Filipino Youth Tells Of Jap "Death Hole"

Some Buried Alive When Nips Toss Grenade, Then Fill Up Excavation

By DEAN SCHEDLER
Associated Press Staff Writer

MANILA, Saturday, Nov. 3—A Filipino boy who escaped a hole in which 40 persons perished, some buried alive, on Feb. 10 during the battle for Manila, testified today at the war crimes trial of Lt. Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita.

Witnesses at this morning's hearing before the United States Army commission told of at least 300 male civilians being tied, tortured and killed on that day by Yamashita's soldiers.

The Filipino boy said he had been used for labor, then was blindfolded and pushed into the hole where several were dead, others dying.

Grenade Tossed In

A Japanese tossed in a grenade. Fragments wounded the boy in the arm and leg. Then the soldiers shoveled dirt into the hole while some of the occupants either moaned or screamed for mercy.

Yamashita sat unmoved through the testimony, leaning forward infrequently to catch the whispered words of his interpreter.

A 17-year-old boy showed the commission a horrible gash across the back of the head where a Japanese officer slashed at him with his saber. Then the boy was pushed in a fish pond and left for dead.

The witness said the officer had seen him running in an attempt to escape from a long lineup of forced laborers. The officer struck him twice with the saber, inflicting a four-inch scar.

Nipponese troops machinegunned and burned 500 to 1,000 prisoners in a mad carnival of murder at the German club last February, other witnesses related yesterday.

One witness testified that the Japanese during the battle of Manila led the victims from hiding places under the club building and tortured and shot them after performing acts so "bestial it is hard to find words to describe them."

A nurse who attended Brig. Gen. Carl Nathorst, retired officer of the Philippine constabulary, said she last saw him, his wife and daughter trapped in the club. Their fate remains a mystery.

Once the military commission proceedings were thrown into an uproar when a Chinese woman witness, completing her testimony, leaped to her feet and shouted in Chinese at Yamashita, "I'd like to kill that man."

She had testified that she had lost nine out of her family of 12

Jap Slayers Of Doolittle Fliers Jailed

(By The Associated Press)

TOKYO, Nov. 2.—Three suspected executioners of Doolittle fliers and the head of Japan's gestapo were jailed today in a day which saw General MacArthur freeze security transactions of the 15 greatest financial houses in the empire.

In bleak Omori prison camp was Lt. Gen. Shigeru Sawada, former deputy chief of the imperial general staff, who commanded the Shanghai area when three captured Doolittle fliers fell before a firing squad Oct. 15, 1942.

President's Son Held

Also placed in Omori for questioning was Lt. Yusei Wamitsu, son of the president of the Greater East Asia Independence society. The third suspect, a Major Hata, was in custody in the Tokyo military hospital with stomach ulcers.

Genki Abe, former Japanese home minister who led in organizing the terroristic "thought" police which at times out-gestapoed the Nazi Gestapo, also surrendered and was clapped into Omori.

MacArthur's directive freezing security transactions dealt a heavy blow to the rapacious financial combines which mopped up economically behind the conquering armies of Japan.

Applies To Big Families

The freeze order was applied to such well-known family empires as Mitsui, Mitsubishi, Yasuda and Kawasaki—some of which involves the fortune of the emperor himself—all marked for dissolution.

MacArthur also dissolved Dojinkai, the Japanese public health organization.

Far from being an institution similar to the Rockefeller foundation, as Konoye claimed, Allied headquarters said they had found Dojinkai's medical pretentions seriously compromised by outright propaganda activity.

Brig. Gen. Elliot R. Thorpe, head of the counter-intelligence section, reported that the Allied Army of occupation must remain vigilant against fanatic Japanese who still dream of conquest.

The attitude of revenge now is limited among the Japanese, he said, but it would be folly to assume that thousands of returning soldiers and more particularly the terrorists of the rabid gendarmerie of Japan would abandon overnight their deeply indoctrinated fanaticism.

GEORGIA FUGITIVE GIVEN FREEDOM—Robert E. Burns, right, "fugitive from a Georgia Chain-gang" is welcomed to Georgia by Governor Ellis Arnall in the state capitol in Atlanta. The state pardon and parole board commuted his sentence to the time he had served but refused to grant a full pardon, explaining that in the case where the prisoner admitted his guilt a full pardon could not be given. Steaming Wage Battle Takes New Turn

HST Asks Big Boost For Federal Workers

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2. (AP)—The steaming wage battle took new, sharp turns today with the scrimmage spreading into the government itself and no solution in sight.

Here, in short order, were the main points:

1. The White House threw its weight behind a proposal to boost federal civil service workers' salaries 20 percent. Senator Byrd (D-Va) protested.

2. The CIO Auto Workers, seeking a 30 percent wage raise, threatened court action to prevent any "unwarranted increases" in new car prices.

Views On Conference

3. None of the labor and management leaders — coming in batches from conferences with President Truman — predicted positive results from the labor-management conference starting Monday. But a few were hopeful of some good.

Arthur S. Fleming, civil service commissioner, said he was authorized to state that the 20 percent raise for federal workers would be "in conformity with the program of the President."

The pay scales of government workers, he told the Senate's Civil Service committee, are below the levels of private industry and a raise is needed to bring them "to a plane of equality."

Other Raises Asked

The endorsement for the 20 percent raise for the bulk of government workers was accompanied by this recommendation:

A $10,000 a year raise for congressmen, federal judges, top people in the administrative branch—such as cabinet members—and more pay for other government officials such as undersecretaries and assistant secretaries and agency heads.

Senator Byrd said at the Senate committee session the 20 per cent increase for federal employes would "set standards for the entire country."

Fight On Car Prices

Vice President Walter Reuther of the CIO Auto Workers said his organization would go into court to prevent higher passenger car prices from going into effect if OPA should grant "unwarranted increases."

OPA boss Chester Bowles has said retail price ceilings on all major makes of new cars would be announced within a few days.

Reuther said his union had been denied a look at the cost and price figures given OPA by automakers as a basis for the new car price schedules which Bowles is to announce.

Bureau Report Cited

The Commerce department reported Thursday that the auto industry by 1947 could pay a 25 per cent higher wage. Reuther said that if this report was "brought up to date" it would show that General Motors is able to meet his union's full wage demand—a 30 per cent hike—immediately. Reuther said the report had been prepared last spring.

The Senate Civil Service committee has before it a bill by Senator Downey (D-Calif) embodying a 20 per cent boost for federal civil service workers. Fleming, the civil service chief, told the committee that higher scales are among the steps needed to "make the United States government stand out as one of the most progressive employers in the nation."

Lost Records Charge Stirs Senate Furore

By JACK BELL
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2. — Republicans and Democrats fought a new Pearl Harbor battle on the Senate floor today over Republican complaints that their inquiries into the disaster are being blocked.

Senator Brewster (R-Me) charged he had been denied by a five to three party vote of a Senate-House inquiry committee the right to check a tip that vital documents are missing from Army and Communications commission files.

Claim None Missing

Democrat Leader Barkley (Ky) said that so far as the committee and its counsel know "there are no missing papers."

Senator Ferguson (R-Mich) asserted that William D. Mitchell, committee counsel, had "taken it upon himself to make policy decisions" by inviting the Army to pick some engineers to testify as witnesses.

Senator George (D-Ga) retorted that Ferguson was trying to prejudice the case by "parading before the public" a memorandum from Mitchell that other committee members didn't know about.

Testimony Changed

Brewster declared that Army officers had changed their testimony when former Secretary of War Stimson sent Maj. Henry C. Clausen "around the world" to trace down new leads after an Army inquiry board had made its report.

The Republicans complained bitterly that while a committee action earlier in the day opened the way to government officials to volunteer information, they still are barred from looking at records unless a majority of the committee approves.

Curt Barkley Reply

Barkley, chairman of the Senate-House group, replied that the inquiry would never get anywhere "if every member were authorized to be a private detective boring around in every department in Washington."

The committee decided to start open hearings Nov. 15.

The verbal battle developed when the two Republican senators took the floor to report to their colleagues that they didn't think the committee's action today lent itself to the impartial investigation Barkley had promised.

Reds Draw U.S. Into Chinese War Charge

American-Equipped And Trained New Sixth Chinese Army 'Enters Battle'

By SPENCER MOOSA
Associated Press Staff Writer

CHUNGKING, Nov. 2—A Chinese Communist dispatch charged today that the Central government's new Sixth Army, equipped and trained by Americans, is in action against the Reds along the southern section of the Tientsin-Pukow railroad.

It was the first accusation that American-drilled and supplied Chinese troops were involved in the current strike.

Previously the Communists had expressed open irritation over the employment of United States transports to take Central government forces to Chinese Communist "liberated areas."

Fought In North Burma

The Chinese Sixth Army fought the Japanese in northern Burma ahead of construction crews building the Stilwell highway.

Along sections of the north-south railroad between Peiping and Hankow, which parallels the Tientsin-Pukow railroad to the east, the Communists said large scale fighting is in progress.

Communist sources told of a "great offensive" by the government aimed at opening the Peiping-Hankow line for unrestricted movements of Chiang's armies to North China and Manchuria.

The Reds charged that two brigades of Japanese troops were cooperating with government forces in one sector.

Reds Closing In

A government spokesman in the 12th war zone said between 100,000 and 120,000 Communists, fully equipped with artillery, were closing in from the northeast and south on Kweisui, capital of the rich Suiyuan province in inner Mongolia.

Kweisui is under seige, Chinese dispatches reported today.

The dispatches said the city was in grave danger and that thousands of inhabitants were pouring out in hurried flight.

Gen. Ho Lung, one of the most able Red commanders, is leading the attack, the dispatches said, as the Communists seek to widen their Suiyuan holdings and bar any overland movement of Central government troops from China north into Manchuria.

Serious Interference

Communist occupation of Kweisui would seriously interfere with any eastward drive of government commander Gen. Fu Tso-Yi along the Peiping-Suiyuan railroad toward Red-held Kalgan, strategic rail center lying northwest of Peiping.

Other dispatches today reported besieged Tatung, important rail junction in northern Shansi province, still was in the hands of its 10,000 Nationalist defenders,

CIO Blocked From Using Name In State

State Grants Charter To Group Of Texans

AUSTIN, Nov. 2. (AP)—The secretary of state today granted a charter to the Congress of Industrial Organization, not the labor organization of that name, and one of the incorporators announced the CIO labor group would be forbidden to use such name henceforth in Texas.

This official of the newly-chartered group was Phil Hopkins of San Antonio, who is also vice-chairman of fight for free enterprise, an organization which has actively fought the CIO in Texas. Fight for free enterprise last summer asked the attorney general to investigate CIO's activities in the Rio Grande valley and the CIO asked for an investigation of fight for free enterprise.

No Charter On Record

The charter of the newly-organized Congress of Industrial Organizations was granted, after it had been determined the labor group does not have a charter. Only out of state "corporations organized for profit" are required under court decisions interpreted Texas law to obtain permits to operate in Texas, the secretary of state's office said.

The new organization paid its $50 filing fee and $10.19 franchise tax, and the charter was filed. The document listed Hopkins, William Walker and E. C. LaFeild all of Bexar county as the incorporators. Walker is chairman of the executive committee of fight for free enterprise.

Purposes Of Corporation

"The purposes for which the corporation is formed are to gather together as members or adherents, Texas industrial organizations of all categories, for educational purposes, embracing industrial conditions, statistics and knowledge; for mutual betterment leading to general industrial improvement," the charter sets forth.

"Any and all income is to be wholly expended to further achieve the purposes for which the corporation is formed. The corporation is generally described as a benevolent and educational undertaking."

The charter was issued to the group officially as a 'board of trade." It has no capital stock, no stockholders, and its main office was given as San Antonio.

Misuse Of Name

At San Antonio Hopkins said that any organization appending the initials CIO to its name without authority of the new Congress of Industrial Organizations and these, and no other, will be permitted to advertise themselves of such affiliation.

Total Bond Sales To Individuals To Date $314,000,000

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2. (AP)—The total sales to individuals in the Victory Loan today stood at $314,000,000, of which $167,000,000 was in Series E bonds, the war finance division of the Treasury reported.

The over-all goal of all securities to all investors is $11,000,000,000. Of this amount $400,000,000 is the goal for sales to individuals and half of that is the goal for E-bonds.

Designer Hoots A-Bomb Hysteria

TOKYO, Nov. 2. (AP) — Maj. Alexander P. De Seversky declared today the fearsome atomic bomb that hastened Japan's defeat could kill no more people than a regular 10-ton bomb if dropped on U. S. cities of steel and concrete.

The famed warplane designer, arguing against "getting hysterical" about the atomic bomb, told a news conference he also doubted if it could sink a battleship unless it scored a direct hit.

Studying Jap Damage

De Seversky, who is studying bomb damage in Japan, said he thought the atomic bomb wrought such heavy devastation in Hiroshima and Nagasaki because of their flimsy wood construction.

Thus he flew in the face of widespread expert opinion, just as he has in the past by preaching his thesis that huge fleets of long-distance bombers could make armies and navies obsolete.

De Seversky said the atomic bombs as far as he could learn started no fires in the two Japanese cities, but that the fires broke out from stoves and gas leaks.

Can't Displace Others

For that reason, he continued, he remained unconvinced that the atomic bomb could displace "incendiaries and high explosives if we are going to tackle well-prepared cities with concrete structures."

He hastened to add, however, that he considered the atomic bomb "a great step in the science of demolition."

But it still will be necessary to win air supremacy, both as a defense against the atomic bomb and as a means of employing it on the offense, De Seversky argued.

Crummer Fraud Charge Upheld

DENVER, Nov. 2. (AP) — The Tenth U. S. Circuit Court of appeals today declared valid, with certain exceptions, an indictment charging Roy E. Crummer, Kansas City business man, and nine other individuals and two corporation with violations of the mail fraud statute.

The U. S. government charged the defendants with operating a scheme to defraud 24 persons seeking to recover money invested in municipal bonds of Panama City, Fla.

Dismissal Appealed

The government had appealed from an order of the district court of Kansas, second division, dismissing the indictment as "indefinite, uncertain and inconsistent."

The indictment, consisting of 12 counts, was upheld by the circuit court, except for counts one to seven and 10 to 12 against the Crummer company which were ordered dismissed.

Alleging the operations were conducted between Jan. 1, 1931, and Aug. 3, 1944, when the indictment was returned, the government contended the defendants used the mails to mulct bondholders of a "substantial portion of the interest" accruing to their bonds.

The second corporation named defendant is R. E. Crummer and company.

Kenney Says Army-Navy Scraps Prolonged War Against Japan

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2. (AP)—Gen. George C. Kenney told senators today that time was lost in the war against Japan while the Army and Navy argued and compromised.

"If such delays resulted in prolonging the war just one day, what price can we place upon the lives we lost?" he asked.

He asserted the war had demonstrated that a single over-all command is required for victory in a theater. He said he was "unable to understand" the arguments of those who oppose unification of the War and Navy departments under a single cabinet secretary.

Kenney, who commanded General Douglas MacArthur's air arm for three years, testified before the military committee which is considering service merger legislation. He urged immediate consolidation "with co-equal, coordinate combat arms of land, sea and air."

The air general's position, stated as the committee completed its hearings, closely paralleled that taken by earlier Army and Airforce witnesses.

The Navy has disagreed strongly. The sea service's position was exemplified by a statement filed with the committee today by the Navy League, which identified itself as a non-profit educational organization of civilians.

The league urged at least a year of study before Congress acts on the merger proposal and said the shift would be "a grab for power."

It went on:

"We subscribe to the charge made by Fleet Admiral Ernest J. King that any move which places all military power under control of one man is revolutionary."

Missing Link In History Of Man Is Believed Found

LONDON, Nov. 2. (AP)—Remnants of a civilization which flourished 8,000 years ago have been unearthed at the Iraq city of Hassuna, and may provide "the missing link in the history of man," Dr. Naji Al Asil, Iraq delegate to the United Nations educational and cultural conference, said today.

Dr. Al Asil, an archaeologist, said the find indicated man was civilized up to 2,000 years earlier than previously had been believed.

He said two American scientists planned to join an expedition to investigate the discoveries this winter. He identified one as a Dr. Wilson, head of Chicago university's Oriental department, and the other as a University of Pennsylvania scientist whose name was not available.

Handling Of Surplus Property Is Scored

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2. (AP)—William S. Bradley resigned today as director of the Office of Surplus property in the Commerce department, protesting revised regulations affecting purchases of surpluses by veterans.

Bradley's office quoted him as saying that the whole surplus property setup, as it affects veterans, is "at variance with my concept of sound business practice."

The Office of Surplus property is scheduled to move from the Commerce department into the Reconstruction Finance corporation on Monday.

Bradley's office said he gave two reasons for his resignation: (1) Under the revised regulations, veterans who formerly could buy goods on the No. 1 priority of the Smaller Plants corporation, now must purchase on their own No. 3 priority. This puts them below federal state and municipal government priorities.

(2) The new regulations allow veterans to purchase single units—for example, a single monkey wrench. Because of the manpower shortage, Bradley contended, this system would prevent efficient service generally to the veteran.

Pearl Harbor Records Are Claimed Missing

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2. (AP)—Senator Brewster (R-Me) told the Senate today he was reliably informed that certain government records bearing on the Pearl Harbor inquiry are missing and other files have been destroyed.

Brewster took the floor to complain that the procedure adopted by the Senate-House committee investigating the Japanese attack on the naval base in 1941, gave its Republican members "concern" that the impartial inquiry promised by Democratic Leader Barkley (Ky) could not be attained.

Clashes Flare Anew In Java

BATAVIA, Nov. 2 (AP) — Sharp encounters with Indonesian extremists broke out in Batavia today after heavy fighting at Magelang was halted under a temporary truce negotiated with the aid of President Soekarno of the "Indonesian republic."

Fighting in the capital began in Indonesian headquarters behind the Hotel Des Indes, and snipers fired machine guns for an hour before British Seaforth Highlanders restored order. Casualties on both sides were believed light.

Planes Strafe Indonesians

RAF planes again strafed Indonesian forces battling British Indian troops in Magelang before the truce was achieved. The planes also dropped supplies to the British forces at the naval base of Soerabaja, where a spokesman said the situation remained "very delicate."

Aneta quoted pilots returning from Soerabaja as saying they saw fighting in progress by the light of huge fires raging in the naval base city.

In Magelang, 180 miles southeast of Soerabaja, British and Indonesian representatives were conferring.

Ghurkas Restore Position

Last night one company of Ghurkas had been hard pressed in Magelang but the situation was restored after reinforcements arrived. The RAF panes enabled the Ghurkas to reoccupy a part of the town.

At Semarang, port city 45 miles northwest of Magelang, the situation remained quiet, perhaps because of the visit there by Soekarno.

Dutch forces were reported able to cope with roving unorganized bandits from east and central Java on the outskirts of Batavia. The Dutch estimated their number at approximately 30,000. They were making no concentrated attacks but, fighting in packs of a few hundred.

Wild Rioting Sweeps Cairo

CAIRO, Nov. 2 (AP)—Shouting, rioting anti-Zionists fired a synagogue and smashed Jewish stores today in wild clashes in Cairo injuring at least 380 persons, and unverified reports said seven persons were killed in Alexandria.

Riots flared in Port said, Mansura, and Zagazig, Egypt, while planned "Balfour Day" strikes and demonstrations protesting against making Palestine a Jewish national home were staged by Arabs in Palestine, Syria, and Lebanon.

Hundreds Are Injured

British officials listed 290 civilians and 90 police injured in Cairo. Reports that seven persons died in Alexandria's riots could not be confirmed immediately.

Egyptian Prime Minister Nokrashi Pasha, appealing to the people to be calm, said "there are no signs that more events will occur" and "the people will resume business tomorrow."

Maj. Gen. T. W. Fitzpatrick, acting commandant in Cairo, said the situation was regarded as "well in hand" tonight, but Cairo police remained out in full force. Sudanese troops, armed with long whips, also stood at strategic points. He said 150 persons, mostly looters, were arrested.

Crowds Storm Streets

Steel-helmeted police fired into the air, used tear gas, and swung clubs trying to disperse the crowds who seethed into Cairo streets on the 28th anniversary of the Lord Balfour note promising the Jews a national home in Palestine.

In Palestine, where Balfour day coincided with an announcement that Lord Gort had resigned as high commissioner, because of his health, disturbances accompanying a nationwide Arab general strike.

In London, the British government, through Secretary of Colonies George Hall, served an ultimatum to terrorists in Palestine's Jewish community that unless there is a cessation of the "dastardly series of outrages" in the Holy Land, negotiations for settling the Jewish problem would be halted.

Independent Unions To Picket Parley

PATERSON, N. J., Nov. 2. (AP)—Protesting that independent unions had been given the "brush-off" by not being asked to attend the labor-management peace conference in Washington Monday, Edward G. Wilms, chairman of the independent unions of New Jersey, said today the unions would establish picket lines around the Washington meeting place.

Child Dies, Two Hurt In Wreck Blamed On Warning Flare Theft

LUTHER, Okla., Nov. 2. (AP)—Oklahoma Highway Patrol Trooper Bill Parks charged today that theft of a highway warning flare set out near a truck wreck directly resulted in the death of at least one person and injury to two more.

Dead was Virginia Fay Stevens, 4, Munday, Texas. Her father, Sgt. Joe Wallace Stevens, suffered only cuts and bruises, while her uncle, Clovis Francis Stevens, Palestine, Tex., received critical injuries.

The three were riding in a car which crashed into a truckload of rade horses which had been parked after a previous accident on U. S. Highway 66 one-half mile east of here.

Sergeant Stevens was on convalescent leave from Brooks Army General hospital, San Antonio. He had spent 3½ years in a Japanese prison camp. He was en route home to Texas after visiting his mother at Big Piney, Mo.

Missing Boy Is Feared Kidnaped

DOWNIEVILLE, Calif. Nov. 2. (AP)—Members of the wealthy family of three-year-old Dickie Tum Suden, missing since Thursday from his mountain home, tonight openly expressed fears that the child had been kidnaped.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation, which had previously announced that they were not investigating, tonight answered inquiries with a terse "no comment."

Seen Playing In Yard

Dickie, whose full name is Richard Meritt Tum Suden, was last seen playing in the yard of the family home near Goodyear's Bar.

Late yesterday the lad's dog, a constant companion, came home. One of the boy's mittens was found a quarter-mile from the house, on a steep hillside.

Rent Ceilings On New Houses May Be Hiked

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2. (AP)—Rent ceilings on new dwellings may be 15 to 25 per cent higher than those on existing houses.

The OPA, it was learned today, is considering an increase in that range to allow for increased construction costs since 1939.

This prospect was reported as the agency announced a new policy of establishing rent ceilings on houses in advance of construction.

OPA Administrator Chester Bowles said the new program is designed to encourage building and thereby protect tenants from inflationary rents.

REALIZING AMBITION

THE SECRET of getting a lot of work done is to do some task today that might be postponed until tomorrow, meanwhile doing today all that must be done today.

Everybody of ability nourishes the ambition some day to do something outstanding. He may want to invent something, write a book, get elected to Congress, or serve on a college board of regents. Whatever his ambition may be, he can do something each day—or nearly every day—to advance himself toward the realization of his goal. If he waits until conditions are right or he feels just right before he begins his outside task, he will get nowhere, because difficult goals are not achieved easily or in a rush.

What is written here is equally true of the ordinary day-to-day work of running a business or making something important out of a job. It seems to us that every job, however big, is one-fourth major stuff and three-fourths minor stuff. The minor affairs have to be handled efficiently and promptly or there is no time for the major stuff. What seems peculiar is that major stuff can always wait but minor stuff is insistent.

PASSENGER TRAVEL

FIRST we hear the domestic airlines are going to have speedier planes. Then we are told the railroads are going to have double decker observation cars with sightseeing "blister" made of safety glass or plastics. Then we hear the airlines are going to have pressurized cabins so they can operate above any storm area. Then we are told the railroads are going to offer individual air conditioning in roomettes and drawing rooms.

Next we hear the airlines are going to operate non-stop flights between major cities of the country. Then we are told railroads are testing a pendulum type chair car, spring-suspended for greater comfort. Then we hear of movies for plane travelers while aloft, only to hear the retorts that the railroads are considering radios at every seat.

And so it goes. We believe within a very few years, there's going to be keen competition between the airlines and the railroads for passenger travel. We hope it's true, for the real benefactor will be the traveling public.

BEST-DRESSED TEENSTERS

DESIGNER Grace Norman queried stylists throughout the country and looked at more than 20,000 photographs of teen agers to decide on the six best-dressed teentimers. Now the six winners have been named.

Named best-dressed teenster in motion pictures is Jane Withers, who says she usually prefers tailored clothes for day wear. Her favorite colors are red and blue.

Eighteen-year-old Patrice Munsel, another winner, is the youngest star of the Metropolitan opera. She likes classic clothes and leans to navy, brown and gray tones.

Another selection, Anne Clark, is the 17-year-old daughter of General Mark Clark. She goes in strictly for blouses and jumpers and wears them to school in Washington.

A Conover model copped a prize too. She's Betty Cornell of Teaneck, N. J. She prefers dressy suits for dates and sports outfits for daytime wear.

The youngest selection is 15-year-old Mary Johnson, daughter of the California Congressman. She likes weskit suits and wears them to school and for doing hospital work after school.

Radio's Janet Waldo, another typical teentimer, is the star of the Corliss Archer radio series. She likes casual and feminine clothes and finds them best for wear in her home state of California.

Coyotes On Increase In Santa Fe Section

SANTA FE, N. M., Nov. 2. (U.P.)—The gals in Santa Fe will have to listen closely the next time they hear a wolf call—because it may be a coyote.

According to State Game Warden Elliott. Barker, the coyote population in and around Santa Fe has grown by leaps and bounds.

Several of the animals have been seen within the city limits and a number of them have been trapped a few miles outside the city.

A state trapper has set up a camp near Santa Fe to trap as many of the animals as possible.

Youth Unaware He Is Doomed To Death

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 2. (AP)—A 5-year-old leukemia victim, Eugene Totaro, happily rocked to and fro on a new hobby horse today, unaware that doctors expect his birthday today may be his last.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gabriel Totaro, watched him with heavy hearts. They hoped that someone familiar with leukemia would offer some advice on how to keep Eugene alive a little longer.

After two weeks' hospital treatment, the boy was sent home recently—to die. Doctors, reporting the disease incurable, gave him but a few weeks to live.

Because pasture feeding is so economical for the producer and adds nutritive value to meat, more beef in the future is likely to be grass-fed—or at least fed both grass and grain.

London Dock Workers Resume Jobs Monday

LONDON, Nov. 2 (U.P.)—Forty three thousand dock workers who have been on a wildcat strike for more than five weeks will resume work Monday, it was decided today at meetings held simultaneously throughout port areas.

Acting on recommendation of their National Strike committee, the men voted by secret ballot to go on a 30-day basis to permit completion of negotiations between union officials and employers.

They emphasized, however, that their action was only "a truce."

"If no satisfactory and reasonable answers to our demands are reached, we pledge ourselves to resume the strike which will be intensified with every means at our disposal," the resolutions said.

The strike had tied up shipping in all principal British ports for weeks and cost the nation millions of dollars. The strikers lost an estimated $500,000 in pay during the period.

New Chevrolet Is Being Displayed

NEW CHEVROLET SHOWN TODAY—Showroom of the Kuykendall Chevrolet company has the above new 1946 model Chevrolet, a four-door Stylemaster sedan, in the feature spot, as the company opened showing of its new car last night and continues today and Sunday afternoon.

Characterized by modern styling that accentuates massiveness in smart, low, sleek lines a 1946 model Chevrolet is on display today and Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the showrooms of Kuykendall Chevrolet company, Thirteenth and Ave. J. Initial showing of the car was staged Friday night.

The car, first of the new vehicles in three lines, is a four-door Stylemaster, offering unusual refinements in the lowest price bracket. Other models to be shown later are the Fleetmaster, still further advanced in finish and appointments, and the Fleetline, most attractively styled model that Chevrolet has ever offered.

Streamlining With Massiveness

Embodying the best thinking of automotive designers, the new Chevrolets emphasize classical lines, with a long, flowing sweep from front to back. Chromium plated and stainless steel trim, used with restraint and good taste highlights the overall design. Streamlining is combined with massiveness and lowness.

The front-end treatment is completely new. The bumper, radiator grille and headlamps present a combined appearance of simplicity. Gleaming unadorned horizontal bars of the grille emphasize width, and lower the lines. Parking lights are framed in rectangular plates at either end of the bumper assembly. The new front bumper enhances the appearances of the radiator grille and is deeper and higher than any previously used. Simply-designed bumper guards are spaced well apart.

Unisteel Construction Featured

The bodies by Fisher, exclusive with Chevrolet in the low-priced field, provide a combination of style, safety, luxury and durability. Fisher unisteel construction means that floor, panels, cowel and turret-top roof are welded to form an all-steel unit. A feature is the door-action fender, which flows smoothly back half way into the front doors. The new hood is exceptionally deep and massive.

Interiors are the last word in taste and luxury. Upholstery is tailored in fabrics that look smarter, wear better and clean more easily. Beauty has been attained in the design of interior fittings, instrument panel fixtures and home-like conveniences inside the car. The panel is distinctive, too, for its practical arrangements of dials and indicators, contributing to the ease of driving.

Riding Comfort Unusual

Unusual riding comfort is provided by Chevrolet's combination of unitized knee-action front springs designed to synchronize with the front, plus scientific weight distribution.

High standards of performance and economy are assured by the announcement that all 1946 models will be powered by the famed Chevrolet six-cylinder, valve-in-head engine, which has been improved and refined through the years.

Engines in the new cars will be equipped with light-weight cast alloy iron pistons in the production of which Chevrolet has had more than three decades of experience.

Lubrication System Featured

Another 1946 model engine construction feature is the Chevrolet developed specialized lubrication system which forces oil under pressure to valve rocker arms, camshaft and crankshaft bearings at the same time that an ingenious pressure-stream system, another exclusive Chevrolet feature, lubricates connecting rod bearings and cylinder walls effectively for all purposes including the most critical of "cold starts."

Contributing further to engine power and economy is the scientifically engineered cooling system, employing a ribbed-cellular radiator core whose square shape permits efficient coverage of the radiator core by the fan. A ball-bearing water pump of highly efficient design is self-adjusting and permanently lubricated. Uniform cylinder cooling is provided by full-length water jackets extending completely around each cylinder.

Other Features Cited

Brakes are Chevrolet's distinctive hydraulic type, with 11" brake drums having cast alloy braking surfaces and cooling ribs. Self-aligning brake shoes that provide full contact of the entire surface of brake linings with brake drums, an exclusive Chevrolet feature, not only assure maximum safety but help prolong brake lining life.

The chasis frame used in all new passenger models is the Chevrolet-proved box girder type with side rails and cross members of flanged box section construction, insuring exceptional rigidity. In cabriolets, box girder side rails are further reinforced by "V" and "K" shaped I-beam girders.

A semi-floating type rear axle, with gear ratio of 4.11-1, has hypoid drive gears and six ball and roller bearings.

Brewer Sparks Westerners' Win Over Brownfield, 20-0

Last Half Brownfield Rally Fails; Lubbock Wins First District Game

By MACK TURNER
Avalanche Sports Writer

Gorgeous George Brewer was at his best, and the Lubbock Westerners crashed into the win columns of District 1-AA last night at Tech stadium with a 20 to 0 victory over the scrappy Brownfield Cubs.

The game started slowly, but the Westerners suddenly came to life and started clicking, scoring once in each of the first three quarters, and adding two out of the three extra points for the best showing of the year.

Davis Scores First

It was little Noel "Twinkle Toes" Sikes who started the fireworks when he tucked in a Cub kick on his own 48-yard line and pranced down to the Cub 20 before he was roped in. Sikes picked up a yard, Brewer another, then a pass was incomplete. On the fourth trial, John Paul Jones faded back and dropped a perfect aerial into the eager arms of Gerald Davis just over the goal line for the touchdown. Brewer kicked the extra point.

After that, the picture was all Brewer, and the Lubbock ace roared across for two touchdowns and added another extra point to account for 14 points for the night. The scoring spree boosted Brewer's season's total to 73 points, one of the better marks in Class AA grid circles.

Brewer On Long Gallop

In the second quarter, Brewer got away on a "dipsey doodle" double reverse and roamed 47 yards for a touchdown, and added the extra point. In the third quarter, Brewer turned in another beautiful piece of broken field waltzing for a 49-yard jaunt and another touchdown. He missed this try for extra point, and that was the ball game.

Brewer rolled up 173 of the 210 yards that Lubbock gained rushing in the ball game to tell the story of the Lubbock offensive punch for the night. Brewer's two touchdowns ran his season's total to eleven, along with seven extra points.

Brownfield Rally Fails

The Westerners held the Brownfield passes in the first half, but the backs got off for some nice gains. In the last half, the Western line smothered the Cub running game for 11 net yards, but Brownfield threatened to upset them with a brilliant passing game that rolled up 77 yards in the last half.

Brownfield threatened twice in the last half, but the battling Lubbock forwards stopped them when the chips were down. Brownfield started a drive in the closing minutes of the third quarter. Starting on the 50, Martin flipped a pass to Chambliss to the Lubbock 41. On the next play, Quante hit Chambliss with another pass, and Bobby Booker pulled the fleet Cub back down from behind on the seven as the quarter ended.

Lubbock's line stopped the drive on the four, and on the last down hurled Quante for a loss back on the ten and took over.

Just before the game ended, Brownfield started another passing drive that marched for the Cub 48 to the Westerner 19 before Don "Speck" Austin intercepted a pass and stopped the drive.

Whiteface Runs Over Cooper Team, 71-14

COOPER, Nov. 2, (Special)—The Cooper Pirates were able to score on a heretofore unscored-on group of Whiteface Antelopes here today, but this moral victory was their only claim to distinction as the visitors ran wild in a 71 to 14 Conference 9-B victory.

A big first quarter gave the Antelopes a 20-point lead to which they added 18 points in the second while the Cooper team gained but 6 points in the second stanza. The half ended 38-6.

Cooper's six-man aggregation tightened in the third period to hold the victors to six points but a last-period spree gave the winners 25 points, the losers eight more, and the game ended 71-14 favoring the unbeaten Antelopes.

The slashing Whiteface attack was led today by Harold Sides who garnered 24 points to head his team's scoring parade. Ray McCoy scored 12 points as did Olen Lewis. Truman Swinney scored 10, Rale Thoms and Bolin Smith, six each and Junior Lindet, one, to round out the scoring.

Johnson got eight points for Cooper and Pierce the other six.

Whiteface amassed 396 yards to 160 for Cooper.

Coach L. S. Salser's unbeaten sextet will play Southland next Friday in another conference battle.

Irish-Navy Game Tops Grid Menu

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 2—Navy and Notre Dame—both unbeaten and untied—clash at Cleveland tomorrow in the first chapter of a three-act gridiron masterpiece destined to keep many a fan on the edge of his seat from now until the season ends.

The Cleveland collision which headlines the day's national slate is bound to make another dent in that honored but dangerous circle of all-winning college elevens that was chopped from 28 to 20 teams by last week's wave of upsets.

Army Meets Villanova

While the Irish and the Middies slug it out on the shores of Lake Erie, the only team that outranks them nationally—powerful Army—will be defending its perfect record at West Point against a Villanova club that lost to Navy by seven touchdowns.

Thus the odds are all in favor of the Cadets to come out on top in the three-cornered melodrama that begins unfolding tomorrow, for in another week the second chapter pits Army against Notre Dame. Then the payoff comes when Army and Navy have it out in the windup of this dizzy season at Philadelphia Dec. 1.

Minnesota Plays Michigan

At Ann Arbor Minnesota, bounced out of the undefeated ranks last week, meets a Michigan team that hit the victory trail once more with a 19-0 shutout of Illinois.

A huge gathering is expected at Los Angeles to see St. Mary's, only unbeaten team on the Pacific coast and number eight in the national list, tangle with Southern California.

Northwestern, which knocked Purdue from the unbeaten ranks last week, and Ohio State, which upended previously unbeaten Minnesota, get together at Columbus and Wisconsin travels to Iowa in other conference games in the Big Ten.

Oklahoma Meets TCU

Indiana, unbeaten but once-tied and all alone at the top of the Big Ten, entertains Cornell (Iowa) college; Illinois is host to Great Lakes and Purdue meets invading Pittsburgh in non-conference tilts.

Big Six conference games send Kansas State to Iowa State and Kansas to Nebraska while the co-leaders step outside the league, Oklahoma to meet Texas Christian at Norman and Missouri to invade Michigan State.

Alabama, Kentucky Tangle

In addition to the Villanova-Army struggle, the East will see Cornell banging into unbeaten Columbia at New York, Lafayette challenging undefeated Temple at Philadelphia, Syracuse at Penn State, Dartmouth at Yale, Coast Guard at Brown, Princeton at Pennsylvania and Rochester at N. Y. U.

Alabama, the nation's fourth ranking team, and Mississippi State, both unbeaten and untied, hit the road in the Southeastern conference, the Crimson Tide going to Louisville to meet Kentucky and State to Tulane. Other league tilts send Florida to Auburn and Mississippi to L. S. U.

Other Games In Spotlight

Other major games in the South find William and Mary and Maryland and Virginia Tech at North Carolina State in Southern conference games, Duke at Georgia Tech, Georgia at Chattanooga, Presbyterian at Wake Forest, North Carolina at Tennessee, V. M. I. at Vanderbilt and Virginia at West Virginia.

Texas A. and M. will be at Arkansas and Texas at Southern Methodist in the scrambled Southwest conference, with non-league affairs sending Texas Tech to Rice and Southwestern to Baylor.

Pacific Coast conference battles will find Washington, the current leader, at Oregon and Washington State at California. In the mountain sector Colorado will be at New Mexico and Denver at Utah.

Floydada Blows Over Lockney, 24 To 0

LOCKNEY, Nov. 2 (Special)—Floydada's Whirlwind blew over Lockney here tonight for a 24 to 0 District 4-A conference win.

Floydada started rolling in the second quarter and set up a touchdown when Halfback Robertson tossed to End Womack for 40 yards to the Lockney four. Halfback Carmack then plunged over for the first counter.

In the third, Robertson again found Womack with a 50-yard Bullseye pass that paid off for a tally. In the fourth, the Lockney boys opened up their own aerial game only to see two passes intercepted and returned for touchtowns as Floydada chalked up its third and fourth tallies of the night. Three attempts at conversion on running plays and one by placement were stopped by the Lockney team.

Lockney threatened twice, driving to the four in the first period only to be shoved back on a penalty, and pushing down to the four again in the fourth only to lose the ball on a fumble. Floydada held a slight edge in first downs, 11 to 10.

Eleven Towns Expected For WT-NM Meet

Baseball Officials To Arrive For Meeting

League President Milton Price from Dallas will lead the vanguard of baseball leaders into Lubbock today for the meeting scheduled at the Hilton hotel Sunday morning at 10 o'clock for the purpose of reorganizing the West Texas-New Mexico League for the 1946 season.

Word was received from Price this week that he would arrive in Lubbock Saturday afternoon. He will be accepted to the meeting here by Mrs. Price and Harry Faulkner, former business manager of the Lubbock Hubbers, and now in charge of athletics at North American Aviation at Dallas.

Eleven Cities Expected

Word was also received from other points over the proposed league, and it is indicated that at least eleven towns will be represented at Sunday's meeting.

Hal Sayles, sports editor of the Abilene Reporter-News and one of those interested in Abilene's bid for the berth in the league, telephoned to Lubbock last night, saying that three men are coming from that city to attend the meeting.

Amarillo, Borger Interested

Amarillo sent in word through Bob Seeds, owner of the Gold Sox, that there would be three from that city. Borger sent in word that four persons were coming from that city.

Seeds also reported that he had been contacted by interested parties from Odessa and Big Spring, and had invited them to send delegates to the meeting here Sunday morning.

Word was also received from El Paso, stating that they would have an "observer" on hand for the meeting. The word from El Paso indicated that a great interest is being shown in the WT-NM league in that city, and that the border city might seek entry into the WT-NM loop.

Old Clubs Coming In

All six of the teams operating in the league at the time it shut down because of the war in 1942 have expressed a desire to reopen the league next year. Those cities were Borger, Pampa, Amarillo, Lubbock and Lamesa in Texas, and Clovis in New Mexico.

Chief interest in new berths this year have been advanced from Abilene and Albuquerque, N. M. Both of these cities have signified they would send persons to the meeting.

The establishment of intention to resume play will be filed with the National Association of Baseball Leagues, and the classification of the league will be the chief business on hand at Sunday's meeting.

Crosbyton Bests Spur In Last Two Seconds

SPUR, Nov. 2 (Special)—Crosbyton's fighting Chiefs came roaring back in the last two minutes of play here tonight to score a touchdown on a sensational 60-yard drive to edge out a previously undefeated and untied Spur Bulldog team, 14 to 13, in a crucial District 4-A grid tussle.

Crosbyton counted its tying touchdown on a 10-yard pass completed in the final two seconds of play and then added the game winning point after the game had ended.

A record crowd of more than 1,500 watched the two unbeaten and untied clubs battle through the four quarters and left limp as the Crosbyton club came up with its last second storybook finish. The win tied Crosbyton and Floydada for the lead in District 4-A.

In the first period, Crosbyton counted first when Halfback Jack Jones scooted 35 yards on a double reverse, Fullback Lawrence Simmons kicking the extra point to give the visitors a 7-to-0 lead they held at the half.

In the third quarter, Spur marched 80 yards for its first tally with Halfback David McAteer and Halfback Joe Max Barkley alternating, McAteer going across from the six. Center Dean Wright kicked the extra point. A few minutes later in the same stanza, after a series of punts, Spur again got the ball on its own 20 and again marched 80 yards to count with Barkley, McAteer and Dewey Watson, tossing in a 35-yard pass completion, alternating, McAteer again counting from the four. Wright's attempt at placement went awry.

With two minutes to play, Crosbyton took over on its own 40 and with a series of sensational pass completions rushed to the Spur 10 with two seconds left to play. On the final play with the ball in the air and the final whistle sounded, Simmons passed to End Kerry Horn in the end zone for the tying tally. Simmons then faked a kick and passed into the end zone again for the winning point.

In addition to those named, Guard Scott Clay was a standout in the line for Spur.

Sudan Takes 7 To 0 Win Over Levelland

SUDAN, Nov. 2. (Special)—The Sudan Hornets "stung" the Levelland Lobos here this afternoon before a banner crowd of about 1,000 fans, nosing out a 7 to 0 victory over the Lobos.

The victory leaves the Sudan eleven the last major hurdle in the path of the vaunted Littlefield Wildcats, and these two undefeated teams crash headon next Friday at Sudan.

The Hornets made their victory impressive this afternoon, rolling up 16 first downs to only five first downs for Levelland. The staunch Sudan line smothered the Lobo attack, and never allowed Levelland to offer a serious threat.

The victory came on a pass and latteral from 20 yards out, about midway of the ball game. Jim Eddins flipped a forward to Joe Price, who latteraled the ball off to Waymon Bellar, who scooted over for the touchdown. The extra point was successfully added.

Two more threats were made by the Hornets, but penalties inside the Lobo 10 yard line nullified both thrusts.

Morton Cops 12 To 7 Triumph Over Olton

MORTON, Nov. 2, (Special)—Morton's grid machine scored in the second and third quarters here tonight to win a decisive 12 to 7 contest over Olton in District 5-A competition.

Back Kenneth Willis climaxed a long downfield drive for the local lads early in the second with a short plung to paydirt and the first Morton tally, the try for point going awry. The half ended 6 to 0 for Morton.

Late in the third, Willis passed to left Half Herbert Cadenhead for 35 yards and the second Morton tally. Again the try for point was missed. In the early part of the fourth frame, Olton counted after an 80-yard drive. Morton threatened three other times, driving inside the 20 but losing the ball on fumbles.

Petersburg Wins From Meadow In Last Period

PETERSBURG, Nov. 2 (Special)—Petersburg edged past Meadow here tonight, 14 to 13, with a fourth quarter touchdown drive that travelled 75 yards. It was Meadow's first loss of the season.

Petersburg counted in the first period when Ralph White, Petersburg quarterback, raced off tackle 22 yards for the opening touchdown. Pittman blocked a punt to setup the tally. Fullback Leroy Kelley plunged for the extra point and the local lads were off to a 7 to 0 lead.

Late in the same quarter, Meadow came back with Fullback Paul Nettles passing 30 yards to Quarterback Jack Barnes for a tally. However, Meadow's attempt at extra point was blocked and after a scoreless second stanza the half ended 7 to 6 for Petersburg.

Late in the third period, Meadow recovered a fumble and set up a touchdown. Nettles plunging two yards to paydirt for the climaxing drive. Barnes plunged for the extra point and as the third quarter ended the visitors held a 13 to 7 advantage.

On the opening kickoff at the start of the fourth, Petersburg took the ball and marched 75 yards with five first downs to count and knot the score, White going over from the eight. Kelley plunged for the game winning point.

Petersburg chalked up eight first downs and 168 yards to Meadow's four firsts and 168 yards.

Guard Leroy Shannon, Tackle Lelland Terry, Barnes and Nettles starred for the losers; Kelley, White, Left Guard Pittman and Guard J. R. McGuire and Right End Hollis Black shining for Petersburg.

Ballinger Drops Littlefield, 19-14

(Special To The Avalanche)

BALLINGER, Nov. 2 — The Littlefield Wildcats gave Ballinger's Bearcats a bad scare in the first half of tonight's inter-conference football game between the two teams but the locals exploded in the third quarter to score three touchdowns and win the game, 19 to 14. A crowds of 3,000 saw the game, about 300 coming from Littlefield.

Littlefield had prevoiusly led the Bearcats 7 to 0 throughout the first half and it appeared Ballinger was headed for its first defeat at the hands of a Class A team this year, but the locals got going in the third to put the game on ice. Ballinger had previously lost to a Class AA team, Abilene, 14 to 0.

Sewell Scores First

Sewell scored for the visitors in the first quarter after the Wildcats had carried the ball in a sustained drive from their own 30-yard line. Owens ran the ball across for the extra point.

The second period was scoreless with both teams fairly even. Then the Bearcats came back clawing after the halftime rest to rack up their 19 points.

Frazier scored the first touchdown on a 15-yard run around end after the locals had carried the ball from midfield. The try for point failed. Moments later, after Ballinger got the ball again, Davenport stepped back and passed 25 yards to Frazier in the end zone. The kick failed, making the score 12 to 7.

Wildcats Count In Fourth

After an exchange of punts, Davenport passed to Sykes, who was run out of bounds on the one-yard line. Russell pushed it over on the next play. Frazier kicked the extra point.

Littlefield came back fighting in the final period and held the locals twice on downs. On the last attempt, Ballinger kicked to the visitors and they got going started rolling for the final score which was climaxed by a 30-yard pass and run, Lyman to Graham. Sewell then carried it to the one-yard line and Lyman put it over. Owens' kick was good for the extra point.

The loss was the first for Littlefield this season.

Sundown Scores 20-0 Victory Over Antelopes

SUNDOWN, Nov. 2 (Special)—Sundown struck three times through the air here tonight to chalk up a 20 to 0 District 6-A grid decision over a fighting Post High team.

After a scoreless first period in which both teams see-sawed up and down the field, Sundown opened up with its fancy aerials and late in the second quarter began travelling. Fullback Dale Peden found Quarterback John Ethridge on the Post goal line with a 30-yard heave for the first Sundown tally. Ethridge kicked the extra point. A few minutes later in the same period, the same combination hit paydirt again, also on a 30-yard heave with Ethridge receiving. He also kicked the extra point and the half ended 14 to 0.

The third stanza was scoreless. Then about midway the fourth period, Ethridge tossed a 10-yard aerial intended for a Sundown end, but the ball was knocked away by a Post man and fell into the arms of Right Half Bob Swain for Sundown and the local lads' third touchdown. Ethridge's try point was blocked. Sundown completed eight of 10 passes, amassed eight first downs, Post completing seven of 14 passes and getting nine first downs.

Owls Heavy Favorites To Stop Red Raiders In Houston Today

Schlinkman To Start; Walmsley Among Rice Standouts Available

(By The Associated Press)

HOUSTON, Nov. 2.—Coach Jess Neely's Rice Institute Owls, a team that pulled itself out of the depths last week at Austin to topple the mighty Longhorns, face Texas Tech's Red Raiders tomorrow afternoon at Rice Field. Game time will be 2:30 p. m.

The Blue shirted Owls, bolstered by the return of George Walmsley, all-conference back of 1944 and Charley Howard, bruising tackle of last year, will be out to prove that last week's stunning upset was no flash in the pan performance.

Schlinkman To Start

The feathered flock faces a team capable of testing any line. Tech's Walt Schlinkman, one of the best ball carriers in the nation, will be ready to see if he can do what Longhorn backs failed to accomplish against the alert Rice defense.

While Tech has failed to crash the win column with any degree of consistence this season, the Raiders have come up with top performances, including a 7-7 draw with Baylor two weeks ago.

Owls Standouts In Shape

Coach Neely will have Theo Chmelik, big tackle, ready for the starting whistle this afternoon. It will be the first time since the LSU tilt that Chmelik has been around for duty and his return means much to the squad as Bob Zelsman a Naval trainee, has departed.

The probable starting lineup:

TECH	Pos.	RICE
Meyers	LE	Bradbeer
Winkler	LT	Parker
Lawhorn	LG	Oprea
Turner	C	Weatherly
Birdwell	RG	Nicholson
McEwane	RT	Chmelik
Kelley	RE	Arnold
Harder	QB	Mason
Tidwell	LH	Keeney
Norris	RH	Nemir
Schlinkman	FB	Anderson

New Deal, Cowhands Gold In 32-32 Tie

New Deal staged a last minute rally Friday afternoon to chalk up a 32 to 32 deadlock with Lubbock High's Cowhands Gold with 15 seconds left to play.

Coach Marlin "Shorty" Hayhurst's Cowhands struck in the first few minutes of the opening quarter with Quarterback Dwight Moore plunging over to climax a 75 yard drive after the opening kickoff. On the second play after the Cowhand kickoff then, Utley, who accounted for all the New Deal tallies, galloped 60 yards and the count stood 7 to 6 for the Cowhands.

Late in the first, Gilbert fumbled and New Deal recovered, scoring a second later to take a 12 to 7 lead at the end of the initial stanza.

In the second quarter, Moore again scored followed by another tally for the Cowhands as Right Half Silas Ussery took a pass from Moore to make the count 20 to 12 at the half for the Lubbock lads.

In the third, Fullback Gordon Hilton plunged off tackle for four yards and another Lubbock counter to make it 26 to 12. However Utley came back with a 65-yard gallop at the end of the period to make it 26 to 18.

The fourth frame was a wild one. Utley brought his mates up to within one point of the Cowhands with a pass and run to count, also adding New Deal's first extra point to make it 26 to 25. But the Cowhands came back on the kickoff then and marched 70 yards with Moore plunging for the tally to make it 32 to 25.

Then New Deal took the kickoff, marched back to midfield, picked up 15 on a penalty, added two passes to go to the eight, then Utley went over on a fake handoff. Utley then plunged for the game tying extra point with 15 seconds to play.

Hunters Get Target Practice But No Deer

LOGAN, Utah, Nov. 2 (AP) — A party of discouraged, unsuccessful deer hunters returning home snapped to attention when the gleam of their car's headlights revealed the head of a fine buck among some trees.

The driver grabbed his gun, jumped out of the car, drew a bead and fired. The head swayed but stood firm. When the anxious hunter advanced on his target, he found that some prankster had hung the mounted deer head on a tree.

But he wasn't the only victim of the hoax. More than 50 bullet holes showed in the head.

The largest open pit iron ore mine in the world is said to be at Hibbing, Minn. The mine, 350 feet deep and two and one-half miles long, has an area of 1070 acres.

Hearne Romps Again With Frog Grid Club

FORT WORTH, Nov. 2 (AP) — He don't play this week; he probably won't play this season, and he may never play again, but one of the finest ends Texas Christian university ever had has rejoined the squad.

He is Billy Hearne who left in 1942 to be a Marine after earning his letter as a sophomore at TCU.

While fighting the Japs on Okinawa last May, Herane was hit by a piece of shrapnel that penetrated the left side of his face just below and in front of the temple and lodged behind the right eye. It was necessary to remove the eye.

He came back to school this week. "I just want to get out there and run around with the squad again," he said. "I don't know about playing. We'll have to wait and see how things work out."

Cost Of New Cars To Be Announced Soon

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2 (AP)—You're going to know within three or four days how much that new car will cost.

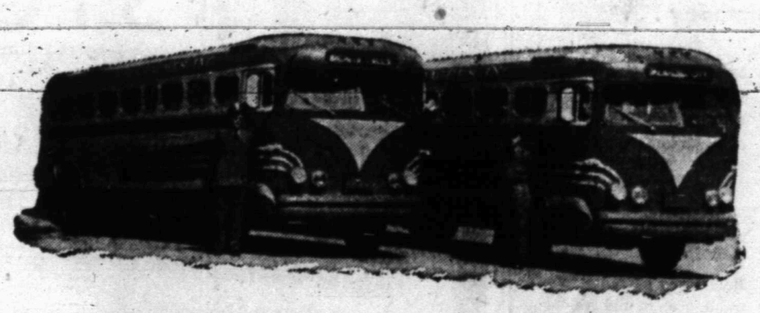

Chances are the retail prices will be higher than most people have expected.

Price Chief Chester Bowles announced last night that the new car ceilings have been fixed, but said they would not be made public for another three or four days. Manufacturers can publish their selling prices a day earlier if they wish.

He gave no hint of how specific prices would run, but other OPA sources said they probably would be "considerably higher" than was originally hoped.

A single U. S. Quartermaster truck company moved as much as 3,000 tons of engineering equipment, food, clothing and gasoline supplies weekly during the war.

John Citizen Is Wary

He Wants Careful Price Control

THE guy who gets his financial succor in modest figures is watching his dollars closely these days for the first sign of further shrinkage. He is remembering what happened after World War I. He recalls either as a direct victim or from what he read in the history books, that nearly half of the inflationary price rises occured then after the Armistice of Nov. 11, 1918.

Despite efforts of the Office of Price Administration, he has seen the war years bring prices so high, in some instances, that he has had to get on his toes to meet them. With the armistice in the last war a few months old, he is wondering if history will repeat itself, and when. He foresees that, if it does, the fix he has been in the past four years will seem, in retrospection, a period of gracious living.

This fellow, who is pretty average, has been keeping tab on the price tags in the last several weeks to determine if another phase of post-World war I history will repeat. At that time, prices dropped slightly in the three or four months following Nov. 11, 1918, then suddenly zoomed upward to a dizzy peak. So far, he sees the same old prices he has been paying for a long time. Perhaps this is a good omen.

The big boom following the other war disintegrated in the Spring of 1920. Factory pay dropped nearly 50 per cent, farm income around 65 per cent and corporation profits from net of six billion dollars after taxes to a net loss of fifty-five million. Businesses and industry went bankrupt, jobs disappeared.

John Citizen hopes, along with everybody else, that this doesn't occur again. He wants his federal government to be careful, to peek ahead, prudently, at every turn in the road to peacetime economy.

Additions To The Family?

TEXAS, Vermont, Oregon and the rest of the United States family may have a new sister—maybe even two—sometime soon. Early birth of Alaska as a state is freely predicted, and there is a slight possibility that Puerto Rico may vote to seek membership in the Union.

Puerto Rico, under the provisions of the Tydings bill recently introduced in Congress, would be given a chance to vote on whether it wants statehood, outright independence or some form of dominion status.

The United States has owned the Caribbean island for nearly a half century. But Puerto Rico has not been entirely satisfied for a long time. Its people have agitated for a change, off and on, for approximately 40 years. Most of this agitation has been in the form of a strong independence movement.

However, Puetro Rico may not feel any too confident, in these turbulent times, to set out on its own. It needs U. S. financial assistance and strong arm protection.

Alaska will soon have opportunity to vote on admission, according to Rep. Ed Gossett of Wichita Falls, member of the House Committee on Territorial Affairs. It is within the power of Congress, Gossett says, to act without a vote of the 70,000 Alaskans, but sentiment among its members is to leave the question up to the inhabitants.

While Gossett and other members of the committee were in Alaska recently to conduct hearings on the statehood question, some show of opposition developed, he reported. Increased taxation and local responsibility are burdens which the Alaskans hesitate to accept, he said.

Congress has neglected Alaska for a long time. It has abandoned most of its authority over the territory to the Interior department, which has stifled development by setting aside large areas of the richest mining and fishing and forestry areas for Indian reservations.

According to Gossett, on one reservation of 1,500,000 acres there are only 18 Indians.

More roads, better air routes and lower steamship rates are essential to its development.

The federal government owns 99 per cent of the whole territory, and boundless sources of coal and timber are locked up in these government holdings. The country's oil potentialities are virtually unexplored. Its timber is hardly untouched, promising great possibilities for forestry and pulp industries. If roads were available, it undoubtedly would become the mecca each year for millions of tourists.

Alaska is truly this continent's last frontier. It is a challenge to the inherent American spirit. Among those apt to take up the challenge are thousands of former service men who will not be inclined to take up cut-and-dried living in their native states. Annexation would do more than anything else to hasten its habitation and development.

One-Minute Sermon

In the beginning God created the heaven and the earth. And the earth was without form, and void; and darkness was upon the face of the deep. And the Spirit of God moved upon the face of the waters. Genesis 1:1, 2.

ABOUT TWO PET SNAKES

XX

After the circus tour I could expect peace for awhile. I had been able to save some money to clear up debts, and Baud's bookings for me worked out well.

Mother wrote seldom but I knew from theatrical news that the Swedish opera, if not a complete flop, was giving a very good imitation of one throughout the United States. I was prepared for the worst, which eventually came to my house in the form of a fat blonde singer, who had fought with the rest of the company and returned to Paris in high dudgeon. What on earth the woman wanted with me, I never found out, but she arrived one Saturday evening between shows. I had returned to the apartment for a short rest before the evening performance, and sent word to her by Marie that I was dressing to go to work, begging her to excuse me and come back some other time. She was so insistent about saying "just two words," that I began to think she might have a message from mother and so let her in. Not having even the courtesy to wait till I received her in the salon, she barged straight into my bedroom and let loose a torrent of conversation about the company and her personal troubles.

When she had plumped her entire 200 pounds down on the side of my bed with a crash that shook the room, I had not noticed that under the coverlet, beneath her mountain of flesh, was my poor little snake Dandy. Suddenly I saw his black head and about a foot of him strike at her as he writhed beneath her weight. I screamed at her to get up, and as she rose, Dandy was hanging on the back of black seal coat, hooked into the fur by his two front fangs.

She screamed and yelled and threw herself about the room, smashing Dandy against the bedroom furniture — even trying to climb out of the window in her terror. Finally, I got him off her and could see his body was limp —that he could not coil. I took him into the bathroom, putting him on the smooth tile floor, where he dragged himself under the bathtub to his favorite hiding place, a little crack in the woodwork that he had found. There he lay for three days until he died.

• • •

Shortly after this tragic happening, I went out to supper with my old friend Ireneo Sampallo from Rio, who was a great lover of animals and had all sorts of rare ones on his estancia in the country. I told him about Dandy and how sad it had made me, so he promised to cable his brother to send me another snake from their estate.

A month later, I received a telephone call from the office of the Chef du Gare of the Gare nu Nord, saying that there was a crate containing a live snake waiting for me on the platform and that I must be good enough to come immediately and remove it. I got a taxi whose chauffeur I knew—a nice Breton boy called Marcel, who owned a big closed cab and often drove me to the theater. Away we went to collect the snake—and we didn't have much trouble finding it, for there, in the middle of a group of excited jabbering porters and officials, was a large crate covered with labels and instructions about its fragile contents.

It was broken on one side, and about two feet of torpid reptile was hanging out.

A representative of the express company, who refused to move the snake, was adding to the confusion by waving a sheaf of documents in my face and breathing heavily through his nose which was red and had a drop on the end of it. It was December and bitterly cold, so all I wanted to do was get the poor snake into some kind of shelter before it froze to death. Finally I persuaded one of the more daring spirits in the group of porters to help Marcel get the crate on a hand truck and out to the taxi.

We drove to the back entrance of the garden, for I knew the concierge would not be easy to deal with once he found out what the crate contained.

Finally ,we got everything safely into the house and into a still unfurnished spare room. Marcel, who by this time was as excited as I, helped me open the crate. We beheld one of the finest diamond-backed boa constrictors I have ever seen—a splendid specimen, measuring about five feet from tip to tail and far too big for an apartment.

I named him Botafogo.

• • •

Mother arrived for Christmas and stayed about a month. She told me all about the misfortunes of the Swedish opera, which had got off to a bad start with the American public. The critics did not even have the kindness to pan the company; they did something much worse, which was to ignore it completely. However, the company had somewhat revived its drooping spirits, and the directors announced they were going ahead in England. Mother was very enthusiastic about the operas and felt that if she sang in several of those she personally liked, the show would pick up—so she intended leaving for Scandinavia in February, and from there she would go to London in the spring.

The fact that father had not been able to afford a trip over for Christmas and that mother was still obliged to work tormented me.

I planned toaccept a contract at the Opera Comique for the month of February and asked Baud to obtain the best salary he could for me.

Looking At Life ------ By Erich Brandeis

ONE of the subjects my readers most frequently write about is success.

In one way I am glad that it is still such a popular subject, because it indicates that Americans still believe in opportunity, and without opportunity there can be no success.

In another way, however, I am a bit worried, because when they talk about success it is always material success — money, power, fame — never spiritual success, which can be attained by anyone who really wants it.

BRANDEIS

What is success? Webster defines it as "that which ensues, outcome, issue." Which I would construe as meaning the successful outcome of something you set out to do.

In other words, to be successful in anything, you must first set out to do something. Without a goal no success is possible. However, the goal alone is not enough.

• • •

Only a few days ago a reader sent me a letter in which she complained that she had always wanted to be a writer, that she had practiced and tried and done everything she could—but that no publisher wanted her writings.

She sent a few stories she had written, and I could see at once that she would never be a writer. She had no imagination, her interest was entirely in herself, she had no command of the language.

You cannot be successful in anything unless you are qualified for it by nature.

I could never be successful as a mechanic. Tools are my born enemies and, although I have driven an automobile for many years, I haven't the slightest idea what a carburetor is for or how the differential functions.

To be successful find out, first of all, what you want more than anything else in the world. Then examine yourself and see whether Nature has given you the right to want it.

Do you envy Lily Pons or Lawrence Tibbett? Do you want to be a great singer? Then find out whether you have that "God-given" voice, and remember that there is a reason for calling it God-given.

Do you want to be wealthy? The acquisition of wealth, too, is a natural talent. I am sure that you can't become a millionaire unless you have the talent of acquisition. I know because I have tried it and failed miserably.

• • •

THE fundamental rule for success is, first of all, to know yourself.

The world is full of failures who did not know their limitations.

You can achieve anything you wish provided you have a right to wish it.

Above all, success is Happiness. Without it "success" is Failure.

Even if you gain success it is not worth the effort if, on the way to it, you have missed the joy of living.

Of all the successful people I have interviewed, not one of them has been able to give me the formula.

To sum it all up this is what they said:

"I knew what I wanted. I went after it by working for it the best I know how—and here I am."

Simple, isn't it?

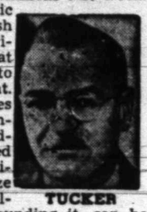

Roosevelt And Ibn Saud

Palestine Wrangle Worries HST

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

PRESIDENT TRUMAN has applied personal pressure on 10 Downing Street to counteract the adverse reaction to President's Roosevelt's promise to Ibn Saud that no Jewish homeland would be established in Palestine without the Arabian king's prior consent. But he is not certain that England's peculiar concern in that vital area will permit her to grant all the American demands.

In talking with protesting congressmen from districts heavily populated by Jewish voters, Mr. Truman said that he expected Foreign Minister Ernest Bevin to discuss the question in a cooperative spirit when he addressed Commons last week. But somehow the transatlantic wires got crossed. The British statesman confined himself to criticism of Russia and a demand that starving Europeans be fed so as to prevent anarchy on the continent.

TUCKER

Now the White House hopes that Prime Minister Attlee himself will act to extricate the administration from the pit prepared by HST's predecessor. The President's partisan advisers recognize that the Roosevelt pledge, especially in view of the secrecy surrounding it, can be an embarrassing political legacy.

Washington realizes, however, that Britain's vast and delicate interests in the Middle East will incline London to move cautiously.

With Russia seeking a foothold in the eastern Mediterranean, a key link in the empire's lifeline to India and the Orient, England cannot afford to antagonize Ibn Saud and his native allies up and down the Red Sea and the Arabian Gulf. A study of any ten-cent map will reveal the British dilemma.

• • •

REPUDIATION: The inside diplomatic story is that as early as May of 1939 Prime Minister Chamberlain repudiated the historic Balfour Declaration, which promised British support of the Zionist movement.

England violated that pledge in order to win over Turkey and other Middle East nations in the event that war broke out with Germany. Hitler, even then, was trying to form alliances in this area in accordance with the kaiser's traditional Berlin-to-Bagdad program.

Although the Balfour agreement required that England should not modify it without consulting the United States, there is no public evidence that Washington was a party to the repudiation. Only FDR's private papers can answer that question.

• • •

PLANK: When the United States entered the conflict, and it became even more essential to persuade the nations of Asia Minor to maintain a policy of friendly neutrality, Mr. Roosevelt was confronted with an accomplished fact, provided that he did not know of the 1939 repudiation at the time it was made. So, according to State department officials, he felt himself compelled to support the British government as against the Zionists. It was wartime strategy.

What puzzles the Zionist leaders, however, is that in 1944 the Democratic platform contained a plank pledging the administration to use its influence on behalf of a Jewish homeland in Palestine.

• • •

DELEGATION: The Truman-Byrnes revelation of these hidden international deals came at a particularly unpropitious moment, politically. It could upset the ballot-box balance of power in the 1946 congressional contests and in the presidential struggle in 1948.

Politicos are looking forward to some evidence of influential reaction following last night's dinner, given here to a visiting delegation from Palestine, with Senator Wagner as chairman.

• • •

REPERCUSSION: On November 6, New York elects a new mayor, and the Republicans have named a prominent Hebrew leader, Judge Jonah Goldstein. Although every poll indicates victory for his Tammany opponent, William F. O'Dwyer, politicians will scan the results in certain districts, especially in Brooklyn, lower Manhattan and the Bronx, for any sign of racial disaffection.

Nationally, the repercussion could be revolutionary. In all his election battles it is estimated that President Roosevelt corralled about 65 per cent, possibly 85 of the Jewish vote. Had he lost in about 13 cities where they are politically strong, he would have been defeated by Thomas E. Dewey last fall.

President Truman must devise some formula to retain — or regain — a proportionate share of this element of the electorate if he is to be re-elected. And nobody knows it better than he and National Chairman "Bob" Hannegan.

• • •

PROFITS: American industrialists and workingmen have John L. Lewis to thank — or denounce — for the nation-wide injection of an entirely new factor into wage-increase negotiations. He was the first labor leader to argue that industry's profits must be taken into consideration when discussing employer's ability to fatten pay envelopes.

In the past the AFL and other groups never gave a thought to this question. They bargained and wrangled on the basis of old-fashioned, horse-trading methods. If they obtained a small advance for their unions, they called it a day without any study of corporation's balance sheet.

The United Mine Workers' boss has always employed a staff of economists and accountants. They watched the financial pages, directors' reports, Treasury statements and every other document which gave an account of coal operators' profit and loss.

• • •

DIVIDENDS: When he entered a conference room, he showed a more exact knowledge of their financial status than did some of the owners themselves. He won many a battle by flashing facts and figures which demonstrated their ability to pay more money to his men.

Now the CIO has taken a leaf out of his book. Government economists have followed suit, even figuring in prospective tax reductions as a subject for consideration in wage-raise negotiations. In a sense, labor now regards itself as a partner of management and demands dividends commensurate with the corporation's returns.

TEXAS
By Gordon Shearer

J. R. B. Shilder's first birthday party was given him on his 70th birthday in Amarillo.

Overlooked during his boyhood, the celebration was arranged by J. W. Chasteen, at whose home Shielder has roomed for the last 17 years.

• • •

PROMOTION: Newton Foster, veteran of World War II, will succeed B. T. Walters as Smith county Auditor on November 10.

Walters resigned after holding the position for the last six years to go with a private concern. Foster has been serving as assistant auditor.

• • •

PETTICOATS: The Favre Baldwin post of the American Legion has enrolled its first woman member.

She is Miss Evelyn Post, recently discharged from the Women's Army corps after serving more than three years. After service in Africa as an enlisted woman, she attended Officers' Candidate school in the country, was commissioned a second lieutenant.

• • •

CHANCE: There's a chance — a mighty small one — for anyone with the price to obtain a ticket to the University of Texas-Texas Aggie football game at College Station November 29.

It is true that the "sold out" notice has been issued by athletic business managers of both schools. But that does not apply to Longhorn student tickets —4,300 of them—and orders accompanied by cash may be lucky enough to find some student not wanting to pick up his reservation.

We are inclined to doubt that the eating of carrots will improve the eyesight. A cat can see much better than a rabbit can.

CIO Candidate Seeks Detroit Mayoralty

Spotlight On Detroit Labor Issue

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

DETROIT.—The mayoralty election here Nov. 6 is attracting national interest.

The CIO again is trying to elect a mayor and extend its political influence in a major industrial city. It is a key city for labor as well as for industry.

Here labor has its biggest single union in the CIO's United Automobile Workers. This union is a powerful factor in labor affairs just, as the automobile industry is potent in industrial affairs.

STOKES

Interest in the election is enhanced and bitterness sharpened because of the background of industrial turmoil. Threats of a major strike hang darkly over the city. The tensions of this industrial conflict naturally extend to the local political fight.

• • •

CIO's Own Representative

In previous attempts to install a friendly executive in the city hall, the CIO has backed candidates not directly identified with labor organizations. This time it has a candidate from its own ranks. He is Richard T. Frankensteen, vice president of the UAW.

His decision to run is said to have been influenced by a political situation within his union which is unfavorable to higher aspirations there. Mr. Frankensteen seems to have been jockeyed out of position in the union's factional conflict. His entrance in the mayoralty race was sudden, presumably without much consultation. It caused some surprise.

But the CIO has rallied staunchly behind him and its political action committee is out for him. It is button-holing the citizenry and ringing doorbells, as it did so effectively in the last national election. PAC is a formidable force here.

• • •

MR. FRANKENSTEEN is trying to unseat Mayor Edward J. Jeffries, jr., three-time incumbent. Behind the mayor are aligned the business and industrial interests of the city which have been stirred to intense activity by the labor threat.

City affairs are conducted normally on a nonpartisan basis here. So are elections—without the tags of Republican and Democrat. But Mayor Jeffries has the support of the Republican organization. He also will draw votes from the AFL because the older craft unions fear that CIO influence might weigh adversely in jurisdictional disputes.

Mr. Frankensteen has the backingof the local Democratic organization which is tied to the CIO.

• • •

Detroit Takes Notice

Persons here well-informed politically say that Mayor Jeffries would have little chance if it were not for the labor issue embodied in the straight-out CIO candidacy. The mayor has made enemies, and there is no overwhelming enthusiasm for him. His victory margin two years ago was fairly small. He ran behind Mr. Frankensteen in the five-man primary.

But injection of the labor issue has served to whip up interest of the conservatice voters. Mayor Jeffries has recognized its potency and is concentrating on it. He proclaims repeatedly that a big new political machine, the CIO, is trying to take over the city.

The way he says it you would think that a sort of combined army of barbarians and political spoilsmen whom even Boss Frank Hague wouldn't claim is encamped outside the city, ready to burn and pillage.

• • •

THE mayor seeks to nationalize the issue by claiming that CIO organizers from other parts of the country have invaded Detroit to help with the election. His opponent counters with a sinister picture of Wall Street and the National Ass'n. of Manufacturers in the offing.

The names they are calling each other are remindful of schoolboy scrawls across the blackboard when teacher's back is turned.

As for predictions, nobody wants to offer any more than a forecast it will be a close election.

Recruiting Officials Hold Meeting In City

A business meeting of commanding officers of the U. S. Army West Texas District recruiting substations was held in Lubbock Thursday under direction of Major Robert T. Gibbons, district commander.

It was announced at the meeting that the district topped the list of Eighth Service command districts in their recruiting drive last week, going over their quota 391 percent. Twelve hundred and fourteen men were enlisted in the Army through the district last month. A self-set quota of 1,800 recruits was set at the meeting for the coming 30-day period.

Under discussion at the Thursday meeting was the securement of enlistments at Army installations and closer liason with these during November. War department circular 310, pertaining to armed forces voluntary recruiting act of 1945, was discussed and plans laid for a more intensive publicity campaign in recruiting activities.

Included in the plan for recruiting activities is the future "bombing" with handbills of Borger, Whitedeer, Childress, Pampa, Phillips, Quanah and Memphis. Planes will sprinkle these cities with placards by Nov. 15.

Those attending the meeting included Capt. William Hollis of Abilene, Capt. John Henry of Amarillo, Capt. Wayne Hall of Big Spring, Lt. Gerald Herron of San Angelo, Lt. Anthony Dabov and Lt. W. P. Venters, head and assistant of the Lubbock sub-station. Capt. Eugene Saffold, plans and training officer of the district with headquarters here, was also present.

Chinese Civil War

despite an attack by an estimated 100,000 Reds under the reported direction of Gen. Chu Teh, Communist commander-in-chief.

In Peiping, Associated Press Correspondent Spencer Davis quoted Gen. Ho Ying-Chin, North China commander-in-chief, as announcing intentions to open all communication lines.

Full Scale War Feared

That would mean sending Central government troops straight into Communist centers, particularly Suiyuan and Chahar provinces. Spencer's dispatch said the 'outbreak of full scale civil war was "an almost momentary possibility."

At Kalgan, in Chahar, are at least 100,000 troops of the veteran Eighth Route (Communist) Army who boast "the Japanese couldn't beat us; how can (Generalissimo) Chiang?" They have made no secret of intention to hold Kalgan at all cost. That trade and rail center, on the great wall, is the point where for centuries caravans from Inner Mongolia entered North China.

She herself escaped with horrible leg burns from a flaming grave into which she said the Japanese had tossed her.

Jose Maldonado, a Spaniard, said that during the fighting the Japanese came to his home where at least 50 persons had sought safety, locked the men in the bathroom and threw in a grenade, and bayoneted and raped the women.

STOCKS ARE ERRATIC

NEW YORK, Nov. 2 (AP)—Air transports and specialities posted new peaks for more than eight years in today's stock market but many leaders were thrown for losses by profit cashing on the lengthy swing.

Dealings were fast after the opening with the ticker tape, for the first time since last July 17, falling a minute behind. The pace soon slowed. Transfers of 1,840,000 shares compared with 2,210,000 Thursday, best volume since June 28.

Inflation psychology, imminence of tax relief, earnings and dividends remained as buying factors. Insistence of O. P. A. and the Commerce department that industry generally could absorb proposed wage boosts without increasing prices chilled sentiment a bit. Mainly, accounts were trimmed on the belief the recent lively bulge called for a technical correction.

The Associated Press 60-stock composite managed to finish with a net advance of .1 of a point at 73.6, a top since March 17, 1937. It was the broadest market since May 21, 1940, 1,028 issues registering.

In the "new high" class were Montgomery Ward, up 3⅜; American Airlines, up 3¼; Eastern Air Lines, up 2; Penn-Central Airlines, up 1¼; Electric Boat, up 1½; American Cable, up ⅞ and American Telephone, up ¾.

Atlantic Coast Line was up 4 and Eastman Kodak, which had jumped 16 points in two days, was off as much.

Bonds were spotty. At Chicago wheat was up ⅜ to off ⅛ of a cent a bushel. Cotton was down 30 to 55 cents a bale.

Tilting forward in the curb were Cities Service, Dennison Mfg. "A" and Segal Lock. Turnover here was 990,000 shares versus 1,090,000 yesterday.

NEW YORK FUTURES

NEW YORK, Nov. 2 (AP)—The cotton futures market, after moving in a narrow range today declined into new low grounds in the final hour as a flurry of hedge selling and local liquidation met indifferent mill buying. Final prices were 30 to 55 cents a bale lower. Most traders held to the sidelines pending further developments in the Pace parity-boosting measure.

A threat that strikes may spread in New England textile mills caused some caution. Increased hedging was associated with larger sales of spot cotton at the primary markets where shippers and mills were aggressive buyers at firming prices, according to private reports.

The cotton futures market eased into new low ground fo rthe day towards the close on increased hedge selling.

Futures closed 30 to 55 cents a bale lower.

Youth Rallies In City Scheduled

First of a series of four youth rallies to be held in Lubbock under Junior Chamber of Commerce sponsorship has been set for the First Presbyterian church on Sunday, Nov. 11, according to Rev. Jimmy Bell, youth speaker who will conduct the meetings.

Bell spoke before the Inter-Denominational Religious council at Texas Tech Thursday night and received a vote of endorsement pledging cooperation and "full support" of that group, going along with the Lubbock Ministerial alliance.

Second Meeting Nov. 18

The second of the rallies which are aimed by the Jaycees at a "city-wide better youth" movement for the "poor and unchurch youth of the city," will be held at the First Methodist church on Sunday, Nov. 18, the third will be held in the First Christian church on Sunday, Nov. 25 and the fourth has not been set.

At these meetings, first of which will be at 2 p. m., and the others at 3 p. m. on their respective dates, musical entertainment will be presented by a group composed of college, high school and Lubbock Army Air field singers and musicians. Time of the first meeting was made an hour earlier than planned in order that students might attend the high school open house from 3-4:30 p. m. the same afternoon.

To Speak At Clubs

Bell said a young lieutenant, an outstanding song leader at his present home, will be present from the Clovis air field to lead singing. A religious message "free from any controversial denominational" topics will be presented to the youth at these meetings.

The High School Interdenominational Religious council met Friday afternoon and endorsed the meetings and will cooperate in them. The group, which met at the home of the president, Lynn Marie Ryan, 2018 Seventeenth, is to appoint teams who will reach the unchurch boys and girls of Lubbock.

Bell met with the council and plans to go before the Optimist club Tuesday at noon and the Rotary club Wednesday at the same time.

To Speak To P-TA

A meeting of the Parent-Teacher association council, composed of representatives from each of the city's P-TA organizations, has been scheduled for Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock in the high school auditorium at which time Bell will speak, bringing to that group the program and plans of the Jaycees in their youth movement.

Bell will speak to the youth of the First Baptist church Sunday morning, outlining and explaining the plans for the rallies, and Sunday night will speak before the Methodist Youth organization.

Lubbock Man Home After Three Years Prisoner Of Japs

Sgt. Floyd Ricketts, son of J. F. Ricketts of 2110 Third street, arrived home Friday for a 10-day furlough from McCloskey General hospital in Temple after more than three years in Japanese prison camps in the Southwest Pacific area.

Ricketts was captured May 5, 1942 at the fall of Corregidor and imprisoned in Cabanatuan camp until July 17, 1944 when he was moved to Japan. He was liberated there Sept. 14 of this year by reprocessing troops of the U. S. Army.

Back to about his normal weight of 210 pounds, Ricketts said that the internment by the Japanese went "hardest on us big men. The little fellows seemed to be able to coast along but we suffered most due to lack of a proper diet." The sergeant was down to 139 pounds when he weighed himself four days after liberation.

He arrived in San Francisco by plane last Thursday and was sent to McCloskey before his furlough. He wears the Purple Heart, good conduct medal, Victory ribbon, American defense ribbon, Asiatic defense ribbon, Philippines defense ribbon, and the Presidential citation. His unit was cited three times and his medals include four battle stars.

The Purple Heart was received for wounds he got in the final battles on Corregidor, three days before the "rock" fell. His worst wound was when he received a bomb fragment in his leg, and it is still there.

Methodist Told U. S. Should Feed Europe

FORT WORTH, Nov. 2. (U.P.) — Delegates to the Central Texas Methodist conference today pondered the warning that unless the United States "takes care of Europe's empty stomachs, the effort for Democracy may face an impossible test."

The warning was voiced by the Rev. Kenneth Pope, pastor of the First Methodist church in Austin who recently returned from a tour of Europe.

"The food question may mean the difference in whether there is revolution in Europe this winter," Dr. Pope told the conference, which closes its two-day session today.

War Workers, Former Soldiers Taking Jobs

DALLAS, Nov. 2 (U.P.)—Vacationing ex-war workers and discharged servicemen are starting to snap up all available jobs and the labor shortage in the lower-paid employment brackets is beginning to ease in Texas.

A survey by United Press showed that actual unemployment on a small scale has developed in most parts of the state.

In Dallas, only 674 new jobs were listed with the United States employment service this week. A week earlier 1,426 were listed. And a total of 12,088 persons were registered as unemployed.

In the days immediately after the end of the war, lower paid jobs as clerks, salesmen, filling station attendants, waiters and the like went begging. Former war workers, accustomed to big checks and double time for Sunday work, went on vacations or hunted for higher salaried positions.

"The evening-up period is starting," officials of the U. S. E. S. said today. "Unemployment is not a problem yet, but it will be unless Texas buckles down to the task of providing thousands of new jobs in a hurry."

Newspapers in Texas, which have been full of "help wanted" ads for three or more years, reported a slump in that category of classified advertisements.

Higgins Offers Union Chance To Run Plants

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 2. (AP) — Andrew J. Higgins, who shutdown his three Higgins Industries, Inc., plants here yesterday during an AFL union walkout, proposed today that the unions purchase the closed plants and operate them.

"All of the Higgins plants affected are owned by Higgins Industries, Inc.," said the head of the firm in an interview. "There is not one dime of government money in any of them."

Higgins said that the only way he would reopen negotiations was for the unions "to give me proof that they have enough money to seriously negotiate to buy the plants, but they couldn't operate under the name of Higgins," he added.

About 12,000,000 pounds of food a day go through New York City's Washington Market.

Bells To Ring Longer If Tech Bests Owls

If Texas Tech wins over Rice this afternoon, the Victory Bells atop the administration building at Texas Tech will ring 30 minutes rather than the usual 15.

Henceforth, when any Tech athletic victory is scored, the bells will ring 30 minutes. Because the noise of football crowds, parades and pep rallies drowns out the ringing of the bells when a game is played on the campus, Dr. Wm. M. Whyburn, president, has approved a request made by the Saddle Tramps to place a time limit on the bells.
