

Texas, Louisiana Coasts Hit By Carla's 173 M.P.H. Blast

Storm Will Be Potent Far Inland

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—The Weather Bureau issued this advisory on hurricane Carla at 10 a.m. (CST) today:

"Lower warnings east of Morgan City, La. Hurricane warnings remain displayed from Corpus Christi to Brownsville. The center of hurricane Carla will move slowly toward the Corpus Christi-Matagorda Bay area and move inland that area this afternoon. Winds will die down suddenly if eye passes over your area but they will increase again rapidly to full force and from the opposite direction as the eye moves away. Since Carla is moving very slowly this lull will last from a few minutes to several hours depending on how near you are to the center. Winds and squalls will continue to increase on most of the Texas coast until the center crosses the coastline and is inland. Carla will be slow to lose intensity after moving inland and will pack hurricane force winds near the center for 24 hours. Tides will continue to rise reaching 12 to 15 feet and even a little higher in inlets and on the windward side of bays from Port Aransas area to the Galveston area by noon. Tides are 8 to 12 feet from Galveston to Cameron, La., and 5 to 10 feet elsewhere in area of display.

"Every precautionary measure possible should be continued for the protection of life and property in this extremely dangerous hurricane. Small craft from Brownsville to St. Marks, Fla., should remain in safe shelter.

"At 10 a.m. CST, hurricane Carla was centered near latitude 27.7 and longitude 96.3 or about 65 statute miles almost due east of Corpus Christi.

"Highest winds are estimated 130 m.p.h. near the center and hurricane winds extend outward 120 miles from the center. Gale force winds cover all of the northwestern gulf and the adjoining coastal areas and they will spread farther inland ahead of Carla.

"Heavy rains along the central and upper Texas coast will spread northward with 8 to 15 inches indicated for a broad area near the center as it moves inland.

"Next advisory will be issued at 4 p.m. (CST) and bulletins at noon and 2 p.m."

Two New Blasts Are Fired By Russians

By W. B. RAGSDALE JR.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Soviet Union has triggered two new nuclear blasts—one packing a punch far greater than earlier shots in the current tests.

The Atomic Energy Commission said the first of Sunday's explosions was the 100-megaton level which the order of several megatons—an explosive force equivalent to several million tons of TNT.

Although it was by far the largest fired since the Soviet Union resumed testing 11 days ago, the blast was a long way from the 100-megaton level which Soviet Premier Khrushchev has boasted the Soviets will reach.

The second nuclear device, fired later in the way on the same area as the first, was reported to be "in the low to intermediate kiloton range."

The four devices tested before Sunday's doubleheader ranged from about the 20,000-ton equivalent of Hiroshima to something in the 150,000 to 200,000-ton class.

All Soviet nuclear blasts in this series have been fired in the atmosphere.

There was no immediate reaction from U.S. official sources on the latest tests.

Because it was so much more powerful, the first of Sunday's blasts presumably produced much more radioactive debris than the previous explosions.

U.S. experts say there is no danger from fallout resulting from the four earlier tests, but continued atmospheric testing would increase the possibility of deadly radiation.

It was this danger that prompted President Kennedy and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan to join in a plea to Khrushchev to confine his testing to underground explosions, which are relatively safe from the contamination standpoint.

Khrushchev rejected the proposal last Saturday, calling it a propaganda maneuver.

In a joint statement issued a few hours later, Kennedy and Macmillan voiced deepest regret at Khrushchev's reply.

"This action contrasts vividly with the Soviet Union's own repeated expressions of concern as to the health hazards of such testing," they said.

Both leaders repeated their readiness "to negotiate a controlled nuclear test ban agreement of the widest possible scope."

Negotiations for such a ban collapsed completely after the Soviet Union and then the United States, announced they would resume nuclear tests. Kennedy said the U.S. tests would be underground.

A communique issued Sunday said the U.S. tests would be "small, peaceful, and of a type that would not be dangerous to health or the environment."

Thousands Flee Storm

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP)—Hurricane Carla, the most intense storm aimed at the Texas coast this century, lashed Louisiana and Texas with estimated 173-mile winds and battering 11-foot tides today while still miles at sea.

More than 400,000 persons fled the coast in Texas and Louisiana in one of history's major flights, the Red Cross said.

Carla halted its forward progress toward shore about 7 a.m. (EST) and remained almost stationary for at least three hours, 65 miles east of Corpus Christi.

The Weather Bureau warned earlier that Carla's hurricane winds and tides of as much as 15 above normal would be of long duration.

The 173-m.p.h. wind at Port Aransas, near Corpus Christi, was estimated by the Corpus Christi Weather Bureau office.

At a late hour the 30-mile-wide eye was expected to strike land during the afternoon between Aransas Pass in the Corpus Christi area, and Matagorda Bay, 75 miles northeast.

Farm losses will be close to $100 million, said John White, Texas agriculture commissioner.

Galveston, island city of 75,000 from which 15,000 fled, was completely isolated.

At Port Aransas, on low-lying Mustang Island just off the Texas coast, 35 persons remained; including a few citizens and a detachment of Coast Guardsmen, 15 feet off the ground in an elevated house.

They had no choice except to ride out the wind and tides. All communications to them were cut.

As far inland as Bay City, 20 miles from the coast Carla's slashing winds ripped out power service and telephone communications.

At Port Lavaca, on Matagorda Bay, 2,200 of the city's 10,000 persons left for high ground and winds reached 70 m.p.h.

Shrimping boats stop a 15-foot sea-swell. At Port Aransas, tides surged to 10.7 feet above normal at Port Aransas.

Sheet metal, poles, broken glass and trees flew through the air in Corpus Christi. National Guardsmen patrolled against looting.

Corpus Christi reported nearly five inches of rain since midnight and the deluge continued. Thousands of telephones went out of operation there.

Sarging waves tossed a large shrimp boat atop a 15-foot sea-wall. At North Beach at Corpus Christi flooded. It is crowded with beach houses and motels.

The 17-mile winds struck Port Aransas about daylight.

The Weather Bureau office in Chicago, labeling Carla the most intense hurricane to strike the Texas coast this century, said perhaps it may be the worst in Texas history.

Many towns and cities on the coast were ghost towns, only a handful of persons, mostly disaster crews, remained.

Boats cruised the downtown streets of Galveston, where water rose 5 to 6 feet deep in a 120-block area. Tides were 10 feet above normal and still rising at the island city.

Ninety per cent of the 35 by 2-mile island was under water; but at a late hour only about 10 per cent of homes were awash.

A 17-foot seawall offers major protection from the battering of high tides and waves from the Gulf side of the island, but tides push water through the unprotected back and sides of the city and surrounding area.

Water rose four feet above the docks in Galveston, a major Gulf coast shipping point.

About 200 beach homes on stilts below the seawall crumbled under the battering waves and washed away. Dreamland Cafe, a pipe structure, caved into the Gulf during the night.

Galveston's John Sealy Hospital had only 10 per cent of its electricity and power operating.

The Galveston News published a 4-page paper but there was no distribution.

At Port Lavaca at midmorning, City Manager Hugh Bowers said: "Tell those 8,200 people who left that their homes are still intact."

Bowers said winds reached 100 m.p.h. and rain cascaded down in smashing sheets. "But the people remaining are calm and we still have phones, gas and water and about half the town has lights," he reported.

There was no tide water in the city.

At Texas City, across a bay from Galveston Island, the industrial city was under eight feet of water, reported civil defense director Kirby Smith. Rescue teams began taking the remaining 1,600 to 1,800 persons out of shelters to higher ground, using amphibious vehicles and high-wheeled trucks.

Most of the city's 35,000 citizens fled yesterday.

The high winds threatened the Lower Rio Grande Valley's $30 million citrus crop still on the trees. Winds of 65 m.p.h. knocked mature fruit from exposed trees.

Schools closed in the Valley.

At Cameron, La., storm center of the 1961 hurricane Audrey disaster that killed 390 persons, 34000 people fled the courthouse steps.

Three bays surged out of their banks at Houston, 20 miles from Galveston Bay, closing some streets and roads, and the situation is expected to worsen as more rains fall on top of the 5 to 8 inches which already had cascaded down by midnight.

Four tornadoes spawned by squall lines ahead of Carla struck the Texas coast Sunday night. At Kaplan, one of the twisters killed Nancy Ann Simon, 7 weeks old, injured 30 persons and damaged or destroyed 30 homes.

UAW Begins Strikes At GM Plants

By A. F. MAHAN

DETROIT (AP)—United Auto Workers Union members began striking General Motors Corp. plants at 10 a.m. today and indications were that the huge automotive company might be shut down by tonight.

The UAW represents some 325,000 GM hourly rated workers at 129 plants across the country.

As union workers started walking off their jobs company and union negotiators broke off national talks until 7 p.m. today.

The International Union of Electrical Workers and GM announced they were extending their contract deadline from 10 a.m. today until midnight Thursday. The IUE represents some 25,000 GM hourly rated workers.

As the strikes erupted, the UAW announced in a statement that a stalemate had developed in negotiations on noneconomic national-level issues.

A main snag, the union said, was its demand for more liberal relief time from machines and assembly lines to care for personal needs of the workers.

The UAW said "the question of adequate relief is a matter of dispute in a large number of plants, especially Fisher Body assembly plants and the Buick-Oldsmobile Pontiac assembly plants."

The UAW said it was prepared to settle on a proposal made by management of the Oldsmobile main plant at Lansing, Mich., with a proviso that each worker should be relieved from his job for "not less than 24 minutes daily," with the added stipulation: "This provision shall not interfere with any mutually satisfactory local practice."

Leonard Woodcock, UAW vice president, said the union's relief time proposal was taken under study by the company and was intended to unlock negotiations, but that instead "they went the other way."

GM Vice President Louis G. Seaton repeatedly has insisted that it is company policy to provide each employee with five per cent relief time daily. Five per cent is equal to 24 minutes for an eight-hour shift.

Seaton repeatedly has described as "utter nonsense" any contention that GM workers are disadvantaged in time off the job to attend to personal needs.

A GM announcement shortly after the union's said the following relief proposal was presented the UAW at 5:30 a.m. today.

"Management will provide sufficient relief men on the production line to provide personal relief of 24 minutes for each employee per shift. This will not interfere with any mutually satisfactory local practice," it said.

Some 30 of the 129 plants had reported agreement on local level issues when the deadline arrived.

A new national wage package, estimated by the union to be worth 12.04 cents hourly in take-home pay, was wrapped up last Wednesday and brought about extension of the strike deadline to 10 a.m. today.

The DCGB set off about the same time another clatter plane carrying U.S. Army personnel and their families was called to leave. This led to erroneous reports from Shannon Airport officials and a U.S. Air Force spokesman in London that the Americans were victims.

The ill-fated airplane carried Austrian and German farm families, including a baby on a trip organized by a crop spray firm for a three-week visit to the American Midwest corn belt.

People at the airport said they heard the plane take off and minutes later the engines cut out. There was an eerie silence and all then a thud.

All those aboard, with one exception, apparently died immediately. A dark-haired girl of about 14 was thrown clear and was found alive but died later at the airport medical center.

Rescuers Dig To Recover Bodies

By COLIN FROST

SHANNON, Ireland (AP)—Working knee-deep in mud, rescue workers today dug for more bodies in the wreckage of the chartered American plane that plunged into the Shannon estuary killing all 83 persons aboard.

The crash Sunday of the President Air Lines DCGB Theodore Roosevelt was the worst disaster ever to befall a U.S. commercial plane overseas.

Aboard were 77 European passengers and six American crewmen.

As investigators sought to determine the cause of the crash, 19 bodies remained to be recovered from the wreckage.

The tailpiece of the plane loomed above the slimy, gray mudflats like a giant tombstone.

Lashed by rain, the people of Shannon toiled all day Sunday in a race against the incoming tides.

As the tide came in and again recovered the remains of the airplane, floodlights cut across the mudflats and illuminated the wreckage.

Budget For County Ready

County Commissioners this morning had before them a budget for 1961 calling for a 21-cent reduction in the tax rate.

The budget, which includes some one and one-half million dollars, has been under study for several days by the court.

It proposes a tax rate of 95 cents per $100 valuation, compared to a rate of $1.16 last year. The valuation total is $117 million.

In other business today the court was to begin studying applications for the post of county park superintendent. The park post has been vacant for approximately six months.

Pope Appeals For Wise Negotiation

CASTEL GANDOLFO, Italy (AP)—Pope John XXIII, in a dramatic appeal recalling the bloodstained half century between 1914 and the present, spoke of man's search for peace.

"The world," he said, "has no need of victorious wars and defeated peoples, but of the renewed strength of salvation and of the fruitfulness and calm of peace."

He spoke of "new weapons of destruction and ruin which human ingenuity continues to multiply to everyone's loss."

Of the choice between war and peace, the Pope said, "the thing is lost, and lost to everyone, through war. Nothing will be lost through peace."

Those words, Pope John said, recalled exhortations by Pope Pius X, later St. Pius, in 1914, and by Pope Pius XII on Aug. 24, 1939, a week before World War II started.

Pope John's recollection of the two previous papal pleas, both of which failed to avert war, lent in solemnity and drama to his message. But the Pope did not speak with despair.

He said he was "persuaded that up until the present time there is no serious threat of either immediate or remote war" because of his confidence in the "serene and sure wisdom of all men who guide the nations of the world."

The Pope then called for world-wide prayers to enlighten rulers and help their peoples rid themselves of "exaggerated nationalism and destructive rivalry."

The Pope mentioned no world leader by name. But his words were bound to figure in growing pressure, especially by nonaligned nations, to bring about a face-to-face meeting between President Kennedy and Premier Khrushchev.

With the background of the Berlin crisis and renewed testing of nuclear weapons, Pope John made his appeal after celebrating a special Mass for world peace at his summer residence in this hill resort, 13 miles south of Rome.

Radio and television carried his 2,000-word address around the world.

Anti-Communists Riot In Havana

By JOSE MARIA ORLANDO
HAVANA (AP)—Tens of thousands of demonstrators shouting "Cuba Libre, Russia No!" fought police Sunday night in an unusual show of defiance of the Castro regime.

Shots were fired as the police and militia broke up a march on the Presidential Palace. One man was killed, three wounded and scores suffered bruises from police clubs.

The anti-Communist outburst erupted after about 4,000 Cubans massed in downtown Havana for the annual procession of Our Lady of Charity, patron saint of Cuba.

For five hours as they gathered in front of the Church of Charity, shouts rang out denouncing the Soviets. Many shouted "Long live Jesus Christ."

Word that the Interior Ministry had banned the procession sent the demonstrators into a fit of anger and they started to march on the Presidential Palace.

The fighting erupted as the police and supporters of Prime Minister Fidel Castro picked in to break up the crowd. An announcement that the authorities had granted permission for the procession failed to quiet the crowd.

Church authorities stepped in and called off the procession. A priest pleaded with the demonstrators to go home.

The crowd ignored the appeals and militia apparently fired on the marchers. Many of the wounded were taken into the church for first aid.

About 300 of the demonstrators managed to break through to the Presidential Palace. A guard there talked to them and finally persuaded them to go home.

It was the first outward show of violence against the Castro regime's close ties with the Communists since the abortive invasion by Cuban exiles last April on the Presidential Palace.

The fighting erupted as the police and supporters of Prime Minister Fidel Castro picked in to break up the crowd. An announcement that the authorities had granted permission for the procession failed to quiet the crowd.

French Police Press Drive To Round Up OAS Members

PARIS (AP)—With the arrest of one accused plotter, police pressed a drive today against the Secret Army Organization—OAS—for the spectacular attempt on President Charles de Gaulle's life.

Interior Minister Roger Frey issued these orders under arrest as members of OAS.

Mai Gen.-Paul Vanuxem, former deputy commander of French troops in Germany, who was relieved of command after the April revolt.

De Gaulle was being driven by his chauffeur at his home at Colombey-les-Deux-Eglises when his car was forced to drive through a wall of flame. The flame was supposed to set off a roadside bomb, but it did not explode.

The OAS was formed in Algeria to coordinate various activist groups working to maintain French domination over Algeria. It first came to prominence in the abortive April push of the generals in Algiers. Salan is the nominal commander.

Paris has buzzed all summer with rumors of another uprising being planned in Algiers and of Salan as a fugitive. He is under a death sentence as the arch plotter in last April's revolt of the generals in Algeria against De Gaulle's policy of self-determination for the rebellious North African territories.

At least four others are being sought as organizers of the bomb plot. Frey said the vanuxem was arrested near the scene shortly after the plot misfired.

JFK Still Plugs School Aid Bill

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy put his weight today behind an effort to prevent Congress from slamming the door against action next year on a full-fledged aid to education program.

With both houses gearing for a final cleanup of legislation that might bring adjournment by the end of next week, Kennedy had to give up all hope of getting in this session the kind of school legislation he wanted.

Moreover, his supporters face a last-ditch fight in the Senate, in trying to offset House action which might make it all but impossible for him to push school construction and teacher salary aid through the 1962 election-year Congress.

Taking up its own version of a bill to continue aid to school districts congested by children of federal workers, the Senate expected to lay it aside temporarily to vote on a measure extending for two years the program under which Mexican farm workers are brought into the United States for seasonal farm work.

The House had on its docket a compromise money bill to finance the Labor and Welfare departments. It scheduled Tuesday a public works appropriations bill, followed Wednesday by an Atomic Energy Commission money measure containing the controversial Hanford, Wash., atomic power project. It may act later in the week on a Senate-passed measure to establish a permanent Peace Corps.

Kennedy's fight was aimed at preventing the Senate from going along with the House in a two-year extension of the so-called impacted areas and national defense education programs.

Administration leaders reasoned that a two-year extension would mean that general school legislation, with its controversial features, would be pigeonholed next year by members seeking to avoid going on record on the issue in a campaign year.

CARLTON BEACH, Bermuda.—Who would have thought that in this British outpost I would find myself listening avidly to a story reinforcing the tenets of American free enterprise, study personal independence, absolute democracy, a stirring testimonial that the servant problem at home is not as hopeless as it seems and a chapter in a domestic situation type comedy?

All this began when I met an acquaintance in the lounge of the Carlton Beach Hotel who said sadly, "My wife won't speak to me."

"And why, Mr. Bones?" I asked.

Expected. "If you read the story in the local paper yesterday about that big American yacht tied up in Hamilton Harbor" he asked.

"Who didn't?" I countered. "As long as from here to the lighthouse, 25 miles or so, there are taps, carpets, a foot deep, fireplaces in every cabin."

"Yes, it sounded as if at least the Americans were breaking up that Greek monopoly in plush yachts," my friend said. "In my wife and I, whose name do we see among the guests on board this private 'Queen Mary' but those of Mr. and Mrs. Joe E. Blow. Well, I went to school with a Joe E. Blow

Grid Preview Here Tonight

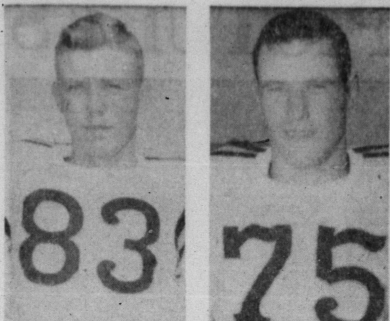

Snyder's annual football preview, a night designed for giving the townspeople a good look at each of the system's eight school teams from junior high through high school, is slated for tonight at Tiger Stadium beginning at 7:30.

All players on the teams concerned will be introduced individually along with their respective coaches and each performer will parade in full dress uniform.

All three Travis Junior High teams are to see action Thursday against Sweetwater, while the three Lamar outfits are to tackle Big Spring Rumlens. The Tigers will dive into their first home game of the season against Andrews Friday night, and the Tiger "B" is to travel to Big Spring Saturday to round out the full slate of contests coming up during the busy week-end.

The yearly grid preview is sponsored by the Snyder Quarterback Club. That organization will hold its regular weekly meeting tomorrow night at 7:30 in the high school cafeteria, at which time reports will be heard from all coaches, and the Snyder-Borger game film of Friday will be shown.

Quarterback Club membership remains open to all area men, who are encouraged to join the booster organization at the earliest convenience.

TWIN TERRORS—Billy (left) and Jackie Stewart, twin brothers and both Snyder Tiger varsity squadmen, represent two of only three sophomores gracing the squad, the other being fullback Eddie Kirby. Billy, an end, stands six feet tall and weighs 155; while Jackie is slightly taller at 6'1", heavier at 173 pounds, and plays tackle. Both were outstanding performers for the Travis Junior High Blue Devils last year.

Schoolboys 'Get Down To Earnest'

By The Associated Press

Everyone of Texas' 900-odd schoolboy football teams will have seen action this week when the smoke clears over a tremendous schedule.

All classes swung into action last week, with Class AAAA making its start, but there were a dozen schools that held out.

Heralded powers like Wichita Falls, Corpus Christi Ray, Baytown, Thomas Jefferson of San Antonio and Corpus Christi Miller get strong tests in the Class AAAA Division which also has its first conference game.

Dist. 1 is where championship action start when El Paso meets El Paso Tech Friday night. It is the first district in the four divisions that play to state championships to open conference strife.

Wichita Falls, which dripped with power in a 55-6 victory over Ada, Okla., last week tackles the little toughie of Class AAA—Breckenridge Friday night. Ray takes on San Angelo, which is just now moving into action. Baytown meets old enemy Port Arthur, which disappointed itself by falling to Houston Lamar 20-14 last week.

READY TO SHOVE OFF—The above group which took advantage of the Optimist-sponsored trip to Dallas and a look-see at the AFL opener between the Dallas Texans and San Diego Chargers is pictured just prior to departing Snyder Saturday. Following an overnight stay in Fort Worth, the delegation hopped over to the Cotton Bowl in Dallas, where the Chargers slopped down the Texas eleven, 26-10. Snyder's Jack Spikes was brilliant in the losing effort, as he tallied all 10 of his team's points on a 74-yard touchdown run, an extra point kick, and a 27-yard field goal. (Photo by Jackson)

Driver, 12 Onlookers Killed In Grand Prix

MONZA, Italy (AP)—A shocking new-outcry arose today for a limit or ban on automobile racing after a tragic Sunday in which world famous Baron Wolfgang Von Trips and 12 spectators were killed and 25 injured.

Von Trips, a handsome German and leading contender for the 1961 world drivers' championships, was smashed to death beneath his red Ferrari on the second lap of the Grand Prix of Italy race.

The veering car rocketed through a guardrail at over 100 miles an hour and plowed into spectators jammed elbow to elbow.

Other racers continued to roar around the super-speed track for two hours past the crumpled dead, sprawled at the trackside and covered with newspapers. Ambulances rushed 25 other victims to hospitals.

The toll was greater than the accident in 1967 which doomed the Mille Miglia, long Italy's great and often blood-stained open road race. In that accident, the Spanish Marquis de Portago's car plowed into a group of roadside spectators killing de Portago, his American co-driver and 10 other persons.

In the outcry which followed, open road racing in Italy was banned and the Mille Miglia since has been whittled down to a speed-limit auto rally.

The same cries were being heard today against track racing. Newspapers throughout the country headlined it a slaughter.

The Monza race, and the world championship, was won by Phil Hill of Santa Monica, Calif., in a Ferrari like von Trips'.

The American did not know anyone had been killed in the accident. After the race he stood beaming with joy as the American flag was placed on the podium.

collapsed on a bench. Companions led him away. He was too stunned to speak.

Stirling Moss of Britain, long one of von Trips' close rivals in racing, also was too stunned to speak when he learned the German was dead.

The steep-banked Monza track has been regarded as one of the safest in the world—and one of the fastest. In five major races over the past three years there had never been a fatality. But it was a linc track for Von Trips. He had been hurt in races on it twice, in 1956 and 1958. He survived those wrecks.

HOW NOW, BROWN CHOW—Barbecued chicken topped the menu following Friday's AT&T Golf Tournament at the Snyder Country Club. Here, Carl Taylor makes the most of it following a hard day on the links.

AND YOU, TOO, MR. MANTLE

Yer Gonna Hafta Pick Up Yer Heels, Roger

By The Associated Press

Memo to Roger Maris: The heat is really on now, fella. If you're going to break Babe Ruth's 1927 home run record, you'll have to increase the frequency of your over-the-fence blasts. The pace you've set so far won't get the job done—not quite.

The cold figures are these: Rog: So far, you've played in 144 New York Yankee team decisions, 10 fewer than the Bambino needed to set his record of 60. You've been at bat officially 327 times, with 56 homers, this means you've hit on the average of one every 9.41 times at bats.

Commissioner Ford Frick has ruled that he'll consider the record broken officially only if you come up with 61 in 154 team decisions, the same that Ruth required for his 60 homers. You've got 10 games to go and approximately 40 times at bats.

It's fairly safe to say they'll walk you at least once every four times, leaving only 36 times you'll get to aim for the fence. Needing five more homers, you've thus got to come up with one on an average of every six official appearances.

It was downright rude of those Cleveland Indians Sunday not to give up at least one more homer toward your goal especially since it was your 27th birthday and especially since you and your Yankee teammates swept both ends of a doubleheader from the Tribe 7-6 and 9-3.

As for that roommate of yours, Mickey Mantle, he has an even tougher task if he becomes the greatest home run hitter of all

Houston, San Diego Romp To Victories

By The Associated Press

The American Football League got its championship race going last weekend and there were no surprises in who won.

Houston, the defending champion, ran all over Oakland 35-9 for a new scoring record. San Diego's Chargers kept its record for the season intact when, after winning four exhibition games, it blasted Dallas in the opening league struggle.

San Diego whipped Dallas 26-10 on the runs of Paul Lowe and passing of Jack Kemp to jump to the top of the Western Division the first time out. Denver clipped Buffalo 22-10 to join San Diego at the head of the division.

Houston, with George Blanda throwing three touchdowns and kicking two field goals, pushed into the tie for the lead in the Eastern Division with its mighty wallon of Oakland.

New York's Titans nosed out Boston 21-20 with Al Deros passing for two touchdowns and scoring one and are deadlocked with Houston for the lead.

Three games are scheduled next weekend with Denver at Boston Saturday night. On Sunday San Diego hosts Oakland and New York will be at Buffalo. Dallas and Houston are idle.

Spikes Stars, But Texans Tumbled

DALLAS—Although his team absorbed a 26-10 licking in its American Football League opener against the San Diego Chargers here Sunday, Jack Spikes of Snyder had for himself a real "field day" with it all.

Spikes, the big Texan fullback, accounted for all 10 of his team's points during the contest. He ramblbed to a 74-yard touchdown in the closing minutes of the tilt, then followed up by booting the extra point. Previous to that, also in the fourth quarter, he had kicked a 27-yard field goal.

A large group of Snyder youngsters viewed the game "in person" as part of the vast Friend of the Boy movement as sponsored by District 7 of Optimist International, with the local Optimist Club sponsoring the Snyder caravan. The contest, which unfolded in the Cotton Bowl, was also witnessed by a large regional television audience.

PIGHIDE STAB—Donny Colwell (81), Snyder Tiger end, springs up to haul in a pass from Eddie Fhy during second half play of Friday's 22-0 loss to Borger. An unidentified Bulldog is attempting to break up the play. (Photo by Fred Cox) time. The Mick, who did manage a homer Sunday, his 53rd, has been at bat 483 times for a 9.11 average per home run. He's eight shy of the Babe and would have to hit one every 3.75 times at bats if he only comes up to the plate 30 times officially in the next 10 games.

Mantle's blast came in the second game of the doubleheader, punctuated by fist fights and arguments that both involved Cleveland center fielder Jimmy Piersall. The twin victories and Detroit's 8-7 loss to Boston left the Yankees 11 1/2 games ahead of the runnerup Tigers.

From me to you A DAILY VIEW

by Rev. R. Charles Spivey

"Saul also went to his home at Gibeah, and with him went men of valor whose hearts God had touched. But some worthless fellows said, 'How can this man save us?' And they despised him, and brought him no present. But he held his peace."

Here are some worthless fellows, they were the ones who had nothing to say about anyone; talked behind Saul's back; Didn't want to try to be friendly; wouldn't cooperate. They had a sour personality built on their own pride. But Saul... "He held his peace." "Turn these people over to God; don't be bothered by the trivial and worthless, keep your mind and soul firmly concentrating on the things of God" — this seemed to be his key to real greatness.

UNWANTED DINER—Popoco takes a swipe at a frog that landed on its dinner plate at Costa Mesa, Calif. The kitten managed to shoo off intruder.

HEIM LINE—Pair of checked wool coat-dresses are designed by Jacques Heim. Coat at left wraps around with opening in back. Other is topped by black taupe hat.

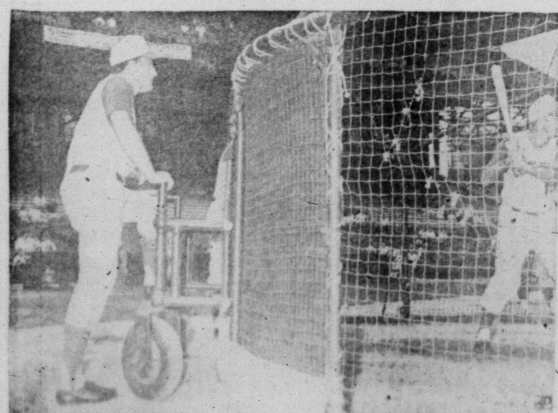

CLIP TOP—Knitted "pithouse" on chicken head is not a fad but is used with cord to keep the bird calm while its feathers are clipped on a farm in South Africa.

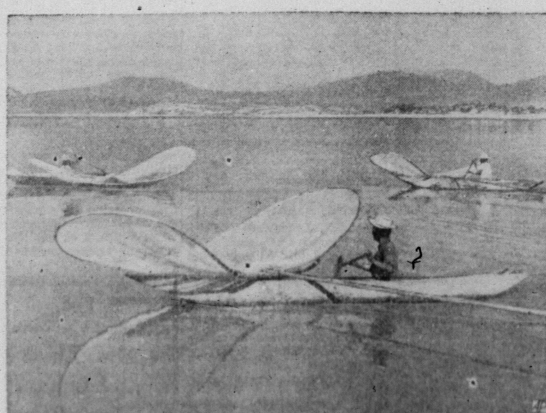

SPINNING ALONG—The camera appears to stop Ronnie Robertson during warmup at Madison Square Garden. He worked out for opening of Ice Capades of 1962.

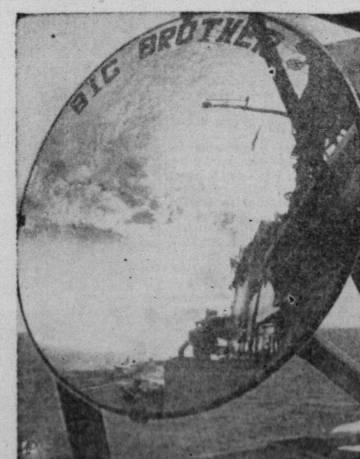

HARBOR SIGHT—Blonde Inge Jorgensen poses atop Mermaid statue in Copenhagen harbor. Inge will represent Denmark in the Miss World beauty contest.

CHECKING HIS MEN—Cincinnati Reds manager Fred Hutchinson keeps an eye on the league's best pitcher, Nolan Ryan, in the bullpen. The Reds, who won the 1961 National League pennant, are rated a strong possibility to take the 1962 National League pennant.

FIGURED FISHERMEN—Tahitian Indian fishermen start out with their traditional dugout canoes on the lagoon at Papeete. They work in teams of four on the fresh water lake bringing in sardines and white fish.

CHIEF'S VIEW—Mirror mounted on bridge of ship at Papeete, Tahiti, reflects scene of lagoon and harbor. Words "Big Brother" were printed by crew members.

BRIDGES

QUESTION: Did London Bridge fall down?

ANSWER: There have been several "London Bridges." In A.D. 43 a Roman historian tells of a bridge over the Thames close to where "London Bridge" stands today. But the most famous "London Bridge" the one referred to in the song, was built about the year 1176. Although the foundations, or piers, were of stone the houses built upon them (see drawing) were of wood and were frequently burned and rebuilt during the long history of the bridge. There were so many piers that this caused dangerous currents which sometimes threatened the existence of the bridge itself. No doubt it must have needed many times that "London Bridge" was falling down. However, the sturdy old structure never did fall down. It was torn down in the beginning of the 19th century, to make room for the present "London Bridge." The song "London Bridge" is said to have come from an ancient rite, which aimed to preserve the bridge from destruction by angry water spirits.

FOR YOU TO DO: Here's one way to play London Bridge. Two people make the bridge with clasped hands as in our picture. All the others march around underneath it singing the song. When they come to "my fair lady" the two children making the bridge drop their clasped hands and capture whoever is underneath.

Tot Saved From Fall

CLEVELAND (AP) — Luckily for 13-month-old Stanley, Grand Jr. three neighbor girls cut through an alley instead of taking their usual route home from Mass Sunday when Stanley decided to explore a second-floor window ledge.

He had pushed out the screen and was hanging by his fingers outside the window when Joan Pietras, 14, saw him and screamed. Her sister, Barbara, 13, pushed through a hedge to the side of the house. A third girl, Grace, 12, alerted the parents.

Seconds later Stanley's grip loosened. But instead of a 15-foot drop to the ground he landed in Barbara's arms.

"I didn't even have time to think," said Barbara. "I was just worried about how to hold my arms in order to catch him."

Baptists To Talk Education Objectives

DALLAS (AP) — The 192-member executive board of the Baptist General Convention of Texas will meet here Tuesday to consider statement of objectives for the denomination's Christian education program.

Dr. K. Owen White, chairman of the board and pastor of the First Baptist Church of Houston, said the board's major business will be consideration of the long range statements of policies and objectives for the nine colleges, universities, and academies operated by Texas Baptists.

Ike Is Ired By Report On Berlin

By GEORGE K. GOULD
WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower reportedly is incensed at a State Department pamphlet that pictures him as having decided not to capture Berlin before the Soviets did near the end of World War II.

He may get the chance to let off some steam about it today when 42 freshmen Republican congressmen descend on Gettysburg, Pa., for a personally conducted tour of Eisenhower's farm and the Civil War battlefield.

Eisenhower, who has studied the battle of Gettysburg since his cadet days at West Point, was ready with an expert lecture on the military significance of the battlefield's hollowed landmarks.

The folksy get-together with this year's big crop of new GOP congressmen was Eisenhower's idea.

A party spokesman said he understood Eisenhower was hoping mad about the State Department pamphlet, entitled "Background Berlin—1945."

Rep. Melvin Laird, R-Wis., last week strongly protested what he called deliberate misrepresentation in the pamphlet and demanded that the State Department withdraw it from circulation.

The pamphlet said at one point: "The Western armies could have captured Berlin or at least joined in capturing it. But the supreme Allied commander, Gen. Eisenhower, believed that they could move more usefully against the major German forces elsewhere. As a result the Soviets captured Berlin."

Laird said "the decision on not sending American forces into Berlin was made at the highest level and not by the commander in the field."

160 Persons Rounded Up

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Steel-helmeted police and soldiers raided the high-walled estate of retired Gen. Celstino Gasca Sunday and arrested a group suspected of planning a demonstration on Mexico's Independence Day Friday.

Government sources said 160 persons were rounded up in a move to prevent any disruption of the independence celebrations.

Gasca, 76, a colorful figure in Mexican politics for a half-century, and his followers surrendered without resistance when their meeting was broken up.

Gasca has been holding regular Sunday gatherings on his estate that have aroused suspicion that the old-time revolutionary is up to something.

Sources close to President Adolfo Lopez Mateos said there is no indication of a plot to overthrow the government.

Survey Of Acreage Set

Rural mail carriers will begin distributing 1961 acreage survey cards to patrons on their routes Thursday, Dawson Moreland, postmaster, has announced.

The Post Office and U. S. Agriculture Departments cooperatively make the survey each year. These reports, directly from farmers, are the basis for official estimates for Texas acreage of all crops harvested in 1961.

To be sure this community is well represented in the survey, Moreland urged each patron receiving a card to fill it out and return it to his mail box.

Rural mail carriers working on this project from the Snyder Post Office are Warren Dodson, Route 1; Hilson Lambert, Route 2; and Joel Hamlett, Route 3.

Texas Lists 23 Violent Deaths

By The Associated Press
While Texas residents awaited reports of violence resulting from the awesome Hurricane Carla, 23 violent deaths occurred in the state over the weekend.

The Associated Press count of violent deaths in Texas started at 6 p.m. Friday and ended at midnight Sunday.

Ten deaths were attributed to automobile accidents. Shootings, drownings and fires accounting for the others.

At least two oil field workers died and 73 suffered severe injuries Saturday when a wild gas well exploded and caught fire near the West Texas town of Pecos.

Authorities said that there may be as many as four more men dead whose bodies have not been recovered.

The workers were pumping mud into the high-pressure well in an attempt to seal it off when it exploded.

Paar Denies Any Undue Troop Aid

NEW YORK (AP) — Jack Paar says he received no undue cooperation from U. S. Army personnel in his recent filming of a TV show on Berlin's tense East-West border.

A 23-year-old Dallas woman, Mrs. Shirley Anderson Jones, was shot to death Sunday by her estranged husband, the victim's husband, Carroll Don Jones, 28, said he waved a pistol in his wife's face but he was only trying to frighten her.

Benny De La Rosa, 25, died Saturday night when his car rolled over several times after missing a curve about 10 miles south of San Antonio.

The victims were Cecil Leon Strickland, 42, and his wife, Arlie Daughtery Strickland, 48.

Sheriff C. F. Stubblefield of Mills County said 20 gauge and 12 gauge shotguns, which had been fired, were found in the living room.

The man with a mission is the Anglican bishop of St. Helena, the Rev. Harold Beardmore.

St. Helena is a British island, 120 miles west of Africa. The two passenger ships serving the island are scheduled to be taken off the run next year.

When that happens St. Helena will be cut off from the world, except for occasional freighter visits.

The bishop is seeking second-class citizenship, with all the rights and tools—and anything else that will help save off idleness and stagnation.

"Our main problem is that we have a growing population and a shrinking labor market, so there's a great deal of poverty," he said.

"Several hundred islanders used to go to Britain every year to take jobs but now there will be no ships to take them there. Quite a number of our men have been going over to the American missile tracking base and the Cable and Wireless station of Ascension Island, 700 miles away, but they won't get transport when the ships stop coming."

"We have no staple industry to keep the island going."

Son, Brother Of Governors Dies

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Oklahoma Murray, 61, son of an Oklahoma governor and brother of another, died Sunday after a cerebral hemorrhage.

The son of the late Gov. William (Alfalfa Bill) Murray, had been director of oil conservation for the State Corporation Commission since 1954. He joined the department in 1939 when his father formed the first oil conservation policy in the state.

A surviving brother, Johnston Murray, 63, was a former oil executive and a member of Oklahoma from 1936 to 1944.

Few Dispute Estimates On Growth Of U. S. Economy

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — How fast the economy should grow to attain the best of health may still be in dispute. But the estimates on how big it will be getting in the months ahead are growing for sure.

Today you can add a few more billions of dollars to an estimate without most persons questioning it—maybe without many understanding it, because the economy already has grown so large.

And the changing figures on the public share in that growth—that is the government spending sector of the economy—tend to bear out the higher predictions.

The federal debt is rising as the Treasury prepares to borrow more cash to meet the bills. That government spending will rise is undisputed, even if the final size of the Treasury deficit when the books for the fiscal year are closed next June 30 is still variously estimated.

The official figure now is $3 billion. Some pessimists say it may be as much as $10 billion. The difference lies in guesses as to how much actual cash the Treasury will lay out and how much business recovery will add to collections.

The federal debt now tops $283 billion, huge by standards of only a short time back. The Treasury plans to borrow $5 billion more new money in September and October.

Americans should by now be used to federal budgets in excess of $80 billion a year. But there is little surprise any more when someone talks of the day not so far off when it will be $100 billion a year.

Increased spending for defense will cause most of the rise, however big the total turns out to be, but there will be more spending in the civilian sectors, too.

All this will pump more money into the economy in general.

The rest of the total growth is expected to come: 1. from increased consumer spending (out of higher annual incomes, plus some digging into savings which also have been growing); 2. from increased business outlays for plants and inventories to support the greater activity that sanguine economists foresee as inevitable.

Some of the more conservative businessmen aren't buying the big jump in either the consumer or business spending until they see it.

Consumers have been fickle before and upset predictions—either spending more or less than they were supposed to—and consumer spending is by far the biggest support of the economy. Businessmen also have swung from optimistic expansion plans to hand to mouth policies on short notice.

The cautious hold that spending habits may be influenced to an unpredictable degree by the lingering unemployment problem and rising world tensions.

But the optimists think the business recovery, further needed by the government outlays, will quickly send the total dollar volume of the nation's output of goods and services to heights once thought years away.

Here is the time chart on recent estimates.

The total volume, known as the Gross National Product, is now put at $516 billion a year, $10 billion higher than a year ago.

Only two months ago administration economists were predicting the total output might hit an annual rate of $550 billion a year hence.

Now the chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisors, Walter Heller, says the business recovery looked so bright that the Gross National Product should hit 570 billion next summer.

If you can comprehend that many billions, or if you are a collector of predictions, you might put that aside and see how this estimate looks a year from now—whether he's hit it on the nose, or whether he's missed—either on the upside or the down.
