Trick-Or-Treat For
C.R.O.P. Is Set For
This Saturday

Junior High and Senior High boys and girls of all the local churches will gather at the First Methodist church on Saturday, October 30, at 3:45, to prepare for their Trick-or-Treat march on the community in behalf of the Christian Rural Overseas Program. They will be knocking on doors from 4:00 to 5:00 o'clock this same day, giving local residents an opportunity to contribute cash toward helping free people from hunger throughout the world.

Since 1948, Halloween—the eve of All Saints Day—has become for many church young people a time for going from house to house seeking contributions for overseas relief and rehabilitation. Halloween contributions go to help meet the nutritional requirements of undernourished people in many lands. This program has been for several years an annual project of the local Ministerial Alliance, conceived as an effort to help local young people to make a Christian use of Halloween.

Amendment Vote
Set For Tuesday

This coming Tuesday, November 2nd, Schleicher county voters will join others over the state in going to the polls to vote on 10 proposed amendments to the State Constitution.

Polls will be open from 8:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m. at the usual voting places here in Eldorado and over the county.

A light vote locally and statewide has been predicted. As of Monday morning, only six absentee votes had been cast in the office of J. P. Enoch, county and district clerk. Deadline is this Friday at 5:00 p.m. for absentee voting.

Here is a brief rundown of the 10 proposals which will be on the ballot Tuesday:

1. Ad valorem tax increase of 5c for state institutions of higher learning (acquiring, constructing and equipping).

2. Increases in Veterans' Land Fund by 200 million dollars for veterans who served in Armed Services from 1940 to 1955.

3. Permits matching fund legislation enabling Texas to cooperate with Federal Government in providing medical care and assistance to aged, blind, needy children and disabled (60 million dollar limit per fiscal year).

4. Provides a 4-year term of office for the Governor, Lt. Governor, Attorney General, Comptroller, Treasurer, Land Commissioner, and other statutory state officers.

5. Clarifies investment authority of the Teacher Retirement Fund and the Teacher Retirement System of Texas.

6. Authorizes Legislature to provide for loans to students of higher education (the Texas Opportunity Plan).

7. Exempts from local ad valorem taxes charitable organizations expending at least 1.5 million dollars annually for free hospital and medical care for the indigent.

8. Automatic retirement of District and Appellate Judges at age 75. Empowers Tex. Supreme Court to remove District and Appellate judges for misconduct and disability.

9. Allows Legislature to set salaries for the Lt. Governor and Speaker of House (presently set by Constitution), and increases expense allowances for Members of Legislature.

10. Provides for 4-year terms for Members of Texas House of Representatives with half of them being elected every two years.

Another factor which will affect the turnout of voters in this coming election is that a current poll tax receipt is required in order to vote. This being an "off year" politically, some voters otherwise qualified failed to pay their poll tax last January and so will not be able to vote.

Sample ballots, printed on yellow paper, are available to voters desiring them. These copies are free for the taking at the County Clerk's office and at the Success office.

Voters should study the sample ballot carefully, remembering that you CANNOT take it with you to consult when you go to the polls.

Post Script

Vote No On 4 And 10

(The following is excerpted from an editorial which was printed in a recent issue of the Texas Observer.)

The Observer opposes constitutional amendments four and ten in the Nov. 2 election.

Four-year terms for governor may be all right in two-party states, but this is a one-party state, and amendment four would confirm one-party, big-business control of Texas. We have almost reached the point where the conservative Democrats and the state government are the same thing. We must turn back from this dangerous way of political life.

Four-year terms for members of the Texas House would give them longer terms than congressmen! The people have a right to rule on their state representatives every two years. There is already too little democratic pressure on these men in a one-party state; now they want even less.

Governor John B. Connally pushed amendment four through the legislature for his own benefit. Then the state representatives pushed through amendment ten for theirs.

The Senate has already tried to flummox the voters into saving the hides of seven rural senators by increasing the number of senators to 39, and the Senate was refused. We hope the people have had enough of politicians jimmying the very structure of state government for their own personal interests and will vote no on four and ten.

Connally has announced for the first four-year term. This would give him eight years in office—longer than any Texas governor in history. His appointees would totally dominate every state agency, contrary to the purpose of the state's six-year staggered term policy.

A powerful, popular governor would be able to virtually determine the makeup of the legislature in a one-party state.

If Connally gets the four-year term, he'll in effect be seeking his third and fourth terms in the one election next year. No wonder the lobbyists are so devoted to the four-year term. They can spend a quarter million dollars on passing it and still come out ahead. It'll serve them right if they lose again as they did on the 39-member Senate.

Local Telephones
Being Changed

Workmen from General Telephone Co. have been changing out telephones over Eldorado this week. Installing of these new telephone instruments is a phase of the modernization project which the firm has had under way here for several months.

New central office equipment has been installed in a new building beside the old dial building which was put into service back in 1948.

New seven-digit numbers will be assigned to all telephones and by 1967 local telephone patrons will be connected into the nationwide direct dialing set-up.

Some local business firms have already been notified by General Telephone of their tentative new number, so that these can be placed on new stationery, etc. These number assignments, however, may still be subject to last-minute change, according to R. R. McCullough of General Telephone.

"Should a change be necessary you will be notified promptly," McCullough said.

All new Eldorado phone numbers will have the prefix 853, followed by four other digits. Change-over to the new numbers is set for December.

ON TO DALLAS

Archie Nixon, 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Nixon Jr., is listed as a zone winner in the Punt, Pass & Kick competition, and is scheduled to enter a district contest, which will be held Saturday, October 30, in Dallas.

Comment

Here are two games to watch: Sonora in Ozona tomorrow night, and Sonora in Big Lake the night of Nov. 12.

The Eldorado Eagles host the Rankin Red Devils tomorrow night in the final home game of the 1965 football season. One game will remain after the Rankin engagement tomorrow night, this game being with Sanderson at Sanderson, the night of Friday, November 5.

An examination of Red Devil potency goes like this: They defeated the Iran Braves the same night the Sonora Braves were subduing a stubborn Eldorado team. Observers say that Rankin should have won by considerably more than the 2-0 margin which they registered on the score board.

Rankin has a team which can be called "young" as only four seniors are listed on the starting lineup. Remaining lads are juniors with the exception of one sophomore, this being a 128-pound guard. This sort of news item somehow just doesn't ring true; something has eluded someone at this point but the answer should be obvious tomorrow night.

Their offensive posture is the "Winged T," employing an unbalanced line either way but principally right. Their passer is QB Larry Whiteside whose favorite targets are his left halfback Fal Aguillar and the rightend Jerry Lacy.

Defensively, they utilize a five-man defensive line with a four-man secondary and with twin safeties.

Although they are a young team as the years go, they are a scrappy aggregation. They have shown steady improvement all season. At this time of the season, they should be at or near their best tomorrow night. It could be a nervous night for partisans of both teams.

Red Devil starting lineup will probably be as follows:

No.	Name	Pos.	Wt.
81	Earlex Williams	LE	161
50	Garey Upham	LT	183
60	Joe Adams	LG	128
32	Kellam Colquitt	C	161
62	Donald Ivey	RG	164
73	Eddie Hale	RT	193
82	Jerry Lacy	RE	163
41	Fal Aguillar	LHB	133
20	Jim Pettit	WB	145
40	Wayne Hale	FB	134
10	Larry Whiteside	QB	148

Eagles and their fans remember vividly in 1963 when the Red Devils beat a drum for 24 hours preceding their contest with Eldorado and defeated the Eagles 20-13. Last year, Eldorado downed the Red Devils 26-14.

Eagle defensive lineup will probably include the lads up front who have been giving more bruises recently than they have been taking. They include Captain Joe Phillips at left tackle, Wayne McGinnis at left guard, Bobby DeLong at right guard, and John Mayo at right tackle. The secondary will consist of Captain Sam Henderson, Captain Scott McGregor, Captain Jim Belk, Chris McCravy, and Steve Blaylock. The safeties will be Roy Davidson and Jay Halbert.

In all probability, Rankin scouts will advise against kicking to Roy Davidson.

Offensively, the Eagle starters will probably be these veterans:

No.	Name	Pos.	Wt.
81	Donald Rogers	LE	170
76	John Mayo	LT	205
75	Cap. Jim Belk	LG	170
55	Chris McCravy	C	155
66	Steve Blaylock	RG	160
77	Cap. Joe Phillips	RT	200
80	Danny Richardson	RE	160
44	Cap. Sam Henderson	LHB	150
21	Jay Halbert	RHB	150
13	Cap. Scott McGregor	FB	165
11	Danny Halbert	QB	150

Here is hoping that some Eagles who have by reason of youth, inexperience, lack of weight, or standing in some big shadow have seen only occasional action may get to display their prowess. For example, Ricky Buchner, a junior; Kenneth Phelps, a sophomore; Clifford Schooley, a sophomore; and John (Rusty) Meador, another sophomore have displayed great willingness and considerable ability during the season. To them, it has been a long 1965 season; but it will come as considerable shock when they consider that only two seasons remain to them. Next year, as juniors, they can lock horns with senior outfits such as the Red Devils.

There is an old cliché to the effect that "Time marches on." It is entirely possible that this 1965 version of the Eldorado Eagles will be the last to compete on present Eagle Field. By no means is this thought to be construed as opposing the change because actual physical danger is the lot of the children who walk that busy highway out to practice athletic activities such as track and field. In fact, tragedy has struck in transporting boys to that field in years gone by.

But here is the hope that the 1965 Eldorado Eagles in honor of the Eagles who have gone on before as early as 1925 or '26, will celebrate this possible last game in this field with a fine, sparkling, aggressive victory.

Queens To Be Presented

This Friday night will be the final scheduled home game for the Eagles, when they meet the Rankin Red Devils on Eagle field.

The Football Sweetheart and Band Queen will be crowned in ceremonies at this game.

During pre-game ceremonies, the Football Sweetheart will be introduced, and at half-time, the Band Queen will be crowned.

Identity of these two honorees is kept secret until they are presented.

2345 Bales Ginned

At 9:00 o'clock Wednesday (yesterday) morning the local gin was running full blast, with a total of 2345 bales processed at that time.

Cotton is coming in steadily as clear weather continues and the gin is running usually until midnight to keep up; turning out better than 100 bales per day.

School News

High School Principal Guy Whitaker announces that on Monday afternoon at 2:00, a Social Security man will speak to the Juniors and Seniors in the school auditorium. Any of the public who wish to attend will be welcome.

The "B" game which was scheduled for tonight at Menard has been canceled. The Jr. High team will play at Menard.

For Friday night's game here against Rankin, the Student Council will have charge of the concession stand.

School officials reported that the recent game when the Sonora Broncos played the Eagles here, represented an all-time high in paid attendance for any game. About 2300 fans filled both grandstands including the reserved section.

Curtis Humphries, elementary principal, reports that achievement tests are being given this week in the grade school.

Mrs. Becky Moore's third graders will present the assembly program at 1:30 today, Thursday. On Nov. 4th, Mrs. Stigler's third graders will have charge.

Lions Dist. Governor
Coming Next Week

George Thompson of Sweetwater, district governor of Lions clubs, will make his official visit to the Eldorado Lions club this coming Wednesday, November 3rd.

Ray Boyer, local president of the Lions club, urges all members to make special effort that day to attend the meeting. It will be held at 12:15 in the basement of the Memorial Building.

Eaglet 7th Graders Overrun Owlets 8-6

A fumble by the Eaglets set up the Big Lake first touchdown from the one-yard line. The score at half-time was 6-0 in favor of the Owls.

The 3rd quarter, Eaglet K. Williams returned the punt for a touchdown which was wiped out by a clipping penalty. The Eaglets lost ball on downs, and had to punt. The Owls couldn't do much and were forced to punt. The punt was blocked and K. Williams ran over for T.D. Jack Williams made the two points.

Steve Sykes did a man-size job on defense as did the rest of the Eaglets.

Antlerless Deer Shoot Is Shaped

The antlerless deer harvest, key part of the present vast deer management program in Texas, is being shaped with indications that substantial numbers may be taken again this year. Climaxing a long and painstaking census, taken by wildlife biologists and game wardens, dates have been set in 59 counties to distribute permits to landowners for issuance to hunters.

Designed to harvest surplus deer from overpopulated areas, this program is being recognized by the landowners and hunters as an important part of deer management.

The antlerless harvest has become a sizeable part of the annual overall deer bag now estimated at more than 200,000 animals in Texas.

A list of neighboring counties participating in the antlerless program this season and the locations where department representatives will distribute permits to landowners, follows:

Irion, Nov. 4, Mertzon, county courthouse;
Crockett, Oct. 28-29, Ozona, co. courthouse;
Kimble, Nov. 3-4-5, Junction, co. courthouse;
Mason, Oct. 25-26-27, Mason, chamber of commerce;
Menard, Nov. 1-2, Menard, chamber of commerce;
Schleicher, Nov. 4-5, Eldorado, chamber of commerce;
Sutton, Oct. 25-26-27, Sonora, chamber of commerce.

This will be our last newsletter for the year. I want to thank all the newspapers in the district which have carried these weekly reports. They will be resumed when the Congress reconvenes in January.

I will be in the district the balance of the year, with an office in the Federal building in San Angelo. My Washington office will remain open. As has been my custom each year, it will be my plan to travel over the district, see as many people as possible, learn all I can about local problems, and report on the developments that have taken place in Washington during a very eventful session.

In terms of bills enacted, this session has been long on quantity but short on quality. Even Senator Mansfield, the Majority leader of the Senate, recently observed that the session should fold, then come back in January and try to unscramble some of the mistakes of this session.

This has been essentially a welfare session, with scores of new programs initiated, of a permanent and expensive variety. And it has been the most expensive peacetime session in history. More than $118 billion has been appropriated. Federal policy of operating on a basis of overdrafts has been extended.

On the plus side, this Congress gave solid support to the President in our commitment in Viet Nam and elsewhere against Communist aggression. Our national security was bolstered on many fronts.

Also on the plus side, the Senate threw a road block in front of the massive drive to repeal our right-to-work laws and impose compulsory unionism. Thus, here is an example of progress being made by preventing passage of a bill, rather than approving one.

The bill-passing binge, bolstered by a rubber stamp Congress, okayed scores of measures that were of doubtful quality and which have in past years been thoroughly discredited. These include compulsory medicare, for both the poor and the rich; general federal aid to education for both public and non-public schools, direct grants to hundreds of thousands of tenants to help pay their monthly rent bills, and repeal of our 40-year-old national origins quota immigration law. This will admit about 100,000 more immigrants each year.

Perhaps after the dust settles and the people become more aware of the implications of this mass of legislation, they will bring more influence to bear on their elected representatives for appropriate corrective actions.

New Law Requires PKU Test For Newborn Infants

A law passed this spring by the Texas Legislature should be of interest to parents of new born babies, points out Albert M. Everett, administrator of Hudspeith Memorial Hospital in Sonora.

The new law requires that newborn children, with one exception, be tested for PKU.

PKU (or phenylketonuria) is a genetic defect causing a type of mental retardation. It can be treated with special diet, and early discovery is considered important in treatment.

The test, a blood test, is made after the infant has been taking formula for at least 24 hours, Everett notes.

The October issue of "Texas Hospitals" summarizes the new law as follows:

"The physician attending a newborn child, or the person attending a newborn child that was not attended by a physician, shall cause the child to be subjected to the phenylketonuria test that has been approved by the State Department of Health. Providing, however, that such test shall not be given to any child whose parents or guardian object thereto on the grounds that such tests conflict with their religious tenets or practices."

Eagles Win 20 To 6 At Iraan

The Eldorado Eagles beat the Iraan Braves 20-6 last Friday night in Iraan. The win ended a two-game losing period for Eldorado and was the second consecutive loss for Iraan.

Eldorado's three touchdowns came in the latter part of each half. Neither Eldorado nor Iraan could move consistently in the first quarter and neither registered on the score board. But the second quarter was less than a minute old when Captain (Sudden) Henderson zipped over his own right side on a reverse or counter play for about 70 yards, being finally downed near the Iraan 10-yard stripe. Three plays later, QB Danny Halbert slipped over on a quarterback sneak for the touchdown. The Eagles tried to run the try for point over for two points but failed.

Then only three minutes later, with nine and a half minutes remaining on the clock, the Eagles forced Iraan into a punting situation. Eagle Sophomore Roy Davidson caught the kick and started running and running and running until Captain Jim Belk blasted the last Indian out of the way and Davidson crossed the Iraan goal untouched. This time the Eagles ran the extra point over for two.

Only three minutes later, the Braves went on the warpath and put together four consecutive first downs for enough yardage to penetrate Eagle vital territory. The Braves tried for two points after the touchdown but Eagle defenders would not hear to it and the half ended with Eldorado out front 14-6.

After fine halftime performances by the bands, the teams took the field again and the third quarter like the first was a scoreless affair with the Eagles holding the Braves on the reservation.

But the Eagles got busy quickly in the final period when Captain Joe Phillips intercepted an Iraan aerial in midfield. The Eagles took possession and QB Danny Halbert launched a "bomb" to Halfback Jay Halbert who made a tremendous diving catch over his head, the pass and his fall covering some 40 yards. Halfback Jay Halbert scored on the next play. The try for extra point failed; but the Eagles were out front 20-6; and Iraan had lost the strong yearnings to get off the reservation.

An unusual feature of the game was an attempted field goal some 35 yards long. The official was in the act of calling the kick good when the ball struck an upright and bounced away. So near yet so far. The kicker, Captain Scott McGregor, still deserves a commendation for the effort since he made the attempt with a badly bruised knee.

The game ended with the Eagles out front 20-6 and statistics reveal that it was by a good margin in all departments.

Davy Jones is the popular name of sailors for an evil sea spirit or the devil generally.

Austin.—State attorneys are set to make a hard-nosed defense of the Texas poll tax law now under federal court attack.

Pre-trial conferences in the suit were held quietly here and in San Antonio last week (Oct. 21). Trial date has been postponed from mid-November to December 1 in order to allow both sides more time for preparation.

Assistant Atty. Gen. Hawthorne Phillips scheduled a flight to Washington this week to take a deposition from U. S. Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach in effort to show that Katzenbach once testified before Senate Judiciary Committee that Texas' poll tax is not discriminatory toward Negroes.

In view of late trial date and certain appeals to U. S. Supreme Court regardless of initial ruling here, the three-judge trial court issued a statement in affect advising Texans who want to be sure they qualify to vote in state and local elections next year to pay their poll taxes.

Leaders of massive poll tax drives just now getting under way already had concluded there was no other safe course.

Outlook now is that if repeal is ordered, first major state and national elections affected will be those of 1968.

Workmen's Comp Rate

State Insurance Board staff has recommended revised workmen's compensation rates that will result in average reduction of 2.9% for Texas employers.

Rates for some 600 categories will advance, others will be substantially slashed. Overall effect is a decrease. Same formula produced a 2.3% increase last year. Board Chairman Wm. Hunter McLean concluded that the industrial safety record of Texas businesses has improved.

Board Thursday (Oct. 21) held public hearing on the recommended slash, which would reduce premiums about $4.5 million next year.

Attorney General Rules

Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr cleared the way for state participation in two federal welfare programs.

In one opinion, he held that State Department of Public Welfare can pay out of federal allocations cost (estimated at $5 million a year) of training adults to become self-sufficient.

In another, he said Department can set up advisory committees, with state agency employees as members, and pay their travel expenses out of federal allotments when they are working on such federal programs as day care services for children.

Other rulings by Carr held that: —Department of Public Welfare may make a contract with a private insurance company for the protection of trainees on various projects and pay for the premiums with money from the Economic Opportunity Act of 1964.

—A substitute member of a joint board appointed by the Interstate Commerce Commission is not a federal employee and he may receive his salary for his services as an examiner for the Texas Railroad Commission.

—No license is required for a beauty shop at the rest home operated by Order of Eastern Star for retired members.

—Mixed fertilizers must be registered prior to distribution, but those falling below minimum chemical content (less than 24% of nitrogen, phosphorus or potassium) cannot be registered.

—Dallas County school trustees are not liable when school buses are used for extracurricular activities under outlined procedures.

—Jefferson county auditor's maximum salary is $15,000, with a minimum of $1,200 allotted for his service to special districts.

College Board Meets

During its second meeting, the new Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System, unanimously endorsed proposed constitutional amendments to create $85 million student loan fund and to boost state property tax five cents for building purposes at 17 institutions.

Board also heard report that public junior colleges face potential financial crisis due to a 35% jump in enrollments and fixed level of appropriations.

Members certified adequate financing is in sight for new higher education programs approved by Board's predecessor agency and gave clearance to a million dollar repair program for 1966.

They further agreed to participate in the new federal program to establish regional technical services and accepted job of administering the higher education facilities (building aid) act.

To The Public

Due to the many questions being asked me about my church's connection with other churches in Eldorado, I make this public statement:

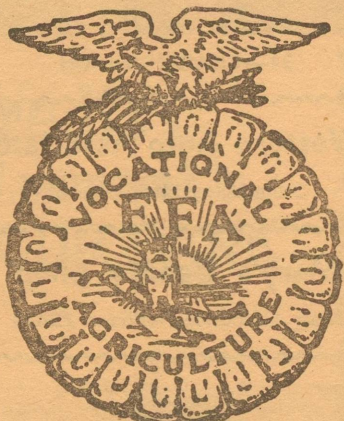

I am pastor of the First Assemblies of God Church in Eldorado, Texas. This church is affiliated with the General Council of the Assemblies of God, with headquarters in Springfield, Missouri. The Assemblies of God is recognized as a denomination, NOT a Sect. We are not a branch or split-off from any other denomination that has branched off of the Assemblies of God.

The First Assemblies of God Church in Eldorado is not affiliated or connected in any way with any other church in Eldorado. A statement of our Faith is given below; this we believe and adhere to.

Rev. Johnny Griffith
Ordained Minister
Assemblies of God

This We Believe

We believe the Bible to be the inspired and only infallible and authoritative Word of God. We believe that there is one God, eternally existent in three persons: God the Father, God the Son, and God the Holy Ghost. We believe in the deity of our Lord Jesus Christ, in His virgin birth, in His sinless life, in His miracles, in His bodily resurrection, in His ascension to the right hand of the Father, and in His personal future return to this earth in power and glory to rule over the nations. We believe that the only means of being cleansed from sin is through repentance and faith in the precious blood of Christ. We believe that regeneration by the Holy Spirit is absolutely essential for personal salvation. We believe that the redemptive work of Christ on the cross provides healing of the human body in answer to believing prayer. We believe that the baptism of the Holy Spirit, according to Acts 2:4, is given to believers who ask for it. We believe in the sanctifying power of the Holy Spirit by whose indwelling the Christian is enabled to live a holy life. We believe in the resurrection of both the saved and the lost, the one to everlasting life and the other to everlasting damnation.

Eldorado FFA members made a creditable showing at the Dallas Fair livestock show. Rosa Lueddecke placed second in showmanship in the sheep division, competing with about 300 other showmen.

The chapter members took two Hereford heifers, two steers, and 19 fat lambs to the show. All animals placed in their respective divisions.

Tim Edmiston placed 5th with a Hereford heifer; William Edmiston 21st with Hereford heifer; and Lisa McAngus won 1st premium with a steer.

In the fat lamb division Jimmy Mann won 12th and 23rd; Rosa Lueddecke, 8th; and Donald Rogers 16th, 26th and 45th.

Seventeen FFA members and parents were in attendance at the show.

The Eldorado chapter will have a turkey shoot on Saturday, Nov. 6th at 2:00 p.m. It will be held south of the football field near the aggie barns.

COUNTY AGENT'S COLUMN

by Tiny Godwin

Schleicher County Agricultural Agent

The Rolling Plains Cotton Association, Inc., will meet November 1 at the Memorial Building at 7:30 p.m. to hear Mr. Terry Julian, executive vice president of the association.

Schleicher county cotton producers became eligible in January to join the organization and did in March of 1965. One of the benefits already received was a cotton insect survey team which worked in the county each Wednesday of each week during the cotton insect season. This report with a county-wide survey made by the county agent kept every cotton producer informed of the insect situation from week to week which saved an estimated $42,000 to producers in the county.

Cotton producers are urged to come and hear the executive vice-president of your association of what has been accomplished and plans for 1966 and, for the future of cotton producers of the county.

The reason big apples are always on top in the basket is that there is always a lot of little ones holding them up there.

You may be in camp for several days after killing a deer; thus a delay in getting the carcass to a locker plant or home for processing.

Here are a few tips on how to improve the quality of the meat should you face such a situation. Cut away all tainted or mutilated portions of meat. To clean, wipe the carcass with a clean cloth. Remove hair and any debris that sticks to the meat.

Skin and quarter the carcass for more rapid cooling, if possible. Otherwise, hang the carcass outside at night and wrap it in a large sack, tarp or game bag in the shade or indoors during the day.

Protect the meat from flies and moisture. Many hunters prefer to leave the skin on the carcass to protect the meat from contamination until it is butchered. If the head is to be mounted, take the unskinned deer to the taxidermist and let him remove the necessary parts.

If you want to save the hide, allow it to cool and dry. Then salt and roll or fold it until delivery to the taxidermist or tanner.

How many times do you use pesticides? Probably several times a year. Some thought to the proper storage of the pesticide chemicals when we are not using them, include these pointers to remember:

Store pesticides away from food, feed and seed—and never store any chemical that does not have a label. Put a clear tape across the label if there is any chance of them falling off. This keeps the information on the label clear as well as on the can or bottle.

And, always make sure that lids of bottles and cans are tightly closed. This keeps the chemical in, and makes sure that no other chemical vapors or dusts can seep into the container.

Remember—never store any chemical that does not have a label.

The best thing about the future is that it comes one day at a time.

A new publication is entitled "Know Your Grasses" and is now available from the county agent's office. Discussed in the bulletin are 73 grasses which are of great importance to Texas.

The information is designed to better acquaint the ranchmen and stock farmers of Texas with grasses. The most important native and introduced grasses of Texas are illustrated. Publication editors are G. O. Hoffman and B. J. Ragsdale, Extension range specialists at Texas A&M University.

Knowing range grasses, like knowing livestock, is the foundation of the ranching business. A ranchman is in the grass business and livestock and wildlife are his salable by-product. Good palatable grass is the cheapest feed that can be grown. Certain pasture grasses are indicators like signs on the highway.

The ranchman must know the kinds of plants growing on the range, their forage value, and when to utilize them properly with the right kind of livestock at the proper season.

The publication is designed to at least acquaint the ranchmen with the key or important species in their area. It is hoped that the material will be useful in helping 4-H members in grass judging.

El Dorado Chapter, DAR, Met Last Week

The El Dorado Chapter of the National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution, met in the home of Mrs. Ernest C. Hill last Thursday with Mrs. P. K. McIntosh, Mrs. C. M. McWhorter, and Mrs. Ernest S. Goens as co-hostesses.

Mrs. Luke Thompson, regent, presided.

Miss John Alexander, chaplain, opened the meeting with appropriate scripture and prayer followed by the salute to the flag of the United States and the National Anthem.

One matter of business, a motion presented by Mrs. Ernest C. Hill, follows: I move that the El Dorado Chapter, National Society Daughters of the American Revolution, endorse the movement to change the spelling of Eldorado to the Spanish two-word, El Dorado, spelling and pronunciation; and that the Executive Board, after consulting with other civic organizations, draft a suitable letter of endorsement to be sent to the Postmaster General. The motion was seconded and adopted.

Mrs. Thompson read the October letter from the President General, NSDAR.

Mrs. Ernest C. Hill, Defense chairman, gave the report.

Mrs. Raymond Schrank, leader of the American Heritage Program, graciously presented Mrs. J. B. Montgomery. She delightfully featured the Cowboy as an important part of American life. This was accentuated by the presentation of Louella Geldard, Kaye Harkey, Larry McGinnes, and Gordon Schrank who completed a fascinating story with cowboy songs.

A social hour followed over a delectable tea plate.

The DAR Blue used in decorations, helped all to remember the NSDAR Diamond Jubilee Year.

Visitors from out of town were: Mrs. A. W. Hedlund and Miss Lenora Hedlund from San Angelo; Mrs. Alvis Johnson of Sonora.
