Women's Air Derby May Stop In Lubbock

OFFICIAL OF RACE TALKING OVER PROJECT

PROMINENT WOMEN OF AVIATION WILL BE IN CONTEST

Possibility that Lubbock will be made either a day or night stop for the Women's Air Derby this year was voiced this morning when C. F. Lienesch, of Los Angeles, manager of the aviation department of the Union Oil company of California and route manager of the derby conferred with local aviation officials.

Mr. Lienesch is traveling the northern route from Chicago to the west coast mapping the route for the event which will start about August 20 from Los Angeles. There are two routes being considered, the southern following the T. & P. railroad and the northern, following the Santa Fe, through this section from El Paso, Carlsbad, Lubbock and Amarillo.

To Be Two Divisions
This year, according to Mr. Lienesch, there will be two divisions of the women's derby, the little derby for engines of small design and the heavy derby for larger engines. Such famous pilots as Amelia Earhart, Gladys O'Donnell and Blanche Noyes have already signed up for the latter event.

In order to get the derby through Lubbock several reservations must be made by the city, including accommodations for pilots, use of airport and naming of local officials. The derby is to start from Los Angeles on August 20 and end at Chicago about August 27.

Prizes
Mr. Lienesch said that for this country as regards prize and indicated that favor would be shown for this route if necessary arrangements can be made with towns. "Your airport here, when given a little more attention, will be excellent."

ITALY HIKES AUTO TARIFF

RATES ARE INCREASED BETWEEN 110 AND 120 PER CENT

(By Associated Press)
ROME, June 2.—The Italian government today, without previous notice, increased the import duty on automobiles between 110 and 120 per cent. Notice of the increase was published in the official gazette. Representatives here of foreign motor car manufacturers, particularly Americans, were thrown into much excitement by the new schedule.

Published on June 30
The rates were published on June 30 but passed unnoticed by the public so that the new schedule had been in effect 36 hours before the bombshell exploded in motor circles.

The unprecedentedly heavy customs duties were considered by agents of American manufacturers here as a form of retaliation against the new American tariff schedules.

The new rates were applied particularly to small cars.

signed by King
The new schedule was in the form of a royal decree signed by the king, the premier and other heads of the government.

It was executed to go into effect immediately and is presented later to the Italian parliament for conversion into law.

It was understood that the decree

TEXAS AREAS GET RAINFALL

(By Associated Press)
Sections of North, Southeast and the Panhandle areas of Texas, parched by an unrelenting sun for weeks, today had been given an acceptable wetting by rain that varied in quantity. Farmers were pleased with moisture that was needed to revive cotton, corn and late truck crops.

Greenville reported the heaviest precipitation, the rain measuring a little better than 13-4 inches and was still falling today. Nacogdoches and San Augustine counties in Southeast Texas were visited by a general rain and moisture was welcomed at Paris, Mount Vernon, Bonham, Tyler and Van Alstyne. Rain had fallen steadily for four hours at Tyler. Van Alstyne's precipitation amounted to half an inch and motorists arriving there said it extended as far south as Plano in Collin county.

Port Arthur Gets Inch
Port Arthur got a little more than half an inch yesterday, Mexico 24, Mount Pleasant .72, Milesbore .54, and Sherman .28.

Dallas enjoyed relief from high temperatures as the mercury descended to a minimum of 73 with cool north winds blowing in from the rainy sections.

Beaumont reported that rainfall in that section was of inestimable value.

EDUCATIONAL EDITOR SEES FOUR HOURS AS ULTIMATE DAY'S WORK; ADVISES TEACHERS TO INSTRUCT ON USE OF LEISURE

(By Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, O., July 2.—Joy Elmer Morgan, editor of the Journal of the National Education, advises American educators to prepare the public for the time when the average working day will be just four hours long. Here today to address a departmental meeting of the association's annual convention, Morgan said the rapid rate of replacement of men by machines makes it reasonable to believe that the working week gradually will be shortened. By 1960 men and women probably will be working the equivalent of five four-hour days, he said. He based this statement on the assumption that machine replacement of men will clip an hour off the working week each year.

The problem for the educator, he said, is to teach the public how to use all the leisure time it will have on its hands. It will mean either a great increase in culture and learning or a deterioration resulting from ill spent leisure.

The association hopes to reach every American with a plan of devoting his spare moments to study through the work of its committee on the enrichment of adult life, whose report was ready for submission today at the second business session of the representative assembly.

BOY MAY NOT BE CHARGED IN SLAYING

YOUTH KILLS FATHER TO ESCAPE BEATING; SLAYERS SOUGHT

(By Associated Press)
SALLISAW, Okla., July 2.—The arm of the law contemplated no penalty today for 14-year-old Elijah Denton, jr., who killed his father late yesterday to avert the renewal of a severe thrashing.

R. O. Ingle, Sequoyah county attorney, and George A. Cheek, sheriff, released the boy after questioning him and said no charges would be filed.

"I'm relieved, now that it is over," the boy told T. P. Bond, editor of a Sallisaw newspaper. "If I had it to do over, I would do it again."

The boy's story that his father had been drinking heavily and had beaten him severely was supported by his two brothers and sister and neighbors. Young Denton said he shot his father with a rifle after the man had beaten him for refusing to go for more liquor. J. A. Williams, a neighbor who witnessed the shooting, said he believed Denton would have killed the boy if he had not been shot. Denton dropped dead after running almost 50 feet toward his son with a bullet in his breast.

Denton and his wife had been divorced several months. Mrs. Denton, who has been living in Oklahoma, was here yesterday to make a property settlement. The couple owned a rich, 90-acre farm 41-2 miles northwest of here.

MRS. J. W. LIVELY AND DAUGHTER INJURED IN ACCIDENT

Although condition of each is still regarded as serious, Mrs. J. W. Lively, 83, and her daughter, Mrs. Vernon Jenkins, both of Marshall, are reported slightly improved today at the Lubbock sanitarium, following injuries sustained Tuesday afternoon at a fracture of the skull together with lacerations of the body. JACKSON TAKES ROTARY OFFICE

A short inaugural speech by the incoming president and a report on the international convention, held in Chicago featured the regular weekly luncheon session of the local Rotary club, held today noon at the Lubbock Hotel.

W. A. Jackson, president-elect, received the Rotary gavel from J. J. Clements, retiring president, and voiced words of optimism for the work of the club for the coming year. "I will make no promises for the accomplishments we might attain," he said, "I can only hope that we will measure up to the standard which has been set and be a better club in the future than we have been in the past. I think it is our moral duty as a club to pass on to the future generations a product that is superior to the one which we received."

Following his short address President Jackson spoke at length on the Chicago convention and the work which was accomplished there.

An announcement, which was greeted with some enthusiasm was made by Riley F. Hule in which he stated that arrangements had been made with Windy Watkins, manager of the A. B. C. baseball team for an A. B. C. Rotary game next Monday afternoon at 9 o'clock.

CONTENTION THAT LIQUOR POSSESSION IS NOT UNLAWFUL ARGUED IN GOTHAM COURT; MAY SEEK SUPREME DECISION

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, July 2.—The contention that possession of liquor in itself is not unlawful was argued before a United States Commissioner here on behalf of a patron arrested in a night club raid.

Frederic R. Coudert, prominent attorney, appearing for Raymond Ackerman who was arrested in a prohibition raid on the Hollywood restaurant last April, pointed out that the United States Supreme Court recently held that the purchasing of liquor is not unlawful and contended that the possession without the intention to sell, manufacture or transport could therefore not be unlawful.

Things in Conflict
"To tell a man that he may lawfully purchase liquor, but that once having obtained the possession of it he is committing a crime by such possession," he said, "is to turn the law into one of those ridiculous farces which would have been admirably exploited by Gilbert and Sullivan and to which Will Rogers makes such pertinent allusions."

"If it were true that the mere possession of liquor, without evidence that it was a step in the

FRISCO BUYS NORTH TEXAS RAIL ROUTE

(By Associated Press)
ST. LOUIS, July 2 (AP)—The St. Louis-San Francisco railroad company today announced outright purchase for $1,800,000 cash, of the entire capital stock of the Gulf-Texas and Western company, a 100-mile line operating in northwestern Texas.

The purchase was made with authority of the Interstate Commerce Commission and the Frisco immediately took over operation of the new line through its Texas company. The line acquired runs from Salsville junction north to Jacksonville and from there northwest to Seymour.

The line taps a rich agricultural and mineral area and is to be operated by the Frisco as a valuable feeder line.

The Frisco also announced plans for building two extensions in Texas, permission for which is sought from the Interstate Commerce Commission. The first extension would be built from Vernon, Texas, south to Seymour, 42 miles, and the second north from Seymour to Paducah, Texas, a distance of 71 miles, where it would connect with another Frisco subsidiary, the Quano, Acme and Pacific railway company.

GULF PLANS BIG PROGRAM

NEW ORLEANS, July 2.—W. J. Teselle, New Orleans manager of the Gulf Refining company, today said his company was planning a $60,000,000 expansion program including creation of a large distribution plant at Memphis and the construction of a pipe line from the Oklahoma oil fields to Pittsburgh, where a mammoth refinery would be built with additional refineries at Cincinnati and Toledo.

Running of the pipe line from Oklahoma to Pittsburgh would mean that oil would be pumped thousands of miles in an air line through rivers, mountains and cities while oil would be brought to Memphis from the company's large refinery at Port Arthur, Texas.

CELEBRATION TOO PREMATURE

WHEELING, W. Va., July 2 (AP)—Eugene Crowder's gully content and a boy's premature celebration of the Fourth had Crowder in jail today.

Crowder was arrested, waiting through the streets here, a cargo police said, of 30 gallons of liquor in his charge. A boy tossed a firecracker beneath the machine, and Crowder, apparently thinking of guns and his own arrest, sprang from the machine and fled with all the speed of his 28 years. The car rattled on, moving through the streets, and the boy was arrested.

Talley's conviction, however, is not a precedent, as he is only 50 years of age, and he is not a member of the bar, and he is not a lawyer.

Commissioner O'Neill ruled that other authorities had held possession of liquor to be prima facie evidence of intent to sell and held Ackerman in $50 bail for trial. Coudert said he was prepared to carry his argument to the United States Supreme court if necessary.

MOTORS KEEP UP PURRING IN ENDURANCE

HUNTER BOYS IN QUEST OF GREATER RECORD ABOVE CLOUDS

(By Associated Press)
CHICAGO, July 2.—John and Kenneth Hunter in the monoplane "City of Chicago" flew through their 500th continuous hour over Sky Harbor today at 11:40 a. m. (Central Standard Time). They were approximately 80 hours ahead of the previous world's record for endurance flying.

The engine purred an indignant retort to reports that the flight would end shortly. Earlier, a conference of Albert and Walter Hunter, the crew of the retelling ship "Big Ben," with others interested in the flight disclosed that three cylinders of the endurance plane's motor which had not been getting oil for three days had been fitted with new pipes and were now working smoothly.

The retelling ship was also pronounced in good shape, but as a precautionary measure the brothers of the ground said a new plane had been ordered in readiness from the Edison plant in case the "Big Ben" should go astray.

Among the congratulatory messages received yesterday was one from Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, who in the days when he was "Slim" and an air mail pilot, barnstormed several times with the Hunter brothers.

The mark of 500 hours held no satisfaction for the brother-pilots—now that they have surpassed by scores of hours the record of Dale Jackson and Forest O'Brien, set at 420 hours plus in the "St. Louis Robin."

PLANS TALKED FOR GREETING VISITORS HERE

BANQUET IS HELD IN HOTEL LUBBOCK LAST NIGHT

One hundred and twenty-five men and women, representing varied ranks of "contact agencies," were guests of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce last evening at a banquet at the Hotel Lubbock where measures for promoting the hospitality of this city were discussed.

Employees, managers and owners of hotels, service stations, the bus terminal, cafes, restaurants, and similar establishments, were guests.

Dr. Horn Talks
Dr. Paul W. Horn, president of Texas Technological college, related the growth of Lubbock from the early stages when western friendliness dominated ranch domains until the present day of civic hospitality. "Hospitality is now organized," he said. "In the early days individuals cheerfully greeted strangers, due to the fact that contacts were not so numerous. There has been a rapid transition. Business institutions have grown up on the Plains and we find it impossible to know all of our neighbors within a radius of several miles, as was the case in early development of this section."

"Lubbock, by virtue of its vast youth and its adequate facilities, has become a recognized convention city," he continued. "We are now concerned with gathering all agencies of contact into a united group for reception of visitors." He related the various contact agencies, such as hotels, newspapers, churches, schools, filling stations, luncheon clubs, tourist camps, police organizations, soda fountains, cafes, etc. and cited adverse and favorable measures of promoting the good will of a city.

Prize Offered
A B Davis, manager of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, announced that a prize of $5 will be offered for the chamber for the person who submits an acceptable slogan for greeting of visitors. "We are anxious," said Mr. Davis, "that the greeting be of such a nature that it should be universally used toward creating friendly reception of the strangers in the city. The personnel of all contact agencies, would be urged to use such a slogan."

J Bryan Miller, who accepted the position of city manager in Lubbock May 10, said that he has been hospitably received in this city and that he strongly approves gatherings of the nature of last night's meeting.

Follow Up Stressed
A L Carrabian, director of public relations for the Hilton Hotels, stressed the value of follow up methods in promoting good will. "Considerable time, money and effort are spent," he said, "in promoting friendly relations, but the KANSAS CITY, July 2 (AP)—Testimony by Mrs. Frank Peters, Quincy, Ill., her attorney advised her "to go out and get some more bruises," today resulted in dismissal of a $10,000 damage suit against the Kansas City Public Service company.

Mrs. Peters testified she fell from a street car in Kansas City, Kas., early in 1929, and a bystander advised her to consult an attorney. She said the attorney told her the injuries she received were insufficient basis for a damage suit and that he urged her to get more.

Mrs. Peters testified she boarded another street car and fell down in the car. Then, she said she went home and acquired a more plentiful supply of bruises by striking herself with a board.

TELETYPE LINES ARE ESTABLISHED

ST. LOUIS, July 2 (AP)—Teletype lines for the exchange of aviation weather reports between St. Louis and other cities to the north, east and west have been established as a part of the weather bureau's nationwide aviation report service. Roscoe Nunn, meteorologist has announced.

The reports are received at the branch of the weather bureau at Lambert-St. Louis field. Nunn said that the line would be extended through Kansas City and Tulsa to Texas within the next month. All value of all is limited unless all agencies cooperate individually.

George W. Dupree, Lubbock attorney, made the last talk on the program, appealing to his hearers to help spread the gospel of Lubbock and the South Plains through the avenue of personal service.

He stressed friendship and service with a smile and methods of improving business and pointed out that the dollar and cents derived from any transaction are only a part of the reward.

"As I look about me," he said, "and perceive those in the high places whom men call successful I sometimes wonder if they are successful. As I see the names emblazoned upon the front pages of our newspapers I wonder if they are our real leaders. I believe the man who makes life a little brighter as he goes along contributes much to our days and to the race of man."

He recalled the oldtime business slogan of "The public be damned and contraband is with the present-day methods of offering service with business transactions."

Charles A. Gray, managing editor of the Avalanche-Journal publication, was toastmaster of the evening.

ter that there will remain only the institution of service to the south to round out the teletype circuit serving Lambert-St. Louis and other local landing fields. The government's expansion program, which is sufficiently complete at present to meet ordinary needs, provided teletype transmission of weather reports on 8,000 miles of the 13,000 miles of primary airways in the country. The remaining 5,000 miles will be served for the present by telephone and telegraph.

DRUGGISTS OF CITY COMBINE

MOVEMENT STARTED TO ENTERTAIN GROUP IN CITY

The Lubbock Druggists association was organized yesterday afternoon in the private dining room of the Hilton hotel when E. L. Robertson was elected president of the body and plans were formulated for entertainment of the West Texas Pharmaceutical association next August 12 and 13 in this city.

Other officers named yesterday were F. M. Eosten, vice-president; W. R. Fickas, vice-president, and D. Jarrett, secretary-treasurer.

A convention steering committee was appointed at the meeting to have charge of general arrangements and features of the annual gathering of the West Texas druggists. W. A. Myrick, Jr., John Clark, Mark Halsey and John Halsey compose the committee.

More definite plans for the coming convention will be discussed at a meeting next Sunday noon at the Hilton, at which time Lee Stinson, of Snyder, president, and Lawrence Davis, Sweetwater, secretary of the regional organization, will be present.

back fans will support a conference football team and thus the first step is to raise Tech's athletic standing up to the point where its teams will be recognized throughout the state.

In spite of the present outlook, the Matadors should be able to win at least half the games on their 1930 schedule. Games are carded with Wayland, McMurry, Canyon, Simmons, Texas School of Mines, T. C. U., Howard Payne, A. C. C. and the New Mexico Aggies. In the event the Cawthon-Morgan forces do win half their games and display an aggressive brand of football, the football fans of Lubbock and the Plains country will rally around the home cause in a satisfactory manner, unless we miss our guess. What the football customer wants is action and even if the home team doesn't win all the time, he will be satisfied.

Several "big league" scribes are predicting that if Bobby Jones wins the American open and amateur tournaments this year he will retire from competitive golf. If there's any truth to this, the average American golf fan hopes that King Bobby falls. The Emperor of golf remarked after his victory in the British Open at Hoylake this year that he wasn't coming back to England any more to play in golf tournaments. This statement is significant. It may well mean that should his skill curve in the two American tests and he becomes the first golfer to win the four greatest links titles in one season, he may retire from that end of the game forever.

Bobby has proven beyond a doubt that he is the greatest golfer of all time. No player on either side of the Big Pond has come anywhere near the height he has reached. He is supreme now and appears tired of it all. Eleven great titles—why shouldn't he retire?

ALDWELL UNABLE TO ATTEND FETE

PORT WORTH, July 2 (AP)—Although an accident prevented the attendance of W. L. Aldwell at Sonora's celebration of its first railroad train, he was there in spirit, he said Tuesday from his bed at All Saint's hospital, where he has been confined for the past several weeks by a broken hip suffered when he slipped and fell in his room at a local hotel.

Aldwell, one of the leading campaigners of the Sonora section and president of the First National Bank of Sonora, has been one of the prime movers behind the campaign that has been waged for years to secure a railroad for his town. And while he admitted it was a sorry trick of fate that prevented attendance at the celebration, which marked the culmination of all of his efforts, he still was able to smile and say that he was celebrating the advent of the first train just as much and just as happily as were the thousand of merry makers who had gathered in Sonora from all parts of West Texas.

Youths Rewarded In Plane Model Contest

DETROIT, July 2 (AP)—Joseph Ehrhardt, 17, of St. Louis, won a trip to Europe, $250 in cash and two trophies in the annual meet of the airplane model league of America today.

Don Burnham, 15, West Lafayette, Ind., defending champion, again recaptured the junior flying title with a mark of 202 seconds. He received $200 and a silver cup.

Why pay for "MILEAGE" if you have to walk part of it Does your gas tank go dry before you've gone the miles you thought a filling would carry you? Is mileage just a promise in the gasoline you use? Switch to Phillips 66 and watch your gasoline gauge linger at the top of the scale while your mileage gauge reels off mile after mile. Phillips 66 combines mileage with flashy getaway, snappy pick-up and smooth, lusty power because it's the gasoline of controlled volatility. Jobs Make Jobs

The public and private organizations that are planning on new construction work during the next six months have it in their power to give the nation a very strong boost on the climb back to prosperity.

Offhand, the increase in employment which these projects can provide may not look very impressive.
 The ultimate effects, however, will be greater than appears on the surface. All departments of our national economic systems are tied in together so closely that you cannot improve one without helping to improve all.

Francis Perkins, commissioner of the New York State Department of Labor, makes this clear in a speech recently delivered at a conference of welfare agencies in New York City.

"If a million men were private construction projects, let's see what would happen," she remarks.

"Each man would, before, wear long, buy five pairs of socks, one pair of shoes, one suit of clothes and three shirts. This would mean that would mean to the clothing industry—orders for 5,000,000 pairs of socks, 3,000,000 shirts, a million suits of clothes and a million pairs of shoes.

"And that is only a beginning.
 The families of these men have been starting for months doing without things they have needed for nearly a year. As fast as these million men would be paid—their would buy in addition to the essentials of food and clothing for themselves and their families, furniture, radios, and perhaps even automobiles. Their children would again buy candy and ice cream."

That makes the proposition clearer. Let these extra construction jobs once start and the business revival will get an immense important stimulus. What this more men be employed, the money that they earn and spend will cause the employment of men in totally unrelated fields.

It seems funny in a way that the simple delay of national campaigns should depend so largely on whether new highways are paved and new buildings are erected, but that is just the situation we are in. Considered as a group, our advance on the pathway toward the better life to be gauged in terms of so many million pairs of socks and shoes.

There are moments when it appears that the new science of industry—the use of mass production,
 the manufacture of high wages,
 scales, the strange new economy that calls for the elimination of poverty as a matter of self-interest may bring us into an era in human affairs incomparably more magnificent than anything ever dreamed of before. That is why the restoration of prosperity is so tremendously important.

End Of A Cruise

Alas for the frailty of heroic aspirations! A deep pit has been dug beside the pathway that leads to romantic achievement, and nothing is sadder or more melancholy than the way in which those who try to follow that pathway keep tumbling into it.

Sometime ago one Nicholas George Gogopoulos of Miami, Fla., decided to sail back to his native Greece.
 He contrived for himself a 16-foot cutter, sent the Greek flag fluttering to the masthead and set sail.
 It was to be a gallant, glamorous cruise—one man in a skiff defying the Atlantic, Ulysses himself, or Jason, might have approved of this sturdy countryman.

But now the voyage has ended.
 It ended three days out, when Gogopoulos picked a tramp freight steamer to stick him up and abandoned his cruise. He was not out of appetites or in danger from the elements—but he was horribly seasick.

A word probably said for a gallant adventure would be heard to imagine.

THE PLAINSMAN

Says:

That Girl on Broadway says
 when a man loses his heart he usually loses his head with it.

Looking into a mirror doesn't always denote vanity—sometimes it indicates plain, every day courage.

If you see a lot of fellows hiking over the country-side and up and down the streets during the next few days, don't be surprised.
 It'll be members of the Texas Rural Letter Carriers' association, spending their holiday time.

Seriously, though, Lubbock will be host to somewhere about 1,000 to 1,500 postal workers for three days, starting tomorrow. The Plainsman takes this opportunity to welcome the boys here and to hope that their meeting is pleasant and profitable.

These rural letter carriers are coming from all over Texas. They are in touch with farmers all over Texas. When they go home they're going to tell their farmer friends one of two stories. They're going to say this looks like good farming country—or that it doesn't.
 But the stories they tell are going to be largely up to us who live here and who meet the postal men while they're guests of the city.

A word to the wise is sufficient. When you see a man with a postal badge on give him a grin and a "howdy do." If he wants to know something, find out for him if it takes all day.

We ought to be like that for two reasons, only one of which is because it's good business.
 The other is just a matter of pure friendliness.

DAY after tomorrow is Fourth of July.

Maybe it's because The Plainsman is out of touch with the spirit of the occasion as greeted by Young America, but it seems to him that Independence Day doesn't mean as much to the kids now-a-days as it used to when this writer was a charter member of the Little Scorpions club.

The Plainsman can remember when youngsters used to pile out of bed about four o'clock in the morning and begin making the welkin ring. It was a bum Fourth of July when all the firecrackers weren't shot up by daylight and when half the gang of little savages, their toes and hands washed in linseed oil, went plumb tuckered out by 11 in the morning and could be found, sound asleep on the floor.

Of course, it's the sensible thing to be safe, sane and satisfied on the Fourth of July, but from this position of venerable age The Plainsman can't help but feel that the kiddies of this day and age are missing something. All the picnics and lemonade in the world can't take the place of one package of
 "Son-of-a-Gun" in the mind and heart of a kid.

It isn't a sign of patriotism to shoot firecrackers. We all know that. But it is a tradition which is rapidly fading due to the activities of the Humane Society or some other, similar, organization. This column can't help sympathizing with the kids of today in this regard.
 Somehow or another it appears to us that they're missing a heritage which should be theirs along with various and sundry pains.

That Man on Avenue Q says it's a wise woman who asks for what she can't lay to, and can compromise on what she wants.

The wise father of this age doesn't give the bride away. He lets the groom find out the awful truth—all by himself.

JAKE Lingle, the slain Chicago employe of the Tribune set be-banked $60,000 in 1929 and a similar report, made $45 a week as salary in 1928. He thus established himself as being one reporter who made money—but it cost him his life in the end.

Instead of a martyred hero,
 the finger of suspicion, has pointed to Lingle until he has assumed the position of a trash-can to his paper and to his profession. Investigation indicates that he was a part and parcel of the gangland which it was his duty to "cover" for his paper. Lingle, it would appear,
 was another victim of the "easy money" route which has proved so tragic to many in other lines.

While the murder of the Chicagoan, has served to cast suspicion upon crime reporters everywhere,
 it may yet serve a good purpose.
 The incident may be the wedge which will permit aroused citizens to break down the hitherto impregnable walls of the hoodlums, who have transformed part of this country from a law-abiding nation to a mob in which might means right.

As The Plainsman sees it, the Chicago Tribune is due little sympathy in the latest finding, which indicate that Lingle was a traitor, covering the gang-

It's Getting To Be Quite The Thing For South American
 Presidents-Elect To Visit Washington, Dutcher Reports

WASHINGTON, July 2.—Vladimir Dutcher, president-elect of Latin American republics are becoming fashionable since Herbert Hoover as our own president-elect made his good will tour in Central and South America.

Since Hoover's return early in 1929, Washington has received Ortiz Rubio of Mexico, E. Enrique Olaya of Colombia and most recently, Julio Prestes of Brazil—all president-elects.

The next one expected to visit is the president-elect of the Dominican Republic. Although plans for a visit have not been officially announced.

This sort of thing is likely to become customary. It not only promotes international friendships but aids commercial relationships between the United States and the other nations of the hemisphere.

In Washington these president-elects meet our officials and can talk international affairs in New York they make contact with bankers and business men and obtain an insight into the business situation and loan market conditions which they would otherwise be denied.

A study in contrasts.

The reactions of the Latin American president-elects in Washington offer an interesting contrast with the reception given to Hoover and his party in the Latin American capitals which he visited.

Officially these distinguished guests are given everything in state, although some of the official trimmings enjoyed by the Hoover party are left out because this government has no authorization to them.

What is most conspicuously lacking in the national capital is the background of popular interest which Hoover's visits stirred up. The only time Washington gets excited is when its American league baseball team wins a pennant or baseball team comes home from France, and, of course, every four years there is an inauguration.

Prestes of Brazil received a comparatively large amount of official attention because Brazil is a large and important country and has always maintained especially friendly relationships with the United States. But very few of the thousand persons who were at the railroad depot when he came in from New York were there to see the Brazilian president-elect.

The crowd—not a very large crowd—was attracted by the troop of cavalry, the army band, the company of marines and the battery of field artillery which was on hand as an escort.

Every mark of official and diplomatic courtesy was extended to Prestes and there was an elaborate in Chicago is not only a dangerous job but an important one from the standpoint of news. Had the Tribune paid more attention to his gang reporter and his activities, and had the Tribune assigned a more capable and experienced man to the task, perhaps his trust would not have been violated.

A recent statement from the Tribune's city editor says Lingle was not a great reporter and that he could never have been a great reporter. In this column's opinion a Chicago paper's coverage of gangland demands the services of a great reporter. Not to have one on the job is rank inefficiency in the creative department of the paper whose slogan is "The World's Greatest Newspaper."

In New York

NEW YORK, July 2.—The stock becomes a careless bird in Manhattan.

Ordinarily fairly meticulous in matters of special delivery, the binocular symbol takes on many of the hectic customs and habits of the metropolis.

With the result that the large department stores, for instance, are equipped with emergency rooms for those many emergencies that arise.

One of the biggest of these calls something like a dozen cradles a week. Most of the "department store babies" are born to mothers who are frantically scrambling for bargains at the basement sales.

And most of the mothers are those forgetful mothers who buy the machine age, or something like that.

Just a few steps down the street a fifth central paper salesman is to be found about two-hundred days out of the year.

About once a year New York gets a little bothered about its traffic problems.

The streets seem to grow more and more clogged, the mounted police canton along the side streets, the traffic lights are changed, the old clock towers of Fifth Avenue come down, and the fashion show, a peculiarly empty, look extra cope make their appearance on Broadway in town turns are suddenly denied to motorists, the theater belt is treated to a revolutionary change in rules.

Yet sometimes in the end it seems to make very little difference. The "mad" man one hears about is more chaotic than speedful.

At the moment, Manhattan has turned to Main Street for its sermons. It has adopted the anti-walking rule. The pedestrian cannot give further imitation of a forward dodging a bull. He must wait until the lights change. And so the pace of the city is slowed even more. The clogged arteries are now barred.

And the mob as good natured as ever — and New York's masses are more good natured in the face of disaster than any other in the world—stands by and smiles and wonders what the next stunt will be.

Which reminds me that for some weeks I have observed a group of young men gathered at the curbstone at Sixth Avenue and 34th Street, clicking little instruments that looked something like speedometers.

It seems they have been counting the number of people that cross at that particular point in the course of a business day.

And that number it develops is 302,298 persons crossing Herald Square, which is more than 100,000 more than cross Times Square.

A complaint has been made that radio speakers are too loud in Washington. Just as soon as the president gets in his "appointing" mood he'll put them in commission.

Chances are that the cop who arrested the New York newsy the other day for crying "Panic on Wall Street" during the market depression was a staunch Republican.

What prompted National League officials to take action on the lively ball was probably their belief it wasn't as good as it seems. But the fact they decided to let it alone should make a hit.

Farmer shareholders of the Clover Valley Railway in Ireland, recently rejected the offer of the government to buy the railway on the basis of $30 a share.

A sandstorm in Scotland recently buried automobiles in sand drifts.

THE WEATHER

Continued attention was paid to the newspaper correspondents as well as the other members of the official party; automobiles were provided for use of everyone. Departing from magnificent Rio harbor in the dusk, Hoover was treated to a marvelous exhibition of fireworks which had been carefully planted on Sugar Loaf and other promontories in and about the bay.

But it will take a very unusual Latin American president-elect to arouse one-tenth as much excitement in Washington.

Special demands had been made to Hoover, and he received as much of a reception as any of them will get. The United States and Brazil are very special friends among nations. In all international disputes for a hundred years Brazil has been found on the side of the United States.

Champion Shooter To Meet New Yorker

NEW YORK, July 2.—James Lee of Columbus, O., crowned champion marble shooter of the United States in a nationwide competition at Ocean City, N. J., last week, has been challenged by the newsboy champion of New York City.

Lee, a fighting champion, accepted the challenge, and will meet Vincent Sullivan of Mulberry Bend in a finish contest, on a tarred canvas ring, aboard the Grace Liner Ecuador at a Brooklyn pier Thursday afternoon.

Lee, as a reward for his victory at Ocean City, sails Saturday on the Ecuador for San Francisco.

Jernigan Named Counsel For Negro

BEAUMONT, July 2.—R. J. Jernigan, attorney of Port Arthur, today was the designated attorney for the defense of Rainey Williams, negro accused of attacking several Port Arthur women and three threatened by mobs.

Assigned by Judge R. L. Murray to defend the 39-year-old negro in his forthcoming trial on criminal assault charges, Mr. Jernigan refused to accept the appointment, but, when fined $250 and remanded to jail, thought better of his action and agreed to assume charge of the defense.

A biography of Dwight Morrow has already been published. Probably a serial story—with the next chapter to follow after the election.

Three in one day is the record of the most popular of the store nurseries.

Slightly amusing was the fact that upon this particular day, in a lecture room just a floor above, one of those long-haired ladies with Park Avenue accents was talking learnedly on the relationship of modern motherhood to the machine age, or something like that.

Just a few steps down the street a fifth central paper salesman is to be found about two-hundred days out of the year.

About once a year New York gets a little bothered about its traffic problems.

THE TINYMIES
 STORY BY HAL COCKRILL PICTURES BY KING

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The Tinymies found the toy man was a very clever man because he whittled legs from blocks of wood and made them all look fine. Wee Glowny said, "I'd think that you would split those chunks of wood in two. If I should try to carve I know that that luck would be mine."

"Oh, no," replied the clever man. "If you just try, I'm sure you can do quite a job of carving. Here's a knife! Now try your luck. Just take it easy. Don't work fast. That's how I make the wood blocks last. Go right ahead and carve and then call me if you get stuck."

So Glowny calmly tried his hand and soon began to understand just how to use a real sharp knife. He did the best he could. The man then said, "Do just like me and follow pencil lines you see. Before I ever start to carve, I mark them on the wood."

Of course the others stood nearby and shortly Carpy heaved a sigh. "My goodness, I'm a carpenter. I ought to carve," he said. "I've done a lot of wood work and I'm sure that I could do that grand." The Toy Man smiled and calmly said, "Why sure! Go right ahead."

It wasn't long till everyone was having on just heaps of fun. They all carved for a little while then bid the man good-bye. Soon, as they traveled down the street, the Travel Man said, "Now we'll meet a fine old fat hat vendor, and some new hats you can try."

Then, when the vendor came in sight, he greeted every Tinymie and started showing them queer hats. Their shape was really rare.

Each Tiny bought one very quick and Scouty said, "My, they look slick! I'm glad I own one 'cause they're like the little Russians wear."

(The Tinymies ride in a mule caravan in the next story.)

FARMERS JOIN COTTON CO-OP BY THOUSANDS

FIRST FEW HOURS OF CAMPAIGN BRINGS 20,000 MEMBERS

(By Associated Press)
WACO, July 2.—The first few hours of the Texas Cooperative membership campaign brought 20,000 acres under contract in one county, it was announced today at association headquarters here.

This report was made from Robertson county by Sam Heath, secretary of the Calvert Chamber of Commerce. Charles Howard, Moody banker, who presided as chairman in opening the campaign in his section Monday night, told his hearers that "if there is any danger in the cotton cooperative movement, the danger lies in the farmers not joining it."

One hundred and fifty farmers at Bartlett organized teams last night to cover their part of Bell county. Among the more important meetings today will be one under auspices of the luncheon clubs at Taylor, to be addressed by C. O. Moser, of the American Cotton Cooperative association, one at Malone, with C. H. Alvord, farm board representative as speaker, and one at Mexia, with George H. Carter, of Marlin as speaker.

CHICAGO, July 2 (AP)—With unofficial monthly domestic wheat crop estimates averaging 10,000,000 bushels more than similar estimates a month ago, wheat values underwent early downturns today. The market was likewise affected heavily by Australian reports of needed rains.

Opening at 1-2 to 3-4 decline, wheat showed additional setbacks later. Corn and oats were also easier, with corn starting unchanged to 11-16 off, but subsequently recovering. Provisions tended to advance.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON
NEW ORLEANS, July 2 (AP)—The cotton market opened higher due to poor Liverpool cables and to good rains in the central belt.
First trades showed losses of 11 to 13 points. After the opening the market ruled quiet while waiting for weather. October lost an additional point, dropping to 12.95, 12 points under yesterday's close. December traded at 13.16, also 12 points under the previous close.
At the end of the first hour the market was quiet and steady, near the highs.

The market eased off slightly at the beginning of the second hour on the weekly weather and crop summary which was considered more favorably than expected.
Soon shorts covering in advance of the holidays at the end of the week and the coverage and report to follow the holidays caused a firming up.
October traded up to 13.09 and December to 13.24, or 10 to 12 points up from the early lows and within 2 to 3 points of yesterday's close.
A mid-session the market was steady and at the highs.

NEW YORK COTTON
NEW YORK, July 2 (AP)—Cotton opened steady at a decline of 6 to 16 points under selling inspired by relatively easy Liverpool cables and reports of showers and cooler weather in the western belt.
July sold off to 13.37 under a little liquidation incident to the circulation of notices representing about 5,200 bales, but these offerings were quickly absorbed and the price rose to 13.40, ending 8 points of yesterday's closing quotations. New crop months meanwhile sold about 8 to 11 points lower, but offerings were light and the general market was steady at the end of the first half hour with prices 3 points from the lows.
The weekly report to the weather favorable, but it mentioned need of rain in some sections and brought in comparatively little selling. July eased off to 13.35 and October to 12.6, making net declines of about 12 to 14 points on the general list, but there was enough covering to steady prices at these figures and the market at midday was quiet at rallies of a few points from the lows.

BOROTRA BEATEN BY BILL TILDEN

WIMBLEDON, England, July 2 (AP)—Bill Tilden beat his old rival, Jean Borotra of France, in the semi-final round of the British tennis championship today in a thrilling five-set match.
Tilden won in dramatic fashion by scores of 6-8, 6-4, 4-6, 6-0, 7-5.
Tilden staged a dramatic rally after trailing at 2-4 in the final set, scored one of the most sensational victories in the long rivalry between the Basque and the American and reached the final round of a tournament that he has not won in nine years.

Big Bill's victory marked the elimination of the last of the French contenders who have monopolized this championship for the last six years as Henri Cochet was eliminated on Monday by the young Texan, Wilmer Allison.

CHICAGO FLIGHT
The "City of Chicago" would hover close to Sky Harbor airport so a landing on the field could be made in the event of trouble.
For the record to be recognized by the National Aeronautical Association, the landing must be made from the takeoff field.
The bull market has swept over Sky Harbor; dinner in the only available restaurant nearby has been hoisted at this time for $1.25; the fashionable Russian rendezvous, the Petruska club's roof garden at the airport, plays to constant night crowds; the purveyors of hot dogs have cluttered the lot and a constant watch of sleepy-eyed newspaper reporters and photographers portends the end of the flight.
The material and financial background of the flight was publicized yesterday. Wilson Herren, of Barrington, Ill. is flight manager and Walter E. Conroy, of Chicago, the principal backer. To date, between $30,000 and $35,000 has been invested in the endurance attempt.
No contracts of any kind have been signed as yet by the backers of the brother-pilots. Herren said. The ground crew brothers were contracted at $100 a week, each, and are to receive a 10 per cent cut in the flight's profits.
The Hunter brothers evinced no fear of losing their new laurels at the announcement from St. Louis that Jackson and O'Brien planned to takeoff July 18 in an attempt to surpass the mass of hours piled up by the "City of Chicago."
After a note was sent up telling them of the St. Louis flight, the brothers dropping down the following note, addressed to O'Brien and Jackson:
"Thanks for the congratulations. When you boys start, we wish you luck. Probably see you before you take off."
Thousands flock to Sky Harbor daily. Last evening they were given a new thrill. Kenneth the wing-walker of the olden barnstorming tours, crept from the cabin hatch as the plane soared along 300 feet above earth, and still down the fuselage to the rudder controls, freeing them from collected debris that

INCREASE EXPECTED IN AUTO CIRCLES

DETROIT, July 2 (AP)—Leaders in the automobile industry here generally accepted the announcement of the increased Italian tariff on motor cars as fulfillment of forecasts made during the discussion of the Hawley-Smoot bill.
Alvin MacAuley, president of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, said that Italy is "not one of the biggest markets by any means." But that the increased tariff might be an encouragement to other countries to follow.
"But we have been doing that very thing ourselves with tariff increases," he added, "and I don't see how anyone in the country can protest." He recalled that the recent American tariff measure had been adopted in the face of foreign protests.

A Profit Insurance
By reducing the cost of gathering and ginning from $15.00 to $30.00 per bale, a greater chance for a profit in cotton growing can be assured. The SMITH-CONRAD "COMBINE" DOES THIS.
Aside from the saving in gathering and ginning, the value of the burs and trash to the land as fertilizer is retained by the grower as the burs, trash, sticks, etc., are returned to the field as the harvesting process goes forward.

Each Day Was A Dread
"Argotane Has Made A New Person Of My Dad And He Is Looking Better", Says Lubbock Boy
"At the time my dad started on Argotane, he could hardly get around the house and each day was just a dread for him," said Herman Clay of 307 Avenue H, Lubbock, Texas, while talking with the Argotane representative.
"My father had suffered for about six years, with a very bad chronic case of stomach trouble," he continued, "and got so nervous the least thing would upset him. Gas ferried on his stomach and he would blow up so, he would almost die, he suffered so. He wasn't able to eat anything, for it disagreed with him. He had rheumatism and got to where he couldn't hardly get around for the past six years, and was almost fagged to quit his work. He could hardly sleep at all of a night, and would roll and toss all night long, and when morning came, felt worse than when he went to bed. He just felt badly all the time, and didn't seem to have any ambition for anything."
"Argotane had helped so many people and a friend recommended it to dad, and he began to try it. We are all thankful for it has relieved him of all his troubles. He eats anything he wants and is not bothered with stomach trouble and gas, dizzy and bilious spells no longer. He feels much better and he honestly looks like a new man. I am glad to give you this statement for him for I know Argotane is the only medicine that has helped him, and we all are so thankful."
"Genuine Argotane may be purchased in Lubbock at the Bowen's Drug Store."
