13 Dead In Brazilian Plane Mishap

By TOM MASTERSON
RIO DE JANEIRO (AP)—A Brazilian jetliner with 104 persons aboard skidded off the runway on takeoff Monday night, plowed through a thick concrete seawall and dived in flames into Guanabara Bay. Most of the passengers were rescued or scrambled to safety.

Officials said at least 13 persons were killed and 21 hospitalized with shock, burns and other injuries in Brazil's fourth major air disaster in 10 months.

The big DC-8 stayed afloat for 15 minutes after hitting the water and then sank to the muddy bottom in 15 feet of water.

"Some bodies may still be in the plane," a fire department official said.

Officials said 11 passengers were missing but some were known to have survived and left the airport without notifying anyone.

The Panair do Brasil airliner carrying 93 passengers and crew of 11 stopped over here on a flight from Buenos Aires, Argentina, to Lisbon, Portugal.

A stewardess, Fernanda Fortunata, was the only crewmember reported killed.

It was not determined immediately whether any Americans were aboard.

The plane was taking off from Galeao Airport on Governor's Island near Rio when it went out of control.

An airline official said the pilot, Renato Cesar, reported that when he tried to lift the DC-8 off the runway, it failed to respond normally.

The aircraft's radio operator, Omar Antonio Ferreira, said one engine began shaking as the plane

Churchill Is Back Home

LONDON (AP)—Sir Winston Churchill went home from the hospital today to the cheers of his countrymen.

The old warrior waved a big cigar to the throng outside Middlesex Hospital where he had spent 54 days recovering from a broken hip.

He broke his hip in a fall in his hotel at Monte Carlo June 28 and was flown back to London the next day.

Sir Winston was brought out of the hospital in a carrying chair.

Sitting up, he was smoking the cigar. He was placed in an ambulance which took him to his home in Hyde Park Gate in London's Kensington district.

A large crowd waited for him there too.

Both when he left the hospital and 15 minutes later when he reached Hyde Park Gate, a big cheer went up. Some perhaps were a bit disappointed that Britain's wartime prime minister did not flash his famous V-for-victory sign.

Tshombe Given Week To Accept Program

By A. I. GOLDBERG
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Acting Secretary-General U Thant has given Katanga President Moise Tshombe a week to 10 days to accept a new U.N. program to unify the Congo peacefully.

Tshombe rejects the overture. Thant announced Monday night, he will ask all U.N. members to join the economic screws on Katanga and quit buying Katangan copper and cobalt. There is considerable doubt that Belgium and Britain, two of Katanga's chief customers, would comply.

Thant's program calls for adoption of a federal constitution to be drafted in the next 30 days, agreement to share the royalties from Katanga's rich mines with the impoverished central government, currency unification, and integration of Katanga forces into the Congolese army in 90 days.

Thant called for member gov-

Pressure Is Applied To Ease Tension

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk put on pressure for measures to ease Berlin wall tensions in a hastily called conference with Soviet Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin today.

Aides said Rusk, taking a serious view of last Friday's Red killing of an East German youth at the wall, again urged a meeting of Big Four representatives on ways to lessen bloody frictions.

The State Department came from Rusk, who called Dobrynin on short notice.

The Soviets have turned down the four-power talk proposal previously.

It was also stated that the United States would be agreeable to the stationing of ambulances at entry points to East Berlin which could be used to aid refugees shot on the Communist side of the wall.

However it will be up to the Western commandants on the spot in conjunction with West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt, to decide exactly what course should be followed, it was stated.

U.S. officials blamed the Russians for, summarily rejecting renewed Western proposals for four-power discussion of the Berlin wall problem.

They acknowledged that the West has rejected Russian complaints about the stonings. But they said the mortal wounding of the East German youth was a far more serious matter than rocks hurled at a bus carrying Soviet soldiers.

2-Year-Old Found Safe

HOUSTON (AP)—Blonde, blue-eyed Susan DiAnne Crawford, 2, was found alone and apparently sound today after spending 12 hours overnight in the woods of Memorial Park.

A big man in khakis emerged from the woods near the 16th golf green at 8:30 a.m., carrying Susan.

He handed the child over to the first officer to reach them and said:

"I just stopped by on my way to work. I have kids of my own, and I know what it means to be a father, to lose one of these."

"What's your name?" a policeman asked.

"Name's Dough Marshall," the man replied. "I'm a carpenter. But I've got to get to work or my boss will fire me."

Susan's father, Charles P. Crawford, rushed up from the all-night search, red-eyed and embraced the child, tears streaming down his face.

"I just knew they would find her in one of these ponds," he sobbed. "This is great, this is great."

The little girl toddled into a wooded area and became lost after her parents had taken her and her 3-year-old brother to the park to play.

Blank Is Drawn In Money Order Check

WASHINGTON (AP)—A check of nearly $100 million orders in the first witness, C. H. Mosley, director of the Dallas commodity office of the Agriculture Department.

Mosley was expected to be asked how management-owned grain was allocated for storage in Estes' grain elevators. Republican sources indicated they would try to pin down their contention that Estes got favored treatment.

Mosley also is likely to be asked for a report on the gradual emptying of government grain from Estes' elevators. This removal was ordered by Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman in the wake of Estes' indictment on fraud charges.

Wayne Cooper, manager of the Estes elevators in West Texas, is to be called to testify Wednesday.

Meanwhile, a Senate probe of Estes continues with John C. Bagwell, general counsel of the Agriculture Department, again on the stand.

A check of the money orders issued in Pecos was requested by the House subcommittee several months ago after testimony was received from James T. Ralph, fired assistant secretary of agriculture, that Estes sent him one or two $100 money orders at Christmas time in 1961.

Ralph's assistant, William Morris, also testified that he received two $100 money orders at the same time from Estes. Morris said he and Ralph agreed it would be improper for them to accept the money. They said they finally decided to purchase $100 tickets to a Democratic fund-raising banquet Jan. 20 in Estes' name with the money orders, and gave the tickets to Estes.

Morris said he recontacted with Estes about such generosity to department officials and that Estes's apologies and said he knew nothing about it. Morris quoted Estes as saying his name must have been put on Estes' "Christmas list" by mistake.

A subcommittee aide said money orders sent by Estes and other members of his family for the past two years were checked, as well as all $100 money orders for a six-week period around last Christmas.

He said the study disclosed no other money orders sent to anyone in Washington.

Says Wall Shows Soviet Culture

WASHINGTON (AP)—AFL-CIO President George Meany said today "academic nitwits" who believe the cause of peace can be advanced by cultural exchanges with the Soviet Union should visit the Berlin wall.

"That's where you see Soviet culture as it really is. Meany—the real thing in all its brutal inhumanity."

Meany spoke to the convention of the AFL-CIO, American Bakery & Confectionery Workers Union, here today. Those who think that cultural exchanges with Russia will help settle the cold war are "living in a fool's paradise."

3-Second Delay Meant 250 Miles

HOUSTON (AP)—A delay of at least three seconds in the firing of the braking rockets on his spacecraft, caused astronaut Malcolm Scott Carpenter to land some 250 miles beyond target in his May 24 flight three times around the world.

That was the report today at a National Aeronautics and Space Administration conference—the first official post-flight conference held at this new base of the manned spaceflight center.

Project Mercury Engineer John Boynton said:

"Astronaut Carpenter reported that when the clock sequence (automatic timer) had counted down to zero, the rockets did not ignite."

The braking rockets slow the spacecraft's 17,500 mile per hour flight permitting its reentry into the earth's atmosphere. The rockets did not ignite because of incorrect information from scanners that seek out the earth's horizon.

The scanners, located around the neck of the Mercury spacecraft, are frequently clouded by the blazing rocket exhaust when the escape tower is jettisoned in the early stages of flight.

The troubled scanners fed incorrect position information to the automatic systems all through the flight.

This information error blocked the automatic firing of the braking rockets.

The pilot waited about two seconds, Boynton reported, then bypassing the automatic system, he pushed the manual reticulator button.

He reported an additional delay of one second or more before the first retrorocket actually ignited.

Boynton said. After the flight the electrical circuits in the spacecraft were carefully investigated and "no reason can be offered for the delay" in the manual rocket firing system.

Boynton's report was the first in a series of seven culminating in Carpenter's own technical report of his flight to nearly 1,000 engineers and space scientists attending the conference.

BOARD SAVANNAH (AP)—Gov. Ernest Vandiver of Georgia was taking a little snow in his cabin when the Savannah world's first nuclear-powered merchant ship, came to an unscheduled halt 40 miles east of the Virginia coast, due to a mishap.

Congressman G. Elliot Hagan, D-Ga., and two other members of the Savannah City Council Monday gathered with their wives were basking in the late afternoon sun on an aft deck when two black and blue and yellow pennant were hastily run up on halcyon masts.

What had happened late Monday was that the 22,000-ton, $43-million Savannah had run into a bit of trouble on her maiden voyage, a trip which may mark the opening of the atomic age of merchant shipping.

Vandiver and eight other Georgians and their wives are on the Savannah's first voyage to a regular commercial port.

The ship left Savannah, Va., Monday morning for a two-day run to Savannah, Ga., which will be her home port. The mission was designed to demonstrate the feasibility of employing nuclear power to propel merchant vessels.

The two black balls meant "We are out of command, we have no power, keep clear of us."

The colored pennant was the international shipping code warning that "We are steering with difficulty."

Ship technicians had been testing a recently modified mechanism for controlling the ship's speed. There was some malfunction in the electronic mechanism and as a result the Savannah's big nuclear reactor, capable of

Red Buses Are Stoned

By CARL HARTMAN
BERLIN (AP)—The Russians tried twice to protest stoning their military buses by West Berliners and were brushed off by Maj. Gen. Albert Watson II, the U.S. commandant in Berlin, a spokesman for the U.S. mission said today.

He said the Soviet deputy commandant, Col. V. Tarasov, called on the mission headquarters Sunday and Monday night to protest the stonings by West Berliners angered by the fatal wounding of an East German refugee by East Berlin border guards.

"On his second call, the Soviet officer was told that Gen. Watson was not available to meet him," the spokesman said.

Soviet buses, taking replacements to guard the Soviet war memorial in West Berlin, have been attacked with rocks by West Berlin youths four times since Aug. 13, the day of the first anniversary of the Red wall dividing Berlin.

Watson today received West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt. They were understood to have discussed the demonstrations on the wall by West Berliners which have grown more violent every day.

West Berlin informants hinted that Watson is angry about the frequent stoning of the Soviet bus and apparent police inability to protect it against youthful rioters.

These sources said Watson is demanding that the West Berlin administration take all necessary precautionary measures to prevent the rock hurling.

The stonings have occurred in the U.S. sector of Berlin for which Watson, as top representative of the occupying power, has ultimate jurisdiction.

Watson will meet the three Western commandants in an attempt to get more Allied support for Berliners along the wall.

Brandt wants a Western pledge of aid for refugees who are wounded on the wall and fall back on the Communist side out of reach of West facilities. That was the East German border guards allowed a young refugee to bleed to death on the East side while West Berlin police and American troops looked on from the West.

The incident touched off four days of anti-Communist—sometimes anti-American—rioting, culminating Monday night in the most violent outbreak in West Berlin since the Communists built the wall through the city a year ago.

An estimated 10,000 West Berliners attacked Soviet vehicles going to and from the Soviet War Memorial in West Berlin and attempted repeatedly to storm the wall along a 1 1/2-mile stretch of the sector border. Hard-pressed West Berlin police fell back before a barrage of rocks and bottles, but reinforced units managed to disperse the last of the rioters with water cannon early today.

At last one Russian soldier and 22 West Berlin policemen and demonstrators were reported injured. Ten rioters were detained briefly. Some of the demonstrators vowed to return tonight stronger than ever, but police were confident they could handle them.

Brandt also would like the Western Allies to take over from West Berlin police the job of patrolling the wall. Fallig this, he may seek permission from the Western commandants for West Berlin po-

Visit In Ireland Launched By Ike

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP)—Dwight D. Eisenhower flew into a throng-packed airport here today to begin a four-day sight-seeing visit.

It was the former President's first visit to the Irish capital and the cheering, applauding crowd gave Ike a tumultuous welcome.

"A tanned and smiling Eisenhower flew here from Scotland with a brief stopover at Belfast, in Northern Ireland.

Before leaving Cuizane Castle, Ireland was so successful he would like to return in a couple of years.

A-Ship Shakes Off Mishap

keeping the ship in operation for 3 1/2 years with a single fueling of uranium, automatically shut down.

Officials of the States Marine Lines, Inc., of New York, operators of the new nuclear merchant ship for the U.S. government, said reporters that while the shutdown caused some temporary inconvenience to the passengers and crew, the incident tended to "prove the safety of the ship's reactor."

They explained that the mishap shows that any malfunction of a related system, however minor, causes a quick shutdown of the nuclear furnace as a safety measure.

A diesel-powered generator automatically cut in when the atomic furnace quit.

The atomic power plant was back in business 1 1/2 hours later,

Union Head Says NEA Is Top Enemy

By FELIX B. WOLD
DETROIT (AP)—President Carl Mezel told the American Federation of Teachers (AFL-CIO) convention today the National Education Association is trying to exterminate the teachers union.

Mezel, keynote speaker at the convention, said in a prepared address: "The NEA does not expect to compete with us. It intends to exterminate us."

The AFT president's speech to approximately 750 delegates to the 46th annual convention contained his promised reply to attacks from the NEA on his union's policies.

He defended teacher unionism and pledged increased organization of the AFT, inviting aid from the AFL-CIO.

The NEA, which claims 900,000 members in the teaching profession, condemned the AFT's one-day strike last spring against the New York City public school system.

In contrast to the 70,000-member AFT, the NEA policy calls for settlement of teacher grievances by negotiation.

At its Denver convention earlier this year, however, the NEA approved a program of sanctions against offending schools or school districts. This would have a black-listing effect.

Mezel said the NEA should be condemned "by every thoughtful teacher in the nation" because of its attitude toward the teachers' federation.

"Instead of mobilizing its energies to resolve our common educational problems, the NEA chooses rather to declare an 'all-out' war against another teachers organization. For this the NEA should stand condemned by every thoughtful teacher in the nation."

Mezel said the issue is "not unionism versus professionalism but unionism versus NEA-ism."

"The fact is," he said, "that only through the forthright and democratic procedure of the union teacher movement can teaching become truly professional and respected."

Mezel, defending the New York strike, said it was undertaken only after exhaustion of "all possibilities of honorable negotiations." He said the AFT prefers to negotiate all disputes.

Wilson Has Conference

TYLER, Tex. (AP)—District attorneys from East Texas and Harris County conferred with Atty. Gen. Will Wilson Monday on prospective court cases resulting from the state's probe of slanted oil wells.

Wilson said the aim was "to acquaint the district attorneys with the scope and kind of evidence available." He said his staff would cooperate fully in the prosecution.

Evidence will be available from the Railroad Commission, Department of Public Safety and the attorney general's office, Wilson said.

District attorneys at the meeting were Ott Duncan of Upshur County, Ralph Prince of Gregg County, William Ferguson of Rusk County and Weldon Holcomb of Smith County.

The House General Investigating Committee has set a hearing in Dallas Aug. 27 to probe into the slant hole drilling.

Hoover To Remain Couple Of Days

NEW YORK (AP)—Former President Herbert Hoover, 88, is in the Harkness Pavilion of Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center for his annual physical checkup.

His office said Hoover, who entered the hospital Monday, is expected to remain two or three days.

A DAILY VIEW From me to you

"And the angel of the Lord spoke to Philip, saying, Arise and go toward the south, unto the way that goeth down from Jerusalem unto Gaza, which is desert. And he arose and went: and behold, a man of Ethiopia, a eunuch of great authority, treasurer of the church there. He was not a Jew or a Hethew, yet Philip preached Jesus unto him and baptized him, and brought him into the church. As long as we refuse to give the love of God through the Gospel to any person simply on the basis of race or nationality, we stand condemned before God—who is no respecter of man made divisions.

MR. AND MRS. W. S. GOODLETT

Golden Wedding Anniversary To Be Celebrated Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. Whitmore S. Goodlett of the Dunn community will be honored on their golden wedding anniversary with a reception at the Dunn community center, August 28th, from 3 to 5 p.m. Friends and neighbors are invited to attend the reception.

Mr. and Mrs. Goodlett were reared in Buckrange community, south of Nashville, Arkansas. Mr. Goodlett worked as a postal clerk on the railroad from 1909 to 1912, which was considered to be a hazardous occupation at that time. His duties carried him into Arkansas, Louisiana, Oklahoma, and Texas. Mrs. Goodlett, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joe Cowling, lived in the Buckrange community until moving to Texas.

Boots Without Saddles

Boots lead the parade of men's footwear this fall, in all versions, for town and business wear as well as country and sports.

The step-in Spanish boot, ankle high, with elasticized side inserts, which became popular with many well-dressed men last winter, is present in a number of variations this year, says Duke Rose, president of Johnston & Murphy Shoe Company. Most important is the modified, lower step-in with elasticized instep, giving the smooth, covered look that is so important with the new, narrow, shorter trousers.

Both the new boots and conventional oxfords feature square toes, this season—a transition between yesterday's pointed toe and the rounded line of tomorrow. The square toe has a trim, tailored look that is most effective in shoes for formal town wear—tapered but squared off at the tip. There is a trend also toward touches of hand-stitching, perforations and grained leathers in many of the new shoes for town wear, with browns as well as blacks increasingly popular.

Most important to men is the new trampoline construction perfected in Johnston & Murphy shoes for street wear this fall. This is a flexible, light-weight construction which gives the foot the springy feeling of treading on a trampoline, thanks to a glove-soft insole and foam rubber shock absorbers. The trampoline construction previously has been available only in slip-ons, but now is available in formal town styles.

There is more news in men's shoes this fall than at any time since the end of World War I, when men first gave high shoes for oxfords, and World War II, which was the birth of the slip-on shoe. Not only boots and trampoline construction are making headlines, but this fall also sees the first big breakthrough in color, with colored patent leather shoes seen in the most fashionable resort lines for men.

NOISE ELIMINATOR

Noise, whether caused by passing traffic, airplanes or the neighborhood youngsters, has taken the pleasure out of many patios. One way to overcome this is to drown out undesirable noises with the sound of cascading water in a decorative pool. To make your pool both attractive and easy to maintain, use a durable and beautiful surfacing material such as ceramic tile. Real tile comes in a wide variety of glazed, unglazed and mosaic patterns and requires no care other than an occasional cleaning with a damp cloth.

Hornets Take Bark For Nests

If you discover that strips of bark as wide as an inch are torn from some of your trees in the early fall, big hornets may be to blame. The hornets take bark from tree trunks and shrubs to make paper-like nests.

Such gnawing could kill branches or shrubs. Lilacs, birch, laurel, boxwood and rhododendron are likely victims.

The hornets chew and make paper from the wood fibers, then build their round nests in trees or on buildings.

Paint susceptible trees with a thick paste of DDT for protection.

Ever cook leeks in boiling salted water just until tender — about 15 minutes? The leeks may be dressed with butter and served hot, or they may be placed in a marinade, then be cooled, chilled and served as a salad.

Opera And Concert Season In Full Swing In Argentina

A six-thousand mile trip to Argentina seems a long way to go to see and hear an opera, a concert or a ballet, even if it is only an overnight jet trip away.

But if you happen to be an inveterate music lover and can't stand to wait for the season to begin next fall, or just happen to be touring South America any time during the next few months, drop into the Teatro Colon in Buenos Aires any evening and you will be richly and pleasantly rewarded.

The South American concert and opera season, which runs from April through November, is in full swing right now, according to Padra, and internationally famous artists and well-known works of celebrated composers are on the repertoire of this magnificent opera house which was modeled after La Scala in Milan.

During August, the Teatro Colon will present Aida, Macbeth and Don Carlos, as well as a concert by the celebrated Philharmonic Orchestra of Buenos Aires under the direction of Andre Vandernoot; soloists Carl Seemann and the exciting young American pianist Byron Janis; a piano duo by Corini-Lorenzi; recitals by Marta Pariente, Maria Tipo and Daniel Polak; the Lagun Oak Chorus; and several outstanding classical and modern ballets.

Different Lobster Salad Platter

- 1 medium cucumber
- 1 small sweet onion
- Olive oil and wine vinegar
- Salt, pepper
- 2 lobsters (1 3/4 to 2 pounds each) boiled and split
- 1/2 bunch watercress
- 2 cups torn romaine
- 1 cup torn chives
- 1/2 pound blue cheese

Mix cucumber and onion with a little oil, vinegar, salt and pepper to taste; cover and chill for a few hours. Remove lobster meat from shells; slice large pieces; arrange all lobster at one end of serving platter. Mix watercress (heavy stems removed), romaine, chives and crumbled blue cheese with oil, vinegar, salt and pepper to taste; mound in center of platter; arrange cucumbers at other end. Makes 4 servings.

AUSTIN (AP)—A petition for a rehearing on the one-year suspension of Burk Burnett High School in football was filed Monday with the executive committee of the Texas Interscholastic League.

The suspension followed an incident at the Burk Burnett-Olney game at Olney last fall that involved Burk Burnett fans and the game officials. The league held Burk Burnett had violated the football code.

Burk Burnett claimed to have new evidence. Its nature was not revealed by the league. No date for a hearing has been set.

Big Bat Of Charley Dees Paces Victory

By The Associated Press
Charley Dees set a record with four home runs in four times at bat Monday night in sparking El Paso to an invincible position in the Texas League race.

His batting zipped the San Antonio Stars to a 11-3 victory over the Amarillo Gold Sox coupled with a double defeat of second place Tulsa by Austin that pushed El Paso 11 1/2 games out front with only 14 to play.

Now El Paso can clinch the pennant with four victories or three losses by Tulsa or a combination of the two.

Austin swept a double-header with Tulsa for a second straight night. The Senators won the first game 11-4 as Paul Snyder batted in five runs with a homer, triple and single and Dick Smith pitched a four-hitter. They took the nightcap 6-1 with great relief pitching by Archie White. In 2 2/3 innings he allowed one harmless single.

Austin solidified its third place position while San Antonio was taking over fourth with a 10-1 triumph over Albuquerque. San Antonio battered 15 hits with Bill Ott clouting two home runs.

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Batting Torres, the seventh ranked junior welterweight, meets Art Hayward of Fort Arthur in a 10-round scrap tonight. Each has lost only three fights.

Late Rally Pays Off

By The Associated Press
Three ninth inning runs pulled Oklahoma City from behind to edge Louisville 5-4 in an American Association game Monday night.

A line drive homer by Bob Boyd that barely cleared the right field wall, scored the last two for the Oklahomans.

In the only other scheduled game, Denver defeated league-leading Indianapolis 6-3. Al Koch threw a number of wild pitches but gave up only three hits in claiming the mound victory.

Texas Team Sound Choice In Oil Bowl

WICHITA FALLS (AP)—Texas and Oklahoma schoolboy football stars clash tonight in the 17th Oil Bowl game with Texas a solid favorite.

Two giant fullbacks—Larry Shields of Wichita Falls and Wayne Bell of Baytown—made Texas a choice to win for the 14th time.

Oklahoma, however, is the defending champion. It won the last game in 1960. There was no interstate game last year because of an NCAA ban on all-star games. The contest now has been approved.

Lackland Is Favored In ATC Tournament

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Lackland Air Force Base will be favored to repeat with the championship Wednesday when the Air Training Command Baseball Tournament opens.

Six other teams are entered—Webb, Connally, Reese and Shepard Air Force Bases of Texas, Lowry of Colorado and Stead of Nevada.

The tournament runs through Sunday.

RUNNELS HURT—Pete Runnels, Boston Red Sox first baseman and American League batting leader, grimaces while lying on ground after collision with Harmon Killebrew, Minnesota Twins, at first base in eighth inning of first game in Twin Cities. 'Slugging Sweep' Highly Unlikely

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

The way the top sluggers in the American League are hitting, whoever casts the golden headpieces for triple crown winners had better try making batting helmets.

There hasn't been a triple crown winner—No. 1 man in homers, runs batted in and batting average—since Mickey Mantle of the New York Yankees in 1956. And, with the AL's most potent swingers averaging one hit every four at-bats, there isn't going to be one this season.

Here's the way the five top sluggers stand:

Harmon Killebrew, Twins, 33 homers, 93 RBI, and .245 average; Norm Cash, Tigers, 32 homers, 66 RBI and .236; Leon Wagner, Angels, 29 homers, 87 RBI and .273; Rocky Colavito, Tigers, 29 homers, 87 RBI and .276; Roger Maris, Yankees, 28 homers, 77 RBI and .257.

Maris led the homer hammerers with 61 last year and was the leader in RBI with 142. Cash won the batting crown with a .361 average. Cash is almost 130-points lower this season and slap-hitter Pete Runnels of Boston holds the batting lead with a .333 average. Killebrew took over the lead in the homer department Monday with a two-run shot in the sixth inning that powered third-place Minnesota to a 6-4 victory over Boston. Maris hit a three-run homer for the American League-leading New York Yankees, who lost to Kansas City 7-3 in the only other game scheduled.

The victory pulled the Twins to within five games of the Yankees and left the leaders four games in front of the second-place Los Angeles Angels, heading into their three-game series opening at Los Angeles tonight.

In the National League, third-place Cincinnati knocked off the first-place Los Angeles Dodgers 7-3 in 10 innings. Milwaukee belted second-place San Francisco, 4-1. Pittsburgh won two from the New York Mets, 2-0 and 6-3, and Philadelphia whipped Houston 7-1 in the first game of a scheduled two-nighter. The second game was rained out. St. Louis and Chicago were not scheduled.

The Twins scored three unearned runs off Red Sox starter Don Schwall (6-14) in the first with Bob Allison stroking a run-producing double and Earl Battey driving in a pair with a single. The Red Sox battled back, finally moving ahead 3-1 in the top of the sixth on Lu Clinton's two-run homer. Then Rich Rollins singled to get the Twins started in the bottom of the sixth and Killebrew wrapped it up. The victory went to Dick Stigman (6-3) who needed Frank Sullivan's relief help over the final two innings.

Maris tagged his three-run homer in the first inning and that was all the Yankees got against Ed Rakow (12-13) and John Wyatt. The A's scored twice in the fourth before breaking it open with a four-run fifth inning explosion against Rollie Sheldon (6-8). Bill Bryan tripled in one run and scored on a double by Bobby Del Greco before Ed Charles applied the crusher with a homer. Del Greco also honored for the A's who took the five-game series 3-2.

Oilers Let Five Go; Pick Up One

HOUSTON (AP)—The Houston Oilers of the American Football league trimmed 1,173 pounds off their stock of players Monday, but they had to cut off still more today.

The Oilers reduced their roster to 47 and had a noon deadline to get it down to 43, the AFL limit.

Houston also added a player. He is Ronnie Osborne, a 6-4, 270-pound rookie from Clemson. The Oilers picked him up from the Baltimore Colts after he was waived by National League teams.

The five players dropped by the club are Joe Bob Smith, offensive end from the University of Houston; John Thomas, 245-pound rookie offensive guard from McMurry; Rodney Guillot, 210-pound rookie linebacker from Louisiana State; Gary Francis, 248-pound defensive tackle from Illinois; and Frank Gardner, 280-pound defensive tackle from North Carolina College.

Coach Frank Ivy has decided star Oiler quarterback George Blanda is ready to go after a thyroid operation and will play him at least half the game Thursday night when Houston meets Buffalo in Mobile, Ala.

The 1962 Chicago boat show attracted 343,000 persons in 10 days.

Horsehair Mattresses May Be Big Issue In '64 Race

By INEZ ROBB

You would think a fella with an aching back could go out and buy himself the mattress of his choice without causing a national dust up, wouldn't you. But not the President of the United States, not John F. Kennedy. He's got the calling-matress manufacturers as hoping mad over his purchase of some horsehair mattresses as the hat manufacturers over his non-purchase of their product.

There is no point in trying to push this matter under the rug. It could be the decisive issue in 1964. In a man regarded as a master politician, this reported purchase of 13 hair mattresses for the White House could indeed be a masterstroke to rally conservative support, now in the opposite corner, both to the man and his back. A little intensive investigation might prove that that shy political manipulator, Bobby, dreamed up this one.

The hair mattress, in its political aspect, is a conservative shibboleth. It is not too much to say that it was a status symbol in the McKinley area and even before. A President who is bold enough to initiate a revival of the hair mattress in the face of stiff interspersing competition may be well on the way to seducing the conservative Congressional alliance of Southern Democrats and hard shell Northern Republicans.

If one is addicted to a hair mattress, a hard shell is a great help. Or at least, that is my opinion. My compulsion to discuss the hair mattress stems from the fact that one was included in my trousseau. It—the hair mattress—was thick, luxurious (or at least, very expensive), hard as granite and heavy as lead.

It was the gift of my darling mother-in-law to her son and myself. As a bride in the McKinley era, her trousseau had included that me plus ultra, a hair mattress, and we—in her opinion—could start housekeeping with nothing less.

By all odds, that mattress was the most expensive item in our modest household. But I don't qualify as a conservative, for I could never learn to love that mattress.

Margaret Observes Her 32nd Birthday

ABBEVLEIX, Ireland (AP)—Princess Margaret celebrated her 32nd birthday today away from the rest of the royal family for the first time in many years. She and her husband, Lord Snowdon, are spending a quiet vacation here with his brother-in-law and sister, the Viscount and Viscountess de Ros.

In the past Margaret has spent her summer holiday — and her birthday — with the rest of the royal family at Balmoral Castle in Scotland.

I was used to a firm mattress, but not to one that fought back! I don't say such a mattress is comparable to a hairshirt, but it will do till the real thing is ready.

For instance, it was impossible for a lone woman to turn that mattress as it had to be every seven days, and not only from east to west but from north to south, east to west. Every Saturday morning, the man of the house girded himself to wrestle with it.

That mattress never took to me, nor I to it. It was impossible to cozy up to it, and I mind all the sales talk about its benefits to posture, spinal support and moral rectitude. As I used to try to make my peace with it night after night, I would recall the fairy story about the princess so delicate that she could detect a pea through 20 mattresses. And I would think that if they had been hair mattresses, the princess or the pea wouldn't have had a chance.

Also, it is not the original cost but the upkeep of a hair mattress that breaks the bank and what it is supposed to cure. Such mattresses must be remade every few years—at the approximate cost of a good inner-spring job—to prevent those sag.

It took 15 years for us to get up the courage to sneak the hair mattress out of the apartment and smuggle a new coil-spring one in its place. We gave the former to two friends who still adore it and may switch from Goldwater to Kennedy as the result of the latter's horsehair plank or pad.

The angry cries of the inner-spring mattress manufacturers make it difficult at the moment to gauge just how foxy is the President's switch to horsehair. But one thing is certain: He hasn't bought himself any bed of roses.

Investments Abroad Lose Some Luster

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The grass isn't looking quite so green on the other side of the fence to many American investors.

The rush of business investment abroad is slackening, the Department of Commerce reports. Opportunities for quick profits have lost some of their luster and political uncertainties have grown in some areas.

But many U.S. corporations have announced increases for capital spending abroad this year and a sizable number have appropriated investments equal to last year. Totals compiled by the Commerce Department, however, show a slowdown in the buildup of overseas subsidiaries and branches.

"The rush of investment money abroad was one of the phenomena of the 1950s. Investments abroad tripled during the decade. Foreign assets of U.S. companies grew at a faster rate than did their domestic ones."

Along with the financing of subsidiaries abroad, there was large purchasing of stock in foreign companies and of foreign bonds. All of this was part of the outflow of dollars that troubled the money managers.

Most troublesome of all perhaps was the periodic flights of short term money into other world capitals. All played a part in the deficit in payments which found its dramatic form in the drain of U.S. gold.

This was far from a one-way street. Foreign direct investments in this country totaled $7 billion in 1960, more than double the 1950 figure. Investments in U.S. firms increased an average rate of $30 million a year.

American investments abroad far outstripped this. It now totals more than $30 billion. The biggest year was 1957 when American companies added $2.8 billion to their investments in foreign subsidiaries and branches. The big lure was the striking industrial growth rate of Western Europe.

In 1960 investments of new money went to $1.7 billion and $1.2 billion of retained earnings also was poured into the expansion move. Last year this had dropped to $1.5 billion of new money plus $1.1 billion of retained profits. The department thinks this slowdown is continuing this year.

It also believes other forms of investment abroad are slowing this year. These include new purchases of foreign stocks and bonds, which rose last year to $1 billion, up from $850 million in 1960; and bank loans and other short term investments, which last year rose to $1.5 billion from $1.3 billion the year before.

The reasons the foreign investments pastures look less green this year, the department says: "Reduced growth rates in Europe, unsettled conditions in Latin America and economic difficulties in Canada."

But the general picture doesn't apply to all corporations by any means. Some with a big foreign plant expansion program underway have announced the spending this year will top last year's outlay. Others have stressed that they plan to spend more overseas if Congress doesn't change present methods of taxing profits on such subsidiaries—that is, taxing them when they are brought back as dividends rather than when they are earned abroad.

Corporate plans have more than tax prospects hanging over them. The slowdown in the European growth rate didn't become apparent until recently. And perhaps this is one area where the Department of Commerce thinks investment trends may be in for a change.

Junior Editors Quiz on SIGHT

QUESTION: Why is my reflection in a spoon upright on only one side?

ANSWER: Hank and Wanda disagree, but actually both are right. A mirror reflects a beam of light back according to the angle the beam takes as it strikes the mirror. As you see with a straight mirror (below) the light rays go in and come right back so you look natural. But Hank is looking into the spoon as it curves in. Follow the dotted lines from the boy's chin in the center diagram. Because of the mirror's curve the ray from his chin strikes at an angle and so is thrown off at another angle as you can see by following the dotted line. This brings the chin up where the top of the head should be. In the same way the ray from the top of the boy's head bounces off the mirror to the point where the chin should be. With a chin on top and the top of the head below, naturally the image is reversed and the boy sees himself upside down. Wanda is looking on the outside of the spoon as shown in the third diagram. The rays come back without reversing her, but because of the curve, they are thrown around and this makes her image distorted even if it is right side up.

FOR YOU TO DO: Polish a large tablespoon so that it is like a mirror, then look in the curve of the inside and see all the distortions you can get by tipping it back, forth, and sideways. Then hold up your hand, wiggle your fingers and you will get a real shock at what you see.

(Andrew Carpane of Woonsocket, R. I. wins $10 for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of this newspaper.)

Americans 'Living It Up' As Debt Continues To Increase

By JAMES MARLOW
 Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Americans are living it up, up, up. The national debt has reached $300 billion for the first time in history, the Treasury announced Monday.

It's been quite a climb. In 1940 the debt was only $63 million. By the end of the 19th century the debt finally got over the $1 billion mark. It was $1,437,000,000 in 1899.

It has never dropped below the billion-dollar figure since.

Yet, it never got up to the $2 billion mark until 1917—the year America got into World War I—when it became $2,976,000,000, a jump of $1,579,000,000 over 1916.

That was peanuts compared with what was to come. By 1919 the debt had risen to $25,845,000,000, thanks to war costs.

With the war over, the United States tried to whittle down the debt and did so, steadily. From 1920 to 1930 the debt decreased every year until in 1930 it was down to $16,185,000,000.

In every one of those years the government wound up with a surplus but never enough, of course, to pay off the debt at one crack.

All the years mentioned here are fiscal years from one July 1 to the following June 30. So that low mark of $16,185,000,000 in 1930 was for the fiscal year which began July 1, 1929.

It's a memorable date. The great depression began with the market crash in October 1929. In the last fiscal year of President Hoover's administration — 1933—the debt had inched up to $22,539,000,000.

Still, looking back, even that figure seems insignificant because two tremendous changes in the years ahead were to take place in American thinking, and all of them cost money.

One — under President Franklin D. Roosevelt — was the decision that the government had a responsibility for the general welfare. It found its voice in the New Deal. That, and the general effort to get out of the depression, cost money.

The other — and this still lay some years ahead — was the American decision to abandon its isolationism, which had been its viewpoint throughout most of its history, and become an international leader.

But mere getting into World War II and, later, foreign alliances, foreign aid, nuclear weapons and the space race.

Under Roosevelt, with 13 million people unemployed and the country desperate, the government really had to go into hock. By the end of the 1941 fiscal year the debt stood at $43,961,000,000.

Even that was nothing compared with what was to come. In December 1941, the Japanese attacked Pearl Harbor and the United States was in its second world

LIGHTEST MEXICO

By JOHN ABNEY

MEXICO CITY—Twelve years ago, Miss Emilia drifted in the humdrum pattern of her village down in the wilds of Mexico.

Then she made a sudden decision and left home to begin work in her way up in the world. She finally made it and became a cook. Ours, to be exact.

This is no small achievement in her home town where girls marry at the age of sweet 16 and settle down to raising kids. Prosperity consists of eating three squares a day and owning a Sunday dress. In the rural towns, practically everyone has a garden patch to furnish the three squares. Dresses of ten are home-made.

Miss Emilia eats as often as she pleases, which is very often, and she has several Sunday dresses. Store-bought jobs with frills and pleats.

She chose this career because being a cook implies a certain social elegance. She uses such gadgets as stoves, refrigerators and can openers. Things the ladies back home seldom see. Additionally, she gets to play radios, listen to Hi-Fi and ride in automobiles.

The home town ladies all walk and for music, they whistle or listen to the neighbor's guitar. Or a juke box in the local restaurant. Which can be heard all over town and has the power to blow up a mountain.

But comes spring and Miss Emilia's pulse picks up. She forgets to wipe the stove and leaves the refrigerator door open. The stars are brighter at nights and the moon casts soft shadows across the backyard. Miss Emilia is familiar with the magic of the night. She spends considerable time observing it through the kitchen window.

I suspect it's the call of the wild stirring to life inside her. She gets edgy and nags the kids and sometimes weeps for no apparent reason.

Then she begins wearing a Sunday dress every day and talks like an over-heated machinegun. The spring fever lasts from March until the end of December. January and February generally are calm.

Last year, it was a mite rugged. Finally, we canned her for getting into a brawl with the kids. She fainted faintly, then left.

Two months later, she dropped by for a visit and told us in a million well-chosen words about her new job in a factory. She was making three times what we had paid her, she reported.

Then she decided to cook supper for old times' sake. That led to spending the night so she wouldn't have to take a late bus to her lodgings.

The next day, her sister mysteriously appeared at the door with Miss Emilia's clothes. End of factory job.

But this year, the spring fever came late. It wasn't until the end of April that she complained about having to ride in the back seat of the convertible because the wind blew her hair.

When the kids got home from school, Miss Emilia locked herself in her room for the rest of the day and he who would eat cooked for himself.

That did it for me.

I untied the family sock and paid her off. Everybody, including the kids and dogs, put on a long face and got lumps in their throats.

After that, she claimed to see the great shining light. And even began getting up to fix breakfast. Now, it is all money and smiles and the crisis has passed—at least until December.

The missus says the truth of the matter is that no one else can tolerate any of the whole mob, including Miss Emilia, except the mob itself.

That could be true.

Indonesia Likely To Win Plebiscite

EDITOR'S NOTE—Hal McClure made frequent trips to West New Guinea on assignment during the long dispute between Indonesia and the Netherlands.

By HAL MCCLURE
KUALA LUMPUR, Malaya (AP)—Indonesia stands an excellent chance of coming out on top in any Papuan plebiscite on self-determination held in one-disputed West New Guinea.

Time, first of all, is in its favor. Secondly, the U.N. agreement between Indonesia and the Netherlands favors the Indonesians. The Dutch are the first to admit it.

The U.N. accord provides for the transfer to the California-sized territory to the United Nations about Oct. 1. The United Nations, in turn, will hand administration to Indonesia next May 1.

The fate of the island's 700,000 Papuans presumably will be decided in an election to be held some time before the end of 1963.

Of the agreement, Dutch Foreign Minister Joseph Luns, told his people: "It was not an ideal plan, because the administration was given to Indonesia before the Papuans exercise their right of self-determination."

The original Banker proposal, named for U.S. diplomat Ellsworth Bunker, who led the discussions under U.N. auspices, called for a two-year transition period.

What has disappointed the Hague—and Papuan leaders—was the fact that for several years the Netherlands has pushed decolonialization and self-determination for the Papuans. They received little support in the United Nations.

Self-determination has been the rallying cry of the so-called Papuan "intellectual" as well as the Dutch-sponsored New Guinea Council, made up largely of Papuans.

Some of these Papuan leaders have said angrily that the notion of the Banker plan would mean abandonment by Holland.

As for the plebiscite itself, the wording in the U.N. agreement is not too clear. The agreement says a U.N. representative and a staff of experts will advise, assist and participate in arrangements, which are the responsibility of Indonesia for the act of free choice.

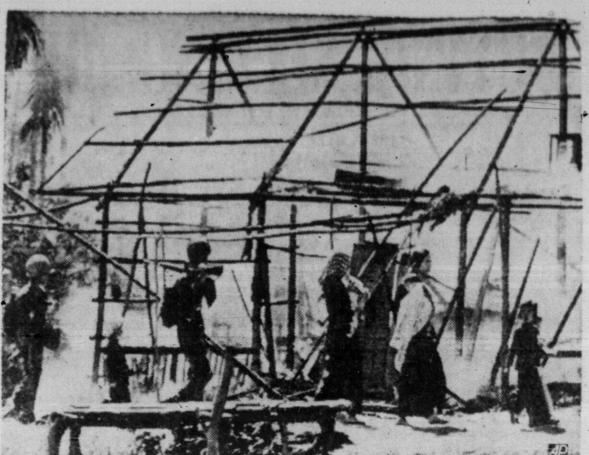

This free choice will permit the inhabitants to decide: (A) Whether they wish to remain with Indonesia, or (B) whether they wish to sever their ties with Indonesia.

The setting up of an independent Papuan nation presumably would come under choice B.

Who will be permitted to vote in the plebiscite? All adults who are not foreign nationals and who are residents at the signing of the present agreement (Aug. 15, 1962), or "at the time of the act of self-determination" in 1963.

The agreement permits the freedom of movement in and out of the territory by both Dutch and Indonesian civilians while it is under U.N. administration. It also permits those residents who departed New Guinea after 1943 to return and be eligible for the election.

Many see this as an open door in Indonesia's favor.

Bank Charter Is Challenged

AUSTIN (AP)—A group of Kilsean and Waco residents filed suit today against the state banking board and five directors of the new First State Bank at Kilsean.

The suit seeks a temporary court order preventing operation of the bank, which the board chartered Friday after a heated hearing.

The suit alleges that the group controlling another bank in Kilsean is linked to First State directors in an attempt to preempt the banking field in the community.

The board granted the charter over objections of Dan Moody Jr. of Austin, attorney for the proposed American National Bank.

Moody tried unsuccessfully to have the board delay a decision on the First State application. He said he needed more time to prove his allegation that First State is tied with the First National Bank in Kilsean.

Asks To Aid Cuban Exiles

HAVANA (AP)—Attorney James B. Donovan, who arranged the release of U2 pilot Francis Gary Powers from the Soviet Union, has asked permission to enter Cuba to negotiate for the release of more than 1,000 Cuban exiles captured in last year's invasion.

This was reported today by responsible sources of the Prisoners of War Freedom Committee. They said that if Donovan gets an entry visa, he will arrive in Havana before this weekend.

Donovan is the legal counsel for the rescue organization.

The Cuban government has demanded a $52-million ransom for the prisoners, taken in April of last year. If the money is not deposited in Canadian banks, the captives will have to serve prison terms up to 30 years.

So far, 66 of the prisoners have been released. Sixty of these, wounded and ailing, left on "credit parole." They are now touring the United States to help with the fund raising.
