WORLD FLYERS REACH CHICAGO

ARE GIVEN TUMULTUOUS GREETING; OMAHA IS NEXT OBJECTIVE

By United News.

CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 15.—Out of the grey haze that hung over Lake Michigan the "round the world flyers" winged their way into Chicago Monday to receive a tumultuous greeting.

Thousands were pouring out of factories and office buildings during the noon hour when the six intrepid aviators sailed across Grant Park. Whistles whistled and a deafening din, many of the flyers started shouting a greeting.

Low over Grant Park the planes circled and then on their way to the air mail landing field at Maywood, ten miles away, where the flagship Chicago, with Lt. Lowell Smith, flight commander, in charge, landed. The others followed to the ground soon afterwards.

Monday night, the flyers were guests of honor at a dinner in the Drake hotel where the six aviators were presented with silver cigarette cases, and engraved resolutions praising their achievements, as gifts from the city.

Some time Tuesday, the aviators will take off for Omaha where another big reception awaits them. When they leave Chicago, they still will have 3,540 miles of flying ahead of them before they finish their trip. They will land at St. Joe Mo., Muskogee, Okla., El Paso, Tucson, San Diego, Los Angeles, San Francisco and wind up their world tour at Eugene, Ore.

Many amusing incidents attended the welcome to the aviators. Lt. Eric Nelson was seized by a comely woman and kissed just after he climbed down from his machine. After recovering his composure he explained that the woman who kissed him was Mrs. Palmer, wife of O. S. Palmer, his first flying instructor.

Lt. Leigh Wade also was kissed but his kisses came from his two sisters, Ethel and Anna, who broke through the crowd and ran to him.

Apparently nobody had any concern for Lt. Smith, who watched his brother officers being kissed and smilingly remarked: "Just wait until I get to San Francisco, my turn will come then."

"Who do you expect to greet you there, your sweetheart?" the lieutenant was asked.

"No," he replied. "My best girl—my mother."

LAST DAY TO PLACE ORDER FOR SPECIAL EDITION

To-day will be the last day in which you will be able to reserve copies of the Special Industrial Commercial Edition of the Morning Avalanche to be published next Sunday.

Presses will begin at once on the edition and after they once start it will be impossible for the management to increase the number estimated to supply the demand.

Hundreds are sending copies of the edition away to friends, relatives and acquaintances in other parts of the Southwest in order to give them an idea of the importance of Lubbock and the growth of this territory.

Navy, and later to be turned over to the Army, is shown making her first trial flight through a rain storm and squall, under the command of Dr. Eckner, her flight commander, who will soon fly her to Lakehurst, N. J. Captain Steele, U. S. N., who will command the ship when she is delivered to the Navy, was on board as a passenger. The dirigible is fitted with super-accommodations for passengers and crew, including excellent sleeping and dining quarters.

CHINESE CIVIL WAR LAID TO U. S.

ARMS FURNISHED FACTIONS LEAGUE OF NATIONS OFFICIALS CLAIM

By United News.

GENEVA, Sept. 15.—The United States is largely responsible for the arming of the now warring Chinese factions and the consequent encouragement of a disastrous civil war, according to league of nations supporters here.

The league members take this stand on the ground that the league's efforts to provide international control of the arms traffic have been frustrated through America's refusal to co-operate in the league plans.

The arms traffic was fully regulated by the treaty of Germaine. This treaty however, was killed when the United States refused to adhere to it. Without the support of America, other nations refused to restrict their own munitions manufacturers as long as the United States was free to enjoy a world wide monopoly.

Although the United States agreed two years later to co-operate with the league in drafting a new treaty restricting manufacture of munitions and the munitions traffic league followers say that to date America has blocked all efforts to place the private manufacture of war materials under government control a step which the league regards as essential.

Although the new draft project of international control has not been drawn up with the collaboration of the United States, the adoption of the plan has been delayed by the refusal of the United States to send an American delegate to sit on the league's third commission which is endeavoring to perfect the text of the document.

The league's latest statistics show that America continues to be one of the world's largest producers and exporters of war materials.

It is insisted that the league cannot intervene in situations similar to the present Chinese disorder until the draft conventions placing the manufacture of war materials under government control and the regulating of arms traffic have been made effective, the date of making these conventions effective they say depends almost exclusively on the collaboration of the United States.

"WHO WON THE WAR" NOT FELLOWS OF THIS NATURE

By United News.

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 15.—Ed Howe, "sage of potato hill" is shock proof.

At least he does not get a big thrill from learning that William Allen White, noted Emporia Kansas editor, is contemplating running for governor of the Sun Flower state on an independent ticket.

"I'm never surprised at anything Bill White does" said Howe who came here to address the Kansas City Advertising Club Monday.

"However, I don't approve of Bill's coming out for governor. It's unnecessary."

While he was about it, Howe made a few caustic comments on the recent defense day celebrations, the American Legion and other topics.

"Defense day was just another one of those things that are eternally coming along to interfere with the business of the world" he declared. "I did not see the need of putting on a show but I guess it offered an opportunity for the professional patriots to get out and make a stir."

"I believe the American Legion is getting to be as big a bore as the G. A. R.," he said.

"I'm as patriotic as any one else and I love the flag, but when some young fellow comes around to give me a lecture on my patriotism and my duty to my country I get awfully tired."

YAT SEN GIVES UP CANTON AND ONE PROVINCE

RANGER SLAYER GRANTED BOND

SPECIAL STATE RANGER CONFESSES SLAYING POLITICAL ENEMY

By United News.

LUFKIN, Sept. 15.—Grover Dunn, special state ranger, and confessed slayer of Ben F. Smith, a political enemy, Sunday night, was released on $3,000 bond Monday.

Smith was defeated for sheriff in the recent election by A. B. Youngblood, who election circulars of the Smith faction charged with being a member of the Klan.

Dunn and other Youngblood supporters denied the charges attacked Smith's record as deputy sheriff and constable in Harris county. This resulted in hard feelings between the two men which officers believe were directly responsible for the shooting.

DAVIS OPENS REAL FIGHT BEFORE HUGE CROWD

BUNTON, Mo., Sept. 15.—Inspired by the greatest political demonstration ever witnessed in the United States, John W. Davis, democratic standard bearer, responded to what he termed a "call from the American people" and launched a real fighting campaign for the presidency.

Speaking to a monster gathering estimated at between 60,000 and 75,000 people mobbed on the farm of Dr. Arthur Nelson, Democratic nominee for governor, Davis declared that "this is a fighting campaign," and called on the spirits of Jefferson, Jackson, and Wilson, to witness the war "that he was waging for a government of common honesty, common justice and common courage."

Davis aroused his audience to a frenzy of emotion as yet unknown in campaign. His voice was vibrant and emotional, his fists were clenched and his face was set in grim lines as he quoted the lines of a Confederate general at the bier of "Stonewall Jackson." "If you meet Caesar tonight tell him we still make war."

Rain again threatened to put a damper on the occasion. When the rain drops began to fall at Davis started to speak, hundreds scurried to shelter in their automobiles and under sheds but thousands

CHOPPED TO DEATH WITH AXE BY BROTHER-IN-LAW WHO BURNED BODY TO CRISP ON BIG BONFIRE

By United News.

YOKUM, Sept. 15.—After chopping Sam. H. Lewis, 70, a farmer of Terryville, near here, to his death Monday with an axe, Will Stapp, 69, brother-in-law of the dead man, burned the body to a crisp in a bonfire.

The fire that consumed Lewis' body was made within a few yards of the Lewis home. Mrs. Lewis became interested after Stapp, her brother, had energetically, for three hours piled wood on the fire, and called to him asking him what he was doing.

"Come out here and see," he told her.

"She investigated and found the charred remains of her husband. The fire almost entirely consumed the body."

Stapp was arrested by Chief of Police D. F. Williams of Yokum, and is now being held in the De Witt county jail at Cuero. He has confessed to the slaying of Lewis with an axe, and to the burning of the body, chief Williams said.

Stapp lived in a little shack 40 or 50 yards from the home of his brother-in-law and sister. According to Williams, he has been irresponsible since childhood, and although generally considered of unsound mind, was never thought dangerous.

Stapp told Williams that he killed Lewis shortly after he had risen at daybreak to go to his usual farm chores.

"I killed him because he had been hypnotizing me," was the only reason he would give for his act. He also said he weilded the axe because he thought Lewis killed his mother last Thanksgiving day.

TEMPLE, Texas, Sept. 15.—J. W. Nichols, 50, wealthy retired farmer, was shot to death in the business district by S. J. McNeilly, his brother-in-law, with whom he had quarreled over the division of an estate.

GARDEN CITY, Kans., Sept. 15.—J. L. Couch, wealthy banker and farmer, and his wife of Deerfield, Kans., and Judge O. H. Searcy, of Muskogee, Okla., were injured late Monday when their cars collided west of here.

The collision occurred during a severe rainstorm. The car in which Judge Searcy was returning home from a session in DeWitt County, struck the Couch automobile forcing it into the ditch.

The three injured were brought to a hospital here where it was said they will recover.

MAN SUICIDES AFTER WRITING NOTE TO WIFE

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 15.—After writing a note to his wife asking her forgiveness Alexander McDonald, 57, superintendent of repairs for the board of education, committed suicide.

His body was found in the garage at the rear of his home by F. W. Segur, a life long friend who occupied the upper floor of the apartment in which McDonald lived. Mrs. McDonald the widow was visiting friends in London, Ont., and in one of his farewell notes McDonald told how she could be located.

TEXAS TO GET HUGE SUM FROM RED RIVER LAND

AUSAIN, Sept. 16.—The state of Texas will collect $120,000 in gross production taxes from oil wells in the Red river section involved in the boundary dispute between Oklahoma and Texas, according to F. H. Pierson, chief of the gross receipts division of the comptroller's office. Mr. Pierson returned today from Wichita Falls where he has been for a week checking the federal receivers reports.

There were about 242 wells in the Red river district placed in receivership when Oklahoma instituted suit, claiming this territory. By a decision of the United States supreme court, Oklahoma lost the Red river section in 1912.

The tax probably will be in the state treasury by October 1 and will reduce the deficiency which is now approaching $1,000,000.

The Texas companies, which have been under the receivership of Frederick A. Deland, will be given ten days in which to file any protest against the tax. At the end of that period of grace, if no protest has been filed, the tax must be paid to the state, Pierson said.

SLATON FARMERS HOLD MEETING SATURDAY

SLATON, Sept. 15.—Saturday evening a large crowd of farmers met at the city hall pursuant to a call issued by Secretary Ross of the Chamber of Commerce to discuss ways and means of securing cotton pickers, to gather the immense crop that Slaton is expecting to harvest this fall.

After discussing the problem from various angles it was decided by these farmers that they would have another meeting Monday at three o'clock and that the fact would be announced at every school house and church within a radius of twenty miles of Slaton. If you are going to need cotton pickers you are invited to meet at the city hall in Slaton Monday by your brother farmer and neighbor and let that fact be known. You will have to have pickers and you had better get busy. Attend this meeting by all means.

CAN'T USE SCHOOL BUSES OUT OF COUNTY LIMITS

AUSTIN, Texas, Sept. 15.—Professor S. M. N. Marrs, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, ruled Saturday that school district could not send its buses into the boundaries of another district and take scholars from there into its own schools. He advised that activities of school boards are limited to the confines of their respective districts, therefore, one district could not send into another district and deprive the latter of its scholars. Larger districts would have the smaller districts. Professor Marrs said, and such practice is both unlawful and against public policy.

Professor Marrs further wrote that his ruling did not preclude the transportation or transfer of all the children of one district into another district or the consolidation of districts. Entire amalgamation is not prohibited, he explained, but partial subtraction by transfer to the deprivation of a district is not permissible.

SLATON MAN FALLS FROM HOUSE AND IS INJURED

SLATON, Sept. 15.—Ernest Sanders received a very painful though not dangerous injury.

The wound is very painful but if infection does not set in, the doctor says that he will have no trouble aside from a natural soreness.

PIMPLES QUICKLY CLEARED UP

So-called skin diseases are caused by poisons from the perspiration becoming congested in the tiny pores and glands of the skin because they can't get out. Unhealthy skin holds them back and you know what must happen when you continue to let this condition exist. For this reason "skin lotions," etc., can't possibly help you any. You need what is known as Black and White Ointment, which heals the sores, builds up the tissue of the skin, makes it active, so it naturally expels all the acid poisons which the system must throw off through the pores. Then, pimples, blotches, "breaking out," eczema, etc., quickly disappear.

Black and White Ointment is economically priced in generous packages. The size contains three times as much as the 25c size. All dealers have Black and White Soap, too, so you can keep your face, neck, hands and arms lovely and clear.

SHOULD CAPITAL PUNISHMENT BE ABOLISHED?

The Texas Commercial News, commenting on the subject says: "Judge Caverly, in the trial at Chicago of Leopold and Loeb, youthful intellectual murders faced a difficult decision. Public sentiment strongly favored the death penalty. The charge had been made that the trial was before a friendly judge. As he said, the easiest way and the doubtless popular one would have been to inflict the extreme penalty. They admitted having committed a brutal murder, not in the heat of passion but coldly planned and heartlessly executed. Murder without even the slightest motive. To have sentenced them to hang would seem but justice under our present laws. They were youths it is true, but youths whose mental development was superior to the average man of mature years. The few years they lacked of legal manhood was likely more than offset by education and experience. They were not boys in these two things. Were they abnormal? No doubt. But then, who of us are not?
If criminals are not to be hanged when it is proven that they are abnormal or insane but few if any would receive this punishment and perhaps it would be best to erase it from the books of law. But few murders are committed except by one with an unbalanced mind, either from anger, jealousy, fear or other causes perhaps beyond the murderer's control. Insanity cannot be positively defined no more than can drunkenness. Does one drink of whiskey accomplish this or must one be insensible in the gutter? The same thing holds true with insanity.
Question any man long enough and you will find that he has peculiar ideas about some things. You laugh at your superstitious friend who refuses to walk under a ladder but watch your step on Friday the thirteenth. Abnormal. The learned judge at Chicago called these highly educated, brilliant young men that when he tempered justice with mercy. Then why administer the death penalty to those criminals who are not financially able to prove the obvious. Rather abnormal justice, that. Do not understand us as being opposed to the sentence rendered. Doubtless the death penalty would be lesser punishment to one of the opportunities and environments of these two, than to face the long years that are to come through prison bars. There are many things worse than death. The point we would make is would it not be abnormal justice to ever condemn a murderer to death?"

There seems to be a general impression among the people of the land that the money that figured in the case of Leopold and Loeb, had much to do with shielding the two youths from death.
Whether this is true or not we are not going to say,
but it may have, yet indirectly, it may have had something to do with it in as much as no expense was spared in bringing the strongest array of defense lawyers into the case. The very highest powered lawyers were employed, and they spared nothing in bringing influence to bear in the case for their clients, and no doubt this had a wonderful influence in the case. Whether that influenced the deciding judge, we are not prepared to say, and would not even suggest it. The judge was not trying to get on the popular side to say the least of it, for there were thousands to one that the boys should be hanged promptly, but he did not do it as the verdict shows; but rather chose the other step to give them a life sentence. He said it would have been much easier to have given them death, for he would have had the people "of the nation" in fact,
the world with him.

The judge took the stand, as explained in the article from the Texas Commercial News, that these were mere youths, and this seemed to have had much to do with the verdict rendered. They acknowledged the crime, and they were not backward in telling that it was a deliberate, cool, and previously planned, yet his decision.

Now comes for consideration, another case;
it is almost the opposite, in general nature, yet it is murder. The principal in the case, however, is also a youth—19, the same as the other boys.
He denies that he has had anything to do with the murder that he is charged with—says he is innocent—the other boys said they committed the deed and explained all about it. He has been given the death verdict by a jury, but it is now up to the judge. The eyes of the world are upon the judge in this case, as it is a parallel to the Leopold and Loeb case in some instances at least.

The main question that arises is it because this man is poor or not. Has it come to the point that there is a law for the rich and a law for the poor,
when there is in the balance human lives?

We hope not. The world is listening for the answer, and if this is the case, then abolish capital punishment, for too many mistakes are more apt to be made on the side of the poor man, for he is unable to employ the most resourceful counsel.

The North Dakota Republican State Committee has refused to pledge support to the candidacy of President Coolidge, and recommend that the four La Follette electors pledged on the ticket last March, should withdraw. The committee is controlled by the Non-Partisan league.

THE AMERICAN TYPE OF BEAUTY

What is the American type of beauty?

To the average American man the flower-like woman makes the strongest appeal but beauty as the sane modern man views it, is more than skin deep, and the doll face creature posing for admiration in her bathing suit, or for pictures that a few years since would have barred the Police Gazette from the mails, is more apt to create contempt than masculine heart throbs.

The American type of beauty?

There is none. Gibson's creations, Christy's and Fisher's are bred from commingled tribes, contributed by nearly every race and clime of the earth. The strain of Irish blood heightens the coloring of the American beauty; the French gives piquancy and charm; the Italian softens rigidities in short, this commingling makes the American beauty the happy possessor of the passion of the East,
the poetry of the North, the lovely charm and languor of the South and the glorious independence of the West.

There is an old saw about the power of sweet teeth, but women need not despair if she has passed the fateful milepost. Helen of Troy, who fired men with an unwanted passion because of her great beauty, appeared on the scene at the age of forty;
Cleopatra was past thirty when she met Antony; Anne of Austria at thirty-eight was called the most beautiful woman of Europe; Mme. Recamier, immortalized by great painters, was at her best between thirty-five and fifty, and the antique past gives many instances of the beauty of the mature woman.

Beauty has swayed great warriors, determined the action of statesmen, changed laws and invented
new ones, changed the fates of empires, and behind every tragic and every noble deed peers the face of a woman.

However, there is one thing lacking in the beauty of the American girl today.

The soul quality.

The American girl with all her glorious qualities, needs some of the serenity and power of old Greece to perfect her beauty.

It is "up to" the girl of the period to ennoble
her countenance through the influence of ennobling thoughts. With fewer frivolities; a saner view of life, she will greatly enhance the charms which she already possesses.

VICE PRESIDENTS

By a singular trick of fate all of the vice-presidential candidates seem to play an uncommonly large role in this year's election. And it almost looks as if the second place candidate might overshadow the principles. Usually the second place candidates are seen and not heard, but now we have the unusual experience of seeing men who are running for the vice presidency attract a great deal more attention than is ordinarily given to those seeking that office.

And well might the people of this country
give more attention to the election of vice presidents, and lieutenant governors. In this day and time when there is so much moving about, and the officials of the state and nation are called upon to be out of their official jurisdictions, the vice-officers are frequently called upon to take the place of the executive officer and perform his duties. Then it is that men of wisdom, and of strong minds should be in the harness.

Then in this day and time the duties of the executives are so strenuous that it seems they are almost unable to carry out their tenure of office without breaking down in health. We are now living under the administration of a vice president, and we are fortunate in having had this good man and good president to fall back on. The affairs of the nation moved steadily on, and almost without a rattle.

It is important that good strong men be elected to the office of vice president, for it is not every time an empty honor.

WORLD PEACE A CERTAINTY, SOMETIME

Every step of progress in the affairs of mankind has had to be taken against the advice of some one who "proved" that it would be a failure.

After emphasizing that "our common aim and aspiration should be to promote good will among nations and establish peace upon earth." Premier MacDonald of Great Britain, in a talk at Aberdeen, Scotland, at the same time cautioned his hearers that the utmost patience will be necessary in working toward that object. "When we put our hands to this work," he went on, "we discover how difficult are the minds of men. Peace, security, cooperation—what do they mean? There are men of critical minds who can prove beyond the possibility of doubt that any scheme produced will not work."

Those who are working for world peace have great cause for encouragement. Nothing of this kind was ever seriously started that did not, sometime, develop in all its fullness. The forces of progress are irresistible.

GERMANY DEMANDS EXPRESSION

Confession of guilt was part of the penalty
Germany had to pay for losing the war. The confession was extorted as an act of justice. So far as the fact is concerned, or popular judgment with respect to it, it is unimportant whether or not Germany retracts its confession of war guilt, and the position of the victors will not be adversely affected. If domestic tranquility in Germany may be promoted by the dispatch of the proposed note of denial no one will be harmed, and no damage done.
About half the people of the world entertain their own opinion anyway.

Life is a sieve through which our personalities are strained to the utmost. The good passes on, while the dust and the alloy are thrown away and forgotten.

Eighteen deep sand wells in the Tonkawa, Oklahoma, field produced 77,780 barrels of oil in 24 hours. The per well average in the 4100-foot sand is 4,321 barrels a day.

TODAY, TUESDAY, LAST DAY TO ORDER EXTRAS

The following parties yesterday added their names to our list for extra copies of the special Industrial Edition of the Morning Avalanche:

Rix Furniture Co., Dr. Kate Castleman, Swift & Co.,
Hub Barber Shop, F. A. Norman and Cullum Bros.

All parties wishing to send out extra copies of this edition must let us know not later than 3:30 p. m. today. Our presses will start printing the first section of this mammoth edition this afternoon and we must know how many extra copies in addition to the 7,000 copies to be sent out by us.
We are grateful to the many who have placed their orders for extra copies; yet there is room for the names of many other Lubbock enthusiasts to place orders for additional copies. After the first section is printed it will be impossible for us to furnish you with extra copies. The expense of printing this big edition is too great for us to run several hundred extra. The price we are making for this big paper will only partially pay the cost of paper and press work, yet the Avalanche Publishing Co., is, as always, ready to meet the citizens of Lubbock and the South Plains on a "fifty-fifty"
basis.

The extras will cost you 8 cents per copy if you mail them out. 10 cents if we mail them for you.

Call or phone in your order for extras just as soon as you finish reading this announcement.

MULESHOE ENJOYING A VERY FINE GROWTH

MULESHOE, Sept. 15.—Muleshoe during the past week has witnessed the most rapid growth she has ever had during her history. This growth is not a boom, but just a natural and permanent growth. The Whaley Lumber Company, with headquarters at Lubbock, are opening a branch yard at Muleshoe and will occupy the block directly in front of the post office with a complete line of building materials. J. C. Whaley, a capitalist, of Gainesville, is president of this company. Mr. Whaley owns about 11,000 acres of land in Bailey county and will be with this enterprise a valuable addition to Muleshoe.

The Panhandle Lumber Company
is also opening a yard just south of the Gupion Hotel and east of the Muleshoe Abstract Co. This company is one of the big lumber companies who have a chain of yards in the Plains country. They are moving their lumber to the ground and erecting the necessary buildings and sheds.

J. J. Lawler is building a modern home in the southwest part of town.
This will be one of the most modern and up-to-date homes in Muleshoe
when completed.

There has been quite a lot of town lot sales during the last week and the next thirty days will see a big change in Muleshoe. Several business houses will be put up and more residences will be under construction.

Bailey county is one of the best farming counties on the Plains and the farmers and other residents are waking up to the great opportunities that await them here and as the farms are being settled and improved it will mean more business men to come to Muleshoe.

FAMILY REUNION EN- JOYED WITH NEIGHBORS OF J. K. MILWEE

J. K. Milwee, prominent pioneer cattleman of Lynn county, who spends a great deal of his time in Lubbock, called at the Avalanche office late Monday afternoon to relate an interesting incident that occurred in Lynn county last week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. White, also pioneers of Lynn county, were the delightful entertainers of fifty-nine relatives with a big dinner at the White ranch last week, with Mr. Mil-wee, a life long friend of the family
the only guest outside the family circle.

The feast that was the nighttime feature of the day's program, was served in true western style, in "only that hospitable manner that West Texans know," according to Mr. Mil-wee; who said that he has yet to find more suitable words to half-heartedly express his appreciation to his old friends for the opportunity to join with them in this feast.

Ten of the eleven children of the White family were present, together with five sons-in-law and several grandchildren of the couple. Two of Mrs. White's sisters and two brothers were present, one of the sisters having not seen her in a period of thirty-two years. Needless to say their meeting on this occasion was a happy one.

"I've been knowing J. W. White more than twenty-five years, and I've never known a better neighbor,"
Mr. Milwee said.

AT THE CHURCHES

At the close of the morning service, eleven united with the church, and were received by the pastor into full fellowship with the church at this place. This has been a good year with the Methodist church despite the grief in losing the pastor and the coming of a new man to take up the work right in the middle of a great program, and more than two hundred have been received into the church up to this time this year, running the membership past the 1200 mark.

A great program is being mapped out for next year, and a general forward movement is now under way.

LUCK

You may call it luck if you wish to,
but luck is a fickle jade,
And never by luck does a lazy man
come into the skill of his trade.
And never by luck does an artist
paint a wise man wisdom learn.
For the thing called luck by the foolish tongues is the thing that the brave must earn.

You may call it luck if you wish to,
but luck never fashions a dream
Never sinks a well where the oil runs deep or bridges a mountain stream.
And luck never plays with a lazy man or a careless man or a fool.

'Tis the man who fishes the most who takes the big fish from the pool.

You may call it luck if you wish to,
but luck never paints a scene, Never writes a book or a song to sing, never thinks of a new machine;
It may whisper a hint to a thinking man or a man who will dare to try.
But the man who won't of the man who can't, good luck goes dance-ing by.

You may call it luck if you wish to,
but the man who wins the game
By a lucky stroke or a lucky break
Has been fighting just the same;
And whether it's oil, or gold or art,
or catching a bass or pike,
If it's luck you want you must put yourself in the place where luck
can strike.

BEING A FATHER TO BOYS

Knowing that the average healthy youngster has a distinct tendency to break windows, wreck flower-beds, and perform other intentional acts of destruction, one might expect that neighbors would look somewhat askance on a man who made it his business to "be a friend to his boys." Paradoxically, however, the neighbors of Earl Stotts like him very well. And in that section of Des Moines, Iowa, where houses have gardens, Chesla Sherlock looks over his back-yard fence and regards Earl with particular approval. Here's what Rotarian Sherlock has to say of Earl Stotts, and remember that your neighbor gets to know you pretty well in a district like this:

"Long ago I decided that he really worked at the job of being a father to a couple of boys better than any man I had met. You know what I mean; he actually got down and did the things you and I, and every father, knows ought to be done. He actually was interested in what the boys were doing. 'He was a pal to them. He didn't let business interfere with his boys. They were his first thought, although he is a director of the biggest bank in Iowa; general manager of a nationally known manufacturing plant and president of one of our biggest local laundries. Surely enough to keep a man busy! And he started out about twenty-one years ago on a salary of ten dollars a week."

There is nothing specially unique about Earl's story—any and every father almost, could have done it—only every father doesn't. It is, in fact, the obvious thing to do—but so often we miss the obvious things while we are gazing at the blue mountains beyond. Hence we have this very human story of a man who set out to do something with the most available material, a man who realized that his own life was not a success unless he could pass on the things that seemed worth while—and is doing it.

To "Fruit, Garden and Home," one of the Meredith group of publications, of which Chesla Sherlock is editor, we are indebted for the courtesy of the republication of this human-interest story.

HUNTER HOLDS LOCALS TO THREE HITS HERE SUNDAY AFTERNOON AND LAMESA TAKES HARD FOUGHT BATTLE 2 TO 1

Burt Hunter, of Lamesa, had his hop ball breaking beautifully here Sunday afternoon, holding the locals helpless with a pittance of three safeties, one of which was a double by "Babe" Sanders, and Lamesa, although doing little better with the offerings of Duke Bassinger, took a hotly contested exhibition—one of the best seen here this year—by a 2 to 1 count.

Bassinger delivered a pretty game, letting the visitors down with four hits, but an error in the pinch coupled with the inability of his teammates to solve the delivery of Hunter cost him a well fought game. Twice the locals were in scoring position, but lacked the necessary punch to shove runners across the rubber.

Opening the initial inning both the locals and visitors counted one each. L. White tallied for Lamesa, after he had singled, advanced on a fielder's choice for Cobb who beat out the play, and an error by Wells. In their half the locals counted after Sanders had walked, advanced on G. Whites error, and scored on Wells' single.

For the next five rounds, Hunter retired the locals practically in order, passing a man-free in each of the second and fifth for the fourth man to face him in each inning. Twice following this the locals failed to improve chances to count runs. In the sixth Jones reached first when Atkins dropped a toss from Wright, and stole second. Brown walked, two on, body out. Wells shifted three. DeLong flew out to short and Poole went out to first unassisted. In the eighth another bright spot for the locals, Sanders led off with a double to the left field wall, but was thrown out trying to stretch it to third. Jones and Brown went out in order. Brown striking out for his second time during the exhibition.

The ninth was somewhat hopeful, Wells drawing a pretty single for his second of the three hits by the locals, but was forced out at second on a double play which also retired Alex DeLong, who grounded to Hunter. "Woman" Sanders, pinch hitting for Poole, struck out.

The visitors counted their second and last run in the third. Hunter walked for Bassinger's only free pass of the game, advanced on L. White's sacrifice, and scored.

That's the sport dish that will be offered Mexico City baseball fans October 4 and 5 by the Houston Buffs, ranking second in the Texas league, and a Mexican team, if plans now being made are carried out.

Mexican sport fans have wired an offer to the Buffs, manager, manager Aukerman has wired that the Buffs will come if the guarantee money is placed to the clubs credited in a bank. The Mexicans are expected to meet Aukerman's demands.

MAJORS NOW AFTER MATHEMATICAL CERTAINTY

By WESTBROOK PEGLER.
NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—The foremost ball clubs in both major leagues are now beating the high hay in search of a good, reliable mathematical certainty. Any one having a mathematical certainty eating its head off in the barn may now trot out the same and sell it for a right price to the Giants, Dodgers, or Pirates in the National league or the Yanks or Senators in the American.

The rules only permit one mathematical certainty to each league, and the club having it wins the pennant.
In such a ding-dong dash for the prize money as the teams have been making in these closing weeks of the 1924 season, the customer who flunked in mathematics begins to wish he had learned more of the higher refinements of two-times characters. Individual achievements and team strategy of today's game or yesterday's are about as enthralling as a ten round no-decision fight between Gene Tunney and Tommy Gibbons, than which there is nothing of less interest in all the world, except, possibly a 20 round fight between the same parties.

The mathematics of the present situation reveal that the Yanks and Senators have now dodged in another tie for the leadership of the American league. Not only are they tied as to percentage, but they have played and equal number of games. Until Monday afternoon the Senators led the Yanks by a full game, but Washington lost to the Tigers, again 2 and 0 in Detroit while the Yanks were enacting a duplicate of this score at the expense of the White Sox in Chicago. They each have 13 games to play and as they are two very energetic ball clubs they will be fighting one another for possession of the mathematical certainty for at least one week more, and perhaps, until the very last game of the season.

The slumps and revivals of the Yanks and Senators follow a staggering schedule. When the Senators are going their best the Yanks drop. In their last stand on the big field in the Bronx, the Yanks sagged alarmingly. Since then, Babe Ruth has recovered the use of his bat, and the club has been stiffened and cheered by the usefulness of Bob Shawkey, and Sam Jones, Sam being the author of Monday's shutout over the White Sox. On the other hand, the Senators have wobbled. Walter Johnson has pitched with less assurance in his last two games and George Mogridge has been knocked out of the box twice lately.

In the National League, the science of mathematics gives the Pirates a far better chance to overtake and challenge the Giants and Dodgers than a hasty glance at the standing would reveal. The Pirates beat the Braves Monday in Boston, 4 to 3, and came within one and a half games of the Dodgers, who were idle, as were the Giants. The Dodgers are one game ahead of the Pirates. Now, here is where the mathematics begin to confuse the situation, for the Pirates have 16 games remaining whereas the Giants have only 13 and the Dodgers 11. Tittle doinks is a lot more fun than ball at this time of year. It takes much less education.

FRANK CHANCE DIES AT HIS HOME IN LOS ANGELES

By United News.
LOS ANGELES, Sept. 15.—Frank Chance, former manager of the Chicago Cubs, and later of the White Sox, died at his home here Monday night after an illness of several weeks.
Friends of the former baseball player and manager had not been advised of his serious condition and news of his death was entirely unexpected.
In addition to his association with the Cubs, the "Peerless leader" managed the New York and Boston clubs of the American League and at one time was leader of the Los Angeles squad in the Pacific coast league.
Chance was to have managed the Chicago White Sox of the American league this year, but illness forced him to turn the club over to Johnny Evers, and to take a trip to California. It had been thought that the man who piloted the famous old Cub machine to four pennants and two world's championships was headed toward recovery, but a sudden relapse occurred recently and Chance has been failing steadily since.
Heart trouble was what finally caused Chance's death. His retirement from activity on the diamond came when he developed a slight cold in Chicago.
Monday when Dr. Geo. Pines, the Chance physician, believed his patient rapidly becoming worse, the famous keystone man of the "Tinker to Evers to Chance" combination was removed to the Good Samaritan Hospital. The end came at 7:30 p. m.

FIRPO HEARING IS POSTPONED UNTIL THURSDAY

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Decision as to whether Luis Angel Firpo who was so thoroughly discredited as a fighter by Harry Wills in their bout last week, is to be further discredited by the law of this land, will soon be forthcoming. The hearing on the charges that Firpo fibbed to the immigration authorities regarding his plans with Blanca Lourdes Picart, the very buxom South American Senorita, was adjourned until Tuesday until chief inspector of immigration W. W. Brown heard the testimony of a number of witnesses Monday including Canon Wm. Chase.
Canon Chase attended the hearing in company with a private detective guard.
Under cross examination, the Brooklyn German who did his best to have Firpo removed from these parts in time to prevent his fight with Wills, made the somewhat surprising admission to Hyman Bushel, counsel for Luis Angel Firpo, that he was pressing the deportation proceedings against the Angel bull at the request of a newspaper. Chase refused to name Firpo's journalistic enemy.
What a pity winter doesn't come in summer and summer in winter.

JIMMY MURPHY, WORLDS CHAMPION RACE DRIVER KILLED ON NEW YORK STATE FAIR TRACK WHEN SPEEDING CAR GOES IN DITCH

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Sept. 15.—Jimmy Murphy, the most reckless automobile race driver in the world and the champion of his wild profession, took one chance too many during the running of the annual 150 mile race at the state fair grounds track Monday afternoon. State troopers picked Jimmy out of a ditch several feet from where his little bullet of a car lay on its back with its wheels still spinning in the air and removed a big splinter of a two by four beam from his body. They lifted him into an ambulance and Jimmy started on his last reckless ride, bound for the hospital this time as a passenger. But when the ambulance drew up at the door he was dead, the third winner of the famous 500 mile Indianapolis speedway race to die in a racing smash up within the last two weeks.

Jimmy, a Los Angeles boy, went out in a race that was just a jaunt compared to some of the big events in which he had driven his hurtling steel comet. He was only making about 70 miles an hour at the moment pursuing "Red" Shafer of Fort Worth, Texas, who was crowding his big Duesenberg along in first place about two laps ahead of Murphy.

On the 131st lap, Murphy, the champion, the man whose daring even made other drivers gasp in amazement, set out after Shafer to close up the gap. Rounding the far turn he did not reduce his speed. In an instant the steering of the machine skidded to the left, splintered the little guard fence, plunged through and rolled into the ditch a wooden beam penetrating the metal of the hood. Jimmy was pitched out and landed in the ditch among the splinters, one of which impaled him.

The crowd of about 10,000 heard the crash, saw a blinding confusion of dust and rolling objects and converged on the spot. The thunder of the racing cars did not cease. Shafer flashed around again and again past the spot. The troopers pressed back the people. Jimmy was almost dead when the troopers got to him. There are two tracks on the grounds, one within the other. The race was being driven on the outer track and the crowd was held back at the outer rail of the smaller circle, providing a no man's land for safety's sake in case a machine should shoot off the course toward the infield.

Murphy's body was taken to the morgue. No arrangements had been made Monday evening for his funeral.

Racer Had Great Career.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 15.—A speedway racing career, starting in 1916, and about to be crowned with the championship honors for 1924, was snapped suddenly when Jimmy Murphy, youthful driver, met his death.
Murphy from a start as mechanic for Eddie O'Donnell, and Tommy Milton has gathered more automobile racing honors than any pilot of recent years. The only American ever to win the grand prize, Jimmy led the American Automobile association in points in 1922, dropped his lead to Eddie Herne in 1923 and then came back during the present season to win three big races. These were at Altoona in June at Kansas City on July 4, and in the labor day Altoona event.

Although Murphy was born in San Francisco in 1895, he has lived here since 1906. During this period he has resided with an uncle, Judge M. Y. O'Donnell. As a mechanic Murphy frequented the old race track at Corona, Cal., and when the Beverly speedway opened competed there with Eddie O'Donnell. Eddie was killed in 1921 but the following year, Murphy went out on the same track where his instructor had died and grabbed the years biggest race. Murphy set a mark of 94.48 miles an hour for the 500 mile Indianapolis race in 1922, shattering Ralph DePalma's old record. This year Joe Boyer also killed later in the whirl of a speedway event bested Murphy's record.
Murphy, who was in second place on the 128 mile of the race, was pinned under his car and died instantly.

A crowd of 25,000 saw Murphy crash to his death.
The 150 miles race was won by Phil "Red" Shafer of Fort Worth Texas in a Duesenberg. Bennett Hill, of Los Angeles was second and Harry Harts third.

By United News.
KANSAS CITY, Sept. 15.—Carl Sheets and Edgar Pick, outfielders of the Hutchinson Club of the Western Association have been purchased by the Kansas City Blues, according to John Savage, Secretary.
Both players are among the leading hitters of the Western association. Pick was given a tryout with the Cincinnati Reds last season.

SECOND POLO MATCH IS SCHEDULED TO OPEN TODAY

By United News.
NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—The second of the international polo games which lured the Prince of Wales from the quiet of official life in England to the riot of a social vacation on Long Island will be played Tuesday afternoon if the weather continues fair.
The Prince is expected to attend and considering the one sidedness of the opening game he probably will have a much smaller crowd to contend with than the one that gaped at him as he entered the arena last Saturday.
If the Americans win the second match they will have won the series and retired the cup. The third match probably will be played out, as is done in international tournaments regardless of whether the championship has already been decided.

The British players seem to have been embarrassed by the unsmiling row over the composition of their team which became public after the sudden departure of Lord Wimborne, one of the financial backers of the very expensive British tour. Lord Wimborne said to have ideas as to the proper line up, suddenly called for London without waiting to see the opening game. It was reported that he resented the selections for the team, believing better choices could have been made.

The new British line up probably will be Col. Melville No. 1; Major Phipps-Harshby, No. 2; Major Hurdall, No. 3, and Lacy, the star of Saturday's game back.

BODY OF MEXICAN YOUTH FOUND ON RIVER BANK

By United News.
EL PASO, Sept. 15.—An unidentified Mexican youth, about 18 years of age was found shot to death on the banks of the Rio Grande river front Monday night following a battle between custom officials and alleged whiskey smugglers. The officers captured two sacks of whiskey, which they declared the smugglers brought across the river under a heavy protecting fire from the Mexican side.

COTTON IS COMING TO O'DONNELL RAPIDLY

O'DONNELL, Texas, Sept. 15.—Today put the number of bales of cotton ginned to over a hundred. While the cotton is not of a very high grade, yet it is exceptionally clean. The rain will stop picking for a few days, but given another week of dry weather and cotton will be rolling in great shape. So far, the farmers have had no trouble securing pickers.

PENILESS YOUTH SENTENCED TO HANG FOR MURDER "HE DIDN'T DO" RIDICULES DECISION FRANKS CASE

CHICAGO, Sept. 13.—Governor Len Small will be asked next week to pass on the fate of Bernard Grant, 19-year-old product of the stockyards district.

The Governor's answer will determine whether there is one law for the rich and one law for the poor. Attorney Thomas E. Swanson declared. "Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb, sons of millionaires, were sentenced to life in prison because they were under 21.

Grant was convicted in connection with the murder of a policeman. The jury directed a sentence of hanging and it was accepted and made effective by Justice Hebel. The supreme court affirmed the sentence and unless Governor Small intervenes Grant will hang on October 17.

Public opinion is rallying to the poverty stricken boy's cause. Swanson reported today that messages of encouragement are pouring in from all parts of the country. From other sources, it was learned that a member of the Leopold-Loeb group is taking a keen interest in the case and may contribute to a defense fund.

Grant's parents are almost penniless. His father lost both legs in an accident. At the age of 14, young Grant was forced to abandon school—after finishing the seventh grade—to help support his family. He worked as messenger boy and at crude, hard labor until his arrest in December, 1922, for the murder.

"Gee, I didn't have anything to do with the killing, but I betcha if I had some of the money Leopold and Loeb have I wouldn't be here," Grant declared in an interview with the United Press.

Grant is now in "death row" at the Cook county jail. He is small of stature, dark, with nothing to distinguish him from the thousands of others from "in back of the stock yards."

"Say, I don't think it's fair," Grant said plaintively. "I'm poor and they give me the necktie. Leopold and Loeb are rich and what do they get? Life."

"I have no education; I never had a chance to get any. I had to work to help support my mother."

"I didn't have a thing to do with the killing. I wasn't anywhere near the grocery store when it was held up and the cop killed. All they could show against me was that some crank nut said he had seen somebody that looks like me around the neighborhood a little while before the stick-up. "If I had ten money I could have hired a lot of big lawyers and believe the cops wouldn't have been able to convict me on that kind of testimony."

"I ain't got anything against Leopold and Loeb, but here they confess to a murder and get off with life because they are under 21."

"I'm under 21, too. But I gotta hang."

The attorney who defended Grant died some time after the conviction and Swanson took up the case.

"It seems to me that the duty of the governor is plain," Swanson said.

"I don't see how he can help but commute the sentence with the precedent set by Justice Cacerly in the Leopold-Loeb case, starting him in the face."

"Public opinion is being aroused to a high pitch by the plight of the boy. He hasn't the education, the breeding and all the other things that Leopold and Loeb had to help make them respectable, law-abiding citizens, and members of the community."

"Grant says he is innocent and I am inclined to believe him. But that is not the real issue in the case."

"The issue is whether rich murderers are to escape the gallows while the poor man hangs."

Small Refuses Comment.

KANKAKEE Ill., Sept. 12.—Governor Len Small, at his home here today refused to comment on the Bernard Grant case.

"When the case is brought before me, I shall give it due consideration," he told the United Press.

STORE ROBBED AT HERMLEIGH LAST NIGHT

SNYDER, Sept. 14.—The Jenkins store, successors to John Jackson at Hermleigh, was robbed Saturday night. About 100 yards of silk and other valuable articles were taken. Officers went to the scene of the robbery quickly as possible but the robbers made good their escape and have not yet been apprehended.

WOMAN DENIES SHE BURIED FOUR BABES ALIVE

FAREWOOD, N. J., Sept. 13.

Mrs. Stella Saunders lay in her bed at Paul Kimball hospital here, where she is a prisoner and tremulously denied that she had buried alive four infant children which had been born to her in various places in the United States. Eugene Saunders, the woman's husband, caused her arrest after he had trailed her into the woods near their home and discovered that she had buried their newly born infant, which he had never seen, under a few inches of sand. The child was rescued and is well.

Mrs. Saunders trembled violently as she told her story to county officers who visited her in the hospital. She admitted that she did not want the girl baby which her husband alleges she buried alive.

"My husband's mother and father told me that I had had immoral relations with a deer hunter and that Eugene was not the father of my child. Eugene kept continually throwing this at me and refused to help me in any way," Mrs. Saunders said.

Saunders was questioned at his home in Fawcett River, near where he says his wife buried the child. He denied that he ever had doubted his wife's faithfulness and said her complaint that he had refused to help her just before the birth of her child was without foundation. The father who says his suspicion were aroused when his wife repeatedly told him that expected babies never had made their appearance, repeated his charge that Mrs. Saunders had murdered these new babies in the manner in which she is alleged to have tried to do away with her fourth child.

OKLAHOMA APPEALS FOR 20,000 COTTON PICKERS

INDIAN, the greatest fireworks spectacle of modern times, which will transport you on the wings of fancy to a "Night in the Orient" has been engaged by the directors of the Texas-Oklahoma Fair, September 29 to October 5, as a feature attraction of the 1924 exposition. The appearance of "India" is certain to establish a new era in pyrotechnics in northwest and southern Oklahoma as it is said to be the most magnificent fireworks spectacle ever conceived.

Secretary R. E. Shepherd, when he announced the signing of contracts with eastern amusement brokers, stated that "India" was the super-spectacle of all times. It dips into vivid color, the mystic charm, and the wondrous pagentry of the far-off Orient and brings to life, on a scale so magnificent and stupendous that its very magnitude overwhelms the spectator.

This beautiful and thrilling spectacle, which will show the glittering pomp of the great Durbar of Delhi, this savage pagentry of the far east, festivals of beauty that will haunt you for days, and plenty of action, color and surprises will be folding on a mammoth stage over 500 feet long. Two hundred and fifty costumed characters and a herd of Indian elephants will participate in the spectacle, while more than 25,000 feet of scenery will be used. The climax will be reached in the burning and destruction of the great city of Delhi, the most vivid ever produced in America.

In addition to the presentation of "India" there will be a special showing of aerial and scenic fireworks each evening. Many new features never before shown in northwest Texas or southern Oklahoma will provide the patrons of the 1924 fair with an entirely new and different idea of fireworks.

Telephone calls are numbered as the grandest of spectacles in France. If a subscriber loses his temper and rattles the receiver-hook, his turn is placed at the end of the list.

SCHOOL BUSS MUST STAY IN ITS OWN DISTRICT, MARRS

AUSTIN, Sept. 13.—In a ruling

given today State Superintendent of public instruction S. M. N. Marrs held that one school district could not send its busses into the boundaries of another district to make students for their own schools. It was held that activities of school busses are limited to the confines of their respective districts.

Teacher Enters Appeal.

AUSTIN, Texas, Sept. 13.—There are some school districts in Texas where the board of trustees provide a penalty of dismissal of teachers who bob their hair, dance or even attend a dance, and when the rules are violated the penalty is enforced. This developed today when State Superintendent of public instruction, S. M. N. Marrs received a letter from a young lady teacher who had been discharged by the school board of a certain school in a rural community.

The facts are that the teacher resigned to go to a city district, and left before her resignation was acted upon. The board of the county district refused to accept the resignation, but in the meantime the teacher shortly after her arrival in the city hopped her hair. When she returned to the country school to resume her work, the board immediately called a special meeting and adopted a resolution discharging her, but did not set out in the resolution the cause of her dismissal.

She has asked that in order that her record may be kept clear that the school board be compelled to make public the real cause of her dismissal.

Found to have a natural tenor voice, a New York laundry worker became a grand opera star over night. Out of the washboiler into hot water.

KARNAK

Is Giving Hundreds Here a New Grip on Life by "Restoring Health, Strength and Energy of Younger Days."

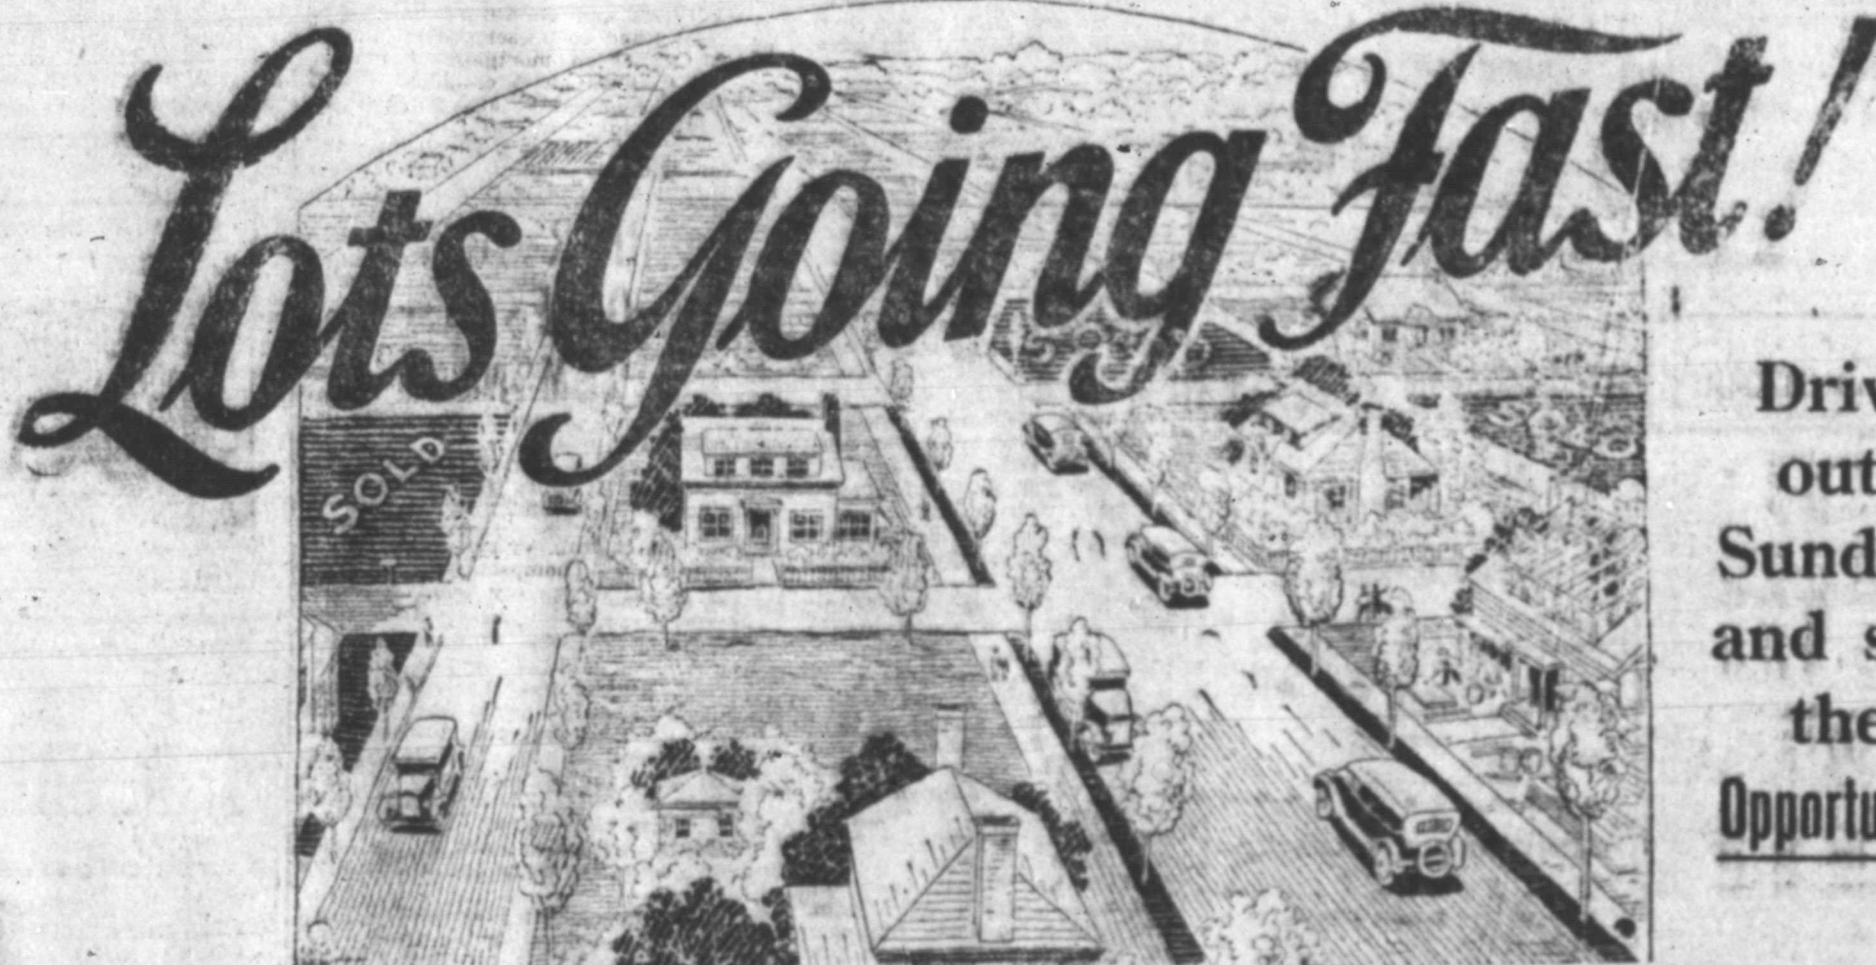

Never before has this city seen such a revival of the spirit of youthful vigor and energy as has been manifested since the introduction here of M. Pierre Andre's famous building medicine Karnak.

People who have been dragging a round half sick—waking up dull and tired, eyes heavy, head dizzy, tongue coated, bad taste and offensive breath, are now bright and happy, full of pep and radiating health and energy as a result of taking Karnak.

Hundreds of men and women here who have been suffering from just such symptoms as indigestion, stomach, liver and kidney disorders—many of them of long standing, and some weak, thin and apparently on the verge of collapse—are now like people re-born again.

These happy people testify that Karnak has fully restored them to their normal weight and strength and made life worth living again.

Try this great Karnak yourself! Notice the quick difference in the way you eat, sleep, look and feel—the remarkable improvement in your health, strength and energy. The cost is small and you will be completely satisfied; otherwise the Karnak agent will refund your money without even questioning you. Karnak is sold in Lubbock by the City Drug Store.

DEMURRER BATTLE IN FORBES CASE START MONDAY

By United Press.

CHICAGO, Sept. 15.—Argument for demurrers to indictments charging Colonel Charles R. Forbes, former head of the Veterans Bureau, and John W. Thompson with bribery, general conspiracy and accepting a bribe in connection with construction of several veteran hospitals will be made by attorneys in federal district court here Monday. It is expected that after Judge George A. Carpenter has made his ruling he will set an early date for trial.

Elwood Goodman and Francis Stranaky will represent Forbes. Randolph Laughlin, of St. Louis will represent Thompson.

Government investigators charge that the former chief of the veterans bureau squandered a half million dollars.

MARKETS

DULL MOVEMENT IS FEATURE OF WEEK'S FIRST SESSION

By EDWARD J. CONDLON.

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—In one of the narrowest sessions since the summer, the stock market began the week in very uninteresting fashion. The industrial shares averaged half a point net lower for the day and the rails were down about a quarter of a point but the declines were in no way commensurate with the efforts of the hour contingent to depress the entire market by concentrating their efforts on a few industrials such as Baldwin locomotive and American Can. Off far more general interest and significance than the stock market was the day in cotton. The market broke badly despite the governments consumption figures which were announced at the end of the first hour of business here and which were better than had been generally expected. The break reached $4 per bale on what appeared to be southern hedge selling, coming as it did, on the heels of weaker Liverpool cables, and brought the market to further new lows for the year.

Hedge selling against the rapid increases in the movement of the crop was abetted by a sizeable interest. Many are skeptical of the ability of the cotton cloth market to make a rapid improvement. The fact that Fall River print cloth sales for the last two weeks have shrunk greatly from the August figures, has tended to bring some trade interests into the cotton market on the side of the decline.

Corn and oats showed some firmness, but sold off fractionally at the close. The visible supply of wheat is estimated to be 76,933,000 bushels this week, an increase of 3,661,000 bushels. The corn supply is placed at 44,867,000 bushels, a decrease of 32,000; while oats at 29,713,000 bushels showed an increase and rye at 16,157,000 a decrease.

One of the striking features of the day in finance was the easy tone which prevailed in the money market despite the fact that Monday was income tax day and the day for the huge turnover in government funds, including the payment of interest on outstanding obligations and the refunding of maturing note issues. Call money remained at 2 per cent throughout the day although government withdrawal from this district amounted to nearly $10,000,000.

Time money actually showed a further easing in rates with sixty day accommodations quoted at 2 1-2 per cent and 2 3-4 per cent.

Considerable business was reported done at the lower figure. Interior banks apparently have abundant funds on hand to take care of crop movements as the flow of funds from this center to interior points have been extremely light during the last few days.

KANSAS CITY Livestock. KANSAS CITY, Sept. 15.—Southwestern cattleman did not take a chance Monday, and cattle receipts were several thousand short at the yards. The quality of the offerings generally was plain and trading was on a steady basis. Most steers sold around $7 to $10.50.

Hogs receipts kept pace with cattle and light receipts flooded the market from 10 to 15c higher. Sheep receipts were heavy and trading slow. The market: Cattle receipts 48,000; calves 10,000; very slow; practically no early sales beef steers to killers; undertone weak; desirable grain fed steers comparatively scarce; few early sales she stock weak to 15c lower bulls steady; calves appear steady; stockers and feeders moderately active steady; early bulk $5.50 to 7.00.

CHILDREN'S DAY SEPTEMBER 28TH WILL BE OBSERVED METHODIST CHURCH AS ALL SERVICES TO BE FOR SUNDAY SCHOOL

Added interest, an enthusiastic service, more than six hundred in attendance and the enrollment of several new members were the salient points in Sunday School service at the first Methodist Church.

L. S. Harkey was added to the official forces of the Sunday School by being elected assistant superintendent. The work of the Sunday School has grown to such extent that the superintendent needs the help of another worker to look after the many departments and the development program, and Mr. Harkey will in all probability fit this task well as he is experienced in Sunday School work and is a faithful worker.

It was announced at this service that the entire series of services will be given over to the Sunday School—Sunday, September 28th, when Children's Day will be observed.

Following the regular Sunday School service, the morning preaching hour of that day will be given over to a program in which the members and teachers of the Cradle Roll, Beginners, Primary and Junior Departments will participate. This program will be worth much to all and a large attendance will doubtless be enjoyed.

The evening preaching hour will be given over to a program which will be conducted by the members teachers and officers of the Intermediate, Senior and Adult departments, in which orchestra, organ, solo, duet and quartet numbers will be featured.

One thousand in attendance at all services during the day is the goal set by the superintendent and officers of the Sunday School and the superintendent declared that he will be keenly disappointed if more than this number are not present.

The interest the Sunday School has in child development should be recognized by all parents and who should co-operate with the Sunday School officials in making September 28th one which will be long remembered by Lubbock kiddies.

MARY ANDERSON CAPTIVATES LINDSEY THEATRE AUDIENCE

Mary Anderson captivated all her audiences Monday, appearing as she did, both in pictures and in person. The theatre attendance evidenced the immense popularity of the little screen star in Lubbock. All shows were well filled with admirers of the famous "Sunshine" Mary.

Her short spontaneous talks were made just before her feature picture went on. Mary began with, "I didn't come here to make a speech, for I don't know how. But I came just to see you and talk with you about anything, or nothing—in short I'm just here to get acquainted with you," she went on, her audience becoming more attentive. "I want you folks to always feel that you know me personally from now on and when you see me on the street, come right up and say, 'Hello, Mary How are you?'"

Mary "Sunshine" then began telling her audience of Hollywood and its people, declaring those who lived out there were no different from any others, but as all human beings, had their goodness, their weakness, their ambitions and their temptations. Then she told of thrilling experiences while making pictures, narrow escapes, etc., but one would have to hear Mary tell those things to appreciate them.

The Wildness of Youth, Mary's famous picture on this trip is the story of a modern flapper's escapades, wild parties, heart throbs and romance. Mary takes the part exactly opposite to her real self. In the picture she is a despicable, selfish, little wilful daughter of a wealthy and indulgent father. But she acts her part well from beginning to end, proving beyond doubt that Mary is a real star.

Tuesday is her last day in Lubbock.

YOUNGEST FELLOW GETS A HAIRCUT BUT DIDN'T LIKE CLIPPERS

Raleigh Maurice Hood, seven weeks old son of Mr. and Mrs. Mose Hood, and grandson of Mr. and Mrs.

Raleigh Martin of Martin & Wolcott's Grocery, is the youngest patron of the Sanitary Barber shop, and in fact is the youngest fellow ever to get a regular haircut there.

The future groceryman liked the work the barber did just fine until the electric clippers were put to use, when he rebelled a bit. "Some boy to be getting a haircut at that age. I will teach him to fish and hunt, then he will be a regular fellow," "Dad" Hood declared.

ANOTHER RANCH IS TO BE DIVIDED SOON

RALLS, Sept. 15—Forty thousand acres of virgin soil, known as the Z-L Lands, are being placed on the market for sale to farmers by J. Ed McLaughlin and he reports that already homeseekers are taking advantage of the opportunity to secure farm homes at a reasonable price and on easy terms, he having already sold within the past few days about 1740 acres. This body of land lies about thirteen miles south of Ralls and the major portion of it is off the caprock, only about five sections being on the plains. The land is being sold in quarter sections up at prices ranging from $10 to $22.50 per acre.

It is figured that the sale of this land to farmers will place about 200 additional families in Ralls trade territory and will be a big addition to our business assets. The road down that way needs attention so that these new people can get to the commercial center a little more easily.

Ed McLaughlin is also agent for the Owens lands on the plains, a few miles south of Ralls, which lands have been on the market for a few months. He reports that this body of fine fertile plains land is selling at a rapid rate. He recently sold tracts three, four, five and fifteen in league one; tracts nine, seven, eight, thirteen and twenty in league three. All this land is to be immediately placed under cultivation and improvements placed thereon. The Owens school building is about completed and school started Monday.

It's only a matter of a short while until all the pasture lands of this country will be under the plow. As a matter of fact there is very little "raw" land left. The homeseekers realize this and are readily purchasing all lands almost as soon as they are offered for sale. Land is the best investment there is. It stays put and enhances in value as years go by. A majority of the people of this country own their homes. That's what makes this the greatest country under the sun. Home owning people are a home-loving people and a home-loving people are the cream of creation. Come to the Ralls country.

SPLENDID SERVICES AT THE BAPTIST CHURCH SUNDAY

It was a good day at the Baptist church according to the report that Rev. Morrow, acting pastor of the church gave out Monday morning. He stated that it was a dandy good Sunday school with more than 450 present, and many remained and attended the eleven o'clock services, and eight were received into the church, which runs the total membership to about a thousand.

The laymen of the church attended services at Levelland, leaving Lubbock about one-thirty and arrived there at a little after three, and had held a fine service, to which more than fifty persons came. They were accorded a very attentive hearing, and were invited to return at a future date. The pastor of the church at Clauene, south of Levelland, was present and extended an urgent invitation to the Lubbock laymen to come down there and hold services and they promised they would, but have not set a definite date.

The night services at the Baptist church were well attended, and great interest was manifested in the sermon.

tightly packed about the tent where the democratic candidate spoke, stood in a soaking drizzle until five end.

Such a multitude at a political meeting had never been seen by any one who attended it, and democratic leaders claimed that it was the largest ever assembled. The crowd started to gather early and at noon automobiles were passing through gate on the Nelson farm at the rate of 17 a minute. It was estimated that between 8,000 and 10,000 cars were parked in an area of 40 acres.

Before the Davis party arrived at 12:30 o'clock, the crowd had consumed 16,000 pounds of barbecued beef and 4,000 pounds of mutton in addition to thousands of baskets of fried chicken and ham sandwiches, and 14,000 watermelons. Hundreds of late arrivals including many of Davis' official party, went hungry. Coffee brewed in two cauldrons ten times as large as a wash tub could not be made fast enough to meet the demands of the crowd.

Davis was virtually mobbed by the enthusiastic crowd at the time of his arrival, and from his speech. It was necessary for members of his party to throw a cordon about him to prevent frenzied men and TENNESEANS ARE TO PARADE HERE THIS A. M.

The Tennesseans Picnic Parade this morning beginning at eleven o'clock, will be a main feature of the two day's program. H. A. Davidson stated yesterday that all Tennesseans are urged to assemble at the Fair park before eleven o'clock and be ready to start on the parade to town promptly at eleven.

Immediately upon returning to the fair park a great basket dinner will be spread, and at two o'clock in the afternoon Dr. Paul W. Horn, president of the Texas Technological College, will address those in attendance. The college president is a former Tennessean, and can perhaps relate some interesting incidents of his residence in that state.

Ask your dealer Why he sells so many more Remington Game Loads Remington Game Loads are increasing in popularity faster than any other shells in America. Have you tried them?

Hundreds of thousands of sportsmen all over this country are discarding the old style specified loads, and are now shooting Remington Game Loads.

With all due respect to any specified load you are now shooting—give Remington Game Loads a try-out on your next shooting trip.

Go into the store. Tell the dealer what kind of game you are going after—and get the Remington Game Loads specifically made for that kind of game.

They will give you a shooting quality you have never known before. They are scientifically loaded to a uniform standard of velocity, pattern and penetration, all with moderate recoil.

This idea of specific loads for specific game is original with Remington.

All our experience and ballistic knowledge told us how absurd it was to have 8200 different shotgun loads—when there are only a few kinds of game hunted with shotguns.

So we brought out Remington Game Loads—the right load—the best load—for each kind of game. Remington Game Loads are loaded with the highest quality American-made smokeless powders in Remington Nitro Club Waterproof Shells.

Thousands of seasoned sportsmen will tell you that they are right.

Isn't it about time for a New Shotgun?

While you are at your dealer's, look at the New Improved Model 10 Remington Pump Gun. Handle it. Work the action. Note its smoothness of operation, its remarkable pointing qualities and fast hammer action.
