An inventory of the bald eagles and ospreys left in Texas is being planned, the Parks and Wildlife Dept. has reported.

Some 900 letters and questionnaires have been mailed out by John Smith, a non-game biologist of the department, to field personnel in the department itself and 6,000 more to conservation organizations. He is seeking information on bird sightings and sightings of nests, and, of course, wants exact locations.

The bald eagle is classified as an endangered specimen because its numbers have declined so much in recent years.

Another appeal has been voiced closer to home. Several local citizens have asked that we urge parents to discourage youngsters who have air rifles, etc., who may be inclined to shoot at birds.

Apparently, this area has attracted one of its biggest winter bird populations, both from the standpoint of variety and numbers. One of the latest to bring up the subject was Mrs. Foy Westmoreland, who said her family had marveled at the variety of birds around their home this winter. They hope to keep many of them in the neighborhood and reports indicate many others are interested in protecting the birds. They are a temptation to young children with air rifles, of course, and only parents can give them proper guidance in such matters.

Is there safety in numbers? Not if you hope that living in apartment complex will reduce your chances of being victimized by burglars.

The Dallas Police Dept. estimates that three-fourths of the burglaries reported there in 1971 were in apartments.

The Insurance Information Institute says that thieves have found apartments easy prey because the casual atmosphere of apartment living often results in windows and doors being unlocked. Consequently, burglars are getting more brazen, often striking in broad daylight.

A South African visitor to Texas wanted some proof to take home with him to show his neighbors that he actually had been to the Lone Star State and he was willing to make an unusual purchase to fulfill his desire, according to the Texas Highway Department's Amarillo Tourist Bureau. He bought Texas license plates for his new car, just so he could show them off back home.

Which reminds us that the time is growing short for the natives to put on those new car tags. After today, you've got just two weeks to get the 1972 plates on.

Busing Legislation Asked

Mutschers At Home With Gus

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — "I woke up this morning to a banging on the door, and there was old Gus Hurley," Speaker Gus Mutscher smiled and said today.

Mutscher, wearing a yellow nylon zip-front jacket and a new pair of steel-rim glasses, walked through his suite of offices carrying his baby son in his arms.

Gus Hurley Mutscher will be a year old next Wednesday, a week after his father was convicted by an Abilene jury of conspiracy to accept a bribe from Houston promoter Frank Sharp.

"He wants to spend some time with his daddy now," Mutscher said.

Except for weekends, Mutscher and his beautiful blue-eyed wife Donna have been in Abilene continuously since Feb. 28, the date his trial began.

They drove back to their official apartment in the capitol Thursday after Judge J. Neal Daniel sentenced Mutscher to a probated five-year prison sentence.

Mutscher was smiling as he made the rounds of the offices along the corridor behind the House chamber. It is virtually certain he never again will preside over a session of the house in that chamber again.

"I am not making any official statement today," Mutscher told newsmen who asked if he planned to resign.

Nobody asked him about the verdict, but he said: "You can't say justice has been implemented when you convict innocent people."

Mutscher is the highest state official ever convicted of a felony.

A house employe drove a rented truck up to the capitol entrance nearest the speaker's apartment.

But Mutscher declined to comment on rumors that he and his family would move out of the speaker's apartment and set up housekeeping in Brenham, his hometown, before the legislature returns in special session, probably late this month.

To some who see Mutscher infrequently, it appeared he had picked up some gray hairs and his face seemed to contain more lines.

Rep. R. B. McAlister of Lubbock, who introduced Mutscher to the former Miss America who became his wife, said Thursday it was 99 per cent certain that the speaker would resign.

Not resigning would subject him to the further humiliation of being removed from office by a vote of the house.

When Smith calls the special session, the house will be plunged into an immediate battle over who takes over as speaker until the start of the 1973 regular session.

SPEAKS TO WTC STUDENTS

Sen. Hightower Begins Round Of Appearances

Jack Hightower, state senator from the 30th Senatorial District of which Snyder has become a part, paid his first visit to his new constitutents here today.

"I have several friends here, and I hope to become better acquainted," he said shortly after his arrival at the Western Texas College campus at 10 o'clock this morning.

"You can't really serve the people unless you get to know them," he added.

Hightower was taken on a tour of the WTC campus by Dr. Robert Clinton, WTC president; Edwin Parks, a member of the Scurry County Junior College District board of trustees; and other officials of the school.

He spoke to students in a history class at WTC. Prior to the meeting with the students, Hightower told newsmen, "I hope to learn from a dialogue with the government students. I feel that I have as much to learn as they do."

Hightower introduced legislation to change the criteria for establishing the Scurry County Junior College District. He said the doors of Vernon Junior College will open Sept. 1. His home is in Vernon.

As a result of the legislation introduced by the state senator, the number of students required for a junior college and the tax base were lowered. This enables junior colleges to be established in rural areas where previously it was impossible.

Hightower said there are several advantages in having a junior college. They cost less to operate than a four-year college and they can put emphasis on vocational and technical subjects. An increased number of trained personnel can help attract industry to the state, he said.

Discussing the upcoming special session of the legislature, Hightower said that he personally wished the governor had called the special session six weeks ago.

"We need to meet and the sooner the better," he said, explaining that he hopes the financial problems of the state can be solved during a special session.

Asked if he thought the conviction of House Speaker Gus Mutscher would affect the special session, Hightower said that the biggest affect would be in the House, whose members will have to determine if he can continue as speaker.

Hightower said that he was a classmate at Memphis High School with Bill Hood, superintendent of schools here. He said he hadn't seen Hood in 30 years. He missed the opportunity for a reunion since the superintendent was in Austin today on school business.

The senator also was to speak at a high school assembly and appear at a meeting of local civic clubs. Other local plans called for him to meet people and speak at a gathering at the Snyder Savings and Loan Association Community Room at 2:30 p.m.

Hightower is a member of 12 important committees in the Senate, including the administrative committee and the youth affairs committee of which he is the chairman. The 30th Senatorial District which he represents is comprised of 29 counties.

Utility Rate Rules Sharpened

By BROOKS JACKSON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Price Commission today announced new, sharpened guidelines for utility rates but warned the nation that big increases will be necessary to pay for the service it wants.

The regulations put limits on the rate of return that utilities may realize from increased rates, and added provisions requiring them to take into account increased productivity and to absorb labor costs that increase more than 5.5 per cent.

Also, the commission made provisions to hand over final authority on utility rate increases to existing regulatory bodies that come up with acceptable anti-inflationary policies.

Commission Chairman C. Jackson Grayson Jr. said the regulations would require reductions in some requested rate increases but not in others. He had no estimate of how much utility rates might go up under the new rules.

But he warned, "We urge the consumers of the nation to realize that when you demand service, you have to pay for it. You don't get something for nothing."

He said that four days of public hearings on utility rates made it clear that some large increases are going to be necessary in order to continue "adequate, safe and pollution-free services."

Announcement of the new regulations means the temporary freeze on rates of privately owned utilities will end on or before March 25. Grayson said the commission would take final action on all of the 116 increases before it within 10 days.

On another subject, Grayson attacked Agriculture Secretary Earl Butz for statements "damaging to the stabilization program." Butz has been applauding rising farm prices and vowing to fight any attempts to control them. Raw agricultural products currently aren't under price guidelines.

Grayson, asked about Butz' statements, said he was so disturbed by them that he had typed out a statement before today's news conference.

Reading it, he said that farmers should be expected to make the same sacrifices as everybody else in the economy and should not expect any special catch-up. "The name of the game of catch-up is inflation," Grayson said.

Session Before Primaries

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Gov. Preston Smith said here Thursday night that he definitely would call a special session of the legislature before the May primaries.

This was the first time Smith had said when he would call the session since the Texas Supreme Court ruled that the state could not pay for the elections under present law.

"I'm not exactly sure at this time exactly when it will be," Smith told reporters. "I don't see much emergency at this time."

Before the primaries?

"Oh, there's no question about that," he said. There were unverified reports that the session would be March 28, but a governor's aide said no date had been set.

Primary election funding and highway beautification law to comply with federal guidelines were the only issues the governor named as sure to be brought up during the special 30-day session.

More US Troops Cut

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command cut back 1,220 more troops today, the second big reduction in three days.

The command said 11 Army units have begun phasing out, including two helicopter units with a total of about 50 aircraft.

Wednesday, 41 Army and two Air Force units totaling 5,700 men were phased out.

Total U.S. strength in Vietnam was 114,500 men March 9. President Nixon has ordered the total cut to 69,000 by May 1. Peak U.S. strength in Vietnam was 543,000 in April of 1969.

Another 30,000 Air Force men are in Thailand, fighting the Indochina air war from there, and 15,000 Navy men are aboard ships operating off the coast.

Tom Ryan Art On Display Saturday

Works of noted Western Artist Tom Ryan will be on exhibit Saturday and Sunday between the hours of 2 p.m. and 5 p.m. in the Scurry County Coliseum.

The Ryan show is being presented here by the Diamond M Museum and the Texas Art Gallery of Dallas. The Diamond M Museum also will be open from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m. both days.

Ryan will be here in person for the show, as will Dean Krakel, managing director of the National Cowboy Hall of Fame in Oklahoma City. Krakel is author of a book titled "Tom Ryan-A Painter in 6666 Country," and they will autograph copies of the book during the art exhibit here.

A native of Illinois, Ryan is a Texan by choice, moving to Lubbock to be near his father vorite subject matter, cowboy and western scenes. His favorite is depicting the present-day cowboy, and he gets much of his subject matter on the Four Sixes Ranch at Guthrie.

Ryan has three paintings in the permanent collection of the National Cowboy Hall of Fame and won the Gold Medal Award in the Cowboy Artists of America competition in 1969.

The public is invited to see the exhibit at the coliseum Saturday and Sunday and also to visit the Diamond M Museum.

Equal Law Proposed

By FRANK CORMIER
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon urged Congress today to temporarily block any new court orders for pupil busing and to consider promptly longer-range legislation aimed at narrowing the gap between rich and poor schools.

In an 8,000-word special message, Nixon called for a moratorium on busing orders that would expire on July 1, 1973—or sooner should Congress act on broader legislation at some earlier date.

On his own, Nixon directed the Justice Department to "intervene in selected cases where the lower courts have gone beyond the Supreme Court's requirements in ordering busing."

Acting Atty. Gen. Richard Kleindienst told newsmen his staff will review "every open case" involving busing with the aim of urging the lower courts to delay busing orders until Congress acts on the requested moratorium.

Kleindienst said his department "almost certainly" would try to delay busing orders affecting school systems in Richmond, Va., and Denver. He declined to speculate on other likely target cases.

Although Nixon said he favored legislation rather than a constitutional amendment to halt further busing orders, he told Democratic and Republican leaders of Congress at an early morning White House conference that he did not want to discourage consideration of an amendment.

The President said a constitutional amendment would be the only alternative should the courts strike down his requested moratorium as unconstitutional.

Nixon expressed confidence in his special message that the measure would meet constitutional tests. On this score, Kleindienst said "I think there can be no legitimate doubts whatsoever."

In addition to calling for the moratoriumn Nixon proposed a new equal educational opportunities law that would channel special federal aid to schools with a large enrollment—over 30 per cent—from poor families.

The amount of aid would total about $2.5 billion and would amount to roughly $300 for each pupil coming from a poor family.

Before sending his message to Capitol Hill, Nixon held an early morning White House conference with the Democratic and Republican leadership of the Senate and House.

The message was a follow-up to a television-radio address Thursday night in which he argued that his proposals "would focus our efforts where they really belong—on better education for all of our children rather than on more busing for some of our children."

In his message to Congress, Nixon argued that his recommendations "would not roll back the Constitution, or undo the great advances that have been made in ending school segregation, or undermine the continuing drive for equal rights."

He said "this administration means what it says about dismantling racial barriers, about opening up jobs and housing and schools and opportunity to all Americans."

Irish Struggle Dims Events

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Irish, part-Irish and Irish-on-impulse observe St. Patrick's Day today but some of the traditional effervescence is muted by the shadow of the struggle in Northern Ireland.

Green beer will still flow from tavern taps, shamrocks will sprout from lapels and painters will daub some pavements green as cities across the nation mark the day with parades and speeches.

But there will also be black armbands and sashes on marchers along New York's Fifth Avenue to mourn the 13 Irish civilians killed Jan. 30 in Londonderry. Parade banners carry the theme, "England, Get Out of Ireland."

Black armbands will be worn in Boston as well when that city holds its parade on Sunday. The head of the Irish Republican Club of Boston said his group would boycott the event.

"Men and women are being killed and denied their civil rights in Northern Ireland," said Sean Gleason, "and this is no time for a wild celebration."

Local Irish and their friends in Savannah, Ga., were urged to contribute to relief efforts aimed at helping the victims of the civil strife in Northern Ireland.

Religious observances will include the celebration of a Mass by Patrick Cardinal O'Boyle in Washington's St. Patrick's church. William Cardinal Conway, archbishop of Armagh and primate of all Ireland, will give the sermon.

Although the issue of Northern Ireland lent a more somber note to some celebrations, the day will not completely lose its colorful character.

City fathers in O'Neill, Neb., set aside 25 gallons of green paint to fashion a massive shamrock in the main intersection. The city of 3,753 was founded by Irish in 1864.

And in Lookingglass, Ore., pop. 40, Mayor Norm Biblett will celebrate by standing on the town's lone manhole cover attired in a green coat, green pants and green tie and rendering a chorus or two of "Who Threw the Overalls in Mrs. Murphy's Chowder" on his kazoo.

Antisecrecy Law Is Said Ignored

WASHINGTON (AP) — Newsmen and government agencies alike have ignored a four-year-old antisecrecy law designed to increase public access to the bureaucracy's files, a House subcommittee chairman declared today.

Rep. William S. Moorhead, D-Pa., Chairman of the House government information subcommittee, released an analysis by the panel showing how federal agencies have reacted to the Freedom of Information Act.

He criticized newsmen for failing to use it more often and attacked agencies for trying to circumvent it.

Moorhead said nearly 2,200 requests for access to federal records were denied completely or in part. For each refusal, 17 request were granted, he added.

Many government agencies "seem to be doing everything possible to ignore" the law, he asserted. But others, "and the Air Force is the worst offender, try to make their information operations look good by claiming that thousands of requests for routine government documents are actually demands for access under the Freedom of Information Act."

Some agencies, he said, "keep no records and apparently have no interest in implementing the law." He cited the Civil Service Commission as an example.

Moorhead said corporations and lawyers representing private interests appear to be using the law the most: "Those who can afford the expensive and time-consuming process of fighting for their right to know will do so."

Moorhead said he is "surprised, however, that the reporters, editors and broadcasters whose job it is to inform the American people have made so little use of the Freedom of Information Act. They were the major supporters of those in Congress who created the law.

"The free and responsible press is the keystone of an informed, democratic society and it should be the major user of the law designed to guarantee the people's right to know."

The analysis covered the period from July 4, 1967, when the law took effect, to July 4, 1971. Conclusions were based on reports from 32 federal agencies which responded to subcommittee questionnaires.

Major government agencies took an average of 33 days to respond to a request, but the response took an average of 50 days in cases where the first decision to withhold was appealed.

Americans Income Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — Personal income of Americans went up by $5 billion in February, the government said today.

The increase was smaller than the $8-billion rise in January. And it came mainly because of increased employment and a longer work week rather than higher earnings.

President Nixon's wage-price controls are trying to hold down pay increases to 5.5 per cent per year.

The Commerce Department, which issued the report, said wage and salary payments increased $3.7 billion, accounting for most of the increase.

This was about half the size of the January increase when payrolls had gone up another $2 billion because of a federal pay raise approved by Congress.

Shutdown Of Ports Looms

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A shutdown of all U.S. ports loomed as a possibility today after the Pay Board trimmed a wage increase won by West Coast longshoremen in ending a 134-day dock strike.

There was no immediate comment from Harry Bridges' West Coast International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union Thursday after the Pay Board in Washington lopped about one-fourth of the ILWU's negotiated increases.

Nor was there comment from Bridges' East and Gulf Coast counterpart, President Thomas W. Gleason of the AFL-CIO International Longshoremen's Union.

But Bridges told his 13,000-member union on Feb. 24 that the ILWU and the ILA had agreed that they would join in a nationwide dock strike if the Pay Board touched wage increases won by either union.

The Feb. 16 contract between the ILWU and the West Coast employers' Pacific Maritime Association contains language which permits the ILWU to take strike action within 30 days if the Pay Board refuses approval of the contract.

The Pay Board's staff reported that West Coast stevedoring firms had saved some $1 billion in reduced labor costs through increased productivity since the union agreed to new work rules in 1960.

US 'Copter Sinks Near Saigon

SAIGON (AP) — A U.S. helicopter carrying combat reinforcements into a minor ground fight crashed and sank in the Dong Nai River 21 miles northeast of Saigon today, and all 11 Americans aboard were feared dead.

There were no casualties in the ground fight.

The cause of the crash was not known but it appeared to be mechanical trouble in the UH1H Huey helicopter. Pilots of three other helicopters on the mission said they observed no enemy fire and saw smoke coming from the helicopter just before it crashed.

The small squad that the rifle platoon was on its way to help was later picked up by other helicopters and suffered no casualties. Reports from the field said it had engaged half a dozen enemy troops, and the reinforcements were on the way to exploit the contact.

Elsewhere in the war, U.S. B52 bombers made their heaviest raids in two weeks in support of South Vietnamese operations, and the South Vietnamese claimed their forces killed 100 North Vietnamese troops and destroyed six tanks and 11 trucks.

Chapter Of API Being Organized

The Snyder Area Chapter of the Production Division, American Petroleum Institute, held its first organization meeting Wednesday evening at the Snyder Country Club. Approximately 40 local oilmen attended the meeting.

It was decided to have quarterly dinner meetings with guest speakers or other programs of interest to oil industry personnel, and also an annual joint API-AIME barbecue and golf tournament. Other activities which the Snyder Area API Chapter will consider sponsoring are (1) assisting Western Texas College in Snyder to organize a petroleum technology course, (2) obtain API movies and guest speakers for local schools, clubs, and other community activities, (3) assist in disseminating information to the Snyder oil industry on federal and state safety and pollution control laws. This information is currently being studied and summarized by the national API and a committee organized by the API Permian Area Advisory Committee in Midland, and (4) sponsor API vocational technological training programs and supervisory development training programs.

It was pointed out at the meeting that anyone connected with the oil industry wishing to join the Snyder Area Chapter of the API may obtain application forms at either the SACROC Unit Office, Lamesa Highway, or the General Crude Oil Company Office, 3610 College Avenue.

Freed On Bond

Panel Postpones Trip

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Judiciary Committee today postponed indefinitely its planned trip to Denver to take testimony from Mrs. Dita D. Beard, the lobbyist for International Telephone & Telegraph Corp. whose memorandum has caused controversy over her company.

John Holloman, counsel for the committee, made the announcement. The trip had been planned for next Monday and Tuesday.

Mrs. Beard, now in a Denver hospital, has been reported suffering from a heart ailment.

Committee testimony Thursday developed that within a day of learning that columnist Jack Anderson had a private ITT memorandum in his possession, ITT mobilized its full Washington staff to destroy all documents that might be "misued or misconstrued" by Anderson.

On Feb. 24, an Anderson associate, Brit Hume, appeared at ITT's Washington office with a memo written by Mrs. Beard.

Pat's Party Set Tonight

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pat Nixon celebrates her birthday tonight, one day late.

The First Lady made no special note of her actual birthday Thursday. Her staff said it was "business as usual."

The Nixons have always held off the celebration until St. Patrick's Day and a description of Mrs. Nixon's birthday cake as only 10 inches in diameter indicates a small party.

Daughter Julie Eisenhower is flying in from Florida and daughter Tricia Cox will be arriving from Massachusetts.

A spokesman for Mrs. Nixon said her staff's birthday present will be a toy panda adorned with a green ribbon, serving as a reminder both of St. Patrick's Day and her recent trip to China.

Losses Reported

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — The Bell Telephone System last year suffered more than $22 million in losses from credit cards and other fraud, says a panel of telephone company officials.

Lottery Numbers Called

WASHINGTON (AP) — Draft Director Curtis W. Tarr Friday directed his 4,100 draft boards to order men born in 1952 who have lottery number 1 through 15 to report for Army duty on dates from mid-April through May 31.

The action is expected to fill most,but not all ,of the 15,000-man request for April, May and June. Tarr said he will issue the June call no later than early May.

One reason for the uncertainty of how much of the 15,000-man call will be filled, Tarr said, is that this is the first time the Uniform National Call has been used. Under this, men are ordered into service on a nationwide basis.

Previously specific quotas were levied on individual states and local boards. As a result, all boards did not reach the same lottery-number ceilings.

Selective Service officials estimated between 11,000 and 12,000 will be called in April and May, with the main men involved classed as 1A or 1AO conscientious objectors. The later includes those willing to do noncombat military duty who were in the lottery held last August for men turning 20 this year. It does not affect those in the recent lottery, who were assigned numbers for next year's callup.

Beautify Old Floors With Colorful Paint

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

The art of cover-up is an interesting aspect of the currently resurging do-it-yourself movement.

If you cannot afford to replace walls and floors, you find another solution and sometimes the inventive substitute proves to be more attractive than the original.

For example, old gouged floors always have been an aesthetic deterrant to the beautification of old houses. But people buy these dwellings, good floors or not, and then put their imaginations to work treating the problems in new ways.

Some people even replace old pine boards by making new ones look old. One man left two random-width floor boards out doors all winter. Then he treated them with creosote until they had almost the exact finish of the original boards.

Many of the painted floors in bad condition are softwood. These may be repainted in bright colors to flatter the decorative scheme. If one owns the house with bad floors one must decide whether the floors will be improved by the treatment. Painting often is done when the owners contemplate putting in new floors some day.

But painted floors have become so popular that many interior designers use such finishes on the best of floors. White is popular in the bowling alley finishes, but some use blue, pumpkin, yellow, green. And there are designers who like dark brown-black lacquered floors.

On bad floors in an old house the inclination may be to put something garish on them as an eye arrester, but it is better to look at the project as a lasting one. You might change it in a few years, but then again, perhaps, you may not.

One couple put red over brown floors, but they hated it. It was mottled because they hadn't sanded the floors. They put another coat over it, but still did not like it. They finally covered the hallway with an inexpensive carpet, and bought area rugs for the bedrooms.

Here are some ideas for painting floors:

For best results, the floors should be sanded "to get a tooth" as they say in the floor trade. Once this sanding provides the adhesive quality needed, you can proceed. Outdoor deck paints may be used for good results and these are available in grays, browns, green and brick, but other colors also can be in most paint stores. A vinyl sealer should be used.

One smashing design for floors is a big checkerboard design, but it takes planning and the careful interest of two people. One couple painted a giant blue and white checkerboard of three-foot squares. They marked the wall every three feet at the base and then drew white string from the middle of each wall to the opposite wall at these points, fastening it to tacks on the floor. When they had a series of string checks in the center of the room, they marked off the floor with chalk at the string lines. This set of squares was painted first. Lucky, too. As the project developed they discovered the room wasn't plumb. But they solved that one by painting a blue border around the room.

Improvising as one goes along makes for something individualistic. But you don't want to experiment unless you think it through carefully.

This amateur painter worked with a shirt cardboard on the chalk line to keep paint from spilling over to the next square. White squares were painted first—two coats were needed—so they could dry before the darker color was put down. The lady of the house painted the darker squares using the cardboard as a guide. It is a tedious job, but the couple feels it was well worth the backaches.

The couple was timid about using the power sander which they rented locally, but their floors were gouged to begin with, so they decided to take a chance. The alternative might be hand sanding and this can be employed if all you want to do is get a rough finish.

They regretted not having marked off the squares on paper before they proceded, noting the scarred and gouged areas.

Sorority Has Program On "Collections"

Lambda Kappa Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority met recently in the Community Room of Snyder Savings and Loan.

The program, entitled "Pleasures of Possession - The Collector", was presented by Mrs. James Barnes. The reasons for collections for many people were discussed. Mrs. Barnes told the group that people collect items for amusement, as a means to knowledge, and as a means to wealth. She discussed personal collections which included stamps, books, furniture, paper weights, salt and pepper shakers, glassware and antiques.

Many famous collections and their monitary value were explained. These items were the famous Easter eggs decorated by Faberge' with pearls and rubies. The Easter eggs were made for the Czar of Russian and are valued at about $5,000,000. Others included masterpiece paintings, the Hope diamond, the Buffalo nickle, and the Holy Grail, the most famous of all.

Lost collecters' items mentioned were: one autographed copy of the Gettysburg Address and a letter written by President Abraham Lincoln to a mother who had lost five sons in the Civil War.

Mrs. Barnes closed the program by asking Mrs. Stanely Martin, Mrs. Charlie Pace, and Mrs. Bill Early to tell the group about personal collections and why these collections were valuable to them.

President Mrs. Bill Early conducted the business meeting. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Truett Bryan and Mrs. Charlie Pace.

Plain Sense Approach Best In Market Phases

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Busifess Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — We approach now that stage in the stock market where weak companies go public, brokers peddle junk, parimutuel betters spend mornings watching the tape and mutual funds talk of performance.

Nothing unusual about such a phase; it's as predictable if not as regular as the seasons. You know it's that time again when your friend favors you with a hot tip. And asks for one.

Amateur speculators either forget or don't care to recall that:

—The reason they may be offered an "opportunity" to invest in a new issue is because the shares can't be sold elsewhere.

—Brokers peddle junk because they live on your commissions rather than you on their advice.

—Mutual funds might be able to show big gains over a year ago only because their record then was so abysmally poor.

Two funds that show legitimate performance records—about 34 per cent gain in 1971 after a 1 or 2 per cent loss in 1970—are operated by Lionel D. Edie & Co., a subsidiary of Merrill Lynch.

Both of them—the Edie Special Growth Fund and Edie Special Institutional fund—are managed by Richard Carney, who offers a common sense approach for spotting growth stocks.

The approach, he insists, applies during any market phase:

1. The company must have consistent and superior growth in earnings.

This growth, says Carney, should be at least 9 per cent a year per share. Moreover, the company should be able to maintain this record year after year, even in times of adverse business conditions.

2. The company should have a consistent market. The demand for its products should be strong year in and year out.

An example of such a market is that for razor blades or paper napkins. Many companies selling disposal products qualify here, but building supplies companies and other businesses can't be overlooked.

3. The company should dominate its market or at least be a leader in a fast-growing field.

Carney says he would prefer to have the stock of the leading company breeding tropical fish than that of a little firm trying to make a better transistor or electronic computer.

4. If the company cannot meet criterion No. 3 then it should be a company in an emerging field or one developing new concepts in an established field.

For example: Furniture stores that stock items and offer immediate delivery rather than a two-month wait; delivery services which guarantee overnight service, although at a price higher than charged by the Post Office.

5. The company should be well managed.

The smaller the company, the more crucial it is that it have good management. The smaller the company the more you should know about its management.

"You might buy IBM without personally knowing its management, but you should not buy stock in a tiny electronics firm or its quivalent without having met their people."

6. The stock should have a higher return on equity.

To qualify as a true growth stock, says Carney, the company should earn at least 20 per cent a year on its investment. That is, if the company has net worth of $10 million, it should earn $2 million a year.

If you tuck these reminders in your wallet, Carney suggests, you're less likely to be caught up in the speculative fever that, ironically, is often caught from your best friend.

Education Cost Jumps

HOUSTON (AP) — The Tax Research Assocation of Houston and Harris County says the cost of educating pupils in public schools in Houston has almost doubled in nine years, far above the inflationary growth.

At the present rate of increase, the TRA says, school spending will double in the next five years although enrollment will rise only moderately.

The average cost of educating each pupil in county schools was $666.54 last school year, compared to $359.36 in 1961-62, the report said.

The report added that the 85.5 per cent climb contrasts with a cost of living increase of 31.9 per cent during the nine-year period.

It said the jump was in line with increases in eight big city districts in Texas outside Harris County.

The $666.54 average cost last year was 18.4 per cent above the 1969-70 cost of $563.16.

The report attributed that hike principally to extending teacher salaries from nine months to 10 months and to higher teacher pay levels under the state's Minimum Foundation Salary Program.

Another reason cited was a continuing drop in pupil-teacher ratio last year.

The major reduction took place in the Houston School District, the report said, from 26 pupils per teacher in 1969-70 to 24.5 in 1970-71.

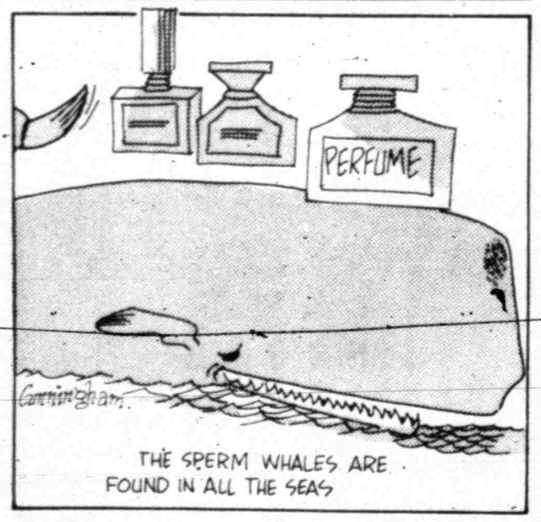

Classroom teacher salaries advanced 26.3 per cent in the county over three years, from an average of $6,828 on a nine months' basis in 1967-69 to $8,622 for a 10 months contract in 1970-71, the report said.

The average teacher salary increased 13.6 per cent last year, from $7,593 to $8,622.

TRA is a private organization supported by local businessmen which studies government funding.

Junior Editors Quiz on AMBERGRIS

QUESTION: What is ambergris and what is it used for?

• • •

ANSWER: The whale is a mammal which lives in the ocean. It is considered to be the largest animal that has ever lived. It is hunted because its body supplies man with many valuable products. The blubber of the whale, a layer of fatty tissue under the skin, has been used in many parts of the world for a lighting oil for lamps and lanterns and for making soap. Whale meat is used by humans in many areas. Fertilizer is made from the ground flesh and bones. Spermaciti, an oil found in the cavity of the head of the sperm whale, is valuable in making ointments, candles and cosmetics. The teeth of the sperm whale are valuable ivory and the skin of the white whale is used as a kind of leather.

Ambergris is a waxy substance found in the intestines of some sperm whales. It is a thick greasy gray substance seen floating at sea and sometimes washed up on the shore. Ambergris, when dried, has a musky smell and is used in expensive perfumes. It is used by the cosmetic industry to make the odor of perfume last longer. Whalers take ambergris from the bodies of dead sperm whales. It is a costly product, so chemists have developed an artificial ambergris for the perfume industry.

'Cats Rally, Win, 66-55

By TOM EMORY
Associated Press Sports Writer

For UCLA it was business as usual in the NCAA Far West Regionals, but in the Mideast Adolph Rupp's Kentucky team surprised Chones-less Marquette.

The Bruins, seeking their sixth straight national basketball title, defeated Weber State 90-58 Thursday night, but Coach John Wooden said he wasn't pleased with the team's performance.

"I doubt we had as much respect before the game for Weber as we should have," Wooden said. "This is sort of like starting a new season. We just didn't look sharp."

Guards Henry Bibby and Larry Farmer hit from the outside and center Bill Walton controlled the backboards as UCLA led 42-25 at the half. But Walton got into foul trouble and was replaced by Swen Nater, who scored 12 points. Walton, an All-American, scored six points.

Weber State Coach Gene Visscher said his team played tight at the beginning as he had feared it would, but "I didn't think we'd stop Walton the way we did."

Bibby finished with 16 points and Farmer with 15. Bob Davis hit 16 for the Wildcats while Riley Kimberly had 14. Walton slightly injured his left knee but is expected to play in the regional final Saturday in Provo, Utah.

Kentucky, No. 18-ranked champions of the Southeastern Conference, spent less than an hour developing the zone defense it used to defeat No. 7 Marquette.

Rupp said he used the zone because he didn't believe his team could handle the Warriors man-to-man.

The Warriors missed, and have missed, center Jim Chones, the All-American who signed a professional contract with the New York Nets of the American Basketball Association. While Chones was playing, Marquette was undefeated and ranked second in the nation.

Ron Lyons scored 19 points for Kentucky in the game at Dayton, Ohio. His shooting overcame a 34-33 Marquette halftime lead. Bob Lackey led the Warriors with 21 points.

In other NCAA Regionals, North Carolina defeated South Carolina 92-69 and Pennsylvania topped Villanova 78-67 in the East at Morgantown, W. Va.; Louisville whipped Southwestern Louisiana 88-84 and Kansas State downed Texas 66-55 in the Midwest at Ames, Iowa; Florida State beat Minnesota 70-56 in the Mideast, and Long Beach State thumped San Francisco 75-55 in the Far West.

Second-ranked North Carolina jumped to an early lead and held South Carolina's All-American Tom Riker without a field goal for 33 minutes. The Tar Heels scored 10 straight points, then 12 straight points to build a 51-32 lead.

George Karl led the Tar Heels with 18 points and Dennis Wuycik had 16. Kevin Joyce scored 21 for South Carolina.

Penn, No. 3, had to fight off a Villanova rally to gain its spot in the East final. A full-court press pulled Villanova within one point after the Wildcats had trailed by 12. The Quakers rallied with the aid of several Villanova turnovers.

Phil Hankinson paced Penn with 22 points while Corkie Calhoun had 21 and Bob Morse 20. Hank Siemiontkowski led Villanova with 22.

Jim Price scored 25 points and held Dwight Lamar, the nation's leading scorer, without a basket for almost 10 minutes in the second half in Louisville's victory. The No. 4 Cardinals trailed 44-39 at the halftime but Price's defense and offense sparked a comeback. Lamar finished with 29 points, seven below his average.

David Hall hit nine clutch points to pull Kansas State back into the lead after a late Texas rally. The Longhorns were held to two free throws during Hall's spree. Danny Beard led K-State with 20 points while Hall had 13. Larry Robinson had 22 for Texas.

Florida State shook loose time and again for easy baskets forcing Minnesota to drop a full court press. But the Gophers were unable to recover as the Seminoles' speed decided the game. Florida State held a 35-29 halftime lead. Roland Garrett had 23 points for the winners while Clyde Turner was high for Minnesota with 19.

Long Beach State, No. 5, had little trouble beating San Francisco as Ed Ratleff and Chuck Terry each scored 16 points. Long Beach led 33-22 at the half and remained ahead in the second half by at least 15 points. Mike Quick led San Francisco with 19 points.

The matchups for Saturday's regional finals are: in the East, North Carolina vs. Penn; Mideast, Kentucky vs. Florida State; Midwest, Louisville vs. Kansas State; and Far West, UCLA VS. Long Beach State.

Baltimore Nips Cavs

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It was what you might call downright embarrassing.

Here were the Baltimore Bullets, getting ready to clinch the National Basketball Association's Central Division championship and here were the Cleveland Cavaliers, mired in last place, a fat 13½ games back of the leaders. And which team would you guess had won the first five meetings between the two clubs this season?

Why, the Cavaliers, of course.

The Bullets set out for a little revenge and got it Thursday night with a 105-101 victory over the Cavs, as Wes Unseld set a Cleveland Arena rebounding record.

In other NBA games Thursday, New York squeezed out a 103-102 last-second victory over Houston and Golden State downed Portland 107-94.

Unseld pulled down an Arena record 24 rebounds and injury-riddled Gus Johnson came off the Baltimore bench to score 18 points in the second and third period, helping the Bullets end their Cleveland hex.

The Bullets took the lead in the opening moments of the third period when they held the Cavaliers to a single field goal in the first 7:58 and opened a 16-point lead. Archie Clark led Baltimore with 24 points while Austin Carr and Bobby Smith had 26 each for Cleveland.

The Knicks went down to the final seconds to beat Houston. The Rockets, down by 10 at halftime, had battled back in front on Elvin Hayes' basket with nine seconds remaining.

Eagles Trip Snyder, 4-3

MONAHANS — Snyder's Tigers suffered their first loss of the season here yesterday in the opening round of the Monahans Baseball Tournament, blowing a 3-0 lead in the last inning to lose to Pecos' Eagles, 4-3.

In other first round games, Monahans nipped Eunice, N.M. 6-5, Odessa slipped past Kermit 5-4 in 12 innings, and Crane thumped Fort Stockton 6-2. Snyder met Fort Stockton at 1 p.m. today in the second round.

The Tigers now are 7-1 for the season. Trailing 3-0 going into the bottom half of the 7th, the Eagles scored four runs to claim the victory. Johnson reached first on a fielder's choice. Kirkwood got on on an error, and Harris singled to load the sacks. Sophomore hurler Robert Braziel walked in a run, then was relieved by Tim Holder, who walked in another one. Then Gallendo cracked a single, driving in two more tallies to sack up the contest.

Walker opened on the hill for Pecos and was relieved in the 4th by Avilla.

Snyder had taken a 1-0 lead in the 3rd. Braziel walked, moved to second on a passed ball and went to third on a fielder's choice. Butch Buchanan knocked a fly to left field, and Braziel tagged up and scored after the catch.

In the 5th, the Tigers added two more tallies. Jimmy Don Dyess, pinch-hitting for Braziel, singled to center and went to second on an error. He scored on a single by Tommy Washington and Washington went to second on the throw-in. David Thompson then cracked the ball into left field for a single and Washington scored on the play.

The Tigers left six men stranded.

Braziel pitched superb ball before he lost control in the 7th, striking out 11 men.

Beard Has Lead At Jacksonville

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — The day started with the marshal picking up the first two drives that were hit off the tee, featured a rain delay and ended with Frank Beard talking about his ears.

Beard, who has been hampered by a serious ear infection most of the season, conquered wind and rain with a four-under-par 68 and the first round lead in the $125,000 Greater Jacksonville Open Golf Tournament Thursday.

"I'm not a good wind player," said Beard. "So a score like this on a day like this is some indication of how well I'm hitting the ball."

Beard, a $100,000 winner for the last five years, held a one stroke lead over Al Geiberger, whose last victory was the 1966 PGA National Championship.

Tony Jacklin of England headed a group of seven at 70, two under par on the 6,943 yard Hidden Hills Country Club Course that was swept by gusty winds and deluged with a heavy shower that caused a delay of almost an hour.

Also at that figure were Grier Jones, Bob Murphy, J. C. Snead, Jim Wiechers, George Hixon and Jim Hardy.

Troubled Arnold Palmer broke par for the first time in three weeks with a 71, but had to have six birdies to offset a double bogey, a pair of sixes and three three-putt greens.

Gary Player of South Africa, the defending champion, matched par 72 and Lee Trevino took a 73.

Beard, winner of 11 tour titles and the 1969 Player of the Year, has the reputation of being a colorless golfer. But he was chipper, cheerful and making wisecracks when he finished in the gathering darkness.

"I've never had any excuses—I abhor them—except bad play," said Beard, who has won only $5,200 this season. "But I got this ear infection in the wind and rain at Hawaii.

"By the time we got to the Bob Hope it was so bad I couldn't hear. It didn't get to the inner ear, so the equilibrium wasn't affected. But I absolutely couldn't hear.

"My wife could stand next to me and talk to me and I couldn't hear her, so there's some good in everything."

A's Blue Tells Of Retirement

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Vida Blue said, "I quit," and with those two little words, the Oakland A's lost a pitcher and baseball lost a gate attraction.

"We hate to lose him ... and that's an understatement," said Oakland Manager Dick Williams after the star left-hander announced his retirement from baseball Thursday.

Blue, who reached an impasse in contract talks with owner Charles O. Finley, decided it all wasn't worth it and chucked his career for a public relations job.

The personable Blue had a meteoric rise last year, when he won 24 games and the Cy Young and Most Valuable Player awards in his full season in the majors. He pitched before more than a million fans.

The surprise announcement came after Blue maintained a rock-steady posture against Finley's offer of $50,000 for this year. Blue, represented by lawyer Robert Gerst, was seeking $92,500.

The door for negotiations was left slightly ajar, however, when Gerst said that Blue would consider any higher offers from Finley.

Elsewhere in baseball, there was more off-the-field excitement as the Boston Red Sox became the first team polled to vote against a strike for the Major League Players Association. The vote was 19-4 by the Red Sox, whereas the first 13 teams asked had voted unanimously for a strike.

The Players Association has threatened a strike because of an argument with owners over money for the ballplayers' health benefit plan.

In exhibition baseball, Ellie Hendricks tripled across the tying run in the fifth inning, then singled in he winning run in the seventh as the Baltimore Orioles whipped the Pittsburgh Pirates 3-2.

Tony Muser led the Chicago White Sox with four hits and two RBI in a 9-5 triumph over the Kansas City Royals.

A triple by Ted Simmons and single by Jorge Roque broke a tie and gave the St. Louis Cardinals a 2-1 rain-shortened 4½ inning victory over the Houston Astros.

The Cincinnati Reds and New York Yankees played to a 1-1 tie in a game called after 13 innings because of rain. Cesar Geronimo's single drove home the game's first run in the top of the Cincinnati 10th inning. The Yankees tied it in their half of the inning on Johnny Callison's home run.

Craig Nettles drove in six runs for Cleveland as the Indians pulled out a 12-8 comeback triumph over the Chicago Cubs. Hank Aaron and Oscar Brown homered for Atlanta in a 15-14 triumph over the Texas Rangers.

Willie Crawford got three hits, leading Los Angeles over Minnesota 4-2. Boston scored six runs in the sixth inning to beat Detroit 10-6.

Five Oakland pitchers combined for a shutout as the A's topped San Diego 4-0, and the California Angeles scored five times in the first inning and walloped Milwaukee 6-1.

Teaff Doesn't Waste Time

WACO, Tex., (AP) — New coach Grant Teaff didn't waste any time giving his Baylor footballers their first taste of combat Thursday at the opening of spring drills.

Plastic-popping one-on-one drills highlighted the day with defensive end Mike Black of Houston, Navarro Junior College transfer Charles Dancer of Mexia, and Tommy Turnipseed of Beeville getting green stars for their helmets with their enthusiasm.

"The object of spring training in my opinion is to develop skills and find players who will hit," Teaff said. "We found three hitters today."

Cowtown Team Wins 4 Bouts

By PAT THOMPSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Defending champion Fort Worth, Tex., found itself three points off the lead today after the first 96 fights of the 45th National Golden Gloves Tournament of Champions at the Minneapolis Auditorium.

But the Texas team sends its power into action tonight as James "Bubba" Busceme opens defense of his 132-pound championship and starts trying for his fourth straight national title.

The Texans also have contenders in bantamweight Bobby Vascoucu, middleweight Paul Stephens and heavyweight Steve Williams.

After the first rounds of bouts in the 112, 125, 139, 156 and 178-pound division, Fort Worth had only four points and two boxers still alive in the quarter-finals-defending 112-pound champion James Martinez and light heavyweight Carl Ivy.

With each victory counting one point, Las Vegas and Milwaukee took the first night lead Thursday night with seven points each.

Cincinnati, Kansas City and Toledo each had six points: Cleveland, Indianapolis and Lowell, Mass., got five each and Fort Worth, Jackson, Tenn., and Los Angeles won four to pace the 30 teams who entered more than 300 boxers.

Martinez was one of the four defending champions in first night action to advance into the quarter-finals.

Martinez won decisions from Huston Bond, of Jackson, and Paul Roseten Los Angeles.

Louis Self, Toledo, took Dean Kromarek of the Rocky Mountain team from Great Falls, Mont., in the second round after stopping Leon Smith, Huntington, W. Va., after 1:29 of the third in the 125-pound class.

Wiley Johnson, the 139-pound titlist from Cincinnati, breezed over Tony Drake, Omaha, and Delmar Suttle, Cleveland.

Sam Nesmith of Indianapolis started defense of his 156-pound trophy, taking technical knockout victories from Oliver Lewis, grand Rapids, Mich., and Jim Brown, Huntington.

Leland Jones, light heavyweight from Buffalo, N.Y., and Donnie Nelson, 139-pounder from Lowell, Mass., scored the only clean knockouts.

Jones slammed Benny Addison, Lafayette, La., down and out with a wicked left after 22 seconds of the second round. Nelson's right stunned Tim Adams, Chicago, at :40 of the second round.

Lake Spence Fishing Good

Good catches of bass, crappie and channel cat came from Lake Spence this week.

At Edith's Station, R.C. Phillips reported that Dick Martin, Midland, had weighed in eight bass up to 4½ pounds, and John Murphy, Midland, had a string of 15 bass with some going at five pounds. From Big Spring, Howard and Cecil Walker and Leroy Kelbfleigh, weighed a string of 32 crappie for a 29-pound total.

Patrolmen said that Jack and Nan McBroon, Midland, had eight bass aggregating 23 pounds. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Erck and Melvin of 3615 Hambel, Midland, had half a dozen bass totalling 13 pounds.

Steve Lee, San Angelo, came up with a string of 14 channel cat averaging a pound and a half, while Mr. and Mrs. G.E. Shows, 1500 Cumberland, Odessa, had 20 crappie averaging better than a pound.

Grad Attitude Changed By Tight Job Market

By JOHN HENRY
AP Business Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—College and university students are coming to job interviews better prepared, better dressed and more anxious to please as a result of intense competition in the employment market, corporate recruiters report.

There's a decided difference," says Albert H. Barlow, a recruiter for Chase Manhattan Bank. "I saw the beginning of it last year. Students are trying much harder to make a good impression on us than ever before. They're doing a lot more research on companies before the recruiters arrive.

"The style of dress has changed too. They used to show up for interviews in jeans and sloppy sandals or shoes that hand't been shined since they were freshmen. Now the shoes are shined and there are a lot more coats and ties. We still see long hair but it's much better kept."

"There used to be a very cocky attitude of 'here I am, I'm an MBA, what are you going to do for me?'" says the research director of a Wall Street brokerage house who interviews on campuses for his firm. "Now there's a little return to a sense of humility."

Clark Hine, who recruits at Columbia's Graduate School of Business for the Ogilvy & Mather advertising agency, says interviewers no longer have to be on the defensive with student applicants.

"Two or three years ago students would ask what the agency was doing about the war in Vietnam or the environment or consumerism," he says. "Now, they give 20 reasons why they could do a great job for the agency."

The change in the attitude and appearance of college job hunters is due primarily to the tight employment market for this year's crop of graduates, recruiters say.

The College Placement Council, which represents recruiters and placement directors across the nation, says the 835 major companies it surveyed recently anticipate a 5 per cent increase in hiring in 1972 over last yar. But even with the rise, the number of job openings would be only 57,550 compared with 70,000 in 1970, it says.

So competitive is the job situation that students on some campuses are lining up at the college placement office at 5:30 a.m. to sign up for interviews with recruiters, the council says.

"About two years ago students were protesting our visits on the campus and now they're trying to beat our doors down to get jobs," says a spokesman for General Motors' college recruiting department.

King Hussein To Visit US

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department says Jordan's King Hussein plans a visit to Washington soon, but that dates and arrangements have not been completed.

Hussein will meet with President Nixon and other members of the administration informally during his visit, the department said Thursday.

Among the topics may be sein's recent proposal to transform his kingdom into a federated state which would include an autonomous region of Palestinians living on the Israeli-occupied West Bank of the Jordan River.

Nixon Proposes Aid To Industry

By STERLING F. GREEN
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has proposed a bundle of incentives to industry—including some modest tax relief, credit aids, federal cost-sharing, and even prizes—to develop new products and processes.

In a special message to Congress Thursday, Nixon promised a partnership of government and industry to marshal science and technology in solving economic problems at home and reviving American competitiveness in world trade.

The message disappointed some industry leaders who have urged changes in the antitrust laws to encourage corporations to pool research-and-development funds for projects too big or risky for single firms.

Nixon invited the pooling of resources and sharing of profits, but did so by giving assurances, in effect, that his administration will not take antitrust action against combinations seeking needed technological breakthroughs as long as their actions do not foster monopoly.

The message reported that firms in two major industries already are pooling their resources. Electric utilities have pledged $25 million a year for the next 10 years to develop a liquid metal fast-breeder nuclear reactor, as a demonstration power plant. This, said Nixon, is part of a larger effort by electrical utilities to raise $150 million a year for research and development in producing clean electric power.

Gas companies, through the American Gas Association, have raised $10 million to accelerate their pooled effort to convert coal into gas, the message said.

Other major goals of the technology drive, Nixon said, are rapid, safe and pollution-free transportation; measures to reduce loss of life and property from natural disasters; improvement of drug-abuse rehabilitation programs, and stepped up medical research.

Although it is known that many tax-incentive proposals to speed research have been studied by the White House, Nixon's message made only one tax request—enactment of the small-business tax bill pending since last year.

The message also asked Congress to increase the ratio of federal financial support to small business investment companies, to increase their ability to lend to small, high-technology firms which, Nixon said, have had "such a distinguished pioneering record."

Experiments to test a variety of partnership arrangements between government agencies, private firms and universities will be set up under sponsorship of the National Science Foundation and the National Bureau of Standards, Nixon said.

Miss Castro Says Regime Is Weakening

HOUSTON (AP) — The sister of Cuban dictator Fidel Castro says the Communist regime is weakening and revolutionaries eventually would strike against her brother.

"Ninety-five per cent of the population in Cuba is against Fidel's Communist regime," Miss Castro said Thursday. "The regime is weakening now and the internal resistance is being felt now.

"I am certain that at any time a spark will be lit to bring about the fire that will finish the Castro regime."

Miss Castro, who fled the country in 1964, said the Castro regime had destroyed Cuba's sugar industry.

"In fact they rationed sugar so that Cubans only get four pounds of sugar per person a month," she said. "To show you how bad it is getting, my sources told me the ration was six pounds just two weeks ago."

Miss Castro has not been in her native country for more than eight years but she said she gets information from sources she said were high government officials.

No, kissing won't make you pregnant

By Abigail Van Buren

(c) 1972 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: I hope you won't think this is too dumb to answer. Can a girl get pregnant from kissing? DALLAS

DEAR DALLAS: No. But it's a good beginning.

DEAR ABBY: Will you please help me? I am a 13-year-old girl and live with my mother alone. A few years ago my father and my two brothers were killed in a car accident. Since I am the only one my mother has left, she babies me something awful. She won't let me go anywhere without her.

I live only one block from school, but my mother walks me to school every morning. If I have to stay after school, my mother comes to school and stands outside waiting for me. It is so bad, Abby, that I don't have any friends left. My mother doesn't even like for me to call anyone on the phone.

If I complain about the way my mother babies me, she cries and says I don't love her. I DO love her, Abby, but I would like to have friends and be like other girls. I used to be an A and B student. Now I dropped down to C's and D's.

It's gotten so that my mother wants to comb my hair in the morning. Please, be my friend, and help me.

FALLING APART

DEAR FALLING: Your mother has suffered a terrible loss, and the shock, plus her loneliness has apparently affected her mental well being. She desperately needs someone to tell her troubles to. And she may need medical attention. Tell your school counselor what you've told me. If you have no counselor, confide in your favorite teacher. Or your minister. When your mother gets the help she needs, she will stop babying you, which will solve your problem and your mother's, too. Good luck, Honey.

DEAR ABBY: I was really disgusted with that college kid whose roommate suggested they share an apartment with two girls. This boob said they would be mutually benefitted because the boys wouldn't have to bother with cooking or laundry, and the girls would have the "protection" of men living on the premises, plus they would all save a few bucks!

Is this guy for real? If the girls are students, they are in college to study, not to wash out some jerk's socks. Didn't this boy's Mommy ever teach him to feed himself and pick up his things? Where does he come off expecting a stranger to cook for him and do his laundry?

I hope this idiot wakes up, and soon. And if those girls know what they are getting into and still want to live with those two guys for the sake of "security," and to save a few bucks, they all deserve each other. DISGUSTED IN L. A.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069.

"Ointment and perfume rejoice the heart: so doth the sweetness of a man's friend by hearty counsel." Proverbs 27:9.

To us the truest in woman or surely the noblest in man
Is a person who makes us endeavor to the very best that we can.
This driving one may irritate; even harass and scar,
But still He proclaims the idea for us to reach toward a star.
This may be a parent, a teacher, or even a wedded mate,
But one thing, until you're successful, His personal heaven can wait.

WASHINGTON (AP) — In a report certain to stir bitter debate, a presidential commission recommends abortion on request and contraceptive services to minors as ways to halt America's population growth.

The commission, which set out the need for stabilizing growth in the first of a three-part report issued last week, said public and private health services should assume all costs connected with fertility.

It would mean an outlay of up to $8.1 billion a year, the commission said, to pay for contraceptives; for prenatal, delivery and first-year pediatric care; for voluntary sterilization, abortion and medical treatment of infertility. All but $1 billion of this cost is now borne by public and private agencies, the commission said.

Criticism of the report came quickly, particularly its recommendation that "women should be free to determine their own fertility, that the matter of abortion should be left to the conscience of the individual concerned, in consultation with her physician and that states should be encouraged to enact affirmative statutes creating a clear and positive framework for the practice of abortion on request."

Msgr. James T. McHugh of the United States Catholic Conference said the "preoccupation with finding an effective way to eliminate the unwanted child has led the commission ... into an ideological valley of death."

The four Catholic members of the 24-member commission and Sen. Alan Cranston, D-Calif., dissented from the section on abortion.

The commission was established by Congress two years ago on request of President Nixon to study "Population and the American Future." Its chairman, John D. Rockefeller III, said "the commission recognizes and would stress that many of its recommendations seek to achieve social goals desirable and important in their own right—for example, greater opportunities for women and children and freedom of choice in reproduction."

The report placed emphasis on "creating social conditions wherein the desired values of individuals, families and communities can be realized."

Spring Arrives Early

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Is it indeed springtime in Texas?

Not officially, but the weatherman is trying awfully hard to bring the season here a few days ahead of schedule.

Skies today were clear over all the state and afternoon temperatures were to reach into the 70s and 80s. Early morning temperatures generally were in the 40s and 50s, although readings just before sunrise ranged from 38 at Dalhart to 62 at Galveston.

Del Rio posted Thursday's high reading in the state, as the mercury in that city along the Rio Grande pushed to 85.

Even though the state was under the influence of a cooler air mass, temperatures climbed into the 70s and 80s. The skies were clear Thursday, except for a few scattered thin high clouds left in the wake of the cold front which raced through Texas Wednesday.

The weekend weather, according to the National Weather Service, should be pleasant, with clear skies, mild afternoons and cool to mild nights.

The northern half of the state is expected to turn cooler Monday and Tuesday and there is a chance of showers in some northern sections Monday.

First Baptist

First Baptist Church will begin a revival Sunday morning, which will continue through Sunday, March 26. Dr. L.L. Morris will be the preacher for the revival and Malcolm Grainger will lead the singing.

Revival services will begin at 9:30 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. daily through the week. The choir will rehearse at 7 o'clock each evening.

Monday night has been designated as "First Nighter at First, Snyder." Attendance of everyone in the Sunday School will be stressed.

Wednesday night will be "Family Night;" Friday night will be "Youth Night;" and Saturday night will be "Old Time Religion Night."

On Sunday, March 26, the church will be striving for an attendance of 660 in Sunday School.

The public is invited to attend all of the revival services and nursery service will be provided.

Sunday is the deadline for registering for the RA Congress. The cost will be approximately $10-$15 for the trip to Austin March 30-April 1.

Probation Appeal Is Confusing

ABILENE, Tex. (AP) — The man who may supervise the probated terms assessed House Speaker Gus Mutscher and two others concedes the whole situation is somewhat confusing.

Mutscher, aide Rush McGinty and state Rep. Tommy Shannon of Fort Worth gave notice they will appeal the verdict of a Taylor County jury that they are guilty of bribery conspiracy.

That means the five-year probated terms assessed by 104th Dist. Court Judge J. Neil Daniel officially can not begin until the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals upholds the convictions.

"This is the first time we've ever had anybody who received probation appeal his case," said Bill McCay, Taylor County probation officer, Thursday. He said most probationers are "usually satisfied with what they get."

McCay said he has never had a public official on probation prior to now.

Only when the convictions are final and the sentence is made operative will McCay begin supervising the men, making sure they live up to the same terms imposed on the other 775 probationers now under his supervision.

Deputy May File Charges

ABILENE, Tex. (AP) — "She hit me on the arm, not over the head," says Deputy David Dalbert of an incident with a television reporter at the Gus Mutscher trial, "but it hurt ... it swelled up."

Dalbert, a Taylor County Deputy Sheriff, said Thursday he is considering filing charges against Jessica Savitch of KHOU-TV in Houston, who said she struck him with a microphone Wednesday.

When the incident occurred, Dalbert was escorting House Speaker Gus Mutscher from the county courthouse after a jury had convicted Mutscher and two colleagues of bribery conspiracy.

The Houston newswoman said she beaned an unidentified deputy over the head with her microphone after he shoved a photographer companion, Lon Kutchnell, and tried to jerk his camera away from him.

Dalbert denied he pushed or shoved anybody or tried to jerk anyone's camera from them.

Matagorda Eyed For Shuttleport

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Matagorda Island is being considered, along with a number of other locations, as a possible site for the launching and landing of the space shuttle, a Space agency official said Thursday.

A National Aeronautics and Space Administration spokesman said the island, just south of Port O'Connor, "is still in contention" but he added, "There are a number of sites under consideration."

The space shuttle is a reusable spacecraft being developed by NASA to cut the costs of putting satellites into space. The vehicle would be launched by reusable rocket motors that are parachuted into an ocean after launch. The orbiter section of the craft lands on earth like an airplane.

Matagorda, said a spokesman offers the location that would permit launches due east or full south, along with a limited launch path to the northeast.

The spokesman said NASA is looking at a number of sites that would permit launches in these directions without the danger of a flight over above highly populated areas.

Officials have said the site will be selected and announced this summer.

The Kennedy Space center in Florida is still considered the most likely location of the launch site because it would take less money to convert that facility to a shuttle port than it would to construct a new space center.

Texas A&M Has New Award

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — A new award to honor a young engineer has been named after a Texas A&M University mechanical engineering professor.

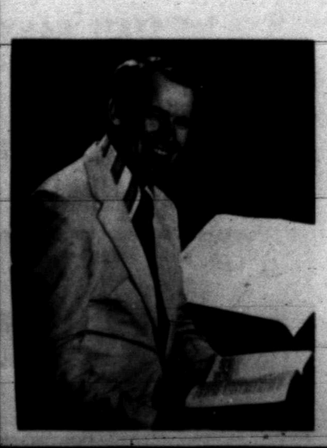

The Dr. J. George H. Thompson Award will be conferred by the South Texas Section of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers to a young engineer, age 35 or younger, with outstanding service to the section.

YOUR CUP Full

In the 23rd Psalm, David expresses his confidence in God as a provider. He assures us that God will not let us go wanting, that He will supply all our needs.

But the Psalmist does not stop here. He assures us that God will give us more than we need, in fact, so much more that our cup will run over. He even assures us a surplus. A God-given surplus. A surplus we can waste or we can share. If we waste it, we are careless. If we share it, of course, we care. To waste it would be to mock the provider; to share it would be to thank Him for it.

In an era when we hear so much about the minimum hourly wage and a guaranteed income, we find it very difficult to separate that which we need from what we do not need, but think we do. If we could honestly discern between necessities and luxuries, we could witness our cup really running over. The question is personal. What are you doing with your surplus? Just what are you doing with Your Cup Full?
