Ask Us

Q. — Does United Way have funds available for individuals in need?

A. — Funds raised directly by the local United Way effort are pledged one year ahead of time to its member agencies. As a result, there are no funds for the random person seeking help. United Way does serve as the administrator for funds donated as part of bill payments to Texas Electric and Lone Star Gas. This fund, which normally has a waiting list, is to aid individuals who otherwise cannot pay energy bills. A United Way agency, the Salvation Army, also has limited funds available–mainly for food or gasoline–for individuals needing help.

Soviets say Daniloff was 'expelled'

FRANKFURT, West Germany (AP) — American reporter Nicholas Daniloff flew home today after being held in Moscow one month on spy charges, and hours later a Soviet accused of espionage in New York pleaded no contest and prepared to leave the United States.

At about the same time Gennadiy Zakharov was entering his plea, the superpowers announced separately that President Reagan and Soviet leader Mikhail S. Gorbachev would meet within two weeks in Iceland.

Daniloff, the 51-year-old U.S. News & World Report correspondent, and his wife, Ruth, arrived in Frankfurt on Monday night after a flight from the Soviet capital.

This afternoon, they boarded a Pan Am jet bound for Washington and a reunion with their two children, Caleb and Miranda.

—The official Soviet news agency Tass announced Gorbachev and Reagan would meet in Reykjavik, Iceland, on Oct. 11-12 to prepare for a later summit in the United States.

Reagan confirmed he accepted Gorbachev's suggestion for the Iceland meeting, which the administration said would not be a full-fledged summit such as the meeting in Geneva last November.

—Zakharov pleaded no contest to three counts of spying in a four-minute hearing, and under an agreement entered in U.S. District Court in Brooklyn he must leave the country within 24 hours. He was placed on five years' probation.

Tass reported that Zakharov was freed, and said in a separate announcement that Daniloff had been "expelled."

—Secretary of State George P. Shultz said prominent Soviet dissident Yuri Orlov would be allowed to leave the Soviet Union. Shultz described Orlov as the "driving force" behind the Helsinki Monitoring Group of civil rights activists and said he will be allowed to leave by Oct. 7.

At the United Nations, Shevardnadze said today neither superpower "got the other side to its knees." He said the main obstacle to improved U.S.-Soviet relations was not "events of recent weeks..." — an apparent reference to the Daniloff-Zakharov case — "but the real deadlock was the issue of nuclear and space arms."

The plane carrying the Daniloffs left Frankfurt airport at 1:19 p.m. (8:19 a.m. EDT), airport spokesman Horst Aussen said.

"I feel great," Daniloff shouted as he waved to reporters before getting into a limousine at the consular residence for the 15-minute drive to the airport. The Daniloffs spent the night at the residence.

"I'm grateful to the president of the United States. I'm free, I'm in the West. I cannot tell you about any other arrangements. ... All I know is that I am free," Daniloff told reporters upon arriving from Moscow.

Parents welcomed

OPEN HOUSE — All six Snyder elementaries welcomed parents Monday night for the annual open house. Random shots from the night include (above, from left) Donnie and Linda Compton and son, Michael, visiting daughter Amanda's Northeast Elementary kindergarten room; Jocelyn Pinkerton showing her mother Suzan her "Jocelyn look-alike" at East Elementary; and Melissa Miles showing younger brother Milo her desk at West Elementary. Golden Corral to open

The new Golden Corral Family Steak House, located at 3206 College Ave., will open for business at 11 a.m. Thursday.

The opening was announced by Vern Roberts, Golden Corral supervisor for this area.

Snyder's newest restaurant features USDA choice sirloin and ribeye steaks, Idaho baked potatoes, Texas toast and a soup, salad bar and potato bar. The salad bar is 14 ft. long and features hot vegetables, according to steak house partner-manager Jon Knoke.

He said the chain's success is attributed to the Golden Corral's commitment to "serving quality products at family prices."

The meat served at Golden Corral is cut fresh daily by the chain's own meatcutters.

Menu prices range from $1.99 for a hamburger platter to a top price of $7.99 for a 12-ounce ribeye dinner. The most popular steak on the menu, he said, is a 7-ounce sirloin with baked potato and Texas toast for $4.79.

Knoke pointed out customers can expect their main dinner item to be served within 7 to 10 minutes after the order is given.

Seating capacity for the steak house is 216 persons and private dining rooms are available for parties and banquets.

In Brief

Speed limit

AUSTIN (AP) — The House has voted to let the state highway commission raise the speed limit on rural highways if Congress alters the 55 mph speed limit.

The measure, approved on voice vote Monday, now goes to the Texas Senate.

On Sept. 23, the U.S. Senate approved a plan to allow states to set a 65 mph limit on rural sections of interstate highways. The measure is now awaiting action by the U.S. House.

Talks stalled

MANILA, Philippines (AP) — Troops arrested a Communist Party member identified as one of the leaders of this island nation's guerrilla rebellion, officials said today. Leftist lawyers said the arrest has stalled cease-fire talks.

One caught

CONROE, Texas (AP) — A capital murder suspect who greased his body with oil and slithered out of jail through a hole six inches wide is in custody today after being recaptured.

Jesse DeWayne Jacobs, 36, eluded Montgomery County authorities for 18 hours before dogs tracked him to a patio at a house just south of Conroe Monday afternoon, said Bob Morrison, spokesman for the sheriff's office.

Local

SDN contest

Last week's SDN Football Contest proved somewhat harder for the guessers as Sweetwater was defeated and the Ira-Trent game resulted in a tie. In spite of this, only three misses took first place money.

Alvin Orr of 3616 44th won first. Four entrants managed only four misses, but the tie-breaker procedure declared Lee McNair of Rt. 3, Box 536, second place winner.

Another contest appears in this issue.

Weather

Snyder Temperatures: High Monday, 85 degrees; low, 69 degrees; reading at 7 a.m. Tuesday, 71 degrees; no precipitation; total precipitation for 1986 to date, 21.08 inches.

Snyder Area Forecast: Tonight isolated evening thunderstorms, becoming fair after midnight. Chance of rain less than 20 percent. Lows mid 60s. Wind south 5 to 10 mph. Wednesday fair in the morning, becoming partly cloudy afternoon. Highs near 90. Wind south 10 to 15 mph.

Absentee near end

Tuesday at 5 p.m. is the deadline to vote absentee in the runoff election for the District 2 seat on the Snyder City Council.

The election is due Saturday at city hall. Some 28 ballots had been cast as of Tuesday morning.

Voters in District 2 will decide between John Johnson and Ralph Williamson.

They seek to represent District 2, comprised of west Snyder south of 37th St. and the residential areas by Cogdell Memorial Hospital.

Lubbock-based artist at Sunday show

The name of Rosie Sandifer Alford has become familiar to many Texas Tech exes in recent months, and Snyder area residents will have the opportunity to see samplings of her work at a major museum exhibit opening this Sunday.

Alford is involved in Tech's "Quest for Excellence" fund drive. A painting by the Lubbock artist will be reproduced into a commemorative poster and given to donors of $500 in the campaign.

At the local exhibit, sculptures by her will be part of the ranching heritage display opening at the Scurry County Museum Sunday at 1 p.m.

She has sent five pieces for the exhibit and plans to attend the opening also.

Tech selected Alford's painting titled "Wash Down"–portraying two horses getting a wash down–for the poster.

Her interest in art began at an early age. After taking "every available art course" in early school, she entered a college commercial art program, excelling in figure drawing.

She also studied in Cloudcroft, N.M. with the late Ramon Froman and with Frank Mason of the Art Student's League.

Her work has been exhibited in many national and regional shows including the Diamond M Museum here.

Paintings by Linda Miller of San Patricio, N.M., formerly of Snyder, will also be featured in the museum's Sunday program.

Going on sale that day will be "Early Ranching in West Texas," a book of local ranch history published by the Snyder unit of the Ranching Heritage Association.

Several authors who contributed articles to the book will be present to autograph copies.

A 16-panel exhibit on Texas ranch women from the Institute of Texan Cultures will be displayed also.

United Way dollars don't go away...

Express It ownership has changed recently

Chloanne Lindsey and her mother, Peggy Grinslade, are the new owners of Express It, 1804 26th St. They purchased the business Aug. 18 and assumed its management in early September.

Lindsey said they will be maintaining the existing stock and services, plus adding a "whole lot of merchandise" such as Snuggles and Pete and Repeat items for young girls.

In addition, they will also be stocking items for men and boys, she said.

They will continue to personalize the products they sell.

Express It is open from 9:30-5:30. p.m. Monday through Saturday.

Lindsey is married to Lee Roy Lindsey who works for N.L. McCullough. They have two grown sons.

Grinslade is married to John Grinslade who is retired from Chevron and presently farms.

Previously, the Grinslades owned a used furniture store and Lindsey served as manager of Beneficial Finance. Recently, she was employed in the city's utility department.

The SDN Column

By Roy McQueen

The feller on Deep Creek says, "The best thing to do with a poor memory is to forget it."

We spent Monday dodging First Baptist Church minister Ken Branam–a die-hard Baylor fan. His beloved Bears were anything but meek last Saturday when they roared past the Texas Tech Red Raiders before a red-faced homecoming crowd.

Our deal with Branam is simple. We have to continue to display two Baylor University plaques in our office until the Red Raiders defeat the Bears.

We suspected that the Raiders might be in for a long afternoon, so we offered our tickets to a couple of Baptists here at the office.

Willie Davis, our production and circulation manager, took his grandson. Wayne Burney, our ad manager, took one of his sons. Davis is a Northside Baptist deacon and Burney is their music director, but the two were anything but grateful for the tickets.

Both admitted to leaving mid-way in the third quarter. Said Burney, "Everytime Baylor scored, about 5,000 left." Another Snyder resident observed a guy unsuccessfully trying to auction off his season ticket options.

We noticed that Davis still had a red face on Monday morning. Davis attributed it to embarrassment. He explained that Burney had worn shorts to the game.

In addition, Tech was playing so poorly that Davis pulled off his black and red Red Raider cap by the end of the first quarter. It was a clear case of embarrassment complicated by a sunburn.

Test flights slated for plane

MOJAVE, Calif. (AP) — Organizers of the Voyager flight around the world without refueling say at least one more test hop is needed before the experimental aircraft and its two-member crew begin the planned 12-day journey.

Pilots Dick Rutan and Jeana Yeager took the plane up for four hours early Monday, and that flight led the crew to decide further testing was needed today to evaluate the plane's handling characteristics in turbulence.

"It's frustrating to have waited for good weather for two weeks only to find we need another (test) flight, but this is a development program," Rutan said.

Monday's flight began under sunny skies just before 8 a.m. and ended with a landing at Mojave Airport shortly before noon. Flights on Sept. 21 and 22 had been heralded as Voyager's last scheduled tests.

Voyager spokesman Peter Riva said fuel was redistributed among the aircraft's 17 fuel tanks to move the plane's center of gravity three inches forward, which should improve its performance in turbulence.

Monday's test succeeded, but the crew and aircraft builders decided further fine-tuning was needed. They planned to install 5-inch, 20-pound lead weights on the leading edges of Voyager's wings.

After today's flight, the Voyager team will decide on whether to set a date for the world flight or to conduct more tests.

Rutan said the testing involved "stretching aerodynamic knowledge to achieve the first real attempt at world flight. This thing won't come easy and it won't be rushed."

The adjustments are needed to help the plane cope with an area of violent weather near the Equator, which Voyager will pass over twice on its flight.

Ms. Yeager, 34, a native of Fort Worth, Texas, is a self-made pilot who has won eight world aviation records for speed and distance. Rutan, 48, is a retired Air Force lieutenant colonel with more than 25 years of jet-fighting experience.

Rutan and Ms. Yeager had antenna problems Monday when they tested an ultra high frequency, or UHF, radio, which they hope will be their primary means of communicating with controllers during the global flight, Riva said.

Voyager only has room for a small UHF antenna, and such radio communications usually use a larger one, so the signals in Monday's test were very weak, he said.

Dear Abby

Teen Lovers Lose Self-Control And Want to Find Birth Control

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1986 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: I am 15 and have been going with this guy I'll call Brian for four months. (He's 17.) We are very much in love and need help.

We have been having sex regularly and we never once have used any kind of protection. Thank God I haven't ended up pregnant. I want to ask my mom to put me on the pill, but I'm afraid if I do, she will forbid me to see Brian again, then I'd probably end up running away. Brian keeps telling me to ask my mom to put me on the pill, but I'm scared. I'm scared I'll get pregnant, and I'm scared to ask my mom. What should I do?

SCARED

DEAR SCARED: First, a boy who uses no protection when he's having sex with a girl doesn't "love" her — he's using her. And a girl who would permit it is a child in a woman's body. Sex is for mature people who can handle parenthood should they accidentally have a child. You obviously don't qualify.

The best birth control is self-control, but for me to tell you that you have no business having sex is useless because you already know it, and are not about to stop because I said so. You can either go on as you are and end up pregnant — which you surely will — or you can tell your mom that you are sexually active and want to go on the pill. Or you can go to a family planning clinic on your own and learn to protect yourself from an unwanted pregnancy or the possibility of a venereal disease. I do not approve of sex for children your age, but if you choose to continue, then you must protect yourself.

DEAR ABBY: In a recent column, "Wide Awake" wrote to say that her husband had been talking in his sleep about a "Jean" and a "Marion," but when she asked him who Jean and Marion were, he claimed that he didn't know any women by those names.

Abby, both you and "Wide Awake" must have been sound asleep. Her husband could have been referring to men named "Gene" and "Marion." I personally know three male Marions and innumerable men called "Gene," which is short for "Eugene." And if you think about it, you probably do, too. So don't judge the husband guilty until the facts are known.

ROLLAND G. JONES
FROM SOUTH DAKOTA

DEAR MR. JONES: You're right. I shot from the hip. I know several Eugenes who are called "Gene," but only one male Marion comes to mind. He was born in Iowa in 1907 and was christened Marion Michael Morrison. He earned a football scholarship at the University of Southern California and played under the name of Marion Morrison from 1925 to 1927. But Marion had dreams of being an actor, so he changed his name from Marion to one he thought would be better suited to his macho image. His dreams came true and he made it big in films. Score: Marion Morrison, 0; John Wayne, 10.

DEAR ABBY: After reading the letter in your column from "Skinny Minnie," it made me realize how many other people have my problem. I've been underweight all my life, but it never bothered me until people started sticking their 2 cents in. I've even been asked if I'm anorexic, which I am not. I've tried everything I know of to gain weight. I've even gone to doctors. Nothing has helped. Like "Skinny Minnie," I've learned to live with my problem, but how I wish people would leave me alone. Maybe if you print this it would let folks know that it's just as cruel to say, "Gee, you're thin," as it is to say, "Gee, you're fat!"

BALTIMORE TOOTHPICK

DEAR TOOTHPICK: Well-mannered people never make personal comments. And that goes for the following: "Gee, you're tall." "Gee, you're short." "Is that your own hair, or are you wearing a wig?" "Are you wearing false eyelashes?" "Are those fingernails real?" "Are those your teeth?" "Have you had a nose job?" And the list goes on.

Jayton plans full slate of homecoming activities

JAYTON–Jayton's Ex-Student Homecoming is slated Thursday through Saturday. Events will kick off with a snake dance beginning downtown at 8 p.m. and continuing to the bonfire behind the high school.

At 7:30 p.m. Friday Jayton will take on Blackwell in the homecoming tilt.

A dance at the Old Guard Gym from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. will follow the game Friday. Jody Nix and the West Texas cowboys will play. Tickets are $5 per person.

Registration will take place Saturday at the school cafeteria from 8 a.m. to 9:45 a.m. The 10 a.m. opening ceremony in front of the courthouse will honor all of Kent County's veterans.

A parade downtown will begin at 10:30 a.m. Saturday. Additional registration will continue after the parade until noon.

A catered lunch will be served Saturday in front of the school. A program in the school auditorium will begin at 3:30 p.m.

Another dance will be held from 8 p.m. to midnight on Saturday at the Old Guard Gym. Tickets are $5 per person and Jody Nix and the West Texas Cowboys will play.

Today, there are more blacks in the United States than in any country except Nigeria or Zaire, says National Geographic.

Practicing to deceive

In July the Grand National Team Championship was won in Toronto by Seymon Deutsch, Jim Jacoby, Bob Hamman and Bob Wolff. It was Seymon's first major national championship. Today's deal, taken from a regional tournament in Texas where we were practicing before competing in Canada, shows Seymon earning a significant pickup through a deceptive lead.

Seymon, sitting West, made a one-spade overcall. North's three-club bid was pre-emptive, and East jumped to four spades either to make that contract or to get in the way of whatever South might be wanting to bid. Right or wrong, South concealed his diamond holding and bid five hearts. Everyone passed, and without much ado, Seymon placed the jack of clubs on the table.

Place yourself in declarer's seat and try to be objective. Doesn't that club jack look like a singleton? And what chance would you have to make five hearts if you played dummy's club queen, saw East take the king and give his partner a club ruff, and then had the defenders play a heart at you? On the other hand, if diamonds were 3-3, you could take the club ace, play A-K of diamonds and ruff a diamond, then ruff a spade back to your hand and play A-K-J of hearts to make your contract. And that's what declarer tried to do.

Alas, West ruffed the third diamond, cashed the king of clubs and played a spade. Declarer still had to lose two more tricks, and Seymon Deutsch had taken one more giant step toward winning the exciting championship in Toronto.

LAFF-A-DAY

"I always try to look on the bright side. For instance, if it weren't for air pollution, the sun's rays would probably melt the Arctic icecaps and wash us all out to sea."

DENNIS THE MENACE

Dr. Gott

Peter Gott, M.D.

Parkinson's and tremors

DEAR DR. GOTT — I am a male, 70, don't smoke or drink, and have taken Endoronyl Forte for high blood pressure for 25 years. My hand shakes continually, and it gets worse when I get excited or upset. The neurologist recommends a brain scan and possible surgery. Is this palsy the same as Parkinson's Disease?

DEAR READER — Probably not. Palsies (shaking) and intention tremors are fairly common in older patients. Parkinson's Disease ordinarily produces a tremor at rest; the shaking improves during purposeful movements. I agree with your neurologist that there should be further investigation to discover a treatable cause for your tremor.

DEAR DR GOTT — Do doctors take cases more readily when the patient pays up front, rather than when the insurance company pays for it directly? Most doctors I want to see about my knee ask for an up-front fee.

DEAR READER — Your experience is unfortunate. Good doctors should know better and behave themselves. The "up-front" fee may be popular in some professions, but, in my opinion, it has no place in the doctor's office unless it is voluntary and will not affect the level of care a patient receives. Doctors have a right to be paid for their services, but I believe that prepayment is yet another signal of medical avarice. Healers who take cases more readily when the patient pays up front should be reported to their medical societies.

Since you also raise the topic of insurance, I'm sending you a free copy of my new Health Report, INSURING YOUR GOOD HEALTH, which explains the basics of medical insurance and tells how to be sure that your coverage meets your needs. Others who would like a copy should send $1 and their name and address to P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101-3428. Be sure to mention the title.

DEAR DR. GOTT — I am a man, 46, and I have hot flashes all the time. Part of my intestines and half of my bladder were removed 10 years ago, and I had a kidney stone last year. Would this have anything to do with the hot flashes?

DEAR READER — The answer depends on the reason you required extensive surgery. If the operation 10 years ago was performed for a serious infection or tumor, your doctor will want to see if the original condition has recurred. In my experience, the type of surgery you had does not, by itself, lead to hot flashes.

You might have a circulatory imbalance. For the sake of thoroughness, I should mention that during "male menopause," men can experience hot flashes. The hormone deficiency that men develop as they age can produce hot flashes and mood swings that resemble the symptoms of menopausal women. If you are troubled by mood swings and sexual difficulties, menopause may have to be considered.

Finally, various types of medicines can cause hot flashes. This is another possibility to explore with your doctor.

Your Birthday

Oct. 1, 1986

It's to your advantage in the year ahead to set several lofty goals for yourself. Each will be reachable, provided you are prepared to put out the proper effort.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) You must be able to distinguish today between sensible optimism and just plain wishful thinking. If you're dominated by the latter, disappointment is likely. Get a jump on life by understanding the influences that will govern you in the year ahead. Send for your Astro-Graph predictions today. Mail $1 to Astro-Graph, c/o this newspaper, PO Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101-3428. Be sure to state your zodiac sign.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) It's best today and tomorrow that you keep your friends out of your material affairs. Their good intentions could cause you complications that are easily avoided.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) An important objective won't be achieved today if you attempt to attain it in a half-hearted fashion. In order to succeed, you must go all-out.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Proceed cautiously with your present plans. There is a possibility that some obstacles exist of which you are unaware, and they could impede your progress.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) A proposal might be offered to you today that looks very enticing on the surface. Be sure to check it carefully, because there may be undesirable strings attached.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Self-confidence is essential today if you hope to further an ambitious interest. You're the one who holds the aces, not the other guy.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Do not be lax or indifferent about your responsibilities today. If you let important situations drift, you could end up in a bind.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Be careful today in your group involvements that you don't put yourself in a minority position where you are opposing an aggressive majority.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) If you have a family problem today, draw the line so that outsiders cannot intrude. Input from in-laws or friends could make things worse.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Your attention span might not be up to par today, so you'll need discipline to focus on the tasks at hand. Think only of what you're doing.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Your usual competence in financial matters could be absent today. Don't do anything foolish that could hurt others, as well as yourself.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) If you are too indecisive today, persons with whom you'll be involved may lose faith in you and withdraw their offer to have you as part of their team.

Daniloff's release...

If not a deal what was it?

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Reagan had said there wouldn't be a deal for the release of Nicholas Daniloff. Well, as William Shakespeare once said, "What's in a name? That which we call a rose, by any other name would smell as sweet."

The administration was so concerned that the release of Daniloff not be portrayed as a cave-in to the Soviets that it delayed disclosing the disposition of accused Soviet spy Gennadiy Zakharov, who certainly was part of a deal.

"I have something of a news announcement I would like to make," Reagan said Monday during an appearance in Kansas City, Mo. "In case you haven't heard it already, at 12 o'clock, 12 o'clock central time, a Lufthansa airliner left Moscow bound for Frankfurt, West Germany, and on board are Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Daniloff."

"We didn't give in. ... They blinked," Reagan said when asked.

He said nothing about Zakharov. He said that information would be disclosed today.

But in New York, an informed source at the United Nations said Zakharov also would be freed as part of an exchange. Secretary of State George Shultz scheduled a news conference on the subject today. And Eduard Shevardnadze, the Soviet foreign minister, was expected to give his version of the arrangement at a briefing in New York.

The strategy is an old one. Let the president annnounce the good news, that Daniloff is free, and let someone else address the bad news, that the Soviets were the clear winners in this one — an embarrassment for an administration that came to office declaring it would "stand tall" against the Soviets.

It also appeared the administration wanted to capture the headlines and evening television news programs with one day of good news before it let the other shoe drop.

There also is concern that the Soviets established a precedent that if the United States again tries to hold a Soviet citizen on spying charges, the Kremlin could again retaliate by grabbing and holding an American on trumped-up charges until it got its man back.

And the same administration refuses to negotiate for the release of five American hostages in Lebanon, including another reporter, Terry Anderson of The Associated Press. Most of these hostages have been held longer than the 444 days that 52 American hostages were held in Iran during the Carter administration.

Robbery attempted in Vatican City

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Three armed men burst into the Vatican's payroll office just behind St. Peter's Basilica on the monthly payday today, but fled after an employee sounded an alarm, officials reported.

It was the first armed robbery attempt ever in Vatican City, police said.

Police sent up helicopters and blocked off nearby streets, but the three armed men vanished into rush-hour crowds.

Vatican spokesman Joaquin Navarro told reporters that the would-be robbers entered the 106-acre city-state in a car shortly before 8 a.m., probably using fake identification papers.

They parked outside the cashier's office in the Vatican's central administrative building, located in the gardens behind the massive basilica and about 500 yards from the residence of Pope John Paul II.

As the armed men threatened the employees, a cashier told the trio that the person who had the key to the safe was not expected until after 8 a.m.

Another clerk then pushed an alarm bell connected with the Vatican security office, Navarro said.

As security agents rushed to the five-story building, the gunmen got into their car and drove to the eastern edge of the Vatican, where they abandoned the vehicle. They then scaled a stone wall and fled toward the busy Via Aurelia.

The administrative building, known as Governatorato, houses various offices of the Vatican's city government, headed by American Archbishop Paul C. Marcinkus.

In addition to the cashier's office, the building also contains a post office branch selling Vatican stamps.

Report indicates POWs presense

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new Pentagon report contains no new hard evidence, but nevertheless concludes that the possibility is strong that American servicemen are being held against their will in Southeast Asia, administration sources say.

The report, prepared by a task force under retired Lt. Gen. Eugene F. Tighe, former director of the Defense Intelligence Agency, does not establish "beyond all doubt" that Vietnam War-era POWs remain behind, the sources said Monday.

It also concludes that no evidence substantiates charges the Reagan administration has purposely covered up evidence of live prisoners, the officials added.

Nonetheless, the task force concluded the preponderance of the available intelligence information supports a conclusion that American POWs are still alive and held against their will, the sources said.

Heavy odds face Reagan's attempt to block sanctions

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Reagan, rebuffed by the House over his South Africa policies, now must battle heavy odds to convince the Senate to sustain his veto of punitive economic sanctions against Pretoria's white minority government.

Reagan's last-minute offer Monday to impose new but limited sanctions by executive order did not sway votes in the House, which voted 313-83 to override the Reagan veto. The tally was only marginally different from the 308-77 vote by which the House passed the sanctions bill on Sept. 12.

Senate Majority Leader Bob Dole, R-Kan., said it will be "very difficult" for Reagan to prevail in the Senate, which approved sanctions, 84-14, on Aug. 15.

The Senate is expected to vote on whether to sustain or overide the veto on Wednesday. It takes a two-thirds vote of members present to override a veto.

Reagan picked up only six votes from the last House roll call on sanctions. A total of 81 Democrats joined 232 Democrats in voting to override the veto. Only four Democrats and 79 Republicans voted to sustain it.

In his letter to House and Senate leaders, Reagan urged Congress to unite with him in a common stand against South Africa's apartheid system of racial separation and discrimination.

Reagan said he would impose by executive order a ban on new U.S. investments to all South African companies except those owned by blacks, ban the import of South African iron and steel, ban U.S. bank accounts for the South African government or its agencies, review ways to reduce U.S. dependence on strategic minerals from South Africa and provide $25 million in U.S. aid to disadvantaged South Africans.

The number of new households formed annually will top 1.5 million through 1990, according to Better Homes and Gardens.

Blyleven wins but shelled for new home run record

by The Associated Press

Bert Blyleven has never enjoyed pitching in the Minneapolis Metrodome... and now he has even more reason to dislike it.

"I don't like this ballpark; I'm a fastball pitcher and the ball carries here," the Minnesota right-hander said after Monday night's 6-5 victory over Cleveland, in which he established a major league record for home runs allowed in a season.

Blyleven served up three gopher balls to bring his season's total to 49, three more than the mark set by Robin Roberts of the Philadelphia Phillies in 1956.

"I just hope I end up where Robin Roberts did," said Blyleven, referring to Roberts' place in baseball's Hall of Fame.

In other AL action, it was New York 8, Toronto 1; Boston 7, Baltimore 5; Texas 3, Oakland 0, and Kansas City 2, California 1. The Seattle-Chicago game was rained out.

Ironically, the player who hit the record-breaking homer off Blyleven was a rookie who had been involved in a trade for the pitcher last year. Not only that, Jay Bell did it on the first pitch he saw in the major leagues, a two-out offering in the third inning.

Blyleven also gave up a homer to Joe Carter in the fourth and one to Brett Butler in the eighth.

Rangers 3, A's 0

Edwin Correa and Jeff Russell combined on a four-hitter and Pete Incaviglia hit a two-run homer in the first inning, his 29th, as Texas beat Oakland.

Correa, 12-13, went six innings and allowed one hit, a two-out single by Rusty Tillman in the second. The rookie right-hander ran his consecutive scoreless inning streak to 23 2-3 before leaving the game complaining of stiffness above the right elbow.

Russell came on at the start of the seventh and earned his second save.

Correa walked three and struck out eight. He also uncorked a wild pitch, giving the Ranger staff 91 for the season, a major league record. The Houston Astros set the old record of 90 in 1970.

Yankees 8, Blue Jays 1

Dennis Rasmussen pitched a six-hitter and Ron Kittle hit his 21st home run of the year, leading New York over Toronto. The Yankees moved into second place in the American League East, a half-game ahead of Toronto.

Lady Tigers try Lake View

SAN ANGELO – Snyder's Lady Tigers, trying to rebound from a slump that has them losing three out of their last four district matches, take on Lake View in 2-4A volleyball action here tonight.

The double-header tips off with a junior varsity match at 6:30 p.m. Varsity teams play at 7:30 p.m.

The situation won't be easy for the struggling Tigers, who have been beset with illness and have one of their top front-line players, Melody Pickering, out with a sprained ankle. Lake View boasts perhaps the best team in its short volleyball history.

Snyder must also return home and play another tough squad - Fort Stockton - this weekend.

"Lake View has a real tough team. They've surprised a lot of people in how tough they are," said Snyder Coach Vicki Nelms. "We know be it will be very, very tough for us to win but our kids haven't given up. We're still out to prove that we're capable of being up there with the best in the district."

To help replace Pickering, who was one of the taller players on the team, Coach Nelms will rotate the group around to where Donna Clay will start on the front row and Shondra Robinson will be the first Tiger server.

"We'll have several kids coming in and playing for her," said coach Nelms. "We have Julie Williams and Paula Caldwell and they both did a good job last weekend."

Snyder is 3-4 in district play and 13-10 for the season.

After sluggish start...

Cowboys roll past St. Louis

ST. LOUIS (AP) - Thanks, in part, to the problems of a struggling opponent, the Dallas Cowboys remain close to the pace they'd like to maintain.

"I think we're on the verge of exploding offensively," quarterback Danny White said after exploiting the St. Louis Cardinals' defense with three touchdown passes in a 31-7 triumph Monday night.

"We haven't come close to fulfilling our potential. It was a closer game than it seems," White said. "Our defense made some big plays. So far, we have done the things it takes to win.'

The Cowboys, who led 10-0 at halftime, saw their lead cut to three points when St. Louis took the second-half kickoff and drove for its only touchdown. They responded by burying the Cardinals.

Gordon Banks' 56-yard kickoff return gave the Cowboys good field position at the St. Louis 42. White followed with a touchdown pass of 13 yards to Tony Hill and found Herschel Walker with an 8-yard scoring pass 8½ minutes later that broke the Cardinals' backs.

"We're not making any plays," said disappointed St. Louis Coach Gene Stallings, the ex-Dallas assistant who after four games is still seeking his first NFL victory.

"We had chances early, but we just couldn't score. Somewhere along the line, we have to to make the plays," Stallings said. "We dropped screen passes and short hitch plays. We've got to make those."

Next to Banks' electrifying kickoff return, the play that hurt the Cardinals the most occurred just before halftime.

St. Louis quarterback Neil Lomax scooped a shovel pass to Earl Ferrell on third-and-6 from the Cowboys' 8. Ferrell lateraled back, and Lomax' pass was picked off in the end zone by Dallas rookie Johnny Holloway.

Lomax, who later threw three more interceptions, admitted embarrassment over the play - which was illegal anyway - that left the Cards trailing 10-0.

"It was just a bad reaction. We really should have come away with three points (on a field goal)," Lomax said. "It was stupid on my part. It had a big effect on the game."

Nonetheless, St. Louis breathed fire and brimstone briefly after rookie Vai Sikahema returned Dallas' kickoff 20 yards to open the third quarter.

A roughing penalty against the Cowboys helped launch a 76-yard touchdown march requiring seven plays. Ferrell ripped off a 21-yard gain to the Cowboys' 46, and Lomax found J.T. Smith for 17 yards to set up Anderson's 10-yard scoring jaunt up the middle.

WTC in 2nd at Del Lago

CONROE – Western Texas College was two strokes behind leader Paris Junior College after 18 holes of the Del Lago Intercollegiate Golf Tournament, being held here.

The rain-hampered tournament was to continue with 18 holes today.

Paris shot a 300 while Western carded a 302. In third place was Jacksonville with a 303, followed by Lon Morris with a 309. Eight junior college schools make up the field. Southwest Texas State University leads a senior college division with a score of 294.

Western's Clint Adams is tied for medalist honors with Mike Hibeison of Grayson. Both turned in par-71s.

Other WTC players are Matt Smith, a 74; Joel Fults, a 78; Mike Harrison, a 79; and Todd Neal, who was disqualified for an incorrect scorecard. Neal will be eligible for today's round, however.

UIL proposal gets nod from Senate committee

AUSTIN (AP) - In an effort to remove local pressure from cases against the University Interscholastic League, a Senate committee has approved a bill to require all such suits to be filed in Travis County.

Rep. Richard Smith, R-Bryan, told the Senate Education Committee on Monday, said conflicting restraining orders by various state judges on questions of high school athletes' eligibility and other matters have "thrown the thing out of kilter."

"The present system really is impacting adversely on the kids of the state ... they are the ones that are paying the price in the confusion, delays, conflict ...," he said.

No witness appeared against the bill, which was approved 6-1 by the education committee. Sen. Hector Uribe, D-Brownsville, voted against it.

The bill was approved by the House on Saturday.

This year conflicting rulings by judges in three cities held up the Class 4A baseball playoffs for a week, and the issue finally had to be settled by the Texas Supreme Court.

Simmons booted, at least for now

AUSTIN (AP) - University of Texas running back Edwin Simmons was booted off the team indefinitely after police arrested him standing nude in someone's back yard.

Police said at the time of Simmons' arrest Saturday, in which he was not charged, he told officers he didn't know who he was or where he was. He said he had been smoking marijuana, according to a police report.

UT coach Fred Akers said Monday he was suspending Simmons from the team for disciplinary reasons, but he declined to elaborate.

Akers didn't specify the length of the suspension, saying the running back would play when he wanted him to.

Americans buckle up, diet for health

WASHINGTON (AP) — Americans are dieting and buckling their seat belts in an effort to improve their health and safety, but nearly one-third of adults still smoke and less than half exercise regularly.

That's the word from the National Center for Health Statistics, which surveyed 36,399 households last year in an effort to learn what Americans know about their health and what they are doing to improve it.

A sharp increase in using seat belts was the major new finding, according to the study made public Monday.

"There is evidence that seat belt use is increasing rapidly," the Center said, with the share of adults wearing seat belts most of the time increasing from 30 percent in the first three months of 1985 to 41 percent for the last three months.

"This no doubt reflects the impact of seat belt legislation in many states during 1985," said the report, measuring the behavior and knowledge of people aged 18 and older.

The study also found many Americans making an effort to lose weight, but less than half are exercising regularly and large numbers continue to smoke cigarettes despite wide knowledge of the danger involved.

According to the report, 55 percent of men and 42 percent of women consider their weight to be "just about right."

"However, one-quarter of men and almost one-half of all women were trying to lose weight, primarily by eating fewer calories, or increasing physical activity," the report said.

That concern, though, didn't mean they were all turning to exercise.

Despite the widespread publicity for running, exercise spas and other physical activities in recent years, the study found that "less than one-half (40 percent) of the adult population exercises on a regular basis, and only one-quarter have done so for five years or more."

While cigarette smoking has been on the decline for more than 20 years, 32 percent of men and 28 percent of women still smoke, the report said.

Stress also emerged as a problem, as "one-half of adults reported experiencing at least a moderate amount of stress during the two weeks preceding the interview, with the lowest percent for the elderly (28 percent).

Nearly three-quarters (74 percent) of adults have had their blood pressure checked by a medical professional in the past year, with women more likely than men and the elderly more often that those younger.

Other findings of the report include:

—About 55 percent of adults eat breakfast daily, 66 percent sleep between seven and eight hours at night and 78 percent have a health care provider.

—Most women (87 percent) know how to examine their breasts for lumps, but only one-third do so more than six times a year. Half have had such an exam by a professional during the past year and 46 percent had a pap smear test.

—About 40 percent of homes do not have a working smoke detector.

—Ten percent of adults admitted to driving at least once in the last year after drinking.

Items stolen from vehicles

Police are investigating four reported thefts from motor vehicles, all reported Monday.

Mrs. Harold Miller of 5505 Cedar Creek Dr. filed the first of those reports at 9:10 a.m.

She told police her daughter Ashley's purse had been stolen from a friend's car sometime between 10:30 and 10:45 p.m. Saturday.

The theft is thought to have happend while the car was parked outside the Miller residence.

Danny Chaney of 3502 44th St. filed the second theft report Monday morning.

He told police that the stereo speakers from his son's 1968 Ford had been stolen.

That theft is thought to have occurred while the car was parked at their residence between 10 p.m. Sunday and 8 a.m. Monday.

Filing the day's third theft complaint was Elfie Mahurin of 2111 O'Neil Ave.

She reported the theft of two fishing poles, a tackle box, some cassette tapes and checks from her 1983 Cadillac.

Cliff Franklin of 2301 Moncrief Ave. filed Monday's last theft from a vehicle report at 5:41 p.m.

He told police that his wife's purse had been taken from their 1984 Chevrolet while the vehicle was parked at Snyder High School Sunday evening.

In other action Monday, police jailed three adults on misdemeanor charges and took two juveniles into custody for shoplifting after they were caught by employees at Safeway.

Both juveniles were later released to the custody of their mother.

Two of the adult suspects were charged with driving while intoxicated and one with public intoxication.

Mild winter ahead?

DUBLIN, N.H. (AP) — The winter of 1987 should be mild for most of the nation, says this year's Old Farmer's Almanac, which also warns people who break a mirror on Friday the 13th to burn their socks with holes in them.

The 195th edition of the nation's oldest continuously published periodical goes on sale this week with a familiar blend of nostalgia, stories, brain-teasers, tidal charts and planting tables, recipes, astrological tables, ads, folklore and, of course, weather forecasts.

One ad promotes an electric card shuffler ("Be The First With The Latest!" $9.95 gift-boxed) while the classifieds offer National Geographic magazines from 1888 and directions on how to make $1,200 a month raising earthworms.

The almanac advises triskaidekaphobics (people who fear the number 13) unlucky enough to break a mirror on Friday the 13th to burn all their socks with holes in them on the highest building or hill available.

There will be three Friday the 13ths in 1987, says the almanac.

The almanac, expected to sell about 4 million copies, also lists 28 "Food Capitals Of The U.S.A.," such as Methuen, Mass., for yogurt; Utica, Ill., for burgoo stew; Gilroy, Calif., garlic; and Salley, S.C., for chitlins.

Abe Weatherwise, the almanac's fictional forecaster, has been predicting weather with a claimed 80 percent accuracy since 1792.

He promises skiers a Thanksgiving Day snowstorm in New England, and winter colder than usual along the Atlantic seaboard, in southern Florida, central Texas, the Southwest and West; elsewhere, it will be warmer.

Bible class slated

Free Spanish Bible classes will be offered this and every Tuesday night at Western Texas College. The class will be from 7 until 9 p.m. in Room 2C-104 on campus.

Assault noted

Police say they have identified a 16-year-old male suspect in an alleged case of sexual assault on a 13-year-old juvenile girl.

No arrest was noted in the case and officers say they will forward the information to juvenile authorites.

The incident is thought to have occurred approximately two weeks ago at a residence in northeast Snyder.

Just Say No reps present program

Two representatives of the Just Say No program founded earlier this summer by Nancy Reagan were to present a program at the Snyder High School auditorium, from 2:05 p.m. to 2:30 p.m.

They are Spencer Jones of Ruskin Cave, Tenn. and Gary Baker of Dickson, Tenn.

Just Say No is a program for children 7-14 years of age and is designed to teach them to say "no" to both drugs and alcohol.

Radiologist gives ACS program

The Scurry Unit of the American Cancer Society met Sept. 15 at the Cogdell Memorial Hospital Board Room.

Dr. Burke Williams, radiologist, gave a report on the slide-talk program on mammography he has put together for the club. The mammography suite should be operational by January 1, 1987.

The American Cancer Society provided hand-outs for the hospital Ladies Auxiliary for the Scurry County Fair.

Next meeting of the ACS is at 5 p.m. Oct. 20.

American Cancer Society presents yearly awards

Several awards were presented last Friday during the Scurry County Unit of the American Cancer Society's end-of-the-year awards dinner. Dr. Harold Miller, president of the Scurry County Unit, presented Helen Hatter the Sword of Hope Award for being named Outstanding Volunteer of the Year.

Hubert Cargile presented Dr. Miller a plaque of appreciation for serving as president of the Scurry Unit during the past year.

Kathy Minemier and Jackie Sloan received certificates of appreciation for the residential crusade and Leon Autry and Wayne Monroney received similiar certificates for organizing the Sword of Hope Golf tournament.

The following support people and media representatives received certificates of appreciation: Dr. John Best, Dr. Michael Dunham, Jo Shaw, Martha Schiebel, June Bellamy, Lynn Sterling, Dennis Tomlin and Ken Coffey.

Others were West Texas State Bank, Western Texas College, Dr. James Tully, Zan Harris, Britt Canada, SCAT-Mel Z. Gilbert, KSNY-Bob Clifton, SDN-Roy McQueen, and Donny Brown.

The following people will serve as officers for the coming year: Dr. Miller will continue as president; Mrs. Barbara Bigham, vice-president; Mrs. Leona Wiggins, secretary; and H. W. Cargile, treasurer.

Vehicle hits motel's sign

A portable sign at the Travel Inn motel was struck here Monday in the only minor traffic accident reported in Snyder.

Involved in the 11:50 p.m. mishap in the 1000 Block of 25th St. was a 1975 Mercury driven by Orlando Balbuena Aviles of 701 31st St.

Hostage standstill frustrates sister

BATAVIA, N.Y. (AP) — The Reagan administration should be as aggressive in seeking the release of the Americans held in Lebanon as it was in pressing the case of Nicholas Daniloff with Moscow, the sister of one of the hostages says.

"Of course I'm pleased Mr. Daniloff is coming home, both for him and his family," said Peggy Say, whose brother, Terry A. Anderson, was abducted in Beirut 18 months ago.

"I think that although (Daniloff's) capture was certainly unfortunate, he was fortunate that he was detained by a country which provided an opportunity for the Reagan administration to further their political interests in making an issue of his case. ...

"I'm absolutely convinced that had the same kind of effort been made in this case as in the Daniloff case and every other hostage case, these men would have been home long ago," Mrs. Say said from her Batavia home Monday night. "I think we all have to ask now why that same kind of effort hasn't taken place for Terry Anderson and the other hostages in Lebanon."

3 women hacked to death

LANCASTER, Texas (AP) — Two transients used a hatchet and a steak knife to hack a woman, her blind aunt and another woman to death after being allowed to stay in her secluded frame home, police believe.

The three women — one of whom was found Monday sprawled in the grass outside the home in this Dallas suburb — had been dead for at least 24 hours after what Police Chief John Whitehead called a "crime of passion or rage."

"It's a brutal murder, as brutal a murder as has occurred anywhere," he said, adding that police are searching for two transients mentioned in one of the last entries in Donna Jester's diary.

Ms. Jester, 37, who lived in the neighborhood 15 years, had a history of generosity toward stray animals and stray people.

Neighbors said she sometimes took transients into the tree-shaded home she shared with her 64-year-old invalid aunt, whom police did not identify.

The third slaying victim, a 20-year-old woman known so far only as "Laura," was a hitchhiker Ms. Jester had befriended earlier in the summer, the diary indicates.

"This kind of thing just doesn't happen here. We have the lowest crime rate in Dallas County," Lancaster Mayor Walter Arnold said. "It really appears not to be a burglary. The killer appears to be someone. who knew those women."

Police said they found a steak knife and hatchet believed used in the killings, and Whitehead said a nationwide bulletin was issued for a maroon Ford station wagon taken from the house after the slayings.

Whitehead speculated "a fight or a fuss broke out, and he killed one of them and then he killed all of them to have no witnesses. I don't believe it was the kind of crime where people have to worry about somebody breaking in."

The women could have been killed as early as 1 p.m. Saturday in the house surrounded by a vacant lot and set inside a stand of trees and high weeds, Whitehead said.

Rae Nelson, manager of a Duncanville answering service where Ms. Jester had worked since midsummer, found the bodies at about 9 a.m. Monday when trying to find out why her employee had not showed up at work.

Ms. Nelson said she she saw what looked like a body and summoned a city employee to take a closer look.

The body of "Laura" was found in the yard by a step near the front porch with "multiple chopping wounds in her head, neck and wrist," said a Dallas County Medical Examiner's field agent who declined to give his name.

The other two women were in one bedroom of the two-bedroom house — Ms. Jester was found leaning against a wall near the bed where her aunt lay.

House approves cash flow bills

AUSTIN (AP) — The House has voted to delay payments into state retirement funds, but the measure failed to get the two-thirds vote needed to put it into immediate effect.

The bill, which would not affect the issuance of checks to retired teachers and state workers, was approved 83-52 Monday. That means it would go into effect in January if the Senate concurs with minor amendments made by the House.

Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby said it is "critical" that the proposal get a two-thirds vote for it to take effect immediately. "That's something that needs to be resolved in some way," he said Monday.

Also Monday, the House voted to allow the state treasurer to sell "cash management notes" to raise money. That measure also returns to the Senate with amendments.

Both bills are part of the Legislature's plan of attack in dealing with the projected $2.8 billion state budget shortfall.

The House on Saturday approved a $869.2 million temporary tax hike and $582 million in spending cuts. The tax hike, however, does not go into effect until Jan. 1.

In Southeast Asia...

Foreign press faces restraints

SINGAPORE (AP) — The expulsion of two foreign reporters from Malaysia and its three-month ban on the Asian edition of The Wall Street Journal are the latest measures taken by a Southeast Asian nation in an effort to curb the foreign press.

Journal correspondents, John Berthelsen, 48, of Sacramento, Calif., and Raphael Pura, 40, of Greenfield, Calif., were ordered out and the newspaper's publishing permit in Malaysia suspended for three months starting last Friday.

The 10-year-old Asian Wall Street journal is published in Hong Kong and printed there and in Singapore. It circulates about 3,000 copies a day in Malaysia, but was not available for two days before its suspension.

Government officials did not say what stories provoked the crackdown. A statement from the Home Affairs Ministry said Malaysia took a liberal attitude toward newspapers, "however, this attitude must be reciprocated by the papers with a sense of responsibility and accountability."

The journal published articles this week about Prime Minister Mahathir Mohamad's acknowledgment that his country tried to corner the world tin market in 1981 and 1982.

The independent state of Israel was proclaimed in 1948.
