Auto Workers Set Walkout Today; Rail Issues Still Hot

Heavy Rains Continue To Batter State

(By The Associated Press)

THREATENING storm clouds hung low last night over East Texas, already drenched and in places flooded by heavy rains within the last 48 hours by heavy rains.

Trains of the Cotton Belt lines were halted between Purdon and Dawson, southwest of Corsicana, late yesterday when swollen Richland creek went on a rise and covered railroad tracks.

Crops were helped in some places and hurt in others by the heavy rains in North, Central and Southwest Texas.

Lightning Plays Havoc

Both crops and highways in the Corsicana area were hard-hit by a downpour of 5.79 inches of rainfall within the last two days. Small cotton and newly planted fields were damaged.

Smaller creeks overflowed and larger ones threatened last night to go out of their banks in East Texas.

Lightning played havoc in a five-county area near Corsicana.

The Rural Electrification administration asid widespread damage to their lines was felt in Navarro, Limestone, Freestone, Hill and Ellis counties.

A highway south of Kernes in Navarro county was blocked yesterday as flood waters spread over the road.

Missouri Pacific railroad tracks near Penelope, north of Waco in southeastern Hill county, were washed out by a sudden downpour yesterday.

Passenger trains were detoured over Missouri - Kansas - Texas lines through Italy to Waco.

At Waco, waves kicked up at Lake Waco by winds destroyed half of the wharf at the boat club. Four boats were damaged.

Temperatures during the day ranged from a low of 58 at El Paso to a high of 98 at Presidio, both extreme West Texas points.

Cloudy to partly cloudy weather with scattered thundershowers near the coast was forecast for East Texas today. Partly cloudy weather today and tomorrow was predicted for West Texas.

Houses Unroofed

Hard-hitting winds sweeping across the Austonio community near Crockett at noon unroofed several houses and damaged a country store. No one was reported injured. Damage was estimated in thousands of dollars.

When E. R. Keels, school superintendent at Austonio, saw the storm approaching he called the pupils, at play during the noon recess, to return to the class room and remain seated.

He was credited with saving

Governor Plans Blow At National Party

New Demo Coalition Proposed By Jester

By DAVE CHEAVENS
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, May 11 — Southern and western Democrats should join forces to wrest control of the national party from northern and eastern leadership, Gov. Beauford H. Jester suggested today.

The Texas governor has been working quietly on the coalition project for several months and has been promised aid by at least three other governors. Others have shown interest, Jester said today.

Jester at the same time indicated he is standing firm on his earlier advice to Texas Democrats not to bolt the party and join in the southern revolt.

No Reports Received

Asked for comment on one report that his three observers at yesterday's southern Democratic meeting at Jackson, Miss., had pledged full co-operation with the session's objectives, Jester said they had not been authorized to pledge anything.

He said further that he had received no reports from the three. Jester had rejected an invitation to attend.

Results of the Jackson meeting definitely pointed to a three-way fight at the Texas state convention at Brownwood May 25.

Third Faction Seen

Two factions had already lined up: The organization Democrats under Jester's leadership, wanting a Texas delegation to the national convention uninstructed as to candidates but instructed against President Truman's civil rights program, and the group which wants a delegation instructed for Truman.

A caucus of Texans who attended the Jackson meeting announced they have pledged themselves to organize to work for the state's rights principles advocated at the sessions. The caucus named Merritt H. Gibson of Longview —former chief of the Texas regular party—as chairman and voted to try to gain control of the Brownwood convention.

"If we get turned down at Brownwood, we can look to the fall convention," Gibson said.

That set the stage for a three-way struggle that could last all summer and right up to general election time.

On his plan fo ra southern and

Oklahoma Governor Denies State Will Join Southern Bloc

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 11 (AP)—Oklahoma will join no bloc of southern states in opposition to national Democratic leaders, Gov. Roy L. Turner said today.

The Oklahoma governor made the statement after Gov. Beauford H. Jester of Texas had invited Oklahoma to join in an alliance of southern and western Democrats to give those regions a louder voice in Democratic party affairs. Jester had said in Austin that Governor Turner looked with favor upon a plan to oppose national Democratic administration policies.

May Go Uninstructed

"I do not subscribe to any premise which makes the Democratic party entirely responsible for the current trend in government," Turner said.

Meanwhile, there were indications Oklahoma's delegation to the national Democratic convention will not be committed to support President Truman. James C. Nance, speaker pro tempore of the state senate and chairman of the legislative council, today came out openly against the nomination and picked Sen. Alben Barkley of Kentucky as his No. 1 choice. Nance said he favored sending an uninstructed delegation to the national convention.

Previously Jim Arrington, state Democratic chairman, said he favored sending an uninstructed delegation to the national convention.

NEW STRIKES IN GERMANY

FRANKFURT, Germany, May 11 (AP)—Two new strikes broke out today in the U. S. zone of Germany. In the British zone trade union sources said most of the 100,000 workers idle there will remain off their jobs for at least another week.

Rail Dispute Is Unsettled

By NORMAN WALKER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, May 11 — The railroads highballed as usual today but the rail labor dispute, snatched from the strike stage in the nick of time, remained unsettled.

Heads of the three unions involved paid a 20-minute call on Army Secretary Kenneth Royall, bent on seeking a settlement now that the rail system is under government control by President Truman's order.

Afterward, they said Royall told them he hasn't authority yet to deal with them but "will get in touch with us" again in a few days.

Quick Settlement Seen

Secretary Royall told reporters earlier the Army was not disposed to enter negotiations with the unions for the time being.

A quick settlement was predicted by M. W. Clement, president of the Pennsylvania railroad.

Clement told reporters at the Pennsy's annual stockholders meeting at Philadelphia that he believed a settlement will come before May 19.

That is the date Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough set for a hearing here on the government's plea for an injunction to replace the temporary restraining order granted by the judge last night to stop the strike.

Unions Give In

It was a question of bowing to the court order or facing possible heavy fines for the three union chieftains—Alvanley Johnston of the locomotive engineers, David Robertson of the firemen and enginemen, and A. J. Glover of the switchmen.

They finally gave in. But their instructions cancelling strike plans came less than eight hours before the walkout was due to start at 6 a. m., local standard time, today.

The court order had been obtained only after the union leaders had flatly refused to commit their men to work for the Army under federal rail seizure.

In carrying out his assignment from President Truman to keep the trains rolling, Secretary Royall has designated Maj. Gen. Edmond H. Leavey, chief of the Army

New Scrap Seen On Civil Rights

WASHINGTON, May 11 (AP) — Senator Morse (R-Ore.) poised the Senate today for a plunge into the boiling civil rights dispute.

But it may not dive in yet.

Morse proposed:

1. An amendment forbidding separation of whites and negroes in a southern regional university system which 15 southern states have asked Congress to sanction by approving an interstate compact.

2. A motion to recommit the compact bill itself to the Judiciary committee on the ground that congressional approval is not required.

Showdown Hinted

In the offing, Morse raised the possibility of a showdown on President Truman's civil rights program itself.

The Senate quit for the day in the midst of debate on the motion to recommit. An effort will be made to reach a vote tomorrow. If the bill goes back to committee, then Morse's anti-segregation amendment won't come up.

If the recommital motion fails, then the seething civil rights controversy probably would get going full blast. In the past, racial issues have always produced southern filibusters.

Sponsors said the compact looks to establishing separate white and negro colleges.

Southerner contend that Congress cannot ban segregation because it would be invading state

Packinghouse Workers Refuse To Ratify Wage Agreement

CHICAGO, May 11 (AP) — The CIO Packinghouse workers union today refused to ratify a wage agreement reached last night between 400 CIO stock-handlers and the Chicago stockyards and said it would "investigate the situation."

A threatened strike of the stockhandlers was averted four hours before today's 12:01 a. m. deadline when the Local 44 accepted a new contract providing for a wage increase of six cents an hour.

The stockhandlers, who load, unload, weigh, and drive cattle to and from the pens and chutes within the stockyards, averaged about $1.05 hourly under the old contract. The new wage boosts would be retroactive to last April 4.

Intense Interest Created Over World By Notes

U. S. Takes Cautious Attitude Toward Soviet 'Peace' Talks

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, May 11 —Amid world-wide speculation over a Soviet-American "peace" conference, President Truman today issued a cautiously worded statement avoiding any commitment on the possibility of direct negotiations between United States and Soviet leaders.

He declared, instead, that the purpose of Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith's talk with Foreign Minister Molotov in Moscow May 4 was to clear any "misconception or confusion in the minds of the Soviet government" about American policy.

First, that the United States will continue to promote "vigorously and firmly" its policy of aiding western Europe and Second, that "the United States has no hostile or aggressive designs" toward Russia.

Early Meeting Discounted

Some of the President's foreign policy advisers, amplifying the American attitude on negotiations with Russia, emphasized that a primary requirement of any talks would be agreement beforehand on specific points to be discussed. They also said that any conference which involved the interest of other nations would have to include those other nations.

Generally, in fact, responsible American officials were inclined to discount the prospects for any early negotiations between Moscow and Washington aimed at an over-all settlement of the "cold war." Several officials privately expressed the opinion to newsmen that there could be no such thing as an over-all settlement but only a series of settlements of specific issues. Such issues, for example, as those centering upon Germany, Austria, Korea, political conditions in eastern Europe and the problem of trade between Russia and the West.

Statement Broadcast

The whole situation arose, in the opinion of the President's diplomatic advisers, because the Russians chose to consider a remark by Ambassador Smith that the door is always open to negotiations with Russia as a virtual invitation to hold a Soviet-American conference. The Soviet government last night broadcast Smith's statement to Molotov on May 4 and Molotov's reply of May 9 stating that the Soviet government "adopts a positive attitude toward the wishes of the United States government. . . to begin . . . a discussion and settlement of differences existing between us."

Diplomatic authorities here took the position that actually no new proposal for Soviet-American talks had been made by Smith. His words, as interpreted here, did not go beyond the "open" door statement which President Truman included in his message to Congress on March 17.

U. S. Caught Off Guard

Evidently it was on the advice of U. S. diplomatic authorities, who wanted to nail down the American position immediately, that President Truman issued his statement today.

"The statement made by Ambassador Smith," Mr. Truman said, "represented no new departure in American policy. It was a reiteration of the American position as it has been repeatedly expressed both publicly and privately."

There was no doubt among informed observers here that the Russian reaction, by emphasizing the possibility of "a discussion and settlement" between the world's two greatest powers, had caught the American government somewhat off guard. So had the fact that Russia made both Smith's statement and Molotov's reply public.

The enormous interest created throughout the world by the Russian action appeared to raise a new problem for the American government. This is the question whether, regardless of its original intentions, it is prepared to go through with any sort of two-power meeting. Officials privately admit that they will have to con-

Warmer Weather Is Seen For Area Today

A low overcast moved into Lubbock and the South Plains early today but was expected to last only a few hours and with no indication of moisture, the Weather Bureau station reported.

Light drizzles of short duration were forecast for points north and south of Lubbock, however, including Amarillo and Big Spring. In those areas too the moisture-laden clouds were carrying on a fly-by-night affair, according to the weather station.

Yesterday was exceptionally cool for early May with a maximum temperature of 68 degrees. But warmer weather was predicted today with a high reading set at 75 degrees. Light to moderate easterly winds were also forecast with partly cloudy skies today and Thursday.

Signals Heard In Caribbean Area By Army Search Plane

TAMPA, Fla., May 11. (INS)—An Army search plane, one of a huge aerial armada combing the Caribbean for a missing navy plane with 12 persons aboard today picked up a steady radio signal on 500 kilocycles, the international distress frequency.

The search craft—an Army OA-10 amphibian—reported to its MacDill field base at Tampa that the radio direction finder indicated the signal came from the vicinity of Cape Romano, 90 miles southeast of Key West, Fla.

Crewmen on the Army craft immediately began tracing the distress signal in an attempt to locate the transmitter. The Navy plane disappeared Sunday while en route from Puerto Rico to Key West.

U. S. DEFENSE PROGRAM SPEEDED

Congress Stamps Final Okay On 70-Group Air Force Bill

By JACK RUTLEDGE
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, May 11 — The American defense program gathered speed today despite Russia's talk of "peace and cooperation." Both Senate and House approved a 70-group Air Force bill and a Senate committee voted a draft measure.

The Air Force bill—compromising minor differences between the two houses—now needs only the expected signature of President Truman.

The draft measure, in line with a preparedness program asked by President Truman eight weeks ago, still has several hurdles to pass.

Final Okay Given

Overwhelming voice votes gave final approval for the 70-group Air Force, indicating Congress wants an "enough and in time" Air Force. Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov's expressed hope of finding a way to remove differences with America interested legislators, but it had no immediate effect on the defense program.

The draft bill was approved 7 to 2 by the Senate Armed Services committee.

This is how the committee draft bill was finally worked out after weeks of hearings and study:

Men 19 through 25 would be subject to the draft, and serve two years in the armed forces.

Men 18 through 25 and medical men through 45 would have to register.

Youths 18 years old may volunteer for a one year training program, but they do not have to. The bill provides for training 260,000 of the 18-year-olds, who then would not be subject to the draft, but be held in a reserve pool.

A former plan that made teenage training mandatory, first offered as a substitute for universal military training, was junked today by the committee.

Veterans would be exempt from induction but not registration. These are men who were on duty for 90 days or longer between Pearl Harbor, Dec. 7, 1941, and V-J day when Japan surrendered Sept. 2, 1945; also any man who

Drastic Means Used By Woman Who Gets 'Tired' Of Husband

(By The Associated Press)

GAINESVILLE, Ga., May 11—A 23-year-old blonde was accused today of poisoning her 70-year-old husband because, a sheriff quoted her as saying, "I just got tired of him."

Sheriff Bill Crow said slightly built Mrs. Homer Sims was charged with assault with intent to murder after she dosed a pot of beans and a pitcher of lemonade with strychninne.

The husband, a grandfather through a former marriage, took one bite of beans and became sick. He is expected to get well.

Arab Guns Dash Holy City Truce

JERUSALEM, May 12. (Wednesday) (INS)—Jerusalem's four-day cease-fire "truce" was shattered early today by what the Jews described as an Arab mortar and long-range rifle attack on the southern Katamon and Mekor Haim quarters.

A few hours earlier Arab forces opened artillery attacks on Jewish settlements near Jerusalem. This appeared to be a strong counter-offensive to regain control of the Jerusalem-Tel Aviv highway.

Arabs Move On Jewish Area

(The London News Chronicle reported British military sources "believed" the Jews had captured the Arab hilltop village of Beit Mahsir, a key base on the Jerusalem-Tel Aviv highway.)

One report said Arab forces, covering their approach with heavy mortar fire, were closing in on the Bab El Wad area—the "ambush alley" which the Zionists captured Monday.

Three settlements were shelled by the Arabs in the Jerusalem area while Arab troops renewed the battle for control of the Zionist highway lifeline east of Latrun.

Wallace Asks Stalin To Help End Dispute

NEW YORK, May 11 (AP)—Henry A. Wallace tonight addressed an "open letter" to Premier Stalin, urging immediate action by Russia and the United States to end the cold war and insure a "century of peace."

He proposed, among other things, that the two major world powers initiate a general armaments reduction and outlaw all methods of mass destruction.

The letter was released at a Madison Square Garden rally addressed by the third party presidential candidate and his running mate, Sen. Glen Taylor (D-Ida).

Wallace said "the whole world was heartened" by the notes of U. S. Ambassador Bedell Smith and Foreign Minister Molotov disclosed early today.

75,000 Will Leave Posts

(By The Associated Press)

DETROIT, May 11—A strike of 75,000 workers at Chrysler Corp. set for 6 a. m. CST, tomorrow appeared almost a certainty tonight as federal conciliators failed in last minute efforts to avert it.

Negotiations between the company and the CIO United Auto Workers were broken off and all parties to the dispute said there would be no meeting before tomorrow's strike deadline.

Company spokesmen, in a special statement issued late tonight, declared Chrysler has told the conciliators and union that "we still are willing to discuss this situation and to arrive at a reasonable settlement. And that is our position, regardless of the call to strike."

Strike Seems Certain

Conciliator Leo Kotin, tired and downhearted after seven hours of conferences with the principals today, told a news conference, "our efforts at mediation have been terminated."

Norman Matthews, head of the UAW's Chrysler department, went from the conciliation sessions to a meeting of union delegates from 76 Chrysler plants in three states.

He gave them a brief fill-in on the day's developments and wound up by saying, "since Chrysler has forced us into the position of striking, we will give them the damndest strike they have ever seen."

Kotin said no further efforts to avert the strike are contemplated.

Company Rejects Offer

Negotiations were broken off abruptly as the union disclosed it had scaled its demand from a 30-cent-an-hour increase to 17 cents.

Chrysler officials rejected the union offer.

Robert W. Conder, Chrysler director of labor relations, said the company "sounded out" union sentiment on its previous six-cent offer, but did not formally reinstate it.

The union had declined the six-cent proposal some time ago.

As the negotiations were broken off, there was no official offer from the company.

A statement by the UAW negotiating committee contended that

Woman Killed In Orange Shooting

ORANGE, May 11. (AP)—Chief of Police E. L. Nance said that a woman employed at Beaumont by the Federal Communications commission today critically wounded Miss Billie Jean Cordell, 27, employe of radio station KOGT here, then fatally shot herself.

Nance identified the woman as Mrs. Etta Blum, 42, employed as a clerk-typist by the FCC.

Justice of the Peace Will Fountain returned an inquest verdict that Mrs. Blum killed herself.

Shooting Is Related

City Patrolman Charles Tyson said Miss Cordell was shot in the upper right arm and in the left side just below the ribs. She was taken to the hospital here.

Tyson said a .25 automatic pistol was used.

Miss Cordell has been employed as a bookkeeper at the radio station since it opened early this year.

Miss Mary Elizabeth Brewer, continuity writer at the radio station, said a woman, a tall brunette, came into the station lobby about 2:20 p. m. and went directly to an office a few feet away.

Miss Brewer said the woman walked up to Miss Cordell's desk, took a pistol from a purse, and fired two shots at Miss Cordell while Miss Cordell was seated.

Then the woman pressed the trigger a third time with the pistol at her own temple, Miss Brewer said. She said she heard no exchange of words before the shots were fired.

West Virginia Picks Delegates

(By The Associated Press)

West Virginia voters elected 16 delegates to the Republican national convention and a 20-vote Democratic delegation in a primary Tuesday. The voting also was highlighted by contests for senatorial and gubernatorial nominations.

The national convention delegations were not bound. The presidential preference ballot, merely advisory, found Harold E. Stassen the only major presidential aspirant entered in either party.

Stassen In North Carolina

He was opposed by two political unknowns—Vander Pyl, of Cleveland, Ohio, and Woods Byer, of Martinsburg, W. Va.

Arkansas' Republicans completed a 14-man delegation and North Dakota picked an eight-vote delegation in state conventions.

Stassen, who has entered and won more primaries than any other Republican candidate for the presidential nomination, campaigned in North Carolina last night with a speech on the necessity for a two-party system in the South.

To Head For Oregon

He claimed last weekend that his strength is picking up in Dixie while that of his opponents is falling off.

Stassen arranged to by-pass a Missouri stop slated for Thursday to fly direct to Oregon. There, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, his opponent in the May 21 primary, is waiting for a face-to-face debate with him on how Communism should be controlled in this country.

A date for the radio debate has yet to be set. Both Dewey and Stassen accepted an invitation to the Names Of Twelve Top Beauties At Texas Tech Are Announced

NAMES of the 12 top beauties of Texas Technological college for the 1947-48 school year have been announced and are being presented to the public each night of the annual Tech Varsity Show at Lubbock Senior high school.

Selection of the most beautiful co-eds at the college is made each year by a process of double elimination with the final selections being featured on the pages of La Ventana, Texas Tech yearbook.

For the final beauty selections, some impartial outside source is called in to judge the candidates. This year the staff of the West Texas State Teachers college year book assisted the Texas Tech year book staff in the selections.

As revealed by Tech officials, the twelve winners include:

Beverly Zelany of Lubbock, the former Beverly Bescancon, who was named the top beauty at the college in 1947; Judy Pollard, of Lubbock, who was Texas Tech's candidate for Sun Bowl queen at the El Paso Sun Carnival New Year's Day; Delight Hardin, Lubbock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. RUSSIAN MOTIVES QUESTIONED

U. S. Suspicious Of Reds' Quick Answer To Ambassador's Note

By JOHN H. MARTIN
INS Foreign Editor

THE American move to get congressional approval for military guarantees to western Europe is a swift reply to Russia's implied bid for further negotiations with the United States.

As one foreign observer commented: "It looks like it is now Russia's turn to try appeasement."

Perhaps it was this impending American move to aid the Brussels pact nations that caused Russia suddenly to tell the world Monday night that the United States had approached Russia with the idea of another attempted east-west settlement.

This announcement caused widespread rejoicing in Russia and throughout Europe and the United States — until President Truman and others gave their version of what actually had happened.

The U. S. ambassador simply had reiterated to Foreign Minister Molotov that the American rearmament program and Marshall plan were not hostile designs against Russia. And that, despite American presidential U. S. Military Guarantees To Western Europe Under Study

By H. K. REYNOLDS
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 11. — Chairman Vandenberg of the Senate Foreign Relations committee today made public an administration-approved draft of a resolution which for the first time would give congressional approval for military guarantees to western Europe.

The resolution was described as "the climax of many weeks of attention in committee to this matter." It would approve American backing for the Brussels five-power pact and in effect would extend the Monroe doctrine to Europe.

Objectives Given

—Carefully worded as a general expression of congressional intent, the resolution would approve America's "association with regional and other collective arrangements" for "collective self-defense under article 51 (of the United Nations charter) should any armed attack occur affecting our national security."

The new collective security policy under the Vandenberg resolution would have these objectives:

"Progressive development of regional and other collective arrangements for individual and collective self-defense in accordance with the principles and provisions of the charter.

UN Aid Asked

"Association of the United States with such regional and other collective arrangements as are based on self help and mutual aid, and as affect its national security.

"Contributing to the maintenance of peace by making clear its determination to exercise the right of individual or collective self-defense under article 51 should any armed attack occur affecting its national security."

The resolution also calls for maximum efforts to provide the United Nations with armed forces as contemplated by the charter and to obtain agreements among member nations for universal regulation and reduction of armaments "under adequate and dependable guarantee against violation."

It was under article 51, providing for collective self-defense in case of armed attack, that both the Rio De Janeiro and the five-power western European defense pacts were concluded. Vandenberg said:

"The working paper is presented with the approval of Undersecretary Lovett, and it represents the climax of many weeks of attention in the committee to this matter."

Adoption of the resolution by the Senate would open the way for the president and State department to proceed with negotiations for whatever international agreements were deemed desirable to carry out the general objectives of collective security.

Vandenberg's draft ignored the question of the veto in the United Nations insofar as matters of aggression are concerned.

Skeleton Of Giant Meat-Eating Bird Is Displayed At Museum

The skeleton of a giant carnivorous bird, Mesembriornis Inceotis, approximately five feet in height has been assembled and put on display at the West Texas museum at Texas Technological college by Wann Langston, geology instructor.

The skeleton is a cast of the original speciman and was obtained from the Chicago Natural History museum acquired by Texas Tech through an exchange of specimens. This is one of two mounted skeletons of the bird in existence, the other being the original at the Chicago museum, Langston said.

The giant bird was of a flightless variety that is known to have inhabited Argentina during the Pliocene epoch of the Tertiary period. It depended on its running ability for locomotion and is thought to have been capable of very high speeds. Possessed of a huge, sharp beak, it subsisted on small mammals and snakes for its livelihood. It belonged to an almost extinct family of giant flightless birds, only two varieties of which are in existence at the present time, these being the ostrich and the cassowary.

Services For H. G. Harris, 70, Will Be Conducted Today

Final services for Harvey Gibson Harris, 70, of 702 Ave. R, will be held this afternoon at the Asbury Methodist church with Rev. C. A. Bickley officiaitng. Burial will be in Lubbock Memorial park under the direction of Bryan McDonald & Son Funeral home.

Harris, a resident of Lubbock for the past 15 years, died at 11:40 p. m. Monday in West Texas hospital.

He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. H. P. Pricer of Slaton; four sons, J. P., J. A., J. M. and Paul Harris of Lubbock; a brother, Ed Harris of Mt. Calm, 10 grandchildren and 5 great-grandchildren.

Pallbearers will be Lloyd Lane, Erwin Koenzon, Wesley Merrett, William Wayne Adamson, Bryan Merrel, Charles Dorwood, Bud Peterson and Herman Burton.

In the U. O'Mahoney Boomed For Vice Presidency

CASPER, Wyo., May 11 (INS)—A boom to nominate Sen. Joseph C. O'Mahoney of Wyoming as the Democratic candidate for vice president was gaining momentum in the west today.

Wyoming Democrats led the way by breaking precedent at the party's convention in Casper. The state assembly voted unanimously to support President Truman and to work for the nomination of "favorite son" O'Mahoney as his running mate.

Usually the state, at the tail end of convention roll calls and with a comparatively insignificant vote, sends uninstructed delegates to the national convention.

Wyoming Republicans, meeting simultaneously at Casper, adhered to the policy and the nine GOP delegates to the national assembly will go unpledged.

In an unofficial poll, six of the nine said they favored Dewey, two named Stassen as their choice and one was for Taft.

Members Of Dillinger Gang May Receive Paroles Within Week

MICHIGAN CITY, Ind., May 11 (INS)—Two members of the notorious Dillinger gang looked today to freedom by parole within a week or ten days from the Indiana state prison at Michigan City.

They are Walter Dietrich and James Clark.

Both participated in the running gun battle in which four persons were killed at Clinton in 1930.

The state clemency commission recommended conditional paroles for the two prisoners. The parole agreement calls for Dietrich to return to his St. Louis, Mo., home under the jurisdiction of Indiana parole officials. Clark is to be released to Kansas state reformatory officials at Hutchinson, Kans.

Both of the men were sentenced to life imprisonment in connection with the holdup of the Clinton state bank. Three of the bandits were slain and a deputy sheriff killed in the exchange of gunfire as the desperadoes attempted to get away with the $16,000 loot.

Brief Bits Of Local News

Dr. Edward M. Whitacre and Dr. R. Z. Abell of Lubbock were among those attending the quarterly business session of district one of the Texas Osteopathic association and auxiliary in Amarillo Sunday.

Miss Louise Ohlenbusch, former Texas Tech student, spoke briefly on Guatemala and her experience there. Ben Ritchey of Abilene, the Optimist official, told of the work of the Boys' ranch near Abilene. Marvin Pruitt was introduced as a new member.

A meeting of the 489th composite group and the Reserve Officers' association will be held at 8 o'clock Thursday night in the engineering auditorium at Texas Tech, with Lt. Col. L. C. Adams and a staff of ROTC instructors presenting a discussion and demonstration on signal communications and equipment and on infantry weapons. All reserve personnel are urged to attend the demonstration, officials announced.

Copies of the Westerner, high school annual, were shipped Monday and should be ready for distribution this morning to students at Senior High school, Mrs. Dick Cozby, publications officer, announced Tuesday.

Walter R. Studhalter, son of Dr. and Mrs. R. A. Studhalter, 2311 Eighteenth, has been elected to associate membership in Sigma Xi, national honor society for research scientists. He will be among ten faculty members, four alumni, and 200 graduate students and nine undergraduates to be honored in a public program today at 8:15 p.m. at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, Mich., where he is a graduate student in research work.

Movies are scheduled for a meeting of the Boys club tonight at 7:30 o'clock at 2323 Ave. K. The feature was announced as 'Rawhide,' a baseball picture starring Lou Gehrig and Smith Ballew. A comedy and the 11th chapter of a serial, 'The Clutching Hand," will also be shown.

GOT QUICK RHEUMATIC RELIEF WITH MERTOX

"For the past 15 years I have been bothered with frequent rheumatic pains in my left shoulder. This trouble later spread to my right shoulder also," writes Mr. J. C. Kirkland of Dallas. In my work I have to use my arms a lot, and my shoulders were beginning to stiffen up. After taking Mertox Compound for a short time this condition was quickly corrected, so that now I am free from rheumatic trouble and free of the aches and pains. I was also troubled with gas and bloat, which were very painful. I felt tired and rundown; just seemed to have no life or pep at all. Had severe headaches, too. The gas would seem to press against my heart and lungs and make it hard to breathe. Now I can eat anything, even meat, which was impossible before taking this splendid medicine. My bowels are now regular and I do not have to get up at night as I did before."

You can get Mertox Compound from any home druggist at the new REDUCED price. Adv.

Tired, "All-In"—Listless Feeling Brought To Halt

As Vibrant Energy is Released To Every Muscle, Fibre, Cell

Do you get up in the mornings still tired, feel down-and-out all day? Have you checked-up on your blood strength lately? Overwork, undue worry, cold, flu or other illness often wears down the red-blood-cells.

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that S.S.S. Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the S.S.S. Tonic formula, which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, S.S.S. Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is non-organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloat and give off that sour food taste.

Don't wait! Energize your body with rich, red-blood. Start on S.S.S. Tonic now. As vigorous blood surges throughout your whole body, greater freshness and strength should make you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better, have a healthy color glow in your skin, firm flesh fill out hollow places. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle from your drug store. S.S.S. Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health. Adv.

Molotov's Stand Overshadows U. S., Soviet Exchange Of Views

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
Associated Press Staff Writer

The United States has served Russia with a list of the requirement for friendship between the two countries and Molotov has rejected them.

That fact completely overshadows the little diplomatic pleasantries of the latest exchange of views which, at first glance, seemed to offer some hope of a negotiated peace in the cold war.

The State department and President Truman have made it clear that Ambassador Smith gave the Russians no encouragement on immediate negotiations, and that the American statement was a warning, not an invitation.

Coups Bar Friendship

Russia was told that the coups staged by her fifth columns in neighboring countries were bars to friendship. Molotov called it consolidation of relations in the area and said he intended to keep it up with "neighboring and other countries."

As for his opposition to the Marshall plan, Molotov fell back on his time-worn device of crying "you're another," citing recent U. S. restrictions on trade with the Soviet.

U. S. Not To Compromise

There is no suggestion, either in the message to Moscow or the clarifying State department and White House comments, that the United States has any intention of compromising any of the principles upon which her foreign policy has been based for more than a year.

If Russia wants to discuss what she can do to appease the world-wide sentiment which is being built up against her, the United States will be gald to talk it over. The message conveyed by Ambassador Smith made that clear. But it must be Russia coming as a repentant convert, not as an imperialist power seeking to bargain over the lands and liberties of small nations.

Anyone who tries to negotiate with the Communist imperialists will find the conference table neatly booby-trapped.

The United States lighthouse service maintains about 43 lightships, of which 10 are relief vessels.

U. S. GENERALS TO FACE RUSSIANS—Two young and tough U. S. generals have drawn assignments in Europe which put them face-to-face with the Russians. Maj.-Gen. Robert T. Frederick, left, 41, will command American headquarters in Vienna. Maj.-Gen. Isaac D. White, right, 47, will head the motorized American constabulary in Frankfurt, which mans the border between American and Soviet zones. Both men commanded hard-fighting wartime divisions.

Judge, Radio Station Sued For Blocking Broadcast Of Trial

LOS ANGELES, May 11 (INS)—Superior Judge Kenneth E. Morrison and The Voice of the Orange Empire Inc., Ltd., today were sued for $150,000 in federal court by the Earl C. Anthony Inc., for refusing to permit radio station KFI to broadcast the Overell-Gollum murder trial in Santa Ana last year.

The suit charged that Judge Morrison, who presided during the six-months long sensational murder trial, of "censorship and a deprival of freedom of speech and press" in denying KFI the right to broadcast the courtroom proceedings along with other radio stations.

Attorneys for the Los Angeles Radio corporation asserted that the judge gave radio station KVOE in Santa Ana, known as "The Voice of the Orange Empire," exclusive right to broadcast the trial.

The Santa Ana station, in turn, the suit alleged, shared the rights with station KMPC of Los Angeles.

Pioneer Southwest Miller And Grain Expert Claimed By Death

WICHITA FALLS, May 11. (AP)—Thomas Presley Duncan, 71, pioneer Southwest miller and grain expert, died at his home here yesterday afternoon.

Duncan was active in the milling industry here since 1900. From 1908 to 1921 he resided in Waco where he was one of the founders and directors of the annual Cotton Palace. He was president of the Waco Mill and Elevator company until 1929, as well as general manager of the mill here.

Survivors include his wife; a daughter, Mrs. Ray Arnhold; a son, T. P. Duncan, jr., all of Wichita Falls.

Panhandle Ranch Holder Dies At Home In Amarillo

AMARILLO, May 11 (AP)—Terry Thomson, jr., 68, one of the Panhandle's largest ranch holders, died here today. He held extensive properties in Moore county.

He had lived here since 1889, having been brought to the Panhandle when only 10 years old. He had operated his Moore county ranches since 1913.

Survivors include his wife, two sons, Terry, jr., and Phillip, and two daughters, Mrs. Bob Brent and Miss Georgia Thomson, all of Amarillo.

Funeral services will be held here at 10 a. m. Thursday.

Permit For New Store Is Issued

Among $178,120 in new construction listed Tuesday at the city building inspector's office was a permit for a two-story, full basement masonry building costing $122,000 at 1215-17-19 Avenue J to be occupied by Cobb's Department store.

Foundation for the structure will support two additional floors which will be added when need arises, spokesmen for the company said. Buildings which formerly occupied the site, on the northeast corner of Thirteenth and Avenue J, have been razed.

General Offices Here

The establishment to be opened here will be the 12th of the Cobb Department stores. Others are in Northwest Texas, New Mexico and Arizona. General offices are in the Myrick building, Lubbock. Joe Telford is contractor for the new building.

Telford also obtained a permit to build a two-story brick and tile residence costing $17,800 at 2428 Thirty-third for Pearl Watson.

Other new permits reported included one for a two-story frame and stucco office building costing $14,000 at 1804 Avenue J for E. Z. Hogan. Residence permits were: Carl Hensley, contractor, and Alvah Doak, owner, 2616 Thirty-second, $7,400; and Carl Owens, 2423 Twenty-fourth, $4,500.

They increased new construction for the month to $389,200 and for the year to $4,608,079.

Lubbock City Bus Routes Are Changed To Combine Service

City Bus company officials announced Tuesday that revision on a trial basis of routes of the Sixteenth street-Texas Tech and Fourth street city bus lines have been put into effect under authorization given by City Manager Marlin R. Smith, jr.

Under the previous arrangement, Fourth street buses approached the bus station at Main and Avenue J on Avenue J and then circled via Broadway to Avenue K on the outbound trip to Fourth. The Sixteenth-Tech buses did not unload at the station but circled via Avenue L, Broadway and Texas to Sixteenth and traveled that street to College avenue. Separate buses were required for both lines.

The same buses serve both lines under the new arrangement. The Fourth street line has been removed from Avenue K. Service on L, Broadway and Texas has been discontinued on the Sixteenth-Tech line, which uses the bus depot for terminal unloading. These buses turn from Sixteenth into J to approach the station.

The changes, which already have resulted in a few protests, require city commission approval before going into final effect.

PUT THEM AWAY

ALTHOUGH it doesn't seem very warm for May yet, it won't be long before homemakers will be storing their woolen articles for the summer. Many are especially interested in taking the best possible care of their blankets.

Mrs. Bernice Claytor, extension home management specialist of Texas A. and M. college, says that blankets should be carefully cleaned so that they will keep their light, soft fluffiness. And they should be stored correctly so there is no risk of moths and dust.

Good care of blankets means several things, says Mrs. Claytor. Keep them clean, light and fluffy. Repair the frayed or ripped edges and darn any holes or thin spots. Moths cannot live in freshly laundered blankets, Mrs. Claytor says; so for that reason alone it is important that they be clean before they are stored.

SOLITUDE

OCCASIONAL loneliness is a good thing. Nobody ever really thinks who is forever surrounded by chattering people. Even if a man can't think, he is likely to brood when he is alone, and brooding may do some good.

The movie star who said she wanted to be alone revealed good sense. She wanted rest and quiet. Keeping up your end of a talkfest sometimes proves to be an ordeal.

Quarterly Club Will Have Dinner Tonight

At a meeting of Tech Quarterly club to be held tonight at 7 o'clock in Yaqui room of Hilton hotel, Miss Quanah Lewis, an instructor of English at Texas Technological college, will be featured speaker. Her subject is to be, "I Worked in a Federal Penitentiary."

During a business session, officers are to be selected. Miss Mabel Smith and Mrs. J. L. Quicksall are retiring officers.

Dinner is to be served.

Installation Tea Is Final Meeting Of Woman's Forum

Lubbock Woman's Forum members attended an installation tea, the final meeting of the club year, in the home of Mrs. John Mallory, 2601 Twenty-fourth, Tuesday afternoon. Retiring officers, Mesdames Garland Newsom, S. C. Cooper, John Hiner Wilson, Tilman Carter and Jimmie Kerr, were hostesses.

The installation ceremony carried out the "Tapestry Weaver" theme which has been used in the club programs during the year. Taking office in the service conducted by Mrs. Cooper were: Mrs. Clarence Whiteside, president; Mrs. Earl Hobbs, vice-president; Mrs. Meritt Clark, secretary; Mrs. J. L. Downs, treasurer; Mrs. Walter Clark, reporter; Mrs. Clem Boverie, welfare chairman; Mrs. D. D. Webster, social chairman; and Mrs. W. A. Pettey, telephone chairman.

Mrs. Raymond Marshall sang three numbers, accompanied by Mrs. Joe Haddon who offered a piano solo, also. The women were introduced by Mrs. Webster, program chairman. Mrs. Newsom gave a report of the convention of Texas Federation of Women's clubs held in Austin early this month.

Gifts of silver were presented to three Forum members, Mrs. Ifred Crosby who has served as chairman of Lubbock Women's club board of directors; Mrs. Bryan Edwards who has been president of City Federation of Women's clubs for two years; and Mrs. Newsom, retiring Forum president.

The 40 persons who called were met at the door by Mrs. Mallory who presented them to Mrs. Whiteside, Mrs. Newsom and Mrs. Hobbs. The tea table was laid with lime green organdy and centered with a May basket of scarlet rambling roses backed by tall white tapers. Other arrangements of roses extended the length of the table and surrounded the punch bowl. Guests were served by Mrs. Newsom and Mrs. Whiteside.

Mesdames William C. Mingus, Odis Hackney and George McCleskey were hostesses in the home of Mrs. L. M. Wartes, 3202 Twenty-first.

Mrs. Wartes presided at the tea table which was laid with a white net cloth and decorated with red roses, the club flower.

Assembly Club Has Officer Election

Mrs. Joe Bryant was elected president of Assembly Dance club at an afternoon meeting held Tuesday in the home of the retiring president, Mrs. Arthur Jenkins, 2124 Thirtieth.

Other new officers are Mrs. Ruel Martin, vice president and Mrs. W. F. Eisenberg, secretary-treasurer.

The club planned a dance for May 28.

Benefit 42 Party Set For Saturday

The public is invited to attend a benefit forty-two party to be sponsored Saturday night at 8:30 o'clock at New Deal High school gymnasium by the Monroe Home Demonstration club. Proceeds will be added to a fund which will be used to buy a lot for a community clubhouse.

There is to be a free show for children and refreshments will be served.

Admission is 50 cents for adults.

Reception Honors C. E. Armstrongs

Mr. and Mrs. Stanton Rhea, assisted by Mrs. M. C. Burk of Amarillo and C. E. Armstrong of Fort Worth, gave a reception Sunday afternoon to honor their parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Armstrong, on their Golden Wedding anniversary. The reception was held in the Rhea home at 1627 Eighteenth.

Seventy-two guests registered between 3 and 6 o'clock.

Mrs. Burk greeted guests. Mrs. C. E. Armstrong and Mrs. John Zournas alternated in presiding at the register, which was lettered in gold and contained a poem Mrs. J. C. Sanders wrote in honor of the Armstrongs. A picture of the couple taken on their wedding day was displayed on the table.

In the archway leading to the dining room was a huge horseshoe decorated with yellow net and centered with white satin ribbons lettered in gold with "Charlie and Lula 1890." The refreshment board was covered with a white cloth crocheted by Mrs. Liff Sanders and placed over yellow satin. An elaborated decorated cake topped with a gold bell centered the table and at one end was the crystal punch bowl flanked with golden flowers. Completing the decor were two golden horseshoes centered with white candles to which gold leaves were tied with white ribbonds.

Assist In Hospitalities

Mesdames Terrell St. Clair of Hobbs, N. M., and Theodora Zournas cut the cake and Mesdames Winston Reeves and Walter Smith poured the punch. They were assisted in serving by granddaughters of the couple.

Mrs. Otto Tribble of Grand Prairie was in charge of the gift display.

During the afternoon an old music box was played and readings were given by pupils of Mrs. Gladys Sims who were Pat Doidge, Joyce Coffman, Joyce Davidson, Joe McIlhaney, Claudette Hill Ann Gates and Patricia Rhea.

Cards and telegrams were on display. Out-of-town guests registered from Muleshoe, Lamesa, Crosbyton, Amarillo, Artesia, N. M. and Hobbs.

LESSON TAUGHT

Mrs. Jethro Sims taught a mission study lesson, "America Must Be Christian," for East Side Baptist Women's Missionary society Monday at the church. Prayers were led by Mrs. Janie Gill and Mrs. Sally Cathey.

Magnesium metal was first produced commercially in Germany about 1913.

TRUMAN PROGRAM SUPPORTED

Wyoming Solon Raps GOP For 'Failure' To Control Inflation

WASHINGTON, May 11 (AP) — Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo) today criticized the Republican leaders of Congress for what he termed their failure to control inflation.

Declaring it is "too late to expect any change of policy," by the GOP, O'Mahoney added:

"The choice, therefore, must be made by the people between the policy of action and the policy of drift."

Points To Truman Program

"O'Mahoney said that by a policy of action he means the 10-point anti-inflation program laid before the special session last November by President Truman. Congress shelved most of that program, including the chief executive's request for stand-by power to restore limited rationing and wage-price controls.

O'Mahoney set forth his views in a one-man minority report on the economic message Mr. Truman sent to Congress in January. In it the President again outlined his 10-point program.

The Senate-House economic committee headed by Senator Taft (R-Ohio) is required by law to study the President's message and report on it. O'Mahoney released his own views in advance of the majority's report, which the committee assembled to consider.

O'Mahoney contended that the Republicans are acting on the assumption that "in some vague and unpredictable way, the economic system will adjust itself if only the government follows a policy of keeping hands-off."

Rising Prices Scored

He added that "if the inflationary balloon is allowed to burst, . . . effective action to halt deflation will require more stringent government control over the economy than the preventive measures" suggested by Mr. Truman.

Rising prices, O'Mahoney said, will "cut the heart out of any dollar aid extended to Europe, just the way the post-OPA inflation of 1946-47 cut the buying power of the dollars lent to Great Britain by nearly a third, thereby seriously curtailing the intended benefits of the loan." He added:

"On the other hand, a catastrophic fall in prices might again cause mass unemployment in the United States, seriously damage confidence in free private enterprise in Europe, and create rejoicing in the Kremlin."

Governor Jester Pardons Man Convicted In Lubbock Court

Gov. Beauford H. Jester Tuesday morning allowed a conditional pardon to Olan McKaughan, convicted burglar, according to an Associated Press report from Austin.

McKaughan was sentenced July 22, 1946, by Judge G. V. Pardue of 99th district court of Lubbock county, to serve five years for burglary Aug. 13, 1945, of property controlled by J. E. Hancock. The indictment was returned Sept. 21, 1945, by a grand jury of which Homer E. Hunt was foreman.

McKaughan had been allowed suspension of sentence, but then District Attorney Burton S. Burks moved the court to set aside the suspension inasmuch as McKaughan, during the term of the suspension, had been convicted of robbery in Dawson county. The Lubbock sentence was pronounced to run concurrently with that in Dawson county.

Next Tuesday, the two groups will meet for a "problem clinic" at 2 p. m. in Annex G of Tech home economics building.

High School Drivers' Course Meeting Set

Proposal for a drivers' course in Lubbock High school will take another step forward today, when a committee representing the Lubbock New Car and Truck Dealers association meets with representatives of various official groups.

A luncheon will be conducted at 12 noon in the Yaqui room in Hilton hotel. The committee appointed from the automobile dealers association is composed of Bill Dean, chairman, Walter Alderson, Eddie Louthan and G. C. Dowell.

Representatives of the police department, City commission, school board and Texas Highway patrol and the county judge have been invited to meet with the committee.

The proposed drivers' course is to be discussed and the committee will invite representatives of the various groups to accompany some of the dealers to Dallas this week or next week to study the drivers' instruction program underway in Crozier Tech school. Both behind-the-wheel driving and classroom instruction are included in the Crozier Tech plan.

Two representatives of the dealers group, Alderson and Dowell, already have visited Crozier Tech school. They have expressed enthusiasm over operation of the plan there and the possibilities in instruction of high school students to be good drivers.

Hubbers Pound Abilene Blue Sox, 10-6

Red Ramsey Notches Victory In First Game With Lubbock Nine

By JOE KELLY
Avalanche Sports Editor

The Hubbers only needed two big innings last night to top the Abilene Blue Sox 10-6, after which they turned the game over to the capable hurling of Robert "Red" Ramsey, who made his first start on the mound for the home team an impressive one.

Ramsey, except for a shaky fourth inning, proceeded to hold the potent Blue Sox in the palm of his right hand, gaining strength and confidence as he went along. The slender righthander doled out nine hits and struckout five to send the shivering fans home audibly and visibly impressed.

But Frank McAlexander and Chick Fowler also came in for bows during the proceedings. McAlexander picked out an offering from Dick McCoy in the first inning and slammed it over the left field wall to score three runs. Fowler did a ditto act in the third, getting his ninth round tripper of the short campaign.

Blue Sox Rally

It was fortunate that the Hubbers had two big innings, for the Blue Sox started to surge back. After they had pushed over five runs in the third and fourth, they added another in the fifth to threaten the Hubber lead. Then Ramsey showed his mettle, hurling two-hit ball over the remaining four innings and shutting out the visitors.

The Hub City crew lost no time in scoring, thanks to the wildness of McCoy. The Socker hurler walked Jackie Wilcox, Chick Fowler and Manager Jackie Sullivan to lead off the initial frame. He induced Virgil Richardson to fly out to left field, Wilcox scoring after the catch.

Don Moore, who had three for four last night, stepped into a pitch for a double to right field, scoring Fowler and sending Sullivan to third. Frank Boothe hit a long drive to right centerfield and Manager Art Bowland played hot potatoes with it, allowing Sullivan to score and Boothe to reach second. McAlexander then stepped into the next pitch and sent it into the screening over the left field wall.

Pete Zmitrovich relieved McCoy later that inning and got by all right until the third inning, when an error, three free trips to first, a double and a home run by Fowler had him reeling.

Ramsey Gets Double

Ramsey led off with a screeching double to left field and went to third on Len Glica's error that gave Wilcox life. Fowler then stepped into Zmitrovich's first pitch and lofted it high and handsome over the left field netting for three runs.

Sullivan kept the rally going with a walk and Virgil Richardson picked up a hit and run single to left field. Don Moore walked, loading the sacks, but Frank Boothe and McAlexander went down to relieve the pressure. At this point Zmitrovich momentarily lost control again and walked Charley Scarborough, forcing in Sullivan with the tenth run.

Martin Is Tagged

Ramsey, a little tense in his first start, had his worst inning in the fourth. He walked Lynn Stone, but he was forced at second by Ernie Fallapino. Then Jim McNulty walked and Len Neil sliced a single to center scoring Fallapino.

After Zmitrovich filed to left, Glica walked and Frank Means, a hard man to get out, doubled to left scoring McNulty and Neal. When Fowler bobbled the ball, Glica also scored and Means went to third, where he died on Beran's ground out.

Three fast double plays by the Hubbers helped Ramsey along the victory trail, but it remained for Boothe to steal the fielding spotlight. The rightfielder picked up Milt Martin's single and got McNulty at third with a beautiful peg, after McNulty had tried to go all the way from first.

Seconds later McAlexander stopped a hot drive by Zmitrovich with his body, recovering in time to nail Martin going into third to retire the side. Martin chased Umpire Welch across the diamond, grabbed the arbiter and seemed to be threatening him. After the entire Abilene team milled around, Umpire Smith restored order without a fracas.

Lamesa Falls To Pampa Nine, 5-1

PAMPA, May 11 (Special)—Big George Payte limited the Lamesa Loboes to two hits here tonight to give the Pampa Oilers a well-played 5-1 victory over the South Plains nine.

Payte, steady right-hander, had a no-hit, no-run game with one out in the ninth, but the Loboes' I. B. Palmer slammed out a single and Bob Murphy connected for a double to mar his bid for fame. Despite the last minute safeties by the Lamesans, Payte was never pressed as he gave probably the best twirling demonstration here this year.

Paul Cook turned in a creditable mound job for the Loboes, but the Oilers bunched their five hits for three tallies in the fifth stanza and two more in the eighth.

Louis Plans Fight On $500,000 Suit

CHICAGO, May 11 (INS)—Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis charged through his attorney today that he had been served an improper summons in a $500,000 alienation of affections suit filed against him in Chicago April 2.

Attorney Truman K. Gibson, who filed an appearance in the case today, said the summons should have been served on Louis at his present residence in New York. He asserted that, instead, the summons was left with Louis' wife at her home in Chicago.

Gibson said, however, that this doesn't mean Louis is trying to evade the issue. Joe's anxious for a showdown in the suit. Gibson indicated Louis will take on a court fight in the suit filed by the Rev. Matthew C. Faulkner of Atlanta, Ga., as soon as he's through with his June 23 title rematch against Jersey Joe Walcott in New York.

Rev. Faulkner cited Louis as cause of estrangement between himself and his wife, 26-year-old model Mattie Carrie Faulkner.

Jim Busby Leads Southwest Conference Hitters With .551

DALLAS, May 11 (AP)—Jim Busby of Texas Christian, called by the scouts the top prospect in the Southwest conference, continues to pace the circuit's baseball race in batting.

Busby has clouted 27 hits in 49 trips to the plate for an average of .551.

Bobby Layne of Texas, who has won 27 games in four years of conference pitching and will wind up his career this week-end at Austin against Texas A. and M., tops the hurlers with five victories and no defeats.

Texas A. and M. leads in club batting with an average of .306 and Texas is the pace-setter in fielding with a mark of .970.

Andy Kerr Named As Fifth Mentor For All-Star Tilt

CHICAGO, May 11 (INS)—Sixty-nine year old Andy Kerr today was named as the fifth and final assistant to Notre Dame's Frank Leahy in coaching the College All-Stars for their football game with the Chicago Cardinals the night of Aug. 20.

Previously named to assist Leahy in this 15th renewal of the spectacle, which annually pits the cream of the previous year's college seniors against the current National Football league champ, were: Wallace Butts (Georgia), Jeff Cravath (Southern California), Bob Higgins (Penn State) and Blair Cherry (Texas).

For 18 years, Kerr was coach at Colgate; after a brief retirement, he became head grid mentor at Lebanon Valley college in Pennsylvania last year.

GIL TURNER IS GIVEN RELEASE

Hubbers Option Herby Pitts To Odessa; Red Ramsey Joins Club

The Lubbock Hubbers yesterday made room for Red Ramsey, their newly acquired pitcher, by optioning Herby Pitts, 18-year old native of Tulsa, Okla., to Odessa of the Longhorn League.

Ramsey, a 20-year native of Dallas, joined the club Monday

Pitts, since joining the Hubbers, has shown promise as a lefthander and experience in the Class D league should develop him into a winner. He has shown a tendency for wildness, but hurled a creditable game last week, errors costing him the contest.

Had .500 Average

In three games, Pitts has pitched 12 innings, facing 27 batters, giving up 15 hits and 11 runs, of which nine were earned. He has given up two sacrifice hits, 14 bases on balls and has struckout three batters. Pitts leaves Lubbock with a record of one victory and one loss for a .500 average.

The Hubbers still are one player over the limit, with Jackie Wilcox, shortstop, here for a five-day look. Wilcox has signed a contract, but he can be turned loose if the Hubbers do not think he will help them. In that case they will be down to the league limit of 16 players.

LOBOES GIVE VETERAN GIL TURNER RELEASE

LAMESA, May 11. (Special)—The Lamesa Loboes announced today the outright release of veteran outfielder Gil Turner. Turner, who played at Waco last year, had been holding down right field for the Loboes, and had a .443 batting average in 16 games.

Return of Shortstop Walter Buckel forced the Loboes to part with Turner, in order to keep the number of class men on the roster down to five, the league limit.

Turner, who said he planned to join the Eldorado, Ark., club of the Cotton States league, played brilliantly in his final appearance here Monday night against Borger. He had a perfect night with five hits in five trips, including a home run, and drove in six counters.

Southwest Conference Athletic Meets Scheduled This Weekend

HOUSTON, May 11 (AP)—Athletes and administrative officials and coaches from the seven Southwest conference schools are to begin arriving here tomorrow for the conference's busiest week-end of the year.

A three day schedule that gets under way Thursday morning will include the annual track and field, tennis and golf meets, and closed door sessions of the conference faculty committee, and athletic directors and coaches of the respective schools.

The anticipated highlight of the busy program is a tight race between Texas A&M and the University of Texas for the conference track and field championship.

H-SU Squad Starts Final Grid Session

ABILENE, May 11. (Special)—Hardin-Simmons' Cowboy footballers settled down to their final 12 days of spring workouts Monday afternoon, Coach Warren B. Woodson announced. The Cowboys, who are allowed 25 days of spring drills under Border Conference rules, finished the first 13 days of practice April 21.

The remainder of practice sessions will be spent on offensive tactics, Woodson said. Coaches spent the first 13 day period working to get the defense of the team set.

More than 70 players, including 30 freshmen, are expected to be on hand Monday for the initial offensive drill. Absent from drills will be Wilton (Hook) Davis, 1947 nation's leading ground gainer by rushing, and Jack Boles, two-year end letterman, who suffered a cut leg in drills. Davis suffered a twisted ankle during workouts.

SHERMAN GETS PLAYER

SHERMAN, May 11. (AP) — Don Stokes, Sherman Twins third baseman and runner-up batting champion of the Big State league in 1947, has rejoined the Twins from Chattanooga. He was sold to Washington last fall. He hit .390 for the Sherman club last year.

Phillies Nose Out Reds, 4-3

CINCINNATI, May 11 (AP)—Hitting at opportune times, the Philadelphia Phillies today defeated the Cincinnati Reds, 4 to 3, and moved into fourth place in the National league pennant race.

The victory went to Ed Heusser, who in 4 1/3 innings allowed only two hits, while defeat rested on the sloping shoulders of old timer Bucky Walters, who was trying for his 199th win in big time.

Del Ennis, with a home run, two doubles and a single, was the batting star for the winners. The loss shoved the Reds deeper into the league cellar and marked the Phils' third sonsecutive win here.

Philadelphia went out in front in the first inning on three hits, Dick Sisler driving in the run.

The Reds ted it up in the second on Babe Young's walk, Ray Lammano's single and Red Stallcup's double against the left field wall.

Neel Chalks Up No-Hitter

Jackie Neel, who already has entered the charmed circle of no-hit, no-run game hurlers, stepped inside the same spotlight again at Jumbo Webster field last night, when he shut out the Thomas Jewelers without a safety, the Bluebonnet-Sunbeam team winning a South Plains Softball League game, 5-0.

Meanwhile, in the second game of the twin bill, Cecil Hale threw a one-hitter at the Golden Light Coffee nine, while the Cloverlake team went on to a 2-0 shutout victory.

G. W. Warden Loses

Neel out-pitched another no-hit specialist, G. W. Warden, in the first game, striking out 18 opposing batsmen and not coming close to giving up a safety.

Two men reached first for the losers, A. J. Collier getting a walk in the second inning and Jiggs Jackson also drawing an Annie Oakley in the third. Both men died on the initial sack.

Warden had to drop out of the game in the second inning when he complained of a sore arm. Willie Holder took over and gave up only one-hit over the final stretch, but six hits for five runs off Warden in the first two frames clinched the contest.

Floyd Lawhorn, Texas Tech athlete and Bluebonnet centerfielder, picked up a double and single to lead the laundry team to victory.

Dewey Carr and Hale hooked up in a tight pitcher's battle in the second ball game, with Hale coming out on top for the dairy nine.

J. R. Callahan, Golden Light left fielder, singled to spoil Hale's bid for a hitless tilt.

Single runs in the third and fifth innings were enough to win the game, as Hale picked up half of his team's four hits. The other two safeties were off the bat of Doc Blankenship.

Thursday night Cloverlake will play Thomas Jewelers and Golden Light will oppose Baldridge Bakery.

An exhibition game will be played Friday, with the 1945 Bluebonnet team playing the present laundry nine and the Thomas team meeting Southland. The 1945 Bluebonnet team won the city championship.

The line scores:

First Game

Thomas Jewelers	000	000	0—	0	0	2
Bluebonnet-Sunbeam	140	000	x—	5	7	0

Second Game

Golden Light	000	000	0—	0	1	3

Yankees Block Tribe Victory Streak, 4-1

NEW YORK, May 11 (AP)—Allie Reynolds halted the high-flying Cleveland Indians today, snapping their five game win streak with a 4-1 victory for the New York Yankees. It was Reynolds' fifth straight success in an unbeaten season.

Reynolds, although nicked for nine hits, including Ken Keltner's 10th homer in the fourth inning, held his former mates in control most of the afternoon. Charley Keller, making a fine comeback, was his biggest booster with two doubles and a single.

In the second, seventh and eighth, the Tribe had two men on base but could not get to Reynolds for the big hit they needed.

Bob Lemon, the most consistent winner on the Cleveland staff, yielded all the runs before he was lifted for a pinch hitter in the seventh.

A double by Keller, an infield out and a single by Joe DiMaggio gave New York a run in the third. Johnny Lindell's double down the left field line, followed by Joe Gordon's error and Bill Johnson's single added up the final score in the fifth.

TIGERS CLIP NATS

WASHINGTON, May 11 (AP)—Burly Vic Wertz's two lusty triples, both delivered with Pat Mullin and Hoot Evers on base, hoisted the Detroit Tigers to a 4-1 victory over the Washington Senators here tonight. Virgil Truck, who required aid from Stubby Overmire in the ninth inning, scattered nine hits to notch his third win without a defeat and snap Detroit's 3-game losing streak.

Phillies Will Tangle With Browns In Cooperstown Game

NEW YORK, May 11 (INS)—The National league baseball office announced today that the Philadelphia Phillies (National) and the St. Louis Browns (American) will play the annual "hall of fame" contest at Cooperstown, N. Y., July 12.

The game is part of an elaborate program in which this year's electees to the hall of fame will be inducted into the baseball shrine at Cooperstown.

This year, the Baseball Writers of America elected the late Herb Pennock and "Pie" Traynor to the hall of fame.

Sports Study

By Earl Scudday

In the late spring flurry of track meets, spring football training, baseball and softball, some important changes have been made in the coaching staffs of the Lubbock public schools. Clarence Frazier Damron, the personable and capable line mentor of the Cowhand eleven last year, has resigned his post effective at the end of this school year and Freddie Brown, former Texas Tech backfield star, has been appointed to work with Coach Howard Price at O. L. Slaton Junior high this fall.

The resignation of Damron comes as an unpleasant surprise for Lubbock sports fans, since the young coach turned in a brilliant job with the very successful Cowhands last fall and was considered one of the most promising mentors in the entire system. Damron, who reported here for the first time last September, holds a master's degree in physical education and is an authority on conditioning and treatment of injuries.

Damron has emphasized that there is "nothing personal" in his resignation—he apparently just feels that he will have a better opportunity to advance in another system. But the loss of a coach like Damron is sure to be felt by the Cowhand squad this fall.

With the District I-AA baseball season past the half-way mark, the league teams are finally getting the schedules straightened out. Lubbock officials had to completely change their preseason slate soon after play got underway and some of the other schools were in the same quandry. As corrected, the Westerner schedule now slates a Lubbock-Brownfield game at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon at Chapman field, the Westerners invade Plainview May 22, then journey to Brownfield May 26 and play host to Amarillo's Golden Sandies May 29.

Reports from Austin last weekend indicate that the University of Texas used "sickening" tactics in an effort to impress Odessa's Byron (Santone) Townsend and entice the all-state gridder to the Longhorn fold. George Kellam, Fort Worth sports scribe, says that "While the meet was in progress the Longhorns' infiltration forces, namely Texas' track and football athletes, established a firm beachhead which was strengthened by an immense amount of flattery poured upon Townsend via the public address system each time he prepared to participate in an event."

Major Loop Clubs Crippled By Injuries To Key Players

NEW YORK, May 11 (AP)—Baseball's injury list is beginning to read like a disaster casualty report with almost as many men on the bench as on the playing field.

Only three weeks of the regular major league playing season have elapsed. Yet about 50 players have been sidelined because of injuries. They range from a sore arm to a broken leg. Such minor mishaps as beanings and blistered fingers are discounted.

Some clubs, like the New York Giants and Detroit Tigers, have been hit especially hard, losing key players for long periods.

The Giants, battling for the National league lead, must face the next couple of months without Walker Cooper, their hard-hitting catcher.

The Tigers, stunned by the sudden collapse of their highly heralded pitching staff, received a staggering blow when Third Baseman George Kell, their top hitter, suffered a fractured right wrist when hit by a pitched ball last Saturday.

Giants Hit Hard

The Cooper injury was just another in a long series of mishaps encountered by first line Giant players. Centerfielder Bobby Thomson, Second Baseman Billy Rigney, Shortstop Buddy Kerr, First Baseman Johnny Mize, Pitcher Bobo Newsom, and Utility infielder Jack Conway all have been sidelined at one time or another because of injuries.

The Brooklyn Dodgers also have been regular visitors to the clinic. Pitcher Harry Taylor, recuperating from an appendicitis operation, will not be available for duty for another three weeks.

Bruce Edwards, hard working catcher has been plagued by a sore shoulder. He is back in the lineup. Also back is Shortstop Pee Wee Reese, after sitting out one week with a sprained leg. Pete Reiser is out with a throbbing ankle.

Schoolboy Rowe and Dutch Leonard, mainstays of the Philadelphia Phillies pitching staff, are nursing injuries.

The Cincinnati Reds were dealt a rude jolt when Catcher Ray Lamanno broke a leg in a home plate collision.

The Reds had an added fright when Ewell Blackwell, their ace righthander, left the mound during the course of a game last week complaining of pain in his shoulder. X-rays, however, showed that the injury was merely a pulled muscle.

Basketball Loop Claims Players

CHICAGO, May 11 (INS)—The National Basketball league today threatened to go to court—the non-basketballian type of court, with bailiffs and gavels and things—by way of implementing its dislike for the Basketball Association of America.

Leo Ferris, who has been acting N. B. L. president ever since President Paul Walk left yesterday, taking his Indianapolis team with him, said as much today. Along with Indianapolis, three teams — Minneapolis, Rochester and Ft. Wayne—jumped the National league to join the B. A. A.

Players Are Claimed

Ferris merely murmured today that they could go as they please, but they can't take their players with them.

This came as an exciting commentary on Minneapolis' action of the moment, which was to announce the re-signing of the two stars who brought the Lakers the N. B. L. title this season: George Mikan and Jim Pollard.

Ferris, however, declared that a resolution adopted in April gave the league title to all players on teams that withdraw without permission. He added that the four jumping clubs all had voted for the resolution, and stated:

"Just as soon as (those players) try to play with any other team than the one to which the league assigns them, we'll go to court and get an injunction, just as we did when Buddy Hassett jumped to the American Bears."

Rail Strike Threat To Keep Coaltown Out Of Preakness

BALTIMORE, May 11. (AP)—It took a railroad strike threat to keep Coaltown out of the Preakness and Citation had very little company today in waiting for Saturday's race.

The known probable field was reduced to the Calumet comet and four other 3-year-olds by two new withdrawals. W. L. Brann announced in New York he was keeping Escadru there. In Baltimore, trainer Sylvester Veitch pulled out C. V. Whitney's Mount Marcy.

Mount Marcy finished second yesterday here to Sylvester W. Labrot's Bovard. Veitch said the Whitney colt finished with a sore shin. Escadru was last in the Kentucky Derby.

This left Whitney's Vulcan's Forge, third in yesterday's race, King Ranch's Better Self, William Helis' Salmagundi and Bovard to tackle Citation in the $100,000 race. All but Salmagundi who is at Garden State track in New Jersey, are on the Pimlico grounds.

Citation thus wiped out one set of challengers to his claim to 3-year-old honors.

Levelland Swamps Smyer Nine, 17-0

LEVELLAND, May 11. (Special)—Bobby Hart, star athlete of the Levelland High school Lobos, hurled a two-hitter yesterday to lead his baseball mates to a 17-0 victory over the previously undefeated Smyer High school Bobcats.

Hart pitched a beautiful game in giving up only two hits and had a strong batting attack behind him. E. C. Seifert lashed out two home runs, one with the bases loaded and the other with the sacks empty. Larry Roberts also struck a full house homer and J. T. Pugh smashed out another fourmaster with two on.

Levelland made the most of 16 hits in trouncing the Bobcats and handing them their first defeat of the season. W. A. Wise caught the game for the Lobos.

RACES ARE SLATED

BANDERA, May 11. (AP) — The second annual quarter-mile race track season will open here May 15, Franklin Simon, track manager, announced today.

'Big Train' Clements Scheduled To Tangle With Wayne Martin In Mat Feature Tonight

Sled Allen may have to widen the doors at the wrestling arena tonight to accommodate the crowd, which he expects to set a new record for attendance, when Ray "Big Train" Clements and Wayne Martin tangle in the main event.

Walter Stratton will take on Jack Wentworth in the semi-final go and Billy Sandow will grapple Ace Abbott in the preliminary. In all, the three-match card promises to be one of the best attractions locally in a long time.

Allen had a lot of trouble getting Martin, who now holds the Southwestern Junior Heavyweight title and is hard to get—for the small arenas, that is. Martin is pretty particular about who he faces and how much mazuma is waiting for him. Clements says he isn't that particular and relishes the idea of meeting Martin. In fact, the local boy says that he may demand a title crack, if he turns in a good performance.

Wentworth and Stratton should put on a good show in the two out of three falls semi-final. Stratton is popular with the local fans, while Wentworth also has made good showings. Both are clean wrestlers and both have a complete knowledge of the game.

Sandow and Abbott round out the good card, with Abbott the more popular of the two men. Both are strong, both like it rough and both expect to give the crowd a good show.

Arnoe Gains Decision Win Over Austin's Stipanovich In Bout

NEW ORLEANS, May 11. (AP)—Anthony Arnoe, 137½, New Orleans, won a six-round decision over Danny Stipanovich of Austin, Tex., here last night in a hard-fought bout.

Stipanovich weighed 135.

The red-haired Texas battler nailed Arnoe with a right in the head in the first round but the local slugger came back to ram Stipanovich one to the body that took its toll. The two then settled to matching blows and missed few punches. Arnoe was conceded six of the closely-fought rounds

RAILROADS OPERATE SMOOTHLY

Army Officers In Charge Of Texas Lines Shy From Trains

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD
Associated Press Staff Writer

DALLAS, May 11—The Army was running railroads in Texas today—and warily keeping away from all trains.

A couple of colonels, placed in charge of the Missouri-Kansas-Texas railroad and the Texas and Pacific, goodnaturedly reported they don't intend to budge from Fourth army offices here "unless an emergency arises."

The officers will act as liaison men between Fourth army headquarters and the railroads and as long as operations progress normally, they explained, they will take no part in railway operations.

Infantryman Heads Katy

Col. James V. Ware, 31 years an infantryman, is assigned to the Katy railroad. Col. Garnett Wilson, instructor of the 49th Armored division, Fourth army, is the man delegated to look after the T&P.

Wilson, who has spent more than 30 of his 53 years with the Army, smiled:

"When I was a young man and a civil engineer, I used to lay tracks for donkey-powered mining cars to travel over."

Ware, a 56-year-old, blue-eyed resident of San Antonio, said he paid an informal call to Katy headquarters today and talked with H. N. Warden, the railroad's vice president and general manager.

"Mr. Warden was very cordial," the colonel said. "We had quite a talk. I assured him that I would be glad to help in any way, they offered me office space but I really don't think they need me over there."

Wilson, a native of Waco, said he intended to pay a call to T&P headquarters. The colonel was tired—he was at Camp Hood, Temple, yesterday when he received telephone orders to report for the new assignment. He came to Dallas in a hurry and didn't get much sleep.

"The railroads," he said, "are operating smoothly, showing the good common sense we hope and expected they would."

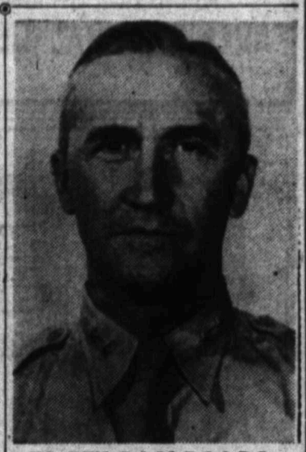

Everything was normal at Union terminal here. Two firemen and an engineer, all from Wichita Falls, looked up from their domino game in a terminal recreation room to refuse comment on the railroad situation. They would not give their names.

"I feel too bitter about this to talk about it," one of the firemen said.

"We are certainly not happy about the way things have gone," the gray-haired engineer stated.

Later, Nick Sayre, engineer from Denison, brought the Katy's Texas Special into Dallas from St. Louis on the St. Louis-San Antonio run, and said:

"None of us knows what to think about the Army taking over. We are just waiting to see what we are going to get out of it."

Water Resources Conference Planned At Tyler May 21

LONGVIEW, May 11 (U.P.)—The governor's water resources planning conference is scheduled here May 21 at the Tyler high school auditoirum with 67 north and east Texas counties invited, Hubert M. Harrison, general manager of the chamber, said today.

A program to discuss the needs of surveying water supplies for industry, agriculture and cities has been arranged by J. S. Hudnall, Tyler, coordinator for the north and east Texas region.

Gov. Beauford H. Jester will speak as will Harrison and other experts on water and soil needs.

Invitations to the conference have been mailed chambers of commerce, city and county officials, agricultural leaders and other interested citizens of the 67-county area.

Foreign And Out Of State Youths Seek Entrance At Tech

Inquiries from youths of Palestine and India and other foreign countries, as well as from other states in the United States, have added an international flavor to the mail coming in to Texas Technological college.

The long session enrollment of the current year is 6,689—representing the fall semester figure plus new students in the spring semester—and of that total 168 have registered from states other than Texas and 13 from foreign countries.

A boy from Turkey may work side by side with a boy whose home is in Lubbock, one from India or Africa or Mexico may sit beside one from Tahoka or Slaton or Hale Center.

Limitation In Effect

Considerably more persons from other states and foreign countries have inquired about enrollment in Texas Tech than have been able to attend. A non-resident requirement has been in effect the last two years, limiting enrollment of out-of-state and foreign students on a scholarship basis.

Because of large enrollment, that requirement was placed in effect so that home state students might be accommodated first.

Inquiries from other countries and other parts of the United States represent an indication both of the increasing interest in Texas Tech and of the crowded condition in United States colleges. Some youths inquire first at Texas Tech, some ask first at other colleges then write to Texas Tech.

One of the departments receiving numerous requests with foreign postmarks is the textile engineering department. At least a dozen requests have been received from Palestine in the last year, one has been received from Greece, one from a Chinese student who already is in the United States, and various requests from vicinity of Bombay in India, said L. E. Parsons, head professor of textile engineering. Several dozen have been received in the last year, he estimated.

Many requests also come from different parts of the United States, including New England states.

One of the reasons is that there are only 10 textile schools in the United States, and those schools are having difficulty accommodating all students wishing to study textile engineering.

"We have had an unusually large number of inquiries from New England states in the last two years," said Parsons. Formerly there were few requests from those states, because of textile schools located in the East, which now are full because of increased enrollment since the war.

Referring to frequency of inquiries from India, Parsons said, "There is a great need for many more textile plants in India." The same need applies in some other countries, he said.

The last two years, he has not encouraged foreign students because Texas Tech has been trying to care for Texas students first.

Out-of-state students are taken only if they have a high scholastic average or want to enroll for graduate work.

SAVES DOG

Denver Woman Is Rewarded For Act

DENVER, May 11 (INS)—A selfless act paid double dividends today to Mrs. C. W. Martine of Denver, who braved the icy waters of a park lake to save a blind dog from death by drowning.

The dog had somehow fallen into the lake and was swimming frantically in circles, becoming weaker and weaker, while a male spectator stood by in idle curiosity.

Mrs. Martine, called to the scene by her twin sons, Billy and Bobby, 9, resorted to action and soon brought the shivering animal to shore.

Her humane deed was publicized and today the happy owners of the blind terrier called to thank her and retrieve their pet.

A few hours later, the Martine's own dog—a toy shepherd lost for the past week—was brought home by a little boy who had recognized the dog as the Martine's after hearing the story of the rescue.

Long Takes Oath In Louisiana

BATON ROUGE, La., May 11 (INS)—Earl K. Long today pledged an "honest, sincere, aggressive, beneficial and useful administration" as he took oath of office as governor of Louisiana.

The 52-year-old brother of the late U. S. Senator Huey P. Long told the crowd of thousands assembled at Louisiana State university stadium for the inaugural ceremonies this afternoon:

"If I could end my term of office with the satisfaction of knowing that no child in this state was attending school hungry or undernourished; no needy deserving person was living without medical attention; that I had built roads, bridges and hospitals and provided better service to the most humble home—this and this alone would be the greatest reward in life for me."

Borrowing a phrase from his famous brother, who was assassinated in the state capitol in 1935, Earl Long said that he hoped to see Louisiana become a state "where every man is a king and every lady a queen—but where no one wears a crown."

The new governor, bitterly attacked by a large section of the Louisiana press before his election, extended an olive branch and asked for a truce. He said:

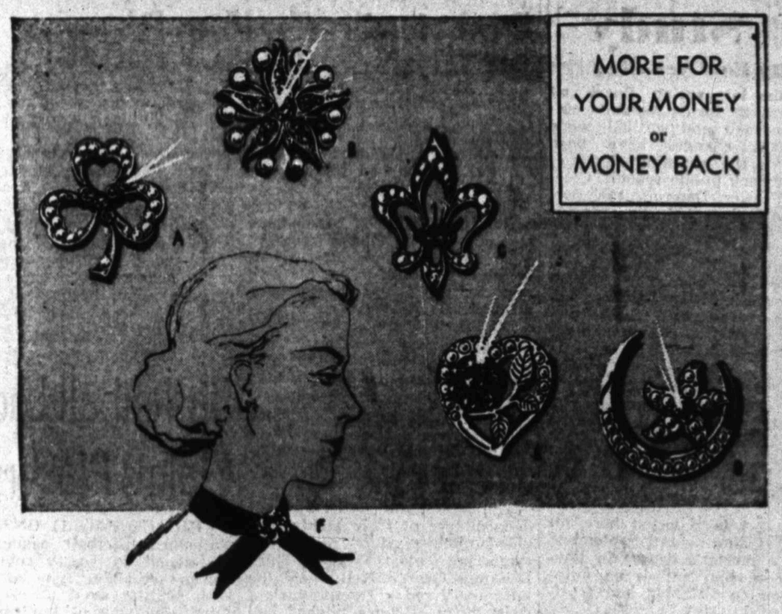

"Some are still sniping, attempting to distort my personality. This is opposed to the best interests of the state, for I am your state's governor."

BIOLOGIST DEATH VICTIM

MONTEREY, Calif., May 11 (AP)—Edward F. Ricketts, 50, known over the world as a marine biologist and author, died today.

Colonel Florence A. Blanchfield, wartime director of the Army Nurse corps, now retired, is "N-1"—the first nurse to be commissioned in the permanent Army Nurse corps, the first woman to receive a commission in the United States Army.

Entries For Lubbock's Soap Box Derby July 5 Reach 200 Mark

With the May 18 entry deadline nearing for would-be-contestants in Lubbock's Soap Box Derby, to be staged July 5, Derby Director Roy Finley announced Tuesday that the present entry list now stands at 224.

Finley also reported the arrival of a shipment of 36 sets of wheels and axles and boys with entry numbers low on the list have been requested to come to Derby headquarters in the showroom of Kuykendall Chevrolet company to get their certificates so that the wheels may be secured from the Firestone store at 1112 Broadway.

Derby entrants are not calling for their booklets, "It's Easy to Build a Soap Box Racer," as fast as they should, Finley thinks. He said the booklets are here and available for all boys who have signed up for the big race to be staged under sponsorship of the Avalanche-Journal, Chevrolet and Lubbock Exchange club.

Racer On Display

A Soap Box racer is now on display in the Kuykendall showroom and boys wishing to inspect it may do so at any time during the day.

Finley announced nine additional sponsors signed by Exchange club members. The sponsors pay a $17.50 fee, which finances a boy's car in the race, and act as advisors to the youth in constructing his car.

New sponsors signed up included: William A. Wilbanks, real estate; Geo. W. Gray Lumber Co., Black Sivalls & Bryson, Inc.; Elliott Taylor, contractor; Lester's Jewelers, Jeff Graham Trucking Contractor, Midway Theatre, The Sanders company and Whiteside Linen Supply.

Additional Entries

Additional entries in the race are:

George C. Carter, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Carter, 2804 Twenty-eighth; Jack B. Richard, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Richard, 1507 Twenty-eighth; Jerry R. Whitmire, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Whitmire, 2418 Twenty-ninth; Cecil W. Couch, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Couch, 508 Ave. N; Paul Ray Modawell, 14, son of J. H. Modawell, 3109 Francis; Joe T. Garrison, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. Garrison, 2617 First; Benzil D. Blair, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Blair, star route, Lorenzo; Daniel F. Schuette, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Schuette. Posey: Robert H. Miller, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Miller, 2424 Twenty-sixth; Dale Wooley, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Wooley, 2602 North Third; Harold D. Wooley, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Wooley, 2602 North Third; John Maurice Von Reeden, 14, 2005 Ave. R; and Joe D. Sparks, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Sparks, 2120 Seventh.

Topping-Turner Minister To Be Investigated By Church Group

ALHAMBRA, Calif., May 11 (INS)—The presbytery of Los Angeles today heard complaints against the minister who married Lana Turner and Bob Topping and referred the matter to a committee for further action.

Presbyterian ministers of Buffalo and Oklahoma City had registered complaints scoring the Rev. Stewart P. Maclennon, former pastor of the Hollywood Presbyterian church, for marrying the couple in violation of church law.

Presbyterian law requires that a divorced person cannot be married before a year after the divorce. The Rev. Maclennon performed the Topping-Turner nuptials three days after the tin plate heir was divorced by his third wife, actress Arline Judge.

The committee appointed by the church body today will investigate the wedding and will recommend possible action against the Hollywood minister.

If the Rev. Maclennon is adjudged guilty, the severest possible penalty is unfrocking.

Suffered After Every Meal Due To Acid Indigestion

SERVICES ARE SET

GORDON, May 11 (U.P.)—Funeral services will be held here tomorrow for Alexander P. Wilbar, president of the First National Bank of Gordon. Wilbar, 87, died in a Fort Worth hospital after an illness of several months. He also had cattle interests near here and owned wheat land in Moore county on which several gas wells were located.

Former Club Owner Has Confidence In Lubbock's Hubbers

Lions club members meeting for luncheon Tuesday at the Hilton hotel heard George Schepps, former owner of the Dallas Rebels, give assurances that Lubbock's Hubbers would have his continuing support, and that "for the next month at least" he will do little else but try to be of assistance to the club owners.

Schepps, who recently sold the Dallas club, with which Lubbock has a working agreement, believes that the Lubbock club, made up almost entirely of young ball players "who are going some place," is now getting into a winning stride after a slow start.

Patience Urged

Like Larry Larsen, business manager of the club, who earlier had pointed up the youth of the club's players, Schepps urged patience on the part of fans, believing that a tough and impatient fan is the worst hindrance to a young ball player.

Larsen, introducing Schepps, had said that youth was the outstanding feature of the club, and that eagerness sometimes causes errors. He cited the addition of Don Moore as catcher as a move that has settled the young pitchers who are now beginning to win ball games.

Introduced also were Mrs. Sam Rosenthal, club owner, and Hal Rosenthal of St. Louis, brother of the late Sam Rosenthal. Program was in charge of Cy Karkalitts.

Club vice President Elmer East presided in the absence of J. Wm. Davis, who with several members were at Amarillo for the district convention. He announced that the club's annual children's night, which actually, he said, is to be family night, is to be held at Mackenzie park Tuesday night, May 25. The meeting will displace the regular noon luncheon that day. The program will include free rides for Lions and their families at the playground, and a picnic lunch.

R. S. Roberson was introduced as a new member. Visiting Lions included Lewis E. Walker of Spur. Invocation was by Judge Geo. R. Bean.

Hot Race Looms In New Mexico

SANTA FE, N. M., May 11 (INS)—New Mexico residents will have to flee the state to escape a flood of campaign oratory expected from now until the June 8 primary election.

After that, things should quiet down—but not much.

The deadline for primary filing came and went today and out of the dust of last-minute entries in the political handicap there emerged a total of eight hopefuls for the gubernatorial nomination.

Each party has four contenders and they include the incumbent, Thomas J. Mabry, a former boxing champion and a self-styled cowboy, indicating a variety of approaches to the governor's mansion, and a wide choice for voters of the southwestern state.

Wide Choice of Hopefuls

Besides Mabry, the Democrats will pin their hopes on either Ralph Gallegos, Santa Fe insurance agent and former Border conference lightweight boxing champion; Lloyd N. Bloodworth o. Ruidoso, bitter political enemy of Mabry, or Gene Allison of Roswell, a member of the State Corporation commission.

Members of the GOP will have a choice of "cowboy" Bosco Powers of Albuquerque; Manuel Lujan of Santa Fe, and Philip Huffell and Ernest E. Everly of Albuquerque.

There was no late changes in the main-event race for the U. S. Senate and former Governor John J. Dempsey will challenge former Agriculture Secretary Clinton P. Anderson for the Democratic nomination.

An uncounted host of candidates for secondary state offices should provide plenty of action during the lulls, if any.

Civil Service Announces Jobs For Printers And Scientists

Two examinations have been announced by the Civil Service commission, one for printers in the government printing office in Washington, D. C., and the other for chemist, engineer, physicist, mathematician and metalurgist with the Potomoc River Naval command in Wasihngton and vicinity.

No written tests are required for either examination. Salary for printer jobs is $2.12 an hour. The jobs are Monotype keyboard and slug machine operators, with stipulated minimum production requirements.

For the naval command posts, which pay from $3,397 to $5,905 a year, experience and education requirements are set up.

Information and forms are available at the office of Elmer Potts, Room 217 Postoffice building here, secretary of the local board.

YOUNGER MAN IS WANTED

Senator Capper Loses Support Of Influential Kansas City Star

LAWRENCE, Kans., May 11 (INS)—Eighty-three-year-old Sen. Arthur Capper (R-Kans.) veteran of nearly 30 years in the upper house, today publicly lost the support of influential Roy A. Roberts, president of the Kansas City Star.

Capper announced recently he would be a candidate for a sixth consecutive term.

Roberts, former Star managing editor and Washington correspondent broke his long-time political association with Capper at an honors convocation at the University of Kansas.

Tried To Be Kind

The Kansas City newspaper executive declared:

"I have tried to be kind to Mr Capper. I love him.

"But I don't want to have a man 80 or 90 years old representing us in writing the treaty (ending World War II) that will affect you students and my grandson.

"I want a younger, more aggressive, energetic man to deal with the peace of the world—and I say this with all kindness to Sen. Capper."

Roberts did not say whether he would support the candidacy of former Gov. Andrew Schoeppel who is opposing Capper, a Topeka publisher.

Senator Knew Of Stand

The Kansas City newsman revealed that Capper knew he would not have had the Star's support before he announced his candidacy. Roberts described a meeting with the senator:

"Just the other day, before Arthur announced . . . he came in to see me. I said:

"'Arthur, you have every right in the world to run. I have never told a man to get into a race, or to get out.'

"Sen. Capper then told me he merely wanted to know whether the Star would support him. I said 'no.'"

Capper and his experiences and position as chairman of the Senate Committee on Agriculture and second-ranking member of the Senate Foreign Relations committee were praised by Roberts. But, he added:

"I believe we'll have peace in my generation, but the next 25 years are not going to be comfortable."

Demo Bloc Suggested

western coalition to seek a louder voice in party affairs, Jester said that Gov. William Lee Knous of Colorado, Roy Turner of Oklahoma and Thomas J. Mabry of New Mexico have given their approval. He has written all southern governors about the matter, and said he hoped the idea would catch on with Texas Democrats as well.

Texas Democrats have been unhappy since the two-thirds rule in nominating presidential candidates in national conventions was abolished. Jester said he thought a coalition of the South and West would give those regions a louder voice in party affairs.

Jester To Announce Plans

Jester also told his press conference today he would make up his mind soon on when to announce his own political plans. He is regarded as a certain candidate for reelection.

Other state political developments today:

Announcement by Rep. Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex) of Johnson City, that he would make known his political plans tomorrow or Thursday. Johnson has been frequently mentioned as a possible candidate for the U. S. Senate, to succeed W. Lee O'Daniel. The deadline for filing for a place on the ballot for representative in Congress is Monday and the deadline for filing for Senateor is June 7.

Announcement by the Republican state executive committee in Dallas that it would nominate county, district and state candidates in convention.

In San Antonio, the executive committe of the Texas Progressive party met to certify the name of Henry Wallace as its choice as a candidate for president. Certification will be made to the secretary of state.

Former Grav County Judge Dies After Heart Attack

PAMPA, May 11. (AP)—S. D. Stennis, former county judge of Gray county, died at 4:13 p. m. today after a heart attack suffered in the district court room here.

Stennis was associated with John Gano and Will Saunders as attorneys for the plaintiff in a $110,000 damage suit now being brought before Judge Lewis M. Goodrich in 31st District court.

He is survived by his wife, a brother who is U. S. senator from Mississippi; three sons, Samuel and Hampton of Amarillo and Hugh, a student in a Philadelphia medical school, and a daughter, Mrs. H. E. Howard of Copeland, Texas.

Stennis came to Pampa in about 1926 and was a partner in the law firm of Stennis, Studer, and Willis. He later formed a partnership with John Osborne, who died last December. He was county judge here in 1931-32.

TO SEEK SENATE POST

AUSTIN, May 11 (AP)—John D. Reed, former state labor commissioner, announced today he will run for the state Senate in District 20.

Of the total gross income from poultry in the United States in 1947, 67 per cent was from eggs, 24 per cent from chickens, and 9 per cent from commercial broilers.

them from possible injury. Windows were blown out of the gymnasium. No major damage was reported.

Austonio is 10 miles west of Crockett, which is 120 miles north of Houston.

Crops Are Damaged

The rains, however, were believed more beneficial generally than damaging. A drouth of nearly three years was broken in the sheep country of San Angelo. Almost three inches had fallen at Marshall since Monday.

The rain ranged from more than seven inches at Bonham in North Texas to beneficial showers in the Panhandle. All sections except far West Texas, the lower Rio Grande valley and coastal points received moisture. Indications were some of these areas also would get showers as the rain clouds moved southward.

Some highway and crop damage occurred in Hill county in Central Texas. State highway 171 between Hubbard and Malone was blocked by high water. Seven bridges near Itasca were washed out. The fall was estimated unofficially at six inches in the northeast part of the county. In Hillsboro 3.45 inches fell, a May record for that town.

Underpass Flooded

At Elm Mott, near Waco, a number of cars were stalled when more than three inches of rain flooded an underpass. The downpour covered the Bosque watershed. A two-inch deluge at Clifton stalled buses for a brief period. Some crop damage was reported, but the McLennan county agent called it a two million dollar rain. "It is a boon to oats, wheat and other small grains and corn," he said.

An early morning downpour at Dallas flooded a number of streets and low areas, but the water quickly drained off as the rain tapered to a drizzle. The fall measured 4.05 inches. The weather bureau issued a "mild overflow" warning for the Trinity river.

A two-day fall at Corsicana measured 5.79 inches. This was climaxed by an early morning gully washer that did some crop damage.

San Angelo Area Hit

Dust over a wide area was settled by good rains in the San Angelo area. The fall at San Angelo was 1.7 inches. The North Concho river there went on a two-foot rise.

Buses were halted by high water in the dry Devil's river draw area between Sonora and Del Rio. The fall at Sonora measured 3.25 inches.

Austin reported two to three inches over Travis and adjoining counties, definitely relieving moisture shortages for stockmen and farmers. Llano and area reported rain ranging from four to five inches. Some creeks were up. Around Gonzales the fall was around four inches.

Athens in East Texas reported six inches of rain since Monday night. Power and telephone service was interrupted by an electrical storm. Bottom lands were flooded.

Heavy rains Monday and Tuesday were reported at Gainesville, 4.48 inches; Sherman, 4.18 inches; Mt. Pleasant, 3.97 inches; and Greenville, 2.90 inches.

Points receiving moisture ranging from showers to less than two inches were: Hereford, Vega, Amarillo, Abilene, Fort Worth, Lufkin, Texarkana, Tyler, Longview, Dublin, Eastland, Henrietta, Seymour, Luling, Waxahachie, San Antonio, Cisco, Brownwood and Coleman.

Late Tuesday it was raining at Bryan and other South Texas points as the rain clouds moved southward.

U. S. Stand On Talks

sider seriously the effects of public opinion on this point.

Secretary of State Marshall conferred with various advisers today. He also received the British ambassador, Lord Inverchapel and the French ambassador, Henri Bonnet. They had not been informed of the American statement to Molotov in advance and presumably wanted to know what was really involved.

Wide Publicity Given

The American government indicated its attitude officially in two ways. Not only did President Truman issue his statement, but the State department also issued a 500-word report of what Ambassador Smith said to Molotov on May 9 after he received the Soviet foreign ministers' response to his first statement.

At Moscow the Soviet Press and radio gave wide publicity today to Russian acceptance of what they said was an American proposal to hold a two-power conference to discuss and settle their differences.

The Russian statement by the official news agency that the Soviet government "agrees to the propasal to proceed . . . to the discussion and settlement of differences existing between us" came with considerable surprise to official American circles here.

They were quick to point out that to date there has been no agreement on any actual talks, where they would be held, who would take part, or what the agenda would be.

The Soviet announcement of the exchange of views created considerable excitement among the Russian people.

INDIANS BUY FIELDER

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 11. (AP)—Oklahoma City of the Texas Baseball league today bought Outfielder Eddie Palmer from Wilkes-Barre of the Eastern league. Purchase price was not disclosed. Palmer, 23, played two seasons with Greenville, Texas, in the Big State league.

Mrs. Clarence Newton of 514 Ave. N was taken to Lubbock Memorial hospital by a Plains Funeral home ambulance shortly before 1 p. m. Tuesday, where an attending physician gave a diagnosis of pneumonia. She was, however, reported improving in condition Monday night.

Theta Rho, recently organized chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority, met last night for a business session at Hotel Lubbock to discuss social plans for the summer months, a member of the group reported. Mrs. H. G. Woods, president of the chapter, presided.

Dwight Ford, two and one-half years-old, was being treated at Lubbock Memorial hospital early today for a severe head injury suffered when he reportedly fell from a truck about 7 o'clock Tuesday night at his home in Spur. Hospital attendants described his condition as serious but not critical. Details of the accident were not known.

transportation corps, as top boss.

Royall divided the nation into seven rail traffic areas, commissioned seven civilian railroad presidents as colonels in the Army, and put one in charge of each of the areas.

Bans Are Lifted

Royall said the Army will only supervise rail operations, letting the carriers handle their own finances and other details. He said:

"We will extend our authority only as far as necessary to operate them expeditiously and efficiently."

Bans against shipments of perishable foods and produce, imposed in the face of the strike threat to prevent spoilage, were lifted.

The three unions were resentful of government seizure and court action preventing the strike. At a news conference held by the heads of the three unions, Glover said:

Unions Resentful

"Now management knows that every time they get into a dog fight the government will step in and act as a strike breaking agency."

The unions said they had scaled down their demands in the lengthy and fruitless White House negotiating sessions preceding government seizure.

Johnston said they accepted the 15½-cent-an-hour wage increase recommended by a presidential factfinding board though they wanted more changes in working rules, which also affect wages, than the board had recommended.

The railroads had been willing all along to accept the fact finding board recommendations but were unwilling to go beyond it.

Officers Named

These are the traffic regions set up by Royall and the rail president-colonels put in charge of each:

Eastern region, headquarters New York, Col. Gustav Metzman, president of the New York Central as director; Alleghany region, Baltimore, Col. Roy B. White, president Baltimore and Ohio; Pocahontas, Roanoke, Va., Col. R. H. Smith, president Norfolk and Western; southeastern, headquarters Washington, Col. E. Norris, president Southern railway; central western, Chicago, Col. Ralph Budd, president of the Burlington; northwestern, St. Paul, Col. Charles E. Denney, president Northern Pacific; southwestern, Chicago, Col. J. D. Farrington, president Chicago Rock Island and Pacific.

Metzman, Smith and Farrington were commissioned as colonels late yesterday. The other four had reserve officer standing.

Forrestal Approves Bill

The draft would be handled by local boards, and quotas would be "equalized" by crediting each state with the number of men now in service.

The bill would be effective for five years.

It would boost the armed force strength to a total of 1,994,000, counting trainees.

Defense Secretary Forrestal, asked by reporters today if the Senate bill met his full approval, said: "Yes, indeed."

An attempt by southern senators led by Senator Russell (D-Ga) to get in a race segregation amendment failed. The amendment would have given every enlisted man the right to serve only in a unit of "his own race."

House Gets Draft

The draft bill now must be approved by the Senate as a whole, and then go to a Senate-House joint committee to iron out differences between it and whatever draft bill the House passes.

The House Armed Services committee worked out its draft bill first, and yesterday sent it to the House floor for action.

This bill calls for registration of men 18 through 30, with drafting of men 18 through 25. It would raise the strength of the armed forces to 2,005,882 from its present 1,384,500. It would exempt most veterans, ministers, divinity students and some conscientious objectors.

OLD LANDMARK TO BE RAZED—Workmen were busy Tuesday tearing down the West Texas Gin at 917 Ave. G, which has been in operation at the same location since 1915. Owned by the West Texas Gin company, a subsidiary of the Quanah Cotton Oil company, the gin has served Lubbock county farmers for 33 years without interruption. Never has it had a fire which did more than $150 damage, which is a record for a wooden gin in this area. Heavy cotton wagons creaked through downtown Lubbock to the gin in the early days and of recent years it has been crowded and handicapped in ginning activities because of the heavy traffic on downtown streets. John Overton was said to be the first manager of the plant. W. E. Baskin, 1508 Ave. O, who retired last year was manager of the gin since 1923. The gin will be moved to a five-acre plot on the Plainview cutoff north of Lubbock, where a new plant will be erected, Arkley L. Bell, district manager for the company, said. Jim Webb, formerly of Robertson, will be manager. The nine 25-foot lots on which the old gin are located will be sold, Bell said. (Staff Photo.)

Thousands Of Mexicans Make Pi'grimage To Cuernavaca To Pray At New Shrine

By BOB CONSIDINE
INS Staff Correspondent

CUERNAVACA, Mexico, May 11—Two weeks ago, just down the road from the place where I am staying—the home of Teddy and Virginia Hayes—Senora Soledad Gomez had an urge to tear a piece of bark from a certain tree.

On the whitish hide of the tree-trunk beneath the removed bark there was a perfect outline of the "Virgin De Los Dolores." Senora Soledad Gomez fell to her knees and then ran to spread the word. That word, which now fills the area here, is "a miracle. A new miracle."

In the ensuing time, thousands of Mexicans have made the pilgrimage to the tree that has become a shrine. It is roped off, and its ropes are heavy with flower offerings. The halt, the lame and blind have come, beseeching a cure.

Town Is Cosmopolitan

Cuernavaca is an oddly cosmopolitan town. Cortez himself liked this place, and caused a palace and a cathedral to be built here. On its neighboring hills live some of the richer expatriates and refugees of the world, some of them in homes you would have to see to believe. In the city itself there is all the poverty one finds in any slum, anywhere, but enlarged in this case.

The cosmopolites, mostly cynical in all matters pertaining to the infinite, have decided over their cocktails that this apporition is "just another one of those things."

Some have said that the impression shows signs of having been burned on the tree trunk by one of those hot-point needles with which Boy Scouts used to draw pictures of Hiawatha. Others say they cannot see a thing, and all seem to get a chuckle out of the fact that commercial-minded Mexicans have set up cold drink and off-the-cuff food stands near the tree.

Scoffers Also Make Trip

One notices, however, that almost all of those among the Americans and Europeans here who tend to scoff at the impression on the tree-trunk have made the trip to the little grove. Some of the first to see it went in their own cars, with chaffeurs, and assumed a worldly air that offended the simple worshippers at the shrine. Now, the saying is, it is "unhealthy" to go there with swank. It is best to go, they say, with one's cook or servant and with no more pretentiousness than in a taxi.

The man near whose property the tree rests is not a religious man, and the people of the area have told him that this is the miraculous suggestion to him that he live a more religious life. He happens to be an American, and the frequent suggestions have presumably caused him to pack and go off to New York, to think the thing out.

The archbishop, traditionally wary of miracles, has taken the "new miracle" under advisement. It will be a difficult decision for him. If it rests completely with him.

Lame Come To Pray

For the lame have come here and prayed and have felt that their sticks and crutches are now superfluous. And even the rich people on the hill have remained to say a prayer and perhaps wonder at the expression of faith they see around them.

In the meantime, the image of the virgin stays there, the crowds become thicker, and all Mexico casts its eyes toward Cuernavaca and the "Milagro—Neuvo Milagro."

Mexican "White House" Visited

On a trip to Mexico City the other day I went to the counterpart of the White House, and found many familiar and also some startling scenes—being something of an old White House correspondent.

President Aleman's executive officers are guarded by big stern-visaged soldiers who march back and forth across the gates with stiff steps and bayonet-laden rifles.

Several dozen Mexicans lolled out in front of the place, many of them having their shoes shined. Just inside, there were plain-clothesmen, and then the first of a series of crowded ante-rooms. The people in the ante-rooms were, by and large, the familiar favor-seekers one finds at any such edifice in any democracy in the world.

But in addition there were women in shawls, some of them with crying children, and there were more people waiting than one finds outside of Mr. Truman's oval room. The guards near the President's ultimate door wear thick khaki and smoke a great deal.

Inevitably, there was a group of pretty girls who were fronting for a new fund-raising enterprise, with photographers in the offing. The president saw and dismissed his callers on what seemed to be a three-minute schedule. Everybody seemed to come out happy.

There was one notable difference—few, if any, reporters. The presidente has not been seeing reporters lately.

rights. They say they can muster the votes to beat the anti-segregation amendment.

Morse says if his amendment comes to a vote and fails, he will attempt to throw in major provisions of Mr. Truman's civil rights program, including anti-lynching, anti-poll tax and anti-job discrimination amendments, thus raising "the whole question of civil rights."

Morse declared he wants his own Republican party to express itself. He thinks a test of its sincerity on its platform planks on civil rights should be made.

Senator Wherry (R-Neb.), acting Republican floor leader, told reporters he planned to hold the Senate rather late tomorrow in an effort to get a vote on recommital. He called it the first test for the bill and said the Senate might as well find out one time as another what it is going to do about it.

A half dozen or more senators plan to talk tomorrow, including two southerners, Senators Sparkman (D-Ala.) and Holland (D-Fla.).

Southerners showed little inclination to force a showdown on civil rights at this time.

The top winner among those named above will not be revealed until the La Ventana is issued sometime near the first of June.

The group was presented both Monday and Tuesday nights during performances of "The Phenomena," the Tech Varsity Show at Lubbock High school. Another near-sellout crowd attended the second night's program last night. Third and final performance of the musical comedy is slated tonight at 8:15 p. m.

At Orange city hospital attendants said Miss Cordell was in a serious condition but that she had a good chance to recover.

Auto Strike Set

Chrysler admitted during long negotiations that a 17-cent raise was needed to offset higher living costs.

The company denied making any such statement.

"With complete disregard for the public good," the union statement continued, "Chrysler Corp. has left its employes with no alternative but to go on strike.

"In doing so," it continued, "they will have the complete moral and financial support of the UAW-CIO and the CIO."

Conder said court action to delay the strike "has not been considered" by the corporation.

"We have been negotiating with the idea we could avert a strike," Conder told newsmen.

The federal conciliators announcement of failure in their attempts to head off the strike came after their day-long conferences with the union and company.

The federal men conferred separately with the two principals most of the day, with the only joint meeting having been arranged early tonight. It lasted only a few minutes.

Shortly afterward, Kotin announced termination of conciliation efforts.

The auto industry was braced for the probable strike—the first major strike in the industry in two years.

DEWEY BACKERS ANGERED OVER RUSH FOR DEBATE

PORTLAND, Ore., May 11 (INS)—Supporters of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey were openly angered tonight when Oregon headquarters for Harold E. Stassen tried to schedule the Dewey-Stassen debate for tomorrow night.

Robert A. Elliott, manager of Stassen's Oregon campaign, sent a wire to John C. Higgins, chairman of the Oregon Dewey-for-president committee, and to newsmen, saying:

"Arrangements now completed for Portland ice arena eight p. m. meeting May 12th. Mr. Stassen has rearranged schedule to arrive in time to debate and will gladly share platform with Gov. Dewey in debate of vital national issues, including menace of Communism."

Higgins called Elliott's action "neither reasonable nor courteous" and said Dewey will carry through his plan to speak tomorrow night in Pendleton, Ore. He declared:

"Mr. Elliott announced the debate for Wednesday within an hour after Mr. Dewey sent a telegram accepting the debate. Mr. Elliott seems to have taken the matter into his own hands upon the assumption that he and Mr. Stassen could alone determine the time and place and arrangements."

Teen-Age Youth Is Seriously Injured At Marshall Airport

MARSHALL, May 11. (AP) — A teen-age boy was found, seriously injured, in one of two wrecked planes at the Marshall airport late today.

Deputy Sheriff Hulon Huffman said a brother of the boy identified him as Edward Corpier, 15, of Woodlawn, a rural community six miles north of Marshall.

W. W. Sanders, the airport manager, said he found the boy in a plane which had cracked up in a field next to the airport. He was taken to Kahn Memorial hospital here, where he was in a state of shock. He suffered lacerations and a possible skull fracture.

Sanders said he and an assistant had locked the airport hangar and left, the assistant for supper, Sanders for the night.

When the assitant, Bill Gurbetz, returned, he found one plane wrecked on the airport field, its tail in the air. He called Sanders. The manager said he saw the other plane as he neared the airport on his return there; investigated, and discovered the injured boy in it.

Huffman said the plane in which the boy was found was virtually demolished, and apparently had gotten off the ground.

Top Golf Stars Will Compete In Tourney

FORT WORTH, May 11 (AP)—Twenty of golfdom's 25 leading money winners for 1948 will compete in the third $15,000 National Invitation starting two weeks from Thursday over the Colonial Country club.

Last-minute decisions by Chick Harbert, Herman Barron and Amateur Skee Reigel to decline their invitations left a field of 31 top swingers on the list as of Tuesday. There are 28 professionals and three amateurs.

The top eight money earners will compete here en masse. They are Lloyd Mangrum, Bobby Locke, Ben Hogan, Jimmy Demaret, Cary Middlecoff, Skip Alexander, Johnny Palmer and E. J. (Dutch) Harrison.

Reds Puzzle Officials

politics, the American people support them.

America made the usual statement that it is always willing to try to sovle the east-west differences. The implication is that Russia first must drop her Communist expansionist program and hostility against west European rehabilitation.

This remark was nothing new, but Molotov spurred hopes of another American - Soviet roundtable session soon by saying Russia also is willing to discuss a settlement. Why?

Talks Thought Confidential

Nobody but the Russians know why Molotov made public the talks which U. S. Amabassador Walter Bedell Smith thought were confidential.

American officials are suspicious of the Russian announcement.

Some informants say that if the United States doesn't make another concrete conference suggestion Molotov's propagandists again will seek to blame the United States as a "peace saboteur," pointing to Russia's protestations that it sincerely wants a peaceful world.

One Washington expert on Russia concluded that Molotov's statement at least indicated Moscow does not plan any overt hostile act in the near future.

Foreign Officials Puzzled

London and Paris officials also were more puzzled than confident about the Russian announcement.

Ambassador Smith arrived in Paris for a French vacation. Naturally he would not have left Moscow if he had known that the Molotov announcement was impending, and that such excitement would be aroused by it. Smith himself seemed more surprised than irritated by the Russian disclosure.

Informants close to him feared that the Russians had dished up the diplomatic exchange for propaganda purposes.

The favorable reaction to Molotov's announcement by all of Europe's people, including the Russians, indicated the universal yearning for peace.

One Hungarian in Communist-dominated Budapest read the Russian version of the talks and commented: "Thank God, there won't be any war."

command of the Jerusalem highway.

Fighting also erupted in northern and southern Palestine.

An Haganah communique announced capture of Palestine's biggest police station by Jews. This is atop Mount Canaan, which overlooks Safad. Safad already has fallen to the Jews.

A Jewish spokesman said a large Arab force attacked the isolated Jewish settlement at Kfar Darom in the Negev but that the settlers were holding out against an artillery bombardment.

The Arab attacks near Jerusalem appeared to have been timed to precede the attacks on the Jerusalem districts of Katamon and Mekor Haim.

Thirty minutes after the first firing broke out at midnight, the Jews still refrained from retaliating.

Jerusalem has been enjoying a semblance of peace since Saturday. Jews and Arabs had agreed to the cease-fire arrangement to permit British, United Nations and Red Cross representatives to attempt negotiation of a permanent truce.

TO ANNOUNCE DECISION

AUSTIN, May 11 (AP) — Rep Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex) said today he would announce his political plans tomorrow or Thursday, before he returns to Washington.

Two Held For U. S. Officials

Two persons arrested Tuesday by city police were held for federal officials.

George H. Lundgren, 39, is named in a federal warrant charging Dyer act violation, it was announced. In addition, officials said, he admitted in presence of police and federal authorities that he had converted to his own use and benefit an automobile as well as possibly $500 worth of clothing, watches and other properties owned by a store that employed him at Grand Junction, Colo. A state charge of theft by bailee may be drawn there in that connection, officials said they believed.

Lundgren said he had been discharged under unfavorable conditions as a serviceman and that he had been sentenced to serve from one and a half to two years in Wyoming for theft, officials said. He was using the name "Richard Roper" when arrested by M. C. McCurry, a police patrolman, it was announced.

A companion — he said he was only 14 and had "lied" about his age to the Army — was held as an "admitted AWOL from Fort Ord, Calif.," it also was announced. Police Detectives Lee Rice, jr., and LeRoy Boling, jr., said the youth was working in a bakery here, under the name of "Bill Wilson" when arrested. He was booked as Ronal L. Holt.

Police and federal agents said they had recovered clothing and a watch that Lundgren admitted having "hocked" here.

Officials had not found the automobile that figured as basis for the Dyer act warrant, they said.

Several thefts were reported yesterday, while in county court fines were assessed in connection with other offenses.

W. C. Stone informed officers that clothing valued at about $60 had been taken from his room at a local hotel. Missing was a pair of brown Nocona cowboy boots, slacks, and a belt.

Theft of a pair of shoes was reported by E. C. Thaxton, of Littlefield. The shoes, wrapped in a package, were taken from a counter in a Lubbock department store.

A bike was reported stolen from 2221 Eighteenth by Mrs. Alec McDonald. Described as a maroon-colored 'Rocket,' it was valued at $35.

An 18-year-old Lamesa youth, one of two charged by Lynn county indictment with burglary, had been transferred to Lubbock county jail, records showed yesterday.

He was committed as Glynn Boone.

A 54-year-old Lubbock man was held for Upshur county officials under investigation of felony theft, records showed.

A 21-year-old Littlefield man, Lionel O. Roberts, was fined $50 and county court costs after County Judge Walter Davies had accepted a plea of guilty of drunk driving, and Virgil Haney, about 45, of Lubbock, was fined $1 and costs for check law violation, County Attorney John Steele's records showed.

Dr. Allen T. Stewart, a Lubbock physician, had his medical and instrument bag back—minus narcotics and barbiturates that the thief appropriated when he took the bag from the physician's car Saturday night.

The bag was found Monday near the "Five Points" intersection on the Brownfield road, on railroad right of way. A railroad worker, Shelby Evans, found it and reported to a Ropesville telephone worker who telephoned Dr. Stewart.

Robert Leonard Wossum, jr., 18, was assessed $100 in fines last night following a 70-mile-an-hour chase on Main street about 9 p.m., city police reported.

Patrolmen Lynn Campbell and T. W. Dodson attempted to stop a motorcycle driven by Wossum on Avenue T between Broadway and Main. Riding with Wossum on the motorcycle was an 18-year-old girl, the patrolmen said.

According to police, the motorcycle turned west on Main, and the patrol car registered more than 70 miles per hour in the mad race to College Avenue. During the chase the two persons on the motorcycle had a a narrow escape when they swerved between two cars traveling in opposite directions on Main.

The officers made the arrest at College Avenue. At the police station, a fine of $50 was paid on a charge of speeding 70 miles per hour, $25 on a reckless driving charge, and $25 on a charge of racing with a motorcycle. Wossum pleaded guilty to all charges, police stated.

Need For Doctors May Delay VA Expansion

WASHINGTON, May 11 (AP)—Expansion of the Veterans administration hospital at Amarillo, Rep. Worley (D-Tex) said today, depends largely on the availability of doctors in that part of Texas.

He talked to a reporter after a two-hour conference with Maj. Gen. Carl Gray, Veterans administrator, and other VA officials, concerning a proposed 350-bed enlargement of the present 156-bed Amarillo medical center.

"We've got to convince the Veterans administration that we have ample qualified medical personnel to care for 500 patients," Worley added.

"There is a great need for expansion of the hospital, which serves not only the Texas Panhandle but parts of Oklahoma, New Mexico and Kansas. The question is whether there are enough doctors available."

He said he has asked the Budget bureau to withhold its recommendation on the bill uniti he checks on the availability of doctors in the Amarillo area.

J. Frank Norris Will Attend Southern Baptist Convention

FORT WORTH, May 11 (AP)—Rev. J. Frank Norris, fundamentalist pastor of the First Baptist church, said today he will attend the Southern Baptist convention meeting in Memphis starting Monday.

Four students of the Bible Baptist seminary here will go with him and they will attempt to introduce a resolution condemning Communism and Dr. Louis D. Newton, convention president, Dr. Norris said.

He said he had been informed they "will not even be permitted to enter the convention hall."

Scouts Will Go To New Mexico

Approximately 130 Boy Scouts of troop 3 and parents attended the quarterly dinner Monday night in the annex of First Baptist church, where plans were discussed for an excursion to New Mexico June 4 through June 11 by members of the troop.

The troop is to go to Ruidoso and spend four nights, then to Mescalero Indian reservation, to Alamogordo and the White Sands, to Cloudcroft, the Sacramento mountains, Carlsbad caverns and a potash mine.

Charter Presented

Sam Henry, jr., scoutmaster, presided at the supper. Dr. F. B. Malone, representing the South Plains Boy Scout council, presented the troop charter for another year to J. L. Teal, church representative to the troop and chairman of the troop committee. Teal presented cards to members of the troop committee, Clyde C. Gibson, Lester O. White, Mack Mead, S. C. McCarty, Carl Hart, sr., and T. C. Ingram, and to the scoutmaster, Henry, and assistant scoutmaster, Jesse A. May, Joe Boyd and W. G. McMillan, jr. The cards qualifies them for another year of work in their respective positions with the troop.

Miniature eagles were presented to mothers of Carl Hart, jr., Wayne Walker and J. A. White and to wives of San Henry, jr., and Jesse A. May.

Students were presented by Panther, Bat, Bear and Seal Gull patrols.

A colored film, taken on a Scout Jamboree, was shown.

Mothers of troop members served the supper.

The scoutmaster recognized J. A. White for having been an outstanding member of the troop in being a member of the winning Conference AA debate team in the state Interscholastic League tournament.

Dean White led in singing Scout songs.

Art Exhibit Is Set This Afternoon At Senior High School

An open house of the art department of Senior High school for students, teachers and anyone else interested in seeing processes in different crafts is to be conducted from 3:40 to 4:30 o'clock this afternoon in the department.

The exhibit will be sponsored by Splash or Splatter, art club which meets each Thursday at noon at the school and is open to any student in the high school interested in art. Many take advantage of opportunity to work in the club, because art classes conflict with other work and the club offers the only chance for some to study art.

Various Displays Planned

Displays in today's open house will be those of regular art classes and of members of the club not in art classes.

Processes to be demonstrated include those in metalcraft, including etching, hammered effect and embossing of metal foil; pottery, including the coil method, cast method and probably others; wood carving, including carving in the round, relief carving and chip carving; leather tooling; water color paintings; drawing or sketching, and basketry.

Miss Claudia Neelley is coordinator of art in the public schools and art teacher in the high school. She also is sponsor of the art club.

Jack Crandall is art club president. Anne Lingle was president the first half of the school year.

LOS ANGELES, May 11 (AP)—Floyd B. Odlum, head of Atlas Corporation, announced today the sale of the major interest in RKO studios to planemaker Howard Hughes. Price of the 929,020 shares was not disclosed but a studio source estimated the amount between $8,000,000 and $9,000,000.

Nation's Crude Oil Output Hits Another High Record

TULSA, Okla., May 11 (AP)—The country's crude oil production for the week ended May 8, established another record, the Oil & Gas journal reported today.

The journal said the average daily production for the week was 5,439,195 barrels, an increase of 9,325 barrels over the previous week and 8,210 barrels more than the previous all-time high for the week ended April 24.

Greatest increases were recorded in the following areas:

The eastern area, up 4,730 barrels of 69,980 barrels; Illinois, up 3,100 barrels to 173,000; Michigan, 2,200 to 47,000; California, 2,900 to 947,500—a new record for the coast state.

Alabama, Arkansas, Indiana, Nebraska, Oklahoma, Texas and Louisiana each reported gains of 600 barrels or less.

Major declines were reported in Mississippi, down 1,420 barrels to 116,415; Kansas, off 1,700 to 294,700, and New Mexico, down 1,600 to 126,000.

Losses of 810 barrels or less were noted in Florida, Kentucky, Colorado, Montana and Wyoming.

U. S. Voters Overwhelmingly In Favor Of Renewing Trade Pacts

By GEORGE GALLUP, Director
American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., May 11—President Truman's request for renewal of the Trade Agreements Act is overwhelmingly approved by voters informed about the purpose of reciprocal trade treaties. People who know about the treaties vote better than eight to one to retain them.

But it may come as a shock to educators and national leaders to realize that, after fourteen years of debate over Cordell Hull's trade treaty program, the vast majority of voters—two out of three — do not know what "reciprocal trade treaties" are.

GALLUP

Since the whole question of tariff rates is complicated, the Institute used its method of question design which makes it possible to analyze every facet of opinion and to sort out the views of the informed and uninformed voters.

Of the representative voters surveyed 34 percent said they know what reciprocal trade treaties are, while relatively few could give exact definitions, most grasped the general idea that such pacts give signatory countries mutual trade concessions. Under the Trade Agreements Act, Congress granted the President power to work out agreements with other countries to adjust tariff rates on individual items on a reciprocal give-and-take basis.

To those knowing about the treaties field reporters for the Institute put this question:

"Some people say that because the U. S. is planning to spend six billion dollars in the next year on the Marshall Plan is is no longer necessary to continue reciprocal trade agreements. Other people say that the Marshall Plan makes the need for trade agreements more necessary than ever. Do you think the trade agreements should or should not be continued?"

The answers:

Should be continued	80%
Should not be continued	8
No opinion	12

To test intensity of voters' views the Institute asked: "How strongly do you feel about this—very strongly, fairly strongly, or not at all strongly?" Half of those favoring retention said they felt very strongly, slightly less than half fairly strongly and less than one in 10 not strongly at all.

No major differences between Republican and Democratic voters arise in regard to continuation of the treaties. Eight out of ten in each party supports the treaties, and the same proportion exists among voters who call themselves independent of any party allegiance.

A House of Representatives committee has held hearings on a bill to extend the trade act for three years beyond next month's expiration date. Originally passed in 1934 the act has been renewed by several Congresses since then. An Institute poll in 1945 when the act was last extended, showed 75% of the informed voters favoring renewal at that time.

Supporters of the legislation point out that the European Co-Operation Act calls for participating countries to sign treaties with the United States to reduce trade barriers among themselves and other countries. The trade act, they say, is necessary for this country to carry out its part of the Marshall Plan.

Rites For McHam Infant Are Held In Crosbyton Cemetery

Graveside services for Morgan Wayne McHam, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. McHam, jr., of Hale Center, were held Tuesday afternoon in Crosbyton cemetery with Rix Funeral home in charge of arrangements.

The baby, which weighed 2 pounds 11 ounces, died at 9:50 p. m. Monday in West Texas hospital, 35 hours after birth. Its death followed only 30 hours after the death of a twin sister, Margaret, who died about 4 p. m. Sunday, and was buried Monday afternoon in Crosbyton cemetery.

Survivors include the father and mother, a sister, Leona McHam; paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. McHam, sr., of Ralls; maternal grandparent, Mrs. Opal Crabb of 2801 Ave. B.

Hollywood Worried Over Sleeping Pill Habit And Suicides

By RUTH BRIGHAM
INS Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, May 11—Hollywood—Where a man can reach fame overnight and be forgotten almost the next night—is getting concerned about its sleeping pill habits.

Suicides—and attempted suicides—are occurring all too frequently.

In fact, suicides by sleeping pills have increased 1400 percent in the past six years in the Los Angeles area, Rhoda Cross, police statistician, revealed today.

Yet California is one of the states where sale of barbiturates without a physician's prescription is only a misdemeanor.

Psychologists attribute suicides to many things, including two things that are common in Hollywood—too much success or too little.

Men Called Sentimental

Deputy Coroner M. H. Clark came up with some interesting suicide notes today, one of which proves that men are the sentimental sex. They'll even die for love.

He said:

"In all my experience in the coroner's office, I have seldom heard of a woman killing herself because of disappointment in love. And that's what tops men's suicides. The majority of women suicides are due to ill health."

Clark also disclosed that suicides occur more frequently past middle-age, with very few women under 25 choosing death.

On the other hand, he noted that young men—again for love—often take their own lives. The ratio in the younger group is seven men to one woman.

Roosevelt $3 Bill Will Be Asked By New York Democrat

WASHINGTON, May 11 (AP)—Congress will be asked to create a $3 bill to honor the late president Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Rep. Klein (NY), who describes himself as a Roosevelt Democrat, said today he will introduce an authorization measure this week.

The Treasury department confined its comment to an observation that major changes in currency are rare.

Final Rites For Ropesville Woman Are Planned Today

ROPESVILLE, May 11 (Special)—Funeral services for Mrs. C. W. Willis, 71, who died at 10:20 a. m. today in Lubbock Memorial hospital following an extended illness, will be conducted in Ropesville Methodist church at 3 p. m. Wednesday, with Rev. C. C. Hardeway, Rev. B. W. Allen and Rev. Lloyd Mayhew officiating.

Burial will be in Ropesville cemetery under direction of Rix Funeral home. Mrs. Willis had lived in Ropesville for the past eight years.

Survivors include her husband, five daughters, Mrs. N. S. Lane of Haskell, Mrs. E. M. Meeks of Mineral Wells, Mrs. Edna Ballard of Rogers, Ark., Mrs. Cozell Amburn of Aztec, N. M., and Mrs. Fannie Malicoat of Hobbs, N. M.; three sons, W. E. and R. E. Walling and J. N. Willis of Ropesville; two brothers, W. D. Thorp and G. W. Thorp of Lamesa; two sisters, Mrs. E. H. Floyd of Afton and Mrs. J. E. McClure of Lamesa, 26 grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren.

Illinois Man Wins Again On Wager For Rain In Decatur

DECATUR, Ill., May 11 (INS)—Cal Waggoner, 57, self-styled "semi-retired banker," counted his rain-gains today.

Waggoner explained that for the past 43 years he has wagered all comers that it would rain in Decatur on May 10.

He won again yesterday, saying that he has only lost nine times in the last two score and three years.

Picture Made From Nazi Films, Starring Hitler And Eva Braun, Is Called 'Amazing'

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS
INS Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, May 11 (INS)—Betty Grable gets Preston Sturges and a western all in one swoop. I told you some time ago that Pres had a little number called "The Blonde from Bashful Creek." Only he could think of a title like that, and he wanted Betty Grable for it. Well, he's got her.

"The Miracle of Morgan's Creek" was one of the funniest movies ever made, and was Preston at his best. This is the same type of nonsense that won Betty Hutton such acclaim. Betty Grable continues to be the joy of the 20th stockholders and her bosses by giving them boxoffice hits. Maybe that's because she let's her studio decide what's best for her.

Nazi Films Used

Shed a few tears, all you character actors who have been panting to play the father in the "The Heiress," the role which gave Basil Rathbone high praise and assorted awards on the stage. Ralph Richardson — or perhaps I should say Sir Ralph — gets the acting plum.

When Sir Alex Korda was here last week, director William Wyler made the deal with him to borrow Richardson, who next to Laurence Olivier, is probably England's finest actor. Richardson came to this country with Olivier and the Old Vic Repertory company last year, and received highest acclaim.

I have seen an amazing picture, "Will It Happen Again?" made from films that were seized from the Nazis — all filmed during the Hitler regime.

You see Hitler at work at Berchtesgaden. You see him during the hours he is cavorting with Eva Braun. You see her swimming in all sorts of Paris bathing suits, with the guests at Berchtesgaden, brought there to gloat over and discuss Hitler's victories. In the end, Stalin is brought in — he who seems to be starting much the same as Hitler did when the ex-paper hanger set out to conquer the world.

This is a picture to see — and extremely interesting. Films classics has acquired it, and, believe me, it's the greatest thing of its kind I've ever seen.

Crosby Stunting Again

Bing Crosby, who sticks to his tatting, golfing and family when he is in hollywood, always has a time for himself when he goes to New York.

A few nights ago, Bingo went backstage to call on his old friend, Phil Silvers, who is a big hit in "High Button Shoes." He got there just as the chorus boys were going on, so Bing grabbed a straw hat and pranced out with them.

Well, you can imagine what happened. The audience went crazy and wouldn't stop calling for him until Phil made him pay off with a song.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Mrs. Marion Bren and Spencer Martin at the Mocambo. At the next table sat David May and Beverly Tyler. A short time ago, Mrs. Bren and David were constantly together.

Redhaired Greer Garson, also at the Mocambo, with Otto Preminger, another redhead. Greer is taking a small party to the Angna Enters show Thursday night.

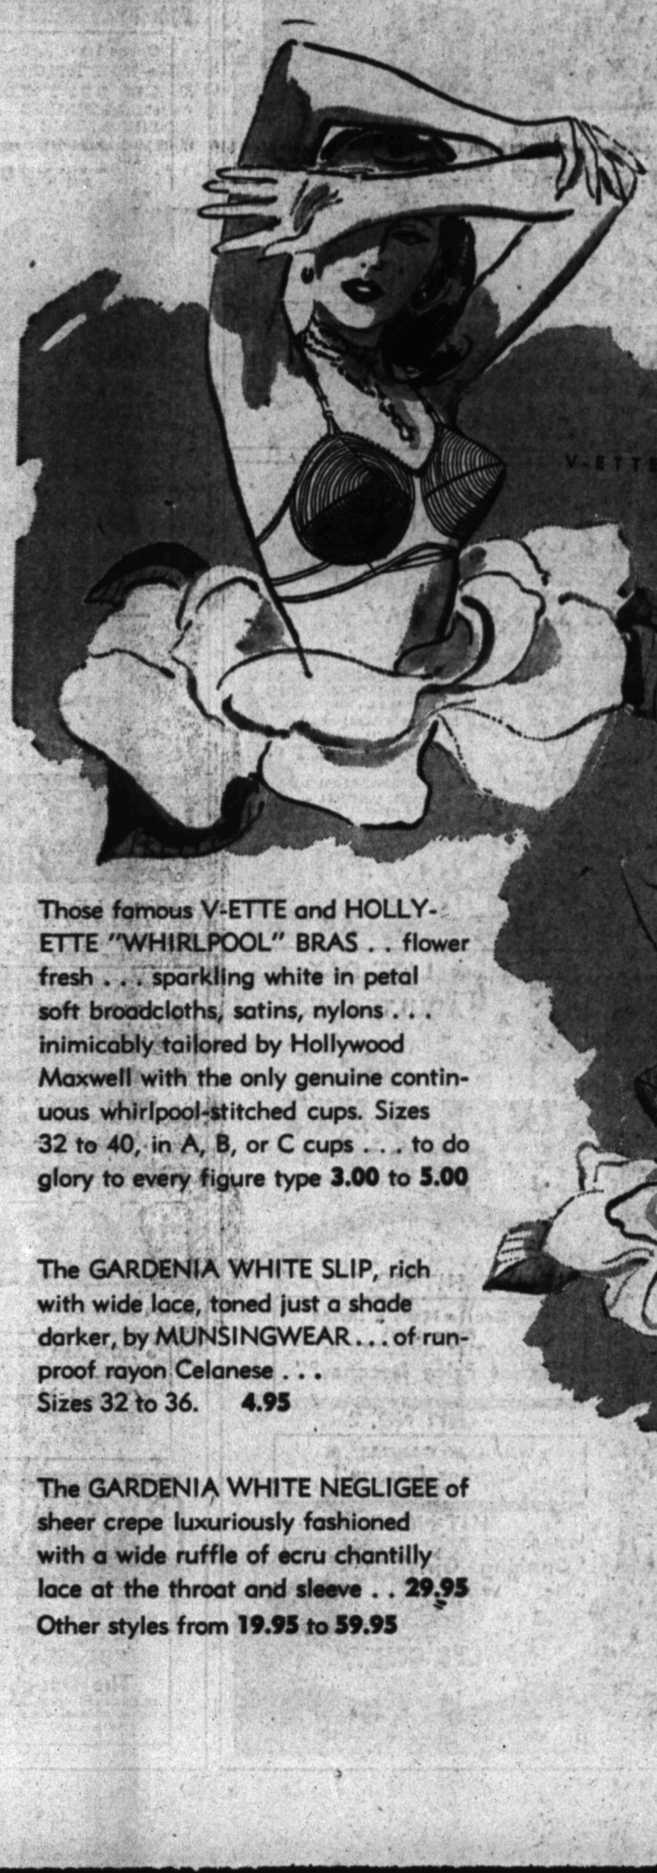

At the party of Robert Young, head of Eagle-Lion studio were Ingrid Bergman and her husband, Dr. Peter Lindstrom, having loads of fun. I couldn't believe my eyes when I saw them both dancing again and again.

Olivia De Havilland, in a trick hat made of red roses and extremely becoming, was with Marcus Goodrich, but natch, and the Nunnally Johnsons.

Leland Hayward and "Slim" Hawks looked happy dancing together at the party. Well, I guess they are happy.

I keep hearing Margaret Sullavan and George Gregson, wealthy Les Angeles business man, are together constantly. I saw Maggie looking so pretty, at the Wanger wedding reception, with Charles Feldman. Charlie was with Gene Tierney at the party for Robert Young — but they remain very good friends.

Senior High Students Presented Awards

STUDENTS RECEIVE AWARDS—Approximately 150 Lubbock Senior High school students were recognized in the annual recognition assembly Tuesday morning in the school auditorium, as their classmates applauded. Some of the coveted awards were those sponsored by the 1948 Westerner, yearbook, which were announced for the first time. Top photograph shows, left to right, Miss Grace Padley, dean of girls, guidance director and counsellor for both boys and girls in the high school and testing director for the public school system, to whom the yearbook is dedicated, Chloe T. Dawson, All-Westerner girl, and Bob and Dick Schmidt, twins given the joint title of All-Westerner boy. Center photograph shows the class favorites. Left to right they are Bill Tatum and Shelley Furr, senior favorites, Charles Galey, junior favorite, and Jim Wilson, sophomore favorite. Miss Padley was chosen by the co-editors, associate editors and class editors of the yearbook. The All-Westerner winners were chosen by faculty members in secret balloting, based on service to school, loyalty, cooperation, citizenship, character and scholarship. Class favorites were chosen by secret balloting in the different classes. Lower photograph shows Dan Davis and Charlene Laws holding the American Legion citizenship plaque which bears their names, along with names of winners of citizenship awards in four previous years. They were chosen for the citizenship award in secret balloting in the senior class. Miss Laws is secretary and Davis is president of the student body. (Staff Photos.)

150 Honored In Annual Program

Youthful hearts flip - flopped Tuesday morning as Lubbock Senior High school's annual recognition assembly was reeled off, calling over 150 students to the auditorium stage for awards. The announcements, several of which have been kept secret since January balloting, brought a close to the "Who's gonna win" guessing game of the past four months.

Held in highest anticipation during the months has been the All-Westerner awards, and the All-Westerner boy title turned out this morning to be something of a double honor when Bob and Dick Schmidt, twins, were tabbed for the All-Western boy honor. Chloe T. Dawson, secretary of the senior class, was named as All-Westerner girl.

The All - Westerner student awards, chosen by secret faculty ballot, are made on the following considerations: service, loyalty citizenship, and secondarily, scholarship.

Dick Schmidt served during the year as Hi-Y vice-president and senior class vice-president, while Bob was "L" association secretary and president of a cappella. Both boys were members of the Westerner football squad and both were members of the South Plains delegation to boys' state. Chloe, in addition to serving as secretary of her class, was Y-Teen president and very active in school musical presentations.

The Senior Favorites

Well-received by the student audience this morning was the announcement of the dedication of "The Westerner," high school yearbook to Miss Grace Padley, dean of girls. This selection was made by the editor and assistant editors of the yearbook through a secret vote taken earlier in the year.

18 Students Win Honors

Eighteen students were announced as winning honors in the Who's Who section of the yearbook. Senior Who's Who: Jo Simmons, Claudyne Young, Charlene Laws, Bruce Brown, Dan Davis, Jack Alderson, J. A. White and Bert Nelson.

Junior Who's Who: Frank Poynor, Jeannine Mullens, Francyne Cox, Kara Sam Dunn, Nancy Da-

Work Started On Yoakum Test

Operations are well underway on Fikes and Murchison No. 1, a 7,500-foot wildcat to test into the lower Permian formations in southwest Yoakum county, about six miles southwest of Plains. It is 660 feet from south and west lines of section 575, block D, John H. Gibson survey.

Drilling had reached 1,909 feet in anhydrite and shale, and was continuing. It is adjacent to the small West field, where there are a few producers from the San Andres-Permian lime at around 5,100 feet.

Waiting For Orders

Fikes and Murchison No. 17-C Elliott, on the northwest side of the Wasson 5100 field, and 1,312 feet from south and 1,070 feet from east lines of section 832, block D, John H. Gibson survey, was on a total depth of 7,500 feet, in dry lime, and was shutdown, waiting for orders. It had not developed any possibilities of production down to the current bottom.

Humble Oil & Refining company No. 1 J. G. Givan is to be a 7,500-foot prospector in northwest Terry county, two and one half miles southeast of the closest production in the Slaughter field.

It is 1,980 feet from south and east lines of section 13, block D-11, psl survey. Drilling is to start in the near future.

Will Run Casing

McAlester Fuel company No. 1 M. M. Fisher, north-central Andrews county wildcat, three and one half miles east of the Shafter Lake-Devonian field, was bottomed at 11,297 feet, in the Devonian, and was preparing to run casing and test the top 80 feet of that formation.

The project ran a three hour and five minute drillstem test at 11,248-297 feet. A 2,000-foot water blanket was used. There was a strong blow of air throughout the period.

Recovery was the water blanket; 630 feet of drilling mud and 5,580 feet of sulphur water. There were no appraciable shows of oil or gas.

A Schlumberger survey has been run and operator has ordered the casing run and cemtnted.

This project topped the Devonian at 11,020 feet, on an elevation of 3,163 feet. The sections between 11,015 feet and 11,105 feet, showed some oil on drillstem tests.

Projects To Cost More Than $200,000

Area Highway Work Approved By State

Low bids totaling $200,291 for construction work in three South Plains and area counties were among six million dollars worth of low bids on road improvement projects tabulated by the State Highway commission Tuesday, according to an Associated Press report from Austin.

The commission will open bids today on another list of projects which will bring the total to about 12 million dollars.

El Paso Propect Okayed

Tuesday's tabulation was featured by a $1,365,164 low bid by R. E. McKee of El Paso on a big downtown railroad crossing elimination project in El Paso.

Bids on the area construction projects were as follows:

M. E. Worrell of Abilene and Worrell & Watkins of Hillsboro made the low bid of $76,878 for construction of a Colorado River bridge and approaches to the bridge on state highway 350, located 20 miles southwest of Snyder in Scurry county.

Low bid of $43,956 was made by Fred Hall & Son of Valley Mills for 5.9 miles of grading, structures, flexible base and double asphalt surface treatment on farm road 651 from Crobyston to Big Four school in Crosby county.

Floyd Davis, Albuquerque, submitted the low bid of $79,457 for 10 miles of grading, structures, base and double asphalt surface treatment on farm road 145 in Swisher county from five miles west of Kress to five miles east of Kress.

Abe Mayer, Pioneer San Angelo Banker And Ranchman Claimed

SAN ANGELO, May 11 (AP) — Abe Mayer, 70, long-time San Angelo banker, ranchman and civic leader, died at his home here tonight after five-day illness.

He was a member of a family which holds some of the largest ranching interests in the San Angelo area. He had resigned last year as director and vice-president of the San Angelo national bank after serving in those positions 20 years.

Mayer was a leader in staging the annual San Angelo fat stock show and was a former president of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers association.

Purchase Of Food For China Is Authorized

WASHINGTON, May 11 (AP) — T Economic Cooperation administration tonight authorized the purchase of $36,500,000 worth of food stuffs and other commodities as gifts to China under the foreign aid act.

The allotment, the first for China, includes $13,500,00 for cereals and rice, $13,000,000 for cotton, $8,000,000 for petroleum, $1,500,000 for fertilizer, and a $500,000 reserve, mostly for reconstruction surveys.

"The initial program is intended to provide a continued flow of certain essential civilian supply imports," said the announcement of ECA Administrator Paul G. Hoffman.

The cereal shipments will include 80,000 long tons of wheat or flour from the United States and 5 ,000 long tons of rice from Siam and Burma.

The petroleum will be sent largely from the Persian gulf; none will be shipped from this country.

The $13,000,000 proposed for cotton will finance about 66,000 bales to feed into China's largest single industry.

Body Of Staff Sgt. Singleton To Arrive In Lubbock Saturday

The body of S/Sgt. Horace T. Singleton, of Cone, will arrive in Lubbock at 7:15 a.m. Saturday, it was reported last night. He was killed in Guatamala Sept. 28, 1942, at the age of 26.

At the time of his enlistment in the Air Force in 1937, Singleton was a Tech student. The body will be taken to King Funeral home in Crosbyton upon arrival pending funeral arrangements.

Survivors are the parents, Mr. and Mrs. John T. Singleton, two brothers, J. T., jr., and Allen, and a sister, LaVerne, all of Cone.

Man Charged In Friend's Death

DALLAS, May 11 (AP)—Marshall F. Morris, former Palestine, Texas, man whose pardon from a year's jail term brought a storm of protest, was charged with murder without malice today following the fatal shooting last night of a man he called "my best friend."

Morris was held last night in the county jail and released today under $2,500 bond.

A. W. Smalley, 26, of Dallas, an employe of Morris' liquor store, was killed instantly in a Dallas county tavern last night. Morris told reporters the gun accidentally discharged. The owner of the taven told officers that Smalley was killed when Morris playfully said he was going to shoot off Smalley's hat.

Stevenson Granted Pardon

Morris was given a one-year term on conviction of assault for slapping Miss Jimmie Gantt, a nurse, at Palestine. He was pardoned by Coke R. Stevenson, then governor. A delegation of Palestine citizens called on the governor, protesting the action, and the governor attempted to revoke the pardon.

Morris contended Stevenson had no power to revoke the pardon and after nearly two years in the courts, the State Supreme court ruled, in effect, that the pardon was valid. Morris, after leaving Palestine, moved to Waco and later to Dallas.

In an interview, Morris said Smalley had borrrowed a pistol as a protection against holdups and had it at the tavern bar. Morris said both he and Smalley were looking at the gun and that Morris picked up the gun and it accidentally discharged.

Police Lt. Howard Miller said J. C. Mills, owner of the tavern, told this story of the incident:

He had refused to serve Morris and Smalley any more beer. Both had cheerfully accepted the refusal. After a time, Morris pulled a German-made automatic pistol from his shirt front, pointed it at Smalley, and said: "I'm going to shoot your hat off."

Morris aimed the gun at the hat, said Mills, and fired one shot. Smalley dropped to the floor, a bullet hole over his right eye.

Mills said Morris became remorseful and told bystanders:

"I have shot my best friend."

Charges against Morris were

LIBRARY PLANNING

Is Haste Desirable?

MEMBERS of the City commission clearly share the view of most Lubbock residents that the public library for which $500,000 in bonds were voted last year should be built as soon as possible.

If the bonds can be sold early next Fall and actual work on the structure can be started soon after, most people of the city doubtless would approve. No one wants to wait year after year for the library Lubbock has needed so long.

But it will be only fair to recognize that many problems must be solved if work on the library is to be started within the next several months. It may be impossible to solve some of them. For example, if the 3½ per cent library bonds can't be sold, the only thing Lubbock can do will be to back up, call another election and vote bonds paying a higher rate of interest.

But there are encouraging indications that the problems relating to the start of construction of a library late this year or early in 1948 can be worked out. Doubtless they will be worked out if the commission is convinced that this is what the people of Lubbock want and that the residents here are willing to pay the increased taxes the project would involve.

Consequently, the first move in any effort to hasten the construction of the library appears to be up to the supporters of that movement. If they can supply the evidence that most residents want to step up the planning, the City commission can be relied upon to carry out the majority wish.

Alertness Now Needed

RARELY has any measure received such overwhelming congressional approval as the one providing more than three billion dollars for a 70-group air force. The House vote for it was 343 to 3, the Senate's, 74 to 2. The votes unquestionably reflect popular American sentiment.

Congress now faces another important job. It is confronting the duty of seeing to it that both the spirit and the letter of the new law are carried out.

Some of the old-line officers in the Army and the Navy, including Secretary of Defense Forrestal, have been more than cool to an appropriation of this size for the Air Force. It is conceivable, unfortunately, that some might attempt to throw obstacles into the path of those who will try to create the sort of Air Force Americans clearly want and for which Congress now has made provision. Such things have happened.

It should not be allowed to happen in this particular matter, and it is the duty of Congress to make sure it does not happen. Congressional alertness may not be necessary in this instance, but it will be a wise precaution.

It was hard for a youth to get a national reputation in the old days. A football player had to be in the ivy league to get famous.

A happy and free going locality is where all important questions are settled by the toss of a coin.

The modern child isn't attached to his mother's apron strings. Darn few women nowadays ever put on an apron.

Robinson Crusoe should have been happy on that island. He didn't have to worry about world conditions.

IT was beyond belief.

She stood there by the dresser, rigidly, her slim body tense and taut, and looked at the things she held in her hands.

She didn't believe it. They weren't there. She wasn't seeing them.

She closed her eyes strickenly but when she opened them nothing had changed. The—the things—were still in Rush's leather case.

RUSH'S!

She put to a tentative finger and touched the knife, the lock. The lock from the grandfather clock. It was twisted now and bent and everyone might not know it for what it was but Ann had opened the clock for too many years not to recognize it immediately. The key was in the lock—or had been—but it had snapped off in the crash so that only an uneven jagged piece of metal stuck out from the bent keyhole.

But the clock had been locked. The key had been turned. It was still turned. And the lock was so bent, so twisted, that it could not have been done after the clock had fallen. That undoubtedly explained why it was here, concealed from prying eyes, curious eyes, eyes that might belong to Sam Blanding . . . or to Ann Forrester.

She closed the case and replaced it in the drawer. She closed the drawer and walked away from it. She walked stiffly into the bathroom and was at once violently sick at her stomach. And before she had managed to regain control of herself, Rush was back.

She looked up to see him regarding her from the doorway.

He said quietly, "What's the matter, Ann?"

She motioned feebly for him to go away but he refused. He stood where he was, making no motion toward her, but staying there.

"I lost my lunch," she mumbled, hating the sour taste in her mouth. "The—I guess the relief was too much for me." It was a lame excuse but it was the best she could manage.

"YOU'VE done too much today." He came over, held her close, looked into the mirror at her pale face that was damp now with sweat. If he felt the sudden tightening of her body at his nearness he ignored it and went on talking.

"These days at the lake will be good for you. Iron out all the kinks. It's all right with Enos and Laurie. They're coming down in a few minutes. Think it's safe to leave them here? Laurie and your old beau?" Enos, strangely, still remained at Tophill.

"Oh, Rush!"

"I was only kidding. I told them we were about ready to go."

She clung to the porcelain washbowl. In the mirror her eyes met his.

"Rush, I'm not sure—do you think—"

"Sure. You'll be fine. You lie down while I close the suitcase. Got everything in it?"

She nodded mutely, her breath coming fast. How was she going to get out of this? How could she?

He led her to the bed, propped her on pillows, went about closing the suitcases with a cheerful whistle. The same notes over and over until she thought she couldn't bear the endless repetition. And then she realized, dully, that Rush was whistling, "After You've Gone."

Somehow she knew arguing would avail her nothing. In an intuitive flash she saw that if she were to save herself she had to go with him. Docilely. Like a lamb, she thought bitterly, led to slaughter.

I CAN'T do it, she thought. I'm too frightened. There isn't any stuff in my knees to make me stand up. I'll fall down if I even try and then, astonishingly, she was walking across the room with Rush and out into the hall and down the steps.

He held her arm close to his, as though he wanted to help her and support her or—as though she might try to get away from him.

This is it, she though frantically, this it it and what am I doing? Just going along without opening my mouth?

But if she should start screaming, hurling accusations again, not right and left this time, but squarely into Rush's handsome face, what would happen? They wouldn't believe her now, any more than they had before; they'd have plausible explanations for those things being in Rush's case, they'd get those same regretful looks on their faces, and the first thing she knew she'd be on her way to a mental hospital.

No, it was better to go along, without protest, without argument, as though she were happy and pleased about the whole thing. If she could keep Rush believing that, if she could allay any suspicion of her, then she might have a chance. When they stopped for groceries, or for gasoline—they might even have a flat tire—She had to reach Sam Blanding—he was her only hope.

Before she knew it they were on the front porch and everyone was being merry and Enos said shouldn't they have rice to throw and the car was ready in the driveway.

Then they were in the car and Rush was stepping on the starter and the car began to roll down the driveway and such a tremendous wave of panic broke over Ann that she thought she couldn't stand it.

"Good going, darling," Rush said, turning his head to smile at her. "I wasn't sure you'd make it. You're a good girl, Ann."

She made herself turn and smile at him. She hoped it looked like other smiles she'd given him in the past. It felt like a grimace stretching her face.

Looking At Life - - By Erich Brandeis

IT matters not that the Chancery Court of Norfolk, Virginia, found the form of the bequest faulty.

It matters not that the lady of his choice, now being a happily married thirty-year-old housewife, is too busy with her chores to think of bygone romance.

BRANDEIS

Nor does it matter, for this story, that Valentine Brown Lawless, soldier and lover, was killed in a plane crash in Austria in October, 1944.

What matters is that even in this twentieth century of materialism there may still exist a spark of romance that might well have inspired a Shakespeare or a Tennyson.

Valentine Brown Lawless was in love with a comely Virginia lass.

He loved her secretly. He never had the courage to tell her.

But he carried the love in his heart and when he went to war he made a will disposing of a $3,600 estate.

He left part of that estate to his brother.

And then he wrote his brother a letter telling him of his great love for that girl in Norfolk.

If anything happened to him, he instructed his brother, a florist was to send "one perfect rose" to his beloved every Saturday before 10 a.m. She was never to be told who sent the flowers. She was only to have the pleasure of receiving them.

The heirs did not think there was much sense to the young lover's request.

They took the case into the court, and, as I said in the beginning, the court found a flaw and set the bequest aside, particularly since the subject of this secret love said that she didn't want the roses.

BUT that is neither here nor there.

Courts and romance do not mix—and when they try to there is usually trouble.

I wish I could have reported this story differently.

I wish I could have told you how each perfect rose was delivered every single Saturday before 10 a.m. and how the girl waited for that rose each week, always hoping that some day the lover himself would ride up to her gate, deliver the rose in person, lift her on his horse and carry her off to his beautiful mansion on Park avenue, thereafter to dwell for the rest of her life in luxury and love.

Things don't happen that way any more, except on the screen and in radio.

But romance will ever dwell in the human breast.

Wherever I go in my travels, in all the mail I receive from everywhere, I see that wistful longing for romance.

And don't let us be ashamed of that longing.

Be romantic! Be a dreamer!

Let them call you a sissy if you are a man, or a sap if you are a woman.

Life is prosaic, factual and mean.

Thank God for those dreams of ours. Thank God for that "one perfect rose"!

ARNALL MAY GET BID

Vice President Sought

By RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—President Truman's political strategists have not yet foreclosed the vice-presidential field against any of the numerous possibilities for second place on the ticket. But their careful study of the prospects have led them to look favorably on former Governor Ellis Arnall of Georgia. He comes closest to filling many requirements as a running-mate.

Regarded as ultra-New Dealish because of his support and friendship for F.D.R. and his accomplishments as Governor of the late President's adopted state, a powerful argument on his behalf is that he might offset the Wallace appeal to so-called "liberals."

TUCKER

His selection might win back the Rooseveltians who, although they cannot take the Iowan, are not completely satisfied with President Truman's performance. His acceptance of Mr. Arnall would be an obvious gesture to the left-of-center faction in his party.

Another consideration advanced by the handsome Georgian's boosters is that his appearance on the ticket might quell any Southern rebellion. Although Dixie's resentment over the Civil Rights Program and the Supreme Court's recent decision on anti-Negro real estate covenants may become too deep for appeasement, even the most practical politicians suffer from the illusion that sectional animosity can be softened by this kind of appeal to regional pride.

THREATEN: Chief Justice Fred Vinson's vice-presidential stock has taken an upturn because of his decree holding that neither federal nor state courts can be used to uphold deeds barring ownership by racial or religious groups. As author of the historic finding, it is argued that the Kentuckian would have a definite appeal to millions of voters supposedly hostile to the Democrats.

The pro-Vinson case is based on some politicos' belief that, although the South may sputter and threaten, no state in Dixie will actually desert the party. According to this theory, it is safer to take a chance on continued Southern loyalty, and make a play for the millions of voters in the cities of the North and Midwest.

The only other man who embodies any appeal to the vice-presidential pickers is George C. Marshall, Secretary of State. But he has said that he does not want the assignment, and private canvasses suggest that his wartime popularity has not held up with many groups. In many sections his foreign policy appears to be tolerated rather than approved.

ENTERPRISE: Industrialists attending the recent U. S. Chamber of Commerce convention have returned home with the conviction that they have killed what they regard as the most serious threat to the system of private enterprise — President Truman's proposal to build an auxiliary plant for T.V.A. at New Johnsonville, Tenn.

The various state delegations dined and conferred with their Congressional friends, and they potshotted against the proposed addition. They report that they received promises from several of the most influential Capitol Hill bosses that the preliminary appropriation of $4,000,000 for start of the project will be killed. The total cost is estimated at $34,000,000.

RIVALRY: Although the New England Council, an agency for attracting industry to that section of the country, took the lead against construction of the steam plant, Chamber of Commerce representatives from many sections joined them. They were fought bitterly by spokesmen for business and industrial organizations of Tennessee Valley cities which have profited from migration of 1800 firms to their region, seeking cheap power, labor, tax free sites and other advantages.

This sectional rivalry, which was inflamed by Bay State Lieutenant Governor Coolidge's recent attack on the "Bilbos" and "Claghorns" of Dixie, constitutes a new wrinkle in the growing attack on T.V.A. It has made a stronger impression on members of Congress than all the old arguments which have been directed against F.D.R.s pet undertaking.

Spokesmen for the private utilities deny that they inspired this novel strategy. But there is evidence that, if they did not plant the seed of regional resentment and jealousy, they have fostered it with every prospect of excellent results from their standpoint.

PROTOCOL: Senatorial friends of Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg are peeved over the State Department's ruling that protocol gives social precedence to ex-Senator Warren R. Austin of Vermont over the president pro tem of the United States Senate. The popular Vermonter rates a higher place at the dinner table and at other gatherings because he is virtual American Ambassador to the United Nations.

Both men are extremely popular on Capitol Hill and any pique is not directed against Mr. Austin personally. He is too modest to claim any priority. Resentment derives mainly from the feeling that the decision constitutes an affront to the Senate of the United States, especially as the Michigan man is their presiding officer.

State Department experts, however, explain that, despite his position, he is "only a Senator, after all." And in their blue book an Ambassador, no matter how small or unimportant his country, outranks a Senator.

Even if he didn't, they think that Mr. Austin, as a sort of Ambassador-at-large, should be given preference because of the additional prestige it would give him at international assemblages.

EMBASSY: These are the things that give grey hairs to M.C.'s:

Representative Karl Stefan recently received from the Post Office a letter from a woman in Brooklyn. She wanted "some information about Nebraska," his state, and the communication was addressed to "the Nebraska Embassy, Washington D. C."

EXPERIMENT: J. M. W. of Nashua, N. H., anticipates that the United States will follow Britain into socialization of industry, and asks whether "the government pays the stockholders of businesses taken over, confiscates them or just drives them out by regulation, forcing them to sell out or close up."

Answer: The British pattern has been for the government to issue interest-bearing bonds to private owners of socialized—"nationalized" is a more apt description—industries. Some Labor Party members have complained that the rate of return allowed was higher than had been earned under private management. This was especially true with respect to the Bank of England.

Although many people think the U. S. has taken tremendous strides toward a mild form of socialism—T.V.A., business and financial controls, government subsidies, unemployment and old-age insurance etc.—J.M.W. seems too pessimistic for the future.

It is easier to establish socialism or a kindred economic system in a small, homogeneous country like England than it would be here. Moreover, many members of the Attlee ministry now concede publicly that they have plunged ahead into their experiment too fast and too far.

STASSEN SEEKING MORE VOTES

GOP Again Makes Bid In South

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—The announcement that Harold Stassen is opening southern headquarters in Atlanta is interesting and significant, indicating that the young man from Minnesota is going to make a real, organized campaign for Republican delegates from the South.

But it takes on added significance with the almost simultaneous showing in the Gallup poll that he runs neck and neck with President Truman in the South. This might be expected to give Mr. Stassen ideas—if he does not have them already—to try, if nominated, to capture some southern states for himself and the Republican party. This is no new enterprise for ambitious and energetic Republican candidates. It lures them periodically.

STOKES

It would, indeed, be a healthy thing for the Republican party to get a real foothold in the South and establish the two-party system there. You can get lots of southerners to agree with that. To be effective and permanent, however, such a party division would have to be along economic lines—that is, a division on economic issues between what we term conservatives and progressives. There are plenty of both in the South.

Issues Are Heated

But, ever since the Civil war, this natural division has been confused and beclouded by the negro issue and the traditional stand of the Republican party and its association with the Civil war and reconstruction, so that the South has clung to the Democratic party, with a single exception.

Because of this and other circumstances, there has been no incentive for those in the South who would normally be Republicans—and there are many of them—to create a real Republican party there. So they accept the Democratic custom, and it suits them and the conservative interests with which they are affiliated.

For it is all right with them when Republicans are in charge of the government. And, with Democrats in charge, it is generally all right, too, for they are able to send plenty of Conservatives to Congress because of the control they exercise through restrictions on the franchise both of negroes and of poor whites—the elimination of what is a part of the Truman civil-rights program.

And, when there is any real threat to their vested interests, as there was in the New Deal of President Roosevelt which his successor espouses, then there is always the negro issue to fall back upon for exploitation. That explained the big interests that supported Gene Talmadge in Georgia two years ago. It explains what's going on now. "White supremacy" is a convenient cover and camouflage.

So now the South boils up and, as usual, Republicans see an opening. It is worth remembering that the only Republican success in breaking into the solid South since the Civil War was because of extraneous issues, not economic issues. In 1928, it was the religious and prohibition issues—embodied in the candidacy of Alfred E. Smith, a Catholic and a "wet"—that diverted enough southern votes away from him to give Herbert Hoover four states—Virginia, North Carolina, Florida and Texas. That looked at the time like a start for a Republican party in the South, but there was no firm foundation in an economic division on issues.

Now it is the racial issue, not an economic issue. In their spleen, a great many southern voters seem ready to raise up and vent their wrath in extraordinary ways, judging from the Alabama primary and the Jackson, Miss., convention. They can have a party of their own or, lacking that, they can be mad enough to go off and vote Republican. Harold Stassen is an attractive figure, though he stands alongside other Republicans and Harry Truman on civil rights.

What is happening is very satisfying to big southern interests, some of them absentee-owned, and encouragement is coming from that quarter. This, however, is not to minimize the real resentment of many other folks at President Truman. They seemingly are so aroused that they are willing to forget basic economic issues—such as, for example, the current attempt in the Republican congress to check expansion of TVA which, if successful, could set back development of the south for many years; and the attack also on the wage-hour act, passed primarily for unprotected southern workers.

While some southern states might go Republican this year, the Republican party is not likely to establish itself in the South on a permanent basis until the civil-rights issue is finally settled, so that there will be a real division along economic lines which is essential for political parties.

A Republican administration, of course, could do something about the civil-rights issue, and it would be an achievement comparable to its original freeing of the slaves.

MARKET TRADING FAST

NEW YORK, May 11. (AP)—In the liveliest session of the past three weeks, stocks today hit an average high since last July although profit cashing put many market leaders in the minus ranks.

There was considerable "selling on the good news" following calling off of the threatened railway walkout. A certain amount of buying again was based on inflationary psychology and business optimism.

Aiding sentiment were reports that Russia had agreed to sit down with American representatives and try to iron out their differences. The slightly brighter peace outlook, however, chilled armament issues including aircrafts.

While declines were plentiful at the close, gains of fractions to 2 points predominated. Steels revived in the final hour.

Transfers of 1,750,000 shares compared with 1,440,000 shares the day before and were the best since April 23.

The Associated Press 60-stock composite was up .3 of a point at 68.5, a top since July 24, 1947. The rail index was at a high since Aug. 26, 1946.

Douglas Aircraft dropped 3⅝ points at 61⅝.

Bonds hardened selectively.

Cotton

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, May 11 (AP) — Cotton futures turned lower today, following early gains into new seasonal high ground. Considerable commission house and New Orleans profit taking was encouraged by the earlier advance and traders were inclined to attribute the sell-off to technical reasons.

Some attention was also attracted to Washington trade reports which indicated that ECA will control the export movement of cotton to the extent that domestic mills are assured of adequate supplies.

Nearby May was under moderate liquidating pressure, although it was believed that most of the 78 additional May transferable notices issued today were stopped by leading spot firms.

Futures closed 25 to 60 cents a bale lower than the previous close.

Yoakum Oil Test

The project encountered water below 11,105 feet.

Some interested observers think there is a fair possibility that some sort of an oil well can be developed from the section above the water.

This well is 660 feet from south and west lines of section 4, block A-36, psl survey, and about 12 miles north of the town of Andrews.

Swabbing To Test

Phillips Petroleum company No. 1 Weddell, north-central Schleicher county wildcat, 17 miles northeast of Eldorado, and in northeast corner of section 72, block M, GH&SA survey, was swabbing to test, on perforated section in the Strawn at 5,630-5,700 feet, which had been re-treated with 1,500 gallons of acid.

After the load and residue from the injection had been swabbed out the project was swabbed for 21½ hours, and recovered 14 barrels of oil, which had a shakeout of eight-tenths of one percent sediment. There was no water. The original acid treatment was a 500-gallon shot.

In Lime, Shale Section

Humble Oil & Refining company No. 1 Alma D. Unsicker, et al, slated 7,500-foot prospector to test the Ellenburger, in north Pecos county, two miles southwest of the shallow Pecos Valley field, and 1,980 feet from northeast and southeast lines of section 15, block 10, H&GN survey, was making hole below 5,702 feet in an lime and shale section, which might be Devonian.

It ran a two hour drillstem test at 5,648-85 feet. There was a blow of gas at the surface after 11 minutes. Maximum volume was at the rate of 92,000 cubic feet per day.

Recovery was 400 feet of gas cut mud, 350 feet of oil and gas cut mud, 650 feet of 42.3 gravity oil, and 300 feet of salt water.

Shutdown For Orders

Stanolind Oil & Gas company No. 1 J. E. Mabee, northwest Martin county exploration, 35 miles northwest of Stanton, 30 miles north of Midland, and in southwest corner of tract 87, league 258, Briscoe county school lands, was on a total depth of 13,416 feet in Ellenburger dolomite, and was shutdown for orders.

This venture entered the Ellenburger at 12,310 feet. It has not found any signs of oil in that formation. Several water zones have already been drilled through.

Fishing For Swab Line

Bankline Oil company No. 1 Butler, southeast Terry county exploration, in northwest corner of section 12, block C-39, psl survey, was fishing for a swab line.

This prospector went into swab the open hole section at 4,910-67 feet, where some slight signs of possible production had been logged.

The hole was about swabbed down, when the swab was lost. When the tool is recovered operator will swab down, then let the well set for a short time, and will probably treat the possible pay with acid.

Drillstem Test Run

Hunt Oil company, et al, No. 1 Allison, southeast Edwards county wildcat, 18 miles southeast of Rock Springs, and in the southeast corner of section 1, block DA-6, GC&SF survey, ran a 31 minute drillstem test at 5,525-47 feet, in the Strawn lime.

Recovery was 60 feet of drilling mud, with no shows of oil, gas or water. The venture is to drill ahead. It is contracted to 6,500 feet, to explore into the Ellenburger.

CIO Opens Drive To Stop Bill Outlawing Communist Party

By DARRELL GARWOOD
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 11 — The CIO called today for a nationwide "telegraph your congressman" campaign to stop the Mundt-Nixon anti-Communist bill which Reps. Mundt (R-SD), and Nixon (R-Calif), hope to bring to a vote late this week.

The measure would set up criminal penalties for serving the interests of a foreign government, and would require registration of the membership of organizations determined by the attorney general to be Communist "front" groups.

Letter Sent Affiliates

Nathan Cowan, CIO legislative director, sent a letter to all CIO affiliates declaring that the bill "seriously threatens the existence of bona fide labor unions and sweeps aside civil rights."

A labor union, Cowan said, might "in the heat of a strike or other dispute," be branded a "front" organization and required to register its membership. He continued:

"Such action could easily and quickly lead to crippling the unions' activities and to the blacklisting of its members and officers."

The issue may come to a head in Congress about the time GOP presidential candidates Harold Stassen and Thomas E. Dewey, in Oregon, are debating whether the Communist party should be outlawed.

Dewey has accepted the invitation to oppose Stassen, who favors outlawing the party. The Mundt-Nixon bill would outlaw the Communist party if it is found to serve a foreign government, and in any case would require registration of its membership.

West Texas Officials Hold Regional Meet At Big Spring

BIG SPRING, May 11 (AP)—Officials from 22 West Texas cities talked shop here today in the first of a series of regional sessions sponsored by the League of Texas municipalities.

Dr. Stuart MacCorkle, Austin, director of municipal research for the University of Texas, addressed the 70 delegates at a luncheon session. B. J. McDaniel, Abilene, immediate past president of the Texas City Managers association, presided. Mayor G. W. Dabney, Big Spring, gave the welcoming address.

Next session will be in Mineral Wells tomorrow.

Funeral For Mrs. C. H. Lane Will Be Held At Ropesville

Sale Of Buildings At Amarillo Army Air Field Is Announced

DALLAS, May 11 (U.P.)—The War Assets administration announced today the sale of 815 buildings of the surplus Amarillo army air field.

The WAA said government agencies, state and local, and non-profit institutions will get first pick on the buildings before they are released for sale to the general public.

The property does not include the airport area which is scheduled to be transferred to the city of Amarillo.

The agencies with priorities must get in their bids before May 28.

Syria is regarded as the original home of the olive.

Marketing Of 1947 Loan Cotton Urged

Following announcement by the U. S. Department of Agriculture that all 1947-loan cotton still in the loan on Aug. 1 will be pooled by the Commodity Credit corporation, the Texas Extension service has urged producers to give serious consideration to marketing the loan cotton before that time.

It is pointed out that at present market prices, farmers should be able to dispose of most of this cotton at prices that will net them good profits above the loan and any accumulated charges.

Loans on the cotton mature July 31, and prior to that time producers may either sell their "equity" in the loan cotton or redeem the staple from the loan and sell it on the open market.

On last March 26 loans were outstanding on nearly 170,000 bales of 1947-crop cotton from the 269,000 bales placed under loans to that date.

The USDA announcement said that at the time the cotton is pooled on Aug. 1 no payment will be made to producers, and after July 31 producers will not be privileged to order sale of the cotton. After pooling, the cotton is sold in an orderly manner by the Commodity Credit Corp., and on final liquidation, net proceeds, if any, will be distributed among producers in the pool in proportion to amount of loans on cotton placed in such pools.

New Polio Hospital Planned At Houston As Need Boosted

HOUSTON, May 11 (U.P.)—Plans to build a new polio hospital with from 50 to 80 beds were revealed today by directors of Hedgecroft clinic as the urgency for more space increased.

Plans were announced as three more cases were admitted to Hedgecroft and four more possible polio cases were reported at Jefferson Davis hospital.

The rate of polio cases in Houston proper since May 5 has reached proportions matching the 1943 outbreak when more than 100 cases were recorded.

Since May 5, when the first local case was reported, Houston has had 10 polio cases and two deaths compared with nine cases and three deaths a year ago.

Under the plans announced today, Hedgecroft would have its new hospital building ready for occupancy some time this summer. At least $250,000 would be invested in the new hospital.

TO TAKE OVER DUTIES

SAN ANTONIO, May 11 (AP)—Effective Saturday, the Fort Worth Quartermaster depot will take over all distribution of returned war dead in the south and West Texas area, it was announced today by the American graves registration service, Fort Sam Houston.
