

Kennedy Asks Big Cut In Duty-Free Souvenirs Of Tourists

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy today asked Congress to cut sharply the amount of foreign goods which American tourists can bring back to the United States without paying customs duties.

Kennedy proposed that the present $500 maximum be slashed to $100 in order to discourage tourists from buying costly souvenirs with dollars which foreigners could use to purchase American goods.

This was the most dramatic recommendation made by Kennedy in a 4,500-word special message on the gold problem which Kennedy said "justifies concern but not panic or alarm."

While the President had been expected to make a request of this sort, some were surprised by the extent of the proposed cut in the customs exemption.

The move was certain to cause concern in some countries, particularly Canada, which entertains more American tourists than any other nation but which normally doesn't buy U.S. gold.

Most other major proposals represented attempts to place new emphasis on policies adopted earlier by the Eisenhower administration. For example, Kennedy promised new efforts to expand exports, attract foreign tourists, limit military spending abroad and channel foreign-aid dollars to American businesses.

One new idea: that Congress permit banks to pay foreign governments and central banks a higher rate of interest than Americans receive on savings accounts. The maximum rate now is three per cent.

Kennedy said action along this line "would enable American banks to make a maximum competitive effort to attract and hold dollar balances which might otherwise be converted into gold."

The effect could be significant since the foreign deposits involved total about $3 billion.

Kennedy also said the United States will seek an international review of the free world's monetary system, with the aim of ironing out some kinks. He hinted at possible tax law changes later to discourage some kinds of private American investment in Europe.

Kennedy said there is time to deal with the gold drain "calmly and deliberately" and declared it can be stemmed without erecting trade barriers or hamstringing military and foreign aid programs. He said the first requirement "is to take all possible steps to insure the effective performance of our own economic system."

He described the proposals outlined in his message as supplementary to that aim but said: "They are not for that reason any less important or less urgent." He promised vigorous action where he has power to act and urged "early consideration and approval" of those measures which are subject to the will of Congress.

The President noted that the gold dollar stems largely from the fact that foreigners collect more than this country collects from them — $3.8 billion more in 1960.

This represents the deficit in the U.S. balance of international payments and means foreigners are receiving extra dollars which they may use to buy U.S. gold.

Their gold purchases have exceeded $2 billion in the past six months and the U.S. bullion supply, at $17.4 billion, is at the lowest level since 1939.

"This loss of gold is naturally important to us," Kennedy said, "but it also concerns the whole free world. For we are the principal banker of the free world and any potential weakness in our dollar spells trouble, not only for us but also for our friends and allies who rely on the dollar to finance a substantial portion of their trade."

The President pledged anew that the price of gold will remain $35 an ounce and said all American gold will be available to meet foreign demand, even though $11.5 billion legally is set aside as backing for part of the domestic money supply.

Officials said Kennedy will not ask Congress to reduce or eliminate this gold reserve requirement. They said he will rely instead on the Federal Reserve Board's present authority to suspend the requirement if it sees fit.

These same officials said a Customs Bureau survey indicates that American tourists bring home each year $200 million to $300 million of foreign goods free of duty. Some of the goods would remain duty free under the $100 exemption Kennedy is proposing.

Duties vary on different items having the same price tags.

At present, the tourist who is gone 12 days can bring back $500 worth of goods without paying duty. The limit is $200 for those who are gone more than 48 hours but less than 12 days.

Soviets Mum On Mission Of Satellite

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union maintained an enigmatic and unusual silence today on the mission and fate of its massive new Sputnik Western tracking stations picked up no trace of the satellite.

A Soviet scientist, Prof. Yevgeny Leonovich Klinkov, hinted the seven-ton satellite, whose launching was announced Friday, was unmanned. He said it was designed to study the earth and its environment.

Moscow's official silence was in direct contrast to previous satellite launchings, when Soviet scientists routinely announced how equipment was functioning and the schedule of cities to be passed over.

Western experts speculated that either something went wrong with the new satellite or the Soviets were keeping some spectacular development a secret until its success was assured.

Western scientists especially noted the Soviets seemed in no hurry to answer speculation that the Sputnik might be carrying a man through space. The satellite is large enough to carry an astronaut—and perhaps two.

Italy's Communist party newspaper L'Unita reported in a Moscow dispatch that the Sputnik "almost certainly" was unmanned.

Britain's leading satellite-tracking expert, Prof. Bernard Lovell, director of the Jodrell Bank Tracking Station, said, "there is certainly something rather odd about the long Russian silence on this satellite's progress."

He suggested the Sputnik's radio may have broken down or the Soviets might be transmitting on frequencies not used before.

"It may be, of course, that there is some living thing on board—not necessarily a man—and the Russians are saying nothing until they get the satellite safely back to earth," he said.

"If the silence continues, I shall be inclined to believe that something went wrong shortly after the launching," Lovell said.

Japanese scientists said they picked up signals being transmitted today on frequencies normally used by Soviet satellites but said the signals seemed to be coming from a fixed station and not an orbiting object.

The Soviet press continued to give the Sputnik big propaganda treatment, reporting Soviet and foreign reaction to the launching. But no details of the satellite's progress were given.

Prof. Klinkov was quoted by Moscow radio as saying the satellite was designed "to study the earth as a planet and to make a study of its nearest environment, including that of meteoritic dangers," and was in a different category than earlier Soviet Sputniks that took dogs and other animals into space.

A Soviet physicist, Prof. V. Fedynsky, said the Sputnik was shot into an orbit that carried it 203.1 miles from the earth at its highest point and 138.5 at its lowest. He said it would circle the earth every 89 minutes and yield new data on top layers of the earth's atmosphere.

Heinz Kaminski, head of the observatory, said the signals consist of beeps on the 19.983 and 19.994 megacycle frequencies.

No signal had been picked up Saturday or Sunday after the Soviets announced orbiting a seven-ton Sputnik.

BOCHUM, Germany (AP) — Volksternwarte Observatory here reported today it has again picked up signals believed to originate from the Soviet satellite launched last Saturday.

Rebel Forces Are Ousted

POU KHOUN, Laos (AP)— Forces of the pro-Western Laotian government have ousted the last pro-Communist rebel forces from the Vientiane-Luang Prabang road, but enemy artillery is still within range of this strategic junction.

Opening of the vital junction 40 miles south of Luang Prabang began two days ago when separate government columns pushed in from south and north.

Rebel land mines and booby traps planted in the area caused a number of casualties.

The rebels — paratroopers under Capt. Kong Le and guerrillas of the pro-Communist Pathet Lao — were grouped near the junction on a side road that leads to the rebel-held Elaine des Jarres. The government columns now are supposed to head east in an advance on the plain.

A spokesman for Premier Bou Om's government had claimed capture of the road junction last Wednesday, but the calm was premature. A rebel radio broadcast said that the leftist forces repulsed the government units at Phou Khout the following day and sent survivors fleeing in panic.

Mouse Launching By Boys Delayed
TOPEKA, Kan. (AP) — The launching of an eight-foot rocket containing a live mouse was postponed Sunday because of bad weather.

Terry Babbs, 17, said he plans to ask the Federal Aviation Agency for permission to try again Feb. 12 or 19.

Four Seaman High School boys had permission to send the mouse 1,000 feet into the air in the homemade rocket if the cloud ceiling was at least 1,500 feet. It wasn't because of a snow storm.

The boys plan to return the mouse via parachute.

Legislature Faces A Staggering Load

By DAVE CHEAVENS
AUSTIN (AP)—The legislature started its fifth week today on a night-and-day schedule that could help it make up for lost time.

Committee members shouldered a staggering load of accumulated work on more than 300 bills stacked up since the session started Jan. 19.

The House did not finally organize until the start of the session's fourth week. This followed a bitter speakership contest between Reps. James Turman of Gower and Rep. Wade Spilman of McAllen.

Turman told the House he had no apologies for the delay in naming the committees where the session's most exacting work will be done in the next six to eight weeks.

Senate committees, especially the finance panel hearing departmental requests for money, have been on the job for two weeks.

In both houses, committee hearings began at 9 a.m. today.

The all-important question of where the money is coming from to retire the general fund deficit and pay for state services during the next two fiscal years went before the House Revenue and Taxation Committee for the first time in an afternoon session. It had three bills dealing with tax collections and reporting up for study.

The Key House State Affairs Committee scheduled at a 7:30 p.m. session on several measures dealing with state policy. One would create a 12-member commission to promote economy, efficiency and improved services in state government. This was HB 12 by Rep. R. H. Cory of Victoria.

A similar measure by Sen. William Patman of Galveston and others was up for study in the Senate State Affairs Committee. These measures would set up in Texas a study group similar to the Hoover Commission that took a hard look at federal operations.

Most West Texas Regions Engulfed By Swirling Snow

Swirling snow engulfed the Snyder area early today forcing county schools to close and slowing traffic to a crawl. About 2 inches had been dumped on Snyder by noon, with snow continuing to fall through the morning.

School officials of the Snyder, Hermleigh and Ira closed schools because of hazardous driving conditions. Fluvanna schools were open but buses did not run.

All residents were urged by the Snyder Police Department to observe extreme caution if travel was imperative, as city streets were icy and slick, especially on inclines and at intersections.

Highways leading out of Snyder were open but the highway department was warning all to move slowly, particularly toward the south where snowfall was heaviest. Roads to the north were reported comparatively free of ice in Garza county at mid-morning but heavy snow had begun to fall in Kent County.

Snyder apparently was near the north edge of a snow belt early this morning, but snowfall was reported moving northward.

Early this morning Highway Patrolmen said snow on the highways dwindled at Dermott, and little snow had fallen at Fluvanna. However, snow had covered the ground at Fluvanna before noon.

Some areas of the state had as much as 12 inches of snow over the weekend.

The storm which brought the snow moved slowly over the state, also bringing sleet and rain, and brewed a rare winter storm. Exposures took one life.

San Angelo and a number of rural schools in that area closed, following 8.5 inches of snow at Robert Lee, 30 miles northeast of that West Texas city, and 8 inches at West 25 miles to the west.

Two youths, feared lost on the North Bosque River, were found safe after they left the river and found refuge in a ranch.

Temperatures in the snow zone were low but not as bitter as some overnight figures reported was 18 at Amarillo, while the minimum was 44 at Brownsville.

Snow reached Eagle Pass on the Mexican border between Del Rio and Laredo Monday, the first snow in that area since November of 1957.

Most highways were open although some were treacherous. The highway patrol discouraged travel over U.S. 82 between Benjamin and Guthrie, in the Wichita Falls area, and described Highway 287 in the Henrietta and Bowie area as very treacherous because of 3.4 inches of snow.

A Panhandle cattleman died of exposure in 15-degree weather after his truck stalled in a snowbank. Three freight trains were derailed in the snow covered Panhandle.

Plains Rain-slick and ice-covered highways were factors in several highway deaths.

The tornado hit the Flour Bluff area near the coast Sunday morning but damage was light.

of violent thunderstorms moved across the southern part of the state.

Rains up to three inches sent small streams in Central and South Texas out of their banks. An intensive search was launched late Sunday for two Waco youths missing after they attempted to navigate the flood-swollen North Bosque River in a canoe canoe.

Snow continued falling early Monday as far south as Dallas, Junction, Abilene and Midland with rains reported in a number of other sections of the state. The forecast called for continued cold and scattered snow, sleet and rain Monday and Monday night.

The Highway Department warned motorists that traveling was extremely hazardous in the northern half of the state. May of violent thunderstorms moved across the southern part of the state.

bridges and overpasses were sand or salted.

The heaviest snow reported was at Higgins in the Northeast Texas Panhandle where 12 inches was measured. Four to 12 inches covered the Panhandle-Flaine area.

At Childress where an inch of ice and six inches of snow covered the ground Sunday, a heavy snow continued falling early Monday.

The exposure victim was Remus Elliott, 50, whose body was found Sunday near Dumas. Elliott had started out on foot for help after his truck became stuck in a snowbank Saturday night.

the storm the worst in at least 37 years.

Among the hardest hit communities was Cortland, N.Y., which measured 40 inches of snow, the heaviest in the city's history. Boston had 14.4 inches but the northern areas of New Hampshire, Vermont and Maine escaped the full fury as the storm moved out to sea.

The storm came on the heels of 16 consecutive days of sub-freezing temperatures but the mercury was expected to climb in the sunny 30s today.

The storm moving northeastward out of the south central portion of the country was expected to spread a layer of snow from eastern Oklahoma, Kansas and northeast Texas across southern Arkansas and into the Ohio Valley and Tennessee.

Prof's Bicycle Causes A Stir

By STAN KOVEN

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—For 27 years, in blizzard and heat, the professor pedaled serenely from home to campus — a dignified familiar figure along the 2 1/2-mile route.

Sometimes during the noon break in classes at Northwestern University he would hustle off on his lightweight bicycle to tend to family errands in the suburb's busy shopping district.

It was all very cozy and routine. Then the law stepped in. Overnight Professor Malcolm Dole and his bicycle became a cause celebre.

On three separate occasions, Professor Dole was confronted at an intersection of Sheridan Road by a young police officer.

The last time they met, on Jan. 29, it was badly for Professor Dole, a silver-haired member of the chemistry department faculty.

"This young officer radioed into the station for a paddy wagon," he related. "When they brought it around, they loaded the bicycle inside, and then me."

"Over at the station they placed me under guard in the squad room."

In short order, the professor was ticketed for a traffic violation — for having driven down streets closed exclusively for motor vehicles. He was ordered to appear at a hearing today in Evanston municipal court.

Resentful over what he considered high-handed treatment, the professor decided to fight the case.

"They treated me," he recalled, "like a child—even though I'm 57 years old and have been driving my bicycle to and from campus for 27 years."

Friends and champions of bicycle riding rushed to his defense.

"When I went to church the other day, they called me a hero," Dole told a reporter.

"A group from the astronomy department sent a representative to talk to me. He said they wanted to give me $3 toward my legal defense because I was fighting their fight."

Somewhat dismayed at the attention his case has received, the professor nevertheless insists on seeing it through. "My objection," he said, "is that the zoning ordinance places undue restrictions on a minority."

Eisenhowers Head West

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Dwight and Mamie Eisenhower put Pennsylvania's severe winter behind them and headed for California today.

The former president and his wife left this state capital by train for Palm Desert where they will stay at the exclusive El Dorado Golf Club, probably for two weeks.

"I am going out to get a little sunshine," a beaming Eisenhower said.

The party, which includes several members of the former president's staff, is due in California Wednesday morning. The vacation-bound travelers are riding in two private railroad cars, equipped with dining facilities, supplied by Ernest March, president of the Santa Fe Railroad.

The Eisenhowers boarded one of the cars early Sunday night and waited nearly nine hours before the coaches were hooked on to the Pennsylvania Railroad's Pennsylvania Limited for the first lap of the trip to Chicago.

In Chicago, the cars will be switched to a Santa Fe train for the trip to the West Coast.

Safecrackers Steal Industrial Diamonds

LONDON (AP) — Safecrackers stole industrial diamonds worth nearly half a million dollars from a firm of dealers in the financial center of the city today.

The theft was reported by the S. L. Van Moppes Co., one of the world's major diamond traders.

Police found a company safe had been cut open with acetone torches.

New York's Storm Worst In 13 Years

NEW YORK (AP) — The nation's largest city today struggled under remnants of its worst snow storm in 13 years.

The massive storm which struck the Northeast late Friday cast 24 inches of crippling snow over the metropolitan area, clogging streets, grounding air traffic, disrupting rail and bus transportation and causing untold distress.

The storm, the fifth to hit the city this winter and the worst since 1947, came at a time when the greatest number of the city's eight million persons were at home for the weekend.

Most went back to work today, many of them, muscle-weary from shoveling. They were jammed in subway cars and buses in even greater numbers because of an emergency order banning use in the city of private vehicles.

Mayor Robert F. Wagner announced the ban on all non-essential motor traffic Saturday, after thousands of private vehicles became stalled and were abandoned in some cases blocking off complete sections of the city.

Wagner said "It is my expectation that by Tuesday we will be able to open our streets for commercial deliveries, but not for private cars."

Police enforced the order, handing out more than 220 summonses Sunday night. Drivers coming in from New Jersey and other areas adjacent to the city were met at entrances to the city and ordered back until they could prove they had emergency business here.

HPC Lone Star Leader

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Barring some upsets early in the week Howard Payne and Stephen F. Austin will decide the undisputed lead in the Lone Star Conference basketball race next Saturday night.

Howard Payne tops the league with a 6-1 record while Stephen F. Austin is in second place only because it hasn't played as many games. The Lumberjacks are 5-1, still hanging in there and the villains in the act are the Cardinals of Lamar Tech. Their 8-7-4 victory over Stephen F. Austin last week made it possible for Howard Payne to shoot into the lead. Lamar Tech has a 4-2 record while Southwest Texas State, the defending champion which doesn't appear to be defending its title very well, is fourth with 3-3.

Howard Payne beat Sam Houston State 55-75 and Texas A&M 76-68 last week and Stephen F. Austin put a decided crimp in Southwest Texas State's chances with a 74-67 triumph.

Monday night Stephen F. Austin plays Sam Houston State at Huntsville while Howard Payne takes on Southwest Texas State at San Marcos. Lamar Tech hosts East Texas State and Sul Ross and A&M tonight at Kingsville. Wednesday Lamar Tech plays Sam Houston at Huntsville.

Knowles Is Winner Of Author's Award

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. (AP) — The William Faulkner Foundation award for a "notable first novel" published in 1960 will go to New York City author John Knowles for his "A Separate Peace."

Foundation officials, who announced the selection today, said formal presentation of a bronze plaque to Knowles is scheduled in Charlottesville this spring.

The Faulkner Foundation was organized Dec. 28 with some of the author's Nobel prize money as capital.

Knowles, a native of West Virginia, attended Phillips Exeter Academy at Exeter, New Hampshire, and Yale University. The former associate editor of Holiday magazine now is working on a new novel.

Original Picasso Painting Stolen

PITTSBURGH (AP) — An original painting by famed artist Pablo Picasso has been stolen from the University of Pittsburgh, police reported Sunday night.

The stolen painting, an abstract entitled "1918," had been borrowed by the university from the Guggenheim Foundation of New York City, officials said.

It was taken from a lounge at Pitt's Student Union building where it had been on display for five months.

Dr. Walter Hovey, head of the fine arts department at Pitt, said the price tag on the "1918" might go as much as $10,000.

Fronzizi Candidate Suffers Defeat

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — Buenos Aires voters have defeated President Arturo Fronzizi's senatorial candidate, favoring men from two other parties and killing Fronzizi's hopes for a prestige showing.

The president's great majority in Congress remains unaffected, but Fronzizi had hoped that victory for his choice in Buenos Aires' election would be a sign the people accept the government's austerity policies.

Early Thaw Sends Snow Slides Down

By STAN CARTER

ROME (AP) — Sunny, springlike weather coming after snowstorms has brought great masses of snow tumbling down from the high peaks in the Alps. Highways and railroads are blocked, mountain villages isolated and at least 37 persons were killed.

Two giant avalanches 60 miles apart killed eight persons Sunday in Italy's northern mountains.

Many tons of snow smashed down upon the tiny village of Rochennes, 6,100 feet up on Mt. Mellisse on the Italian-French border.

Rescuers dug out seven injured persons from houses shattered by the snow. Bodies of two men and two women were found. Eighteen of the hamlet's 30 homes were destroyed.

The toll in the village of 280 people might have been higher but most of the younger people had left home for the winter to work at nearby ski resorts.

Sixty miles to the east, an estimated 10 million cubic feet of snow roared down the side of Great San Bernard Mountain.

The avalanche crushed two wooden barracks for laborers on the tunnel being drilled through the mountain to provide an all-weather highway between Italy and Switzerland. Three men and a woman, employed as caretakers while work is suspended for the winter, were killed.

Snowslides Sunday blocked a highway in the Italian Aosta Valley, imprisoned eight big trucks at the Austrian-Swiss frontier, covered the Rome-Paris rail line near the village of Lapraz, France and buried a skier on a cross-country trek near Guillestre, France.

Small- and large avalanches have been reported all over the Alps for several days. Most of them occurred in the high ranges, away from roads and villages, and caused little damage.

Avalanches have killed eight other persons in Italy, 12 in Switzerland and 8 in Austria.

WHAT OTHERS SAY ABOUT OUR BANQUET SPEAKER

Mayor of Kansas City

"You made us Virginians attending the American Vocational Association banquet very proud of you and our state when you made that masterful address last week. After you left many, many delegates told me it was the best speech ever made at any of our conventions and with that I am in full agreement. It had enough humor in it to entertain all listening and enough sound philosophy and inspiration to give us something to think about and remember for a long time—Martha Creighton, President, American Vocational Association, Inc., re 1954 convention address in Chicago."

BEHIND THE SCENES OF YOUR TELEPHONE SERVICE

An interview with Richard A. Goodson, Southwestern Bell Vice President and General Manager for Texas

You name any communications need, Southwestern Bell has a service to meet it

Telephone engineers can provide anything from nationwide voice-and-data systems to extension phones

Mr. Goodson then gave many examples of services. Here are just a few high lights:

- CALL DIRECTOR BUSINESS TELEPHONE . . . for fast, easy handling of outside and interoffice calls.
- DATA-PHONE . . . for rapid transmission of information between computers and office machines in scattered locations.
- PRINCESS PHONE . . . for space-saving convenience, smart styling, with the dial that lights up.
- HOME INTERPHONE . . . for talking from room to room, calling the family to dinner, even answering the door.

In addition to these, many more services are available. In fact, Southwestern Bell has services for any communications requirement.

Mr. Goodson points out that the telephone company has a continuing program of research and development to keep making new and better services available to you. That's why he feels so confident that his company can offer future generations the same assurance of complete communications service as it does the present one.

White Plaza Hotel

It's a real eye-opening experience to hear Richard A. Goodson, Southwestern Bell vice president and general manager for Texas, tell about all the varied communications services his company offers.

These services range from things so complex that you almost need to be an engineer to fully understand them to others that are fairly simple, such as extension telephones. There is, in other words, a Southwestern Bell service to meet any communications requirement of Texas business and residential telephone users.

OUR BUSINESS IS MORE THAN TELEPHONES

"It's a strange thing," Mr. Goodson said during an interview, "but a number of people think of us as being only in the telephone business. Well, that's not true. We're in the communications business, which includes many different services."

Valentine's Day Facts And Fancies

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Nobody really knows who started Valentine's Day. But as long as love exists, the day devoted to it will be acclaimed by poets and plain people all over the world. It has no real connection with St. Valentine, in a religious sense, and yet it is celebrated on his feast day.

Some say St. Valentine's Day stems from an ancient Roman festival dedicated to Lupercus, the god in charge of keeping the wolf from the door. At the feast of Lupercalia, young people drew game partners for the coming year and this probably started the whole idea of a day devoted to selecting a mate.

ed in these lotteries but gave only green hose and garters to his fair lady.

The romantic French, as might be expected, elevated Valentine writing to an art, while the conservative English published a practical guide to composing these verses. Valentines were first sent in America by parents to their children.

At one time, young girls pinned bay leaves to their pillows on the eve of the holiday. Then, after eating an egg stuffed with salt, hoped to dream of their sweethearts. This custom undoubtedly caused many a memorable nightmare, but it was believed that

Deane Blankenship Hostess To Church Class

The Joy Sunday School Class of the First Baptist Church held its monthly meeting Thursday night in the home of Deane Blankenship, 2708 Forty-second Street.

Those present were: Lynn Bethel, Retha Hoffman, Pauline Underwood and Francis Thomas. The group visited in the homes of prospective members. Refreshments of coffee and doughnuts were served.

Upside Down Cake In New Flavor

What's that wonderful aroma escaping out the cracks around the kitchen door? It's the spicy fragrance of a flavorful treat that will please the palates of all gingerbread fans.

No, it's not from the gingerbread house that tempted Hansel and Gretel! Nor is it the bakings of the old witch who tried to pop Hansel into her oven! But it is a luscious new dessert that you can pop into your oven after just a few minutes preparation: it's fruit upside-down gingerbread.

All you do is spread a brown sugar mixture, fruit cocktail and pecans over the bottom of a ring mold. Then pour the gingerbread, easy to make from a mix, over the fruit, and bake. Top each serving with whipped cream, and the result? It's a tender, moist, fruit-topped gingerbread ring perfect for a bridge club snack as well as an easy dinner dessert.

Here's the recipe:
Heat oven to 350 (mod.). Melt 1/2 cup butter in 9" ring mold (11 1/2 qt. size). Blend in 1/2 cup brown sugar (packed). Spread mixture over bottom of pan. Arrange 8 pecan halves, if desired, and 1 can (1 lb.) fruit cocktail, well drained, over sugar mixture. Follow directions for gingerbread in Gingerbread Mix pkg.; pour over fruit. Bake 35 to 40 min. Immediately place serving plate on pan and turn pan and plate upside-down. Do not remove pan for a minute to allow sugar mixture to run down over cake. Serve warm with whipped cream or ice cream, if desired. 9 servings.

Note: This dessert may also be baked in a 9" sq. pan, 40 to 45 min. at 350°.

Ira - County Line Holds Joint Meet

The Ira and County Line Home Demonstration Clubs met in a joint meeting at the Ira Community Center on Thursday. Hostesses were Mrs. Billy Calley of Ira and Mrs. T. P. Allen of County Line.

The program was presented by Miss Ruby Butts on "One Dish Meals." The dish demonstrated was a beef casserole which was sampled by each person present. Miss Butts said: "You should vary your food to suit your families' tastes. Make the dish colorful and attractive and consider your family's nutritional needs. A helpful hint is to peel your vegetables and potatoes ahead of time and put them in a plastic bag while they are still damp and they will not turn dark."

Miss Butts also passed out several other recipes on one dish meals.

Roll call was answered by 12 members and guests. From Ira were Mrs. Mack Kruse, Mrs. Pete Sterling, Miss Billy Calley, Mrs. Floyd House and visitors Mrs. Travis Stoker and Mrs. E. J. Vineyard. From County Line were Mrs. Cecil Erwin, Mrs. R. K. Taylor, Mrs. W. W. Hester, Mrs. T. P. Allen and Mrs. Lewis Dunn.

Mrs. W. W. Hester gave a helpful hint, "when letting out hens or if there is a deep crease that won't iron out, dampen the crease on the wrong side of the material with white vinegar and press lightly with a steam iron and the crease will come out easily."

Jello cake and punch were served as refreshments.

Ira Club committee and leaders are: Food leaders—Mrs. Floyd House and Mrs. Pete Sterling; Clothing leader—Mrs. Welden Wiggins and Mrs. Robert Erwin.

Committees are: Finance—Mrs. Pete Sterling; Recreation—Mrs. Mack Kruse; Health and Safety—Mrs. Billy Calley; 4-H—Mrs. Welden Wiggins; Yearbook—Mrs. Floyd House; Civil defense and citizenship—Mrs. Mack Kruse. Program—Mrs. Welden Wiggins.

Spring Always Brings Out Some New Fads At College

BY INEZ ROBB

In the summertime, when the ivy is easy, one of the few constant irritants is the individual who, short of murder, cannot be broken of the habit of asking, "Warm enough for you?"

Now, in wide regions of this hemisphere gripped by Arctic cold, I suppose the prize for winter pest would go, by acclamation, to the broken record who keeps chanting, "It's winter, come, come spring be far behind!"

In truth, although at the moment it appears that the benisons of spring will never return to restore the land and the circulation, the answer to that second question is: "YES!"

On two widely separate fronts on this continent the first fringes of spring have been recorded. For some reason or other, probably because the sap rises there early and often, the first signs of Primavera invariably crop up on college campuses.

What form the greeting to the vernal equinox will take, no man or dean knows. All the latter can do is keep his powder dry. One year the campus sasararas took the form of goldfish swallowing.

(It is now on record that such piscatorial celebration of the rites of spring began at Harvard during President Kennedy's senior year and was the inspiration of Lathrop Withington, then a sophomore, who dispatched 23 at one sitting. Would it not be suitable for the President to acknowledge Withington's enduring achievements by making him head of the Bureau of Fisheries?)

Who first thought up the party raid, which is almost as time-hallowed and recurrent as goldfish gulping, I do not know. If these two remain constant on the college calendar, inspired new bows to spring are born annually. One year, it's squeezing the entire college population into a telephone booth; again, it's crowding the student body into a mudjet car.

With the advent of spring, something new is usually added, and 1961 is no exception. The collegians of Canada have taken the lead this year.

For some obscure reason only a collegian can fathom, the 1961 salute to spring in Canada has taken the form of a hospital-bed derby. When students of the University of British Columbia pushed a hospital bed 42 miles in 12½ hours, it was the equivalent of waving a red flag in front of all other red-blooded Canadian maple leaf leaguers.

Undergraduates of the University of Waterloo, in Waterloo, Ontario, leaped to the challenge. Fifty relays of determined students pushed their hospital bed 70 miles in 8½ hours for a presumed world record in bed-pushing. By the time this column sees print, I have every expectation that the above record will have been broken by

Wilder Is Named Director Of Year

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Billy Wilder, who directed "The Apartment," has been named Director of the Year by his fellow craftsmen. Other directors honored Saturday night by the Directors Guild of America were Alfred Hitchcock for "Psycho," Richard Brooks for "Elmer Gantry," Jack Cardiff for "Sons and Lovers" and Fred Zinneman for "The Sundowners."

Mail Tells High Cost Of Obesity

By HAL ROYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Here's the real cost of obesity in middle age—every extra pound you put on increases your death chances roughly about 1 per cent. Studies show that in people between 45 to 50, 10 pounds of excess weight lifts their mortality rate 9 per cent; 30 pounds, 28 per cent; and 50 pounds, 56 per cent.

What is your gub index? The average adult American, it is estimated, speaks about 4,800 words a day. About the same number a teen-ager uses in an hour on the telephone.

Frequently note from Brazil: The presidential palace in Brasilia, the new capital, has 30 bath-rooms. (The U. S. White House, one of the world's stateliest executive mansions, has 16.)

Speaking of Brazil, if you're in a pioneering mood you can buy six acres of land for $1 in remote areas there, but you have to plant banana trees on your plot within a year to retain ownership.

Over seven million operations a year are performed in America. The most popular: tonsillectomies and appendectomies.

Our quotable notables: "When you're down and out something always turns up—and it's usually the noses of your friends."—Orson Welles.

Here's some consolation in a long hard winter: cold weather may make you shiver, but it also makes your mind keener. Science has found people can do physical labor best in a temperature of 65 degrees, but are at their mental best at 40 degrees. Above 70 degrees your thinking ability falls sharply.

How much more crowded can we get? Nearly 10 per cent of the American population now lives in five cities—New York, Chicago, Los Angeles, Philadelphia and Detroit.

Oddities of well-known people: Sophia Loren, one of the world's highest paid film stars, does her own hair. Sherman Fillingim of the Stock Club signs all his checks with his initials, "S. B." This is his legal signature at his bank.

More and more fathers will have to look up to their sons in the future. By the year 2,000 one of every three American men will stand a whisker under six feet tall.

Man's place-in-the-home item: A survey of 600 families across the nation showed 80 per cent of the wives spent at least one evening a month out with the girls, but only 76 per cent of the husbands had a night out with the boys.

Wiscrack of the week: Actor Walter Slezak defines an old-fashioned housewife as "one who uses a can opener instead of a frozen-food saw."

Times to beware: A Connecticut highway accident study found that the most dangerous hour of the day for motorists was between 4 and 5 p. m.—and the most dangerous day was Saturday. The most dangerous month: December.

Another Soviet first? We think few things are more American than apple pie, but the Soviets claim this delicacy is only a pale imitation of their apple desert, a "yablochny pirok," developed by peasant steppe-dwellers several years before New England was settled.

Only one of 20 Americans has ever consulted a psychiatrist. Most are women, not men.

Texas Pair Wins Classic

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—The Palm Springs Golf Classic was played for a local charity, but two Texans who live only three blocks apart made it even more of a local benefit by winning most of the prize money.

Of the two, plump Billy Maxwell of Dallas won more prestige, by playing 90 holes of golf in 345 strokes.

But slender Don January of Dallas won a lot more money, by playing one hole of golf in one stroke.

Maxwell, who hadn't won a tournament on the PGA tour since the 1958 Memphis Open, got $5,300 for coming home ahead of 63 other pros in Sunday's final round.

January won a $50,000 bonus prize for scoring a hole in one—the first of his 24-year golfing career—three days earlier.

A non-Texas, handsome Ken Venturi, probably won the most sympathy by blowing a slim lead with a 4-over-par 8 on the fourth to last hole of the tournament.

Venturi, of Palo Alto, Calif., wound up tied for fifth.

The last 18 holes were played at Tamarisk Country Club, where the men in charge of pin placement accomplished their job in such a devilish manner that the course might have been the toughest of the five used during the five-day event.

Maxwell shot a 1-under-par 71 and finished two strokes ahead of Doug Sanders of Ojai, Calif. Sanders was 72.

Martin Facing Big Rebuilding Chore

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Coach Abe Martin of Texas Christian begins "my biggest rebuilding job yet" when he calls out his Horned Frogs for the start of spring football training today.

There will be 80 candidates of which only 17 will be lettermen.

"We don't know really where we stand," said Martin. "We have only six real proven football players." He listed them as Buddy Iles, Bobby Plummer, Ray Pinion, Lynn Morrison, Richard Holden and Sonny Gibbs.

Additional Entrants Added To Links List

HOUSTON (AP)—Texas A&M, Texas Tech, Oklahoma, Hardin-Simmons, Alabama and Western Illinois are the latest entries in the annual National Collegiate Invitation Golf Tournament.

The tournament is scheduled for March 29-April 1 with the field limited to 20 teams. Fourteen already have entered. They include Yale, Houston, Oklahoma State, New Mexico, Florida, Rice, Southern Methodist and Texas.

Running Mate, Too

BELLEVILLE, Tex. (AP)—Joe Ed Lynn, a fullback who helped the Belleville football team advance to the Class AA state finals, has signed a pre-enrollment application with the University of Texas.

Lynn and his running mate, Ernie Roy Jr., were two of Texas' most-wanted schoolboy football players. Roy committed himself to Texas Wednesday.

Texas Trek To Stamford

Lamar 8th and 9th travel to Stamford this evening for a cage doubleheader, with those two games representing the only ones of the night involving teams from the local school system.

The Texas 8th quintet of Coach Ace Amos will get the ball rolling in the 5:30 opener, and will be taking a shot at their third victory running after consecutive wins of 45-26 over Colorado City and 37-26 over Big Spring Runnels. For the season, the Texans stand 8-7.

Coach Ned Underwood's Texas 9th, 9-7 for the season and victors in 6 of their last 7 outings, will follow up against the Stamford 9th in the 6:30 nightcap. Lamar edged them out by 51-47 in a previous meeting, the triumph earning the locals third place in the Snyder 9th Grade Tournament of the past month.

Travis Runnerup In Stamford Meet

STAMFORD—Travis 9th of Snyder was upset by host Stamford in the finals of the Ninth Grade Tournament held here Friday and Saturday, 44-36, to gain the meet's runner-up spot.

A frigid third quarter—the "cold all year" for his team, according to Coach Bob O'Day—proved to be the crowning blow in the loss of the five used during the five-day event.

Maxwell shot a 1-under-par 71 and finished two strokes ahead of Doug Sanders of Ojai, Calif. Sanders was 72.

VICTORIA, Tex. (AP)—H. N. (Rusty) Russell, who is retiring after 38 years of football coaching, will be honored at a banquet here tonight.

A native of Fredonia in West Texas, Russell played football at Howard Payne College. He later coached at Granger, Temple, Masonic Home and Highland Park. Russell was head football coach at Southern Methodist University for three years. He later coached at Schreiner Institute before coming to Victoria.

The "B" game is slated for 6:30, with the varsity to follow at 7:30.

Although the Snyder and Colorado City teams are district foes, tonight's scheduled action is a non-conference "warmup." The Snyder girls will open their district race March 7 against the same team, however.

GLADSON

Star Tigers Pick Tech

John Conley, Texas Tech line coach, late this morning announced the signing of Tiger linemen Charlie Gladson and Reg Scarborough to pre-enrollment applications. Such applications are tantamount to letters of intent in the Southwest Conference, and are honored as such by conference members. However, they don't affect the remaining high school eligibility of an athlete as do the letters of intent.

Both boys are all-district and all-area selections, Scarborough as a center and Gladson as an end. Full four-year scholarships accompany the signings, which took place this morning. The Gladson inkling taking place at 10:25 and Scarborough's at 10:55.

Pre-enrollment applications were decided upon by both in that Gladson is at present competing in basketball and will also take part in basketball, while Scarborough is planning to participate in the school's upcoming track program.

Surprising Tech Takes SWC Lead

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

The Southwest Conference basketball campaign pushes past the halfway point this week with Texas Tech leading by a game behind its mutt and jeff combination of Harold Huggins and Del Ray Mounts.

The Red Raiders boast a 5-1 record but will be hard pressed to maintain the pace because of a jaunt to the Ozarks to play hard-bitten Arkansas and a clash with erratic but dangerous Southern Methodist.

Texas, Arkansas and Texas A&M are all tied for second at 4-2 while Southern Methodist and Rice are barely hanging on with 3-3 records. Rice knocked Texas out of a virtual tie for first place last week as the surprising Owls whipped the Longhorns 63-59.

Tech lashed Texas Christian 89-75 and Baylor 65-59 last week with the 6-9 Huggins and 5-10 Mounts in the starring roles. They were the high scorers with 18 and 19 points respectively in the downfall of Baylor and they pitched in 25 and 26 points respectively in bouncing Texas Christian. Huggins also was up to snuff in the rebounding department.

Texas A&M whalloped College of the Pacific 86-39 in an inter-sectional game before beating Southern Methodist 80-66. The Aggie triumph over SMU was the first time on the home court in three years. Carroll Broussard, the A&M potshot, made only 17 points against Southern Methodist but stayed well out front in the scoring race with 362 points. Mounts is second at 338.

Arkansas had a good week, first tumbling Baylor 74-58 and then whamming Texas Christian 88-75 while Southern Methodist broke even for the week, beating Rice 65-53 before making the disastrous trip to College Station.

The big game of the week will be the clash of Texas Tech with Arkansas at Fayetteville Tuesday night. Three other games also are scheduled that night with Texas A&M hosting Rice, Baylor tangling with Texas Christian at Waco and Southern Methodist entertaining Texas.

The SMU-Texas battle at Dallas is second at 338.

have considerable meaning in the championship race. Texas' chances could be seriously damaged if the Longhorns fell before the Methodists. And the Aggies won't be taking Rice lightly. A&M lost to Texas by five points and Rice beat Texas by four.

Four games are also scheduled Saturday night with Texas Tech and SMU meeting in the top one at Lubbock.

Trojans Cop District Title

ANTON—Lincoln High of Snyder repeated as District 2-B cage champs here, downing Levelland in the district tournament finals by 52-40 for the crown.

The Trojans from Snyder also had named to the all-district team star performers Joe Phillips and Randolph Williams, while the coach of the team—Calvin Edwards—was named as top coach of the district. They were chosen by the competing coaches following conclusion of tournament play Saturday night.

Phillips had 18 points in the final game, and was followed by John Choyle and Williams, who had 16 and 11, respectively. Melvin Hall paced the Levelland attack with 13.

Other Lincoln scoring included that of Ronald Green, who had 5, and Buford Thompson, who scored 2.

The opener involving the Trojans was won by a topheavy 50-13, and came at the expense of Spar. It was an abbreviated contest, being stopped at the end of the third quarter.

Phillips led the way in that one with 13, followed by Choyle (11), Linwood Durst (8), and Green, Williams, and John Austin (6 each).

The Trojans went on to clip Amherst and Olton in the quarter and semi-finals, winning out over Amherst by 46-0 in a game which was called at the end of the half.

Scoring in that one included Choyle (14), Bonnie McLaughlin (12), Phillips (6), Raymond Johnson and Williams (4 each), and Green, Austin, and Kenneth McCain (2 each).

The Lincoln Trojanettes went down in their district opener, falling victim to Floydada by 10-8. Louise Archie scored all of Lincoln's points, while Vera Pleasant was tops for the winners with 6.

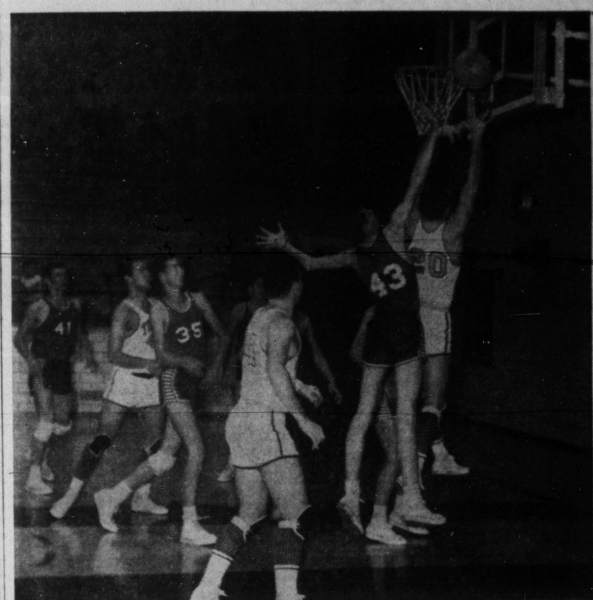

The Trojans have thus earned the right to compete in the state tournament to be held in Prairie View February 17-18, while the Lincoln girls are to reel off their district consolation play at an undecided later date.

Smith, Cokes To Vie

DALLAS (AP)—Tombstone Smith, once rated No. 2 among the nation's welterweights, tests young Curtis Cokes in a 10-round fight here tonight.

Cokes' last two fights were victories over Steve Red and Tex Miceli, giving him strong hopes of climbing in the ratings.

Joe Brown, the world's lightweight champion, will appear in an exhibition, boxing R.P. Randall of Tyler for three rounds.

BC Chase To Narrow Down

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Border Conference basketball race could settle down to a two-team affair this week—and probably will.

Hardin-Simmons makes its bid to stay in the race, one of its games being against the unbeaten leaders from Arizona State University. The Cowboys have a 1-3 record and must win both of their games to retain much of a chance. They play Texas Western at Abilene Monday night and Arizona State at Tempe Saturday night.

New Mexico State, moving along in second place with a 2-1 record, hosts Texas Western at Las Cruces Saturday night and by winning that one could set up the big showdown with Arizona State.

West Texas State and Arizona battle at Tucson Saturday night in the other conference test on the schedule. West Texas State clashes with Oklahoma City University at Oklahoma City in an inter-sectional game Monday night.

Arizona State put away West Texas State and Arizona last week. The Sun Devils whipped West Texas, 78-71 with a come-from-behind splurge led by Larry Armstrong, who scored 27 points for the night. Arizona State didn't have as much trouble trouncing Arizona 94-78.

Bill Daniel Choice For Guam Post

WASHINGTON (AP)—Bill Daniel, brother of Gov. Price Daniel of Texas, Sunday was announced as President Kennedy's choice for governor of Guam.

The White House did not say when the appointment would be made officially.

The 45-year-old Daniel is a native of Dayton, Tex., and a 1938 graduate of Baylor University.

A practicing lawyer for 22 years, the six-foot-two Daniel has found plenty of time for other activities.

He served three terms in the Texas House of Representatives and is a former county attorney of Liberty County.

His plantation-ranch near Liberty has been rebuilt into a showplace and is the site of two big parties he gives each year—one at Easter and another party especially for crippled children.

A rodeo enthusiast, he has staged a number of them for the benefit of crippled children. He is also an ardent hunter and has just returned from a big game hunt around-the-world trip with his wife, the former Miss Vara Faye of Hillsboro.

When his brother, Price, appointed Daniel Texas "Ambassador at Large" four years ago, some people thought it was a gag. It wasn't to Bill Daniel, the fellow who likes to put on a gaudy Western costume and ride a big white horse at the head of a parade—nearly any parade.

When Hawaii and Alaska were admitted to the union, Bill Daniel was one of the first to get to the 49th and 50th states and offer congratulations. His friends thought it very magnanimous of him in the case of Alaska, because it relegated Texas to second place in size among the states. They claim the story-telling ambassador was the first with the crack: "Just wait till all that ice melts!"

He's spent much of his time on good-will trips to South America and Central America in recent years and says, "You know, I've learned one thing: I love all kinds of people, white, black, red and brown. You can love them all if you meet them, face to face."

He's a family man, a church-going Methodist, and the father of four children, Dani, 6; Sue, 12; Ann, 1; and Will, 19, a pre-law student at Baylor University.

Will the family go to Guam with the new governor?

"Oh, they sure will," Daniel answered. "I wouldn't go without a one of them."

Mardi Gras Gets Off To Quick Start

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—"Hey, mister, throw me something."

With that cry echoing through city streets, New Orleans' masked Mardi Gras season got off to a roaring start over the weekend.

Before the bells of St. Louis Cathedral toll out the close of Carnival at midnight Feb. 1, 25 parades with gaily decorated floats will roll through city streets. Almost as many gala masked balls will be held.

The five parades over the weekend were without incident as people frolicked along the parade route and youngsters and the young-at-heart clamored for throws from the lavishly costumed figures on floats.

President Kennedy's youngest brother, Edward (Ted) Kennedy, helped give the pre-Lenten hijinks a rousing sendoff.

The younger Kennedy and his wife reviewed parades Sunday and were later presented to the king and queen of the annual masked ball of the Krewe of Carrollton.

The usual "no vacancy" signs are missing from city hotels however. Larry Chopin, president of the New Orleans Hotel Association, said advance reservations are "slower than ever." He expects a last minute rush.

He attributed the falloff to the New Orleans integration crisis and recent bad weather throughout the nation.

Briton Is Freed From Cairo Jail

CAIRO (AP)—James Zarb, a Briton jailed as a spy in the United Arab Republic since the Suez war, was released today after serving nearly half of a 10-year sentence.

Cairo newspapers said Zarb's release came as a direct result of the debate in Montreal last week in which British historian Arnold Toynbee strongly defended the Palestine Arab case against Israel.

Zarb's cause also was probably helped by the master diplomat between Britain and U.A.R. to exchange ambassadors as the final step in resuming diplomatic relations broken off because of the Suez invasion.

Haiti Bishop Ordered From His Diocese

By BERNARD DIEDERICH
FORT AU PRINCE, Haiti (AP)—The Roman Catholic bishop of Gonaives, French-born Magr. Paul Robert was ordered from his diocese after demonstrators looted the bishop's warehouse, apparently with government sanction.

Magr. Robert, 59, was escorted 70 miles to Port au Prince Friday night by the local military commander who ordered him to leave because "I am responsible for order and I am afraid the people might set fire to the city."

President Francois Duvalier's government has been feuding with church leaders for months. French-born Archbishop Francois Poitier was expelled last November on charges he aided striking students. Seven other priests and prelates have been expelled on similar charges or for alleged plots against the government.

Magr. Robert, whose resignation has been demanded by the government, was lodged at the papal nuncio's residence in Port au Prince waiting for orders from the Vatican.

Eyewitness reports from Gonaives said about 50 well-organized demonstrators looted the warehouse of welfare rations worth thousands of dollars, wine for masses and building materials for a $500,000 rural school building program.

The clergymen have protested the charges that they plotted against the state were false and the Vatican has ordered the excommunication of officials responsible for the expulsions. This apparently includes Duvalier.

Junior Editors Quiz on LANGUAGES

QUESTION: Is Latin spoken today?

ANSWER: Latin is called a "dead language" because it is no longer used in the every day speech of people. It is taught in higher schools of learning and is considered a basic requirement of a scholar. But you wouldn't be apt to hear it spoken among ordinary people anywhere in the world. It was the language of a central Italian people, the Latins, and became a major language in the civilized world during the time of the Romans. In our own language, we owe much to Latin. It is the root—or the foundation—of many English words. It also helped form the Celtic, Slavic, Greek and German languages. The languages closest to Latin are the Romance languages—French, Italian, Spanish, Portuguese. For any person who wants to make a study of languages, Latin ranks as a basic requirement. Perhaps the most common usage of Latin—in a written form—is by doctors. They write prescriptions for medicine in Latin.

FOR YOU TO DO: Make a list of ten words—just pick them at random—and then look up their definitions in a good dictionary. You will find that the dictionary will also explain the roots of the words. The roots often will be Latin.

Wall Street Tries To Survey Future

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market is striving mightily to make up its mind what's ahead. Prices have been moving up almost steadily since October, although corporate earnings generally have been slipping since early in 1960.

But the large trading volume last week with little price change in the list as a whole shows how divided opinion is today.

Is business going to pull itself out of its downturn and boom? Or will it sink lower—or perhaps take a momentary spurt from Washington pump-priming and then slump?

Stock traders and the stock-conscious public have a new flood of corporate earnings—thoroughly mixed—to interpret. The early reports indicate that cost cutting has put a stop to sliding profits for many companies, but far from all.

The market also is trying to decide between conflicting Washington reports. It has President Kennedy's grim warning on what might happen and how he plans to forestall a real recession. It has President Kennedy's assurance that things are sure to get better fairly soon anyway. But the market also has to weigh the possibility of another ride on the rollercoaster of inflation.

Economists have tried to help the market make up its mind. But they, too, differ. The majority has been saying that the traditional cycle is about to touch bottom, if it hasn't already, and start up again around mid-year. But others warn that the postwar days of general expansion with recurring mild recessions have given way to a new and tougher era that business must learn to live with.

The earnings curve of U.S. corporations has been steadily down since the first quarter of 1960, when the Department of Commerce figures put net income after taxes at around $6 billion for the first three months of the year. By the third quarter it was down to less than $5 billion. The signs are that when the final three months are tabulated the earnings will be roughly the same.

But stock prices, as measured by popular indexes have been rising for several months. The Associated Press index of 60 stocks stood at 206 September 30, closed the year at 221, and last week went up to 236, for a gain of 1 point on the week.

The Dow Jones index of 30 industrial stocks closed 1960 at 616, but Friday stood at 633. The gain has been interpreted as due to peered return in business in the second half of 1960, or of others expecting a big nudge to the economy from the Kennedy administration, or still others thinking inflation will be revived and with it rising stock prices.

Current earnings reports for 1960 are well scrambled. Industries trailing their 1959 earnings, on the basis of reports

Jazz Opera Is Presented In Britain

By RAYMOND E. PALMER
LONDON (AP)—South Africa's white supremacy government has won a rare pat on the back for letting the all-Negro musical "King Kong" come to Britain.

The African "jazz opera" which opens in London Feb. 23 has been credited with punching a tiny hole in South Africa's apartheid policy of strict racial segregation. It contains some pointed jabs at South African racial policy.

But there has been no attempt at censorship. South African producer Leon Gluckman told a reporter, "The South African government made it possible for the whole company of more than 60 to get passports."

Few of the cast have been abroad before. For the first time they will share living quarters and eat and drink with white people in a London hotel.

One British newspaper, the Observer, commented the most extraordinary thing about "King Kong" is that this work—a triumph of black and white cooperation—should have come out of racially torn South Africa.

Africans have contributed the vitality, the talent, the theme, the music and the cast. Whites have supplied the drive, the technical skill, the financial backing, the book and the lyrics. The show is based on the true story of a Zulu heavyweight prizefighter who fought under the name of King Kong. He became a legend among South Africa's Negroes.

Three years ago he stabbed his girl friend to death because he thought she had been unfaithful. At his trial he demanded the death sentence but was sentenced to 12 years at hard labor. At the first opportunity he committed suicide by diving into a prison dam.

Negroes Vote To Segregate

DOVER, Del. (AP)—Negroes who backed the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People to vote for a new segregated elementary school said they did so because of the threat of overcrowding schools.

Negroes in Sussex County, Delaware's southernmost county, voted 441 to 19 in favor of construction of a $543,000 school which must be segregated under state law, state officials reported. About 40 per cent of the eligible Negro voters were represented.

The NAACP had called for a "no" vote on the ground that construction would entrench segregation.

The school will have 367 pupils who now attend four schools which will be closed.

The legislature already has appropriated funds to build the school. The State Board of Education was not required to hold the opinion poll.

Delaware has been ordered by a federal court to admit to white schools by next September all Negroes who seek such admission.

Bomb Shelter Proves Cold

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—John L. Esser Jr. and his family emerged from their new fallout shelter Sunday after 45½ hours underground, and immediately kindled a fireplace fire to get warm.

With no heat in the 10x20-foot shelter, the seven Essers quickly learned they hadn't taken enough clothing and blankets along. Mrs. Esser, 32, wore leotards, blue jeans, army coveralls and a sweater, and wished for more.

Esser, 39, a computer operator, had plans for improving the shelter—more shelves, larger cooking area, more blanket storage.

The family intends to try the shelter again in warm weather. "I think this is the only way to find out what you will need and what problems you have when you stay in a shelter," Esser said.

"I didn't like it," declared Glenn, 6, "it was cold."

Jack & Jack Helps Patrons Locate 'Very Best Deals'

Real estate business in Snyder is good and getting better according to L. A. McClanahan, owner of the Jack and Jack Realty Co., 611 East Highway. The upswing started in December and has set sales above the comparable period last year, he said.

3 Nominated For Academy Appointments

Three Snyder High School seniors have been nominated for appointments to service academies by Rep. Omar Burleson of the 17th Congressional District. Michael Pierce Reed, 106 Peach Street, is among four in the district nominated for appointment to the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md., for the class that will enter in the summer of this year. He will compete with three other boys for this congressional district's one appointment.

Reed is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry H. Reed. Thomas Don Minton and Charles Wayne Gladson have been nominated for appointment to the United States Air Academy at Colorado Springs, Colo. Pay Cut Vote By Employees Is Cheered CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Company and union officials to day hailed the action of Bailey Co. Department Store employees, who voted to pass up a previously negotiated $3.50 weekly increase in wages and benefits. They decided instead to take a $1 weekly pay raise, effective Feb. 1.

Union members in five Bailey stores voted on the company proposal Sunday. The company figures it will save $110,000 a year by the unusual action.

For the 800 sales clerks, office workers, elevator operators and porters at Cleveland's only organized department store the alternative was a possible cut in many jobs. Union officials said the average age of Bailey employees is 52, many of whom have worked at the company more than 25 years.

Union officials made no recommendation to the employees before the secret vote. Later, Cecil B. Dunlap, president of Retail Store Employees Union local 880, said:

"This action is a union policy hanging in the balance. When the employer was in need of help, the union pitched in."

James J. Aron, president of Century Food Markets Co. of Youngstown, which purchased the Bailey stores in 1958, said the company is in "excellent financial shape," and he has plans to make Bailey's successful in Cleveland. "Business is off right now," he said, "but we want to continue in Cleveland. We need to have a few things in our favor."

As an incentive to employees the company agreed to pay the full $3.50 increase for the final three months of the contract year if it makes a 3 per cent profit before taxes during 1961.

Dunlap said present hourly wages in his local average $1.10, with variations among sales persons getting commissions.

Highway Deaths Top Violent Toll

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Traffic fatalities continued to pace the weekend violent death toll in Snyder, although snow and sleet kept most motorists at home. Many of the 12 traffic deaths were blamed on wet streets and packed highways laced with ice.

One death was blamed on exposure after the body of a Texas Panhandle cattleman was found in the snow-covered area near Dumas.

Two shooting deaths brought the weekend total to 15 persons. The Associated Press tabulation covered the period from 6 p.m. Friday to midnight Sunday.

A carload of Arlington High School students went through a detour sign and onto a burned-out bridge, sailed 50 or 60 feet and dropped 30 feet into a creek bed Saturday night. Killed were Gladys Reeves, 16; Lou Goldner, 17; and Kathy Fleming, 16, all of Arlington, between Dallas and Fort Worth. Three other girls were injured.

Remus Elliott, 50, of Dumas died in 18-degree weather when he set out on foot for help after a pickup truck stalled Saturday night in a snowdrift. His body was found early Sunday.

Two Denver City men, Teddy Wisenbaker, 25, and George Gardner, 41, died early Sunday when a car went out of control and crashed into an embankment 7 1/2 miles west of Denver City.

Foster Albert Wetzel, 37, of Silas, died in a Beaumont hospital Sunday after being struck in the neck by a bullet in a shooting at Loeb, north of Beaumont. Casey Beard, at whose home the shooting occurred, was released on $2,500 bond.

The collision of a train and pickup truck Saturday night near Garland killed Jimmy Ray Howell, 17, of Princeton.

Monroe Brown, 59, Fort Worth Negro, was shot to death Sunday by a Negro woman at Mansfield, near Fort Worth. The sheriff's office quoted the woman as saying she "fired three times but he kept coming toward me."

Thelma Dueneberg, 72, was struck by an automobile and killed near her home north of Boerne on Friday night.

Salvador Cantu, 27, of Sebastian was killed Saturday in a head-on collision of his car and a truck near Corpus Christi.

James Rudolf Swart, 31, of Fort Worth was killed Saturday when his car smashed into a stone retaining wall at Fort Worth.

Jaqueline Perry, 9, was killed Saturday in Waco when a car driven by her father, Fred Perry, and another car collided at a street intersection.

Geraldine Hayes, 41, Fort Worth Negro woman, was killed in a two-car collision south of Wichita Falls Saturday. Five other persons were injured in the head-on crash.

Sings While Ship Sinks

YOKOHAMA, Japan (AP)—An American woman stood on the deck of a sinking ship in Tokyo bay Sunday night and sang "The Lord's Prayer" to calm the excited survivors.

The singer was Mrs. Victor Andrews of Laguna Beach, Calif., a passenger on the 6,419-ton Danish freighter Lausit Maersk. The ship sank after colliding with the 6,419-ton American cargo ship Aloca Pioneer.

The Japanese Coast Guard said one Danish crewman died in the crash and three others were missing. Forty-three persons — including Mrs. Andrews and three other American passengers — were rescued.

The American ship docked under her own power, her bow ripped and tangled. The Lausit Maersk went down in about 20 minutes.

Lanchester Shows Adds Fresh Cheer

By WILLIAM GLOVER Associated Press Drama Critic NEW YORK (AP)—By never lingering long on any item, "Elia Lanchester—Herself" adds fresh cheer to Broadway's entertainment array.

The show, relying solely on the elfin actress-singer and a two-piece band, opened Saturday at the 41st Street Theater.

Miss Lanchester artfully spans from the ridiculous to the touching with pace and discernment. A tiny eyebrow lift, or flirt of chin, or a look of surprise, or a look of saucy or sentimental.

Displayed are a number of familiar from the Lanchester night club and record grab-bag: "The Ballad of Sister Anne," "He Didn't Oughter," "Lola," and "When a Lady has a Piazza." Thomas Wolfe supplies some of her dialogue, and so does Henry VIII.

If you haven't observed her before, now is the time to see Lanchester in action.

An utterly different weekend thespic event was the premiere of "3 Modern Japanese Plays" at the Playlators Theater, under sponsorship of Helen Menken, president of the American Theater Wing.

Mildly mystical and exotically off-beat, the eastern playlets are ably interpreted by Western actors under the direction of Herbert Machin. Altogether, a bamboo treat.

Lawyers To Hear Top Lecturers

Lecturers from five states and the District of Columbia will address the twelfth annual institute on the law of oil, gas and taxation sponsored by the Southwestern Legal Foundation in Dallas, Wednesday through Friday, according to Snyder attorney, Wayland G. Holt.

Holt, resident representative of the Foundation, stated that attorneys and representatives of the petroleum industry to speak at the program will come from New York, Pennsylvania, California, Oklahoma, Texas and Washington, D.C.

The Institute is presented by the Foundation's International Oil and Gas Educational Center.

The death rate from tuberculosis continued to drop. In 1960, it was estimated at 6 per 100,000 population.

Movie Producer Purchases Yacht TOULON, France (AP)—U.S. movie producer Sam Spiegel reportedly has bought the 150-foot yacht Malahne now being overhauled in Toulon.

The 450-ton ship belonged to Belgian businessman Maurice Solvay. The captain of the yacht said he understood Spiegel planned to take off on a long cruise.
