Wife Drags Plow, Dies; Husband Jailed

"Sure, paw made maw and me pull a plow," said 14-year-old Charley Hensley, and his two sisters demonstrated, upper photo, while his stepfather, scripture-quoting John Davis, 65, read his Bible aloud for the 17th time in the Blue Wing community, Tenn., jail. Charged with murdering his wife, the stepfather is shown left in his cell. The wife died from an illegal operation after dragging a plow in the field all day, police charge. "Every time we got tired," Charley told investigators, "paw said keep a'goin' and he'd spell us in a minute. But he just kept on steering." Davis refused his wife a drink while she was plowing the day of her death, the boy added.

Wilbur Shaw Wins Speedway Classic

TEN SECONDS SEPARATE TWO SPEED RACERS

TRAVEL AT RATE OF 114 MILES AN HOUR

SPEEDWAY, INDIANAPOLIS, May 31 (AP)—Wilbur Shaw, Indianapolis, won the 500-mile automobile race today in record breaking time before a record breaking crowd estimated at 170,000. It was the first time for this 33-year-old Hoosier in seven starts in America's speed classic. He finished about 10 seconds ahead of Ralph Hepburn, Los Angeles veteran who was gaining on him every inch. Shaw's time was 4:25.07.81 breaking all records for the event.

INDIANAPOLIS SPEEDWAY, May 31 (AP)—With the race half finished, Wilbur Shaw, of Indianapolis, was engaged in a terrific duel with Ralph Hepburn of Los Angeles for the lead in the 500-mile automobile race at the Indianapolis motor speedway today.

At 250 miles Shaw had a lead of six seconds over the California veteran with Ted Hon of Los Angeles third, "Wild Bill" Cummings of Indianapolis fourth, Cliff Bergere of Los Angeles fifth.

Traveling at record breaking speed, Shaw covered the 250 miles at 114.61 miles an hour. His time was 2:10.31.

The spectators were given a thrill when the car started by Herb Ardinger of Glassport, Pa., spun around on the south turn. Jimmy Snyder of Chicago, driving at the time as relief, escaped without injury. He was nearing the 300-mile mark at the time and was in fifth place.

The drivers were slowed down for a few seconds until the car could be pulled off the track.

INDIANAPOLIS SPEEDWAY, May 31 (AP)—Driving at record breaking speed, Wilbur Shaw, Indianapolis, led the 500-mile automobile race over the Indianapolis motor speedway at the end of 100 miles today with a crowd of more than 150,000 spectators cheering him on.

Shaw was about six seconds ahead of Herbert Ardinger, Glassport, Pa., with Louis Meyer, Los Angeles, winner of the 1936 race, third, Ralph Hepburn, Los Angeles, was fourth and Bob Swanson, also of Los Angeles, was fifth.

Flood Crests of Canadian Rivers Rush Eastward

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 31 (AP)—Flood crests of the North Canadian and South Canadian rivers rushed eastward across Oklahoma today, disrupting railroad and highway transportation, washing out five bridges, and leaving surplus waters spread over hundreds of acres of farm land.

Norman, the South Canadian, reported at the highest level in 12 years, spread over lowlands a mile wide and washed out four spans of a bridge. Other bridges were out at Tuttle, Taloga, Cemargo and south of Arnett.

At Union City, the South Canadian spilled over valuable acres of wheat, corn and oats, creating a lake five miles wide. Farmers were evacuating the lowlands between Purcell and Eufaula.

Train service was disrupted at several points along the South Canadian in Western Oklahoma.

Beaver creek, in the Panhandle, overflowed at Boise city and stood six inches deep for a quarter-mile on state highway 38 toward Dalhart, Texas.

Eastern Oklahoma crops were greatly benefited by rain but the southwest cotton crop was believed damaged by excessive moisture.

MANIACS RECAPTURED PROVIDENCE, R. I., May 31 (AP)—Officials of the state hospital at nearby Hopkinton reported today that four criminally insane patients who escaped last night after beating a guard, had been captured and returned to the hospital. They said the men were picked up, by state police at Pontiac. The men were captured after bloodhounds and airplanes had been enlisted in a wide search for them.

FIRE AT RICHLAND CORSCICANA, May 31 (AP)—Fire-fighting equipment from Corsicana was required at Richland Sunday afternoon to subdue a fire that destroyed a residence, two barns, several outbuildings and threatened others. Origin of the flames has not been determined. No damage estimate is available.

Negro Kills Another In Street Fight In 'Flats'

City police are holding Archie Nelson, negro, in connection with a shooting in the "flats" last night in which Willie Phillips, negro, was killed. Nelson was arrested at 10:30 o'clock, a few minutes after the shooting.

A bullet from a .41 caliber pistol pierced Phillips' right lung and he was dead when an ambulance arrived. Two other shots were wild. The affray took place in the middle of a street. After being struck, Phillips ran behind a nearby store where he collapsed. Justice of the Peace E. F. Young pronounced death due to gunshot wounds.

Murder charges will be filed against Nelson, Police Chief Art Hurst said today.

In a statement to Chief Hurst this morning, Nelson and witnesses said that Phillips had threatened Nelson and another negro during the day and that at one stage of the argument, during the morning, Phillips had knocked Nelson down. Later in the afternoon, they said, Phillips tried to attack Nelson with a knife but friends took him away.

Just before the fatal shooting, police were told, Phillips threatened Nelson with a knife, which police recovered after the affray.

Phillips had resided in Pampa seven months and was employed at a local automobile service. Nelson has lived here several years and was employed at several garages, part time.

Surviving Phillips are his mother, Mrs. Molly Martin, Mangum, Okla., and a brother, Johnny Phillips, Pampa. Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

Collins Named Jury Foreman

First duty of every citizen is to obey the law, Judge W. R. Ewing told members of the summer grand jury shortly after they were impaneled at the opening of 31st judicial district court here today.

Delay this morning necessitated postponement of calling the entire docket until shortly before 2 o'clock this afternoon. Remainder of the week will be spent in non-jury matters, and making settings for the nine-week term.

Criminal jury cases will be called next Monday and civil jury cases a week from next Monday, Judge Ewing stated.

The twelve grand jurors impaneled were: Jim Collins, Pampa; C. O. Greene, McLean; Raymond Harrah, Pampa; W. H. Blakeney Alarred; Dick Walker, Pampa; Luther Pierson, Pampa; E. W. Bisset, Pampa; Al Brewer, McLean; J. K. Koats, Kingsmill; A. J. Johnson, Pampa; E. F. Vandenburg, Pampa; and D. W. Osborn, Pampa. Mr. Collins was elected foreman of the jury.

"The words, 'obey the law,' should be written on the tablet of every school child impressed upon the mind of every young person and written over the door of every home," Judge Ewing told the jurors.

"Crime would run rampant in Gray county if it were not for grand jurors who see fit to return indictments," he said. "Whenever the time comes that the government ceases to enforce the laws, then we have mob rule."

And it begins to appear in some sections of our country that it is just what is happening. It seems that we are drifting that way.

"It is up to you men to take your part in this scheme of things here in Gray county by seeing that justice is done. However, I find that Gray county is comparatively free of major crime—and probably there is no county in Texas that has so little major crime as Gray county."

The jurist, in addressing the grand jurors, stated his opinion that vice cannot be stamped out entirely.

"But it can be squelched," he said, "and held down to a minimum. And that is the duty of the grand jurors, to make investigations and to determine what should be done about conditions, if they find any existing which they believe should not exist."

200 DIE IN NATION IN ACCIDENTS SUNDAY

Highway crashes and holiday accidents took a national death toll approaching 200 today as the Memorial Day vacation entered its third day.

Automobile drivers in all but the southern states continued to crowd the roads in a holiday prolonged by the observance of decoration day on Monday since May 30 fell on Sunday.

Texas had perhaps the heaviest week-end toll of violent deaths, although Memorial and Decoration Days are not generally observed in that state. Sixteen were killed in traffic accidents, three died in shootings, one by electrocution, one by drowning, one by acid and one person was killed by a train.

The dead by states: Alabama 2; Arkansas 1; Arizona 1; California 12; Connecticut 4; Delaware 1; Georgia 1; Idaho 3; Illinois 6; Indiana 5; Kansas 1; Kentucky 5; Massachusetts 2; Michigan 11; Mississippi 1; Missouri 7; Montana 1; New Hampshire 2; New Jersey 13; New York 6; Ohio 12; Oklahoma 1; Pennsylvania 10; Texas 16; Wisconsin 6; Wyoming 5; West Virginia 4; Washington, D. C. area 2.

Proper Brothers First To Go In Swimming Here

Ralph and Wayne Proper were the first to hit the water at the Pampa municipal swimming pool yesterday afternoon when more than 200 enjoyed the opening of the pool for the 1937 season.

Some thought it was too cold to go in swimming but those who sat around on the banks for any length of time came away with reddened back and arms.

The water was clear and refreshing. All fixtures at the pool have been brightly painted in green and white, so that the pool looks like new again. The fence has been painted green, and the pool is in the best shape it has been in several years.

Mrs. Josie Young, operator of the pool, is being assisted by J. C. Daniel and Junior Williams as lifeguard. Mrs. Young operated the pool year before last.

SANDIE BAND SCHEDULED TO PARADE HERE

Entry of one more band in the parade during the Friday night as the time for the coronation of the rodeo queen, the installation of lights for the rodeo at Recreation park, and the scheduled appearance of Chief Baldwin Parker, son of Quanah, and his group of Comanches at the oldtimers dance on June 2 were developments today of some of the plans for the Top O' Texas Fiesta to be held here on Thursday and Friday.

Entrance of the Amarillo high school band in the Fiesta parades brought the total number of towns that will be represented to six. Other towns having bands in the parade are Shamrock, Wheeler, McLean, LeFors and Pampa.

Members of all bands in uniform, who participate in the parades, will be admitted free to the rodeo. W. B. Weathered, general chairman said.

Members of the Pampa Junior High School band will meet for practice at 2:30 p. m. Wednesday and suits will be issued at that time, it was announced.

Visiting bands that participate in the parade of June 3 will be guests at lunch at the Lamar school, following the parade. Allen Hodges, chairman of the pioneers roundup committee said today.

Pioneers wearing the white badge, which signifies their residence of 40 or more years in the Panhandle, will be admitted to all oldtimers activities at no cost.

There will be three Oldtimers dances. The first will be given on Wednesday night and will be a get-acquainted affair. The Tune Teasers orchestra will play. Chief Baldwin Parker and his group of Comanches will appear at 10:45 p. m. at the dance and be introduced to the oldtimers.

All three dances will be given at See NUMBER 3, Page 8

Application of Neutrality Act Asked by Borah

WASHINGTON, May 31 (AP)—Senator Borah (R., Ida.) called today for application of American neutrality law to "all participants" in the bombing of Almeria, Spanish loyalist port.

"I should say an actual war is on sufficient to justify application of our neutrality law to all parties, now-participating both undercover and openly."

Senator McKellar (D., Tenn.) also commented that the bombing constituted war and said that the American neutrality law should be invoked to keep this nation out of the conflict.

"It looks like war," McKellar said, "but America will never get into this one."

The two senators spoke after German Ambassador Hans Dieckhoff had reported that his government had informed him that it contemplated no further reprisals against the Spanish loyalist government in connection with the attack on the German cruiser Deutschland.

Borah issued a statement denouncing distasteful and what he said was their inclination to make war.

"War is always an immediate possibility. Dictators look upon their people as so much fuel to feed the war furnace."

30 RANCHERS TO BUILD TANKS IN GRAY COUNTY

Of the 42 Gray county ranchers who have signed agreements to cooperate in the range program of the United States Department of Agriculture, 30 of these ranchers will build 75 tanks, if they make effective intentions made this year, according to reports received by Ralph E. Thomas, Gray county farm agent. Deadline of the signatures was May 15. The plan was inaugurated here on March 1.

Dams for the tanks to be built in this county will use from 500 to 4,000 yards of dirt, and the tanks will not only provide water for stock but will also aid in retarding erosion of soil on ranches.

Contour listing, tank building, eradication of prairie dogs and prickly pear, building of range fences and of spreader dams are included in the range conservation program. Payments to ranchers cooperating in the program between January 1 and December 31, 1937, will be fixed on a ratio of $1.50 a head of stock for the carrying capacity of the range. Ed Carr is inspector of the range. The plan was inaugurated here on March 1.

FLOOD DAMAGE NEAR MILLION IN N. MEXICO

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., May 31 (AP)—New Mexico surveyed flood damage of nearly a million dollars today as raging water subsided and clearing skies brought an end to heavy rains which swept the state last week.

Adj. Gen. Russell C. Charlton estimated damage to the Pecos river valley alone would run between $400,000 and $500,000. Loss also was heavy in the valley of the Rio Grande.

Roswell, almost entirely inundated Saturday, began the work of rehabilitation as water which had flooded through the streets in depths ranging up to five feet receded almost as rapidly as it rose.

Highway travel through the central section of the state was resumed over several main arterials, but roads remained in bad condition.

The Pecos river was dropping rapidly between Roswell and Artesia after inundating some 10,000 acres of farm land and ruining much of the cotton crop of that region.

About 60 families were driven from their homes, but found accommodations with neighbors.

Another death was attributed to the storm at Tucuman, when 13-year-old Frankie Oldham drowned in a six-foot pool of rain water where he had been wading with three brothers yesterday.

Italian Sub Sank Passenger Liner, Claim Loyalists

BARCELONA, Spain, May 31 (AP)—Catalan government officials announced today they had confirmed that an Italian submarine launched the torpedo that sank the Spanish passenger liner Ciudad de Barcelona.

They declared that 50 passengers were drowned and several others were injured when the ship was sent to the bottom of the Mediterranean yesterday.

An official announcement said: "Yesterday a submarine which was unmistakably of Italian nationality attacked a Spanish merchant ship in Spanish waters without any warning."

"The merchant ship continued its route without being touched by torpedoes. One of these torpedoes went aground on Catala beach where technical experts, after an examination, confirmed it was of Italian manufacture."

"At 3 p. m., the same day, the submarine, still in Spanish waters near Maigrat, attacked the motorship Ciudad de Barcelona, which sank in less than an hour. Fifty passengers were drowned; several others injured."

RACE REPEAL ACTION TAKEN

AUSTIN, May 31 (AP)—The legislative machinery for action on proposals to repeal the law permitting wagering on horse racing in Texas made another turn today as the senate committee on criminal jurisprudence announced a meeting for 1 p. m.

The only bill before the committee was one to knock out the betting statute enacted four years ago and was introduced last week soon after Governor James V. Allred called a special session of the legislature to consider only the subject of repeal.

Chairman Albert Stone of Brenham said he did not know what the committee would do for procedure was for it to decide. It could hear arguments immediately on the bill, set a hearing date for the future or do nothing, according to its will.

"I am announcing a hearing," he said. "That's as far as I can go."

Senator Frank Rowles of Fort Worth, leader of forces opposed to repeal, said he had made no preparations to present arguments, and knew of no representatives of racing interests in town, while Senator G. H. Nelson of Lubbock, repeal champion, stated he was "ready to go to bat any time."

Governor Allred, ardent advocate of repeal, was in Lubbock to make an address at Texas Technological college, in the place of Senator Nelson.

A motion to re-refer the repeal bill to the committee of the whole senate, which Senator Nelson had said he probably would make, did not materialize, and the senate adjourned until tomorrow.

The house, meanwhile, showed the same inclination for action on See NUMBER 1, Page 8

5 DEAD, 105 HURT IN RIOT

By The Associated Press

Approximately 73,000 workers affected by the five-state steel strike started their fifth day of idleness today after a Sunday of bloody rioting left five men dead and 105 persons sent to hospitals.

The violence broke out at the south Chicago plant of the Republic Steel corporation when more than 1,000 strikers and sympathizers clashed with 200 policemen who shouted warnings that the company's property would be protected.

Outnumbered five to one, the officers attempted to stop the onrush by wielding clubs and firing tear gas guns. When the mob pushed on, determined to reach the main gate of the plant where 1,400 loyal workers kept the mill in operation, the policemen opened fire.

Three of the dead were identified. The fourth fatality, Earl Hanley, 37, died of a fractured skull.

Twenty-nine of the injured were victims of gunfire. Twenty-three were treated at hospitals were policemen.

Gov. Henry Horner, who called a conference of strike principals shortly after the riot occurred, said he was "quite sure" there would not be a recurrence of the trouble. The governor said the conference would be resumed tonight.

Meanwhile the Steel Workers' orator See No. 2, Page 8

TRIO HELD IN JAIL HERE AFTER WRECK

Two men and one woman were brought to Pampa and placed in the county jail Sunday afternoon, following their arrest at McLean Saturday, when their car overturned three-fourths of a mile west of Alarred on the Will Rogers highway No. 66. The trio were arrested on charges of being drunk and confined in the jail Sunday by Constable Darnell. They pled guilty to charges of intoxication before Justice of the Peace Massey in McLean Sunday morning and were fined.

The three were enroute to Shamrock when the car, driven by Mrs. Connie Jones, overturned. The men in the car were her husband, Walter Jones, and J. S. Harrison, Berger. The Jones' home is in Amarillo.

MODERN MENUS

By Mrs. Gaylor Maddox NEA Service Staff Writer
A glass of jelly was not born to stand still. It likes to go places and do things. Invite it to that special "company" dinner. And this is what it will do.

Grape Mousse
One pint heavy cream, 1 glass grape jelly. Whip cream but do not make it too stiff. Turn in the glass of jelly. Beat some more until jelly and cream are blended into a gorgeously tinted mixture. Place this in mold, seal well, and pack in ice and salt, equal parts, for about 3 hours. Unmold and serve. It's a distinctive and rich dessert.

Tomorrow's Menu
BREAKFAST: Bowl of strawberries, bananas and puffed rice, cream, toast, bacon, coffee, milk. LUNCHEON: Chicken broil, stuffed tomato salad, crisp rolls, blackberry cake, tea, milk. DINNER: Chopped salad, veal cutlets, brown gravy, mashed potatoes, green peas, radishes, amber tarts, coffee, milk.

Amber Tarts (12 tarts)
4 eggs, one cup sugar, 1 tablespoon flour, 1 cup milk, 1-2 cup butter, 1 cup plum jelly. Beat eggs until very light. Combine sugar and flour. Mix eggs and sugar and flour. Cream jelly and butter together, then add to the egg mixture. Add milk last, a little at a time. Line greased muffin tins with pastry. Pour in filling and bake in moderate (350 degrees F.) oven until lightly browned. If you want an extra touch, add a meringue and place back in oven to give meringue its touch of gold, too. By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON
Have you a "bad boy" in your house? If so, perhaps you are wondering what to do about him. He does not react favorably to discipline, you say, and seems to have been born with an unmoral sense of right and wrong.

No one needs so much consideration or thought as this "bad" boy. Hundreds of volumes have been written about him. Reformatories are filled with his prototypes and fortunes are spent on reclaiming him to society. Yet, out of it all, emerges this fact, that almost no children are born without natural inhibitions against deliberate wrong—unmoral, we call it—and wiser handling in childhood could have prevented tragedy.

Naturally, our thoughts fly to the slums, and to those reared in an atmosphere of unfortunate home life. But our bad boys very frequently come from seemingly normal homes with all the usual advantages.

This is difficult to understand, but the truth remains that a bad boy (one, I mean, who is beyond the average heritage of pranks) is not always hungry or half-dressed, but may easily be the product of a refined and cultured home.

Children are born with certain tendencies. They may be of a pattern entirely different from their parents or brothers or sisters. I am not speaking here of inherited vice, because I feel that most traits of the sort are developed in the person himself, but rather that certain dispositions do not fit happily into the regular family or social channels.

There are many children who cannot conform to the things in life that other people accept quite contentedly. To go by schedule, to know each day what the next is to be like, and to do the same jobs over and over again become agony to them.

The buccaner spirit is strong, and they live life in reverse. They prefer to breathe the charged air of hazard, rather than the tame atmosphere of the conventional.

They are not submitters, in other words, and to try to make them submit is only adding fuel to the flame.

He Needs Your Help
If by any chance there is such a free spirited boy in your family, that the world calls "bad," you may be able to control his destiny to a certain degree, but never will you or anyone else really possess him.

He needs to have an active life with certain independent liberties of his own. He will have to have room. Within reason he must be allowed to carry out his ideas and to experiment. The big thing is to keep him in sympathetic touch with his home, and to keep alive his faith in his people. Very tactfully, his tastes should be influenced, but he must feel that he is dictating his own policy. A large job for any parent, or teacher, I'll admit. He will be ruled by his heart, when he is ruled at all.

If he is a bully, to camouflage ferocity, then he is another type. We know what we have here and can put a finger on remedies. Or if he is secretly resenting conditions around him, we can usually help with this, too. But this other free spirit is different. He answers to no pattern. He is himself.

Study him, do not always and pray. He is not strong, but not usually vicious. He will always need you. Stay his friend. (Copyright, 1937, NEA Service Inc.)

WHITE DEER, May 31—Love-ly pre-nuptial parties have been given honoring Miss Alene Pickens.

At 2:30, Mrs. William Mixen of Waco will take place June 1.

Mrs. A. L. Stovall entertained with a miscellaneous shower at her home. Sweet peas and tall tapers in the bride's chosen colors of pink and lavender formed the centerpiece on the lace-covered table and the same colors were carried out in the refreshments.

After a series of games, the gifts were presented to Miss Pickens by little Miss Alene Stovall, who dressed as a bride in long white satin frock and bridal veil, entered to the strains of the wedding march played by Mrs. Ray Crumpacker.

Mrs. Crumpacker and Mrs. Herman Coe assisted the hostess in serving refreshments to Mesdames R. C. O'Keefe, A. D. Bender, O. R. Hilderbrand, B. O. Gentry, G. W. Knittel, Troy Dowlen and Claude Pike of the wedding party. Mesdames Lawson, Julius Meaker, R. A. Burrell, J. W. Everly, M. C. Doss, Eddie Dittberger, M. B. Pickens, and Misses Pickens and Claudia Everly of White Deer.

Mrs. Smith has been with the Panhandle Refining company here for a number of years and the couple have many friends in Pampa.

Modern Cookery Is Study Topic In AAUW Class

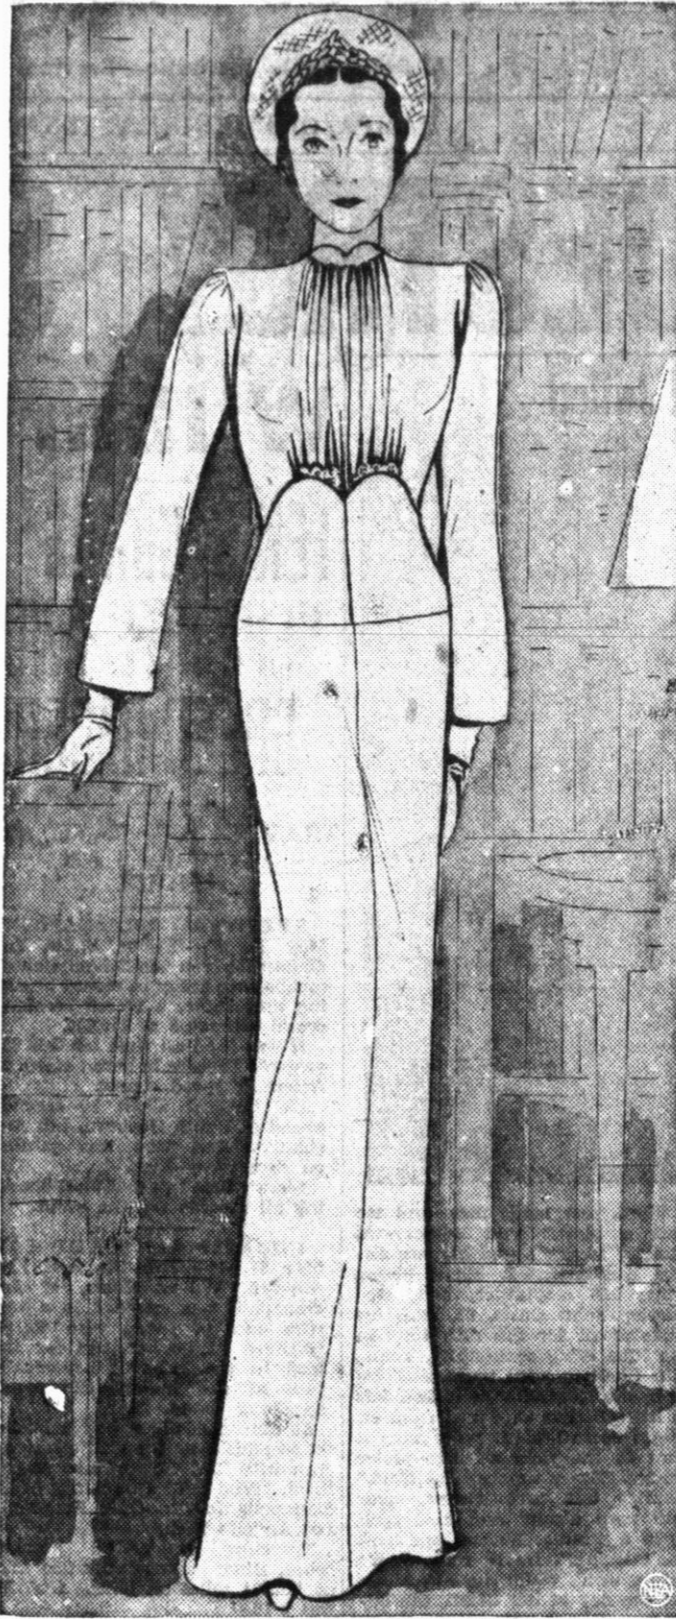

Four phases of cookery will be discussed under leadership of Mrs. J. B. Massa when the summer study group of the A. A. U. W. meets tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 in the home of Mrs. C. C. Wilson, 921 N. Somerville.

All members of the A. A. U. W. are invited for this program. The topics for discussion are budgeting, meal planning, marketing, and food preparation. Mrs. Massa was head of the high school home economics department until her resignation last year.

Tom Rose Jr., has returned from Kemper Military academy, Booneville, Mo., where he attended school the past session.

Mrs. Claude Roberts has been ill the past two weeks, and is still confined to her home, 459 N. Carr.

Mrs. Duke Shaw has returned from a short visit in Hays, Kas.

The wedding ensemble which Mrs. Wallis Warfield will wear when she stands in the library of the Chateau de Candie and becomes the bride and duchess of the Duke of Windsor is sketched here. Designed by Mainbocher, the ensemble is of heavy silk crepe in the new "Wallis blue." The long afternoon dress with slim skirt, bias-cut bodice and heart-shaped neckline, is worn with a matching jacket, graceful of line and also cut on the bias. The dress sleeves are long and tight, while those of the jacket are seven-eighth length and flare at the wrist. The jacket has a high, rounded throat line and a plastron of vertical shirring, stopping just above the waistline, yoke, which is snugly fitted and finished with encrustations.

Farewell Party For Mr. and Mrs. Smith Is Given

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Smith who are leaving to make their home in Fort Worth were complimented when Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Jacobs entertained a number of friends in their home at the Panhandle Refinery camp last week.

Bride was enjoyed during the evening. Mrs. Smith scored high for women and Q. A. Prince for men, while Mrs. Fritz Waechter and Mr. Jacobs received consolation awards.

All presented their prizes to the honorees, and Mrs. Smith was also given a shower of handkerchiefs.

A salad course was served to Messrs. and Mmes. Smith, Wiley Pearce, C. C. Townsend, Ronnie Glidewell, Prince, C. G. Spencer, Waechter, and Jacobs.

Mr. Smith has been with the Panhandle Refining company here for a number of years and the couple have many friends in Pampa.

Rodeo and Picnic At Wheeler Are Being Planned

By FERROL FICKE.
WHEELER, May 31—Residents of the eastern Panhandle and western Oklahoma are to be invited to Wheeler for several days of entertainment during the week of June 14-19.

Tentative plans have been made for a rodeo on June 18 and 19, and the American Legion post plans a huge community picnic for the day of the last of the week.

The program will be climaxed by a fireworks display. A carnival company will be at city park all week.

Vacation Class Starts.
The annual vacation Bible school started at the Methodist church this morning, sponsored by Baptist, Methodist, and the Church of Christ. Girls and boys 4 to 17 years old will attend.

Work is divided into five departments: Construction, in charge of Mrs. J. L. Gilmore and Miss Helen Green; music, Mmes. Echel Aher, E. C. Roney, and Miss Helen Plym; recreation, Miss Orveta Puet and the Rev. Taft Holloway; devotional, Mrs. Jim Risner; study, Mmes. C. J. Meek, Raymond Waters, C. B. Witt, Miss Maizie Bean, and Mr. Holloway.

Kappa Beta Club.
Miss Willetta Templeton entertained Kappa Beta club Thursday. The program on Africa was presented by Misses Winona Adams, leader, Helen and Annie Mae Green, Mary Eunice Noah, and Templeton.

Mrs. Bill Perrin left Thursday for Pensacola, Fla., to visit her sister, Mrs. D. M. Wisehaupt, for two weeks.

Contract Bridge club met Friday with Mrs. Nelson Porter. Guest awards went to Mrs. Melvin Howe, high, and Mrs. T. S. Puckett, low. Club prizes were awarded to Mrs. Clarice Fisher, high, and Mrs. Inez Garrison, low.

Awards Made As Laketon School Closes Its Term

LAKETON, May 31—Closing exercises for the Laketon school were held Thursday evening. The Vanderburg trio from Pampa furnished the musical part of the program. The one-act play, "Who Gets the Car Tonight?" proved entertaining. The cast, John and Jonnie Paris, Mary Frances Jones, Franklin Russell, and Wiley Christopher performed their parts well. The new scenic backdrop and wings which were seen for the first time that evening, added much to the appearance of the stage.

W. B. Weathered, county superintendent, presented the awards. Dortha Paris and Ruth Godwin received seventh grade diplomas; Irene Godwin received a reading certificate; Carl Carter, a perfect attendance record certificate; Ruth Godwin received recognition as the best sport among the girls for the year; Willie Renner and Ralph Gillespie were recognized as a dual selection as the best sports among the boys.

About 115 persons enjoyed themselves Friday at the all-school picnic. Swimming and baseball proved the most interesting amusements—baseball which augured many a score and a half for the rest of the week. Barbecued beef, with Mason Davis as chef, salads, vegetables, cakes, pies, ice cream, and cold drinks provided the high spot of the day's program.

Mrs. Sallie Powell and niece of Muskogee, Oklahoma, are visiting this week with Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Colwell.

About the first of the week, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Arnett will move into their new home, built adjoining the postoffice. The Floyd McLaughlins will move into the residence vacated by the Arnetts, which will permit Mrs. Christopher to establish herself in her old home.

Pupils Give Plays At Close of School

By Mrs. Ernest Dowell.
FERNWORTH, May 31—Plays were presented by both rooms at the closing exercises of Back school Wednesday. Miss Lucille Scott of McLean has been employed as primary teacher for next term, and Grady Parsons will again teach the intermediate grades.

Pupils of the school were served ice cream and cakes by the room mothers at noon Tuesday.

Gwynne Carpenter, who has been a student at Mary Hardin-Baylor college at Belton, returned home Friday for the summer.

John and Charley Carpenter went to Buda Thursday to visit their mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Brown and her father, M. R. Travis of Tulsa, were in Pampa Saturday.

Mrs. Bob James entertained the Dish Towel club at her home Friday. The afternoon was spent by members in needlework.

COMMENCEMENT DEDICATED TO KEYS SISTERS Relatives Of Quads Attend Baylor Services

WACO, May 31 (AP)—Venerable Baylor university today dedicated its ninety-second annual commencement to the Keys quadruplets—Mary, Mona, Leota and Roberta—who were "thrilled to death" at the final honors of a college career.

They will be the first quadruplets in history to graduate from college when President Pat M. Neff, former governor of Texas, hands them diplomas officially labeling them as bachelors of art.

Mr. and Mrs. Flake Keys, their parents, were prouder, they said, than they were on June 4, 1915, when the four girls were born in Hollis, Oklahoma.

"People here tell me that our girls have gone unspoiled through their college career," said Leann, plain-spoken Flake Keys, small-town hardware merchant. "That's just the way we wanted it to be. They have always wanted to be themselves."

And Leota added she was glad, too, that she and her sisters are looked upon individuals and not "as something that comes in fours."

The quadruplets went to the graduation exercises in formal caps and gowns along with three hundred other Baylor university seniors, but they also wore neat print dresses made by their mother. She came down from Hollis a month ago for the fitting and sewing. She has made all of the girls' clothes since they were babies.

Mr. Keys gave each of his daughters a wrist watch as a graduation gift. Members of the Keys family from Texas and Oklahoma were on the Baylor campus for the commencement. Among them were their four elder sisters and brothers, the Misses Jack and Marjorie of Hollis and Charles of Hollis and Rex of Paducah, Texas.

Standing proudly and erect with the sisters was 88-year-old C. M. Keys of Oklahoma City, paternal grandfather, and another honored guest was their maternal grandmother, Mrs. J. H. Doolen of Hollis.

Four aunts, Mrs. Bertha K. Spooner of Oklahoma City, Mrs. V. A. Grison of Ardmore, Okla., Mrs. Elmer Sheppard of Ballinger, Texas, and Mrs. W. A. Knight of El Campo, Texas, and innumerable cousins held reserved seats for the exercises.

George Waverly Briggs, vice president of the First National Bank of Dallas, was commencement speaker.

The quadruplets plan to go on to Hollis immediately after graduation. They will be honored on the occasion of their twenty-second birthday, June 4, at the annual meeting of the Hollis High School association. Citizens of Hollis are planning a big picnic in honor of the sisters during the second week in June.

DIFFERENCES OVER RELIEF BILL SETTLED

WASHINGTON, May 31 (AP)—Administration leaders expressed the belief today they had composed all differences over the $1,500,000,000 relief bill except the proposal to earmark $150,000,000 for highway construction.

They said they were optimistic that disagreement might be adjusted speedily and the measure given final House approval tomorrow.

Representatives who had sought to designate specific sums for public works and flood control were described as satisfied by an understanding reached at a week-end conference between President Roosevelt and majority leader Rayburn. The agreement provided that $150,000,000 and $45,000,000, respectively, would be spent for those purposes.

Rayburn also talked with the President about the highway fund, but failed to gain an immediate understanding at a parley later with its supporters.

Chairman Cartwright (D-Okla.) of the House roads committee said it would consider the President's views tomorrow morning and decide on a course of action.

The differences were said to be principally on how relief funds for road construction should be spent. Informed persons represented the situation as follows:

A majority of the roads committee contended all expenditures should be by state highway commissions on a contract basis.

The President held that county highway boards should select the projects and obtain all necessary unskilled labor from WPA.

The public works, flood control and highway groups won tentative House approval last week for earmarked funds. Administration lead-

HOUSE COMMITTEE OKAYS REPEAL BILL

AUSTIN, May 31 (AP)—Battle lines in the controversy over repeal of legalized betting on horse races drew taut today in the Texas legislature.

The House had before it a favorable committee report on a bill outlawing the certificate system of wagering, legalized four years ago, and the Senate was ready to renew a battle to jockey a repeal measure to different committees favored by friends and foes of race track gambling.

Most observers looked to the House to repeal its action and throw the major portion of the struggle into the upper chamber where, Governor Alfred charged, a minority bloc prevented a clear cut vote on the issue in the general session.

A repeal bill introduced in the Senate had been sent to the criminal jurisprudence committee which has not called a meeting but senators favoring a repeal measure they would attempt to re-refer it to the Senate as a committee of the whole. Anti-repealists, on the other hand, want it considered by the state affairs group.

Doyle, Evelyn and Jim Bob Aulds left Saturday to visit their father, Clarence Aulds at Sunray. Later they will visit relatives in Louisiana.

An independent Democratic newspaper, publishing the news fairly and impartially at all times and supporting in its editorial columns the principles which it believes to be right and opposing those which it believes to be wrong, regardless of party politics.

DEFENSE OF THE INDIVIDUAL

Ogden Mills is making a series of lectures before the New School of Social Research on the subject of the Defense of the Individual.

There are a couple of rather unique and important statements made in Mr. Mill's address worthy of comment.

Mr. Mills says, "It must further be borne in mind that where a whole country constitutes one financial unit, so that losses in one place are covered by profits in another, the relatively minor reactions of a free economy may be eliminated only to pave the way for fewer but far more drastic reactions.

This consistently shows the difficulties of national planning.

In another place he endorses the statement made by Mr. Eccles of the Federal Reserve when he says: "There never has been a prolonged inflationary period that has not been accompanied and fed by an expansion of the means of payment."

We evidently are having plenty of expansion as a means of payment under the present borrowing plan.

In another place he points out that artificially low interest rates mean the suspension of the regulatory function of interest.

One of the most encouraging signs of the times is the good health and optimism that are returning to America's railroads.

On May 1 of this year the class one railroads had more new freight cars on order than on any corresponding date since 1926.

Obviously, this means that the railroads are not only doing a brisk business now but that they expect to go on doing a brisk business for some time to come.

Washington Letter

WASHINGTON—The agonizing loss suffered by New York City in closing of the strip-tease shows is not shared by Washington, which still broad-mindedly presents its public with a sight of the undraped feminine.

Indeed to close Washington's burlesque would virtually cut off the capital from whatever connection it has with the "legitimate" stage.

Helen Hayes, who used to live here, brought "Victoria Regina" for a short run and Lunt and Fontanne came on with "Idiot's Delight" to show to moderately good houses.

Free Show

Promoters complain Washington is not a good "show-town," all of which may be true in the technical sense.

They sit through performance after performance without benefit of program, or even the name of the play.

Harry Hopkins, WPA administrator, never has attempted to set up a federal theater project in Washington as in New York.

It's Moral

But Washington is filled with little "shows within shows," mostly dealing with politics and with an eye on the federal treasury.

TEX'S TOPICS

There's nothing of much interest in the capital city of the Top O' Texas this week but the Fiesta, which opens on Thursday for two full days and nights of fun, entertainment and reminiscences of the old buffalo country.

It will be the largest special edition of any newspaper ever published in Pampa, and we are going to feel a bit proud of it.

Tomorrow's Pampa Daily News will carry an 80-page tabloid Fiesta supplement in addition to the regular Tuesday edition of the paper.

One of these persons who worked hard at a difficult task in order to contribute something worthwhile to this special edition is Judge Newton P. Willis, of Pampa, who spent many days and nights writing a new and up-to-date history of Gray county and Gray county towns.

To Mrs. T. D. Hobart we are indebted for the rare, old books of early Western history which she so kindly lent to us for research purposes.

We are grateful, too, to Lynn Beutler, the Elk City, Okla., rodeo director, and to Pampa's own Jimmy Olsen, cowboy, for supplying much exceptionally fine material on the history of rodeo and the Western background of the old cow country which have been woven into some splendid stories of the West and the trail of the rodeo from its inception back in the eighties.

There is nothing about the big two-day celebration to be held in Pampa Thursday and Friday that will not be found in detail in tomorrow's paper which will be distributed to thousands of extra homes throughout the Top O' Texas area.

In addition to the part being played in the Fiesta by the Pampa Daily News, Radio Station KPND, too, is planning a full schedule of activity to "cover" the Top O' Texas celebration from every angle.

Pampa is going to have a celebration on Thursday and Friday, the like of which has not been seen in this section of the country.

actually thousands of the population are not in a lather about court packing.

As we were saying, the strip tease still runs here, but if anyone thinks the city has gone to pot morally, let him keep in mind that teachers for two years couldn't mention the dread-scurge of communism for fear of contaminating the immature mind.

This, That and Everything

BY WILLIAM HUSLEY CLARK

Very small things may produce proportionately great results. When we noticed in the paper how a bee in an automobile caused the driver to wreck, we may have thought that a very small cause to produce such jeopardizing results. It might have happened to most any one.

It is usually the little unexpected thing that gets us into trouble. For a bee to fly into a moving automobile and interfere with the person driving is an incident one who drives much may reasonably expect to come his way, sooner or later.

I suppose it is always easier to give advice than it is to take it, however, this should not hinder folk from making what they think is a good suggestion. It is a poor observer indeed who can not profit at least some from the experience of others.

BOOK A DAY

By BRUCE CATTON

Despite all the optimistic talk of recent years, child labor in America has not been abolished. It was not abolished by the NRA codes—the President of the United States—the contrary notwithstanding—and it remains a major blot on America's record, with some hundreds of thousands of youngsters being stunted mentally and physically each year by toil that ought to be going to adults.

So says Katherine Du Pre Lumpkin and Dorothy Douglas in "Child Workers in America" (McBride: $3.50), a comprehensive review of the present status of this century-old problem.

Dispassionately and methodically, these authors have surveyed the great fields of child exploitation and collected their evidence. It makes an appalling tale. In factories, in sweatshops, in agriculture—especially in agriculture—we are today using children, by the scores of thousands, on jobs that no child ought to have to shoulder.

They are not especially hopeful about the future, either. Even if the child labor amendment passes, they say, much will remain to be done. For in the long run, child labor is simply a dark shadow cast by poverty. Parents do not permit their children to work because they are mean and heartless; they do it because they are absolutely desperate.

This is an exceptionally useful book. I can only hope that it will open people's eyes to the continuing extent of a problem which most of us had innocently supposed was well on the way to solution.

So They Say:

No one can deny that women are by nature better than men. Also, women are braver than men. Ask any physician or nurse who has attended both.

No degree of forethought can be regarded as a certain prevention of war. All we can do is to legislate as far as we can see.

OILERS WILL PLAY CLINTON TOMORROW NIGHT WITH BAUGH AT S. S.

WELCOME FOR FAMOUS GRID AGE PLANNED

Sammy Baugh, All-American football player, baseball and basketball flash from Texas Christian University who joined the Pampa Oilers baseball team last Friday, will be officially welcomed to Pampa tomorrow night when the Clinton, Okla., baseball team comes to Pampa for a game.

The game will be designated "Sammy Baugh Welcome night." Play will be at 8:30 o'clock at Road Runner park with admission 40 cents. The "slinger" will be at shortstop where he worked Saturday in a 20 to 6 victory over Littlefield and yesterday in a 6 to 1 triumph over Amherst.

With Al Summers, Baugh worked nicely in a double play combination that killed several rallies. He can go to the right or to the left and can throw strikes to first base, according to manager Fred Brickell.

Clinton is said to have one of the best clubs in that section of the state. The team is sponsored by the Clinton Junior chamber of commerce and has been holding its own against all opposition in the area.

"We feature three good pitchers and some deadly hitting," the Clinton manager informed Harold Miller in a telephone conversation.

On Friday night the Oilers will take a trip to Duncan, Okla., where they will play the Halliburton Cementers. On Saturday and Sunday afternoons the Oilers will be in Wichita Falls for games.

PHILLIPS WINS TWIN BILL FROM LUBBOCK

The Phillips 66 Oilers, of Borger, door mat for other Panhandle teams, won a doubleheader in Lubbock yesterday afternoon 6 to 5 and 8 to 5. Luke Coburn was the winning pitcher in both games.

Both games were thrillers. Lefty Blanchard and Lefty Newman tangle in a pitcher's battle in the first, Luke Coburn relieving Newman for Amarillo in the 8th and hitting and scoring the winning run in the 9th.

Lubbock spotted Amarillo 7 runs in the first inning of the second game as Lefty Beas Pair, Lubbock chunker, had a bad time. Slim Spradlin, righthander, opposed Coburn for the rest of the game and pitched great ball.

CHICAGO (AP)—When a burglar entered his apartment, Captain H. Wirt Butler of the Illinois National Guard was concentrating on a bridge game and failed to notice the intruder. Police reported. However, the thief must have suffered a nervous attack later, they said, for in his loot were several medals won by Captain Butler's marksmanship.

BEE, BEHAVE

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Eldred Beckhead, Riverton, Utah, had a battle with a bee. The casualties were cuts and bruises on Eldred, a broken steel light pole, a small tree knocked down and three smashed mail boxes. Eldred told police he lost control of his motor car when he tried to brush the bee away from his car.

Pirates Drop Cardinals To 4th Place With 7 To 4 Win

By SID FEDER.

Associated Press Staff Writer.

Frankie Frisch will now lead the chorus in those St. Louis pitching blues.

Joining in with him and his Gas House Gangsters will be those betting boys who completely overlooked the small matter of a pitching staff—or lack of it—when they installed the Cardinals as favorites for the National league pennant.

With only two "known quantities" and possibly a third thrower able to keep up in fast company, as the limit of the Cards' varsity flinging brigade, it begins to look like a dark summer for the crew from St. Lou.

Even Dizzy Dean, the old dependable, has been held out since and has lost a third decision in his last four starts. And Lon Warneke, the ex-Cub who was supposed to "make" the Cardinals this season, looked none too strong in bowing out in six innings his last time out.

The rest of the loop is already taking it out on the Cards. In the past week they have dropped from second to fourth place, and right now they're only two games out of the second division.

Just when they needed pitchers most, they've been held out for their toughest series with the dangerous Pirates, they ran short of them.

As a result, the Bucs landed on Ray Harrell and three other assorted throwers yesterday for 12 hits and a 7-4 win, with Paul Wanner leading the attack.

While dropping the Cards to fourth place, the Pirates strengthened their first place hold to 1 1/2 games, since the Giants were on the short end of a 6-3 count against the Phillies and Lefty Lamaster.

Larry French, who won his first game with a four-hit performance, pitching the Cubs into third place by a 7-1 victory over Cincinnati, thereby striking the Reds' losing streak to eight.

The Yankees routed the Athletics completely, sweeping the series with a 13-1 win yesterday behind Lefty Gomez' effective hurling, but their 15-hit attack fell short of two 20 hitters posted by the Boston Bees and Detroit Tigers.

The Bees staged an eight-run spurge in the seventh frame to trounce the Brooklyn Dodgers, 11-4. The Tigers, with Hank Greenberg and Gerry Walker each walloping a pair of homers, panned back the ears of the St. Louis Browns, 18-3.

Pete Appleton limited the Red Sox to seven hits and drove in six runs himself as the Washington Senators swamped Boston 11-4. Chicago's White Sox banked out 14 hits to conquer Cleveland 9-6.

Reefing the Stays

Back in "them good old days" the gals used to wear foundation garments of whalebone, steel, asbestos and shoe laces. That hour glass figure was the thing. "Show hat" stars will also wear corsets, leg lace panties and iron padded underwear. Jean Collins is the latest victim in this picture while Gladys Coan reefs topsails and puts whaleheartedly on the stays. "Show Hat" is one of the feature attractions of the Pan American Exposition.

Cochrane May Play Baseball Again

NEW YORK, May 31 (AP)—Mickey Cochrane, who has surmounted every obstacle in his big league career, may come back from his most severe injury, a fractured skull, to play big league baseball again.

Physicians are definitely hopeful that "Iron Mike" would recover from the injury he received when hit by Bump Hadley's pitch at the Yankee stadium last Tuesday. What's more they felt he might be able to play again.

"Mr. Cochrane has been steadily improving. The danger of meningitis has greatly diminished," said yesterday's bulletin, issued by the New York Yankees' doctor, Robert E. Walsh, and Dr. Byron Stookey, brain specialist.

"Barring this complication, we expect Mr. Cochrane to recover completely," the bulletin continued, "and against join his team."

BEAUMONT ON TOP AGAIN IN TEXAS LEAGUE

(By The Associated Press.)

TODAY'S SCHEDULE:
 Dallas at Oklahoma City (2), day.
 Fort Worth at Tulsa (2), day.
 Galveston at Houston, night.
 San Antonio at Beaumont, day.
 Beaumont's Exporters were back on top in the hectic Texas league race today after sweeping a double header from Galveston yesterday, 8-3 and 4-1, while Oklahoma City divided a twin bill with the Fort Worth Cats, 3-1 and 4-6.

The split dropped the Indians to second place, a game behind the Shippers and the Cats trailed in third place, three games behind Oklahoma City.

Boots Poffenberger hung up his eighth win of the season in turning back Galveston in the opener. Arch Patchin, right-hander late of Toledo, limited the Bucs to two hits, both singles, in the nightcap.

Southpaw Jack Brillheart of Oklahoma City won his ninth game of the year by limiting Fort Worth to seven hits but the Panthers pounded three Indian hurlers for 11 blows in the second. Paul Easterling was the batting star. He had two homers in his four hits. He batted in two runs and scored the other for Oklahoma City in the first game.

San Antonio had a field day with Houston, winning 17-4 and clouting four Buff hurlers for 19 hits. Bob Muericoff got a nine-run lead behind him in the first two innings. His wildness in the seventh resulted in three Houston runs. The other was on an error and a balk in the eighth.

There was a parade of pitchers at Tulsa as the Oilers took the series final from the Dallas Steers, 12-8. Tulsa piled up an early lead. Bruce Connatser and Hubert Bates each drove in three Oiler runs.

AMERICANS EXPECT GERMANS TO BE NEXT DAVIS CUP FOES

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., May 31 (AP)—American tennis followers still have their fingers crossed today, so far as Davis Cup prospects for 1937 are concerned, but there's no question that current hopes have soared higher than in years as a result of the rout of the Australians in the latest international test for our racket-swinging youth.

With this afternoon's closing pair of singles matches amounting to nothing more than exhibitions, after the third and deciding victory yesterday by the doubles team of Don Budge and Gene Mako, speculation focussed upon the European objectives.

The fact that Australia was far short of its full strength, due to illness that put the Anzac ace, Adrian Quist, out of competition, took considerable glamour from America's one-sided triumph.

All hands expect Germany to be the "team to beat." The Teutons, featuring Baron Gottfried von Cramm, are favored to emerge as the European zone finalists.

Rated off their two-day performance, Budge and company appeared strong enough to cope with the Australians, even if the latter had been at full strength. Against Crawford, Budge looked unbeatable and there was rarely any doubt about the doubles outcome as the red headed pair with Mako to trounce Crawford and Vivian McGrath yesterday, 7-5, 6-1, 8-6.

In today's competition, Budge was bracketed with Jack Bromwich, 18-year-old substitute for Quist, in the first match, at 1 p. m. (EST). Grant winds up the series against Crawford.

Hatchet Slaying Will Be Probed

PLAINVIEW, May 31 (AP)—The Hale county grand jury was to convene today to investigate a charge of murder against Dick Brady, 19-year-old Plainview resident, in connection with the hatchet slaying five months ago of E. T. Hamner near Plainview.

Sheriff J. K. Hooper of Hale county said Brady made a statement in connection with the case yesterday at Coleman, Brady, a laborer, was arrested for questioning May 21 by members of the Texas department of safety.

Sheriff Hooper said Brady made the statement in the presence of himself, Captain Hamm of the state highway patrol; A. L. Barr, senior investigating officer for the department of public safety, and County Attorney Baker and Sheriff Mike Mills of Coleman county.

Hammer, about 60, was slain at his service station and home Dec. 28. His face and head bore 27 slashes from an instrument believed to have been a blood-stained hatchet found in the place.

Hooper said Brady's statement told of an affray over a domino game and of Hammer threatening him with a knife.

AMERICANS EXPECT GERMANS TO BE NEXT DAVIS CUP FOES

As the sun was sinking over the hills of the Pittsburgh Field club yesterday, Denny finally caught young Harold "Jug" McSpaden, of Winchester, Mass.

They were all square after 36 holes and moved to the thirty-seventh, the No. 1 hole. A man with less courage might have weakened there, for not once in the preceding five rounds had Denny been able to make in a part on it. The championship as well as $1,000 in prize money rode on that one hole. But not a muscle in his poker face gave sign of the panic that must have been in his heart.

He banged one down the middle and after McSpaden had driven in the rough and skidded through a trap with his approach, Denny clipped a 4-iron shot that covered the pin all the way and dropped 18 feet short. McSpaden chipped eight feet away.

But Shute wasn't content with a half. Fully realizing this hole had caused him trouble, he still disdained to play safe. He struck his putt badly past the cup and holed it coming back to grab the title, as "Jug" McSpaden missed.

SHUTE WEARS PGA'S CROWN

PITTSBURGH, May 31 (AP)—Denny Shute, the cold emotionless Boston golfer with nerves of steel, wore the professional championship crown again today because he conquered his jinx hole when the chips were down.

As the sun was sinking over the hills of the Pittsburgh Field club yesterday, Denny finally caught young Harold "Jug" McSpaden, of Winchester, Mass.

REYNOLDS SMITH WINS SULPHUR SPRINGS MEET

SULPHUR SPRINGS, May 31 (AP)—Reynolds Smith, Texas golf amateur champion from Dallas, had another title to add to his long string today.

Smith, former Walker Cup team member, won the Sulphur Springs Country Club invitation tournament yesterday, defeating his fellow townsman, Don Schumacher, 2 and 1 in the finals.

In doing so Smith lowered the Sulphur Springs course record by a stroke, shooting a 65 on the second 18 holes. He was one down on the morning round but came back with a rush that was not to be denied.

OILERS BEAT AMHERST; DUNCAN TRIP PLANNED

The Pampa Oilers won a 6 to 1 game in Amherst yesterday afternoon. M. P. Downs, who accompanied the team, and the scorebook could not be located this morning and all-ights of the game were not available.

Another trip will be taken by the Oilers when they go to Duncan, Okla., next Friday night and to Wichita Falls on Saturday and Sunday afternoons.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

(By The Associated Press.)

Pete Appleton, Senators: Limited Red Sox to seven hits and drove in six runs himself in 11-4 victory.

Larry French, Cubs: Beat Reds 7-1, allowing four hits and fanning five.

Gerry Walker and Hank Greenberg, Tigers: Each hit two homers, Walker driving in seven runs and Greenberg five in 18-3 victory over Browns.

Gene Moore, Bees: Hit homer, triple and single, sending four runs across in 11-4 win over Dodgers.

Paul Wanner, Pirates: Drove in three runs with homer, double and single and scored three himself to beat Cardinals 7-4.

Wayne Lamaster, Phillies: Stopped Giants 6-3, allowing nine hits and fanning six in eight innings.

Zeke Bonura, White Sox: Hit double and two singles, driving in five runs in 9-6 win over Indians.

Lefty Gomez, Yankees: Stopped Athletics with seven hits, fanning five, and drove in one run with single in 13-1 win.

Baffling Harry Bennett Filled Up Ford Factory With Spies, Ex-Convicts

By WILLIS THORNTON NEA Service Staff Correspondent DETROIT, May 29—The aggressive C. I. O. unionization drive on the Ford Motor Co. at Dearborn, which has already met with the beating up of two union organizers at one of the River Rouge plant gateways, inevitably draws attention to Harry Bennett.

Bennett is the most shadowy, legendary figure in Detroit. For years one has heard his name whispered up and down the town. Especially since the tension strikes and the increasing tension between the C. I. O. and unorganized Ford's, you hear the whispers more and more often, "Harry Bennett, Harry Bennett." Few of the people who whisper his name really know anything about him. For there are at least two Harry Bennetts. Maybe three.

One Bennett is the one you hear described around the union halls. He is the super-Pinkerton who runs the most elaborate espionage system in the world, whose operatives check the numbers of every car parked within blocks of a union meeting. He is the man whose "service men" patrol the Ford plant in twos and threes, eyes cocked for trouble and noting every group when two or more men talk together. The man who lives and works in a veritable citadel and whose records tell him at a glance how many times every Ford employe has talked to union organizers, and how much he owes the butcher.

That is One Picture He is the man who has organized a vigilante force of 1,000 favored Ford workers, pledged to eject instantly any fellow-employe who shows signs of wanting to "sit down." The man who has mysterious knowledge of the underworld enabling him to solve crimes that baffled the regular police, and to fill up the Ford plant with ex-convicts who owe him so much they will do anything for him. In short, a ruthless, hard-boiled, bull-necked desperado who will do anything to prevent unions getting a hold at Ford's.

Then, There Is Ford's Picture There is another Bennett. It is the Ford picture of a man who has worked his way to the top through sheer ability and faithfulness, an ex-gob who went up through policing to genuine industrial statesmanship; whose defense against union intrusion at Ford consists simply in a just labor policy that insures equal pay with any other auto plant, and protects the worker against arbitrary firing by his foreman.

No foreman fires a man directly at Ford's. He sends the man to Bennett's personnel office, and there he is usually given another assignment in the plant. This Bennett is the one who believes in giving ex-convicts a chance and who hires them only for the highest social motive. It is the man who has done hundreds of little kindnesses to children and down-and-outers, who paints portraits, thinks Moby Dick the greatest story ever written, and has rendered service on the Michigan Prison Commission.

Somewhere Between the Two Somewhere between these pictures is the Bennett you see when you go to his office in the basement of the Ford general offices at Dearborn. Behind a large desk, answering first to time a phone that hisses softly instead of ringing, sits Bennett. His lieutenant drifts in and out, and over the phone go crisp suggestions to Ford plant managers and gruff orders to his own "service department" men out on the job in various plants. Bennett, who was a top-class lightweight boxer in the navy during the World War, under the name of Sailor Reese, still has the nervous, impatient, tightdrawn manner that goes with it. Snappy suit, bow tie, blue shirt without vest, scarred face, and restless eyes figure in the picture.

Bennett was in the intelligence department of the navy during the war, and was assigned to stop sabotage that was ruining the motors of Eagle Boats which Ford was then building to end the submarine menace. Bennett stopped it, and drew the attention of Edsel and Henry Ford.

Broke Up Kidnaping They hired him after the war, partly as personal bodyguard and family detective, partly in building up the Ford private police system. He is still regarded as "Ford's personal man" rather than a central employe of the Ford Motor Co. He is credited with breaking up at least one attempt to kidnap Edsel Ford's children, and he certainly helped to solve Detroit's Jackie Thompson kidnaping case in 1919. Some $20,000 paid by Jackie's father was "information" was paid back to him in the Ford office in the presence of Detroit police. And shortly afterward police got on the track of the kidnapers and Jackie was returned.

Soon after that, Bennett's car was peppered with bullets on the Ypsilanti road. He always claimed he was just caught in the cross-fire of a bootleg feud. Much the same thing happened only a few weeks ago when five men drove their car into the side of Bennett's on Greenfield road. Bennett jumped out, his own car went over the curb and into a tree. He drew his revolver with which he is a sure shot, and the other car fled.

Murt by Flying Brick Bennett was quite seriously injured by a flying brick when he stepped out between his police and marchers who approached the Ford plant in 1932 precipitating a bloody riot. Bennett nearly died this time. Deep-sea diver, amateur photographer, detective, saxophone player, boxer, pistol expert, lover of Chow dogs, disliker of flowers, "practical sociologist." Bennett is a story-book character whose life may compass still another story as labor violence again stalks the borders of Dearborn.

SKYSLEEPER PLANES WILL FLY OVER ROUTE

The greatest aircraft operating over any transport system in the United States will be placed in service June 1 when the new Skysleeper planes of Transcontinental & Western Air, Inc. go into operation over the company's coast to coast route. Such was the announcement today of Jack Fyfe, president of the air transport company.

Coincidentally enough, the inauguration of service with its new Skysleepers will come only a few days after the tenth anniversary of the historic New York-to-Paris flight of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh whose daring dash across the Atlantic did so much to point the way to this newest development in air transport. It was Col. Lindbergh who surveyed the route operated by TWA, an act which coupled with his subsequent affiliation with the company led to the company's characterization as "The Lindbergh Line."

The new Skysleeper aircraft now on the verge of entering service for TWA are the greatest in this country in points of load carrying capacity, power, speed and other factors which must be reckoned in maintaining the company's position as a leader in world air transport. With adequate space and power to warrant a federal permit to transport twenty-five passengers, each of the new Skysleepers has been so arranged as to carry seventeen passengers in night service thus providing more than enough space for the utmost comfort as travelers are transported overnight from coast to coast.

On Capitol Hill

BY HARRELL E. LEE. AUSTIN, May 31 (AP)—Regardless of the harsh things said two years ago against the fee system of compensating officers, a proposed constitutional amendment authorizing a return to that method slid through the legislature with surprising ease. The House vote was 126 to 0 and that in the Senate 27 to 3. Both branches acted the same day.

Opposition sprang up, however, immediately after the public learned of the legislature's decision, and foes of the proposal expressed confidence it would not get nearly so large a majority at the polls Aug. 23. Governor Allred, who voted with the majority two years ago for discontinuance of the fee system, strongly urged submission of the amendment.

"I think," he said "that the abolition of the fee system, with all its faults, was one of the biggest mistakes we ever have made. The cost to the state under the salary system, is 70 per cent above what it was. In addition, it absolutely bankrupted the counties." The chief executive said the new method not only had proved very costly but had "utterly failed to produce as good a type of service as under the old system."

Former Senator George C. Purl of Dallas, a member of the legislative committee which investigated operation of the fee system, promptly took issue with the governor. He said an argument that a fireman's pay should be based upon the number of fires in a community would be just as logical as one that the remuneration of a sheriff should be determined by the number of arrests he makes in a given period. Purl said chances of the amendment being adopted would be increased because officeholders would unite in its support. The first persons to speak here in opposition to the proposal echoed his view.

The Railroad Commission each year gives the senior petroleum engineering students in the University of Texas and A. & M. college a week of training in the oil fields. Commissioners recently received a letter in which the 34 A. & M. seniors expressed their appreciation for an opportunity to spend a week in the East Texas field, the world's largest pool of oil.

The students are given practical experience in making bottomhole pressure tests, testing casing, and other engineering work.

Each June the commission offers jobs to a number of the outstanding new graduates of Texas A. & M., Texas Tech, and the College of Arts and Industries at Kingsville.

BLUE NOTES KANSAS CITY—The first meeting of the newest extra-curricular activity of Kansas City's Blue Coats is a choir—come off with success. G. S. Stanton, English professor and choir master, characterized the 10 policemen who participated as fine material, especially the "tenors and basses."

Baby chicks hatched before June will have plenty of time to become producers and catch the good egg market between October and February.

THE SECRETARY BIRD, OF AFRICA, IS A BIRD OF PREY, THE SAME AS EAGLES AND HAWKS, BUT, SINCE IT SECURES ITS PREY ON THE GROUND INSTEAD OF IN MID-AIR, IT HAS DEVELOPED POWERFUL LEGS.

ANT RICE (ANT EGGS) IS AN IMPORTANT ARTICLE OF FOOD IN AFRICA.

FLOWERS OF THE LITTLE ELEPHANT PLANT HAVE A COMICAL RESEMBLANCE TO THE TRUNKS OF MINIATURE ELEPHANTS.

THE secretary bird bears a close resemblance to other birds of prey, with the exception of its legs. These have developed into long, powerful weapons, with which it stamps out the life of snakes - its favorite prey. A snake stands small chance against the lightning-like thrusts of the leg, which are armed at the feet with sharp claws.

TROOP 80. Appreciation of the things Bill Coons, Doyle Auld, Bert Isbell, Ed Terrell and Bobby Frailey have done for themselves and for the troop while they have been members of it, was expressed at the troop meeting Thursday night. The five boys have left or will leave soon for the summer. They are members of the "old guard" and have been with the troop since it was organized under the present scoutmaster.

Bill has been patrol leader of the Razorback patrol which he named, and James Archer, assistant, was elected to succeed him. Billy Mounts was named assistant. The name of the patrol will never be changed. Walter Word will automatically become patrol leader of the Flaming Arrow patrol, succeeding Doyle, Junior Foster and Omer Harrell were elected assistants. Bill Harrell, associate senior patrol leader was in charge, a boxing card entertained the boys for an hour. Scout Executive Roberts was present at the meeting and advised staff penalties be assessed against absentees. A total of 29 boys were present.

The best boxing match of the evening was between Jimmy Shoffer and Doug Keyser. Bill Arthur and Bert Isbell also put on a good fight, as did Howard Jensen and Doyle Auld.

Jimmy Shoffer showed signs he might succeed Bill Coons as the troop's best boxer. Bill gave a farewell exhibition by boxing with Colton Smith.

Boys who came up for the board of review last Monday night are urged to attend the Court of Honor tonight at the district court room in the county court house. Boys must come up at both Board of Review and Court of Honor in order to be eligible for attending any camping trip. After this month, all life Scouts must come up for one merit badge in order to go on trips, it was decided.

Those present: James Archer, Bill Coons, Jack Smith, Billy Mounts, Jack Baker, Max Brown, Bert Isbell, Jimmy Shoffer, Howard Jensen, Glenn Roberts, L. V. McDonell, Bobby Frailey, Ira A. Van Houten, James Van Houten, De Ford, Eren Jensen, Bill Arthur, Jack Crow, Edward Wilkins, Archie Brown, Wynald LaCasse, Doyle Auld, Omer Harrell, Keeton Rhodes, Douglas Keyser, Junior Foster, Nevin Johnston was excused on account of the mumps. Ed Terrell was also excused. Walter Cole was a popular visitor. Bobby Gilchrist also visited the troop.

LAST CALL ISSUED FOR JAMBOREE BOY SCOUTS Last call for Boy Scouts to sign for the Jamboree in Washington May 30 to June 9 has been made. Chairman M. A. Graham of the Adobe Wells council Jamboree committee has issued a call for Scouters over the area to meet in the high school gymnasium promptly at 7:30 o'clock Tuesday night, 30 minutes before the training course begins.

Jamboree plans will be outlined so that adults will become familiar with the plans for the Jamboree which will be an educational trip for boys.

To date, only eight boys from this council have registered for the trip. Mr. Graham said yesterday, "Three of the boys and a scoutmaster come from Guymon, Okla., in the drought area. Only two of the boys are from Pampa."

It is hoped by the committee that a full troop of 32 boys can be sent from the Adobe Wells council which is recognized as one of the leading councils in the southwest. Total cost of the trip is only $80. The boys will leave, under competent adult leaders, on May 24.

CHAPTER IV. The days passed quickly. Becoming more clock-like with every passing hour. Pats ran her little office with a master hand. She wrote letters, answered the telephone, handled love-sick femininely, reporters and budding authors with tactful efficiency. And she learned to wait with feverish anticipation for the rare times when Don sent for her, when she found him tumbled as to hair, exultant with creative prowess.

At these times he needed a listener. His self-imposed exile lacked the one thing to which he was accustomed, companionship. To him she was not a personality, simply a human being who would listen. Stubbornly she clung to her self-effacing role.

She was desperately lonely. As the plain and capable Miss Warren she dared have no contacts with anyone and so carefully did she live her part that her own gay, fun-loving nature became almost a stranger. Night after night she sat in some obscure theater where one of Don's pictures was having a second or third run and at these times she was neither Pats nor Miss Warren. She was a dreamy-eyed woman in love, waiting for the man who would finish her work. Pats went to the drug store for a sustaining malted milk. Stepping from the elevator on her return she saw a girl enter her office. The living room door beyond stood open. As plans for the circumvention of the girl's obvious intention flitted through her mind, Don appeared in the act of closing the door.

"Rosie..." he gasped and Pats received the impression that his cordiality was more than a little forced. Rosie—that was the name of the girl whose letter he had refused to answer. "How are you?" He extended his hand but the girl ignored it. With a glad cry she threw her arms around his neck and kissed him lingeringly.

The girl was pretty in a hard, brittle way. She was tall and willowy, her hair was definitely red, her eyes luminously brown. Pats, busying herself at the desk, could not help hearing every word that was said. She thought the girl a trifle overdone, too perfect as to lipstick and rouge, the waves of her hair too painfully even, the little curls in front of her ears too obviously arranged.

"It thought you were in Hollywood," Don said, extricating himself from the girl's embrace. "What happened to your contract?" "It was a beastly contract," Rosie complained. "I walked out on it."

"Not a very wise procedure in the picture game," Don commented mildly. "Rosie's tone became sweetly aggrieved. 'I was lost without you, Don.' Hesitating the fraction of a second, she asked, childishly, wistful, 'You wanted me to come, didn't you?'"

"Naturally, I'm glad to see you," the gentleman in Don responded. "I knew you would be, Don," she went eagerly on. "I have an idea, you know Baker is producing another red-head show in New York. It's the chance I've been waiting for. You'll help me get in, won't you?" "Now listen, Rosie—" Don's tone was faintly exasperated. "I knew you wouldn't fail me," she interrupted. "You're my own darling and of course you'll help me."

Her voice fairly dripped with ingratiating sweetness. "Honestly I'd like to, Rosie. You know I've always helped you in the past, but I have no drag with Baker."

"Don't be silly, Don." Out of the corner of her eye Pats saw the brilliant blonde cross the room and perch herself on the arm of Don's chair. A consuming tury suddenly possessed Pats. "Don, darling," Rosie cooed, with her cheek pressed to his. "You wouldn't let me down. All I need is an introduction to Baker."

"Sorry, Rosie." He disengaged her clinging arms and got to his feet. "Look," he went on—it was obviously a last stand—"I got you a place in the pictures when you came to me in Hollywood. That was your chance."

"But I was lonely without you," she laid her bright, smooth head on his shoulder. "They weren't nice to me, Don," she said pathetically. Pats heard Don leave a great sigh, knew that he had lost the battle.

"I'll do what I can," he said quietly. "We'll see Baker tomorrow." Rosie threw her arms around his neck, she laughed and kissed him. She danced away and back to kiss him again. Her tears had vanished. "Darling, darling, Don," she gushed, Pats, furious, picked up the telephone directory and slammed it down. Behind the ridiculous glasses her eyes filled with angry tears. What right had this girl to impose herself upon Don? Usurping Rosie to the door, he stopped beside Pats' desk.

"This is Rosamond Akers," he announced in a tired voice. "My secretary, Rosie, Miss—er—Warren."

Pats murmured something, politely. Rosie nodded briefly, darting amused glances from Pats to Don. Plainly her expression said, "Where in the world did you find this?" Pats felt the color creep into her cheeks, but they had forgotten her.

"You'll take me to dinner, won't you, Don?" Rosie asked, prettily. He thrust his hands into his trouser pockets with a gesture of futility. "I suppose so," he sighed. "Some lovely place," she caroled rapturously. "I want to walk in and have people stare at me and wonder who the girl is with Don Monterey. I have a duck of a gown, Don. You'll be proud of me."

He was edging her toward the door. "I'm in 1014. Come down in about an hour." With a wave of her white hand she was gone.

Pats said, "If you'll sign these letters, Mr. Monterey—I'm sorry to be so late."

Don passed his hand over his handsome head. "Oh-h," he muttered. "Is there no limit?" He threw out his arms in helpless, half-comical gesture. "I'm in for it," he stated. "Let the letters go till tomorrow, 'd you mind?'"

"Certainly, Mr. Monterey," Pats cleared her desk and prepared to depart. Don dropped into a chair, seemed inclined to talk.

"When I was a kid in Missouri, Rosie's father was our yard man. They lived in a cottage on the place. I used to play with the boys. Akers was a fine old chap." He frowned thoughtfully. "I don't remember Rosie in those days; she says she was a mere baby. I would have sworn there was only one girl, older. She would have been about 27 or 28 now."

To herself Pats said, "That's Rosie. Men are so easily fooled." Don talked on moodily. "My mother was awfully good to them, we all were, and when Rosie appeared in Hollywood I turned heaven and earth to help her. I guess I started something," he ended with a rueful shrug.

Pats put on her hat—she had a savage impulse to trample it under her feet—but her loosely hanging jacket and stood, darkly-gloved hands folded over her neat purse. For the first time in her life she was seething with jealousy, green-eyed with hate. Another woman was going out tonight with Don Monterey.

And she, Pats, with her golden curls hidden, the roses in her cheeks camouflaged with nasty make-up, the beautiful lines of her figure caricatured with frumpy clothes, stormed inwardly at the cruel injustice of fate.

"Good night," she said, and Don looked up, startled out of his harassed thoughts. "Oh—goodnight."

The street lights blurred before Pats' eyes as she trudged home in her hateful shoes.

BLASTED THEORY

DETROIT (AP)—Anthony Hessler isn't so sure about the efficiency of his automobile burglar proofing. He fixed up his car with sirens which sounded, in rehearsal, if a window was broken, a door forced, or the ignition unlocked, but thieves opened a door and removed a bag containing $400.

PREPAREDNESS ADVOCATED BY JUDGE NELSON

Preparedness—not for war, but for peace—is what America needs, Judge E. C. Nelson of Amarillo told a large audience at the Memorial Day service of the American Legion in First Baptist church here last night.

"America must be prepared," he said, "in order that the men whom we honor here tonight have not fought in vain. We do not mean that we should prepare for war but that we should be prepared to insure everlasting peace.

"If we are not prepared, eventually we will find ourselves on the bottom of the pile, and being attacked by nations who are prepared."

The program opened with the invocation by Judge James Todd, followed by the singing of America by the assembly. Charles J. Maisel, commander of Kerley-Crossman post of the American Legion, made the opening address.

The Pampa Lions club quartet, composed of H. D. Balthrope, A. E. Hickman, K. I. Dunn, and R. A. Rose, sang "Rock of Ages."

Judge C. E. Cary delivered an informal address based on memories of war time days. A male chorus sang "Haven of Rest."

The remainder of the program included vibratone solo, "Perfect Day," by Howard House; "In Flanders Fields" by R. G. Hughes, response "America's Answer" by Arthur Teed; anthem, "Lead Me, Saviour" by Davis; Harry Miner and choir; singing of "Star Spangled Banner" by the assembly; American Legion auxiliary, Mrs. Al Lawson, honor to Gold Star mothers, Mrs. Estella Pollard, Mrs. Alice Crossman.

Benediction was said by Paul Hill and taps were sounded by Jim Haynes, Jr.

Sunday morning, the auxiliaries of the American Legion and of the Veterans of Foreign Wars decorated graves at Fairview cemetery.

Veterans of Foreign Wars and representatives of Boy Scouts and other groups marched in a parade at 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, which was followed by a ritual service at the cemetery.

MARKET REPORTS

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, May 31. (AP)—Lower foreign markets influenced an easier opening in cotton here today and first trades showed losses of 2 to 3 points. Trading was extremely narrow. Reports of rains in drought sections of the west and general unrest in Europe added to the early nervousness and made brokers unwilling to transact new business.

The holiday in New York also tended to restrict business. July contracts opened at 12.55, Oct. at 12.65, Dec. at 12.75, Jan. at 12.75 and March 12.75. A few small buying orders were encountered after the start and the two contract positions recovered a point or two from the opening low.

The trading ring was deserted most of the morning but a drizzle of offerings appeared from time to time, induced by continued reports of rain in dry areas. Toward mid-session active action was being taken to 12 points under the previous close.

July contracts traded off to 12.55, Oct. to 12.65, and Dec. to 12.65. Other positions were inactive at the opening figures. A private weather summary said higher temperatures were experienced over the weekend in the belt with considerable rain in sections of Oklahoma, the remainder of the belt showed up mostly dry.

WASHINGTON, May 31 (AP)—Long lines still form on Arlington's sloping hills.

Today and yesterday they came not to fight, nor to talk over political teacups, but to mourn and pay tribute to America's soldier dead. Fifty thousand who have worn the colors of their country lie in Arlington National cemetery—that historic acreage across which many of the nation's great have moved in life and slept in death.

GEORGE FISHER BAKER DIES ON HIS YACHT

HONOLULU, May 31 (AP)—The body of George Fisher Baker, leader of American finance, lay on the yacht Viking, today, his passing marked by the drama he shunned during his life. The 59-year-old banker, titular head of the First National Bank of New York, died yesterday morning from complications of peritonitis, with which he was stricken while on his first vacation trip since his marriage 30 years ago.

PRINTERS' UNION SECEDES

DALLAS, May 31 (AP)—Jesse H. Hicks president of the local typographical union, announced today that the local had seceded from the Dallas central labor council. Hicks said the action was in protest to the action of the council in suspending the striking Garment workers union, a unit backed by the C. I. O.

dealing with the Madrid-Valencia government.

The German fleet was ordered to Spanish waters to aid fighting ships already there, under orders to shoot at sight at any Spanish government warship or airplane.

The Reich's government will not participate in the control-system (neutrality patrol to prevent arms and munitions shipments to Spain) nor sessions of the non-intervention committee as long as no guarantee is given that such happenings will not recur," a Berlin communique asserted.

British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden appealed to Germany to take no action which would "render the present grave situation more serious."

The French naval ministry and the British admiralty hastily consulted each other. Foreign officers of the two nations were in frequent telephonic communication.

The neutrality committee postponed momentarily an extraordinary session to hear German representations on Saturday's bombardment of the Deutschland by Spanish warplanes in the harbor of Ibiza, Spanish Mediterranean Isle, to await developments.

All Germany Aroused

There was no exact announcement of Germany's next step.

The communique to the neutrality committee observed warningly that the Reich "will decide according to its own ideas on measures to be taken toward the red rulers."

A German foreign office spokesman intimated there would be no immediate warlike action—the sending of additional ships to Spain, he said, was to relieve fighting craft already there and to provide convoy for the damaged Deutschland and other returning warships.

All Germany was roused, however, to high pitch of excitement. Crowds gathered before the foreign office and the Reichschancellery. German officialdom rushed to the foreign office for consultation.

A Berlin spokesman said the Almeria port was destroyed, after a brief bombardment by Spanish batteries there—but that the German men-of-war carefully refrained from endangering civilians, and that the attack was strictly a military reprisal.

The Madrid-Valencia government however, reported the death of civilians, announced that 56 persons were killed, that 40 houses were destroyed and eight others badly damaged.

200 Shells Fired

More than 200 shells were pumped into the city in the half-hour attack at early morning.

One heavy German war vessel and four destroyers participated, the Febus (Spanish government) news agency reported.

Dr. Negrin, a socialist leader, formed his cabinet May 17 after Premier Francisco Largo Caballero encountered difficulty with anarchist adherents to the republic.

The German attack on Almeria found quick sympathy in Italy, still resentful of Spanish government attacks on an Italian war vessel.

Italy would align herself firmly with Germany, an Italian spokesman countered difficult with anarchist adherents to the republic.

the bill that it did at the general session. First it suspended a rule requiring that bills lay on the table for 24 hours after being received from the printer. The vote was 92 to 36.

A repeal bill similar to that introduced in the senate was favorably reported by the house state affairs committee Saturday.

The house then tabled, 92 to 40, a motion by Rep. B. T. Johnson of Fort Worth to postpone the action until Thursday. Johnson asked the delay in order to give the state affairs committee time to act on other bills.

The house also rejected a motion to adjourn until tomorrow on account of Memorial day, and an amendment to make the effective date of repeal Jan. 1. The votes, respectively, were 41 to 93 and 84 to 47.

ganzing committee, an affiliate of John L. Lewis' CIO, planned a mass meeting and demonstration at Indiana Harbor where the Inland Steel plant has been idle since the strike was called over collective bargaining contracts.

The mass meeting, called for 10 a. m. today, was to be attended by workers in the plants of three big independent companies—Inland, Republic, and Youngstown Sheet & Tube.

'Strike or Starve'

At the Republic's plants in Warren and Niles, Ohio, the "strike or starve" blockade was tightened. Republic spokesmen claimed one of their loyal workers, waiting for food to be dropped from a corporation plane, was shot in the leg by strikers shooting at the craft.

In an effort to beat the blockade, Republic officials at Buffalo arranged to move a field kitchen and Pullman sleeping cars into the plant for loyal workers.

Meanwhile, President William L. Green of the American Federation of Labor, announced at Cincinnati that the executive council agreed on a week-long conference agreed on the expulsion of Lewis' rebel unions and sought approval of central bodies in the doubling of assessments to provide approximately $30,000 a month for the "war chest."

At Detroit, F. J. Dillon, AFL official, asserted that Ford workers had asked him to help them in opposing the UAWA, an affiliate of Lewis' organization. It marked the first step in the battle between the two groups for members among employees of the Ford Motor company and other producers.

John Brophy, CIO director, announced at Washington that Lewis' Union soon would move into every industry which has no labor organization or where existing unions "are not taking care of their members."

MARRIAGE LICENSES ISSUED

Four marriage licenses were issued Saturday: Woodrow Wilkerson and Genella Eldridge; Dewey Brack and Bel Mallon; Bud Gibbons and Gladys Vonover; T. A. Sherman and Benena Wright.

J. C. Short of LeFors was taken to his home from Pampa-Jarratt hospital on Friday.

Arlington's grassy land had an obscure beginning. Sir William Berkeley, royal Virginia governor, gave it to a sea captain for bringing colonists from England. The old salt sold them for a few hogshhead of tobacco.
