State Baptists Reelect Abner McCall

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP)—Abner McCall, president of Baylor, was reelected unanimously today as president of the Baptist General Convention of Texas.

McCall was named to a second term after an acclamation vote by the nearly 4,000 at the convention.

Elected second vice president was the Rev. James Riley of Houston.

The Baptists said a special prayer for President Johnson.

More than 4,000 attending the Baptist General Convention of Texas adopted a resolution and sent a telegram to the President expressing concern "about the moral decline in our beloved nation."

"We are recommiting ourselves to strengthening the moral fibre of our country. We will cooperate with you and work with you to this end," the telegram said.

The Baptists also adopted resolutions opposing legislation providing for local option elections on legalized gambling and legislation concerning liquor by the drink; and urging Baptists to oppose communism and abstain from irresponsible tactics of hate, slander and half-truth.

Most were predicting that Baylor President Abner McCall would be re-elected president of the 1.7 million-member convention.

And That Policeman Was A Stranger

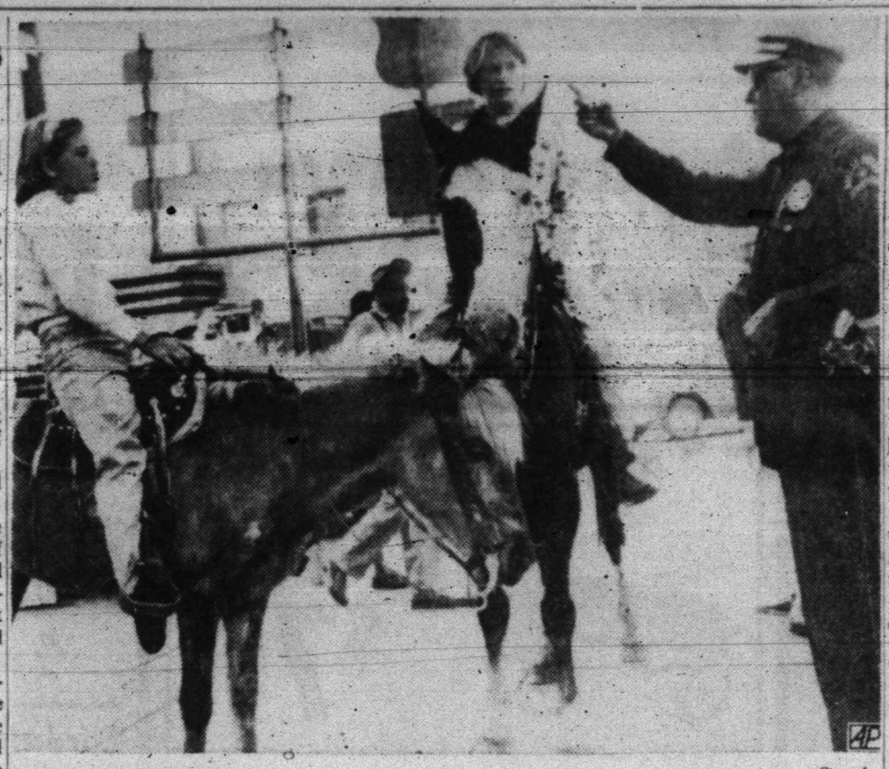

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP) — Eight-year-old Denise Bowman was more than an hour late returning home from school Wednesday and her mother telephoned police for help.

Four squad cars sped to the area. Patrolman D. D. Welch soon found Denise walking toward her home. He stopped and asked her to get into the car.

Denise refused.

"My mama told me not to talk to strangers or get into a car," she said.

Welch followed her home in the patrol car.

OFF THE SIDEWALK — Dallas policeman Charles Dyer orders Janie Green, 13, left, and Julie Jockum, 13, from sidewalk where they were riding their horses in downtown Dallas. The girls said they were riding from their homes in south Dallas County to a local radio station. It was the girls first attempt at riding the horses downtown, but officer Dyer was convinced that they should ride in the street — not the sidewalk. (AP Wirephoto)

Kremlin Urges Reds To Close-Up Ranks

By GEORGE SYVERTSEN

MOSCOW (AP) — The Kremlin appealed today for an end to "nationalist narrowmindedness and discrimination" in world Communist ranks as Red China's Premier Chou En-lai and other foreign Communist chiefs converged on Moscow for talks with the Soviet Union.

The appeal published in Pravda, the organ of the Soviet Communist party, was clearly intended to serve as the keynote for the first big gathering of Communist rulers since Nikita Khrushchev's downfall last month.

"The Communist party of the Soviet Union calls for an implacable struggle against the appearance and survivals of any kind of nationalism and chauvinism and against tendencies toward national narrowmindedness and discrimination," Pravda's editorial said.

In their bitter feud with the Chinese during Khrushchev's time, the Soviets accused the Chinese of fomenting a schism in the Communist world with nationalist, chauvinist policies. The charge has been indirectly aimed at some East European Communists, most notably the Romanians.

The Chinese premier headed a seven-man delegation to the celebration Saturday commemorating the 47th anniversary of the Bolshevik revolution.

It will be the first high-level meeting between the Soviet and Chinese Communists since peace talks between the two parties broke down in Moscow in July 1963. After that the conflict between the two nations sharpened and split the world Communist movement.

The removal of Khrushchev had raised the possibility of a surface reconciliation. The former Soviet leader was a personal target for much of Peking's bitterness.

Chou was accompanied by Vice Premier Ho Lung, a member of the Chinese party's policy-making Politburo; Kang Sheng, an alternate member of the Politburo; Wu Hsiu-Chuan and Vice Foreign Minister Liu Hsiao, both members of the Chinese party's Central Committee, and Vice Foreign Minister Chiao Kuang-hua. They were being joined in Moscow by Pan Tzu-li, China's ambassador to the Soviet Union.

Red China's allies in the Communist world also were sending top-level delegations to Moscow.

There has been a surface easing of tension between Moscow and Peking since Khrushchev's ouster. Both sides recently exchanged friendly messages and neither has engaged in the public denunciations they exchanged frequently before the Kremlin shakeup.

However, Leonid I. Brezhnev, the new Soviet party chief, and Alexei N. Kosygin, the new premier, have shown no tendency to compromise on the major issues in dispute between the Soviet and Chinese parties. The new Kremlin leadership has said repeatedly it would continue Khrushchev's policy of peaceful coexistence with the capitalist world, seeking a further easing of world tensions. The Chinese bitterly oppose this policy.

LBJ, Humphrey Celebrate Victory

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson and Hubert H. Humphrey, his vice president-to-be, hit it off in fine fashion as they wound up a Texas hill country huddle today.

Lounging around the LBJ Ranch 15 miles west of this hamlet founded by the President's grandfather, the nation's two top Democrats celebrated Tuesday's landslide victory.

They looked much like peas in a pod as they hiked around the 400 presidential acres and rode horses, in Western garb.

Humphrey, a one-time druggist, looked anything but that as he moseyed around the ranch on a horse which, from all appearances, was tame and well behaved.

The President greeted Humphrey and wife Muriel with an elaborate Texas barbecue Wednesday.

Hardly had the Minnesotan landed on the LBJ property when he was clapped into Western pants, Western jacket, Western boots and Western hat and, with a mite of encouragement, enticed to climb aboard the horse.

All this coincided with the barbecue served buffet-style at folding tables set up in a metal hangar, painted brass green, beside the taxi strip at the Johnson City municipal airport — the ranch runway.

Afterwards, Johnson took Humphrey in tow for a tour of his birthplace, reconstructed on the property, and other landmarks which he delights in showing to visitors.

Both were in a holiday mood and obviously enjoying their visit.

Privately, they talked about the future of the vice presidency — an office often scorned — and looked ahead to the legislative program the Johnson-Humphrey administration will offer to the nation in January.

Both men are graduates of the Senate and hope that, with this background, they can work in tandem to promote the "Great Society" proposals that will bear the LBJ brand.

Humphrey was scheduled to fly to Washington late today. The Johnsons plan to spend several more days at their ranch.

Violence Continues In Bolivian Revolution

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP)—Fighting continued in La Paz Wednesday night as militia units loyal to deposed President Victor Paz Estenssoro resisted the nation's new military regime.

Seven persons were reported killed and 50 injured as air force planes attacked buildings occupied by police and strafed militiamen on a hill near the capital. Students and workers also attacked the buildings held by the police.

Paz, 57, who became president when a popular uprising threw out a military junta in 1952, fled with his family and aides to Peru in a Bolivian military plane.

He told newsmen in Lima his vice president, Air Force Gen. Gene Barrientos, was to blame for the coup.

"He wanted to be president so he rounded up air force and army support and overthrew me," Paz said. "I still have the support of my people."

Paz said the head of Bolivia's new military junta, Gen. Alfredo Obando Candia, "is the best of the lot. He was not mixed up with the others, but Barrientos will doubtless try to become president one way or another."

Obando is commander of Bolivia's armed forces. He told the nation the junta will hold power as briefly as possible and will hold new elections.

Paz served as president until 1956, but the constitution barred his re-election. He was elected again in 1960 and changed the constitution to permit his re-election last May. Opposition parties boycotted the election and charged that the government stuffed the ballot boxes to get the 90 per cent vote which Paz claimed.

Paz also had been beset by deepening economic troubles and militant opposition from the tin miners' union led by his former vice president, leftist Juan Lechin.

Tin miners and students organized antigovernment demonstrations two weeks ago and at least 17 persons died before Paz' military restored control. Paz broke diplomatic relations with Communist Czechoslovakia, claiming its embassy in La Paz helped forment the disturbances.

United Fund Aided By HD Clubs

With 10 days left to go in this year's United Fund campaign, receipts to the fund will have to average $1,000 per day if the fund is to reach the goal of $32,500.

Campaign workers this morning expressed special thanks to the Home Demonstration Clubs of Scurry County which have taken on the solicitation of rural areas as a project of the club.

Although the Home Demonstration Clubs got off to a late start, three have already reported in to campaign headquarters. The Bison Club was the first to report, and added well over $400 to the fund's total. Rural donations this year are better than in previous years, thanks to the efforts of the clubs, Bill Seale, chairman of the drive said.

Other HD Clubs which have reported are Plainview and Lake Thomas.

Several more business firms in Snyder have been reported as being 100 per cent — both the firm and its employees being listed as contributors. Those added to the list today were:

Search For Missing Plane Is Widened

LA JUNTA, Colo. (AP) — A plane with five men aboard was sought in a widening air and ground search of southeast Colorado today: Four aboard were Texans.

The plane left Denver Tuesday for Lubbock. Its last radio contact was made near Pueblo. There was rain and extreme air turbulence at the time.

About 100 men in 25 planes and 18 ground units searched a 6,000-square-mile area Wednesday. A similar search was resumed today.

In the plane were Ernest Marmon, 38, Max McNeil, 45, and Mac Green, 37, of Dallas, executive of the Dr. Pepper Co., a soft drink firm, Gregg Sherry, 36, a Chicago advertising man, and J. A. Willess of Dallas, the pilot.

CAP search units were organized as well in New Mexico and Texas.

Mariner 3 Poised For Mars Trip

By HOWARD BENEDICT
AP Aerospace Writer

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The United States prepared today to launch Mariner 3, a robot explorer, on an intended 8½-month journey to Mars to take pictures and collect scientific data.

A powerful 10-story-tall Atlas-Agena D rocket was set to blast off between 1:22 p.m. and 3:17 p.m. to start the complex payload across 350 million miles of space for a brief encounter with the planet next July 17.

If successful, the unmanned U.S. spacecraft will sweep within 8,600 miles of Mars and provide the first closeup information ever obtained about the planet. Many astronomers believe Mars harbors a basic form of life, such as vegetation.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said Mariner 3 will not be able to detect life but is to gather information needed to design life-seeking capsules which the United States hopes to land on Mars in 1969.

Because Mars is in a favorable position for a launching from earth only one month out of each 25 and because of the importance of collecting information about the planet for future shots, the space agency scheduled two identical payloads for firing in the present November favorable period.

Mariner 4 is being readied on an adjoining launch pad. Its firing date, possibly as early as next week, will be determined after analysis of early results from Mariner 3.

Mariner project manager Jack N. James of NASA's Jet Propulsion Laboratory said there was a better than 50 per cent chance of obtaining significant data about Mars with the twin shots.

James said that the 138,000 parts in each Mariner would have to function for nine months in space; the craft must obey radio commands sent to them from earth stations, millions of miles away; and must be able to transmit photographs and scientific information from 150 million miles in space.

Key information sought is the density of the Martian atmosphere. Mariner 3 is supposed to collect it during a swift 60-second penetration of that atmosphere before skimming past the planet into orbit about the sun.

Mariner 3's television camera was designed to snap 22 pictures during a 30-minute period of near encounter. The spacecraft is equipped with magnetic tape to store the pictures to be transmitted to earth one or two times each during a 10 to 20-day period after the vehicle has passed Mars. Because of the extreme communication distance, nearly nine hours would be required to transmit one picture.

Clouds Dump More Water On Texas

By The Associated Press

Moisture-laden cloud banks hovered over much of Texas today after dumping heavy rains on broad expanses of the state.

Rains of nearly three inches fell during the night at Ellington Air Force Base near Houston and the city itself recorded an inch and a half between dusk and midnight.

San Antonio received 3.23 inches Wednesday. Other amounts included Fort Worth 2.81, Waco 1.99, Austin 1.98, and Dallas 1.80.

The rains were triggered by the collision of warm, moist air from the Gulf of Mexico with a stalled-out Pacific cool front lingering over Texas.

Skies began clearing at Dalhart at dawn today and the improving weather is expected gradually to make its way from northwest to southeast across the state.

The Federal Aviation Agency at Dalhart said the mercury dipped to 32 degrees—freezing—at midnight but then began warming up. It was 40 degrees at 5 a.m.

On the other side of the frontal system, the temperature was 65 at Galveston and Lufkin before dawn today.

Chances Brighten For LBJ's Plans

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP) — The widened Democratic margin in Congress could brighten chances for two key Johnson administration proposals — health care for the elderly and aid to the depressed Appalachian region.

The White House is certain to read the landslide victory of President Johnson as a mandate to push harder for both measures, sidetracked in the last session.

Final returns indicate a net gain of two Senate seats for the Democrats and — more significantly — about 40 House seats.

In the 88th Congress, the Democratic Senate edge of 66 to 34 already was so big that the majority party could push through even its most controversial programs.

The proposal to provide medical care for older Americans by boosting Social Security taxes cleared the Senate by five votes. The $1-billion Appalachian aid bill was approved by a wide margin.

But the health plan was rejected in a conference with the House and House leaders decided against bringing up the Appalachian legislation, a sure sign that they feared defeat despite a 257-178 margin.

The new congressional lineup encouraged Democrats to believe they could put through these long-disputed measures:

—Creation of a Cabinet department of urban affairs or, as it has been called more recently, a department of housing and community development.

—revision of the immigration laws to knock out the long-standing national origins quota system.

—Extension of the Wages and Hours Act to include some types of service workers long excluded.

—Establishment of some form of national standards for the unemployment compensation system.

Democratic liberals say also it now should be easier to get Congress to vote the needed funds for such programs as vocational education, mass transit, manpower retraining and depressed areas.

Many Democrats are eager to vote on a Social Security bill since beneficiaries under this program were given a commitment in the 1964 session by both branches of Congress for an increase in their payments.

The House voted a 5 per cent raise, the Senate a $7 increase in basic payments. The measure went down the drain in the dispute over the health-care plan.

CRMWD Sets Board Meet

BIG SPRING — Directors of the Colorado River Municipal Water District will meet here at 10 a.m. Monday.

Progress reports will be heard and the board will consider a new resolution conveying a quarter - block tract near downtown Big Spring for use as a rehabilitation and health center. Previously, the board had said it would sell the land, acquired originally as a potential headquarters building site, for the center. The Dora Roberts Foundation, which has made a grant for the center, recently advertised for bids on the project.

W. Y. Spence, general manager, said that other general business would be considered at the brief board meeting.

OUTNUMBERED 180 TO ONE

Oilman Hardly Planned To Tackle Demos Alone

AUSTIN (AP)—Frank Cahoon gallops into the Texas Legislature next January, the lone Republican among 180 Democrats.

"This is my first office," the Midand, Tex., oilman said rather wistfully. "Those guys will ostracize me."

Cahoon, 30-year-old former Wichita Falls resident, didn't plan to take on the whole Democratic herd when he decided to bid for election a few months ago.

But the big election stampede of President Lyndon Johnson cleared the state legislative corral of five GOP incumbents from Dallas County, and Cahoon was on his own.

Only once before was the Republican delegation a minority of one in the State House. That is was in 1951 when a single Republican won a seat from Dallas County.

Cahoon's reason for braving a big Democratic majority isn't hard to figure. Being an independent oil operator with several wells around West Texas, he wanted to be sure someone protected the petroleum industry at the capitol.

His narrow victory over Democrat Harry Lawson may have bolstered family pride.

The folks haven't been able to foreget that in 1932 Cahoon's uncle, Orville Bullington, lost the Texas governor's race to colorful Ma Ferguson by some 210,000 votes.

A better known political figure connected to the Cahoon family is Sen. John Tower, Texas' Republican member in the Upper Chamber in Washington.

Tower married a niece of Cahoon's uncle — Bullington — which Cahoon figures, makes Cahoon and the senator second cousins by marriage. Or something. (Let those 180 Democrats figure that one, he says.)

So the Cahoons and their Cohorts actually own the Republican party in Texas, as with the state house, no U. S. Congressmen from Texas are Republicans.

How does Cahoon plan to coexist with his massive Democratic opposition?

"The Texas house is fairly conservative," he says. "I'll probably fall in with the most conservative bloc of Democrats and hold my own."

Cleopatra Nearing Break-Even Point

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Twentieth Century-Fox says that "Cleopatra," its $44-million [illegible] are here to stay, is approaching the break-even point.

Furthermore, says a studio spokesman, "It will definitely make money."

The film is playing to capacity houses throughout the world and could be one of the all-time grossers in history, Fox said.

"It could hit a world box-office gross of $125 million," the spokesman said hopefully.

Romney Suggests Dec. Meet For GOP Governors

By DICK BARNES

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Michigan Gov. George Romney suggested by telegram today that the Republican governors meet in early December to determine how to help broaden and unify the party.

In a wire to Gov. Robert E. Smylie of Idaho, chairman of the Republican Governors' Association, Romney said such a meeting "would be an extremely useful thing in determining how we can contribute as a group . . ."

Romney's overwhelming re-election victory Tuesday in face of President Johnson's landslide has put him in the GOP national spotlight.

The governor told a news conference in his Michigan Capitol office that he had talked by telephone with Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York and Gov. William Scranton of Pennsylvania, "but we did not discuss any meeting or actions other than this meeting of Republican governors."

Romney, declaring he is "not a liberal moderate," said, "I regret the fact that in the past several months I've been thrown into that group.

"I'm trying to be as conservative as the Constitution of the United States, as progressive as Theodore Roosevelt and as liberal as Abraham Lincoln."

"The fact that Republican governors have come through and weathered this storm might point to where the Republican party could look for the type of approach the people are looking for," he declared. Republicans gained one state house while Sen. Barry Goldwater lost to Johnson.

In winning re-election, Romney not only found himself being talked about as a 1968 presidential nomination prospect but was confronted with a Legislature of nearly two-thirds Democrats in each house. This was a jarring shift from the Republican majorities of Romney's first term.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: We were high school swethearts, but he went away to college and then married an out-of-town girl. In the meantime, I married someone else, too. After many dull years, I filed for divorce. I had no children, thank heavens. Fate brought him back to visit his parents this summer, and it was just like old times. He is more handsome than ever. He had his two teen-aged sons with him and I loved them immediately. There was nothing out of the way — just good, clean fun. Besides, we were with our parents most of the time. He told me he wasn't happy with his wife, but will not divorce her because of the boys. When they went home, the boys started to correspond with me, but their mother put a stop to it. How narrow - minded can you get? Don't you think children have a right to choose their own friends? How can I set her straight?

HOME TWON SWEETHEART

DEAR SWEETHEART: You can't "set her straight" so don't try. She considers you a threat, with good reason. This is not simply a matter of children "choosing their own friends." If you "love" the boys, and it was actually all "just good, clean fun," write finis to the chapter and close the book.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I have a weak muscle or nerve) in one eye and it makes me look cross-eyed. A local eye doctor said it was too slight to correct surgically for cosmetic reasons, but it is driving me out of my mind. Abby, I can't look at anybody any more. When I ask my family how bad they think it is, they say they don't even notice it. But I know they just don't want to tell me the truth because they are afraid of hurting tell you the truth. Then go to notice it, but when a small child asks you WHO you are looking at when you are looking directly at HIM, something must be wrong. How can I get the truth?

NEEDS TO KNOW

DEAR NEEDS: Ask a few people on whom you can rely to tell you the turth. Then go to another doctor and ask him. Even though the eye is only slightly off, if it bothers you excessively, perhaps surgery should be performed for your peace of mind, which is every bit as important as for cosmetic reasons.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a man who will eat the outside of a cake and the inside of a pie, and leave the less desirable parts for his family?

JUST WONDERING

DEAR JUST: I think he is a gluttonous galoot. And if he's yours, you have my sympathy.

Town Says Lion Just Has To Go!

ABINGTON, Pa. (AP) — The Abington Township commissioners have ruled that Howard Sautter's pet lion has to go.

Sautter's full - brown, 300-pound lion, Leo, has been living in his backyard for about 21 months. He keeps Leo either in a cage in the yard, or in the garage.

Sometimes, Sautter goes out on jobs in his tow truck with the lion sitting on the seat beside him.

A petition was presented to the township commissioners Wednesday night. It was signed by 55 of Sautter's neighbors. They asked that the lion be banished.

Sautter, 53, a former race car driver now operating a service station and garage, wasn't at the meeting. Informed of the commissioners' action, he denied a charge the lion roared at night. He said it used to, but he rigged up an intercommunications system, so that he could talk to Leo from his bedroom.

When Leo roars, Sautter says, he talks with him through the intercom, calming him down.

The only noise at night, adds Sautter, is the barking of his neighbors' dogs.

"They bark all night," he complained.

Aussies Expect Visit From Johnson

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — Sydney afternoon newspapers said today President Johnson probably would visit Australia next year.

Courts May Test Decision In California

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The decision of California voters on a controversial housing initiative seemed certain today to be headed for the courts to test its constitutionality.

And officials in Washington announced immediately after Tuesday's vote on Proposition 14 that California will receive no more federal money for urban redevelopment.

While they gave President Johnson a whopping 1.3-million vote victory over Sen. Barry Goldwater, Californians went even further in giving Proposition 14 a 1.5-million vote edge.

The proposition nullifies most of the Rumford Act, passed by the legislature in 1963 to outlaw racial discrimination in most state housing. The proposition leaves it to the discretion of landowners to decide to whom they would sell or rent.

Sacramento attorney Nathaniel Colley, regional counsel for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, said he will file suit "within one week" in California Supreme Court asking that certification of the results of proposition 14 not be accepted.

Palette Club Has Art Show

A French Sidewalk Street Cafe theme was carried out by the Snyder Palette Club Monday as they held their annual sidewalk show on the west side of the square. Coffee and cookies were served to a large crowd who registered and attended the event.

The 115 paintings, all by local talent, were in oil, pastels, watercolor, collogue ink, charcoal, sketching, and hand mirror crystal.

In the registration Dr. S. H. Merrit received a painting by Liz Bell, Janice Greenfeild one by Rosalee McGlaun, and Dewey F. McAnear received one by Laverne Lee.

Visitors voted for their choice of various paintings on exhibit. Laverne Lee received first and fourth recognition and Liz Bell received second and third honors.

The Plaette Club wishes to thank the merchants for the use of their space and the tables and chairs.

SNACKTIME FARE—Oatmeal Cookies that school-agers and preschool youngsters will gobble up.

Kids Vote For Oatmeal Cookies

BY CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

AROUND OUR house, these Oatmeal Cookies are known as Alexander's; that's because my four-year-old nephew gives them his unqualified approval. Not too soft, not too hard, not too sweet, not too spicy — he and other preschool visitors gobble them up.

School-age children, too, will undoubtedly vote for these cookies. A few of them, along with a glass of milk, will make fine after-school fare for a youngster.

The cookies are delicious "as is," but if your young ones beg to help you "bake," they might enjoy frosting some of them. In this case, make up a little thin confectioners sugar frosting - using orange juice for the liquid and grated orange rind for the flavoring - and turn the icing into a custard cup. Armed with a small spatula, a small boy or girl can then go to work.

ALEXANDER'S
OATMEAL COOKIES

1½ cups sifted flour
½ teaspoon baking soda
¾ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
¾ cup shortening
½ cup granulated sugar
½ cup firmly packed dark brown sugar
½ teaspoon vanilla
1 egg
½ cup milk
1½ cups regular rolled oats
½ cup chopped raisins
½ cup chopped walnuts

Sift together the flour, baking soda, salt, cinnamon and nutmeg. Cream the shortening, granulated sugar, dark brown sugar and vanilla; thoroughly beat in the egg. Stir in the sifted dry ingredients alternately with the milk. Stir in the rolled oats, raisins and walnuts. Drop by rounded or heaping teaspoonfuls, a few inches apart, onto ungreased cookie sheets. Bake in a moderate (375 degrees) oven until browned - 10 to 12 minutes. Remove to wire racks to cool. Makes 4 to 6 dozen. Store in a tighly covered container.

BSP Girls Hold Ritual Ceremonies

The Lambda Kappa Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met Tuesday evening in the community room of Snyder Savings and Loan. Impressive candlelight ritual ceremonies were performed for incoming members and pledges by Francis Shamburger, president.

In the business meeting following the ritual ceremonies, Patty Slater, ways and means chairman, gave a report on a rummage sale held Saturday.

Plans were made for a green stamp bazaar to be held in the near future.

Apple and cherry pie ala mode, coffee and Cokes were served to Pat Allen, Patty Slater, Barbara McClung, Pat Shaw, Jeanne Rigsby, Linda Salley, Ann Yielding, Juanita Tucker, Martha Baker, Judi Hardin, Mary Lou Scott, Francis Shamburger, Pat Pate, Betty Winkles, Pam Mengwasser, Mamie Lou Burditt and Helen Gilbert, by hostesses Eilene Snyder and Jean Terrell.

Royal Roast

3-rib standing beef roast (3rd, 4th, and 5th ribs)
1 large clove garlic
1 teaspoon seasoned salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
½ teaspoon paprika

Have entire shortrib section cut from beef to use another time. Insert peeled slivered garlic wherever possible in meat without slitting. Rub mixture of seasoned salt, pepper and paprika over meat and fat surfaces. Roast, fat side up, in a shallow pan in a moderate (350 degrees) oven with meat thermometer as a guide to doneness. If meat is at room temperature, count on about 20 minutes per pound for 140-degree beef. Allow cooked roast to stand at room temperature for 30 minutes before carving.

ON NATO SPLIT

HHH Expected To Attend Talks

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — One of President Johnson's first post-election moves in foreign policy may be to send a high-level representative — perhaps Hubert H. Humphrey — to Europe to talk with French President Charles de Gaulle and other Allied leaders about the split in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

In administration quarters there is persistent speculation that Johnson may ask Vice President-elect Humphrey to undertake the assignment, perhaps in company with Undersecretary of State George W. Ball, the State Department's top expert on Allied problems.

There is also talk that Johnson may ask Ball alone to carry out such a mission.

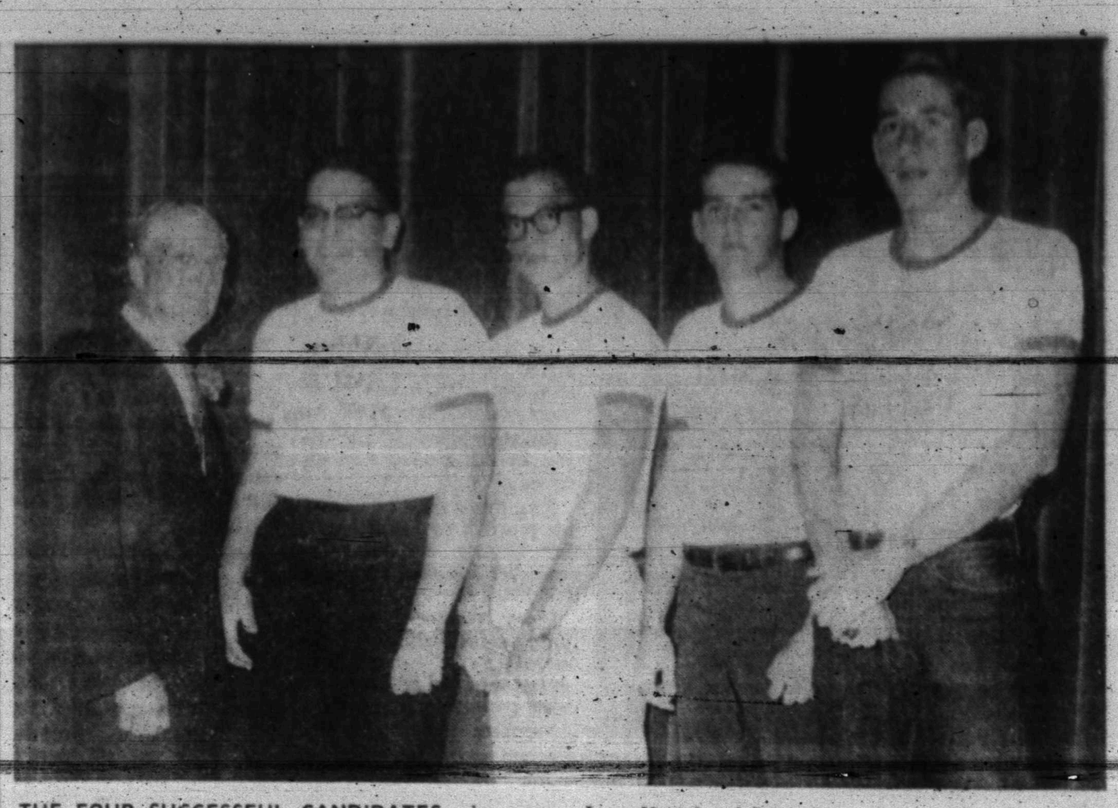

Speculation that Johnson will send an emissary to Europe increases as it becomes more and more unlikely that the President himself will go there this year. During the campaign he spread the word that he might find some occasion to address a NATO meeting in November or December. He was represented as being deeply concerned about splintering Allied unity in Europe.

Actually the post-election period will bring talks in Washington of considerable importance to the alliance. Belgian Foreign Minister Paul-Henri Spaak is due here next week for consultations with Secretary of State Dean Rusk. Spaak, a former secretary-general of NATO, has been one of the European leaders most actively interested in trying to find solutions for NATO's divisive problems and for the severe economic disagreement between France and West Germany within the European Common Market.

In about a month, British Prime Minister Harold Wilson plans to come here for talks with Johnson. He is anxious to find some formula for shifting Britain's nuclear weapons force to NATO and he would like to modify the U.S. plan for a NATO nuclear navy toward which the British have been cool for several years.

The key personality in the discussion which could tear NATO apart is De Gaulle.

He is threatening to drop out of the Common Market unless West Germany comes to terms quickly on a European grain price plan. He has also implied that so far as France is concerned U.S. success in carrying through the plan for a NATO nuclear navy would split NATO wide open — the implication being that France would virtually withdraw from the alliance.

THE FOUR SUCCESSFUL CANDIDATES who were chosen to attend the American Legion's Boys' State in Austin last June have presented programs at a number of civic clubs here in the past few days and also the assembly program at high school. Legionaire Frank Stephenson, who is in charge of the program locally, is pictured with Carroll Brush, Buddy Shaw, Jerry Vestal and Steve Crowell, who were chosen from 16 applicants. J. B. Murphy, Larry Walton and Reed Robinson were alternates. The Jaycees and Kiwanis Club aided the Legion in making the trip possible. A mock government is set up at Boys' State so that those attending can learn the actual operation of government.

Young Taft's Celebration Premature

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Sen. Stephen M. Young, who said "the heck with it" and went to bed thinking himself a loser election night, faces a second term as U.S. senator from Ohio.

Republican Rep. Robert Taft Jr., who held a premature victory celebration when it appeared he had survived the Johnson landslide and unseated Young, says he'll wait for an official canvas of the voting before deciding whether to request a recount.

Young, a 75-year-old hard-line Democrat, told friends in Washington Wednesday night that he had tried unsuccessfully election night to call Taft and personally concede the election.

At about that time, Taft was telling a news conference, "I think I've established some independency [illegible] alluding to his father, and the late "Mr. Republican" Sen. Robert A. Taft.

But at Midday Wednesday, the lead went over to Young for good. Final Network Election Service figures give him a 13,074-vote margin.

Taft said: "In view of the extremely close race and the surprising results in certain areas, I will await the official canvass before making any further statement or decision (on a recount request)."

ALTO BONITO (AP)— A 70-year-old Sullivan City man was killed Wednesday in a two-car collision 15 miles south of Rio Grande City. Two other persons were hurt.

Killed was Felipe Garza. His death marked the 71st of the year in the Lower Rio Grande Valley from traffic accidents.

Two Kennedys Swap Quips About Positions In Senate

BOSTON (AP) — For two hours the U.S. Senate's first brothers team in 161 years swapped quips and digs at a hospital bedside.

It was the day after election, and U.S. Sen.-elect Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., hustled to New England Baptist Hospital Wednesday to exchange congratulations with his younger brother, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass.

Bobby emphasized he was only visiting Boston, a joking reference to campaign charges he was a carpetbagger in New York.

Ted, who scored a lopsided election victory for a six-year term in the Senate, kidded Bobby about his smaller margin in the New York election.

Their meeting was loud and full of laughs. Bobby brought along his wife, Ethel, and Ted's wife, Joan, completed the quartet.

Reporters waiting outside the room had trouble distinguishing which brother was talking. One newsman explained, "They both sound so much the same, it's impossible to tell."

He added, wistfully, that both sound just like their older brother, the late President John F. Kennedy. Ted now holds the Senate post once occupied by his older brother John.

During talks with newsmen, Ted said, "I think I asked Bobby if he was ruthless."

That was another reference to one of the charges made against Bobby during the New York election fight against Republican Sen. Kenneth B. Keating.

"Oh, no," Bobby interjected. "He's been getting pretty fresh since he's been in the hospital. He had to have his wife campaign for him."

Ted has been hospitalized since last June when his back was broken in a plane crash. He expects to leave the hospital before Christmas.

They talked about problems in both Massachusetts and New York. One subject was more work for Navy yards and airbase locations.

"I explained to Ted," Bobby said, "that I was older (38) and that in our family we had a tradition that the older brother ..."

"Isn't Ted senior to you as a senator?" a newsman asked.

"I believe that he brought that up," Bobby replied.

The brothers Kennedy, when both sit in the Senate, will be the first such combination since 1803.

Theodore Foster of Rhode Island and Dwight Foster of Massachusetts served in the U.S. Senate from 1800 to 1803, when they resigned.

Hoover Asks New Trial

HOUSTON (AP) — Former Pasadena Mayor Sam Hoover's attorneys have filed a motion for a new trial in his income tax fraud conviction.

Hoover was convicted last month in federal court at Laredo of charges that he did not report his total income from 1957-60. He is scheduled to be sentenced next Monday.

The attorneys claimed 15 errors were committed in the proceedings.

The petition alleges the jury disregarded testimony of a convict witness who said Hoover masterminded a number of robberies throughout Texas.

Attached to the petition were affidavits from two jurors, Edmundo Ramirez and Marco A. Uribe, both of Laredo. The two jurors said in the affidavits Hoover was found guilty on the testimony of only "legitimate clients."

Mexican Government Operates Air Line

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Planes of the strike-bound Mexicana Airlines, taken over by the government temporarily, were operating on scheduled flights again today.

President Adolfo Lopez Mateos issued the decree to take over the airline early Wednesday. A spokesman said the move was designed to avoid a situation similar to one last year in which a strike grounded the company's planes for a month.

He said talks to end the strike will continue and government intervention will end when the strike is settled.

The strike began Sunday when 2,200 ground personnel walked out in a dispute over their demand for a 20 per cent wage increase. The company offered 15 per cent.

Tigers Face Cubs Friday Night In District Game At Brownfield

The Snyder Tigers will take to the road tomorrow to do battle against the hefty Brownfield Cubs. The contest is slated to begin at 7:30 in Cub Stadium.

The Cubs will be seeking revenge on the Tigers, who rushed their hopes for a district championship last year after the Brownfield crew thought that they had it made. The Cubs carried a 15-0 lead over Snyder into the dressing room at half - time last year, but the Tigers made a comeback, scoring 16 points in the final quarter to eke out a narrow one-point victory.

Although the Cubs are out of the title race this year, there is no doubt but what they want this one as much as they have wanted any game this year, and maybe more. They are a rugged team, having one of the heaviest lines in District 3-AAA. The probable starting line of Brownfield will average nearly 190 pounds per man, and if it were not for 142 - pound guard Darrell Franks, the line would average between 195 and 200 pounds.

The Cub backfield is not real heavy, but speedy. Leading the way all year has been tailback Ronnie Davis, who many consider to be the best back in the district. He is the leading scorer of District 3-AAA with 62 points, and a number of his 10 touchdowns have come on long break-a-way runs. He is the real spark on the team, and is considered not only the best runner, but also the best passer and a real good pass-receiver.

The Cubs have been able to win but two contests this year, edging Seminole 22-20 and defeating Lake View 19-8. However, they have looked somewhat stronger lately, and were barely nosed out by Levelland last week 14-12. They had an early score called back in that affair because of a penalty. With the dangerous Davis they are a danger everytime they have the ball.

The Tigers will be looking for win number 5 in tomorrow night's outing. They have lost 3 thus far this year, and hope to go ahead and win the remainder of their contests.

An interesting thing about the contest with Brownfield is that every point made by the Tigers last year was scored by boys who will be playing tomorrow. The two touchdowns scored by Snyder last year were by Leslie Brown and Kenneth Dower. Kincaid ran over for two extra points and Brown ran for the other two.

This will be the second year in a row that the Tigers have had to go to Brownfield in order to play the Cubs. This came about because the district was reshuffled this year, with two new teams, Levelland and Littlefield coming into the district and Colorado City going out. Because of this, the district teams had to draw to determine site and date, and Snyder drew to play on Brownfield's home field, where the Cubs are always tough.

Snyder and Brownfield have only met three times on the gridiron, and the Tigers came out on the short end of the score in two of those meetings. The Cubs won 13-0 in 1951 and 21-12 in 1962, while the Tigers were victorious last year, 16-15. If Snyder wins tomorrow's tilt, the two teams will be even.

Coach Horrace Bostick's charges will be in the best physical shape that they have been in for several weeks, as most of the boys will be ready to go.

Three senior linemen will be co - captains for the Tigers. They are Kenneth Dower, Roy Miller and Jeff Graham.

District Champions Due To Fall Into Place This Week

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Writer

District champions will fall into place from Panhandle to Gulf this week as the Texas schoolboy football race decides almost half its field for the state playoffs.

Classes AAAA and AAA, which have three more weeks to go, will determine only a few titles. Nederland expected to wrap up its crown in AAAA, and Pecos battles Andrews for one of the spots in AAA.

But Classes AA and A are in their penultimate week and at least 28 district champions of the 64 to be determined will be known by Saturday night.

Few of the rated teams appear to be in danger except in Class A where two of them meet each other.

The clash of George West with Three Rivers not only will decide the District 29 championship of Class A but could produce the eventual finalist from the south.

George West made it to the finals last season and was an early favorite to go all the way this time. But Three Rivers, a traditional foe, has arisen to cast strong doubts on a return to the playoffs for George West.

Petersburg, the Class A state defending champion, makes its big bid for the district title. Already beaten once, Petersburg still can take it by winning its next two games. The one this week is with Lorenzo, a tough one to hurdle.

Garland, defending champion of Class AAAA, is in a virtual tie for first place in its district with Mesquite, a team the Owls beat. So they can win the title by taking their next two games. Friday Sherman is the opposition.

There is no defending champion of Class AAA but Dumas is a heavy favorite to win the title Corsicana boasted last season. But Dumas may have to go three weeks to win the district championship. This week Tulia is the foe and Tulia could tie Dumas for the lead should it stage an upset.

Corsicana is doing very well in Class AAAA although not undefeated. The Tigers lead their zone in District 13 with a 3-0 record.

Rockwall, the 1963 champion of Class AA, is on a 21-game winning streak but is tied for the lead in its district with Plano. This probably won't be dissolved until the two teams meet next week. Rockwall plays Wilmer-Hutchins Friday.

Five playoff teams already have been determined—Grapevine and Floresville in Class AA; Stratford, Big Lake and Honey Grove in Class A.

Twenty-eight undefeated, untied teams remain in the state and two of them meet each other Friday when Alpine battles Crane. Others are in danger. It is possible that the list of teams with perfect records will be trimmed to 20.

Rod Steiger Begins Role Of Pope John

BERGAMO, Italy (AP) — Rod Steiger, screen tough-guy, plays Pope John XXIII in a movie being filmed in Italy.

Work began Wednesday at Sotto il Monte, Pope John's hometown.

The director of the Italian-French production said Steiger will not use any special makeup in portraying the portly, peasant priest. He is interested more in capturing Pope John's spirit than in striving for a close, physical impersonization.

Peggy Lee Divorces Husband No. Four

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Singer Peggy Lee, 44, and her fourth husband, Jack Del Rio, 39, have been divorced, after a marriage of eight months. They separated last June 15.

Miss Lee testified Wednesday that her band-leader husband refused to support her although she was convalescing from a respiratory illness at the time of their marriage.

The New York Giants took only one of their five pre-season exhibition games this summer.

Abner Earns AFL Honors

NEW YORK (AP) — Hank Stram decided to make a split end out of Abner Haynes during the training season. The powerful running back who was the American Football League's Player of the Year as a rookie in 1960 took it all in stride. It didn't last long.

With the return of Chris Burford, Haynes moved back to his old familiar left halfback job and started to tear up the turf. The former North Texas State College athlete had one of his big days Sunday in Kansas City's 49-39 victory over Denver. It was enough to give him The Associated Press' choice as Player of the Week in the AFL.

Haynes had his part in building up a comfortable 42-10 lead but the Chiefs almost blew the ball game in the final period. After Denver came back with 29 points in 5½ minutes and closed the gap to 42-39, Haynes took matters into his own hands.

In the final touchdown drive, Haynes handled the ball eight straight times either as a runner or pass catcher. Naturally, it was Haynes running the final seven for the decisive TD.

The statistics show that Haynes ran nine times for 91 yards, caught five passes for 106 yards and ran back kickoffs for a total of 64 yards.

Injuries At Minimum On SWC Squads

By The Associated Press

Injuries were at a minimum as Southwest Conference football squads worked for a week-end that will see all except one in action.

Texas was suffering the most with three players away from practice and not likely to get into the game with Baylor at Waco Saturday. However, the Longhorns had quarterback Jim Hudson, who has been out of action most of the season with a knee injury, back and ready to go.

Baylor had four defensive starters as onlookers only but they are expected to be ready to play Saturday. They were linebacker Bobby Maples, tackle Fred Allen and ends James Rust and Ramsey Muniz.

There wasn't even an ache or a pain at Southern Methodist where the Mustangs prepared for their homecoming day game with the winless Texas Aggies.

A&M was all right, too, with quarterback Dan McIlhaney, out since Oct. 27, back at practice. He may not be ready to play against SMU.

Rice, which meets Arkansas at Fayetteville in the big game of the week, had linebacker Malcolm Walker nursing a bruised knee and cut eye but he is due to play Saturday. Quarterback Walt McReynolds also was back and ready.

It wasn't injuries that worried Coach Frank Broyles of Arkansas so much as his defense. He called it "lousy" and said it hadn't practiced worth a hoot this week. "It must have been because they had a good game against Texas A&M," he fumed.

End Jerry Lamb will be at full speed and that means Arkansas has no one on the injury list.

Texas Tech worked out in a basketball gym because of cold rain but all Red Raiders appeared ready to go Saturday night against West Texas State. Texas Christian polished plays in a drizzling rain. The Frogs don't have a game this week.

Huskers Have Top Defense

NEW YORK (AP) — Nebraska's defense has yielded only 956 yards in seven games this season. That's an average of 136.6 per game—69.8 by rushing and 67.7 by passing. Notre Dame has held opposing runners to a mere 30.5 yards but has been slightly more vulnerable to passing. Georgia Tech has given up only 3.7 points a game.

Defense statistics released today by the NCAA Service Bureau show Nebraska as No. 1 in total defense, No. 2 in rushing defense and No. 6 in pass defense. Notre Dame, far ahead of all rivals in defense against rushing, is seventh in total defense. Auburn and Syracuse, second and third in total defense have been strong against running.

Georgia Tech has allowed only 26 points in seven games. Second is Villanova with 26 in six for a 4.3 average. The other departmental defense leader is Mississippi, with an average of 45.6 yards of its 32 punts.

Kent State hasn't been blasted by passing bombs so far. Its opponents have thrown only 69 passes and completed 25, a .362 percentage. In yardage, they've averaged only 50.7 a game. But Kent's own passing has been just as ineffective—57 attempts and 26 completions.

Lamar Teams Face Action

With a big band show to provide additional color, Lamar Junior High football teams will play before the homefolks tonight in three games at Tiger Stadium.

Lamesa Junior High teams will be the opponents and the Lamesa Junior High Band will join the bands of Lamar and Travis to present their contest marching routines at the half-time intermission of the 9th grade game.

The 7th grade game will kick-off at 5 p.m., the 8th grade game at 6:30 p.m. and the 9th grade game at 8 p.m.

Travis Junior High teams will play Saturday night, with the 8th and 9th grade teams colliding here and the 7th grade in Big Spring. Foes for all three games will be Big Spring Runnels.

Expansion High On Meet Agenda

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Baseball commissioner Ford Frick's long dream, expansion of both the National and American leagues into 12-team circuits, will get a full airing here in a three-day summit meeting of club owners and general managers starting today.

The expansion theme is high on the agenda, along with a number of other important items such as the proposed switch of the Milwaukee franchise to Atlanta, presentation of a weekly television baseball spectacular for the 1965 season, completion of a new concept in minor league operations, a broadening promotional effort and a change in the present bonus rule.

Another important piece of business likely to be discussed, although not on the agenda, is the commissionership itself.

Frick already has notified owners he will not seek reelection when his current seven-year term expires next September.

A preliminary committee headed by the two league presidents, Joe Cronin of the American League and Warren Giles of the National, has been screening candidates to succeed the 70-year-old Frick.

Whatever possible action may be taken here, it is hardly likely anything will be made public until the annual winter league meetings at Houston at the end of this month.

It was learned, however, that Frick will attempt to convince the owners of the necessity of expansion in the near future, possibly by 1966.

The commissioner has preached such a plan for some time but the recent action taken by the Braves and agitation by several others clubs to shift their franchises have caused him to move his target date closer.

It is Frick's plan to create new major league teams in Seattle, Oakland, Dallas-Fort Worth and either Atlanta or Milwaukee, depending upon where the Braves eventually wind up.

The commissioner is certain to meet with serious opposition, especially from Cronin and Giles, who do not feel the time is right.

The promotional endeavor was discussed at length at a general managers' meeting in Pennsylvania last week.

The general managers, it has been learned, brought back some bad news to the owners, to the affect that the proposed Monday night TV spectacular idea has hit a snag.

Two major networks, NBC and ABC, reportedly advised they could not relinquish the programming time Monday or any other night. CBS already had announced that despite its new involvement in baseball with ownership of the Yankees, it was not inerested.

Plum Player Of The Week

DETROT (AP) — Milt Plum, a man of few words, was pleased at being named Player of the Week in the National Football League. "It's always great to see an honor such as that," said the Detroit Lions' quarterback.

For Plum, who is quiet and reserved, this seemed a good deal to say at one time.

The 29-year-old veteran signal-caller and passer received the Associated Press' weekly star citation for his handling of the Lions in their 37-17 victory over the Los Angeles Rams last Sunday.

Plum, despite an injury to his right elbow, threw three touchdown passes and had 13 other completions in 24 attempts for 347 yards.

International Harvester's Four Millionth Tractor Sets Production Record

A new tractor production record was established recently when the four millionth tractor produced by International Harvester Company rolled off the production line.

The only manufacturer in the world to accomplish this feat, IH produced its first tractor in 1906. Interestingly, it wasn't even known as a tractor then, but was identified as a "gasoline traction engine," later shortened to "tractor," according to Charlie Cantrell, Snyder Truck and Tractor Co. general manager.

Total production that first year was 14 units, Cantrell said. By comparison, the production of four million International Harvester tractors since that time averaged to more than 67,000 units per year.

While the vast majority of these tractors have been produced at four plants in the United States, International Harvester also produces tractors in Australia, Canada, France, Germany, Great Britain and the Philippines.

Cantrell said the four millionth tractor off IH production lines was a Farmall 806, a new model introduced last year, and one of the most powerful farm tractors in the field today.

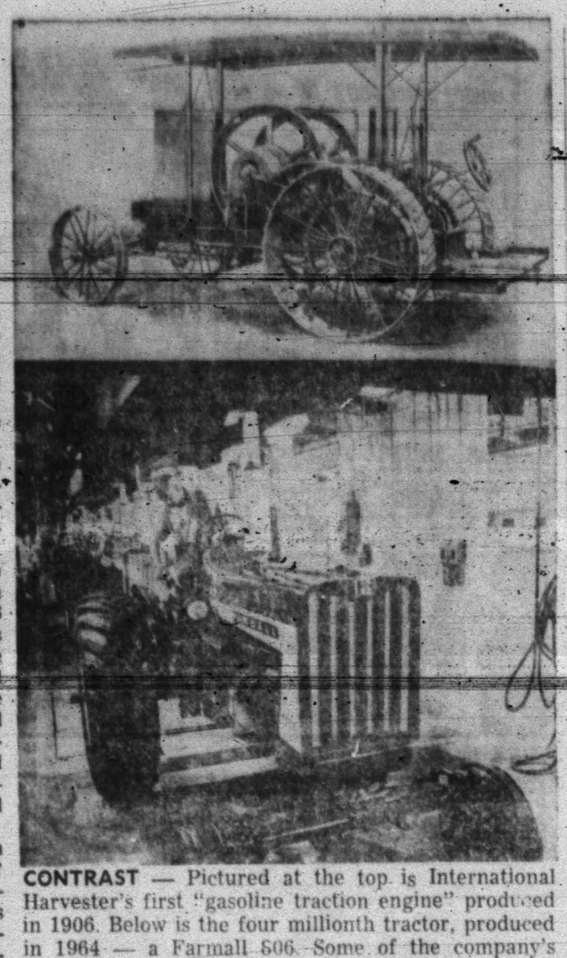

The smallest tractor made by IH — the International Cub Cadet — was not included in the four million count, Cantrell said, although many thousands have been produced and sold since this lawn and garden tractor was first introduced.

Rather significantly, Cantrell noted, the most popular Cub Cadet is a 10 hp model; the horsepower range available in the 1906 IH Tractors was from 10 hp to 20 hp, and nine of the first 14 units were 12 hp models.

Here are some comparative statistics between the one cylinder 1906 "gasoline traction engine" and the six cylinder diesel Farmall 806:

In 1906, the weight of the machine was 13,000 pounds; in 1964, only 9,125 pounds. In 1906 the horsepower was 20; it has climbed to 94.9 (rated at the power take off). The 1906 model had two forward speeds — one and three-quarters and two and one-eighth miles per hour. Today's tractor has eight forward speeds, from one and three-quarters through nineteen and one-quarter miles per hour.

How many of the four million tractors are still in operation? While that is a difficult question to answer, IH economists estimate that more than a million and a quarter IH farm tractors are still plowing and planting American fields, helping to feed the nation.

CONTRAST — Pictured at the top is International Harvester's first "gasoline traction engine" produced in 1906. Below is the four millionth tractor, produced in 1964 — a Farmall 806. Some of the company's newest tractors will be shown Saturday at the Open House of Snyder Truck & Tractor, the International dealer here.

5 Congress Races Still Undecided

WASHINGTON (AP) — Five congressional races — one for the Senate and four for the House — were still undecided today, two days after the election.

In the close Senate contest Democratic Sen. Howard W. Cannon of Nevada may have to await the official canvass some three weeks from now to learn whether he withstood the challenge of Republican Lt. Gov. Paul Laxalt.

The outcome will determine whether the new Senate will consist of 68 Democrats and 32 Republicans, or be split 67 to 33.

The House contests, all involving incumbents:

Alaska, at large — Absentee ballots probably will decide the issue between Democratic Rep. Ralph J. Rivers and Republican Lowell Thomas Jr.

Missouri, 7th District — Absentees likely to choose between Republican Rep. Durward G. Hall and Democrat James A. Thomas.

New York, 15th District — Final tally between Democratic lican Luigi R. Marano awaits Rep. Hugh L. Carey and Republicanvass by the Board of Elections.

New York, 30th District — Republican Rep. Carleton J. King has lead of only 148 votes over Democrat Joseph J. Martin and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller has ordered voting machines sealed pending a recount.

Superior's Disposal Case Is Recessed

AUSTIN (AP)—The Superior Oil case, which Texas oilmen are watching for a guideline on regulation of their brine and waste disposal, is in recess until Nov. 20.

Testimony ended Wednesday, and Dist. Judge Herman Jones gave lawyers more time to submit briefs before final arguments.

Superior and three intervenors seek an order prohibiting the Texas Water Pollution Control board from regulating oil field salt water and waste disposal. Superior contends the Railroad Commission, one of the intervenors, has exclusive jurisdiction.

Others joining Superior are Sun Oil Co. and George Mitchell and Associates.

The board says the 1961 law creating the board is broad enough to include regulation of oil field waste disposal. Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr so held in 1962, but reconsideration of the opinion was under way this spring when the Superior suit was filed.

Orders are already in effect prohibiting disposal of salt water in unlined pits in several northwest Texas counties.

Miller Claims GOP Will Hold Course

LOCKPORT, N.Y. (AP) — William E. Miller flatly disagrees with those who say President Johnson's landslide victory was tantamount to a "complete repudiation of the conservative policy" and will bring a "power struggle" within the GOP.

The defeated Republican vice-presidential candidate said Wednesday that there was no way, under national committee rules, that unhappy Republicans could oust the GOP national chairman, Dean Burch.

He said, however, it was natural that, as a result of Johnson's 15-million plus plurality, there would be calls for Burch to quit and for conservatives to yield leadership of the party to others.

The GOP would, he said, hold its present course.

Miller's comments followed those of his running mate, Sen. Barry M. Goldwater.

Earlier, Miller had blamed part of the GOP's crushing defeat on a lack of party unity that "weakened the ticket from top to bottom."

Miller, Burch's predecessor as national chairman, said he planned to return to his home here and practice law sometime after his term in the House of Representatives expires Jan. 1.

Test Of Governor Romney Beginning In Home State

By DICK BARNES

DETROIT (AP) — While talk of the 1968 presidential nomination and Republican rebuilding flutters around Michigan Gov. George Romney, he faces a home-state challenge that could make or break his national future before he even considers it.

Romney won overwhelming re-election Tuesday despite a Michigan landslide for President Johnson and found himself at the fore of GOP survivors.

He also found himself confronted with a state legislature of nearly two-thirds Democrats in each house — a jarring shift from the Republican majorities of Romney's first term.

The silver-haired former American Motors Corp. president said the Republican party must "broaden and unify." At the same time, Romney seemingly must broaden and unify his own administration program even beyond party bounds to have a chance for a successful second-term record.

He said he would work on a bipartisan basis and hoped for reciprocity. The beaten Democratic gubernatorial candidate, Neil Staebler, talked of cooperation.

"The governor insisted that he has not considered seeking the 1968 nomination. He said a draft was a very presumptuous thing to discuss."

In regard to national party rebuilding, he told a news conference Wednesday that he "can't see that I have any significant individual responsibility nationally.

"I do recognize that with others throughout the nation I can make contributions to broaden and unify the party nationally."

Practically speaking, Romney, 57, will have to decide what to do in 1966 before looking beyond. He could seek another term as governor—one of four years under a new constitutional provision—or he might try for Democratic Sen. Patrick McNamara's seat.

His success with the legislature could affect this choice.

Romney said he is not ready to read Goldwater or any of the senator's aides out of the Republican organization because "you don't broaden the party by kicking people out." Romney withheld endorsement from Goldwater during the campaign.

Johnson Has Yet To Show Ability In Foreign Fields

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — A wholly new President Johnson — new to himself and everyone else, here and abroad — will have to develop now that he has been elected to the White House on his own for a full four years.

This is in handling foreign affairs, a field where his experience has been very limited until now. It's a reasonable guess he will try to perform here as he did on the American political scene so long.

It can be simply stated: try to get all you want but compromise if necessary to make some progress.

As vice president, he was never more than a shadow, a good-will ambassador, of President John F. Kennedy who ran foreign affairs with a strong hand of his own.

After he became President, and until now, Johnson made no overseas trips. For one thing, there was no vice president if anything happened to him.

For another, he apparently felt he had a fulltime job establishing himself at home and trying to get his programs through Congress. He did so well it was his success here that laid the base for his presidential campaign.

As President he had foreign problems to deal with, but from within the White House, and never as a first-hand participant in solving them on the scene, as might be done through conferences.

He'll still have to worry about his programs in Congress, but the Democrats are even stronger there as a result of the elections. There will now be a vice president, just in case, and the foreign field can't be pushed aside longer.

One of the first moves, probably, will be visiting foreign leaders, perhaps taking part in some kind of conference on the NATO alliance which is getting shakier, and perhaps summit talks with the Russians.

This will be the first time in this generation, at least, that the foreign leaders ever met any president like Johnson, for whom success and approval by the public are a necessary part of his daily diet.

Since he has a great sense of the spectacular he can be expected to seek some sensational early triumph that he can point to. Over the long run he will probably try to do in foreign affairs what he did with Congress and politicians.

This means getting something done.

In short, in each instance he will seek some measure of success, compromising where he has to instead of insisting upon having everything his own way.

After beating Sen. Barry Goldwater in Tuesday's election Johnson said he accepts his victory as a "mandate for unity." He was talking about trying to unify the divided forces at home.

It is hardly an accident he mentioned unity. For him it means trying to bring divergent forces together. It's the way he operates.

It will not be surprising if out of his visits abroad comes some progress in problems which have been standing still. He may accomplish far more than Kennedy.

While Johnson needs constant reassurance through approval — domestically he got all one man needs in the election returns — it is natural he will raise his sights and seek international approval with his conduct of foreign affairs.

He is an expert negotiator but he still has to demonstrate how tough he is in a fierce international crisis. He has never been in one, although he may have given an insight with his action in Southeast Asia.

After American ships were fired on in the Gulf of Tonkin he approved bombing North Vietnamese bases.

One of the fascinating spectacles of the decade will be watching Johnson — if he has to deal face to face with President Charles de Gaulle — try to get the obstinate Frenchman to change his mind on anything.

Memory Is Golden Key To Yesterday

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Memory is the golden key.

It unlocks the door to the past and enables you to step from a harried today back to a more leisurely yesterday. It gives life a growing spaciousness.

You've got a lot to look back upon if you can remember when:

The greatest traffic hazard was a runaway horse, or a couple of young bloods racing rented buggies late on a Saturday night.

A daredevil was a fellow who was willing to go up in a balloon.

You could always tell a sport. He wore pointed, bright tan shoes — and they always were polished.

The racy conversation in the town barbershop immediately turned to a discussion of the weather when the leading banker entered for a haircut.

You could win a reputation as a wit by saying things like, "Everybody makes mistakes — that's why they put erasers on pencils."

The best way to find out what was going on in the community was to go sit on the courthouse steps and listen to the loafers.

The local Western Union telegrapher and the phone operator knew more juicy secrets than even the doctor.

On Sundays a small boy knew he'd probably be bawled out for only one thing — squirming in church.

Everybody wanted to belong to the white collar class, because they were supposed to make more money.

In an emergency it was possible to call either a physician or a plumber and get him to come to your house that same day.

The average drugstore sold more liverpills than it did aspirin tablets.

Only retired farmers and Civil War veterans wore beards.

Nobody knew what the new styles for next year would be until the mail order catalogs arrived.

A good carpenter could earn as much in a week then as he does in a day now.

In a city restaurant if you ate your peas with a knife, they pretty well knew you came from the country.

Many people lived their whole lives through and never learned how to write a check. If they didn't have the cash to pay for it, they did without it.

You were safer from street robbery with $50 in your pocket than you are with $2 now.

Those were the days.

Junior Editors Quiz on PUPPETS

QUESTION: Why are puppets sometimes called marionettes?

• • •

ANSWER: People have always enjoyed looking at their lives as shown on some kind of stage, but there were few theatres or actors in the ancient days. So, little puppet figures, able to move, were invented. These were easy to make and could be shown on miniature stages. The simplest kind is the hand puppet, shown left, which any one can make and enjoy. Roll and tape a cardboard tube to fit your index finger and use a work, or rubber glove for the body. Slip the tube over the glove's index finger and make a head on top, with cloth wrapping, papier mache or perhaps a painted potato. Slip hand into glove as shown. Dip index finger to make puppet nod, work arms with thumb and middle finger. The famous English Punch and Judy puppets were worked in this way.

One of the ways Christianity spread was through the use of religious plays in the middle ages, using puppets operated by strings. Because one of the puppets was the Virgin Mary, the word 'marionette' or 'Little Mary' began to be used and spread to include all puppets. Marionette shows have developed into a real art in America, with such famous puppeteers as the Bairds, Tony Sarg and Remo Bufano.

• • •

FOR YOU TO DO: By all means make a hand puppet, and if you are very ambitious, try the marionette in stretch pants. We show how it is worked, one hand controlling the head and arms, the other, the legs. Experimenting will show you how to make the puppet seem alive.

Snyder Truck & Tractor To Hold Open House Saturday

A truly modern service center in West Texas for trucks and tractors is the goal of the new owners of Snyder Truck & Tractor.

Jim McCaleb, C. G. McCaleb and C. C. Terry, who recently purchased the International dealership here from Paul Keaton, said that they felt that the backbone of any successful operation of this type is the maintenance of a really first - class service department.

As one of the first steps in fulfilling this ideal of one of the best service centers in West Texas, the new owners employed Jimmy Jones to head the service department.

Jones, who has 30 years of service experience, was service manager for the E. L. Farmer Trucking Co. in Odessa before coming to Snyder.

The general manager of the firm is Charlie Cantrell.

The partners in Snyder Truck & Tractor also own and operate the Basin Wax Company here. They said that their decision to buy the International dealership here was based partly on the fact that their oil field experience had given them an appreciation for fine machinery, and that in their business operations they had come to respect the excellence of the International line of machinery.

They added that they felt that the International Harvester line of products, backed up by a shop, parts department, and service facility second to none, would be a winning combination in which they, their customers, and the city could take pride.

They recognize that everything they sell or service is actually the tool of someone's trade, whether it be a tractor, truck, or machinery from the industrial line, such as a power unit, fork lift, or ditching machine. And as a "working" piece of equipment, keeping it working is an important part of their responsibility at Snyder Truck & Tractor.

Tractors, for example, are highly complex pieces of machinery today, and are able to do fantastic amounts of work. Not only is Snyder Truck & Tractor able to sell and deliver the best tractor for the job, but with their proper testing equipment, repair equipment and specialized tools, they are able to keep that tractor working.

International trucks too, engineered for each individual customer's needs, are also kept on-the-go by the highly-trained, qualified personnel in the service department.

Remodeling of the Snyder Truck & Tractor building on the East Highway has been completed, and plans are set for an open house Saturday.

Several International Harvester factory representatives from the farm equipment, motor truck, industrial and power unit divisions of the company will join with the 19 personnel of the local firm and will be on hand to welcome visitors to the open house and answer any questions which the visitors might have regarding any of the various phases of the business.

Visitors will be served coffee, donuts and cold drinks during the open house, and will also have the opportunity to register for a door prize. The door prize winner will receive his choice of a portable television set, a six-foot dozer blade, or a set of premium tires for his car.

One especially interesting feature of the Saturday open house will be a cut-away display of the International V549 V-8 engine — the largest V-8 in the International line. The display, in which the parts actually move, will be of interest both to adults, many of whom have at least heard of this fabulous big engine, and to youngsters who will be fascinated to see the engine actually "running."

The new owners of Snyder Truck & Tractor have expressed the hope that a good number of Snyder and Scurry County citizens will visit them during the Open House to become familiar with the facilities, the merchandise, and the services offered by the firm.

Coin Shortage May Get Worse

By JACK LEFLER

AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — A merchant in Nantucket, Mass., minted his own aluminum coins.

A Florida bank collected coins in a wishing well and matched the proceeds with contributions to charity.

A Michigan bank offered $1 bills for 98 cents in change.

Those are some of the gimmicks employed in an effort to beat the coin shortage.

Although mints are working around the clock, the shortage probably will get worse before it gets better.

Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon has said that despite the near doubling of coin minting this year there is an "immediate and serious problem" to meet the demand for metal money that will reach its peak during the Christmas buying season.

William F. Kelly of Philadelphia, president of the American Bankers Association, said the Treasury's program would undoubtedly "eliminate the shortage over the long run but would not be able to alleviate the shortage in the next few months."

The association is sponsoring a "Calling All Coins" campaign over radio and television in an effort to bring silver money out of hiding.

Dillon blames speculators for a big part. He says they "have been buying up coins in quantity and keeping them off the market in hopes of higher numismetic value."

He also points his finger at coin collectors whose number has grown to 10 million in five years and at people who have the habit of emptying the change from their pocket or purse into the bureau drawer or some other place.

The tremendous growth of the coin-operated vending machine industry and the high level of retail trade have increased the demand for coins.

At one time the Treasury had built up a stockpile of 2.5 billion ounces of silver. But with increased demand, that supply has dwindled to 1.3 billion ounces.

In September alone, the stockpile was reduced by 36 million ounces. At that rate, the Treasury's reserves would be exhausted in about three years.

In additions to the requirements of silver for coins, there is a growing demand from industry.

LIGHTEST MEXICO

BY JOHN ABNEY

MEXICO CITY — Today we are all singing "Home, Home On The Moon" and aero-space firms are soberly planning a permanent base on the moon where lunar (or looney — I can't make it out very well) visitors will live. Providing, of course, they get there.

We have an entire article on how to make a living on the moon and it even has sketches showing how to dwell underground.

Dr. Speedy Gonzalez, the banana split engineer - psychiatrist - moon specialist laughs at the whole business. He says that while everybody spends billions drawing pictures and writing books of what they hope to do, he already has his rocket ready.

Last year Dr. Speedy tied a 50-gallon barrel of black powder to a long cedar pole and then he strapped on a saddle. And when he is ready for a trip he just leans this machine against a lamp post and sits in the saddle with his overcoat on and lights the powder keg fuse with his cigar.

Sometimes he comes back with his face a little black, because the saddle is right behind the barrel, but Dr. Speedy is an optimist, and believes in looking for good in everything. He says he keeps warm.

Dr. Speedy has just been to Mars and Jupiter several times and he goes to the moon just about every weekend. He says the moon people are extremely nice and do not take themselves seriously like trying to figure out the REAL reason some people like apple pie instead of Kant.

One weekend he took the fellow who draws Dick Tracy, in the funnies along and introduced him to the Moon Maid and her family and this fellow pretty near went wild.

Anyhow, Dr. Speedy says the moon - guessing is mostly foolishness and instead of everybody trying to decorate each other with speeches at banquets, why all they have to do is live with the moon people in their nice valley.

Probably you saw how it was on Dick Tracy. Nobody was frozen underground on trying to set up radar in space suits so they could get the World Series.

This moon valley is nice and tropical and there are gorgeous sloe - eyed ladies walking around asking fellows, "How about a nice walk in the earth light tonight since our nights are two weeks long?"

Of course any moon traveler would immediately send his passport and space suit back home by airmail.

The Mexicans have an entirely different attitude about the moon, except for Dr. Speedy who likes to piddle with science. Mexicans are not interested in getting to the moon. They like to look at it. They consider it part of the scenery like the big mountains and snow covered ex-volcanoes and beaches and here [illegible]

In fact, they like to lie out on a beach at nights and gaze at the moonlight, putting golden icing on the ocean and let it go at that.

Well, a lot of people may consider this a rather primitive attitude. But from what I gather, the locals decided that since everybody else is monkeying around trying to discover ways of blowing each other up, they might as well spend their time [illegible]

Exiles Still Plan Return To Cuba

By ROBERT D. CLARK

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — "Volveremos" is the militant slogan of thousands of refugees who pine for Cuba without Fidel Castro.

The Spanish word means simply "We will return." Exiles shout "Volveremos!" at anti-Castro rallies. They paste it on windows of their American cars and apartments.

"We will go back when Castro falls," 270,000 exiles tell each other as they get jobs, start businesses, learn English, wed and buy homes in their land of refuge.

But Castro already has weathered nearly six turbulent years in power.

The Cuban Economists Association in Exile feels that the return of the majority of the refugees will be delayed, at best.

The association recently interviewed exiles in the United States, host to most; Latin America and Spain.

Dr. Jose Alvarez Diaz, association president and former Cuban treasury minister, reported these conclusions:

"About 90 per cent want to return to their homeland.

But from the survey "We reach the conclusion that only 30 per cent of them would go immediately upon Castro's overthrow regardless of the situation inside Cuba. Forty per cent would return when there was evidence of political stability and economic prospects. Another 20 per cent would go back only when they could obtain in Cuba an income similar to what they are getting now.

"Ten per cent, with residence now in this and other countries, would not return."

Exiled Cuban Supreme Court Justice Francisco Alabau Trelles said he believed that neither marriage, jobs, property ownership nor other stateside developments would deter more than 10 per cent of the refugees from going back to Cuba if they could. And he said the remaining tenth probably would drift back gradually.

Like many of their compatriots, Alvarez Diaz and Alabau Trelles reject the idea that Castro can last. Both agreed, however, that even if Fidel were whisked from the scene tomorrow, returning exiles would have to cope with economic and political chaos in rebuilding their country.

What do rank-and-file refugees see ahead for themselves in relation to Cuba?

Three who were queried have been through the exile mill before. Andres Ramon Fernandez Diaz, 49, a diesel mechanic; Mario Massip, 45, a labor union official; and Manuel Gonzales Ramos, 42, a bus driver, fled into Miami exile from the Fulgencio Batista regime in the 1950s. All hustled happily back to Cuba on Castro's takeover, and all trekked back to Miami disillusioned with Castro.

"When Castro falls I hope to be there," Fernandez Diaz said. "I want to help in the reconstruction of my country."

Massip said, "When Fidel goes down, I hope to be in Cuba and be one of the Cubans who overthrow him."

Gonzales Ramos recalled, "When Batista was overthrown I took all my money, about $3,000 sayed while working in New Yorkl to start a new life in Cuba.

"I lost it all. Castro's government took it. Now I have learned enough English to get along, and I will wait to see what happens before I go back to Cuba again."

Father Of Ten Is Found Hanged

ELSA (AP)—A father of 10 children was found hanged to death Wednesday at his home near here in the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

A justice of the peace ruled suicide in the death of Emilio Rodriguez, 60.
