Coneway in, recount asked

By JERI CURTIS
Managing Editor

After examining the election documents for nearly 40 minutes Monday night, the Hereford Independent School District board of trustees unanimously certified the results of Saturday's run-off which awarded Steve Coneway with a slim nine-vote victory over Margaret Marshall. The board also set 9 a.m. Thursday for a recount requested by Mrs. Marshall.

Saturday's run-off election in District 1 drew 203 votes for Coneway and gave Mrs. Marshall 194. Two ballots were voided due to mismarking or ineligibility.

The board also voted to swear in Coneway, with an abstention from Jo Garcia, although the recount request had been filed by Mrs. Marshall. However, board president Bill Townsend noted that the election laws were unclear concerning unseating a person who loses a position due to a recount.

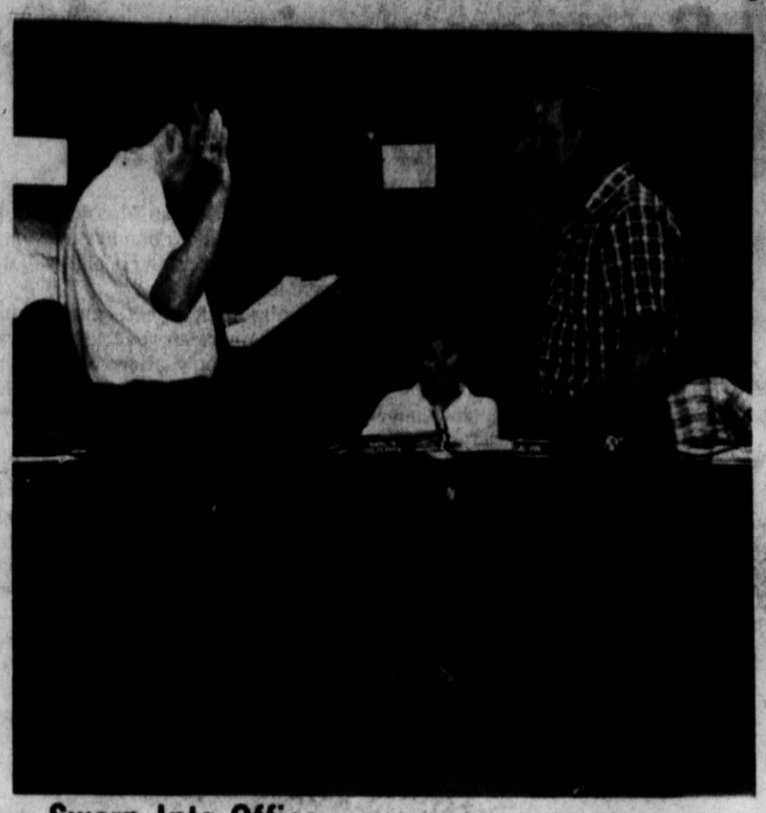

John Fuston moved to proceed with the swearing-in with the restriction that Coneway not vote until after the recount was certified. The restriction was made because if Coneway were to be unseated, any board action in which he voted could be declared invalid.

The board took a 20 minute recess to contact a committee of voters from that district to serve for the recount. Jan Weishaar will chair the committee, with J.F. Martin, Susie Mannschreck, and Charlene Phibbs also serving.

Candidates were notified with a handout at the Monday night meeting and, according to law, will receive a notice by certified mail that the recount will be Thursday in the HISD board room at 9 a.m. The candidate or a representative of the candidate may observe the recount.

The board plans to meet at 8 a.m. Saturday to rule on the recount.

In other business, the board acted on a resolution concerning references on White-Prutzman contractors who will be doing work on the media center at Aikman Elementary and on renovations at Shirley Elementary.

Sworn Into Office

Steve Coneway, right, took the oath from county clerk David Ruland and was placed on the HISD board of trustees despite a recount of District 1 votes set for Thursday.

Retiring city manager honored with 'roasting'

Presented film of occasion

By SPEEDY NIEMAN
Editor-Publisher

Retiring City Manager Dudley Bayne was "roasted" at a special dinner here Saturday night in the Community Center, but the approximate 200 persons attending the event heard the message loud and clear–fellow employees and friends were paying tribute to a man who served his community above and beyond the call of duty for 29 years.

Emcee Earnest Langley, longtime city attorney and a personal friend to Bayne, introduced 13 other "roasters" during the event with current Mayor Wes Fisher ending the talks and presenting Bayne with a video cassette recorder and a "key to the city".

Those "roasting", and paying tribute, to Bayne included four former mayors and representatives from each city department. Former mayors were Bartley Dowell, Jim Sears, Johnny Pool and Ray Cowsert. Jay Spain and Hap Cavness spoke for the fire department, as well as former fire chief Ronnie Osborn from Dallas; Caydon Brush for the police; Bonnie Duke for the administration department, and Bill McMorries, city engineer.

Also adding personal notes about Bayne were two of his sons–Dudley Jr. and Jim. Two other children, Sally and Bill, were also present and daughter Sidney sent a message from Florida.

A story that illustrates the kind of man their father is, Dudley Jr. told the audience, was an occasion when the Texas Municipal League asked him to be a speaker on the "stress and strain" of being a city manager. "They asked him to report how difficult it is to be a city manager and have a normal family life," said Dudley Jr.

Bayne told them he'd be happy to speak, but they might not hear what they had in mind. "If a man can't handle a job and still be a good husband and family man, he needs to find another job," Bayne told the officials.

Langley and Fisher headed the arrangements on the dinner. Fisher thanked others who helped make the dinner possible. The speeches at the dinner were recorded by Hereford Cablevision's Lloyd Ames, and the cassette was presented to Bayne and his wife, Virginia, to go along with the new VCR.

After the presentations, Bayne briefly expressed his appreciation for the honorary dinner. "I would especially extend thanks to all my fellow city employees, to the mayors and commissioners who gave of their time, and to the volunteer fire department," said Bayne.

"I love those guys who serve in the volunteer fire department," added Bayne. "No one serves the community better than these men."

Langley announced that a public reception for Dudley and Virginia Bayne will be held Sunday, May 19, from 2 to 4 p.m. in the Community Center. All interested citizens are invited to attend.

Darwin McGill, the new city manager, and his wife Connie will also be at the reception to meet citizens. McGill and his wife were introduced at the dinner Saturday night.

Bayne had been city manager here for almost 29 years. Fisher said Bayne "has done more than any other single individual in building this community, and we owe him a great debt of graditude."

Fisher pointed out that the city's population had almost tripled during Bayne's tenure and that "he has always kept the city finances in tip-top condition and leaves with no bonded indebtedness."

The city budget was about $355,000 when Bayne took over as city manager, and it now approaches $4 million. Bayne, of course, has supervised most of the major city improvement projects over the years.

Gift For The Baynes

Virginia and Dudley Bayne were presented with a video cassette recorder during a dinner Saturday night to honor the retiring city manager. Mayor Wes Fisher, right, made the presentation on behalf of friends and fellow employees of the City of Hereford. Bayne was lauded and "roasted" by a number of friends at the Community Center.

Two complaints filed against HSB, Hi-Plains

By KIM THOGMARTIN
Staff Writer

The court-appointed trustee for the bankrupt Hereford Cattle Commission and Texhoma Livestock Commission has filed complaints against two local financial institutions.

Robin Green, the Amarillo attorney appointed trustee earlier this year, has named the Hereford State Bank and Hi-Plains Savings and Loan in a "trustee's complaint to avoid transfer."

The two complaints, which are similar in wording, allege that large amounts of money were illegally transferred by the two institutions from custodial accounts to offset "antecedent debts."

Hereford State Bank is accused of transferring "aproximately one million dollars," while Green claims Hi-Plains transferred "in excess of $2,700,000" deposited by Hereford Cattle Commission in custodial accounts.

Custodial accounts contain money regularly deposited and withdrawn by customers who do routine business with a firm, and according to Green, federal and state law prohibits setoff of trust, custodial or special accounts to satisfy a debt.

The petition also alleges that the two institutions had reasonable cause to believe the cattle companies were insolvent when they made the transfers, and that by making the transfers were able to recover more money than they would through bankruptcy action.

The plaintiff is asking the bankruptcy court for a judgment that would avoid the transfer of assets and return the money to the trustee, plus interest from the date of transfer and court costs.

Hereford State Bank President Craig Smith said the bank was following the same policy it follows with any customer.

Corrals under city scrutiny

By KIM THOGMARTIN
Staff Writer

A set of corrals that houses 4-H and FFA projects was a source of controversy at Monday night's Hereford City Commission meeting.

Herb Vogel, who built the pens on his land near Avenue E and 20th Streets in what is known as the Pioneer District, appeared before the commission to ask that he not be made to tear them down.

City Attorney Earnest Langley, who said he has been discussing the matter with Vogel for the past three years, has now filed a district court suit asking that Vogel be made to dismantle the corrals.

Langley claims the pens are built in the city limits on a dedicated street and interfere with access to that street. Although the street is dedicated, it is not currently being used.

"It's not a question of whether anybody's using it right now," Langley explained. "We're (the City) using it when we have our utilities there."

City Commissioners were hesitant to allow Vogel special permission to keep the pens, feeling that would set a precedent for others on the outskirts of town who might wish to erect livestock pens.

According to Langley, Vogel's alternative other than to remove the corrals is to petition the City Commission to close the street. He said that could be accomplished only with the written permission of all of the landowners in the subdivision.

Following a lengthy discussion, commissioners voted to allow Vogel and his attorney 90 days to study their alternatives and asked Langley not to proceed with the court action until they could meet with Vogel at the end of that time period.

In other business, the commission re-appointed Dr. Howard Johnson as city health officer and named Mark Andrews to the City's Planning and Zoning Commission. They also approved the appointment of Ernest Brown from Walcott Independent School District to the Deaf Smith County Tax Appraisal District.

Commissioners authorized the advertisement of bids for aerial pesticide application, and accepted a two-page list of errors to the tax roll.

Another discussion centered around the possible purchase of the Fullwood Apartments building just to the north of City Hall. Commissioners had planned to lease the building for six months as a temporary fire station while the new one is being constructed, but the building was offered to them for sale for $85,000.

After mulling over several possible uses for the property, commissioners decided on a six-month lease-purchase option while they further consider the purchase. City Manager Dudley Bayne told commissioners they have the money to buy the building.

A dinner to honor Dudley Bayne, retiring city manager, was held Saturday night with the invitation-only affair primarily limited to city employees, former mayors and city commissioners and close friends. Other well-wishers will have an opportunity to visit with Bayne and his wife at a public reception scheduled Sunday, May 19, from 2 to 4 p.m. at the Community Center.

Saturday night's event was primarily a "roast" of the "Silver Fox", but those who appeared on the dais also paid tribute to the man who has guided the city's business for 29 years.

Key Club banquet emotion filled

The Hereford Key Club, basking in the limelight of an award-winning year for its service projects, conducted its annual Parent Appreciation-Leadership Installation Banquet Monday night in the Community Center.

In an emotion-filled ceremony, Don Flood, who was named the Texas-Oklahoma District's "most outstanding president," turned over the gavel to the club's new president, Stefan Hacker, and presented a gift to Faculty Advisor Gene Brock.

Joining Hacker on the 1985-86 board are Chris Rowton, vice president; Patrick Phibbs, secretary; Curtis Cotten, treasurer; senior board members Casey Smith and Alan Dudding, junior board members Walter Brockman and Casey Daniels, and Division 33 Lt. Gov. Nathan Flood.

Jerry Taylor, athletic director and head football coach, was guest speaker at the banquet. He was introduced by Flood as "more than a coach–he is a man who cares about all young people and who loves all members of this club."

Taylor lauded the Key Club members for providing service to people and for "your character and leadership." Taylor said character "is the most-needed factor in today's society and it is contagious." He added that if character isn't taught at home, I don't know where it comes from."

Theme for the banquet was "Manhours for Mankind", and the club recorded 13,976 manhours in service projects during the year.

Reagan praises Spain's progress

MADRID, Spain (AP) — President Reagan, overlooking criticism of his Nicaragua policy here, praised Spain's progress as a democracy Tuesday and declared that "the exceptions to the democratic tide in Spanish-speaking America can be counted on the fingers of one hand."

He identified them as "entrenched military" rule in Paraguay and Chile and "communist tyrannies" in Cuba and Nicaragua.

Nearing the end of his 10-day European tour, the president strolled through the gardens of El Pardo Palace with King Juan Carlos, arranged talks with Prime Minister Felipe Gonzalez and opposition leader Manuel Fraga and — in a speech before Spanish community leaders — cheered the beginning of "a golden age of freedom" on the Iberian peninsula.

Reagan said nations everywhere could benefit from the Reaganomics formula of lower taxes, deregulation of business and a diminished government role in private affairs.

"Freedom, we see, is contagious, and the force of your example has inspired a continent," he said in his speech at the Juan March Foundation, a seven-story building housing a cultural, science and social welfare organization.

He also made a gentle pitch for his Central-American policies, saying that "in country after country, the dicators have given way to the democratic aspirations of their people" in the Western Hemisphere.

For the first time, Reagan said, the exceptions to democratic rule in that region can be counted on one hand, notably in Paraguay, Chile, Cuba and Nicaragua. Meanwhile in Spain, he said, "any visitor here can see that freedom is flourishing."

Reagan is visiting at a time of protest aimed at pulling Spain out of NATO and closing four U.S. air and naval bases leased from Spain under a 1953 agreement.

Also, Spanish government leaders have expressed opposition to U.S. policy in Central America, including Reagan's recent decision to impose economic sanctions against Nicaragua.

Nonetheless, the Spanish government is trying to keep things quiet during Reagan's visit.

Donations set for Speaker's apartment

AUSTIN (AP) — Speaker Gib Lewis said he always intended to use private money to remodel his Capitol apartment, and now the House has voted to give Lewis the authority to do that.

In a Monday voice vote, the House advanced a measure that would let Texans donate money to offset about $150,000 spent by the state for the apartment refurbishing. Sponsor Bill Messer, D-Belton, says he expects "altruistic-minded" Texans will want to contribute.

The speaker has been miffed at the press attention to the apartment project — which included $526 for shower curtains, $3,455 for decorative bathroom fixtures and $3,735 for a canopy bed. The money came from House funds after Lewis found no legal way for private citizens to pat for the work.

Messer's bill would set up the private donation system.

"We'll be able to save the taxpayers all that jillions and jillions and jillions of dollars," Lewis said with a bit of sarcasm.

"That was our intent from the very beginning," Lewis said of the private donations.

"It's a good public interest story, it gets a lot of people upset and excited," he said of news accounts of the apartment.

Texas House speakers always have has use of the apartment behind the House chamber in the Capitol's west wing. Lieutenant governors have had use of an apartment behind the Senate. Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby has converted it to office space.

Oil rigs on block in liquidation

MIDLAND, Texas (AP) — The Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. expected about two dozen bidders for four deep drilling rigs put on the auction block in Odessa, an FDIC spokesman said.

The foreclosure sale of the equipment, designed for drilling wells more than 20,000 feet, is part of the ongoing liquidation of the defunct First National Bank of Midland, Gene Shrode, FDIC property management section head in Midland, said Monday.

"These are specialty items in that they are big rigs," he said. "They're first class, probably as good a rigs as there are in West Texas."

Shrode said he anticipated today's sale would generate in excess of $1 million per rig.

Another FDIC general auction, scheduled May 15 and 16, will offer office furniture, machine shop equipment and the inventories of a motorcycle repair shop and an oil field supply company, he said.

Also scheduled for sale will be large trucks, forklifts, pickups and automobiles, including a 1980 Ferrari, he said.

FNB Midland was once the state's largest independent bank with assets of $1.4 billion.

Nam memorial brings tears, outrage

NEW YORK (AP) — Thousands of Vietnam veterans who returned home to indifference or worse gathered in wheelchairs, military fatigues and business suits to help dedicate the city's memorial to those who fought in Southeast Asia.

Today, an estimated 20,000 veterans were getting the homecoming they never received a decade ago when the last Americans left Vietnam. A tickertape parade was planned across the Brooklyn Bridge into the "Canyon of Heroes" in Wall Street.

About 8,000 Vietnam veterans came together Monday night for the lighting of a 70-foot-long, 16-foot-high glass wall etched with the names and words of some of those who served in Vietnam.

About 50 veterans, several in wheelchairs, rushed the wall. One rested his head against it, sobbing uncontrollably.

Another leaned against the wall and stared blankly for several minutes as fireworks exploded over the East River to celebrate the war memorial.

Many who descended on the newly named Vietnam Veterans Plaza were wearing black armbands and black jackets to remember 2,247 American soldiers still listed as missing in action.

Schroeder remains critical

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — William Schroeder, who has lived longer than any other artificial heart recipient and a month ago was well enough to leave the hospital, has been readmitted in critical condition with a brain hemorrhage, a spokesman said.

Schroeder, who had battled back from a series of strokes after the heart implant last Nov. 25, gave a hand squeeze and responded to verbal commands after he was taken back to Humana Hospital Audubon Monday afternoon, said Humana Inc. spokesman Bob Irvine.

In recent days, Schroeder had become listless and too weak to leave his bed in a hospital-owned apartment across the street, Irvine said.

Doctors said late Monday they believed the bleeding inside Schroeder's brain had stopped. They scheduled more tests for Wednesday to determine what caused the hemorrhage and if Schroeder had suffered another stroke.

Schroeder was listed in critical but stable condition in the hospital's coronary care unit, Irvine said.

Dinner-table fracas checked by police

A Hereford man apparently will not file charges after he was assaulted at the dinner table over the weekend. The victim told police he asked for another serving of tortillas, and his wife responded by hitting him over the head with the tortillas. His stepson then joined the argument that ensued by threatening the man with a knife. At that point the complainant left the house, the police report said.

Other investigations during the weekend included a reported theft from a storage building. Lynn Heddins, Rt. 4, told police a jewelry box containing more than $800 worth of watches and other jewelry was taken from the locked storage unit.

The theft of a purse from a fast food restaurant employee was also reported to police. A $174 payroll check and $50 cash were among items in the purse belonging to Esmeralda Arellano, 208 Irving.

Weekend arrests included three for driving while intoxicated, one for public intoxication and another for drunk in control of a motor vehicle.

A man was charged with aggravated assault and disorderly conduct after allegedly beating up his wife. The woman was treated and released for head injuries, and her husband threatened to kill her if she signed a complaint.

Monday's investigations included the reported theft of $740 in cash from the safe of Price-Less Grocery Store. There were also two bicycle thefts, a complaint of barking dogs and another dog problem that resulted in a man being bitten on the hand.

There were two traffic arrests Monday, and two for public intoxication.

A man who was reportedly recently fired from a feedlot was turned in to the City inspector for keeping his horse in his backyard.

COMPLAINTS

"We accepted checks for deposit to the Texhoma Cattle Commission custodial account," he explained. "We gave them immediate credit for the checks and, when some of them were returned unpaid by other financial institutions, we charged them back to the account to which they were deposited.

Smith said the allegations made by Green that the practice was illegal is unfair, and "makes us sound like a bunch of thieves."

He also refutes the claim that Hereford State Bank knew Texhoma Livestock Commission was having financial problems and acted in order to recover as much money as possible.

"We had no current financial statement. We had no way of knowing their situation. We had no relationship with them other than an operating account and a custodial account."

Wayne Sims of Hi-Plains said Monday he had not seen a copy of the complaint and could not comment, not having read the document.

The petitions are the first to be filed by the trustee since he was placed over the Texhoma company Jan. 16 and named trustee of Hereford Cattle Commission March 5.

The two livestock auctions closed voluntarily Nov. 6, and the Packers and Stockyards Association of the USDA immediately began a financial investigation that is still underway.

The P&SA last month filed claims on behalf of customers against bond money put up by the businesses, and is now in the midst of a probe to determine if there has been financial wrongdoing.

Since the businessess closed, suits seeking millions of dollars in actual and punitive damages have been filed by cattle companies and buyers from Tennessee and Arkansas, who claim they were never paid for cattle sold to the auctions or were paid with bad checks.

The Texhoma auction re-opened earlier this year under the management of a former owner. Green is trying to sell that business.

Hereford Country Club setting for afternoon tea

Approximately 100 Hereford Country Club members and their guests were entertained Friday at the club with an afternoon tea and style show.

New styles were shown by The Vogue and included bright summer fashions for active and leisure wear, daytime dressing and afternoon party dresses.

Berta Ottesen served as narrator for the show which highlighted the ten year history of The Vogue under the ownership of Lou Davis and Ottensen.

Models included Dodi Brookhart, Kay Lynn Caviness, Jane Coplen, Bonnie Futrell, Mona Gale Gibson of Midland, Martha Jo Hyman of Dimmitt, Nancy Josserand, Ruth McBride, Connie McGill, Betty Rudder, Joby Sanders of Hart, Missy Sims, Dee Anne Trotter, Beverly Ward and Jan Weishaar.

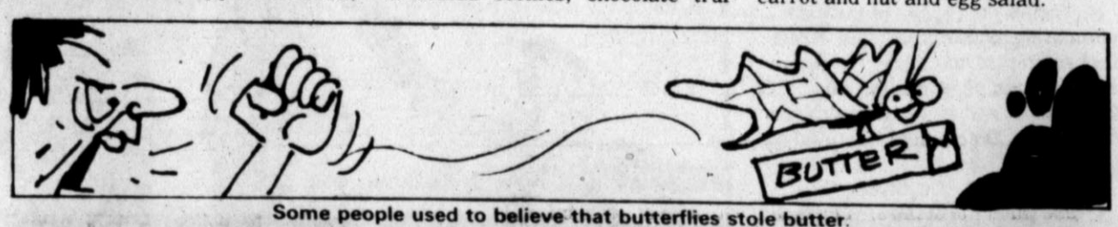

Each model visited individual tables and presented pertinent details of the garments they were wearing.

Tea tables in the lounge and dining room area were covered with pink cloths and napkins were properly folded for tea service. To help create the mood for the tea and show, Doug and Sundee, a popular musical duo, played a variety of arrangements from popular to classical music.

Tea carts were appointed with mint leaves, lemon quarters, whipped cream, and miniature candied orange wedges to enhance the tea poured from china tea pots.

Part of the tea's charm was carried out in the many mini-desserts which were available for sampling. The cart included scones, traditional British tea biscuits, which were spread with whipped cream, raspberry jam or flanked with fresh strawberries.

Also, included on the cart were blueberry and cherry tarts, decorated cookies, chocolate truffles, banana-strawberry nutbread, chocolate bread, strawberry napoleans and cream puffs. The tea sandwiches consisted of cucumber, carrot and nut and egg salad.

4-H Around the County

By DAVY VESTAL
County Extension Agent

As you may have read earlier, Deaf Smith County 4-H'es qualified a team for the state contest to be held in June. This team consists of four outstanding youth of the county, Chris Urbanczyk, Joni Hicks, Kelly Burrus, and Rickie Vogel. This team is the Deaf Smith County 4-H Senior Livestock judging team.

However, if you were to carry on a conversation with one of these 4-H'ers, you would realize that their understanding of livestock and the industry its associated with is far from being their only interests in 4-H activities.

Kelly Burrus is presently the president of the County 4-H Council which presides over all of the 4-H clubs of the county and their activities. She is a member of the Showmanship 4-H Club and feeds hogs for a project. This won't be her first trip to the state contest, last year she participated in Share the Fun a skit planned, produced and acted out by 4-H members. She has participated in the 4-H County Exchange Program, where 4-H'ers from different states visit each others homes for a week and learn about different cultures, ladies lead line, share 4-Hers make a woolen garment and record book keeping.

Joni Hicks is the president of the Showmanship Club and has exhibited steers projects at major stocks shows over Texas. She has been involved in livestock judging for several years. She is a Gold Star Award winner, the highest award given by the county 4-H based on achievement and leadership. She also, was a host for the County Exchange program. Joni attended State 4-H Congress lat year in Brownville and has kept very good record books in 4-H.

Rickie Vogel has made name for himself across the state as being a tough competitor in 4-H, mainly in steer shows, participating and winning in most major stock shows around the Southwest. Ann Landers

Others can identify

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I desperately need help to overcome the guilt I feel about the way our son has turned out. I tore up a letter I wrote several months ago but this one is going to the post office.

"Dan" is now 19. Five years ago he began to exhibit rebellious and antisocial behavior. He became involved in drugs, fought with his teachers, dropped out of school, became sexually promiscuous, ran away from home several times and ended up in jail.

My husband and I are middle-class, hard-working people. You might call us "homebodies." We love each other and have a good marriage. Our younger son has never given us trouble. So far as we know, these boys were raised the same way. Why they are so different is a mystery. We did our best to teach them both good values. My husband and I invested an incredible amount of time trying to interest them in school, sports, and Scouting. We spent summers camping as a family, thinking it would provide a strong moral foundation and love for nature.

Just when it appeared that Dan was beginning to settle down and show signs of maturity, he came home covered with tattoos. Whenever I see them I get sick. When I told him I was sorry he had done tha to himself he went on a rampage, became nasty, and all the signs of progress faded.

How can I accept this boy? How can I overcome the grief and sorrow I feel? How can I not be embarrassed when my friends see him,unkept, sloppy, and now with these hideous tattoos?

He still lives at home, has a menial job, and pays room and board. He rarely participates in family activities. When he does, it ends in disaster and we wish he had stayed home.

I try to keep busy and not dwell on my unhappiness. I am in therapy and it is helping some, but there are times when I feel so guilty and ashamed because I have failed miserably as a mother. Please help me if you can.–A MINUS TEN IN WISCONSIN

DEAR WISCONSIN: I'm glad you are in therapy. It would be wonderful if you could get Dan to accept it, too. I ran across a book that I believe might help you. It is called, "What Did I Do Wrong? Mothers, Children, Guilt." The author is Lynn Caine. The publisher is Arbor House and the price is $15.95. The author describes, in an honest, forthright way, her own bitter disappointments. I'm sure many mothers are sure to identify.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: In the middle of the night I woke up with a headache. I went to the bathroom, reached for my headache remedy in the dark because I didn't want to disturb my husband. It didn't feel right in my hand so I turned on the light. On the capsule was printed, "DO NOT EAT." It was some substance that keeps moisture out of bottles. It may not have harmed me but it sure taught me a lesson. Never again will I take a pill in the dark. Please print this, it might save lives.–FEELING FORTUNATE IN CHICAGO.

DEAR CHIC: To my knowledge I've never had a letter like yours. Thank you for the excellent advice.

There is a big difference between cold and cool. Ann Landers shows you how to play it cool without freezing people out in her booklet, "Teen-Age Sex–Ten Ways to Cool It." Send 50 cents and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 11995, Chicago, Illinois 60611.

Kochsmeier accepts position

Subject to the approval of the congregation, the First Presbyterian Church of Hereford has hired a new minister.

Ed Coplen, chairman of the pastor nominating committee, said Bruce Kochsmeier, 31, has agreed to accept the position beginning Aug. 1. Kochsmeier will graduate from the Princeton Theological Seminary June 5.

A native of Lajolla, Calif., Kochsmeier graduated from San Diego State University and then worked in retail management before enrolling in the seminary.

Kochsmeier's wife, Nancy, is an intermediate school teacher.

The prospective new pastor will deliver a sermon at the church May 12, and then be voted on by the congregation.

The church currently has an interim pastor, Bob McLeod. Rev. McLeod came to Hereford after the resignation earlier this year of the Rev. George Belford, who accepted a call to Kingsland after serving the Hereford congregation nearly 10 years.

Lisa Redmon in 100-meter dash

HHS girl qualifies for state 5A track meet

By GARY CHRISTENSEN
Sports Editor

A Hereford High School sprinter, who is a senior, has qualified for the state track meet after just missing out on a trip to the state meet her sophomore and junior years.

Lisa Redmon, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Polk of Hereford, qualified for the state meet by placing second in the 100-meter dash at regionals this past weekend in Lubbock.

She was timed at 11.7 seconds, breaking her own school record. The first place finisher, Tracy Mayfield of Fort Worth Southwest, turned in a clocking of 11.6 to set a regional record.

The state class 5A meet is scheduled Friday and Saturday in Austin.

When she finished the race at the regional meet, Lisa said she felt more tiredness than excitement.

"At first I didn't have any reaction. When I finished I was just standing there, staring at Stacey Sanders," Lisa declares.

"Stacey was more excited than I was. It was a good feeling, because I was tired of placing third at regionals. I wanted to make it to state, since this is my last year in high school," Lisa adds. Stacey Sanders is a teammate on the HHS girls' track team.

In her sophomore season, Lisa broke the Hereford High School in the 100-meter dash with a time of 12.1 seconds. She then broke that record her junior year with an effort of 11.99 seconds.

During her senior season, she has broken her own school record three times so far. The first time was at the Snyder meet on March 23 in which she was timed at 11.96 seconds.

In the District 3-5A meet on April 20 in Lubbock, she won the 100-meter dash in 11.85 seconds. Now the record stands at 11.7 seconds with the second place effort at regionals, with one more opportunity to better that mark.

Lisa said she has a goal to compete in track in college, and that she is serious in a goal to make the U.S. Olympic women's track team.

During her high school athletic career, Lisa has run the 100-meter dash 24 times, winning the event 17 times and placing second five times. The other two times were third place finishes, at the regional meets in 1983 and 1984.

She is a three-year district champion in the 100-meter dash, and also anchored the HHS girls' 400-meter relay and 800-meter relay teams this year. Both relay teams placed third at the district meet.

She teamed with Stacey High, Felicia Redmon and Stacey Sanders to set a school record of 49.65 seconds in the 400-meter relay at the district meet. The old school record was 49.7 seconds.

Also the district champion in the 200-meter dash her sophomore and junior seasons, Lisa competed individually only in the 100-meter dash this year.

Lisa said there is much mental preparation in track.

"I prepared for almost 55 minutes to run at regionals, and it helped me," she said.

Coach Martha Emerson of the HHS girls' track team said, "Probably Lisa's start out of the blocks is what held her back other years from getting lower times. We worked a lot on that this year."

Lisa began her track career by competing in the Kiwanis elementary school track meet in Hereford in the fourth, fifth and sixth grades.

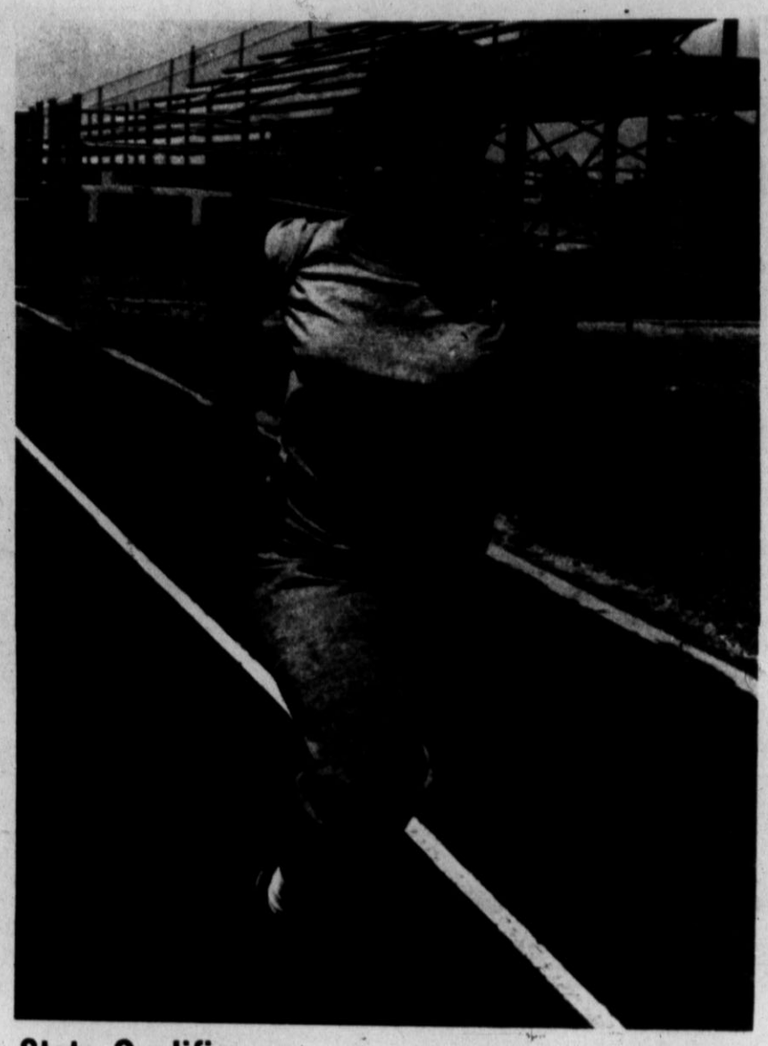

She won the 100-yard dash all three years in the Kiwanis meet, and placed first several times when running the 200-yard dash and the 440-yard relay.

Lisa won the 100-meter dash most of the time during her junior high school seasons, and ran on relay teams that always won.

She also played basketball in junior high school and during her sophomore year of high school. Lisa was a forward.

The three-year letterman will run just one time at the state meet, since eight runners qualify for the state meet in each event.

Although the state class 5A meet begins on Friday, the 100-meter dash is not scheduled until about 8 p.m. Saturday.

YMCA Service Club Olympics set May 20

The Hereford YMCA Service Club Olympics are scheduled to start on May 20, and will last about 10 days or two weeks.

Events in the Service Club Olympics include basketball, volleyball, table tennis, 8-ball pool, chess, checkers, dominos, bridge, racquetball, golf and arm wrestling.

One of the basketball events will be short men's basketball for those five feet, eight inches tall, or shorter. There will also be foul shooting competition.

Singles and doubles competition is planned in both table tennis and racquetball. The golf competition will be a four-man scramble.

Weldon Knabe, general director of the YMCA, said that each service club should appoint an "athletic director" for its group and have him turn in an entry form for the Service Club Olympics.

The entry deadline to turn in the registration form is May 13. The entry fee is $50 per club, and green fees must be paid by clubs entering teams in golf competition.

The defending champion is the Hereford Noon Kiwanis Club.

Events will be held on consecutive weekday events and Saturday afternoons, but not on Sundays. Knabe notes that at least two clubs must be entered in an event; otherwise, the event will be cancelled from the Service Club Olympics.

Scoring will be 10 points for each individual participating, with a maximum of 200 points; 25 points for first place finishes; 15 points for second place finishes, if there are four or more entries in the event; and 10 points for each event entered by a club.

Entry forms and a list of rules and guidelines are available at the YMCA. For more information on the Service Club Olympics, call the YMCA at 364-6990.

PUBLIC NOTICE

AT&T Communications of the Southwest, Inc. ("AT&T Communications"), in accordance with the Public Utility Regulatory Act and the rules of the Public Utility Commission of Texas ("PUC") hereby gives notice of its intent to implement a new schedule of rates for its services. The new rates will be effective May 14, 1985, unless otherwise determined by the PUC. All customers and classes of customers would be affected by the proposed rates.

AT&T Communications has filed a reprice of its tariffs designed to more closely recover access and other costs for WATS and 800 Service and all private line services including Channel Services, Foreign Exchange (FX), DATAPHONE* Digital Service, and OCC Facilities.

Also proposed is the institution of a charge for Directory Assistance to begin to recover access costs incurred for such service and increases in rates for operator assisted AT&T Long Distance calls. The initial minute charge for all AT&T Long Distance calls and additional minute rates for AT&T Long Distance calls 51 miles or less are proposed for increases to reflect the access charges approved by the PUC for such calls.

The proposed new rates for all services would result in an increase in adjusted test period revenues of $139 million or 12.7 percent.

A complete copy of the proposed tariffs are on file with the Texas Public Utility Commission.

Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should notify the Commission as soon as possible. A request to intervene or participate or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Blvd., Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. Both in Western Conference

Two NBA playoff series continue tonight

By WILLIAM R. BARNARD AP Sports Writer

There's only one way to overcome a 3-1 disadvantage in a best-of-7 series, says Utah Coach Frank Layden. Take it one game at a time.

"I don't think you look at three games," Layden said before meeting the Denver Nuggets tonight in Game 5 at McNichols Arena. "You look at one. You go there and try to win one. Then they have to come back here (to Salt Lake City) and you try to win one game. You can't start wishing your life away, thinking of three games."

The Jazz, whose rally from 24 points back against the Nuggets fell short in the final minute Sunday night, will be eliminated from the Western Conference semifinals if they lose again.

"We're in a hole and there are only two things we can do," said forward Thurl Bailey. "Get out of it or go home. And we don't want to go home yet.

Tonight's other Western Conference semifinal has Portland at Los Angeles to meet the Lakers, who lead the series 3-1.

On Wednesday, Detroit is at Boston. The winner of that series, tied at 2-2, faces Philadelphia, a 4-0 winner over Milwaukee, in the Eastern Conference finals.

The Denver-Utah series could also have been tied 2-2 as the Jazz reduced a 62-38 Denver lead to one point with 30 seconds remaining.

"It was a great game for us," Nuggets Coach Doug Moe said. "Naturally, when you're up 3-1 you feel pretty good but you can't relax. It takes four games to win. Also, if we do advance to the next round, we need some rest. We'd certainly like to finish it Tuesday."

The series started with Utah's 7-foot-4 defensive star, Mark Eaton, out with torn knee ligaments. But the injury lists have evened out.

The Nuggets' Dan Issel played Sunday although his right ring finger was in a plastic cast. He sank a crucial 22-foot bank shot in the final minute, putting Denver ahead by three points.

Issel is listed as probable for Game 5, but point guard Lafayette Lever is out. He underwent arthroscopic knee surgery Monday night and a team spokesman said he would be sidelined seven-to-10 days even if no major damage was found.

Lever had been a standout, averaging 17 points, 11 rebounds and 10 assists in the first three games before he hyperextended his left knee at the close of Game 3. Rookie Willie White will start in his place.

Portland stayed alive Sunday night with a 115-107 victory over the Lakers, their first loss in seven playoff games.

"It's win a game so we have a chance to win another," guard Jim Paxson said. "One thing that impresses you about the Lakers is that they bounce back quickly."

The Lakers have won 21 straight games the Forum.

The 76ers are happy to have a week off to nurse some aches and pains.

"The rest also will allow us to regroup emotionally," Coach Billy Cunningham said. "It's very difficult to sustain that peak attitude. We have to begin building to another pitch."

Despite acknowledging that the 76ers would get a homecourt advantage if Detroit beats Boston, Philadelphia center Moses Malone said, "It doesn't matter who we play. As long as we prepare ourselves, we'll be all right."

Houston Oilers sign 11 free agent players

HOUSTON (AP) — Former Oakland Raider running back Arthur Whittington and 10 other free agents have been signed by the Houston Oilers of the National Football League, the club announced.

Whittington, a five-year pro who also played for Oakland of the United States Football League, will be working out with the Oilers in a minicamp the team is conducting this week, spokesman Greg Stengel said Monday.

Other free agents invited to the camp are Doug Kellermeyer, an offensive lineman from Brigham Young, and Kent Jordan, a tight end from St. Mary's of California. Kellermeyer was among the last players cut by Houston before the 1984 season and Jordan was a ninth-round pick of the Raiders in the 1984 draft.

The other players signed by the Oilers as free agents all are rookies and include quarterback Donnie Campbell of Kansas State, wide receiver Ardell Fuller of Vanderbilt, cornerback Brian Hall of Oklahoma, Kentucky defensive tackle Frank Hare, offensive lineman Gregg Harraka of Maryland, Texas Christian cornerback John Thomas, Arizona cornerback Greg Turner and running back Derron Vernon of Eastern Michigan.

Today in History

Today is Tuesday, May 7, the 127th day of 1985. There are 238 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On May 7, 1945, Germany signed an unconditional surrender at Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's headquarters in Rheims, France, that was to take effect the next day, ending the European stage of World War II.

On this date:

In 1789, the first inaugural ball was held in New York in honor of President and Mrs. George Washington.

In 1825, Italian composer Antonio Salieri died.

In 1833, composer Johannes Brahms was born in Hamburg, Germany.

Today's birthdays: Inventor Edwin H. Land is 76. Actor Darren McGavin is 63. Actress Anne Baxter is 62. Singer Teresa Brewer is 54. Sen. Peter Domenici, R-N.M., is 53. Former quarterback Johnny Unitas is 52. "Today" show weatherman Willard Scott is 51.

Thought for today: "If a problem can be stated, you can solve it." — Edwin H. Land.

Salute To Bayne

Dudley Bayne, left, received a standing ovation after being presented a "key to the city" by Mayor Wes Fisher during a special dinner for the retiring city manager Saturday night in the Community Center. Fourteen persons lauded and "roasted" Bayne in tribute to his 29 years service for the City of Hereford.
