt wants to be absolute dictator of the United States." Its Salutation was "Dear Christian friend" and it was signed "Yours in Christ."

"It sounds like one of the old appeals from the Ku Klux Klan of years gone by," Robinson said. "It is a deliberate effort to influence unfairly the minds of senators and representatives and to distort public opinion concerning the question at issue.

Sarcasm Is Employed

"That is not all of this propagandist's effort. There are several slips, some of them yellow—appropriately colored—some of them pink, some of them green and the language of these slips is 'hands off the supreme court.' The slips read: "'Dear Sir: Believing that the proposals to revise and weaken the United States supreme court would prepare the way for dictatorship in our country, I earnestly urge you to use your influence against the measure'."

Included, Robinson said, were the names of the senators and the congressmen of the individual to whom the letter had been sent—Theo Mahn of Alma, Neb.—together with their Washington addresses.

Robinson thundered that the propaganda "shows a deliberate effort to prejudice the minds of the American people and to put pressure on the members of congress to induce them to respond to a stimulated and false public opinion."

Senator Burke (D-Neb.) interjected:

"Does the senator from Arkansas mean to intimate by reading this letter that he thinks either senator from Nebraska would be influenced in any respect by the letter?"

"I do not intimate anything," said Robinson. "I say what I have to say; and what I assert is that an unfair and dishonest effort is being made to influence senators and representatives."

"Before the reading of the message of the president to this body was concluded," said Burke, "I knew what my position in the matter was—one of undying opposition to the proposal—and it does not require any letter from a brother in Christ or anyone else to show me the error in this proposal.

Colleges May Teach Safety

Traffic Safety Courses As Requirement Of State Schools Considered On Program Of Safety Committee

Courses in traffic safety would be required in every school in Texas, according to a recommendation to be offered by the chairman of the college and school education committee of the Governor's Traffic Safety committee, President Bradford Knapp of Texas Technological college.

Gov. James V. Allred described Doctor Knapp as the "Spark plug" of the committee and urged that he set the pace for the committee in a letter written to the Tech president.

Will Not Fail

"We cannot and we will not fail Texas in this war on traffic accidents," Governor Allred wrote.

Doctor Knapp will present his recommendation in letters to the 21 members of his committee. The committee is composed of college and high school administrative officials and others over the state.

Lectures on traffic safety were given at Tech last fall in a convocation and in freshmen orientation classes.

Students in public schools and colleges should learn and understand traffic laws. Number of accidents might be greatly decreased by a widespread educational program, Doctor Knapp said.

Would Be Required

Courses would be required in schools only through approval of the school authorities.

Recommendation that Senior High school consider such a course already has been sent to Dr. Kenneth E. Oberholtzer, superintendent, by Doctor Knapp.

Each committeeman is to promote educational programs against carelessness in driving in his own area.

Hundreds of letters and telegrams have poured into the governor's office, pledging support to the traffic safety committee, Governor Allred said.

The training centers around coffee shop service, but meetings will be held today and tomorrow for employees in all departments. Creator Of "Chelan Test" On Townsend Plan Given Rebuffs

CHELAN, Wash., March 1. (AP)—Troubles increased today for Isom Lamb, creator of the "Chelan test" of the Townsend pension plan.

Already at loggerheads with the National Townsend organization, Lamb's latest rebuff came from his own district Townsendites who met yesterday at Wenatchee and rejected him as a delegate from Chelan.

Meanwhile, the opinion that "the local Townsend tests proved that needy old people can spend $200 in one month nothing else," come from C. E. Cone, one of the five town elders on an investigating committee.

Praise Heard For Insurance Report

The 66th annual report of The Life Insurance Company of Virginia further testifies to the stability of life insurance in general and of this company in particular.

Bradford H. Walker, president, acclaims the current financial statement as exceptionally favorable. He also gives credit to the company's field representatives for the cooperation in 1936, and acknowledges the confidence expressed by the company's million-odd policyowners.

Walker emphasizes as specially significant in the company's 66th annual accounting:

Insurance in force was expanded by more than $23,000,000, and now stands at $440,000,000.

Assets were increased by nearly $6,000,000, to a total approximating $89,000,000. Included in assets are capital, surplus and contingency reserves amounting to almost $16,000,-000—an unusual margin of additional protection for policyowners.

Cash on hand and in banks, and quickly marketable securities are adequate to meet all demands, he declares.

L. Earl Hunt, Edgar J. Ford and Clark W. Crites are the local agents for the company.

When she came back, she found Jennifer stretched out gracefully on her lounge.

"Can we have a cocktail right away, Daph? I'm dying of thirst but my troubles are over for tonight. Mr. Ainsley is going to the party with me. I think he's sweet."

"I'll get us some tea," Daphne said shortly.

What SHE TOLD WORN-OUT HUSBAND

She could have reproached him for his fits of temper—his "all in" complaints. But wisely she saw in his frequent colds, his "fagged out," "on edge" condition the very trouble she herself had whipped. Constipation! The very morning after taking NR (Nature's Remedy), as she advised, he felt like himself again — keenly alert, peppy, cheerful. NR—the safe, dependable, all-vegetable laxative and corrective — works gently, thoroughly, naturally. It stimulates the eliminative tract to complete, regular functioning. Non-habit-forming. Try a box tonight. 25c — at druggists.

Don't Blow Your Head Off!

DO THIS FOR STOPPED-UP NOSTRILS (due to accumulated mucus)

If people realized how delicate the mucous membranes of nasal passages really are there would be far less blowing—far less trying to drive accumulated mucus out by brute force.

There is a much gentler and more effective way to do this. If your nostrils are stopped up with mucus, just insert a little Mentholatum in them.

You'll be surprised at the gentle and quick way in which Mentholatum breaks up the accumulated mucus. You'll be delighted, too, as you notice how the stuffiness is relieved and you can breathe more freely again.
