

Deputy resigns here to seek office of sheriff

The resignation Tuesday of Lloyd H. Merritt as Garza County deputy sheriff and his announcement that he will be a candidate for election as sheriff is the newest development on the county's fast-warming political front.

So far, Merritt is the only opponent of Sheriff L. E. Claborn Jr., who announced earlier this month that he will be a candidate for a second term.

Sheriff Claborn told The Dispatch yesterday that he had accepted Merritt's resignation. The sheriff said he is "looking" for another deputy and that he expects to hire one soon, subject to approval of the commissioner's court.

Merritt, formerly of Snyder, had served as a deputy sheriff here since January of 1962.

Other political developments this week included the announcement of Mike E. Custer of Route 2, Post, that he will be a candidate for county tax assessor-collector. He will be opposing T. H. Tipton, who announced in the Jan. 9 issue of The Dispatch that he will be a candidate for re-election.

Another new candidate this week is Preston Poole, who announced he will be a candidate for Garza County attorney. The incumbent, Carleton P. Webb, has not yet announced whether he will be a candidate for re-election.

George H. Hansard of Lamesa has announced his candidacy for re-election as district attorney of the 106th Judicial District.

Feb. 3 is the filing deadline for candidates in this year's elections. Poll tax payments, meanwhile, are not keeping up with the general political trend, but gave promise this week of "picking up" to somewhere near the average for an election year between now and the Jan. 31 deadline.

Up to 2 p. m. yesterday, 916 poll tax receipts had been issued at the county tax office, as compared with 595 at the same time last week. Thus, the sales during the past week have been almost as large as for the entire period from Oct. 1 to Jan. 16.

Two years ago, 1,625 poll tax receipts were issued in Garza County. Four years ago, which was a presidential election year, as is this year, a new record was set for the county with the issuance of 1,929 poll tax receipts.

For this year's poll tax sales to equal the 1960 figure, 1,000 poll tax receipts would have to be issued between now and the Jan. 31 deadline.

Banquet crowd of 300 is expected

Advance ticket sales indicated today that a crowd of nearly 300 will attend the annual membership banquet of the Post Chamber of Commerce Friday night at which Lt. Gov. Preston Smith of Lubbock will be the principal speaker.

The banquet will be held in the Post Junior High School gymnasium beginning at 7 o'clock.

"Growing With West Texas" is the theme of this year's banquet, at which newly-elected Chamber President Frank Blanton will serve as master of ceremonies.

Lt. Gov. Smith will be introduced by Bryan J. Williams, a member of the 1964 board of directors.

The invocation will be by the Rev. Edgar H. Graham Jr., pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, and the welcome address by President Blanton. Dinner music will be by George M. Willson.

Table decorations will be by the Post High School homemaking department again this year under the direction of Marion Duncan and Willa Didway, sponsors. Tables will be set up and other banquet arrangements made by members of the Young Farmer chapter. Catering will be by Furr's Cafeteria.

Approval given plans for Public Housing units here

The Post Public Housing Authority late Friday afternoon voted final approval for architectural plans for 27 public housing units to be built here this year.

Sites for the housing units were obtained during 1963. Advertising for construction bids is promised just as soon as the regional FHA office in Fort Worth approves the plans.

The public housing construction is financed through a bond issue guaranteed by the federal government through its housing agency and will require no city expenditure whatsoever.

The bond issue will be retired through rentals of the housing units.

In the only other action at the session, Mrs. Katharine Trammell was employed as a part-time bookkeeper for the Post Housing Authority to fill a vacancy.

Housing authority directors attending the session were Powell Shytles, vice chairman, Lee Ward, Giles McCrary and Jim Cornish.

Tentative $15,000 grant to schools

The Post Public Schools have been awarded a tentative grant of $15,000 from the State Department of Education for the school year of 1964-65 in the areas of science, mathematics, foreign languages, and instructional media.

The school system will furnish $7,500 and the state will furnish $7,500 on a matching basis. The money will be used to purchase capital equipment, supplies and miscellaneous items for the improvement of instruction.

"This is felt to be another step in the development of a quality public school system," Thompson said.

The Post schools received $3,500 from the state this year for the same purpose.

UNDERGOES SURGERY

Daniel Johnson, who underwent surgery on his left shoulder Monday in Mercy Hospital in Slaton, is reported to be doing as well as can be expected.

"I also would like to add that I am a firm believer in spending the tax payers' money only in Garza County as far as possible."

"Mrs. Norris and I have two daughters, both married and living in Post. All our interests are here, and nothing would give me greater pleasure than being able to publicly serve the precinct and community in which we live."

Sincerely,
A. L. (Al) Norris

Norris statement to voters issued

A. L. (Al) Norris this week issued a formal statement to the voters after announcing last week that he is a candidate for Precinct 1 county commissioner of Garza County. His statement to the voters of Precinct 1 follows:

"I have been a resident of Post for 18 years, moving here from Levelland, and was engaged in bulldozer work and trucking until taking over ownership and management of the Rocket Cafeteria and Cafe three years ago.

If elected as your next Precinct 1 commissioner, I will work with the best interests of the precinct and the county as a whole at heart. I appreciate the interest already being taken in my candidacy, and will try to see each and every voter between now and the date of the election. In the meantime, I solicit your vote and influence.

"I also would like to add that I am a firm believer in spending the tax payers' money only in Garza County as far as possible."

"Mrs. Norris and I have two daughters, both married and living in Post. All our interests are here, and nothing would give me greater pleasure than being able to publicly serve the precinct and community in which we live."

Merritt to make race for sheriff's office

Lloyd H. Merritt, who resigned Tuesday as Garza County deputy sheriff, has authorized The Dispatch to announce his candidacy for the office of county sheriff, subject to the Democratic primaries. Merritt, who had been a deputy sheriff here since Jan. 15, 1962, said he will issue a formal statement soon concerning his candidacy.

Further steps toward reorganization of the Post Junior Chamber of Commerce will be taken at a meeting Monday night, Jan. 27, in the Community Room. All young men interested in joining the Jaycees are urged to attend the meeting.

Plans for completion of the reorganization were made at a meeting here Jan. 13, at which Don Marth and Jack Alexander were elected as temporary chairman and secretary, respectively.

CORRECTION, PLEASE

In T. H. Tipton's announcement for re-election to the office of Garza County tax assessor-collector, The Dispatch inadvertently stated that Mr. Tipton would be a candidate for a second term. Mr. Tipton intended for his statement to the voters to read that he would be a candidate for re-election to the office of tax assessor-collector.

With Dr. Surman's retirement

Admission policy is clarified by hospital

There was no basic change in Garza County's "hospital situation" this week except for a new clarification of the hospital's admission policy with the retirement of Dr. A. C. Surman.

Hospital Administrator J. R. Rickels told The Dispatch that "at this time local doctors may admit O. B.'s and any person they consider an emergency." He added it's up to the physician to determine whether the case is an emergency.

Nothing was said about baby cases in last week's hospital statement, which caused considerable public consternation. Until Dr. Surman retired Tuesday, the hospital's admission policy was for admission of cases as emergency by any doctor, providing Dr. Surman, the only active medical staff member, also certified the case as an emergency as well.

It is understood local doctors can so admit patients until such time as the hospital secures a regular medical staff.

The hospital had three patients yesterday.

One O. B. case was admitted for Dr. Tubbs this week.

Dr. John E. Carter has admitted no patients to the hospital since he voluntarily resigned from the hospital's medical staff in November. Hospital occupancy for January to date was estimated as between 25 and 30 per cent by Rickels.

December occupancy, when Dr. Tubbs was still a medical staff

Custer announces for tax assessor-collector

Mike E. Custer, who farms on Route 2, Post, today authorized The Dispatch to announce his candidacy for the office of tax assessor-collector for Garza County, subject to the Democratic primary elections.

Custer, a longtime resident of the county, said he will make a formal statement soon in regard to his candidacy.

MAJOR OIL FIRM LEASES BIG BLOCK

A major oil company is reported assembling a large block of oil leases in northeastern Garza County, across the river from Post.

Between 8,000 to 10,000 acres is reported to have been leased.

No drilling plans as yet have been announced, but any undertaking of such size can be nothing but good news for this county.

No drilling has taken place in this area for a good number of years, oil men say.

$58,000 damage suit filed here

A $58,000 damage suit has been filed in Garza County district court as a result of a fire and explosion at a Garza County oil well on July 9, 1963.

Harley S. Clay, 47, of Snyder, has sued the National Lead Co., alleging that employees of that firm had permitted a flame in a butane refrigerator in a mobile home used in logging the well and the flame had caused the fire and explosion of gases escaping from the hole while he was pulling pipe as an employee of the St. John Drilling Co.

Clay in his suit alleges he has been damaged $58,000 in loss of future income as a result of serious injuries, including burns on the face and arms, and asks $2,000 for the payment of past and future medical expenses.

Constable's salary to drop $2,399 for '65

The Garza County Commissioners' Court raised salaries for a number of county employees last Thursday, but the action served probably cause the loudest noise was the cutting of the constable's salary in Precinct No. 1 by $2,399 effective Jan. 1, 1965.

Constable Julius Johnson will continue to draw his $2,400 annual salary for the remainder of the year, but the court's action served notice that anyone running for that office in the November general election can look forward to not much monetary reward if he wins at the polls.

Johnson has not yet indicated if he will seek re-election. The only candidate already in the field for the office is John C. Harrison, a Democratic candidate.

The salary raises which were voted will go into effect Feb. 1 of this year.

The first and second deputy clerks in both the county clerk's and county tax assessor-collector's offices were raised $25 monthly from $275 to $300 for first deputies, and from $225 to $250 for second deputies.

Precinct road hands — nine in number — also will get boosts. Maintenance operators will be increased from $1.37½ cents an hour to $1.50 per hour, and other road

Peace Corps volunteer

Sees big chunk of world on way home

Bernie Welch, Post's first Peace Corps volunteer, easily rates the nod as this community's No. 1 world traveler.

The oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Welch, Bernie has been through more countries—including Russia—just on his way home from his two-year Peace Corps assignment in Punjab, India, than most people will visit in a lifetime.

Bernie arrived in Post Dec. 15, but he hasn't stayed long. He left Friday to enroll at San Antonio College in San Antonio for the second semester, prior to entering the Worden School of Social Work at Our Lady of the Lake College in San Antonio next year to do graduate studies in social work.

The reason The Dispatch hasn't carried an interview with Bernie since his arrival home is simply that he wouldn't stand still long enough to be interviewed. He was out of town most of the time visiting and getting things in shape to resume his studies.

Bernie explains that although he now holds a degree in agriculture,

The Dispatch today is printing a number of letters to the editor about the hospital situation. All are the property of the hospital. Several more were received Wednesday and Thursday. No more space was available in this week's paper. Letters in next week's paper.

The policy of this newspaper has been to print the readers' expressions of opinion on issues of importance to the community. Letters to the editor, our requirements being that they be of reasonable length, signed, and of libelous nature.

Time may come, of course, when our news columns are so numerous enough to print all letters. But we doubt it.

The telephone caller early this week asked us if it were true we were trying to get people to write letters to the editor about the hospital situation. Our answer was "No, of course. We had not heard any of them."

Charles Morrow when he brought this letter said he and his wife had been on the phone urging people to write letters to express their concerns over the situation.

There will be many of these letters, the writers believe they would like to more and fuller information on the reasons for the hospital's action at its January meeting. This point continues to worry us. As a newspaperman who knows that a fully informed public is vital to the community on (The Postings, Page 8)

Only way to be sure of a vote

Only a week remains in which Texans can qualify as voters in the elections of 1964, including the November presidential election.

The deadline for payment of the poll tax or obtaining an exemption certificate is entitled to one because of age is Friday, Jan. 31. In Garza County, the tax amounts to $1.75 per person.

Whether one approves or disapproves of the poll tax (and all that has been gone through before) has nothing to do with the requirement that it be paid. If it is not paid, one can not vote. A majority of those who bothered to vote in a special election last fall rejected a proposal to remove payment of the poll tax as a requirement for voting in this state and to substitute a voter registration system under which only a small registration fee would have been charged.

There is a possibility that citizens will be able to vote in the federal elections next fall without a poll tax payment receipt or exemption certificate, but it is by no means certain.

The federal constitutional amendment which would ban the poll tax payment requirement in federal elections—those for President, vice president and members of Congress—still is pending, and two more states must ratify it before it can become effective.

It may or may not be ratified by two additional states before the November balloting. The only way Texans can be sure of being able to vote for federal officials, including the next President of the United States, is to qualify as voters under existing state laws by Jan. 31.

This means payment of the poll tax or the obtaining of an exemption certificate if entitled to one. The principal other requirement is residence, in the state for one year and in the county for six months.

No matter how much the payment requirement for voting may irk you—and maybe it doesn't irk you at all—the only way you can be sure of being able to vote in any election this year, local, state or federal, is to comply with existing law. The time to act is now. Don't put it off. But, in any case, don't disfranchise yourself by non-payment.—CD

Retirement and the end of an era

The retirement Tuesday of A. C. Surman, M. D., marked the end of an era in Post and Garza County—the era of the pioneer physician.

The year Dr. Surman came to Post, 1913, would not be considered the time of the pioneer in most parts of the country, but it is here, where this part of the state still is referred to by many as "Texas' Last Frontier."

Dr. Surman's missions of mercy have covered a span of more than half a century; his contributions to the community outside his profession have covered the same length of time. The fledgling town of Post was fortunate indeed when Dr. Surman and the man with whom he later was to be associated, the late Dr. D. C. Williams, chose it as the town in which they were to live, pursue their practice of medicine and rear their families.

Dr. Surman is retiring on his 77th birthday, which is well past the biblical three score and ten allotted man. He is one of those rare individuals you just wouldn't think of as being that old; you'd be even less likely to think it if you were one of his patients.

The community has not let Dr. Surman's many contributions to its health and welfare go unnoticed. Not many years ago, he and Dr. Williams were honored by nearly 400 people at a testimonial dinner. Earlier this month, Dr. Surman was reappointed as an active member of the Garza Memorial Hospital staff for the rest of this year and at the same time appointed by the hospital board as an honorary life member of the staff.

Robert Louis Stevenson once wrote:

"There are men and classes of men that stand above the common herd: the soldier, the sailor, and the shepherd not infrequently; the artist rarely; rarer still, the clergyman; the physician almost as a rule. He is the flower (such as it is) of our civilization."

What our contemporaries are saying

Domestic spats are far more numerous than usual at this time of year, due to many wives trying to diet off fat put on during the holidays and to a number of husbands trying to stick to their resolution to quit smoking.—Olin Miller in The Seguin Gazette.

The only thing more disturbing than a neighbor with a noisy old car is one with a quiet new one.—The Hamilton Herald-News.

The little Texas town of Eastland must have a good publicity man—provided you don't mind bad publicity. (Is there such a thing?) In case you missed it, the City Council outlawed the sale of cigarettes in the city limits as well as smoking; subject to a $1,000 fine and three years in jail. All this despite the fact that the Council's powers stop at a maximum $200 fine and something like 20 days in jail. Anyway, it put Eastland on the map and got them national publicity—good or bad.—Joe Harrison in The Texas Spur.

NOT MANY MORE days of January remain. If you let the very last one, Jan. 31, go by without having paid your poll tax, you'll be missing a vote in some mighty important elections.

The Man Up the Street says he can't figure out why so many people are criticizing our foreign policy. He points out that we are still getting along with the Philippine Islands.

THIS VERSE FROM the Bible doesn't exactly fit the local situation, but it comes close: "Is there no balm in Gilead? Is there no physician there?" —Jeremiah 8:22.

I heard something on Johnny Carson's "Tonight" show the other night that appeared in this column two years ago. It is one of those things that make the rounds of nearly all weekly newspapers, one editor copying it from another, etc. One of Johnny's listeners had clipped the piece from an Iowa newspaper and sent it in to the "Tonight" show. Even after two years, it is still so funny that I'm running it again in this column, just in case you missed it the first time around:

A man with a sewing machine to sell placed a classified ad in the newspaper. The ad came out the next day as follows:

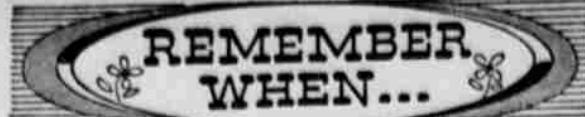

Monday: "FOR SALE: R. D. Smith has one sewing machine for sale. Phone 958. Call after 7 p. m. and ask for Mrs. Kelly who lives with him cheap."

Tuesday: "We regret having erred in R. D. Smith's ad yesterday. It should have read: FOR SALE: R. D. Smith has one sewing machine for sale. Cheap. Phone 958 and ask for Mrs. Kelly who lives with him after 7 p. m."

Wednesday: "R. D. Smith has informed us that he has received several annoying telephone calls because of an error we made in his classified ad yesterday. His ad stands corrected: FOR SALE: R. D. Smith has one sewing machine for sale. Cheap. Phone 958 after 7 p. m. and ask for Mrs. Kelly who loves with him."

Thursday: "NOTICE: I, R. D. Smith, have no sewing machine for sale. I smashed it. Don't call 958, the phone has been taken out. I have not been carrying on with Mrs. Kelly. Until yesterday, she was my housekeeper."

FROM OUR SOURCE of incidental information, we learn that New York City has no priority on "Broadway" — 57 U. S. towns and cities, and 1,700 villages, have such a street as their main thoroughfare. Post has a Broadway, but its Main Street is regarded as the main thoroughfare — which, I sup-

THE SHERIFF FOR a small town was also a veterinarian. Late one night, the telephone rang, and his wife got up to answer it. "Is your husband there?" asked an agitated voice.

"Do you require my husband's services as a sheriff or as a veterinarian?"

"Both," was the reply. "We can't get our dog's mouth open and there's a burglar in it!"

Few of us ever have folding money in our pockets long enough to become very well acquainted with it. But there's a fellow in Miami, Fla., who has complained to his congressman about the $10 bill. He thinks the obsolete car in the picture on the back gives America a bad image and certainly does not convey the idea of progress which this nation is so proud of. However, as one Treasury spokesman commented, the out-of-date ten-spot is "a symbol of the stability of the American economy." On that controversial note, perhaps it is best to close the subject.

Smith announces for re-election as Lt. Governor

AUSTIN — Preston Smith of Lubbock today announced his candidacy for a second term as Lieutenant Governor. He called for "an intelligent and determined effort" to trim non-essentials from the State's 1965-66 budget.

"Texas is spending $3.2 billion this biennium, and the pressure will be on the Legislature to go much higher next session," Lt. Gov. Smith said. "If this happens, it will mean a tax increase. This we should make all reasonable efforts to avoid."

He cited President Johnson's economy drive at the federal level as a good example for state and local governments to follow.

"A dollar saved at the statehouse or courthouse adds just as much to the private economy as one saved at Washington," he said.

Smith said he realized that necessary functions of State government must be adequately financed. A rapidly increasing population, he noted, places a growing load on both State and local governments, particularly for education.

Smith commented on responses to a questionnaire he sent to thou-

The Lieutenant Governor led that the 1963 session Legislature was notable for its numerous relations between houses and with Governor Connally's office. He said he expected this healthy relationship to continue.

Smith served six years House and six in the Senate winning the Democratic nomination for Lieutenant Governor in 1962 and defeating the Republican nominee in the General Election.

He and his wife, Irma, have children, Mickey, 22, and both Texas Tech students.

Vet's Forum

Q. What is the present maximum amount of a GI home loan the Veterans Administration will guaranty?

A. The Veterans Administration will guaranty up to 60 per cent of the loan but not more than $7,500. The limit on the amount to be obtained is available from private lenders, is $15,000.

Q. I understand my daughter although over 18 may continue to receive her nonservice-connected pension up to age 21 if she is attending a VA-approved school. How can we tell what schools are VA approved?

A. Most well-known and recognized schools and colleges are on the VA-approved list. However, if you are in doubt about a school, contact the Department of Education in the state in which you live or the nearest VA office.

Q. I am a veteran about to retire. Will my Social Security benefit and also 26 weeks of unemployment compensation be considered as income?

A. Your Social Security benefit will be considered income but not until you have been given full credit for your personal contributions from wages to the Social Security fund while you were working. All unemployment compensation benefits are considered income.

DEPENDS ON DEPTH

The pressure of water on a vertical wall depends only on the depth of the water and not on the distance the water extends away from the wall. Thus the pressure on the dam of an acre lake is the same at that on the dam of a 500-acre lake if the water is the same depth in the two bodies.

Senior play cast listed

By Argan Robinson

The approaching senior play, "Drums of Death", is to have a cast of ten. The play is full of mysticism and is sprinkled with just enough humor to keep the interest alive and the action rolling.

The characters are as follows:
Celeste (Linda Pennell): A woman of 25 years, gaudily dressed, and a native of Martinique. She is a medium and is able to foretell the future.

Sheldon Harley (Pat Corneli): About 35 years old and is outstanding as the hero. Naturally he is able to outsmart the villain.

Jules (Jimmy Sharp): A conventional stage Negro, who uses most ungracious speech. He remains throughout the loyal slave or valet of "Massa Hah'ly."

Mrs. Oakley (Marilyn Minor): She is about 45, and is a terror-stricken woman breaking down from lack of sleep. Also apprehensively alert and despairingly listless.

Mrs. Gillette (Argan Robinson):

She is a small-town matron, somewhat cultured but with a sharp tongue, and about 55.

Eugenia Bowles (Linda McMahon): She is about 35 and affects a literary pose.

Amelia Gillette (Susie Jo Schmidt): A very modern young lady about 18. She is the usual young lady of today, sweet, but a bit boisterous.

Newton Cooper (Kenneth Barnes): About 40. He is a conscientious, well-meaning fellow, but rather confused when it comes to solving the mysteries he meets through his job as sheriff.

Dr. Cameron (Tom Clark): A prosperous medical specialist about 55. He becomes our most mysterious member of the cast.

Paula Bailey (Margie Harrison): The level-headed and brave young woman who helps Harley keep everything under control.

Tickets for this outstanding play will be sold by members of the senior class.

Not much happening here, how is everything in your town?

From a typical neighborhood came this letter. It relates to us the unusual proceedings of a normal day.

Hi!

How are you?

Hope everybody is in good health. Sorry I haven't written for a while, but there hasn't been much to report. Same old routine. Everything is as normal as ever now that the police cars have gone. The vice squad, I think. They came to take away that sweet old lady who's been living across the street for so long. Who would've thought she was running a —?

Well, I really shouldn't be talking about it. I thought the police were here to question her next door neighbor, who is a rather strange person. She was raising this Brazil nut in her basement. Doing real well, too, until one day last week he got loose and headed back to Brazil. I figured she had learned her lesson last year when that Tropical Fruit she was raising jumped a ship for Tahiti. Oh, well.

Old Mrs. Burford is at it again; bragging about her children. She told us about her son, Stinky. He got a very important job with over 500 people under him. We just found out he's a night watchman at a cemetery. But, I mean at least he has a job.

The kid down the street told his mother he was late coming home from school because he helped an old woman carry her packages across the street. His mother believed him, too. She had to — he still had the packages with him.

Well, I have to sign off now before the lights go out. Mr. Frondizi, he used to be a tight-rope walker, is drunk and up there on the telephone wires again. Woof! The lights are flashing on and off — and so is Mr. Frondizi.

Write soon; let me know if anything interesting is happening at your end.

Love . . .

Reading eye camera shown

An actual demonstration of the Reading Eye Camera was given Post Lions Tuesday night at their dinner meeting in Levi's Restaurant by Gene Matthews of Sound Photo in Lubbock.

Several Lions served as volunteer "students" and had their eye movements recorded photographically while they were reading. Matthews then showed how the results of the test were analyzed and charted to reveal reading faults or visual abnormalities.

The camera has been used in an experimental reading program in the Post Junior High School earlier this year with good results.

The Lions' Mid-Winter Conference will be held in Littlefield Jan. 25-26 with several local Lions planning to attend.

Guests at the dinner session included E. L. Bruton, industrial engineer at Postex Cotton Mills and Dave Sanford of KPOS. A warm welcome was extended to Lion Sol Finney, new Dunlap's manager, who is transferring his membership here from the Portales, N. M., Lions club.

Bernie Welch—

 he was interested in entering social work before going into the Peace Corps. But he admits that his experiences in the corps these past two years has heightened it. It's quite a story just giving readers a brief rundown on how Bernie got home from India.

To start with he was entitled to jet air fare home from India. But he cashed that—and came home quite leisurely on a journey which required three and one-half months.

He left India Sept. 1, traveling with another returning Peace Corps member, through Pakistan by train, by bus through Afghanistan, and across Iran by train to Tehran.

Here his friend came down with a case of jaundice where he was hospitalized in an American military hospital.

Bernie continued on alone. He entered Russia at Jalta, near the Black Sea, and traveled across the big Communist nation mostly in a northerly direction to Finland.

He spent four days in Moscow and another four days in Kiev, as well as four more in Leningrad. Russia is encouraging the tourist trade now, Bernie reports, and he saw a good number of tourists, including many Americans.

He said the Russian people have much more freedom now than they had even a few years ago and he could talk to Russians freely on trains and buses. He said the Russian government let tourists do as they liked in the Russian cities as long as they stayed as required in tourist hotels.

"Everybody made a big point to tell us that Russia doesn't want war," Bernie said. He termed Russians generally as hard working and friendly people.

From Finland, Welch went to Sweden, then to Germany, and on to England where he worked for a month in the Outward Bound School for Boys. It was a school where boys from industrial areas were given an opportunity to test their mettle in a mountainous country.

After visiting Scotland, Bernie took passage on a freighter sailing for Canada. When the freighter first sailed to a German port to spend three days loading German cargo for Canada, Bernie took advantage of the delay to run into Bonn, the West German capital, and visit with Mr. and Mrs. Andy Schmidt. Andy is studying psychology at the University of Bonn and his wife is a pre-med student.

The freighter then sailed from Germany for Montreal, Canada. When it docked there, Bernie came on home for Christmas.

Bernie was a member of the first group of 24 Peace Corpsmen assigned to India. When he left in September there were between 200 and 250 in that nation.

Bernie spent 20 months of the 24 months in the Peace Corps in India. During his ten weeks of training for the assignment he studied Punjabi, the language of the Indian state of Punjab, where he was assigned.

But he said here that English is spoken so widely that he used it a lot in India.

Why did Bernie join the Peace Corps?
 He explains it best in his written report on volunteer service with the Peace Corps in India upon his completion of his two years with it.

After his graduation from college in 1958, he served two years in the U. S. Army and then went to Europe in 1960 to attend the Olympic games. He then studied in Germany and was returning home overland via India and across Asia in 1961 when he read a newspaper account of President Kennedy's plans for the Peace Corps as he entered India.

"As I remember it," he wrote in the report, "I was mainly impressed by the beauty and uniqueness of the Peace Corps idea, which aimed at an untapped strata of development which had no religious, money or equipment 'strings' attached."

"It gave the average American a chance to work and share with the villagers of the developing world," he wrote. Even my 'fly by night' journey had taught me that village people from Turkey to India, from Ceylon to Formosa, all appreciated someone who would take time to break bread with them and share what they had. I was beginning to realize how much could be learned if one could be given a chance to work with such people and I also felt that I could contribute something while experiencing and learning much."

Bernie spent most of his 20 months in India working with young farmer organizations in the villages of the Indian state, which he compares very similarly to America's Future Farmers of America organization.

During one 30-day leave in India from Corps work, Bernie took a basic mountaineering course high in the Himalaya mountains.

Welch reports that the Peace Corps idea has been well received abroad.

CLINIC INSTRUCTOR—Tex Ritter, who has won acclaim as a floral designer throughout this country and Mexico, is in charge of the Floral Design Department of The Flower Shop here. He will direct a series of Free Clinics on flower Arranging now being offered all interested area clubs and organizations.

Floral Artist Will Direct Clinics On Flower Arranging In Area

Are you interested in learning a little more about arranging flowers than just sticking them in a vase? If the answer is yes, Tex Ritter, who is in charge of the Floral Arranging Department at The Flower Shop here, holds the key to a fascinating new hobby.

Ritter stresses originality as the keynote in his arrangement and urges his students to work with items at hand. "You would be surprised at the interest people take in nature and the world at large when they start creating arrangements," Ritter said this week.

He likes to use blasted cypress, sea shells, dried, dried materials and fresh blossoms in his work. "I've even used old iron skillet to achieve a rustic effect," he said.

Ritter was born into the florist business in Waco, where his parents had a shop. He has been in the floral business on the adult level for 35 years. The designer studied at the Corpus Christi Floral School and later taught general floristry and design at Del Mar College.

He operated the Tex Ritter Floral School in Texas for a number of years and has to date made 350 public appearances in this country and Mexico. Ritter also has made 71 TV appearances to do with floral art.

He suggests that some home economics students will find interest in his clinic as well as well as homemakers and men. He has organized a number of male garden clubs in the Southwest.

Ritter suggests that those attending one of his clinics, to be sponsored in this area by The Flower Shop, bring along a notebook in order to jot down his "rules of thumb" in arranging.

LETTER TO THE OCCASIONAL CHURCH-GOER

Dear Sir:
I understand your problem. For years it was mine. I'd say to myself, "George, it's about time you went to church." And I'd set the alarm, and put on my best suit, and start out with great intentions. Then the kids would deflate me: "Gee, Mom, is Pop going with us?" I felt awkward already!
And the awkwardness never left. All through the service I felt stiff, uncomfortable, and very conspicuous. So I'd stay away six more weeks—or result! So I figured there was something wrong with the Church—or with me . . .
To rule out that slim latter possibility I decided to try worshipping every Sunday . . . just for a month or two, you understand. I had to prove the fault was with the Church.
Strange! Along about the third week the awkward feeling disappeared. And the kids stopped expressing amazement. And I began understanding a great many things about the Church . . . and myself . . . and God!
There's more to religion than meets the eye—after you get used to the Light.

*Sincerely,
Sam Hunter*

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Place 2 trustee is to seek re-election

Dr. John E. Carter announced this week that he will be a candidate for re-election to the Post school board in the April trustee election.

The other two board members whose terms are expiring, E. R. (Buster) Moreland and Russell Wilks Jr., have not yet publicly announced whether they will be candidates for re-election.

Dr. Carter will be a candidate for Place 2 on the school board the board having voted at its August meeting to elect board members by places, beginning with this year's election. Places were drawn at that meeting, with Place 1 going to Moreland, Place 2 to Dr. Carter, Place 3 to Wilks, Place 4 to A. Lee Ward, Place 5 to Ronnie Bouchier, Place 6 to Virgil Bilbo and Place 7 to Malcolm T. Bull.

The school board is scheduled to officially set the time and place of the April trustee election at its February meeting.

all issues concerning it, we have continually requested more information for print.

All sides have been reluctant to inflame the issue, but there is no doubt that the hospital situation, as it now stands, has about reached an impasse stage where public pressure sooner or later will decide it. No one wants another Pecos. Post needs more doctors and everybody involved wants to encourage new physicians to locate here. That probably has been at least one of the reasons that so many are hesitant to speak up to give fuller public understanding, but the point has now been reached where, to us at least, is essential.

The demand for physicians these days is much larger than the supply—and the smaller the community the more difficult the job becomes.

The Dispatch has no desire to inflame the hospital issue either. We want to see Post grow and prosper. We want to see enough physicians here to adequately handle this community's patient load. We think we have an excellent small hospital which can meet most of the hospitalization requirements of this community. We do not like strife either. We would like to see our medical and hospital community well-coordinated family doing their best to serve their public. But a public hospital's policy is a public issue which in the end will be settled according to the public's desires.

People want to know and understand why public officials act when they act.

In this case they are understandably upset when they are not quite sure as to what will happen when they or their loved ones become sick, or who will be allowed to treat them where.

We doubt that in all cases time is the great healer it is cracked up to be. And certainly, in this case we don't think it will lead to a satisfactory solution—not at least without fuller public understanding essential to public decision.

District Attorney Hansard in race for re-election

George H. Hansard, 37-year-old Lamesa attorney has announced his candidacy for a second elective term as District Attorney. Hansard has lived in Lamesa since 1938 where he graduated from high school with honors. After serving in the U. S. Marines during World War II, he completed his college work at Baylor University, receiving both BA and LLB degrees from there.

Returning to Lamesa to practice law, he served as County Attorney of Dawson County before becoming District Attorney of the 106th District composed of Gaines, Dawson, Lynn and Garza counties.

Hansard is a member of the Lions Club, a deacon and Sunday School teacher in the First Baptist Church of Lamesa and is a member of the Texas and American Bar Associations. He and his wife, Melba, live at 1010 North 19th, Lamesa, and have four sons.

Since he has been District Attorney, Hansard has tried over 275 criminal cases, including one death penalty, and not one of these cases has been reversed by the appellate court.

This week The Dispatch has received a number of "letters to the editor" on the hospital situation, which are being printed in this issue of the paper as space requirements permit. All that were received through Thursday appear in this edition.

Ford Wins Motor Trend's "Car of the Year" Award

January 8: Motor Trend magazine's "Car of the Year" Award goes to an engineering breakthrough! It honors all the '64s from Ford "For engineering advancement in the concept of Total Performance, proven in open competition."

Here's what the Motor Trend Award means to you...

The editors of Motor Trend, America's largest general automotive magazine, watched Ford's total performance in open competition... saw competition-modified Fords win every 500-mile stock car race in the last year, saw Ford-built engines end an era at Indianapolis and sweep the sports car circuits.

Then they drove the 1964 Fords, Falcons, Fairlanes and Thunderbirds and discovered how the lessons of open competition have helped breed into them a new kind of total performance for the open road, for your kind of driving. And then they made their award!

The "Car of the Year" Award is an impressive testimonial, but see for yourself—take the wheel of a '64 from Ford. These cars speak for themselves with their ease of handling in a supermarket parking lot or their greater stability on a rain-slick blacktop.

Before you buy any new car this year, test-drive total performance in a Solid, Silent Super Torque Ford, now hundreds of pounds more car than anything in its field. Try America's only total performance compact, the Falcon V-3, totally new, totally changed. Or, any of the '64 Cars of the Year from Ford!

Does finally beat Sundown; will play at Slaton Friday

The Post Does defeated Sundown, 20-13, at Sundown Tuesday night in their first victory over the Sundowners in seven tries. The Does also won, 28-13, in a game against the Sundowners in Class A, having won the title for the last two years. For the last three seasons, the Does and Roughettes have played a home-and-home series, with the Sundowners having won all six games.

In cracking the Sundown jinx Tuesday night, Coach Mary Lee Stockton's Does brought their season record to 18-2, having lost only to Idalou and Slaton.

Friday night, the Post girls go to Slaton where they will be out to avenge their "sudden death" overtime defeat at the hands of the Tigerettes in a tournament game. Friday night's game will be the first of two District 4AA encounters between the Does and Tigerettes. The game is scheduled for 6:30, with a game between the Post and Slaton boys' teams to follow.

Tuesday night's Sundown game was fairly close until the fourth quarter when the Does scored 16 points to the Roughettes' 6 to forge into a comfortable lead. The Does had led 13-9 at the end of the first quarter, 19-15 at the half and 34-28 going into the final period.

Nita Wilson scored 36 of the Does' points on 10 field goals and 16 free throws. Other scorers were Marilyn Jones, 12, and Vivian McWhirt, 2. The Post guards were Cheryl Martin, Darla Pierce and Dee Ann Walker.

Jolene Dean and Nola Stokes were the top scorers for Sundown with 14 points apiece. The Doe "B" team led all the way in their win over the Roughettes. Beverly Durcan and Pat Landreth each scored 10 points for Post with Marcia Newby scoring 4 and Edith Johnson and Sherry Woods 2 each. Linda Hays also played at forward.

The Post guards were Cheryl Martin, Delores Stroffer, Linda Altman, Cerryl Pennell, Betty Hutchins and Pam Owen.

Ronnie Pierce scores 48 points in one game

Post freshmen third in tourney at Snyder

With 63 Ronnie Pierce scoring a phenomenal 48 points, Post's freshman basketball team defeated Travis Junior High of Snyder Saturday night to win third place in the Snyder Junior High Tournament.

Coach Charles Black's Post team defeated Runnels Junior High of Big Spring, 65 to 56, in their first game, but hit a cold spell against a hot shooting Lamar Junior High team of Snyder to bow out of championship contention, 85 to 57.

Pierce's 48 points against Travis came on 22 field goals and four free throws. "It may be a record for a freshman basketball player," Coach Black said.

The coach said Ronnie's 48-point total came because he was "moving exceptionally well" against Travis, and that he wasn't being fed the ball any more than usual by his teammates.

Both Pierce and teammate Clint Johnson made the all-tournament team. Pierce scored a total of 93 points in the three games for a 31-point average. Johnson's selection to the all-tournament team came mainly on his outstanding defensive play, although he scored a total of 34 points in the three games.

The Post team received a third place trophy and the two players selected to the all-tournament team received individual trophies.

Runnels, the team Post beat in their opener, had defeated Lamar by one point earlier in the season. "We should have beaten Lamar and won the tournament," Coach Black said.

Pupils' knowledge of electricity increased at program held here

Third grade pupils in the Post schools learned a lot about electricity, particularly illumination, Tuesday afternoon from two representatives of the Southwestern Public Service Co.

In answer to a request by Mrs. Mary Rappelt, one of the third grade teachers, Ted R. Hibbs, local manager of the company, and Kenneth Owen of Lubbock, lighting specialist, presented talks and demonstrations to approximately 140 pupils and their teachers in the elementary school auditorium.

Mr. Hibbs made a 15-minute talk on electricity and used a generator to show how it can light a bulb, ring a bell, etc.

Mr. Owen gave a number of demonstrations on the different applications of lighting.

Two are hostesses at Brownie troop meeting

Brownie Troop 61 met Monday with Connie Cockrell and Anita Vargas as hostesses.

The hostesses served ice cream, an orange drink and cookies to: Frances Hogan, Jean Huffman, Esther Kay Guajardo, Pamela Littrell and a visitor, Jessie Lee George, and to their troop leader, Mrs. John Huffman.

Win district openers

Antelopes, Does beat Spur here

The Post Antelopes and Does opened the District 4AA basketball season here last Friday night with victories over the Spur High School teams.

The Antelopes won by a score of 56 to 30. The Does, who are defending district champions, won, 43 to 21.

Jack Alexander's free throw was the only point made by Spur in the first quarter, which ended with Post out in front, 11-1. The Antelopes had built up a 28-10 lead by halftime and were ahead 48 to 21 going into the fourth quarter.

Coach Will Bigott played his entire squad of 12 men, with the reserves seeing most of the action in the fourth quarter.

Danny Pierce, with 17 points, was Post's top scorer, followed by Danny Odom's 12 points. Alexander's 8 points was the top Spur effort.

The Spur girls kept two guards on the Does' high-scoring Nita Wilson, holding her to only two buckets from the field. She came up with 16 charity tosses, however, to grab scoring honors with 20 points. Marilyn Jones scored 16 points for the Does on seven field goals and two free throws. Post's other points came from Vivian McWhirt, 4; Cheryl Martin, 2, and Darla Pierce, 1.

Linda Clay was the top scorer for Spur with 17 points. Nora Jane Mock scored 14.

The Does led 14-2 at the end of the first quarter, 26-11 at the half and 36-16 at the end of the third quarter.

THE '64 MERCURY MARAUDER

This is a Mercury Marauder, a four-door hardtop of the Park Lane series of Mercury. The new Mercury dealer for the Post area—Tom Power, Inc.—has several new Mercury Marauders now on display in its showroom here.

New '64 Mercurys now on display, Tom Power's

The 1964 Mercurys, one of the year's most beautifully styled and luxurious appointed medium priced cars, are now on display in the showroom of its new Post area dealer, Tom Power, Inc.

The local auto agency also has added the 1964 Comet line, Mercury's "people-sized" compact.

Tom Power proudly points out that Mercury offers the year's most beautiful styling alternatives: Breezeway design with all the advantages of a rear window protected from the weather, that opens for draft-free ventilation, or Mercury's racy new Marauder hardtop styling.

"This is the medium priced car at its very finest," Power said this week. "Here's why! Mercurys come in not only two different styles, but in three series, each with its own level of luxury and performance."

Mercury's new top-line series is the luxurious Park Lane with a 4 barrel 390 cu.-in. V-8 engine as standard equipment. In all 1964 Mercurys, you get more than the usual, Power points out.

You get more than the usual in performance with engine choices that range up to the Marauder Super V-8 with 427 cubic inch displacement and 8-barrel carburetion.

You get more than the usual in luxury with rich interior decor and warm touches of walnut-colored trim on door panels. Power points out. More spaciousness with increased passenger room, trunk space and door height.

The three Mercury series are the Park Lane with options up to a 425 horsepower engine, foam-padded seats with special balanced spring design, interior with all-nylon face, biscuit design upholstery; the Montclair, the middle line with all the traditional Mercury extra value plus some exciting '64 additions; and the Monterey, lowest priced of all Mercurys with a 390 cubic-inch Marauder V-8 engine as standard equipment that surges smoothly as you step on the accelerator.

The sport models of the Mercury line are the Marauders, the Pikes Peak champion, which is available in each of the three Mercury series. These are hardtops, both two and four doors, with options including a special Sports Package with bucket seats, console-mounted transmission selector, and fully synchronized 4 - speed transmission of Multi-Drive Merc-O-Matic.

The two Mercury station wagon series are the Colony Park and the Commuter, with an optional third seat seating up to a family group of nine.

Optional Mercury equipment covers the full range, including rear-seat belts, Deluxe air conditioner, power steering, power brakes, vinyl covered roof on 4-door sedans with Breezeway design and 2-door Marauders, speed control, tachometer, swing-away steering wheel, AM-FM radio, tinted glass, remote-control side view mirror, non-glare rear view mirror, color-keyed padded instrument panel, deluxe wheel covers, and fender-sight direction signals, standard on some models.

The Mercury power teams offer a selection of six different Marauder V-8 engines ranging from the 390 to the super 427.

Choices in the 1964 Comet include three series — Caliente, 404 and 202; four engines, two sizzling V-8s and two thrifty 6's; and three station wagons.

Comet for '64 has a new 20-gallon fuel tank, performance-minded chassis design, 14 inch wheels, and a new wide stance that gives a cat-like grip on the road.

The top-modeled Caliente is the hottest new Comet of them all, powered by a new, turnpike, powered Cyclone V-8 with fully synchronized 3-speed manual transmission as standard equipment. It is a true luxury car.

Comet has low maintenance features too, like self-adjusting brakes, 6,000 mile (or six months) oil change intervals, and Super-Enamel finish.

All Comet wagons have lots of load space — 78.5 cubic feet and a wide range of power and options. Top in the wagon line is the Comet Villager with its rich mahogany-colored side panels, power-operated rear window and deep-loop carpeting.

Tom Power invites all Post area auto lovers to stop in soon and see these two fine lines of car.

Many horsecar lines in the 1880's had funeral cars with a hearse compartment.
