County Commissioners Get Encouragement On FM Roads

The Ochiltree county commissioners court found a very favorable reception from the State Highway Commission Thursday when the four commissioners and county judge appeared in Austin to seek allocations for additional farm-to-market roads.

County judge Howard Slaughter said the State Highway Commission told the local group that they understood the problem of roads here, especially since two of the commission visited in Perryton in May when the Canadian River bridge was dedicated.

Ochiltree county had asked as first choice the extension of FM 1276, northwest of Perryton, west to Epps corner, then south to Farnsworth, a distance of about 14 miles.

Second choice was the paving of old highway 4, connecting US 83 and SH 70, about 21 miles south of town.

Third choice was the connecting of FM 2017, in the south part of Hansford county, with SH 70 in Ochiltree county, a few miles south of the newly completed connecting link between SH 70 and Hansford county.

Funds for the farm-to-market road program will be allocated in August or September.

Already approved is the construction of the road extending from the east end of the Uncle Sam highway to the Lipscomb county line. This road will connect with a highway leading south from Booker to US 83.

In future plans are proposals for a road leading north from Huntoon to the Oklahoma line and a road leading northwest from FM 1276 to Texas county. These are not included in any immediate plans, however.

Judge Slaughter said that district highway engineer J. G. Lott and assistant Charles Smith will meet with the commissioners today, Thursday, to discuss the FM road program.

Making the trip to Austin were Judge Slaughter and commissioners Ivan Day, Herman Hargrove, George Yates and John King.

Mrs. Anderson Dies Wednesday

Mrs. Marion E. Anderson, 53, died at the Sanford Hospital around noon Wednesday, following a heart attack. She had been ill recently and was at the hospital for a check-up when the fatal attack struck.

Mrs. Anderson, who lived at 1 S. Drake, had been a resident of Perryton for the past ten years.

She was a member of the Fellowship Baptist church.

She is survived by her son, Robert L. Kite, Perryton; a daughter, Mrs. Edith Carnes, San Antonio; and a brother, Byron Weld.

Funeral services had not been completed as the Herald went to press Wednesday night.

Two Producers in Hardesty Field Take Spotlight

Texas and Beaver county wells took the oil spotlight during the past week, with the Carter Oil Co. No. 1 Sutton coming in as an oiler and tests at the Carter No. 1 Manning just west of Gray showing good signs of oil.

The Sutton, located southeast of Hardesty, has been completed at a daily production rate of 504 barrels, company sources have reported. Estimated gas production was 75,000 cubic feet per day.

Testing data on the new Hardesty field producer showed the Sutton recovering 106 barrels of load oil and 28 barrels of new oil on the first 14½ hour test. It has been fractured once and then flowed 126 barrels on the six-hour test. Gas-oil ratio was 158 to 1. Total depth was 6,570 feet with 5-inch casing.

Rules Are Set For North Plains Fair Parade

Rules for the parade of the North Plains Fair have been drawn up by the parade committee and several changes have been made, according to chairman Bob Lemon.

There will be four classifications in the parade this year, including Commercial, Club, Civic, and Junior.

The Commercial classification will include each business sponsored entry; the Club classification includes the Home Demonstration clubs and other women's organizations which depict various aspects of community life; Civic includes entries from the C. of C. Jaycees, and other service organizations; Junior will include all organizations whose membership is primarily made up of boys and girls.

In addition to these four divisions there will be a Children's classification, in which small prizes will be awarded the best costume, the best decorated bicycle and the youngest child entering the parade.

Prizes will also be awarded the most outstanding horseman and horsewoman, taking into consideration riding ability and dress.

Floats and other parade entries will be invited from all neighboring towns.

Talk Wolf Creek Bonds On July 11

Next step in the Wolf Creek Dam project will be the discussion of bonding rates and details of a bond issue between the commissioners court and several bonding companies at the regular meeting on July 11. County attorney Jack M. Allen has written several companies, asking them to meet with the commissioners Monday for this purpose. Once details of a bond issue have been ironed out, the next step will be an election to determine if the people of Ochiltree county will approve or reject such a bond issue, in the amount of $150,000.

Pleads Not Guilty To Liquor Charge

Gus Bryan of Perryton has pleaded not guilty and posted $1,000 bond on two charges of possession of liquor for sale in a dry area.

Bryan was arrested by city and county officers Sunday afternoon and six pints of whiskey were confiscated at his residence, 322 South Amherst, according to Sheriff Ray Phagan.

After posting bond, Bryan was released, only to be arrested again a few hours later when Sheriff Phagan and deputy Luther Daves stopped him in front of his house and confiscated two pints of whiskey, according to the sheriff.

Perryton Scouts Leave Saturday For Bicycle Tour

Several Perryton Boy Scouts will participate in the second annual Council Bicycle Tour of the Adobe Walls Area. The tour will leave Sunday, July 10, from Pampa and will end on July 15 in Pampa.

In order to be selected for the tour, a Scout must prove himself to be an above average Scout and named an Honor Camper at the summer camp near Canadian.

The tour will consist of six days riding over a 200 mile circuit. Everything the Scout will use on the tour will be carried on his bicycle, including bedding, eating utensils and clothing.

After a breakfast and religious services on July 10, the tour will strike out for Wheeler, guided by sheriff's department cars. They will go to Shamrock on Monday, where they will enjoy swimming and a barbecue put on by the Shamrock Lions Club.

On Tuesday the tour will go to Wellington, where swimming movies and a weinie roast will be provided. On Wednesday and Thursday they will go through Clarendon and White Deer, eating supper in White Deer. On Friday they will go to Pampa. Scouts who complete the trip will be awared badges and patches signifying their completion of the 1955 Bicycle Tour.

Planning to make the Tour from Perryton are Kenny Jones, Darrell Ballard, Vic Statham, Gary Black, Jim Jackson, Jim Wright, Richard Nowlin and Pat O'Brien.

HERALD MYSTERY FARM OF THE AIR NO. 98—Here is the Herald Mystery Farm of the Air for this week. Some person correctly identifying the farm will receive a free Herald suscription and the owner will receive a mounted photograph of his farm by calling at the Herald office for it. The farm last week was identified by several as the H. L. Brummett farm, but since the owner did not call for his photograph, no subscription was awarded.

Increase In Receipts Puts Post Office Back To First Class On July 1

Few Changes To Be Noted In Operation

The Perryton post office became a first class office on July 1, after spending a year back on second class status. A post office must have $40,000 in receipts during a calendar year to qualify as first class, and Perryton dropped below this mark in 1953.

In 1954, receipts at the Perryton office totaled $40,815.45 as compared with $39,846.63 in 1953. Receipts first climbed past the $40,000 mark in 1952 when Perryton went first class for the first time. Receipts that year were $41,984.92.

There are several changes that go with a first class post office, the principal change being a different regulation governing the size of parcel post packages to be mailed to another first class office. The postmaster and assistant postmaster get an increase in salary, but the average customer will see no difference in operation between first class and second class.

Postmaster Irvin Hergert said that the post office took in more money in June than in any June on record. Receipts this June were $4,300 compared with $3,640 a year ago. Receipts for the second quarter of the year are $10,386.00 compared with $9,570 a year ago.

With the absence of any harvest rush, the only explanation Hergert has for the boom in stamp sales and other receipts is the influx of oil people into Perryton.

Postal receipts for the past five years are as follows:

1950	$38,835.31
1951	37,905.86
1952	41,984.92
1953	39,846.63
1954	40,815.45

Girl Nearly Drowned Sunday In Swimming Pool Accident

A death by drowning was narrowly averted Sunday afternoon at the city swimming pool when Ellen Cornsilk, 12, was revived after having been found unconscious at the bottom of the pool.

The girl was discovered lying on the bottom of the pool by divers from the small springboard, who reported seeing her under the water. She was brought to the surface and artificial respiration was administered for about 45 minutes by Keith Flowers and Larry Bell.

After the water had been pumped from her lungs, she was taken to the Sanford Hospital, where she received further treatments and finally regained consciousness.

After spending several days in the hospital, she was released and apparently is none the worse for her experience.

This is the first time that a drowning has come so close at the local pool. A large crowd was using the pool and it was through chance that the girl was discovered. It is not known how long she had been under the water.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Cornsilk.

Hot Weather Ripens Wheat

Recent days of hot, dry weather and high winds have hastened maturity of the wheat crop in the Perryton area, but the pace has changed but little in the past week.

Fields in the southwest part of the county, where the best wheat is located, are being cut now and scattered fields over the rest of the county are also being harvested.

The harvest this year is more a series of wheat cutting days across the county than any full-scale harvest. Maturity dates vary widely, depending upon the stage of growth and the amount of moisture received during the rains of May and early June.

Weeds have become a problem in some fields of thin wheat, but harvesting has been quite successful in spite of the weed crop.

There have been a number of custom combine crews passing through Perryton in the past week or so but practically none of them have stopped. Those that have stopped have their cutting acreage lined up before arrival.

There seems to be little way to secure an accurate estimate of the county's wheat yield thus far. The biggest part of the grain is going into farm storage for seed this fall.

Pete LaMaster Gets Appointment With Ag Dept.

LeRoy "Pete" LaMaster has been accepted for appointment with the Department of Agriculture and will leave about July 11 for Washington for a period of training. He had applied for an appointment and had asked for foreign service.

After his training period, he hopes to be sent to South America for work with the USDA.

Mr. and Mrs. LaMaster are making arrangements to go directly overseas within a few weeks, as the training period is expected to be a short one.

LaMaster has a broad background in agriculture, having been brought up on a farm just southwest of Perryton, attended John Tarleton Agricultural College, Texas Tech, and graduated from Texas A&I at Kingsville. He worked for the Farm Security Administration before entering the Navy in World War II.

Mr. and Mrs. LaMaster spent nearly two years in touring South America and studying the life, customs and particularly agricultural methods in all South American countries.

In 1950, LaMaster ran a close race for U. S. Congressman against Walter Rogers, and in 1954 running on a Republican ticket, he again made a close race against incumbent Rogers.

Hawaiian Vacation Planned By Six Local Women; Leave July 18

Five residents of this area and a friendly Kansasan leave Perryton July 18 on the first leg of a "dream vacation" in the Hawaiian Islands.

They are: Mrs. R. B. Yoakley, Mrs. Gertrude Hardy, Mrs. Laura Barnes, Mrs. Nell Lane, Wichita, Kansas, sister-in-law of Mrs. Barnes; Mrs. T. W. Gray, and Mrs. Edith Manning.

Mrs. Yoakley, spokesman for the group said that "since we are all widows, we decided to take a vacation together and Hawaii was the most popular spot that was suggested." The tour was arranged by a firm in Borger.

The Hawaiian bound sextet will leave Perryton July 18 by car for the Black Hills, Canada, Glacier National Park, Seattle and finally arrive at San Francisco where they will take a plane for Hawaii.

They leave San Francisco Aug. 2 and will arrive in Honolulu at 6:15 a. m. Aug. 3. While in Honolulu the group will stay at the Princess Kaiviani Hotel on Waikiki Beach.

"After 12 days in Hawaii we will sail on the SS Lurline for San Francisco. We are looking forward to the five days and nights on the boat just about as much as we anticipate the entire trip," Mrs. Yoakley revealed.

None of the group have been overseas before.

Q. I had to take a physical examination to reinstate my GI insurance policy which had lapsed more than three months. Somehow, a month and a half went by before I got around to mailing the report of the examination and my reinstatement application to VA. Will VA still be able to reinstate my policy?

A. No. Since your reinstatement application was submitted more than 31 days after your physical examination was made, you will be required to furnish a new and complete physical report.

Q. I understand that if a veteran's Korean GI Bill training entitlement runs out after he passes the half-way mark of his school term, he will be allowed to complete that term anyhow. I am taking on-the-job training under the Korean GI Bill. May my entitlement be extended after it runs out?

A. No. Under the law, entitlement may be extended only for veterans in school under the Korean GI Bill, and not for those taking job training.

Q. I a ma World War II veteran and I own a farm. May I use my GI loan benefit to buy livestock for my farm, or is the loan limited only to the purchase of a farm itself?

A. Your GI loan benefit is not limited to the purchase of a farm. It may be used to buy livestock as well.

Q. I am a disabled Korea veteran. May I take vocational rehabilitation training without going through vocational counseling? I already have made up my mind as to what I want to study.

A. The law requires you to receive vocational counseling before you enroll for vocational rehabilitation training. Counseling is necessary to determine whether you actually have a need for training to overcome your handicap (another requirement of the law), as well as whether the type of training you want can be taken without bothering your disability.

Newspaper Ads Draw Better If Price Of Goods Is Given

Note to Readers: The following article is taken from Publisher's Auxiliary and was written by S. S. Talbert.

A common mark of advertising in the small newspaper is the absence of price on advertised goods.

The distinction works to the disadvantage of the small newspaper, the local merchant, and the entire local community. The absence of price reduces interest in the goods advertised, deadens competition, and gives an undue advantage to mail order catalogs and metropolitan shopping centers which emphasize price.

Small town merchants have a number of reasons for not pricing advertised goods. Many do not know of the added interest to be obtained from including prices. Some argue that it pays to leave leeway for bargaining. Others feel that prices are not appropriate in advertising quality goods.

None of the reasons against prices are sound. The advertising columns of a newspaper is a market place where people seek information on goods they need. The price is a vital part of the information the prospective buyer wants, regardless of type of merchandize. The most exclusive shops in their retail advertising —even on a $6,000 mink coat.

A survey by Sales Management magazine showed that 90 per cent of the public prefer to have prices shown in advertising, and that nearly 50 per cent dropped all interest in items advertised when prices were not shown. People tend to assume that prices are too high when they are withheld. Retailers are very conscious of the value of pricing goods displayed in windows. The same principles should apply to goods displayed in the newspaper.

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE 18TH DISTRICT:

International Blackmail

"Blackmail" is a bad word and is no doubt deeply frowned upon in diplomatic circles. However, if we are to follow the logic that was advanced in arguing for passage of the foreign aid bill to the tune of 3 thousand million dollars ($20 from every man, woman and child in the U. S.) we must reach the inevitable conclusion that Uncle Sam is being taken.

The bill provides for expenditures of 3 1/3 billion dollars to go to foreign countries. It is term the "Mutual Security Act." But when one member tried to have some of his unemployed constituents included in the benefits, the amendment was ruled out of order because the constituents were United States citizens and the bill was confined to foreign aid. Many of us wonder why it is called the "MUTUAL" Security Act.

This expenditure is approximately the difference between a balanced budget and deficit spending. Only a few days ago, Treasury Secretary Humphrey asked for and received an extension of the debt limit ceiling for another year. The ceiling was formerly 275 billion dollars. Last year the administration asked for a 6 billion dollar temporary increase for one year, which was granted. This temporary increase was extended for another year just the other day. Like most temporary government matters, it appears that this increase will be with us for a long time. We have several temporary agencies that have been in existence for a number of years. In fact, the foreign aid program was supposed to be temporary. The only thing temporary has been the name. The name of the program and the name of the agency handling it have been changed several times, but the expenditures go on and on.

It was repeatedly argued that the measure was a defense measure and could not be justified on any other ground; that it was a defense measure against Russia and communism, and that if it was not for the threat of communism, the expenditures could not, under any circumstances, be justified. In other words, the proponents were saying that so long as Russia was a threat to this country, we should continue to pay money to the several countries mentioned in the foreign aid bill. It would logically follow that if Russia ceased to be a threat to this country, then these payments should cease. As all of you know, Nehru, of India, has frequently expressed contempt for our government and has recently completed a visit to Moscow and Belgrade. Tito, dictator of Yugoslavia, openly and flagrantly brags that he has a communist country that is more communistic than Russia. He, too, has recently completed some visits to Moscow. Both India and Yugoslavia were included in the foreign aid bill for sizable sums. Many of the Members called the attention of the House to the actions of both Nehru and Tito. The proponents of the bill did not defend either of them, but took the position that we had to give their money to help keep them from joining up with Russia. If this logic is correct, then it must follow that it would be to the best interests of Nehru and Tito to perpetuate a fuss and cold war between the Soviet and the United States, simply because any settlement of the differences would mean an end to the millions of dollars flowing to India and Yugoslavia out of the pockets of the taxpayers of this country. The same logic would lead us to the conclusion that we are paying tribute to these two governments because of the threat that they will go communistic if we fail to pay up. This might not be international blackmail, but it comes pretty close to it. It simply means that the grand old phrase "Millions for defense, but not one cent for tribute," that has long thrilled the crowd at the 4th of July gatherings, seems to be passe.

AUSTIN, Tex.—School-age children of Texas will be given a second round of polio inoculations before the month ends.

Assurance has been given State Health Officer Henry A. Holle, by the National Foudation for Infantile Paralysis, that manufacturers of the vaccine will have completed production and safety testing of enough vaccine to permit another round of inoculations and booster shots by the end of July.

Fifty five new case of polio were reported for the latest reporting period, which ended June 25. It brought the state total to 509.

Austin has had 12 cases to date.

Draft Evader Sentenced

Two years in the federal penitentiary face Fred D. Jackson of Comanche.

He was sentenced by Federal Judge Ben H. Rice, Jr., when convicted of draft evasion. Jackson handled his own defense.

Asst. U. S. Dist. Atty. Lonny Zweiner, said that the Jehovah Witness minister refused to work in the Austin Hospital when ordered to by his draft board—in lieu of military service. Yet he admitted working in a Forth Worth plant that manufactured military aircraft.

Adrian Case Delayed

Federal Judge Ben H. Rice, Jr., has postponed until next January a hearing to determine if 75-year-old John Cass Adrian of Austin is "mentally incompetent."

Adrian is a retired Austin mail carrier and Spanish American War veteran.

He is charged with writing a threatening letter to Former Land Commissioner Bascom Giles on May 13, and attempting to extort $800,000 from Giles.

Parr Appeals

George B. Parr, "Boss of Duval County," has asked the US 5th Circuit Court of Appeals for permission to file two writs in his fight against charges of income tax evasion.

Parr wants the higher court to vacate an order setting his trial for July 18, and to stop proceedings until the Appeals Court reaches a decision.

Also, he wants the case heard in Laredo. Originally it was scheduled for Corpus Christi, then moved to Austin.

Parr has denied the government's charges that he failed to pay $85,000 in income taxes for the years 1949, 1950 and 1951.

Career Ends

Rep. George S. Berry of Lubbock, whose career in public office began 30 years ago, died in Austin last Friday. He was injured in an automobile accident on May 20.

Berry, who was 56, was serving his second term as a member of the Legislature. His first public office was as county attorney of Young County. Later he became assistant district attorney, and for a short time was assistant attorney general.

He was born in Granbury and moved to Lubbock in 1929.

School Squabble

A 1,000-name petition was presented to Dr. J. W. Edgar, State Commissioner of Education, urging him to cancel certificates of the 110 teachers who struck in the recent school row in Irving.

Filing the petition were Clifford J. Moore and Donald O. Starrett, president and director, respectively, of the Council of Public Affairs at Irving.

They were advised by Dr. Edgar to have an attorney file a brief, supporting their contention, and if he decides he has jurisdiction, then each of the teachers involved will be granted individual public hearings.

Irving teachers struck in protest against the firing of Dr. John L. Beard as superintendent of the old Irving school board. When the district was abolished, and a new one created, the new board rehired Beard.

Dr. Edgar ruled earlier that the Irving school board did not have proper cause for canceling Dr. Beard's contract as supperintendent.

Scouts Expand Program

Plans are being made for a 40 per cent expansion of the Boy Scout movement in Texas.

Over 100 Scout officials met here to outline a fund drive to be launched Oct. 25. Howard W. Tellepsen of Houston directed the meeting. He is executive vice president of the steering committee.

Patrolmen Guards Needed

Two types of openings exist on the state's payroll.

Homer Garrison, head of the Department of Public Safety, needs 200 patrolmen and O. B. Ellis, general manager of the Texas Prison System wants additional guards.

Applicants must be highschool graduates in excellent physical condition. Patrolmen must be between the ages of 21 and 25; guards 21 to 50.

Starting salary for guards is $2,700 a year. Patrolmen are paid $275 a month during training; $306 at the end of school; and $315 after six months employment.

Application blanks may be obtained for the prison jobs by writing the General Manager's office Texas Prison System, Huntsville; and for patrol jobs by writing to W. J. Elliott, Chief of the Texas Highway Patrol, Department of Public Safety, Austin, or any Highway Patrol Office.

SHORT SNORTS: Texas had 397 drownings last year, most of them from failure to take sensible precautions, says Dr. Henry Holle, State health officer . . . State cigarette tax income in June dropped off $38,021 and liquor taxes $32,808, compared with the same month last year, reports State Treasurer Jesse James . . . May building construction in Austin showed a gain of 15 per cent over April, or more than double the 7 per cent increase shown throughout the 11th Federal reserve District. Austin construction also showed a gain of 20 per cent over May 1954.

Toastmasters Hear Philosophy, Humor

Four speakers for the Toastmaster Club meeting Thursday night gave speeches ranging from philosophy to humor, with city manager J. B. Whigham supplying the humor.

Whigham's speech was "My Life Thus Far," in which he devoted considerable time to a discussion of the exploints of a stallion he owned when he was a boy near Gatesville, Texas. This horse, although turned loose in the Fort Hood resevation ten years ago, is still alive and apparently as tough as ever, Whigham said, and the stallion survived a collision with a car only two months ago.

Gordon Shackelford spoke on "Freedom vs. Security," stating his views that people should quit depending upon the government for everything. Shackelford said that the American people have in fact lost a large portion of their freedom in their quest for security, and a synonym for security is "slavery," he pointed out.

E. M. Reuss spoke on "Be Prepared," not with relation to the Boy Scout motto, but civil defense. Reuss told how an organized civil defense unit could aid a community in time of any disaster such as tornadoes and other storms, as well as aiding in the event of war.

"The Three D's of Parenthood," was the topic of Jim Wright. These "Three D's," as applied to juvenile delinquency, are Doting Parents, Drinking Parents, and Discordant or Divorced Parents, Wright said. These "Three D's" are responsible for nearly all juvenile delinquency and the cure for the problem lies in the home, Wright declared.

Sidney Jines was Toastmaster for the evening. Oral critics were J. H. Woodward, C. E. Whippo, Art O'Quinn and Herschel Sweeney. The timekeeper was Harold Hudson and the Ah Master was Claude Carmichael.

Topic Master was Jack M. Allen and Alton Boxwell served as general critic.

Mrs. J. S. Juliusson returned Saturday from a weeks visit with her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Revis and Scott of Whiteface.

Mrs. Floyd Dickerson, Mark and Tommy of Wichita, Kans. are guests of her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Dunkle and sons, this week.

Maj. Bill Cone of Shreveport, La., Todd Cone, and Miss Betty Jo Cone of Canyon are visiting friends here.

Local Woman's Father Celebrates 105th Birthday In Oklahoma City

Allen D. Moore of Atoka, Okla., celebrated his 105th birthday on June 22 in an Oklahoma City hospital and drew a front page feature article in the Daily Oklahoman.

Mr. Moore is the father of Mrs. Alva Cone of Perryton.

He spent the afternoon of his birthday entertaining fellow patients with eye-witness accounts of things which have since become legends and folklore. There was the time he rode with John Chisolm when he took a short cut across Oklahoma territory and established a new route for cattle drives from Texas to Abilene and Dodge City.

Moore claims he is a cousin of the outlaw Jesse James and frequently rode with him. But he says he never rode on any of his robberies. He said he knew the Younger clan, well, too.

Moore says he was born in 1850 in Cincinnati and moved to Indian country as a boy. "When I was 12 I headed west," he says. "I was big as a man then." He tells of slipping past Indian camps on foot after waiting until their dogs went to sleep. "I got down into what is now Beaver county and I ran into a bunch of cowboys" he said. "They gave me a saddle and $5 and from then on I was a cowhand."

He worked most of his life as a cowhand and rode his horse until recently. In fact, his daughter, Mrs. Cone, says that his present heart ailment was brought on by his insistence upon riding horses.

Mr. Moore has 11 children by his second wife and two by his first wife. He has 39 grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Cone visited her father last week end in Oklahoma City. He has been living with a son, Walter Moore, in Atoka.

Passenger Trouble

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Lawrence Colley was brought into traffic court and officers testified he was charge with reckless driving, driving without a license and without tags after his car had run 40 feet off the road, torn down a fence and plowed into a tree.

His defense was that his girl friend "was nolding me too tight and I just couldn't hold her and the wheel, too."

Judge John B. Scott fined Colley $50 on the license and tag charges but ruled him innocent of reckless driving because "I'm convinced it could have happened as he said."

Science Fights Noise

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—Richard N. Hamme, research physicist, heads a staff of acoustical and electronics engineers whose aim is to trap sound and to some extent destroy it. They are working to lessen sound on naval ships to avoid detection by enemies and in aircraft to help eliminate pilot fatigue.

One of the weapons in the battle against sound is a large room built on its own foundation, completely independent of the building that surrounds it. It has 12-inch concrete walls, especially hardened on the inside to keep sound in.

There is a giant paddle, 8 by 16 feet. Hamme explains that sound bounces around in different wave lengths. The paddle mixes it up to make it as equal as possible all over the room.

The staff will determine how long it takes sound to die in the room when it is empty; then with varying objects in the room. It then can figure what objects or materials absorb it most readily.

Hamme says there is a much easier way of ridding the world of noise: "Just pull the switch. But the world won't buy that, of course."

Free Deer Hunts Due Expansion

AUSTIN — Free public deer hunting, successfully held last year on one state wildlife management area, will probably be expanded this fall, according to the Assistant Director of Wildlife Restoration for the Game and Fish Commission.

This was made possible under a new state law giving the Commission authority to regulate harvest of wildlife on the management areas. Otherwise, the areas would be subject to statewide or local laws affecting the regions in which the areas are located.

The Assistant Director said tentative plans call for a free public shoot on the Kerr area in Kerr county (Hill country) and the Gus Engeling area in Anderson county (East Texas). The final decision will hinge on a deer population census scheduled for October. The shoots would be within the November 16- December 31 dates set for big game hunting under General State Law.

Under the new law, both bucks and does may be taken. This is desirable for good management practices, said the Assistant Director, since the intention is to remove over-population of deer regardless of sex.

"It is simply a matter of keeping the herds within the limits prescribed by the carrying capacity of the land involved," he explained. "And sound management calls for maintaining herd balance as to the number of bucks and does."

The first such hunt on the Kerr area was confined to bucks last fall, since Kerr county had not yet authorized taking of antlerless deer. This authorization is now pending for 1955.

Under the free hunt system, interested hunters submit their names to Commission headquarters in Austin and the allotted number of hunters then is selected in a public drawing.

Seventy-five names were drawn; seventy hunters showed up at the Kerr area and thirty-six got their bucks. The only cost to the hunters was the regular $2.15 state license.

The Assistant Director said it is not planned at the present to conduct public hunts on the two other wildlife management areas in Brewster county, in the Big Bend country, and in Hemphill county, in the Panhandle.

He said details of the two hunts contemplated would be announced later in ample time for the applicants to send in their names for the public drawing, and emphasized that no such names will be accepted at this time.

NW NW SE of 1-1-20, just across the Beaver county line from the Hardesty field producers, was unofficially reported to have shown about 25 barrels of oil per hour in a short test, plus an unspecified amount of gas. Testing is continuing.

A drillstem test was run last week in the Kansas City formation at 5,672.83 feet with a recovery of 95 feet of slightly oil and gas-cut mud on a one-hour test. The test was drilled to 6,050 feet and is still being tested.

Wool Producers Get Referendum

Wool producers of the county will vote in the near future on a referendum to approve or reject an agreement between the American Sheep Producers Council and the U. S. Secretary of Agriculture.

This agreement, if it carries, will authorize the American Sheep Producers to deduct 1 cent a pound of shorn wool and 5 cents per hundred on lambs and yearlings moved to market with wool on.

The funds thus deducted would be used to pay for costs of advertising and administration of the American Sheep Producers Council. The ASPC says they want to encourage the use of more wool.

Ballots will be mailed to the sheep producers of the county by the local ASC office.

Chlorophyll Affects Young

CHAMPAIGN-URBANA, Ill. (AP)—Chlorophyll fed in large amounts to animals may effect their offspring. This is the opinion of Drs. E. F. Reber and D. A. Willigan of the College of Veterinary Medicine of the University of Illinois.

They reached the conclusion after recent tests in which they fed two groups of rats diets with and without chlorophyll. The rats fed chlorophyll showed no obvious effects and bore the usual number of young. But their coats were rough and developed a light green color and in many cases were weak, causing the rats to drag their legs. Only two of the six litters lived to weaning age.

Mother rats fed chlorophyll did not provide so much milk and growth rate was slower until the rats reached weaning age.

City Requests Traffic Count

The city of Perryton has made a formal request to the Texas Highway Department for a traffic count at the intersection of Main and 4th and Main and 5th to determine if a stop signal can be installed.

A preliminary traffic count, made by city police, indicates that at least one intersection, Main and 4th, will qualify for a traffic signal. There must be a specified number of cars traveling through the intersection in an 8-hour period in order for the highway department to consider putting in a traffic light.

'Blackboard Jungle' Is Story Of Teen Age Gangs In City

Glenn Ford, Anne Francis and Louis Calhern star in "Blackboard Jungle," the drama based on the novel by Evan Hunter, dealing with one of the nation's most controversial problems — of juvenile delinquency.

The picture comes to the Ellis Theatre on Tuesday-Thursday, July 12-13-14.

Heading the supporting cast is the well-known television star, Margaret Hayes, with 30 juvenile actors cast in prominent roles. They were selected after a six-month talent search during which more than 600 youngsters were interviewed and tested.

Glenn Ford enacts the idealistic ex-G. I. who tackles his first teaching job in a metropolitan vocational school with high hopes; but soon finds himself in a world of hostile student troublemakers who stop at nothing, even to an attempt to destroy his marriage, in their efforts to prove themselves superior to supervision and discipline.

Anne Francis follows her hit performance with Spencer Tracy in "Bad Day at Black Rock" with another taut dramatic performance as Ford's young wife who is made the victim of "poison pen" letters accusing her husband of infidelity. Margaret Hayes plays the other woman involved, with Louis Calhern cast as a cynical teacher contemptuous of and hardened to the hoodlums of his classroom.

'Tight Spot' Has Suspense and Some Comedy

Heralded as one of the most exciting comedies of the season, "Tight Spot," starring Ginger Rogers, Edward G. Robinson and Brian Keith comes to the Ellis Theatre on Sunday and Monday, July 10-11.

Ginger Rogers is the girl who tries to wise-crack her way out of a "Tight Spot," a warm-hearted young woman patiently serving out a prison term until she suddenly finds herself the pivotal witness against a notorious mobster, Robinson, as a government attorney, and Keith, as a police officer, "sneak" Ginger out of prison and plant her in a swanky New York hotel suite where they give her the royal treatment—including lobster thermidor. But she flatly refuses to "sing" for her supper; she knows what the killer does to witnesses. As the gunman increases his efforts to silence the girl who won't talk—against him!—she becomes more eager than ever to return to the safety and peace of her prison walls. To complicate matters, she begins to be attracted to Keith, and he to her. The "romantic" dialogue between the tough cop and self-reliant "dame" is said to be the most hilarious of the year.

Ultimately, of course, the girl does agree to testify, but not before there has been a number of shootings, one of which leads to the death of a likable prison matron whose chaperonage of the wise-cracking young woman has been both warm in its friendship for her and sympathetic in its understanding of her situation.

Sucker Market Booming

American housewives are being victimized to the tune of several million dollars a year by phony make-money-at-home schemes and the scope of these operations indicate that the sucker market is still booming.

Changing Times, the Kiplinger Magazine, investigated 75 schemes recently and discovered that most presented improbable pictures of great riches for little work.

These "business opportunities," say the editors, "range from raising bullfrogs, minks and pheasants to selling hosiery, perfume, and pictures made from feathers. Nearly all present pitfalls. They reek of optimism and soft-petal the hard work involved in making the scheme pay."

Probably the biggest scheme of all is home mail addressing. The Herald attempts to return all such advertisements, but a couple of "home mail addressing" ads have appeared in our classified section in recent months. The catch to this is that after you have invested your money in "supplies" for home mail addressing, about the only way you can get your money back is to induce other victims to fall into the same trap.

One ad investigated by the magazine stated that for a dollar the company would send information on job opportunities in the Pacific Northwest. For a dollar what came back in the mail was a couple of pages from a newspaper classified section.

A 15-page mimeographed booklet, purchased for $2 on the promise that it would show a simple way to attain "Wealth and power" turned out to be a treatise more or less on the theme that hard work conquers all.

The list of mail-order schemes which fail by the slimmest of margins to be fraudelens is endless and growing all the time. Certainly the safest way is to ignore these "get-rich-quick" schemes and keep your money in your pocket.

What About A Nap?

Now that General Motors has joined Ford in giving organized labor that first big step toward the guaranteed annual wage, perhaps it is time that the rest of us take an equally bold step. Walter Reuther of the CIO says labor's goal in the next year or so will be a four-day, 32 hour week, and that ultimately the laboring man will work as more of a sideline, while spending his main efforts on the observation of culture.

We think there is a great deal to be said for the afternoon nap.

This practice will add years to the average life and the short nap is fully as important as proper hours of sleep at night.

If we would all get together, such a step may be accomplished. If all stores and employees were to simply double the conventional one hour lunch period, the employees, and the boss, could take their nap and report back to work refreshed, capable of doing much more work.

If you scoff at this, remember that it is based on fully as much logic as the sacred coffee break which is observed throughout the breadth of the land and has been so observed only since the war.

If organized labor can get a four day week and plenty of money with which to "observe culture," why can't the nation's retailers get together on a longer noon hour and make an afternoon siesta a national habit?

It seems to work with our Latin friends to the south.

And we still like the hours posted on the door of a bank in Pueblo, Colorado—Hours 10 a. m. to 2 p. m., Saturdays 10 a. m. to 12 noon. Those folks are way ahead of the rest of us.

From the SIDELINE

with HAROLD HUDSON

Strange how a crop failure peps up patriotism. Used to be when we were making wheat crops, the idea of closing for July 4 was preposterous. For the past few years, since there wasn't any business anyway, the flags have been broken out and the stores closed. When we do hit a crop again, people may be so used to closing on July 4 that they will do it anyway.

We enjoy a holiday as much as anybody else, but we have one complaint to make about this particular July 4 holiday. The wind has blown, and blown, and blown. This makes quite a handicap on one's golf game, and takes a lot of the pleasure out of it. We had just as soon the wind would blow, if it must blow, during the week and quiet down on the week end. But that's asking too much, we know. We notice that after blowing like the dickens on Sunday and Monday, the wind died down on Tuesday, too late for us week-end golfers.

Good luck is a lazy man's estimate of a worker's success.

We received a letter last week from Glen Lemon, who is in school at Oklahoma A&M this summer, complimenting us on the Herald award. Glen will get his bachelor's degree in journalism this summer and hopes to start on his master's in September. He is working on the Daily O'Collegian this summer and was editor of the school annual this year. Glen used to be our Herald correspondent in Booker. He took part in football, basketball, track, speech, band, acted in the plays, held down a couple of part-time jobs, was taking flying lessons and making top grades in high school. He did a good job in turning in news for the Herald and was the only correspondent we had at that time who never did say he didn't have time to gather news—and he was engaged in more activities than any other three correspondents combined.

Harpers magazine sent us a reprint from an article in their publication, seeking to tell "The Embarrassing Truth About Davy Crockett, the Alamo, and Other Dear Myths." Written in oh-so-clever style, we suppose its primary purpose is to stir up some circulation among Texans. They say that Davy was a coward and a drunkard, that the Alamo was manned by a group of whisky-filled misfits who didn't have sense enough to follow orders and abandon the Alamo. We are not convinced and no other Texan will be convinced, either. We only hope that Harpers gain no circulation in this state.

After all, these Yankees don't have very many Simon pure heroes, either. In New England, they still sing the praises to Paul Revere—and he's the fellow that had to run for help when the British were coming.

We had planned on seeing Frank X. Tolbert of the Dallas News on his trip around the boundaries of Texas, but guess we won't. At last reports, he and his son and jeep were near Wellington, going north. We had expected to intercept the party up near Gray, since they announced the tour around the state. But last week we saw a picture in the Hereford Brand where Tolbert passed through Hereford. Guess he pooped out before he got up in our area. That's the way with the Dallas News. They get lost when they leave East Texas.

Youth is the happy time, but only age knows it.

The will of the late Amon G. Carter, in which he passed out some $800,000 to various friends and acquaintances, contains a bit of philosophy peculiar to most rich men. We think it is worth repeating: "The grave is a democracy for all of human kind. There is no rank in death—the pauper laid away in an unlettered grave carries with him as much worldly goods as the rich man whose body is clad in a silken shroud.

"Neither the winding sheet nor the shroud is lined with purse or pocket. The hand that in life grips with a miser's clutch, and the ear that refuses to hear the pleading voice of humanity, forfeits the most precious gifts of earth and heaven—the happiness within the heart that comes of doing good to others."

There are some people who not only keep you from being lonely, but make you wish you were.

One thing we missed when growing up was the Fourth of July orator. We have heard of the Fourth of July gatherings in the days before the family automobile, movies and television, where people gathered around a community bandstand to hear a patriotic speech. The orator was sometimes florid of language and more often than not was long winded, but played an important part in the building of this country by recounting the sweat and blood that went into the establishment of this citadel of freedom—America. Succeeding generations have become much more worldly wise and cynical about such speech making. But we wonder are we any better off for having lost this old fashioned pride and patriotism?

From time to time the Herald has carried stories about Social Security, asking people to check up on their SS account if they are in any doubt about it. As a matter of curiosity, we decided to see how you go about seeing how much Social credit one has on hand. So we wrote to John Sanderson, manager of the Amarillo Social cial Security credit one has on hand. So we wrote to John Sanderson, manager of the Amarillo Social Security office, giving him our name and Social Security number. We told him that we had paid Social Security since 1937, when we received a card at the Lackey Service Station in Perryton and that as far as we know, we have paid ever since.

We asked him how much credit we have now. A letter in reply said that our request has been sent to the Accounting Division in Baltimore, Md. That office is to furnish us with a form containing a summary of the wages posted to our account. This account is supposed to have a detailed posting for each wage report made by every employer for whom we have worked since 1937. The statement we are to receive has only the annual wages for the last three years plus the grand total of all wages reported to our account.

If we have reason to believe we've been shorted, the Amarillo officer will check up on employers who we may think didn't turn in our Social Security deductions. We haven't received the statement yet, but will report on it when we do.

Wolf Creek Philosopher

Ike Is Right In Keeping Quiet

(Ed. note: The Wolf Creek Philosopher discusses golf and farming this week, either of which he is no expert at.)

Dear editar:

The other day I heard on the radio, I don't listen to the radio much because you have to listen only when the announcer gets ready to talk, whereas with a newspaper you can wait until you get good and ready to be informed, that some man was demanding that the White House announce what golf score President Eisenhower made the other day, contending it was legitimate news and the public had a right to know.

I don't agree with the man. It's sort of like saying because Eisenhower is a farmer as well as a golfer and a President, he ought to tell how much he makes off n's farm, and if it led to that, it could lead to requiring every other farmer to tell what he made, which would be one of the worst invasions of privacy since the newspaper flash bulb was invented.

What a farmer makes off his land is strictly private information, in fact, I'm not sure even his wife ought to know in most cases, for two reasons. If he lost money, it's just another excuse for her to point out he ought to work harder, and if he made money, it's just another excuse to holler some more about the need for replacing the kitchen sink, or the stove, or the television set, or the back steps, the roof, the car, the window shades, the washing machine, or any of the other thousand and one things women are always wanting replaced.

What me and Mr. Eisenhower made on our farms last year is restricted information, in the same category with how many atom bombs the country has stored away, and you start breaking down this principle, like edging in on what his golfing score was, and another notch will be whittled on the gun handle of bureaucratic interference.

Wonder what his score really was?

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

storage and shelter buildings without costly framing

new "do-it-yourself" type of steel farm building features single Lok-Rib panel that serves as structural member and exterior sheathing

Farmers have long faced the problem of how to get a storage building that can be erected easily and quickly and at a reasonable price.

The Milcor Lok-Rib Building is the answer.

This building has amazing strength which comes from a V-type rib built right into its panels. The rib contains a special locking feature which speeds erection and adds to the building's rigidity.

Another reason for its strength is its heavy, 18 ga. galvanized steel construction — twice as thick as conventional sheathing.

The Lok-Rib Building is simple to put up, requires only ordinary hand tools. The job can be done easily in a short time.

Available in 24', 32', 40' and 48' widths. There is a Milcor Lok-Rib Building to suit your needs.

Call us for further details.

188-hp Buick SPECIAL 6-Passenger, 4-Door RIVIERA, Model 43

This 4-Door Beauty is the Newest Hit in Hardtops

YOU certainly ought to come in and see for yourself why this new kind of hardtop is headed for the best-seller list.

It's a Buick Riviera, of course.

Which means the low and rakish look of a Convertible – a solid steel roof overhead – and no center posts in the side window areas to obstruct your view.

But that's only the beginning.

Here you get two extra doors. They open to the rear compartment. So no one in the front has to move when someone gets into or out of the rear.

Here you get massive half-pillars on either side on which the front doors latch and the rear doors hinge. (That's why you see no center posts above the door line.)

Here, too, you get wholly new principles in body design and strength that give the extra safety of rock-firm solidity at the top, sides and bottom.

And here—bless those Buick engineers!—you get a lot more room in the rear compartment.

For the 4-Door Riviera gives you over 9 inches more hiproom and 5 inches more legroom – yet with no increase in wheelbase or over-all car length.

So we repeat—you certainly ought to come in and see this stunning new kind of hardtop.

It's the very last word in beauty, comfort, convenience. It's available in Buick's two lowest-priced Series – the SPECIAL and the CENTURY. And it's all Buick – with Buick power, Buick ride, Buick handling—and the spectacular performance of Buick's Variable Pitch Dynaflow.*

Drop in today—tomorrow at the latest—and learn what Buick's all time record sales year can mean to you in the way of a whopping big trade-in deal.

*Variable Pitch Dynaflow is the only Dynaflow Buick builds today. It is standard on ROADMASTER, optional at modest extra cost on other Series.

The following is the 16th in a series of messages by ministers of this trade area. This week's message was written by Rev. E. J. Yates, Pastor of the First Baptist Church, Booker.

WHY ATTEND CHURCH?

In Hebrews 10:23-25 we have these words, "Let us hold fast the profession of our faith without wavering; for He is faithful that promised; and let us consider one another to provide unto love and to good works. Not forsaking the assemblying our ourselves together, as the manner of some is."

In attending Church on the Lord's Day man fulfills his duty to himself. It is not selfishness or self-centerdness to do our duty to ourselves. It is an honor to any man for him to meet his obligations to himself as well as to others. A man is just as truly put in trust of himself as he is put in trust of others. No man can rightly neglect his own spiritual life upon the excuse that he is too busy helping others, for the man that will not help himself usually will not help others. You and I owe it to ourselves to attend Church and Sunday School with regularity, because by doing so our faith is strengthened and our vision is broadened. Thus we are more capable of living a life of faith without stumbling or wavering.

As well as fulfilling our duty to self by attending Church we fulfill our duty to our fellow man also. Do not misunderstand me. I do not mean this is all of our duty to others, but it is the first step, and if we do not take this first step we usually do not take the second one. By attending Church our faith is strengthened and we are inspired spiritually that we might serve our fellow man as God only would have us do. We as Christians are our Brother's Keepers whether we realize it or not, and we are held accountable for those that are not Christians. Our text says, "Let us consider others? I am afraid we do not give others much consideration when we are continually missing Church attendance. Yes, it is not only our duty to ourselves but to our fellow man that we support our church in attendance, and when we fail, we fail ourselves and our fellow man.

There can be no enjoyment of our privileges without our first meeting our obligations. So may God help each of us to meet our obligations to ourselves, to our fellow man, and to our Church.
