'All Out' Battle Is Staged For Control of Jerusalem

JERUSALEM — (AP) — Violent fighting erupted in Jerusalem's old walled city last night and informants said Jews and Arabs in that sacred area were locked in "an all out" fight for control of the ancient streets.

Jews began the battle, Arab sources said by tossing grenades in an attempt to regain control of the wailing wall, Judaism's holiest shrine in Jerusalem. Arab riflemen have occuupied the wall for the past two weeks.

Jews and Arabs lashed at each other on two fronts, as fighting also broke out on Jerusalem's outskirts.

Eyewitnesses inside the old walled city said the battle had assumed "major proportions." Casualties were described as heavy on both sides. Arabs using "Molotov cocktails," (gasoline filled bottles) set some Jewish shops afire.

As the battle began Jerusalem was covered by a dust pall brought by a 40-mile an hour gale.

Police said they had no details of the fighting in the old city but added: "The entire walled area is isolated. No one can enter or leave the city because the Arabs control all the gates."

An American priest in the Franciscan Convent inside the Holy Sepulchre Church told the Associated Press by telephone "We can hear the fight from here. It is the heaviest we have heard yet."

Approximately 1,500 orthodox Jews have been living in a state of siege in the old city.

In disorders throughout Palestine 10 Arabs and two Jews were known to have been killed yesterday. The unofficial count of deaths since the United Nations

Legislation for Reinstatement of Rationing Seen

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Legislation to set up meat rationing machinery which Congress could slip into gear quickly will be introduced in a few days by Senator Flanders (R-Vt.), he said yesterday.

The senator outlined his plans after Secretary of Agriculture Anderson expressed belief that Congress will restore meat rationing during the session opening Tuesday.

Flanders told a reporter he already has started drafting a bill which he expects to have read in about 10 days.

The measure would authorize the Agriculture Department to make all necessary plans for rationing, including preparation for but probably not actual printing of coupon books. These plans would go on a hold-in-reserve basis.

President Truman, in his Nov. 17 message to the special session of Congress, asked for stand-by power to restore rationing of scarce commodities if necessary.

He also asked for authority to reimpose wage and price controls, on a selective basis, if conditions warranted.

Congress turned him down and enacted legislation which provides instead for industry-wide voluntary agreements designed to hold prices in line by dividing up scarce products.

Flanders is chairman of an

First Rehearsal Of Review Set

The first full rehearsal of the Fifth Annual Top o' Texas Review will take place Monday night at 7:30 in the Palm Room of the City hall. This year's production is being sponsored by the Kiwanis Club, which first sponsored the show back in 1940, Ken Bennett, the producer, said.

The show this year will be a musical, composed in its entirety by Bennett and directed by him. It will include music, singing and dancing.

In connection with this year's production, a complete style show will be given with merchants of the town presenting their latest styles, modeled by Pampa girls. This has also been a feature of the show in the past.

Bennett said he had had several inquiries as to the possibilities of individuals interested being able to appear in the production. He said he would like for all those interested, who sing or dance, to be at tomorrow night's rehearsal.

The Review will be presented February 2-3 in the Junior High School Auditorium.

Dr. W. R. White New President Baylor University

DALLAS — (AP) — The Baylor University Board yesterday elected Dr. W. R. White, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Austin, Tex., as president of Baylor University to succeed Pat M. Neff.

Andrew Allen, public relations man for the Texas Baptist organization, said 29 of 36 members of the Baylor University board met and elected White without opposition.

White, himself a member of the Baylor University Board, is a former president of Hardin-Simmons University, Abilene, Texas, and has been pastor of the Baptist church at Austin since 1944.

Neff's resignation as president of Baylor was accepted by the Baylor board last month. Neff, 75, former governor of Texas, had been president of Baylor for 15 years.

Allen said White was born in East Texas and received his A.B. degree from Howard Payne University at Brownwood, Tex. He earned his master of theology degree from Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary at Fort Worth and later taught at that seminary. White holds a doctor of theology degree from the University of Dubuque and an honorary doctor of divinity degree from Baylor University.

Allen said White is about 50 years old.

White is chairman of the Texas Baptist Executive Board and came to the Austin church from Tennessee where he was editorial secretary of the Southern Baptist Sunday School Board. He had held that position about three years, going there after resigning as president of Hardin-Simmons University.

The board meeting Saturday, a closed session, was held at Baylor Hospital, a Baptist institution.

No immediate comment from White was available. He was preaching a funeral service in Austin.

Neff concluded his services at Baylor University Dec. 31.

Harvesters Win Spearman Tourney

The Pampa Harvesters, directed by their new coach, Clifton McNeely, emerged on top of the Spearman Invitational Basketball Tournament last night by virtue of a 57 to 43 victory over Spearman. Darrell Davis led the Harvester scoring attack with 20 points.

Stratford won the girls' division and the Borger Bulldogs were voted the team with the best sportsmanship during the tournament.

Chemical Society Meeting Monday

Dr. J. H. Mathews, noted criminologist, will speak on "Scientific Criminal Identification" at the first 1948 meeting of the Panhandle Plains Section of the American Chemical Society Monday at 7 p.m. at the grade school cafeteria in Phillips.

Dr. Mathews, chairman, department of chemistry, University of Wisconsin, has "guaranteed" that "no one will learn any chemistry" from his address. He will discuss techniques used to identify weapons, tools, and fragmentary evidence.

Invitations have been extended to various law enforcement officers, several of whom have already accepted.

The meeting is open to the public. Those wishing to attend a dinner at 7 o'clock should phone reservations to J. S. Skelly, 2301-J. There is no charge for the lecture which will begin at 8 p.m.

Perfect Service Is Aim of News

"The Pampa News carrier salesmen are combining their efforts with The Pampa News to bring you, as a News subscriber, the finest newspaper delivery in the Panhandle," F. I. Green, circulation manager, said yesterday in a statement prepared for publication.

"We feel that you have a right to expect service as nearly perfect as possible," the statement continued. "In order to help us give you that service, will you cooperate by reporting any irregularities in your News delivery if they occur."

Here is the plan to follow:

If you do not receive a paper call 666, circulation department, between the hours of 5:30 and 7 p.m. weekdays and 8:30 and 10 a.m. Sundays. Your paper will be delivered to your house by special carrier.

Ben White to Quit as Head Of Department

Ben White, for 29 years connected with the Pampa Fire Department in one capacity or another, has asked for his retirement from service as fire chief, and will be connected with the Water Department, it was announced yesterday afternoon through the office of the city manager, Steve Matthews.

White was with the organization since its establishment in 1918. Since then he has gone from volunteer fireman to chief.

Yesterday he said: "I feel this way. I have served my time on the Fire Department . . . I want to do something easier, less demanding hours."

The city manager said his successor will be named officially on Monday, following a call meeting of the City Commission. He intimated that White's successor had already been unofficially engaged.

Chief White said he wanted the resignation to become effective Jan. 15. He wrote a letter to that effect both to the city manager and the commission.

His letter to Mayor C. A. Huff and the commission said, in part: "In retiring from the Department, I wish to express my thanks and

Congress Facing Grave Problem-- European Relief

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Congress goes to work Tuesday on what many lawmakers think is the knottiest problem they ever faced in an election year: an attempt to help Western Europe escape economic chaos and communism without rocketing already high living costs at home.

President Truman will present his recommendations on this many-sided issue in a series of three messages beginning Wednesday with his report on the state of the union. He will follow this Friday with an economic message and Jan. 12 with an expected new record peace-time budget.

The Republican controlled Congress will begin compiling its answers Wednesday when the Senate Foreign Relations Committee starts hearing a list of upwards of 40 witnesses on Mr. Truman's proposal for a four-year, $17 billion economic recovery program for 16 non-Communist Western European nations.

Secretary of State Marshall, sponsor of the plan for helping Europe help itself, is expected to be an early witness. Others to be called include former President Herbert Hoover and Bernard Baruch, adviser to Presidents.

There are indications that President Truman will give the Republican lawmakers plenty to think about in his annual messages. GOP members frankly expect what they call "a campaign document" of domestic legislative proposals to accompany his plea for speedy action on European recovery.

Chief of these is likely to be a reiteration by the President of his request for stand-by price, wage and rationing authority to back up the "inadequate" inflation controls he said the special session of Congress gave him in a Republican-sponsored bill.

The cost of living problem rapidly has been rising to the top as an issue in the presidential campaign. Each party blames the other for high prices.

Tied in with this and the European aid program are a number of other issues on which the President is expected to speak his mind.

One that has assumed major proportions in Republican thinking is a proposed income tax reduction. Speaker Martin (Mass.) has predicted the House will pass a tax-cutting bill this month.

The prospective cost of aid abroad is expected to boost the

Lunsford Announces For Commission Post

C. L. "Nat" Lunsford, of Pampa, has announced that he will seek the office of county commissioner of Precinct 2, subject to the July Democratic primary.

Pampa is in Precinct 2, and the office of commissioner of that precinct is now held by Wade Thomasson.

In an announcement in The Pampa News advertising columns, Lunsford says today:

"I have but one promise to make. If I am elected, I will to the best of my ability use the best business judgment possible, and will try my best to be the commissioner you expect me to be."

This is the first announced candidate for this year's election.

John Osborne, Prominent Pampa Attorney, 41, Dies

John V. Osborne, termed one of the most promising attorneys of the Panhandle and variously mentioned as a prospect for the Legislature, died about 8:45 Friday night at the Worley Hospital following an operation for appendicitis.

Mr. Osborne, 41, was awakened Friday morning at 5 with an acute attack, but went to his office in the Combs-Worley Building. He was admitted to Worley around 2 p.m. Friday. Attending physicians postponed the operation until about 7 when it appeared that the attack would not subside. Operation then became necessary.

Dr. M. C. Overton, one of the attending physicians, said he died immediately from a massive pulmonary embolism, which is the medical term for a blood clot. It collected in Mr. Osborne's chest.

John Osborne had been associated with Judge S. D. Stemus in practice of law here since 1930, when he was graduated from the University of Texas law school. He was away during the war years in service. He was inducted into service in February, 1942, was discharged as a major, in November, 1945, after having served for 33 months with the intelligence branch of the Air Corps, in India and China. A number of times he had flown the famous "Hump." He had entered military service as a private.

Mr. Osborne was born Nov. 6, 1906, 12 miles east of Pampa. As a boy he farmed with his father. He attended school at Clarendon College, where he was graduated in 1924, received his Bachelor of Arts and Master of Arts degrees from Southern Methodist University in the years from 1924 to 1927. He went from there to Texas U.

He was a member of the First Methodist Church, the Pampa Lions Club, and a member of the Board of Directors of the Pampa Board of City Development.

He is survived by his wife, Bernice, to whom he was married Oct. 9, 1942, by two stepchildren, Wayne Roby, a student at the University of Texas, and Jan Roy Roby, by his mother, Mrs. F. W. Osborne, Miami, and three brothers, Doyle F. Osborne, Pampa; Harold Osborne, Pampa; and D. W. Osborne, Panhandle. His father died just a few months ago.

Funeral services will be held at the First Methodist Church at 2 p.m. tomorrow (Monday), and

Communism Is Denounced As Imperialism

LONDON — (AP) — Prime Minister Attlee denounced Russian communism last night as "a new form of imperialism" threatening the rest of Europe.

"Today in eastern Europe the Communist Party, while overthrowing an economic tyranny of landlordism and capitalism, has renounced the doctrines of individual freedom and political democracy and rejected the whole spiritual heritage of Western Europe," Attlee said in a speech broadcast at Britain's peak listening hour.

His attack came in a party political broadcast in which he raked international communism as hard or harder than he did his main domestic opponents, the conservatives.

He asserted that "Soviet communism pursues a policy which threatens with a new form of imperialism ideological, economic and strategic the welfare and way of life of other nations of Europe."

Attlee contrasted the Labor Party's conception of a combination of political and economic democracy with the Russian system and argued that modern Russian history warns that "without political freedom, collectivism can quickly go astray and lead to new forms of oppression and injustice."

He glanced at the United States at the other end of the political scale from the Soviet Union and said:

"The United States of America stands for individual liberty in the political sphere and for the maintenance of human rights.

"But its economy is based on capitalism, with all the problems which it presents, and with the characteristic extreme inequality of wealth in its citizens. As a new country with immense resources, it has not yet had to face the acute problems which have arisen in the other capitalist countries."

"Where there is no political freedom, privilege and injustice creep back," Attlee said. "In Communist Russia, 'privilege for the few' is a growing phenomenon, and the gap between the

Panhandle Mayor Will Not Run Again

PANHANDLE — (Special) — To start off the New Year, Mayor Ralph Randel has announced that he will not be a candidate for re-election. He is serving his second term as mayor. He also served 12 years on the city council before being elected mayor.

Randel said that he felt that any service which he could render the city had been given during his 16 years as a public official and that he was going to retire at the end of his administration early in April.

"I am giving the people of Panhandle ample notice so that they can be considering whom they wish to head the administration," Mayor Randel said.

Wrecks Reported In Shamrock Area

Although accidents resulting from iced and slick pavements in and around Pampa were negligible, Highway patrolmen reported several turnovers in the Shamrock area.

A 1939 Lincoln Zephyr, driven by Rex Delbert Parks, 21, Hutchinson, Kans., ran off the pavement and overturned at 6 p.m. New Year's Eve, about four and a half miles west of Shamrock, pinning the driver under the car, breaking three ribs, with damage to the car estimated at $200.

Patrolmen who came by the scene of the accident at 6:05 said Parks' wife who was in the car with him, was unhurt. Parks came over a hillcrest, hit an icy stretch of pavement and lost control of the car.

Three or four other cars turned over in the Shamrock area, but no other than minor injuries resulted.

Schuman Wins Test Vote on Tax Measure

PARIS — (AP) — Prime Minister Robert Schuman won his first test vote in his drive for an unpopular income tax measure in the National Chamber of Deputies yesterday and appeared assured of a substantial majority on Monday when he will stake the life of his government on a question of confidence.

The government apparently had succeeded in lining up nearly all centrist and moderate votes for the drastic tax bill to provide 225 billion francs (more than $1 billion) for reconstruction, despite the determined opposition of Communists and deputies representing farmers.

The test vote came on two relatively unimportant amendments proposed to the second of eight articles of the measure. The amendments, bundled under one vote as a time-saving procedure, were turned down, 322 to 262.

The premier then announced that the government was posing a question of confidence on five other amendments to the second article and demanded that it be adopted unchanged. The vote cannot be held until Monday because under the rules a full day must

Pampa Woman in Critical Condition Following Stroke

She was found in the kitchen floor at her home shortly before noon by her husband, who immediately phoned for a Clegg ambulance.

Fourth Time Victim Set House on Fire

Accidental setting of fire to his house was fatal last night to Thomas J. Odell, 52. The man, found face-down at his home at 717 North Hobart St., was pulled from the burning building by a neighbor about 6:15.

It was the fourth time the Pampa Fire Department had been called to the house where he lived alone, to extinguish blazes he had accidentally set. Each time it was found he had been smoking and had fallen off to sleep.

The entire interior of the house was either charred or badly smoked. The front room was burned out, and the sofa and easy chair were gutted.

The kitchen wallpaper was burned off, and some of the woodwork had begun to burn.

An empty pint whiskey bottle was found in the trash can in the kitchen, and another pint apparently with one drink taken from it, was sitting on the cabinet.

Several months ago, the Fire Department reported last night, two calls were answered during one night at Odell's house to extinguish blazes he had set. On Dec. 5, an alarm was sounded for that address at 12:35 a.m. Department officials said the man each time had been drinking.

The body of the man, who was separated from his wife, was burned beyond recognition. It was not moved by the Duenkel-Carmichael emergency ambulance until Justice of the Peace D. R. Henry had investigated. No inquest was necessary, it was stated.

Odell's estranged wife is employed as a cashier at a local grocery store. Odell was not employed. At one time he did hauling and transfer. He owned the

Struggle Builds Over Appointment Of New Justice

AUSTIN — (AP) — A terrific behind-the-scenes struggle over appointment of a new chief justice for the Texas Supreme Court was under way yesterday — and even before last rites were said for the late Chief Justice James P. Alexander.

Gov. Beauford H. Jester was besieged with advice and recommendations, some of which were made public at their sources, and some of which were not. He indicated there would be no immediate action.

The death of Judge Alexander put Governor Jester on what could be interpreted as a hot spot, or in a position to engage in a fast game of political checkers.

Actually, the death of a chief justice of the Supreme Court puts any governor in a position to make a maximum of six appointments to fill different vacancies if it was worked like this, in five moves:

1. He could elevate one of the present associate justices to chief justice. That would leave an associate justiceship of the Supreme Court vacant.

2. He could then promote a chief justice of one of the civil appeals courts to associate justice in the Supreme Court, advancing a civil appeals associate justice to the chief justiceship of that court. This would create a civil appeals vacancy.

3. A district judge could be moved up to fill that vacancy, creating a vacancy on the district bench.

4. This vacancy could be filled by appointing a district attorney as district judge.

5. The office thus vacated by a district attorney could be filled by appointment of some lawyer to the job.

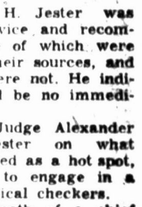

This adds up to six vacancies, beginning at the top with that created by the death of a Supreme Court chief justice. There was no

OUR BOARDING HOUSE WITH MAJOR HOOPLE

FAIR ENOUGH . .

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

One great difference sets apart the Communists from all other groups which have attachments to other lands and brands the Communists unmistakably as enemies of the United States.

The favorite political protege of the Communist propaganda is the alien "minority." If you damn the Communist as a pro-Russian you are a bigoted 100 percenter. You hate all immigrants and all who maintain an affection for Ireland, for example.

There is no parallel here. Most of the Irish immigrants and many of their progeny were ferocious against England for her oppression of Ireland. But there was no question of their devotion to the United States.

During the first World War, some German immigrants and their children were suspected of disloyalty to this nation because they applied their intelligence to the issues between Germany and France. Very few were pro-German to the extent that they were anti-American.

To get our perspective, we must understand first that Russia is our enemy and that all Communists are adherents of that enemy. On treason, the Constitution says it consists of levying war against the United States or adhering to our enemies, giving them aid and comfort.

Those Irish and their children who hated England did not levy war against this nation and Ireland, the country to which they gave assistance, was our friend. A few Irish did undertake to strike a blow for Ireland against England from our shores, but we called that mischief, punishable under another heading. Such mischief might involve us in war with a friendly power some time and the precedent, confirmed in the financing or organization of armies in the United States to fight in Spain and Palestine, is being used against us even now by Stalin.

The Germans who had come here prior to 1914, some of whom, and some of whose progeny, were caught in the problem of loyalty in the first war, were, on the whole, a fine group. Their virtues have long been recognized and to mention those virtues has been to antagonize some other immigrant groups who were inferior in those particulars. Politically they were a doubtful boon, being tainted with socialism. When August, 1914, befell, our country somehow suddenly came under the spell of a vast, insensate, adolescent crush on France. This was a terrible idiocy because France herself had been an aggressor by trade, and was impotent, quarrelsome and disorderly. She had been asking for a return match ever since 1870, when she got a licking which she deserved at least as well as she deserved some of her past victories. Our people psychologically plumped for France from the start. We also fell for the publicity by which bade us loathe the Kaiser as a wicked man because Germany repudiated her treaty with Belgium as a scrap of paper. This made us feel virtuous, but we forgot the many scraps of paper we had repudiated in our own relations with the Indians, and by means no less brutal, time, place and military proficiency considered.

Many of our Germans, to give them a convenient name, had better information about France and the French and refused to agree with our passion. It was as tho someone had criticized a sophomore's girl. We turned on them savagely, refused to listen to argument and even found ourselves on the side of England, our favorite enemy. Even thousands of American Irishers were so bemused by the crush on La Belle France, a promiscuous wanton, in fact, that they could bring themselves to fight on England's side in a crisis when, of ever, perfidious Albion could be crushed and degraded.

Now for the difference between all such friends of other countries, and the Communists of today and their fellow-travelers.

The difference is that Soviet Russia is an enemy of the United States. The fact that her enmity long was ignored and only lately was acknowledged by our own government does not alter the fact that the Soviet government has been actively hostile to us for 30 years. It was our enemy even during the recent great war. It infested our country with a plague of spies when American generals were not allowed to visit the Russian fronts. It sabotaged Soviet Russia. The infestation is [illegible] worst in New York. It is dan[illegible] Hollywood and Washington and in the CIO. It is active in groups which receive and pay [illegible] to be emphasized is money to notorious Communist [illegible] of Russia's hostility. This propaganda is the grist [illegible] for proof of intrigues on Poland and Palestine [illegible] Those Americans who [illegible] would be pathetic if we had [illegible] to communism which is to rely on the dictum of Francis [illegible] program of Biddle, late attorney general of the United States, that commu[illegible] is inimical. By a thousand testimonials of better authorities that implacable hostility was proved in our own congressional hearings and reports and in confessional warnings of self-accusing apostates. Biddle's official opinion is welcome merely as corroboration. Communism is war in the modern manner. Hitler took Austria and Czechoslovakia without firing a shot. Stalin took the little Baltic nations also without a shot by the very same process. The only difference here is in the size of the problem.

The Communist is not just one who holds certain political views. To amend our law and execute him by firing squad as a traitor is not an attempt to shoot an idea. It is merely to adopt methods in dealing with modern treason in modern war.

SUNSPOTS CENSORED

War censorship not only clamped down on weather reports here on earth, but also on the sun. Because disturbances on the sun affect radio reception, sunspot activity was a military secret during World War II.

friendship to every city official concerned during the 30 years that I have served on the Fire Department. Also, I leave the Fire Department with my best regards and wish them the best of success in the future. If in the future there is any service that I may perform for the Pampa Fire Department, I will gladly do so."

Matthews noted in announcing the resignation that insurance figures show that the city is enjoying one of the lowest rates in the state; that the taxpayers have the benefit of a 20 percent credit as a result of the Fire Department's efficiency. The highest rate possible is 25 percent, it was stated.

During the last nine years, the highest fire loss in any one year was in 1941, when there was a loss of $51,588. There was a loss of only $26,752.84 in 1947.

Chief White is eligible for retirement from the Department with his 29 years' service. The law stipulates he may retire with a small pension after 20 years' service at the age of 55. He is past 55.

Chief White said yesterday: "The big problem now is to find a place to live."

Job Placements In Area Take a Decided Increase

Job placements in the Pampa area took a decided increase in December, with 211 persons placed on jobs during the month as compared to 169 in November, L. P. Fort, local manager of the Texas, Employment Commission, said yesterday.

The largest increase in labor demand was in pipe line construction, Fort said. Labor demands for building construction were few.

Paralleling the job placement increase was the number of active claimants for December. In November there were 184 active claimants at the local office, while December records showed 211 claimants.

With the advent of 1948 the Texas Employment Commission again has the responsibility of placing agricultural workers. Fort said he appreciated the support offered by agricultural agents in the Pampa area.

He suggested that all farmers and ranchers contact the employment office at 206 N. Russell to discuss any present or future needs for such labor. Fort said his office to do its best to serve those with such requests.

FINED ON CHECK CHARGE

One man pleaded guilty to a charge of issuing worthless checks amounting to a total of $256 and was fined $28.80 in County Court Friday morning.

Tax Measure

elapse between the posing of a question of confidence and the actual vote.

Although no vote of confidence was involved in the rejection of the two amendments yesterday, the premier had declared the government would consider passage of the amendments a "vote of mistrust." It therefore was considered a test of his parliamentary strength on the measure.

The parliamentary atmosphere had changed considerably since Friday, when the life of the government appeared in doubt.

Rene Mayer, speaking for the government, estimated that 260,000 artisans in lower salary brackets would have been exempted from paying 9 billion francs ($75 million) in taxes by the two amendments.

The amendments on which Schuman staked the life of his government would exempt further groups of artisans. He also asked for a vote of confidence on three groups of amendments to the third article which would exempt nearly 1 million small farmers. He was expected to request confidence again on amendments to free all persons owning war-damaged property.

Altogether 40 amendments had been proposed for the eight articles.

voted for partition Nov. 29 stood at 530.

Meanwhile, a reliable private informant said that during the last few days five Arab training centers for volunteer Guerrilla fighters had been transferred from Syria to the Arab-inhabited hill region of central Palestine.

In northern Palestine near the borders of Syria and Lebanon three Arabs were killed in a battle Friday night in Safad and another Arab was shot to death in a Jewish attack on an Arab village near Tiberias on the Sea of Galilee, officials said. Fighting began again yesterday in Safad.

Hagana, the Jewish defense force, announced that four Arabs were shot to death in a midnight reprisal raid on an Arab stronghold in the bloody no man's land between the coastal cities of Tel Aviv and Jaffa.

Osborne

then military services will be conducted at the grave at Fairview Cemetery. The Rev. Clyde Smith, pastor, will conduct the services at the church. Duenkel-Carmichael Funeral Home is making arrangements.

Pallbearers will be Farris Oden, Bill Frasier, Bob Thompson, J. N. Riggs, Bob Gordon, Joe Gordon, Jeff Hassell, and Harvey Nenstiel.

Lions Pres. Clarence Kennedy said members would sit in a group at the church, and asked all to be there by 1:30.

John Osborne was one of the city's prominent and popular citizens. Judge Stennis, when asked what are the lasting impressions of the man, said:

"For all the years I have known him, he has been noted for his hard work. While he farmed as a boy, while he was going to school and while he has been associated with me, he has been one of the best workers I have ever seen."

Pat Murphy, business friend of Mr. Osborne, said "I never saw a young fellow devote as much time at practice as he did."

There had been talk among his friends of asking him to run for the Legislature. Several persons have been known to have mentioned it in the years since he returned from the service.

Congress

President's budget toward the $40 billion mark, a level likely to prompt immediate Republican objections. But the GOP may find itself unable to make deep slashes in the face of European aid requests and demands for strengthening of American armed forces.

In this latter connection, Mr. Truman is represented as planning to recommend again that Congress order universal military training, an issue which many lawmakers of both parties dislike facing in an election year.

Unless the President changes his previous tactics, he will ask Congress for national health legislation, a housing program, extension of social security coverage, tightening of laws governing civil rights, admission of displaced European persons, an increase in the minimum wage level and enactment of a long range farm program to supplant the price support legislation which dies this year.

He is expected to request extension of the reciprocal trade agreements act which explains this year, continuation and strengthening of rent controls, approval of the St. Lawrence seaway agreement and authorization of a State Department foreign information program.

The President devoted most of yesterday to drafting his state of the union message.

Without waiting for Mr. Truman, the Senate Republican Policy Committee will go into action Monday.

Variety Program Is Given at Ladies Night

WHITE DEER —(Special)—Impersonations by Charles Thomas of Pampa, and readings and music by pupils from the Skellytown school were featured on the program at the Lions Club's Ladies Night, Tuesday evening, in the high school cafeteria.

[illegible] graphic impersonation of a lady at church, Betty Lou Cofer read "Happy Tomboy," James and Barbara Jo Huffines, "Sparkin' Peggy Jane," and Lyda Jane Spears, "An Actress." Special music was furnished by Betty Cofer, Betty West, Cordell Pugh, Hattie Coffey, Carol Kalka, and Lynn Colson. These are pupils of Miss Inez Franz and Mrs. Robert Sears.

Also on the program were "America," pledge to the flag, invocation by Lion M. G. Upton, and a sing-song led by Lion H. G. Hynds. Biggs Horn acted as "Boss Lion," in the absence of the president, Emmitt Smith, who was ill.

50 POUNDS LOST WITH BARCENTRATE

Many people have reported amazing results with this home recipe. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barcentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take just two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves: if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back.

Here is what Mrs. C. M. Earsh, 303 N. 12th St., McAllen, Texas, says about Barcentrate: "I want to tell you that I have lost 50 pounds since taking Barcentrate. I still want to lose 20 more pounds so I now weigh 167, a reduction from 217 pounds."

To lose weight the grapefruit juice way, get Barcentrate from your favorite druggist today.

School Men to Attend Meeting

Several educators in this area have indicated they will attend the annual conference of Texas school executives and teacher trainers, being held in Austin Thursday through Saturday.

Among those to attend from Pampa and neighboring towns are J. A. Meek, principal of Sam Houston School; H. A. Yoder, principal of Woodrow Wilson School; Knox Kinard, superintendent of Pampa Schools; Rex Reeves, superintendent at Lefors; Huelyn Laycock, Gray County superintendent; and Emmett Smith, superintendent at White Deer.

Some things to be considered at the conference include study of ways and means of improving the program of education in health and safety, school library service, extending education, counseling and guidance, resource-use education, and reorganization of education.

One purpose of the conference is to provide opportunity for school executives to hear the chairman of the Gilmer-Aiken Committee on plans for the studies in reorganization, and to hear of the plans and program of the Texas State Teachers Association and the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Dr. L. A. Woods, state superintendent of public instruction, will be general chairman.

Plans Completed for New Legion Building

SHAMROCK — (Special) — Plans and specifications for the new home of the DeShazo-George Post of the American Legion are complete, Lyman Benson, chairman of the building committee, said this week.

The blue print of the 125 x 145 foot building was drawn by O. L. Johnson Associates of Amarillo.

The outside of the building will be of blond native rock from Childress County. The main dance floor will consist of approximately 1,300 square feet. In addition there will be a club room for the Legionnaires, a club room for the auxiliary, large kitchen, dining room, nursery, men's lounge, ladies' lounge, two dressing rooms and a stage.

The building will be constructed on a three-acre plot approximately 300 feet south of the city limits on the west side of Highway 83.

The Legionnaires are making plans for a big day when actual work on the building begins. Merchants will be asked to declare a whole or half holiday so that employes who are members of the Legion may help with the initial work. Persons who are not Legionnaires will be welcome to help. Lunch will be served to the workers, the Legionnaires said.

Food Handlers' School to Begin Here on Monday

A five-day food handlers' school will be held here in the Palm Room of City Hall beginning Monday, with a session of movies and lectures at 9 a. m., repeated at 2:30 p. m. each day.

The classes, sponsored locally by the Lions Club and conducted by the Texas State Department of Health and the Pampa City Health Department, will be open to employes and managers of restaurants, cafes, lunch counters, groceries, produce stores, soda fountains, creameries, school cafeterias, bakeries and meat packing plants. The general public is also invited to attend, and a special invitation is extended to housewives.

C. R. Breedlove, State Public Health Service educational director, will be in charge of the sessions. Ray Salmon, of the City Health Department will assist in conducting the school. Dr. H. L. Wilder is chairman of the Lions Club Health and Welfare Committee.

Salmon said there is no registration fee for those attending the classes. He stated the school was considered one of the best of its type in the U. S.

Everyone attending the school will be given a certificate, and all food handling establishments with 80 percent or more attendance will be given a plaque to be displayed in their place of business, Salmon said. The week following the school here a similar series of classes will be held at McLean.

Films and slides will be shown with each lesson. The schedule is as follows: Monday, "Bacteriology and the Food Establishment"; Tuesday, "Food Contamination and Preservation"; Wednesday, "Three Enemies of Food Establishment"; Thursday, "Sanitation of Dishes and Utensils"; Friday, "Personal Hygiene and Sanitation."

Everybody Can Get a TREASURE Pouch

This big, 7-inch Treasure Pouch is made of heavy cloth with a zipper at the top; has back loops so that it may be worn on a belt. It's handsome, it's handy, it's practical, it's a safe place to keep your "Treasure Tops". To get your Treasure Pouch, just send 25¢ in coin to Pepsi-Cola Treasure Pouch, P. O. Box 19, New York, N. Y.

"TREASURE TOPS"—what they are

"Treasure Tops" are Pepsi-Cola bottle tops with hidden designs under the cork lining. To find the design, simply remove the cork from inside the bottle top. At present, there are 48 different designs—symbols of branches of the U. S. Armed Forces—like those shown above. At intervals during the contest, new designs will be added. That makes these big Pepsi-Cola "Treasure Top" Sweepstakes and Contests even more fun. Look for them! Collect them!

Find the hidden designs

Soak and flip out

Soak Pepsi-Cola bottle tops in moderately hot water until cork lining softens. Then cork can be removed from top with pen knife or kitchen knife.

Facts about Pepsi-Cola to help you win!

Here are just a few of the reasons why so many people prefer Pepsi-Cola to any other soft drink. Perhaps they'll help you when you're preparing your contest entries.

QUALITY—The finest of ingredients, the utmost care and skill in blending and bottling, make Pepsi-Cola tops for quality.

SIZE—That big Pepsi-Cola bottle speaks for itself. Every bottle holds 12 full ounces of pleasant drinking.

TASTE—Your own taste tells you that flavor comes first with good good Pepsi. It's the swell-tasting drink that packs lots of smoother drinking in every bottle.

VALUE—Bigger, better Pepsi-Cola sets the pace for value. Compare Pepsi by any standard . . . for quality, size or taste. You'll find it's your best drink, your best buy.

That means Pepsi goes farther—makes entertaining more economical—gives you plenty to enjoy.

HERE ARE THE OFFICIAL CONTEST RULES

1. On your entry blank or a sheet of paper, complete this statement in 25 words or less—"Pepsi-Cola hits the spot because . . .". Then write down your own name and address, the name of the head of your family, the name and address of the Pepsi-Cola dealer who helped you, and the total number of different designs on Pepsi-Cola "Treasure Tops" you have collected. Then mail your entry, together with one Pepsi-Cola "Treasure Top" with cork removed to show hidden design, to:

Pepsi-Cola "Treasure Top" Contests,
P. O. Box 17
New York 8, N. Y.

Entries with insufficient postage not accepted.

2. The number of different designs you have collected will not be a factor in the awarding of the prizes. However, when you win a monthly prize, you must be able to show your total collection of different designs reported in the winning entry. Also, it's fun to collect and swap "Treasure Tops". Do not send your collection of "Treasure Tops" with your entry. Send in only one top with each entry.

3. You may enter these contests as many times each month as you wish, but no entry postmarked after June 30, 1948 will be accepted. Each time you enter, whether you win a cash prize or not, we will mail you a Treasure Certificate good for 100 points toward the $37,000.00 Family Sweepstakes Prizes. If you win any one of the monthly prizes, you will receive 100 additional Treasure Certificate points.

4. All entries received during each calendar month will be judged in that month's contest. Entries from each state (and from the District of Columbia) will be judged separately, and will compete for the monthly state prizes only with other entries from that state.

5. Monthly cash prizes as listed on this page will be awarded on the basis of aptness, originality and interest of the statements submitted (see Rule 1). Each month's national prizes will be awarded to the three best entries of the 49 state first-prize winners in each monthly contest. All entries will be judged by the impartial judging staff of The Reuben H. Donnelley Corporation, an independent, nationally-known contest judging organization. Decisions of the judges will be final.

6. All entries must be prepared by the contestant. Elaborate or fancy entries will not count extra. All entries and statements become the property of the Pepsi-Cola Company and none will be returned. In case of ties, the prize tied for will be awarded to each tied contestant, except for the sweepstakes prizes, procedure for which is listed under Rule 8.

7. Only contestants living within the 48 states or the District of Columbia will be eligible. Anyone may enter these contests except the employees of the Pepsi-Cola Company, Pepsi-Cola bottling companies or their advertising agencies. Members of the families of these employees are also excluded.

8. HUGE NATIONAL SWEEPSTAKES PRIZES WILL BE AWARDED AS FOLLOWS:

(a) Each Treasure Certificate received by you or members of your family (see Rule 3) counts 100 Sweepstakes Points for your family. Save them! (For the purpose of this contest, a "family" shall be considered as only persons related by blood, marriage or adoption living in the same household under one family head.)

(b) The 100 families, plus families tying with any of them, who have received the greatest number of Sweepstakes Points in the competition, qualify for the Sweepstakes Finals. Each family thus qualifying must be prepared to show the total number of Treasure Certificates received by the family and also to show the total number of "Treasure Top" designs reported in the family's entries (see Rule 1). Both the number of Treasure Certificates and the number of "Treasure Top" designs must agree with official contest records of the judging staff and these records will be considered final where any discrepancy occurs.

(c) The qualifying families will then be promptly notified and each family will be required to submit one statement of fifty words or less on the subject "How the Sales of Pepsi-Cola Can Be Increased". They must get the help of their Pepsi-Cola dealer in preparing this statement and must submit that dealer's name and address. The Sweepstakes Prizes will then be awarded by the impartial judging staff, mentioned in Rule 5, on the basis of aptness, originality and sincerity of the statements thus submitted.

These contests are subject to all state and local laws and regulations.

Townsend Unanimous Pick for All-State

Harvesters Reach Finals in Spearman Invitational Tourney

Stretching their string of victories to 30, in as many starts, the Pampa Harvesters basketball quintet was to meet the Spearman Lynx in the finals of the Spearman Invitational Basketball Tournament last night at 8:30.

The Harvesters reached the finals by virtue of a 38 to 32 win over the Stratford Elks in the semi-final round yesterday afternoon and by defeating the Borger Bulldogs 57 to 54 in the quarter-finals and Booker 53 to 16 in the first round of play.

Derrell Davis, high-scoring Harvester forward, led his teams scoring both in the Borger and Stratford games. He scored 26 points against the Bulldogs and 11 against Stratford.

The game which pitted the Green and Gold team against one of their District 1-AA foes proved to be the tournament's thriller up until the final game last night. The Harvesters led 14 to 10 at the end of the first quarter but the Bulldogs closed the defigit at half time with the score being 28 to 28. The Harvesters pulled ahead at the end of the third quarter to lead 46 to 39, but a last quarter thrust by the red and white team from Borger fell short and the Harvesters won the right to enter the semi-finals.

Appointed Thursday as head coach of the Harvester squad, Clifton McNeely, leading scorer in the nation's collegiate basketball circuits last year while playing with Texas Wesleyan College of Fort Worth, has been with the team during the tournament. He succeeds Dick Livingstone who resigned last month to accept a position in Fort Worth.

The Harvester B team after downing Stinnett 31 to 26 in the opening round of the tournament fell to the wayside at the hands of the Spearman team to the tune of 44 to 31 score. This is the same Spearman team that the varsity squad was to meet last night in the finals.

Handicap Race Feb. 21 to Match Armed, Assault

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Calumet Farm's Armed and King Ranch's Assault will duel under top weight of 130 pounds in the $50,000 added Widener Handicap at Hialeah Park Feb. 21.

Calumet's Golden Gelding will carry a pound more than last year as he seeks his third consecutive Widener victory. Entered in two other stake races—the $25,000 added Gulfstream Handicap Jan. 15 and the $25,000 added McLennan at Hialeah Feb. 14—the 1947 horse-of-the-year might surpass Stymie's record earnings of $816,060 by winning the events.

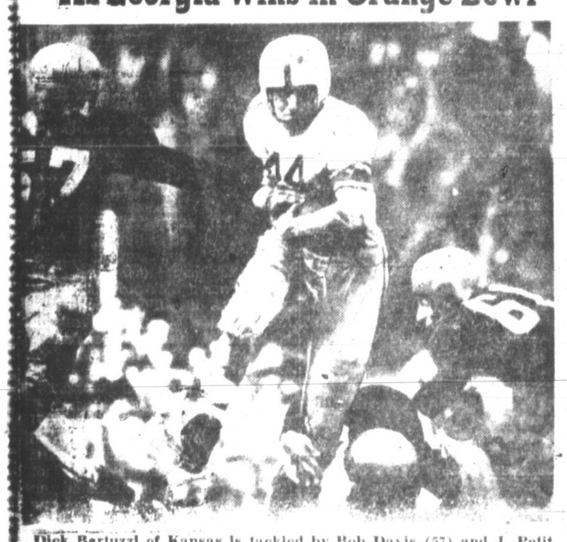

Assault, 1946 horse-of-the-year, will try for a Widener victory for the first time. The King Ranch standardbearer lost to Armed in the special at Belmont last summer but turfmen claim he wasn't at his best. Assault won five consecutive 1947 stake events before bowing to Stymie and Talon in the first running of the International Gold Cup.

Armed won 11 to 17 starts and was out of the money only once. He was second four times and third once. He amassed $367,325 in his nine stake victories. In his first time out this year, the gelding took the $3,500 Caliodo purse in a driving finish to boost his total earnings to $,63,700, or $52,760 behind Stymie.

The All-America football conference drew 1,828,480 fans during its second season. Approximately 1,630,000 were paid admissions.

More than 500 students are enrolled in the Syracuse University ski school.

The . . . WAY it LOOKS to Bill Behrman

Was quite satisfied with the selections made by the Texas Sportswriters Association in their picking of the all-state high school teams (which appears elsewhere on this page) until they started listing the honorable mention backfield men.

Listed from District 1-AA in the honorable mention are two backfield men, Alton Martin, Brownfield; and Bob Bogle of Plainview—the only two backfield men from this district to appear on the TSA's selections. I have seen both of these boys play, and they are good. But, what I don't understand is if these two boys did make honorable mention, why didn't Carl "Red" Mayes, Pampa's own backfield ace, and leading scorer in the district this year?

Dub King of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram placed Mayes on his second-team. Martin made the fourth team, Bogle honorable mention. Whether "Red" is that much better than either one of these two boys is questionable but we do believe he is as good.

Putt Powell of the Amarillo Globe-News was District 1-AA representative when this association voted its all-state team previous to the state finals in San Antonio December 27.

In a telephone conversation with Wilbur Martin of the Associated Press in Dallas yesterday morning he stated that each district had one representative and four members at large in the state were selected to vote and votes from 117 high school coaches were also included.

He stated that votes were counted on a 3-2-1 point system and that any man who voted for a man placing him as high as the second team on his ballot would have made honorable mention.

We would like Mr. Powell to name eight class AA backfield men he saw play during the season, that he thinks are better than Mayes. Eight men comprise two backfield teams.

And then what's wrong with Denny Willis, Amarillo's backfield ace, Jack Glasgow, Amarillo end, and Howard Hurt, over in Borger. Surely these boys deserve the same credit as Bogle and Martin. During the season, and on numerous all-district teams they received as much acclaim as did Bogle or Martin.

Or, maybe, it's because Powell has been writing Amarillo sports so long that he has become prejudiced and forgotten that Pampa even exists as so many Pampans would like to think about Amarillo.

Reserve seat tickets for the Pampa High School Harvester basketball conference home games to be played in the Junior High School Gym are now on sale in the school business office in the City Hall. These tickets which are for five conference games will be sold in book form as were the football tickets for the Harvesters' home games.

Up until noon yesterday the Harvesters were undefeated winning their first nine starts.

The entire south side of the gym has been reserved for basketball fans, the north side for students. Let's get behind the team and their new coach and give them the support they deserve.

The following is the schedule of the Harvesters' conference home basketball games:

Jan. 16 - Borger
Jan. 22 - Lubbock
Jan. 30 - Amarillo
Feb. 7 - Brownfield
Feb. 10 - Plainview

Scholarships and Recruiting to Be NCAA Topics

NEW YORK —(AP)— Proposed liberalized regulatory practices in regard to athletic scholarships and recruiting on a national scale will be up for final action next week when representatives of nearly 300 member universities of the National Collegiate Athletic Association convene here.

Half a dozen allied athletic groups have scheduled meetings during the week, but principal attention will be paid the NCAA constitution or "sanity code" amendments authorized by delegates a year ago.

One main suggestion to be voted upon at the NCAA meetings Thursday, Friday and Saturday will be to permit off-campus recruiting by college athletic staff members.

Dr. Karl B. Leib, NCAA president from the University of Iowa, said also that an effort would be made to group universities and colleges into a "national conference" similar to present regional groups.

To make the code effective, amendments provide for establishment of administrative commitees necessary to enforce the NCAA constitution, Leib said.

The American Association of College Baseball Coaches' executive committee meets Monday night, with business sessions Tuesday and Wednesday.

Coaches will discuss the possibility of selecting an All-America intercollegiate baseball team annually, and will press for a controlled eligibility agreement with organized baseball.

Also Tuesday and Wednesday, the National Collegiate Track Coaches Association will consider uniform procedure regarding college track operations, and olympic game preparations.

A rules meeting of the American Football Coaches Association will be held Wednesday and Thursday, and any recommendations for rules changes will be submitted to the national rules group.

Something new will be added Wednesday and Thursday when sports publicists from colleges and universities will conduct a general discussion with sports writers from newspapers and radio.

Representatives of the College Physical Education Association have set meetings for Thursday and Friday.

District 1-B Football Schedule Announced

WHITE DEER — (Special — Schedules for the six teams comprising the new football District 1-B were arranged at a meeting held in White Deer early in December, at which John T. Morris, superintendent of the Claude Public Schools, was elected chairman.

Competing in the district will be Claude, Canadian, Panhandle, Spearman, Wheeler, and White Deer. Lefors, which was on the original list sent out by the Interscholastic League, has been admitted to Class A. Groom, Vega, and Stinnett asked for admission to 1-B, but the executive committee decided to keep the district originally set up by the league.

The Bucks' 1948 schedule will be:

Sept. 10 - Lefors, here
Sept. 17 - Happy, there
Sept. 24 - Dalhart, here
Oct. 1 - Dumas, there
Oct. 8 - Wheeler, here (X)
Oct. 15 - Open
Oct. 22 - Claude, there (X)
Oct. 29 - Spearman, there (X)
Nov. 5 - Open
Nov. 12 - Canadian, there (X)
Nov. 19 - Panhandle, here (X)

(X) indicates conference.

Five District 1-AA Players Listed on TSA Mythical Teams

By The Associated Press

Stars in Texas' 1947 high school football race were widely scattered and six of those bright enough to make the Texas Sportswriters Association all-state teams were from teams that failed to win district titles.

Selected by more than 100 coaches and sportswriters from over Texas, the all-state team announced today includes only one boy from last year's mythical elecen. This is Byron Townsend, great Odessa back who was a unanimous choice.

The extremely well-balanced team has only one player from state champion Brackenridge (San Antonio). And finalist Highland Park (Dallas) did not place a single man on the first team.

Odessa is the only school represented by more than one player, its other all-state performer being Gordon Headlee, a near unanimous choice at guard.

William Wilson, Ennis, and James Spencer, Breckenridge, easily won end positions, while Charles O'Neal, Corpus Christi, was an overwhelming choice for one tackle position. The other was filled by Bill Wilson, Sam Houston (Houston).

Jerald Olive, Brackenridge (San Antonio), captured the other guard position, while Don Menasco won center honors.

The backfield has only one man who played past district competition, Townsend. The others are Reed, Quinn, Austin, Henry Stollenwerck, Waxahachie, hailed as the best broken-field runner in the high school race, and Bill Burkhalter, Texarkana's great individual star.

Wichita Falls, which went undefeated until quarter-final play, failed to place a single man on the first team, though two Coyotes made the second team and another the third.

This probably is the only team picked by the association in which so few players from playoff teams were included.

Two boys tied for backfield positions on the third team. They are Pat Knight, Thomas Jefferson (San Antonio), and Marshall Alford, Brownsville.

The first team:

Townsend, Flowers Listed on 44-Man All-America Hi School Grid Squad

OKLAHOMA CITY —(AP)— The Wigwam Wisemen of America announced its 44-man AllAmerican high school football squad which it said would play an East-West all-star game next August.

Ben Hogan Leads in Los Angeles Open

LOS ANGELES —(AP)— Defending champion Ben Hogan fired his second sub par round in the Los Angeles Open yesterday, and, as the pace setter of the first round, Jack Harden of El Paso, Tex., fell by the wayside, took at least temporary command at the midway point of the tournament.

Hogan finished today's round with a 70, one under par for the 35-36-71 Riviera Country Club course, and with his 68 yesterday, made a 36-hole score of 138.

Several of the first-round threats were still out when Hogan came in. Winner in the event in 1942 as well as last year, Hogan sank a 35-foot chipshot from back of the green on the 18th green.

Harden, whose 67 led the field Friday, slipped to a 77 yesterday for 144.

Golden Glove Bouts To Be Held Jan. 19-21

Pampa's first annual Pampa News-Junior Chamber of Commerce sponsored district Golden Glove Boxing Tournament will be held at the Sportatorium, 320 E. Tyng, aJnuary 19-21, with entries expected in both the high school and open divisions from Pampa and 12 surrounding cities.

Any boy 16 years of age or over in good physical condition, of good character, who qualifies as an amateur under rules of the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States, is eligible to participate as a contestant in Golden Gloves tournaments. However, in the high school division, any boy 16 years of age or over who is a student in the high school of the city in which he lives may enter this division.

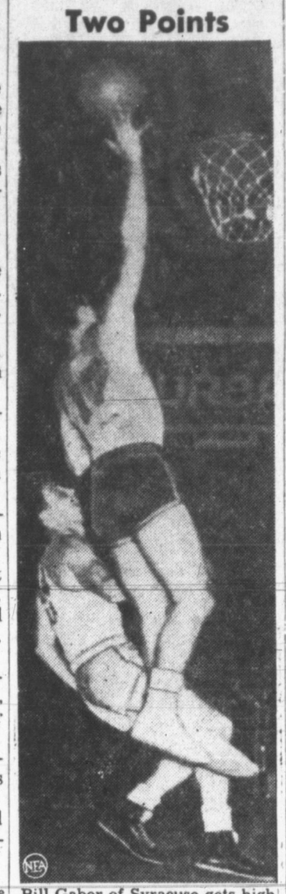

Boxers are eligible to participate in the Pampa district tournament from Pampa, Lefors, Alanreed, Clarendon, McLean, Higgins, Shamrock, Wheeler, Mobeetie, Canadian, Miami, White Deer, Skellytown, and communities lying within the limits of the above-mentioned towns.

It is pointed out that boxers must compete in the tournament nearest their legal residence. Legal residence has ben interpreted as the postoffice address of an individual for the period of 60 days preceding the date of any tournament.

Beginning Monday The News will publish on the sports page a series of six articles as a training guide prepared by the Texas Golden Gloves Athletic Association for the benefit of those desiring to enter the tournament.

An official entry blank appears elswhere on this page. For those who wish to enter this tournament, this blank can be clipped and mailed to Golden Gloves, c-o Pampa News, Pampa, Texas, and it will serve as your official entry blank. Entries will not be received later than January 15. Additional entry blanks can be obtained from The News.

NEED LUBRICATION

Before automobile brakes are tested as to adjustment, the linkage from brake pedal to drums should be thoroughly lubricated. It is also well to remember that lack of lubrication often accounts for inefficient brake performance by restricting the free action of the linkage and causing poor adjustment or undue wear.

Marines Leave to Strengthen Forces In Mediterranean

WASHINGTON —(AP)— A group of Marines whose number the Navy declines to disclose will sail next Tuesday to strengthen U. S. forces aboard the aircraft carrier Midway, three light cruisers and ten destroyers now stationed in the Mediterranean Sea.

The cruiser Little Rock, and two of the destroyers are based at ports in Greece, which this country has been trying to bolster against Communist encroachment. The other craft are in Italian waters.

The only clue to the size of the Marine force given in the Navy announcement last night was that the men, all from the second division, will make the trip on a "normal size transport of 12,000 to 15,000 tons fully loaded."

The men are being sent, the Navy said, for shipboard training and to "restore the total personnel on board to approximately the normal over-all complement" of the carriers and three cruisers.

Carriers in the Midway class normally carry 2,200 men, including 100 Marines, and cruisers 1,000 men, of whom 50 are Marines.

However, the Navy said American Navy ships have been undermanned for some time, apparently a hint that it would take more than the ordinary number of Marines to bring the four ships up to their "normal overall complement."

The Navy turned aside questions whether it has plans to send additional Marines or ships to the Mediterranean later.

Yankees and DiMaggio Begin 1948 Salary Negotiations

Sports Round-Up

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK —(AP)— When the national collegiate A A bigwigs start their discussion of the "purity" code next week, somebody is bound to point at the Pacific Coast Conference's Rose Bowl record for the past three games and say, "look." . . .Those three shellackings the Westerners have taken probably stem directly from the celebrated "athertonizing" of the conference. . .Football declined everywhere during the war, but due to intensive application of the "purity" idea, it hasn't made a comeback on the Pacific slope. . .At the other extreme, the college baseball coaches will continue their effort to bring a little less purity into their game. Their complaint is that the professional clubs grab every boy who isn't obviously a strict amateur.

WEEK'S WORST GAG

Troye Svendsen, Tulane U. basketballer, served as "King Nor" the children's monarch, in the New Orleans Mardi Gras pageant at the age of 12, leading a 75-float parade down Canal street. . .now 22 years old and 6-3 1-2 in height, Svendsen still has to take it when needlers call him "King Troye." . .That, of course is the helen it.

SHORTS AND SHELLS

Football fans probably never will settle the argument, stemming from Michigan's Rose Bowl triumph, whether the Wolverines or Notre Dame had the best 1947 football team, but if Johnny Lujack and Bobby Layne both sign with the Chicago Bears, they'll get a chance to end the dispute about who is the best passer . . . Sure, it's Sid Luckman. . . .The Boston Braves are offering 180 "sky view" box seats at $200 per copy for the season. They're the rooftop seats used as a football press box and won't be available if the Brayes get into the world series. . .

LOOKING BACK

Wonder what the Phillies' Bob Carpenter, who apparently is frustrated in his efforts to get baseball players for mere money, would give for another deal like the one which brought old Pete Alexander to the Phils. . .Philadelphia drafted Alexander from Syracuse in 1910 for $500 and the Syracuse club thought it was a pretty good deal. . .Seems that Charley Carr, who had Alex at Indianapolis, also was interested in a sporting goods company and wanted the New York State League to adopt his ball. So he gave the pitcher to the Syracuse club for its vote.

NEW YORK —(AP)— The New York Yankees and Joe DiMaggio have opened negotiations on the salary the star outfielder is to receive for the 1948 season.

But just how far apart they are at this point can only be a matter of conjecture. Both parties have agreed to maintain a strict silence until a final agreement is reached, club secretary Arthur (Red) Patterson said yesterday.

Patterson admitted negotiations were under way in replying, in a statement from the Yankee offices, to a report that DiMaggio was demanding $75,000 for his 1948 contract.

"The Yankees," said the statement, "do not deny that they have entered into contract negotiations with DiMaggio and others. It has been mutually agreed by DiMaggio and General Manager George Weiss that no publicity will be given on any details. The Yankees, therefore, have no comment to make on reports mentioning specific salary terms.

"Contracts are being forwarded to some players on the Yankee squad. Others, who plan visits to New York, will discuss terms personally with the general manager."

DiMaggio, winner of the American League's most valuable player award for 1947, is in town for the holidays. He concurred in the announcement that his negotiations with the club would be conducted in secrecy. When he accepts terms, the club will make the announcement.

Most baseball men believe the big fellow will be satisfied if he can get somewhere close to $50,000. He received $42,000 last season.

At the same time the contract statement was issued, the Yankees denied a report that Edward G. Barrow, who directed the club during the Ruppert regime, was returning to serve in an executive capacity. Barrow retired as president when the Larry MacPhail syndicate purchased the organization three years ago.

Texas Sportswriters Association Names Six Coaches of Year

DALLAS —(AP)— The Texas Sportswriters Association named "coaches of the year" from five conferences and high school sports.

Picked for the honors were:

Madison Bell, Southern Methodist University, Southwest Conference.

Herman Morgan, Highland Park (Dallas), high school sports.

Wilford Moore, McMurry College, Texas Conference.

Lloyd Raymer, Hillsboro, Texas Junior College Athletic Association.

Floyd Wagstaff, Tyler, Southwestern Junior College Conference.

Frank Kimbrough, West Texas State, Border Conference.

Odus Mitchell, North Texas State, Lone Star Conference.

Bell coached Southern Methodist through an undefeated season, with only ties with Texas Christian and Penn State in the Cotton Bowl to mar the record.

Morgan's Highland Park team went to the finals of the state schoolboy football race, though not expected to get past bi-district competition.

Moore brought McMurry the school's highest grid honor, finishing in a tie for the conference leadership.

Wagstaff guided Tyler to an undefeated, untied grid regular season and a narrow loss in the Texas Rose Bowl.

Raymer's Hillsboro Indians won the association championship and lost in the Junior Sugar Bowl.

Mitchell's North Texas eleven lost only one game in regular season play and in the Salad Bowl at Phoenix, Ariz., New Year's Day.

Kimbrough was credited with rebuilding West Texas State's grid fortunes. The underdog team from Canyon lost only to Texas Tech and Hardin-Simmons in conference play.

BOWLING

In the Industrial Bowling League Friday night at the Pampa Bowling Alleys, Leder's Jewelry won two out of three over Hawthorne's, J. C. Daniels Motor Co. won three from McWilliams Motor Co. and Culberson Chevrolet won two out of three from Lewis Hardware.

Tom Chambliss of the Leder's team bowled high single game with a 198, while Ted Evans of the Hawthorne's team bowled high three game series with a 520.

New Mexico Highway 60 Strip Is Paved, Leaving Only One Unpaved--in Oklahoma

A 38-mile unpaved gap of Highway 60 in New Mexico has been paved, according to photostatic copies of letters sent to Travis Lively, chairman of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce Highway Committee.

This leaves but one strip of road unpaved in the 2,800-mile Highway 60 route from coast to coast, according to Harry Glasser, president of the Highway 60 Association, Enid, Okla. The remaining gaps are in Oklahoma.

In a letter to a highway official in Illinois, Glasser said: "I have confidential information that an early start will be made in hardsurfacing the 38 miles of gravel road" in Oklahoma. He said this might be realized before the end of 1948.

Several years ago, an agreement was made among New Mexico, Texas, Oklahoma, and Missouri that each state would pave those parts of the coast-to-coast road that runs through the different states. All have complied, with the exception of Oklahoma. The Oklahoma gaps are between Chester, Okla., and the Texas line.

Glasser, indefatigable worker for an all-paved Highway 60 from Santa Monica, Calif., to Norfolk, Va., sent to Chairman Lively a copy of a letter to him from New Mexico's Gov. Thomas Mabry, in which Gov. Mabry said ". . . we feel sure that Oklahoma will . . .make Highway 60 the very fine road which should be serving the very fine territory through which it passes." Gov. Mabry said he had just made a trip on the road through Oklahoma.

Glasser also includes a copy of a letter he himself wrote to Gov. Turner of Oklahoma. In it he says "I hope that in the early part of 1948 funds will be made available which will enable Oklahoma to begin the closing of the last open gaps that now remain on the approximately 2,800 miles of U. S. 60 from Santa Monica, Calif., to Norfolk, Va. When our open gaps are closed, it will be a marvelous road. . . ."

Rand McNally's Hobbs (travel) Guide No. 2 is quoted to this effect in Glasser's letter to Gov. Turner:

"This new and promising route between Amarillo and Los Angeles is more scenic, and has easier grades and much less traffic than any competing road. . . . The section from Globe to Showlow, Ariz., is one of the engineering triumphs of the West. The scenery is superb."

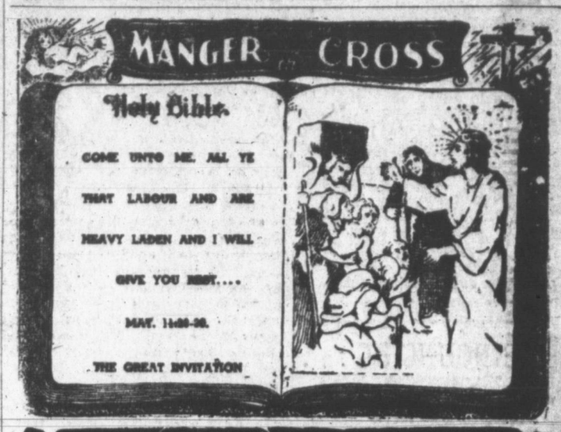

The Highway 60 Association has membership in almost all the towns and cities along the route, which includes Pampa. A number of persons here have attended meetings in Texas and Oklahoma, seeking ways of having the route completely paved, in order that traffic may follow it from coast to coast.

Margaret Truman Refuses Offer

NEW YORK —(AP)— Margaret Truman, the President's daughter, has rejected with thanks a $10,000 weekly offer to do her singing in a Times Square restaurant.

"Gosh, what she would have done for business," said Ralph Watkins after announcing Friday night the young concert singer had turned down his bid for an appearance at the "Royal Chicken Roost." Watkins is one of the owners.

Palaver de Pampa

WEEK OF REHABILITATION—This is it: the week when office secretaries and just plain typists learn to remember that it is "8" they must hit instead of "7." . . . the new year has two Fridays the 13th—one in February and (then a little rest) the other in August.

EVERYBODY-PREDICTS-WHY-NOT-ME Department—in 1948, there will be a lot of leaky faucets, and they will in most cases be neglected. In some instances (at least one) the "old man" will get up in the dead of night to turn one off and resolve then and there he'll fix it—or have it fixed—the very next day . . . Being stricken with the "cost-of-livingitis," I probably won't get out of the habit of thinking the red flags on the parking meters read "Inflation." . . . This is the year some of the girls will miss the good old habit of waiting to be proposed to. It's Leap Year! . . . it's the year when we'll have a new chance to beat Amarillo at football . . . when the Oilers will strive to bring the pennant back to the local park . . . we'll have the Hereford Breeders show, the Top o' Texas extravaganza, Girl and Boy Scout camps, the Soap Box Derby, and a host of other interesting things and events . . . A lot of candidates will explain to voters what Lincoln would have done in a case like this, et cetera.

PEGANESE—Most headline writers invariably use at one time or another initials of presidents—HST for Harry S. Truman; FDR for Franklin D. Roosevelt. If the third party candidate should be elected, it would read—for Henry A. Wallace — HAW. "Haw," in the language of the farmer, means turn to the left! . . . John Studer, Drs. Walter Purviance and W. L. Campbell started quail hunting the other day. During preparation for the trip at Dr. Purviance's home, they leaned two guns against the rear bumper of the car, and then, departing, backed out of the driveway—leaving two guns behind. At the scene of the big hunt, they found they had one gun for the three. Friends suggest it is probably a good idea—since John is such a good shot—that he take a gun only every other time he goes hunting . . . Speaking of hunting, it's reported (and reliably—we think) that Frank Culberson this week finally got his limit of birds—he pistol-whipped them to death.

PAMPA PANORAMA—Mrs. Hans Davis calls her husband "Lindbergh"—he flies, you know. Mrs. Davis, besides being energetic, original and artistic (still good qualities in 1948), has a sense of humor. She's always helping people out—the kind of help, which, even though it might not be needed the worst, is welcome . . . an old-timer, Mrs. G. C. Walstad, has a host of friends, is a good bridge player—and, as one person who knows her put it, "is atomic to be around." . . . Sue Ann Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Thompson (you know, the drug store Thompsons) is one of those little grown-up type children. She seemed more than a child when, while under the beauty parlor dryer the other day, she explained something so, so carefuly to her mother . . . If you see Frank Smith (or hear him) on the street with his duck caller, it's the result of his wife Mildred's having given him a recording of the way duck calls should be made . . . Carolyn Pieratt went the way of all of us when we were children: she got a bike for Christmas, and the very first day fell, cut her lip through with a tooth . . . also among the little folk—Henry is the son of L. N. and Mrs. Atchison. He and his father are a pal-twosome. His father shows him about town—the interestings things, and he meets people. He likes to play phonograph records and pitch, often asks you over for a "set-to." . . . the latest is that Margaret Rainouard will stay on at the Schneider as head of the Dining Room. There had been a . . . little talk she might take another job. Old Santa was more than good to Mrs. Bruce Parker. Wow! that Cadillac! . . . If everyone in Pampa had seen the Christmas decoration which won first place in the residential section, it would still be insufficient recognition for the work Mrs. J. L. Harrison and her husband must have put in on their scene at 634 South Gray. It was the kind of achievement one doesn't see very often. And the Clayton Floral decoration, winner of first place in the business section, had a nice audience at 410 East Foster. All who decorated their homes and businesses are to be commended in view of the remark one man made: "Of all the decorations between here and East Texas I saw, Pampa's were the most outstanding." . . . Townspeople are missing the daily walk of Herb Walker, the old-timer, and his gold-crowned walking cane. He's recuperating from an operation at Amarillo. Hasteth back! . . . It must be nice to be able to hibernate in the spring-time of San Antonio during the winter months—that's our old friend M. K. Brown. But he'll be back, come spring . . . it was kind and generous of Mrs. Inez Carter to send a $1,000 check at Christmas-time to the Children's Home at Amarillo . . . B. R. Nuckols is a good worker for his community.

WHERE IS ROSS LOCKRIDGE, JR.?—That was the question the other day as MGM studios in Hollywood and the Book-of-the-Month Club in New York sought the 33-year-old author of what may prove to be the greatest novel of 1948—"Raintree County." After a 2-weeks' search, the searchers found the man and his wife Vernice in California touring the countryside in a hired Ford. Their four youngsters had been left with various relatives in Bloomington, Ind. This man's achievement is something to shoot at in this new year—not that we will come near the goal, but it won't hurt to try! He wrote the novel—over a period of six years—in a three-room apartment, with the kids squalling, etc. He's assured of $250,000 from it already, and it won't be published until tomorrow! And he held down a job at the same time. (That alone takes my husband's time!) We're told that for form and scope its only contemporary equals are "Gone With the Wind" and "Anthony Adverse." Indiana, we might say, turned out to be his bonanza.

LOOSE ENDS (no pun):—a laughing hyena escaped from a circus winter quarters. We'd suggest looking for it in our local movie houses . . . a magician got out of a locked safe in 30 seconds. We'd love to see him in some of our Dollar Day bargain stores tomorrow . . . nobody enjoys being bothered—but it's still a lot nicer than being totally ignored . . . speaking of literature, among great pieces of fiction found in all languages is the one about having a little extra work to do at the office. (That oughta hold for this time.)

Something you didn't get done in 1947? Well, take heart, there are 366 days in 1948, while there were only 365 in the old year! . . . WHEW! I'm tired.

Mr. and Mrs. McMurtry Receive On 50th Wedding Anniversary

SHAMROCK — (Special) — Eighty-five friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. McMurtry called at their home west of Shamrock Saturday afternoon, Dec. 27, to help the couple celebrate their Golden Wedding anniversary.

Although the anniversary fell on Dec. 8, the celebration was held at the later date for the convenience of our-of-town relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. McMurtry have lived on their farm west of the city since 1910, having moved there with their family of five sons in the fall of that year, when Wheeler County still had many large ranches.

Both Mr. and Mrs. McMurtry are avid readers and keep up with present day affairs. She is fond of music, and he likes to talk and visit with his friends and he enjoys his radio. They are members of the First Baptist Church and he is an Odd Fellow and she, a Rebekah.

The couple was married at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. R. Jett, at Hartman, Ark., and established a home at Knoxville, Ark., where their five sons, Jett, Dean, Muri, Sam and Randolph were born. Later the family moved to New Mexico, where Mr. McMurtry homesteaded a farm for a three years before moving to their present home.

Mrs. McMurtry, who is 77 years old, is a descendant of John Randolph. She was Minnie Jett before her marriage, and was born in Knoxville, Ark. Mr. McMurtry, also 77, was born in Florence, Ala., and moved from there to Knoxville, Ark., in 1890.

Three of the couple's four living children and their families were present for the celebration. They were: Mr. and Mrs. Muri McMurtry and sons, Bill and Bob, of Stillwater, Okla., Mr. and Mrs. Dean McMurtry, Mr. and Mrs. Sam McMurtry, all of Shamrock, and a daughter-in-law, Mrs. Jett McMurtry of Texola, Okla.

Two guests, present at the wedding 50 years ago, attended the anniversary celebration. They were Frank Wofford of Shamrock, and W. B. Wofford of Wheeler, a brother-in-law of Mrs. McMurtry.

The daughters-in-law were hostesses for the affair, and in the receiving line were: Mr. and Mrs. W. M. McMurtry, Dean McMurtry and Mrs. S. E. Bidwell, sister of Mr. McMurtry, of Altus, Okla.

Bill McMurtry of Stillwater, Okla., grandson of the couple, was at the guest register, and Mrs. Dean McMurtry assisted in the living room. In the dining room the refreshment table was centered with a beautiful arrangement of yellow and white garzas and fern.

Mrs. P. B. Autrey, Mrs. Craig Wofford of Lubbock, Mrs. Ruth Jett of Tulsa, Okla., poured alternately. The anniversary cake, three-tiered, decorated with a gold and white color scheme with birds and bells, was served by Mrs. E. K. Kennedy of Muleshoe, and Miss Corinne Jett of Tulsa, Okla. Assisting in the dining room were Mrs. Jett McMurtry, Mrs. Murl McMurtry, and Mrs. Sam McMurtry.

The couple received many useful gifts and recorded music was played during the receiving hours.

ANNOUNCEMENT

The Executive Board of the WMU of the First Baptist Church will meet at the church at 12:30 Wednesday noon. The regular WMU luncheon meeting will be at 1 o'clock. A nursery will be provided.

The YWA of the First Baptist Church will meet in the Young People's Department for election of officers Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. B. T. Culpepper

Lou Ella Butler Wed to B. T. Culpepper In Evening Service At Baptist Church

Miss Lou Ella Butler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Butler, 533 N. Zimmer, and Bob Culpepper of Grand Prairie, Tex., were united in marriage Dec. 26. The wedding took place at seven o'clock in the evening in the Central Baptist Church with the Rev. Glen Roenfeldt performing the double-ring ceremony.

Decorations were of poinsettias. The matron of honor was Mrs. Dale Butler. She was gowned in black with back accessories and her corsage was of pink carnations.

Dale Butler was best man.

The bride wore a blue dress with black accessories and her corsage was of red roses.

After the ceremony the bridal couple took a short wedding trip to Amarillo and vicinity.

For travel the bride wore a brown fish-tail suit with red accessories.

Mrs. Culpepper was graduated from Pampa High School in 1947 and is now employed with the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company in Pampa.

The bridegroom served two years in the Navy. He has been working for a construction company in Grand Prairie.

Irene Cofer Weds Wesley Russell

SKELLYTOWN — (Special) — Miss Irene Cofer daughter of Mrs. Tom Hall, became the bride of Wesley Russell of Pampa Saturday evening, Dec. 27, in the parsonage of the Community Church with the Rev. Homer A. Long reading the marrjage rites.

The bride wore an aqua two-piece suit with a corsage of white carnations and she carried a white Bible covered with sweet peas. For something old she wore her great-grandmother's wedding band.

The bridal couple's only attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Barnett. Mrs. Barnett is the bride's sister.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell will be at home in Pampa where they are both employed.

The McConnells of Ordway, Colorado, Are Reception Honorees

Mr. and Mrs. Russell McConnell entertained with open house Dec. 28 honoring Mr. and Mrs. James G. McConnell of Ordway, Colo.

The house was festive with beautiful poinsettias, holly and Christmas greens.

The receiving line was composed of Mr. and Mrs. Russell McConnell, the honorees and Mr. and Mrs. Roger McConnell.

Members of the house party were Mr. and Mrs. James B. Massa, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Eller, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Zahn, and Mrs. and Mrs. Jim White.

Mrs. Joe Hodge presided at the guest register.

The table was laid with a Madeira cutwork cloth and centered with an arrangement of red carnations and holly, flanked by red tapers in silver candle sticks.

Refreshments of coffee, fruit cake, nuts and mints were served. Mrs. K. S. Long presided at the coffee service.

Special music was furnished by Carol Culberson, Joan Applebay, Betty Ann Williams, Ann Jordan, June Guill, Jan Ethridge, and Charlotte Ann Allston.

During the receiving hours from two-thirty to five 125 guests called.

Tri-County Council P-TA to Meet Monday

The Tri-County Council of Parent-Teacher Associations will have an important business meeting Monday, Jan. 5, in the Junior High School Reading Room.

This council is composed of officers, superintendents, principals, unit presidents and delegates, and the president, Mrs. Henry Ellis, urges all to be present.

Occupation of Java by the Japanese during the war years cost the United States and its Allies 1,250,000 tons of sugar.

Miss Kromer and Mr. Harrison Are Married in Formal Church Ceremony

SHAMROCK —(Special)— Miss Karen Kromer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Kromer of Amarillo former Shamrock residents, became the bride of Clanton Bedford Harrison, Jr., of Houston, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Harrison, Sr., of Shamrock, Saturday at 5 o'clock.

Nuptial vows were exchanged in an impressive double-ring service at the Polk Street Methodist Church Chapel, with Dr. Neal D. Cannon, pastor, officiating.

Miss Lilly Larsen, organist, played a nuptial prelude for the ceremony and accompanied Bob Smith of Oklahoma City in singing "Thine Alone," and "How Do I Love Thee." Traditional wedding marches were used for the processional and recessional and Mr. Smith sang "The Lord's Prayer" at the conclusion.

White calla lilies, arranged in baskets, flanked the altar, against a background of huckleberry. Candelabra bearing lighted cathedral tapers, and the bridal aisle marked with candelabra, huckleberry branches and satin bows, made an imposing setting for the ceremony.

Mrs. Thomas W. Risley of Austin, attended her sister as matron of honor. She was attired in a palomino satin afternoon dress complemented by brown accessories. She carried an arm bouquet of Talisman roses.

Wendell Scott of Shamrock, served as best man. William Jeff Green of Shamrock, and William Joseph Montgomery of Amarillo, were ushers.

Entering on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage, the bride was attractive in an ice blue satin suit fashioned with a full skirt and a fitted bodice. Her bonnetto of ice blue bridal illusion was caught at the sides by orange blossoms. She carried an arm bouquet of white calla lilies tied with white satin ribbon. Her bridal handkerchief was used by her mother at her wedding and she wore an antique bracelet which belonged to the bridegroom's grandmother.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Kromer chose a sea green crepe dress with matching maline hat and an orchid corsage. Mrs. Harrison, mother of the bridegroom, wore a dress of taupe crepe accented with dusty pink accessories. Her dusty pink hat was trimmed with a full blown rose. She wore an orchid corsage.

Following the ceremony the bridal party was honored at a reception in the home of the bride's parents. The attractively appointed serving table was laid with an imported lace cloth and centered with a wedding ring cake, an arrangement of white roses and silver candelabra.

Assisting in the house party were Mrs. W. S. Mount, Miss Ann Ochsner, Mrs. Delmar Durrett, Mrs. Neal Ware, Miss Nancy Clemmer, all of Amarillo, Miss Carolyn Rawlings of Dimmitt, Miss Gloria Holmes, Miss Barbara Scott and Miss Janet Caperton, all of Shamrock.

For traveling, the bride chose a chocolate brown broadcloth suit, with which she wore a pink beaver hat and brown accessories. After Jan. 5, the couple will be at home at 2305 Sunset Boulevard, Houston.

Mrs. Harrison was graduated from the Amarillo High School, and she attended Amarillo College and the University of Texas, Austin. Mr. Harrison is a graduate of the Shamrock High School, and received his degree in chemical engineering from Texas A&M College, College Station. He is employed by Engineers and Fabricators of Houston.

More than 100 Shamrock citizens attended the wedding.

Miss Kromer was honoree at a prenuptial bridge party recently when Mrs. Roy Holmes entertained for her in the home of her mother, Mrs. Denis Glann. The guest of honor was presented with a gift from the hostess. High score award was also presented to Miss Kromer.

Joan Coonrod Becomes Bride of Bob Dunham In Simple Ceremony

Mrs. Bob Dunham

Joan Coonrod, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Coonrod, 716 E. Browning, and Bob Joe Dunham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Dunham, north of Pampa, were married Saturday, Dec. 13, in Clovis, N. M. The ceremony took place at 9:30 in the morning in the home of the Rev. Luther E. Sharp, minister of the Clovis Presbyterian Church.

Rev. Sharp performed the double-ring ceremony before a white fireplace decorated with Christmas wreaths, holly and candles. Miss Barbara Coonrod, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a yellow Jersey dress with brown accessories and her corsage was of white roses and sweetpeas. Buddy Hobdy of Canadian was best man.

The bride wore an aqua gabardine ballerina suit with black accessories and her corsage was of yellow roses.

The bride was graduated from Pampa High School in the class of 1946. The bridegroom graduated from Pampa High School in 1943 and enlisted immediately in the Navy. He spent much of the time in the Navy in the Pacific theater. He is now employed by Murphy McKernan.

Mr. and Mrs. Dunham are at home at 1000 E. Twiford.

Announcement

The Executive Committee of the WSCS of the First Methodist Church will hold its first meeting of the new year at 2:30 Wednesday, Jan. 7, in the Church Parlor.

Mrs. Sam B. Cook, president, requests the presence of all temporary chairmen and permanent chairmen. The president also announces that there will be no general meeting on that date. A nursery will be provided.

BGK Club Has Four Festive Social Events

Members of the BGK Club have reported a series of social events which were held during the Christmas and New Year's holidays.

The first was the club's annual Christmas dance which was formal. The dance was held Dec. 19 at the Southern Club and R. E. Smith's orchestra furnished the music. More than 150 couples attended the affair.

The annual Christmas party for members was held in the Russell Chisholm home, 800 N. Gray, on Dec. 21. The hostesses for this affair were Mesdames E. L. Henderson, Erwin Thompson, Myron Max, Maynard Johnson, and Misses Jean Chisholm, Colleen Chisholm, VaRue Dyson, Peggy Stephens. The entertaining rooms were decorated in the Christmas motif complete with Christmas tree, candles, and stockings hanging from the mantel. The serving table was laid with a red cloth and decorated with Christmas candles. Mrs. Henderson served punch from a crystal bowl, with dainty cookies, mints and nuts.

The third affair was a breakfast, given Dec. 28 to members of the club by Mrs. William Bridges at her home, 113 Garland. The rooms were decorated with a variety of flowers with jonquils predominating.

The club sponsor, Mrs. Paul Tabor, entertained members of the club with an open house at her home, 1004 N. Somerville, on Monday evening, Dec. 29. The serving table was laid with a white cloth and decorated with tapers. Special guests for the occasion were Miss Ann Chisholm and Mrs. G. B. Cree, Sr.

Members of the BGK Club are Mesdames William Bridges, Robert Brown, Parks Brumley, Todd Cone, George Cree, Jr., L. C. McMurtry, Bill Davis, Berton Doucette, Bob Dukat, M. C. Cal Pearce, John Phelps, Raymond Reid, Erwin Thompson, Melvin Watkins, Paul Tabor, and Misses Jean Chisholm, Colee n Chisholm, VaRue Dyson, Peggy Stephens.

Rebekah Lodge Will Install Officers

At the regular meeting of the Rebekah Lodge Thursday evening, Team Captain Albert Noland presented the lodge with the trophy won in competitive degree work in the Panhandle Rebekah Circle the past six months.

It was announced that there will be a joint public installation ceremony in the IOOF Hall Monday, Jan. 5, at 8 p. m. for the officers who will serve during the next six months. At this time both subordinate and Rebekah officers will be installed.

TONGUE-WORN

The mosque of Amr, Cairo, Egypt, has a spot in a corner of its wall which is worn concave by the touch of many tongues. Believing it to be a cure for indigestion, natives lick the stone until their tongues bleed.

Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Aulds

Betty Jean Myers, Doyle Aulds Married In Afternoon Rites In Christian Church

Miss Betty Jean Myers, daughter of Mrs. Janice Myers, 1108 E. Francis, was married Sunday, Dec. 14, to Leslie Doyle Aulds, son of Mrs. C. D. Stephens, 221 N. Frost.

The Rev. B. A. Norris performed the double-ring ceremony in the First Christian Church at four o'clock in the afternoon.

Mrs. J. F. Meers played "Always" and "Because" for the ceremony.

Candelabra and large baskets of flowers stood at each side of the altar and the organ was decorated with a centerpiece of gladioli.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Evelyn Owen sister of the bridegroom. She wore a rose-colored suit with black accessories and her corsage was of white carnations.

Roy Vicars of Corpus Christi was best man.

The bride's wedding costume was an aqua blue suit with brown accessories and she wore a white rosebud corsage.

The bride's mother wore a navy suit with black accessories and her corsage was of gardenias.

The bridegroom's mother wore a burgundy suit with gray accessories and a gardenia corsage.

After the wedding a dinner party was held at Sixes with the bride and bridegroom, Mesdames Owen, Myers, Wanda Beezeley, Earl Schick, Messrs. Ray Vicars, Chuck Fonoglia, and Messrs. and Mesdames C. D. Stephens, Al Myers, Bobby Myers and Jimmy Aulds, attending.

Mr. and Mrs. Aulds are establishing their home at 418 N. West St.

The bride is a graduate of Pampa High School, class of 1942. She has lived in Pampa for twelve years. While in school she was member of La Rosa Sorority.

The bridegroom graduated from Pampa High School in 1939. During the war he was in the Air Corps. He is a professional baseball player and belongs to the Boston Red Sox.

The bridal couple will leave for Florida to be there for a month of spring training which starts March 1. During the baseball season they will live in Louisville, Ky., and in the winter will make their home in Pampa.

Jo Ann Howard, Paul Miller, Wed In Church Parlor

McLEAN — (Special)—Miss Jo Ann Howard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Howard, was married on Dec. 20, to Paul Miller, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Miller of Kellerville.

The Rev. Ray Stephens, pastor of the First Baptist Church, read the single-ring service at 7 o'clock in the church parlor. Mr. and Mrs. Vergal Smith attended the couple.

The bride was attired in a light blue suit with black and gold trim. She wore a beige hat with gold veil and carried a white Bible.

Attending the wedding ceremony were Misses Charlotte Peden Carol Nan Smith, Barbara Marshall and Maurine Harlan, James Hinton and Mrs. Howard.

Mrs. Miller is a member of the Senior Class of McLean High School and Mr. Miller is a graduate of M.H.S.

Mr. Miller is employed at Kellerville. The couple will be at home in McLean.

PRESBYTERIAN AUXILIARY

The Executive Board of the Women's Auxiliary of the First Presbyterian Church will not meet this month.

The circles will meet in homes as usual on Wednesday afternoon. The time of meeting is 2:30 p. m. and a nursery will be provided at the church during the afternoon meeting hours. Circle 1 will meet with Mrs. Clinton Henry, 521 E. Francis. Members of Circle 2 will be notified by telephone as to place of their meeting. Circle 3 will meet with Mrs. E. J. O'Brient, 823 N. Somerville.

Circle 4 will meet Thursday at 8 p. m. in the West Room.

Farm honey production in the United States totaled more than 233,000,000 pounds in 1945.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Watt

Norma Jean Jennings and Bill Watt Married in Impressive Home Rites

Miss Norma Jean Jennings, daughter of Mrs. Martha Ann Jennings Waller, 220 N. Houston, was married Dec. 24, to Bill Watt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carver performed the single-ring ceremony in the Waller home before an archway trimmed with greenery and a large satin bow and flanked by baskets of gladioli and seven-branch candelabra holding lighted white tapers.

Recorded nuptial music preceded the candle-lighted ceremony.

Miss Irvine Raugh of Mobeetie was maid of honor. She wore a powder blue gabardine suit and a corsage of pink carnations.

Donald R. Michaels was best man.

The bride was given in marriage by J. W. Waller, her father by marriage. She wore an off-white ankle-length silk crepe dress trimmed in beads and gold sequins in a design carried from the shoulder on the right to the peplum on the left. Her accessories were black and she wore a matching hat in off-the-face style and her corsage was of three gardenias.

The bride's mother wore a gray jersey dress with silver spangles and her corsage was of pink carnations.

After the wedding a reception was held at the Waller home for a few relatives and close friends.

Former Resident of Wheeler Co. Dies

SHAMROCK — (Special)— Jess Small, a resident of Wheeler County for 36 years, died Friday, December 26, in a Farmington, N. M., hospital. He was about 62 years old.

Details are meager but friends here believe the body was probably shipped to Pendleton, Ind., where his parents are buried.

Mr. Small and his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Small, came to Wheeler County in 1904, settling on a farm east of town. They later moved to Shamrock and Mrs. Small died on April 14,1933.Mr. Small left here in the Spring of 1940 and purchased a fruit farm near Farmington, making his home there until the time of his death.

Survivors include a nephew, Lester Boyd of Anderson, Ind., and two nieces.

Betty Jean Parks and John King Are Married in Double-Ring Ceremony

Miss Betty Jean Parks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Parks, west of Pampa, was married Dec. 14, to John King, son of Mr. and Mrs. John King of Pampa.

The wedding took place at the First Christian Church at 2:30 p. m. with the Rev. B. A. Norris performing the double-ring ceremony.

Preceding the ceremony Miss Charlotte Allston played "Clair de Lune," "Because," and "Always." She also played the traditional wedding marches.

The vows were exchanged before an altar decoraed with baskets of gladioli. Candles were lighted by Clariee Parks, sister of the bride, and Doris Ann King, sister of the bridegroom.

Miss Norma Parks, sister of the bride, wasmaid ofh onor. She wore a street-length dress of gray wool with pink accessories. Her corsage was of pink carnations.

Warren King, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man. Lee Parks was usher.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a winter-white street-length dressmakers suit with matching accessories. She carried a white Bible topped with an orchid with white satin streamers. She wore the traditional something new; blue, old, and borrowed.

The brides mother wore an aqua blue gabardine dress with black accessories and a corsage of ye how rosebuds. The bridegroom's mother wore a creme brown gabardine dress with matching accessories and a corsage of red rosebuds.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the home of Carl Deckman. The table was laid with a lace cloth and it held a three-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bridal couple.

Miss Jeanne Smith was in charge of the bride's book.

After the bride and bridegroom cut the cake Mrs. Deckman served it. Mrs. O. G. Smith and Mrs. Chester Williams presided at the coffee service.

Mr. and Mrs. King are at home at 903 E. Francis.

The bride attended high school here and was recently employed at Modern Market No. 2.

The bridegroom attended school in Pampa. He also attended Georgia Tech, and West Texas State Teachers College. He is now in business with his father in a magneto rengir shop in Pampa.

Out of town guests for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Guy Maddox ard Loretta, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Maddox, Mona Venable and Winona Hall, all of Borger, and Mrs. Tom Barthomeu of Amarillo.

About fifty guests attended the reception.

GRAVITATIONAL ODDITY

The planet Mars has two small moons, each only a few miles in diameter. The gravitational pull on these small bodies is so slight that a baseball player, living there could throw a baseball around the entire globe and catch it as it returned.

Expecting a Baby?

Mother's Friend massaging preparation helps bring ease and comfort to expectant mothers.

MOTHER'S FRIEND, an exquisitely prepared emollient, is useful in all conditions where a bland, mild anodyne massage medium in skin lubrication is desired. One condition in which women for more than 70 years have used it is an application for massaging the body during pregnancy...it helps keep the skin soft and pliable...thus avoiding unnecessary discomfort due to dryness and tightness. It refreshes and tones the skin. An ideal massage application for the numb, tingling or burning sensations of the skin...for the tired back muscles or cramp-like pains in the legs. Quickly absorbed. Delightful to use. Highly praised by users, many doctors and nurses. Millions of bottles sold. Just ask any druggist for Mother's Friend—the skin emollient and lubricant. Do try it.

Story of Fly in Oklahoma Pool Room Wins Texan Liar's Crown

BURLINGTON, Wis. (AP)— A stratospheric story about the demise of a fly in an Oklahoma pool room, Tuesday won for a Texan the title of World's Champion Liar, annually bestowed by the Burlington Liars' Club.

John Hopley, of San Antonio, Texas, told the harrowing story about the last minutes of the fly. It happened in Dude McCook's Pool Room at Enid, Okla., as Hopley and his friend, Charley Skorpea were playing for the championship of Boggy Creek Bottoms, according to Hopley. With Skorpea about to shoot, a fly landed atop the eight ball and Charley said "I'm going to kill that fly."

"Time stood still," Hopley related, "while the boys booked bets on whether he would or not. The fly also stood pat. Everybody in the house expected Charley to loft the cue ball so it would light on top of the insect and exterminate it.

"When they got all their bets made, Charley chalked his cue—a 47-ounce, solid oak Brunswick—and knocked the eight ball out from under that fly so fast that it fell on the table and broke its back." Hopley, who receives his mail at the Southern Pacific's East Yard in San Antonio, was declared the winner in a close four-way finish. He succeeds to the champion liar title now held by Atanagio Garza, also of San Antonio, who won last year with a tale about a fish that fought so hard it worked up a sweat.

Noting that never before had the Burlington Liars Club ever picked two champions from the same town, Liars' President O. C. Hulett said he was "beginning to believe those stories the Texans tell about Texas."

Other finalists included:

C. E. Woodruff, Napa, Calif., who told of cutting a huge pine through in Michigan about 1900. The tree wouldn't fall, so Woodruff gave up. Last year, back in Michigan, Woodruff found the pine still was standing, but the stump had rotted away.

O. M. Hagen, Fairmont, Minn., who related how a deer walked safely past a stand of hunters because it bore a sign advising nimrods: "Don't shoot. I have enough points for a discharge." The deer, Hagen pointed out, was a buck private.

And Bill Powell of the Fairmont, W. Va., Elks Club, who advised that Booth Creek, a 20-foot wide stream near his home, is filled with bass and sunfish so large that they cannot turn around in the creek. They are forced to go to an old over-shot waterwheel, used to run a mill, where they go around the wheel and change directions.

Naming of Running Mate Private Affair

A news story the other day predicted that President Truman would let the Republicans choose their presidential candidate before picking his running mate on the Democratic ticket. The story might have added that Mr. Truman would also wait until the chosen Republican selected his running mate, with the help of political advisers.

There is nothing new or startling in this piece of news. It is concerned with a traditional rite of American politics that is performed every four years. The participants change, but the ritual remains unaltered.

The naming of a candidate for vice president climaxes this rite, but it gets scant attention at the time. It is hurried through as an anti-climax to the usually exciting business of selecting the top man on the ticket. Not only do the people have nothing to say about this choice; even the convention delegates are virtually voiceless in the matter.

This does not mean that capable men have not been chosen by this method. It does not mean that they are incapable of being elected in their own right. Theodore Roosevelt managed to be, and so did Calvin Coolidge. Mr. Truman may make it three. But however able an elected President's successor may be, the manner of selecting him is a contradiction of democratic government.

Of the 26 men who have been chosen President by popular election, seven have died in office. One would think that this is a high enough percentage to persuade politicians that their candidate is mortal. Yet the possible occupant of the White House is chosen privately by a small group, or sometimes by an individual. And, as a rule, the reasons for the choice have little to do with presidential qualifications.

The choice of vice president must not come from the same section of the country as the party choice for President. If he comes from the same general neighborhood as the opposition's presidential candidate, that is supposed to be so much the better. It is all right for him to be wealthy, if he didn't get his wealth in a politically embarrassing manner. He is supposed to be well liked in his home state, and to wield some political influence. Usually a governor, a congressman o ra successful businessman will fill the bill.

All this reasoning may be sound, but it seems to be directed at state political organizations rather than at the voters. For the voter must take the politicians' choice for vice president. And we feel certain in saying that the number of votes influenced one way or the other by this second-place choice is considerably smaller than the number of votes the Prohibition Party's candidate for President will poll next November.

Such indifference makes it seem that the voters are as much to blame as the politicians in the matter. But, under the circumstances, the lack of interest can be understood. They are offered a candidate for a high-sounding job whose routine duties could be filled by any intelligent government clerk with a knowledge of parliamentary procedure. The fact that this candidate might some day be President is carefully soft-pedaled by both parties.

It has been suggested that there should be preferential primaries in all states once in four years which presidential hopefuls would have to enter. The idea is worth considering. And it would be even better if the second-place aspirants were required to do the same. The results might not be so different, but at least the ideal of popular government would be more of a reality.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG
news behind the news

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — A definite anti-Eisenhower movement has developed among Republican politicians as they note that the retiring chief of staff and future head of Columbia University stands near the top of the list in all public and private polls of possible presidential candidates to oppose Harry Truman.

Despite the high regard in which the Kansan is held by the American people, the professional polls do not intend to let him crash their gate if they can prevent it.

It was no accident that an anti-Eisenhower man gave out a twisted version of his discussion of remedies for the high cost of living at the recent dinner party of Pennsylvania bigwigs at the Capital.

DRAFT

The remark falsely attributed to Gen. Eisenhower — namely, that a 100 percent excess profits tax should be imposed if manufacturers refuse to reduce prices — has hurt him in many quarters, if he entertains any political aspirations.

He cannot answer it while he is in uniform, and if he refutes it when he quits the Army, as friends have advised him to do, he will, in effect, be announcing that he is an active candidate for the nomination.

And as his political assistants have also pointed out, any formal or informal, direct or indirect suggestion that he is a candidate, would do him harm. His best strategy, in their opinion, is to look the other way, to be non-receptive and to make it appear that, like F. D. R. in 1940 and 1944 he is submitting to a peace-time draft.

AMBITIOUS

An awful lot of bosh has been written about the Eisenhower candidacy, and it is time to debunk it, to wit:

First, he is a Republican in thought, if not in registration and voting. Altho F. D. R. was his commander-in-chief, he had a great distaste for Mr. Roosevelt's domestic policies. He has said, privately, that he thought they undermined the American qualities of independence and self-reliance.

Secondly, he would like the nomination if he can win it without seeming to scheme for it. According to fellow-officers, he is running so fast and so hard for it that his "coat-tails are streaming in the wind."

Despite his seeming sweetness and naivete, he is regarded as one of the most ambitious men in the military family.

ACCEPT

In their present mood, the Republican bosses will accept Gen. Eisenhower only if they conclude, six months from now, that no other man can defeat President Truman. Any sign of strength on the latter's part between now and the June convention at Philadelphia will be a gain for the military man.

The GOP's most recent analysis of public sentiment leads them to believe that their orthodox and ordained leaders — Sen. Robert A. Taft, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, Harold E. Stassen and Gov. Earl Warren of California — would not, as of the moment, have more than a fair chance of victory.

This estimate may, of course, undergo revision between now and nominating time because of January-June developments and imponderables.

POSSIBILITY

If Mr. Truman's stock slumps badly in the first half of the New Year, due to rising prices at home and difficulties abroad, look for a Dewey or Taft nomination, with Mr. Stassen as a possibility for the second spot. Or perhaps Governor Warren, if he will take it as a stepping-stone to the Supreme Court.

A Henry Wallace candidacy on a third ticket, if he can get on the ballot in such key states as New York, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Ohio and California, and if he seems to be a ballot-box threat, would take Gen. Eisenhower out of the picture entirely.

In that event, the GOP would probably name Sen. Taft., or the slate-makers might settle on Gov. Dewey, with New York's 47 electoral votes in mind.

SPECTACULAR

The end of a spectacular era has passed with the formal but unpublicized departure of Jesse Holman Jones from the Capital. The man who, as head of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, saw the United States thru a major depression and a global war, has washed his hands of Washington.

When he was kicked out of the Cabinet by F. D. R. to make a place for the obedient and subservient Henry A. Wallace, Mr. Jones stuck around. Despite heavy interests in Houston, New York and way places, he engaged a suite at a downtown hotel, and kept his finger in the politico-financial pot.

He engaged a brilliant newspaperman, Norman Baxter, as Washington correspondent for his Houston newspaper, and thru Norman, Mr. Jones kept his cold, blue eyes on things.

MEMOIRS

However, like Bernard M. Baruch, Cordell Hull, James A. Farley, James F. Byrnes and many others who served the nation thru trying days, Mr. Jones never became a Harry Truman aide or consultant. These "elder statesmen" have been supplanted by the "Missouri crowd." Mr. Jones recently quit his Washington watch tower.

The "lost battalion" of Democrats are now writing their memoirs, which means that, no longer holding office, they can afford to tell tales out of school. But some ghost writer and publishing house are missing a bet in not asking Messrs. Baruch and Jones to take their hair down — both still have plenty — and write their autobiographies."

Gracie Reports

By GRACIE ALLEN

I see where a young man in Phoenix, Ariz., walked into a police station and asked to be arrested because he was always going around getting married. I didn't understand whether he gave himself up to protect other girls from being taken in by him, or to protect himself from the ones he's already taken in.

George says that bigamy is the one crime that carries its own punishment. If you marry seven women, you have seven unmade-up faces to look at in the morning. Seven hat bills to pay where one would be plenty and seven different alibis to think up after an all-night poker party.

I think lots of women are bigamists at heart because they want a wealthy man, a handsome man and a great lover, and these seldom come joined together. There are very few women as lucky as me, who found a man with all those fine qualities lumped into one. Believe me, there's never been another lump like George.

Common Ground

By R. C. HOILES

Am I Afraid of Freedom?

A correspondent accuses me of being afraid of freedom. He contends that I do not go far enough in advocating freedom. Most people accuse me of being impractical in advocating as much freedom as I do. Listen to what he writes me:

"And even you — an anti-statist — are afraid to advocate the abolition of all taxation, but are figuring out the difference between taxes on production and taxes on consumption. What in hell difference is there? All taxes discourage production and therefore limit consumption. All taxes feed the state. So, when you advocate any kind of taxation you are in effect advocating statism. You, too, are afraid of freedom."

Those who have been reading this column will note that I have repeatedly advocated the government being limited in its operation to the consent of the governed. That, of course, would mean that men should not pay taxes for any governmental service that they had not voluntarily agreed to pay for. It is on the same principle that the man who doesn't use the roads with an automobile doesn't have to pay gas taxes to support the roads. We of course let men walk on them and let horse driven vehicles on them for the simple reason that it would be more expensive to try to collect that tax than it would be for these individuals to use the roads without tax.

Just so any other government service ought to be separated so those people who didn't want to pay and didn't want to use the service didn't have to pay. A man who has a vacant lot and keeps it in such shape that there is no danger of fire spreading from his lot to another property shouldn't have to pay taxes to support a fire department. A man who believes that compulsory state education does more harm than if does good shouldn't be compelled to pay taxes to support compulsory state education. To compel him to do so is socialism. It is a form of communism; it is a form of statism. It is a denial of the principles set forth in the Declaration of Independence. It repudiates the theory that governments derive their just powers from the consent of the governed.

Men have a right to enter into contracts and voluntarily pay so I am unable to see how anyone that only believes in voluntary taxes by agreement is advocating statism. Nor can I see how I am afraid of freedom because I am willing to pay taxes to have the government do certain things and I am willing to let other people who want to also pay taxes to the government to have the services they want rendered provided I or they neither one compel anyone to pay taxes for any service a man doesn't want.

So I am still going to believe that I am not afraid of freedom until somebody points out how voluntary acts interfere with freedom. And I mean by freedom, Rose Wilder Lane's definition- "Self control, no more no less." This doesn't give a man a right to rob or lie or to get anything on any basis other than a voluntary basis. It doesn't give anybody the right to initiate force. It only gives a man or the state the right to use force to prevent someone from taking something from him without his consent.

So They Say

Ours is a moral position. We are in for a long drawn-out political and economic war.
—Gen. Lucius D. Clay, commander, U. S. forces in Germany.

These days a statesman has to be an optimist—or go mad.
—Count Sforza, Italian foreign minister.

War veterans and other home hunters would be better off living in a tar shack for a year or two instead of paying $11,000 for a house that should cost $5000.
—Edward E. Brown, president, Federal Reserve Board's Advisory Council.

Atomic weapons or no atomic weapons, you cannot win another war without men, and we are deluding ourselves if we think we can.
—Secretary of the Army Royall.

We are all living in hope that it will not be necessary to have strikes.

ON CHECKING INFLATION ..... by Upton Close

Congress can do a few things when it meets next week that would substantially check inflation.

It can pressure the President to get rid of hundreds of thousands of payroliers not needed in our top heavy bureaus. The pressure would have to be strong, but 1948 is an election year and the President could be persuaded if the publicity threatened to cost him more votes than he would lose among the dischargees.

Industry needs labor. Of the 2,000,000 people holding federal jobs, about 700,000 could be spared. These men and women, now a dead loss, should be able to produce perhaps $3 billion or $4 billion worth of wealth in the year 1948. The difference would tend to ease inflationary tension.

Congress can turn thumbs down on the Marshall Plan. This would stop the speculative rise of prices caused by the near-certainty that the plan will be enacted. The effect on the whole economy would be immediate.

While Internationalists are talking glibly about $17 billion more to raise Europe's living standards and thus combat communism, our Latin American neighbors, for the most part, are on a standard about one-fifth as high as that of post-war Europe. And Communist agents are inciting them to riots because we talk of giving scarce goods to Europe instead of letting Latin Americans buy these goods.

Are we going to combat communism with free Marshall Plan exports, or are we only going to bring more communism, more hatred to the Western Hemisphere?

Smash Labor Monopolies

Congress can require the chief executive to clamp down on exports. We shipped out of the country approximately $20 billion worth of U. S. goods in 1947. The world needs all this and more. But the world cannot expect to get it year after year forever. Europe will have to produce for itself.

And the more we try to help Europe the more surely will Communists try to keep the bottom knocked out of the barrel. We can never fill it up.

Exports to Soviet Russia long ago should have been stopped, while a billion or two could be lopped off our annual exports to Europe.

Congress probably could find ways to force the attorney general to take action to break up the monopolistic practices in the building trades. Recent investigations by a Congressional committee have born out my own findings, often reported in this column, that building trades unions and their deals with contractors and material suppliers are responsible for much of the high cost of construction.

Plumbers, bricklayers and other craftsmen in some areas are doing half a day's work, or less, for a full day's pay. If one of them turned in a full day's work he would be warned. If he persisted he would be out of a job.

Building labor now runs well over half the cost of a house. Squeeze the featherbedding out of it and the cost of housing would drop suddenly and inflation would suffer a blow—to say nothing of the sudden speed up in home construction.

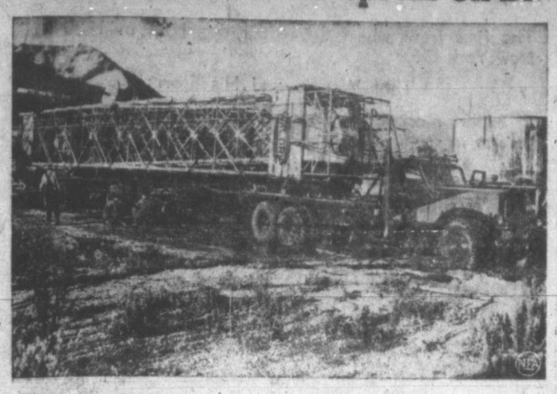

All these measures are very real possibilities. Unlike rationing and price controls, they would strike at the causes of inflation: speculation, under-production, monopolistic practices. The President could act on all of them, but he will not without strong pressure.

New Mobile Derrick Speeds Oil Drilling

This 8x8x63-foot unit, when unfolded, becomes . . .

. . . a 123-foot oil derrick, and on short notice . . .

. . . it's ready for action.

A new collapsible oil driller, constructed by Shell Oil Co. in Ventura, Calif., can be converted from a compact unit on a standard road trailer to a twin-mast derrick on short notice. When completed it stands 123 feet high, equivalent to a 12-story building, and is ready for immediate operation. Company officials expect its mobility to save time and check rising drilling costs. Pictures above show how the 18-ton mobile oil rig works.

Oil News

THE DRILLER'S LOG

By KEN BENNETT

A news release from the Independent Petroleum Association of America gives some noteworthy facts that warrant consideration The main topic stems from a survey of the shortage of steel in the industry. . .Here are just a few of the facts presented in the survey: In order to obtain steel it was frequently necessary to prematurely abandon wells of small production. This resulted in the loss of many thousands of barrels of producible reserves . . .There is a need for 1,450,000 tons of casing for 1948 if normal drilling is to be carried out. . . at a very minimum operators will need 1,245,000 tons of casing to meet the needs of the industry . . Eleven tons of steel are needed for every 1000 feet of hole drilled . . .The Association feels this survey is an important step in planning further development and will serve as a basis for planning industry activity in the future. . .

Charlie Alford, who knows the pipe-line business from A to Z has passed along this bit of information regarding the building of a big inch line to connect the Panhandle fields with the Denver, Colorado, area for the purpose of supplying natural gas. Charlie says the line is now complete from Sunray to La Juanta, Colorado. When completed this line will extend from Borger to Denver and will serve as a very important step in conserving coal in that area.

My thanks to Charlie Alford for the following also. . .We are advised by the Railroad Commission, effective January 1, 1948 and pursuant to an order dated at Austin December 15, 1947, the following counties, respective to the Oil and Gas Divishion and proration matters are transferred from District 10 to District 8: Bailey, Lamb, Hale, Motley, King and Floyd. . .It is our understanding a suboffice will be opened in Lubbock, Texas, which location an engineer and assistant will handle technical matters pertaining to the Oil and Gas Division of the seven counties mentioned above. The Pampa Office of the Commission will no longer handle oil and gas regulations after January 1 as the Midland Office will take over such responsibilities.

On the Whittenburg properties and Dial-Perkins Ranch Harry Stekoll and the Gulf Oil Corporation entered into a joint agreement to water-flood approximately 260 wells (115 owned by Stekoll and the balance by Gulf). Already several injection wells have been completed and in operation, and an unlimited number of injection wells will be drilled. no tangible results as yet have been noticed; however, upward of 500 barrels of water is being injected into the oil formation daily, and it is our understanding it possibly would be a year before favorable results will be in evidence, In this connection we are advised some of the offset producers notified Stekoll and the Gulf should their production be injured by the installation of this project, then Mr. Stekoll and the Gulf would be subject to lawsuits. Such notices, however, did not seem to stop the installation of this project.

At Tulsa, Oklahoma, the Stanolind Oil and Gas Company announced December 30 that plans have been completed to construct an 80 million dollar gasoline and chemical plant, possibly at Garden City, Kansas, construction to start soon. Gas for this project will be furnished from the Hugoton Field, which is considered a part of the Panhandle gas area, and the plant to produce liquid fuels as well as chemicals. Mr. E. F. Bullard, president of the Stanolind, stated an aggregate ,000 people will be employed in the construction of this plant and completion is expected by January, 1950. It is also expected one hundred million cubic feet of natural gas will be processed daily with finished products estimated at 7 to 8,000 barrels of gasoline daily, and an aggregate one hundred thousand pounds of chemicals yearly anticipated. The finished chemicals are to be alcohols, organic acids, aldehydes and other oxygenated chemical compounds.

Just a few notes. . .John Rhea, petroleum engineer for Humble, has just returned from a short vacation in Roswell, N. M. . . D. C. Riegel, Humble mechanic, was taken to a local hospital with pneumonia. . .Irma Crall, Cabot employe, spent the Christmas vacation in Wyoming visiting relative and friends. . .Reno Stinson is in Ville Platte, La., on company business. . .Hugh Burdette has been confined to his home with a cold and an attack of flu. . .That smile on Jimmy McCune's face has broadened since his son came home for a visit over the holidays. Dick is doing fine work with his music at West Texas. . .Johnny Chisholm, Texas Company scout, who has been in Abiline, Wichita Falls, and other Texas spots for the past several weeks returned to Pampa Friday. . .J. W. Swygart, Shell superintendent, attended a district superintendent meeting in Wichita Falls on Monday and Tuesday of this past week. . . Out in the Cities Service family D. Russell is on the sick list. Seems as if the flu caught up with a number of people over the holidays. . .Mrs. L. E. Cool flew to New Orleans to be with her sister who is ill. . . Lt. and Mrs. W. L. Cramer, Jr., have been visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Hutchinson. Mrs. Cramer is the niece of Mrs. Hutchinson and the daughter of Major and Mrs. Spies, who have been stationed in Germany for several months. Mrs. Spies is Mrs. Hutchinson's sister. Lt. and Mrs. Cramer have just returned from Germany, also.

Nine Completions Reported in Area

Nine new oil wells were completed in this area during the past week, according to a report from the local Oil and Gas Office of the Railroad Commission.

Five of these completions were reported from Hutchinson County, three from Hale County, and one from Gray County.

Two new gas completions were also reported.

Hutchinson County

J. M. Huber Corporation, No. 2, Perky, located 1320 feet from S and 1320 feet from E lines of DuBois Survey, tested 175 barrels of oil in a 24 hour test. Top of pay 3100 feet. Total depth 3105 feet.

Magnolia Petroleum Company, No. 1, Sallie Pritchard "A," located 330 feet from S and E lines of J. T. Williams No. 2, Survey, Block G.M.C. tested 83 barrels of oil in a 24 hour test. Top of pay 3257 feet. Total depth 3293 feet.

Phillips Petroleum Company, No. 84, J. A. Whittenburg, located 3630 feet from S and 990 feet from W lines of Section 61, Block 46, H and TC Survey, tested 314 barrels of oil in a 24 hour test. Top of pay 2730 feet. Total depth 2740 feet.

About 95 Percent '47 Cotton Crop Gathered, Ginned

SHAMROCK —(Special)— With only 473 bales of cotton handled by the four gins at Shamrock and Twitty during the past four weeks, ginners estimate that between 90 and 95 percent of the 1947 crop is in.

Ginners reported Monday morning that they had received 4,672 bales. Four weeks ago they had ginned 4,139 bales, indicating an increase of only 473 bales during the month.

Much of the cotton is being gathered by sleds now. Much of it is immature and the grade is low. Price runs from 20 to 28 cents per pound.

The entire crop will be in within the next two weeks if the weather continues dry, the ginners believe.

The Traders Compress has handled 12,500 bales of the 1947 crop, approximately 5,000 bales more than last year, John Woolly, manager, reported.

Up to December 1, Wheeler County had ginned 6,313 bales of cotton as compared with 4,917 bales up to the same date in 1946.

The production in this area has been much higher than last year as shown by the following figures released by the Department of Commerce, Bureau of the Census, Washington, D. C.:

Childress—1947, 17,933; 1946, 5,315.
Collingsworth—24,840, 12,117.
Cottle—18,781, 6,297.
Hall—35,281, 17,269.
Wheeler—6,313, 4,917.

MURDER AT MY HOUSE

By Rene Ryerson Mart — Copyright by NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: It all started after I had been in Hollywood three months, writing the movie script for one of my own mystery books—and letting Jeff Haverson help me get over Oscar Craig. Jeff was director of my picture and a very attractive man. It was a shock to learn that he had been married for some time to Avis Vaughn, our glamour star, and that she refused to divorce him. Jeff wanted Madge Narney, who looked like Avis, to play her sister in the film, but the star insisted on doing both roles herself. Liz Leyden, my unpleasant collaborator, suggested a small party at my place that evening when he would try to talk Avis into changing her mind. On the way home, I stopped at Ravella's shop to pick up the special lipstick she had made for me. Ravella had also made one for Avis and asked if I would mind giving it to her. Liz was the first guest to arrive for my party that evening.

"ALL right," I said sullenly. I didn't like the idea of playing up to Avis, but I knew how Jeff's heart was set on getting rid of that double role business. "It might work. I'll call Avis, now, and invite her . . ."

Liz shook his head. "Leave that to me. I'll have her there this evening."

That was the way we planned it.

It was when I was crossing Hollywood Boulevard on my way home that I remembered the lipstick Ravella was to have ready for me. I looked at the address on the card she had given me. It was only a short distance away, so I turned down the boulevard and drove until I came to it.

It happened to be closing time and Ravella was locking the front door of the shop when I came up to it. She recognized me, which was almost more than I did for her. She had changed into a dark street suit and her hair was simply done under a plain but smart little hat.

"Ah—Miss Donn."

Yes. I stopped to get my lipstick. I'm afraid I'm a little late."

She held the door open for me to enter. "That's all right. It will only take a moment to get it for you."

We were alone in the shop. She left me waiting at the counter and disappeared through a door at the rear of the shop and came back in a moment with a tray holding a number of lipstick molds, each one bearing a small paper tag.

She looked them over, picked one out. "Now what kind of a case do you want, Miss Donn?" She indicated the lipstick cases on display under the glass top of the counter. My eyesight is very good and I read the price tags plainly. I chose a plain gold one.

"I HEAR they're making changes in the casting of your play," she said conversationally.

The studio grapevine certainly worked fast, I thought. Evidently everyone connected with the studio knew what had happened that afternoon.

"Mr. Haverson wants to," I admitted.

Ravella's bright eyes flicked over my face. "Wants to—you mean, it isn't finally decided then. I understood . . ."

If this was going to be repeated she might as well have the straight of it. "Avis Vaughn is kicking up a row about it," I explained. "Naturally she doesn't want to give up the double role. All the big stars have been doing double roles lately, Bette Davis, Olivia de Havilland. And that's just the reason Haverson doesn't want it. He thinks it has been overdone and that the public is tired of the trick."

"Oh . . ."

"We're having a little conference at my house tonight, Avis and Art and Mr. Haverson and Liz Leyden. We're going to try and work out a compromise. Leyden thinks we can."

"You mean get Mr. Haverson to give up the idea of changing the cast—and having someone else play the part of the sister?" Ravella's face was bent as she fitted the molded lipstick into the case I had selected.

There it was again. Everyone so sure that Avis would get her way. "No," I said shortly. "I doubt if he'll change his mind about that. He's been wanting another actress for the part of the sister from the beginning, and now that he's found one perfect for the part, I don't think he's going to change his mind. We're going to have to convince Avis Vaughn that the part of the sister isn't worth bickering about. It's unimportant really."

"Is—it?"

"Definitely."

RAVELLA had finished inserting the lipstick into the case. She wrapped it now and handed it to me and I paid her for it. Then as I turned to go she halted me. "Wait just a minute—would you do a favor for me?"

"What is it?"

"I have lipstick here for Miss Vaughn. She always wants a new one when she starts a picture. Thinks it brings her luck." She laughed lightly. "I suppose she is blaming me for all today's trouble—because I was to have had it ready for her yesterday and didn't. It would save me a trip out to her apartment if you'd give it to her. Tonight, I mean."

"Of course I will."

She took a small package out of her purse and gave it to me and thanked me.

It was 6 o'clock when I reached home. Without bothering to change I went down to the kitchen and whipped up an egg omelet and made a pot of coffee. I ate and took a hot bath and went to bed, hoping to catch a little shut-eye before my guests arrived. I felt I had an arduous evening ahead.

I woke up at 8 and it didn't take me long to dress. That's the only advantage of not being beautiful—you don't spend much time glamorizing your face.

I was in the living room checking to see that there was plenty of ice in the freezing unit of the bar when the door bell rang.

It was Liz Leyden.

Since it was my house, I tried to be cordial. I said, "Hello," and "Come on in," and led him down the shallow steps into the living room.

Liz was the first guest to arrive for my party that evening.

XI

LIZ seemed to feel that the occasion called for a truce in hostilities and some slight homage to the social amenities. "Nice place you've got here," he observed in his thin voice. He walked over to the big studio window that gives a panoramic view of Hollywood below and took a look.

"It belongs to Henry Osgood—furniture and all. I'm just subleasing it."

"Yes, I know. I used to be up here a lot before Henry went in the army. He and I worked together."

I offered him a cigaret and asked him if he'd like to mix the drinks. "I'm not too good at that sort of thing."

He said, "Sure."

When I started to show him the alcove with its bar he brushed me aside, "I know all about that little gadget." Of course, he would, if he had been around with Henry.

The door bell chimed again and I went to answer it and this time it was Avis Vaughn and Art Cleves.

I sent Art into the living room to join Liz and led Avis back to my guest room.

She sat down at the dressing table and began to touch up her face, although there wasn't a thing wrong with it that I could see. And that reminded me.

"Oh . . . Ravella gave me a lipstick to give to you. I stopped at her shop this evening to get one she had made for me and happened to mention that you were going to be here."

I went into my room and got the package.

"It's about time," Avis snapped. "If I'd had this today things wouldn't have happened."

Superstition thy name is Hollywood, I thought flippantly—Ravella had said the star would blame her for the day's misfortunes.

AVIS unwrapped the package and looked at the lipstick and dropped it carelessly into her bag, leaving the wrappings on the dressing table.

Liz and Art were one drink up on us when we joined them in the living room. Liz mixed highballs for us and we sipped them before we did much talking. It was Liz who finally took the floor. He began to tell about the changes we were going to make in the script to build up the part of the wife. Avis objected once or twice, but Liz smoothed over her objections and began to paint a glowing picture of what a starring role this would be when we finished with it. I began to wonder what was going to be left for Madge Narney.

I was burning anyway. The way Liz talked one would have thought that I had nothing to say about the script—nothing at all. Just a mere onlooker at this little confab. And then suddenly when Avis wasn't looking at him, he winked at me.

I decided then to keep my mouth shut for the time being, anyway. He was buttering the bait for Avis. And she swallowed it. It wasn't long until he had her believing that to play the part of the sister as well as that of the wife would really detract from her big role.

Then I suggested giving Jeff a ring and having him join us, "Since everything is settled."

Avis bridled at this for a moment. But she gave in.

While we waited for Jeff I went down to the kitchen and made some coffee and fixed up a tray with some crackers and sliced cheese and stuffed olives. It was the best I could do on the spur of the moment.

IT was just after I reached the kitchen that the lights of a car flashed along the drive outside the kitchen windows and in their glare I could see the flower bed where my poor cat had died the night before. Then the lights went off. I thought it was Jeff arriving and went on with my preparations for a snack.

Liz Leyden came down and helped me carry the tray and the coffee up to the living room.

Avis and Art were sitting on the davenport when we went up. Sitting close together. Art had his arm around Avis and her hair was all mussed. "Where's Jeff?" I asked looking around the room.

"He hasn't " Avis began.

But just then the doorbell rang and it was Jeff. Liz let him in. Jeff smiled at me and said "Hello" all around and took a second look at Avis, making some sarcastic crack about its evidently having been a rough party. Avis sat up and began to do things to her hair. So I didn't ask him until much later if it had been he who turned into the driveway 10 minutes before.

We sat around and munched crackers and cheese and drank the coffee—Avis wasn't having any, she demanded a whisky and soda instead—and broke the news to Jeff that Avis was willing to give up the sister part. He listened rather quietly for him; in fact, later when I thought about it I felt that he had been preoccupied all evening.

But that's the trouble with looking back on things. In the light of what happened in the the next two hours everything inevitably seemed different.

1—Card of Thanks

In My Father's House are many Mansions; If it were not so I would have told you. I go to prepare a place for you. And if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again, and receive you unto myself. —John 14:2,3.

AT LAST

When on my day of life the night is falling,
And, in the winds from unsunned spaces blown,
I hear far voices out of darkness calling
My feet to paths unknown.

Thou who hast made my home of life so pleasant,
Leave not its tenant when its walls decay;
O Love Divine, O Helper ever-present,
Be Thou my strength and stay!

J. O. LOCKE.

We wish to express our sincere appreciation to all those who so kindly assisted us at the time of our sorrow in the loss of our dear brother and uncle, who passed away Dec. 20th. For the words of sympathy, the lovely floral offerings and the comforting services of Rev. B. A. Norris we are indeed grateful. We also wish to acknowledge the thoughtfulness of those at the Parisian Beauty Salon. Mrs. Katherine Townsend
Lela Nicholson.

Ye shall be sorrowful, but your sorrow shal be turned into joy. John 16:20.
I cannot think of them as dead,
Who walk with me no more;
Along the path of life I tread—
They have but gone before.

The Father's House is mansioned fair,
Beyond my vision dim;
All souls are His, and Here or There
Are living unto Him.

And still their silent ministry
Within my heart hath place,
As when on earth they walked with me,
And met me face to face.

Their lives are made forever mine;
What they to me have been
Have left henceforth its seal and sign
Engraven deep within.

Mine are they by an ownership
Nor time nor death can free;
For God hath given to Love to keep
Its own eternally.

Philadelphia Is Getting Car Bargain

PHILADELPHIA —(AP)— The city of Philadelphia is going to get 258 new red patrol cars in exchange for the same number of old ones—and $10,062 to boot.

Mayor Bernard Samuel disclosed Friday that the city had accepted the offer of a dealer to replace the used police cars with new ones and pay a bonus of $39 in cash for each automobile traded in.

The dealer explained he would make his profit on the resale of the old cars.

Real Estate - - Dope - - Predictions - - Resolutions - -

I want to take this means of thanking all of you fine people for all the wonderful business that you have given me this past year - - - you know when I opened up this little office a little over a year ago I thought if I could just make a sale every now and then I'd be satisfied, but instead of that, I got off to a big start, and the further it went the bigger it got, until I can't hardly keep enough stuff on hand to sell - - - many - - - many - - - thanks for the business - - - I really appreciate it.

And now I don't know why I do this, but I always do - - - It's my New Years resolutions - - - the first thing I'm going to do is slow down a little - - - I'm driving myself to hard - - - sometimes I don't have time to take off for dinner - - - let alone a small fishing trip every once in a while - - - I intend to do more fishing - - - not that I like to fish, but I think it does anybody plenty of good just to get out and to relax.

I don't aim to complain so much this year, especially about my ailments - - - if there is anything that gets me, its to hear someone allways complaining about their ailments - - - I'll admit I'm not a well man, but still I'm not too sick - - - I'm not bed-fast, and I can still stand on both feet - - - the pills are doing me some good, but the hurtling is still in my back - - - I don't aim to go out to any more wrestling matches, and I don't aim to buy any more dollar chances on nothing - - - I wonder why I say this, but I'm going to do all in my power to break this habit, and that's getting up so early every morning - - - why I get up before daylight day in and day out, when you can't open up your office before 8 any way, I don't know - - - I guess it's my age - - - everybody ought to sleep until 6:30 every morning, especially in the winter time - - - I don't aim to accept any more young dogs as gifts - - - I don't want anything charged to me this year - - - I don't do any of it myself, but every month I get more and more statements from the different stores here in Pampa - - - It's going to stop I hope - - - I'm going back to the bath a week schedule, and that will be on Saturday night - - - I got along allright when I was down on the farm and I didn't think of taking a bath only on Saturday night - - - In fact I think my health was better then than it is now - - - So much for my resolutions.

Want the dope on the Jenkie Wildcat - - - this is the well out close to Hoover - - - It was drilled to a total depth of 12800 ft and struck granite, which was a good sign - - - they have three oil pays, but the best is at around 9000 - - - should produce around 500 barrels of high gravity when completed - - - this field won't develop overnight as some people think - - - may be two years in developing - - - pipe for wells of this depth is hard to find - - - the lease play is hot especially east of it on down to the deep wildcat close to Elk City Okla. - - - all the major's want in, and they are paying from a dollar to 5.00 per acre - - - this will help Pampa in a big way over the coming years - - - ten years from now Pampa will be a small city of over 50,000 people - - - you haven't seen any boom yet.

And now my opinion on the price of Real Estate for the coming year - - - I don't think houses will go any higher - - - I hope they don't - - - in fact I would like to see them go down about 10 per cent - - - as long as we have the shortage, along with the high building costs, I don't see how they can go down - - - I would like to build about 50 new houses myself, but the cost is prohibitive - - - as for land, I think it will continue to go up - - - as long as we are raising good crops, and getting a good price for them, land is too cheap at today's market value - - - I'm predicting that I will have a bigger year this year than I did last year, and I sold a world of stuff for one man.

Now to pay for this little ad, and I've got some bargains - - - I traded for a three room house and it's a good one - - -it's modern - - - has a big garage with concrete floors - - - good cellar - - - fenced in back and front yard - - - I gave 2000 for it, and I want to make a hundred - - - will give good terms - - - so much down, and so much a month - - - this house won't last long at this price, as it is a bargain the way other property is selling - - - If you don't think so look at some, and then compare them with mine.

A 12x20 ft metal garage to be moved - - - this is a bargain for 125.00

A dandy 5 room and bath, garage, fenced in back yard. This is a good buy at 5500 - - - 1375 down, balance monthly, 6 per cent interest - - - This home is located at 436 N. Warren St.

One of the best old established business in Pampa - - - this business actually netted the owner 807.00 in November - - - the stock will invoice out around 12,000 - - - the lot and building is worth another 12,000 - - - will sacrifice this up and going busines for 15,000.00 and we wouldn't even consider selling if it wasn't for the owners health - - - he's got to get away from here.

I haven't sold the Terrace Grill as yet - - - we will give some good terms on this - - - there's a world of money to be made in this business for someone, but it's for sale, and we want to sell it right now - - - everything goes - - -

A good four room and bath on Garland Street for 6750.00 - - - take 1350 to handle this one.

A dandy three bedroom home in the West Part - - - good garage - - - fenced in back yard - - - this home has been well taken care of - - - We will sell this home for 8500.00, or we would consider some trade, say a smaller house.

Need any Registered Bird Dog pups - - - have seven that are 2½ months old - - - and the sire of these puppies are out of Old Tacks Grand Champion dog - - - these pups have a pedigree that won't stop - - - If you want one of these fine bird dogs get in touch with the owner Mr. Leverich at 1217 N. Russell.

And now just one more word before I stop - - - if you want to buy anything from me, try and buy it before the 15th of this month - - - I've done just like you on this income tax business - - - I've run out of money - - - I haven't talked to my Banker yet but somebody's going to have to loan me some money - - - I was doing allright until I talked to Fred Cary - - - he says I can't take my grocery bill off.

When you read this go to Church - - - You'll feel bette the rest of the day.

Child Is Slightly Injured in Fall

SHAMROCK —(Special) Jerry Moore, seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer J. Moore, miraculously escaped serious injury Christmas afternoon when he fell out of his father's automobile as the family drove along Highway 83 en route to Anson to visit relatives.

The accident occurred about one and one-half miles this side o Paducah, when Jerry, in an attempt to roll down a window, erroneously opened a back door of the automobile and fell to th pavement on the driver's side of the vehicle.

Mr. Moore stated that he was driving about 50 miles per hour.

Jerry received emergency treatment in a Paducah hospital for cuts, bruises and scratches. Two of his permanent teeth were broken.

The Moores dispensed with their holiday plans and returned to Shamrock.

CAVE FORMATIONS

One of the many wonders of Arizona is Colossal Cave, 28 miles east of Tucson. The cave was formed by underground waters and contains formations resembling animals, buildings, and people.

Savings Highest In 131 Years of Banks' Service

NEW YORK — "Mutual savings bank deposits, approaching $18 billions at the beginning of the new year, are at the highest point in the 131 years of these institutions' service to the nation," said Earl B. Schwulst, president of the National Association of Mutual Savings Banks and executive vice-president, The Bowery Savings Bank, New York, in a year-end statement just released.

"These banks are now serving nearly 18 1-2 million depositors, a gain of more than 1 1-2 million accounts since VJ day. Despite the continued high cost of living and a great expansion in the output of consumer durable goods, savings bank depositors have increased their balances nearly $1 billion during 1947.

"The rate of growth of savings has declined from the abnormally high figures attained during the late war years and has resumed a more normal peace-time level. Even so, the volume of new savings during 1947 was in general higher than that of most pre-war years.

"Mortgage loans, traditional form of investment for savings banks, showed an increase, particularly during the latter half of the year. As in 1946, many potential borrowers were war veterans in search of housing and savings banks welcomed the opportunity of helping these veterans to acquire homes. At the same time, savings bankers recognized their responsibilities to advise veterans to avoid undertaking commitments which would burden them excessively in the future.

"As we begin the new year, the major problems of European rehabilitation and the effects of inflationary forces upon our national economy are still with us, but it is encouraging to note that these problems are now being squarely faced by our Congress. In the meantime, we as individual citizens can help in the fight against the forces of inflation by saving more and spending less. I am confident that the great majority of Americans will accept this challenge and through the practice of thrift and the exercise of restraint in spending will help to bring about a greater degree of economic stability and prosperity in the years ahead."

EXTENSION DIRECTOR

SHAMROCK -(Special)- W. C. Perkins, former superintendent of the Shamrock Public Schools, has been made director of the extension service of Sam Houston State Teachers College at Huntsville. Since leaving Shamrock, Perkins had served as deputy state superintendent of schools under Dr. L. A. Woods.
