Four Killed In Wreck

EL CAMPO (AP)-A car and a large truck collided Wednesday night on Texas 71 two miles north of here, killing four persons.

The victims were identified as Patsy Allen Whitly, 35, of El Campo; Chad Whitly, 13, of El Campo; Linda Allen Harvey, 30, of Rock Island; Ricky O'Neal, 13, of Rock Island.

All four were riding in the same vehicle when it collided with a truck, authorities said.

Peace Treaty Dispute

WASHINGTON (AP)-Top Egyptian negotiators were meeting today with Secretary of State Cyrus R. Vance amid indications of a growing dispute over linking a peace treaty with Israel to future talks involving the Palestinian issue.

Acting Foreign Minister Boutrous Ghali and his deputy, Osama Al-Baz, were understood to be carrying instructions from Egyptian President Anwar Sadat that the treaty nearing completion must state clearly that the immediate, next goal is an overall Mideast settlement.

Sunken Ship Searched

MANILA, Philippines (AP)-Frogmen searched the sunken wreckage of an oil tanker in Manila Bay today looking for at least 30 crewmen missing after a deafening explosion ripped the ship apart.

The underwater rescuers had penetrated the sunken stern of the 20,824-ton ship and were probing the engine room and cabins where most of the missing crewmen were believed to be.

Signs Energy Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)-President Carter today signed a diluted energy bill that is a far cry from the original plan he submitted to Congress 18 months ago as the "moral equivalent of war."

King Hearings Begin

WASHINGTON (AP)-House investigators are renewing their probe for the truth in James Earl Ray's various confessions and denials that he killed Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Says GOP...

2 Parties - For Texas

DALLAS (AP)-Republican victors in Texas elections Wednesday hailed the results as the beginning of a two-party system in the state dominated by Democrats since Reconstruction.

Bill Clements was elected the first Republican governor in 105 years, defeating Attorney General John Hill, and Sen. John Tower, R-Texas, overcame a strong challenge from Rep. Bob Krueger, D-Texas, giving the state's two top races to the GOP.

Both races were so close they were not decided until about 17 hours after the polls closed. Unofficial totals with all but 10 of the state's 5,784 precincts counted gave Clements 1,181,562 votes and Hill 1,165,863; Tower defeated Krueger with 1,148,269 to Krueger's 1,134,560.

"This is the harbinger of a two-party system in Texas," Tower told supporters in his hometown of Wichita Falls after the votes were counted.

"I'm delighted we have elected a Republican governor. Bill Clements will do a splendid job."

Republicans also increased their strength in Congress, adding two more seats to the two they already had in the Texas delegation to the U.S. House.

But Democrats, including six newcomers, controlled the 20 other U.S. House seats, and easily dominated the rest of the statewide jobs - Mark White was elected attorney general, Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby was re-elected, and Warren G. Harding was elected treasurer.

Democratic incumbents John Poerner and Mack Wallace were elected to the Texas Railroad Commission.

Voters gave overwhelming approval to the "Tax Relief Amendment" which was among nine proposed changes to the Texas Constitution. Six other amendments were approved, and two failed.

The rejected amendments would have given cities authority to issue bonds to build facilities to attract industry and to redevelop blighted areas.

Clements, 61-year-old head of the giant SEDCO Inc. in Dallas, spent more than $6 million in his election bid as he rose from near anonymity earlier in the year. A former deputy defense secretary in the Nixon and Ford administrations, Clements easily brushed aside former state GOP chairman Ray Hutchison, then took on Hill, who had beaten incumbent Gov. Dolph Briscoe.

Band Gets Top Rating No. 25

A jubilant group of Snyder High School Band members and their directors returned Wednesday afternoon from Abilene where they earned Snyder High's 25th Division I rating in University Interscholastic League marching contests.

A Division I rating means "excellent" on the UIL rating scale.

Snyder High won a Division I rating in marching for the first time in the early 50s under the direction of Melvin Montgomery. Don Eiring the present director, has been at the helm of the band program here for the past 11 contests.

The marching contests, held in the fall each year, are the first step toward sweepstakes awards. To win sweepstakes, a band must receive a Division I rating in marching in the fall and in both concert playing and sight-reading in the spring contests. The Black and Gold band of Snyder high has a number of sweepstakes awards to its credit.

"I don't know how they'll do," said Eiring prior to the marching contests in Abilene. He said the band had looked sharp in its practice sessions and in its presentations during halftime at football games this fall. However, one little miscue can mean a lot in the judging. And the fact that the band members knew that they were going for the school's 25th Division I rating put some pressure on them.

When their turn came, the Snyder band members turned in a smooth performance and there was no doubt in the stands that they had earned another Division I.

Work Begins On Project For School

Work has been launched on a remodeling project at the Snyder School Administration building.

The school board awarded the contract at its October meeting to T.E. Shelburne and Son to do some rearranging and insulation to provide additional office space and take care of a heating problem on the northeast corner of the building.

The tax office is being rearranged, as well as offices of the superintendent and storage facilities. Office machines will be moved into space now occupied by the superintendent's office. Offices and halls will be carpeted.

And Bilingual Education...

Education Board Discusses Books

AUSTIN (AP)-The State Board of Education began three days of meetings today with much of the discussion concerning textbooks and bilingual education.

The board, sitting as a committee, began public hearings today on proposed new textbooks for the school year beginning Sept. 1, 1979.

The 17 petitioners who earlier presented objections to the proposed textbooks before the Texas Education Agency textbook committee in August were expected to repeat their objections to the state board.

The board may remove materials from the list recommended by the textbook committee but may not add any books.

The final vote on new textbooks will come at the regular Saturday meeting of the board.

The board also will act Saturday on a revised policy on bilingual education. It refused earlier to adopt a proposed bilingual program after numerous protests from local school officials.

The revised program calls for required bilingual instruction if a school has 20 or more students of limited English speaking ability in the same language classification and at the same grade level. It also would require bilingual education from kindergarten through the third grade, making it optional for grades 4 and 5.

On Friday afternoon the board will receive a report on the Texas Assessment Project writing and citizenship tests given a random sample of public school students. The reading and math results were presented in October.

The SDN Column

How did Bill Clements accomplish something that had never been done before? (We refer to his victory in the governor's election Tuesday. Texas had a Republican governor 100 years ago, but he was appointed, not elected).

We listened around and did a little reading between the lines to reach some conclusions.

"We need somebody who is not afraid to raise his voice when Texas is being trampled on," was one comment.

"He's a businessman and he ought to know the danger of inflation---if he doesn't do anything about it after all of this talk, then I'm going to give up, but I'm voting for him," said another.

"We gotta have somebody to tell Washington a thing or two---somebody who wouldn't be afraid to turn off a few pipeline valves if they try to give us the shaft on this energy business," was still another comment.

Could the general election of 1978 be the beginning of a real two-party political system in Texas? That will depend on Bill Clements. If he makes the grade as a hard-nosed, conservative, Texan governor, his party is bound to benefit from it. His election to the governor's office is strictly bad news for the Carter administration, but after another year or two, the situation will depend on Clements' performance.

Officers Recover 2 Stolen Vehicles

The recovery of two stolen cars, a theft, and the arrest of a pair of juveniles have kept law enforcement officers busy in Scurry County.

One of the stolen cars, a 1973 Mazda, was found by police Tuesday. It was found, reports show, in the 2200 block of Ave. K. It was allegedly stolen from Sweetwater.

Yesterday, a pickup allegedly stolen from El Paso was found by troopers of the Department of Public Safety. It was found abandoned on the Polar Road, approximately one-quarter mile off U.S. Highway 84. The pickup was a 1968 Chevrolet.

Investigations are continuing into each case.

Police also are investigating a theft complaint at the City Automatic Laundry. There, reports show, a grey metal box containing an estimated $100 was stolen. That was told to officers Wednesday night.

Also Wednesday night, officers arrested two juveniles for allegedly stealing letters from the Snyder Post Office. They were taken into custody about 7:10 p.m., questioned, and released to their parents.

Ask Us

Q—Could you please find out when SCAT will install a "Home Box Office" system and what it will consist of? Also, why is FM reception of such poor quality?

A—Mel Gilbert, executive vice president of SCAT, says the new service is being held up by late delivery of equipment. It is hoped that it can be in operation before the first of the year. Equipment promised in October has not arrived yet, however. The service may be Home Box Office or Fanfare, with the final decision yet to come. Either way, it will provide top motion pictures, additional sports and other features, for an extra fee, of course. The FM reception on SCAT suffered when the wind toppled an antenna recently, but it should be back to normal now.

Official Vote Count Called

AUSTIN (AP)—The Texas secretary of state's office has called for official precinct returns in the races for governor and U.S. senator from each of the state's 254 counties for an unusual early official vote count.

County clerks were notified Wednesday to get their official returns to Austin by Friday.

Republican candidates won both seats by narrow margins according to unofficial returns from Tuesday's elections.

WEATHER

SNYDER TEMPERATURES: High Wednesday, 69 degrees; low, 38 degrees; reading at 7 a.m. today, 46 degrees; precipitation, none; total precipitation for 1978 to date, 22.70.

West Texas-Mostly fair through Friday. Warmer today. Turning cooler Panhandle Friday afternoon. Highs 70s except to mid 80s extreme south. Lows 50s except low 40s mountains and upper 40s northwest Panhandle. Highs Friday 69 Panhandle to 90 extreme south.

Carter Problems Loom Despite Demo Majority

President Carter can celebrate the prospect of two more years of large Democratic majorities in Congress, but results of the 1978 mid-term elections also could indicate trouble ahead for the White House.

Voters turned out five Democratic senators who were considered likely backers of the Strategic Arms Limitation Treaty that Carter hopes to send the Senate for approval next year.

And the House of Representatives will have 75 new faces, continuing the youth movement that made the 95th Congress often unpredictable.

The election results also fed presidential ambitions of several potential Carter rivals in 1980.

With all but a handful of votes counted, the results showed the Republicans picked up three Senate seats and nine House seats and added six governors to their nationwide total.

But those GOP gains weren't nearly enough to reverse Democratic majorities on Capitol Hill and in statehouses around the nation.

The new Senate lineup apparently will be 58 Democrats, 41 Republicans and one Independent Harry F. Byrd of Virginia. However, Democrat Andrew Miller has not conceded to Republican John Warner who led by a tiny margin in unofficial returns in their Virginia race.

fed magician's act

Don't rush out and start spending the money you're supposed to gain from the tax cut Congress and the President have enacted. When all things are considered, as all things must be, you're likely to wind up further behind than ever.

Suppose, for example, that you are a single person earning $20,000 a year. According to the sample table prepared by the congressional Joint Committee on Taxation, your federal income tax should be $117 lower for 1979 than it was for 1978.

So far, so good. But the right hand giveth while the left taketh away. You will pay an extra $155.15 in Social Security tax next year. And so will your employer, on your behalf. (For someone making $22,900 or higher, the increase is $332.92.)

See: Already you're behind, and we haven't even considered the effects of inflation yet.

Assume that inflation runs 7 percent next year (a very conservative assumption, I'm sorry to report). The purchasing power of your $20,000 will depreciate by $1,400.

Thus, the real equation of your financial future is $117, minus $155.15, minus $1,400, leaving you worse off by $1,438.15.

Of course, you might get a raise to compensate for the effects of inflation. But then you're making more money (for tax purposes) and so paying more tax on it.

The numbers vary with individual circumstances and different wage levels, but as Senator Baker (R-Tenn.) has pointed out, every family making more than $8,000 next year is likely to face a net tax increase.

To put things in the proper perspective, you need to know that the total tax relief just passed is about one-half the size of the 1975 tax reduction and less than one-third the size of that for 1963.

By way of faint praise, I can find two good things to say about the tax bill. First, it is a better bill than was in prospect at the start of the year, and a little better than the one the House passed last summer. Second, it does recognize the need to stimulate business investment, which would increase employment and production and reduce inflation.

The business tax relief is, however, short by a country mile, just like that offered to individuals.

Business corporate tax relief was very small, consisting mainly of a two-percentage-point reduction in the corporate rate, plus a small improvement in the investment tax credit.

The tax relief enacted to encourage business investment amounts to 0.16 percent of our Gross National Product, or $3.7 billion. Contrast that figure with the tax relief provided for individual investors in 1975, which equalled 0.27 percent of GNP (equilivent to $6 billion in today's economy); or the 1963 investment tax relief at 0.77 percent of GNP.

Even the proportion of the total tax relief aimed at stimulating business investment is much less than in the past: one-fifth for 1979, compared to one-fourth in 1975, and one-third in 1963.

Real tax relief is still needed for both business and individuals, rather than token sums cast out to hungry voters immediately prior to national elections.

gambling on art

Not all kinds of gambles work for the best, of course. And something that happened in the state of Rhode Island provides another good example.

Three years ago, the Newport Historical Society made an interesting discovery about one of the paintings it owned.

A work by the daughter of Gilbert Stuart—the 18th century artist best known for his portraits of George Washington—was found to have another painting underneath it.

Art experts thought, perhaps, the bottom painting was by Jane Stuart's famous father.

So, the society agreed to have the top layer of paint removed.

Now it turns out the bottom painting is definitely not a Gilbert Stuart. In fact, it's not even as nice as the Jane Stuart.

Society director Wilbur T. Holmes is trying to be philosophical.

He says: "It was a gamble that was impossible not to take."

"Us? ... A chance at the wheel? You mean we don't just pedal anymore?"

interdependence

The Little House On The Prairie has neighbors now.

The free-wheeling days when a man dug his own well and his own sewer and could pursue his own interests pretty much independent of others--those days are no more.

Now, in a sardine society, we must develop, encourage and, if necessary, require and enforce a new "spirit of interdependence."

That some of us may prefer things the way they used to be doesn't matter. Things are not going to be the way they were--ever again.

We cannot demand to be free to park in front of the community fire hydrant.

Nor to let our pet dog despoil a shared sidewalk.

Nor to let our pet snail darter cut off our neighbors' electricity.

Economic measures recently instituted by our government to nourish the underweight dollar--higher interest rates, larger bank reserves--were necessary because our excessive individual borrowing was jeopardizing our common interests.

Our overlapping interests have required a succession of laws in recent years limiting the prerogatives of industry and limiting the prerogatives of labor to prevent excesses by either.

Similarly in ecology some of our wants have to yield to some of our needs. My rights end where your nose begins.

This calls for a voluntary "spirit of interdependence," each of us mindful of the nose and the toes of all of us.

For traditionally individualistic Americans this is going to require reindoctrination.

We have always tended to reverence the airplane pilot who did it alone and to revere the country doctor who never left the bedside and to applaud the nature lover who chained himself to a tree.

But we'd never have made it to the moon without a spirit of interdependence.

And we'd never have eradicated typhoid and smallpox and polio without corporate effort.

No man alone can fetch oil from beneath an ocean.

And if that tree, however cherished, stands in the way of tomorrow--it will have to go.

This is to say that all we have come to call "progress' is not necessarily "progress."

And we will always need constructive critics on all sides of each consideration to help checkrein single-interest zealots.

But the few may not veto the sun's rise.

The spirit of independence served us well. Each seeking to outreach the other for a place in the sun caused us all to grow tall.

The spirit of interdependence will not cost more than it is worth. On the steep slope ahead holding hands is necessary and it just might be we can learn to enjoy it.

commentary

donald f. graff

Andorra, the small principality located in the Pyrenees between France in Spain, isn't used to worldwide attention. Not the modern kind, at least.

But 190-square-mile Andorra has just celebrated its 700th anniversary with a public reconciliation between its Spanish and French "co-princes."

Key participants were France's President Valery Giscard d'Estaing and Spain's Bishop of Urgel Marti Y. Alunis.

Andorra is run almost exclusively by the co-rulers.

To mark the anniversary, they stood side-by-side in Andora-La-Veija's central square, shaking hands under the blue, yellow and red Andorran flag.

Oddly enough, that represented history's first meeting between the joint rulers of the Detroit-sized nation, which won independence in 1278.

Independence came at the height of a 13th century squabble between the bishops of Urgel and the French counts of Foix.

But the anniversary ceremonies were affected by some clearly 20th-century realities.

A recent commerical boom transformed the poor, largely agricultural nation into one of the most prosperous freeports of Europe. French and Spanish shoppers pour into Andorra every weekend.

So the two "princes" are trying to cooperate in resolving problems associated with the rapid industrialization of the territory.

Up till now, rivalry and mistrust between the Urgel bishops and French officials stalled all attempts to modernize Andorra's medieval government.

For one thing, that meant efforts to set up a social welfare system for the 8,000 Andorrans and 22,00 foreign residents were blocked.

Giscard, who backs more power for Andorrans, said: "In the history of the valleys, tradition has never meant immobility and this is particularly true today in view of the rapid and happy development of Andorra."

He added, "This modernization of the conditions and the framework of life must be met with a corresponding adaptation of the habits, procedures and institutions."

At least things are going much more smoothly than they did in 1967, the last time a French "prince" visited Andorra.

The late president Charles de Gaulle rekindled tension with Andorra and Spain by bringing along thousands of French gendarmes for protection.

In China, politics often takes a distinctly un-Western course.

For instance: a great national debate is taking place over the veracity of the late Communist Party chairman Mao Tse-Tung's wisdom.

Now the new mayor of Tiesntsin has said Chairman Mao was not infallible in everything he uttered. And that interpretation was duely reported by the official New China News Agency (which suggets it carries weight, perhaps).

Anyway, Chen Wei Ta, newly appointed mayor of China's third largest city, proposed that Mao's utterences should not escape the test of application.

"Practice is the only criterion in testing truth," said Chen, outlining the policy he hopes Tientsin—one of several northern cities devastated in China's 1976 earthquake—will follow in the future.

Chen is reflecting the views of a powerful Communist Chinese faction led by senior vice premier Teng Hsiao-Ping. Teng, survivor of two political purges, doesn't claim all Mao said is wrong—just that "Truth must be tested."

The opposition faction in the high-level theoretical tug of war is led by vice premier Wang Tung-Hsin, commanding general of Mao's palace guard. Of course, that side contends that what Mao said was truth.

What about Mao's successor, Chairman Hua Kuo-Feng?

Well, Hua seems to be steering clear of the several months old political skirmish of words. The truth is, he isn't taking sides.

soaring prime rate

NEW YORK (AP)—More banks join in a prime rate rise to 10¾ percent. General Motors cuts its year-end dividend to $2.50 a share from $3.25. The founder of a medium-size Midwest business decides to retrench.

All moves were revealed on the same day, Tuesday, and all are links in the same chain of thought: They foretell a possible business downturn. Recession. Nobody likes to say, but they're thinking.

As always, General Motors had been rather bullish about prospects for the next year and, as expected of an industry leader whose forecasts can be self-fulfilling, it broadcasts its confidence widely and loudly.

But numbers sometimes declare themselves more forcefully than thetoric. The reduction leaves GM's shareholders, about 1.25 million of them, with about $210 million less than they had expected.

Why did GM do it, especially after those bullish forecasts. Because, it said, "pressing demands of the business and uncertainties which require that the corporation maintain its strong capital position."

In other words, money is getting too costly to borrow. No amount of confidence or hopes can change that fact. To survive, a person or company adjusts. A little pain now saves more later.

The Midwest businessman, who hasn't yet told his employees and so asks for anonymity, had been quite bullish, as you would expect from a man who personally built a successful company from nothing in 15 years.

"Nothing the president can do is going to salvage the situation." he said. In his opinion, he continued, "we're going to have a recession that is deeper, more widespread and more prolonged than believed."

And so, after an almost steady expansion that included the acquisition of his chief local competitor just a few years ago, he would soon consolidate two factories into one, with resulting layoffs.

The company that is overextended, particulary in the amount of money it owes, can be mortally wounded in the coming recession, he said. "I might lose a few pails of milk," he said, "but I'll save the cow."

And then? After a year or two the economy will be moving ahead again. "I'm positioning myself for that right now," he said.

While his retrenching might or might not be good business, depending upon the course of the economy, he contradicts himself in maintaining the president can do nothing to alter the course of events.

He, himseif, is evidence of that: because of Washington's efforts to restrain inflation, if perhaps belatedly, he is cutting back when otherwise he might be planning further expansion.

If he and his counterparts continue to do so, then inflation might be reduced to what is now considered an acceptable 6 percent annual rate. The question then becomes: Can it be accomplished without recession?

Every economist and business person interviewed in the mid-section of the country during the past week conceded that the Washington decisions of last week increased the possibility of inflation.

my turn

by john long

I never thought I would see the day when a Republican would be elected governor of Texas. Yet it has happened, and I believe it signals the start of something new.

I notice a growing disillusionment with the status quo in government. People, I think, are becoming wary of liberal politicians. Their disillusionment borders on cynicism. They are tired of soaring prices, welfare frauds, and tax ripoffs.

Rightly or wrongly many people are beginning to equate liberalism with inflation. For years now Congress has been controlled by Democrats. I believe that, too, will change.

The election of a Republican governor in a Democratic state indicates people want a change and that they are willing to try a new slate of candidates in some cases to bring it about. What else could the election of first Republican governor in more than 100 years mean?

Democratic candidate John Hill is probably wondering right now what he did wrong in the campaign. I don't think he did anything wrong. I believe it was the Democratic label that hurt him. It is the same label that will hurt quite a few office seekers in the near future.

The Nov. 7 election also indicates that Texas has become something of a "swing state" in state and probably national elections, too. The Old South isn't what it used to be. We now know it is possible for Republicans to be elected.

Locally, the election was marked by the use of mechanical voting devices.

The going was a little slow Tuesday night, slower than I had expected. Mild confusion and a moderately hectic pace marked the use of the first voting machines.

Still, it was a fairly difficult ballot and some confusion is to be expected in the first use of anything.

I left the county clerk's office at the courthouse about 10:30 that night. I believe that if we had the old paper ballots counted by hand I would have been at the courthouse until about midnight.

Having stayed up 16½ hours for primary election results, I am not complaining about a 3½-hour stay at the courthouse.

Smith Couple To Cue Rounds

Dave and Nita Smith of Lubbock will cue the rounds at the Sparkle City Squares' 7th Annual Square and Round Dance Festival here Saturday.

The festival will be held in the Scurry County Coliseum, with workshops in rounds set for 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. and workshops in rounds booked for 3 p.m. to 5 p.m. The Festival dance will follow Saturday night, with request rounds from 7 to 7:45 p.m. and squares from 8 to 11 p.m.

The Smiths have been square and round dancing since 1964 and they have been teaching rounds since 1967. They are well-known throughout the nation in round dance circles.

They have conducted rounds at festivals in Texas, Louisiana, New Mexico, Colorado, Oklahoma, Kansas, Mississippi and Tennessee. They are on the staff at Fun Valley for the spring dance session and again for the fall session. They also are featured at the newly-reopened Lighted Lantern Resort. They have been panelists and instructors at state festivals in Louisiana and Texas and also at several nation festivals.

The Smiths just completed a term of office as the round dance coordinators for the Texas State Federation of Square and Round Dancers and are currently serving as vice president of the West Texas Callers and Teachers Association. They now head the Texas Round Dance Teachers Association and are members of the Roundalab and the Universal Round Dance Council.

They are the exclusive recording artists for rounds on the Rhythm Record label and have choreographed "Wind Me Up" and "Brown Eyes Blue" for Rhythm.

HERMLEIGH NEWS

By ADALA DRENNAN

The Hermleigh Cardinals have walked away with another victory. The undefeated team will play McCaulley here Friday night.

Saturday, Nov. 18 all interested persons will have a bake sale at Jones Grocery. There will be various other items for sale up and down the street; such as arts and crafts, canned foods, antiques and clothes. All proceeds will go to the Hermleigh Community Fund toward the purchase of the fire truck. In the event of bad weather, these booths and items for sale will be held at the school.

Word has been received from Mrs. Sydonia Mikulenka that her mother, Mrs. Fred Kasper of Halletsville, has had eye surgery and is doing nicely. The Kaspers are former residents of Hermleigh.

This community was saddened to learn of the death of Mr. Calvin A. Clifton of the Pyron community on Thursday, Nov. 2. Clifton has been in poor health for quite some time. His funeral was held Saturday morning at the Church of Christ in Roscoe and was buried in Roscoe. He is survived by his wife and one son, Billy Joe.

Mrs. Rose Mary Goebel accompanied her aunt, Mrs. Frank Zalman, to Colorado City Monday where they visited Mrs. Isabell Kuss at the Christi Lee Manor. On Tuesday they visited her brother, Mr. John Roemisch, who is in the hospital at Cogdell Memorial hospital.

Mrs. Eva Mae Brackeen accompanied her sister, Ms. Vena Lucas, to Altus, Okla., for a visit.

The community was again saddened by the death of Mrs. Elizabeth Jane Mautz. Mrs. Mautz attended Hermeligh school and lived here most of her life. She was buried at Hermleigh. She is the daughter of Mrs. Jackie Sealy and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. G.E. Chorn.

This correspondent has received a first addition of "The Altar," compiled by Rev. Charles Bridges of Ira. It is more encouraging and is an inspiration to all who will receive these monthly publications in the near future.

Mr. and Mrs. C.A. Hall attended the funeral service Saturday morning of his niece, Mrs. Nellie Robinson of Midland.

Word has been received that Mrs. Vertna Lee, a former resident of Hermleigh, and who has recently had surgery, is doing well.

Mr. and Mrs. N.C. (Merle) Dittrich and sons, Terry and Kerry of Amarillo and a sister, Miss Clara Buffington of Snyder, were guests of their sister, Mrs. Rinehart and son, James last weekend. Both Terry and Kerry are college students. Mrs. Dittrich and this correspondent worked for Southwestern Bell Telephone Company at the same time, in Snyder.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivey Herrley visited their son, Mr. and Mrs. Dillard Herrley and family in Snyder, Sunday afternoon. Their granddaughter and family of Ackerley were there and the Herrleys were delighted to again see their three little great-grandchildren. They also visited another son, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Herrley, and Mr. and Mrs. Romia Prince Sunday evening.

Mrs. Buck (Lora) Taylor of Loraine and Mrs. Dee (Nevada) Garner of Idalou visited Mrs. Rachel Lassiter and Adala Drennan Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Mavis McHaney of Snyder, a former resident of Hermleigh, who has had major surgery recently at Cogdell Hospital was dismissed Tuesday, and is doing nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. Olin Johnson are visiting their daughter, Captain, and Mrs. (Sheryl) Birard Hoffpauir III and family in Oklahoma City. While there, their graddaughter had surgery.

Mrs. Effie Wright visited friends in Loraine recently.

Mrs. Louise Connley of Abilene visited her father, Mr. Roy Coston last weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Haynes of San Saba were here for the funeral of Mrs. Elizabeth Jane Mautz, and were guests of their son, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Haynes.

Recent dinner guests of the O. W. Richburgs were Rev. and Mrs. Charles Bridges and Amy, and the two Downing brothers who are students at Hardin Simmons University.

PRESENT PROGRAMS-Programs for Beta Sigma Phi for the past three months were presented by (from left) Bette League on "Leisure Time;" Mickey Baird "Parliamentary Procedure;" Kay Hickman "Learning to Earn" and Dena Ellis "Love." Not pictured Lora Beasley "Tribal Gatherings."

Sorority Meets

Eighteen members answered roll call at the regular meeting of Lambda Kappa chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Tuesday night, Nov. 7, at the Martha Ann Woman's Club. President Carolyn Limmer presided and roll call and minutes were read by Peggy Wilson. Mona Bryan gave the treasurer's report. Carolyn Greene reminded members of the annual family Thanksgiving supper which will be held on Friday, Nov. 17, at the Towle Park Barn at 7 p.m. Marilyn Zoda, service chairman, announced that those donating items to the West Texas Rehabilitation Center bazaar should take items to the community room at the West Texas State Bank Nov. 17. Dena Ellis reported on the plans for the MAWC Fiesta Supper, Bazaar and tour of homes, to be held Dec. 2.

Chapter members will be selling Christmas wrapping paper, ribbons, and bows at the bazaar. The paper will be sold for $1.75 for four yds, $3.50 for eight yds. and $5.25 for 12 yds. It is available and can be bought now from any sorority member.

Sorority members have been invited to attend the Alph Kappa Pi chapter Christmas dance Dec. 9 in Robert Lee. Program chairman Bette League announced that the Pledge Ritual and Ritual of Affirmation will be held at the Nov. 21 meeting. Hostesses will be Barbara Bills and Lora Beasley.

The hostess gift was won by Peggy Wilson, and hostesses were Wanda Early and Betty Richardson. The evening's program was given on parliamentary procedure by Mickey Baird. She emphasized that finesse and good faith should characterize any organization's meetings and stated that the importance of beginning on time cannot be overlooked. The smooth and effective functioning of committees was discussed, and she concluded her program by leading the group in two exercises aimed toward the development of better leadership abilities and more effective communication with others.

Refreshments were served following the program.

Knapp HD Club Meets

Knapp Home Demonstration Club met in regular monthly meeting at the Knapp Community Center. On arrival members were served cake, coffee, punch and nuts by hostess Wanda Horn.

Erika Blankenship called the meeting to order. Minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. Virginia Drake was nominated and elected to be vice president for 1979. Jewell Bruner gave a short summary of the workshop on Citizenship which was taught at the state convention in October. Potted plants were given as door prizes. Mrs. Jan Lipsey showed and demonstrated Tupperware. A percentage of the sales will go to the club council.

All clubs of the county are to meet at Union Community Center on Nov. 9 for a covered dish luncheon and white elephant sale. Proceeds are to go to council.

The annual Christmas party will be on the next regular meeting date, Dec. 7, at the Knapp Community Center from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. Mrs. Alice Guerrero will be hostess. Homemade gifts are to be exchanged.

Mrs. Martha Davis came into the club as a new member. Others present were Erika Blankenship, Virginia Bloom, Virginia Drake, Valeri Dunn, June Greenway, Pat Miller, Allie Moore, Frieda Murphy, Blanche Murry, Agnes Sorrels, Lois Bartel, Jacie Ray, Alice Guerrer and guest Jan Lipsey of Snyder, and Wanda Horn, hostess.

The English historian, ThomasBabington Macauley, who died in 1859, is best known for his five-volume work, "The History of England."

We favor three notrump. We prefer to let partner try for nine tricks instead of going after 10 at spades and we do want to be in game.

By Oswald Jacoby and Alan Sontag

North's two-spade rebid over South's two-club response is not a true reverse. It merely says that he, North, would have rebid one spade if South had responsed one heart to the diamond opening.

In other words it shows four spades and what might well be a minimum hand.

South's jump to three notrump shows that he wants to play in notrump, but is only interested in a slam if North has a really good hand and North is delighted to pass.

Just how many notrump South makes depends on what line of defense is adopted. After the heart lead, South is assured of two hearts, one spade, one diamond and five clubs, but when he runs the clubs there will be tremendous pressure on East even though East gets to discard after dummy.

The defense will surely get the ace of spades in addition to the king of hearts and should get a third trick somehwere.

Country Club Dinner Tonight

An Italian dinner will be held at the Snyder Country Club for members tonight. The entrees will be spaghetti and sauce and baked lasagna.

Dinner music will be presented by Ted McMillan. Reservations must be made for the dinner tonight set for 7:30 p.m.

When you're wearing jeans with cuffs and an outdoor vest, top it with a low-riding western hat.

Slim down heavy front thighs by jogging or even skipping rope.

If you're right-handed and can't cut your nails well on that hand, use a left-handed scissor.

Changes with senility

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — What has happened to my husband? He is 75 and for about 10 years he has been getting worse until he totters on his legs, looks 96 and is so hellish, brutally mean, insulting, self-centered, abusive, and generally senile that it has spoiled any enjoyment we could ever have. He is not happy unless he is making me miserable.

My nervous system can hardly take this beating. At times I think I cannot live through it, with all the responsibility falling upon me while he saps my strength by keeping me upset by name-calling, sneers, verbal abuse and accusations. Even when I am sick he abuses me. He thinks I am trying to do something to him, am dishonest, big mouth and abusing him when he is the one doing it all.

I have a kind, good disposition and have tried to help him, but nothing ever pleases him. Isn't age "hell"? I am a few years younger than he. I am keen, capable, active and don't even have gray hair. Is there any help for him? I cannot get him to see anyone about it. He thinks everyone else is crazy.

DEAR READER — I included your letter in my column because it points up a basic problem that older people have and which is not often discussed. Sometimes there are horrendous personality changes when a person becomes senile.

Some of these changes are directly related to fundamental changes in the cells of the brain. Others are a direct result of poor circulation to the brain caused by disease of the arteries. In either case, the end result is a personality change. This change can really mean that a person is living with an individual who is entirely different from the person he or she had previously known.

You are absolutely right. It is hard sometimes to get people who suffer the consequences of these changes to seek medical attention. Fortunately, there are some medicines which help in these situations. But they don't help much if you can't get the person to see the doctor.

The nervousness, agitation, depression and anxiety that some older people feel because of these changes can sometimes be relieved, and this may, in some cases, result in a marked shift in personality back toward the person's original self. I am afraid that we have not really addressed ourselves as to what to do about these problems in our society.

It's hard to make even young people with good heads do things that they should do about their health. It's almost impossible to get people who have disturbances in their normal intellectual functions to seek the help they need.

It's hard to impose medical examinations and treatments on people because it's "good for them," when they don't want it. The unfortunate part is that they may be too ill to appreciate the point that they need help.

I wish that I did have a ready answer to your question. I don't, and neither will anyone else until society comes to grips with these kinds of problems so we can at least use the medical aids that have been developed at this point. Certainly, they won't help in all cases, but they can help in some.

On a happier note, you don't have to look forward to a bleak existence in your later years. To give you information on where we are on our knowledge of aging, I am sending you The Health Letter number 1-7, Perpetual Youth, Aging. Others who want this issue can send 50 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Address your letter to me in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

ASTRO-GRAPH

Bernice Bede Osol

Your Birthday

November 10, 1978

A little more drama could enter into your life this year. This might include a thrilling romantic episode, impressive friends and, perhaps, a sensational social calendar.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) The obvious concern for the well-being and comfort of others that you display today endears you to them. Friendships will be deepened. Like to find out more about yourself? Send for your copy of Astro-Graph Letter by mailing 50 cents for each and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to Astro-Graph, P.O. Box 489, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10019. Be sure to specify birth sign.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) The family and their needs take priority for your attention today. This is the way it should be.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Guard against becoming lost in your dreams today. You'll have a tendency to fantasize rather than face issues squarely.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) You could easily be taken in by a sad tale today. Your heart and your purse are so wide open that you leave no doubt you're willing to give.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) A leadership role becomes you today, but timidity does not. You'll win respect of your peer group by being assertive and unafraid to take the helm.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) You may feel reclusive and a bit withdrawn today. There won't be anything wrong, you're just recharging your energies.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Being with friends is important to you today, but you'll need to pick pals who aren't loud or domineering. You won't be able to handle these types.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Ascend the ladder slowly and unobtrusively today. The less noise you make, the more apt you are to get what you want.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) You won't let yourself be pressured today into decisions on things you'd like to dwell on a bit longer. You'll set your own pace and refuse to be flustered.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Getting to the bottom of things is your cup of tea today. You'll have an instinct for solving puzzles.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Situation where you can bounce-off ideas with others today could be especially rewarding for you. This interrelationship of thoughts brings out your best.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) You'll be able to produce a great deal today if you work only on creative, imaginative projects. The mundane will turn you off.

Burglary Case Under Probe

Deputy sheriffs are investigating a house burglary west of Ira.

Complainant in the case is Orran Fraenzl. He told deputies a 12-guage shotgun, a portable television, and a stereo were carted off from his home.

The break-in is reported to have occurred Nov. 7.

Menuhin's Fiddles High

LONDON (AP)—Yehudi Menuhin doesn't fiddle around when he sells one of his violins.

At Sotheby's on Wednesday, one of Menuhin's instruments, a Joseph Guarneri del Jesu violin made in 1739 in Cremona, Italy, was auctioned for $224,000.

The price was $8,000 less than the previous highest auction price for any musical instrument.

Churchill's Grandson Is Kicked Out

LONDON (AP)—Winston Churchill was kicked out of the opposition Conservative leadership early today, but if he's anything like his grandfather, the setback won't cause lasting damage.

Chuchill's grandfather and namesake was booted out as prime minister after World War II, but regained the post in the 1950s.

A Conservative statement said party leader Margaret Thatcher asked Churchill to resign as defense spokesman for voting against a Labor government motion to renew economic sanctions against Rhodesia. Tory floor managers in the House of Commons had ordered the 284 Conservatives to abstain.

Dear Abby

Mum's the Word For Son's Wife

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1978 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd. Inc.

DEAR ABBY: My daughter-in-law and I are separated by 3,000 miles. I never visit unless she invites me. She and my son have been married for 10 years and I'm invited for one week every year.

A half hour after my arrival, my daughter-in-law goes into her bedroom and leaves me with her two children, 7 and 8. Two hours later my son comes home and inform me that his wife has a headache.

I prepare the evening meal and my son takes his wife hers on a tray. This goes on every day until I leave. There is never any communication between us. She stays locked up in her room until I leave. She hardly says hello, and she never says goodbye. She doesn't even talk to her children. She acts as though they aren't there.

How can anyone be so hateful? She has a beautiful home, new car, money, clothes, jewelry—everything a woman could ask for.

This "sick" routine is a fake. If she doesn't want me to visit, why does she invite me? Her letters are so sweet. What is your opinion?

TEARS IN NEW MEXICO

DEAR TEARS: It's obvious that your daughter-in-law feels unable to handle any kind of communication with you, and she refuses to try. Before condemning her, ask your son what's going on. (She could be in therapy.) For you to have tolerated her disappearing act for 10 years without asking for an explanation seems strange. I can't blame you for shedding tears, but take comfort in the French philosophy: "To know all is to forgive all."

DEAR ABBY: Re the man who hired the four teen-age boys to mow his lawn and clean his garage. Glad to hear that the boys did such a good job, but I wonder whether this man complied with all the federal and state laws regarding employment.

Did he get the Social Security number of all four boys? Did he pay them with four personal checks? He must have these records for Social Security reports on withholdings if he pays more than $50 per quarter for domestic help. In fact, he should be able to verify or prove that he did not pay more than $50 per quarter in wages.

Did he pay the four boys all at the same rate of $2.65 per hour to comply with the federal minimum wage law?

Then, too, I wonder whether he was adequately covered for accident liability with a private insurance policy or by a state-operated insurance plan. If the latter, this would involve more record keeping.

I am all in favor of employing teenagers. But it is not as simple as it sounds if you comply with all the laws, keep all the necessary records, and are adequately covered by liability insurance.

R.L.S., MARYSVILLE, OHIO

DEAR R.L.S.: You sound like a very competent accountant. Or a man who's been educated by one.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "FEELING GUILTY" IN MATTOON, ILL.: Don't feel guilty. No one said it better than Felix Frankfurter: "There's no highbrow in any lowbrow, but there's a fair amount of lowbrow in every highbrow."

Getting married? Whether you want a formal church wedding or a simple do-your-own-thing ceremony, get Abby's new booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding." Send $1 and a long, stamped (28 cents) self-addressed envelope to Abby: 132 Lasky Drive, Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212.

OBITUARIES

Stevenson

Mrs. Anna Grace Stevenson, 73, died at 6:10 a.m. today in Hendrick Medical Center in Abilene.

Funeral service has been set for 2 p.m. Saturday in the chapel of First Baptist Church in Abilene. Burial will be in the Garden of Memories in Sweetwater.

A native of Eastland County, she was married in 1926 at Loraine to Franklin Pierce Stevenson. They moved to Abilene from Sweetwater in 1951.

She is survived by her husband; two daughters, Mrs. Jack (Bettie) Forgay of Sweetwater and Mrs. Dale (Vernelle) Bishop of Cross Plains; a brother, Floyd W. Merket of China Grove; a sister, Mrs. Earl Brown of Colorado City; five grandchildren and six great-grandchildren. Nephews will be pallbearers.

Hendricks

Jym L. Hendricks, 71, retired cafe operator at Gail, was dead on arrival at the hospital at Post after he was stricken with an apparent heart attack at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday.

Funeral service has been set for 2 p.m. Friday at the Bell-Seale Funeral Home Chapel in Snyder, with the Rev. S.V. Clanton, pastor of the Apostolic Faith Church, officiating. Burial will be in the Gail Cemetery, under direction of Bell-Seale Funeral Home. Grandsons will be pallbearers.

A native of San Saba, he had been a resident of Gail for the past 28 years. He was married on Oct. 15, 1946, at Llano to Madge Blythe. They operated a cafe in Gail for 23 years, retiring after he suffered a heart attack last July. He was a veteran of World War II.

Surviving are his wife; four daughters, Jennie Cathey of Burnet, Callie Birdwell of Mangum, Okla., Norma Martin of Altus, Okla., and Melba Rinehart of Gail; two sisters, Monterey O'Neill of Lampasas and Joyce Isham of San Saba; four brothers, Bernes Hendricks of Eden, Taylor Hendricks of Goldthwaite, Paul Hendricks of Nacogdoches and Beno Hendricks of Gail; 17 grandchildren and 13 great-grandchildren.

SPEAKERS -- Judy Barkowsky, left, and Dr. Mary Hood will be among the speakers for a free Babysitting Seminar scheduled from 9:30-12 noon Saturday at Western Texas College. The seminar is being sponsored by the Snyder Jaycee-ettes to help babysitters provide competent care for children.

Seminar Saturday On Babysitting

The Snyder Jaycee-ettes will sponsor a Babysitting Seminar Saturday morning in the Science Lecture Hall at Western Texas College.

Persons completing the seminar may have their names placed on a babysitting referral list to be maintained at the Snyder Chamber of Commerce.

There will be no charge for those attending the seminar. Registration is scheduled from 9-9:30 a.m., with the first lecture at that time. Subjects to be discussed include infant care, emergency first aid, effective discipline, and "tricks of the trade."

Speakers will be Lana Chambers, Judy Barkowsky, Sgt. Johnny Hedges, Dr. Mary Hood and Beth Titus, along with a panel of mothers.

Persons wishing information about the seminar may call Wanda Falls at the Community Services office, 573-8511, extension 240, or Mary Pinkston at 573-8511, extension 202.

Two Mishaps Are Reported

Minor traffic accidents on 25th St. and 40th St. were reported by police.

The first occurred about 8:30 a.m. at 2600 40th St. There, a parked 1969 Chevrolet owned by Ken Minyard was struck by a 1972 Oldsmobile driven by Concepcion Melendrez.

At 12:50 p.m., a 1976 Plymouth driven by William Lackey was in collision with a 1973 Chevrolet driven by William Farrell Ezell Jr. of Midland. That wreck occurred in the 2300 block of 25th St.

Schoolboy Football Action Continues...

Area Battles On Tap

Roby and Borden County conclude their 1978 Football campaigns this weekend, while Colorado City will be looking to extend its schedule, Ira will be searching for its first win, Rotan and Hermleigh will try to improve their marks and Snyder will take a rest and watch all the action.

Roby, which will almost certainly finished the season just a step behind already-declared champion Jayton, plays host to winless Borden County at 7:30 Friday. The contest ends both teams' grid seasons for the year.

That's a fate Colorado City will attempt to keep from befalling the Wolves as it travels to undefeated Coahoma 7:30 Friday. Winner of the game will be the probable district 6-AA champion, though it might not be as simple as that. Should Coahoma beat Ci-City but fall to once-beaten Stamford the next week, the conference would end in a three-way tie. Colorado City, if a victor Friday would still need to edge weak Winters the following outing to claim sole possession of the title.

Meanwhile, a team not concerned with any more than improving, and perhaps finding its first victory of the season, is Ira. The hapless Bulldogs who boast not one senior may find the going tough 7 p.m. at Trent on Friday, however.

Rotan broke into the District 8-A win column last week with a win over Albany, and will be looking for two in a row as it hosts tough Baird 7:30 Friday. The Yellowhammers, out of the loop race, are looking to improve a 5-3 mark overall.

Finally, Hermleigh can assure its fans of a playoff berth with a victory over visiting McCaulley at 7 p.m. Friday. The Cardinals need a win this week or next to sew up the playoff entry and a championship or co-championship.

Ironically, the only 100 percent team, will be in the playoffs team, Snyder, is idle this week, gearing for its final regular season game in Brownfield on Nov. 17. The Tigers will play eight Vernon or Burkburnett from District 4-AAA sometime Thanksgiving week.

Grimsley Picks

Nebraska 33, Sooners 30

By Will Grimsley
AP Special Correspondent

It's a proud number to wear - No. 1 - but it's as deadly as a black cat tripping under a ladder and smashing a mirror into 13 pieces. It's like making the cover of a slick magazine. If you're No. 1, you worry about keeping it. If you're not, you play you innards out to get it.

Such are emotional factors Saturday in the game between No. 1 Oklahoma (9-0) and No. 4 Nebraska (8-1), hungering for revenge. Even if the Sooners have the muscle, the Cornhuskers should have an edged in desire. We'll see.

Last week's score: 45-12, .780. Season : 309-109, .739.

Nebraska 33, Oklahoma 30; After the race horse backs of both teams run each other out of breath, Billy Todd's FG wins it.

Penn State 27, North Carolina State 14; The Nittany Lions prolong major college football's longest winning streak.

Alabama 24, LSU 14; The Tide trumps the Tigers' ace, Charles Alexander, and leads with Tony Nathan.

Southern Cal 32, Washington 20; The Trojans refuse to be upstaged by their northern rivals in the Rose Bowl race.

Texas 18, Houston 14; It's Texas' version of the shootout in the OK corral.

Florida 19, Georgia 14; The improving Gators put a crimp in the Bulldogs' SEC title hopes.

Purdue 28, Wisconsin 13; The way Purdue throws the ball around, who'd guess Coach Jim Young learned at Woody Hayes' knee?

Arkansas 25, Baylor 10; The Razorbacks have the talent - it's just a matter of putting it in a jar.

Gridders Welcome Breckenridge Teams

Snyder junior varsity and freshman troops welcome Breckenridge teams to Tiger Stadium beginning at 5:30 this evening.

The double-header was originally scheduled to begin at 6, but was changed at Breck's request.

Snyder freshman will lead the way, followed by the JV game at 7 p.m.

Four other Tiger units find action on the gridiron tonight as Snyder eighth grade teams travel to Sweetwater and the seventh grade groups are at Big Spring.

Snyder Black will open play against the Mustangs at 5:30, followed by the Gold team at 7. The seventh grade teams are set to begin play at 5 p.m.

Holmes Bout Highlights Friday TV Fight Action

SPORTS

By The Associated Press

Larry Holmes, having proven a success on national television last time out, returns to prime time Friday night on ABC to defend his World Boxing Council heavyweight crown against Spain's Alfredo Evangelista.

Holmes beat Ken Norton to gain the title five months ago and put to rest, for the time being anyway, the notion that boxing won't sell in prime time unless Muhammad Ali is on the card. Holmes-Norton chalked up an impressive 19.7 rating - percentage of TV homes - and 40 share - percentage of sets in use - and ABC is projecting slightly higher numbers this time around.

The three-fight card will run from 7-10 p.m. CST, and producer Chet Forte says he'll start the show with a 10-rounder matching Norton against Randy Stephens of Dallas to try and grab the audience early. The second bout, a 15-rounder, will match WBC super feather-weight champ Alexis Arguello against Arturo Leon of Tucson, Ariz., then the Holmes-Evangelista 15-rounder will close the show.

Howard Cosell will call the first and last fights by himself, as he has been his custom. Chris Schenkel was supposed to call the second bout but he will be sidelined with a pulled back muscle. Keith Jackson will fill in, then hustle off to Lincoln, Neb., for Saturday's Oklahoma-Nebraska game.

Orr Decides He'll Retire

CHICAGO (AP)—Hockey great Bobby Orr, whose comeback attempt was hampered by a pair of ravaged knees, announced his retirement as an active player.

Orr, a defenseman whose style of play revolutionized that position, starred with the Boston Bruins for a decade, leading the team to Stanley Cup championships in 1970 and 1972. Two years ago, Orr moved on to the Chicago Black Hawks, but knee injuries cut into his playing time.

The Black Hawks announced that Orr will stay with the team as an assistant coach.

Carter Inks USOC Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Carter signed into law legislation designed to reorganize the U.S. Olympic Committee and end the 50 years of jurisdictional bickering among the nation's leading amateur athletic organizations, the Amateur Athletic Union and the National Collegiate Athletics Association.

The USOC sought $30 million to carry out its reorganization, but the House eliminated the funds the day before it adjourned. The next day, $16 million was attached to an omnibus continuing resolution and was approved by both the Senate and the House.

Bulldogs Tumble In Cage Opener

IRA--Bulldog girls teams have stumbled on their first two outings of the cage season, falling 45-40 to Greenwood and 42-36 to Sands.

Against Sands, the 'Dogs managed only 27 percent of its field goals, a major factor in their losses this season.

Meanwhile Ira junior high also lost its first two games. The Pups were downed 31-24 by Greenwood and 26-14 by Sands. Ira hit only nine percent from the field against Sands.

Upcoming for the Bulldogs teams will be Trent. The Gorillas invade Ira Gym tonight with the double-header scheduled to begin at 6.

Spikers Set For 'Stangs

SWEETWATER--Snyder varsity, currently in the driver's seat of District 3-3A, will try to sew up a second consecutive volleyball title here tonight at 7:30.

The Tigers, 4-0 in conference play and already the winner of round-one, could clinch the district championship tonight by defeating Sweetwater, providing Lamesa defeats Brownfield.

Snyder junior varsity will face Sweetwater in a preceding game, scheduled for 6:30.

Dusters Compete In Double-Header

ABILENE--Western Texas College Dusters, 0-2 for the season, will split its troops for a double-header against Abilene Christian University here this evening.

A WTC squad will vie against ACU junor varsity at 5:30, followed by a "varsity game".

Abilene Christian was fortunate to welcome all of its starters back from last year. WTC is composed of four sophomores and 10 freshmen. The Dusters will be looking for their first win after losing their only two games of the season by a total of two points.

Norman Rockwell Is Dead At 84

STOCKBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)-Artist Norman Rockwell, whose freckled-faced boys, pigtailed girls, kindly doctors and small town scenes mirrored Americana on Saturday Evening Post covers and Boy Scout calendars in a career spanning six decades, is dead at age 84.

The pale, lean-limbed, pipe-smoking illustrator worked seven days a week - with a half-day off for Christmas - to produce a [illegible] of the nation he loved, but once described himself as "a hack illustrator."

He should be remembered, his wife, Molly, said after his death late Wednesday at his Stockbridge home as "an artist and illustrator... well-known artist and illustrator."

Mrs. Rockwell said her husband's death was not unexpected, and that he "had been ill a long time."

Funeral arrangements were incomplete early today.

Rockwell's America was a nation of rough-hewn but gentle workingmen, prim grandmothers and soldiers home from the great war. In the turbulent 1960s, it was a nation torn by Vietnam and divided by race.

It was an America of the Four Freedoms, a series of paintings for the Post taken from a speech to Congress by Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1941. The paintings became part of the nation's war effort and its rallying cry.

But always it was an America depicted with a passion for visual truth - he worked invariably from live models and props, even to posing a chicken, which he said would "stand just as you've placed him for four or five minutes."

Perhaps the most popular artist in the United States, Rockwell died without attaining status in the world of "real art."

Critics found his work simplistic, corny and superficially photographic - however much he touched and delighted millions.

Rockwell never claimed to be anything more than an illustrator who made a lot of money. "I just do the things, and people pay me very high prices," he told The Associated Press in 1974.

His labors, which began when he left high school at 18, produced uncounted works - including more than 360 covers for the Post, which first bought his illustrations when he was 22. He later switched to Look magazine when the ownership of the Post changed hands.

Although much of his work was nostalgic, he was also an illustrator of his times; he spent 26 straight hours on a Post cover saluting the historic flight of Charles Lindbergh, and depicted Neil Armstrong's footprint on the dusty surface of the moon after the first moonwalk in 1969.

The Mediterranean island of Malta, an independent republic since 1974, has an area of 122 square miles and a population of some 316,000.

Athletes or other actively engaged in physical activity should not take salt pills except upon the advice of a physician, warns Mary K. Sweeten, a foods and nutrition specialist.

Post Office To Close For Veterans Day

Veterans Day is coming up Saturday, and Postmaster Jack Tilson has reminded that it will be a holiday at the post office. The office will be closed and there will be no mail delivery on that date.

The observance of Veterans Day now is back on Nov. 11, its traditional date, following several years when it became one of the Monday holidays be decree of Congress.

Tilson said that postal service patrons should keep in mind that the post office will be closed Saturday, expecially since some Christmas mailing already is underway.

To Buy U.S. Wheat

WASHINGTON (AP) - Egypt will buy $214 million worth of U.S. wheat under a new 40-year Food for Peace agreement.

Kelly M. Harrison, the Agriculture Department's general sales manager, said Wednesday the aid will provide Egypt with about 1.5 million metric tons of wheat - equal to about 55.1 million bushels.
