Individualism Vital, Says SMU President

The importance of instilling individualism in youths to prepare them to face an unknown world was stressed last night by Dr. Willis Tate, president of Southern Methodist University, in an address at the annual businessman-teacher appreciation banquet.

The banquet, sponsored by the merchants committee of the Chamber of Commerce, was attended by close to 500 persons. Businessmen hosted teachers of the Snyder school system in the banquet.

Dr. Tate reviewed teaching prior to World War I as being a profession with the job of passing on to youths the tried and true established culture of the day, with little change. Since that war, however, the world has been in changing times and the educational process was forced to change.

"The only true certainty today is change, and change is the tenor of our school system," he said, adding, "We must now prepare our young people for a new world. . .a world we do not know and have never seen."

Just as the military during World War II had a problem in preparing crash kits for those who might be forced to bail out in territories with unknowns, never knowing for certain just what tools to provide, education today has a problem in providing tools for the youth's "crash kit," he said.

There are several tools which they must have and which will be useful to them in an unknown world being changed daily, he said. They include:

Enthusiasm. There is great power, Tate said, in having a zest for living. When teachers have enthusiasm, it is contagious and rubs off on students.

Independence of thought and action. One of the dangerous tendencies in modern culture is attempting to make everyone a conformist, the college president said. There is a dire need for individualism. Rather than finding ways to prevent people from thinking, we should be cutting out the escapes so they will be forced to think. "Our democratic way of life depends on everyone doing his own thinking."

A new respect for the word, "work." Something in modern culture has given work a bad name as more labor-saving devices are perfected daily, but "Work is the greatest gift God ever gave to man," Tate said, adding that ease and comfort are false gods. There is satisfaction in a job well-done, a hard race won. Happiness comes when a man loses himself in his work.

Patience. Youths must learn not to have a brittle temper to cope with any world, must learn to "roll with the punch."

Responsibility for the individuals own behavior. There was a time when youths in a town the size of Snyder were kept in line to some extent because people knew what they did. Now, with modern transportation, they can be several hundred miles away in a few hours. With this "liberty," a youth must be taught how to be responsible for his conduct.

Attributes such as these can be instilled in youths by teachers. Tate quoted another educator in reminding teachers that children are not "bottles to be filled" or "clay to be molded," but they are divine in the image of God, and the teacher is a co-worker with God in helping to unfold that which is good in a child.

Delaware Begins Quiet Integration

By The Associated Press

Integration of public schools in Delaware counties that had opposed race mixing began peacefully Wednesday.

Thirty Negro children entered first grades in nine of the state's 94 school districts in the southern counties of Kent and Sussex. Other grades will be integrated, one a year, under a court order favoring gradual change as a means of lessening emotional strain.

Public schools in northern New Castle County, which contains about half the state's population, were integrated five years ago. About half of the 14,000 Negro pupils in the state are in schools previously integrated.

While only 30 Negro pupils were registered for the opening term, school officials said others could apply and be accepted anytime.

An elementary school in Milford where violence developed five years ago during efforts to integrate a high school opened its doors to four Negro girls Wednesday without incident.

In Florida's first experiment in public school integration, seven more white children entered Orchard Villa Elementary School in Miami, bringing attendance to 15 whites and four Negroes. There were only eight white pupils in class when the Negroes were admitted for the first time Tuesday. White residents have been moving from the neighborhood, now predominately Negro, and 93 additional Negroes have applied for admission to the school.

Richard W. Ervin, attorney general, said the scarcity of white pupils at the school demonstrates that Florida is not yet ready for classroom integration.

Spread of token integration brought a blast against racial moderates from Mississippi's Gov.-elect Ross Barnett.

Faulty Atlas Test May Wind Up With Limited Success

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—An unmanned model of the vehicle an American will ride into space was rocketed high over the Atlantic today in a test which promised some success despite a mechanical failure.

The huge Atlas booster rocket failed to fall away as scheduled after spending its force. The resulting drag cut the flight short of its planned 100-mile height and 2,000-mile distance.

But observers at this tesing station counted up these elements of gain:

1. The space capsule itself was quickly located afloat on the ocean, with a prospect of recovery and valuable information from its load of instruments.

2. That meant the capsule had survived the searing friction of re-entry into the heavy atmosphere.

3. Telemetry signals, described by missilemen as good, reported throughout most of the flight on the performance of the vehicle and the conditions it encountered.

The director of Project Mercury, which is aimed at putting a man into orbit in 1961, rated the re-entry survival as probably a major step forward.

He said the primary objective of the trial was to see how the capsule stood up under the heat and shock of coming back from a simulated orbital path.

The blast-off came at 2:19 a.m. Less than four hours later a search plane reported it had sighted the floating capsule, several hundred miles short of its goal.

Rear Adm. Harry Smith, commander of the recovery operation, did not pinpoint the location. He told a news conference that two destroyers were rushing to the spot. They were expected to arrive about 9:30 a. m. (EST).

At first it was believed that the test of the capsule designed to carry the Mercury astronauts into space had been a complete failure.

The booster stage of the powerful Atlas rocket failed to drop off after burnout 2 minutes and 40 seconds after the blastoff.

The extra weight prevented the main body of the rocket from traveling its full distance under the power of its sustainer engine.

Robert Gilruth, Project Mercury director, reported that the missile flew low and failed to obtain the desired velocity. For that reason it fell several hundred miles short of its intended target area 2,000 miles down the Atlantic missile range.

The Atlas was supposed to boost the one-ton capsule to a height of 100 miles. Gilruth said he did not know how far up the Atlas actually went, but it was considerably below the 100-mile level.

Gilruth said good signals were received from the capsule for about 12 minutes after launching.

Had all gone right, the capsule would have covered the intended 2,000 miles in 20 minutes.

Gilruth said that there is still a good possibility that some valuable data will be obtained from the capsule even though it fell short.

The shot—the first of its kind—was a vital test of many devices that will be used on the manned Project Mercury capsule. A manned capsule is expected to be fired into orbit some time in 1961.

J. W. Burleson Dies Today

Jeff Woodward (Jack) Burleson, Sr. 55, of 811 Twenty-ninth Street, died at 7:10 a.m. today in Cogdell Memorial Hospital.

Mr. Burleson, a building contractor, had been a resident of Scurry County since 1924. He was born Jan. 29, 1904, at Fort McFadden in Concho County.

He was married Jan. 9, 1927, in Colorado City to Vada Mae Morrow, and they made their first home in Snyder. He was a member of the Trinity Methodist Church and had been a member of the Masonic Lodge here 15 years.

Funeral services will be at 2 p.m. tomorrow at the Trinity Methodist Church, with the Rev. Elton Wyatt, pastor, officiating. Burial will be in the Snyder Cemetary under direction of Bell Funeral Home.

Survivors include the widow; two sons, J. W. Burleson, Jr., of Houston; Edward Morrow Burleson of Sweetwater; two sisters, Mrs. Joe Ernest of Coahoma and Mrs. Ruth Boyd of San Antonio; and three grandchildren, Bruce Ed Burleson, Jackie Burleson and Kay Burleson.

RESERVE PROGRAM SIGN-UP EXTENDED

The deadline for farmers to sign up in the 1960 conservation reserve program has been extended, Henry Burchett, ASC manager here, reported this morning.

Burchett said the deadline had been set originally for tomorrow, but he had received notice this morning that the sign-up period had been extended to Sept. 30.

The local ASC office will accept applications for conservation reserve basic form payment rates through the remainder of the month as a result of the extensions, Burchett said.

Reds Claim Panel Illegal

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The U. N.'s new four-nation fact-finding group may get a team off to Laos by week's end to investigate reported invasions from neighboring Red North Viet Nam.

The subcommittee, set up by the Security Council over bitter Soviet protests, met Tuesday with Council President Egidio Ortona of Italy, to make plans for the mission.

Ortona said the four members—Italy, Argentina, Japan and Tunisia—agreed it was vital to carry out its task as quickly as possible.

The West proposed the inquiry group as a compromise the Soviets might not oppose too strongly. Laos had called for U. N. troops to meet the alleged Red aggression in the same way that the Western powers rallied to the defense of South Korea against Communist North Korea in 1950.

The Western plan ran into immediate opposition from North Viet Nam which declared the setting up of the fact finding group was illegal.

The Hanoi government also charged that the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization (SEATO) headed by the United States, plans direct intervention in Laos.

The Red regime said the only way to ease tension in the Southeast Asia kingdom was to enforce the Geneva agreement of 1954 that ended the Indochinese war and to restore the international control commission it provided.

A spokesman in Hanoi denied again that North Vietnamese troops are fighting in Laos.

Ortona and representatives of the other member nations of the subcommittee — Koto Matsudaira of Japan, Mario Amadeo of Argentina and Monghi Slim of Tunisia—set up this timetable:

Asked their home governments to name within 24 hours personnel to make the first-hand inquiry.

Suggested that men be picked who are immediately available so the working group could hold its first meeting here Thursday.

Asked the U. N. secretariat to furnish the working group with all available background information on what has been going on in Laos.

The preparations went on despite the Soviet contention that the Security Council acted illegally in refusing to recognize the Soviet negative votes as a double veto.

The double veto—which the U.S.S.R. has used several times—enables a permanent Big Five member to determine by its single vote whether a proposal is substantive (basic), then by another single vote to kill the proposal with a veto.

In the Laos case, the council majority held that the charter made plain that creation of subsidiary bodies was procedural rather than substantive.

China, India Told To Settle Dispute

LONDON (AP) — The Soviet Union issued a call today for Red China and India to settle their frontier disputes "in the interests of both countries."

The call came in a statement by the official Soviet news agency Tass, and broadcast by Radio Moscow.

The statement said Western reports of incidents on the Indian-Chinese frontier were calculated to stir up tension before Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's visit to the United States.

It added: "It is hoped that the Chinese and Indian governments will settle the incidents in the interests of both countries."

This was the first major Moscow statement on the dispute between China and India. The Kremlin apparently has been caught between two fires—its alliance with the Peiping Communists and its long and costly attempts to woo India.

A Tass statement issued in this way is a device frequently employed by the Soviet Union to bring pressure on other governments without getting the Kremlin involved in public diplomatic dealings.

TOKYO (AP) — Red China pledged today she will respect the territories of Bhutan and Sikkim as Indian protectorates and offered to settle her border disputes with India through friendly negotiations.

The conciliatory move came six days before the opening in New York of a U.N. General Assembly at which India has proposed seating of Red China. Similar bids by Communist friends of Red China and neutrals for replacement of Nationalist China have failed year by year.

At the same time the Peiping regime declared all the border trouble was "caused by trespassing and provocations by Indian troops."

The pledge and the offer were made by Communist Chinese Premier Chou En-lai to Indian Prime Minister Nehru in a letter dated Sept. 8. It was broadcast by the New China News Agency, which said the letter was in reply to a letter from Nehru of March 22.

Chou offered to settle all China's border disputes with India "through friendly negotiations conducted in a well-prepared way, step by step."

Nehru's letter was written before the recent tension caused by Red Chinese crossings of what India has long considered her frontier.

Liner Constitution Blamed In Collision

NEW YORK (AP) — The Coast Guard has found the liner Constitution at fault in a collision with the tanker Jalanta March 1 just outside New York Harbor.

The Coast Guard found that the primary cause of the collision was "the failure of the U.S. Constitution to go at a moderate speed in a fog and failure to stop her engines and navigate with caution upon hearing forward of her beam the fog signal of a vessel, the position of which was not ascertained."

Controversy Slows Congress

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Compromise and controversy prevailed today as a harassed and bickering Congress snailed its way toward a seemingly ever-retreating adjournment date.

Inter-party compromises promising progress on such issues as housing were countered by controversy threatening delays on such matters as civil rights and enforcement of the Senate's rules.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, who has been consistently bearish on plans of other leaders to quit Saturday, fixed the early part of next week as a more likely date.

He said that, if Congress still is in session, it will be up to the State Department to decide whether Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, who arrives Tuesday, should be asked to address it.

"We always invite anybody they ask us to," he said. Previously GOP leaders had said President Eisenhower is keeping hands off this touchy situation.

Proceeding cautiously around a series of rules roadblocks set up by Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore), the Senate moved toward action today on a compromise housing bill. Democrats were assured President Eisenhower would sign it despite vetoes of two previous measures in this field.

Congress Tuesday whipped through a $1,185,309,093 public works appropriation bill in a form the President still doesn't like. Republicans said it may be vetoed as its predecessor was.

The House passed it 302-93. The Senate followed suit 73-15. Both were well over the two-thirds margin needed to override a veto.

Eisenhower vetoed the previous bill because it contained money for 67 unbudgeted water projects. The new version retained all these projects, but the over-all total was held $97,166 below the President's budget because of cuts in amounts for the various projects.

Morse continued to slow down Senate action by frequent objections to unanimous consent requests. He told his colleagues Tuesday that the last big money bill of the session—the foreign aid measure—is not going to be considered until Saturday if he can prevent earlier action.

The Senate remained in session late Tuesday night to receive the bill formally from its Appropriations Committee and thus make consideration this week possible under Senate rules. A required three-day waiting period normally is waived by unanimous consent, but Morse has blocked such actions during the week.

The Senate committee restored only about 95 million dollars of the cuts voted by the House, which voted 390 millions less than the total authorized in an earlier bill.

Man Charged In Burglary

A charge of burglary was filed here yesterday afternoon against Juan Riojas Hernandez.

Sheriff Earl Abercrombie said the charge, filed by Wayland Holt, district attorney, was in connection with burglary of a car owned by Phillip Ballard of Odessa while the car was parked in front of Ballard's Cafe here Sunday night. Abercrombie said some clothes were taken from the car. The clothes were recovered Sunday morning.

Bond for Hernandez was set at $1,000.

Hernandez pleaded guilty yesterday to a misdemeanor charge of driving while intoxicated in county court, and his punishment was set at $123.50 fine and costs and three days in jail. He is "laying out" the fine in jail.

The Snyder man was also on probation on a two-year penitentiary sentence given him in March, 1958, for driving while intoxicated as a repeated offense.

Judge Rough In DWI Cases

AUSTIN (AP) — Dist. Judge Mace Thurman Jr. made it rough yesterday for repeat driving while intoxicated offenders.

A 36-year-old father of six children got a year in county jail. His record shows seven previous DWI cases since 1946.

A 39-year-old man also got a year in jail. He had been before the court on DWI charges in November, January and February.

Another father of six children, age 31, got six months in jail. It was his fourth drunken driving case.

A 34-year-old man got six months on a DWI charge filed after an auto-pedestrian accident.

Thurman gave the convicted men until Sept. 28 to get their affairs in order before beginning their sentences.

Southwest Scurry Road Ordered Closed

A road in southwest Scurry County has been ordered closed by the county commissioners court.

The road, in Precinct 3, is about three and one-half miles west of Ira and includes a bridge across Bluff Creek.

Pat Moore, Precinct 3 commissioner, reported to the court that the road is little-traveled and that the bridge is dangerous for further use.

The county will also advertise for bids on a maintenance barn for Precinct 2.

Panel Criticizes Mansfield School

WASHINGTON (AP) — Officials of the Mansfield, Tex., schools and former Gov. Allan Shivers were criticized by the Commission of Civil Rights Tuesday for their handling of the Mansfield school disorder in 1956.

The Mansfield schools were under federal court order to integrate but a large crowd of pro-segregationists prevented Negro students from enrolling.

In its first report to President Eisenhower, the commission said Shivers ordered Texas Rangers to help keep the peace and urged local school authorities to transfer any pupils "whose attendance or attempts to attend Mansfield High School would reasonably be calculated to incite violence."

The report said that this statement "implied criticism of the U.S. Supreme Court and of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People for having, by their actions, caused the Mansfield situation."

Shivers said he had not heard of the report, did not want to hear about it and would have no comment.

The incident was covered in a historical summary of the five years since the high court ruled against compulsory public school segregation.

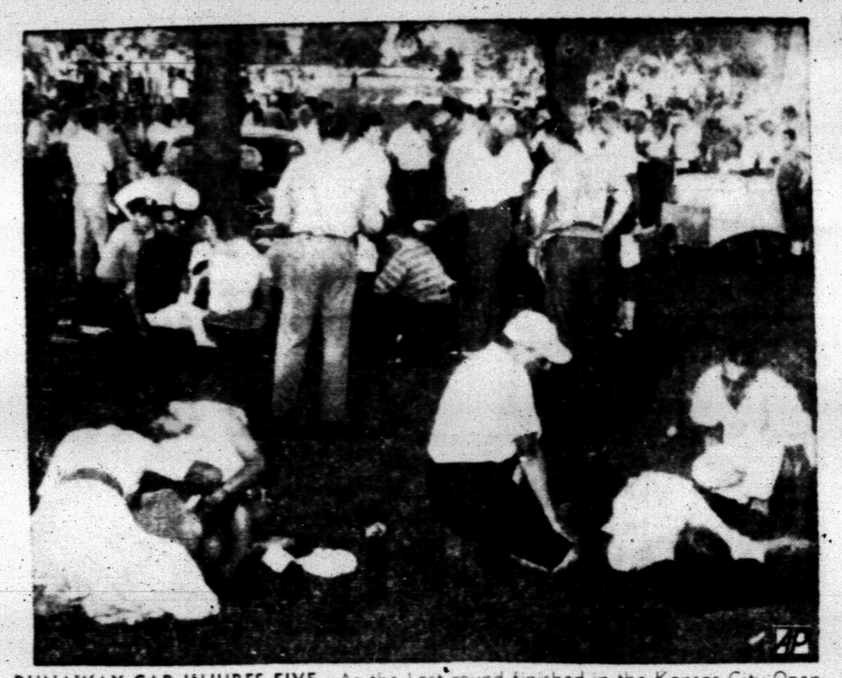

Mansfield was the first public school in Texas ordered to desegregate.

"The only newspaper took a pro-segregationist position and crowds of extremists prevented Negro pupils from registering at the white school. The school superintendent chose not to take a position of leadership," the commission report said.

Tracing Texas chool desegregation, the report noted that in September 1955 a total of 65 districts voluntarily ended segregation although none of them was in deep East Texas where most of the state's Negro population lives.

The following year another 49 districts were desegregated, but the same year the legislative forces began to move.

"Prospects for further instances of school desegregation were virtually foreclosed in Texas when the governor on May 23, 1957, signed a bill providing that any future desegregation could occur qualified electors of the district in a special referendum," the report said.

Khrushchev's Full Itinerary Remains A Mystery In U. S.

By LEWIS GULICK

WASHINGTON (AP)—Just what Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev will see on his visit to the United States is still an official mystery, even though his arrival is only six days away.

So far only a bare-bones outline of the Soviet premier's itinerary has been issued here, although the announcement of his coming was made by President Eisenhower more than five weeks ago.

An apparent reason for the delay lies in red tape in Moscow, thicker than the Washington variety, which makes still more difficult the arduous task of preparing for an historic visit of top importance.

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty has named the half-dozen U. S. cities Khrushchev will visit and the dates.

The White House also has announced the detailed schedule for the first two days of the Sept. 15-27 visit. These are Khrushchev's initial days in Washington, marked by ceremonial functions.

But as for specific questions on what the Soviet leader will do on his cross-country travels from New York to Los Angeles—and the questions pour in by the hundreds—the official reply here is that it is still uncertain when an announcement can be made.

That is the stock answer given even after persons and organizations along the Khrushchev route have passed out word locally of arrangements for the visitor.

U. S.-Soviet negotiations over what farm and factory to see, what transportation to use, and other nuts-and-bolts details of the visit have been conducted here through Undersecretary of State Robert Murphy and Ambassador Mikhail Menshikov.

The catch is that what the two diplomats agree on in Murphy's office is not necessarily final.

Menshikov isn't taking chances on okaying something Khrushchev might not like. He messages back to Moscow and may wait days for a reply. Then he sees Murphy again on more details.

On top of this, Khrushchev is noted for acting on impulse. The possibility is left open there that even after the announcement of a specific schedule, the Kremlin chief will take a notion to do something else.

The headaches to planners from an unsettled schedule are compounded on a mammoth scale.

About 100 Soviets are expected to accompany the Premier to the United States. They will have to be received, fed, and housed.

About 350 newsmen and photographers have applied to cover the tour. More than a thousand want accreditation at local stops.

Federal and local security officials will have to mesh gears to provide protection and handle the crowds.

The traveling horde will need special transportation and accommodations not easy to come by. In the matter of hotel reservations, for instance, advance checks show that during the Sept. 20-21 period allotted for Khrushchev's stop at San Francisco, seven conventions will be in town.

Baptist Assn. Session Set

The annual meeting of the Mitchell-Scurry Baptist Association has been set for tomorrow and Friday at the First Baptist Church in Colorado City.

The meeting will get underway at 7:15 p.m. tomorrow with the Rev. W. L. Cass, pastor of the Bethel Baptist Church of Snyder, giving the annual sermon.

In tomorrow night's session, there will be several reports including a treasurer's report by C. O. Thrower of Colorado City, budget committee report by the Rev. Jimmie Nelson of Snyder and mission report by the Rev. P. D. Sullivan, association missionary.

Beginning at 9:30 a.m. Friday, there will be reports by organizations and standing committees, a report on the District 8 emcampment by F. C. Bradley of Denver City, and discussion of work of District 8 by the Rev. J. W. Arnett, district secretary.

The main address at 11:30 a.m. Friday will be by Dr. R. A. Springer, state treasurer for the Baptist General Convention of Texas for the past 25 years.

On Friday afternoon there will be special committee reports, officer election and an address by D. C. Hamilton of Lubbock on the Texas Baptist Benevolent Homes.

The Rev. A. J. Martin, pastor of the Avenue D Baptist Church here, is now moderator of the association.

Final Talley Lists 438

By The Associated Press

A final talley shows 438 persons died in traffic accidents during the 78 hours of the Labor Day holiday weekend.

The record of 461 was set in 1951.

The National Safety Council had estimated 450 lives would be lost in traffic during the weekend extending from 6 p.m. Friday to midnight Monday, local time.

In addition to deaths from traffic accidents this year, there were 29 drownings resulting from boating accidents, 62 non-boating drownings and 84 deaths from miscellaneous accidents. The overall total for the holiday was 613.

Scout Hut Damaged Slightly By Fire

A fire did slight damage at a small building at the Boy Scout hut on the Clairemont road last night, city firemen said.

The fire was started by Boy Scouts who chased a snake into the building, then attempted to smoke it out, catching the building on fire accidentally. They had put the fire out before firemen arrived.

Ingrid Wins New Round In Battle

ROME (AP)—A tearful Ingrid Bergman today won another round in her court battle with Roberto Rossellini for custody of the three children born of their now broken union.

Rome's Civil Court, in a stormy session behind closed doors, turned down an appeal by the Italian film director to set aside a temporary court ruling that gives the Swedish film star custody of the children.

The temporary ruling gives Rossellini the right to have the children for two months during their school vacation period.

Rossellini sought permanent custody of the children. They are now at his summer home at Santa Marinella, about 20 miles north of Rome.

The court granted him the right to have the children for another month—until Oct. 7. Then he is to return them to their mother in Paris.

Miss Bergman arrived from Paris Tuesday night for today's hearing.

She shook hands with Rossellini when they met in court today.

It was the Swedish film star's first meeting with the Italian director since her marriage late last year with Swedish businessman Lars Schmidt.

Miss Bergman turned her shoulders when Rossellini started to greet her.

"Why can we not be friends, as we separated," said Rossellini.

Ingrid then smiled and extended her hand.

Electronic Marvel Makes Its Debut

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mobot Mark 1, a mechanical and electronic marvel designed to take man's place in dangerous areas, made its debut today.

Scientists took the wraps off Mobot at the Hughes Aircraft Co. nuclear electronics laboratories where it was developed for the Atomic Energy Commission's Sandia Laboratories at Albuquerque, N.M.

Looking somewhat like a small tractor, Mobot can maneuver handily, perform intricate tasks with its metal fingers and see through television-camera eyes.

The fantastic machine will do its work in "hot" areas of the atomic laboratories where man-made radiation is too intense for humans.

Mobot was described as the first operable machine to be both completely mobile and remote - controlled.

Dr. Allen E. Puckett, vice president of Huges, said Mobot Mark 1 will be used by Sandia to test effects of radiation upon materials. But future versions may someday scoop up a bucketful of moondust for return to earth, labs, farm the ocean bottom, fight fires and rescue men from disaster areas such as those containing poisonous gases," he added.

John L. Colp, head of Sandia's radiation effects section, said Mobot, with its TV-camera eyes, will find and item to be tested and carry it into a radiation lock adjacent to an irradiation cell, then return to its "hot" lab.

Test items can be removed by reversing this procedure. Mobot, which can use electric screwdrivers or nut runners, can disassemble the irradiated items for testing.

Mobot's pilot sits safely in another area behind thick concrete and directs the robot's movements with pistol-like grip controls which form electronic reins. He views the "hot" room through Mobot's TV eyes.

Turncoat Is Anxious To Come Back

By A. I. GOLDBERG

MOSCOW (AP)—A New York metal worker who applied for Soviet citizenship 10 days ago says he already is homesick for the United States and wants to go home.

Nicholas Petrulli, 38, of Valley Stream, N.Y., appealed to the U.S. Embassy Tuesday night to give him back the American citizenship he renounced.

"I don't have any family here, I haven't made any new friends, I don't have a job or money and would have to learn a new language," he told newsmen.

Petrulli said he has cabled his brother in Valley Stream for money to pay his Moscow hotel bills.

He already has his plane ticket home. He held on to the round-trip ticket he had on his $965 tour that brought him to Moscow Aug. 11.

Petrulli handed his passport to the U.S. Embassy last Thursday with a signed statement renouncing his American citizenship.

He had already written the Soviet Parliament asking for Soviet citizenship but got no reply. He said then he felt "economically and morally at home in the Soviet Union."

In Los Angeles, Petrulli's divorced wife, Helen, said she was "glad he changed his mind." She offered to take him back. They have a 4-year-old daughter.

The most important consideration in teaching is not the subject matter but the child being taught, the educator said. The teacher must teach the "whole child," taking care of many needs. This can't come from books alone but "Comes as a full growth of a dynamic relationship between the student and teacher."

A community has a responsibility to the teacher, the SMU president reminded the crowd. In attracting the best people to teach, pay as much as other professions, measure them by the size of their contribution and not the size of their car, provide and element of freedom and give them a sense of mission as co-workers with God.

"It is important? It's the hope of the world."

Tate was introduced by the Rev. Harry Vanderpool, pastor of the First Methodist Church. Bob Crowell was master of ceremonies. Invocation was by the Rev. Walter Lentz, pastor of the Grace Lutheran Church. A welcome to teachers was given by Dr. John Blum, chamber president, and response was by Roger Gee, president of the Snyder Classroom Teachers Association.

Special entertainment was rendition of several numbers from "Annie Get Your Gun," which is planned for presentation as an all-school musical next spring, by several members of the school music teaching faculty. They were Bob Clinton, Mrs. Bob Womack, Mrs. Landis Lee, Tim Dennis, Bill Green, Gee, Mrs. Bill McLaughlin and Dorothy King.

Former Snyderite Married Saturday In Lubbock Rites

Mr. and Mrs. Winfred C. Evans will be at home at 806 West Hildebrand, San Antonio, when they return from their wedding trip to Mexico.

The couple was married at 3 p.m. Saturday in the Ford Memorial Chapel of First Baptist Church in a double-ring ceremony read by the Rev. James T. Bolding.

The bride is the former Miss Patrica Ann Brock, daughter of Mrs. Hazel Jones Brock of Hobbs, N.M. Mrs. Evans is the son of Mrs. Opal Neer and Raymond Evans of Snyder.

When the bride was given in marriage by James J. Jones, her grandfather, she wore a white imported Chantilly lace and net gown designed with three-quarter length sleeves and ankle length skirt. She wore a finger-tip veil caught by a pearl crown and carried white carnations atop her white Bible and a handkerchief belonging to her great grandmother.

Mrs. Jim Ball was matron of honor.

Miss Linda Brock and Miss Betty Brock of Hobbs, sisters of the bride, were bridesmaids.

Bridal attendants wore sky blue taffeta sheath dresses with full net overskirts and each carried a single white mum.

Don Lewis of Goldsmith was best man. Ushers were Bobby Wells, a cousin of the groom, and Jackie Evans, of Snyder, brother of the groom. Groomsmen were Bill and Don Halpain of Snyder.

Wedding music was given by Mrs James J. Jones of Hobbs, grandmother of the bride, organist, and Mrs. Jimmy Ward, soloist.

A reception in the church parlor followed the ceremony. Assisting with hospitalities were Mrs. Jimmy Holder, Miss Judy Jackson and Miss Jaynet Simpson.

For travel, the bride wore a burnt orange and gold plaid dress suit with gold accessories. She is a graduate of Hobbs High School and has been employed in Lubbock by Galbraith Steel and Supply Co. Her husband is a graduate of Snyder High School and spent three years in the Air Force. He is employed in San Antonio by Community Finance and Thrift Corp.

Complicated Rights

A few days ago the Associated Press carried a story about citizens in a Negro community at Savannah, Ga., protesting when a white family planned to move into their neighborhood.

This item probably was passed off as a "freak" incident up north.

However, the Marshall News Messenger recently called attention to an item in the New York Times which probably surprised many people, North and South.

The article reported that some New York Negro families were sending their children to segregated schools in the South. There was a logical reason, of course. Public schools in New York are overcrowded, which always makes for trying situations. In addition, the spreading juvenile delinquency and racial tension there were contributing factors.

Some Negro leaders in New York estimated that as many as 2,000 children were involved, although there were some who contended that not more than 50 Negro children were sent South. However, the fact that such a thing is occurring indicates that reaction to integration is by no means unanimous on either side.

Then, there are the areas where schools have recently been integrated, while some segregated schools remain for Negroes who desire to attend them. Now, such schools feel compelled to open "third" schools to provide segregated schools for white pupils who desire to attend them. Such a move is required to give the white pupils opportunity equal to that afforded Negroes, they reason.

Civil rights are becoming more complicated by the hour.

Uncertain Year Is Getting Underway

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Business starts its new year this week with more than the usual parcel of uncertainties. For many industries and most merchants, Labor Day is much more of a turning point than Jan. 1.

Before the month is over businessmen could have answers to many problems: What the Soviet Premier's visit will bring, the effects and outcome of the steel and copper strikes, the debut of the new cars and new models of the old, tightening money, the chills and fever at present in the stock market, how freely consumers will buy the new fall goods.

Headlines will center first on the the arrival Tuesday of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev. The visit has everyone guessing, businessmen along with the rest. What will happen to the cold war has dollar and cents impact on the defense industries, especially aircraft and electronics—and it just possibly could bring lower taxes in time.

Khrushchev seems likely to renew his request for more trade through relaxation of American curbs on exports. He may give American businessmen some clue as to how much of a competitor the Soviet Union could become in world trade.

Crowding even Khrushchev for top billing will be the steel and copper strikes. This time business sees in the conflict between labor and management more fundamental principles than in any previous postwar tussle.

Both sides seem more determined to stick by their guns in the fight over the questions: Can there be a wage increase without further inflation? Should management be allowed to change some of the recently acquired factory working rules which it says add to costs.

Detroit isn't the only place they're wondering whether motorist will take to the new compact cars—and if they do what that will do to sale of foreign cars here, or to the larger models of American make.

The return of an auto buying spree like 1955 would have a spreading effect all though the economy.

And one place it would be felt quickly is in the money market, where tightening credit and rising interest rates are just beginning to be felt at the consumer level.

Cost of bank loans to business already have risen. Talk is rowing that charges on instalment buying is coming next. The big credit institutions have just announced they'll charge auto dealers more to finance inventories and sales of cars.

Perhaps the greatest uncertainty of all at the moment is what the stock market will do. Bulls and bears have been on a teeter-totter of late.

Many investors and traders are having a hard time deciding if the bull market is over, just taking a breather before a new climb, or in for a correction—a word that means that many high flying stocks may be brought closer to earth.

Little Chance For Major Rights Bill

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Major civil rights legislation this year is as unlikely as the idea that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev will ask for political asylum when he lands here next week.

Congress, rushing to get away before Khrushchev arrives, may renew the life of the President's six-man Civil Rights Commission which otherwise dies Nov. 9. That's the most in view.

Civil rights advocates might like to think that if not this year then next year Congress will ram through a strong civil rights bill. Don't bet on it, even though 1960 could be noisy.

Next year is the big election year—for the presidency and Congress—and Southern Democrats, no matter what the year, can be relied on to fight any civil rights bill with real teeth in it.

Such a fight, if it got nasty enough, could split the Democratic party wide open at a time when it wanted unity at the polls.

The Democratic leaders in Congress—Sen. Lyndon Johnson and Speaker Sam Rayburn, both of Texas—are compromisers who don't like splits. Johnson himself is a possible candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Tuesday the Civil Rights Commission, although without much real power of its own, threw another log on the fire with a report making some proposals in the civil rights field.

Southern Democrats hopped on them angrily and at once, even though they are still only in the talking stage. Nevertheless, the commission's suggestions are bound to be one more point of argument next year.

But judging from past performance—the maneuvering and compromising in Congress—plus the fact that 1960 is election time, it seems safe to say any civil rights legislation passed next year will be fairly mild.

This seemed the year for any effort at a strong civil rights bill—since Southerners would have had another year to cool off—but neither Johnson nor Rayburn sought to make civil rights a major issue this year.

Varying civil rights proposals were put forth by Johnson, by President Eisenhower, and by Sen. Paul Douglas (D-Ill.) who was joined by 14 other Democratic and Republican senators.

All of the proposals landed in an icebox because of Southern Democrats' tactics in locking them up in committee and thus keeping them from getting out on the floor of the House or Senate for a vote.

The committees which did the locking up are headed by Southerners.

Earlier this year the Leadership Conference on Civil Rights—made up of 53 organizations—threw its weight behind the bill sponsored by Douglas and the other 14 senators. A companion bill was offered in the House by Rep. Emanuel Celler (D-NY), chairman of the House Judiciary Committee.

Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People and chairman of the conference, called the Douglas measure "certainly the No. 1 civil rights bill."

From the start, this looked like the one with the least chance.

A statement by the conference's executive committee found some good in Eisenhower's proposals but said the Johnson bill might result in "civil rights being bargained away rather than enforced."

If any measure gets through next year, it isn't likely to be the Douglas bill but more probably some middle - road legislation which the Southerners won't find too unpalatable.

Some Jobs Grow Steadily Tougher

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Some jobs get harder the longer you work at them, no matter how skilled you become.

It is that way with Oscar Hammerstein II, playwright, producer and lyricists.

After 50 musical plays and a thousand songs in 40 years, he finds that song No. 1,001 as elusive to pin down as when he began back in 1919.

He can be seen striding back and forth on the second-floor porch of his 200-year-old Bucks County, Pa., farmhouse.

"I'm a pacer when I work," said Hammerstein, who is writing the last of 14 lyrics for his latest opus with composer Richard Rodgers, the life story of Maria von Trapp of the famous Austrian singing family.

"It's hard work. I walk miles and miles sometimes before I get a phrase.

"I don't know of any art form that requires simplicity more than a song does. But you have to wade through a lot of nonessential detours to get on the right road."

Hammerstein, who started out as a lawyer, jots down words and ideas on a pad of long, lined yellow paper at an antique stand-up desk.

To turn out a single song recently he used up 100 sheets of paper while working every day for more than four weeks.

At 64—he looks a rugged, well-preserved 50—he has turned out enough hits to win immortality. But he says he wants to go on writing as long as he can find new themes.

"Real showmen are like gamblers," he said. "They ride with the good and bad."

"Success in the theater is gained by departing from the beaten path, and this is achieved chiefly by the so-called commercial managers, writers and actors," he said.

Unchanged by success, Hammerstein likes chess, baseball, tennis, a swim every morning, and the pleasures of family life. He and his wife have 11 grandchildren.

His friendliness and tolerant optimism have made him one of the best-liked men in show business.

"I recognize the imperfections of life," he said. "The most important thing in living is to recognize the imperfection of human beings.

"Our assumption that we are more civilized than we really are makes us too disappointed in ourselves. We fight too much to prove that what we don't know is so."

Grocer Learns He Burned His Money

PARIS, Ky. (AP)—Grocer Raymond Yazell doesn't have money to burn, but he did it.

He opened his store and went about his usual morning chore of burning the trash. Then his wife returned from a Labor Day trip and said she had hidden $400 in cash and $100 in checks before she left.

The hiding place? The trash basket.

Ewbank Has One Problem

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Consider the plight of Baltimore coach Weeb Ewbank if something should happen to sideline quarterback Johnny Unitas, the passing Wizard who pitched the Colts to the National Football League championship last season.

With No. 2 signal-caller George Shaw peddled to the New York Giants, Ewbank has only defensive specialists Andy Nelson and Ray Brown as insurance against an injury to Unitas, who had to sit out a couple of key games during the 1958 campaign with fractured ribs.

Tuesday Ewbank took the initial steps to prepare for such an eventuality and rectify what could become of dangerous situation.

Step No. 1 is the assigning of Brown, who played offensively in college at Mississippi, to the starting quarterback role for Sunday's meeting with the Eagles at Philadelphia. Nelson will be given a thorough test for the remainder of the exhibition schedule.

Step No. 2 concerns shoring up the Colts pass protection. After reviewing films of Blatimore's last outing against Pittsburgh, Ewbank said the team's pass protection "wasn't good enough," and cautioned: "It had better improve."

In the Green Bay camp, new coach Vince Lombardi learned that former All-America end Ron Kramer is expected out of service shortly and will rejoin the Packers.

The former Michigan star will strengthen the offensive end position where the Packers were weakened by the sale of Billy Howton to the Cleveland Browns. He has also had experience as a slot back.

Lombardi also said Alex Hawkins, former South Carolina standout, likely will draw the starting halfback assignment for the Packers' nationally televised game with Washington at Winston-Salem, N. C., Saturday night.

The Redskins, meanwhile, bolstered their defensive backfield by buying halfback Bill Stits from San Francisco. The 'Skins gave up a draft choice to get the five-year veteran.

The Giants trimmed their roster to 44, dropping Soph halfback Don Maynard, used almost exclusively on running back punts last year; defensive half Sid Williams, and defensive end Jon Jelacic.

LAMAR JUNIOR HIGH, which will not be a separate junior high here until midterm, already has its own football team. The large seventh grade squad includes, left to right, front row, Louis Cole, Charlie Park, Loyd Hamilton, Jimmy Thompson, Pat Alexander, Gary Blacksher, Jim Sullenger, Rodney Gray; second row, Ronnie Malone, David Carroll, Mike Williamson, Bob Mooty, Kenneth Gay, Bill Grimmett, Lee Van Tucker, Tom Kincaid, Lee McKinley; third row, Richard Bennett, Brent Lindsey, David Young, Joe Worthington, Albert Williams, J. N. Wall, Tim Patrick, Jerry Vestal, Drew Bullard, Jay Williamson, Jerry Wilson; fourth row, Roy Carter, coach; Larry Jones, Phillip Floyd, Roy Miller, James Hamblen, Jack Keller, Jerry Owens, Steve Crowell, Ronnie Fitzgerald, Jimmy Beckham, and Robert O'Day, coach. More Passing Is Due This Season

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

The attack phase of college football this year will spread teams hither and yon and open more opportunities to exploit the passing game.

This much was promised before fall drills began since the experimental stage passed its tests with flying colors in spring practice.

Now, with a Sept. 18 or 19 opening date getting closer for many teams, and the big opener coming a week later, the varied formations and their attacks are starting to jell.

At Penn's camp in Hershey, Pa., Coach Steve Sebo has declared he will double his team's 1958 passing attack and Tuesday had quarterbacks Larry Purdy and George Koval doing all of the throwing.

Princeton Coach Dick Colman moved Mike Ippolito from blocking back to tailback to take advantage of his passing arm and had him throwing Tuesday.

North Carolina, with its "swinging end" offense to open up the attack, had quarterbacks Jack Cummings, Sky Clements and Ray Farris working on pass patterns. Michigan State's Dean Look put out the team's new double wing with its wingback in motion through its passing phase.

Wake Forest, determined to utilize the Atlantic Coast Conference's No. 2 1958 pass receiver in Pete Manning, worked on pass patterns while AAC neighbor Clemson stressed protection for quarterback Harvey White, its No. 1 passer last year.

Minnesota had soph quarterback Sanford Stephans, its top passer and fastest man, on the sidelines today after he twisted an ankle during drills.

UCLA's "W" formation and variations had a workout Tuesday as the Bruins prepared for their Friday, Sept. 18 night opener at home against Big Ten member Purdue.

Snead, Hogan In Spotlight

By WHITEY SAWYER

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—A couple of magic names in golf, Sam Snead and Ben Hogan, drew most of the attention today as they prepared for the Dallas Open, beginning Friday.

Snead is a grumbling entry and Hogan hasn't yet put in an appearance.

Snead said he had obligations at his White Sulphur Springs, W.Va., headquarters that should have been met.

The slammer said the $200 he'll get as defending champion won't pay his plane fares here. The PGA threatened him with a $500 fine if he didn't show up.

"It will cost men over $500 to play here," Snead said. "It would have been cheaper for me to stay home and pay a $500 fine. I could have made some money giving lessons. Unless I win some money here. . ."

Snead didn't elaborate on the possibility of taking some of the 25,000 in prize money, but he's rated one of the strongest threats in the field.

Hogan, four times National Open champion and this year's Colonial winner, is expected tomorrow or Friday. He's reported practicing in Fort Worth.

Most of the touring pros are expected today.

Ryder Cup Team Named

DALLAS Tex. (AP)—The PGA has formally named the 10 top U.S. golfers to try to get the Ryder Cup back from the British.

The men were picked Tuesday for the matches Nov. 7-8 in Palm Desert, Calif.

All but one of the 10 will compete in the Dallas Open starting here Friday.

Veterans on the squad are Sam Snead of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va.; Jack Burke Jr. of Kiamesha Lake, N.Y.; Dow Finsterwald of Tequesta, Fla.; Doug Ford of Mahopac, N.Y.; Cary Middlecoff of Memphis, Tenn., and Art Wall of Pocono Manor, Pa.

Newcomers are Julius Boros of Southern Pines, N.C., Jay Hebert of Sanford, Fla., Bob Rosburg of Napa, Calif., and Mike Souchak of Durham, N.C.

Rawls Heads Strong Field In Tournament

ATLANTA (AP) — Betsy Rawls heads a strong field of professionals who will compete in the Atlanta Women's Open next week.

The Spartanburg, S.C., swinger has won nine tournaments and more than $20,000 this year.

The 72-hole medal play tourney runs Thursday through Sunday and carries a $7,500 purse.

San Antonio Club's Fate Is Discussed

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Whether San Antonio is to continue in the Texas League is the major topic as the league playoffs near their conclusion.

Austin leads San Antonio 2-0 in the final playoff which will determine the club that meets the Mexican League winner for the Pan American Association championship.

The Baltimore Orioles, owners of the San Antonio park, have announced they want to sell the plant. They haven't indicated if they will lease it if it is not disposed of.

Marvin Milkes, president of the San Antonio club, won't say definitely if he will retain his franchise here. He said that he probably will if he can renew the lease, "unless I get a better offer somewhere."

Allen Russell, owner of the Austin club, was reported attempting to buy the San Antonio park and bring his franchise here. Russell said while he was interested he found he couldn't do so because Baltimore's price is too high.

Should San Antonio be lost it would be a terrific blow to the Texas League but officials don't think this will happen. They have obtained five working agreements with big league clubs and prospects are considered good that another will be obtained to fill out the league.

Also, they want to renew their interlocking schedule arrangement with the Mexican League under the Pan American Association plan that helped five of the six clubs make a profit, with the other probably splitting even.

Russell said the Mexican League clubs are hesitating to renew the arrangement because of the difference in expenses involved in the interlocking schedule. The Mexican clubs have to spend much more than the Texas League clubs in making the trips into the other's territory because of the difference in money value.

Lauro Salas Held To Draw By Valdez

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Despite some solid punches in the early rounds, Lauro Salas, former world lightweight champion, was held to a draw Tuesday night by Frankie Valdez.

Salas weighed 127¼, Valdez 129½.

Judges E. L. Burchfield and Eddie Lopez called the bout even 96-96. Referee Leonard Zuniga saw it 98-95 for Salas.

Salas was slow and hardly the fighter who beat Jimmy Carter for the championship in 1952. He lost it back to Carter the same year.

Lamar Has Most Footballers Out

Snyder's largest junior high football squad is the seventh grade crowd representing Lamar Junior High.

While all junior high students will be going to school in the Travis Junior High Building until midterm, the Travis and Lamar schools already have separate seventh grade squads which will play separate schedules.

The Lamar team will officially open the season for the Snyder schools, since it will be the first to play a game. Lamar hosts Sweetwater Seventh grade at 4:30 p.m. Thursday on Tiger Stadium.

At 6 p.m. Travis Junior High seventh grade team will take on Goliad of Big Spring here, and at 8 p.m. the eighth grade team, which represents both junior highs, will clash with the Goliad eighth.

Rounding out the week's schedule for Snyder will be the varsity team, which is opening its schedule at Borger Friday night, and the B team, which goes to Midland Saturday night.

There are 42 youths on the Lamar seventh grade team, which is coached by Roy Carter and Bob O'Day.

Of those, 15, are backs and 27 are linemen. It is a light team, with backs averaging about 95 pounds and linemen about 107.

Seventh graders are inexperienced except for what they picked up in Pee Wee football. Carter said most of the Lamar seventh graders played in the Pee Wee program.

The Lamar youths last year attended elementary school at West and North Elementary.

Buses To Borger Planned By QBC

Chartered buses will make the trip to Borger Friday with Snyder fans if enough buy bus tickets before tomorrow afternoon.

The Snyder Quarterback Club, in its weekly meeting last night, made plans for the chartered buses and decided to place tickets on sale today.

Round trip tickets on the bus will be $8.68 for adults or students. The tickets are on sale today at the W & W Red Barn and at the high school principal's office, according to Dr. B. J. Weaver, QB Club president.

There must be enough tickets sold by 5 p.m. tomorrow for the buses to be chartered. A minimum of 41 tickets to the bus must be sold.

The buses will leave the high school at 1:30 p.m. Friday for Borger. They will return here immediately after the game Friday night. The game will be at 8 p.m.

Elroy Face Nears Record

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — "I'm just not going to lose this season. This is my year."

That's what bullpen Baron Elroy Face of the Pittsburgh Pirates says despite the lashing his pitching has taken of late.

The relief ace, who presently enjoys a 17-0 record, doesn't even consider the remote possibility of a loss seriously.

"The guys are taking pretty good care of me," said Face. "There have been some close calls, but they come up and get met out of trouble or come from behind and win the ball game for me."

Face has only 15 more games in which to get two more wins to tie the records of Carl Hubbell's major league mark of 24 straight in two season with the New York Giants in 1936 and 1937 and Rube Marquard's record of 19 straight in one season with the Giants in 1912.

Lopez Sold On Landis

Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — The go-go Chicago White Sox, heading for the American League pennant, have a couple of real valuable players in shortstop Luis Aparicio and second baseman Nellie Fox.

But don't foreget the guy who patrols the outer garden, says Manager Al Lopez.

He is center fielder Jim Landis, one of the hottest hitters in the majors. Landis has been a main factor in Chicago's drive to a five-game lead in the American League pennant race.

Landis was batting a feeble .125 in May. Since then he has hit safely in 62 of 87 games and lifted his average to a respectable .280.

He has been batting at a .397 clip the last 17 games.

Last year Landis got hot in June and helped pull the Sox from last place to second.

Lopez, despite criticism when Landis was in a slump, has kept the 25-year-old outfielder playing regularly.

Louisville Is 1959 Champ

By The Associated Press

Louisville, dead last in 1958, ruled Wednesday as this year's champions of the American Association regular season.

The Colonels blanked Fort Worth in a doubleheader 2-0 and 8-0 to wrap up the Eastern Division crown and win the Association title by virtue of the best won-lost record — 97-64 — among the 10 Association teams.

Louisville is three games ahead of runnerup Minneapolis going into the final contests of the regular season Wednesday night.

The post season playoffs beginning Friday send Fort Worth, runnerup in the Western Division, to Louisville and Minneapolis, the the Eastern's no. 2 team, to Omaha, winner of the Western competition.

Charleston's 1958 champions are last in the Eastern loop but in the 10 - team standings rank seventh. Fans met at Charleston Tuesday night to study the future of baseball there after the Senators' gate barely topped 100,000.

Charleston whipped Houston Tuesday night 4-3.

Denver, putting on one of its biggest offensive shows of the season, whacked Omaha 20-4. Dallas crushed Indianapolis 9-3. Minneapolis and St. Paul split a doubleheader. The Millers took the opener 3-2 and lost the second contest in 11 innings 4-3.

Leading Sox On Last Big Swing East

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Chicago's White Sox set off on their last long road trip today, packing a five-game lead with 16 to play. And that chuckle in the background is Early Wynn—the guy who was too old to be much help in the American League pennant race.

It was spring when most of the guys who pick the pennant winners made that mistake. Casey Stengel and his New York Yankees were going to win again in the AL. The White Sox, with Wynn drawing spot assignments at most, might finish second, but more likely would come in third, behind Detroit or Cleveland.

Now it's September and Wynn, at 39 years, eight months and three days, has won 19, tops in the AL, and has beaten every club in the league for the first time since 1956.

He did it Tuesday night, winning his third in a row with a 3-2, 10-inning decision over Kansas City. It was the only game scheduled in the majors.

It also was the White Sox' 86th victory—eliminating all the other clubs except second-place Cleveland and officially ending the Yankees' run as champions.

The seventh-place A's, who now have lost 11 in a row, were the only club Wynn hadn't beaten this season. Fact is, they had whipped him three times this year.

They almost got him this time, too. Shut out on three singles for eight innings, the A's scored twice in the ninth for a 2-1 lead before the White Sox tied it and then put it away in the 10th for their 3rd victory in 43 one-run decisions and their 12th in 14 extra-inning games.

The A's made their fuss when Russ Snyder lined his third single with one out and went to third on Dick Williams' single. A passed ball got Snyder home and a throwing error by catcher Johnny Romano on the same play moved Williams to third. Bob Cerv brought Williams in with a sacrifice fly.

The White Sox, who had scored an unearned run in the sixth, squared it on a pinch-single by Sherm Lollar, a sacrifice and Al Smith's single. Smith went all the way to third on Cerv's wild throw, but then was nailed at the plate by Snyder's peg when he tried to score on Bubba Phillips' foul fly to right.

Jim Rivera scored the clincher in the 10th, opening with a pop fly that second baseman Wayne Terwilliger played into a double, then Luis Aparicio singled to beat lefty Bud Daley (15-12), who has lost five in a row.

Wynn, the top winner among active pitchers with 268, finished with a six-hitter, struck out four and didn't walk a man while closing in on his fifth 20-victory season.

The White Sox open a nine-game trip through the East with Bob Shaw (14-6) facing Washington's Tex Clevenger (7-3) tonight. The Indians are at Baltimore for a twi-night doubleheader, with Jack Harshman (5-9) and Jim Perry (10-7) opposing the Orioles' Milt Pappas (14-7) and Hec Brown (9-7).

Don Drysdale On Spot Now

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Don Drysdale, the National League's No. 1 pitcher little more than a month ago, now is the No.1 guy on the spot as the pennant race turns into the final three weeks.

The big right-hander, whose sidearm stuff puffed Los Angeles into contention, hasn't won in a month. Unless he comes back, the Dodgers is dead.

Since his last victory—a five-hit 4-2 job on Milwaukee that gave him seven in a row and pushed the Dodgers within a half-game of first place on Aug. 8—Drysdale has lost six straight and the Dodgers have skidded into a tie for second with Milwaukee, three games behind San Francisco.

Drysdale has failed to put away a complete game in six starts and twice has been a loser in relief. He has been charged with the loss in almost half of the Dodgers' defeats (15) in that span.

Now 15-12, Drysdale gets another crack at junking the slump tonight when the Dodgers open their final, two-game series with last-place Philadelphia at Los Angeles. Like the Giants and Braves, the Dodgers have 17 games remaining.

The Giants, with their three-game lead packed away in the lost column, open a two-game series with Pittsburgh at San Francisco while the Braves play the first of two with St. Louis at Milwaukee.

The American League race puts the two contenders on the road. Chicago's White Sox, padding their lead to five games with a 3-2, 10-inning victory over Kansas City in the only game scheduled Tuesday night, open a nine-game trip at Washington. Second-place Cleveland gets started on a 13-game tour with a twi-night pair at Baltimore.

Drysdale is 2-0 against the Phillies, who have dropped 10 in a row at Los Angeles. But the fearless Phils have won seven of their last 12 games, with six of those victories over the Giants, Braves and Pirates.

Jim Owens (11-11), a right-hander who is 1-3 against the Dodgers, was the Phils' choice against Drysdale and the Dodgers. Owens has won three of his last four.

The Giants send right-hander Jack Sanford (12-12), who has lost three in a row, against the Pirates and lefty Harvey Haddix (11-10.) Sanford is 2-0 against the Bucs. Haddix is 0-2 against the Giants.

Warren Spahn (18-13) shoots for his third straight victory for the Braves, who are 11-9 against the Cardinals. Ernie Broglio (6-11), 0-1 against the Braves, faces Spahnie who has a 53-51 lifetime record over the Cards, but is 2-2 this season.

Krush Can't Afford Friends Around Home

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press News Analyst

"If you live among dogs," says Nikita Sergeyevich Khrushchev, who is fond of proverbs, "Keep a stick with you."

For him, the cautious philosophy paid off. The 220-pound bundle of energy who heads for the United States next week for the announced purpose of making friends never has had many of them at home. A Communist politician o nthe way up couldn't afford friends. And when he reached the pinnacle he found yes-men, imitators and envious rivals.

It was a close call for Khrushchev and other members of Stalin's inner circle early in 1953. In the words of an American diplomat, old Stalin had "reached for the bottle again." A new blood purge seemed inevitable. Nobody was safe.

Stalin, suspecting somebody planned to rub him out in his declining years, cooked up a fantastic tale of a plot by doctors, most of them Jewish, to poison leading Soviet figures, including himself. Moscow had an ugly sense of foreboding.

Luckily for most concerned — possibly it was more than coincidence—Stalin died in March. George M. Malenkov became premier and party leader, the new boss. But he was not strong enough to rule. Within a few weeks the irrepressible Khrushchev nudged Malenkov out of the party leadership. The doctor's plot was denounced as a grim hoax.

Nikita Khrushchev at last was on his way to the top.

Once secret police chief Lavrenty Beria was safely lodged in a Lubyanka prison cellar awaiting the final bullet, and the police organization was purged of tens of thousands of its more dangerous members, Khrushchev was free to throw his considerable weight around. He did.

With his new post as first party secretary formally approved, he promptly denounced the directors of Soviet agriculture for the sorry mess presented by that phase of the economy. He promised to remedy that, to turn a greater share of attention to producing food and consumer goods for a long patient population, to relaxing the more awesome terrors of the Stalin era.

Beria was shot and then given a trial as an American spy. The Russian in the street grinned broadly. Things would be better. And Khrushchev climbed higher. By 1955 he was able to blame Malenkov for Soviet farming woes and forced him to quit as premier with an abject confession of failure. Nikolai Bulganin, goateed and courtly political-military figure, became premier.

When Stalin's body had been safely encased in a gaudy Red Square tomb for three years, Khrushchev finally was strong enough to denounce him to other Communists as a barbarian torturer and murderer, a military imbecile who nearly brought the nation to disaster.

And Khrushchev's other allies? In 1934, when he was climbing toward the top of the heap under the sponsorship of powerful Lazar Kaganovich, Khrushchev noted, "The ideological principled unity of the Moscow (party) organization was achieved thanks to the skilled daily leadership it had in the person of Lazar Moisevich Kaganovich."

In 1957, after maneuvering Kaganovich out of the hierarchy, Khrushchev called him a man who "fawned and did everything to inflate the cult of the personality of Stalin." So had Khrushchev. But Khrushchev had won.

His former ally, Malenkov, became, in Khrushchev's words, a henchman and shadow in the hands of the dread Beria.

Khrushchev and the other top leaders may have owed their lives to an alliance with the military and the war hero, Marshal Georgi K. Zhukov. In 1956 Khrushchev hailed Zhukov as a superb general who had been maligned and exiled by Stalin.

In 1957, the marshal was exiled by Khrushchev, who said he had "violated Leninist principles."

Then the time finally came when Bulganin was to be disgraced. He was forced to confess he had engaged in criminal activity with the antiparty group of Malenkov, Kaganovich and V. M. Molotov, Stalin's right hand in foreign affairs. Bulganin felt obliged to characterize Malenkov as a plotter, Molotov as an ignoramus and Kaganovich as an old windbag.

But Stalin himself was not entirely dead. Some aspects of Stalinism still were necessary, particularly in the world movement. When it came to questions of what is called the inevitable victory of world communism, announced Khrushchev, he and all Communists were still "good Stalinists."

Free at last of his main opposition, Khrushchev stood almost alone in the leadership of the party as its first secretary and in the leadership of the government as its premier.

But he still ruled cautiously. He still had enemies. And, at the lonely pinnacle, he probably could rely on nobody as a real friend.

SOPRANO-SHIPOWNER DATES STIR TALK — Singer Maria Meneghini Callas and shipowner Aristotle Onassis leave La Scala Opera in Milan, Italy, on one of their dates that have stirred reports they may be splitting with their respective mates. Both side-stepped direct answers to whether a romance is brewing. The stormy soprano is married to 62-year-old Italian Industrialist Giovan Battista Meneghini. Miss Callas and her husband were guests of Onassis and his wife much of last month on Onassis' yatch. (AP Wirephoto via radio from Rome).

Maria Callas Calls Quits To Her 10-Year Marriage

By EUGENE LEVIN

MILAN, Italy (AP)—Fiery soprano Maria Callas has called quits to her 10-year marriage to the elderly Italian industrialist who guided her rise to the top in opera.

But the 35-year-old soprano said Aristotle Onassis had nothing to do with the bustup though the Greek shipping tycoon has been her recent date.

Onassis said the same thing, but added he would be "flattered if a woman with the class of Maria Callas fell in love with someone like me."

"Now I am my own manager," Miss Callas told newsmen in announcing the breakup of her marriage to 62-year-old Giovan Battista Meneghini. "It has been coming for a long time."

Attorneys for Miss Callas and Meneghini are working out details of their marital split.

Onassis flew in his private plane Tuesday to Venice where his wife was waiting for him aboard their yacht. He said reports of a romance between him and the temperamental soprano were "fairy tales—silly inventions."

Both Miss Callas and Meneghini were in Milan Tuesday but they did not meet. She is here to complete a recording. He came from their summer home near Verona for a meeting of his attorneys with his wife's lawyer.

Newsmen said they heard loud agitated voices coming from the locked room in a fashionable hotel where the four-hour conference was held.

"Go away," Meneghini shouted to newsmen. "I do not want to talk."

Meneghini has been his wife's staunchest supporter in her battles with opera managements in Europe and the United States.

When they married she weighed 215 pounds. Under his direction she slimmed down to one of the most attractive stars of the opera stage.

Miss Callas showed none of her the marital breakup with newsmen in a bar near the La Scala Opera.

"The breaking is definite — it has been coming for a long time," she said, even before she and her husband were guests on Onassis' yacht last month for a Mediterranean cruise.

Onassis' pretty 29-year-old wife was on the cruise and a special guest was Sir Winston Churchill, Britain's former prime minister. Mrs. Onassis has said nothing about the affair.

Miss Callas said the timing of the cruise and her public breakup with Meneghini were "pure coincidence."

She insisted there was "no sentimental link" between her and the 55-year-old Onassis.

"He is only a good friend of mine assisting me in a difficult moment," she said.

House Painter Has Case Of The Blues

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Donald W. Vannoy, 38, a Springfield house painter, had the blues Tuesday.

Traffic officers reported a car driven by Vannoy had a collision with another vehicle.

Vannoy was hauling 20 gallons of blue paint in his car. It poured over the street in a bright blue pool and splashed Vannoy from head to foot.

When Vannoy pulled out his billfold to show his license, all his papers fell into the blue mess.

The final blue note came when the officers charged Vannoy with reckless operation.

Saunders To Face Another Indictment

AUSTIN (AP)—Another perjury indictment has been returned by the Travis County Grand Jury against former State Board of Insurance chairman J. Byron Saunders of Tyler.

Dist. Atty. Les Procter said Tuesday the new indictment contains a minor correction to one returned last week. It corrected a true bill entered in 1957. Trial is set for Sept. 21.

The charges grew out of Saunders' testimony before legislative committees investigating the 1957 collapse of ICT Insurance Co. of Dallas.

Historic Town Is Circled By Fire

By DEE CHAMBLISS

DEADWOOD, S. D. (AP) — A forest fire first circled and then skipped across this historic gold rush town Tuesday, taking a few homes and businesses, before roaring unchecked into unpopulated timber area to the southeast.

Asst. State Forester Tom Borden said he had heard no confirmed reports of serious injuries or deaths.

The same shifting winds that turned the fire into town helped minimize damage by lofting the blazes into tree tops and producing a scattered pattern of fires.

The flank of the fire was halted three-fourths of a mile from nearby Lead, home of the famous Homestake gold mine.

Deadwood's 3,500 residents were evacuated but some were trickling back early today.

Some of Lead's 6,400 people also were evacuated.

"I wouldn't have given a plugged nickel for the whole town of Deadwood at four o'clock," said Rapid City Journal reporter Ken Jumper.

Jumper, who had fought fires with the Navy in Florida, said "it was the damndest thing I've ever seen.

"The hillsides looked like they had been raked by tracer bullets with Christmas tree lighting as far as you could see," he said.

Late Tuesday night, an estimated 2,000 fighters were digging a wide line several miles ahead of the fire, sacrificing the timber in between to try to stop it there.

Borden said fighters hoped for a drop in winds gusting near 45 m.p.h. at midnight.

A second fire burned wild in timber southeast of the hamlet of Nemo. It apparently did not threaten populated areas.

The two blazes had consumed an estimated 16,000 acres. The Deadwood burn had a 20-mile perimeter late Tuesday night.

Temperatures of -100 plus degrees, a long siege of drought and humidity at a near record low of five per cent set the state for a bad burn.

Then, reportedly, a man's trash fire got loose at a home for the aged southwest of here.

A squall line moved in fast, whipping the fire point into town. The freshening winds lifted the flames into the tall pines and sent them cresting from ridge to ridge.

Remaining on the fireline, grimy and fatigued, were miners, several National Guard units, merchants, residents and Forest Service personnel.

Deadwood, where Wild Bill Hickok and Calamity Jane are buried, is a popular Western tourist attraction. Many of the old frame buildings date from gold rush days.

Fire's Course Is Strictly In Character

DEADWOOD, S. D. (AP) — It was strictly in character for Deadwood to watch a deadly forest fire creep to its doorstep, and then stop.

Deadwood, nestling high in the Black Hills of western South Dakota has a rip-snorting Western history, flavor, and tradition.

Born of the 1876 gold strike in the Black Hills, Deadwood mushroomed to 25,000 miners and hangers-on. It drew notoriety as a wide-open town of gambling and other pleasures.

It also drew famous Western figures, of whom the best known were perhaps Wild Bill Hickok and Calamity Jane Higgins. Both are buried in Deadwood's Mount Moriah Cemetery.

It was in a saloon on Deadwood's narrow Main Street that Hickok was shot in the back while holding aces and eights, a poker hand known ever since as the "dead man's hand."

His killer, Jack McCall, was acquitted by a miner's jury, but later was hanged by federals.

McCall's trial is re-enacted here nightly for summer tourists.

Deadwood today is a somewhat sleepier town of 3,500, strung out long and narrow along Deadwood Gulch. The Black Hills hem it in tightly on either side, and were a gateway for the fire that nearly leveled Deadwood again Tuesday.

On Sept. 25, 1879, fire did virtually level the city. A quantity of black powder in a hardware store exploded. Without a water supply, miners and townsfolk watched it burn.

Sidewalk Painting Censored By City

BALTIMORE (AP)—Baltimore city officials have censored a sidewalk painting.

The designers of a new downtown office building wanted to paint the sidewalk a soothing robin's egg blue.

The six-story building, which will house the Internal Revenue Service district office, will be the same color.

"Why, if we allow them to paint the sidewalks blue," exclaimed William L. Chilcote, deputy director of public works, "the man in the next block will want to dye his sidewalks green.

"Somebody would come along then with a request to install linoleum on his sidewalk. Where would it end?"

Chilcote and other officials decided it wouldn't even start. They washed out the blue idea.

Cool Air Is Moving Down

By The Associated Press

Cool air held in check several days by a high pressure area will push through today, bringing relief from hot, muggy weather to some sections of the country.

Cooling breezes will blow eastward and southward from the northern and central Rockies to the northern and central Plains states and upper Mississippi Valley.

East of this section, the hot, muggy weather will continue, the Weather Bureau said.

Scattered afternoon and evening thundershowers are expected from Texas eastward across the Gulf states to the south Atlantic coastal area.

He Gets His Autographs

SELLERSVILLE, Pa. (AP) — When it comes to getting autographs of famous persons, Edgar F. Hoskins Jr., leaves no stone unturned.

He coaxes, he brags, he cajoles and he flatters. He even writes poetry.

"Please send me your autograph.

"Before I write my epitaph."

Hoskins estimates his collection of autographs at 600. He can boast of having Mamie Eisenhower and Bess Truman in the same filing cabinet.

Hoskins did a little bragging to get President Eisenhower's signature. He sent the President some of his own press clippings to point up the high caliber of his collection.

Mexico Plane Is Bombed

MEXICO CITY (AP)—A passenger leaped or fell to his death after an explosion reportedly caused by a bomb blew the door off a plane in flight Tuesday.

The Compania Mexicana de Aviacion (CMA) DC3 plane, apparently not badly damaged, was able to make an emergency landing at Poza Rica while the flames resulting from the blast were being put out.

The co-pilot, steward and six of the 13 passengers were slightly burned in fighting the blaze and were treated at a Poza Rica hospital.

The man some passengers said appeared to have leaped from the plane was Eugenio Polovsky of Mexico City. His wife said he left to go to Villahermosa, Tabasco, on business.

Officials have advanced no theory on why a bomb might have been placed on the plane.

Doctors Advised Not To Criticize Others

DENVER (AP)—New members of the Colorado Medical Society were advised Tuesday to refrain from criticizing the work of other doctors.

Said Dr. C. S. Bluemel, retired Englewood, Colo., psychiatrist:

"Don't inspect a person's scar and say 'who did that?' Instead say, 'My, that's neat scar. Who performed the operation?'"

'60 Miss America Pageant Launched

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—A beauty-laden motorcade along this resort's famed boardwalk officially launched the 1960 Miss America pageant Tuesday night.

Perched on the backs of convertibles and atop floats were 54 young women, eyed appreciatively by a crowd of 150,000 and a nationwide television audience.

The contestants represent every state in the Union, Canada, and the cities of New York, Chicago and Washington. They were accompanied by the present Miss America, Mary Ann Mobley of Brandon, Miss.

Marines with walkie-talkies kept the parade lined up in order.

It started with a motorcycle escort. Then came the Marines, then parade grand marshal Chief Arquette, known to television viewers as Charlie Weaver, then the girls.

With one exception, things went smoothly. The convertible carrying Miss Hawaii, Gordean Leilehua Lee of Honolulu, broke down.

Miss Hawaii took it in stride. So did a group of state police. They volunteered to push the stalled auto for the last mile and a half. The crowd responded with applause.

Earlier in the day, the girls posed in swim suits near a pool. Picture-takers, professional and otherwise, had a field day.

But the people who run the pageant made it clear they didn't want the event to be considered a bathing beauty contest.

"We are not running a bathing suit competition here but a contest based on poise, charm, intellect and talent to select an ideal American girl—not necessarily a raving beauty," said Lenora A. Slaughter, executive director of the contest.

Miss Slaughter issued the statement after being told of a story in Monday's L'Osservatore Romano, Vatican City newspaper, which criticized bathing beauty contests, calling them "zoological market exhibits."

Senators Eye Free Junket

WASHINGTON (AP)—A junket to surpass all junkets—a free trip to Hawaii for the whole Senate—is getting enthusiastic consideration from some senators.

The taxpayers would foot the bill under terms of a resolution drafted by Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois. It calls for an outlay of $200,000 to cover members' expenses on the trip.

Gov. William F. Quinn of Hawaii cabled the invitation for all the senators to take part in a thanksgiving celebration for the 50th state. The Senate Republican Policy Committee received it Tuesday with "hilarity and exuberance of spirit," Dirksen reported.

If the trip materializes, Dirksen said he doesn't expect senators would be required to bother turning in expense accounts.

The GOP leader added that from Hawaii "it isn't very far around to Alaska" and some senator's might want to go there too.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—One of San Francisco's quaint cable cars will be loaned to Osaka, Japan.

The car will be presented by Mayor George Christopher to the mayor of Osaka during the Pacific Festival here later this month.
