Sunday update

Kissinger In Geneva

GENEVA, Switzerland (AP)—Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger's assistant for African affairs came to Geneva Saturday in an apparent U.S. move to strengthen ritish authority at the stalled black-white talks on Rhodesia's future.

Asst. Secretary of State William D. Schaufele said on arrival he expects to see "most, if not all, of the participants" in the conference at which militant nationalists demand that Britain arrange a rapid black takeover of the African country against stiff resistance by Prime Minister Ian Smith's white minority government.

India Postpones Elections

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Prime Minister Indira Gandhi's government announced today there would be no national elections in India for at least another year. "The time is not ripe for elections," Law Minister H.R. Gokhale told parliament. Gokhale said disruptive forces that Mrs. Gandhi says led her to proclaim a national emergency June 26, 1975 have not been subdued and remain a threat to India's national security. The government announcement came in the face of mounting demands by its opponents for fresh elections. Gokhale said the elections did not mean the government was abandoning them for good. "We believe that elections will be the only way in which the democratic will of the people will be reflected," he said.

Venice Flooded

VENICE, Italy (AP)—Floodwaters washed over historic sections of this famous canal city today as high winds and heavy rain battered Italy from the Alps to Sicily.

Sirens wailed during the night to warn the 60,000 residents of Venice's historic center of approaching high waters. Ten years ago, a disastrous flood in the city damaged churches, walls and monuments.

Farm Prices Bad News

WASHINGTON (AP)—A sharp drop in farm prices, increased layoffs of factory workers and other government statistics are raising new doubts about the nation's economic health in the closing days of the presidential campaign.

The Agriculture Department reported Friday that between Sept. 15 and Oct. 15 the price farmers get for grain, soybeans and other crops and livestock dipped 5 per cent. It was the third straight monthly decline reported by the department, and compared with a year ago prices are down 9 per cent.

The National Farmers Union, a frequent critic of Republican farm policies, said the figure illustrates a decline in farm buying power.

The SDN Column

In case you forgot to turn your clock back last night, slow down. You've got an extra hour to get to church.

And if you have been counting the hours until the political campaigns end, just hold on a little longer.

Politics can be exciting, boring, interesting, dull, etc., but after the many weeks between the national conventions and the general election, it can become trying indeed. Politics has changed, of course. The most apparent difference between the campaigns today and those of yesteryear has been brought on by television.

But there have been other changes. These involve the regulations for campaigning and holding elections. For many years, Texas election laws remained virtually intact. Nearly everybody knew what was expected of election judges and their personnel and what the candidates could and couldn't do. But since the poll tax was ruled out, the changes have come thick and fast, and just when you think you have them down, they hit you from another source.

For example, yours truly and County Clerk Beverly Ainsworth thought we had it figured out the other day that polling places in Scurry County would not open until 8 a.m. on election day. It was there in the state election code—that in places with less than 100,000 population, the polls could open at 8 a.m. rather than 7 a.m. if the commissioners court so ordered. And our commissioners court approved such an order years ago. But the feds entered the picture somewhere down the line, and they say that polls must be open from 7 to 7 and that their rules take precedence over state rules. So, there will be 12 hours of voting here next Tuesday.

Politics has produced its share of colorful names over the years, and Texas has contributed its part. Like Ma and Pa Ferguson, the popular handles given Jim Ferguson, who was impeached as governor, and his wife, Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, who served as governor on two different occasions; like Pappy O'Daniel, Barefoot Sanders, etc. Michigan had its Soapy Williams, Oklahoma had its Alfalfa Bill Murray, along with many others. And names are important in politics. In fact, a familiar political name has brought some embarrassment to a lot of Texans, especially lawyers, this year because a man with a name familiar to Texas voters got himself nominated to the Texas Supreme Court exclusively on the strength of name association and it since has been revealed that he is involved in a considerable amount of litigation and even faces disciplinary charges brought by the grievance committee of the State Bar Association. His name is Don Yarbrough. He is not related to Ralph Yarborough, who served as U.S. Senator, or to another Don Yarbrough who ran for governor a couple of times, but a lot of Texas voters in the primaries apparently thought he was. Anyway, he had a familiar political name.

Lawyers, trying to fight fire with fire, so to speak, are now taking the lead in trying to get a write-in movement going on behalf of another candidate with a familiar political name–Sam Houston. They say he not only has the name, but also is qualified to fill the office.—WACIL McNAIR

WEATHER MAY BE KEY FACTOR

Campaign 'Neck-To-Neck'

By DAVE RILEY
Associated Press Writer

President Ford says the 1976 presidential campaign is "neck-and-neck" and Jimmy Carter sees the race as so close that he says the weather may be a key factor in deciding who leads the nation for the next four years.

Ford campaigned from Milwaukee to St. Louis to Houston on Friday. He declared he had tied Carter, and labeled the Democrats as "frantic, frustrated and frenzied."

Carter, heading west in his final trip of the campaign, said in Toledo, Ohio, that the race is "very close. The polls show it is so close that the outcome could be decided by whether it rains or not."

And a Harris poll for ABC News showed Ford within one percentage point of Carter. The poll, announced Friday, gives Carter the lead over Ford 45 per cent to 44 per cent with 4 per cent backing former Sen. Eugene McCarthy and 7 per cent undecided.

Harris said the poll was based on interviews with 2,891 eligible voters from 300 precincts around the nation.

Harris said the sample showed Carter with a 55-39 lead in the South and a 43-41 lead in the East. Ford was ahead 48-40 in the Midwest and 50-41 in the West.

Ford was campaigning today in Texas before flying to Philadelphia and then to Syracuse and Buffalo, N.Y. His running mate, Bob Dole, was campaigning on the West Coast.

Carter was to travel today from St. Louis to Tulsa, Okla., and later to New Orleans. Democratic vice presidential candidate Walter Mondale campaigned in the Midwest and scheduled a stop today in Ohio.

The Democratic nominee has campaigned hard on economic issues and he quickly leaped on new government statistics showing a decline for the second straight month in figures designed to predict economic developments.

The government said the index of leading economic indicators fell seven-tenths of 1 per cent.

Carter said those figures "mean more hard times ahead" unless there is an end to "Republican mismanagement of the economy." But Ford said he was not disturbed by the report, saying the nation is "winning the battle against inflation."

As Ford declared the race deadlocked his aides were apparently trying to use on Carter the strategy of claiming to have won before any ballots are counted. That strategy worked when Ford used it to defeat Ronald Reagan at the GOP convention.

Arriving in Houston on Friday night, Ford declared: "I think we are neck and neck, and when you have momentum and the opposition is trying to put its finger in every dike to try and stop the erosion, obviously we have the momentum."

Delivery Is Due Soon On New City Map-Brochure

The Scurry County Board of Development got its first look at a new city map and mini brochure during its luncheon session Friday.

Final proof sheets of the color folder, which has been in preparation for several months, were passed around for board members to inspect, and all expressed approval. It has an up-to-date map of the City of Snyder on one side when unfolded, with public buildings, points of interest, etc., designated for easy identification and location. It also includes several color pictures of various city and county facilities, and brief text about the community and its assets and points of interest.

The project has been a joint undertaking of the Chamber of Commerce, Board of County Development, City of Snyder and Western Texas College. It is due to be off the press soon and will be distributed through the sponsoring agencies.

The BCD also got a report on plans for hosting the big Air Stream Rally here next fall. LaVerta Lovell, to personally extended the invitation to the Air Stream people several days ago at Grand Prairie, said that up to 600 Air Steam trailers could be here for the big rally set for Sept. 29-Oct. 2, 1977. Preparations already are being made to entertain these visitors while they are in Snyder, Mrs. Lovell said.

The BCD gave its approval to plans for improving downtown Christmas decorations. Bill Henry, Chamber of Commerce Manager and BCD Consultant, said that some additions and repairs are being made immediately to the old decorations and that they will be appraised after they are erected for the coming Christmas season.

"We can tell more about them

Write-In Backed For Court Post

Active support of a write-in campaign in behalf of Judge Sam Houston of Denton for Associate Justice, Supreme Court of Texas, Place 2, was voiced here this weekend by the local Bar Associaion.

The general election ballot Tuesday lists the name of Don Yarbrough of Houston in the Democratic Party column for that office. There are no other nominees on the ballot for that post.

Yarbrough was nominated in the Democratic Primary election last May and subsequently has been involved in litigation which led to action by the State Bar Association's Grievance Committee. That committee has initiated proceedings in an effort to have Yarbrough disbarred.

The local Bar Association, headed by Ernie Armstrong, has recommended that voters write in the name of Sam Houston for the post on the Supreme Court of Texas. The Denton District Judge is being supported, they said, because they felt that Yarbrough won the nomination in the primary because of name identification, with many voters confusing him with the former U.S. Sen. Ralph Yarbrough and another Don Yarbrough of Houston who sought the governor's chair several years ago. Judge Sam Houston's name should be easy for voters to remember, they reasoned.

They said they felt that it is important to the judicial system of Texas that a man of Judge Houston's qualifications be named to the Supreme Court post.

FRUITS OF TWO RAIDS—Snyder Police and Scurry County Sheriff's officers had this display to show for two drug raids conducted Friday night and Saturday morning. Officers said they confiscated 50 pounds of marijuana with a street value of $8,000, and arrested five persons in the raids. See story on Page 2. (SDN Staff Photo)

Students At SHS Give Edge To Ford

Snyder High School seniors staged as realistic an election as possible Friday, and if the results are a Halloween omen, the Democrats may be in for an unhappy Tuesday.

The students gave the Republican ticket of Gerald Ford and Robert Dole a slight edge in the final count, 75-64, over the Jimmy Carter-Walter Mondale Democratic ticket. Independent Eugene McCarthy got two votes and Ronald Reagan got one write-in vote.

The students used sample ballots with the exact lineup that will face voters in the general election Tuesday. Other aspects of the mock election followed official procedures, also. There was a registration period, during which 166 of the 202 senior government students registered. Of that number, over 140 actually cast ballots in the election.

Except for president-vice president, Democrats swept the field. U.S. Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, the Democratic nominee seeking re-election, won over Republican Alan Steelman by 84-44, and Democrat John Newton was favored for Railroad Comissioner by 86 to 35 over Republican Walter Wendlandt in the only other contested races on the ballot.

The students also gave approval to both constitutional amendment proposals. Amendment No. 1, authorizing an increase of $400 million in the amount of Texas Water Development Bonds that may be issued by two-thirds vote of the legislature, was approved by the students, 41-26. Amendment No. 2, increasing from $100 million to $200 million the amount of Water Development Bonds that may be issued for water quality enhancement purposes, was approved by a count of 29-19.

The fact that fewer student voters marked the amendments than voted for office holders, made the election even more realistic, it was noted. Adult voters traditionally have been much less interested in amendments than they have in office holders.

Also, a sprinkling of write-ins added yet another touch of realism. Willie Nelson, the progressive country music artist, got two write-in votes for sheriff and one for county attorney.

AUXILIARY CONTRIBUTION

Neonatal Care Unit Is Given Cogdell Hospital

The Women's Hospital Auxiliary of Cogdell Memorial Hospital has given the hospital a Neonatal Care Unit to be used in saving the lives of neonates.

The Neonatal Intensive Care Unit is a new concept in open incubator care for the neonate and has the principal advantage of providing an uninterrupted heat field while maintaining complete access to the infant. It combines heat and accessibility with a complete medical procedural capability.

It is actually a miniature operating room table, so versatile, so comprehensive in services that it is suitable for use in delivery, surgery and recovery as well as in the intesneive care nursery. Some of the features include a temperature control-monitor module which controls the sealed radiant heater dome to maintain the infant's monitored skin temperature, as adjusted with the digital set-point temperature dial. This module also provides audible and visual alarms if the neonate's skin temperature varies from the desired control setting. An ECG Heart Rate Monitor Module displays the infant heart rate on the illuminated digital panel which updates every 15 seconds. It also provides rhythm indication via audible beeper and flashing light.

If the rate exceeds the pre-set low or high limits, the visual and audible alarms are acitvated. The unit includes a convenient slide-out console, providing variable, intermittent positive pressure resuscitation and aspiration. Mask pressure is constnatly monitored by a pressure gauge. During x-ray procedures, neither the neonate nor the environment need by disturbed.

Space is provided between the heaters for x-ray head placement while maintaining the heat field. It is equipped with a tilt-table that can be

CHECK PRESENTED—Mrs. Lois Greer, president of the Women's Hospital Auxiliary, presents a check for $8,300 to Cy Miller, administrator of Cogdell Memorial Hospital, covering the purchase of a Neonatal Care Unit, a Heart Monitor and a Scope for the Fetal Heart Monitor for the labor and delivery room at the county hospital.

By JOHN CHADWICK
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Continued Democratic control of the Senate in the next Congress seems assured despite the 33 seats at stake in Tuesday's election.

Republican strategists conceded this, saying they will do well if they make a net pickup of two seats. They would need a gain of 13 to wrest control from the Democrats.

Democratic campaign aides, while expecting to lose three or more seats they now hold, say that overall they have a good chance of increasing their majority in the Senate by two or three.

In the outgoing 94th Congress, the party lineup in the Senate is 62 Democrats and 38 Republicans, counting Independent Harry F. Byrd Jr. of Virginia with the Democrats and Conservative-Republican James L. Buckley of New York in the GOP column.

Of the 33 seats on the line, 22 are held by Democrats and 11 by Republicans. But at least half of the Democratic candidates are regarded as easy winners.

These include such well-known senators as Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts, Henry M. Jackson of Washington, Robert C. Byrd of West Virginia, John C. Stennis of Mississippi and Harrison A. Williams Jr. of New Jersey.

In contrast, only two of the Republican senators up for re-election, Lowell P. Weicker Jr. of Connecticut and William V. Roth Jr. of Delaware, fall in the easy-victory category.

Some of the chief battlegrounds, and likely to account for a large part of the turnovers, are states in which incumbent senators are retiring.

Democratic and Republican campaign aides pretty much agree on the outlook in these states.

Take Missouri State Atty. Gen. John Danforth. The Republican candidate is regarded as a sure winner over his Democratic opponent, former Gov. Warren Hearnes, for the seat being given up by Democrat Stuart Symington.

And retiring Sen. John O. Pastore, D-R.I., is expected to be replaced by Republican John H. Chafee, a former three-term governor and secretary of the Navy under President Richard M. Nixon.

Chaffee's Democratic opponent, wealthy automobile dealer Richard P. Lorber, won a surprise primary victory over Gov. Philip W. Noel, but the battle wounds have lingered on.

The Democrats are counting on offsetting expected losses in those states by picking up the seats from which Sens. Paul J. Fannin, R-Ariz., and Hiram L. Fong, R-Hawaii, are retiring.

Five Arrested In Marijuana Raids

Approximately 50 pounds of marijuana was confiscated in two separate drug raids conducted by the Snyder Police department and the Scurry County Sheriff's Office.

Three men, aged 23, 27 and 27, were arrested in the first raid Friday night. Approximately 16 half-pound bags of marijuana were found in the men's possession at a residence in the 3000 block of Avenue K. The raid was conducted about 9:30 p.m. Friday

Police Captain Edwin Neeley, and Police Lieutenant Lonnie Payne said the second raid was conducted about 7 a.m. Saturday. Confiscated in that raid, officers reported, were about 31 half-pound bags of marijuana and two 5-gallon buckets of marijuana. The second raid, conducted at a house in the 2700 block of Twenty-fifth Street, resulted in the arrest of two more men, aged 32 and 21.

All five of the men were taken to the police station and booked on charges of felony possession of marijuana. Police officers estimated that the street value of the confiscated marijuana might run as high as $8,000.

In an unrelated incident, a 22-year-old man was arrested by police officers for questioning in a burglary and for alleged possession of a small amount of marijuana. The man was arrested at 4:24 a.m. Saturday in the 500 block of Thirty-fifth Street.

Aron D. Worford told police officers that two pistols had been taken from his residence in the 2700 block of Avenue T. Officers said they are continuing their investigation of the theft.

A minor traffic accident occurred at 8:53 a.m. Friday at the Day and Night Drive-In Grocery. Involved in the mishap were a 1971 Toyota driven by Rebecca Sadler Doty and a 1973 Pontiac driven by Barbara Loper Thompson.

Another mishap occurred at 2411 Avenue R when a 1970 Ford driven by Otis E. Firestone collided with a parked 1959 Chevrolet owned by Robert Elvin Johnson. The traffic accident occurred at 3:30 p.m. Friday. Only minor damages were reported to the two vehicles.

Computer Talk Can't Lose

NORMAL, Ill. (AP) — Attention politicians looking for a ghost-writer: Try Computer Joe.

Social scientists John Cragan and Donald Shields said they fed their computer a cross-section of popular views on foreign policy and it clicked out the perfect speech — one that would please the most listeners and offend the fewest.

The researchers collected foreign policy articles during the first seven months of this year from 30 magazines and four newspapers. Then they gave the material to 60 persons representing a cross-section of citizenry in Peoria, Ill.

The Peorians rated the material on a scale of most to least reflective of their views. The results were fed into the computer.

"The speech generally is what Secretary of State Henry Kissinger has been saying," said Cragan. "It should please him to know that he plays well in Peoria."

On the controversial Central Intelligence Agency, Joe has this to say: "I do not believe that we should dismantle the CIA. Many times it is the CIA's covert capability that stands between a do-nothing policy and nuclear confrontation. Unfortunately, in today's world the CIA is needed."

elevated from floor to table top. The table top to heater distance remains constant. The table top is stainless steel for ease of cleaning and sterilization and equipped with one-inch mattress with conductive cover. The dual overhead modules provide radiant heat and fluorescent illumination and envelopes the infant in a highly visible protective environment.

The unit is equipped with two overhead modules with fluorescent lamps protected by tubular shrouds. Dual switching allows independent activation of lighting. The versatile double voting tray allows the procedural team to have necessary equipmet at their fingertips. Shatter-proof, easy-to clean glass panels on the Neonatal Intensive Care Center provide the infant security when in upright position, yet allow a team approach to treating the neonate when dropped down to the side. It is also equipped with oxygen and vacuum service. Throughout the critical periods in the infant's early life, the unit provides positive temperature control. The unit provides complete safety for the neonate, with automatic or manual control.

Public Involvement Is Urged

CHICAGO (AP) — The public should be asked to help find the best ways for storing potentially dangerous nuclear wastes, a conference sponsored by the federal Energy Research and Development Administration and four other agencies has been told.

The conference was billed as a chance for utilities, nuclear plant builders and environmentalists to discuss the long-term impact of storing radioactive materials.

Participants in the three-day meeting backed a series of statements calling for greater public participation in deciding where and how to store nuclear wastes safely.

"A central issue in the nuclear-power debate is who shall decide," said a University of Minnesota political scientist in a paper delivered at the conference.

"I know of no example of the public being asked to make a decision on the adequacy of a nuclear waste management option," said Professor Dean E. Abrahamson.

Jimmy Carter, the Democratic presidential candidate, took note of the conference in a telegram earlier this week, saying, "Nuclear waste management is not just a technical issue to be left to the scientific experts, but a critical policy choice for the American people."

A "Utility Waste Management Group" made up of about 20 utilities with nuclear power plants issued a statement that below-or above-ground storage of liquid radioactive wastes can be "safe, environmentally acceptable and affordable" with existing technology.

Utilities serving Chicago, New York, Boston, Washington, D.C., San Diego and Pennsylvania and the Atomic Industrial Forum, the major trade group of reactor manufacturers, were among those registered at the conference.

Seeks Alimony From Sex Changer

NEW YORK (AP) — Barbara Raskind has asked a court to order that her divorced husband, the man who became female tennis player Renee Richards through a sex-change operation, pay support and back alimony.

In state Supreme Court Friday, Mrs. Raskind claimed that the person who used to be Dr. Richard H. Raskind owes her more than $7,000.

The couple was divorced in 1975.

Gurney Begins Raising Funds

WINTER PARK, Fla. (AP) — Former Sen. Edward J. Gurney, acquitted of a perjury charge in a fund-raising scandal, says he's now raising money to pay off his lawyer.

"I'm going to sit down next week and get this fund-raising cranked up," the 62-year-old Winter Park resident said. The defense fund he was talking of was started two years ago by three friends.

"I don't think I can get into trouble with this type of money-raising operation," Gurney joked.

He said Friday he owes between $250,000 and $300,000 in legal fees for his successful defense against charges that included lying to a 1974 grand jury about an illegal political shakedown scheme carried out in 1971-73 by a former aide.

A federal court jury acquitted him of that charge Wednesday. He was found innocent by another federal jury in Tampa last year of five other criminal charges relating to the operation.

Scurry Historical Unit Earns Award

GALVESTON—The Scurry County Historical Commission received a Distinguished Service Award (DSA) at the 1976 Annual Historic Preservation Conference, held here Friday and Saturday.

The State commission administers the DSA program, designed to recognize those county historical commissions who have made outstanding local contributions to preservation within the past year.

In presenting the award, THC Chairman Mrs. Wesley B. Blankenship cited the SCHC for, among other accomplishments, the continuing excellence of their preservation activities—particularly their museum work.

Commissions receiving the DSA must meet 16 different requirements. These include presenting at least six programs on local history to other civic groups; sponsoring or helping plan a minimum of three guided historical tours; conducting at least one phase of an oral history program; and completing at least one facet of a significant historic preservation project such as a restoration, a written county history, or the creation of county archives.

The THC presents Distinguished Service Awards annually to all county commissions who achieve these standards. The group also sponsors other competitions for the county organizations, including "Best Program of Work," "best Newsletter," and "Outstanding County Chairman."

Brezhnev Gives Up Cigarettes

Texas Harvests Delayed By Cold, Wet Weather

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — Recent cold, wet weather has delayed the fall harvest in parts of Texas says Dr. Daniel C. Pfannstiel, director of the Texas Agriculture Extension Service.

The delay came just as the cotton harvest got under way in West Texas.

About half the cotton crop remains to be harvested in North Central Texas. Some fields are still to be harvested in Northeast, Central and South Central Texas.

A good sorhum crop is being harvested. The soybean crop is generally producing good yields although rains have delayed the soybean harvest in the Coastal Plains of Southeast Texas and the second rice cuttin.

Sugar beets are being harvested in the Panhandle, and the sugar cane harvest has started in the Rio Grande Valley. Some citrus and certain fall vegetables are being harvested in the Valley. Some vegetables are also moving to market in the San Antonio-Winter Garden area.

Small grain crops are making good progress in most sections due to recent rains, with some early fields already being grazed by cattle. Livestock have good grazing conditions in most sections although recent frost killed warm-season grasses over much of the western and northern portions of Texas. Some supplemental feeding has started in East Texas.

Reports from district extension agents showed the following conditions.

PANHANDLE: Corn harvesting, about complete, shows average to below average yields. Sorghum yields are good. The sugar beet harvest is under way and the cotton harvest is just starting. Most of the wheat has been planted. Some early planted wheat is being grazed. Stocker cattle are moving into the area.

SOUTH PLAINS: Harvesting of corn, sorghum and soybeans are in progress. Cotton harvesting should get under way in about a week on desiccated cotton but a freeze is still needed in some areas. Wheat is generally making good growth.

ROLLING PLAINS: Sorghum, cotton, peanuts and pecans are being harvested. Recent rains have delayed planting of small grains.

NORTH CENTRAL: About half the cotton and peanuts are in. Peanut yields are good, but most of the cotton is average. Planting of wheat and oats is about 75 per cent complete. Some vegetables were damaged by recent freezing temperatures.

NORTHEAST: Cotton, limited amounts of corn, sorghum and peanuts remain to be harvested. The sweet potato harvest has good yields. Soybeans are approaching maturity. Recent frost damaged some young vegetables.

FAR WEST: Harvesting of sorghum continues to increase. The cotton harvest will get under way soon following recent freezing temperatures that desiccated the crop. Harvesting of green peppers is about complete. Pecans are hulling and harvesting is about to start; a good crop is expected. Livestock are in good shape and have good forage. Lambs are being marketed at good weights.

WEST CENTRAL: The sorghum harvest is about complete and cotton harvesting will soon get into full swing due to recent frost which desiccated the crop.

As Scurry County Democratic Chairman I endorse every nominee of the Democratic Party from the Precinct level to the Presidency.

I urge all Democrats to vote.

I urge all Democrats to vote for each and every one of those who were nominated by the Democratic people in the primary.

ARE YOU SURE

THAT YOU WANT 4 YEARS OF JIMMY CARTER'S LIBERAL SPENDING POLICIES SENDING US INTO ANOTHER SPIRAL OF INFLATION.

THAT YOU WANT THE RIGHT-TO-WORK LAW REPEALED

THAT YOU WANT 7 YEARS OF A DEMOCRATIC PARTY CONTROLLED BY EASTERN LIBERALS AND LABOR.

THIS IS NOT THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY OF OUR FORE FATHERS, WHICH WAS INTERESTED IN THE WEST TEXAS FARMER.

YOU CAN DECIDE

THE ECONOMIC FUTURE OF SCURRY COUNTY— WITH A VOTE FOR PRESIDENT FORD!!

YOU Can choose non-spending policies...controlling inflation which has sent farm expenses soaring while destroying buying-power!

YOU Can choose a president who is for free enterprise-a president who would give private business incentive to solve unemployment a president who opposes divestiture of the oil industry.

YOU Can choose a president whose policies have opened world trade markets to the farmer instead of having him depend on farm subsidies a president who is for less government interference.

THINGS ARE BETTER WITH PRESIDENT FORD... LET'S KEEP THEM THAT WAY

Tough Tigers Trounce Matadors 20-0

MISSES CONNECTIONS—Lubbock Estacado High School's Michael Sims (33) missed connections on this pass play during the Snyder-Estacado football clash here Friday night. Defending on the play is Ramsey Tercero (32). The Tigers capitalized on three Matador fumbles and scored a 20-0 victory. (SDN Staff Photo).

The tough Snyder Tigers socked the Lubbock Estacado Matadors, 20-0, here Friday night, breaking a tight defensive battle open in the second half by turning three fumbles into touchdowns.

Snyder's defense was the best it has been all season. The Tiger defenders completely shutdown the Matadors' attack and held heralded running back Michael Sims to only 32 yards rushing on nine carries.

It was a hard-hitting defense that forced the Matador fumbles that were converted into touchdowns. The aroused Tigers tallied twice in the third quarter and added a touchdown and a safety in the fourth frame after a scoreless first half.

Late in the first half, the Tiger defenders hit Sims so hard he fumbled the ball, and Ricky Fritz made the recovery at the Estacado 25 yard line. The Tigers drive in 9 plays with quarterback Tim Falls getting the touchdown by slicing over left guard from the one with 56 seconds remaining in the period.

Tracey Witherspoon's extra point attempt was blocked, but the Tigers were in command of a game that, until that point, had been a tight defensive battle.

Falls carried five times during the touchdown drive while Clay Peterson carried twice, and Doug Morrell once.

The tough Tiger defenders hit the Matador ball carrier on the ensuing kickoff return so hard that he fumbled, and Snyder came up with another recovery, this time at he Estacado 36. Peterson gained two to the 34 on first down, then Falls broke loose on a 34 yard touchdown run. He was hit by two defenders at the 15 yard line. but the Tiger quarterback refused to go down. He kept hi s feet and swept on into the end zone. On the extra point play, Falls connected with David Rice with a pass into the end zone, but a penalty nullified the play. On the next attempt Falls hit Tracey Witherspoon with a pass, but the officials ruled the receiver was out of bounds when he caught the ball. With seven seconds remaining in the third quarter, the Tigers had a 12-0 lead.

Snyder forced another fumble on the first play from scrimmage following the kickoff return, and Doug Morrell came up with the recovery at the Estacado 11 yard line onthe last play of the third frame.

The Tigers drove in from that point in four plays. On first down, Clay Peterson went through on a quick opener for a four yard gain to the seven. Doug Morrell, playing fullback, charged again for another yard to the six, then Falls kept for a four yard gain to the two. On fourth down, Peterson scooted through a hole over right guard for the touchdown. Falls attempted to run the extra points, but he was stopped short. The scoreboard read 18-0 in favor of Snyder with 10:36 remaining in the contest.

In just two minutes and 20 seconds, the Tigers had scored three times, capitalizing on all of their opportunities.

The Matadors got into trouble again following the kickoff. The return netted them only four yards to the 19. A 5 yard penalty set them back to the 14, then John Hopkins and Hurbert Thompson crashed through to spill quarterback Jimmy Scott fo a three yard loss to the 11 Another hard charge by the defenders dumped Scott again on the six yard line. Scott wasn't having any luck at all trying to pass. Then the roof fell in on him on the next play. He faded to pass, and Thompson crashed through from his defensive left end post and smeared the quarterback in the end zone for a two point safety. Snyder had a 20-0 lead with 8:30 remaining.

Later in the fourth period, Clay Peterson came up with an interception at the Tiger 40 and 13 yard return to the Estacado 47 to halt another Matador drive.

The Tigers completely dominated the game. They allowed the heralded Matadors only 33 yards rushing in the first half and yielded only one slim yard in the second half. Scott completed only two of five passes for just two yards.

Defense was the name of the game, and the Tigers played it to perfection.

Estacado crossed midfield only once during the game. In the first quarter, they drove from their 21 to the Tiger 39 aided by a 15 yard penalty. On that drive, Brent Terry intercepted a pass, but a penalty enabled the Matadors to keep possession or they wouldn't have crossed the 50 that time.

Snyder made a drive from its 33 to the Estacado 21 in the second period. Big play in the march was a 23 yard aerial, Falls to Tracey Witherspoon.

It was a great team effort by the Tigers. It would be hard to single out anyone for individual effort since the entire team performed admirably.

Next Thursday, the Tigers take on Lubbock Dunbar in Lubbock.

Panthers Pop Ira 54-6

HOBBS—The Hobbs Panthers, led by James Ratliff, who threw six touchdown passes, defeated the Ira Bulldogs, 54-6, in a District 3-B Six-Man football contest here Friday night.

Ratliff connected with Willis Ogden on scoring plays of 42, 16 and 18 yards in the first quarter. Mark Anderle kicked for two extra points following the second and third touchdowns, and the first period ended with the hosts ahead 22-0.

In the second quarter, Ratliff hit Ogden with a 26 yard scoring pass, and Anderle's two-point conversion kick made it 30-0.

Ira scored on a 12 yard run by Royce Corbell to cut the margin to 30-6.

Just before halftime, Mark Anderle scored on a four yard run to cap a 55 yard drive as the count soared to 36-6.

In the third period, Ratliff connected with Wayne Jones on a 35 yard scoring pass as the score mounted to 42-6. A couple of minutes later, Ratliff hit Ogden with a 10 yard scoring pass as the score was boosted to 48-6.

Raymond Soto scored on a two yard run to climax a 76 yard drive for the last Hobbs touchdown.

Coach Bill Hulsey said safety Charlie Wright, defensive end Randy Etheredge, and nose guard Mark Pearson played outstanding defensive games.

WTC Golf Team Is Second

ODESSA—The Western Texas College Westerner golf team finished second at the fourth Western Conference Golf Tournament Friday at the Odessa Country Club course.

The tourney was played in adverse weather conditions. The chill factor was below 30 degrees with winds 15 miles per hour from the northeast. A slight rain fell during play, and the course was wet from two days of rain.

The Westerners carded a 313 or 23 over par, finishing behind New Mexico Junior College, which carded 312 or 22 over par. Scores of other teams: Midland 315, Amarillo 317, Odessa 320, Howard 329, Clarendon 332, New Mexico Military 339, and Frank Phillips 340.

Points through four conference tourneys: New Mexico JC 33, WTC 30½, Amarillo 23½, Odessa 23, Midland 22, Howard 22, NMMI 12, Clarendon 8, and Frank Phillips 5.

Individual WTC scores: Chris Brown 75 or 3 over par. (He was runnerup medalist in the tourney). Brown McCrory 78, Donnie Loerwald 80, and Dave Foster 81.

Scores were high because of poor weather conditions. Only 10 players out of 45 broke 80, and five of these scores were in the high 70's. A conference tourney was supposed to be played Thursday in Midland, but was rained out. The Odessa tourney closes out the fall Western Conference golf schedule. WTC will close out their fall golf slate next week in the Jimmy Demaret Intercollegiate in Brownsville.

Lamesa, Dunbar Also Won Tilts

In District 3-AAA football games Friday night, the tough Snyder Tigers blasted the Lubbock Estacado Matadors, 20-0. In other games Friday night, Lamesa edged Brownfield 7-0, and Lubbock Dunbar defeated Sweetwater, 21-14.

Lake View, which had an open date continues to lead the league race with a perfect 4-0 record. Lamesa and Dunbar have just one loss each while Snyder is 2-2, Estacado and Brownfield are 1-3, and Sweetwater is 0-4.

Lee Rebs Defeat Odessa Permian

By WILLIAM R. BARNARD
AP Sports Writer

Two high schools with the same namesake — Robert E. Lee — shared the Texas high school football spotlight for different reasons Friday night.

While Midland Lee took away Odessa Permian's half share of the Class 4A No. 1 ranking with a 14-13 victory, Baytown Lee whipped Aldine MacArthur 34-0 with President Ford in attendance.

Permian's defeat was the only loss in The Associated Press Class 4A Top Ten. Houston Kashmere, which was tied with Permian for the top spot, blanked Houston Washington 33-0; No. 3 Longview nipped Marshall 19-12, fourth-rated Port Neches-Groves clubbed Beaumont French 34-6, No. 5 Killeen walloped Copperas Cove 21-0, No. 7 Sherman plastered Paris 46-6, No. 8 Temple whipped Waco University 31-0, No. 9 Brazoswood toppled Victoria Stroman 34-7 and 10th-ranked Tyler aced Nacogdoches 12-0. Sixth-rated Spring Branch Memorial was idle.

Jacksonville, which narrowly protected its No. 5 rating in Class 3A last week against Longview Pine Tree, couldn't repeat Friday as it lost 7-0 to Henderson. Top-ranked Beaumont Hebert belted Liberty 13-0, second-ranked Gainesville ripped Lancaster 43-0, No. 3 Brownwood bombed Vernon 25-0, No. 4 Humble dredged Channelview 47-0, No. 7 Gregor-Portland salted Sinton 14-0, eighth-ranked Dickinson swatted Sweeny 21-0, No. 9 Silsbee crossed Bridge City 19-7 and 10th-ranked Andrews blanked Odessa Ector 27-0. No. 6 San Angelo Lake View had the week off.

While Class 2A kingpin Rockdale rolled on with a 28-0 victory over Caldwell, the only loss among the Top Ten in that division was No. 7 Anahuac's 14-13 defeat by Kountze. Second-ranked McGregor whipped Waco Robinson 34-8, No. 3 Bowie knifed Whitesboro 32-0, No. 4 Childress shocked Electra 52-6, No. 6 Refugio nipped Aransas Pass 3-0, eighth-ranked Ozona extinguished Crane 13-0, No. 9 Columbus snuffed out Magnolia 28-0 and 10th-ranked DeKalb beaned New Boston 36-0. Fifth-ranked Comanche was idle.

Wellington, 10th-ranked in Class A, lost 12-0 to Memphis in its first week in the Top Ten. But Aledo maintained its season-long grip on the top ranking with a 16-6 triumph over Glen Rose. Second-rated Plains tripped Stanton 20-8, No. 3 Groveton shackled Montgomery 34-16, No. 4 Barbers Hill clipped Hardin 24-0, fifth-ranked East Bernard stemmed Tidehaven 52-0, No. 8 Tatum bombed Beckville 33-0 and No. 9 Holliday hammered Archer City 27-16. Sixth-ranked Seagraves and No. 7 Ore City both had off weeks.

Seventh-ranked Chilton of Class B fell 20-6 to Valley Mills and No. 4 Sudan's game with Smyer was cancelled because of snow. Other Class B results included: No. 2 Rochester 12, Windthorst 6; No. 3 Italy 28, Fort Worth Masonic Home 0; No. 6 Era 44, Paradise 0; No. 8 Evant 58, Lometa 0; No. 9 Ben Bolt 36, Asherton 0; No. 10 Forsan 34 Sterling City 0. Top-ranked Gorman was idle and No. 5 D'Hanis met Harper Saturday night.

Bucs, Giants Fail To Win

By BRUCE LOWITT
AP Sports Writer

Well, y'win some, y'lose some ... unless you're a Tampa Bay Buccaneer or New York Giant.

Of the 28 teams in the National Football League, only these two, one of the youngest and one of the oldest, failed through the first half of this 14-game season to win or tie at least once.

Both, though, are looking forward to Sunday with renewed enthusiasm for quite different reasons. For Tampa Bay, an expansion entry this season, the reason is the first near-success. For New York, the reason is new leadership.

The Bucs stayed even with once-powerful Miami last week before a last-minute field goal by Garo Yepremian gave the Dolphins a 23-20 victory.

With that memory still fresh, Tampa Bay entertains the Kansas City Chiefs, the American Conference leaders in total offense and passing but still possessor of a unimposing 2-5 record.

Westerner Cage Team Will Be Strong Again

The Western Texas College Westerners could have a better basketball team than last year and not have as good a record.

Coach Mike Mitchell, who is starting his fourth season at the Westerner helm, points out the competition in the Western Junior College Athletic Conference is getting stronger all the time.

"Overall, I'd have to say the conference will be stronger again this year," said Mitchell, adding, "High school athletes going into college are getting better."

Moreover, the Westerners will play by far the toughest non-conference schedule the school has ever faced.

Mitchell, who used to play proball with the Atlanta Hawks, won the conference last season with a 26-6 record. The Westerners were 36-1 the year before that and won conference, regional and national crowns. In his first year, the Westerners were 21-10 and finished fifth in the conference.

"We were able to slip upon a few oppoonents, who didn't consider us to have much that first year," said Mitchell, "But it's harder to stay on top than to get on top because everyone is shooting at you."

The Westerners have a nucleus of four starters returning from last season's fine team.

They are guards Lawrence Butler and Allen Corder, forward Larry Orton, and center Darryl Smith.

Butler broke Bob Miller's scoring average record last season with a fine 25.3 point average per game. Orton and Smith led the team in rebounds last year with 324 and 312 respectively. Orton has an ankle injury and hasn't been able to practice.

Butler, a 6-3 sophomore, hails from Glasgow, Mo. where he made All-State. Smith, a 6-8 soph, comes from College Park Ga. where he made All-State. Orton, a 6-8 soph, comes from Portsmouth, Va. where he made All-State. Corder, a 6-3 soph, made All-District at Lake Charles, La.

Mitchell feels that Butler, Corder, Orton and Smith all will win starting berths this season. The fifth man probably will be Butch Person, a 6-5 sophomore, who made the All-City first team as a forward from Brooklyn, New York.

The Westerners have one other sophomore on the team. He is Walter Benjamin, 6-4, who made All-City at Richmond, Va. in high school. He probably will be the first guard substitute this year.

Mitchell also came up with another good crop of first year recruits. One of the best of these is Robert Brown, 6-7 post and forward, who made the All-Baltimore area team and All-State from Maryland. He could break into the starting lineup.

"He's the best leaper on the team," said Coach Mitchell, "But he played center in high school and needs to improve his ball handling.

Mitchell said the Westerners this year have good size and aggressiveness and consequently could be excellent rebounders. He also admitted that experience will be an asset of the team this year.

Another freshman who could break into the starting lineup is Jon Moorehead, 6-8 forward from El Paso. He made All-district and All-city and is an excellent shooter "for a big guy." He also is a good ball handler.

Other freshmen include Wayne Jamison, 6-1 playmaker guard who has good quickness and speed and shoots the ball well; Charles Gipson, 6-6 post who made the second team, All-City at Brooklyn, N.Y., and is a good rebounder and has good strength; Lonnie Nichols, 6-6 forward from Buffalo, N.Y., who is quick and a good leaper; and, Doug Worthington, 6-5 freshman, who made All-City first team and was the leading scorer in Buffalo, N.Y.

Mitchell pointed out Nichols, like Brown, will have to improve his ball handling. He said Worthington has excellent potential.

Coach Mitchell said he plans to run a high-low post attack this year with a one guard front. Defensively, the Westerners will primarily be in a man-to-man alignment.

"We'll go man-to-man about 80 per cent of the time," he said, "But we'll use a full court press when necessary, such as when we get behind or feel the need to speed up the tempo of the game some."

Mitchell said Texas and Florida have the best junior college teams in the country.

"We're pleased with the rebounding and think it will be one of the strong points of the team," he said.

"We have a good group of freshmen and hopefully they'll help us this year and next year," he added.

Mitchell said the Westerners have just average team speed.

"If you put a lot of size on the floor, you usually lose some in speed," he observed.

The Westerners have been working out since Oct. 1. Their first game is November 13.

Lewis University of Lockport, Ill., won its last 12 tournament games in taking the 20th NAIA World Series baseball title.

Borden County Defeats Klondike 22-6

GAIL—The Borden County Coyotes defeated Klondike's Cougars, 22-6, in a District 3-B football contest here Friday night.

Eurdist Rinehart scored on two touchdown runs for Gail in the first period, striking from three yards out and from 27 yards out.

Klondike got its touchdown on a 35 yard gallop by Dennis Hale in the third period.

Gail's last touchdown came on a five yard run by Craig Peterson in the second period as Gail led 20-0 at hafltime.

The final score of the night came in the fourth quarter when Hale was tackled in the end zone for a two-point safety.

Gorillas Win 3-B Grid Title

TRENT—The Trent Gorillas won the District 3-B Six-Man football contest here Friday night with a 24-6 victory over Hermleigh's Cardinals.

After a scoreless first period, Trent's Herbert Beaver turned in a 71 yard touchdown run.

In the third period, Trent's James Mays and halfback Gilbert Beaver each scored a touchdown. In the same quarter, Hermleigh's Tim Peterson tallied a touchdown on a 25 yard run.

In the fourth quarter, Trent quarterback Robert Freeman passed to end Rocky Bryant for the final touchdown.

Trent was unable to collect any extra points.

Joe Don Williamson, Alan Culp and Joe Roemisch were outstanding on defense for Hermleigh while Tim Dacus and Tim Peterson looked good on offense.

President Ford Understands Texans And Their Interests.

President Ford understands our state, its economic interests, and its dedication to principles. He is against union organizers trespassing on our farms and ranches. He is against destroying our right-to-work laws. He is against dismantling our vital oil and gas industry. He is against gun control. By any measure he is the best choice for Texas.

Snyderite Still Prefers Personal Craftsmanship

By JOHN LONG

In an age of mass production, there is one Snyder man who still prefers craftsmanship in his work.

W. S. Salmon, who resides on the old Lubbock Highway, has hand carved hundreds of wooden figurines. His art works have been sold in gallaries in Dallas and Lubbock.

His wooden figurines reflect the heritage of the American Southwest. Figurines of cowboys, horses, and buffalo abound in the display case he keeps in his workroom.

Salmon shuns the use of most power tools. "I sometimes use a band saw to cut the wood down to size and to rough out the outline of the piece that I'm working on," Salmon said.

Salmon has an array of knives and chisels that he uses to hand-carve his figurines. Most of his figurines are of one-piece construction.

Salmon, a former carpenter and painter, is now in the business of furniture reconditioning. Figurine carving is mainly just a hobby of his, he said. He said he tries to avoid commission work and prefers to work at his own natural pace in his spare time.

His interest in wood carving began when he was a youngster in Clairette, Tex. One of the first things he carved was a wooden spoon for his mother. His mother used the wooden spoon regularly until her death several years ago.

Salmon said that as a boy he used to see retired men sit and whittle. "Some of those men just whittled. Others used to carve small figurines. I used to sit and watch those men work at whittling," Salmon recalled.

Salmon prefers working with oak, bass, walnut, sugar pine and some varieties of mahogany. He works with specially designed carving wood that he orders from Chicago.

The largest figurine Salmon ever made was an owl that was about 24 inches tall. He still has on display in his cabinet the two smallest pieces.

One rooster, perfect in every detail, is about one inch in diameter at the base and about two inches tall. Another piece, a goat, is about an inch and half at the base and about two inches tall.

"I like to carve whatever comes to my mind," Salmon said. I like to work at what I want to. And, I have found that what I like, most other people also like," he said.

While wood-working is Salmon's favorite art form, he has tried other forms of art. He also engages in stone-working, some bronze work and painting.

Occasionally, however, a slip of the wrist will result in an ensuing slip of the knife or chisel. In a situation like that, Salmon said he tries to salvage what he can and then go on from there.

Salmon recalled one incident in which he was carving out of stone an Indian head when the stone split. Salmon said he managed to salvage the outline of a dog out of what was left of the stone.

Salmon recalled one incident that occurred about a year ago. A mask relief of Franklin D. Roosevelt was stolen from outside his shop. "That," Salmon said, "is proof that at least somebody likes my art work."

Ohio Places Bogus Ad

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The State of Ohio says it placed a bogus $900 advertisement in the Wall Street Journal to find out what other states are doing to attract industry.

James A. Duerk, state development director, acknowledged Friday that he had written the 2-by-3½-inch ad that appeared in the newspaper's Oct. 15 issue with the heading: "Industrial Location Wanted."

Duerk said he got 87 responses from 20 states, with all but one providing detailed information about tax and financial incentives.

The information "provided us with a better idea how Ohio fares ...," Duerk said. "Believe me, we're coming far short of an awful lot of competition."

He said he feels the results support the contention by Gov. James A. Rhodes that Ohio is not competitive with other states because it doesn't offer industrial tax incentives. The Republican governor and Democratic legislature have been battling over whether such incentives are a major factor among industries relocating or expanding facilities.

The ad said: "Location needed for heavy manufacturing facility to employ approximately 500. Size of city not important.

"Reply in confidence with details on building, lease-purchase costs, adjacent land, utilities (including availability and rates), transportation facilities, labor unions, taxes, and state and-or local incentive programs."

The ad asked that replies be addressed to a Journal box number.

EPA Report Disputed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Manufacturers of beer and soft drinks dispute an Environmental Protection Agency report that contends banning throw-away bottles would mean lower beverage prices for consumers.

The agency report released Friday was based on a 26-city cost survey conducted by the League of Women Voters. The League compared the costs of soft drinks and beer sold in returnable bottles and cans with those in disposable containers.

The report is misleading, said spokesmen for the brewers and the soft-drink makers, because prices would not remain the same in a system of all returnable containers.

A returnable system works only if supported by consumers, said Thomas Baker of the National Soft Drink Association.

Henry B. King, president of the United States Brewers Association, released a survey conducted for his organization. He said it showed that a shift to the returnable-container system would cost the consumer as much as 87 cents more per case of beer.

This contrasted with the EPA report, which indicated that a case of beer in reusable containers would cost about $2 less than a case of throw-aways. The League survey found a six-pack of soft drinks in the 7-to 16-ounce size cost 30 cents less than in disposables. And savings were as much as 16.8 cents in the 32-ounce size of soft drinks.

CELEBRITIES ON THE COUCH
By Dick Maurice

John Travolta is "Vinnie Barbarino," the leader of the gang on the ABC series, "Welcome Back Kotter." He plays an incorrigible "sweat hog" in the New York City classroom of Gabe Kaplan. It's not a hard part for John to play, since he was something of a cut-up himself during his school days in suburban New Jersey.

But that's where the similarity ends! John did not finish high school. The kind of education he was looking for wasn't to be found in books. He wanted to be a scholar of acting rather than of literature, and, at the age of 22, he is already a veteran of six years in the business.

MAURICE: Have you ever thought about changing your name?

TRAVOLTA: No. No. My father would kill me.

MAURICE: What made you decide to become an actor?

TRAVOLTA: My mother, probably. She was an actress, director, drama teacher. The flow was all there so about the age 12, I got stabbed with it. And I wanted to do it.

MAURICE: How would you describe yourself? What are you really like?

TRAVOLTA: For the first time in my life, I'm actually thinking about who I am.

MAURICE: Do you think you might have deprived yourself of a normal teenage life?

TRAVOLTA: No, I don't think so. I've enjoyed the past 5 years tremendously. It was just fuller than any high school teenager life could have been. And for the next five years, I'm back in high school again.

MAURICE: How do you react to seeing your face in magazines?

TRAVOLTA: I love to walk by and say, 'hi John.'

MAURICE: How do you think you might react to adverse publicity?

TRAVOLTA: I figure it this way. If I leave a vacuum to fill, they're going to fill it with something. So the best thing to do is to tell them something instead. And tell them the truth, if they ask for it. If you tell them enough information, I feel like there is going to be some sort of truth coming out of it. But if you don't and keep quiet and when they ask questions you don't answer them, they're going to make up stuff about you. I think that's probably what they do.

MAURICE: At the age 15, you decided to leave school. Do you remember making that decision?

TRAVOLTA: I remember it very clearly. I was dreading it. It was August and I was enjoying doing a show. I remember calling my father the opening night of the show, "Bye Bye Birdie." I said, 'Dad please, please let me out. I can't take anymore.' And I told him I'd go back to school in a year if it didn't work out. He said he'd call me back. Before the curtain went up he called me up and told me it was a deal. It was like a weight lifted from me. It was great.

TRAVOLTA: No! If I wanted to I could go back to school. There is no big problem.

MAURICE: When you were a kid, did you go to the movies? Who were your favorite stars?

TRAVOLTA: I guess when I was really young like 7 or 8, my favorite film was "Yankee Doodle Dandy". James Cagney was my favorite star.

MAURICE: Did the kids in New Jersey make fun of the fact that you wanted to go into the threatre?

TRAVOLTA: No. The reason why they never did is because I never did anything in school. They never knew that I was interested. It was always outside of the schools. It was in community theatre or dramatic groups, not in school. I hated the idea of doing things in school.

MAURICE: Are your friends basically actors and actresses?

TRAVOLTA: Now they are. It's pretty hard for them not to be. That's who you are around all the time.

MAURICE: In school, were you the class clown?

TRAVOLTA: I was. I was the worst. I went to a predominantly black school. I used to come into school singing, 'I'm white, and out of sight." Things like that. I used to make wise remarks like I do on the show.

Black Singer Has Part In Debate

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Black singer Miriam Makeba told the U.N. General Assembly that she opposes recognition of Transkei, the state proclaimed two days ago in her native section of South Africa.

She said recognition of Transkei as a nation would be "a deliberate act of hostility toward Africa" because its "pseudo-independence" was part of a "grand design" to perpetuate white domination in South Africa.

Miss Makeba spoke Wednesday from a platform where she once sang African songs in concert. Now married to American black activist Stokeley Carmichael, she took part in the debate on South African apartheid as a delegate from Guinea.

Mechanical Cow Working Well

SANTA ROSA, Calif. (AP) — What has three wheels, weighs 800 pounds, can spin on a dime and looks like a golf cart wearing a costume? It's a battery-powered mechanical cow, and Dick Knight says, "We call 'er Elsie."

Knight trains horses that specialize in "cutting" a cow from a herd and blocking its return so it can be weaned, examined, branded or sent to market.

He said Friday that he's delighted with Elsie, although some horses are a bit startled the first time they see it. The reaction seemed understandable as Knight demonstrated the machine, sitting inside with his head protruding from the artificial cow's back.

As a ranch hand Gayle Gray drove the machine into the corral for a practice run, stallion Doc's Tom Tucker perked up his ears. Elsie approached, then lurched quickly and repeatedly as Elsie twisted and turned, but the horse held his ground as a cattle-cutter must.

Inside the machine, Gray was using two levers to steer. Four heavy-duty, rechargable six-volt batteries powered its two 1½-horsepower motors.

"With a cow, you go where she wants to go. With Elsie, we can control where she goes, and repeat the same moves as long as it takes to get the horse trained," Knight explained.

Knight, who charges about $300 for a month's training, said he uses Elsie for 95 per cent of the work. But he still likes to test a horse against live cattle every week or two.

Elsie was put together by Mechanical Animated Animals, Inc., of Elgin, Ill., which began manufacturing the fiber glass machines last December. General manager Ed Heaney said about 60 have been sold in the United States.

Askew Blasts 'The Greek'

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Gov. Reubin Askew, a teetotaler and churchgoing Presbyterian, says odds-maker Jimmy "The Greek" Snyder is encouraging illegal gambling on the presidential election.

In an interview with WCTV-TV Friday, the Democratic governor said it bothered him greatly that the Las Vegas odds-maker had given Democrat Jimmy Carter a 6-5 edge over President Ford in the Nov. 2 balloting.

Later Friday, Snyder said he had changed the odds — tipping them the other way, to a 6-5 edge for Ford.

In any event, Askew said that encouraging gambling on the election could encourage "dirty tricks" — especially if money was riding on the outcome in one or two key states.

Postal Officials Told To Ignore GOP Aides Advice

By JEFFREY MILLS
associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Postal Service is ordering local postal officials to ignore advice from Republican campaign aides that misrepresents a federal court ruling.

In letters and telephone calls, the GOP staffers have told local postal officials that an injunction forbids delivery of campaign literature mailed at the nonprofit rate, postal sources said Friday. However, there is no such injunction.

The nonprofit rate, considerably cheaper than other ways of mailing political literature, is used heavily by labor unions in support of Democratic candidates.

Postmaster General Benjamin F. Bailar has sent a message to postal officials around the country instructing them to ignore the letters and telephone calls.

A Postal Service attorney said the matter is of concern because "interfering with the mail is a very serious business, a criminal offense."

The law on obstruction of mail says: "Whoever knowingly and willfully obstructs or retards the passage of the mail, or any carrier or conveyance carrying the mail, shall be fined not more than $100 or imprisoned not more than six months or both."

The Postal Service lawyer doubted there would be any prosecution in this case because no mail was delayed as a result of the letters and calls to postal officials.

Contacts with the postal officials in New Jersey, Indiana and Missouri were made by campaign representatives of President Ford, the source said. In addition, a call to the Postal Service regional headquarters in San Francisco was made by an official in the campaign of Harrison Schmidt, Republican senatorial candidate in New Mexico, sources said.

The Associated Press obtained copies of letters by Ford representatives to postmasters in Trenton, N.J., and Indianapolis, Ind.

When read one of the letters, Ford campaign spokesman Peter Teeley acknowledged that "the person who sent that letter is misinformed."

Teeley said there was no suggestion by the Ford committee headquarters in Washington to its state units to contact their local postal officials.

However, the executive director of the Ford campaign in New Jersey, Tony Cicatiello, gave another version. Cicatiello said the Ford headquarters "informed us of the injunction and said it might be worth our while to inform the postal officials."

Ouachita Trial Is Being Constructed

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — A 195-mile trail through the Ouachita National Forest in Arkansas and Oklahoma is now being constructed and should be finished in 1979.

Once completed, the Ouachita trail will stretch from Lake Sylvia in Arkansas to the Old Military Road in Oklahoma. The project is a cooperative effort between the U.S. Forest Service and Arkansas and Oklahoma Green Thumb projects.

TO BLOCK GRANT

Briscoe Seeks Republican Aid

By TOM DECOLA
Associated Press Writer

DALLAS (AP) — Texas Gov. Dolph Briscoe has called on state Republican leaders to help stop a federal grant which will be used to set up a farm cooperative in the La Raza Unita party stronghold around Crystal City.

Briscoe said Friday as far as he is concerned "the motto of La Raza Unida was 'kill the gringo,' and as far as I know it still is."

"This grant was made over the objections of Democratic leaders in Congress," Briscoe told a Democratic gathering at a downtown Dallas hotel."

Briscoe attacked the Zavala County Economic Development Board, the grant applicants, referring to the area planned for the farm cooperative as "a little Cuba." He termed the $1½ million grant an example of Republican fiscal irresponsibility.

U.S. District Judge Jack Roberts of Austin froze the grant Thursday to give Texas officials time to review it.

Contacted in Crystal City, Zavala County Judge Jose Angel Gutierrez, founder of La Raza Unida party, said the "gringo" reference was taken out of context and was made in a speech by him to a group of students.

"It was made more than eight years ago," he said. "We were not even Raza Unida then. It was called Mexican-American Youth Organization (MAYO) and the quote referred to the racist elements in the Texas society that we had to kill socially, politically and economically."

He added, "It was a reference to the racist elements which we defined as gringo."

Briscoe said Gutierrez called the Zavala project "sort of a people commune."

Gutierrez denied that the project was a "people commune" and added that Briscoe's attorneys had stipulated they had no objection to the grant.

Asked if he thought the commune was militarily subversive, Briscoe said, "You should go down there and investigate it." He said some of his staff has observed the project, but that he has sent no law officers to Zavala County to investigate.

Officials of the Zavala project said they would use the grant to buy farm land for a cooperative, set up a savings and loan firm and an import-export business.

SHOW PREPARATION—Big Spring artist June Harbin is shown at work on a watercolor painting to be exhibited in a one-man show in the Scurry County Museum Nov. 7-23. She is a former resident of Scurry County and attended Western Texas College.

Scurry Museum Shows June Harbin Paintings

Paintings by June Harbin of Big Spring will be featured in a one-man show opening Sunday in the Scurry County Museum on the campus of Western Texas College.

The public is invited to attend a reception honoring the artist from 2-5 p.m. in the museum.

The show, "Many Faces of Texas," will remain in the museum through Nov. 23. Regular museum hours are 8:30-12 noon and 1-4 p.m. each week day. The museum will be open from 1-5 p.m. each Sunday through Nov. 21.

Included in the show are 24 watercolors, two pastels and 13 oils. The Museum Gift Shop also has several miniatures by the artist for sale.

Mrs. Harbin is a former resident of Scurry County and attended Western Texas College. At WTC, she was a member of Phi Theta Kappa, the national honor fraternity for two-year college students. Her first major award was won at the Phi Theta Kappa national convention in Biloxi, Miss., last spring, when she was named winner of the convention's art show.

The artist has won numerous awards in smaller shows, including a third place at the 1976 Howard County Fair and three awards in the annual Fourth of July art show in Snyder in 1975.

Most of Mrs. Harbin's training came through self-instruction. She bought an oil painting set when she was 17, and later enrolled in the Famous Artists correspondence course.

Two fellow artists, Jodie Boren and Randy Steffan, have greatly influenced Mrs. Harbin's watercolor painting. Boren, who lives in Abilene, taught a one-day watercolor workshop in Stephenville several years ago while Mrs. Harbin was a resident of Stephenville. "Without Jodie and Randy encouraging me during some very bad times, I wouldn't have reached the point at which I now find myself," Mrs. Harbin says.

In addition to painting three to eight hours a day, Mrs. Harbin teaches a children's art class at the Hobby Center in Big Spring. "The students show me things I never saw before," she commented, "and seeing things anew is what being an artist is all about." She has also taught adults and plans to start a couple of adult classes soon.

Most of Mrs. Harbin's paintings are about Texas. She does many paintings on commission, and especially enjoys doing paintings of old home places. "These mean so much to the buyer," she said. "I always try to get to know the people and their likes and dislikes, and their favorite season, and then work all these things into the painting."

She feels that an artist should have a personal involvement with his work and patrons, explaining that this adds to the artists's feeling of satisfaction with his work and at the same time adds interest for the viewer.

Mrs. Harbin and her husband, Bob, have three sons. Bob is Emergency Medical Technician instructor at Howard College.

RSVP Coffee Is Postponed

The November coffee for RSVP members scheduled on Nov. 2 at the Union Community Center has been postponed until Nov. 9, Mrs. Betsey Duncan, RSVP Director, has announced.

The Community Center is used as a voting place and will not be available for the RSVP meeting on Nov. 2, election day.

Because of the delay, the RSVP coffee originally scheduled in the Hermleigh Community Center on Nov. 9 has been re-scheduled for Nov. 16.

SMU Adds Coello Art To Museum

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Southern Methodist University says it recently added a painting by the 17th-century Spanish artist, Claudio Coello, to its Meadows Museum collection.

The 86-by-61-inch picture is known by two titles, "St. Catherine Dominating the Emperor Maxentius" or "Christianity Triumphing Over Paganism."

Pet Rock Nets Creator $4 Million

LOS GATOS, Calif. (AP) — The Pet Rock, the superstar of the 1975 gift-giving season, made a lot of money for Gary Dahl, its creator - an estimated $4 million.

Dahl says he still has a few Pet Rocks lying around and that he might use them to pave his driveway here, headquarters for him and his Rock Bottom Productions.

The Pet Rock, Dahl said, was inspired by all those disobedient, destructive and dirty run-of-the-mill pets, like dogs, cats and birds. Rocks are relaxed, clean and they don't bark.

He said he's putting a piece of his Pet Rock proceeds into a saloon.

Parents Versus Cults Rights Baffle Courts

By LINDA DEUTSCH
Associated Press Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Madonna Slavin, a 20-year-old Hare Krishna devotee, tells a court her family kidnaped her from the sect for five days. A judge rules the abduction illegal.

She tells of capture and captivity at the hands of her own family, of efforts to "deprogram" her of her religious beliefs, and she tells of her escape.

It happened here Friday — but the bizarre tale might have been told in any number of cities in recent years.

The question of how far parents can go to entice children away from religious cults still baffles courts and brings anguish to parents.

Miss Slavin won her right to stay with the Hare Krishna sect. In another case, prominent "deprogramer" Ted Patrick was convicted of kidnaping and sent to prison.

But in New York recently, when Marylee Kreshower protested that her mother had her unlawfully abducted from the Hare Krishna sect, the grand jury disagreed. Two sect leaders there await trial on charges of unlawfully imprisoning her through brainwashing.

Some former members of the sect have denounced it as a "counterfeit religion" which enslaves young people for financial gain.

Miss Slavin's case came to light this week when her fiance, Krishna follower Edward Walford Jr., 27, complained that her family had kidnaped her. After he and the sect sought a writ forcing the family to surrender her, a court order was issued for her return. But her father and brother, called to testify, invoked the Fifth Amendment when asked to reveal her location.

Then Miss Slavin escaped. She sought police protective custody, and showed up in court Friday on her fiance's arm.

In a calm monotone, she told this story:

She said her mother had tearfully telephoned that her grandmother was near death. So she drove to the house. While Walford waited outside, family members ganged up on her.

Then, she said, she was dumped in a van and for five days was shuttled to the homes of uncles and cousins along the California coast. At each stop she was locked up with two female "deprogramers."

She said she finally convinced the two women she could be trusted to take a walk and ran to a neighbor's home where she phoned her fiance.

During the ordeal, she said, her family "told me that I'd been brainwashed, that they wanted me to have my own free will, that I'd been conned."

When her parents' attorney asked in court whether she believed she had been brainwashed, Miss Slavin answered, "No."

She said she still loves her family and probably will not press charges against them. But she expressed resentment.

"I would say I was physically and mentally assaulted, which I would take as an aggressive action, not an action out of love," she said.

Superior Court Judge Harry Hupp, who presided over case, conceded some might sympathize with the plight of the Slavin family. But he said their actions were clearly illegal.

NOVEMBER WEDDING—Mrs. James Halbert announces the engagement and forthcoming marriage of her daughter, Judy Ann, to Lee Castillo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Tercero and Faustino Castillo. The couple will be married at 7 p.m. Nov. 27 at Northside Baptist Church. Rev. George White will perform the ceremony.

Mrs. Jay Huckabee Elected President Of Garden Club

Texas Garden Clubs, Inc. elected officers for 1977-1979, planned a new project with The American Land Trust, and were challenged by the national president to "teach today's youth to become tomorrow's gardeners" during the 49th fall convention in El Paso, October 26-28.

Mountain Plains District IX Clubs hosted the convention at the El Paso Sheraton Hotel with nearly 200 members and special guests. Mrs. Franklin J. Kitchen and Mrs. Jimmie Emmons were chairmen, Mrs. C.F. Robinson district director.

Mrs. Lee Coil, Lubbock president, presided over the business sessions during which Mrs. Jay Huckabee, Snyder, was elected president to be installed at the April 12-14 spring convention in Houston. Other officers include five vice presidents: Mrs. C.J. Montgomery, Houston; Mrs. John M. Michie, Jr., Ft. Worth; Mrs. K.N. Speas, Tyler; Mrs. D.L. Timberlake, Uvalde; and Mrs. Tom Britton, El Paso. Secretaries will be Mrs. Robert McCoy, Goldthwaite, and Mrs. C.E. Blackburn Brownsville. Mrs. J.K. Somerville, Midland will be treasurer.

Other business included reports of growth by 32 new garden clubs with more that 500 members; seven new Blue Star Memorial Highway markers in the state; adoption of a new "Standard of Excellence" garden club ratings for Green, Bronze, Silver and Gold designations. Mrs. Coil and Mrs. Roy Wilkins were elected trustees for the state headquarters located in the Botanical Gardens of Fort Worth.

Nathaniel P. Reed, assistant secretary, U.S. Department of the Interior, and honorary chairman of The American Land Trust whose goal is to select at least one land area of environmental importance in each state, said every area nominated for the American Land Trust will be protected for the next 200 years to retain its natural qualities. Garden Clubs and individuals will help with gifts of land of environmental significance, financial contributions, and by volunteer assistance in local communities. Donations of at least ten dollars entitles membership in the Nature Conservancy and will provide an American Land Trust Certificate. The two-year project is a special Bicentennial effort.

Workshops were conducted on the American Land Trust project by Mrs. G. Browning Smith, Harlingen, chairman; and awards by Mrs. Montgomery.

Special programs on horticulture were given by Mrs. Bryl H. Burdick, Jr. of El Paso on hanging baskets, with Dr. William H. Peavy, Area Horticulturist for Texas A&M. University demonstrating minigardening. Mrs. John M. Ewald, Jr. of El Paso gave the artistic design program using native plant material, kinetics and special music.

A special tour of the Chamizal Monument, shopping tour in Juarez, and post convention tour to the greenhouses and landscape in Juarez with a tour of the Home of Embassy and other places, concluded the convention.

The Houston Council Garden Clubs extended the invitation for the April 12-14, 1977 Convention to be held at the Shamrock Hilton in Houston.

Others attending the El Paso Convention were Mrs. F.G. Sears, Mrs. Gene Best and Mrs. S.L. Terry.

Mrs. Huckabee is a member of Snyder Garden Club.

JUDY'S SALAD

Delightful old-fashioned combination.

½ cup light cream
1 teaspoon sugar
¼ cup tarragon vinegar
½ teaspoon salt
2 medium heads Boston lettuce, torn
1-3rd cup chopped scallions
Freshly ground pepper to taste

Stir together the cream, sugar, vinegar and salt; chill. Just before serving, toss with the lettuce, scallions and pepper. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Cellophane was first developed around 1900 by a Swiss chemist named Brandenberger who was trying to combine vicose with cotton to make material that would resist dirt and staining.

Book Disputes 'Grand Duchess'

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. (AP) — For 56 years, Mrs. John E. Manahan has said she is Anastasia, grand duchess of Russia. A new book contains arguments that could help her claim, but she's having none of it.

"No, no, I don't like it. It's a put-together mess," the 76-year-old woman said about the book by two British journalists.

One complaint against "The File on the Tsar" by Anthony Summers and Tom Mangold involves a photograph which she finds unflattering.

Other complaints involve the authors' case. She says all members of the royal family — not just the women — survived an effort to kill them in 1918. She has not said how.

The popular theory about the royal family's fate says all were slain in Ekaterinberg July 16, 1918. But the two journalists say they have new evidence that only the czar and perhaps his son died then. They say the czarina and four daughters survived at least six months.

Summers and Mangold cite a variety of evidence to support the theory that Anastasia could still be alive.

In 1920, Mrs. Manahan was pulled from a Berlin canal after an apparent suicide attempt. For years she fought for her claim in German courts, but lost in 1970 when the courts ruled against her.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

Troop 302 had their rehearsal of their investiture ceremony at their Oct. 20 meeting. They made cookies to serve the parents that attended. Thursday night they had their investiture ceremony at the Girl Scout Hut. Twelve girls were invested. They did their good deed by serving their parents punch and the cookies they had made. They were pleased with their cookies. They were very good.

Oct. 27, Troop 302 invested two girls who had been unable to attend their previous ceremony. This meeting was the day after the Brownie Tacky party and the girls talked about the party and all the things they did. They played games and sang songs that they had learned from he other troops.

Monday, Oct. 25, Cadette troop 266 and Junior troop 85 went to Abilene to a "Song and Games" Day that was held at the West Texas Girl Scout Council office. Fourteen girls and three leaders attended from Snyder. There were 300 girls there with Snyder traveling the longest distance. The girls sang songs altogether for an hour and then were divided into three groups for more songs and games. At 2:00 p.m. we left the council office and went shopping. We arrived back in Snyder at 5:30. The girls attending the workshop were: Gina Walker, Christian Ramirez, Judy Irwin, Mavis Browning, Angelia Pilgrim, Gwyn Walker, Angela Myers, Melinda Overhulser, Susan Tully, Kristi Allen, Katrina Walker, Dana Parham, Denise Merritt, Angelia and Carrie Lieb. Leaders were : Nita Pilgrim, Anne Overhulser and Margaret White.

The annual Brownie Tacky party was held Oct. 26 in the Towle Park Barn. The winners of the tackiest costume were: Brownie East Troop 271-1st, Chiva McKinley, 2nd, Trena Balwin, 3rd, Becky Self. West troop 203-Valery Foster, Rhonda Johnson, Janie Murph. Central troop 116-Sheila Sharp, Trina Ryan, Christy Valdez. West troop 223-Dena Martin, Sheila Martin, Misty Hester. East troop 272-Angela Lay, Connie Cates, Tonya Robinson. North troop 62-Tobi Stephens, Laura Shifflett, Amy Wilson. North troop 205-Michelle Garcia, Rachel Everett, Melissa Batchelor. North troop 315-Shelly Curry, Debbie Bruns, Jennifer Goodwin. East troop-Nickie Stewart, Terry Stout, Letha Baldwin. Northeast troop 302-Rachel Gonzales, Pamela Hardy, Cindy Tolbert. Stanfield troop 248-Terri Glasscock, Samantha Ham, Shanna Smith.

The leaders with the tackiest costume were; 1st-Martha McKinley, 2nd-Dale Lindsey, 3rd-Rosa Alarcon.

The troops shared games and songs with each other. Refreshments were served to about 112 Brownies and their leaders. Before the evening was over the Witch appeared. Thank you, Mrs. Witch, for taking the time to fly in on your broomstick. Hope to see you again next year.

We would like to thank Mrs. Lydia Gonzales who was chairman of the party, Cadette troop 266 and their leader, Mrs. Margaret White; Junior troop 85 and their leaders, Mrs. Larry Pilgrim, Mrs. Bill Overhulser, Janice Hembree and Mrs. Reese, who helped in various ways. Judges for the girls were Mrs. Mal Donelson, Mrs. Clinton Sellars and Mrs. John Harper.

Refinish That Old Trunk

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures

Old trunks are among the most desirable items being sought by the tag sale set, who have discovered their usefulness in solving storage problems.

They are used at the foot of beds, in the nursery, and have even gone off to college dorms.

Finding just the right trunk has become a real scavenger hunt as neighbors try to outdo one another in refinishing them. Until a few years ago, only the smaller, older trunks were being sought, especially for homes furnished in antiques. But there just aren't enough of the bridal variety around, so many women are refinishing the larger trunks to look old. One woman "distressed" a trunk for a beautiful look. It had so many gouges and dents, she had no alternative, she said.

But gouges and dents can be filled up if you don't mind spending a little time. Paint experts suggest big gouges or pores can be filled with paste wood that has been thinned to the consistency suggested by the manufacturer. The paste is brushed on and allowed to set until it loses its gloss. Then burlap or coarse sandpaper is wiped across it to distribute the paste into the grain. After drying it for 24 hours, it is sanded with medium paper — in the direction of the grain — to remove excess filler.

All straps, wooden knobs and other pieces ot nardware should be removed from the trunk before it is refinished. It may be simpler to mask the hinges if the trunk is old. To get a trunk down to its bare wood' surface use a coarse sandpaper in the direction of the wood grain. After that use a medium grade and then a fine grade sandpaper. Remove all traces of sandpaper dust with a cloth or a vacuum brush.

If paint remover is used, put it on heavily and soak it for perhaps 30 minutes, the paint people suggest. If the bare wood doesn't begin to show, you may need another coat of the remover, which might be washed with lukewarm water after another 30 minutes.

Some people like to stain the wood after a fine sanding. It should be applied with a lint free cloth or a bristle brush. The stain is applied to the sides of the chest first, then the top, using either pigmented oil stain or a combination stain sealer. Brush on the stain, a thin coat if you want a light stain, with average smooth strokes and let it penetrate into the wood. When the stain dries to a dull tone, wipe with a clean cloth.

However, after cleaning the piece, the restorer may discover the wood isn't all that great, and that's where "distressing" the wood even further may make it look like an antique piece. Worm holes done with an ice pick, and hitting the wood in certain places with a bunch of keys or an old chain, are among the methods some people use.

Today's hand will be of little interest to rubber bridge players. After West starts out by cashing the ace and king of hearts and shifting to a trump our rubber bridge player will win in his hand, ruff his last heart, draw trumps, cash four club tricks and concede a diamond to wind up with exactly 10 tricks.

An ordinary match-point player would probably do just that also, but how about the expert who wants an overtrick.

Our expert will win the first trump in dummy and lead the jack of diamonds. If East ducks, our expert will go up with his king, ruff his last heart, run trumps and make the last four tricks with the clubs to wind up with an overtrick and a top score.

Doesn't our expert risk his contract by that line of play?

Of course, he does, but the risk is small. West has dealt and passed and not acted at his next turn. He has shown up with the ace and king of hearts. He is most unlikely to also hold the ace of diamonds. Furthermore, if West did hold that ace of diamonds he almost surely would have led it at trick three.

How about East? Should he rise with ace of diamonds? Yes, he should, but everyone may make a mistake when given a chance.

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

A frequent question to this department is whether it is necessary to remove old wallpaper before painting over it or putting up new wallpaper.

There is no set answer. It depends on whether the old paper is securely attached to the wall. If it is, you can go ahead with either painting or re-wallpapering. Some judgment is required as to whether the old paper belongs in the "securely attached" category. Look it over carefully. If the seams are still firmly in place and there are no bulges, it's a good bet the new paper will adhere well. If there are just a few pieces of loose paper, remove them and sand down the edges. Sometimes a couple of loose seams can be reglued into place.

When there is a general "loose" condition, the old paper should be taken off. Unless it is one of the heavier types that strip or peel off, wallpaper does not come off easily. It must be wet enough for the glue underneath to be softened, at which point the stripping or scraping process should begin at once, otherwise it will become dry again quickly. The trick, therefore, is to work on only a section at a time.

A wet sponge will often be sufficient to soak through the paper and loosen the old glue. Better yet is a liquid wallpaper remover, which is sold in hardware stores and by paint and wallpaper dealers. Best is a steamer, which can be rented by the day. It is a somewhat messy job, but so is any procedure you select.

Patching plaster should be used to fill holes or other gaps, whether the wall is plaster or gypsum wallboard. With the latter, special attention must be given to the seams or places where the wallboard panels meet. Generally, when such repairs are necessary, a better result will be obtained if a primer-sealer is used over the patched areas.

In buying new wallpaper, be sure to get instructions on hanging it, since there are variations in the procedure depending on the type of paper you purchase. Nearly all manufacturers include directions for the use of their product.

Take the measurements of the walls, including those of the windows, doors and everything else in the room that will not be papered. Give these measurements to the dealer, who will then determine how many rolls of paper are needed. Make an arrangement with him to return any unused roll should the calculations not prove accurate.

In selecting wallpaper, you will find that it comes in paper, vinyl, fabric and half a dozen other materials. As you compare types and prices, also compare washability, resistance to stains and resistance to moisture. Another consideration, especially if you have any idea about changing to another color in a few years, is strippability; that is, how easily it can be taken off the wall if necessary.

For some reason that I have never been able to figure out, women seem to be more adept at hanging wallpaper than men. At least, I've convinced my wife of that.

(Do-it-yourselfers will find much helpful information about various jobs around the house in Andy Lang's handbook, "Practical Home Repairs," available by sending $1.50 to this newspaper at Box 5, Teaneck, N. J., 07666.)

4-H Clubbers Are Served Witch's Cake

North Elementary 4-H Club met Thursday at the Union Community Center for their regular meeting. Teka Eicke, president, presided.

Kim Courtney was welcomed as a new member.

Jan Wilson gave a demonstration on making a Witch's Cake which was baked and served to members present. The recipe she used is below.

FLYING WITCH'S CAKE
2-3rds cup oleo
1¾ cup sugar
2 eggs
1½ teaspoon vanilla
3 cups sifted flour
2½ teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1¼ cup milk.

Cream butter, add sugar gradually, cream until light, add eggs and vanilla and beat until fluffy. Sift dry ingredients together and add to creamed mixture, alternately with milk, beating after each addition. Beat 1 more minute.

Take out 1 or 1½ cups batter, put in small bowl, add 2 tablespoons cocoa, 1 teaspoon oleo and mix well. In remaining batter add 2 teaspoons yellow cake coloring, pour into greased and floured tube pan, drop by tablespoons cocoa mixture into yellow batter. Bake 350 degrees 35 to 40 minutes or until middle springs back when touched.

The next meeting will be at North Elementary School Nov. 11. All girls are urged to attend.

Museum Given Gauguin Painting

NEW YORK (AP) — Finding it ironic that Tahiti's Gauguin Museum was Gauguin-less, magazine owner Malcolm Forbes recently cured the problem when he presented, on long-term loan, the Paul Gauguin painting Les Enfants dans la Rue (The Children in the Street) to the museum.

The Forbes Magazine Gauguin, insured for $150,000, depicts the wife and children the artist abandoned in France to begin his colorful life in Tahiti where his paintings of the island's people made him famous.

Dr. Lamb

See total problem of aged mother

By Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB—How can I tell my mother she is not really sick ? She has been to a dozen different doctors. She had two complete physicals last year. The doctor found a small hernia and enlarged colon. He said there was nothing to be alarmed about. Still she complains all the time, takes pain pills, nerve pills, etc.

She calls or writes every week, upset because I haven't been over to see how she is. I live 50 miles away, have a family and can't get over to see her every week to check on someone who isn't really sick.

DEAR READER—Your mother is ill, you just haven't considered the total problem.

Just because a person does not have a heart attack, stroke, ulcer or more objective evidence of illness does not mean he is healthy. Some of the more distressing problems in life do not show on an X ray.

I can think of a dozen illnesses that are not serious but are painful. Many people who have an irritable colon because of lifestyles and sometimes because of nervous tension can have real pain. Accumulation of gas, even when it comes from swallowing lots of air from being nervous, can be very painful. Many people who have had unfortunate experiences in life may have a depression or instead they may develop pain and disfunction of the body.

I only know what your letter tells me but there is a good chance that your mother is lonely. She may no longer have the goals she had when she was your age nor the involvement in life. She is reaching out to you to help make her life meaningful again.

This poses a great problem for many older persons. I am impressed by the observation that the older people in Abkasia in the Caucasus of Russia continue to feel needed and involved all their life. Many of them live productive enjoyable lives past 90 and no small number past 100 years of age. Continued involvement with the family is a stimulus for living.

Unfortunately our culture has gotten away from the family unit, of generations helping generations. The result is that many individuals after having raised their families and reached retirement have no meaningful role in society. They no longer feel needed. I am sure this has a lot to do with the number of older people in our society who are really old before their time and end up in nursing homes, often being warehoused. These people are abandoned by their children. I wonder what society would have thought if these older people had abandoned their children when they needed parents. It is not a great deal different.

May I suggest that you think about this and see if you can't help your mother get involved in life again. She might be better off in a senior citizens group. Or is there some way she can help with your family? Grandmothers are often very helpful. Now that she is older she needs your help to keep her in the society she knows, just as you needed her help to find a place in society when you were a child.

How well she does may depend upon how involved she is. I am sending you The Health Letter number 1-7, Perpetual Youth, Aging, to give you a better idea about what is involved in aging and what we know about the process. Others who want this information can send 50 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Just send your letter to me in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

DEAR DR. LAMB—Could you give me the latest facts on "crib deaths" or sudden infant deaths? I have heard one reason for these deaths is the change in the infant's body and heartbeat around 4 to 5 months. Is this the only age this tragedy occurs? What is your personal opinion on the matter?

DEAR READER—Sudden infant death syndrome (SIDS) is the most common cause of death in infants between the ages of 1 month and 1 year. It causes 10,000 deaths a year in babies in the United States. It is most apt to occur within the first five months of the baby's life and the peak danger period is the second and third month.

This is not a new disease. It existed in Biblical times. A study in Scotland in 1882-1891 reveals that it was as common then as it is now. This is important because it points out the disease is not a product of modern civilization or pollution or any of the other "theories of the month" that are published from time to time.

When a baby dies from SIDS it must be remembered that it is a disease. It is not something caused by neglect. The baby did not suffocate or choke on its food or vomitus. At present there is no way the parents or the doctor could diagnose the event before it happened. Happily that situation may be changing in the light of recent research.

The work of Dr. Alfred Steinschneider of Upstate Medical Center, Syracuse, N.Y., and others, has identified that normal babies may have periods of apnea (failure to breathe) as often as 20 times a night, but SIDS babies don't seem to tolerate these. Why? The whole process if very complicated but it seems to be related to neurological development - specifically the reflexes involved in respiration and possibly heart action. The automatic breathing reflexes fail spontaneously and death results.

There is a switch in the breathing mechanism in the first few months of life. A newborn baby is rather resistant to the lack of oxygen. In early life this changes to the adult sensitivity to lack of oxygen. Oxygen lack then drives the reflex mechanisms to stimulate respiration if any emergency arises. Apparently these infants can't respond that way yet.

There may be several underlying mechanisms that can trigger off the reflex failure.

My theory of the month is that the investigators are on the right track, but there are many ways to precipitate the final event, somewhat like fainting in an adult. We know that fainting can be caused by a lack of circulation to the brain, but that can be precipitated by a needle stick, standing in parade formation or even emotional shocks. The mechanism of the faints may be the same but the precipitating factors may be many.

There is much more that I can't cover here but I do think anyone who has lost an infant from SIDS should contact the National Foundation for Sudden Infant Death, Inc., 1501 Broadway, New York, NY 10036. They can help you and you do need help.

Parents sometimes even have to protect themselves against ill informed public officials who do not understand what appears to be an unexplained death. It is not the parents' fault or anybody's fault. It is a disease that we are just learning to recognize - hopefully in time to help prevent it.

For further information on how respiration works send 50 cents for The Health Letter 2-4, Keeping Your Lungs Fit. Send a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for mailing. Address your letter to Dr. Lamb in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

Weather Slows Corn Harvest

WASHINGTON (AP) — Wet weather has slowed this fall's corn harvest, estimated by the Agriculture Department at a record of nearly 5.87 billion bushels, up 2 per cent from the 1975 output of about 5.77 billion.

As of Oct. 24, the department said Wednesday in a weekly weather review, about 63 per cent of the corn was harvested against 65 per cent on the same date last year. The average rate of harvest by this time is only 47 per cent, officials said.

HEALTH TIP from DEAN
The National Heart Institute says that studies show heart attacks are associated with obesity, high blood pressure, high cholesterol levels in the blood, lack of exercise, and high rates of cigarette smoking. Many doctors thus recommend weight control, exercise, diets low in animal fats and cholesterol, and elimination of cigarettes. This advice is an effort to avert the patient's headlong dash toward a heart attack. The advice is sound at all age levels.

We've had too few friends in Washington in recent years. It's our turn now to support a friend who's worked for West Texas...

Senator Lloyd Bentsen.

"Senator Bentsen opposed beef price controls in 1974. The beef producers of West Texas can continue to count on the Senator for help in the future."
David Burnett, Cattleman

"Senator Bentsen has fought to see that West Texas farmers receive a fair price for their crops. He is keeping an eye on things for us in Washington, and we need to keep him there."
Glen Burgett, Farmer

"Senator Lloyd Bentsen has represented the major interests of West Texas extremely well. I think he will continue to do so, and he should be re-elected."
Jeanelle Spears, Woman's Varsity Tennis Coach

"Senator Bentsen has long been a friend of agriculture. He grew up on a farm. He also has been a friend of business while working to protect the consumer."
Johnny Bob Carruth, Agribusinessman

"Senator Bentsen has been a strong advocate and supporter of higher education. West Texas needs to keep this man in Washington."
Jim Blakely, Student

Tuesday, vote to keep a friend in Washington—Senator Lloyd Bentsen.

A WORD FROM THE PUBLISHER

The feller on Deep Creek says, "Opinions are one thing we'll never have a shortage of."

If public opinion polls are any indication, the 1976 Presidential sweepstakes will be a photo finish.

Tuesday is election day, and we'd urge everyone to exercise their right to vote. Even though some may be somewhat burned out on campaign speeches and debates, Tuesday's election is important in every respect.

The Ford-Carter campaign has been described as boring and uneventful, but we concur with vice president Rockefeller who this week reminded Americans that politicians are not necessarily supposed to be good entertainers.

What is important are the national party platforms and the views stated by the candidates and their running mates.

With regard to vice presidential hopefuls Robert Dole and Walter Mondale, neither strikes us as capable of national leadership. This in itself is frightening in view of the fact that four of the last five vice presidents have become the nation's chief executive.

Dole leaves us cold, but we are more in harmony with his conservative philosophy than with Mondale whom we would describe as more liberal than the 1972 Democratic nominee, George McGovern.

Any endorsement of President Ford would have to be with qualifications in view of his record in office. However, we will join many conservative Democrats in voting for Ford on Tuesday.

We simply cannot reconcile the national Democratic platform with anything that is good for Texas.

With regard to oil company divestiture, Ford has said no while Carter has given a qualifed no.

The National Democratic platform on which Carter is running embraces National Health Care and the Humphrey-Hawkins bill which calls for a form of guaranteed minimum income. We view neither as compatible with efforts to achieving a needed balanced budget.

If there were still any doubts about our vote on Tuesday, the two candidates' stand on Section 14-B of the Taft-Hartley Act, commonly known as the right-to work law, could change that.

Carter has stated that if Congress should repeal the law, that he would not veto it. Texas is one of 20 states with a right-to-work law and we believe that alone is a significant factor in the fact that Texas has led the nation in industrial growth. In addition, Texas' unemployment figures are far below the national level.

The Democratic-controlled Congress has been too free-spending, in our opinion, to chance it with the Democratic nominee.

However, voting is a personal matter and we simply urge you to study the issues and remember to vote on Tuesday---ROY McQUEEN

New Branding Session Set At Museum

Local ranchers and stock farmers are invited to a second branding session scheduled next Saturday morning at the Scurry County Museum.

More than 100 brands have been burned into the walls of a blacksmith shop exhibit in the museum's permanent exhibit gallery, and several other brand owners have inquired about bringing irons. The Saturday branding has been planned for their convenience, and for the convenience of others who would like their brands added to the collection.

The branding will start at 10 a.m. and continue until noon, Sharon Sutton, museum director, said. There will be coffee and visitors are invited to see the exhibits in the gallery while their branding irons are being heated.

The blacksmith shop was constructed by John Portis, a member of the Museum Association's board of directors whose grandfather, W.T. Baize, was an early-day Snyder blacksmith. A list of the brands and their owners has been displayed near the small shop.

The museum, located on the campus of Western Texas College, will be open from 1-5 p.m. Sunday and is open each week day from 8:30 a.m. to 12 noon and from 1-4 p.m.

Rides Provided Senior Citizens

The Senior Citizens Center at Western Texas College will provide transportation to voting places for Senior Citizens on Nov. 2, Mrs. Kay Albin, director of the center, has announced.

Senior Citizens who would like rides are asked to call the Center at 573-0444 on Nov. 1 or on Nov. 2 between 9-11 a.m. and 1-3 p.m.

Classes In Cosmetology

Cosmetology students at Western Texas College will begin classes at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning.

The cosmetology program is new at WTC this fall, and students who have not yet registered may register before or after the first class session.

The class will meet in the classroom in the Museum Building on the south side of the WTC campus. Persons who need directions to the classroom may inquire at the information desk in the museum lobby.

Teen's Warning: Keep it Clean

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1976 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd. Inc

DEAR ABBY: After reading the letter from HEAVY-HEARTED DAD whose pregnant daughter wasn't even through eighth grade, I had to write. This is for all teenage girls whose boyfriends try to pressure them into going all the way:

I'm 16 and my boyfriend is 18. Sure, we go parking and make out, but when he mentions fourth base, I set him straight right away.

My feeling is this: We have our whole lives ahead of us, so why take a chance on ruining it when we're young?

If your boyfriend says, "If you love me, you'll prove it by going all the way," tell him to get lost. Keep a level head and don't ever go so far you can't turn back. It's not worth it. Sign me...

A FIRM "NO"

DEAR FIRM: Congratulations! Fifteen years ago I wrote a book, "DEAR TEENAGER," but the chapter "Should I Prove My Love?" is still sound advice for teenagers. And here it is:

Girls need to "prove their love" through illicit sex relations like a moose needs a hat rack.

Why not "prove your love" by sticking your head in the oven and turning on the gas? Or playing leap-frog out in the traffic? It's about as safe.

Clear the cobwebs out of your head: Any fellow who asks you to 'prove your love' is trying to take you for the biggest, most gullible fool who ever walked. That proving bit is one of the oldest and rottenest lines ever invented!

Does HE love YOU? It doesn't sound like it. Someone who loves you wants whatever is best for you. But now figure it out. He wants you to:

Commit an immoral act...

Surrender your virtue...

Throw away your self-respect...

Risk the loss of your precious reputation...

And risk getting into trouble...

Does that sound as though he wants what's best for you? This is the laugh of the century. He wants what's best for HIM...he wants a thrill he can brag about at your expense.

Love? Who's kidding whom! A boy who loves a girl would sooner cut off his right arm than hurt her. If you want my opinion, this self-serving so-and-so has already proved that he DOESN'T love you.

The predictable aftermath of "proof" of this kind always finds Don Juan tiring of his sport. That's when he drops YOU, picks up his line and goes casting elsewhere for bigger and equally silly fish.

At times, still another version of this modern tragedy occurs, as indicated by this letter I once received:

DEAR ABBY: I went steady for seven months with a boy I thought was the most wonderful person in the whole world. I thought I'd always stay decent. After a while we weren't satisfied with just kissing.

He asked me to prove my love. I thought as long as we planned to be married in a few years, what would it matter?

I gave in to him, Abby, and I found out it mattered a lot. He lost all respect for me. He started going with other girls. He even talked about me to other boys.

Please print this for all the girls to see. Maybe it will help someone who is tempted to prove her love like I did.

SORRY NOW

If he loves you, let HIM prove his love—by marching you to the altar!

CHECKING THE WEEVILS—All of the activity associated with boll weevil control here doesn't take place in the spraying planes. Specimens of weevils themselves must be checked to determine how the control measures are faring and to provide information needed to determine when to spray. Here, Judy Wall, zeroes in on a weevil with her microscope in the BCD office, where the diapause program is being coordinated. The sixth and final spraying is due to begin Monday.

Mondale Revives Watergate Issue

CHICAGO (AP) — By reviving Watergate as a campaign issue three days before the election, Sen. Walter F. Mondale says he hopes to puncture President Ford's effort to picture himself as the candidate most worthy of public trust.

Mondale, the Democratic vice presidential candidate, said Friday that if Ford and GOP vice presidential nominee Sen. Bob Dole had had their way at the time of the 1972 Watergate scandals "Richard Nixon would still be president."

Mondale made his attack on Ford's Watergate record while campaigning across Wisconsin and Illinois. Today, Mondale is scheduled to stop in Steubenville and Cleveland, Ohio.

In a speech before the Wisconsin Education Association in Milwaukee, Mondale picked up on recent campaign declarations by Ford that the Republican administration has restored trust and confidence in the government following Watergate.

Appearing only a few hours after Ford had addressed the group, Mondale declared that Ford's record "since assuming office demonstrates that he did not truly understand the lessons of Watergate."

Mondale aides said the senator personally took note of an Oct. 28 speech by Ford in which the President disassociated himself from what Ford described as "the tragic betrayal of trust" resulting from Watergate scandals under former President Nixon.

The aides said the Milwaukee speech also was intended to carve away at the impact of recent paid television advertising seeking to portray Ford as a man to be trusted more than Jimmy Carter.

To respond, Mondale struck at Ford's record from the earliest attempted Watergate probe in the fall of 1972 to the President's resistence to proposed Watergate reforms, including legislation providing for appointment of an independent special prosecutor.

Mondale said he wanted to "refresh the public memory on a course of behavior that was designed to protect President Nixon, despite the fact that (Watergate) was one of the most profound and growing scandals in American history."

Mondale cited Ford's acknowledged role in blocking attempts by the House Banking Committee to vote itself subpoena power to investigate the original Watergate break-in.

Mondale said he was not implying that Ford had a role in Watergate, but "the fact is that he helped lead the fight that blocked the investigation until after the 1972 election, thus enabling Mr. Nixon to be re-elected without the American people knowing the full story of official lawlessness carried out by that administration."

At that time, Ford was House minority leader.

THE PASTORAL COUNSELOR

By JOHN ZELL GASTON III

(Editor's Note—These columns are presented as a public service by the Pastoral Care Center, 1804 Twenty-sixth Street, in the hopes that readers will find in them hints on how to live happier and more effective lives. HOW WE BLUFF

A group leader asked the group to engage in a "top secret" project. He asked them to write their top secret on a piece of paper. "Write your top secret on a piece of paper, the thing that you would be most unwilling for someone else to find out about yourself. Do not sign the paper."

He took up the slips, shuffled them, and passed them out again. Each member of the group read aloud the top secret of another member. The surprising thing is that so many of the top secrets were the same. A few mentioned sexual problems, others mentioned difficulty in holding their tempers, a few more confessed their inability to love anyone else. The most common secret was a conviction of basic inadequacy. "If others could see me as I really am, they would know my incompetence, and would realize that all I am is a bluff." The significant thing about this experiment is that the group consisted of all graduate students in some of the top professions.

If so many of the "intellectual elite" feel this way about themselves, how many of us common folks are there who feel the same way? How many of us are walking around, doing the work of the world, all the while afraid that if we were ever looked at carefully, our bluff would be discovered? How many of the men who designed, bulit, assembled and flew a spaceship to the moon were accomplishing their assigned jobs, all the while plagued by the fear of being found out? How many doctors who are healing patients, lawyers who are winning cases, merchants with impressive sales records are all afraid that their successes are all a sham? And, how many of these people feel all alone with their fear?

How many who are husbands are afraid to let even their wives see their true selves? And how many wives are afraid to let their husbands see that emptiness within? "If I let anyone see what I really am, they would see what a big fake I am, and no one could love or respect a put-on like me," is the way one man, put it to me.

It's a ghastly cosmic joke, that's what it is. All these lonely, isolated, empty people walking around with smiling masks of efficiency, trying to impress a bunch of lonely, isolated, empty people who are not impressed because they are too busy holding up their own masks to notice. And the worst stinger of the joke is that all those empty, isolated people are really doing good, productive jobs, but cannot believe it because they honestly believe that they are no more than well concealed fakes!

When we lie to ourselves, we reall y carry it to extremes. A good many of us started out trying to act pleasant even though we were mad, like Dale Carnegie advised. We discovered that people were nicer to us when we smiled than when we frowned, that they seemed to like us better. But we knew we were smiling on the outside and frowning on the inside. Then, somehow we made a leap. We knew the smile was fake, and that people liked the fake smile. We came to the conclusion then, that whatever people liked is in us was the fame part. From then on, we were in a trap. Any time we did something that other people liked, we labled that part as "Fake." Any time we did anything that people did not like, we labled that part as "real." With that, we set up a no-win situation. With this lie, we robbed ourselves of the possibility of enjoying anything.

What do we do? Why not take another look? Why not look to see if some of the good you are doing isn't part of the real you? From there, you can go step-by-setp to see the rest. Nothing made by God can be all bad, and that includes you. Find someone else to talk to, someone you can show a little bit of what is behind that mask. Perhaps the two of you can work on dropping the mask, and through it you can discover the real you. Perhaps when you do discover the real you, you will find that he is a pretty good fellow after all, and that there is no real need for the "image" (mask) you have been showing people all these years.

Three Indicted In Bank Fraud

HOUSTON (AP) — Three former employes of a La Porte bank have been named in an 18-count federal grand jury indictment alleging misapplication and fraudulent conversion of bank funds.

Warrants were issued Thursday for the arrests of Gerald Joseph Hoff, 49, former president of the Bayshore National Bank in La Porte; William Edgar Boaze Jr., 43, former executive vice president and cashier at the bank; and Judith Jane Herron, 32, former secretary and assistant cashier.

They are accused in the indictment of conspiring to make false entries in bank records and issue $140,500 of the bank's certificates of deposits without authority of the bank's board of directors.

The indictment states the alleged irregularities from 1972-76 were concealed by false entries being made in the demand account of the La Porte School which used the bank as a depository bank.

All three of those named resigned their positions at the bank more than a year ago.

ASTRO-GRAPH

For Sunday, Oct. 31, 1976

ARIES (March 21-April 19) In financial matters, you're likely to let the big fish get away while you capture the minnow. Keep your priorities in order.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Be aware of being boastful today, or of having grandiose schemes. You could turn off the very people you're trying to impress.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) You'll probably have only partial success today because you tend to exercise faulty judgment. Try to see where the greatest value lies.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) If you're in the company of one you're overly anxious to impress today, don't put on airs. Just be yourself.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Be very careful if managing the affairs of others today. You might take risks you wouldn't dare to with your own resources.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Not a good day for you to make major decisions. Don't be pressured into agreeing to something you haven't studied.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) You're likely to be disappointed financially today if you expect more than you're entitled to. Seek only your fair share.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) At a social gathering today don't get involved with an opinionated person who's trying to bait you into an argument. It'll accomplish nothing.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) If you're trying to get something for the home with the aid of two friends, don't count on the one who promises the bigger discount. He won't produce.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Don't attempt to oversell ideas to others today. Just tell them enough to whet their appetites, then stop talking.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) You're likely to be overindulgent with those you love today. Be kind, but don't overwhelm them.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) A pal who is prone to exaggerate may pass on some intriguing tale to you today. If you repeat it, give voice only to what you know to be true.

Your Birthday

Oct. 31, 1976

A very active social life is likely for you this year. Two new pals will each initiate you into different circles of friends.

(Are you a Scorpio? Bernice Osol has written a special Astro-Graph Letter for you. For your copy send 50 cents and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Astro-Graph, P.O. Box 489, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019. Be sure to ask for Scorpio Volume 1.)

Patrice Lumumba, ousted premier of the Republic of the Congo, was murdered in the Congo's secessionist province of Katanga Jan. 17, 1961.

For Monday, Nov. 1, 1976

ARIES (March 21-April 19) You could be living in a dream world today, so remember: Unrealistic ideas will produce only self-deceptive results. Use logic.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Stay out of the affairs of others today and try to keep them out of yours. Situations could arise that would be costly to all.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) You won't make points by being selfish when you're pretending to share. Others will see right through your little game.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) The goals you seek may be illusionary today. Don't be surprised if you find an empty package under the tinsel when you unwrap the prize you sought so eagerly.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Do not speculate in unfamiliar areas today. You could be the victim of a wolf in sheep's clothing. Devote your energies to the family.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Your thoughts have merit today and should be heeded. Don't let a member of your family throw cold water on them.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Daydreaming would be an unproductive waste of time for you today. Keep your nose to the grindstone.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Be sure to look under the pretty wrapping if you're shopping or buying today. A seeming great bargain could be rotten at the core.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Face life's situations realistically today. Look beneath the surface before you make a decision.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Seek counsel of those with expertise and follow their advice today. Your hunches are faulty and could lead you to make a bad move.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) It could cost you money if you dawdle in pleasurable pursuits with idle friends. Pay attention to business instead.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Any feeling that you lack opportunity today is a figment of your imagination. Lady Luck is in your corner, waiting for you to make the first move.

Your Birthday

Nov. 1, 1976

You have a good chance to forge ahead this coming year through friends and associates. Gains appear likely if you don't take on impractical tasks.

(Are you a Scorpio? Bernice Osol has written a special Astro-Graph Letter for you. For your copy send 50 cents and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Astro-Graph, P.O. Box 489, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019. Be sure to ask for Scorpio Volume 1.)

Library Plans Special Day To Introduce Films

Films will be shown at Scurry County Library, 1916 Twenty-third Street, throughout the day of Wednesday, Nov. 3, to give patrons an introduction to the $75,000 film library now available to Scurry County through the county library, according to Mary Nell Bullard, Librarian.

"We have access to the film library of Abilene Public Library which serves as the Major Resource Center for this area," she said. "This means our library patrons may check out 16mm sound films free of charge. The films will be mailed here for a prearranged show date and then mailed back to the Abilene Library."

"Way Out West", to be shown at 9 a.m., shows Laureal and Hardy as tenderheel desert prospectors in seach of the daughter of a late friend who has struck it rich. The 10:00 a.m. film will be "White House Story", a study of the White House from its plans drawn by order of George Washington to its occupancy by John Kennedy. This authentic production spans over 170 years of American History.

At 11 a.m. "The Music Album, Strauss Waltzes" will be presented. This short film features Tales of Vienna Woods and Love Song Waltz with the Vienna Philmarmonic Orchestra and ballet by members of Salzberg Festival. This will be followed by a 30 minute color film "He is Risen". Religious paintings and photography of the Holy Land tell the story of the Life of Christ from his entrance into Jerusalem as a rabbi to the resurrection. The original music score is by Robert Russell Bennett and the script deftly ties together quotations from the Bible.

The afternoon films will begin at 2 p.m. with a silent movie, "A Jitney Elopement" with Charlie Chaplin and Edna Purviance. She plays a wealthy heiress who pleads to be saved from Count de Ha Ha and Charliecomestotherescue.Made in the day of the "jitney", "tin Lizzie", and "flivver" jokes, it points out in hilarious fashion the tremendous changes that have come about in the years that have passed. This will be followed by a 15 minute color film "The Flower and the Hive" which shows the relationship between the activity of bees and the fertility of field and orchard crops. Much of the film is in close-up so that the process of cross-pollination of flowers by bees can be clearly observed. The life of the hive is similarly illustrated. "Texas Our Texas" traces the history of Texas from the time of the dinosaurs to the present through the use of re-enactments of events, famous paintings, monuments and places, and museum exhibits.

The 4 p.m. showing will be "Grand Canyon", a Disney production and winner of an Academy Award for Best Short Subject. This presents the spectable of the American West's majestic phenomenon with no narration interrupting this visual presentation of the famed "Grand Canyon Suite" by Ferde Grofe. "Narcotics: pit of Despair" will be shown about 4:30 p.m.

"Orphan Lions" is scheduled for 5 p.m. and is an edited version of the film "Living Free." The final film will be a special treat for young patrons who have enjoyed Robert McCloskey's Caldecott Award-winning book by the same name, "Make Way for Ducklings."

Scurry County Library has a catalog listing all the films available, and the staff will be glad to assist in making reservations for their use. The library's 16mm projector may be checked out for use by organizations. Come take advantage of this opportunity for program planning, or come just for fun.

PREPARING TO SHOW FILMS—Sharon Sumruld, clerk at Scurry County Library, prepares to show 16 milimeter films. Films will be shown to the public continuously from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Wednesday to acquaint them with the new film library.

Washington Wire Strange

SHELBYVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Mayor H.V. Griffin thought it odd that the White House sent him a telegram informing him his city had one of the nation's 100 noisiest airports. Shelbyville's airport has had no commercial flights for nearly two years.

The telegram, signed by Stephen G. McConahey, special assistant to the President, was to inform him of Ford's recent extension of aircraft noise standards to all domestic and international flights to the United States effective Jan. 1, 1977.

"I would think you would want to know about this important action to reduce aircraft noise for those who live around our major airports," the telegram said.

Griffin estimated about 20 small local aircraft and trainer planes fly in and out of Bomar Field daily.

SCURRY COUNTY PRODUCERS ASSOCIATION-DIAPAUSE CONTROL PROGRAM BIRTHDAY

On November 6, 1976 the Scurry County Producers Association sponsors of the Diapause Control Program will be one year old. Very few organization can boast of accomplishing more than this group has in one year.

Just one year ago in Room A of the Scurry Coliseum approximately 300 Scurry county cotton producers met to discuss the problem associated with the boll weevil. After hearing a discussion on the merits of a diapause boll weevil control program, decided they would attempt a program of this type.

Their board of directors were elected at that time, and the following Tuesday, this board met and formally organized. At this meeting Mr. Roy Kidd and Ernest Sears told the board that secretarial help and office space could be provided through the Scurry County Board of Development.

Since that time no one, who has not been directly associated with the Producers Association, can realize the amount of hours, days and weeks these board members have worked and contributed their time to an idea they believed in.

I plan to have more on this board of directors in later columns because I believe these individuals deserve the appreciation and thanks of anyone associated with agriculture or depends on it for a living and that doesn't leave out many.

Here is one group that doesn't believe in standing back and saying "let somebody else do it."

SMALL GRAIN:

As soon as the fields dry, the small grain should be checked and watched closely for insects. Armyworms, greenbugs and white grubs are the more common ones.

In some areas, armyworms are causing considerable damage with control measures being applied in some cases. Armyworms are serious pests since they destroy small plants by devouring the leaves and stems.

Insecticides can be used to control outbreaks of these pests. Since the weather has turned colder, maybe this will slow the buildup of armyworms.

Greenbugs are small aphids usually found at the base of the plant first and as the infestation increases can readily be found on leaves and stems. Greenbugs cause damage by sucking juices from plants and injecting toxins which cause stunting and sometimes death of the plant. Insecticides can also be used to control this pest.

White grubs, which are the larvae of the June bug, usually cause death of the plant by cutting off the roots about two inches under the ground. Chemical control of the white grub must be done prior to or at planting time of small grain. Applications of insecticides to the growing crop being damaged by white grubs will give little to no control.

Foreign Conditions Aided US Oil Firms

NEW YORK (AP) — For the major industries like oil, steel and autos, the summer quarter was a little better this year than last, when the symptoms of recession were still being felt.

But there were a few notable exceptions to the general upward trend of third quarter earnings announced by the big companies in those groups this past week.

The economy's revival in the past year perked up demand for chemicals and petroleum products. Sales went up in the United States and the demand supported higher prices.

Abroad, however, the recovery moved much slower and petroleum product prices were held in check in many countries by government controls.

These conditions generally contributed to the higher third quarter profits among the major U.S. oil companies.

Earnings were up 9 per cent at Mobil Oil Corp., 8 per cent at Standard Oil of California, 42 per cent at Cities Service Co., 24 per cent at Shell Oil Co. and 30 per cent at Continental Oil Co.

But Exxon Corp., the nation's largest oil firm, reported a 4 per cent decline and No. 2-ranked Texaco, Inc., noted a 14 per cent drop.

In the steel industry, third quarter earnings improved at most companies reporting this past week. The notable exception was U.S. Steel Corp., the largest domestic producer.

In Detroit, two major big auto makers said strong sales of new cars gave a lift to their earnings. General Motors reported a big 63 per cent increase for the quarter and Chrysler reported a $76 million profit after a $79 million loss last year.

But Ford Motor Co. said its third quarter earnings dropped from $56 million to $42 million.

In other business developments this past week:

—A number of major banks, including top-ranked Bank of America and No. 2-ranked Citibank, announced a cut in the prime lending rate from 6¾ to 6½ per cent. The rate, charged on loans to a bank's most creditworthy customers, can influence rates on consumer and mortgage loans, though they aren't directly linked.

—The government's index of leading economic indicators, used as a tool in forecasting economic trends, dropped 0.7 per cent in September, the second month the index has fallen.

—The United States' merchandise trade deficit widened to $2.88 billion in the third quarter, compared with a second-quarter deficit of $1.29 billion.

—The fourth International Monetary Fund gold auction in Washington drew strong bidding, with 779,200 ounces sold at $117.71 an ounce, 14 cents below the price in London during Wednesday's bidding.

—Publishing magnate S.I. Newhouse's $259 million offer for control of Booth Newspapers Inc. was accepted after the Los Angeles-based Times-Mirror Co. dropped out of the bidding for Booth stock. Booth, which publishes eight dailies in Michigan and Parade magazine, previously had opposed the idea of a Newhouse takeover.

Forest Has Many Hiking Trails

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Ouachita National Forest in Arkansas and Oklahoma contains a number of short hiking trails, many of which are educational as well as recreational.

A one-mile loop at Walnut Creek, for example, interprets forest land use, passing through 55 species of plant life. At Crystal Recreation Area another one-mile trail will have markers describing a hardwood forest and a jumble of rocks through which it passes.

Claude Stays Despite Complaints

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — Despite some parents' complaints, high schools here are showing a cartoon about little Claude, who gets so fed up with Mom and Dad's criticisms that he opens his magic box and makes them disappear.

As depicted in the award-winning, three-minute cartoon, Claude is a quiet boy, always tinkering with a little black box. Whenever he does anything, or doesn't, his parents berate him, saying he is stupid, "will never amount to anything" and "can't do anything right."

With the last put-down Claude pushes a lever on his little box and the parents disappear as the film ends.

One parent, Donna Johnson, complained to the school board that the film was "much too advanced, too much and too soon, and goes against the traditions of the family." Added another parent, Joyce Conley: "Parents are made to look stupid and the film is creating a generation gap."

But a review board voted 7-to-3 to keep the cartoon in the classroom, and the school board agreed.

District spokesman Thurman Warner said the film "stimulates discussion about the lack of communication in families." He said it has been shown to junior and senior high school students in psychology, social studies and communication arts classes.

Lynn Adams of Pyramid Films, which has distributed more than 1,000 prints of the film, said the animated cartoon was created in 1969 by Dan McLaughli for his thesis in theater arts at the University of California.

Pyramid Films of Santa Monica, Calif., said the film won prizes in Chicago and Amsterdam and is used by church groups, schools and libraries. It is part of the permanent collection of the Museum of Modern Art in New York.
