Auto Strike Ends, Rail Dispute Postponed Today

American Motors, Auto Union Agree

By The Associated Press

One big strike was settled quickly today and another, scheduled for midnight tonight and affecting 35,000 workers, was postponed.

The CIO United Auto Workers and the American Motors Corp., maker of Nash and Hudson cars, reached an agreemust just about eight hours after a strike of 24,000 employes began.

In New York the CIO Transport Workers Union postponed its strike of 25,000 nonoperating employes of the Pennsylvania Railroad. President Eisenhower yesterday set up an emergency fact-finding board. Under the Railway Labor Act, this move usually postpones strike action for 60 days. The union wants higher wages and shorter hours.

American Motors thus became the first of the so-called "Little Three" of the auto industry to settle with the CIO on the "Big Three" contract pattern.

The agreement included a layoff plan, wage increases and other benefits the union termed a 14-cent-an-hour package for the first year of the three-year contract. It includes a wage hike of 6 to 8 cents an hour, plus additional 6-cent raises to be given in 1956 and 1957.

The UAW previously had estimated the value of the Ford, General Motors and Chrysler package settlements at more than 20 cents an hour the first year. The American Motors settlement also differed in the timing of the start of the layoff pay plan. The benefits will be available Sept. 15, 1957, more than a year after the "Big Three" payouts will be available.

Like Chrysler and the other big companies, American Motors offered a layoff pay plan which would guarantee laid off workers 60 to 65 per cent of regular take-home pay for up to 26 weeks of idleness.

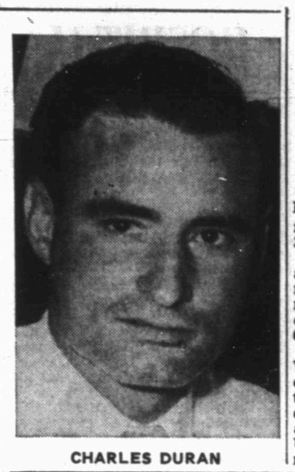

The UAW has not settled with the other "Little Three" companies —Studebaker-Packard Corp. and Kaiser Motors Corp. Studebaker's 9,000 employes struck yesterday, refusing to extend a contract that expired Wednesday night.

Other developments on the labor front included:

CHICAGO — International Harvester Co. and the UAW are negotiating for a new contract. About 40,000 employes are involved in 18 plants in 6 states.

BALTIMORE—The AFL International Assn. of Machinists struck against six Bendix radio plants. The union seeks a pay raise and "seniority and better all-around working conditions." About 3,000 employes are involved.

Charles Duran To Take Over Lockney Bank

CHARLES DURAN

Controlling interest in the First National Bank of Lockney has been purchased by Charles Duran, vice president of the West Texas State Bank of Snyder, and B.C. Drinkard, president of the Citizens State Bank of Roby.

Duran will move from Snyder to Lockney about Sept. 15, and become president of the Lockney bank.

Lockney is a community of about 2,500 persons in the center of a rich irrigated farming belt.

Drinkard will remain in Roby. He is a former Snydernite who was supervisor of the Farmers Home Administration office here for more than 10 years prior to moving to Roby in 1952. Drinkard has retained his interest in and is a member of the board of directors of the West Texas State Bank of Snyder.

Duran has sold his interest in the Snyder bank, where he has been a vice president for the past year. He moved to Snyder from Henderson in 1950. He was employed by the First National Bank of Henderson prior to moving here.

In Snyder Duran has served as head of United Service Organization fund campaign, president of the Quarterback Club, Secretary of the Snyder Officials Association which furnished officials for sporting events, and has been a director of the Snyder Little League.

Duran is the third member of the staff of the six-year-old West Texas State Bank to leave Snyder to become president of another bank.

Israel Agrees To Cease-Fire

JERUSALEM (AP) — Only one minor incident was reported along the tense Egyptian-Israeli frontier last night after Israel announced conditional acceptance of an appeal to end the fighting.

An Israeli military spokesman at Tel Aviv said Egyptian infiltrators blew up a well shortly before midnight near Yad Mordechai, an Israeli settlement northeast of the Egyptian-held Gaza Strip.

It was in the Yad Mordechai area that israel yesterday claimed two Egyptian jet fighters were shot down by Israeli planes.

Israel last night announced acceptance of a U.N.-proposed cease-fire, provided "all attacks by Egyptians in whatever form will cease."

A spokesman for Egypt's Palestine Department said in Cairo that Egypt has not replied to the bid. But he announced that Egyptian troops have been ordered to observe a cease-fire.

Pointing out that Egypt agreed Tuesday to the cease-fire proposal by Canadian Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, chief of the U. N. Truce Supervisory Commission, the spokesman said he did not know if it was necessary for the Cairo government to send a new reply.

The spokesman disclosed that Burns arrived in Gaza this morning for a first hand investigation of the Israeli attack on Khan Yunix, a rail center in the strip. The United States and Britain had strongly backed the U. N. truce supervisor's peace appeal.

The Israeli announcement came as estimates of casualties in the past nine days of fighting in the Gaza area reached as high as 61 killed and 91 wounded. The toll soared when Israeli troops in half-tracks blew up an Egyptian military headquarters at Khan Yunis, in the Egyptian-held Gaza region, Wednesday night.

Israel described the raid as punishment for previous Egyptian attacks and a warning against future hostilities.

The Voice of Israel radio said 40 Egyptians were killed and 40 wounded at Khan Yunis. It said the attackers "could easily have occupied the entire Gaza Strip." Egypt reported 10 of her men killed and 12 injured, while private informants put the Egyptian losses at 17 dead and 10 wounded.

An Israeli spokesman said one attacker was killed and eight wounded.

The stepped-up violence in the Gaza area, a 6-by-30-mile strip of land, came after negotiations between Egypt and Israel on easing tension broke down Aug. 24. Clashes or raids across the border have occurred daily since then.

Peron Gathers Strength For Dictatorship

By BRUCE HENDERSON

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, (AP) — Congressional approval of a "state of siege" for Buenos Aires today bulwarked President Juan Peron's new drive to crush his opposition.

The all-Peronista Senate unanimously okayed the bill last night after the Peron-dominated lower house voted it through 109-12 in compliance with Peron's demand for emergency powers to "annihilate" his foes.

Peron was expected to affix his signature today, transforming into law the measure affecting the capital's 3½ million citizens. The whole country was placed under a state of siege for 13 days after the unsuccessful navy revolt against the government June 16. The new restrictions applied only to Buenos Aires, however.

It appeared the chief effect of the measure would be psychological since Peron already had the special powers under a "state of internal war" clamped on the country in September 1951 after military men staged another abortive revolt.

Both "states" suspend constitutional guarantees to permit the government to hold anyone indefinitely without trial and deny them the right to win freedom under habeas corpus proceedings. However, the state of siege is a constitutional measure, while the state of internal war was an emergency act adopted three years ago for the first time in Argentina's history.

As the House of Deputies rammed through the bill, Angel Enrique Peralta, who represents the powerful pro-Peron General Confederation of Labor (CGT) in the House, said the state of siege would last "as long as necessary—until we eliminate the last danger of troublemakers."

The government proposal provoked an uproar from the 12 Radical party members, the only opposition in the House. Radical Deputy Santiago Carlos Fassi charged that Peron's speech proclaiming reprisals against his opponents the night before had been designed to "incite to crime and destruction," but he was drowned out by Peronista deputies chanting "Peron, Peron!"

Booklet Cites Record Of President's Staff

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White house has distributed to key government officials a booklet summarizing "achievements of the Eisenhower administration."

A White House statement said yesterday the document was "intended for interdepartmental use and is not made available publicly."

Acknowledging that the 42-page booklet could be used for speech material, a spokesman said it "certainly was not tailored for that purpose."

"The White House said such summaries are prepared from time to time "to keep officials of the administration informed of the activity of other departments and agencies."

Midland Man Faces Charge For Accident

Charges were filed yesterday against Herman Robert Clair, 28, Midland, of aggravated assault with an automobile.

Claire was driving the 1955 Chevrolet coach on the Big Spring highway when it was involved in a head-on collision with a 1952 Chevrolet driven by Murl Malone Wharton, 25, Odessa shortly before two a.m. June 5.

Mrs. J. E. Bloodworth, a passenger in Clair's car, was killed in the collision which injured six other persons, two seriously.

Ivestigating officers said the collision occured on the west half of the Big Spring highway. The Clair automobile was traveling toward Snyder.

Officers said Clair has been visiting in Louisana for about three weeks but will return to Midland in about two more weeks when he will be brought here for his trial.

Summer Or Fall?

The weather continued to alternate between summer and fall here with a maximum temperature of 91 degrees yesterday afternoon and an overnight low of 53 degrees. At 7:30 this morning, the temperature was 61 degrees, David Strayhorn, weather observer, said.

Teachers Take Part In School Meeting

Twelve teachers took part in a fourth grade level meeting held Wednesday. Mrs. Travis Rhoades welcomed new teachers in the group and discussed the purpose of the meetings.

Plans for the year's work were made and community resources and resource persons were tabulated. It was decided to hold meetings the third Monday in each nine-week period. Meetings will be held at the West Elementary School, North Elementary School and the Central Elementary School, in that order.

Step Right Up, Folks, Texas Political Show Just Starting

By CLAYTON HICKERSON
The Associated Press

Jimmy Phillips and John White, who may or may not make the 1956 campaign for governor of Texas, had put on separate political shows again Friday.

And Reuben Senterfitt, who says he will run for governor but may not, made more motions toward a statewide campaign in a pep letter to the 22 members of his "statewide steering committee."

The Democrats of Texas—keeping up their running fire at the Republican Party—spoke up in the person of Rep. Albert Thomas of Houston to chide the GOP on its budget and tax programs.

Phillips, state senator from Angleton and a large chunk of Gulf Coast territory since 1947, was the honoree at a 5,000-person fish fry on Galveston's celebrated "pleasure pier." The jaunty lad with the big bow tie used every minute for political advantage.

He is convinced, the senator told the Islanders and their visitors, that all the scandals connected with the hundred-million-dollar Veterans Land Program have not been uncovered.

"I am convinced," he said, "that we have not yet uncovered all the dishonest deals, all the graft and corruption, involved. We must continue the search and ferret out all of the wrong-doers."

Phillips was one of the Senate investigators who probed the veterans land deals. So far the multiple investigations have resulted in only Bascom Giles, former land commissioner, going to trial. Giles has been convicted twice, once on a plea of guilty, in two court cases.

The senator from Angleton was presented a bronze ptaque on which was engraved: "To Senator Jimmy Phillips in recognition of his loyal and untiring efforts in behalf of the people of Galveston County and the state of Texas."

To which Phillips modestly replied: "No man can truthfully claim to be solely responsible for all of the accomplishments which may be credited to him, particularly in the field of governmental affairs."

White, youthful redhead who has been State Agriculture Commissioner for two terms, criticized the last Legislature for its failure to set up a statewide water program.

White, mentioned frequently as a candidate for governor, said nothing of a campaign but took a firm political stand in making his statements on water at water-conscious Hale Center in West Texas. He spoke before the High Plains Coop Ginners Assn. and the Coop Warehouses Assn.

The commissioner blamed opposing political views and fear of unfair taxation for what he called the "Legislature's failure."

"The legislators are to be commended for recognizing the need for such a (water) plan," he said, "but they were handcuffed by political and regional prejudices." He added that Texas' water problems never would be solved until political factions and the public were willing "to assumre a rightful share of the responsibility."

White said municipalities and power companies should pay fees to the state according to their use of dam-stored surface water.

Senterfitt, former Speaker of the Texas House from San Saba, told his steering committee he thinks Texans are tired of candidates seeking office on "demerits of opponents and fabricated issues."

He said his state headquarters had been opened in Austin and that staff appointments would be announced shortly. Of the campaign he said he intended to make, he commented:

"We will not in any way attempt to develop a false personality, nor will we have any record of either character or of experience to hide from the people of this state."

Thomas' individual sally for the Democratic Party came at a Houston luncheon gathering. He hit at the Eisenhower administration in saying that he thought the 84th Congress should give a "modest little tax reduction."

The Republicans screamed, "heresy," he said, "and screamed about balancing the budget. Yet the only thing wrong with the idea was that it was advocated by the legislative branch (Democratic) and it was not an election year."

Thomas recalled that Treasury Secy. Humphrey recently said a small tax reduction could be expected next year.

"If my memory serves me," the Democrat said, "next year is an election year."

The congressman said he believed a tax reduction was in order because "this country has reached the saturation point in taxes."

Three Deaths Are Blamed On Sizzling Heat

LOS ANGELES — Southern Californians braced themselves for another scorcher today in the wake of yesterday's record high temperatures which were blamed for three deaths and 28 cases of heat prostration.

The mercury zoomed to 110 degrees in Los Angeles, cracking a 64-year-old mark by one degree. Nearby Tujunga recorded a sizzling 120. And on the normally torrid Mojave Desert it was a comparatively cool 90 to 103.

More heat was forecast today, with a high of 108 expected for downtown Los Angeles.

Searing winds fanned a brush fire in San Dimas, 25 miles east of here, which engulfed 12 homes and blackened 200 acres.

Farmers in interior valleys reported that tens of thousands of chickens had succumbed to the heat, 12,000 at one ranch in suburban Bellflower. Commercial flower crops also were damaged. Several downtown offices closed yesterday afternoon.

San Diego County authorities said the 104-degree heat there was a major disaster to the multi-million-dollar poultry industry. A farm bureau director, Warren Hooper, estimated that nearly 6,000 chickens and turkeys dropped dead in their pens.

Several persons were treated in Santa Monica for burns on the soles of their feet, received as they raced across the oven-hot beach sands to the water.

At neighboring Torrance, city construction projects were halted when concrete set before it could be poured and tar boiled in the streets.

Los Angeles consumed a record amount of water yesterday—692 million gallons. Officials said there was a plentiful supply for the area.

Dozens of autos stalled on freeways, their engines vapor-locked. Minor traffic snarls resulted.

Hundreds of people spent last night and the night before in parks and on the beaches. Temperatures remained in the 90s and high 80s at night.

Man Curious, Cat Deadly

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—An alley cat crossed his path and Ira H. Kidd, 55, a tugboat captain, lost his life today.

Curiosity as to the cat's color led to his death.

He was driving a friend, W. A. Danley to Danley's home when the cat crossed the street in front of the car.

"That was a black cat," Kidd said to Danley.

"No, Ira," Danley dissented, "it was red."

The two men argued briefly.

Suddenly, Kidd braked the car to a stop, went into reverse.

"We'll see what color it was," he said.

He never did.

The car smashed into a concrete street marker. Kidd was thrown out. As he fell the sharp bottom of the car door slashed his chest, exposing his heart. He was dead within minutes.

Sgt. R. D. Brown, accident investigator, arrived and saw an alley cat sliter out of a nearby ditch. The cat was black and white.

Pictures Of Escapees Distributed By FBI

The sheriff's department reports the the Federal Bureau of Investigation has distributed pictures and descriptions of the two men who broke out of the Scurry County jail here Tuesday morning and has activated a 48-state alert for them.

The men, Richard Crawford, 32, Lubbock and Billy Jack Bennett, 29, Olton, sawed their way out of their cell and escaped sometime Tuesday morning. Local efforts are being made to find who might have assisted them in the break, officers said.

George Parr Wins One Round, Loses Another In Court Fight

SAN DIEGO, Tex. —The courtroom tests of George Parr, the South Texas political leader, continued their course today. Parr won and lost.

Judge Floyd Jones yesterday ruled that absentee ballots cast in a Duval County school election were valid. That would put Jesus M. Salinas, a Parr-backed candidate, on the board of the Benavides Independent School District.

Salinas' opponent, Joe Valleo, was backed by the anti-Parr Freedom Party, avowedly organized to fight Parr and his political partners.

The suit in Judge Jones' court continued today and Valleo's attorneys said they expected to challenge other votes.

Another board seat challenged is that of Atlee Parr, George's brother, who won 940-925 over Frank Valleo. Attorneys in this case said they may show that some Parr supporters had no legal right to vote.

In another development yesterday, George Parr and 18 other persons were indicted on charges of falsely swearing to affidavits in an effort to quash more than 100 indictments previously returned by a Duval County grand jury.

Many of those indicted at the same time in three other cases involving his activities as president of the now defunct San Diego State Bank. One charged Parr made an unauthorized loan to himself. The other two charged he made false entries in books and records of the bank.

The indictments based on the grand jury affidavits resulted from a July hearing on a series of indictments. The affidavits claimed all indictments by the July grand jury should be thrown out because unauthorized persons took part in grand jury investigations.

Those indicted with Parr on the affidavits count were former County Auditor C. T. Stansell, former County Commissioner Enrique G. Garcia, former Commissioner J. Hancock, former Commissioner J. A. Tobin, former Benavides School District official D. C. Chapa, present San Diego School Superintendent Fernando de Pena, former Benavides school official O. Carrillo Sr., J. C. King, Juan Barrera, former 79th Dist. Atty. Raeburn Norris, A. W. Tobin, Reyes Ramos, present County Clerk A. Garcia Jr., Octavio Guerra, Eligio Uresti, H. P. Salinas, I. G. Jaime and Mrs. Carmen Allen.

In still another chapter of the Parr story, 79th Dist. Judge C. Woodrow Laughlin—once a Parr-backed candidate himself—granted a temporary injunction to stop Duval County's rival half-million dollar recovery suit against Parr.

The injunction ordered three Duval commissioners and atty. Gordon Gibson of Laredo not to interfere with the state's recovery suit.

The commissioner's suit contends that Parr borrowed $500,000 from the county and used a part of it to buy his 50,000-acre Dobie Ranch. The state contends Parr misappropriated the county funds.

Dist. Atty. Sam Burris Jr., of the 79th District, Duval County Judge Dan Tobin Jr., Duval Auditor Donato Serna, Commissioner Maria C. Leal, Treasurer Victory Leal, and Freedom Party President obert Leo joined in asking the injunction.

Group Seeks Probe Of Citizens Council

HOUSTON (AP)—A spokesman for the Texas Citizens Council said today the pro-segregation group will welcome a justice department investigation of it, asked by about 50 Negro groups in Houston.

"We're not intimidating anyone and we'll welcome an investigation any time by any body," said Ross Carlton, Dallas attorney for the council, which was organized this summer with the aim of maintaining segregation of Negroes and whites.

"And we would suggest that they open up their records for a similar investigation," said Carlton.

Citizens councils have been organized in several Texas communities.

The Negro groups, organized under the name of the Harris County Council of Organizations, accused Texas Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd and Gov. Allan Shivers of lending aid to the Citizens Councils. They asked U.S. Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell to instruct Shepperd to comply with his pledge of office to uphold the U.S. Constitution.

"We think the Citizens Councils are un-american and undemocratic," the council said in a letter mailed last Friday to the attorney general.

In Washington, a Justice Department spokesman said the letter had not been received and that the department had no comment.

The Citizens Councils, dedicated to preventing integration of white and Negro classes in the public schools "by all legal means," have been formed in Texas at Orange, Fort Worth, Kilgore, Gilmer, Big Spring and Dallas. Some have publicly sanctioned economic pressure against Negroes.

"We think their methods are outright conspiracy to deprive x x x American citizens of their civil and economic rights, the letter to Brownell said. It continued:

"We are convinced . . . that the majority of the people of Texas want to show good faith and earnestly comply with the law of the land in the school segregation case.

"But unfortunately words of discouragement from our governor and attorney general of Texas, and also actions of the Citizens Councils are threatening to slow the progress that has been started."

Pioneer City Resident Dies

Mrs. W. R. Johnson, 78, wife of a pioneer Scurry County doctor, died about 7:15 this morning in Cogdell Memorial Hospital. Mrs. Johnson was admitted to the hospital yesterday morning soon after suffering a heart attack at her home.

Funeral services will be held at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in the Bell Funeral Home chapel with the Rev. J. Lennol Hester, pastor of the First Methodist Churhc, officiating. Burial will be in Snyder Cemetery under the direction of Bell Funeral Home.

Mrs. Johnson was born Oct. 8, 1876, in Winona, Tex., the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Martin Desmond. She and Dr. Johnson were married in December, 1898, in the home of her parents in Winona soon after Dr. Johnson received his medical degree from the University of Virginal. They moved to Snyder from Smith County in 1908, and Dr. Johnson made calls to his patients by horse and buggy in those early years. The couple built their home at 2800 Avenue U about six months after arriving here, and had lived there since that time.

Mrs. Johson had been a member of the Methodist Church for 65 years, and was active in Eastern Star work for many years.

Survivors in addition to the husband include a daughter, Mrs. Garrett Harrell, of Snyder; a sister, Mrs. J. H. Kidd of Kingsville, Tex., and three grandchildren.

Pallbearers will be Weldon Johnson, M. L. McKinley, Roy Stokes, Aubrey Stokes, Dick Randals, Ernest Taylor, Fritz R. Smith and Cecil E. Ray.

One Person Injured In Area Accident

Damages totaling an extimated $425 and a minor injury were sustained in collision at the intersection of the Roby and Sweetwater highways yesterday afternoon.

A 1955 Chevrolet, driven by Mrs. Jamia Lee Warneke, 20, Rotan, was in a collision with a 1950 Chevrolet, driven by Mrs. Grace M. Green, San Diego, Calif., when the older car stopped at the stop sign, Howard Gibbons, investigating officer said.

Beverly Carter, 14 - year - old granddaughter of Mrs. Green, was released from the hospital after receiving treatment for an injury of her neck, Gibbons said.

Gibbons estimated that the Warneke car received about $325 damages and the other about $100. The Green's continued their journey late yesterday afternoon, Gibbons said.

Renner Plant Burned

RENNER, Tex. (AP)—A $22,000 fire yesterday destroyed the two-story brick factory building of the Osburn Co., sheet metal fabricators. Faulty wiring was believed the cause.

AREA OIL ROUNDUP

County Discovery Indicated In Test

Phillips Petroleum Co. has encountered indications of a discovery from the Canyon reef lime at its No. 1-A Dan E. Whatley, northwest Scurry County wildcat.

Top of the reef was called at 7,742 feet. A one-hour drillstem test was run from 7,744-756 feet. Gas surfaced in 45 minutes, with the gas volume too small to measure. Recovery was 250 feet of 40.4-gravity oil and 50 geet of heavily oil and gas-cut drilling mud. There were no signs of formation water. Flowing pressure was between 500 and 675 pounds. Shut-in pressure after 15 minutes was 3,080 pounds.

The hole was then deepened to 7,771 feet. A drillstem test from 7,756-771 feet failed when the tool plugged. Operator re-conditioned the hole and at last report was again trying to test that zone.

The No. 1-A Whatley is about three miles south and slightly east of Fluvanna. It is 1,981 feet from north and 660 feet from east lines of 405-97-H&TC.

CROSBY STRIKE

Oil production has been opened in Crosby County with the completion of Bond Oil Co. of Big Spring No. 1 Robertson 14 miles north of Post.

The well was finaled for a daily pumping potential of 83.77 barrels of 40-gravity oil plus 70 per cent water. Production is through perforations at 3,769-776 feet in a Permian formation, possibly the Gorieta. The pay section was fractured with 10,000 gallons.

This strike is just north of the Garza County line, and was originally believed to be in Garza County.

RECOVERS SHOWS

A new Canyon sand discovery has been indicated in Fisher County with the recovery of oil in one of two drillstem tests in the Canyon sand at G. E. Kadane & Son No. 1 John Perry, three miles sand field.

On a two-hour test between 5,260-270 feet, gas surfaced in 47 minutes. Recovery was 120 feet of clean oil and 280 feet of mud-cut oil. A three-hour test from 5,270-290 feet recovered 120 feet of gas and 30 feet of gas-cut mud. Operator was drilling deeper at last report.

College Education Is Valuable Asset

WASHINGTON (AP)—How much is a college education worth in cold cash?

On the average, $91,000, two Census Bureau officials reported today to the annual meeting of the American Sociological Society.

Paul C. Glick and Herman P. Miller said:

"Over a lifetime, the average college graduate can expect to receive about $100,000 more income than the average high school graduate. Since the direct and indirect costs of the college education are roughly estimated at $9,000, it is concluded that a college education represents a sound investment from a purely monetary view point."

The census men cautioned, however, that a college degree is no guarantee of higher earnings. They said about one fourth of all college graduates earn less than high school graduates in the same age group.

OCEAN RESCUE—A motor launch of the rescue ship Kungsholm pulls away from the disabled British freighter Argomeam in choppy waters of the Atlantic about 300 miles from the outer Hebrides Islands after the crew of the listing ship abandoned her following a fire. The Kungsholm responded to the SOS call. The disabled ship reached port at Broad Bay, in the outer Hebrides under tow of two rescue tugs.

Chicago Blaze Damage Heavy

CHICAGO (AP)—A terrific explosion and flash fire last night destroyed half a square block in a near Southwest Side factory district, injuring at least 36 persons and causing an estimated million dollars damage.

No deaths were reported but a hunt for possible victims will be made after weakened walls of the burned buildings are destroyed. It was believed all factory workers had escaped.

A Salvation Army canteen truck driver was killed in a collision en route to the scene at 38th Street and Ashland Avenue.

Of the injured, eight were hospitalized. One was reported in critical condition, another in serious condition. Most of the injured suffered from burns.

Chief Fire Marshal Albert Petersen estimated the damage. Destroyed in the 3½-hour fire were the three-story Griffith Laboratory building, where the explosion occurred, and two adjoining structures occupied by the Carr-Consolidated Biscuit Co. One building was three stories, the other six.

The cause of the explosion was not determined immediately.

It sent flames racing through the Griffith Laboratory. They quickly spread — within three or four minutes, witnesses said—to the adjoining biscuit manufacturing structures.

Some 90 workers, most Negro women, were at work in the biscuit plant. Randolph Buchwelle, the plant's general manager, said he believed all had "ample" time to escape.

The fire brought out some 70 pieces of fire equipment in answer to the city's highest alarm, a 5-11, with five special alarms.

Witnesses reported seeing three persons leap from second and third floor windows.

Book Stealer Sent Back For Schooling

BALTIMORE (AP)—Joseph Knox, 16, was sentenced yesterday in Criminal Court to serve two years in school.

Knox pleaded guilty to a store burglary. Probation officials said he was anxious to return to school.

Judge Joseph L. Carter said a suspended two - year prison sentence would become effective if Knox failed to continue his education while on two-year probation.

Stolen in the burglary were some cans of pineapple juice and several books.

Pickle Pepper Pack Pick Wrong Patch

DECKERVILLE, Mich. —A pack of pickle pickers almost got in a parcel of trouble picking 20 pecks of pickles in the wrong pickle patch.

State Rep. Herb Clements had offered free pickles from his patch to people willing to pick them.

Some Detroiters pulled up to what they thought was the Clements patch and started picking. The owner came out and asked what they thought they were doing.

"Picking free pickles," one replied.

The farmer told them the Clements patch was six miles down the road.

He said they could keep the pickles.

British Robber Gets Time For Two Clocks

BRIGHTON, England (AP) — Two weeks ago John T. O'Reilly, 43, was fined 5 pounds—$14—for stealing a clock from a jewelry store. The judge gave him a week to raise the money.

Two days ago O'Reilly was collared by a clerk who saw him grab the same clock off the shelf and hide it under his coat.

O'Reilly pleaded guilty yesterday to the second theft and got two months in jail after he explained: "I went back for the clock because I wanted to sell it to pay my fine."

Bus Strike In Waco Continuing Today

WACO, Tex. (AP)—The Waco bus strike continued today and there was no indication the striking CIO drivers and mechanics would go back to work anytime soon as the walkout went into its second day.

Negotiations were broken off Wednesday and neither side has made any new offers or given any indication of wanting to negotiate.

The drivers want their 9-hour work day cut to 8½ hours without a pay reduction. The company said it couldn't afford the shorter work day.

Pickets were set up in front of the city bus line terminal.

MRS. HAROLD LEE WARNEKE

Newlyweds Visiting Here To Make Home In Lubbock

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lee Warneke, who are now visiting in Snyder will be at home in Lubbock after Sept. 11. The couple was married Aug. 19 in Rotan.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Hester Lee Hammit of Rotan and Mr. and Mrs. G.B. Warneke of Snyder. The bride is the former Jamia Lee Hammit.

Dr. Lawrence Hayes, pastor of the Rotan First Baptist Church, performed the double-ring wedding ceremony. Mrs. Royce Smith of Roby registered guests as they arrived. Miss Bette Jane Clark played a medley of wedding songs preceding the ceremony and was accompanist for the vocal soloists, Miss Sharon Gruben of Rotan and Elmer Doggett of Sweetwater, and Miss Ouida Fillingim of Rotan, who gave a reading.

Johnny Barker of Snyder, brother-in-law of the bride, was head usher. Other ushers were Dubb Tubb and Joe Long of Snyder and Ernest Roberts of Rotan. Candles were lighted by Mr. Barker and Mr. Tubb.

Cheryl Hammit of Rotan, cousin of the bride, was flower girl. The bride's niece, Patricia Lee Barker of Snyder, was ring bearer.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length gown of lace and nylon tulle over taffeta. The tulle ruffles of the skirt were accented with lace medallions centered with rhinestones. The bodice and tapered sleevs were of imported French lace in rose point design. The deep V neckline featured a Queen Ann collar of lace. For something old she wore a pearl pin belonging to her grandmother, and for something borrowed she carried a Bible belonging to her sister which has been used in many weddings in the family.

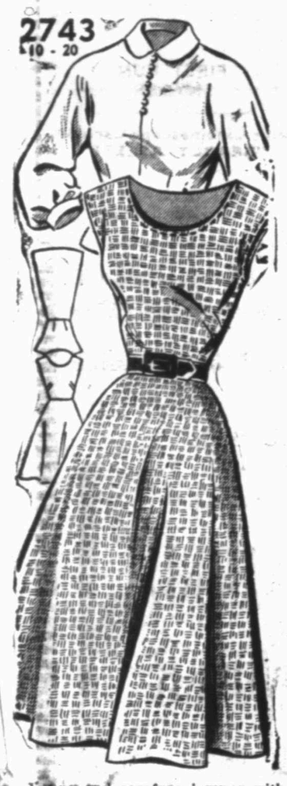

Mrs. Barker, Mrs. Bill McMeans of Lubbock and Miss Helen Jo Turner of Rotan attended the the bride. They were gowned identically in silk organza over taffeta. Mrs. Barker, matron of honor, wore blue and Miss Turner and Mrs. McMeans wore pink.

Bill Warneke, brother of the bridegroom, was best man.

At the reception following the ceremony, Miss Peggy Jo Roberson and Mrs. Wayne Halcomb presided at the bride's table. When the couple left on a wedding trip to Dallas, Galveston and other points on the Gulf Coast the bride wore an aqua dress accented with rhinestones and an orchid corsage.

The bride, a graduate of Rotan High School, has been employed in the Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Office in Roby for two years. Mr. Warneke, a graduate of Graham High School, has been employed as a driller for Camden Drilling Company in Aspermont. He will enter Texas Technological College in Lubbock.

Helps For Homemakers

Send your questions to "Helps for Homemakers," Snyder Daily News, or call 3-5456.

Yesterday we took up the matter of what to do with extra egg yolks. So today will be devoted to the equally challenging matter of what to do with egg whites once you have used the egg yolks!

WITH ONE EGG WHITE, make a strawberry mousse, a standard parfait or use it for boiled, caramel, chocolate, orange, or seven-minute frosting. WITH TWO EGG WHITES, try Baked Alaska or chicken forcemeat. WITH THREE EGG WHITES, make French nut-sticks or jelly souffle. WITH FOUR EGG WHITES, try chocolate macaroons or petits fours. WITH FIVE EGG WHITES, make Silver Cake or French meringues.

STANDARD PARFAIT

1-3 cup sugar
2 tablespoons water
1 egg white
dash salt
½ cup heavy cream, whipped
1 teaspoon vanilla

Cook sugar and water until it threads (238 F.) Beat egg white with salt until stiff but not dry. Pour syrup on slowly, beating constantly. Cool. Fold whipped cream into egg and syrup mixture and add vanilla. Freeze in refrigerator tray.

BURNT ALMOND PARFAIT - add ¼ cup shredded toasted almonds, and ¼ teaspoon almond extract. Reduce vanilla to ½ teaspoon.

CHOCOLATE PARFAIT - add 1½ tablespoons cocoa to the above syrup; combine as standard parfait.

FRUIT PARFAIT - add 1-3 cup fresh, or cooked fruit puree to mixture.

Serve in parfait glasses, with whipped cream and nuts on top.

FRENCH NUT STICKS

3 egg whites, beaten
1½ cups sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
1½ cups walnuts, chopped
1½ cups pecans, chopped

Beat egg whites stiff, but not dry. Add sugar and salt, gradually beating until thoroughly blended. Add nut meats chopped fine. Place mixture in the top of a double boiler and stir over hot water til mixture thickens slightly and does not run, 8 minutes. Shape into finger length rolls as slender as they can be rolled or forced through a pastry tube or cookie press onto heavy paper. Bake in a moderate oven (350 F). 12 minutes. Makes 4 dozen sticks, 1 inch wide and 3 inches long.

SURPRISE KISSES

½ pound semi-sweet chocolate
4 egg whites, beaten
¼ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon cream of tartar
1½ cups sugar
1 cup broken walnuts
1 teaspoon vanilla

Cut each small square of chocolate into 6 to 8 pieces. Beat egg whites until foamy, then add salt and cream of tartar and continue beating until eggs are stiff enough to hold peaks, but not dry. Add sugar 2 tablespoons at a time, beating throughly after each addition. Fold in chocolate, nuts and vanilla. Drop from teaspoon onto ungreased heavy paper. Bake at 300 F. 25 minutes. Remove from paper while slightly warm. Makes 72 kisses.

VARIATION - add ¾ cup shredded coconut and fold into egg white mixture with the chocolate pieces. Or omit chocolate and add 1 cup maple sugar pieces. Brown sugar lumps can also be used.

If you would like to have the details on any of the other recipes listed in today's HELPS, please let us know.

Present for the meeting were Mrs. D. M. Pogue, Mrs. Walton McMillan and Mrs. Lowell Thornburg of the Plainview Club, Mrs. Harvey Myers and Mrs. J. W. Bills of the Pleasant Hill Club, and Mrs. C. C. Berry of the Pyron Club.

Exhibitor At Fair Gets Bravery Medal

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Girls from the state's 4-H Clubs staged a style show at the Ohio State Fair yesterday.

The girls modeled dresses of their own creation.

Then out walked David Mitten, 20, of Stowe, in a blue wool suit made by his sister Martha, 18.

The awards for dressmaking or tailoring won't be decided for another day, but David walked away with a bravery medal.

The Pleasant Summer

By and large the summer of 1955 up to now has provided some noble nights for comfortable sleeping. The morning temperatures have been in the high sixties and the low seventies, day after day, for weeks on end, and while a good many of the days have been warmish, only twice this summer has the thermometer registered 100 or above.

Cool nights will see a man through lots of hot days. Like cotton, he flourishes. The warm days this summer have perhaps seemed warmer than they were because of the relatively high humidity. Another factor that accentuates the heat is air-conditioning. One who spends his days in an air-conditioned office, retail establishment or factory, steps into what seems to him a furnace when he ducks out for lunch, or starts home. Chances are his home has some form of air-conditioning, and he may be one of the lucky few motorists with air-conditioned cars.

By and large average Texans, more so than citizens of any other state probably—after all, dang it, Texas is exceptional in many ways—spend the greater part of their time in air-conditioned surroundings. This makes for comfortable living, but it does tend to make ordinary outdoor temperatures seem higher than they actually are, once he is out of refrigerated surroundings.

People imagine all sorts of ills stemming from these sudden transitions from heat to cool, but we doubt if many of them could be verified. Man is a marvelously adaptable animal, much more so perhaps than any warm - blooded group, and the physical and psychological benefits of air-conditioning far outweigh any possible deleterious effect on his general health. No man can do his best work with a minimum of strain in extremes of temperature. He functions best in the temperate zone.

So we have had a pleasant summer especially in the night hours, and none of that 'City of Dreadful Night" of which Kipling wrote so movingly. None of that "Dray wara yo dee" stuff at all, if that's the way you spell it. We like it that way.

Make It What You Want

The Rev. Leon Hill of Amarillo unleashed a marathon of wit and humor, as is the custom at such events, when he spoke Tuesday night at the Chamber of Commerce barbecue. Yet, Rev. Hill did not conclude his remarks without offering some sound advice.

He expressed surprise at the development of Snyder, after looking over the city for the first time since the oil boom.

It was heartening to learn that he was impressed by the work accomplished by public officials and community leaders. At the same time Rev. Hill sounded a note of caution which boils down to this: A lot of people have turned in good jobs for Snyder and Scurry County, but they should not assume an attitude of sheer satisfaction, or contentment, if they want their community developed to its maximum potential—to develop, people must not be satisfied with a "good" job, but rather concentrate their efforts on doing a "better" job.

Snyder and Scurry County are fortunate because they have many "associate citizens" in addition to those who actually live here in the legal sense, and al lof them have shown an interest in the community. These "associate citizens" for the most part are composed of the many executives of firms, mostly oil companies, who have business interests here. Like the "legal" residents, of course, the "associate citizens" are receiving their rewards as the community develops. Indeed, some of them were receiving rewards before much of the present-day community development was accomplished. It is commendable that they have pitched in and done their part, often working as faithfully for the growth of Snyder and Scurry County as those who actually make their homes here.

Thus, the teamwork of the "legal citizens" and "associate citizens" already has established a mark—one which can be, and should be, etched deeper if all members of the team continue to pull in unison.

Wrong Guy

DETROIT (AP)—Thomas J. Tiggett did everything wrong.

Police said he bungled a lumber yard burglary so badly they were able to nab him.

Taken to a police station, Tiggett ducked under a "wanted" circular. It stated Thomas J. Tiggett was wanted as an escapee from Southern Michigan Prison. He was ordered returned there.

America's Five-Billion-Dollar Surplus Problem Defies Solution For 30 Years

By WARREN ROGERS JR.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The world will beat a path to the door of the man who invents a solution to America's problem of farm surpluses.

It is a five-billion-dollar puzzle which has defied solution for nearly 30 years in its modern form.

What is the American farm problem? Its most distressing symptom today is the $5,370,029,000 surplus taken off the farmer's hands by the government. But what's the cause?

"Too much production," says one school.

"Not enough consumption," says another.

If overproduction is the cause, the cure would seem to be in holding down production. The Department of Agriculture tries to do this by controlling planting and marketing under laws dating back to and beyond 1933 when the government paid farmers to kill their pigs and plow under their cotton.

Increased consumption is a goal too. The most notable success has been with the dairy surplus. The school lunch program pours tons of milk into schoolchildren who, in many cases, would otherwise have none. Melted-down butter sent India as a gift is accepted as a delicacy.

America's farm laws are aimed at guaranteeing the farmer that, barring some freak of weather or bugs, he can count on a certain minimum return for his crop. That takes much of the guess out of a "by guess and by God" calling.

The laws do not discriminate among farmers. The top two million who produce half the country's farm goods by value get the same treatment as the seven million who turn out 39 per cent, or the 12 million who live on the fringes of starvation.

The Agriculture Department reckons its support of the farmer in terms of purchasing power. It does this with a standard called parity, which one farmer once described this way:

"If you can sell a truckload of wheat and buy with the money as much food, clothing, building materials, farm machinery, fertilizer and the like as you could in the five years, 1910-14, your wheat is selling at the parity price."

The 1910-14 base period has been brought up to date, but he had the general idea.

Defenders of parity say it does no more for the farmer than a wage contract does for his city cousins. Detractors decry it as an outmoded link with the past, a bar to incentive and efficiency and a spreader of government controls.

Charles Brannan thought he had a better solution than parity-pegged price supports. As secretary of agriculture in the Truman administration in 1949 he put his plan to Congress this way:

"Let prices go down if they will. Then let the government pay farmers a guaranteed annual cash income for producing our food. Thus consumers would get cheaper food, and farmers would get their income anyhow and everybody would be happy."

Congress was far from happy with the Brannan subsidy plan, especially his inability to say precisely how much it would cost. It was killed, but it left a lively ghost.

Secretary of Agriculture Benson announced Aug. 13 a kind of subsidy plan for cotton starting after next Jan. 1. Last April he put subsidy payments in effect for wool and mohair, trying to build up the industry.

Still the subsidy vs. supports battle roars on. Every now and then a man like Sen. Eastland (D-Miss), himself a farmer, steps into the middle of the fray with an idea to deal with a particular product.

Eastland came up this year with what he called a "bold new plan" for cotton. In essence it was to lower cotton supports from 90 to 80 per cent of parity, increase allottel acreage from 18 million to 23 million acres and sell surplus cotton on the world market at going prices.

Eastland also is pressing for legislation which would raise the standard of cotton eligible for supports. If accepted, that would discourage production of low-grade cotton which makes up the oulk of the U.S. surplus.

Any such talk of pushing U.S. surplus cotton on the world market brings howls from inside the country as well as abroad. Textile firms fear imports of goods made from such low-cost U.S. cotton. Some U. S. investment firms have millions tied up in foreign cotton with which it would compete.

Secretary of Agriculture Benson left last Sunday for Western Europe to try to explain the surplus program and perhaps make some sales.

Most Business Forecasts Indicate Higher Prices

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Plain and fancy soothsaying as to the course of business—and especially of prices—pops up today.

Industry and trade are rounding the stretch of a rip-snorting year. The Calendar says summer has three weeks to run. But most business men think of fall starting with Labor Day.

The modest predictions today concern the prospects of another go-round of inflation in the months ahead—and most but far from all seem to think price hikes likely.

The fancier ones try to project the economy over the coming 10 years—and here, too, rising prices are often forecast, but again with notable dissenters.

Higher costs of industrial materials have captured the headlines this summer. Weakening prices of farm products—and lower farm incomes—are political and economic worry spots.

But looking beyond these month-by-month fluctuations, and the fact that commodity prices usually rise at this turn of the season, some think they discern a long-term trend toward more inflation. They foresee a gradual rise in prices of the things the manufacturer buys and of goods that make up the consumer's cost of living.

Long-term guesses on whither the economy is going have been popping up frequently of late. One out today by the Research Institute of America Inc. projects the economy 10 years ahead.

The institute predicts "prices will rise at least 10 to 15 per cent in the next 10 years." And it adds the gloomy opinion: "Prices of food, clothing and housing in particular will rise—and they take up the largest part of the consumer's pay."

It foresees the unions obtaining high wages over the next 10 years, with productivity not riding fast enough to keep prices from being pushed higher.

Many economists don't share these views. They site a number of factors tending to hold prices over the long run. For one, keen competition will force factories to absorb increased costs. For another, better tools and more efficient plants will produce more goods per man-hour of labor and thus help to hold down costs.

A third factor is consumer resistance to price hikes. And a fourth, is the point the government will move to curb inflation.

LITERARY GUIDEPOST

THE FARTHER SHORE. By Robert M. Coates. Harcourt, Brace.

Anton Cormoris, bumbling, slow-witted, heart-of-gold immigrant on New York's Lower East Side falls in love with a waitress, Edie, pretty, calculating, empty-headed, not bad but just not able to make use of Anton's virtues. Each one needs companionship, each one makes a wrong choice, and in the slow passage of time they come tragically to regret it. Coates not only writes well; he is one of the few novelists who knows his New York City downtown and uptown, day and night,on the sidewalks, in bars, in roominghouses.

THE FLIGHT INTO EGYPT. By Jean Bloch-Michel. Translated from French by Frances Frenaye. Scribner.

Pierre and Yvonne and their three children, driven from home and city by bombs, flee across country, along crowded roads, to the isolation of a deserted mountain village. With the youngest child lost on the way, the other four are forced to reassess their love and need for each other; and a neglected painting in the town chapel points up their renewed faith. It's a worthy idea, but a very plodding novel.

Norwegian Women Do Not Spend All Their Time Working Over Hot Stoves Each Day

By REP. D. B. HARDEMAN

MOLDE, Norway — The women of Texas who complain about bending over a hot cook-stove all day should teach their families to eat Norwegian-style.

The Norwegian lives almost entirely off cold food. Many homes have only one hot prepared dish all day, usually at noon, plus a hot boiled egg for breakfast.

Don't get the idea Norwegian women have nothing to do. They are very busy and hard-working wives, but they spend their energies on things other than food. They keep their warm, comfortable homes spotlessly clean, the floors always shining, the curtains fresh and neat, their furniture polished and everything right in place all the time.

They all manage to have beautiful yards in the summer, and every window is filled with beautiful pot-plants. Most of all, they love to sew. The gaily-decorated hand-knitted Norwegian sweaters are popular all over the world, and it is almost impossible to wear one out. Their knitted gloves are bright and durable, too, and the women do all sorts of needlework and sewing on things for the house as well as clothes for the family.

Norwegians are great family folks. They like family gatherings and the ancient art of "visiting," now rapidly declining in America, is still going strong. Outside of the big cities public amusements such as nightclubs, movies, and concerts are rare, so during the brief summer everyone lives in the outdoors and then during the 10 other months their amusement comes from visiting and partying with one another. "We have to depend on one another for amusement during the long winter," Severin Tandy pointed out to me. "We play games, all of us love good music, we like to sing and tell stories, and read aloud to a group."

Before I get on the subject of food, I ought to mention that most Norwegian homes have enough beautiful antiques to make the average American woman's mouth water. This is particularly true in the rural areas.

Now, the food.

Norwegians believe you must start the day with a tremendous meal to give you plenty of pep, so they invented the "cold - table" which most Americans find very tough to take at first, although after a while I found I liked eating a huge breakfast of energy-producing foods.

When you go in to breakfast, there is a glass of wonderful rich milk and a dish heaped high with tasty, real butter on your table. Then you pick up your plate and go to the "cold - table" —a table laden with perhaps 30 different items.

First, there are the b r e a d s—thick - textured, wonder white bread, rye bread, dark-tack, and very thin wafers called "flat-bread." There are three or four kinds of berry preserves and always some marmalade.

Then there's fish, fish, fish—sardines of several varieties and herring in every possible style—all cold. Then the cheeses, usually three types and sometimes more—something like Swiss cheese, then a blue cheese similar to Roquefort, and always the brown goat's milk cheese which looks like hard peanut butter and tastes something like it.

Next comes the meats. Usually there are thin slices of boiled ham, then three or four prepared meats similar to our lunchmeats.

Last come the vegetables — always sliced cucumbers, sometimes a few thin slices of tomato, and always boiled potatoes.

When your plate is heaped high, you go to your table where there is a pot of the best coffee you ever tasted, for Norwegians drink gallons of coffee and they are experts at making it.

Pretty soon your single hot boiled egg arrives, and you are in business. You can go back and refill your plate as many times as you like.

At noon usually comes the hot meal — one hot dish, often fish, sometimes veal or beef or once in a long time, chicken. There are few vegetables—always potatoes, sometimes two or three kinds at one meal, nearly always cucumbers, now and then cauliflower. Norway has the reddest and tastiest tomatoes I've ever eaten—the summer days when it gets dark gives them their color and taste—but they sell for forty or fifty cents a pound so they are used very sparingly. And the red, red strawberries are superb.

After the noon meal —not with it — comes the coffee again. Norwegians are not much on desserts.

Supper — well, it's breakfast all over again except for the boiled egg. You butter the delicious bread then load the bread with the fish or cheese or preserves, and that's supper, with coffee later.

This must be the highest protein diet in the world which is part of the reason why the Norwegians are bouncingly healthy and very seldom fat. Very, very few seasonings are used, and there are none of the rich, tasty sauces found in Southern Europe.

The greatest delicacy is Norwegian salmon caught from the cold rivers, but it costs as much as a dollar a pound in the markets, so the average Norwegian family has salmon only once or twice a year, much as we do with turkey. Other fish — mountain trout, cod, halibut, herring — are plentiful and popular.

All in all, Norwegian food is like the Norwegians themselves — simple, wholesome, and healthy.

Danny Essoyan's Life Ends In The Land Of His Dreams

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—For as long as he could remember, 11-year-old Danny Essoyan dreamed of seeing America.

Danny, whose grandparents were stateless refugees from Armenia, was born in Shanghai and raised in Hawaii.

His father, Roy, an Associated Press newsman in Honolulu, won his U. S. citienship a few years ago, and it was hard to tell who was prouder that day, father or son.

This summer Roy came to New York in advance of his assignment to the Moscow A P bureau. For Danny this was exciting news: On the way to Russia he would at last get to see the United States.

He did see it. He saw it for three wonderful weeks. And then he died . . . suddenly and unexpectedly . . . at the height of his happiness. Death came to Danny on Aug. 21.

After he buried Danny here in the land of his boyhood dreams, Roy Essoyan went to his typewriter and wrote the saddest obituary of his newspaper career.

"This is a tribute to the most wonderful boy in the world, my son. He was unique, as every boy is unique. . . for each is the most wonderful child in the world.

"The great outdoors was his playground and the blue Pacific his swimming pool. He loved to romp in the surf. He was shy and slim but strong-chested and deeply tanned.

"Danny spent his first couple of days in New York City riding up and down the hotel elevator, making friends with the bellboys, running errands for his mother and baby sister, Catherine.

"He explored the 5-and-10-cent stores, the Central Park zoo, the busy streets near the hotel. He went to the Museum of Natural History twice and wandered open-mouthed around the Hayden Planetarium. He went with us to the musical, 'Silk Stockings,' a special treat, and stood agog at Times Square at midnight. At times he baby-sat for Catherine, changed her diapers and helped feed her. He took time out from all the exciting things he had to do to play with her.

"Danny went to Rockefeller Plaza, rode the subway and the Staten Island ferry, saw the Statue of Liberty and walked down Fifth Ave.

"A week after we moved out to Bayville, on the shore, he went aquaplaning in Long Island Sound and stood up the first attempt. The day before his alloted time on earth ran out he was a picture of sturdy health and boyish joy, as he had been all his life.

"It rained in the morning and he stayed indoors. Later he ran out to help with the boats that had been battered by the gale.

"Midafternoon he came in, glowing with pride in the work he had done . . . and we were proud of him. Then he went with us for a drive to Sagamore Hill, President Theodore Roosevelt's old home. When we came back, he said he had a sore throat and a headache. He took an aspirin and went to bed. He had some temperature, but not enough to mar his usual cheerful singsong bedtime ritual, 'Good night, sleep tight, don't let the bedbugs bite, wake up in the morning bright.'

"The next morning his fever was worse, but he looked out the window and asked if he could go outside and play soon. An hour later, in the ambulance on the way to the hospital, Danny's life came to its unbelievably early end. Practically before we had time to be frightened, Danny and all the hope and dreams that Danny had were gone.

"Danny lived always in the immediate future, what he could do tonight, where he could go tomorrow, what did we plan next week. He was a quiet boy and did not talk much of things far away, the life ahead of him, growing up and learning to be a man. And now . . . Danny will never be a man.

"The doctor said it was a sudden overwhelming virus infection . . . a virus we all carry with us. But for some unexplaninable reason this sturdy boy's immunity slipped momentarily.

"We know it is God's will. He gave Danny to us. And for some reason known only to God, He took him away. All there is of Danny now is what is in our hearts and the hearts of all that knew him.

"His sweetness and gentlemess is now a part of all of us, and may God make us the better for it. For when you leave this world what better heritage can you leave behind than the knowledge that you gave yourself to all who knew you? As one dear friend said, 'We must all be thankful to Danny for he gave us all great joy.'"

Cold War With Communists Has Turned History Around

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—The cold war with Russia and Red China has grabbed history by the tail and turned it around.

This country's driving urge — only 10 years ago, at war's end—was to keep Germany and Japan disarmed forever. There was even talk here of turning Germany into a pastureland, just to be sure.

That feeling slowly went into reverse as this country's worries about Russia increased and Red China became a threat in Asia.

The United States became the strongest advocate of a rearmed West Germany. The former enemy is now in the process of building an army—presently limited to 500,000 men—and joining its old foes in the Atlantic Alliance.

Once again this ironic reversal of history was highlighted yesterday: Secretary of State Dulles and Japanese Foreign Minister Shigemitsu issued a statement here on Japan's determination to rearm, with American blessing and urging.

From the American viewpoint—with its eyes fastened on the strength of Red China—Japan isn't rearming fast enough.

The American zeal of early post-war days to force Japan to stay peaceful was shared by Japanese. They wrote into their constitution—under American guidance—a determination to stay unarmed.

That guarantee has become a little awkward now.

Japan has been protected from attack by American troops, planes and ships stationed in and around Japan. Eventually this country wants to withdraw its own forces and let the Japanese defend themselves.

WASHINGTON LETTER

New Capitol Hill Biweekly To Have Correspondents

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new biweekly newspaper on Capitol Hill will have the largest number of accredited correspondents of any paper in the country this summer. Press cards have been issued to some 531, some of them professionals, but most of them budding.

All of them are big name by liners in their own field— —politics, but according to their editor, Sidney Yudain, special assistant to congressman Morano (D-Conn), their assignment is to write only about their social doings, family stuff, chit chat, and to send in pictures of themselves with a fish on their line, a golf club in hand, or a cow in their field.

President Eisenhower received the No. 1 press card, Vice President Nixon, the No. 2. The rest of the correspondents for Yudain's publication, Roll Call, started last June with a circulation of 2,000 nonpaying subscribers and nonsalaried staff, are members of Congress and other government officials. 'If the stuff they send in is good and interesting to other people we'll print it,' says Yudain. 'Most of the staff seem to have a good nose for news.' Roll Call's press card reads:'This certifies (name of Biggie) is an accredited reporter for Roll Call, a newspaper of Capitol Hill. Extension of any courtesies will be appreciated.'

Early correspondents of the publication have included such lights as Rep. Don Hayworth (D-Mich), who gave a first-hand account of how he was robbed early this Spring on Capitol Hill; Rep. Barratt O'Hara (R-Ill), who wrote an editorial on the use of the words Yes and No which he says are the only two words in English that mean anything; Reps. John E. Moss (D-Calif), and Rabout (D-Mich).

Hollywood Today

By JAMES BACON

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Any male who meets shapely Cleo Moore in a secluded cocktail lounge and then talks for an hour or two about other movie stars' eyes would have to be a real square.

Well, Cleo told this square that Hollywood's overemphasis on busts and cheesecake is passe and terribly misplaced when it comes to evaluating sex appeal.

"It isn't the shape a star is in that counts," Cleo confided. "The sex appeal message is in the eyes." She cited examples:

It isn't Jane Russell's obvious physical endowments that made her a top movie siren, she said.

"It's those smouldering eyes," Marlon Brando is Jane's counterpart in the male eyes department, Cleo said.

Robert Mitchum and Ava Gardner both have "shopping eyes," sometimes known as "roving eyes."

"When these two look at you, brother, you know the merchandise has been carefully inspected."

A star needn't have sultry eyes to get over sex appeal, Cleo argues.

"June Allyson is not thought of as an obviously sexy star. But when she opens wide those big, baby-blue eyes, you know every guy in the place is going to fall apart."

Even Marilyn Monroe, according to Cleo, has said more with half-closed eyelids than she has with the famous wiggle.

Of course, Cleo admits that only a woman would notice the Monroe eyes.

Gary Cooper is one of the most durable of all Hollywood box office stars despite little publicity and a stoic style of acting.

"Cooper never has to open his mouth with those dreamy eyes. The girls all say 'Yup' for him," Cleo said.

Burt Lancaster is another box office king with eye appeal.

"Sure, he's built like superman and he's got X-ray eyes too — sees right through all of us girls."

Cleo got off on the eye bit because of censor trouble on one of her movies, "Hold Back Tomorrow." After much hassle, the production code finally awarded it a seal.

"It was not the obvious physical attractions that caused the trouble. Many of the scenes cut were closeups which showed only my eyes. See what I mean?"

Hermleigh Opens Area Football Year Tonight

Hermleigh will become the first area team to be involved in a football game tonight when they go to Leuders.

The Cardinals will operate with a relatively young, inexperienced crew, having lost eight regulars from last year's regional championship team. Their first opponent will be playing with eight regulars returning, and are currently ranked as No. 2 in their district behind Rochester, another Hermleigh opponent.

Coach Ray Isaacs said his boys are ready to go, but are a little weak on defense and will possible have some trouble stopping the more experienced Leuders boys.

BILLY MAC DAVIDSON
. . . last year's top scorer

Billy Mac Davidson, two-letter halfback who took all-district honors last year, will be called on to do a lot of the ball carrying in tonight's game, Isaacs said. He led his team last year with a total of 117 points scored when he was yet a sophomore. In the team's practice match with the Hermleigh exes Tuesday night he intercepted a pass and raced 65 yards for a touchdown. He has gained 15 pounds over his 155-pound weight of last season, and Isaacs said he is carrying it well and it will be an advantage to him.

He will be accompanied by a new comer in the Cardinal backfield, Gus Toleson, 175-pound junior two-letter halfback, who made all-district last year as a tackle. He has been moved to the backfield this year, and Coach Isaacs said he has the speed and drive to make him an exceptionally valuable player back there.

Robbie Robinson, 185-pound junior, will probably the man-under duties, Isaacs said. He has won two letters in the quarterback slot.

Jackie Roemisch, one of the two senior starters and one of the team captains, will round out the backfield in the flanker position. He is a two-year letterman weighing in at 130 pounds.

A blow to the team came in the injury of Morris Light who probably would have started in the line. He stretched a ligament in his heel, Isaacs said, and probably will not make it for the first game.

The two top freshmen prospects, Isaacs said, are Carl Lee Burleson, 150-pound halfback, and Harold Robbins, 160-pound tackle. They will be among the estimated 26 who will make the trip to Leuders, their coach said.

The rest of the starting lineup will probably be:

Donald Joe May, 190-pound sophomore, center, if a previous injury does not sideline him; Tom Etheredge, 155-pound junior, left guard; J. F. Hillis, 145-pound junior, right guard; Don Vinyard, 174-pound sophomore, offense and Jerry Gannaway, 175-pound junior, defense at right tackle; Powell Tarter, 155-pound senior, team captain, left tackle; Donald Tate, 155-pound junior, and Morris Light, if he is able to go, left end; and Clyde Wilcox, 155-pound sophomre, right end.

Eddie McHaney, 155-pound junior, Harold Robbins, and Carl Lee Burleson, freshmen will probably be the main substitutes, Isaacs said.

ABILENE, Tex. —Ninety players, including 17 lettermen, showed up at Hardin-Simmons University yesterday to work out under Coach Sammy Baugh.

Rainmakers To Mix It Up With Dusters

The Rainmakers will try to settle the Dusters tonight as the Kiwanis Club Dusters and the Evening Lions Club Rainmakers mix it up on the Veterens field in a so-called softball game at 7:30 p.m.

The "would-be" or "once-was" athletics will square off in the battle of the ancients to help raise money for underprivileged children. The event is annual with the Kiwanis club who each year challenges one of the other civic clubs in town and splits the take evenly with them.

For the last two years, the sponsors have played the local Rotary club, but the records and memory of the final outcome of those games is somewhat vague. About the only final result that some of the players could remember were a very sore set of muscles after the unaccustomed exercise.

John Boren, six-foot-two-inch insurance salesman, and Jimmy Billingsly, four-foot county auditor, will team up to serve as the unofficial officials. Reports have it that Billingsly is planning to bring his stepladder again this year so he gets his arguments on the same level as his opponents.

The admission has been set at 50 and 25 cents.

Although it is reported that most of the members of the teams will play wherever their lot falls, the pitching and catching staffs of the teams have been announced.

For the Rainmakers, "Mashing" Joe Marshall will do the receiving, and J. C. "Catapult" Jackson will pitch, one Lions representative said.

Pitching for the Dusters, coached by Leon "Trigger" Autry, will be "Bawling" Bob Crowell and Don "Cannonball" Hire. Joe "The Little" Schumacher will catch.

The rest of the roster for the Lions Rainmakers will be: Lee Stone, Floren Hoefer, Jiggs Falls, Haskell Beard, W. A. Mayfield, Ben Leib, Armor McFarland, Ed Raborn, Nig Barnett, James Stewart, Jeral Bigham, T. M. Blay, Bobby Taylor and Franklyn Pruitt.

Supporting the pitching staff for the Kiwanis Dusters will be: Ford Kenner, Jay Tate, Mitchell Jackson, Wink Lewis, Bill Brown, Bill King, Joe Robinson, Wacil McNair, John Reaves, Jack McClanahan, Bull Johnson, Hubert Cargail, Frank Wilson, N. E. Gambrell, Jim Babcock, Dawson Moreland, Carl Foree, Earl Kirk, G. W. Hicks and Truett Laundamay.

San Angelo Wins Title In Longhorn League

By The Associated Press

Joyful San Angelo Friday wore the Longhorn League crown after the Colts wrapped it up last night with a 3-1 victory over cellar-place Artesia lost to Roswell 13-0.

It was the second crown in eight years for the Colts. The Artesia loss put the Numexers 5½ games behind and mathematically unable to catch San Angelo. Third-place Roswell, by the victory, moved within one game of Artesia.

Hobbs swept past Carlsbad in the seven inning games 3-1 and 7-3 and Midland had no trouble with Big Spring winning 9-5.

Dukes Bid For WT-NM

By The Associated Press

The West Texas-New Mexico League race was as hot as a baby volcano today as the Albuquerque Dukes stood only one-half game behind league-leading Amarillo by virtue of an 8-2 win over Abilene Thursday night.

Amarillo bowed to third-place Pampa 11-9.

Pampa now is only 2½ games behind the Gold Sox in one of the tightest races in league history.

TIGERS SCHEDULE SCRIMMAGE AT C-CITY TONIGHT

The Tiger football team will travel to Colorado City tonight for a scrimmage session at 8 o'clock, Coach John Conley said this morning.

The Colorado City eleven will be recuperating after dropping some of their top players from their last year's winning team, but will be able to give the local coaches a chance to see something of what they have and will give the Tigers some in-the-game experience before the season opens.

The coaches report that the team's injuries are healing, but three boys are still on the disabled list. Powell Berry definitely will not see any action in the practice session tonight, Conley said. Alan Snead and Tom Prichard may possibly play a little he said, but certainly not much.

The team will not hold its usual workout this afternoon.

The all - time money winning horse at Monmouth Park is William G. Helis' Helioscope who won the 1955 runnings of the Monmouth Handicap and the Salvator Mile for total purses of $68,600.

Yankee coach Bill Dickey holds the record for most games played by a catcher in World Series competition—38.

SPORTS

New Ira Coach Readies Squad

R. C. Taylor, 26, took over the coaching duties at Ira High School Monday morning and is now training his boys, getting ready for his season's opener against Hobbs, Sept. 8.

A summer graduate of North Texas State College, he is a native of Stephenville where he took part in all sports, he said.

He completed the work toward his B. S. in physical education after serving a two-year hitch in the army.

He is charged with the duty of producing Ira's second six-man football team, and her first six-man team to compete for district honors.

Last year the officials of Ira High School voted to go back to the six-man game because of a shortage of personnel, but the change was made too late to enable them to get into district competition anywhere.

This year, however, a new district has been organized for the six-man teams in this area including Ira, Hobbs, McCaulley, Blackwell and Divide. Hobbs will be playing six-man football for the first time.

Taylor was greeted by a 16 man squad, most of whom have been running and getting in shape for about two weeks. Nine of the squad are returning lettermen. Only two letter winners, Don Gray, halfback, and Leon Ford, center, graduated last year.

The new coach has had no previous contact with six-man football, but feels that he will be able to handle the job. He does not know enough about his boys yet to name the starting lineup, or even know for sure when each boy will play, he said, but here is the roster with possible playing positions on some. Earl Clinkingbeard, two - letterman, 145-pound junior center; Farrell Bryant, two-letter quarterback, senior; Tommy Elam, freshman; Wayne Gullett, 160 - pound junior, two letters at end; Jerry Ford, 170-pound junior, two letters at end; Emmitt Autrey, 130-pound freshman, end; Carson Clayton, 160-pound freshman; Billy Don Farmer, two letters at end, 155-pound junior; Bobby Walker, 130-pound freshman; James Brown, 140 - pound senior, one letter at center; Duane Rosser, 140 - pound sophomore, one letter at end; Jeames Earl Autrey, 160 - pound sophomore, end; Fred Turner, 160-pound freshman end; and William Autrey 170 - pound junior.

The boys recorded as having received two letters received one of them when the team was still playing 11-man ball. All the others were awarded last year.

Two other boys, including one letterman, are sitting on the sidelines during the workouts because of ailments. Don Plumlee, 150 - pound sophomore, is having trouble with his sinus, and Tommy Echols, 160-pound sophomore letterman at halfback, sustained two broken ribs in a baseball game accident last Saturday night and will be sidelined for at least a month, he said.

SWC Coaches Look Over Prospects

By The Associated Press

Southwest Conference football players were back at the training grind Friday, getting in shape for the flashing runs and smashing tackles that will thrill the crowds this fall, while the coaches considered what they saw in Thursday's opening drills.

Most important right now is condition, and what they witnessed Thursday made most of the coaches happy. But Jack Mitchell of Arkansas was unhappy.

The Razorbacks, last year's champions, came on the field with 22 lettermen. But Mitchell, successor to Bowden Wyatt, watched the former single wing squad fumble through the new Split T and said they were in terrible physical condition.

Mitchell has only two weeks to get the Razorbacks whipped into shape as the team opens with Tulsa Sept. 17.

Things were more leisurely at Rice. The Houston school doesn't open until Sept. 24 when the Owls meet Alabama.

Coach Jess Neely had the squad running drills in shorts and T shirts.

Three junior college transfers joined the team and are eligible this year. They are tackle Bob Clennenden from Kilgore Junior College; George Gillar, fullback from Victoria Junior College; and Mickey Koonce, a center from Tyler Junior College.

Of the 68 players reporting, only center Don Wilson was ailing. Wilson suffered a muscle spasm in the back while playing golf earlier this week.

Rice is a mild favorite for the title this year.

Texas Christian, a school that may surprise a lot of folks, had what Coach Abe Martin termed a "fine first day."

The Frogs, with lettermen almost two deep at every position, spent the day on timing and fundamentals.

The quarterback spot is about the only weak place in the Frog lineup. Chuck Curtis, a junior who played brilliantly early last year before being injured, may fill the slot well, but there are few reserves.

The Texas Longhorns opened practice with a show of spirit that may make Coach Ed Price a happier man this year. Price said he is pleased—"so far."

Price said the team was in fine condition for the time of year.

Action at the quarterback slot was hot as senior Charley Brewer tried to outdo sophomore Walter Fondren for the starting berth.

Southern Methodist started drills with Coach Woody Woodard in Kansas to attend the funeral of a relative.

Tackle Forrest Gregg didn't work out because of a leg injury suffered on a summer job.

Quarterback John Roach ignored an arm injury suffered in a handball game and fired sharp, accurate passes.

Baylor's 58 football hopefuls spent most of their day running passing drills. Bobby Jones, Jimmy Davenport and Kenneth Helms did most of the passing and looked sharp.

Coach George Sauer said the boys were in pretty good shape and weren't carrying too much weight.

At College Station, Coach Bear Bryant found only three of his boys overweight, so he ordered contact work at A&M. Bryant has to get the 64 men, including 11 lettermen and 36 sophomores, ready to meet UCLA Sept. 16.

Trinity Picks Captains

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Quarterback Charlie Arnecke and guard Bobby Beal are the co-captains of Trinity University, Texas' only unbeaten, untied football team last year.

Big Leaguers Ready For Final Drives

By ED WILKS

For all the huffin' and puffin' they did during August, the three leading contenders for the American League pennant might just as well have taken a month's rest. It just didn't do 'em no good, no

For the past 32 days, Chicago, Cleveland and New York all idle yesterday have been scraping to a standstill. Going into the final 3½ weeks of the season today, they're practically in the same spot they were Aug. 1.

As of that date Chicago was in first place with a .614 percentage. Cleveland and New York trailed with .603, each one game behind. Today Chicago leads with a .608 percentage. Cleveland and New York half a game behind, are tied for second with .603.

The only difference between them is that the White Sox, catching up in games played, had one more game than the Yankees and Indians and lost it.

For the month, New york was on top 13 days, Chicago 12 and Cleveland 5. The Indians, who also shared the lead for a day with New York, had the biggest August lead, two games. The Yanks led by 1½, Chicago by one.

And with Chicago's Marty Marion and Cleveland's Al Lopez agreeing all the way, Yank Manager Casey Stengel says it's just "too awful even."

"All I know is," says Case, "that we have 23 more to play and must win 18 to make sure. I realize that's 97 wins, but that's what it will take. I thought before it could be done with 94."

The Yanks were in the best position to get off quick on their way to 97. They opened a home stand this afternoon with the Washington Senators, whom they've beaten 11 times in 16, while the White Sox and Tribe go at each other in the first game of a four-game series at Cleveland tonight. The Sox and Indians are 8-8 for the season.

The only action yesterday was in the National League, where Brooklyn made the most of seven hits to pump Milwaukee, 6-3; Cincinnati defeated New York 7-4; and Pittsburgh again edged St. Louis 7-6.

The Brooks got their hits in the third and fifth innings to score their runs. Roy Campanella singled home two runs and scored another as Brooklyn trimmed the magic number to 10—any combination of 10 Dodger victories and Milwaukee defeats gives the Brooks the flag.

Joe Nuxhall won his 15th—most by a Cincy hurler since Ewell Blackwell won 16 in 1951—while seven-hitting the Giants. He gave up two homers to Dusty Rhodes and one to Al Dark, but drove home two runs himself while Chuck Harmon batted in four with a home run and a single.

The Pirates, now just 2½ games shy of seventh-place St. Louis after spending the last three years in the cellar, won their sixth straight with Gene Freese knocking in the clincher in the ninth to break a 6-all tie. Ramon Mejias had four RBIs with two doubles and a single for the Bucs.

LEADERS of the Twenty-fifth Street Church of Christ, which was organized in 1897, include the minister, left, Ted Norton, and the secretary-treasurer, W. F. McMennamy. (Lee Watson photograph)

Church Of Christ In City Has One Of Oldest Congregations

One of Snyder's oldest congregations is the Twenty-fifth Street Church of Christ, which was organized here in 1897.

According to the best information available, the first sermon preached in Snyder by a Church of Christ evangelist was in that year, and the man who preached the sermon, Sam Ribble, is still living. His home is at Odessa.

Abe Rogers, one of the older members of the congregation, said the preacher's plea was well received, "For return to the old paths of worship and to speak where the Bible speaks and keep silent where it is silent," and the evangelist was invited to hold a gospel meeting. He did hold a meeting, and several persons were baptized, Rogers continued, adding that these persons, along with several families who had moved here began meeting for worship each Sunday in different homes.

The first meeting house for the church was erected in 1907 on the northwest corner of lot 4, Blankenship addition, on the bank of Deep Creek just west of the present city hall location.

Among early preachers who held meetings and preached here were Price Billingsley and Liff Sanders, both of whom are still living and who have records of establishing many congregations behind them. First local preacher was a Bro. Coleman. Some of the earlier leaders of the church were the late C.H. Eoff, A.L. Jones, M.F. Cornelias, and J. W. Webb. Early elders were a Mr. Harding and a Mr. Ditto.

In about 1914, the Church of Christ moved to what was then Scarborough Street, now Avenue S, about half way between the courthouse square and Roscoe, Snyder & Pacific depot. Officers then were O.L. Jones, Ira Sturdivant, T.T. Smith, I.B. Wade, Little Westbrook, and Gay McGlaun. That building was used by the church until 1924, when the building was erected at the church's present location at the corner of Avenue O and Twenty-fifth Street. This building more than doubled the seating capacity of the older building, located in the basement.

Preachers serving the congregation since 1920 are E. Christian, R. C. Bell, W.M. Speck, O.D. Dial, Roy J. Clark, J. Porter Sanders, LeMoine Lewis, Raymond Kelcy, Clifton Rogers, Austin Varner, and Boyd Fanning.

In 1947, the seating capacity of the auditorium was again doubled to accommodate 600 persons, and an educational building with 10 classrooms was added. Clifton Rogers was preacher at that time. By 1951, membership grew to the extent that two morning services were held each Sunday, and in 1953 a new building was erected on Thirty-seventh Street and a large number of members began meeting at the Thirty-seventh Street Church of Christ.

Ted Norton, present minister, has been serving the congregation for three years. The church now has a total membership of nearly 500. It is giving financial support regularly to four preachers in missions fields.

Will Taylor is caretaker for buildings and grounds. E.J. Richardson directs the Bible school activities, while W.F. McMennamy is secretary-treasurer, and Donald Ray Scott is director of worship in songs. Elders of the church are I.C. James, E.J. Richardson, J.T. Stephens, Hugh Murray, and H.F. (Abe) Rogers. Deasons are McMennamy, Garth Austin, James Bailey, Malcolm James, Don Robinson, J.C. Massingill, and Wade Davis.

THE CHURCH OF CHRIST'S first local congregation was the one now known as the Twenty-fifth Street Church of Christ. This is that group's building at the corner of Twenty-fifth and Avenue O.

Steeple Is 'Holey'

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—Woodpeckers are eating away at a church steeple here, but police say they can't stop it. An official of the Baptist Bible Institute requested police help. The case was referred to the State Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission.

SNYDER AREA CHURCH NOTES

Churches Begin Fall Time Alterations On Schedules

Time changes are included on the schedules of some area churches this weekend, and other church activities include guest speakers in several of the churches.

* * *

September is "Back To Church Month" and Christian Education Month at the First Presbyterian Church, and the Rev. Jay Hendren, pastor, has chosen for his Sunday sermon topic "The Clue To Christian Education." Sunday evening worship will be held at 7:30 p.m., preceded by Westminster Fellowship at 5:45. A covered dish supper is scheduled for Wednesday at 6:30 p.m., along with study in "The Bible And Christian Education." Choir practice is being resumed at 8:30 p.m. each Wednesday.

* * *

The Rev. Hubert Austin, pastor of the Green Hill Baptist Church, will have a missionary message for the Sunday 11 a.m. service. Guest speaker for the 8 p.m. service will be the Rev. Tom Lawler of Fort Worth, who will be here in connection with a mission school program. The Green Hill church is beginning Sunday morning prayer service at 9:40 for all Sunday school and training union workers.

* * *

Communion will be held at all three services at the First Methodist Church Sunday, and the Rev. J. Lennol Hester, pastor, will speak at each service. The junior choir will sing at the 8:45 a.m. service, while the adult choir will sing "Come Ye Disconsolate" at the 10:55 a.m. service. At the evening service, which will be held at 7:30 p.m. instead of 8, the men's choir will sing.

* * *

"Five Immutable Principles of Christianity" will be the subject of the Sunday 10:45 a.m. sermon of Dale Brooks, minister at the Thirty-seventh Street Church of Christ. Bible classes will begin at 9:45 a.m. A change in evening times has been made, with young people's classes to start at 6 p.m. instead of 6:30 and the worship service at 7 p.m. instead of 7:30. The minister will deliver the first of a series of two sermons on "What Is Truth?" at the evening service.

* * *

The Rev. Charles Fake, former pastor of the North Side Baptist Church of Lampasas and now a student in Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary will be guest speaker at 11 a.m. and 8 p.m. services Sunday at the First Baptist Church. The pastor, the Rev. G. M. Cole, is conducting a revival meeting at Aspermont.

* * *

Communion meditation will be at 11 a.m. Sunday at the Trinity Methodist Church. The choir, under direction of Mrs. Jack Riley, will sing, "The Lord Is My Shepherd." The Rev. J. R. Plant, retired minister of Snyder, will be speaker at the 8 p.m. service in the absence of the Rev. Jack Riley, pastor, who will begin an eight-day revival meeting at Goree.

* * *

"The Conquest of Fear" will be the topic of the Sunday 11 a.m. sermon of the Rev. Jimmie Nelson, pastor of the Colonial Hill Baptist Church. His subject for the 8 p.m. service will be "The Missionary Imperative."

* * *

The Union Methodist Church will conclude its revival meeting with Sunnday services, with the Rev. Clarence Bounds of Crowell delivering his closing message of the meeting at 7:45 p.m. Sunday. Morning services will be at 11 a.m.

School Superintendent Speaks To Rotarians

Dr. Cecil Yarbrough, superintendent of schools, discussed means being used to improve functions of the schools during yesterday's weekly Rotary Club luncheon.

"We are developing a better school system because our citizens have learned to solve their problems in an orderly fashion," Yarbrough said, adding that the schools are only midway in development of the proper educational program.

The superintendent discussed studies which were made of needs and interests of students and programs planned in the schools. Needs of students, he pointed out, change at all times, and the schools must keep pace with those needs as well as with growth of the community.

The Rotary program for next Thursday will be presented by John Conley, school athletic director, and his coaching staff.

Coronado, Spanish leader, brought cattle across the Rio Grande into what is now the United States in 1540.

Nazarenes To Zone Meeting At Hamlin

Several members of the Church of the Nazarene here will go next Friday evening to Hamlin for an Abilene Zone Nazarene rally.

Speaker at the meeting will be the Rev. Lyle Potter of Sunland, Cal., and his wife will provide special music.

Churches in the zone are those at Snyder, Abilene, Sweetwater, Hamlin, Rotan, Colorado City, and Buffalo Gap.

School Of Missions Starts Next Week

A school of missions and stewardship will begin Sunday and last through next week at several Southern Baptist churches of this area.

Speakers in the program, who will each speak at all of the seven area churches participating at some time during next week, include Mrs. Rosa L. Reed of Thaique, N. M., who will speak on home missions; Rev. Eugene Roberts of Knoxville, Tenn., foreign missions; Rev. Tom Lawler of Fort Worth, stewardship; and Mrs. Cecil Goff of Dumas, state missions.

Participating Baptists churches are First, Avenue D, Green Hill, and Colonial Hill in Snyder as well as Baptist churches at Union, Knapp, and Gail.
